Re: Social Service Student Loan Redemption Program Annual Report

Dear Governor Corzine:

I am pleased to submit to you and the Legislature the Annual Report of the Social Service Student Loan Redemption Program, as required by the Program's enabling statute.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A: 71B-87, the Social Services Student Loan Redemption Program Act was enacted January 2006. The Social Service Student Loan Redemption Program (SSSLRP) provides loan redemption to college graduates who are hired as full-time direct care professionals at specific public or non-profit social service agencies. The program will redeem federal and state (NJCLASS) student loan amounts up to an amount of $5,000 per year of the principal and interest of eligible Federal or State student loans in return for satisfactory completion of a full year of approved employment. Participants can receive up to four years of redemption for a maximum of $20,000 in exchange for continued full-time qualifying service. Applicants must remain in good standing with their lenders during their participation.

To participate in the program, applicants must be a resident of the State of New Jersey, and must have been hired as a direct care professional within one year after completing a bachelor's degree program, or a graduate degree program leading to a master's degree in a human service discipline, such as social work, psychology or counseling, or a health related profession. Participants are required to enter into a written contract with the Higher Education Student Assistance Authority (HESAA) specifying the duration of required service and the total amount of loans to be redeemed in return for service. Eligible candidates must have been employed at the qualified facility on or after the date that the enabling legislation was enacted, July 14, 2005.

HESAA receives the applications, determines eligibility, issues service commitment agreements and then grants loan forgiveness awards subject to the availability of appropriated funds.

Furthermore, N.J.S.A. 18A:71B-95 provides:

"The Authority to annually submit a report on the program to the Governor and chairmen of the Senate Budget and Appropriations, Assembly Appropriations, Senate Health, Human Services and Senior Citizens, and Assembly Health and Human Services committees, or their successors committees. The report shall be submitted no later than August 1 of each year and shall include, but not be limited to, the following information for the prior year fiscal year:

- a. The total number of participants receiving loan redemption under the program;
- b. the approved course of study of each of the participants; and
- c. the total number of participants who withdrew from the program and failed to complete the program's employment requirement.

Accordingly, please find the pertinent data below:

- a. As of June 30, 2009 the total number of new participants receiving loan redemption under the program is 255, for a cumulative total of 691 participants. The graduate degree holders remaining on the waitlist total 226 eligible participants. HESAA expects to fully expend the FY10 appropriation.
- b. The approved courses of study of the participants are:

Applied Clinical Psychology
Art Therapy
Behavioral Sciences
Clinical/Counseling Psychology
Counseling
Counseling Psychology
Criminal Justice
Educational Psychology
Environmental Policy & Psychology
Family & Child Studies (Family Services)

- c. A total of 47 participants have either withdrawn from the program or failed to respond to the program's requirements during FY09. Of these, 30 participants performed at least one full year of service and received one loan redemption payment, meeting their obligation. The remaining 17 eligible participants were initially waitlisted, but did not respond to our contract offer once funding became available.

Based on the strong interest in the Social Services Student Loan Redemption Program, we anticipate the program funding as appropriated is necessary to meet the current needs. In accordance with the program statute, funding for graduate-degree holders is restricted to twenty percent of the appropriation. As a result, there continues to be an extensive waitlist of graduate-degree holding applicants. The current number of eligible participants on the waitlist is 226. Of these 226 eligible participants 93 applied in 2007, 104 applied in 2008, and the remaining 28 have applied in 2009. The twenty percent allocation allows an average of 35 contracts to be offered to graduate degree waitlist participants each year. While there is no waitlist for undergraduates due to funding being immediately available, graduate students spend over two years on the waitlist. A review of the participants' employment situations indicates that most graduate degree holders are employed in similar jobs as undergraduates, with similar pay scales, but with a larger student loan debt. Future additional appropriations may be warranted, to fulfill the intent of the enabling legislation.

As set forth in above-referenced statute, I am hereby transmitting a copy of this report to the chairmen of the respective legislative committees. We hope this information is useful to you. The New Jersey Higher Education Student Assistance Authority is pleased to administer this important program on behalf of the citizens of New Jersey. Should you have any questions about the Social Services Student Loan Redemption Program, I can be reached directly at 609-588-7113.

Sincerely yours,

E. Michael Angulo
Executive Director
