Mr. Stanger moved that the Honorable John E. Toolan of Middlesex county be selected temporary President.

Which was agreed to.

Which was agreed to.

The credentials of the Senators-elect were presented as follows:

The oath was administered by the temporary President, Senator Toolan.

On motion of Mr. Farley, the Senate proceeded to the election of a President.

Mr. Sholl nominated the Hon. Howard Eastwood, of Burlington county, for President.

Mr. Farley seconded the nomination of Mr. Eastwood.

Under the direction of the President pro tempore, the Secretary called the Senate, when the following Senators appeared and voted for Mr. Eastwood for President:

Mr. Eastwood, having received a majority of the votes cast, was declared by the President pro tempore duly elected President of the Senate for the ensuing year and he was conducted to the chair by Senators Farley, Littell and Toolan.

The oath of office was administered by the President pro tempore, Mr. Stanger.
The President on taking the chair addressed the Senate as follows:

Members of the Senate:

I am conscious of the honor you have conferred upon me and I take this opportunity of thanking you for the confidence you have reposed in me. My ambition is to administer this high office with the same courtesy, fairness and capacity shown by my predecessors during the period I have had the honor of serving as a member of this body. I feel certain I will have your co-operation at all times.

In several respects 1944 promises to be an historic year in New Jersey. Among other important problems, there are three that impress me as outstanding in their importance and seriousness, which require immediate and effective solutions. In these brief remarks I can only touch upon them in a rather sketchy way.

First. Constitutional Revision must, of necessity, because of the mandate of the electorate, receive our prompt and serious attention. The Constitution we adopt must be such that it will meet today’s needs and challenges and will (1) result in a high order of good government; (2) effect economies; (3) make for a higher degree of efficiency in administration; and (4) include a court system that will be integrated, provide for an independent judiciary, and be administered on a business-like basis. Full opportunity must be accorded to all who may desire to be heard before legislative action shall be taken as to the form and substance of the proposed revision. The result achieved by the Committee of Thirty, appointed by Governor-elect Edge, leads me to the conclusion that the people of New Jersey will be proud of the Constitution this Legislature will submit for their consideration. The people have indicated their desire for a Revised Constitution and this must be accomplished, notwithstanding any and all abortive action taken to interfere with or prevent it.

Second. Absentee Soldier Voting. We must promptly make such changes in our election laws as may be necessary to assure all our Armed Forces the right to vote at our elections, while they are fighting our battles and making such great sacrifices to preserve our democratic freedoms. It is admitted that New Jersey has an excellent Absentee Soldier Voting Law; nevertheless, we must devote ourselves to taking whatever legislative action may be required to see that all those serving in the Armed Forces shall have the opportunity to cast their ballots.

Third. Post-War Planning. We are all agreed that first consideration must be given to winning the war as speedily as possible, and everything else must yield to the war effort. At the same time Post-War Planning must be given an important place in our legislative thinking and action, to the end that we may (1) re-establish the State as the principal agency to solve Post-War problems and provide the essential remedies, thereby eliminating Federal bureaucratic controls, and avoiding another glorified WPA or similar wasteful and extravagant Federal agency; (2) provide real jobs to the returning men and women of our Armed Forces, who are doing such a magnificent job for us now, so that they will have the assurance that they will not again suffer the humiliation of depending upon charity and “relief jobs” to obtain the necessities of life for themselves and families; (3) provide continuance of educational opportunities for those of our Armed Forces whose educational pursuits were interrupted when they went into the Service, as well as for those who desire to pursue new lines of educational training; (4) provide decent jobs for all the other employables of the State, and (5) provide proper and satisfactory financial assistance to the unemployables, who must be of equal concern to us. Fortunately, we will have the benefit of the recommendations of our legislatively created Post-War Economic Welfare Commission—ably assisted by Princeton Surveys, Inc.—whose practical suggestions, if adopted, will go far towards averting the economic debacle that followed the last war.

Recently I had the privilege of discussing with our Governor-elect, Walter E. Edge, Constitutional Revision, Post-War Planning and a Legislative Program. My observation is that New Jersey, in the election of Governor Edge, has chosen a real statesman, a man of intelligence, with a broad and practical experience, and I am confident the fruits of his administration will accrue to the benefit of the people of New Jersey for many years to come.

In view of the fact that we may expect whole-hearted co-operation from Governor-elect Edge in our program to further Constitutional Revision, Absentee Soldier Voting, Post-War Planning and a sound legislative program, this Legislature has a great opportunity to make New Jersey one of the best governed States in the United States. I am sure that all of us share the hope that such a result can be achieved.

On motion of Mr. Farley the Senate then proceeded to the election of a Secretary.

Mr. Mathis nominated Oliver F. Van Camp, of Ocean county.

Mr. Farley and Mr. Toolan seconded the nomination.

Mr. Van Camp was elected Secretary by the following vote:

In the affirmative were—

In the negative—None.

President Eastwood requested Mr. Stanger to administer the oath of office to Mr. Van Camp.

The session was opened with prayer by the Rev. Millard O. Peirce.

Under the direction of the President, the Secretary called the Senate, when the following Senators appeared and answered to their names:

Mr. Farley offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to await upon His Excellency the Governor and inform him that the Senate has organized and elected Honorable Howard Eastwood, of the county of Burlington, President, and Oliver F. Van Camp, of the county of Ocean, Secretary, and is now ready to proceed to business and also to receive any communications that he may make.

Mr. Eastwood appointed Senators Stanger, Scott and Toolan to deliver the message to the Governor.
TUESDAY, JANUARY 11, 1944

Mr. Farley offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be directed to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has organized and elected the Honorable Howard Eastwood, of the county of Burlington, President, and Oliver F. Van Camp, of the county of Ocean, Secretary, and has proceeded to business.

Which motion was adopted.
GOVERNOR’S THIRD ANNUAL MESSAGE

January 11, 1944.

To the Legislature and the People of New Jersey:

At the end of my term of office as Governor, I feel that I should make an accounting to my fellow citizens, who three years ago honored me with election to the highest office in the State.

Judgment of the People

I am especially moved to make this report to the people, because my three years’ experience as Governor has renewed and reinforced my confidence in the integrity and sound judgment of the mass of the electorate. If decently led and if reasonably well informed, voters decide issues right.

My evaluation of the so-called practical politicians has not, in the past three years, been enhanced. Rather, it has seemed to me that they have consistently underestimated both the intelligence and the honesty of the public. There is no question now in any one’s mind that the public really wants democracy and really wants to see democracy work.

Too much has happened in these three crowded years to enable me in this message to comment upon every event. I must limit myself here to the most important happenings and to matters upon which I made promises. I have sought to carry out the program which I offered to the people of the State in 1940, and which they accepted in electing me.

I have not always succeeded, of course. But I have tried.

Where I have not succeeded, I hope that I have laid a foundation so that those who come after me may obtain for the citizens of New Jersey the desired result. That the people obtain the result is all that is important; it is not important who assists them in obtaining it.
CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION

The progress we have made toward constitutional revision is by far the most important achievement of this administration. When everything else that has happened in New Jersey politics in these three years is forgotten, I venture to think that the steps we have taken toward the modernization of our constitution will still be remembered.

CAMPAIGN OF 1940

In the campaign of 1940, I advocated a constitutional convention. I urged it in my inaugural address and at every other favorable opportunity. In spite of the fact that my opponent in 1940 had also urged a constitutional convention, so that presumably both parties were committed to it, the Legislature decided upon a commission to inquire into the subject of constitutional revision. That commission was appointed, but the members soon recognized that the constitution was in such sad need of overhauling that no amendment or set of amendments would produce the necessary modernization. After long and careful study, they brought out a unanimous report that recommended an almost complete rewriting of the constitution. The report has been widely read. As might have been expected, some people have objected to this or that recommendation. I have myself. But aside from these minor reservations, the report has been well received and generally approved.

ACTION OF LEGISLATURE

Instead of taking direct action upon the report, the Legislature of 1942 appointed a committee to hold public hearings. Although the overwhelming weight of the testimony given in the hearings favored revision, a majority of the committee recommended delay until the end of the war. Fortunately for the people of New Jersey, Assemblyman Milton Feller got a bill through the Assembly of 1943 to put a question on the November ballot asking the voters whether they wanted the Legislature of 1944 to draft a revision of the constitution. This revision is to be submitted to the voters for approval or disapproval at the general election in 1944. The Feller bill remained buried in the Senate until the Honorable Walter E. Edge, now the Governor-elect, was able to persuade twelve Senators to vote for it.

CAMPAIGN ON THE REFERENDUM

The 1943 campaign for an affirmative vote was not particularly intense or spectacular, as campaigns go. The county political organizations, with a very few enlightened exceptions, were opposed to revision and did everything they could to prevent a favorable vote. It was freely predicted that, because of the general opposition of these political organizations, the referendum would be severely defeated. Even the friends of revision predicted a bare victory, if they dared predict a victory at all.

The prophets were confounded and the political machines soundly beaten by the vote. It was an overwhelming triumph for revision and a tremendous victory for the people of New Jersey. The referendum carried nineteen counties, some by majorities of five to one. It is especially notable that the rural counties favored revision as much as the urban. The final and official majority was 154,334.

Moreover, our men and women in service voted better than four to one in favor of revision.

In only two counties, where political machines—one Democratic and one Republican—are extraordinarily powerful, were there majorities against revision.

This referendum gave the people their first direct opportunity since 1844 to express an opinion upon their constitution. Given the chance, they expressed their opinion so clearly that it cannot possibly be misunderstood.

Had the vote been close, had there been a North Jersey versus South Jersey, or an urban-rural split, there might have been some weasel way of questioning the result or of misconstruing the wishes of the people. There should be none in the face of the overpowering majority in favor of the referendum.

MANDATE OF THE PEOPLE

The voters of New Jersey want no amendment or amendments; they do not want to attempt to patch up the old constitution. They want the Legislature of 1944 to rebuild it from the ground up along modern, democratic lines.
For the Legislature, in the face of the popular mandate of last November, to do a timid, a temporary, or a half-way job, would be a blow to democracy. I am sure that no legislator will be so faithless as to betray the extraordinary trust that the people of the State have put in him.

Though my term of office is about to end, my interest in better constitutional government for New Jersey will not end. I am prepared to lend my voice and my strength to urge upon the voters the approval of a model constitution if the Legislature drafts one, or to point out to the people of the State any politicians who try to thwart their will. I intend to carry on the fight until a real model constitution is obtained.

THE LEGISLATURE’S OPPORTUNITY

But I hope that the Legislature will view the people’s imperative order of last November as an opportunity to make long-needed and fundamental corrections in our constitution. Let future generations of citizens look to this period as a turning point in the history of New Jersey democracy—as the time when it took on new life and a new vigor.

Those who believe as I do that there is danger to our nation in the continual centralization of power in Washington, should regard this as an opportunity twice welcome. Not only do we have the chance to improve democracy here at home but also to demonstrate that State government can be made sufficiently adaptable to the needs of the times so that people can have their problems solved at home without the necessity of going to Washington for everything.

A NEW PUBLIC CONSCIOUSNESS OF GOVERNMENT

The referendum on constitutional revision was a recent expression of a new awareness on the part of the people of this State of the problems and needs of government, and of their renewed sense of responsibility for the continued success of democracy. To study constitutional provisions is not, for the average man, an entertaining activity. Yet thousands of citizens must have done so and reasoned to the intelligent if inescapable conclusion that our constitution is sadly behind the times.
The revolt against the political bosses that took place last November is another manifestation of the renewed determination of our people to have a real democracy here at home while our men and women fight for it abroad. This spirit has been growing steadily these last three years.

The People Against the Bosses

In my struggles with the bosses, Republican and Democratic, I have received the most heartening expressions of approval from thousands of citizens who were clearly aware of what was going on. Their letters and their comments have shown beyond doubt that they realized how the issues of democracy were involved.

Had the awareness of the people of the struggle for democracy in New Jersey been implemented by cooperation from the State Senate, the campaign would be much further along today. The Senate has met to do the bidding of the bosses, not in the open with public debate, but in secret, behind closed doors. It is notorious that the Senators have taken refuge in the secrecy of the caucus to refuse to confirm able and honest nominees for judicial and other offices when the bosses did not want them confirmed.

There has been ample evidence of a bipartisan understanding or agreement not to confirm independent nominees whenever the political machines had any reason to fear them.

In my inaugural address, I stated that my fundamental purpose would be to raise the standards of public service in New Jersey. But my attempts have been only partially successful. Here again, I hope that I have made a beginning, so that those who come after me may obtain for the people of the State officials with the integrity and ability that our democracy needs and deserves.

The tradition that public office—including the judicial office—is a kind of gravy to be poured out for those with nothing to recommend them but the approval of some boss, did not die in the last three years. It is a practice that does not die easily but must be fought constantly.
In my inaugural address, I appealed for legislative cooperation "in placing honorable and capable men and women in the judicial positions and managerial posts of our State activities." That cooperation was not generally forthcoming, despite the fact that I used every honorable means of persuasion. Even though almost every important nomination I made was confirmed only after a struggle, and even though many of my nominations were never confirmed or rejected, I have no regrets for having refused to obtain confirmations in what I was informed was the only way to get them, that is by swapping public salaried jobs for senatorial votes.

I must admit, in all fairness, that a solution had been suggested to me with reference to the vexatious problems of State Senators seeking jobs. More than two centuries ago, Captain Gulliver in his Travels, Voyage to Laputa, reported a suggestion made by a professor of the Grand Academy of Lagado that:

To keep Senators in the interest of the crown, it was proposed that the members shall raffle for employments; every man first taking an oath, and giving security, that he would vote for the court, whether he won or not: after which, the losers had, in their turn, the liberty of raffling upon the next vacancy. Thus, hope and expectation would be kept alive; none would complain of broken promises, but impute their disappointments wholly to fortune, whose shoulders are broader and stronger than those of a ministry.

Perhaps that would have been the solution, although not a very happy one for the people of New Jersey.

Captain Gulliver also reported that other members of the Academy were all for

" persuading monarchs to choose favorites upon the score of their wisdom, capacity, and virtue; of teaching ministers to consult public good; of rewarding merit, great abilities, and eminent services; of instructing princes to know their true interest, by placing it on the same foundation with that of their people; of choosing for employments persons qualified to exercise them; **"
It may be that the qualifications such as these would not meet with the approval of political bosses and State Senators, but in the minds of the people of New Jersey those are the fundamental factors which should be considered in making appointments.

LABOR LEGISLATION

In my campaign for Governor and in my inaugural address, I urged a seven-point labor program. Some of it has been enacted.

We now have a State anti-injunction act—legislation for which labor unsuccessfully campaigned for many years. We have a State Mediation Board whose work has received the commendation of labor and industry alike. We have provided more funds for the Labor Department, and we have provided relief for those unable to work.

We still need to broaden and to liberalize our social security law. We have yet to provide a State wages and hours law and to guarantee to workers in intrastate commerce the same rights that workers in interstate commerce have. The present wartime shortage of labor has made this legislation of less pressing necessity, but in my judgment we ought to have these laws now.

FAIR COMPENSATION FOR STATE EMPLOYEES

Soon after I became Governor, I discovered that the State violated its own minimum wage laws and regulations in the case of its own civil service employees, paying in some instances miserable compensation for work faithfully performed. I am glad to say that this condition was corrected by my executive order requiring all departments to pay the legal minimum rates.

TAXATION

In my inaugural address I said, "New Jersey is an industrial commonwealth, and all measures that tend to keep industry functioning smoothly contribute to the general prosperity."

It was one of my objectives when I became Governor to revise the tax structure of the State of New Jersey in order to obtain a higher degree of justice in all taxation, and especially to lighten the excessive burden now on the shoulder of the small property owner.

For example, in the case of the taxpayers of Hudson County—and of Jersey City particularly—tax justice for the small property owner was obtained after sustained resistance by the entrenched politicians. For the first time in years the small taxpayer has had given to him his legal right of a public hearing on filing a tax appeal petition with the Hudson County Tax Board. Hearings have permitted the taxpayer to submit evidence of true value of his property and he has obtained a reduction on exhorbitant tax bills.

Tax justice for the Hudson county taxpayer did not involve a change of laws—it required the rigid enforcement by honorable public officers of the statutory and constitutional rights of the taxpayer. Sometimes tax justice needs the enforcement of present laws; at other times it may require a change in the tax law itself.

Railroad Taxes

I had not long been in office when the imminent bankruptcy of two important railroads compelled a reconsideration of our system of taxation of railroad property in order to keep industry functioning smoothly, not merely for our prosperity but for our very State and national safety.

The problem of a revision of the railroad tax laws had existed for years, and the State government had long refused to grapple with it. As is common when issues are dodged or avoided, the situation of the State Treasury and the railroads had grown steadily worse under our inflexible method of taxing railroads. With a full realization that to bring a greater degree of tax justice to the railroads would be to arouse and bring out the demagogues, I appointed an impartial citizens’ committee to study the matter and propose a remedy.

Elsewhere I have related in detail the steps that were taken. Suffice it to say here that, in spite of an unparalleled campaign of libel and abuse against the committee, the Legislature, and myself, the proposal of the citizens’ committee was enacted into law substantially in the form suggested.
The new laws have been working out as satisfactorily as could possibly have been hoped. In these times when the railroads are extraordinarily prosperous, the State and the municipalities are sharing in that prosperity. The railroads are paying millions of dollars more in taxes than they ever did under the old laws. The owners of railroad properties are satisfied, moreover, to accept these additional taxes while their business will carry them, because they realize that the new laws, unlike the old, will not drive them into bankruptcy when normal times return.

I do not know how others who were also subjected to the scurrilous attacks now feel about the matter, but for myself I think that the accomplishment was worth incurring the attacks. If I had it to do over again I should follow the same course. I believe that the people of the State, in spite of the fact that the case for the new railroad tax laws has never been adequately presented to them, have consistently refused to believe the falsehoods that were published, often in full-page newspaper advertisements, about the new acts. The people have shown once more that they are not easily fooled, even by the most accomplished politicians.

Tax on Intangible Property

I was unsuccessful in my attempts to obtain legislative action on another tax problem of long standing, the taxation of intangible property. Like the railroad tax problem before the new laws corrected it, our present system—or lack of system—of taxing intangibles is a menace to New Jersey business and industry. This problem also may (and probably will) be dodged and avoided as long as possible, but the time will come when a solution must be found. It is not to be expected that a solution will be found that will make everybody happy; that does not often occur in this world.

But sooner or later the State must recognize through legislation that the attempt to impose upon intangibles the same form and rate of taxation applied to real property is both futile and dangerous to our prosperity. It is futile because the localities will continue to vie with one another to attract intangibles by assessing them at ridiculously low figures; and it is dangerous because industries tire of being driven from one taxing district to another, and at length quit New Jersey entirely to establish themselves in States that are more hospitable.

Industries move from one State to another for various reasons and combinations of reasons, but I have seen a list of companies with assets of about three quarters of a billion dollars which have left New Jersey in the last three years for reasons in whole or in part derived from our haphazard system of taxing their securities. Jersey tax lightning is more of a risk than they care to take.

Legislative Solution—"Do Nothing"

Although I made this problem the subject of a special message; although I presented to the Legislature a complete plan for solving it; although I repeated my recommendations in last year's annual message, nothing was done. I have wondered if the legislators, after passing the railroad tax laws, felt too bruised to take hold of another tax issue.

A State-wide conference of county tax boards, called at my direction, and a request directed to the Attorney-General for advice failed to produce any solution other than that legislation is needed. Local tax officials are compelled by our antiquated tax law either to drive business from the State or to violate their own oaths of office and perhaps render themselves liable to removal or prosecution for nonfeasance.

The details of a tax law to cover this problem are relatively unimportant, but it seems to me that the principles involved are clear. To prevent tax lightning and to avoid driving industry from New Jersey, we must make the tax on intangibles a State-wide tax at a low rate imposed and assessed only by the State. The sooner we pass this legislation the better for the future prosperity of our commonwealth.

State Finances

It has been gratifying to me to have been able during these war years, when the normal sources of State revenue were uncertain, always to present to the Legislature a balanced budget. Each budget has been followed by an appropriation act that has adhered to the recommendations reasonably well, so that each year there has been a lapsed balance and a surplus. The incoming Governor will find the State in excellent financial condition.

During the last three years no new taxes have been needed, and none has been recommended.

At the time I took office, the State debt was $140,791,000.
It is now $87,720,000, a reduction of $53,071,000. Not in years has the credit of New Jersey been as good as it is today. Our bonds are now selling at substantial premiums.

I hope that each of the States in the Union will take an active part in preparing to meet any problems that may arise from post-war unemployment. But no projects can be undertaken without funds or credit. As far as can be seen now, New Jersey will have both.

Civilian Defense

When I became Governor, the State had already undertaken a program of civilian defense. Responsibility for the activities was, however, diffused and uncertain. It was not headed up, as it should have been, in the chief executive.
After considerable delay and after unnecessary friction and confusion, the act was revised and a war cabinet established, headed by the Governor.

Since that time, our civilian defense work has been better co-ordinated. It has all operated more efficiently, with less confusion and overlapping of authority. The public seems to agree that an outstanding job has been done by those responsible. As compared with programs in some other comparable States, ours has been more nearly complete, and it has also cost our taxpayers less.

Federal and State Cooperation

Since the entry of this nation into the war, every possible effort has been made by the State departments and agencies concerned to cooperate completely with the Federal government in the many complex problems which arise almost daily. Cordial and close relationships have been established with Federal agencies taking part in the war effort.

I shall cite but one example: The State Government Mileage Administrator, in cooperation with the Office of Price Administration, instituted a gasoline conservation program for motor vehicles used in the State service. That this joint venture has been successful is attested by the fact that during the year 1943 more than 700,000 gallons of gasoline were conserved. In addition to the conservation of gasoline, this program resulted in a considerable saving in lubricating oil, tires and motor vehicles.

Water Problem

In the fall of 1941 the supply of water, especially in the northern portion of the State, began to look critically short. War industries were already doing a growing business, and demand for water for potable and industrial purposes was increasing rapidly. In the face of this a serious drought had set in. The 29 billion gallon reserve storage in Wanaque Reservoir—the largest in the State—declined month by month until in December, the month of Pearl Harbor, it reached an all time low of 11 billion gallons.

Action was called for at once and I appointed a committee to formulate a program. The work of this group resulted in the preparation and enactment of the Emergency Water Supply Act which was approved March 25, 1942. This act empowered the State Water Policy Commission to direct the interchange of water between systems deriving their supplies from different watersheds, thus permitting the most efficient use of all available water within the limitations of facilities then in existence. The Emergency Water Supply Act also authorized the State Water Policy Commission to require the construction of additional interconnections not only for the conservation of water but also to provide the maximum assurance of adequate and continuous supply to consumers in the event of sabotage or bombing.

The State Water Policy Commission immediately instituted measures for the interchange of water. This saved over 3,400,000,000 gallons in Wanaque Reservoir alone. Seventeen new interconnections in key locations, completed under the Commission’s direction, now protect citizens and industries against interruption of service due to malicious damage, and make certain that water no longer need be wasted over the spillways in one of the watersheds while a shortage develops in another.

Although this prompt action and the return of more normal rainfall have relieved the dangerous situation at the beginning of the war, the State has not solved its water problem. Consumption of water in this northern district has risen from 270 million gallons per day in 1940 to 330 million gallons per day in 1943, which is in excess of the normal safe yield of the developed watersheds. Development of an additional water supply will become necessary at an early date if the State’s full industrial and residential potential is to be realized.

STATE ADMINISTRATION

Much against my will, I have often been compelled in the last three years to substitute government by investigation for government by administration. If a revised and modernized constitution is adopted, I hope my term will be the last one in which this unsatisfactory substitution is necessary. I hope that Governors in the future will be able to appoint for their cabinets the chief officials of the State administration.

INVESTIGATIONS

Early in my term of office, the Legislature passed an act to allow the Governor to investigate State departments. But the statute lacks a provision for punishing those who refuse to obey the mandate of his subpoena. Moreover, it gave the Governor no power of removal, and unless this authority happened to exist in the statute establishing an agency, the power of investigation amounted to no more than the power to obtain publicity on the misdeeds of some commission or official.

As the subsequent investigations demonstrated, more than mere publicity is needed to get rid of unsatisfactory officials. Unless criminality is charged and proved with the finality of a mathematical demonstration, any clever miscreant can concoct some plausible story that is satisfactory to his partisans.

HAMSTRUNG INVESTIGATIONS

Empty as is the power of investigation unless it is accompanied by the power of removal, the power of investigation is still more vain and futile unless the Legislature provides the Governor with sufficient funds.
The Legislature never allowed enough money for a thorough examination into all the dark corners of the Highway Department, and it appropriated money for the department to fight the investigation. Under the circumstances only the right-of-way and personnel practices of the department were opened up. But as the report of the investigators showed, there was plenty of evidence of wrongdoing in these phases of the multifarious activities of this big department. Indeed, there was so much evidence that we may well suspect that in other divisions of the department's work there probably were other instances of maladministration that should also have been exposed, and which would have been exposed had sufficient money been appropriated.

The comprehensive report on the organization and administration of the Highway Department, published as a separate volume, was an important supplement to the investigation. It laid down a carefully considered plan for the internal reorganization of the department and detailed constructive policies and programs to be followed in the future.

The Legislature of 1942 refused to appropriate any funds whatever for investigations, in spite of a special appeal that I made. No reason was given for the refusal.

Some of the members of the 1943 Legislature failed to notice that $25,000 was included in the Governor's budget for investigations, and appropriated the sum. Even with this small amount, it was possible last year to go into the Civil Service Commission, the Board of Shell Fisheries, the office of the Hudson County Superintendent of Elections, and one phase of the liquidation work of the Department of Banking and Insurance.

The results of these investigations are of too recent public notice to require comment from me here. Some mention should, however, be made of the inquiry into the workings of our civil service system.

The Civil Service Inquiry

New Jersey was one of the first States to adopt a merit system of selecting public employees. The underlying principle and, indeed, the essence of the civil service system is free and open competitions for public positions. This principle is violated if the practice grows up of filling the job first and then holding the test afterward. In New Jersey these so-called temporary appointments have lasted for years.

Heads of departments have a natural desire to place their favorites in public positions. It has been shown that they frequently bring pressure to bear upon employees not to enter examinations so that a favorite may have a clear field. Or, after the results of a test are announced, if a favorite does not lead the list, heads of departments have been shown to use various methods to get those ahead of him on the list to retire in his favor.

When an administrator seeks to oust a qualified employee who is protected by the Civil Service law to make way for some political appointee or personal favorite, the employee often finds that he must hire an attorney out of his meager earnings to defend his rights. The officials who are sworn faithfully to administer the Civil Service law close their eyes to his complaints and seek to curry favor with political powers or heads of departments.

I detest these and other practices which have produced a merit system that is not a merit system.

The four agencies mentioned above were selected for investigation, not because they were the only ones against which apparently well-founded complaints had been made, but because the complaints were of such nature that it appeared possible to examine these agencies in the time that remained after the beginning of the fiscal year, July 1, 1943, and before the end of my term. Both time and money were insufficient to investigate some of the larger departments that probably need an investigation as much as these four obviously did.

Post-War Planning

Most Americans are concerned about the critical period of readjustment that will follow the war. It is to be expected that business will continue active until the piled up demand for consumer's goods is satisfied. This may take a few years after the war. But when that demand is filled, we are likely to have a depression.
How severe that depression will be and what dislocations it will produce in our society will depend in large part upon the plans we lay now to cope with it. Of this we may be sure, that the men who return from Salerno, from the Aleutians, from Guadalcanal, and from all the other battles that have been and will be fought, are not going to be content with a State that merely provides them with relief and a street corner where they may sell apples. They will want jobs and an opportunity for themselves and their families to lead the normal lives that all Americans aspire to.

Planning is too complex and too technical to be done overnight, when an employment crisis is upon us. We should be doing it now.

Unless the States, moreover, do a better job of meeting their own problems than they did in the last depression, there will be a renewed demand for Washington to handle the whole matter of providing against unemployment. This crisis, which we can now foresee, cannot be avoided by the expression of a pious hope that it will not happen again. Democracy must end unemployment, or unemployment will end democracy.

Conscious of the desperate importance of planning to meet a future depression, and conscious of the necessity of planning to provide a better future society, I have annually urged the Legislature to appropriate adequate funds for the State Planning Board. I have annually set up more money in the budget for this agency. Just as regularly, however, the Legislature has ignored the recommendations and, without killing the agency entirely, has kept it on starvation rations.

The last Legislature, while barely keeping the board alive, set up its own committee on post-war planning. A legislative committee, however able its members may be, is in my judgment too ephemeral a means for dealing with such a continuing problem.

Unless the Legislature is willing to provide a planning committee with a staff of experts and clerks, it cannot expect results that will equal the necessity. It places upon the committee a responsibility for the future of democracy that no committee should be called upon to bear.
There is more than a suspicion that the legislative committee was created for political reasons. I for one do not believe that post-war planning should be a matter of party politics.

CONCLUSION

Three years ago, when I took the oath of office, the principle of self-government was everywhere in the world upon the defensive. We had seen so many democratic nations overwhelmed by external force that we did not know whose turn would be next or whether self-government could survive in a world of dictatorships.

The tide of tyranny in these three years reached its flood and now appears to have turned. So many young men have died for freedom in these years that I hope that the very least we will be moved to do will be to make this State of ours before they return the very best democratic society that good will and intelligence can provide.

I take this final opportunity to express my appreciation and thanks to the many State officials who have given me their sincere advice and cooperation, and to the vast majority of the State’s 16,000 employees who, in their whole-hearted devotion to their daily tasks, have added so much to the efficiency of State government.

To Governor-elect Walter E. Edge I extend every good wish for a successful administration. May good health and well-being attend him always.

Respectfully submitted,

[SEAL] CHARLES EDISON, Governor.

Which was agreed to.

Following is the address delivered at the Inauguration Ceremonies in the War Memorial Building:
GOVERNOR'S INAUGURAL MESSAGE

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
January 18, 1944.

To Members of the Legislature and to My Fellow Citizens of New Jersey:

I return to the Governorship of this great Sovereign State with mingled feelings of sentiment and duty.

Almost a generation has intervened since that inaugural day in January 1917 when I first took the oath of office as Governor. We had not yet entered World War I, but it was apparent to all of us that we would soon assume our share of that terrible responsibility. The unanimity with which we finally decided; the rapidity with which we placed ourselves on a war footing; the eager responses of our citizens to serve; the steadfast will to win, that solidified both State and nation—all of these return to me now, and give me pride, confidence and determination to fulfill, as we did before, our great obligation to ourselves and to posterity.

We are now engaged in a second World War in which organization, loyalties and determination are as apparent as they were in 1917. But the sheer magnitude of the present conflict has raised us to a new level of thinking; the disasters of the first two years have made us a sombre but a wiser nation; and the ruthlessness and brutality of our enemies has driven us to new miracles of performance.

Today we are winning the war on every military front, but at a tremendous cost in life and property. We are facing problems on the home front that far exceed in extent and complexity any governmental undertakings in our history. We face a legislative and administrative program in New Jersey of a magnitude and importance that we have never known before. It must call forth our best thought and finest leadership. In these great over-all responsibilities, I can only repeat at this time, with an ever-deepening sense of duty, my pledge to the Republican Convention of last September:

"... our first obligation is to win the war—quickly and decisively."

"For this purpose, we place every resource of money, materials and manpower at the disposal of the President, the Congress, and the men of the armed forces."

This inaugural day coincides with the initiation of the Fourth War Bond Drive. Safe behind the lines, we can perform no more practical service than to support until it hurts us the far greater sacrifices being made by our armed forces. May I take advantage of this opportunity to urge you, the patriotic citizenry of New Jersey, to repeat the splendid State record of the past. For the present, let us lay aside the pleasures that money may bring for the far greater satisfaction of feeling we are doing our utmost to support our gallant soldiers at the front. No strikes against this responsibility can be condoned.

And let me take this opportunity to express the appreciation of the State to that great army of men and women who have been associated with civilian defense. Most fortunately, our State has not been under attack. But with 120 miles of coast line, one of the heaviest industrialized areas in the world, and scores of strategic military sites, I heartily approve the old adage, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." We gratefully acknowledge the self-sacrificing, unselfish and intelligent service of our Civilian Defense Corps. I desire this organization to be continued.

Constitutional Revision

During the past few months I have given much thought to the duties that will devolve upon you and me from this day forth. I have endeavored to re-familiarize myself with the details of the many responsibilities that face us; to arrange for their consideration in point of time so as to give due weight to their various degrees of urgency; and to devise ways and means of action that would assure effectiveness to the great program that we are called upon to prepare and to fulfill. In this, my first message to you and to the people of the State, I wish to explain as simply as I can what this program is, as I see it; and, in general, how I hope to meet my responsibilities under it.
By a decisive majority, which amazed every political prophet in the State, the voters have authorized, nay, have demanded, that this Legislature revise the present Constitution of New Jersey, and submit such revision to them at the general election next November for their approval or disapproval. There is no greater responsibility in American government than this mandate the people of our State have placed upon us.

Partisanship, personal advantage and the vested interest of public officials and citizen groups alike must not and will not be permitted to influence this process. I am well aware of the disturbances that the revision of a fundamental law implies. I am aware likewise of the severe personal adjustments that must always accompany basic changes in government. I fully recognize the ease with which human frailties can be prevailed upon to advance personal preference, rather than the public good. But these factors must not be allowed to weight the balance against sound governmental provisions that will guide our State through the years to come.

Broadly speaking, I regard a constitution as a fundamental law, deriving its whole validity from the constituent action of the people; and allocating public authority, defining public powers, and establishing public procedures basic to sound government. This means that there is no place in a constitution for the protection of special interests; for the preservation of short-lived movements; for the elaboration of statutory law; for the details of administrative procedure—and above all there is no place for departments or agencies of government or selfish groups to entrench themselves in preferred positions.

It is not my purpose to discuss the details of revision at this time, but I wish to present certain basic principles which I am pleased to advise have guided the unofficial constitutional committees in the fine start they have made.

First, to reorganize the judiciary: This requires, in my thinking, the establishment of a unified court structure to consist of a Supreme Court of seven judges with appellate jurisdiction only; and a Superior Court, consisting of at least one justice appointed from, resident in, and sitting in each county—with State-wide original jurisdiction in all civil and criminal cases; having Appellate Divisions to hear appeals in all cases as a matter of right. This would abolish our present anomalous system of one set of courts in equity and one set of courts in law; it would abolish the confusion of nine existing separate courts and place their combined jurisdictions in one court.

It would create a State Supreme Court similar to the United States Supreme Court, under the direction of a Chief Justice, with administrative responsibility and authority to guide the entire system. And, finally, I most strongly favor an independent judiciary, maintained by provisions of life tenure.

Second, to increase and make definite executive authority:
This will require the extension of the Governor’s term to four years, beginning with the next Governor; full power to the Executive over the appointment or approval of all State administrative officers; strengthening of the executive veto power; the retention of the present requirement that the Governor cannot succeed himself until one term has intervened; provision that the inauguration of Governors coincide with the convening of the incoming Legislature; that all executive appointments submitted by the Governor to the Senate for confirmation be acted upon within a reasonable and stated period of time. The powers of the Governor must be made definite and not subject to divided authority.

Speaking personally, I am not seeking gubernatorial power, especially that of appointment, for the sake of power; but I do demand a workable business setup and organization. In other words, the Governor must be the actual head of the great business of New Jersey if he is to be held responsible for the results.

Several department heads under the present hodge podge exercise greater authority and influence than the Governor.
In some cases they do not even report to the Governor and are responsible only to themselves and indirectly to the Legislature. This conflicting system cannot be successfully defended.

Third, to strengthen the legislative process: This should provide for the extension of the terms of State Senators to four years—and of Assemblymen to two years; increasing the compensation of legislators to at least $1,500 a year; preferably biennial legislative sessions limited to ninety days in length, with practical provisions for special sessions when conditions demand them; and abolition of administrative appointments by joint session of the Legislature, except in the case of the State Controller, State Treasurer and State Auditor.

Fourth, to improve State financial procedures: This requires the establishment of a single State budget embracing the revenues and expenditures of all State departments, agencies, and offices; and the abolition of dedicated funds, with the exception of trust funds, school funds, such county or municipal funds as may be provided by law and Federal-State accounts.

For example, a number of State boards and commissions exercise wide powers over the expenditure of dedicated funds. In other words, funds collected through license fees and other sources are paid direct to these bureaus. Under existing laws these funds cannot be used for any purpose other than activities within such bureaus.

I recognize clearly the desire of these bureaus to maintain their independent supervision over these State revenues. This practice from a business standpoint, however, is indefensible. Every successful business in the world provides income and outgo through centralized control. For the State of New Jersey to have over fifty disbursing agencies is not only confusing but unbusinesslike.

The fear of these bureaus that money collected from their activities would be diverted to such an extent as to interfere with the development of their responsibilities is without merit. The representatives of these bureaus should appear before the Budget Commissioner and the Appropriations Committee, as do representatives of all other departments. If their requests for appropriations are sound and seem advisable, no doubt such appropriations would be granted. The Legislature and the fiscal officers of the State must have control over all State expenditures.

Fifth, reorganization and consolidation of departments: Under the terms of the draft proposed by the Constitutional Revision Commission, the State government was divided into nine departments. I do not approve of this hard and fast method of setting up a permanent government. In my judgment—the rapid changes in governmental responsibilities make this impractical, as it necessitates a constitutional amendment and referendum in order to make changes.
On the other hand, I fully agree that the present situation presenting over one hundred governmental boards, bureaus, commissions and departments is absolutely un­sound and cannot produce the best results. It is understandable that changes of any nature which affect existing departments are likely to be unpopular with the personnel of such bureaus. However, may I point out very emphatically that while fully appreciating the service rendered by the army of State employees, I respectfully insist, in the interest of economy and efficiency, a number of eliminations and consolidations can be made and, with the cooperation of the Legislature, will be made.

To replace the permanent organization setup recommended by the commission, I propose that the Governor be given constitutional power to transfer by executive order the functions of any department to another; the Legislature to be granted the power to veto any such changes if restraining legislation is enacted within a reasonable period. In other words, both with appointments and in the consolidation of State departments, the Legislature, representing the people, should have veto power. Can there be any justifiable opposition to this common sense but qualified business setup?

The unofficial revision committees appointed by me immediately after election have suggested that in order to divide State issues from national responsibilities the election of Governors hereafter shall take place in the odd-numbered years. Assuming the Constitution is ratified next November and goes into effect in January 1945, this would mean the next Governor would be elected in 1947, thus necessarily extending my term one additional year.

This I unalterably oppose. I insist that my term end in January 1947, the end of the period for which I was elected, and that my successor take office at that time for a four-year term.

As indicated at the outset, I have reviewed only what I consider outstanding matters of future policy. The official revision committees, no doubt, will continue to work out details in a deliberate and constructive manner and I reiterate my desire and intention to give them every assistance.
Upon completion by the Legislature of the revised draft, public hearings should be granted. I doubt, however, whether it is necessary or advisable to go over the ground covered so comprehensively by the legislative hearings a year ago. No doubt the Legislature will be glad to have any new constructive suggestions and they should be invited.

Recently efforts have been made through the courts to invalidate the overwhelming demand of the people for a revised constitution. They have failed and properly so.

I submit to you, ladies and gentlemen, and to the people of New Jersey—that the entire constitutional revision procedure, which has been in progress during the past two years, has been in the highest traditions of American constitutional theory and practice. It has been sustained by a bona fide constituent act of the people of New Jersey; and there is no review, judicial or otherwise, from a popular expression at once so definite and so clear in a field which has been, and remains, exclusively a matter of popular action at the polls.

This is my studied opinion of the recent litigation. Being vested with the executive power of this State, I shall resist with every resource at my command any and all efforts to nullify the will of the people of New Jersey expressed so clearly and so freely. I confidently invite the Legislature to join me in this determination and to use freely its great constitutional power to prevent this perversion of a purely democratic process.

I am very much gratified with the progress already made by the unofficial revision committees and the public responsibility and sound judgment they have shown in preparing their preliminary report, which I will transmit to you as soon as the draft is completed. I am certain these same conditions will prevail in the work of the official committees. I pledge you my undivided help and cooperation to the end that when the new organic law is completed there will be a document adequate to the occasions of the next hundred years; and a source of advancement and happiness for all classes of our citizenship. The opportunity of a century is yours and mine—we cannot and will not fail.
STATE ADMINISTRATIVE REORGANIZATION

Next in order of importance is the necessity for reorganization of our State administrative departments. I do not have to describe this problem to you. I have referred already to its urgency. With the adoption of the new Constitution of course much of this responsibility could be reached through executive order with legislative approval. However, we cannot afford to delay. We must have a modern workable state organization as soon as possible.

There has been extensive work done already in the field of reorganization. During the last fifteen years at least three elaborate reports have been issued. Bills have been introduced in the Legislature from time to time and the Commission on Constitutional Revision made summary analyses of current proposals. No further work in the nature of extensive studies is necessary.

I propose, therefore, that the Legislature authorize the Governor to appoint a Commission on State Administrative Reorganization composed of one member of the State Senate, one member of the Assembly, two members from the State administrative establishments and one layman. It will be the duty of this Commission to assist me in preparing a program of State administrative reorganization. I shall request the Commission to complete its work within a reasonable time so that legislative action can be undertaken during the current session. This report will be transmitted to you promptly upon its completion.

POST-WAR PLANNING

Third in my program are plans for the post-war period. These I will place before you for consideration as soon as constitutional revision and State administrative reorganization will permit your attention, which I hope will be very soon. But at this time I wish to present to you the broad outlines that I have in mind and the means through which I propose to make them effective. I am informed the State Commission on Post-War Economic Welfare will file its first report with you within a short time.

Post-war planning, in principle, must be synonymous with State sovereignty. I feel most deeply the necessity for a return to the State of many of the responsibilities that have been absorbed in recent years through extreme Federal centralization. I recognize large service fields that are vested with a national scope and interest and in which initiation, administration and finance must lean heavily upon Federal policy and resources. But I shall strenuously oppose the reduction of the States to Federal administrative provinces.

I object, specifically, to the exclusive Federal control of unemployment compensation funds contributed by employers and workers of our State; I object to the studied and consistent policies of the Federal Government to by-pass the State in Federal contacts with the State’s own local subdivisions; I object to the disproportionate amount of tax money taken from New Jersey and lavished on projects of doubtful value in other parts of the country; I object to the strong element of coercion that carelessly invades our civil rights and refuses to recognize the strength and eagerness of voluntary action; and I object to the manipulation of Federal benefits at timely moments, to the detriment of free elections in our State.

In post-war planning I have kept these matters constantly uppermost in my thinking; and I shall propose a program that with your cooperation will, in my judgment, do much to restore the lost balance of American federalism in New Jersey.

During my campaign I emphasized that the States were far more able to care for their returning soldiers than the Federal Government and made it plain that I did not wish to be in the position of saying to our returning service men and women:

"The Federal Government has made all preparation to care for you. Your State is not in a position to help."

On the contrary, I hope to be able to say:

"The Federal Government has assisted you with mustering-out pay to tide you over a brief period of personal reconversion. It has placed at your disposal certain opportunities in the field of physical rehabilitation, vocational training and education under State participation and direction. But it remains for your State to be responsible for your continuous and permanent rehabilitation to civilian life and we are prepared to do so."

I, therefore, direct your earnest consideration to two proposals recommended already by the Post-War Commission.

First, the establishment of a State Veterans’ Guarantee Loan Fund to provide State-guaranteed bank loans up to approximately $3,000 to all veterans with suitable aptitude, training and experience to establish or reestablish themselves in small business; the qualifications of each borrower to be determined by a State-wide, business-counselling service.

Second, for veterans who, for many reasons, may not be able to utilize the State Veterans’ Guarantee Loan Fund, I hope to propose a State-sponsored program of formalized but voluntary commitments by employers throughout the State to participate in a plan for veterans preference in private reemployment.

The details of these proposals are being worked out by the Commission on Post-War Economic Welfare. I believe they are strictly business proposals, virtually free of subsidy devices, devoid of public coercion and organized in such a way as to attract the participation of both bankers and employers.

We must be prepared likewise to participate in Federal programs for the vocational training and education of veterans and others and to supplement these opportunities as far as possible from our own reserves. The State of New Jersey will place all its thought and available resources at the disposal of her sons and daughters who have sacrificed so freely for their State and country. I am awaiting the full report of the Commission on Post-War Economic Welfare which, I have confidence, will give us further guidance toward the permanent rehabilitation of our veterans to civilian life.

The question of public works has loomed large in post-war planning; and most of us, I think, believe a public works reserve has a permanent, but may I emphasize, a subordinate place, in our economy. I am opposed most vigorously to the extravagant and even demoralizing public works program that marked so much of the Federal Government’s so-called recovery policies; and I am certain the people of this State do not wish a return to those boondoggling days. Nor do I wish to offer our returning soldiers made work at relief wages under the guise of “sustaining employment” and protecting “morale.”

In this connection I propose to create in the Executive Department, under existing appropriations, an Administrative Coordinator to the Governor whose main duty and responsibility will be to unify the recommendations of the Commission on Post-War Economic Welfare with the heads of the existing departments of the State Government. In this way our final plans for post-war employment and rehabilitation will be unified and prepared well in advance. We cannot and will not have divided authority in this all-important responsibility. I might add that this Administrative Coordinator also will have a major part in studying the functions of existing departments preparatory to my recommendations for consolidations.

I have reviewed the three outstanding responsibilities we are facing. In addition, of course, we have many current State obligations requiring legislative consideration. At this time I shall draw your attention only to a few, reserving for future messages a more comprehensive program.

ELECTION LAW REVISION

One of the most glaring and indefensible omissions of the Federal Government and to some extent, the State Governments, has been failure to provide workable methods for voting by members of our armed forces both at home and abroad. Personally, I feel it is chiefly an obligation of the States with the necessary cooperation of the Federal Government to the extent that ballots will be delivered, collected and returned. With approximately 400,000 New Jersey men and women of voting age practically disenfranchised, a situation is presented that demands immediate action and no excuses can be tolerated. I shall insist that this Legislature pass at this session the necessary legislation to return this franchise in as practical a manner as it is possible to devise.
In addition to this imperative necessity, I recommend that the election committees of both the Senate and House of Assembly give very careful study to the primary system now existing in our neighboring State of New York, which has endeavored to combine the advantages of the open primary with those of a modified convention. It is my judgment our present open primary requirements are much too expensive and confuse, rather than simplify, the processes of nomination. The open primary is one of those well meant reforms that experience has demonstrated is not entirely workable.

During the campaign I pledged the people of New Jersey that I would make every possible effort to correct election conditions in any part of the State where reform would seem to be required. In this connection, the best information I have been able to obtain is that the installation of voting machines not only has simplified but, to a great extent, has guarded the sanctity of the ballot.

It should be noted that installation of voting machines in Hudson County was ordered in 1940 by Act of the Legislature but that officials of that county have flouted and defied the law and, on one pretext or another, have avoided installing machines. On this basis I insist that whatever additional legislation is required to put voting machines in the County of Hudson be enacted at an early date to provide them, if possible, for the presidential primaries this May. So far as other counties are concerned, I recommend that installation of voting machines be ordered where there has been evidence of irregularities, but I repeat, Hudson County cannot be permitted to defy the State.

LABOR RELATIONS AND SOCIAL PROTECTION

In view of the fact that the last gubernatorial campaign presented the labor union issue as a major appeal with the burden of attack from its leaders being ruthless and in fact vicious, I desire at this time to discuss briefly labor’s activities in the political field.

The right of the rank and file of labor to organize and bargain collectively is clearly recognized and there should be no prohibition which prevents anyone eligible from joining any labor organization. On the other hand, there should be no compulsion requiring such membership in order to obtain employment.
Again, there is no right on the part of municipal, State or other public employees to strike against their employers, the Government, directly or indirectly. Every public employer or employee on the contrary, is a representative of the people and under all circumstances should exercise a restraint which will encourage the same loyalty so wonderfully exemplified by the millions in the armed forces who are making every sacrifice for the general welfare.

I hold a high regard for the patriotism of the rank and file of American labor and have so indicated during thirty years in public life, but I just as heartily disapprove the misguided labor leadership which has retarded the war effort and the real or lasting progress of labor. Results of the last election emphasized that labor cannot be regimented by its leaders for political purposes.

The Workmen’s Compensation and Employer’s Liability Act was passed many years ago. I sponsored it. I believe this act should be modernized and made more liberal. Likewise, I heartily indorse modern protection and insurance against old age, unemployment, sickness and industrial hazards. We must continue to meet these obligations and improve the position of the average man and woman without destroying opportunity or tearing apart the American system of free enterprise.

A further review of existing laws relating to capital and labor should be made with the hope that the relations between employer and employee may, through mutual understanding, be improved. In this connection, I advocate strengthening the powers of the State Mediation Board and placing it within the Department of Labor so that it will be better equipped to render effective service to both employers and employees. Organized labor, however, is no more entitled than is any other class to privileges denied to business, agriculture and like organizations, to say nothing of the millions who belong to no group but who are entirely dependent upon a well-balanced economy with class distinction and prejudice eliminated entirely.
APPOINTMENTS

One of the most trying responsibilities of a chief executive is selecting citizens for public office.

I take this opportunity to declare publicly that the utmost care will be given to insure the appointment of capable and trustworthy public servants.

I recognize that ours is a political government, but in the final analysis the responsibility is mine and all appointees must represent a high standard of citizenship and measure up to the responsibilities they assume on the basis of merit and integrity.

EMPLOYEES' PENSIONS

During my former term as Governor there was created the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund and there was set in motion the agency that later produced the State Employees' Pension Fund. Both funds were established on an actuarial basis and are still financially sound.

Provisions for benefits were fair and certainly liberal to the teachers and State employees and should have remained as the schedule for such payments. I find, however, that numerous amendments have been made to both funds, each giving more liberal benefits to the employees, which has entailed substantial increased cost to the State. Some of these liberalized benefits were unreasonable. It is only fair to state that I cannot look with favor upon any amendments that have for their purpose loading upon the State the cost of further liberalization of the benefit provisions in either fund.

A committee is now working out a general revision of county and municipal pension funds, many of which are reported to be insolvent, so that equitable and comparable contributions shall be made by governmental agencies and those who will benefit thereby. I trust the report will be presented speedily and acted upon promptly.

CIVIL SERVICE

It would seem that the fundamental design and principles of Civil Service have been impaired either through administration or interpretation. At this time I am not prepared to make definite legislative recommendations covering this most important branch of the government. I must have the benefit of more information and will transmit my recommendations to the Legislature in a special message later. However, I am thoroughly in accord with the principle that appointments and promotions in the Civil Service of the State and of the counties and municipalities shall be made strictly according to merit and fitness.

Equalization of Taxes and Finance

It is a well known fact that under our present taxation laws a large block of personal possessions remain unmolested and undisturbed. I refer particularly to what is generally known as "intangibles," viz., stocks, bonds and other securities of that character. I understand the Legislature has given this subject considerable thought in the past but without definite action. I recommend that the committees having this important subject in charge lose no time in preparing a measure that will cover this inequity and provide a State-wide non-confiscatory rate.

The total burden of taxation cannot be increased if private enterprise is to be encouraged. Without such incentive, progress is stifled. Taxation, however, can and should be made more equitable.

I will withhold at this time a discussion of the financial condition of the State which, I may say, is extremely healthy and must remain so. In a short time I shall submit my budget message to the Legislature, in which I shall endeavor to present a comprehensive review of the fiscal situation and the policies to be followed during my administration.

Potable Water

The State has for years been temporizing and expending hundreds of thousands of dollars in litigation endeavoring to solve the problem of the industrial and potable water supply.

This situation is critical and the necessity for an increase in these resources in North Jersey is universally admitted. So far as I have been able to ascertain, there are only three major sources of increased supply, i.e., the lower Delaware, reached through the Delaware and Raritan Canal... bed; the upper Delaware, still under litigation; and the watersheds of New Jersey, located primarily in Somerset, Morris and Sussex counties.

Bills to prevent a future water famine already are in preparation and will soon be submitted to the Legislature for study and consideration.

AGRICULTURE

New Jersey can still boast of being the Garden State of the nation, producing more wealth per acre than any other State in the Union. This annual income from our farms amounts to more than $150,000,000 a year.

Governmental dictation and price regulations have added to the problems of farmers. It is difficult for them to know how to plan and manage their farms. It also is difficult for our farmer-owned markets to operate and perform their regular services because of the many impractical regulations forced upon them.

Our farmers properly demand representation in the making of regulations and price structures affecting their activities. I shall expect the State agencies to keep me informed relative to the farmers' problems of New Jersey. In the interest of the consumer as well as the farmer I shall insist that New Jersey be represented at all Federal hearings affecting the welfare of New Jersey agriculture.

FREE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

It should not be necessary to emphasize the vital importance of our free school system; and particularly at this time, the strategic role it must play in the post-war reconversion period. There are two phases to the problem, however, that I wish to place before you.

The first is a long-term permanent matter of equalized educational opportunities for every child in the State. The cost of educational programs of New Jersey varies at present from less than $50 per pupil per year in our rural areas to over $200 per pupil in our large municipalities. This is a dangerous disparity. Forty per cent of our youth who live in "low-support" areas are denied educational advantages given to those who live in communities of even average taxable wealth.
The second phase of this question concerns the place of the schools in the post-war period. Veterans will return to New Jersey in many stages of educational development and representing many educational needs. Industrial workers will find it necessary to train or re-train for peacetime work. Special high school classes outside of the regular day schedule doubtless will be necessary; as well as new courses in colleges and universities. Vocational education probably will occupy a key place and new and additional provisions may be required to meet this condition.

LEGISLATIVE SESSIONS

In recent years the Legislature has maintained almost continuous sessions. I feel very strongly that this practice is not in the public interest. When I had the high privilege of being Governor before, it was the pride of both the Legislature and the Executive to limit the sessions from two to three months and during that period to complete extensive and constructive programs. I confidently anticipate this Legislature will follow that example.

There are many other problems such as destructive coast erosion, housing and slum clearance, health regulations and other subjects to which attention profitably could be directed. As I indicated at the outset, however, the Legislature is facing this year major responsibilities never before undertaken. I do not propose therefore, to distract or divert your attention further from these major pressing demands unless emergency situations develop which may require otherwise.

To my predecessor, Governor Edison, I present my compliments and good wishes.

Ladies and gentlemen of the Legislature: You are very, very fortunate in having the opportunity of the century to make and write history.

May I reiterate my full confidence in your loyal cooperation. You have asked for leadership. I will give you my best. Together we are enlisted in the service of New Jersey. With God’s help we cannot fail.

Respectfully submitted,

WALTER E. EDGE, Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY

January, 1944

PROPOSED CONSTITUTION (1944)

PREAMBLE.—We, the people of the State of New Jersey, grateful to Almighty God for the civil and religious liberty which He hath so long permitted us to enjoy, and looking to Him for a blessing upon our endeavors to secure and transmit the same unimpaired to succeeding generations, do ordain and establish this Constitution.

ARTICLE I

RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES

1. All men are by nature free and independent, and have certain natural and unalienable rights, among which are those of enjoying and defending life and liberty, acquiring, possessing, and protecting property, and of pursuing and obtaining safety and happiness.

2. All political power is inherent in the people. Government is instituted for the protection, security, and benefit of the people, and they have the right at all times to alter or reform the same, whenever the public good may require it.

3. No person shall be deprived of the inestimable privilege of worshipping Almighty God in a manner agreeable to the dictates of his own conscience; nor under any pretense whatever be compelled to attend any place of worship contrary to his faith and judgment; nor shall any person be obliged to pay tithes, taxes, or other rates for building or repairing any church or churches, place or places of worship, or for the maintenance of any minister or ministry, contrary to what he believes to be right, or has deliberately and voluntarily engaged to perform.
4. There shall be no establishment of one religious sect in preference to another; no religious test shall be required as a qualification for any office or public trust; and no person shall be denied the enjoyment of any civil right merely on account of his religious principles.

5. Every person may freely speak, write, and publish his sentiments on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of that right. No law shall be passed to restrain or abridge the liberty of speech or of the press. In all prosecutions or indictments for libel, the truth may be given in evidence to the jury; and if it shall appear to the jury that the matter charged as libelous is true, and was published with good motives and for justifiable ends, the party shall be acquitted; and the jury shall have the right to determine the law and the fact.

6. The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated; and no warrant shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched and the papers and things to be seized.

7. The right of trial by jury shall remain inviolate; but the Legislature may authorize the trial of civil suits, when the matter in dispute does not exceed fifty dollars, by a jury of six men.

8. In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall have the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury; to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel in his defense.

9. No person shall be held to answer for a criminal offense, unless on the presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases of impeachment, or in cases cognizable by justices of the peace, or arising in the army or navy; or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger.
10. No person shall, after acquittal, be tried for the same offense. All persons shall, before conviction, be bailable by sufficient sureties, except for capital offenses, when the proof is evident or presumption great.

11. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless in case of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.

12. The military shall be in strict subordination to the civil power.

13. No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; nor in time of war except in a manner prescribed by law.

14. Treason against the State shall consist only in levying war against it, or in adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason, unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

15. Excessive bail shall not be required, excessive fines shall not be imposed, and cruel and unusual punishments shall not be inflicted.

16. Private property shall not be taken for public use without just compensation; but land may be taken for public highways as heretofore until the Legislature shall direct compensation to be made.

17. No person shall be imprisoned for debt in any action, or on any judgment founded upon contract, unless in cases of fraud; nor shall any person be imprisoned for a militia fine in time of peace.

18. The people have the right freely to assemble together, to consult for the common good, to make known their opinions to their representatives, and to petition for redress of grievances.

19. No county, city, borough, town, township or village shall hereafter give any money or property, or loan its money or credit, to or in aid of any individual, association or corporation, or become security for or be directly or indirectly the owner of any stock or bonds of any association or corporation.
20. No donation of land or appropriation of money shall be made by the State or any municipal corporation to or for the use of any society, association or corporation whatever.

21. This enumeration of rights and privileges shall not be construed to impair or deny others retained by the people.

ARTICLE II

THE POWERS OF GOVERNMENT

1. The powers of the government of this State shall be divided among three distinct branches, the legislative, executive and judicial. No person belonging to or constituting one of these branches shall exercise any of the powers properly belonging to either of the others, except as expressly provided in this Constitution.

2. All powers of government which are not by this Constitution vested in the executive or judicial branches, or in conflict with rights reserved by the people, or specifically proscribed to the legislative branch, shall be embraced within the legislative power and may be exercised in such manner as may be provided by law.

ARTICLE III

LEGISLATIVE

SECTION I

1. The legislative power shall be vested in a Senate and General Assembly.

2. No person shall be a member of the Senate who shall not have attained the age of thirty years, and have been a citizen and resident of the State for four years, and of the county for which he shall be chosen one year next before his election; and no person shall be a member of the General Assembly who shall not have attained the age of twenty-one years, and have been a citizen and resident of the State for two years, and of the county for which he shall be chosen one year next before his election; but no person shall be eligible as a member of either House of the Legislature who shall not be entitled to the right of suffrage.

3. The two Houses of the Legislature shall meet separately, in regular session, annually on the second Tuesday in January, and shall adjourn sine die not exceeding ninety calendar days thereafter, except as provided in the Executive Article of this Constitution. The Senate shall, however, convene from time to time at the call of the President of the Senate or of the Governor but only for the purpose of receiving and acting upon nominations to office made by the Governor or for the purpose of the preferring and trial of charges against judicial officers or for both purposes.

4. Special sessions of the Legislature shall be called by the Governor upon petition of a majority of the members of each House and may be called by the Governor at such other times as in his opinion the public interest may require. In either event, the call for a special session shall specify the matter or matters to be considered and no other matter shall be considered at such session which is not specified in such call or in any other message from the Governor delivered during such session. No special session shall exceed fifteen calendar days in duration, except as provided in the Executive Article of this Constitution.

5. Legislative Committees created by Concurrent Resolution or Joint Resolution of the Legislature, or created by Resolution of either House of the Legislature, shall continue with all powers delegated to them, notwithstanding any adjournment of the Legislature, unless restricted by the Legislature or House creating them.

Section II

1. The Senate shall be composed of one Senator from each county in the State elected by the legally qualified voters of the counties, respectively, for a term beginning at noon on the second Tuesday in January next following his election, and ending at noon on the second Tuesday in January, four years thereafter.

2. The members of the Senate shall be elected in two classes so that, as nearly as may be, one-half of the total number shall be elected biennially. The first classification for the purposes of this section shall be effectuated as provided in the schedule of this Constitution.

3. The General Assembly shall be composed of members elected biennially by the legally qualified voters of the counties, respectively, each for a term beginning at noon on the second Tuesday in January next following his election, and ending at noon on the second Tuesday in January, two years thereafter. The members of the General Assembly shall be apportioned among the said counties as nearly as may be according to the number of their inhabitants. The present apportionment shall continue until the next census of the United States shall have been taken, and an apportionment of members of the General Assembly shall be made by the Legislature at its first session after the next and every subsequent census, and when made, shall remain unaltered until another census shall have been taken; provided that each county shall at all times be entitled to one member; and the whole number of members shall never exceed sixty.

4. Vacancies in the office of Senator or Assemblyman shall be filled by election for the remainder of the unexpired term only, as may be provided by law.

Section III

1. Members of the Senate and General Assembly shall receive annually the sum of two thousand dollars during the time for which they shall have been elected, and while they shall hold their office, and no other allowance or emolument, directly or indirectly, for any purpose whatever. The President of the Senate and the Speaker of the General Assembly shall, by virtue of their offices, receive an additional compensation, equal to one-half of their allowance as members.
2. Members of the Senate and General Assembly shall, in all cases except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the sitting of their respective Houses, and in going to and returning from the same: and for any speech or debate, in either House, they shall not be questioned in any other place.

3. No member of the Senate or General Assembly shall during the time for which he was elected, be eligible to hold any appointive civil office, or position, under the authority of this State which shall have been created or any appointive State civil office, or position, the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time. No member of the Senate or General Assembly shall, during any regular ninety day session of the Legislature, qualify into any office, or position, under the government of this State.

4. The seat of any member of the Legislature shall be vacated by his acceptance of any State or Federal office, position, or appointment, of profit.

5. No person possessed of any State or Federal office, position, or appointment, of profit and no judge of any court shall be entitled to a seat in the Legislature.

6. Members of the Legislature shall, before they enter on the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: “I do solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case may be,) that I will support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of New Jersey, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of Senator (or member of the General Assembly, as the case may be) according to the best of my ability.” And members elect of the Senate or General Assembly are hereby empowered to administer to each other the said oath or affirmation.

7. Every officer of the Legislature shall, before he enters upon his duties, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: “I do solemnly promise and swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully, impartially and justly perform all the duties of the office of............... , to the best of my ability and understanding; that I will carefully preserve all records, papers, writings, or property entrusted to me for safekeeping by virtue of my office, and make such disposition of the same as may be required by law."

Section IV

1. Each House shall direct writs of election for supplying vacancies, occasioned by death, resignation, or otherwise; but if vacancies occur during the recess of the Legislature, the writs may be issued by the Governor, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law.

2. Each House shall be the judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its own members, and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner, and under such penalties, as each House may provide.

3. Each House shall choose its own officers, determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, may expel a member.

4. Each House shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same; and the yeas and nays of the members of either House on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal.

5. Neither House, during the session of the Legislature, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.

2. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the General Assembly; but the Senate may propose or concur with amendments, as on other bills.

3. All bills and joint resolutions shall be read three times in each House, before the final passage thereof; and no bill or joint resolution shall pass, unless there be a majority of all the members of each body personally present and agreeing thereto; and the yeas and nays of the members voting on such final passage shall be entered on the journal.

4. To avoid improper influences which may result from intermixing in one and the same act such things as have no proper relation to each other, every law shall embrace but one object and that shall be expressed in the title. This paragraph, however, shall not be given effect to invalidate any law adopting or enacting a compilation, consolidation, revision or rearrangement of all or part of the statutory law, nor in any event to invalidate any law except in proceedings brought within two years from the effective date thereof.

5. No law shall be revived or amended by reference to its title only, but the act revived, or the section or sections amended, shall be inserted at length.

6. No act shall be passed which shall provide that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be made or deemed a part of the act, or which shall enact that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be applicable, other than by inserting it in such act.
7. The statutory law shall be continuously revised by enactment from time to time of revisions of such parts thereof as need appears and the Legislature shall designate by law a permanent law revision agency to examine all of the statutory law, and to recommend to the Legislature such revisions thereof as are needed, from time to time, to the end that all the statutory law shall be completely revised where needed, upon recommendation of such agency or otherwise, at least once every ten years.

SECTION VI

1. Neither the Legislature nor either House thereof shall elect or appoint any executive, administrative or judicial officers, except the State Treasurer, the State Comptroller and the State Auditor.

2. The right of labor to organize and bargain collectively shall not be impaired.

5. It shall be lawful to hold, carry on, and operate in this State race meetings whereat the trotting, running or steeplechase racing of horses only may be conducted between the hours of sunrise and sunset on week days only and in duly legalized race tracks, at which the pari-mutuel system of betting shall be permitted. No lottery, roulette, or game of chance of any form shall be authorized by the Legislature in this State, and no ticket in any lottery shall be bought or sold within this State, or offered for sale; nor shall pool-selling, bookmaking, or gambling of any kind be authorized or allowed within this State, except pari-mutuel betting on the results of the racing of horses only, from which the State shall derive a reasonable revenue for the support of government, nor shall any gambling device, practice, or game of chance, or pari-mutuel betting thereon now prohibited by law, except as herein stated and otherwise provided, be legalized, or the remedy, penalty, or punishment now provided therefor be in any way diminished.

6. The Legislature may enact general laws under which municipalities, other than counties, may limit and restrict to specified districts and regulate therein, buildings and structures according to their construction, and the nature and extent of their use and the nature and extent of the uses of land. Such law shall be deemed to be within the police power of the State and shall be subject to repeal or alteration by the Legislature.

7. Any agency of the State or any political subdivision thereof, which is empowered to take or otherwise acquire private property for any public highway, parkway, other public improvement or public place, may be authorized by law to take or otherwise acquire the fee or any lesser interest, and may be authorized by law to take or otherwise acquire a fee in, easements upon, or the benefit of restrictions upon, abutting property to preserve and protect the public highway, parkway, other public improvement or public place, but no such taking shall be without just compensation.

8. The Legislature shall provide for the maintenance and support of a thorough and efficient system of public free schools for the instruction of all children in this State between the ages of five and eighteen years. The fund for the support of public free schools, and all money, stock and other property, which may hereafter be appropriated for that purpose, or received into the treasury under the provision of any law heretofore passed to augment the said fund, shall be securely invested, and remain a perpetual fund; and the income thereof, except so much as it may be judged expedient to apply to an increase of the capital, shall be annually appropriated to the support of public free schools, for the equal benefit of all the people of the State; and it shall not be competent for the Legislature to borrow, appropriate, or use the said fund or any part thereof, for any other purpose, under any pretense whatever.
9. No general law shall embrace any provision of a private, special or local character. The Legislature shall not pass any private, special or local laws:

(1) Authorizing the sale of any lands belonging in whole or in part to a minor or minors or other persons who may at the time be under any legal disability to act for themselves.

corporations may be organized and corporate powers of every nature obtained, subject, nevertheless, to repeal or alteration at the will of the Legislature.

10. No private, special or local bill shall be passed, unless public notice of the intention to apply therefor, and of the general object thereof, shall have been previously given. Such public notice shall be given at such time and in such mode and shall be so evidenced and the evidence thereof shall be so preserved as may be provided by law.

SECTION VII

1. The Legislature shall provide by law respecting the enrolling, organizing and arming of the militia, the appointment, terms of service, qualifications and removal of its officers other than its commander-in-chief and all other matters relating to the militia.

ARTICLE IV

EXECUTIVE

SECTION I

1. The executive power shall be vested in a Governor.

2. The Governor shall be not less than thirty years of age, and shall have been for twenty years, at least, a citizen of the United States, and a resident of this State seven years next before his election, unless he shall have been absent during that time on the public business of the United States or of this State.

3. No person holding an office under the United States or this State shall exercise the office of Governor, and in case the Governor or person administering the government shall accept any office under the United States or this State, his office of Governor shall thereupon be vacant. Nor shall he be elected or appointed by the Legislature to any office during the term for which he shall have been elected Governor.
4. The Governor shall be elected by the legally qualified voters of this State at the general election held in the year one thousand nine hundred and forty-six and each fourth year thereafter. The person having the highest number of votes shall be the Governor; but if two or more shall be equal and highest in votes, one of them shall be elected Governor by the vote of a majority of the members of both houses in joint meeting at the regular legislative session next following the general election. Contested elections for the office of Governor shall be determined in such manner as may be provided by law.

5. The Governor when elected for a full term shall hold his office beginning at noon on the second Tuesday of January next following the election for Governor by the people and ending at noon on the second Tuesday of January four years thereafter, except that in case of an election for Governor resulting in a tie, his term shall begin immediately with his election by the Legislature. No Governor elected for a full term shall be capable of holding the office for four years next after the term shall have expired.

6. In case of the death, resignation or removal from office of the Governor, in case of the death of the Governor-elect before he is qualified into office, or in case of a vacancy in the office for any cause other than those herein enumerated, the powers, duties and emoluments of the office shall devolve upon the President of the Senate, for the time being, and in case of his death, resignation or removal, then upon the Speaker of the General Assembly, for the time being, until a Governor shall be elected and qualified.

7. In case of the impeachment of the Governor, his absence from the State, or inability to discharge the duties of his office, the powers, duties and emoluments of the office shall devolve upon the President of the Senate, for the time being, and in case of his death, resignation or removal, then upon the Speaker of the General Assembly, for the time being, until the Governor absent or impeached shall return or be acquitted, or until the disqualification or inability shall cease, or until a Governor be elected and qualified.

8. In case of a vacancy in the office of Governor, a Governor shall be elected to fill the unexpired term at the next general election succeeding the vacancy unless the vacancy shall occur within sixty days immediately preceding a general election in which case he shall be elected at the second succeeding general election but no election to fill an unexpired term shall be held in the year one thousand nine hundred and forty-six or in any fourth year thereafter. If the election shall result in a tie the Governor shall be elected in the same manner as provided in this Constitution in the case of Governors elected for a full term. A Governor elected for an unexpired term shall hold his office beginning with his election by the people or by the Legislature, as the case may be.

9. The Governor shall, at stated times, receive for his services a salary, which shall be neither increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected.

10. He shall be the commander-in-chief of the militia and all the military and naval forces of the State; he shall communicate by message to the Legislature at the opening of each regular session, and at such other times as he may deem necessary, the condition of the State, and recommend such measures as he may deem expedient; he shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed, and grant, under the great seal of the State, commissions to all officers elected or appointed pursuant to the provisions of this Constitution. All officers whose election or appointment shall not otherwise be provided for by this Constitution or by law, shall be nominated by the Governor and appointed by him with the advice and consent of the Senate; and shall hold their offices for the time prescribed by law.

11. The Senate shall either confirm, reject or return nominations to office within forty-five days after they are submitted to it by the Governor, or person administering the government; and upon its failure so to do, the nominee shall be deemed confirmed at the expiration of said forty-five days. The return of a nomination shall effect the withdrawal thereof from the consideration of the Senate. No appointment or nomination shall be made by the Governor during the last week of his term.

12. Every bill which shall have passed both Houses shall be presented to the Governor; if he approve he shall sign it, but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to the House in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large on their journal and on or after the third day following said return shall proceed to reconsider it; if, after such reconsideration, thirteen members of the Senate, if it shall be returned to the Senate, or thirty-six members of the General Assembly, if it shall be returned to the General Assembly, shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other House by which it shall be reconsidered and if approved of, in that House, by thirteen members of the Senate or thirty-six members of the General Assembly, as the case may be, it shall become a law; and in all such cases the votes of both Houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each House respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the Governor within ten days, Sundays excepted, after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall become a law on the tenth day if the Legislature is in session on said day. If, on said tenth day, the Legislature is in adjournment in the course of a session, the bill shall become a law on the day on which the Legislature convenes after the adjournment unless the Governor shall return the bill to the Legislature on that day. If the Legislature is in adjournment sine die on said tenth day, the Governor shall have until the thirty-fifth day after the adjournment either to sign the bill or to return the bill to a special session of the Legislature called by him, to meet before said thirty-fifth day, for the reconsideration of the same; otherwise, the bill shall become a law on said thirty-fifth day. If the Governor shall return any bill to the Legislature less than three days prior to the adjournment sine die of any session, the bill shall become a law on the thirty-fifth day after the adjournment of said session unless the Governor shall call a special session of the Legislature, to meet before said thirty-fifth day, for reconsideration of the bill. At any such special session any bills returned by the Governor with his objections thereto shall take the same course and be reconsidered by the Legislature in the same manner as in other cases of bills returned.

13. If any bill presented to the Governor shall contain one or more items of appropriation of money, he may object to one or more of such items while approving of the other portions of the bill. In such case he shall append to the bill at the time of signing it a statement of each item to which he objects, and each item so objected to shall not take effect. A copy of such statement shall be transmitted by him to the House in which the bill originated, and each item objected to shall be separately reconsidered in both Houses of the Legislature, and may be made a part of the law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor, as in the case of bills. All the provisions of the preceding paragraph in relation to bills not approved by the Governor shall apply to cases in which he shall withhold his approval from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money.

14. The Governor may cause an investigation to be made of the conduct in office of any State officer except a member of the Legislature or an officer appointed by the Legislature or a judicial officer. After notice, service of charges, and an opportunity to be heard at a public hearing, all as shall be provided for by law, the Governor may remove any such officer whenever in his opinion the hearing discloses misfeasance or malfeasance in office.
SECTION II

1. There shall be a commission on parole in the executive branch of the government, which shall consist of the Governor or person administering the government and of four members who shall be nominated and appointed by the Governor by and with the advice and consent of the Senate for terms of four years and until their successors are qualified into office and who shall receive such annual salaries for their services as may be provided by law. At least one of said four members shall be an attorney-at-law of this State.

2. The commission on parole, by a majority of them of whom the Governor, or person administering the government, shall be one, may commute sentences and grant pardons, after conviction, in all cases except impeachment; and the commission, by a majority of them, with or without the participation of the Governor, or person administering the government, may remit fines and forfeitures, suspend collection of the same, grant paroles and supervise parolees.

3. The Governor, or person administering the government, shall have power to grant reprieves except in cases of impeachment.

SECTION III

1. There shall be Principal Departments in the State Government, not more than twenty in number, created by the Governor by executive order; and among and within them shall be allocated by the Governor by executive order all the executive and administrative offices, departments and instrumentalities of the State Government, in such manner as to group the same according to major purposes.

2. The Governor by executive order from time to time may reorganize, merge, consolidate and divide offices, departments, instrumentalities and the Principal Departments, and may allocate and reallocate them, in whole or in part, and the functions, powers and duties of any of them among and within such offices, departments and instrumentalities and the Principal Departments, all in such manner as to promote efficiency and economy in the operation of the State Government.

3. The Governor in any executive order made under the preceding paragraphs of this Section may make provision to effect the purposes of said order, including the transfer of personnel, property and appropriation balances, and the abolition and creation, within the limits of available appropriations, of executive and administrative offices, positions and employments; provided that no person shall be deprived of any right or privilege which may be accorded him by civil service law.

4. Every such executive order shall be transmitted by the Governor to each House of the Legislature while it is in regular or special session and shall become effective on the twenty-eighth day after its transmittal unless prior to that day both Houses of the Legislature shall approve or disapprove the same by resolution. If so approved the order shall become effective upon approval; and if so disapproved it shall have no effect. The duration of regular and special sessions of the Legislature as prescribed by this Constitution shall be extended to allow consideration of an executive order within said period of twenty-eight days.

5. Such executive order shall remain unaltered and in full force except as may be provided by subsequent executive orders. The Legislature, however, may by law from time to time assign new functions, powers and duties to, and may increase or diminish the functions, powers and duties of, any office, department or instrumentality or Principal Department.

6. The Principal Departments shall be under the supervision and control of the Governor. The head of each Principal Department shall be a single executive unless otherwise provided by law; and all such single executives shall be nominated and appointed by the Governor by and with the advice and consent of the Senate and shall hold their offices until a new Governor shall be elected and qualified and until their successors shall be appointed and qualifying, but they may be removed as shall be provided by law.

7. Whenever a board, commission or other body shall be the head of a Principal Department, the members thereof shall be appointed by the Governor by and with the advice and consent of the Senate and if said board, commission or other body shall have power to appoint an administrator, director or other chief executive, such appointment shall be made with the approval of the Governor.

8. The Governor may from time to time appoint such State officers as he may select, to serve at his pleasure as the members of his Cabinet with whom he may consult relative to the affairs of the State.

9. No such executive order shall divest the State Treasurer, the State Comptroller or the State Auditor of any of the functions, powers and duties, conferred and imposed by law upon them, which relate to the receipt and disbursement of public moneys and to accounting, auditing and control.

ARTICLE V

JUDICIAL

SECTION I

1. The judicial power shall be vested in a Supreme Court and in a Superior Court and in inferior courts of original limited jurisdiction, which inferior courts may from time to time be established, altered and abolished by law. Such inferior courts may be integrated with the Superior Court in any manner and to any extent, not inconsistent with this Constitution, as may be provided by law.

2. In all matters in which there is any conflict or variance between equity and common law, equity shall prevail and, subject to rules of the Supreme Court, every controversy shall be fully determined by the justice hearing it.

3. The Supreme Court shall sit at the seat of the State government and the Superior Court shall sit in each county except the appellate divisions thereof which shall sit at the seat of the State government.
4. The Supreme Court and the appellate divisions of the Superior Court shall hold continuous yearly terms and the sections of the Superior Court exercising original jurisdiction shall hold such terms as may be fixed by rules of the Supreme Court.

SECTION II

1. The Supreme Court shall consist of seven justices, namely: one Chief Justice and six associate justices. Five members of the court shall constitute a quorum. The Chief Justice or, in his absence, the justice of the court presiding as provided by law shall designate a justice or justices of the Superior Court to serve temporarily when necessary to constitute a quorum.

2. The Supreme Court shall exercise appellate jurisdiction in the last resort in all cases designated in this Constitution. The court shall also have jurisdiction of the admission and discipline of attorneys and counsellors at law.

3. The Supreme Court shall make rules governing the administration of all of the Courts in this State. It shall have power, also, to make rules as to pleading, practice and evidence, which may be applicable to all of the Courts in this State, and which shall have the force of law unless changed or abrogated by law.

SECTION III

1. The Superior Court shall consist of such number of justices as may be authorized by law, but not less than twenty-five, each of whom may exercise the original jurisdiction of the court subject to rules of the Supreme Court. There shall be at least one resident justice of the Superior Court for each county who shall be appointed from the residents of the county and who shall reside in, and shall annually be assigned by the Chief Justice to sit in the law section of the Superior Court in said county, but who shall be subject to assignment, from time to time, to sit without the county, only, if and when his duties within the county shall not require his presence there.

2. The Superior Court shall have original general jurisdiction throughout the State in all cases.

3. The Superior Court shall be divided into

(1) a law section, to exercise civil and criminal jurisdiction at law, and matrimonial jurisdiction and jurisdiction in cases involving the allowance of alimony and maintenance and the custody of children, and

(2) an equity and probate section, to exercise all other jurisdiction of the court,

but either section shall exercise the jurisdiction of the other when the ends of justice so require. Each section of the Superior Court shall have such parts as may be provided by rules of the Supreme Court.

4. Any Justice of the Superior Court or an appellate division thereof may grant prerogative writs returnable in an appellate division which shall determine, in such manner as the rules of the Supreme Court may prescribe, and without a jury, questions of fact arising therein; or, when so prescribed by rules of the Supreme Court, the hearing may be in the first instance before a single Justice, whose decision, both as to law and fact, shall be reviewable by an appellate division.

Section IV

1. There shall be established in the Superior Court two or more appellate divisions as prescribed by rules of the Supreme Court. Each such appellate division shall consist of three Justices of the Superior Court who shall be assigned for that purpose by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and shall sit therein, solely, for three years. There may be established in the Superior Court, by rules of the Supreme Court, temporary appellate divisions as need appears. Each appellate division shall hear appeals from sections of the Superior Court designated by the rules of the Supreme Court. Appeals from the inferior courts shall be heard by an appellate division or in one of the sections of the Superior Court, as may be provided by law.

2. An appeal to an appellate division may be taken as a matter of right from any order, judgment or decree of the Superior Court. Appeals in cases involving restraints or the appointment of receivers shall, in whatever court pending, be preferred as to argument and disposition.

3. Appeals to the Supreme Court from any court may be taken only:

   (1) In capital cases and cases involving a question arising under the Constitution of the United States or of this State, which appeals shall be taken directly to the Supreme Court and shall be preferred as to argument and disposition;
   (2) In the event of a dissenting opinion in an appellate division;
   (3) On certification by an appellate division; or
   (4) On certification by the Supreme Court to any court.

In all other cases judgments and orders of an appellate division shall be final.

4. The Supreme Court and the appellate divisions of the Superior Court, in addition to considering questions of law, may also set aside judgments, wholly or in part, where the finding of fact was against the weight of evidence or the verdict excessive or inadequate and may exercise such original jurisdiction as may be incident to the complete determination of the controversy.

Section V

1. The Governor shall nominate and appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, the Chief Justice and Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, the Justices of the Superior Court and the Judges of every court of inferior jurisdiction except Judges of inferior courts of civil and criminal jurisdiction elected in, or appointed by the governing body of, any county or municipality of the State, pursuant to law.

The Justices of the Superior Court shall hold office during good behavior for terms of seven years and if reappointed shall thereafter hold office during good behavior without limited terms except as to age as provided in this Constitution.

4. The issue of good behavior of a Justice of the Supreme Court or of the Superior Court shall be triable by the Senate on charges preferred by the Senate without impeachment by the General Assembly and during the period between the time of the preferr ing of charges by the Senate against him and until his conviction or acquittal he shall be suspended from exercising the duties of his office. Judgment in case of conviction shall not extend further than to removal from office, and to disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, profit or trust under this State; but the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable to indictment, trial and punishment according to law.

5. No Justice of the Supreme Court or of the Superior Court shall continue in office after he has attained the age of seventy years. Subject to law, the Chief Justice may assign any such judicial officer who has attained the age of seventy years to temporary service in the Supreme Court or in the Superior Court, as need appears.

6. The Chief Justice and the Associate Justices of the Supreme Court and the Justices of the Superior Court shall, at stated intervals, receive for their services such salaries as may be provided by law which shall not be diminished during the term of their appointment. They shall hold no other office, or position, of profit under the government of this State or of the United States or of any instrumentality or political subdivision of either of them. Any Justice or Judge of any court in this State who shall become a candidate for an elective public office shall thereby forfeit his judicial office. The Justices of the Supreme Court and of the Superior Court shall not, while in office, engage in the practice of law or other gainful occupation.

7. A Justice of the Superior Court may exercise the powers of a judge of any court established by law in the county or counties to which he may be assigned and may hold any such court with like jurisdiction, powers and duties as a judge therein.

8. Judges of inferior courts may be removed from office without impeachment and in such manner as may be provided by law.

The appointment of the Clerk of the Supreme Court and of the State Clerk of the Superior Court shall be made with the approval of the Governor.

4. The State Clerk of the Superior Court shall act as clerk of the appellate divisions and he, the county clerks and surrogates shall be the clerks of the Superior Court and shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by rules of the Supreme Court subject to law.

5. Judgments may be docketed and notices of pendency of actions and other papers or documents may be filed or recorded in such offices, with such effect, and in such manner, as may be prescribed by law.

6. 7. Prior to each legislative session the Chief Justice shall file with the Governor and the Legislature a report of the work of the Courts as provided by law.

No such law shall take effect until it shall, at a general election, have been submitted to the people, and have received the sanction of a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at such election. Any such debt or liability thereby authorized shall be paid in annual installments, the first of which shall be payable not more than one year, and the last of which shall be payable not more than thirty-five years after such debt or liability shall have been contracted. In contracting any such debt or liability, however, the privilege of paying all or any part thereof prior to maturity may be reserved to the State in such manner and upon such terms as may be provided by law. All money to be raised by the authority of any such law shall be applied only to the specific object or work stated therein and to the payment of the debt or liability thereby created. Mr. Farley moved the adoption of the following Joint Report of the Judiciary Committees, which was adopted by the following roll call:

FORMER GOVERNOR CHARLES EDISON’S RECOMMENDATION THAT LOUIS A. REILLY, FORMER COMMISSIONER OF BANKING AND INSURANCE, BE IMPEACHED.

To the Senate and General Assembly:

The Judiciary Committees of the Senate and General Assembly, having jointly considered, after reference to each of them by the respective Houses, the recommendation of former Governor Charles Edison, that Louis A. Reilly, former Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, be impeached, respectfully report as follows:
Last Tuesday, January 18th, Governor Edison recommended to the Legislature that Louis A. Reilly be impeached for misdemeanor during his term of office as Commissioner of Banking and Insurance.

As Mr. Edison pointed out, time is an important element in this instance because on Wednesday, January 26th, Mr. Reilly will have been out of office two years. Under the Constitution of this State, the period within which civil officers may be impeached expires two years after the end of their term of office.

The nature of the charges against Mr. Reilly indicates that an exhaustive investigation requiring a considerable period of time was made into his alleged wrongful acts as Commissioner of Banking and Insurance. Obviously, the House of Assembly, in which impeachment must originate before the issue can be tried by the Senate, could not in the short space of one week make its own necessary and independent inquiry in order to determine whether a bill of impeachment should be voted.

Impeachment is a serious proceeding and should not be instituted without careful and deliberate consideration. As far as we have been able to ascertain, there have been only six such trials in New Jersey since 1784.

We point out that impeachment is not a substitute for action in the ordinary tribunals of justice. It is an additional and extraordinary proceeding constitutionally provided as the means of censuring officeholders who have been unfaithful to their public trust. Our State Constitution provides that the only effect of a conviction in the case of impeachment is removal from office and disqualification to hold any office of honor, profit or trust under this State.

We regret that Mr. Edison did not present to the Legislature sooner that he did, and in ample time for due consideration, the disclosures of his investigation of Mr. Reilly’s alleged maladministration.

It must be clear that in the few days between the presentation, on January 18th, of Mr. Edison’s recommendation and the expiration, on January 26th, of the constitutional period within which action could be instituted in the Legislature, the House of Assembly could not give proper consideration to impeachment proceedings against Mr. Reilly.
We point out, however, that recourse should be had to the ordinary courts of law so that the extent of Mr. Reilly’s liability, if any, may be duly determined. We also point out that Mr. Reilly, as Postmaster of Newark, now holds a Federal office. His continuance in that post may depend upon the outcome of appropriate court action instituted against him on the basis of his alleged misconduct of the office of State Commissioner of Banking and Insurance.

In response to our summons, Eugene A. Agger, present Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, appeared before us. We advised Mr. Agger that it is our firm opinion that, notwithstanding any personal belief he may have in the matter, it is his clear and official duty immediately to institute such court action or actions that will result in a prompt judicial determination of Mr. Reilly’s liability for the alleged wrongful acts charged against Mr. Reilly in Mr. Edison’s report.

Respectfully submitted,

HAYDN PROCTOR,

Amend section 1, line 46, by inserting after the period the following: "Whenever the boards of chosen freeholders having joint control over any bridge over a navigable river between two or more counties are unable to agree upon granting or ordering paid any sums in addition to the regular salary or pay of joint bridge employees, employed on such bridges, by way of bonus, each such board of chosen freeholders shall have the right and power, in its discretion, to grant and order paid, to such of said employees as are residents of the county over which such board of chosen freeholders has jurisdiction, such sums in addition to their salary or pay, by way of bonus, as said board of chosen freeholders shall determine, in accordance with the provisions of the act to which this act is a supplement. For the purposes of computing the twenty per centum (20%) bonus limitation in the act to which this is a supplement, the total joint salary received by each such bridge employee from the two or more counties by which he is employed shall be used as his regular annual rate of usual or regular salary or pay. Hon. Howard Eastwood,
President of the Senate,
Burlington, N. J.

Dear Howard—On this, my last day of ten years in office as Attorney-General, I cannot help but reflect upon the treatment accorded me by the members of the Senate. Political considerations never affected the Senate in its treatment of my problems. Isn't it strange, when you think of it, that Bob Hendrickson, who sponsored the railroad compromise bill, was also the champion of all my requests for appropriations to combat the railroad companies' tax appeals? On many occasions, he left his chair as President of the Senate to move the adoption of my appropriation measures.
There are hundreds of similar unselfish instances of cooperation with my office by members of the Senate. Would it be asking you too much to extend to the members my heartfelt thanks for everything?

Yours sincerely,

(Signed) DAVE WILENTZ.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

February 7, 1944.

To the Legislature:

I am transmitting, herewith, for your consideration, my Budget Message for the General State Fund for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1944, and for the Highway Fund for an eighteen months' period beginning January 1, 1944.

Respectfully submitted,

WALTER E. EDGE,
Governor.

EDWARD M. GILROY,
Secretary to the Governor.
BUDGET MESSAGE

To the Legislature: February 7, 1944.

A glance backward to the fiscal year of 1917-18, the inaugural year of my first term as Governor of New Jersey, reveals that appropriations totaling $9,928,000.00 were made available to carry on the activities of the State Government. The following year was even lower.

The intervening period has witnessed many changes. State Government has expanded and the demand for greater public service has resulted in numerous new activities. Functions once incidental to the overall program of certain original departments have mushroomed into independent boards, bureaus and commissions.

Now, as I resume executive responsibility, the State Government has reached such proportions that more than $75,000,000.00 is required to carry on the work of the departments and agencies supported by the two major funds. An additional $1,144,000.00 is needed for agencies operating under trust and dedicated funds.

Costs have increased to such an extent that one of my first acts as Governor was to initiate a program to reduce and stabilize expenditures through reorganization of the one hundred fifty departments, bureaus, boards, commissions and agencies into a lesser number of efficient bodies where co-ordinated and centralized control should insure the reduction of costs to a minimum. The commission created by the Legislature at my request, to study and make recommendations concerning such a plan of reorganization, is now at work.

Inaugural year budget recommendations cannot always be as precise as in succeeding years. It is difficult, within the short period of time available, to acquire an intimate knowledge of the great volume of detail making up the current fiscal picture of State administration. Based on information that has been made available to me, I consider the recommendations in this message to be as sound as could possibly be developed under the circumstances.

The appropriation bills for the fiscal year 1943-44 for the General State Fund, and for the calendar year 1943 for the Highway Fund, left a surplus of close to three million dollars. My budget has been framed with the primary thought of increasing this surplus.

The surplus in this budget totals $25,489,504.96. I consider this surplus the most important part of the budget. In arriving at this attractive balance, I am confident that no essential State service will suffer. Certain requested appropriations which might be desirable but, in my judgment, are not necessary during these critical times, have been omitted.

This sizeable surplus is merely the nucleus of the much greater sum that we will need in the post-war period. The problems that will come upon us the moment hostilities cease—indeed problems that are already upon us—will be complex and of staggering proportions. They represent a challenge to every public official.

The time to prepare is now; tomorrow will be too late. We must make ourselves strong if we are to meet successfully the terrific impact of our post-war economy.

We owe this duty of timely preparedness to those who have sacrificed the comforts and security of private life to fight for us and, if need be, die for us on the battlefields of the world. We can never repay that sacrifice, but the least we can do is to meet our responsibility of preserving that for which they are fighting. We will need every available resource if we are to maintain the American way of life for them. We cannot keep faith if we dissipate our resources.

The surplus anticipated in this budget becomes, therefore, a sacred fund. I invite each member of the Legislature to join me in a pledge to conserve it and, through wise administration of our State affairs, to encourage greater savings so that the surplus may be increased. Any appropriation that will deplete this fund, unless it be of an emergency nature, should not and must not be made.

I have recommended appropriations for a period of eighteen months (from January 1, 1944, through June 30, 1945) to departments operating with Highway Fund revenues. The purpose is to place the two major State funds, namely the State Fund and the Highway Fund, on the same fiscal year basis. I strongly urge the Legislature to concur in this recommendation.

A summary statement of both funds projected through June 30, 1945, follows for easy reference:

It is to be noted that no mandatory payment provided by law need be disturbed in adopting my recommendation for a single fiscal year.

The largest item of a mandatory nature is that of county and municipal aid from the Highway Fund. The Highway Commissioner annually certifies the amount to be allotted to counties and municipalities under the law. The certification for the calendar year 1944 for this purpose is $9,885,000.00. Although the certification is made on December 15th, past history shows that funds are not made available for the payment of the grant until the appropriations bill is completed and passed by the Legislature. In other years, the annual appropriations bill often was not passed until the month of June.

This budget not only provides $9,885,000.00 for the county and municipal road aid program for the calendar year 1944, but also reserves a like sum for the 1945 program—a total of $19,770,000.00. It is recommended that the 1944 allotment be made available for distribution to the several counties and municipalities, under the controlling statutory formula, immediately upon the passage of the appropriations bill, and that the 1945 allocation be made payable on January 2, 1945. This will permit county and municipal officials to prepare their local budgets, beginning in 1945, with county and municipal aid funds on hand rather than on promise.

STATE FUND

In the Budget Message for the current fiscal year, the Comptroller estimated that at the close of the 1942-43 fiscal year, there would be a deficit of $883,244.24 in the State Fund. Unforeseen revenues and substantial lapses of funds on June 30, 1943, have entirely changed this picture. Instead of a deficit, there was a balance of $2,396,103.54.

The Comptroller reports that the revenues this year are again exceeding estimates. Substantial receipts from the Inheritance-and Beverage Tax divisions of the State Tax Department, plus the all-time high collection of railroad taxes, indicate that the balance in the State Fund on June 30, 1944, will be $7,902,967.63. The Comptroller anticipates revenues for the next fiscal year in the State Fund will aggregate $38,648,570.00. It is recommended that the Legislature transfer from the uncommitted balance in the State Water Policy Commission Interconnecting Revolving Fund the sum of $100,000.00 to the State Fund. This will make a total of $46,651,537.63 available in the State Fund for appropriations during the next fiscal year.

The departmental budget requests for the next fiscal year total $50,367,757.99. This is $3,716,220.36 more than is available for appropriation from this fund. My recommendations for appropriations out of the State Fund total $44,590,317.11, a reduction of $5,777,440.88 from the departmental requests.

Much of the State budget goes for items other than direct operational costs of the State Government. Out of the total of $44,590,317.11 recommended for appropriation in the General State Fund, there is included $17,027,426.31, or 38.2% for the following purposes:

| Subventions to counties and municipalities | $9,747,642.74 |
| State pensions and retirements | 591,127.00 |
| Teachers’ Pension and Annuity Fund | 6,688,656.57 |

Total $17,027,426.31

The remaining $27,562,890.80, or 61.8%, is made up as follows:

| Salaries | $18,263,924.42 |
| Materials and Supplies | 5,682,214.81 |
| Current Repairs | 425,010.00 |
| Services Other Than Personal | 1,900,749.86 |
| Additions and Improvements | 260,520.00 |
| New Buildings and Lands | 90,000.00 |
| Extraordinary Expenditures | 104,596.81 |
| Unclassified Expenses | 835,874.90 |

Total $27,562,890.80

$44,590,317.11
In general, funds for new activities have not been provided. No allowance has been made for new automobiles with the exception of the State Police and Motor Vehicle departments. Nominal amounts have been set up in some instances for the necessary replacement of office equipment, and, in others, for maintenance and reconditioning.

Education

Needed funds to discharge the educational responsibilities of the State for the teachers' colleges, the State Board of Education, and related institutions and activities have been recommended. In addition, an appropriation is recommended to be made to the Board of Regents for the continued dissemination of higher education.

State Planning Board

An increase over the amount appropriated this year has been recommended for the State Planning Board in order that some funds may be available immediately for the all-important post-war problems that will confront the agency which will absorb the Planning Board's activities when contemplated reorganization legislation is enacted.

Pensions

Sound plans to provide pensions at retirement to public employees are essential to the economic welfare of the community. A plan started with competent actuarial guidance, where the annual contributions from employees and employers are fixed by a formula that takes into consideration ability to pay, should thrive. If, however, the plan is disturbed by broadening benefit provisions but foisting the necessary increased costs solely on the employer, such a plan may no longer remain sound.

The trustees of the State Employees' Retirement Fund certified $590,902.06 as the amount to be paid to the fund by the State for the present fiscal year. For the coming fiscal year, the certification totals $1,088,630.00. This sum is almost double the amount certified for the current period. The actuary of the fund has advised that the substantial increase in State contributions is occasioned by an amendment to the State Employees' Retirement Law, Chapter 286, P. L. 1942, which provides for benefits not contemplated at the time the fund was started.
The amendment requires the funding of $1,816,342 the lump sum value of the added benefits as of June 30, 1943, over a period of three years, and specifies that the entire additional costs are to be borne by the public through the State and local subdivisions.

It is important to point out that the State is being called upon to contribute over $9,500,000.00 to its various employees' pension plans for the coming year. This sum is a substantial part of the total cost of operating the State Government. The State cannot continue to carry this enormous burden if it is to be called upon to make periodic lump sum payments for special or added benefits created through promiscuous amending of the original pension laws.

A glaring example of tampering with a sound pension fund plan is to be found in the establishment of a special pension fund for penal officers pursuant to Chapter 220, P. L. 1941. In this case the Legislature permitted some 187 members of the State Employees' Retirement Fund to withdraw their payments into the fund for personal use, totaling $189,252.55, and at the same time created a new pension plan without assets. This was actuarially indefensible, both from the point of view of the State Employees' Retirement Fund as well as the new fund. The 1941 act provided for State and employee contributions, commencing with the date of the establishment of the new fund. Thus, the State was burdened with the responsibility of financing a new fund that could not be operated successfully on the basis of the normal contributions provided. This is confirmed by the section of the law stating that, "If there shall not be sufficient money in the fund so created, the Legislature shall include in any appropriation bill a sum sufficient to meet the requirements of the fund for the time being." The fractionalizing of a sound pension fund into a variety of small unstable funds is contrary to the whole theory of good pension practice.

A study, ordered by me, is in progress to determine if State costs for the necessary pension funds can better be stabilized and whether the amendments to the original act are essential and equitable. Pending receipt of full information on this most important matter, I am recommending for appropriation to the State Employees' Retirement Fund the same amount made available in the appropriations bill for the present fiscal year.
I believe it of urgent importance to have complete information on the status and future needs of all the pension systems requiring contributions from the State Treasury. I am therefore recommending an appropriation of the sum of $10,000.00 to the Comptroller, to be made available in the event it become necessary to engage technical advisors to complete the pension study.

The trustees of the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund have certified $6,688,656.57 as the State contribution required to that fund for the next fiscal year. I recommend that this amount be appropriated. In addition, there is provided in the Highway Fund the sum of $1,399,544.38, including $132,988.38 interest at a 3% rate, to meet the second payment of 20% of the certification for the fiscal year closing June 30, 1943.

PURCHASE FUND

For several years, the cost of operating the office of the State Purchase Commissioner has been financed by a 2% service charge levied against departments and agencies for which purchases are made. This system involves the use of enormous quantities of printed forms and a great deal of bookkeeping. The entire arrangement has proven impractical and expensive.

Funds to operate the office are provided in my recommendations so that the service fee, and the related loss of man hours, may be eliminated. No attempt has been made to deduct from the several departmental budgets the service charge that would ordinarily be incurred if the system were continued. I am therefore charging the fiscal officers of the State, particularly the Commissioner of Finance, with the responsibility of exacting from the funds of all departments, at the close of the present budget year, the funds normally expended for this service.

SALARIES

In the past, it has been the practice for some State officials and employees to enjoy, in addition to the salaries or compensation provided for such positions, fees or costs allowed for services rendered as trustees, etc., in connection with work done in their official capacity or employment. Such payments have been permitted under our present laws. It is recommended that all such fees or costs be paid into the treasury as part of the State revenues. A bill that will accomplish this result is attached.
to this message, and I recommend that the Legislature enact it into law.

It is my firm belief that the compensation allowed an official should in all cases be commensurate with the responsibilities of his position. It is to be noted that the heads of some of the more recently created departments receive higher salaries than do those who occupy positions of equal or greater responsibility in some of our constitutional offices or departments of longer standing. In a large number of cases, the head of the department actually receives a lesser salary than is paid to one or more of his assistants. I cannot see the equity of this unbalanced situation, nor is it conducive to the exacting of full-time service by such department heads.

Good business judgment dictates that those holding positions of trust in the State Government should receive compensation fixed in an amount that will permit full-time service and not necessitate unfair financial sacrifice of those who assume the responsibilities of public office. For this reason, I have recommended salary changes for the following positions, among others:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Position</th>
<th>Salary</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>State Comptroller</td>
<td>$10,000.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>State Treasurer</td>

</tbody>

By Chapter 124, P. L. 1943, the Legislature provided a general salary increase for employees in the State service receiving up to and including $5,000.00 per annum. My budget recommendations allow for the continuation of this increase.

It should also be pointed out that the statute is so worded that the increase granted those employees whose salaries are fixed by statute or by line item would not continue beyond June 30, 1944. In my budget recommendations, I have adjusted all statutory and line items pertaining to salary so that the obvious intention of the 1943 Legislature will not be vitiated.

In addition, Chapter 124, P. L. 1943, established a temporary war adjustment (bonus) plan. Under the express provisions of that law, the war adjustment terminates with the close of the present fiscal year. It is recommended that the temporary war adjustment plan be extended to June 30, 1945. Funds have been reserved at the present rates to carry out this recommendation.

I have recommended that the sum of $1,203,130.35, representing the salaries of State employees on military leave, be appropriated, in order that funds will be available for their immediate re-employment should they return to the State service during the coming fiscal year. Of this sum, $886,186.52 will be required for the salaries of employees substituting for those on military leave, based upon departmental budget requests. In addition, the sum of $40,736.03 has been included to cover employees' pension contributions which the State is required to absorb for those on military leave.

An examination of the payrolls of the various State departments and agencies indicates the pressing need of a comprehensive and thorough reclassification of positions and salary ranges in the State service. The 1943 Legislature has already taken cognizance of this matter, and a Commission, assisted by a staff of technical advisors, has been working for several months in this field and submitted a preliminary report.

It is my strong belief that inequalities now existing in the State service should be eliminated as soon as possible. If the Commission's final report to the Legislature recommends a sound plan of reclassification and an equitable schedule of salary ranges, together with provision for annual salary increments for those meriting reward for faithful and honest service, I will give that plan my whole-hearted support.

INSTITUTIONS AND AGENCIES

The amounts requested by the various State institutions for heat, light, power, food and clothing have been recommended in full. We must not endanger the programs which the State has established for the care and rehabilitation of its wards.

Proper allowances have been recommended for necessary maintenance and repairs of institutions. Deferred maintenance can be very costly, not only in terms of dollars but, more important, from the point of view of the safety and welfare of the population of the institutions. Accordingly, funds have been provided for repairs to heating equipment and lines, wiring, roofing, water facilities, refrigeration, etc. In some cases where new installations have become necessary, funds have been set up.
The budget request of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners contained an item of $35,000.00 to cover the cost of investigating public utility rates in New Jersey. By action of the State House Commission, the sum of $15,000.00 was made available to the Board for this program through transfers of funds in the Board's current appropriation. The Board has advised me, through the Acting Budget Commissioner, that it is requesting legislation to provide it with a revolving fund of $100,000.00 to be used to pay the cost of examining and analyzing public utility rates, the expense to be reimbursed by the utilities affected.

I have made no recommendation on either of these requests because I believe the Appropriations Committee should examine the apparent alternative proposals and make its own recommendation to the Legislature as to which, if either, should be granted.

Another request that I would like the Legislature to examine is that made by the State Rehabilitation Commission.

Congress recently passed an amendment to the Federal vocational rehabilitation law that provides for broader participation than heretofore by the Federal Government in State programs. The law, as amended, provides for larger Federal grants, contingent upon the State developing a plan that will be acceptable to the Federal authorities.

The State Rehabilitation Commission originally submitted a tentative budget request, pending receipt from Washington of further information regarding the new legislation and its scope. Thereafter, an amended budget request was submitted by the Commission in an amount about one and one-half times as great as the original request. Radical changes are reflected in the revised budget, which may or may not be in the best interest of the State and those who benefit through the State's rehabilitation program.

I think the entire subject of sufficient importance to be analyzed thoroughly by the Appropriations Committee, with the assistance of the Post-War Economic Welfare Commission. It must be made certain that the State will not lose its identity in any rehabilitation plan that proves acceptable to the Federal authorities.

The amount originally requested by the Rehabilitation Commission is included in this budget. Any changes consistent with the views herein expressed, made by the Legislature after a careful study of the subject, will have my approval.

DEFENSE BUDGET

The current appropriations bill has segregated the amounts appropriated for various defense expenditures and set them up in a special section. This is a constructive step because items not identified with the normal activities of the State Government should not be added to the usual departmental appropriations. This policy serves to reveal at a glance the extraordinary cost brought about by the war. My budget continues this method of setting of war costs.

In my inaugural message I stated that I desired to continue the State-wide civilian defense organization and program. We must not be lulled into a sense of false security by the continued favorable war headlines. I believe, however, that the effective training of local defense units has placed our communities on a ready-for-action basis, so that the cost of directing and coordinating the civilian defense program from the State level can safely be reduced. I am, therefore, recommending an appropriation for the Office of Civilian Defense Director, to be administered subject to the provisions of Chapter 251, P. L. 1942, of $150,000.00—$50,000.00 in new funds and the reappropriation up to $100,000.00 from the anticipated unexpended balance of that agency on June 30, 1944.

The Adjutant-General has requested the sum of $60,000.00 for the operation of the Voting Records Division under his jurisdiction. That sum is provided, with the strong recommendation that the Adjutant-General exert his fullest effort to insure efficient and effective operation of the activities of this important division.

The sum of $50,000.00 is recommended to cover the overhead costs of the New Jersey State Guard.

No new appropriation is requested for the Office of Executive Assistant for Defense. It is recommended that the unexpended balance in this account on June 30, 1944, estimated at $8,800.00, be reappropriated.

RELIEF

Reports of the Municipal Aid Administration show a downward trend in the relief costs in these days of maximum employment. The Director of Municipal Aid has requested an appropriation of $1,519,453.50. It is recommended that the sum of $1,494,494.00 be made available by appropriating $794,494.00 and reappropriating $700,000.00 out of the anticipated balances of his appropriation for the current year.

INNOVATIONS

Aside from a single fiscal year there are many other innovations in this Budget Message. It will be noted that expenses such as rent, postage, telephone and telegraph, paid by centrally controlled agencies, are reflected in a supplementary statement appended to each departmental budget recommendation.

The sum of $3,000.00 formerly appropriated to the Quartermaster-General for maintenance and operation of motor vehicles in the Executive Department has been transferred to the Governor's budget. The true cost of operating a department should be reflected in its budget.

DEFICIENCIES

The 1943 Joint Appropriations Committee set a commendable precedent by including in its annual appropriations bill funds for deficiencies in the education accounts that formerly were financed by supplemental appropriation bills. To encourage the continuance of this forward step, I have included in this budget deficiency payment recommendations as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Commissioner of Education—for one-half of the cost of educating crippled children</td>

The revenues to the Highway Fund for the calendar year 1943 greatly exceeded the estimates. The balance reported by the Highway Commissioner as of December 31, 1943, which includes the surplus developed in the fund in the 1943 appropriations bill, the unexpended balances of the departments (other than the Highway Department) financed from the Highway Fund, and the excess revenues, totaled $9,681,511.59.

In anticipating future revenues, it is reasonable to expect that during the next 18 months wartime rationing of gasoline and tires probably will be no more severe than it has been during the past year. Accordingly, the revenues expected from motor vehicle and motor fuel tax sources are estimated at $24,727,500.00 for the period from January 1 through June 30, 1944, and $34,255,000.00 for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1944. There is recommended for recapture from various sources in the Highway Department budget $2,870,491.30. Therefore, the total available for appropriation in the Highway Fund for the 18-month period is $71,534,502.89.

It is recommended that out of this sum the general and education deficiencies totaling $2,637,064.73 be met. There is reserved $250,000.00 to meet the cost of continuing the war adjustment for employees paid from the Highway Fund for the period July 1, 1944, to June 30, 1945. Funds for the war adjustment from January 1 to June 30, 1944, are allocated in the Highway Fund budget.

The total recommended appropriation to the Highway Department and the agencies supported by the Highway Fund for the period January 1 to June 30, 1944, is $17,888,307.53, and for the succeeding 12 months beginning July 1, 1944, $25,776,352.17, or a total of $43,664,659.70. This leaves a surplus of $24,982,778.46 as of June 30, 1945.

Under the law the Highway Commissioner, after making specific requests for departmental appropriations, certifies the balance of available revenues for appropriation to new construction. No new construction money has been recommended for the Highway Department.

I recognize the great necessity for the contemplated new bridge over the Passaic River described in the Highway Department program as "Route 25, Section A, Road, Bridge and Right-of-Way." The present outmoded bridge facilities cannot properly service the densely populated industrial areas of Essex and Hudson counties.

An appropriation of $1,000,000.00 for the project was made available in 1941. Because of the shortage of vital materials, the bridge project could not be started.

The sum of $242,599.66 out of the sum appropriated in 1941 was expended last year for a temporary roadway on the right-of-way of the abandoned Hudson and Manhattan rail bridge to facilitate motor vehicle traffic in the area.

I have been informed that the available balance of $757,400.34 in State money is sufficient to complete the surveys, borings and supporting piers, as well as the immediate right-of-way adjacent to the new bridge site on each side of the river.

I have been further informed that if present priority restrictions are lifted to permit full-scale construction that deferment of less important projects would provide the funds necessary.

It is conceded that other desirable projects could be developed, but I firmly believe that because of the scarcity of labor and certain essential highway materials, and their high cost where they are available, these projects should be deferred until the post-war period.

The Department has more than $5,000,000.00 of Federal aid matched funds available in the event that Federal authorities require strategic military or access road construction. The Federal Government may draw on the full facilities and personnel of the Highway Department to carry out highway improvements with 100% Federal money, as has happened in the recent past.

I make no recommendation regarding the Highway Department's request for "Funding $12,421,000.00 of bonds authorized but not issued", nor do I recommend the appropriation of $4,300,000.00 requested to fund the loan to the Port of New York Authority under Chapter 121, P. L. 1940.

Ample funds have been provided for the following Highway purposes:

- Maintenance of the State Highway System;
- Operation of Bridges;
- Highway Lighting and Traffic Signals;
- Purchase of Plant and Equipment;
- Institutional Roads and Bridges.
Section 52:22-20(g) of the Revised Statutes provides that appropriation recommendations for the Highway Department be submitted in lump sums. In order to give members of the Legislature a better understanding of the administration of the department, I have set up in full detail the items supporting the lump sum I have recommended for administration, engineering, inspection, administration costs of right-of-way acquisition, and legal costs in the Highway Department. This procedure is the same as that required of all other State agencies. The Legislature is privileged to set up its appropriations bill in this manner. The enactment of the Highway Fund appropriations bill in this form will eliminate much of the confusion and complexity surrounding the financial statements of the Highway Department. It will be of inestimable value to State fiscal officers in controlling expenditures of funds.

It should be noted that the detailed items recommended are not in all cases the amounts requested by the Highway Commissioner. One of these requests was for an appropriation to permit the employment or re-employment of 150 engineers. My recommendation allows for 50 of these men.

An original request for $89,000.00 to enable the department to engage outside consultants was disallowed in its entirety. An amended statement from the department reduced the request by $56,500.00 because, it was stated, this sum had been committed out of unexpended funds late in 1943. No new money for outside consultant costs is recommended in this budget.

The Department of Commerce and Navigation has requested, in addition to the amount recommended for appropriation from the State Fund, the sum of $3,795,000.00 for beach erosion projects. I have recommended no more than $250,000.00 of that sum in this budget. I recognize the need for protection of our ocean front. I feel, however, that this program, like the highway construction program, should be developed for our all-important post-war program, unless the situation becomes so critical as to demand immediate action.

This recommended budget consolidates the Motor Fuel Tax Division and the Motor Fuel Price Control Unit into one department. The Motor Fuel Price Control Unit has, since its inception, been operating on a dedicated fund basis out of license fees derived from retail gasoline dealers. The New Jersey
Gasoline Retailers Association is to be commended for conceding that the Control Unit should be a part of the Motor Fuel Tax Division, operating from appropriations made by the Legislature, and that the fees formerly paid to carry on the functions of the unit should be paid into the State treasury as part of the State revenues.

CONCLUSION

In my judgment, the times present a challenge to the Legislature to keep State budgetary requirements within strictest limits. If no supplemental appropriations affecting the present healthy financial State picture are made, we can keep faith with those in the armed services and the citizens of New Jersey who have entrusted to our guidance the affairs of our State.

I have no doubt that the Appropriation Committees and the Legislature in its entirety will co-operate in carrying through this solemn obligation.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) WALTER E. EDGE,
Governor.

EDWARD M. GILROY,
The Secretary to the Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

February 4, 1944.

I am herewith returning Senate Bill No. 3 without my approval. I cannot approve of this bill for the following reasons:

District Court judges are part-time judges, sitting only a few days per week.

Further, I disapprove of the policy of making temporary appointments to the Judiciary. In these days of pressure all public officials are required to assume extra responsibilities and I feel that the District Court judges can properly dispose of the business before them and where a court is temporarily without a judge, another District Court judge in the county can be called in to sit in the court from which the judge is absent. As a matter of fact, this is a common practice.

Also, I am informed that in practically all of the Civil Courts business has decreased during the war. As a matter of fact, in one of the populous counties of the State it is proposed that the number of District Courts be decreased.

Therefore, it does not appeal to me as a time to initiate this departure from our established judicial procedure.

Respectfully submitted,

WALTER E. EDGE,
Governor.

EDWARD M. GILROY,
The Secretary to the Governor.

WHEREAS, In the Commonwealth of Kentucky, one of our sister States, on February twelfth, one hundred and thirty-five years ago, was born Abraham Lincoln, a child of humble parentage, destined to be a great man, a savior of our Nation and a champion of unity, freedom, democracy and human justice; and

WHEREAS, Today we are engaged in the greatest of all wars—a global war—in which our aims and objectives are, as Lincoln would describe them, the preservation of our present form of government, which must be democratic and a government of the people, by the people and for the people; and

WHEREAS, During one of the darkest and perilous periods of our early national history, Abraham Lincoln, a War President, not only through his statesmanship and love for unity preserved our young Union, from which these United States have grown, but also, in an act, which he believed to be an "Act of justice, warranted by the Constitution" and in which he invoked "the considerate judgment of mankind and the gracious favor of Almighty God," freed from human bondage millions of human beings; and

WHEREAS, It is both consoling and inspiring that we should, on this occasion, reflect upon the many ordeals and successes of this great American and revive renewed courage from his many words of wisdom and understanding; and
WHEREAS, The citizens of New Jersey of all classes, races and creeds are deeply interested in the perpetuation of the principles and beliefs of Lincoln and the democratic ideals which they represent; therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of New Jersey:

While the battle with our enemy is presently raging with unchecked fury, we, on the home front, pause momentarily to pay a tribute of respect and admiration to the memory of a great President whose 135th birthday our State and Nation has just celebrated.

Be It Further Resolved, That we pledge our efforts and dedicate ourselves to the fulfillment of the precepts and declarations made by Lincoln in his second inaugural address, as follows:

"With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nation's wounds; to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow, and his orphan; to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and a lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."

Senator Eastwood presented the following report by the Joint Legislative Committee to formulate a draft of a Proposed Revised Constitution for the State of New Jersey constituted under Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1, adopted January 11, 1944.
Report of the Joint Legislative Committee to formulate a draft of a Proposed Revised Constitution for the State of New Jersey, constituted under Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1, adopted January 11, 1944.

To the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1, adopted January 11, 1944, named therein the members of the Joint Legislative Committee to formulate a draft of a Proposed Revised Constitution for the State of New Jersey, subject to the limitations imposed by the mandate of the people, and to make report to the present Legislature with a draft of a Proposed Revised Constitution for its consideration. This resolution named the President of the Senate as the chairman of the Joint Committee, and the Speaker of the General Assembly as the vice-chairman thereof. The concurrent resolution also provided that the Joint Committee should be divided into three main subcommittees: a subcommittee on judicial provisions, having Senator Eastwood as chairman and Assemblyman Cavicchia as vice-chairman; a subcommittee on legislative provisions, having Senator Pascoe as chairman and Assemblyman Amlieke as vice-chairman; and a subcommittee on executive provisions, having Senator Proctor as chairman and Assemblyman Feller as vice-chairman. Each subcommittee had as members seven Senators and seven Assemblymen as named in the Senate Concurrent Resolution.

The Joint Committee organized and elected Assemblyman Feller as secretary and made the following appointments: Russell E. Watson, counsel to the subcommittee on judicial provisions; Walter J. Freund, counsel to the subcommittee on legislative provisions; Alfred C. Clapp, counsel to the subcommittee on executive provisions; Charles DeF. Besoré and John B. McGeehan, consulting counsel to the Joint Committee, and William Miller, research consultant.

On January 24, 1944, the Legislature received a message from Governor Edge which contained a draft of a Proposed Revised Constitution for the State of New Jersey which had been submitted to him by an informal committee of legislators-elect. The Legislature provided for the printing of one hundred thousand copies of this proposed Constitution and for as wide distribution as possible among the people of our State. The message of Governor Edge and the draft of a Proposed Revised Constitution was then referred to this Joint Committee for its consideration.

The Joint Committee has made a careful study of the draft of the Revised Constitution submitted by the Governor. It has held public hearings to which the public at large were invited and heard all who appeared with proposals, recommendations or criticisms. These hearings were continued until all who appeared at the hearings were heard. These hearings were widely advertised and were well attended. The Joint Committee solicited submission of briefs and statements from all who did not wish to be heard, and also from all who were heard and who desired to supplement their remarks. The Joint Committee made every possible effort to get the opinions of all our people to aid it in this most important task. Transcripts of all the hearings were prepared and furnished to each member of the present Legislature.

The subcommittees and the Joint Committee gave due consideration to all proposals, recommendations and criticisms brought forth at the public hearings. All proposals, recommendations and criticisms made by the individual members of the Joint Committee were considered.

The result of the Joint Committee’s deliberations is contained in committee's draft of a Proposed Revised Constitution for the State of New Jersey. The draft as approved by the Joint Committee will be submitted to the Legislature immediately following the reading of this report, in a Senate Concurrent Resolution presented by the chairman of the Joint Committee, all pursuant to the directions of the Joint Committee.

Dated: February 25, 1944.

Howard Eastwood,
Chairman of Joint Committee;

Dominic A. Cavicchia,
Vice-Chairman of Joint Committee;

4. It shall be lawful to hold, carry on, and operate in this State race meetings, whereat the trotting, running or steeplechase racing of horses only may be conducted between the hours of sunrise and sunset on week days only and in duly legalized race tracks, at which the pari-mutuel system of betting shall be permitted. No lottery, roulette, or game of chance of any form shall be authorized by the Legislature in this State, and no ticket in any lottery shall be bought or sold within this State, or offered for sale; nor shall pool-selling, bookmaking, or gambling of any kind be authorized or allowed within this State, except pari-mutuel betting on the results of the racing of horses only, from which the State shall derive a reasonable revenue for the support of government; nor shall any gambling device, practice, or game of change, or pari-mutuel betting thereon now prohibited by law, except as herein stated and otherwise provided, be legalized, or the remedy, penalty, or punishment now provided therefor be in any way diminished.

5. The Legislature may enact general laws under which municipalities, other than counties, may adopt zoning ordinances limiting and restricting to specified districts and regulating therein, buildings and structures according to their construction, and the nature and extent of their use and the nature and extent of the uses of land. The exercise of such authority shall be deemed to be within the police power of the State and such laws shall be subject to repeal or alteration by the Legislature.
6. Any agency or political subdivision of the State or any agency of a political subdivision thereof, which is empowered to take or otherwise acquire private property for any public highway, parkway, place, improvement, or use, may be authorized by law to take or otherwise acquire the fee or any lesser interest, and may be authorized by law to take or otherwise acquire a fee in, easements upon, or the benefit of restrictions upon, abutting property to preserve and protect the public highway, parkway, place, improvement, or use; but such taking shall be with just compensation.

7. The Legislature shall provide for the maintenance and support of a thorough and efficient system of public free schools for the instruction of all children in this State between the ages of five and eighteen years. The fund for the support of public free schools, and all money, stock and other property, which may hereafter be appropriated for that purpose, or received into the treasury under the provision of any law heretofore passed to augment the said fund, shall be securely invested, and remain a perpetual fund; and the income thereof, except so much as it may be judged expedient to apply to an increase of the capital, shall be annually appropriated to the support of public free schools, for the equal benefit of all the people of the State; and it shall not be competent for the Legislature to borrow, appropriate, or use the said fund or any part thereof, for any other purpose, under any pretense whatever.

8. No general law shall embrace any provision of a private, special, or local character. The Legislature shall not pass any private, special, or local laws:

(1) Authorizing the sale of any lands belonging in whole or in part to a minor or minors or other persons who may at the time be under any legal disability to act for themselves.

(2) Creating, increasing, or decreasing the emoluments, term, tenure or pension rights of public officers or employees.

The Legislature shall pass general laws providing for the cases enumerated in this paragraph, and for all other cases which, in its judgment, may be provided for by general laws. The Legislature shall pass no special act conferring corporate powers, but shall pass general laws under which corporations may be organized and corporate powers of every nature obtained, subject, nevertheless, to repeal or alteration at the will of the Legislature.

9. No private, special, or local bill shall be passed, unless public notice of the intention to apply therefor, and of the general object thereof, shall have been previously given. Such public notice shall be given at such time and in such mode and shall be so evidenced and the evidence thereof shall be so preserved as may be provided by law.

10. Individuals or private corporations shall not be authorized to take private property for public use, without just compensation first made to the owners.

Article IV

Executive

Section I

1. The executive power shall be vested in a Governor.

2. The Governor shall be not less than thirty years of age, and shall have been for twenty years, at least, a citizen of the United States, and a resident of this State seven years next before his election, unless he shall have been absent during that time on the public business of the United States or of this State.

3. No member of Congress or person holding any Federal or State office, or position, of profit shall exercise the office of Governor; and if the Governor shall become a member of Congress or shall accept any Federal or State office, or position, of profit, his office of Governor shall thereupon be vacant. No Governor shall be elected or appointed by the Legislature to any office during the term for which he shall have been elected Governor.

4. The Governor shall be elected by the legally qualified voters of this State. The person having the highest number of votes shall be the Governor; but if two or more shall be equal and highest in votes, one of them shall be elected Governor by the vote of a majority of the members of both houses in joint meeting at the regular legislative session next following the election for Governor by the people. Contested elections for the office of Governor shall be determined in such manner as may be provided by law.

5. A Governor elected for a full term shall hold his office for four years beginning at noon on the second Tuesday of January next following the election for Governor by the people and ending at noon on the second Tuesday of January four years thereafter. The Governor, when elected for any full term, shall be incapable of holding the office again until the second Tuesday of January in the fourth year after the expiration of the term.

6. In case of the death of the Governor-elect before he is qualified into office, in case of the death, resignation or removal from office of the Governor or in case of a vacancy in the office for any other cause, the powers, duties and emoluments of the office shall devolve upon the President of the Senate, and in case of his death, resignation or removal, then upon the Speaker of the General Assembly for the time being, until a Governor be elected and qualified.

7. In case of the impeachment of the Governor, his absence from the State or inability to discharge the duties of his office, the powers, duties and emoluments of the office shall devolve upon the President of the Senate, and in case of his death, resignation or removal, then upon the Speaker of the General Assembly for the time being, until the Governor impeached or absent shall be acquitted or shall return or the inability shall cease, or until a Governor be elected and qualified.

8. In case of a vacancy in the office of Governor, a Governor shall be elected to fill the unexpired term at the next general election succeeding the vacancy unless the vacancy shall occur within sixty days immediately preceding a general election in which case he shall be elected at the second succeeding general election; but no election to fill an unexpired term shall be held in any year in which a Governor is to be elected for a full term. A Governor elected for an unexpired term may assume his office as soon as his election has been determined.

9. The Governor shall, at stated times, receive for his services a salary, which shall be neither increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected.

10. He shall be the commander-in-chief of the militia and all the military and naval forces of the State; he shall communicate by message to the Legislature at the opening of each regular session, and at such other times as he may deem necessary, the condition of the State, and recommend such measures as he may deem expedient; he shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed, and grant commissions to all officers elected or appointed pursuant to the provisions of this Constitution. All officers whose election or appointment shall not otherwise be provided for by this Constitution or by law shall be nominated by the Governor and appointed by him with the advice and consent of the Senate. No vacancy in any office which is to be filled by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate or by the Senate and General Assembly in joint meeting may be filled by the Governor by a temporary or ad interim appointment at any time, except as may be provided by law.

11. The Senator shall either confirm or reject each nomination to office within a period of six weeks after the same has been submitted to it by the Governor unless within that period the nomination is withdrawn by the Governor or returned to the Governor by the Senate; and any nomination not rejected, withdrawn or returned within the period shall be deemed confirmed at the expiration of the period. The withdrawal or return of a nomination before its confirmation shall render it of no effect. No appointment or nomination shall be made by the Governor during the last week of his term.

12. Every bill which shall have passed both houses shall be presented to the Governor; if he approve he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his objections, to the house in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large on their journal and proceed to reconsider it; if, upon reconsideration on or after the third day following its return, three-fifths of all the members of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall be reconsidered and if approved of by three-fifths of all the members of that house, it shall become a law; and in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the Governor within ten days, Sundays excepted, after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall become a law on the tenth day if the house of origin is not in adjournment on said day. If, on said tenth day, the house of origin is in adjournment in the course of a regular or special session, the bill shall become a law on the day on which the house of origin convenes after the adjournment unless the Governor shall return the bill to that house on that day.
If, on said tenth day, the Legislature is in adjournment sine die, the Governor shall within thirty-five days after such adjournment sign the bill or return it to the house of origin at a special session of the Legislature called by him, to meet within the thirty-five days, for reconsideration of bills; otherwise, the bill shall become a law on said thirty-fifth day. If the Governor shall return any bill to the house of origin less than three days prior to the adjournment sine die of any session, the bill shall become a law thirty-five days after said adjournment unless the Governor shall call a special session of the Legislature, to meet within said thirty-five days, for reconsideration of bills, and in such case such bill may be reconsidered.

13. If any bill presented to the Governor shall contain one or more items of appropriation of money, he may object to one or more of such items while approving of the other portions of the bill. In such case he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of each item to which he objects, and each item so objected to shall not take effect. A copy of such statement shall be transmitted by him to the house in which the bill originated, and each item objected to shall be separately reconsidered. If, upon reconsideration on or after the third day following said transmittal, one or more of such items be approved by three-fifths of all the members of each house, the same shall become a part of the law, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor. All the provisions of the preceding paragraph in relation to bills not approved by the Governor shall apply to cases in which he shall withhold his approval from any item or items contained in a bill appropriating money.

14. The Governor may cause an investigation to be made of the conduct in office of any State officer except a member of the Legislature or an officer elected by the Senate and General Assembly in joint meeting or a judicial officer. After notice, service of charges and an opportunity to be heard at a public hearing, the Governor may remove any such officer whenever in his opinion the hearing discloses misfeasance or malfeasance in office. Upon application on behalf of the Governor or officer under investigation or subject to charges, a Justice of the Superior Court may issue subpoenas and, under penalty of contempt of the Superior Court, may compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony, and the production of books and papers, in the investigation or at the hearing.
Section II

1. There shall be a board of pardons in the executive branch of the government, which shall consist of the Governor, or person administering the government, and of four other members who shall be nominated and appointed by the Governor by and with the advice and consent of the Senate for terms of four years and until their successors are qualified into office and who shall receive such annual salaries for their services as may be provided by law. At least one of said four members shall be an attorney-at-law of this State.

2. The board of pardons, by a majority of all its members of which majority the Governor, or person administering the government, shall be one, may grant pardons, after conviction, in all cases except impeachment. The board of pardons, by a majority of all its members, may remit fines and forfeitures and suspend the collection of the same, but in proceedings as to these matters the Governor, or person administering the government, need not participate.

3. The board of pardons shall have no power to grant paroles except as provided by law.

4. The Governor, or person administering the government, shall have the power to grant reprieves except in cases of impeachment.

Section III

1. There shall be Principal Departments in the State Government, not more than twenty in number, created by the Governor by executive order; and among and within them shall be allocated by the Governor by executive order all the executive and administrative offices, departments and instrumentalities of the State Government, in such manner as to group the same according to major purposes.

2. The Governor by executive order from time to time may reorganize, merge, consolidate and divide offices, departments, instrumentalities and the Principal Departments, and may allocate and reallocate them, in whole or in part, and the functions, powers and duties of any of them among and within such offices, departments and instrumentalities and the Principal Departments, all in such manner as to promote efficiency and economy in the operation of the State Government.

3. The Governor in any executive order made under the preceding paragraphs of this Section may make provision to effect the purposes of said order, including the transfer of personnel, property and appropriation balances, and the abolition and creation, within the limits of available appropriations, of executive and administrative offices, positions and employments; provided, that no person shall be deprived of any right or privilege which may be accorded him by civil service law.

4. Every such executive order shall be transmitted by the Governor to each house of the Legislature at a regular or special session and shall become effective six weeks after its transmittal unless within the six weeks both houses of the Legislature shall approve or disapprove the same by resolution. If so approved the order shall become effective upon approval; and if so disapproved it shall have no effect.

5. Such executive order shall remain unaltered and in full force except as may be provided by subsequent executive orders. The Legislature, however, may by law from time to time assign new functions, powers and duties to, and may increase or diminish the functions, powers and duties of, any office, department or instrumentality or Principal Department.

6. The Principal Departments shall be under the supervision and control of the Governor. The head of each Principal Department shall be a single executive unless otherwise provided by law; and all such single executives shall be nominated and appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate and shall hold their offices until the next Governor shall be elected and qualified and until their successors shall be appointed and qualified, but they may be removed by the Governor as shall be provided by law.

7. Whenever a board, commission or other body shall be head of a Principal Department, the members thereof shall be appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate, and if said board, commission or other body shall have power to appoint an administrator, director or other chief executive, such appointment shall be made with the approval of the Governor.
8. The Governor may from time to time appoint such State officers as he may select, to serve at his pleasure as the members of his Cabinet with whom he may consult relative to the affairs of the State.

9. No executive order under this section shall affect any officer elected by the Senate and General Assembly in joint meeting or his office or the functions, powers or duties thereof which may be provided by law.

Article V

Judicial

Section I

1. The judicial power shall be vested in a Supreme Court and in a Superior Court and in inferior courts of original limited jurisdiction, which inferior courts may from time to time be established, altered and abolished by law. Such inferior courts may be integrated with the Superior Court in any manner and to any extent, not inconsistent with this Constitution, as may be provided by law.

2. In all matters in which there is any conflict or variance between equity and common law, equity shall prevail and, subject to rules of the Supreme Court, every controversy shall be fully determined by the court or justice hearing it.

3. The Supreme Court shall sit at the seat of the State Government and the Superior Court shall sit in each county except the appellate divisions thereof which shall sit at the seat of the State Government and at such other places as the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court may designate.

4. The Supreme Court and the appellate divisions of the Superior Court shall hold continuous yearly terms, and the sections of the Superior Court shall hold such terms as may be fixed by rules of the Supreme Court.

Section II

1. The Supreme Court shall consist of seven justices, namely: one Chief Justice and six Associate Justices. Five members of the court shall constitute a quorum. The Chief Justice or, in his absence, the justice of the court presiding as provided by law shall designate a justice or justices of the Superior Court to serve temporarily when necessary to constitute a quorum.
2. The Supreme Court shall exercise appellate jurisdiction in the last resort in all cases designated in this Constitution. The Court may, by certiorari allowed by the court or any justice thereof, review any indictment, before trial, according to law. The court shall also have jurisdiction of the admission to the practice of law and the discipline of persons admitted.

3. The Supreme Court shall make rules governing the administration of all of the courts in this State. It shall have power, also, to make rules as to pleading, practice and evidence, which may be applicable to all of the courts in this State, and which shall have the force of law unless changed or abrogated by law.

SECTION III

1. The Superior Court shall consist of such number of justices as may be authorized by law, but not less than twenty-seven, each of whom may exercise the original jurisdiction of the court subject to rules of the Supreme Court. There shall be at least one Resident Justice of the Superior Court for each county who shall be appointed from the residents of the county and who shall reside in, and shall annually be assigned by the Chief Justice to sit in the law section of the Superior Court in said county, but who shall be subject to assignment, from time to time, to sit without the county, only, if and when his duties within the county shall not require his presence there.

2. The Superior Court shall have original general jurisdiction throughout the State in all cases.

3. The Superior Court shall be divided into

(1) a law section, to exercise civil and criminal jurisdiction at law; and matrimonial jurisdiction and jurisdiction in cases involving the allowance of alimony and maintenance and the custody of children, without jury trial; and

(2) an equity and probate section, to exercise all other jurisdiction of the court,

but either section shall exercise the jurisdiction of the other when the ends of justice so require. Each section of the Superior Court shall have such parts as may be provided by rules of the Supreme Court.
4. Any Justice of the Superior Court or an appellate division thereof may allow prerogative writs returnable in an appellate division which shall determine, in such manner as the rules of the Supreme Court may prescribe, and without a jury, questions of fact arising therein; or, when so prescribed by rules of the Supreme Court, the hearing may be in the first instance before a single justice, whose determination, both as to law and fact, shall be reviewable by an appellate division. On an application for any prerogative writ, the appellate division or the Justice of the Superior Court shall allow such writ as the case shall warrant.

SECTION IV

1. There shall be established in the Superior Court two or more appellate divisions as prescribed by rules of the Supreme Court. Each such appellate division shall consist of three Justices of the Superior Court who shall be assigned for that purpose by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and shall sit therein, solely, for three years. There may be established in the Superior Court, by rules of the Supreme Court, temporary appellate divisions as need appears. Each appellate division shall hear appeals from sections of the Superior Court designated by the rules of the Supreme Court. Appeals from the inferior courts shall be heard by an appellate division or in one of the sections of the Superior Court, as may be provided by law.

2. An appeal to an appellate division may be taken from any final order, judgment or decree of the Superior Court as a matter of right and from any preliminary or interlocutory order of the Superior Court when so provided by law. Appeals in cases involving restraints or the appointment of receivers shall, in whatever court pending, be preferred as to argument and disposition.

3. Appeals to the Supreme Court from any court may be taken only:

(1) In capital cases and cases involving a question arising under the Constitution of the United States or of this State, which appeals shall be taken directly to the Supreme Court and shall be preferred as to argument and disposition;
(2) In the event of a dissent in an appellate division;
(3) On certification by an appellate division; or
(4) On certification by the Supreme Court to any court.

In all other cases judgments and orders of an appellate division shall be final.

4. The Supreme Court and the appellate divisions of the Superior Court, in addition to their other powers, may set aside judgments at law, wholly or in part, where the finding of fact is against the weight of evidence or the verdict excessive or inadequate, and may affirm, reverse or modify orders, judgments or decrees in all cases and make final determination thereof, and exercise such original jurisdiction as may be incident to the final determination thereof, and exercise such original jurisdiction as may be incident to the final determination thereof, unless the ends of justice or the right of trial by jury shall require that a new trial or hearing be ordered.

Section V

1. The Governor shall nominate and appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, the Chief Justice and Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, the Justices of the Superior Court and the judges of every court of inferior jurisdiction, except that judges of inferior courts of civil and criminal jurisdiction may be elected in, or appointed by the governing body of, any county or municipality of the State when so provided by law.

2. The Chief Justice and each Associate Justice of the Supreme Court and each Justice of the Superior Court shall, prior to his appointment, have been an attorney-at-law of this State in good standing for at least ten years.

3. The Justices of the Supreme Court shall be appointed to hold office during good behavior without limited terms except as to age as provided in this Constitution. The Justices of the Superior Court shall hold office during good behavior for terms of seven years and if reappointed shall thereafter hold office during good behavior without limited terms except as to age as provided in this Constitution.
4. The Justices of the Supreme Court and the Justices of the Superior Court shall be liable to impeachment for misconduct in office during their continuance in office and for two years thereafter. The General Assembly shall have the sole power of impeaching a Justice of the Supreme Court or a Justice of the Superior Court by a vote of a majority of all the members. All such impeachments shall be tried by the Senate, and members, when sitting for that purpose, shall be on oath or affirmation “truly and impartially to try and determine the charge in question according to evidence;” and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of a majority of all the members of the Senate. Any Justice of the Supreme Court or any Justice of the Superior Court impeached shall be suspended from exercising his office until his acquittal. Judgment in case of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and to disqualification to hold and enjoy any public office of honor, profit or trust in this State; but the person convicted shall nevertheless be liable to indictment, trial and punishment according to law.

5. No Justice of the Supreme Court or of the Superior Court shall continue in office after he has attained the age of seventy years; but, subject to law, he may be assigned by the Chief Justice to temporary service in the Supreme Court or in the Superior Court, as need appears.

6. The Chief Justice and the Associate Justices of the Supreme Court and the Justices of the Superior Court shall, at stated intervals, receive for their services such salaries as may be provided by law which shall not be diminished during the term of their appointment. They shall hold no other office, or position, of profit under the government of this State or of the United States or of any instrumentality or political subdivision of either of them. Any justice or judge of any court in this State who shall become a candidate for an elective public office shall thereby forfeit his judicial office. The Justices of the Supreme Court and of the Superior Court shall not, while in office, engage in the practice of law or other gainful occupation.

7. A Justice of the Superior Court may exercise the powers of a judge of any court established by law in the county or counties to which he may be assigned and may hold any such court with like jurisdiction, powers and duties as a judge therein.
8. Judges of inferior courts may be removed from office without impeachment and in such manner as may be provided by law.

1. The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court shall be the administrative head of all of the courts in this State, and shall supervise their work. He shall appoint an executive director of the courts to serve at his pleasure.

2. The executive director shall:

   (1) Assist the Chief Justice in all matters related to the administration, finance and personnel of the courts;

   (2) Publish a statistical record of the judicial services of all the courts, justices and judges in the State, and of the cost thereof, at such times as shall be required by law;

   (3) Prescribe records, reports and audits for the inferior courts;

   (4) Have such other duties as may be delegated by the Chief Justice.

3. The Supreme Court shall appoint a Court Reporter, a Clerk of the Supreme Court and a State Clerk of the Superior Court, each of whom shall hold office at the pleasure of the Supreme Court. The appointment of the Clerk of the Supreme Court and of the State Clerk of the Superior Court shall be made with the approval of the Governor.

4. The State Clerk of the Superior Court shall act as clerk of the appellate divisions and he, the county clerks and surrogates shall be the clerks of the Superior Court and shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by rules of the Supreme Court subject to law.

5. Judgments may be docketed and notices of pendency of actions and other papers or documents may be filed or recorded in such offices, with such effect, and in such manner, as may be prescribed by law.

6. The Chief Justice, subject to the provisions of this Constitution, shall annually assign the Justices of the Superior Court to the counties and to the sections and the parts of the Superior Court, and may from time to time transfer Justices from one assignment to another, and make temporary assignments to the appellate divisions, as need appears.

7. Prior to each legislative session the Chief Justice shall file with the Governor and the Legislature a report of the work of the courts as provided by law.

ARTICLE VI
PUBLIC OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES
SECTION I

1. Every appointive State officer shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, take and subscribe an oath or affirmation to support the Constitution of this State and of the United States and to perform the duties of his office faithfully, impartially and justly to the best of his ability.

2. In the civil service of the State and all of its civil divisions, all offices and positions shall be classified according to duties and responsibilities, salary ranges shall be established for the various classes, and all appointments and promotions shall be made according to merit and fitness to be ascertained, so far as practicable, by examinations, which, so far as practicable, shall be competitive; except that preference in the appointment of persons who have been or shall have been in active service in any branch of the military or naval forces of the United States in time of war may be created by law.

3. Any compensation for services or any fees received by any person by virtue of his appointive State office or position, in addition to the annual salary provided therefor, shall be forthwith paid by him into the State Treasury, unless the compensation or fees be allowed or appropriated to him by the Legislature.

4. Any person before entering upon the duties of, or while holding, any public office, position or employment in this State may be required to give bond, as may be provided by law.

5. The term of office of all officers elected or appointed pursuant to the provisions of this Constitution, except when herein otherwise directed, shall commence on the day of the date of their respective commissions; but no commission for any office shall bear date prior to the expiration of the term of the incumbent of said office.

Section II

1. The State Comptroller, the State Treasurer and the State Auditor shall be elected by the Senate and General Assembly in joint meeting for terms of four years and until their successors shall be qualified into office. The Governor may, whenever in his opinion it would be in the public interest, require from them written statements, under oath, of information on any matter relating to the conduct of their respective offices.

2. Prosecutors of the pleas shall be nominated by the Governor and appointed by him with the advice and consent of the Senate. They shall hold their offices for terms of five years.

3. County clerks, surrogates, sheriffs and coroners shall be elected by the people of their respective counties at general elections. County clerks and surrogates shall hold office for terms of five years. Sheriffs and coroners shall hold office for terms of three years. Whenever a vacancy occurs in the office of county clerk, surrogate, sheriff or coroner in any county, it shall be filled in such manner as may be provided by law.

Section III

1. The Legislature may by concurrent resolution and either house thereof may by resolution constitute and empower a committee thereof or any public officer or agency to investigate any and all phases of State and local government, or any part thereof, the fidelity of any public officer or employee, or the performance of any public office, employment or trust. No person shall be privileged from testifying in relation to any such matters, and upon so testifying he shall be immune from criminal prosecution with respect to any matter to which such testimony may relate unless he has waived such immunity. Any person holding public office, position or employment who shall refuse or willfully fail to obey any subpoena lawfully issued by such investigating committee, officer or agency, or who shall refuse to testify or to answer any questions relating to any matter under investigation, or who shall refuse to waive immunity from prosecution with respect to any matter upon which he may testify, shall thereby become disqualified to continue in his office, position or employment, which shall forthwith be deemed vacant and he shall be ineligible to hold any public office, position or employment.

SECTION IV

1. The Governor and all other civil officers of the State Government, except judicial officers, shall be liable to impeachment for misdemeanor in office during their continuance in office and for two years thereafter.

2. The General Assembly shall have the sole power of impeaching in such cases by a vote of a majority of all the members. All such impeachments shall be tried by the Senate, and members, when sitting for that purpose, shall be on oath or affirmation "truly and impartially to try and determine the charge in question according to evidence;" and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate.

3. Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and to disqualification to hold and enjoy any public office of honor, profit or trust in this State; but the person convicted shall nevertheless be liable to indictment, trial and punishment according to law.

ARTICLE VII

FINANCE

1. The credit of the State shall not be directly or indirectly loaned in any case.

2. All revenues of the State Government from whatever source derived, including revenues of all departments, agencies and offices, shall be paid into a single fund to be known as the General State Fund and shall be subject to appropriations for any public purpose; but this paragraph shall not apply to moneys which may be received or held in trust, or under grant or contract for restricted use, or which must be received or held in a particular manner in order to receive a grant, or which may be payable to any county, municipality, or school district, of the State. Nothing in this paragraph shall prevent or interfere with any payment of State revenues to, or any direct or indirect collection or retention of State revenues by, any county, municipality or school district which payment, collection, or retention may be provided by law. Nothing in this paragraph shall abridge the right of the State to enter into con-

3. No money shall be drawn from the State Treasury but for appropriations made by law. So far as known or can be reasonably foreseen, all needs for the support of the State Government and for all other State purposes shall be provided for in one general appropriation law covering one and the same fiscal year, except that, when change in fiscal year is made, necessary provision may be made to effect the transition. No general appropriation law or other law appropriating money for any State purpose shall be enacted if the appropriation contained therein together with all prior appropriations made for the same fiscal period shall exceed the total amount of revenue on hand and anticipated which will be available to meet such appropriations during such fiscal period, as certified by the State Comptroller.

4. Property shall be assessed for taxes under general laws, and by uniform rules, according to standards of value as may be provided by law but not in excess of true value; but exemption from taxation may be granted by law to persons who have been, are, shall be or shall have been in active service in any branch of the military or naval forces of the United States in time of war.

5. Dear Sir—Enclosed please find copy of report of committee created pursuant to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 10.

Yours very truly,

John M. Summerill, Jr.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE CREATED BY SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 10

The Joint Committee created pursuant to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 10 having studied all bills coming within its purview does hereby unanimously report thereon as follows:

(1) It recommends the passage of Senate Bill No. 63 in its present form.

(2) It recommends the passage of Assembly Bills Nos. 95 and 96 in their present form.

(3) The Committee is sympathetic toward a reasonable increase to employees in the unemployment compensation benefits and it is studying financial statistics as to its effect on the fund. The Committee will make a supplemental report thereon at an early date.

(4) By reason of the multiplicity of bills pertaining to workmen's compensation and unemployment compensation and the shortage of time for this Committee to act before the end of this Session, and in further view of the fact that any changes pertaining to these matters will require intensive and extensive study and will warrant public hearings; we, therefore, are of the opinion that Special Joint Committees of both Houses of the Legislature should be constituted on these subjects for the purpose of reporting on the same to the Legislature.

(Signed) John M. Summerill, Jr.,
Roy V. Wright,
H. Rivington Pyne,
Jacob S. Glickenhaus,
Joseph P. Fleming,
Arthur W. Lewis.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his secretary, Edward Gilroy, marked "nominations" and also a communication marked "message" as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

To the Legislature:
March 27, 1944.

It has been apparent for a long time that a program to provide an equitable method of taxing intangible personal property in New Jersey is urgently demanded. In my inaugural message I pointed out that under our present tax laws large blocs of intangible personal property remained "unmolested and undisturbed," and I suggested a program that, among other things, would provide for the State assessment of this property and a State-wide nonconfiscatory tax rate.

A number of studies and investigations have been made within the last six years, which have thoroughly explored this problem, and a wide variety of proposals designed to remedy the situation have been advanced. It is common knowledge that the present law is widely and erratically evaded because of the unwillingness of local assessors to tax intangibles at the required local rate on real estate. It is equally common knowledge that should intangible personalty be taxed at the local rate, that such a tax would be confiscatory.

There is, however, the ever-present danger, graphically described as "tax lightning," that this rate might be enforced locally and the fear has caused great unrest among New Jersey corporations. It is reported that many companies have refrained from entering New Jersey, that others have left the State, and that still others have "colonized" in selected municipalities that seem to offer protection from unfavorable tax treatment.
While previous investigations have provided all of the research and information needed to remedy this condition, it is my considered judgment that the Legislature should create at once a special commission to examine the past studies and proposals and to prepare suitable legislation for introduction at the next session of the Legislature.

While I appreciate the desirability of having this vexing problem settled as soon as possible, the new Constitution, which I confidently expect to be adopted at the November election, will make it much easier to prepare a workable method of taxing intangible personal property because the proposed revision provides that "Property shall be assessed for taxes under general laws, and by uniform rules, according to such standards of value as may be provided by law but not in excess of true value."

This provision will make equitable assessment of intangibles for tax purposes much easier than the present language which requires all property to be assessed "according to its true value."

Once this new tax provision in the Constitution becomes effective, the commission, which I hope you will create promptly, should be able to prepare a program that will, perhaps, remove the assessment of intangibles from local assessors, establish fair standards of value for assessment purposes, provide a State-wide nonconfiscatory tax rate, place administration in the State Tax Department, and use such revenues as may be derived for the reduction of general property taxes. I do not wish to prejudice the work of the commission, but these lines of development appear to me at present to be sound.

Accordingly, I respectfully request the Legislature to authorize the Governor to appoint a temporary commission of five members to consist of one member of the Assembly, one member of the Senate, and three lay members to draft an intangible personal property tax bill for presentation to the next session of the Legislature.

Respectfully submitted,

WALTER E. EDGE,
Governor.

EDWARD T. GILROY,
