NJ TRANSIT Announces Restoration of Bergen, Pascack Valley Lines Effective Monday

 Saturday, November 10, 2012 Tags: Hurricane Sandy

Emergency ferry services extended from Hoboken to Midtown Manhattan; Bergen, Pascack customers to access ferry services at Hoboken Raritan Valley service resumes from High Bridge to Newark

Trenton, NJ –NJ TRANSIT announced that three additional NJ TRANSIT rail services will resume or increase operations, effective Monday, November 12. This includes:

- Restoration of limited service on the Bergen Line
- Restoration of limited service on the Pascack Valley Line
- Restoration of limited service from High Bridge on the Raritan Valley Line to Newark

Rail schedules will be posted after 6pm today on njtransit.com.

To alleviate some of the congestion at the Port Authority Bus terminal and to give customers traveling to Midtown Manhattan additional travel options, NJ TRANSIT has teamed up with BillyBey Ferry which operates ferry service from Hoboken under the New York Waterway umbrella, to offer new, discounted, round trip service from Hoboken Terminal to Pier 79 on West 39th Street in Midtown Manhattan.

Customers using this service can also access free NY Waterway shuttle buses for further travel within Manhattan. Stops are offered along 57th Street, 49th Street, 42nd Street, and 34th Street, as well as through a special Downtown loop. Visit nywaterway.com for details.

This ferry service does not normally operate between Hoboken Terminal and 39th Street in Manhattan. Customers wishing to access this new ferry service can purchase round-trip fare for $10. A special ticket booth at Hoboken Terminal has been established for customers starting on Monday.

Capacity aboard Northeast Corridor rail service into New York Penn Station remains limited, with repairs continuing to the power system supporting the Northeast Corridor. In addition, due to the suspension of PATH service from Hoboken, NJ TRANSIT has joined forces with ferry services to provide customers with additional options for trans-Hudson access. For this reason, NJ TRANSIT emergency bus and ferry operations will continue until further notice. Information on the free bus and ferry services offered and a map of locations can be accessed at http://www.njtransit.com/sa/sa_servlet.srv?hdnPageAction=CustomerNoticeTo&NoticeId=2310

NJ TRANSIT encourages customers to travel outside of the morning and afternoon peak periods to avoid delays and crowding.
