Welcome Home Ceremony held for Headquarters 50th Brigade

On 24 March 2005, the NJ National Guard conducted a Welcome Home ceremony for the HQs 50th Brigade at the Lawrenceville Armory. Brig Gen Maria Falca-Dodson, the Deputy Adjutant General, officially welcomed home the soldiers of the 50th Brigade who deployed to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba in support of Operation Enduring Freedom. U.S. Congressman Rush Holt, Lawrence Township Mayor Pamela Mount, families, friends, fellow National Guard soldiers and airmen, the local community, and DMVA employees expressed their appreciation of these soldiers with a tremendous showing of support. The NJ National Guard is extremely proud of these soldiers! Their performance and dedication to duty is in keeping with the highest traditions of military service. Welcome Home!

"Faces of the Fallen" exhibit opens in Washington, DC.

A new exhibit named "The Faces of the Fallen" opened at the Women in the Military Service For America Memorial at the entrance to Arlington National Cemetery. Two hundred artists from across the nation were commissioned to do three or four portraits of those killed in Iraq and Afghanistan in the Global War on Terrorism. More than 1300 portraits have been completed for this exhibition. The portraits were all 6x8 inches, however, each artist was free to do their own interpretation. Some portraits were done in oil, some in watercolors, others were black and white renditions, while still others were accomplished in three dimensions in tin or ceramic. Portraits of the NJ National Guard's four fallen heroes are to be included in the exhibition. On the evening of 22 March, a dedication ceremony was held as the exhibit was opened to the families and invited guests. The exhibit opened to the public on Wednesday, 23 March, and will remain open until Veterans Day, 11 November 2005. BG & Mrs. Frank Carlini represented MG Glenn K. Rieth and the NJ Army National Guard at the dedication ceremony, where speakers included Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff General Richard Meyers and Supreme Court Justice, Sandra Day O'Connor. At the conclusion of the exhibition, the families will receive the portraits of their loved ones. All of the portraits can be viewed on the web at www.facesofthefallen.org.

Legislation creates World War II Memorial Fund.

On March 28, 2005, Acting Governor Richard J. Codey signed Senate Bill No. 2365 into law, creating the World War II Veterans Memorial Fund and allowing the Adjutant General and Deputy Commissioner for Veterans Affairs to proceed with private fundraising for the project. Presently scheduled for completion by Memorial Day 2006, New Jersey's monument to "The Greatest Generation" will be constructed across from the State House in Trenton. A dedication ceremony is being planned for this fall and financial donations, both from within and without the department, are encouraged. Please contact the Deputy Commissioner for Veterans Affairs at 609-530-7045 or the Director of Veterans Services at 609-530-7049 for further information.

Acting Governor Codey announced TOPOFF 3 mock terror exercise.

"The public needs to know that an exercise is going on." Acting Governor Richard J. Codey announced this week that NJ would test its domestic security preparedness at all levels by participating in TOPOFF 3, a full-scale, national terrorism response exercise that will take place April 4-8.

TOPOFF, short for Top Officials, is a Congressionally mandated exercise sponsored by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security's Office of State and Local Government Coordination and Preparedness. TOPOFF3 will be the most comprehensive terrorism response exercise ever conducted in the United States. It will require real officials to respond to simulated terror attacks, including mock biological and chemical attacks in New Jersey and Connecticut, and events in the United Kingdom and Canada. Agencies in every New Jersey county will participate.

"New Jersey is uniquely on the front lines of the war against terror, and we are better prepared than most states in America. Next week we will put our preparedness to a very thorough test, at every level from the local to the state to the federal," Codey said.

The public needs to know that an exercise is going on. You might hear about something strange at your local hospital, see first responders in hazardous materials suits, or see a large number of ambulances in your area. Don't be alarmed.

"If you come across something suspicious and you don't know whether it is real or part of the test, call 1-866-4-SAFE-NJ, the hotline of the NJ Domestic Security Task Force and report it.

Members of the 119th Corps Support Battalion (CSB) currently serving in Iraq, attended Easter Sunrise Services in the birthplace of civilization.

Chaplain Jan Kozera assisted in the preparation of a memorable Easter Sunrise Service for members of the 119th CSB and the other soldiers on their post. Under tight security, Battalion Commander, LTC Sharon Tootell, Executive Officer, MAJ John Simms, and many of the soldiers of 119th CSB, their subordinate units, and civilian government employees from surrounding military camps attended services in the ancient city of Ur (Mesopotamia). The sunrise service, which included music, prayers, and a brief sermon, was held outside the archeological site believed to be the home of the patriarch Abraham.

NJ Air National Guard's Colonel Michael S. Moore retires.

Eleven days after Army Private Michael S. Moore landed in Vietnam, he and his buddies were crowded around a radio listening to the Armed Forces Network broadcast news of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. Now, 42 years later, with New Jersey Air National Guard eagles on his collar and more than 23 years commanding various units, he will be hanging up his uniform. After Vietnam and a tour in Germany, Moore took a break from the military. He later joined the Army Reserves, transferred into the NJ Air National Guard's 117th Fighter Wing, and was commissioned into the officer corps. Several years later he came to the 108th Air Refueling Wing, where he commanded various flights, until he was named the 108th Mission Support Group commander seven years ago. Colonel Moore retired from his civilian job in 1996 after 27 years in the NJ State Police. Colonel Moore, who also served as President of the New Jersey Officers Association, will now relax and travel with his wife, Vivian.

"Gifts from the Homefront" certificates can be addressed to "any service member" or individual service members. Because the gift certificates can be used for merchandise already stocked at contingency locations, "Gifts from the Homefront" are a safe alternative to traditional care packages that can strain the military mail system and present force protection issues. Those wishing to send a "Gift from the Homefront" can simply log on to the AAFES website, www.aafes.com, or call 877-770-4438 toll-free to buy gift certificates in $10 or $20 denominations. From there, the "Gift from the Homefront" may be sent to an individual service member designed by the purchaser or distributed to "any service member" through the USO, American Red Cross, Air Force Aid Society, or Fisher House.

The Effects of Caffeine

For all of you coffee drinkers out there, did you ever wonder what caffeine actually does to you? First, caffeine causes the brain's blood vessels to constrict. This effect is why some headache medicines like Anacin contain caffeine – if you have a vascular headache, the caffeine will close down the blood vessels and relieve it. With increased neuron firing in the brain, the pituitary gland sees all of the activity and thinks some sort of emergency must be occurring, so it releases hormones that tell the adrenal glands to produce adrenaline (epinephrine). Adrenaline is the “fight or flight” hormone, and it has a number of effects on your body:

- Your pupils dilate.
- Your breathing tubes open up (this is why people suffering from severe asthma attacks are sometimes injected with epinephrine).
- Your heart beats faster.
- Blood vessels on the surface constrict to slow blood flow from cuts and also to increase blood flow to muscles.
- Blood pressure rises.
- Blood flow to the stomach slows.
- The liver releases sugar into the bloodstream for extra energy.
- Muscles tighten up, ready for action. This explains why, after consuming a big cup of coffee, your hands get cold, your muscles tense up, you feel excited, and you can feel your heart beat increasing.

The problem with caffeine is the longer-term effects, which tend to spiral. For example, once the adrenaline wears off, you face fatigue and depression. So what are you going to do? You take more caffeine to get the adrenaline going again. As you might imagine, having your body in a state of emergency all day long isn't very healthy, and it also makes you jumpy and irritable.

The most important long-term problem is the effect that caffeine has on sleep. The half-life of caffeine in your body is 6 hours. That means that if you consume a big cup of coffee with 200 mg of caffeine in it at 3 p.m., by 9 p.m. about 100 mg of that caffeine is still in your system. You may be able to fall asleep, but your body probably will miss out on the benefits of deep sleep. That deficit adds up fast. The next day you feel worse, so you need caffeine as soon as you get out of bed. The cycle continues day after day.

This is why 90% of Americans consume caffeine every day. Once you get in the cycle, you have to keep taking the drug. Even worse, if you try to stop taking caffeine, you get very tired and depressed and you get terrible, splitting headache as blood vessels in the brain dilate. These negative effects force you to run back to caffeine even if you want to stop.
