Resolved, That the House do now proceed with the election of a Speaker for the One Hundred and Seventy-second General Assembly of the State of New Jersey.

The Clerk announced the nominations for Speaker were now in order. He recognized Mr. C. Clifford Thomas, of Union County, who nominated Mr. Joseph L. Brescher, of Union County, which nomination was seconded by Messrs. Mehorter, Vogler, Loutrel, and Walter Jones.

Which motion was adopted.

Upon calling the roll, Mr. Joseph L. Brescher was elected Speaker of the House by the following vote:

Messrs. Artaserse, Bator, Brixie, Brown, Cavinato, Clemens, Cozzoline, Curtis, Dickson, W. H., Dilger, Dixon, A. The Clerk declared the Honorable Joseph L. Brescher elected Speaker of the One Hundred and Seventy-second Session of the General Assembly, and requested Mrs. Urbanski-Courtney and Messrs. Loutrel, Dixon and Walter Jones to act as a committee of four to escort the Speaker to the bar of the House, where he took the oath of office, and was then escorted to the Speaker's rostrum.

Mr. Brescher, upon taking the chair, addressed the House as follows:

Fellow Members of the One Hundred and Seventy-second Legislature of the State of New Jersey and Guests:

I deeply appreciate the honor you have just bestowed upon me and I assure you that I will strive to merit your confidence.

I am most mindful of the importance of the office of Speaker of the House of Assembly, particularly in this momentous year of 1948. We legislators are confronted with the greatest task that any New Jersey Legislature has had to face for over a century, if not in the entire history of our State. Much of this year's legislation will relate to the changes that are required to effectuate the aim and purpose of a new Constitution. Through this medium the people of our growing industrial State will be launched upon a more progressive government. To have a part therein challenges our best effort.

In addition, we face many new problems, the solution of which will require all our courage and ability.

I think I speak not only for myself but for every member of this House when I say that we all have full knowledge of our responsibilities. All of us, I am sure, will fulfill to the very best of our understanding the obligations we owe to the citizens of New Jersey.

We are most fortunate that in these trying times, under the courageous leadership of Governor Alfred E. Driscoll, New Jersey has advanced to an enviable position high among the States of the Union.

The approval of a new Constitution by the people was only the beginning of this movement. The success or failure of the entire effort started by the Constitutional Convention depends upon what we do in this present Session of the Legislature. We have pledged ourselves to carry out the wishes of the people. We must not fail them.

We are facing a possible deficit caused by shrinking limited State revenues and the increasing cost of government.

On the other hand, there is a great and crying need for additional State aid for education. The future of the nation depends upon the education of our youth. Surely, we are all friends of education and will do all in our power to find the means to furnish additional State aid for education so sorely needed.

The necessity for a major construction program to prevent overcrowding of the unfortunate wards in our State Institutions is another of the problems we must meet. With proper courage we can solve this and the many other demands to the satisfaction of those interested.

I mention but two of the many grave subjects now confronting us. These and the others will be more fully developed by the Governor in his message which he will soon deliver to us in person.

Much of the preparatory work has already been done. Three unofficial committees will be officially reappointed today to complete their task.

One is a Committee to Reorganize our State Government and is at the present time studying the reorganization of the various branches so as to reduce them to twenty principal departments, as required by the new Constitution.

The second is a Committee on Tax Revision which is working in co-operation with the State Tax Policy Commission in an effort to modernize our State tax structure.

The third committee has about completed its work in preparing the legislation for our consideration so our statute law will conform with the provisions of the new Constitution.

To the end that our accomplishments will be constructive, I bespeak the earnest co-operative support of every member of this House of Assembly. The eyes of the people of New Jersey are upon us. With the fortitude and earnestness of our forefathers who built here a strong State, let us meet the obligations of the hour.

Then, my colleagues, ours will be the satisfaction of knowing we will have passed on to future generations a stronger governmental heritage than we ourselves have enjoyed.

The Speaker appointed as his secretaries, Mrs. Florence Dwyer and Chester Weidenburner.

Mr. Mehorter offered the following resolution, which was read by the Clerk and adopted:

Resolved, That the House do now proceed with the election of a Clerk of the One Hundred and Seventy-second General Assembly of the State of New Jersey.

The Speaker announced nominations for Clerk were in order and recognized Mr. Reuben H. Reiffin, who nominated Mr. Philip C. Wadsworth, of Bergen County, whose nomination was seconded by Mr. William B. Widnall and further seconded by Mr. Merrill Thompson and Mr. Peter Artaserse.

Mr. Mehorter moved that the nominations be closed.

Which motion was adopted.

The Speaker declared the nominations closed, and Mr. Wadsworth was elected Clerk by the following vote:

Messrs. Artaserse, Bator, Brescher (Speaker), Brixie, Brown, Cavinato, Clemens, Cozzoline, Curtis, Dickson, W. H., Dilger, Dixon, A. F., Field, Fowler, Fraser, Freeman, Friedland, Greenbaum, Harris, Hauser, Herrmann, Hillery, Hoff, Jamieson, Jones, C. C., Jones, W. H., Kafes, Kates, Keim, Litvany, Loutrel, Mackey, Marggraff, McCay, McCurrie, Mehorter, Miller, Mills, Musto, Peel, Pike, Reiffin, Russell, Salsburg, Sanderson, Savage, Schaeffer, Sharp, Shershin, Simmill, Smith, Thomas, Thompson, Tumulty, Urbanski-Courtney, Vogel, Widnall, Wilson, Zangara—59.

The Speaker declared Mr. Wadsworth elected Clerk of the House.

The Clerk took the oath of office as administered by Mr. Reiffin.

The Speaker recognized a committee from the Senate consisting of Messrs. Armstrong, Farley and Littell, who delivered the following message:

5. He shall preserve order and decorum and in debate shall prevent personal reflections, and confine members to the question under discussion; but he shall not engage in any debate, nor propose his opinion on any question, without first calling on some member to occupy the chair. 7. All questions before the House shall be stated by the Speaker, and distinctly put in the following form, to wit: "As many as are in favor of (the question) will vote aye"; and after the affirmative is expressed, "Those of a contrary opinion, will vote no." If the Speaker doubts, or a division be called for, the House shall divide; those in the affirmative of the question shall first arise from their seats, and afterwards those in the negative; and in case of an equal division, the Speaker shall decide Any vote or roll call may be taken or division decided by the use of the electrical voting system when so ordered by the Speaker.

If the Speaker be absent, a less number of members than a quorum may appoint a Speaker pro tempore, who may sign any warrants, or perform any act requisite to bring in absent members.

10. He shall have a general direction of the Assembly Chamber, and he may name a member to perform the duties of the Chair; but such substitution shall not extend beyond a second adjournment.

OF THE ORDER OF BUSINESS

11. After the reading of the Journal, the business of the first meeting of each day shall be conducted in the following manner, to wit:

I. Letters, petitions and memorials, remonstrances and accompanying documents may be presented and disposed of.

II. Reports of Committees may be read.

III. Original resolution may be offered and considered; items of unfinished business referred; motions to reconsider and to appoint additional members of Committees made; and leave of absence, and leave to withdraw documents, asked.

IV. Bills and joint resolutions on a third reading may be taken up.

V. The House shall then proceed in the order of the day, preference being always given to the unfinished business of the previous sitting; after which bills and joint resolutions on a second reading shall be taken in their order.

12. The Clerk shall make a list of all bills and joint resolutions. The Speaker shall from day to day prepare a calendar of bills and resolutions for consideration. 13. All messages shall be sent from this House to the Senate by the Clerk.

OF DECORUM AND DEBATE

14. When a member is about to speak in debate, or communicate any matter to the House, he shall rise from his seat and respectfully address himself to the Speaker, confining himself to the question under debate, and avoiding personality.

15. If any member in debate transgress the rules of the House, the Speaker shall, or any member may, call him to order, in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down, unless permitted to explain. The House shall, if appealed to, decide on the case, but without debate; if there be no appeal, the decision of the Chair shall be submitted to. If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed; if otherwise, he shall not be permitted to proceed without leave of the House, and if the case require it, he shall be liable to censure of the House.

16. If a member be called to order for words spoken in debate, the person calling him to order shall repeat the words excepted to, and they shall be taken down in writing at the Clerk's table; and no member shall be held to answer, or be subject to the censure of the House, for words spoken in debate, if any other member has spoken, or other business has intervened after the words spoken, and before exception to them shall have been taken.

17. No member shall speak on any bill or resolution more than twice, or longer than fifteen minutes the first time or longer than five minutes the second time without leave of the House.

18. While the Speaker is putting any question, or addressing the House, none shall walk out of or across the hall; nor in such case, or when a member is speaking, shall anyone entertain private discourse; nor shall anyone, while a member is speaking, pass between him and the Chair.

19. No member shall vote on any question in the event of which he is particularly interested, or in any case where he was not within the bar of the House when the question was put.

20. Every member who shall be in the House when the question is put shall give his vote, unless the House for special reasons shall excuse him. All motions to excuse a member from voting shall be made before the House divides, or before the call of the yeas and nays is commenced; any member requesting to be excused from voting may make a brief verbal statement of the reasons for such request, and the question shall then be taken without further debate.

21. Petitions, memorials and other papers addressed to the House shall be presented by the Speaker, or by a member in his place; a brief statement of the contents thereof shall be made by the introducer, and, if called upon, he shall declare that it does not, in his opinion, contain any indecent or reproachful language, or any expressions of disrespect to the House, or any Committee of the same.

22. Every motion shall be reduced to writing, if the Speaker or any member desire it.

23. When a motion is made and seconded, it shall be stated by the Speaker, or being in writing, it shall be handed to the Chair and read aloud by the Clerk, when it shall be deemed to be in the possession of the House and open to debate; but it may be withdrawn at any time before a decision or amendment.

25. A motion to strike out the enacting clause of a bill or joint resolution shall have precedence of a motion to amend, and if carried shall be considered equivalent to its rejection.

26. A motion to adjourn shall be always in order, except when the House is voting, or while a member is addressing the House, or immediately after the question to adjourn has been negatived; that and the motion to lay on the table shall be decided without debate.

27. Any member may call for a division of the question, which shall be divided if it comprehends questions so distinct that one being taken away from the rest may stand entire for the decision of the House; a motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible; but a motion to strike out being lost, shall preclude neither amendment nor a motion to strike out and insert.

28. When any motion shall be made and seconded, the same shall, at the request of any two members, be entered on the journal of the House.

29. When a motion has been once made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for any member who voted with the prevailing party to move for the reconsideration thereof, on the same day or on the next day of actual session of the House thereafter; all motions may be reconsidered, by a majority of the members present; but bills, to be reconsidered, must have the same majority that would be necessary to pass them; and such vote, on motion to reconsider, shall be by taking the yeas and nays.

30. When a blank is to be filled, the question shall first be taken on the largest sum, or greatest number, and remotest day.

31. The yeas and nays shall be entered on the Journal of the House, upon the demand of one-fifth of the members present, and in taking the yeas and nays the names of the members, including the Speaker, shall be called alphabetically or be recorded by the use of the electrical voting system, if so ordered by the Speaker.

32. The previous question shall be put in this form: "Shall the main question be now put?" It shall only be admitted when demanded by a majority of the members present, and its effect shall be, if decided affirmatively, to put an end to all debate, and bring the House to a direct vote upon amendments reported by a committee, if any, then upon pending amendments, and then upon the main question; if decided in the negative, to leave the main question and amendments, if any, under debate for the residue of the sitting, unless sooner disposed of by taking the question, or in some other manner. All incidental questions of order arising after a motion is made for the previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

Mr. Mehorter moved that the House recess until 1:55 P. M., when the Joint Session would take place to hear the Governor's Message.

Which motion was adopted.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

January 13, 1948

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker and Members of the Senate and General Assembly:

In the fullness of our time, our fellow citizens have conferred upon us a new authority and greater responsibilities than any heretofore delegated to the Chief Executive and the Legislature of this State. This is, therefore, an historic meeting, for it marks the convening of the first Legislature under the Constitution of 1947, and the beginning of our task of translating into constructive action the spirit of a new Charter adopted by the overwhelming vote of our citizens on November 4, 1947.

The incorporation of high ideals in a written document does not, however, in itself complete the task of Constitution-making initiated by your far-sighted predecessors of the 171st Legislature, and carried out so constructively by the illustrious men and women of the Constitutional Convention. While we gladly acknowledge our debt of gratitude for the amazing achievements of the draftsmen, it remains for us to give to the basic framework of government the constructive implementation it so urgently requires. The world resounds with pious declarations. In an age beset with doubts, fears, insecurity, and conflicts of interest, it has proved easier to draft charters than to make them work. This is the time for action in Trenton as well as in Washington. The verdict of history upon the major achievements of 1947 will largely depend upon our accomplishments this year. As you proceed, therefore, to the first task of implementing the new Constitution, you are under a greater obligation than is normally the case, to lay aside personal prejudice or petty partisanship, and to consider only the common welfare.

Our union of States has grown so strong that it is difficult to discuss State affairs without a full consideration of the national and international scene. The welfare of our citizens is dependent upon our capacity to solve problems that are the consequences of a brutal war and the conflicting philosophies of government which are the inevitable aftermaths of world catastrophe. Our ammunition in the present contest for a way of life consists basically of education, food and an example of freedom at home—while we assist millions across the seas who want freedom to recapture the dignity of economic independence, without which a free people cannot survive.

A Living Bill of Rights

A basic understanding and acceptance of the morality which underlies our Bill of Rights, for example, will greatly assist us in this effort. Neither in our domestic life nor in our international relations can we permit the abuse of fundamental guarantees of individual liberty and of national sovereignty to be used as a means of either personal or national aggrandizement. Because of the importance of this fundamental subject, a committee appointed by me is presently engaged in studying the application of our historic civil rights in a world of mounting tensions.

In the meantime, we must vigorously apply, fairly and equally, the Civil Rights provisions of our new Constitution to the daily life of our community. We shall attack prejudice and discrimination because of race, creed, color or national origin and seek to eliminate the cause of these twin dangers. By so doing we will not only be promoting the common welfare, but we will also be neutralizing a major portion of the propaganda ammunition presently utilized by the antagonist in our cold battle to preserve and improve our American liberties.

STRENGTHENING THE LEGISLATURE AND THE COURTS

For similar compelling reasons, you will take prompt steps to strengthen the legislative process, for which provision has been made in the new Constitution. The initial step in this program was taken last year, when provision was made for a commission to study legislative methods, practices and procedures and to investigate the advisability of establishing a permanent agency of the Legislature, authorized to continuously study legislative proposals and to prepare legislative programs. This proposal is designed to strengthen the independence of the legislative branch of our government. I hope the study will disclose the feasibility of such a permanent agency.

I am confident also that you will provide the necessary legislative implementation to achieve another major object of the framers of our Constitution—a modern, unified judicial system. The capacity of a people to govern themselves and to demonstrate the merits of our form of government is brought home to the average citizen by the quality of justice administered in all of our courts, particularly the lower courts. The new Constitution give us all opportunity to restore Jersey justice to its once proud place and immeasurably improve our judicial structure. For the first time in the history of our State, we have an opportunity to achieve a unified judicial system. Pursuant to the administrative provisions of Article VI, the lower courts become an integral part of our State judicial structure. The capacity of these courts to administer justice and to prevent trangressions of the law must be strengthened. I am advised that our Supreme Court is presently engaged in the laborious task of drafting simple, understandable court rules. To the extent that these rules may require change in our laws, the speedy co-operation of the Legislative and Executive branches of our government should be freely given.

STATE ADMINISTRATIVE REORGANIZATION

The reorganization of the Executive Branch of our State Government has been the elusive goal of many Legislatures and Governors. This year we should achieve this objective. We have the advantage of a Constitutional mandate requiring that "All executive and administrative offices, departments, and instrumentalities of the State Government . . . and their respective functions, powers and duties, shall be allocated by law among and within not more than twenty principal departments . . . according to major purposes so far as practicable." No mere pro forma reshuffling or regrouping of State agencies will satisfy this constitutional command. After conferring with legislative representatives appointed by your leaders, I am convinced that the constitutional mandate can be carried out within not more than fifteen principal departments. The following are suggestive of the titles and major purposes: Agriculture, Banking and Insurance, Civil Service, Economic Development (including Conservation), Education, Institutions, Labor and Industry, Law and Public Safety, Military Affairs, Public Health, Public Utilities, Public Works, State (Department of), the Treasury, and Welfare Services.

I recognize that this is not an easy task. It will require statesmanship of a high order. Certain basic principles should, in my judgment, guide the reorganization program. It should be designed—

(1) to secure a maximum of efficiency and economy in government;

(2) to protect and develop career service for those with the capacity for the operation of the business of government;

(3) to provide the Governor with a limited number of policy-making aides, appointed by him subject to confirmation by the Senate; and

(4) to continue the fine tradition of citizen participation as exemplified by boards devoted to the consideration of policies such as in the fields of Agriculture, Education, Economic Development, Health, and Institutions, and possibly others.

It is obvious that we shall have to establish clear-cut lines of authority and definite official responsibility to the people. This has been one of the major motivations of administrative reorganization as conceived in the Constitutional Convention. It should be our purpose to so organize our principal departments as to provide the maximum opportunity for advancement in a career service below positions of top policy. It is only in this way that the business of government can be made attractive to the most able public officials and employees.

We should also recognize that the function of organization is essentially to carry out the major departmental purposes provided by law. Organization plans should not fall into the error of seeking to cultivate association of particular processes, techniques, or professional disciplines at the expense of the teamwork necessary to accomplish the major purposes of State Government. This teamwork which should be one of our key objectives in the establishment of principal departments, is paralleled by the equally important need for teamwork among the several principal departments wherever and whenever their activities affect the same subject.

Reorganization of structure will be only the first phase of the major problem of establishing an administration which is responsible to the Legislature and which is fully accountable to the people. The new Constitution has taken a basic step in this respect by requiring the filing and publication of administrative orders and regulations in a manner to make them fully available for public information. The next step is to make the procedure of our administrative agencies conform to accepted standards of fair and uniform administration according to the rule of law. This will require that we establish by statute a code of administration and procedure which will apply to the various departments resulting from the reorganization. We have in the new Federal Administrative Procedure Act, and the long legislative history behind it, a very useful source from which to develop legislation best fitted to our needs.

Federal-State Relations

Our new Constitution is designed not only to serve the citizens of this State but also to permit the State to serve the nation, and to assure its most effective role in the Federal system. The interdependence of our States and their increasing vulnerability as the result of the shift from a Federal Government to a National Government that has occurred during the last twenty years is perhaps most evident from the viewpoint of fiscal relations.

This Administration has been in the forefront of the campaign to re-establish a working federalism in this country. We have opposed, and will continue to oppose, the indiscriminate creation of Federal grant-in-aid programs. They have been used and abused to transfer authority and responsibility from the States to Washington. If the National Government would relinquish those tax fields which rightfully belong to the States, we would be well able to finance and even expand all State services with our own resources.

These Federal programs, carried to their logical conclusion, could destroy our Republican form of government and our Federal system itself. President Andrew Jackson foresaw this result in 1833 when he stated that Congress should not be "the tax-gatherer and paymaster" of the State Governments. This does not mean that New Jersey is opposed to a limited amount of Federal assistance in a limited number of States, where need is clearly indicated. It does mean, however, that New Jersey will continue to oppose a hodgepodge program, which indiscriminately includes all States in providing the aid required by a few States. Federal grants-in-aid have grown from a little over five million dollars in 1915 to a total of more than one billion dollars in 1947. They have been accompanied by duplication of administrative costs and inevitable competition for the tax dollar. Our State, moreover, is forced to contribute to these programs at a time when it is hard-pressed to meet its own obligations.

In calling for the curtailment of this extravagant system of government; for the reduction in the annual levy by the Federal Government against our citizens here of over $1,400,000,000; for the return of many of the tax bases that formerly belonged exclusively to the States; and for the restoration of home rule; we are not unmindful that first things must come first. We are prepared to recognize the following order of priorities:

(1) Adequate aid for the people of Western Europe as outlined in the Marshall Plan as well as adequate aid for the people of Asia—halfway measures will not suffice. Necessity requires that this program include provision for sound and thrifty administration and the control of inflation at home.

(2) An adequate national defense program.

(3) The adjustment of taxes and services between the States and the Federal Government.

(4) Federal tax reduction and debt retirement.

The cost of the Marshall Plan and national defense may not be adequately appraised at this time. If you asked how much, my answer today, as during the days of the war, would be "Enough to win."

Accepting these priorities, we must nonetheless stress the harsh discrimination that has been practiced against New Jersey by an antiquated Federal fiscal program. As the result of the failure of the Federal Government to correct the inequities that exist between the community and non-community property States, New Jersey citizens are obliged to pay $38,000,000 more than they would be obliged to pay if they lived in a State that the Federal Government recognized as a community property State. Despite the legal and practical difficulties, I will ask this Legislature to take appropriate action in an effort to protect our citizens if the Federal Government does not correct this condition at this session of Congress.

The Federal Government has also failed to make appropriate adjustments in favor of those States that have refrained from competing with it for the income tax dollar. Such an adjustment would be one of the most effective ways to eliminate duplication and overlapping in the income tax field. It would tend to induce those States that now have income taxes to abandon them and to relieve the pressure for their adoption by those States which still enjoy freedom from this form of double taxation.

Economic and Social Welfare

Capital Improvements

The purpose of government is service—service in the sense that every citizen be given the maximum opportunity for the expression of his own personality and the security that such opportunity requires. We have discussed a broad program for the improvement of our structure of government so that it may be the better servant of its master—our citizens. Three yardsticks are frequently applied by our critics at home and abroad to measure our capacity for self-government. These measures are:

Institutional care of the wards of the State—those unfortunate citizens for whom the opening sentence in the Bill of Rights has little meaning in the absence of adequate facilities for their care and protection.

Education—the training of our youth for constructive citizenship.

Social security—the reasonable protection of our citizens against the vicissitudes of an industrial age that has not yet reached maturity.

After careful study, I have reached the conclusion that we must in good conscience adopt at this session a capital improvement program for our institutions to provide modern fireproof facilities, and to eliminate dangerous overcrowding, particularly in our mental institutions. During the past year we have improved some institutions and sought to remedy a serious shortage of personnel. A broad scale, definitive approach to the basic problem, however, should no longer be deferred. In the accomplishment of this objective we will, where possible, use available modern institutional buildings. For example, consideration is being given to the acquisition for State purposes of the mental institutions now maintained by Camden County. This proposal would appear to be to the mutual advantage of both the county and the State.

New construction should commence as soon as possible on the emergency features of the program. Long-range construction can proceed after a prudent weighing of the emergency character of the need against present high costs. In planning this program, we will, of course, give due consideration to the proper pressure for new homes and the desirability of avoiding competition for scarce materials and labor. I hope the appropriate committees of the Legislature will give this subject their immediate consideration.

Housing and Rent Control

The continued shortage of adequate homes is one of the most critical problems confronting us today. Its effects upon the home life of many of our citizens have been drastic, in many instances involving serious disruption of normal family relationships. How serious an influence the scars wrought by this disruption will have upon our democratic institutions will depend upon the rapidity with which we remove the cause and remedy the condition.

Economic factors are not solely responsible for the existence of these critical shortages. Current methods and practices affecting our home-building industry should be carefully reviewed, to the end that those which retard full housing production may be speedily eliminated. This can be accomplished only by the co-operative efforts of business, labor and government, Federal, State and local. Restrictive business and labor practices should be immediately abandoned; and archaic or unnecessary restraints in building codes should be repealed without delay.

Nor is the problem of adequate housing for all our citizens merely created by the present emergency. It will not be automatically solved when the present emergency is successfully met. In our slum areas the condition is chronic. Adequate housing, moreover, means housing acceptable in quality as well as sufficient in quantity. Clearance and redevelopment of blighted areas must be an integral part of our general housing program.

We may draw new vigor in our efforts to achieve this goal from the provision in our new State Constitution which specifically authorizes government encouragement of private enterprise to engage in this undertaking. Accordingly, I again urge that you review and if necessary strengthen our laws designed to provide such encouragement to private enterprise.

To effectuate speedily a definitive program to meet our needs for permanent housing along the lines which I have suggested, I recommend the establishment of a housing committee representative of labor and industry in the home construction field, finance, government, and the general public, with full use of the staff services of the State Housing Authority and the Division of Planning and Engineering of the Department of Economic Development.

Simultaneously with our efforts to vitalize the development of adequate permanent housing facilities, we must continue vigorously to press the work of our State emergency housing program. During the past year, a great deal of the effort of your administration has been devoted to this end. This program, involving a State commitment of $41,000,000, is one of the largest attempted by any State.

At the close of 1947, ninety per cent of that amount had been committed for specific construction, and forty per cent of the dwelling units planned throughout the State had been completed and were being occupied by veterans and their families. Most of the remainder of these units are now actually under construction.

It is gratifying to note that municipalities representing over seventy-five per cent of our State's population are participating in the program. In order to permit completion of the emergency housing construction planned under this program, I recommend an extension of the State emergency housing Act from July 1, 1948, to July 1, 1949. In order to permit the continuation of municipal co-operation, I also recommend that the emergency municipal housing legislation be extended for the same period.

The urgent need for minimum uniform building and fire safety standards cannot be overemphasized. I again urge you to adopt adequate and effective legislation on this subject.

At your last session, I urged a continuation of our State Rent Control Law. At that time I stated, and I have since reiterated on many occasions, that the need for rent control was not to be measured in terms of weeks or months or even years, but rather in terms of supply and demand. Accordingly, I urged you to extend our rent control statute again, until June 30, 1949. I also recommend the enactment of legislation broadening the powers of municipalities specifically to enable them to adopt such supplemental controls as the particular need of their localities may require. In this manner any possible question as to their right to exercise such authority will be avoided.

Employment Security

The art of making a living is still the personal and inalienable responsibility of the individual in our society. It is upon individual initiative, inventive genius and ambition to succeed that our whole philosophy of enterprise is based. We enjoy the benefits of an economic system which requires costly machines and substantial working capital. It demands skilled management to co-ordinate the efforts of large numbers of individuals; and must be sustained by intelligent and well compensated working people.

Our entire program of social security, essential as it is in our industrialized society, is only a supplement to this individual initiative and responsibility which is and must remain the most valuable resource of our State and Nation. When we think of social security in this way—as a means toward a more effective system of productive private enterprise, rather than as an end in itself as some would have us believe—we are in a position to appraise both our successes and our failures. We cannot afford to downgrade our failures, nor is it necessary to discount an entire system merely because it may not have worked well in some instances.

The United States is alone among the great industrial powers in having no governmental sickness benefit program for their working people. In all major industrial countries, other than the United States, the replacement of wage loss caused by temporary disability has come before unemployment compensation and in some instances even before workmen's compensation. Thus, for years we have had in this country a system frequently characterized as "illogical." An unemployed American worker who is well may be entitled to unemployment compensation. A worker injured in the course of his employment is entitled to workmen's compensation. The worker who cannot work because he is sick or suffers an accident away from his work is not protected against loss of his livelihood unless he is fortunate enough to be protected by private insurance.

Great strides have been made to fill this gap by the initiative of progressive employers and labor organizations. But the majority of working people are still unprotected or inadequately protected, and experience teaches us that there is a substantial area that must remain for the responsibility of government. With the critical effects of inflation making it almost impossible for the average working person to save, it is all the more important that the hazard of wage loss due to temporary disability be included within the protection of our social security system.

A State program of temporary disability benefits to replace in part wages lost due to non-occupational sickness or accident will remove the pressure to "distort" workmen's compensation and will complete a logical program of employment security. I urge this Legislature to undertake this task courageously. I reiterate my stand of a year ago. There are ample resources available to make a sickness benefit plan work. There is now frozen in the Federal Treasury over 200 million dollars of accumulated employee contributions to the Unemployment Compensation Fund, and all or any part of this sum may be used to start a satisfactory State program. I cannot logically stand by and watch the pressure mount for another Federal program which would subordinate the States and endanger the accumulated funds of our citizens without recommending the obvious way of meeting our responsibilities.

Education

The future of our republic is substantially dependent upon the scope and quality of educational preparation for constructive citizenship. It has been stated that New Jersey is one of the leading States in its ability to support good schools. New Jersey, in fact, spends more for education per pupil than is being spent in any other State. Neither of these statements disposes of the subject. Our teachers want and circumstances require reasonable salaries. Last year the Legislature wisely increased the minimum salary that may be paid teachers. The minimum is still too low, and it should be increased in accordance with my previous recommendations.

Our municipalities and school districts are searching for financial security and the State requires a definitive school program. The necessity for good schools is generally recognized. The real issue involves a definition of good schools and the development of appropriate standards by which to measure their appropriate cost. We must not lose sight of the fact that the educational process consists of more than spending money. We are as much interested in what our public schools do as we are in what they spend.

Last year the Legislature appropriated over $10,700,000 of additional State money to local school districts. There is being transmitted to you the report of the State School Aid Commission recommending additional State aid. I am confident that you will give this report your early and earnest consideration. May I suggest that your committees study it in the light of the following question: May the State accomplish the major purpose of promoting home rule and assisting the municipalities to meet their own problems by other methods—for example, increased highway aid, thus freeing local tax dollars for the cost of education?

The report of the State School Aid Commission should be studied in the light of the second report of our Commission on State Tax Policy. In view of the expansion of State aid we have already achieved, and of the further effort we are considering, it is important that we improve the sources of information on the nature and cost of our educational system. I would therefore recommend that you consider:

Requiring annual audits for local school districts as they are now required for municipalities;

Transferring financial supervision of local school districts from the Department of Education to the Department of Taxation and Finance to achieve a uniform standard of accountability as between school districts and all other local governments.

Agriculture and Food

The demands upon our farmers today are unprecedented. Abroad, the people of the war-devastated countries of Western Europe and Asia can look only to us for relief from imminent starvation; while at home, too, an unusually strong demand must be met. If we are to accomplish these tasks, the inflationary spiral with its threat to our economy must be checked—particularly and urgently in the field of food, which consumes one-third of the average family budget, and has greatly increased the cost of operating our State institutions.

In his struggle, the farmer needs and deserves all the encouragement that government and the public can provide. First and foremost, I again urge that we be vigilant at all times to protect the farmer against unnecessary and arbitrary government interference so that he may devote all of his energies to his important task. We must, however, recognize that the farmer alone cannot do the job. Food production must be supplemented by food conservation. In order to mobilize the consuming public for active co-operation and support, I have established a Governor's Conservation Committee and have asked each municipality to re-establish the Community War Services Division of the Civilian Defense Organization. Many communities are already actively participating in the Committee's program of providing needed nutritional and other informational services, as well as voluntary food conservation programs. We must strengthen our efforts to see to it that this program is continued and intensified.

Major Disaster Plan

The recent storms have deprived many of our citizens of heat, light, fuel and water during a critical period and threatened the continuity of services of our schools and hospitals. This emergency demonstrated the wisdom of re-establishing certain phases of civilian defense in developing a stand-by civilian group prepared to act in times of major catastrophies. In addition, I am asking the Board of Public Utility Commissioners to prepare plans, designed to move speedily and efficiently in the event of disasters involving a major interruption of services of any of our public utilities. The period of emergency we have just been through, as well as some in the past, emphasizes the need for a plan providing for the co-ordination of all public and private facilities and the mobilization of all community resources—a plan to implement the emergency powers of the Chief Executive.

Commerce and Transportation

The fiscal security of the State, the economic welfare of the community, and our opportunity for full employment depend in large measure upon our capacity to promote commercial enterprise. Commerce is the very lifeblood of our free enterprise system. A healthy commerce requires a proper environment in which high educational standards and recreational opportunities, a sound tax system, satisfactory labor-management relationships and adequate health programs all contribute. In addition to all of these factors and many others that might be mentioned, I wish to stress the importance of modern systems of transportation.

A year ago, we inaugurated a new highway program. The 171st Legislature prudently revised the whole system of State highway grants for our counties and municipalities. As a result, over the next four years our municipalities will receive more than $23,000,000 for local highway purposes. This is almost twice as much as our municipalities received in the four years before the war. A substantial portion of this increase in State grants will be allocated to our large cities, which, in the past, received no assistance. Last year there was also inaugurated a program designed to carry State highways through, as well as around, our large cities.

These highway improvements were intended to be part of our program to rehabilitate blighted urban areas.

We likewise sought and obtained the co-operation of our inter-State agencies, notably the Port of New York Authority, the Delaware River Joint Commission, and the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission in the planning and construction of extended approaches to inter-State crossings, thus permitting us to stretch our highway funds.

The development in the North Jersey metropolitan area of one of the world's greatest airports by the Port of New York Authority, pursuant to legislation passed a year ago, and the development of additional facilities for maritime transportation were part of our large transportation planning. At the same time, the Authority and the State have been negotiating with the Federal Government for the acquisition and improvement of dock facilities along the Hudson River.

The adoption of this program marks an important milestone in the history of our State. A year's study has convinced me that this advanced program is not sufficient to meet our requirements. In fact, New Jersey today is not even holding its own in the fight against traffic congestion. It is apparent that half-way measures will not suffice. Moreover, in our past planning we have not given sufficient attention to a balanced program involving all forms of transportation.

The first phase of our larger program should be an acceleration of highway planning and construction. Once construction is begun, highways should be completed as rapidly as possible, ending the spectacle that has plagued this State in the past of partially completed highways with their dangerous bottlenecks. "Time is money." Today our citizens are suffering losses, while trucks and passenger vehicles wait for hours for the untangling of traffic jams. As I stated in my message a year ago, "careful consideration should be given to the proper method of financing the so-called luxury roads."

Our highway requirements are so acute that it is apparent that we cannot hope to finance the construction and completion of major highways, which have been legislated, planned or discussed, out of current income. The completion of these urgently needed highways, it is conservatively estimated, would require $150,000,000 in excess of available income for construction within a five-year period. We should plan our comprehensive highway program now. We should consider now the alternative methods of future financing of these capital improvements. Highway-user revenues, which under Federal restrictions must be used for highway purposes, should be used to meet any additional highway debt requirements.

The actual construction of the freeways, parkways, inter- and intra-city and township highways will, of course, depend upon the availability of labor and materials. The actual plans for such a program, to be implemented later, should be authorized and completed at the earliest possible date. There is no time for delay if New Jersey is to meet its obligations to its citizens and its political subdivisions. As I have heretofore stated, I am not unmindful of the fact that, generally speaking, capital improvements should be deferred pending a return to lower costs. With respect to highways, and the dependence of our society upon them, New Jersey cannot afford to lag behind in the race for commerce or in its efforts to rescue its municipalities from their present traffic plight.

A modern highway system, however, is but one important phase of our transportation program. It is apparent that our highways cannot be expected, in either North or South Jersey, for many years to come, if ever, to conveniently carry the hosts of commuters that every day travel back and forth across the Hudson and Delaware rivers. Direct rail transportation between New York, Philadelphia and the great home areas of this State is urgently required.

As part of a railroad improvement program, we have studied and are prepared to request the Port of New York Authority to construct a rail terminal as an integral part of the Newark Airport, that may be used by the railroads reaching the North Jersey metropolitan area from the South. With the co-operation of the railroads, and using private lines, we would expect to obtain direct railroad connections between the airport, the city of Newark, Jersey City and the Borough of Manhattan. At the same time, I shall request the assistance of the Port of New York Authority in the preparation of plans for the development of a rail terminal in the Hackensack Meadows servicing the railroads reaching the North Jersey metropolitan areas from the north and northwest. As an intermediate step, bus transportation would be provided between this terminal and the bus terminal presently to be built in up-town New York by the Authority.

This second phase of the program should be followed by the ultimate connection of the two terminals and the construction of a new railroad tunnel under the Hudson with facilities terminating in up-town New York, either under or adjacent to the proposed bus terminal. As an integral part of the program, it is anticipated that substantial and valuable real estate presently occupied by the railroads along the Hudson River and elsewhere may be released for more constructive use, and improved either by private enterprise or through the co-operation of the Port Authority. Preliminary study indicates the feasibility of this program. There is no reason why New Jersey, with its magnificent port opportunities, should not have its fair share of the bulk maritime business.

The traffic problem in South Jersey is no less acute than in North Jersey. What I have said with respect to a modern highway system applies with equal force to the South Jersey area and, in fact, every area of the State. The program involving the elimination of traffic congestion in the capital city is moving along rapidly, and highway construction should commence in the near future. The initial steps taken last year by the Legislature for the creation of an authority with jurisdiction in the lower Delaware Valley comparable to the Port of New York Authority should be expanded. One of the immediate objectives of the authority would be to provide direct rail transportation between Philadelphia, Camden and the South Jersey suburban areas. Similarly, after constructive conferences with members of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission, we are prepared to recommend the enlargement of the power of this authority to enable it to carry on its work with greater independence in the upper Delaware River Valley.

These plans call for the co-operation of our railroads, our airlines, commercial truckers, the State and its various State and bi-State agencies. We must reappraise the relative obligations and opportunities of all of these carriers and agencies. As a matter of permanent State policy, I would enlist your co-operation in establishing the principle that all forms of public and commercial transportation should be considered from the viewpoint of their total effect in serving the needs of our people. Similarly, all carriers should, as a matter of principle, be accorded the same standard of governmental encouragement and co-operation.

In summary, the program of co-ordinated improvement of air, sea and land transportation facilities which I have outlined would, upon the completion of its several phases, provide our State with far-reaching benefits:

(1) The Newark-Jersey City area would become the only point in the world where co-ordinated major facilities of a deep-water harbor and docks, of passenger and freight rail terminals, and of complete air line services are available.

(2) The North Jersey transit problem, which has plagued the development of that important area of our State and has been the cause of constant concern and inconvenience to thousands of commuters, would be solved.

(3) Our already over-burdened inter-State highway network would be relieved by the provision of new and expanded railroad transportation facilities.

(4) The over-all railroad services to commuters, shippers and the general traveling public would be greatly improved and the resulting healthy expansion of activity would strengthen the taxpaying capacity of the railroads in the public interest.

(5) The co-ordination of highway, railroad, seaport and air transportation facilities and the elimination of traffic bottlenecks will open vast new opportunities for the expansion of industrial locations and residential development in the areas concerned. This will provide a broader economic basis for the support of government which should reduce real estate tax rates.

(6) An improvement, development and expansion of transportation in the south Jersey metropolitan area which will gain for that area the same kind of lasting benefits of inter-State co-operation which has resulted in the northern part of our State through the creation of the Port of New York Authority.

(7) The central area of our State, including the capital city, will be freed of the traffic blight with which it has so long been plagued.

Local Government

The same philosophy which moves us to re-examine and to reorganize our State government requires that we give a like attention to the entire structure of local government. We are sometimes inclined to forget that of the $550 million that was spent last year on State and local government in New Jersey, close to $450 million was budgeted by the counties, municipalities and school districts of this State. When we think of the services of government as well as their costs, therefore, it is appropriate to recognize the dominating importance of the 585 county and municipal governing bodies and 544 local boards of education in determining the purpose, nature, and cost of government in this State.

We have a long tradition in our State of what we are pleased to call municipal home rule. Experience has taught us that by and large this tradition, if properly and effectively supported by a sound legal framework of local government, can be one of the most effective instruments of service to the people. We must keep in mind, however, that there can be no true home rule without an adequate structure of local government responsible to local people, nor so long as our local governments are fiscally dependent upon outside aid from either State or nation.

When we look to our structure of local government today we find that little has been done to adapt it to modern needs and progressive thinking. On their face, our statute books offer local people a choice of a number of charters including the commission plan, the city manager plan, and the mayor-council plan. There has been considerable dissatisfaction experienced for many years with the operation of all three of these plans as presently constituted. In other words, we do not now have a truly effective system of optional forms of local government which either the Legislature, which is ultimately responsible, or the local people, who are immediately responsible for their selection, can accept with any confidence that they may serve as an adequate structure of local government.

It may well be that one of the reasons why so much dissatisfaction has been experienced by the operation of local government in our State is that we expect municipal governments to perform services which would better be performed by larger units, either the counties or the State itself. Much work has already been done on the need to readjust the service responsibilities and the areas of local government, and to relate them to local capacity to raise taxes. Adjustments such as these are closely related to achievement of an effective framework of local government. I would accordingly recommend that the entire subject be explored in all its implications by a specially constituted commission authorized and equipped to recommend the best way in which to bring up to date the structure and functions of our local government, in the same spirit of high-minded public service that has marked the outstanding accomplishments of our Constitutional Convention.

These broad policies of implementing the new State Constitution; strengthening local government; meeting housing, educational and institutional requirements; combating inflation and improving income security; and providing comprehensive improvements of transportation facilities for the encouragement and promotion of commerce, are the major matters of State policy which face us today. Many of these matters are closely related to the welfare of those who served our nation in the Armed Forces. They are perhaps as important to our veterans as any of our State's specific veterans' programs which we must also continue and strengthen in every way possible.

The capital borrowing that I have suggested need not be authorized in one over-all provision, but should be considered as a long-term capital budget plan to be accelerated as economic conditions permit and as the needs become increasingly manifest. But long study has convinced me of the necessity, and candor demands that I speak the blunt truth as I see it. Underlying much that you will consider in the year ahead are large problems of finance. These financial problems, as well as all of the problems of taxation which must be resolved, will be the subject of my Budget Message—a message which I am sure will not disappoint those who look for difficulty.

New Jersey is a great research laboratory. It is continually engaged in basic investigations seeking new methods for improved public service in the best interest of its citizens and within their capacity to support. As we seek to solve our great social and economic problems, we shall use every facility with which our State is so abundantly endowed. We must not, on the one hand, over-extend our capacities, nor, on the other hand, engage in the false economy of denying obvious needs. Our task, with God's help, is to work out our responsibilities—productively, economically and intelligently—with an awareness of the great urgency of the times in which we have been chosen to lead.

Respectfully submitted,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.

Honorable Joseph L. Brescher,
Speaker, House of Assembly,
State House.

DEAR SIR—By direction of the Constitutional Convention, there is attached hereto a series of memorials and resolutions directed to the Legislature.

Respectfully,

OLIVER F. VAN CAMP,
Secretary, Constitutional Convention.

The following resolutions were received and filed:

Resolution, by Mr. Proctor.

WHEREAS, This Convention has memorialized the Legislature to establish by law a Joint Committee of the two Houses for research to determine the new and amended legislation needed to carry out the mandates and facilitate the operation of the new State Constitution; and

WHEREAS, In the interest of economy of time and money it is desirable that said research shall be conducted through existing State agencies wherever possible; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this Constitutional Convention memorialize the Legislature as follows:

That immediately upon the ratification of the proposed new State Constitution by the people a Joint Committee of the two Houses of the Legislature be established for the purpose of conducting research to determine the new and amended legislation needed to carry out the mandates and facilitate the operation of the new State Constitution and to formulate and report to the Legislature its recommendations as to the same and that said Joint Committee in performing its duties make use of existing State agencies so far as may be possible and that, where necessary, the personnel, facilities and appropriations of such agencies be extended and increased sufficiently to enable them to render the necessary assistance to such Joint Committee.

Resolution by Mr. George F. Smith.

WHEREAS, This Constitutional Convention has adopted a Judicial Article, leaving to the Legislature the question of compensation to Judicial Officers; and

WHEREAS, The compensation of Judicial Officers has remained substantially constant, notwithstanding economic changes; now, therefore,

Be It Resolved, 1. That the Legislature is hereby memorialized to consider immediately the granting of adequate compensation to Judicial Officers in keeping with their judicial duties and responsibilities and with regard to current economic conditions.

2. The Secretary of this Convention is hereby directed to transmit a duly authenticated copy of this resolution to the Governor forthwith, and to each House of the Legislature at the opening of the next regular session.

Resolution, by Senator Lewis.

Resolved, (1) That the Legislature is hereby memorialized to consider the entire inferior court system of this State and to take such action as may be deemed necessary to establish a modern and efficient inferior court system to be presided over by qualified persons and to become effective, if at all possible, by September 15, 1948, the date that the Judicial Article adopted by this Convention is to become effective.

(2) That the Legislature consider the enactment of legislation to provide that all judges of the inferior courts receive reasonable fixed compensation which shall have no relation to fees received.

(3) The Secretary of this Convention is hereby directed to transmit a duly authenticated copy of this resolution to the Governor forthwith, and to each House of the Legislature at the opening of the next regular session.

Resolution by Mr. Miller.

Resolved, That this Constitutional Convention memorialize the Legislature as follows:

That a Joint Committee of the two Houses of the Legislature be established by law and authorized immediately upon the ratification of the proposed Constitution by the people to engage an adequate full-time staff to conduct research to determine the new and amended legislation needed to carry out the mandates and facilitate the operation of the new Constitution.

Resolution, by Senator Lewis.

WHEREAS This Constitutional Convention of 1947 adopted a Judicial Article giving constitutional status to the three upper courts, leaving the establishment, alteration and abolishment of the inferior courts and their jurisdiction to the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, The Schedule of said Judicial Article, among other things, provides:

> "Until otherwise provided by law, all courts now existing in this State, other than those abolished in paragraphs two and three hereof, shall continue as if this Constitution had not been adopted."

And by reason of said provision our present inferior court system will continue unless otherwise provided by the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, The Delegates of this Constitutional Convention are mindful of the immediate need for changing, simplifying and integrating our inferior court system; now therefore,

Be It Resolved, 1. That the Legislature is hereby memorialized to consider the entire inferior court system of this State and to take such action as may be deemed necessary to establish a modern and efficient inferior court system to become effective, if at all possible, by September 15, 1948, the date that the Judicial Article adopted by this Convention is to become effective.

2. The Secretary of this Convention is hereby directed to transmit a duly authenticated copy of this resolution to the Governor forthwith, and to each House of the Legislature at the opening of the next regular session.

Resolution, by Messrs. Schlosser, Ferry, Lance and Schenk.

WHEREAS, This Constitutional Convention has deemed it to be inadvisable to include within its draft of a new Constitution, to be submitted to the people for their approval at the next General Election, a provision abolishing prosecution for crimes at common law; and

WHEREAS, This Constitutional Convention deems it to be fair and just that all crimes ought to be defined by statute in order that the citizens of New Jersey may be enabled to know what acts on their part will subject them to criminal prosecution; therefore,

Be It Resolved, 1. The Governor and the Legislature are hereby memorialized to reconsider the criminal laws of the State of New Jersey and to consider codifying such laws, to the end that all crimes may be defined by statute before commission of the fact, and in order that the citizens of this State may be enabled to know what acts on their part will subject them to criminal prosecution.

2. The Secretary of this Convention is hereby directed to transmit a duly authenticated copy of this resolution to the Governor forthwith, and to each House of the Legislature at the opening of the next regular legislative session.

Resolution, by Mr. Read.

Be It Resolved, The Governor and the Legislature are hereby memorialized to reconsider the entire railroad tax law in the interest of financial stability and efficient service of these vital public utilities. It is the sense of this Convention that upon such reconsideration the railroad tax which is for State use should be adjusted so that the application of local general property tax rates to second-class railroad property will not impose a harmful and unfair total tax burden upon the railroad industry of this State.

The Secretary of this Convention is hereby directed to transmit a duly authenticated copy of this resolution to the Governor forthwith and to each House of the Legislature at the opening of the next regular session.

Resolution, by Mr. Eggers.

"Amend supplementary Proposal No. 2-2 by striking it out entirely." And

WHEREAS, The Constitutional Convention by the adoption of this amendment has authorized the specific kind and control of gambling when submitted to and authorized by a majority of votes cast thereon at a special or general election; and

Resolved, That this Convention does hereby memorialize the members of the New Jersey Legislature of 1948 to enact, subject to local option, legislation which will permit the playing of games of chance or bingo by and for bona fide veteran, charitable, educational, religious and fraternal organizations, the proceeds of which are to be devoted entirely to the uses of such veteran, charitable, educational, religious and fraternal organizations; and be it

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
February 2, 1948.

Mr. Philip C. Wadsworth,

Very truly yours,

(Signed) ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,

Which motion was adopted.

BUDGET MESSAGE

To the Members of the Senate and General Assembly:

On September 27, 1947, representatives of the Congress of the United States and of the Governors' Conference reported: "The American form of government is founded upon the principles of local government and citizen participation in government. If these principles are to be developed and maintained—local, state, and federal governments all must be strong.

"The unprecedented high total tax bill now being paid by the American taxpayer to support all levels of government requires an immediate readjustment of the Federal-State relationship for the purpose of preserving a working Federal system." The statement agreed upon by the conferees, following a meeting of historic significance, added:

"To achieve a higher degree of efficiency, reduce duplication, and achieve economy and stability in our co-ordinated system of federal, state and local governments, our states must cease relying upon the federal government to do things for them and their citizens which they can do for themselves as well as, or better than, the federal government. In order that the state and local governments may be enabled to assume those functions, the federal government should reduce those taxes which can be administered best by state and local governments."

Specifically, the conference urged:

"1. That the federal government should reduce federal excise taxes as soon as practicable;[1]

2. That the federal government should amend inheritance and estate taxes to provide more equitable division of this revenue between the federal government and the states;

3. That the federal government should relinquish to the states the federal tax on employers levied to cover the administrative expenses of the state employment security programs, and the states will assume the responsibility for the administration of the unemployment compensation and employment service programs;

[1] Special consideration should be given to local telephone calls, intrastate electric energy, gasoline and admissions taxes.

4. That the Congress take the earliest possible action to correct by federal law the income tax inequities existing between the community property and the non-community property states;

5. That the states should avoid encroachment upon tax fields which are peculiarly adaptable to federal uses."

The average citizen is interested in the total cost of government In 1947 this total cost included the following levies[1] Federal—$1,400,000,000, State—$157,000,000,[2] Counties—$77,000,000, Municipalities—$210,000,000, School Districts—$150,000,000.

The Federal levy upon our citizens is many times larger than the State levy and reflects, of course, the cost of the war and a change in political philosophy, with the resultant shift from a Federal Government to a National Government. If this shift in power, responsibilities and capacity to dominate fields of taxation and governmental spending continues our States will soon become hollow shells, and useless and costly ornaments of an age when Federalism had real significance.

It is for this reason, in addition to the imperative need for the simplification and co-ordination of governmental service and the opportunity for real economy that we have pressed our fight for the restoration of a co-ordinated working Federalism. Unfortunately, the historic "conflict" between the Federal Government and the states over activities, services and taxes is not susceptible of a quick solution. It is easier to agree upon principle than to apply the principle and to untangle tight fiscal knots that have acquired the rigidity of age and hard usage. New Jersey citizens, under the present system of indiscriminate Federal grants-in-aid, are called upon to support their own governments, and, in addition, to help support governmental programs in other States that in fact may be in better financial condition than New Jersey with its "rich" though impoverished cities.

If the taxpayer owns real estate and pays an income tax, he has a painful familiarity with these two taxes that have increased

[1] Approximate and rounded to thousand dollars.

[2] Including total State aid to counties, municipalities and school districts of approximately $57,000,000.

tremendously during recent years Neither tax, however, is designed to support State Government in New Jersey. Many of our citizens do not appreciate the fact that if they do not drive a car, indulge in alcoholic beverages, participate in pari-mutuel betting or receive bequests from decedent friends or relatives, they pay very little, if anything, to support State Government.

It is reported the Federal Government will close its fiscal year with a balance of approximately seven billion dollars. The expenditures of the 48 States during the same period will probably exceed current revenues by over one billion dollars. To meet this situation four States during 1947 adopted a general sales tax law; seven States adopted cigarette and tobacco taxes (38 States now impose this tax); seven States increased their cigarette tax; eight States increased their gasoline tax; three States enacted new use fuel taxes; seven States increased their excise taxes on distilled spirits; four States increased their taxes on wine, six States increased their tax on beer; five States revised upward State income taxes; and corporate income taxes were increased in five States. Additional States taxed soft drinks, increased levies on pari-mutuel betting and in other ways sought to close the gap between receipts and expenditures Most of these States now have tax rates higher than in New Jersey and in many instances taxes that New Jersey has previously been able to escape.

Of all the objectives mentioned in the report of the Federal-State Conference two appear most likely of accomplishment. There is every reason to believe that at this session of Congress the income tax inequities existing between the community property and the non-community property States will be corrected. This action alone will save the citizens of this State approximately $38,000,000.

It is hoped that Congress will amend Federal laws applicable to estate and inheritance taxes so as to restore so-called death taxes substantially to the States. For generations these taxes were levied exclusively by the States. To meet the fiscal emergency incident to World War I, the Federal Government turned to a death tax for additional revenue. Following the conclusion of that war, while the Federal Government did not withdraw from the tax, it did in 1926 increase the credit allowed for State death taxes to 80 per cent of the Federal tax. During the great depression preceding World War II, the national government again turned to death taxes as a substantial source of revenue and as it became more firmly entrenched in this field of taxation the States obtained a smaller and smaller share of the total revenue from this source. Federal death taxes have increased enormously while State receipts on the whole have declined. In 1930 when the 80 per cent credit was still in full effect, State receipts accounted for three-fourths of all revenues from death taxes. Today with the credit touching only a small portion of the Federal estate tax, the States receive less than one-fourth of the combined total of Federal-State death tax revenues

As we approach the task of budget-making we cannot overlook the mounting cost of local government, including our school districts. This cost is largely borne by the owners of real and personal property In 1939 general property (exclusive of railroad property) was the source of $239,437,000 of State and local revenue [1] In 1947 it was the source of $297,574,000 in local revenue. Railroad taxes amounted to $18,739,000 in 1939 (reached $23,895,000 in 1943), and provided $15,029,000 in 1947.

The question naturally arises at what point do taxes on real property and, in fact, all taxes become so high as to place in jeopardy our economy setting in motion a spiral of diminishing returns, and to what extent is it wise to substitute for additional taxes on real property, levies of another character pending Federal-State adjustment of taxes and services.

In my judgment it is apparent that real estate taxes in particular have in many municipalities reached rates that are discouraging the construction and acquisition of new homes. If the State is to share a greater portion of the tax burden then it must strengthen its controls and aggressively, in co-operation with its political sub-divisions, seek to prevent wastes and to reduce total costs The theory of home rule, cherished as it is in this State, has not proved an effective brake under present-day circumstances against rising costs.

In my Budget Message of last year I stated that we faced the same inflationary trends that have troubled industry, labor and all levels of government. These inflationary forces, unfortunately, are in greater evidence this year than in the winter of 1947.

We are presently engaged in the reorganization of the Executive Branch of our government. The figures and tables submitted with this message do not reflect the substantial saving that I believe may be achieved when this reorganization is properly accomplished. The figures stated in the schedules prepared by the Department of Taxation and Finance in most instances provide for the various departments as they presently exist. Provision should be made for the transfer of funds appropriated for the support of the various existing agencies to the principal departments to which the functions of government may ultimately be transferred.

It is against this background that the 1948-49 fiscal program and budget of the State must be considered. In my Inaugural Address a year ago I recognized that it might become necessary for the State, in order to meet the requirements of the State and municipalities, to make "tax adjustments" and to secure "replacement revenues" I also emphasized that we would take advantage of any leeway that might come to us through a reduction in Federal taxes The latter eventuality has not been realized to any appreciable extent.

The total amount requested by all departments for the fiscal year was $217,664,775.

In the figures attached you will find total recommendations of $140,511,089, which is $15,291,228 less than recommended for the present fiscal year, and approximately $77,000,000 less than the total requests, or a reduction of about 35% These figures represent estimates of current costs of operation, present grants-in-aid commitments with additions contemplated a year ago, and "normal" highway construction. These recommendations may be met from available current income To do so, however, would subject the State to a substantial penalty by the Federal Government for the "diversion" of Highway User revenues—this despite the fact that the Federal Government returns to the State only a portion of the Federal "emergency" gasoline tax collected from New Jersey highway users. For the reasons that will be stated, I am opposed to the use of Highway User revenues for other than highway purposes at this time

In addition to the foregoing recommendations, there are certain additional recommendations for appropriations, including additional grants-in-aid for education and provision for capital construction, that will be discussed in this message.

While New Jersey has finally achieved a single budget it is designed to perform three distinct purposes.

The budget detail should be studied in the light of the following:

BUDGET PART I

CURRENT OPERATIONS

	Total	General Purpose	Highway
Estimated Balances, July 1, 1948	$20,957,524 21	$9,437,524 21	$11,520,000 00

Balance	$72,914,245.18	$26,480,211.38	$46,434,033.80

It will immediately be noted that current revenues are more than sufficient to take care of restricted State current operations at the present level. If we are to continue grants-in-aid to our municipalities on the present level or as recommended or to make the capital improvements that are urgently required to provide adequate care for our wards in the State institutions, our children seeking higher education, and the users of our highways, additional revenue will be required.

Educational Aid:

The total amount recommended in the budget detail for State School Aid in School Districts, pursuant to the formula adopted by the Legislature in 1946 with additions contemplated last year is $14,065,766 18. The State's contribution to the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund is $7,101,189.16 and for additional programs, such as State subsidies for industrial and manual training, vocational schools, veterans' secondary education, etc., $2,385,303.25. In this budget message, I have recommended an additional $10,000,000.00 for direct aid to our School Districts, contingent upon the adoption of legislation providing the necessary additional revenue. My studies disclose that this additional grant when added to the other increases over last year should accomplish the purpose of the State School Aid Commission. The States responsibility for the continuation of good schools is recognized. The need is apparent.

In my opinion, the time has come when State aid for education on the local level should be completely revised to establish an over-all State grant on an equitable definitive basis. At the present time there are many weaknesses in the statutes which make it possible for local districts that have established educational programs, to commit State funds to the extent that deficiency appropriations are required each year to cover the cost of such programs. Now that the State has undertaken to assume a major share of the cost of education, it should be relieved of its obligation to meet a number of "open end agreements" that have placed in jeopardy its financial position.

The State will continue its obligations to maintain the security of the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund. The burden of this fund has grown substantially in recent years with the increase in number of teachers and salaries. As stated heretofore, I have recommended an appropriation for the State's share of the contribution to the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund in the sum of $7,101,189.16. This is $2,405,271 less than the amount requested. The present statute requires the State to provide annually a sum to be known as the "deficiency contribution." This amount represents the accumulated State's liability for accrued credits to those members of the fund who were transferred from the old "State Retirement Fund." This deficiency on June 30, 1947, equaled $20,670,136. The amount requested for an installment payment against this deficiency in the current budget was $3,905,-271. This requested amount is computed on the basis of the present statutes, which require that the amount of the deficiency contribution shall be arbitrarily increased by three per cent until the entire deficiency is met. Following numerous conferences, it is recommended that the annual payment against this deficiency be "pegged" at $1,500,000 until such time as the full amount due by the State has been fully liquidated. The full amount requested for the fund apart from the so-called "deficiency" has been provided. This fund now totals more than $148,000,000, far more than was originally contemplated

Direct grants for aid to the School Districts should be consolidated, wherever practical, and placed on a definitive basis so that both the Districts and the State will know exactly the extent of the latter's obligation. In the past, the State has been called upon to grant deficiency appropriations to cover manual training, vocational training, and other educational programs. This type of deficit financing should be terminated.

In conjunction with this increased aid, it is my hope that you will require annual audits of all local school districts as they are now required in the municipalities, and that the Department of Taxation and Finance will be authorized to audit or cause to be audited the records of the school districts. A uniform standard of accountability as between School Districts and all other local governments should be established. The State Department of Education should be authorized to establish standards of education that must be met by each school district to entitle it to State School Aid, and the service performed by the Department of Taxation and Finance should be subject to the policy decisions of the Department of Education.

These State grants are intended to serve a twofold purpose: the promotion of a quality education and the protection of real estate against excessive local purpose tax rates. We depend largely upon the local school boards to do their part to maintain a proper balance of these two purposes in each community.

Welfare:

The amount recommended in this Budget includes grants-in-aid for welfare purposes of $13,491,140. This is an increase of approximately $5,000,000 over last year and reflects, in part, the inflationary trend of the current period. It is my hope that through the medium of consolidation of administrative agencies, "Emergency Relief," "Old Age Assistance," "Child Welfare" and other welfare programs, and the completion of our social program, we will secure administrative savings and an integrated protection against want and suffering.

Highway:

We should continue and expand somewhat the grants-in-aid for highway purposes initiated last year subject to one change, namely, the limit of the State's responsibility should be clearly defined Accordingly, I recommend as aid to counties and municipalities the sum of $15,925,000—an increase of $1,000,000—to be distributed in accordance with the formulae adopted at the last session of the Legislature and subject to the condition mentioned above. An additional sum of $325,000 is recommended for expenditure by the Highway Department for municipal lighting on the State Highway System

Other Grants-in-Aid:

The most important of the State grants-in-aid items for general purposes is that made for aid to the local police and firemen's funds which amounts to $1,000,000 annually. The balance of this program for general items is made up of beach erosion and inland waterway work and 5% of inheritance tax collections which, by statute, is returned to the county in which it is collected.

BUDGET PART III

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS

	Total	General Purpose	Highway
Balance of Income Available ...	$30,184,033 80	. ...	$30,184,033 80
Amount to be Raised to Finance Capital Improvements for General Purposes	5,260,000.00	$5,260,000.00	.....
Total	$35,444,033 80	$5,260,000 00	$30,184,033 80
Budget Detail Recommendations	17,866,775 00	260,000 00	17,606,775.00
Reserved to Finance Capital Improvements	$17,577,258.80	$5,000,000 00	$12,577,258 80

The Departments requested appropriations for capital improvements totaling $75,706,607 50, including $16,956,500 for institutional buildings, $15,450,000 for educational buildings, $225,000 for State Police buildings, $42,958,807.50 for highway construction, and miscellaneous requests totaling $116,300.

Provision has been made in the budget detail for the State Police buildings, the cost to be charged against highway user receipts. There is acute need for these buildings and their completion will not only strengthen this important branch of our government but will save present rental payments for inadequate facilities. Provision has likewise been made for the completion of the second unit of the Diagnostic Center located at Menlo Park at a cost of $250,000 At the request of the Fish and Game Council, provision has been made for $10,000, to be reimbursed by the Federal Government, for the acquisition of land for hunting purposes.

No provision has been made in the budget detail, and none can be made until funds are available, for the modernization of our institutions. A year ago, in my First Budget Message, I stressed the overcrowded condition of our welfare institutions and urged that "careful consideration should be given to a long-range program for institutional improvement" In my judgment this program can no longer be delayed The Legislature is requested to give this subject its immediate consideration and to establish a list of priorities in order of urgency.

A public-spirited group of citizens has urged a total building program for institutions and education totaling $75,000,000, including the requests by the affected departments It is to be noted that in the statement at the beginning of this section, provision is made for $5,000,000 of additional revenue which should be sufficient to finance the construction of those buildings, found to be essential, over a reasonable period of time.

The Department of Institutions and Agencies has presented a building program totaling $39,000,000 and has indicated a need for immediate construction and modernization totaling $16,000,000 The various teachers' colleges have requested funds for expansion of existing facilities totaling $5,450,000 and the State University has requested $10,000,000 I can attest to the fact that our State Teachers Colleges and the University could put additional facilities to good use The University is sorely in need of a new library and chemistry building. The New Jersey College for Women, likewise, requires additional buildings The Montclair Teachers College and the Paterson Teachers College, in particular, require additional facilities An initial grant of $1,000,000 was made to the latter last year I have prepared, and at a later date will deliver to the Legislature, a special message covering the needs of our State Teachers Colleges and a proposed program for their development and integration.

With respect to all of these capital improvements, we should ask ourselves: (1) Are we confronted with an emergency situation? (2) Can construction properly be deferred until materials are in greater abundance and prices have returned to a more normal level? (3) To what extent, if any, will the construction of these buildings interfere with the construction of homes—a program in which this State has a substantial investment? (4) To what extent may we expect the population in our institutions or enrollment in our colleges and university to be reduced, thereby relieving present pressure for additional facilities? Wherever possible we should avoid competition for scarce materials or labor. Emergency construction should be begun as quickly as possible. We should proceed with our long-range planning now and construction may be begun after a prudent weighing of the extent of the need against high costs, and the other factors previously mentioned It is to be noted that I am not now advocating either a substantial new bond issue or a large building program Nor am I advocating, at this time, an appropriation for these purposes except for the amount necessary to take care of the emergency construction that can be financed at this time for far less than the $5,000,000 tentatively allocated for long-range capital improvement. We do, however, urge the immediate adoption of a plan. This subject of capital improvements should be referred to an appropriate committee of the Legislature for immediate consideration with a request for a report prior to the completion of the work of the Appropriations Committee.

Highway Construction.

Provision is made in the budget detail for highway construction totaling $16,600,000 out of current receipts. In addition, there is presently before Congress an appropriation bill which, if passed, will make available in the form of a Federal grant-in-aid about $8,400,000 for additional highway construction. As previously noted, this grant-in-aid represents a portion of the payments under the Federal "emergency" gas tax made by the New Jersey highway users. The total thus anticipated as available for "normal" highway construction will be $25,000,000. In my first Annual Message, I stated: "Our highway requirements are so acute that it is apparent that we cannot hope to finance the construction and completion of major highways which have been legislated, planned or discussed out of current income." The amount of highway user revenues reserved after the recommended appropriation should support any additional highway program that may be adopted.

The Chairman of the Citizens' Committee for the Relief of Traffic Congestion, Mr Lee Bristol, accurately stated the highway problem confronting New Jersey some time ago when he said: "The future prosperity of every element of the population and every section of the State depends upon the successful solution of our highway congestion problem." It is estimated that the economic loss due to the traffic congestion and resulting delays in New Jersey exceeds $4,000,000 a year.

Some time ago New York State announced a 14-year highway building program of $143,000,000 a year Pennsylvania reported a contemplated program of $168,000,000 a year for five years New Jersey does not intend to compete with these "plans."

There are certain limitations that necessarily must be imposed on any highway construction program Once again, we must measure the need against prevailing prices, availability of materials and labor, our opportunity to obtain competitive bidding, and our capacity to design and supervise new highways. Two methods of financing the required new highways have been suggested: the first is through the medium of current highway user revenues, either on a pay-as-you-go basis or the use of current revenue to service additional highway borrowings The other is through the use of tolls and the sale of revenue bonds serviced exclusively by the tolls This was the method used in Pennsylvania to construct the Pennsylvania turnpike and more recently in the State of Maine to construct a turnpike in that State. It has been suggested that this method could be used to finance the improvement of the Route 4 Parkway from the Victory Bridge at Perth Amboy to Cape May, serving the important recreational areas in Monmouth, Ocean, Atlantic and Cape May counties. It has also been suggested that the same method could be used to finance the important Route 300 Freeway from the proposed Trans-Delaware River Bridge in Salem County to the North Jersey-New York metropolitan area.

I have not heretofore advocated toll roads for New Jersey and I am not prepared to advocate them at the present time. It is entirely possible, however, that in a long-range program including the development of express highways or freeways primarily designed to carry through traffic where marginal free roads are available for local traffic, this method of financing may have considerable merit.

Among the additional capital requirements, there is one that commands our attention. The prosperity of all of our seaport communities and the very substantial recreational business of the State depend upon the preservation of our fine beaches. The latter, in recent years, have been particularly vulnerable to the action of storms and tides Sporadic efforts to prevent beach erosion have not proved sufficient. The problem of beach erosion has been studied and re-studied. The national government has had a traditional interest in the promotion of commerce and the development of inlets and waterways. The deterioration of the coastal area is not peculiar to New Jersey. It is apparent that the State must be prepared to participate with its municipalities in a Federal-State-County-Municipal program which we hope will be defined in the near future

Revenues:

It is now apparent that while current revenues are sufficient to support current operations of the State Government they are insufficient to support current operations and in addition the present grants-in-aid with the additions requested. Nor will they support any capital improvements. The need for new highways requires that we retain highway user revenues for highway maintenance and construction No additional gas tax is required at this time to finance the long-range highway construction program referred to in my First Annual Message. Nor is any contemplated

Mindful of the additional burdens the State Government is being called upon to carry and in an effort to keep within the "adjustments" referred to in my Inaugural Address, we recommend a reduction of existing payroll taxes for employers and employees All States which originally had a worker contribution, except Alabama, have eliminated the contribution The detailed method of achieving this reduction will be set forth in bills to be submitted shortly, but briefly stated the result is estimated as follows:

Reduction in Annual Employer Tax	$17,000,000
Elimination or Transfer of Employee Tax	29,000,000

Our Unemployment Compensation Fund, on deposit in the Federal Treasury, had swollen to $474,000,000 as of December 31, 1947. While we must at all times maintain this fund at ample strength to meet any future economic emergencies, it is not in the public interest to "freeze" excessive sums in the Federal Treasury—and the present fund is clearly excessive in the judgment of all competent observers

The reduction of the Employer Contribution Rate can be accomplished through a combination of two changes in the present law: First, the Experience Rating Schedule should be revised and rate brackets added so that the maximum rate will be reduced from the present 3.6 per cent of taxable payroll to 3.0 per cent, and the minimum rate lowered from the present 0 9 per cent to 0.3 per cent In addition, so long as our Unemployment Compensation Fund remains at its present excessive level, I would further recommend a uniform reduction of the payroll tax of all employers, entirely apart from the Experience Rate. This latter provision should be of special value to the thousands of new businesses which have been started by veterans and others since the end of the war.

In terms of percentage reduction of tax, the effect of these changes will, on the average, save employers 31 per cent in their payroll tax; and for some employers having the best employment records, the saving will run as high as 66 2/3 per cent of the tax that would have been imposed under the present law. The present 1 0 per cent Worker Contribution for unemployment compensation should be either entirely repealed, saving those covered by unemployment compensation the $29,000,000 a year which it produces at current rates, or this contribution should be transferred to a temporary disability benefits fund to provide so-called "cash sickness" benefits in accordance with the recommendation of my recent Annual Message.

If the present rate of benefit payments continues, that is if benefits paid run about $56,000,000 annually, these benefits will exceed the estimated current contributions to the fund by about $20,000,000. To a considerable extent this loss will be offset by interest accruals, which in 1947 amounted to $8,600,000. We are in the fortunate position of presently being able to achieve both tax reduction and full safety of our unemployment compensation reserve.

These tax reductions in large measure offset the revenue program to which we must resort if we are to meet the need for additional State aid for schools, for institutional construction and for the expansion of State educational facilities. We are able in a large measure to adjust the total tax burden for the support of government by reducing payroll taxes at a time when we are faced with the need to meet obligations for which payroll taxes are neither available nor appropriate. While many alternative forms of taxation are, of course, available for study and consideration, the course we should take in raising needed revenue, amounting to some $37,000,000 in total, has been very well worked out by the recommendations of citizen commissions appointed to study the problems that are before us. I accordingly recommend for your consideration the following changes in our tax structure.

1. A three-cent cigarette tax—to finance additional State aid for schools and the debt service on necessary institutional construction, as recommended by two outstanding citizen committees, to produce $14,200,000 net.

2. Increase the lower range of the State's share of the parimutuel take from four to five per cent to produce $1,500,000.

3. Increase the present tax on beer from 3⅓ cents per gallon to five cents per gallon to produce $1,800,000.

4. Assess a gross receipts tax of 1½ mills on business properly allocable to this State—as an adaptation of the recommendations of the second report of the Commission on State Tax Policy—to produce $19,500,000.

The latter tax legislation should limit the percentage of assessment that may be levied against tangible personal property, according to a schedule to be prescribed, taking into consideration the character of the property. This provision would give the owners of tangible personal property, for the first time, protection against "tax lightning."

These additional revenues are required to bridge the gap between present income and the amount required to meet current requests for grants-in-aid to our counties, municipalities and school districts and needed capital improvements.

It is apparent from this message that there are a number of choices open to the State. We may balance current revenue against current cost of operation by the simple expedient of reducing grants-in-aid thereby increasing the burden on real estate. I do not recommend this policy. We may balance current costs against current income, retaining grants-in-aid at their present levels by the use of highway user revenue. There is an urgent need for new highways, particularly in the metropolitan areas where the entire future depends upon elimination of traffic congestion and improved transportation. Accordingly, I am not inclined to recommend this easy way out of our present dilemma We may provide for current expenses, increase our grants-in-aid, make reasonable provision for some additional capital improvements and at the same time balance tax reduction against additional levies in the hope that a fair tax balance will be maintained I recommend this procedure.

During my brief term as Governor, I have been tremendously concerned with the plight of our municipalities I believe that the proposals that have been discussed in this message, coupled with adjustment in railroad taxes to be discussed in a separate message should materially assist our municipalities to meet their pressing obligations. It is to be understood that with increased State aid the parent government will be required to take such steps as may be necessary to insure that full value is obtained for each dollar contributed. The "leverage" thus acquired by the State may properly be used to require greater integration of school and municipal activities wherever practicable.

State Personnel and Pension:

There is included in the present budget $41,252,105 00 to pay the salaries of State employees. This compares with $38,020,-288 00 recommended last year. The greater part of the increase is made up as follows:

(a) Normal increments	$1,500,000 00
(b) Cash in lieu of food at State institutions	780,305 00
(c) Additional engineers to accelerate highway planning	490,320 00

The need for additional employees in two departments has been recognized. I refer to Institutions and Agencies where a shortage of attendants and nurses has been chronic, and the Board of Public Utility Commissioners which has been deluged with new work where the protection of our citizens appears to require additional trained personnel in the handling of rate cases. Thirty Thousand Dollars ($30,000.00) has been appropriated for this purpose. In my judgment, this appropriation should obviate the need of legislation for any supplemental appropriation.

It is my hope that through the medium of State reorganization it will be possible for us this year to substantially reduce State personnel by not filling vacancies as they occur, and that the subsequent saving may in part be used to provide adequate salaries for employees in the lower brackets.

There has been recommended in this message sufficient funds to provide for the State's share of contribution to existing pension funds, and in addition, funds for those pensions payable currently out of State revenues Recognizing the potential liability of the State covering accrued service credits of those employees still not members of one of the established actuarial pension funds, I have requested that a study be made of the entire pension problem with special emphasis on veterans' pensions. This committee is presently working on this problem, and its report will undoubtedly shed considerable light on the future burden that the State may be called upon to assume.

In my first Budget Message, I stressed the fact that "A budget is not a blueprint for spending State revenues. Properly understood, it constitutes a challenge to save money and to spend less than the amount recommended for appropriation." 1947 was a busy year. As a result of legislation adopted by the 171st Legislature much was accomplished Those accomplishments provide the basis for a stronger State government and stronger controls. Pending action by the present Legislature on the proposed reorganization of the Executive branch of our government, it is impossible for this Budget to reflect contemplated changes in structure and operation In the months immediately ahead, it will be necessary to review all State activities for the purpose of ascertaining which of these activities the State can afford to continue and which should be discontinued. I shall confer with our legislative leaders on this subject from time to time and make specific recommendations as required. We may be required to discontinue some of our cherished activities in the interest of economy.

In our concentration upon the immediate requirements of the State, we have not overlooked the need for long-range planning, nor have we hesitated to recommend the use of credit (as we did last year) where the use of that credit for long-term projects permits us to keep present taxes within reasonable limits and to make available for grants-in-aid funds that otherwise would be consumed in capital improvement. As was suggested in my last budget message, it is the abuse of credit—not its reasonable use where necessary—that is to be feared and avoided. We have urged a cautious approach to capital improvement and are constantly seeking new information on this subject.

I have appreciated the co-operation received from the heads of the various State agencies and regret that in many instances available funds did not permit me to recommend the requested appropriations. We must, however, live within available revenues.

Respectfully submitted,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,

Governor.

Which motion was carried.

The Speaker announced that Assemblyman Lawrence Cavinato, of Bergen County, would deliver an address on the life of Abraham Lincoln to commemorate his birthday.

Mr. Speaker and Colleagues of the House of Assembly, we have set aside this period of our legislative session to pay tribute to that great American, Abraham Lincoln:

Lincoln was born in a log cabin in the State of Kentucky on February 12, 1809. His early surroundings were primitive. The log cabin in which he was born contained but one room, one door and one window. It was made of roughly hewn logs patched with mud and grass with a floor of packed earth. The household furniture consisted of a cot, bureau, three stools, and a wooden bench. Lincoln's bed was a pile of leaves. His clothing was made of home-spun material and the fur of wild animals.

His father, Thomas Lincoln, a pioneer woodsman and hunter, was a wanderer by nature, and when Lincoln was seven years of age the family moved to a new settlement in Indiana. There an improvised log cabin was built and the forest lands cleared. The rigors of a severe winter and the sacrifices and hardships of a pioneer's life caused the early death of Lincoln's mother, Nancy Hanks Lincoln, at the age of 36, leaving Lincoln motherless at the age of 8. Lincoln tells us, that when his mother was dying she called him to her side and said, "My son, never forget the Ten Commandments." Lincoln never did.

Lincoln remained with his father in Indiana until he reached 21 years of age. During that time he was engaged in hard work, clearing dense forest lands, splitting rails and building log cabins. He tells us that an axe was placed in his hands by his father when he was seven years of age and he continually used it until he reached the age of 23. The axe was his means of livelihood.

Lincoln tells us that his total period of schooling during his entire lifetime was less than one year. He did however, educate himself by constantly reading the Bible. This later in life gave him his purest literary style and striking phrases, which we find in his state papers and public addresses. The other books read by Lincoln were "Pilgrims' Progress"; "Aesops Fables"; Weems "Life of Washington"; "Robinson Crusoe" and a History of the United States.

When Lincoln was 21 he migrated with his father and step-mother by ox-team from Indiana to Illinois. Here Lincoln separated from his parents and settled in New Salem while his parents traveled further west.

In 1832 Lincoln enlisted in the Black Hawk War; a war between the Illinois settlers and the Black Hawk Indians. Lincoln's popularity was evidenced when his company elected him Captain by an overwhelming majority. At the end of this war, Lincoln returned to New Salem and in 1833 became a candidate for the State Assembly of Illinois. He was defeated in his first venture, but his hometown of New Salem gave him 277 votes out of a total of 280 cast. Lincoln ran the following year and was elected by a large majority and re-elected for three consecutive terms. It was during this period that Lincoln began the study of law by teaching himself. In 1837 Lincoln moved to Springfield, Illinois, and began the general practice of law. The backwoodsman, rail splitter, farm laborer, flatboat hand, captain, storekeeper, postmaster and deputy surveyor became Abraham Lincoln, attorney and counsellor at law. Lincoln now divided his time between the law and the Legislature.

In 1846 Lincoln set his heart upon election to Congress and was elected by the largest majority ever given from that district. He served but one term and became greatly disillusioned in office. He did not seek a second term, because he knew that his opposition to the Mexican War, then in progress, and his charge that the administration had unjustly fomented the war was most unpopular with his constituents and his stand would mean his defeat. When apprised of this fact by his law partner, William Herndon, Lincoln said, "I would rather be right with my conscience than be re-elected."

Lincoln now devoted himself exclusively to law and became one of the leading members of the Illinois Bar.

In 1858 the "Missouri Compromise" was the policy of our Federal Government on slavery in the new territories. The "Missouri Compromise" prohibited slavery in the new territories. Stephen Douglas, the Democratic United States Senator from Illinois attempted to amend this policy, and permit the new territories to decide the question of slavery by State referendum. Lincoln felt that this was a violation of the policy of prohibiting the spread of slavery. He became the Republican candidate for United States Senate in opposition to Douglas on the slavery issue and from that campaign originated the famous Lincoln and Douglas debates, in which Lincoln's famous speech was made "A house divided against itself cannot stand. * * * This nation cannot endure half slave and half free." Though Lincoln was defeated, he became as a result of his stand against the extension of slavery, the outstanding figure of the forces opposed to slavery and in 1860 at the Republican Convention in Chicago he was nominated as the Presidential Nominee of the Republican Party.

November 6, 1860, Lincoln was elected the Sixteenth President of the United States. The country was on edge, threats of secession by the southern states were heard, and Lincoln decided to allay public excitement and fears by making many personal appearances on his way to his inauguration. He stopped at Trenton and spoke in this House of Assembly and said "Mr. Speaker, When I was a boy I read Weems' Life of Washington and read of the battlefields and struggles for the liberties of the country and none of them fixed themselves upon my imagination so deeply as the struggle here at Trenton, New Jersey. In the crossing of the Delaware river, the contest with the Hessians, the great hardships endured, fixed themselves on my mind more than any other revolutionary event. I realized then, that the cause must have been a most worthy one for those brave men to have suffered the pain, bloodshed and sacrifices which they endured."

In his first inaugural address in March 1861, Lincoln disavowed any intention of interfering with slavery where it already existed. He was firmly opposed, however, to the extension of slavery in new territories. He opposed the secession of the states and asserted, that the government would hold and possess all of its forts and property. He said "Physically speaking, we cannot separate. We cannot remove our respective sections from each other, nor build an impassable wall between them. * * * In your hands, my dissatisfied fellow-countrymen, and not in mine, is this momentous isue of civil war."

On April 12, 1861, the confederate forces in South Carolina fired on Fort Sumter after Major Anderson in command of the fort refused to surrender. After continuous fire from the rebels, the fort surrendered. This was the signal for one of the bloodiest wars in history. Lincoln said, "It presents the question whether a constitutional republic, a government of the people and by the same people can maintain its territorial integrity against its own domestic foes. It presents the question whether a few disgruntled individuals, too few to control administration according to law can, upon the pretenses made in this case, or arbitrarily without pretense, break up their government and thus practically put an end to free government upon the earth. Is there in all republics this fatal weakness? Must a government of necessity be too strong for the liberties of its own people, or too weak to maintain its own existence?'' Lincoln had no choice after the firing on Fort Sumter and called out the war power of the government to preserve it against the forces being exerted to destroy it.

On April 15, 1861, Lincoln issued the proclamation calling out the militia to the number of 75,000. The northern States responded almost as one man. The patriotic cry all over the north was ''We are coming, Father Abraham, 100,000 strong.'' The first encounter between the northern and southern forces was the battle of Bull Run. The battle was lost by the north and Lee and his confederate forces inflicted a great blow on the government. The south gained one victory after another. Lincoln, the man of great patience and determination became discouraged. Appearing as an act of Providence at a most needed time was the battle of Gettysburg. Lee was seeking to capture Washington and had crossed the Potomac with his army of Virginians and had joined in battle with the northern troops of General Meade. For three days the battle raged and though the blue lines wavered and fell back three different times, they did hold firm and Lee was forced to retreat, leaving 20,000 men killed and wounded on the battlefield. Lincoln immediately issued his Proclamation of Emancipation and stated that if the southern States did not cease firing and return their allegiance to the government, all slaves would be forever free on January 1, 1863.

When the battle ground at Gettysburg was dedicated to those brave men who died in battle, Lincoln made his famous ''Gettysburg Address,'' which is one of the greatest addresses in the English language, and which shall live as long as the English language is spoken. In his address Lincoln reiterated the basic principles in which he so firmly believed ''A nation conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. * * * and that government of the people by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.''

In 1863 Lincoln chose Grant as the general in command of the northern forces, since Grant had been victorious in the west. Grant planned to attack on all fronts and not let up pressure until all opposing forces were destroyed. While Grant was hammering Lee incessantly, Sherman was making his great march to the sea, capturing Atlanta and Savannah, thus breaking the backbone of the Confederate States. The pendulum of victory was swinging to the north.

In 1864 Lincoln was again nominated and re-elected President of the United States. In his second inaugural address 1865, Lincoln seeing that the war would shortly end in favor of the north, uttered these undying words, "With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nation's wounds; to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow, and his orphan—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves, and with all nations."

On April 9, 1865, Lee surrendered the southern army at the Appomatox Court House, Virginia, to Grant. The Civil War was ended and the southern army was beaten to exhaustion. Lincoln's great humanitarian qualities revealed themselves by the terms of surrender which he dictated. The terms were magnanimous. Lincoln said "Enough lives have been sacrificed, we must extinguish our resentments if we expect harmony and union."

On April 14, 1865, Lincoln went to Ford's Theatre to see the play "Our American Cousin." Edwin Booth a Southern sympathizer seeking vengeance, entered the box where Lincoln sat and placing his pistol to Lincoln's head, shot him. Lincoln never regained consciousness and died the following day, April 15th, 1865.

Lincoln gave his last full measure of devotion to save the Nation and to preserve the Union. He became a martyr to the cause of freedom. He freed the slaves, representing one-eighth of our total population. He had carried out his pledge to support the Constitution. He had fulfilled his objectives, that this Nation conceived in liberty would long endure, that all people are created free and equal, and that there should be no discrimination because of race, color or creed.

As Washington was the father of our country, Lincoln was its saviour.

Which motion was carried.

The Speaker announced that an oration commemorating the birthday of George Washington would be delivered by Assemblyman Thomas Hillery, of Morris County.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House of Assembly:

In the midst of our legislative duties we choose to pause again in this month of February to commemorate the birthday of another great American President. I am conscious, in doing so, that a real tribute was paid in this House by my colleague Mr. Cavinato to our immortal Lincoln; it was indeed an eloquent tribute.

I trust that I may, in small part, vitalize for you today our first President of the United States, George Washington.

The honor of this high office was bestowed upon him because he forged and wielded the great patriotic force which won for American Colonials freedom from an oppressing Crown and bestowed upon their and succeeding generations the blessings of democracy.

It should be significant to us as Legislators that he, in the course of his career, served as a member of the House of Burgesses in Virginia. It is equally interesting to note that he was not renowned for speech-making, and on one occasion arose to make a declaration, when shyness prevented him from doing so. The Speaker arose to the occasion and remarked: "Sit down, Mr. Washington, your modesty equals your valor, and that surpasses the power of any language I possess." This, in passing, that our worthy speaker, Mr. Brescher, may bear with our frailties and shortcomings. The policy followed by Washington as a member of the Legislature was to hold a strong interest in main issues and to let the small ones take care of themselves.

In commemorating the birth of this great American, it is of special interest to us that our State Capitol stands on hallowed ground, for here in this area where we work was fought the important battle of Trenton, a decisive battle in the struggle for freedom.

On Christmas night, 1776, Washington made his daring crossing of the Delaware River here below the Capitol and marched to Trenton, where he surprised and captured a garrison of Hessian soldiers who were feasting and celebrating. This victory boosted the waning morale of the Continental Army, and in many instances it is referred to as the turning point of the Revolution.

An imposing battle-monument upon which stands a majestic figure of Washington now marks the battle of Trenton. After this important battle Washington proceeded to Morristown where he established winter quarters for his troops.

Of Washington's early life and education, little of specific value is known. The boy's life was common to that of all Virginia families in good circumstances. It was comprised of some studies, hunting, fishing and generally fitted into the pattern of plantation life. It is not to be concealed nor is it considered derogatory in any sense, to state that his early education was defective. His early writings were edited in spelling, grammar, and rhetoric so as to destroy their value as evidence.

His first work in any field of endeavor was as a surveyor, and this was by appointment. He possessed the power of impressing others with a belief in his force of mind and character; this won him the rank of Major in the Virginia troops in the campaign of the French and Indian wars. When he was barely in his majority he was made commander of the northern military district of Virginia. This was an appointment by the presiding Lieutenant-Governor Dinwiddie. His military work showed a fierce energy, and this coupled with his natural ability as a horseman soon saw him commanding all of the Virginia Forces as its Commander and Chief.

At the height of his military career he resigned his office that he might marry Mrs. Daniel Parke Custis, a young and wealthy widow. He settled at Mount Vernon, an estate which he had inherited from his father through the death of his elder brother Lawrence.

Mount Vernon is perhaps the most charming of our National Shrines. Any one who has spent leisure summer hours inspecting this home which played such an important part in the early social life of our nation cannot help but realize how well our first President really loved life and how well he knew the art of living.

George Washington was a farmer; from his own writings we have: "Agriculture has ever been the favorite amusement of my life; I reflect how delightful to an undebauched mind is the task of working improvements upon the earth than is the glory acquired by ravaging it by a career of conquest." For twenty years he lived as a planter, enjoying the social life afforded him as a man of great estate. During this period he served many successive terms in the Legislature; in the course of this work he was educated to greatness by the increasing weight of his responsibilities and the manner in which he met and accepted them.

Washington was a prominent slave-owner as was every planter of standing in Virginia. I bring this before you to show that even at this early date the question of slavery was debatable, a question which reached the explosion point during the life of our beloved President Lincoln.

A movement was made to bring the question of Emancipation before the Maryland Assembly, and Washington said if the question were discussed that he would address a petition to that body favoring Emancipation. He lamented the continued practice of importing slaves into the colonies. When in later life his will was drawn, he provided that all of his slaves, upon his death, could have their freedom if it were established that they could provide for themselves.

Of his many great qualities his belief in religious tolerance was outstanding. It is part of our great heritage that he held this belief and helped embody it in our Bill of Rights.

At the outbreak of the Revolutionary war at Lexington and Concord, it was finally decided to put the colonies in a state of defense; John Adams of Massachusetts offered the name of George Washington as Commander-in-Chief of the Armed Forces of the United Colonies. Washington agreed to serve with two provisos; namely, that he receive no compensation, and secondly, that it would be understood that he accepted the post, not because he was fitted to command but because it was a duty.

I need not, I think, touch specifically upon the phases of his war career since these facts are known to all of us as basic education in democracy.

Perhaps interesting would be the comment of Thomas Jefferson: "He is a man incapable of fear, meeting personal dangers with the calmest unconcern." An officer on Washington's staff commented: "It is no wonder the men love their General very much but have one thing against him, the little care he takes of himself in battle."

It was such a man then who had the respect and held the morale of the soldiers who were starving and whose feet bled in the snow during that fateful winter at Valley Forge.

At the close of the war with the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown, the canonization of Washington had already begun. He was in a position in the American political system no man has ever held since. So fired were his men with this zeal that a plot was established to form a monarchy and offer him its rule. Historians tell us how alarmed and displeased he was with this plan; his own words bear this out: "They could not have found a person to whom their schemes were more disagreeable."

In appearance George Washington was remarkably tall, over six feet, erect and well proportioned. He gave the impression of strength, the proportion of his muscles and his joints appeared to be equal with the power of his mind. His countenance was serene, he had a majestic gracefulness of deportment which served to impart an impression of dignity and grandeur; these were his characteristics; no one could stand in his presence without being conscious of his wisdom, generosity, nobility and above all his patriotism.

It follows rightly, then, that this imposing figure has stood through generations of American history as a symbol and a bulwark of democratic belief. We know that George Washington was unanimously elected the first President of the United States and that he was re-elected unanimously to serve a second term, after which he refused to serve further. It is an established fact that the sudden success of the new system was due mainly to the existence at that time of such a character as Washington. His belief in the durability of democracy prompted him to turn it over to his compatriots to prove its doctrines.

In every country boasting a history there is a tendency to make its leaders supermen so that in place of humans we have demi-gods so stripped of human characteristics, to question whether they deserve much credit for their sacrifices and deeds; by such a process of canonization we lose more than we gain. I wish to impress upon you here, and I trust that my facts substantiate my claim, that George Washington above all else was human.

Perhaps no quality is more of an asset to a man in public office than his faculty of exercising good judgment. George Washington was discerning and penetrating, from the judicious choice he made generally of persons to fill public office, he possessed the two great requisites of a statesman, the faculty of concealing his own sentiments and of discovering the sentiments of other men. This is an observation of the diplomatist Thornton. It is, in my opinion, the greatest tribute paid to our beloved first President whose memory we venerate here today.

George Washington died without progeny; past, present and future generations of Americans are his sons and daughters; he is truly the father of his country. Thank you.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the General Assembly: August 16, 1948.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 112.

This bill represents a revision of the Americanization Act of 1907 (evening schools for foreign-born residents—R. S. 18:15–96 to 18:15–103). It would remove the present restrictions that the classes be held in the evening and that the enrollment be confined to foreign-born residents. It would broaden the scope of the courses to be offered. It provides a method whereby the Commissioner of Education may present to the Commissioner of Taxation and Finance the cost of operating the classes so that 50% of such cost (but not exceeding $5,000 for any one school district) shall be paid by the State.

The purpose of this bill is commendable but appropriations have not been made for the carrying out of that purpose. Furthermore, the various school districts benefit proportionately from the increased State aid provided by Chapter 64 of the Laws of 1948. Accordingly, and in keeping with the principle that the "open-end agreements" should be terminated, I am constrained to withhold my approval of this bill.

Respectfully,

JOHN M. SUMMERILL, JR.,
Acting Governor.

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 113, relating to retirements under the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund.

R. S. 18:13–68 provides four options at retirement as to receipt of benefits. Assembly Bill No. 113 would amend R. S. 18:13–68 so as to set forth a fifth option, as follows:

> "If he dies before he has received, in addition to his pension, sixty installments of his annuity, the remainder of such installments shall be paid as they become due to such person having an insurable interest in his life as he shall nominate by written designation, duly acknowledged and filed with the board of trustees; and if the person so nominated does not survive him or dies before all such installments have been paid, the remainder of such unpaid installments shall be commuted into one sum on the basis of interest at the regular rate per annum and paid to the legal representative of the last surviving payee."

I am advised, and believe, that the benefits set forth under proposed Option 5 may be granted under existing Option 4. Furthermore, the addition of proposed Option 5 would complicate the administration of the Fund. Thus, I am constrained to withhold my approval of the bill.

Respectfully,

JOHN M. SUMMERILL, JR.,
Acting Governor.

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 120, for the following reason:

This bill supplements Chapter 190 of the Laws of 1945.

Chapter 190 of the Laws of 1945 was repealed by Chapter 67 of the Laws of 1948 (the Banking Act of 1948).

Respectfully,

JOHN M. SUMMERILL, JR.,
Acting Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
August 16, 1948.

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 134.

This bill, like Assembly Bill No. 163 of 1947, would amend P. L. 1946, c. 135. Like the 1947 bill, it is designed primarily to make clear that certain school district employees in counties of the first class would be permitted to join the State Employees' Retirement System.

Assembly Bill No. 163 of 1947 was vetoed. The veto message contained the following pertinent statements:

> ". . . those school district employees in counties of the first class who have already taken advantage of the provisions of Article 16, Chapter 5, Title 18 of the Revised Statutes and have joined the pension plan above referred to in counties of the first class, would be discriminated against, in that they are not afforded the same privilege of joining the State Employees' Retirement System as would be afforded under this bill to those employees who have not entered the county pension system. Here it should be noted that the provisions of Article 16 above referred to require employees joining the county system to make up accrued liability payments at the time that they join such system. However, the accrued liability contribution prior to the effective date of adoption of the State Retirement System by the municipality, of persons joining the State Employees' Retirement System, is required to be paid by the municipality on behalf of such persons. In addition, this bill would not permit school district employees who are members of the county retirement system to change their membership to the State Retirement System under any circumstances."

Assembly Bill No. 134, as amended in the Senate, indicates a serious and considered effort to work out and overcome some of the difficulties encountered by last year's Assembly Bill No. 163. Unfortunately, however, Assembly Bill No. 134 does not meet the grounds of objection set forth in the veto message hereinabove quoted. Accordingly, I am constrained to withhold my approval of the bill.

Respectfully,

JOHN M. SUMMERILL, JR.,
Acting Governor.

Attest:
RANSFORD J. ABBOTT,
Secretary to the Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
August 16, 1948.

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 152.

The State Employees' Retirement System was established, pursuant to P. L. 1921, c. 109, on January 1, 1922. The "Heath Act" (P. L. 1921, c. 134) provided service and disability allowances for persons, not joining the State System, who were in the State's employ on January 1, 1921. (R. S. 43:5–1.) Assembly Bill No. 152 would amend R. S.

43:5–1 so as to change the January 1, 1921 to September 1, 1921. The bill's ostensible purpose is to remove an inequity, but the bill itself would provide an inequitable discrimination. It would discriminate improperly in favor of those who entered the State service between January 1, 1921, and September 1, 1921, and against those who entered such service between September 1, 1921 and January 1, 1922, on which latter date the State Employees' Retirement System was established.

Accordingly, I am unable to approve the bill.

Respectfully,

JOHN M. SUMMERILL, JR.,
Acting Governor.

Attest:
RANSFORD J. ABBOTT,
Secretary to the Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the General Assembly: August 16, 1948.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 201.

In a veto of Assembly Bill No. 159 of 1947, the Governor stated that the bill requires "the submission to the voters in counties or cities of the first class of the question of the adoption or rejection by the county or city of the provisions of the State Employees' Retirement System law, be signed by at least twenty-five per cent of the registered voters of such county or city. Employees of these counties or municipalities would thus be discriminated against. In view of the practical difficulty involved in obtaining so great a number of signatures, they would in effect be deprived of the right, which inures to employees in all other counties and municipalities of the State, of using the petition method of securing such referendum. . . ."

Assembly Bill No. 201 does not overcome the stated grounds of objection to Assembly Bill No. 159 of 1947; indeed, the instant bill's provisions would effect a more outright discrimination since they would entirely deprive employees of first class counties and municipalities of any opportunity to bring about a referendum through the petition method. Accordingly, I am constrained to withhold my approval of the bill.

Respectfully,

JOHN M. SUMMERILL, Jr.,
Acting Governor.

Attest:
Ransford J. Abbott,
Secretary to the Governor.

State of New Jersey,
Executive Department,
To the General Assembly: August 16, 1948.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 280.

The bill would amend sections 40:37–159, 40:37–162, 40:37–163, 40:37–164, 40:37–165, 40:37–166 and 40:37–167 of the Revised Statutes, concerning the fund and benefits therefrom under a county park police pension system. The body of the bill would not establish county parks or supplement our Revised Statutes but would be amendatory, only, of the indicated sections, yet the bill's title reads: "An act to establish public parks in certain counties in this State and to regulate the same, and supplementing Title 40 and amending sections 40:37–159, . . ." etc. Thus, the bill's title is defective.

More to the merits is the fact that although the bill would increase the amount of the fund members' contributions it would enlarge the benefits, in various respects, to an extent that the increased employee contributions might well be absorbed or exceeded and the fund rendered less sound than at the present time.

For the reasons assigned, I am constrained to withhold my approval of this bill.

Respectfully,

JOHN M. SUMMERILL, Jr.,
Acting Governor.

I am herewith returning, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 282 for the following reasons:

The object intended by this bill is incorporated in Assembly Bill No. 291, which I approved on August 9, 1948 and which is now Chapter 304 of the Laws of 1948.

Respectfully,

JOHN M. SUMMERILL, JR.,

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 395 which was drawn to correct an error in the title of P. L. 1947, c. 382. (An act providing for reimbursement to municipalities for loss of tax revenue due to the taking over of land for park purposes.) The identical correction, together with other and substantive changes, is made by Assembly Bill No. 286 which became P. L. 1948, c. 271. Accordingly, I withhold my approval of Assembly Bill No. 395.

Respectfully,

JOHN M. SUMMERILL, JR.,

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the General Assembly: August 16, 1948.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 401.

This bill would fix fees to be charged for the filing, indexing, entering or recording of designated documents and papers in the office of the county clerk, the clerk of the circuit court and the common pleas court.

The fees now charged for most of the items covered by Assembly Bill No. 401 are set forth in R. S. 22:2–18 and 22:2–19, but the bill is not in the form of an amendment of the two indicated sections; instead, the bill sets forth proposed new fees to be charged "in lieu of the fees heretofore provided." Thus, the bill does not show in the introduction copy (by brackets and underscorings, as would have been required had the measure been amendatory in form), the amounts of the present fees as compared with the proposed new fees. Such a comparison, when made, reveals that while Assembly Bill No. 401 would leave a few fees unchanged it would increase other fees exorbitantly—and in many instances by 100%; in two instances by 900%, and in another instance by 2400%.

The "Statement" on Assembly Bill No. 401 points out that there has been no change in the covered fees since 1926 and that "the cost of supplies, services and maintenance of the office of county clerks has risen considerably since the last statute affecting fees became effective." Under the circumstances, certain reasonable increases might be in order but I find no justification for amounts of increase proposed in the instant measure.

Respectfully,

JOHN M. SUMMERILL, Jr.,
Acting Governor.

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No 447.

This bill authorizes the State Department of Health to purchase, store and distribute biologicals, including serum albumin, and drugs in certain cases; to apply for and accept, on behalf of the State, Federal funds made available for the purpose; and to expend, for the purpose, such sums as shall be appropriated by law or otherwise made available.

Except as to serum albumin, which has been used in the treatment of nephrosis, the subject matter of sections 1 and 2 of Assembly Bill No. 447 is covered by existing law. (P. L. 1947, c. 177, sections 34 and 36; P. L. 1942, c. 148, as amended by P. L. 1947, c. 323.) The current Appropriation Act—P. L. 1948, c. 177—carries an appropriation, to the Department of Health, of $35,000.00 for biologicals and antibotics, but the appropriation contemplates the furnishing, free, of these biologicals and antibiotics for use in preventing or treating communicable diseases. And I am advised by high medical and public health authority that the cost of serum albumin for a child with nephrosis varies from $500 to $1,500; that the true cause of nephrosis is not known and the disease is not considered communicable; that serum albumin is only occasionally clinically helpful in such cases and is not a specific cure; that one of our great hospitals, in Philadelphia, has discontinued the use of serum albumin; and that despite its use in cases of nephrosis the proportion of fatal results is high.

Accordingly, I am constrained to withhold my approval of this bill.

Respectfully,

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the General Assembly: August 16, 1948.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 489.

The Corporate Franchise Tax Act of 1945 (P. L. 1945, c. 162) provided a special allocation formula for a "regulated investment company" with a proviso that the minimum percentage of net worth taxable shall be 10% of the total net worth. The 1945 act defined "regulated investment company" as one which is "registered and regulated under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (54 Stat. 789, as amended) and meets the requirements of and is taxable under 'Supplement Q' of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 1, 98, as amended)."

I am advised that in 1946 not more than twenty companies reported, in New Jersey, as "regulated investment companies'' taxable under Supplement Q, and that in no instance did the taxable net worth (resulting from the special allocation formula) exceed the minimum of 10%.

In 1947, the Commission on State Tax Policy recommended, and the Legislature enacted, an amendment of P. L. 1945, c. 162, which amendment removed the special category of ''regulated investment company.'' Under the 1947 amendment (P. L. 1947, c. 50) the taxable net worth of each taxpayer qualifying and electing to report as an ''investment company'' was fixed at 25% of total net worth.

Assembly Bill No. 489 would reestablish the special classification of ''regulated investment company'' and would define such company as ''any corporation which . . . is registered and regulated under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (54 Stat. 789, as amended). Thus, the bill's classification would include a number of investment companies which would not have qualified as taxable under Supplement Q within the definition of ''regulated investment company'' contained in P. L. 1945, c. 162.

Assembly Bill No. 489, as introduced, proposed to fix the rate of tax for a ''regulated investment company'' at 15% of its net worth, but the bill as amended reduced the figure to 10%. I am advised that this 10% rate would result in a tax loss to the State of some $30,000 in the first year of operation. For this reason, and under the circumstances, I am constrained to withhold my approval of the bill.

Respectfully,

JOHN M. SUMMERILL, Jr.,
Acting Governor.

State of New Jersey,
Executive Department,
To the General Assembly: August 16, 1948.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 505, for the following reason:

This bill would permit banks of other States to act as a trustee under non-testamentary trusts established by trust instruments executed in this State and where the business of the trust is being transacted in this State.

New Jersey being situated between two large cities of great commercial importance, the banks of New Jersey are peculiarly exposed to the competition of foreign banks. Our New Jersey banks pay substantial taxes, much higher proportionately than those paid by foreign banks transacting business in this State. In my judgment, New Jersey banks should be reasonably protected against undue competition within the State.

Respectfully,

JOHN M. SUMMERILL, JR.,
Acting Governor.

RANSFORD J. ABBOTT,
Secretary to the Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the General Assembly: August 16, 1948.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 514.

This bill would provide for the purchase by the State, of an electrical roll call and page call system for the General Assembly chamber, and would make an appropriation therefor.

I am informed that the bill would effect no financial benefit to the State. In my judgment, and with particular thought to the limitations as to available State funds, the preferable course is to continue at this time the existing rental arrangement. Thus, I am constrained to withhold my approval of the bill.

Respectfully,

JOHN M. SUMMERILL, JR.,
Acting Governor.

Attest:
RANSFORD J. ABBOTT,
Secretary to the Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the General Assembly: August 16, 1948.

Pursuant to Article V, Section 1, Paragraph 14 (b) of the State Constitution, I am returning herewith, for reconsideration and with my objections, Assembly Bill No. 435.

The bill authorizes the establishment of an eight-hour day and forty-hour week for "uniformed members of any paid police department in any municipality of this State, uniformed members of any county police department having supervision and regulation of traffic upon county roads, uniformed members of any county park police system, and inspectors of motor vehicles of the Department of Motor Vehicles of this State."

As to municipal police, the designated work week is to be established by ordinance; as to members of county police departments, by resolution of the board of freeholders; as to county park police, by resolution of the park police commission; and as to State motor vehicle inspectors, by the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles. If the municipal ordinance or county board's resolution so provides, the question of adoption of the ordinance or resolution, as the case may be, is to be submitted to the voters at a referendum.

The establishment of a forty-hour week for policemen will naturally result in less police coverage unless additional policemen are employed. In the case of the establishment, pursuant to this bill, of a forty-hour week for municipal or county police, those responsible for the shortened work week will be responsible for securing additional funds for additional personnel. With respect to State motor vehicle inspectors, however, the situation is otherwise. The bill authorizes the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles to establish a forty-hour week, yet the Commissioner has no power or responsibility regarding additional funds for additional personnel nor is any provision made therefor by appropriation. Furthermore, the bill applies to no State enforcement officers except motor vehicle inspectors. If a forty-hour week is deemed proper for State motor vehicle inspectors then, in the absence of any demonstrated distinction, as to hours of work, between such inspectors and other State enforcement officers whose duties are similar and generally comparable, the bill appears to authorize an improper discrimination.

Accordingly, I return Assembly Bill No. 435 for reconsideration, with the recommendation that the bill be amended so as to delete therefrom reference to State motor vehicle inspectors, and more specifically, in the Second Official Copy Reprint:

1. To amend the Title so as to make it conclude with the words "county park police system."

2. Page 1, section 1, lines 4 and 5, to strike out: "and inspectors of motor vehicles of the Department of Motor Vehicles of this State;".

3. Page 1, section 1, line 9, to strike out: "or the Department of Motor Vehicles".

4. Page 2, section 2, line 5, to change the comma to a period after the words "such county"; and, in lines 6 and 7 to strike out: "and in respect to motor vehicle inspectors until adopted by the promulgation of a rule by the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles."

Respectfully,

JOHN M. SUMMERILL, JR.,
Acting Governor.

Attest:
RANSFORD J. ABBOTT,
Secretary to the Governor.

"No such game of chance shall be held, operated or conducted unless the license to hold, operate and conduct the same shall be first approved by the State Athletic Commissioner. The State Athletic Commissioner shall have and exercise direct control and supervision over all such games of chance. He may from time to time make and enforce such rules and regulations for the holding, operating and conducting of such games of chance as shall be necessary and proper for the effective administration of this act, and may prescribe and enforce penalties for the violation thereof. He shall have the power and authority to disapprove any such license and to suspend or revoke any such license previously approved by him, after hearing and for cause.

"Within twenty-four hours after the conclusion of the holding, operating and conducting of any such game of chance, the organization which held, operated and conducted the same, and its officers, directors, managers, agents and employees who were in charge of such holding, operating and conducting of said game of chance, shall furnish to the State Athletic Commissioner, at such place as he may prescribe, a duly verified written report of the exact number of persons who participated in the said game of chance and of the exact amount of the gross proceeds thereof and such other matters as the commissioner may prescribe, and shall also, within the said time, pay to the commissioner, at such place as he may prescribe, a tax of ten per centum (10%) of the total gross receipts from the holding, operating and conducting of said game of chance, which tax is hereby imposed upon the gross receipts of any and all such games of chance. The commissioner shall forthwith pay all such taxes received by him into the State treasury. All such taxes so received and paid into the State treasury shall be apportioned between the State and the municipality wherein the said game of chance was held, operated and conducted, upon the ratio of seventy-five per centum (75%) to the State and twenty-five per centum (25%) to the said municipality. The State Treasurer shall pay to the municipalities, entitled to any such proportionate share, the amount thereof in the calendar year following the year in which the same was received, but may, in his discretion, make such payments from time to time prior to such succeeding calendar year.

"The term 'gross receipts' shall mean all moneys received by the organization from the holding, operating and conducting of any such game of chance, including receipts from the sale of tickets permitting the holder to participate in the said game and from participants in said game for the privilege of participating therein, or from any person, whether a participant or not, who contributes to the prize or prizes to be won in the game; and the term 'net receipts' shall mean the amount of the difference between the gross receipts and such amounts as are required to be paid for license fees to hold, operate and conduct said games of chance. The term 'proceeds' shall be equivalent to 'receipts.'

"All such licenses shall be for a period of one year subject to suspension or revocation, and the municipality may by its said ordinance impose a license fee therefor, payable to the municipality, which license fee may be for revenue.

"The State Athletic Commissioner shall have the power to examine or cause to be examined the books and records of any such organization holding, operating and conducting said games of chance, and to examine, under oath, any officer, director, manager, agent or employee of any such organization for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of taxes due under this act. The provisions of subtitle 9 of Title 54 of the Revised Statutes, being the State Tax Uniform Procedure Law, shall be applicable to this act in respect to the procedure to be followed in the collection of any of the taxes which shall become payable under this act.

"The rules and regulations prescribed by the State Athletic Commissioner under the provisions of this act shall be filed with the Secretary of State."

WHEREAS, This public announcement by the Investigations Commissioner seriously reflects upon the integrity of the law enforcement officials of this State and has cast a serious blemish upon the officials directly charged with the duty of law enforcement; and

WHEREAS, It is essential that the information now in the possession of the Investigations Commissioner should be turned over to proper officials who will cooperate with the law enforcement authority of the City and County of New York, so that organized gambling may be wiped out in the State of New Jersey;

Mr. Mehorter offered the following resolution, which was read by the Clerk and adopted by a standing vote:

Resolved, That the House of Assembly take this opportunity to express to the Honorable Joseph L. Brescher, its Speaker, the sincere appreciation of its members for the fair, dignified and thoroughly impartial manner in which he has presided over its deliberations during the session of 1948, and that the House congratulate him upon the careful and painstaking manner in which he has conducted its affairs, whereby the business has been disposed of in a methodical manner, with regard and respect for the interest of the members in pending legislation, and with a high purpose to serve the best interests of the State. His eminent fitness to preside, his kindly consideration and thoughtfulness have made him a place in the affections of the entire membership of this House; they wish him long life and prosperity and hope that the future holds for him higher honors.

Mr. Mehorter presented the Speaker, Honorable Joseph L. Brescher, with a gavel as a token of appreciation from the House of Assembly.

Mr. Brescher offered the following resolution, which was read by the Clerk and adopted:

WHEREAS, The Honorable Thomas M. Muir, dean of the House of Assembly, has been seriously ill; and

WHEREAS, Assemblyman Muir has been a member of this House for more than 25 years, a record unequalled in the history of the New Jersey Legislature; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Muir has rendered outstanding service in the Legislature and in the many other civic enterprises in which he has engaged; therefore,

Be It Resolved, That the members of the House of Assembly express to Assemblyman Muir their sincere regret at his illness, assure him that his wit and wisdom have been greatly missed, and extend to him our best wishes for a speedy recovery; and

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, signed by the Speaker and attested by the Clerk, be forwarded to Assemblyman Muir.

Mr. Brescher resumed the Chair.

Mr. Mehorter moved that the House recess for 15 minutes, during which time the committee of three appointed by the Speaker would wait upon the Governor.

Which motion was adopted.

Upon the committee's return the House was called to order, and the following communication was sent to the desk and read by the Clerk:

Acting Governor Summerill has asked me to convey to you his appreciation for the splendid cooperation which you have given during this session and to give you this message:

"This has been the most important session of the Legislature in the history of New Jersey. Your constructive accomplishments in implementing the great work of the New Brunswick Constitutional Convention will bear fruit for years to come. The members of this Legislature have been privileged to participate in an historic epoch which will enhance the well-being of all of our citizens for generations. In later years every member will rejoice in his participation in these accomplishments.

"I know Governor Alfred E. Driscoll appreciates the spirit of cooperation manifested by the members in carrying out his program."

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, as follows, and was read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
October 30, 1948.

To the Senate and General Assembly:

On this historic occasion of the first special session of the Legislature convened pursuant to the Constitution, without petition or call, for the sole purpose of acting upon bills returned by the Governor, I wish to express to you all my sincere appreciation for your adoption of many constructive laws during the regular session which was adjourned forty-five days ago (excluding Sundays).

In the discharge of my Constitutional function of reviewing bills passed by the Legislature, I have been sensitive to the proper balance of responsibility between the legislative and executive branches of our State Government. I have indeed deemed it a privilege to affix my signature by way of approval to the great number of outstanding legislative enactments which you have presented to me.

The legislative session was not an easy one. The trying problems of administrative reorganization of the executive branch, of an epochal adjustment of all the laws relating to the organization and structure of the new court system, were in themselves events unprecedented in character and scope in the history of New Jersey. These two tasks alone, which are in fact all but completed, would have made a memorable session. I am tempted to review with you the many other unusual legislative accomplishments of that session, but I shall reserve that for another time.

In returning to you today some 29 bills, from which I have been constrained to withhold approval, I do so not without a sense of the difficulties of arriving at acceptable legislation on the many problems, some of them unbelievably complicated, which are faced by the Legislature in these times. It has indeed been no small undertaking to give careful consideration to the bills before me. Of the total of 521 bills and 13 joint resolutions passed during your session this year, it has been necessary because of technical defects, constitutional questions, or need for further consideration of the legislative policy, to return 49 bills.

In a number of instances, I am in complete agreement with the objectives sought to be accomplished by the Legislature, and have so indicated in the statements of reasons for withholding approval. Wherever possible, I have preferred to suggest specific amendments under the new Constitutional procedure which permits amendment and re-enactment of bills upon such recommendation. In my judgment, among the bills that are returned to you today, a number may properly be reconsidered in your discretion during the next session of the Legislature. Further study will, I am sure, lead us to a proper manner of achieving their objectives in the public interest.

Respectfully submitted,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, as follows, and was read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,

To the General Assembly:

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 53

Pursuant to Article V, Section 1, Paragraph 14 (b) of the State Constitution, I am returning herewith, for reconsideration and with my objections, Assembly Bill No. 53.

Section 3 of this bill continues the procedure in effect prior to September 15, 1948, with respect to applications for executions against wages and earnings of judgment debtors. This section provides in part that no notice of application for an order directing the issuance of an execution against the wages and earnings of the judgment debtor need be given to the judgment debtor.

Although many judges in the past have not been disposed to grant such applications without notice to judgment debtors, I am of the opinion that we should have an affirmative rule, in the interest of fair play, requiring such notice. In this respect it should be noticed that Rule 3:69–3 of the Rules of Civil Practice, promulgated by the Supreme Court on September 18, 1948, provides such affirmative requirement, i.e., "by motion on notice to the judgment debtor, unless the court otherwise orders."

A requirement that notice of the application be given to the judgment debtor could in many instances bring about speedy settlements of judgments. It would also eliminate, in many instances, the possibility of judgment debtors losing their employment by reason of executions against their wages made without their knowledge and without opportunity to settle or adjust the matter.

Accordingly, I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 53 for reconsideration, with the recommendation that amendments to the Second Official Copy Reprint of the bill be made as follows:

On page 2, section 3, line 7, after the word "may" insert the words "by motion".

On page 2, section 3, line 8, after the word "application" delete the words "no notice need be given to the judgment debtor," and insert in lieu thereof the following: "notice shall be given to the judgment debtor, unless the court otherwise orders,".

On page 2, section 5, lines 1 and 2, delete the words "September fifteenth, one thousand nine hundred and forty-eight" and insert in lieu thereof the word "immediately".

Respectfully submitted,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.

To the General Assembly:

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 54

I am herewith returning, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 54, for the following reasons:

This bill would amend the provisions of law relating to the taking of appeals from judgments, in workmen's compensation cases, rendered by the workmen's compensation bureau.

I am advised that a measure to accomplish the principal purpose of Assembly Bill No. 54, i.e., to provide for direct appeals from these decisions to the Appellate Division of the Superior Court, was, in the first instance, proposed by the new State Supreme Court. I am in wholehearted accord with this laudable objective. I have on numerous occasions stated that a more expeditious method of review should be provided with respect to these matters, free from the present cumbersome and expensive duplication of appeals.

However, as finally drafted and adopted, Assembly Bill No. 54 would require what in effect amounts to a trial de novo in these proceedings in the Appellate Division. There does not appear to be any valid basis for differentiating the method of review by the Appellate Division in these cases from that provided with respect to determinations of all other State administrative agencies. In this respect, it should be noted that provisions for a comprehensive review of the final decision or action of any such administrative agency, by direct appeal to the Appellate Division, are made by Rules 3:81–8 to 3:81–14, inclusive, of the Rules of Civil Practice promulgated by the Supreme Court on September 15. In fact, Rule 3:81–13 provides:

> "In proceedings authorized by Rule 3:81 the court shall have power to review the facts and make independent findings thereon, which power may be exercised by it to such extent as the interests of justice may require."

For these reasons, I am constrained to return this bill without my approval.

Further, I shall recommend to the 173rd Legislature that it review the entire matter and adopt legislation amending the pertinent provisions of the workmen's compensation law along the lines indicated herein.

Respectfully submitted,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.

To the General Assembly:

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 79

Pursuant to Article V, Section I Paragraph 14 (b) of the State Constitution, I am returning herewith, for reconsideration and with my objections, Assembly Bill No. 79.

This bill would in effect broaden the list of causes in which appeals from final judgments may be taken to the Supreme Court under the provisions of Paragraph 1 of Section V of Article VI of the new State Constitution. It would permit, in any proceeding involving the writ of habeas corpus, the taking of an appeal from the final decision of the Appellate Division of the Superior Court to the Supreme Court.

Under the constitutional provisions above referred to and the Rules of the Supreme Court, appeals to the Supreme Court may now be taken: (1) in causes, including habeas corpus proceedings, determined by the Appellate Division of the Superior Court involving a question arising under the Constitution of the United States or of this State; (2) in causes, including habeas corpus proceedings, where there is a dissent in the Appellate Division of the Superior Court; (3) in capital causes; and (4) on certification by the Supreme Court to the Superior Court, or to the County Court where the court of its own motion certifies the cause for appeal.

It would seem that before broadening these extensive constitutional provisions, a reasonable period of time should be afforded for a thorough study of their operation not only with respect to habeas corpus matters but with respect to all proceedings.

Accordingly, I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 79 for reconsideration, with the recommendation that amendments to the Official Copy Reprint of the bill be made as follows:

On page 1, section 1, lines 6 and 7, delete the following sentence: "The final decision of the Appellate Division of the Superior Court thereon may be appealed to the Supreme Court."

On page 1, section 3, lines 1 and 2, delete the words "September fifteenth, one thousand nine hundred and forty-eight" and insert in lieu thereof the word "immediately".

Committee Substitute for Assembly Bill No. 371

I am herewith returning, without my approval, Committee Substitute for Assembly Bill No. 371. Despite the fact that I am in complete accord with the meritorious objective of the bill, I am compelled to take this action for the following reason:

This bill carries an appropriation of $100,000.00 for the purpose of alleviating the conditions occasioned by the overflow of Weasel brook in the cities of Passaic and Clifton. Under the provisions of Article VIII, Section II, Paragraph 2 of the State Constitution, before any bill carrying an appropriation can become effective it must bear a certification by the Governor that the appropriation contained in the bill, together with all prior appropriations made for the same fiscal period, do not exceed the total amount of revenue on hand and anticipated which will be available to meet such appropriations during such fiscal period. I am advised by the State Division of Budget and Accounting that, under present fiscal conditions, the certification required for this bill by the Constitution cannot be made. If Article VIII, Section II, Paragraph 2 of our new Constitution is to serve any useful purpose it must be strictly construed. A liberal construction, based upon an illusory hope of revenues that may be collected although not anticipated at the time the budget was adopted, would make the section meaningless.

On July 16, 1948, I approved Assembly 358, now Chapter 239 of the Pamphlet Laws of 1948. This legislation authorized two or more municipalities by ordinance to establish a joint Municipal Commission, whose task it is to alleviate flood conditions and to prevent floods within the muncipalities covered by the Commission. I am today recommending that those municipalities confronted with serious flood problems proceed with the organization of the Commission, pursuant to Chapter 239 of the Pamphlet Laws of 1948, with the assurance that out of current appropriations and within the present operation of the Department of Conservation, appropriate assistance will be made available so that the necessary studies may be initiated immediately. This cooperative arrangement between the State and the new Commission should materially reduce the cost involved. It will also permit an immediate start to be made upon the program in which we are vitally interested.

Respectfully submitted,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.

To the General Assembly:

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 420

I am herewith returning, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 420, for the following reasons:

This bill would permit a committee on vacancies to be named in any petition nominating a candidate for commissioner in commission government municipalites. The purpose of the bill is to permit such a committee to fill any vacancy occurring in the nomination by reason of death, resignation or otherwise, although the language is ambiguous.

The bill raises the whole question of the operation of non-partisan elections in commission government. While the general election law provides for a vacancy committee with power to fill vacancies in a nomination in the case of partisan elections, the provision of this bill for a vacancy committee to function in a non-partisan election is contrary to the spirit of both the commission form of government law and the council-manager law requiring a non-partisan ballot. The bill poses a problem in the organization and structure of local government which this Legislature has committed, by Joint Resolution No. 1, to the commission on municipal government, which is expected to report shortly. For this reason, it would seem desirable to withhold action on this type of legislation until the commission's report has been examined.

I am accordingly constrained to withhold my approval from this bill.

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.

To the General Assembly:

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 466

I am herewith returning, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 466, for the following reasons:

This bill would authorize the board of commissioners of any municipality governed under the commission form of government law and having a population of from 35,000 to 90,000, to increase, by ordinance, the annual compensation of the mayor to not more than $6,000 and the annual compensation of each commissioner, to not more than $5,000.

If this bill were approved, inequitable situations may very well result wherein the mayor and other commissioners of certain municipalities governed under the commission form of government law and having in excess of 90,000 population would receive a lesser amount in salary than the mayor and other commissioners in municipalities governed under the commission form of government law and having between 35,000 to 90,000 population. For example, under existing law the basic salary of the mayor and the basic salary of the other members of the commission of a municipality (other than cities of the fourth class) governed under the commission form of government law and having a population of over 130,000 and up to 200,000 is as follows: up to $5,500 per annum for the mayor; and up to $5,000 per annum for each commissioner. Further, in such commission form of government municipalities having a population of over 90,000 and up to 130,000, the basic salaries are as follows: up to $5,500 per annum for the mayor; and up to $5,000 per annum for each commissioner.

Pursuant to Joint Resolution No. 1 of the current legislative session, there has been constituted a Commission on Municipal Government. This commission is presently engaged in studying the structure of local government in New Jersey, including appropriate provision for the payment of salaries to those elected members of local governing bodies. It is anticipated that a preliminary report will be received from this commission in the very near future. Under the circumstances it would seem advisable for this reason, and entirely apart from those cited above, to defer action on this important subject, particularly action of a piecemeal character, until after the Legislature has received the report of the commission created by it.

Because of the inequitable possibilities of the present bill, if it were to become a law, and for the reason last cited, I am constrained to return this bill without my approval, with the understanding that this subject should be considered shortly after the convening of the 173rd Legislature.

Respectfully submitted,

To the General Assembly:

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 468

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, Paragraph 14 (b) of the State Constitution, I am returning herewith for reconsideration and with my objections, Assembly Bill No. 468.

This bill would permit any employee of any school district in the State who was or is a member of the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund, and who has ceased or shall cease to be an employee of such school district and who has taken or shall take office, position or employment in the service of any municipality or county in the State, which has not adopted the provisions of subtitle two of Title 43 of the Revised Statutes, to, upon application to the retirement system or pension fund of the municipality or county, appropriate to his office, position or employment, become a member of such retirement system or pension fund.

The reference in the bill to the provisions of subtitle two of Title 43 of the Revised Statutes is obviously erroneous. I am advised that the reference intended was to the provisions of Chapter 15 of Title 43 of the Revised Statutes.

Accordingly, I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 468 for reconsideration, with the recommendation that amendment to the Second Official Copy Reprint of the bill be made as follows:

> On page 1, section 1, lines 5 and 6, delete the words "subtitle two" and insert in lieu thereof the words "Chapter 15".

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 491

I am herewith returning, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 491, for the following reason:

This bill proposes, among other things, to amend Section 23:4–48 of the Revised Statutes. Amendments to the same section, excluding that proposed by Assembly Bill No. 491, are included among those provisions of Senate Bill No. 29 which relate to the State Fish and Game Code. Senate Bill No. 29 is now Chapter 448 of the Laws of 1948.

I am advised that if Assembly Bill No. 491 were to be approved by me, its proposed amendment of R. S. 23:4–48 would be automatically repealed on April 1, 1949, the date when the provisions of Senate Bill No. 29 relating to the State Fish and Game Code will become effective.

I am therefore constrained to withhold my approval from this measure.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 524

I am herewith returning, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 524 for the following reasons:

This bill would permit the governing body of a municipality which has adopted the provisions of Chapter 255 of the Laws of 1944 (the new Police and Firemen's Retirement System) to grant an annual pension to any police officer of the municipality, who has served as such for ten or more years, and who has or shall have attained the age of 65 years or who has or shall have become permanently disabled, and who has relinquished his right to become a member of the Police and Firemen's Retirement System of New Jersey, with the consent of the governing body of the municipality, prior to the adoption of chapter 255 of the Laws of 1944 by the municipality. The amount of the pension would be fixed by the governing body of the municipality at not more than one-half of the applicant's salary at the time of his retirement.

The primary task in this field should be the strengthening of existing pension programs. However, entirely apart from this task, this bill would re-establish the old process of independent action. Experience has indicated that this would in a great many instances be followed by financial inability to meet requirements and demands for further State rescue.

I am therefore constrained to withhold my approval from this measure.

ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 532

I am herewith returning, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 532, for the following reasons:

This bill is a mandatory salary increase measure. It would increase the present statutory salary of the deputy commissioners of compensation from $8,500 per annum to $12,000 per annum. By schedules adopted by the Civil Service Commission, such deputy commissioners of compensation now receive $9,000 per annum. The bill would also increase the salary of referees in compensation from a range of $3,600 to $4,500 per annum, to $6,500 per annum. It would also increase the compensation of settlement referees in compensation from $6,000 per annum to $8,000 per annum. It is noted that the legislation does not become effective until July 1, 1949.

A general salary bill prescribing the compensation of heads of the new principal departments and division directors therein has not as yet been adopted. It would seem that any review of salaries of the deputy commissioners of compensation proposed to be affected by this bill should await the establishment of a general salary policy, including the determination of the salary of the Director of the Division of Workmen's Compensation in the new principal Department of Labor and Industry.

This entire subject should be studied prior to July 1, 1949, and appropriate provision for any increases that may be granted as a result of the study, made in the 1949-1950 budget.

To the General Assembly:

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 561

I am herewith returning, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 561, for the following reasons:

This bill, like Assembly Bill No. 163 of 1947, would amend chapter 135 of the Laws of 1946. Like the 1947 bill, it is designed primarily to make clear that certain school district employees in counties of the first class would be permitted to join the State Employees' Retirement System. Assembly Bill No. 163 of 1947 was filed by me in the State Library, without my approval. The message accompanying the filing of said bill contained the following pertinent statements:

> "... those school district employees in counties of the first class who have already taken advantage of the provisions of article 16, chapter 5, Title 18 of the Revised Statutes and have joined the pension plan above referred to in counties of the first class, would be discriminated against, in that they are not afforded the same privilege of joining the State Employees' Retirement System as would be afforded under this bill to those employees who have not entered the county pension system. Here it should be noted that the provisions of article 16 above referred to require employees joining the county system to make up accrued liability payments at the time that they join such system. However, the accrued liability contribution prior to the effective date of adoption of the State Retirement System by the municipality, of persons joining the State Employees' Retirement System, is required to be paid by the municipality on behalf of such persons. In addition, this bill would not permit school district employees who are members of the county retirement system to change their membership to the State Retirement System under any circumstances."

Assembly Bill No. 561, as Assembly Bill No. 134 of 1948, which was returned without approval on August 16th last, indicates a serious and considered effort to work out and overcome some of the difficulties encountered by last year's Assembly Bill No. 163. Unfortunately, however, Assembly Bill No. 561 does not meet the grounds of objection set forth in the message hereinabove quoted. Accordingly, I am constrained to withhold my approval from this bill.

Respectfully submitted,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.

R. J. ABBOTT,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Mehorter moved that Assembly Bill No. 561 lie over.

Which motion was adopted.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, as follows, and was read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
October 30, 1948.

To the General Assembly:

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 564

I am herewith returning, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 564, for the following reasons:

This bill would appropriate the sum of $30,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1948, to the commission created pursuant to chapter 192 of the Laws of 1941. The bill would also constitute such commission a bureau in the Division of Planning and Development of the State Department of Economic Development.

This bill is in conflict with the provisions of Article IV, Section VII, Paragraph 4 of the State Constitution which requires that "every law shall embrace but one object, and that shall be expressed in the title." The two objects of this bill are specifically set forth in its title. These are: to supplement the annual appropriation law for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1949; and to provide that the commission to which the appropriation is made shall be a bureau in the Division of Planning and Development in the State Department of Economic Development.

The bill is further defective in that it would constitute the commission to which the appropriation is proposed to be made "a Bureau in the Division of Planning and Development of the State Department of Economic Development." There exists no such division in the State Department of Economic Development.

In addition, the bill is in conflict with the annual appropriation law for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1949 (chapter 117 of the Laws of 1948). In that law an appropriation is made to the Division Against Discrimination in the State Department of Education for the purpose of carrying out "the functions now being performed by the Commission on Urban Colored Population."

Further, under the provisions of Article VIII, Section II, Paragraph 2 of the State Constitution, before any bill carrying an appropriation can become effective it must bear a certification by the Governor that the appropriation contained in the bill, together with all prior appropriations made for the same fiscal period, do not exceed the total amount of revenue on hand and anticipated which will be available to meet such appropriations during such fiscal period. I am advised by the State Division of Budget and Accounting that under present fiscal conditions the certification required for this bill by the Constitution cannot be made. In the meantime, I am confident that within the Executive Branch we can find a solution to the problem with which this legislation is concerned.

For these reasons, I am constrained to withhold my approval from this bill.

Respectfully submitted,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.
