The Atlantic City Revitalization Grant Program is a pilot initiative aimed at addressing the negative economic impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic and contributing to the revitalization of Atlantic City. The program will be administered in multiple phases. Phase 1 of the program is funded with $19.65 million from the American Rescue Plan (ARP) Coronavirus State and Local Fiscal Recovery Funds (SLFRF) and is designed to support capital projects that enhance the city's neighborhoods and communities. The program provides grants to for-profit and non-profit entities responsible for overseeing real estate development projects in Atlantic City. Minimum grant award is $1 million, and the maximum is $10 million, covering up to 50% of the costs for eligible projects, which include new construction for commercial use, renovation or restoration of vacant buildings, and public infrastructure improvements.

The primary purpose of the Atlantic City Revitalization Grant Program is to proactively address the negative economic impacts of the pandemic by investing in projects that demonstrate an ability to cultivate the environment and neighborhoods necessary to attract and retain a local workforce, enable business creation and tourism, enhance downtown vitality, support clean and safe initiatives, address food insecurity issues, and buttress social impact supports for the community at large.

The rationale behind the program is to stimulate real estate projects that bolster economic development initiatives, resulting in stronger communities and revitalized neighborhoods. By providing financial support to municipalities disproportionately impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic, the program aims to promote economic growth and community wealth building in Atlantic City. The program also seeks to address persistent economic challenges such as high unemployment rates, limited access to essential amenities, and food insecurity.

After a number of transactions, i.e. appropriations, reallocations, and withdrawals, to include an amendment to the agreement between the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs, NJEDA, and the Atlantic City Revitalization Grant Program available funding for the program was reduced to ~$15 million as of June 12, 2025.

Following EDA Board approval in December 2024, Phase 2 of the program reopened for real estate development projects aimed at revitalizing Atlantic City post-COVID-19 by providing support up to 50% of the costs for capital projects located within Atlantic City, with a minimum award of $250,000 and the maximum award of $2.5 million. Applications were accepted starting February 7, 2025 and the Program closed on May 18, 2026. Phase 2 is also under monitorship.
