9. Confidentiality: I acknowledge that the terms of this Agreement, and the fact of this settlement, are confidential to the extent permitted by law. Accordingly, except as specifically permitted under this Agreement, or required by force of law, I agree not to disclose or cause to be disclosed, either directly or indirectly, to any person or organization (including but not limited to any current, former or future employee of Yours, and on any social media or Internet site) any information regarding the settlement amount or other terms of this Agreement (collectively, "the Confidential Information"), and to respond to any inquiries regarding the disposition of the claims contained in the Complaint by stating, "The case is over" or "It has been resolved," and nothing more.

i. I further agree that:

a. I may disclose the Confidential Information to only My spouse, My family, My Counsel and financial advisors, and shall direct them to keep such information confidential, and shall inform them that I may be held responsible for any disclosure by them, and shall accept full and legal responsibility for any such disclosures;

b. I may disclose the terms of this settlement to the extent necessary to enforce or challenge the terms of this Agreement, or to comply with a legal requirement that the Confidential Information be disclosed;

ii. ALTHOUGH THE PARTIES MAY HAVE AGREED TO KEEP THE SETTLEMENT AND UNDERLYING FACTS CONFIDENTIAL, SUCH A PROVISION IN AN AGREEMENT IS UNENFORCABLE AGAINST THE EMPLOYER (RESPONDENT) IF THE EMPLOYEE (PETITIONER) PUBLICALLY REVEALS SUFFICIENT DETAILS OF THE CLAIM SO THAT THE EMPLOYER IS REASONABLY IDENTIFIABLE.

10. Non-Disparagement: Except as permitted by Paragraph 9, the Parties agree not to make critical, negative or disparaging remarks about each other to any person or entity, or on any social media or Internet site, including but not limited to comments about their related services, or business, or employment practices. You shall also respond to all employment-related inquiries regarding Me with only a neutral employment reference, consisting exclusively of dates of employment and positions held. The contact person for such an employment reference shall be the Human Resources Department of the Board of Education of the City of Garfield, Bergen County. I must notify the Human Resources Department at the time I refer a third party to the School for purposes of an employment-related inquiry. If either party breaches this provision, it shall be a material breach of this Agreement and this provision shall no longer apply to the non-breaching party.

11. Waiver of Future Employment: In further consideration for the payment provided for in paragraph 3 of this Settlement Agreement and General Release, I agree that I will not seek or make application for any future employment or consultant relationship with the Board of Education of the City of Garfield, Bergen County at any time following My execution of this Agreement and expressly waive any and all right to do so. The execution of this Agreement by Me serves as an acknowledgement that My employment with You has been severed and that future employment will not be offered to Me by You. I also agree that You have no obligation, contractual or otherwise, to re-hire or re-employ Me directly, or hire or employ Me indirectly or to offer Me any employment with the Board of Education of the City of Garfield, Bergen County.

12. Non-Assignment: I acknowledge that none of the proceeds given herein have been assigned.

13. Counterparts: This Release may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which when executed and delivered shall constitute a duplicate original, but all counterparts together shall constitute a single Release.

14. Who is Bound: I am bound by this Release. Anyone who succeeds to my rights and responsibilities, such as my heirs or the executor of my estate, is also bound. This Release is made for your benefit and all who succeed to your rights and responsibilities, such as your heirs or the executor of your estate.

15. Severability: The provisions of this Release are severable and if any part of it is found to be illegal or unenforceable for any reason, the other provisions shall remain fully valid and enforceable.

16. Choice of Law: This Release shall be governed, construed, and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of New Jersey, without regard to that state's conflict of laws rules and principles.

17. Obligation to Meet and Confer: Any disputes arising out of this Settlement Agreement and General Release relating to the enforcement of its terms, including any issues arising after the date execution, shall first be communicated between the parties through counsel to resolve such issues. If issues arise requiring the parties to meet and confer, the parties agree to proceed in good faith and make reasonable efforts to resolve such issues.

18. Child Support Certification: I hereby acknowledge and understand My obligation to comply with the legal requirements of N.J.S.A. 2A:17-56.23b, including, but not limited to, the requirement to perform a certified child support judgment lien search and to provide Releasees with said documentation prior to the Releasees' disbursement of the Payment. I agree that I shall direct my attorneys to perform the judgment search required by N.J.S.A. 2A:17-56.23b and deliver a copy of the certification to Releasees' counsel. I further understand and acknowledge that, (a) no settlement funds due to me under this Release shall be released prior to the receipt of the judgment search certification, and (b) any fees incurred, and payments made, by Releasees in connection with N.J.S.A. 2A:17-56.23b shall be deducted from the payment prior to its disbursement to me.

19. Entire Agreement: This Release contains the entire agreement between the Releasor and Releasees and supersedes any prior written or oral agreements, understandings or arrangements.

20. Signatures: I understand and agree to the terms of this Release, have had sufficient opportunity to review it with counsel of my choice, and sign it knowingly and voluntarily. I have had sufficient opportunity to review this Release, including but not limited to an opportunity to review it with My attorney, seek her guidance, and have her answer My questions. I warrant that I am of legal age and under no legal disability of any kind and I am fully competent to execute this Release. I agree and acknowledge that I have received at least 21 days to consider this Release. I agree and acknowledge that I may revoke this Release within 7 days of signing it. I agree and acknowledge that this Release will not become effective until the 7-day period has elapsed.

Final Decision

Jeanne Weisblatt,

Petitioner,

v.

Mercer County Special Services School District, Mercer County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the proposed Settlement Agreement and Release (Agreement), and the Initial Decision issued by the Office of Administrative Law pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1, have been reviewed. Paragraph 1 and 2 of the Agreement reference actions taken by the parties which preceded the consideration of the settlement by the Commissioner of Education. The parties are reminded that a settlement of litigation before the Commissioner is not binding until the Commissioner approves the settlement.

In light of the foregoing, the Commissioner adopts the Initial Decision as the final decision in this matter, provided that the parties have already implemented the settlement terms or have agreed upon mutually satisfactory alternate dates for the effectuation of the terms of the Agreement. Assuming same, the matter is hereby dismissed, subject to compliance with the terms of the settlement.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT AND RELEASE

This Settlement Agreement and Release is entered into this 9th day of Sept, 2021 between the Mercer County Special Services School District, having its administrative offices at 1020 Old Trenton Road, Hamilton, New Jersey 08690 (hereafter referred to as "MCSSSD") and Jeanne Weisblatt, residing at 26 Fir Drive, Richboro, Pennsylvania 18954 (hereafter "JW"). (JW and MCSSSD are hereafter referred to collectively as "the Parties").

This Settlement Agreement and Release is entered into by the Parties in settlement of (a) JW's Verified Petition entitled Jeanne Weisblatt v. Mercer County Special Services School District, State of New Jersey Department of Education, Agency Docket No. 88-5/20, now pending in the New Jersey Office of Administrative Law, OAL Docket No. EDU 05064 2020S ("Verified Petition"); and (b) the contractual grievance against MCSSSD filed on JW's behalf by the Mercer County Special Services Educational and Therapeutic Association ("MCSSETA") dated April 21, 2020 ("Grievance"), which has been suspended by the Parties and MCSSETA pending the outcome of proceedings on the Verified Petition.

This Settlement Agreement and Release is based upon the following exchange of actions and promises by the Parties:

1. MCSSSD has compensated JW for 12 days of lost pay at her rate of payment in effect in the 2019-2020 school year. The gross amount of the payment is $6,056.16, from which customary payroll deductions have been taken. This payment was made as part of the MCSSSD payroll of 9/15/2021

2. JW has entered into a Corrective Action Plan (CAP), relating to her attendance, in the form attached to this Settlement Agreement and Release and made a part hereof by reference.

3. JW hereby gives up, releases and withdraws all claims, rights and grievances JW may have against MCSSSD in connection with JW's absences from school, related events and loss of pay during March and April 2020. These claims, rights and grievances include but are not limited to the claims set forth in JW's Verified Petition and the Grievance described above. The Parties have entered into Stipulations of Dismissal of the Verified Petition, with prejudice; and JW has directed MCSSETA to dismiss the Grievance and same has been dismissed, with prejudice.

The Parties acknowledge and agree that this Settlement Agreement and Release represents a compromise serving their mutual interests in bringing about an expeditious resolution of the underlying controversy without the expense, delay and disruption of further litigation. By entering into this Settlement Agreement and Release, neither JW nor MCSSSD admit wrongdoing.

The Parties have entered into this Settlement Agreement and Release with the assistance of their respective legal counsel.

By signing and entering into this Settlement Agreement and Release, JW and MCSSSD each represents that they understand and agree to its terms.

Final Decision

P.H. and K.G.H., on behalf of minor child, L.H.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the City of Northfield, Atlantic County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

In October 2019, petitioners appealed the finding of the respondent Board that their son – who had attended kindergarten at the Northfield Community School from the commencement of the 2018-2019 school year through March 28, 2019 – was not the victim of harassment, intimidation and bullying (HIB) pursuant to the Anti-Bullying Bill of Rights Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:37-13 et seq. Petitioners alleged that the HIB investigation conducted by the Board was procedurally and practically defective because it was conducted months after L.H. had been withdrawn from the school district. The parties filed opposing motions for summary decision.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: there are no material facts at issue in this case, and the matter is ripe for summary decision; the within matter was not mooted by the withdrawal of L.H. from the district; the Board acknowledged that as of April 29, 2019, it had received adequate information upon which to begin an HIB investigation; such investigation should have commenced at that time pursuant to the statutory mandates set forth in N.J.S.A. 18A:3 7-15b; because it was not initiated until June 5, 2019, the Board was in violation of the Act as well as Board policy regarding the initiation of HIB investigations; however, given the limited information provided to the District by petitioners regarding the nature of their complaint, and given that the District was not permitted to interview the victim of the alleged HIB, the Board's determination in this matter was based on a sufficiently complete investigation and was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable. Accordingly, the ALJ dismissed the petitioners' motion for summary decision and granted summary decision in favor of the Board; in so doing, the ALJ directed the Board to institute corrective action to assure that future HIB investigations are commenced in a timely manner pursuant to the schedule established by the Act and Board policy.

Upon a comprehensive review, the Commissioner concurred with the ALJ that the Board's HIB determination was based on a sufficiently complete investigation and was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable. Further, the Commissioner agreed that the Board did not initiate its HIB investigation in a timely manner. Accordingly, the Commissioner granted the Board's motion for summary decision and dismissed the petition. The Board was directed to be more mindful of statutory time requirements when conducting future HIB investigations.

This synopsis is not part of the Commissioner's decision. It has been prepared for the convenience of the reader. It has been neither reviewed nor approved by the Commissioner.

Final Decision

P.H. and K.G.H., on behalf of minor child, L.H.

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the City of Northfield, Atlantic County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed and considered. The parties did not file exceptions.

The Board determined that petitioners' child was not the victim of harassment, intimidation, and bullying (HIB). Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) that the Board's determination was based on a sufficiently complete investigation and was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable, for the reasons detailed in the Initial Decision. The Commissioner further agrees with the ALJ that the Board did not initiate its HIB investigation in a timely manner, but that the delay does not render the Board's determination arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable; however, the Board is directed to be more mindful of the statutory time requirements when conducting future HIB investigations.

Accordingly, the Board's motion for summary decision is granted, and the petition of appeal is hereby dismissed.

BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE CITY OF NORTHFIELD, ATLANTIC COUNTY,

Respondent.

Patrick M. Harrington, Esq., for petitioners (Dilworth Paxson, attorneys)

John G. Geppert, Jr., Esq., for respondent (Scarinci & Hollenbeck, LLC, attorneys)

Record Closed: August 9, 2021 Decided: September 22, 2021

BEFORE JEFF S. MASIN, ALJ (Ret., on recall):

During the 2018-2019 school year. L.H. was a kindergarten student in the Northfield School District. On March 29, 2019, at a meeting with the District Superintendent, the petitioners advised him that L.H. was expressing depressed behavior at home. This meeting followed a March 20, 2019, meeting between P.H., the principal of the Northfield Community School and others, including the classroom teacher, Kelli Kern, at which several concerns were discussed. At the March 29, meeting, P.H. advised Superintendent Bretones that L.H. would not be returning to Ms. Kern's classroom and requested that the child be transferred to another classroom. On April 4, 2019, Bretones advised Mr. and Mrs. H. that the District would not agree to transfer L.H. to a different classroom. After March 28, 2019, L.H. never attended school in the District and during the April 4, call, the parents advised Bretones that they were removing their child from the District, effective immediately. L.H. has not attended school in the District since that time.

On April 29, 2019, P.H. attended the Northfield Board Education public meeting and spoke during that session. According to the minutes of that meeting he spoke of his son "enduring emotional distress in Kindergarten," that their experience with the school had been "negative and disappointing." They had requested a classroom change which request was denied and they withdrew their son from the District and were uncertain as to whether they would allow his return for the following year. P.H. also distributed a letter and email to all members of the school board, in which he detailed actions on Ms. Kern's part that "devastated our child and is a completely unacceptable way to treat an enthusiastic, kind child who wants to learn as they begin their school experience."

On May 20, 2019, P.H. again attended a Board meeting. The public minutes note that he again spoke of his son's "situation on campus." He advised that "he has not received any response or information from the school." He was then advised that while the matter concerning a student could not be discussed in a public session, the Superintendent was "working on a written response which will come to him shortly." P.H. asked what the procedure was to "initiate a formal request to transfer a student within a grade" and was told that the school administration would respond.

On May 23, the parents received a letter from Superintendent Bretones. He advised that he had "investigated the allegations about Mrs. Kern" and the investigation "did not support any of the allegations that [P.H.] made."

On June 7, 2019, the Anti-Bullying Coordinator, Maureen Vaccaro, who had been present at the March 20, 2019, meeting, emailed the parents that a Harassment, Intimidation and Bullying (HIB) investigation had been opened on June 5, 2019, and requested to meet with L.H. and his parents. The parents did not respond to this request and did not produce L.H. for any meeting.

On June 21, counsel for the Board advised the parents that a decision on the investigation would be rendered in June. On June 25, they received a letter from Bretones, advising that the investigation "centered on . . . allegations that a pupil committed an act(s) of harassment, intimidation, or bullying" and that Vaccaro had "interviewed L.H." The Board admits that this letter contained incorrect information, as there had been no discussion or any allegation that a pupil had engaged in any such conduct and L.H. had not been interviewed by Vaccaro.

On July 8, 2019, the parents received a revised letter, stating that the "nature of the investigation centered on the allegation that one of your child's teachers committed an act(s) of harassment, intimidation, or bullying to your child." The parents then requested a hearing before the Board. This took place on July 22, 2019. On July 24, the parents received a letter from Superintendent Bretones, advising them that "after due deliberation and consideration following the hearing before the Board on Monday, July 22, 2019, the Board affirmed the finding and determination that the alleged incident involving [L.H.] did not constitute HIB as defined by the State of New Jersey and the District policies."

On October 11, 2019, the parents filed a Petition with the Commissioner of Education, asking that the Commissioner find that "the HIB investigation conducted by the District be [deemed] invalid and deemed inconclusive due the fatal procedural and legal deficiencies and delayed initiation which render the Investigation deficient as a matter of law." The Board filed an Answer and Affirmative Defenses on November 1, 2019. Discovery commenced following transmittal of the contested case to the Office of Administrative Law. The matter was initially assigned to Honorable John S. Kennedy, ALJ. The parties filed cross-motions for summary decision. Judge Kennedy was appointed to the Superior Court and the matter was re-assigned on July 28 , 2021 to this judge, retired and serving on recall.

The Board's motion for summary decision is based in part on the notion that the matter is moot because L.H. is no longer a student in the Northfield School District and no meaningful relief has been requested. The petitioners' motion is based upon the claim that the Board failed to comply with both State legislation concerning investigations of alleged HIB violations and the District's own policies regarding such investigations. They contend that the HIB investigation begun in June 2019, was commenced far beyond the allowable time frame for the initiation of such investigations and that to the extent an investigation was undertaken, it was flawed because, while faculty members were questioned concerning their son, no students who were actually in L.H.'s classroom with Mrs. Kern were questioned. The Board counters that even if there were "minor" violations of the required time frame for the initiation and conclusion of an HIB investigation, these were of no actual consequence, particularly as the student had been withdrawn from the District and thus even if some HIB violation had been discovered, the student could not have benefited from any relief that might otherwise have been warranted. The parties do not agree as to the date by which any allegation of HIB conduct was first brought to the attention of the district. As such, they disagree as to the date which was applicable in regard to the time frame for the investigation.

Mootness

If a legal matter is moot, there is no basis for any substantive decision to be rendered on the controversy. Here, once L.H. was withdrawn from the District, no relief concerning the child's educational process within the District could be effectuated. It is speculative whether, had there been a determination that Mrs. Kern had acted in a manner regarding L.H. that involved HIB, the parents would have chosen to re-enroll L.H. in the District, either before the end of the 2018-19 term or thereafter. It is also necessary to consider that in their Petition, the parents did not ask that the determination that no HIB violation(s) had occurred be changed to a finding that such did occur, but instead that the investigation be found to have been procedurally flawed, and therefore in essence set aside and deemed to, in effect, have made no affirmative or negative conclusion, but instead, an inconclusive one. Thus, even in their Petition's request for relief, the parents do not seek a finding that Mrs. Kern committed HIB infractions. In effect, they simply seek to have the Board told that it did not proceed as it should have in investigating an HIB allegation and, as a result, their determination of no HIB conduct having occurred must be set aside and the investigation deemed inconclusive. Given these factors, the Board contends that the matter is moot.

In response to the claim of mootness, the petitioners cite language from decisions that point out that even if a student is disenrolled after an HIB complaint is made, the district is still required to carry out an HIB investigation, D.M. on behalf of minor child K.B. v. Board of Ed. of West Milford, njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/final/edu.1pdf ("[a]ny allegation of HIB committed against one of its students must be investigated by the school district, regardless of whether the student is disenrolled after the allegation is reported."), and that while the HIB statute does not prescribe specific relief where the child is no longer in the district, the "Board must promptly take all appropriate measures, including the conducting of staff in-service programs, to assure full compliance with the Act", T.R. and T.R. on behalf of E.R. v. Bridgewater-Raritan Regional Board of Education, njlaw.rutgers.edu/collection/oal/html/initial/edu10208-13-2.html, where the ALJ noted a recommendation "that the Commissioner fashion any further relief deemed just and proper." Counsel contends that the Anti-Bullying Bill of Rights has "two areas of focus, the student and the District," pointing to the Commissioner's determination in C.K. and M.K. on behalf of minor child, M.K. V. Board of Ed. of Voorhees, njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/final/edu20510-15-1.pdf (March 23, 2017), where the Commissioner explicitly determined that the Board had initially failed to investigate and conduct a timely hearing and that when it did investigate, it did not conduct a thorough and complete investigation. Thus, even where the student is no longer enrolled in the district, there is reason to assure that the required HIB investigation is conducted in a timely and complete manner and where the evidence shows that it was not, the Commissioner has reason to decide that such violations of the requirements of a fully compliant investigation occurred and to fashion such relief as the Commissioner deems proper in such circumstances.

If the withdrawal of a student from a school district automatically resulted in the mootness of any attempt to review how that district carried out an HIB investigation involving alleged HIB actions toward that student, the district would in effect be insulated from any determination that it had failed to properly carry out such a required investigation and to have done so in a legally appropriate manner. If the HIB allegation had substance and the district failed to investigate properly, the district and the person or persons who perpetrated the HIB conduct would then escape any consequence. This may be particularly of concern regarding allegations of staff HIB misconduct. If a district properly investigates and determines that a teacher or other staff member has engaged in such misconduct, the district must then determine how to assure that that person will not continue such improper conduct in the future. Such findings may point to the need for more training, for a nonrenewal of a non-tenured staff member's employment or even to the need to consider tenure charges. While of course not every allegation will be found to be true, nevertheless if the mere fact of the student's withdrawal is enough to moot the Commissioner's review of district action, narrow as that review is (see below), then perhaps withdrawal moots the need for the district to even continue the investigation at district level. Given the fact that the purpose of the legislation is clearly to eliminate HIB conduct in schools, the district has an obligation to complete a proper investigation even if withdrawal occurs. D.M.

I CONCLUDE that this matter is not mooted by the student's withdrawal. As the District was required to complete its investigation, so too the Commissioner is permitted to review that action within the limits that case law has established for such a review of a district's actions. The Commissioner and the appellate courts have consistently held that the actions of a local school board acting in regard to a determination made within its regulatory sphere will not be overturned unless demonstrated to have been arbitrary, unreasonable or capricious. Thomas v. Morris Twp. Bd. Of Education, 89 N.J. Super.

327, 332 (App. Div. 1965). Unless the district acted in bad faith or "utter disregard of the circumstances before it," the Commissioner will not interfere. G.H. and E.H. ex rel.K.H v. Bd of Educ. of the Bor. of Franklin Lakes, http://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/html.initial/edu13204-13-1.html. That said, withdrawal is not a defense for a district's failure to properly carry out its role in advancing the purposes of Anti-Bullying legislation.

Summary Decision

Summary decision motions are permitted in administrative proceedings by N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5. The standard for determining such motions is the same as that for summary judgment motions in Superior Court. The New Jersey Supreme Court defined the standard for determining motions for summary decision in Brill v. The Guardian Life Insurance Company of America, et al., 142 N.J. 520 (1995). In this case, the Court elaborated upon the standards first established in Judson v. People's Bank and Trust Co. of Westfield, 17 N.J. 67, 74-75 (1954). Under the Brill standard, a motion for summary decision may only be granted where there are no "genuine disputes" of "material fact." The determination as to whether disputes of material fact exist is made after a "discriminating search" of the record, consisting as it may of affidavits, certifications, documentary exhibits and any other evidence filed by the movant and any such evidence filed in response to the motion, with all reasonable inferences arising from the evidence being accorded to the opponent of the motion. In order to defeat the motion, the opposing party must establish the existence of "genuine" disputes of material fact. The substantive law governing a dispute determines which facts are material. Only disputes regarding "those facts that might affect the outcome of the suit under the governing law will properly preclude the entry of summary judgment." Dungee v. Northeast Foods, Inc., 940 F. Supp 682, 685 (D.N.J. 1996), quoting Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 248, (1986)(Anderson).

In Judson, at 75, the Supreme Court stated that the material facts allegedly in dispute upon which the party opposing the motion relies to defeat the motion must be something more than "facts which are immaterial or of an insubstantial nature, a mere scintilla, fanciful, frivolous, gauzy or merely suspicious, . . . ," (citations omitted). Brill focuses upon the analytical procedure for determining whether a purported dispute of material fact is "genuine" or is simply of an "insubstantial nature." Brill, at 530. Brill concludes that the same analytical process used to decide motions for a directed verdict is used to resolve summary decision motions. "The essence of the inquiry in each is the same: 'whether the evidence presents a sufficient disagreement to require submission to a jury or whether it is so one-sided that a party must prevail as a matter of law.'" Id. at 536, quoting Anderson, at 477 U.S. 251-52, 106 S. Ct 2505, 2512, 91 L.Ed 2d 214. In searching the proffered evidence to determine the motion, the judge must be guided by the applicable substantive evidentiary standard of proof, that is, the "burden of persuasion" which would apply at trial on the merits, whether that is the preponderance of the evidence or the clear and convincing evidence standard. If a careful review under this standard establishes that no reasonable fact finder could resolve the disputed material facts in favor of the party opposing the motion, then the uncontradicted facts thus established can be examined in the light of the applicable substantive law to determine whether or not the movant is clearly entitled to judgment as a matter of law. However, where the proofs in the record are such that "reasonable minds could differ" as to the material facts, then the motion must be denied, and a full evidentiary hearing held.

The Investigation

Timeliness

The petitioners argue that the District failed to comply with the established time frames for conducting an HIB investigation. Of course, before a district can begin such a process, it must first be on notice that an allegation of HIB conduct has been made, either by a complaint or by some other factor which makes, or should make it clear to the district that such conduct may have occurred. In order to consider the parties' positions regarding the timeliness of the investigation, we must first determine when the district was put on notice. This requires an understanding of what constitutes HIB conduct.

N,J.S.A. 18A:37-13.2 is the "Anti Bullying Bill of Rights." HIB Conduct is defined at N.J.S.A. 18A:37-14 as > "Harassment, intimidation or bullying" means any gesture, any written, verbal or physical act, or any electronic communication, whether it be a single incident or a series of incidents, that is reasonably perceived as being motivated either by any actual or perceived characteristic, such as race, color, religion, ancestry, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, or a mental, physical or sensory disability, or by any other distinguishing characteristic, that takes place on school property, at any school-sponsored function, on a school bus, or off school grounds as provided for in section 16 of P.L.2010, c.122 (C.18A:37-15.3), that substantially disrupts or interferes with the orderly operation of the school or the rights of other students and that:

> > a. a reasonable person should know, under the circumstances, will have the effect of physically or emotionally harming a student or damaging the student's property, or placing a student in reasonable fear of physical or emotional harm to his person or damage to his property;
> > b. has the effect of insulting or demeaning any student or group of students; or
> > c. creates a hostile educational environment for the student by interfering with a student's education or by severely or pervasively causing physical or emotional harm to the student.

As the definition states, to constitute actionable HIB conduct, the alleged actions, words, etc. must be "reasonably perceived as motivated either by [an] actual or perceived characteristic." The law provides a listing of the sort of characteristics that it aims to prevent. While many of these track the obvious categories of invidious discrimination such as race, sex, religion, etc., the list also includes "mental, physical or sensory disability," and adds a seeming catch-all, "other distinguishing characteristic." Thus, if a district receives a complaint that a student(s) or staff person(s) have engaged in "any gesture, any written, verbal or physical act, or electronic communication," that targets a student for such actual or perceived characteristic", the district must begin an HIB investigation which must comply with the timelines set out in N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15b.6. The timelines are also stated in the Board's own HIB policy.

The petitioners claim that the District was notified of such an HIB complaint on March 20, 2019, when P.H. met with staff personnel including Anti-Bullying Coordinator Vaccaro. As background, the petitioners note that in February 2019, they were contacted by Mrs. Kern who told them that their child was "significantly behind his peers academically, and had been for some time." Information as to what topics needed to be addressed was provided and the parents worked on these. Although they claim Kern agreed that progress had occurred, nevertheless, in late February Kern emailed them, suggesting that they consider retaining L.H. to repeat kindergarten, despite "acknowledging his academic progress having 'dramatically improved.'" The petitioners state that they found this confusing and reached out to Kern, who did not respond. They then reached out to Elementary School Principal Maureen Vaccaro, who was also the Anti-Bullying Coordinator, although it appears from the Petition that the contact in late February, or perhaps early March, was not then intended to address any complaint regarding alleged HIB conduct. In early March, Kern recommended that L.H. be referred to the Child Study Team.

According to the Petition, at about this time L.H. "began to come home from school distraught, depressed and crying frequently." In their Petition, the parents state that their five-year-old, "disclosed" to them that "Kern was harassing him in the classroom and creating a hostile, abusive environment which caused L.H. emotional distress and resulted in L.H. being made to feel that he was incompetent, incapable of success, and inferior to his peers, including statements that L.H. was not able to color, was not able to read, and was not able to perform work on the board in front of the class." L.H. told his parents that other students ridiculed him, "based upon Kern's hostile conduct and chastising." According to the petitioners, they brought these "concerns" to Vaccaro's attention at a March 14, meeting. Then at the larger group meeting on March 20, with Kern present as well as Vaccaro, P.H. advised them of the "hostile and intimidating environment in the classroom which caused L.H. emotional distress . . . ." He reports that Kern denied knowing what was causing this emotional distress and made inappropriate comments about how she had seventeen students in the class and was not "paid more" or "getting paid a bonus" to help L.H.

Since the petitioners contend that they brought their concerns about a "hostile and intimidating environment" and "abuse" of L.H. to the attention of representatives of the District, including its Anti-Bullying Coordinator, on either March 14 and/or March 20, it is necessary to see if what they claim to have reported would have been sufficient to have triggered the District's obligation to initiate an HIB investigation. It seems apparent from the context that L.H. may have been struggling in his kindergarten class and that Mrs. Kern had advised the petitioners of this issue. Given this background, the child's alleged comments about being told that he could not perform certain tasks relating to school work can reasonably be understood as statements that might have been made, in one manner or another, to the student by the teacher. However, the language employed by the petitioners in their Petition seems clearly not to be the language spoken to them by the child as the child told them of certain events occurring in the classroom. Statements about being "harassed," about being "Incompetent, incapable of success" and even the term "inferior," strike as unlikely words to have been voiced by the child, although they are clearly words that have meaning in crafting an HIB complaint.[1] Exactly what the interaction between the teacher and student was and what words were actually spoken cannot be determined from this rendition of statutorily-significant language. That the child was upset seems clear enough, but the question is whether the information that the parents shared with representatives of the District actually conveyed that the child was being singled out due to a "mental or sensory disability" or "other distinguishing characteristic." If a teacher tells a student that his or her work is not adequate, or needs improvement, that in and of itself hardly seems to come within the ambit of the type of comment or the types of characteristics that the HIB statute aims to address. And it becomes especially tricky to understand the situation when dealing with a five-year-old, perhaps struggling in his or her first year of regular school. That said, of course a child of that age and grade certainly can be harassed, intimidated or bullied, but that the child may have suffered emotional distress because his teacher may have told him that he did not form his letters properly or color within the lines does not mean that the teacher did so in a way that comes within the sphere of HIB. I FIND that the description of P.H.'s discussion with the District personnel on March 20, 2019, is insufficient to clearly demonstrate that as of that date the District was on notice of an allegation of HIB. However, despite the lack of any HIB allegation, in response to the meeting and the request for a transfer to another classroom, Superintendent Bretones properly did discuss the matter and, in his discretion, determined to deny the request.

P.H. spoke during the Board's public session on April 29, 2019. As recorded in the minutes of that meeting, nothing he said would have alerted anyone that the "negative and disappointing" reaction to the parents' experience with the District or the child's "emotional distress" were the result of HIB conduct. As for the April 29, 2019, letter distributed to Board members, the discussion on page two, paragraph two, of that letter relates the child's upset and refers to "the way Mrs. Kern spoke to our son and treated him in the classroom and in front of his peers" and the "profound negative effects on his self esteem and his attitude towards learning." According to the parents, their child spoke of Mrs. Kern being "mad" at him and "listing things that he didn't do well." While it is in no way to be thought that a teacher getting "mad" at a student is appropriate, and it is recognized that a student at any age, but perhaps particularly a very young student, might well be upset and even "devastated" both by criticism and a tone that conveys a negative attitude toward the child, the paragraph does not really convey anything approaching an allegation of HIB conduct. That said, in its answer to an interrogatory, the Board concedes that "the April 29, 2019 comments and letter were the first time P.H. raised allegations of potential abuse that triggered the investigation."

As the Board acknowledges that as of April 29, 2019, it had received adequate information to require it to begin an HIB investigation, then it was required to proceed to investigate and reach a determination on the alleged conduct in accordance with statutory mandates set forth in N.J.S.A. 18A:3 7-15b.

b. A school district shall have local control over the content of the policy, except that the policy shall contain, at a minimum, the following components:

(1) a statement prohibiting harassment, intimidation or bullying of a student;
(2) a definition of harassment, intimidation or bullying no less inclusive than that set forth in section 2 of P.L.2002, c.83 (C.18A:37-14);
(3) a description of the type of behavior expected from each student;
(4) consequences and appropriate remedial action for a person who commits an act of harassment, intimidation or bullying;
(5) a procedure for reporting an act of harassment, intimidation or bullying, including a provision that permits a person to report an act of harassment, intimidation or bullying anonymously; however, this shall not be construed to permit formal disciplinary action solely on the basis of an anonymous report.
All acts of harassment, intimidation, or bullying shall be reported verbally to the school principal on the same day when the school employee or contracted service provider witnessed or received reliable information regarding any such incident. The principal shall inform the parents or guardians of all students involved in the alleged incident, and may discuss, as appropriate, the availability of counseling and other intervention services. All acts of harassment, intimidation, or bullying shall be reported in writing to the school principal within two school days of when the school employee or contracted service provider witnessed or received reliable information that a student had been subject to harassment, intimidation, or bullying;

(6) a procedure for prompt investigation of reports of violations and complaints, which procedure shall at a minimum provide that:

(a) the investigation shall be initiated by the principal or the principal's designee within one school day of the report of the incident and shall be conducted by a school anti-bullying specialist. The principal may appoint additional personnel who are not school anti-bullying specialists to assist in the investigation. The investigation shall be completed as soon as possible, but not later than 10 school days from the date of the written report of the incident of harassment, intimidation, or bullying. In the event that there is information relative to the investigation that is anticipated but not yet received by the end of the 10-day period, the school anti-bullying specialist may amend the original report of the results of the investigation to reflect the information;

(b) the results of the investigation shall be reported to the superintendent of schools within two school days of the completion of the investigation, and in accordance with regulations promulgated by the State Board of Education pursuant to the "Administrative Procedure Act," P.L.1968, c.410 (C.52:14B-1 et seq.), the superintendent may decide to provide intervention services, establish training programs to reduce harassment, intimidation, or bullying and enhance school climate, impose discipline, order counseling as a result of the findings of the investigation, or take or recommend other appropriate action;
(c) the results of each investigation shall be reported to the board of education no later than the date of the board of education meeting next following the completion of the investigation, along with information on any services provided, training established, discipline imposed, or other action taken or recommended by the superintendent;
(d) parents or guardians of the students who are parties to the investigation shall be entitled to receive information about the investigation, in accordance with federal and State law and regulation, including the nature of the investigation, whether the district found evidence of harassment, intimidation, or bullying, or whether discipline was imposed or services provided to address the incident of harassment, intimidation, or bullying. This information shall be provided in writing within 5 school days after the results of the investigation are reported to the board. A parent or guardian may request a hearing before the board after receiving the information, and the hearing shall be held within 10 days of the request. The board shall meet in executive session for the hearing to protect the confidentiality of the students. At the hearing the board may hear from the school anti-bullying specialist about the incident, recommendations for discipline or services, and any programs instituted to reduce such incidents;
(e) at the next board of education meeting following its receipt of the report, the board shall issue a decision, in writing, to affirm, reject, or modify the superintendent's decision. The board's decision may be appealed to the Commissioner of Education, in > accordance with the procedures set forth in law and regulation, no later than 90 days after the issuance of the board's decision;

Additionally, as required by the Anti-Bullying statute, Northfield Board of Education adopted a policy, 5131.1 "Harassment, Intimidation and Bullying." This policy mirrors the definition of HIB conduct found in the statute. This policy requires that > all investigations shall be thorough and complete, and documented in writing, and shall include, but not be limited to

> 1. Taking statements from victims, witnesses and accused;
> 2. Careful examination of the facts;
> 6. The investigation shall be initiated by the principal or the principal's designee within one school day of the report of the incident . . . .

In this matter, the Board recognizes that as it concedes that April 29, 2019, was the date when it was put on notice about a complaint of HIB concerning its staff member, it was obligated by this statute and by its own adopted policy to begin its investigation no later than one school day thereafter. It concedes that it did not do so. In fact, as the Board concedes, I FIND that the investigation was not initiated until June 5, 2019. And even if the District did not receive an adequate alert of such a complaint until the May 20, 2019, Board meeting, a claim stated in its motion brief but undercut by its response to the interrogatory as set forth above, where it agrees to April 29 as the date when it was placed on notice, the initiation of the investigation on June 5, was still outside of the permitted one day after the notice when the investigation was mandated to commence. As such, based upon the undisputed facts, I FIND that the petitioners are correct in their assertion that the Board violated the statute and Board policy regarding the initiation of the investigation. That said, was the Board lax in respect to reaching a decision on the complaint? The record reflects that for some unknown reason the original response to the parents about the investigation was issued on June 21, which advised that an investigation had been concluded about alleged HIB conduct by a pupil. While there is some vague reference in the petitioners' account of the child's discussion with them in March to some ridicule by other pupils, there never was any actual complaint voiced or written to the District about student HIB conduct, only at most about such conduct by Mrs. Kern. Thus, the District's purported completion of an "investigation" of pupil HIB by June 21 was meaningless. The record does not indicate how or why this letter was produced. Since the District did not indicate it had completed the investigation of the teacher's alleged HIB conduct, giving the District the benefit of the doubt, that investigation of the teacher's conduct was completed on July 8 and the Board heard from the petitioners and decided the matter on July 24, at its next meeting after the completion of the investigation of Mrs. Kern. While the facts about the investigation's progress and focus after June 5 are hazy, for the purposes of these cross-motions, I FIND that the District did complete the investigation and the Board did act on it at the first meeting following that completion.

Alleged Inadequacy of Investigation

The petitioners argue that the findings of the investigation should be set aside because the witnesses who were interviewed by the District did not include pupils who were in Mrs. Kern's class, students who the petitioners reasonably contend were presumably in a position to see the interactions which he had with L.H. They note that the various staff members who were interviewed were not present in the classroom, only seeing L.H. either in their own classes or at times of transition from Kern's classroom, but not as she interacted with L.H. during the time he was with Kern. The Board does not dispute that it chose not to interview L.H.'s kindergarten classmates. It points out that there is no "policy, statute or regulation that requires a district to include interviews with classmates when an HIB investigation is directed at a teaching staff member." While it is true that there is no such explicit command, it is also true that if a district is to properly investigate an allegation of HIB conduct, it must reasonably determine the persons who may have information that tends to either support or refute the allegation. Thus, if pupils in a classroom are reasonably thought to be sources for such information relevant to the investigation, the overall need for a complete, thorough and fair investigation, as demanded by the Board's own policy, may demand that they be interviewed, subject of course to such safeguards as may be needed to protect the students and also to the reasonable discretion of the investigators as to exactly who they speak with. No blanket rule commands that pupils either be interviewed or excluded from interviews. As such, the parents may well question why no students were asked about what they may have seen of the alleged harassing and intimidating conduct of Kern towards L.H. That said, as the Board notes, when it sought to interview L.H., the purported recipient of the HIB conduct and the one person, besides Mrs. Kern, most likely to be cognizant of what actually occurred, the parents chose not to allow such an interview. Thus, while the petitioners complain that the District did not conduct a fully appropriate and comprehensive investigation, they themselves contributed to the lack of a complete picture by not allowing their child to explain to the investigator exactly what L.H. said happened. The Board's policy, requiring a thorough and complete investigation, notes that the investigation "shall include . . . taking of statement from the victim", as well as other witnesses and the accused.

It must be emphasized that I recognize the difficulty presented in investigating any matter in which potentially significant witnesses are of kindergarten age. And I can readily understand that parents of a child who claims to have suffered HIB conduct might not want the child to have to undergo even the most mild and well-conducted interview about the matter. But if here the Board is to be criticized for the lack of any interviews with pupils, it must be noted that the most important of all student witnesses, whose input the investigator did seek, was withheld from them. As such, all that the investigator had that set forth what the alleged HIB conduct was, was what the parents related in the letters they wrote and discussions they had with District personnel. That information was second-hand, was presented in language indicative of likely adult input, lacked any real detail or any significant context, and was not the sort of first-hand information that would be obtained in a properly conducted investigation from the alleged victim. As such, it must be said that if the District did not conduct the full investigation the petitioners claim they wanted and the Board policy required, they contributed to that incompleteness. Perhaps the choice to do so was what was best for the child, but the petitioners must recognize that their choice added to any deficiency they claim in the investigation and may well have affected the result. Overall, given the information that the District had about the alleged misconduct by Mrs. Kern, I cannot criticize it for not choosing to interview kindergarten students when the most relevant of those students was not permitted to tell the investigators any details of what is claimed to have been the serious misconduct that HIB legislation is meant to address.

I CONCLUDE that given the circumstances presented in this record, there is no material dispute of fact concerning the late institution of an HIB investigation by the Board. This conclusion is made despite any concern as to whether the limited information that was presented by the parents about exactly what their child claims occurred actually was even an effective claim of "HIB" type conduct concerning a "distinguishing characteristic" to which the statute speaks, as the limited information does not allow for any understanding of the context of Mrs. Kern's alleged comments about skills for which the child may have shown deficiencies. As the Board chose to conduct an investigation, a decision I do not mean to suggest was not an appropriate choice of how to proceed, and for the purposes herein it is assumed that they had to do so, they acted in an untimely fashion. That said, I do not see any basis to overturn the results of the investigation that was conducted merely because it was delayed. There is no basis for finding that the delay ultimately deprived the parents of their rights under the statute. An investigation was conducted after they decided, really at the outset of the matter and at a time when the record does not support that they had yet made an effective claim of HIB misconduct, to remove the child from the District. Whatever shortcomings the investigative process may have had, the delay did not seem to have contributed to these, and the petitioners do not suggest such.

Finally, I CONCLUDE that, given the information with which the District was provided and given that its representative could not interview the alleged victim of the HIB comments and actions, it conducted a sufficiently complete investigation such that the Board's decision to find no violation of the Anti-Bullying legislation cannot be deemed arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable or in bad faith. I CONCLUDE that deeming the investigation "inconclusive" under these circumstances would be a rather meaningless gesture, and may well be unfair to the accused teacher, who had no control over who the Board chose to interview and certainly no control or say regarding the lack of any direct interview of her accuser. The District must nevertheless institute such corrective action to assure that once it is properly aware of an HIB allegation, that the investigation of such must be commenced in a timely fashion commensurate with the schedule established by the statute and the Board's own policy.

The petitioners' motion for summary decision is DISMISSED, with the notation of the direction to the Board concerning the need for timeliness in its response to HIB complaints and the investigative steps necessary to investigate such matters. The Board's motion for summary decision is GRANTED, with the same caveat. The Petition of Appeal is DISMISSED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

Final Decision

A.B.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the City of Hackensack, Bergen County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Petitioner challenged the respondent Board's dissemination of information about her former employment as a teacher in the Hackensack school district, contending that it released employment-related information that was inaccurate and violative of her 2013 settlement agreement with the Board and which subsequently led to the loss of a job offer from the Clifton Board of Education. Petitioner sought, inter alia, to compel the Board to rescind and correct its response to Clifton's employment questionnaire, and to obtain an injunction prohibiting Hackensack from reporting, transmitting, or communicating information to any prospective employer of A.B. that is the subject of an inquiry pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.7. The Board contended that it was obligated to release the information pursuant to the "Pass the Trash" Statute, N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6, et seq. The parties filed cross motions for summary decision.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: the Board's disclosure of information in response to Clifton's questionnaire was required under N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.7 because in 2013 – while petitioner was employed as a teacher in Hackensack schools – the Board had been conducting a sexual misconduct investigation regarding petitioner's social media posts which contained content that is prohibited under N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6's definition of sexual misconduct; the inappropriate and sexually explicit social media posts at issue were shared on a platform where they were viewed and commented on by some of petitioner's students; N.J.S.A. 18:6-7.12 did not exempt settlement agreements entered into before June 1, 2018 from the mandatory disclosure provisions of the "Pass the Trash" statute; petitioner consented to the disclosure of the information when she signed a form requesting Hackensack to release information and documents in regard to her former employment in the school district; and, further, the language of the authorization signed by A.B. tracks the requirements set forth in the mandatory disclosure provisions of N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.7. Accordingly, the ALJ granted the Board's motion for summary decision, denied petitioner's opposing motion, and dismissed the petition in its entirety.

Upon a comprehensive review, the Commissioner agreed with the findings and conclusions of the ALJ in this matter. Finding the petitioner's exceptions unpersuasive, the Commissioner adopted the Initial Decision of the OAL as the final decision in this matter. The petition was dismissed.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Decision

A.B.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the City of Hackensack, Bergen County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed, as have the exceptions filed by the petitioner in accordance with N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4, and the Board's reply thereto.

This matter stems from two sexually explicit posts shared on social media by petitioner in 2013, when she was employed as a teacher by the Board. Despite the fact that several students had access to her social media posts, petitioner posted "Kiss me, I'm Irish. F me, I'm Irish" as well as "Women say, men only think with their penis – Ladies, don't be afraid to blow their minds." When the Board became aware of the posts, it considered taking disciplinary action against petitioner. Thereafter, petitioner, her union representatives, and her legal counsel met with the Board and its legal representation, which resulted in a settlement agreement dated April 25, 2013 and petitioner's subsequent resignation. The settlement agreement contained a confidentiality provision with the disclaimer "to the extent provided by law."

In 2019, petitioner sought employment with the Clifton School District (Clifton). Pursuant to the "Pass the Trash" statute, N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6 through 7.13, which was enacted in 2018, Clifton submitted a questionnaire to the Board inquiring about whether petitioner had been the subject of a child abuse or sexual misconduct investigation. The Board answered "Yes", that petitioner had been the subject of a child abuse or sexual misconduct investigation and that petitioner had resigned while the allegations were pending or under investigation. As a result, Clifton withdrew its offer to hire petitioner.

Petitioner filed a complaint in Superior Court, Chancery Division, seeking to compel the Board to correct its response to the employment questionnaire. The matter was transferred to the Commissioner and transmitted to the OAL. Following cross motions for summary decision, the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) found that the Board's disclosure of information in its response to Clifton's questionnaire was required by N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.7 because in 2013, while petitioner was a teacher in Hackensack schools, the Board had been conducting a sexual misconduct investigation regarding petitioner's social media posts which contained content proscribed under N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6's definition of sexual misconduct. The ALJ also concluded that N.J.S.A. 18:6-7.12 did not exempt settlement agreements entered into before June 1, 2018 from the mandatory disclosure provisions of the "Pass the Trash" statute. Additionally, the ALJ found that petitioner consented to the disclosure of the information by signing an authorization form.

In her exceptions, petitioner takes exception to many of the ALJ's factual findings and conclusions of law. Petitioner mainly objects to the factual finding that students saw petitioner's social media posts in 2013, as well as the conclusion that a sexual misconduct investigation had taken place thereafter. Petitioner points to the certification of Richard E. Salkin, Esq., the Board attorney who negotiated the settlement with petitioner, which indicated that to his knowledge, there was no investigation into petitioner for sexual misconduct or child abuse. Petitioner also points to the certification of Lauren E. McGovern, Esq., who certified that she spoke with the Detective who reviewed the social media posts in 2013, and that he met with the prosecutor and agreed that an investigation was not warranted. Petitioner contends that the ALJ misinterpreted the definition of sexual misconduct and that petitioner was not accused of sexual misconduct as it was defined at the time of her resignation.

Petitioner argues that the 2013 settlement agreement is exempt from the statute's reporting requirements because the clear language of N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.12 creates a savings clause. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.12 states that "On or after the effective date of this act," districts may not enter into contracts or agreements that will suppress or destroy information relating to a child abuse or sexual misconduct investigation; affect the ability of a school district to report such behavior; or require a district to expunge such information (unless found to be false or unsubstantiated). N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.12 also states that "[a]ny provision of an employment contract or agreement for resignation or termination or a severance agreement that is executed, amended, or entered into after the effective date of this act and that is contrary to this section shall be void and unenforceable." Petitioner argues that because the statute specifically refers to contracts entered into after the effective date as being unenforceable, those entered into before that date are still valid. Petitioner also contends that the signing of a consent form so that Clifton could obtain necessary employment records did not waive the confidentiality terms of her 2013 settlement agreement. She further argues that she did not authorize the release of information that is not true, as she was not accused of sexual misconduct. Finally, petitioner argues that her due process rights were violated because she did not have the opportunity to challenge the Board's answer to the employment questionnaire, which had the result of ending her teaching career. As such, the petitioner asks the Commissioner to reverse the Initial Decision.

In reply, the Board argues that the ALJ was correct in his determinations. The Board points out that the certification of principal Jim Montesano demonstrates that a sexual misconduct investigation occurred, and that he had reached out to law enforcement for assistance. Additionally, the Board maintains the certification also demonstrates that Montesano was informed that students had viewed the social media posts and commented on them. The Board points out that the ALJ engaged in an extensive analysis of the definition of sexual misconduct and concluded that the Board appropriately found that petitioner's actions warranted an investigation. The Board contends that the ALJ properly determined that the legislation does not exempt settlement agreements that were entered into prior to the effective date of the Act. According to the Board, petitioner authorized the release of the information and she has not demonstrated that the Board acted in bad faith. As such, the Board urges the Commissioner to adopt the Initial Decision.

Upon review, the Commissioner agrees with the ALJ that the Board appropriately disclosed information regarding a sexual misconduct investigation into petitioner as a response to Clifton's employment questionnaire. The "Pass the Trash" statute defines sexual misconduct as:

> any verbal, nonverbal, written, or electronic communication, or any other act directed toward or with a student that is designed to establish a sexual relationship with the student, including a sexual invitation, dating or soliciting a date, engaging in sexual dialogue, making sexually suggestive comments, self-disclosure or physical exposure of a sexual or erotic nature, and any other sexual, indecent or erotic contact with a student.

The statute requires schools to reach out to the past employers of applicants and inquire whether they were ever the subject of a child abuse or sexual misconduct investigation, unless the allegations were found to be unsubstantiated; whether they were disciplined, discharged, nonrenewed, asked to resign, or resigned pending an investigation; or whether they had action taken against a professional license or certificate due to the allegations. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.7b.

In this matter, the Board reported that petitioner had been the subject of a sexual misconduct investigation and that she resigned while the investigation was still pending. The Commissioner finds that the Board accurately answered the questions on the employment questionnaire. The certification of principal Jim Montesano indicates that as a result of petitioner's social media posts, "the school launched an investigation into [petitioner's] potential sexual misconduct." Other certifications in the record do not directly dispute that statement. For example, the certification of Richard E. Salkin, Esq., the Board attorney at the time, states that "[t]o my knowledge, there was no investigation of [petitioner] for sexual misconduct or child abuse by the School Administration, DYFS, the Hackensack Police or the Bergen County Prosecutor's Office." While he may not have been personally aware of an investigation, that statement does not mean that one did not occur. Additionally, while law enforcement may have chosen not to act, it is important to note that the question does not require that the investigation involve the police. The Board was required to answer if petitioner "was the subject of any child abuse or sexual misconduct investigation by any employer, State licensing agency, law enforcement agency, or the Department of Children and Families." N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.7b. As such, even though petitioner was not the subject of a sexual misconduct investigation by law enforcement, the Board answered yes because she had been the subject of an investigation at the school level. Moreover, the fact that the principal reached out to law enforcement further demonstrates that an investigation was underway – even if it was in the early stages – when petitioner reached a settlement agreement with the Board and resigned her teaching position in the wake of the sexual misconduct allegations.

Considering the definition of sexual misconduct, the Commissioner finds that it is reasonable that the Board conducted an investigation into sexual misconduct based on petitioner's actions. Petitioner's social media posts could meet the definition of electronic communications that are directed toward or with a student that are designed to establish a sexual relationship with the student, such as making sexually suggestive comments. The Commissioner notes that the Board did not report that she committed sexual misconduct, but rather that they had launched an investigation into potential sexual misconduct, and that petitioner resigned prior to the completion of the investigation. As such, it is not necessary to conduct a full analysis of whether her actions met the definition of sexual misconduct; it is sufficient that her actions could meet the definition and that the Board therefore opened an investigation.

The Commissioner also agrees with the ALJ that N.J.S.A. 18:6-7.12 did not exempt settlement agreements entered into before June 1, 2018 from the mandatory disclosure provisions of the "Pass the Trash" statute. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.12 states:

> a. On or after the effective date of this act, a school district, charter school, nonpublic school, or contracted service provider may not enter into a collectively bargained or negotiated agreement, an employment contract, an agreement for resignation or termination, a severance agreement, or any other contract or agreement or take any action that:
> (1) has the effect of suppressing or destroying information relating to an investigation related to a report of suspected child abuse or sexual misconduct by a current or former employee;
> (2) affects the ability of the school district, charter school, nonpublic school, or contracted service provider to report suspected child abuse or sexual misconduct to the appropriate authorities; or
> (3) requires the school district, charter school, nonpublic school, or contracted service provider to expunge information about allegations or finding of suspected child abuse or sexual misconduct from any documents maintained by the school district, charter school, nonpublic school, or contracted service provider, > unless after investigation the allegations are found to be false or the alleged incident of child abuse or sexual misconduct has not been substantiated.

> b. Any provision of an employment contract or agreement for resignation or termination or a severance agreement that is executed, amended, or entered into after the effective date of this act and that is contrary to this section shall be void and unenforceable.

Accordingly, the statute provides that "On or after the effective date of this act," school districts cannot enter into agreements or contracts that would hinder the reporting obligations of the statute. That provision places an obligation on school districts moving forward and cannot be interpreted as waiving settlement agreements entered into before that date. Similarly, Part B above automatically voids contracts or agreements that are contrary to the section but fails to exempt prior settlement agreements from the reporting obligations of the Act. The Commissioner also notes that the Act requires the disclosure of information regarding an applicant's past 20 years of work history. It would be contrary to the spirit and purpose of the legislation to permit the shielding of information prior to the Act's effective date. Moreover, while petitioner's settlement agreement is not exempt from the Act's requirements, the Commissioner further notes that petitioner also consented to the disclosure of information by signing an authorization form and that her settlement agreement provided a waiver of its confidentiality provision when required by law.

The Commissioner does not find petitioner's exceptions to be persuasive. The ALJ's finding of fact that students saw petitioner's social media post was supported by the record. The certification of principal Jim Montesano stated: "I requested that Detective Luis Furcal, in conjunction with the Bergen County Prosecutor's office, review AB's social media postings to confirm that students were able to view, access, and comment on AB's social media page. Detective Furcal stated AB's pages were viewed and commented on by AB's students." Petitioner points to the certifications of Richard E. Salkin, Esq. and Lauren E. McGovern, Esq., but neither of those certifications dispute that students saw the social media posts. Salkin's certification did not discuss the viewing of the posts at all. McGovern's certification indicates that she met with the Detective who recalled seeing the social media posts, and he decided with the prosecutor's office not to pursue an investigation; however, the certification does not address whether he confirmed that students viewed the social media posts. Petitioner also argues that her due process rights were violated. Here, the Board complied with the requirements of the Act, and petitioner has been afforded the opportunity to challenge the Board's action in this forum.

Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL is adopted as the final decision in this matter. The petition is hereby dismissed.

A.B.,

Petitioner,

vs.

CITY OF HACKENSACK BOARD OF EDUCATION,
BERGEN COUNTY,

Respondent.

Alfred Maurice, Esq., for Petitioner, A.B. (Springstead & Maurice, attorneys)

John Geppert, Esq., for Respondent, Hackensack BOE (Scarinci & Hollenbeck, attorneys)

Record Closed: April 7, 2021 Decided: July 22, 2021

BEFORE: JOHN P. SCOLLO, ALJ

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner, A.B., challenges Respondent, City of Hackensack Board of Education's (hereinafter the "BOE") dissemination of information regarding her employment. Petitioner contends that Hackensack BOE released certain employment-related information, which was inaccurate and violative of their April 25, 2013 Settlement Agreement, causing her to lose her teaching job with a subsequent employer, the Clifton BOE. Hackensack BOE contends that it was obligated to release the information pursuant to the "Don't Pass the Trash" Statute, N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6, et seq.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

After an exchange of several letters between counsel for a woman herein referred to only as "A.B." and the BOE's counsel, A.B. filed a Verified Complaint in the Superior Court of New Jersey, Chancery Division (Docket Number BER-C-216-19) seeking: to enforce the terms of the parties' April 25, 2013 Settlement Agreement (officially signed by Hackensack BOE's representative on May 6, 2013); to compel the BOE to rescind and correct its response to the Clifton BOE's questionnaire; to procure a permanent injunction prohibiting Hackensack BOE from reporting, transmitting, or otherwise communicating information to any prospective employer of A.B. that is the subject of an inquiry pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.7, and seeking an award of compensatory and punitive money damages from Hackensack BOE arising out of the loss of the teaching job which A.B. had been offered and which she had accepted from the Clifton BOE with an effective start date of September 1, 2019.

On November 19, 2019, James J. DeLuca, J.S.C. of the Chancery Division issued an Order dismissing the Verified Complaint and transferring the dispute to the Commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Education for a substantive determination of the issues raised in the parties' cross-motions for Summary Judgment. Upon receipt of the matter by the Department of Education's Office of Controversies and Disputes, the matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law, where it was filed on November 26, 2019 as a contested case pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15 and N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to 13.

On December 20, 2019, the matter was assigned to John P. Scollo, ALJ. After an Initial telephone Conference, a Pre-Hearing Order was issued on December 20, 2019 and the parties embarked on the discovery process. After several telephone conferences, it was decided that the parties would file cross-motions for Summary Decision. The parties filed for Summary Decision on July 8, 2020 followed by Opposition papers and Reply papers, which were received by August 12, 2020. On March 19, 2021, the Tribunal asked for additional briefing. The parties submitted their additional papers on April 7, 2021 and the record closed.

UNDISPUTED FACTS

From their submissions, the Parties are in agreement regarding the following statements of fact.

(1) In 2013, A.B. posted images and statements on her personal social media account on the Internet.

(2) Some of A.B.'s postings denoted or connoted or contained sexual content.

(3) One of A.B.'s postings contained an image depicting the statements, '"Kiss me, I'm Irish" followed by the statement "Fuck Me, I'm Irish." Another image posted by A.B. referred to male genitalia and the act of fellatio and contained words, which if taken literally, encouraged ladies to engage in fellatio. It read, "Women say, men only think with their penis – Ladies, don't be afraid to blow their minds."

(4) Some of A.B.'s postings contain material which, depending upon the viewer's sensibilities, range from being insensitive, showing poor taste, being crude, coarse, or vulgar, to being perceived as obscene, lewd or lascivious.

(5) Among those who had access to A.B.'s social media posts were some students in the Hackensack School District, where A.B. was employed as a teacher.

(6) The Principal of Hackensack High School, Jim Montesano, stated in his Certification (which has not been shown to be inaccurate) that the aforesaid posts were made on A.B.'s social media account, which was accessible by students. In his Certification, Montesano stated that Detective Luis Furcal, in conjunction with the Bergen County Prosecutor's Office, confirmed to him that students had viewed A.B.'s pages and had commented on them.

(7) A.B. is a school teacher. Like police officers, teachers are among the class of individuals who are under a duty to behave appropriately wherever they may be, because by the very nature of their professions, they are visible to the public and represent their professions.

(8) In 2013, A.B.'s postings came to the attention of school officials and to the Hackensack Board of Education and the BOE considered taking disciplinary action, which led to discussions between A.B. and her representatives and the BOE and its representatives.

(9) In April, 2013, A.B., her union representatives, and her legal counsel met with the BOE and the BOE's legal counsel regarding the controversy over the postings. The BOE asserted, and A.B. did not deny, that the discussions between the two sides took place between April 22, 2013 and April 25, 2013. The discussions and all related matters concluded when the parties reached an agreement on April 25, 2013 whereupon A.B. signed the Settlement Agreement. After the BOE, at its meeting on May 6, 2013 approved the settlement, it was signed and it became effective as of April 25, 2013.

(10) Both sides to this matter have copies of the April 25, 2013 Settlement Agreement and have forwarded same to the OAL.

(11) The "Don't Pass the Trash" statute is codified at N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6 through 7.13 and its effective date was June 1, 2018.

(12) There was no accusation of "child abuse" against A.B.

(13) In answer to Clifton's questionnaire, the Hackensack School District gave "yes" answers to Clifton's questions which asked if A.B. was: (1) the subject of an investigation into child abuse or sexual misconduct by any employer, State licensing agency, law enforcement agency or the Department of Children and Families, and (2) was disciplined, discharged, nonrenewed, asked to resign, resigned or was otherwise separated from employment while child abuse or sexual misconduct allegations were pending or were under investigation, or due to an adjudication or finding of child abuse or sexual misconduct.

DISCUSSION

A.B.'s Position

A.B. maintains that N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.12 specifically exempts agreements entered before the statute's effective date of June 1, 2018 from the disclosure requirements set forth in N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.7. Referring to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.12 as a "grandfather provision" or "savings clause", A.B. maintains that any agreement entered before June 1, 2018 effective date of the "Don't Pass the Trash" statute, such as the April 25, 2013 Settlement Agreement, is exempt from the purview of the "Don't Pass the Trash" statute, including the reporting requirements set forth in N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.7.

A.B. maintains that her social media posts can not be construed to meet the definitions of "child abuse" or of "sexual misconduct" as those terms are defined by the "Don't Pass the Trash" statute, N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6.

It is A.B.'s position that the subject matter that led to the Settlement Agreement concerned her use of or alleged misuse of social media, not sexual misconduct. Specifically, A.B. stated in her July 7, 2020 Certification that the BOE's accusation was that her use of social media was "unprofessional behavior that included offensive social media posts, some of which were sexual in nature."

It is A.B.'s position that she underwent a "disciplinary review", not an investigation into sexual misconduct. A.B. contends that there was no investigation conducted by the BOE (or by any other agency of government) which was an investigation into child abuse or sexual misconduct as those terms are defined by N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6. Thus, A.B. maintains that the BOE acted improperly when it stated in answer to the questionnaire from Clifton that A.B. separated from her employment with Hackensack School District while an investigation into child abuse or sexual misconduct was occurring.

A.B. maintains that the Confidentiality provision, Numbered Paragraph 11 of the April 25, 2013 Settlement Agreement, absolutely prohibited the BOE from divulging any information about the circumstances leading to her resignation. In her action against the BOE, A.B. maintains that the BOE violated the terms of their April 25, 2013 Agreement. A.B. maintains that that the BOE was obligated, under the April 25, 2013 Settlement Agreement, not to release any information beyond her name, position, dates of employment and salary to a prospective employer.

The BOE's Position

It is the position of the BOE that the subject matter that led to the Settlement Agreement concerned A.B.'s use of sexually-suggestive images and words in her postings on her social media account, which was accessible by students in the Hackensack School District. The BOE maintains that it conducted an investigation of whether A.B. used her social media account in 2013 in a manner consistent with sexual misconduct as that term was understood in 2013 and as it was later defined with the enactment of the "Don't Pass the Trash" statute in 2018. It is the BOE's position that it actually did conduct a sexual misconduct investigation of A.B. because it probed into whether she used sexually suggestive images and content on her social media account in 2013 and because it sought and obtained confirmation that students viewed A.B.'s posts.

It is the BOE's position that when it received an inquiry from a school (in this case the Clifton School District or "Clifton") seeking information about an applicant under the "Don't Pass the Trash" statute, it was - from June 1, 2018 forward - required to report any investigation into sexual misconduct (whether the investigation took place in the past or the present) during which a separation from employment took place either while such allegations were pending or while an investigation was still in progress; and to do so regardless of how the term "sexual misconduct" was understood in 2013 and how it was later defined with the enactment of the "Don't Pass the Trash" statute in 2018.

The BOE points out that the April 25, 2013 Settlement Agreement contains, in Numbered Paragraph 11 entitled "Confidentiality", two references to the Settlement Agreement being subject to the prevailing law of the State of New Jersey. The first reference simply states that the terms of the agreement and the matters discussed in negotiating the terms of the agreement "are confidential, to the extent permitted by law." The BOE's point is that the confidentiality provision of the Settlement is not absolute; it is subject to the requirements of the prevailing law of the State of New Jersey. The BOE maintains that the enactment of the "Don't Pass the Trash" statute modified the scope of things that were previously shielded by the confidentiality provision of the April 25, 2013 Settlement Agreement.

The second reference to the Settlement Agreement being subject to the prevailing law of the State of New Jersey, is a provision obligating the parties not to "divulge, discuss, publicize, disclose or in any way communicate ... circumstances leading to A.B.'s resignation in the District except as required by law without the express written authorization by an authorized representative off the other party."

The BOE's position is that as of June 1, 2018, when the "Don't Pass the Trash" statute became effective, the prevailing law of New Jersey changed. The change obligated the BOE to respond to a prospective employer's background check questionnaire regarding A.B.'s employment history, a history which contained a resignation that occurred while a sexual misconduct investigation was ongoing.

Analysis of the Parties' Respective Positions

The definition of "sexual misconduct" set forth in N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6 refers to "communications", "acts" and "other contacts" (referring to communicative contacts, not physical contacts). Several questions arise. They are: Did any content of A.B.'s posts include any of the several specific types of proscribed "communications", "acts" or "contacts" with students set forth in the definition of sexual misconduct? For instance, were there any "sexually suggestive comments" in the posts? If so, were any comments "directed toward or with a student that was designed to establish a sexual relationship with a student"? What is meant by "directed toward"? What is meant by "designed"? The answers to these questions will affect the outcome of the matter at bar.

A.B. characterizes her posts as attempts at humor directed toward her adult audience, not toward students. A.B. states that none of her posts could seriously be construed as an attempt on her part to establish a sexual relationship with a particular student or with students in general. The BOE considers the posts quoted herein to have been sexually suggestive communications and violative of the standard of conduct appropriate to someone who has regular contact with students. Moreover, the BOE points out that A.B.'s posts were directed to her entire audience, which included students, and therefore must be considered as directed toward students, among others.

The BOE maintains that it was required by law (N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.7) to report whether the applicant resigned, was terminated, etcetera while an investigation into sexual misconduct was in progress. The BOE's position is that as long as a student had access to A.B.'s social media posts, any statements, images, etcetera contained in the posts must be considered as "directed toward students", even if the same posts were also directed toward others. The BOE relies on the confirmation by Detective Luis Furcal, who confirmed that some of A.B.'s students had access to the posts in question and that at least one student commented on one of the posts. The BOE maintains that since A.B. resigned during an ongoing investigation of "sexually suggestive comments" (one of the proscribed forms of conduct listed in the "Don't Pass the Trash" statute's definition of "sexual misconduct"), it was obligated to report this when answering Clifton's questionnaire.

The question of intent is always difficult to analyze and decide. A.B. pointed out that she is a married woman, that she has had no intent to establish a sexual relationship with a student, and that there is absolutely no evidence of any kind proving that such has been her intent. A.B.'s counsel criticized the BOE for attempting to read A.B.'s mind.

The BOE would be forced to concede that, without direct evidence (testimonial or documentary) of an actual communication or action by and between A.B. and a student regarding the establishment of a sexual encounter or relationship, it would have no way of looking into A.B.'s mind to prove what A.B.'s actual intent was when she made her posts on social media. The BOE is left with the task of finding some circumstantial evidence, (relying on an inference to prove its case) or resting its case on a presumption to prove that her communications were designed (not "intended") to establish a sexual relationship with a student.

Here, in its attempt to prove "design" (i.e., the A.B.'s posts were "designed to establish a sexual relationship"), the BOE points to the sexually-charged and provocative nature of the statements (and the specific words used therein) which A.B. consciously and deliberately decided to post on her social media, knowing that some students had access to her site. The BOE points to two (of several) statements (posts) in particular. The first post was: "Kiss me, I'm Irish" followed by "Fuck me, I'm Irish". The BOE's position is that this post, on its face, can be construed as a frank invitation by the person posting it to engage in an act of sexual intercourse. The second post was: "Women say men only think with their penis. Ladies, don't be afraid to blow their minds." The BOE's position is that this post equates a man's penis to his mind and that the person posting it encourages ladies to "blow" (a slang reference to fellatio) the man's mind/penis. The latter posting was accompanied by A.B.'s admission: "This is totally inappropriate for me to post, but it actually made me laugh." In support of its position, the BOE presents A.B.'s admission that her post was "inappropriate" and that she decided to post it anyway despite the fact that students could see it.

The BOE's approach to establishing A.B.'s "design" appears to be as follows. The BOE notes that A.B.'s posts contained sexually-suggestive statements, which were knowingly made to an audience that included students. The BOE notes that the "Don't Pass the Trash" is remedial and seeks to prevent persons who have a history of improper sexual conduct from having regular contact with students. The BOE's position appears to be that, going forward from June 1, 2018, for the purposes of reporting a present or former employee's improper sexual conduct (be it "child abuse" or "sexual misconduct") under 6-7.7, the remedial and preventative intent of the statute is to require the reporting district to report any prior (going back twenty years) or present allegation or investigation into child abuse or sexual misconduct to the inquiring employer (unless the investigation found the allegations to be false or "not substantiated".)

The Tribunal finds it noteworthy that the definition of "sexual misconduct" contains the word "designed" rather that the word "intended". This suggests that the Legislature did not seek to place the burden of proving the actor's or communicator's intent on the reporting district. The use of the word "designed" indicates that the Legislature envisioned situations wherein the actor's or communicator's conduct might be suspected as an attempt to entice a student into a sexual relationship, but without placing the burden on the district of proving the actor's or communicator's actual intent. The wording of the definition of "sexual misconduct" in 6-7.6 is such that it assumes, and perhaps establishes a presumption, that when a teacher communicates, acts or contacts a student with a message that includes "a sexual invitation, dating or soliciting a date, engaging in sexual dialogue, making sexually suggestive comments, self-disclosure or physical exposure of a sexual or erotic nature, and any other sexual, indecent or erotic contact with a student", that message is inherently suspicious and is to be treated by the BOE as being "designed" (which connotes something approaching being "intended") to establish a sexual relationship.

Analysis of the "grandfather provision" or "savings clause"

N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.12(b) reads as follows:

> "b. Any provision of an employment contract or agreement for resignation or termination or a severance agreement that is executed, amended, or entered into after the effective date [June 1, 2018] of this act and that is contrary to this section shall be void and unenforceable."

A.B. maintains that when the Legislature enacted the "Don't Pass the Trash" statute , N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6 to 6-7.12, it intended that the disclosure requirements of N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.7 would apply only to inquiries made by prospective employers made after the June 1, 2018 effective date of the statute; and that any such inquiries could only inquire into allegations, investigations, findings or agreements entered after June 1, 2018. A.B. maintains that the literal meaning of N.J.S.A 18A:6-7.12, specifically 6-7.12 (b), should be give full effect.

The lynchpin of A.B.'s argument, indeed of her entire case, is that the Legislature intended that the disclosure provisions of 6-7.7 only apply prospectively from June 1, 2018. A.B.'s position is that 6-7.12's automatic voiding of agreements which seek to shield or suppress information about child abuse or sexual misconduct investigations or findings made after the effective date of the statute, June 1, 2018, clearly demonstrates the Legislature's intent to exempt these types of provisions in agreements entered before June 1, 2018 from being voided. It therefore follows that any agreement, such as the one entered by the Hackensack BOE and A.B. before June 1, 2018 containing provisions which shield information about whether an employee separated from his or her employment over allegations, an investigation, a finding or an agreement related to child abuse or sexual misconduct is not subject to the disclosure provisions of 6-7.7.

Utilizing an English translation of the maxim Expressio unius est exclusio alterius (The expression of one [thing] is the exclusion of the other [thing])", A.B. set forth her position as follows: if the Legislature wanted to make settlement agreements which were entered before June 1, 2018 subject to 6-7.7, it would have said so expressly in the statute. A.B. furthermore states that the absence of such a provision means that the Legislature literally intended to keep all prior agreements intact and not subject to 6-7.7 disclosure requirements. A.B. contends that it follows that the April 25, 2013 Settlement Agreement precludes the release of any information about the discussions leading up to the parties' agreement, including the nature of the BOE's disciplinary inquiry into A.B.'s actions, whether or not there was an investigation into child abuse or sexual misconduct, and the reasons for the cessation of A.B.'s employment with the Hackensack BOE. A.B.'s conclusion is that pre-June 1, 2018 agreements containing such confidential information were "grandfathered-in" by 6-7.12.

The BOE maintains that N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.12 does not exempt Settlement Agreements entered before June 1, 2018 from the statute's reporting requirements. The BOE recognizes that the provisions of 6-7.12(b), specifically prohibit agreements entered after June 1, 2018 which suppress, destroy or otherwise safeguard information that would be disclosable under 6-7.7. However, the BOE argues that the application of "Expressio unius est exclusio alterius" could also be employed to favor the BOE's position. That is, if the Legislature intended pre-June 1, 2018 agreements to be exempt from the reporting requirements of 6-7.7, it would have expressly stated this.

The BOE contends that there is no Legislative intent in the "Don't Pass the Trash" statute to create a "grandfather" provision or "savings clause". The BOE contends that A.B.'s interpretation and use of "Expressio unius est exclusio alterius" would run counter the spirit of the "Don't Pass the Trash" statute and thereby undermine its purpose. The BOE contends that the clear intent of the "Don't Pass the Trash" statute was to identify persons who were either adjudicated to be involved in child abuse or in sexual misconduct or who became separated from their employments while such charges were alleged or were being investigated (thus avoiding adjudication).

The BOE, although not specifically quoting it, relies on the maxim, "Ratio legis est anima legis" ('The reason for [or underlying] the law is the soul [spirit] of the law"). Indeed, the BOE contends that the entire intent behind N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6 through 7.13 was to remediate a system that continued to allow people with histories of child abuse or sexual misconduct from having the opportunity to interact with students. The intent of the statute is to specifically require that such histories be revealed pursuant to 6-7.7 in order to protect students by identifying such people and deterring them from applying for positions in which they would have regular contact with students.

The BOE argues that A.B. signed an authorization in 2018 specifically authorizing the release of "... any and all information and the release of documentation within your (the school district's) possession in relation to any investigation in which I was accused of child abuse or sexual is conduct ...." A.B.'s response to the BOE's argument is that she was required by N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.7 (a)(2) to provide her signed authorization, which she did indeed provide. However, A.B. further responds that the BOE was required to honor the April 25, 2013 Settlement Agreement by only giving A.B.'s name, position, dates of employment, and salary.

A.B. contends that she was accused of misue of social media and that there was no investigation into sexual misconduct as defined by the statute. Therefore, A.B. contends that the information which the BOE released to Clifton was incorrectly and improperly disclosed and was done with malice. The BOE relies on the Certification of Principal Joe Montesano, in which he stated that A.B.'s posts came to the school officials' attention, that the posts appeared to contain inappropriate content and sexual content. He stated that the BOE looked into the content and confirmed by Detective Furcal that it was viewed and commented upon by students. Based upon this, meetings were held, which resulted in A.B. submitting her resignation as part of the April 25, 2013 Settlement Agreement.

Bottom Line Analysis

The BOE maintains that A.B. authorized the release of the information, and that it is therefore immune from liability. The BOE further says that it had been conducting a sexual misconduct investigation. The BOE believed that A.B. made sexually-suggestive posts, which were viewed and commented upon by students. The BOE maintains that the inquiry ended because parties negotiated the Settlement Agreement. Essentially, the BOE's case is that it followed the law (N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.7).

Essentially, A.B.'s entire case hangs on her contentions that the BOE did not conduct a sexual misconduct investigation in 2013 (as that term was defined five years afterwards in the "Don't Pass the Trash" statute) and that N.J.S.A 18A:6-7.12 "grandfathered" any agreements sheltering any information about any investigation which the BOE may have conducted into allegations of A.B.'s suspected involvement in sexual misconduct in 2013. A.B. maintains that the BOE breached the April 25, 2013 Settlement Agreement by maliciously releasing confidential information costing her a job with Clifton.

APPLICABLE LAW

The "Don't Pass the Trash Statute" is found at N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6 to 7.13. For the matter at bar, the applicable sections of the statute are:

(1) N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6 (Definition of "sexual misconduct");

(2) N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.7 (Requirements for certain school employees);

(3) N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.9 (Verification, disclosure of information);

(4) N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.10 (Review, further inquiries); and

(5) N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.11 (Information not deemed public record; immunity);

(6) N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.12 (Prohibited actions relative to certain agreements, employment contracts).

The definition of "sexual misconduct" is set forth in N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6 as follows:

> "Sexual misconduct" means any verbal, nonverbal, written, or electronic communication, or any other act directed toward or with a student that is designed to establish a sexual relationship with the student, including sexual invitation, dating or soliciting a date, engaging in a sexual dialogue, making sexually suggestive comments, self-disclosure or physical disclosure of a sexual or erotic nature, and any other sexual, indecent or erotic contact with a student."

The "Don't Pass the Trash" statute specifies certain duties and procedures for the employer or former employer to follow and for the applicant/ teacher to follow in regard to providing information to prospective employers about whether the applicant's work history includes information about his or her conduct regarding the subjects of sexual misconduct and child abuse. They are set forth in N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.7 as follows:

> "A school district, charter school, nonpublic school, or contracted service provider holding a contract with a school district, charter school or nonpublic school shall not employ for pay or contract for the paid services of any person serving in a position which involves regular contact with students unless the school district, charter school, nonpublic school, or contracted service provider:

a. Requires the applicant to provide:

(1) A list, including name, address, telephone number and other relevant contact information of the applicant's:
(a) Current employer;
(b) all former employers within the last 20 years that were schools; and
(c) all former employers within the last 20 years where the applicant was employed in a position that involved direct contact with children; and

(2) A written authorization that consents to and authorizes disclosure of the information requested under subsection b. of this section and the release of related records by the applicant's employers listed under paragraph (1) of this subsection, and that releases those employers from liability that may arise from the disclosure or release of records;

(3) A written statement as to whether the applicant:

(a) has been the subject of any child abuse or sexual misconduct investigation by any employer, State licensing agency, law enforcement agency, or the Department of Children and Families, unless the investigation resulted in a finding that the allegations were false or the alleged incident of child abuse or sexual misconduct was not substantiated;

(b) has ever been disciplined discharged, nonrenewed, asked to resign from employment, resigned from or otherwise separated from any employment while allegation of child abuse or sexual misconduct were pending or under investigation, or due to an adjudication or finding of child abuse or sexual misconduct; or

(c) has ever had a license, professional license, or certificate suspended, surrendered, or revoked while allegations of child abuse or sexual misconduct were pending or under investigation, or due to an adjudication or finding of child abuse or sexual misconduct; and

b. Conducts a review of the employment history of the applicant by contacting those employers listed by the applicant under the provisions of paragraph (1) of subsection a. of this section and requesting the following information:

(1) The dates of employment of the applicant; and
(2) a statement as to whether the applicant:

> (a) was the subject of any child abuse or sexual misconduct investigation by any employer, State licensing agency, law enforcement agency, or the department of Children and Families, unless the investigation resulted in a finding that the allegations were false or the alleged incident of child abuse or sexual misconduct was not substantiated;
> (b) was disciplined, discharged, nonrenewed, asked to resign from employment, resigned from or otherwise separated from any employment while allegations of child abuse or sexual misconduct were pending or under investigation, or due to an adjudication or finding of child abuse or sexual misconduct; or
> (c) has ever had a license, professional license, or certificate suspended, surrendered, or revoked while allegations of child abuse or sexual misconduct were pending or under investigation, or due to an adjudication of finding of child abuse or sexual misconduct.

The review of the employment history may be conducted through telephonic, electronic, or written communications. If the review is conducted by telephone, the results of the review shall be documented in writing by the prospective employer."

N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.9 (a) provides that the applicant's employer or former employer must respond to the prospective employer's request for information submitted under N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.7 within 20 days after receiving the request.

N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.9 (b) provides that the prospective employer must make diligent efforts to verify the information requested of out-of-state employers.

N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.9 (c) provides that the failure of an employer or former employer to provide the information requested by a prospective employer under N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.7 may be grounds for the automatic disqualification of an applicant from employment. If that is the case, then the prospective employer shall not be liable to the applicant who is not offered employment or whose employment is terminated due to information received or due to the prospective employer's inability to conduct a full review of the applicant's employment history.

The full text of N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.9 (d) reads as follows:

> "A school district, charter school, nonpublic school or contracted service provider shall have the right to > immediately terminate an individual's employment or rescind an offer of employment if:

> (1) the applicant is offered or commences employment with the school district, charter school, nonpublic school, or contract service provider following the effective date [June 1, 2018] of this act; and
> (2) information regarding the applicant's history of sexual misconduct or child abuse is subsequently discovered or obtained by the employer that the employer determines disqualifies the applicant or employee from employment with the school district, charter school, nonpublic school or contracted service provider.

The termination of employment pursuant to this subsection shall not be subject to any grievance or appeals procedures or tenure proceedings pursuant to any collectively bargained or negotiated agreement or any law, rule, or regulation."

N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.10 (a) provides that if a prospective employer receives information from an applicant's employer or previous employer indicating that there is a history of child abuse or sexual misconduct, then the prospective employer is required to make further inquiries to ascertain additional details regarding the matter(s) disclosed. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.10 (b) provides that a prospective employer may employ an applicant on a provisional basis for no more than 90 days as long as:

> (1) the applicant has complied with N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.7(a), disclosing current and previous employers; and
> (2) the applicant has submitted a written statement disclosing whether he or she has ever been the subject of any child abuse or sexual misconduct investigation; has been disciplined, discharged, nonrenewed, asked to resign, resigned, or otherwise been separated from employment while allegations of child abuse or sexual misconduct were pending or under investigation; or has ever had a license, professional license, or certificate suspended, surrendered or revoked while allegations of child abuse or sexual misconduct were pending or under investigation; and
> (3) the prospective employer determines that special or emergent circumstances exist that justify the temporary employment of the applicant.

The full text of N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.11 reads as follows:

> "a. Information received by an employer under this act [C.18A:6-7.6, et seq.] shall not be deemed a public record under P.L. 1963, c.73 (C.47:1A-1 et seq.) or the common law concerning access to public records.
> b. An employer, school district, charter school, nonpublic school, school administrator, or contracted service provider that provides information or records about a current or former employee or applicant shall be immune from criminal and civil liability for the disclosure of the information, unless the information or records provided were knowingly false. The immunity shall be in addition to and not in limitation of any other immunity provided by law.

The full text of N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.12 reads as follows:

> "a. On or after the effective date [June 1, 2018] of this act a school district, charter school, nonpublic school, or contracted service provider may not enter into a collectively bargained or negotiated agreement, an employment contract, an agreement for resignation or termination, a severance agreement, or any other contract or agreement or take any action that:
> (1) has the effect of suppressing or destroying information relating to an investigation related to a report of suspected child abuse or sexual misconduct by a current or former employee;
> (2) affects the ability of the school district, charter school, nonpublic school, of contracted service provider to report suspected child abuse or sexual misconduct to the appropriate authorities; or
> (3) requires he school district, charter school, nonpublic school, or contracted service provider to expunge information about allegations or findings of suspected child abuse or sexual misconduct from any documents maintained by the school district, charter school, nonpublic school, or contracted service provider, unless after investigation the allegations are found to be false or the alleged incident of child abuse or sexual misconduct has not been sustained.

> b. Any provision of an employment contract or agreement for resignation or termination or a severance agreement that is executed, amended, or entered into after the effective date [June 1, 2018] of this act and that is contrary to this section shall be void and unenforceable."

The Law of Decorum for Public Employees

Members of certain professions are held to a high standard of conduct because the nature of their callings demand exemplary behavior. The New Jersey Supreme Court defined unbecoming conduct as conduct "which adversely affects the morale or efficiency of the [department]" or "has a tendency to destroy public respect for [government] employees and confidence in the operation of [public] services." In re Young, 202 N.J. 50, 66 (2010), (quoting Karins v. Atlantic City, 152 N.J. 532, 554 (1998). See also, In re Emmons, 63 N.J. Super. 136, 140 (App. Div. 1960) and Asbury Park v. Department of Civil Service, 17 N.J. 419, 429 (1955). The Supreme Court also stated in Karins that a finding of unbecoming conduct "need not 'be predicated upon the violation of any particular rule or regulation, but may be based merely upon the violation of the implicit standard of good behavior which devolves upon one who stands in the public eye as an upholder of that which is morally and legally correct.'" Karins v. Atlantic City at 555 (quoting Hartmann v. Police Department of Ridgewood, 258 N.J. Super. 32, 40 (App. Div. 1992)). In Bound Brook Board of Education v. Glenn Ciripompo, 228 N.J. 4, 14 (2017) the Supreme Court of New Jersey emphasized the interplay of the high standard of conduct borne by teachers and the delicacy of the respect paid by members of the public to the teaching profession when it stated:

> "A charge of unbecoming conduct requires only evidence of inappropriate conduct by teaching professionals. It focuses on the morale, efficiency, and public perception of an entity, and how those concerns are harmed by allowing teachers to behave inappropriately while holding public employment."

Statutory Interpretation

In the case at bar, it is necessary to address the subject of statutory interpretation. When interpreting a statute, the main objective is to discern and further the intent of the Legislature. Bosland v. Warnock Dodge, Inc., 197 N.J. 543, 553 ((2009)

(citing D'Annunzio v. Prudential Ins. Co. of America , 192 N.J. 110 (2007); Daidone v. Buterrick Bulkheading, 191 N.J. 557, 565 (2007)). To discern the Legislature's intent, courts look first to the plain language of the statute in question. DiProspero v. Penn, 183 N.J. 477, (2005) (citing Lozano v. Frank DeLuca Constr.,178 N.J. 513 (2004)). When reading statutory language, courts will give words their ordinary meaning unless the Legislature directs to the contrary. Serv. Armament Co. v. Hyland, 70 N.J. 550 (1970) (citing Safeway Trails, Inc. v. Furman,41 N.J. 467, 487 (1964)). In Richardson v Bd. of Trs, , Police, Firemens's Ret. Sys., 192 N.J. 189 (2007) (citing DiProspero, supra, 183 N.J. at 492), the Supreme Court stated flatly, "If the plain language leads to a clear and unambiguous result, then [the] interpretive process is over." However, if the plain meaning does not point to a "clear and unambiguous result," the courts will then consider extrinsic evidence from which it may glean the Legislature's intent. Bedford v. Riello, 195 N.J. 210 (2008) (citing DiProspero, supra, 183 N.J. at 492-93). Included within the extrinsic evidence rubric are legislative history and statutory context, which may shed light on the drafters' motives. Aponte-Correa v. Allstate Ins. Co., 162 N.J. 318 (2000) (citing Twp. of Pennsauken v. Schad, 160 N.J. 156 (1999)). Regardless of the materials relied upon and the analytical tools employed, in the final analysis, courts should "seek to effectuate the 'fundamental purpose for which the legislation was enacted.'" Schad, supra, 160 N.J. at 170 (quoting N.J. Builders Ass'n. v. Blair, 60 N.J. 330, 338-39 (1972)).

ISSUES

(1) Does N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.12 exempt settlements entered before June 1, 2018 from the mandatory disclosure provisions of N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7?

(2) Did the BOE conduct a sexual misconduct investigation of A.B.?

(3) What is meant by the words "directed toward or with a student" as used in the definition of "sexual misconduct"?

(4) Was any content of A.B.'s comments "directed toward or with a student that was 'designed' to establish a sexual relationship with a student"?

(5) Did any content of A.B.'s social media posts include any of the several specific types of proscribed "communications", "acts" or "contacts" with students set forth in the definition of "sexual misconduct" as found in N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6?

(6) Did A.B. authorize the Hackensack B.O.E. to disclose information to Clifton B.O.E. about the sexual misconduct investigation in 2013?

(7) Did Hackensack B.O.E. follow the requirements of N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6, et seq. (the "Don't Pass the Trash Law")?

(8) If so, is the Hackensack B.O.E. entitled to immunity?

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSIONS

Preliminary Conclusions

From a review of all the evidence in the case, I CONCLUDE that there is no evidence of child abuse in the case at bar. The allegations against A.B. were not for "child abuse", but rather were for "sexual misconduct".

There was discussion about a certain photograph of teenagers in a swimming pool, clad in bathing suits and standing next to each other facing the photographer. Both sides agree that the teenagers are appropriately clad, are doing nothing except posing for a photograph, and I CONCLUDE that there is nothing sexual depicted in said photograph. Moreover, I CONCLUDE that no one has demonstrated that A.B. was in the photograph with the teenagers. I CONCLUDE that the photograph adds nothing to the outcome of this matter.

ISSUE # 1: Does N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.12 exempt agreements entered before June 1, 2018 from the mandatory disclosure provisions of N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7 ?

The parties each presented arguments employing the maxim "Expression unius est exclusio alterius" to their respective advantage. A.B. employed the maxim to support the proposition that by means of 6-7.12 the Legislature sought to regulate only post-June 1, 2018 contracts and agreements and to exempt or leave intact all pre-June 1, 2018 contracts and agreements. The effect of this argument would be the preservation of the confidentiality of certain information protected by the April 25, 2013 Settlement Agreement. The BOE looked to the remedial and protective intent of the "Don't Pass the Trash" statute, reasoning that it would not be consistent for the statute's purposes to exempt pre-June 1, 2018 agreements (like the April 25, 2013 Settlement Agreement) and thus shield the histories of people whom the Legislature sought to deter from taking jobs that allowed regular contact with students. Following the Supreme Court's reasoning in Schad and N.J. Builders Ass'n, supra, I CONCLUDE that the BOE's argument is stronger than A.B.'s argument. However, here, the statute itself contains the answer to the question.

N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.12(b) reads as follows:

> "b. Any provision of an employment contract or agreement for resignation or termination or a severance agreement that is executed, amended, or entered into after the effective date [June 1, 2018] of this act and that is contrary to this section shall be void and unenforceable."

The inclusion of the word "amended" can only refer to contracts or agreements entered before the June 1, 2018 effective date of the "Don't Pass the Trash" statute. This indicates that the Legislature contemplated that after the effective date of the "Don't Pass the Trash" statute, people or entities might attempt to amend their pre-June 1, 2018 contracts or agreements in a way to avoid the disclosure requirements of N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.7. I CONCLUDE that this means that the Legislature intended that pre-June 1, 2018 contracts and agreements are subject to the disclosure requirements of the "Don't Pass the Trash" statute.

ISSUE # 2: Did the BOE conduct a sexual misconduct investigation of A.B. ?

A.B. confined the question to "sexual misconduct' as defined by N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6. Certainly, the term "sexual misconduct" can be defined different ways in different jurisdictions and at different times. So the real question is whether the BOE conducted any type of sexual misconduct investigation in 2013 that would be reportable when it was called-upon to answer Clifton's background questionnaire in 2019. The Certification of Hackensack High School Principal Jim Montesano provides his own sworn assertion that an investigation took place and that Detective Furcal reported to him that he examined the postings on A.B.'s social media account and found that students had viewed the postings and even posted comment. I CONCLUDE that this proves that what was undertaken in 2013 was a sexual misconduct investigation, which was reportable in 2019 pursuant to be requirements of the "Don't Pass the Trash' statute.

ISSUE # 3: What is meant by the words "directed toward or with a student" as used in the definition of sexual misconduct found in N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6 ?

Inasmuch as students were among the people who had access to A.B.'s social media posts, I CONCLUDE that there is no doubt that A.B.'s posts were directed toward students.

ISSUE # 4: Was any content of A.B.'s comments "directed towards or with a student that was 'designed' to establish a sexual relationship with a student ?

In New Jersey, remedial legislation, necessary for the protection of its citizens, is liberally construed to effectuate the purposes and intent thereof. The "Don't Pass the Trash" is remedial and seeks to prevent persons who have a history of improper sexual conduct from having regular contact with students.

As noted above in the analysis of the parties' arguments and positions, the definition of "sexual misconduct" uses the word "designed" rather that the word "intended", which suggests that the Legislature did not seek to place the burden of proving the actor's or communicator's intent on the reporting district.

As stated above in my analysis, I CONCLUDE that the use of the word "designed" in the definition of "sexual misconduct" indicates that the Legislature envisioned situations wherein the teacher's conduct might be suspected as an attempt to entice a student into a sexual relationship, but did not wish to place the burden of proving the actor's or communicator's actual intent on the district. Here, although there is no direct evidence of A.B.'s actual intent, A.B.'s own words are fraught with notions of improper invitation and provocation and therefore, I CONCLUDE that her words were capable of being understood as designed to establish a sexual relationship with a member of her audience, including a student.

ISSUE # 5: Did any content of A.B.'s social media posts include any of the several specific types of proscribed "communications", "acts" or "contacts" with students set forth in the definition of "sexual misconduct" found in N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6 ?

The definition of "sexual misconduct' proscribes "sexually suggestive comments" and three types of "other contacts" (communicative contacts, not physical contacts) set forth as "sexual contact", "indecent contact" or "erotic contact". One of A.B.'s posts stated "Kiss me, I'm Irish" followed by "Fuck me, I'm Irish". Taken literally, the meaning of each statement, especially the latter statement, is a frank invitation to erotic activity. A.B. claimed to have posted this post as an attempt at humor, but to accept her explanation would require that whenever such a statement is uttered, the person who makes a communication to a student, even a person who is actually seeking an erotic encounter, would avoid any consequences for his or her statement by merely claiming to have spoken in jest. Knowing her status as a teacher, A.B. posted statements, which she knew or should have known could be construed as sexually suggestive or as sexual, indecent or erotic contacts. A.B. may well have made her posts innocently and in jest, but she should have considered how her postings could affect the school environment, the safety of students and her duty to maintain the integrity of the teaching profession in the eyes of the public. While it is legitimate for an adult person to enjoy the casual communication which social media offers, the Supreme Court's decision in Bound Brook, supra, warns us that it is incumbent upon a teacher whose social media site is accessible to students to be mindful of her position, to exercise caution about the content of the communications she makes, and to make a careful assessment of her priorities.

The "Don't Pass the Trash" statute is a remedial and preventative statute that is intended to identify those who pose a threat to the well-being of students. I CONCLUDE that its passage changed the law of New Jersey regarding what was beforehand regarded as confidential and what was henceforth to be regarded as confidential in pre-June 1, 2018 agreements concerning the termination or separation of teachers from their employments, even their former employments. In New Jersey, the provisions of remedial statutes are construed liberally so as to effectuate the purposes and intent thereof to the fullest extent possible. Therefore, I CONCLUDE that to effectuate the statute's remedial and protective intent, it must be read as requiring a reporting school district (Hackensack BOE) to report to the inquiring school district (Clifton BOE) any present or prior allegation or investigation into child abuse or sexual misconduct (unless the investigation found the allegations to be false or "not substantiated") regardless of when the investigation took place and regardless of whether the information was previously shielded by an agreement between the parties.

I CONCLUDE that A.B.'s posting of "Kiss me, I'm Irish" followed by "Fuck me, I'm Irish" meets the criteria of being "sexually suggestive", as well as being "sexual contact", "indecent contact" and "erotic contact". I CONCLUDE that A.B.'s aforesaid posting contained content proscribed by N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6's definition of "sexual misconduct".

I CONCLUDE that the other post, "Women say men only think with their penis. Ladies, don't be afraid to blow their minds", also meets the criteria of being "sexually suggestive", as well as being "sexual contact", "indecent contact" and "erotic contact". Moreover, in the post itself, A.B. admitted that her statement was inappropriate.

I CONCLUDE that this post also contained content proscribed by N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6's definition of "sexual misconduct".

ISSUE # 6: Did A.B. authorize the Hackensack BOE to disclose information to Clifton about the sexual misconduct investigation of 2013?

The language of the authorization signed by A.B. tracks the requirements set forth in N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.7. The authorization signed by A.B. she requested the Hackensack BOE to release information and documents to the Clifton BOE as follows:

> "I consent to and authorize the disclosure of any and all information and the release of documentation within your possession in relation to any investigation in which I was accused of child abuse or sexual misconduct pursuant to New Jersey Public Law 2018, C.5. I expressly request all investigative materials, if any exist, be disclosed including the following:

- Any investigative reports of child abuse or sexual misconduct investigation conducted by your company, a State licensing agency, law enforcement agency, or the Division of Child Protection and Permanency in the Department of Children and Families unless the Investigation was found to be false or unsubstantiated;

- Any documentation, including, but not limited to, resolutions or agreements in which I was disciplined, discharged, nonrenewed, asked to resign from employment, resigned from or otherwise separated from any employment while allegations of child abuse or sexual misconduct were pending or (under)* investigation, or due to an adjudication or finding of child abuse or sexual misconduct [were pending or under investigation, or finding of child abuse or sexual misconduct]; and

- Any documentation which shows my license or certificate was suspended, surrendered or revoked while allegations of child abuse or sexual misconduct were pending or under investigation, or due to an adjudication or finding of child abuse or sexual misconduct.

*NOTE: The word "under" in parentheses did not appear on the form signed by A.B., but was inserted by the Tribunal because it conforms with the wording of 6-7.7 (a) (3)(b).

 NOTE: The words "were pending or under investigation, or finding of child abuse or sexual misconduct" in brackets appear in the form signed by A.B., but are superfluous and were mistakenly included on the form.

The consent form, at the top, states that A.B. consents to disclosure and release of all "information", "documentation" and "investigative materials". The language is plain and comprehensive and does not contain any reservations.

In the first bullet point, A.B. consents to the disclosure of investigative reports unless same were found to be false or unsubstantiated. This is not applicable in the present case.

In the second bullet point, A.B. consents to the disclosure of any documents, including resolutions and / or agreements put into effect while allegations were pending against her or while she was under investigation for child abuse or sexual misconduct or due to an adjudication against her of child abuse or sexual misconduct. The inclusion of the word "agreements" certainly put A.B. on notice that her April 25, 2013 Settlement Agreement was included in the items she was consenting to disclose.

In the third bullet point, A.B. consents to the disclosure of any documentation which shows that her license or certificate was suspended, surrendered, or revoked while allegations of child abuse or sexual misconduct were pending against her or under investigation. This is not applicable in the present case.

Returning to the crucial issue of whether N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.12 exempts the disclosure of the April 25, 2013 Settlement Agreement or includes it in the types of items that must be disclosed, I have already concluded that 6-7.12 does not exempt pre-June 1, 2018 agreements and I have concluded that the enactment of N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6 through 7.13 changed the law of New Jersey regarding what would be considered as confidential. I CONCLUDE that A.B.'s signing of the authorization consented to the disclosure of information in the April 25, 2013 Settlement Agreement and I CONCLUDE that the BOE had the right and the duty under the statute to disclose it.

ISSUE # 7: Did the Hackensack BOE follow the requirements of N.J.S.A. 18A:6-7.6, et seq. ?

I CONCLUDE that the BOE's disclosure of the information set forth in its response to Clifton's questionnaire was required by the "Don't Pass the Trash" statute, notably, 6-7.7.

ISSUE # 8: If so, is the Hackensack BOE entitled to Immunity ?

I CONCLUDE that the BOE followed the requirements of the "Don't Pass the Trash" statute, notably 6-7.7, and is therefore immune from liability, civil or criminal.

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that the Hackensack BOE's motion for SUMMARY DECISION is GRANTED, and it is further ORDERED that A.B. 's motion for SUMMARY DECISION is DENIED and her Petition is DISMISSED in its entirety.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

W.H., on behalf of minor child, Z.A.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the City of Beverly, Burlington County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Pro se petitioner appealed the finding of the respondent Board that her son – at the time, a fifth grader at Beverly City School – was not the victim of harassment, intimidation and bullying (HIB) pursuant to the Anti-Bullying Bill of Rights Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:37-13 et seq. Petitioner alleged that Z.A. was the victim of HIB when students said mean things to him after his absences from school caused them to lose an attendance contest and miss out on a pizza party. Petitioner also alleged that students made comments about a smell in the cafeteria that Z.A. felt were directed toward him. The Board contended that its actions had complied with the requirements of the Act, and no HIB was found in this case.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: the required investigation into the alleged incidents of HIB was properly carried out by the Superintendent/Principal, who oversees the implementation of the HIB statute for the district, the Anti-Bullying coordinator, and the Anti-Bullying specialist – all of whom have substantial experience in the implementation of the HIB statute; the prompt and thorough investigation was in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:37-14, and concluded that there was a "back and forth" of unkind words between Z.A. and the other students regarding the effect of his absences on the class' standing in the March attendance contest; the investigation did not, however, reveal any evidence that Z.A. was targeted due to a distinguishing characteristic about him, his race, his gender, his ethnicity, or any element of the HIB statute; instead, the evidence showed that the incident regarding Z.A.'s attendance represented a conflict between students that did not constitute HIB. The ALJ concluded that the petitioner did not meet her burden of demonstrating that the Board's determination of HIB was arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable. Accordingly, the ALJ denied petitioner's appeal.

Upon a comprehensive review, the Commissioner concurred with the ALJ that the Board did not act in an arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable manner in rendering its HIB determination as the alleged actions were not motivated by a distinguishing characteristic of Z.A. Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL was adopted as the final decision in this matter, and the petition was dismissed.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

W.H., on behalf of minor child, Z.A.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the City of Beverly, Burlington County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed. The parties did not file exceptions.

In this matter, petitioner alleged that her son was the victim of harassment, intimidation and bullying (HIB) when students said mean things to him after his absences caused them to lose an attendance contest and miss out on a pizza party. Petitioner also alleged that students made comments about a smell in the cafeteria that Z.A. felt were directed toward him. Following an investigation in accordance with the Anti-Bullying Bill of Rights Act, N.J.S.A. 18A:37-13 et seq., the Board found the exchange of comments regarding Z.A.'s absences was a conflict between students that was not motivated by a distinguishing characteristic of Z.A. The Board also found the smell comments were unsubstantiated based on surveillance video and interviews with witnesses.

Following a hearing on the merits, the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) concluded that the petitioner had not met her burden of demonstrating that the Board's determination regarding the HIB allegations was arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable. The ALJ also found that the Board conducted a prompt and thorough investigation in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:37-14.

Upon review, the Commissioner agrees with the ALJ that the Board did not act in an arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable manner in rendering its HIB determination as the alleged actions were not motivated by a distinguishing characteristic of Z.A.[1] Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL is adopted as the final decision in this matter, and the petition is hereby dismissed.

IT IS SO ORDERED.[2]

ACTING COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION

Date of Decision: October 21, 2021
Date of Mailing: October 21, 2021

[1] Although the conduct of the students in this matter did not amount to an act of HIB under the Act, the Board should take steps to ensure that its code of conduct policy is enforced; and all students should be encouraged to interact with each other in a more positive manner.

[2] This decision may be appealed to the Appellate Division of the Superior Court pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9.1. Under N.J.Ct.R. 2:4-1(b), a notice of appeal must be filed with the Appellate Division within 45 days from the date of mailing of this decision.

W.H. on behalf of minor child, Z.A., petitioner pro se[1]

David B. Rubin, Esq., for respondent (David Rubin, P.C., Attorney at Law, attorneys)

Record Closed: June 21, 2021 Decided: July 30 2021

BEFORE JACOB S. GERTSMAN, ALJ t/a:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

This matter comes before the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) as the result of petitioning parent challenging the conclusion of respondent, City of Beverly Board of Education's (District or Board) investigation that harassment, intimidation, and bullying (HIB) did not occur, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:37-13.2 et seq.

[1] Petitioner was represented by counsel at the outset of the case. Counsel's motion to withdraw from the matter was granted by order dated March 5, 2020, and petitioner determined to proceed pro se.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Petitioner was notified by letter dated April 18, 2019, that the Board of Education upheld the Administration's finding that there was no instance of HIB in this matter on April 17, 2019. Petitioner filed her appeal on May 1, 2019, and the matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), where it was filed on June 13, 2019, for a hearing as a contested case. N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to B-15; N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to F-13.

The undersigned conducted multiple telephone prehearing conferences, which resulted in the scheduling of hearing dates for January 6 and 8, 2020. Those hearings were adjourned at the request of the parties. Following additional telephone conferences a hearing was scheduled for November 19, 2020, via Zoom Video Communications, Inc. (Zoom). On that date, petitioner failed to log on for the Zoom hearing and at my request, respondent's counsel was able to get petitioner on the phone. W.H. then informed me that she did not have access to a computer and requested an in-person hearing. The matter was then adjourned. On the January 28, 2021 telephone conference, petitioner stated that she was ready to proceed with a Zoom hearing, which was then held on March 29, 2021.

Respondent's post-hearing brief was submitted on June 15, 2021. The record was closed on June 16, 2021, after petitioner informed the undersigned that she would not be submitting a post-hearing brief.

FACTUAL DISCUSSION AND FINDINGS

Testimony for Petitioner

W.H., the mother of Z.A., testified that her son Z.A. came home on March 28, 2019, and informed her that students in his class were upset with him, and were calling him names. She added that the other students said that they did not like him because his absences from school caused them not to have a pizza party. The incident was reported to the school who found that the incident was not bullying.

There was no cross-examination.

Z.A. testified that he felt like he was being bullied on the day of the incident. The incident happened in the library, so he informed the library teacher, Mrs. Butler, who instructed him to tell his homeroom teacher Ms. Best. There were no problems the rest of the day, but he added that that the other students did not seem to like him.

On cross-examination, he remembered being asked to write a statement describing what happened but did not know if the other students were asked to write a statement. His mother also asked him to write a statement.

Testimony for Respondent

Dr. Elizabeth Giacobbe (Giacobbe), has served as the Superintendent of the District for ten years. The District, which consists of one school of approximately 350 pre-kindergartners through eighth graders, is housed in one building. Giacobbe additionally serves as the principal and oversees the implementation of the HIB statute. Her office is located in the school, and she is very acquainted with the students.

The District has adopted a policy that contains a definition of HIB that is consistent with that statute. At time of incident in March 2019, Giacobbe had over seven years of experience applying the definition of HIB. The school had one anti-bullying specialist, the school psychologist, Chelsea Light (Light), and an anti-bullying coordinator, Kerri Lawler (Lawler), the director of curriculum and instruction. By 2019, both had some experience in interpreting and applying the HIB statute in their respective roles.

On March 28, 2019, when picking Z.A. up from school, W.H. provided the school with a note from Z.A. describing the incident that happened that morning between him and several other students. Giacobbe made a photocopy of the written account.

Jodi Gottlieb (Gottlieb), the fifth-grade teacher and who was on duty supervising the children before homeroom began when the incident occurred, emailed Giacobbe on March 29, 2019, describing the incident. (R-1.) Giacobbe had requested that Gottlieb email her account of the incident. Under the District's HIB procedures, an investigation was initiated as a result of the allegations being brought to Giacobbe's attention.

During the investigation, Light and Lawler

> [i]dentified the students from Z.'s note and interviewed each one of those students and got their written account of the incident. Z. also in his note made a claim that some of the students that were sitting near him that day in the cafeteria at their lunchtime which would have been after the morning -- the morning lineup that's discussed in the email -- somebody was saying a comment about that something smelled bad.
>
> Then Mrs. Light and Ms. Lawler interviewed – went back and reviewed the videotape to see who was sitting near Z. at the time in the lunchroom and interviewed those students as well to get the account of what occurred in the cafeteria during lunchtime."
> TT 37: 1-16

By way of background, the school sponsors contests throughout the year to combat chronic absenteeism. In this instance, it was a "March Madness" competition, named for the annual NCAA Basketball Tournament. Each classroom was assigned a college or university team and the classes competed against each other based on their attendance rate, until one class became the overall winner of the tournament.

Z.A. was absent twice that week and some of his classmates questioned him when he returned to school, accusing him of causing the class to lose in the tournament. The investigation determined that the children engaged in a "back and forth" where the other students "did admit that they were sort of, you know, questioning him and upset with him, but that Z. also returned, you know, some -- some of the jabs back at the -- the kids verbally." (TT: 40: 17-20.) However, the investigation did not reveal any evidence that Z.A. was being targeted because of any particular distinguishing characteristic about him, his race, his gender, his ethnicity, or anything the HIB statute focuses on.

While the investigation did substantiate the students questioning Z.A. about his absences, it concluded that "since it didn't fall underneath the qualifying characteristic that it was not a harassment, intimidation and bullying case." (TT1 38: 24-25, 39: 1-2.)

That does not mean that the behavior of the students was acceptable and Giacobbe noted that Gottlieb found the behavior to be unacceptable and put a stop to it. (R-1.)

Regarding Z.A.'s assertion that other students were talking about a bad smell at the table in the cafeteria, meaning him, Giacobbe reviewed videotape surveillance footage[2] of the incident. The footage did not contain any audio. She determined that none of the students that Z.A. claimed to have made the comments were sitting near him. She questioned the students who were sitting at the table with Z.A. and all of them stated that no one made a comment about a smell.

As a part of the investigation, written statements were requested and received from Z.A. (R-6), Student A (R-7), Student B (R-8) and Student C (R-9). The students were also interviewed by Giacobbe, Light and Lawler with W.H. present during the interview with Z.A.

Giacobbe identified other documents related to the investigation including the March 29, 2019, letter to W.H. advising her that the investigation would be commencing and advising her of certain procedural rights (R-2); the April 4, 2019, letter to W.H. letter informing her that the investigation was concluded, and that the District determined that there was no HIB (R-3); the reporting form containing a summary of the allegations and factual findings of the anti-bullying specialist dated April 5, 2019, (R-4);[3] and the April 18, 2019, letter from the District's counsel to W.H. confirming that she appeared for a hearing on April 17, 2019, and described the proceedings. (R-5.) W.H. was advised of her right to a hearing, which she exercised. At the hearing, W.H. and Z.A. were present and W.H. presented her version of events.

[2] Giacobbe testified that these videos are recorded over every month or so, as is the District's standard practice. She added that this video would have been preserved if she thought there would be litigation.

[3] This form is not usually provided to parents. W.H. has only been provided with this document as a part of her appeal of the District's investigation.

Giacobbe concluded by stating that to the best of her knowledge, the HIB statute and Board policy procedures were followed.

On cross examination, Giacobbe was asked why she took the word of the other children at the lunch table when they could be covering for each other since if one got in trouble, they all could. She responded that Z.A. accused Y. and S. of making comments about a bad smell in the cafeteria, and the investigation found that they were not sitting near Z.A. Additionally, the investigation was not simply taking the word of Y. and S., as al all of the students sitting near Z.A. in the cafeteria were interviewed.

She reiterated that there was no finding of HIB because "[u]nder the New Jersey Anti-Bullying Bill of Rights it does not meet the – their definition of harassment, intimidation and bullying as it was an equal balance of power and there was no distinguishing characteristics called into question." (TT 65:1-5.)

Kerri Lawler is the Director of Curriculum and Instruction, and the Anti-Bullying Coordinator, for the District. In summarizing her involvement with the investigation, she noted that W.H. brought in the hand-written letter detailing Z.A.'s account of the incidents. The students named in the letter were then interviewed by Lawler, Light and Giacobbe, in order to get their version of the events, with their conclusions drawn from a review of all of the students' accounts. She additionally viewed the videotape surveillance footage of the alleged incident in the cafeteria. Light assisted Lawler in drawing the conclusions based on the evidence, which they then shared with Giacobbe.

She concluded that the students did not use a distinguishing characteristic when they were talking with Z.A. and described the conflict as unkind things said back and forth between Z.A. and the other students.

There was no cross-examination on the issues germane to the instant matter.

Chelsea Light is the school psychologist and Anti-Bullying specialist for the District. Her responsibilities include conducting investigations when a bullying claim is made and working with the anti-bullying coordinator and superintendent to review her findings.

She has a familiarity with the statutory and policy definitions of HIB, which are not the same as the dictionary definitions.

During the investigation, Light reviewed the written statements and interviewed Z.A. with W.H. present. She then reviewed all of the statements, written testimony and video, and concluded that the incidents were a conflict between students without an imbalance of power, nor a highlighted distinguishing characteristic. Her determination was that the incidents did not constitute HIB.

There was no cross-examination.

FACTUAL DISCUSSION

Credibility is best described as that quality of testimony or evidence which makes it worthy of belief. The Supreme Court of New Jersey considered the issue of credibility in In Re Estate of Perrone, 5 N.J. 514 (1950). The Court pronounced:

> Testimony to be believed must not only proceed from the mouth of a credible witness but must be credible in itself. It must be such as the common experience and observation of mankind can approve as probable in the circumstances.

See also, Spagnuolo v. Bonnet, 16 N.J. 546, (1954), State v. Taylor, 38 N.J. Super. 6 (App. Div. 1955).

In order to assess credibility, the witness' interest in the outcome, motive or bias should be considered. Furthermore, a trier of fact may reject testimony because it is inherently incredible, or because it is inconsistent with other testimony or with common experience, or because it is overborne by other testimony. Congleton v. Pura- Tex Stone Corp., 53 N.J. Super. 282, 287 (App. Div. 1958).

I deem the testimony of Giacobbe to be credible. Her testimony was calm, clear, and direct. Further, her professionalism and thorough understanding of both the HIB statute and the District's policy implementing the statute were apparent. I further deem the testimony of Lawler and Light to be credible. Their testimony, which corroborated Giacobbe, was professional and both witnesses demonstrated their substantial knowledge of both the HIB statute and the District's policy implementing the statute.

I additionally deem the testimony relevant to the instant matter of both W.H. and Z.A., to be credible. W.H.'s relevant testimony was limited to Z.A. informing her of the incident, her reporting of the incident to the school, and the ultimate finding of the investigation. Z.A.'s testimony focused on the fact that he felt bullied during the incident. It should be noted that W.H. did testify that she disagreed with the conclusion of the District's investigation. As she is a pro se litigant, and did not submit a post-hearing brief, that argument will be addressed in the legal analysis.

After consideration of the testimony and the credibility of the witnesses, I FIND as the following FACTS. The District has adopted a policy that contains a definition of HIB that is consistent with that statute. On March 28, 2019, W.H. provided the school with a statement from Z.A. detailing an incident between him and other students. (R-6.) That statement alleged that the other students were angry at him since his absences caused the class to lose in the school sponsored March Madness Tournament, which was instituted to combat excessive absences in the District. Z.A. also alleged that in the cafeteria during lunch, other students complained of a smell, which Z.A. took to mean him. (Ibid.)

On March 29, 2019, Gottlieb, the teacher supervising the students at the time of the incident, emailed Giacobbe, at her request, providing her account of the incident. (R-1) Gottlieb also noted that she found the behavior to be unacceptable and put a stop to it. (Ibid.) An investigation was then initiated in accordance with the districts HIB procedures. W.H. was notified of the investigation and advised of her procedural rights by letter dated March 29, 2019. (R-2.)

The investigation was conducted by Giacobbe, the superintendent and principal who oversees the implementation of the HIB statute, Lawlor, the Anti-Bullying coordinator, and Light, the Anti-Bullying specialist. All three have substantial experience in the implementation of the HIB statute.

The investigation included the review of written statements from Z.A. (R-6), Student A (R-7), Student B (R-8), and Student C (R-9). These students were all interviewed by Giacobbe, Lawlor, and Light. Z.A. was interviewed with his mother W.H. present. The video surveillance footage of the alleged incident in the cafeteria was also reviewed by the three investigators.

Light and Lawler drew their conclusions based on the evidence which was then shared with Giacobbe. The investigation did conclude that there was a "back and forth" of unkind words between Z.A. and the other students regarding the effect of his absences on the class' standing in the "March Madness" tournament. However, the investigation did not reveal any evidence that Z.A. was targeted due to a distinguishing characteristic about him, his race, his gender, his ethnicity, or any element of the HIB statute.

The investigation further found that there was no substantiation of Z.A.'s claim that students at his table in the cafeteria were talking about a bad smell, that he took to mean him. The videotape surveillance showed that the students accused by Z.A. were not sitting with him at the time of the incident. Those students, as well as the students who were seated with Z.A., all denied making or hearing these statements.

Accordingly, the conclusion of the investigation was that the incident regarding Z.A.'s attendance represented a conflict between students that did not constitute HIB. Notwithstanding this finding, the District did not find the behavior acceptable and Gottlieb, the teacher supervising the students at the time of the incident, put a stop to it. (R-1.)

On April 4, 2019, W.H. was advised by letter that the investigation had concluded, and that the District determined that there was no HIB. (R-3.) W.H. was advised of her right to a hearing, which she exercised. The hearing took place on April 17, 2019, where W.H. and Z.A. were present, and W.H. presented her version of events and contested the findings of the investigation. The April 18, 2019, letter to W.H. from the District's counsel described the April 17, 2019, proceedings, notified her that the Board had upheld the findings of the investigation that there was no HIB, and advised her of her right to appeal. (R-5.)

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSIONS

The Anti-Bullying Act is designed "to strengthen the standards and procedures for preventing, reporting, investigating, and responding to incidents of harassment, intimidation, and bullying of students that occur in school and off school premises." N.J.S.A. 18A:37-13.1(f). Under the act, HIB is defined as:

> [A]ny gesture, any written, verbal or physical act, or any electronic communication, whether it be a single incident or a series of incidents, that is reasonably perceived as being motivated either by any actual or perceived characteristic, such as race, color, religion, ancestry, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, or a mental, physical or sensory disability, or by any other distinguishing characteristic, that takes place on school property, at any school-sponsored function, on a school bus, or off school grounds as provided for in section 16 of P.L.2010, c.122 (c.18A:37-15.3), that substantially disrupts or interferes with the orderly operation of the school or the rights of other students and that:
> a. a reasonable person should know, under the circumstances, will have the effect of physically or emotionally harming a student or damaging the student's property, or placing a student in reasonable fear of physical or emotional harm to his person or damage to his property;
>
>
> c. creates a hostile educational environment for the student by interfering with a student's education or by severely or pervasively causing physical or emotional harm to the student.

Each school district must adopt a policy that prohibits HIB and provides for a prompt response to any alleged HIB incident. N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15. Once an alleged HIB incident is reported to the school principal, the principal must initiate an investigation within one school day of the report. N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15(b)(6). The investigation shall be conducted by a school anti-bullying specialist and shall take no longer than ten school days to be completed. Ibid.

The results of the investigation shall then be quickly reported to the superintendent of schools, who may take certain remedial action. Ibid. The results shall also be reported to the board of education "no later than the date of the board of education meeting next following the completion of the investigation, along with information on any services provided, training established, discipline imposed, or other action taken or recommended by the superintendent." Ibid.

The parents of the students involved in any alleged HIB incident are entitled to receive information about the nature of the investigation and the results of the investigation. Ibid. The parents may request a hearing before the board, and the hearing must be held within ten days of the request. Ibid. Any hearing shall be held in executive session to protect the identity of any students involved. Ibid. The board may hear from the anti-bullying specialist about the incident, recommendations for discipline or services, and any programs instituted to reduce such incidents. Ibid.

The board must issue a decision at the first meeting after its receipt of the investigation report. Ibid. The board may affirm, reject, or modify the superintendent's decision. Ibid. The board's decision may be appealed to the Commissioner of Education. Ibid.

An action by a board of education "is entitled to a presumption of correctness and will not be upset unless there is an affirmative showing that such decision was arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable." Thomas v. Morris Twp. Bd. of Educ., 89 N.J. Super. 327, 332 (App. Div. 1965). Thus, in order to prevail, those challenging a HIB decision made by a board of education "must demonstrate that the Board acted in bad faith, or in utter disregard of the circumstances before it." G.H. & E.H. ex rel. K.H. v. Bd. of Educ. of the Bor. of Franklin Lakes, EDU 13204-13, Initial Decision (February 24, 2014) (citation omitted), adopted, Comm'r (April 10, 2014) <http://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/>. Also, a board's decision may be overturned if its determination violates the legislative policies expressed or implied in the governing act. J.A.H. ex rel. C.H. v. Twp. of Pittsgrove Bd. of Educ., EDU 10826-12, Initial Decision (March 11, 2013) [citing Campbell v. Dep't of Civil Serv., 39 N.J. 556, 562 (1963)], adopted, Comm'r (April 25, 2013) <http://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/>. Finally, the Commissioner of Education will not disturb the local school board decision unless it was arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable. Kopera v. W. Orange Bd. of Educ., 60 N.J. Super. 288, 294 (App. Div. 1960); Thomas v. Morris Twp. Bd. of Educ., 89 N.J. Super. 327, 332 (App. Div. 1965), aff'd, 46 N.J. 581 (1966).

Here, petitioner challenges the District's investigation into the incident between Z.A. and the other students which concluded that there was no HIB. The District has adopted a policy that contains a definition of HIB that is consistent with that statute. Consistent with that policy, an investigation was initiated on March 29, 2019, one day after W.H. provided Z.A.'s written statement containing his allegations. The investigation, conducted by Giacobbe, the superintendent and principal who oversees the implementation of the HIB statute, Lawler, the Anti-Bullying coordinator, and Light, the Anti-Bullying specialist, concluded on April 4, 2019, with a finding of no HIB. W.H. was advised of her right to a hearing to contest the determination, which she exercised on April 17, 2019. W.H. presented her version of events and argued in opposition to the findings of the investigation. The Board upheld the findings and notified W.H. of her right to appeal. Accordingly, I CONCLUDE that the District's prompt and thorough investigation of Z.A.'s allegation satisfies the requirements set forth in N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15(b)(6).

Turning now to petitioner's challenge to the conclusions of the investigation. Giacobbe, Lawler and Light reviewed the written statements of, and conducted interviews with, the students involved in the incident, and concluded that Z.A. was not targeted based on his membership in one of the legally protected categories or some other "distinguishing characteristic" as set forth in N.J.S.A. 18A:37-14.

Here, the record is devoid of any testimony or documentary evidence to demonstrate that the students engaged in the "back and forth" targeting Z.A. based on a distinguishing characteristic. In fact, petitioner does not make this argument. W.H. testified "[w]hen I reported it to the school they told me he wasn't being bullied. They — they told me that there's certain – you have to be – it's like a list of things that you have to do in order to be considered bullying and I feel like it's – it shouldn't be that way. (TT 15: 25, 16: 1-3.)

W.H., like any parent, is seeking to protect her child from what she believes is bullying. However, not all disputes between students are subject to the HIB statute. M.S. and N.S. o/b/o J.S. v. Board of Education of the Township of Hainesport, OAL Dkt. No. EDU 8878-16, Agency Dkt. No. 151-5/16 (Initial Decision, March 28, 2019), adopted (Comm'r, June 18, 2019). ("It is important here to note that not all disputes between students, not all actions that may involve harassment, intimidation and bullying, necessarily come within the reach of the Act. The motivating element of the matter must be a 'distinguishing characteristic, actual or perceived, such as identified in the Act.") It should be noted that notwithstanding the findings of the investigation, the District does not dispute that the conduct was inappropriate, and the teacher dealt with it promptly. (District Brief at 8.)

With regard to the "smell comment" alleged by Z.A., the record demonstrates that the petitioner has failed to present any testimony or documentary evidence to contravene the findings of the investigation. Giacobbe, Lawler and Light reviewed the videotape surveillance and determined that the students accused by Z.A. were not seated near him at the time of the incident. Those students, as well as the students who actually were seated near Z.A., were subsequently interviewed and all denied making or hearing these statements. W.H. raised the issue of the students covering for each other to avoid getting in trouble for the incident. However, as Giacobbe testified, the investigation did not simply take the word of the students accused by Z.A. All students seated near him were interviewed and the surveillance video demonstrated that there was no opportunity for this incident to have occurred as alleged by Z.A.

Based on the forgoing, I CONCLUDE that petitioner has not met her burden to demonstrate that the conclusions of the investigation were made in bad faith. I FURTHER CONCLUDE that petitioner has not met her burden to show that the Board's determination, that the incident between Z.A. and the other students on March 28, 2019, was not HIB, was arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable.

ORDER

It is ORDERED that petitioner's appeal of the conclusion of the District's investigation is DENIED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified, or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify, or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

Final Decision

In the Matter of Judy Khan, Englewood on the Palisades Charter School,
Bergen County.

The Commissioner has reviewed the record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC), finding that respondent violated the School Ethics Act for failure to timely complete board member training in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1. The SEC's decision was forwarded to the Commissioner for final determination on the recommended penalty pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c). The SEC advises that respondent completed training after the issuance of its Order to Show Cause. Respondent has neither filed exceptions to the recommended penalty nor instituted an appeal of the SEC's underlying finding of violation pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 et seq.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the penalty recommended by the SEC for respondent's failure to timely honor an obligation placed upon board members by law. Accordingly, respondent is hereby reprimanded for violating the School Ethics Act.

IT IS SO ORDERED.[1]

Docket No.: T17-21
Amended Decision for Failure to Complete Mandatory Training Requirement in a Timely Manner

I/M/O Judy Khan,
Englewood on the Palisades Charter School, Bergen County

I. Procedural History

This matter arises from an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) that was issued by the School Ethics Commission (Commission) at its meeting on July 27, 2021, directing Respondent, a "board member" as defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23 of the School Ethics Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 et seq., to show cause as to why the Commission should not find her in violation of the Act, for failing to complete training as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33, N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1, and N.J.A.C. 6A:11-3.1(a).

In the OTSC that was served on July 28, 2021, the Commission notified Respondent that she had twenty (20) days to respond to the OTSC, and further advised that failure to respond would be deemed an admission of the facts set forth in the OTSC.[1] Respondent was also notified that, upon receipt of the response or upon expiration of the twenty (20) day time period for so filing, the Commission may proceed to a determination of a violation on a summary basis (i.e., without a hearing or further proceedings) in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:28-1.6(c), which so permits when material facts are not in dispute.

II. Analysis

The Act was enacted by the New Jersey State Legislature to ensure and preserve public confidence in members of local boards of education and in local school administrators. By virtue of *N.J.S.A.*18A:12-23.1, the breadth of the Act was expanded to include charter school trustees.

Respondent is a trustee of the Englewood on the Palisades Charter School, located in Bergen County. Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23.1, the provisions of the Act were made applicable to administrators and members of a board of trustees of a charter school. As a result of her position as a charter school trustee, Respondent is required, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33, N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1, and N.J.A.C. 6A:11-3.1(a), to complete a training program prepared and offered by the New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA) on an annual basis. For convenience and ease, the training is offered online so any charter school trustee may complete it at any time, from anywhere. Respondent was required to complete the Governance 3 training program by June 30, 2021.

On July 1, 2021, the NJSBA provided the Commission with the names of those charter school trustees who failed to complete mandated training by June 30, 2021, and the list provided by the NJSBA included Respondent. Prior to this time, multiple communications about mandated training were sent to Respondent from the NJSBA through a variety of means, including targeted e-mail messages and postings in School Board Notes. More specific information detailing the outreach efforts of the NJSBA to communicate with Respondent and/or the charter school lead about mandated training is set forth in the attached Certification from the NJSBA. See Exhibit 1. Notwithstanding all of these communications, Respondent did not complete mandated training.

[1] Due to the ongoing Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, service of process was effectuated by the Commission through electronic transmission only.

In addition to the communications from the NJSBA, the Commission's staff also sent electronic correspondence to all charter school leads on July 2, 2021, and July 21, 2021, advising that charter school trustees who failed to complete training prior to the Commission's meeting on July 27, 2021, would be the subject of an Order to Show Cause.[2] Again, notwithstanding this correspondence, Respondent did not complete the required training. As a result, an OTSC was issued by the Commission on July 27, 2021, and served on Respondent thereafter.

To date, there is no dispute that Respondent did not complete her required training by June 30, 2021 and did not complete the training prior to the issuance of the Commission's OTSC. After having been served with the OTSC, Respondent completed her training requirement on July 29, 2021, but did not respond to the Commission's OTSC as to why she did not complete training by June 30, 2021.

III. Decision/Penalty Recommendation

N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.2(d) provides that school board members and charter school trustees who fail to comply with their training mandate shall be considered in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33. Based on the record as set forth above, at its meeting on September 21, 2021,[3] the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33, as well as N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1 and N.J.A.C. 6A:11-3.1(a). Respondent received repeated notifications of her training requirement, and had ample opportunity to complete the mandated training in a timely fashion; nonetheless, she failed to complete training as required.

In addition, the Commission readily acknowledges and is sympathetic to the fact that the Coronavirus (COVID-19) has had a significant impact on the daily lives of all people, and believes that reasonable accommodations and extensions of deadlines are appropriate and warranted in certain circumstances. However, the Commission notes that training is completed annually, can be completed from any computer or device with an internet connection, and that the Commission was only required to issue an OTSC to thirty-six (36) charter school trustees throughout the State for failure to comply with the statutory obligation to complete training. As such, there is no reasonable basis for Respondent, based on the current record, to have failed to comply with this mandate.

Where a violation of the Act is found by the Commission, the Commission may recommend to the Commissioner of Education that a penalty be imposed. The recommended penalty can include a reprimand, censure, suspension or removal of the school official. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.12. For the [2] Again, due to the ongoing Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, this communication was also sent via electronic transmission.

[3] At its special meeting on August 30, 2021, the Commission adopted a decision recommending removal; however, the Commission was later advised that Respondent completed training after the OTSC was issued, but before the Commission's special meeting.

reasons set forth above, the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of reprimand.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c), this decision shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of Education for review of the Commission's recommended penalty. Respondent may either: 1) file exceptions to the recommended sanction; 2) file an appeal of the Commission's finding of a violation; or 3) file both exceptions to the recommended sanction together with an appeal of the finding of a violation.

Parties taking exception to the recommended sanction of the Commission but not disputing the Commission's finding of a violation may file, within thirteen (13) days from the date the Commission's decision is forwarded to the Commissioner, written exceptions regarding the recommended penalty to the Commissioner. The forwarding date shall be the mailing date to the parties, as indicated below. Such exceptions must be forwarded to: Commissioner of Education, c/o Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625, marked "Attention: Comments on Ethics Commission Sanction."[4] A copy of any comments filed must be sent to the Commission (school.ethics@doe.nj.gov) and all other parties.

Parties seeking to appeal the Commission's finding of violation must file an appeal pursuant to the standards set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:4:1 et seq. within thirty (30) days of the filing date of the decision from which the appeal is taken. The filing date shall be three (3) days after the date of mailing to the parties, as shown below. In such cases, the Commissioner's review of the Commission's recommended sanction will be deferred and incorporated into the Commissioner's review of the finding of violation on appeal. Where a notice of appeal has been filed on or before the due date for exceptions to the Commission's recommended sanction (thirteen (13) days from the date the decision is mailed by the Commission), exceptions need not be filed by that date, but may be incorporated into the appellant's briefs on appeal.

State Board of Examiners Docket No. 1718-170
Agency Dkt. No. 5-4/21A

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

In the Matter of the Revocation of the Certificates of Lesley Etheridge by the State Board of Examiners.

Order of Revocation by the State Board of Examiners, April 1, 2021

For the Respondent-Appellant, Lesley Etheridge, pro se

For the Petitioner-Respondent State Board of Examiners, Colin G. Klika, Deputy Attorney General (Andrew J. Bruck, Acting Attorney General of New Jersey)

Appellant challenges the determination of the New Jersey State Board of Examiners (Board) that her actions warranted the revocation of her Teacher of Electronic Technology Certificate of Eligibility and Teacher of Electronic Technology Standard Certificate.

In this matter, appellant was a teacher in the Passaic County Vocational School District (PCVS). PCVS certified tenure charges against appellant for inefficiency and unbecoming conduct, alleging that appellant falsified students' grades and engaged in inappropriate grading practices, failed to appear at several co-teaching assignments or hall duty, left campus without authorization, engaged in unprofessional conduct with parents and administration, and disregarded her corrective action plan (CAP) requirements. Following an arbitration, the Arbitrator found that appellant was "notably uncooperative" with PCVS' efforts to improve her teaching; further, her failure to comply with instructions and recommendations

"reflects an inability and/or unwillingness to perform as befits a tenured teacher." (Arbitrator's Opinion and Award at 14). The Arbitrator also considered appellant's "'outrageously inappropriate behavior,' combined with lack of 'remorse or contrition' and a likelihood of repeating the behavior." Id. at 15. Accordingly, the Arbitrator found just cause to terminate appellant.

Following issuance of an Order to Show Cause as to why appellant's certificates should not be revoked, the Board transmitted the matter to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) for a hearing. The Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) found that collateral estoppel precludes relitigation of the facts proven during the tenure hearing, which demonstrate that appellant engaged in conduct unbecoming a teacher. However, appellant was granted a hearing as to whether the penalty of revocation was appropriate. At the hearing, appellant challenged the accuracy of the grade falsification charge and had her husband – who was also an employee of PCVS – attempt to take the blame. The ALJ agreed with the Arbitrator that appellant's conduct was "outrageously inappropriate" and found that appellant's "pattern of unbecoming conduct and insubordination, coupled with her complete lack of remorse and failure to take any responsibility for her woefully inappropriate actions and poor judgment" constitutes just cause for the revocation of her certificates. (Initial Decision at 7). Thereafter, the Board adopted the Initial Decision of the ALJ and ordered the revocation of appellant's certificates.

On appeal, appellant argues that her husband created the final exam at issue and admitted that he had falsified students' grades. According to appellant, PCVS filed tenure charges against her in retaliation for a whistleblower complaint. Appellant lists a number of interactions with political figures, dating back 40 years to when appellant was a teenager, that she contends contributed to PCVS' actions in this matter. Appellant takes issue with portions of the Arbitrator's decision, claiming that it includes false statements, and with the Arbitrator's alleged failure to admit appellant's exhibits into evidence and to allow appellant to review PCVS' evidence. Appellant also alleges that Board member Melissa Pearce is formerly the executive superintendent at PCVS, creating a conflict of interest that required her recusal from the Board's vote, thereby preventing a quorum and making the Board's vote invalid.

In reviewing appeals from decisions of the State Board of Examiners, the Commissioner may not substitute her judgment for that of the Board so long as the appellant received due process and the Board's decision is supported by sufficient credible evidence in the record. Further, the Board's decision should not be disturbed unless the appellant demonstrates that it is arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable. N.J.A.C. 6A:4-4.1(a).

After a comprehensive review of the record, the Commissioner finds that the record adequately supports the Board's determination that appellant engaged in unbecoming conduct and that revocation of her teaching certificates is the appropriate penalty. Appellant's arguments reiterate those that she made during the tenure proceedings and at the OAL and fail to demonstrate that the Board's decision was arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable. The majority of appellant's arguments on appeal take issue with the decision of the Arbitrator regarding the tenure charges. However, as the ALJ correctly concluded, the doctrine of collateral estoppel precludes appellant from relitigating the issue of unbecoming conduct, as appellant had a full and fair opportunity to contest those charges during the tenure proceeding.

The only issue regarding the Board's decision raised by appellant is based on the appointment of the former executive superintendent at PCVS to the Board. The Commissioner does not find this argument persuasive. The conduct of appellant at issue in this case occurred in 2013-2015, with tenure charges filed in 2015 and the arbitrator's decision issued in 2016.

Ms. Pearce, according to appellant, became the executive superintendent at PCVS in 2018, well after those events, and would have had no involvement in the filing or litigation of the tenure charges. Furthermore, PCVS is not a party to the current action. Accordingly, the Commissioner finds that Ms. Pearce was not required to recuse herself from the Board's vote.

Additionally, there is nothing in the record to suggest that the Board's decision to revoke appellant's certificates – based on the nature of the unbecoming conduct proven during the hearing at the OAL – was arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable. Accordingly, the decision of the State Board of Examiners is affirmed. Appellant's Teacher of Electronic Technology Certificate of Eligibility and Teacher of Electronic Technology Standard Certificate are hereby revoked.[1]

IN THE MATTER OF	:	NEW JERSEY DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
THE CERTIFICATES OF	:	STATE BOARD OF EXAMINERS
LESLEY A. ETHERIDGE	:	ORDER OF REVOCATION
_____	:	DOCKET NO: 1718-170

At its meeting of January 19, 2018, the State Board of Examiners (Board) reviewed information it received regarding Lesley A. Etheridge. The Passaic County Vocational School District (Passaic) certified tenure charges against Etheridge for inefficiency and unbecoming conduct. Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-16, the Arbitrator assigned by the Department of Education to hear the case, referred to the State Board of Examiners (Board) the tenure matter captioned In the Matter of the Arbitration Between Lesley Etheridge and Passaic County Vocational School District, Dkt. No. 120-6/15 (Arbitrator's Decision, June 27, 2016).

Passaic alleged that during the 2014-15 school year, Etheridge refused to acknowledge or cooperate with administration directives about submitting reports and received several reprimands for missing important deadlines and completing required tasks. Etheridge also repeatedly failed to acknowledge observation reports of her classroom performance. Passaic also contended that Etheridge falsified student grades by giving one student an A+ on a final exam even though the student never took the exam and giving all other students in her class an A+ on their final after encouraging them not to complete the exam. Etheridge also refused to remove unjustified participation/discipline grades entered into her grade book. Passaic also alleged that at various times during the 2014-15 school year Etheridge either left her class unattended, failed to report to her co-teaching assignment, left campus without permission or failed to report to her hall duty. In addition, the district charged Etheridge with sending emails to the administration during instructional time on 14 separate occasions and cited her for sending emails with an improper tone and demeanor. Passaic also contended that Etheridge engaged in unprofessional conduct during an affirmative action meeting and several parent-teacher meetings. She also allegedly coerced students to write statements to the administration and showed an unauthorized film to students.

In her Decision (which is incorporated herein by reference), the Arbitrator noted that Etheridge "was notably uncooperative" with Passaic's effort to improve her teaching performance during the 2014-15 school year. She further found that Etheridge's "failure to comply with explicit instructions and recommendations from the school administration, and, in some instances, even to acknowledge them, reflects an inability and/or unwillingness to perform as befits a tenured teacher." The Arbitrator also stated that Etheridge produced no compelling evidence to explain her lack of cooperation with the administration's reasonable demands or substantiate her accusation that the district was trying to ruin her professional reputation.

The Arbitrator determined that "outrageously inappropriate behavior" combined with lack of "remorse or contrition" and "a likelihood of repeating the behavior" were all factors present in this matter. Having reviewed the entire record, the Arbitrator sustained all the tenure charges and concluded that Etheridge's conduct warranted the loss of tenure and dismissal from the school district. Etheridge was dismissed from her tenured employment with Passaic as a result of the charges proven in the tenure proceeding.

Etheridge currently holds a Teacher of Electronic Technology Certificate of Eligibility and Teacher of Electronic Technology Standard Certificate. After reviewing the above information, at its March 1, 2018 meeting, the Board voted to issue an Order to Show Cause (OSC) to Etheridge as to why her certificates should not be revoked.

The Board sent Etheridge the OSC by regular and certified mail. The OSC provided that Etheridge must file an Answer within 30 days. Etheridge responded by filing an Answer. In her Answer, Etheridge denied the allegations in the Order and indicated that the charges were falsely affirmed. Etheridge alleged that the Statement of Evidence contained fictitious statements and documents. She also argued that there were "major irregularities" in the date of the filing of the tenure charges. Etheridge further alleged that there was an error in that the Arbitrator was not in possession of the "Charge Book" for several weeks after the filing of the Tenure Charges.

Although the Arbitrator's decision found Etheridge engaged in conduct unbecoming, considering Etheridge's allegations regarding the matter, the Board believed there were materials facts in dispute specifically as it related to mitigation of the penalty. Accordingly, on January 16, 2019, the Board transmitted the matter to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) for hearing as a contested case. On September 16, 2019, the OAL entered an Order Granting Motion for Partial Initial Decision finding that Etheridge engaged in conduct unbecoming a teacher, as demonstrated by the facts proven before the Arbitrator. The September 16, 2019 Order also required that the matter proceed to a hearing limited to determining the appropriate penalty. At this hearing, Etheridge would have an opportunity to present mitigative evidence to support her position that revocation of her teaching certificates was unwarranted[1].

On April 14, 2020, Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) Susana E. Guerrero issued an Initial Decision. In the Matter of the Certificates of Lesley A. Etheridge, Dkt. No. EDE 01145-19 (Initial Decision, April 14, 2020).

After a day of hearing, ALJ Guerrero found that, Etheridge's conduct constituted unbecoming conduct. (Initial Decision, slip op. at p. 6). The ALJ agreed with the Arbitrator that Etheridge's behavior was not just unbecoming, but "outrageously inappropriate." Id. at p. 7. ALJ Guerrero indicated that at the March 6, 2020 hearing, Etheridge "expressed no remorse or even an explanation for her actions." Id. Etheridge blamed the District and had her husband try to take responsibility for the grade falsification charges, which were the charges that ALJ Guerrero found to be the most egregious in this case. Id. ALJ Guerrero gave little weight to the testimony of Etheridge's husband, mother, and friend. Id. None of the testimony gave the ALJ cause to impose a penalty less than revocation. Id.

[1] Due to the Board's meeting schedule, it was unable to consider and/or act on the Order Granting Partial Initial Decision prior to the expiration of same on December 16, 2019. Absent Etheridge's consent to an extension, the OAL notified the Board that it was unable to grant the Board an extension. Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.6(e), the Partial Initial Decision was deemed adopted as a matter of law.

Considering Etheridge's pattern of unbecoming conduct and insubordination, along with "complete lack of remorse and failure to take any responsibility for her woefully inappropriate actions and poor judgment," ALJ Guerrero concluded that there is just cause for the revocation of her teaching certificates. Id. Consequently, ALJ Guerrero ordered the revocation of Etheridge's certificates. Id. Etheridge filed Exceptions and the Deputy Attorney General (DAG or Deputy) representing the Board filed Reply Exceptions.

In her Exceptions, Etheridge alleged that on March 6, 2020, Rodney Etheridge, an electronics instructor, admitted that he secretly composed the final exam that Etheridge is accused of falsifying and that his conduct caused tension in their marriage. Etheridge Exceptions at p. 2. The remainder of Etheridge's exceptions repeat the arguments she made in prior submissions. She indicates that the Arbitrator did not admit, label, or number any exhibits into the record which prevented Etheridge from obtaining a fair hearing. Id. Additionally, she indicates that there was retaliation against her for making formal complaint regarding discriminatory student admission and retention grade falsification. Id. at p. 3 and p 9-10. Moreover, Etheridge argues that the ALJ and the DAG did not cite any cases whereupon a motion for summary judgment was granted in a NJ Teach Act case.

In her Reply Exceptions, the DAG argued that Etheridge's exceptions are deficient and should be disregarded. Reply Exceptions at p. 3. She argues that Etheridge refiled her September 27, 2019 Exceptions to the Partial Initial Decision. Id. Specifically, Etheridge goes through the facts that were litigated in her tenure proceeding and attaches irrelevant materials. Id. The DAG also argues that the ALJ's decision should be adopted because her conduct warrants revocation. Id. at p. 5. She states that there is already a finding of unbecoming conduct from the Partial Initial Decision and that nothing was presented at the penalty hearing that would mitigate the penalty. Id. at p. 6.

The Board must now determine whether to adopt, modify or reject the Initial Decision in this matter. At its meeting of May 14, 2020[2], the Board reviewed the Initial Decision, Exceptions and Reply Exceptions. After full and fair consideration of the Decision and submissions, the Board voted to adopt the Initial Decision. Prior to the June 26, 2020 meeting, wherein the Board was scheduled to vote upon this written form of order, Etheridge contacted the Board office and requested to appear in person. Although there was no legal requirement that the Board permit Etheridge to appear, rather than create a procedural issue, Etheridge was advised she may appear via Skype during the Board's virtual meeting on June 26, 2020. Etheridge indicated she did not wish to appear virtually but preferred to appear in person. Due to the unprecedented public health emergency, the Board did not believe it would be operating virtually for an entire year and it decided to hold the matter until an in-person meeting could be conducted as a courtesy to Etheridge. In the interim, the Board continued to request extensions of time from the OAL for considering the Initial Decision in this matter. The Board no longer has consent to continue extensions in this matter and has placed this written decision for consideration on the April 1, 2021 meeting agenda and offered Etheridge the opportunity to appear virtually.

[2] Due to the public health emergency, the May 14, 2020 meeting was the Board's first virtual meeting.

On April 1, 2021, Etheridge appeared before the Board virtually and made a 5-minute statement regarding this matter.

"Teachers ... are professional employees to whom the people have entrusted the care and custody of ... school children. This heavy duty requires a degree of self-restraint and controlled behavior rarely requisite to other types of employment." Tenure of Sammons, 1972 S.L.D. 302, 321. As noted above, after reviewing the record, ALJ Guerrero concluded that summary decision was appropriate in this case due to the application of collateral estoppel resulting from the factual findings in the Arbitration Decision. Having found unbecoming conduct, combined with Guerrero's credibility findings regarding the witnesses presented by Etheridge in the penalty hearing and the fact that Etheridge showed no remorse for her actions and attempted to blame those around her for her conduct, the Board finds no reason to disturb the ALJ's initial decision. Accordingly, after reviewing the entire record, the Board agrees with the ALJ's assessment regarding Etheridge's conduct and the appropriate resultant penalty.

The record unequivocally established that Etheridge falsified student's grades and engaged in inappropriate grading practices, failed to appear at several co-teaching assignments, hall duty, left campus without authorization, engaged in unprofessional conduct with parents and faculty, and failed to comply with aspects of her corrective action plan. These events, coupled with Etheridge's lack of remorse or acceptance of responsibility for her actions, provide ample justification for the revocation of her certificates. The Board agrees with the ALJ that the mitigation she presented does not compel a different result. The Board therefore believes that the only appropriate penalty in this matter is the revocation of her certificates.

Accordingly, on May 14, 2020, the Board voted to adopt the Initial Decision and ordered the revocation of Etheridge's certificates. On this 1st day of April, 2021, the Board formally adopted its written decision to adopt the Initial Decision in this matter and it is therefore ORDERED that Lesley A. Etheridge's certificates are hereby revoked, effective immediately. It is further ordered that Etheridge return her certificates to the Secretary of the State Board of Examiners, Office of Certification and Induction, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, NJ 08625-0500 within 30 days of the mailing date of this decision.

Re: Monika Vakulchik v. Board of Education of the Borough of Dunellen, Middlesex County, Agency Dkt. No. 159-7/20, Commissioner Decision No. 194-21.

Dear Parties:

I have reviewed the materials filed in connection with respondent Dunellen Board of Education's Motion to Stay the September 16, 2021 decision reinstating petitioner Monika Vakulckik to her teaching position, pending appeal.

Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(b), a motion for stay is considered an extraordinary remedy that may only be issued upon a finding that the movant has met each prong of the four-pronged standard for the granting of interim relief set forth in Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126 (1982). Thus, a stay may be granted where necessary to prevent irreparable harm, where the legal right underlying the movant's claim is settled, where there is a likelihood of success on the merits and where the relative hardship to the moving party favors granting such relief. Id. at 132-134.

Upon review of the parties' submissions, I find that the Board has failed to meet the standard required for a stay of the September 16, 2021 decision. Most notably, the Board has failed to establish a likelihood of success on the merits. Regarding this prong, the Board argues that it substantially complied with the statutory notice requirements. The petitioner had actual notice of her non-renewal and was able to exercise her right to a statement of reasons and a Donaldson hearing to dispute the non-renewal decision.

In the September 16, 2021 decision, the Commissioner determined that the Board had not substantially complied with the statute, because it had not provided a reasonable explanation for its noncompliance or demonstrated that it took steps to comply with the statute. In its motion papers, the Board generally reiterated the arguments previously made before the Commissioner, which were fully considered before the September 16, 2021 decision was issued. The Board further contends that it did take steps to comply with the statute by providing petitioner with a statement of reasons for her non-renewal and a Donaldson hearing. However, those steps took place after the failure to provide written notice from the superintendent and demonstrate compliance with other provisions of the statutory framework, not the notice provision. The Board also argues that petitioner had actual notice of her non-renewal, but the Commissioner determined in the September 16, 2021 decision that petitioner's knowledge does not excuse the Board from complying with its statutory notice obligations. As a result, the Board has failed to demonstrate a likelihood of success on the merits.

In light of the fact that all of the Crowe prongs must be met in order for a stay to be granted, it is not necessary to analyze the three remaining factors. Accordingly, respondent's request for a stay of the September 16, 2021 decision is hereby DENIED.[1]

Sincerely,

Angelica Allen-McMillan, Ed.D.

Decision

Lovena Batts,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Borough of Roselle, Union County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

This matter stems from tenure charges certified and filed by the respondent Board on April 9, 2019, against petitioner – a tenured teacher – charging her with incapacity, excessive absenteeism and other just cause, and seeking her dismissal. Petitioner began working in the Board's district in September 2010, earning tenure in September 2013. During the 2015-2016, 2016-2017, and 2017-2018 school years, petitioner was absent from work an excessive number of days each year. Petitioner has not worked in the school district since September 2017 and has been off the payroll since that time. In January 2020, petitioner filed the within appeal, seeking immediate reinstatement to the Board's payroll and reimbursement for all compensation withheld since October 2019, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14. The parties filed opposing motions for summary decision.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: there are no material facts at issue here, and the matter is ripe for summary decision; N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14 does not entitle petitioner to be paid her salary as of October 2019 and during the pendency of the tenure proceedings; N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14 only applies when a tenured employee is taken off payroll – or suspended without pay – due to suspension following tenure charges; petitioner in this matter was not suspended upon certification of the tenure charges, but rather had been removed from the Board's payroll in 2017, long before tenure charges were filed in April 2019; and the doctors' letters petitioner submitted clearing her for work in September 2019 do not impact whether she is entitled to payment under N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14. Accordingly, the ALJ granted the Board's motion for summary decision, denied petitioner's opposing motion, and dismissed the petition.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurred with the ALJ's findings and conclusion, and adopted the Initial Decision as the final decision is this matter for the reasons expressed therein. The petition was dismissed.

Agency Dkt. No. 8-1/20

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Decision

Lovena Batts,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Borough of Roselle, Union County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed, as have the exceptions filed by the petitioner, in accordance with N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4, and the Board's reply thereto.

This matter stems from tenure charges certified and filed by the Board on April 9, 2019, against petitioner – a tenured teacher – charging petitioner with incapacity, excessive absenteeism and other just cause, and seeking her dismissal. Petitioner had been absent approximately 46-56 days in the 2015-2016 school year, 30.5 days in the 2016-2017 school year, and 168.5 days in the 2017-2018 school year. Petitioner has been absent from work since on or about September 13, 2017 and has been off the Board's payroll since 2017. Following the filing of tenure charges, petitioner submitted letters from two doctors, dated September 12 and 16, 2019, clearing her to return to work in September 2019. Petitioner subsequently filed the within petition of appeal seeking to be reinstated to the payroll during the pendency of the tenure hearing as of October 6, 2019, based on N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14.

Following motions for summary decision, the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) found that N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14 does not entitle petitioner to be paid her salary as of October 6, 2019 and during the pendency of the tenure proceedings. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14 provides:

> Upon certification of any charge to the commissioner, the board may suspend the person against whom such charge is made, with or without pay, but, if the determination of the charge by the arbitrator is not made within 120 calendar days after certification of the charges, excluding all delays which are granted at the request of such person, then the full salary (except for said 120 days) of such person shall be paid beginning on the one hundred twenty-first day until such determination is made. . .

The ALJ concluded that, considering the principles of statutory construction, N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14 only applies when a tenured employee is taken off payroll – or suspended without pay – due to suspension following tenure charges. Here, the ALJ found that petitioner was not suspended upon certification of the tenure charges, but rather had been removed from the Board's payroll in 2017, long before tenure charges were filed in April 2019. Further, the ALJ noted that the letters petitioner submitted clearing her for work in September 2019 do not impact whether she is entitled to payment under N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14.

In her exceptions, petitioner argues that the ALJ incorrectly determined that she was not suspended upon certification of the tenure charges and that therefore N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14 did not apply. Petitioner attached a copy of a "Resolution Certifying Charges and Suspension without Pay," (Resolution) in which she contends the Board approved the filing of tenure charges against her and suspended her without pay, effective March 25, 2019. According to petitioner, because she was suspended without pay upon the certification of tenure charges, N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14 applies to her case, and she is entitled to be reinstated to the payroll with back pay. As such, petitioner urges the Commissioner to reject the Initial Decision. Alternatively, petitioner argues that whether she was suspended is a disputed material fact that warrants a hearing.

In reply, the Board argues that petitioner failed to make that argument before the ALJ; regardless, the argument is without merit. The Board contends that the Resolution did not take petitioner off payroll as she was removed from payroll in 2017, so the sentence suspending petitioner in the Resolution is irrelevant. As such, the Board argues that the Initial Decision should be adopted.

Upon review, the Commissioner agrees with the ALJ that N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14 does not entitle petitioner to be paid her salary during the pendency of the tenure proceedings. Petitioner was not removed from the payroll due to the filing of tenure charges; rather, she had not been to work nor been on the payroll for two years prior to the filing of the charges. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14 is intended "to alleviate 'the economic hardship endured by teachers . . . suspended without pay pending the outcome of charges filed against them and certified for [a] hearing. . . .'" Pugliese v. State Operated School District of the City of Newark, 454 N.J. Super. 495, 505 (App. Div. 2018) (quoting In re Grossman, 127 N.J. Super. 13, 35-36 (App. Div. 1974)). In this circumstance, it is not the statute's intent to give petitioner a windfall by having her placed on the payroll solely because tenure charges were filed when she had not appeared for work nor been paid in two years. Although the petitioner's argument regarding the Resolution was not presented before the ALJ, the Commissioner notes that this Resolution appears to consist of standard language that did not have the actual effect of suspending petitioner as she was already not working or getting paid.

Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL is adopted as the final decision in this matter for the reasons expressed herein. The petition is hereby dismissed.

IT IS SO ORDERED. [1]

LOVENA BATTS,
Petitioner,
v.
BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE BOROUGH OF ROSELLE, UNION COUNTY,
Respondent.

Nicholas Poberezhsky, Esq., for petitioner (Caruso, Smith, Picini, attorneys)

Stephen J. Edelstein, Esq., for respondent (Weiner Law Group, attorneys)

Record Closed: July 26, 2021 Decided: August 4, 2021

BEFORE MARGARET M. MONACO, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner Lovena Batts (petitioner or Batts) seeks reinstatement to the payroll pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14 during the pendency of tenure proceedings by respondent Roselle Borough Board of Education (the Board).

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On January 9, 2020, petitioner filed a Certified Petition with the Commissioner of Education (the Commissioner) seeking an order requiring the Board "to immediately reinstate her to the payroll and benefits plan, and to reimburse her for all compensation withheld from her since October 6, 2019." Petitioner's claim is predicated on N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14. On January 29, 2020, the Board filed an Answer and Affirmative Defenses, and the Department of Education transmitted the matter to the Office of Administrative Law for determination as a contested case. Telephone conferences were held on March 2 and April 15, 2020, after which I entered an order on April 29, 2020, at petitioner's request, placing the matter on the inactive list until July 15, 2020. During a telephone conference on July 7, 2020, a schedule was established for the submission of cross-motions for summary decision.[1] Petitioner filed a brief (with exhibits attached) in support of her motion, along with a certification by petitioner (Batts Cert.). The Board submitted a brief in support of its motion; a brief in opposition to petitioner's motion; a Sworn Statement of Evidence by the Interim Superintendent of Schools (Dr. James Baker); and certifications by counsel (Edelstein Cert.). The parties also filed a Joint Stipulation of Facts. Oral argument on the cross-motions was entertained on July 26, 2021.

FINDINGS OF FACT

Based upon a review of the documentary evidence presented, including the Joint Stipulation of Facts (Stip.) and the certifications submitted, I FIND the following pertinent FACTS:

The Board operates the Roselle Public School District, which is duly organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey and tasked with educating students Grades Pre-K-12. (Stip. at ¶ 1.) Batts has been employed by the Board as a certificated elementary teacher since on or about September 2010. (See Stip. at ¶¶ 2, 7.) She became tenured in or about September 2013. (Stip. at ¶ 2.) Batts was assigned to teach basic skills at Dr. Charles C. Polk Elementary School. (Stip. at ¶ 3.)

[1] The Board had previously filed a motion for summary decision with its answer, after which petitioner filed a cross-motion for summary decision. These motions were withdrawn and replaced by the later submissions.

During the 2015–2016 school year, Batts was absent approximately forty-six to fifty-six days, including five family illness days, ten sick days, three personal days, thirty-one Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA) days, and seven unpaid days. (See Edelstein Cert. at Exhibit A (Tenure Charges); Sworn Statement of Evidence at Exhibit 4.)[2]

For the 2016–2017 school year, Batts was absent a total of thirty and one-half days, including twelve sick days, three personal days, one other, and fourteen and one-half unpaid days. (See Edelstein Cert. at Exhibit A (Tenure Charges); Sworn Statement of Evidence at Exhibit 9.)

For the 2017–2018 school year, Batts was absent a total of one hundred sixty-eight and one-half days, including twelve sick days, one and one-half personal days, and 155 unpaid days. (See Edelstein Cert. at Exhibit A (Tenure Charges); Sworn Statement of Evidence at Exhibit 10.) Batts has been absent from work since on or about September 13, 2017. (Stip. at ¶ 10.)

On or about April 9, 2019, the Board certified and filed tenure charges with the Commissioner charging Batts with incapacity, excessive absenteeism and other just cause and seeking her dismissal. (Stip. at ¶ 11; see Edelstein Cert. at Exhibit A.) After being granted an extension of time to respond, Batts, through her then-counsel, filed her answer to the tenure charges on May 2, 2019. (Stip. at ¶ 12.) On or about May 11, 2019, the Commissioner appointed Dr. McKissick to serve as the arbitrator. (Stip. at ¶ 13.) To date, the tenure charges have not been adjudicated. (Edelstein Cert. at ¶ 2.)

Batts has been off the Board's payroll since 2017, and her payroll status did not change because of the filing of the tenure charges in April 2019. (See Edelstein Cert., Exhibit B at ¶¶ 3 and 12.) Batts admits that "while out on medical leave since October

[2] Although the Sworn Tenure Charges state that Batts was absent a total of forty-six days, the listed days equal fifty-six days.

2017, [she] exhausted her accumulated sick days and was consequently removed from the payroll prior to April 2019." (Batts' brief at 3.)

More than five months after the tenure charges were filed, Batts' attorney provided letters from two doctors, dated September 12 and September 16, 2019, to the Board's attorney. (Batts Cert. at ¶ 4 and Exhibit 3.)[3] The letters state that the two doctors have cleared Batts to return to work in September 2019. (Id. at Exhibit 3.)

LEGAL DISCUSSION AND CONCLUSIONS

Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(b), summary decision "may be rendered if the papers and discovery which have been filed, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact challenged and that the moving party is entitled to prevail as a matter of law." This rule is substantially similar to the summary-judgment rule embodied in the New Jersey Court Rules. See Judson v. Peoples Bank & Trust Co. of Westfield, 17 N.J. 67, 74 (1954). In Brill v. Guardian Life Insurance Co., 142 N.J. 520, 540 (1995), the New Jersey Supreme Court addressed the appropriate test to be employed in deciding the motion:

> [A] determination whether there exists a "genuine issue" of material fact that precludes summary judgment requires the motion judge to consider whether the competent evidential materials presented, when viewed in the light most favorable to the non-moving party, are sufficient to permit a rational factfinder to resolve the alleged disputed issue in favor of the non-moving party. The "judge's function is not . . . to weigh the evidence and determine the truth of the matter but to determine whether there is a genuine issue for trial." . . . . If there exists a single, unavoidable resolution of the alleged disputed issue of fact, that issue should be considered insufficient to constitute a "genuine" issue of material fact for purposes of Rule 4:46-2.
> [Citations omitted.]

[3] According to Batts' brief, the letters were issued to the Board's attorney in September 2019. (Batts' brief at 4.)

In evaluating the merits of the motion, all inferences of doubt are drawn against the movant and in favor of the party against whom the motion is directed. Judson, 17 N.J. at 75. However, "[w]hen a motion for summary decision is made and supported, an adverse party in order to prevail must by responding affidavit set forth specific facts showing that there is a genuine issue which can only be determined in an evidentiary proceeding." N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(b). The New Jersey Supreme Court has cautioned that, "if the opposing party offers no affidavits or matter in opposition, or only facts which are immaterial or of an insubstantial nature, a mere scintilla, . . . '[f]anciful, frivolous, gauzy or merely suspicious' . . ., he will not be heard to complain if the court grants summary judgment, taking as true the statement of uncontradicted facts in the papers relied upon by the moving party, such papers themselves not otherwise showing the existence of an issue of material fact." Judson, 17 N.J. at 75 (citation omitted). Stated differently, "[b]are conclusions . . . without factual support in tendered affidavits, will not defeat a meritorious application for summary judgment." U.S. Pipe & Foundry Co. v. Am. Arbitration Ass'n, 67 N.J. Super. 384, 399-400 (App. Div. 1961). Further, the "non-moving party cannot defeat a motion for summary judgment merely by pointing to any fact in dispute." Brill, 142 N.J. at 529. Disputed issues of fact that are immaterial or of an insubstantial nature will not suffice. Ibid. Rather, "[c]ompetent opposition requires 'competent evidential material' beyond mere 'speculation' and 'fanciful arguments,'" Cortez v. Gindhart, 435 N.J. Super. 589, 605 (App. Div. 2014), certif. denied, 220 N.J. 269 (2015) (citation omitted), and the party opposing the motion "'must do more than simply show that there is some metaphysical doubt as to the material facts.'" Alfano v. Schaud, 429 N.J. Super. 469, 474 (App. Div. 2013), certif. denied, 214 N.J. 119 (2013) (citation omitted).

Judged against these standards, I CONCLUDE, and the parties agree, that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and that the matter is ripe for summary decision.

N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14, entitled "[s]uspension upon certification of charge; compensation; reinstatement," directs in pertinent part:

> Upon certification of any charge to the commissioner, the board may suspend the person against whom such charge is > made, with or without pay, but, if the determination of the charge by the arbitrator is not made within 120 calendar days after certification of the charges, excluding all delays which are granted at the request of such person, then the full salary (except for said 120 days) of such person shall be paid beginning on the one hundred twenty-first day until such determination is made . . . . (Emphasis added.)

The Legislature's intent in enacting the statute was "to alleviate 'the economic hardship endured by teachers . . . suspended without pay pending the outcome of charges filed against them and certified for [a] hearing. . . .'" Pugliese v. State-Operated Sch. Dist. of City of Newark, 454 N.J. Super. 495, 505 (App. Div. 2018) (quoting In re Grossman, 127 N.J. Super. 13, 35-36 (App. Div. 1974)).

Batts argues that the Board certified the tenure charges on April 9, 2019; the 121st calendar day following certification was August 7, 2019; Batts was granted a sixty-day adjournment of the tenure arbitration to afford her time to seek new counsel; and, if the 120-day unpaid suspension period is tolled by sixty days, the Board was required to reinstate Batts' salary by October 6, 2019 pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14.[4]

The principles governing statutory construction are well settled. The "overriding objective in determining the meaning of a statute is to 'effectuate the legislative intent in light of the language used and the objects sought to be achieved.'" McCann v. Clerk of Jersey City, 167 N.J. 311, 320 (2001) (citation omitted). The general rule of statutory construction requires an examination of the language of a statute to determine whether the language is clear or ambiguous and susceptible to more than one interpretation. The

[4] On February 27, 2020, Arbitrator McKissick issued an "Order Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14" ordering that Batts "be reinstated with pay, beginning on the one hundred twenty-first day until a determination is made regarding . . . [the tenure] charges." (Batts Cert. at Exhibit 2.) Batts "acknowledge[s] that Dr. McKissick's February 27, 2020, Arbitration Award and Order is not binding on this tribunal[.]" (Batts' brief at 7.) In May 2020, the Board filed a Verified Complaint in the Superior Court of New Jersey, Chancery Division, seeking to "Vacat[e] the Arbitration Award of February 27, 2020." (Edelstein Cert. at ¶ 3 and Exhibit B.) In response, Batts filed a Counterclaim seeking to "Confirm[ ] . . . [the] February 27, 2020, Arbitration Award and Order," along with reinstatement to the payroll and reimbursement of salary withheld. (Edelstein Supplemental Cert. at Exhibit D.) On June 19, 2020, the Honorable Robert J. Mega, P.J.Ch., issued Orders dismissing the Board's Verified Complaint and Batts' Counterclaim. (Id. at Exhibit E.) According to the parties' submissions, the court determined that the parties failed to exhaust their administrative remedies and that the Commissioner had jurisdiction to hear the matter. (See Batts' brief at 3; Board's reply brief at 2, fn. 1.)

Supreme Court explained in Murray v. Plainfield Rescue Squad, 210 N.J. 581, 592 (2012) (citations omitted):

> The objective of all statutory interpretation is to discern and effectuate the intent of the Legislature. To achieve that objective, we begin by looking at the statute's plain language, ascribing to the words used "their ordinary meaning and significance." We do not view the statutory words in isolation but "in context with related provisions so as to give sense to the legislation as a whole." If the Legislature's intent is clear on the face of the statute, then we must apply the law as written. It is not our function to rewrite a plainly written statute or to presume that the Legislature meant something other than what it conveyed in its clearly expressed language.

Pursuant to the plain and unambiguous language of N.J.S.A. 18A-6-14, the 120-day rule only applies to situations where a tenured teacher is taken off the payroll because of a suspension following the certification of tenure charges. See N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14 ("Upon certification of any charge to the commissioner, the board may suspend the person against whom such charge is made . . . without pay, but, if the determination of the charge by the arbitrator is not made within 120 calendar days after certification of the charges . . . then the full salary (except for said 120 days) of such person shall be paid beginning on the one hundred twenty-first day until such determination is made.") (emphasis added.) Indeed, the title of the statute itself (i.e., "[s]uspension upon certification of charge") makes clear that the intended purpose of the statute is to address the permitted length of a suspension during the pendency of tenure proceedings.

Succinctly stated, N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14 is not applicable to Batts' situation. Batts was not suspended upon certification of the tenure charges. Rather, Batts had been removed from the Board's payroll long before the April 2019 tenure charges were filed. Batts has been off the Board's payroll since 2017, and her payroll status did not change as a result of the filing of the tenure charges in April 2019. In other words, Batts' pay was not stopped because of the certification of tenure charges against her, which is the circumstance contemplated by and addressed in N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14. Rather, her pay was stopped because she had exhausted all paid leave and had not returned to work as of the filing of the tenure charges. That Batts provided letters from two doctors more than five months after the tenure charges had been filed, indicating that she was medically cleared to return to work in September 2019, has no bearing on the issue of whether Batts is entitled to pay pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14. And Batts' Petition does not assert any claim relating to alleged action that the Board should have taken after receiving the doctors' letters. Equally unpersuasive is petitioner's "fairness and equity" argument based on the Board's alleged delay in the tenure proceedings.[5] Equity is not an issue here. Whereas here, "the Legislature's intent is clear on the face of the statute," this forum "must apply the law as written" and it is not the function of this forum to "rewrite a plainly written statute." Murray, 210 N.J. at 592.

Based upon the foregoing, I CONCLUDE that N.J.S.A. 18A:6-14 does not entitle petitioner to be paid her salary as of October 6, 2019, and during the pendency of the tenure proceedings.

ORDER

I ORDER that respondent's motion for summary decision be and hereby is GRANTED and petitioner's motion for summary decision be and hereby is DENIED. I further Order that petitioner's Certified Petition be and hereby is DISMISSED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

[5] According to petitioner, the "tenure arbitration is inactive pending the conclusion of the Board's ongoing appeal before the Appellate Division" relating to the Board's action to vacate a prehearing discovery ruling by the arbitrator and to have the arbitrator removed. The Board disputes petitioner's assertion. The Board contends that on October 16, 2019, Judge Dupuis entered an Order in Roselle Borough Board of Education v. Lovena Batts, et al., Docket No. UNN-C-143-19, providing that "[t]he Arbitration of the tenure matter scheduled for October 17, 2019, is temporarily enjoined and restrained pending the further Order of this Court" (Edelstein Supplemental Cert. at Exhibit A); that "further Order of this Court" came on February 12, 2020, when Judge Dupuis entered a Final Order dismissing the Verified Complaint and, with it, the restraints (Id. at Exhibit B); because of this Order, and the Board's decision to appeal, Board counsel wrote to the arbitrator on February 18, 2020, advising of the Board's intention to appeal and stating, "[i]n the meantime, we are requesting that you stay the Arbitration in this case until the Appellate Division has ruled on the merits" (Id. at Exhibit C); and the arbitrator did not respond to or grant the request for a stay.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

A.T., on behalf of minor children, K.T. and P.T.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Township of Sparta, Sussex County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Petitioner appealed the determination of the respondent Board that her minor children were not entitled to a free public education in the Sparta School District (the District) and may not continue to attend its schools. In August 2018, petitioner had purchased a home in Sparta that needed significant renovation to make it habitable. In September 2019, petitioner was granted permission for her children to attend school in the District pursuant to a Board policy that allows non-residents who have entered into a contract to buy, build, or rent a home in Sparta to attend its schools for up to 120 days without payment of tuition. In November 2020, the Board conducted a residency investigation and determined that the family was not living at the Sparta home, leading to the within appeal. The Board filed a motion to dismiss the petition, and a counterclaim for tuition in the amount of $35,363.44 for K.T. and P.T.'s period of ineligible attendance.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: petitioner's testimony during the hearing in this matter was not credible; evidence presented failed to prove that petitioner and her family had actually lived in the Sparta home; petitioner failed to satisfy her burden of establishing that she was domiciled in Sparta; further, petitioner and her family were not homeless, as the three-year period of construction on the house in which they had never lived was not the type of emergency that is contemplated by the laws regarding homelessness. Accordingly, the ALJ dismissed the petition and granted the Board's request for tuition reimbursement in the amount of $35,363.44.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurred with the findings and conclusions of the ALJ and adopted the Initial Decision of the OAL as the final decision in this matter. The petitioner was ordered to reimburse the Board for tuition in the amount of $35,363.44 for K.T. and P.T.'s period of ineligible attendance. The petition was dismissed.

This synopsis is not part of the Commissioner's decision. It has been prepared for the convenience of the reader. It has been neither reviewed nor approved by the Commissioner.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

A.T., on behalf of minor children,
K.T. and P.T,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Township of Sparta, Sussex County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), the exceptions filed by petitioner pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4, and the Board's reply thereto, have been reviewed and considered.[1]

Petitioner purchased a home in Sparta in August 2018. In September 2019, she was granted permission for her children to attend school in Sparta while renovations were being completed, provided that the family moved into the home by January 2020. In November 2020, the Board conducted a residency investigation and determined that the family was not living at the Sparta home. Petitioner filed a petition of appeal and application for emergent relief in January 2021, and the Commissioner affirmed the Administrative Law Judge's (ALJ) emergent order permitting the children to remain enrolled in the district, with tuition charges accruing during the pendency of the hearing on the merits. In March 2021, petitioner claimed that she and her children were homeless; the Board determined that they were not homeless. Following a hearing, the ALJ found that petitioner's testimony was not credible and that she and her family had never lived in the Sparta home. The ALJ concluded that petitioner had failed to satisfy her burden of establishing that she was domiciled in Sparta. The ALJ further concluded that petitioner was not homeless, as the three-year period of construction on a home in which she had never lived was not the type of emergency that is contemplated by the laws regarding homelessness. Accordingly, the ALJ dismissed the petition and granted the Board's request for tuition reimbursement in the amount of $35,363.44.

[1] Following the filing of the Board's reply, petitioner – on her own, not through her attorney – emailed information to the Commissioner. Petitioner's counsel also submitted a letter in furtherance of petitioner's exceptions, to which the Board objected. As N.J.A.C. 1:1-14.8 does not provide for sur-replies to exceptions, these submissions were not considered.

In her exceptions, petitioner argues that her testimony was credible, the home was habitable, she and her family did live there, and they only left to accommodate the needs of their autistic child. According to the petitioner, the ALJ ignored the provisions of the McKinney-Vento Act that demonstrate that petitioner was homeless. Petitioner asks the Commissioner to remand the case to the OAL to consider evidence regarding temperatures throughout the state of New Jersey, the effectiveness of attic fans, a recognition that petitioner's September 2019 email to the Superintendent set forth the required elements for a determination of homelessness, and the importance of the fact that petitioner was hired by the Board for a position within walking distance of the Sparta home.

In reply, the Board argues that the ALJ properly held that the Sparta home was uninhabitable based on the evidence, including petitioner's own testimony about numerous material defects. The Board contends that the Commissioner is required to defer to the ALJ's findings of fact based on credibility determinations because they are supported by the record and are not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable. According to the Board, petitioner's reliance on an email that she wrote to the superintendent about living in the Sparta home is self-serving, does not negate the ALJ's credibility determinations, and is contradicted by other statements made by petitioner. The Board acknowledges that the ALJ did not specifically reference the McKinney-Vento Act, but argues that the ALJ did address the issue in finding that the family is not homeless. Finally, the Board contends that petitioner's request for remand is inappropriate because all of the issues or arguments she seeks to raise were considered by the ALJ.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the ALJ's conclusion that petitioner failed to sustain her burden of establishing that she was a domiciliary of Sparta from January 3, 2020 to the present, or that she and her family were homeless during that period. The Commissioner further concurs with the ALJ's conclusion that the minor children were, therefore, not entitled to a free public education in Sparta's schools during that time.

Regarding the brief period during the summer of 2019 in which petitioner claims to have lived in the Sparta home, the Commissioner concurs with the ALJ's finding that the evidence demonstrates only a short visit insufficient to establish domicile. The ALJ had the opportunity to assess the credibility of the witnesses who appeared before her and make findings of fact based upon their testimony. In this regard, the clear and unequivocal standard governing the Commissioner's review is:

> The agency head may not reject or modify any findings of fact as to issues of credibility of lay witness testimony unless it is first determined from a review of the record that the findings are arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable or are not supported by sufficient, competent, and credible evidence in the record.
> [N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10(c)].

The Commissioner finds no basis in the record to disturb the ALJ's credibility assessments. While petitioner's exceptions focus on the ALJ's reliance on the lack of air conditioning in the home, the ALJ's conclusion that petitioner was not credible was based on multiple factors, including the lack of the usual documentary evidence demonstrating residence and occupancy. The record makes clear that the family's true, fixed, and permanent home – where they ate, slept, and returned each day after school and work – was, and still is, in Garfield.

In the absence of the family's actual residence in the Sparta home, the only remaining piece of evidence in support of petitioner's claim is her intention to move into the home once repairs and renovations were completed. However, the Commissioner has previously rejected such arguments, and does so again here. See K.L. and K.L. o/b/o minor child M.L. v. Bd. of Educ. of the Borough of Kinnelon, Morris Cty., Commissioner Decision No. 315-08 (July 22, 2008), aff'd, K.L. v. Bd. of Educ., 2010 N.J. Super. Unpub. LEXIS 11 (App. Div. 2010); S.H. and C.H., o/b/o minor children, C.H., S.H., and S.H. v. Bd. of Educ. of the Twp. of Alloway, Salem Cty., Commissioner Decision No. 79-19 (March 26, 2019).

The Commissioner further concurs with the ALJ's conclusion that petitioner and her children were not homeless during the time period in question. Under the McKinney-Vento Act, homeless children are defined as "individuals who lack a fixed, regular and adequate nighttime residence," which includes "children sharing housing with other persons due to loss of their own housing, economic hardship, or a similar reason." 42 U.S.C.A. § 11434a. Similarly, under state law, homeless children are defined as "child[ren] or youth who lack[] a fixed, regular and adequate residence pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-12 and N.J.A.C. 6A:17-2.2," which includes children living in the "residence of relatives or friends where the homeless child resides out of necessity because his or her family lacks a regular or permanent residence of its own." N.J.A.C. 6A:17-1.2 and 2.2 (emphasis added).

The Commissioner has previously addressed the fact-specific nature of a homelessness inquiry. In M. O'K. v. Bd. of Educ. of the Borough of Cresskill, et al, Commissioner Decision No. 325-14 (August 12, 2014), aff'd, A-0828-14T4 (App. Div. Sept. 8, 2016), following the foreclosure of their home in Cresskill, the O'K family occupied the bottom floor of their relatives' house in Little Ferry, which consisted of one small bedroom and a common area, without a bathroom or kitchen. The parents and two of the children shared the bedroom, while their third child slept in the common area. At the time of the litigation, neither parent was employed, and the family's sole income consisted of Social Security Disability benefits. During the pendency of the litigation, the O'K family represented that they were actively searching for a house in Cresskill. The Commissioner found, and the Appellate Division affirmed, that the O'K family became homeless due to the foreclosure of their home in Cresskill, and although they had been deemed domiciled in Little Ferry as a result of their residence in the district for over one year, they continued to remain homeless due to their shared living conditions and the parents' economic hardship.

In contrast, in Bd. of Educ. of the Borough of Hawthorne, Passaic Cty. v. Bd. of Educ. of the Borough of Prospect Park, Passaic Cty., and N.J. Dep't of Educ., Commissioner Decision No. 196-14 (May 12, 2014), the Commissioner concluded that the petitioner's family was not homeless when they voluntarily abandoned their fixed, regular, and adequate residence to live with the petitioner's mother as part of fulfilling a plan to move out of state. The Commissioner found that in determining whether a child is residing with a family member "out of necessity," an "examination of the conditions that precipitated the family's relocation is critical." Ibid.

Homelessness is best viewed as a continuum, and petitioner's family more closely fits the facts of Hawthorne than those of M.O'K. Here, as the ALJ noted, there is no evidence that petitioner's family was a victim of an abrupt change of circumstances. During the relevant time period, petitioner lived primarily at her mother's home in Garfield.[2] While living with

[2] From the fall of 2020 until April 2021, when petitioner's brother also lived in the Garfield home, the family relocated to the home of a friend in Oak Ridge. There is limited evidence in the record about the adequacy of the Garfield home while petitioner's brother resided there, other than that it was crowded, and there is no evidence in the record about the adequacy of the Oak Ridge home. Accordingly, the Commissioner is unable to make a petitioner's mother, petitioner and her spouse chose to purchase a home in Sparta that required major repairs and renovations to make it habitable – so much so that, three years later, at the time of the hearing, the family still did not reside in the home. There is no evidence that the Garfield home was inadequate, and, in fact, the record demonstrates that it has a "mother-daughter" layout that includes a separate kitchen. The family has lived in the Garfield home since 2017, well before the purchase of the Sparta home in August 2018, and the children attended preschool there through June 2019. There is no evidence that the family moved into the Garfield home out of necessity. These circumstances are not the kind of emergency typically experienced by families who are found to be homeless. Petitioner may consider her current residence in Garfield temporary, and her intention may be to move to Sparta in the future. However, the totality of the facts and circumstances in this case, as thoroughly detailed in the Initial Decision, demonstrate that the family is not homeless.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1b, the Commissioner shall assess tuition against petitioner for the time period during which the minor children were ineligible to attend school in the district. The record reflects that there were 113 school days during the period from January 3, 2020 through June 19, 2020, and the cost of tuition for each child during that period was $94.29 per day, making the total tuition for that period $21,309.54. Furthermore, the record reflects K.T. attended school for 74 days from September 8, 2020 through January 11, 2021, at a tuition rate of $101.84 per day, for a total of $7,536.16. P.T. attended school for 69 days from September 8, 2020 through January 4, 2021, at a tuition rate of $94.46 per day, for a total of $6,517.74.

determination regarding whether the relocation from Garfield to Oak Ridge was done out of necessity and may have justified a finding of homelessness for that time period. However, even assuming arguendo that petitioner and her family were homeless during that period, it appears that their district of origin would have been Garfield, not Sparta, as the family resided in Garfield prior to relocating to Oak Ridge, and they had never established a domicile in Sparta.

Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL is adopted as the final decision in this matter. Petitioner is directed to reimburse the Board in the total amount of $35,363.44 for tuition costs incurred during the time period in which K.T. and P.T. were ineligible to attend school in Sparta. The petition of appeal is hereby dismissed.

BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF SPARTA, SUSSEX COUNTY,
Respondent.

George T. Daggett, Esq., for petitioner A.T. o/b/o K.T. and P.T. (Law Offices of George T. Daggett, attorneys)

Marc H. Zitomer, Esq., for respondent Board of Education of the Township of Sparta (Schenck, Price Smith & King, attorneys)

Record Closed: July 23, 2021 Decided: August 5, 2021

BEFORE GAIL M. COOKSON, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner A.T. filed and perfected a Petition of Appeal with the Department of Education on or about January 6, 2021, from the determination of the Board of Education ("District" or "Board") of the Township of Sparta ("Sparta") dated November 20, 2020, that she and her family are not domiciled in the Sparta and that her children cannot continue to attend its schools. The Board answered the petition and filed a counterclaim demanding tuition repayment for the period since January 3, 2020. On or about January 11, 2021, petitioner filed a Request for Emergent Relief.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The Department of Education Office of Controversies and Disputes transmitted the Petition and a Request for Emergent Relief to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) on or about January 12, 2021. The matter was assigned to the undersigned for oral argument on the emergency request, which was held through Zoom technology, consistent with the OAL Covid-19 Emergency provisions, on January 15, 2021. A determination on the emergent application was filed on January 19, 2021, wherein I concluded that the emergent relief must be granted but subject to the potential continued accrual of tuition reimbursement.

The plenary hearing was held through Zoom technology, consistent with the OAL Covid-19 Emergency provisions, on June 25, 2021. Post-hearing submissions were permitted and the record closed on July 23, 2021, with their receipt.

JOINT STIPULATION OF FACTS

The parties submitted a Joint Stipulation of Facts setting forth:

1. The Sparta Township Board of Education ("Board" or "District") is a pre-K to 12 school district located in Sussex County, New Jersey.

2. A.T. ("petitioner") is the parent of two children who are pertinent to this matter, K.T. and P.T. (collectively, "children").

3. K.T. is in the first grade and is a child entitled to special education as diagnosed on the autism spectrum.

4. P.T. is in preschool. He has a heart condition, but he has not been designated as a child in need of special education.[1]

5. From 2017 until June of 2019, petitioner, her spouse, and her children lived at [xx] Main Street in Garfield, New Jersey. E.K. is the owner of the home and is petitioner's mother.

6. On or about June 28, 2018, Paul Lanaris of N.J. Best HOME INSPECTIONS conducted an inspection of the residence at [xxx] West Mountain Road in Sparta Township, New Jersey ("Sparta Home") for petitioner's spouse, K.T. ("spouse"). Inspector Lanaris noted material defects in the home. See Exhibit A for a copy of the inspection report.

7. On or about August 27, 2018, petitioner's spouse purchased the Sparta Home. See Exhibit B, August 27, 2018 Deed of Sale.

8. On September 18, 2019, petitioner e-mailed the District's Superintendent of Schools at the time, Dr. Michael Rossi, to inquire as to whether her children could attend the District's schools free of charge until construction was completed at the Sparta Home. Petitioner stated that, "construction [would] be done by January and [petitioner's family would] no longer be staying [with their] family but in [their] home by then." See Exhibit C, September 18, 2019 e-mail.

9. On September 19, 2019, Dr. Rossi transmitted two nearly identical letters to petitioner in response to her correspondence, wherein he notified her that the children were granted permission to attend the District's schools free of charge, but that if the family did not move into Sparta Township by January 3, 2020, tuition would be charged, per Board policy. Dr. Rossi's letters stated the following, in pertinent parts:

> I am pleased to inform you that permission is granted with the understanding that you will provide transportation until you actually move into Sparta. [...]

[1] This stipulation is herein revised to correct the identification of the proper student, as addressed at the hearing.

> In the event you are not able to move by January 3, 2020, tuition will be charged. According to our current Board Policy, children are eligible to attend Sparta Schools if there is a signed contract to buy, build, or rent a residence within our district for a period not to exceed 120 days previous to the anticipated date of residency without tuition charges. If the Sparta residence is not established by the end of the period of free attendance, tuition shall be required for the remainder of the time until residency is established. Since your son will start school while not residing in Sparta on September 3, 2019, tuition would commence on January 3, 2020 and continue until the time you move.
> [See Exhibit D, September 19, 2019 letters.]

10. The Board Policy that Dr. Rossi referred to was Policy 5111, "Eligibility of Resident/Nonresident Students (M)", which states, in pertinent part:

> A nonresident student otherwise eligible for attendance whose parent or guardian anticipates school district residency and has entered a contract to buy, build, or rent a residence in this school district may be enrolled 120 days without payment of tuition for a period of time not greater than 120 days prior to the anticipated date of residency. If any such student does not become a resident of the school district within 120 days after admission to school, tuition will be charged for attendance commencing the beginning of the 121st day and until such time as the student becomes a resident or withdraws from school.
> [See Exhibit E, Board Policy 5111.]

11. From July of 2019 to October of 2020, petitioner, her spouse, and her children lived at [xx] Main Street in Garfield, New Jersey.

12. On November 3, 2020, the District Acting Superintendent of Schools at the time, Patrick McQueeney, wrote to petitioner and her spouse to inquire as to where they were domiciled at that time. He stated as follows:

> As you know, Superintendent Rossi granted your children permission to continue attending school in the Sparta School District on a tuition-free basis until January 3, 2020 conditioned on you moving into the home at [xxx] West Mountain Road, Sparta, New Jersey. It has come to my attention that you are still not domiciled at that address. Upon > receipt of this letter, please provide proof of your family's current domicile status. I await your timely response.

> [See Exhibit F, November 3, 2020 letter.]

13. Petitioner did not respond to Mr. McQueeney's November 3, 2020 letter.

14. The District's Director of District Operations, Michael Gregory, conducted a residency investigation to investigate whether the family was living at the Sparta Home. Mr. Gregory determined that no one was living at the Sparta Home. He concluded as follows in his November 13, 2020 investigation report, which included various photographs of the home:

> I went to the residence on Friday, November 13, 2020 and found no one at the residence. The front door was boarded up, the in-ground pool appeared to not have been utilized this past season, and construction materials limiting access to the back porch. Photos of this visit are attached.
> [See Exhibit G, November 13, 2020 Investigation Report with attached photographs.]

15. On or about November 13, 2020, Board Counsel transmitted a letter to petitioner and her spouse to notify them that the Board would be holding a residency hearing to determine her children's enrollment status on November 19, 2020, and that she was permitted to present a statement or other evidence. See Exhibit H, November 13, 2020 letter.

16. Petitioner elected not to attend, but rather, chose to submit a position statement through her Counsel on or about November 16, 2020. See Exhibit I, Position Statement.

17. At the November 19, 2020 Board residency hearing, the Board found that the children were not domiciled within the District during the 2019-2020 and 2020-2021 school years and assessed them tuition for the period of January 3, 2020 to the present. Board Counsel transmitted a letter to petitioner and her spouse the following day, November 20, 2020, to inform them of the Board's decision. See Exhibit J, November 20, 2020 correspondence with tuition spreadsheet and Resolution for the residence hearing.

18. On January 3, 2021, petitioner e-mailed District Attendance Secretary Jennifer Sullivan to withdraw P.T. from the District for the remainder of the school year. Petitioner stated that P.T. would be receiving home instruction, and she attached an executed student withdrawal form to her e-mail. See Exhibit K, January 3, 2021 e-mail and attached student withdrawal form.

19. Petitioner filed a Petition of Appeal with the Office of Controversies and Disputes on January 6, 2021, and perfected same on January 8, 2021, appealing the Board's decision.

20. Petitioner filed an Application for Emergent Relief on January 11, 2021.

21. On January 19, 2021, the Honorable Gail M. Cookson, ALJ, granted petitioner's request for emergent relief, but with conditions. Judge Cookson concluded the Emergent Relief Order by stating "that petitioner's application for emergent relief must be granted, but conditioned upon the continued accrual of non-residential per diem charges pending the hearing on the merits." See Exhibit L, January 19, 2021 Emergent Relief Order.

22. In or around March of 2021, petitioner claimed, for the first time, that she and her children were homeless.

23. On or about March 22, 2021, the District's Homeless Liaison, Laura Trent, met with petitioner to discuss petitioner's homelessness claim.

24. On or about March 23, 2021, Ms. Trent made her determination that petitioner and her children were not homeless. She advised petitioner that she was permitted to enroll her children in the District, but per Judge Cookson's Emergent Relief Order, petitioner would be responsible for back-tuition should the Court find that she was not domiciled in Sparta Township. In a letter to petitioner, Ms. Trent stated as follows, in pertinent part:

> It is our position that you are not homeless in Sparta, N.J. As you stated, you have chosen to live with friends and family in > Oak Ridge while the renovations are being completed on your Sparta home. This does not render you homeless. Importantly, the Administrative Law Judge concluded in your application for emergent relief application that you are not currently domiciled in Sparta and, by the admission of your attorney during oral argument, you have never occupied the Sparta home. Notwithstanding, you may enroll them in the Sparta School District, per the Judge's Order, but you will be responsible for back-tuition should the Judge conclude that you are not domiciled in Sparta.

> [See Exhibit M, Laura Trent's March 23, 2021 letter.]

25. Upon learning of petitioner's disagreement with her determination, Ms. Trent wrote to the Sussex County Executive County Superintendent of Schools, Gayle Carrick, Ed.D., on or about April 1, 2021, to notify Dr. Carrick of the issue. Counsel for both the Board and for petitioner sent follow-up letters to Dr. Carrick regarding same on or about April 5, 2021. See Exhibit N, Ms. Trent's April 1, 2021 letter (without attached exhibits).

26. On or about April 20, 2021, Dr. Carrick acknowledged receipt of the issue and directed the parties to Judge Cookson's Emergent Relief Order, via a letter that she transmitted to Board Counsel with a copy to petitioner's Counsel:

> I am acknowledging receipt of your correspondence dated April 5, 2021 regarding the T[.]/Sparta dispute and a determination of homeless. I direct you to the Order of Emergent Relief issued by ALJ Gail M. Cookson in this matter. Have a good day.
> [See Exhibit O, April 20, 2021 letter.

27. From April of 2021 until present, petitioner, her spouse, and her children have been living at [xx] Main Street in Garfield, New Jersey.

28. The children are not currently enrolled in the District.

It is also undisputed that prior to their residency application in Sparta but during the period both before and after purchase of the house in Sparta, the children attended preschool in Garfield, with the older son attending there during both the 2017-2018 and 2018-2019 school years. [Exhibit R-1, ¶¶ 118-119.]

FACTUAL DISCUSSION

Based upon the testimony of the witnesses and the documentary evidence presented, and with the opportunity to assess the credibility of the witnesses, I FIND the following:

A.T. testified that she and her family lived with her parents in Garfield prior to the purchase of the Sparta home. Her parents had a single-family house but it had a mother-daughter layout such that there was a separate kitchen etc. Petitioner stated that they moved into the Sparta home from June 22, 2019, through July 13, 2019, and intended to stay thereafter. She notified the Superintendent that she wanted to register the children in the Sparta schools. The office of the Superintendent forwarded the District's residency policy and explained that the family would be allowed to obtain a free public education in Sparta for the children for 120 days as the maximum allowed for a period of renovation. Petitioner questioned why the family was not entitled to regular residency attendance if they were living with family during just kitchen renovations. [P-1.] Her spouse was going to do the repairs himself for which they had obtained a permit. At that time, petitioner found the municipal offices to be very friendly and was actually able to procure a part-time job for herself in the building department.

Petitioner described the setting inside the house and the utilities they relied upon, such as hot spots rather than internet service. They all stayed in one bedroom to be able to comfort and supervise over the young children. P.T., who is autistic, has trouble sleeping and wanders, as well as places objects in his mouth. Petitioner became concerned with the potential hazards to him in the kitchen. In addition, it was determined that there was a rat infestation in the insulation, with other renovation issues much worse than they anticipated. As a result of these factors, they felt they had to leave the house while more extensive work was undertaken.

The family returned to petitioner's parents' home in Garfield but by then, her brother, who paid the real estate taxes for their parents, had moved into the self-contained apartment. Petitioner explained at the hearing that that meant that she, her spouse and the children shared just a regular bedroom. Because the house was crowded and her parents were getting too old to handle all of them living there, petitioner moved her family to a friend's home in Oak Ridge sometime in the fall of 2020 until April 2021, when they moved back to Garfield.

By January 2021, petitioner had dis-enrolled the children from Sparta because of the potential tuition claim. It appears that P.T. was in a private home-based ABA program for children on the autism spectrum. It was then that she was advised to consult the homeless liaison for Sparta.

Petitioner was questioned on cross-examination as to the discrepancy in the dates of their occupancy of the Sparta home in various documents. [R-4.] She also described more fully the furniture they moved in to include a bed, couches, boxes placed in the basement. They did not move in a dining room table but used a table left by the sellers. The District queried her extensively on the Inspection Report they procured prior to the closing (R-2), with emphasis on the numerous safety concerns that seemed to have been highlighted therein. Petitioner said her husband, who is an electrician for a public utility company, made some changes and also considered the panel old but functional.

Petitioner admitted that there was no functioning air conditioning when they were there for those weeks in late June and early July. Notwithstanding that her younger son has a congenital heart condition, she insisted that this was not a problem because they spent time outside and in the pool. She did confirm that there were roof and gutter leaks and no railings on the stairs, although the walls provided support. Petitioner asserted that they anticipate being able to move back into the home this summer, with an architect meeting with them the week following this hearing. On these stipulated facts and the petitioner's own testimony, following the purchase of the house, it was not made habitable, and I so FIND.

Patrick McQueeney testified for the Board. He is the Assistant Superintendent and explained briefly how the tuition calculations were made. [R-5.]

With the exception of the controverted three weeks in July 2019, it has been stipulated that petitioner's family lived in Garfield from 2017 through October 2020, and from April 2021 to the present. There is no dispute that they were living in neither Sparta nor Garfield between October 2020 and April 2021. Accordingly, the only possible period of physical occupation in the Sparta home is the summer of 2019. It is also not disputed that petitioner's family did not seek to enroll their young children into Sparta schools until a year after the purchase of the house, which interval was simply because of their ages. Further, during the period both before and after purchase of the house in Sparta, the children attended preschool in Garfield, with the older son attending there during both the 2017-2018 and 2018-2019 school years. [Exhibit R-1, ¶¶ 118-119.]

With respect to the three weeks referenced herein,[2] I must make credibility determinations with regard to these potentially material facts. A credibility determination requires an overall assessment of the witness' story in light of its rationality, internal consistency and the manner in which it "hangs together" with the other evidence. Daiichi Pharm. Co. v. Apotex, Inc., 441 F. Supp. 2d 672 (D.N.J. 2006). After carefully considering the testimonial and documentary evidence presented, and having had the opportunity to listen to the testimony and observe the demeanor of the witnesses, I am convinced that petitioner's testimony was not credible.

Petitioner's testimony did not hang together or make sense in light of many factors, not the least of which were her son's heart condition, the lack of any air conditioning, the minimal amount of the utility bills during and after the alleged period of occupation, and the absence of supporting testimony from other members of her family. To the extent that there are undated photos of the family purportedly at the house only demonstrates some short visit, and I so FIND. In addition, I noted on the emergent application that the pleadings did not assert that petitioner had ever lived in her Sparta house and counsel conceded as much during that oral argument. To the extent that the family slept in the house for some unknown but likely only a few nights, I FIND that it was a contrived and manipulated setting in an attempt to buttress the residency application they were then engaged in making to the District.

As set forth above, there was testimony that the family lived in Garfield with petitioner's parents from 2017 through at least June 2019 in the lower-level apartment. That is to say, they lived there both before and after purchasing the Sparta house in August 2018, and the children attended preschool in that district. There was no testimony that they moved there out of necessity, nor is there any evidence in the record as to where they lived prior thereto. Based upon all these facts, I further FIND that the Sparta house cannot be a factual predicate for having to live with petitioner's parents.

These findings are further supported by the lack of the usual documentary indicia of residence and occupancy, such as utility bills, pay stubs, insurance, construction invoices. I concur with the District that the lack of production of this common evidence by the petitioner generates, at the very least, a rebuttable presumption that their production would not have helped her case.[3] Petitioner carries the burden of proving her domicile in Sparta for eligibility for free public education there and her lack of documentary or buttressing testimonial proof weighs against her case. See State by Comm'r of Transp. v. Council in Div. of Res. Dev., etc., 60 N.J. 199, 202 (1972)(litigant's failure to produce may be inferred to have been prompted by a conscious appreciation that the evidence would or might be hurtful to his position), citing Interchemical Corp. v. Uncas Printing & Fishing Co., 39 N.J. Super. 318, 328 (App. Div. 1956).

LEGAL DISCUSSION AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The District claims that petitioner cannot establish domicile in Sparta because the family has never lived in the still-uninhabitable house, had not established it as their residence or domicile prior to registration of her children, and certainly was not living there as of January 3, 2020, when the 120-day grace period expired. It further argues that granting petitioner residency on this record would turn residency regulations on their head, to the effect that such a ruling would mean that anyone could purchase an uninhabitable home in a school district and thereafter assert residency and/or homelessness without ever having truly living in the district. The District also contested any claim of homelessness herein.

[3] Insofar as there has been no demonstration of bad faith or destruction, nor is this a jury trial, a formal sanction of an "adverse inference" is not appropriate, nor has it been sought. See, e.g., Bozic v. City of Wash., 912 F. Supp. 2d 257 (W.D. Pa. 2012).

Petitioner argues that she and the family established their domicile in Sparta prior to registering the children in the District and that they intend to return to the home once renovations are completed. As such, and because they had to move from that residence, petitioner argues that they are currently homeless and that Sparta is the district of origin that must provide a free public education to their children under the homelessness regulations.[4]

The right to a thorough and free education in the district of one's New Jersey domicile is well settled. A.M.S. ex rel. A.D.S. v. Bd. of Educ. of City of Margate, 409 N.J. Super. 149, 160-61 (App. Div. 2009). Therein, the court stated:

> N.J.A.C. 6A:22-2.1(b) requires school districts to adopt written policies and procedures related to student residency and to incorporate Department of Education (DOE) regulations pertaining to student residency into each district's policies and procedures. Moreover, in doing so, "a district board of education shall construe the provisions" of DOE regulations governing student residency "liberally so as to effectuate the right of students to a free public education." Ibid.

The Legislature has provided that local boards of education are responsible for the education of school-age children who are domiciled within their respective district. N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1. Narrow exceptions to the domicile rule are also provided when, among other things, the parent or guardian is a temporary resident of a district, N.J.S.A.

[4] Initially, petitioner was pro se when she appealed to the Department. After counsel entered his appearance and after the emergency hearing, he asserted the claim of homelessness; although petitioner also testified that she received that advice from a private party as well. In light of my determination herein, I need not reach the issue of whether this was timely asserted.

18A-38-1(d), or a parent moves between districts as a result of homelessness. N.J.S.A. 18A-38-1(f). In any event, a child's district of residence is generally determined based upon the district of residence of the child's parent or guardian. See, e.g., N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-12; N.J.S.A. 18A-38-1.

Generally, eligibility under the education laws and regulations is framed as, in relevant part:

> A student is eligible to attend a school district if he or she is domiciled within the school district. . . A student is domiciled in the school district when his or her parent or guardian resides within the school district on an all-year-round basis for one year or more, notwithstanding the existence of a domicile elsewhere.
> [N.J.A.C. 6A:22-3.1(a)(4) (as amended 2013)(emphasis added).]

It should be noted that the regulations had provided at the time of earlier decisions, e.g., K.L. v. Bd. of Educ., No. A-5671-07T1, 2010 N.J. Super. Unpub. LEXIS 11, at *9 (Super. Ct. App. Div. Jan. 4, 2010):

> A student is domiciled in the school district when he or she is living with a parent . . . whose permanent home is located within the school district. A home is permanent when the parent or guardian intends to return to it when absent and has no present intent of moving from it, notwithstanding the existence of homes or residences elsewhere.

Petitioner has asserted that she and her family intend to return to this home and had no intent to move from it but did so out of necessity. Yet, as we see, this regulation as amended no longer encompasses the concept of "intent." 45 N.J.R. 1209(a) (May 20, 2013). Moreover, the concept of "returning" to a home one never truly lived in, as supported by the findings of fact above, I CONCLUDE negates petitioner's assertion of intent.

According to N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-12(c), "[t]he district of residence for children whose parent . . . temporarily moves from one school district to another as the result of being homeless shall be the district in which the parent . . . last resided prior to becoming homeless." The district of residence shall be responsible for the education of a homeless child for as long as the parent remains homeless. N.J.A.C. 6A:17-2.4(a) and (c). In addition, "[e]nrollment in the school district of [residence] . . . shall continue for the duration of homelessness, including . . . for the remainder of the academic year if the homeless child becomes permanently housed during the academic year." N.J.A.C. 6A:17-2.6(h).

Before we can even reach the issue of whether Sparta is the district of domicile of the children, sometimes referred to as the "district of origin,"[5] we must examine whether the facts even support a finding of "homelessness."

> (a) A district board of education shall determine that a child is homeless for purposes of this subchapter when he or she resides in any of the following:
> 3. The residence of relatives or friends with whom the homeless child is temporarily residing out of necessity because the family lacks a regular or permanent residence of its own; or
> [N.J.A.C. 6A:17-2.3 (emphasis added).]

It is clear that the determination of "necessity" here is fact sensitive, on which issue petitioner has the burden of proof. Hawthorne BOE v. Prospect Park BOE and Dept. of Educ., OAL DKT. NO. EDU 16270-13, Final Agency Decision (May 12, 2014) http://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/>. In Hawthorne, the Department held:

> Upon full consideration, the Commissioner concurs with the ALJ's determination that the A. family was not homeless within the meaning of N.J.S.A. 18A:7B-12c and N.J.A.C. 6A:17-2.3. The Commissioner explicitly rejects respondents' assertion that the impetus for the A. family's departure from the Hawthorne apartment is immaterial. To the contrary, the [5] "District of residence" is also referred to as "district of origin." See N.J.A.C. 6A:17-2.2.

> Commissioner finds that an inquiry into the circumstances surrounding the A. family's move is essential to the homelessness determination.
> A "homeless child" is one who lacks a fixed, regular and adequate residence. N.J.A.C. 6A:17-2.2. Not every child residing temporarily with a relative is "homeless." Rather, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:17-2.3(a)3, such a child is homeless when he or she resides in "[t]he residence of relatives or friends with whom the homeless child is temporarily residing out of necessity because the family lacks a regular or permanent residence of its own." An examination of the conditions that precipitated the family's relocation is critical to ascertaining whether the living arrangement arose "out of necessity," and whether the family is without access to a "regular or permanent residence of its own."
> In the instant matter, the ALJ specifically found that the A. family was not forced out of their Hawthorne apartment, that N.A. was up to date on her rent, and that there was no evidence that she was unable to pay rent going forward. The ALJ further found that N.A. voluntarily abandoned her Hawthorne home and temporarily relocated the A. family to her parent's home in Prospect Park as part of fulfilling her plan to move to Florida.

As was true in Hawthorne, there is no evidence that petitioner's family was a victim of an abrupt change of circumstances. They chose to purchase a home in need of major repairs and renovations while they were already living in Garfield with her parents. Further, they did not move into the home after purchasing it. There was no crisis of immediacy. This situation is not that of a homeless family. See, e.g., J.G. and D.G. v. Bd. of Educ. of Point Pleasant, EDU 4688-10, Initial Decision (September 23, 2010), adopted, Comm'r (December 27, 2010), http://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/>. The family's circumstances here are clearly distinguishable from cases where a family becomes transient due to an emergency. See, e.g., S.J. o/b/o V.J. v. Bd. of Educ. of S. Orange-Maplewood, EDU 5656-07, Initial Decision (January 22, 2008), adopted, Comm'r (March 3, 2008), http://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/> (family evicted from apartment and then drifted around while living in a beauty salon, with a friend, and with child's grandmother in an attic); A.B. v. W. Orange Bd. of Educ., EDU13330-09, Initial Decision (January 25, 2010), adopted, Comm'r (April 13, 2010), http://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/> (single mother evicted after losing full-time job and thereafter alternated between apartments of several friends).

In combination with my factual findings on the uninhabitability of the Sparta house, I CONCLUDE that their purchase of said house during the period of domicile in Garfield cannot be used to bootstrap either a temporary relocation away from Sparta or homelessness. The home construction has apparently continued, on but mostly off, without completion, for the three years since it was purchased by petitioner and her husband. In fact, only after the hearing was petitioner meeting with an architect to draw up the needed structural renovations. This is not the case of temporary relocation away from one's abode due to fire, storms or other natural disasters; rather, petitioner and her spouse purchased an unsafe and largely uninhabitable house, as evidenced by the fact that they did not live in after the closing in August 2018 and until they were trying to register their children in school.

Except for some unknown and unverifiable number of days in the summer of 2019, and a few months with a friend in Oak Ridge, petitioner, spouse and children have clearly been domiciled in Garfield from 2017 to the present. On the basis of the above-referenced facts and legal authority, I CONCLUDE that petitioner has never been domiciled in Sparta and is not now homeless, from Sparta or, for that matter, anywhere else. When and if petitioner establishes that the family is genuinely living in the Sparta house, with a Certificate of Occupancy, they shall then and only then be entitled to register their children in the Sparta school district.

ORDER

Accordingly, it is ORDERED that petitioner's appeal from the Sparta Township Board of Education residency determination is and the same is hereby DENIED and the determination of the Sparta Township Board of Education on residency and homelessness is UPHELD.

It is further ORDERED that the counterclaim of the Sparta Township Board of Education for tuition reimbursement in the amount of $35,363.44 is GRANTED to the extent of only the days when the children attended its schools after January 3, 2020, or the period of ineligibility.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

BEFORE JEFFREY R. WILSON, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioners allege that the respondent denied access to the student records of their three children. Petitioners request that the records be released to them at no cost.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The petitioners filed an appeal of the denial of access to the student records of their three children and requested a hearing before the Office of Administrative Law (OAL). The matter was transmitted to the OAL, where it was filed on February 26, 2018, as a contested case, under Docket No. EDU 02929-18. N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to 15 and N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to 13. The petitioners filed a motion for summary decision on June 10, 2018. The respondent filed its cross-motion for summary decision and response on June 21, 2018. The petitioners filed a reply brief on July 2, 2018. On October 1, 2018, the petitioners filed a motion to supplement the record. On October 8, 2018, the respondent filed it's brief in opposition to the motion to supplement the record. Those cross-motions for summary decision were denied by order, dated June 12, 2019.

By order, dated September 24, 2019, petitioners' attorney was relieved as counsel. Since that date, the petitioners continued self-represented. On October 21, 2019, a telephone status conference was held and this matter was scheduled to be heard on February 18 and February 19, 2020.

At the request of the parties, an in-person settlement conference was held on December 26, 2019. At that time, the parties reached a settlement agreement that was placed on the record. During voire dire, the pro se petitioners, C.H. and S.H., affirmed they understood the terms of the agreement and entered into the agreement freely, voluntarily and without coercion or duress. Counsel for the respondent was directed to reduce the agreement to a writing and provide it to the petitioners to execute.

By letter, dated January 14, 2020, counsel for the respondent informed this Administrative Law Judge that the petitioners returned the signed agreement with additions and deletions unilaterally made by them. Counsel for the respondent did not agree with the petitioners' amendments.

On January 16, 2020, this Administrative Law Judge sent a letter to the parties and acknowledged that clearly there was no meeting of the minds and that there was no settlement of the case. In said letter, the parties were directed to participate in a telephone conference on January 23, 2020, to address outstanding issues. During the January 23, 2020, telephone conference, the parties still could not reach an agreement as to the petitioners' amendments and the petitioners were directed to provide respondent's counsel with a draft of their understanding of the agreement on or before January 27, 2020. The petitioners complied however; respondent's counsel was not in agreement with their submission.

On January 28, 2020, counsel for the respondent filed a motion to enforce the December 26, 2019, settlement agreement. The petitioners acknowledged receipt of the motion on January 30, 2020. By letter order, dated January 30, 2020, the respondent's motion was denied, and it was ordered that the matter would proceed to a fair hearing, as scheduled, on February 18 and February 19, 2020. It was further ordered that a mandatory telephone conference would be held on February 3, 2020, at 4:00 p.m. to address prehearing issues. It was noted that if any party failed to participate in this telephone conference, the file would be returned to the transmitting agency for the appropriate action which may include imposition of the proposed penalty or granting the relief requested by the opposing party. The petitioners failed to participate in the February 3, 2020, telephone conference. On February 5, 2020, an initial decision/dismissal was filed for the petitioners' failure to appear without an explanation for their nonappearance.

By its final decision No. 89-20, issued March 20, 2020, the New Jersey Commissioner of Education remanded this matter to the OAL, under Docket No. EDU 03608-20, for further disposition based upon the petitioners' "timely written explanation stating that they did not appear at the February 3, 2020, conference because they did not receive adequate notice of the call." Upon remand, this matter was scheduled for a peremptory hearing on October 7, 2020.

On September 17, 2020, the respondent informed this Administrative Law Judge that all records requested (R-1 at R0001-R0936) had been turned over to the petitioners with a request that the petitioners formally withdraw their petition. On October 4, 2020, the petitioners filed a motion to compel discovery and to adjourn the October 7, 2020, peremptory hearing. Accordingly, that hearing date was converted to oral argument on the petitioners' motion. By letter order, dated October 7, 2020, the petitioners' motion was denied, and the matter was scheduled for a peremptory hearing on December 17, 2020, pursuant to the amended prehearing order.

On December 4, 2020, the petitioners filed a "certification in support of motion to compel discovery (reconsideration)." With this, the petitioners requested that this Administrative Law Judge review and reconsider the previously denied motion to compel discovery and seek the same relief as in their prior application. By letter order, dated December 11, 2020, the petitioners' application for reconsideration of the motion that was previously denied was denied as untimely, pursuant to the amended prehearing order. The matter was ordered to proceed to a peremptory hearing on December 17, 2020, at 10:00 a.m., utilizing the ZOOM platform.

At 9:39 a.m., on December 17, 2020, the petitioners requested to adjourn the hearing that was to commence at 10:00 a.m. The respondent submitted their objection at 9:45 a.m. and the parties were directed to appear, via ZOOM, at 10:00 a.m. At that time, the petitioners formally requested an adjournment of the hearing to allow them time to submit their request for interlocutory review of their recently denied motion to compel discovery. The motion was granted, over the respondent's objection as the petitioner was still in time to request interlocutory review, pursuant to N..J.A.C. 1:1-14.10.

On January 4, 2021, the Acting Commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Education denied the petitioners' request for interlocutory review and the matter was ultimately heard virtually on February 9, 2021. The record remained open for the receipt of closing submission and the record closed.

FACTUAL DISCUSSION AND FINDINGS

C.H. testified on behalf of the petitioners. C.H. and S.H. are the parents of the minor children, S.H., S.H. and C.H. The petitioners allege that the respondent denied access to the student records of their three children. Specifically, the petitioners requested:

> All email correspondence between myself, teachers, administrators and staff pertaining to or including reference to any of my children, SH, SH, CH, September 2009 through present [November 21, 2017]

Petitioners request that the records be released at no cost to them.

Through her testimony, C.H. conceded receiving the over nine hundred pages of emails provided by the District in September 2020. (R-1 at R0001-R0936.) These documents were provided to the petitioners at no cost.

Shannon N. DuBois-Brody (DuBois-Brody), testified on behalf of the respondent. She has been employed by the District for eighteen and one-half years and presently serves as the District's Business Administrator and Secretary to the Board of Education. The District is a small rural district (Pre-Kindergarten through eighth grade) consisting of approximately three hundred students. None of the petitioners' children are presently in the district.

DuBois-Brody has been the District's Records Custodian since 2018 and was responsible for overseeing the fulfillment of the petitioners' records request. She assigned the email search task to Christopher Pierce through the District's shared service agreement with Salem Community College's IT Department.

DuBois-Brody reviewed the search parameters utilized (R-2) and all of the emails produced through the search. (R-1 at R0001-R0936.) Based upon this review, she determined that the emails produced were fully responsive to the petitioners' request. Copies of all of the emails were provided to the petitioners at no cost. (R-1 at R0001-R0011.)

Christopher Pierce (Pierce) testified on behalf of the respondent. He has ten years of IT experience and provides services to the District through a shared services agreement. In the present matter, Piece conducted the search utilizing the District's old serve as well as their newer cloud based server. He conducted the email search utilizing the parameter dates of September 1, 2009, through November 21, 2017. Every mailbox on the servers was searched. None were excluded. The parameters are fully detailed in R-2. All emails responsive to the search are included in R-1 at R0001-R0936 and all of those emails were provided to the petitioners in .pst and .pdf formats.

Credibility is best described as that quality of testimony or evidence which makes it worthy of belief. The Supreme Court of New Jersey considered the issue of credibility in In-re Estate of Perrone, 5 N.J. 514 (1950). The Court pronounced:

> Testimony to be believed must not only proceed from the mouth of a credible witness but must be credible in itself. It must be such as the common experience and observation of mankind can approve as probable in the circumstances.
> [5 N.J. at 522.]

In order to assess credibility, the witness' interest in the outcome, motive or bias should be considered. Furthermore, a trier of fact may reject testimony because it is inherently incredible, or because it is inconsistent with other testimony or with common experience, or because it is overborne by other testimony. Congleton v. Pura-Tex Stone Corp., 53 N.J. Super. 282, 287 (App. Div. 1958).

Having considered the testimonial and documentary evidence presented, I accept the testimony offered by DuBois-Brody and Pierce to be very credible and highly persuasive. Their testimony was free of any histrionics and they exhibited no ulterior motive. They clearly described their respective roles in the search in question. All of their testimony was corroborated by the documentary evidence. Neither of them had anything to gain from testifying. Accordingly, I FIND the testimony of both Dubois-Brody and Pierce as FACT.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

The petitioners bring this action seeking "All email correspondence between myself, teachers, administrators and staff pertaining to or including reference to any of my children, SH, SH, CH, September 2009 through present [November 21, 2017]". Now they argue that the documents provided did not include all emails between counsel and the District relative to her three children. These were not included in their original request.

I CONCLUDE that based upon petitioner's original request, the District established appropriate, detailed search parameters. I CONCLUDE that the District conducted a fulsome, responsive email search and that the complete fruits of that search were provided to the petitioners at no cost and that the petitioners acknowledge receipt of the same. Accordingly, I CONCLUDE that the petitioners failed to show that the District withheld any document that were originally requested.

ORDER

Based upon the foregoing, it is hereby ORDERED that this matter is DISMISSED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

T.H., on behalf of minor child,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Township of Sparta, Sussex County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Pro se petitioner filed the within appeal in September 2020, contending that school officials at Sparta High School wrongfully searched his daughter, a minor at the time, during a sporting event on October 20, 2017. Petitioner claimed that a resulting harassment, intimidation and bullying (HIB) complaint he filed with the school district was improperly closed without a proper investigation, and his internal appeal of the HIB claim was rejected by the respondent Board in September 2019. Petitioner's daughter graduated from Sparta High School in June 2019. The Board filed a motion for summary decision contending that petitioner's appeal must be dismissed as untimely; alternatively, the Board asserted that petitioner lacks standing and failed to state a claim upon which relief can be granted.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.3(i), petitioners must file a petition no later than the 90th day from the date of receipt of the notice of a final order, ruling or other action by the district board of education, individual Party, or agency, which is the subject of the requested contested case hearing; petitioner's appeal was filed as a result of an alleged search of petitioner's daughter, which was conducted in October 2017 by the District's Athletic Director; petitioner waited eight months, until June 2018, to file an HIB complaint, and did not file the within appeal until more than two years later; petitioner has offered no valid reason for the significant delay in filing; further, petitioner lacks standing to pursue a claim on behalf of his child, who is no longer a minor. The ALJ concluded that the petitioner failed to meet his burden and, accordingly, ordered the petition of appeal dismissed.

Upon a comprehensive review, the Commissioner concurred with the ALJ's findings regarding timeliness and lack of standing to bring this case on behalf of his child, who has graduated and is now an adult. Accordingly, the Board's motion for summary decision was granted and the petition was dismissed.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

T.H., on behalf of minor child,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Township of Sparta, Sussex County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed and considered. The parties did not file exceptions.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the Administrative Law Judge that the petition was untimely pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.3, and that petitioner lacks standing to pursue a claim on behalf of his child, who is no longer a minor. Accordingly, the Board's motion for summary decision is granted, and the petition of appeal is hereby dismissed.

INITIAL DECISION
OAL DKT. NO. EDU 09769-20
AGENCY DKT. NO. 192-09/20

T.H. ON BEHALF OF MINOR CHILD,
Petitioner,
v.
TOWNSHIP OF SPARTA, SUSSEX COUNTY
Respondent.

Thomas Hand, pro se, for petitioner

Marc H. Zitomer, Esq. for respondent (Schenck, Price, Smith & King, LLP, attorneys)

BEFORE ANDREW M. BARON, ALJ:

Petitioner T.H. on behalf of minor child, contends that officials of Sparta High School performed an illegal search on his minor daughter at the time on October 20, 2017. As a result, petitioner filed a H.I.B. complaint which he says was improperly closed without a proper investigation. His internal appeal was rejected by the District in September 2019.

Petitioner filed a Petition of Appeal on September 9, 2020. Respondent filed an Answer to Petition of Appeal September 29, 2020. The matter was transmitted by the Department of Education (Department) to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), where it was filed on October 20, 2020 as a contested case.

Among other things, the District contends the appeal was untimely filed, and is moot regardless as T.H.'s daughter has long since graduated, as well as petitioner lacking standing to prosecute the matter on her behalf as she is an adult and was not joined as a party to the case. Respondent seeks a disposition of the matter through summary disposition.

Respondent brings this motion seeking disposition through summary proceedings due to untimeliness of the appeal, lack of standing, and failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. Petitioner's daughter graduated from respondent Sparta High School in June 2019.

Petitioner alleges that almost two years prior to graduation, in October 2017, his daughter, a student at the high school was wrongfully searched by school officials at a sporting event. Eight months after the incident, petitioner filed a H.I.B. Complaint against the District and school officials. The matter was closed without what petitioner believed to be a proper investigation, and fifteen months later, in September 2019, petitioner filed the within appeal. Among other things, the driving force behind the appeal is petitioner's allegation that the details of the search were leaked throughout the community thereby besmirching his daughter's good name.

The legal basis for filing an action against a school district is found at N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.3 which states in part:

A petitioner shall file a petition no later than the 90th day from the date of receipt of the notice of a final order, ruling or other action by the district board of education, individual Party, or agency, which is the subject of the requested contested case hearing.

Authority to establish a time limitation for the filing of such actions is vested with the New Jersey Commissioner of Education. See: Kaprow v. Board of Education of Berkeley Township,131 N.J.572 (1993), which stands for the principle that:

The limitation period provides a measure of repose, an essential element in the proper and efficient administration of the school laws. It stabilizes the relationship between the teachers and the administration. The limitations also gives school districts the security of knowing that the administrative decisions regarding the operation of the school cannot be challenged after 90 days. Only when a petitioner can demonstrate exceptional circumstances or compelling reasons would the Commissioner consider expanding the time to file beyond the 90 days. See also: Brunetti v. Borough of New Milford, 68 N.J. 576 (1975).

Petitioner's complaint was filed as a result of an alleged search conducted by the District's Athletic Director of petitioner's daughter on or about October 21, 2017. Petitioner waited eight months to file an H.I.B. until June 2018.

The Due Process petition was not filed until September 2020. No valid reason for the significant delay in filing has been put forward by petitioner.

As to petitioner's concerns about "leaks" about the incident within the community, there does not appear to be a basis for a cause of action in an administrative proceeding.

The Commissioner of Education only has jurisdiction over disputes that "primarily and directly" arise under school laws. See Ciambrone v. Witty Bd. of Educ of Bloomingdale,C'mmr. Dkt. No. 143-01 (May 7, 2001) quoting Hamilton Bd. of Educ. v.. Fraleigh, 93 N.J.A.R. 2d. (EDU) 538 (Cmm'r 1993).

See also: Fair Lawn Bd. of Educ. v. Mayor of Fair Lawn,143 N.J. Super 259, (Law Div. 1976) aff'd 153 N.J. Super 480 (App. Div. 1977), which speaks to the issue of what the Commissioner of Education has jurisdiction over, and what he or she does not.

Accordingly, while petitioner may have had valid concerns in October 2017 as to what allegedly occurred, and similar concerns about discussions within the community that may have been made public, there simply does not appear to be a legal basis within the confines of Administrative Law for jurisdiction over this area of concern.

Having dealt with the issues of timeliness and lack of jurisdiction over the underlying complaint, I am also compelled here to point out that petitioner does not have standing to have the complaint heard, even if the motion was denied, and a full hearing went forward. The child in whose name petitioner brought the complaint is now and adult in her own right. She was not joined as a party, and petitioner admitted during argument that she was not informed of the proceeding.

Petitioner, no doubt is a loving father who still cares for the welfare of his daughter, and wanted to see a perceived wrong corrected. But for all of the aforementioned reasons stated herein, there is no legal basis for the matter to proceed any further.

Accordingly, I CONCLUDE that petitioner has failed to meet their burden and the petition of appeal should be DISMISSED. I further CONCLUDE that the Clerk should return this matter to the Department of Education.

It is ORDERED that this matter is DISMISSED and that the Clerk return this matter to the Department of Education for appropriate disposition.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10. Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Robert C. Yaiser,

Petitioner,

v.

New Jersey State Board of Examiners,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Petitioner appealed the denial of his application for a School Administrator Certificate of Eligibility (CE) on the basis that he lacked completion of both an approved School Administrator Program and a 150-hour internship in educational leadership. The New Jersey State Board of Examiners (Board) filed a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer to the petition.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: the Board's motion to dismiss was converted to a motion for summary decision pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(a); there are no issues of material fact in this case and the matter is ripe for summary decision; the petitioner applied for a School Administrator CE in February 2019; to meet the requirements for this certificate, petitioner was required to complete all of five requirements delineated in N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-12.4; the Board determined that the petitioner's application met and satisfied three of the above criteria, but that two of the criteria had not been met: he had not completed an approved School Administrator program pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-12.4(a)(1); and he had not completed a 150-hour internship in educational leadership pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-12.4(a)(3), nor had he demonstrated that he had met the equivalent with his teaching experience; petitioner acknowledged in his filings that he did not complete the required 150-hour internship in educational leadership until December 2019, a date well after his application had been filed with the Board and after the Board had met to consider petitioner's appeal. The ALJ concluded that the Board had appropriately denied petitioner's application for certification. Accordingly, summary decision was granted in favor of the Board, and the petition was dismissed.

The Commissioner concurred with the findings and determination of the ALJ in this matter. Accordingly, summary decision was granted in favor of the Board and the petition was dismissed.

ROBERT C. YAISER,
Petitioner,
v.
NEW JERSEY DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION,
OFFICE OF CERTIFICATION AND INDUCTION,
Respondent.

George T. Daggett, Esq., appearing for petitioner (Law Offices of George T. Daggett, attorneys)

Jaclyn M. Frey, Deputy Attorney General, appearing for respondent (Andrew J. Bruck, Acting Attorney General of New Jersey, attorney)

Record closed: September 9, 2021 Decided: October 1, 2021

BEFORE SUSAN M. SCAROLA, ALJ (Ret., on recall):

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner, Robert C. Yaiser, appeals the denial of his application for a School Administrator Certificate of Eligibility (CE) by the respondent, New Jersey Department of Education (Department), Office of Certification and Induction, Board of Examiners (Board), on the basis that he lacked completion of both an approved School Administrator Program and a 150-hour internship in educational leadership.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On December 13, 2019, the Board issued a determination denying the petitioner's application for a School Administrator CE. Petitioner filed a timely notice of appeal. In lieu of an answer, the Board filed a motion to dismiss with certification.

On July 30, 2020, the Department transmitted the appeal to the Office of Administrative Law, where it was filed on that date as a contested case. N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15; N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13.

On May 28, 2021, the petitioner filed a brief in opposition to the motion to dismiss with certification. On August 4, 2021, the Board filed a reply brief in support of its motion to dismiss the petition of appeal.[1] On September 9, 2021, the petitioner submitted additional documents referenced in his certification, but which had not been attached.

FACTUAL DISCUSSION

The following facts are not in dispute, and, accordingly, I FIND:

1. On February 21, 2019, the petitioner filed an application (with documents) to the Board for a School Administrator CE.

2. On June 15, 2019, the petitioner took the Praxis test and successfully passed.

3. On July 24, 2019, the petitioner forwarded the Verification of Program Completion (VOPC) from Seton Hall's certification officer, associate dean

[1] The Board requested that the motion to dismiss be converted to a motion for summary decision, as "no material facts are in dispute." The petitioner has not objected.

Dr. Joseph Martinelli, to the Department confirming that on December 19, 2018, he had completed Seton Hall's State-approved educator-preparation program for a P–12 school administrator.

4. The VOPC also indicated that the petitioner "needs to complete admin [sic] internship," referring to the required 150-hour School Administrator internship, the completion of which would have apparently resulted in completion of an approved School Administrator program at Seton Hall University.

5. At some point, the petitioner was advised that his application was deficient, and his application for a School Administrator CE would be denied. He thereafter filed an appeal pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.12.

6. In his appeal to the Board, the petitioner requested that it consider his adjunct teaching experience from Fairleigh Dickenson University, Pennsylvania State University, Seton Hall University, Ocean County College, and Montclair State University as demonstrating alternative education and/or experience equivalent to the required program in School Administration and the related 150-hour educational-leadership internship he admittedly had not completed.

7. On or about November 1, 2019, the State Board of Examiners considered the petitioner's appeal for issuance of a School Administrator CE pursuant to the requirements of N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-12.4.[2]

8. After reviewing the petitioner's request for consideration of his alternate education and experience as the equivalent of completion of an approved program in School Administration or the equivalent of a 150-hour School Administrator (Superintendent) internship, the Board concluded that the petitioner's alternate education and accumulated teaching experience as adjunct faculty were not equivalent to what was required by the governing regulation.

[2] The petitioner certified that the hearing was on December 11, 2019, not November 1, 2019. The Board lists the hearing as having occurred on November 1, 2019.

9. The Board denied the application for the CE because the petitioner had not completed two requirements: first, he did not complete an approved School Administrator program pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-12.4(a)(1); and second, he did not complete a 150-hour internship in educational leadership pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-12.4(a)(3).

10. The petitioner later submitted a transcript from Caldwell University indicating that he was enrolled in the internship for school administrators during the fall of the 2019–2020 academic year and that he completed the course with a 4.0 grade-point average.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

The issue presented is whether the Board properly denied the petitioner's application for a School Administrator CE on the basis that he failed to demonstrate that he had completed both an approved program in School Administration and the required 150-hour internship in educational leadership, or that he had presented proof of equivalent training or experience.

This matter commenced as a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.5(g), but has been converted to a motion for summary decision pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(a).

I. Standards for Summary Decision

Under the Uniform Administrative Procedure Rules, N.J.A.C. 1:1-1.1 to -21.6, "[a] party may move for summary decision upon all or any of the substantive issues in a contested case." N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(a). Such motion "shall be served with briefs and with or without supporting affidavits" and "[t]he decision sought may be rendered if the papers and discovery which have been filed, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact challenged and that the moving party is entitled to prevail as a matter of law." N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(b). When the motion "is made and supported, an adverse party in order to prevail must by responding affidavit set forth specific facts showing that there is a genuine issue which can only be determined in an evidentiary proceeding." Ibid.

II. Standards for a School Administrator Certificate of Eligibility

N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-5.3 provides for the issuance of educational certificates:

> (a) The Board of Examiners shall issue three categories of educational certificates: Instructional, Administrative, and Educational Services.
> (b) The Board of Examiners shall issue the appropriate certificate upon the candidate's completion of all certification requirements in effect at the time the Office receives the application. Requirements include, but are not limited to, coursework, degree, tests, fees, GPA, and all certificate rules pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-8 through 13. An application shall be deemed filed with the Office when it and all required supporting documentation has been received.
>
> 1. The certificate holder shall maintain possession of the original certificate.
> (c) If the candidate is not eligible for the certificate sought, the Office shall issue a written evaluation that identifies the deficiency(ies) for certification.

Here, the petitioner applied for a School Administrator CE in February 2019.

N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-12.4 provides the standards for the Board to use in considering an application for a School Administrator CE:

> (a) To be eligible for the school administrator CE, the candidate shall:
> 1. Complete one of the following:
> i. Hold a master's or higher degree in educational leadership, curriculum and instruction, or one of the recognized fields of leadership or management from a regionally accredited college or university;

ii. Hold a master's degree from a regionally accredited college or university and complete a post-master's program resulting in a CEAS in educational administration and supervision;

iii. Hold a master's degree from a regionally accredited college or university and complete a post-master's program in a coherent sequence of 30 semester-hour credits as they appear on the institution's transcript. The study must be completed at one institution in fields outlined in (a)1i above;

iv. Hold a master's degree from a regionally accredited college or university and complete a Commissioner-approved certification program in educational leadership offered by a Commissioner-approved provider pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-12.5(k)2 and (l)2; or

v. Hold a master's degree in educational leadership from a nationally accredited program at an out-of-State college or university;

2. Complete a minimum of 30 graduate credits, either within the master's program or in addition to it, in the following quality components of preparation to promote student learning as set forth in the Professional Standards for School Leaders in N.J.A.C. 6A:9-3.4;[3]

3. Complete a 150-hour internship in educational leadership aligned to the Professional Standards for School Leaders in N.J.A.C. 6A:9-3.4 and in accordance with the roles and responsibilities as a school administrator, independent of other course requirements. This internship either must appear on a transcript from a four-year regionally accredited college or university or must be certified by a Commissioner-approved program for preparing school administrators;

4. Pass a State-approved examination of knowledge acquired through study of the topics listed in (a)2 above, aligned with the Professional Standards for School Leaders, and most directly related to the functions of superintendents as defined in N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-12.3(a); and

[3] N.J.A.C. 6A:9-3.4 provides: "[s]chool leader preparation, district induction, and professional development programs shall align their learning opportunities with the Professional Standards for Educational Leaders 2015, developed by the National Policy Board for Educational Administration (NPBEA), incorporated herein by reference, available at http://www.npbea.org/wp/wp-content/uploads/2014/11/ProfessionalStandardsforEducationalLeaders2015forNPBEAFINAL-2.pdf."

> 5. Complete five years of successful educational experience in a school district, nonpublic school, or a regionally accredited college or university.

This section applies to all candidates who matriculated and enrolled in a Commissioner-approved educational-leadership preparation program on or after September 1, 2008. The petitioner was required to complete all five of the above requirements to be considered eligible for the School Administrator CE.

Here, the Board determined that the petitioner's application met and satisfied three of the above criteria, but that two of the criteria had not been met: he had not completed an approved School Administrator program pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-12.4(a)(1); and he had not completed a 150-hour internship in educational leadership pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-12.4(a)(3), nor had he demonstrated that he had met the equivalent with his teaching experience. The petitioner appealed pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.12(a) and (b), alleging that he had evidence of alternative education and/or experience that he believed was equivalent to the areas of deficiency.

The petitioner contends that the Board failed to exercise its discretion when it declined to accept information provided by him that he had alternative education and/or experience that corrected the deficiencies in his application. The Board considered the information provided by the petitioner as well as the July 23, 2019, VOPC from Seton Hall University, which clearly indicated that the petitioner had failed to complete the required internship at the University and was not yet eligible for certification of the completion of the educator-preparation program. His application was deficient in that regard at the time it was submitted to the Board in February.

Indeed, in his own certification the petitioner acknowledged that he did not complete the required 150-hour internship in educational leadership until December 2019, a date well after his application had been filed with the Board and after the Board had met to consider his appeal.

N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.12(c) provides the limitations on actions the Board can take when reviewing any supplemental evidence of equivalent training and/or experience:

> (c) The Board of Examiners shall not:
> 1. Waive any test, GPA, degree completion, or approved educator preparation program completion requirements;
> 2. Permit a candidate to substitute education and/or experience for any test, GPA, degree, or approved educator preparation program completion requirements . . . .

Here, no material facts are in dispute. The internship was mandatory, and it is undisputed that it had not been completed by the time the petitioner applied for his School Administrator CE in February 2019, or even by the time the Board considered his appeal in November or early December 2019. Accordingly, the application for the School Administrator CE was incomplete and the petitioner had failed to demonstrate that he was eligible for the CE. The Board acted appropriately in determining that the petitioner had not qualified for its issuance. Accordingly, the Board's motion for summary decision shall be granted and the petition shall be dismissed.

ORDER

I hereby ORDER that the respondent's motion for summary decision is GRANTED. The petition is hereby DISMISSED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

Re: Board of Education of the City of Camden, Camden County v. New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association, Agency Dkt. No. 206-11/21.

Dear Counsel:

I have reviewed the materials filed in connection with the petition of appeal and motion for emergent relief filed by the petitioner, the Camden City School District, in the above-captioned matter. The petitioner is appealing the decision of the Protest Committee of the New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association (NJSIAA) denying the petitioner's request for a waiver of the NJSIAA's decision to disqualify the Camden High School football team (Camden) from participating in the state playoffs for accumulating four player disqualifications.

Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(b), a grant of emergent relief is considered an extraordinary remedy that can only be issued upon a finding that petitioner has met the four-pronged standard set forth in Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126 (1982), and codified at N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6. The party seeking such relief must demonstrate the existence of each of the following: 1) the movant will suffer irreparable harm if the requested relief is not granted; 2) the legal right underlying the movant's claim is settled; 3) the movant has a likelihood of prevailing on the merits of the underlying claim; and 4) when the equities and interests of the parties are balanced, the movant will suffer greater harm than the other party if the requested relief is not granted. N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(b).

Athletic competition in New Jersey's public schools is overseen by the respondent, NJSIAA – a voluntary, non-profit organization which promulgates the rules and regulations governing high school athletics that are adopted annually by the member schools. Section 19 of the Specific Sport Regulations states:

> 4.f. Any varsity team accumulating three or more player or coach disqualifications for flagrant unsportsmanlike conduct prior to the team's participation in an NJSIAA tournament will not be permitted to participate in same. Seeded teams will forfeit their right to compete if a disqualification limit is reached prior to the start of the tournament for the team.

In appropriate cases, the NJSIAA may grant a waiver of its rules if the overall objectives of the association and its member schools will not be undermined. See generally, Board of Education of the City of Union, Union County v. New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association, Commissioner Decision No. 455-04, decided November 10, 2004.

It is undisputed that on October 16, 2021 a high school football game between Camden and Pleasantville High School (Pleasantville) ended abruptly with 10 minutes to go in the game when a fight broke out on the field between players on both teams. Several players from both teams left the bench during the altercation and ultimately the police were called to the field. On October 18, 2021, the referees issued a Disqualification Report disqualifying four Camden players and two Pleasantville players for flagrant unsportsmanlike misconduct. Since Camden accumulated more than three player disqualifications, under Section 19, 4.f., the team was disqualified from participating in the playoffs. Thereafter, Camden sought a waiver from the NJSIAA to enable the football team to participate in the playoffs. Following a hearing where Camden had the opportunity to present evidence and witness testimony, the members of the Protest Committee voted to deny the waiver request.

On appeal, Camden argues that the NJSIAA erred in denying its waiver request because the NJSIAA's failure to provide notice and a hearing prior to the initial suspension from state playoffs was arbitrary, capricious and unreasonable, and inconsistent with the NJSIAA's Bylaws. Camden also contends that while the NJSIAA decision states that the disqualification rule "has been in place and uniformly enforced for 17 years," the rule has not been uniformly enforced under similar circumstances involving altercations during football games. Camden further maintains that if emergent relief is not granted, the entire team will be deprived of playing in a meaningful game with a chance to be seen by scouts from collegiate programs. Finally, allowing the student athletes to play in the playoffs would be consistent with the NJSIAA Mission Statement, which supports academic achievement, good citizenship, and fair and equitable opportunities.

Upon review of the parties' submissions, I find that Camden has not met the standard required for emergent relief. Most notably, Camden has failed to demonstrate a likelihood of success on the merits of the underlying appeal. It is well established that the Commissioner's scope of review in matters involving NJSIAA decisions is appellate in nature. N.J.S.A. 18A:11-3; Board of Education of the City of Camden v. NJSIAA, 92 N.J.A.R. 2d (EDU) 182, 188. That is, I may not overturn an action by the NJSIAA in applying its rules, absent a demonstration by the petitioner that it applied such rules in a patently arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable manner. N.J.A.C. 6A:3-7.5(a)(2); B.C. v. Cumberland Regional School District, 220 N.J. Super. 214, 231-232 (App. Div. 1987). Nor may I substitute my own judgment for that of the NJSIAA, where due process has been provided and where there is sufficient credible evidence in the record as a whole to serve as a basis for the decision reached by the NJSIAA. N.J.A.C. 6A:3-7.5(a)(1).

Petitioners seeking to overturn decisions of the NJSIAA bear a heavy burden and, considering the record of this matter and the prescribed standard of review, I find that Camden has failed to demonstrate a likelihood of success on the merits.[1] Specifically, Camden has not made a preliminary showing that the NJSIAA applied its rules in a patently arbitrary or unreasonable manner in light of its duty to ensure fairness and integrity in athletic competition statewide. It is important to recognize that individual player disqualifications are judgment calls made by the officials and are not appealable to the NJSIAA. Section 19, 4.a. Although player disqualifications are not appealable, the NJSIAA afforded Camden ample due process and the opportunity to seek a waiver of Section 19, 4.f., which automatically disqualifies a team from the playoffs when three player disqualifications occur. There is no dispute that a serious altercation broke out during the Camden and Pleasantville football game; the game had to be abruptly halted; the police were called to the field; and players from both teams were disqualified. Therefore, the NJSIAA's determination that granting a waiver in this situation would undermine the overall objectives of the Association, which includes preventing fighting, protecting safety and encouraging sportsmanship, was not arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable.

Accordingly, Camden's request for emergent relief and an order permitting the football team to participate in the state playoffs is hereby denied. Further, because the relief sought in the petition will become moot once the playoffs begin on November 5, 2021, this decision shall resolve the entire controversy without further proceedings.[2]

Sincerely,

Angelica Allen-McMillan, Ed.D.
Acting Commissioner

[1] Since all of the Crowe prongs must be met in order for emergent relief to be granted, it is not necessary to analyze the three remaining factors.

Dear Counsel:

I have reviewed the papers filed in connection with respondent's request for interlocutory review of Administrative Law Judge Tama B. Hughes' order issued October 22, 2021, denying respondent's motion for summary decision. Upon full consideration of the submitted materials, I have determined not to grant interlocutory review, pursuant to my discretion under N.J.A.C. 1:1-14.10.

Accordingly, respondent's request for interlocutory review is hereby denied.

D.S. and J.S. o/b/o L.S., Petitioners, v. CINNAMINSON TOWNSHIP BOARD OF EDUCATION, Respondent.	STATE OF NEW JERSEY OFFICE OF ADMINISTRATIVE LAW OAL EDU 05479-2021 Agency No. 77-5/21

This Settlement Agreement and General Release (the "Agreement") is entered into by and between D.S. and J.S. o/b/o L.S. ("Petitioners"), and the Cinnaminson Township Board of Education ("District" or "Board") with administrative offices located at 2195 Riverton Road, Cinnaminson, New Jersey 08077 (Petitioners and District are collectively referred to as the "Parties").

WHEREAS, a dispute has arisen regarding, inter alia, L.S.'s education, discipline, evaluation, and investigation by the District, and the District's alleged treatment of L.S. and his family members; and

WHEREAS, the Parties have negotiated in good faith and have a desire to settle their dispute in an amicable way without any admission of wrongdoing by any Party, and accordingly the Parties hereby agree as follows:

1. On February 11, 2023, so long as L.S. does not accrue another multi-day suspension as outlined specifically for each infraction set forth in the Code of Student Conduct section of the effective Cinnaminson High School Student Handbook, the District will remove the twenty-day suspension (which ran from February 11, 2021 - March 11, 2021), any discipline points associated therewith, and any reference to the corresponding HIB finding against L.S., from L.S.'s student record. Removal of this information from L.S.'s student record shall be confirmed in writing by the Superintendent of Schools to Petitioners within 10 days from February 11, 2023. The aforementioned suspension shall not prevent L.S. from participating in any school club or sport, provided that he satisfies all other requirements for participation and does not accrue any additional multi-day suspension(s) as set forth hereinabove. Petitioners expressly acknowledge and agree that the District will not remove the aforementioned HIB finding from the HIB tracking information that must, by law, be reported to the State of New Jersey. If L.S. accrues more than 10 days of suspension (consecutive or cumulative) in any school year, the District will convene a meeting with Petitioners within 10 days of the suspension decision, to determine if the conduct was a manifestation of L.S.'s disability(ies). Petitioners expressly reserve and retain all rights with respect to any suspension and/or manifestation determination subsequent to the approval of this Agreement.

2. The District's Child Study Team will conduct psychological, educational, and social history evaluations and will convene an Eligibility Meeting to discuss same no later than November 19, 2021 (or as soon thereafter as practicable in the event that the COVID-19 pandemic renders compliance with this timeframe impossible). Petitioners expressly reserve and retain the right to challenge any decisions made at the aforementioned Eligibility Meeting or thereafter. Petitioners' signatures on this Agreement shall constitute consent to conduct the aforementioned evaluations.

3. L.S.'s most recent 504 Accommodation Plan will remain unaffected by this Agreement. Petitioners may request a meeting to discuss same as provided for by law.

4. The District will credit Petitioner J.S. with one (1) personal day to compensate for the one (1) personal day that she utilized to attend an Office of Administrative Law conference in connection with this dispute.

5. The Board, through its insurer, will provide payment to Petitioners' attorney, Julie Warshaw, Esq. of the Warshaw Law Firm, LLC, in the amount of forty-two thousand five-hundred dollars ($42,500.00), for attorney fees and litigation costs incurred on Petitioners' behalf. Said payment shall be contingent upon the Board's receipt and verification of a statement of legal services from Petitioners' attorney, and payment shall be made within thirty (30) calendar days of the next scheduled regular Board meeting following the Board's receipt of such statement of services. The amount paid by the Board's insurer to Petitioners' attorney shall not include the fees or costs associated with any third-party vendors or private experts retained by Petitioners. The amount paid by the Board's insurer to Petitioners' attorney shall constitute the full extent of the Board's obligation with respect to Petitioners' attorney fees and litigation costs pursuant to 20 U.S.C.A. 1415 and any other Federal or State statute, regulation, or common law, regardless of the total amount of attorney fees and costs actually incurred.

6. The Parties expressly agree that this Agreement resolves any and all issues between the Parties which were or could have been asserted in the above-captioned due process action (OAL EDS 02203-2021, Agency 2021-32557), the above-captioned HIB appeal (OAL EDU 05479-2021, Agency No. 77-5/21), Petitioners' 4/2/2021 Notice of Tort Claim, and/or any other action, which arose or could have arisen from the beginning of time through the date of approval of this Agreement. In consideration for the items set forth in this Agreement, Petitioners (on their own behalf and on L.S.'s behalf) hereby waive and release any and all rights to file or cause to be filed any suit, petition, demand, administrative, judicial, or other proceeding, claim, complaint, or other action of any kind relating to the allegations which were or could have been asserted in the above-captioned due process action, the above-captioned HIB appeal, the above-referenced Notice of Tort Claim, and/or any other action, against the District or its board members, officers, administrators, agents, attorneys, insurers, employees, or assigns, which have allegedly occurred or which may occur from the beginning of time through the date of approval of this Agreement. This waiver and release includes but is not limited to any and all claims, procedural, substantive, or otherwise, which were or could have been asserted in the above-captioned due process action, the above-captioned HIB appeal, the above-referenced Notice of Tort Claim, and/or any other action. Notwithstanding the provisions of this paragraph, all Parties expressly reserve the right to file a claim to enforce this Agreement.

7. The Parties expressly agree that, because this Agreement is the result of a compromise, there is no "prevailing party" in these matters, and each Party is responsible for its own attorney fees, consultant fees, expert fees, and litigation costs, except as provided in paragraph 5 above.

8. The terms of this Agreement are specifically contingent upon Petitioners' and L.S.'s continued domicile in Cinnaminson, New Jersey. If at any time while this Agreement is in effect, Petitioners or L.S. cease to be domiciled in Cinnaminson, Petitioners shall notify the District immediately, and the Board's obligations under this Agreement shall immediately cease.

9. This Agreement represents the entire agreement between these Parties on these issues and cannot be modified in whole or in part except by mutual written agreement.

10. This Agreement is subject to Board approval and is without prejudice to any Party if the terms are not agreed upon and approved by the Board. The District will make its best effort to present and recommend this Agreement to the Board at the next scheduled regular Board meeting following execution of this Agreement by Petitioners. In the event this Agreement is not approved by the Board, this Agreement shall be inadmissible in any legal proceeding between the Parties, and neither Party shall be bound to same. Approval of this Agreement shall be evidenced by a certified copy of the resolution passed by the Board.

11. Following Board approval of this Agreement, the Parties will submit this Agreement to the administrative law judge handling these matters for the judge's entry of a Final Order Approving Settlement.

12. It is acknowledged that this Agreement has been entered into freely, willingly, and voluntarily, without duress or coercion, with a full understanding of its contents, and with the opportunity for the Parties to consult with representation of their choosing and at their option. Petitioners have been represented by Julie Warshaw, Esq. of the Warshaw Law Firm, LLC, and are satisfied with her representation. The District has been represented by Alyssa K. Weinstein, Esq. of The Busch Law Group, LLC, and is satisfied with her representation. The Parties acknowledge that they understand the contents of this Agreement and that they were given the opportunity to review it with representatives of their choosing.

13. This Agreement is made without any admissions or findings of liability or responsibility by any Party hereto.

14. The undersigned represent that they have the requisite authority to sign this Agreement on behalf of the respective Party.

15. This Agreement shall be construed fairly, according to the plain language of its terms.

16. This Agreement shall be governed by the Laws of the State of New Jersey and constitutes a legal release of any and all claims that were or could have been raised in these matters.

17. The settlement of these matters and the terms of this Agreement shall remain confidential to the maximum extent permitted by law and shall not be disclosed by either Party to any third party other than a Party's attorney, accountant or other tax preparer, governmental entity or agency, sports recruiter, college or university, medical provider or therapist, or the like, and as otherwise required by law. If either Party is asked about the outcome or status of the dispute, such Party may respond "The dispute has been resolved."

18. It is expressly agreed that no Party to this Agreement shall engage in any disparagement of any other Party to this Agreement at any time.

19. Neither Party will undertake any retaliation against the other in connection with the dispute or with this Agreement.

-signatures on page 7-

Final Decision

Tess Iannocco,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Borough of Wood Ridge, Bergen County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Petitioner – a tenured teacher – suffered a medical episode in her classroom and required emergency services. Subsequently, the Board required that she undergo a fitness for duty evaluation before returning to work and placed her on sick leave until the evaluation was completed. The petitioner filed the within appeal, arguing that she should have been placed on paid administrative leave rather than forced to use her accrued sick time while she waited for clearance to return to work; petitioner demanded that her sick days be reinstated. The parties filed a joint stipulation of facts and motion for summary decision.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: there are no material facts at issue in this case and the matter is ripe for summary decision; under N.J.S.A. 18A:16-2(a), boards of education may conduct physical or psychiatric evaluations of its teachers to ensure they are mentally and physically fit to perform their duties; N.J.S.A. 18A:16-4 addresses what occurs after a fitness evaluation and the use of sick time if the employee is not able to return to work such that when a physician determines there is a mental or physical issue precluding job service, the tenured employee may use sick leave until the board of education is satisfied that the employee has recovered; here, however, no physician concluded that petitioner was unfit to teach; rather, the physician performing the fitness evaluation permitted petitioner to return to her teaching position. The ALJ concluded that the Board could not compel petitioner to utilize her sick days before the completion of the fitness evaluation. Accordingly, the ALJ granted summary decision to petitioner and ordered the Board to return 39.5 days of sick leave to her.

The Commissioner concurred with the findings and determination of the ALJ herein; accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL was adopted as the final decision in this matter.

Board of Education of the Borough of Wood-Ridge, Bergen County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), the exceptions filed by the Board pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4, and petitioner's reply thereto, have been reviewed and considered.

Petitioner, a tenured teacher, suffered a medical episode in her classroom and was required by the Board to undergo a fitness for duty evaluation before returning to work. The Board required her to use sick leave until the evaluation was completed, and petitioner appealed, arguing that she should have been placed on paid administrative leave. The Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) granted petitioner's motion for summary decision and denied the Board's cross-motion for summary decision, concluding that the Board could not require petitioner to use sick days before the completion of the fitness evaluation.

In its exceptions, the Board argues that there is no statutory provision authorizing the use of administrative leave. The Board further contends that the cases cited by the ALJ to support her conclusion are distinguishable and do not directly address the issue of how the dates between a medical episode and a clearance to return to work should be characterized. According to the Board, there was no way for either the Board or petitioner to gauge whether she was able to return to the classroom after her medical incident, such that she must be placed on sick leave until she was cleared to return to work.

In reply, petitioner argues that the ALJ's decision was correct because the Board lacks statutory support to impose involuntary sick leave when a fitness evaluation had not been completed and no physician had determined that petitioner was unfit. Petitioner contends that the ALJ was correct in finding that a medical justification is required for sick leave and that the Board does not have the medical expertise to conclude that petitioner was too ill or disabled to work.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the ALJ that the Board must reinstate petitioner's sick days. While a board of education may place a tenured teacher on involuntary sick leave pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:16-4, such leave may only be ordered after an examination is performed that indicates "mental abnormality or communicable disease." A board of education cannot require the use of sick leave without medical justification. Mary Roberts v. Clinton Township Board of Education, 1991 S.L.D. 751, 760 (Initial Decision, March 26, 1991), aff'd 1991 S.L.D. 763 (Commissioner Decision, May 14, 1991), aff'd 1991 S.L.D. 767 (State Board of Education Decision, September 4, 1991).

The Board's argument that a medical justification was present based on the medical incident in petitioner's classroom is unavailing. As the ALJ noted, simply having a medical condition does not necessarily make an individual too ill or disabled to work and requiring medical attention on a given day does not necessarily mean the individual is unable to work the next day. The Board does not have the medical expertise necessary to reach the conclusion that petitioner was too ill or disabled to work. Unless and until a medical professional declared petitioner unable to work, there was no medical justification for her sick leave, and therefore she was not required to use her sick days.[1] While the Board contends that no statutory provision requires administrative leave during this time, the statutory framework protects an employee's sick days until after a fitness evaluation determines she is unable to work and further limits suspensions without pay to circumstances that do not apply here. Accordingly, a paid leave of absence – whether termed "administrative leave" or something else – is the only permissible option.

Accordingly, petitioner's motion for summary decision is granted, and the Board's motion for summary decision is denied. The Board is ordered to reinstate 39.5 days of sick leave to petitioner.

IT IS SO ORDERED.[2]

Record Closed: September 29, 2021 Decided: October 4, 2021

BEFORE NANCI G. STOKES, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Tess Iannacco, a tenured teacher, suffered a medical episode in her classroom while wearing a mask due to COVID and needed emergency services. The Wood-Ridge Board of Education (Wood-Ridge) immediately placed Iannacco on sick leave. Is Iannacco required to use her sick days pending medical clearance to return to work? No. A teacher would use sick leave following a fitness examination revealing "mental abnormality or communicable disease," not before. N.J.S.A. 18A:16-4.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On November 17, 2020, Iannacco filed a Verified Petition with the Commissioner of Education (Commissioner), contesting Wood-Ridge's insistence that she use sick leave pending the outcome of a fitness for duty evaluation. Instead, she maintains that while Wood-Ridge can require a teacher to undergo a psychiatric or physical examination, Wood-Ridge must place her on paid administrative leave pending the results of that evaluation.

On December 8, 2020, Wood-Ridge filed its answer, maintaining the propriety of its actions.

On December 11, 2020, the Department of Education (DOE) transmitted this case to the Office of Administrative Law as a contested case under the Administrative Procedure Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15, and the act establishing the OAL, N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13, for a hearing under the Uniform Administrative Procedure Rules, N.J.A.C. 1:1-1.1 to -21.6.

On January 21, 2021, I held a pre-hearing conference wherein the parties advised of their desire to resolve the case.

On May 28, 2021, the parties advised that settlement negotiations were unsuccessful. Still, the parties agreed that the material facts were undisputed, and no hearing was necessary to resolve the legal issue presented. Moreover, the parties agreed to give a joint stipulation of facts and exhibits with the motions for summary decision.

On August 6, 2021, the parties filed cross-motions for summary decision, and on September 10, 2021, the parties filed responses.

On September 17, 2021, Iannacco supplied a reply.

On September 29, 2021, the parties revised the joint stipulation of facts, and I closed the record.

FINDINGS OF FACT

The parties presented a joint stipulation of facts and exhibits. Thus, I FIND the following as FACT for purposes of these motions only:

Wood-Ridge employed Iannacco as an Italian teacher, and she acquired tenure as a teacher.

Iannacco suffers from a medical condition that makes it difficult for her to wear a face mask. Iannacco requested medical accommodation during the COVID-19 pandemic, and Wood-Ridge permitted her to remove her mask when students were not in her classroom.

On October 26, 2020, Wood-Ridge's school physician evaluated Iannacco about mask-wearing. The physician concluded that Iannacco did not qualify for an exemption from wearing a mask while teaching in the classroom.

On October 27, 2020, while in her classroom, Iannacco suffered a medical episode requiring local emergency medical services. Iannacco's mask-wearing prompted the medical event, and Iannacco used half of a sick day on October 27, 2020.

Later that same day, former Superintendent of Schools Nicholas Cipriano advised Iannacco that Wood-Ridge placed her on immediate sick leave due to the medical episode and required Iannacco to use her sick days pending a fitness for duty evaluation.

On December 22, 2020, Iannacco underwent a fitness examination.

On January 14, 2021, the school principal contacted Iannacco and advised her that the evaluation's results permitted Iannacco to return to work.

On January 15, 2021, Iannacco returned to teaching, providing in-person instruction.

Wood-Ridge did not grant Iannacco any paid administrative leave pending her medical clearance and return to teaching in the classroom. Instead, Wood-ridge required Iannacco to utilize thirty-nine and one-half sick days.

DISCUSSION AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Summary-Decision Standard

A party may move for summary decision upon all or any of the substantive issues in a contested case. N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(a). Briefs, with or without affidavits must accompany the motion. When the filed papers and discovery, together with any affidavits, show that no genuine issue of material fact exists and that the moving party is entitled to prevail as a matter of law, the judge may grant the motion. N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(b). When a party makes such a motion, an adverse party, to prevail, must submit an affidavit setting forth specific facts showing that a genuine issue of material fact exists that an evidentiary proceeding can only determine. Ibid.

Even though a statute calls for a "hearing," where a party makes a motion for summary decision supported by documentary evidence and the objector submits no evidence to demonstrate that a genuine issue of material fact exists, the motion procedure constitutes the hearing, and no trial-type hearing is necessary. Contini v. Newark Bd. of Educ., 286 N.J. Super. 106, 120–21 (App. Div. 1995), certif. denied, 145 N.J. 372 (1996).

To determine whether a genuine issue of material fact exists that precludes summary judgment, the motion judge must consider whether the competent evidential materials presented, when viewed in the light most favorable to the non-moving party, are sufficient to demonstrate that the moving party is entitled to a judgment as a matter of law. Brill v. Guardian Life Ins., 142 N.J. 520, 540 (1995).

In this case, no genuine issue about the material facts exists. The only question presented is whether Iannacco is required to use sick days beyond October 27, 2020, pending the outcome of a fitness for duty evaluation about a known medical condition. More pointedly, no genuine issue exists that Iannacco is a tenured teacher with a medical ailment causing difficulties with mask-wearing. Further, she suffered a medical episode in her classroom when wearing a face mask required by the COVID-19 pandemic. After the medical incident, Wood-Ridge placed Iannacco on sick leave and charged her thirty-nine and one-half sick days until her clearance and return to work. Since these facts are clear and undisputed, I CONCLUDE that this case is ripe for summary decision.

Fitness for Duty and Sick Leave

Under N.J.S.A. 18A:16-2(a), the Legislature authorized boards of education to conduct physical or psychiatric evaluations of its teachers to ensure they are mentally and physically fit to perform their duties:

> Every board of education may require its employees and shall require any candidate for employment, who has received a conditional offer of employment to undergo a physical examination. The board may require individual psychiatric or physical examinations of any employee, whenever, in the judgment of the board, an employee shows evidence of deviation from normal, physical, or mental health.

However, as Judge Lane cautioned in Kochman v. Keansburg Board of Education, 124 N.J. Super. 203, 212 (Ch. Div. 1973), the Legislature also "recognized that although a board of education may observe signs of what it considers a harmful, significant deviation, it does not have the expertise to question the teacher on the matter itself but must rely on the expertise of a psychiatrist." See N.J.S.A. 18A:16-3 (a physician chosen by the board at the board's expense may conduct the examination or a physician selected by the employee at the employee's expense).

N.J.S.A. 18A:16-4 addresses what occurs after a fitness evaluation and the use of sick time if ineligible for service:

> If the result of any such examination [by a physician] indicates mental abnormality [or impaired physical condition] . . . , the employee shall be ineligible for further service until proof of recovery, satisfactory to the board, is furnished, but if the employee is under contract or has tenure, he may be granted sick leave with compensation as provided by law and shall, upon satisfactory recovery, be permitted to complete the term of his contract, if he is under contract, or be reemployed with the same tenure as he possessed at the time his services were discontinued, if he has tenure, unless his absence shall exceed a period of two years.

[Ibid.]

In other words, when the physician determines there is a mental or physical issue precluding job service, the tenured employee may use sick leave until the board of education is satisfied that the employee recovered.

Numerous cases addressing teacher fitness for duty evaluations demonstrate that school districts routinely place the employee on paid administrative leave before the fitness examination, not sick leave. See, e.g., Dickerson v. Pittsgrove Twp. Board of Education, 2011 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 538 (October 14, 2011); Hayes v City of Camden, State-Operated School District, Camden County, 2016 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 4 (January 04, 2016); Cummings v. Little Egg Harbor Twp. Board of Education, Ocean County, 2018 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 968 (October 19, 2018); Diaz v. Mahwah Twp. Board of Education, 2010 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 101 (March 2, 2010); Bristol v Northern Valley Regional High School District, Bergen County, 2004 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 472 (July 1, 2004).

Still, other decisions have considered the correct fitness-for-duty process. In Roberts v. Clinton Board of Education, 1991 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 2419 (Initial Decision, March 26, 1991), the board of education received parent complaints about Roberts, a tenured teacher, and placed Roberts on involuntary medical leave pending a psychiatric evaluation. Notably, the board filed no disciplinary charges against Roberts. Once Roberts' sick leave and accumulated sick leave expired, the board stopped paying her salary. Roberts sought to restore sick leave days she claimed the board improperly required her to use and her unpaid salary. Unlike here, Roberts refused to undergo a psychiatric examination. Regardless, the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) ordered the restoration of Roberts' sick leave, highlighting that a medical determination must first occur:

> It is recognized that a board of education may place a tenured teacher on involuntary sick leave under N.J.S.A. 18A:16-4. However, such leave may be ordered only after a physical or > psychiatric examination is performed and the results thereof "indicate mental abnormalities or communicable disease."

> [Id. at *23.]

Moreover, the ALJ noted rejected that a dangerous situation permits a board to disregard procedural safeguards:

> In the absence of an indictment or charges certified to the Commissioner, there is no acknowledged standard as 'clear and present danger' which would justify the suspension of a tenured teacher from employment through placement on involuntary sick leave without medical justification and to suspend the teacher's salary when accumulated sick leave expires.

The Commissioner upheld the ALJ"s conclusions observing that other decisions address the correct process regarding psychiatric or medical evaluations to assess fitness. Specifically, the Commissioner highlighted conclusions reached in Emil Scachetti v. Board of Education of the Twp. of Rockaway, 1977 S.L.D. 142, affirmed State Board 153. In Scachetti, "a suspension without pay pending administration and results of a disputed psychiatric exam was [found] improper and [the ALJ] ordered Scachetti restored to employment with mitigated back pay until a medical exam properly led to the invocation of N.J.S.A. 18A:16-4 [requiring the use of sick leave] or filing of tenure charges." Roberts, 1991 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 2419 (Commissioner's Decision, May 14, 1991) at *4-5.

Wood-Ridge suggests that Roberts is distinguishable because Iannacco has a known medical condition and required emergency services, whereas the board in Roberts had no medical justification for its actions. Yet, this position belies the explicit procedural protections under N.J.S.A. 18A:16-4, precluding a board of education from substituting its judgment for that of a physician. Simply having a medical condition does not make an individual too ill or disabled to work. Similarly, requiring medical assistance on a given day cannot determine the employee is too ill to work beyond that incident.

In addition to procedural defects, Iannacco also maintains that using sick leave in this situation conflicts with the statutory framework for such absences. The Legislature defines "sick leave" as "absence from [work] . . . because of personal disability due to illness or injury." N.J.S.A. 18A:30-1. Under N.J.S.A. 18A:30-2, all employees have sick leave with full pay for a minimum of ten school days in any school year. Iannacco maintains she was neither sick nor disabled during the imposed sick leave and Wood-Ridge's evaluating physician concurred.

Consistently, the Appellate Division addressed whether an employee could use sick time for a period when she was not ill but as a means to extend her maternity leave. In re Hackensack Bd. of Education, 184 N.J. Super. 311 (App. Div. 1982). The court reviewed the statutory framework of sick leave and concluded that sick leave could not be "used for child-rearing purposes by a nondisabled teacher." Id. at 317. Indeed, "the teacher simply would not be sick, as that term is [specifically] defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:30-1." Id.

The court highlighted that while N.J.S.A. 18A:30-3 provides for the accumulation of unused sick leave "to be used for additional sick leave as needed in subsequent years," any use "for other purposes would be directly contrary to N.J.S.A. 18A:30-3." Id. The court concluded that the Legislature's inclusion of the terms "as needed" must mean the need "for additional sick leave." Id. Consequently, the Board has the right to request a physician's note before granting sick leave. N.J.S.A. 18A:30-4. Yet, the statute does not authorize a board to determine whether a teacher is sick or disabled.

Here, no physician concluded that Iannacco was unfit to teach, and instead, the physician performing the fitness evaluation permitted Iannacco to return to her teaching position. Therefore, even if Wood-Ridge observed Iannacco's "deviation from normal, physical, or mental health," then I CONCLUDE it must wait until a physician determines she is unfit for teaching before requiring her to utilize sick days.

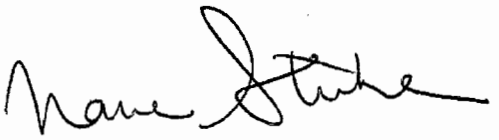
Further, I CONCLUDE that Wood-Ridge could not require Iannacco to utilize thirty-nine and one-half sick days before the fitness-for-duty evaluation and her return to work, and thus, Iannacco is entitled to summary decision in her favor as a matter of law.[1]

ORDER



Given my findings of fact and conclusions of law, I ORDER that Iannacco be GRANTED summary decision and that the Wood-Ridge Board of Education be DENIED summary decision. I further ORDER that Iannacco be returned thirty-nine and one-half days of sick leave.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified, or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify, or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

[1] Iannacco also maintains that the improper use of sick leave violates her tenure rights by reducing her compensation without cause or the due process required by N.J.S.A. 18A:6-10. Yet, I need not reach this issue because I granted her relief on other grounds.

Synopsis

Petitioner – a school bus driver – appealed the Department's determination to suspend her school bus endorsement pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28 et seq. after an incident in which a Central Jersey Prep student was left on petitioner's school bus at the end of one of her assigned bus routes on February 24, 2021. Petitioner did not dispute that the child was left on the bus but contended that the student was never left alone. Petitioner conceded that she had only conducted a visual "turn around" inspection of the bus, not a full visual walk-through, asserting that she had nowhere to pull over safely to walk through of the bus before continuing to her next route. Petitioner did conduct the required walk-through after her next stop and found the student asleep in a seat, after which she returned the unharmed child Central Jersey Prep. The respondent Department filed a motion for summary decision.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: there are no material facts at issue in this case, and the matter is ripe for summary decision; petitioner has admitted that on February 24, 2021, she did not conduct a full visual inspection of her school bus when she dropped off students at the Central Jersey Prep in Franklin Township, before proceeding to her next assigned stop in South Brunswick; pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28, petitioner had an affirmative duty to visually inspect the school bus at the end of the transportation route to determine that no pupil had been left on the bus, and her argument that at no point was the student left unattended since petitioner never stepped off the bus before finding the child is without merit; in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:39-29, if a school bus driver is found to have left a pupil on the bus at the end of a route, the driver's school bus endorsement shall be suspended for six months for the first offense. Accordingly, the ALJ granted summary decision to the respondent and affirmed the petitioner's six month suspension for leaving a child on the school bus at the end of a route.

Upon full review, the Commissioner concurred with the ALJ that the respondent is entitled to summary decision. Accordingly, the petition was dismissed; respondent was directed to notify the Motor Vehicle Commission of its obligation to suspend petitioner's school bus endorsement pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:39-26 et seq., and to notify petitioner's employer that she is ineligible for the period of suspension for continued employment as a school bus driver.

This synopsis is not part of the Commissioner's decision. It has been prepared for the convenience of the reader. It has been neither reviewed nor approved by the Commissioner.

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed and considered. The parties did not file exceptions.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the Administrative Law Judge that petitioner violated N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28 when she failed to conduct a visual inspection of her school bus at the end of her route and, as a result, a child was left on the bus while petitioner continued on to her next route.

Accordingly, respondent's motion for summary decision is granted and the petition of appeal is dismissed. Petitioner's "S" endorsement is hereby suspended for six months from the date of this decision. Respondent is directed to notify the Motor Vehicle Commission of its obligation to suspend petitioner's school bus endorsement pursuant to

N.J.S.A. 18A:39-26*et seq.*, and to notify petitioner's employer that she is ineligible for the period of suspension for continued employment as a school bus driver.

BEFORE JUDITH LIEBERMAN, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner appeals the six-month suspension of her "S" endorsement to operate a school bus, based on the determination by respondent New Jersey Department of Education, Office of Student Protection, (DOE) that a child was left on the school bus to which petitioner was assigned.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Petitioner was notified of the DOE's determination on or about March 1, 2021. She filed a timely appeal on or about March 10, 2021. The DOE Office of Controversies and Disputes transmitted the matter to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), where it was filed on May 14, 2021, as a contested case. N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to-15; N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to-13. The matter was assigned to me on June 4, 2021, and the first prehearing status conference was conducted on August 2, 2021. During the status conference, respondent advised that it submitted to DOE a motion to dismiss the appeal in lieu of an answer and sought leave to proceed with the motion before the OAL. Because petitioner advised that she had retained counsel, the prehearing conference was rescheduled to August 13, 2021, to permit counsel's appearance. The motion was discussed during the August 13, 2021, prehearing conference. It was determined that the motion would be treated as a motion for summary decision and petitioner would file a brief in opposition to the motion no later than September 13, 2021. Oral argument would be permitted if either party requested.

On September 15, 2021, petitioner asked respondent for a one-week extension of time to respond to the motion. The request was not presented to the OAL until September 20, 2021, which was one week after the September 13, 2021, deadline. At that time, petitioner did not specify the length of the requested extension. On October 7, 2021, because petitioner did not respond to my legal assistant's inquiries concerning the length of the requested extension, petitioner was advised in writing that she must submit her response to the pending motion for summary decision no later than October 11, 2021. She was further advised that if the response was not received by that date, the motion would be decided without petitioner's response. As of the date of this opinion, petitioner did not submit a response to respondent's motion. Accordingly, the motion was deemed unopposed.

FACTUAL DISCUSSION

The following facts are undisputed and, therefore, I FIND the following as FACT:

Petitioner possessed an "S" endorsement to operate school buses. On February 24, 2021, petitioner worked as a school bus driver. That day, she dropped off the children on her bus at Central Jersey Prep in Franklin Township, New Jersey. At that time, she observed, "from a turnaround view, [that] there were no children left on the bus." March 10, 2021, Petition. She was unable to stop the vehicle to "perform a full child check" because her "routes are too close in time gap" and, thus, she had "nowhere to pull over safely[.]" Ibid. Petitioner left Central Jersey Prep at 7:43 a.m. and proceeded to South Brunswick, where her first stop was at 7:53 a.m. "Upon [her] drop off to the next school in South Brunswick, [she] conducted a walk through and noticed that a child . . . was slouched over asleep in one of the seats." Ibid. Petitioner alerted her dispatcher that she would return to Central Jersey Prep to drop off the child and asked that another bus driver take over the rest of her route. Petitioner returned to Central Jersey Prep and walked the child into the school. Petitioner asserted, "At no point during this time was the child left unattended as I never stepped off the bus." Ibid.

The dispatcher, Robert Wojciechowicz, wrote a letter in which he described his interaction with petitioner. He asked her if she exited the bus at any time. P-1. Petitioner told him she "never exited the bus at all[.]" Ibid. Wojciechowicz wrote that he knew petitioner was "telling the truth because all her routes run together. So there is no time for [her] to stop[.]" Ibid.

DOE determined that petitioner's "S" endorsement to operate a school bus must be suspended because a child was left on the school bus to which she was assigned. It proposed a six-month suspension because it was petitioner's first offense.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

Summary decision may be granted "if the papers and discovery which have been filed, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact challenged and that the moving party is entitled to prevail as a matter of law." N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(b). Summary decision may be granted when > the competent evidential materials presented, when viewed in the light most favorable to the non-moving party, are sufficient to permit a rational fact-finder to resolve the alleged disputed issue in favor of the non-moving party. The "judge's function is not himself [or herself] to weigh the evidence and determine the truth of the matter but to determine whether there is a genuine issue for trial."

> Brill v. Guardian Life Insurance Company of America, 142 N.J. 520, 540 (1995)(quoting Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, 477 U.S. 242, 249, 106 S. Ct. 2505, 2511, 91 L. Ed. 2d 202, 212 (1986)).

See also R. 4:46-2(c)("An issue of fact is genuine only if, considering the burden of persuasion at trial, the evidence submitted by the parties on the motion, together with all legitimate inferences therefrom favoring the non-moving party, would require submission of the issue to the trier of fact"). Here, the facts are not in dispute and, therefore, the matter is ripe for summary decision.

N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28 addresses school bus drivers' obligation to ensure that children are not left on their busses. It provides:

> A school bus driver shall visually inspect the school bus to which he is assigned at the end of the transportation route to determine that no pupil has been left on the bus. For the purposes of this act, "school bus" means every motor vehicle operated by, or under contract with, a public or governmental agency, or religious or other charitable organization or corporation, or privately operated for compensation for the transportation of children to or from school for secular or > religious education, which complies with the regulations of the Department of Education affecting school buses, including "School Vehicle Type I" and "School Vehicle Type II" as defined pursuant to R.S.39:1-1.

A penalty must be imposed if a bus driver is found to have violated the statute:

> In the event that, after notice and opportunity to be heard, a school bus driver is found to have left a pupil on the school bus at the end of his route, his school bus endorsement shall be:
>
> a. suspended for six months, for a first offense; or > b. permanently revoked, for a second offense.
> [N.J.S.A. 18A:39-29.]

The statue does not require that the child must suffer an injury before a penalty may be imposed. See Garner v. New Jersey State Department of Education, Criminal History review Unit, OAL Dkt. No. EDU 06655-08, adopted, Comm'r, Final Decision (May 1, 2009)(bus driver who exited the bus without first conducting mandatory visual inspection to determine that no children were left on the bus was subject to a six-month suspension for first offense, regardless of past employment record or absence of harm to the child who was left on the bus).

In Arcos v. New Jersey Department of Education, Office of Criminal History Review Unit, OAL Dkt. No. 01752-18, adopted, Comm'r, Final Decision (September 20, 2018), the bus driver failed to observe that a student remained on her bus after she dropped students off at their school. The bus driver did not leave the school bus and relied upon the representations of a teacher who was on the bus that all students had exited the bus. The Commissioner affirmed the decision of the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ), who granted summary decision in favor of the Department. The ALJ found that the driver had an "affirmative duty" to visually inspect the bus at the end of the transportation route. Initial Decision at *4. In examining when the end of the transportation route occurred, the ALJ referenced Klein v. New Jersey Department of Education, Criminal History Review Unit, Agency Dkt. No. 713-12/10, Final Decision (February 21, 2012) at *2, in which it was determined that the "end of the transportation route" was the "point where all of the children in that group leave the bus to enter their school and the bus is empty of riders, and before the driver moves on to her next route." Thus, the end of the transportation route was not synonymous with the end of the driver's entire shift and the driver was obligated to inspect the bus for remaining children each time she reached a destination at which children departed the bus. Arcos at *5-6.

Here, it is undisputed that petitioner intended to drop off all students at Central Jersey Prep. She had thus reached the end of her route with respect to Central Jersey Prep. It is also undisputed that a Central Jersey Prep student remained on the school bus after the end of the route and when petitioner began her next route. Accepting petitioner's assertion in her petition that she inspected the bus by way of a "turnaround view," and that she did not have time to stop the bus, it is clear that she merely turned around while in the driver's seat, and did not walk through the bus, in an effort to ensure that all children had exited the vehicle. As discussed in Arcos v. New Jersey Department of Education, Office of Criminal History Review Unit, it is of no moment that petitioner did not exit the vehicle. Rather, the fundamental inquiry is whether petitioner conducted a full visual inspection of the vehicle. She did not discover the child until she conducted an inspection at the end of her next transportation route. While petitioner and her dispatcher assert that there was not time to stop the bus to conduct an inspection, it is undisputed that a full inspection was not conducted. The controlling statute does not permit exceptions under circumstances such as this. I, therefore, CONCLUDE that respondent properly determined that petitioner violated N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28

The penalty for a first offense of failing to comply with the mandatory inspection statute is a six-month suspension. The penalty may not be waived or compromised. Having found that petitioner violated the controlling statute, I CONCLUDE that she is properly subject to a six-month suspension of her endorsement to operate a school bus.

ORDER

I ORDER that respondent's motion for summary decision is GRANTED and its six-month suspension of petitioner's "S" endorsement is AFFIRMED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

Final Decision

Board of Education of the Township of Brick, Ocean County,

Petitioner,

v.

New Jersey Natural Gas Company,

Respondent.

Synopsis

This matter involves a provision of the Public School Contracts Law (PSCL) that prohibits boards of education from contracting with companies doing certain business in Iran. Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-49.4, an entity bidding on or entering into a contract with a board of education must certify that the entity is not on the State Department of the Treasury's list of entities engaged in investment activities in Iran (Disclosure Form). In this case, the Board filed a motion for summary decision, seeking a ruling that respondent – which supplies natural gas to the Board – must provide a Disclosure Form as a condition for payment. Respondent filed a cross-motion for summary decision, seeking a ruling that it is not required to provide a Disclosure Form, and ordering the Board to pay amounts due for gas already supplied by respondent.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: there are no material facts at issue in this matter, and the case is ripe for summary decision; the threshold issue here is one of jurisdiction; respondent is a public utility that provides natural gas services in several counties in New Jersey in accordance with a tariff approved by the New Jersey Board of Public Utilities (BPU); the petitioning Board contended that the respondent is required by the PSCL, through the law prohibiting public contracts with companies doing business with Iran, to sign the Disclosure Form "as a prerequisite to formalizing a purchase order/payment of public funds"; respondent argued that New Jersey public utilities are regulated by the BPU, not the Department of Education, so the case must be dismissed for lack of jurisdiction. The ALJ concluded that respondent is not required to provide a Disclosure Form as a condition for payment by the Board, because the tariff under which respondent supplies gas to the Board is not a contract subject to the PSCL. Accordingly, the ALJ denied the Board's motion for summary decision and granted respondent's motion for summary decision as to the issue of the Disclosure Form; however, the portion of respondent's motion dealing with the payment of amounts due was denied, as the ALJ concluded that jurisdiction over such issues lies with the BPU and not the Commissioner.

Upon a comprehensive review of this matter, the Commissioner agreed with the ALJ's findings and conclusions. Accordingly – finding petitioner's exceptions to be unpersuasive – respondent's motion for summary decision was granted to the extent that the Commissioner found that respondent is not required to provide a Disclosure Form to the Board; however, respondent's motion for summary decision was denied with regard to its request to require the Board to pay its outstanding balance, on the basis of jurisdiction.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Board of Education of the Township of Brick, Ocean County, Petitioner,

v.

New Jersey Natural Gas Company,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), the exceptions filed by the Board pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4, and respondent's reply thereto, have been reviewed and considered.

This matter involves a provision of the Public School Contracts Law (PSCL) that prohibits boards of education from contracting with companies doing certain business in Iran. Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-49.4, an entity bidding on or entering into a contract with a board of education must certify that the entity is not on the State Department of the Treasury's list of entities engaged in investment activities in Iran (Disclosure Form). See also N.J.S.A. 52:-32.58. Here, the Board filed a motion for summary decision, seeking a ruling that respondent, which supplies gas to the Board, must provide a Disclosure Form as a condition for payment. Respondent filed a cross-motion for summary decision, seeking a ruling that it is not required to provide a Disclosure Form, and ordering the Board to pay amounts due for gas already supplied by respondent.[1] The Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) concluded that respondent is not required to provide a Disclosure Form as a condition for payment by the Board, because the tariff under which respondent supplies gas to the Board is not a contract subject to the PSCL. Accordingly, the ALJ denied the Board's motion for summary decision, and granted respondent's motion for summary decision as to the issue of the Disclosure Form. However, the ALJ denied the portion of respondent's motion for summary decision regarding payment of amounts due, concluding that jurisdiction over such issues lies with the Board of Public Utilities (BPU).

In its exceptions, which reiterate arguments made below, the Board contends that the definition of contract in the PSCL includes purchase orders, which is the mechanism by which the Board pays respondent. Therefore, according to the Board, respondent is required to complete a Disclosure Form as a condition for payment.

In reply, respondent argues that the ALJ properly found that the PSCL does not apply to respondent because it is a public utility that provides services pursuant to a tariff, not a contract with the Board. Respondent also contends that purchase orders unilaterally issued by the Board do not create an agreement between the parties or a legally binding relationship enforceable by law, such that the purchase orders are not contracts governed by the PSCL.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the ALJ that the question of whether respondent is required to provide a disclosure form arises from the PSCL and is therefore within the Commissioner's jurisdiction. The Commission further agrees with the ALJ that respondent is not required to provide a Disclosure Form as a condition for payment by the Board, because the tariff under which respondent supplies gas to the Board is not a contract subject to the

[1] The Board has withheld payments since July 2018, totaling approximately $1.3 million as of August 2021.

PSCL. As the New Jersey Supreme Court explained in Application of Saddle River, 71 N.J. 14 (1976), a tariff is a schedule of rates that applies equally to all customers, rather than a contract that is individually negotiated between parties.

The Commissioner does not find the Board's exceptions persuasive. The PSCL defines a contract as "any agreement, including but not limited to a purchase order or a formal agreement, which is a legally binding relationship enforceable by law, between a vendor who agrees to provide or perform goods or services and a board of education which agrees to compensate a vendor, as defined by and subject to the terms and conditions of the agreement." N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-2(n). However, the "purchase orders" generated by the Board as part of its payment processing system do not represent an agreement between the Board and respondent regarding terms for the provision of and payment for natural gas. Those terms are set by – and enforceable based upon – the tariff. The Commissioner also concurs with the ALJ that the Commissioner lacks jurisdiction to require the Board to pay its outstanding balance to respondent, as the BPU has jurisdiction over billing. N.J.S.A. 48:2-13.

Accordingly, the Initial Decision is adopted as the final decision in this matter.

BEFORE DEAN J. BUONO, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

In this matter, petitioner Brick Township Board of Education (Brick) seeks an order finding that respondent New Jersey Natural Gas Co. (NJNG), which is a public utility that supplies gas to Brick, must, as a condition for payment, provide Brick with a signed Disclosure of Investment Activities in Iran Form (Disclosure Form) pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A 18A-49.4. Under that provision, which is part of the Public School Contracts Law (PSCL), N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-1 to -68, a board of education "shall implement and comply with [N.J.S.A. 52:32-55 to -61]," which "require[s] a person or entity that submits a bid or proposal or otherwise proposes to enter into or renew a contract [with a state or local agency] to certify, prior to the time a contract is awarded and at the time the contract is renewed, that the person or entity is not identified on a list" maintained by the Department of the Treasury "as a person or entity engaging in investment activities in Iran[.]" N.J.S.A. 52:32-58(a).

As part of this matter, the parties have filed cross-motions for summary decision regarding their respective obligations under N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-49.4. For the following reasons, I deny Brick's motion and grant in part NJNG's motion by finding that NJNG is not obligated by law to provide Brick with a signed Disclosure Form.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY AND STATEMENT OF FACTS

NJNG is a public utility that provides natural gas services in several counties in New Jersey in accordance with a tariff approved by the New Jersey Board of Public Utilities (BPU). Petition for Declaratory Ruling, ¶ 9; Answer, ¶ 9, First Affirmative Defense.[1] NJNG, a wholly owned subsidiary of New Jersey Resources Company, is the sole provider of natural gas services in Brick Township and has supplied natural gas to Brick since 1995. Certification of Suzanne Bostwick, ¶¶ 2-3. According to Brick, "[l]ike all payments for the receipt of services by the District, payments are made to NJNG pursuant to a purchase order[.]" Petition, ¶ 20.

[1] NJNG's tariff is available at Microsoft Word - Tariff 9-1-21 monthly BGSS.docx (njng.com).

In 2012, Governor Christie signed into law a bill amending the PSCL to specifically prohibit boards of education from contracting with companies doing certain business with Iran. L. 2012, c. 25, § 8 (eff. July 30, 2012). As a result, any person or entity that contracts with a board of education must certify through a Disclosure Form that the person or entity is not on the Department of the Treasury's list of companies engaged in business in Iran.[2]

In 2018, Brick asked NJNG to sign the Disclosure Form. NJNG declined to do so. In response, Brick has withheld payments from NJNG since August 2018. NJNG has continuously supplied Brick with natural gas despite Brick's nonpayment of its monthly bills. As of August 15, 2021, Brick's outstanding balance with NJNG was $1,307,330.22.[3] Bostwick Cert., ¶ 5.

On February 5, 2021, Brick filed with the Commissioner of Education (Commissioner) a petition for a declaratory ruling, "pray[ing] that the Commissioner shall construe the provisions of N.J.S.A. 18A:18A:49.4 and N.J.S.A. 52:32-55 et seq. and determine and declare whether [NJNG] is required to or exempt from providing the [Disclosure Form], and, if not exempt, declare when and how often the form must be provided to [Brick] for continued receipt of services." Petition. According to Brick, the arrangement between the school board and NJNG for the provision of natural gas services is governed by N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-49.4 and N.J.S.A. 52:32-55 et al., such that NJNG must sign the Disclosure Form "before the Board can finalize a purchase order and relinquish payment to NJNG for services." Petition, ¶ 21.

On March 30, 2021, NJNG filed an answer with the Commissioner. In its answer, the company set forth several affirmative defenses, including (1) the tariff under which NJNG supplies gas to its customers "governs all terms and conditions" of its services, and since the tariff does not require NJNG to provide Brick with the Disclosure Form, NJNG has no duty to provide it; (2) a tariff is not a public contract that is subject to the law requiring the Disclosure Form or the PSCL; (3) Brick is in violation of N.J.A.C. 14:3-7.6(a), which requires gas service customers to "pay all undisputed charges," and should be ordered to pay its outstanding balance for services received; (4) the matter should be dismissed because the BPU, and not the Commissioner of Education, has jurisdiction over public utilities like NJNG, and the Department of the Treasury, and not the Commissioner of Education, has jurisdiction over N.J.S.A. 52:32-55 et seq.

On April 16, 2021, the Acting Commissioner, Angelica Allen-McMillan, notified the parties that she had declined Brick's request for a declaratory ruling pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-8 and N.J.A.C. 6A:3-2.1, and that the matter would proceed instead as a petition of appeal pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3. The same day, the Department of Education, Office of Controversies and Disputes, transmitted the matter to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) as a contested case. The transmittal sheet states that "[p]etitioner seeks an order declaring whether respondent is required to file the [Disclosure Form], but that "[j]urisdiction is a threshold inquiry."

In August 2021, the parties filed cross-motions for summary decision. According to Brick, NJNG is required by the PSCL, through the law prohibiting public contracts with companies doing business with Iran, to sign the Disclosure Form "as a prerequisite to formalizing a purchase order/payment of public funds."

On the contrary, NJNG submits, as also reflected in its affirmative defenses, that BPU has approved a tariff that governs the provision and payment for services provided by NJNG, and Brick is obligated under the tariff and public utilities law to pay for the services it has received from NJNG; Brick has no legal basis for its stance that payment may be withheld absent NJNG's certification regarding any investment activities it conducts with Iran; NJNG's tariff governs the terms and conditions of its relationship with Brick and other customers, and the tariff is not a contract that is subject to the law prohibiting public contracts with companies doing business in Iran or the PSCL; it is undisputed that NJNG is not on the Department of the Treasury's list of companies with investment activities in Iran, another reason NJNG should not have to sign the Disclosure Form as a prerequisite to payment by Brick for outstanding charges.

LEGAL DISCUSSION

Under the Uniform Administrative Procedure Rules, N.J.A.C. 1:1-1.1 to -21.6, "[a] party may move for summary decision upon all or any of the substantive issues in a contested case." N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(a). Such motion "shall be served with briefs and with or without supporting affidavits" and "[t]he decision sought may be rendered if the papers and discovery which have been filed, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact challenged and that the moving party is entitled to prevail as a matter of law." N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(b). When the motion "is made and supported, an adverse party in order to prevail must by responding affidavit set forth specific facts showing that there is a genuine issue which can only be determined in an evidentiary proceeding." Ibid.

In this dispute, there are no genuine issues of material fact and, for the reasons that follow, NJNG is entitled to partial summary decision as a matter of law.

As a threshold matter, it is necessary to address the Commissioner's jurisdiction over the dispute between the parties. NJNG raised jurisdictional issues in it affirmative defenses and in transmitting the matter to the OAL, the Commissioner advised that "[j]urisdiction is a threshold inquiry."

By its petition and motion for summary decision, Brick requests that the Commissioner "construe the provisions of N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-49.4 and N.J.S.A. 52:32-55 et seq. and determine and declare whether [NJNG] is required to or exempt from providing the Disclosure of Investment Activities in Iran form, and, if not exempt, declare when and how often the form must be provided to [Brick] for continued receipt of services."

In its affirmative defenses and cross-motion, NJNG argues that "[t]he Commissioner should dismiss the Petition for lack of jurisdiction because New Jersey public utilities are regulated by the [BPU], not the Department of Education," and "because N.J.S.A. 52:32-55 et seq., the law on which the Petition is based, is enforced by the Department of the Treasury and not the Department of Education." NJNG also argues that Brick is in violation of N.J.A.C. 14:3-7.6(a), which requires gas service customers to "pay all undisputed charges," and by cross-motion seeks an order requiring Brick to pay its outstanding balance for services rendered by NJNG.

To the extent that Brick's appeal arises under the PSCL, the Commissioner has jurisdiction over this matter. Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9, the Commissioner generally has "jurisdiction to hear and determine . . . all controversies and disputes arising under the school laws[.]" It is clear that this dispute arises under a school law—the PSCL, which at N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-49.4 mandates that a school board like Brick comply with N.J.S.A. 52:32-55 to -61 and require "a person or entity that submits a bid or proposal or otherwise proposes to enter into or renew a contract [with the school board] to certify" that it is not on the Department of the Treasury's list of companies doing business with Iran. Thus, to resolve this dispute, it is necessary to interpret whether N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-49.4 applies to NJNG, such that the public utility must submit the Disclosure Form as argued by Brick. This question is squarely within the Commissioner's jurisdiction to decide disputes arising under the school laws, and not within the BPU or the Department of the Treasury's jurisdiction.

However, to the extent that NJNG seeks by way of its cross-motion for summary decision an order "requiring [Brick] to immediately pay the amounts admittedly due for gas service," the Commissioner does not have jurisdiction. Under the Department of Public Utilities Act, N.J.S.A. 48:2-1 to –91, the BPU "shall have general supervision and regulation of and jurisdiction and control over all public utilities, and more specifically "all services necessary for the transmission and distribution of . . . gas, including but not limited to safety, reliability, metering, meter reading and billing, [are within] the jurisdiction of the Board of Public Utilities." N.J.S.A. 48:2-13(a) and (d) (emphasis added). Since the Commissioner's jurisdiction in this matter extends only to deciding the parties' respective obligations under N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-49.4, any remaining dispute the parties have over nonpayment for service is properly governed by public utilities law and subject to the jurisdiction of the BPU.

NJNG does not have to sign the Disclosure Form for Brick because the tariff under which NJNG supplies gas to Brick is not a contract subject to the PSCL or the law prohibiting government agencies from contracting with companies that support Iran.

As noted above, in 2012, Governor Christie signed into law a bill prohibiting state and local agencies from awarding public contracts to companies with investments in the energy or finance sectors of Iran. For purposes of that law, a "public contract" is defined as "any contract or agreement entered into by a state or any instrumentality of that state to purchase goods, services or both." N.J.S.A. 52:32-1.3.

Under the law, the Legislature recognized that "[t]here are moral and reputational reasons for state and local governments to not engage in business with foreign companies that have business activities benefiting foreign states, such as Iran, that pursue illegal nuclear programs, support acts of terrorism and commit violations of human rights." N.J.S.A. 52:32-55(f).

The law covers any person or entity that "provides goods or services of $20,000,000 or more in the energy sector of Iran, including a person that provides oil or liquefied natural gas tankers, or products used to construct or maintain pipelines used to transport oil or liquefied natural gas, for the energy sector of Iran" and any "financial institution that extends $20,000,000 or more in credit" to anyone who "will use the credit to provide goods or services in the energy sector in Iran." N.J.S.A. 52:32-56(f). The law mandates that "the Department of the Treasury shall, using credible information available to the public, develop a list of persons or entities it determines engage in investment activities in Iran," such that "[a] person or entity that, at the time of bid or proposal for a new contract or renewal of an existing contract, is identified on" the list "shall be ineligible to, and shall not, bid on, submit a proposal for, or enter into or renew, a contract with a State agency for goods or services." N.J.S.A. 52:32-57(a) and (b) (emphasis added).

Relevant to this matter, the Legislature, through the act, amended the PSCL to specifically prohibit boards of education from contracting with companies that do business with Iran. L. 2012, c. 25, § 8. Thus, under N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-49.4, a board of education "shall implement and comply with the provisions of P.L.2012, c.25 (C.52:32-55 et al.), except that the board shall rely on the list developed by the State Department of the Treasury pursuant to section 3 of P.L.2012, c.25 (C.52:32-57)." N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-49.4(a).

And "[i]f the board determines that a person or entity has submitted a false certification concerning its engagement in investment activities in Iran under section 4 of P.L.2012, c.25 (C.52:32-58), the board shall report to the New Jersey Attorney General the name of that person or entity, and the Attorney General shall determine whether to bring a civil action against the person[.]" N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-49.4(b).

The PSCL "establishes specific requirements with which public schools must abide when contracting for services and goods" in order to "protect [] the public interest by keeping costs at a minimum and preventing fraud." Williams Scotsman, Inc. v. Garfield Bd. of Educ., 379 N.J. Super. 51, 56 (App.Div.2005); Bd. of Educ. of the City of Asbury v. Hoek, 38 N.J. 213, 231 (1962). Thus, "[e]very contract for the provision or performance of any goods or services, the cost of which in the aggregate exceeds the bid threshold [set by N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-3], shall be awarded only by resolution of the board of education to the lowest responsible bidder after public advertising for bids and bidding therefor, except as is provided otherwise in this chapter or specifically by any other law." N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-4(a).

As otherwise provided by N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-5, "[a]ny contract, the amount of which exceeds the bid threshold, shall be negotiated and awarded by the board of education by resolution at a public meeting without public advertising for bids and bidding thereof if the subject matter thereof consists of . . . [t]he supplying of any product or the rendering of any service by a public utility, which is subject to the jurisdiction of the Board of Public Utilities, in accordance with the tariffs and schedules of charges made, charged and exacted, filed with said board." N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-5(a)(7).

The PSCL defines a "contract" as "any agreement, including but not limited to a purchase order or a formal agreement, which is a legally binding relationship enforceable by law, between a vendor who agrees to provide or perform goods or services and a board of education which agrees to compensate a vendor, as defined by and subject to the terms and conditions of the agreement." N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-2(n). The act further defines "purchase order" as "a document issued by the purchasing agent authorizing a purchase transaction with a vendor to provide or perform goods or services to the board of education, which, when fulfilled in accordance with the terms and conditions of a request of a purchasing agent and other provisions and procedures that may be established by the board of education, will result in payment by the board of education." N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-2(v). Finally, the PSCL allows "competitive contracting," which "means the method . . . of contracting for specialized goods and services in which formal proposals are solicited from vendors; formal proposals are evaluated by the purchasing agent or counsel or school business administrator; and the board of education awards a contract to a vendor or vendors from among the formal proposals received." N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-2(p).

The BPU is vested with the "general supervision and regulation of and jurisdiction and control over all public utilities[.]" N.J.S.A. 48:2-13(a). In relevant part, "[t]he term 'public utility' shall include every . . . corporation . . . that now or hereafter may own, operate, manage or control within this State any . . . pipeline, gas . . . system, plant or equipment for public use, under privileges granted or hereafter to be granted by this State or by any political subdivision thereof." Ibid.

Under the rules governing public utilities, N.J.A.C. 14:1-1.1 to -31-1.18, "[e]ach public utility shall, prior to offering a utility service to the public, submit a tariff or tariff amendments to the Board for approval." N.J.A.C. 14:3-1.3(a). The tariff must include such information as "the public utility's service area;" "all services that the utility offers, and all terms and conditions regarding the services;" and, "all of the public utility's rates and charges for all services that the utility offers." N.J.A.C. 14:3-1.3(b).

The rules recognize, however, that a public utility may enter into a contract or agreement separate from the tariff. N.J.A.C. 14:3-1.3(e). Thus, for example, "[i]f a gas . . . utility plans to enter into a contract or agreement with a particular customer or group of customers, for service at rates different from those authorized under the utility's Board-approved tariff, the utility shall file a petition for approval[.]" Ibid.

In Application of Saddle River, 71 N.J. 14 (1976), on which NJNG relies in support of its motion, the Court discussed the difference between a tariff and a contract. First, the Court recognized that "many public utilities . . . are required to publish tariffs which apply equally to all customers and hence preclude the negotiation of individual agreements," while others "conduct many of their operations pursuant to contract. Id. at 22. Second, the Court explained "the distinction between the terms 'tariff' and 'contract' as applied to public utilities." Id. at 29.

According to the Court, "[a] tariff is a published schedule of rates, filed by a public utility, and thereafter, in the absence of successful challenge, applicable equally to all customers," and "such a tariff is not a mere contract[;]" instead, "[i]t is the law, and its provisions are binding on a customer whether he knows of them or not." Ibid (citing Essex Cnty. Welfare Bd. v. New Jersey Bell Tel. Co., 126 N.J. Super. 417, 421-22 (App.Div.1974). By contrast, "[a] contract . . . is an agreement individually negotiated between a utility and a particular customer, with rates that may differ according to circumstances." Ibid.

Importantly, the Court pointed out that "[w]here a public utility has been granted a franchise to serve a designated area, whether it sets its rates by tariff or by negotiated contract, advertising for competitive bids is of little avail since generally only one possible supplier of the service exists." Id. at 31. The PSCL and other public bidding statutes "dispense[] with public bidding where a public utility is involved . . . because the legislative purpose behind public bidding—that is, to obtain a benefit for the taxpayers by securing competition and guarding against favoritism, improvidence, extravagance and corruption—becomes an impractical objective." Capasso v. L. Pucillo & Sons, Inc., 132 N.J. Super. 542, 550 (Ch. and Law Divs. 1974), aff'd, 132 N.J. Super. 473 (App.Div.1974).

Since "it is necessary and desirable in our society that there be certain services rendered on a continuous basis without cutthroat competition, we have the notion of public utilities." Id. at 550-51. Thus, "[i]n order to guard against abuses by the publicly sanctioned monopoly it is required that the rates to be charged by the public utility be regulated," and "[t]hat is the protection afforded to the public" and "that is the same kind of protection which the general bidding statutes seek to achieve for the taxpaying public." Id. at 551. As such, "[t]he Legislature had in mind that it would be impractical if not impossible, as a general proposition, to require a public utility to bid for services a municipality [or school board] needed." Ibid.

As Brick notes, under the PSCL, a school board "shall implement and comply with the provisions of P.L.2012, c.25 (C.52:32-55 et al.)," which requires "a person or entity that submits a bid or proposal or otherwise proposes to enter into or renew a contract to certify, prior to the time a contract is awarded and at the time the contract is renewed, that the person or entity is not" on the Department of the Treasury's list of companies engaged in business in Iran. N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-49.4(a); N.J.S.A. 52:32-58(a). However, it is clear from this language that the Disclosure Form needs to be signed only when a statute requires the submission of competitive bids or proposals by a company in order to contract with a public entity. And because the PSCL exempts NJNG, as a public utility regulated by the BPU, from public bidding and because NJNG supplies gas to Brick, and its many other customers, by tariff and not by contract, NJNG does not have to fill out the Disclosure Form as urged by Brick. The relevant laws—N.J.S.A. 52:32-58 and N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-49.4—simply do not apply to NJNG's relationship with Brick.

As the Court explained in Saddle River, "[a] tariff is a published schedule of rates . . . applicable equally to all customers," and "such a tariff is not a mere contract," which "is an agreement individually negotiated between a utility and a particular customer, with rates that may differ according to circumstances." The fact that Brick may submit a purchase order, which generally falls under the definition of contract under N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-2, for NJNG's services does not mean Brick "contracts" with NJNG in a sense governed by the PSCL or the law prohibiting public contracts with companies engaged in business in Iran. Instead, as discussed, the PSCL exempts NJNG from its requirements such as public bidding and certifying that it does not do business in Iran because NJNG supplies its product to Brick through a tariff subject to the jurisdiction of the BPU.[4]

I CONCLUDE that based on the foregoing, Brick's motion for summary decision should be DENIED and NJNG's cross-motion for summary decision GRANTED in part by finding that N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-49.4 (through N.J.S.A. 52:32-55 to -61) does not apply to NJNG's relationship with Brick. Likewise, NJNG's cross-motion is DENIED in part by finding that any remaining dispute over payment by Brick for NJNG's services is subject to the jurisdiction of the BPU, and not the Commissioner.

[4] The Department of the Treasury's Iran list is available at Chapter25List.pdf (state.nj.us). Clearly, NJNG is not on the list. However, because NJNG is not required to sign the Disclosure Form attesting that the company is not on the list, it is unnecessary to reach NJNG's argument that the company does not have to sign the Disclosure Form because N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-49.4 provides that a board of education such as Brick can simply check the list instead of having a company sign the form certifying that the company is not on the list.

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that Brick's motion for summary decision should be DENIED. It is further ORDERED that NJNG's cross-motion for summary decision is GRANTED in part by finding that N.J.S.A. 18A:18A-49.4 (through N.J.S.A. 52:32-55 to -61) does not apply to NJNG's relationship with Brick. It is further ORDERED that NJNG's cross-motion is DENIED in part by finding that any remaining dispute over payment by Brick for NJNG's services is subject to the jurisdiction of the BPU, and not the Commissioner

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

Re: Board of Education of the Township of Union, Union County v. New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association, Dkt. No. 214-11/21.

Dear Counsel:

I have reviewed the materials filed in connection with the motion for emergent relief filed by the Union Township Board of Education (Union) in the above-captioned matter. Union is seeking an Emergent Order requiring the New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association (NJSIAA) to allow the Union High School football team to participate in the state football playoffs. After winning its first playoff game, Union was scheduled to play Paterson Eastside High School (Paterson) in the second round of the playoffs. After a Covid-19 outbreak on the Union High School football team, the Union Superintendent voluntarily withdrew the team from the tournament the day of the game to limit further transmission of the virus.

Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(b), a grant of emergent relief is considered an extraordinary remedy that can only be issued upon a finding that petitioner has met the four-pronged standard set forth in Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126 (1982). The party seeking such relief must demonstrate the existence of each of the following: 1) the movant will suffer irreparable harm if the requested relief is not granted; 2) the legal right underlying the movant's claim is settled; 3) the movant has a likelihood of prevailing on the merits of the underlying claim; and 4) when the equities and interests of the parties are balanced, the movant will suffer greater harm than the other party if the requested relief is not granted. N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(b).

Upon review of the parties' submissions, I find that Union has not met the standard required for emergent relief. It is well established that the Commissioner's scope of review in matters involving NJSIAA decisions is appellate in nature. N.J.S.A. 18A:11-3; Board of Education of the City of Camden v. NJSIAA, 92 N.J.A.R. 2d (EDU) 182, 188. That is, I may not overturn an action by the NJSIAA in applying its rules, absent a demonstration by the petitioner that it applied such rules in a patently arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable manner. N.J.A.C. 6A:3-7.5(a)(2); B.C. v. Cumberland Regional School District, 220 N.J. Super. 214, 231-232 (App. Div. 1987). Nor may I substitute my own judgment for that of the NJSIAA, where due process has been provided and where there is sufficient credible evidence in the record as a whole to serve as a basis for the decision reached by the NJSIAA. N.J.A.C. 6A:3-7.5(a)(1).

Petitioners seeking to overturn decisions of the NJSIAA bear a heavy burden and, considering the record of this matter and the prescribed standard of review, I find that Union has failed to demonstrate a likelihood of success on the merits.[1] In September 2021, the NJSIAA adopted a Covid-19 Policy for state tournaments in all sports that was distributed to all member schools on September 15, 2021. According to the policy:

> 1. NJSIAA will not delay or modify any state tournament schedule for a team that cannot participate due to Covid-19 issues.
> 2. Once a state tournament officially starts, the tournament will progress as scheduled – this is regardless of a team's first scheduled event in the tournament.
> 3. For any team that cannot participate on the date scheduled, or play by date, then the opponent will advance.

Here, Union has not presented any evidence to demonstrate that the NJSIAA applied the Covid-19 Policy in a patently arbitrary or unreasonable manner in light of its duty to ensure fairness and integrity in athletic competition statewide.[2] It is important to recognize that the NJSIAA did not disqualify Union from the playoff game against Paterson; rather, Union itself made the decision to pull out of the game because of Covid-19 issues. Therefore, under the

[1] Since all of the Crowe prongs must be met in order for emergent relief to be granted, it is not necessary to analyze the three remaining factors.

[2] The Covid-19 policy has been applied to other teams that had to withdraw from a tournament during the 2021-2022 school year because of Covid-19 issues.

Covid-19 Policy, Paterson automatically advanced to the next round of the tournament. Under these circumstances and in light of the express language in the policy, there is nothing to suggest that the Union High School football team should be permitted to re-enter the tournament at this juncture.

In light of the fact that all of the Crowe prongs must be met in order for emergent relief to be granted, it is not necessary to analyze the three remaining factors. Accordingly, the petitioner's request for emergent relief and an Order permitting the Union High School football to participate in the state playoffs is hereby DENIED.[3]

Angelica Allen-McMillan, Ed.D.

Final Decision

In the Matter of Yunxia Chen, Edison Township Board of Education,
Middlesex County.

The Commissioner has reviewed the record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC), finding that respondent violated the School Ethics Act for failure to timely complete board member training in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1. The SEC's decision was forwarded to the Commissioner for final determination on the recommended penalty pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c). The SEC advises that respondent completed training after the issuance of its Order to Show Cause. Respondent has neither filed exceptions to the recommended penalty nor instituted an appeal of the SEC's underlying finding of violation pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 et seq.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the penalty recommended by the SEC for respondent's failure to timely honor an obligation placed upon board members by law. Accordingly, respondent is hereby reprimanded for violating the School Ethics Act.

IT IS SO ORDERED.[1]

Before the School Ethics Commission
Docket No.: T08-20
Decision for Failure to Complete Mandatory Training Requirement in a Timely Manner

---

I/M/O Yunxia Chen,
Edison Township Board of Education, Middlesex County

I. Procedural History

This matter arises from an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) that was issued by the School Ethics Commission (Commission) at its meeting on July 27, 2021, and also served on July 27, 2021, via electronic mail.[1] The OTSC directed Yunxia Chen (Respondent), a "board member" as defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23 of the School Ethics Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 et seq., to show cause as to why the Commission should not find her in violation of the Act, for failing to complete training as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1.

In the OTSC served on July 27, 2021, the Commission notified Respondent that she had twenty (20) days to respond to the OTSC, and further advised that failure to respond would be deemed an admission of the facts set forth in the OTSC. Respondent was also notified that, upon receipt of the response or upon expiration of the twenty (20) day time period for so filing, the Commission may proceed to a determination of a violation on a summary basis (i.e., without a hearing or further proceedings) in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:28-1.6(c), which so permits when material facts are not in dispute.

II. Analysis

The Act was enacted by the New Jersey State Legislature to ensure and preserve public confidence in members of local boards of education and local school administrators. N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1 require every board member to complete a training program prepared and offered by the New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA).

Respondent is a member of the Edison Township Board of Education (Board), located in Middlesex County. As a result of her position on the Board, and in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1, Respondent is required to complete a mandated training program on an annual basis. For convenience and ease, the training is offered online so any board member may complete it at any time, from anywhere. Respondent was required to complete the Governance 2 training program by December 31, 2020.

On or about May 17, 2021, the NJSBA provided the Commission with the names of those board of education members who failed to complete mandated training by December 31, 2020, and the list provided included Respondent. Prior to this time, multiple communications about mandated training were sent to Respondent from the NJSBA through a variety of means, including targeted e-mail messages and postings in School Board Notes. More specific information detailing the outreach efforts of the NJSBA to communicate with Respondent and/or the Business Administrator about mandated training is set forth in the attached Certification from the NJSBA. See Exhibit 1. Notwithstanding all of these communications, Respondent did not complete mandated training.

In addition to the communication efforts undertaken by the NJSBA, the Middlesex County Office of Education (County) also communicated with the Respondent regarding her failure to complete the mandated training requirement. More specifically, in mid-May 2021, the Commission's staff notified the County that Respondent was identified as a school official who failed to complete training by December 31, 2020. As a result, the County sent correspondence to Respondent, with a copy to the Business Administrator, advising that Respondent remained delinquent in completing training. Notwithstanding this correspondence from the County, Respondent did not complete training as directed.

As a final warning, the Commission sent a letter to Respondent dated June 10, 2021, via electronic mail, advising her that the Commission requires completion of the training to avoid the issuance of an OTSC for non-compliance. This final warning letter provided instructions to Respondent on how to complete training. Again, notwithstanding this correspondence, Respondent did not complete the required training. As a result, an OTSC was served on Respondent, via electronic mail, on July 27, 2021.

To date, there is no dispute that Respondent did not complete her required training by December 31, 2020, and did not complete the training prior to the issuance of the Commission's OTSC. After having been served with the OTSC, Respondent completed her training requirement on July 28, 2021, and also filed a response to the Commission's OTSC. More specifically, Respondent (through counsel) stated, she "attempted to complete the mandatory training course on the [NJSBA] website" on July 2, 2021, "but was unable to access and/or locate the e-learning portal." The Business Administrator then advised Respondent that "she would receive an email with instructions for the online training program," and on July 28, 2021, she "again attempted and was successful in accessing and/or locating the e-learning portal and at that time completed the required training course." Importantly, Respondent did not deny that she did not complete training in a timely fashion.

III. Decision/Penalty Recommendation

N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.2(d) provides that school board members and charter school trustees who fail to comply with their training mandate shall be considered in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33. Based on the record as set forth above, at its special meeting on August 30, 2021, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1. Respondent received repeated notifications of her training requirement, and had ample opportunity to complete the mandated training in a timely fashion; nonetheless, she failed to complete training as required. Where a violation of the Act is found by the Commission, the Commission may recommend to the Commissioner of Education that a penalty be imposed. The recommended penalty can include a reprimand, censure, suspension or removal of the school official. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.12.

In addition, the Commission readily acknowledges and is sympathetic to the fact that the Coronavirus (COVID-19) has had a significant impact on the daily lives of all people, and believes that reasonable accommodations and extensions of deadlines are appropriate and warranted in certain circumstances. However, the Commission notes that training is completed annually, can be completed from any computer or device with an internet connection, and that the Commission was only required to issue an OTSC to five (5) board of education members throughout the State for failure to comply with the statutory obligation to complete training. As such, there is no reasonable basis for Respondent, based on the current record, to have failed to comply with this mandate.

For the reasons set forth above, the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of reprimand.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c), this decision shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of Education for review of the Commission's recommended penalty. Respondent may either: 1) file exceptions to the recommended sanction; 2) file an appeal of the Commission's finding of a violation; or 3) file both exceptions to the recommended sanction together with an appeal of the finding of a violation.

Parties taking exception to the recommended sanction of the Commission but not disputing the Commission's finding of a violation may file, within thirteen (13) days from the date the Commission's decision is forwarded to the Commissioner, written exceptions regarding the recommended penalty to the Commissioner. The forwarding date shall be the mailing date to the parties, as indicated below. Such exceptions must be forwarded to: Commissioner of Education, c/o Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625, marked "Attention: Comments on Ethics Commission Sanction."[2] A copy of any comments filed must be sent to the Commission (school.ethics@doe.nj.gov) and all other parties.

Parties seeking to appeal the Commission's finding of violation must file an appeal pursuant to the standards set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:4:1 et seq. within thirty (30) days of the filing date of the decision from which the appeal is taken. The filing date shall be three (3) days after the date of mailing to the parties, as shown below. In such cases, the Commissioner's review of the Commission's recommended sanction will be deferred and incorporated into the Commissioner's review of the finding of violation on appeal. Where a notice of appeal has been filed on or before the due date for exceptions to the Commission's recommended sanction (thirteen (13) days from the date the decision is mailed by the Commission), exceptions need not be filed by that date, but may be incorporated into the appellant's briefs on appeal.

I, Vincent DeLucia, of full age hereby certify as follows:

1. I am an employee of the New Jersey School Boards Association and the Director of Training/Educator in Residence. I am responsible for working with NJSBA staff to assure accuracy of board of education member and charter school trustee mandatory training records.

2. As part of my responsibilities, I assure the accuracy of the reports given to the New Jersey School Ethics Commission (NJSEC) regarding board of education members and charter trustees who do not complete the annual mandatory training.

3. On July 1, 2021, NJSBA delivered the Report of school board members who are elected in November of each year who had not completed their mandated training for year 2020 to the NJSEC, due by December 31, 2020.

4. Prior to preparing the July 1, 2021 report, NJSBA communicated with district Business Administrators (BAs) about mandated training through an email on December 8, 2020, December 18, 2020, December 22, 2020, February 23, 2021, March 4, 2021, April 16, 2021 and April 22, 2021.

5. Prior to preparing the July 1, 2021 report, NJSBA communicated with school board members about mandated training through an email to all board members to those out of compliance on November 18, 2020, December 7, 2020, December 16, 2020, December 24, 2020, January 22, 2021, February 10, 2021, March 4, 2021, March 24, 2021, April 15, 2021 and April 22, 2021.

6. On July 16, 2021, Yunxia Chen was registered to take Governance 2 training and an email with the link was sent to their registered email address.

7. On November 18, 2020, NJSBA sent an email to Yunxia Chen, a board member of the Edison Township Board of Education, advising that they had not completed Governance 2 for 2020 and provided a link to the online training module.

8. An additional notice was sent to the Edison Township Board of Education Business Administrator on December 8, 2020, December 18, 2020, December 22, 2020, February 23, 2021, March 4, 2021, April 16, 2021 and April 22, 2021, advising that Yunxia Chen had not completed the Governance 2 training. Phone calls were also made the week of April 8th, 2021.

9. On March 4, 2021, March 24, 2021, April 15, 2021, and April 22, 2021 NJSBA communicated through email with Yunxia Chen with the link and instructions for completing Governance 2. Phone calls were also made the week of April 28th, 2021.

10. All members and Business Administrators received information about mandated training requirements in the weekly update on December 15, 2020, January 4, 2021, January 11, 2021, January 18, 2021, January 25, 2021, February 1, 2021, February 8, 2021, February 15, 2021, February 22, 2021, March 1, 2021, March 8, 2021, March 19, 2021, April 12, 2021, April 19, 2021, May 3, 2021, May 17, 2021, June 7, 2021, June 14, 2021, June 21, 2021, and July 12, 2021.

11. Yunxia Chen did complete Governance 2 training on July 28, 2021.

Resolution Adopting Decision for Failure to Complete Mandatory Training Requirement in a Timely Manner Docket No.: T08-20

Whereas, Yunxia Chen (Respondent) is a "board member" as defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23 of the School Ethics Act (Act); and

Whereas, as a board member, Respondent is required to complete a training program prepared and offered by the New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA) on an annual basis; and

Whereas, Respondent failed to complete her training program by December 31, 2020; and

Whereas, at its meeting on July 27, 2021, the School Ethics Commission (Commission) issued an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) directing Respondent to show cause as to why she failed to complete her mandatory training by December 31, 2020, as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1; and

Whereas, after having been served with the OTSC, Respondent completed her training requirement, and also filed a response to the Commission's OTSC that did not dispute that she did not complete training in a timely fashion; and

Whereas, at its special meeting on August 30, 2021, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-33 and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-4.1 by failing to complete the training requirement she was obligated to complete; and

Whereas, at its special meeting on August 30, 2021, the Commission recommended that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of reprimand on Respondent; and

Whereas, at its special meeting on August 30, 2021, the Commission agreed that the within decision accurately memorializes its findings and recommendations; and

Now Therefore Be It Resolved, that the Commission hereby adopts the within decision and directs its staff to notify all parties to this action of the decision.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Debra Sheldon,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the City of Perth Amboy, Middlesex County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, which was transmitted to the Commissioner by the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-14.4 and includes an advisement of petitioner's failure to appear at the scheduled September 2, 2021 OAL hearing, has been reviewed. Petitioner did not file an explanation for the failure to appear, notwithstanding the opportunity to do so. Accordingly, this matter is no longer deemed to be a contested case before the Commissioner and is hereby dismissed with prejudice.

Debra Sheldon, petitioner pro se

Isabel Machado, Esq., for respondent (Machado Law Group, attorneys)

Record Closed: September 7, 2021 Decided: October 19, 2021

BEFORE MARY ANN BOGAN, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner, Debra Sheldon (Sheldon), who was formerly employed by the Board of Education of the City of Perth Amboy (the Board) as a Special Education Teacher, asserts that the reason the Board did not renew her contract was retaliatory. She requested that the decision by the Board to not renew her contract be reversed.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY AND STATEMENT OF FACTS

Petitioner filed her appeal with the Commissioner of Education (the Commissioner) on August 8, 2019. An answer was filed on behalf of the Board, and the contested case was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), on September 16, 2019.

Initially, petitioner was represented by Charette Matts-Brown, Esq. A telephone conference was held on November 18, 2019, at which time Ms. Matts-Brown appeared to represent petitioner. A second conference call was held on January 8, 2020, and then again on February 11, 2020. Each time Ms. Matts-Brown appeared on behalf of petitioner. Due to COVID-19 the telephone conference scheduled for March 23, 2020, was adjourned. On April 7, 2020,[1] Ms. Matts-Brown filed a motion for leave to withdraw as counsel. Petitioner was sent a copy of the motion. A telephone conference was held on June 2, 2020. During this conference, Ms. Matts-Brown reported that petitioner informed the President of Perth Amboy Federation-AFT Local 857, Patricia Paradiso that she no longer wished to pursue the matter and consented to the withdrawal of counsel. Petitioner did not respond to the motion or send correspondence withdrawing the appeal. A conference call was scheduled for September 2, 2020. All parties including petitioner were notified. Petitioner did not appear. An explanation from petitioner explaining her non-appearance was not received.

ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

N.J.A.C. 1:1-14.4(a) provides that, if, after appropriate notice, a party does not appear in any proceeding scheduled by a judge, the judge shall hold the matter for one day before taking any action. If the judge does not receive an explanation for the nonappearance within one day, the judge may direct the Clerk to return the matter to the transmitting agency for appropriate disposition. Petitioner failed to appear at the scheduled proceeding, and she failed to provide an explanation one day following her nonappearance or thereafter. Accordingly, the Clerk should return this matter to the Department of Education.

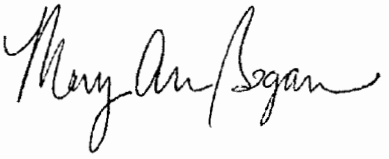
Based on the foregoing facts and the applicable law, I CONCLUDE that petitioner has abandoned this matter and that it should be returned to the transmitting agency.



ORDER

It is ORDERED that the Clerk return this matter to the Department of Education for appropriate disposition.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Record Closed: October 4, 2021 Decided: October 13, 2021

BEFORE MARY ANN BOGAN, ALJ:

This matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law on December 3, 2020, for determination as a contested case, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15 and N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13.

The parties have agreed to a settlement and have prepared a Settlement Agreement, along with the Board Resolution, indicating the terms thereof, which is attached and fully incorporated herein.

I have reviewed the record and the terms of settlement and I FIND:

1. The parties have voluntarily agreed to the settlement as evidenced by their signatures or their representatives' signatures.

2. The settlement fully disposes of all issues in controversy.

I CONCLUDE that this agreement meets the requirements of N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1 and that the settlement should be approved. I approve the settlement and therefore ORDER that the parties comply with the settlement terms and that these proceedings be concluded.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

The Freehold Township Board of Education (the "Respondent or "District") having its administrative offices at 384 West Main Street, Freehold, New Jersey 07728, and S.C. (the "Petitioner"), residing within the boundaries of Freehold Township, desiring to mutually resolve the issues in the above-captioned petition of appeal, hereby set forth as follows:

WHEREAS, S.C. is a resident of Freehold Township, New Jersey and has a student who will attend the 8th grade at the Clifton T. Barkalow Middle School within the District; and

WHEREAS, the District is charged with the operations of the public schools of the Freehold Township School District, County of Monmouth, a pre-K to 8th grade school system, pursuant to Title 18A of the New Jersey Statutes; and

WHEREAS, S.C. questioned the placement of her student for accelerated/honors math for the 2020-2021 and 2021-2022 school years; and

WHEREAS, S.C. had questions and concerns regarding the District's gifted and talented program for middle school math; and

WHEREAS, a dispute arose between Petitioner and Respondent regarding the provision of math programs to gifted and talented students in middle school; and

WHEREAS, Petitioner filed a Petition of Appeal on or about November 4, 2020 with the Commissioner of Education, Office of Controversies and Disputes, challenging the District's gifted and talented program and alleging it did not meet State guidelines; and

WHEREAS, the parties engaged in multiple settlement discussion in order to resolve the issues raised in this matter; and

WHEREAS, the parties seek a resolution to the above-referenced matter in order to resolve all issues and avoid the time and cost of litigation, having mutually reached an agreement to settle.

NOW, THEREFORE, for the considerations specified below, the parties set forth the following mutual covenants and agreements:

1. The parties agree to meet at a mutually convenient date and time to discuss Petitioner's concerns about the District's 7th and 8th grade honors math program. Topics for discussion may include curricular and instructional adaptations, identification of gifted and talented students, staff training, and parental communication regarding the program. The meeting participants shall include Petitioner, the Director of Curriculum and Instruction, the Assistant Principal (who is familiar with the gifted and talented program),the Supervisor of Mathematics and Science, and the District's legal counsel. If Petitioner has any follow-up questions after this meeting, she may place them in writing to the District, and they will be answered by the District accordingly.

2. The parties agree to conduct an additional meeting that may take place immediately after the meeting set forth in Paragraph 1 above or at another mutually convenient date and time to discuss Petitioner's concerns regarding the specific placement of her student in the District's gifted and talented math program. Both the District's legal counsel, a school administrator and the student's math teacher for the 2021-2022 school year shall be present for that meeting. Topics may include the student's needs, instructional and curricular adaptions and SEL infusion for gifted learners. If Petitioner has any follow-up questions after this meeting, she may place them in writing to the District, and they will be answered by the District accordingly.

3. The parties agree and acknowledge that this Agreement resolves all issues between the parties regarding the District's gifted and talented programs, accelerated programs and honors programs. Petitioner withdraws the Petition of Appeal with prejudice and without costs.

4. The parties acknowledge that they have reviewed this Agreement in detail and fully understand its requirements and limitations. Petitioner is signing this Agreement voluntarily of her own free will and not under duress or coercion of any kind. The parties have had full opportunity to review the Agreement and are satisfied with the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

5. This Settlement Agreement contains the full and complete agreement of the parties hereto with respect to all matters, that it supercedes any prior or contemporaneous representations, whether oral or written, and that it may not be modified or amended except by a written instrument signed by all parties hereto.

6. This Settlement Agreement shall be construed fairly according to the plain language of its terms and not for or against any party hereto.

7. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, it is expressly understood and agreed that, following the full execution of this Settlement Agreement, neither Petitioners, Respondent District, Respondent District's staff, nor either parties' attorneys will take any action to publicize the terms and nature of this Settlement Agreement, except that disclosure is permitted: (1) as necessary with regard to any proceedings for the enforcement of the Settlement Agreement; (2) as may be required by any court of agency of competent jurisdiction; and (3) as may be required by law.

8. In consideration for the above, Petitioner agrees that the terms of this Settlement Agreement shall constitute a full and complete settlement of all claims or complaints she made or could have made, individually or jointly, as part of the above-captioned Petition of Appeal and resolves all issues prior to the execution of this Agreement and any issues in the future regarding the District's gifted and talented programs and the placement of S.C.'s student within any of those programs. Petitioner withdraws the Petition of Appeal with prejudice and without costs.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned put their signatures on this _____ day of August 2021.

Synopsis

Petitioner – a school bus driver employed by the Mount Laurel Board of Education – appealed the Department's determination to suspend her school bus endorsement pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28 et seq. after a March 2021 incident in which she failed to visually check her bus for students before leaving the bus unattended while she dropped off paperwork at the transportation center building. Petitioner did not dispute that she failed to conduct the required visual inspection before exiting the bus, and that a child was therefore left unattended on the bus for a brief period of time; however, petitioner contended that she had "not yet parked the bus" when she left it to enter the transportation center. Further, petitioner pointed out, inter alia, that two staff members were standing near the bus when she exited, and that the student on the bus was quickly returned home without incident. The Department argued that petitioner violated the requirements of N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28, and that such violation carries a mandatory penalty pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:39-29. The Department filed a motion to dismiss, which was converted to a motion for summary decision.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: there are no material facts at issue in this case, and the matter is ripe for summary decision; petitioner has admitted that on March 4, 2021, she did not conduct a full visual inspection of her school bus when she stopped at the transportation center building to drop off paperwork; pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28, petitioner had an affirmative duty to visually inspect the school bus at the end of the transportation route to determine that no pupil had been left on the bus; petitioner failed to conduct the required visual inspection; a violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28 carries a mandatory penalty; in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:39-29, if a school bus driver is found to have left a pupil on the bus at the end of a route, the driver's school bus endorsement shall be suspended for six months for the first offense. Accordingly, the ALJ granted summary decision to the respondent.

Upon full review, the Commissioner concurred with the ALJ that the respondent is entitled to summary decision. Accordingly, the respondent was directed to notify the Motor Vehicle Commission of its obligation to suspend petitioner's school bus endorsement pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:39-26 et seq., and to notify petitioner's employer that she is ineligible for the period of suspension for continued employment as a school bus driver. The petition was dismissed.

This synopsis is not part of the Commissioner's decision. It has been prepared for the convenience of the reader. It has been neither reviewed nor approved by the Commissioner.

Final Decision

Linda Mitchell,

Petitioner,

v.

New Jersey Department of Education,
Office of Student Protection,

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed and considered. The parties did not file exceptions.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the Administrative Law Judge that petitioner violated N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28 when she failed to conduct a visual inspection of her school bus at the end of her route and, as a result, a child was left on the bus.

Accordingly, respondent's motion for summary decision is granted and the petition of appeal is dismissed. Petitioner's "S" endorsement is hereby suspended for six months from the date of this decision. Respondent is directed to notify the Motor Vehicle Commission of its obligation to suspend petitioner's school bus endorsement pursuant to

N.J.S.A. 18A:39-26*et seq.*, and to notify petitioner's employer that she is ineligible for the period of suspension for continued employment as a school bus driver.

LINDA MITCHELL,
Petitioner,
v.
NEW JERSEY DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, OFFICE OF STUDENT PROTECTION ,
Respondent.

Linda Mitchell, pro se

Colin Klika, Deputy Attorney General for respondent (Andrew J. Bruck, Acting Attorney General of New Jersey, attorneys)

Record Closed: September 30, 2021 Decided: October 18, 2021

BEFORE EDWARD J. DELANOY, JR., Deputy Director and ALAJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Petitioner, Linda Mitchell (Mitchell), seeks a determination that the respondent, New Jersey Department of Education, Office of Student Protection (Department), erred in its decision to suspend Mitchell's "S" endorsement to operate a school bus for six months, due to Mitchell's alleged violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28, et seq., in leaving a child on a school bus assigned to her on March 4, 2021.

Mitchell filed her Petition of Appeal with the Department on March 18, 2021. On or about May 5, 2021, the Department filed a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer ("Motion"), pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.10 [1]. The matter was transferred to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), where it was filed on May 7, 2021, as a contested case under N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to –15 and N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to –13.

A telephone status conference was held on July 26, 2021, where the parties agreed that the facts were not in dispute, that the Department had filed a motion to dismiss in lieu of answer, and that Mitchell had not yet filed her opposition to the same. It was agreed that the Department would not need to re-file a motion for summary decision, and Mitchell would file her opposition to the Department's motion on or before August 31, 2021.

Having not received Mitchell's response to the Department's motion, on September 7, 2021, this tribunal forwarded an e-mail to Mitchell advising her that no response had been received from her as agreed, and that she would need to request an extension of time to file her response. Having not received any response to that e-mail, on September 17, 2021, this tribunal forwarded another e-mail to Mitchell advising her that no response had been received from her as agreed, and that her response was due no later than September 30, 2021. That second e-mail also advised Mitchell that if her response was not received by September 30, 2021, the record would close, and a decision would be issued on the unopposed motion. Mitchell failed to respond to that e-mail, nor did she file her response on or before September 30, 2021. As a result, the record closed on September 30, 2021.

[1] The Department had initially filed a Motion to Dismiss in Lieu of an Answer with the Commissioner of Education under N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.10. The Department requested in its motion that once the matter was transferred to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), that the Department's motion be converted to a summary decision motion under N.J.A.C. 1:1:12.5, as no material facts are in dispute.

The Department's Motion, containing the facts of this case as set forth by petitioner in her petition of appeal of March 18, 2021, are undisputed by the Department, and I therefore FIND them to be the FACTS of this case. Those facts are as follows:

1. Petitioner, as of the date of her appeal, had been driving a school bus for over seven years with the Mount Laurel Board of Education, and during that time had an unblemished record. (See, Petition at 1-2; Department brief at 3).
2. The student was on petitioner's bus for less than five minutes. Ibid.
3. Two staff members were standing next to the bus the entire time. Ibid.
4. The student was home within five minutes of discovery. Ibid.
5. The student was not injured or harmed and was in no danger. Ibid.
6. Petitioner had not parked the bus. Petitioner had simply stopped at the office door to drop off paperwork. Ibid.
7. The student's parent was notified, and the parent was content with how the situation was handled. Ibid. at 3-4.

DISCUSSION

To succeed in the suspension of Mitchell' "S" endorsement to operate a school bus vehicle, the Department must establish that Mitchell violated N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28. This statute specifies an affirmative duty that the school bus driver "shall visually inspect the school bus to which (s)he is assigned at the end of the transportation route to determine that no pupil has been left on the bus." N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28.

A violation of 18A:39-28 results in a mandatory penalty. N.J.S.A. 18A: 39-29. The statute dictates "in the event that, after notice and opportunity to be heard, a school bus driver is found to have left a pupil on the school bus at the end of his route, his school bus endorsement shall be A) suspended for six months, for a first offense; or B) permanently revoked, for a second offense." N.J.S.A. 18A: 39-29.

Mitchell filed a Petition of Appeal under N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.3(i)(3) that was both timely and compliant.[2] This regulation holds that:

> A petition seeking to be heard as to why his or her endorsement to operate a school bus should not be suspended or revoked pursuant to 18A:39-28 et seq., because a child was found to have been left on the school bus to which he or she was assigned, shall file a petition within 10 business days of the date of the Department's written notice to petitioner of such finding. Ibid.

Mitchell's request for a hearing is subject to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-12.1.[3] This regulation holds that the petitioner can contest the suspension or revocation brought under N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28 et seq. by filing a petition within ten business days. N.J.A.C. 6A:3-12.1(a).

Mitchell can contest the following aspects of the Department's determination: (1) That pupil was left on the bus at the end of the driver's route; (2) That the incident in question was the driver's second offense; (3) That pupil was harmed as a result of foreseeable danger; and (4) That the driver acted with gross negligence. N.J.A.C. 6A:3-12.1(b).

If the petitioner does not file on time or fails to demonstrate that the Department made an error, the Motor Vehicle Commission ("MVC") is then notified that the driver's "S" endorsement has been suspended and that the Department will notify the driver's employer that the driver is no longer eligible to continue employment effective immediately from the time of suspension. N.J.A.C. 6A:3-12.1(c).

In the within matter, the criteria for contesting the Department's determination set forth in N.J.A.C. 6A:3-12.1(b) 2 through 4 above are not applicable. The Department does not assert that the incident was a second offense or that the child was harmed as a result of a foreseeable danger or that Mitchell acted with gross negligence. The issue in this case is whether Mitchell complied with the statutory requirement that she "shall visually inspect the school bus to which (s)he is assigned at the end of the transportation route to determine that no pupil has been left on the bus." N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28.

There is no affirmative defense to the violation that the Department alleges against Mitchell by statute. See N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28, N.J.S.A. 18A: 39-29. The only defense available to Mitchell is the Department's failure to establish that she failed to visually inspect the school bus to which she was assigned at the end of the transportation route to determine that no pupil has been left on the bus. (Emphasis supplied).

The School Bus Safety Act imposes an affirmative duty on school bus drivers to visually inspect the school bus at the end of every route to insure no child has been left on the school bus. N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28. If a school bus driver is found to have left a pupil on his bus at the end of a route, his school bus endorsement shall be suspended for six months for a first offense. N.J.S.A. 18A:39-29.

Mitchell has not disputed the Department's findings that petitioner left her bus unattended when she dropped off documents at the transportation center building. Mitchell does not dispute that a student was left on her bus. Petitioner did not state in her petition that she did visually inspect the bus when she dropped off the documents. Mitchell argues in her Petition that she had "not yet parked the bus," and that she had simply, "stopped at the office door to drop off paperwork" (Petition, at 3-4), implying that her route ends at the end of her workday when all children have been dropped off. Mitchell also impliedly argues that the child was never left alone and was with her at all times. The question that must be answered is when did Mitchell's bus route end?

The legal determination rests on the meaning of the phrase "the end of the transportation route." This phrase is not defined in the "School Bus Safety Act." Herman v. N.J. Dept. of Ed., Crim. Hist. Rev. Unit, EDU10473-14, Initial Decision (June 25,2018) http://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/html/initial/edu10473-14_1.html. The Department, in its motion to dismiss, cites Klein v. N.J. Dept. of Ed., Crim. Hist. Rev. Unit, Agency Dkt. No. 713-12/10, Final Decision at 2 (February 21, 2012), which determined that the "end of the route" pursuant to N.J.S.A 18A:39-26 "terminates at the point where all of the children in that group leave the bus to enter their school and the bus is empty of riders, and before the driver moves on to her next route." Final Decision 3 (February 21, 2012).[4] Further, Klein holds that this is the point at which the driver should conduct the visual inspection of the vehicle for any remaining students. Id.

The OAL came to a conflicting conclusion in an initial decision. Herman Initial Decision. In Herman, a bus driver did not conduct a visual inspection of the bus at the drop-off point of the first group of children, and a child remained on the bus. Id. at 2. The bus driver left the bus for one minute to deliver a forgotten backpack and promptly returned to the bus. Id. The ALJ applied N.J.A.C. 6A:27-12.3(a)(1), reasoning that the bus driver remained in the vicinity of the child at all times. Id. at 8-9. The ALJ's initial decision, like in Klein's initial decision, was not adopted and the Commissioner stated that the ALJ relied wrongly on N.J.A.C. 6A:27-12.3(a)(1). Herman v. N.J. Dept. of Ed., Crim. Hist. Rev. Unit, Final Decision 7 (July 30, 2015).[5]

Based upon these decisions, whether Mitchell did or did not remain in the vicinity of the child is therefore not relevant to her claim that the child was never left alone. The critical analysis is did the Department fail to establish by a preponderance of the credible evidence that Mitchell failed to visually inspect the school bus to which she was assigned at the end of the transportation route to determine that no pupil has been left on the bus. (Emphasis supplied).

In her Petition, Mitchell does not deny or dispute the fact that she failed to visually inspect her bus when she left her bus unattended and dropped off documents at the transportation center building. She seeks to mitigate her failure to inspect the school bus in arguing that 1) two staff members were standing by the bus the entire time (Petition at 3-4); and 2) the student was on petitioner's bus for less than five minutes; and 3) that the student was home within five minutes of discovery. As the School Bus Safety Act does not provide a definition for "end of the transportation route", the undersigned is left to find a meaning from a "discriminating search" of the record, consisting as it may of documentary exhibits and any other evidence filed by the movant, with all reasonable inferences arising from the evidence being accorded to the opponent of the motion, and the arguments made by the parties in their respective motions for summary decision. Brill v. The Guardian Life Insurance Company of America, et al., 142 N.J. 520, 530 (1995).

I CONCLUDE that Mitchell's painstaking explanation in her Petition of the individuals who did and did not conduct the school bus inspection for children on the bus at the time the children were dropped off serves to underscore the conclusion that the meaning of "end of the transportation route" under N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28 occurs when the children are dropped off. In essence, Mitchell provides a common-sense definition to "end of the transportation route" in acknowledging that the school bus should be inspected when the children are dropped off and not upon completion of her transportation route at the end of the day.

I CONCLUDE further that Mitchell's attempt to mitigate her failure to check the school bus for children serves only to strengthen the Department's argument that "the end of the transportation route" triggering the school bus driver's affirmative duty to inspect the school bus under N.J.S.A. 18A:39-28 occurs when Mitchell left her bus unattended when she dropped off documents at the transportation center building and not when the bus driver competes all of her assigned routes for the day.

The Department seek relief pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5, which provides that summary decision should be rendered "if the papers and discovery which have been filed, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact challenged and that the moving party is entitled to prevail as a matter of law." Our regulation mirrors R. 4:46-2(c) which provides that "the judgment or order sought shall be rendered if the pleadings, depositions, answers to interrogatories and admissions on file, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact challenged and that the moving party is entitled to a judgment or order as a matter of law."

A determination whether a genuine issue of material fact exists that precludes summary judgment requires the judge to consider whether the competent evidential materials presented, when viewed in the light most favorable to the non-moving party, are sufficient to permit a rational fact finder to resolve the alleged disputed issue in favor of the non-moving party. Our courts have held that the "judge's function is not himself [or herself] to weigh the evidence and determine the truth of the matter but to determine whether there is a genuine issue for trial." Brill v. Guardian Life Ins. Co. of Am., 142 N.J. 520, 540 (1995), citing Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 249 (1986). When the evidence "is so one-sided that one party must prevail as a matter of law," the trial court should not hesitate to grant summary judgment. Anderson, 477 U.S. at 252. Conversely, it is critical that a favorable ruling on a summary judgment motion not "shut a deserving litigant from his [or her] trial." Judson v. Peoples Bank and Trust Co. of Westfield, 17 N.J. 67, 77 (1954).

I CONCLUDE that the evidence presented by the parties does not establish any facts in material dispute. Given the limited facts that must be established to support a violation of the duty imposed by the Legislature on a school bus driver to properly inspect the bus at the end of a route to assure that no child is left on the bus, the arguments offered by the Department amply support summary decision in its favor. And given the mandatory nature of the penalty for a first-time violator of the mandate, the six-month suspension is the only outcome where the violation is proven. N.J.S.A. 18A:39-29a. The Department's motion for summary decision is hereby GRANTED.

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that the Department's motion for summary decision is hereby GRANTED and it is further ORDERED that the petitioner's "S" endorsement shall be suspended for six months.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On June 22, 2021, the above captioned matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) for a hearing as a contested case pursuant to N.J.A.C. 52:14B-1 to -15 and N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13.

On August 9, 2021, a telephone conference was held with the petitioner, S.P. on behalf of minor children, J.P. and K.P. (hereinafter, "Petitioner") and Christina M. DiPalo, counsel for the Board of Education of the City of Elizabeth, Union County (hereinafter, "Respondent" or "District"). At said time, counsel for respondent confirmed that the District has determined that the petitioner's minor children, J.P. and K.P. would be permitted to remain students in the Elizabeth Public Schools and thus were withdrawing its counterclaim for tuition. Petitioner was instructed to send to the undersigned a letter withdrawing her petition because it was moot.

On August 10, 2021, respondent submitted an email withdrawing its counterclaim. To date, petitioner has failed to submit a letter or email withdrawing her petition even after repeated attempts to contact petitioner by my chambers and counsel for respondent. On October 13, 2021, respondent submitted a Certification setting forth the basis of the withdrawal of the petition and counterclaim. See Attached. In light of same, it is concluded that this matter is moot and should be DISMISSED.

ORDER

It is therefore ORDERED that this matter is hereby DISMISSED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Boonton Education Association and
Robert Davis,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Town of Boonton,
Morris County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Petitioner alleged that the respondent Board failed to provide an employee health plan equivalent to the New Jersey Educators Health Plan (NJEHP), in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:16-13.2. The Board argued that the Commissioner lacks jurisdiction over the subject matter of the within appeal, which respondent contends falls under health benefits laws, not the school laws. The Board filed a motion to dismiss.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: pursuant to N.J.S.A. 1 BA:6-9, the Commissioner has jurisdiction to hear and determine all controversies and disputes arising under the school laws; the Commissioner's jurisdiction is limited to reviewing whether the Board's health plan design comports with the elements of the NJEHP as described in N.J.S.A. 52:14-17.46.13(f); the NJEHP statute does not set forth the age limit on dependent coverage as part of the plan design; and any terms not referenced in the NJEHP statute fall outside the Commissioner's jurisdiction. Accordingly, the ALJ granted the Board's motion to dismiss.

Upon review, the Commissioner reversed the Initial Decision and remanded the matter to the OAL for further proceedings. In so doing, the Commissioner, inter alia, disagreed with the ALJ that the petition should be dismissed for lack of jurisdiction and found instead that N.J.S.A. 18A:16-13.2 provides that a board of education shall offer a health plan that is the equivalent of the NJEHP, and that a determination regarding whether a board of education has done so falls squarely within the Commissioner's jurisdiction; as the record thus far is limited to the jurisdictional issue raised in the motion to dismiss, the Commissioner was unable to reach a decision regarding the merits of whether the Board's health plan is equivalent to the NJEHP. Accordingly, the matter was remanded for further proceedings consistent with this decision.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Boonton Education Association and
Robert Davis,

Petitioners,

v.

Board of Education of the Town of Boonton,
Morris County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), the exceptions filed by petitioner pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4, and the Board's reply thereto, have been reviewed and considered.

Petitioner alleges that the Board failed to provide a health plan equivalent to the New Jersey Educators Health Plan (NJEHP), in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:16-13.2. Specifically, petitioner contends that while the NJEHP permits dependents to remain covered until the end of the calendar year in which they turn 26 years old, the Board's plan terminates coverage at the end of the month in which a dependent turns 26. The Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) concluded that the Commissioner's jurisdiction is limited to reviewing whether the Board's health plan design comports with the elements of the NJEHP as described in N.J.S.A. 52:14-17.46.13(f) (NJEHP statute). The ALJ found that the NJEHP statute does not set forth the age limit on dependent coverage as part of the plan design and concluded that any terms not referenced in the NJEHP statute fall outside the Commissioner's jurisdiction. Accordingly, the ALJ granted the Board's motion to dismiss.

In its exceptions, petitioner argues that resolving this dispute requires an interpretation of N.J.S.A. 18A:16-13.2 to determine whether the Board's health plan comports with the NJEHP. Therefore, according to petitioner, the dispute arises under the school laws, not insurance law, and the Commissioner has jurisdiction to decide the merits of the case.

In reply, the Board argues that the Commissioner lacks jurisdiction to decide what benefit levels should be in a health plan that is designed to mirror a plan created by another State agency. The Board contends that the ALJ correctly concluded that because the issue of dependent coverage is not one of the statutorily-prescribed elements of the NJEHP, the dispute would necessitate a comparison of the plans and implicate areas outside of the school laws.

Upon review, the Commissioner disagrees with the ALJ that the petition should be dismissed for lack of jurisdiction. N.J.S.A. 18A:16-13.2 provides that a board of education shall offer a health plan that is the equivalent of the NJEHP. A determination regarding whether a board of education has done so falls squarely within the Commissioner's jurisdiction. P.L. 2020, Chapter 44, outlines requirements for plans offered by employers who participate in the School Employees' Health Benefits Program (SEHBP), which is under the purview of the School Employees' Health Benefits Plan Design Committee or the State Treasurer, through the Division of Pensions and Benefits. These requirements are therefore codified as N.J.S.A. 52:17.46.13 through 16. However, none of these provisions require boards of education to offer equivalent plans if they do not participate in the SEHBP. Instead, non-participating boards are required to offer an equivalent plan based on N.J.S.A. 18A:16-13.2, an education statute. Under the standard principles of statutory construction, the Commissioner presumes that the Legislature intended this distinction when it enacted P.L. 2020, Chapter 44. Therefore, the Commissioner concludes that jurisdiction over whether a non-participating board's plan is equivalent to the NJEHP lies with the Commissioner.

Although the ALJ correctly found that dependent coverage is not provided for in the NJEHP plan description in the NJEHP statute, the lack of any such provision does not go to the procedural question of jurisdiction, but rather to the substantive question of whether a plan that differs from the NJEHP regarding dependent coverage satisfies the requirements of N.J.S.A. 18A:16-13.2. As the record thus far is limited to the jurisdictional issue raised in the motion to dismiss, the Commissioner is unable to reach a decision regarding the merits of whether the Board's health plan is equivalent to the NJEHP.

Accordingly, the Initial Decision is reversed, and the matter is hereby remanded to the OAL for further proceedings consistent with this opinion.

Record Closed: August 2, 2021 Decided: October 14, 2021

BEFORE KELLY J. KIRK, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioners, Boonton Education Association and Robert Davis, allege that respondent Board of Education of the Town of Boonton, Morris County, violated N.J.S.A. 18A:16-13.2 by failing to offer a plan equivalent to the New Jersey Educators Health Plan.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On March 25, 2021, petitioners Boonton Education Association (Association) and Robert Davis filed with the New Jersey Department of Education (Department) a Petition of Appeal (Petition) requesting that the Commissioner enter an order: declaring that respondent Board of Education of the Town of Boonton, Morris County (Board), is in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:16-13.2(a)(1) and (2) by failing to provide a plan equivalent to the New Jersey Educators Health Plan (NJEHP); compelling the Board to provide a plan equivalent to the NJEHP, inclusive of eligibility terms that permit dependents to remain covered until the end of the relevant calendar year, to be effective January 1, 2021, in accordance with school laws; and compelling the Board to financially reimburse any affected Association members for any benefits or payment lost due to the Board's actions. On March 26, 2021, petitioners filed with the Department a letter amendment to Count One, paragraph 1 of the Petition and a corrected Exhibit A. The Commissioner acknowledged receipt of the Petition on March 23, 2021, and the letter amendment on April 13, 2021.

On May 5, 2021, respondent filed a motion to dismiss in lieu of answer for lack of jurisdiction. The Department transmitted the case to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) under the Administrative Procedure Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15, and the act establishing the office, N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -23, for a hearing under the Uniform Administrative Procedure Rules, N.J.A.C. 1:1-1.1 to -21.6, and the rules of procedure established by the Department of Education to hear and decide controversies and disputes arising under school laws, N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.1 to -1.17. The case was filed at the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) on May 7, 2021.

On July 16, 2021, petitioners filed a brief in opposition to the motion to dismiss. On August 2, 2021, respondent filed a reply brief.

MOTION TO DISMISS

Where a party seeks an order of a judge, the party must apply by motion. N.J.A.C. 1:1-1.12(a). Although a motion to dismiss is not specifically referenced in the Uniform Administrative Procedure Rules ("UAPR"), a respondent is not precluded from filing a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer to a petition, provided that such motion is filed within the time allotted for the filing of an answer. N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.5(g). Further, per N.J.A.C. 1:1-1.3(a), in the absence of a rule, a judge may proceed in accordance with the New Jersey Court Rules, provided the rules are compatible. In this regard, Rule 4:6-2 states, in part: Every defense, legal or equitable, in law or fact, to a claim for relief in any complaint, counterclaim, cross-claim, or third-party complaint shall be asserted in the answer thereto, except that the following defenses, unless otherwise provided by R. 4:6-3, may at the option of the pleader be made by motion, with briefs: (a) lack of jurisdiction over the subject matter, (b) lack of jurisdiction over the person, (c) insufficiency of process, (d) insufficiency of service of process, (e) failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted, and (f) failure to join a party without whom the action cannot proceed, as provided by R. 4:28-1.

Respondent's motion to dismiss argues that the Commissioner of the Department of Education (Commissioner) lacks jurisdiction over the subject matter of the Petition because the claims do not rest on school laws, but rather on health benefits laws, and that the Petition requires the Commissioner to "interpret a health insurance law and/or determine the District's negotiations obligations as overseen by the Public Employment Relations Committee ("PERC") and its governing laws." Conversely, petitioners argue that a petition should not be dismissed where a cause of action is suggested by the facts and that the Commissioner has jurisdiction over the subject matter of the Petition.

The Commissioner has jurisdiction to hear and determine "all controversies and disputes arising under the school laws," excepting those governing higher education, or under the rules of the State board or of the commissioner. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9. Additionally, with respect to jurisdiction, the Appellate Division has stated as follows:

> We begin by noting our institutional respect for the Department's subject matter interest and for the Commissioner's first-instance jurisdiction "to hear and determine . . . all controversies and disputes arising under the school laws[.]" N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9. The Commissioner's authority is plenary. See Abbott v. Burke (I), 100 N.J. 269, 301, 495 A.2d 376 (1985). Manifestly, however, the sweep of the Department's interest and the Commissioner's jurisdiction does not extend to all matters involving boards of education. For example, contract claims against boards do not arise under the school laws but rather from statutory or common law. See Picogna v. Board of Educ. of Cherry Hill, 249 N.J. Super. 332, 335, 592 A.2d 570 (App.Div.1991). Claims of the latter type are, therefore, typically and appropriately adjudicated in the courts. See ibid.; South Orange-Maplewood Educ. Ass'n v. Board of Educ. of South Orange & Maplewood, 146 N.J. Super. 457, 463, 370 A.2d 47 (App.Div.1977).
> Archway Programs, Inc. v. Pemberton Tp. Bd. of Educ., 352 N.J. Super. 420, 424 (App. Div. 2002).

The statute relied upon by petitioners is N.J.S.A. 18A:16-13.2, which applies to local boards of education and employers, as specified in N.J.S.A. 18A:16-13.2(k)[1], who do not participate in the School Employees' Health Benefits Program (SEHBP). SEHBP the equivalent of the New Jersey Educators Health Plan (NJEHP) in the SEHBP as that plan design is described in N.J.S.A. 52:14-17.46.13(f) and the Garden State Health Plan as that plan design is described in N.J.S.A. 52:14-17.46.13(d), notwithstanding the provisions of any other law, rule, or regulation, including any regulation of the New Jersey Department of Banking and Insurance, to the contrary. N.J.S.A. 18A:16-32. The term "employer" means local school district, regional school district, county vocational school district, county special services school district, jointure commission, educational services commission, State-operated school district, charter school, county college, any officer, board, or commission under the authority of the Commissioner of Education or of the State Board of Education, and any other public entity which is established pursuant to authority provided by Title 18A of the New Jersey Statutes, but excluding the State public institutions of higher education and excluding those public entities where the employer is the State of New Jersey. N.J.S.A. 52:14-17.46.2(c). Additionally, the term "dependents" means an employee's spouse, domestic partner, or partner in a civil union couple, and unmarried children under the age of 23 years who live in a regular parent/child relationship. N.J.S.A. 52:14-17.46.2(e).

Notwithstanding the provisions of any other law, rule, or regulation to the contrary, beginning January 1, 2021 and for each plan year thereafter, a board of education as an employer providing health care benefits coverage for its employees, and their dependents if any, in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:16-12 et seq. "shall offer to its employees, and their dependents if any, the equivalent of the [NJEHP] in the [SEHBP] as that plan design is described in N.J.S.A. 52:14-17.46.13." N.J.S.A. 18A:16-13.2(a)(1). The plans under this section shall be offered by the employer regardless of any collective negotiations agreement (CNA) between the employer and its employees in effect on the effective date [July 1, 2020] of this act, P.L.2020, c.44, that provides for enrollment in other plans offered by the employer. N.J.S.A. 18A:16-13.2(a)(2).

Per N.J.S.A. 52:14-17.46.13(f), which is specifically refenced in N.J.S.A. 18A:16-13.2, the plan design of the NJEHP shall be the following:

There can be no dispute, based upon the plain language of the statute, that the Board "shall offer. . . the equivalent of the NJEHP. . . as that plan is described in N.J.S.A. 52:14-17.46.13." While a health care benefits plan must be offered, the plan itself is governed by Title 52 of the New Jersey Annotated Statutes, Chapter 14, Article 3D "State Health Benefits" – which I agree with respondent are unquestionably not "school laws" statutes. However, I disagree with respondent that this results in an absolute bar to jurisdiction. Instead, what limited jurisdiction the Commissioner has would be with respect to whether or not the plan design comports with N.J.S.A. 52:14-17.46.13, and more specifically with N.J.S.A. 52:14-17.46.13(f), as to member coinsurance; deductible; out-of-pocket maximums; emergency room, PCP and specialist copayments; out of network fee schedule and limits; and chiropractic, physical therapy and acupuncture. None of the foregoing terms of the plan design require the Commissioner "to interpret a health insurance law and/or to determine the District's negotiations obligations as overseen by the [PERC] and its governing laws." Thus, beyond the design plan elements, I agree with respondent that the Commissioner lacks jurisdiction.

Petitioners allege that the Board failed to offer an "equivalent" plan, because the NJEHP "provides for dependent coverage until the end of the calendar year in which the dependent turns 26," that "[p]rior to the open enrollment period, the District provided employees with documents stating that dependent children are covered until the end of the calendar year in which they turn 26," and that "after the open enrollment period had ended, the Board advised petitioner Robert Davis that members' dependents . . . will have their coverage terminated at the end of the month the dependent turns 26." Notably, N.J.S.A. 18A:16-13.2 requires that the Board offer the "equivalent of the [NJEHP] in the [SEHBP] as that plan design is described in N.J.S.A. 52:14-17.46.13," and does not require that it offer an "identical" plan. The Petition alleges that the Association is the majority representative pursuant to N.J.S.A. 43:13A-1 et seq. for its bargaining unit members employed by the Board with respect to collective negotiations for the terms and conditions of employment, and there exists a collective negotiations agreement (CNA) between the Association and the Board. Respondent argues that the dispute over dependent coverage would necessitate a comparison of the health plans and implicate areas of law outside of "school law". I concur. N.J.S.A. 52:14-17.46.13(f) does not set forth the age limit on dependent coverage as part of the plan design, and generally any terms not referenced therein would fall outside the jurisdiction of the Commissioner.

In view of the foregoing, I CONCLUDE that because no dispute was posited relative to any of the terms of the design plan required by N.J.S.A. 18A:16-13.2, which would be the only elements for which the Commissioner could readily determine if a violation existed, the Commissioner lacks jurisdiction over the subject matter of this dispute and the Petition should be dismissed.

ORDER

It is ORDERED that the respondent's motion to dismiss is GRANTED as to the Commissioner's jurisdiction over the specific subject matter of this Petition, and the Petition is DISMISSED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Order on Emergent Relief

L.B., on behalf of minor child, E.Y.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Monmouth Regional High School District, Monmouth County,

Respondent.

The record of this emergent matter, the sound recording of proceedings at the Office of Administrative Law (OAL)[1], and the recommended Order of the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) have been reviewed. Upon such review, the Commissioner finds that the petitioner has demonstrated entitlement to emergent relief pursuant to Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126 (1982), and codified at N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6, with respect to the fact that the Board has not complied with the applicable regulatory provisions governing the process for determining whether E.Y.'s long-term suspension should continue. N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.3(c)-(f).[2]

In this case, petitioner is challenging the Board's removal of her daughter from school after E.Y. physically assaulted another student when they got off the bus because she believed that the girl had called her a racial slur. As a result of the incident, the Board suspended E.Y. for 10 days pending an expulsion hearing. At the hearing, the Board determined to recommend that E.Y. attend an alternative school for one marking period (approximately ten weeks) so that she could receive counseling. It is important to note that the Board did not expel E.Y.[3] Expulsion is not simply the removal of a student from school but, rather, it is defined as "the discontinuance of educational services or the discontinuance of payment of educational services for a student." N.J.A.C. 6A:16-1.3. Here, the Board did not discontinue educational services; rather, the Board recommended that E.Y. attend an alternative school, and when petitioner declined, home instruction was provided.[4] At the expulsion hearing, the Superintendent indicated that the discipline was not an expulsion because the District would still be responsible for E.Y. Instead, the Board imposed what amounts to a long-term suspension. A long-term suspension is defined as the "removal of a student for more than 10 consecutive school days from the general education program, . . . but not the cessation of the student's educational services." N.J.A.C. 6A:16-1.3. The record includes a video of the incident that demonstrates E.Y. repeatedly punching another student who was attempting to avoid the altercation, which behavior is sufficiently serious to warrant a long-term suspension.

[1] There was no recording of the final part of the proceedings, which included the testimony of Brian Evans and any concluding arguments.

[2] Based on the current record before the Commissioner, petitioner has not established an entitlement to emergent relief under Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126 (1982), with respect to her claim that E.Y. should be immediately allowed back in the general education setting.

Despite the fact that a long-term suspension was warranted, the Board has failed to follow the applicable regulatory provisions governing the process for determining whether the long-term suspension should continue and/or when E.Y. should return to the general education

[3] According to N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.4(a)(1), "[a] district board of education may expel a general education student from school, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:37-2, only after the district board of education has provided . . . [t]he procedural due process rights set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.1(c)3 and 7.3 [and] subsequent to a long-term suspension, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.3 . . ." This was E.Y.'s first disciplinary infraction. Accordingly, the Board was not permitted to expel her as she had not previously served a long-term suspension.

[4] It appears from the record that E.Y. is not attending home instruction, except for meeting with a math teacher.

program, i.e., N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.3(d)-(f). The regulations provide the Board with the authority, at the completion of a long-term suspension, to either reinstate the student or to continue the suspension. N.J.S.A. 18A:37-5; N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.3(c). Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.3(c), this determination must be made based on the following criteria:

> i. The nature and severity of the offense;
> ii. [The district board of education's] removal decision;
> iii. The results of any relevant testing, assessments or evaluations of the student; and > iv. The recommendation of the chief school administrator, after considering input from the principal or director of the alternate education program or home or other in-school or out-of-school instruction program in which the student has been placed. [N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.3(c)1.i.-iv.]

Typically, the suspension of a general education student shall not be continued beyond the district board of education's second regularly scheduled meeting following the suspension. N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.3(c). Therefore, the petitioner has established a likelihood of success on the merits with respect to the Board's failure to comply with N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.3.[5]

As a result, at the next regularly scheduled Board meeting, the Board is directed to evaluate the factors enumerated in N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.3(c)1.i.-iv. to determine whether E.Y.'s long-term suspension should continue. If there is no scheduled Board meeting within the next ten days after the date of this decision, the Board is directed to schedule a special meeting to determine whether E.Y. should be returned to the general education program. Additionally, given the limited record in this matter surrounding home instruction, the Board is also directed to ensure it is providing E.Y. with the appropriate educational programs or services, to the extent that E.Y. will participate. N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.3(f).

[5] The Commissioner is in accord with the ALJ's determinations with respect to the remaining Crowe factors.

Accordingly, the recommended decision of the ALJ is modified for the reasons expressed herein; the petitioner's application for emergent relief is granted with respect to the Board's non-compliance with the applicable regulatory provisions governing the process for determining whether the long-term suspension should continue. This case shall continue at the OAL with such proceedings as the parties and the ALJ deem necessary to bring it to closure.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

L.B. ON BEHALF OF MINOR CHILD, E.Y.,
Petitioner,
v.
BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE MONMOUTH REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT, MONMOUTH COUNTY,
Respondent.

L.B., petitioner, pro se

Martin Barger, Esq., for respondent (Barger & Gaines, attorneys)

BEFORE KIM C. BELIN, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

By request for emergent relief, petitioner L.B., challenges the disciplinary decision of the respondent Board of Education of the Monmouth Regional High School District (Board or respondent), arising from E.Y.'s removal from the high school for allegedly physically assaulting another student.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On November 1, 2021, the petitioner filed a petition of appeal challenging respondent's determination that E.Y. engaged in behavior warranting temporary removal from the high school. On November 9, 2021, the Director of the Office of Controversies and Disputes within the Department of Education transmitted the petition and motion for emergent relief to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL). N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15; N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13; N.J.A.C. 1:1-8.2. Argument on the matter was held and the record closed on November 12, 2021.

FACTUAL DISCUSSION AND FINDINGS

The following FACTS are undisputed and I, therefore FIND:

For the 2020-21 school year, E.Y. was a ninth-grade student at the Monmouth Regional High School District (high school). She was a general education student. On or about September 14, 2021, after departing the school bus after school, E.Y. confronted another female student. A video of the encounter showed E.Y. approach the female student asking her "did you say it?" The other student replied "no" and E.Y. repeated the question. The student replied "no" again and E.Y. hit the other female student and the confrontation deteriorated into a physical altercation between the two students. E.Y. believed that the other student called her the "n" word while on the school bus which upset E.Y. The two students have had a troubled relationship dating back to eighth grade.

On September 15, 2021, a parent who wished to remain anonymous came to the high school to report a bullying incident. The parent showed a video of E.Y and the other student fighting to Vice Principals Kathy Mihalko and Sal Spampanato. Both Vice Principals spoke to the students (E.Y. and the other student) about the incident and interviewed witnesses. The Vice Principals determined that this incident was not a mutual fight but rather E.Y. assaulted the other student. On September 16, 2021, E.Y. was informed by Mr. Spampanato that she would be suspended for ten days.

The Vice Principals received conflicting reports from the witnesses and thus were unable to conclusively confirm whether the other student made the alleged derogatory statement to E.Y. Due to the severity of the incident, an expulsion hearing was scheduled and held on September 21, 2021. Notice of the hearing was sent to L.B., but L.B. did not attend the hearing.

The Board determined that E.Y. should be removed from the high school and attend the Regional Achievement Academy (Academy) for one marking period and return to the high school based if her grades and behavior were acceptable. Ms. Mihalko called L.B. with the results of the expulsion hearing and to schedule an intake with the Academy. L.B. stated that she would appeal the Board's decision and E.Y. would not be attending the Academy. Based upon this information, the high school counselor set up home instruction for E.Y. which was approved by L.B. on September 24, 2021.

E.Y. was to receive two hours of home instruction daily in the core subjects of Algebra 1, English 1, World History, Biology and Spanish. The initial home instruction sessions were held virtually, however, E.Y. encountered computer challenges and the sessions were moved to the county library. As of the date of the emergent relief hearing, E.Y. was only meeting with a math teacher.

E.Y. served the ten-day suspension. She had no prior disciplinary record of short or long-term suspensions. The school district's student code of conduct states that fighting for any reason on school grounds or at school events mandates an out-of-school suspension period of five to nine days and demerits. Physical assault on another student results in a minimum ten-day out-of-school suspension pending expulsion hearing, and the police are notified.

Testimony

For the petitioner:

E.Y. testified that she had trouble with this student while in eighth grade. E.Y. told her mother about the problem but there was no discussion on how to resolve the problem.

E.Y. waited until after school to confront the student because E.Y. did not want to get in trouble at school. She thought that she would not be subject to penalty for a fight that occurred after school off school grounds. She believed the other student's remarks were racist and E.Y. "snapped." She believed she had a right to stand up for herself but if she had to do it over, she would not fight. She believed the penalty of being expelled from school was too severe and she wants to return to the high school.

L.B., mother of E.Y., testified that E.Y. struggled with virtual instruction during the Covid-19 pandemic and thus L.B. knew that home instruction would be a challenge. In addition, L.B.'s work schedule limited her ability to ensure that E.Y. attended the home instruction sessions at the county library or did any virtual homework. L.B. did not attend the expulsion hearing because she thought the letter was about E.Y. being evaluated. L.B. believed that Board's decision to expel E.Y. was excessive. L. B. also thought the school district had no authority to impose a penalty since the fight occurred after school and after the students had departed off the bus. Her daughter will feel like an outcast by not attending the regular high school. Her older daughter graduated from the high school this past June and during her high school career also had several fights but was not expelled and is currently a college freshman. L.B. wants the same outcome for E.Y.

For the respondent:

Sal Spampanato, Vice Principal, testified that an anonymous parent showed him the video of the students fighting. He spoke with E.Y. and the other student and interviewed witnesses. He determined that E.Y. assaulted the other student. He could not confirm that the other student made racist remarks to E.Y. He called L.B. on September 15, 2021, to tell her that E.Y. had been involved in a fight. L.B. was already aware of the fight and stated that her daughter was justified because the other student made racists remarks about E.Y.

He attended the expulsion hearing and spoke to the Board. He believed that the additional penalty of expulsion was imposed because of the severity of the fight. The high school's policy was not to allow students who assault other students back into the school after being suspended. The state police were notified of the incident through the high school's school resource officer. The parent of the student who was involved in the fight with E.Y. did not report the fight because the student did not want to be a "snitch."

Kathy Mihalko, Vice Principal, testified that on September 15, 2021, an anonymous parent came to the high school to report an incident of bullying. She viewed a video of the fight and saw E.Y. hit another student. Ms. Mihalko deemed this an assault because E.Y. initiated the first hit, and continued to hit the other student despite the other student's attempt to distance herself from E.Y. A five- to nine-day out-of-school suspension and demerits was the normal penalty for fighting. However, physical assault of another student resulted in a minimum ten-day out-of-school suspension pending an expulsion hearing.

Ms. Mihalko believed this fight was premeditated because the students were video-taping E.Y. before the fight began. She believed that enrollment in the Academy would give E.Y. an opportunity to succeed because of the additional counseling component available there.

Brian Evans, Principal, testified that he learned of the fight through Mr. Spampanato who showed him the video. He did not attend the expulsion hearing but was comfortable with the administration's recommendation to enroll E.Y. at the Academy because of its more intensive counseling component. However, he was willing to allow E.Y. to return to the high school provided there was a plan. His concern was that she had received limited home instruction and was eight weeks behind academically. He believed that with assistance she could catch up. He remembered E.Y.'s older sister and called her a "success story." He believed there was a small group of female freshmen who were carrying over issues from the previous school year.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

Emergent Relief

The regulations governing controversies and disputes before the Commissioner of Education provide that "[w]here the subject matter of the controversy is a particular course of action by a district board of education . . . the petitioner may include with the petition of appeal, a separate motion for emergent relief or a stay of that action pending the Commissioner's final decision in the contested case." N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(a). The regulations further provide that the Commissioner may "[t]ransmit the motion to the OAL for immediate hearing on the motion." N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(c)(3).

At such a hearing, a petitioner must show that he/she satisfies each of the following four standards:

> 1. The petitioner will suffer irreparable harm if the requested relief is not granted;
> 2. The legal right underlying petitioner's claim is settled;
> 3. The petitioner has a likelihood of prevailing on the merits of the underlying claim; and
>
> 4. When the equities and interests of the parties are balanced, the petitioner will suffer greater harm than the respondent will suffer if the requested relief is not granted.
> [N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(b) (citing Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126 (1982)).]

Thus, the purpose of emergent relief is "to 'prevent some threatening, irreparable mischief, which should be averted until opportunity is afforded for a full and deliberate investigation of the case.'" Crowe, 90 N.J. at 132 (citing Thompson ex rel. Bd. of Chosen Freeholders v. Paterson, 9 N.J. Eq. 624, 625 (Sup. Ct. 1854)).

Irreparable Harm

Here, L.B. asserts that her daughter, E.Y. is suffering irreparable harm because she has not been in school since September. The current school year started on or about September 8, 2021, and the incident occurred on September 14, 2021. The disciplinary action affecting E.Y. included a ten-day suspension from school and school-related activities and removal to another school. E.Y. has received limited hours in home instruction, not the ten hours per week proposed. Principal Evans expressed his concern that E.Y. is eight weeks behind academically and will need a vigorous program to catch up. It is not reasonable to presume that E.Y. will not make the needed progress by continuing in home instruction.

In a similar emergent relief case in which the student was expelled from the high school for violating the student code of conduct, the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) stated: "irreparable harm is [also] rooted in the quality of the education" received by the student. K.C. and S.C. o/b/o K.C. v. Bd. of Ed. of Borough of Englewood Cliffs, 2011 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 100, *8. The ALJ concluded that the petitioners had satisfied the first prong of the Crowe test because the "quality of the education provided at [the petitioner's specialized high school was] distinctly different, by design, intent and expectation" than the local high school. Id.

In the current controversy, the respondent has recommended that E.Y. attend the Academy, which is an alternative school run by the Monmouth-Ocean Educational Services Commission (MOESC) which provides educational programs and services to local school districts.[1] Petitioner is opposed to this recommendation because she believes her daughter can succeed at the high school given a chance. L.B. contends that the Board's decision to remove E.Y. is premature and excessive. While the fight may be an indicator that E.Y. needs counseling services for anger management, it is undisputed that such counseling is available at the high school. It may well be that as the facts in this matter are developed the Board may show that E.Y.'s needs are best met by attending the Academy. However, the facts presented to date do not definitively show that such is the case. I CONCLUDE that the petitioner has satisfied the first prong of the Crowe test. Irreparable harm will result if E.Y. is not permitted to return to the high school.

Right to Claim is Settled

Next, emergent relief "should be withheld when the legal right underlying plaintiff's claim is unsettled." Crowe, 90 N.J. at 133 (citing Citizens Coach Co. v. Camden H. R.

[1] https://www.moesc.org/domain/16

Co., 29 N.J. Eq. 299, 304–05 (E & A 1878)). In K.C. et al. v. Bd. of Ed. of Borough of Englewood Cliffs, (citation omitted), the ALJ stated:

> each school district is obligated to provide a thorough and efficient system of education to all children residing in its school district. N.J. Const. (1947), Art. VIII, 1, N.J.S.A. 18A:33-1. To carry out this policy, local boards of education have been granted discretionary authority at N.J.S.A. 18A:11-1c and d to adopt rules for the management of the public schools of the district, and to perform all acts and do all things necessary for the lawful and proper conduct of the public schools of the district.
> In general, a board of education's actions are entitled to a presumption of lawfulness and good faith. Where board actions are challenged, the challenger bears the burden of proving that such actions were unlawful, arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable. Schuster v. Ed. of Educ. Montgomery Twp., 96 N.J.A.R.2d (EDU) 670, 676 (citing Schnick v. Westwood Ed. of Educ., 60 N.J. Super. 448 (App. Div. 1960), and Quinlan v. Bd. of Educ. of North Bergen Twp., 73 N.J. Super. 40 (App. Div. 1962)). [*10]
>
> The "arbitrary, capricious and unreasonable" standard of review imposes a heavy burden on challengers of board actions. This standard has been defined by the New Jersey courts as follows:
>
> > In the law, "arbitrary" and "capricious" means having no rational basis. Arbitrary and capricious action of administrative bodies means willful and unreasoning action, without consideration and in disregard of circumstances. Where there is no room for two opinions, action is not arbitrary or capricious when exercised honestly and upon due consideration, even though it may be believed that an erroneous conclusion has been reached . . . Moreover, the court should not substitute its judgment for that of an administrative or legislative body if there is substantial evidence to support the ruling.
> > [2011 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 100, *9-11]

In the present case, the Board has established rules of conduct for its students. Those rules set forth policies for disciplining students who violate those rules. Specifically, "fighting (for any reason) on school grounds/school event (NJSA 18A:37-2)[sic] carries a five to nine day out-of-school suspension/demerits." (R-4.) "Physical Assault on another student" carries a minimum ten-day out-of-school suspension pending expulsion hearing and the police are notified." Id. It is undisputed that the Board followed this policy and determined that E.Y. can no longer attend the high school and must instead attend the Academy for one marking period. However, the respondent failed to adhere to the procedural mandates of N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.4(a)1 which provides:

> A district board of education may expel a general education student from school, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:37-2, only after the district board of education has provided the following:
> 1. The procedural due process rights set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.1(c)3 and 7.3, subsequent to a long-term suspension, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.3; (Emphasis supplied.)

A long-term suspension is defined as a suspension lasting more than ten days. N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.3. E.Y. did not serve a long-term suspension and thus I CONCLUDE that the petitioner has satisfied the second prong of emergent relief because the right underlying petitioner's claim that the expulsion was excessive and unwarranted is settled based upon the arbitrary, capricious, and unreasonable standard of review.

Likelihood of Success on the Merits

Under the third emergent relief standard, "a plaintiff must make a preliminary showing of a reasonable probability of ultimate success on the merits." Crowe, 90 N.J. at 133 (citing Ideal Laundry Co. v. Gugliemone, 107 N.J. Eq. 108, 115–16 (E. & A. 1930)). This typically "'involves a prediction of the probable outcome of the case' based on each party's initial proofs, usually limited to documents." Brown v. City of Paterson, 424 N.J. Super. 176, 182–83 (App. Div. 2012) (quoting Rinaldo v. RLR Inv., LLC, 387 N.J. Super. 387, 397 (App. Div. 2006)). However, emergent relief "should not issue where all material facts are controverted." Crowe, 90 N.J. at 133 (citing Citizens Coach, 29 N.J. Eq. at 305–06).

Based upon the respondent's failure to comply with the procedural requirements of N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.4(a)1, I CONCLUDE that the petitioner has satisfied the third requirement of the Crowe test.

Balancing of the Equities

The fourth and final emergent relief standard involves "the relative hardship to the parties in granting or denying relief." Crowe, 90 N.J. at 134 (citing Isolantite Inc. v. United Elect. Radio & Mach. Workers, 130 N.J. Eq. 506, 515 (Ch. 1941), mod. on other grounds, 132 N.J. Eq. 613 (E. & A. 1942)). It is a balancing of the equities and the interests of the parties.

The respondent contends that the expulsion was warranted because the confrontation and altercation appeared to be premeditated, it occurred at the beginning of the school year and was an assault, not a mutual fight. However, E.Y. served a ten-day suspension for her actions, which is the maximum time for a short-term suspension. Expelling her is an additional penalty.

The Board is responsible for the safety of all the students, and it is reasonable for the Board to be concerned about the potential risk in returning E.Y. to the high school. However, Principal Evans stated that he was willing to allow her to return to the high school if there was a plan. Principal Evans expressed concern about E.Y.'s academic success in losing approximately eight weeks of instruction at the beginning of the school year. Vice Principal Spampanato stated that the high school provides counseling services. Although the Academy may provide more extensive counseling services, there was no evidence presented that the respondent's counseling services would be inadequate for E.Y. If Principal Evans is willing to allow E.Y. to return to the high school, E.Y. can be granted counseling services and be given a written directive that is signed by E.Y. stating that engaging in any future behavior that violates the student code of conduct will result in an automatic transfer to the Academy for the remainder of the current school year. All due process requirements must be met prior to the transfer.

This is E.Y.'s first year with the respondent and thus the teachers, and administrators have not had sufficient time to connect with her and establish a rapport. The animosity between the two students appears to be rooted in the past and remains unresolved. It appears unreasonable to expel E.Y. at such an early point in her high school career especially when the principal is willing to give her a second chance, and E.Y. does not have a disciplinary record apart from this incident.

Accordingly, under the circumstances outlined above, I CONCLUDE that the petitioner has satisfied the fourth prong of the Crowe test because the potential harm to E.Y. is greater than the harm to the respondent.

Conclusion

Based on the above, petitioner's request for emergent relief is GRANTED and E.Y. is returned to the high school immediately. The administration must develop a plan for her to make up any missed schoolwork and an agreement regarding the consequences of any future infractions.

ORDER

I ORDER that the petitioner's motion for emergent relief is GRANTED.

This order on application for emergency relief may be adopted, modified or rejected by COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. The final decision shall be issued without undue delay, but no later than forty-five days following the entry of this order. If COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION does not adopt, modify or reject this order within forty-five days, this recommended order shall become a final decision on the issue of emergent relief in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Alphonso Mastrofilipo, Jr.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Borough of Lodi, Bergen County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

In this consolidated matter, the petitioner – a former member of the respondent Board of Education, who had resigned to run for another public office – alleged that his rights were violated when the Board filled two vacancies without interviewing the petitioner for the positions. Petitioner claimed that the Board lacked a quorum when it voted to fill the two Board vacancies and further alleged that the Board violated the New Jersey Election Law by not interviewing petitioner nor considering his application as a candidate to fill one of the vacancies. The Board denied petitioner's allegations. The parties filed cross motions for summary decision.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: there is no genuine issue as to any material fact here, and the matter is ripe for summary decision; petitioner did not have a legal entitlement to be interviewed for a vacancy on the Board; the Board did not violate any law or otherwise abuse its discretion in declining to grant petitioner an interview for one of the two vacancies; and the Board's bylaws cannot supplant the common law quorum rule, under which the Board had a quorum when it voted to fill the vacancies on the Board. Accordingly, the ALJ granted the Board's motion for summary decision and dismissed the petition.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurred with the ALJ's findings and conclusion in this matter. Accordingly, the Board's motion for summary decision was granted, and the consolidated petitions of appeal were dismissed

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Alfonso Mastrofilipo, Jr.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Borough of Lodi, Bergen County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed and considered. The parties did not file exceptions.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) that petitioner does not have a legal entitlement to be interviewed for a vacancy on the Board, and that the Board did not violate any law or otherwise abuse its discretion in declining to grant petitioner an interview. The Commissioner further concurs with the ALJ that the Board's bylaws cannot supplant the common law quorum rule, under which the Board had a quorum when it voted to fill the vacancies on the Board.

Accordingly, the Board's motion for summary decision is granted, and the petitions of appeal are hereby dismissed.

Record Closed: June 10, 2021 Decided: October 14, 2021

BEFORE ERNEST M. BONGIOVANNI, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Petitioner, Alfonso Mastrofilipo Jr. (Petitioner or Mastrofilipo) alleges his rights were violated when, on or about September 16, 2020, respondent the Board of Education of Lodi (BOE) filled two vacancies on the Board, without first interviewing him for the positions. On September 28, petitioner filed two Petitions of Appeal with the New Jersey Department of Education, one alleging that the BOE lacked a quorum when it voted to fill two vacancies, the other alleging the Board violated the New Jersey Election Law by not interviewing petitioner nor considering his application as a candidate to fill one of the two vacancies. On September 29, 2020, Mastrofilipo filed a Petition for Relief on an Emergent Basis and sought to enjoin the Board from filing the vacancies pending adjudication pf his Petition of Appeal. On October 6, 2020, the New Jersey Department of Education, Office of Controversies and Disputes, transmitted this case to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) for hearing as a contested case and for resolution of the petitioner's motion for emergency relief. The case was received by the OAL on October 8, 2020 and was heard the next morning October 9, 2020. By Order dated October 13, I dismissed the petitioner's request for Emergent Relief, finding among other things that petitioner failed to establish a likelihood of prevailing on the merits. By Consent Order dated March 31, 2021, the two matters were consolidated.

On this underlying appeal and request by both sides for summary decision, as in the application for emergent relief, the petitioner alleges that the BOE's appointments filling the two vacancies were unlawful 1) because he was not permitted to be interviewed as a prospective possible BOE member and 2) there was no quorum present when the two vacancies were filled. Respondent denies all the allegations, claims there are no real factual disputes, and filed electronically a Motion for Summary Decision on July 20, 2020. Petitioner also filed a motion for Summary Decision (Cross Motion) on July 23, 2020. The parties elected to proceed summarily agreeing to and signing a lengthy Joint Stipulation of Facts. Briefs were submitted and argument was heard on June 10, 2021, at which time the record closed.

I agree with the BOE and grant summary decision in its favor and dismiss the consolidated complaint.

FACTUAL DISCUSSION

While there were additional facts stipulated to, the most relevant and probative to concluding the legal issues presented are the following stipulated facts[1] are:

1. On August 31, 2021, petitioner resigned his seat on the BOE, as a condition to his submitting a nominating petition to run for a new three-year term on the Lodi Borough BOE at the upcoming election in November 2020.
2. The Lodi Borough BOE is a nine member Board.
3. At the scheduled time for the September 16, 2020 meeting, three members of the BOE, Kerry Mastrofilipo, Jeffrey Telep and Joseph Ramos were absent from said meeting.
4. With four of the remaining seven BOE trustees present at said meeting, the BOE declared a quorum was satisfied under the common law quorum rule.
5. In view of the two vacancies, and the absence of the three remaining BOE members from the meeting, the BOE attorney advised the BOE that Bylaw 163 did not govern the quorum determination. Rather the BOE Attorney counseled the BOE that the common law quorum rule applied and a quorum was determined to exist pursuant to the common aw quorum rule.

[1] Some of the stipulated "facts" are actually legal arguments or conclusions which I cannot find to be facts. I have also edited some of the stipulated facts for clarity or brevity. Otherwise, I have adopted and find only the facts that have been so stipulated.

6. Although BOE Bylaw 163 requires five BOE members for a quorum, Bylaw 140 also provides for a nine member board which did not exist on September 16, 2020.[2]

7. The BOE Trustees in attendance at the at the September 16, 2020 Work Session determined that a quorum was present , and so proceeded to the meeting.

8. The BOE's September 16, 2020 Work Session certified minutes note that the BOE complied with its own policies and that a quorum was present.

9. In accordance with Bylaw 143, the BOE posted public notice of two BOE vacancies and advised that interested parties must submit their resumes to the BOE Secretary/Business Administrator James R Selesky ("Selesky") on or before Thursday September 10, 2020, at 4:00 p.m.

10. On or about September 10, 2020, at 3:55 p.m. petitioner sent an email to Selesky notifying him and the BOE in his "interest" in filling one of the vacancies as stated on the BOE's website. The email said in relevant part:

    a. "I have 3 years experience as a Former Lodi Board Trustee with extensive knowledge of Bylaws and Roberts Rules of Order and Procedures. I have ten years as a PTA/PTO Member and many school and no-school events. I have years of experience as a coach and working with [C]hildren. I have been told by many that I am a people person, I look forward to volunteering my time to improve Lodi Education" (Exhibit A)

11. Selesky concluded that the petitioner did not satisfy the requirement of submitting a resume by 4:00 p.m. on September 10, 2020.

12. On September 10, 2021, at 10:31 p.m., petitioner sent an email to Selesky attaching a document entitled "Al Mastrofilipo resume", and stated in the email "Here is the deficiency you asked me I rectify, which includes my resume. However, Selesky denies ever requesting Petitioner rectify a deficiency.[3]

[2] The Board consisted at that time of seven members with two vacancies.
[3] The two statements contradict each other and therefore are not useful as stipulated "facts"

13. On September 11, 2020, at 7:03 a.m. Selesky emailed petitioner regarding the interview process and the qualifications to be a school board member in New Jersey, in accordance with BOE Bylaws and N.J.S.A. 18A:12-1

14. Petitioner emailed Selesky on three separate occasions (September 11, 2020, September 15 and September 16, 2020 inquiring as to his interview time slot.

15. On September 16, 2020, Selesky informed petitioner that he had failed to meet the qualifying criteria (of submitting a resume no later than 4:00 p.m. on September 10, 2020) to be considered as a candidate to fill one of the two vacant BOE slots.

16. A BOE member cannot occupy two seats at the same time.

17. Joseph Bigica was interviewed for a vacant BOE trustee position.

18. Joseph Bigica appeared on the ballot for membership to the BOE during the November 3, 2020 general election.

19. Following his interview, Joseph Bigica was not selected to fill a vacant BOE trustee position.

20. The underlying basis as to why each candidate was or was interviewed was not recorded at the September 16, 2020 Work Session certified meeting minutes.

21. Petitioner filed for an Advisory opinion with the School Ethics Commission alleging three BOE trustees have conflicts of Interest. By Advisory Opinion A-18-20, sated September 29, 2020, the School Ethics Commission determined that the identified BOE trustees do not have per se conflicts in participating in discussions and voting on the individuals to fill the vacant BOE seats.

LEGAL ANALYSIS

Both petitioner and respondent move for summary decision on the basis of the Joint Stipulations of Fact and Joint Exhibits A and B.

Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(b), a summary decision "may be rendered if the papers and discovery which have been filed, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact challenged and that the moving party is entitled to prevail as a matter of law." This rule is substantially similar to the summary judgment rule embodied in the New Jersey Court Rules, R. 4:46-2. See Judson v. Peoples Bank & Trust Co. of Westfield, 17 N.J. 67, 74 (1954). In connection therewith, all inferences of doubt are drawn against the movant and in favor of the party against whom the motion is directed. Id. at 75. In Brill v. Guardian Life Insurance Co., 142 N.J. 520 (1995), the New Jersey Supreme Court addressed the appropriate test to be employed in determining the motion:

> [A] determination whether there exists a 'genuine issue' of material fact that precludes summary judgment requires the motion judge to consider whether the competent evidential materials presented, when viewed in the light most favorable to the non-moving party, are sufficient to permit a rational fact finder to resolve the alleged disputed issue in favor of the non-moving party. The 'judge's function is not . . . to weigh the evidence and determine the truth of the matter but to determine whether there is a genuine issue for trial'.

The Motion judge must "consider whether the competent evidential materials presented, when viewed in the light most favorable to the non-moving party...are sufficient to permit a rational fact finder to resolve the alleged dispute in favor of the non-moving party. Brill v. Guardian Life Insurance Co., 142 N.J. 520 (1995). Even if the non-moving party comes forward with some evidence, the judge must grant summary decision if the evidence is "so one sided that [the moving party] must prevail as a matter of law" Id. at 536.

Actions of a board of education are presumed legitimate and will be upheld by the Commissioner of Education "absent a showing of bad faith, illegal motive or a lack of a rational basis." Raimondi v. Westwood Regional Board of Educ., OAL Docket No. EDU 5904-04, 2005 W.L. 2428743*5. (Initial Decision September 26, 2005), aff'd 2007 W.L. 2247246 (App. Div 2007). In challenging these actions, the petitioner bears the burden of proving the Board's actions were unlawful arbitrary capricious or unreasonable.

Respondent contends that in all respects the BOE's actions were lawful and violated no law, regulation or policy, nor anyone's rights. Respondent argues there are no genuine material issues of fact, and that three distinct identifiable issues, when considered in light of the undisputed facts, entitle the BOE to a decision for Respondent as a Matter of Law. Petitioner also concedes what the three issues are and that there are no genuine issues of fact among them, but contrarily, he is entitled to summary decision. In light of that, I agree that there are no genuine issues of material fact, and for the reasons that follow, that the Respondent is entitled to summary decision in its favor

1. The Quorum Requirement

Respondent argues that pursuant to the common law quorum role " a majority of a municipal governing body constitutes a quorum ; and in the event of vacancy, a quorum consists of a majority of the remaining members." Citing M.J. Law Enf't Comm'n v Divincenzo, 445 N.J. Super 187, 199 (App.Div. 2016) which quotes Ross v, Miller, 115 N.J. L. 1935. As noted in Divincenzo, a vacant position "is not counted to determine what the legal quorum is. Id. at 200. Absent an applicable statute to the contrary, respondent argues, the common law quorum rule applies, citing Bihilla v. Local Finance Bd., 2016 W.L. 3408396 #2 (App. Div. 2016).

If Respondent is legally correct on this issue, then a lawful quorum existed when the Board filled the two vacancies on September 16, 2020, because there is no dispute that the Lodi Board of Ed is a 9 member Board, that is, a "full board" consists of 9 members. However at the time of the September 16, 2020 meeting, the Board had only seven members because of two vacancies. If the common law rule applies, the Board had a quorum at that time because four BOE members (trustees) were present.

Petitioner however bases his argument on Lodi BOE Bylaw 163, which provides that a quorum shall consist of five Board members, as well as State of New Jersey Office of the Attorney General Opinion # 3, on Edgewater Park Twp. Committee v. Edgewater Park Housing Authority 187 N.J. Super 588 (1982) and Prezlak v. Padrone, 67 N.J. 95, 102 (Law Div. 1961).

I agree with respondent however, that Board Bylaw 163 which states that a quorum consists of five members cannot supplant the common law quorum rule which is a matter of State law. I agree that since the Board's Bylaw was not specifically authorized by a statute, the bylaw if enforced would unduly prohibit the BOE from exercising its authority and its lawful responsibility to govern, by in effect requiring a supermajority of Board members to be present when all meetings and all actions are taken. State law makes it clear that in absence of a statute which in relatively few instances require a supermajority vote, almost all actions by a local BOE may be taken by a simple majority of those present at a meeting. Respondent properly cites to Matawan Regional Teachers Ass'n v. Matawan-Aberdeen Regional School Dist. Bd. of Educ 233, N.J. Super 504, 506-508 (App.Div. 1988) which held that the Board was not bound by its bylaw requiring a supermajority (in this case two-thirds) for a vote to close and sell a school, where no such enabling statute authorized that quorum requirement. Here with no enabling statute whatsoever requiring certain numbers of Board members to be present when taking essential actions such as determining the composition of the Board when vacancies are created, the common law must be presumed to apply. Moreover, unintended chaos would occur if individual boards set their own unique numerical requirements for votes to fill vacancies. For example, a nine person Board with two vacancies which had a 8 person quorum requirement could not conduct business at all (except by the seldom used doctrine of necessity) and it would be a common occurrence where Boards with extra majority requirements for conducting general business could be effectively governed by the Board members in the minority who simply chose to be absent or even resign and thereby prevent the majority from taking action which the minority disfavor.

2. Petitioner's Eligibility for Office

Respondent argues that petitioner was not eligible for appointment on September 16, 2021, because he was a candidate for office to the same Board for a term years. They cite Kuken v Guzmen, 1990 S.L.D. 527 where the Commissioner of Education determined a a nominating position to stand for another term for a different term of years (i.e. a term other than seeking reelection to the same office) trustee with time remaining on his term must resign before submitting his nominating petition.

Although petitioner did not counter this point with another argument, I find there is not enough in the record to determine whether petitioner was disqualified to fill out the balance of one of the terms of the two vacancies simply because he was nominated for a longer term. The Board clearly thought candidates for office should not be appointed because they also, as noted in the Joint Stipulation of facts refused to appoint another such would be appointee who was, like Mastrofilipo also running for office, but who was interviewed and considered for the position. But the Board's preferences are not enough to as a matter of law, to disqualify the would be appointee. To the respondent's point that Mastrofilipo when he was a Board member was forced to resign before submitting his petition to stand for office for a longer term, then logically, if petitioner had been appointed at the September 16, 2020 meeting he could have been compelled to withdraw his candidacy as a condition to assuming his office. I therefore conclude that at this stage there is insufficient proof that petitioner was disqualified to fill the vacancy simply because he stood for office in the upcoming election for another, longer term.

3. The Board's requirements for filling vacancies.

The Board clearly and deliberately chose not to interview petitioner for one of the two vacant positions. As both sides agree, there is no written record of why the Lodi BOE chose not interview Mastrofilipo for the position, and to speculate on such possible reasons would do neither side any good. The Board did require any person wanting to be considered to submit a resume by the September 16, 2020, 4 P.M. deadline. Mastrofilipo could argue that his email expressing interest in the position, where he wrote about some of his qualifications for the job could constitute a resume, and the email was received before the September 16, 2020, 4:00 p.m. deadline, albeit by five minutes. One wonders why Mastrofilipo would wait so long and why he would submit something less than the usual resume if he sought serious consideration. His email neglects basic information such as his home address, particularly important as candidates to fill vacancies in a municipal Board of Education only qualify if they have resided in the district for at least one year. Further Mastrofilipo's submission at 10:31 p.m., 6 hours after the deadline, of a resume, seems a tacit admission, as Mastrofilipo said, his application for the vacancy was deficient.

However, petitioner's argument need not be decided over what constitutes a resume. The fact is, and what Mastrofilipo protests, is that he was never given an interview by the BOE to consider his qualifications. However, no statute, regulation, Board policy, or legal principle has been cited, nor can be found, which holds that every person, otherwise qualified to serve on a local Board of Education has a right to be interviewed for the position. Since the BOE has the right to fill the vacancy among the presumably great number of legally qualified residents of Lodi (who numbered 24,136 in the 2010 Census), it is axiomatic that they have the broadest discretion in determining to whom the Board wishes to give serious consideration to fill a vacancy, which consideration assumes might include granting an interview. As petitioner certainly has not raised even a hint of any invidious discrimination against him, in this case, the BOE had every right to ignore petitioner's interest or application for the vacancy and to refuse to grant him an interview. As for any due process issue, only Bylaw 143 is implicated in terms or helping to determine what process Mastrofilipo, and any other would-be candidate for the vacancy had to expect. But here, BOE Bylaw 143 merely requires the BOE give public notice of the vacancy and "invite any qualified person to submit a written request for consideration..." The BOE followed its policy by the posting of the public notice of the two vacancies. The Bylaw merely requires the invitation of the written requests to fill the vacancies. It does not require the Board to grant interviews. Therefore, the BOE did not violate its Bylaw 143.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Summary decision may be granted when the papers and discovery that have been filed show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact challenged and the moving party is entitled to prevail as a matter of law. N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(b). No evidentiary hearing need be held if there are no disputed issues of material fact. Frank v. Ivy Club, 120 N.J. 73, 98, cert. denied, 498 U.S. 1073 (1991). "When the evidence is so one-sided that one party must prevail as a matter of law, the [tribunal] should not hesitate to grant summary [decision]." Della Vella v. Bureau of Homeowner Prot., New Home Warranty Program, CAF 17020-13, Initial Decision (March 31, 2014), adopted, Comm'r (May 12, 2014), http://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/ (quoting Brill v. Guardian Life Ins. Co. of Am., 142 N.J. 520, 529 (1995)).

Where, as here, no further evidentiary hearing need be held as there are disputed issues of material fact, and the burden of proof rests with the petitioner, and considering the undisputed proofs, I CONCLUDE respondent is entitled to summary decision as a matter of law. I agree that with respondent's contention that there is no evidence that the BOE abused its discretion, and further that petitioner's claims that a quorum did not exist for the BOE's September 16, 2020 meeting and/or that he should have been granted an interview before the Board chose persons to fill the vacancies, have no basis in law or fact. Nor is there any reasonable argument to deny the Board's reasonable exercise of discretion as exemplified in the agreed upon stipulated facts. I therefore CONCLUDE that petitioner's requested relief must be DENIED and his Complaint be DISMISSED.

ORDER

I hereby ORDER that respondent's requested motion to summary decision is GRANTED, and accordingly, these matters are hereby DISMISSED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

In the Matter of Deborah Anderson,
High Point Regional Board of Education,
Sussex County.

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC) have been reviewed. The SEC found that respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b) of the School Ethics Act when she voted on a matter involving the district's superintendent while respondent's child was an employee of the district over whom the superintendent had supervisory authority. The SEC's decision was forwarded pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29 for the Commissioner's final determination on the recommended penalty of a reprimand. Respondent has neither filed exceptions to the recommended penalty nor instituted an appeal of the SEC's underlying finding of violation pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 et seq. Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the penalty recommended by the SEC. Accordingly, respondent is hereby reprimanded for violating the School Ethics Act.

Final Decision

In the Matter of Deborah Anderson,
High Point Regional Board of Education, Sussex County,
Respondent

I. Procedural History

This matter arises from a Complaint that was filed with the School Ethics Commission (Commission) on June 17, 2019, by John Mannion (Complainant), alleging that Deborah Anderson (Respondent), a member of the High Point Regional Board of Education (Board) violated the School Ethics Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 et seq. Initial Decision (On Remand) at 2. More specifically, the Complaint alleges that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b) "by voting on matters concerning the [S]uperintendent while the High Point Regional School District (District) employed her child." Id.

At its meeting on December 17, 2019, and after reviewing Respondent's Motion to Dismiss in Lieu of Answer (Motion to Dismiss) and Complainant's response thereto, the Commission adopted a decision finding that the Complaint was timely filed, denying the Motion to Dismiss in its entirety, and directing Respondent to file an Answer to Complaint (Answer). On January 7, 2020, Respondent filed her Answer as directed, and the above-captioned matter was docketed so that the Commission could make a probable cause determination.

Thereafter, and at its meeting on February 25, 2020, the Commission adopted a decision finding probable cause for the alleged violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b). Id. Based on its finding of probable cause, the Commission also voted to transmit the within matter to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) for a plenary hearing and, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.7(b), the attorney for the Commission (Petitioner) was charged with prosecuting the allegations in the Complaint which the Commission found probable cause to credit. Id. at 2-3.

At the OAL, the matter was assigned to the Honorable Nanci G. Stokes, Administrative Law Judge (ALJ Stokes). After the parties were unable to resolve the matter, Respondent filed a Motion for Summary Decision, and Petitioner filed an Opposition to Respondent's Motion for Summary Decision, as well as a Cross-Motion for Summary Decision. Id. at 3. Following Respondent's filing of an Opposition to Petitioner's Cross-Motion for Summary Decision, ALJ Stokes closed the record. Id.

On November 10, 2020, ALJ Stokes issued an Initial Decision detailing her findings of fact and legal conclusions. Id. In her decision, ALJ Stokes concluded that Respondent violated

N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b), and that reprimand was the appropriate penalty. Id. However, at its meeting on January 26, 2021, and after discussing and reviewing the full record, including ALJ Stokes' Initial Decision and the filed Exceptions (and related response), the Commission adopted a decision remanding the matter to the OAL. Id. In remanding the matter to the OAL, the Commission did not require the holding of a hearing, additional fact-finding, and/or the reopening of the record for the submission of supplemental materials, but rather that ALJ Stokes remove specific facts which were deemed irrelevant to the proceedings, to wit:

> Because ALJ Stokes determined that Commissioner Roberts' actions are not relevant to and are not the subject of this proceeding, and because the basis for the aforementioned "facts" emanates from exhibits which were not admitted as evidence, the inclusion of Commissioner Roberts' membership on the Middletown Township Board of Education, his child's employment, his unproven voting history on matters related to the Superintendent, and the statement that "the Commission has taken no action against [Commissioner] Roberts for these actions" is inappropriate and must be stricken from the Initial Decision. In this way, the Commission finds that it is arbitrary and capricious to find unverified and unproven conduct as "facts" when Commissioner Roberts was not a named party in this matter or otherwise afforded appropriate due process to formally respond to or answer such accusations following the filing of a complaint against him, and when ALJ Stokes concluded that this information was "not relevant to whether [Respondent] violated the Act" and was "not the subject of this proceeding."

On remand, ALJ Stokes conducted "a telephone conference and directed the parties to provide written submissions addressing the Commission's remand." Id. On May 14, 2021, the parties' provided their written legal arguments as directed; Respondent's counsel provided a certification attaching records that were not previously submitted with her motion for summary decision; and the record closed on June 4, 2021. Id. at 4.

On June 25, 2021, ALJ Stokes issued an Initial Decision (On Remand), with same detailing findings of fact, and conclusions of law. The Commission acknowledged receipt of ALJ Stokes' Initial Decision (On Remand) on the date it was issued (June 25, 2021); therefore, the forty-five (45) day statutory period for the Commission to issue a Final Decision was August 9, 2021. Prior to August 9, 2021, the Commission requested a forty-five (45) day extension of time to issue its decision so as to allow the Commission, which only meets monthly, the opportunity to receive and review the full record, including the parties' Exceptions. Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10(c) and N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.8, and for good cause shown, the Commission was granted an extension until September 23, 2021.

Consequently, at its meeting on July 27, 2021, the Commission considered the full record in the above-captioned matter. Thereafter, at its special meeting on August 30, 2021, the Commission voted to adopt ALJ Stokes' findings of fact; to adopt the legal conclusion that

Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b); and to adopt the recommended penalty of reprimand.[1]

II. Initial Decision (On Remand)

Based on her review of the documents submitted in support of, and in opposition to, the parties' respective motions for summary decision, ALJ Stokes found the following as fact:

- Respondent has been a Board member since 2013 and has not received a prior sanction from the Commission. Id. at 4.

- On November 20, 2018, the Board had a meeting at which all six (6) members were present. At this meeting, the Board "voted unanimously to approve a resolution acknowledging that the [S]uperintendent ... completed a merit goal required by his employment contract with the [Board]." Id.

- The Superintendent's employment contract required a bonus of a set percentage of his salary following completion of a merit goal. Id.

- The Board did not discuss the resolution in closed or executive session, and Respondent did not comment on the resolution during public session of the Board's meeting. Id.

- Following approval from the executive county superintendent, the Superintendent received payment for the merit goal achievement. Id.

- On November 20, 2018, the date that the Board, including Respondent, voted unanimously to approve a resolution acknowledging that the Superintendent had completed a merit goal, Respondent's child was employed in the District as a tenured teacher. As such, at the time of Respondent's vote, the Superintendent had supervisory authority over Respondent's child. Id.

- Following the 2018-2019 school year, Respondent's child was subject to a reduction-in-force layoff and, as a result, her employment with the District ceased in June 2019. Id.

- Respondent was aware that she was unable to participate in the Superintendent's evaluation and contract approvals, but was "unaware" that she could not participate in votes concerning the achievement of contractual merit goals and attendant bonuses required by the Superintendent's employment contract. Id. at 4-5.

[1] Commissioner Dennis Roberts was not present in Executive Session on July 27, 2021, and/or August 30, 2021, when the above-captioned matter was discussed.

As for the remand specifically, ALJ Stokes further found the following additional facts:

- On June 26, 2020, Respondent supplied records concerning one of the Commission's members, and his actions as a school board member. Id. at 5.

- Respondent "urges that the actions of the Commission member are relevant to this case, especially as to the penalty attributed to any violation [Respondent] committed."

- Despite Respondent's arguments, ALJ Stokes "determined and still FIND[S] that the conduct of another person is not relevant to whether Respondent's actions constitute a violation of the ... Act." Id.

- In addition, "the Commission's action or inaction concerning its member's conduct is neither before this tribunal nor is what action, if any, known." Id.

- Therefore, ALJ Stokes "FIND[S] that the Commission member's actions, public or not, are irrelevant to what penalty should apply to any violation [Respondent] committed." Id.

In the "Discussion and Conclusions of Law" section of her Initial Decision (On Remand), and after detailing the standard that applies to a motion for summary decision, ALJ Stokes stated, "In this case, there is no genuine issue as to the material facts, and the only issues presented are whether" Respondent's vote on November 20, 2018, violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b) and, if so, what sanction is appropriate. Id. at 5-6. According to ALJ Stokes, "no genuine issue exists that [Respondent] served as a Board member in the same [D]istrict that employed her [child] as a teacher from 2014 until 2019," nor that on November 20, 2018, Respondent voted to approve the Superintendent's merit goal achievement. Id at 6. As these facts are "clear and undisputed," ALJ Stokes concludes, "that this case is ripe for summary decision."

Regarding the Commission's order of remand, ALJ Stokes notes, "an Agency head may enter an order remanding a contested case to the OAL ... ." Id. at 6. Moreover, "the order of remand shall specifically state the reason and necessity for the remand and the issues or arguments to be considered." Id. In this case, the Commission "directs the striking of specific findings of fact regarding the conduct of one of its members and states the reasons for doing so." Id. Although an ALJ "determines what evidence to consider and its relevance under N.J.A.C. 1:1-14.6(i) and other UAPR provisions," ALJ Stokes finds that because the "actions of the Commission member are not relevant to either [Respondent's] alleged violation or any resulting penalty," any records provided by Respondent regarding the Commission member, and any specific reference to them, is "unwarranted." Id.

In her motion for summary decision, Respondent argues that she should not be found in violation of the Act because "the law required her action as a board member"; "her vote was simply a ministerial act"; her participation in the vote approving the resolution "had no impact on the result as only four affirmative votes of the six members present [were] needed to pass the resolution"; and when an improper vote does not change the outcome, "the error is harmless." Id. at 12.

After referencing the legislative intent/purpose of the Act; affirming the Commission's role as the "guardian of the public interest"; citing to decisions that reinforce the public policy that school officials must avoid "even the appearance of impropriety" (e.g., Wyzsykowski v. Rizas, 132 N.J. 509 (1993); Friends Retirement Concepts v. Bd. Of Educ. Borough of Somerville, 356 N.J. Super 203, 214 (Law Div. 2002) (Friends)); emphasizing that, per Friends, the "question will always turn on 'whether the circumstances could reasonably be interpreted to show that they had the likely capacity to tempt the official to depart from his sworn public duty'"; noting that "[a]n actual conflict of interest is not the decisive factor, nor is 'whether the public servant succumbs to temptation,' but rather whether there is a potential for conflict"; affirming that "[a] conflicting interest arises when the public official has an interest not shared in common with the other members of the public"; and citing to the Commission's advisory opinions which specifically address the limitations on a Board member's conduct/activity when they have a family member or relative employed by the Board on which s/he serves (e.g., Advisory Opinion A24-17 (A24-17); Advisory Opinion A07-18 (A07-18)), ALJ Stokes concluded:

> ... [Respondent's] arguments [for summary decision are] unpersuasive. The legislative findings and declarations, the seminal decision in Friends, and the advisory opinions make plain that [Respondent] should have recused herself. ... A24-17, issued more than a year before the vote, clearly mandates that [Respondent] be uninvolved in any matter regarding the [S]uperintendent while her [child] was an employee in the [D]istrict. [Respondent's] vote created the potential conflict the Friends' Court warned against and could reasonably be interpreted to show that it had the likely capacity to tempt [Respondent] from her sworn public duty. In other words, that she exerted an undue influence over the individual responsible for securing her [child's] employment. Notably, the board member needs not to secure unwarranted benefits for their relative to violate the Act. Thus, her [child's] subsequent layoff is not relevant to whether the violation occurred. Also, while harmless errors may prevent the invalidation of a [B]oard's action, this does not address whether the board member violated the Act's prohibitions against conflicts of interest.
> Id. at 12-13.

Consequently, and given her findings of fact and discussion of the applicable law, ALJ Stokes concluded that Respondent's "vote created a justifiable impression among the public that [Respondent] used her official position as a board member to secure an unwarranted privilege or advantage for her [child] in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b). Id. at 13.

As for the appropriate penalty for Respondent's violation, although the Commission urges censure for Respondent's violation, ALJ Stokes finds that the cases cited by the Commission, namely I/M/O Michael Kilmurray, Docket No. C12-94 (February 24, 1998) (Kilmurray), and I/M/O James Famularo, Docket No. C23-96 (February 24, 1998) (Famularo), are "distinguishable from the violation committed by [Respondent]." Id. at 14. Unlike the Respondents in Kilmurray and Famularo, Respondent's vote was a single violation of the Act; did not directly involve her child; she did not attempt to influence other board members, or make comments to other Board members; and did not take direct and specific action to reward someone with whom she had a personal connection and prior business relationship. Id. As a result, and because there is no evidence that Respondent attempted to influence the vote and did not engage in "more direct action" as involved in Kilmurray and Famularo, and because she (Respondent) "believed the merit goals were contractual and that the [S]uperintendent's contract legally required the [Board] to pass on a resolution upon obtaining those goals," ALJ Stokes concludes that reprimand is appropriate. Id. at 15. Of note, although ALJ Stokes only recommended a reprimand, she states, "even in seemingly ministerial matters, the level of conduct expected of public officials must be such as to be beyond reproach." Id.

With the above in mind, ALJ Stokes orders that Complainant's motion for summary decision is granted as to Respondent's violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b); Respondent's motion for summary decision is denied; and Respondent is reprimanded for having violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b). Id.

III. Exceptions

As of July 27, 2021, neither Petitioner nor Respondent filed Exceptions to the Initial Decision (On Remand), or otherwise requested an extension to file same.

IV. Analysis

Upon a careful, thorough, and independent review of the record, the Commission adopts ALJ Stokes' findings of fact, and adopts the legal conclusion that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b).

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b), "No school official shall use or attempt to use his official position to secure unwarranted privileges, advantages or employment for himself, members of his immediate family or others ... ." By voting to approve a resolution concerning the attainment of the Superintendent's merit goals while (a) her child was employed in the District and (b) the Superintendent had supervisory authority over her (Respondent's) child, facts which are not in dispute, the Commission wholeheartedly agrees that Respondent violated this provision of the Act.

In finding a violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b), ALJ Stokes appropriately analyzed and considered the legislative intent/purpose of the Act; the Commission's previous decisions; as well as the Commission's advisory opinions which directly address the limitations on a board member's activities when s/he has an immediate family member(s) or relative(s) who is employed by the Board on which s/he serves. In this regard, the Commission cannot emphasize or underscore enough the fact that, as detailed in A24-17 and A07-18, established in previous decisions, and affirmed by ALJ Stokes, board members who have an immediate family member(s) or relative(s) employed in the district must always abstain from involvement in, without limitation, any and all matters pertaining to the Superintendent. This direction is clear, definitive, and unambiguous, and "any and all matters" is not conditional, or otherwise subject to exception or interpretation, even for what could be described as involvement in "ministerial" acts. Any level of involvement in any matter(s) involving the Superintendent while an immediate family member(s) or relative(s) is employed in the district will, among other things, always create a justifiable impression among the public that a board member is using, or attempting to use, his/her position to secure an unwarranted privilege, advantage, or employment for him/herself, a member of his/her immediately family, or an "other." Moreover, and in recognition of the legislative intent of the Act, no degree of latitude can be afforded when a board of education member who is the subject of a complaint engages in such conduct, no matter how trivial or ministerial such conduct may appear to the school official. As such, ALJ Stokes' determination is entirely appropriate, and in line with the Commission's advisory opinions and decisions.

V. Decision

For all of the aforementioned reasons, the Commission adopts the legal conclusion that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b) when she voted on a matter concerning an individual with the ultimate supervisory authority over her child, and her child's continued employment in the District.

VI. Penalty

Based upon the conclusion that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(b), ALJ Stokes recommended a penalty of reprimand. Following its careful, thorough, and independent review of the record, the Commission adopts the recommended penalty of reprimand. In adopting ALJ Stokes' recommended penalty, the Commission was primarily persuaded by the fact that the only finding of a violation stemmed from Respondent's one-time vote to approve a resolution concerning the Superintendent's attainment of a merit goal. As such, and based on the facts and circumstances presented here, the Commission does not believe that Respondent's one-time vote on what may be regarded as a "ministerial" matter is worthy of a penalty more harsh than a reprimand, especially for a board member who has served for nearly a decade without an adjudication by the Commission that she previously violated the Act.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c), this decision shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of Education for review of the Commission's recommended penalty. The parties may either: 1) file exceptions to the recommended sanction; 2) file an appeal of the Commission's finding of a violation; or 3) file both exceptions to the recommended sanction together with an appeal of the finding of a violation.

Parties taking exception to the recommended sanction of the Commission but not disputing the Commission's finding of a violation may file, within thirteen (13) days from the date the Commission's decision is forwarded to the Commissioner, written exceptions regarding the recommended penalty to the Commissioner. The forwarding date shall be the mailing date to the parties, as indicated below. Such exceptions must be forwarded to: Commissioner of Education, c/o Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625, marked "Attention: Comments on Ethics Commission Sanction," as well as to (ControversiesDisputesFilings@doe.nj.gov). A copy must also be sent to the Commission (school.ethics@doe.nj.gov) and all other parties.

Parties seeking to appeal the Commission's finding of violation must file an appeal pursuant to the standards set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:4:1 et seq. within thirty (30) days of the filing date of the decision from which the appeal is taken. The filing date shall be three (3) days after the date of mailing to the parties, as shown below. In such cases, the Commissioner's review of the Commission's recommended sanction will be deferred and incorporated into the Commissioner's review of the finding of violation on appeal. Where a notice of appeal has been filed on or before the due date for exceptions to the Commission's recommended sanction (thirteen (13) days from the date the decision is mailed by the Commission), exceptions need not be filed by that date, but may be incorporated into the appellant's briefs on appeal.

Final Decision

Mervin Rose,

Complainant,

v.

Ronnie McDowell,

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC) have been reviewed. The SEC found that respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c) of the School Ethics Act when he made a motion and voted to approve a request to use district facilities from an entity with which he had a financial involvement. The SEC's decision was forwarded pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29 for the Commissioner's final determination on the recommended penalty of a reprimand. Respondent has neither filed exceptions to the recommended penalty nor instituted an appeal of the SEC's underlying finding of violation pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 et seq. Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the penalty recommended by the SEC. Accordingly, respondent is hereby reprimanded for violating the School Ethics Act.

Mervin Rose,

v.

Ronnie McDowell,
Township of Union Board of Education, Union County,
Respondent

I. Procedural History

This matter arises from a Complaint that was filed on November 23, 2020, by Mervin Rose (Complainant), alleging that Ronnie McDowell (Respondent), a member of the Township of Union Board of Education (Board), violated the School Ethics Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 et seq. More specifically, the Complaint avers that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c).

On November 23, 2020, the Complaint was served on Respondent, via electronic mail, notifying him that charges were filed against him with the School Ethics Commission (Commission), and advising that he had twenty (20) days to file a responsive pleading.[1] On December 10, 2020, Respondent filed a Motion to Dismiss in Lieu of Answer (Motion to Dismiss), and Complainant filed a response to the Motion to Dismiss on December 14, 2020.

At its meeting on March 23, 2021, the Commission adopted a decision denying Respondent's Motion to Dismiss in its entirety. Based on its decision, the Commission directed Respondent to file an Answer to Complaint (Answer) and, on April 12, 2021, Respondent filed an Answer as directed.

Thereafter, and at its meeting on May 25, 2021, the Commission voted to find probable cause for the alleged violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c), and to decide the above-captioned matter by summary decision pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.7(c)(1). The Commission also directed Respondent to file, within twenty (20) days, a statement setting forth the reasons he should not be found in violation of the Act. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.7(c)(1). Respondent was advised that if he disputes any of the facts determined by the Commission to be both material and undisputed, he should set forth the facts with which he disagrees, and why they are material to the case. Finally, Respondent was advised that following expiration of the time period for submission of his statement, the Commission may make a determination of a violation on a summary basis.

[1] Due to the ongoing Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, service of process was effectuated by the Commission through electronic transmission only.

Despite the directive in the Commission's May 25, 2021, Probable Cause Notice and Notice of Summary Decision, as well as follow-up/reminder correspondence dated June 16, 2021, and July 1, 2021, Respondent failed to submit a written statement to the Commission for consideration.[2, 3]

Consequently, at its meeting on July 27, 2021, the Commission reviewed the record in this matter and, at its special meeting on August 30, 2021, the Commission voted to find that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c), and to recommend a penalty of reprimand for Respondent's violation of the Act.

II. Summary of the Record

Respondent has served as a member of the Board "since January 3, 2019," and served a previous term "from 2015 to 2017." Complaint at ¶ 1-2, page 1. Respondent has filed Personal/Relative and Financial Disclosure Statements (Disclosure Statements) with the Commission for each year he has served as a member of the Board. Complaint at ¶ 3, page 1. In response to Question #2 on the "Financial Disclosure Statements" section of his Disclosure Statements,[4] Respondent has consistently disclosed "First Baptist Church of Vauxhall" as a "source." Complaint at ¶ 4, page 1; Exhibit A. Complainant submits that the basis for Respondent's disclosure of "First Baptist Church of Vauxhall" as a "source" is because he (Respondent) is "a well-known deacon at [First Baptist Church of Vauxhall (First Baptist)] and thereby serves as an ordained minister and subordinate officer of that church." Complaint at page 3. Despite his relationship to First Baptist Church of Vauxhall, at the Board's meeting on September 15, 2020, Respondent "moved and then voted to approve a request" from First Baptist Church of Vauxhall to use the Township of Union School District's (District) facilities. Complaint at ¶6, page 1.

Because Respondent is a "well-known deacon at First Baptist [Church of Vauxhall]," and annually receives "feels/honorariums or gifts/reimbursements or prepaid expenses having an aggregate amount exceeding $250[.00]," Complainant argues that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c) when he moved and then voted to approve its (First Baptist Church of Vauxhall's) request to use the District's facilities. According to Complainant, "[t]here exists a relationship that directly affects the Respondent, creating a direct financial involvement that might reasonably be expected to impair ... Respondent's objectivity by a reasonable member of the public."

[2] At the Commission's meeting on July 27, 2021, Respondent appeared by telephone and offered public comments in defense of his alleged violation of the Act. More detailed information regarding the substance of Respondent's public comments can be found in the public minutes from the Commission's meeting on July 27, 2021.

[3] The Commission notes that, despite the offering of public comments at its meeting on July 27, 2021, the Commission's review of this matter on summary disposition was limited to the written record.

[4] Question #2 states, "List the name and address of each source of fees/honorariums or gifts/reimbursements or prepaid expenses having an aggregate amount exceeding $250 from any single source, excluding relatives, received by you or an immediate family member. Be sure to list any reimbursement received from the district or charter school for such things as conference attendance, tuition/dues reimbursement, personal appearances, speeches, or writing."

In his Motion to Dismiss, Respondent admitted that the following from the Complaint are "true statements."

- "1. [Respondent] is a ... member of the ... Board ... since January 3, 2019."
- "2. Respondent also served on the Board from 2015 to 2017 and was [P]resident of the Board in 2017."
- "3. Respondent filed and certified [Disclosure Statements] in 2014, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2019, and 2020 with the Commission."
- "5. Respondent is a deacon at First Baptist [Church of Vauxhall]."

Motion to Dismiss at page 1.

However, Respondent denies that, as a Deacon at First Baptist Church of Vauxhall, he receives any financial remuneration whatsoever. Motion to Dismiss at page 1-2. Instead, it is because of his volunteer work/service as an "unpaid Treasurer/bookkeeper and van driver" that First Baptist Church of Vauxhall gives Respondent "a once-a-year honorarium/gift of $2,000.[00]." Motion to Dismiss at page 2. Respondent denies that the once-a-year honorarium creates a direct or indirect financial involvement between he and First Baptist Church of Vauxhall; maintains the honorarium is a token of appreciation; denies that his receipt of such a "small" honorarium/gift could reasonably be expected to impair his objectivity or independence of judgment; and denies that First Baptist Church of Vauxhall is a "business organization." Motion to Dismiss at page 2.

Although Respondent admitted that "it may have been more prudent ... to err on the side of caution and not make the motion or vote" to approve the First Baptist Church of Vauxhall's request to use the District's facilities, Respondent maintains that his Board action did not violate N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c). Motion to Dismiss at page 3.

In his response to the Motion to Dismiss, Complainant reaffirmed the factual assertions in his Complaint, as well as the alleged violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c). See generally, Response to the Motion to Dismiss. Complainant also advised the Commission that, in a voicemail message to him from Respondent, he (Respondent) purportedly acknowledged the legitimacy of the Complaint because he stated to Complainant, "I do see your point." Response to the Motion to Dismiss at page 2; Exhibit D.

In his Answer, which was submitted following the Commission's denial of his Motion to Dismiss, Respondent stated, "The error [he] made was not allowing for another Board member to make the motion" to approve the request to use the District's facilities. Answer at page 1. Regardless of whether he made the motion, Respondent notes, "In any case the motion would have been made and approved, which was indicated by its unanimous approval." Answer at page 1-2. It is Respondent's belief that Complainant filed the within matter "to create fodder for a negative ad campaign in the upcoming 2021 Board of Education election, in which ...

Respondent [is] running." Answer at page 2. Respondent concluded by stating, "I am an honest and forthright person who has faithfully served his family, his community, and his school district in the hope of making each better. I am certainly not doing this for money!" Answer at page 2.

III. Findings of Fact

Based on its thorough and independent review of the record, the Commission finds the following facts to be undisputed:

1. Respondent is a member of the Board, and his most recent term of service began on January 3, 2019. Complaint at ¶ 1, page 1; Motion to Dismiss at page 1.

2. As a member of a public board of education in the State of New Jersey, Respondent is a school official within the meaning of the Act. N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23.

3. As a school official, Respondent is required to complete and submit Disclosure Statements to the Commission on an annual basis. N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25 and N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26.

4. In each of his filings with the Commission, Respondent disclosed that he received "fees/honorariums or gifts/reimbursements or prepaid expenses having an aggregate amount exceeding $250.[00]" from First Baptist Church of Vauxhall. Complaint at ¶ 4, page 1; Exhibit A.

5. Respondent receives an annual honorarium from First Baptist Church of Vauxhall in the amount of $2,000.00. Motion to Dismiss at page 2.

6. Respondent receives an annual honorarium from First Baptist Church of Vauxhall in connection with volunteer services he provides as "unpaid Treasurer/bookkeeper and van driver." Motion to Dismiss at page 2.

7. Respondent is also a Deacon at First Baptist Church of Vauxhall, but does not receive any financial remuneration for this work. Motion to Dismiss at page 1-2.

8. At the Board's meeting on September 15, 2020, Respondent "moved and then voted to approve a request" from First Baptist Church of Vauxhall to use the District's facilities. Complaint at ¶6, page 1; Motion to Dismiss at page 3.

IV. Analysis and Conclusions of Law

The facts in this matter are simple, and straightforward: Respondent is a Board member; his Disclosure Statements, including his most recent filing, consistently indicate that he receives an honorarium from First Baptist Church of Vauxhall of at least $250.00; Respondent actually receives an annual honorarium of $2,000.00 from First Baptist Church of Vauxhall in connection with volunteer services he performs; and at a Board meeting on September 15, 2020, Respondent moved and then voted to approve First Baptist Church of Vauxhall's request to use the District's facilities. All of these facts are undisputed.

The only issue is whether Respondent's Board action, namely moving and then voting to approve the use of facilities request submitted by First Baptist Church of Vauxhall to the Board, violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c). Respondent denies that his receipt of an annual honorarium from First Baptist Church of Vauxhall creates the necessary "direct or indirect financial involvement," and further denies that his receipt of such a "small" honorarium could reasonably be expected to impair his objectivity or independence of judgment. Respondent also maintains that his "only error" was making the motion to approve the facilities use request because, thereafter, it was unanimously approved by the Board.

N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c) states, in relevant part:

> No school official shall act in his official capacity in any matter where he ... has a direct or indirect financial involvement that might reasonably be expected to impair his objectivity or independence of judgment. No school official shall act in his official capacity in any matter where he ... has a personal involvement that is or creates some benefit to the school official ... .

Also of relevance to the Commission's analysis is the legislative findings and declarations relative to the adoption of the Act, to wit:

> a. In our representative form of government it is essential that the conduct of members of local boards of education ... hold the respect and confidence of the people. These board members ... must avoid conduct which is in violation of their public trust or which creates a justifiable impression among the public that such trust is being violated.

With the above in mind, the Commission finds that because Respondent regularly receives an honorarium of $2,000.00 from First Baptist Church of Vauxhall, he unequivocally has a direct or indirect financial involvement with any and all matters related to First Baptist Church of Vauxhall. It is certainly reasonable for any member of the public to believe that Respondent's objectivity or independence of judgment would be impaired when reviewing any matter(s) or request(s) from an entity that regularly pays him thousands of dollars. Although Respondent may quantify $2,000.00 as "small," the Commission finds this amount of money to be significant. The fact that the Act requires school officials to disclose any source that provides fees or honorariums greater than $250.00 only underscores the significant nature of a $2,000.00 annual honorarium.

In addition, the Commission disagrees that Respondent's only "error" was making a motion to approve the request to use the District's facilities. Not only was it inappropriate, and violative of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c) for Respondent to have made the motion, it was also inappropriate, and similarly violative of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c), for Respondent to have approved the request to use the District's facilities. When a school official, such as Respondent, has a direct or indirect financial involvement in an entity, the only course of action is to refrain from involvement in any and all discussions and votes concerning that entity, regardless of the subject matter. Failure to do so will, as here, result in a finding of a violation of the Act.

Accordingly, and based on a complete and thorough review of the record, the Commission finds, based on the undisputed evidence as set forth herein, that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c) when he moved and then voted to approve the request of First Baptist Church of Vauxhall to use the District's facilities.

V. Recommended Penalty

Having found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c), the Commission is authorized to recommend to the Commissioner of Education (Commissioner) an appropriate penalty, which may range from reprimand to removal. N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c).

In its review, the Commission finds that reprimand is the most appropriate penalty. In reaching this determination, the Commission does not believe that Respondent acted deliberately or intentionally, but rather under a false belief that his conduct was appropriate. The Commission also appreciated that Respondent, at least in part, acknowledged that his conduct was not the most prudent. Although Respondent ascribes a nefarious intent to the filing of the within matter, and submits that it was filed to create fodder in connection with Respondent's bid for re-election, such beliefs are irrelevant, especially when, as here, a violation is substantiated.

To be clear, the Commission's finding of a violation and a recommended penalty of reprimand is not a determination that Respondent is somehow unfit or unqualified to serve as a Board member. Instead, it is a reminder that he, like all other school officials, must be mindful of how their Board action can implicate, and potentially, violate the Act. No one is beyond reproach, and everyone is entitled to make a mistake.

VI. Decision

For the reasons set forth above, the Commission recommends that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of reprimand for the violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-24(c).

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c), this decision shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of Education for review of the Commission's recommended penalty. The parties may either: 1) file exceptions to the recommended sanction; 2) file an appeal of the Commission's finding of a violation; or 3) file both exceptions to the recommended sanction together with an appeal of the finding of a violation.

Parties taking exception to the recommended sanction of the Commission but not disputing the Commission's finding of a violation may file, within thirteen (13) days from the date the Commission's decision is forwarded to the Commissioner, written exceptions regarding the recommended penalty to the Commissioner. The forwarding date shall be the mailing date to the parties, as indicated below. Such exceptions must be forwarded to: Commissioner of Education, c/o Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625, marked "Attention: Comments on Ethics Commission Sanction," as well as to (ControversiesDisputesFilings@doe.nj.gov). A copy must also be sent to the Commission (school.ethics@doe.nj.gov) and all other parties.

Parties seeking to appeal the Commission's finding of violation must file an appeal pursuant to the standards set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:4:1 et seq. within thirty (30) days of the filing date of the decision from which the appeal is taken. The filing date shall be three (3) days after the date of mailing to the parties, as shown below. In such cases, the Commissioner's review of the Commission's recommended sanction will be deferred and incorporated into the Commissioner's review of the finding of violation on appeal. Where a notice of appeal has been filed on or before the due date for exceptions to the Commission's recommended sanction (thirteen (13) days from the date the decision is mailed by the Commission), exceptions need not be filed by that date, but may be incorporated into the appellant's briefs on appeal.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

James Mosser,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the City of Union,
Union County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed, as have the exceptions filed pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4 by the respondent, Union Board of Education (Board), and the petitioner's reply thereto.

This matter concerns two harassment, intimidation, and bullying (HIB) complaints against petitioner, a tenured teacher employed by the Board, and whether he received the due process required by the Anti-Bullying Bill of Rights Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:37-13 et seq. In May 2018, petitioner was informed that he was the subject of a HIB investigation. The Board's Student Assistance Counselor, Jill Hall (Hall), conducted the HIB investigation, which was completed on May 25, 2018 and found that petitioner's conduct constituted HIB. A second HIB complaint was filed against petitioner on May 30, 2018 by at least twelve students. Hall completed the second HIB investigation on June 12, 2018, with an addendum on June 14, 2018, and again found that petitioner's conduct constituted HIB.

The Board alleges the Superintendent sent letters to petitioner regarding each of the HIB determinations on June 25 and August 2, 2018. The letters both stated that the Superintendent had reviewed the HIB reports and that he concurred with the findings of the investigations. The results of the investigations were reported to the Board in August 2018.[1] Petitioner claims that he was unaware of the second HIB investigation, was never informed about the allegations or outcome in either investigation, and that he never received the Superintendent's letters. Petitioner filed the within petition of appeal in April 2019. Subsequently, on June 11, 2019, the Board held a hearing regarding the HIB investigations with petitioner and his counsel; petitioner alleges this was the first he learned about the second HIB complaint and the first time that he heard a general summary of the allegations against him, although no specifics were provided during the hearing. Petitioner denied the allegations, but the Board affirmed the HIB findings.

The petition of appeal was transmitted to the OAL, and following cross motions for summary decision, the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) found that the Board did not follow the procedural requirements of the Act and failed to provide petitioner with due process because he was not provided with sufficient information about the investigations, even in advance of the June 2019 Board hearing. The ALJ found that the Board's decisions concerning the investigations should be reversed, and any disciplinary action imposed as a result of the HIB investigations should be rescinded. The ALJ also found that petitioner should be permitted to return to work if the District kept him on leave status due to the HIB investigations.

[1] It does not appear that the Board imposed a penalty on petitioner as a result of the HIB determinations. Petitioner was, however, placed on administrative leave in May 2018, which appears to be due to a referral by the Board for an investigation by the New Jersey Department of Children and Families, Division of Child Protection and Permanency (DCPP). DCPP issued letters to petitioner on October 31, 2018 and February 7, 2019, finding that the allegations were "Not Established." Copies of the letters were also sent to the Superintendent on the same dates. Nevertheless, petitioner has remained on administrative leave to the present. The Board's reasoning for keeping petitioner on administrative leave is unclear, including whether the HIB investigations – which were completed by August 2018 – were part of the Board's rationale.

In its exceptions, the Board argues that the ALJ failed to apply the arbitrary, capricious and unreasonable standard to its HIB determinations. As such, the Board maintains that the ALJ exceeded her authority in reversing those determinations, and any discipline imposed as a result of the HIB findings, without applying the correct standard of review. The Board also contends that the ALJ erred in weighing in on a personnel action – petitioner's administrative leave – which is separate from the HIB investigations.[2]

The Board argues that the appropriate remedy to cure procedural errors would be to remand the matter to the Board for a new Board hearing, not the reversal of the HIB determinations. The Board points out that petitioner has now been provided with the unredacted HIB reports (although it maintains that it was not required to provide them initially under the Act), the unredacted notes regarding the interviews in connection with both HIB investigations, and a letter written by a student about petitioner's conduct. The Board argues that in light of the extensive documentation provided, petitioner would be able to have a new and fair hearing before the Board despite the time that has passed. Accordingly, the Board urges the Commissioner to reject the Initial Decision and find that the Board was not arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable in its HIB determinations; in the alternative, if procedural issues need to be cured, the Board asks the Commissioner to remand this matter for an additional Board hearing.

[2] The Board also argues that the ALJ erred in her finding that the results of the DCPP investigations were "Not Established" because there were no certifications on that topic in the record. However, the Commissioner notes that copies of the letters from DCPP containing the results of their investigations were included in the record.

In reply, petitioner argues that the ALJ correctly reversed the HIB determinations and rescinded any disciplinary action as a result of the HIB investigations; petitioner's due process rights were not protected, so any discipline as a result was arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable. Petitioner contends that this matter should not be remanded for a new Board hearing at this juncture because it would reward the Board for its continued misfeasance. Petitioner points out that it has been more than three years since any of the allegations, so petitioner would be unable to have a fair hearing now as many of the students have graduated and the notes from the investigation were lacking in dates, times, or locations. Accordingly, petitioner urges the Commissioner to adopt the Initial Decision.

Upon review, the Commissioner finds that the Board did not comply with the Act in conducting its HIB investigations, and therefore, this matter should be remanded to the Board for a new Board hearing. N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15b(6)(d) provides:

> [P]arents or guardians of the students who are parties to the investigation shall be entitled to receive information about the investigation, in accordance with federal and State law and regulation, including the nature of the investigation, whether the district found evidence of harassment, intimidation, or bullying, or whether discipline was imposed or services provided to address the incident of harassment, intimidation, or bullying. This information shall be provided in writing within 5 school days after the results of the investigation are reported to the board. A parent or guardian may request a hearing before the board after receiving the information, and the hearing shall be held within 10 days of the request. The board shall meet in executive session for the hearing to protect the confidentiality of the students. At the hearing the board may hear from the school anti-bullying specialist about the incident, recommendations for discipline or services, and any programs instituted to reduce such incidents[.]

The Commissioner has previously established that teachers and other staff members who are accused of HIB are entitled to the same due process protections that are provided to students under the Act. Melanie Sohl v. Board of Education of the Town of Boonton, Morris County, Commissioner's Decision No. 106-21, decided May 18, 2021; Ruth Young-Edri v. Board of Education of the City of Elizabeth, Union County, Commissioner's Decision No. 174-19, decided July 8, 2019; Stephen Gibble v. Board of Education of the Hunterdon Central Regional School District, Hunterdon County, Commissioner's Decision No. 254-16, decided July 13, 2016.

Here, petitioner was not provided with "information about the investigation, in accordance with federal and State law and regulation, including the nature of the investigation, whether the district found evidence of harassment, intimidation, or bullying, or whether discipline was imposed or services provided to address the incident of harassment, intimidation, or bullying", as required by the Act. Petitioner certainly did not receive it in writing within five school days after the results of the investigation were reported to the Board. The only evidence in the record of communications with petitioner regarding the HIB complaints were letters from the Superintendent dated June 25 and August 2, 2018. Those letters stated:

> I have reviewed the report submitted regarding the alleged incident of harassment/bullying/intimidation (HIB) that involved your child.
> I concur with the findings of the investigation conducted by the Anti-Bullying Specialist.
> If you have any questions, please feel free to contact me at the number below.

While petitioner claims that he did not receive these letters, regardless of whether the letters were sent, they fail to meet the requirements of N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15b(6)(d). The letters give no information as to the nature of the investigations. It is also unclear from the letters whether

HIB was found or not, or whether any discipline was being imposed. Thereafter, months later when petitioner's attorney sought further information as to the investigations, the Board attorney's email on February 28, 2019 simply indicated:

> . . . pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15b(6)(d), I can share with you that Mr. Mosser was investigated during the 2017-18 School Year for alleged verbal and physical behavior which touches upon the protected categories of sexual orientation, gender, and "other distinguishing characteristics." HIB Specialist Jill Hall found that the incidents investigated met the criteria for "Harassment, Intimidation or Bullying" pursuant to the statute.

This email does not shed any light on the nature of the investigation; it is still unclear what petitioner was accused of doing. Petitioner does not appear to have heard the allegations against him until he attended the June 2019 Board hearing. Accordingly, the Commissioner finds that the Board failed to meet the procedural requirements of the Act by not providing petitioner with information regarding the investigation.

The Commissioner finds that the appropriate remedy in this matter is a remand to the Board for a hearing.[3] See Ruth Young-Edri v. Board of Education of the City of Elizabeth, Union County, Commissioner's Decision No. 174-19, decided July 8, 2019 (directing the Board to conduct further proceedings after it failed to comply with the due process provisions of the Act); J.L., on behalf of minor child, A.L. v. Board of Education of the Bridgewater-Raritan Regional School District, Somerset County, A-2022-16T1 (App Div. Oct. 16, 2018) (remanding the matter for a Board hearing after the petitioner was not informed about the HIB investigation until after the Board voted). Further, although the petitioner is now aware of the nature of the allegations against him and the Board's determination based on the proceedings at the OAL, it is still unclear whether discipline was imposed on the petitioner as a result of the HIB determination. As such, the Board must clearly inform petitioner as to any discipline that was imposed on him, as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15b(6)(d), prior to providing a new Board hearing.

It is important to recognize that this matter is being remanded to the Board based upon the procedural deficiencies, and therefore the Commissioner reaches no decision as to whether the petitioner committed an act of HIB. Since the merits of the HIB investigation have not been determined in these proceedings, the Commissioner disagrees with the ALJ's decision to reverse the HIB determinations, rescind any disciplinary action, and direct petitioner to return to work if the leave was due to the HIB allegations.

Accordingly, the Initial Decision is adopted in part, and rejected in part, as the final decision in this matter. The Board is directed to conduct further proceedings consistent with this decision and the Act.

IT IS SO ORDERED.[4]

BEFORE SUSANA E. GUERRERO, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner James Mosser, a teacher, challenges the determination by his employer, the Union Board of Education (respondent or Board), that his conduct constituted Harassment, Intimidation and Bullying (HIB) pursuant to the Anti-Bullying Bill of Rights Act, N.J.S.A. 18A: 37-13.1 to -32; and he asserts that the Board violated his due process rights.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Petitioner filed a Petition of Appeal with the Commissioner of Education on or around April 25, 2019, and the Commissioner transmitted the matter to the Office of Administrative Law, where it was filed as a contested case on July 2, 2019. N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15; N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13.

Telephone conferences with the undersigned were held in August 2019, during which hearing dates were scheduled for January 6, 17 and February 18, 2020. An Amended Petition for Relief was filed on or around September 2019.[1] Respondent filed a motion to dismiss the Petition in lieu of an Answer, which was denied on October 25, 2019.

Counsel for petitioner requested an adjournment of the January 6, 17 and February 18, 2020 hearing due to incomplete discovery. The hearing was rescheduled to October 14 and 19, 2020. In March 2020, respondent filed a motion challenging discovery demands; petitioner filed an opposition; and the Board filed a reply in April 2020. I issued Orders on May 26, 2020 and July 13, 2020 addressing the discovery issues.

The October 14 and 19, 2020 hearing dates were adjourned at the request of counsel for the Board, objecting to a Zoom hearing. On or around September 23, 2020, petitioner filed a motion for summary decision that was opposed by the Board. The petitioner's motion was subsequently amended on April 22, 2021, following a status conference and after the undersigned permitted both the petitioner and the Board an opportunity to file the required Certifications in support of, and opposition to the motion for summary decision. Petitioner's motion included affidavits signed by Mosser and his counsel. On or around May 11, 2021, the Board opposed the petitioner's motion and filed a cross-motion for summary decision. The Board included certifications of Jill Hall and counsel. On May 28, 2021, the petitioner filed a reply to respondent's opposition, and opposition to the cross-motion for summary decision. The Board's reply to the petitioner's opposition was filed on or around June 11, 2021. The June 2021 hearing dates were adjourned in light of the pending motions for summary decision, and rescheduled to September 2, 2021 and September 3, 2021.[2]

[1] In the Amended Petition for Relief, petitioner requests that the Board be ordered to rescind or reverse any and all decisions made by the Board with respect to the HIB investigation(s); to rescind or reverse any disciplinary action, if any, the Board has taken against him pursuant to the HIB investigation; to destroy all records related to the Board's decision, if any, concerning the HIB allegation(s); to notify him of the nature of the HIB allegations against him, including what specific acts or infractions he was alleged to have committed; and any additional relief that may be deemed just and equitable.

FINDINGS OF FACT

Based on the submissions presented, and the uncontroverted background facts, I FIND the following:

Petitioner is a tenured teacher who has been employed by the respondent School District for over thirteen years. Petitioner had no prior disciplinary history with the Board. At a meeting in May 2018 with District officials, petitioner was informed that he was the subject of a Harassment, Intimidation, and Bullying (HIB) investigation. At around that time, petitioner was placed on administrative leave by the District.

The Board asserts that petitioner was placed on leave as a result of a referral by the District for an investigation by the New Jersey Department of Children and Families, Division of Child Protection and Permanency (DCPP). (See Cert. of Nishali Rose, Esq. at ¶ 2.) Ultimately, DCPP determined that the allegations made against Mosser were "Not Established." Petitioner, however, has remained on administrative leave since May 2018 despite the DCPP's determination.

At all relevant times, Jill Hall (Hall) was the Board's Student Assistance Counselor who conducted the HIB investigations at issue here. With respect to the HIB investigation that Mosser was informed about in May 2018, Hall interviewed the complainant student, G.R., and her parents. G.R.'s parents reportedly claimed that G.R. was feeling targeted by petitioner and they requested a formal HIB investigation on May 11, 2018. There is no evidence that Hall interviewed Mosser as part of her investigation. Hall completed her investigation on May 25, 2018 and provided the Superintendent with a copy of HIB Investigation Report No. 16 for the 2017–2018 school year in which she determined that petitioner's actions constituted HIB. Mosser asserts that he never received any notice from the Superintendent, nor from any other Board administrator, informing him of the investigation, the ultimate findings, and that the Superintendent agreed with Hall's HIB findings. The Board did not present any Certification, from either the Superintendent or any other District employee with direct knowledge, asserting that a letter, or any other form of notice, was sent to Mosser informing him that Hall had concluded her investigation and that the Superintendent agreed with her findings/determination.[3]

While Mosser was on administrative leave, he became the subject of a second HIB investigation by the Board. This investigation involved more than a dozen students. The Board asserts that this second HIB investigation was initiated on May 30, 2018 at the direction of the High School Principal in response to statements made by certain students who had attended a cast party that petitioner also attended prior to being placed on leave. (Rose Cert. at ¶¶¶ 14-16.) As part of Hall's HIB investigation, she interviewed several students regarding the allegations, and prepared approximately thirty-two pages of notes. Hall did not interview Mosser as part of her investigation, nor did she notify him of the investigation.

The Board asserts that on June 12, 2018, and again via addendum dated June 14, 2018, Hall finalized HIB Investigation Report No. 17 for 2017–2018, which concerned allegations of twelve Board students and three other students regarding Mosser. (Rose

[3] Hall's Certification states: "In a letter to Mr. Mosser dated June 25, 2018, Mr. Tatum indicated that he agreed with the findings set forth in the HIB investigation report. A true and correct copy of the letter dated June 25, 2018 is attached hereto . . . ." (Hall Cert. at ¶ 11.) Attached to the Certification is a letter dated June 25, 2018 directed to "the Parent/Guardian of James Mosser," with no address or proof of service. The Board did not present a Certification from the Superintendent or any other appropriate Board employee with knowledge asserting that a letter was sent to Mosser informing him of the Superintendent's concurrence or disagreement with the HIB report.

Cert. at ¶ 6.) Again, Hall found that the alleged behavior met the criteria for HIB and she provided the Superintendent with a copy of her report, HIB Investigation Report No. 17, on the day it was finalized.

The Superintendent agreed with Hall's findings in HIB Investigation Reports No. 16 and No. 17. In June 2018, the Superintendent notified the parents of these students that he had reviewed the report submitted regarding the alleged incident of HIB involving their child and that he concurred with the findings of the investigation. Mosser asserts that he was never informed of the investigation or of the Superintendent's decision concerning the HIB allegations. The Board did not present any Certification countering Mosser's assertion, and did not produce any Certification asserting that the District provided written notice to Petitioner regarding the second HIB report.[4] I FIND that the Board/District did not inform petitioner of the results of the two HIB investigations once the investigations were completed and the Superintendent reviewed and concurred with the HIB findings.

The Board held a meeting in August 2018 in which the HIB investigation, or investigations, concerning petitioner was addressed. Petitioner was never notified of the Board meeting. The Board asserts that a "hearing" did not occur at that time, and that no disciplinary action was taken, and no written decision was issued. There is no evidence that the Board took any action in August 2018 concerning the HIB investigations involving petitioner. About seven months after the August 2018 Board meeting, Board counsel informed petitioner in writing that he believed HIB findings "were only reported to the Board" at the meeting and that no determination had been made. I FIND that the Board did not provide petitioner with any information concerning the HIB investigations following the August 2018 meeting in which the HIB investigations and findings were reported to and addressed by the Board.

[4] Hall's Certification states: "In a letter to Mr. Mosser dated August 2, 2018, Mr. Tatum indicated that he agreed with the findings set forth in the HIB investigation report. A true and correct copy of the letter dated August 2, 2018 is attached hereto . . . ." This letter is dated August 2, 2018, appears to be electronically signed by the Superintendent, and is addressed to "the Parent/Guardian of James Mosser." It contains no address, and there is no proof of service. No Certification was provided by the Board asserting that the letter was actually sent to Mosser. When petitioner asserts in his reply brief that he never received any letter from the Superintendent, the Board in its sur-reply did not certify that it was ever sent to Mosser by the Superintendent or his office.

On or around October 23, 2018, petitioner's counsel sent the District an Open Public Records Act (OPRA) request, seeking "any, and all, HIB Reports concerning Mr. Mosser." In its response to this request, the District denied possessing any such reports. Petitioner filed a second OPRA request in December 2018, seeking the same information. This time, the Board informed the petitioner that there were two HIB reports, however, the Board denied petitioner access to the reports. I FIND that months after the HIB investigation reports were completed and the District determined that Mosser committed acts of HIB, and even after the results of the investigations were reported to the Board, the District wrongly denied the existence of the HIB reports, and later improperly refused to provide them to petitioner.

Petitioner then filed a Petition for Relief in April 2019, and the Board then agreed to hold a HIB hearing concerning the petitioner. This hearing took place on June 11, 2019, and the petitioner attended the hearing with counsel.

Petitioner asserts in his Certification that prior to the June 2019 Board hearing, he was not given any evidentiary materials concerning the HIB allegations. It is undisputed that the Board did not provide petitioner with a copy of the HIB reports prior to the June 2019 hearing, however, respondent's counsel states in her brief that "sufficient information regarding the HIB investigations and findings" were provided prior to the hearing. In support of this assertion, with respect to the first HIB investigation, respondent states that petitioner was "involved in discussions" regarding G.R.'s complaints and "his conduct toward her" at least four months prior to the filing of the HIB complaint; and that a staff member arranged for petitioner's interview as part of the investigation. I FIND, however, that there is no evidence that petitioner was ever interviewed as part of the first HIB investigation, nor that he was provided with any information about the investigation or the basis for the District's HIB determination prior to the June 2019 hearing. In regard to the second HIB investigation, respondent asserts that petitioner was aware of the DCPP findings, and that petitioner also received information by email from counsel for respondent, prior to the June 2019 Board meeting.[5] I FIND that prior to the June 2019 Board hearing, petitioner was not provided with any information concerning the second HIB investigation other than what was contained in the February 28, 2019 email to petitioner's counsel, which does not identify who the complainants were, what the alleged incidents of HIB were, nor any information about the investigation other than the fact that Hall found HIB and that the alleged verbal and physical behavior touched upon certain protected categories.

Petitioner asserts that at the June 2019 hearing he learned for the first time that there were two separate HIB complaints made against him that were investigated by the District, and that there were more than a dozen alleged complainants. The complainants were not identified at the hearing; none of the witnesses to the alleged incidents were identified; and the District did not inform petitioner when the alleged incidents of HIB occurred. Hall was not present at the hearing. Her supervisor appeared in her place. The petitioner maintains that at the June 2019 hearing, he was only read a summary of the allegations against him, without any specific dates on which any of the alleged incidents occurred and without identifying any of the persons allegedly involved or even where the alleged incidents occurred. Petitioner categorically denied the allegations against him, and requested that the Board dismiss the HIB complaints, at least in part because the Board hearing was being held more than one year after it was required to do so by statute and its own HIB policy. The Board denied the request to dismiss, and at its June 18, 2019 Board meeting, the Board affirmed the HIB findings with respect to both investigations and issued a written decision. The Board informed the petitioner of its decision affirming the HIB findings.

[5] The February 28, 2019 email from respondent's counsel to petitioner's counsel simply states that petitioner "was investigated during the 2017-2018 School Year for alleged verbal and physical behavior which touches upon the protected categories of sexual orientation, gender, and 'other distinguishing characteristics' [and that] Hall found that the incidents investigated met the criteria for 'Harassment, Intimidation or Bullying' pursuant to statute." With regard to the DCPP findings that were reported to petitioner, the record is entirely unclear as to how those findings relate to the HIB complaints, and whether both matters even involve the same students and allegations.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

In his motion, petitioner asserts that he is entitled to summary decision, and that the Board's determination that he committed acts that constitute HIB should be reversed, because the Board violated his due process rights. Petitioner asserts that his due process rights were violated because: the Board failed to adhere to the applicable timelines for holding a HIB hearing, and exceeded that timeline by at least a year; the Board failed to produce meaningful evidence in support of the allegations at the hearing; the Board failed to provide petitioner an opportunity to confront his accusers and the individual who investigated the HIB allegations; and the Board refused to provide petitioner with any information about the HIB investigation, including the evidence gathered during the course of the investigation and the HIB investigation reports, prior to the June 2019 hearing. Petitioner also maintains that due process was denied when the Board failed to put him on notice of the specific accusations made against him, as well as the specific acts that led to the determination that he committed HIB.

Relying largely on the Certification of Hall, the Board asserts that petitioner's due process rights were not violated and that respondent fully complied with the requirements of the Anti-Bullying Bill of Rights Act. Respondent asserts that the Board fulfilled its obligation to provide petitioner with a hearing consistent with the statutory requirements, and that if the Court determines that there were procedural errors in the HIB process, the appropriate remedy is to remand the matter back to the Board for a hearing, not to grant summary decision or reverse the HIB determination. The respondent asserts that petitioner never requested a hearing before the Board prior to the filing of the Petition in April 2019, and that the Board was not legally required to inform petitioner of his right to a hearing. The respondent also asserts generally that it complied with the requirements of the Act, and the legal requirements for conducting a hearing and providing petitioner with information concerning the investigations, and that the Act does not require a trial-type adversarial proceeding, despite petitioner's assertion that he was denied a right to confront his accusers and investigator.

Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(b), a summary decision "may be rendered if the papers and discovery which have been filed, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact challenged and that the moving party is entitled to prevail as a matter of law." This rule is substantially similar to the summary judgment rule embodied in the N.J. Court Rules, R. 4:46-2. See Judson v. Peoples bank & Trust Co. of Westfield, 17 N.J. 67, 74 (1954). In connection therewith, all inferences of doubt are drawn against the movant and in favor of the party against whom the motion is directed. Id. at 75. In Brill v. Guardian Life Insurance Co., 142 N.J. 520, 540 (1995), the New Jersey Supreme Court addressed the appropriate test to be employed in determining the motion:

> [A] determination whether there exists a "genuine issue" of material fact that precludes summary judgment requires the motion judge to consider whether the competent evidential materials presented, when viewed in the light most favorable to the non-moving party, are sufficient to permit a rational fact finder to resolve the alleged disputed issue in favor of the non-moving party. The "judge's function is not . . . to weigh the evidence and determine the truth of the matter but to determine whether there is a genuine issue for trial."

Having reviewed the parties' submissions in support of, and opposition to, the Petitioner's motion for summary decision, I CONCLUDE that this matter is ripe for summary decision. The Board presented no facts that would call into question Mosser's claim that the Board failed to provide him with the due process required under the Anti-Bullying law, and more specifically that Mosser was not provided with sufficient information concerning the investigations even in anticipation of the June 2019 hearing, and the Board did not comply with the procedures outlined in the Act.

Moreover, having reviewed and considered the respondent's submission in support of its cross-motion for summary decision, and opposition thereto, I CONCLUDE that the facts underlying the Board's HIB determination are unclear and disputed, and that this precludes disposing of this matter by summary decision in the Board's favor. Petitioner has denied that he committed any acts that may constitute HIB, and the record is not clear whether petitioner's actions, whatever they were, even met the criteria for HIB pursuant to the Act. There could be no proper determination as to whether there were acts of HIB committed here given the record at this time.

Districts are required by law to adopt policies that prohibit HIB; that outline expectations for student behavior; that set forth consequences for inappropriate behavior; and that create procedures for reporting HIB-related concerns. N.J.S.A. 18A:37-14; N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15. In regard to the investigation of bullying charges, the law requires as follows:

>
> (c) the results of each investigation shall be reported to the board of education no later than the date of the board of education meeting next following the completion of the investigation, along with information on any services provided, training established, discipline imposed, or other action taken or recommended by the superintendent;
> (d) parents or guardians of the students who are parties to the investigation shall be entitled to receive information about the investigation, in accordance with federal and State law and regulation, including the nature of the investigation, whether the district found evidence of harassment, intimidation, or bullying, or whether discipline was imposed, or services provided to address the incident of harassment, intimidation, or bullying. This information shall be provided in writing within 5 school days after the results of the investigation are reported to the board. A parent or guardian may request a hearing before the board after receiving the information, and the hearing shall be held within 10 days of the request. The board shall meet in executive session for the hearing to protect the confidentiality of the students. At the hearing the board may hear from the school anti-bullying specialist about the incident, recommendations for discipline or services, and any programs instituted to reduce such incidents;

> [N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15 (emphasis added).]

The Commissioner of Education has recognized that the due-process protections contained in the Anti-Bullying Act have equal applicability when a bullying charge is directed against a staff member. See K.T. on behalf of K.H. & T.D. v. Deerfield Bd. of Educ., OAL Dkt. No. EDU 00489-13, Initial Decision (June 19, 2013), rev'd and remanded, Comm'r (July 30, 2013), https://www.nj.gov/education/legal/ (where, in the context of a claim that a teacher bullied a kindergarten student, the Commissioner confirmed that the internal HIB investigation mandated by law is not discretionary); see also Gibble v. Hunterdon Central Bd. of Educ., EDU 02767-15, Final Decision (July 13, 2016), http://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/; Sandlock v. Cedar Grove Bd. of Educ., EDU 00619-14, Initial Decision (March 26, 2015), http://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/, aff'd, Comm'r (June 23, 2015), https://ww.nj.gov/education/legal/.

I CONCLUDE that the due-process protections contained in the Anti-Bullying Law were ignored by the Board. The Anti-bullying statute provides a timeline for the prompt investigation and disposition of HIB complaints. Here, Hall finalized the first HIB report on May 25, 2018 and the second on June 12, 2018, with an addendum on June 14, 2018. The results of the investigations were required to be reported to the Board by the next Board meeting, per N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15(c). While the results of the investigations were reported to the Board at its August 2018 Board meeting, the statute also requires that Mosser be provided with written information concerning the investigations within five school days following the Board meeting. That did not occur. Mosser received no information from the District/Board within five days after the August Board meeting, nor did he receive any written information prior. Had Mosser received information concerning the investigations and findings following the August Board meeting, he would have had an opportunity to request a hearing before the Board, which the Board would be required to hold within ten days, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15(d).

While respondent faults petitioner for not requesting a hearing sooner, Mosser could not have known to do so because he was provided with no information from the District/Board concerning the investigation and the findings. He was not made aware that the first HIB investigation had concluded, and he did not know that there was a second HIB investigation. Moreover, although the results of the investigations were reported to the Board at its August 2018 meeting, the Board did not issue a written decision affirming, rejecting, or modifying the Superintendent's decision concerning the HIB investigations, contrary to N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15(e). Had the Board issued a decision, the petitioner could have at least been put on notice of the allegations and findings against him at that time, and he could have appealed any Board decision in 2018, rather than in April 2019 once Mosser became aware through an OPRA request that there was a HIB finding against him.

The Board asserts that it fulfilled its legal obligation to provide petitioner with a hearing in June 2019, only after Mosser filed the Petition, and that it provided him with sufficient information concerning the investigations prior to that hearing. I disagree. While the Anti-Bullying Law does not require a full adversarial-type hearing, consisting of an opportunity to cross-examine every complainant and witness, it does require petitioner an opportunity to fully understand the evidence against him, including the identity of those complainants and specifically what the alleged acts of HIB were, and to present testimony and documents to the Board for its consideration.[6] What is required is a modicum of local due process required to guard against arbitrary, capricious, or ill-informed Board action. It is undisputed that the District refused to provide the petitioner with the HIB Investigation Reports prior to the June 2019 Board hearing. There is no evidence that the Board provided petitioner with any useful information concerning the allegations made against him. The Board refused to identify the complainants, did not inform Mosser when or where the alleged incident or incidents of HIB allegedly occurred, and did not provide any documentary evidence or available statements, prior to the 2019 Board hearing. How could the petitioner understand the evidence against him, and respond to those allegations, when he is provided no useful information concerning the investigation—not even the identity of the complainants–prior to the hearing? The June 2019 "hearing" was not the type of hearing contemplated in the Anti-Bullying statute. I CONCLUDE that because the Board so grossly failed to comply with the procedures contained in the Act, and failed to provide Mosser with information concerning the investigations that the statute requires, the Board's decision(s) concerning the investigations should be rescinded or reversed, and any disciplinary action imposed as a result of the HIB investigations or findings should also be rescinded. Mosser has remained on administrative leave since May 2018, and while the reason for this remains unclear, he should be permitted to return to work if the District has kept him on leave status due to the HIB allegations.

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that the motion for summary decision filed by the petitioner James Mosser is GRANTED, and that the Board rescind its decision with regard to the two HIB investigations involving James Mosser, and rescind any disciplinary action, if any, taken against him as a result of the HIB allegations.

It is further ORDERED that the cross-motion for summary decision filed by the respondent is DENIED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Neysa Etienne,

Petitioner,

v.

New Jersey State Board of Examiners,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Pro-se petitioner appealed the determination of the respondent New Jersey State Board of Examiners (SBE) that she had not met the requirements for issuance of a school social work endorsement. Specifically, the SBE determined that petitioner's alternative experience fails to serve as a one-to-one equivalent of the required three semester hours in advanced social casework which petitioner needs to fully meet the requirements for issuance of a school social worker endorsement pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-14.5. Petitioner asserted that her job experience does fulfill the regulatory requirements. The SBE contended that petitioner's experience was piecemeal and did not include enough one-to-one experience specifically within a school setting to meet the required three semester hours in advanced level social casework.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: the SBE determined that petitioner only lacks three semester hours of advanced social casework before she qualifies for the endorsement; petitioner's work experience as a mobile crisis school liaison, prevention specialist, and as a licensed associate marriage and family therapist meets the requirement of the three semester hours in advanced social casework; petitioner is therefore entitled to the school social work endorsement that she seeks; and the SBE's requirement that petitioner's experience must be unsupervised and in a school setting exceeds the requirements of N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-14.5. The ALJ concluded that the petitioner achieved the one-to-one equivalent of the required three semester hours in advanced social casework through her previous work experiences and is therefore entitled to the educational services certificate and endorsement as a school social worker.

Upon review, the Commissioner found, inter alia, that petitioner does not meet the requirements for a school social worker endorsement as she has not met the requirements of N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-14.5; the SBE acted within its discretionary authority when it found that petitioner's alternative experience fails to serve as a one-to-one equivalent of the advanced social casework requirement. Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL was rejected and the petition was dismissed.

This synopsis is not part of the Commissioner's decision. It has been prepared for the convenience of the reader. It has been neither reviewed nor approved by the Commissioner.

Final Decision

Neysa Etienne,

Petitioner,

v.

New Jersey State Board of Examiners,

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed, as have the exceptions filed pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4 by the New Jersey State Board of Examiners (Board), and the petitioner's reply thereto.

In this matter, petitioner challenges the Board's November 5, 2020 denial of her application for a school social worker endorsement[1] based on its determination that her experience was not equivalent to the advance level social casework requirement.[2] In denying her application, the Board found that petitioner had "not accumulated enough one-to-one case experience specifically within a school setting that completion of Advanced Level Social Case work requires." (Exhibit R7).

[1] A school social worker endorsement accompanies an educational services certificate.

[2] In a decision dated September 24, 2019, the Board considered petitioner's alternate experience during a credentials review, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.12, and found that petitioner's experience satisfied the introductory level social casework requirement but failed to meet the advanced social casework or medical information requirements. Following the filing of the petition, the Board agreed to reconsider petitioner's application and review additional materials. In its November 5, 2020 decision, the Board determined that the medical information requirement had been satisfied, but that petitioner was still deficient in the advanced social casework requirement.

Thereafter, in an email from the Board's counsel dated November 19, 2020, the Board provided clarification as to its decision:

> Essentially, the Board is looking for candidates whose experience with children is equivalent to what would be learned in an advanced Masters in Social Work course, i.e., the candidate would have the skills and knowledge to independently work on a child's case from start to finish. The candidate would need [to] show experience in which she had direct contact with children relating to topics that would generally be covered in [a] social work masters class, of which substance abuse is only one. Such experience would entail the following:
> - Determining proper interview methods for child;
> - Talking directly to child and learning about their life;
> - Figuring out and diagnosing what the child's issues are;
> - Reviewing with the child what those issues are;
> - Writing down what the case study was for the child;
> - Counseling them directly on how to correct those issues; and
> - Being the main person doing this and not under the supervision of someone else.
>
> The Board found that [petitioner's] experience in the above listed factors was piecemeal and too often with the support of other people, and therefore did not grant her the credits for advanced social work.
> [(Exhibit P3).]

Following a hearing on the merits, which included the testimony of petitioner, petitioner's former coworker, and the Director of the Office of Certification and Induction, the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) found that petitioner's work experiences – specifically as a mobile crisis school liaison, prevention specialist, and as a licensed associate marriage and family therapist – met the requirement of three semester hours of advanced social casework, and she is therefore entitled to the educational services certificate and endorsement as a school social worker. The ALJ also found that the Board's requirement that her experience be unsupervised and in a school setting exceeded the requirements of N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-14.5.

In its exceptions, the Board argues that it acted within its discretionary authority when it determined that petitioner's alternative experiences "did not demonstrate a one-to-one equivalence of the independent casework diagnosis and interview skills attained by graduate level students in a [master's in social work (MSW)] program by completing advanced level social casework credits, which the school social worker certificate requires." (Board's exceptions at 18). The Board also maintains that it is within its discretionary authority to determine what type of experience constitutes a one-to-one equivalence, so the ALJ erred in finding that the Board could not require unsupervised experience that takes place in a school setting.

The Board takes exception to the ALJ's conclusion that petitioner's work experience qualified as school setting experience and that she therefore meets the requirements for certification. Specifically, the Board contends that the issues petitioner faced in her work were not those typically addressed in a school setting. The Board points out that petitioner admitted in her testimony that her mobile crisis response liaison experience was not long-term counseling and the services she provided as a prevention specialist were primarily done in group settings rather than individual counseling. As such, the Board argues that the Commissioner should reject the Initial Decision because petitioner did not meet the requirements for an endorsement as a school social worker.

In reply, petitioner argues that her experience was only supervised to the extent that she was obtaining a clinical license – which is not a requirement for the social worker endorsement – and that she was not being supervised with respect to the provision of social services. Petitioner also maintains that she worked in school settings and counseled students on school-related issues and completed assessments and diagnoses, provided referrals, and worked with parents and school staff. As such, petitioner agrees with the ALJ that her work experiences met the requirements for certification and the Board erred by denying her application for a school social worker endorsement.

Upon review, the Commissioner finds that petitioner does not meet the requirements for a school social worker endorsement. N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-14.5(b) provides:

> To be eligible for the standard educational services certificate with a school social worker endorsement, the candidate shall hold a master's degree from a regionally accredited college or university and complete a total of 30 graduate-level semester-hour credits with a study in each area listed below:
> 1. Psychology, including general psychology, educational psychology, psychology of adolescence, and child growth and development;
> 2. Special education and/or learning disabilities;
> 3. Social problems, including study in dealing with delinquency, poverty, interracial, and intercultural problems;
> 4. A minimum of six semester-hour credits in introductory and advanced social casework, including principles and practices in social casework, interviewing, and methods and skills in diagnosis;
> 5. Mental hygiene and social psychiatry, including dynamics of human behavior and psychopathology;
> 6. Medical information, including the role of the social worker in health problems or fundamentals of substance abuse and dependency;
> 7. Community organizations, agencies and resources; and
> 8. Social policy and public welfare services, including the care and protection of at-risk children and families.

If a candidate is deficient in certain areas of an application, he or she may provide the Board with "evidence of alternative education and/or experience that he or she believes is equivalent to the area(s) of deficiency." N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.12(b). Thereafter, when considering evidence of alternative education, the Board may not "[p]ermit a candidate to substitute education and/or experience for any test, GPA, degree, or approved educator preparation program completion requirements." N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.12(c). Accordingly, a candidate may satisfy regulatory requirements by using alternative experience "if the petitioner demonstrates, by a preponderance of the credible evidence, that the alternative education is the one-to-one equivalent with the statutory requirements." Jenny Neuhoff v. New Jersey State Board of Examiners, EDU 11780-17, Initial Decision (March 6, 2018), adopted, Commissioner Decision No. 118-18, decided April 13, 2018.

Here, the Board considered the petitioner's alternative experience and properly found that she lacked the equivalent of three semester hours in advanced social casework, as required by N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-14.5(b)(4). Rani Singh (Singh), Director of the Office of Certification and Induction and Secretary of the Board, explained in her testimony that, in contrast to the introductory level requirement, "the advanced level requires more one on one interactions between the social worker and students in a school-like setting in which the social case worker is the main person providing the services without the need of a supervisor so they're basically on their own in this type of setting." (Testimony of Rani Singh, T2 at 16, April 23, 2021). Singh also testified that the Board is looking for a specific set of skills to handle the wide range of issues that a school social worker deals with in the school setting, from making overall diagnoses to treatment for emotional and social issues and substance abuse problems, to counseling regarding academics and college plans. (Id. at 59). The Commissioner disagrees with the ALJ that the Board exceeded its authority in requiring that petitioner's alternative experience be unsupervised and in a school setting to be considered the equivalent of the advanced social casework requirement because such a determination as to what constitutes a one-to-one equivalent is a discretionary one.

Considering petitioner's alternative experience, the Board was not unreasonable in determining that such experience did not qualify as an equivalent of the advanced social casework requirement. First, from November 2017 to the present, petitioner has worked at Clara Maas Medical Center as a mental health screener and child specialist. As a mental health screener, petitioner assesses patients who arrive in the emergency room. She also works as a mobile crisis liaison for schools, going to schools when there is a crisis and assessing the child to determine whether there is a need for hospitalization, in consultation with a psychiatrist. (Exhibit P-5). The Commissioner agrees with the Board that even though petitioner may physically enter schools, the position involves emergency or crisis situations which differ from the issues that are ordinarily addressed in the school environment. Additionally, such evaluations are short term, rather than the long-term counseling that school social workers provide.

Second, petitioner has worked at Wayne Counseling and Family Services (WCAFS) in several roles, starting with a clinical internship in 2014. Petitioner then served as a part time bilingual clinician from December 2015 through May 2015. In January 2019, petitioner returned to WCAFS as an intern working toward full licensure as an associate marriage and family therapist, which she obtained in 2020. In this job, petitioner conducts intake interviews and develops and implements treatment plans focusing on a variety of concerns, including marital/family issues, emotion management, mood disorders, parenting, anxiety, depression, grief, PTSD and personality disorders. (Exhibit P-8). While this position involves counseling over longer periods of time, the Commissioner agrees with the Board that it does not involve a school setting. Petitioner counsels both children and adults, including issues such as marital counseling and parenting issues that are not specific to do not pertain to children, and her position is supervised.

Finally, from April 2016 to September 2017, petitioner worked as a prevention specialist with RWJ Barnabas Health's Institute for Prevention. In that role, petitioner provided lessons on prevention in classrooms and small groups to minimize substance abuse by teaching proper coping skills, anger management, and decision making. (Testimony of Neysa Etienne, T1 at 34, 98-99, February 23, 2021). The Commissioner agrees with the Board that, although petitioner worked with students in school, the position did not involve interviewing, diagnosing and counseling of individuals. Petitioner worked in group settings to teach prevention, rather than counseling students as a school social worker would. Accordingly, the Commissioner finds that petitioner's alternative experience fails to serve as a one-to-one equivalent of the required three semester hours in advanced social casework, such that petitioner does not fully meet the requirements for a school social worker endorsement pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-14.5.

Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL is rejected for the reasons expressed herein. The petition is hereby dismissed.

NEYSA ETIENNE,

Petitioner,

v.

NEW JERSEY STATE BOARD OF EXAMINERS,

Respondent.

Neysa Etienne, pro se

David Kalisky, Deputy Attorney General, for State Board of Examiners (Andrew J. Bruck, Attorney General of New Jersey, attorney)

Record Closed: August 13, 2021 Decided: September 7, 2021

BEFORE NANCI G. STOKES, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner Neysa Etienne applied for a School Social Worker endorsement presenting evidence of her education and work experience.[1] The State Board of

[1] The regulation uses "endorsement" but the Board's decision and materials often use "certificate" instead. A school social worker endorsement accompanies an educational services certificate.

Examiners (Board) determined that Etienne's experience was not equivalent to advanced level social casework, imposing requirements outside the regulation. Is Etienne entitled to the endorsement? Yes. If the Board's denial is not supported by the evidence or is arbitrary, capricious, or contrary to the law, the Commissioner may reject the Board's determination. N.J.A.C. 6A:4-4.1 N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-14.5(b)(6); N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.12(b).

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On September 24, 2019, the Board denied Etienne's application for a School Social Worker certificate.

On November 26, 2019, Etienne appealed.

On February 3, 2020, the Board moved to dismiss and requested that I convert the motion to a motion for summary decision if the case was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law.

On February 7, 2020, the Department of Education, Office of Controversies and Disputes, transmitted the case to the OAL as a contested case under the Administrative Procedure Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15, and the act establishing the OAL, N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -23, for a hearing under the Uniform Administrative Procedure Rules, N.J.A.C. 1:1-1.1 to -21.6.

On February 24, 2020, Etienne filed her opposition to the motion, and on March 12, 2020, the Board submitted its reply.

On April 24, 2020, I denied the Board's motion concluding that genuine factual issues existed.

The Board agreed to reconsider and review additional materials regarding Etienne's certification application.

On November 5, 2020, the Board accepted that Etienne's experience met the required medical-information coursework component, but still denied Etienne's application for school social worker.

I adjourned scheduled hearings due to witness illness and unavailability. On February 23, 2021, and April 23, 2021, I conducted hearings via Zoom because of continued COVID-19 restrictions precluding in-person proceedings. The Board requested transcripts, and the parties agreed to supply post-hearing submissions.

On May 28, 2021, Etienne submitted her post-hearing arguments.

On August 13, 2021, the Board filed its submission, and I closed the record.

FINDINGS OF FACT

The parties do not dispute many of the background facts in this case. I FIND the following FACTS:

On September 9, 2014, Etienne first requested a school social worker certification. This application included her Kean University transcripts indicating a Bachelor of Arts degree with a major of psychology, a Master of Arts in behavioral sciences and psychological services, and a professional diploma in marriage and family therapy.

On November 15, 2015, the Board denied her request noting deficiencies that included "a minimum of 6 semester-hour credits of introductory and advanced level social work" and the "medical information" component.

On February 25, 2016, in response to Etienne's request for reconsideration, the Board advised Etienne that she could use experience to demonstrate "one-to-one equivalence of your experience/coursework to the licensure deficiency." In particular, the Board instructed Etienne to address each deficiency area:

> Documentation of experience should include not only original letters by appropriate employers and those responsible for providing alternative study indicating dates of employment and job responsibilities, but should also include information relevant to the specific areas of deficiency. The material you submit for review must include the completed summary sheet and notarized statement that all documentation is true and accurate. It is recommended that in addition to documentation of employment and academic study, you include in your packet a narrative statement in which you clearly outline the one-to-one equivalency of your experience/coursework to the licensure deficiency.
> [Id.]

The Board initially denied Etienne's 2019 application because she did not have experience equivalent "for the advanced social case work or the medical information requirement. Specifically, the experience offered does not contain substance abuse/awareness content which is a content area that is covered by advanced level casework." However, Etienne now satisfied the three-hour semester credits for introductory social case work.

Etienne's appeal addressed her substance abuse experience noting she worked extensively "with patients that have intentionally or unintentionally overdosed on various drugs." Further, she served as a "school-based prevention specialist" through Robert Wood Johnson's Barnabas Behavioral Health Center (BHC) focusing on substance abuse prevention. Since November 2017, Etienne has worked as a mental health screener at RWJ Barnabas Clara Maas (Clara Maas) in the psychiatric emergency screening unit that provides, in part, assessment of substance abuse.

Etienne's application also noted that she was a certified trainer in Screening, Brief Intervention, and Referral to Treatment (SBIRT) through the Rutgers Center for Alcohol Studies. Further, Etienne attended multiple professional workshops related to substance abuse.

Lastly, Etienne is a licensed associate marriage and family therapist (LAMFT) working part-time at an out-patient family and marriage therapist at Wayne Counseling and Family Services (WCFS).

The Board agreed to reconsider Etienne's application materials and allow additional documentation addressing the deficiencies raised in the initial decision.

Before the Board's July 30, 2020, meeting, Etienne supplied supplemental records used in her jobs and explained why she believed her experience was equivalent to all regulatory requirements. Documentation included: the psychiatric screening form with Columbia suicide severity rating scale (CSSRS) completed by Etienne independently at Clara Maas; a 2015 letter from WCFS; small group attendance form and lesson plan supporting ongoing weekly sessions; and New Jersey Early Intervention System log evidencing weekly in-home therapeutic services to a child.

On November 5, 2020, the Board issued a subsequent decision concluding that Etienne's experience satisfied the medical information component of the regulation but still did not meet the advanced level social case work element. The Board explained that Etienne "has not accumulated enough one-to-one experience specifically within a school setting that completion of advanced level social case work requires."

On behalf of the Board, counsel provided additional clarification, and framed the issue in this case:

> Essentially, the Board is looking for candidates whose experience with children is equivalent to what would be learned in an advanced Masters in Social Work course, i.e., the candidate would have the skills and knowledge to independently work on a child's case from start to finish. The candidate would need [to] show experience in which she had direct contact with children relating to topics that would generally be covered in a social work master's class, of which substance abuse is only one. Such experience would entail the following:
> - Determining proper interview methods for child;
> - Talking directly to child and learning about their life;
> - Figuring out and diagnosing what the child's issues are;
> - Reviewing with the child what those issues are;
> - Writing down what the case study was for the child;
> - Counseling them directly on how to correct those issues; and

- Being the main person doing this and not under the supervision of someone else.

The Board found that Ms. [Etienne's] experience in the above listed factors was piecemeal and too often with the support of other people, and therefore did not grant her the credits for advanced social casework.

Petitioner's Case

Nyesa Etienne

Etienne testified that she initially focused her appeal on her extensive training in substance abuse and awareness as the Board's decision, in her opinion, focused only on the lack of this content area within the advanced level social casework requirement. She considers the Board's subsequent November 2020 decision a change in the alleged insufficiency. Etienne maintains that she assessed and worked with clients and children independently rather than primarily supervised, diagnosed children, and worked with children "long-term."

In 2014, Etienne completed a 500-hour clinical internship at WCFS, working with children, adults, and families. After receiving her professional diploma in marriage and family therapy, Etienne held a part-time clinical position from December 2014 until May 2015. In January 2019, Etienne returned as an LAMFT under supervision until she obtains her full licensure. Etienne provides ongoing counseling for marital and family issues, emotion management, mood disorders, parenting, anxiety, depression, grief, PTSD, and personality disorders. Etienne is assigned a caseload with a variety of consumer populations. WCFS's executive director's May 2019 letter, supplied with her application, explains Eitienne's responsibilities to include:

- Complete biopsychosocial intakes while utilizing therapeutic interviewing skills
- Develop and implement individualized treatment plans with clients
- Utilize her expertise for DS and diagnosis and treatment services
- Direct weekly therapeutic sessions for assigned caseload
- Provide crisis intervention and advocacy services via providing information and referrals

- Outreach and coordination with other social service agencies
- Progress notes and other reports as needed
- Discharge planning
- Principals (sic) practiced include ethical concepts such as confidentiality and disclosing requirements

From April 2016 until September 2017, Etienne worked as a prevention specialist through BHC's Institute for Prevention and Recovery, running ongoing programs for Essex County schools. She provided classroom and small group instruction using recognized substance abuse prevention and family strengthening programs in this role. This involved courses to students, small groups, parents, and school staff members focusing on intervention and referral services in the school and community. The twenty-four session program to students provided lessons on decision-making, empathy, emotion management, problem-solving, assertiveness, and refusal skills. Etienne's identified discussion topics promoted school success, school correctness, and promoting a safe, respectful school environment while addressing problem behaviors, peer rejection, impulsivity, anti-social behavior, and low academic achievement. Etienne also ran a seven-week parent training program to identify and address problematic youth behaviors and improve family functioning. Etienne developed and ran these programs independently.

At the time of her application, she possessed a temporary mental health screener certification following training at Rutgers University Behavioral Healthcare Center (Rutgers). Her training through Rutgers involved education, a competency assessment in the field, and an exam that she passed. Etienne became a fully licensed screener after passing the exam in May 2019.

Etienne performs clinical assessment, patient interviews, diagnoses, counseling, service delivery coordinating, and recommends appropriate disposition as a screener. The New Jersey screening form requires documentation in multiple areas of concern, including family, mental health and medical history, substance abuse, and education. In addition, Etienne completes a CSSRS to address any suicidal behavior. As Etienne performs mental health screening in a medical setting, medical professionals also perform medical evaluations. Before receiving the full screener certification, she would complete all tasks but could not sign off on the legal form to recommend admission or discharge of a patient. Yet, she would perform all assessment responsibilities independently and make the recommendation. The order to admit or discharge a patient is a medical task that the psychiatrist can only perform. Still, the psychiatrist does not revise or change the clinician assessment or recommendation, even if they disagree with the recommended admission or discharge. Further, the psychiatrist would not dictate interviewing methods or what information to include in the assessment report.

Etienne also acts as the Essex County liaison for mobile crisis response to schools and their students in this position. Etienne testified that she serves in that role three times a week and physically goes to the school. COVID-19 made such in-person meetings less, but still acts as the child specialist and is the person assigned to addressing school-based referrals. Etienne testified that she performs this task at the request of the school social worker, administrator, or guidance counselor that has identified a child in crisis. Etienne also involves family members in the interview process and requires family consent to evaluate the child. The school staff or family members would provide collateral information such as the attendance record or mental health history. Legally, schools may require another person in the room during her interview process, but they serve only as observers or provide collateral information. Like the hospital setting, a psychiatrist would still need to order admission to the hospital as this is a medical decision. Thus, Etienne would report her findings to the psychiatrist to accomplish such an admission. Etienne acknowledges that in an emergency setting, many of her patient interactions would be short-term.

Etienne believes the Board misunderstands supervision in the context of her positions and suggests focusing on "supervision" is not appropriate in denying the endorsement. She notes that an MSW may serve as a school social worker. Yet, Etienne asserts that the holder of a master's degree in Social Work (MSW) or licensed social worker (LSW) cannot provide clinical therapeutic services without supervision. Etienne possesses a license as an associate marriage and family therapist (LAMFT) similar to that of a licensed social worker (LSW). Etienne still works under a supervisor when providing clinical therapy services, as would an LSW.

Jackelin Alerte

Since 2015 Alerte has worked as a full-time school social worker and is a Licensed Clinical Social Worker. Alerte is also a certified mental health screener since 2010 and works at Clara Maas as the supervisor of the psychiatric emergency room, where she worked with Etienne since 2018. Alerte also performs outpatient counseling in addition to hospital-based mental health screening.

Alerte explained what a school social worker does, and the credentials needed to become a licensed social worker. In New Jersey, an LSW works under the supervision of an LCSW. However, a school social worker is not required to be either an LSW or LCSW. Thus, a school social worker may possess an MSW, and may even be an LSW, but both holders would be under supervision of an LCSW. Alerte currently supervises a school social worker that is not fully licensed. Regardless, a MSW cannot provide clinical social worker services without an LSW or LCSW designation. Clinical social worker services include assessing, diagnosing, treating, and preventing mental illness, emotional, and other behavioral problems. Individual, group, and family therapy are common treatment modalities. Alerte explained that introductory social casework is more theoretical, while advanced casework involves practice with children and families and potential for substance use and abuse specialization.

Through working with Etienne, Alerte observed many of the skills the Board asserts Etienne lacks. Alerte's supervisory role is not of the clinicians such as Etienne but of the unit itself. Alerte testified that Etienne has extensive experience determining the appropriate interview methods, speaking, interacting with children and their families, preparing case studies, diagnosing issues, and developing counseling plans.

A screener would also contact a child's school as part of their assessment. Although the emergency room psychiatric unit sees both adults and children, Etienne handles most child cases given her experience. While most cases are short-term, some patients have ongoing issues, and the screening unit sees them regularly.

Moreover, while Alerte did not directly observe Etienne in her outpatient therapist role, certain aspects of that position are routine. They would be part of any outpatient therapist's job, including long-term therapy services. Alerte also confirmed that Etienne's duties described by the WCFS director are like her outpatient therapist responsibilities. As an LAMFT, Etienne's coursework and experience are similar to that of Alerte. Further, family involvement is critical in providing social work services in school.

Alerte highlights that crisis intervention is a growing aspect of a school social worker's job. Alerte helped her school district hire school social workers and believes that Etienne's crisis response training and knowledge would be an asset to any school. Alerte believes that Etienne far exceeds the requirements of a school social worker.

Respondent's Case

Rani Singh

Singh currently serves as the Director of the Office of Certification and Induction (OCI) and the Board Secretary. Previously, Singh was the chief OCI examiner beginning in 2005.

Singh oversees the certification, induction, and mentoring of all educator candidates. As the Board Secretary, she also manages the Board's appeal and legal section. As to the school social worker certificate, Singh highlighted that "applicants must meet our regulations, our state regulations for certification for school social worker and all other certificate areas."

Singh was familiar with Etienne's numerous applications and explained that a social worker position is not the equivalent of a school social worker position. Moreover, unlike the introductory social casework requirement, "the advanced level [casework] requires more one-on-one interactions between the social worker and students in a school-like setting in which the social case worker is the main person providing the services [on their own] without the need of a supervisor."

Singh explained that Etienne's submitted work experience with children failed to show a one-to-one correspondence to experience that completion of the three graduate-level semester-hour credits in advanced-level social casework requires. Etienne's work experience in hospitals and counseling centers cannot be considered experience the Board finds equivalent to the advanced social casework requirement because the experience is "not in a school setting." Singh testified that the Board regarded such experience as essential "because a majority of the [school social worker's] experience deals with [the] same children on a long term basis." Indeed, school social workers counsel children on typical issues arising in school. including "making case studies with them, long term case studies . . . [ranging from] mental health stress, to going to high school, college, drug, substance abuse, all of those issues that kids face in a [preschool through grade twelve] setting."

Singh acknowledges that she lacks knowledge about the day-to-day responsibilities of a school social worker and has no background or experience in either the mental health or social work fields.

ADDITIONAL FINDINGS OF FACT

Having had the opportunity to observe the witnesses' testimony and demeanor, together with the documentary evidence, and my assessment of their sufficiency, I FIND, by the preponderance of credible evidence, the following additional FACTS:

Etienne provides long-term counseling services to children, adults, and families at WCFS, under supervision because she is an LAMFT. Yet, an MSW employed as a school social worker would also need such supervision. In this regard, Etienne's LAMFT is more akin to an LSW. Indeed, an MSW that applies for and obtains a LSW can provide clinical social work services under supervision as Etienne provides clinical therapeutic services to families with a LAMFT under supervision.

Moreover, Etienne's out-patient therapist duties include interviewing and diagnosing a diverse client population that includes children, developing, and implementing a treatment plan, and preparation of notes and reports. Indeed, this job entails a multitude of topics and issues outside of substance abuse, including family difficulties and emotional problems.

Further, Etienne worked with Essex county to provide in-school instructional and counseling sessions to students and small groups, parent training, and staff development. While the twenty-four week program focused on substance abuse prevention, Etienne assessed students and covered many social and emotional skills attempting to create an improved home and school environment.

Etienne worked independently in performing tasks as a mental health screener. Specifically, Etienne completes a clinical assessment, interviews, and diagnoses patients, provides counseling, and recommends appropriate disposition. While Etienne makes the admission or discharge recommendation, she could not sign a form presented to the psychiatrist for admission until receiving her full screener certification. Although a physician makes a medical determination as to admission, her assessment remains, and the psychiatrist is not involved in the way Etienne performs her assessment.

Moreover, Etienne acts as the mobile response liaison to schools for the emergency room psychiatric unit at Clara Maas. This role places her in a school setting with children in crisis and any involvement of school personnel does not detract from the independence of the student evaluation she conducts.

In issuing a school social worker endorsement based on alternate experience, the Board essentially certifies that the applicant completed the approved program of study by gaining the core skills required by the regulation.

DISCUSSION AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Here, Etienne "carries the burden of demonstrating by a preponderance of the credible evidence that she is entitled to the endorsement she seeks." McQuilken v. N.J. St. Bd. of Exam'rs, OAL Dkt. No. EDU 8374-11, Initial Decision (Dec. 13, 2011), adopted Comm'r (January 27, 2012). http://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal/search.html.

In evaluating determinations by the Board of Examiners, "the Commissioner . . . shall not disturb the decision if the "decision is supported by sufficient credible evidence in the record" unless the appellant has demonstrated that the Board . . . acted in a manner that was arbitrary, capricious or contrary to law." N.J.A.C. 6A:4-4.1 The Department of Education intended the standard of review for Commissioner determinations under Chapter Six to be "appellate in nature." 40 N.J.R. 4606(a).[2]

The arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable standard consists of three inquiries:

> (1) whether the agency action violates the enabling act's express or implied legislative policies; (2) whether there is substantial evidence in the record to support the findings upon which the agency based application of legislative policies; and (3) whether, in applying the legislative policies to the facts, the agency clearly erred by reaching a conclusion that could not reasonably have been made upon a showing of the relevant factors.

However, where there is room for two opinions the action is not arbitrary or capricious when exercised honestly and upon due consideration even though court may believe that an erroneous conclusion has been reached." Bayshore Sewerage Co. v. Department of Environmental Protection, 122 N.J. Super. 184, 199 (App. Div. 1973) (Internal citations omitted). Significantly, a "court should not substitute its judgment for that of an administrative or legislative body if there is substantial evidence to support the ruling." Ibid.

All teaching staff members in the state's public schools must hold a valid certificate before serving in any role in which they "teach, administer, direct or supervise the teaching, instruction, or educational guidance" of students. N.J.S.A. 18A:26-2. Under N.J.S.A. 18A:6-38 and N.J.S.A. 18A:26-2.7, the Board promulgated regulations for the required certification of persons employed in a public school district. Under those regulations, the Board issues three categories of educational certificates: instructional, administrative, and educational services. N.J.A.C. 6A:9-5.2(a). Endorsements for an educational services certificate include staff members such as a school psychologist or a school social worker. See N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-14.5, -14.9. These endorsements "coincide with the educational subjects or positions that share common attributes and thus are grouped under a particular certificate." Dennery v. Bd. of Educ., 131 N.J. 626, 633 (1993).

[2] In 2016, the Department of Education re-adopted the standard of review and amended N.J.A.C. 6A:4-4.1 to include the same standard of review for decisions by the School Ethics Commission. 48 N.J.R. 2782(a).

Accordingly, a person can work in the particular field based upon the endorsement(s) enumerated on the certificate.

Under N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-14.5(a), the school social worker endorsement allows the holder to act a school social worker within New Jersey in preschool through grade twelve. N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-14.5(c) advises that persons holding "a master's degree in social work from a regionally accredited college or university will be issued a standard educational services certificate with a school social worker endorsement." Notably, experience in a "school setting" is not required of an MSW before issuing a school social worker endorsement.

This significantly contrasts with other school staff member endorsements. For example, the Board will issue a school psychologist certificate to holders of a currently valid Nationally Certified School Psychologist[3] (NCSP) license under N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-14.9(e). Even alternate route master's degree applicants, must complete an externship of 1,200 hours, consisting of a "minimum of 600 clock hours . . . completed in a school setting with school-age children." N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-14.9(b)3. Moreover, the Board can issue a school psychologist certificate to the holder of a master's degree in clinical psychology [who] "presents official documentation of 600 clock hours of experience as a psychologist working with children in a clinical setting [and meets] the school psychology externship and practicum requirements by completing a 900-clock-hour school psychology externship in a New Jersey school, with school-age children, under [an] emergency certificate." N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-14.9(b)4.

Relevant to Etienne's application, N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-14.5(b) provides that other master's degree holders like Etienne can obtain the school social worker endorsement after completion of thirty graduate-level semester-hour credits with study in the following areas:

> 1. Psychology, including general psychology, educational psychology, psychology of adolescence, and child growth and development;

[3] Requiring successful completion of a 1,200-hour internship in school psychology, of which at least 600 hours must be in a school setting.

> 2. Special education and/or learning disabilities;
> 3. Social problems, including study in dealing with delinquency, poverty, interracial, and intercultural problems;
> 4. A minimum of six semester-hour credits in introductory and advanced social casework, including principles and practices in social casework, interviewing, and methods and skills in diagnosis;
> 5. Mental hygiene and social psychiatry, including dynamics of human behavior and psychopathology;
> 6. Medical information, including the role of the social worker in health problems or fundamentals of substance abuse and dependency;
> 7. Community organizations, agencies, and resources; and
> 8. Social policy and public welfare services, including the care and protection of at-risk children and families.

The Board determined that Etienne only lacks three semester hours of advanced social casework. Under N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.12(b), if an applicant is deficient on certification requirements, they may present "evidence of alternative education and/or experience that he or she believes is equivalent to the area(s) of deficiency." However, the Board cannot waive or permit substitute experience for any test, GPA, degree completion, or approved educator preparation program completion requirement. N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-4.12 (c).

While the Board cannot waive the requirements, it can consider alternative education or experience if Etienne demonstrates, by a preponderance of the credible evidence, that the alternative education or experience is the one-to-one equivalent with the statutory requirements. Hutchinson v. New Jersey State Board of Examiners, EDU16373-12, Initial Decision (April 5, 2013), aff'd, Commissioner (May 15, 2013).

The Board of Social Worker Examiners addresses licensing and defines tasks permitted under social work certifications and licenses. "Clinical social work" means the professional application of social work methods and values in the assessment and psychotherapeutic counseling of individuals, families, or psychotherapy groups. N.J.A.C. 13:44G-1.2. Clinical assessment considers accepted diagnostic classifications. Id. Psychotherapeutic counseling is "an ongoing interaction between a social worker and an individual, family, or psychotherapy group for the purpose of helping to resolve symptoms of mental disorder, psychosocial stress, relationship problems, or difficulties in coping with the social environment." Id. "Clinical social work services" can be performed only by an LCSW or an LSW under supervision [of an LCSW] under N.J.A.C. 13:44G-8. Id. (Emphasis added). In other words, without being an LCSW, an MSW cannot provide clinical social work services unless supervised.

The Board's November 5, 2020, decision requires experience within a school setting. Yet, unlike other endorsements, the regulation does not require experience in a school setting for the endorsement. Indeed, an MSW may have a degree and fieldwork but not necessarily within a school setting and can still qualify for the endorsement. Still, I found that Etienne has school setting experience as the mobile crisis school liaison in her mental screener position and as a prevention specialist completing a program with students and families addressing school-related, inter-personal, and substance abuse issues.

Further, Etienne's clinical work as a LAMFT involves long-term services to children, and she employs the skills expected by the Board. Specifically, I found that Etienne interviews, diagnoses, counsels, develops a case study or treatment plan, and prepares progress notes and reports.

Moreover, a MSW would require supervision to provide any clinical social work services. The one-to-one equivalence is directed to the three semester hours of advanced social work. A graduate student in an MSW program is just that; a student performing "advanced social casework" in a supervised educational program obtaining a grade or satisfactory completion. The Board is not required to issue a school social work endorsement only to a LCSW authorized to provide clinical social work services without supervision.

Therefore, I CONCLUDE that the Board's imposition of school setting prerequisites, even if preferred, is not within the regulation and beyond the regulation's requirements. I similarly CONCLUDE that the Board's insistence that Etienne have unsupervised job experience to have one-to-one equivalence to a supervised educational program exceeds the regulation's requirements. Moreover, given my findings of fact and this discussion, I CONCLUDE that a preponderance of the evidence exists that Etienne achieved one-to-one equivalence to the three semester hours of advanced social casework through her previous work experiences. Thus, I CONCLUDE that the Board's decision is insufficiently supported, and Etienne is entitled to the educational services certificate and endorsement as a school social worker.

ORDER

Given my findings of fact and conclusions of law, I ORDER that the Board of Examiner's denial be and is hereby REVERSED, and that Etienne be given an educational certification with a school social worker endorsement.

This order may be reviewed by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION upon interlocutory review under N.J.A.C. 1:1-14.10 or at the end of the contested case under N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.6.

Final Decision

Board of Education of the Borough of Kinnelon, Morris County, Petitioner,

v.

Karen D'Amico,

Respondent.

Synopsis

The petitioning Board contended that respondent – a member of the Kinnelon Board of Education – violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2, which mandates that no one may serve on a board of education if they have a direct or indirect interest in a claim against the board on which he/she sits. The Board argued that respondent is disqualified from serving as a member because of a special education due process petition that her husband filed against the Board, asserting that their child was being denied educational services for the 2020-2021 school year and seeking reimbursement for the cost of the child's attendance at a private school. Also at issue is a letter sent by respondent to the Board on August 13, 2021, notifying the Board of her intent to unilaterally place her child in a private school and reserving the right to seek reimbursement for the costs of that placement if the dispute between the parties over the child's services was not resolved amicably within 10 days. The parties filed cross motions for summary decision.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: there is no genuine issue as to any material fact here, and the matter is ripe for summary decision; the pivotal issue in this case is whether respondent, who is indisputably a Board member, is in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 through her interest either directly or indirectly in a claim against the Board; when the instant due process petition was filed, respondent was in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2, as even without her name on the petition, respondent nevertheless had an interest in a claim against the Board; however, one hour after electronically filing the petition in February 2021, the respondent and her husband requested that their petition be disregarded, without additional explanation. The ALJ concluded that respondent was in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 when the due process petition involving her child was filed against the Board, but the withdrawal of that petition one hour after filing remedied the violation; further, the 10-day letter did not violate N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2. Accordingly, the ALJ granted respondent's motion for summary decision and denied the Board's motion for summary decision.

Upon review, the Commissioner, inter alia, concurred with the ALJ that respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 by filing the due process petition, but that the violation was remedied when the petition was later withdrawn. However, the Commissioner found that by sending the 10 day letter, respondent asserted a claim against the Board that has the potential to disqualify her from serving as a Board member. Being unable to conclude on the present record whether there is currently a substantial conflict between the parties, the Commissioner remanded the matter to the OAL for additional fact finding.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Board of Education of the Borough of Kinnelon, Morris County, Petitioner,

v.

Karen D'Amico,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL), the exceptions filed by the Board pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4, and respondent's reply thereto, have been reviewed and considered.

In this matter, the Board contends that respondent, who is a member of the Board, has a direct or indirect interest in a substantial financial claim against the Board in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 and is therefore disqualified from serving as a member of the Board. The Board's claim arises from a special education due process petition that respondent[1] filed against the Board, in which respondent asserted that her child was being denied educational services by the Board for the 2020-2021 school year and sought reimbursement of costs of the child's attendance at a private school. Also at issue is a letter sent by respondent to the Board on August 13, 2021, in which respondent notified the Board of her intent to unilaterally place her child in a private school and reserved the right to seek reimbursement for the costs of that placement if the dispute between the parties over the child's services was not resolved amicably within 10 days (10-day letter). Following cross-motions for summary decision, the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) concluded that respondent was in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 when the due process petition involving her child was filed against the Board, but the withdrawal of that petition one hour after filing remedied the violation. The ALJ further concluded that the 10-day letter did not violate N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2. Accordingly, the ALJ granted respondent's motion for summary decision and denied the Board's motion for summary decision.

[1] The due process petition omitted respondent's name and was ostensibly filed solely by her spouse. However, as respondent's interests – both parental and financial – would also be served by the relief sought in the petition, the Commissioner concludes that it is appropriate to treat the petition as if it was also filed by respondent.

In its exceptions, the Board argues that N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 does not require a board member to file or participate in pending litigation to have a conflict, but only that there is a likelihood of litigation, particularly when a claim includes a request for specific monetary relief. The Board contends that respondent's withdrawal of the due process petition is immaterial and cannot cure her conflict of interest. The Board further points to a history of petitions filed by respondent as demonstrating a likelihood of litigation, as well as her actual interest in a claim against the Board. [2]

In reply, respondent argues that she does not have a disqualifying conflict of interest because she does not have a pending claim against the Board, which distinguishes her circumstances from those at issue in the cases cited by the Board. Respondent contends that her withdrawal of the due process petition demonstrates that litigation between the parties is unlikely.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurs with the ALJ that by filing a due process petition seeking monetary relief from the Board, respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2, and that the violation was remedied when the petition was withdrawn one hour later.[3]

However, the Commissioner disagrees that the 10-day letter cannot be a "claim" against the Board because no due process petition was filed relative to the letter. The Commissioner has previously held that a Notice of Tort Claim filed against a board of education constitutes a claim. Bd. of Educ. of the Borough of Berlin, Camden Cty. v. Charlotte Lee, Commissioner Decision No. 238-02 (June 14, 2002). In that matter, the Commissioner affirmed the Initial Decision, in which the ALJ noted that a "notice of tort claim is not merely an inchoate claim that may be pursued at some future date, but represents an actual claim against a public entity which may be subject to settlement and, failing that, may be the subject of a future court action against the public entity." Bd. of Educ. of the Borough of Berlin, Camden Cty. v. Charlotte Lee, EDU 6050-01 (Apr. 29, 2002). Just as the law requires a Notice of Tort Claim to be filed prior to commencing legal action against a public entity, the law also requires parents seeking reimbursement from a board of education for a unilateral placement to send a 10-day letter. N.J.A.C. 6A:14-2.10. Such reimbursement is obtainable through litigation at the OAL. Ibid. By sending the letter, respondent has asserted a claim against the Board that has the potential to disqualify her from serving as a Board member.

[3] Given the fact-specific nature of the type of conflict analysis at issue in this matter, the Commissioner finds the extremely short time frame significant.

However, the Commissioner is mindful of the findings of the New Jersey Supreme Court concerning disputes about special education services for the children of board of education members. In Bd. of Educ. of City of Sea Isle City v. Kennedy, 196 N.J. 1 (2008), the Court concluded that a board member should not be removed from office merely because she advanced a claim against the board involving her or her immediate family member's interest. Id. at 17-18. The Court recognized that disagreements between parents of special education students and the board of education may require effort to resolve, and multiple meetings or even mediation following the filing of a due process hearing request may not always be the type of conflict that requires removal. Id. at 21-22. The Court instructed the Commissioner to examine the nature of the dispute to determine "when a conflict over a child's educational program becomes so substantial that removal from office is required." Id. at 22. Finally, the Court concluded that when a due process claim includes a specific request for monetary relief, a substantial conflict has occurred, and removal is appropriate. Ibid.

The Commissioner is unable to conclude, based on the current record, whether there is currently a substantial conflict between the parties. The 10-day letter indicates that respondent will unilaterally place her child in a private school if the matter is not resolved, but there is no further information regarding whether a resolution occurred. If a resolution did occur, then the dispute may not be substantial enough to warrant respondent's removal from the board. If a resolution did not occur, and respondent followed through with the unilateral placement, respondent has a claim for monetary relief against the Board that precludes her continued service as a board member.

Accordingly, this matter is remanded for further fact-finding regarding the current state of the dispute between the parties identified in the August 13, 2021 10-day letter sent by respondent to the Board.

OAL DKT. NO. EDU 04830-21
AGENCY DKT. NO. 43-3/21

BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE BOROUGH OF KINNELON, MORRIS COUNTY, Petitioner,
v.
KAREN D'AMICO,
Respondent.

Jarrid H. Kantor, Esq., for petitioner (Antonelli Kantor, attorneys)

Hillary D. Freeman, Esq., for respondent (Freeman Law Offices, attorneys)

Record Closed: August 26, 2021 Decided: October 19, 2021

BEFORE KELLY J. KIRK, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner, Kinnelon Board of Education (Board or KBOE) requests, inter alia, that the Commissioner of Education construe the provisions of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 and determine and declare that Board Member Karen D'Amico has "a direct or indirect interest in a substantial financial claim" against the Board and is disqualified from serving as a member of the Board as a result of said financial claims, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On or about April 13, 2021, the Board filed with the New Jersey Department of Education an amended Verified Petition for a Declaratory Ruling Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-2.1 (Verified Petition).[1] On or about May 4, 2021, respondent filed an answer to the Verified Petition, which includes an affirmative defense that the Verified Petition "fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted against Respondent."

By letter dated June 1, 2021, the Acting Commissioner of Education notified the parties as follows:

> I have reviewed the petition for declaratory ruling in the above-captioned matter, together with the respondent's answer. Upon such review I have determined to exercise my discretion to decline the request pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-8 and N.J.A.C. 6A:3-2.1(a)1, and instead direct that the matter shall proceed as a petition of appeal pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.1 et seq.
> Accordingly, petitioner's request for a declaratory ruling is declined and this matter shall be transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law.

The Department of Education (Department) transmitted the case to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) where it was filed on June 11, 2021. The transmittal noted that "Petitioner filed motion for summary decision following filing of answer (hard copy to follow due to size)," but the hard copy of the motion was not transmitted. On June 30, 2021, petitioner submitted a copy of the motion directly to the OAL, consisting of a statement of material facts and brief. On July 29, 2021, respondent filed a response/cross-motion for summary decision, consisting of a brief. Petitioner filed a reply letter brief on August 20, [1] Per Mr. Kantor's April 12, 2021, letter to the Department of Education, it was amended to incorporate additional redactions and to remove the Board's request for attorneys' fees.

2021. On August 25, 2021, petitioner supplemented its filing with a letter and attachment. On August 26, 2021, respondent replied thereto by way of an email.

DECLARATORY RULING

The Verified Petition identifies the parties and contains a statement of facts reflecting "Actual and Threatened Litigation filed by D'Amicos Prior to D'Amico Being Sworn In as a Member of the KBOE" and "Actual and Threatened Litigation filed by D'Amicos Subsequent to D'Amico Being Sworn In as a Member of the KBOE," and two counts. Count One is as follows:

> 24. Petitioner Kinnelon Board of Education repeats and re-alleges each of the forgoing paragraphs of this Verified Petition as if set forth at length herein.
> 25. N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 mandates that no board member may serve who has a direct or indirect interest in a claim against the board of education on which he/she sits.
> 26. Each of the Due Process Petitions filed by the D'Amicos requested the following monetary relief: 1) an order finding the D'Amicos are entitled to tuition reimbursement for D.D.'s private school education; 2) an Order directing the District to reimburse the D'Amicos for all costs and expenses incurred as the result of required educational services for D.D., including but not limited transportation [sic] and tutoring services; and 3) reserved the right to seek reimbursement of attorneys' and expert fees and costs, as well as other relief.
> 27. Each of the D'Amicos' 10-Day letters sent to the KBOE further place the KBOE on notice that the D'Amicos intended to see reimbursement of all costs associated with D.D.'s placement in a private school for the 2018-19, 2019-20, and 2020-21 school years.
> 28. Karen D'Amico has previously and continues to have a direct or indirect substantial financial interest in her claims against the KBOE for reimbursement of the costs paid by the D'Amicos for D.D.'s attendance at a private school for the stated school years, anticipated to exceed $30,000 per school year.
> 29. The D'Amico's [sic] have given no indication that they are abandoning their 2020-2021 claims with prejudice and the KBOE has been placed on statutory notice of said claims.

WHEREFORE, the Petitioner, Kinnelon Board of Education, respectfully prays that the Commissioner shall construe the provisions of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 and determine and declare the following: (a) Respondent Karen D'Amico has a direct or indirect interest in a substantial financial claim against the Kinnelon Board of Education; (b) Respondent is disqualified from serving as a member of the Kinnelon Board of Education, as a result of said financial claims, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2; (c) Awarding Petitioner any other relief as may be just, proper and equitable.

Count Two is as follows:

30. Petitioner Kinnelon Board of Education repeats and re-alleges each of the forgoing paragraphs of this Verified Petition as if set forth at length herein.
31. The D'Amicos have filed three separate Due Process Petitions against the Kinnelon Board of Education since August of 2019.
32. The D'Amicos' claims arising out of the 2020-21 school year on behalf of D.D. currently remain unresolved.
33. The D'Amicos' [sic] continue to pursue the claim that D.D. is being denied required educational services for the 2020-21 school year.
34. No agreement between the Kinnelon Board of Education and the D'Amicos has been reached with respect to the claims asserted on behalf of D.D. in connection with the provision of educational services since D.D.'s removal from the District in 2018.
35. As of this date, Respondent has not abandoned any of the previously noticed claims for the 2020-21 school year, with prejudice.
36. It is likely that resolution of said claims will require protracted litigation.
37. Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2, Karen D'Amico's direct or indirect interest in said unresolved claims constitute a substantial interest in claims against the Kinnelon Board of Education.
38. Said interest disqualifies Respondent from serving as a member of the Kinnelon Board of Education.

WHEREFORE, the Petitioner, Kinnelon Board of Education, respectfully prays that the Commissioner shall construe the provisions of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 and determine and declare the following: (a) Respondent Karen D'Amico has a direct or > indirect interest in a substantial financial claim against the Kinnelon Board of Education; (b) Respondent is disqualified from serving as a member of the Kinnelon Board of Education, as a result of said financial claims, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2; (c) Awarding Petitioner any other relief as may be just, proper and equitable.

As set forth above, both counts seek "that the Commissioner shall construe the provisions of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 and determine and declare" that D'Amico has a direct or indirect interest "in a substantial financial claim" against the Board and that she is disqualified from serving as a member of the Board.

N.J.A.C. 6A:3-2.1 governs petitions for a declaratory ruling as follows:

> (a) Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-8[2], any interested person(s) may petition the Commissioner for a declaratory ruling with respect to rights, responsibilities, and status arising from any statute or rule within the jurisdiction of the Commissioner. The determination to entertain such petitions for declaratory ruling shall be within the sole discretion of the Commissioner. If such request is granted, the matter shall proceed in accordance with this chapter as they pertain to petitions. A declaratory ruling shall be binding upon the Commissioner and all parties to the proceedings on the specific statement of facts set forth therein.
> > 1. A request for a declaratory ruling shall reflect adverse positions on the statute or rule in question by the parties in interest, may not seek consequential relief beyond a declaration as to the meaning of the statute or rule, and may not be based on underlying facts that are future, contingent, uncertain, or disputed.
> (b) Except that the format of the petition shall be as set forth in this subchapter, the rules pertaining to filing, service

[2] Subject to the provisions of section 4(b) and 4(e) of chapter 20, laws of 1944, as amended and supplemented (C. 52:17A-4b and 4e), an agency upon the request of any interested person may in its discretion make a declaratory ruling with respect to the applicability to any person, property or state of facts of any statute or rule enforced or administered by that agency. A declaratory ruling shall bind the agency and all parties to the proceedings on the state of facts alleged. Full opportunity for hearing shall be afforded to the interested parties. Such ruling shall be deemed a final decision or action subject to review in the Appellate Division of the Superior Court. Nothing herein shall affect the right or practice of every agency in its sole discretion to render advisory opinions. N.J.S.A. 52:14B-8.

> and answer of petitions as set forth in this chapter shall apply to petitions for declaratory ruling.

The Verified Petition does not "reflect adverse positions on the statute or rule in question by the parties in interest," and it seeks "consequential relief beyond a declaration as to the meaning of the statute or rule" in contravention of N.J.A.C. 6A:3-2.1. Accordingly, I CONCLUDE that the Verified Petition was not properly filed as a request for a declaratory ruling. Further, the transmittal reflects that the "Commissioner declined petitioner's request for a declaratory ruling and is transmitting as a contested case." Specifically, the Acting Commissioner stated that she determined to "decline the request pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-8 and N.J.A.C. 6A:3-2.1(a)1, and instead direct that the matter shall proceed as a petition of appeal pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.1 et seq. Issuance of a declaratory ruling by an agency is discretionary. N.J.A.C. 6A:3-2.1(a). N.J.S.A. 52:14B-8. See also United Sav. Bank v. State, 360 N.J. Super. 520, 524 (App. Div. 2003). Although Petitioner relies upon Board of Educ. of City of Sea Isle City v. Kennedy, 196 N.J. 1 (2008), it is noted that the opinion states that the "Commissioner transferred the Board's request for declaratory relief," and Footnote 3 reflects "[a]t the request of the Board, the ALJ agreed to issue first a decision on the declaratory relief petition." Board of Educ. of City of Sea Isle City v. Kennedy, 196 N.J. 1, 9-10 (2008).

In view of the foregoing, I CONCLUDE that the request for a declaratory ruling is DENIED and that this matter is limited to the merits of the contested case.

MOTION FOR SUMMARY DECISION

Per the Verified Petition, petitioner seeks a determination that D'Amico "has a direct or indirect interest in a substantial financial claim" against the Board and that she be disqualified from serving as a member of the Board pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2. However, the Preliminary Statement in petitioner's Brief states:

> The issue before the Commissioner is straightforward: the undisputed facts establish that Respondent, Karen D'Amico ("Respondent" or "D'Amico") filed and threatened to file > multiple Due Process Petitions, seeking monetary relief, thereby creating a disqualifying conflict of interest under the School Ethics Act ("SEA"), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2. The Respondent clearly has an interest in a claim against the Kinnelon Board or [sic] Education ("Petitioner" or "KBOE") and demonstrated a likelihood of 'protracted and intractable litigation' between the Respondent and the Petitioner, which constitutes a disqualifying conflict of interest under the SEA. As a result of said statutory conflict and pursuant to the School Ethics Act, it is necessary that Respondent resign her position at the KBOE. Accordingly, the KBOE's Motion for Summary Decision should be granted as there are no issues of material fact in dispute and the Petitioner is entitled to summary decision as a matter of law.

Additionally, the Procedural History in petitioner's Brief states: "Petitioner filed a verified petition seeking a declaratory ruling for the removal of Respondent from the KBOE based on a conflict of interest."

Although petitioner argues "a disqualifying conflict of interest under the School Ethics Act ("SEA"), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2," this statute does not fall under the School Ethics Act, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 to -34, and the matter was transmitted to the OAL by the Department of Education Office of Controversies and Disputes, not the School Ethics Commission.

N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 states:

> No member of any board of education shall be interested directly or indirectly in any contract with or claim against the board, nor, in the case of local and regional school districts, shall he hold office as mayor or as a member of the governing body of a municipality, nor, in the case of county special services school districts and county vocational school districts, shall he hold office as a member of the governing body of a county.

Thus, the pivotal issue is whether D'Amico, indisputably a Board member, is in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2 by being interested directly or indirectly in any claim against the Board. The Board argues that respondent's interest in multiple claims against the Board seeking monetary relief constitutes a disqualifying conflict of interest. Respondent denies that there exists a disqualifying conflict of interest and argues that the Verified Petition should be dismissed because D'Amico has no pending claim against the Board.

D'Amico was sworn in as a member of the Board in January 2021. Unlike the D'Amicos' prior due process petitions, the caption of the due process petition filed after January 2021 reflected only the name of respondent's husband as petitioner. A board member may not have an interest, directly or indirectly, in any claim against the board. A due process petition – a claim against the board – would require D'Amico's removal from the Board pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2. Accordingly, I CONCLUDE that when the due process petition was filed, she was in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2, as even without her name on the due process petition, respondent nevertheless had an interest in a claim against the Board. That said, the Verified Petition reflects that "one (1) hour after electronically filing the February 2021, Petition, the D'Amicos requested their Petition be disregard[ed] without explanation." Since this Petition alleges only violation of N.J.S.A. 18:12-2 and not any conflict of interest or code of conduct violations under the School Ethics Act, I CONCLUDE that withdrawal of the due process petition remedied the violation.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, it is observed that similar to the allegations in the Verified Petition, on August 13, 2021, the D'Amicos again gave a "10-day letter," referencing the applicable regulation[3]. Having reviewed the "10-day letter" regulation, I CONCLUDE that the 10-day letter" is a "notice" that relates to reimbursement, and is not a "claim," as no due process petition has been filed relative to the letter. Accordingly, I further CONCLUDE that the 10-day letter is not a violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2.

Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(b), summary decision may be "rendered if the papers and discovery which have been filed, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact challenged and that the moving party is entitled to prevail as a matter of law." Further, "when a motion for summary decision is made and supported, an adverse party in order to prevail must by responding affidavit set forth specific facts showing that there is a genuine issue which can only be determined in an evidentiary proceeding." Id. This standard is substantially similar to that governing a civil motion under New Jersey Court Rule 4:46-2 for summary judgment. E.S. v. Division of Medical Assistance & Health Services, 412 N.J. Super. 340, 350 (App. Div. 2010); Contini v. Board of Educ. of Newark, 286 N.J. Super. 106, 121 (App. Div. 1995). In Brill v. Guardian Life Ins. Co., 142 N.J. 520 (1995), the New Jersey Supreme Court set forth the standard governing a motion for summary judgment:

> [A] determination whether there exists a "genuine issue" of material fact that precludes summary judgment requires the motion judge to consider whether the competent evidential materials presented, when viewed in the light most favorable to the non-moving party, are sufficient to permit a rational fact finder to resolve the alleged disputed issue in favor of the non-moving party. The judge's function is not . . . to weigh the evidence and determine the truth of the matter but to determine whether there is a genuine issue for trial.

A contested case before the Office of Administrative Law "can be summarily disposed of before an ALJ without a plenary hearing in instances where the undisputed material facts, as developed on motion or otherwise, indicate that a particular disposition is required as a matter of law." In re Robros Recycling Corp., 226 N.J. Super. 343, 350 (App. Div.), certif. denied, 113 N.J. 638 (1988).

Here, there is no genuine issue as to any material fact, as the parties do not dispute that respondent filed, but thereafter withdrew a due process petition or that respondent gave a "10-day letter." Thus, I CONCLUDE that this matter is appropriate for summary decision. Since there exists no violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-2, I further CONCLUDE that the petitioner's motion should be denied, respondent's cross-motion should be granted, and the Verified Petition should be dismissed.

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that the petitioner's motion for summary decision is DENIED, the respondent's cross-motion for summary decision is GRANTED, and the Verified Petition is DISMISSED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

Re: In the Matter of Letizia Pantoliano, Cliffside Park Board of Education, Bergen County, Agency Dkt. No. 143-8/21, Commissioner Decision No. 225-21SEC.

Dear Counsel:

I have reviewed the materials filed in connection with respondent's motion for reconsideration of the Commissioner's October 13, 2021 decision, reprimanding respondent for failure to timely complete board member training required by the School Ethics Act.

Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.15(b)(2), a motion for reconsideration shall be determined based upon the following:

i. claim(s) of mistake, provided, however, that disagreement with the outcome of a decision, or with the analysis upon which it is based, shall not constitute "mistake" for purposes of this section;
ii. newly discovered evidence likely to alter the outcome of a matter, where such evidence could not have been previously discovered by due diligence;
iii. newly ascertained misrepresentation or other misconduct of an adverse party, where such misrepresentation could not have been previously known; or
iv. reversal of a prior judgment on which the present matter is based.

Upon review and consideration of the submissions, I find that the respondent has failed to satisfy any of the requisites for granting such relief specified in N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.15(b)2. In her papers, respondent argues that due to her ongoing technical issues with the New Jersey School Board Association (NJSBA) website, as well as the discovery of email communications that were not previously disclosed, this matter should be reconsidered, and the penalty of reprimand should be vacated. Respondent submitted email communications between the Business Administrator for Cliffside Park Board of Education and staff of the New Jersey Department of Education's Office of School Ethics and Compliance that alerted the School Ethics Commission (SEC) to respondent's technical problems. Despite respondent's arguments, the SEC had record of the email communications – which occurred in August 2021, after the issuance of the Order to Show Cause – since its staff member was a party to the emails. Additionally, the SEC was aware of respondent's difficulty accessing the NJSBA website as it acknowledged that fact in its decision. As such, respondent's submission does not include newly discovered evidence and fails to meet the standard for reconsideration. Further, respondent does not dispute that she failed to timely complete her training by the deadline of March 31, 2021, so she has not demonstrated that a penalty of reprimand is not warranted.

Accordingly, the motion for reconsideration is hereby DENIED.

Sincerely,

Angelica Allen-McMillan, Ed.D.

Re: In the Matter of Adrienne Doyle, River Edge Board of Education, Bergen County, Agency Dkt. No. 145-8/21, Commissioner Decision No. 227-21SEC.

Dear Parties:

I have reviewed the materials filed in connection with respondent's motion for reconsideration of the Commissioner's October 14, 2021 decision, removing respondent as a member of the River Edge Board of Education for failure to timely complete board member training required by the School Ethics Act.

Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.15(b)(2), a motion for reconsideration shall be determined based upon the following:

i. claim(s) of mistake, provided, however, that disagreement with the outcome of a decision, or with the analysis upon which it is based, shall not constitute "mistake" for purposes of this section;
ii. newly discovered evidence likely to alter the outcome of a matter, where such evidence could not have been previously discovered by due diligence;
iii. newly ascertained misrepresentation or other misconduct of an adverse party, where such misrepresentation could not have been previously known; or
iv. reversal of a prior judgment on which the present matter is based.

Upon review and consideration of the submissions, I have determined to grant respondent's request for reconsideration of the Commissioner's decision. In her papers, respondent indicates that notifications from the School Ethics Commission were sent to an email address that respondent previously used for Board of Education business, but which she has not used since she was provided an email address in the district's network. In the absence of any explanation for or opposition to respondent's statement in the response to the motion filed by counsel for the SEC, the Commissioner accepts respondent's representation that she did not receive the notifications. As respondent did not receive notice of the Order to Show Cause or the SEC's decision, and accordingly did not have the opportunity to respond, the Commissioner finds that the standard for reconsideration has been met. Accordingly, the motion for reconsideration is hereby granted.

Respondent further states that she is scheduled to complete the required training on November 17, 2021. Respondent is directed to submit proof of completion to the Office of Controversies and Disputes on or before December 31, 2021. Following respondent's submission, or her failure to do so by December 31, 2021, an amended decision will be issued. Until the amended decision is issued, my October 14, 2021 decision remains in effect.

Sincerely,

Angelica Allen-McMillan, Ed.D.

Re: M.M., on behalf of minor child v. Board of Education of the Township of Lafayette, Sussex County, Agency Dkt. No. 94-5/20.

Dear Parties:

I have reviewed the papers filed in connection with petitioner's motion to strike portions of the October 21, 2021 opposition to petitioner's motion for stay filed by respondent before Administrative Law Judge Jude-Anthony Tiscornia. Petitioner's motion to strike was previously denied by Judge Tiscornia. Accordingly, the Commissioner considers the motion pending before her to be a request for interlocutory review of Judge Tiscornia's Order. Upon full consideration of the submitted materials, I have determined not to grant interlocutory review, pursuant to my discretion under N.J.A.C. 1:1-14.10. Accordingly, petitioner's request for interlocutory review is hereby denied.

Petitioner also moves to strike portions of respondent's November 23, 2021 letter brief to the Commissioner in opposition to petitioner's motion for stay. There is no provision in the applicable statues or regulations for a motion to strike filings or portions of filings pending before the Commissioner. Accordingly, petitioner's motion has not been considered.

BEFORE SUSANA E. GUERRERO, ALJ:

Petitioner H.S. on behalf of K.S. filed a Petition of Appeal with the Commissioner of Education challenging the imposed suspension by the respondent City of Jersey City Board of Education. The Department of Education transmitted the matter to the Office of Administrative Law, where it was filed as a contested case. After numerous telephone conferences, the parties reached an amicable resolution and counsel for respondent submitted the attached Settlement Agreement, along with correspondence from the Board approving the settlement.

I have reviewed the record and the terms of the consent order and I FIND:

1. The parties have voluntarily agreed to the consent order as evidenced by their signatures or their representatives' signatures.

2. The consent order fully disposes of all issues in controversy and is consistent with the law.

I CONCLUDE that this agreement meets the requirements of N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1 and that the settlement should be approved. I approve the settlement and, therefore, ORDER that the parties comply with the settlement terms and that these proceedings be concluded.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. THIS SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT (the "Agreement") made by and between the Jersey City Board of Education, with its principal office located in Jersey City, New Jersey (hereinafter referred to as the "Board" or "District") and H.S. (hereinafter referred to as "Parent") on behalf of student K.S., a minor (hereinafter referred to as "K.S.").

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual premises and promises the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. The District is in receipt of the attached letter from parent. Attached hereto as Exhibit A. As such, the District shall not produce pursuant to any document request from any college or institution of higher education any discipline record regarding K.S. resulting from the incident which occurred in May of 2019 and was reported to the District in or around June of 2020 (hereinafter "HIB incident").
2. The parent, on behalf of K.S., hereby agrees to sign a Stipulation of Dismissal withdrawing, with prejudice, the above captioned petition of appeal and further agrees not to pursue any further proceeding or complaint before the Jersey City Board of Education, other agency, or court, including Federal or Superior Court, as it relates to the HIB incident, or the discipline which the District imposed in relation to same.
3. As further consideration for the Agreement, the parties agree that, following the full execution of this Agreement, they will keep all terms of this Agreement completely confidential. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, it is expressly understood and agreed that, following the full execution of this Agreement, neither the parent nor her attorney will take any action to publicize the terms or nature of this Agreement except that disclosure is permitted: (1) as necessary with regard to any proceeding for the enforcement of this Agreement; (2) to the student's immediate family, treating physicians/therapists and attorneys, who shall agree not to disclose the fact of or any of the terms of this Agreement as if they were a party to this Agreement; (3) as may be required by any court or agency of competent jurisdiction; and (4) as may be required by law. To the extent that K.S. is asked about this matter, K.S. may indicate that the matter is "resolved," but will make no other disclosure regarding this matter. Violation of this confidentiality clause by Parent and/or K.S. shall result in the termination of all of the District's obligations under this Settlement Agreement, and will result in the District providing K.S.'s discipline record in connection with the HIB incident to any college or institution of higher education requesting same.

4. This Agreement shall not constitute, be interpreted, construed or used as evidence of any admission of fact, law, responsibility, wrongdoing or liability on the part of the District or the petitioner and shall not be referred to in any subsequent proceeding by any party other than to enforce the terms of the Agreement. If this Agreement is not fully executed and approved by all parties hereto, this Agreement shall become null and void and shall neither constitute an admission of any party nor be referred to by any party in any subsequent legal proceeding for any purpose whatsoever.
5. The parent acknowledges that she has reviewed the Agreement in detail and that she fully understands its requirements and limitations.
6. The Petitioner hereby states that she is signing this Agreement voluntarily of her own free will and not under duress or coercion of any kind.
7. This Agreement shall be construed fairly according to the plain language of its terms and not for or against any party hereto. If, during the term of this Agreement, it is found that a specific clause(s) of the Agreement is/are illegal under Federal or State Law, then the remainder of the Agreement is not affected by such a ruling shall remain in full force and effect.
8. All parties are bound by this Agreement and each of its provisions. Anyone who succeeds to their rights and responsibilities, such as their successors and assigns, are also bound. This Agreement is made for the benefit of all the parties hereto and all who succeed to their rights and responsibilities, and expressly includes their officials, representatives, employees, agents, attorneys, successors, and assigns.
9. This Agreement constitutes the full and complete agreement of the parties hereto with respect to its subject matter, that it supersedes any prior or contemporaneous representations, whether oral or written, and that it may not be modified or amended except by a written instrument signed by all parties hereto.
10. In consideration for the above, the parent herewith releases the Board of Education, its officers, employees, and agents from any and all claims, rights, liability, including but not limited to any claims or costs for attorney's fees, civil liability, or any other equitable or legal relief at all relevant times, whether known or unknown as of the date of this Agreement, as it relates to the above-captioned consolidated matters, or the events surrounding same.
11. This Agreement is specifically subject to the approval of the Respondent Jersey City Board of Education.
12. The parties acknowledge that they have been represented by and have had the opportunity to consult with their legal counsel throughout the negotiations of this Agreement, that they reviewed this Agreement with their counsel and that they fully understand its requirements and limitations.

The parties further expressly state that they are fully satisfied with the representation provided by their legal counsel.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

C.O., on behalf of minor child, J.S.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of Lenape Regional High School District, Burlington County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

In this matter on remand, pro se petitioner, a resident of Medford, New Jersey, challenged the determination of the respondent Board that his nephew, J.S., a non-resident student, is not eligible to attend school within the Lenape Regional High School District (LRHSD). Petitioner C.O. and his sister, M.L. – a resident of Sioux City, Iowa – filed affidavits in support of J.S.'s application for enrollment in the LRHSD as a non-resident student. Prior to February 2021, J.S. resided in Iowa with his mother, M.L. The Board filed a motion for summary decision, contending that, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1 and N.J.A.C. 6A:1-1 et. seq., J.S. did not meet the eligibility criteria to attend the LRHSD as an affidavit student; further, the Board sought tuition reimbursement for the period of J.S.'s ineligible attendance. In a decision issued September 7, 2021, the Commissioner concurred with the ALJ that petitioner failed to establish that his nephew, J.S., was a domiciliary within the LRHSD and that J.S. met the criteria to be enrolled as an affidavit student. However, the record lacked specific information regarding the number of days that J.S. attended school in the LRHSD during the 2020-2021 school year. Accordingly, the Commissioner remanded the matter to the OAL for calculation of tuition due to the district for the period of J.S.'s ineligible attendance.

On remand, the ALJ found that: J.S. attended school in LRHSD for seventy-two days, from March 1, 2021 through the end of the 2020-2021 school year; the cost of tuition was $99.44 per day; therefore, the Board is entitled to tuition reimbursement in the amount of $7,159.68 for the time petitioner's nephew, J.S., was ineligible to attend school in the District.

Upon review, the Commissioner concurred with the ALJ's findings and adopted the Initial Decision of the OAL as the final decision in this matter. Petitioner was directed to reimburse the Board in the amount of $7,159.68 for tuition costs incurred during the time period in which J.S. was ineligible to attend school in the District, and the petition was dismissed.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

C.O., on behalf of minor child, J.S.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of Lenape Regional High School District, Burlington County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed. The parties did not file exceptions.

On September 7, 2021, the Commissioner issued a decision finding that petitioner failed to sustain his burden of establishing that his nephew, J.S., was a domiciliary of a municipality in the Lenape Regional High School District (District), and that J.S. did not meet the criteria to be enrolled as an affidavit student. The Commissioner further concluded that J.S. was, therefore, not entitled to a free public education in the District's schools during that time. The Commissioner found that the record lacked evidence regarding the number of days of ineligible attendance and remanded the matter to the OAL for further fact-finding on this issue, so that the total tuition owed to the Board could be calculated.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1b, the Commissioner shall assess tuition against petitioner for the time period during which the minor child was ineligible to attend school in the district.

Following remand, the record reflects that J.S. attended school in the district for seventy-two school days from March 1, 2021 until the end of the 2020-2021 school year, and the Commissioner concurs with the findings of the Administrative Law Judge regarding these dates. The cost of tuition was $99.44 per day. Therefore, the Board is entitled to tuition reimbursement in the amount of $7,159.68 for the time petitioner's nephew, J.S., was ineligible to attend school in the District.

Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL is adopted as the final decision in this matter. Petitioner is directed to reimburse the Board in the amount of $7,159.68 for tuition costs incurred during the time period in which J.S. was ineligible to attend school in the District. The petition of appeal is hereby dismissed.

BEFORE TRICIA M. CALIGUIRE, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF CASE

Petitioner C.O. on behalf of J.S. challenges the decision of respondent, Lenape Regional High School (LRHS) Board of Education, Burlington County (Board) that minor child J.S., a non-resident student, is not eligible to attend school within the LRHS District (District), pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1, and its accompanying regulations, N.J.A.C. 6A:1-1 et. seq.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On January 29, 2021, petitioner filed a petition with the Commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Education pursuant to N.J.S.A 18A:6-9. On March 12, 2021, respondent filed a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer. This motion was not decided by the Commissioner and was transmitted with the petition on March 16, 2021, to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) for hearing as a contested case pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15 and N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13.

By letter dated April 30, 2021, a briefing schedule was issued and on May 28, 2021, petitioner responded to the motion to summary decision. On June 8, 2021, respondent submitted a reply brief. On July 21, 2021, an initial decision granting the motion for summary decision was rendered.

As set forth in his Decision of September 7, 2021, the Acting Commissioner of Education adopted the findings of fact and conclusions of law of the initial decision and ordered that the matter be remanded to the OAL for the calculation of the total amount of tuition that petitioner is responsible to pay for J.S.'s attendance in a District school. On September 30, 2021, respondent submitted the Affidavit of Matthew Webb in Support of Tuition Assessment. Petitioner was provided ten days to respond, but declined to do so, and the record closed on October 12, 2021.

FACTUAL DISCUSSION AND FINDINGS

The material facts in this matter are not in dispute. To properly address the remand order, it is necessary to clarify the dates on which J.S. attended high school in the District; that information is found below. Based on the statements made by C.O and M.L. in their affidavits supporting J.S.'s application to attend LRHS District as a non-resident student, the statements of C.O. in the petition he filed to appeal the Board's decision to deny J.S.'s application, C.O.'s May 28, 2021 letter, and the certifications of Matthew Webb, I FIND the following FACTS:

1. LRHS District is a regional public school district serving eight towns in Burlington County, New Jersey. The District operates four high schools, including Shawnee High School, Medford Township (Shawnee HS).

2. C.O. is a resident of the District, residing in Medford Township.

3. J.S. is C.O.'s fifteen-year-old nephew. Prior to February 3, 2021, J.S. resided with his mother, M.L., in Sioux City, Iowa.

4. On February 4, 2021, C.O. applied to respondent for J.S. to attend Shawnee HS in LRHS District as a non-resident pupil ("affidavit student"). Br. In Support of Respondent's Motion for Summary Disposition (March 15, 2021), Ex. A [LRHS District Affidavit Application of C.O. on behalf of J.S. (January 28, 2021)]. In this application, C.O. stated that J.S. would reside with him in the District for the duration of the calendar year and "indefinitely [sic]." Id., Ex. A at 2, 4.

5. M.L. submitted an affidavit in support of J.S.'s application in which she stated that J.S. would remain in C.O.'s home "until completion of high school," and would return to her home upon graduation. Id., Ex. B [LRHS District Affidavit of M.L., Non-Resident Parent, on behalf of J.S. (January 29, 2021), at 1, 3].

6. In her affidavit, M.L. states that J.S. is not residing with her due to "schooling, behavior, counseling." Id., Ex. B at 1, 2. Further, she states that she is able to support her son economically. Id., Ex. B at 2.

7. On February 9, 2021, during a telephone conversation with District Assistant Superintendent Matthew Webb (Webb), C.O. stated that in school in Iowa, J.S. was "falling through the cracks"; that school in Iowa was still all-remote [due to COVID-19 emergency measures]; J.S.'s Iowa teachers had not kept him up-to-date, he had fallen behind in school and was at risk of repeating ninth grade; and C.O. wanted J.S. to have a good education in New Jersey. Certification of Matthew Webb in Support of Respondent's Motion for Summary Decision (March 12, 2021), at ¶¶ 12, 13.

8. In a letter to the undersigned, C.O. elaborated on the reasons J.S. left his mother's home in Iowa to live with C.O. and his family in New Jersey, stating that J.S. "is not here for an education, [rather J.S.] is here to be held accountable to get an education." Ltr. of Petitioner in Opposition to Respondent's Motion to Dismiss (May 27, 2021) (by electronic mail only).[1] Further, by living with C.O., J.S. will get "the discipline he needs to thrive." Ibid.

9. During the February 9, 2021 telephone conversation, Webb informed C.O. that he would not recommend approval of J.S.'s application as he did not meet the legal requirements for eligibility as an affidavit student. Webb Cert., at ¶ 15. In response, C.O. asked Webb to ignore relevant law. Id. at ¶ 16.

10. C.O. requested and was provided a phone conference with District Superintendent Dr. Carol Birnbohm (Dr. Birnbohm). During a telephone conversation on February 10, 2021, Dr. Birnbohm stated that her administration would recommend that J.S. was not eligible as an affidavit student and explained to C.O. the process for appealing the Board's final decision on the matter. Id. at ¶ 25.

11. To date, C.O. has not provided respondent (or this tribunal) proof that he and/or his wife, L.O., have been named temporary or permanent guardian(s) for J.S. by court order.[2] Id. at ¶ 28. C.O. stated that it is his intention to assume full legal custody of J.S. and that he would meet with an attorney on June 1, 2021, to begin the legal process. Ltr. of Pet'r, at 1.

[1] It is noted here that the regulations require an affidavit in response to a motion for summary decision, N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5(b), and that the regulations permit the judge latitude to take "actions as are necessary for the . . . fair conduct of the . . . proceeding." N.J.A.C. 1:1-14.6(p). C.O.'s undated, unsigned letter in lieu of an affidavit does not prejudice respondent here as the non-corroborated hearsay statements in C.O.'s letter do not raise issues of material fact that must be determined in an evidentiary proceeding.

[2] After his telephone call with Dr. Birnbohm, C.O. submitted to respondent a temporary guardianship agreement signed by M.L. on February 12, 2021. Webb Cert., ¶ 26; Br. of Resp't, Ex. C.

12. On February 17, 2021, the Board adopted the recommendation of the District administration and denied C.O.'s application for J.S. to attend Shawnee HS as an affidavit student and on February 18, 2021, formal written notice of this decision was sent to C.O. Webb. Certif., Ex. E.

13. The Board's February 18, 2021, notice included the statement that C.O. is responsible to pay tuition for J.S. for any period of ineligible attendance, including the duration of an appeal of the Board's decision. Ibid. Further, C.O. was notified that the approximate rate of tuition at the District's schools for the 2020-2021 school year was $99.44/day. Ibid.

14. On February 23, 2021, C.O. filed an appeal with the Commissioner of Education. Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1, this appeal was filed within twenty-one days of the Board's decision and therefore, J.S. began attending Shawnee HS.

15. J.S. attended Shawnee HS from March 1, 2021, through the last day of the 2020-2021 school year, June 18, 2021, which totals seventy-two school days. Affidavit of Matthew Webb in Support of Tuition Assessment (September 30, 2021), ¶¶ 6, 7.

16. In this matter, C.O. asks the Commissioner to permit J.S. to attend Shawnee HS as an affidavit student. In his petition, he acknowledged the statements of his sister, M.L., and in his letter to the undersigned, C.O. states his understanding that M.L. "may have worded the affidavit for the school incorrectly." Ltr. of Pet'r., at 1.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

Respondent's Motion to Dismiss Treated as Motion for Summary Decision

Respondent's motion was filed in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.5(g), which permits the filing of a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer. Respondent argued that the "Board is entitled to summary disposition as a matter of law," and then presented arguments for an order granting summary decision under N.J.A.C 1:1-12.5(b). Br. in Support of Respondent's Motion for Summary Disposition (March 12, 2021), at 6. Therefore, respondent's motion to dismiss was treated as a motion for summary decision under N.J.A.C. 1-12.5(b), and petitioner was provided references to the OAL website for guidelines on preparing a response.

Standard for Deciding the Motion for Summary Decision

It is well-established that if there is no genuine issue as to any material fact, a moving party is entitled to prevail as a matter of law. Brill v. The Guardian Life Insurance Co. of America, 142 N.J. 520, 540 (1995). The purpose of summary decision is to avoid unnecessary hearings and their concomitant burden on public resources. Under the Brill standard, a fact-finding hearing should be avoided "when the evidence is so one-sided that one party must prevail as a matter of law." Brill guides as follows:

> [A] determination whether there exists a "genuine issue" of material fact that precludes summary judgment requires the motion judge to consider whether the competent evidential materials presented, when viewed in the light most favorable to the non-moving party, are sufficient to permit a rational factfinder to resolve the alleged disputed issue in favor of the non-moving party.

In explaining the standard to be applied in summary motion practice, the Brill Court explained:

> The same standard applies to determine whether a prima facie case has been established by the party bearing the burden of proof in a trial. . . . If a case involves no material factual disputes, the court disposes of it as a matter of law by rendering judgment in favor of the moving or non-moving party.
> [Id. at 536-3.7.]

As discussed above, I CONCLUDE that the parties raise no dispute with respect to material facts and the following issues can be decided as a matter of law:

1. Whether J.S. is eligible to attend Shawnee HS as a non-resident affidavit student, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1.

2. Whether the District is entitled to tuition reimbursement from C.O. for the costs of J.S. attending school in the District and if so, the amount due.

The parent, or in this case, petitioner C.O., has the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence that the minor, here J.S., is eligible for a free education in the District schools. N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1(b)(2).

C.O. contends that J.S. is entitled to a free education in the District under N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1, which provides that public schools shall be free to persons over five and under twenty years of age who are "domiciled within the school district." See, V.R. ex rel A.R. v. Hamburg Bd. of Educ., 2 N.J.A.R. 283, 287 (1980), aff'd, State Bd., 1981 S.L.D. 1533, rev'd on other grounds sub nom., Rabinowitz v. N.J. State Bd. of Educ., 550 F. Supp. 481 (D.N.J. 1982) (New Jersey requires local domicile, as opposed to mere residence, in order for a student to receive a free education). J.S. is fifteen years old and, therefore, I CONCLUDE he meets the age requirements to be entitled to a free public education.

A person who meets age requirements and is domiciled within a school district may attend its public schools free of charge. N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1(a). A person may have many residences but only one domicile, and a child's domicile is normally that of his or her parents. Somerville Bd. of Educ. v. Manville Bd. of Educ., 332 N.J. Super. 6, 12 (App. Div. 2000), aff'd, 167 N.J. 55 (2001). The domicile of a person is the place where he has his true, fixed, permanent home and principal establishment, and to which whenever he is absent, he has the intention of returning, and from which he has no present intention of moving. In re Unanue, 255 N.J. Super. 362, 374 (Law Div. 1991), aff'd, 311 N.J. Super. 589 (App. Div.), certif. denied, 157 N.J. 541 (1998), cert. denied, 526 U.S. 1051 (1999). The acts, statements and conduct of the individual, as viewed in the light of all the circumstances, determine a person's true intent. Collins v. Yancey, 55 N.J. Super. 514, 521 (Law Div. 1959).

Here, the evidence as to J.S. being domiciled in the District is mixed. J.S. has moved, physically, from Iowa to Medford, and is currently attending Shawnee HS. J.S.'s mother and C.O. took steps to register J.S. in the District, including the completion of registration documents and affidavits to support J.S.'s enrollment in the District. C.O. is adamant that he and his wife always intended for J.S. to completely transfer his domicile to New Jersey and from the beginning, C.O. has taken that position. But, prior to June 1, 2021, C.O. did not start the process required to obtain legal temporary or permanent custody of his nephew (even though he had notice of this requirement since February 2021).

Evidence that J.S. is not domiciled in the District includes that J.S.'s mother does not appear to intend for her son to stay in New Jersey indefinitely. In her sworn affidavit, M.L. stated that she was sending her son to New Jersey to complete his education, that he would return to Iowa upon graduation, and that she has the economic means to support him in Iowa. Even in the temporary guardianship document M.L. signed after learning of the deficiencies in her original affidavit, M.L. states that she is giving legal custody of J.S. to C.O. both "from December 31, 2020 to graduation" and "for as long as necessary." Br. of Resp't., Ex. C (emphasis added).

In this regard, N.J.A.C. 6A:22-3.2, provides in pertinent part as follows:

> (a) A student is eligible to attend the school district pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1.b if he or she is kept in the home of a person other than the student's parent or guardian, and the person is domiciled in the school district and is supporting the student without remuneration as if the student were his or her own child.
> 1. A student is not eligible to attend a school district pursuant to this provision unless:
>
> i. The student's parent or guardian has filed, together with documentation to support its validity, a sworn statement that he or she is not capable of supporting or providing care for the student due to family or economic hardship and the student is not residing with the other person solely for the purpose of receiving a free public education; and > ii. The person keeping the student has filed, if so required by the district board of education:

> (1) A sworn statement that he or she is domiciled within the school district, is supporting the child without remuneration and intends to do so for a time longer than the school term, and will assume all personal obligations for the student pertaining to school requirements[.]

M.L. gave a sworn statement that she is capable of supporting J.S. and noted no economic or family hardship that keeps her from caring for him. While she did not call the education J.S. would receive "free," M.L. essentially swore that she was sending J.S. to New Jersey for the education he would receive. While C.O.'s intention to care for his nephew is clear, including offering J.S. a permanent home, to date C.O. has failed to provide sufficient proof that J.S. is domiciled in the District and/or was so domiciled at the time he was first registered in the District. Petitioner failed to establish that M.L. is incapable of supporting or providing care for J.S. due to family or economic hardship, notwithstanding C.O.'s criticism of M.L.'s parenting. Petitioner failed to establish that Iowa is not J.S.'s permanent home, the place where his mother resides and where he intends (and she expects him) to return.

Accordingly, in light of all of the facts and circumstances, I CONCLUDE that J.S. is not entitled to a free public education in the LRHS District. I CONCLUDE petitioner failed to satisfy the burden of proving that J.S. is domiciled with petitioner at his address in the LRHS District. I CONCLUDE that summary decision in favor of respondent is appropriate.

N.J.S.A. 18A:38-1(b)(1) provides that when the evidence does not support the claim of the resident, the resident shall be assessed tuition:

> [F]or the student prorated to the time of the student's ineligible attendance in the school district. Tuition shall be computed on the basis of 1/180 of the total annual per pupil cost to the local district multiplied by the number of days of ineligible attendance and shall be collected in the manner in which orders of the commissioner are enforced.

The record reflects that the actual cost of J.S.'s attendance in-District was $99.44 per day for the 2020-2021 school year, and that J.S. enrolled at Shawnee HS on March 1, 2021. The last day of the 2020-2021 school year was June 18, 2021. J.S. attended Shawnee HS for seventy-two school days.

N.J.A.C. 6A:22-6.3(a) provides that,

> Tuition assessed pursuant to this section shall be calculated on a per-student basis for the period of a student's ineligible enrollment, up to one year, by applicable grade/program category and consistent with the provisions of N.J.A.C. 6A:23A-17.1. The individual student's record of daily attendance shall not affect the calculation.

Therefore, I CONCLUDE that petitioner is responsible to pay tuition for J.S.'s attendance at Shawnee HS in the amount of $99.44/day from the date on which such attendance began, March 1, 2021, for each day school was in session without regard for days on which J.S. may have been absent, through the end of the 2020-2021 school year, June 21, 2021. Petitioner is responsible to pay respondent $7,159.68.

ORDER

I ORDER that the motion of respondent Lenape Regional High School Board of Education for summary decision in its favor is GRANTED and the pro se residency appeal of petitioner C.O. on behalf of J.S. is DISMISSED.

Further, I ORDER that petitioner C.O. shall pay respondent Lenape Regional High School Board of Education tuition in the amount of $7,159.68, the total owed for seventy-two school days at $99.44/day for each day during the 2020-2021 school year on which J.S. was enrolled in the Lenape Regional High School District.

I hereby FILE this Initial Decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this initial decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

Board of Education of the City of Passaic, Passaic County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the proposed Settlement Agreement and Release (Agreement), and the Initial Decision issued by the Office of Administrative Law pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1, have been reviewed. Upon such review, the Commissioner approves the settlement and adopts the Initial Decision as the final decision in this matter. In doing so, however, the Commissioner notes that Part 2 of the Agreement references actions that were to take place in a time frame that preceded the consideration of the settlement by the Commissioner of Education. The parties are reminded that a settlement of litigation before the Commissioner is not binding until the Commissioner approves the settlement.

In light of the foregoing, the Commissioner adopts the Initial Decision as the final decision in this matter, provided that the parties have already implemented the settlement terms or have agreed upon mutually satisfactory alternate dates for the effectuation of the terms of the Agreement. Assuming same, the matter is hereby dismissed, subject to compliance with the terms of the settlement.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

BEFORE KIMBERLY A. MOSS, ALJ:

This matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) on June 22, 2021, for resolution as a contested case pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15 and N.J.S.A. 52:14F1 to -13. A telephone prehearing was conducted on July 19, 2021, wherein the parties engaged in extensive settlement discussions. A telephone conference was scheduled for September 23, 2021. Neither party appeared for the conference.

However, on September 24, 2021, petitioner's counsel advised that the matter is settled. On October 15, 2021, the parties submitted the fully executed Settlement Agreement and Release, which is attached hereto for reference.

Having reviewed the contents of the attached Settlement Agreement and General Release, I FIND:

1. The parties have voluntarily agreed to the global settlement as evidenced by their signatures and/or the signatures of their representatives.

2. The settlement fully disposes of all issues in controversy and is consistent with the law.

I CONCLUDE that this settlement meets the requirements of N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1 and that the stipulation should be approved. I approve the settlement and, therefore ORDER that the parties comply with the settlement terms and that these proceedings be concluded.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT AND RELEASE

This Settlement Agreement and Release, dated AUGUST _____ 2021, is given BY the Releasor, Employee YARIXA GOMEZ, referred to as "I", "GOMEZ", or "my", And the PASSAIC BOARD OF EDUCATION and its members, officers, employees, administrators, agents and servants, referred to as "Employer", "Releasee", "You" or the "Board", collectively "we", "us" or "the parties".

WHEREAS, GOMEZ has filed a Petition of Appeal with the Commissioner of Education under OAL Docket. No.: EDU 05321-2021 N, Agency Ref. No.: 86-6/21, asserting tenure status in the district; and

WHEREAS, the BOARD has filed an answer to said petition challenging GOMEZ's tenure statue; and

WHEREAS, GOMEZ and the BOARD have had discussions respecting the settlement of the referenced dispute in the best interest of GOMEZ the BOARD and the public;

NOW, THEREFORE be it resolved, that the BOARD and GOMEZ agree to settle the issues between them by the execution of this Settlement Agreement and Release under the terms set forth below:

1. Mutual Release. Except as to claims that cannot be released under applicable law, we waive, release, and give up any and all claims and rights which we may have against each other through the date of this Release. This releases all claims, including those of which we are not aware and those not mentioned in this Release through the date of this Release. This Release applies to claims resulting from anything which has happened up to now. Except as to claims that cannot be released under applicable law, we waive and release the following claims:

   More particularly, GOMEZ knowingly and voluntarily releases, waives, acquits, disclaims and forever discharges the Board from any and all claims to tenured employment that have been or might be raised against the Board.

   The Board and Gomez likewise agree to release each other from any and all lawsuits, charges, claims, complaints, demands, judgments, obligations, causes of action, controversies or any other proceedings with any administrative agency, or court or any other forum, under any federal, state or local laws or regulations arising out of Gomez's employment with the Board. In the case of the Board, this Release shall not include any future information which legally requires disclosure.

This paragraph is not intended and shall not preclude GOMEZ or the BOARD from instituting proceedings seeking to enforce the terms of this Settlement Agreement and Release.

2. Consideration.

a. In consideration for the dismissal, with prejudice, of the referenced Petition of Appeal before the Commissioner of Education under OAL Docket. No.: EDU 05321-2021 N, Agency Ref. No.: 86-6/21, and the release of claims set forth herein, the Board will pay the sum of $15,000.00 to GOMEZ upon the execution of this Agreement and Release. As said sum is not in lieu of wages, but the settlement of a tenure dispute, no deductions will be withheld from that sum.

b. GOMEZ will continue to receive health insurance coverage through the Board, less any required employee contributions, through August 31, 2021.

c. The Board will provide GOMEZ with a formal Notice of Non-Renewal of employment for the 2021-2022 school year that may be used to support any claim for unemployment benefits.

d. The Board will not contest any application for unemployment that GOMEZ may make following June 30, 2021, and confirm solely, to the Department of Labor that her non-tenured employment contract was not renewed. No other information respecting her employment, other than statistical data, will be provided.

e. The Board will provide GOMEZ with a neutral letter of reference that may be submitted in any application for future employment.

f. In the event the Board receives a questionnaire from a prospective employer under N.J.S.A. 18A: 6-8 et seq., the Board will complete the questionnaire. In its response the Board will indicate that GOMEZ was an employee in good standing at the time she left employment and that she was not the subject of a child abuse or sexual misconduct investigation or determination at the time of her departure.

3. Who is Bound. GOMEZ and the Board are bound by this Settlement Agreement and Release. Anyone who succeeds to the rights and responsibilities of the parties, such as a party's heirs or the executor of their estate. Future boards and administrators are also bound. This Settlement Agreement and Release is made for the benefit of the parties and all who succeed to their rights and responsibilities. This settlement is in the public interest to defray the costs of litigation, the use of administrative and personnel time, and to resolve a dispute with an uncertain result.

4. Signatures. We understand and agree to the terms of this Settlement Agreement and Release. The Board will affix the signature of its authorized corporate officer (s) hereto, who will have full authority to execute the same.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Parties Hereunder set their hands and seals to this Agreement effective on this _____ day of August, 2021.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

In the Matter of Phoenix Moore,
Lawnside Board of Education,
Camden County.

The Commissioner has reviewed the record of this matter and the decision of the School Ethics Commission (SEC), finding that respondent violated the School Ethics Act for failure to timely file Personal/Relative and Financial Disclosure Statements ("Disclosure Statements") in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1. The SEC's decision was forwarded to the Commissioner for final determination on the recommended penalty pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c). The SEC advises that respondent ultimately filed the Disclosure Statements after the issuance of its Order to Show Cause. Respondent has neither filed exceptions to the recommended penalty, nor instituted an appeal of the SEC's underlying finding of violation pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 et seq.

IT IS SO ORDERED.[1]

Docket No.: D02-21
Decision for Failure to File Personal/Relative and Financial Disclosure Statements

---

I/M/O Phoenix Moore,
Lawnside Board of Education, Camden County

I. Procedural History

This matter arises from an Order to Show Cause (OTSC) that was issued by the School Ethics Commission (Commission) at its meeting on July 27, 2021, directing Respondent, a "school official" as defined in N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23 of the School Ethics Act (Act), N.J.S.A. 18A:12-21 et seq., to show cause as to why the Commission should not find him in violation of the Act for failing to file Personal/Relative and Financial Disclosure Statements (Disclosure Statements) as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1.

In the OTSC that was served on July 27, 2021, the Commission notified Respondent that he had twenty (20) days to respond to the OTSC, and further advised Respondent that failure to respond would be deemed an admission of the facts set forth in the OTSC.[1] Respondent was also notified that, upon receipt of the response or upon expiration of the twenty (20) day time period for so filing, the Commission may proceed to a determination of a violation on a summary basis (i.e., without a hearing or further proceedings) in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:28-1.6(c), which so permits when the material facts, as here, are not in dispute.

II. Analysis

The Act was enacted by the New Jersey State Legislature to ensure and preserve public confidence in members of local boards of education and local school administrators. By virtue of N.J.S.A. 18A:12-23.1, the breadth of the Act was expanded to include charter school trustees and administrators.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(a), all school officials must file, on forms prescribed by the Commission, Disclosure Statements with their local board secretaries or charter school designees, and must do so on or before April 30th of each year. In addition, all newly elected board members or board members appointed to fill vacancies, newly appointed members of a board of trustees of a charter school, and administrators appointed to fill a vacancy must file their Disclosure Statements within thirty (30) days of appointment or taking office. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(c), N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(d), N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(e), and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1(f).

If a school official fails to file the required Disclosure Statements, the Commission is authorized, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.3(b), to issue an Order to Show Cause. Moreover, failure to timely file the required Disclosure Statements "shall constitute a violation of the ... Act and may result in the reprimand, censure, suspension or removal of a school official pursuant to the recommendation of the Commission as acted upon by the Commissioner [of Education]." N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.3(a).

[1] Due to the ongoing Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, service of process was effectuated by the Commission through electronic transmission (e-mail) only.

With the above in mind, Respondent is a returning school official and, therefore, was required to file Disclosure Statements by April 30, 2021. Despite this fact, and even though Respondent received reminders as further detailed below, Respondent failed to file Disclosure Statements within the statutorily required timeframe.

More specifically, throughout the months of June and early July, the Commission's staff sent repeated messages to the Board Secretary advising that Respondent had not yet filed Disclosure Statements. The electronic correspondence to the Board Secretary further advised that if Respondent failed to file Disclosure Statements, the Commission had the authority to issue an OTSC, find Respondent in violation of the Act, and recommend a penalty up to and including removal for non-compliance.

In addition, by electronic correspondence dated July 19, 2021, July 21, and July 23, 2021, Respondent was reminded that his Disclosure Statements had not yet been filed. Respondent was further advised that continued failure to file Disclosure Statements would result in the Commission issuing an OTSC, and recommending a penalty, up to and including removal.

When Respondent failed to file Disclosure Statements as required by N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1, an OTSC was issued by the Commission at its meeting on July 27, 2021. After having been served with the OTSC, Respondent still failed to file Disclosure Statements, or to otherwise respond to the OTSC.

III. Decision/Penalty Recommendation

Based on the record as set forth above, and at its special meeting on August 30, 2021, the Commission found that Respondent violated N.J.S.A. 18A:12-25, N.J.S.A. 18A:12-26, and N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.1 because he did not timely file Disclosure Statements. Following the special meeting on August 30, 2021, the Commission received correspondence from Respondent on September 9, 2021 that included Respondent's completed Disclosure Statements in hard copy format. At its meeting on October 19, 2021, the Commission reviewed the aforementioned correspondence in determining the penalty as set forth below.

In addition, the Commission readily acknowledges and is sympathetic to the fact that the Coronavirus (COVID-19) has had a significant impact on the daily lives of all people, and believes that reasonable accommodations and extensions of deadlines are appropriate and warranted in certain circumstances. However, the Commission notes that Disclosure Statements are filed annually, can be completed from any computer or device with an internet connection, and that the Commission was only required to issue an OTSC to nine (9) school officials throughout the State for failure to comply with the statutory obligation to file Disclosure Statements. As such, there is no reasonable basis for Respondent, based on the current record, to have failed to comply with this mandate.

Where a violation of the Act is found by the Commission, it may recommend to the Commissioner of Education that a penalty be imposed on the school official. The recommended penalty can include a reprimand, censure, suspension or removal of the school official. N.J.A.C. 6A:28-3.3(a); N.J.A.C. 6A:28-10.12. At its special meeting on August 30, 2021, the Commission recommended that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of removal. However, if Respondent filed Disclosure Statements before the Commissioner of Education adopted a final decision, then the Commission recommended that the Commissioner of Education, in lieu of removal, impose a thirty (30) day suspension, with such suspension to become effective immediately upon adoption by the Commissioner of Education. In light of the September 9, 2021 correspondence from Respondent, the Commission agreed to reconsider the recommended penalty at its meeting on October 19, 2021. At its October 19, 2021 meeting, the Commission amended the penalty and recommends that the Commissioner of Education impose a penalty of reprimand.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:12-29(c), this decision shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of Education for review of the Commission's recommended penalty. Respondent may either: 1) file exceptions to the recommended sanction; 2) file an appeal of the Commission's finding of a violation; or 3) file both exceptions to the recommended sanction together with an appeal of the finding of a violation.

Parties taking exception to the recommended penalty of the Commission but not disputing the Commission's finding of a violation may file, within thirteen (13) days from the date the Commission's decision is forwarded to the Commissioner, written exceptions regarding the recommended penalty to the Commissioner. The forwarding date shall be the mailing date to the parties, as indicated below. Such exceptions must be forwarded to: Commissioner of Education, c/o Bureau of Controversies and Disputes, P.O. Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625, marked "Attention: Comments on Ethics Commission Sanction."[2] A copy of any comments filed must be sent to the Commission (school.ethics@doe.nj.gov) and all other parties.

Parties seeking to appeal the Commission's finding of violation must file an appeal pursuant to the standards set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:4-1 et seq. within thirty (30) days of the filing date of the decision from which the appeal is taken. The filing date shall be three (3) days after the date of mailing to the parties, as shown below. In such cases, the Commissioner's review of the Commission's recommended sanction will be deferred and incorporated into the Commissioner's review of the finding of violation on appeal. Where a notice of appeal has been filed on or before the due date for exceptions to the Commission's recommended sanction (thirteen (13) days from the date the decision is mailed by the Commission), exceptions need not be filed by that date, but may be incorporated into the appellant's brief on appeal.

Re: M.M., on behalf of minor child v. Board of Education of the Township of Lafayette, Sussex County, Agency Dkt. No. 94-5/20.

Dear Parties:

I have reviewed the materials filed in connection with petitioner's motion to stay proceedings at the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) pending the outcome of proceedings in the New Jersey Supreme Court.[1]

By way of background, in her May 2020 petition of appeal, petitioner sought access to a video maintained by her child's school, alleging that it was a student record to which she was entitled pursuant to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). According to petitioner, the video is relevant to a harassment, intimidation, and bullying (HIB) claim made on behalf of her child. During

[1] Petitioner's motion to the Commissioner failed to note that she had filed a motion for a stay of the OAL proceedings with Administrative Law Judge Anthony-Jude Tiscornia, which was denied. This information was only provided later by respondent, in opposition to the motion to stay. Petitioner's omission prevented the Commissioner from recognizing the instant motion as what it really is – a request for interlocutory relief. Moreover, that request is clearly untimely pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-14.10(b), as it was filed more than five days after Judge Tiscornia's order. The failure to timely file is sufficient grounds to deny the request for interlocutory relief, but, because the Commissioner was unaware of the procedural posture and directed a briefing schedule consistent with a motion for a stay rather than a request for interlocutory relief, the Commissioner has determined that it is appropriate to also address the motion to stay based on the standards applicable to such motions. Additionally, the Commissioner notes that petitioner's motion seeks a stay "pending decision on petition for certification to the supreme court." However, at the time petitioner filed her motion to stay with the Commissioner, there were no proceedings pending in the Supreme Court. Once again, this information only came to light in respondent's opposition to the motion, which demonstrated that petitioner had not filed a petition for certification, but only a motion for leave to appeal, which was denied by the Supreme Court. Following service of respondent's opposition, petitioner filed a petition for certification in the Supreme Court. Notwithstanding the significant flaws in petitioner's motion, the Commissioner is issuing this decision based on the status of the filings in the Supreme Court as they currently exist.

the course of the proceedings, petitioner's filings suggested that she was challenging the underlying HIB investigation as well.[2] Accordingly, in order to thoroughly address all potential issues, the Commissioner issued a decision on November 5, 2020 that reached conclusions about both the HIB claim and petitioner's right to access to the video.

Regarding the HIB claim, the Commissioner determined that it was not ripe for review because the Board had not issued a decision, and the applicable HIB statute provides for a right of appeal to the Commissioner only after a board of education issues a decision. Regarding petitioner's right to the video, the Commissioner determined that petitioner did not have a right to the video as discovery for the hearing she had requested before the Board, because the HIB statute does not require trial-type adversarial proceedings or provide for procedures that are judicial in nature when a board of education is reviewing the findings of the HIB investigation conducted by district staff. Furthermore, the Commissioner determined that she did not have jurisdiction to adjudicate claims under FERPA, which is a federal law. However, giving petitioner leeway as a pro se petitioner, the Commissioner reviewed her claim to the video under New Jersey's Pupil Records Act, and determined that the law does not require the Board to provide a copy of the video, but only access to it, which the Board had already provided.

On appeal, petitioner sought to supplement the record with documents that were not a part of the record before the Commissioner when she issued her decision, which petitioner alleged demonstrated that the Board had made a decision regarding the HIB claim. Upon receiving these documents, counsel for the Department of Education filed a cross-motion to remand the matter for further fact-finding to determine whether a decision was issued, to ensure that the issue of ripeness was decided based on accurate facts. The Appellate Division granted the motion for remand. In transmitting the remanded matter to the OAL, the issue was defined as determining whether the Board had made a decision regarding the HIB claim, consistent with the representations that had been made to the Appellate Division by counsel for the Department in the motion for remand. The transmittal form noted that if the Board had issued a decision, the matter could proceed for a merits determination regarding whether that decision was arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable. The form further indicated that while petitioner's right to access the video under FERPA and/or the New Jersey Pupil Records Act were not included in the remand because those conclusions were not affected by the ripeness issue, petitioner could assert a right to the video as discovery at the OAL if the matter proceeded to a merits determination on the underlying HIB claim, with any discovery disputes to be resolved in the normal course by the ALJ.

Petitioner's briefs in support of her motion to stay indicate that she is asking the Supreme Court to reverse the Appellate Division's decision granting a remand.

[2] In the time since this matter was first filed in May 2020, the massive volume of motions and other documents filed by petitioner at all levels – petitioner currently has submissions before the OAL, the Commissioner, the Appellate Division, and the Supreme Court – has made it increasingly difficult to ascertain the relief that she is seeking. At times, she has indicated that her sole issue is access to the video and that she is not challenging the underlying HIB investigation. At other times, she has alleged that the Board violated the HIB statutes and regulations and that the HIB investigation reached the wrong conclusion. Petitioner's prior Appellate Division motion to supplement the record with documents that she alleges demonstrates that the Board issued a HIB decision, and that therefore the merits of that decision are ripe for review, also suggests that she seeks to pursue the underlying HIB claim.

Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.6(b), a motion for stay is considered an extraordinary remedy that may only be issued upon a finding that the movant has met each prong of the four-pronged standard for the granting of interim relief set forth in Crowe v. DeGioia, 90 N.J. 126 (1982). Thus, a stay may be granted where necessary to prevent irreparable harm, where the legal right underlying the movant's claim is settled, where there is a likelihood of success on the merits and where the relative hardship to the moving party favors granting such relief. Id. at 132-134.

Upon review of the parties' submissions, I find that petitioner has failed to meet the standard required for a stay of the OAL proceedings.[3] First, petitioner has failed to demonstrate that a stay is necessary to prevent irreparable harm. While petitioner disagrees with the Appellate Division's decision granting the motion for remand, the only consequence of that decision is that further fact-finding proceedings regarding whether the Board issued a HIB decision are occurring. Petitioner has failed to make any showing that participating in those proceedings will lead to irreparable harm. In granting the motion for remand, the Appellate Division has clearly determined that those proceedings are appropriate, and the Commissioner finds no basis to disagree with that determination. The proceedings are unlikely to be protracted,[4] as the question of whether the Board issued a decision is a relatively simple one that should be able to be resolved based on the submission of documentary evidence, or testimony or certifications from witnesses with knowledge of the Board's actions.

Furthermore, to the extent that petitioner's argument to the Supreme Court is based on her claim to access to the video, petitioner has failed to show a likelihood of success on the merits of that argument. The Commissioner's November 5, 2020 decision correctly determined that petitioner does not have a right to a copy of the video under the New Jersey Pupil Records Act. The Commissioner also correctly determined that Board hearings regarding HIB matters are not required to be trial-type adversary proceedings and that there is no provision in the HIB statute for judicial procedures such as discovery.[5] Petitioner provides no legal basis to overturn those decisions.

[3] Petitioner previously made a motion to the Appellate Division to stay the OAL proceedings pending the Supreme Court proceedings, which was denied by the Appellate Division. Respondent contends that the Commissioner is without jurisdiction to reverse the Appellate Division's order. However, as the Appellate Division's order was not accompanied by a written decision, the Commissioner is unable to determine whether the Appellate Division entered the order on the grounds that the Crowe standards had not been met, or for some other reason, such as petitioner's failure to first make the motion to the Commissioner. Accordingly, the Commissioner will not presume that she lacks jurisdiction to decide the instant motion. Moreover, to the extent that the Appellate Division did decide the motion on the merits, the Commissioner's decision herein to deny the motion is consistent with the Appellate Division's order.

[4] Except perhaps to the extent that petitioner continues to file multiple motions and other submissions that must be reviewed and addressed and that are therefore delaying resolution of the ultimate issue.

[5] Furthermore, as described above, neither the Commissioner's decision nor the remand transmittal precludes petitioner from seeking the video as part of discovery at the OAL, if it is determined that the Board issued a HIB decision and petitioner's challenge to that decision is ripe for review.

In light of the fact that all of the Crowe prongs must be met in order for a stay to be granted, it is not necessary to analyze the remaining factors. Accordingly, respondent's request for a stay of the September 16, 2021 decision is hereby DENIED.[6]

Sincerely,

Angelica Allen-McMillan, Ed.D.

Final Decision

Adrian McConney,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Township of Piscataway, Middlesex County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

In this case on remand, petitioner – formerly employed as a tenured physical education teacher – sought an order requiring the respondent Board to reimburse him for salary that was withheld between September 1, 2013 and March 1, 2014, a period corresponding to the time between when petitioner was suspended following a criminal indictment and the date upon which he was reinstated to the payroll after the indictment was dismissed. The indictment involved allegations that petitioner had engaged in sexual relations with an 18-year-old student who attended Piscataway High School. The Commissioner previously remanded this matter to the OAL for determination of whether petitioner was entitled to back pay from September 1, 2013 through March 1, 2014 and whether such determination should include "weighing of the equities" and consideration of "fundamental fairness."

On remand, the ALJ, inter alia, denied petitioner's request for back pay, finding that given the negative inference placed on petitioner as a result of his invocation of the Fifth Amendment in this proceeding and his refusal to answer interrogatories and requests for admission during discovery, the Board had presented sufficient evidence that petitioner was guilty of misconduct by a public school teacher. Accordingly, the ALJ found that the equities side with the Board and fundamental fairness leads to the conclusion that the Board should not have to pay petitioner for the period of time he was suspended without pay.

Upon review the Commissioner agreed with the ALJ that fundamental fairness and equity dictate that petitioner is not entitled to back pay for the period that the indictment was pending, September 1, 2013 through February 4, 2014. However, for the period after the indictment was dismissed until the Board reinstated petitioner to the payroll – February 4, 2014 through March 1, 2014 – the Commissioner determined that he was entitled to back pay since no indictment was pending and no tenure charges had been filed, so there was no basis for the Board to withhold petitioner's salary. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-8.3. Accordingly, the Board was directed to reimburse petitioner for compensation withheld during that period.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Decision on Remand

Adrian McConney,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Township of Piscataway, Middlesex County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed, as have the exceptions filed pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4 by the petitioner. The Board did not file reply exceptions, but rather indicated that it would rely on its arguments presented in briefs at the OAL.

In this matter, petitioner – a tenured physical education teacher – seeks back pay from September 1, 2013 (the date he was suspended without pay following his indictment) to March 1, 2014 (the date he was reinstated to payroll following the dismissal of his indictment). By way of background, petitioner was indicted in August 2013 on charges relating to allegations that he had engaged in sexual relations with an 18-year-old student who attended Piscataway High School. The Board suspended petitioner without pay pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-8.3 on September 1, 2013. Thereafter, the indictment was dismissed by a Superior Court judge on February 4, 2014, and the Board reinstated petitioner to the payroll on March 1, 2014.

Petitioner then resigned from his position on April 13, 2014. On February 9, 2015, the indictment was reinstated by the Appellate Division. Following a trial, a jury returned a verdict of not guilty on February 21, 2017. In a decision dated August 21, 2017, the Commissioner remanded this matter to the OAL for a determination on whether petitioner is entitled to back pay from September 1, 2013 to March 1, 2014, and whether such determination should include "weighing of the equities" and consideration of "fundamental fairness."

On remand, the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) denied petitioner's request for back pay. The ALJ found that, given the negative inference placed on petitioner as a result of his invocation of the Fifth Amendment in this proceeding and his refusal to answer interrogatories and requests for admission during discovery, the Board had presented sufficient evidence that petitioner was guilty of misconduct by a public school teacher. As such, the ALJ found that the equities side with the Board and fundamental fairness leads to the conclusion that the Board should not have to pay petitioner for the period of time he was suspended without pay.

In his exceptions, petitioner argues that he was entitled to back pay from February 4, 2014 through March 1, 2014 because the indictment had been dismissed during this period and he was not the subject of tenure charges because they were never filed against him. Petitioner also contends that he is entitled to back pay for the period of September 1, 2013 through February 4, 2014 because the balance of the equities does not favor the Board as it never filed tenure charges. Petitioner maintains that he should not have been denied reimbursement because of a negative inference of conduct unbecoming, given that the Board failed to present any residuum of evidence to support its argument.

Accordingly, petitioner urges the Commissioner to reject the Initial Decision and order that petitioner is entitled to his full claim of back pay.

Upon review, the Commissioner agrees with the ALJ that petitioner is not entitled to back pay for the period when he was under indictment, September 1, 2013 through February 4, 2014, due to fundamental fairness and the weighing of the equities. The Commissioner has found that based on fundamental fairness and equity, where a tenured employee seeks to recover salary that was withheld during an indictment in which the employee later obtained a favorable outcome, but where in tenure proceedings the employee has subsequently been found to have committed the same conduct that was the subject of the criminal charges, the employee should not recover the salary that was withheld while the indictment was pending. Board of Education of the City of Camden, Camden County v. John Hovington, EDU 6675-97, Initial Decision (February 9, 1998), adopted by Commissioner's Decision No. 147-98R, decided March 30, 1998; In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of Brian Yatauro, School District of the Township of Lacey, Ocean County, EDU 00793-99, Initial Decision (July 12, 1999), adopted as modified by Commissioner's Decision No. 322-99R, decided October 13, 1999.

While tenure charges were not filed in this matter, a negative inference was imposed on petitioner arising from his invocation of the Fifth Amendment in this administrative proceeding. Specifically, petitioner refused to answer the following interrogatories:

1. State whether you engaged in sexual relations with a student enrolled at Piscataway High School, as alleged in the criminal indictment that was the subject of this action.
2. If so, set forth the following information: a) student's name; b) when and where sexual relations occurred; c) your understanding of the student's age at the time sexual > relations occurred; d) your understanding with respect to whether sexual relations with said student were a violation of your professional responsibilities as employee of the Piscataway Township School District.

Petitioner also did not answer the following requests for admissions:

1. you engaged in sexual relations with a female student enrolled in Piscataway High School.
2. you repeatedly engaged in sexual relations with a female student enrolled in Piscataway High School.
3. you engaged in sexual relations with a female student enrolled in Piscataway High School on Piscataway High School or other Piscataway School District property.

The record demonstrates that petitioner has stipulated that the board remains entitled to an adverse interest regarding his conduct due to his refusal to respond to discovery requests. The petitioner had the opportunity to deny the allegations against him, but he chose not to answer discovery. As such, in this proceeding, the Commissioner agrees with the ALJ that, considering the negative inference, it is presumed in this matter that petitioner engaged in the conduct alleged. While the conduct did not amount to criminal conduct, presumably due to the age of the student, such conduct nevertheless violates the behavioral standards expected of a teacher. Accordingly, the Commissioner agrees with the ALJ for the reasons thoroughly stated in the Initial Decision that fundamental fairness and equity lead to the conclusion that petitioner is not entitled to back pay for the period that the indictment was pending, September 1, 2013 through February 4, 2014.

The Commissioner does not find petitioner's exceptions on this issue to be persuasive. Although no tenure charges were filed, the conduct is deemed to have been committed due to the adverse inference applied against petitioner. As such, this matter is analogous to Hovington and Yatauro, supra, and fundamental fairness and equity support the denial of back pay for the time that the indictment was pending.

However, with respect to the period after the indictment was dismissed until the Board reinstated petitioner to the payroll – February 4, 2014 through March 1, 2014 – the Commissioner agrees with the petitioner that he is entitled to back pay. During that time, no indictment was pending and no tenure charges had been filed, so there is no basis for the Board to withhold petitioner's salary. N.J.S.A. 18A:6-8.3; see Slater v. Board of Education of the Ramapo-Indian Hills Regional School District, 237 N.J. Super. 424, 426 (App. Div. 1989) (stating that "a tenured employee may be suspended without pay only if indicted or if tenure charges have been preferred and certified to the Commissioner of Education. In all other circumstances, a suspension must be with pay.").

Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL is adopted, as modified herein, as the final decision in this matter. The Board is directed to reimburse petitioner for compensation withheld between February 4, 2014 and March 1, 2014.

IT IS SO ORDERED. [1]

Record Closed: August 2, 2021 Decided: September 13, 2021

BEFORE JEFF S. MASIN, ALJ (Ret., on recall):

The Commissioner of Education remanded this matter to the Office of Administrative Law after a review of an Initial Decision rendered by Honorable Leland McGee, ALJ, dated July 6, 2017. The Commissioner determined that there were issues that had not been addressed in the decision and thus, further OAL proceedings were necessary. The matter was assigned to a judge, but upon her appointment to the Superior Court the matter was transferred to this judge on August 2, 2021. The parties had cross-moved for summary decision before the previously assigned judge.

The parties produced a Joint Stipulation of Facts. These provide the background for the current dispute, which deals with whether Mr. McConney should receive back pay for the period when he was suspended from employment without pay. Based upon the Stipulated Facts, I make the following FINDINGS relevant to this remand.

1) McConney was employed as a tenured physical education teacher at Piscataway High School.
2) On August 13, 2013, he was indicted by the Middlesex County Grand Jury on a charge of "Official Misconduct," relating to allegations that he had engaged in sexual relations with an eighteen-year-old student who attended that school. He plead not guilty to the charge.
3) He was suspended from employment without pay, effective September 1, 2013, the start of the school year. McConney was a ten-month employee.
4) McConney filed a motion to dismiss the indictment.
5) On February 4, 2014, Honorable Bradley J. Ferencz J.S.C., granted the motion and dismissed the indictment. He concluded that even if the factual allegations stated in the indictment were true, they did not establish a basis for the charge of Official Misconduct.
6) Following Judge Ferencz's decision, the Board of Education reinstated Mr. McConney on the payroll, effective March 1, 2014.
7) McConney then resigned his position with the Board, effective April 13, 2014.
8) The Board never filed any tenure charges against McConney.
9) On May 2, 2014, McConney filed a Petition for Relief with the Commissioner of Education, seeking back pay for the period from February 4, 2014, the date of Judge Ferencz's Order dismissing the indictment, to April 13, 2014, the date of his resignation.

10) On June 4, 2014, McConney filed a motion seeking leave to amend the Petition to request back pay from September 1, 2013, the effective date of the Board's suspension of his pay, to April 13, 2014, the date of his resignation. This motion was subsequently granted by Judge McGee.

11) On February 9, 2015, the Appellate Division overturned Judge Ferencz's Order dismissing the indictment, thereby reinstating the indictment and remanded the matter to the Superior Court for disposition.

12) Following a trial, on February 21, 2017, the jury returned a verdict of "not guilty" to all charges against McConney.

13) In response to certain interrogatories and requests for admission filed by the Board in discovery in this matter, then pending before Judge McGee, Mr. McConney advised that if called to testify as a witness he would invoke his privilege against self-incrimination under the Fifth Amendment. He also declined to answer the interrogatories or the requests for admission on the same basis. In the Stipulation of Facts dated by his counsel on March 23, 2017, McConney acknowledges that in light of his invocation of the privilege, "the Board remains entitled to the adverse inference regarding his conduct that was granted to the Board in the Court's [Judge McGee's] January 5, 2015 Order."

In remanding the matter, the Commissioner noted that in his decision Judge McGee determined that as of the date of Judge Ferencz's Order dismissing the indictment, there was then neither an indictment nor a tenure charge pending against McConney and that under N.J.S.A. 18A:6-8.3, a tenured employee was entitled to back pay when no longer under indictment and before the filing of any subsequent tenure charges. Judge McGee further found that the negative inferences arising from McConney's invocation of the Fifth Amendment in this civil administrative proceeding did not factor into this analysis of his right to back pay for that period. Additionally, McConney was not seeking back pay for the period when he had been under indictment, and therefore consideration of the fundamental fairness question regarding the issuance of back pay to one who had not actually performed services was not dispositive. The Commissioner noted that on remand, the judge was to determine whether McConney was "entitled to back pay from September 1, 2013 through March 1, 2014 and whether such determination should include 'weighing of the equities' and considerations of 'fundamental fairness.'"

The parties have filed briefs and exhibits relating to their cross-motions for summary decision. In his brief, Mr. McConney relies upon the language of N.J.S.A. 18A:6-8.3, which states

> Any employee or officer of a board of education in this State who is suspended from his employment, office or position, other than by reason of indictment, pending any investigation, hearing or trial or any appeal therefrom, shall receive his full pay or salary during such period of suspension, except that in the event of charges against such employee or officer brought before the board of education or the Commissioner of Education pursuant to law, such suspension may be with or without pay or salary as provided in chapter 6 of which this section is a supplement.

In Slater v. Board of Education, 237 N.J. Super. 424 (App. Div. 1989), the court noted that > Thus, a tenured employee may be suspended without pay only if indicted or if tenure charges have been preferred and certified to the Commissioner of Education. In all other circumstances, a suspension must be with pay.

As this language and court pronouncement only relate here to the period after the dismissal of the indictment on Judge Ferencz's order, this only speaks to McConney's right to receive back pay for the period from February 4, 2014, until his reinstatement to the payroll on March 1, 2014. However, McConney also argues that as the jury eventually returned a verdict of not guilty on the charge of Official Misconduct, the sole charge of the reinstated indictment, fundamental fairness and a weighing of the equities demand that he recover the back pay withheld during the pendency of the indictment from September 1, 2013, until its dismissal by Judge Ferencz on February 4, 2014. He cites prior administrative decisions by the Commissioner in support, Beatty v. Newton Board of Education, 1991 S.L.D. 1001; Lopez v. Bridgeton Board of Education, http://unlawful.Rutgers,edu/collections/oal, and Griffin v. Paterson Board of Education, 93 N.J.A.R. 2d (EDU) 882.

In Beatty, the teacher was suspended without pay after an indictment. The criminal trial resulted in a jury verdict of not guilty. The Commissioner determined that "fundamental fairness" entitled Beatty to back pay for all salary lost while under indictment. Equity demanded this result as the indictment had been the sole basis for the suspension without pay. Although tenure charges had been filed and were pending, this fact "did not alter the equities in the matter." Beatty, at 1009-1010. Griffin similarly involved a suspension due to an indictment. Griffin was found not guilty after a jury trial and no tenure charges were filed. In Lopez, a trial judge dismissed an indictment for child endangerment. As the dismissal of the indictment exonerated Lopez, back pay for the period of suspension due to the pendency of the indictment was awarded.

McConney differentiates these cases from other cases in which the Commissioner determined that back pay for a period of suspension was not warranted, despite not guilty findings in a criminal case, or the entry of the teacher into a pre-trial intervention program, Camden Board of Education v. Hovington, (Hovington II) http://unlawful Rutgers.edu/collections/oal/, adopted by Comm. of Ed. (March 30, 1998)(not guilty verdict); Busler v. Board of Education of the City of East Orange, http://njlaw.Rutgers.edu/collections/oal/, adopted by Comm. of Educ. (February 6, 2002)(pre-trial intervention). In each instance, tenure charges were filed and resulted in findings of misconduct by the teacher and the loss of tenure; In the Matter of the Tenure Hearing of John Hovington, Board of Education of the City of Camden (Hovington I), (Final Commissioner's Decision on Remand from State Board of Education., August 5, 1997). He contends that the facts in this case are dissimilar to Hovington II and Busler.

As for the negative inference arising against Mr. McConney due to his invocation of his Fifth Amendment privilege, he argues that the issue before the Commissioner is simply whether, in light of the dismissal of the indictment by a jury verdict of not guilty and the absence of any tenure charge pending at the time of the suspension without pay, the statute directs that he is entitled to receive full back pay for that period of suspension. He contends that the clear language supports his right to such back pay. This is not the forum to adjudicate his alleged culpability for unbecoming conduct. As such, any evidence that purports to address that issue is irrelevant to the present proceedings. Additionally, the negative inference alone is insufficient to prove McConney's guilt for unbecoming conduct.

In response to McConney's arguments and in support of its own motion for summary decision, the Board notes that in cases such as Griffin and Beatty, the employee had been adjudged completely innocent of any wrongdoing. As such, for the employee to have continued to suffer the loss of pay withheld due to a suspension founded upon the existence of an indictment that was later adjudged to have charged an innocent person would "shock the conscience" and thus principles of equity and fundamental fairness demanded that the lost pay be restored. In Lopez, the ALJ noted that the employee had been totally exonerated of the charge of child endangerment by the criminal court judge's dismissal of the indictment because it was unsupported by credible evidence and had been improperly obtained. The judge then added that > [t]he record is barren of any evidence that petitioner acted wrongfully or was a risk to students. In essence, petitioner did nothing wrong if measured by a criminal or civil standard. The allegation of any wrongdoing was dismissed as baseless.

Counsel for the Board points out that these cases contrast with other cases, such as Hovington II and Lacey Township Board of Education v. Yatauro, http://unlawful Rutgers.edu/collections/oal/. Hovington had been indicted for charges relating to sexual misconduct with a student he coached. He was acquitted of the criminal charges. He sought back pay for the period of suspension without pay which had been suspended due to the pendency of the indictment. However, after the acquittal, tenure charges were filed for the same conduct that had led to the indictment and after an administrative hearing, Hovington was found to have engaged in misconduct and his tenure was removed. Hovington I. The Commissioner agreed with this judge that as Hovington had been shown to have "so flagrantly violated his trust as a professional educator," he did not stand before the Commissioner on the same ground as had Beatty and Griffin. Hovington II. They, having been exonerated by jury verdicts, were to be presumed innocent of the charges that had been the basis for the indictment that supported the suspension of pay. Hovington could not claim to stand in the same position, as he had instead been found to have actually engaged in improper conduct, even if the proofs had not been determined to rise to the level of criminality. Yatauro also was acquitted of criminal charges arising from alleged sexual improprieties with a student. However, the Board was able to sustain tenure charges against him; charges that were not filed until after the acquittal occurred.

Counsel contends that the present case is unlike Beatty, Griffin or Lopez and is instead more akin to Hovington II and Yatauro. The reason for this distinction arises from Mr. McConney's invocation of the Fifth Amendment privilege in response to interrogatories that specifically asked

> 1. State whether you engaged in sexual relations with a student enrolled at Piscataway High School, as alleged in the criminal indictment that was the subject of this action.
> 2. If so, set forth the following information: a) student's name; b) when and where sexual relations occurred; c your understanding of the student's age at the time sexual relations occurred; d) your understanding with respect to whether sexual relations with said student were a violation of your professional responsibilities as employee of the Piscataway Township School District, and requests for admissions that stated that while employed by the School District as physical education teacher and/or girls soccer coach at Piscataway High School,

> 1. you engaged in sexual relations with a female student enrolled in Piscataway High School.
> 2. you repeatedly engaged in sexual relations with a female student enrolled in Piscataway High School.
> 3. you engaged in sexual relations with a female student enrolled in Piscataway High School on Piscataway High School or other Piscataway School District property.

McConney's refusal to answer these very specific questions and his refusal to admit or deny the statements and his use of the privilege against self-incrimination led Judge McGee to issue his Order II, dated January 5, 2015, wherein he considered the impact of McConney's refusal to provide the requested answers as part of discovery and noted that in Mahne v. Mahne, 66 N.J. 53 (1974), the New Jersey Supreme Court had concluded that where the privilege was invoked by the plaintiff in the course of civil discovery, its "sole purpose . . . is to shield a witness against the incriminating effects of the testimony." As such, the Court "will not permit its use as a weapon to unfairly prejudice an adversary." As such, where the privilege is invoked in a civil litigation, the action may be dismissed or a lesser non-criminal sanction may be imposed. Judge McGee concluded that the Board could still proceed in the case without the answers to its interrogatories and requests for admission. However, he concluded that, in line with Mahne, the sanction "best designed to protect the pertinent public and private interests without impairing the historic designs of the privilege," Mahne, at 61, was to permit "an adverse inference to be drawn from petitioner's invocation of his privilege against self-incrimination."

Counsel for the Board asserts that while here no tenure charges were filed and there has thus been no prior determination of misconduct, unlike in both Hovington II and Yatauro, nevertheless, given the fact that McConney resigned his position "promptly after dismissal of the indictment" and given the negative inferences that arise from his refusal to answer the pointed questions and statements in discovery, the equities do not lie in McConney's favor and "fundamental fairness" does not support his receiving back pay for the period of his suspension without pay from September 1, 2013, until his reinstatement to pay status on March 1, 2014.

Discussion

A motion for summary decision is permitted by N.J.A.C. 1:1-12.5. The standard for judging such a motion is the same as for the motion for summary judgment in the Superior Court. The New Jersey Supreme Court defined this standard in Brill v. The Guardian Life Insurance Company of America, et al., 142 N.J. 520 (1995). The Court elaborated upon the standards first established in Judson v. People's Bank and Trust Co. of Westfield, 17 N.J 67, 74-75 (1954). Under the Brill standard, a motion for summary decision may only be granted where there are no "genuine disputes" of "material fact." The determination as to whether disputes of material fact exist is made after a "discriminating search" of the record, consisting as it may of affidavits, certifications, documentary exhibits and any other evidence filed by the movant and any such evidence filed in response to the motion, with all reasonable inferences arising from the evidence being accorded to the opponent of the motion. In order to defeat the motion, the opposing party must establish the existence of "genuine" disputes of material fact. The substantive law governing a dispute determines which facts are material. Only disputes regarding "those facts that might affect the outcome of the suit under the governing law will properly preclude the entry of summary judgment." Dungee v. Northeast Foods, Inc., 940 F. Supp 682, 685 (D.N.J. 1996), quoting Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 248, 106 S. Ct. 2505, 2511, 91 L. Ed.2d 202, 211 (1986)(Anderson).

In Judson, at 75, the Supreme Court stated that the material facts allegedly in dispute upon which the party opposing the motion relies to defeat the motion must be something more than "facts which are immaterial or of an insubstantial nature, a mere scintilla, fanciful, frivolous, gauzy or merely suspicious, . . . ,"(citations omitted). Brill focuses upon the analytical procedure for determining whether a purported dispute of material fact is "genuine" or is simply of an "insubstantial nature." Brill, at 530. Brill concludes that the same analytical process used to decide motions for a directed verdict is used to resolve summary decision motions. "The essence of the inquiry in each is the same: 'whether the evidence presents a sufficient disagreement to require submission to a jury or whether it is so one-sided that a party must prevail as a matter of law.'" Id. at 536, quoting Anderson, at 477 U.S. 251-52, 106 S. Ct. 2505, 2512, 91 L. Ed 2d 214. In searching the proffered evidence to determine the motion, the judge must be guided by the applicable substantive evidentiary standard of proof, that is, the "burden of persuasion" which would apply at trial on the merits, whether that is the preponderance of the evidence or the clear and convincing evidence standard. If a careful review under this standard establishes that no reasonable fact finder could resolve the disputed material facts in favor of the party opposing the motion, then the uncontradicted facts thus established can be examined in the light of the applicable substantive law to determine whether or not the movant is clearly entitled to judgment as a matter of law. However, where the proofs in the record are such that "reasonable minds could differ" as to the material facts, then the motion must be denied, and a full evidentiary hearing held.

Mr. McConney was indicted for Official Misconduct, and after the indictment was reinstated by the Appellate Division, he was acquitted of that criminal charge. He resigned his position with Piscataway School District shortly after he was restored to pay status following the trial judge's ruling, which the Appellate Division found, had incorrectly dismissed the indictment. The Board did not file a tenure charge, which it must be noted they could have done even before the criminal charge was initially dismissed. I FIND that there is no dispute as to both the dismissal of the indictment and the lack of any tenure charges.

Once the indictment was dismissed by Judge Ferencz, with no pending tenure charge, the Board reinstated his pay as of March 1, 2014. The Board still did not choose to file a tenure charge between the date of the Judge's Order and McConney's resignation, which latter action they may well not have had any advance indication was to occur when it did. Given these undisputed facts, if one looks at the wording of N.J.S.A. 18A:6-3, it is apparent that there being no tenure charge and a dismissed indictment, as of the time of McConney's resignation, it would have seemed unfair for the Board to be able to deny back pay for the period during which there was neither a tenure charge or, as Judge Ferencz's ruling held, no grounds for the indictment that had served as the basis for the suspension of pay. At that time, it might well have seemed that the equities would have been on McConney's side, that "fundamental fairness" would require that he be made whole for the pay he lost while under the cloud of what the trial judge determined was a flawed and unsustainable indictment. At that point in time, if one looked at prior cases such as Beatty, Lopez and Griffin, one might well have ruled that the Board should pay McConney that which had been withheld. Thus, were these the only relevant material facts, summary decision in McConney's favor would seem appropriate. However, as Hovington II and Yatauro explain, while at one point in time the fact of the jury's verdict finding a lack of criminal conduct and the absence of tenure charges would favor restoration of the suspended pay, at another point in time, where tenure charges have been filed and the employee found to have engaged in misconduct arising from the same factual base as the indictment arose from, the positions of the employee and the school board vis a vis the equities can be seen to have changed. Judge McGee kindly quoted heavily from the initial decision in Hovington II, and I will not repeat much of that material here. Hovington had been acquitted in the criminal trial, but "the charges that were not proven beyond a reasonable doubt . . . were amply proven in the tenure hearing

> Therefore, Hovington's position as a supplicant seeking equity . . . is far different than the presumptively innocent claimants in Beatty and Griffin. "Fundamental fairness," the touchstone of the commissioner's reasoning in Beatty, hardly demands that this Board be required to pay this petitioner for six years in which he did not work for the Board, when in fact he was guilty of serious tenure violations committed before his suspension. If anything, "fundamental fairness" to the citizens and taxpayers of the City of Camden demands that he not be paid where he so flagrantly violated his trust as a professional educator.
> [Hovington II, (initial decision)]

The question presented here is whether the facts as developed for the record as it now stands present a situation akin to those cases where there is neither a criminal conviction nor a tenure finding to support a Board's opposition to paying the monies withheld, or, instead, to those cases where the evidence of a tenure violation exists to such a degree that it would be an injustice to pay an employee for time in which he did not work and where his proven conduct shows that he did in fact act in a manner that warrants sanction. Here, there is no tenure determination made subsequent to the acquittal or dismissal of criminal charges. Instead, the Board contends that as McConney chose, as was his undeniable Constitutional right, to refuse to answer specific interrogatories or reply to specific requests for admission which directly addressed the question of whether he had sexual relations with a student enrolled in the District while he was a teacher and coach in the District, he should be seen as one who, in effect, has admitted that he did such acts and therefore, engaged in what is undeniably improper conduct for a teacher. As the Court in Mahne noted, "the sole purpose of the privilege is to shield a witness against the incriminating effects of the testimony." Mahne, at 58. Clearly, if Mr. McConney had chosen to answer the discovery, he could have denied that he had sexual relations with a student. Since he did not deny that, the only remaining alternative is that he did. And as has been noted elsewhere, even if the student was over the age of eighteen and thus an adult, that does not mean that McConney's conduct was not a serious violation of what is expected of a teacher. Thus, to the Board, McConney's guilt of a violation of his responsibilities as a teacher is sufficiently established to move the case into the class of Hovington II and Yatauro, and away from Beatty, Griffin and Lopez. As such, with regard to its own motion for summary decision, while McConney is entitled to all reasonable inferences arising from the evidence, given the negative inference against his interests to which the Board is entitled under Judge McGee's ruling, the Board has met its burden to demonstrate that no reasonable finder of fact could conclude that he is entitled to back pay for the period of the suspension while under indictment.

The standard of proof in this proceeding requires a party seeking a favorable result to prove their case by a preponderance of the credible evidence. Despite arguments to the contrary, given the Commissioner's acceptance of the Hovington II and Yatauro analyses that sufficient proof of misconduct is properly weighed in considering the equities, the negative inference arising from McConney's refusal to answer whether he had sex with a district student while a district teacher and coach is highly relevant evidence. And as the negative inference must be that he did have such relations, I FIND that in the context of this specific issue regarding back pay, the Board has presented sufficient evidence to support the conclusion that McConney was guilty of misconduct by a public school teacher. Given that finding, the equities come down on the side of the Board. Considerations of fundamental fairness lead to the conclusion that Mr. McConney has failed to justify why the Board should have to pay him for the period of time he was suspended without pay. While he was not found guilty of criminal conduct for having sex with a student who was over eighteen, that same conduct, established by a preponderance of the credible evidence, violated the accepted standards for a teacher.[1]

ORDER

Mr. McConney's motion for summary decision is DENIED and the Board's motion seeking dismissal of the petition for relief on substantive grounds is GRANTED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

[1]Counsel for petitioner has included as Exhibit B an arbitration decision in a tenure proceeding, In re: Lydia Wilson, Agency Dkt. No. 174-6/16 (February 1, 2017). In his brief counsel merely states that in regard to the negative inference arising from Mr. McConney's invocation of the Fifth Amendment in this administrative proceeding, that the inference is not enough to prove McConney guilty of unbecoming conduct. Without specifying what portion of the Wilson decision he believes relevant to the present matter, he merely points this judge to the "elaborate discussion on this point." It is noted that the Wilson case did not include any invocation of a privilege against self-incrimination and no negative inference issue. If counsel thought that there was some particular portion of this forty-five-page arbitration decision that should be focused upon, he should have made that clear. If instead, the point is only that in Wilson the arbitrator found that the presentation by the Board failed to present sufficient credible evidence to prove Wilson's alleged misconduct, such a general conclusion of insufficiency of evidence does not address itself to the particular nature of the present case, in which the negative inference arises directly from the refusal of McConney to answer the direct question of whether he had sexual relations with a student in the school district in which he was both a teacher and coach. His failure to deny such obviously serious conduct, which, under Mahne allows a fact finder to conclude that if he had truthfully answered the question he would have had to admit that he did engage in that conduct, constitutes sufficient evidence to determine that in a balancing of equities and a determination of fundamental fairness with respect to pay for services that were not actually rendered, the Board is entitled to prevail.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

L.K. and T.K., on behalf of minor child, A.K.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Township of Mansfield, Burlington County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

This matter on remand from the Appellate Division concerns an alleged act of harassment, intimidation, and bullying (HIB) by A.K. The respondent Board found that A.K. had committed an act of HIB by questioning another student (N.V.) about dressing in clothing that is typically associated with females, when N.V. had previously been known to other students as a boy. The Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) overturned the Board's finding that A.K. had committed an act of HIB; however, the Commissioner reversed the ALJ's determination, concluding that the Board's decision was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable. The petitioners subsequently appealed. The Appellate Division found that the Commissioner's decision had not addressed credibility findings made by the ALJ and remanded the matter to the Commissioner. On remand the Commissioner was directed to "make explicit findings as to whether the ALJ's assessment of the testimony regarding A.K.'s allegedly persistent conduct was arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable, or was not supported by sufficient, competent, and credible evidence in the record."

Upon a comprehensive review of the record on remand, the Commissioner affirmed the Board's determination that A.K. committed an act of HIB. In so doing, the Commissioner concluded, inter alia, that: the distinguishing characteristic of gender identity is present when a student who was previously known as male begins to wear clothing and use a name typically associated with females; the Board was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable in determining that A.K. questioned N.V. about her choice of clothing and commented on the toys that N.V. liked; nor was it arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable for the Board to find that A.K.'s questioning and comments interfered with N.V.'s rights because they made her feel bad; further, it was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable for the Board to find that questions about a student's chosen clothing or comments about the toys that she likes are insulting or demeaning; and the fact that N.V. was upset by A.K.'s actions demonstrates that A.K. created a hostile educational environment. Accordingly, the Commissioner upheld the Board's determination that A.K. committed an act of HIB.

Petitioners,

v.

Board of Education of the Township of Mansfield, Burlington County,

Respondent.

This matter concerns an alleged act of harassment, intimidation, and bullying (HIB) by A.K. The Board found that A.K. had committed an act of HIB by questioning another student (N.V.) about dressing in clothing that is typically associated with females, when N.V. had previously been known to other students as a boy. The Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) overturned the Board's finding that A.K. had committed an act of HIB. The Commissioner reversed the ALJ's determination, concluding that the Board's decision was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable. Petitioners appealed, and the Appellate Division remanded the matter to the Commissioner, finding that the Commissioner's decision did not address credibility findings made by the ALJ. Specifically, the Appellate Division found that the Commissioner's decision was predicated on the finding that A.K. persisted in questioning N.V. about her gender identity after being counseled to stop, when the ALJ had discounted the credibility of the testimony on that topic. The Appellate Division directed the Commissioner, on remand, to "make explicit findings as to whether the ALJ's assessment of the testimony regarding A.K.'s allegedly persistent conduct was arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable, or was not supported by sufficient, competent, and credible evidence in the record.[1] L.K. v. Bd. of Educ. of Mansfield, 2020 N.J. Super. Unpub. LEXIS 2082, *3 (App. Div. Nov. 2, 2020).

The ALJ made two credibility findings regarding A.K.'s allegedly persistent conduct. First, the ALJ found that "the Board's witnesses often contradicted each other," and while she "attribute[d] this mostly to the length of time that had passed between the incidents in question and the hearing," she nonetheless found that "the administrators could not agree on the most important fact presented to the Board, which is that the HIB continued after September 29, 2015." Initial Decision at 22. The Commissioner's review of the testimony demonstrates that while the details in the administrators' accounts of the second incident between the students were not entirely consistent – likely attributable to the passage of time, as the ALJ noted – all three administrators were clear that a second incident did occur.

The ALJ summarized the testimony of the school's principal, Stacey Cullari, as follows: "On September 30, 2015, other students brought to her attention that A.K. was continuing to bother [N.V.] in the cafeteria. They said that A.K. was threatening that if [N.V.] told on her, she would get her parents on [N.V.]. [N.V.] confirmed that she said that. A.K. denied that it happened. [N.V.]'s mother also reported that [N.V.] told her it happened." Initial Decision at 14. The ALJ's summary of the testimony of the school's anti-bullying specialist, Cheryl Strickland, included the following: "The next day there was another incident, where

[1] In its decision, the Appellate Division upheld the Commissioner's determination that the procedures used by the Board in adjudicating the HIB allegations met constitutional requirements. Petitioners filed a petition for a writ of certiorari with the New Jersey Supreme Court, which was denied on May 18, 2021.

[N.V.] said A.K. was harassing [her][2] at lunch, and [N.V.] was upset. A.K. was still bothering [her], when she had agreed not to do so anymore. A.K. also accused [N.V.] of tattling on her and told other students." Initial Decision at 16. The ALJ also noted, "[Strickland] disagrees that A.K. did not continue to bother [N.V.] after they talked on September 29. She bothered [N.V.] and teased [her]. Students reported to the teacher that A.K. was bothering [N.V.] at lunch." Initial Decision at 17. Regarding the testimony of Superintendent Tiffany Moutis, the ALJ summarized: "A.K. exhibited HIB on the bus and on the playground. It continued after administrators told her to stop." Initial Decision at 20.

The Commissioner's review of the transcripts demonstrates that the ALJ accurately summarized this testimony – in other words, that the ALJ did not misrepresent or misattribute any of these statements.[3] Yet despite noting that each of the administrators testified that a second incident occurred, the ALJ somehow found that they had disagreed with each other about whether such had occurred. The ALJ did not find that any of the three administrators was not credible in her own testimony about the second incident – only that there was disagreement among them. As the Commissioner's review finds that there was no disagreement about the occurrence of a second incident, the Commissioner rejects any credibility finding based on that disagreement. Accordingly, the Commissioner finds that a second incident did occur.

[2] N.V. used masculine pronouns at the time of the incidents and is often referred to throughout the record in that manner. However, according to one of the district's witnesses, by the time of the OAL hearings, N.V. used feminine pronouns. Accordingly, the Commissioner has used feminine pronouns herein.

[3] See, e.g., Tr. September 26, 2017, 45:9-53:20, 127:10-128:9 (testimony of Stacey Cullari); Tr. September 26, 2017, 211:25-214:5, 254:10-256:6 (testimony of Cheryl Strickland); and Tr. November 15, 2017 (testimony of Tiffany Moutis).

Nor does the record support the ALJ's finding that the continuation of the HIB was "the most important fact presented to the Board." Initial Decision at 22. Despite the ALJ's credibility finding that "Ms. Perrone seemed to have the best recollection," ibid., the ALJ failed to acknowledge critical elements of Ms. Perrone's testimony. Ms. Perrone, who was a member of the Board at the time the HIB decision was made, and who participated in all of the executive sessions in which the decision was discussed, stated, "I believe the incident that was brought to the Board to consider was the incident on the bus, but the additional information was given to us to understand the entirety of what was going on and that it was continuing and that A.K. was persisting." Tr. October 11, 2017, 73:13-17. In reviewing the elements of the Act, Ms. Perrone described the conduct at issue as the "incidents that occurred on the school bus on September 29th," ibid., 103:15-16, "[t]he comments that A.K. made to [N.V.] regarding her gender, regarding her name, her dressing in clothing that was associated with a girl," ibid., 103:18-20, and "telling [N.V.] that [N.V.] should not wear a dress because dresses were for girls." Ibid. 104:7-8. It is clear from these statements that, contrary to the ALJ's conclusions, the "most important facts" presented to the Board were those about the incident on the bus, and not about A.K.'s behavior afterwards. These statements are further supported by the ABS Report presented to the Board, which contains two detailed paragraphs about the bus incident, and only one sentence at the end of the report regarding the continued behavior at lunch the following day. Accordingly, the Commissioner rejects the finding that the continued harassment was the most important fact presented to the Board, because it is not supported by sufficient, competent, and credible evidence in the record.

In the second credibility finding, the ALJ found that the principal and ABS "confused information that they received from [N.V.]'s mother with information they received from students," Initial Decision at 22, including that A.K. teased N.V. by saying that N.V. could not wear a dress to picture day, and that A.K. threatened N.V. The Commissioner concludes that the ALJ's assessment of this testimony was arbitrary, capricious, and unreasonable because it improperly evaluated the procedures used by district staff during the investigation based on procedural requirements that do not appear in the Act, conflated the purported procedural failing with the substance of the allegations, and failed to recognize that the burden of proof is on petitioners to demonstrate that the Board's decision was arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable. Specifically, the ALJ concluded that the information provided by N.V.'s mother was not corroborated and that it was therefore insufficient to sustain the superintendent's recommendation of HIB, and it was arbitrary, capricious, and unreasonable for the Board to rely on it. However, the Act does not define acceptable sources of information regarding HIB allegations, nor does the Act contain any requirements related to hearsay or corroboration. During the course of the investigation, district staff gathered information from multiple sources – N.V., N.V's mother, A.K., T.K., and other students. Making their best judgments based on their knowledge of the students, the principal and ABS determined that the evidence was sufficient to substantiate a finding that A.K. had committed an act of HIB, including by engaging in repetitive conduct. By concluding that the district's procedures were flawed, the ALJ wrote requirements into the Act that the Legislature did not include. Moreover, the ALJ allowed her incorrect conclusion regarding the procedures to influence her conclusion about the merits of the allegations.

Furthermore, the Commissioner finds the ALJ's credibility finding regarding corroboration unreasonable to the extent that it was based on her decision to disregard any information provided by the district's witnesses that was not incorporated into their interview notes. Again, the ALJ has written a requirement into the Act that does not exist. The individuals completing an HIB investigation are not required to take verbatim notes of their interviews – which would be extremely difficult[4] – and the Commissioner finds it entirely reasonable that they might include information in their reports that is not reflected in their notes.

When a local board of education acts within its discretionary authority, its decision is entitled to a presumption of correctness and will not be disturbed unless there is an affirmative showing that the decision was "patently arbitrary, without rational basis or induced by improper motives." Kopera v. W. Orange Bd. of Educ., 60 N.J. Super. 288, 294 (App. Div. 1960). Furthermore, "where there is room for two opinions, action is not arbitrary or capricious when exercised honestly and upon due consideration[,]" and the Commissioner will not substitute his judgment for that of the board. Bayshore Sewerage Co. v. Dep't. of Envtl. Prot., 122 N.J. Super. 184, 199 (Ch. Div. 1973), aff'd, 131 N.J. Super. 37 (App. Div. 1974). Regarding HIB determinations, this standard has been explained as requiring a petitioner to "demonstrate that the Board acted in bad faith, or in utter disregard of the circumstances before it." G.H. and E.H. o/b/o K.H. v. Bd. of Educ. of the Borough of Franklin Lakes, Bergen Cty., EDU 13204-13, (Initial Decision February 24, 2014), adopted Commissioner Decision No. 157-14 (Apr. 10, 2014). Based on the evidence in the record, the Commissioner finds that petitioners did not meet their burden of demonstrating that the Board's decision was arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable.

Contrary to the ALJ's conclusion, for the reasons detailed herein, the record contains sufficient credible evidence to support the Board's decision that A.K. continued to make comments regarding N.V.'s gender identity after she had been told to stop by administrators and her mother. The only evidence petitioner presented to demonstrate that nothing happened between the students after the bus incident was T.K.'s testimony about what her daughter told her.[5] At best, this evidence balances the evidence that A.K. did continue to make comments to N.V. While the evidence may leave room for two opinions regarding whether A.K. continued her conduct, it is insufficient to overturn the Board's decision, because it does not demonstrate that the decision was arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable. To overturn the Board's decision would require the Commissioner to substitute her judgment for the Board's, which is impermissible.

Even if the Commissioner accepted the ALJ's credibility findings, and thus disregarded the cafeteria incident, the Commissioner must still consider the remaining evidence regarding A.K.'s conduct. Specifically, the ALJ found that A.K. questioned N.V. about her choice of clothing, and N.V. was upset about the questions. Initial Decision at 22. The ALJ noted that when the principal and ABS interviewed N.V., N.V. stated that she asked A.K. to stop asking her questions, and A.K. would not stop; N.V. reported that the questioning made her feel bad. Ibid. The ALJ found that A.K. admitted that she asked N.V. about the clothing N.V. wore.[6] Initial Decision at 23. The ALJ also found that N.V. reported that A.K. made fun of her for liking Shopkins and Monster High toys. Initial Decision at 22. The Commissioner's review of the [5] While the Commissioner accepts the ALJ's finding that T.K. was "mostly credible" in her testimony, that credibility finding does not dictate the weight placed on that testimony. Because T.K. was not present for the incidents at issue, her testimony is of limited value in determining what actually happened between the students. The Commissioner notes that the ALJ relied heavily on the fact that all the information provided to the investigators by N.V.'s mother was hearsay, but failed to address the same limitation in T.K.'s testimony.

[6] A.K.'s mother also testified that "A.K. asked the student many times" about her clothing and "the student was upset because A.K. kept asking." Initial Decision at 7. Additionally, the Appellate Division confirmed that the "parties do not dispute that A.K. questioned N.V. about wearing a dress while riding together on the school bus." L.K., supra, 2020 N.J. Super. Unpub. LEXIS 2082, at *4.

record supports these factual findings by the ALJ. In particular, the handwritten, contemporaneous notes of the interview the principal and ABS conducted with N.V. on the date of the bus incident include this information, Exhibit J-26, and it was recounted by the principal and ABS in their testimony.[7]

The Commissioner disagrees with the ALJ that the bus incident was insufficient to sustain the Board's finding that A.K. committed an act of HIB. The Commissioner finds that it was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable for the Board to conclude that N.V. reasonably perceived A.K.'s questioning regarding her choice of dress or comments about the toys she liked as being motivated by the distinguishing characteristic of gender identity and that A.K.'s conduct substantially disrupted or interfered with N.V.'s rights, was insulting or demeaning, and created a hostile educational environment.

Initially, the Commissioner concludes that the Board was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable in determining that A.K. questioned N.V. about her choice of clothing and commented on the toys that N.V. liked. Regarding the questioning, A.K. admitted that it occurred when she was interviewed on the day of the bus incident, and petitioner admitted that it occurred in her testimony. As the behavior was admitted, any alleged procedural flaws in the investigation are irrelevant to the determination of whether the questioning constituted HIB. It does not matter whether the investigation notes reflect every detail about the questioning, what other students on the bus reported, or whether the bus driver or teacher were interviewed. The Board was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable in finding that the questioning occurred when all parties agree that it did occur. The only necessary analysis is whether the Board was arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable in finding that the questioning met the criteria to be HIB under the Act.

Regarding A.K.'s comments about toys, the ALJ accepted the testimony that N.V. reported A.K's comments about toys. Furthermore, the handwritten, contemporaneous interview notes also reflect comments about toys, so the ALJ's concerns about lack of note-taking that arise regarding other parts of the HIB report do not apply to these comments. Furthermore, the Commissioner finds that N.V.'s report is sufficient to conclude that the Board was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable in finding that the comments occurred, because the Act does not require corroboration of a victim's report. Accordingly, the only necessary analysis is whether the Board was arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable in finding that the comments met the criteria to be HIB under the Act.

The Anti-Bullying Bill of Rights Act (the Act) defines HIB as follows:

> [A]ny gesture, any written, verbal or physical act, or any electronic communication, whether it be a single incident or a series of incidents, that is reasonably perceived as being motivated either by any actual or perceived characteristic, such as race, color, religion, ancestry, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, or a mental, physical or sensory disability, or by any other distinguishing characteristic, that takes place on school property, at any school-sponsored function, on a school bus, or off school grounds as provided for in section 16 of P.L. 2010, c.122 (C.18A:37-15.3), that substantially disrupts or interferes with the orderly operation of the school or the rights of other students and that:
> a. a reasonable person should know, under the circumstances, will have the effect of physically or emotionally harming a student or damaging the student's property, or placing a student in reasonable fear of physical or emotional harm to his person or damage to his property;
> b. has the effect of insulting or demeaning any student or group of students; or

> c. creates a hostile educational environment for the student by interfering with a student's education or by severely or pervasively causing physical or emotional harm to the student.
> N.J.S.A. 18A:37-14.

Therefore, a finding of HIB requires three elements.[8] First, the conduct must be reasonably perceived as motivated by any actual or perceived enumerated characteristic or other distinguishing characteristic and, second, the conduct must substantially disrupt or interfere with the rights of other students or the orderly operation of the school. The third condition is that one of the three criteria enumerated in the Act regarding the effect of the conduct must also be satisfied. Wehbeh v. Bd. of Educ. of the Twp. of Verona, Essex County, Commissioner Decision No. 51-20 (decided February 4, 2020).

Regarding the first element, in defining HIB as an action "that is reasonably perceived as being motivated either by any actual or perceived characteristic . . .", N.J.S.A. 18A:37-14 (emphasis added), the statute requires an analysis of how the actor's motivation is perceived and whether that perception is reasonable. It does not require an analysis of the actual motivation of the actor. Wehbeh, supra. Certainly, evidence that the actor was motivated by a distinguishing characteristic would meet the standard of this section of the Act, but evidence that the actor was not so motivated does not end the analysis.

Petitioner argued that A.K. does not even know what "gender identity" means. However, the Commissioner concludes that the distinguishing characteristic of gender identity is present when a student who was previously known as male begins to wear clothing and use a name typically associated with females. A.K.'s knowledge of gender identity as a concept, or [8] The statute also requires that the conduct take place on school property, at a school-sponsored function, on a school bus, or off school grounds as provided for in N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15.3. The parties do not contest that this requirement has been met.

lack thereof, does not change the fact that N.V. clearly had characteristics that distinguished her from other children. Furthermore, the Act does not require that A.K. be aware of the concept of gender identity or that she be specifically motivated by N.V.'s gender identity. As explained above, the focus of the Act is on the reasonable perception of the aggressor's motivation, and not on the actual motivation. While the Commissioner acknowledges the possibility that A.K.'s questions were motivated by curiosity rather than animus,[9] the fact remains that the questions could be reasonably perceived as being motivated by N.V.'s gender identity, such that it was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable for the Board to find that this element of the Act had been met.

The ALJ improperly concluded that the superintendent had misstated the law when she told the Board that A.K.'s age was not relevant to their decision. The ALJ acknowledged that A.K.'s age was not a bar to a finding of HIB, but nonetheless indicated that it was incorrect to say that her age had no bearing on the Board's decision. Here, it is the ALJ who is incorrect, not the superintendent. While a student's age should be taken into consideration in determining the consequences of an HIB finding – and it was here – age is irrelevant to whether an act of HIB was committed. The Act does not establish an age range for students who may be HIB victims or offenders. As Superintendent Moutis explained to the Board, and Board Member Perrone recounted hearing, the focus of the Act is on the impact of the action. Therefore, there was no misstatement of the law by the superintendent, and even if the Board completely disregarded A.K.'s age in making its decision, doing so did not make its decision arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable.

[9] The Initial Decision correctly indicates, "There is no requirement that the Board find that A.K.'s conduct was actually motivated by the perceived characteristic." Initial Decision at 35. However, it continues to say that "the age of A.K. was relevant to whether A.K.'s conduct was motivated by the perceived characteristic or because a seven-year-old would be curious about why a student she knew as a boy was dressing like a girl." Ibid. This statement, which addresses actual motivation, is incorrect, and neither A.K.'s age nor her knowledge about gender identity is relevant in determining whether HIB occurred.

Regarding the second element – whether the conduct substantially disrupted or interfered with A.K.'s rights – the principal and the ABS testified that A.K.'s questioning on the bus made N.V. feel bad, and the ALJ accepted that testimony. Initial Decision at 22. The Commissioner has previously upheld HIB determinations when the targeted student was upset, embarrassed, or uncomfortable as a result of the conduct. See, e.g., G.H., supra ("Upset and embarrassed children are not fully available for learning"); R.P., o/b/o minor child, A.P. v. Bd. of Educ. of the Twp. of Hamilton, Atlantic Cty., EDU 09436-17 (Initial Decision Feb. 13, 2018), adopted Commissioner Decision No. 100-18 (Mar. 29, 2018); M.S. and N.S., o/b/o J.S. v. Bd. of Educ. of the Twp. of Hainesport, Burlington Cty., and J.M. and D.M., o/b/o J.M., EDU 08878 (Initial Decision Mar. 28, 2019), adopted Commissioner Decision No. 155-19 (June 18, 2019). The Commissioner concludes that it was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable for the Board to find that A.K.'s questioning and comments interfered with N.V.'s rights because they made her feel bad.[10]

Regarding the third element, an act of HIB is one that "a reasonable person should know, under the circumstances, will have the effect of physically or emotionally harming a [10] The Commissioner also notes that N.V.'s mother reported that N.V. did not want to ride the bus because of the incident with A.K. The ALJ found that the Board was arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable in relying on this information, because the Board did not know that there was another student who bothered N.V. on the bus and could have been an additional source of N.V. not wanting to ride the bus. The ALJ noted that if the Board had that information and still decided that A.K. was the source of the substantial impact, "that would have been fine." Initial Decision at 36. The Commissioner disagrees with the ALJ that the Board needed information about another student in order for its determination to be upheld. The principal and ABS both testified that they spoke to N.V. about the other student, and N.V. reported that she was not bothered by J.T. See, e.g., Tr. Sept. 26, 2017, 35:8-18, 85:13-14, 187:11-15, 275:11-13. The Commissioner finds that it was reasonable for the principal and ABS, in preparing the HIB report for superintendent and the Board, to present the information they found to be credible and not to present information that they found did not have an impact on N.V. Notwithstanding the Commissioner's conclusion on this issue, the fact that N.V. was clearly upset following the bus incident with A.K. – about which there is no dispute – is sufficient to support the Board's determination.

student," "has the effect of insulting or demeaning a student," or "creates a hostile educational environment . . .". N.J.S.A. 18A:37-14(a) (emphasis added). None of these criteria require the actor to have actual knowledge of the effect that his actions will have, or to specifically intend to bring about that effect. The first requires only that a reasonable person should know there would be a harmful effect, not that the actor knows there would be such an effect. The second two criteria address only the actual effect of the act, without any reference to what either the actor or a reasonable person does or should know. Wehbeh, supra. As such, a board of education can find that an individual committed an act of HIB even if the individual did not intend to cause harm. For this reason, neither A.K.'s age nor her alleged lack of knowledge about the concept of gender identity preclude a finding that the third element of the Act has been met.

While only one of these criteria about the effect of the conduct need to be met, the testimony demonstrates that at least two have been met. First, Ms. Perrone testified about the effect of A.K.'s conduct on N.V., stating, "I believe that the comment that [N.V.] should not be wearing a dress can be interpreted by a child as being critical or derogatory," Tr. October 17, 2017, 109:18-20, and, "the comments that were made to [N.V.] it appears made [N.V.] feel challenged or that she was doing something wrong by identifying as a girl." Ibid. 109:22-24. The Commissioner concludes that it was not arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable for the Board to find that questions about a student's chosen clothing or comments about the toys that she likes are insulting or demeaning. Second, the fact that N.V. was upset by A.K.'s actions demonstrates that A.K. created a hostile educational environment. The Commissioner disagrees with the ALJ that the fact that the relationship between A.K. and N.V. was friendly following the incident obviates a finding of HIB. There is nothing in the Act that requires that a hostile educational environment persist for a specified period of time.

Accordingly, the Board's determination that A.K. committed an act of HIB is affirmed.

Record Closed: October 21, 2021 Decided: October 25, 2021

BEFORE JOAN M, BURKE, ALJ:

This matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law on January 22, 2020, for determination as a contested case, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15 and N.J.S.A. 52:14F-1 to -13.

The parties have agreed to a settlement and have prepared a Settlement Agreement indicating the terms thereof. A copy of the Settlement Agreement is attached and fully incorporated herein.

I have reviewed the record and the terms of settlement and I FIND:

1. The parties have voluntarily agreed to the settlement as evidenced by their signatures or their representatives' signatures on the attached settlement agreement.

2. The settlement fully disposes of all issues in controversy and is consistent with the law.

I CONCLUDE that this agreement meets the requirements of N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1 and that the settlement should be approved. I approve the settlement and therefore ORDER that the parties comply with the settlement terms and that these proceedings be concluded.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

S.N. o/b/o minor child M.N., Petitioner, v. Board of Education of the Township of Cherry Hill, Camden County, Respondent.	BEFORE THE COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION OF NEW JERSEY/ OFFICE OF ADMINISTRATIVE LAW OAL Dkt. No. EDU 01067-2020 Agency Ref. No. 331-12/19 SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT AND RELEASE

1. This Settlement Agreement and Release ("Agreement") is made and entered into by and between S.N. (hereinafter, "Petitioner") and the Cherry Hill Board of Education (hereinafter "Board" or "Respondent").

RECITALS

WHEREAS, Petitioner has commenced the within administrative proceeding, which is currently pending before the Commissioner of Education in the Office of Administrative Law and docketed as OAL Dkt. No. EDU 01067-2020, Agency Ref. No. 514-9/10 (the "Litigation"), challenging the Board's determination to uphold its administration's finding that Petitioner's child, M.N., committed an act of harassment, intimidation or bullying ("HIB"); and

WHEREAS, the parties desire to resolve and settle all disputes between them under the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of good and valuable consideration, the sufficiency and adequacy of which is acknowledged, the parties to this Agreement agree as follows:

1. Pupil Record. The Respondent shall upon approval of this Agreement by the Commissioner of Education expunge and permanently remove all reference to the HIB proceeding from M.N.'s pupil file, including all correspondence and findings. It is understood that a record of the HIB incident will remain in the District's electronic HIB system, but will not appear in M.N.'s student record.

2. General Release by Petitioner. In exchange for the above consideration Petitioner and her heirs and assigns hereby irrevocably and unconditionally waive, release and forever discharge any claims or rights, whether known or unknown, now and in the future, which they have or may have against the Board, personally and officially, individually and collectively, its past and present Board members, officers, administrators, agents, employees, attorneys, and their successors, heirs and assigns, as it relates to the subject matter of the Litigation.

3. Dismissal of Litigation. Upon approval of this Agreement by the Commissioner, the within controversy shall be dismissed with prejudice.

4. No Admissions. The parties to this Agreement have agreed to this settlement solely to avoid the inconvenience, distractions, inherent uncertainties and legal fees associated with continuation of their dispute, and no party admits any liability, wrongdoing, malfeasance, misfeasance, or negligence.

5. Reliance on Counsel. Petitioner represents that she is freely entering into this Agreement, that she is acting with the advice of counsel of her choosing, and that she has read and fully understand the contents and effects of this Agreement.

6. Binding Impact. This Agreement shall be binding upon all parties hereto, and shall inure to the benefit of each of them, as well as their respective estates, heirs, legal representatives, successors, predecessors, parent companies, subsidiaries, affiliates, owners, directors, officers, shareholders, members, employees, agents and assigns.

7. Attorneys' Fees. Each party hereto shall bear its/her own attorneys' fees and costs incurred through the execution of this Agreement.

8. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which, taken together, shall constitute one and the same agreement, and shall be deemed fully executed when each party has received at least one counterpart executed by each other party.

9. New Jersey Law. This Agreement shall be governed by and interpreted under the laws of New Jersey.

10. Complete Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the entire understanding and agreement by the parties with respect to the subject matter of this Agreement, and there are no agreements, undertakings, restrictions, representations or warranties as between the parties other than those set forth herein. This Agreement supersedes all previous arrangements or understandings, whether written or oral, and contains the entire agreement of the parties with respect to its subject matter. This Agreement may be modified or amended only by written agreement jointly executed by the parties.

11. Commissioner's Approval. This Agreement will be incorporated into an Initial Decision by the Hon. Joan Burke, ALJ, and is subject to final approval by the Commissioner of Education.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have executed this Agreement on the dates set forth below.

Petitioners,

v.

Board of Education of the Watchung Hills Regional School District, Somerset County,

Respondent.

Synopsis

Petitioning parents alleged that the respondent Board violated N.J.S.A. 18A:33-1, which requires school districts to provide "courses of study suited to the ages and attainments of all pupils," by approving a twelfth-grade curriculum that includes as optional reading a book entitled Fun Home: A Family Tragicomic (Fun Home). Petitioners contended that the book contains obscene, age-inappropriate material that is ill-suited for the school curriculum. The Board filed a motion to dismiss the petition in lieu of filing an answer, arguing that the petition is time-barred pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.3(i) which requires petitions to be filed no later than 90 days from the date of the relevant Board decision.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.3(i), a petition must be filed no later than the 90th day from the date of receipt of the notice of a final order or action that is the subject of the appeal; the "90 day rule" may only be relaxed in cases where strict adherence to the rule would be inappropriate or result in an injustice, or if there is a substantial constitutional issue involved; in the instant case, petitioners argued that they did not know that they could file an appeal with the Commissioner until they received the Superior Court's June 10, 2019 order dismissing their complaint which sought to enjoin the Board from violating criminal statute N.J.S.A. 2C:34-3 by "distributing to minors" the "obscene and pornographic" Fun Home, yet they subsequently failed to file the within petition until nearly six months later, on December 6, 2019; and it is unclear how exactly Fun Home's placement in a twelfth-grade curriculum as an optional assignment violates the thorough-and-efficient-education clause of the New Jersey constitution and thus rises to the level of a "substantial constitutional issue" that would override the ninety-day rule. Accordingly, the ALJ concluded that petitioners failed to file a timely appeal and consequently declined to address any substantive issues in this matter.

The Commissioner concurred with the ALJ's determinations herein and adopted the Initial Decision of the OAL as the final decision in this case. The petition was dismissed.

v.

Board of Education of the Watchung Hills Regional School District, Somerset County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter and the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) have been reviewed. The parties did not file exceptions. Upon such review, the Commissioner concurs with the Administrative Law Judge that the petition should be dismissed because it was filed outside of the 90-day limitation period set forth in N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.3(i). Accordingly, the Initial Decision of the OAL is adopted as the final decision in this matter for the reasons stated therein, and the petition of appeal is hereby dismissed.

Record Closed: December 7, 2020 Decided: November 5, 2021

BEFORE SUSAN M. SCAROLA, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

The petitioners, five individual parents of children who attend or attended school in the Watchung Hills Regional School District,[1] allege that the respondent, the Board of Education of the Watchung Hills Regional School District (Board), violated N.J.S.A. 18A:33-1, which requires school districts to provide "courses of study suited to the ages and attainments of all pupils," by approving a twelfth-grade curriculum that includes as optional reading Alison Bechdel's graphic memoir entitled Fun Home: A Family Tragicomic (Fun Home), which includes comic illustrations and in which the author chronicles her early struggles with her sexual identity as a lesbian and her complicated relationship with her gay father. According to petitioners, the book contains obscene, age-inappropriate material that is ill-suited for the curriculum.

In response, the Board has moved to dismiss the petition in lieu of filing an answer on the basis that petitioners failed to file their challenge within ninety days of the relevant Board decision, as required by N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.3(i).

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On December 6, 2019, the petition was filed with Commissioner of the Department of Education. The District responded by filing a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer, contending that because the petitioners had failed to file their petition within the ninety-day limitation required under N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.3(i), dismissal was required.

The matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law, where it was filed as a contested case on January 13, 2019 [sic, 2020]. N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to -15; N.J.S.A.

[1] The petitioners are Tristin Goode and Doreen Blanchard, individually; D.G., on behalf of her child N.G.; T.A. on behalf of her six children; and L.V. on behalf of her three children.

52:14F-1 to -13. On June 19, 2020, the petitioners filed a response to the motion in which they contend that the petition is not time barred, and that even if the time limits had been exceeded, the issue is of such importance that the rule should be relaxed to permit the matter to go forward. Supplemental responses were received from the parties on December 2, December 4, and December 7, 2020, when the record closed.[2]

STATEMENT OF FACTS[3]

On November 7, 2017, the Board ostensibly approved a revised curriculum resolution that added Fun Home to the twelfth-grade English curriculum. Board Ex. E. While it may be accurate to say that the Board did, in fact, resolve to add Fun Home to the curriculum at that meeting, the meeting minutes provided by the Board in support of its motion to dismiss simply state "RESOLVED, the Board of Education approves the curriculum for the courses as per the attached list"; however, there is no list attached to the minutes, and the Board has not otherwise submitted a list showing that Fun Home was added to the curriculum at its November 7, 2017, meeting. Ibid.

Nonetheless, it is not disputed that the Board distributed Fun Home to certain students in spring 2018. At the Board's May 22, 2018, meeting, several parents voiced their concern about sexually explicit material contained in the book. Board Ex. F. One parent asked the Board and the district's superintendent about the process to remove the book from the curriculum. Ibid. In response, the Board's president, Peter Fallon, stated, "[w]e don't have that set out in a particular policy," but encouraged the parent to come to the next Board meeting, if, after speaking with certain district personnel, the parent's concerns were not allayed. Petitioners' Ex. B. The district's superintendent, Elizabeth Jewett, advised, "if you do not want your child to participate in a certain part of the curriculum, we have a process for that." Ibid.

At the next Board meeting on June 5, 2018, the Board again allowed for public comment on the inclusion of Fun Home in the curriculum. Board Ex. G. Prior to public comment, Mr. Fallon and Ms. Jewett made statements regarding Fun Home. Ibid. Mr. Fallon acknowledged that the Board had recently received many emails and phone calls from parents about the book. Ibid. He explained that Fun Home was added to the curriculum as part of a five-year strategic plan that the Board had implemented in part to "enhance the social and emotional wellness of all students within a compassionate learning community." Ibid.

[2] This decision was delayed in filing by a personal extended medical emergency and the COVID-19 pandemic.
[3] The facts are gleaned from the exhibits of both parties.

He clarified that Fun Home was optional reading, such that if students "are uncomfortable with the content or the images in the book, they can opt out of reading the book and another book will be assigned." Ibid. He also stated, "approval of the curriculum for the next school year is not on our Meeting Agenda for tonight." Ibid. He surmised that "[i]t is possible that after listening to your comments tonight some Board members may want to revisit that and discuss whether or not the current curriculum—which does include [Fun Home]—should be revised," but he also advised that absent such revision by the Board, "the next time this will be considered would likely be next January, when the Board typically is asked to approve or disapprove of the entire curriculum." Ibid.

Mr. Fallon directed "those of you who find the images [in the book] offensive" to Board Policy No. 2240, which pertains to "Controversial Issues." Ibid. That policy states that "[a]ll complaints about instructional material directed to the [Board] must be in writing," and advises that the Board has the "ultimate responsibility to decide on the educational materials to be used." Petitioners' Ex. E.

Ms. Jewett then gave a statement on the district's reasoning for including the book in the curriculum. Board Ex. E. She explained that "[w]e chose Fun Home to advance our goals for thoughtful, contextualized literary reading and to expand the LGBTQ voices in our curriculum." Ibid.

Thereafter, several members of the public made comments, some in favor of the book, but many in opposition to the inclusion of Fun Home in the curriculum. Ibid.

After public comment, Ms. Jewett announced that "the English supervisor will be working with members of the English department this summer to select additional titles to add to the LGBTQ literature unit of study in addition to . . . Fun Home," and that "[t]his will allow students to have several options from which to choose one work to read during the LGBTQ literature unit." Ibid. She stated that she anticipated "the additional titles being shared with the [Board's] Education Committee in September and subsequently being recommended to the full Board for approval at our September or early October board meeting." Ibid.

At its September 6, 2018, meeting, the Education Committee ultimately approved the addition of two other books that students could choose if they did not want to read Fun Home. Board Ex. K.

At a September 11, 2018, Board meeting, a parent presented the Board with a petition signed by 650 parents and community members urging the Board to remove Fun Home from the curriculum. Petitioners' Ex. F.

On September 29, 2018, petitioner Tristin Goode emailed her concerns about Fun Home to the Somerset County executive superintendent, Roger Jinks. Board Ex. L. She asked that Mr. Jinks "address our concerns regarding the apparent criminal offense posed by requiring this book to be read by students under age 18." Ibid. She stated that "[a]n expedited response is requested, since if this curriculum is approved at the next [Board] meeting on October 2, 2018, the book will be included in the current Class of 2019 curriculum." Ibid.

In response, Mr. Jinks stated, "[t]he selection of materials to implement the curriculum is in the discretion of the school district," and "[p]lease continue to share your concerns with the board of education." Ibid. He also advised Ms. Goode to "address this [criminal] issue with your county prosecutor's office." Ibid.

On October 2, 2018, the Board approved the inclusion in the curriculum of Fun Home and the two alternative books recommended by the Education Committee. Board Ex. M.

On May 3, 2019, several of the petitioners in this matter filed a verified complaint against the Board in the New Jersey Superior Court, Chancery Division, seeking to enjoin the Board from violating criminal statute N.J.S.A. 2C:34-3 by "distributing to minors" the "obscene and pornographic" Fun Home. Board Ex. N. On June 10, 2019, the court dismissed the complaint for several reasons, including the complainants' failure to exhaust their administrative remedies with the Commissioner of Education. Board Ex. O.

According to petitioners, "[i]n July and August 2019, the lawsuit participants, following the order of the Court, worked with the staff of the Commissioner of Education to set a date to meet with the Commissioner to have our dispute heard." Petition, ¶ 13. Petitioners met with staff on September 23, 2019, and "[t]hey then were made aware of the procedure to follow to have the dispute formally heard by the Commissioner." Ibid.

On December 6, 2019, petitioners filed with the Commissioner of Education this petition seeking to remove Fun Home from the curriculum. On December 26, 2019, the Board filed a brief in support of its motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.5(g).

According to the Board, the petition should be dismissed as untimely under N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.3(i), also known as the "ninety-day rule," which requires a petitioner who seeks to challenge a school board's action to file a petition with the Commissioner of Education "no later than the 90th day from the date of receipt of the notice of a final order, ruling, or other action by the district board of education." The Board argues that the December 6, 2019, petition should be dismissed because the petitioners failed to file their petition within ninety days of the Board's initial decision to add Fun Home to the curriculum on November 7, 2017, or within ninety days of the Board's decision on October 2, 2018, to revise the curriculum to add two other books from which students could choose to read instead of Fun Home.

The Board alternatively argues that good cause does not exist to relax the ninety-day rule, and questions the standing of several of the petitioners.

In opposition to the Board's motion, petitioners contend that the ninety-day rule should be relaxed because this matter implicates significant questions of public interest and constitutionality with respect to whether certain material in Fun Home is obscene and the book should be removed from the curriculum. Petitioners further argue that the ninety-day rule should not apply to this matter because the Board's action in including the book in the curriculum was not limited to certain votes taken in 2018, as the Board votes on the curriculum on a yearly basis, and thus the repeated inclusion of Fun Home in the curriculum "involves an ongoing violation" that should be subject to the Commissioner's review.

Petitioners also submit that the ninety-day rule should not apply here because the Board misled petitioners by advising them of the incorrect policy for seeking removal of the book from the curriculum. Specifically, the Board directed parents who wished to have Fun Home removed from the curriculum to seek redress through Board Policy No. 2240, which pertains to "Controversial Issues"; however, the appropriate policy is No. 9130, "Public Complaints and Grievances," which sets forth the procedure for "complaints about instructional or resource materials" and for the Board's determination of whether "challenged material may be removed from the curriculum." Petitioners' Ex. D.

That policy further provides that, upon receipt of a written complaint, "[t]he Superintendent shall appoint a committee of professional staff members and community representatives to review the challenged material against the standards for the selection of resource materials established by Board policy." Ibid. The committee would then report its findings to the Board and, if the Board ultimately decides not to remove challenged material from the curriculum, "[a] complainant shall be notified that a decision of the Board may be appealed to the Commissioner of Education." Ibid. Petitioners argue that the Board's failure to advise them of this policy caused a delay in the filing of the petition such that the ninety-day rule should be relaxed.

Finally, the parties dispute whether, even if the matter is not dismissed pursuant to the ninety-day rule, the Board's decision to include Fun Home in the curriculum was arbitrary and capricious and in violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:33-1.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

Under the "rules of procedure for the filing of petitions with the Commissioner of Education to hear and decide controversies and disputes arising under school laws," N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.1 to -1.17, "[t]he petitioner shall file a petition no later than the 90th day from the date of receipt of the notice of a final order, ruling, or other action by the district board of education, individual party, or agency, that is the subject of the requested contested case hearing." N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.3(i). The rules further provide that a respondent may file a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer to a petition. N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.5(g). Such motion may be made "on the grounds that the petitioner has advanced no cause of action even if the petitioner's factual allegations are accepted as true or for lack of jurisdiction, failure to prosecute or other good reason." N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.10.

Here, the Board has filed a motion to dismiss in lieu of an answer to the petition on the grounds that the petition is untimely under the ninety-day rule, N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.3(i). As the Supreme Court has explained, the ninety-day rule serves the dual purposes of (1) "stimulat[ing] litigants to pursue a right of action within a reasonable time so that the opposing party may have a fair opportunity to defend, thus preventing the litigation of stale claims" and (2) "penaliz[ing] dilatoriness and serv[ing] as a measure of repose by giving security and stability to human affairs." Kaprow v. Bd. of Educ. of Berkeley Twp., 131 N.J. 572, 587 (1993) (citations and quotations omitted).

The ninety-day rule may be "relaxed or dispensed with . . . in any case where a strict adherence thereto may be deemed inappropriate or unnecessary or may result in injustice," or if there is "the presence of a substantial constitutional issue or other issue of fundamental public interest beyond that of concern only to the parties themselves." N.J.A.C. 6A:3-1.16; Balwierczak v. Bd. of Educ. of Berkeley Heights, 1999 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 1367 (Dec. 8, 1999).

The ninety-day rule has been relaxed in several cases. For example, in D'Alessandro v. Board of Education of Middletown, 1986 S.L.D. 2496, although a teacher untimely filed his petition alleging that the school board had adopted a discriminatory affirmative-action policy, the Commissioner relaxed the ninety-day rule "in the interest of justice" because "if the facts of this case are as petitioner alleges, then, potentially, the situation could constitute a continuing violation . . . in permitting a potentially illegal discriminatory practice to continue in perpetuity," absent a review by the Commissioner. Id. at 2514, 2515.

In Newark Teachers Union Local 481 v. State-Operated School District of Newark, 2016 N.J. AGEN LEXIS 502 (May 12, 2016), in a case involving the layoff of forty-six attendance officers responsible for monitoring and locating truant students, the Commissioner deemed relaxation of the ninety-day rule appropriate due to "the importance of attendance."

Lastly, in C.G. & R.G. ex rel. R.M.G. v. Board of Education of Brick, EDU 2375-05 (State Bd. of Educ. July 19, 2006), in which parents sought to challenge the grade their child received in an English class, the State Board of Education relaxed the ninety-day rule because the parents twice sought help from the Department of Education in filing an appeal within the relevant limitations period but were given insufficient guidance.[4]

Here, there are two relevant Board actions for purposes of the ninety-day rule. The first is the Board's November 7, 2017, vote to add Fun Home to the curriculum; the second is the Board's October 2, 2018, decision to keep Fun Home in the curriculum, but to make the book optional reading by offering two other books from which twelfth-grade students could choose. Petitioners filed their petition on December 6, 2019, well more than ninety days from either Board decision. However, the papers submitted in support of and in opposition to the Board's motion reveal that petitioners' late filing was not entirely without excuse.

First, the minutes from the November 7, 2017, meeting in which the Board added Fun Home to the curriculum state that the Board approved "the curriculum for the courses as per the attached list"; however, there is no list attached to the minutes, and the Board has not otherwise submitted a list showing that the public was then put on notice that Fun Home was added to the curriculum. As the Court stated in Kaprow, "[a]dequate notice" to trigger the ninety-day limitations period "must be sufficient to inform an individual of some fact that he or she has a right to know and that the communicating party has a duty to communicate." Kaprow, 131 N.J. at 587. Because the November 7, 2017, meeting minutes do not reflect that the public, including petitioners, were given adequate notice of the Board's decision to add Fun Home to the curriculum, the Board's November 7, 2017, decision cannot be said to have started the ninety-day clock to challenge the Board's decision and to seek the removal of the book from the curriculum.

Moreover, it appears from the record that the Board misinformed the public at subsequent meetings of the proper procedure to use, and that this misinformation also could have delayed the filing of the instant petition. Specifically, at the Board's May 22, 2018, meeting, in response to a parent who asked how to pursue the removal of Fun Home from the curriculum, Mr. Fallon, the Board president, stated, "[w]e don't have that set out in a particular policy," and Ms. Jewett, the superintendent, advised, "if you do not want your child to participate in a certain part of the curriculum, we have a process for that." Then, at the June 5, 2018, Board meeting, Mr. Fallon advised parents who objected to Fun Home to seek redress under Board Policy No. 2240, "Controversial Issues," which states that "[a]ll complaints about instructional material directed to the [Board] must be in writing," and that the Board has the "ultimate responsibility to decide on the educational materials to be used."

However, as petitioners point out, it is Board Policy No. 9130, and not Board Policy No. 2240, that sets out the procedure for seeking the removal of material from the curriculum. Board Policy No. 9130, "Public Complaints and Grievances," includes the procedure for "complaints about instructional or resource materials" and for the Board's determination of whether "challenged material may be removed from the curriculum." That policy provides that, upon receipt of a written complaint, "[t]he Superintendent shall appoint a committee of professional staff members and community representatives to review the challenged material against the standards for the selection of resource materials established by Board policy." The committee would then report its findings to the Board and, if the Board ultimately decided not to remove challenged material from the curriculum, "[a] complainant shall be notified that a decision of the Board may be appealed to the Commissioner of Education."

Petitioners' argument that the Board caused a delay in the filing of this appeal by directing the public, including petitioners, to Board Policy No. 2240, and not to Board Policy No. 9130, has some merit. It seems clear that Board Policy No. 9130 governs the removal of material from the curriculum, and the policy clearly states that at the end of the process, the Board has an affirmative duty to notify a complainant that he or she may appeal the Board's decision not to remove material from the curriculum to the Commissioner of Education. If Mr. Fallon had properly referred those who objected to Fun Home to Board Policy No. 9130, and not Board Policy No. 2240, petitioners could have filed a written complaint with the Board; the superintendent would have formed a committee that included members of the public; and if the Board thereafter declined to remove Fun Home, the Board would have had to inform any complainants of their appeal rights. That certainly would have triggered the ninety-day limitations period. However, because the Board misinformed the public about the relevance of that policy, the Board is not without fault with respect to petitioners' delayed filing.

The record further shows that one of the petitioners, Tristin Goode, sought redress from the Somerset County executive county superintendent of schools Roger Jinks prior to the Board's October 2, 2018, meeting. The superintendent was asked to "address our concerns regarding the apparent criminal offense posed by requiring this book to be read by students under age 18." In response, Mr. Jinks stated, "[t]he selection of materials to implement the curriculum is in the discretion of the school district," and "[p]lease continue to share your concerns with the board of education." He also advised Mr./Ms. Goode to "address this [criminal] issue with your county prosecutor's office." Whether Mr. Jinks had a duty or not, he did not inform Mr./Ms. Goode of the potential right to seek redress from the Commissioner of Education if, at the October 2, 2018, meeting, the Board had approved a curriculum including Fun Home. As in C.G., this interaction with Mr. Jinks also could have delayed a filing of an appeal with the Commissioner, as Mr. Jinks advised Mr./Ms. Goode to seek redress instead from a county prosecutor.

It appears that this was followed when Tristin Goode and others filed a verified complaint in Superior Court, Chancery Division, on May 3, 2019, seeking to enjoin the Board from violating criminal statute N.J.S.A. 2C:34-3 by "distributing to minors" the "obscene and pornographic" Fun Home. However, on June 10, 2019, the court dismissed the complaint for several reasons, including the complainants' failure to exhaust their administrative remedies. In dismissing the complaint, the court stated that "the Commissioner [of Education] has special expertise on matters regarding curriculum, and what is or is not appropriate curricular material for 12th grade English students."

However, even if the foregoing could serve as good cause to relax the ninety-day rule, such that petitioners did not receive adequate notice of the Board's initial decision to add Fun Home to the curriculum; that they were misinformed of the proper procedure to seek the removal of Fun Home under Board Policy No. 9130; that they were misinformed by the executive county superintendent of their right to seek redress from the Commissioner; and that they did not know that they could file an appeal with the Commissioner until they received the court order dismissing their complaint on June 10, 2019, no reason has been presented as to why the petitioners waited until December 6, 2019, nearly six months after the court order, to file an appeal with the Commissioner.

Certainly, as a party to that judicial matter, the Board reasonably could have expected petitioners to file an appeal with the Commissioner upon the dismissal of the verified complaint. And if petitioners had done so within ninety days of June 10, 2019, perhaps a stronger argument for relaxation could have been made.[5] However, petitioners still waited almost six months after the Superior Court order to file their petition. While petitioners state that they first contacted the Commissioner about filing an appeal in July or August 2019, there comes a point at which petitioners can no longer blame others for their dilatoriness and must take required action on their own. To be sure, a simple internet search would have directed petitioners to the Department of Education's website, which clearly sets forth the procedures for filing an appeal.[6]

As such, the ninety-day rule should not be relaxed or dispensed with since, under these circumstances, strict adherence to the rule would not be inappropriate. The fact that one month after the filing of this petition the Board again voted to approve a curriculum that included Fun Home also does not save the petition from dismissal as untimely, nor can the Board's continued approval of the book constitute an ongoing violation. See N. Plainfield Educ. Ass'n v. Bd. of Educ. of N. Plainfield, 96 N.J. 587 (1984) (holding that teachers who untimely filed an appeal regarding salary credit could not claim that "the withholding of [an] increment constitute[d] a continuing violation" because "[s]uch a claim, which is associated with the assertion of discrimination in employment, has no relevance to this case").

[5] The filing of a Superior Court action does not toll the ninety-day period for filing an appeal with the Commissioner. Semprevivo v. Bd. of Educ. of the Pinelands Reg'l Sch. Dist., EDU 6386-09, Initial Decision (Dec. 8, 2009), adopted, Comm'r (Jan. 15. 2010), available at https://njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal. However, given the misinformation received by petitioners from the Board and the executive county superintendent, it may be considered that the petitioners' delayed filing could have otherwise been excused.

The ninety-day rule should also not be relaxed or dispensed with because, contrary to petitioners' arguments, this case does not involve a "substantial constitutional issue" or a "fundamental public interest." First, petitioners have failed to articulate how this matter involves a "substantial constitutional issue." Petitioners generally allege that the inclusion of Fun Home in the curriculum conflicts with the thorough-and-efficient-education clause of the State Constitution, such that "the 90-day rule should not be applied to prevent the Commissioner from reviewing the suitability of this book in the high school classroom as required in the fulfillment of his constitutional mandate."[7] Petitioners also argue that "the 90-day rule should be dispensed with in cases such as this where a school board has run roughshod over parents' rights to direct the education of their children and to protect them from exposure to obscene and otherwise inappropriate material."

To raise a constitutional claim, a party "must have suffered, or may presently suffer, a direct impairment of his own constitutional rights." Trombetta v. Mayor & Comm'rs of Atl. City, 181 N.J. Super. 203, 222 (Law. Div. 1981). Petitioners have not articulated how an optional book directly impairs their children's constitutional right to a thorough and efficient education or their right to make decisions regarding their children's upbringing. Petitioners argue that the inclusion of Fun Home in the curriculum somehow offends the thorough-and-efficient-education clause because the book "is riddled with numerous sexually explicit illustrations and narrative accounts and promotes adult themes and erotic and other age-inappropriate literature throughout." It is unclear how exactly Fun Home's placement in a twelfth-grade curriculum as an optional assignment violates the thorough-and-efficient clause and thus rises to the level of a "substantial constitutional issue" that would override the ninety-day rule.

[7] Under the New Jersey State Constitution, the "Legislature shall provide for the maintenance and support of a thorough and efficient system of free public schools for the instruction of all the children in the State between the ages of five and eighteen years." N.J. Const. art. VIII, § 4, ¶ 1.

And while "the Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment protects the fundamental right of parents to make decisions concerning the care, custody, and control of their children," there are "certain circumstances [in which] the parental right to control the upbringing of a child must give way to a school's ability to control curriculum and the school environment." Troxel v. Granville, 530 U.S. 57, 66 (2000); C.N. v. Ridgewood Bd. of Educ., 430 F.3d 159, 182 (3d Cir. 2005).

In Smith v. Ricci, 89 N.J. 514 (1982), the New Jersey Supreme Court upheld a State regulation that required local school boards "to develop and implement a family life education program in the public elementary and secondary curricula." Id. at 516. In that case, a group of parents "contend[ed] that such a program impinges upon the free exercise of their religion and constitutes an establishment of religion in violation of the United States Constitution." Ibid. In particular, the parents argued that through the teaching of family life and human sexuality "children will be exposed to attitudes, goals, and values that are contrary to their own and to those of their parents, and will thereby be inhibited in the practice of their religion." Id. at 520–21. However, because the regulation included an "excusal clause," the Court stated that "[w]hether or not [the parents' argument was] well-reasoned we need not now decide, for we believe that the simple fact that parents can remove their children from any objectionable part of the program is dispositive." Id. at 521. That is, "if the program violates a person's beliefs, that person is not required to participate." Ibid. Thus, "[w]here there is no compulsion to participate in this program, there can be no infringement upon appellants' rights freely to exercise their religion." Ibid.

Here, as in the family life program in Smith, Fun Home is optional. Any twelfth-grade student who finds the book objectionable need not read it. Thus, there is no "substantial constitutional issue" involving the thorough-and-efficient clause or a parent's right to control their children. The unproven fear that "there is no way [to] reasonably prevent Fun Home's obscene images from being viewed by other children in the school or on the bus or even by young siblings at home," as petitioners argue, is also an unavailing claim for dispensing with the ninety-day rule.[8]

Finally, petitioners maintain that relaxation is appropriate because of the "[p]ublic interest in protecting children from inappropriate, sexually explicit, illicit and otherwise harmful material." While it appears that 650 parents and community members signed a petition asking the Board to remove Fun Home from the curriculum, and these numbers reflect a public interest beyond petitioners' private interest, "the greater public interest in this matter lies with enforcement of the 90-day rule and dismissal of petitioner[s'] appeal as untimely." Le Mee v. Bd. of Educ. of Ridgewood, 1990 S.L.D. 671, 673. There is no "fundamental public interest" in the inclusion of an optional reading assignment in a twelfth-grade curriculum as was seen in D'Alessandro or Newark Teachers Union.

N.J.S.A. 18A:33-1 empowers a school board to provide "courses of study suited to the ages and attainments of all pupils," and further provides that "no course of study shall be adopted or altered except by the recorded roll call majority vote of the full membership of the board of education of the district." An action by a board of education "is entitled to a presumption of correctness and will not be upset unless there is an affirmative showing that such decision was arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable." Thomas v. Morris Twp. Bd. of Educ., 89 N.J. Super. 327, 332 (App. Div. 1965). If petitioners had wished to challenge the Board's decision, they should not have waited more than a year to file this appeal in violation of the ninety-day rule, which is designed to "stimulate litigants to pursue

[8] It should be noted that N.J.S.A. 18A:35-4.35 became effective January 31, 2019, and provides that the history of disabled and LGBT persons be included in the middle- and high-school curriculum. "A board of education shall include instruction on the political, economic, and social contributions of persons with disabilities and lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender people, in an appropriate place in the curriculum of middle school and high school students as part of the district's implementation of the New Jersey Student Learning Standards."

N.J.S.A. 18A:35-4.36, effective the same date, provides for the policies and procedures pertaining to inclusive instructional materials. "A board of education shall have policies and procedures in place pertaining to the selection of instructional materials to implement the requirements of section 1 [C.18A:35-4.35] of this act. When adopting instructional materials for use in the schools of the district, a board of education shall adopt inclusive instructional materials that portray the cultural and economic diversity of society including the political, economic, and social contributions of persons with disabilities and lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender people, where appropriate."

a right of action within a reasonable time" and "penalize dilatoriness and serve as a measure of repose."[9]

For these reasons, the Board's motion to dismiss the petition as untimely shall be granted, and the petition shall be dismissed. As such, it is unnecessary to reach the substantive issue of whether the Board's decision to include Fun Home in the curriculum was arbitrary or capricious.

ORDER

I hereby ORDER that the motion to dismiss filed by the respondent Board of Education of the Watchung Hills Regional School District is GRANTED, and the petition is DISMISSED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

[9] The Board also questions the standing of several of the petitioners. Given that the Board filed its motion during the 2019–2020 school year, and it is currently the 2021–2022 school year, the status of the various petitioners is unclear. That is, it is not now known with certainty if any of the petitioners have moved out of the school district, what grade or grades their children are in, or if some of the children on whose behalf the petition was filed have graduated and/or are now adults. Standing is "a threshold justiciability determination whether the litigant is entitled to initiate and maintain an action before a court or other tribunal." In re Six-Month Extension of N.J.A.C. 5:91-1 et seq., 372 N.J. Super. 61, 85 (App. Div. 2004). However, because this matter should be dismissed under the ninety-day rule, any standing issues need not now be addressed.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

Darnell Davis,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the City of Newark,
Essex County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the proposed Settlement Agreement (Agreement), and the Initial Decision issued by the Office of Administrative Law pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1, have been reviewed. Upon such review, the Commissioner approves the settlement and adopts the Initial Decision as the final decision in this matter. In doing so, however, the Commissioner notes that the Agreement references actions that were to take place in a time frame that preceded the consideration of the settlement by the Commissioner of Education. The parties are reminded that a settlement of litigation before the Commissioner is not binding until the Commissioner approves the settlement.

In light of the foregoing, the Commissioner adopts the Initial Decision as the final decision in this matter, provided that the parties have already implemented the settlement terms or have agreed upon mutually satisfactory alternate dates for the effectuation of the terms of the Agreement. Assuming same, the matter is hereby dismissed, subject to compliance with the terms of the settlement.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

Attorneys for Respondent

DARNELL DAVIS,	OFFICE OF ADMINISTRATIVE LAW
Petitioner,	OAL Docket No. EDU-09790-2020 N Agency Ref. No. 202-9/20
v.
NEWARK BOARD OF EDUCATION,
Respondent.	SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

The parties involved herein have voluntarily resolved all disputed matters and enter into the following Settlement Agreement (the "Settlement Agreement") that fully disposes of all issues in controversy between Darnell Davis ("Davis") and the Board of Education of the City of Newark, County of Essex (the "Board"):

1. Davis hereby agrees to resign for the purpose of retirement from his tenured position effective November 1, 2021. Attached is a copy of Davis' signed Letter of Resignation. (Exhibit A). Davis' separation from employment will be deemed a voluntary resignation and retirement in good standing. Other than as required by law, upon inquiry from any third parties, the Board will only confirm Davis' employment, position, title, salary and dates of employment.

2. Davis also agrees to withdraw with prejudice any and all claims or suits that he may have previously filed against the Board that are still pending in any and all courts and/or before any and all agencies with the exception of workers' compensation claims. This Settlement is intended to be the final resolution of all outstanding matters between the Board and Davis, including this Petition, challenging Davis' withholding of increment. Should Davis fail to submit letters of withdrawals for any such pending claims or suits, this Settlement Agreement will serve as Davis' formal written notice of withdrawal of those pending claims or suits, except for workers' compensation claims.

3. In exchange, upon final execution of this settlement agreement by the Board, the Board will restore Davis' salary increment for the 2020-21 school year, and Davis will be placed at the appropriate step on the salary guide from the start of the 2020-21 school year through his date of retirement on November 1, 2021. As a result, Davis will receive $1,000 minus standard withholdings and deductions, including required pension contributions.

4. As of the date of his resignation, all of Davis' employment rights, including but not limited to salary, insurance coverage, tenure and seniority, will permanently end.

5. This Settlement shall not constitute a precedent in any matters involving other employees.

6. Except as noted above, Davis waives all claims of any nature against the Board with regard to his employment with and/or his separation from the District, including fees, or other monetary relief, with the exception of workers' compensation claims.

7. By entering into this Settlement Agreement, and in exchange for good consideration as set forth above, the sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged by the parties, Davis releases and discharges the Board, the Board Superintendent, its Board of Education and its Board members, and any and all other Board officers, employees, representatives, agents, successors and assigns (collectively, the "Released Parties") with respect to all claims or rights that he has or may have against the Board regarding his employment with the District. This includes without limitation, any and all actions, claims, and liabilities of whatsoever kind or character, in law or in equity, now known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, directly or indirectly related to Davis' employment with the Board and separation from the Board except for workers' compensation claims. It specifically includes, without limitation, all claims which Davis may have regarding tenure, withholding of increment, discrimination on any basis, any federal or state civil rights law, any alleged violation of the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, as amended; the Older Worker Benefits Protection Act; Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended; Sections 1981 through 1988 of Title 42 of the United States Code; the Civil Rights Act of 1991; the Equal Pay Act; the Americans with Disabilities Act; the Rehabilitation Act; the Family and Medical Leave Act; the Fair Labor Standards Act; the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended; the Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act; the National Labor Relations Act; the Fair Credit Reporting Act; the Occupational Safety and Health Act; the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Act; the Employee Polygraph Protection Act; the Immigration Reform Control Act; the retaliation provisions of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002; the Federal False Claims Act; the New Jersey Law Against Discrimination; the New Jersey Conscientious Employee Protection Act; the New Jersey Family Leave Act; the New Jersey Wage and Hour Law; the New Jersey Equal Pay Law; the New Jersey Occupational Safety and Health Law; the New Jersey Smokers' Rights Law; the New Jersey Genetic Privacy Act; the New Jersey Fair Credit Reporting Act; New Jersey Wages and Hours Law, unemployment compensation laws, disability benefits laws, the retaliation provisions of the New Jersey Workers' Compensation Law (and including any and all amendments to the above), the United States Constitution, the New Jersey Constitution and/or any other alleged violation of any federal, state or local law, regulation or ordinance, common law and/or contract or implied contract or collective bargaining/ contractual claim or tort law or public policy or whistleblower claim, having any bearing whatsoever on his employment by and the termination of his employment with the District, including, but not limited to, any claim for wrongful discharge, back pay, front pay, vacation pay, sick pay, wage, commission or bonus payment, attorneys fees, costs, and/or future wage loss, except for workers compensation claims. Davis agrees to save, hold harmless and indemnify the Board for any legal costs and attorneys' fees associated with the enforcement of the terms of this Settlement Agreement should enforcement become necessary.

8. It is understood and agreed that the parties are not prohibited from communicating with or participating in any administrative proceeding before the United States Department of Labor, the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, or any other federal, state or local law agency. Should any entity, agency commission or person file a charge, action, complaint or lawsuit against the Board based upon any of the above-released claims, Davis agrees not to seek or accept any resulting relief whatsoever.

9. To comply with the Older Workers Benefit Protection Act of 1990, if applicable, this Agreement advises Davis of the legal requirements of the Act, and fully incorporates the legal requirements by reference into this Settlement Agreement. Accordingly, by executing this Settlement Agreement, Davis acknowledges that he: (i) fully understands the terms and conditions of this Settlement Agreement; (ii) has consulted with an attorney to review the Settlement Agreement; (iii) specifically waives his right to pursue any current claims he may have under the Age Discrimination in Employment Act; (iv) has been given twenty one days within which to consider this Settlement Agreement; and (v) has seven (7) days from the date of the execution of this Settlement Agreement to revoke it. Davis understands that he may rescind this Settlement Agreement within seven (7) calendar days of signing it, and such rescission must be in writing and delivered to counsel for the Board either by hand or by certified mail within the seven-day period.

10. The parties respectively acknowledge that counsel has advised them regarding this Settlement Agreement and that each is signing this Settlement Agreement freely and voluntarily, without duress, coercion or pressure from the other party.

11. This Settlement Agreement constitutes the full agreement between the parties, and shall be construed and enforced in accordance with New Jersey law.

12. If any provision or portion of a provision of this Settlement Agreement is held by a court of competent jurisdiction, or determined under applicable federal or state law to be invalid, void, or unenforceable, the remaining provisions or remaining portions of a provision will continue and remain in full force and effect.

13. This Settlement Agreement is subject to final approval by the Board and will only become effective upon the approval of the Board. Any disapproval by the Board shall not interfere with the rights of either party to pursue the matter further.

New Jersey Commissioner of Education

Final Decision

D.S., on behalf of minor child, A.R.,

Petitioner,

v.

Board of Education of the Carlstadt-East Rutherford Regional High School District, Bergen County,

Respondent.

The record of this matter, the proposed Settlement Agreement (Agreement), and the Initial Decision issued by the Office of Administrative Law pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1, have been reviewed. Upon such review, the Commissioner approves the settlement and adopts the Initial Decision as the final decision in this matter. In doing so, however, the Commissioner notes with respect to paragraph 4 of the Agreement that the Board must comply with the requirements of New Jersey's Open Public Records Act, N.J.S.A. 47:1A-1 et seq. in regard to information concerning this matter, notwithstanding any agreement the parties may have between themselves to keep the terms of their settlement confidential. Further, the Commissioner notes that the Agreement references actions that were to take place in a time frame that preceded the consideration of the settlement by the Commissioner of Education. The parties are reminded that a settlement of litigation before the Commissioner is not binding until the Commissioner approves the settlement.

In light of the foregoing, the Commissioner adopts the Initial Decision as the final decision in this matter, provided that the parties have already implemented the settlement terms or have agreed upon mutually satisfactory alternate dates for the effectuation of the terms of the Agreement. Assuming same, the matter is hereby dismissed, subject to compliance with the terms of the settlement.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

BEFORE JUDE-ANTHONY TISCORNIA, ALJ:

On September 27, 2021, the matter was transmitted to the Office of Administrative Law for determination as an Emergent Relief matter.

The parties have agreed to an amicable resolution of the matter and submitted the attached Settlement Agreement and the Board's resolution dated October 15, 2021. As per paragraph No. 3 of the aforementioned Settlement Agreement, petitioner agrees to withdraw the within emergent application. The petitioner sent a withdrawal via e-mail on September 4, 2021.

Having reviewed the record and the settlement terms, I FIND as follows:

1. The parties have voluntarily agreed to the settlement as evidenced by their signatures or the signatures of their representatives.

2. The settlement fully disposes of all issues in controversy and is consistent with the law.

Therefore, I CONCLUDE that the agreement meets the requirements of N.J.A.C. 1:1-19.1 and that the settlement should be approved. Accordingly, it is ORDERED that the parties comply with the settlement terms, and it is FURTHER ORDERED that the proceedings in this matter be concluded.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Synopsis

Petitioners – parents of students attending Cedar Grove schools – alleged that the Board improperly administered surveys to students without obtaining parental consent. Petitioners sought, among other things, to have the surveys and all related results removed from any student records and discarded. The respondent Board filed a motion to dismiss in which it denied that the survey in question required prior parental consent, arguing that said survey did not touch upon any of the personal and sensitive categories enumerated in N.J.S.A. 18A:36-34(a). The petitioners filed a motion for summary decision.

The ALJ found, inter alia, that: the survey was not voluntary, as students were not informed that it was voluntary at the time the surveys were distributed; the surveys did in fact touch on subjects for which parental consent is required by N.J.S.A. 18A:36-34 as they included questions about gender identity, gender discrimination, and family demographics which could elicit responses concerning sexual behavior or attitudes; accordingly, the Board did violate the statute by failing to obtain consent prior to administering the surveys; further, the survey distributed to elementary students violated N.J.S.A. 18A:36-36(a) by requiring students to provide information regarding their race and ethnicity in class. The ALJ concluded that the appropriate remedy is for the Board to discard the surveys and all results derived therefrom from the district's website, student records, the district's Equity and Diversity Advisory Council, and any other entity with whom the results of the survey were shared. Accordingly, the ALJ denied the Board's motion to dismiss and granted petitioner's motion for summary decision.

Upon review, the Assistant Commissioner, to whom this matter was delegated pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A.4-34, concurred with the ALJ's determinations herein and granted the petitioners' motion for summary decision. In so doing, the Assistant Commissioner noted that while the Board's efforts to explore and address diversity, inclusion, and equity in its schools is commendable, such efforts cannot outweigh statutory requirements regarding the administration of surveys to students.

Final Decision

Patricia Montana, David M. Grande, Thomas Perri, Agnieszka Norman, Lisa Cassilli, and Janet DeSiano, Petitioners,

v.

Anthony Grosso, Superintendent, and Board of Education of the Township of Cedar Grove, Essex County, Respondents.

The record of this matter, the Initial Decision of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) and the exceptions filed by the Board[1] pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:1-18.4 have been reviewed and considered.[2]

Petitioners, who are parents and caregivers of students in Cedar Grove schools, filed a petition of appeal asserting that the Board had improperly administered surveys to students without obtaining parental consent. Following the Board's motion to dismiss and petitioner's motion for summary decision, the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) found that the survey was not voluntary, as no students were informed it was voluntary. The ALJ concluded that the surveys touched on subjects for which parental consent is required by N.J.S.A. 18A:36-34 and that the Board

[2] Petitioners did not file a reply to the Board's exceptions. The Department of Education received several submissions from members of the public regarding this matter. As there is no provision in the applicable statutes or regulations for submissions from the public regarding contested cases, these submissions were not considered.

violated the statute by failing to obtain consent prior to administering the surveys. Specifically, the ALJ concluded that questions about gender identity, gender discrimination, and family demographics could elicit responses concerning sexual behavior or attitudes. The ALJ also concluded that the survey distributed to elementary school students violated N.J.S.A. 18A:36-36(a) by requiring students to provide information regarding their race and ethnicity in class. The ALJ determined that the appropriate remedy is for the Board to discard the surveys and all results derived therefrom from the district's website, student records, the district's Equity and Diversity Advisory Council, and any other entity with whom the results of the survey were shared. Accordingly, the ALJ denied the Board's motion to dismiss and granted petitioner's motion for summary decision.

In its exceptions, the Board argues that there is an issue of material fact regarding whether parental consent is required to ask a student's gender identity and that the ALJ improperly equated "gender identity" to "sexual behaviors and attitudes." The Board notes that the New Jersey Department of Education's (DOE) "Transgender Student Guidance for School Districts" states that "a school district shall accept a student's asserted gender identity; parental consent is not required." The Board also contends that the ALJ's conclusion was based on outdated information that characterized gender dysphoria as a mental illness, despite the fact that it has not been so characterized since 2013. Additionally, the Board argues that the surveys were voluntary, not required, and therefore no violation of N.J.S.A. 18A:36-36 occurred. Finally, the Board contends that none of the surveys touched on the areas listed in N.J.S.A. 18A:36-34, and therefore parental consent was not required.

Upon review, the Assistant Commissioner[3] concurs with the ALJ that the Board violated N.J.S.A. 18A:36-36(a) by asking students to identify their race and ethnicity on a survey distributed in elementary school classrooms. While the Board contends that the surveys were voluntary rather than required, the Assistant Commissioner does not find this argument persuasive. Third and fourth graders who receive a survey in class would reasonably conclude that they are required to complete it, just as they are required to complete any other work distributed in the classroom.[4]

The Assistant Commissioner agrees with the ALJ that the questions on the surveys related to gender identity and gender discrimination could have resulted in students revealing information about their sexual behaviors or attitudes. While the questions do not outright request such information, N.J.S.A. 18A:36-34 is triggered based on the information revealed, not the questions posed. The Assistant Commissioner acknowledges that gender identity is not equivalent to sexual behaviors and attitudes.[5] However, the combination of these questions,[6] and the fact that they were open-ended, invited students to reveal information that might include their sexual behaviors and attitudes.

Although the Board contends that the DOE's guidance pertaining to transgender students indicates that districts shall accept a student's asserted gender identity and that parental consent is [3] Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A.4-34, this matter has been delegated to Assistant Commissioner Kevin Dehmer because of the Acting Commissioner's recusal.

[4] Furthermore, the record demonstrates that in distributing the survey to teachers, the elementary school principals did not in any way indicate that the survey was voluntary; it is highly unlikely that the students were informed the survey was voluntary if their teachers were not so informed.

[5] The Board's exceptions suggest that the ALJ erroneously based her decision on outdated information relating gender dysphoria to a mental illness or a deviant sexual behavior, presumably because those issues were raised by petitioners during briefing. The Assistant Commissioner disagrees with the Board's characterization of the Initial Decision and, to the extent clarification is necessary, notes that the DOE does not consider students who assert a gender identity different than the one they were assigned at birth to be mentally ill or deviant.

[6] The Board's exceptions focus only on the questions regarding gender identity and fail to include any specific arguments regarding the ALJ's conclusion that the questions regarding gender discrimination implicate N.J.S.A. 18A:36-34.

not required, that guidance is inapplicable to the current situation. Given that the surveys were anonymous, the district could not have been using them to ascertain and record the asserted gender identity for each student. Furthermore, as discussed above, the question regarding gender identity is not the only question that could cause students to reveal information about their sexual behaviors and attitudes.[7]

The Assistant Commissioner recognizes and commends the Board's efforts to explore and address diversity, inclusion, and equity in its schools. However, those efforts cannot outweigh statutory requirements regarding the administration of surveys to students.[8]

Accordingly, petitioner's motion for summary decision is granted. The Board is directed to discard the surveys and results from all records.[9]

IT IS SO ORDERED.[10]

ASSISTANT COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION

Date of Decision: December 16, 2021
Date of Mailing: December 16, 2021

[7] The Board also contends that there is an issue of material fact regarding whether parental consent is required to ask a student's gender identity. The Assistant Commissioner disagrees that this is an issue of fact, and finds that, in this matter, it is a question of law appropriate for resolution by summary decision.

[8] Having concluded that the surveys violate N.J.S.A. 18A:36-34 and -36, the Assistant Commissioner need not reach the question of whether the surveys violated district policy or federal law, or the Assistant Commissioner's jurisdiction to decide any questions of federal law.

[9] Other relief sought by petitioners, including monetary penalties, is denied for the reasons detailed in the Initial Decision.

[10] This decision may be appealed to the Appellate Division of the Superior Court pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:6-9.1. Under N.J.Ct.R. 2:4-1(b), a notice of appeal must be filed with the Appellate Division within 45 days from the date of mailing of this decision.

Record Closed: October 12, 2021 Decided: November 15, 2021

BEFORE GAIL M. COOKSON, ALJ:

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioners are several parents whose children attend Township of Cedar Grove ("Cedar Grove") schools. They have brought this action in order to obtain certain relief from a survey presented to students on June 9, 2021, by the Cedar Grove Board of Education ("District").[1] Petitioners allege that the survey was conducted in such a manner as to violate a requirement that a district obtain "prior written informed consent from a student's parent or legal guardian and provide[ ] for a copy of the document to be available for viewing at convenient locations and time periods" before administering any "survey, assessment, analysis or evaluation which reveals information concerning" eight personal and sensitive categories. N.J.S.A. 18A:36-34(a); 20 U.S.C. § 1232h(b), Protection of Pupil Rights Act ("PPRA"). See also District Policy 2415.05.

Petitioners seek to have the surveys and all results removed from any student records and discarded, identification of any other agency or entity that received the results, identification of the members of the District's Equity and Diversity Advisory Council ("EDAC") that designed the survey, a public apology, affirmative action on assuring future compliance, and an award of fees and monetary penalties.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The Petition of Appeal was filed with the New Jersey Department of Education, Office of Controversies and Disputes ("Department") on July 6, 2021. The District filed its Answer to the Petition on July 29, 2021. The Department transmitted the petitioners' complaint to the Office of Administrative Law ("OAL") where it was filed on August 4, 2021, for adjudication as a contested matter pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 to 15; N.J.S.A. 52: 14F-1 to 13.

On August 6, 2021, the matter was assigned to the undersigned. On August 30, 2021, a telephonic case management conference was convened at which time pretrial issues and motions were discussed. A briefing schedule was established as both parties were of the opinion that the case could be disposed of without evidentiary hearings. The papers have all been filed and the cross-motions are now ripe for determination.

[1] While petitioners have also named the District Superintendent individually as a respondent, I shall refer to the respondents in the singular and as the "District."

MOTIONS PRESENTED

Respondent has filed a Motion to Dismiss the Complaint on several grounds. The District denies that the subject survey required prior parental consent because it disputes that it touched upon any of the statutory categories. It also disputes that the OAL has jurisdiction over any alleged PPRA violations, which it asserts must be brought in the federal administrative process before the United States Department of Education. The District also asserts as a defense to any consideration of the merits of the PPRA, in the event that I reach such, that the surveys were voluntary and thus, not "required," a condition it states is necessary to trigger the PPRA's strictures. Further, the District argues that the EDAC does not receive any federal funds and thus its Policy 2415.05 is not applicable.

Petitioners have filed a Motion for Summary Decision on their Complaint asserting that they are entitled to judgment in their favor as a matter of law and undisputed facts because the surveys touched upon gender identity and for the older students, religious affiliation. They also assert that the surveys were not genuinely "voluntary," especially for the younger grades who were given the survey in class by the teacher as an anonymous but required assignment to be done right then and there.

LEGAL STANDARDS ON THE MOTIONS

Here, both parties have moved for a determination that the application of the law entitles each to a favorable decision. Respondent moved, however, for a dismissal as a matter of law. For the purposes of a motion to dismiss –

> [A] trial court should grant a dismissal "in only the rarest of instances." Printing Mart-Morristown v. Sharp Elecs. Corp., 116 N.J. 739, 772, 563 A.2d 31 (1989). A court's review of a complaint is to be "undertaken with a generous and hospitable > approach," id. at 746, 563 A.2d 31, and the court should assume that the nonmovant's allegations are true and give that party the benefit of all reasonable inferences, Smith v. SBC Communications Inc., 178 N.J. 265, 282, 839 A.2d 850 (2004). If "the fundament of a cause of action may be gleaned even from an obscure statement of claim," then the complaint should survive this preliminary stage. Craig v. Suburban Cablevision, Inc., 140 N.J. 623, 626, 660 A.2d 505 (1995) (citation omitted).

> [NCP Litig. Tr. v. KPMG LLP, 187 N.J. 353, 365 (2006).]

Petitioners have moved for summary decision in their favor. On such a motion, it is well established that if there is no genuine issue as to any material fact, a moving party may be entitled to prevail as a matter of law without an evidentiary hearing. Brill v. The Guardian Life Insurance Co. of America, 142 N.J. 520, 540 (1995). The purpose of summary decision is to avoid unnecessary hearings and their concomitant burden on public and private litigation resources.

STATEMENT OF FACTS ON THE MOTIONS

Applying those legal standards to the pleadings and any factual matters presented outside the pleadings, I FIND the following as facts that form the predicate to these cross-motions.

First, the "Community Needs Assessment" surveys at issue herein included the following questions at each of these school levels:

Elementary School:

1. Race/Ethnicity
2. Gender Identity
3. "Do you feel school is a safe place?"
4. "Do you feel school is a safe place for people who look like you?"
5. "Do you feel school is a safe place for people who don't look like you?"
6. "Do you feel the adults in your school are fair in dealing with people who look like you?"
7. "Do you feel the adults in your school are fair in dealing with people who don't look like you?"
8. "If you felt unsafe at school, would you feel comfortable going to your teacher or principal?"

9. "What activities in school do you enjoy the most?"
10. "What change would you like to see happen at your school?"

Middle School:

1. Race/Ethnicity
2. Gender Identity
3. "Do you feel Memorial Middle School is a safe space for your particular racial/ethnic group?"
4. "Do you feel the adults in your school are fair in dealing with people who look like you?"
5. "Do you feel the adults in your school are fair in dealing with people who don't look like you?"
6. "If you felt unsafe at school, would you feel comfortable going to your teachers or principal?"
7. "What activities in school do you feel are most enjoyable?"
8. "Can you provide any examples of racial or gender-based discrimination you have experienced in the Cedar Grove Public Schools?"
9. "What change would you like to see happen at your school?"

High School:

1. Race/Ethnicity
2. Gender Identity
3. Religious Affiliation

[Certification of Jeffrey R. Merlino, Esq. ("Merlino Cert.") Exhibits A, B, and C.]

Prior announcements about a survey being prepared by EDAC for students, staff, and the community were made during Board meetings but did not provide sufficient detailed information to allow parents or members of the public to determine whether the questions would be touching upon subject matters for which special consideration and permissions might be required. [Certification of Anthony Grosso ("Grosso Cert.") ¶ 12.]

The surveys were provided to the children by email link or in the classroom (elementary grades) on June 9, 2021. [Grosso Cert. ¶¶ 14-15.]

Only on that same date, June 9, did parents receive an email invitation and link in order to complete the community version of the survey. It did not include any opt-in or opt-out language for parents to object to the student versions of the survey. [Grosso Cert. ¶ 13.] It also did not provide any location or time when parents could review and inspect the surveys in advance. [Petition of Appeal ¶¶ 4, 7.]

The surveys completed by third and fourth grade students were distributed, completed and collected by the classroom teachers during a classroom session. While the students were told that the surveys were anonymous, they were not told that they were voluntary and that they could decline to complete it or that they could discuss it with their parents prior to completing it. Any clarifying questions would have been asked in person of the teacher, negating to some extent the anonymity of the survey. [Petition of Appeal ¶ 6.]

In fact, the email instructions to those teachers stated:

> We would very much appreciate that you have the kids take the survey in class tomorrow, Wednesday June 9. It is only about 8 questions and shouldn't take a great deal of time. To introduce the survey, tell the kids that no name is needed. Their answers are private, and no one will know how they answered. Tell them it is to help us plan for the future at [South End/North End] to help make it a better school. Keep it simple.

[Certification of David M. Grande ("Grande Cert.") ¶¶ 3-4, Exhibits C & D).]

At a June 15, 2021, Board meeting, the Superintendent presented a PowerPoint on the surveys' results, inclusive of "student responses, taken out of context, without consent." Upon questions and concerns expressed by parents at the meeting, he would not identify members of EDAC[2], commit to discarding the surveys and results, acknowledge that it had been unlawfully conducted, or that the District would comply with the laws in the future. [Petition of Appeal ¶¶ 8-9.]

The District does receive federal education funding; it is irrelevant that the EDAC itself specifically does not.

The surveys completed by students were anonymous and yet the District refused to produce them in response to an OPRA request from petitioners stating that they constitute "student records." [Certification of Patricia Montana ("Montana Cert.") ¶ 3.]

Yet, the summary of the surveys was posted on the District website. And that summary included language which showed the focus of the surveys:

> The purpose of this needs assessment was to explore diversity and inclusion in the Cedar Grove Public Schools and seeks to eliminate bias and enhance diversity in all schools. Diversity is considered race/ethnicity, gender identity, LGBTQ+ status and disability status. This needs assessment seeks to explore previous and present bias to provide tangible solutions for all stakeholders. The survey participation yielded 567 participants (64 Faculty/Staff, 158 Families/Caregivers, 132 Elementary Students, 64 Middle School Students, 149 High School Students. . . .
> When exploring responses of biased or discriminatory acts against individuals, the experiences varied. These experiences also varied from race, gender identity, religious affiliation and family demographics. It was clear that Cedar Grove Public Schools has had biased acts that have faced all subgroups who participated in this needs assessment.

LEGAL ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSIONS

All parties acknowledge the importance of diversity in the schools and the requirements that boards develop comprehensive equity plans to ensure that all students, regardless of their race, creed, color, national origin, ancestry, age, marital status, affectional or sexual orientation, gender, religion, disability, or socioeconomic status are not subject to discrimination and that any barriers to achieving equity are removed. N.J.A.C. 6A:7-1.4(c). The question here, however, is whether the survey provided to students in June of this year and which might have been geared toward assisting the District in developing an equity plan, were undertaken in a manner inconsistent with the laws governing the rights of parents and students.

N.J.S.A. 18A:36-34 ("School surveys, certain, parental consent required before administration")[3] provides – > a. Unless a school district receives prior written informed consent from a student's parent or legal guardian and provides for a copy of the document to be available for viewing at convenient locations and time periods, the school district shall not administer to a student any academic or nonacademic survey, assessment, analysis or evaluation which reveals information concerning:

>
> (1) political affiliations;
>
> (2) mental and psychological problems potentially embarrassing to the student or the student's family;
>
> (3) sexual behavior and attitudes;
>
> (4) illegal, anti-social, self-incriminating and demeaning behavior;
> (5) critical appraisals of other individuals with whom a respondent has a close family relationship;

[3] I note that there is a new provision, N.J.S.A. 18A:36-34.1, but same is not in effect until December 29, 2021.

> (6) legally recognized privileged or analogous relationships, such as those of lawyers, physicians, and ministers;
> (7) income, other than that required by law to determine eligibility for participation in a program or for receiving financial assistance under a program; or
> (8) social security number.

b. The school district shall request prior written informed consent at least two weeks prior to the administration of the survey, assessment, analysis or evaluation.

c. A student shall not participate in any survey, assessment, analysis or evaluation that concerns the issues listed in subsection a. of this section unless the school district has obtained prior written informed consent from that student's parent or guardian.

d. A school district that violates the provisions of this act shall be subject to such monetary penalties as determined by the commissioner.

District Policy 2415.05 provides:

> PPRA requires written consent from parents of unemancipated minor students and students who are eighteen years old or emancipated minor students before such students are required to participate in a survey, analysis, or evaluation funded in whole or in part by a program of the United States Department of Education that concerns one or more of the following areas referred to as "protected information surveys":
>
> 1. Political affiliations or beliefs of the student or student's parent;
>
> 2. Mental or psychological problems of the student or student's family;
>
> 3. Sex behavior or attitudes;
>
> 4. Illegal, anti-social, self-incriminating or demeaning behavior;
> 5. Critical appraisals of others with whom respondents have close family relationships;

> 6. Legally recognized privileged or analogous relationships, such as with lawyers, physicians, and ministers;
>
> 7. Religious practices, affiliations, or beliefs of the student or parents;
>
> 8. Income (other than that required by law to determine eligibility for participation in a program or for receiving financial assistance under such program); or
>
> 9. Social security number.
> This consent requirement also applies to the collection, disclosure or use of student information for marketing purposes, referred to as "marketing surveys", and for certain physical examinations and screenings."

The District intended to and did actually seek answers from students, who were not told it was voluntary but only anonymous, with elementary students being given it as an assignment in class, on the subjects of gender identity, gender discrimination, and for the older students, religion and religious discrimination, and family demographics. It matters not that there were only a few questions, cf. Green v. Bd. of Ed. of Ocean, Monmouth Cty, OAL Dkt. No. EDU 4867-15, Initial Decision (September 8, 2016), adopted with modif. Comm'r Final Decision (October 24, 2016), http://www.njlaw.rutgers.edu/collections/oal, but whether the subject of the questions triggered the legal requirement to provide advance opt-in notice to parents.

While respondent argues that no questions were asked which touched on prohibited subjects, except for the high school students on religion which is enforceable only under the PPRA, I concur with petitioners that – > Children confuse gender identity and sexual identity/orientation also. Often, young people "direct anti-lesbian, gay, or bisexual (LGB) language; negative attitudes; and hostility toward others not because of others' actual or perceived sexual orientation but because they do not adhere to conventional gender or other prescriptive norms about appropriate or acceptable behavior." Stacey S. Horn, Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity-Based Prejudice, 13 Child Dev. Persps. 21, 21 (2009) (citations omitted). This is especially frequent as "young people try to figure out their own > sexual orientations and gender identities." Id. These concerns lead students to ponder their sexual behaviors and attitudes, including behaviors they might consider anti-social or demeaning, when assessing their gender identity.

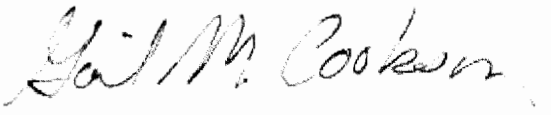
> [Petitioners' Brief at 18.]

Similarly, the surveys asked some students about family demographics which could easily elicit highly personal, and oft publicly shamed, information, such as same-sex unions. Furthermore, for the elementary students to whom the survey was distributed in class, I agree with petitioners that such violated the law also prohibits public schools from requiring students to "supply information regarding [their] race, ethnicity, migrant status or economically disadvantaged status on any materials distributed in class." N.J.S.A. 18A:36-36(a) (emphasis added).

I CONCLUDE on the basis of the undisputed facts and the law cited above that the legal requirement of the state education law, N.J.S.A. 18A:36-34, was triggered and this survey was not voluntary. I also CONCLUDE that the appropriate remedy is to discard the surveys and all results derived therefrom from the District's website, student records, the EDAC, and to similarly extend and advise any other entity with whom the surveys or results were shared of this requirement, which entities must be disclosed. I do not consider it necessary for there to be a mandated public apology as the respondent is now the subject of this adverse ruling. Nor do I think monetary damages are called for; and fees are not warranted as the petitioners are representing themselves. Similarly, this Initial Decision, assuming adoption or only minor modification, also serves as guidance and stricture to the District with respect to future surveys conducted on diversity and related issues in the community and the schools.



ORDER

Based upon the foregoing, it is ORDERED that the petitioners' Motion for Summary Decision on their Petition of Appeal shall be GRANTED. It is further ORDERED that the respondent's Motion to Dismiss the Petition of Appeal shall be DENIED.

I hereby FILE this initial decision with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION for consideration.

This recommended decision may be adopted, modified or rejected by the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, who by law is authorized to make a final decision in this matter. If the Commissioner of the Department of Education does not adopt, modify or reject this decision within forty-five days and unless such time limit is otherwise extended, this recommended decision shall become a final decision in accordance with N.J.S.A. 52:14B-10.

Within thirteen days from the date on which this recommended decision was mailed to the parties, any party may file written exceptions with the COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, ATTN: BUREAU OF CONTROVERSIES AND DISPUTES, 100 Riverview Plaza, 4th Floor, PO Box 500, Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0500, marked "Attention: Exceptions." A copy of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties. of any exceptions must be sent to the judge and to the other parties.

Re: M.M., on behalf of minor child v. Board of Education of the Township of Lafayette, Sussex County, Agency Dkt. No. 216-11/21

Dear Parties:

I have reviewed the materials filed in connection with the Board's motion for summary decision in the above-captioned matter. The Board contends that the petition was untimely pursuant to N.J.A.C. 3A:3-1.3 because it has been more than 90 days since the Board approved the harassment, intimidation, and bullying (HIB) report at issue in the petition.

In its motion for summary decision, the Board maintains that it made its HIB decision in March 2020, while simultaneously arguing in a related matter (Agency Dkt. No. 94-5/20) that is based on the exact same allegation of HIB, that no decision had yet been made and therefore that the appeal was not ripe for review. In fact, the Board represented to the Appellate Division of the Superior Court (Appellate Division) that no decision had been made. The Board's prior representations that no decision was made by the Board resulted in an enormous expenditure of time and effort by petitioner; the Department of Education; the Office of Administrative Law (OAL); and the Appellate Division that now appears to be have been totally unnecessary given that the Board admits that a decision was made in March 2020. The Board cannot argue that petitioner had notice of its decision – sufficient to trigger the 90-day time limitation period – when the question of whether a decision was issued has been so complicated and confusing as to necessitate fact-finding proceedings.

Furthermore, the Commissioner notes that neither an Anti-Bullying Coordinator's report, nor meeting minutes reflecting a Board vote to approve that report, meet the Board's obligations under N.J.S.A. 18A:37-15(e) to issue a decision in writing to affirm, reject, or modify the decision of the superintendent. Therefore, the Board is directed to issue a written decision affirming, rejecting, or modifying the superintendent's HIB decision within seven days of the date of this decision, and to submit that decision to the petitioner and the Office of Controversies and Disputes.

The Commissioner also notes that there is an ongoing dispute in Dkt. No. 94-5/20 regarding petitioner's discovery request for video evidence that she alleges supports her claim regarding the merits of the Board's HIB decision. The Commissioner has previously declined to order the disclosure of the video because it did not appear that the Board's decision was ripe for review. However, as the Board will be issuing a decision pursuant to the Commissioner's directive herein, which will be ripe for review, the Board is ordered to provide a copy of the video to petitioner within ten days after the receipt of this decision.

Accordingly, the Board's motion for summary decision is denied. The Board is ordered to issue a written decision reflecting the vote taken at its March 18, 2020 meeting within seven days of the receipt of this decision. The Board is further ordered to produce the video sought by petitioner within ten days of the receipt of this decision. Petitioner shall not share the video with any third parties nor may she use the video for any other purpose than pursuing the merits of this matter.

Sincerely,

Angelica Allen-McMillan, Ed.D.
