Farewell ceremony for GSAB scheduled for Saturday at Lakehurst

A farewell ceremony will be held on Saturday, Feb. 16 at the Naval Air Engineering Center, Lakehurst in Hangar 307 to honor the 37 Soldiers of the New Jersey Army National Guard who are deploying to Kuwait. These Soldiers are members of Company A, 2-104th General Support Aviation Battalion (GSAB)

The unit has spent a year aggressively training in preparation for the deployment. This training has taken them to Virginia, Colorado, Alabama, Utah and Georgia along with their training in various places in New Jersey. While in Kuwait, the 2-104th GSAB will be part of Task Force 2-211 which will be comprised primarily by the 2-211th GSAB, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Ten of the Soldiers will be deploying for their second time.

Militia Museum offers exhibit on First Separate Battalion for Black History Month

By 1st Lt. Jason Feldman, Curator, National Guard Militia Museum of New Jersey

The National Guard Militia Museum of New Jersey has created a special exhibit, displaying art, artifacts and photographs, detailing the history of the First Separate Battalion, New Jersey National Guard (1930-1940) for Black History Month. The First Separate Battalion exemplifies the long and honored history of the state's African American Soldiers.

African Americans have long been part of New Jersey's military tradition, serving in integrated units in the Revolutionary War and in units of the United States Colored Troops during the Civil War. Nearly 3,000 black men from New Jersey enlisted in the Union army during the Civil War and took a prominent part in such battles as Petersburg and the siege of Charleston. In 1872 New Jersey authorized the raising of segregated African American National Guard companies in Camden, Elizabeth, Jersey City, Newark and New Brunswick. These companies were formed into a regiment that was subsequently disbanded in 1877. During World War I, black home guard companies were raised in Atlantic City and Jersey City, but were disbanded on the reorganization of the National Guard in 1920.

In 1930 after being petitioned by leaders of the state's African American community, the New Jersey legislature authorized the creation of the First Separate Battalion, New Jersey State Militia. Companies A and B were raised in Newark and Atlantic City in 1932

Quote for the Week

When the well is dry, we know the worth of water.

and first reported for training at Sea Girt in 1932. Both companies were in training at Sea Girt during the Morro Castle ship fire and wreck disaster in September 1934 and were immediately assigned to rescue operations. Although beset by wind and rain, the men never stopped for rest until the survivors were rescued and the dead recovered, after which they established a temporary morgue at Sea Girt. Both companies were awarded commendations by the New Jersey legislature and Governor A. Harry Moore for their courage, courtesy and sympathetic handling of a very gruesome duty.

Company C, from Camden and Company D, of Trenton, were mustered into service in 1935. Company C's commander, Captain Richard A. Williams, was a former "Buffalo Soldier" who had served as a sergeant major in the U.S. 10th Cavalry. Williams, a Silver Star recipient, was a veteran of the Spanish American War, Philippine Insurrection and World War I. The battalion's band was based in Atlantic City and its medical detachment in Newark.

The Battalion was called into Federal service in 1940 for service as the First Battalion, 372nd Infantry Regiment in World War II. Following the war, with the integration of the armed forces and National Guard, it was disbanded.

The exhibit will be available for viewing during normal museum hours until March 4; Tuesday through Thursday, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and the first weekend of the month.

VA Launches Suicide Hotline

To ensure veterans with emotional crises have round-the-clock access to trained professionals, the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) has begun operation of a national suicide prevention hot line for veterans. Secretary of Veterans Affairs Jim Nicholson said: "Veterans need to know these VA professionals are literally a phone call away. All service members who experience the stresses of combat can have wounds on their minds as well as their bodies. Veterans should see mental health services as another benefit they have earned, which the men and women of VA are honored to provide." VA's hot line will be staffed by mental health professionals in Canandaigua, N.Y. They will take toll-free calls from across the country and work closely with local VA mental health providers to help callers. The toll-free hot line number is 1 (800) 273-TALK (8255).

Tax season help for military members

We are now in the midst of tax season and preparing for the check that Uncle Sam will send our way or digging down to find the $$$ to pay those taxes owed. Here are some tips from various sources to help when it comes to filing.

Review your return before sending it off to the tax man – common problems, especially for paper returns are missing signatures and incorrect Social Security numbers.

The Internal Revenue Service Publication 3, titled, "Armed Forces' Tax Guide" is available at www.irs.gov/pub/irs-pdf/p3.pdf.

By visiting the IRS Web site – www.irs.gov – and clicking on the "Individuals" button in the upper left of the screen, you can then find information on military issues in two ways. First, there will be a "Military" button that will show on the line right under the "Individuals" button. Second, scroll down the page to the "Tax Information for Members of the U.S. Armed Forces" button.

Honorable Mention

Battlemind supports Soldiers, families through deployment cycle

Battlemind is a term used to describe combat readiness. The first Battlemind product was a mental health post-deployment briefing. It quickly became a training system supporting Soldiers and families across the seven phases of the deployment cycle. The Battlemind system includes separate pre-deployment training modules for Soldiers, unit leaders, health-care providers and spouses. Psychological debriefings are given in theater and upon redeployment. There is also a post-deployment module for spouses and several post-deployment modules for Soldiers. Pre-deployment Battlemind tells Soldiers what they are likely to see, to hear, to think and to feel while deployed - by describing the worst-case scenario. Post-deployment Battlemind addresses safety concerns, relationship issues, normalized combat-related mental health reactions and symptoms -- along with teaching Soldiers when they should seek mental health support for themselves or for their buddies. All of the Battlemind products (training modules, brochures, debriefings and videos are available on the Web site, www.battlemind.org.

Data security breach announced

Recently, a Horizon Blue Cross Blue Shield of NJ employee's laptop was stolen that contained personal information, including the name, address and social security number of some of their members. Horizon Blue Cross Blue Shield of NJ does not believe any medical data was on the computer.

Several security measures are naturally set in place to safeguard data and prevent its access should this rare situation occur. However, since the privacy and security of some members' personal information may be at risk, Horizon BCBSNJ is notifying each impacted member or dependent directly by letter of this incident. Again, this breach has not affected everyone who is a member.

If you do not wish to wait, you may call them at 1-800-447-3798 to confirm if you are affected. When calling, please have your insurance card available and be prepared to provide your ID number. If you have any further questions, please contact your Benefits Administrator or Horizon BCBSNJ directly.

Space A rules have changed

Dependents of service members who have been deployed for 120 days or longer will now find it easier to travel on Space Available military flights (Space-A). Due to a change in policy effective Dec. 6, 2007, military families no longer need to be accompanied by their service member when traveling Space-A regardless of where they are based. Prior to the change, military dependents could only travel unaccompanied from an overseas location to the family's home of record within the continental United States or within an overseas theater of operation. Additionally, they were limited to one round trip during the military sponsor's deployment period. Under the new policy, family members may now travel unlimited times during the deployment when seats are available. However, family members planning to use Space-A transportation will need a verification letter from the military sponsor's commander confirming the service member's deployment. In addition, an eligible parent or legal guardian must accompany family members under age 18. For more information regarding the Space-A travel program, please visit the Air Mobility Command website at www.amc.af.mil/.

The John Warner National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2007 (P.L. 109-364), enhanced the TRICARE Reserve Select (TRS) health plan. Selected Reserve members who are enrolled or eligible to enroll in a health benefit plan under chapter 89 of title 5 U.S.C. Federal Employees Health Benefit Program (FEHBP), IRR and ING Soldiers are excluded from purchasing TRS.

Soldiers currently enrolled in the three tier TRS program must have transitioned to the new program by Sept. 30, 2007. Association News

Enlisted Association wants YOU!

By retired Command Sgt. Maj. Mike Hughes, EANG-NJ

The Enlisted Association National Guard-New Jersey is off to a good start for 2008 as we have realigned all the committees and filled both the Executive Council and Committees with a cross section of Army and Air, uniformed and retirees, and several junior NCOs. Everyone appears to be enthused and pledges to support the Association in all its efforts. All we need now is for you to get on board as a member and bring your fellow soldiers and airmen with you.

We have many challenges facing us over the next few years whether it is another round of base closures via the Base Realignment Commission (BRAC), reduction in TRICARE benefits, reduction in troop strength, attempts to maintain the retirement age at 60, etc. We need a powerful voice to put our message across to the State and Federal Legislators and this can only be accomplished through a strong membership in our State Association (EANG-NJ) and the National Association (EANGUS).

The new membership year starts on 1 January 2008 and we need your help in making our Association grow. We encourage all enlisted soldiers and airmen to join the Association as Active Members and also welcome all officers, warrant officers, federal, and state employees to join as Associate Members. Applications for membership can be obtained from our website www.eang-nj.org.
