Commission Welcomes Public Testimony to Reduce Burdensome Regulation

Trenton, NJ – Acting Governor Kim Guadagno today convened the bipartisan Red Tape Review Commission (RTRC) to hear public testimony on a variety of regulatory issues impacting New Jersey businesses and residents. The meeting was held at the State Museum in Trenton.

"Thanks to the bipartisan RTRC, we've promoted transparency, predictability and restraint in rule making across government," said Acting Governor Guadagno, who serves as Chair of the RTRC. "The Commission's efforts have made it easier for businesses and organizations to work within New Jersey by reducing confusing and burdensome regulations without losing necessary oversight. This helps businesses to grow, to hire, and to keep New Jersey thriving."

In addition to the Acting Governor, the RTRC's members include Senator Steven Oroho, Senator Jeff Van Drew, Assemblyman John Burzichelli, Assemblyman Scott Rumana, Somerset County Freeholder Brian D. Levine, John Galandak, Tony Monteiro, and Kimberly Gillespie.
