Changes to Highlights

Nothing endures but change - Heraclitus

As we see changes happening around DMAVA, one change has been to DMAVA Highlights – the stewardship of the newsletter has passed from the Assistant Commissioner’s office and the fine work of Laura Branham to the Public Affairs Office and Staff Sgt. Barb Harbison.

If you have submissions for the newsletter, please e-mail them to SSgt. Harbison at barbara.harbison@njdmava.state.nj.us - for those of you who have global accounts, the address you see on the global listing is NOT the DMAVA address, so you will have to type it. You can also contact her at (609) – 530-7088, fax: (609) 530-6963. Thank you for your continued support.

Spouses invited to go on orientation flights

The 108th Air Refueling Wing would like to extend an invitation to the spouses of New Jersey Army and Air National Guardsmen and women who would like to see an aerial refueling up close.

The wing will be having a spouse-only orientation flight on August 18. This is a great opportunity for spouses to see the skills needed to fuel an aircraft more than 20,000 feet in the air. Seats will be on a first-come, first-served basis. If you are unable to get a seat, don't worry. The 108th will have more flights to follow to give everyone a chance to fly.

If you are interested, please call Staff Sgt. Beth Pritchard at (609) 754-4173 or e-mail at elizabeth.pritchard@njmccgu.af.mil for the form needed to request a seat.

Guard members who would like an orientation flight or would like to nominate their bosses for a flight can also contact Staff Sgt. Pritchard for information and forms.

177th Fighter Wing takes media, DAG for trips over N.J.

The 177th Fighter Wing conducted Media Flights on April 4 and 5. Media rides give the 177th the opportunity to show media representatives up close and personal what we do as a wing to prepare for and execute our flying mission. Bryan Thompson, a media representative with NBC, and Wayne Woolley from the Star Ledger both got a chance to see New Jersey from a pilot’s point of view. This type of interaction between the media and the wing fosters understanding and enhances our relationship with the media and the public. In addition to the media, the Deputy Adjutant General, Brig. Gen. Maria Falca-Dodson got a chance to experience a ride in the F-16 Fighting Falcon.

Women's Day 8 March 2006

"Whatever women do, they must do twice as well as men to be thought half as good. Luckily, this is not difficult."

- Charlotte Whitton

Shaping the Future is the 2006 theme for "Take Our Daughters and Sons to Work Day." On Thursday, April 27, 2006, the Department of Military and Veterans Affairs will be participating in this annual observance. This presentation teaches about stars, planets, black holes and pulsars and is presented in brilliant 3D laser light. In addition to the Laser Space Chase, participants will also attend a Homeland Security presentation and have lunch at McDonald's. Parents of participating children will be required to attend the Laser Space Chase presentation and incur the cost of lunch.

If you are interested in having your daughter/son participate in these events, contact Dorinda Sapp at (609) 530-6828 no later than Friday, April 21. Participants must be between the ages of eight through 12.

Army observes Sexual Assault Awareness month

The Army joins the other armed services in observing April as National Sexual Assault Awareness Month. This observation serves as an important reminder to continuously reinforce the mission of the Army's Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Program to Soldiers and leaders at all levels.

Sexual assault is a crime and it will not be tolerated and has no place in the Army. It is contrary to Army values, tears at the fiber of unit cohesion, and degrades mission readiness.

The Army is dedicated to increasing education about what sexual assault is, and is not, and what effects incidents of assault have on our fellow Soldiers.

Army leaders are strongly encouraged to talk openly to their Soldiers about Sexual Assault, demystify the issue and instill confidence in their subordinates.

The Army is values based organization in which Soldiers must treat each other with the dignity and respect they deserve. Effecting the reduction of the incidence of sexual assault, with the objective of full eradication, is the obligation of commanders committed to keeping their Soldiers safe, and maintaining high levels of unit readiness.

Two Medal of Honor recipients die

Two well-know Medal of Honor recipients recently died. Between the two of them, they are credited with saving more than 100 lives.

Michael Novosel, who received the Medal of Honor as a helicopter pilot during the Vietnam War was 83 years old. Mr. Novosel had also served in World War II and the Korean War, but returned to active duty during Vietnam as a patriotic response to the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. As a pilot with the 82nd Medical Detachment in Kien Tuong Province on Oct. 2, 1969, he was credited with saving 29 lived while his aircraft took fire and he was wounded himself.

Desmond T. Doss, Sr., who was the only conscientious objector to ever be awarded the Medal of Honor, died at the age of 87 in Piedmont, Ala. As a medic during World War II, he refused to carry a weapon due to his beliefs. His Medal of Honor citation states that while under enemy fire on the island of Okinawa, Mr. Doss carried 75 wounded soldiers to the edge of a 400-foot cliff and lowered them to safety. During a later attack he was seriously wounded in the legs by a grenade. As he was being carried to safety, he saw a more critically injured man, crawled off his stretcher and directed the medics to help the other wounded man.

If you are interested in reading about other Medal of Honor recipients, please go to <http://www.army.mil/cmh/Moh1.htm>.

AMC Staff Visit to the 108th

Members of the Air Mobility Command Headquarters came to the 108th ARW on a staff assistance visit during the March UTA. The visit was designed to help the 108 ARW with meeting the requirements of the Operational Plan 8044 test, which is a test for aircrew and command post controllers. The team of seven HQ AMC members that came out for the visit was made up of three people from operations, two from command post, one from logistics plans and one from security forces. Once here, they simply observed the execution of plans, and provided support when needed.

"Overall, it went fairly smoothly," Colonel Flynn said. Passing the 8044 test, which will be inspected over a three-day period during the Operational Readiness Inspection being held this July in Alpena, Mich., is the plans and programs office's primary concern.

HOOAH!! To USP&FO on IG results

The United States Property and Fiscal Office, NJARNG, stationed at Fort Dix, was inspected recently by a team from the Office of the Inspector General, First United States Army and received an outstanding rating. This inspection receives visibility on the highest national levels and is the yardstick by which all states are measured in terms of financial and property accountability proficiency.

In the words of the Deputy Inspector General Alan Cotney, "Since October 2005, New Jersey is the first state that did not have a negative finding. As a result, it is determined that the USP&FO meets the First Army IG objective that they can account for Federal Funds and property in a manner consistent with Army standards."

The inspection team repeatedly commented on the efficiency and dedication of the managers of the office. Specifically, the Credit Card program, the contract administration process, the offices for payroll and budget administration, and the Property Management Bureau were all singled out for praise. The inspection validated that the Property and Fiscal Office maintains proper fiscal oversight and property accountability. During the outbriefing, Cotney remarked, "With results like this, I am confident that they will continue to meet Army standards and be good stewards of public tax dollars and property."

The NJNG can all be proud and pleased by the results of this high profile national inspection, which highlighted to the rest of the United States the leading role played by the New Jersey National Guard's Property and Fiscal Office. They are supporting both

State and Nation at the same time as they are supporting the men and women of the National Guard in today's Global War on Terror. In the words of the USP&FO, "We Never Let Our Guard Down."

PREP is NOT therapy, and is unlike anything to which you have been exposed. No encounter group or sharing of personal concerns, simply thrilling insights into a more loving, grown filled relationship! PREP begins with teaching effective communication skills, addresses problem resolution strategies that work, and teaches how to discover the hidden issues in every relationship. The program then moves into friendship, forgiveness, fun, and sensuality. If you are interested in attending (soldiers that were deployed are given priority) or need additional information, please call Marie Durling at 609-562-0739.

NJ Vietnam Veterans’ Memorial and Vietnam Era Educational Center’s upcoming event schedule.

25 March, 1:00pm

“Screaming Eagles in Vietnam: The 101st Airborne Division during the War” -- an oral history discussion and slide presentation by NJ Vietnam Veteran Peter Engelhardt.

Peter Engelhardt, of Summit, served in Vietnam from October 1968 through August 1969 with the 101st Airborne Division’s 2nd Brigade, which operated out of Landing Zone

(LZ) "Sally," near the ancient imperial city of Hue, and Fire Support Base (FSB) "Whip" in the Ashau Valley near the Laotian border in northern South Vietnam. Engelhardt was a college graduate who then attended Army Officer Candidate School at Fort Benning, Georgia. As an officer in Vietnam, he worked primarily behind the scenes dealing with operations planning and coordination, intelligence assessment, and psychological warfare exercises. He holds a deep admiration and respect for the airborne infantry "line" officers and their men, whose primary duty was combat. It is in their honor that he retells the story of his group of "Screaming Eagles," the nickname for members of the U.S. Army's 101st Airborne Division.

Liquid Candy

Carbonated soft drinks are the single biggest source of calories in the American diet, providing about 7 percent of calories; adding in noncarbonated drinks brings the figure to 9 percent.

The empty calories of soft drinks are contributing to health problems, particularly overweight and obesity. Several scientific studies have provided experimental evidence that soft drinks are directly related to weight gain. That weight gain, in turn, is a prime risk factor for type 2 diabetes, which, for the first time, is becoming a problem for teens as well as adults. As people get older, excess weight also contributes to heart attacks, strokes, and cancer.

Frequent consumption of soft drinks may also increase the risk of osteoporosis—especially in people who drink soft drinks instead of calcium-rich milk. Dental experts continue to urge that people drink less soda pop, especially between meals, to prevent tooth decay (due to the sugars) and dental erosion (due to the acids).

Besides the sugars and acids, other soft drink ingredients are of concern. Caffeine, which is added to many of the most popular soft drinks, is a mildly addictive, stimulant drug. It also increases slightly the excretion of calcium. Artificial colorings, especially Yellow No. 5, promote attention-deficit hyperactivity disorder in some children. Yellow No. 5 also causes hives, asthma, and other allergic reactions in a small number of individuals.

For those of you who are saying "I drink sugar-free". They're no better. Saccharin is a non-caloric petroleum derivative estimated to be three hundred to five hundred times sweeter than sugar.. It's used in diet soft drinks... Studies linked saccharin ingestion to bladder cancer in laboratory animals. Aspartame contains methyl or wood alcohol, which can affect fetal brain development. If you read my article on Splenda then you already know it's made by converting the molecular structure of sugar using chlorine!
