The session of the Legislature about to commence may be the most important ever convened in the State. New Jersey is eminently conservative and loyal, and I trust it may be her high privilege to aid in restoring our country to its former happy and peaceful condition; and I sincerely hope that in the discharge of our legislative duties, forgetting political differences, we shall all be actuated by a desire to promote the welfare of our State, and to uphold the Constitution and save the Union, so that when we return to our constitu-

Mr. Holsman offered the following Joint Resolutions, which on his motion, were ordered to be printed and postponed until the 22d day of January, at 11 o'clock A. M., and made the special order for that day:

Be it Resolved, by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey—

1. That it is the sense of the Legistature and the people of New Jersey, that the civil war in which the nation is unhappily involved ought not to be protracted one moment longer than is necessary to test the power of the government within the limits which the Constitution has imposed, and that so soon as the conduct of the war requires or involves the sacrifice of rights which the Constitution secures, it ought to cease.

2. That the people of New Jersey—their representatives here assembled and the gallant soldiers who, without compulsion have rushed to arms to maintain the Constitution, believe that the time for honorable pacification has arrived, and that every effort ought to be made to effect it, and avert the consequences which must inure from a continuance of war at the expense of Constitutional freedom.

3. That the recent proclamation of emancipation, the division of a sovereign State without the consent of its people and legislature, the appointment of military governors, and the attempt on the part of the executive to control the popular branch of Congress by fraudulent military elections of representatives, are gross violations of the Constitution, and merit and receive the condemnation of this legislature.

4. That to the same category belong the system of arbitrary arrest, the infringement of the freedom of the press—the executive suspension of the writ of habeas corpus—the confiscation and seizure of property without judicial process, and the establishment of military authority beyond the lines of the army, and all attest the evil tendency of civil war.

5. That in view of the possibility of greater evils in the dark future before us, it is the duty of the Legislature and the Executive of the State to economise and cultivate its credit and resources, maintain and improve its military organization, and to take all necessary and proper means to assert the integrity, the dignity and sovereignty of the State.

6. That, as in the heat of passion excited by civil war, it is impossible to approach the discussion of measures of peace with that calmness which is requisite, an armistice of six months should be established between the contending States.

7. That in the third month after the armistice has been agreed to, one delegate should be elected in each Congressional District in each State, which delegate should on the second Monday of the ensuing month assemble in the city of Lexington, Kentucky, to discuss such measures of amicable settlement as shall be presented.

On motion of Mr. Robbins, it was

Which was read and adopted.

Mr. Randolph offered the following resolutions:

BE IT RESOLVED, by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey—

1st. That this State in promptly answering the call by the President of the United States, at and since the inauguration of the war, for troops and means to assist in maintaining the power and dignity of the Federal Government, was actuated by a faith in the professions and declarations of the President of the United States in his Inaugural Address, as well as by a sincere and patriotic concurrence in the resolutions passed by Congress on the 25th day of July, 1861, in which among other things it was declared "that the war is not waged for conquest or subjugation, or interfering with the rights or established institutions of the States, but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution, with the rights and equality under it unimpaired, and that as soon as these objects shall be accomplished the war ought to cease." And that by relying upon the assurances given under the sanctity of official oaths, this State freely, fully and without delay or conditions, contributed to the assistance of the Federal Government her sons and her means.

2d. That this State, having waited for the redemption of the sacred pledges of the President and Congress with a patience and forbearance only equaled in degree by the unfaltering and unswerving bravery and fidelity of her sons, conceives it to be her solemn duty, as it is her unquestioned right, to urge upon the President and Congress, in the most respectful but decided manner, the redemption of the pledges under which the troops of this State entered upon, and to this moment have continued in the contest; and inasmuch as no conditions have delayed, nor hesitation marked her zeal in behalf of the Federal Government, even at times when party dogmas were dangerously usurping the place of Executive and Congressional faith and broad national principles; and as the devotion of this State to the sacred cause of perpetuating the Union and maintaining the Constitution has been untainted in any degree by infidelity, bigotry, sectionalism, or partisanship, she now, in view of the faith originally plighted, of the disasters and disgrace that have marked the steps of a changed and changing policy, and of the imminent dangers that threaten our national existence, urges upon the President and Congress a return and adherence to the original policy of the administration, as the only means, under the blessing of God, by which the adhering States can be reunited in action, the Union restored, and the nation saved.

3d. That it is the deliberate sense of the people of this State, that the war power within the limits of the Constitution is ample for any and all emergencies, and that all assumptions of power under whatever plea, beyond that conferred by the Constitution, is without warrant or authority, and, if permitted to continue without remonstrance, will finally encompass the destruction of the liberties of the People and the death of the Republic, and therefore, to the end that in any event, the matured and deliberate sense of the people of New Jersey may be known and declared, we their Representatives, in Senate and General Assembly convened, do, in their name and in their behalf, make unto the Federal Government, this, our solemn protest, against a war waged with the insurgent States for the accomplishment of any unconstitutional or partisan purposes; against a war which has for its object the subjugation of any of the States with a view to their reduction to territorial condition; against proclamations from any source, by which, under the plea of "military necessity," persons in States and Territories sustaining the Federal Government, and beyond necessary military lines, are liable to the rigor and severity of Military Law; against the domination of the military over the civil law in States, Territories or Districts not in a state of insurrection; against all arrests without warrant; against the suspension of the writ of Habeas Corpus in States and Territories sustaining the Federal Government, "where the public safety does not require it," and against the assumption of power by any person to suspend such writ, except under the express authority of Congress; against the creation of new States by the division of existing ones, or in any other manner not clearly authorized by the Constitution, and against the right of Secession as practically admitmitted by the action of Congress, in admitting as a new State a portion of the State of Virginia; against the confiscation and seizure of property without judicial process; against the power assumed in the proclamation of the President made January 1, 1863, by which all the slaves in certain states and parts of states are forever set free; and against the expenditure of the public moneys for the emancipation of slaves, or their support at any time under any pretence whatever; against any and every exercise of power upon the part of the Federal Government, that is not clearly given and expressed in the Federal Constitution, reasserting that "the powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

4th. That the unequalled promptness with which New Jersey has responded to every call made by the President and Congress for men and means has been occasioned by no lurking animosity to the States of the South, or the rights of her people; no disposition to wrest from them any of their rights, privileges or property, but simply to assist in maintaining, as she has ever believed, and now believes it to be her duty to do, the supremacy of the Federal Constitution; and, whilst abating naught in her devotion to the union of the States, and the dignity and power of the Federal Government, at no time since the commencement of the present war has this State been other than willing to terminate, peacefully and honorably to all, a war unnecessary in its origin, fraught with horror and suffering in its prosecution, and necessarily dangerous to all in its continuance.

5th. That whilst these amicable views are entertained and frankly expressed, and whilst under certain circumstances the State of New Jersey would deem it not only her high privilege, but imperative duty to suggest plans of peaceful settlement, yet in view of the spirit of the recent message of the President of the Confederate States, as well as the more emphatic expressions of the leading public journals of the South, it is not only inexpedient at the present time to suggest plans, but until some assurance may be given that such efforts would not be misconstrued, but would be accepted by the South as a means of settlement honorable alike to both contending parties, we believe that such suggestions would not be consistent with our spirit as a people or our dignity as a State.

Which were read, ordered to be printed, and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

Resolved, That as the present war has been inaugurated by the States in rebellion, without just cause or provocation, the first propositions for peace should come from them.

Resolved, That we, the undersigned loyal citizens of the township of Hohokus, Bergen county, do earnestly pray the honorable the Legislature of the State of New Jersey, not to disgrace the loyal people of the State—and particularly of the county of Bergen—by passing the above named resolutions, introduced into your honorable body by the Hon. WHEREAS, Our government is now engaged in a struggle for the perpetuation of every right dear to us as American freemen, and which requires the united efforts of all true and loyal men to sustain and uphold it, and having beheld with deep regret and sorrow of heart, the bitter feelings of partizanship which have been manifested by many in our own State, the tendency of which is to frustrate the plans of the constituted authorities of the government, and aid those attempting its overthrow—therefore be it Resolved, By the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That we deeply sympathize with President Lincoln in his efforts to arrest the unnatural uprising of the Southern States, against the government of the people, and extend to him our hearty support in all measures he may think necessary to put it down, believing, as we do, that he is a pure patriot and an honest man, and will not sacrifice the rights of the humblest member of this great government unnecessarily.

Resolved, That in extending to the government our support, we are deeply and feelingly in earnest, knowing that there can be but two parties in this matter, one that stands by the government and its constituted authorities in preserving, protecting, and defending the Constitution, and the other which opposes every measure which the government thinks necessary to accomplish that end; and that we hold him an enemy to his country who, in this struggle for our national life, offers factious opposition to the constituted authorities of the land.

Resolved, That we hold the State rights doctrines of the Calhoun school of politics as destructive of the Constitution, and the fruitful cause of rebellion.

Mr. Scudder, Chairman of the Joint Committee on Federal Relations, presented as the Report of the Committee the following

Senate Joint Resolutions No, 3, entitled

Joint Resolutions relative to National Affairs."

Resolved, That the Legislature of the State of New Jersey believes that the appointment of Commissioners upon the part of the Federal Government to meet commissioners similarly appointed by the insurgent States, to convene at some suitable place, for the purpose of considering whether any, and if any, what plan may be adopted, consistent with the honor and dignity of the Federal Government, by which the present civil war may be brought to a close, is not inconsistent with the integrity, honor and dignity of the Federal Government, but as an indication of the spirit which animates the adhering States, would, in any event, tend to strengthen us in the opinion of other nations; and, hoping, as we sincerely do, that the Southern States would reciprocate the peaceful indications thus evinced, and believing as we do that, under the blessing of God, great benefits would arise from such a conference, we most earnestly recommend the subject to the consideration of the government of the United States, and request its co-operation therein.

Resolved, That his excellency the governor, be requested to furnish copies of these resolutions to the government of the United States, our senators and representatives in Congress, and to the governors and legislators of our sister states, with the request that they give the subject proposed their serious and immediate attention.

Resolved, That the state of New Jersey pledges itself to such prompt action upon the subject of these resolutions, as will give them practical effect immediately upon the concurrence or co-operation of the government and of the legislators of sister states.

Also, Senate Joint Resolutions No. 2, amended as follows:

The committee also reported the following series of joint resolutions (being those of Senator Randolph somewhat amended):

1. BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That this state in promptly answering the calls made by the President of the United States, at and since the inauguration of the war, for troops and means to assist in maintaining the power and dignity of the federal government, believed and confided in the professions and declarations of the President of the United States, in his inaugural address, and by a sincere and patriotic concurrence in the resolutions passed by Congress on the twenty-fifth day of July, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, in which, among other things, it was declared "that the war is not waged for conquest or subjugation, or interfering with the rights or established institutions of the states, but to maintain and defend the supremacy of the constitution, with the rights and equality under it unimpaired, and that as soon as these objects shall be accomplished the war ought to cease;" and that, relying upon these assurances, given under the sanctity of official oaths, this state freely, fully and without delay or conditions, contributed to the assistance of the federal government her sons and her means.

2. Resolved, That this state having waited for the redemption of the sacred pledges of the President and Congress with a patience and forbearance only equaled in degree by the unfaltering and unswerving bravery and fidelity of her sons, conceives it to be her solemn duty, as it is her unquestioned right, to urge upon the President and Congress, in the most respectful but decided manner, the redemption of the pledges under which the troops of this state entered upon and to this moment have continued in the contest; and inasmuch as no conditions have delayed, nor hesitation marked her zeal in behalf of the federal government, even at times when party dogmas were dangerously usurping the place of broad national principles and executive and congressional faith; and as the devotion of this state to the sacred cause of perpetuating the Union and maintaining the constitution has been untainted in any degree by infidelity, bigotry, sectionalism or partisanship, she now, in view of the faith originally plighted, of the disasters and disgrace that have marked the steps of a changed and changing policy, and of the imminent dangers that threaten our national existence, urges upon the President and Congress a return and adherence to the original policy of the administration, as the only means, under the blessing of God, by which the adhering states can be reunited in action, the Union restored and the nation saved.

3. Resolved, That it is the deliberate sense of the people of this state that the war power within the limits of the constitution is ample for any and all emergencies, and that all assumptions of power, under whatever plea, beyond that conferred by the constitution, is without warrant or authority, and if permitted to continue without remonstrance, will finally encompass the destruction of the liberties of the people and the death of the republic; and therefore to the end that in any event the matured and deliberate sense of the people of New Jersey may be known and declared, we, their representatives in Senate and General Assembly convened, do in their name and in their behalf, make unto the federal government this our solemn

PROTEST

Against a war waged with the insurgent states for the accomplishment of unconstitutional or partisan purposes;

Against a war which has for its object the subjugation of any of the states, with a view to their reduction to territorial condition;

Against proclamations from any source by which, under the plea of "military necessity," persons in states and territories sustaining the federal government, and beyond necessary military lines, are held liable to the rigor and severity of military law;

Against the domination of the military over the civil law in states, territories, or districts not in a state of insurrection;

Against all arrests without warrant—against the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus in states and territories sustaining the federal government, "where the public safety does not require it"—and against the assumption of power by any person to suspend such writ, except under the express authority of Congress;

Against the creation of new states by the division of existing ones, or in any other manner not clearly authorized by the constitution, and against the right of secession, as practically admitted by the action of Congress in admitting as a new state a portion of the state of Virginia;

Against the power assumed in the proclamation of the President made January one, eighteen hundred and sixty-three, by which all the slaves in certain states and parts of states are forever set free—and against the expenditure of the public moneys for the emancipation of slaves or their support at any time, under any pretense whatever;

Against any and every exercise of power upon the part of the federal government that is not clearly given and expressed in the federal constitution—reasserting that "the powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the states, are reserved to the states respectively, or to the people;"

Resolved, That the unequaled promptness with which New Jersey has responded to every call made by the President and Congress for men and means, has been occasioned by no lurking animosity to the states of the south or the rights of her people; no disposition to wrest from them any of their rights, privileges or property, but simply to assist in maintaining, as she has ever believed and now believes it to be her duty to do, the supremacy of the federal constitution; and while abating naught in her devotion to the union of the states and the dignity and power of the federal government, at no time since the commencement of the present war has this state been other than willing to terminate peacefully and honorably to all, a war unnecessary in its origin, fraught with horror and suffering in its prosecution, and necessarily dangerous to the liberties of all in its continuance.

Which were read and ordered to have a second reading.

Mr. Buckley, from the same Committee, presented as the report of the minority on the same subject, the following:

The undersigned members of the joint committee on federal relations, to whom were referred resolutions pertaining to national affairs, ask leave respectfully to state, that we cannot concur with the majority of the committee in recommending for your approval the resolutions accompanying their report. We believe that their adoption will inflict serious injury upon the national cause, and bring unmerited reproach upon the people of our state. We are constrained to declare that we believe them to be unwarranted by the expression of opinion and feeling which the people of New Jersey have heretofore made, partisan and unjust in their censures of the national administration—failing in patriotic fidelity to the cause of the Union—and calculated by their spirit and terms to weaken its friends and to encourage and strengthen its foes.

Entertaining such an estimate of their character, and probable effect, we earnestly deprecate their passage by your honorable bodies, and desire, with becoming respect, to place with them on the record our unqualified dissent.

The undersigned beg leave to offer in their stead the following joint resolutions, and respectfully recommend their adoption.

BENJ. BUCKLEY,
AMZI DODD,
EDWIN SALTER.

And also, Senate Joint Resolutions No. 4, entitled

Joint Resolutions relative to National Affairs."

BE IT RESOLVED, by the Senate and General Assembly of the state of New Jersey, That we reaffirm and adopt so much of the resolutions passed May, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, by a unanimous vote in the Senate and General Assembly of New Jersey, as follows:

Resolved, That the preservation of the national Union and constitution in their full integrity and power is the only effectual protection of the small states against the encroachments and ambition of their more powerful neighbors; and that it is more especially a matter of vital importance to New Jersey, with her large line of coast, and situated between two states, empires of themselves—which would render us comparatively powerless in any encroachments upon our rights of soil and jurisdiction.

Resolved, That while we disclaim all desire or willingness to make war upon the people of the South, except necessary for the single purpose of maintaining the Union, the Constitution and the laws, and while we pledge ourselves to defend their constitutional rights and interests at all times and under all circumstances, with the zeal and energy with which we will uphold the national power and aid in the prompt punishment of all traitors, yet, firmly believing that the preservation of our national Union is the only security for the rights, liberties and power of our own people, and the great hope of oppressed humanity throughout the world, we call upon the national government to put forth at once every energy of which it is capable, to preserve the national Union and enforce obedience to the laws of the land in every point of the Union—being inflexibly resolved that Bunker Hill and Mount Vernon, New York and New Orleans, shall never be dissevered; and believing, from the teaching of all history, that the most certain and speedy way of restoring peace, is by the most vigorous prosecution of the present war.

Resolved, That while we reaffirm the foregoing resolutions and declare our conviction that no causes have arisen since their original adoption to modify the opinions and purposes therein expressed, we do yet most earnestly desire, and should hail with thanksgiving to God the attainment of an honorable and permanent peace. But despite such desire, we can see no conditions on which such a peace can be had except those that shall follow an uncompromising submission on the part of the rebels to the rightful and beneficent sovereignty of the federal government.

Resolved, That however humane may be the motives that prompt the suggestion of plans for securing peace, we believe that such plans, if not clearly and unequivocally based on the uncompromising submission aforesaid, do plainly and necessarily involve either, first, the willingness of those who propose them to acknowledge as a separate nation the rebel states now in arms if they shall demand nothing less, or, second, such compromises or concessions as will be equivalent to the conquest, by the rebellion, of the national government and its consequent hopeless dissolution.

Resolved, That the acceptance by the loyal people of the states of either of the alternatives named would be a sacrifice of their honor, their welfare, and their most sacred obligations, and ought to be opposed to the last with their utmost resources and power.

Resolved, That we believe the present war to be conducted by the President as Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy, with the sole purpose and aim to support, protect, and defend the Constitution. That to this end he is bound by his oath to use all the measures and means not forbidden by the laws of civilized war. That it is his prerogative and duty to decide upon and select such measures and means, and that differences of opinion relating to their practical wisdom will not be urged by a free and intelligent people to weaken his efforts and defeat the end in view.

Resolved, That the nature and limits of the powers belonging to the executive and Legislative departments of our national government can only be determined when questioned by its judicial tribunals, and that their assumed decision by this legislature, especially at so critical and momentous a period of our history will be in derogation of the known conservative character of our state and fraught with none but evil results.

Resolved, That New Jersey will respond in the future as she has done in the past, to every call of the federal government for co-operation and aid; that regarding with gratitude and pride the gallant conduct of the thirty thousand of her sons, who have enlisted in this war, she holds the sufferings they have borne, the blood they have shed and the lives they have given up as the consecrated pledges of her renewed and unchangeable devotion to the Constitution and the Union.

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing resolutions be sent by the governor of this state to the president, to each of our senators and representatives in Congress and to the governors of the several states.

Mr. Robbins, of the Special Committee on State Prison affairs, presented the following report:

The Honorable, the Senate of New Jersey:

The undersigned, one of a Special Committee to whom was referred the memorial of the Messrs. Bigelow, in regard to alleged disorder and inefficiency in the management of the State Prison, beg leave, respectfully, to report

That for the purpose of performing the duties assigned to him, in connection with a similar Committee appointed by the House of Assembly, gave the complainants due notice that said Committee would hold a session at Trenton, on Monday, March 9, 1863, which session was held at the State Prison, and examined in presence of both complainants and defendant the following named witnesses:—C. D. Bigelow, H. B. Bigelow, Jos. L. Wright, Thomas Welsh, Cayler S. Kates, Reuben Pownell, A. D. White, and Dr. T. J. Corson, for the complaint; Daniel Heald, Henry T. Steenard, Peter Nerney, P. S. Garretson, P. L. Clearman, I. Q. Carman, and the Hon. Michael Taylor, for the defense.

After a laborious session of five hours, during which great latitude of evidence was permitted to the memorialists, and after carefully weighing the evidence presented, the Committee have come to the conclusion that the allegations in the memorial in reference to disorder, want of system, and lack of discipline in the institution, have not been sustained by the evidence adduced; but, that on the contrary, the action of the present Keeper, Mr. Hoagland, appears to have been in the main creditable and proper.

Your Committee beg leave to add to this other matters which are collateral to the main subject in their charge. By evidence of the party himself, it appears that Mr. C. D. Bigelow at one time offered Mr. Hoagland one hundred dollars as an inducement for the latter to secure increased shop room for the contractors, and although Mr. Bigelow disclaims any improper intent in the tender thereof, the proffer bears on its face an unfavorable construction, and calls for marked censure.

Your Committee would further remark that the present price under the contract with the Messrs. Bigelow is too little; that the labor of the men is worth more than twenty cents per day during the first six months and thirty-one cents per day thereafter; and that the State Prison Inspectors should inquire if the contract between Messrs. Bigelow and the State is voidable by its infraction or otherwise, and if so, to cause it to be cancelled without delay.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

AMOS ROBBINS.

Which was read and adopted.

A message was received from His Excellency, the Governor, as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, March 16, 1863.

Gentlemen of the Senate and General Assembly:

In the message which the late Governor submitted to the Legislature at the commencement of the present session, he recommends that provision be made for the continuance of compensation to the Adjutant-General and Quartermaster-General of this State. Action in response to this recommendation has been delayed, as I am informed, because the question as to their right to compensation, under existing laws, has been pending before the Supreme Court,—the recent decision of that question by the Court renders additional Legislation necessary.

I therefore call your attention to this subject, and recommend that the Legislature pass an act giving compensation to the Adjutant-General and Quartermaster-General respectively, commencing on the 15th day of April last, that being the time to which they have been paid by virtue of an act entitled "An Act providing compensation to the Adjutant-General and Quartermaster-General for active services," approved February 20, 1862. I have no suggestions to make as to the amount of compensation these officers should receive. My predecessor, who had opportunity to know the important services rendered by them, recommended that the same rate of compensation as was provided by the act of last year, be continued. He says "The duties of the Quartermaster-General and Adjutant-General have rather been increased than diminished during the last year." An inspection of the accounts and papers on file in their offices, will afford ample evidence that a great amount of labor has been performed, requiring constant attention, and involving great responsibility.

During the brief period in which I have had occasion to observe the business connected with their offices, I have become satisfied that their several departments are thoroughly systemized, and that the experience and business qualifications of the incumbents are of much value to the State.

JOEL PARKER.

WHEREAS, efforts are making for partisan purposes to produce the impression that a portion of the people of the state of New Jersey intend to resist, by force, the execution of certain recent acts of the Congress of the United States, instead of testing their validity by the customary legal and constitutional means; and whereas, such efforts are calculated to misrepresent the sentiments of the people of this state, produce discord, and endanger the peace of the community; therefore,

1. BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate of the State of New Jersey, (the House of Assembly concurring), That there is no evidence to sustain any impression sought to be created that any portion of the people of the state of New Jersey intend to offer forcible resistance to the execution of those laws, and that all efforts, by whatever means attempted, to strengthen a political party by assuming that their opponents intend to inaugurate civil war, are fraught with danger to the peace of this state.

2. And be it Resolved, That the people of the state of New Jersey are a law-abiding people, and ardently devoted to a union of all the states, and while they may condemn and protest against certain laws as unconstitutional and unjust, yet, until repealed or declared by a competent tribunal to be unconstitutional, they will regard them as laws, and will confidently look to the courts and the ballot box for redress.
