CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

New Jersey's gaming industry exhibited its resilience during the COVID pandemic—the most trying period in its history. Thanks in no small part to its strong and resourceful workforce, the industry successfully weathered a shutdown of its casino hotels that lasted more than three months during the first half of 2020. Upon reopening, the industry adapted to ongoing public health restrictions. It was responsive to customers' concerns. And it demonstrated convincingly that tourism in general, and live gaming in particular, could resume safely.

The solid efforts we all witnessed in 2020 enabled Atlantic City to reestablish its previous positive momentum by early 2021. In those less-than-certain times, casual observers may rightfully have thought a conservative business approach would be most prudent. Instead, the industry recognized a ripe opportunity. It doubled-down on Atlantic City.

In 2021, the industry made more than $220 million in capital improvements, the highest one-year total spent on operating casino hotels since 2008. Exciting new bars and restaurants, inviting hotel room renovations, appealing spa upgrades, and innovative gaming attractions topped the list of improvements. These important investments will help Atlantic City attract and retain today's discerning gaming and leisure tourists—to ensure the market remains competitive, well into the future. Since 1978, the industry has invested $18.7 billion in its Atlantic City properties.

“In 2021, the industry made more than $220 million in capital improvements... the highest one-year total since 2008.”

As COVID restrictions eased in 2021 and consumer demand for in-person experiences began to return, Atlantic City was ready. The positive outcome was plain to see.

“Atlantic City's total gaming revenue topped $4 billion for the first time since 2008.”

In-person gaming, often referred to as “brick and mortar,” enjoyed its second-best summer in ten years. By year-end, total casino win exceeded 2020's results and achieved more than 95% of what it was in pre-pandemic 2019, with growth accelerating.

Atlantic City's total gaming revenue topped $4 billion for the first time since 2008 and increased more than 28% compared to pre-pandemic 2019. Internet gaming win and sports wagering revenue both reached record levels in 2021.

In comparison to 2019, gross operating profits grew $173 million, an improvement of more than 29%. Net revenue eclipsed $3 billion, achieving 97% of its pre-pandemic level. In the fourth quarter alone, net revenue improved more than 5%—further revealing the casinos closed out the year with positive momentum.

“Public confidence and trust grow when prosperity is shared.”

Investor confidence in Atlantic City’s potential has continued unabated. During 2021, the Commission held virtual hearings and issued a casino license to Premier Entertainment, LLC to own and operate Bally’s Atlantic City. The Commission also qualified Premier’s parent company, Bally’s Corporation, previously known as Twin River Worldwide Holdings, Inc., and other affiliated companies.

In another matter, the Commission held virtual hearings and granted Interim Casino Authorization to OCR Investment, LLC, which is controlled by the Ilitch Family, as a holding company of Ocean Casino Resort.

These virtual hearings as well as the Commission’s online public meetings continued to be highly effective and well-received by participants and other members of the public, exemplifying the Commission’s mission—to promote public confidence and trust in the credibility and integrity of the gaming industry. In no small measure, public confidence and trust has been achieved and strengthened through the transparency that this Commission strives to provide.

“Internet gaming win and sports wagering revenue both reached record levels in 2021.”

Public confidence and trust grow when prosperity is shared. Thanks to landmark legislation enacted by Governor Murphy in 2020, the opportunities and benefits of casino employment are now available to people who have successfully exited the criminal justice system and graduated from recovery court. The Commission, through participation in over 40 community events as of this writing, is fulfilling its statutorily mandated role to coordinate with reentry organizations and provide affected individuals with casino employment information. We are helping to strengthen the community by reaching well-qualified workers who help address the industry’s growing employment needs while they build new lives for themselves and their families.

This year, an important milestone was also reached in one of the original commitments of legalized casino gaming—providing critical funds for programs that benefit New Jersey’s senior and disabled populations. The industry’s support of these programs surpassed $11 billion since inception—a reminder of the industry’s vitality and the substantial contribution it has made to the general welfare, health, and prosperity of the State and its inhabitants.

Emerging from the pandemic, the industry has made the right investments. It has laid a strong foundation on which to build in the coming years, and bolstered optimism that Atlantic City is moving in the right direction.

Very truly yours,

James T. Plousis
Chairman

COMMISSION MEMBERS

James T. Plousis
Chairman

Chairman Plousis is a veteran public service and law enforcement professional well known for his leadership skills. He was sworn in as the eighth chairman of the Commission on December 26, 2017. He has reinvigorated the Commission’s vision as a “key partner and catalyst in promoting the general welfare, health and prosperity of New Jersey”, and has continued his strong track record of identifying and implementing efficiencies.

Plousis presided over licensing hearings for both the Hard Rock Hotel and Casino and Ocean Casino Resort during his first year as chairman. He works with veteran groups to develop opportunities that link unemployed veterans with job opportunities in the casino industry. His vast experience includes serving as the chairman for the State Parole Board, as United States Marshal for New Jersey, and as sheriff of Cape May County for six terms. He coordinated two of the largest Fugitive Safe Surrender Programs in the nation and was the U.S. Marshals’ Service Liaison for New Orleans during Hurricane Katrina.

As chairman of the State Parole Board, Plousis partnered with government, non-profit and private agencies to connect ex-prisoners with vocational, mental health, and other key services. He also spearheaded efforts to address the needs of veterans in the criminal justice system.

Alisa Cooper was appointed as a commissioner in August 2012 by Governor Chris Christie to complete an unexpired term. She was appointed in December 2014 to a full five-year term and reappointed by Governor Phil Murphy to a second full term in June 2021.

Cooper joined the Commission during a very challenging time for gaming in Atlantic City. Her vast experience, long history of involvement in the region, and enthusiasm for Atlantic City's strong potential have guided her contributions to major decisions that have provided economic growth, job creation, revitalization, and improved the Atlantic City experience for residents and visitors alike.

Cooper was born and raised in Atlantic City and is an alumna of Atlantic City High School. After earning her degree in Music Education from the University of Maryland, she returned to her home town and enjoyed several decades in the music and entertainment business, owning Alisa Cooper Orchestras. Mollineaux's long service to the community is well known. She served as president of the Atlantic City Citizen Advisory Board from 2019 to 2021. Hearings and Appeals

The Casino Control Commission (Commission) is the independent licensing authority of New Jersey's casinos and its key employees. As a quasi-judicial panel, the Commission conducts hearings on contested casino key employee license matters as well as appeals from decisions of, or penalties imposed by, the Division of Gaming Enforcement (Division).

The Commission is comprised of up to three members, appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the State Senate. Commissioners serve staggered, five-year terms and can only be removed for cause. By law, no more than two Commissioners can be of the same political party, a requirement that provides political balance on the panel.

The success and ongoing viability of the gaming industry remains inextricably linked to the public's confidence that the State of New Jersey will ensure that people in the industry possess good character, honesty and integrity. Stewardship over that public confidence is a principal responsibility of the Commission and its Chairman.

The Commission's regulatory efforts through the years have helped create an environment in which New Jersey's casinos can prosper and from which the citizens of New Jersey benefit. With proper regulatory controls, the industry serves as a catalyst to create economic benefits for Atlantic City, the Greater Atlantic City Region, and the entire State of New Jersey.

The Commission holds regular public meetings to consider and render decisions upon applications for licensure and related determinations after consideration of all pertinent information and filings including the investigative results and recommendations of the Division.

¹Sports Wagering Gross Revenue is not win and is maintained on a cash basis. Monthly Sports Wagering Revenue reflects the sum of all wagers ("handle"), less only the payouts on winning wagers. The deduction for payouts is limited to only "completed events" for the month and redeemed winning tickets. Wagers made on a "future event" are included in Sports Wagering Revenue in the month the wager was made, but payouts are deducted after the event is held and winning wagers redeemed. On a monthly basis, Sports Wagering Gross Revenue may be volatile due to "uncompleted events" and unredeemed winning tickets.

Founded in 2002, the African American Heritage Museum of Southern New Jersey (AAHMSNJ) boasts an impressive collection of items that show African Americans in a historical context, including graphics, drawings, paintings, memorabilia, advertisements, household and decorative items. Permanent exhibits in Atlantic City's Noyes Arts Garage and in Newtonville provide a visual and visceral understanding of how the African American culture has changed over the centuries. A traveling exhibit with over 12,000 historical and cultural artifacts is displayed at schools and in the community. The museum is also committed to shining a light on local artists whose extraordinary work may otherwise go unseen. In 2022, AAHMSNJ marks its 20th anniversary documenting the struggle of one group of Americans as they carved out their own place in the wider cultural landscape.

CASINO REVENUE FUND

Funding is generated through five casino related taxes and five casino related fees. New Jersey casinos pay the state the following taxes: 15% on Internet gross revenues (excluding sports wagering); 8% on casino gross revenues; 8.5% on sports wagering gross revenue; and 13% on Internet sports wagering gross revenue. Taxes from gross revenues are appropriated to the Casino Revenue Fund (CRF) for the benefit of New Jersey’s aged and disabled citizens. Specific appropriations are detailed on the Casino Revenue Fund Advisory Commission’s website. Gross gaming revenue is the amount won from gamblers after all payouts are made. For the purpose of calculating taxable gross revenue, casino licensees received an annual deduction, at a rate of 8%, for casino, Internet, and sports wagering promotional gaming credits redeemed by patrons in excess of $90 million.

The responsibility for administering these taxes and fees resides with the Division of Gaming Enforcement, Division of Taxation, and the Casino Control Commission.

- Gross Revenue Tax includes audit assessments, penalties, interest, and other adjustments. In December 2021, the Casino Control Act was amended to allow for a one-year industry wide $18.1 million credit against the 8% Gross Revenue Tax in monthly installments (March 2022 through February 2023).
- Casino Parking Fee: Casinos remit a fee of $3.00 per day for each occupied casino parking space. In FY 21, $0.50 of the parking fee revenue was allocated to the CRF and $2.50 was allocated to the Casino Reinvestment Development Authority (CRDA) for statutorily restricted projects and the benefit of Atlantic City.
- Casino Room Fee: Casinos remit $3.00 per day for each occupied hotel room. In FY 21, $1.00 was allocated to the CRDA and $2.00 was allocated to the CRF with a portion used to fund debt service on hotel expansion bonds.
- Multi-Casino Progressive Slot Tax: An 8% tax on casino service industry enterprise multi-casino progressive slot revenue.
- Expired Obligations: Casinos remit a percentage of each expired gaming obligation and a percentage of each unclaimed sports pool wager.
- Forfeited Winnings: Winnings of underage gamblers or excluded persons are subject to forfeiture. Forfeitures under $100,000 are split equally between CRF and compulsive gambling programs. For forfeitures over $100,000, compulsive gambling programs receive $50,000 and the balance is allocated to the CRF.
- Fines: The first $600,000 in penalties collected each fiscal year is paid to the General Fund for compulsive gambling programs and any remainder is allocated to the CRF.
