4th Annual Event Examines the Future of Real Estate in Northern New Jersey

Trenton, NJ – Applauding the attendees' work to strengthen New Jersey's real estate market, Lt. Governor Kim Guadagno joined Bisnow Media this morning for its 4th annual Northern New Jersey State of the Market.

"I spend so much of my time bringing businesses here, and it's great to speak to the people who help our companies and their employees find a place to call home," said Lt. Governor Guadagno. "It all comes back to making New Jersey a place where businesses want to be and where families want to live. Whether it is JPMorgan creating a new hub and 1,000 jobs in Jersey City, or Megas Yeeros expanding from Greece to Lyndhurst with 110 new jobs, we keep improving the northern New Jersey market, and that is thanks to those in attendance today."

Northern New Jersey State of the Market welcomes key executives and experts to network and discuss the state of the real estate market in northern New Jersey. A panel of industry leaders shared their views on up-and-coming neighborhoods, rising trends and opportunities for growth.

"Bisnow is thrilled to highlight the new developments, emerging submarkets, and economic trends of the real estate market in Northern New Jersey," said Max Hamilton, Bisnow Media Event Producer. "We're honored to have Lt. Governor Guadagno join us to speak about economic development throughout the state."

Founded in 2005, Bisnow Media is a multi-platform digital media company that produces e-newsletters and live events covering topics such as real estate, technology and business in 27 metropolitan markets across the country. More information is available on Bisnow's website at <https://www.bisnow.com/>.

Last June, Lt. Governor Guadagno joined JPMorgan Chase for the ribbon cutting of its new Technology and Operations hub, a project that retained more than 2,000 jobs and created 1,000 new jobs. Earlier this month, the Lt. Governor celebrated Megas Yeeros' expansion into the United States with the grand opening of its new headquarters and production center, which will create approximately 110 new jobs. Since January 2010, the New Jersey Partnership for Action has assisted in the retention and attraction of 250 businesses in the northern half of the state, creating more than 27,000 jobs, retaining more than 38,000 jobs and spurring $9.9 billion in public/private investment.
