Mr. Taylor having received a majority of all the votes cast, was declared by the President pro tempore duly elected President of the Senate for the ensuing year, and was conducted to the chair by Senators Banghart and Irick.

Upon taking the chair, the President addressed the Senate as follows:

SENATORS:—I thank you most profoundly for the distinguished honor you have done me in electing me to preside over your deliberations. While appreciating the honors incident to this high position, I am by no means insensible of its heavy responsibilities and duties—duties, the proper discharge of which presuppose and require a thorough comprehension and mastery, not only of our own rules, but also of the principles and details of the great and complex code of parliamentary law, together with the ready and skillful application of those rules and principles to the ever varying and unforeseen exigencies of legislative proceedings.

Where so few excel, I may well be self-distrustful, especially in view of the fact that I immediately succeed, and am brought into comparison with, one who for two trying sessions fulfilled the exacting duties of this chair in such a manner as to compel your admiration and elicit your applause.

I therefore bespeak, and shall rely upon your indulgence and forbearance, promising you in return my best endeavors and assuring you that such rules as you may adopt for your government, shall be administered faithfully and impartially, yet courteously, and I shall not forget, that while those rules are designed "to subserve the will of the assembly, rather than to restrain it; to facilitate, and not to obstruct, the expression of its deliberate sense," they are at the same time intended as a wholesome "check and control on the actions of the majority," and a shelter and protection to the minority against the attempts of power.

The Senate then proceeded to the election of a Secretary.

Mr. Irick nominated John F. Babcock, of the county of Middlesex.

In order to legislate intelligently upon financial measures, the sources of revenue and the objects of disbursement of these several funds should be understood.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE FUND.

The income of the Agricultural College Fund is derived from the proceeds of landscrip donated to New Jersey by act of Congress of July 2, 1862, for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts. The sum of one hundred and sixteen thousand dollars was obtained by sale of the scrip, and has been invested in State bonds, which are held in trust by the Treasurer. On the fourth day of April, 1864, the Legislature passed an act directing payment of the interest of moneys resulting from the sale of the landscrip, to the trustees of Rutgers College, to be devoted to maintaining, in the department known as the Scientific School, such courses of instruction as should carry out the intent of the act of Congress. The annual interest thereof, amounting to six thousand nine hundred and sixty dollars, is received by the State Treasurer, and paid by him semi-annually to the trustees of Rutgers College for the purpose before designated. It will be observed that the income and disbursements of this fund are and must continue to be the same in amount.

SCHOOL FUND.

In the year 1816, the Legislature first made provision for a School Fund. During that year it amounted to only fifteen thousand dollars, but in the year 1817 it more than doubled, and has since steadily increased until the value of its investments exceeds eight hundred thousand dollars. The fund is securely loaned, and by constitutional provision the principal and all appropriations to augment it, shall remain perpetually dedicated to free school education, for the equal benefit of all the people of the State.

The securities now belonging to the School Fund are as follows, viz.:

Bonds secured by Mortgage,	$384,313 43
Bonds of Railroad Companies,	199,000 00
State Bonds,	67,000 00
City Bonds,	15,000 00
County Bonds,	8,000 00
United States Bonds,	7,000 00
Township and School Districts Bonds,	6000 00

Stock of Railroad Companies, - - - - -	35,5000 00

Add balance in Bank to credit of this fund, Oct. 31, 1872, - - - - - - - - -	60,377 34
	$792,190 77
The State Fund owes School Fund, - -	75,000 00
Total securities and moneys of School Fund, Oct. 31, 1872, - - - - - - - -	$867,190 77

The Governor, President of the Senate, Speaker of Assembly, Attorney General, Secretary of State and Comptroller are entrusted with this fund, together with accumulations thereto, for the purpose of investment. By virtue of recent enactments, all moneys arising from the sale and rental of land under water belonging to the State, are required to be paid into the School Fund. From this source, during the last fiscal year, there was received by the School Fund in cash and securities, which were proceeds of such grants and rentals, the sum of one hundred and sixty-three thousand two hundred and ninety-four dollars and sixty-three cents. Should this policy be continued, the School Fund will be rapidly increased. Applications already made for grants and leases, and now under consideration, will produce the interest of a sum larger than that received from this source during the past year.

The cash receipts of the School Fund during the fiscal year (including the special State School tax), were - - - - - -	$1,256,440 23
Balance in Bank to credit of this fund, Oct. 31, 1871, - - - - - - - - -	5,618 83
Total receipts in cash, - - - - -	$1,262,059 06
The disbursements during the same period (including the distribution of special State tax), were - - - - - - - - -	1,201,681 72

WAR FUND.

In the year 1861 the Legislature of this State passed an act entitled "An act authorizing a loan for the purposes of war, to repel invasion, and suppress insurrection, and appropriating the same, and providing for the payment thereof." This was the origin of what is called the War Fund. Under this law bonds were issued to raise money for war purposes. The constitution prohibits the creation of a State debt of more than one hundred thousand dollars, except for purposes of war, to repel invasion or to suppress insurrection, and hence this fund could not be mingled with the State account proper. During the war the principal receipts of the War Fund were from proceeds of State bonds sold, and the disbursements were principally in payment of moneys to families of volunteers and discharged single men, and for advances to the United States government used in raising and equipping troops. It was found necessary after the war closed, to continue the accounts of this fund separate from all others. Although money is no longer raised for this fund by sale of war bonds, the provision to redeem them as they mature, to pay interest on the war loan, and to defray various expenses growing directly out of the late war, must be continued. The income of this fund is now derived from taxes levied under the annual tax law. A part of the moneys assessed and collected is transferred to the War Fund, and the residue is used for State purposes. From the War Fund the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund draw to pay maturing bonds and interest on the war debt, leaving the residue of the annual receipts of the War Fund to be used to support the Home for Disabled Soldiers, the Soldiers' Children's Home, and for other similar objects. The receipts and disbursements of the War Fund during the last year were as follows, viz.:

Receipts.

From State tax of 1871, - - - - -	$376,000 00
Balance in Bank to credit of this Fund, Oct. 31, 1871, - - - - - - - - - -	2,496 70

SINKING FUND.

The act creating the War Fund contemplated a Sinking Fund, but no law authorizing the appointment of commissioners was passed until March 25th, 1864. The distinguished gentlemen who were then appointed Commissioners of the Sinking Fund have been continued in office through all subsequent administrations, and for a compensation so small as to be considered almost nominal, still discharge their responsible duties. These duties have grown so onerous as to require almost constant attention. The investments of money on mortgage are numerous, and great care in investigating title and ascertaining value of the lands offered in security, is required.

At the close of the fiscal year of 1864, there was in the Sinking Fund less than three hundred thousand dollars. On the 31st day of October, 1872, the securities and money in hand belonging to this fund exceeded a million and a quarter of dollars. The following statement represents the condition of the Sinking Fund at the date last mentioned:

Securities on Hand.

State Bonds at par,	$276,400 00
City Bonds at cost,	20,240 00

Add balance in Bank to credit of this Fund, Oct. 31, 1872,	56,804 35
Total,	$1,260,044 35

The receipts and disbursements of the Sinking Fund during the fiscal year of 1872, were as follows, viz.:

Receipts.

State Tax from War Fund,	$271,000 00
Interest on State Bonds and Special Loans,	20,505 37

STATE FUND.

The only remaining topic under the financial head to which I shall at this time call attention, is the State Fund. Through this fund the ordinary monetary transactions of the State are conducted. It demands special consideration, and I will therefore first present fully its present condition, its sources of revenue, and the demands upon it for disbursements, and afterwards suggest some measures of legislation through which these increasing demands may be met.

The securities now in the State Fund and belonging to it are as follows, viz.:

2,887 shares of stock of Joint Companies,	$288,700 00
Bond of United Companies,	500,000 00
Bonds of Joint Companies,	24,000 00
Bond of Jersey City and Bergen Railroad Company,	10,000 00
Bonds of the several counties for surplus revenue of the United States,	764,670 44
Total,	$1,587,370 44

In the year 1836 there was a surplus of revenue in the treasury of the United States, which by virtue of an act of Congress of the 23d day of June of that year, was distributed among the several States. On the 10th day of March, 1837, the Legislature of New Jersey passed a law loaning the money thus received to the counties in the ratio of the State tax paid by each during the then preceding year. The faith of the several counties is pledged for repayment of the money to the State, whenever the same shall be required by the Legislature. In most of the counties the interest of this money is divided among the townships and used towards the support of public schools and it is not probable that the State will ever demand repayment. If the county bonds for surplus revenue, which appear annually in the Treasurer's report among the securities in the State Fund, be deducted as not available for the use of the State, there still remain in this fund assets amounting at par value, to the sum of eight hundred and twenty-two thousand seven hundred dollars that are available, and may be used for any purpose the Legislature shall direct.

The following statement shows the income of the State Fund during the last fiscal year, and the sources whence it was derived:

Disbursements.

The expenditures for the year from the State Fund, (including money paid Library Fund) amount to,	$858,407 21
Balance in bank to credit of this fund, October 31, 1872,	$38,040 38

The items of disbursement from this fund are so numerous, and for so many different objects, as to forbid insertion here, and you are referred for information in reference thereto, to the very full and lucid reports of the Comptroller and Treasurer of the State, herewith transmitted.

Although there was, on the 31st of October last, a balance in bank to the credit of the State Fund of over thirty-eight thousand dollars, yet it was indebted largely to other funds. It owed the School Fund sixty-five thousand dollars, being the amount of the annual appropriation to schools out of the State moneys for the year 1872, and also the further sum of ten thousand dollars, an unpaid balance of appropriation of the preceding year for the same object. It was also indebted in the sum of fifty-nine thousand six hundred and eight dollars to the State Arsenal for moneys received by the Treasurer in the years 1868 and 1871 for arms and equipments sold, which sum was by law directed to be placed to the credit of the arsenal, to be expended for the purchase of arms and ordnance for the use of the militia. The liabilities of the State Fund above mentioned are one hundred and thirty-four thousand six hundred and eight dollars, with about thirty-eight thousand dollars of cash in hand to pay upon the same. To the liabilities of this fund should also be added unpaid balances of appropriations of 1871 and 1872, to the new Lunatic Asylum, of one hundred and eighty-six thousand five hundred and twenty-six dollars and thirty-nine cents, and also an undrawn balance for State House extension of thirty-four thousand dollars, besides other small appropriations.

This condition of the State Fund is due to the fact that former Legislatures have made large special appropriations without providing means of revenue to pay them. During the past year there has been paid out of the State Fund for extraordinary appropriations, some of which were voted in former years, more than two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. It is evident that such unusual demands on the treasury cannot be met by the ordinary revenue of the State. It should be remembered that the State Fund no longer receives as formerly, the moneys arising from the sale or rental of lands under water, and with this source of income cut off, how can it be expected that the Comptroller and Treasurer can meet current expenses and pay large special appropriations unless the Legislature furnish more money to this fund? Your attention is earnestly directed to these facts, that the necessity of promptly making provision to lessen expenditures where practicable, and to increase the revenue of the State Fund, may be understood and realized.

The estimates of the Comptroller prove that this fund will require for ordinary expenses of the current year and payment of past special appropriations, about the sum of nine hundred and fifty thousand dollars, to which should be added three hundred and fifty thousand dollars for the War Fund, making in all about one million three hundred thousand dollars. The income exclusive of taxes is estimated at five hundred and ninety thousand dollars, and with the annual taxes, which at the same rate of assessment will yield a larger sum than heretofore on account of the increased value of ratables returned by the assessors, will amount to about one million one hundred and ninety-four thousand dollars, leaving a little over one hundred thousand dollars to be provided for, exclusive of special appropriations that may be voted at the present session of the Legislature.

The practical question now arises, how shall the income of the State Fund be increased so as to meet necessary demands upon it, without imposing additional burthens on the people? Several methods are suggested, to some of which I will now refer, and leave to the wisdom of the Legislature the selection of the most feasible plan. The addition of one-quarter of a mill to the rate of State taxation upon the basis of the last return of ratables, would produce over one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and this amount with a reduction in some items of expenditure would probably be sufficient. But even this small increase in the rate of taxation should not be resorted to if there be any better mode of relief.

Another plan is to have the moneys hereafter derived from grants of lands under water paid into the State Fund while the large appropriations to the new Lunatic Asylum continue, and until the usual revenue of the State be found adequate. The advanced value of ratables reported by the assessors, will, without increasing the present rate of taxation, swell the school tax to such a sum that the loss for a few years of the amount of interest flowing from the riparian moneys would scarcely be perceptible.

Still another mode of accomplishing the object is to pay less of the annual State taxes into the Sinking Fund, and more into the State Fund. The Sinking Fund could spare over seventy-five thousand dollars of the annual tax received by it, and yet be able to pay accruing interest and principal of all war bonds long before they mature. Should the Sinking Fund continue to draw annually from the State taxes a sum equal to the principal of the bonds falling due each year and the interest on the whole debt, it will with the accumulations from its own investments, in about ten years be so large as to equal the amount of all the then outstanding war bonds. The last of the bonds will not be due until the year 1902, and as it is not probable that the holders of such good securities as New Jersey bonds will part with them before they come due, unless at a premium, the question arises what will be done with the immense sinking fund that would be accumulated in 1883? It would be expensive to manage so large a fund for nearly twenty years. Is it wise to draw from the people by taxation more money than is required to pay the debt as it matures? It should also be remembered that except in a few counties the mortgages given to this fund operate as exemption from all taxes of the lands on which they rest, to the amount of the mortgages.

Should it be deemed best to continue to pay into the Sinking Fund so large an amount of State taxes, that part of the eight hundred thousand dollars' worth of securities now in the State Fund not producing over seven per cent. might be directed to be sold, and thus prevent increased taxation.

Special attention is directed to that part of the able report of the Comptroller which discusses the means of increasing the revenue.

Although experiencing temporary inconvenience from unusual drafts on the treasury, caused chiefly by the State House extension, the purchase of a site for and the work of construction of a great public institution, imperatively demanded by an unfortunate class, yet the foregoing facts give an encouraging view of the financial condition of the State. They demonstrate that we have no State debt on civil account, and that it is within the power of the Sinking Fund, without increase of taxation, to pay the entire war debt in about ten years, and, with the aid of the available securities in the State Fund, in less than seven years. Our State tax, independent of the two mill assessment for schools, is only one mill on the dollar, and nearly one-half of that is used to reduce the war debt.

EDUCATION.

The act to make free the public schools of the State of New Jersey, approved April 6, 1871, has had another year's trial, and in accomplishing the desired result has proved the wisdom of the legislators by whom it was enacted.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Under the former system the support of the public schools depended upon the temper of the annual town meetings, and as this could not be foretold, there was no assurance that the schools would be open any considerable portion of the year. The support given to the schools by the present law is certain and uniform, and therefore they are free throughout the State. During the past year the public schools have been kept open an average of about nine and a half months, which is believed to be more than the average time in any other State. The total number of children between the ages of five and eighteen years, as returned in the school census, is two hundred and seventy-nine thousand one hundred and forty-nine, being an increase in one year of thirteen thousand one hundred and ninety-one. Of these about thirty-five thousand attend private schools. The total enrollment in public schools is one hundred and seventy-eight thousand eight hundred and twenty-six. The number of teachers in the public schools is three thousand and seventy-five, being an increase since the last preceding year of one hundred and forty-four. The value of the school property in the State is estimated at about five millions of dollars. The interesting report of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction will give further information upon this important subject. His statements in reference to irregularity of attendance merit special consideration.

The following gives the amount of money expended in the State for the support of public schools during the last year:

NORMAL SCHOOL.

The law of April 3, 1872, enacted that the school year of the Normal School should thereafter terminate on the last day of June, and therefore the report of the trustees of that institution embraces but three-quarters of the school year. During that time eight hundred and thirty-three pupils have attended the Normal, Model, and Farnum Preparatory Schools, the average daily attendance being six hundred and forty. Every county in this State was represented among the pupils of the Normal School, and from thirteen other States there were scholars who either paid tuition fees, or pledged themselves to teach in the public schools of New Jersey. At the close of the school year thirty-eight pupils were graduated, nearly all of whom are now teaching in this State.

The Normal School was never in a more prosperous condition. A new course of study has recently been introduced, and the standard of scholarship raised. No part of the appropriation for scholarships made by the act approved April 4, 1872, has been drawn from the treasury, and additional legislation is necessary to carry into effect the provisions of that law.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

The course of study in the Scientific Department of the College for Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts extends through a period of four years. There is also provision for students who do not desire to take a full course. These receive certificates of the attainment made in the studies they pursue. On those who complete a full course, whether in civil engineering and mathematics or in chemistry and agriculture, the degree of Bachelor of Science is conferred. The students receive instruction that fits them for the practical work of engineers, surveyors, architects, chemists or farmers.

A hall for the use of the Scientific and Agricultural Departments has recently been finished at a cost of sixty thousand dollars, and other buildings are now in course of erection. The Experimental Farm, containing nearly one hundred acres, and costing about thirty thousand dollars, is used to test various methods of underdraining, fertilizing, cultivation and rotation of crops. The trustees of Rutgers College are executing the trust committed to them in a liberal spirit, and the people are reaping benefits therefrom without cost to the State. During the year fourteen counties have been represented by fifty-three students.

The Agricultural College should be made to contribute to the efficiency of the State Board of Agriculture which has been organized under a law passed at the last session of the Legislature.

DEAF MUTES, ETC.

During the year there was paid to institutions in other States, for the education and maintenance of the deaf and dumb, blind and feeble-minded belonging to this State, the sum of thirty-six thousand five hundred and ninety-six dollars and thirty-nine cents, which is more than four thousand dollars in excess of the expenditure for the same purposes in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-one. It will be necessary to increase the appropriations for these objects. The number of these unfortunate children is rapidly increasing, and before many years it will be necessary to provide asylums for them in our own State. When the Soldiers' Children's Home shall have fulfilled its mission the buildings can be used for some of these beneficiaries.

MILITARY.

The Adjutant General reports that in addition to the other business of his office, he is engaged in compiling a roster history of the men who in the late war enlisted from New Jersey in organizations not connected with this State, and that during the year he obtained the final records of more than one-half of those who enlisted in the Navy and Marine corps, of all who belonged to the First Veteran Army Corps, of all who joined the regiments of other States, and of a large number of New Jersey Volunteers who have been marked "absent at muster," and had remained unaccounted for on the books of his department.

The official record of Jerseymen in the military service of the country during the Revolutionary War has been published, and the register of soldiers from this State engaged in the war of 1812 and in the Mexican War, is now in course of preparation. The official list of our soldiers in the late war will probably be published before the next session of the Legislature.

Further legislation in reference to State claims for arming and equipping troops for the service of the United States under the law of July 17th, 1861, is expected during the present session of Congress, and the Quartermaster General will soon be able to adjust and collect the balance claimed to be due this State from the United States.

MILITIA.

The estimated number of males in New Jersey between the ages of 18 and 45, liable to perform military duty, and constituting the reserved militia of the State, is one hundred and twenty-nine thousand five hundred and ninety-two. The active militia force, consisting of fifty-seven uniformed companies of infantry and two of artillery, forms "The National Guard." Six of the ten companies of colored infantry authorized by the law of the last session, have been mustered. The several organizations composing the National Guard have been inspected according to law, and each brigade reviewed by the Commander-in-Chief. The excellent discipline and soldierly conduct of the National Guard is worthy of commendation. To keep the several companies up to the legal standard, considerable expense and much personal sacrifice on the part of officers and men are required. The efficiency of the active military force would be increased, if in addition to the sum now allowed a premium were given to each company that should enrol and parade for inspection and review the maximum number of men allowed by law.

From the report of the Quartermaster General it will be seen that there are in possession of the National Guard three thousand two hundred and ninety-two stand of arms belonging to the State. The alteration of muskets into breech-loaders, authorized by the act of April 17th, 1868, has not been attempted because of a desire to have the alteration conform to the plan that might be adopted for the use of the army of the United States. A model will be adopted by the United States Ordnance Department, soon after which our muskets will be altered and issued to the National Guard. By virtue of an act of Congress, passed in the year 1808, over forty-five thousand dollars in arms or their equivalent are due the State of New Jersey from the United States. This indebtedness to the State, together with the amount in the treasury before referred to, and which was received for old arms and accoutrements sold by virtue of the law of 1868, and by that law directed to go "to the credit of the State Arsenal, to be expended in repairs and alterations, and the purchase of such ordnance and ordnance stores as from time to time may be required for the military service of this State," will probably be sufficient to defray all expenses of arming the National Guard with the breech-loading arm that shall be adopted for the United States service.

HOME FOR DISABLED SOLDIERS.

Among the institutions of the State none deserves more generous support than the Home for Disabled Soldiers. I know of no reason to change the views expressed in my annual message to the Legislature eight years ago, in recommending the establishment of a Soldiers' Home.

In May, 1866, the Soldiers' Home of New Jersey was located at Newark, on lands leased at a small annual rental, on which were commodious buildings which had been erected by the United States and purchased of the general government for a nominal sum. The managers are selected from among the most respectable and public spirited citizens, who without compensation, give their personal attention to its affairs. From careful inquiry and thorough personal inspection I am satisfied that its officers are worthy and competent men, and are conducting it with economy. Great care is taken to prevent imposition. Since its opening the Soldiers' Home has received two thousand three hundred and seventy-six beneficiaries. The average number per day cared for during the last year was three hundred, which is a greater number than it has relieved in any previous year. Disease contracted in the field, and wounds received in battle, do not always disable the soldier at once, but they often undermine the constitution as time progresses. The necessity for the Home still exists. When I visited the institution a number of the inmates were confined to the hospital, and one was in a dying condition. Thirty-eight died during the year.

The beneficiaries are divided into inmates and out-patients.

The former being unable in any degree to contribute to their own support by labor, or having no home, are clothed, subsisted and nursed in the buildings at Newark, and the latter are aided at their homes, by means of a small monthly allowance, which supplements the proceeds of the little work they are able to perform. This serves to keep many a poor soldier from the almshouse, a place in which we should never permit a New Jersey soldier to be found.

This is almost the only State that has made adequate provision for the sick and wounded soldier. The United States undertook to furnish the requisite means by establishing large and expensive asylums, and for this reason the States did not generally act on the subject. Some have recently been obliged to organize State asylums. Unless the national institutions be within reasonable distance of the residence of the soldier, he is practically denied the benefits that flow from them. If he has a family he would prefer remaining at his humble home in poverty and want, rather than be obliged to go to a distant section of the country where he can never see the cheerful countenance of kindred or friend. State institutions for sick and wounded soldiers should be substituted for the national asylums. They can be much better cared for, at less expense, nearer home. I recommend the passage of resolutions by the Legislature requesting our Senators and Representatives at Washington to favor a law of Congress distributing among the States which sustain Homes for Disabled Soldiers their equitable proportion of the money used to maintain national asylums.

I trust there will be no hesitation on the part of the Legislature in voting appropriations sufficient to enable the Soldiers' Home at Newark to continue to peform its humane and patriotic work.

SOLDIERS' CHILDREN'S HOME.

During the year two hundred and forty children have been inmates of the Soldiers' Children's Home. Of these twelve have been provided with employment in respectable families, and thirty-eight have been removed by guardians or returned to their friends, on arriving at fifteen years of age. On the thirty-first day of October last there were one hundred and eighty-eight children in attendance, which number is twenty-one less than on the corresponding date of the previous year.

On the twenty-seventh day of August last the Board of Managers passed a resolution requesting the Governor to appoint a committee to investigate certain charges that had been published in some of the public journals, implying neglect and improper management on the part of the Directors. Deeming it important to ascertain officially the truth or falsity of the charges in order that if true the abuses complained of might be corrected, or if false that the public mind might be promptly disabused of erroneous impressions and the Directors vindicated, I appointed a committee of gentlemen of high moral standing and integrity to make such investigation and report the facts with conclusions and recommendations. They immediately entered upon the duty assigned them, and after a patient examination presented an exhaustive report giving the origin and history of the Home, the details of its management, making important suggestions, but entirely exonerating the patriotic ladies who for so many years have devoted their time to this labor of love without remuneration except that which proceeds from the consciousness of duty performed, from all charges and insinuations of wrong motive or improper action. The report gives so many facts which had never been published and cannot be found elsewhere recorded, that I recommend the Legislature to order it printed. The institution is commended to the continued confidence of the State.

OTHER STATE INSTITUTIONS.

The insane of the State demand prompt attention and immediate relief.

LUNATIC ASYLUM AT TRENTON.

The Asylum at Trenton is crowded to such an extent as seriously to interfere with its usefulness. It is impossible to increase the number of patients without destroying its efficiency as a curative institution. The testimony of distinguished men who have made the subject of insanity and its treatment a study, is clear and uniform as to the evil consequences resulting from overcrowded asylums. During the last few years the managers and superintendent of the Lunatic Asylum have frequently directed the attention of the Legislature to the necessity of increased accommodations for the insane, and it is much to be regretted that provision for building a new asylum was so long delayed.

On the 31st day of October, 1871, there were seven hundred patients in the Asylum at Trenton. During the year two hundred and twenty-nine were received, and the same number were discharged or died, so that on the the 31st day of October, 1872, there were still seven hundred patients, being two hundred in excess of the proper accommodation of the building.

On the eighth day of May last the board of managers passed a resolution requesting county authorities to remove some of the supposed incurable, to make room for the reception of new cases of a hopeful character, but it was found impossible to effect the exchange, and during the months of May and June the number increased so rapidly that in the month of July there were seven hundred and sixty-two under treatment. Many of the sitting rooms were filled with beds so near each other as scarcely to admit passage room between them, and all the wards and apartments were so crowded as to interfere with the discipline and care indispensable to the proper management of such an institution; and under these circumstances the managers were under the necessity of adopting a resolution to refuse the further reception of patients. This they did with great reluctance, and not until all other means of relief had failed.

Much time must necessarily elapse before the asylum building at Morristown will be ready for occupation, and the important and perplexing question now presses itself upon us, how to provide for new cases that require immediate treatment. The mind will often be restored to reason if skillfully dealt with in the early stages of insanity, but if neglected the disease becomes chronic.

Some of the counties are preparing temporary accommodations, while in others no provision has been made, nor is any contemplated. The consequence is that many of this unfortunate class of persons are suffering from want of skillful treatment and suitable accommodations, and some in the violence of derangement are putting human life in jeopardy.

It is evident from the foregoing that it is the imperative duty of the Legislature to take prompt action on this subject. It has been suggested by some that pay patients might be removed by their friends to asylums in other States, but this, in a majority of cases, cannot be done. Other institutions of a similar character are full, and even if room could be found the opportunity of removal could not be embraced because of the inability of friends in many instances to pay the increased price. A large number of pay patients now in the asylum would be in the indigent class were it not for the self denial of those interested in their welfare, and the low rates of compensation fixed in such cases. Under these circumstances to require them to leave our asylum would be cruel in the extreme.

Attention is directed to the report of the committee on this subject, made to the last Legislature, and I recommend that one of the plans therein suggested, whereby accommodation can speedily be furnished for two hundred new patients, in connection with the present asylum building at Trenton, at comparatively small cost, be adopted. Should you not coincide with the views expressed by that committee, temporary buildings should at once be provided by the State for all the insane who may be neglected by the counties.

Since the opening of the Lunatic Asylum on the 15th day of May, A. D., 1848, the number of patients who have been received and cared for is four thousand two hundred and seventy, of whom two thousand seven hundred and eight have been discharged, recovered or improved. The superintendent and some of the managers have been connected with it from its organization, and it is but justice to them to state that no similar institution has been more economically conducted or has achieved greater success. The superintendent has devoted twenty-five years of his life to an important and most difficult work, and by professional ability, integrity and conscientious discharge of duty, has brought happiness to thousands of households, and reflected honor on the State. Neither he nor the managers of the asylum are responsible for the present emergency,

The treasurer reports the receipts and expenditures for the last fiscal year, as follows, viz.:

ASYLUM AT MORRISTOWN.

The commissioners having in charge the erection of the Lunatic Asylum at Morristown, report that title to all tracts of land necessary for the use of the institution has been perfected, and that the conveyances to the State include about four hundred acres, purchased at an expense of about seventy-eight thousand dollars. The plan of the building adopted by the commissioners is designed to accommodate six hundred patients. The entire length of the structure will be twelve hundred and forty-three feet, and the depth from the front of the center to the line of the rear of the extreme wings, five hundred and forty-three feet. The stone used for the exterior walls is granite, quarried on the premises, and brought to the site of the building by means of a gravity railway, and the interior walls will be of brick burned on the ground from clay taken from the excavations for foundation. No wood partitions will be allowed. The details of the plan will be found embodied in the report. A railroad from Morris Plains station to the grounds has been built. This will expedite the construction and lessen the cost of the building, and after the completion of the asylum be of great advantage to the State.

The site for this asylum is perhaps the best that could have been selected. It is near the center of the population of the State, in a healthy neighborhood, and on elevated ground, commanding a magnificent view. To these advantages is added a supply of pure water from springs which rise on the premises one hundred and fifty-four feet above the level of the first floor of the building, and which even in a dry season are capable of furnishing over two hundred thousand gallons per day.

The commissioners have labored diligently and with great energy to advance the construction of the building, and when, by reason of the failure of the Legislature to provide moneys to meet the appropriations that had been made, work was about to stop, they raised the necessary amount, in part upon their individual credit, and also from an advance of taxes by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company, made with my approval, so that there should not be any delay. I have no doubt that the commissioners will strive to finish the asylum building at the earliest possible period.

STATE PRISON.

The question of penal and reformatory treatment of those who are deprived of their liberty by reason of the violation of criminal law, is now attracting the attention of philanthropists in all enlightened nations. In July last an International Congress on the subject was held in the city of London, composed of delegates from Great Britain, nearly all the governments on the Continent of Europe, many in South America, twenty-two States of our Union, and from many prison and reformatory associations of England, Ireland and Scotland. The discussions, which were conducted in the English and French languages, were very able and interesting. The State of New Jersey was represented in that Congress by two delegates, who attended at my request. They have made a report of the proceedings, which contains much that is valuable to those whose province and duty it is to legislate on this subject, and I recommend its publication.

The average number of prisoners in the New Jersey State Prison during the year was five hundred and twenty seven, and at the date of the keeper's report, five hundred and fifty-three.

The discipline of the prison is excellent, and its financial management extremely satisfactory. For the first time in many years a surplus of earnings has been paid into the State treasury. The salaries of officers, repairs, and some other expenses have, however, as heretofore, been paid directly by the State, and do not enter into the Supervisor's accounts. It is believed that under the present management, with contracts for labor of convicts more favorable to the State, the prison will in future be made entirely self-sustaining.

The International Congress at London expressed the opinion that while the great object of penal codes is the protection of society, the moral regeneration of the convict should be a primary aim in prison discipline, and to attain this, rewards of good conduct are necessary. For over four years this principle has entered into the prison system of this State, and its beneficial effects are apparent. Experience proves that nothing has contributed so much to induce industry and uniform orderly deportment of prisoners as the law of 1868, which authorizes remission from the term of sentence for faithful performance of assigned labor, orderly behavior and self-control. This policy places before the convict the most powerful incentive to good conduct that can appeal to his nature.

The Congress also resolved that government should establish a means of aiding discharged prisoners to procure employment. In this respect our law is deficient. Doubtless many a convict not hardened in crime and sincerely penitent, resolves in the desolate hours of his confinement to lead a better life when he shall be restored to liberty, but when released, finding himself without money, deprived of the aid of friendly counsel and unable to obtain work, he yields to temptation and relapses into a life of crime. It is the duty of the State to prevent this, by establishing an agency to procure employment for newly discharged convicts. By this means many a man would be rescued from infamy, and many a dollar be saved to the public by the prevention of criminal offences.

The officers of the prison are unanimous in the opinion that a room where public religious services can be held is needed. With the present arrangement the preacher does not see his hearers nor do they see him. Under such circumstances there cannot be that sympathy between speaker and audience which is calculated to affect the heart and produce conviction. Human government has not the right to add to the punishment of criminals deprivation of means of religious instruction.

REFORM SCHOOL FOR BOYS.

The Reform School for Boys was opened in July, 1867. Over three hundred youth have been subjected to its discipline, and at the same time have received religious training and secular instruction. It is gratifying to know that many of those who have been discharged have become respectable and useful members of society, and are giving the best evidence of a reformed life. The deportment of the boys is good. Although not restrained of their liberty by walls or inclosures, they remain upon the premises, apparently happy, working cheerfully, improving the mind by study of those branches of education that will fit them for business, and receiving that moral training which is calculated to make them respectable citizens.

The good that must result from this institution is beyond human computation. It is both a reformatory and a noble charity. It takes unfortunate youth who have been driven to petty crime by neglect of parents, or the bad example of wicked companions, and while the heart and conscience are tender and pliant, appeals to their better feelings, makes them realize that they are responsible beings, endowed with all the attributes of manhood, capable of leading virtuous lives and of attaining positions of influence and respectability, and in a majority of cases reformation is complete. The trustees, superintendent and his family, and the teachers are necessarily subjected to much care and many trials in the oversight and management of wayward boys when first committed to their keeping, but in the midst of arduous and sometimes annoying duties, they have the consolation of knowing that they occupy a field of labor in which so much can be done to elevate human character and benefit society.

The new family building authorized by the act of March 23, 1871, has been completed and nearly furnished, at a cost within the appropriation. It is used in part as a workshop for the younger boys, who are engaged in caning chairs. It is in contemplation to introduce instruction in other trades as soon as suitable apartments can be prepared. If the number of inmates continue to increase as rapidly as during the past year, another building on the family plan will soon be needed. On the 31st day of October last the number of boys at the Reform School was one hundred and twenty, being thirty-two in excess of the number at the close of year immediately preceding. The finances are well managed, and the business conducted as economically as possible; but with increasing numbers and corresponding increase of expenses of board and clothing, an appropriation somewhat larger than heretofore must be made, if we expect to maintain the efficiency of the institution.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.

An Industrial School for neglected, wayward and criminal girls has been opened within the past year. Convenient buildings and grounds have been leased in a secluded spot near the city of Trenton, where on the 31st day of October, 1872, there were seventeen young girls well cared for and instructed. They are employed in making their own clothing, and assist in sewing for the Boys' Reform School. The lease of the property is for a short term, and some action should soon be taken preparatory to procuring a permanent location.

GEOLOGY.

New Jersey is rich in mineral wealth, and the Geological Survey has done much to develop it. The labors of the State Geologist during the past year have been directed principally to the iron ore region, in exploring for new mines and examining extensions of former openings. Valuable maps of the mining country have been prepared.

The iron mines in this State are now more extensively worked than at any former period. The high price of iron, the great demand for it, the excellent quality of the ore found in New Jersey, and the completion of new lines of railroad communication have contributed materially to increase the production. The State Geologist estimates the production of all the mines for the year at six hundred thousand tons of ore, which at five dollars per ton at the mines amounts to three millions of dollars.

The boundaries of the State of New Jersey, except on the north, are upon sea or river. The north line is not defined by a natural boundary. Over a century ago the boundary between New York and New Jersey was settled by those States to be a straight line beginning on the west bank of the Hudson river, at forty-one degrees north latitude, and having its western terminus at the junction of the Navesink river with the Delaware. Commissioners appointed by each State in the year 1774 traced the line and set stone monuments at the end of each mile, but the result of their work was not recorded in this State. Some of these monuments are down and lie near the places where they once stood, and others are gone. The line as now pointed out is crooked, which fact proves that it cannot be the true boundary. In view of the value of the neighboring lands, and the important question of State jurisdiction which may arise from uncertainty of boundaries, the managers of the Geological Survey have directed the State Geologist " whenever the means shall be provided, to have the line, as marked by its monuments, surveyed and described, the latitude and longitude of its western end determined, and proper computations made, so as to show the true relations of the monuments to a right line between the two extremities. After the facts are ascertained by survey and reported, it may be necessary to request the authorities of the State of New York to take some action jointly with us to have the line as agreed upon originally again run and marked, in order that a true record of the boundary can be made in both States.

The appropriation of twenty thousand dollars for the Geological Survey, made four years ago, is now exhausted. No work of equal extent and importance has ever been done at less cost. The members of the board have never received compensation, and have not taxed the State even with their personal expenses. The State Geologist and his assistants have labored faithfully for small remuneration. The survey has added millions to the wealth of the State. I recommend that the amount of the former appropriation be continued for four years longer.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

From the accompanying report of the Superintendent and Inspector of Weights and Measures it appears that progress has been made in executing the law of March 25, 1872, under which he was appointed, and that all the provisions of the law will be carried into effect during the current year. The report contains much valuable information, and I refer you to it for details.

STATE LIBRARY.

The number of volumes in the State Library is eighteen thousand four hundred and seven. The increased appropriation made by act of March 13, 1872, will enable the commissioners to add many valuable works to the Library. By authority of a joint resolution passed at the last session, two hundred and forty-eight volumes of miscellaneous books were forwarded by the Librarian to the Home for Disabled Soldiers.

The "Record of the Governor and Council of East Jersey, from 1682 to 1703," the "Minutes of the Council of Safety of New Jersey, 1777," and the "Journal and Votes of the House of Representatives of New Jersey, 1703," authorized to be published by act of 1871, have been printed and delivered to the Librarian, who has sent one copy of each work to the several State Libraries, and to each of the college and public libraries of New Jersey. It will be necessary to provide for the distribution of the remaining volumes.

The act of March 29, 1872, appropriated the sum of three thousand dollars, to be expended under the direction of the New Jersey Historical Society, to procure copies of Colonial documents, papers, and minutes of Council, directly referring to the provincial and colonial history of New Jersey from the State Paper office in the city of London. In the month of May, the Historical Society appointed a committee to procure for the State Library and for publication, copies of all the public documents of which the State has now no record relating to the history of New Jersey prior to the year 1776. The committee promptly secured the services of a gentleman residing in London, who had ready access to the public archives in England, and who had made researches for the Historical Society. For several months copyists have been employed in transcribing, and before the Legislature adjourns the complete annals of New Jersey legislation prior to 1776, together with copies of many other documents, will probably be received. A sample sheet of the work has been forwarded, and may be seen in the State Library. The appropriation already made will not be sufficient to procure all the documents necessary to complete the history of that early period. It is important that all papers that shed light on our early history be examined and copies thereof procured. Questions involving State boundary and jurisdiction sometimes arise which ancient documents alone can solve.

RIPARIAN COMMISSION.

The Riparian Commissioners have acted upon a number of applications for grants or leases. The total principal sum paid or secured during the year as compensation for grants of land under water belonging to the State, including that authorized to be made to the New Jersey West Line Railroad Company, by act of the Legislature, is one hundred and forty-nine thousand eight hundred and seventy-five dollars. In addition to this the rental on lands leased equals the interest of thirteen thousand dollars. All the moneys and securities received from this source have gone to the School Fund. A part of the above amount was paid to the treasurer after the close of the fiscal year.

The final papers in a number of cases that have been acted upon are not completed, but will probably be ready for delivery during the present year. The principal of the grants and leases applied for, acted on and waiting consummation (assuming as principal in case of leases the sum which would produce interest to amount of annual rental fixed) is four hundred and thirty-seven thousand three hundred and thirty-five dollars. In some of the cases it is not known whether a grant or lease will be taken, and therefore it is impossible to state with certainty how much of the last mentioned amount will be cash or its equivalent, and how much will be represented by rental.

By an act of the Legislature, approved April 4th, 1872, a portion of the land under water in Communipaw bay was granted to Jersey City for public uses upon the payment of such compensation as the Riparian Commissioners should determine; and under that act the commissioners, in consideration of the public purposes for which the property was to be used, and the benefits that would result to the people of other sections of the State, as well as to the inhabitants of Jersey City, by the construction of large public docks at so important a commercial centre, fixed as compensation the small sum of one thousand dollars to be secured by a bond, as an equitable sum for the grant. At the date of the commissioners' report the authorities of Jersey City had not taken final action on the subject.

The engineer's map, which accompanies the report of the commissioners, gives the exterior pier line in that part of Hudson river near Castle Point, as recently extended and straightened to accommodate the increased length of ocean steamers of a new line about to harbor on the New Jersey side of the river. The length of the vessels will be four hundred and seventy-five feet, and as the space between the line of solid filling and the line for piers established under the law of 1864 was at the point referred to only four hundred feet, the aforesaid action of the commissioners was necessary to the accommodation of an important trans-atlantic line, which will be the seventh steamship line engaged in European trade using the water front of New Jersey. This change of pier line does not interfere with the exterior line, nor does it obstruct in the slightest degree the navigation of the river, which at that place attains its greatest width.

PILOTAGE.

The New Jersey pilots have piloted in and out the harbors of New York and Jersey City during the year, two thousand three hundred and seventy vessels, of which two hundred and ninety were steamships. Nine hundred and eight of these vessels were spoken on "off shore ground." The law of 1855, which makes provisions for extra compensation for such hazardous service, has been found beneficial to the interests of commerce.

The pilots have from time to time reported observations of lights on the coast for the information of the United States Light House Board.

FISHERIES.

The Commissioners of Fisheries recommend that laws be passed to prevent the taking of fish by poison, the explosion of cartridges of giant-powder, or by any other enginery of destruction, and recognizing the seine, line, and spear as the only lawful modes of taking fish from the waters of this State.

A quarter of a million of salmon spawn have been procured without expense to the State, for the purpose of stocking our rivers with that delicious fish. It is believed that salmon will thrive in our waters. They are more vigorous and less timid than shad, and the dams which cross many of our rivers will not be an insurmountable obstacle to their ascending the stream.

Experiments in other States prove that rivers can be replenished with shad by means of artificial propagation. On the fourth day of April last the Legislature of this State passed an act appropriating the sum of three thousand dollars for the purpose of propagating shad in the river Delaware, to be expended under the direction of the Commissioners of Fisheries, provided the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania should appropriate a like sum for the same object. Pennsylvania having failed to pass a similar law the money has not been drawn. The increase of this valuable fish, even to the number formerly found in that river, would cheapen food and give employment to thousands of our people.

During the last fishing season the fish-wardens were zealous in the discharge of their duties. Through their exertions fish-baskets, racks, brush-weirs, and other fixed means of catching fish have almost disappeared from this side of the river. They report the catch of fish larger than that of the previous year. They found very little opposition to the fishing laws among our own people, but some were resisted in the execution of those laws by a few residents of Philadelphia, who with violence assaulted the officers sent to arrest them. Efforts have been made to bring to justice the guilty parties.

It is hoped that the Legislature of Pennsylvania will, at its present session, pass such laws as will aid New Jersey in protecting and augmenting the common fishing interest of the two States in the Delaware. As the city of Philadelphia is the market to which nearly all the fish caught in that river are taken, it would seem to be the true policy of her people to use their influence to have an efficient code of fishing laws in each bordering State.

In the month of May last I received information that twenty-two citizens of New Jersey, while engaged in fishing in the river Delaware east of the middle thereof and nearly opposite the boundary line of the counties of Salem and Gloucester, were arrested and taken as prisoners out of this State. Upon obtaining an authentic statement of the facts from the fish commissioner, who resides in the southern part of the State, from which it appeared that the fishermen were arrested by persons claiming to be officers acting under authority of laws of the State of Delaware, and that they were arraigned before a magistrate in the city of Wilmington charged with the violation of the the fishing law of Delaware, by fishing in the locality before mentioned without the license of that State, I issued a proclamation claiming for the State of New Jersey jurisdiction over the river east of the middle line, declaring that persons conforming to the fishing laws of this State have the right to fish there, and warning all persons not to arrest any citizen of New Jersey within her jurisdiction unless by virtue of her lawful process. This prompt action by proclamation was taken because the arrests had interrupted and threatened to destroy the business of a large number of our citizens who were accustomed to pursue the avocation of fishing in that part of the river, and whose livelihood depended upon their uninterrupted enjoyment of the fishing season. Otherwise I would have opened a correspondence with His Excellency the Governor of the State of Delaware before issuing a proclamation.

On the day that my proclamation issued I wrote to the Governor of Delaware and enclosed a copy. A correspondence followed, which with my proclamation before referred to, are herewith submitted. It will be seen that His Excellency Governor Ponder claims for his State exclusive and paramount jurisdiction over the waters of the Delaware river to low water mark on the eastern side, within a circle, the radius of which is twelve miles as measured from New Castle as a centre, and also the right to demand and collect a license fee for fishing therein. My absolute denial of the legality of this claim and the reasons given to sustain the position taken in my proclamation, are fully stated in the correspondence.

It is not my purpose, nor would it be proper under the circumstances, to discuss in this communication to the Legislature the questions at issue. Subsequent to the correspondence and growing out of the same, I had a conference with His Excellency, the Governor of Delaware, at which the Attorney Generals of both the States were present, and which, after a free interchange of views, resulted in a agreement that no further arrests should be made under the fishing law of Delaware east of the middle of the river, and that we would recommend to the Legislatures of our respective States the appointment of commissioners to agree what the jurisdiction of each State should be in the Delaware, the soil and islands thereof, and the right of each to the products thereof, the same to be valid if confirmed by the States. I therefore recommend that an act be passed as speedily as possible, providing for the appointment of three commissioners on the part of the State of New Jersey to meet a similar commission to be appointed on the part of the State of Delaware, for the purpose aforesaid. It is hoped that a settlement of the question will soon be consummated, in a manner satisfactory to the people of both States, and that the friendly relations that have always existed between them will be continued.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

The present constitution of the State of New Jersey was adopted nearly thirty years ago. The convention by which it was framed was composed of able men, among whom were many distinguished jurists, and the work which came from their hands was thought to be as good as human wisdom could devise; but experience proves that with increasing population, wealth and enterprise, and with new subjects of legislation constantly arising, some amendments to our organic law are needed.

It will be admitted by all reflecting persons that there should be such radical reform in our system of legislation as cannot be secured under the present constitution. The necessity of providing every possible safeguard to secure the Legislature against imposition is obvious, if we consider that when an act has been certified as passed, by the signature of the presiding officers of each House, approved by the Governor and filed in the office of the Secretary of State, it becomes law, the exemplification of which under the Great Seal of the State is conclusive evidence as to its existence and contents, and that no evidence to prove that the act signed varies from the act voted upon is admissible in a court of law. So important are the interests affected by legislation, that in view of the decision of our Supreme Court on the subject we owe it to the public and to the fair fame of the State that such constitutional checks should be provided as will prevent the possibility of fraud or interpolation.

Haste in legislation is a great evil which requires correction. The brief session to which the Legislature is now virtually limited by the constitution, does not give opportunity for the proper consideration of the business which under the present system is brought before it. If all bills were presented on the first day of the session the time would scarcely suffice, but a large majority are introduced at so late a period that it is impossible even to read them with the deliberation necessary to a full knowledge of their contents, much less to discuss their provisions. That part of our constitution which limits the pay of members of the Legislature to a mere pittance after the period of forty days is unwise as well as a standing imputation upon the honor of the representatives of the people in every Legislature that assembles under it. It should be stricken out, and a reasonable annual salary paid, without limit as to the duration of the session. If legislation be necessary, sufficient time to deliberate and act understandingly should be given. Either the session should be longer or the business less.

But this is not the only or the most important change required to prevent hasty legislation. Other amendments to the constitution may be made that will enable the Legislature thoroughly to examine and discuss every measure brought before it, without extending the session beyond the period heretofore usual in this State. The constitution should require general laws, and forbid the enactment of all special or private laws embracing subjects where general laws can be made applicable. This would dispense with at least nine-tenths of the business brought before the Legislature under the present system. The general public laws passed at the last session are contained in about one hundred pages of the printed volume, while the special and private laws occupy over twelve hundred and fifty pages of the same book. If made comprehensive and liberal, why should not cities, towns, corporations of all kinds, and associations of individuals organize and act under general laws? Those heretofore passed in this State have not answered the desired object because the constitution permits special legislation on the same subjects, and so long as this is permitted there will be those who will seek such legislation.

Should it be deemed advisable not to provide for general laws, haste in legislation could be prevented by a constitutional amendment requiring the preamble of every private or special bill containing the substance of its important provisions to be published, and the bill itself filed in the office of the Secretary of State, for public information on or before the first day of the session; and providing further that if a bill pass without these requirements having been observed, it shall be held void, and of no effect by any court of competent jurisdiction before which its validity shall be questioned, upon certificate of the Secretary of State that the same was not filed as above stated in his office. This would give employment to the Legislature at the commencement of the session, enable each member to inform himself of the contents and ascertain the merits of each bill before being called upon to vote upon it, and prevent the sudden introduction of important and exciting measures near the close of the session when pressure of business necessarily prevents due consideration. All efforts to confine the introduction of bills to the early part of the session by means of statutes or rules of the Houses, which can be repealed or suspended, are fruitless. A constitutional amendment such as I suggest would prove effectual. It would be attended with incalculable good, and little or no evil could result, for it is not probable that occasion would arise after the Legislature convened for the passage or amendment of a private or special law, the necessity for which would not previously be known, and which could not without prejudice be postponed for a year.

There are other evils besides that of hasty legislation that might be cured by an amended constitution. The power of cities and other municipalities to contract debts should be limited. A court having special and exclusive jurisdiction over all cases of condemnation of lands and assessment for improvements should be provided for. In acts to amend existing laws, the section or sections to be amended should be required to be inserted. No law should be permitted to take effect until the expiration of a reasonable fixed time after the close of the session in which it is passed, unless in case of emergency, which emergency should be expressed in the bill, and determined to exist by the accorded votes of at least two-thirds of the members of each House.

It would also be well to provide for the system of minority representation in the General Assembly.

If general laws be not required, and special laws be allowed, the constitution should be so amended as to prohibit and declare void all acts that shall pass which are included in the following classes of legislation, viz.:

Acts which purport to make irrevocable grants of special privileges or immunities to individuals or corporations:

Acts that violate the principal of equal and uniform taxation, by exempting property of individuals or corporations (except that always exempted by the general tax law) from State or local taxes of any description which the people at large are required to pay; or by prescribing a rule of assessment different from the general rule, and making discriminations as to the subjects of taxation:

Acts chartering railroad, turnpike or transportation companies, that do not require the rates of travel or transportation to be uniform, and which allow differential rates that tend to build up one city or section of the State, to the injury of another:

Acts authorizing a municipality to tax the people for subscriptions to the capital stock of railroad or turnpike corporations, or for donations or loans of its credit thereto:

Acts which appoint and authorize persons named therein, and not chosen by the people, to project and construct public improvements, or exercise governmental power in a city or other municipality.

Should you concur in the views herein expressed, and desire to incorporate any of them, or any others that may suggest themselves, in the organic law of the State, two modes of effecting the object exist. An act may be passed providing for the election of delegates to a convention to prepare a constitution for the government of the State, and for submitting the same to the people for ratification or rejection; or specific amendments may be proposed and referred to the next Legislature, to be submitted to the people in accordance with Article IX of the present constitution. An objection to the latter mode is that in the haste attending a short session, with the minds of the members engrossed by other business, some needed changes may not be provided for, and the amendments proposed may not be maturely considered and digested. To obviate this objection a bill could be passed during your session authorizing the appointment from each Congressional District of two persons, who shall be members of different political parties, to meet soon after your adjournment, and in open session consider, prepare, and put in proper form such amendments to the constitution as they may deem necessary, and report them to the next Legislature. The press would doubtless print their proceedings, opportunity would be given to the people to discuss the various changes proposed, and when the Legislature convened the members would be prepared to act with due deliberation and in accordance with the views of their constituents.

The time is favorable for a calm consideration of this important subject. If action be now taken no exciting political canvass to inflame or prejudice the public mind will intervene before the completion of the work.

NATIONAL CENTENNIAL.

The one-hundredth anniversary of American Independence will be celebrated in the city where the immortal Declaration was adopted and first proclaimed, by an International Exhibition of arts, manufactures, and products of the soil and mine. This is a fitting mode of demonstrating the wonderful progress of the country in the first century of its existence under a republican form of government.

The people of New Jersey should feel and manifest a deep interest in this celebration. On her soil the decisive battle of the Revolution was fought. Her sons, amid much privation and suffering, by their wisdom and valor, displayed both in council and on the field, contributed vastly to the success of American arms and the establishment of national independence. We who enjoy the fruits of the patriotism and courage of those who laid the foundations of our government, should express our gratitude by taking a conspicuous part in commemorating the memorable event which gave birth to the nation.

CONCLUSION.

The events of the last year demonstrate that the exciting questions growing out of the war are settled. The recent amendments to the Constitution of the United States are everywhere recognized, accepted and obeyed as the law of the land. The representatives of the great opposing political parties of the country, in national conventions assembled, have so declared. That these topics are removed forever from the arena of discussion is cause for congratulation. Opportunity is now given to direct the public mind to a living question of vital interest, which involves the constitutional relations between the general and State governments.

Our country is rapidly growing in population and wealth. Her system of government is the best ever devised; but, with all its advantages, it is subject to peculiar danger. This danger springs from a prevailing disposition to ignore the true line of demarcation between Federal and State jurisdiction. The peril increases as the domain of the country is extended, and the already large patronage of the general government accumulates, so that it is most threatening and most to be feared in the hour of the nation's greatest apparent prosperity and power. Propositions urged upon Congress to inaugurate a vast system of public improvements, and to vest in the general government the control of the railroad and telegraph lines throughout the country, involving the expenditure of an immense amount of money and the employment of hundreds of thousands of operatives, whom circumstances would necessarily subject to powerful influence; together with interference in the determination of elections contested between candidates for State offices, which is peculiarly a subject for the decision of State tribunals, prove that there is a growing tendency toward centralization. While yielding to the general government all power and jurisdiction delegated by the constitution, we should not hesitate to raise the voice of protest against any infringement of the clearly reserved rights of the States, if we would preserve unimpaired the system created by the founders of the Republic, and transmit to posterity the blessings of free government.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, February 18, 1873.

To the Legislature:

I herewith transmit a communication from Rear Admiral Boggs, U. S. N., the Naval Secretary of the Light House Board, requesting legislation to protect buoys and light-house property in New Jersey waters, from removal or injury. I recommend that a law be passed in accordance with the request.

JOEL PARKER.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE LIGHT HOUSE BOARD,
WASHINGTON, February 5, 1873,

SIR:—The Light House Board of the United States desires to submit through your Excellency, and with your favorable recommendation, to the Legislature of New Jersey, the draft of a bill to protect United States buoyage and light house property in New Jersey waters from trespass and injury, with the hope that it may become a law of the State; the draft shows the nature of the desired act. The precise phraseology is unimportant, and any other may be adopted, provided the objects desired are reached; there are over one hundred buoys of the Light House Establishment moored in the waters of New Jersey; they are to the mariner by day what the lights are to him by night; the unannounced removal of a buoy would be likely to perplex a pilot, but one not in its proper position would be likely to mislead him, and might easily be a cause for shipwreck. It requires the constant services of three steam buoy tenders to keep these buoys, and others in the third and fourth Light House Districts, in which New Jersey is situated, in good order and in their prescribed places, they being always liable to be moved by drifting ice, or by stress of wind and wave, and, I regret to say, by vessels which are in the habit of making fast to them to save the trouble of anchoring. It is to protect the buoy service from this particular practice, and from similar trespass, that this bill has been drawn.

Several of the States, aware of the great dangers to which mariners are exposed by such proceedings, have passed laws (copies of which are enclosed) prohibiting and punishing interference with the buoys; but as these laws operate only within the States which have passed them, vessels or individuals injuring them, have only to cross the line of the State in which the offence was committed to virtually escape punishment; hence it has become necessary to ask national legislation, but pending the action of Congress it has been deemed best, that New Jersey should be asked to take action in relation to these matters within her own State limits.

This letter will be presented by Mr. Johnson, the chief clerk of the Light House Board, who has been detailed to bring the matter to your attention, and who will be happy to give any further information desired on the subject.

Very respectfully,

CHAS. S. BOGGS.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
OFFICE OF COMPTROLLER OF THE TREASURY,
TRENTON, February 20, 1873.

Hon. John W. Taylor, President of the Senate:

SIR:—An official copy of the following resolution, adopted by the Senate on the 19th inst., has been forwarded to this department:

Resolved, That the Comptroller or Secretary of State report immediately to the Legislature, what railroad and canal companies have complied with the requirements of the act entitled "An act respecting annual reports to the legislature," approved February 24, 1852, and why such reports, if any, have not been transmitted to the Legislature as required by law?

In response to this resolution, I have the honor to report:

1. The following named railroad and canal companies have transmitted to this office, reports for the year 1872:

Belvidere Delaware Railroad Company.
Bridgeton and Port Morris Railroad Company.
Camden and Amboy Railroad and Transportation Company.
Camden and Atlantic Railroad Company.

Delaware and Raritan Canal Company.
Morris Canal and Banking Company.

2. The above mentioned reports have not yet been transmitted to the Legislature for the following reasons:

I. Many of the companies have failed to comply with the requirements of the law, as to the time at which their reports shall be furnished.

II. The act of 1852, referred to in the above resolution, provides that the companies shall transmit their reports to the Secretary of State, while, by the act establishing the office of Comptroller of the Treasury, the duties in connection with such reports are transferred from the Secretary of State to the Comptroller. Some of the companies forward their annual reports to this office, while others forward them to the Secretary of State, or to the officers of the Legislature, by whom they are transmitted to this office. This indirectness of transmission causes vexatious delay, and necessarily postpones the time at which the printed copies can be laid before the Legislature.

III. After the reports are all received at this office some time must necessarily elapse before the copies can be furnished for transmission to the Legislature as required by law. A supplement to an act entitled "An act respecting annual reports to the Legislature of Railroad and Canal companies," which supplement was approved March 11, 1853, fixes the first Tuesday of February, as the latest date to which the companies may delay their reports, without subjecting themselves to a penalty for violation of the law, and the same act provides that copies shall be transmitted to the Legislature on the same day. It is needless to say that compliance with this provision of the law is wholly impossible. The reports for the year 1872 are now in the hands of the printer, and the printed copies will be laid before the Legislature at the earliest possible moment.

Respectfully submitted,

A. L. RUNYON,
Comptroller.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
TRENTON, March 5, 1873.

To the Legislature:

Since the passage of the act entitled "An act for the settlement of the territorial limits and jurisdiction of the State of New Jersey and the State of Delaware," approved by me February 26, 1873,

I have received a copy of joint resolutions passed by the Legislature of Delaware, on the 30th day of January, 1873, and also, a copy of a supplementary joint resolution, passed on the 14th day of February, 1873,

The latter is amendatory of the former resolutions.

It will be seen by these joint resolutions, that the Legislature of Delaware, have not invested the commissioners on the part of that State with powers as broad as those with which our commissioners are clothed.

On account of the restrictions imposed upon the commissioners of Delaware, by the joint resolutions referred to (copies of which are herewith transmitted), and the doubt which exists as to the propriety under our act of the commissioners from New Jersey, entering upon negotiations in reference to only a part of the subject matter of difference, additional legislation on your part is necessary.

The important practical question which interests most of our citizens is the right of fishing in the river Delaware, its nature and extent, and I trust you will pass as speedily as possible a supplementary act, that will enable our commissioners to convene with those of Delaware to negotiate upon that question before the fishing season commences,

JOEL PARKER.

The communication was read and referred to the special committee having said subject under consideration, together with the accompanying joint resolutions, passed by the Legislature of the State of Delaware, viz.:

Joint Resolution with respect to the subject of difference between the State of New Jersey and this State.

WHEREAS, It appears by the message of His Excellency, the Governor, and the documents accompanying the same, that the State of New Jersey makes claim for her citizens of the right to fish in that part of the waters of the Delaware within the limits of the "twelve mile circle," and eastward of the channel of said river, thus denying the exclusive jurisdiction of this State over the said water within the said circle, a jurisdiction never doubted in Delaware, nor questioned elsewhere with confidence until now, so far as this General Assembly is informed;

AND WHEREAS, It is important that the said question should be at once settled, so that there shall be no conflict of claim hereafter; therefore,

Be it resolved, by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Delaware in General Assembly met, That the whole subject of controversy be submitted to the decision of six commissioners, three to be appointed by the Legislature of each State, and that their decision shall be final.

Resolved, That said decision shall be submitted in writing, upon parchment, under the hands of the said commissioners, to this Legislature, and to that of the State of New Jersey, and be entered upon the journal of each House of the General Assembly of each State, as a perpetual memorial of the end of the aforesaid controversy, and that a similar certificate be made and delivered to the Governor of each State, to be placed among the executive archives; and further, that each State, through its Governor, make proclamation for six months in the newspapers printed within its borders, of the aforesaid decision—to the end that full public information thereof may be given.

Resolved, That Joseph P. Comegys, of Kent county, William

G. Whitely, of New Castle county, and Edward L. Martin, of Sussex county, be appointed commissioners upon the part of this State for the purpose aforesaid; that they be at once notified by the Speaker of the Senate of such—their appointment; and in case at the end of five days from such notice, either of them has not accepted said appointment, another from the same county be appointed in his place.

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing preamble and resolutions, duly certified, be forwarded by the Governor to the Governor of New Jersey, with the request that they be laid before the Legislature of that State; it being the wish of this Legislature that the aforesaid controversy shall be settled during the present session of the Legislature of each State.

Resolved, That the said commissioners shall each receive for his services hereunder the sum of five hundred dollars, to be paid by the State Treasurer, on the certificate of the Speaker of the Senate that the said services have been performed.

Adopted at Dover, January 30, 1873, amended February 19, 1873.

ALLEN VOORHEES LESLEY,
Speaker of the Senate.

JOSEPH BURCHENAL,
Speaker House of Representatives.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

I, John H. Paynter, Secretary of the State of Delaware, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true copy of the preamble and resolutions entitled "Joint Resolution with respect to the subject of difference between the State of New Jersey and this State," adopted at Dover, January 30, 1873, and amended February 19, 1873, the same having been compared by me with the original roll now on file in this office.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and official seal, at Dover, this 24th day of February, A. D. [L. S.] one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three.

JOHN H. PAYNTER,
Secretary of State.

To avoid all questions on debate, as to the extent of the powers conferred upon the commissioners appointed by this State, under the resolutions adopted on the 30th day of January last, and on those to be appointed by the State of New Jersey according to the suggestions herein,

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Delaware in General Assembly met, That no question was intended to be submitted by the said resolutions respecting the title of this State to the river Delaware and the soil thereof within the limits of the "twelve mile circle," but only whether notwithstanding such title, the citizens of New Jersey have the right to fish in said river within that circle, and if so, the nature and extent of that right, and the said commissioners are to consider that no other question but that here mentioned is submitted to them; this State refusing to allow her aforesaid title to be drawn in question by said commissioners, or in any other manner.

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing, duly certified, be forwarded by the Governor, to the Governor of New Jersey.

To the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

Your Committee on Industrial School for Girls beg leave to submit the following report:

By the act approved April 4, 1871, which established the State Industrial School for Girls, in section sixth of said act, the authority was given to the board of trustees of said institution to receive by gift or to purchase a tract or lot of land in a healthy location, with a sufficient supply of good water, and of easy access from different parts of the state, and to erect suitable buildings thereon; the site of said land and the plans of said buildings to be first approved by the board of control, consisting of the governor, chancellor and chief justice; and as the said board of trustees have, with the consent and approval of the board of control, endeavored to carry out the provisions of the above named act, in purchasing a farm of eighty-two acres, lying near the state lunatic asylum, at Trenton, New Jersey, at a cost of twelve thousand three hundred dollars, the board of trustees desire to erect at an early day, suitable buildings; and to enable them to do so, your committee would advise that an act be passed at this session of the legislature, appropriating the sum of thirty-five thousand dollars to carry out the plan of establishing the institution upon a permanent basis. The act establishing the institution appropriated the sum of twenty thousand dollars, of that amount only five thousand has been expended, and that amount in fitting up the temporary quarters now occupied in Trenton, where the institution has been located since the establishing of the same. The amount expended was by the advice and consent of the board of control. The committee find there is still unexpended the sum of fifteen thousand dollars, with the amount suggested by the committee the trustees will be enabled to pay for the land and erect suitable buildings. The board of trustees estimate the cost of land, buildings, furniture, and cost of maintenance, as follows:

Cost of buildings,	$27,700 00
Cost of outside improvements, including water works,	5,000 00
For maintenance,	5,000 00
Cost of land,	12,300 00
	$50,000 00

Your committee would state that since the sitting of the legislature we have, in company with the governor and officers of the institution, visited the same. We found in all parts of the institution great neatness and attention given to the proper training of the young, by the board of trustees and lady managers, and we here bear our testimony to the acceptable manner in which the institution is conducted. We have every confidence in the board of trustees and board of control, and believe they would expend the moneys appropriated, with economy and satisfaction to the people of the state. Your committee feel that in properly caring for this institution, much good will be effected. Experience has shown that the reform school for boys, established under the auspices of the state, and similar in character to this institution, has effected much good. We therefore, in conclusion, respectfully ask the legislature to pass the act submitted with this report.

ISAAC NEWKIRK, CHAIRMAN COMMITTEE.

The same Senator presented the following report:

To the Senate of the State of New Jersey:

The Committee on Education to whom was referred a petition in relation to the admission of persons of color to the Normal School, beg leave to report that they have given to the subject the consideration its importance deserves. Your committee agree with the petitioners, that the educational advantages of a state institution, sustained by all classes, should not be denied to any on account of race or color. The law requires that "at the opening of each term of the Normal School, the principal with his assistants, shall proceed to examine applicants, and to admit to the school such as appear to be possessed of the proper qualification, to the number to which each county may be entitled." It will be observed that the language employed is general in its character, and cannot possibly be construed as excluding from the institution any class or race of people in the State. A reference in the law to the race or color of applicants such as is desired by the petitioners would be in the opinion of the committee, unwise, as it could confer no rights not already possessed, and would tend to create distinctions where none now exist.

Besides having examined as to the sufficiency of the law, your committee have extended their enquiries into the manner of its execution. It appears that several years ago a person of color made application for admission to the school and was not received, but for what reason your committee are not informed.

It is believed that no similar application has been made since. Certainly none has been made, while the position of principal has been held by the present able and efficient incumbent. There is no reason to doubt that he will comply with the letter and spirit of the law, and that fitness alone, not color nor race, will determine the success of applicants for admission to the school.

Your committee therefore recommend that no change be made in the law at this time, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

Respectfully submitted,

CHAS. HEWITT,
J. HENRY STONE,
AUG. W. CUTLER,
Committee on Education.

Which was read and laid on the table.

A message was received from His Excellency the Governor, returning

Senate bill, No. 365, entitled

A supplement to an act entitled "An act relative to juries and verdicts," approved April 17, 1846,

With his objections thereto.

The communication was read as follows:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
TRENTON, April 2, 1873.

To the Senate:

I return to the Senate, where it originated, Bill No. 365, entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act relative to juries and verdicts,'" approved April 17, 1846, with my objections thereto.

This bill creates a commission of jurors for Hudson county. The commission is to consist of two persons, to be appointed every two years by a major part of the judges of the court of common pleas of said county.

In this commission is vested the power of selecting all grand and petit jurors. No citizen can serve unless he be on the commissioners' jury lists, and be drawn by them. The law which makes it the duty of the sheriff to make lists and impannel juries is repealed.

Each commissioner is to receive from the county treasury, compensation which may be ten dollars a day for the time employed, and there is no limit to the number of days he may be employed.

The above brief statement of the provisions of this bill proves, that it is a measure of more than ordinary importance. To the jurors of a county are committed not only the property of its citizens but also their liberties and lives.

A trust of immense responsibility is confided to those who have the selection of jurors. In this State that duty has always been performed by the sheriffs of the several counties. I am not aware that the trust reposed in these officers has been abused.

The verdicts of jurors in this State, have generally given great satisfaction, insomuch that to-day New Jersey is famed throughout the country for her strict but impartial administration of the law. Before we sanction an innovation of our law in this regard, established as it is by the experience of more than a century, we should be sure that the proposed change would give us better jurors.

What assurance have we that commissioners appointed by the major part of the common pleas judges chosen for the several counties by joint meeting of the legislature would execute this important trust with greater fidelity and impartiality than the sheriffs, who are elected directly by the people.

If we have just and fair men to select and impannel our jurors, it makes but little difference, practically, by whom they are chosen, or whether they are called by the name of commissioner or sheriff. But suppose the officer entrusted with this delicate and important duty shall abuse his trust, and use his office for corrupt or selfish purposes, it is very important that the people get rid of him as soon as possible. The sheriff is elected annually by a direct vote of the people, and if he prove unfit or unworthy, the position may be filled by another at the next election; but an incompetent or corrupt commissioner, appointed in the way this bill proposes, would be beyond the power of removal by the people. He may be retained as long as the major part of the common pleas judges shall determine. The judges themselves are independent of the people of the county, for they are appointed for five years by a body composed of representatives from every section of the State.

I have no doubt that the framers of the law so long existing in this state, which allows the sheriff to hold the office for three years, and yet requires his election every year, had in view this vital question, and intended that the people should not part with their control over the officer who had the selection of the jurors, to whom their dearest rights and privileges are committed. The trial by jury has been justly denominated the principal bulwark of the people's liberties. In the country from which we derive much of our judicial system it was secured by Magna Charta.

The constitution of every well governed State recognizes it as the corner-stone of good government, and declares that it shall remain inviolate. An eminent writer on the subject remarks, that "if the administration of justice be entirely left to the magistracy, a select body of men generally selected by such as enjoy the high offices in a State, their decision in spite of their natural integrity, will often have an involuntary bias towards those of their own rank and dignity, and it is not to be expected that the few should always be attentive to the interests and good of the many. It is therefore wisely ordered that the principles and axioms of law should be deposited in the breasts of the judges, to be applied to the facts that come before them.

"A competent number of sensible and upright jurymen, chosen from among those of the middle rank, will be found the best investigators of truth and the surest guardians of public justice.

"This arrangement, therefore, preserves in the hands of the people that share which they ought to have in the administration of public justice, and prevents the encroachments of the powerful and wealthy."

The doctrine thus clearly set forth by one of the ablest lawyers the world has produced, whose commentaries form the text-book of every student, recognizes the broad difference between the province of the judge and the juror, and teaches that this distinction should be maintained.

Under our law, the court already has great power. Through the charge and instructions to the jury, the judges in a measnre can shape the verdict, and if the result be against the law or the weight of facts, they may in many cases set aside the finding of the jury. They also have large discretion in allowing challenges, and thus may purge the panel of objectionable jurors.

If to all this we add the power of the court through its agents to select the whole panel of jurors, we break down that line of demarcation which our law has always recognized, and experience has proved to be essential to the proper administration of justice.

I am, therefore, clear in the opinion that the right of trial by jury, which has justly been called the glory of the law and the safeguard of popular rights, can only be maintained in its purity by continuing in the officer elected by the people, and annually responsible to them, the power of selecting our jurors.

The clause in this bill which requires that of the two commissioners, one shall be of each political party, may have been intended to prevent partisan bias and partiality in the selection of jurors, and it may have aided its passage, but whether it would have that effect is open to great doubt and would depend entirely on the character of the persons appointed as commissioners. This provision, however well intended, does not remove from my mind the objections to the bill hereinbefore expressed, and which relate to an important principle affecting our judicial system. I have not much faith in the practical efficacy of that class of laws which give the power of appointment, and yet trammel the appointing power with political considerations.

If there be a disposition to evade the intent and spirit of such laws it can easily be done. It matters not to what political party the commissioners to be appointed may belong, if they are upright and conscientious men; and if they are not such men they would not be fit persons to have the selection of jurymen, although attached to opposing political parties. My objection to such legislation is that the very law giving life to the appointing body expresses on its face a doubt of the fairness and impartiality of the tribunal it has created.

It is best to place full confidence in the appointing power, and then hold it to a strict responsibility for the character and qualifications of its appointees, without reference to their political views. Laws are of too solemn a character to recognize in terms the existence of partisan considerations.

Such provision is certainly not flattering to the tribunal invested with the appointment, nor is it flattering to human nature.

The objections thus far stated would apply to this bill if it were a general law extending to all the counties. But there is another and still stronger objection. Its provisions affect but one county of the State.

This species of special legislation is especially to be deprecated.

All laws relating to modes of procedure in our courts should be general in their applications. As well might rules of evidence differing from those which govern the proceedings of other legal tribunals, be prescribed for the courts of Hudson county, as to enact a different mode of selecting jurors.

If this be a good law for one county why not extend its provisions to all? Shall it be said that while the people of every other county of the State are capable of electing a sheriff to discharge all the duties pertaining to the office, that the people of the county of Hudson cannot be trusted to choose that officer, unless shorn of his most important functions? I am not willing to affix my signature to a bill, which in effect, if not in words, declares that the people of that county are incapable of self-government.

JOEL PARKER.

Mr. Sewell offered the following resolution:

Resolved, (House of Assembly concurring) That the Governor be and he is hereby requested and empowered to appoint by and with the consent of the Senate, a commission, to consist of two persons from each congressional district, to suggest and prepare amendments to the State Constitution, for submission to and consideration by the next Legislature; which commission shall meet at such time and place as the Governor by proclamation shall designate,

Which was read and agreed to.

Mr. Moore, Chairman of the Special Committee appointed to inquire into the truth of the charges made in reference to the passage in the Senate during the session of 1872, of an act entitled "An act to incorporate the Stanhope Railroad Company," made the following report:

To the Honorable, the Senate of New Jersey:

The special committee appointed to inquire into the truth of the charges made in reference to the passage in the Senate, during the session of 1872, of an act entitled " An act to incorporate the Stanhope Railroad Company," respectfully report, that they have examined such persons as they have had reason to believe could throw any light on the charges, and the evidence taken is submitted herewith as part of this report.

As these were first made in a direct and public manner, in the course of litigation between certain railroad companies, your committee, before taking any evidence, requested the counsel of the respective companies to appear at the public meetings of the committee, to aid with their suggestions, and to cross-examine witnesses, if they desired so to do.

From the evidence we are compelled to conclude, that the charges specified in the preamble of the resolution under which the committee was appointed, are substantially true, and that the so-called "Merger clause" in the eighth section of the Stanhope act, (being all of said eighth section after line 15, in the printed volume of laws,) was fraudulently inserted in the act without the knowledge of the members of the Senate.

The original manuscript was produced before the committee and did not contain this clause; the evidence of the Clerk of the House, and the Secretary of the Senate, corroborated by the journals and calendars of both Houses, proves conclusively that no amendment of any kind was offered to the bill in either house; none of the printed bills placed on the desks of the members of either house, so far as the committee could learn, contained this clause; the foreman of the printing office at which the current printing was done, testifies that the bill printed for and sent to the house did not contain it; this printer testified further, he caused fifty copies of a bill exactly like the original bill in other respects, to be printed with this clause added, for private use, but on examination forgot or concealed the name of the person ordering the fifty copies; what that "private use" was, appears from the subsequent history of the single fraudulent copy which has been traced; that was handed by Mr. Johnson D. Banghart to the engrossing clerk of the Assembly and the clerk testifies that he innocently made the engrossed copy from, and compared it with, that when subsequently the regular copy was received from the House he placed it in the engrossed bill and returned both to the committee, without further examination.

Mr. Banghart was duly subpœnaed to appear before the committee, after the evidence above referred to was taken, but failed to attend or send any satisfactory explanation; your committee regret that the shortness of time and other pressing duties prevented them from taking further action in the premises.

In conclusion your committee can only recommend increasing vigilance on the part of the officers of Legislature, upon whom great responsibilities are necessarily imposed, and a strict adherence to prescribed forms in the routine of legislative work.

These forms are wisely designed to secure the people of the State from the evils of hasty or inconsidered legislation, and should be adhered to.

Your committee ask to be discharged from further consideration of the subject.

WM. MOORE,
AUG. W. CUTLER,
J. HENRY STONE.

Proceedings of the Special Committee of the Senate of New Jersey, of the session of 1873, appointed under the resolution, a copy of which is hereto annexed, together with a report of the evidence taken by the committee.

WHEREAS, There appears upon the statutes of this State, of 1872, on pages 520, &c., a purported act entitled "An act to incorporate the Stanhope Railroad Company;" and whereas, it is charged that the 8th section of said act contains provisions which were inserted therein contrary to law, without the knowledge of the Senate, and were interpolated without the constitutional sanction of either House of the Legislature; therefore,

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to inquire into the truth of such charges, and to report at an early day, to the end that the Senate may take such action thereon as shall be proper, and that said committee shall have power to send for persons and papers, and to act in co-operation with any committee which may be appointed by the House, if deemed desirable.

Mr. Hewitt moved that the resolution lie on the table, as there were some phrases in it which could be advantageously corrected.

The motion was lost by the following vote:

Ayes—Banghart, Cutler, Edsall, Havens, Hendrickson, Hewitt, Lydecker, MacPherson, Williams, Wood—10.

Nays—Beesley, Cornish, Hopkins, Irick, Jarrard, Moore, Newkirk, Sewell, Sheppard, Stone, Taylor (President)—11.

Mr. Hewitt moved to amend the preamble by striking out the words "a purported" and inserting "an."

Agreed to without opposition.

The resolution was then adopted unanimously.

The President subsequently appointed as said committee, Senators Moore, Stone and Cutler.

After several public meetings, of which due notice was given, held to determine the line of investigation to be pursued, the committee met pursuant to adjournment, at the Senate Committee Room, in the State House, on Wednesday, February 5th, 1873, at 2:30 P. M., all the members of the committee being present.

Edward T. Green, Esq., presented the original manuscript "Stanhope bill," a copy of the printed bill to incorporate the Stanhope Railroad Company, with the affidavit of the Hon. Andrew Dutcher attached; a copy of the same with the affidavit of Hon. John W. Taylor attached, and another copy furnished by Hon. Charles Hewitt. He also presented the printed affidavits filed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in chancery, on application for an injunction, and a list of witnesses who would be able to give evidence touching the subject matter of the investigation.

The Secretary was directed to summon the Clerk of the House, the Secretary of the Senate, Senator Hewitt and Hon. Augustus C. Canfield, to appear before the committee on Monday, February 10th next, at 3 o'clock, to which time the committee adjourned.

G. A. ANDERSON, Secretary.

FEBRUARY 10, 1873, 3 P. M.

The committee met pursuant to adjournment.

All the members of the committee present.

The examination of the witnesses summoned by the Secretary was commenced.

Augustus C. Canfield, sworn :—(The original Stanhope bill produced and shown to witness); I see my signature on this bill and suppose it was the one introduced in the House by me.

(Judge R. S. Green here stated that he appeared on behalf of the parties who are now interested in the legislation which it is proposed to inquire into; he asked to be informed what course was intended to be pursued in reference to this investigation, whether the proceedings in the House were to be inquired into, or only the Senate proceedings; the Chairman stated that the Senate proceedings only were to be examined).

Mr. Canfield, resumed—That looks like the bill; I see my name on the back of it; that name is in my handwriting; I did not draw the bill; it was handed to me by Johnson D. Banghart already drawn; I don't think I took a look at it at all before I introduced it; I do not recollect when I put my name on the back of it, but I have no doubt it was before I introduced it; that was required by the rules; I do not know whose handwriting it is in, nor any part of it.

Cross examined by Judge Green:

I recognize the bill only by my signature on the back; I last saw this before Mr. Lanning, Master in Chancery; it was handed to me then by Senator Stockton; in the same condition then as now, so far as I know; in detached pieces, any how.

Sinnickson Chew, sworn:—(Original Assembly bill, No. 327, of the session of 1872, being shown to witness), he says I was Clerk of the last Assembly; the word "corps" on this bill is in my handwriting; it was put on by me immediately after the introduction of the bill; I have examined the calendar of the House since last session; there were no amendments offered to the bill while on its passage; I have made a special examination; there was no amendment either in the committee, noted, or in the bill, as originally introduced.

Cross examined by Judge Green;

I recognize the bill by marks on the back; in no other way; it is in detached pages now; I saw it last at Mr. Lanning's office; I don't know who had it; I saw it laying on the table; I don't recollect seeing it in Mr. E. T. Green's office; when before the Master it was in the same detached condition as now; I don't remember now as a fact whether it was fastened together when first introduced; the mark after section 8 is instruction to the compositor; I don't know in whose handwriting it is; I kept the bill from the time it was introduced until it went to the State Librarian; (Judge Green here asked for the production of witness' receipt-book, and he stated it was left with Mr. Lanning, to be used as evidence); that receipt-book has been in the fire proof of Assembly Chamber; Mr. Herbert Potts, Mr. E. J. Anderson and Mr. John Joline all had the knowledge of the combination.

Re-examined by Mr. Stone, of the committee, he says:

No other similar bill was introduced during the session; there was an effort made to snake another bill with similar character on the calendar without my knowledge, but it did not succeed; that was the German Valley bill; the bill was entered on the calendar in my absence, and given to and receipted for by the Chairman of the Committee on Corporations; it was discovered in this way: the Speaker's page, when he came to compare his calendar with mine, found they did not tally, there was one more bill on my calendar than on his; I went to the Chairman of the Committee on Corporations and he gave me the bill, and I locked it up in my fire-proof; Mr. Joy afterward made an effort to get the bill upon joint resolution; I do not think that bill still remains in the fire-proof.

Cross-examined by Judge Green, he says:

I do not recollect the title, the calendar shows.

Re-direct by Mr. Stone, he says:

Joline entered it in my calendar.

John F. Babcock, sworn :—I was Secretary of the Senate in the session of 1872; I have the journals. (Journals produced and identified).

Quest. What action was taken on Assembly bill, No. 327, in the Senate?

Ans. March 5, the Clerk of the House brought it in with other bills; same day referred to the Committee on Railroads, Canals and Turnpikes; Thursday, March 7, Mr. Hopkins, Chairman &c., reported said bill without amendment; Tuesday, March 12, the bill was taken up, read a second time and ordered third reading, and, under a suspension of the rules, taken up and read a third time; the bill was then passed, 15 to 0; any amendments, if made, would appear on my journal; I have all the minutes; calendar corresponds.

Cross-examined by Judge Green, he says:

The engrossed bill came from the House, was passed by the Senate; each page was stamped; accompanying each engrossed bill is a printed copy.

Charles Hewitt, sworn :—(Printed copy of Assembly bill, No. 327, session of 1872, being handed to witness) he says: That copy was on my table in the Senate, I recognize and identify it by a mark I placed on it, the word "private"; I was a Senator in 1872; I had no other copy of a bill entitled as this is; I keep a copy of every bill placed on my desk; I distinctly remember voting for this bill; I was about to inquire as to the word "elsewhere" in the sixth section, and changed my mind and voted.

Cross-examined by Judge Green, he says:

I took the bill home with me and there noticed the word "elsewhere" and one other feature in the bill.

James S. McDanolds, sworn:—Am State Librarian; (bound volume shown witness containing bills, printed); this volume was prepared by me; the bills came from the House of Assembly in due course.

Cross-examined by Judge Green, he says:

I was appointed in April; many of these bills were in the office when I came into the office; this volume has not been always in my possession; it has been with the court and in Mr. Wilson's office, at the committee room; this book is not required to be kept by law; it is a matter of convenience.

The examination was concluded at this point, and the committee adjourned until Monday next, February 19, at 3 o'clock, P. M.

G. A. ANDERSON,
Secretary.

SENATE COMMITTEE ROOM,
February 17, 1873, P. M.

The committee met pursuant to adjournment, all the members of the committee present.

The examination of witnesses was proceeded with.

Joseph Johnson, sworn:—I am a printer; reside in Trenton; was engaged at the office of the State Sentinel last year; that office did the current printing for the House; I recollect the Stanhope bill; do not recollect who brought it; it came with others through Dr. Freese; it was set up by several compositors; don't know who set up the 8th section; (the original bill being presented to witness, he says) this is the bill; the words "make even" in pencil, were put there by me; by no one's direction; for future convenience to save trouble; it was put at the end of the 8th section to save trouble in making an addition; we had an order for fifty copies in addition; the order came through the office; through the Dr. or Harry Freese; there was no alteration except in the 8th section; the fifty additional were printed with the 8th section enlarged; they were delivered in the office; I received the manuscript for the 8th section at the same time as I received the order for the fifty additional; I do not recollect the handwriting; I was told the extra copies were for private use; at the time these were being printed do not recollect any communication with any one besides Mr. Freese; no one reading the proof with me; do not recollect whether the Dr. or Harry gave me the extra copy; would not have taken such order from another, except in their absence; the 8th section was set up and printed after the others were printed, but cannot recollect who set it up; don't know what became of that copy; it was sent with the bill back to the office; the order to print the additional matter was mentioned at the time the original manuscript was handed, I think.

Quest. How long was it between the printing the original and the additional copies?

Ans. The same day; the original bill was sent to the House with other bills and those with the extra section were sent to the office; I sent printed bills to the House, usually; don't recollect that one particularly; did not send the extra fifty copies because outside affair; I sent them to the business office of the Sentinel; I should suppose it would be charged to outside parties; I do not know to whom those fifty additional copies were charged; don't recollect any conversation with anybody in regard to the addition; don't recollect ever having such an order before; don't know whether it would be very unusual, not more so than other things connected with the bills.

Jeremiah H. Lupton, sworn:—Was Engrossing Clerk of the House in 1872; have examined the engrossed bill since its passage; it was engrossed by the two Misses Beegle and myself. (Mr. Lupton was here directed to go to the Secretary of State's office to examine each page to see and report the handwriting of each page of the bill.)

Lemuel C. Reeves, sworn:—Was reading clerk of the House in 1872; as such read No. 327 in the House; have not seen it since the day it was read to the House; I presume it was read in the same manner as other engrossed bills; have no very distinct recollection of the circumstances attending the second reading; I read it in the usual manner; I know I read it, on second reading I read word by word from the printed copy; don't know where the printed copy I read from is, but presume it is in the bill; it was the copy sent to the engrossing clerk; have not seen that printed bill since, except on third reading; must have seen it then; know I have not seen it since the adjournment of the legislature; no part or portion of the printed bill was omitted; I can't remember whether I had conversations as to the bill prior to its reading; I had while the bill was before the House, with Mr. Johnson D. Banghart, and no other; first knew of the difference on the train from Trenton to Jersey City; the Governor's private Secretary came to me and said somebody had been playing smart on the Legislature and Governor on the Stanhope bill; I first knew what it was from the State Gazette; during its passage I had no reason to suspect fraud; Mr. Banghart requested me to look after the bill; at his request I went into the Senate when the bill was read there; Mr. Conover occupied the chair; I don't think any one informed me the bill was up before the Senate; I was keeping track of the bill at that time; only person who saw me in reference to the bill was Mr. Banghart; when I read the printed copy the additional printed matter now in the bill as published with the laws, was in; I read the eighth section word for word as it now stands on the statute book, to the best of my knowledge and belief; it was my custum to do so; the eighth section and the merger clause is just as it was in the bill at the time I knew it; I saw there were large powers in the bill but it was none of my business; I had no idea it was going to be used to build a through road; the engrossed copy, in the eighth section as I recollect generally, had all the matter that now appears in it; I don't recollect explicitly now; I did not know that there were printed copies on the member's tables which differed from the one I read from; don't know it now; have never seen any other; (Senator Hewitts' copy shown witness, he says): I think I read more than is contained in the copy I now hold; I cannot swear positively; my impression is I read more than is in this; I am sure there was more in the bill; I do not recollect that anybody asked me to omit anything that was in the bill, in reading; my attention was first called to the fact of additional matter, as before narrated; it must have been the last of April or beginning of May; it was before the session of the Mercer County grand jury next after the session of the Legislature was ended; I never said I left the state to prevent an indictment by that grand jury; don't recollect such a man as Mr. Yeomans, or ever meeting him; do not recollect whether any amendments were offered in the House; my impression is there were not.

Mr. Lupton, recalled:—I have examined the engrossed bill; I engrossed 1st, 2d, 4th, 5th, and 6th pages; Miss Anna Beegle engrossed the 3d, and from 7 to 19, inclusive, Miss Mary Beegle from 20 to 34, inclusive; Miss Anna Beegle engrossed the 8th section; she resides in Trenton; my stamp was kept in the engrossing clerk's closet, during the whole session, except when in use; I think I stamped every bill myself; my room was accessible while I was there, locked when I left; the bill was in a hurry for, and Mr. Banghart came to see me; he was the only person who spoke to me before the engrossing; after, Mr. Banghart came in and Mr. Reeves also; Mr. Banghart looked at the bill and said it was all right; something was said about sending it to the committee, but at that time I had not received the bill from the committee; I don't think Mr. Reeves looked at the bill; I don't recollect that the remarks were made by him; I delivered the bill myself to one of the members of the committee; the bill came fifteen or twenty minutes after Mr. Banghart looked at it; it was engrossed from the printed copy; what I engrossed, I engrossed in the afternoon; then took it to these ladies, and they finished it; we only had one printed copy for the three; I received the printed copy I think, February 28, from Mr. Banghart; it was compared with the printed bill it was engrossed from; I did not look to see if the bill sent me from the House was like the bill Mr. Banghart gave me; I put that bill from the House in, and handed them to the committee; the usual mark on bills sent me is in pencil, that they "passed;" that was on the bill sent me from the House; Mr. Reeves brought me the printed bill from the House; I didn't examine that nor the manuscript bill; Mr. Reeves had handed me bills before; the clerk gave me most of the bills, Mr. Joline some, Mr. Potts some; I have no means of telling who gave them to me; Mr. Reeves had given me bills before, not a great many.

John F. Joline, sworn:—Says, was journal clerk in session of 1872; my first knowledge of Assembly bill, No. 327, was in New York, and Mr. Banghart asked me about it; he said it was one of Canfield's bills, and asked me to look after it; I remember nothing more about it until passed; had no other conversation with Mr. Banghart; it was at the Metropolitan; I had appointed to meet him there, to get Nilsson tickets; I first knew of the difference, and that there were two printed bills, after the bill was signed by the Governor; it was at the American House; Mr. Reeves was there, and he told me something about the bill; that it was a bill to give the National a through line from Philadelphia to New York; that was subsequent to the adjournment; it was the day or day after the bill was signed; Mr. Jenkins and Mr. Babcock were with me at the entertainment that night; Mr. Reeves said that there were two bills printed; that the regular bills were printed, and that a single bill was printed with the addition, at the same time and place; that he kept the copy in his drawer, and that when the bill came from the Committee on Engrossed Bills, he abstracted the bill and inserted his; he said there was but a single bill with the 8th section in; it went to the Senate with the ordinary printed bill in; this was about two weeks before the final adjournment; the first time I told this was that evening; I told my father; after that I don't remember thinking anything more about it until I told Mr. Chew, when we were making up the minutes; Mr. Reeves did not tell me the name of any person for whom he did it; in truth I did not believe Mr. Reeves at the time, thought it was just fun.

James E. Hays, sworn:—I live in Camden; was in Trenton most every week last session; know nothing of Assembly bill, No. 327, except seeing it on the statute book; whatever conversation I had with Mr. Reeves was as his attorney; I was admitted to the bar November 1871; was retained by Mr. Reeves as his attorney last week in other matters; I was retained on a matter with one Allinson, some trivial matter; I cannot recollect when I was first employed by Mr. Reeves in this matter, at the time of the Allinson case, about a week or ten days after the adjournment; whatever conversation I had with him in regard to this matter was at that time; I was retained as his counsel at that time, and whatever conversations we had, were of a professional character; I considered that our conversation at that time was professional; I had no idea that he had to employ counsel in the case at that time; I was not employed as his counsel at that time in matters growing out of Assembly bill No. 327.

Quest. At the time you were retained by Mr. Reeves as counsel in the Allinson matter, were you retained as counsel by Mr. Reeves in any matter growing out of Assembly bill No. 327?

Ans. The witness first answers "no," and then changes the answer to "yes."

Quest. Why was there a necessity for Mr. Reeves to employ counsel at that time?

Ans. It was about that time the grand jury was in session, and Mr. Reeves heard this matter would come before the grand jury; Allinson matter was also before the grand jury; he was bound over for that; not for anything else; he did not at that time expect any other trouble but the Allinson matter, I think.

Quest. Do you say that every conversation that you had with Mr. Reeves in relation to Assembly bill 327, was had with you as his counsel?

Ans. I so considered it.

Quest. Have you not stated to parties the conversations that Mr. Reeves has had with you?

Ans. No sir.

Quest. Has Mr. Reeves ever retained you as his counsel or attorney in relation to Assembly bill No. 327?

Ans. No.

Quest. For whom were you retained as counsel in any matter growing out of the passage of Assembly bill No. 327?

Ans. Mr. Reeves.

Quest. When were you retained as counsel for Mr. Reeves in any matter growing out of the passage of Assembly bill No. 327?

Ans. From the Allinson matter to the close of the sitting of the grand jury.

Quest. Did you have any conversation with Mr. Reeves in relation to Assembly bill No. 327, between the time that he retained you as counsel in the Allinson matter and the time that he retained you as counsel in relation to Assembly bill No. 327?

Ans. No sir.

Quest. Have you acted as Mr. Reeves' counsel in relation to Assembly bill, No, 327, in any other way save by conversations with Mr. Reeves?

Ans. No sir; it was at his house in Burlington that he retained me in relation to matters growing out of that bill; it was after I had returned from Trenton after the Allinson trouble; I had no conversation with Mr. Reeves in relation to 327 at the time I was in Trenton on the Allinson matter.

Lemuel C. Reeves desired to make an explanation, and leave being granted by the committee, he said: Joline has made the remark that I told him the bill 327 was to make a through line for the National Railway; I wish to state that at that time I did not know of such a thing as the National Railway; I have already rebutted the rest of Mr. Joline's testimony in my evidence before the Court of Chancery; I have no further explanation to make.

The committee then adjourned to meet Wednesday night, February 19, at 8 o'clock.

G. A. ANDERSON, Secretary.

SENATE COMMITTEE ROOM,
FEBRUARY 19, 1873, 8 P. M.,

The committee met pursuant to adjournment.

All the members of the committee present.

The testimony was proceeded with.

Jacob R. Freese, sworn:—I am proprietor of the office known as the State Sentinel; was printer of current bills last winter; my brother was named as printer, I had oversight; had no knowledge of bill No. 327 until its announcement in the newspapers after the adjournment; have no knowledge of the fifty bills before testified to; never gave orders to print one hundred and fifty of one kind, and fifty of another of same bill; my foreman was Mr. Johnson; I discovered that Mr. Johnson had been dealing directly with parties and receiving money for extra work; I objected to him to that course; the first case I heard of him I believe he received $20 for extra work; he explained it was for extra work, and said it was usual; I finally allowed that to pass; I subsequently found that he continued the practice and discharged him for that reason.

Harry C. Freese, sworn:—I had charge of the bills at the Assembly last year, and had them printed and returned; never noticed No. 327 until after the adjournment; No. 327 was printed for Mr. Canfield as appears by my books; (the books of account of the Sentinel office in relation to matters pertaining to this investigation were here produced and proved); there is no other entry except of the regular edition for the House; I gave no order to Mr. Johnson to print fifty copies of a different kind from the regular bill; I could not have given such order without knowing it; I delivered the regular number February 26, as appears by my book; Mr. Johnson was discharged March 26; once in awhile I printed extra copies of bills; never a large number; don't think I ever did that and received cash; if extra copies had been printed it would appear on our books if it went through the office; Theodore W. Freese had charge of the office; besides him his nephew William B. Livingston received orders.

At this point the examination was concluded and the committee adjourned to meet at the call of the Secretary.

G. A. ANDERSON, Secretary.

SENATE COMMITTEE ROOM,
MONDAY, March 31, 1873, 3 P. M.

The committee met all the members being present, the Sergeant at Arms reported that he had served a subpœna upon Johnson D. Banghart requiring his attendance here at this time, by giving it to him in person at Jersey City; Mr. Banghart not appearing the Committee at four o'clock adjourned.

G. A. ANDERSON, Secretary.

Which was read and ordered to be spread on the Journal, and the Committee ordered to be discharged.

Mr. Williams, Chairman of the Special Committee, appointed to investigate in reference to a statement published in a newspaper called the "Evening Argus," on the 25th of March last, in regard to Assembly bill, No. 8, made the following report:

The committee appointed by the President of the Senate on the 26th ult., pursuant to resolution, to investigate in reference to a statement published in a newspaper called "The Evening Argus," on the 25th March last, in regard to Assembly bill, No. 8, which among other things charges "that not a step was made in the matter without due consultation with Scott or his trusted agents, and even the engrossed bill was carried to Philadelphia for his inspection, if not manipulation," beg to report, that in discharge of the duty imposed upon your committee, they have taken the depositions of William H. Van Nortwick, Henry M. Hamilton, and Hon. Charles Hewitt.

The said depositions prove to the satisfaction of your committee:

FIRST.—That William H. Van Nortwick is the editor of the newspaper called "The Evening Argus," published in the city of Trenton, and that he wrote and published the article above referred to.

SECOND.—That he wrote and published the charges in said article without any personal knowledge that they or any of them were true; but as a justification for so doing he states that he was informed by Henry M. Hamilton, an acquaintance in whom he had the utmost confidence as to veracity, that the engrossed bill (meaning Assembly bill, No. 8,) had been taken to the Pennsylvania railroad office, in the city of Philadelphia; but this statement of Mr. Van Nortwick is not supported by the evidence of Mr. Hamilton.

THIRD.—That the article was written and published by Mr. Van Nortwick, without personal knowledge that the charges therein made were true, and without information sufficient to lead any person desirous to write and publish only that which is true, to believe that they were true.

And in the opinion of your committee, Mr. Van Nortwick in writing and publishing charges of so serious a nature, without any knowledge whatever of their truthfulness, committed a great wrong, alike unjustifiable and inexcusable.

All which is respectfully submitted.

HENRY J. IRICK,
WM. H. HENDRICKSON,

Assembly bill, No. 454, entitled

An act to set off a new township from parts of the townships of Ocean and Shrewsbury, in the county of Monmouth, to be called the township of Eatontown,

Was taken up.

The objections of the Governor to said bill were then read as follows:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
TRENTON, April 2, 1873.

To the House of Assembly:

I return to the House of Assembly, where it originated, bill No. 454, entitled "An act to set off a new township from parts of the townships of Ocean and Shrewsbury, in the county of Monmouth, to be called the township of Eatontown, and for other purposes," with my objections thereto.

New townships should not be created unless it clearly appear that the public convenience would be promoted thereby. By the term public convenience, I do not mean the accommodation of a few individuals, for every new township must necessarily bring the place for holding elections and transaction of the town business nearer to a few persons. Upon applications for new counties or townships the question to be settled is whether a majority of the people to be affected by the proposed change will be benefited, and but few injured thereby. If the present inconvenience to the public be such as to justify the disturbing of ancient lines and the increase of expenses necessarily resulting from an increase in the number of officers, such applications should be granted, but not otherwise.

Applying this test to the present bill, it is evident that there is no necessity for the proposed new township. Very few persons residing within its limits are more than three miles from the places where the town business is now transacted. A large population in the eastern portion of the new township are nearer Long Branch and Oceanville, their present voting places, than they are to the village of Eatontown, where the town meetings and elections for the new township would be held. But few persons in the new township would be better accommodated than now, while a large majority would suffer positive inconvenience by the change.

In determining upon the propriety of setting off a township, our inquiry should not be limited to the effect upon the inhabitants within its borders, but we should also ascertain how it will cut the township or townships from which it is to be taken. Many members of the Legislature are unacquainted with the locality referred to in this bill, and I, therefore, send herewith a map which shows the present lines of the townships of Ocean and Shrewsbury, and also the boundaries of the proposed township. By examining this map, it will be seen that the townships of Ocean and Shrewsbury are long and narrow, and adjoin each other nearly their entire length. Shrewsbury township extends from the mouth of Shrewsbury river, southerly, a distance of about fourteen miles, while its width in some places, is less than two miles. Ocean township, from the Shrewsbury river to Shark river, is more than fourteen miles in length. If at any time a new township be taken from Ocean and Shrewsbury, it should include the entire southern portion of each, from the line of Atlantic township to the sea. Such division would accommodate the people of both townships, in the vicinity of Shark river, some of whom are now obliged to travel a distance of nine miles to election. The proposed township of Eatontown does not include any part of the territory where the people are thus incommoded, but embraces a district about four miles long and three wide, in the central part of the two old townships, where the people are already well accommodated. If this bill become a law, it will leave Ocean township over fourteen miles long, and where it connects with the southeastern part of the new township not more than a mile wide. Voters who reside in Ocean township would go across the new township nearly its whole width to get to Long Branch Village, where the township business of what remains of Ocean will be transacted, and some who reside in the southern part of Shrewsbury, in going to the polls, will pass through Eatontown Village, where the elections for the new township are to be held, and then travel more than three miles further to Red Bank, before they can deposit their ballots.

I cannot conceive of a single reason to justify the carving of these two townships as this bill proposes.

There is another serious objection to the bill. At the recent annual town meeting of the township of Ocean all the township officers were elected for the current year. Voters residing in the part of that township which this bill sets off, participated in the election of those officers. Some of the persons then elected reside in the territory embraced by the new township. Of this number is the gentleman who was elected chosen freeholder. The third section of this bill provides for a special election of town officers for the new township to be held on next Tuesday. If such election take place, the people of the new township will have participated in the choice of two sets of town officers in the same year. They will elect a chosen freeholder to represent the township of Eatontown, and they have already aided in electing a chosen freeholder for what will remain of the township of Ocean, both of whom will take their seats in the county board at the same time, unless the one already elected be decided ineligible by reason of being legislated out of the township of Ocean for which he was chosen. If Eatontown elect a new freeholder the one already elected could not act for the new township, for in Monmouth county each township is entitled to but one freeholder; and if he could not act for what remains of Ocean, by reason of non-residence, he would be legislated out of office by this bill. Even if he could legally act for Ocean township the Legislature should not place him in a position to do so after he is out of her territory and can have no interest in her affairs. If the proposed township be needed the bill should have been passed before the town elections in Monmouth county were held. Failing in this, it should have been postponed to the next session of the Legislature, or provision should have been made in the bill for this anomalous condition of things, either by providing that all officers already elected should hold during the term for which they were chosen for the township in which they reside, or by postponing the time for the law to take effect.

The passage of the bill at this time would produce other complications growing out of the vote of the late town meeting of Ocean raising money for ways and means and roads, for which no remedy is given. It is represented to me that in the preparation of the description of boundaries of the new township, a small part of the township of Ocean has been separated from its main body. If this be so (and it is a matter that should be inquired into), the bill is certainly improper, as every township should be composed of contiguous territory.

The final objection to this bill is that it violates the fourth section of article seventh of the Constitution, which provides that every law shall embrace but one object, and that shall be expressed in its title. The bill embraces two distinct objects. The words "and for other purposes," used in the title, prove that some object is contemplated, in addition to the setting off of a township. By reference to the eighth section, it will be seen that the bill not only creates the new township of Eatontown, but also removes from one legislative district to another a township located more than fifteen miles distant from the proposed new township of Eatontown. The people of the township of Matawan, cannot lawfully be transferred to another district without a special act for the purpose, the title of which shall clearly express such object.

Even if the Constitution permitted a bill to embrace more than one object, each object should be distinctly stated in the title. The words "for other purposes," are too vague and general. If this act be constitutional, then under its indefinite title, the Legislature, while creating a new township, might have set off the township of Matawan to the county of Middlesex, or chartered a bank, or authorized the construction of a railroad, for either of these objects might, with equal propriety, be covered by the term "for other purposes." In the haste of legislation this feature of the bill must have been overlooked.

Even if the township of Matawan could legally be transferred from the Third to the Second District by this bill, it would be wrong to do so. The population of the districts are nearly equal. Matawan is now in a district of compact territory, composed of townships of the same general character of land and population. The proposition is to put this extreme northern township of the county with the township of Wall, which lies in the extreme south, thus forming a district over twenty-five miles long, and in one place less than a mile wide. The people of these townships have different interests and are comparative strangers to each other. Since the last census the legislative districts were arranged after long and careful consideration, and they should not be interfered with without good cause. In this case no valid reason for the proposed charge has been given. But even if proper and desirable, it cannot be legally accomplished by this bill, which embraces a different object, has a title that gives no intimation of the alteration of legislative districts, and is, therefore, unconstitutional.

For the above stated reasons I respectfully return the bill for reconsideration.

I have received remonstrances against this bill, signed by a large number of citizens residing within the boundaries of the proposed new township, as well as within what would remain of the township of Ocean, which I herewith transmit for the information of the Legislature.

JOEL PARKER.

In closing the session of 1873, it is but simple justice that the Senate should recognize the ability of its presiding officer: therefore,

Resolved, That the Hon. John W. Taylor, the President of the Senate, having brought to the discharge of his duties the knowledge acquired as an active and working member of this body for three years as a Senator of the county of Essex, had learned by experience the rights of a member, and with this experimental knowledge, united to the study of years, in which he has become proficient in parliamentary law, he has succeeded so well in hastening the business of the session, without abridging the rights of a member or suffering a majority to override the rights of a minority, holding the Senate to a strict construction of and rigid compliance with its own rules, yet enforcing them with a mildness and gentleness of manner that has secured most perfect order, insured despatch in legislation without unseemly haste, and left nothing but pleasant and agreeable recollections in the minds of the members which we will carry to our homes, and in succeeding years will refer to the session of 1873, as one peculiar pleasure, because of the efforts of our presiding officer.

We therefore tender to him our thanks, and the thanks of the State, and while offering our congratulations express the hope that in all his future positions the same success will crown his efforts and reflect as great honor as he has secured as President of the Senate of 1873.
