President pro tempore Stout appointed Messrs. Jones and Kelly to escort Judge Sidney Goldmann to the rostrum for the purpose of administering the oath of office to President-elect Lance.

The oath of office as President of the Senate was administered to Mr. Lance by Judge Sidney Goldmann.

After the oath of office was administered, President Lance addressed the Senate as follows:

I welcome this opportunity to discuss some of the affairs confronting our State Government. I shall confine these remarks to a few major problems.

THE COMMUTER-PASSENGER SERVICE PROBLEM

The commuter-passenger service problem is the number one problem of an emergency nature confronting the State at this time.

The railroads claim that they can operate much of their passenger and commuter service only at a financial loss. A business recession in the first half of 1958 threatened the solvency of several of the large Eastern carriers. The Congress of the United States passed in August of 1958 a law which vested in the Interstate Commerce Commission, broader powers to permit railroads to discontinue passenger trains and ferry services which operate at deficits.

Tens of thousands of New Jersey citizens must rely on the commuter trains to take them to the sources of their livelihood in New York City, Philadelphia and metropolitan centers within our own State. The economic well-being of all the people of New Jersey is to some degree dependent upon our commuters finding a satisfactory means of transportation to their jobs.

This problem should be attacked simultaneously on several fronts. First, the Metropolitan Rapid Transit Commission after years of study and an expenditure of approximately one million dollars, recommended the creation of a bi-state rapid transit district for the New Jersey-New York City metropolitan region. The Senate in June of 1958 passed a bill which would have created such a district. This bill did not become law, and the 1959 Legislature should again give serious attention to the creation of such a district.

Second, a new State department should be created, to be designated as the Division of Railroad Transportation. This new department of State Government should be headed by a man who has had long experience in railroad transportation and who is nationally recognized as an expert in the field. He would try to keep the railroads in the passenger business rather than to drive them into the hands of Federal or State operation. It would be his responsibility to co-ordinate the efforts of all parties interested in solving the railroad transportation problem. He would attempt to co-ordinate not only the activities of the railroads, but also the activities of various State, bi-state and Federal agencies interested in railroad transportation. Drastic changes in the direction of reducing the financial losses of the railroads sustained in carrying passengers, must be made if we are to keep the railroads in the passenger business.

This co-ordinator would be expected to assist the railroads in all practical ways in reducing their financial losses and at the same time in keeping essential commuter service trains in operation. The Hudson and Manhattan Tube have been in bankruptcy for some time, and it may well be later than we think.

Third, the Metropolitan Rapid Transit Commission should be asked to continue its efforts. Out of its studies came a suggestion involving a capital expenditure of a half billion dollars. Would it be feasible to suggest alternatives with a more modest price tag?

Fourth, the Port of New York Authority should be induced to take a greater interest in the over-all problem. It should be expected to attempt to cope with the difficult problems of transportation involving deficits, and not expect to specialize solely in those forms of transportation which are money makers.

It is to be noted that some of the proposals contemplate the entry of a governmental agency into the field, while other of the proposals contemplate the continuation of private industry, the railroad, in the passenger business. It may well be that the ultimate solution will constitute the combined efforts of government and private industry.

WATER SUPPLY

In the recent 1958 general elections, the people of New Jersey approved by a 3 to 1 vote a bond issue of approximately 43 million dollars to develop vast new supplies of potable and industrial water. This legislation arose out of extensive hearings held by a Senate committee.

The State has already acquired title to the Round Valley Reservoir site and is now in the process of obtaining title to a second reservoir site on the Spruce Run.

However, the Governor and the two Houses of the Legislature have not as yet stated how Round Valley waters will find their way to the urban areas of metropolitan northeastern New Jersey, what private or public agency shall be responsible for the transport, and where the money will come from, for doing the job.

Much hard legislative work of an engineering and financial nature remains to be done. The Senate stands ready to co-operate fully with the Governor and the Assembly in implementing the 1958 referendum.

BOND ISSUE FOR COLLEGE BUILDINGS

The Senate in 1958 passed a bill for a bond issue for the construction of college buildings. This bill would have provided funds for buildings at Rutgers, The State University (Camden campus, Newark campus, New Brunswick campus and Douglass College), the 6 State Colleges (Glassboro, Jersey City, Montclair, Paterson, Trenton and Union) and the Newark College of Engineering. This bill failed to become law.

The Senate in the present legislative year will again support a measure to submit a college construction bond issue to the people for consideration at the general election.

COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIPS

The Senate on February 3, 1958, passed a bill for the creation of additional college scholarships. The student could select any institution of a collegiate grade in New Jersey.

The State Budget for many years has appropriated the same amount for scholarships. These scholarships will continue.

The Senate in the new legislative year will again support a bill to increase the number of competitive scholarships available to students who are New Jersey residents.

STATE AID TO LOCAL SCHOOL DISTRICTS

New Jersey is commonly referred to as a property tax State, meaning that the cost of local government (both municipal and school) falls upon the local real estate owner to a greater degree than in a majority of the American States. Taxes on real and personal property at the local level have more than doubled within a recent 10-year period.

Each year a greater percentage of our citizens inquire as to the possibility of increased State aid for schools. Such increased State aid to local school districts cannot be granted in any substantial sums, unless and until new sources of State revenues are developed. This means new taxes or increases in the rates of existing taxes.

For the members of either house of this Legislature to promise increased State aid to local school districts and to pledge simultaneously that there will be no new taxes, would be tantamount to the perpetration of a cruel hoax by us upon the 2,800,000 registered voters of New Jersey who have reposed in us a special trust to analyze for them candidly the facts and figures of government as we find them.

Balancing the State's Budget without new taxes is one thing, but a proposal for increased State aid in any substantial sums to the local school districts without new taxes, is quite a different thing. It is impossible to increase State aid to schools to any substantial degree, within the framework of our existing State revenues.

REAL ESTATE ASSESSMENTS

The Supreme Court of New Jersey in Switz vs. Middletown Township decided in 1957 that our statutory law has for several decades required all types of real estate to be assessed at true value—that is, 100% of current market value. Hearings in various parts of the State on the 100% assessment problem have been concluded by a Senate committee.

Based on information produced at these hearings and upon material set forth in the Ninth Report of the Commission on State Tax Policy in February of 1958, the Senate should assume the leadership in preparing this legislation.

It is my hope that the Senate will pass legislation involving the major problem of modifying the 100% clause during the first half of the present session and that the Senate will dispose of a myriad of auxiliary problems (such as municipal and school debt limitations and the gross receipts tax on public utilities), after the disposition of the major problem, but during the current legislative session.

LABOR AND INDUSTRY

The Senate will be alert to the needs of labor and at the same time seek to avoid the imposition upon industry of those millstones which would place New Jersey industry at a competitive disadvantage with industries located in other great industrial States comparable to New Jersey.

A look backward to economic conditions as they existed one year ago, reminds that the State was hard hit by unemployment at that time. About 9.4 per cent of the total labor force in New Jersey was unemployed in March of 1958. This was the highest unemployment rate since 1946.

The Senate was alert to the needs of the situation. On June 16, 1958, the Senate passed a bill extending the maximum period for the payment of unemployment compensation benefits from 26 weeks to 39 weeks. This bill became law as a temporary measure. The statute expires on April first of this year.

At one time in 1958 almost 50,000 persons in New Jersey who had exhausted their benefit periods under the regular program, were receiving payments which they would not have otherwise obtained but for the passage by the 1958 Legislature of this temporary unemployment compensation measure.

As would be expected, the recession created a substantial reduction in the New Jersey unemployment compensation fund. The fund paid out in 1958 about 186 million dollars in "regular jobless pay" or approximately 80 million dollars more than it took in. As a result, the balance in the fund dropped from 437 million dollars on January 1, 1958, to approximately 357 million dollars on January 1, 1959. This was the lowest year-end total in 16 years.

In addition, over 31 million dollars in "temporary jobless pay" was paid out in 1958 under the temporary program created by the Senate bill above discussed. Although the Federal Government is making this money available, our New Jersey fund must "repay" the Federal Government in the early sixties.

Consequently, if this figure of $31,000,000 under the temporary program were to be added to the deficit of $80,000,000 resulting from the regular program, it appears that $111,000,000 more was paid out during 1958 in unemployment compensation benefits than were collected in contributions from employers and employees.

How can this shrinkage in the fund caused by the recent recession be best remedied, so that the fund will again be strong and ready for another recession which could conceivably be longer and deeper? In this instance the two great labor unions have interests synonymous with those of industry.

Figures released by the United States Department of Labor have for some years shown that the New Jersey Unemployment Compensation Fund is administered with a greater degree of laxity than in most American States.

It is suggested that the Governor appoint a committee to recommend means for tightening the administration of the New Jersey Unemployment Compensation Fund, and that prompt legislative action be taken on the subject.

The time to build up the fund is in good times, so that it will be available for bad times.

The time to start preparing for the next recession is now, rather than a period which might be too late.

REAPPORTIONMENT OF ASSEMBLY SEATS

The State Constitution prescribes that the Assembly seats shall be reapportioned after each Federal census. Legislative compliance with this constitutional mandate is many years overdue.

The Senate passed in 1958 a constitutional amendment for such apportionment. Several counties have experienced substantial increases in population. More counties are interested in reapportionment today than 5 years ago.

Either a reapportionment statute or a reapportionment constitutional amendment should be adopted by both houses. It should provide for a reapportionment process which will be automatic or self-executing in the decades to come. The same formula which has been used by the House of Representatives for apportioning its 435 members among the States would seem suitable for our purposes.

THE CONDUCT OF OUR BUSINESS

The Majority Leader, the Senator from Sussex, informs me that it will be his goal to continue certain policies followed last year for the conduct of the business of this house. First, sessions will start as near to the hour of 2:00 P. M. as possible; second, the majority party will endeavor to avoid recessing the regular meeting, once it starts, for the purpose of holding party conferences—a procedure which can be annoying to, and time wasting for, not only the minority, but also the press and the public; third, gubernatorial nominations under a practice of long standing in this State are referred by the Senate President to the Judiciary Committee, and under our practice of equally long standing, the Majority Leader is the Chairman of the Judiciary Committee.

The Majority Leader advises me that his committee will meet prior to the regular meeting of this house, for the purpose of considering the nominations already received from the Governor by the Senate, with the result that the consideration of gubernatorial appointments will not impinge upon the legislative working hours of this body.

CONCLUSION

To us, the members of this 183rd Legislature, it would appear that major problems beset us at every turn. However, with co-operation and good will, most of them will somehow ultimately be solved.

On motion of Mr. Harper, the privileges of the floor were extended to Mrs. Josephine Levergood, Hunterdon County, who presented a gavel to President Lance on behalf of former President of the Senate Arthur Foran.

Mr. Stout moved to proceed to the election of a permanent Secretary, which motion was adopted.

Mr. Stout nominated Henry H. Patterson, of the County of Monmouth, as permanent Secretary of the Senate. There being no further nominations, President Lance directed Mr. Roy J. Schleich to call the roll.

GOVERNOR'S ANNUAL MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE

January 13, 1959

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker and members of the Senate and General Assembly:

It is once again my duty and privilege, at the beginning of a new session, to advise you on the legislative needs of the State. New Jersey, part of a Federal Union which now contains, I am happy to say, 49 States, has its own special problems for whose solutions you, as the Legislature, and I, as the Chief Executive, are responsible. We cannot shirk the tasks that lie before us. For my part, I pledge the fullest cooperation of the Governor's Office and the 14 executive departments in our joint endeavor.

You are here as the elected legislative representatives of the people, who themselves cannot, in the nature of things, study and make judgments upon the many issues that confront a law-making body. In the halls of this State House are many special lobbies but, for the people as a whole, you are their lobby. You were sent here by their vote to seek out the various ways in which the whole public interest can be served and, by your industry, your wisdom and your character, to make the right decisions. That is the solemn method of democracy. That is the kind of thought and action that can make your work luminous in the eyes of the State.

As I say, the people themselves cannot make themselves heard on every phase of a complicated legislative program, but they have many ways of measuring and valuing a Legislature's total performance. They will learn through the press and other means of communication, and through word of mouth, what kind of performance this session brings forth. And the people's voice, silent now, is heard eloquently at the polls. On November 3, 1959, less than 11 months from today, 72 of the 81 seats in the Legislature go for judgment to the jury of the people. They will speak then.

LEGISLATIVE INACTION

In the last legislative year there were many bills approved by the General Assembly on which the Senate did not act. Each House, of course, has its own duty and responsibilities. If this inaction resulted from no more than a difference of opinion, I would make no mention of it.

This was not the case. If there were differences on a bill, it would be expected that the Senate would have proposed appropriate changes or would have made some attempt to reach agreement through conference. Instead, these measures were merely bottled up in the Senate caucus, about which much has been said in the past.

There was, for example, the bill to extend rent control at the local level. There was a bill to revise our insurance laws. There were several bills to clear up troublesome parts of our Workmen's Compensation laws. There was a bill to establish minimum wages on an intrastate basis. There were bills dealing with the embezzlement of trust funds, with the improper obtaining of money by public officials, and with the removal of members of county election boards. The Assembly sent across a bill to close loopholes in our laws which limit liquor licenses.

It acted on another to establish standards for the reporting of crimes so that law enforcement officers might improve their performance. It approved a bill to insure that brakes on trucks would meet essential standards of safety. It provided for needed changes in the schedule of fees for the Public Utilities Commission so that it might be better staffed to handle its tremendously increased workload.

Again, legislation was proposed to allow tax appeals to be heard by single members of the State Board, so that cases could be decided within months instead of years. In addition, there were many bills dealing with the internal housekeeping of government, such as the bill to provide a broader basis for the investment of State funds.

On all of these—and many were not controversial—there was not only inaction, but a complete absence of communication. This was a serious failure which the public will recognize as some evidence of the way their elected representatives carried out their duties—or failed to.

In mentioning these failings of the Senate, I do not suggest that the Assembly was perfect. It does have significant achievements to its credit, however, for it processed a substantial number of Senate bills, and activated a working committee system. With a full year of experience under new leadership, I am sure that the Assembly will acquit its responsibility to achieve a sound program this year.

Since the matters I have mentioned still require attention, I recommend that both Houses join in a common effort to take proper action on them.

Several matters of unfinished business deserve more extended comment.

RAPID TRANSIT

The first has to do with the common plight of the commuter and the railroad. The original proposal advanced last year met with more opposition than support. In the area most affected, which contains more than half our population, it was rejected. We must now find an acceptable formula.

After much study, an Assembly committee substitute for the original bill was reported out. I recommend that bill to you for serious consideration. Its exact form is not important. What is important is that it fixes policy and creates an agency to follow through.

This critical problem developed gradually over decades, and from many causes. There is no single magic solution. We must work at it steadily, starting in those areas where the most can be accomplished in the least time, and then moving to the long-range aspects.

Any real hope for solution must meet certain minimum requirements:

One: The prime objective of the agency should be to preserve the essentials of our present system. This would include making the best use of trains, buses and other means of transportation.

Two: The agency must have the guidance, aid, and participation of all agencies of government, State or interstate.

Three: The agency must be efficient and able to act quickly and surely.

Four: New Jersey's wide experience with interstate agencies requires that the decisions of the agency be by majority vote of the members from each State, to preserve the sovereignty of the participating States.

Five: The agency must be made directly responsible to an elected public representative. Gubernatorial veto power over actions of the agency will achieve this.

Six: The agency must be responsive to local groups, municipal and private.

Seven: Since the heart of the problem is commutation across the Hudson River, close interstate cooperation with the State of New York is essential. Discussions with New York should precede enactment. My office has already taken steps to work closely with the new Governor of New York and his staff to avoid delay from the recent change of administration there.

Eight: The clear public policy should be to resolve the problem by testing the achievement of each step before attempting the next.

TAXATION

Another matter of unfinished business is revamping our laws for the assessment of property taxes. This tax is not a State tax, but is the main source from which local governments provide their services.

After receiving the Ninth Report of the State Tax Policy Commission, I expressed approval of its Second Alternative Proposal. This course was not adopted. What is now needed is an expression of fundamentals that must be met, followed by an exploration of the available choices and a selection of those commanding general agreement. The final details must satisfy the underlying fundamentals, and there must be a real determination to reach agreement. The fundamentals are not hard to specify.

First, fair play demands equality of treatment within taxing districts. Other factors require that the standard be the same throughout the State.

Second, any substantial change in the system will have unpredictable effects. In some cases these could be severe. The legislation must provide means to prevent undue hardship.

Third, the particular assessment ratio chosen is not critical. What is important is the total amount of a taxpayer's annual tax bill, and the assurance that he has not been assessed for more than his fair share.

Fourth, there are collateral statutes which will be affected. These must be conformed to the major amendments.

Fifth, a revised system will involve a tremendous administrative effort, including careful revaluation. For this task, there are just so many trained people available, and there are limits to how much they can do well in a given time. This must be allowed for in fixing the effective date for the new system. It should provide a time short enough to discourage delay and long enough to insure quality performance.

Sixth, provision must be made for an orderly transition. The Director of the Division of Taxation might be assigned to review the status of revaluation programs, the availability of experts, and the establishment of an orderly revaluation schedule. Although some 200 municipalities have undertaken to revalue, more than 350 have not. Revaluations take so long that, unless properly kept up, the first may be obsolete before the last is finished. Periodic review of local assessment rolls, and the building up of a body of capable assessors are necessary. The key to real improvement lies not in the details of the system but in the quality of assessment in the first instance, and in preventing revaluations from becoming obsolete and inequitable.

The importance of this point cannot be overemphasized. We face this problem today because of local failure to carry out assessing duties properly. I have seen examples of homes, in the same district, selling in today's market from as low as $6,500 to as high as $16,250, yet all assessed at the same $4,000 valuation. In another district, homes ranging in price from $6,700 to $21,750, were all assessed at $3,500. While these are just examples, and by no means conclusive, they are indications of how far from fair and equal treatment some cases have gone.

If these injustices are to be corrected, legislation alone will not accomplish it. Only sincere and competent local officials can do it. Perhaps the greatest impetus to uniformity would be the publication of local assessments.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST

It is unwise not to spell out State policy to guide governmental officers and employees. It is a disservice to the public not to mark off the boundaries of proper and improper activity by public officials. We need have no misgivings about the dedicated public servant, but for those occasional few for whom the guide of conscience is too frail, the rules must be clearly stated. Proper legislation to regulate and prevent conflict of interest is needed to inspire public confidence in government.

The General Assembly has taken a commendable first step by adopting rules for the regulation of its own members. This is not enough. Good legislation on this subject should be approved without hesitation.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

Law enforcement is a primary State responsibility. It must have the support of sound legislation. One bill to be offered will authorize prosecutors, on the basis of a court order, to obtain answers from key witnesses upon a grant of immunity. Amendments will be offered to extend the present law on bribery of labor officials to indirect payments. Enactment of a suitable police training law will provide the way for New Jersey's police efficiency to become among the first in the nation. The crime reporting law is needed as much in 1959 as it was in 1954, the year of my first request.

Legislation to bring all charitable trusts under the surveillance of the Attorney General will be submitted. New legislation adding a registration and licensing requirement to the present law on fraudulent sale of securities will be offered. There will also be a bill to give better protection to the perpetual care funds of cemetery companies.

TRAFFIC SAFETY

The average citizen, good driver though he may be, is exposed to the danger of the speeder, the weaver, the reckless and the drunk. An administrative program to take away the driving licenses of speeders was put into effect with the start of the year. Early experience indicates it is working well.

We need to have similar action to deal with the drunk driver. I recommend for your consideration a legal requirement that every driver be called upon to agree to a scientific test of sobriety as a condition of being allowed to drive. The object should be to make possible a prompt and accurate determination of fitness to drive, and should be as much for the protection of the fit driver as for the detection of the unfit.

During the year, the system of spot checking for motor vehicle violations was intensified throughout the State. Improved reports of accidents are giving better information on serious accidents and will help determine major causes as well as guide educational and enforcement efforts. County traffic coordination is an important part of this work, and a bill providing such an office will be offered.

EDUCATION

To a large degree, the future of our State and Nation is in our colleges and universities. They prepare our teachers to inspire and guide our children to become tomorrow's useful citizens. They stimulate those who labor at the frontiers of knowledge.

The program for additional buildings at Rutgers, at the six State Colleges and at Newark College of Engineering as recommended by the State Board of Education should proceed. As I said last year, either a bond issue or a series of annual appropriations, as the Legislature may prefer, will be acceptable to me.

As to a scholarship program, the Legislature should note the importance of early action if it is to have any meaning for the 1959 school year, because a staff will have to be organized, and applications processed this Spring.

CONSUMER PROTECTION

The State must provide better protection for the consumer. The squeeze of rising prices, the impact of heavy Federal income taxes, and narrowing profits in many enterprises have encouraged the unscrupulous to increase their activities at the expense of the consumer.

The common law doctrine "Let the buyer beware" has its limits in the complexities of the modern era. The common law buyer could expect to bargain on fairly equal terms. He bought simple merchandise, easily examined, easily evaluated. He dealt mainly with merchants and traders with whom he was personally acquainted.

Today's business is largely anonymous. Goods are made and shipped all over the Nation. The buyer often places orders by telephone. While most of our manufacturers and traders maintain a high level of business ethics, there are those who are no more than confidence men, looking for victims to fleece.

Thus, there are merchants who pretend to sell bargains at attractive prices, only to reap more in the end than the legitimate merchant. They bleed the consumer and rob the honest trader.

Some examples disclose heavy-handed service charges on installment sales, many as high as 30% to 40%, and some over 100% a year on top of the purchase price. There is now no legal limit to these charges. Other abuses include the use of agreements signed in blank, and the imposition of excessive insurance requirements, both as to amount and coverage. It is the State's responsibility to regulate these practices by law.

Such measures should be carefully designed. They should be self-executing and should provide for rapid remedy in our courts. They should create a minimum of administrative burden. They should encourage the honest and deter the unscrupulous.

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION

The original concept of our unemployment compensation laws was that benefits should bear some reasonable relationship to wages. However, rising wage levels, along with the declining purchasing power of the dollar, have tended to make the present maximum of $35 a flat, fixed amount with no realistic relationship to wages.

The program is also constructed on an insurance concept. Thus, it is necessary that any upward adjustment of benefits must be balanced by corresponding changes in other parts of the law. There must be tighter control to prevent abuses and unwarranted drains. Coverage should be extended to employers of one or more, and contribution rates adjusted to keep the system in balance.

One difficult aspect of this subject is the unfair competitive condition fostered by the failure of the Federal Government to provide any kind of minimum standards for all States. Here, the Federal Government, having initiated the program on a basis calling for State administration, has wholly failed to prevent some of the States from adopting programs so inadequate as to be almost meaningless. Such programs, of course, cost little, and this fact has been used to entice industry to those States. This activity, in turn, creates local unemployment in areas where realistic programs have been put into effect, causing severe drains upon their resources.

A single State, by itself, is powerless to legislate in any effective way to cure this condition. We should press for Federal action so that we can carry our own program forward.

We can and should enact a realistic minimum wage law applicable to men as well as women. The problem of the migrant worker will probably require separate interstate action. I renew my request for a sound State Labor Relations Act to function in those cases not reached by the Federal law.

STATE BUILDINGS

I regret that we have made little progress toward providing more efficient space for State offices. Despite the fact that it would cost New Jersey nothing to construct a building for the Department of Labor and Industry, the Senate refused to act beyond providing funds, at its December meeting, for acquisition of land and the preparation of plans.

This is particularly inadequate because in taking only a tiny step, the Senate failed to indicate how much it would provide for the building itself. Without this information, plans and specifications are meaningless.

Let me read to you what was said in the resolution adopted by the New Jersey Employment Security Council at its meeting last month:

“* * * the Federal Government has, for the past three years, strongly urged that New Jersey promptly consolidate under one roof the headquarters operations of the Division of Employment Security, which now are distributed in eight scattered locations, and the Regional Director of the Federal Bureau of Employment Security recently stated to the Council that New Jersey has the most chopped up and inefficient headquarters arrangement of any State with which he was acquainted.”

The report noted that the funds needed were available from Federal sources, and that the building would be self-financing; that the delay of the last three years means an increase of over 30% to construct the same building. It urged action to assure early construction.

You will recall that I made this recommendation early in 1956, and again in the fall of 1956, in January of 1957 and then in January of 1958. The only bill passed so far is a case of "too little and too late."

TREASURY

For the Treasury Department, I recommend a bill for the hearing of tax appeals by single hearing officers. Until agreement on more extensive changes can be reached, at least this essential step should be taken to get the appeal calendar current.

A bill will also be offered to broaden the basis for investing State funds. Over the last fiscal year, the effective rate of earnings on long-term investments rose above 4%. This good record can be further improved and the public will benefit.

JUDICIARY

One area of judicial operations where important progress can be made is in the improvement of the law of evidence. The subject has now had full study and discussion. We have two extensive reports, one by a committee of the Supreme Court and the other by a commission of the Legislature. On the need for improvement and on the details of the proposals as well, there has been general professional agreement and support. The only matter unresolved was the way to put it in effect. I believe that this one remaining question can be agreeably resolved. I recommend that this be given high priority so that the goal may be realized this year.

AGRICULTURE

Many of the problems of agriculture are economic and are greatly influenced by policies established at the Federal level. Nonetheless, each State possesses means to help stabilize the agricultural economy and to encourage the proper use of agricultural lands. Here, in New Jersey, great assistance to the farmer has been provided through expanded programs in our Department of Agriculture for promotion and marketing of New Jersey products. Much help has also come from the outstanding work done at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Rutgers.

A bill will be prepared and submitted for your consideration to help in the work of soil conservation by establishing a broader program to prevent losses from flood and sedimentation, and to insure the existence of adequate systems and supplies for irrigation.

DELAWARE RIVER BASIN

Conservation of natural resources is also the subject of a survey by the U. S. Army Engineers dealing with the Delaware River Basin. When the studies are completed we will need a suitable agency to coordinate the efforts of the Federal, State and local governments. It will doubtless involve the negotiation of an interstate compact.

After several years of effort, meetings with the State of Delaware have been initiated to explore how the two States may best solve common problems of transportation and economic development in the Delaware River and Bay Area.

I am happy to report that the meetings have begun in a highly cooperative spirit, and with a clear appreciation by both States that neither alone can hope to accomplish the work. When a specific agreement is reached, it will be promptly presented to the Legislature for consideration and approval.

INTERSTATE PROBLEMS

The pattern of State and Federal responsibility has left some areas to negotiation and action by several States acting in concert. New Jersey has more experience in such relationships than any other in the Nation. One of our most pressing problems of this kind is getting fair treatment for our citizens who are subject to the income tax laws of other States. While progress must be based on voluntary agreement, efforts to demonstrate the injustice must continue.

WATER RIGHTS

Last November New Jersey took a great step forward when it approved the program for the Round Valley and Spruce Run reservoirs. In addition to that program, our growing population requires exploration of other ways in which future water needs can be met.

The problem has been studied in many parts of the country, and there appears to be general agreement that existing law governing surface water rights is no longer suited to modern conditions.

A bill is in preparation to provide a reasonable means for making the best use of our surface water supplies and reducing losses through misuse, waste and runoff. It will involve a review of the suitability of certain common law principles that have been in effect for centuries.

BOATING ACCIDENTS

Boating accidents on the waters of New Jersey have increased their toll from one death in 1956 to 13 in 1958. The ever more intensive use of our waters requires more effective law enforcement measures. Our present law is at about the same stage as our motor vehicle law was when the auto became popular. A new set of principles for the control of tidal and non-tidal waters for boating purposes is now in preparation and will be sent to the Legislature early in the session. This will include the registering of small outboard motor vessels, a matter left to State regulation by the recent Federal law.

HOUSING

The Attorney General has successfully defended the constitutionality of our Blighted Areas Law, and further review has been denied by the United States Supreme Court. This is a momentous decision as it will free substantial Federal funds for redevelopment and should speed action on this important program.

LAW REVISION

The subject of law revision, while not one that excites the imagination, is perhaps one of the most important of all legislative responsibilities. Some antiques are precious, but antique laws are shackles.

New Jersey has tended to follow the patterns of a more leisurely era. It has usually made a wholesale revision whenever our laws became so bad as to be scandalous.

This is not good law revision. When the 1937 revision was enacted, it was supposed to be kept current by regular effort, but this was soon forgotten. Revision should be continual.

I have already mentioned one subject, our insurance laws, where prompt revision is important. Insurance has been held to be interstate commerce, and the Federal government has allowed a time for the States to show that they are ready, able and willing to carry the responsibility of sound regulation. Unless this work is done well and done promptly, the Federal government can be expected to intervene and supersede the jurisdiction of the States. Certainly, New Jersey, as one of the leading centers of the Nation's insurance activity, should be in the forefront of this effort.

Revision does not mean a mere collection and rearrangement of existing laws. That way lies confusion. Our present Title 40, now in process, is a good example. Never revised, even in 1937, it is a bramblebush even for the expert. After extensive work, several parts will be presented at the current session.

The Legislature should initiate a program for continual revision. Some titles are already in process. In addition to the ones mentioned there will be a revision of Title 18, dealing with Education, as well as of Title 51, Weights and Measures; Title 55, Tenement House Supervision; and Title 45, Professional Boards. A draft revision of Title 48, Public Utilities, is now undergoing review. Studies have begun in preparation for a revision of our General Corporation Act, Title 14.

In these efforts, the degree of legislative participation has been less than it ought to be. I guarantee that more time spent on sound revision will sharply reduce the need for the myriad piecemeal bills annually introduced.

We should have a program for cases where a need for change is discovered from judicial interpretation of the law. The opinions of our courts, in proper cases, point out specific problems which have actually arisen. There should be some workable method by which these can be taken up, discussed, and the legislative policy expressed. One such instance was that affecting the liability of charitable organizations. A law extending the prior rule until June 30, with some modification, was enacted last year. This problem should be resolved by appropriate permanent legislation at the current session.

REAPPORTIONMENT OF THE ASSEMBLY

The Legislature cannot forever postpone its duty to reapportion seats in the General Assembly. Action has been stalled by a fear that some large counties may lose seats to small counties, thus heightening the legislative strength of "acres" at the expense of people. While various recognized methods of apportionment may give differing results, reapportionment need not involve the feared consequence. The problem should be restudied and acted on.

Congressional redistricting is another essential State duty too long neglected. The disproportion of representation has now reached an extreme, from lowest to highest, of just about 50% of the average population per congressman, based on 1950 census figures. This is bound to be aggravated when the 1960 census is taken.

Legislation to extend the use of voting machines and to simplify registration procedure should also be adopted.

INSTITUTIONS AND AGENCIES

The commission appointed last year to study the Department of Institutions and Agencies has nearly completed its report. This was the first broad review of that Department in over 40 years. The legislation to be recommended by the commission should be considered seriously.

EMERGENCY GOVERNMENT

Although the Federal government has the primary responsibility in military matters, important programs for civilian defense and for survival have been assigned to the States for action.

Under existing law, a prototype plan to meet survival needs in case of nuclear attack has been issued. It will now be used as a guide for other local areas.

One aspect, however, needs legislative action. That involves making arrangements to insure that essential governmental functions can be conducted if there should be a cataclysmic disaster.

I believe that the standard proposals offer arrangements which are too involved and too cumbersome to be dependable. I therefore suggest that the Legislature promptly establish a legislative commission, which should include representatives from both Houses, from the Judiciary, from the Executive Branch and from the public, to consider the various available choices and to submit recommended legislation. The commission should consult with groups from the legal profession which have already made important studies, as well as with the civil defense organization.

The object of the legislation should be to provide realistically for the succession of key government officials and for the establishment of emergency bodies in the event of a disaster which disrupts our normal processes. We must, if at all possible, be ready to function effectively under some form of emergency civil government, rather than under martial law.

CONCLUSION

I have pointed to some of the major problems which face this Legislature. I want to add that all of the facilities, experience and talents of the Executive Department are available to you. We have outstanding experts. The Legislature should make use of them. Most of the subjects to come before you involve Executive as well as Legislative responsibility and I again assure you of my wholehearted desire to have better communications with the Legislature. You should use the best available sources to get the facts.

There has always been rivalry between the Executive and the Legislative branches, as well as rivalry between parties and between Houses. All of us should rise above that rivalry in achieving a legislative record for the good of our citizens.

Let us also have a short, hard working session, without delays and postponements. Let us not quibble over sponsorship or origin.

Let us have decision, whether yea or nay. Let us have approval or rejection of nominations. Let us have issues voted on publicly.

Cooperation is a two-way street. You may be assured that my party and my office are ready and eager to join in the common effort.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

BUDGET MESSAGE

To the Members of the Senate and General Assembly:

In presenting my Budget Message to the Legislature of New Jersey, I have attempted to prepare a document that is honest, forthright and realistic. This Budget is balanced. It gears expenditures for the coming fiscal year to available and anticipated revenues without resort to new taxes and without increased rates for existing taxes.

These words are from my first Budget Message to you on February 15, 1954. They are just as true in this Message.

In view of widely publicized deficits and the need of so many of our sister States and of the Federal Government for new or additional taxes, this should be gratifying to all of us in New Jersey.

NOT FOR SPENDING'S SAKE

Although this is a prudent Budget, it responds to operational and maintenance necessities. It provides for increases where needed or mandatory. It does not propose to spend for the sake of spending. This Budget meets the enlarged operating needs of our State colleges and University; it provides the increases required by law for our State aid programs for education and welfare, and it will make it possible to receive all the Federal funds available to New Jersey for highway construction.

BUDGET REQUESTS

Requests from all agencies of the Government totalled $530,445,785. Toward these requests, I am recommending appropriations of $403,325,022 for the fiscal year 1959-60, and $3,749,952 as supplemental appropriations for prior fiscal years.

REVENUES

Resources available for these appropriations total $412,553,127. A recent study of realized revenues and revenue trends for the current fiscal year discloses that we will earn approximately $11,000,000 more than was expected when last year's Appropriations Bill was enacted. In spite of the recent dip in the country's economy, revenues from inheritance taxes, motor fuels taxes, motor vehicle fees and cigarette taxes have all been well in excess of original estimates.

A SURPLUS IN PROSPECT

At the present time, we have not yet had returns from the revised corporation tax law. When the Appropriations Bill was under consideration by last year's Legislature, it was predicted that the total revenue from the revised tax on corporations, including net worth and net income, would be $56,300,000 in the current fiscal year. I will rest on that prediction. If it is realized, we shall end the current fiscal year with a surplus of $15,309,567 after providing $3,749,952 of supplemental appropriations which I have recommended.

After evaluating the trend over the past ten years, it appears that revenues of $393,493,608 will be produced in 1959-60. Together with the estimated surplus of $15,309,567 on June 30, 1959, resources will total $408,803,175.

THE BUDGET IN BRIEF

Estimated Surplus, June 30, 1960	$5,478,153

THE INCREASES—AND DECREASES

The total recommendations of $403,325,022 represent an increase of approximately $9,800,000 over appropriations for the current fiscal year. This difference—analyzed in detail at the end of this text—is attributable substantially to increases for State Aid of $8,699,000; General State Operations, $11,025,000, and Capital Construction, $1,376,000; and to decreases in Capital Construction for Education of $9,490,000 and General State Operations of $1,743,000.

EDUCATION

Increases approximating $10,000,000 are recommended for educational purposes. They include $4,800,000 to insure the actuarial soundness of the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund and for social security payments for teachers throughout the State. An additional $3,300,000 is recommended for aid to local school districts. Approximately $1,800,000 is included for additional teaching personnel and other costs at our State institutions of higher learning.

Strides have been made in the field of higher education in New Jersey. The six State colleges have set a new enrollment record each year since 1955. There are now enrolled the equivalent of 10,000 full-time students in their combined undergraduate, part-time, field extension and graduate programs.

NEED FOR MORE TEACHERS

In spite of the increased number of graduates from these colleges, the demand for qualified teachers in New Jersey far exceeds the supply. In fact, the six colleges still prepare fewer than twenty per cent of all the new teachers employed in our public schools. In response to the demand for more college facilities, the six State colleges are planning to admit the equivalent of 900 additional full-time students next year. Funds are provided in this Budget for the teaching personnel required to meet this added load. There is also provision for related operating needs, including libraries.

Of the total number of 10,000 students, 2,000 are enrolled in the part-time, graduate and field extension programs of the State colleges. In the fiscal year covered by this Budget the State Board of Education plans to increase the tuition charge for these courses. This Budget recommends the appropriation of such fees over and above those anticipated in the Budget. By following this procedure, these courses will become self-sufficient and will require no State tax moneys.

NEED FOR EXPANSION

The 1958 Legislature appropriated $6,052,500 for new buildings at Glassboro, Newark and Paterson State Colleges. We expect that some of these buildings may be ready for occupancy by 1960. Meantime, the freshman classes cannot be enlarged to accommodate the growing number of students seeking admission. For example, both Montclair State College and Newark State College may be forced to cut back their freshman classes next year by approximately 200 students. Glassboro likewise is reducing its freshman class by 60 students. This fact alone points out the real necessity for expanding our capital facilities at the various State colleges.

ACCREDITATION GAINS

In my Budget Message of last year, I pointed out the need for funds to qualify our State colleges for accreditation by nationally-recognized associations. I am indeed pleased to tell you that all the State colleges have recently been accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education. In addition, four of our six colleges were accredited last year by the regional association, the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The remaining two colleges, Jersey City and Newark, are in the process of accreditation. Thus, the standards of the State colleges represent a quality associated with leading institutions of higher learning.

FAVORABLE RATIO

In this Budget, funds have been recommended for the State University to establish a student-faculty ratio which compares favorably with other State-supported universities. The university expects to enroll an additional 740 students next year and faculty positions are being added to continue this ratio.

This Budget also provides for renovation and laboratory equipment at some of the University's Newark buildings. Funds are also provided to equip the new horticultural building of the Agricultural Experiment Station for which the Legislature appropriated funds a few years ago.

ACTION FOR SCHOLARSHIPS

I am recommending the reappropriation of $100,000 made available in the current year for a State-wide scholarship program. Unfortunately, the appropriation was not followed up with legislation to make it available to our college applicants last fall. I hope the Legislature will act immediately so that this student aid can be used next September.

INSTITUTIONS AND WELFARE

For Welfare State Aid I am recommending a sum just about equal to the amount required for the current fiscal year. The amount required for State aid for such items as general assistance, old age assistance, aid for dependent children, and disability assistance is higher in fiscal '59 than the prior fiscal year because of the recent dip in the Nation's economy. With a forecast of an upward trend, it is reasonable to assume that the amount for State aid in these categories should level off in the fiscal year 1959-60.

I recommend for the general operation of the Department of Institutions and Agencies approximately $2,000,000 more than was appropriated in 1958-59.

WORK OF TWO COMMISSIONS

As you are aware, a commission which I appointed has reviewed this department's organization, operations and need for statute revision. This report will soon be available. It should point to areas which need modification in view of modern concepts and practices. Another commission appointed by the Legislature is considering changes in commitment procedures. Its findings, too, could have far-reaching effects on the department's operations.

ROLES OF NEW POSITIONS

I am recommending 208 new positions in the Department of Institutions and Agencies. Ninety-one will maintain patient care standards at institutions for the mentally retarded; 46 will serve in the two new wings for the criminally insane at Trenton State Hospital; 16 will operate a special children's unit at Ancora State Hospital; 18 will place more emphasis on treatment at Annandale and Bordentown Reformatories; and 37 will meet special treatment requirements and operational problems in other areas. Offsetting these increases, 38 positions are eliminated in areas not related to those for which new positions have been recommended.

Special attention should be given to the 91 new employees needed for patient care at institutions for the mentally retarded. With the establishment of the Johnstone Training and Research Center at Bordentown, more of the high-grade patients are gradually being returned to community living. Many of these patients formerly cared for in our State institutions, are now finding gainful employment in local areas. For this we should be thankful. However, this creates a staffing problem since these persons had been used as working patients. It is now necessary to replace them with paid employees.

MENTAL HEALTH

Once again the mental hospital population has decreased. We continue to emphasize modern approaches and are now benefiting from improved staffing and active treatment. The hospitals are meeting the administrative deficiencies, many of them merely technical, reported by a recent survey and will soon be prepared for another inspection to regain accreditation.

We continue to attract qualified personnel and to develop and expand promising treatment programs. Thus, the hospitals are becoming training centers for professional and technical personnel. They are now training 27 resident psychiatrists. The hospitals are offering a more diversified therapeutic program for patients. An increasing number of locked wards have become open wards.

FOR RESEARCH

I have again included funds to support research activities in psychiatry and neurology. We must anticipate increases in these items in future years. Our research efforts are now producing results and recognition. As an example, one of our research chemists has isolated a breakdown product of adrenalin in confirming the pioneering work of a Canadian laboratory. I am told that this may be a step in unraveling the mystery of the cause of schizophrenia.

Studies of the problem of alcoholism and of depression are being financed by two separate research grants. These studies are being done jointly with the Department of Psychology of the State University. All our State hospitals are co-operating in this activity.

OTHER NEEDS

Twenty-four facilities in eleven counties are approved for participation in State aid for community mental health services. With fourteen new projects anticipated, all counties will be represented.

We are converting some existing cottage areas for the care of the severely retarded. The impact of the trend toward younger and more severely retarded patients is more strongly felt at the cottage level where basic care is given.

The occupancy of two new wings for the criminally insane at Trenton State Hospital will reduce overcrowding and give security control.

CORRECTION AND PAROLE

We are advancing modern concepts of rehabilitation at our correctional institutions. The project at High Point Park is working well as a pre-release center for Annandale Reformatory. It provides useful work and eases readjustment to the community. More institutional work opportunities are being explored and developed for minimum custody inmates. Highfields, near Hope-well, is receiving national attention for its work in the field of juvenile delinquency.

Additional professional positions recommended for Bordertown Reformatory will reach many more inmates through individual and group therapy and specialized social adjustment classes. This special effort is aimed at attacking emotional problems, mental conflicts and inability to get along in the community. This is an effort to reduce the average length of stay—to attack the problem of inmate population which is expanding beyond institutional capacities, and even more important, to recognize inmates as human beings and potentially valuable citizens.

CHILD WELFARE

A request was made by the State Board of Child Welfare for an additional $675,000 to provide proper administration of our dependent children program. Recent disclosures, with which you are all familiar, indicate that the administration of this program has been spread far too thin. Nevertheless, I have not included these funds in the Budget, pending a decision by the Legislature on a broad question of policy which is basic to the issue.

I refer to a bill introduced in the last session to relieve the State Board of Child Welfare of its current responsibility for the administration of the Federally-subsidized aid to dependent children (Home Life Assistance) program. The bill would have transferred this responsibility to the County Welfare Boards under the general supervision of the State Bureau of Assistance.

OBJECTIVES OF THE BILL

Adoption of this legislation would provide for a uniform operation and co-ordination with the other major Federally-aided public assistance programs. It would entrust to the counties the same local responsibility and control over this program as they now exercise over old age and disability assistance.

This bill redefines the terms of eligibility to include many needy children and families now receiving public aid, primarily at municipal expense, without Federal matching funds which are available. The bill also establishes a new formula for the equal sharing of assistance costs between the State and the counties.

This would correct a disproportionate burden upon the counties about which they have been protesting for years.

These changes were initiated and forcefully recommended by the Youth Study Commission. They have been endorsed by both the State Board of Control and the Commissioner of Institutions and Agencies. A new bill reviving the proposal has already been introduced in the current session and I urge that it be carefully considered for affirmative action.

SAVINGS TO THE COUNTIES

If this bill is enacted, there would be a transfer of the administrative function from the State to the counties. In consideration of this shift, the Federal aid for administration, which amounts to $500,000, would go to the counties instead of the State. The equal sharing principle would require an additional State outlay of $1,200,000. When we balance against this figure the savings from the administrative transfer, the net additional State cost, for purposes of this Budget, would be $470,000. The counties would save $295,000. The bill would also result in a savings in municipal relief costs; just how much cannot be estimated at the moment.

If the Legislature does not enact this program, this Budget should be increased by $675,000 for personnel and other administrative costs to carry out properly on the State level our responsibility to these dependent mothers and children.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

In 1955 I asked the Legislature to finance a Criminal Investigation Section in the Department of Law and Public Safety by an appropriation from the State Treasury. At that time, the Investigation Section was financed from a revolving fund. By reason of the Legislature's failure to act on my request, we had to continue using the revolving fund. The operation of the section is not possible within the limits of receipts expected in 1959-60.

I therefore recommend the establishment of a regular budget basis for the Criminal Investigation Section. The total appropriation requested is $64,060. This is less than half as much as recurring expenditures in previous years.

VALUABLE WORK OF THE SECTION

The section performs an important function in furnishing legal aid upon request by the various prosecutors, and in investigating possible criminal activity extending across county lines. Several recent investigations by the section have proved of direct and substantial benefit to the public interest. I refer particularly to the investigations of abuses in the letting of municipal scavenger contracts and of irregularities and misconduct in the labor-management field. The investigation of these abuses should be continued and expanded. Since they cross county lines, no single prosecutor can undertake fully such investigations.

The valuable contributions of the Criminal Investigation Section to effective law enforcement justify its establishment as a permanent Budget unit.

MOTOR VEHICLES

There is provided in this Budget a little over $700,000 to complete the general issue of license plates due to start this spring. At long last, inconvenience and irritations to our motorists will soon come to an end. Also recommended are 43 additional positions to meet an increasing workload and to improve the operation of existing programs such as the point system, license and registration renewals and traffic safety.

SPEEDERS LOSE LICENSES

An additional 22 positions are recommended to administer the new automatic revocation and driver warning programs. Seven additional positions are included to meet the requirements of recent amendments to the Unsatisfied Claim and Judgment Fund Law. These reinforced driver regulatory measures—the results of which are promising to date—constitute a significant move in a total war against hazards on our highways.

A study of the organization, operations and the rescheduled work-week in our auto inspection stations has resulted in a revised staffing plan by which 110 examiner positions are being eliminated. This will be achieved through the abolition of present vacancies and through normal attrition. Savings of $375,000 are reflected in this Budget. Other studies are in progress to review procedures and structure in all phases of the Motor Vehicle Division.

HIGHWAYS

This Budget recommends added funds for the maintenance and operation of our Highway Department. As more mileage is added to our State highway system through the Federally-aided construction program, the number of crews must be enlarged. We must remember that although the Federal Government provides funds for the construction of new highways, it does not participate in their maintenance. Funds for this purpose must be provided entirely by the State. I am also recommending funds for personnel needed to acquire rights-of-way for highways yet to be constructed.

COMPLETE FEDERAL AID

In setting up State funds required for the Construction Division, we have taken complete advantage of Federal aid which will be available for engineering services on the new highways to be constructed in 1959-60. The Federal Government insists on an adequate inspection force as a condition to reimbursing the State for construction.

I am asking continuance of an appropriation for contract painting of the Pulaski Skyway and other high-level bridges, and projects requiring rehabilitation or major repair.

The funds recommended from State sources, together with Federal aid, will make it possible to construct $120,000,000 worth of new highways. I am also recommending $14,000,000 for projects in which the Federal Government will not participate.

INCREASES TO STATE EMPLOYEES

One of the increases in this Budget is $5,600,000 for salary increments to State employees. This sum will provide normal merit increases for those employees who have performed satisfactory service.

The Civil Service Commission adopted a new pay plan effective January 1, 1959. This plan narrows the gap between salaries in State service and those paid in comparable jobs in private employment in New Jersey. It was based on careful studies of pay rates in other public jurisdictions, as well as among 60 major employers in New Jersey.

TO MEET COMPETITION

The State, as an employer, must keep pace with modern personnel practices, for it must compete with other employers to get competent men and women. The new pay plan and the increases reflected in this Budget will also help us to retain the dedicated employees whom we have been able to attract. They represent a major investment and their skill is essential to the successful performance of State Government.

AT TOP LEVEL

I would also call your attention to some particular increases for certain top level positions in the Judiciary and the Executive Branches. The last general increase in judges' salaries came in 1948, and in cabinet salaries on July 1, 1953. Recent studies by research groups show that corporation executive salaries are at levels far beyond those paid in State service.

Certainly the responsibilities being shouldered by so many of our cabinet and division directors are comparable to those of industrial executives whose salaries are far greater. We cannot hope to match these, but we must recognize the need to make some adjustment if we are to recruit and keep the best people and if we are to eliminate some of the inequities that exist within the State Government.

LONG OVERDUE

We have some division directors whose career deputies now earn more than their chiefs. We have many departments where the salaries paid for key technical and professional leadership jobs are woefully inadequate in relation to the responsibilities.

The top legal executives of our major corporations often receive many times the salary of our State's Attorney-General.

The top purchasing executive, the comptroller, the engineer and other major administrative officers and staff show similar disparities. Our sister-states are paying higher salaries to their cabinet and division heads than we pay ours. This Budget requests a modest adjustment long overdue.

A "SITTING DUCK"

In my last three Budget Messages, I have recommended funds to provide medical-surgical benefits to State employees at State expense. The Senate has consistently dropped this item. I have not again included this amount in the Budget because, judging from past experience, it would be another "sitting duck." However, should the Legislature now include this fringe benefit in the Appropriations Bill, I will be happy to approve it.

OTHER CAPITAL FACILITIES

Many requests were made by the various departments for capital facilities. This Budget recommends funds for badly needed roads and approaches and parking areas at certain State installations. It provides for needed equipment at the State University and the final installment for capital improvements at the Newark College of Engineering.

On many occasions, I have recommended that the Legislature provide buildings for the Departments of Health, Education, and Labor and Industry. As you well know, Federal funds, together with funds presently in the Unemployment Compensation Auxiliary Fund, are sufficient to construct a building for our Department of Labor and Industry. I cannot stress too strongly the need for this building which would bring together under one roof the scattered activities of this department and would form a focal point in the John Fitch Way development of Trenton.

BONDS OR PAY-AS-YOU-GO?

There are now pending various bills authorizing a bond issue to provide capital facilities for the State Colleges, Newark College of Engineering and the State University. Although selling bonds is an easy way of raising money, there is nothing easy about paying it back. At high current interest rates it would cost between one and one-half to two times the amount borrowed, depending on the term of the loan. As an alternative to the bond method, I suggest the Legislature consider a pay-as-you-go method for capital improvements. Our experience with the 1949 and 1952 bond issues shows that many years are needed to carry out a prudent and well-planned construction program. To illustrate this, I need only point out that we are still spending the remainder of the funds which were raised in those years.

By wise planning it may be possible to meet our capital needs on a pay-as-you-go basis by revenue measures to raise about $15,000,000 a year. I urge the Legislature to give serious study to this alternate method.

Another reason why the bond method leaves something to be desired is that the funds must be utilized for a specific function. This makes for inflexibility. An issue for Institutions and Agencies, as an example, could not be used for urgent capital needs in areas like Health, Agriculture and Education. If, however, the Legislature insists on the bond method, I will approve that legislation.

The State Board of Control of I. and A. has recently presented incontrovertible evidence that funds must be provided for a new institution for mentally retarded and for a medium security prison. These needs are the inexorable result of an expanding population and if the pay-as-you-go method is not pursued, we face a further bond issue for these purposes in the very near future.

USE OF STATE FUNDS

There is another alternative I would like to present to the Legislature to allow the investment of State funds in our own capital facilities. I have in mind the use of part of the funds which would normally be paid to the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund next July first, to finance a much-needed building for the Department of Education. Approximately $2,500,000, less than one per cent of the fund, could be appropriated from this source for such a building and replaced by increasing subsequent payments to the Teachers' Pension Fund over a 20-year period, at a level which includes interest at four per cent. This is the rate guaranteed to the fund under the statute.

Other states have used this method of financing many of their capital improvements. It provides the buildings. It also guards the actuarial soundness of the fund.

FOR STATE UNIVERSITY

I am also advised that the State University can borrow funds from the Federal Housing Authority at a rate of 2.9 per cent. Since the University is in dire need of dormitory and food service facilities at both the Men's College and at Douglass, I recommend (1) that the Board of Governors of the University proceed to borrow these funds at such rates and (2) that continuing annual appropriations be made to amortize their cost to the extent that the facilities are not wholly self-liquidating.

STATE INVESTMENT COUNCIL

The Legislature of New Jersey in 1950 pioneered in the area of State investments by setting up the Division of Investments in the Department of the Treasury. In 1950, when this Division was established and its investment practices placed under the direction of the State Investment Council, the effective rate of return on our pension funds was 2.46 per cent. On June 30, 1958, it was 3.17 per cent. We have thus made excellent progress, but we should not drag our feet because of obsolete limitations.

MODERN INVESTMENT PRACTICES

As you know, one of the areas in our annual Budgets which require mandatory increases year after year is that of pensions. Under our statutes we must keep our major pension funds actuarially sound. Every year the State plows millions into these funds. One of the deterrents to this ever-increasing contribution would be the realization of a maximum return on the money in the various pension funds. This would lighten the cost of government to our taxpayers. Many of our sister-states have modernized their investment practices and taken a more liberal attitude in the investment of their funds. The result is that they are able to earn an effective rate of return on their money that is substantially higher than ours. This is done without sacrificing the over-all quality of the portfolio.

I strongly urge that the Legislature give serious thought to new legislation to broaden our investment activities. This would give us the diversification so necessary to our investment portfolio. At the same time it would afford us the opportunity to reduce the deficiency appropriations to the pension funds.

BETTER INVESTMENT YIELDS

We have not been a buyer of municipal securities for many years. None of our funds is subject to taxation and since this is so, it is not advisable to seek diversification in the municipal field. If we did so, we would have to accept a lower rate of return on our money. This is recognized as unsound financial practice. I should like to quote from an article in the magazine "Municipal Finance" under date of August 1958:

"State and Municipal Retirement and Pension Funds are expected to have in the next fiscal year 1.6 billions to invest. While none of these funds need tax exemption, many do invest their funds in tax exempt bonds as a tribute to obsolete legal requirements, parochial patriotism or exceedingly poor investment management."

New Jersey certainly cannot be accused of exceedingly poor investment management but we must make every effort to see that each dollar of our invested funds returns the highest possible rate to us, consistent with sound investment practices.

MISCELLANEOUS

This Budget recommends funds to administer the Division of Civil Defense by using part of the special fund previously appropriated for payment of claims to civil defense volunteers. Only a very small part of the original trust fund appropriated for these claims has been expended. I am recommending that the Legislature, by resolution, close out the fund as provided by law, reserving a small part for claims and appropriating the balance to augment specific funds appropriated for this Division.

In the Department of Health, additional funds have been provided for the chronic illness program and a token sum recommended for polio vaccine. If additional funds are needed for this purpose, transfers should be permitted on an emergency basis pending subsequent supplemental appropriation by the Legislature. In addition, in the Department of Health, $50,000 has been recommended to establish a meat inspection program. These funds may be augmented by funds available through the Federal Department of Agriculture.

Funds are also recommended for the Department of Labor and Industry to provide additional safety inspectors in the field of construction. Sufficient State funds have been recommended to match the maximum Federal funds available for the rehabilitation program.

FIRST THINGS FIRST

This Message draws the fiscal picture for the forthcoming fiscal year. It does not pretend to deal with the long-range fiscal policies of New Jersey but only with first things first. The State faces basic decisions with regard to the tax burden, which now falls heavily on the holders of real property. In the Middletown case, the State Supreme Court required assessment of real property at full value, and this rule, although laid down in a particular township, can be applied to the State as a whole. Therefore, many problems arise concerning the entire structure of State and local taxes for which solution must be sought. They involve a meeting of the minds of the legislative and executive branches of the State Government and I hereby offer my full co-operation to that purpose.

CONCLUSION

Right now, it is possible to say that, in a time of rising costs and heavy pressure for increased State services, the State of New Jersey faces the new fiscal year with a balanced Budget and no new taxes or increases of present ones. By the most careful scrutiny of expenditures, this Budget has been held down to a figure only two and one-half per cent greater than appropriations approved for the current year. Moreover, as to capital expenditures which are inescapable, this Message contains suggestions which, if adopted, will save many millions of dollars for the taxpayers in the future. If it cannot with complete accuracy be styled an austerity Budget, since it does not ignore essential needs, it can at least be described as an example of prudent housekeeping—an example of how a State can live within its means.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor of New Jersey.

WHEREAS, The Arts Committee of the State Museum has arranged for an exhibition of paintings by the Honorable Thomas J. Hillery, Senator from Morris county, New Jersey, in the Special Exhibit Halls of the New Jersey State Museum, State House Annex, Trenton; and

WHEREAS, This exhibition of paintings goes on view today and will continue through March 25th; and

WHEREAS, These paintings by Senator Hillery have received praise from art critics for their color and charm and are of particular interest to residents of this State because some of them depict scenic places in northern New Jersey, particularly Sussex county, as well as interesting travel scenes from the New England States and from Europe and, most certainly, the members of the Senate will view with great interest these paintings which evidence Senator Hillery's exceptional talent developed in what started out as but a pleasing hobby; now, therefore,

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,

SENATE BILL No. 60

To the Senate:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 14(b) of the Constitution, I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 60 with my objections for reconsideration.

Under existing law, the State Sanitary Code requires that trash and garbage be disposed of by the sanitary land-fill method or by incinerators rather than by open dumping. Under the terms of chapter 38, P. L. 1958, municipalities were empowered to provide by ordinance for such disposition by March 31, 1959, such ordinance to prevail over the State Sanitary Code as to the time within which such methods are to be established.

The present bill would extend to June 30, 1960, the time limit which municipalities would be authorized to establish for that purpose.

The factual basis for the bill is that there are some municipalities, primarily in rural districts, where the population density is very low and where municipal collection and disposal are not yet provided. It is claimed that application of the Code at this time would work hardship on such municipalities because of the small population in relation to the cost of securing equipment.

In those instances where the concentration of population is low, I can appreciate that economic considerations may justify the proposed authority to extend the date. At the same time, there are other locations in highly populated areas where open dumping is extensive, often close to residential areas and sometimes across the boundary line in a contiguous municipality. In these cases further extension cannot be permitted since open dumping provides a breeding place for rats, insects and other vermin.

This factual conflict can only be resolved on an administrative basis so that the varying facts of each location can be taken into account.

I am accordingly returning herewith Senate Bill No. 60 for reconsideration and with the recommendation that it be amended as follows:

On page 1, section 1, line 11, immediately following the word "prevail", insert the following: "; provided, however, that no such ordinance shall take effect until it shall have been submitted to and approved by the State Commissioner of Health, who shall, in each case, make his determination on the basis of the extent of the need to establish such methods in the particular area affected".

Respectfully,

ROBERT B. MEYNER,

Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

April 27, 1959.

SENATE BILL No. 33

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 33, for the following reasons:

This bill would amend N. J. S. 2A:3-17 which now fixes the salaries of the judges of the County Court in those counties having more than one judge, at $18,000.00. The amendment would strike out the dollar amount and substitute language to make the salary the same as that of a Superior Court judge.

The pattern of our judicial structure is such that I am satisfied that there should be a differential in the salaries as a judge progresses upward. The present differential is $2,000.00, and should be retained.

I have recommended this year an increase of $2,000.00 for all full-time judges, from county district court to Supreme Court. A bill for that purpose has passed the Assembly and awaits Senate action. I could not justify both that bill and this, as that would grant a $4,000.00 increase to some County Court judges, and $2,000.00 to all others.

Respectfully,

(signed) ROBERT B. MEYNER,

Governor.

Attest:

DOROTHY G. SMITH,

Acting Secretary to the Governor.

To the Senate:

A basic constitutional infirmity and some fundamental defects in operational fairness compel me, pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 14(b) of the Constitution, to return Senate Bill No. 2 for reconsideration, with my objections.

This bill would establish a general college scholarship program administered by a new commission of 9 members. Scholarships would be $400.00 a year or the tuition, whichever is less. The number of scholarships awarded annually would equal 5% of the number of high school graduates. The grants would be based mainly on financial need and the result of a single competitive examination.

This does not mean that the scholarships would go to the top 5% of the graduates. The 5% provision merely fixes the number.

At present, 250 new scholarships are given at Rutgers and 200 at the six State colleges each year. Since these are public colleges, the public pays for the scholarships. These programs would be cancelled by the bill.

The history of public school systems in this country shows that the reason for providing public facilities was that private schools were not able to meet expanding educational needs. Offering an opportunity for a good education to those youngsters who are blessed with talent is essential to the growth, progress and security of our State and Nation. Where instituted, however, public programs have been designed to function side-by-side with private programs.

It is interesting to note that of those New Jersey students who went on to college in 1956, over 67% went to private colleges in and out of the State, but of those going to college within the State, about 48% went to private schools. In other states with similar scholarship programs, such as California, Illinois, Massachusetts and New York between 25% and 30% of the students use their scholarships at public colleges, and 70% to 75% at private colleges. These figures indicate that in New Jersey a little over half of the college facilities for its youngsters are provided by the State.

Moreover, our school population is growing. Where some 15,000 of our students entered college in 1956 with some 6,000 attending schools in New Jersey, it is estimated that 5 years hence there will be 25,000 going on to college and 11,000 of these attending schools within the State.

The State Board of Education several years ago recognized that a scholarship program should be adopted to make available tuition for needy, apt students who might choose to go to private colleges. This was in close accord with my own views, as I firmly believe that the sound evolution of our society depends upon extending educational opportunities to those who have the capacity for advancement but lack the financial means. For this reason I have twice recommended to the Legislature the adoption of a scholarship program. In principle, I see no reason why the winners of such new scholarships should not be allowed to use them at private colleges as well as public ones.

Since all these questions are of critical importance, I decided to hold a public hearing so that I might learn the views on all sides. It was generally agreed by those who spoke at the hearing, including those who felt that the bill should be signed as it stands, that Senate Bill No. 2 does present a number of difficult problems. It was urged by some that the defects could be cured by subsequent legislation. The oral presentations, as well as the expressions sent to me by mail, have been most helpful as a guide in reaching a decision.

I have concluded that it is in the public interest to adopt a new scholarship law. A patent constitutional infirmity, however, precludes me from accepting this bill in its present form.

We have just experienced with last year's Sunday Closing law the difficulties which such a course presents. The constitutional question there was at least debatable in view of the conflicting severability clauses. I there urged legislative correction of the bill, but no action was taken. Here, the infirmity is clear and obvious. I would be doing less than my sworn duty if I were to sign this bill when it contains provisions flatly prohibited by the Constitution. It would be a grave disservice if I were to launch a program so important to so many into prolonged litigation to ascertain its validity. It is the duty of each branch of government to comply with the Constitution. If the Legislature had itself held public hearings, these defects might have been revealed and corrected before passage.

1. Administration

The bill establishes a scholarship commission with no attachment to the administrative structure of State government. Article V, Section IV, paragraph 1 of the Constitution contains a mandatory requirement that all administrative offices shall be allocated by law among and within the principal executive departments. I am obliged by my oath of office to see that this requirement is met. More than 5 years of experience as Chief Executive convinces me that sound administrative practice requires that there be a clear chain of command and someone directly responsible to the Executive for the proper performance of the duties of a commission such as this.

At the 1947 Constitutional Convention, Governor Alfred E. Driscoll made his views very clear on this point. He considered it one of the "most important recommendations that has been made," to have the Constitution itself provide

“for a limited number of departments so that we may have a workable family group.” In order of importance, he placed this ahead of “strengthening the Governor’s veto power” and “the term of the Governor”, as well as “the right of succession”. He conceived each department as “headed by a single individual” who would be the “representative of the Governor” and who would be “responsible for the general over-all operation of the department”. He pointed out that before the present Constitution there were “better than a hundred individual departments, agencies, and commissions with whom the Governor must work” and urged that there be “no more than 20 principal departments”, within which there should be distributed “all the functions” of the Executive branch, so that in enacting legislation, the Legislature and the Governor “would be forced” to inquire as to what “established agency of government is this new function of government most closely related?”. The result would be to “allocate this new duty to that particular department within the Executive branch where it can be strengthened by the experience of the old activity” and bring “a new point of view to the old activity”. (Proceedings, Constitutional Convention of 1947, Vol. V, pgs. 42-45.)

The importance of this aspect was also emphasized by the Commission to Study Organization and Operation of the Executive Branch of the State Government. In its January 10, 1956 report, that Commission, headed by Hon. Thomas J. Hillery, presented a set of charts showing the then organization and noted, of the charts:

“They provide an immediate tool for appraising proposed new legislation affecting organization in the Executive Branch. In fact, it can be said that from now on no such legislation should be enacted until its relationship to existing organization has been studied.” (Report, p. 7)

After reviewing that set of charts I think it is clear that the proposed commission should be established as an advisory commission to the State Board of Education and within the Department of Education.

Since there is no choice but to return the bill, it is desirable that other defects revealed by the hearing and by a study of the bill should be made at the same time.

2. Effect on present programs

Should the present State scholarship programs be abolished, with students going to Rutgers or to the State colleges applying for scholarships as part of a new system? I see no objection, and in fact consider it desirable, to treat all scholars alike and on an equal basis, whether they are to go to a public or a private college. The present bill, however, presents 4 difficult problems:

(a) Notices have already gone out from Rutgers and the State colleges as to scholarships for this Fall under present programs. While the bill protects the "renewal or continuance" of scholarships already awarded, it does not clearly protect those who will receive their "initial" awards this Fall.

(b) The program at the six State colleges is designed to meet a different need, namely to attract students into the teaching profession in which we would otherwise risk a serious shortage. This program ought not to be cut off by the new one, as this bill does.

(c) The present program at Rutgers includes a small but important number of scholarships at the Rutgers Law School. Under the bill, this program would end as the scholarships could only be used in an undergraduate school. In the process of trying to help more students, we ought not to reduce the help we are already giving.

(d) The State now provides a number of scholarships, or assistance of like nature, as part of the program carried out by the State Rehabilitation Commission. These are by way of training of physically handicapped persons so as to help them to engage in remunerative occupations. This program should not be affected.

3. Size of the program

The bill fixes the number of initial awards at 5% of the previous year's high school graduating classes. This does not mean that the scholarships would go to the top 5% in each graduating class, as many who have written me believe. Since only 15% of the number graduated each year go to New Jersey colleges, the bill would actually provide scholarships to $33\frac{1}{3}\%$ of them. I also note that the figure of 5% would mean about 3,000 scholarships for 1960 and nearly 5,000 for 1975.

The citizens of New Jersey should understand that under our Constitution, the Legislature and the Governor cannot pass a law binding future Legislatures or Governors as to the appropriation of State funds. No money may be drawn from the State Treasury except under appropriations made by law; appropriations may be made only year by year; and the total appropriations in any year may not exceed the State's anticipated revenue. Article VIII, Section II, para. 2.

Hence, to attempt to fix the number of scholarships on a formula of this kind may amount to an illusory promise. It would justifiably lead the public to expect that 3,000 or 5,000 new scholarships would be awarded in a given year (four times that number to include renewals), only to find the number to be less if the funds were not appropriated. I do not think it wise or desirable to have the bill make any promise as to the number of scholarships to be awarded each year. That number will always be determined by the dollar amount available for appropriation, and by the number of eligible students.

One of our major objectives should be to try to reach the students who are qualified but who wouldn't otherwise attend college. Education today is probably the most effective way in which a democracy can furnish equality of opportunity. Since the early 1900's, when persons up to age 21 were a large part of the labor force, the professions, business, commerce and industry have largely abandoned apprenticeship methods and have looked to the colleges to provide the talent of the future. Our educational system acts as a screening force by which the most able persons are brought into important positions in American life. Too many of these able people do not go on to college, for a variety of reasons. In some cases the reason is financial. A sound scholarship program should aim to induce that able group to undertake their further education.

We lack data and experience with which to judge how many of them are in need in this State. Such statistics as are available now are not sufficiently up-to-date, nor precise enough to be reliable. Sound judgment is difficult. We know, for example, that many capable young women, often at the head of the class, enroll in secretarial courses in high school. While they are desirable college material, they either did not take courses to qualify them for college, or else are not interested. They are not necessarily in financial need, and a scholarship program will not reach them.

Although it will be difficult to get much of a start for the college year beginning this September, it will be worth while if we can persuade at least some who could go on, but lack the funds, to enter college. Our study and experience under the program will disclose what shape it should take thereafter.

4. Limitation to New Jersey colleges

I realize that some supporters feel strongly that the scholarships should be used only at New Jersey colleges. In 3 of the 4 states with similar programs, this restriction is imposed. In the fourth, the scholarship may be used at a public college only within the State, but at a private college in or out of the State.

If we are to do our best to help the student, he should be allowed to make the best choice he can, and a restriction to in-State colleges cannot be justified here, although it may be justifiable elsewhere. Thus, in California, where there is such a restriction, about 90% of the students go to California colleges anyway. The facilities are in fact within the State and there are no other large ones nearby. Similarly, in New York, which has the same restriction, 75% go to New York colleges. Again, the fact is that the colleges are located mainly within the State, with some additional facilities in nearby states. Those two States have facilities which are ample, not only as to size but also as to variety of educational speciality.

The physical facts in New Jersey are much different. In the southern area, we have meager college facilities within the State, but there are extensive choices just across the river in Philadelphia. To the north, our western counties are conveniently located near excellent schools in Pennsylvania, and our eastern counties are within a short distance of the great facilities in New York City. For those students who live in one of these areas, it would be distinctly unfair to prevent attendance out of state. If financial need is present, it is obvious that the cost of a college education may well be less of a burden if he is allowed to attend the nearest college of his choice, even though it be in another state. I recommend that out of the number of scholarships provided by appropriation, one-sixth be permitted to go to colleges outside New Jersey. Further experience will indicate if this ratio should be changed.

5. Financial Need

The bill properly requires a showing of financial need as well as of scholastic promise. However, as it is drawn, it fails to take account of 3 situations which, while they may not be frequent, are important.

If a student does not have need when he first enrolls in college, he cannot thereafter receive a scholarship under this bill even though his need should become great, as, for example, if his father should die after the boy starts college.

Conversely, if a student shows financial need before he starts college, then even if he should have no need later on, the bill would require continuance of the scholarship for the full 4 years.

Lastly, in the most impecunious cases the student must often work for 2 or 3 years after high school before he can think of going to college even with a scholarship. Such a student cannot obtain a scholarship under the present bill.

It has also been pointed out that while the bill forbids a student from receiving a scholarship if he is receiving another one from the State, it does not prohibit double scholarships where the other one is a private scholarship. This may or may not be important, but in the absence of full facts it is difficult to resolve the question now. If the question of need is reviewed annually, the effect of the private scholarship can be taken into account in weighing need.

6. The scholastic factor

Assuming that financial need is shown, the bill would grant or deny scholarships solely on the basis of a single competitive examination. It would make no difference whether the applicant had been a good student or a poor student in high school, nor would his aptitude for college work be a permitted factor.

I am satisfied that the scholastic factor cannot be tested solely on the basis of a single competitive examination. Provision should be made to take account of other relevant factors, as well as to establish standards of relative weight to be given to the scholastic factor and the financial need factor.

In view of the need for the changes outlined above, a number of other changes can be made by way of clarification and accuracy of expression, and these are included with my major recommendations outlined above.

I accordingly return Senate Bill No. 2 for reconsideration and recommend it be amended as follows:

On page 1, title, lines 2, 3 and 4: delete "for use by qualified students in any accredited New Jersey institution of collegiate grade, and repealing section 18:16-33 of the Revised Statutes"

On page 1, section 2, line 1, after "All", insert "undergraduate", and after "except" insert: "scholarships under section 18:16-33 of the Revised Statutes, scholarships based on a major factor other than scholastic standing and financial need, and"

The scholarship may remain in effect only for a year in which the holder is regularly enrolled as a full-time student in such institution in a course of study leading to a baccalaureate degree, maintains academic progress meeting standards established by the State Board of Education, and continues to demonstrate financial need. STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
 EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
 July 27, 1959. }

SENATE BILL No. 8

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 8, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would establish a public body to be known as the "New Jersey Higher Education Assistance Fund". The Fund would render financial aid and assistance to residents of the State who attend or plan to attend college. The Fund would also be authorized to enter into agreements with various financial institutions which would result in the furnishing of such aid and assistance.

Since this bill fails to assign the Fund to a principal department, it would appear to be in conflict with the provisions of Article V, Section IV, paragraph 1 of the Constitution. Even if the Fund were deemed to be a corporation, rather than a governmental instrumentality, the bill would be in apparent conflict with the provisions of Article IV, Section VII, paragraph 9 of the Constitution which require that corporate powers be conferred by general law.

Since I have already approved Assembly Bill No. 160 (Chapter 121, P. L. 1959) which deals with the same subject matter, I have not endeavored in this message to discuss the certain other shortcomings of this bill. I should like to direct the attention of the Legislature, however, to the fact that it seems unwise and wasteful to have both a scholarship grant program and a loan program administered by two separate agencies. I recommend, therefore, that the enactment of a single comprehensive law under which both grants and loans for scholars would be administered by a single administrative office or instrumentality be given consideration so that an applicant may, by a single application and process, be considered for a grant, for loan, or where his financial need is great, for both.

SENATE BILL No. 9

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 9, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would appropriate the sum of $50,000.00 to the Department of Education to inaugurate the development of the project to be carried out by the "New Jersey Higher Education Assistance Fund" which would have been created by Senate Bill No. 8. The bill further provides that it would remain inoperative until the enactment of Senate Bill No. 8.

I have today returned Senate Bill No. 8 for the reasons expressed in my statement attached thereto. This alone would necessitate the return of this bill. I should like to note additionally, however, that the Fund contemplated by Senate Bill No. 8 was not allocated to any principal department. The appropriation made by this bill, therefore, could not have been used by the Fund even if it were created since appropriations made to a department cannot be used for a wholly independent agency. New Jersey Turnpike Authority v. Parsons, 3 N. J. at 246-248 (1949).

SENATE BILL No. 215

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 215, without my approval, for the following reasons:

Senate Bill No. 215 purports to amend chapter 196, P. L. 1954, by adding thereto the following language:

“and whenever any of the public holidays, except Saturdays, enumerated in section 36:1-1 of the Revised Statutes can and shall fall on a Saturday, the Friday next preceding shall be deemed a public holiday.”

This new language is much broader than the provisions of the present act which operate only upon public offices of the State, counties and municipalities, and which serve only to treat Saturday as a holiday in those public offices. The existing law does not extend to any other area beyond public offices. The amendatory language, however, is a wholly independent sentence joined by a connective “and” and is not so limited. It declares that whenever any holiday listed in Section 36:1-1 of the Revised Statutes, other than Saturday, can and shall fall on a Saturday “the Friday next preceding shall be deemed a public holiday.” This language is so broad that it would make such Fridays a public holiday for our financial and banking institutions as well as public offices. It would also result in the closing of the courts. I doubt that such an extensive curtailment of public and private activity was intended by this bill.

A number of municipalities have indicated that a bill of this nature would be highly undesirable from the standpoint of normal operations. Municipal offices must be kept open to serve the public and the public already has difficulty getting to public offices under existing schedules.

Moreover there is a cost factor in declaring such Fridays to be public holidays. The payroll costs per day for the State approximates $400,000.00. I have been informed that it would cost the State at least $110,000.00 for each such Friday to provide essential services in the Department of Institutions and Agencies alone. The counties and municipalities no doubt would have comparable cost increases.

Finally, I should like to point out that this bill suffers from a technical defect which makes approval impossible. Senate Bill No. 215 purports to amend chapter 196, P. L. 1954, but the wording of the title of the bill and its body are not those of the 1954 act. The title referred to in Senate Bill No. 215 is that of P. L. 1946, c. 129, which created this provision. The section which Senate Bill No. 215 would amend is not that of the 1954 act but that of P. L. 1955, c. 196.

Respectfully,

Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 138.

To the Senate:

I return Senate Bill No. 138 herewith without my approval for the following reasons:

This bill would supplement chapter 56 of Title 2A of the New Jersey Statutes (the Partition Act). It would authorize a judicial proceeding, in the nature of an action for partition, in which the court could order the sale of lands held in divided ownership as between the ores, mines and minerals below the surface and the remainder of the lands.

Such divided ownership is not a tenancy in common or a joint tenancy or an estate in coparcenary, else partition could be had under present statutes. On the contrary, the exact relationship may be one of a large and varied number of contractual arrangements: there may be a license to take minerals, this being an incorporeal right, The East Jersey Iron Co. v. Wright, 32 N. J. Eq. 248 (Ch. 1880); or a lease or a conveyance, with or without provision for forfeiture or reverter in case of failure to remove the minerals in a specified time, Suffern & Galloway v. Butler, 19 N. J. Eq. 202 (Ch. 1868), aff'd., 21 N. J. Eq. 410 (E. & A. 1869).

Assuming an actual conveyance of the minerals in place, which is probably the case intended here, the severance of the estates in the soil and in the minerals can be as thorough and complete as the division of a tract into smaller lots and their conveyance into separate ownership. The only difference is that in the case of minerals the division is horizontal instead of vertical.

In proceedings for partition, an order for sale is not made unless physical partition cannot reasonably be made. In the situation dealt with by this bill either the parties or their predecessors in interest have agreed upon a physical partition upon whatever terms are set out in the underlying deeds or other instruments, so that the question whether a sale should be ordered is not reached. Further, the present owner of the soil more likely than not acquired his title "subject to" and not "in common with" the separate interest of the owner of the minerals. In such case there would be no justification for a proceeding to compel the owner of the minerals to sell his property, along with that of the owner of the soil, and divide the proceeds. It is not uncommon for the ownership of the minerals to be acquired by conveyance and thus owned in fee, "absolutely and forever". The owner, absent a covenant or condition in the deed, is under no obligation to exercise actual possession, or to extract the minerals or to maintain works. Indeed, such conveyances are often made to assure the grantee of reserves which he may not need to work for many years. To impose such condition by statute with respect to existing ownership would at the very least be most inequitable if not in violation of our constitutional restriction against the impairment of contracts (1947 Constitution, Art. IV, Sec. VII, par. 3) and against deprivation of property without due process of law (U. S. Constitution, Amendment XIV).

For those instances where the owner of the minerals has disappeared, or has in fact abandoned his property (to be distinguished from abandonment of the works on the property), existing law dealing with adverse possession, actions to quiet title, and the like, are more than adequate.

Respectfully,

SENATE BILL No. 152

To the Senate:

I return Senate Bill No. 152 herewith without my approval for the following reasons:

This bill would supplement chapter 62 of Title 40 of the Revised Statutes by authorizing municipalities served by a privately owned sewer utility to construct sewer mains, manholes and other incidental sewer construction and then to lease them to the private company. The cost of building the sewers would be charged against the real property benefited, and the proceeds received from the lease "may" be divided pro rata and paid to those owners of assessed property as are users of the private sewer.

The bill expressly provides that the terms of the lease are to be negotiated between the municipality and the privately owned company, without fixing any standards or limits. Nor is there provision for submission of the lease for approval to an appropriate agency. In addition, a mere resolution is required to authorize the lease, and this is not required to be published as is an ordinance. Further, the bill expressly provides that no authorization by the legal voters shall be required.

The arrangement is clearly unsound and unwise. In substance, it uses the power of the municipality to assess for improvements as a method to finance construction costs for a privately owned company. This means that the local property owners would be compelled to put up the money without even having the protection and benefits usually accorded to those who make voluntary investments.

The complete lack of control or of supervisory power over the negotiated lease terms cannot be justified, nor can the provision that lease proceeds be divided up among "users", when the money would be raised from those lands "benefited". As is well known, land is benefited by an improvement even though the owner may make no use of the improvement, as, where the land is vacant. The financial benefits of this arrangement could flow to the stockholders of the privately owned company, rather than to the residents and taxpayers of the municipality. I am informed that in the particular situation for which this bill is said to be intended, the assessment might run as high as $8,000.00 per family.

Respectfully,

[SEAL]

Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 160

To the Senate:

I return Senate Bill No. 160 herewith without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would supplement Chapter 46 of Title 40 of the Revised Statutes by authorizing the governing body of a municipality, by resolution (which is not required to be published), to grant tenure of office to any person holding the office of "Luxury Tax Administrator" after 10 continuous years in office, even though he was appointed for a fixed term.

I am informed that no such office with the title "Luxury Tax Administrator" is actually created by statute; nor is it entirely clear whether the word "luxury" refers to the tax or to the administrator. In any event, all that the municipal retail sales tax law says is that "Such ordinance shall provide for the collection of the tax by an officer of such municipality who shall be designated in the ordinance; * * * " (P. L. 1947, ch. 71, N. J. S. A. 40:48-8.19).

It appears that there is only one such official in the entire State. This is typical of the kind of legislation that is passed all too often, for the benefit of but one person or but one place.

If there be any merit to the proposal to give tenure to the Luxury Tax Administrator, we have suitable laws for that purpose already. Under P. L. 1947, chapter 350 (N. J. S. A. 40:46-6.14 ff), tenure may be granted to municipal tax collectors by referendum approved by the voters. In addition, under the "Optional Municipal Key Positions Law", P. L. 1950, chapter 211 (N. J. S. A. 40:46-39 ff), a method is established for determining the qualifications to be imposed as a condition to acquiring tenure. Senate Bill No. 160 contains no equivalent safeguards.

To the Senate:

I return Senate Bill No. 183 herewith without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would supplement the Public Employees' Retirement-Social Security Integration Act (ch. 84, P. L. 1954), by allowing any public employee member of the system who was born prior to January 1, 1889 to elect to make social security contributions retroactively from January 1, 1956, in addition to the regular contributions, and to waive the death benefits provided by section 41 (c) (2) of the act. Upon such election, which is to be within 6 months, the member is to be entitled to receive pension benefits without offset for social security payments.

The bill does not say whether the person electing is required to be still in employment at the time of election, or whether he may be a retired member. The implication is that he could be a retired member because the specified date of birth would mean that the member is over 70 years of age now.

Nor does the bill clearly say whether the making of payments without offset is to be retroactive to January 1, 1956, although it does say that the election and waiver are to be effective as of then, and social security contributions are to be made from that time.

Supposedly, the waiver of death benefits and payment of social security contributions are offered in the expectation that they will balance out the extra amount which elimination of the offset would cost the fund. This theory does not hold.

Systems such as that now under discussion depend wholly for their soundness upon the averaging out of the contributions and benefits of a large number of individuals who compose the group. This underlies all forms of insurance. The system is inevitably disrupted when attempts are made to go back and rearrange the relationship of some individuals in the group retroactively on a basis different than that of other individuals. The value of each member's rights at retirement are actuarially computed under the present law. If more is to be paid than was so computed, someone has to pay it. If the member himself pays the difference, he gains nothing and there is no point to the option. If he pays less than the difference then, since existing rights of other members should not be reduced in order to pay his increase, it would fall to the taxpayer to do so.

Further, I am unable to discover any basis for selecting the birth date of January 1, 1889. If the option proposed is to be made available to members born before that date, why should it not be made available to those born after? In the absence of any rational basis for the classification, the bill is a special law increasing the emoluments of public employees in violation of Article IV, Section VIII, par. 9 (5) of the Constitution.

Respectfully,

ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 199

To the Senate:

I return Senate Bill No. 199 herewith without my approval for the following reasons:

This bill would amend P. L. 1958, c. 36, which was intended to permit municipalities which border upon the Atlantic Ocean and which maintain a municipal convention hall, to improve the convention hall by enlarging or renovating it, and to incur indebtedness not exceeding $2,000,000.00 for that purpose.

The present law would authorize notes to be issued for such purpose with the limitation that at least 25% of the maximum indebtedness was to be included in the current municipal budget and at least 25% in each of the budgets of the 3 fiscal years next ensuing.

The supposed object of the proposed amendments is to permit the first repayment to be included in the first year succeeding the issuance of notes rather than in the budget for the year of issuance. For this purpose, the amendment would require the first 25% to be included in the municipal budget in the first ensuing year after the total amount is borrowed and at least 25% in each of the budgets of the three fiscal years.

The language of the amendment seems to raise more problems than it solves. It should be noted that the authorization is to incur an indebtedness of not more than $2,000,000.00, and to finance the cost of the improvement by the issuance of notes. This provision, taken in conjunction with the language dealing with the notes, is not inconsistent with a legislative intention that out of the total indebtedness (which can refer to the contract or contracts for the work), at least 25% is to be discharged in the first year, by way of a down payment, leaving up to 75% of the total indebtedness to be financed by notes and satisfied during the next three years. Taken in this sense, there is no inconsistency in the present statute.

Beyond that, however, the phrasing of the amendment would impose no requirement for the budgeting of any payments unless the maximum amount had been borrowed. There are other ambiguous questions left in this technical field of municipal obligations:

1. It is not clear whether the borrowing authorization was intended to be an additional floating debt limitation or whether it would be exhausted once this act had been utilized.
2. The law does not specify whether the bonds issued thereunder may be sold at public or private sale.
3. There is no provision with respect to the levy of an appropriate tax to pay off the notes.

These difficulties preclude my approval of the bill. If the exact nature of the problem were more precisely defined, there should be no great difficulty in preparing a suitable bill without these defects.

Respectfully,

[SEAL]

ROBERT B. MEYNER,

Governor.

TUESDAY, January 12, 1960.

At 11:00 o'clock A. M. the Senate met.

The session was opened with prayer by the Reverend W. Neal Raver.

Under the direction of the President, the Secretary called the Senate, when the following Senators appeared and answered the call:

Messrs. Cowgill, Crane, Dumont, Farley, Fox, Grossi, Harper, Hillery, Jones, Lance (President), Lynch, Mathis, McCay, Ozzard, Sandman, Stout, Waddington, Weber—18.

On motion of Mr. Harper the Journal of the previous session was approved and its further reading was dispensed with.

Senators Farley, Dumont and Hillery expressed words of commendation to President of the Senate, Wesley L. Lance, for his fine and efficient services as the presiding officer over the Senate during the 1959 session.

Messrs. Cowgill, Farley, Sandman and Fox offered the following resolution which was read and adopted:

WHEREAS, Almighty God, in his Infinite Wisdom, on December 26, 1959, called to his Heavenly Reward the Most Reverend Justin J. McCarthy, Second Bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Camden; and

WHEREAS, Bishop McCarthy was born November 26, 1900, and while an infant moved with his family to Elizabeth, New Jersey, where he attended St. Mary's School and Battin High School, Seton Hall Preparatory School and Seton Hall College in South Orange, New Jersey; and

WHEREAS, He prepared for the Priesthood at the North American College in Rome and was ordained a Priest on April 16, 1927 and thereafter served as Assistant at the Church of the Assumption in Morristown, New Jersey; and

WHEREAS, In May 1941 he was invested as a Papal Chamberlain with the title of Very Reverend Monsignor and was thereafter elevated to the station of Domestic Prelate in December, 1949; and

WHEREAS, During the years from 1927 and 1954 he taught Sacred Scripture and Homiletics at Immaculate Conception Seminary at Darlington, New Jersey, and from 1937 until 1953 he was Spiritual Director of the Seminary; and

WHEREAS, He was appointed Pastor of Our Lady of Sorrows Church, South Orange, New Jersey by Archbishop Boland on November 8, 1953 and on March 27, 1954 was elevated to Titular Bishop of Doberus and Auxiliary Bishop of Newark, being consecrated on June 17, 1954 in the Sacred Heart Cathedral, Newark, New Jersey, by Archbishop Boland, Bishop Eustace of Camden, and Bishop McNulty of Paterson; and

WHEREAS, On January 30, 1957, Pope Pius XII named Bishop McCarthy as the Second Bishop of the Diocese of Camden and he was installed in Camden's Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception on March 19, 1957; and

WHEREAS, During the years of Bishop McCarthy's Priesthood he was particularly noted for his affection and concern for children, it being his invariable preference to preach at the Children's Mass while he was Pastor of Our Lady of Sorrows Church in South Orange, and one of his greatest concerns as Bishop of Camden was the construction of schools for the education of children; and

WHEREAS, During his brief tenure as Bishop of Camden, Bishop McCarthy came to be revered as a kindly, gentle man, who fulfilled with conspicuous virtue the three-fold office of a Bishop, that is, as a teacher, Priest and ruler; and

WHEREAS, With the sudden passing of this Most Revered Bishop the Roman Catholic Diocese of Camden has suffered a grievous loss, and the six counties of Southern New Jersey comprising said Diocese, have lost one of their finest citizens and religious leaders; now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of New Jersey that this Body does hereby express its profound regret at the passing of this most noble soul, and expresses to the Diocese of Camden and to the family of Bishop McCarthy its deep sympathy.

On motion of Mr. Harper, the Senate proceeded to the consideration of Executive business, on the conclusion of which, and,

Under the direction of the President, the Secretary called the Senate, when the following Senators appeared and answered the call:

Messrs. Cowgill, Crane, Dumont, Farley, Fox, Grossi, Harper, Hillery, Jones, Lance (President), Lynch, Mathis, McCay, Ozzard, Ridolfi, Sandman, Stout, Waddington, Weber—19.

The following messages were received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary:

Under the direction of the President the seal of the messages was broken and the Secretary read as follows:

SENATE BILL NO. 29

To the Senate:

I return Senate Bill No. 29 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would have amended Section 15 of Chapter 345, P. L. 1941. That section establishes the height at which highway signs are to be placed. The bill called for changes in the distances above the crown of the pavement for the location of signs. In dealing with the treatment of existing highway signs it provided that they should remain valid although not in conformance with the new heights, until December 31, 1960. This date was too short to allow a reasonable opportunity to the Highway Department to make the necessary measurements and determinations and to make changes in height where necessary.

A corrective bill making the necessary changes has been introduced as Senate Bill No. 212, passed by both houses and signed into law as Chapter 185 of P. L. 1959.

Respectfully,

ROBERT B. MEYNER,

Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 32

To the Senate:

I now return Senate Bill No. 32 without my approval for the following reasons:

This bill would supplement chapter 188 of the Laws of 1954, dealing with the allowance of sick leave in the public schools. It provides that whenever the school employee is on sick leave as the result of an injury caused by an accident arising out of and in the course of employment, the leave is not to be charged to the annual or accumulated sick leave. It also permits payment of full salary or wages during such absence but not to exceed 1 year, less a credit for any workmen's compensation award for temporary disability.

The bill is defective for several reasons. The main ones are that it does not say what shall happen if the employer does not make the permissive salary payment, and it gives the employer only the choice of either paying full salary or none at all.

These and other defects are cured in a substitute bill, Assembly Bill No. 695, which has been passed and signed and is now Chapter 175 of the Laws of 1959.

Respectfully,

ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 67

To the Senate:

I herewith return Senate Bill No. 67 without my approval for the following reasons:

This bill purports to amend chapter 253 of the Laws of 1944 by modifying the pensions payable to the widows and children of local police and fire personnel.

Where the member had retired on pension without service disability and subsequently died, the present pension is $\frac{1}{2}$ of average salary with a maximum of \$1,000 per year. This bill would increase the pension in all cases (not merely the maximum) to a flat \$1,200 per year, without regard to average salary.

Where the member died while in service (but not in the course of duty), or where he was retired on a non-service disability, the present pension is also $\frac{1}{2}$ of average salary, with a maximum of \$1,000 per year; the bill would increase this as well to a flat \$1,200 without regard to annual salary.

In both these categories, if there are surviving children under 18 but no widow, the pension is divided equally, subject to the limits of $1,000 per year for all and $20 per month for each where there are two or more and $25 per month if there is only one. The bill would raise these limits to $1,200, $40 and $50, respectively.

The present pension of $1,500 which is payable when the member died on duty after June 1, 1948 is not changed, but every pension payable for a death before that date would be raised to $1,200.

The foregoing changes are set out in sections 1 and 2 of the bill, amending R. S. 43:16-3 and R. S. 43:16-4.

Section 3 provides that the cost of these increases is to be met $\frac{2}{3}$ by payments from the State and $\frac{1}{3}$ by payments from the municipalities.

The changes proposed by this bill are in substance the same as those proposed by Senate Bill No. 61 (1956). That bill was passed by both Houses but was not approved by me and did not become law. My reasons were set forth extensively in my statement of March 5, 1957.

The pension systems involved have a history going back to 1885. From that date to 1917, 26 different pension laws were passed, and in that year a commission study noted that the systems lacked adequate reserves to meet costs. In 1920, a single law was passed to cover all these funds, but the recommendation to provide adequate reserves was not enacted, and the funds remained insolvent. In 1927, the State undertook to contribute half its annual revenue from certain insurance taxes to help stabilize the funds, but despite this, by 1931, the funds had a total deficit of $99.5 million.

By 1944, this situation had grown worse and legislation in that year prohibited acceptance of any new members by the old funds, and established a single new pension fund for police and fire personnel hired thereafter. This new fund was actuarially sound. The old funds were continued for their then members, and the State undertook to contribute $1. million per year, in addition to the tax revenue noted above, to help maintain them.

In spite of that assistance the aggregate deficit of the old funds, in the 20 year period from 1931 to 1951, more than doubled to a total of over $209. million.

Accordingly, in 1952, the old funds were overhauled and combined into a single fund, with salvage contributions to gradually make up the accumulated deficit over a 30 year period. These salvage contributions were to be paid, $\frac{2}{3}$ by the municipalities and $\frac{1}{3}$ by the State. Although it was then estimated that the State's share would be about \$2.75 million per year for 30 years, the actual need turned out to be \$3.5 million the first year, and reached nearly \$4.4 million in the current fiscal year.

All of the above background is set out in full detail in my statement of March 5, 1957, on Senate Bill No. 61 (1956), to which reference is made. The only substantial difference between that bill and Senate Bill No. 67 is that the present bill would have the extra cost divided as between the State and the municipalities, while the 1956 bill imposed the entire cost on the State.

The extra cost of these increases would amount to about $22,000,000 if the contributions are made between now and July 1, 1983, when the 1920 fund is to be covered by full actuarial reserves. Of this, $14,700,000 would have to be paid by the State and $7,300,000 by the municipalities. Additional State appropriations would have to be about $568,000 per year above the present level, which is already more than 75% higher than was originally expected.

If the extra cost were met annually, without full reserves by July 1, 1983, it would require payments of at least \$665,700 ($\frac{2}{3}$ of it paid by the State) in the first year, and increasing thereafter for some time. Payments would accrue beyond the year 2000 A. D.

The employees involved were not State employees, but local employees. They were members of funds that despite the warnings of the study commissions noted above, were unwilling to face the facts and make the contribution rates needed for a sound pension system. When, in 1952, these funds were in the red to the tune of over $200,000,000, the program to salvage them was adopted, at substantial cost to the State. That settlement closed the matter so far as the State was concerned. If the municipalities feel they should liberalize benefits to the members of the closed 1920 fund for their own employees, and are willing to bear the cost that might be another matter. I cannot, however, approve a bill which would still further increase the burden upon the State beyond that which it assumed when the fund was salvaged.

The proposal of the bill has other defects. The group involved cannot, in fairness, be treated separately. Whatever considerations might justify the increase now proposed will doubtless apply with equal reason to other groups not included, and if this bill were to become law, they would quite properly request equal treatment. The older history of pension legislation shows that the piecemeal approach, treating separate small groups separately, is fraught with danger and financial risk. Deficit by small doses should be studiously avoided, for it is a cumulative poison.

The method to use is that employed for the 1958 Inadequate Pension Bill, by which all groups similarly situated were given equal treatment, keyed to the factors bearing a reasonable relation to the desired object.

Lastly, it should be noted that the title of the bill is somewhat inaccurate. It purports to amend and supplement the 1944 act, while in fact it amends R. S. 43:16-3 and R. S. 43:16-4, and supplements Title 43 of the Revised Statutes.

Respectfully,

ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 92

To the Senate:

I return Senate Bill No. 92 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This is one of a group of bills prepared by the New Jersey State League of Municipalities as the result of review by its committees, for the commendable purpose of clearing up statutory defects which are encountered by election clerks. The particular problem which this bill attempts to deal with arises from the question considered in Johnson v. Reichenstein, 50 N. J. Super. 116 (App. 1958). In that case the question faced was whether the statute governing the nomination of candidates for municipal office, in fixing the number of "legally qualified voters" whose signatures are required, intended that the persons signing be in fact registered to vote in addition to having the constitutional qualifications entitling them to vote. Although the particular point raised in that case is now settled by the court decision, it was evidently felt there should be an attempt to pick up other terms than "legally qualified voter" and to express a statutory purpose that all such terms are intended to require that the person be in fact registered.

Unfortunately the subject bill does not accomplish the desired purpose. The mechanism chosen is the addition of a definition in the very first section of the election law, R. S. 19:1-1. The proposed definition states that each of 4 specified terms, namely, "legally qualified voter", "duly qualified voter", "duly qualified registered voter" or "qualified voter" is to mean a person who not only has the qualifications fixed by the statutes and Constitution but who also is in fact registered. However, the definition fails to deal with a number of other terms which are in fact used in Title 19 such as, "duly qualified elector", "qualified elector", "elector", "legal voter", and so on. At the same time it is by no means certain that a complete list has been compiled of all the places where the defined terms are used in Title 19 and that they are in all instances used in a context in which it is intended that actual registration be required.

It would be better to locate all the sections of the election law as well as of the Optional Municipal Charter Law where this problem is dealt with and to amend those sections to use a single term to express the desired idea. Short of this method, the only other safe mechanism would be a separate supplemental section declaring that in all cases where a nominating petition or a referendum is dealt with by statute, the persons signing the same must be persons who are in fact registered as well as satisfying other constitutional and statutory requirements.

The difficulties outlined above have been discussed with the New Jersey State League of Municipalities and that organization will undertake to prepare suitable legislation along the lines indicated in place of the present bill.

Respectfully,

ROBERT B. MEYNER,

Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 93

To the Senate:

I return Senate Bill No. 93 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would amend R. S. 19:7-4 by adding a provision limiting each party, candidate or public question to a single challenger at any one time for each polling place, unless the district board permits more than one.

R. S. 19:7-1 now provides for the appointment by each party of 2 challengers for each election district. R. S. 19:7-2 provides that each candidate may himself serve as a challenger and may also appoint 2 challengers for each election district. The same section also permits the county board, on the application of the proponents or opponents of a public question, to appoint 2 challengers each to represent the proponents or opponents in each election district.

The practical object sought by Senate Bill No. 93 is to control the total number of challengers who may be present in the polling place at the same time, having in mind, no doubt, that the presence of a large number of challengers in small polling places may unreasonably discourage voting by citizens who mistakenly suppose that they will have a long wait before voting.

I see no objection to the purpose, but am satisfied that it would be better achieved by a more carefully drawn provision, enacted as a separate section supplementing chapter 7 of Title 19 of the Revised Statutes.

As a result of conferences with experts in election procedures and representatives of the New Jersey State League of Municipalities, a suitable draft has been prepared and was reported and passed by the General Assembly as Assembly Committee Substitute for Assembly Bill No. 463. While the Senate did not act on that bill, I believe that its improved text will meet with legislative approval in the coming session.

Respectfully,

ROBERT B. MEYNER,

Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 96

To the Senate:

I return Senate Bill No. 96 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

The bill would amend section 1-10 of the "Optional Municipal Charter Law" (P. L. 1950, c. 210). That section deals with publication and delivery of the report of the charter commission to the municipality.

The present statute gives rise to two problems:

(a) in some cases the charter commission has failed to file with the municipal clerk any document that could be regarded as the official copy of the report, which the clerk should have for official record purposes; this phase has been especially troublesome when there was a minority report;

(b) there have been problems about publication or the supplying of copies.

My objections to the present bill, which attempts to make clarifying amendments, are that it still leaves uncertain questions, as by giving no indication of what is meant by "publish", by failing to deal with minority reports, and by containing an awkward provision that the municipal clerk is to deliver a copy of the report "to the governing body" as well as to its members. Delivery "to the governing body" usually means delivery to the municipal clerk himself.

Following discussions with experts in the subject, changes to the bill to eliminate these defects have been prepared.

These changes are embodied in Assembly Bill No. 466 (Aca), as passed by the Assembly on November 16, 1959. While the Senate took no action at its subsequent meeting, I believe the corrected bill will be enacted at the coming session.

SENATE BILL No. 97

To the Senate:

I return Senate Bill No. 97 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would amend section 5-6 of the "Optional Municipal Charter Law" (P. L. 1950, c. 210). That section now provides that vacancies in any elective office are to be filled for the unexpired term at the next general election which is not less than 60 days after the vacancy occurs; with authority in the council to fill temporarily the vacancy until such election.

The proposed amendment would allow filling of the vacancy by appointment only when it occurs in the third year of the term and less than 60 days before the general election. The object is to avoid what would in most cases be an election for a very short period.

The purpose seems entirely desirable, but my objection is that the proposed language to accomplish it is not entirely clear.

After conferences on the subject, a redraft has been prepared. In reviewing these changes, it will be observed that since Article II, paragraph 1 of the Constitution fixes the day for general elections as "the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November", the day which is 60 days before it will always be the ninth Friday before general election day, and the latter form is preferable as it makes the computation of the date and its expression much simpler.

These changes are embodied in Assembly Bill No. 467 (Aca), as passed by the Assembly on November 16, 1959. While the Senate took no action at its subsequent meeting, I believe the corrected bill will be enacted at the coming session.

SENATE BILL No. 98

To the Senate:

I return Senate Bill No. 98 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would supplement Article 17 of the "Optional Municipal Charter Law" (P. L. 1950, c. 210) by adding a section requiring that candidates for elective office in cities of the first class be residents thereof for at least 2 years, and, in the case of ward officers, that they be residents of the ward for at least 8 months.

My objection is that the language of the bill does not clearly express this intention, thus creating a risk that further corrective legislation would be needed.

These changes are embodied in Assembly Committee Substitute for Assembly No. 468, as passed by the Assembly on November 16, 1959. While the Senate took no action at its subsequent meeting, I believe the corrected bill will be enacted at the coming session.

SENATE BILL No. 99

To the Senate:

I return Senate Bill No. 99 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would amend section 17-4 of the "Optional Municipal Charter Law" (P. L. 1950, c. 210). That section now prescribes the form of certificate to be used on nominating petitions, and uses the terms "legally qualified voters" and "qualified elector". The amendment would change these terms in two places to read "duly qualified registered voter", supposedly to conform the statute to the decision in Johnson v. Reichenstein, 50 N. J. Super. 116 (App. 1958), which held that persons who were qualified to vote and who were in fact registered, were contemplated by this section.

My message in connection with Senate Bill No. 92 (1959) will explain why the presently offered amendments should not be made; in addition there is a further objection in that the term "qualified elector" is left unchanged in line 20 of section 1 of the bill.

I do not believe any disadvantage would flow from leaving the section as it stands, without change, since its meaning is now settled by the above decision. If, however, the Legislature feels the text should be conformed to the opinion, I believe the object would be better served by the use of a clearer phrase.

These changes are embodied in Assembly Bill No. 469 (Aca), as passed by the Assembly on November 16, 1959. While the Senate took no action at its subsequent meeting, I believe the corrected bill will be enacted at the coming session.

SENATE BILL No. 100

To the Senate:

I return Senate Bill No. 100 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would amend section 17-5 of the "Optional Municipal Charter Law" (P. L. 1950, c. 210), dealing with examination of, rejection and correction of defects in nominating petitions.

The object of the amendment is to insure that the Clerk keeps the original petition, while providing to the candidate a method for correcting defects. Some clerks have had the experience of finding petitions which were returned to the candidate for correction come back with the clerk's notations crossed out and others written in, making it difficult to conduct an orderly examination of the papers.

The object is a worthy one, but my objection is that the language of the bill leaves open a number of important questions. These have been reviewed at conferences with persons who have worked with the present law, and corrections have been prepared.

These changes are embodied in Assembly Bill No. 470 (Aca), as passed by the Assembly on November 16, 1959. While the Senate took no action at its subsequent meeting, I believe the corrected bill will be enacted at the coming session.

This bill would amend section 17-11 of the "Optional Municipal Charter Law" (P. L. 1950, c. 210), dealing with the method of determining the existence of a majority vote and the need for a runoff election. The change incorporates the so-called "Reichenstein formula", which was rejected by the Supreme Court in Trugman v. Reichenstein, 27 N. J. 280 (1958).

The problem arises when more than a single office of a given kind is to be filled, and the voter is instructed to vote for 2, 3, 4 or 5 persons from among the candidates. Under the "Reichenstein formula" incorporated in the bill, the votes cast for each candidate for the office are added together and the total is divided by the number of offices to be filled. The resulting quotient is assumed to represent the number of voters who voted for 1 or more of the candidates, and one-half of that quotient, plus one, is taken as the measure of a majority of the persons voting. The Supreme Court pointed out that since some voters may vote for fewer than the number of officers to be elected, the computed majority under the formula would tend to be less than the actual figure, and also that the language of the present statute calls for "a majority of the votes cast in the (municipal) election", meaning the number of voters who actually voted at the polls for any office.

The amusing circumstance is that the determination of a majority presents a problem only when modern voting machines are used; it is a simple matter with paper ballots. The reason for this is that voting machines are not ordinarily supplied with a counter to tally the number of voters who cast one or more votes within a bracket for which more than one office is to be filled. If this number were shown on the machine, one-half plus one would provide the desired number indicating a majority.

I have accordingly caused inquiry to be made to determine whether such counters can be added to present voting machines. The manufacturer reports that a single such counter can be installed in a way capable of being hooked up with any part of the ballot space and with any number of spaces. The cost would be low compared to the cost of a single runoff election.

For these reasons, I think the present form of the bill is open to objection first, because it does not amend the key phrase "majority of the votes cast in the election"; second, because it requires an artificial formula when none is needed as in the case of paper ballots or voting machines equipped with a separate counter.

These changes are embodied in Assembly Bill No. 472 (Aca), as passed by the Assembly on November 16, 1959. While the Senate took no action at its subsequent meeting, I believe the corrected bill will be enacted at the coming session.

SENATE BILL No. 103

To the Senate:

I return Senate Bill No. 103 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would amend section 17-12 of the "Optional Municipal Charter Law" (P. L. 1950, c. 210). That section deals with a runoff election when the required majority is not received in the regular election. The amendment attempts to deal with the problem, which has in fact arisen, when a person who is still a candidate for runoff dies between the dates of the regular and runoff elections. See McCarthy v. Reichenstein, 50 N. J. Super. 501 (App. 1958).

My objection is that the language of the amendment is suitable only for the case where the candidate who dies is the lowest in number of votes among those included in the runoff. Thus, where two candidates are in a runoff, if the one highest in votes should die, the second candidate would be the only candidate. Appropriate changes are needed.

These changes are embodied in Assembly Bill No. 473 (Aca), as passed by the Assembly on November 16, 1959. While the Senate took no action at its subsequent meeting, I believe the corrected bill will be enacted at the coming session.

SENATE BILL No. 228

To the Senate:

I return Senate Bill No. 228 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would have supplemented Chapter 47 of Title 40 of the Revised Statutes by authorizing the governing body of a municipality to validate the appointment of persons in the police or paid fire department under certain circumstances where the original appointment was defective because the appointee had not attained the age of 21 years at the time.

The bill was defective in that it was prospective in a form that would have unwisely provided a basis for disregarding the minimum age requirements. In addition, the provision as to the disposition of pension rights and the like upon ratification were broader than necessary to meet the needs of the case.

A corrective bill making the necessary changes has been introduced as Assembly Bill No. 716, passed by both houses and signed into law as Chapter 188 of P. L. 1959.

SENATE BILL No. 257

To the Senate:

I return Senate Bill No. 257 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This was an independent bill with no reference to existing law. It provided that any person with 10 years or more of experience with a beach patrol unit or as a lifeguard at a public beach should be eligible for appointment by a municipality to a beach patrol or as a lifeguard for a public beach notwithstanding the fact that the appointee is under contract with a board of education to render services as a teacher or otherwise.

The need for this bill is obscure. Inquiry has determined only that in a few instances, municipal officials have been of the impression that the municipality could not hire as lifeguards persons who were at the time employed as teachers on some theory of dual employment.

The problem does not appear to be a real problem. Persons employed by boards of education do not appear to be municipal employees. In Merrey v. Board of Education, etc., 100 N. J. L. 273 (S. Ct. 1924) it was held that a school district board is a corporate entity separate and distinct from the municipal corporate entity. The court pointed to a number of statutory provisions contained in Chapter 1, Laws of 1903, Second Special Session. Similar provisions are now found in R. S. 18:5-1.1, 18:6-21, 18:6-23 and 18:6-24.

There does not appear to be any law prohibiting school teachers from undertaking any other kind of employment during periods of time when they are not required to be rendering services at the school or otherwise for the school district. Thus it is common knowledge that many teachers hold part-time jobs in the evenings or on week-ends, holidays or during school vacations of either short or long duration. Whether that additional employment be with a private employer, or in self-employment, or with a municipal corporation is obviously immaterial. There appears to be no reason why a person who is a school teacher should not, on Saturdays and Sundays, be employed as a lifeguard at a public beach or at private swimming facilities or be employed at any other occupation so long as he performs the services for which he is employed by the school district.

To the General Assembly:

I return Assembly Bill No. 122 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would supplement Chapter 60 of Title 40 of the Revised Statutes. It would provide that where the residential property of any person is acquired by the State or any of its agencies or authorities for the purpose of constructing a highway to be used as an expressway, freeway, parkway or thruway, the owner so dispossessed may apply to the governing body of the municipality to purchase "at private sale" real property owned by the municipality. It would then authorize the governing body to make such sale "at a fair market value" on terms and conditions fixed by the governing body and agreed to by the applicant even though the land so sold may have been a part of lands improved and used for park purposes.

The bill is obviously intended to provide a mechanism to alleviate to a degree the problems which flow from the construction of projects which involve the taking of residential lands and the resettlement of the persons formerly located there. The object is, of course, a desirable one and it is unfortunate that the particular method chosen to alleviate the condition cannot be approved. The difficulties with the bill are as follows:

(1) It is a special bill because the same reasons which support it in the case of a taking for highways of a special kind are equally applicable to instances where the taking is for ordinary highways or for other governmental purposes;

(2) The provision for disposition of municipal lands at private sale is unwise policy in the absence of suitable statutory controls. See R. S. 40:60-26 (b) and (c);

(3) The bill completely fails to make any requirement that the land obtained from the municipality be used for residential purposes;

(4) The present statute dealing with park lands, R. S. 40:60-27, requires as a condition to any such sale that there be obtained in exchange other lands contiguous to the park lands at least equal in area to the lands conveyed. The present bill contains no mechanism to protect against the unwise disposition of needed park lands under the pressure of supposed need;

(5) Although the bill purports to authorize the disposition of park lands, this enactment would be ineffective as to any case where the municipal title is subject to a reverter for breach of condition;

(6) Even if it be assumed that the displacement caused by the condemnation of the kind described made it difficult to find other residential accommodations in the same municipality, there is nothing to suggest that the person so displaced could not without difficulty locate suitable residential accommodations in another municipality. It must be remembered that upon condemnation the State agency or authority compensates the owner for the value of the property condemned and the money so received is, therefore, available to purchase other accommodations.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 138

To the General Assembly:

I now return Assembly Bill No. 138 without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill declares that no toll shall be charged by the New Jersey Turnpike Authority for the passage over the Turnpike of certain specified types of vehicles such as ambulances, first-aid, fire-fighting or police vehicles, which require emergency passage or otherwise in the performance of their duties.

The vehicles covered by the bill are limited to those operated by the State of New Jersey, or by a New Jersey municipality, county or non-profit organization. In this respect the scope of the bill is narrower than the practice actually followed on the Turnpike, which allows toll-free passage of such vehicles from our neighboring states as well as from within this State. Since the object of the bill, and more, is in fact achieved without a statute, the bill is unnecessary.

If the bill attempted to go beyond the scope of the actual practice followed by the Authority, it would be ineffective because the Authority practice matches the permission it has to allow toll-free passage under the terms of its bond resolution, which is a part of its contract with bond-holders. No statute can constitutionally vary those terms by legislative fiat. 1947 Constitution, Article IV, Section VII, paragraph 3.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 167

To the General Assembly:

I return Assembly Bill No. 167 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would supplement chapter 15 of Title 9 and amend section 26:8-40 of the Revised Statutes. The bill provides for the legitimation of a child born out of wedlock in cases where the child's mother subsequently marries a person who is not the father, upon filing proof of the marriage and a statement signed by both that they desire to establish the same relationships, rights, duties and obligations between said child and themselves as though the child had been born to them in lawful wedlock. The amendment to R. S. 26:8-40 would provide for the issuance of a new birth certificate in the same manner as is now done where a child is legitimated by the subsequent marriage of its natural parents.

The object if the bill evidently is to further protect the innocent victims of unwise parents. However, this desirable objective cannot, in my opinion, be accomplished in the manner proposed.

In effect, the bill would establish a method of administrative adoption having much the same effect as a regular adoption under chapter 3 of Title 9 of the Revised Statutes (the adoption act). A great deal has been done in the way of modernizing our adoption statutes, the entire act having been revised in 1953 by Chapter 264 and I know of no reason why the instances which would be covered by Assembly Bill No. 167 cannot be thoroughly and adequately met by suitable proceedings under the present adoption act.

It is said that formal proceedings under the adoption act may involve some risk of publicity which could undesirably disclose the fact that the child was illegitimate. This is not the case since the adoption act carefully provides for hearings by the court in camera and for a sealing of the records which "shall at no time be open to inspection unless the court, upon good cause shown, shall otherwise order". The same provision is set forth with respect to the index of adoption proceedings, see Section 15, Chapter 264, P. L. 1953. On the other hand, unintentional though it may be, proceedings under Assembly Bill No. 167 would of themselves be direct information that the child was illegitimate since the proceedings can only be taken under the proposal when the child was born out of wedlock. Thus the very objective sought to be achieved would be entirely frustrated by the establishment of a special procedure applicable only to the special case mentioned.

Further, if it be said that it is desirable to provide a simple administrative method to accomplish the object of an adoption there would then be raised the question why the bill should be limited to illegitimate children. The same considerations might equally be applied to the case of a mother who is widowed or divorced and upon her remarriage, the person whom she marries is willing and desires to adopt the child or children of her former marriage. Yet the proposed bill makes no provision for this equally appealing situation.

I find it difficult to subscribe, however, to any proposals which unduly simplify the adoption procedure. Our present adoption act is very carefully designed to make certain that the Superior Court acting through the Chancery Division supervises the adoption process as parens patriae of the child and is directed by the act to place the welfare of the child above all other considerations. The mere marriage of the mother and the willingness of her husband to adopt may well not be in the best interest of the child. This is a fact that can only be determined accurately on a case by case basis.

ROBERT B. MEYNER,

Governor.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 174

To the General Assembly:

I return Assembly Bill No. 174 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would amend N. J. S. 2A:151-44 which deals with the procedure by which applications are processed for the purpose of obtaining pistol permits.

The amendments attempt to establish separate procedures in the case of a person who is a resident of the State of New Jersey from the procedure to be used when the applicant is a non-resident. In the case of a non-resident the bill would require that he first obtain a permit or license "in the State of his residence or employment" and that he attach a certified or photostatic copy of that permit to his application in this State.

This provision could obviously lead to unexpected confusion. For example, if the applicant resides in New York and is employed in New Jersey, the new provision would require that he obtain a permit in the State of his employment (New Jersey) before obtaining a permit in New Jersey. In addition, in a case where the non-resident requests the permit only in connection with employment he will not have possession of the firearm in the State of his residence and there will be no occasion or basis upon which he can obtain a permit in the State of residence.

From an examination of the bill it is difficult to ascertain what state of facts creates the need for legislation. It may be that the objective is to provide to the New Jersey officials relevant data in the possession of authorities in the State of residence in order to assist them to pass upon an application here. If that is the case, the objective can be achieved much more simply, merely by requiring that where an applicant is a non-resident, the New Jersey official who reviews the application shall first obtain a suitable report from the authorities in the State of residence.

To the General Assembly:

I now return Assembly Bill No. 193 without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill was introduced for the purpose of amending the 5-year escheat statute (P. L. 1951, ch. 304, N. J. S. 2A :37-29 to 44) in order to provide better procedural flexibility, to reduce the expense of this kind of proceeding, and to provide indemnity to persons in the position of stakeholders, who are required by existing law to transfer property they hold to the State's custody.

The text of the bill had been prepared with great care and after extended discussion with representatives of a number of local corporations which are annually required to turn over escheated property under this statute. The underlying object was to improve the act in the respects to be noted below, so that the obligation to comply would be less burdensome. This was in furtherance of New Jersey's historic policy to maintain a harmonious and friendly climate for the many business enterprises within our borders.

At the time this bill originally passed in the Assembly, one of the corporate representatives suggested that the provision to report a claim "immediately" might be too strictly construed, and suggested that the provision be changed to read that the claim is to be reported "with reasonable dispatch."

Complying with this request, my staff sent a memorandum to all members of the Senate on April 27, 1959, so that the requested amendment could be made in that House:

"Assembly No. 193 in Senate, A. & R. of Laws Comm.
(1) The present 5-year escheat section, N. J. S. 2A:37-30 applies to moneys, dividends, interest, and wages. However, possibly in borrowing language from the 14-year statute, the term 'personal property' is used in several places. This is changed to read 'moneys'.

“(2) The act now provides for a single, fixed form of action, only in the Superior Court, creating unforeseen problems. Example: in the National case, 16 N. J. 486, a N. J. corporation holding escheatable funds merged with a foreign corporation. The N. J. proceeding was futile as the new corporation could not be served, and the statute fails to provide for suits in other courts. Section 1 amends the act to allow the State Treasurer to claim the funds on behalf of the true owner, and section 2 permits appointment of a receiver or administrator who can sue in any court when our court cannot reach the defendant. This directly parallels methods used for estates of insolvents and decedents to solve the same problem.

“(3) Section 3 amends the act to allow the court to fix a method of notice other than the mailing of a letter or postcard which has proven unsuitable for numerous items of only a few cents in amount. Any method permitted by court rules will be available with this change.

“(4) Where test cases have settled basic laws, many holders of funds would prefer to transfer custody without the expense of a lawsuit. The change of section 1, and the indemnity provided by section 4, will allow this to be done voluntarily. The indemnity clause is in line with similar provisions of this kind.

“(5) The changes in the remaining sections are needed to fit in with the above.

“(6) It has been asked that there be an amendment, which seems to be entirely proper, as follows:

p. 4, sec. 4, line 17: delete the word ‘immediately’, and in lieu thereof insert: ‘, with reasonable dispatch,’ ”

Although there were no known objections to the bill with the requested change, the Senate failed to act for some time, and the subject was accordingly taken up at the weekly legislative conference on a number of occasions. There was never any communication or explanation from the Senate until late in the evening of May 25, 1959 (which was to be the last legislative day before the summer recess), when the Senate passed the bill with amendment. Since an amendment had been requested, it was naturally assumed that it was this change that had been made, and the General Assembly thereupon proceeded to pass the Senate amendment late that same night, under emergency resolution.

When the bill was later checked, however, it was discovered that instead of making the requested amendment, the Senate had added an entirely new section changing N. J. S. 2A:37-29 to require that 12 years, instead of the present provision for 5 years should elapse before the State received custody of the escheated funds.

Although the bill had been taken up several times in conference, the intention to make this change in the law and the reasons for desiring to do so were never disclosed by any member of the Senate majority which controlled the bill in caucus. There has been no explanation to this day.

At the legislative conference of November 12, 1959, the question was explicitly put, and a request was made to correct the bill by deleting this unexplained change and by making the change originally asked. No explanation for the Senate's action was given at that time. Instead, my office was requested to supply a memorandum outlining the situation. This was done the next day, copies being sent to the President of the Senate and the Assistant Minority Leader of the Assembly, among others, as follows:

- "1. This bill was passed in the Assembly, amended in the Senate, and is on 2nd reading in the Assembly.
- "2. As introduced, the bill brings the present statutory procedure into line with the procedure generally governing in rem actions with absent defendants, and it adds an indemnity provision to protect the custodian who turns over the funds.
- "3. After Assembly passage, the custodians (mostly corporations) asked that the provision for 'immediate' notice to the State be altered to provide for notice 'with reasonable dispatch.' This was approved and a memorandum was sent to the Senate requesting that change.
- "4. In the Senate, however, the requested change was not made. Instead, a new section was added amending N. J. S. 2A:37-29, which now authorized a proceeding to obtain custody after 5 years' absence, so as to require 12 years' absence. This amendment would vitiate the entire act for the following reasons:

- “(a) The first escheat act, passed in 1946, provided for the taking of unclaimed personal property of unknown or absent owners after 14 years (N. J. S. 2A:37-11 to 28).
- “(b) In subsequent decisions, it was held that property claims which had been barred by the 6-year statute of limitations could not be claimed under the 14-year statute. See Standard Oil Co., 5 N. J. 281 (1950).
- “(c) Thereafter, a custodial statute was passed 1951. This is N. J. S. 2A:37-29 through 44, and is the act involved in A-193. It provided for a separate court proceeding by which the State obtains custody only, on behalf of the absent owner, after 5 years. By having the State take custody after 5 years, the running of the 6-year statute of limitations is halted. See Sperry etc. Co., 23 N. J. 38.
- “Another 2 years, for a total of 7 years, must elapse before the funds held in custody can be escheated (N. J. S. 2A:37-34) and this step is taken only after a court proceeding on notice (N. J. S. 2A:37-36 to 38).
- “(d) To change the custodial act from 5 years (as the present law reads) to 12 years (as the Senate amendment proposed), would allow the 6-year statute of limitations to run and would effectively cut off the escheat programs begun in 1946 and improved in 1951.”

It is clear from the foregoing analysis that the Senate amendment would emasculate the 5-year custodial escheat act, and the bill must therefore be returned without approval.

The history of the way in which this bill was handled in the Senate is a prime example of the public disservice which results from the uncommunicative technique of the caucus system employed by the Senate majority party to control legislation absolutely. The bill was a desirable one, there is not to this day any known objection to it, yet the Senate caucus saw fit to tack on a change which would have been to the disadvantage of the public and has not seen fit to disclose its motives or explain its reasons.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 248

To the General Assembly:

I return Assembly Bill No. 248 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would amend R. S. 54:34-2, 54:34-2.1 and 54:34-3 by inserting express provisions dealing with legally adopted children and brothers and sisters of the whole or half blood.

The question of the rate classification of adopted children was litigated and settled by the Supreme Court in Palmer v. Kingsley, 27 N. J. 425 (1958). In that case the court held that the Transfer Inheritance Tax Act is to be read in conjunction with the adoption act of 1953 with the result that adopted children are to be given the same treatment for rate classification purposes as natural children.

The decision of the Supreme Court carries its own force and the accomplishment of this objective does not require amendment of the statute. While it may be desirable to amend the Transfer Inheritance Tax Act to conform with the Supreme Court opinion, such a course would require extremely careful preparation to insure, for example, that the issue of adopted children, the adopted children of a deceased adopted child, adoptive brothers or sisters, adopted children of a stepchild and all the other possibilities were thoroughly checked out and provided for. This bill is not drawn to accomplish that purpose.

On the contrary, examination of the bill discloses that its purpose is to limit the rate classification to a child or children of a deceased legally adopted child and presumably to exclude their issue, the adopted children of a deceased adopted child, adoptive brothers and sisters and adopted children of a stepchild as well as perhaps other categories. In this respect the amendments would cut down the effect of the recent Supreme Court decision.

It is the policy of the State, under the adoption act of 1953, to extend to adopted children in full all of the rights, privileges and relationships which attach to natural children. I am aware of no reason which would justify a departure from this broad principle in connection with the determination of rates for inheritance tax purposes. I do not believe that full recognition of the legal effect of an adoption would in any way seriously affect the amount of State revenues derived from the inheritance tax law.

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith Assembly Bill No. 349, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would allow motor vehicles carrying land fill for a "reclamation of meadowland project" to travel along county roads, State highways or municipal roads without regard to maximum gross weight of vehicle and load under existing statutes. It provides that the board of chosen freeholders of a county in which a project "is being or will be carried on" may authorize its county supervisor to issue a permit for the vehicle, fixing a maximum weight limit in the permit. Consent to the use of State highways or municipal roads is required where they are part of the route. Other provisions deal with financial responsibility of the vehicle operator, the obligation to pay for damage caused to any road, bridge or railroad crossing, and penalties for exceeding the limit fixed in the permit.

Under the federal highway law (23 U. S. C. A. 127), maximum limits are fixed for highways which are part of the Interstate System, and if this bill became law, it would allow weights in excess of the Federal maximum and thereby disqualify New Jersey for the receipt of Federal highway funds.

I am satisfied, too, that the desired object can be achieved under existing law. Land fill of the kind this bill deals with is the usual by-product of excavation or other earth-moving phases of a construction project and can be carried in vehicles registered for use with constructor registration plates in proper cases. ASSEMBLY BILL No. 357

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith Assembly Bill No. 357, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill, together with Assembly Bill No. 359, propose changes in the Banks' and Savings Banks' Officers' and Employees' Retirement and Benefit Act (P. L. 1953, c. 124), which was added to the 1948 Banking Act (P. L. 1948, c. 67). Since both bills are before me and are interrelated, they will be considered together.

The 1953 law established a framework within which banks and savings banks might establish plans to provide retirement and related benefits for their officers and employees, subject to the supervision of the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance.

Together, these two bills would remove banks from the scope of the present law, which would then apply only to savings banks, and establish an entirely new framework for banks other than savings banks.

The suggested alteration was given extended analysis and discussion with bank and savings bank representatives and the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance. The conclusions reached were that banks and savings banks should continue to be governed by a single statute, and that if the present statute is unsatisfactory in any respect it should be modified to cure the defect for the benefit of all types of bank and savings bank alike. A new bill for this purpose is now under study and will be introduced at the next session.

I return Assembly Bill No. 361 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would have amended chapter 56 of P. L. 1946 dealing with savings and loan associations and building and loan associations by authorizing a participation in mortgage loans in conjunction with out-of-state associations, to the extent and under the conditions permitted by the rules and regulations of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

Quite aside from the risk of constitutional infirmity which might arise from the attempt to incorporate the Federal rules and regulations by reference (New Jersey Constitution 1947, Article IV, Section VII, paragraph 5), I consider this mechanism quite undesirable. The factors which may persuade the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation to adopt a given rule or regulation are likely to be based on nation-wide factors which may or may not be in the interest of associations subject to the law of New Jersey. It is preferable in extending the authority which this bill proposes, to have it controlled by rules and regulations promulgated by the Department of Banking and Insurance subject to the standards that those rules and regulations shall conform as closely as may be to the Federal rules consistent with due consideration for local conditions.

A corrective bill making the necessary changes has been introduced as Assembly Bill No. 722, passed by both houses and signed into law as Chapter 183 of P. L. 1959.

ROBERT B. MEYNER,

Governor.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 415

To the General Assembly:

I return Assembly Bill No. 415 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would amend R. S. 34:15-15, dealing with the statutory obligation placed upon an employer to furnish "medical, surgical and other treatment, and hospital service" to injured workmen. The amendment consists of adding an express reference to "chiropractors' services" in seven places in this section.

As the statute now stands, the obligation is to furnish such "medical, surgical and other treatment, and hospital service'' as is necessary to cure and relieve the effects of the injury, and for restoration of functions where possible. This obligation is made subject to the provisos that:

1. The obligation is limited to $50.00 for professional services and $50.00 for hospital services unless the Division of Workmen's Compensation determines, on petition and hearing, that the treatment and services are necessary and reasonable in amount;

2. The employee may secure the treatment and services when the employer refuses or neglects to provide them;

3. The employer is relieved of the obligation to reimburse unless he was first requested to furnish the treatment or service or unless the need was obvious and the employer failed to furnish the treatment or service with knowledge of the injury and the need;

4. Notification is not required when it was not possible to give it or when the peculiar circumstances of the case justify the expenditure assumed by the employee.

After the present section makes use of the basic phrase "medical, surgical and other treatment, and hospital service'', it thereafter refers to this category by a variety of non-uniform expressions, as follows:

*a. "physicians' or surgeons' services . . . hospital service'';

*b. "physicians' or surgeons' services . . . such hospital service or appliances'';

*c. "such physicians' and surgeons' treatment and hospital services'';

d. "such treatment and services'';

*e. "such physicians' treatment and hospital services'';

f. "the same'';

g. "such services'';

h. "the same'';

*i. "such physicians' treatment and hospital services, apparatus and appliances'';

*j. "such physicians' and surgeons' treatment and hospital treatment";

*k. "similar physicians', surgeons' and hospital services".

The expressions marked with an asterisk are those in which the word "chiropractors" is inserted by the bill; the other expressions are left unchanged.

There can be no doubt that the phrasing of the present section leaves much to be desired in the way of draftsmanship. Nonetheless it is plain that it is hardly improved, and, in fact may be worsened, by the proposed amendment.

Presumably, the object is to make clear that the services of a chiropractor are included among those authorized by the act. In my judgment, the amendment is unnecessary and would add to the confusion.

What has evidently been overlooked is that the enacting clause covers the whole category of "medical, surgical and other treatment" (emphasis added), and the fact that the various provisos which follow refer variously to "physicians" or to "physicians or surgeons" cannot reduce the scope of the enacting clause. Thus, the services of a chiropractor, where they are in fact necessary and where the cost is reasonable in amount, are included in the phrase "other treatment". I am informed by the Division of Workmen's Compensation that this is the interpretation followed in practice and that payment for the services of a chiropractor are in fact required where the statutory requirements are met.

If this amendment were enacted, it could carry the implication that professional services of a type not expressly mentioned in the provisos cannot be required of the employer, despite the breadth of the phrase "other treatment". Thus, for example, there would be doubt whether the services of a dentist (who is nowhere mentioned) could be required to be provided, although, as is well known, such services are essential for certain types of injury such as a jaw fracture.

Further, while inserting specific mention of "chiropractors" in the seven places noted, the bill fails to cure the omission of a reference to "surgeons" in items (e.) and (i.), listed above, or to make consistent the varied references to "treatment" (basic phrase, plus items c, d, e, i and j, above), and "services" (items a, b, g and k, above) in speaking of physicians and surgeons; nor the partial references to "appliances" and "apparatus and appliances" in items (b.) and (i.), above.

In summary, then, I am satisfied that the proposed amendment is unnecessary since chiropractic services are included in the term "other treatment" when the conditions of the act are satisfied, and that while the section could be vastly improved by redrafting, this bill fails to achieve that object. It should be noted, too, that whether the proposed amendment be made or not, the allowance of the cost of chiropractic services will be a matter of fact to be determined in each case; there must be a proper relation, as there must be for any service, between the nature of the injury and the capacity of the requested service to cure and relieve the workman of the effects of the injury and to restore the functions of the injured member or organ where possible.

To the General Assembly:

I return Assembly Bill No. 433 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would amend section 39:3-84 of the Revised Statutes. Actually two amendments are involved. The first amendment deals with commercial motor vehicles of the tractor-semitrailer type. Under present law the combined length of the two units is limited to 50 feet but the length of the semitrailer is limited to 35 feet. The amendment leaves the 50 foot limit unchanged but removes the 35 foot limit applicable to the semitrailer in order to permit the use of current models, under which the total 50 foot length may be divided as between the tractor and the semitrailer. This part of the bill appears to be unobjectionable.

The second amendment in the bill would eliminate the present statutory maximum width of 96 inches applicable to buses and in its place would vest authority in the Board of Public Utility Commissioners to prescribe the maximum width in the same manner as it prescribes maximum lengths under present law.

This part of the bill, in failing to make any provision to conform to Federal requirements in connection with Federal highways, would have run the risk of making New Jersey ineligible for the receipt of Federal highway funds.

A better flexible mechanism is to require that before there be action by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners, it should first receive an appropriate certification by the Division of Motor Vehicles with respect to the safety of a proposed width limitation, and a certification from the State Highway Department with respect to the conformity of a proposed width with Federal highway requirements. There should also be a provision that in no case shall a width be prescribed which would disqualify the State from receiving Federal highway funds.

A corrective bill making the necessary changes has been introduced as Assembly Bill No. 714, passed by both houses and signed into law as Chapter 171 of P. L. 1959.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 439

To the General Assembly:

I return Assembly Bill No. 439 without my approval for the following reasons:

The bill provides that a full time employee of a county, municipality or school district who is required to work on a legal holiday in the course of his regular work week "shall be entitled" to a compensatory day of leave "at the option" of his employer. The provision is made inapplicable to uniformed members or dispatchers of a police or fire department, and to Saturdays and Sundays.

The bill was amended twice in the Assembly and once in the Senate before it was passed, resulting in an ambiguous patchwork that is compounded by an attempt to include a number of conditions, exceptions and modifiers in a single sentence. Thus, at one stage the bill gave the employee the right to have either a day's pay or a day's leave; the employer was given the option to decide which. By amendment, the provision for a day's pay was removed, but the option was left in with no subject to which it could logically apply. Further, section 2 still directs that "additional compensation" so earned "shall be paid", although the provision for a day's pay is gone.

The Senate had this bill from April 6 to May 25 when it passed it with amendments, May 25 being the day when both Houses planned to recess for the summer and on which 169 bills were voted on in the two Houses. If the bill could not have been properly redrawn by that day, it should not then have been passed. I suspect that the drafting problems resulted from not knowing just what the facts were and not having a clear idea of the object to be achieved.

To the General Assembly:

I return Assembly Bill No. 480 without my approval for the following reasons:

The bill provides that when a criminal complaint or accusation has been filed and has been dismissed or withdrawn, the court in which it was filed may order all evidence of the complaint and the proceedings expunged from the record. The same provision would apply when no indictment was found on the charge and no subsequent complaint was made on the same charge. The expungement order is limited to the court in which the complaint was filed. Notice of application by the accused is to be given to the county prosecutor and such others as the court may direct.

The concept of the bill is presumably patterned after N. J. S. 2A:164-28 which provides for expungement of the record of conviction in certain cases. Presumably, it is reasoned that a like amnesty from the record should be extended to persons against whom a charge was made but was dismissed or withdrawn, but the proposal suffers from a number of fatal defects.

In the first place, the record of dismissal is the very means by which the accused can prove that the charge was not proved; he would be ill-advised to expunge it. Second, the order would only expunge records in the court where the complaint was filed; a criminal complaint can and does generate a host of records in other places, and these would remain in existence but robbed of the official record to sustain them. Some of these records are beyond the power of the State to expunge, such as those which are sent to Federal law enforcement agencies. Nor is it clear just how the expungement would be accomplished. Would the jacket with the original papers be destroyed? How would the record be expunged from the bound volumes in which the court minutes are written? What would be done if the complaint were filed in the municipal court and transferred to the county court for grand jury consideration? Suppose there had been a conviction, and a reversal on appeal followed by a dismissal on the new trial; how would the printed record on appeal in our casebooks be expunged? In what way would any newspaper accounts of the charge, or the personal recollections of those involved, be expunged? Suppose one with personal knowledge of the event were to declare its occurrence, and be sued for defamation; where would he get proof of the truth if the record were gone?

It may be argued that some of these troublesome considerations apply with equal force to N. J. S. 2A:164-28 but that merely raises the question whether the present statute is a wise one. At least under the present act, a period of 10 years must elapse before any application may be made, and the accused's conduct over that period may provide a sound basis for judging whether rehabilitation is complete. In addition, the language of the present act indicates that there is an intention to limit it to cases where the record shows but a single conviction. In the present bill, there is no required waiting period, and the only restriction is that there be no subsequent complaint on the same charge; presumably an expungement would be permitted in the face of a string of complaints and even convictions so long as they were on different charges.

It is difficult to justify the expungement of official records on any ground. Expungement runs counter to the very purpose for which official records are kept, and mere expungement of the record does not serve to erase the fact itself. The kind of record involved in this bill is often of great value to law enforcement officers and to the public. If these records result in the creation of a problem to the persons involved, some device or routine other than expungement should be sought as the solution.

To the General Assembly:

I return Assembly Bill No. 532 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill proposed a supplement to the "Savings and Loan Act" (P. L. 1946, c. 56). Its object was to permit savings and loan institutions to make loans of the type known as modernization loans on a basis permitting discount in advance of the interest portion and establishing the maximum rate and other terms for the regulation of this special category.

A related bill, Assembly No. 600, dealt with the same subject in the case of banks.

Examination of the two bills disclosed that Assembly No. 532 failed to conform to the provisions applicable to banks under Assembly No. 600. For example, there was no provision in the savings and loan bill setting a maximum for the aggregate amount that might be advanced in connection with a single parcel of property, nor was there any provision that the repayment installments be of the same amount or that no charges be made other than those permitted by the bill. There was no limitation as to the taking of security or limiting the kind of security that might be required in the light of the special interest rates permitted.

A corrective bill making the necessary changes has been introduced as Assembly Bill No. 719, passed by both houses and signed into law as chapter 182 of P. L. 1959.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 539

To the General Assembly:

I return Assembly Bill No. 539 without my approval for the following reasons:

The bill would allow members of the Consolidated Police and Firemen's Pension Fund to withdraw all of the accumulated deductions credited to their individual accounts in case of a withdrawal from service or other cessation of employment other than death, retirement or a suspension or discharge which bars the member from reappointment under the civil service law.

This involves the same fund discussed in my message returning Senate Bill No. 67. I noted there that this fund had become so hopelessly insolvent that from 1944 no new members have been allowed to join it, and since 1952 a very expensive salvage program has been under way, calling for payments by municipalities and the State for 30 years to get this fund out of the red.

The reason for the fund's insolvency is that annual contributions were too small to accumulate the reserves needed to pay benefits. It is these inadequate contributions which this bill would allow a member to withdraw. The proposal is unsound. The best simple analogy would be a bill to allow a policy holder to obtain repayment of his fire insurance premiums because his house did not burn down. No pension or insurance system can operate on that basis unless the right of withdrawal were taken into account in computing the premium, which would have to be higher.

The fact that the law does not allow withdrawal was one of the factors entering into the computation of the deficit now being made up, and this bill would destroy the validity of that computation. Besides, the records of contributions were hopelessly incomplete when the fund was salvaged in 1952, and it would probably be impossible to establish the facts for individual members.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 571

To the General Assembly:

I return Assembly Bill No. 571 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill proposed the amendment of R. S. 39:4-26 which deals with the special arrangement which is made for the movement on the highways of items of unusual size or weight, such as road building machinery, structural units incapable of dismemberment and the like, which may not conform with the statutory requirements dealing with the dimensions and widths of ordinary vehicles.

Under present law these special situations are dealt with by a procedure under which the trailer or semitrailer which is to carry the objects is first registered with the Director of Motor Vehicles upon payment of a fee of $150.00 followed by the obtaining of a permit from the Director of Motor Vehicles for State highways, or from the county supervisor or supervisor of roads for county roads or from appropriate municipal officials for municipal roads. In practice this mechanism results in the planning of an appropriate route and time of day for the movement of these unusually large objects.

The amendment proposed by this bill was intended to eliminate the need to register and pay the registration fee in cases where the home State of the vehicle extended similar exclusion to vehicles registered in New Jersey, on a reciprocity basis. However, through an apparent oversight the amendment was so drawn as to eliminate not only the registration or registration fee but also the permit requirements.

A corrective bill making the necessary changes has been introduced as Assembly Bill No. 721, and was passed by the Assembly, but the Senate took no action. If this legislation is desired, therefore, it will be necessary to reintroduce the corrected bill in the 1960 session.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 600

To the General Assembly:

I return Assembly Bill No. 600 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would have amended Sections 53, 54 and 56 of the Banking Act, Revision of 1948 (P. L. 1948, c. 67).

Under present law banks are authorized to make improvement loans in net amounts up to $2,500.00 payable over a period of three years and one month with a maximum discount rate of 6%. The purpose of the amendment was to further authorize the making of such installment loans in amounts up to $3,500.00 repayable over a period of five years and one month, with a maximum discount rate of 5½%.

In this respect the object was the same as Assembly Bill No. 532 which had the same object for savings and loan associations.

However, the bill in the course of amendment of the present act failed to correlate existing provisions in Section 54 with respect to the promulgation of rules and regulations by the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance on loans other than property improvement loans under this bill.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 627

To the General Assembly:

I return Assembly Bill No. 627 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would have validated deeds purporting to have been made by a corporation, which corporation is no longer in existence or exercising corporate powers when the deed has been recorded before January 1, 1948, in cases where the deed might otherwise be invalid by reason of the fact that the certificate of incorporation was filed only in the county clerk's office but not in the Secretary of State's office. Prior to the amendment of R. S. 14:2-4 in 1939, it was not uncommon for corporate certificates to be filed only in the county clerk's office and for the incorporators to fail to make the additional filing in the Secretary of State's office as then required by that section. As a result of this practice there were many instances of corporations which might be formed and which might be corporations de facto. A great deal of uncertainty was created by reason of the inability of interested persons to ascertain necessary facts from the Secretary of State whose office is intended to be the central filing office for this purpose and difficulties were placed in the way of the collection by the State of the fees required by law in exchange for the granted corporate powers.

This validating bill fails to take account of the fact that the de facto corporation enjoyed the benefits of a corporate existence without having paid the fees and taxes required by law and which are paid by persons who complied with the law. If the deeds of such corporations are to be validated, it would be only proper to require as a condition that there first be paid the fees and taxes which the corporation would have paid if the statute had been observed.

A corrective bill making the necessary changes has been introduced as Assembly Bill No. 712, and was passed by the Assembly, but the Senate took no action. If this legislation is desired, therefore, it will be necessary to re-introduce the corrected bill in the 1960 session.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 706

To the General Assembly:

I return Assembly Bill No. 706 without my approval for the following reasons:

The bill would validate proceedings for the issuance of local school bonds, and the bonds issued thereunder, despite the failure to file a supplemental debt statement as required by R. S. 18:5-87.

While the bill does not apply to meetings or elections occurring after its enactment, it would apply to all past proceedings without limit. This makes it impossible to ascertain how broad the scope of the bill may be.

Further, while there is a proviso excluding instances where an action, suit or proceeding to contest the validity of the meeting or election has been heretofore instituted in any court of this State, it fails to make the proviso applicable to proceedings for review by an administrative agency and it also fails to allow a reasonable time to initiate a proceeding after enactment. I have alluded to this problem in previous messages. See S-142 (1954), S-315 (1954) and A-83 (1956), for examples.

Most validating acts for bond issues are prepared in the offices of bond counsel, and when provisos to save pending or future proceedings are included, they tend to vary considerably in language. This problem can be eliminated by the simple process of enacting a general law to deal with it, and I recommend that course to the Legislature.
