

Christie Administration Urges Most Vulnerable New Jerseyans To Be Prepared Ahead Of Hurricane Sandy

Saturday, October 27, 2012 Tags: Hurricane Sandy

Trenton, NJ – The Christie Administration announced that tolls will be suspended on the northbound Garden State Parkway and westbound Atlantic City Expressway starting at 6 a.m. Sunday in order to facilitate the travel of residents and visitors leaving coastal areas of New Jersey in advance of Hurricane Sandy.

Tolls will be suspended until further notice on the northbound Parkway from Cape May to the Driscoll Bridge and on the full length of the westbound Atlantic City Expressway.

For real-time updates about travel conditions in New Jersey during the storm, motorists are encouraged to call 511 from a hands-free mobile phone or visit www.511nj.org
