During Climate Week, Governor Murphy Announces New Jersey Hits New Electric Vehicle Milestone, Exceeding 250,000 Registrations

Registrations Grow by 15% Since December 2024

Accelerated Growth Reflects Increasing Consumer Confidence in Electric Vehicles' Reliability and Expanded Charging Infrastructure

TRENTON – As New Jersey

marks Climate Week (<https://nj.gov/governor/news/news/562025/approved/20250922a.shtml>), Governor Phil Murphy today announced that the State has reached a new electric vehicle (EV) milestone, exceeding 250,000 registrations – reflecting increasing consumer confidence in EVs' reliability as well as the availability of accessible charging infrastructure.

New Jersey has seen a 15% increase in the number of EVs registered since December 2024, marking the continued success of the Murphy Administration to support clean transportation and decarbonize the state's heaviest emitting sector. More than 254,444 EVs are now registered with the New Jersey Motor Vehicle Commission, marking a significant jump in the number of EVs registered in the state compared to just three years ago.

The Murphy Administration has implemented some of the nation's strongest policies to incentivize consumers to go green and ensure the availability of charging infrastructure – leading the country's transition to electric vehicles to reduce greenhouse gas emissions, improve air quality, and move toward a cleaner, more sustainable transportation future.

“Over the course of my Administration, our policies have taken driving electric from a futuristic concept to a practical choice for drivers – reflected by the exponential growth in registrations,” said Governor Murphy. “By continuing to expand charging infrastructure and cater to consumer preferences by incentivizing electric vehicle purchases, we will reduce the impact of cumulative transportation emissions on our climate for future generations. We will also grow a healthy market that increases consumer choice for cleaner and more affordable vehicles and creates good-paying jobs.”

There are over 1,700 fast charging ports and 3,300 Level 2 charging ports that are publicly available across New Jersey, with several hundred new ones being added every year.
