Mr Davidson, Chairman of the Committee appointed to wait upon the Governor, reported that the Governor would communicate later with the House of Assembly in writing

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, as follows

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
January 10th, 1911

To the Legislature

Speaking generally, the affairs of the State are in a very satisfactory condition, and the management of its several penal, charitable and correctional institutions, in so far as the Executive is able to determine, is good

A close study of the affairs of the State for the past three years evidences that there is slight cause for just criticism

There will always be, in public affairs, extravagance in some departments But, even in that respect, there is little room for complaint in this State

The officials of the State are seeking to conduct their departments in an economical and intelligent manner The one or two possible exceptions to this statement only prove the rule

During the past three years the offices of the Comptroller and Treasurer have been managed in an admirable manner and reflect credit upon the State and those officials

STATE FINANCES

The present financial condition of the State is very gratifying At the end of the fiscal year of 1908—the first fiscal year of the present administration—the net free cash balance in the State Treasury, after allowing for contracts uncompleted, was only $78,083 72 At the end of the fiscal year of 1909 it was $964,353 52, and at the close of business October 31st, 1910, it was $1,609,043 80

There are no urgent demands upon the Treasury of the State at this time to cause any alarm, or to indicate that there need be any anxiety about the present State revenues meeting all necessary expenditure

The surplus does not warrant extravagance The estimated revenues of the State will justify ample provision for all reasonable State needs A free balance of at least one million dollars should always be in the Treasury of a State like ours We never know when an emergency may arise Our Constitution prevents the incurring of any State debt or liability (except in case of war, invasion or insurrection) which shall at any time exceed one hundred thousand dollars, and this would seem to make it imperative, if our financial policy is to be a wise one, to always keep a reasonable treasury balance The total expenditure for State purposes during the past year, including $2,376,939 88 disbursed to public schools, was $7,670,663 69

Our State is growing fast The Legislature has been exceedingly careful in making appropriations As compared with twenty years ago the expenditure seems large, but when it is recalled how great has been the growth of the State and the demands upon it for new institutions, it is not surprising It will be difficult to find any way to reduce it, in fact, it is apparent to anyone familiar with the needs of the State that this sum must be increased by the construction of some greatly needed new buildings and by necessary additions to existing buildings

NEW INSTITUTIONS

The Legislature, at its last session, by Chapter 72 of the Laws of that year, provided by a very comprehensive act for the erection of a reformatory for women This institution should be built, as it is greatly needed There can be no justification for the confining of women prisoners in the same institution with men and under male keepers Besides that, the erection of such a reformatory for women has long been demanded by the enlightened public sentiment of the State A suitable appropriation for this public work should be made

Another building that is urgently required is one for the detention of the convict insane No one can visit the State Hospitals for the Insane in this State and fail to realize both the peril, and wrong to other inmates and the attendants, of the confinement of the convict insane in such an insecure way Besides that, their noise and frequent outbreaks is most injurious in its effect upon the nervous condition of the curable inmates All that was said on this subject in my Second Annual Message is most earnestly commended to you again The Managers and the Medical Directors of both State Hospitals earnestly urge an insane convict building It can be constructed on the grounds of the Trenton State Hospital and put under its management with practically no extra cost of maintenance required It will also give greatly needed room for almost two hundred additional patients in the two State Hospitals It is unjust to keep the innocent, in their affliction, in confinement with the criminal, vicious and convict insane One hundred thousand dollars would construct a suitable building There is no present need equal to this in its demand upon the State Present conditions as to the housing of the criminal and convict insane are both dangerous and absolutely unjustifiable

PURCHASE OF SUPPLIES FOR INSTITUTIONS

In each of my previous annual messages it has been earnestly urged that provision be made for a State Board for the purchase of supplies The present method of each institution purchasing for itself, of local trades people or otherwise, and at local retail rates, is objectionable in the extreme

If there be any graft in the State it is in these purchases The State of New York has saved several hundred thousand dollars under a joint purchase system, and an estimate of a saving in this State of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars per annum, under the system here suggested, is not deemed excessive Opposition to the establishment of such a purchasing board comes from only one source, the present purchasers and sellers, and they can have but one reason, and that had better not be named

NEW DEPARTMENTS

In each previous message I have urged the creation of three new departments in the State government

(1) A Department of Corporations

(2) A Department of Motor Vehicles

(3) A Department of Collateral Inheritance Taxes

Each of these matters, I am convinced, after three years of experience and knowledge as to their management, could be better conducted, and at less expense, under a department of its own

Each year the Attorney-General has, at my request, prepared acts to accomplish the purposes here suggested The Legislature has not seen fit to enact them into law It is earnestly to be hoped that the present Legislature will It will not increase the expense of management to create these departments They can be managed without any additional cost, and, in my judgment, at less cost than in the method at present prevailing, and certainly with greater efficiency

POWER OF REMOVAL

Every State official holding office by virtue of a statute should, in all cases, be made subject to removal by the Governor, upon written charges and after hearing For three years I have earnestly urged this It is right and necessary to good administration that it should be so The Governor is elected by the people and expected to insist upon the proper performance of public duty by all officials in the State government It is humiliating to demand that wrongs be righted and that extravagance, illegality or incompetency cease, and have a subordinate (it may be an underling in some department or institution) treat your suggestion with contempt or possibly criticise you for making it, and be powerless to deal effectively with the contumacious, corrupt or incompetent official No Governor would exercise this authority other than discreetly It would have been safe in the hands of Governors in the past and it will be in the future Such a power exists, by statute, in many States, and in some by constitutional provision—notably, New York and Wisconsin A summary of the constitutional and statutory legislation in the several States on this question will be found in my First Annual Message No honest, faithful and competent public official can object to being subject to removal for cause He has nothing to fear It is only the inefficient, careless or grafting who need fear such a law

THE INLAND WATERWAY

The Inland Waterway Department was established by Chapter 15 of the Laws of 1908 Under it, through appropriations made for that purpose, the sum of about $200,000 has been expended or contracted for to dredge the proposed waterway from Bay Head to Cape May City The greater part of the work has been done, and when the existing contracts are fulfilled the work will be very near completion It will require only one additional appropriation of probably about one hundred thousand dollars to finish the dredging, to give a waterway one hundred feet in width and six feet in depth over the whole course

Already it is doing wonders for our Atlantic coast The future maintenance of the way requires that a license fee be laid of one dollar per year for every power boat using it, which it is estimated will produce a revenue of ten thousand dollars per year, which amount will more than pay the cost of the annual staking of the waterway and also cover the actual expense of the salary of the Commissioner of the Department and his office force and incidental expenses Such a license tax is recommended This enterprise is enthusiastically supported by all our seashore counties and I am convinced has the approval of the people of the State The total expense may not equal, certainly will not exceed, the original appropriation of three hundred thousand dollars authorized by the Act of 1908, creating the Department and authorizing the Governor to define the route

It is now evident from the demands for riparian lands along the inland waterway that the large increase in the value of these lands owing to the construction of the waterway will many times cover its cost In this respect alone it was a paying proposition for the State

THE OCEAN HIGHWAY

Pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 33 of the Laws of 1909 and Chapter 220, Laws of 1910, the State Highway Commission have defined the route of the proposed Ocean Highway and provided for the expenditure of the fifty thousand dollars appropriated in 1910 for the commencement of the work of the straightening and opening of said highway New strips of road have been opened and old strips improved under the action of the State Highway Commission during the past year, and parts of the work are still under construction and improvement Of the fund so appropriated in 1910, $7,000 was voted for work in Burlington county, $7,000 was voted for work in Cape May county, $20,000 for work in Monmouth county, $11,000 for work in Ocean county and $5,000 for work in Atlantic county

This State Highway is one of the great enterprises undertaken by the State and should be carried on by appropriate appropriations year by year, until the Highway is put into perfect order and fully established from the Highlands in Monmouth to Cape May City The Atlantic Coast is one of the greatest assets of the State and its beauty and attractiveness should be fostered by the State in every way The maintenance of the way should be done at the expense of the State Massachusetts finds it can be done for less than three hundred dollars per mile, which means that the Ocean Highway could be kept in repair and made the most attractive one hundred miles in this country for not over thirty thousand dollars per annum Of the annual sum appropriated by the State for highway maintenance this is not an unreasonable proportion to devote to this great public enterprise The proposed Ocean Highway has met with universal public approval It should be widened, straightened and improved until it shall become the most attractive highway in the world The value of such a highway to the State cannot be overestimated Public policy should encourage it in every way It would aid in bringing great wealth to our State

VOTING MACHINES

There still exists an almost universal demand for the repeal of the act permitting the use of voting machines at elections It is not prejudice, but a deep-seated conviction that causes the objection to the machines In the 335 districts in which a vote as to their retention has been taken under the Act of 1909, 321 have voted to discontinue their use It would seem that a decent regard for the wish of the voters would cause the immediate repeal of the voting machine act Few, if any, not pecuniarily interested, seek to retain the machines Why is it, in the face of such universally expressed opposition, these machines are forced upon the people?

PROPERTY EAST OF CAPITOL

By Chapter 137 of the Laws of 1902, the State House Commission was authorized to acquire the property of the Green estate on the east of the Capitol grounds and other property in the rear thereof to the line of the Trenton Water Power on the South Under an appropriation made in 1910, the Green property fronting on State street and running back to Front street (being about 76 feet on State street) was acquired by purchase at a cost of thirty-two thousand and five hundred dollars—a reasonable price The State is to have full possession not later than April first next The buildings now on the property can be used for some of the boards or commissions now in the State House and relieve its crowded condition The property in the rear of the Green property, and fronting on Front street, will have to be acquired by condemnation, and proceedings for that purpose are now under way Appropriation for this purpose was made at the last session The City of Trenton should be requested to close Delaware street and throw it into the Capitol grounds

THE PROPERTY OF THE STATE IN THE REAR OF THE CAPITOL

By Chapter 272 of the Laws of 1908, the State purchased about 32 acres lying between the rear line of the Capitol property and the Delaware river It secured it at a very reasonable price By Chapter 273 of the Laws of 1910 thirty thousand dollars was appropriated to improve it The State House Commission gave careful consideration to the subject and determined that it was probably unwise to act, except in conjunction with the City of Trenton, in order that a retaining wall might first be built along the whole property on the river side Upon further consideration it was found that we could have used the 1910 appropriation with safety in improving the property by filling in and the like, but as it was then too late to advertise for bids for the work, it was concluded to lapse the appropriation and leave the whole matter for future action This ground should be improved It would greatly add to the Capitol surroundings and remove what is now objectionable, and make it a place of attraction and beauty. A renewal of the appropriation the present year is recommended

INSURANCE OF STATE PROPERTY

The Treasurer of the State has secured and tabulated a complete list of the fire insurance upon State buildings The total carried by the State on all its buildings is $5,147,600, at a premium of about $70,000

Our present insurance rates are too high There is little risk on State buildings The moral risk, which is always an item in fixing rates on private property, does not exist on State property There can be no motive for destroying State property, as no personal gain can come

I renew the recommendations made last year that the insurance of all State property be placed by the State House Commission, and a lump sum appropriation made each year to that commission for that purpose A blanket insurance system of say $1,000,000, or even less, of insurance, to cover all State buildings, would be abundant and would reduce the present cost at least three-fourths

The advantages of such a system were set forth in my Second Annual Message in 1910

ROOMS NEEDED IN THE CAPITOL

The present State Board of Health is one of the most efficient departments in the State There is an urgent need for additional rooms for its work The laboratory in which tests of all kinds are now made is entirely inadequate

Three new rooms should be constructed at the top of the Capitol over the present committee rooms of the Assembly, two to be used by the State Board of Health and one for the State Board of Education.

The State Board of Education has no room at the Capitol for its meetings and it holds its meetings at considerable expense to the State at various hotels in different parts of the State Many members of the Board have protested to the Governor against this practice, and insist that a suitable place should be set apart for the Board in the Capitol This is clearly necessary

Twenty-five hundred dollars would probably supply the necessary rooms and an appropriation should be made to meet these needs of the Board of Health and State Board of Education as here suggested

MANAGEMENT OF COUNTY HOSPITALS FOR THE INSANE

The State has an interest in the management of the several county hospitals for the insane During the last fiscal year the State paid from its treasury toward the support of these institutions the sum of $276,928 23 We have no voice in their management or the expenditure of this money The grand jury of Essex county, after a thorough investigation of its county hospital for the insane, presented it to the court as being incompetently managed and have recommended that the management of the institution be taken from the chosen freeholders The conditions prevailing in this county are probably no exception to the rule in other counties Under the management of the chosen freeholders these institutions are controlled by political influences and policies Each of them should be put under a board of managers of seven or nine persons, a part of whom should be appointed by the Justice of the Supreme Court presiding in the Circuit Court of the county and another part by the Governor, that the State may have representation on each county board to see that the funds contributed by it are rightly expended The appointment of all the officials should be vested in the board of managers and civil service principles should be required to be applied as to all persons employed

THE STATE'S POTABLE WATERS

The potable waters of the State should all be owned or controlled by the State No private company should be given a charter or franchise to take to itself and sell any of these waters Already we have several such companies claiming such right in the surplus potable water at the head waters of the rivers and the lakes of the State

In my Second Annual Message I brought this matter to the attention of the Legislature as forcibly as I could What was then said is again earnestly urged upon you None of the waters of the State should be permitted to be taken by private water companies, and any right in such companies to condemn such waters in their own right (if any such power exists), as well as any power to condemn such waters, in the name of a municipality for their contract uses, should be repealed

The system prevailing in Massachusetts and instanced in the Metropolitan Water District, should be adopted here, and the State should take over all its potable waters and conserve them for our own people If any are to be sold to meet needs outside the State, which cannot be otherwise met, they should be purchased from and delivered by the State

The Legislature should let it be known that all private water companies will be refused any additional rights in this State and that as speedily as possible, under lawful methods, the State will take over all their franchises and powers and repeal their charters

To permit a monopoly of the potable waters of the State by a private company is unthinkable

TUBERCULOSIS COUNTY HOSPITALS

There is a strong public sentiment for the establishment in each county of the State of county hospitals for the treatment of tuberculosis cases that are not only incipient, but advanced The State cannot do this work as successfully as the counties The families of tubercular patients prefer that they be nearby, that they may visit them, and such patients naturally like to be close to their homes

Glen Gardner, the only State institution we have, is filled, and many applicants are awaiting opportunity to enter It would be much cheaper for the State to do as it does in the case of county hospitals for the insane, namely, pay a certain sum per week for the maintenance of tubercular cases in county hospitals

The white plague is taking off about four thousand of our citizens each year Every interest of the State requires that we aid in the prevention, and, if possible, the cure of this terrible scourge

I recommend a system of State aid to county hospitals for the treatment of tubercular patients, similar to that now existing for insane in county hospitals It would be better and much cheaper than increasing State hospital facilities for this purpose

EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY ACT

Under an act passed at the last session of the Legislature a commission was appointed by the Governor to inquire into the subject of employers' liability laws and to report by bill at this session of the Legislature

The Commission has given the subject great care, and their report will be before you Whatever else is done or reported, the Legislature should at this session enact a law abolishing the rule which makes the negligence of a fellow servant a defense in personal injury cases, and also take away the defense in cases of injuries resulting from obvious risks

A risk that is obvious is just as much so to the master as to the servant, and, if the master puts a servant to work at a machine which it is obvious may injure him, the risk assumed should be the risk of the business

Another rule that should be abolished is the one which allows the master to continue a servant at work at a machine reported defective, and which holds that the servant may only work at such a defective machine for a reasonable time after being continued at it without himself assuming the risk

In this latter case the rule of law should be that the master takes the risk so long as he fails to repair the defect or permits the servant to work at the defective machine without repairing it There is no longer any justification for the old common law rule in the cases above suggested

Contributory negligence of the servant himself is the only common law rule which should remain to prevent recovery by a servant for personal injuries

SUPERVISION OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

The United States supplies, at a small cost, standard weights, which, by Chapter 239 of the Laws of 1908, are to be kept in the office of the Secretary of State and of the several County Clerks, that all weights may be tested thereby So far as I am able to learn, there is no authentic set of standard weights in any of those offices, nor, is there any supervision by the State over the weights and measures used by dealers in this State There should be, and the penalty provided by law for using such as are below the standard should be strictly enforced The evasion of the law in this regard is a fraud upon a vast body of our people, and it is quite extensive

In my view, the supervision of all weighing and measuring devices should be placed under the Department of Labor This Department has a sufficient force to do this work, and could do it most satisfactorily without additional cost I recommend such legislation

STATE FISH AND GAME COMMISSION.

The State Fish and Game Commission is not in my judgment doing its work as efficiently as it could be done The Commission should be abolished and a single Commissioner appointed at a reasonable salary, who should be required to devote all his time to the duties of the office.

The revenue which this Commission now receives under its several license laws and from fines amounted the last fiscal year to about $66,500 Besides this several thousand dollars were also appropriated from the State treasury

The Department now has four commissioners, a secretary, a protector and twenty-two wardens The salary of the wardens should be increased and they be required to devote all their time to the work

The great State of New York has but a single commissioner who also has all the large forest reserves under his charge

The work could be done to much greater advantage by a single head, and the State, I am sure, would get much better results The revenue now received is abundant to cover all expense, and the cost would not be exceeded by a reorganization as here suggested All expense should be paid from the license fees and fines They are abundant for the purpose

OYSTER INDUSTRY

The value of the oyster industry of the State last year was about five millions of dollars Most of the oyster lands are State lands leased to the planter The total revenue derived by the State from these leases last year was about twenty-eight thousand dollars The highest lease price charged per acre, per year, is three dollars, while many acres are leased as low as fifty cents per acre

In my judgment this price is entirely inadequate The oyster growers in other states pay as high as ten dollars per acre for good oyster planting lands—in no sense superior to ours The truth is that our oyster regulation policy is a mere policy of favor without any general system of any kind

We have a Commissioner of Shell Fisheries We have a so-called State Oyster Commission, and a separate commission for Atlantic county and another for Ocean county and a single commissioner for Shark river in Monmouth county, all these are paid officials, and in my judgment, after full inspection and inquiry, all are unnecessary

There should be a single-headed oyster commission, with power to engage the necessary deputies to patrol and protect the industry

The present system has not been self-supporting until very lately The revenue barely covers the expense now Properly and economically managed, with just and fair rentals, it would pay sufficient to cover all the expense of administration, leasing, patrolling and the like, and return, as it should, some revenue to the State The system here suggested would also abolish the favoritism now so evidently prevalent The present system is not for the benefit of the State

The economical way would be to abolish the present Fish and Game Commission and the Commissioner of Shell Fisheries, and all existing oyster commissions, and put them all under a new title of "Oyster, Fish and Game Department," with a well-salaried commissioner at its head, with full power, with the approval of the Governor, to appoint all assistants necessary to conduct the department and enforce the law

The revenue from gunners' licenses, oyster leases, fines and the like would amount, even at the present rate of charges, to not less than one hundred thousand dollars per year, and this would amply provide for all the cost of the Department

With this arrangement would come greater economy in administration, as the assistants would be busy all the year, in the different branches of the service, in their respective seasons There are no branches of the State service which need systematizing more than those relating to oysters, fish and game

THE RIPARIAN LANDS

The work of the Riparian Commission for the past year is worthy of high praise It has increased the price of riparian lands and leases very greatly During the past three years over nine hundred thousand dollars has been turned into the permanent school fund of the State This is equal to one-fifth of all revenue derived from this source since 1844 It is a splendid showing The present Governor notified the Commissioners to increase the price of all State lands, and this has been done In some cases the raise has equalled several hundred per cent of the old sale price Even at this price the demands have been great There is but a limited supply of these lands in the harbor of New York and its vicinity, and their value is very great The prices fixed have in no case retarded great industries from coming to us, nor will they hereafter The present Riparian Commission and the Governor have worked in perfect harmony, with splendid results to the State By proper management, and by securing fair prices for the remaining riparian lands, the permanent school fund of the State can easily be increased in a few years to at least ten millions of dollars, thus assuring a very large increase in the interest account for free public school purposes

REVALUATION OF RAILROAD PROPERTY

By Joint Resolution No 3, Laws of 1909, the Legislature authorized the beginning of a systematic revaluation of railroad property for the purposes of State taxation By Chapter 307 of the Laws of 1910, that work was directed to be continued and to be completed by April 12th, 1911 The work has been done and will be fully completed and reported upon So far as surface indications can determine, it appears to have been well done It has had the most competent appraisers that the Governor was able to secure

The Act of 1909 directed the appointment of three commissioners and named September first of the same year as the date for completing the work Of course it soon became apparent that it would take more than a year to do the work rightly The appropriation of 1909 was exhausted by September first, 1909, and the commissioners were in the midst of important work, to make necessary the very intelligent preliminary report which they made to the Legislature of 1910 At the suggestion of the Governor they continued on with their work during the months of September and October, 1909, without receiving pay therefor It was expected to pay them for this service out of the appropriation in the supplemental bill of 1910, but it was found to be so worded that the Governor and Comptroller did not feel justified in so doing, with the result that over twelve thousand dollars of the appropriation for this work lapsed on October 31st, 1910 The amount due the three commissioners for the two months devoted to the State was, under the terms of their employment, two thousand dollars each, being six thousand dollars in all (half the lapsed sum above stated), and I recommend that this money, so earned, be appropriated at the present session that they may be paid

With the completion of this revaluation let us hope that the railway taxation question, and the fairness of railway valuation, for the purpose of taxation, will be eliminated from future discussion in political controversies

DETECTIVE LICENSES

The Governor is constantly asked for commissions for State detectives By Chapter 288 of the Laws of 1906, the Comptroller is authorized to issue such a commission on the payment of one hundred dollars There are also some private detective associations which still have the power to appoint, at their own fee, and the Governor must commission All these private detective agencies with power to appoint detectives should be abolished The present fee required to be paid to the Comptroller is excessive I recommend that the Governor, upon such conditions as he may prescribe to protect against imposition, be authorized to appoint State detectives, in his discretion, with the full power of constables, for a term of five years, in the same manner as he does notaries public, for a fee of twenty-five dollars, with power in the Governor, at any time, to revoke any such commission for any cause which he may deem to be justifiable

THE NATIONAL GUARD

No State has a National Guard of which it can be more justly proud than can we of ours Everything should be done to bring it into strict conformity with the Act of Congress The same age of retirement as that provided by the Dick Act should prevail in this State

The Legislature of 1909 passed an act to bring the Guard under the same conditions, as to age limit, as the Dick act The Court of Errors decided that act unconstitutional, as to officers elected by their fellow officers under the method provided by the State Constitution, and who were in office at the time of the passage of that act But that retirement act is in full operation as to all officers, so elected, after the act became a law, time, therefore, will cure the present unfortunate condition

The younger officers of the Guard should be encouraged by the assured hope of just promotion, owing to retirement, in due time, of the older officers in the service The admirable report of the Adjutant-General is commended to the consideration of the Legislature

THE EXPRESS STRIKE

On or about October 20th, 1910, the employes of three express companies doing business at the Jersey City and Hoboken terminals in this State went upon a strike for causes deemed by them to be just The strike was handled by the Jersey City authorities with good judgment Appeals were made to the Executive to order out the National Guard, or a part of it, but, after a thorough investigation, through the Adjutant-General's office, and otherwise, and after full personal inquiry and conference with strikers and employers, I declined to order out any part of the National Guard In this action I was sustained by the opinion of the Attorney-General

The ordering out of the National Guard in case of strikes, or the like, is a matter for the most careful consideration It is not a question to be lightly treated by the Executive, when he is asked to move the National Guard with loaded arms to a certain point in the State, where it may be possible that it will be called upon to shoot down our own citizens It should never be done, except the local authorities are unable to reasonably control the situation and preserve the public peace

There is quite a distinction between using the National Guard for the preserving of the public peace and the prevention of rioting, and the employing of the guardsmen in transporting merchandise upon vehicles through the public streets, thus inciting to riot by the very act of the Guard.

When troops are called out, they cannot determine upon the controversy They must only keep the peace, and that alone They are not sent to conduct the business of the employer, nor to aid the striking employe in trying to compel his re-employment They are there to preserve order and to prevent either party doing any act of rioting or any act that may tend to incite to riotous conduct

The strike was finally settled, and the wisdom of refusing to order out the Guard was clear Upon all the facts, it was apparent that the strike would never have occurred in the first instance, if the reasonable request made by the employes had been considered by the employers in a spirit which the common dictates of humanity would seem to have required

THE EMERGENCY FUND

The fund provided for use by the Governor in cases of emergency should be made larger than ten thousand dollars During my term it has sufficed, and no doubt will in all ordinary cases But if the National Guard is ordered out in any given emergency, the fund is insufficient The Governor can be trusted with this fund, and he will not use it where absolute need is not shown That which is not used will lapse into the treasury

Our State is large and becoming more and more cosmopolitan It is never known what will occur requiring quick action, and, since the appropriation bill prevents any money going out of the treasury, except as it provides, ample provision should be made for the Governor to protect and preserve the peace or to meet other conditions, should necessity arise Reasonable precaution would not make it less than twenty-five thousand dollars

The agricultural interests of our State are a subject matter of congratulation The value of farm lands and the increased value of the output are remarkable A table showing the steady increase for the past eleven years makes a wonderful exhibit

Our farmers are prosperous, and the tendency now is for young men to remain upon the farm, and for those who are being educated in proper schools of agriculture to go upon the farm as a life work There is no interest or business which assures a greater independence and a more certain profit, together with the general comforts of life, than farming

The record of the past six years in New Jersey in the value of the output of the farm is as follows

Year	Field Crops and Milk
1905,	49,964,286 00
1906,	52,460,262 00
1907,	56,403,734 00
1908,	57,743,153 00
1909,	59,357,955 00
1910,	63,000,000 00

The foregoing table does not include the value of the live stock sold, which last year amounted to $26,000,000

LIMIT OF MATTERS IN MESSAGE.

It has been the aim in writing this message to confine it exclusively to the details of departments and institutions and to purposely avoid recommendations as to legislation touching new acts affecting State policy—political or reformatory

It seemed to me only courteous that recommendations as to the legislative policy of the State on such subjects should be left to the incoming Governor

The election just passed was fought upon certain lines of policy, and a Governor fresh from the contest, and who has his own ideas and ideals, should voice his own views as to the legislation he deems desirable to be enacted

None of the acts which may be passed at this session can possibly come to me for approval during the few days remaining of my term My views upon such legislation have been fully expressed in previous messages, and my opinions have not changed Time and experience have only confirmed me in my views as to the measures heretofore recommended, and there are no suggestions thus made which I would wish to withdraw My only regret is that the legislation advised was not enacted, and I believe that the result of the election evidenced that the people joined with me in that regret They have forcibly expressed their opinion

During the three years of my term it has been my purpose to accomplish legislation which I firmly believe the people desired If there was failure in this, as I think there was, I am unwilling to assume any of the responsibility I am quite convinced that they know the reason for the failure and the means and interests which caused it

CONCLUSION

We have a great State, with a large and intelligent population, and are rich along all industrial, agricultural and commercial lines Our people are honorable and hold high moral and political ideals Fortunately situated, as we are, we will continue to grow and prosper With wise laws and their just enforcement, we shall still further rise in importance and leadership among the States which constitute the greatest free government the civilization of man has ever developed

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN FRANKLIN FORT,

Governor

Mr Matthews moved that the reading of the Governor's message by the Clerk be dispensed with, the usual number of copies be printed and be spread in full upon the minutes of the House

Which, on motion, was adopted

The same gentleman offered the following resolution

Resolved, That the regular hours of meeting of this House, until otherwise ordered, be 10 30 o'clock in the forenoon, and 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and 8 o'clock in the evening when evening sessions are ordered

Which, on motion, was adopted

The same gentleman offered the following resolution

Resolved, That the Speaker be and he is hereby authorized to appoint a committee of three members of this House to be known as the Committee on Rules

Which, on motion, was adopted

In accordance with the above resolution, the Speaker appointed Messrs Matthews, Boettner and Egan as such committee

Mr Matthews offered the following resolution

Resolved, That the rules of the Assembly for 1910 be and they are hereby adopted as the rules of this House, except that Rule No 67 shall read as follows

"Rule 67 That hereafter any motion or resolution which will result in relieving a standing committee of a bill referred to it shall not be entertained unless twenty-four hours' notice shall be given the House of the introduction of such motion or resolution, provided, however, that on a written request of fifteen members, duly presented to the House, said request shall be read, and delivered forthwith by the Clerk to the chairman of the committee named therein, said committee shall, within twenty-four hours, report on the bill, resolution, motion or matter named in said request"

Mr McCran offered the following as a substitute to the resolution

Resolved, That the rules for 1910 be adopted as the rules of this House for the session of 1911

Which substitute, ayes and nays being called, was lost by the following vote

In the affirmative were—

Messrs Adams, Bacharach, Coles, De Unger, Hand, Jackson, Layden, Mather, McCran, Pikaart, Pine, Radcliffe, Richmond, Thompson, Turner, White B H, Whitacar, Whyte G W—18

In the negative were—

Messrs Agnew, Alyea, Backus, Balentine, Boettner, Bracken, Brodhead, Brown, Bunn, Burke, Christie, Cole, Davidson, Donnelly, Egan, Ford, Geran, Griffin, Hendrickson, Hinners, James, Kenny (Speaker), Lafferty, La Monte, Leveen, Macksey, Martin, Matthews, McGowan, McGrath, McLoughlin, Meyer, Mylod, Newman, Phillips, Ramsay, Shalvoy, Simpson, Strietwolf, Taylor, Walsh —41

The Speaker then put the question upon the original resolution, offered by Mr Matthews, which, upon call of the roll, was adopted by the following vote

In the affirmative were—

Messrs Agnew, Alyea, Backus, Balentine, Boettner, Bracken, Brodhead, Brown, Bunn, Burke, Christie, Cole, Davidson, Donnelly, Egan, Ford, Geran, Griffin, Hendrickson, Hinners, James, Kenny (Speaker), Lafferty, La Monte, Leveen, Macksey, Martin, Matthews, McGowan, McGrath, McLoughlin, Meyer, Mylod, Newman, Phillips, Ramsay, Shalvoy, Simpson, Strietwolf, Taylor, Walsh —41

In the negative were—

Messrs Adams, Bacharach, Coles, De Unger, Hand, Jackson, Layden, Mather, McCran, Pikaart, Pine, Radcliffe, Richmond, Thompson, Turner, White B H, Whitacar, Whyte G W —18

Mr Matthews offered the following resolution

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the Speaker to furnish bill files and minute files for the use of members and officers of this House

Which, on motion, was adopted

In accordance with the above resolution the Speaker appointed Messrs Davidson, Hinners and Macksey as such committee

The same gentleman offered the following resolution

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the Speaker to procure the attendance of clergymen to open the sessions of this House with prayer

Which, on motion, was adopted

In accordance with the above resolution the Speaker appointed Messrs Walsh, McGrath and Lafferty as such committee

The same gentleman offered the following resolution

Resolved, That the Clerk of this House be and he is hereby directed to furnish 150 copies of the Members' Pocket Calendar, Legislature, 1911, the same not to exceed in cost one dollar per copy

Which, on motion, was adopted

The same gentleman offered the following resolution

Resolved, That each member and officer of this House be furnished with 500 "Complimentary Slips"

Which, on motion, was adopted

The same gentleman offered the following resolution

Resolved, That the number of copies of the Legislative Manual apportioned by law to the House of Assembly be distributed by the Sergeant-at-Arms, as follows To each member of the House, eighteen copies, to Clerk, Assistant Clerk, Journal Clerk, Sergeant-at-Arms, Supervisor of Bills and Speaker's Private Secretary, each six copies, Assistant Journal Clerk and Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms, each four copies, to the Speaker's Assistant Private Secretary and the Bill Clerk, each three copies, to the Assistant Bill Clerk and Assistant Supervisor of Bills, each two copies, to the Clerk of the Committees, to the stenographers of House, doorkeepers, pages and legislative correspondents and reporters, each one copy

Which, on motion, was adopted

The same gentleman offered the following resolution

Resolved, That 600 copies of all bills be printed for the use of the members of the House and Senate

Which, on motion, was adopted

The same gentleman offered the following resolution

Resolved, That the Clerk of the House be instructed to furnish the members of the House and representatives of the press with files of the Senate and House bills introduced and passed by title, printed on gummed paper in suitable form for pasting in the pocket calendar

Which, on motion, was adopted

The same gentleman offered the following resolution

Resolved, That the same number of copies of the Governor's message be printed as were printed of the Governor's message last year

Which, on motion, was adopted

The same gentleman offered the following resolution

Resolved, That the State Printer be instructed to mail to each member of the House, at his home address, at least one copy of each bill and resolution, both Senate and House, as soon as the same is printed

Which, on motion, was adopted

The same gentleman offered the following resolution

Resolved, That a copy of the minutes of the Senate be distributed on the desks of the members of the House when printed, and a copy thereof mailed to the home address of each member, with a copy of the minutes of the General Assembly

Which, on motion, was adopted

The same gentleman offered the following resolution

Resolved, That the State Printer be instructed to mail to each member of the House, at his home address, a copy of each part of the minutes of the House as soon as possible after the same is printed

Resolved, That a sufficient number of copies of the daily calendar prepared under supervision of the Clerk of the House, showing a brief memorandum of the bills reported and passed second and third reading in the House, be printed and distributed among the members of the Senate, and be it further

Resolved, That when a similar calendar of bills reported, passed second and third reading in the Senate, is prepared by the Secretary of the Senate, that the same be distributed among the members of the House

Which, on motion, was adopted

The same gentleman offered the following resolution

Resolved, That the public printer furnish each member of the House and Legislative Correspondents with flexible bound volumes, each week, of all Assembly and Senate Bills

Which, on motion, was adopted

The same gentleman offered the following resolution

Resolved, That the Supervisor of Bills be directed to see that the requirements of Rule 68, as to underscoring, bracketing, etc, be complied with before sending original bills and joint resolutions to the printer

Which, on motion, was adopted

The same gentleman offered the following resolution

Resolved, That the thanks of the House of Assembly of the One Hundred and Thirty-fifth Legislature be extended to Captain James Parker, for presiding at the opening of the said House

Which, on motion, was adopted

The Speaker announced the appointment of the following committees

STANDING COMMITTEES

Cole, Lafferty, Matthews, Booraem, Turner

Appropriations

McGowan, Taylor, Burke, Brodhead, Radcliffe

Banks and Insurance

A message was received from the Governor, as follows

January 16th, 1911

To the Legislature

During my term as Governor the revaluation of the railroads of this State, both as to their physical property and their franchises, has been in progress, and the results as stated in my annual message will soon be made public

Two items of property have been appraised during the present year by the State Board of Assessors, on the figures fixed by the State railway appraiser, who is now conducting the general appraisement of railway property For the first time in the history of the State the franchise tax imposed upon railroads has been made a separate item in taxation, and given to the public

The Attorney-General calls my attention to the present situation with relation to litigation in his department and advises that it is important that assistance should be given to him to sustain the assessments which have been made by the State on railway properties

The most important litigation now pending is that of the Long Dock Company vs The State Board of Assessors, Morris and Essex Railroad Company vs Same, Central Railroad of New Jersey vs Same, with reference to the assessment of terminal property in Jersey City

In 1884 the original statute for the taxation of railroad and canal property was enacted, such property as was used for railroad purposes being made assessable by the State Board of Assessors, that not used for railroad purposes being made assessable by local assessors This relationship was not varied by the revaluation of 1888

The duty thus imposed was performed by the State Board of Assessors until the passage of the so-called Perkins Act of 1906 (Pamphlet Laws 1906, p 571), when the duty of assessment of second-class railroad property was transferred to the local municipal assessors, who made such assessments for the years 1906 and 1907 The assessments thus made were contested and by the decision in the case of United New Jersey Railroad and Canal Company vs Parker, 75 N J Law 771, the Perkins Act was declared to be unconstitutional

On the following day the Legislature passed a remedial act directing assessments of these properties to be made by the State Board of Assessors for the years 1906 and 1907 (Pamphlet Laws 1908, pp 15, 16 and 17)

The State Board of Assessors subsequently made such assessments, which were immediately attacked by certiorari by the Long Dock Company, the Morris and Essex Railroad Company and the Central Railroad of New Jersey The assessments thus made for 1906 and 1907, and by stipulation a writ applying to the taxes of 1908 and 1909 was made to abide the decision in the cases already being prosecuted, were set aside by the Supreme Court, filed May 21, 1909 Long Dock Company v State Board of Assessors, 73 Atl Rep, p 53 This judgment was subsequently affirmed by the Court of Errors and Appeals and the State Board of Assessors was recently within the last few months directed to make a new assessment, which was done

By section 29 of the Taxation Act of 1894 any railroad company which has paid its taxes is entitled to the benefits of the judgment obtained by any other railroad company reviewing an assessment, and may have the benefit of such judgment as though such railroad company had been a party to such litigation Of this privilege the Pennsylvania Railroad Company availed itself

A revaluation for the years 1906, 1907, 1908 and 1909 made within the last few weeks is again under review by these companies by writs allowed on the 12th of January, 1911, from which it appears that this litigation is being determinedly prosecuted by the various companies with reference to the assessments in question The property of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company used in connection with its tunnel system into the new station in New York has been assessed for the first time by the State Board of Assessors as a completed work Appeals from this assessment are now pending before the State Board of Assessors A similar appeal is pending with reference to the assessment of the terminal property of the McAdoo tunnel system, and it is evident that considerable litigation is to attend the efforts of the State to collect taxes upon these properties

The special work of the revaluation of railroads of this State is nearing completion, and it is evident from the scope of this work that not only will litigation follow the assessments made upon the revaluations thus established, but also upon the inclusion of properties which have heretofore been excluded from the assessment valuation In this class may be mentioned the matter of floating equipments of the various railroads operating terminals in Jersey City, as well as the question of taxation of rolling stock used in interstate commerce

Heretofore there has been no attempt by the various railroad companies to question the franchise tax as assessed by the State Board of Assessors, but it is evident that attack is to be made upon this proposition also, because the various railroad companies have for the first time formally called upon the State Board of Assessors to state the method used by them in determining the valuation of the various franchises for the purposes of taxation, the courts having heretofore held that they would not review such taxes in amount only, but would content themselves with review in such cases where assertion was made that a wrong method had been used in determining the assessed valuation

In his judgment, the best lawyer on railway taxation in the State, who is free from engagement by the railroads, should be employed in this service to assist the Attorney-General's Department In this view I fully concur

I recommend that the Legislature at the present session make a special appropriation for the employment of one or more assistants to the Attorney-General, such assistant or assistants to be selected by the Attorney-General with the approval of the Governor, and the compensation to be fixed in the same manner

The litigation that is likely to arise within the next year out of the subject-matters referred to in this message will probably be the most important to this State and to its municipalities of any litigation that has occurred over railroad property valuations since the litigation under the original railway tax act of 1884

Our municipalities are greatly interested in this question, as well as the State, and the subject is heartily commended to the Legislature for appropriate action in accordance with the recommendations herein contained

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN FRANKLIN FORT,
Governor

A message was received from the Governor, as follows

January 16, 1911

To the Legislature

By Joint Resolution No 2, entitled "Joint Resolution for the appointment of a commission to inquire into and report legislation upon the subject of an employers' liability act," approved April 9, 1910, a commission was duly constituted by the appointments made in the manner required by that Joint Resolution

The said Commission has been industriously at work holding public and private sessions for the consideration of the questions referred to them from the time of their appointment (soon after the adjournment of the Legislature) until the eleventh of January, instant, when they presented their report to the Governor, together with a bill for such legislation as they recommend should be enacted into law by the Legislature

The said report, together with the accompanying testimony and documents presented to the Governor, are herewith transmitted to the Legislature and recommendation is made that the said report and the accompanying evidence and documents be printed

It is quite apparent from a careful perusal of the report, so far as the Executive has been able to make it, that there will be a wide demand for the act recommended, as well as the report of the Commission and the testimony taken before it at the several hearings held

The legislation proposed is of the most advanced character, and the report presented shows the greatest care in its preparation, and that the most thoughtful consideration has been given to the entire subject

The character of this Commission, composed as it is of two business men, representative of the very largest business interests in this country, and two members of labor organizations, representative of the best thought of the labor interests in our day, together with two representatives, one of the Senate and one of the House of Assembly of the State, makes the joint report of this Commission of very great value upon this vital question of such great public concern

The recommendations contained in my annual message presented at this session are all covered in this report and in the bill presented with it I have given great care to the consideration of this proposed act since it was presented to me by the Commission, and am prepared to give it, practically, unqualified approval

The act proposed seems to me to solve the various questions arising out of the common-law rules with relation to master and servant in a way that is exceptionally satisfactory That the Commission should have unanimously reached a result, save on one minor point, is a matter of congratulation to the Legislature and the people of the State, and it voices the evident public interest on this great subject

If New Jersey shall adopt this statute she will have taken a position on this great question which will be a model for her sister States in the Republic

At the last conference of Governors held at Louisville last year, the subject of employers' liability acts was discussed and the suggestions in the report herewith transmitted were largely before that body, and seemed to meet the universal approval of the Executives at the conference

It is evident that the old rule with relation to employer and employe, called in the common law the "law of master and servant," needs revision and change, and if this act be added to the statutory law of our State and permitted to modify the common law in the respects in which it does modify it, it will be a long step in the right direction

A judicial experience of many years impressed me, at times, with not only the injustice but the absolute cruelty of the present rules of the common law with relation to master and servant under existing business conditions, and if through the act presented by the Commission and herewith transmitted with its report, the manufacturer and the laborer can be brought together under contractural relations and statutory conditions which will work right and justice in the place of the present inequalities and unjust results, a great advance in the economic problem of solving the questions between labor and capital will have been made

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN FRANKLIN FORT,
Governor

A message was received from the Governor

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT
January 16th, 1911

To the Legislature

I herewith send you paper served upon the Governor of this State on Friday, the thirteenth instant, through the private attorneys of the Hudson Water Company The paper is signed by the United States District Attorney for the State of New Jersey and purports to be a demand upon the Governor, the State Water Supply Commission and the Board of Riparian Commissioners to agree with the United States upon a price for a certain land which the paper states it is proposed to condemn for the purpose of securing water to be transported to the government fortifications on Staten Island

There is no power in the Governor, so far as I know, to agree with anyone as to the price of any land within this State The parcels of land which it is proposed to take, as described in the paper herewith transmitted, are lands lying under water in the city of Bayonne flowed by the Kill von Kull and lands of a like character under the Passaic and Hackensack rivers

This procedure is quite unusual on the part of the United States, as the custom heretofore has always been for land proposed to be used for any governmental purpose to be ceded by the Legislature by a special act This State in every application that has been heretofore made has always been very willing to do this

It will be recalled that at the last session of the Legislature there was a very earnest contest over what was known as Assembly Bill No 51, being the McClan water bill, the object and purpose of which law was to prevent the diversion of sub-surface water from this State to any other State by any private water company

It would seem to be wise for the Legislature to take action on this pending proposition and to make reasonable protestation to the United States in regard to the subject-matter contained in the paper herewith transmitted

If the United States Government desires to secure water from the State of New Jersey for the purpose of supplying its fortifications on Staten Island, it would seem that there should be no difficulty in accomplishing this result without resorting to the method of condemnation proposed in these proceedings If the United States itself is intending to construct water-works and necessary pipe lines to supply its fortifications, and that matter were made clear to the Legislature, it would seem that good neighborhood and patriotic spirit should assent to the proposition by proper legislative enactment

The fact that this course has not been pursued, and that the paper which was served upon the Governor was served through the private counsel of the Hudson Water Company, indicates that behind this application of the government is this private self-seeking company This is a matter requiring prompt action on the part of the Legislature, and it might be wise that it should be presented to the Secretary of War, and, if necessary, to the President, by a special committee appointed from the Legislature to repair to the Capitol at Washington, that the actual situation may be made known to the National authorities, and some agreement should be entered into between the National authorities and the State, permitting them, if they desire, to secure such water as may be necessary to supply the fortifications, but preventing any private company from acquiring any rights

The people of New Jersey are broad-minded and public-spirited They would not have the least objection to the government securing such a water-supply as it may need for its fortifications, but they will protest vigorously against transporting the sub-surface waters of this State into Staten Island for the purpose of aggrandizing a private water company

Your attention is hereby called to the message of the Governor transmitted to the Senate on March 28, 1910, when the McCran water bill was pending before that body

The people of this State have made vigorous protest against any private water company controlling in any way its potable water supply, and the Legislature should not leave anything undone to protect the public interest in this regard

In my Annual Message sent to the Legislature at this session, it was recommended that proceedings be at once taken to prevent any private water company from exercising the power of eminent domain (if such power now exists in any such company), and also that an act be passed prohibiting any private water company from exercising the power of condemnation possessed by any municipality for the purpose of condemning any of the surplus potable waters of this State for sale by such private water company

Application has been made to the court within the last few days, for the appointment of commissioners to condemn such surplus potable waters, by private water companies, through the authority conferred by various municipal charters in the northern section of this State These proceedings are now on review in certiorari and it would be wise that this legislation should be speedily passed The time has arrived when the municipalities of this State should have these waters conserved for their purposes exclusively, and if such waters are to be sold outside the State, they should be so sold by the State only, in order that the interests of our own people may be protected for all time

There is no more vital question to-day before the people than this question of the conservation of the potable waters of the State That a monopoly should be obtained in these waters by a private water company, or that private individuals should be permitted to become the owners of these waters, is a most dangerous proposition

The future welfare of our people demands that everything should be done that is possible to prevent this

The Legislature has the power by statute to take away their expressed or implied right of condemnation and it should be exercised speedily

The matter contained in the paper herewith transmitted should at once be taken up by the Legislature and conference had through such persons as may be designated, with the national authorities, to the end, that the rights of our people be protected and that no private water company shall obtain any rights in the potable waters of this State by indirection which they are unable to obtain by direct action

Your attention is earnestly brought to the paper herewith transmitted, and the subject matter thereof, and to this whole question

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN FRANKLIN FORT,
Governor

Motion offered by Mr Matthews to adjourn, which on being put was adopted

Pursuant to adjournment, the House met at the Opera House at 12 o'clock noon The House, together with the Senate, participated in the inauguration of Hon Woodrow Wilson as Governor of the State Upon roll-call all the members of House were present

The following was the programme of inauguration

Prayer by the Rev Henry Collin Minton, D D

The oath of office was administered by Chief Justice William S Gummere to Governor Woodrow Wilson

The delivery of the Great Seal of the State was made by Hon John Franklin Fort, the retiring Governor

In delivering the Great Seal Governor Fort said

"GOVERNOR WILSON By long custom it has been the part of the retiring Governor, in these ceremonies, to transfer to his successor the Great Seal of the State, the symbol of executive authority In so doing, let me first congratulate the people of New Jersey upon the elevation to the office of Chief Executive of one so courageous, independent and able as yourself, and, secondly, let me congratulate you personally on the high honor the people have conferred upon you, and the spirit of fidelity to them with which you are about to enter upon the discharge of your duties

"Personally, nothing could give me greater pleasure than to be the medium of the loyal and patriotic people of the State for conveying this seal

"You have commenced right The people already acclaim you as their tribune for civic advance, and as the foe of every baneful and corrupt influence in our public life

"That you may achieve the very highest success in the years to come to which you may aspire, is my earnest hope

"The people of New Jersey are true to the officials who are loyal to them One who does his duty need not count the cost, the people will do that, and they will repay

"I hand you this Great Seal, free from blemish, as it came to me, feeling sure that in committing its future keeping into your hands the people of New Jersey have made no mistake"

Acceptance of the Great Seal by Governor Wilson

Introduction of the Governor to the President of the Senate by Hon John Franklin Fort

Introduction of the Governor to the Senate and General Assembly by the President of the Senate

The Governor's inaugural address was as follows

GENTLEMEN OF THE LEGISLATURE I assume the great office of Governor of the State with unaffected diffidence Many great men have made this office illustrious A long tradition of honorable public service connects each incumbent of it with the generation of men who set up our governments here in free America, to give men perpetual assurance of liberty and justice and opportunity No one dare be sure that he is qualified to play the part expected of him by the people of the commonwealth in the execution of this high trust It is best for him, as he sets out, to look away from himself and to concentrate his thought upon the people whom he serves, the sacred interests which are entrusted to his care, and the day in which he is to work, its challenge, its promise, its energies of opinion and of purpose, its sustaining hopes and exciting expectations The scene will inspire him, not thought of himself

The opportunity of our day in the field of politics no man can mistake who can read any, even the most superficial, signs of the times We have never seen a day when duty was more plain, the task to be performed more obvious, the way in which to accomplish it more easy to determine The air has in recent months cleared amazingly about us, and thousands, hundreds of thousands, have lifted their eyes to look about them, to see things they never saw before, to comprehend things that once seemed vague and elusive The whole world has changed within the lifetime of men not yet in their thirties, the world of business, and therefore the world of society and the world of politics The organization and movement of business are new and upon a novel scale Business has changed so rapidly that for a long time we were confused, alarmed, bewildered, in a sort of terror of the things we had ourselves raised up We talked about them either in sensational articles in the magazines which distorted every line of the picture, or in conservative editorials in our newspapers, which stoutly denied that anything at all had happened, or in grave discourses which tried to treat them as perfectly normal phenomena, or in legislative debates which sought to govern them with statutes which matched them neither in size nor shape

But, if only by sheer dint of talking about them, either to frighten or to reassure one another, or to make ourselves out wiser or more knowing than our fellows, we have at last turned them about and looked at them from almost every angle and begin to see them whole, as they are Corporations are no longer hobgoblins which have sprung at us out of some mysterious ambush, nor yet unholy inventions of rascally rich men, nor yet the puzzling devices by which ingenious lawyers build up huge rights out of a multitude of small wrongs, but merely organizations of a perfectly intelligible sort which the law has licensed for the convenience of extensive business, organizations which have proved very useful but which have for the time being slipped out of the control of the very law that gave them leave to be and that can make or unmake them at pleasure We have now to set ourselves to control them, soberly but effectively, and to bring them thoroughly within the regulation of the law

There is a great opportunity here, for wise regulation, wise adjustment, will mean the removal of half the difficulties that now beset us in our search for justice and equality and fair chances of fortune for the individuals who make up our modern society And there is a great obligation as well as a great opportunity, an imperative obligation, from which we cannot escape if we would Public opinion is at last wide awake It begins to understand the problems to be dealt with, it begins to see very clearly indeed the objects to be sought It knows what has been going on It sees where resistance has come from whenever efforts at reform have been made, and knows also the means of resistance that have been resorted to It is watchful, insistent, suspicious No man who wishes to enjoy the public confidence dare hold back, and, if he is wise, he will not resort to subterfuge. A duty is exacted of him which he must perform simply, directly, immediately The gate of opportunity stands wide open If we are foolish enough to be unwilling to pass through it, the whip of opinion will drive us through

No wise man will say, of course, that he sees the whole problem of reform lying plain before him, or knows how to frame the entire body of law that will be necessary to square business with the general interest, and put right and fairness and public spirit in the saddle again in all the transactions of our new society, but some things are plain enough, and upon these we can act

In the first place, it is plain that our laws with regard to the relations of employer and employe are in many respects wholly antiquated and impossible They were framed for another age, which nobody now living remembers, which is, indeed, so remote from our life that it would be difficult for many of us to understand it if it were described to us The employer is now generally a corporation or huge company of some kind, the employe is one of hundreds or of thousands brought together, not by individual masters whom they know and with whom they have personal relations, but by agents of one sort or another Workingmen are marshalled in great numbers for the performance of a multitude of particular tasks under a common discipline They generally use dangerous and powerful machinery, over whose repair and renewal they have no control New rules must be devised with regard to their obligations and their rights, their obligations to their employers and their responsibilities to one another New rules must be devised for their protection, for their compensation when injured, for their support when disabled

We call these questions of employers' liability, questions of workingmen's compensation, but those terms do not suggest quite the whole matter There is something very new and very big and very complex about these new relations of capital and labor A new economic society has sprung up, and we must effect a new set of adjustments We must not pit power against weakness The employer is generally, in our day, as I have said, not an individual, but a powerful group of individuals, and yet the workingman is still, under our existing law, an individual when dealing with his employer, in case of accident, for example, or of loss or of illness, as well as in every contractual relationship We must have a workingman's compensation act which will not put upon him the burden of fighting powerful composite employers to obtain his rights, but which will give him his rights without suit, directly, and without contest, by automatic operation of law, as if of a law of insurance

This is the first adjustment needed, because it affects the rights, the happiness, the lives and fortunes of the largest number, and because it is the adjustment for which justice cries loudest and with the most direct appeal, to our hearts as well as to our consciences

But there is regulation needed which lies back of that and is much more fundamental The composite employer himself needs to have his character and powers overhauled, his constitution and rights reconsidered, readjusted to the fundamental and abiding interests of society If I may speak very plainly, we are much too free with grants of charters to corporations in New Jersey A corporation exists, not of natural right, but only by license of law, and the law, if we look at the matter in good conscience, is responsible for what it creates It can never rightly authorize any kind of fraud or imposition It cannot righteously allow the setting up of a business which has no sound basis, or which follows methods which in any way outrage justice or fair dealing or the principles of honest industry The law cannot give its license to things of that kind It thereby authenticates what it ought of right to forbid

I would urge, therefore, the imperative obligation of public policy and of public honesty we are under to effect such changes in the law of the State as will henceforth effectually prevent the abuse of the privilege of incorporation which has in recent years brought so much discredit upon our State In order to do this it will be necessary to regulate and restrict the issue of securities, to enforce regulations with regard to bona fide capital, examining very rigorously the basis of capitalization, and to prescribe methods by which the public shall be safeguarded against fraud, deception, extortion, and every abuse of its confidence

And such scrutiny and regulation ought not to be confined to corporations seeking charters They ought also to be extended to corporations already operating under the license and authority of the State For the right to undertake such regulation is susceptible of easy and obvious justification A modern corporation—that is, a modern joint stock company—is in no proper sense an intimate or private concern It is not set up on the risk and adventure of a few persons, the persons who originated it, manage it, carry it to failure or success On the contrary, it is set up at what may be called the common risk It is a risk and adventure in which the public are invited to share, and the hundreds, perhaps thousands, who subscribe to the stock do in fact share in it, oftentimes without sharing also, in any effectual manner, in the control and development of the business in which their risk is taken Moreover, these modern enterprises, with their exchequers replenished out of the common store of the savings of the nation, conduct business transactions whose scope and influence are as wide as whole regions of the Union, often as wide as the nation itself They affect sometimes the lives and fortunes of whole communities, dominate prices, determine land values, make and unmake markets, develop or check the growth of city and of countryside If law is at liberty to adjust the general conditions of society itself, it is at liberty to control these great instrumentalities which nowadays, in so large part, determine the character of society Wherever we can find what the common interest is in respect of them we shall find a solid enough basis for law, for reform

The matter is most obvious when we turn to what we have come to designate public service, or public utility, corporations—those which supply us with the means of transportation and with those common necessaries, water, light, heat, and power Here are corporations exercising peculiar and extraordinary franchises, and bearing such a relation to society in respect of the services they render that it may be said that they are the very medium of its life They render a public and common service of which it is necessary that practically everybody should avail himself

We have a Public Utilities Commission in New Jersey, but it has hardly more than powers of inquiry and advice It could even as it stands, be made a powerful instrument of publicity and of opinion, but it may also modestly wait until it is asked before expressing a judgment, and in any case it will have the uncomfortable consciousness that its opinion is gratuitous, and carries no weight of effective authority This will not do It is understood by everybody who knows anything of the common interest that it must have complete regulative powers the power to regulate rates, the power to learn and make public everything that should furnish a basis for the public judgment with regard to the soundness, the efficiency, the economy of the business—the power, in brief, to adjust such service at every point and in every respect, whether of equipment or charges or methods of financing or means of service, to the general interest of the communities affected This can be done, as experience elsewhere has demonstrated, not only without destroying the profits of such business, but also with the effect of putting it upon a more satisfactory footing for those who conduct it no less than for those who make use of it day by day

Such regulation, based on thorough and authoritative inquiry, will go far towards disclosing and establishing those debatable values upon which so many questions of taxation turn There is an uneasy feeling throughout the State, in which, I dare say, we all share, that there are glaring inequalities in our system—or, at any rate, in our practice—of taxation The most general complaint is, that there is great inequality as between individuals and corporations I do not see how anyone can determine whether there are or not, for we have absolutely no uniform system of assessment It would seem that in every locality there is some local variety of practice, in the rate, the ratio of assessment value to market value, and that every assessor is a law unto himself Our whole system of taxation, which is no system at all, needs overhauling from top to bottom There can be no system, no safety, no regulation in a multitude of boards An efficient Public Utilities Commission will be a beginning towards a system of taxation as well as towards a system of corporate control We cannot fairly tax values until we have ascertained and established them

And the great matter of conservation seems to me like a part of the same subject The safeguarding of our water supply, the purification of our streams in order to maintain them as sources of life, and their protection against those who would divert them or diminish their volume for private profit, the maintenance of such woodlands as are left us and the reforestation of bare tracts more suited for forest than for field, the sanitation of great urban districts such as cover the northern portions of our State, by thorough systems of drainage and of refuse disposal, the protection of the public health and the facilitation of urban and suburban life—these are all public obligations which fall sooner or later upon you as the lawmakers of the commonwealth, and they are all parts of the one great task of adjustment which has fallen to our generation Our business is to adjust right to right, interest to interest, and to systematize right and convenience, individual rights and corporate privileges, upon the single basis of the general good, the good of whole communities, the good which no one will look after or suffice to secure if the legislator does not, the common good for whose safeguarding and maintenance government is intended

This readjustment has not been going on very fast or very favorably in New Jersey It has been observed that it limped, or was prevented, or neglected, in other States as well Everywhere there has been confusion of counsel and many a sad miscarriage of plan There have, consequently, been some very radical criticisms of our methods of political action There is widespread dissatisfaction with what our legislatures do, and still more serious dissatisfaction with what they do not do Some persons have said that representative government has proved too indirect and clumsy an instrument, and has broken down as a means of popular control Others, looking a little deeper, have said that it was not representative government that had broken down, but the effort to get it They have pointed out that with our present methods of machine nomination and our present methods of elections, which were nothing more than a choice between one set of machine nominees and another, we did not get representative government at all—at least not government representative of the people, but government representative of political managers who served their own interests and the interests of those with whom they found it profitable to establish partnerships

Obviously this is something that goes to the root of the whole matter Back of all reform lies the method of getting it Back of the question what you want lies the question, the fundamental question of all government, how are you going to get it? How are you going to get public servants who will obtain it for you? How are you going to get genuine representatives who will serve your real interests, and not their own or the interests of some special group or body of your fellow-citizens whose power is of the few and not of the many? These are the queries which have drawn the attention of the whole country to the subject of the direct primary, the direct choice of representatives by the people, without the intervention of the nominating machine, the nominating organization

I earnestly commend to your careful consideration in this connection the laws in recent years adopted in the State of Oregon, whose effect has been to bring government back to the people and to protect it from the control of the representatives of selfish and special interests They seem to me to point the direction which we must also take before we have completed our regeneration of a government which has suffered so seriously and so long as ours has here in New Jersey from private management and organized selfishness Our primary laws, extended and perfected, will pave the way They should be extended to every elective office, and to the selection of every party committee or official as well, in order that the people may once for all take charge of their own affairs, their own political organization and association, and the methods of primary selection should be so perfected that the primaries will be put upon the same free footing that the methods of election themselves are meant to rest upon

We have here the undoubtedly sound chain and sequence of reforms an actual direct choice by the people of the men who are to organize alike their parties and their government, and those measures which true representatives of the people will certainly favor and adopt—systematic compensation for injured workingmen, the careful regulation in the common interest of all corporations, both in respect of their organization and of their methods of business, and especially of public service corporations, the equalization of taxes, and the conservation of the natural resources of the State and of the health and safety of its people

Another matter of the most vital consequence goes with all these namely, systematic ballot reform and thorough and stringent provisions of law against corrupt practices in connection alike with primaries and with elections We have lagged behind our sister States in these important matters, and should make haste to avail ourselves of their example and their experience Here, again, Oregon may be our guide

This is a big programme, but it is a perfectly consistent programme, and a perfectly feasible programme, and one upon whose details it ought to be possible to agree even within the limits of a single legislative session You may count upon my co-operation at every step of the work

I have not spoken of the broad question of economy in the administration of the State government, an economy which can probably be effected only through a thorough reorganization upon business principles, the familiar business principles so thoroughly understood and so intelligently practiced by Americans, but so seldom applied to their governments We make offices for party purposes too often, instead of conducting our public business by the organization best adapted to efficiency and economy I have not dwelt upon the subject in this address because it is a very complicated one, hardly suited for brief exposition, and because so obvious a requirement of honest government needs hardly more than to be mentioned to be universally endorsed by the public I shall try to point out to you from time to time the means by which reorganization and economy may be secured with benefit to the public service

But there is a subject which lies a little off the beaten track to which I do wish to turn for a moment before I close The whole country has remarked the extraordinary rise in the prices of food stuffs in recent years, and the fact that prices are successfully maintained at an intolerably high level at all seasons, whether they be the seasons of plenty or of scarcity We have a partial remedy at our own hand—a remedy which was proposed to the Legislature last year by Mr James, of Hudson county, but which is said to have been defeated in some questionable fashion in the last hours of the session It is estimated that most of the food supply of the people of northern New Jersey, and half the food supply for New York City, is kept in cold-storage warehouses in Hudson county, awaiting the desired state of the market There is abundant reason to believe that it is the practice of dealers to seclude immense quantities of beef and other meats, poultry, eggs, fish, etc, in cold-storage in times of abundance in order that the price of these indispensable foods may be kept high and the foods dealt out only when the market is satisfactory for that purpose, even if the meats and eggs have to be kept for years together before being sold Figures, said to be actually of record, foot up almost incredible totals of the amounts thus held in waiting, running into millions of heads of cattle, of sheep and lambs, of hogs, millions of pounds of poultry, and hundreds of millions of eggs

The result is not only to control prices but also to endanger health, because of the effect of too long storage upon the food stuffs themselves, and because of the deleterious effects of taking them out of cold-storage and exposing them to thaw in the markets The least effect is loss of nutritious quality, the worst, the generation of actual poisons by decay and even putrefaction

No limit at all is put upon this abuse by law, and strong influences are brought to bear by interested parties to prevent the enactment of remedial legislation Indictments were brought in Hudson county, but there was no sufficient law to sustain them A bill was introduced, as I have said, at the last session of the Legislature, but was, I am told, after lingering a very long time in the Assembly committee, mysteriously lost when called up for passage in the Senate during the last hours of the session I earnestly urge that the Legislature take up this important matter at the earliest possible time, and push some effective law of inspection and limitation to enactment It would give me great pleasure to sign a bill that would really accomplish the purpose

We are servants of the people, of the whole people Their interest should be our constant study We should pursue it without fear or favor Our reward will be greater than that to be obtained in any other service the satisfaction of furthering large ends, large purposes, of being an intimate part of that slow but constant and ever hopeful force of liberty and of enlightenment that is lifting mankind from age to age to new levels of progress and achievement, and of having been something greater than successful men For we shall have been instruments of humanity, men whose thought was not for themselves, but for the true and lasting comfort and happiness of men everywhere It is not the foolish ardor of too sanguine or too radical reform that I urge upon you, but merely the tasks that are evident and pressing, the things we have knowledge and guidance enough to do, and to do with confidence and energy I merely point out the present business of progressive and serviceable government, the next stage on the journey of duty The path is as inviting as it is plain Shall we hesitate to tread it? I look forward with genuine pleasure to the prospect of being your comrade upon it

Benediction was then invoked by Rev Mgr John H Fox, LL D

A message was received from the Senate, by the hands of its Secretary, as follows

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
SENATE CHAMBER,
January 30th, 1911

Mr Speaker

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has passed the following concurrent resolution

WHEREAS, The present methods of closing the Legislature at the final adjournment are unsatisfactory, owing to the great mass of legislation rushed through on the last day, compelling the session to extend beyond the specified hour in the daytime and through the night until the following morning, causing disorder and confusion in the enactment of law, and

WHEREAS, The right to introduce and consider legislation is legal and constitutional up to the hour of adjournment, therefore, the only solution of the problem would seem to be a mutual understanding between the two branches of the Legislature, now, therefore,

Be it resolved, That the Senate of New Jersey (the House of Assembly concurring) appoint as a committee the President of the Senate, the leader of the Senate majority and the leader of the Senate minority, who, together with the Speaker of the House and the leader of the House majority and the leader of the House minority, shall constitute a committee, and that this committee be and hereby is empowered to confer together to devise a plan whereby the introduction of bills may cease a sufficient time before final adjournment by mutual understanding between the two branches of the Legislature, in order that all measures before the Legislature may be considered in an orderly manner, and that a sine die adjournment may be had promptly on the day and at the hour fixed for adjournment

In which the concurrence of the House of Assembly is requested

WM MURPHEY,
Secretary of the Senate

As correctly printed

Mr Boettner offered the following resolution

WHEREAS, The abuses and injustices of the present tariff law, in imposing unnecessary and burdensome taxation on the necessaries of life, have become intolerable to the people, and

WHEREAS, These conditions have been largely produced by tariff-protected monopolies fostered by the existing tariff schedules, and

WHEREAS, The people have demanded relief therefrom and a substantial reduction in the tariff on food, clothing and articles of necessity, now therefore

Be it resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Legislature of the State of New Jersey hereby requests the President of the United States to convene the newly elected Congress in special session at the earliest possible moment to revise the existing tariff law and reduce or remove the unjust and unfair taxation from the necessities of life, to the end that the cost of living of the American people may be reduced to a normal basis, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, signed by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Assembly, be forwarded to the President of the United States and to each House of Congress, forthwith

WHEREAS, The people of California have raised seventeen and a half million dollars for the purpose of holding an International Exposition at San Francisco, in nineteen hundred and fifteen, to celebrate the opening of the Panama Canal, and neither ask nor desire aid from Congress other than a mere invitation to foreign nations to participate in said Exposition, and

WHEREAS, The House of Representatives of the United States of America, January 31st, 1911, by a decisive vote have chosen San Francisco as the city in which to hold the Exposition commemorating the opening of the Panama Canal, now therefore

Be it resolved, That the city of San Francisco be and the same is hereby endorsed as a proper and fitting site for the holding of said exposition

Which, on motion, was adopted

Mr McCran moved the adoption of the concurrent resolution received from the Senate January 30th last, as follows

WHEREAS, The present methods of closing the Legislature at the final adjournment are unsatisfactory, owing to the great mass of legislation rushed through on the last day, compelling the session to extend beyond the specified hour in the daytime and through the night until the following morning, causing disorder and confusion in the enactment of law, and

WHEREAS, The right to introduce and consider legislation is legal and constitutional up to the hour of adjournment, therefore, the only solution of the problem would seem to be a mutual understanding between the two branches of the Legislature, now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of New Jersey (the House of Assembly concurring) appoint as a committee the President of the Senate, the leader of the Senate majority and the leader of the Senate minority, who, together with the Speaker of the House and the leader of the House majority and the leader of the House minority, shall constitute a committee, and that this committee be and hereby is empowered to confer together to devise a plan whereby the introduction of bills may cease a sufficient time before final adjournment by mutual understanding between the two branches of the Legislature in order that all measures before the Legislature may be considered in an orderly manner, and that a sine die adjournment may be had promptly on the day and at the hour fixed for adjournment

On motion of Mr Matthews the resolution was read

Mr Matthews then offered the following substitute

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the day and hour of the sine die adjournment be not fixed by concurrent resolution until all measures before the Legislature are properly considered and disposed of, without either the suspension of the rules or the holding of night sessions, and that when a sine die adjournment is agreed upon, it be had promptly on the day and hour fixed

Mr B H White presented the following communication

WHEREAS, The improved roads in this State, built and maintained at enormous costs, excel in mileage and excellence those of any of our sister States, and contribute materially to the comfort and prosperity of our citizens, and

WHEREAS, The extension and maintenance of our system of improved public roads should be fostered and encouraged in every possible way, and

WHEREAS, The automobile, while it has become necessary and a permanent factor in transportation and travel, is one of the most destructive agencies to the highways upon which it is used, entailing great cost upon the State for the repair and maintenance of such highways, and

WHEREAS, Persistent attempts have been, and are now being made, to so amend and change the automobile laws as to permit non-resident automobilists to use our improved roads without cost to such non-residents, and

WHEREAS, The non-resident automobiles used upon our highways exceed the resident automobiles, both in number and in horse-power, and

WHEREAS, We have learned that a large number of the members of the present Legislature of this State have either been pledged to favor so-called reciprocal legislation authorizing the free use of our improved roads by non-resident automobilists without registration or the execution of a power of attorney, or have been threatened with opposition for re-election in case they oppose such legislation, and

WHEREAS, We believe that this State, because of its peculiar conditions and its close proximity to two of the largest cities upon this continent, cannot afford, in justice to its citizens, to enter into such reciprocal legislation with neighboring States relative to the use of highways by automobiles, therefore,

Be it resolved, That we hereby express our condemnation of any attempt by automobilists, or others, to coerce the members of the Legislature in dealing with the subject of the free use of the improved roads of this State by non-resident automobilists, and

Be it further resolved, That we believe such legislation to be harmful to the best interests of this State and its citizens, and hereby register our protest against the enactment of any law having for its object any additional concessions to non-resident automobilists, and

Be it further resolved, That these resolutions be published, and that copies thereof, duly authenticated, be presented to the Governor and to the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey

Adopted by Burlington County Pomona Grange, held at Moorestown, January 24th, 1910

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
SENATE CHAMBER,
February 27th, 1911

Mr Speaker

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has refused to concur in the following concurrent resolution

WHEREAS, The rates now charged by express companies for transporting parcels is far in excess of being reasonable, and

WHEREAS, The people of the State of New Jersey demand more reasonable rates, now therefore, be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Senators and Members in Congress from New Jersey be requested to vote for an extension of the parcel post, and

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution signed by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Assembly be forwarded to the Senators and Members in Congress from the State of New Jersey

WM C MURPHEY,
Secretary of the Senate

A message was received from the Senate by the hands of its secretary, as follows.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
SENATE CHAMBER,
Mr Speaker February 27th, 1911

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate refused to concur in the following concurrent resolution

WHEREAS, For more than a generation the Russian government has continually dishonored, rejected and arbitrarily disregarded the passport issued by the State Department of the United States (bearing the great seal of our country, and which vouches for the citizenship of him to whom it is issued), whenever the citizen by whom it is presented happens to be a Jew, and

WHEREAS, This is in violation of its treaty obligations and the usage of civilized nations, and

WHEREAS, Congress has, on repeated occasions, given emphatic expression to its resentment of the stain imposed upon our nation's honor and the entire country has protested against this insult and humiliation, and

WHEREAS, The citizenship of every American who loves his country has, in consequence, been subjected to degradation, and it has become a matter of such serious import to the people of the United States, as an entirety, that this condition can no longer be tolerated, be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the President of the United States, the Department of State and Congress be respectfully and earnestly urged to take immediate measures, in conformity with the express terms of the treaties now existing between the United States and Russia, and in accordance with the law of nations, to terminate such treaties, to the end that if treaty relations are to exist between the two nations it shall be upon such conditions and guarantees only as shall be consonant with the dignity of the American people

WM C MURPHEY,
Secretary of the Senate

A message was received from the Senate by the hands of its Secretary, as follows

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of Mr Tumulty, his Secretary, as follows

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

To the Legislature March 20th, 1911

I take the liberty of calling your attention to a very important matter awaiting your decision—the question of the ratification of the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States which gives to the Federal Congress the right to impose an income tax Liberal opinion throughout the country clearly expects and demands the ratification of this amendment

It will undoubtedly be an act of great liberality on the part of the States to concede it They will thereby be sharing with the federal government one of the few powers of taxation which, under the latest decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in that matter, they may now regard themselves as entitled to exercise, to a certain extent, exclusively, but it is clearly in the interest of the national life that the power should be conceded It will free the government of the United States to put its fiscal policy upon a much more enlightened, a much more modern, a much more elastic basis than it now rests upon, or apparently can rest upon so long as this power is withheld If this power be granted, the general government may adapt its whole system of taxation to the actual economic life of the country much more favorably than it is now adapted It may make it more just and may adjust it more nicely to the interests of the people at large

May I not urge upon you as earnestly as respectful the prompt adoption of this exceedingly important amendment, that New Jersey may be put among the number of those States which do not prefer their own interests to those of the nation as a whole?

Respectfully,

WOODROW WILSON,

Governor

On motion of Mr Matthews, the message was ordered received, the usual number of copies printed, and referred to the Committee on Judiciary

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of Mr Tumulty, his Secretary, as follows

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

To the House of Assembly March 17th, 1911

I herewith return to the House of Assembly, in which it originated, Assembly Bill No 163, entitled "An act concerning the pay or salary of officials, firemen and other employes of paid fire departments in cities of the first class of this State," without my approval

This bill applies to cities of the first class in the State, and provides for a large increase in the compensation of all officers and employes of the fire department in such cities I am informed that it would entail an additional expense of at least $65,000 a year in Jersey City, for which municipality it was especially designed A careful examination of the bill discloses the fact that there is no provision for affirmative action on the part of the mayor and board of finance, who are the responsible financial authorities of the city, and submission to a popular vote is ordered without their concurrence or advice

The bill deprives the proper responsible officers of the city of the power to determine whether or not the expenditure provided for is within the resources of the taxpayers or is a proper measure of local administration

In view of the increasing burdens of taxation, under which the citizens of our municipalities are laboring, it seems to me a particularly questionable use of legislative power to intervene without their solicitation to increase these burdens Every endeavor should be made to assist the cities in carrying out a systematic policy of retrenchment and economy Anything which overrides their constituted authorities is inconsistent with the principle of home rule and with the just encouragement of efforts to effect reasonable reform

Respectfully,

WOODROW WILSON,
Governor.

Which, on motion of Mr Matthews, was ordered received and spread in full upon the minutes

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of Mr Tumulty, his Secretary, as follows

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

To the House of Assembly March 17th 1911

I herewith return to the House of Assembly, without my approval, Assembly Bill No 63, entitled "An act relating to the appointment and fixing the compensation of a clerk in the office of the mayor of cities of the first class in this State"

I am informed that this bill originated in a desire to meet the unusual circumstances of the services of an individual officer

It seems to me unwise to make alterations in existing law to meet exceptional cases

Respectfully,

WOODROW WILSON,
Governor

On motion of Mr Geran,

Committee Substitute for

Assembly Bill No 175, entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act to regulate elections (Revision of 1898),'" approved April fourth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight,

Was taken up on second reading

Mr Martin offered the following amendment to Committee Substitute for

Assembly Bill No 175, entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act to regulate elections (Revision of 1898),'" approved April fourth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight,

Amend section fifty-eight by striking out whole of said section and insert in place thereof the following

58 There shall be provided at each polling place at each general election but one form of ballot for all the candidates for public office, and every ballot shall contain the names of all the candidates whose nominations for any office specified on the ballot have been duly made and not withdrawn, together with the title of the office, arranged in tickets under the titles of the respective political parties or independent bodies, as certified in the certificates of nomination All ballots shall be printed in black ink on clear white book paper, free from ground wood, five hundred sheets of which, twenty-five by thirty-eight inches in size, shall weigh sixty pounds, and which shall test for that size and weight at least twenty points on a Morrison tester

Every such ballot printed in accordance with the provisions of this chapter shall contain a party device for each political party represented on the ticket in accordance with the provisions of section thirteen of "An act to provide for the purchase of voting machines and to regulate the use of the same at elections," approved April twenty-eighth one thousand nine hundred and five

The arrangement of the ballot shall, in general, conform as nearly as practicable to the plan hereinafter given The lists of candidates of the several parties shall be printed in parallel columns, each column to be headed by the chosen device of such party and the party name or other designation, in such order as the Secretary of State may direct, precedence, however, being given to the party which polled the highest number of votes for Governor at the last preceding general election for such officer, and so on The number of such columns shall exceed by one the number of separate tickets of candidates to be voted for at the polling place for which the ballot is provided, except as otherwise provided in this section

The party name shall be printed in display, the name or designation of the office in brevier lower case, and the name of the candidate therefor in brevier capital type The title of the office, together with the name of the candidate therefor, shall be printed in a space one-half inch in depth and at least two inches in width, defined by light horizontal ruled lines, with a blank space on the left thereof one-fourth of inch wide, inclosed by heavier dark lines, which space (called the voting space) shall be of the same depth as the space containing the title of the office and the name of the candidate, provided, however, that when two or more persons are to be voted for for the same office, for the same

term, and on the same party ticket, as for instance, Presidential electors, the title of the office shall be printed in the first space only, which space shall be half an inch in depth, and the several spaces in which only such candidates names are printed, and the voting spaces to the left thereof shall each be one-fourth of an inch in depth between the horizontal ruled lines

On the right of each ballot shall be a column in which shall be printed only the titles of the offices for which candidates may be voted for by the voters at the polling place for which the ballot is printed Such column is designated as the "Blank column" and in such column the voting spaces shall be omitted, but in all other respects such blank column shall be a duplicate of the political party columns upon such ballot In the space in such column above the heavy ruled line shall be printed in great primer Roman condensed capitals the words "Blank Column", and below such words shall be printed in brevier capital type the following

"The voter may write in the column below, under the title of the office, the name of any person whose name is not printed upon the ballot for whom he desires to vote"

At elections at which presidential electors are to be voted for, the names of the candidates for President and Vice-President shall be placed on the ticket immediately below the name of the party making the nominations, and above the heavy ruled line preceding the names of the presidential electors, and shall be printed in type known as great primer Roman condensed capitals

The heading of each party ticket, including the name of the party, the device above, and the circle between the device and such name, shall be separated from the rest of the ticket by a heavy printed line, and the circle above the name of the party shall be defined by heavier lines than the lines defining the blank spaces before the names of candidates, and such circle shall be surrounded by the following, printed in heavy-faced nonpareil type "for a straight ticket, mark within this circle", provided, however, that in the case of nominations provided for in sections one hundred and twenty-two and one hundred and twenty-three of this chapter, designated as "Independent Nominations" the ballot shall be so arranged that at the right of the last column for nominations designated in section one hundred and twenty as "Party nominations" the several tickets of the names of the candidates independently nominated shall be printed in one or more columns according to the space required, having above each of the tickets the political or other names selected to designate such independent nomination, and the circle and also the device or emblem to represent and distinguish the candidates of the several independent bodies making such nominations The independent tickets occupying the same column shall be separated from each other by a solid black line one-eighth of an inch wide At the top of a column and above the first emblem of each of such columns for independent nominations shall be printed in type known as great primer Roman condensed capitals the words "Independent Nominations" Each column upon the ballot shall be bordered on either side by a broad solid printed line one-eighth of an inch wide, and the edge of the ballot on either side shall be trimmed off up to the border or solid line described

The ballots shall be so printed as to give to each voter a clear opportunity to designate by a cross × mark in a large blank circle three-quarters of inch in diameter below the device and above the name of the party at the head of the ticket or lists of candidates, his choice of a party ticket and desire to vote for each and every candidate thereon, and by a cross × mark in a blank inclosed space, heretofore designated as the voting space on the left of and before the name of each candidate his choice of particular candidates

The ballot shall be printed with a space of sufficient space on the top, not less than two inches, extending the whole length of the top of the ballot, upon which shall be printed in type known as brevier capitals the following

"This ballot should be marked in one of two ways with a pencil having black lead To vote a straight ticket, make a cross × mark within the circle above one of the party columns To vote a split ticket, that is, for candidates of different parties, the voter should make a cross × mark before the name of each candidate for whom he votes If the ticket marked in the circle for a straight ticket does not contain the names of candidates for all offices for which the voter may vote, he may vote for candidates for such offices so omitted by making a cross × mark before the names of candidates for such offices on another ticket, or by writing the names, if they are not printed upon the ballot, in the blank column under the title of the office To vote for a person not on the ballot, write the name of such person under the title of the office in the blank column Any other mark than the cross × mark used for the purposes of voting, or any erasure made on this ballot, makes it void, and no vote can be counted hereon, if you tear, or deface, or wrongly mark this ballot, return it and obtain another"

On the back of the ballot, and immediately at the left of the centre of the ballot, shall be printed in great primer Roman condensed capitals the words "Official Ballot for", and after the word "For" shall follow the designation of the polling place for which the ballot is prepared, the date of the election, and the fac simile of the signature of the officer who has caused the ballot to be printed

All of the official ballots of the same sort prepared by any officer or board for the same polling place, shall be of precisely the same size, arrangement, quality and tint of paper, and kind of type, and shall be printed with black ink of the same tint, so that when the stubs numbered as aforesaid shall be detached therefrom, it shall be impossible to distinguish any one of the ballots from the other ballots of the same sort, and the names of all candidates printed upon the ballot shall be in type of the same size and character If two or more officers are to be elected to the same office for different terms, the term for which each is nominated shall be printed upon the ballots as a part of the title of the office No ticket or list of candidates which contains more candidates for any office than there are persons to be elected to such office shall be printed under the name of any political party or independent body

Which amendment was read and the ayes and nays being called, was lost by the following vote

ments to and amendments of said act, shall be as follows For the first registry day, including services rendered at the primary election, fifteen dollars ($15), for each other registry day, seven dollars and fifty cents ($7 50), for the election day, including the counting of the votes and the delivery of the returns and ballot-box with contents to the municipal clerk, fifteen dollars ($15), for mailing sample ballots, as hereinafter provided, four dollars ($4), which compensation shall include all services of every nature and kind whatsoever to be rendered by each member of said board, and shall be in lieu of all other fees and payments now allowed by law

III

6 Hereafter no person shall be entitled to vote at any primary election held in September of each year, pursuant to the act to which this is a supplement, and its supplements and amendments, unless his name, at the time of voting, shall appear upon the primary registry list made up as hereinafter provided, but any qualified voter may register on said primary day for the ensuing general election in the manner provided by law

In all municipalities of this State there shall be two registry lists, a primary registry list, and a general election registry list The primary registry list shall consist of the names on the poll-book of the general election of the preceding year, with the corrections and additions herein provided for, the general election registry list shall be made up as hereinafter provided

7 The first registry day in all municipalities shall be held on the second Tuesday of September in each year On said day the board of registry and election, in each election district, shall sit at the place and during the hours as now provided by law for the purpose of preparing registry lists of voters entitled to vote at the ensuing primary and general elections The said primary registry list shall be made up by the said board as follows the said board shall place upon the said primary registry the names of all persons whose names appear upon the poll-book of their election district as having voted in said election district at the last preceding general election Said names shall be arranged according to streets, as now required for the general election registry list The municipal clerks shall preserve, open to inspection, the poll-book and also the primary books used in each election district in his municipality in each year, and deliver the same at his office to the respective boards of registry and election in time for use on said first registry day of the following year Said clerks shall deliver to each of said

boards in his municipality a suitable registry book for the primary registry The said district boards of registry and election shall also place upon said primary registry list and also upon the registry list to be prepared for use at the general election, the names of all voters who shall appear in person before said board and register upon said first registry day, and shall place upon said primary registry list (but not upon said general election registry list) the names of all voters presented to said board by affidavit, as now required by law Said boards shall place the letter "R" opposite such of the names on the said primary registry lists as appear also in the said Republican primary book, and shall place the letter "D" opposite such of said names as appear also in the said Democratic primary book Whenever it shall happen, by reason of the creation of new election districts under this act, or for any other reason, that there is no copy of the poll-book of the said election district used at the general election of the previous year, or no copy of the primary book for such election district, the municipal clerk shall furnish to the said board of registry and elections, on or before said first registry day, a list of the names of voters in said election district who voted therein at the last previous general election, and also of those who voted therein at the last previous primary election in each party primary, which names shall be taken from the poll-book and the primary book of the election district of which the new district formed a part, and from such lists said board shall make up the primary registry list as herein provided If the poll-book of any election district has been lost or destroyed at the time of the said first registry day, then the said board in said district shall make up the primary registry list in said district from the names on the primary books of the two political parties of the last previous primary, together with the names of voters filed with them by affidavit, as herein provided

8 The second registry day in all municipalities in this State shall be held upon the fourth Tuesday of September in each year, and upon said registry day the district boards of registry and election, in each election district in the State, shall conduct the primary elections as provided by law Each voter offering to vote shall announce his name and the party primary in which he wishes to vote The board of registry and election shall thereupon ascertain by reference to the primary registry book required by this act, and if necessary by reference to the primary book of the preceding primary election, that said voter is registered as required by this act, and also that he did not vote in the primary of the other political party at the last preceding primary election, in which event he shall be allowed to vote, but no voter shall be allowed to vote at said primary unless his name has been placed on said registry list prior to said primary day as hereinbefore provided, and no person shown by said primary registry list, verified, when requested by the voter, by reference to the primary book, to have voted in the primary of one political party at the last preceding election, shall be allowed to vote in the primary of the other political party

9 The primary registry lists made up as hereinbefore provided shall be used only for the primary election, and each district board of registry shall make up the registry list for the general election as hereinafter provided The primary elections shall be held as now provided by law, except as herein otherwise provided

IV

10 Hereafter in all municipalities of this State no person shall be allowed to vote at any general election unless he shall first have personally registered as required by this act

11 The general election registry list shall be in the form of a book arranged in columns, the leaves thereof to be indexed from A to Z In the first column of such register there shall be entered at the time of the completion of the registration on the last day of registration, a number opposite the name of each person so enrolled beginning with "one" opposite the first named entered in the page index A, and continuing in numerical order to and including the last name entered upon the last page of such register On each day of registration there shall be entered in the second column thereof the surname of such persons in the alphabetical order of the first letter thereof on the page bearing the index letter of such surname, and in the third column the Christian name or names of such persons, respectively In the fourth column shall be entered the residence number or other designation, and in the fifth column the name of the street or avenue of such residence, or a brief description of the locality thereof In the sixth column shall be entered the number of the floor or room occupied by the voter at the residence given by him, and in the seventh column shall be entered the full name of the householder, tenant, subtenant, or apartment-lessee with whom the voter resides, and in the eighth column shall be entered his age, in the ninth shall be entered his length of residence by years in this State, and in the tenth column shall be entered the country of his nativity, which shall mean the country, State or province of the voter's birth, irrespective of his former political allegiance In the eleventh column shall be entered the name of the municipality from which such person last registered or voted In the twelfth column shall be entered, if the voter is in business for himself or with others, the name under which he is so in business, or, if the voter is employed by some other person, the name of his present employer If he is not in business and has no employment, the word "none" shall be entered, together with the name under which he was last in business or the name of his last employer, if any In the thirteenth column shall be entered the street and number, or if it has no street number, a brief description of the location of the place, if any, where he is so in business or employed, or if unemployed, the place, if any, where he was last in business or employed The information required to be stated in the twelfth and thirteenth columns shall be only asked in the event that the person offering to register shall not have registered in the same county in the general election immediately preceding The fourteenth column shall be reserved for the signature of the voter at the time of registration, or in case the voter alleges his inability to write, for entering therein the number of the "identification statement" made by such voter as hereinafter provided Above each horizontal line in the said fourteenth column shall be printed the words the "foregoing statements are true," and the voter shall, at the time of registration, sign his name by his own hand and without assistance, using an indelible pencil or ink, below such words on the horizontal line in a register of voters, which register shall be known as the "signature copy" Said signature copy shall be other than a public copy, and shall be used at the polls on election day If the voter alleges his inability to sign his name, one of the members of the board of registry and election, in addition to taking down the information required to be written in the "signature copy" of the registry book, shall read to the voter the following list of questions from a book to be furnished said boards, and to be known as "identification statements for registry day," and said member shall write down in said book the answers of the voter to said question Where did you actually reside immediately prior to taking up your present residence? State floor and character of premises At the bottom of each list of questions shall be printed the following statement "I certify that I have read to the above named elector each of the foregoing questions and that I have truly recorded his answers

as above to each of said questions", and said member who has made the above record shall forthwith sign his name to said certificate and date the same The above questions shall be printed on separate sheets of paper, which shall be furnished said board bound together in book form and numbered consecutively, and the number corresponding to the number on each sheet containing said list of questions shall be entered. when the questions have been answered, in the fourteenth column, in the register of voters in which the voters registering have signed their names Said book of "identification statements for registry day" shall be kept at all times with the register in which the voters sign their names as hereinbefore provided The registration books as provided in this section, together with a sufficient number of identification statements bound in book form, and the poll-books as herein provided, shall be provided by the Secretary of State, at the expense of the State, and shall be furnished to each board of registry and election in the same manner as the poll-books are now furnished to said boards, except that the lines in the registers and poll-books provided for in this section shall be one-half inch apart and each page of said registers and poll-books shall in each case be consecutively numbered

12 Immediately after the close of the last day of registration as herein provided the said board of registry and election in each election district shall make and complete one list of all persons registered in their district in the numerical order of the street numbers thereof, which shall be signed and be certified by said board and delivered forthwith to the county clerk Said list shall be in the following form

Grand Street

Residence number or other designation	Name of voter
14	Smith, John M
15	Jones, Charles M

The county clerk shall forthwith cause copies of said registry lists to be printed in hand-bill form, and shall furnish printed copies thereof to the respective boards of registry and election, who shall publicly expose the same for inspection as now required by law Said county clerk shall forthwith deliver to the chief of police of each municipality not less than five copies of the lists of voters of the election districts in such municipality, who shall cause an investigation to be made of the names of the persons so appearing on said lists, to ascertain if the said persons are residents of the houses from which they are registered, and shall forthwith forward the written reports of such investigation to the county board of elections, where they shall be kept open to public inspection, and who shall make use of the same in the respect hereinafter provided Said county board shall also furnish to any voter applying for the same, copies of said registry lists, charging therefor, as nearly as may be, the cost of printing the same

13 The county boards of elections shall sit on the Friday preceding the second registry day Such boards shall have power to revise the registry lists in the following respect and not otherwise Upon proof, satisfactory to said board, that said registry lists contain the name or names of persons not qualified to vote at the ensuing primary election, said board shall have power to strike therefrom all such names, whereupon there shall be transmitted to the proper district boards of registry and election the certificate of said county board showing the correction to be made in such registry list Said certificate shall be delivered, if at all, in time for its use upon the ensuing primary election

14 Said county boards of election shall also sit on the Friday immediately following the last registration day for the purpose of striking from the general election registry list the names of all persons who may be shown by proof satisfactory to said board, to be unqualified to vote at the ensuing general election In the event of such action, certificate shall be delivered by said county board to the proper district boards in time to give effect to such decision at the ensuing general election

15 The ballots to be used at primary elections held pursuant to the act to which this act is a further supplement, and the supplements to and amendments of said act, shall be as now provided by law

16 Hereafter all petitions endorsing candidates for nominations on the primary tickets of any party must be filed with the proper municipal clerk twenty days before the day of the primary, and it shall be the duty of such clerk to notify any candidate so endorsed, whose petition for nomination is defective, setting forth the nature of such defect, and the date when the ballots will be printed, and such candidate shall be permitted to amend such petition either in form or in substance, so as to remedy such defect, at any time prior to the printing of such ballots

17 Hereafter any person endorsed as a candidate for nomination for any public office, whose name is to be voted for on the primary ticket of any political party, may by endorsement on the petition of nomination in which he is endorsed, or by a separate petition addressed to and filed with the clerk charged with the duty of printing the primary tickets, request that the said clerk shall print opposite his name on said primary ticket a designation, in not more than six words, as named by him in said petition, for the purpose of indicating either any official act or policy to which he is pledged or committed, or to distinguish him as belonging to a particular faction or wing of his political party On the filing of any such petition, the said clerk shall cause the said designation to be printed opposite the name of the said person upon the primary ticket If several candidates for nomination to the same office shall in said petition request that their names be grouped together, and that the common designation to be named by them shall be printed opposite their said names, the said clerk shall group the names of the said persons in a bracket, and opposite the said bracket shall print the said designation as aforesaid If two candidates or groups shall select the same designation, the municipal clerk shall notify the candidate or group whose petition was last filed, and said candidate or group shall select a new designation

18 A candidate for the nomination for the office of State Senator or member of the General Assembly, or for election to either of such offices may file with his nominating petition, or at any time before the primary or general election, with the county clerk, one of the three following statements

STATEMENT NO 1

I hereby state to the people of New Jersey, as well as to the people of county, that during my term of office I will always vote for that candidate for United States Senator in Congress who has received the highest number of the people's votes in the State for that position at the primary election next preceding the eelction of a Senator in Congress, without regard to my individual preference

I hereby state to the people of New Jersey, as well as to the people of county, that during my term of office I will always vote for that candidate for United States Senator in Congress who has received the highest number of votes in my party in the State for that position at the primary election next

preceding the election of a Senator in Congress, without regard to my individual preference

If the candidate shall be unwilling to sign either of the above statements, then he may sign and file the following statement

STATEMENT NO 3

During my term of office I shall consider the vote of the people for United States Senator in Congress as nothing more than a recommendation, which I shall be at liberty to wholly disregard if the reason for doing so seems to me to be sufficient

(Signature of candidate)

Every blank petition for nomination officially prepared shall contain the foregoing statements in blank

VIII

19 Hereafter all candidates of political parties, as defined in the act to which this act is a supplement, for the office of Governor of this State, shall be nominated directly, without the intervention of delegates or conventions, at the primary elections held pursuant to the act to which this act is a supplement and the acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto

20 Not less than one thousand voters in any political party in this State may file with the Secretary of State of New Jersey a petition or petitions endorsing any member of their political party as a candidate for the nomination of said party to the office of Governor, and requesting that the name of the person so endorsed be printed upon the official primary ballot of such political party Said petition or petitions shall be signed in the manner and form provided for the signing and filing of nominating petitions under the act to which this act is a supplement, and to said petitions, or one of them there shall be attached the acceptance of the person endorsed as required by said act All of the names of petitioners need not be signed to a single petition, but any number of petitions of the same purport may be filed, if provided, in the aggregate, the signatures thereto endorsing any one person shall be at least one thousand, and provided, that to each petition there shall be annexed the affidavit of at least one of the signers thereto, to the effect that the said petition was signed in their own proper handwriting by all of the signers thereof Said petition or petitions shall be filed with the Secretary of State at least thirty days prior to the time fixed by law for the holding of said primary election The Secretary of State shall certify all of said names endorsed for nomination as aforesaid to the county clerk of each of the counties of this State at least twenty days prior to the time fixed by law for the holding of said primary election The county clerk in each county shall certify all of the names endorsed for the office of Governor filed with him pursuant to this act, to the clerk of each municipality in his county at least ten days prior to the time fixed by law for the holding of said primary election, specifying in said certificate the political party to which the person or persons so endorsed belong, and said municipal clerks shall each cause to be printed upon the respective primary ballots for each party, under the title "Candidates for Governor," the names of the persons so endorsed for nomination to said office, in addition to the other names to be printed thereon as required by law

21 The party voters in each primary shall indicate their choice for the candidates for said office in the manner now provided by the act to which this act is a supplement, and the board of registry and election in each election district in every county in this State shall canvass the results in the said primary election as to the nomination for Governor in the manner provided by the act to which this act is a supplement, and shall include the results of such primary election to the said candidates in the statements which they are now required by law to transmit to the municipal clerk, and the said municipal clerk shall forthwith transmit the said results to the county clerk, and the said county clerk shall forthwith transmit the said results in his county to the Secretary of State The Secretary of State shall forthwith canvass the returns as transmitted to him by the said county clerks, and the person having in the aggregate the highest number of votes as shown by such returns shall be the candidate of his respective party for the office of Governor In the event of failure to select a candidate for Governor of any political party by reason of two or more persons receiving the highest and the same number of votes, the chairman of the State committee of said political party shall select from said candidates one to be the party candidate for the office of Governor, and shall file a statement of such selection with the Secretary of State, and the person so selected shall be the candidate of the said political party at the ensuing general leection

sentative in Congress in this State, shall be nominated directly, without the intervention of delegates or conventions, at the primary elections held pursuant to the act to which this act is a supplement and the acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto

23 Not less than one hundred voters of any political party in any congressional district in this State comprising more than one county, may file with the Secretary of State a petition or petitions endorsing any member of their political party as a candidate for the nomination of said party to the office of Representative in Congress in said congressional district, and requesting that the name of the person so endorsed be printed upon the official primary ballot of such political party Said petition or petitions shall be signed in the manner and form provided for the signing and filing of nominating petitions under the act to which this act is a supplement, and to said petitions or one of them there shall be attached the acceptance of the person endorsed as required by said act All of the names of petitioners need not be signed to a single petition, but any number of petitions of the same purport may be filed, provided, in the aggregate the signatures thereto endorsing any one person shall be at least one hundred, and provided, that to each petition there shall be annexed the affidavit of at least one of the signers thereto, to the effect that the said petition was signed in their own proper handwriting by all of the signers thereof Said petition or petitions shall be filed with the Secretary of State at least thirty days prior to the time fixed by law for the holding of said primary election The Secretary of State shall certify all of said names of the persons so endorsed as candidates to the county clerks of the counties comprising the congressional district in question at least fifteen days prior to the holding of said primary election In any congressional district laid out wholly within a single county, the said petitions made out as hereinbefore provided shall be filed with the county clerk of said county The county clerk in each county shall certify all of the names endorsed for the office of Representative in Congress filed with him, pursuant to this act, to the clerk of each municipality in his county at least ten days prior to the time fixed by law for holding of said primary election, specifying in said certificate the political party to which the person or persons so endorsed belong, and said municipal clerks shall each cause to be printed upon the respective primary ballots for each political party under the title, "Candidates for Congress," the names of the persons so endorsed for nomination to said office, in addition to the other names to be printed thereon as required by law

24 The party voters in each primary shall indicate their choice for the candidates for said office in the manner now provided by the act to which this act is a supplement, and the board of registry and election district in every county in this State shall canvass the results of the said primary election as to the nominations for Representative in Congress in the manner provided by the act to which this act is a supplement, and shall include the results of such primary election as to the said candidates in the statements which they are now required by law to transmit to the municipal clerk, and the said municipal clerk shall forthwith transmit the said results to the county clerk Where the congressional district is wholly within the limits of a single county, the county clerk shall canvass the returns as transmitted to him by the various municipal clerks of his county, and the person having in the aggregate the highest number of votes for nomination for the office of Representative in Congress in the congressional district or districts comprised within said county shall be the candidate of his respective party for the said office Where a congressional district shall be composed of more than one county, the county clerk shall certify to the Secretary of State the results of said primary elections as to the office of Representative in Congress in each political party in that part of his county which forms a part of the said congressional district as aforesaid, and the Secretary of State shall forthwith canvass the results so certified by the said county clerks as to the office of congressman in each of such congressional districts, and the person receiving in the aggregate the highest number of votes within each congressional district shall be the candidate of his political party for the office of Representative in Congress from such district at the ensuing general election, and the Secretary of State shall forthwith certify the names of the persons so ascertained to have been nominated as aforesaid to the county clerk of each county, which in whole or in part shall form a portion of the said congressional district The said county clerks shall cause the names of the persons ascertained as aforesaid to be the party candidates for the office of Representative in Congress to be printed upon the official party ballots of said parties at the ensuing election as the candidate for said office In the event of a failure to select any candidate for Congress by reason of two or more persons receiving the highest and the same number of votes, the chairman of the congressional committee of the said

political party, if such committee is in existence, and if not, the chairman of the State committee of the said political party, shall select one of the said candidates to be the candidate of the party for the said office, and shall file a certificate to that effect with the Secretary of State, and the person so selected shall be the party candidate for the said office

25 The signature copy of the registry list or book shall be kept by the board of registry and election in each election district and used on election day as hereinafter provided Each board of registry and election shall have a poll-book for keeping the list of voters voting or offering to vote at the election Such book shall have six columns headed respectively "Number of voters," "names of voters," "residence of voters," "signature or statement number of voter," "signatures compared" and "remarks" Previous to each delivery of an official ballot or set of official ballots by the ballot clerk to a voter, the member of the board having charge of the poll-book shall enter therein in the appropriate column the number of the voter, in the successive order of the delivery of ballots to the voters, the names of the voter in the alphabetical order of the first letter of his surname, his residence by street and number, or if he has no street number, a brief description of the locality thereof The column headed "signature or statement number of voter" shall have printed above each horizontal line the words "the foregoing statements are true," and the voter shall, previous to the receipt of an official ballot, sign his name by his own hand and without assistance, using an indelible pencil or ink, below the said words in the poll-book After the voter shall have so signed, and before an official ballot shall be given to him, one of the members of the board of registry and elections shall compare the signature made in the poll-book with the signature heretofore made by the voter on the registration day, and if said signature is the same, or sufficiently similiar to the signature written on registration day, as to identify it as being written by the same person who wrote the signature on registration day, said member shall thereupon certify that fact by writing his initials after such signature in the column head "signatures compared"

26 If the voter on election day alleges his inability to sign his name, then one of the members of the board of registry and elections shall read the same list of questions to the voter as were required on registration day, both in the "signature copy" of the registry and the "identification statements for registry day," from a book containing said questions to be provided for election day, and to be known as "identification statements for election day," and said member shall write the answers of the voter thereto. Each of these statements shall be numbered, and a number corresponding to the number on the statement sheet shall be entered in the fourth column opposite the name of the said voter answering the questions. Each statement shall contain the same questions as the voter was required to answer on registration day. The questions answered on registration day shall not be turned to or inspected until all the answers to said questions shall have been written down on election day by said member of the board. Any person who shall prompt a voter in answering any questions provided in this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

At the bottom of each list of questions shall be printed the following statement: "I certify that I have read to the above-named voter each of the foregoing questions and that I have duly recorded his answers as above to each of said questions," and said member of the board who has made the above record shall sign his name to said certificate and date the same, and note the time of day of making such a record.

27 The comparison of the signatures of a voter made on registration and election days, and a comparison of the answers made by a voter on registration and election days shall be had in full view of the watchers, challengers or agents, and the right to challenge voters shall exist until the ballot shall have been deposited in the ballot-box. If the signatures of the voter or the answers to the questions made by the voter do not correspond, then it shall be the privilege of the watchers and callengers to challenge, and the duty of each member of the board of registry and elections to challenge, unless some other authorized person shall challenge.

28 In case a voter who signs his name is challenged, the board shall ask him the questions which they asked him on registration day and the answers to which appear on the signature copy of the registry book, and if the answers do not correspond, a note of said fact shall be entered in the column of the poll-book entitled "remarks." The said board shall determine the right of the voter to vote, if challenged, as now provided by law, after making use of, and giving due weight to, the evidence afforded by the said signature and the said statements.

29 The Secretary of State, at least thirty days prior to the time when they are needed for use, shall furnish to the county clerk of each county for the use of each board of registry and election a sufficient number of said "identification statements for election day," containing the questions hereinbefore referred to, and the certificate herein required to be signed at the bottom thereof, stitched or bound in book form, and the proper books and lists to carry out the provisions of this act concerning the registry of voters for the general election, and the expense thereof shall be paid by the State, and the county clerk shall deliver the same to the proper boards of registration and election in time for use at the registry and the general election, respectively

30 Hereafter it shall not be lawful for any district board of registry and election in the State to execute or deliver to any voter any paper in the nature of a transfer purporting to authorize the said voter to vote in any other election district than that in which he is registered

31 Hereafter, at the general election in the fall of each year, instead of separate printed ballots for each political party or group of petitioners having candidates to be voted for at such election, there shall be a single or blanket form of ballot, upon which shall be printed all the names of all the candidates of every party or group of petitioners having candidates to be voted for at said election

Every ballot shall contain the names of all the candidates whose nominations for any office have been duly made, as herein provided, and not withdrawn, together with the title of the office, arranged in tickets under the titles of the respective political parties or independent bodies as certified in the certificates of nomination The arrangement of the ballot shall in general conform as nearly as practicable to the following provisions

The lists of candidates of the several parties shall be printed in parallel columns, each column to be headed by the party name or other designation, in such order as the Secretary of State may direct, precedence, however, being given to the party which polled the highest number of votes for Governor at the last preceding general election for such officer, and so on The number of such columns shall exceed by one the number of separate tickets of candidates to be voted for at the polling place for which the ballot is provided, except as otherwise provided in this section

defined by light horizontal ruled lines, with a blank space on the left thereof one-fourth of an inch wide inclosed by heavier dark lines, which space (called the voting space) shall be of the same depth as the space containing the title of the office and the name of the candidate, provided, however, that when two or more persons are to be voted for for the same office, for the same term, and on the same party ticket, as for instance, presidential electors, the title of the office shall be printed in the first space only, which space shall be half an inch in depth, and the several spaces in which only such candidates' names are printed, and the voting spaces to the left thereof, shall each be one-fourth of an inch in depth between the horizontal ruled lines

On the right of each ballot shall be a column in which shall be printed only the titles of the offices for which candidates may be voted for by the voters at the polling place for which the ballot is printed Such column is designated as the "blank column" and in such column the voting spaces shall be omitted, but in all other respects such blank column shall be a duplicate of the political party columns upon such ballot In the space in such column above the heavy ruled lines shall be printed in great primer Roman condensed capitals the words "blank column," and below such words shall be printed in brevier capital type the following "The voter may write in the column below, under the title of the office, the name of any person whose name is not printed upon the ballot, for whom he desires to vote"

The heading of each party ticket, including the name of the party, and the circle above such name, shall be separated from the rest of the ticket by a heavy printed line and the circle above the name of the party shall be defined by heavier lines than the lines defining the blank spaces before the names of candidates, and such circle shall be surrounded by the following, printed in heavy face nonpareil type "For a straight ticket, mark within this circle", provided, however, that in the case of independent nominations, the ballot shall be so arranged that at the right of the last column for nominations, there shall be printed in one or more columns, according to the space required, having above each of the tickets the political or other name selected to designate such independent nominations The independent tickets occupying the same column shall be separated from each other by a solid black line one-eighth of an inch wide At the top of the column shall be printed in type known as great primer Roman condensed capitals the words "Independent nominations" Each column upon the ballot shall be bordered on either side by a broad solid printed line one-eighth of an inch wide, and the edge of the ballot on either side shall be trimmed off up to the border or solid line described

The ballot shall be so printed as to give each voter a clear opportunity to designate by a cross X mark in large blank circle three-quarters of an inch in diameter, above the name of the party at the head of the ticket for list of candidates, his choice of a party ticket, and desire to vote for each and every candidate thereon, and by a cross X mark in a blank inclosed space, heretofore designated as the voting space on the left of and before the name of each candidate, his choice of particular candidates

32 The official ballot shall be furnished at the election places as now provided by law There shall be furnished to each board of registry and elections twice as many official ballots for use of the voters in the polling places on election day as there are voters registered in said election district

33 It shall be the duty of the county clerk at least ten days preceding the general election day to furnish the municipal clerk of each municipality in his county a sufficient number of one-cent stamped envelopes to enable each of the said boards of registry and election in said county to mail one copy of the said official ballot to each voter who is registered in its district for said election, and said municipal clerk shall deliver the same at his office, on or before the Tuesday preceding the general election, to the clerk of each board of registry and election in the manner in which said municipal clerk is now required to deliver ballots for the general election, and it shall be the duty of each of said boards to prepare and deposit in the post-office, on or before twelve o'clock on Wednesday preceding the election day, a properly stamped envelope containing a copy of said official ballot, and addressed to each registered voter in the district of said board at the address shown on the registry, for which service each member of each board shall be paid the sum of two dollars, to be paid in the same manner as the present compensation of said officers is paid Each envelope shall have printed on the face thereof the words "Official Ballot" in large type, and in small type the words "if not delivered, return to , County Clerk, Court House ," and said clerk shall preserve the same if returned to him, for the space of thirty days, open to public inspection The ballots so mailed may be voted

The clerk of the board of registry and election shall post sample ballots in the polling place in his district and such other public places therein as he may deem best, so as to inform the public of the character and form of such ballot

The board of registry and election shall hand to each voter one official ballot as hereinafter provided Should any voter to whom any official ballot has been handed, spoil or render the same unfit for use, he may return the one so spoiled or unfit for use and obtain another from the board of election, but no more than two official ballots shall be furnished to any voter

The county clerk shall cause the ballots herein provided for to be printed in time for use as aforesaid, and the same may be sold only by him to any person requiring the same

34 Each board of registry and election shall receipt, by the signature of one of their members, to the county clerk for all ballots and stamped envelopes delivered to them by the county clerk, and shall return to said clerk all ballots and envelopes not mailed by them, with a sworn statement in writing signed by a majority of said board that all the remainder of said ballots and envelopes had been mailed, and no member of any board which does not make such return shall receive the compensation provided herein for said mailing service

35 The following method of voting shall be observed Each voter shall first give his full name and address to the member of the election board having charge of the poll-book, who, having ascertained that said voter is registered as a qualified voter, shall place in front of each name as they appear the consecutive poll number of each voter Thereupon the member of the board having charge of the ballots shall hand to the voter one official ballot No ballots shall be kept in the booth The voter shall thereupon retire into the polling booth

The ballot may be marked in one of two ways with a pencil having black lead To vote a straight ticket, make a cross X mark within the circle above one of the party columns To vote a split ticket, that is, for candidates of different parties, the voter should make a cross X mark before the name of each candidate for whom he votes If the ticket marked in the circle for a straight ticket does not contain the names of candidates for all offices for which the voter may vote, he may vote for such candidates for such offices so omitted by making a cross X mark before the names of candidates for such offices on another ticket, or by writing the names, if they are not printed upon the ballot, in the blank column under the title of the office To vote for a person not on the ballot, write the name of such person under the title of the office in the blank column Pasters may be used as now provided by law

Before leaving the voting booth the voter shall fold his ballot, and, after leaving the booth, he shall hand the ballot to the member of the election board having charge of the ballot-box The member of the board having charge of the registry list shall check the name of the voter thereon, and thereupon the member of the board having charge of the ballot-box shall place the ballot in the box The member of the board having charge of the ballot-box shall keep the ballot in full view of the voter and other election officer until it is deposited, and the voter may take hold thereof, with the member of the board having charge of the ballot-box, until it is actually deposited No official ballots (other than official sample ballots) shall be sold or distributed outside the polling-place, except those which are mailed by the election officers as herein provided When one ballot-box is filled with ballots, the board shall seal the same and provide another No envelope shall be used for enclosing the ballots on election day

36 At the close of the polls the board of registry and election shall proceed to canvass the vote substantially as now required by law, counting the votes for each candidate in accordance with the marks made upon the ballot as hereinbefore provided If a voter marks more names than there are persons to be elected to an office, or his choice cannot be determined, his ballot shall not be counted for such office, but shall be counted for such other offices as are properly marked "defective" on the outside thereof, and shall be preserved like other ballots

37 It shall be the duty of the board of freeholders in each county to pay to the county clerk and other officials charged with any duty under this act the cost and expenses of discharging such duty and the compensation therefor provided herein Said board of freeholders shall also cause the ballot-boxes used at general and primary elections to be fitted for the reception of the ballot herein provided for by enlarging the aperture in the top thereof so that such aperture shall measure three (3) inches by half an inch, and the said board shall remove any stamping or any marking devices If said board shall determine that said existing ballot-boxes will be insufficient to properly receive all ballots to be voted in the respective election districts in their counties, they shall provide additional boxes constructed with wooden tops and bottoms and wooden frames and glass sides and having inside measurements of eighteen (18) inches high, eighteen (18) inches wide, and eighteen (18) inches deep Each box shall be provided with a top that will cover the aperture and be held in place by not less than three (3) locks, which shall require three (3) separate keys to open, and not more than one key shall be allowed to any one member of the board

38 Hereafter, in each year wherein a Governor is to be elected, there shall be held by each political party a State convention Each of such conventions shall be composed of the several county committeemen of the respective parties thorughout the State Such conventions shall be held at the city of Trenton, on a day to be designated by the chairman of the State committee of each political party at least forty days prior to the holding of the primary election at which candidates for Governor are to be voted for

At the respective conventions so called, it shall be lawful for the delegates assembled to adopt and promulgate a party platform, and to take such other action as to said delegates may seem right and proper and not inconsistent herewith Such delegates in convention assembled shall elect from each county in the State a member of their party to serve upon the State committee for three years from the date of such election, and until successors shall be chosen

Congressional conventions for the adoption and promulgation of a party platform and other purposes shall be held in the respective congressional districts by each political party, at such places and upon days to be designated by the State chairman of each political party, at least forty days prior to the holding of the primary, at which candidates for representatives in Congress are to be voted for The delegates to each of such conventions shall be the county committeeman of the counties comprising each congressional district

County, city and all other municipal conventions shall be held annually by each political party, at a time and place to be designated by the chairman of the respective county committees, at least forty days prior to the ensuing primary election All such county conventions shall be composed of the entire county committee of each political party City and other conventions shall be composed of the county committeemen representing such municipal sub-divisions At such conventions, party platforms may be adopted and promulgated and such other action may be taken as to the delegates so assembled may seem proper and not inconsistent with the provisions of this act

At the several conventions in this section provided for, it shall be lawful for the delegates so assembled to ratify and endorse the candidacy for office of such person or persons as to said delegates shall seem proper

Each candidate for office may file with his nomination petition a statement endorsing and accepting, in whole or in part, either of the party platforms promulgated as herein provided for, which statement shall be filed at such time and with such official as is now provided for in the case of the nominating petition of such candidate

XIV

39 No person not authorized by the proper officers shall print or make any official or sample ballot provided for in this act, or prior to election day have in his possession an official ballot, without being such person as is authorized by this act to have charge or possession thereof

No person shall on any pretext carry any official ballot from the polling room on election day, except such persons as may by this act be authorized so to do

40 Any person who shall willfully violate any provision of this act, or who shall do any act herein prohibited, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor

41 If in this act no method is prescribed for carrying into effect any provision thereof, the method for so doing shall be the same as provided in the act to which this is a supplement, so far as may be for any proceeding of similar or like nature

42 Each section of this act and every part of each section are hereby declared to be independent sections and parts of sections, and the holding of any section, or part thereof to be void, ineffective or unconstitutional for any cause shall not affect the other section or part thereof

43 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

44 This act shall take effect immediately

And moved its adoption as a substitute for said Committee Substitute

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, and was read as follows

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, March 30th, 1911

To the House of Assembly

I herewith return, without my approval, Assembly Bill No 245, entitled "An act authorizing any borough of this State to appropriate moneys for the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding or settlement of the place where said borough is located"

It seems to me very unwise to authorize any community to saddle itself with debt in order to enjoy the pleasure of a celebration The very spirit of a celebration is spontaneity, and when a celebration is genuinely desired by the citizens of a locality, it can easily be paid for by private subscription Private subscription, moreover, will probably be limited to the sums actually needed, whereas appropriations out of the public treasury, or moneys borrowed, seem so easily obtained that the same care is not likely to be used in regard to expenditure

Respectfully,
WOODROW WILSON,
Governor

On motion of Mr Matthews the message was ordered received, and spread in full upon the minutes

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, as follows

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, March 30th, 1911.

To the House of Assembly

I herewith return, without my approval, Assembly Bill No 191, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled "A supplement to an act entitled "An act relating to, regulating and providing for government of cities," approved April third, one thousand nine hundred and two, which said supplemental act was approved March fourteenth, one thousand nine hundred and five"

While it may be that the requirements of the act to which this act is meant to be an amendment are unreasonable in respect of the length of time and the number of times bids are to be advertised for any contract for city work, it seems to me very clear that the reduction in the amount of advertising called for by this bill is too great

Respectfully,
WOODROW WILSON,
Governor

On motion of Mr Matthews the message was ordered received and spread in full on the minutes

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
SENATE CHAMBER,
April 5th, 1911

Mr Speaker

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has passed the following Concurrent Resolution

WHEREAS, The Public Utilities Commission Bill No 167, known as the Egan Bill, has passed the House of Assembly and is now before the Senate, and

WHEREAS, The Senate Committee Substitute Public Utilities Commission Bill, known as the Bradley Bill, has passed the Senate and is now before the House of Assembly for consideration, and

WHEREAS, Both the members of the Assembly and the members of the Senate are pledged to advanced legislation upon this subject and appear anxious to pass a public utilities commission act which will meet the demands of the people of the State of Jersey, and

WHEREAS, It is not probable that either the Egan Bill, so-called, or the bill known as the Bradley Bill will be accepted in their present form by both branches of the Legislature,

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Assembly be authorized and directed to each appoint forthwith a committee of three members who shall confer and consider both bills and that the conference committee be directed to report to the Legislature a public utilities commission measure which will meet the demands of the people and carry out the platform pledges of both political parties to the end that this Legislature shall not adjourn without enacting a comprehensive public utilities commission law

Mr Pikaart offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted

Resolved, That the privileges of the floor be extended to Mr John L Conklin, of the county of Passaic

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, and was read as follows

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
April 7th, 1911

To the House of Assembly

I return, without my approval, Assembly Bill No 342, entitled "An act to authorize any city in this State to appropriate money to be used for the expenses of any national convention or meeting of the International Association for the Prevention of Smoke to be held in such city"

This bill would authorize the financial authorities of any city in their discretion to appropriate, by resolution, the sum of five thousand dollars to pay the expenses of any meeting of the International Society for the Prevention of Smoke which might be convened in that city

This does not seem to be a proper public charge to be put upon the taxpayers of a municipality

Respectfully,

WOODROW WILSON,

Governor

The Speaker called Mr Meyer to the Chair

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, and was read as follows

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
April 7th, 1911

To the House of Assembly

I return, without my approval, Assembly Bill No 412, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'A supplement to an act entitled "An act concerning cities of the first class in this State, constituting municipal boards of excise commissioners therein and defining the powers and duties of such boards, and relating to the municipal affairs and departments of such cities placed under the control and management of such boards, and providing for the maintenance of the same," approved April eighth, one thousand nine hundred and three,' approved March twenty-ninth, one thousand nine hundred and four"

The act which this bill seeks to amend, it seeks to amend in only one respect, namely, the limitation placed upon the amount of the salaries to be paid license inspectors in cities of the first class

It seeks to remove both the minimum and the maximum limit. This seems to me to render the proposed law inadvisable

Respectfully,

WOODROW WILSON,

Governor

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, and was read as follows

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
April 10th, 1911

To the House of Assembly

I return, without my approval, Assembly Bill No 197, entitled "An act to provide for the legal commitment and reformation of wayward females"

I return this bill because I am informed by the Attorney-General that its title is, under the terms of the Constitution of the State, seriously defective, and also because the processes of commitment provided for in the bill seem to be inconsistent with constitutional guarantees as to methods of trial when individuals are deprived of their liberty

Respectfully,

WOODROW WILSON,

Governor

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, and was read as follows

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, and was read as follows

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

To the House of Assembly April 11, 1911

There are two subjects which have taken shape for consideration since the opening of this legislative session which are of such far-reaching importance that I take the liberty of calling your attention to them and of earnestly commending them to your very careful consideration

One of these subjects is the form of our system of public school administration The other is the reform of our city government

Since the opening of the present session the Senate committee, appointed two years ago to investigate the whole matter of the methods of our public school teaching and administration and the expenditure of money both by the State and the several localities of the State in connection with education, in the erection of buildings for educational purposes and in the supplying of the various physical means of conducting our public instruction, has completed its work and submitted to the Senate a very notable report

The report is singularly complete It is the result of an investigation which has attracted the attention of the whole State The method of the investigation, its thoroughness and its result have won applause on all hands No one can read the report now submitted without admiring the work which has produced it or without feeling that every recommendation it contains is sustained by reasons which are quite unanswerable

The Committee has introduced into the Legislature bills intending to give these recommendations effect in law, and I must say that it is my clear conviction that the measures represent reforms which are not only necessary, but exceedingly advantageous If carried into effect, they would put the educational system of the State upon a footing of economy and efficiency such as it has never known before

The State annually spends vast sums of money upon the schools, and yet has never had any means of making sure of how it was spent, with what wisdom, with what economy, with what careful attention to the objects for which it was intended to be used The State cannot be said to have had any legal arrangement in this matter which deserved the name of system The measures now pending before you will not deprive localities of their much prized autonomy and should not do so, but they will give the State opportunities to exercise a systematic supervision, and will afford means by which the public instruction of the State may be intelligently co-ordinated and directed It has seldom happened that reforms of this sort could be put upon a more solid basis than these changes will have, as sustained by the admirable report of the Senate committee I cannot too urgently commend them to your favorable attention I think the judgment of every person familiar with matters of this kind, if addressed to this matter without bias, must recognize both the necessity and the desirability of effecting the reforms suggested They are, without exception admirable

There is also pending before you a bill permitting the cities of this State, great and small, to adopt such changes in their organization of government as will enable them to simplify the processes by which they choose their officers, and thus concentrate responsibility in the interests both of purity of administration and of efficiency The bill is not mandatory, it is meant merely to afford the cities the right to determine whether they shall adopt the so-called commission system of government or not

Upwards of one hundred cities of the United States have already made this change in their organization I have yet to hear

of any instance in which those who advocated the change have been seriously disappointed in its results It has resulted in purifying and clarifying and perfecting every process of local government It has concentrated responsibility, has enabled the voters to exercise a real control and has stimulated efforts at economy and business-like re-organization

The reforms suggested for the adoption of the cities do not consist merely in putting their government into the hands of a small commission Back of this change and in addition to it are the initiative, referendum and the re-call, measures which enable the people to correct the mistakes of their governors, to adopt measures upon their own initiative, when necessary, and to recall from office unsatisfactory officials These have proved not only efficient, but absolutely necessary parts of what is now known as the commission form of government in the various cities of the country

There can be no doubt that these reforms are desired and even demanded by intelligent opinion in the cities of our State We have abundant evidence that there is an extraordinary body of opinion behind them The demand for them grows from day to day with extraordinary volume It does not proceed from unthinking agitation It proceeds from a very careful and thoughtful consideration of the problems involved and of the reforms which are necessary to meet and settle these problems The changes proposed are not experimental, they have been tested by abundant experience elsewhere, and I am sure that it would afford all thoughtful persons cause for serious disappointment if the Legislature should not avail itself of this opportunity to show itself allied in this matter, as in all matters, with the impulses of progress now so handsomely manifest in our bodies politic

Respectfully,
WOODROW WILSON,
Governor

Assembly Bill No 299, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to regulate the practice of medicine and surgery, to license physicians and surgeons, and to punish persons violating the provisions thereof,' " approved May twenty-second, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four,

Amend section one, line seventy-seven, by inserting after the bracket following the word "license", and before the word "provided", the following

"Or that in lieu of the diploma or license above mentioned he has received a diploma conferring the degree of doctor of osteopathy from some legally incorporated college of osteopathy in the United States, which college, in the opinion of the advisory committee of osteopaths, to be hereinafter provided for, was in good standing at the time of the issuance of such diploma, and shall further prove that prior to the receipt of such diploma he had studied osteopathy not less than three school years in some legally incorporated college of osteopathy in good standing in the opinion of said advisory committee"

Amend section one, line one hundred and three, by inserting after the bracket following the word "license", and before the word "upon", the following

"It is further provided, that osteopathic candidates for licensure under this act who have obtained, prior to July first, one thousand nine hundred and nine, a diploma from some college of osteopathy (approved by said State osteopathic advisory committee), which required a course of study of at least twenty months, before awarding such diploma, and have been in continuous and reputable practice since graduation, may be admitted to such examination upon the submission of satisfactory evidence of good moral character, and provided further, that osteopathic candidates for licensure under this act who have obtained since July first, one thousand nine hundred and nine, or who will obtain prior to July first, one thousand nine hundred and twelve, a diploma from some college of osteopathy (approved by said State osteopathic advisory committee), which required or requires a course of three years of nine months each, before awarding such diploma, may be admitted to such examination upon the submission of satisfactory evidence of good moral character, and further provided, that osteopathic candidates for licensure under this act shall, after July first, one thousand nine hundred and twelve, before being admitted to examination, have obtained a diploma from some college of osteopathy (approved by said State osteopathic advisory committee), which requires a course of four years, of nine months each, before awarding such diploma, and shall further submit, before being admitted to examination, satisfactory evidence of having complied with all other preliminary requirements of this act"

Amend section three, line twenty-one, by inserting after the period following the word "expedient", and before the word "if", the following "If the said applicant has been graduated from a college of osteopathy, he shall, instead of being examined in materia medica and therapeutics by said board, be examined in osteopathy by an advisory committee of osteopaths Any such applicant shall, however, be examined by said board in all subjects except materia medica and thereapeutics in the same manner and at the same time that other applicants for license to practice medicine and surgery are examined Such advisory committee of osteopaths shall consist of three members who shall be appointed by the New Jersey Osteopathic Society for the term of three years The conclusions of such advisory committee shall not be subject to review by said board"

Amend section eight, page ten, by striking out the words "but nothing in this act shall be construed to interfere with the religious tenets of any church", in lines twenty-one and twenty-two, and substitute in lieu thereof, "but nothing in this act shall apply to any person or persons practicing the religious tenets, faith or teaching of any church"

The following communication from the Attorney-General was read

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL,
TRENTON, N J, April 11th, 1911

Hon Edward Kenny,
Speaker of the House of Assembly, Trenton, N J

DEAR SIR—I am just in receipt of your communication of April 11th

The Resolution of the House of Assembly to which you direct my attention requests that the Attorney-General be respectfully requested to furnish to said House of Assembly his opinion as to the constitutional method of making apportionment of members of the General Assembly to the respective counties, as required by Article 4, Section 3, of the State Constitution

That portion of the Constitution just referred to, and which is controlling in the matter before us, reads as follows

"The General Assembly shall be composed of members annually elected by the legal voters of the counties, respectively, who shall be apportioned among the said counties, as nearly as may be, according to the number of their inhabitants * * * provided that each county shall, at all times, be entitled to one member, and the whole number of members shall never exceed sixty"

Your inquiry requests from me, in effect, an expression of opinion as to the principle which should govern in making this apportionment This inquiry may be most intelligently answered by illustration If we assume that the population of this State is two million and a half, we are at once presented with the constitutional provision that each county shall, at all times, be entitled to one member, no matter what its population may be There are, in fact, twenty-one counties in this State Under the constitutional provision just quoted, each county must have at least one representative in the House of Assembly, but there can be no more than sixty Assemblymen in all The method of apportionment, in my opinion, is first to ascertain which counties of the State are entitled only to one member This should be done by dividing the total population of the State by the total number of the Assemblymen The result of this division would indicate the value in population (so to speak), of each Assemblyman Such counties as have a population less in amount than the figures show by this division must, as I have already stated, be entitled to at least one Assemblyman

We now have for determination the apportionment of so many of the original sixty Assemblymen as remain This problem should be solved by first determining the actual population of all the counties to which only one Assemblyman has already been apportioned The total of the population, so ascertained, should be deducted from the total population of the State The number of Assemblymen yet to be apportioned should be used as a new divisor, and by their number the remaining population of the State should, in fact, be divided The result of this division would give the value in population of each Assemblyman for the final apportionment

The principle thus suggested would result, in my opinion, in making an apportionment to each county "as nearly as may be, according to the number of their inhabitants"

Very truly yours,

EDMUND WILSON,

Attorney-General

Messrs Macksey, Matthews, Davidson, Phillips and Thompson, constituting a committee appointed by the House of Assembly on January 16th last, for the purpose of investigating alleged frauds at the last general election in Atlantic county, made report in writing of their findings

The report, on motion of Mr Matthews, was ordered received and spread in full upon the minutes

On motion of Mr Matthews one thousand copies of the testimony and report were ordered printed

The following is the report of said committee

To the General Assembly of the State of New Jersey

The Committee appointed by the Speaker of the General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, by virtue of a resolution adopted January 16th, 1911, to investigate the general election held in Atlantic county on November 8th, 1910, respectfully submit the following report

The resolution authorizing the appointment of the Committee and empowering it to act is as follows

WHEREAS, Charges have been widely made of gross corruption at the election in Atlantic county on November 8th, 1910,

WHEREAS, An investigation by a citizens' committee has revealed that a fraudulent vote in the neighborhood of 3,000, was cast in Atlantic county at the election on November 8th, 1910,

WHEREAS, It has been freely charged in the public prints that the election machinery in Atlantic county has been in the hands of individuals who have themselves connived at the casting of a dishonest vote,

Resolved, That a committee of five members of the House of Assembly be appointed by the Speaker to make a thorough investigation into the truth of these and other charges, that said committee shall have power to sit during the session of the House of Assembly and after the adjournment thereof, to summon witnesses, to compel the production of books and papers, to appoint special counsel and other necessary officers and shall be instructed to report to this House of Assembly.

The members of the Assembly appointed by the Speaker in pursuance of the foregoing resolution are William P Macksey (Chairman), John J Matthews, William S Davidson, Mark F Phillips and Lloyd Thompson

The Committee began its investigation at a meeting held in Atlantic City on January 20th, 1911, since which time it has met weekly and has held nineteen daily sessions

Clarence L Cole, Esq, was appointed special counsel to the Committee, and acted as such until his appointment as Circuit Court Judge, when S Cameron Hinkle, Esq, was appointed and thereafter conducted the investigation on behalf of the Committee A stenographer was also employed to record the testimony taken before the Committee at its several sessions, a copy of which testimony in full is herewith submitted, and the Committee recommends that said testimony be printed, together with this report, and be considered a part thereof

The testimony so taken before the Committee was given under oath by the several witnesses, who aggregated in number over six hundred

The Committee finds from the evidence submitted in connection with a number of the polling precincts of Atlantic county, that the election laws were flagrantly disregarded, a large false registration was obtained, a formidable proportion of which was successfully voted on election day, by methods ranging from those which may be described as careless and negligent to those which can only be characterized as openly fraudulent and corrupt, confusion and disorder existed in a number of the polling rooms, challengers being interfered with in their work, and they and candidates were actually assaulted by election officials or others, votes were purchased, and repeating was indulged in, that these methods, coupled in many cases with the inefficiency of honest election officers, resulted in an illegal registration in twenty-six districts in Atlantic City, of which ten were covered quite thoroughly in the investigation, of approximately 1,000

names, and an illegal vote therein on election day of approximately 500, which, if it occurred in the same proportion in all of the districts of the county, would mean a total illegal registration in the county of about 2,000 names and a total illegal vote of about 1,000 Although testimony taken concerning the election in several of the smaller municipalities of the county near Atlantic City disclosed irregularities equally as startling as those that occurred in the city, it is probably not fair to conclude, in the absence of specific evidence, that such a proposition of illegal voting was maintained throughout the county, as the opportunities for effecting the same were not so great elsewhere as in the city of Atlantic City, where a large number of men are employed as help in the numerous hotels of the city, many of such men being more or less transient in their residences and many of whom may or may not be entitled to vote in Atlantic county It is because of the difficulty of disputing the right of this class of men in individual cases to vote that numbers of them are the more easily and readily used for the evil purposes of corrupt politicians under the present election laws of this State

Some of the more noteworthy offenses against the election laws which have been proved to the satisfaction of the Committee are as follows

In one precinct two challengers were given water which had been previously drugged, and were made so ill thereby that they were forced to abandon their work and to withdraw from the polling places The person alleged to be responsible for this act has been indicted by the grand jury of Atlantic county

In more than one precinct the judge of election would permit the depositing of ballots in the box before the questions involved by a challenge had been settled, and in numerous instances over the protest of the other members of the board of registry and election In another case, the judge wrote upon the registry book on election day the name of a man who had not been previously properly placed thereon, and, in fact, had no right to vote. The judge frequently interfered with the orderly methods of procedure as regulated by the election laws, usurped an authority not given him by those laws, and in a high-handed fashion

undertook to, and in many cases actually did, control the entire situation in his polling place One judge ordered a challenger arrested for merely refusing to withdraw a challenge, and called a policeman, who forcibly removed the challenger from the premises to the street Another judge of election twisted the ballots, before placing them in the box, in such a manner as to be able to identify them upon the count

In several precincts liquor was obtained and used in the polling places, both on registry day and election day, and in one precinct an election officer was intoxicated while on duty

Ballot-boxes were sometimes removed from the polling rooms, and in one case carried several blocks to the second floor of a hotel, during dinner hour, away from the view of the general public, against the protest of candidates and challengers

Challengers in various precincts had their books stolen by persons who were assisted to escape amid the confusion purposely brought about Policemen supposed to be on duty apparently made no proper efforts to prevent the escape of the offender or the repetition of the offense

Considerable evidence was submitted of the purchase of votes, some witnesses personally testifying that they had sold their own votes and explaining the system by which the vote buying was carried on The purchased voters were handed a ballot and upon emerging from the polls were given a slip of paper which was cashed by some person or persons stationed at a place not far distant from the polls Testimony was offered to show that hundreds of votes were purchased in a single district The Committee has furnished all the evidence of this traffic in votes to the grand jury of Atlantic county in order that the guilty parties may be punished

One of the Democratic election officers, who was employed by the electric light company holding the contract for the lighting of Atlantic City, was called from his home about three o'clock on the morning of election day by a man in charge of the department in which this officer worked, and through false representations concerning the condition of arc lights at a distant place, was induced to enter an automobile driven by the superintendent of the electric light company and was carried eighteen miles from the city, where he made his escape and walkd a considerable distance to a railroad, boarded a train and returned to Atlantic City an hour after the polls had opened, many votes having been cast before his arrival This election officer later testified that he had been discharged by the superintendent of the electric light company the day after he had sworn to the foregoing facts before this Committee

The false registration was obtained by placing on the lists numbers of men who had no existence at all and names of men from houses in which they did not live and from vacant lots and stores Evidence in this connection was secured by calling before the Committee as witnesses the persons who kept the lodging houses or resided at the private dwelling houses where the persons illegally registered were supposed to have lived In some instances the Committee found that some confusion might have existed because of a discrepancy and inconsistency in the numbering of houses on certain streets, but such instances were not any appreciable proportion of the total number of cases brought before the Committee Names of persons who did not live within the State were frequently found on the registry lists The Committee is satisfied that a large proportion of those illegally registered were prevented from voting on election day because of the publication of their names in the local newspapers prior to election day, together with a notice that persons attempting to vote illegally would be arrested and punished The Committee had considerable difficulty in proving illegal registration in many cases because of the destruction of the hotel registers and account books by the proprietors of the several hotels from which such persons were registered, the said proprietors being able to recall upon the witness stand but few of the persons registered from their places

The testimony showed that members of police and fire department and other city-employes were called upon to contribute to the Republican campaign fund upon the basis of a given percentage of the salary received, and that, although this money was paid in the form of a contribution, it was in fact

an assessment for political purposes by those in political control upon those whose positions were more or less dependent upon the good-will of those in control of the city government One policeman testified toward the close of the hearings that he was suspended from the force ostensibly on minor charges, but actually because he was supposed to have given aid or information to the Investigation Committee during the progress of the hearings

The testimony filed with this report will disclose numerous incidents of a nature similar to those to which reference has been made herein, but a recitation of which in detail is omitted in this report in the interest of brevity and the avoidance of mere repetition The evidence received publication at considerable length in the newspapers as it was taken from day to day

The Committee is satisfied that the misconduct and corruption hereinbefore set forth, whether or not it was in obedience to the instructions of the leaders of the political party in power in Atlantic county, at least could have been prevented by them, and to that extent they are chargeable with the responsibility therefor There is no doubt that a certain proportion of the irregularities could have been prevented by the proper attention of the members of the respective boards of registry and election to their duties There were numbers of cases where certain of the election officials appeared to the Committee to have been honest in their intentions, but, nevertheless, seriously unappreciative of their full duties and exceedingly negligent in their performance of them The Committee found registry and poll books with discrepancies in the totals of names, confliction in the certificates at the end of the books, certificates in various instances unsigned, ignorance of the election laws, and a general inefficiency Some of the election officers were apparently easily dominated by one member of the board, and, failing to assert their own prerogatives as their duty required, too readily submitted to the dictation of one member of domineering personality, who willfully violated the law during the progress of the registration and election In one instance two members of the election board actually left their post of duty, one of them returning several hours later and the other one not at all Men who had been placed on the board of registry and election for the first time yielded upon many questions to the members who had previously served instead of knowing or finding out the law for themselves

It is a fact developed by the evidence that numerous city employes of Atlantic City, holding their positions through the influence of the so-called party leaders, were actively engaged during election in the carrying on of many of the illegal practices which have merited not only extreme censure, but punishment by the prosecuting authorities The Committee has furnished to the grand jury a complete copy of the evidence taken before the Committee, for the purpose of assisting said grand jury in its deliberations over the cases brought to its attention through the testimony given before the Committee

A crime against the ballot is a crime against the liberties of the people, no really free government can exist where the choice of the people concerning who shall govern them is interfered with in any way, or their choice nullified by the criminal acts of those who would rule regardless of the will of the people Unless we can first have a free and honest election of those who are to make our laws and enforce them, all other efforts to secure and maintain our liberties must prove futile The purity of the ballot is a fundamental necessity of a democracy, not only should the franchise be protected by every conceivable method to insure a fair vote and a fair count, but there should be a vigorous prosecution and speedy and adequate punishment for everyone, be he of whatever estate, who attempts to debauch the machinery by which the free will of a liberty-loving people is expressed

The Committee believes that the reforms proposed in the election laws of this State, as embodied in the legislation now pending, will, if enacted into law, make impossible most of the irregularities and frauds brought to light by the recent investigation in Atlantic county The Committee, therefore, makes no recommendations upon that subject except to suggest the necessity of the immediate enactment of such legislation It may be further suggested, however, that adequate laws are of little avail unless faithfully and fearlessly enforced, prosecutions for violations vigorously conducted and punishment made swift and sure The agencies of the county government who have the power to indict, to prosecute and to punish for crime against the ballot have a grave responsibility resting upon them If it be found that such agencies neglect or refuse to perform their duties, or that they are actually controlled by those who stand deserving of conviction and punishment at their hands, then new agencies should be invoked to maintain the integrity of the law

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, April 15th, 1911

To the House of Assembly

I return, without my approval, Assembly Bill No 401, entitled "An act to amend 'An act relating to county detectives in counties of the first class', which act was approved April twenty-seventh, one thousand nine hundred and five"

I return this bill without my signature because it violates an essential principle of local self government by establishing a salary made mandatory by statute without conditioning the salary upon the consent of the financial authorities of the localities concerned

Respectfully,
WOODROW WILSON,
Governor

On motion of Mr Matthews the message was ordered received and spread upon the minutes

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, and was read as follows

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
April 15th, 1911

To the House of Assembly

I return, without my approval, Assembly Bill No 495, entitled "A supplement to "An act to provide for the paving, repaving, repairing and improving of paved streets and public places, and the reconstruction of sewers and the construction and furnishing of public school buildings in any city of the first class in this State, out of moneys received from liquor licenses in such city,' approved April ninth, one thousand nine hundred and two"

I return this bill without my signature, because it is mandatory upon the finance authorities of the cities of the first class with regard to the proportion of money they shall use out of a specific fund for a particular purpose It falls, therefore, within that large class of bills by which it is sought to govern the affairs of our cities from Trenton in particular cases, a class of measures which is not sustained by the best public opinion

Respectfully,
WOODROW WILSON,
Governor

Mr Matthews moved that the House be placed under call

Which motion was carried

Upon the calling of the roll, the following gentlemen appeared and answered to their names

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, April 19th, 1911

To the House of Assembly

I have the honor to transmit herewith the report of the Commission appointed by Concurrent Resolution of the Legislature to confer with the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company concerning the terms to which the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company would agree, with the approval of the Commission, as a basis for settlement and adjustment of all matters now in difference between the State and said Company, with regard to the abandonment of the Morris and Essex Canal

Respectfully,
WOODROW WILSON,
Governor

To the Honorable the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey

The Commission appointed by the Concurrent Resolution of the Legislature to confer with the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company respectfully report, that the annexed paper is a statement of the terms to which the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company agrees, and which this Commission approves, upon which a settlement and adjustment of all matters now in difference between the State and said company can be effected

By request of this Commission, Mr Charles Hansel and Mr M R Sherrerd estimated the value at the present time of all the lands and water rights which the State will receive by such adjustment

They also estimated the present value of the reversionary interest of the State in the "Little Basin" and the "Basin of 1867" at Jersey City, which said company will receive by the adjustment

Summary showing what the State will receive, and what the said company will receive by such adjustment according to said estimates

The estimate by Mr Hansel of the value of the lands and by Mr Sherrerd of the value of said lands and water rights is	$3,000,000
The said company is to release its right to the sum of $48,000, with interest from December, 1889, which by the recent decision of the Chancellor is to be paid by the State to the company, now amounting to the sum of	110,000
The said company is to pay the State the sum of	500,000
	$3,610,000

In addition to the conveyance of the lands and water rights in the annexed statement mentioned, and the said release and cash payment, the said company is to abandon the claim it has made, and which is now pending in the Supreme Court of the United States, to have the State refund the taxes which have been paid upon the canal property, which taxes amount, without interest, to $798,000

The said company will receive absolute conveyance of the reversionary interest of the State in the "Little Basin" and the "Basin of 1867," with the right, title and interest of the State, if any, in part of the canal in Jersey City, used by the said company as a way to said basins

By the lease from the Morris Canal and Banking Company the Lehigh Valley Company now has the right to possess and hold both of said basins, and said last mentioned part of the canal until 1974, the said company having paid the State the sum of $357,142, the full amount of rent reserved by the State for said basins until 1974

The estimate of Mr Hansel and Mr Sherrerd of the present value of the reversionary interest of the State in the "Little Basin" is	$950,000
The estimated present value of the reversionary interest of the State in the "Basin of 1867" is	1,800,000
	$2,750,000

This Commission also reports that the portion of the canal between the west line of the city of Paterson, and the point where the said canal is crossed by the southerly line of the right of way of the New York Bay Railroad, near Fiddlers' Elbow on the New York bay front in Jersey City, is to be sold by a commission appointed by the State, and on terms to be fixed by the Commission, and the money realized by such sale, after paying all expenses of the proposed settlement, shall be divided equally between the State and the said company

The Lehigh Valley Company is to extinguish and retire all the stock of the Morris Canal and Banking Company upon full compensation to be paid by the Lehigh Valley Company to the holders of the stock

The State is to pass an appropriate act for the abandonment of the Morris Canal and the disposition of its property in order to effectuate the proposed agreement

This Commission respectfully recommends that at this session of the Legislature a commission shall be appointed to draft a bill to be submitted to the next Legislature carrying into effect the proposed adjustment, whereby ample time will be given for its full and deliberate consideration

WOODROW WILSON,
BENNET VAN SYCKEL,
EDMUND WILSON,
Commissioners

Dated April 19th, 1911

MEMORANDUM OF TERMS upon which the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, lessee of the Morris Canal and Banking Company, and the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company of New Jersey, are willing to settle and adjust all matters now in controversy between said companies and the State, and which the commissioners appointed by the concurrent resolution of the Legislature, passed March 28th, 1911, are willing to accept and report favorably to the Legislature

1 The charter of the Morris Canal and Banking Company to be repealed and its property disposed of, and navigation on the canal abandoned, under terms and conditions hereinafter set forth, and the other terms of this settlement to be carried out under appropriate legislation to be passed

2 The debts of the Canal Company shall be paid by the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company and the shares of its stock shall be taken by the State (but at the cost of the said Railroad Company) by purchase or condemnation, upon just compensation made therefor, to the end that the State may cause said shares to be retired and extinguished at their just and full value, and the charter of said Canal Company to be effectually terminated

3 There shall be conveyed, transferred and acquitted to the State all that part of the Morris Canal and its feeders between the Delaware river and the west line of the city of Paterson, together with all the lands which the Morris Canal and Banking Company or its said lessee owns in connection with that part of the canal and feeders and also all water or other rights appurtenant thereto Said lands lie at Lake Hopatcong, Greenwood lake and other points between Phillipsburg and Paterson Also all land and rights in land and all water rights, including the rights of flowage and diversion in Lake Hopatcong Greenwood Lake, Green Pond, Stanhope Reservoir, Cranberry Lake, Bear Swamp and Phillipsburg, and other points between the Delaware River and Paterson Lands owned in fee simple by the said companies, or any of them, used in connection with the said canal or said water rights, are to be conveyed to the State in fee simple With respect to that part of the canal where the canal bed and other of said lands are not owned in fee simple, all the right, title and interest of said companies are to be conveyed to the State All of said conveyances of both lands and water or other rights are to be free and clear of any encumbrances placed upon said properties by said companies, or any of them The Lehigh Valley Railroad will reserve to itself the right to possess and use the surface of the canal lands in Phillipsburg for railroad and other purposes

4 The portion of the canal lying between the west line of the city of Paterson and the point where the said canal is crossed by the southerly line of the right of way of the New York Bay Railroad, near Fiddlers' Elbow, on the New York bay front, in Jersey City, shall be sold by a commission appointed by the State, on terms to be fixed by the commissioners, and the money realized from such sale, after paying all expenses of carrying out this agreement, shall be divided equally between the State of New Jersey and the said Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, and the State shall have the further rights and considerations hereinafter specified

5 The State shall grant and convey to the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, or its nominee, in fee simple, the right, title and interest of the State, reversionary or otherwise, in both the canal terminal basin in Jersey City, commonly called the "Little Basin," and the lands adjoining the same, comprising the grant of March 14th, 1867, commonly known as the "Big Basin," and shall convey also all its right, title and interest (if any) in and to all other lands of the Canal Company in Jersey City, including the right of way of the canal from the said terminal basin, westwardly to the point where the canal is crossed by the southerly line aforementioned of the New York Bay Railroad The conveyance of the basin of 1867, however, shall contain and be subject to the same terms and conditions in respect to preserving and maintaining a water basin and passage for public navigation contained in the legislative grant of 1867

6 In the sale of that portion of the canal property which lies between the west line of the city of Paterson and the point where the canal is crossed by the southerly line of the right of way of the New York Bay Railroad in Jersey City aforesaid, there shall be reserved to the State the right to lay and maintain water and sewer pipes beneath the surface

7 The Lehigh Valley Railroad Company shall convey, or procure to be conveyed, to the State, so far as its or the Canal Company's title goes or is hereafter acquired, the right to lay and maintain sewer and water pipes beneath the surface in and along the portion of the canal property extending from the point where the canal is crossed by the southerly line of the right of way of the New York Bay Railroad, eastwardly, to the Hudson river at the said terminal basin

8 Upon the delivery of a conveyance as aforesaid by the State to the said Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, or its nominee, the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company shall pay to the State the sum of five hundred thousand dollars, and shall release to the State its claim for the sum of forty-eight thousand dollars, with interest from December 20th, 1889, recently awarded to it by the Chancellor in the basin suit, and also release and forever waive any claim to exemption from taxation of the canal property and upon any property retained by it in this adjustment, and shall also release its claim to recover from the State the taxes heretofore paid on the canal property, amounting to $798,471, or thereabouts, besides interest

9 After the appeal from Chancery is perfected in the basin suit the appeal shall not be further prosecuted until the proposed settlement is disposed of by the Legislature, provided the same is disposed of at the next session of the Legislature, and the argument of the tax suit now pending in the Supreme Court of the United States shall also be deferred for the same time and under the same conditions

The Fifth Annual Report of the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles was presented, and on motion was ordered received and placed on file

The report is as follows

To the Legislature of the State of New Jersey

In compliance with the provisions of the twelfth section of the Motor Vehicle Act, which provides that I shall report to each Legislature the operations of the Motor Vehicle Department for the year ending on the next preceding thirty-first day of December, I am now making the following formal report, containing information which has heretofore, in most part, been supplied to the Legislature

THE DEPARTMENT—ITS DIVISIONS

The three divisions in which the work of the department under the statutes naturally divides itself have been maintained

The Registration division, whose work is similar to that of the State Department, has been maintained in connection with that Department, the clerical force of the State Department being drawn upon, as provided in the statute, for the maintenance of this division

The Administration division, which includes the police or inspector force of the department, has been under the immediate supervision of the Chief Inspector

The Judicial division has been in immediate charge of the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles

Following is a statement of the work of the Registration Division and the amount paid to the State Treasurer during 1910

1910	Registrations	Licenses	Fines	Interest on Bank Balance	Fees Deducted by Agents	Amt Paid to State Treasurer

Mr Matthews offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted

The members of the House of Assembly of the legislative session of 1911 have observed with admiration the sincere, genial and able conduct and method of the minority leader, the member from Passaic, not only throughout the legislative session now drawing to a close, but, as citizens of this State, we have also observed him during his career as a legislator when in the majority, and hence bearing the grave responsibility of legislation, we can therefore bear cordial testimony to his attainments as a statesman, lawyer and citizen, his unbounded congeniality compels us warmly to commend his social qualities, therefore, be it

Resolved, That it gives the majority members of this House, as well as the entire body, great satisfaction to record their appreciation of, and high esteem for, the Hon Thomas F McCran, minority leader of this House, and in witness of our good will and the unanimity of cordial concurrence in this extension of our good wishes to him we order this minute spread on the journal of the House of Assembly of the session of 1911

Mr McCran offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted, and ordered spread in full upon the minutes

The Republican minority of this House desires to record its esteem and high regard for the able leader of the majority who has completed twenty-five years of active public life under the scrutinizing gaze of an intelligent and critical public which he has served creditably and well His unfailing courtesy and fair treatment of the minority members have evoked words of commendation and approval, his knowledge of parliamentary practice and procedure is probably without parallel in our State annals, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we hereby testify our warm friendship and high regard for the Hon John J Matthews as a parliamentarian and hereby express our sentiments of respect and esteem for him as a man and a legislator imbued with honorable and exalted intentions at all times in the exercise of his office, and wish him God speed in his future career

Assembly Concurrent Resolutions.

Concurrent Resolution—By Mr Boettner—WHEREAS, The abuses and injustices of the present tariff law in imposing unnecessary and burdensome taxation on the necessaries of life have become intolerable to the people, and WHEREAS, These conditions have been largely produced by tariff-protected monopolies fostered by the existing tariff schedules, and WHEREAS, The people have demanded relief therefrom and a substantial reduction in the tariff on food, clothing and articles of necessity, now therefore Be it resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Legislature of the State of New Jersey hereby requests the President of the United States to convene the newly elected Congress in special session at the earliest possible moment to revise the existing tariff law and reduce or remove the unjust and unfair taxation from the necessities of life, to the end that the cost of living of the American people may be reduced to a normal basis, and be it fourther Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, signed by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Assembly, be forwarded to the President of the United States and to each House of Congress, forthwith—124

Mr McClean moved the adoption of the concurrent resolution received from the Senate January 30th last, as follows WHEREAS, The present methods of closing the Legislature at the final adjournment are unsatisfactory, owing to the great mass of legislation rushed through on the last day compelling the session to extend beyond the specified hour in the daytime and through the night until the following morning, causing disorder and confusion in the enactment of law, and WHEREAS, All attempts to bring improvement have failed owing to the congestion of the calendar upon suspension of rules, and WHEREAS, The right to introduce and consider legislation is legal and constitutional up to the hour of adjournment, therefore, the only solution of the problem would seem to be a mutual understanding between the two branches of the Legislature, now therefore be it Resolved, That the Senate of New Jersey (the House of Assembly concurring) appoint as a committee the President of the Senate, the leader of the Senate majority and the leader of the Senate minority, who, together with the Speaker of the House and the leader of the House majority and the leader of the House minority, shall constitute a committee, and that this committee be and hereby is empowered to confer together to devise a plan whereby the introduction of bills may cease a sufficient time before final adjournment by mutual understanding between the two branches of the Legislature in order that all measures before the Legislature may be considered in an orderly manner, and that a sine die adjournment may be had promptly on that day and at the hour fixed for adjournment—125

Concurrent Resolution—By Mr Matthews—Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the day and hour of the sine die adjournment be not fixed by concurrent resolution until all measures before the Legislature are properly considered and disposed of, without either the suspension of the rules or the holding of night sessions, and that when a sine die adjournment is agreed upon, it be had promptly on the day and hour fixed —126

Mr Boettner moved the adoption of the resolution offered by him on February 6 1911, as follows WHEREAS, The abuses and injustices of the present tariff law, in imposing unnecessary and burdensome taxation on the necessaries of life, have become intolerable to the people, and WHEREAS, These conditions have been largely produced by tariff-protected monopolies, fostered by the existing tariff schedules, and WHEREAS, The people have demanded relief therefrom and a substantial reduction in the tariff on food, clothing and articles of necessity, now therefore be it Resolved, The Senate concurring, that the Legislature of the State of New Jersey hereby requests the President of the United States to convene the newly elected Congress in special session at the earliest possible moment to revise the existing tariff law and reduce or remove the unjust and unfair taxation from the necessities of life, to the end that the cost of living of the American people may be reduced to a normal basis, and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, signed by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Assembly, be forwarded to the President of the United States and to each House of Congress, forthwith—155

By Mr B H White—WHEREAS, The National Association of Shell Fish Commissioners, representing seventeen States of the United States engaged in the cultivation of shellfish, will hold its annual convention in the city of Baltimore, Maryland, April 18th, 19th and 20th, 1911, and WHEREAS, It is fitting that the State of New Jersey, which stands third in the value of the products of shellfish, shall be fittingly represented at this convention, therefore, be it Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Governor be and is hereby authorized and empowered to appoint the Chief of the Bureau of Shell Fisheries, the several oyster commissioners, superintendents and biologist and such other persons actively engaged in or associated with the shell industry as he may deem proper, to represent the State of New Jersey at the said convention of the National Association of Shell Fish Commissioners—195, 362

Concurrent Resolution—Mr Matthews moved the adoption of the Substitute Concurrent Resolution offered by him on February sixth last, as follows "Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the day and hour of the sine die adjournment be not fixed by concurrent resolution until all measures before the Legislature are properly considered and disposed of, without either the suspension of the rules or the holding of night sessions, and that when a sine die adjournment is agreed upon, it be had promptly on the day and hour fixed" Which was offered as a substitute for a Senate Concurrent Resolution received by the House on January thirtieth last, and moved by Mr McCran on February sixth last, which Senate Concurrent Resolution is as follows "Resolved, That the Senate of New Jersey (the House of Assembly concurring) appoint as a committee the President of the Senate, the leader of the Senate majority and the leader of the Senate minority, who, together with the Speaker of the House and the leader of the House minority, shall constitute a committee, and that this committee be and hereby is empowered to confer together to devise a plan whereby the introduction of bills may cease a sufficient time before final adjournment by mutual understanding between the two branches of the Legislature in order that all measures before the Legislature may be considered in an orderly manner, and that a sine die adjournment may be had promptly on the day and at the hour fixed for adjournment"—225

By Mr Whitcar—WHEREAS, There is now pending in the Senate of the United States a bill known as the Sulloway Bill, providing that all veterans of the Mexican and Civil Wars shall receive a pension of fifteen dollars per month at the age of sixty-two, twenty dollars at the age of sixty-five, twenty-five dollars at the age of seventy, and thirty-six dollars per month at the age of seventy-five years, and that all such veterans wholly incapacitated shall receive a pension of thirty-six dollars per month without regard to age, and WHEREAS, The above bill passed the House of Representatives in Congress by a large majority vote, and it is manifest that public sentiment favors the passage of this just and patriotic legislation, therefore, Resolved by the House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey, the Senate concurring 1 That the Legislature of the State of New Jersey favor the passage of the said Sulloway Bill, and our Senators in Congress are hereby respectfully requested to vote for the same and in all proper ways aid in the passage of said bill into a law 2 That a copy of this resolution, authenticated by the Secretary of State, be immediately forwarded to the Senators from New Jersey in Congress—236.

By Mr Ford—WHEREAS, There is now before Congress a bill introduced by the Hon John J Esch, known as Bill No 30022, and WHEREAS, This bill will abolish the use of phosphor in the manufacturing of matches, thereby doing away with the loath-some occupational disease known as phossy jaw, therefore, be it Resolved (by the Assembly, the Senate concurring), To urge Congress to pass this bill before the close of its present session, and further Resolved, That the Secretary of State be instructed to forward to each of the New Jersey Congressmen a copy of this resolution immediately after its passage—249, 324

Concurrent Resolution—By Mr Boettner—WHEREAS, The rates now charged by the express companies for transporting parcels is far in excess of being reasonable, and WHEREAS, The people of the State of New Jersey demand more reasonable rates, now, therefore, be it Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Senators and Members in Congress from New Jersey be requested to vote for an extension of the parcel post, Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, signed by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Assembly, be forwarded to the Senators and Members in Congress from the State of New Jersey—249

Mr Leveen, Chairman of the Committee on Revision of Laws, reported the following WHEREAS, For more than a generation the Russian government has continually dishonored, rejected and arbitrarily disregarded the passport issued by the State Department of the United States (bearing the great seal of our country, and which vouches for the citizenship of him to whom it is issued), whenever the citizen by whom it is presented happens to be a Jew, and WHEREAS, This is in violation of its treaty obligations and the usage of civilized nations, and WHEREAS, Congress has, on repeated occasions, given emphatic expression to its resentment of the stain imposed upon our national honor, and the entire country has protested against this insult and humiliation, and WHEREAS, The citizenship of every American who loves his country has, in consequence, been subjected to degradation, and it has become a matter of such serious import to the people of the United States, as an entirety, that this condition can no longer be tolerated, be it Resolved (the Senate concurring) by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the President of the United States, the Department of State and Congress be respectfully and earnestly urged to take immediate measures, in conformity with the express terms of the treaties now existing between the United States and Russia, and in accordance with the law of nations to terminate such treaties, to the end that if treaty relations are to exist between the two nations, it shall be upon such conditions and guarantees only as shall be consonant with the dignity of the American people—250 323

By Mr Brodhead—Resolved by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the Senate and General Assembly of New Jersey favors the confirmation by the United States Senate of the agreement between the United States of America

Message from Governor Wilson, by the hands of his Secretary, calling attention to two subjects which have taken shape for consideration since the opening of this legislative session which are of such far-reaching importance that I take the liberty of calling your attention to them and of earnestly commending them to your very careful consideration One of these subjects is the form of our system of public school administration The other is the reform of our city government—1060

From the Attorney-General—Hon Edward Kenny, Speaker of the House of Assembly, Trenton, N J, Dear Sir—I am just in receipt of your communication of April 11th The Resolution of the House of Assembly to which you direct my attention requests that the Attorney-General be respectfully requested to furnish to said House of Assembly his opinion as to the constitutional method of making apportionment of members of the General Assembly to the respective counties, as required by Article 4, Section 3, of the State Constitution That portion of the Constitution just referred to, and which is controlling in the matter before us, reads as follows "The General Assembly shall be composed of members annually elected by the legal voters of the counties, respectively, who shall be apportioned among the said counties, as nearly as may be, according to the number of their inhabitants * * * provided that each county shall, at all times, be entitled to one member, and the whole number of members shall never exceed sixty" Your inquiry requests from me, in effect, an expression of opinion as to the principle which should govern in making this apportionment This inquiry may be most intelligently answered by

illustration If we assume that the population of this State is two million and a half, we are at once presented with the constitutional provision that each county shall, at all times, be entitled to one member, no matter what its population may be There are, in fact, twenty-one counties in this State Under the constitutional provision just quoted, each county must have at least one representative in the House of Assembly, but there can be no more than sixty Assemblymen in all The method of apportionment, in my opinion, is first to ascertain which counties of the State are entitled only to one member This should be done by dividing the total population of the State by the total number of the Assemblymen The result of this division would indicate the value in population (so to speak), of each Assemblyman Such counties as have a population less in amount than the figures show by this division must, as I have already stated, be entitled to at least one Assemblyman We now have for determination the apportionment of so many of the original sixty Assemblymen as remain This problem should be solved by first determining the actual population of all the counties to which only one Assemblyman has already been apportioned The total of the population, so ascertained, should be deducted from the total population of the State The number of Assemblymen yet to be apportioned should be used as a new divisor, and by their number the remaining population of the State should, in fact, be divided The result of this division would give the value in population of each Assemblyman for the final apportionment The principle thus suggested would result, in my opinion, in making an apportionment to each county 'as nearly as may be, according to the number of their inhabitants"—1103
