REPORT.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
OFFICE OF THE QUARTERMASTER GENERAL }
TRENTON, October 31st, 1881. }

His Excellency George C. Ludlow, Governor and Commander-in-Chief :

Agreeably to the provisions of "An Act for the organization of the National Guard of New Jersey," making it "the duty of the Quarter Master General to make an annual report to the Governor and Commander in Chief, of the number and condition of the arms and equipments belonging to the State, the number loaned out, in whose hands, and whether they remain under proper responsibilities, including in said return all camp and garrison equipage in his charge," I have the honor to transmit my report, showing the number and condition of the same in the State Arsenal on the thirty-first day of October, eighteen hundred and eighty one together with the issues of arms and equipments to the companies of the National Guard, and the receipts from all sources, at the Arsenal, since the date of my last annual report. The subjects are referred to under appropriate headings.

ARMS AND ORDNANCE.

The whole number of arms, the property of the State, serviceable, is nineteen thousand six hundred and twenty-five (19,625.)

Unserviceable, four hundred and fifty-eight (458.)

Total number of different calibres, twenty thousand and eighty-three (20,083.)

Whole number in hands of National Guard, three thousand four hundred and eighteen (3,418).

Number in the Arsenal, serviceable and unserviceable, sixteen thousand one hundred and fifty-six (16,156.)

Number received from military companies during the year, two hundred and seventy-seven (277.)

Number of cannon of different calibres, the property of the State, twelve (12) light. Napoleon guns, smooth bore; four (4) three and a half inch Ames guns; four (4) three and a half inch James' guns; eighteen (18) three inch Griffin guns; two (2) 12 pdr. Howitzers; eight (8) Gatling guns long, and two (2) Billingham and Requa batteries, all serviceable. Also the following unserviceable, five (5) 6 pdr. bronze guns; two (2) 6 pdr. bronze guns French; two (2) 4 pdr. bronze guns, English and five (5) 6 pdr. iron.

Number in hands of National Guard, four (4) light Napoleon guns, smooth bore, and four (4) Gatling guns complete.

RECEIPTS FROM UNITED STATES.

The property received from the United States during the year, consists of the following:

100 rear sights complete, model 79.

20 rear sight base screws.

2001 Bayonet scabbards, steel.

2001 Cartridge boxes, regulation.

2001 waist belts, regulation.

200 Ramrod stops, rifle, cal. 45.

100 Breech block caps, cal. 45.

200 Ejector spring spindles.

The balance on the third of October instant, was seven thousand three hundred and sixty-nine dollars and fifty-four cents ($7369.54) payable in ordnance and ordnance stores upon the requisition of your Excellency. These regulation accoutrements were drawn by reason of the State Military Board having adopted them in place of the webbing belts and leather scabbards worn by the National Guard. The waist belt is a plain black leather belt to which is attached the cartridge box and steel bayonet scabbard. This arrangement does away entirely with the two shoulder belts and waist belt webbing. The leather, belt cartridge box and steel scabbard were made by the U. S. Ordnance Department; plates and attachments were furnished by the State. A contract was entered into with Messrs. Riley and Lynch of Newark, for furnishing waist belt plates, and cartridge box plates and brass attachments for bayonet scabbards with letters N. J. embossed thereon. These plates were sent to the United States Arsenal at West Troy, where the accoutrements were made for issue to this State on account of quota. Twenty-one companies of the National Guard have been supplied with these accoutrements. In my next report I hope to be able to say that the entire force is furnished with them. They were worn by the Battalion that participated in the Yorktown celebration and added greatly to the soldierly appearance of the men. Their superiority over the old-fashioned accoutrements is unquestioned.

ANNUAL RETURNS.

The entire National Guard, with the exception of Battery A, is armed with the Springfield rifle, cal. 45. Annual returns have been received from fifty-one (51) companies—one (1) company failing to make the returns, required by law. The returns show generally the good condition of the arms and equipments. The force is composed of admirable material, the discipline and efficiency of the troops have improved, and the State has good reason to be proud of its National Guard. The total number of enlisted men uniformed, armed and equipped, as shown by the returns made to this office, is two thousand eight hundred and ninety (2,890), having in use two thousand seven hundred and twenty-six (2,726) Springfield rifles. The returns show the condition of arms and number of men in each company, as follows :

The total number of arms charged against these organizations, as enumerated above, is two thousand eight hundred and five (2,805), a loss of seventy-nine since the issues. The arms in possession of Company B, Third Regiment, being reported in "bad" condition, and no report being received from the Commanding Officer of Company A, Ninth Regiment, the property in possession of these companies has been ordered returned to the Arsenal, and an Agent of this Department directed to proceed to the respective armories and collect it.

EXPENSES OF NATIONAL GUARD.

By the following statement you will observe the total expenditures on militia account for the year are seventy-three thousand five hundred and fifteen dollars and twenty-two cents ($73,515.22), of which nine thousand and forty-five dollars and seventy-seven cents ($9,045.77) is chargeable to the purchase and repair of arms, ordnance, clothing and camp and garrison equipage; twenty-six thousand seven hundred and forty-eight dollars and thirty-four cents ($26,748.34) is for appropriation in lieu of armory rent by act of the Legislature; seventeen thousand three hundred and seventy-seven dollars and six cents ($17,377.06) paid for uniforms; nine hundred and seventy-six dollars and seventy-eight cents, ($976.78) for Arsenal; five thousand one hundred and twenty-five dollars and sixty-four cents ($5,125.64) for rent of rifle ranges, and the balance fourteen thousand and two hundred and forty-one dollars and sixty-three cents ($14,241.63) is for current expenses. The total expenses of the year are less than those of the year 1880, five thousand seven hundred and ten dollars and forty-seven cents ($5,710.47).

WINNERS OF TROPHIES AND PRIZES OFFERED BY GOVERNOR MCCLELLAN.

The names of the makers of the highest aggregate scores in competition for trophies and prizes offered by Governor McClellan at Brinton and Stockton Ranges are as follows; The winner of line officers' match at Brinton Range prize, one mid range rifle, was Capt. James H. Symes of the Ninth Regiment. The winner of field and staff match prize, one mid range rifle, at same range, was Col. George E. P. Howard, Inspector First Brigade. There was no competition at this range for prize offered in enlisted men's match. At Stockton Range there was no match for field and staff officers, and no officer entered for competition in line officer's match. The winner of the enlisted men's match, at this range, prize, a military rifle, was A. J. Milliette of Company C., Sixth Regiment. These prizes were procured by this Department by order of Governor McClellan, and forwarded to the winners early in the year, with the exception of Sergeant Milliette.

MARKSMEN'S BADGES.

Under the act of the Legislature, approved March 14, 1879, authorizing the Governor and Commander-in-Chief, upon the recommendation of the State Military Board, "to offer prizes for skill in marksmanship among the members of the National Guard," marksmen's decorations were furnished the different organizations for the number of marksmen in each, as appears by the report of the General Inspector of Rifle Practice, under date of November 1, 1880. The following statement will show the number furnished each organization:

STATE TEAM.

The prize won at Creedmoor at the annual meeting in September, 1880, the statue "Soldier of Marathon" was received and retained in the office of the Adjutant-General until the meeting in September 1881. No team was made up by the State to again compete for the prize, but a few officers of the National Guard interested in its retention volunteered to form a team at their own expense, which proceeded to Creedmoor for the purpose of entering competition therefor. They were unsuccessful. None of the expenses incurred for transportation, subsistence or ammunition have been refunded by the State and no claim for reimbursement has been presented to this office.

RENT OF RIFLE RANGES.

The amount paid during the year on account of rent of rifle ranges is five thousand one hundred and twenty-five dollars and sixty-four cents ($5,125.64). Of this amount three thousand six hundred and thirteen dollars and thirty-two cents ($3,613.32) was paid to the New Jersey State Rifle Association, as follow: two thousand dollars ($2,000) on account of rent of Brinton Range, and one thousand six hundred and thirteen dollars and thirty-two cents ($1,613.32) for constructing a new bank and ten short range targets, the construction of which was ordered and authorized April 17, 1879, and paid upon bills presented to this office, certified to by the Board of Control and approved by Governor McClellan. To the Stockton Rifle Range Association one thousand five hundred and twelve dollars and thirty-two cents ($1,512.32) has been paid under the contract made October 3, 1879. This amount was paid upon a statement and vouchers showing an accurate account of the expenses and receipts of the Association for the year 1880, which agreed with the books and vouchers of the Association presented to the Board of Control. The items of expenditures were properly and correctly stated, and the Board reported that the above named sum was necessary for the payment of the actual expenses, over and above the receipts from all other sources, of keeping the said range and property in the condition necessary to enable the State to use it as contemplated by the act in such case made and provided, and that the sum reported did not in the year 1880, exceed the sum of the excess of the expenses over the receipts, and recommended the payment of the same agreeably to the terms of the contract dated October 3, 1879, between said Association and George B. McClellan, Governor of New Jersey.

OFFERS FOR THE PURCHASE OF OLD AMMUNITION.

Late in December 1880 an offer was received for all the paper ball cartridges in stock, in all about two hundred and fifty thousand (250,000) musket, calibres .54, .58 and .69, and thirty-six (36,000) pistol. The party seemed very anxious to buy, commencing by offering three dollars ($3) per thousand and getting up to six dollars ($6). They again increased the offer the next day to six dollars ($6) for cal. .58 and nine dollars ($9) for cal. 69. This ammunition cost from fifteen to seventeen 50-100 dollars per thousand. It could not be put up for less than an average of twelve dollars ($12) per thousand. To break it up is worth, for cal. .69 nine 50-100 dollars, and the .58, eight dollars ($8) per thousand. There can be no use retaining in stock the cal. .69, having sold all of the .69 muskets. The cal. .58 may, as there is now in the Arsenal ten thousand (10,000) muskets cal. 58, become useful, in case of an emergency requiring the arming of the militia. It does not seem worth while to retain such a large quantity of this ammunition upon so remote a contingency. Governor McClellan fixed a price at which he would permit the sale, but it appeared to be too high for the parties. Thus the negotiation concluded and the ammunition remains on hand. It is as good as new. Paper ball elongated cartridges are no longer made in quantities and very scarce in the market, and an opportunity may soon occur for its sale to good advantage.

SURGICAL INSTRUMENTS IN POSSESSION OF THE NATIONAL GUARD.

In my annual report for the year 1878 a statement was furnished of the instruments issued to the Division, Brigade, Regimental and Battalion Surgeons of the National Guard. Letters have been written to these officers requesting them to report the condition of the instruments and medicine chests in their possession. They responded promptly, and from their reports the stores entrusted to their charge are in good condition. An abstract of these reports is submitted as follows:

Col. Edward L. Welling, Surgeon-in-Chief, "all in good order and ready at any time for use."

Lieut.-Col. George W. Terriberry, Surgeon First Brigade, "all of these instruments are free of rust and otherwise in good condition."

Lieut.-Col. Franklin Gauntt, Surgeon Second Brigade, "in perfect order, none are lost or damaged."

Major Aaron K. Baldwin, Surgeon First Regiment, "case with instruments mentioned is in very good condition."

Articles lost and used in the service, one pair scissors, needles, two silver probes, silk ligatures.

Third Regiment, instruments returned upon resignation of Surgeon.

Fourth Regiment. One (1) medicine chest.

Major Herman C. Bleye, Surgeon Fifth Regiment, "Instruments are all in good order, none needing repairs, and none having been lost. The medicine chest and contents are also in first-rate condition."

Major Henry G. Taylor, Surgeon Sixth Regiment, "in good order." One (1) Thumb lancet lost at Stockton Range, Aug. 1, 1881.

Major George H. Larison, Surgeon Seventh Regiment, Instruments returned.

Ninth Regiment and First Battalion, None on hand.

Second Battalion, Major Melancthon S. Ayers, Surgeon, "are in good condition. One (1) silver probe lost.

ACCOUNTS OF OFFICERS SETTLED BY AFFIDAVITS.

A detailed statement of the number and kind of property dropped from the accounts of officers of the National Guard will be found in Statement O of the appendix. These credits and allowances are made only in the customary manner by affidavits approved by the Commander-in-Chief.

ENCAMPMENTS.

No encampment of the National Guard by order of the Commander-in-Chief has been held during the year. Special Encampments without expense to the State have taken place as follows: Co. A, Fourth Regiment, at Asbury Park from July 16 to 21 inclusive, under command of Capt. Charles W. Laws, and the Second Battalion under command of Major James V. Moore, at Hohokus, from September 13 to 16. The necessary camp and garrison equipage was furnished these Encampments by your order, and promptly returned in as good condition as could be expected.

BRIGADE PARADES.

The parade of the First Brigade was held at Newark on the occasion of the unveiling of the Kearny Statue, December 28, 1880. The statue was unveiled amid the booming of cannon and the cheers and plaudits of the people. The parade was participated in by all the regiments, (with the exception of the Ninth) battalions and battery of the Brigade, and Company C, Third Regiment attached to the Second Brigade. It was throughout a magnificent acknowledgment of the worth of the dead soldier. The weather was most inclement, and the men suffered from the cold. Overcoats for the occasion were loaned from the Arsenal, as far as our limited supply would permit. There were not sufficient to equip the Ninth and at the last moment its orders were countermanded for want of them, being unable to procure them at reasonable price. The coats of the State were old, motley in shade, most ill-fitting and mixed infantry and cavalry pattern. New ones should have been purchased, as recommended in my last annual report. The subject will be treated more fully in another portion of this report. No parade of the Second Brigade took place during the year.

SALES AND AMOUNTS RECEIVED FOR LOSSES AND DAMAGES.

The amount received during the year from sales of ordnance stores and ammunition, and damages and losses of clothing and camp and garrison equipage, is five hundred and seventeen dollars and fifteen cents ($517.15), which remains in my hands to be deposited with the State Treasurer.

UNIFORMS.

Under the Act approved March 10, 1880, the following uniforms have been furnished the National Guard:

First Regiment,

| | | |
|---------------------|--|-----------|
| 300 coats. | | 500 caps. |
| 300 pairs trousers. | | |

Fifth Regiment,

| | | |
|---------------------|--|-----------|
| 350 coats. | | 275 caps. |
| 350 pairs trousers. | | |

First Battalion,

153 coats.
153 pairs trowsers.

153 caps.

Gatling Gun Company A,

60 caps.

These uniforms were made under the contract of 1880, by the contractor, Mr. William D. Cowan of Newark. The amount paid on account of uniforms is seventeen thousand three hundred and seventy-seven dollars and six cents ($17,377.06) one half of which is chargeable to the State Treasury, the other half charged against the appropriation due the company, as provided in the act of March 10, 1880.

GREAT-COATS.

The supply of great-coats being entirely inadequate to the wants of the service correspondence was opened on the 18th of November 1880, with the War Department of the United States, with a view to procuring a supply to meet present needs and to enable this Department to fill the requisitions of the First Brigade for the Kearney parade, from the Quartermaster-General's Department of the U. S. Army. A sample coat was received from Capt. Rodgers of the Quartermaster's Department at Philadelphia, which was submitted to the State Military Board for examination. The Board authorized the purchase of two hundred (200) of the coats for immediate use, which would have been sufficient to equip the Ninth Regiment on the occasion of the unveiling of the Kearney Statue in December last, at the price stated by Capt. Rodgers, which was two dollars and forty, centseach. Upon the approval of the action of the Board by Governor McClellan, negotiations were had with the Quartermaster-General of the United States, but he refused to sell them at the price quoted and fixed the price at five dollars and thirty-three cents each. As the coats were old style, faded and of an inferior quality and bad color, the offer was declined at this price, and our negotiations with the United States government in this matter came to an end. Subsequently the Board met and adopted a regulation overcoat and recommended the purchase of the cloth by this department. The cloth was made for the State under a contract dated July 13, 1881, with Messrs. Sullivan, Vail & Co., of New York city, they being the only parties who would furnish it after a sample giving color, weight and finish. The deliveries commenced August 24th, and the cloth gave complete satisfaction. Letters enclosing specifications, (which see in the appendix) were mailed to several of the manufacturers of military clothing of New York and Newark, asking them to estimate for making and furnishing the coats. The contract was awarded on the 26th of August for making seven hundred (700) coats to Mr. William D. Cowan of Newark, who had given the military authorities of the State entire satisfaction by the workmanlike manner in which he had made the regulation uniform now worn by the National Guard. The coats were made as per contract and delivered at the State Arsenal, and were those worn by our Battalion at Yorktown. The deliveries commenced on the 1st of October. In making these coats Mr. Cowan was necessarily hurried by the exigencies of the occasion. To his promptness and business qualifications much of the comfort of the men during the cold nights at Yorktown is due. The coats were well made, delivered in good season and appreciated by the officers and men.

SALUTES.

The usual amount of ammunition has been supplied to the Washington Headquarters Association at Morristown, for firing salutes during the year. The salutes fired during the year have been: January 18, at State House grounds in honor of the Inauguration of the Governor. February 22, at State Arsenal, National Salute. September 26, Salute at State Arsenal in honor of the memory of James A. Garfield, late President of the United States.

WASHINGTON CONTINENTAL GUARDS OF PRINCETON,

An independent organization, does not appear to be in a prosperous condition, and the arms are believed to be in bad order. The Legislature at its last session extended the period of the loan for two years, upon the filing of a bond. The bond has not been executed and filed. An inspection of the armory and arms has been ordered and upon its completion a new bond will be required, or the property ordered returned to the Arsenal.

GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC AND VETERAN ASSOCIATIONS.

By direction of Governor McClellan, and upon submission of proper affidavits by the several department commanders, of the Grand Army of the Republic, the charges against that organization for losses and damages to property and expenditures of ammunition during the Encampment at Deckertown, Skillman and Bordentown, have been dropped from the books of this department. The following statement will show the amount and kind of military stores charged against the several Posts of the Grand Army and Veteran Associations :

Phil. Kearny Post No. 1, Newark, twenty-four (24) muskets and accoutrements.

Veteran Association, Glassboro, fifty (50) muskets and accoutrements.

Veteran Association, Morristown, twenty-five (25) muskets and accoutrements.

Leonard Tice Post No. 49, Millville, twenty-five (25) muskets and accoutrements.

Union Veteran Union, Jersey City, fifty (50) muskets and accoutrements, and clothing, camp and garrison equipage.

The following statement gives the indebtedness of Posts for stores issued and not returned :

Henry Wilson Post No. 13, Jersey City, thirteen dollars and sixty-one cents ($13.61).

Kearny Janeway Post No. 15, New Brunswick, three dollars and seventy-five cents ($3.75).

Aaron Wilkes Post No. 23, Trenton, ninety-five dollars and nine cents ($95.09).

Efforts have been made to collect the amount due, without success, parties neglecting to pay any attention to our demands. If ever collected it will have to be realized by a suit against the parties upon the bonds.

LOAN OF BATTLE FLAGS.

By virtue of the concurrent resolution of the Legislature of 1880, colors were loaned to re-unions of veterans of the late war for the following stated occasions :

Colors of the Second and Eighth Regiments, Infantry, at the unveiling of the Kearny Statue, Newark, on the 28th of December 1880.

Colors of the Twelfth Regiment, Infantry, at re-union of Veterans at Woodbury, February 22, 1881.

Colors of the Fifteenth Regiment, Infantry, at Decoration Day ceremonies at Flemington, May 30.

Colors of the Fourth and Twelfth Regiments, Infantry, at Decoration Day ceremonies, at Trenton, May 30.

Guidon of Battery C, Artillery, at funeral of Major Christian Woerner at Hoboken, August 24.

Colors of Fifteenth Regiment, Infantry, at re-union of Veterans at Flemington, August 25.

Colors of the First Regiment, Cavalry, at re-union of Veterans at Cape May, September 8.

Colors of the Fourteenth Regiment, Infantry, at re-union of Veterans at Elizabeth, October 19th.

OFFICERS OF QUARTERMASTER'S DEPARTMENT.

The corps of officers of the Department has undergone a change during the year by the appointment of Lewis Perrine, Jr., as Assistant Quartermaster-General with the rank of Colonel, and the promotion of Deputy Quartermaster Spencer to Inspector General of Rifle Practice, with the rank of Brigadier-General. The vacancy occasioned by this promotion has not been filled. Both officers of the department, Assistant Quartermaster-General Perrine and Deputy Quartermaster Yard, have been on much active duty during the year, and their reports, submitted to me, are presented in the appendix, for information of the nature of the duties performed by them.

NEW JERSEY BATTALION.

General Orders No. 5, dated May 10, 1881, provided for the organization of a provisional Battalion to represent this State at the Centennial Anniversary of the siege and surrender at Yorktown, Va., on the 19th of October, 1881, under and by virtue of Joint Resolution of the Legislature approved March 17, 1881. The Battalion organized under this authority consisted of ten companies of three officers and sixty men each, with the full complement of field and staff, detached "from the whole body of the National Guard," and uniformed in the regulation dress of this State. Several of the companies so detached were from organizations not having the regulation uniform and they were furnished with it, thus securing uniformity. New helmets, great-coats and blankets were also provided, knapsacks, haversacks and canteens were furnished, lettered and numbered to correspond with the lettering and numbering of the companies of the Battalion. The duty of providing and supplying the necessary stores to equip, transport, quarter and subsist the Battalion, by your Excellency's order "in a manner creditable to this State and the occasion," devolved upon this Department. Much thought and reflection was given to this subject, to have it done in the best, cheapest and most satisfactory manner, and that our troops should in this respect appear on that occasion as well equipped and supplied as any organizations from other States, "creditabile to this State and the occasion." Correspondence was had with the U. S. Engineer Officers stationed at that place and charged with the management of the celebration, as to the best routes for transportation to and from that place, the quarters to be provided, the location of the camp ground, its condition and healthfulness, and the possibility of procuring subsistence stores, water, wood and fuel, and especially whether it was safe to depend upon that country for a supply of beef and fresh bread daily, and vegetables. We were advised to depend upon ourselves, that the place was very small, no quarters for officers or men; the inhabitants poor and principally colored, who might be relied upon to furnish the necessary labor; very few of them were the owners of teams, and we were advised that it would be best to provide ourselves with wagons for transportation, that it would be difficult to obtain forage and fuel unless at exorbitant rates. Having obtained this information we determined to send all necessary supplies by steam transport from this place, and for fresh supplies of beef and bread from Baltimore daily in quantities as required. The Assistant Quartermaster-General was despatched early to Baltimore to make the necessary contracts, which he did. These were supplied to the Battalion, of the best quality and ample in quantity, and gave entire satisfaction. The tents and camp and garrison equipage were forwarded from Trenton by the steamer "Franklin," with a full supply of Commissary stores, wagons and horses, and all under the charge of Mr. Abram Swan, with written instructions for the construction of the camp upon plans for the same furnished by this Department, upon such grounds as might be assigned for the purpose by the United States Quartermaster in charge. This steamer left Trenton Oct. 8th at 8 P. M. via the Delaware & Raritan Canal, Delaware River, Chesapeake and Delaware Canal and Chesapeake Bay and York River to Yorktown, Va. She did not not arrive there until Wednesday, the 12th, owing to the incompetency of the pilot or the manifest disposition of the Captain to prolong the voyage, and who in defiance of the earnest entreaties of Mr. Swan, went into harbor every afternoon and remained until the following morning. The owners and managers of the "Franklin" assured us that she would make the voyage in thirty-six to forty hours, instead of which she occupied nearly ninety hours. This delay was of serious consequence, involving the State in largely increased expenditures and very nearly defeated the object for which it was designed, namely, to have the camp completely constructed and ready for the troops upon their arrival. This was accomplished only after great exertions on the part of Mr. Swan and party, and expensive to the State in the necessity of employing a large number of persons and teams at advanced and extravagant rates, owing to the great confusion and demand for labor and teams. Mr. Swan is deserving of great credit for the enterprise and exertions in overcoming these difficulties as well as in the manner of the construction of the camp. On Monday, the 10th inst., Major James S. Yard, Deputy Quartermaster, was detailed under orders from your Excellency to report to the U. S. officers in charge at Yorktown, without delay, to supervise and direct the landing and transportation of stores and the purchase of such supplies as might be necessary for construction or otherwise, and with instructions to report daily to this Department the progress of the work under his charge. Major Yard was assigned to duty as Post Quartermaster during the encampment and charged with the transportation of the property to this place.

The steamer Franklin, on her return, left Yorktown, Sunday morning, October 23d, and did not reach this place until the evening of the 26th. This voyage was characterized by the same delays and tardiness as her outward bound voyage. She had on board twenty-one (21) men and five (5) teams under daily expense to the State, beside prolonging the period of her service to an unusual and unnecessary length.

Major Yard was absent and on duty a period of seventeen days. His duties were arduous and vexatious, but were performed with forbearance and alacrity to the satisfaction of the commandant of the Battalion and the State. His report in detail will be found herewith annexed.

TRANSPORTATION.

The routes for public transportation advertised to carry passengers at reduced excursion rates to Yorktown and return were an all rail route via Baltimore, Washington and Richmond, and two others by rail and boat via Baltimore, thence by Chesapeake Bay and York River lines. As to the former, by railroad, it was feared that that part of the road between Richmond and Yorktown could not be completed in time, and if completed, would be but a single track road without ballast, with its fills and cuts but freshly made, and therefore unsafe and insufficient for a large transit of passengers, seeking transportation to reach Yorktown. The steamboat routes from Baltimore, it was believed, would be taxed to their utmost capacity, and the managers were unwilling to undertake to transport the New Jersey Battalion, owing to the want of sufficient capacity of their boats, and to do it satisfactorily they would have been obliged to charter vessels especially for our accommodation. Therefore, after mature consideration and for safety and comfort of the Battalion, it was thought advisable to charter a sea-going steamer of sufficient capacity, staunch and safe to transport the Battalion from Baltimore to Yorktown and for the transportation of baggage and stores and the daily shipment of fresh supplies from that place to Yorktown. To attain this object, by your approval, the Assistant Quartermaster-General was directed to visit Baltimore, New York and Philadelphia, and to employ experts familiar with the navigating interests of those cities to secure the best and cheapest vessel for this service. The vessel finally decided upon was the "William Crane" of Baltimore, Capt. F. M. Howes, commander, one of the steamers of the Merchants and Miners Transportation Co., plying between Baltimore and Boston weekly. We were fortunate in this respect. We secured a staunch and capacious steamer, and a most accommodating, gentlemanly and capable commander. For further particulars you are respectfully referred to the report of the Assistant Quartermaster-General herewith annexed.

The Battalion having been fully equipped was ordered to leave New Jersey in time to reach Yorktown early on the morning of the 16th of October in order that it should be in readiness to participate in such of the ceremonies to take place from Monday until Friday inclusive. The railroad transportation was arranged for moving the battalion in two detachments from the several points on the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, where the several companies comprising it were located. The first detachment took a train at Newark, the second detachment took the second section of the train at Trenton at 9:30 A. M., arriving at Baltimore about 2.30 P. M. without detention or accident. The Battalion was marched across the city of Baltimore, where, from its splendid soldierly appearance it received the hearty cheers of the inhabitants. It was embarked on the steamer Wm. Crane about 5 o'clock, together with baggage and stores, officers, horses and grooms, wagons and servants, numbering over nine hundred persons. The steamer sailed about 6 o'clock and arrived at Yorktown early on the morning of the 16th. Here they met crowded wharves of small capacity, and were allowed only a short time to disembark the troops and a large quantity of stores. The wagon transportation taken with the Battalion was entirely insufficient. Men and teams were hired at extortionate rates, and the best that could be obtained for the transportation of the stores to the camp about two and a half miles from the wharf over a heavy and dusty road. The Battalion, in its march to the camp, suffered from the intense heat and dust. Many of the men were overcome by the heat and fell out of the ranks in consequence. This occasioned some sickness, but the men readily recovered after arrival in camp. This was the only sickness of any consequence that occurred during the encampment.

The Battalion remained at Yorktown until Friday evening, and after participating in all the exercises prescribed for the military, and receiving great credit for its good order and discipline, its handsome equipments, its full appointments in every particular and without a single instance of disorder, breach of discipline, without accident, sickness or death, save the one distressing case of Private Disbrow of Co. E. For particulars as to the case and medical attendance of Private Disbrow, you are respectfully referred to the report of the Assistant Quartermaster-General.

The Battalion embarked for Washington, arriving there on Saturday about 4 o'clock, where it made a creditable parade, and marched in review before the Commanding General of the United States Army and staff. It left Washington about seven in the evening in two detachments, on special trains arranged for their transportation to this State, where they arrived about daylight on Sunday morning, having been absent a period of eight days. It is remarkable that good fortune followed the Battalion throughout, that so little occurred to mar the pleasure and success of the campaign in Virginia, and that every officer and man can remember with pleasure and thankfulness; that they were so fortunate as to be participants in the honor and applause received by the Battalion on this memorable occasion, the Centennial anniversary of the battle and surrender at Yorktown. The work of turning in the stores issued from this Department for this occasion has commenced and is progressing at this date very satisfactorily, and it is confidently believed that the loss occasioned will be inconsiderable. The officers and men have taken unusual good care of clothing and equipments. The labor of this department incident to the equipment of the Battalion and the furnishing of Quartermaster and Commissary stores, transportation of the same and the construction of the camp taxed to the utmost the capacity of this Department and required the unremitting labor and vigilance of every person detailed for duty here and at Yorktown, and every one performed his duty to our entire satisfaction, and is entitled to the thanks of the State. The experience of this service has satisfied us, that for an occasion like this the Quartermaster Department is deficient in the number of staff officers available for duty. The employes of the Quartermaster's Department are civilians, and when detailed for duty in the field or camp, they are without uniform or rank which usually command not only respect but obedience from the soldier. Constant labor was demanded of those now in commission for several weeks, and I would therefore respectfully recommend that the staff of the Quartermaster General be increased by the appointment of one Lieutenant Colonel and four Captains. This will make an available staff of eight officers, not equivalent in number to the staff of a regiment, and no more than would be absolutely necessary in an emergency upon the ordering out of the National Guard for active service.

STATE WAR CLAIMS.

Your Excellency having called my attention to a claim of the State of New Jersey for thirty-nine thousand six hundred and two dollars and forty-five cents ($39,602.45) against the United States, for expenses incurred on account of her troops mustered into the service of the United States, as appears by the report of the Secretary of the Treasury to Congress under date of February 6, 1880, I submit the following report: Having been appointed by the Governor of this State, State Military Claim Agent, I am perfectly familiar with this claim. All war expenses were disbursed through this office, and every dollar received from the United States passed through my hands and was deposited with the Treasurer of the State. The only account of these transactions between the State and the general government is contained in the books of this office. The claim as originally filed with the Third Auditor of the Treasury for re-imbursement of expenses incurred under the act of Congress of July 27th, 1861, entitled "An Act to indemnify the States for expenses incurred by them in defence of the United States," which provided as follows: "That the Secretary of the Treasury be, and he is hereby, directed, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to pay the Governor of any State, or to his duly authorized agents, the costs, charges and expenses properly incurred by such State for enrolling, subsisting, clothing, supplying, arming, equipping, paying and transporting its troops employed in aiding to suppress the present insurrection against the United States, to be settled upon proper vouchers, to be filed and passed upon by the proper accounting officers of the Treasury," amounted to the sum of one million four hundred and thirty-five thousand, seven hundred and forty-four dollars and one cent ($1,435,744.01) of which the State received at different times between 1861 and 1879, the sum of one million, three hundred and ninety-six thousand, one hundred and forty-one dollars and fifty-six cents, ($1,396,141.56), leaving a balance of thirty-nine thousand six hundred and two dollars and forty-five cents ($39,602.45) as appears by the books of the Treasury Department of the United States. The books of this office show a balance of only twenty-two thousand and twenty-one dollars and ninety-two cents ($22,021.92), which is the true balance. This difference or discrepancy is explained as follows: In 1867 a claim of over seventeen thousand dollars was withdrawn from the Treasury and subsequently filed in an additional instalment, of which the principal part has been allowed and paid, the United States having failed to charge back against the State the amount thus withdrawn. The Third Auditor in 1875 made a review of the disallowed and suspended claims of this State upon full and particular explanations furnished by this office, in which he allowed this State the sum of ten thousand, eight hundred and eighty-nine dollars and twenty cents ($10,889.20), and which in his report he terms the last and final settlement between the State and the United States. In 1870, Congress by the act of July 12th repealed so much of the provisions of the act of July 27th, 1861, making an indefinite appropriation for the payment of these expenses. This act, however, does not bar the auditing of claims in behalf of State by the accounting officers, where the same have been presented before the 30th of June, 1874, but left it to a future Congress to provide for the payment of claims allowed by them by an appropriation based upon estimates submitted. No appropriation now exists for refunding to States expenses incurred in raising volunteers. It was undoubtedly the intention of Congress in passing the act, to pay every dollar of expenses incurred for war purposes to the Governor of any State or his duly authorized agent. Since the repeal the practice has been, that the Auditors at the request of States has taken up the claims, allowed such as were admissible under rules and regulations adopted by the Secretary of the Treasury for the settlement of State claims, and reported the allowances to the Secretary of the Treasury, who communicated the result to Congress, with estimates for the amount sufficient to liquidate the same by special appropriation. The Auditor will undoubtedly open the account for re-examination upon explanations furnished by this Department, but I believe that he will not allow any considerable amount of the claims as properly incurred for war expenses, unless there is some radical modification of the rules and regulations prescribed for the settlement of such claims. Whatever should be allowed, if any, can only be paid by special act of Congress, making a fixed appropriation for its payment. Every item of this disallowed account has been more than once explained in writing filed in the Auditor's office in order to show the object and necessity of the expenditures and its propriety. If not properly admissible under the regulations of the service, they were for the use of the troops, the comfort of the soldiers, or incidental to the service. Many of the vouchers are not in proper form, and the items of expenditure are without sub-vouchers as required. The amounts were contracted for and paid by inexperienced persons in the service of the State during the excitement and hurry of a state of war, and it could not be expected that men taken suddenly from civil life should be acquainted with the rules and regulations governing expenditures for recruiting and equipping troops for the service. In addition to claims filed with the Third Auditor, the State incurred expenses for arming and equipping her troops under special contracts, to the amount of one million, one hundred and thirty-eight thousand, two hundred and fifty-two dollars and twenty-nine cents ($1,138,252.29), which were audited and allowed in the offices of the Adjutant-General, Commissary-General, Quartermaster-General, and Second Comptroller and paid by the United States. The aggregate claims of this State against the United States of two millions, five hundred and seventy-three thousand, nine hundred and ninety-six dollars and thirty cents ($2,573,996.30) has been refunded to the State, with the exception of twenty-two thousand and twenty-one dollars and ninety-two cents ($22,021.92), which is less than one per cent. of the amount expended. The Third Auditor, upon the opinion of the Solicitor of the Treasury, ruled that no claim for State expenses could be audited and paid unless presented before the end of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1874. By this decision a small claim for amounts paid by this State subsequent to July 30, 1874, was ruled out as not allowable under the act of July 27, 1861. Also a claim for interest and advances made for the United States on war account. This decision was overruled by the action of the Secretary of the Treasury in 1880, based upon the opinion of the Attorney-General in admitting for audit and payment claims of the States of New York and Pennsylvania filed subsequent to June 30, 1874. Five States, Connecticut, New York, Kentucky, Illinois and Indiana, have filed claims for interest account for moneys advanced amounting to one million, seven hundred and eight thousand, nine hundred and forty-seven dollars and one cent ($1,708,947.01). It may be admissible to file these claims in behalf of the State for audit, to await any future action of Congress in disposing of the large amount of claims unpaid of the different States, for advances made on account of the late civil war. As bearing upon this subject, I give you an extract from the opinion of the Attorney-General of the United States, dated March 14, 1879: * * * * "The act of March 3, 1873, (17 stat. 500) provided: 'That no claims against the United States for collecting, drilling or organizing volunteers for the war of the rebellion, shall be audited or paid unless presented before the end of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1874.' This is the enactment intended to be embodied in the section 3489 of the Revised Statutes. * * * *"

"I am of the opinion that the limitation of section 3489, Rev. Stats., does not bar the auditing of claims in behalf of States made under the act of July 27, 1861, where the same have not been presented before the 30th of June, 1874. The language of the act of limitation, claims against the United States for collecting, drilling or organizing volunteers, must be understood, in view of contemporaneous construction and legislation, as descriptive of and referring to the class of claims, and that class only, for which provisions had theretofore been made in the appropriations 'for collecting, drilling or organizing volunteers.' As the war claims of States were, by the construction given to those appropriations, excluded from that class of claims (of which Congress must be presumed to have been aware), it is but reasonable to infer that in employing in the act of limitation in question terms of description exactly corresponding with those used in the appropriations, Congress meant that these terms should receive the same construction which had theretofore been put upon them. The words used are words which have acquired in the legislation a more limited sense than that which would be attributed to them if they were to be construed without reference to other legislation. They do not therefore impose a limitation upon the war claims of States. The question presented is undoubtedly one of much embarrassment and difficulty, upon which the officers of the Treasury and of the War Department have differed. There is now no appropriation available to meet these State war claims, and it will be hereafter for Congress to determine whether it will make such appropriation. The result to which I arrive is, however, entirely satisfactory to my mind, and I deem it the duty of the administrative officers of the War Department and the accounting officers of the Treasury to proceed with the examination and auditing of these claims in order that proper estimates may hereafter be submitted to Congress therefor." * * * * *

STATE ARSENAL.

The expenses of the State Arsenal during the year have been nine hundred and seventy-six dollars and seventy-eight cents ($976.78), a decrease from the year 1880, of nine hundred and eighty-two dollars and thirty-five cents ($982.35). The principal portions of these expenditures are embraced in the items of fuel, two hundred and fifty dollars and two cents ($250.02), and new steam trap, tools and necessary repairs of machinery, four hundred and thirteen dollars and thirty-seven cents ($413.37). A new arsenal, designed and constructed with a view to the essential requirements of an arsenal, is greatly needed. The subject was fully commented upon in my last annual report, to which I respectfully refer your Excellency for a full understanding of the matter.

SOLDIERS' CHILDREN'S HOME.

The expenditures on account of this building have exceeded the expenses of the year 1880, in the sum of one thousand nine hundred and fourteen dollars and fifty-three cents ($1,914.53), the amount paid in the year 1881 being two thousand three hundred and eighty-one dollars and fifty-seven cents ($2,381.57). Of this amount the sum of one thousand seven hundred and seventeen dollars and sixty-five cents ($1,717.65) has been expended for mason and carpenter work, materials, painting and painters' supplies in necessary repairs to the building and resetting fences. The cost of fuel was two hundred and twenty-four dollars and seventy-five cents ($224.75). A few additional trees and shrubbery have been planted out.

OBSEQUIES OF PRESIDENT GARFIELD.

The assassination of James A. Garfield, late President of the United States, which will pass into history as an appalling calamity, is necessarily mentioned in a statement of the transactions of this department. The following order was received from your Excellency on the 20th of September :

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, September 20, 1881.

It is hereby ordered that in honor of the memory of the late President of the United States, the State Capitol be immediately draped in mourning; National flags to be displayed at half-staff. Major-General Lewis Perrine, Quartermaster-General, is charged with the execution of this order.

G. C. LUDLOW, Governor.

The building was neatly and appropriately draped in tasteful decorations of mourning by Mr. Swan and his assistants, the carpenters in the employ of the State. Accommodations were arranged with the railroad authorities by which a number of the staff officials were enabled to attend the funeral at Elberon, N. J., and Cleveland, Ohio, on the 21st and 26th of September. My duties in connection with the arrangement of transportation and subsistence stores for the Yorktown celebration called me to Baltimore on that day, and prevented me from being one of the funeral party at Cleveland, which was placed in the charge of the Assistant Quartermaster-General.

ACTING PAYMASTER-GENERAL'S ACCOUNT.

The state of this fund is the same as at the date of my last report, namely, a balance of one hundred and fourteen dollars ($114). Eighteen men remain unpaid, the amount due them being one hundred and eighty-nine dollars ($189).

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
OFFICE OF THE QUARTERMASTER-GENERAL, }
TRENTON, October 14, 1881.

SIR: Your duties in connection with the visit of the New Jersey Battalion to Yorktown "to participate in the ceremonies of the centennial anniversary of the siege of Yorktown," as Military Store Keeper will be those of Acting Assistant Quartermaster and Commissary of Subsistence.

You are instructed to leave Trenton this evening, the 14th, and superintend and direct, with the knowledge and assistance of Mr. Armstrong, the removal of freight and stores from the railroad station to the wharf of the transport at Baltimore. These stores are expected to arrive at Baltimore during the morning of the 15th, and all expedition will be observed in freighting the steamer before the arrival of the Battalion for embarkation to Yorktown. Upon the completion of this duty and the assembling of the Battalion upon the steamer, you with your assistants will take passage thereon for your destination. General Grubb, commanding the Battalion, will be in charge en route to Yorktown. Upon the disembarkation of the troops General Stryker, Adjutant-General, will be in charge. His orders will be observed until the return to Baltimore.

You are sufficiently versed in the duties of Military Store Keeper to need no detailed instructions for the issue and return of the stores. Issues will be made under the regulations governing the department upon invoices and receipts and consolidated provision returns approved by the commanding officer, and officers will be held to a rigid accountability for all stores.

To enable you to make prompt issues and convey stores to the camp you will call upon the detail under charge of Mr. Abram Swan for necessary co-operation and assistance. Tents will be struck on Saturday, the 22nd, and the Battalion return to New Jersey.

You are required to remain and collect all property of the State on the field. The labor of this service will be performed by Mr. Swan's party. All stores will be placed on the steamer Franklin, on which yourself, Deputy Quartermaster Yard, Mr. Swan and party will be conveyed home as soon as stores can be loaded.

All necessary expenses in the prosecution of the work assigned under this order will be paid by the disbursing officer.

Any disorder, or intemperance, or violation of orders on the part of men employed in this department, will be punished with prompt dismissal, without pay. Any instance of this kind will be reported to this office.

I particularly desire that neither you nor any employe of the department will come in conflict with the Federal authorities, but conform strictly to the rules and regulations of the Government.

Yours respectfully,

(Signed),

LEWIS PERRINE,

Quartermaster-General of New Jersey.

Subject: "YORKTOWN CENTENNIAL."

REPORTS.

Report of the Assistant Quartermaster-General.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
TRENTON, October 31, 1881. }

BREVET MAJOR-GENERAL LEWIS PERRINE,
Quartermaster-General.

GENERAL: I have to report that in accordance with your verbal instructions on the 19th of August last I reported for duty, and was detailed to obtain a ship for the transportation of the New Jersey Battalion to and from Yorktown, Va., to enable the State of New Jersey, by this representation, to take part in the battle and centennial celebration of the anniversary of the battle and surrender of Yorktown October 19, 1881. Your letter of instructions conveyed to me two decided points, viz:

First, that the Battalion should go by rail to Baltimore, Md., and secondly, thence by water to Yorktown, Va. Many considerations entered into the selection and charter of a vessel for such important service. First of all, and above all, the question of absolute safety, or as near such as the vicissitudes of travel by water admit. Secondly, size, and thirdly, the cost. My instructions were to procure a vessel "staunch and seaworthy, of a size capable of carrying eight hundred men comfortably, and at the most reasonable cost to the State." By these particulars I was guided as far as practicable. On the 22nd of August Philadelphia was visited, and inquiries were instituted there on this subject. The offices of the "Ericsson Line," "Clyde Line," and others were visited, and several vessels were offered. Among them the Thomas "Clyde," "Major Reybold," "Republic," &c., and the only one at all suited to the service was the "Thomas Clyde," and inquiries were made with a view as to her charter. The others were discarded for unsuitableness as to size and seaworthiness. On the following day I went to Baltimore, Md., and began search there on this subject. The results of this visit were conveyed to you in a report dated Trenton, N. J., August 29, 1881, which was as follows:

GENERAL: In accordance with your instructions I proceeded to Baltimore on the morning of August 23rd, and spent three days in search of a steamboat of sufficient capacity and in other ways suited to the service required, that is, the transportation by water from Baltimore, Md., to Yorktown, Va., of the New Jersey Battalion on the occasion of the centennial celebration of the battle and surrender at Yorktown. I visited the offices and saw the managing officers of all the prominent steamship lines. Among which were the following: "Bay Line," "The York River Line," "The Eastern Shore Line," "The Merchants and Miners Transportation Company," &c., and several excursion boats belonging to individuals and other private corporations. The boats of the first three mentioned lines are all reserved for the regular travel between Baltimore and Yorktown during the celebration, which, it is presumed, will be very great, taxing their entire capacity. All the other boats that I saw were totally unsuited to the service from various causes and for various reasons, such as lack of capacity or seaworthiness, or not being fitted with stateroom accommodations, &c. I respectfully recommend the vessels of the "Merchants and Miners Transportation Company" as suited in all respects to the service. I saw Mr. George J. Appold, President of the above-named line, and learned from him the following particulars.

The "Merchants and Miners Transportation Company" is a line of steamers—passenger and freight—plying regularly twice a week between Baltimore and Boston. The vessels are propellers, iron, staunch and seaworthy, and have a tonnage of from 1,800 to 2,300 tons. They are fitted with stateroom accommodations for between sixty and seventy persons, and can easily accommodate one thousand more in the steerage and on the decks and between the decks. They can feed easily and well the whole number above mentioned, and many more if necessary. The terms demanded by Mr. Appold are as follows: Six hundred dollars ($600) per day, and meals 50 cents extra per man for a period of ten days. They did not care to charter one of their vessels for less than ten days, as that was the time required by them to make one of their trips to Boston, and they did not want their vessels to be at any loss of time. I also instituted another line of inquiry, to wit: whether they could not take the Battalion down to Yorktown on one of their regular trips, leaving them there, and on returning call for them and convey them back to Baltimore. This they could do and would at the following rates: Officers and guests (occupying the cabin), say sixty men, $4 per man; all others, $3 per man. This, however, would be inconvenient in many ways, for the Battalion would be obliged to leave Baltimore on the regular sailing days, which are not the days most convenient for departure or return. I respectfully recommend that an offer be made to charter one of the vessels of this line for eight days, with the privilege of two extra, at the above-named rate per day provided they shall prove upon inspection by a competent person to be all they were represented to me to be.

Very respectfully,

(Signed), LEWIS PERRINE, JR.,

Colonel and Assistant Quartermaster-General, New Jersey.

I have only to add, by way of amplification and explanation, a few particulars which were omitted in the above report. In addition to the "Merchants and Miners Transportation Company," the officers of the "Baltimore, Chesapeake and Richmond Steamboat Company," and "York River Line," Captain Reuben Foster, manager, were visited with a view to one of the vessels of these lines. They would not charter any of their vessels at any price, as they would need them all to accommodate the anticipated travel during the centennial. The "Eastern Shore Line" steamers were impracticable both from size and the demands of their regular business. The "Bay Line's" regular business is very large, and for that reason they too declined to entertain the idea of a charter. Many excursion steamers were visited. The "Weems," &c., but were all unsuited to the service, and not seaworthy for so large a body of men. The result as above was my report recommending the vessels of the "Merchants and Miners Transportation Company." Having returned on the evening of the 25th, on the following days negotiations were resumed in Philadelphia for the "Thomas Clyde," which resulted in an offer to charter the vessel for $700 per day, the time to count from the time the vessel left her wharf in Philadelphia until her returning there. This would have consumed about twelve days, or eight thousand four hundred dollars ($8,400) for the charter. A verbal report of these facts was made at the time, and a letter from the owner of the vessel stating the above terms. This offer was held in abeyance. This practically exhausted the Philadelphia boat market. There yet remained the New York market. At this point, by your direction, the services of Captain H. F. Ayres, manager of the Stephens and Condit Transportation company of Newark, a practical expert in steamboats, were enlisted. The boats of this line—the "Magenta" and "Thomas P. Way" were inspected, but discarded on account of their size being entirely too small. New York was visited August 31st and September 1st. Negotiations had already been entered into with Mr. Arthur Leary, owner of the "St. Johns," a vessel in every way suited to our service, and beyond a doubt one of the finest vessels of her kind in that harbor. The United States Government had the refusal of the vessel, and finally after a few days' delay took the vessel at a price much in advance of that at which she could have been secured by this State. I cannot but express my regret that we should have been unable to obtain this vessel, so admirable was her arrangement in every particular. The offices were visited and the managing officers of all the prominent steamship lines interviewed. Among which were Captain Babcock, R. Cornell White, J. H. Starin, &c. The results of these investigations covering two days were as follows :

|---------------------------------------|---|---|---|---|------------------|
| "Stonington," | - | - | - | - | $1,500 per day. |
| "Narragansett," | - | - | - | - | 1,500 " |
| "Galatea," | - | - | - | - | 700 " |
| "Electra," | - | - | - | - | 700 " |
| The above managed by Captain Babcock. | | | | | |
| "Columbia," | - | - | - | - | $1,200 per day. |

Managed by R. Cornell White, who also offered us others of his vessels at various prices. These facts were reported, and the vessels recommended to you as of sufficient capacity and perfectly safe for the service, and they were held for consideration. By your direction, at this time, Captain Ayres was sent to Baltimore, Md., to inspect and report upon the vessels of the Merchants and Miners Transportation Company. Upon his return he reported that the vessels were in all respects as they had been represented to be, and equal in his opinion to the probable demands of our service.

On the 6th of September Baltimore was again visited with authority to charter the steamer "Wm. Crane" of the Merchants and Miners Transportation Company for ten days—October 15th to 24th inclusive—upon the terms and conditions stated in my report of August 29th, to wit: the vessel to be at the exclusive use of the State for that period, and to make such additional trips as might be necessary to transport supplies of fresh meat, bread, forage, fuel, &c. The company agreed to perform the additional service upon the payment by the State of New Jersey of the cost of fuel actually consumed, namely, one hundred and fifty dollars per trip. Before closing the matter the steamer "John Hopkins," of the same line and sister ship of the "Crane," was inspected, which inspection entirely satisfied me that, taking everything into consideration, the "Crane" was in all respects suited to our purpose. On the following day Mr. Appold, President, in behalf of the steamship line, and myself, in behalf of this State, agreed upon terms. Charter parties were drawn up and brought north on the next day, the 8th, for execution by this State. They were executed finally in the City of Baltimore, Md., on the 17th day of September, 1881, by the company. The admirable manner in which this vessel served our purpose more than realized my best anticipations. I want before leaving this subject to bear testimony to the uniform courtesy extended to me by the officers of this company and by Captain Howes, her commander. I am indebted to Captain Ayres for many valuable suggestions and assistance in the discharge of this duty.

During this visit to Baltimore, namely, September 6th, 7th and 8th, I was authorized by your direction to solicit proposals for fresh supplies, such as bread, beef, ice and vegetables, from dealers prominent in these departments of trade. The establishments of many such as were recommended were visited and proposals personally solicited. This service was completed on the 8th inst., and I returned to Trenton the evening of that date. The duty of assisting in the general work of this department devolved upon me, and the results of that labor are familiar to you as it was performed under your personal direction, and the time thus generally employed was from the 8th of September until the 6th of October. Prominent among the services performed were the arrangements for railway transportation to Baltimore, great-coat, helmet and blanket contracts. Especially was my attention by your direction directed toward the selection of a helmet of a style in accordance with the ideas of the State Military Board. Many were the styles suggested, but the helmet as adopted by the U. S. Army and as manufactured by Messrs. Raymold & Whitlock of New York City was recommended and finally adopted by the Board. During the time above named proposals for furnishing fresh supplies were received, and on the 6th of October I was authorized by a letter of instructions to proceed to Baltimore and award and execute the contracts. On the following day, October 7th, the contracts were awarded as follows:

Nicholas Tegges, contract for fresh beef at 10 1-2c per lb.

John W. Cruett, contract for fresh bread at 5c per lb.

W. M. Oler & Co., contract for ice at $4 per ton.

Baltimore Transfer Company, transfer of baggage and stores at $2.50 per load.

Contracts were executed in due form for bread and beef in each case substantially following the army standard. Arrangements were made with the York River Line to transport by freight our supplies to Yorktown each day, or whenever the "Crane" was not available for that purpose. All the minor details of the arrangements appertaining to the passage through Baltimore City of the New Jersey Battalion on the 15th of October were completed, and I returned to Trenton on the 8th of October. In this important work valuable clerical assistance was rendered by Mr. Armstrong of your department. On the 14th of October the following letter of instructions detailing me as chief quartermaster in charge of the transportation of the New Jersey Battalion and all the camp and garrison equipage, quartermaster and commissary stores attendant thereon from the State of New Jersey to Yorktown, Va., and constituting me your representative during the encampment was received by me.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
OFFICE OF QUARTERMASTER-GENERAL, }
TRENTON, October 14, 1881.

COLONEL LEWIS PERRINE, JR.,

Assistant Quartermaster-General, N. J.

SIR: You will proceed to Yorktown, Va., via Baltimore, on the 15th inst., and in my absence assume charge of the Quartermaster-General's department at the encampment of the New Jersey troops at that point, notifying me by telegram of your arrival.

You will report without delay to Colonel Craighill, U. S. Engineer in charge.

You will also report to General Grubb, Commanding New Jersey Battalion, and conform yourself to his directions and wishes.

Receive and obey all orders from the Adjutant General of this State.

Your first duty will be to make an assignment of quarters on the steamer "Crane" on your arrival at Baltimore. General Grubb being in command will of course have first choice. The other officers will be assigned quarters in the order of their relative rank in the service.

You will take general charge of horses, teams and carriages, and see that no improper or indiscriminate use is made of them. Give particular attention to the care of the horses.

Upon the return of the steamer "Crane" to Baltimore for military stores you will accompany it, leaving Major Yard Deputy Quartermaster in authority. Upon leaving Yorktown you will notify Mr. Armstrong by telegram as to the time of your probable arrival in Baltimore.

If possible have the steamer taken to Canton wharf to receive the Governor. First, see that stores for the "Crane" on that day are delivered from Trenton and from the department agent at Baltimore, and placed on board the steamer for transportation to Yorktown. You will conform in all respects to the rules and regulations governing the U. S. Troops, as prescribed by the officer in command, and preserve the most amicable relations in your intercourse with the U. S. Officers and Troops, and with the Officers and Troops from other States.

You will give your best attention to our troops and see that the subsistence and quarters for them be provided upon their arrival, and all reasonable requests upon the department looking to their comfort complied with, with all possible despatch.

Very respectfully,

(Signed),

LEWIS PERRINE,

Quartermaster-General.

On the evening of the 14th of October our Military Store Keeper, Mr. Sterling, Mr. Armstrong and two assistants were sent to Baltimore to attend to the transfer of the property through the city and the loading of the steamer. They received full written instructions in detail as to their duties. Early on the 15th I repaired to the depot and placed myself in communication with the Pennsylvania railroad officials at Jersey City and Philadelphia regarding the movement of the troop train. Our arrangements, as you know, proved satisfactory, and the train in two sections passed here at 9 and 9.30 A. M. respectively. Having left here on the limited express at 11:30 A. M. in special car containing general staff officers Baltimore was reached at 3 P. M. Upon my arrival at the Charles Street Depot the Battalion was observed drawn up in line, front facing the depot and about to move. They had arrived at 2 and 2:30 P. M., and a delay was here caused by the non-arrival of the horses for the field and staff, which had not yet been unloaded from the cars at the freight station at President Street. The column moved at 3:30 P. M. and marched down Charles Street to the foot of Long Dock, where the steamer "William Crane" was in waiting. I reached the vessel after my arrival with all possible despatch, and before the Battalion embarked personally inspected the property as loaded, and found that all the property, including horses, carriages, fresh supplies, 2,000 pounds beef, 2,000 pounds bread, ten tons of ice, wood, coal, &c., invoiced from your department had been properly loaded and stowed away, and that the ship was in all other respects prepared for the reception of the Battalion. The marching of the Battalion through the city received a most flattering ovation, which the fine appearance of the men fully justified. It arrived and embarked between 5 and 6 P. M., and a few minutes before 6 o'clock the steamer left her dock. Mr. Armstrong of your office remained in Baltimore as agent of the department, whose particular duty it was to inspect the beef and bread and attend to the shipments each day, and perform such other duty as from time to time necessity might indicate. Quarters for officers and men were assigned as nearly in accordance with your directions as practicable, and I personally saw that the men were as well cared for as was possible. Supper was prepared and served to all shortly after leaving. The number of men on board, including officers, privates, band and drum corps, quartermasters' and commissary department, cooks, waiters, grooms and servants, aggregated nine hundred men. The night was passed most uneventfully. The weather was clear and warm, in fact all that could be desired. The morning dawned clear and hot. Breakfast at 7. About 8 o'clock A. M. the vessel turned into the York River, and at 9 o'clock reached the Government wharf at Yorktown. Having disembarked Major James S. Yard, Deputy Quartermaster, who had been for some days on the ground, reported to me that the camp was ready, and directed me to its location. The weather by this time had grown intensely hot. Mr. Sterling, M. S. K., and myself, at once proceeded to the camp. The distance from the wharf to the camp was about two miles and a half, one half of which was through dust and sand ankle deep. The rest of the way was over field land of thin sod, which was soon worn through, underlaid with sand and covered with a dry or burnt up grass. Upon reaching camp it was found to be complete, and in company with Mr. Abram Swan, chief of construction party of your department, the camp was inspected in every detail, and the inspection proved satisfactory. Some slight digressions from the plan of construction as furnished by you had been rendered necessary by the situation and character of the ground. It was situated on an oblong strip of cleared land surrounded on three sides by a beautiful grove of trees, which afforded grateful protection to man and beast from the heat of the sun, as well as from the clouds of dust which every passing breeze turned up and whirled about. In this respect its location far surpassed that of any other. It was somewhat separate from the other camps, which circumstance was afterwards found to be a decided advantage. It was very near to the historic Moore House on the Temple farm, near the parade ground, grand and review stands. The water supply proved to be very good and abundant, there being two good springs of drinking water in the grove beside the Government pipe supply. In a word the situation of the camp was admirable, unequalled by any other, and its construction reflected great credit upon Major Yard and Mr. Swan. When the short time in which the work was accomplished, the limited number to do it was taken into consideration, the result was very gratifying. Another fact here occurs to me in passing, and is stated with a view to giving "credit to whom credit is due." This department was, as you are aware, lead to believe by the representatives of the U. S. Government that assistance in the work of construction would be rendered by them, as was the case of every other State there represented, and in several instances the whole camp being constructed by Government soldiers and employees. The Government did not do anything at any time for us, not only did nothing, but when requested by our representative, Major Yard, to lend us some assistance, be it ever so little, signified in unmistakable terms their unwillingness. In a word told us, "There's your ground, put up your own camp." From that moment New Jersey was independent of all contingencies, "put up her own camp," and rewarded herself by winning the prize away from pet organizations—fostered, cared for, and assisted by the national Government—"for presenting the best appearance in her encampment," as the letter of award decided. The camp amply rewarded our disagreeable journey to it. I attempted to report (as by your letter I was directed) to the U. S. Government representatives, but was unsuccessful in finding them. The wharf was reached in return at 11 A. M., and the Battalion it was found had just disembarked and were about to move. The heat by this time had materially increased, the thermometer standing at 100 degrees in the shade, and not a breeze stirring.

The Battalion moved about 11.30 A. M., and reached camp after such a hard march as has seldom fallen to the lot of citizen soldiers. A large number of men fell out of the ranks, prostrated by the heat and dust, and carriages and wagons followed, into which they were placed and carried to the camp. The number of such was variously reported to me as from forty to sixty, and all the circumstances taken into consideration, I am inclined to think the latter number not an exaggeration and approximately correct.

Immediately upon the disembarkation of the troops, all the men and teams available were employed in the work of unloading and transporting to camp the large amount of Quartermaster and Commissary stores brought down on the steamer. Very few natives, men or teams, could be obtained, as the day was Sunday and they had gone to their homes in the adjoining country for needed rest. The first to receive attention were perishable stores, such as bread, beef and ice, and they were transported to camp with all possible dispatch. This work was pursued faithfully and unremittingly until dark. The result was that most of the Commissary stores reached the Store House in camp that evening. There yet remained a large amount of Camp and Garrison, Quartermaster and Commissary stores, hay and straw, coal and wood, &c., &c. A large force of men and teams were put on at 5.30 A. M. on the following morning, and by evening of that day everything was in camp. All this property, together with the camp, was turned over to Major James S. Yard, Deputy Quartermaster, and by your direction, he was placed in charge, as Post Quartermaster. The labor of this transportation was accomplished under the greatest difficulties. The heat was very great, the road very heavy, the wagons small and of the most rude and primitive character, mainly ox-carts, and the natives slow and lazy. Then the loads were necessarily small because of a steep bluff en route to be encountered and surmounted. By your direction, the steamer returned to Baltimore for fresh supplies, immediately leaving Monday evening at 7 P. M., reaching there at 9 A. M. on the following day, Tuesday, the 18th. The supplies of beef, bread, ice, &c., were loaded and the vessel ready to sail at 1 o'clock P. M. About this time a telegraphic order was received from you to call, if possible, at Canton Wharf, Baltimore, on the return of the vessel at 3 P. M. for His Excellency, Gov. Ludlow and party, for whom arrangements had already been made, via the York River Line, by me. By delaying the departure one hour this order was complied with and the Governor and party were met and taken on board as requested. The return voyage was accomplished without accident and most uneventfully. The weather was pleasant, and the interesting and imposing ceremonies of Wednesday and Thursday were participated in by all. The Military Review was viewed from the Grand Stand, and, by invitation of Admiral Wyman, Commanding, the Fleet Drill and Review of the Navy, as there represented, was witnessed from the Flagship "Tennessee," from which a complimentary salute was tendered His Excellency, Governor Ludlow.

The only serious accident during the encampment was the maiming of Private Disbrow, Company E. The circumstances are known to yourself and the people of the State. He is now at Fortress Monroe, under charge of Major Page, U. S. A. Surgeon-in-Chief of the U. S. Military Hospital at that station, where he is receiving the best medical treatment and tenderest care, and his speedy recovery is confidently expected. On the 22nd inst. I mailed to Major Page, by your direction, a letter, of which the following is a copy:

Surgeon-in-Chief U. S. Military Hospital,

Fortress Monroe, Va.

DEAR MAJOR: You have in your charge, through the kindness and courtesy of Capt Turrill, Surgeon U. S. Army, Private Randolph Disbrow, Co. E, New Jersey Battalion, whose arms were blown off by the premature discharge of a cannon during the encampment of our Battalion at Yorktown, Va. I was present with the Governor of this State at the time of the accident. Captain Turrill at once tendered his services. I am directed by the Quartermaster-General to bespeak for young Disbrow your kindest offices and tenderest care on his road to what we hope will be recovery. Enclosed herewith you will find my check for fifty dollars, which you will expend for his benefit, in any way your judgment and the necessities of the case should dictate. I would suggest that he be provided with such delicacies as his enfeebled appetite and depressed system should crave. All bills for his maintenance and care will be paid, upon proper vouchers, by this department. I will thank you to keep me posted from time to time of his condition that I may convey to his stricken family any change for the better or worse.

Very respectfully,

LEWIS PERRINE, JR.,

Colonel and Assist. Quartermaster-General of New Jersey.

On Thursday evening the "Crane" returned to Baltimore for supplies, and I was then acquainted with the desire of the Governor that the Battalion should visit Washington on their return from Yorktown. A large amount of property, Quartermaster and Commissary stores, horses, wagons, &c., &c., were brought up and the shipment of it to the State Arsenal, Trenton, was accomplished on Friday morning. The "Crane" was ordered, by your direction, to return at once, which she did, to convey the Battalion to Washington. Having been obliged to remain in Baltimore to attend to the shipment of property, arrangements were made with the Railroad Co. for transportation from Washington to New Jersey, and also for the Battalion during its stay in Washington. Orders were telegraphed to Major Yard to remain in charge of camp and property after the breaking of camp, and to General Grubb commanding, report was made by telegraph of the arrangements for the transportation of the Battalion home. The troop train left Washington in two sections between 7 and 9 p. m., on Saturday evening, having however been arranged to leave earlier, which was rendered impracticable by the late arrival of the troops in Washington, they having arrived at 4 p. m. Between that hour and 7 p. m. the Battalion paraded and was reviewed by General Sherman, Commanding General of the U. S. Army, and staff. The Battalion received great applause for its soldierly bearing and marching and splendid appearance generally. It reached this State during the night. I left Baltimore on Saturday and reported to you in person that same evening, October 22, 1881. The Construction Party reached here, via steamer "Franklin," on the 20th inst., bringing with them all the Camp and Garrison, Quartermaster and Commissary property remaining after the breaking of camp. The vessel was unloaded with all dispatch and its contents conveyed to the State Arsenal. Immediately upon my return, under the direction of His Excellency, Governor Ludlow, I commenced the settlement of the accounts of the New Jersey Battalion, on account of the Yorktown Centennial, as Disbursing Officer, and at this date, am so engaged. Valuable personal assistance was rendered me in the discharge of my duty, by Mr. E. B. Sterling, temporarily of your Department, and Privates Phillips and Jouis of Co. F, New Jersey Battalion, on detached service, for duty in your Department. I am indebted, General, to you for assistance and encouragement in the discharge of these duties.

Respectfully submitted,

LEWIS PERRINE, JR.,

Colonel and Assistant Quartermaster-General of New Jersey.

Report of Deputy Quartermaster.

TO GEN. LEWIS PERRINE,

Quartermaster General of New Jersey :

GENERAL: In obedience to your letter of instructions dated and delivered to me in person at Trenton on the 10th inst., I proceeded to Yorktown, Va., via the Pennsylvania Railroad to Baltimore, and thence by the York River line of steamers, where I arrived on the morning of the 11th inst. At an early hour of the day I reported my arrival to Capt. L. C. Forsyth, U. S. A., Quartermaster in charge, and to Lieut. Commander H. C. White, U. S. N., Harbor Master, who kindly offered any information or assistance in their power to aid me in the discharge of my duties. Col. W. P. Craighill, U. S. A., Engineer in charge, to whom I was also directed to report, was not upon the ground, the command of his Department devolving upon Capt. Forsyth.

I learned from Capt. Forsyth that the ground assigned to the New Jersey Battalion was located in the southeasterly corner of the camping grounds, about two and a half miles from the docks at Yorktown. The road between the docks and the camp ground was sandy, and in some places very heavy, and at the docks there was a steep bluff rising from the river to the plateau upon which the town and camp grounds were located. I also learned that the means of transportation to be had at Yorktown consisted principally of double and single ox-carts belonging to the negro farmers of the neighborhood; the vehicles being of the rudest character, while the cattle depended upon to draw them were of the smallest description, and unequal to any ordinary amount of labor as understood in New Jersey.

I found no depot at Yorktown for the supply of green vegetables, fresh meat or bread. A firm from Baltimore had erected a tent near the docks, and were making preparations to supply these articles, but I could gain no definite information in regard to their facilities from those upon the ground at the time. Subsequently I found a farmer, residing five miles distant, who agreed to furnish supplies of cabbage, turnips and sweet potatoes, with whom, by your advice, I made contract for such quantities of those articles as I deemed might be necessary. I also ascertained that no wood or coal could be purchased at Yorktown, and that no stabling for horses could be had. Upon the evening of the 11th I mailed to your address at Trenton full report of all the facts above stated.

At 9 o'clock A. M. of the 12th report reached me that the steamer "Franklin," having on board the camp equipage and stores for the New Jersey Battalion, had been spoken and was then coming up the river. This fact I immediately telegraphed to you. I had previously made effort to secure a place for the landing of these stores. There were but three docks at Yorktown—two of them belonging to regular lines of steamers and one erected for temporary purpose by the United States authorities. The latter was placed at my disposal by Lieut. Commander White, whenever the same was not required, by previous arrangement, for the landing of Government and other stores. The steamer "Jane Moseley," Capt. Nowell, was then lying at this dock discharging cargo. Capt. Nowell extended every courtesy to us, and when the "Franklin" arrived, at 10 o'clock A. M., we were permitted to land our two wagons and teams over his decks, and to commence unloading our stores in the same way at once. Later in the day, after the cargo of the "Jane Moseley" was discharged, the "Franklin" was allowed to come next to the dock.

Finding that we should be obliged every day to vacate the dock and that every day increased our liability to be excluded from it indefinitely, contrary to your instructions to discharge "only such stores as may be strictly necessary for the construction of the camp," I pushed the work of discharging the cargo, and landed upon the dock, and from thence removed to a convenient place on the shore adjoining the dock, all other stores and subsistence in the vessel. This gave me control of the stores necessary for the comfort and subsistence of the troops. Otherwise, had I allowed the stores to remain upon the transport, we might not have been able to land them when needed. Subsequent events appeared to justify this action.

As soon as the work of discharging cargo commenced, finding that the two wagons and teams would be inadequate, owing to the nature of the road and the distance to be traversed, to convey the property to the camp in proper season, I at once engaged such of the ox-teams as I could hire at a reasonable price, and employed them in the work of transportation.

Seeing this work in operation, with Mr. Abraham Swan, chief of the construction party, to erect the camp, I went to the camp ground. Capt. Forsyth detailed a subordinate officer, who accompanied us, and staked the limits of the front line of the ground assigned us. Finding it entirely too small for the plan upon which I was directed by you to lay out the camp, I appealed to Capt. Forsyth for a different location. He assured me that there was no other ground available, and that I would have to make the best of the area assigned. I telegraphed the facts to you in brief, and at once commenced the erection of the camp upon a plan adapted to the nature and extent of the ground. This ground had some advantages in its location. It was sheltered upon both sides and upon the rear by a thicket of small trees, which served to exclude the clouds of dust that afflicted other parts of the camping grounds; it was convenient to springs of excellent water in the banks of a stream on the rear of the camp; and while it was inconspicuous in location and restricted in the space allotted, as compared with the grounds assigned to States furnishing no greater number of troops, the camp was not subjected to the constant tide of strangers that swarmed elsewhere, and the smaller area was more easily and completely policed. In order to make room for the tents, we had to cut away a large angle of the thicket on the easterly side of the camp, and besides, to clear the ground of the trees and undergrowth cut down by the Engineer Corps before our arrival, and distributed in heaps throughout the premises. This involved the expenditure of a very considerable amount of labor. This evening I forwarded to you by mail a detailed report of our operations to the close of the day.

On the 13th we prosecuted the work of erecting the camp, unloading the cargo, and transporting the stores and property to the camp ground. During the forenoon one of the wagons brought from Trenton was temporarily disabled, and a disposition was manifested by some of the negro teamsters to be extortionate in their charges. For the present we could in a measure control the matter, but anticipating in the rush at the breaking up of the camp that we should be at their mercy, I telegraphed to you for more large wagons and teams, which would make us comparatively independent of the local transportation.

A number of the negro teamsters deserted the work on the 13th, but finding that we were not disposed to yield to their demands, on the afternoon of the 14th they came back, and with our own teams and their aid all the stores were removed from the landing and safely stored at the camp before dark on Saturday, the 15th. The erection of the camp was also completed on Saturday evening, and ready, in all its details, for the reception of the troops, and including a temporary stable for the horses of the officers.

On the 16th, with the steamer "Crane" bringing the troops, also came a large amount of quartermaster and commissary stores, including wood and coal for cooking purposes in camp, and forage for the horses. This was unloaded from the vessel, and mostly transported to the camp the same day.

This evening one of the horses belonging to the Quartermaster's Department was injured by a wound in the groin, whether by a bayonet, as was alleged and as appeared from the shape of the wound, or otherwise, could not be determined, although I made investigation of the matter as soon as it was brought to my attention.

From the 17th to the 21st employment was found for the teams in conveying from the dock to the camp the ration of fresh meat and bread shipped daily from Baltimore, and in hauling water, and in other work about the camp. On the 20th I commenced returning to the dock, as opportunity offered, such surplus stores as would not be required for the use of the troops in camp, and this work was continued throughout the day on the 21st.

Every day, from the day the first tent was pitched until the departure of the Battalion, citizens of our State appeared at camp seeking entertainment, constrained to do so by the limited means in the town for the accommodation of visitors, and the apparently questionable character of most of the temporary lodging houses. No such applicants were refused shelter or food. After the arrival of the Battalion, by order of Gen. Grubb, the hospital tents were supplied with cots and blankets for such visitors, many of whom availed themselves of the hospitality of the State thus afforded.

About noon on the 20th the members of "Aaron Wilkes Post No. 23, G. A. R.," from Trenton, on a tour to Richmond, arrived at our camp. As there was no other source of subsistence at hand, I conceived it to be a duty to invite them to partake of such food as we had cooked and in store. I, therefore, furnished all who applied, to the number of about one hundred, with a comfortable meal.

On the night of the 21st the troops broke camp. By order of Gen. Grubb, at a signal given by the firing of a gun, they struck their tents simultaneously and immediately folded and piled them under the superintendence of their company officers. This work occupied less than half an hour and greatly facilitated the reshipment of the property, as this work alone would probably have occupied the construction party nearly two days.

On the 22nd the work of transporting the camp equipage to the dock and loading it on board the "Franklin" was commenced. Again by the courtesy of Capt. Newell of the steamer "Moseley," our work was greatly facilitated. The work of transportation to the dock was easier, as the bluff was now in our favor, and enabled us to carry larger loads. We now had four large wagons of our own, and engaging the local teamsters at advantageous rates, we succeeded in conveying all the property to the dock by 6:30 o'clock, P. M., and before midnight it was all safely shipped on board the "Franklin." Having shipped by the steamer "Crane" on the night of the 21st a considerable portion of the property transported to the dock on the 20th and 21st, we were enabled to carry in the "Franklin," in addition to the camp equipage and stores, all the four teams and wagons.

There was a quantity of wood and a remnant of vegetables remaining after the camp was cleared, which I turned over to Capt. Forsyth for the United States Troops. A quantity of coal remaining I sold for the best price I could get, and have turned over the amount received for it in my account. These articles I did not think it advisable to attempt to carry away, both for want of time to do so and because the cost of transportation would probably have exceeded the value of the property. A quantity of lumber, which I had removed to the dock, I was obliged to abandon for want of room to stow it in the "Franklin." This, when I found I could not carry it away, I also turned over to the United States through Capt. Forsyth.

At 9 o'clock A. M. on the 23rd the "Franklin" left Yorktown and reached her dock at Trenton on the evening of the 26th. I accompanied her as far as Philadelphia, where I landed at 12:15 P. M., and took the cars to Trenton, reporting at your headquarters immediately upon my arrival there.

In closing my report I wish to bear testimony to the faithful services of the men assigned to duty in my department. Mr. Abraham Swan, chief of the construction party, and the men under his charge and the teamsters of the Trenton Fire Department, Smith Vanhart, James McCabe, Samuel McGill and Isaac Chapman, are deserving of much praise for their uniform diligence and the spirit and intelligence with which they discharged the duties severally assigned to them. And Mr. Thomas Rodman, the faithful and efficient cook of the Quartermaster's Department, is fairly entitled to his meed of praise for efficient services rendered. His duties were as arduous and as exacting as those of any other member of the party, and they were always as skillful and as uncomplainingly rendered.

I was indebted during the encampment to Lieut. Franklin C. Woolman, Quartermaster of the Sixth Regiment, N. G., for valuable clerical assistance. I have the honor to be Very respectfully yours,

JAMES S. YARD,

Major and Deputy Quartermaster.

FREEHOLD, October 31, 1881.

YORKTOWN, Va., TUESDAY, Oct. 11, 1881.

GEN. LEWIS PERRINE,

Quartermaster-General, N. J.

GENERAL: I have the honor to report that I arrived here this morning, having made all the connections by rail and boat.

As soon as practicable after my arrival I reported to Col. Forsyth, U. S. A. Quartermaster in charge, and went over the grounds assigned to the New Jersey troops. I also reported to Capt. White, U. S. N., who informed me that he had declined to act as Port Warden, unless requested to do so by the Governor of Virginia. He volunteered, however, any aid that he could render, and tendered the use of the Government wharf to land the stores, &c., from the New Jersey transport.

Col. Craighill, Engineer in charge, is not here.

I am advised by Col. Forsyth to construct stables for officers' horses in the brush at the rear of the camp. He recommends booths to be made of the small pines growing there, which may be used for that purpose.

I am also advised that transportation for the stores from the wharf to the camp can be had here if necessary.

The rates fixed by Col. Forsyth at present are :

| | | | | | |
|-------------------|---|---|---|---|----------------|
| For 2-horse team, | - | - | - | - | 40c. per hour. |
| " carts, | - | - | - | - | 25c. " |
| " laborers, | - | - | - | - | 15c. " |

The connection by rail with Richmond is not yet complete. Men are working on this end of the line, grading the road-bed, and it is claimed that they will be through in time for the celebration. The steamers of the Bay Line leave Baltimore at 7 o'clock every evening. The agent here says that the details in regard to this route (Bay Line & Norfolk) can be had at the ticket offices of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

Mails arrive here from the North daily at 9 P. M., and close for the North at 7 P. M. Arrangements have been made to provide water in all parts of the camp ground for washing purposes, by a system of pipes leading from a reservoir into which the water is pumped. I am advised that good springs for drinking and culinary purposes can be found near the camp.

I am informed (unofficially) that wood and straw in sufficient quantity will be furnished on the camp ground by the U. S. Government. Teams are now engaged in hauling wood and straw from the wharf to the camp, and have been so engaged all day. I will verify this information as soon as I can see Col. Forsyth.

A farmer in this neighborhood offers to deliver cabbage for $8 per hundred, sweet potatoes for 90c. per bushel, turnips at 50c. per bushel. A Baltimore man who has opened a market here also offers to furnish vegetables, but cannot give prices to-day. The former offers me beef at 10c. by the carcass, but I am told the beef raised here is not as good as Baltimore beef.

Your telegram received at 6 P. M. The camp ground is about two miles from the wharf. A portion of the ground assigned to New Jersey has recently been covered with a young growth of pine, which has been cleared off by the Engineer Corps that has been at work here for the last month. The ground is covered with a very light sod that will be tramped down in a day or two after the troops go on it. The soil is sandy, inclined to be dusty.—in short, it is Virginia soil. The road, for the most part, is sandy, but not heavy, except in spots. At the wharf there is a steep bluff to the plateau upon which the town is located. After that the road is level. Teams cannot load heavily on account of the bluff and the sand. I do not know how many teams you sent, and cannot estimate the work, the transport not having arrived at present writing. I have written elsewhere as to the teams here, prices, &c. They are very poor ones—both cattle and vehicles—mostly oxen (small ones), with an occasional mule team, and a mule and a horse. The vehicles are of the most primitive character—a pair of wheels with two poles, which form at once the siding for the cart and the shafts for gearing the ox or mule.

If the transport arrives to-night, we may possibly run all the stuff up to camp before the rush begins. We could have had plenty of teams to-day. The indications to-night are that we shall have plenty to-morrow. After that we shall have to take the chances. I do not think ground enough has been assigned us to carry out the plan of the camp accompanying my instructions. The officer in charge to-day said that we would have the same chance that was given to others. Certain regulations here by the Chief Engineer will necessitate a modification of the plan. I shall do my best to carry out the instructions on this point as fully as the ground assigned will allow.

At the rear of our camp ground is a grove of small pines or "brush," which will afford shelter for the horses as well as material for booths and stabling.

Referring to springs, mentioned elsewhere, when the camping party arrives I will have search made and a spring properly arranged by sinking a barrel or hogshead to supply the Jersey camp with drinking water.

Referring to page four I have since learned officially that wood and straw will be furnished on the ground by the Government. All the wood and straw at this place belongs to the Government, and whether the supply is sufficient or not, it is all that can be obtained, and circumstances must control its consumption. I think there will be a sufficient supply.

At 7 P. M., when I am obliged to close this report, I have no news of the steamer "Franklin." Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

(Signed),

JAMES S. YARD,

Major and Deputy Quartermaster.

NEW JERSEY CAMP, }
 YORKTOWN, Va., October 13, 1881, 6:30 P. M. }

GENERAL LEWIS PERRINE,

Quartermaster-General, New Jersey.

GENERAL: I notified you by telegraph of the arrival of the "Franklin" on Wednesday morning. She reached the wharf about 10 o'clock. A river steamer lay between the "Franklin" and the wharf discharging cargo, but through the courtesy of her captain we were enabled to land our wagons and teams over her decks, and also such material as lay first at hand. Later in the day the "Franklin" was allowed to come next to the wharf, and the work of discharging cargo advanced more rapidly. With our own, and such ox and mule teams as we could hire advantageously, we made good progress in getting the boxes and lumber transported to the camp. To-day (Thursday) the work has gone on more rapidly, but still, with the exception of our own teams, it is but slow work compared with transportation elsewhere, the conveyances here not being able to carry more than one-third of an ordinary load. We also laid out and staked the camp ground, and commenced erecting the tents to-day. To-morrow we shall be able to put the whole force on the work of constructing the camp, and, if no interruption occurs, will be able to finish it by noon on Saturday.

At noon to-day notice was served on the captain of the "Franklin" that he would be required to vacate the wharf in order to afford other vessels in waiting an opportunity to discharge cargo. We therefore landed upon the wharf all such stores as were necessary to the construction of the camp, and will haul them to the ground as we can. If our vessel has to haul off, we have secured on shore all the material necessary to the completion of the camp.

One of our wagons, the "America," was disabled twice to-day, and several hours were lost by the jamming of the axle in one of the front wheels, consequent upon the wearing away of the shoulder on the back of the axle. We shall endeavor to have it repaired if we can find a blacksmith. There is no hay to be had in this section. I understand, however, that plenty of corn-stalk fodder can be obtained in the neighborhood.

The drivers complain that their horses will not eat the oats. They want you to send cracked corn and bran for them. No ground feed can be had here. Very respectfully,

Your obedient Servant,

(Signed)

JAMES S. YARD,

Major and Deputy Quartermaster.
