Foreign Intelligence.

H A G U E, May 9.

IT is reported, that in the last assembly of the states of Guelders, it was proposed to conclude an alliance with France; that great debates arose on that subject; several being of opinion that they ought to proceed to a formal and reciprocal alliance, in consequence of the resolutions of Friesland and Groningen; and others, that they should be content with the treaty of amity and commerce, pursuant to the proposition of the province of Utrecht.

A M S T E R D A M, May 3.

We have received advice, that the king of Great-Britain has sent orders to his minister at Paris to sign the peace with the republick of the United Low Countries, on the same footing as the preliminaries have been signed; and that his majesty has nominated Mr. G. Crawford, formerly a merchant at Rotterdam, one of the commissioners of the crown, to conclude at Paris the treaty of commerce with the United States of America.

May 10. The letters from the Berbices, of the 1st of March, advise, that the colony had been left in the best order by the French, who had evacuated it the 22d of February, and that on the 24th the flag of the republick had been hoisted on fort Nassau.

U T R E C H T, April 28.

The government, and the whole province is in a state which engages general attention and curiosity. The people appear unanimous for reforming the abuses under which they have laboured for so many years. Happily the magistrates agreeing with the people, engage themselves to promote this salutary purpose.—They have issued a publication, inviting all the citizens, burgeses and inhabitants, to propose such plans and ideas as may seem proper for the reformation of government.

B E L F A S T, May 7.

The journeymen taylors of the city of Dublin have, a few days ago, combined for a most praiseworthy purpose, viz. Not to set a stitch in any goods for ladies' or gentlemen's wear, that are not of Irish manufactures, from the 5th inst. until the 15th of May, 1785, unless in the interim equitable protecting duties are imposed for the preservation of our woollen trade and starving artists. An example worthy of imitation!

On Tuesday evening last the Belfast volunteer company paraded for the first time, and are to meet every evening previous to the ensuing review:—We have the pleasure to assure our readers, that about thirty stout young men have joined that company within these ten days last past; a number of young men have also entered with them for the purpose of manning two brass six pounders, in addition to two already the property of the first company of this town.

Yesterday the 18th regiment, now quartered here, were reviewed preparatory to their marching for Dublin. They mustered near 300 men.

D U B L I N, May 6.

'Tis said the Lords are immediately to enquire into the alarming emigration of the thousands that are daily forsaking their native country, and flying to foreign lands for that support which has been so cruelly denied them, where Heaven first bid them into existence. It perhaps would not be amiss if their lordships would so far condescend, as to extend their researches into the present mode of letting lands in Ireland, and whether the tenant is sufficiently encouraged and protected from the tyranny and rapacity of his landlord. Their lordships may be amused with the idea, that no evils of that nature can exist in this land of humanity. The cottages ruined—deserted, unpeopled on the lands of Roebuck—around the hospital mansion of Templeogue, and the plains of Santry—proclaim aloud, "there is something rotten in the state"—and all those ruins of oppression—two to four miles from the house of lords of Ireland.

Extract of a letter from Edinburgh, May 5.

"On Thursday last a number of gentlemen met at the Tontine coffee-house at Glasgow, and agreed to join their fellow subjects throughout Scotland, in applying to the legislature for a more fair and equal representation of the nation in parliament, and also to extend the privilege of voting for members of parliament, so as to give the sense of the people at large in the choice of such members as shall be chosen for their representatives in parliament."

May 22. The important determination of the states of America in favour of this country, by an exemption from those imposts to which Great-Britain will be subjected, call for an unbounded return of gratitude on our part; and our first care, therefore, should be to improve this extraordinary indulgence, and render the commercial intercourse between Ireland and the states, as honourable and permanent, as beneficial, by a strict integrity in our dealings with that generous people, who have so highly distinguished us.

The court of his grace the duke of Rutland will shortly vie in splendour with that of our beloved sovereign at St. James's, as, besides a visit from the French king's brother, now in London, and many other personages of the first distinction, shortly to be paid here; that illustrious and gallant nobleman, the Marquis la Fayette, is hourly expected to arrive in the capital, being extremely desirous of attending at the several volunteer reviews throughout the kingdom.

P A R I S, May 4.

According to the last letters from Germany, they are apprehensive of seeing the flames of war break out in some parts of that extensive empire. The same letters add, that they are to proceed, next summer, to the election of the ninth Elector. The candidates who are most likely to be invested with that eminent dignity, are their Serene Highnesses the duke of Wertemberg and the Langrave of Hesse Cassel. The publick papers have announced, near two years ago, that the august Head of the Empire and the King of Prussia, intend to support the first of these Princes when this grand affair comes on.

L O N D O N, May 17.

Private letters from Bombay, by the Crocodile frigate, mention, that the capture of Cannanore had been loudly complained of by the Dutch governor at Cochin, that fort belonging to a Princess in alliance with the states, and who had joined them against the Samorcen (a title equal to that of king of the country powers.) It was pretended the fort in question was some years since built by the Dutch for the protection of their pepper trade, and that some of the Republick's subjects were in the place when it was taken, and made prisoners, though afterwards set at liberty by order of the commanding officer.

The Sphinx, commanded by M. du Chilleau, is arrived at Rochfort. The letters she has brought from India advise, that Tippo Saib still raises difficulties and delays to the definitive conclusion of the peace. That Prince said to General Macleod, "Englishmen and Frenchmen, the only point that divides you is the interest of our trade; it is our spoils that you contend for, and those attract you, because they enrich you. You have ceased to fight, because you have no more money. Return then to Europe, to economize the produce of your subsidies: You will afterwards come back to cut one another's throats amongst us, and tear from us our wealth and our productions."—This shews that the Europeans are well known on the three coasts.

May 18. More than four hundred of the gallant veterans of commodore King's squadron, who had withstood the shock of five severe actions with Monsieur Suffrein, died in ten weeks after the squadron left Madras, and sixteen hundred were sick when it reached the Cape.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman at Antwerp, to his friend in London.

"Of all the Princes in Europe, none seem more steadily to promote the happiness of their subjects than the Emperor. In all his schemes and projects he is cautious and deliberate, but resolute and persevering: He seems determined to restore Antwerp to its ancient splendour, when it was the emporium of the European continent, though lately celebrated only for its convents and nunneries, its pictures, tapestry and thread lace shops, &c. About 200 years since, the Dutch taking advantage of the weakness in the Austrian government, sunk several large ships laden with stones in the mouth of the Scheldt, the river which comes up to this city; and in 1584 they built Fort Lillo, as if to support their intention of carrying all the trade of Antwerp to Amsterdam; opposite to Lillo the Emperor is raising Fort Joseph.—The Dutch will in all probability pay for their former treachery and cruelty to the inhabitants of Antwerp, who were their confederates in the cause of liberty. Several eminent traders and merchants arrive in this city daily to settle in it."

A L B A N Y, July 22.

ON Monday last, in the afternoon, their Excellencies the Governor of this State, and the Dutch Ambassador, Mr. Van Berkel, arrived in this city. They were, on their landing at the ferry, received by the corporation, magistrates, and a great number of the respectable inhabitants, attended by the sheriff and constables, and conducted to the City-Hall, under the discharge of cannon from the fort. They were conducted from the City-Hall, after drinking some toasts, to their respective lodgings.

The next day the corporation gave their Excellencies an elegant entertainment, at Lewis's tavern, at which were also present a large and respectable number of the magistrates and citizens.

After dinner a number of patriotick toasts were drank, each attended with a discharge of cannon from the fort.

N E W - Y O R K, July 30.

Extract of a letter from London, dated May 29.

"In our present distracted situation it is difficult to say what may be the intentions of ministry with regard to permitting the Americans to trade with the West-India islands. As it is understood that our flourishing colony, Nova-Scotia, does not abound in lumber, and that the exalted expectations formed of supplies from thence are chimerical, the West-India merchants are clamorous for the ports in the islands being immediately open for American vessels of every denomination. This will be a bitter pill for the ministry to swallow, but, notwithstanding their wry faces, it must go down. It does not admit of a dispute but what the mother country will be materially injured by granting this solicited permission, but if the king of France should open any one of his ports in the West-Indies all the trade in that part of the world must centre there, because the French can afford to sell their sugars much cheaper than the English, and consequently to supply the neighbouring islands with lumber and provisions at a very low rate.

"We have got a new ministry since I wrote to you last, and they have changed the parliament, in hopes to have considerable majorities to sanction their measures. I wish young Pitt well, both for his father's sake, and because I believe him to be an honest man, but I fear very much he will not be able to overcome the formidable opposition raised against him, they being a set of parliamentary hacks, in the habit of setting out every subject that suits their purpose with such aggrandizement as to make it difficult for plain honest country gentlemen to determine which side of the question to adopt. In the mean time luxury increases more than ever; nothing is talked of but processions through the streets, with Fox at the head, in his buff and blue uniform, a livery which the prince of Wales and all the minority go to court in, to pay their respects to the king, who is as fond of the colour as a turkey-cock is of scarlet. Happy George the Third! thou hast in the space of twenty years lived to see thyself stripped of America, deserted by every ally, hissed and hooted in the streets, and openly braved by thy favourite son, whose sole study is to disgrace and insult his father! Does not the hand of heaven appear in this to punish the author of a war in which thousands of our fellow-creatures have been sacrificed to gratify tyranny and ambition?"

A gentleman from the Northward informs us, that the Indians are preparing to meet Sir John Johnston, at Niagara, where he has invited them to a conference. His inveteracy to these states, and the many presents he has with him, forebodes nothing propitious to our frontier settlements. We fear the great influence he has among them will be used to stimulate those restless demons to hostility.

The Oneida tribe have made a donation of land to the Stockbridge Indians, to which they are moving with the utmost rapidity.

PHILADELPHIA, July 24.
Compendium of the latest European Political Occurrences, &c.

"A new revolution, or ministerial convulsion, has taken place in Denmark, whereby the prince royal has obtained the direction of the affairs in that kingdom. The emperor has made some disagreeable approaches towards the Dutch territories, and intends to open the trade of Antwerp, once the emporium of all Europe.—In the mean time, there is an appearance of a violent contest in Holland, between the stadtholder and the republican party.—In England, a new batch of peers made.—In Ireland, all the obnoxious bills lately introduced receive the royal assent—the lord lieutenant makes a speech to both houses—and puts an end to the most unpopular session ever seen in that kingdom.

July 29. Last Sunday night a poor man was stopped by some street robbers at the upper end of Second-street, who robbed him of the little money he had about him, cut off his nose, and beat him in a most cruel manner.

AUGUST 4.
A Message from the President and the Supreme Executive Council to the General Assembly.

GENTLEMEN,
COUNCIL having judged it absolutely necessary, that you should be called together before the day to which you stand adjourned, it became their duty to convene you accordingly, although they regretted the inconveniences to which you would be subjected by meeting so much sooner than you intended.

The Secretary will lay before you an act of Congress of the 3d of June, requiring a body of troops to be forthwith furnished, with some other resolutions of the same, prior, and subsequent dates. A collection of papers relating to the cause of Charles Julian de Longchamps, and another of those respecting the late disturbances at Wyoming.

The necessity of adopting measures conformable to the requisition before-mentioned, is so urgent, as to admit of no delay.

The late violations of the rights and privileges of publick Ministers point out the propriety of further provisions, more effectually to guard the honour, repose and welfare of the United States in general, and of this Commonwealth in particular, against the licentious temerity of individuals.

We have carefully endeavoured to prevent any breach of the peace on account of the interfering claims to lands in Northumberland county, but not so successful as we desired. We must rely upon the prudence and authority of your Honourable House, for establishing tranquility in that part of the state.

JOHN DICKINSON.
Council-Chamber, July 21, 1784.

Extract of a letter from Dublin, dated May 22.
"More than 300 persons, male and female, have offered to indent themselves with the captains of the different vessels now in our harbour, bound to America, and have been refused. They are at present full of passengers, that they take none but those who pay, or tradesmen under a certain description. It is imagined ten vessels more could shortly be filled, were they to sail with emigrants to that part of the world, from the city and county of Dublin only."

Monday last arrived here the brig Peggy, Captain Hughes, from Port-au-Prince. By this vessel we learn, that on the 29th of June, a dreadful fire broke out at Port-au-Prince, which destroyed the greatest part of the town, including many valuable stores, &c. The damage is said to amount to twenty-five millions of livres.

We are informed, from the best authority, that the French Packet Courier de l'Amerique, Captain d'Abbeville, will sail from New-York the 15th inst. for l'Orient.

The Speedy, Kennedy, from Charleston, is arrived at Portsmouth, in England.

The Emperor, Rennie, and Jenny, Crofier, from South-Carolina, and Betsey, Crawford, from Virginia, are arrived at Dover, in England.

TRENTON, AUGUST 9.
On Thursday last the Honourable the General Assembly of this state met at New-Brunswick, pursuant to the Speaker's order.

The Tankerville, British Packet, Captain McDonough, arrived at New-York on Tuesday last, in 43 days from Falmouth.

The Hon. HENRY LAURENS, Esq. formerly President of Congress, and one of the Ambassadors in Europe from the United States, came passenger in her, as did Mr. Laurens, his son.

In the British Parliament a motion was made by Mr. Pitt, and carried without a division, to continue the American Trade Bill six weeks longer.

His Majesty, the King of Sweden, is expected to visit England, under the title of Count Gothland:—He arrived at Paris on the 3d of June.

The duke of Richmond is said to have left Mr. Pitt, and united with his nephew, Mr. Fox.

Extract of a letter from Bristol, May 22.
"After the sheriffs had made the return and declared Mr. Brickdale and Mr. Cruger duly elected, Colonel Cruger was chaired, amidst the acclamations of a vast multitude. Mr. Brickdale was not chaired; at which many people expressed their disappointment, and various reasons have been assigned, it being an unprecedented circumstance in this city.

"During this election many nefarious scenes were practised; but none appears more shocking than that of marrying couples, after an interview of a few hours, for the purpose of making votes, many of whom are at this time in a state of total separation. It is said that near one hundred marriages of this kind have been consummated."

From the 21st of July, to the 28th of the same month, there arrived at Philadelphia in different vessels, 1350 passengers from Ireland, and 100 Germans from London.

TO BE SOLD,

And may be entered upon next spring,
TWO improved plantations, situate in Roxbury township, Morris county, one whereon John Rose now lives, containing 200 acres and upwards; the other whereon Jacob Miller lives, containing near 240 acres; the two places join each other, the land of Morris Credar, and the stone tavern. Another valuable plantation whereon John Stockton and Peter Geary live, containing about 280 acres, in Hunterdon county, at the place called the Great Swamp, the great road leading through it; about 70 acres cleared land in good fence, the remainder well timbered:—There are erected on the premises several good log houses, and other improvements; the whole for goodness of soil not exceeded by any thereabouts. For particulars enquire of Christopher Wetherill, in Burlington; or of SAM. WETHERILL, jun. } Philad.

- EDWARD DUNLOP,
Agent for Suffex County.
- July 9, 1784. 4W

IN consequence of an advertisement I inserted in the New-York papers, for the distribution of a book, intitled, Journal de Medicine, Chirurgie et Pharmacie Militaire, I find that the demands exceed by far my most sanguine expectations, as well as the number I can possibly be supplied with.

Earnestly desirous to disappoint no one person, and to render this work if possible still more generally useful, I have put the French originals in the hands of Mr. Browne, Surgeon, of New-York, to be translated into the English language, whose knowledge of the French tongue will, I make no doubt, enable him to execute it with fidelity and correctness.

ST. JOHN, Consul of France.

THE publick has been already informed, that by an Ordinance of His Most Christian Majesty, all the physicians and surgeons of his military hospitals, are directed to furnish the royal society of physicians at Paris, with the memoirs of all the diseases in the several hospitals, and the mode of treating them; of all chirurgical cases and operations, and of the improvements made in pharmacy; from which the society are directed to select such as may tend to the advancement of knowledge in either of the professions, and publish a volume every year, to be printed in numbers, one every three months.

Impressed with the idea that periodical publications of this kind must prove a rich source of professional knowledge to the gentlemen of the faculty, and to render them still more extensively useful, I have undertaken a translation of these memoirs into English, which I propose to publish by subscription. The Honourable Mr. St. John, has engaged to furnish me with the originals as expeditiously as they can be obtained from the Royal Prefs at Paris.

CONDITIONS:

- I. That the numbers be translated and printed as soon as they arrive.
 - II. That they be printed on a good type and paper.
 - III. That each number contain about one hundred and twenty pages octavo.
 - IV. That the price to subscribers be half a dollar each number.
 - V. That a number be sent to the prefs as soon as there are three hundred subscribers.
- There are already two volumes published and in my possession, which contain such interesting matter, as must prove highly acceptable. A work of this kind needs no eulogy to induce the practitioners in physick and surgery of this country to purchase, for so small a sum as two dollars a year, an epitome of all the experience and observations in the several sciences of all the military physicians and surgeons in the kingdom of France.

JOSEPH BROWNE.

Subscriptions will be taken in by James Rivington, at New-York; Isaac Collins, at Trenton, New-Jersey; Augustus Van-Horn, at Philadelphia; the post-master at Wilmington, Lower-County, Delaware; William Goddard, at Baltimore, in Maryland; Mr. Dixon, at Williamsburgh, in Virginia; Mr. Thomas Tomlinson, at Newbern, North-Carolina; Mr. Miller, at Charleston, South-Carolina; Mr. Johnson, at Savannah, in Georgia; Mr. Isaac Beers, at New-Haven, in Connecticut; Messrs. Adams and Norde, in Boston; Mr. Wheeler, at Providence, Rhode-Island; and at the post-office in Portsmouth, New-Hampshire.

New-York, June 23, 1784. 4W

Sixteen Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscribers in Trenton in the night of the 12th inst. two indentured Irish servants, one named William Graham, a labourer, about 20 years of age, 5 feet 6 or 7 inches high, much marked with the small-pox on the nose: Had on when he went away an old short drab-coloured coat much patched, one pair old cloth breeches, and cloth jacket; also took with him a blue coat, corduroy jacket, and a red and white striped Holland jacket. The other named James M'Coy, about 20 years of age, 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, short light brown hair, marked with the small-pox a little in the face, clumsy built: Had on and took with him when he went away, one old brown coat and jacket, one pair of green ribbed Bergen breeches, one old black pair of plush do. one ruffled shirt, two plain shirts, and one felt hat. It is likely they have changed their clothes and forged passes—and it is thought they are gone to the Nine Partners in New-York state, or New-England. Whoever takes up said servants and secures them in any goal, so as their masters may have them again, shall have the above reward, and all reasonable charges paid by

BERNARD HANLON;
ROBERT SINGER.
