

Push for WWII Memorial

DCVA's Message

Dear Veterans,

At the start of a new year most folks look back at how the past year went, look forward on what they want to do in the coming 12 months and maybe make a resolution or two.

For the department three projects started in 2007 will be front and center in DMAVA's activities in the coming year.

First, the plan to utilize the $1 million dollars added to our current budget by Governor Jon S. Corzine to address the needs of returning Global War on Terrorism veterans will be finalized and brought to fruition.

Then there was the additional money provided by the Governor to expand the Veterans Haven transitional housing program in Winslow Township. In 2008 we are working to get the final pieces in place to begin adding 37 additional beds to help even more homeless veterans.

In 2008 we will finish the study started in the fall addressing the issue of providing home health care for our New Jersey veterans. We are working with the Department of Health and Senior Services and this report will be sent to the state legislature.

There is another item that veterans can lend a hand with in 2008 and that would be supporting the nearly 3,000 New Jersey Army National Guard Soldiers deploying in June. This deployment of the 50th Infantry Brigade Combat Team in support of the Global War on Terrorism will be the largest New Jersey Guard deployment since World War II. This deployment will affect Citizen-Soldiers and their families in every county of this state. We will need your support to send off the troops and then take care of the home front heroes, the families, in the 12 months that the Soldiers will be away.

Now that was the look back and view forward, now here is my resolution, a resolution shared by Governor Corzine and Maj. Gen. Glenn K. Rieth, The Adjutant General.

We need to raise the money necessary to build the World War II Memorial in 2008.

This should be the resolution of every one of the nearly 545,000 veterans living in the Garden State.

The Governor wants to celebrate Veterans Day 2008 at the memorial across from the Statehouse in Trenton. We need every veteran to support this memorial, not only with donations, but more importantly with your influence.

We need you to ask your family, friends and neighbors to contribute. We need businesses small and large to step up and if you have any connections with national companies that are headquartered in this state, we need those CEO's, CFO's or foundations to make a commitment to honor our World War II veterans.

Ladies and Gentlemen this is our special mission for 2008, to build this lasting tribute to our World War II Comrades, so future generations will realize and remember the dedication and sacrifice they made to preserve the freedom and liberty we continue to enjoy. They deserve so much more, can we offer less?

Thank you for the support I know will be forthcoming and may everyone have a healthy, happy and prosperous New Year.

Message from the Governor

Dear Veterans,

On Veterans Day this year, we celebrated the heroes of our country with the traditional pomp and circumstance and expressions of heartfelt appreciation befitting their honorable service. But this Veterans Day marked still another year without the dedication of a World War II Memorial in New Jersey. I want you to know that I am working to ensure the dedication of this long-awaited and much deserved tangible expression of our respect and gratitude by November, 2008.

Of the approximately 545,000 veterans who live in our state, nearly 30 percent served in World War II. That is about twice the average percentage of other states; and after their service on the battlefield, these men and women returned home to rebuild their careers and families, and helped transform America into a symbol of freedom and democracy for people all over the world.

Sixty years later, their service - your service - is honored by that freedom this nation cherishes so dearly. Notwithstanding the pledges and the hard work of so many of you, that service is not yet recognized by an appropriate monument in our state. They deserve to see this memorial finished within their lifetime, and I have pledged that this will happen during my administration. With so much that our World War II veterans have given to us, this is the least that we can give to them; and it is the best we can give to our children and grandchildren as an example of the kind of love of country and community that sustains and enhances us through generations.

With the help of the Department of Military and Veterans Affairs and the Office of the Secretary of State, we have expanded the membership of the World War II Memorial Commission and appointed new members to accelerate our fundraising efforts. Recently members of the commission and I held a reception at the Governor's Mansion to help raise funds. I am happy to report that more than 100 people attended and we were able to secure a significant number of new donors.

While we're having success finding new donors, we still have a way to go to reach our goal. I'd like to take this opportunity to thank those of you who have already given, especially the World War II Veterans, and encourage those of you who may not yet have been able to contribute. I realize many of you are living on fixed incomes, and your donations, whether they be $5, $10, $25 or more, exemplify the same self-sacrifice that you have shown in wars past. Rest assured, we're working as fast as we can and I hope to report back with good news soon.

Sincerely,

Jon S. Corzine

GOVERNOR HONORS VETERANS

New Jersey Governor Jon S. Corzine shakes hands with some of New Jersey's newest veterans, Soldiers from the 250th Brigade Support Battalion, before giving the keynote speech at the Veteran's Day Memorial ceremony at the Brigadier General William C. Doyle Veterans Cemetery.

The ceremony took place on Sunday, Nov. 11 at 11 a.m. on the patio of the chapel.

The Veterans Day ceremony honored New Jersey veterans who have served in the United States Armed Forces. The ceremony included a flag retirement service, wherein the ashes of 2,000 flags were entombed.

The Veterans Memorial Cemetery is New Jersey's sole state-operated veterans' cemetery. Dedicated in 1986, it is funded jointly by state and federal dollars and is under the management of the New Jersey Department of Military and Veterans Affairs. Doyle Cemetery is the busiest state veteran cemetery in the nation, averaging 2,750 interments each year.

Stand Down 2007

Story and photos by Kryn Westhoven, NJDMAVA/PA

The New Jersey Department of Military and Veterans Affairs again this year partnered with county, state and federal agencies to support the volunteer Stand Down Committees in South and North Jersey.

This year the North Jersey Stand Down was held on Oct. 21 at the John F. Kennedy Pool and Recreation Center in Newark, a new location for the event. Newark Mayor Cory Booker arranged to provide the city building and stopped by to talk to the homeless veterans. Veterans Service Organization members were out in force running the various stations on the gym floor. Past commander of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9015 William Hunter (bottom left photo) assists a veteran with paperwork and American Legion Department of N.J. Executive Committeeman Roland Boone (bottom right photo) hands out duffel bags..

The Army and Air National Guard assisted with both Stand Downs as Soldiers cooked and provided logistics support while 177th Fighter Wing and 108th Air Refueling Wing medical personnel were on hand to help with the health screenings.

The Stand Downs provide homeless veterans with access to healthcare, mental health screening, substance abuse counseling, social services availability, religious counseling, a hot meal, a haircut and winter clothing. The goal of the program is to bring a wide range of resources together in one location so the veteran can access the various available services and be able to recognize that the community is concerned and committed to bring these services to them.

On Sept. 16, Col. (retired) Stephen G. Abel, Deputy Commissioner for Veterans Affairs hosted a “Commander’s Call” in the theater at the National Guard Training Center in Sea Girt.

The bi-annual meetings are designed to bring together the senior leadership of the state’s major veterans’ organizations on issues of mutual concern. The late summer gathering preceded the Annual Governor’s Military Review, which was then held on the Parade Field at the Training Center.

Following a continental breakfast, the assembly was treated to a presentation by Maj. Gen. Glenn K. Rieth, The Adjutant General of New Jersey, who spoke on his recent trips to visit New Jersey National Guardsmen serving abroad. Maj. Gen. Rieth’s slide presentations focused on New Jersey’s Citizen Soldiers and Airmen deployed in Iraq and Afghanistan, and the New Jersey National Guard’s relationship with Albania, as it prepares to join the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Following the presentation, Maj. Gen. Rieth presented a Purple Heart to Pat Casanova, for injuries sustained during his combat service during World War II.

The morning’s briefings concluded with George Lisicki, the recently installed National Commander-in-Chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Following Lisicki’s remarks, the attendees enjoyed the pomp and ceremony of the Military Review.

New Jersey presents 1st POW-MIA Medals

On Friday, Sept. 21, 2007, the first presentations of the New Jersey's POW-MIA Medal were made to 28 veterans who were former prisoners of war, or to family members of those listed as missing in action.

The first recipient was posthumously awarded by Brig. Gen. Frank Carlini, Assemblyman Jack Connors and other dignitaries to Army Sergeant Clifford Alling and received by his wife Angela.

The occasion was the Sixth Annual POW-MIA Remembrance Day Breakfast, held at The Merion in Cinnaminson and sponsored by Connors who chairs the Assembly's Committee on Veterans Affairs. More than 600 people attended the event. The state's newest award was designed by Associate Professor Hannah Ueno-Olsen, of the Richard Stockton College of New Jersey.

VETERANS NEWS & VIEWS

VA to build new cemetery near Washington's Crossing

WASHINGTON--The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) and Dolington Land LP, a subsidiary of real estate developer Toll Brothers Inc. and the owner of a 205-acre site in Bucks County, Pa., near Washington's Crossing Historic Park, have signed an "offer to sell" agreement under which VA will purchase for $10.5 million the site for the construction of a new national cemetery.

"This is a key step forward in bringing a national shrine to veterans in southeastern Pennsylvania," said VA's Under Secretary for Memorial Affairs William F. Tuerk. "Building this cemetery is a priority for VA, and we are pleased to be moving forward with our plans."

With this step taken, VA expects to complete the formal purchase of the property by March 2008. Once the purchase is finalized and the cemetery design is complete, initial construction will begin in mid 2008.

Burials at the new national cemetery, which will serve more than 580,000 veterans and their families who live in the area, are expected to begin in late 2008. Indiantown Gap National Cemetery, the nearest open national cemetery in Pennsylvania, is 120 miles from the site of the new cemetery.

Veterans with a discharge other than dishonorable, their spouses and dependent children are eligible for burial in a national cemetery. Other burial benefits for eligible veterans include a burial flag, a Presidential Memorial Certificate and a government headstone or marker – even if they are not buried in a national cemetery.

VA clarifies policy on flag folding recitations

WASHINGTON--To ensure burial services at the 125 national cemeteries operated by the Department of Veterans Affairs reflect the wishes of veterans and their families, VA officials have clarified the Department's policy about recitations made while the U.S. flag is folded at the gravesite of a veteran.

"A family may request the recitation of words to accompany the meaningful presentation of the American flag as we honor the dedication and sacrifice of their loved ones," said William F. Tuerk, VA's Under Secretary for Memorial Affairs.

The Veterans Administration clarification for national cemeteries includes the following:

- Volunteer honor guards are authorized to read the so-called "13-fold" flag recitation or any comparable script.
- Survivors of the deceased may provide material and request it be read by the volunteer honor guards.
- Volunteer honor guards will accept requests for recitations that reflect any or no religious traditions.
