JOURNAL OF THE SENATE.

STATE OF NEW-JERSEY,
SENATE CHAMBER,
TRENTON, Tuesday, January 13, 1874.

As this was the time and place appointed by the Constitution for the assembling of the Legislature, the Senate was called to order by John F. Babcock, Secretary of the last Senate.

The roll was called by the Secretary, when the following Senators appeared and answered to the call :

Messrs. Cornish, Cutler, Havens, Hendrickson, Hewitt, Hopkins, Lydecker, MacPherson, Moore, Newkirk, Sewell, Sheppard, Stone, Taylor, Wood—15.

Mr. Sewell moved that the Hon. Augustus W. Cutler be appointed President pro tempore.

Which motion was agreed to, and Senators Hendrickson of Monmouth, and Newkirk of Salem, conducted the President pro tempore to the Chair.

Mr. Hewitt presented the credentials of Hon. Barton F. Thorn, Senator elect from the County of Burlington.

Which were read and approved, and the oath prescribed by law having been duly administered to Mr. Thorn by the President pro tempore, he took his seat in the Senate.

Mr. Sewell presented the credentials of Hon. Frederick A. Potts, Senator elect from the County of Hunterdon.

Which were read and approved, and the oath prescribed by law having been duly administered to Mr. Potts by the President pro tempore, he took his seat in the Senate.

Mr. Sheppard presented the credentials of the Hon. Richard S. Leaming, Senator elect from the County of Cape May.

Which were read and approved, and the oath prescribed by law having been duly administered to Mr. Leaming by the President pro tempore, he took his seat in the Senate.

Mr. Hopkins presented the credentials of the Hon. Levi D. Jarrard, Senator elect from the County of Middlesex.

Which were read and approved, and the oath prescribed by law having been duly administered to Mr. Jarrard by the President pro tempore, he took his seat in the Senate.

Mr. Cornish presented the credentials of Hon. Samuel T. Smith, Senator elect from the County of Sussex.

Which were read and approved, and the oath prescribed by law having been duly administered to Mr. Smith by the President pro tempore, he took his seat in the Senate.

Mr. Lydecker presented the credentials of the Hon. John Hopper, Senator elect from the County of Passaic.

Mr. Stone presented the following petition from Adam Carr, of the County of Passaic:

To the Senate of the State of New-Jersey:

The undersigned desires to inform your honorable body that he intends to contest the right of the Hon. John Hopper, who was declared to have been duly elected at the late election as Senator from the County of Passaic, to a seat in the Senate as such Senator; and that he has given notice to Mr. Hopper of such intention, and of the grounds upon which such contest is based, in accordance with the provisions of the statute regulating the same.

Such proceedings have also been taken on the part of the undersigned that at an early day the evidence by which he hopes to prove his grounds of contest will be taken and ready to submit to your honorable body, and he respectfully requests that, as soon as he may be able, an opportunity may be afforded him to present such testimony with whatever suggestions of counsel thereupon he may deem proper to be made. And the undersigned further prays that upon consideration of the evidence to be submitted in this matter, your honorable body will adjudge and declare that the Hon. John Hopper is not entitled to a seat in the Senate as Senator from Passaic County, and that the undersigned is entitled to such seat.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

[Signed,] ADAM CARR.

Trenton, N. J., January 13, 1874.

Which was read and laid on the table.

The credentials of the Hon. John Hopper, Senator elect from the County of Passaic, were then read and approved, and the oath prescribed by law having been duly administered to Mr. Hopper by the President pro tempore, he took his seat in the Senate.

Under the direction of the President pro tempore, the Secretary called the Senate, when the following Senators answered to the call :

Messrs. Cornish, Cutler, Havens, Hendrickson, Hewitt, Hopkins, Hopper, Jarrard, Leaming, Lydecker, MacPherson, Moore, Newkirk, Potts, Sewell, Sheppard, Smith, Stone, Taylor, Thorn, Wood—21.

The Senate then proceeded to the election of a President for the ensuing year.

Mr. Sewell nominated the Hon. John W. Taylor, of the County of Essex.

Mr. Cornish nominated the Hon. John R. MacPherson of the County of Hudson.

Under the direction of the President pro tempore, the Secretary called the Senate, with the following result :

For Mr. Taylor, were

Messrs. Havens, Hewitt, Hopkins, Jarrard, Leaming, MacPherson, Moore, Newkirk, Potts, Sewell, Sheppard, Stone, Thorn, Wood—14.

For Mr. MacPherson, were

Messrs. Cornish, Cutler, Hendrickson, Hopper, Lydecker, Smith, Taylor—7.

Mr. Taylor having received a majority of all the votes cast, was declared by the President pro tempore duly elected President of the Senate for the ensuing year, and was conducted to the chair by Senators Sewell and MacPherson.

Upon taking the chair, the President addressed the Senate as follows :

Senators :—Accept my sincere thanks for the high honor you have done me in again electing me to preside over your deliberations—an honor the more highly prized because entirely unsolicited. I assure you that it will be my aim and endeavor to justify your confidence and vindicate your kindly preference by so discharging the duties of this position as to lighten your own labors, promote the business before you, and enable you to bring the session to an early close.

We shall have an unusual amount of important public business before us. In addition to the Constitutional Amendments reported by the Constitutional Commission, we shall have the report of the commission of distinguished jurists, appointed at the session of 1871 to revise and consolidate our public statutes. Let us give these public matters our first and best attention, discourage all unnecessary private legislation, retrench wherever we can, and endeavor to terminate our labors at the expiration of what may be fairly termed the constitutional limit of forty days.

Prayer was then offered by the Rev. Dr. Hall, of Trenton.

The Senate then proceeded to the election of a Secretary.

Mr. Sewell nominated John F. Babcock, of the County of Middlesex.

Mr. Cornish nominated Charles F. Reed, of the County of Camden.

Under the direction of the President, the Secretary called the Senate, with the following result :

For Mr. Babcock, were

Messrs. Havens, Hewitt, Hopkins, Jarrard, Leaming, Moore, Newkirk, Potts, Sewell, Sheppard, Stone, Taylor (President), Thorn, Wood—14.

For Mr. Reed, were

Messrs. Cornish, Cutler, Hendrickson, Hopper, Lydecker, MacPherson, Smith—7.

Mr. John F. Babcock having received a majority of all the votes cast, was declared duly elected Secretary of the Senate for the ensuing year, and thereupon took and subscribed the oath of office.

The Senate then proceeded to the election of an Assistant Secretary of the Senate.

Mr. Sewell nominated John W. Newlin, of the County of Cumberland.

Mr. Cornish nominated Thomas G. Bunnell, of the County of Sussex.

Under the direction of the President, the Secretary called the Senate, with the following result:

For Mr. Newlin, were

Messrs. Havens, Hewitt, Hopkins, Jarrard, Leaming, Moore, Newkirk, Potts, Sewell, Sheppard, Stone, Taylor (President), Thorn, Wood—14.

For Mr. Bunnell, were

Messrs. Cornish, Cutler, Hendrickson, Hopper, Lydecker, MacPherson, Smith—7.

Mr. John W. Newlin having received a majority of the votes cast, was declared duly elected Assistant Secretary of the Senate for the ensuing year.

The Senate then proceeded to the election of an Engrossing Clerk.

Mr. Sewell nominated Benjamin F. Wood, of the County of Salem.

Mr. Cornish nominated Bernard J. Ford, of the County of Essex.

Under the direction of the President, the Secretary called the Senate, with the following result:

For Mr. Wood, were

Messrs. Havens, Hewitt, Hopkins, Jarrard, Leaming, Moore, Newkirk, Potts, Sewell, Sheppard, Stone, Taylor (President), Thorn, Wood—14.

For Mr. Ford, were

Messrs. Cornish, Cutler, Hendrickson, Hopper, Lydecker, MacPherson, Smith—7.

Mr. Wood having received a majority of all the votes cast, was declared duly elected Engrossing Clerk for the ensuing year.

The Senate then proceeded to the election of a Sergeant-at-Arms.

Mr. Sewell nominated Somers T. Champion, of the County of Atlantic.

Mr. Cornish nominated Lewis F. Martenus, of the County of Warren.

Under the direction of the President, the Secretary called the Senate, with the following result:

For Mr. Champion, were

Messrs. Havens, Hewitt, Hopkins, Jarrard, Leaming, Moore, Newkirk, Potts, Sewell, Sheppard, Stone, Taylor, (President,) Thorn, Wood—14.

For Mr. Martenus, were

Messrs. Cornish, Cutler, Hendrickson, Hopper, Lydecker, MacPherson, Smith—7.

Mr. Champion having received a majority of the votes cast, was declared duly elected Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate for the ensuing year.

The Senate then proceeded to the election of a Door-Keeper.

Mr. Sewell nominated Thomas Palmer, of the County of Hunterdon, who was duly elected viva voce.

The Senate then proceeded to the election of two Assistant Door-Keepers.

Mr. Sewell nominated John B. Courtney, of the County of Ocean, and John Goodin, of the County of Camden.

Who were duly elected viva voce.

The Senate then proceeded to the election of a Door-Keeper of the Gentlemen's Gallery.

Mr. Sewell nominated William Shields, of the County of Passaic.

Who was duly elected viva voce.

The Senate then proceeded to the election of a Door-Keeper of the Ladies' Gallery.

Mr. Sewell nominated Spencer Emmons, of the County of Mercer, who was duly elected viva voce.

Mr. Moore offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That a committee of two be appointed to wait on His Excellency the Governor, and inform him that the Senate has organized, and elected Hon. John W. Taylor, of Essex, President, and John F. Babcock, of Middlesex, Secretary, and is now ready to proceed to business, and also to receive any communication he may be pleased to make.

Which was read and agreed to, and Messrs. Moore and MacPherson appointed said committee.

The same Senator offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That the Secretary be directed to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has organized and is ready to proceed to business.

Which was read and agreed to.

Mr. Hopkins offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be authorized to appoint a Journal Clerk.

Which was read and agreed to.

Mr. Stone offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to invite the Clergy of the city of Trenton to open the sessions of the Senate with prayer.

Which was read and agreed to.

The Chair appointed as such committee Mr. Hewitt.

Mr. Sewell offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be authorized to appoint Calendar Clerks.

Which was read and agreed to.

Mr. Wood offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That the rules of the Senate at the last session be adopted as the rules of this Senate until otherwise ordered.

Which was read and agreed to.

Mr. Hopkins offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That the Committee on Engrossed Bills be authorized to appoint a Clerk.

Which was read and agreed to.

The same Senator offered the following resolution :

Resolved, (House of Assembly concurring,) That no private bills be received by the Senate or House of Assembly after the ninth day of February next.

Which was read and agreed to.

Mr. Moore, of the committee appointed to wait upon the Governor, reported that they had waited upon His Excellency, and that he had informed them that he would communicate by message.

The annual message of His Excellency, the Governor, was received at the hands of his Private Secretary, and read as follows :

Gentlemen of the Senate and General Assembly :

In obedience to constitutional requirement, I transmit to you my annual message, in which will be found a statement of facts that exhibits the present condition of the State, and also such recommendations as seem necessary.

Grateful acknowledgment and thanksgiving are due to the Supreme Ruler, for his goodness and mercy in keeping from our borders the pestilence which almost depopulated other sections, and in giving to our people so much general prosperity in the midst of financial embarrassment.

The condition of the laboring classes in some of our cities, whom circumstances have temporarily deprived of employment, demands our sympathy, and I will cheerfully concur in any lawful measure having for its object their relief.

FINANCES.

On account of the liberal appropriations made by the last and former Legislatures, the disbursements from the Treasury of the State during the fiscal year have been unusually large.

The following statement gives the amount disbursed from each of the funds from the 31st day of October, 1872, to the 1st day of November, 1873:

DISBURSEMENTS.

From Agricultural College Fund, - -	$ 6,960 00
From Library Fund, - - - - - -	779 62
From War Fund, - - - - - -	363,028 62
From School Fund, (including State School Tax,) - - - - - -	1,337,303 08
From State Fund, - - - - - -	1,154,669 48
Total, - - - - - - - -	$2,862,740 80

The receipts during the same time exceeded the disbursements seventy-one thousand, five hundred and ninety-four dollars and twenty-nine cents, as appears from the following statement of the amounts paid into the various funds:

RECEIPTS.

In Agricultural College Fund, - -	$ 6,960 00
In Library Fund, - - - - - -	3,550 00
In War Fund, - - - - - - -	364,778 00
In School Fund, (including State School Tax,)	1,340,912 25
In State Fund, - - - - - -	1,218,134 84
Total, - - - - - - - -	$2,934,335 09

The excess of receipts over expenditures ($71,594.29) added to the amount in hand at the commencement of the fiscal year, left the balance in bank to the credit of all the funds, on the 31st day of October, A. D. 1873, one hundred and seventy-three thousand and forty-three dollars and fifty-four cents.

The ordinary receipts and expenses of the government did not vary much in amount from those of the last preceding year. The disbursements were largely increased by payments out of the State Fund on special appropriations. The payments of this character amounted to about four hundred and seventy thousand dollars, of which sum three hundred and eighty-three thousand dollars went towards the erection of the new Lunatic Asylum, and fifty-seven thousand dollars to reimburse the commissioners having in charge the State House extension for money which had been advanced by them in former years.

To provide for such unusual drains upon the Treasury the ordinary revenue was inadequate. The increase in the rate of taxation enacted by the last Legislature did not furnish any relief, because the additional amount assessed under that act was not received during the last fiscal year. The financial officers of the State were therefore obliged to avail themselves of the law passed on the fourth day of April last, which authorizes the Governor, Comptroller and Treasurer to dispose of any securities held by the State Fund, whenever expedient or necessary to do so, to prevent embarrassment to the Treasury. Under that law the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars was received by the Treasurer in consideration of a transfer of fifteen hundred shares of railroad stock belonging to the State Fund, accompanied by a power of attorney to the transferees to sell the same if not redeemed by payment of above named sum and legal interest within a limited time not yet expired; the State, in the meantime, to receive the dividends. The stock will be redeemed, during next month, from the proceeds of the last tax levy. The Treasurer was also obliged to make a temporary loan of fifty thousand dollars, which will soon be paid with money derived from the same source.

Payments amounting in the aggregate to one hundred and ninety thousand dollars were made during the year on account of the five hundred thousand dollar bond given by the United Railroad and Canal Companies of New-Jersey, for lands under water and held in the State Fund. With the moneys thus derived, added to the usual revenue, all legitimate demands for current expenses of the government during the fiscal year were met, and nearly five hundred thousand dollars paid upon extraordinary appropriations, leaving a balance in bank to the credit of the State Fund on the 31st day of October, 1873, of one hundred and one thousand five hundred and five dollars and seventy-four cents.

The Comptroller of the Treasury estimates the probable disbursements of the present fiscal year, for ordinary expenses on civil and war account, and to meet special appropriations already made, at about one million two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The income from ordinary sources will be about six hundred thousand dollars, and this sum added to the tax-levy, which at one and a half mills will amount to over nine hundred thousand dollars, will produce at least one million five hundred thousand dollars, leaving a surplus of estimated receipts over expenditures for the fiscal year, of over two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. This amount can be applied to the special appropriations which may be made at the present session of the Legislature, and with what the Treasurer will be able to obtain for temporary use, will doubtless be sufficient to meet all demands without increasing the present rate of taxation.

The items of disbursement to be found in the Treasurer's report should be carefully examined, and measures taken to reduce the expenses of the State wherever it is possible to do so. While we determine that New-Jersey shall keep pace with the most enlightened of her sister States in every good work within her province to accomplish, we should be careful not to place unnecessary burdens on the people.

The debt of the State (all of which was contracted during the late war, principally for the support of families of volunteers), is now about two million six hundred thousand dollars. This debt is represented by war bonds, of which about one hundred thousand dollars in value will fall due annually. These bonds, as they mature, together with interest on the whole amount unpaid, will be extinguished by a part of the money derived from the yearly taxes, together with the income of the Sinking Fund. No additional tax need be raised for this purpose. The present rate of assessment will serve to diminish the debt each year, causing thereby a gradual diminution of the interest. There are now in the Sinking Fund securities worth over one million three hundred thousand dollars. If to these the securities in the State Fund be added it will be seen that the debt might at once be reduced to a small amount should the holders of the bonds that have not matured consent to accept payment and surrender them.

From the foregoing it appears that notwithstanding the large sums expended within the past few years in paying the war debt, in enlarging the Capitol, in constructing another Lunatic Asylum and improving other institutions, the State is financially in a prosperous condition. The rate of the tax levy for State purposes has heretofore been only one mill and is now but a mill and a half on the dollar For details of the financial operations of the year, I refer you to the full and carefully prepared reports of the Comptroller and Treasurer.

EDUCATION.

The special State school tax received and distributed during the last year amounted to about twelve hundred thousand dollars. The total amount derived from this tax, the State appropriation, interest of surplus revenue, city, township and district taxes, for teachers' salaries and building school houses, and expended for the support of free schools in New-Jersey during the same time, was nearly two million five hundred thousand dollars.

The census gives a population of two hundred and eighty-six thousand four hundred and forty-four children between the ages prescribed by the school law, of whom one hundred and seventy-nine thousand four hundred and forty-three are enrolled in the public schools. The teachers in charge number three thousand one hundred and thirty-one. The schools were open during the year an average of nine months and thirteen days.

Normal School.—The Normal School at Trenton, and the Farnum Preparatory School at Beverly, maintain the high reputation they long since acquired. The total number of pupils who during the last year received instructions at these institutions (including those at the Model School), is eight hundred and forty-five Forty-five students graduated from the Normal School, all of whom are employed in teaching.

By virtue of the supplement to the act entitled "An act to establish Normal School boarding houses," passed at the last session of the Legislature, the Trustees purchased the lands therein mentioned, and took title therefor in the name of the State. The cost of the property, including the contract price for buildings, is thirty-nine thousand dollars. The clear value over incumbrances, of the whole Normal School property, is estimated at one hundred and ninety thousand dollars. It cost the State less than fifty thousand dollars.

Agricultural College.—The Board of Visitors to the New-Jersey College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts have held semi-annual meetings, and attended examinations of pupils. They report the condition of the institution satisfactory. A majority of the counties are represented in the Scientific School. The number of students in attendance is forty-eight.

Deaf and Dumb, &c.—On the thirteenth day of March last, an act was passed authorizing the appointment of a commission to examine into the condition of the deaf and dumb, blind and feeble-minded inhabitants of this State. In conformity with the provisions of the act, the gentlemen composing that commission have reported the whole number of such persons, their necessities and condition, together with many interesting facts and valuable statistics bearing upon the feasibility of building an asylum or asylums for their education and treatment. One hundred and twenty-five of these unfortunates are now maintained and educated by New-Jersey at institutions out of the State, at an annual cost of nearly forty thousand dollars. The members of the commission visited these beneficiaries, and unite in representing them as well cared for, kindly treated, and thoroughly instructed by those in charge of them.

The report reveals a state of facts which cannot fail to attract the attention of all philanthropic citizens. After consulting the best sources of information, the commission concludes that there are in the State over two thousand members of these defective classes, of whom about seven hundred are between the ages of eight and twenty-one years, and that only about one-sixth of these helpless children are enjoying educational advantages. They cannot be instructed in our public schools, nor can they be taught at home. They must be sent to institutions provided for the purpose, and placed under the care of specialists who have made the branch they profess a life study. Without education none of these unfortunates will become self-supporting, but all must remain a continual burden to friends, or become a public charge.

The obligation of the State to her mute, blind and feeble-minded children is certainly as great as that which she owes her other youth. Why should they not have the benefit of free schools as well as others who are not deprived of any of their faculties? It is evident that adequate facilities for the instruction of so large a number cannot be furnished until we have asylums for the purpose in our own State. The institutions convenient to us are crowded, and it cannot be expected that the children of the States in which they are located will be excluded to make room for our beneficiaries. New-Jersey should be provided with all the appliances for the relief and culture of her unfortunate children, demanded by an advanced state of civilization. It is not proposed to increase the taxes for the purpose of building the asylums we so much need and with which almost every State is supplied. The indications are that large sums will soon be received for grants of lands under tidal waters. Why not appropriate the moneys hereafter received from that source to this important branch of education? I recommend that the subject be referred to a special joint committee of the Legislature.

OTHER STATE INSTITUTIONS.

LUNATIC ASYLUMS.—The Lunatic Asylum at Trenton still has more inmates than can properly be cared for. On the 31st day of October, 1872, there were seven hundred patients. During the year one hundred and thirty-one were admitted, one hundred and thirty-five were discharged, and forty-three died, leaving in the institution on the 31st day of October, 1873, six hundred and fifty-three, being one hundred and fifty-three more than the building was designed to accommodate. Five hundred and forty-two were county patients, supported in part by the State, sixteen were provided for entirely by the State, and ninety-five were maintained by their friends. The necessity of speedily providing further accommodations for the insane is very great. Many cases curable in the incipiency of the disease become chronic for want of immediate attention. A few of the counties have established asylums, but they do not meet the emergency.

The managers of the Asylum recommend the purchase of a small adjoining property. Its location is such as to make it a desirable addition to the premises already owned by the State, for reasons set forth in their report, and it can now be had for a reasonable sum.

Work on the new Lunatic Asylum near Morri-town was recommenced with the opening of Spring and has since progressed rapidly. The wing on one side of the main centre of the edifice will be finished in a few months; the foundations of the other wing have been laid, and it is hoped that the entire structure (except the main centre) will be completed during the year. The Commissioners charged with the construction of this immense building have pushed forward the work as rapidly as possible, at great personal sacrifice and without remuneration. They will doubtless have it finished as soon as the magnitude of the undertaking will admit. On account of the imperative demand for additional accommodations for the insane, I suggest that the Commissioners be requested to prepare a portion of the building for patients before the completion of the entire structure, if it can be done without seriously interfering with the progress of the work. An additional appropriation of three hundred thousand dollars, to be used in erecting this Asylum, is recommended.

REFORM SCHOOL.—The number of inmates of the State Reform School for juvenile delinquents has greatly increased. On the 31st of October last there were one hundred and sixty boys in the institution. The discipline is good and considerable progress has been made in the studies of the school-room. The farm has been much improved, especially by ditching and underdraining, over two and a half miles of tile drains having been laid during the last year. The products of the farm amounted to nearly seven thousand dollars. Considerable income has been derived from different kinds of mechanical labor of the boys.

The erection of another family house has been commenced and more buildings are needed. I recommend an appropriation to this object, sufficiently large to meet increasing demands.

GIRL'S INDUSTRIAL SCHOO .—The State Industrial Schoo for girls is continued in the original location. On the 31st day of October, 1873, it had twenty-five inmates. The girls are instructed in school a portion of the day and the remainder of the time is devoted to needle-work and the duties of the house and laundry.

A farm of about eighty acres, in an eligible location, has been purchased at a cost of twelve thousand dollars. A part of the the farm could not be obtained on favorable terms and more land was conveyed to the State than is required. All that is not needed will be resold under power given in the act for that purpose passed at the last session of the Legislature. A family house is in course of erection on the premises, and another will be built during the year. The school will soon be removed to the new location. The usual appropriation for current expenses, in addition to the cost of improvements, is recommended.

STATE PRISON.—The sum of thirty thousand dollars has been paid into the State Treasury by the Supervisor of the Prison, but more than eighty thousand dollars have been expended by the State for salaries, repairs, improvements and other incidentals connected with that institution. In comparison with some years under the former system there is an improvement, but an effort should be made to make the prison self-sustaining. Inquiry should be made as to earnings and expenses of the penal institutions of other States which are said to produce a profit, the contract price of labor therein, the cost of subsistence and of oversight.

Within a few weeks the number of prisoners has increased rapidly. The question of employment presses itself upon the attention. The former contracts for prison labor terminated during the last summer, and new contracts were made for the employment of four hundred and fifty convicts at seventy-five cents per day, being an increase of twenty-five per cent. on former rates. Each agreement contained a provision giving the contractors the privilege of revocation upon six months' notice. The gentlemen who employ four hundred of the prisoners have availed themselves of that provision and have notified the authorities that their contract will be discontinued on the first day of May next. Arrangements must be made for the employment of the men. Cessation of labor, even for a brief period, would prove injurious to the convicts, detrimental to the discipline of the prison, and bring great loss to the State. Provision should be made by the Legislature for the purchase of machinery and stock to enable the authorities of the prison to carry on the business now prosecuted there, or some other equally remunerative. In the event of the present contract being renewed, or some other agreement advantageous to the State being made, the appropriation would not be used. The location of our prison, in reference to markets and facilities for transportation, is not surpassed by any other institution of the kind. There is no reason why the convicts should should not earn for the State twenty-five per cent. more than is received at present. At all events, the State should not be left in a position to be dictated to by any who seek contracts.

TAXATION.

One of the most important, and at the same time one of the most difficult subjects demanding the attention of the Legislature, is taxation. It is almost impossible to frame a tax law that will operate equitably in all cases. There is a want of uniformity in the practical enforcement of the present law. Where doubtful points have not been adjudicated by express decision of the Supreme Court, each assessor construes the law for himself, and different rules of assessment prevail in different sections of the State. Even if the Legislature should not make any radical change in the present system, still a supplement should be passed declaratory of legislative intent in reference to the parts of the law that admit of doubt in construction, and where there is not uniformity of opinion and practice. Through uncertainty of the precise meaning of some provisions, a large amount of property that should be assessed escapes taxation.

Many letters from various parts of the State have recently been addressed to me, requesting opinions and instructions in reference to several sections of the tax law, all of which have been referred to the Attorney General. It is represented that in some counties real estate is assessed at its full value, while in others it is not rated at more than one-half its actual worth. The Legislature should at once act upon this subject and provide for the equalization of values, so that every section will bear its just proportion of the public burdens.

The just mode of taxing railroad corporations has been a question much considered, and concerning which there has been much difference of opinion. Many of the railroad charters exempt their property from local taxation, in consideration of paying to the State a certain rate upon capital or cost of works. There has long existed much dissatisfaction with this system, especially in those localities where a large amount of property has been acquired by some of the companies which shared the protection and other advantages of the local government. At the last session of the Legislature a law was passed by which it was intended to establish equitable rules of taxation of railroad corporations. It provides, first, for payment of tax to the State on cost, equipment and appendages, at the rate which had previously been fixed, or where no rate had been prescribed after the rate of one half of one per centum upon such cost; and sec ndly, for payment to municipalities on all real property therein, including improvements, not by way of repairs, (except the main stem or road-bed and track, not exceeding one hundred feet in width, and excepting also ten acres or less at termini, in one body), after the rate of one per centum on the valuation thereof. The fourth section of the act provides for the appointment of a "Commissioner of Railroad Taxation," to assess and report the value of railroad property in the State, liable, under the law, to municipal taxation. The Commissioner has made a full report of his proceedings, which is of record in the office of the Comptroller, subject to inspection.

He values the property of railroad corporations liable to municipal taxation, in one hundred and sixty-two townships and cities, at more than seventeen millions of dollars. Fifty-two townships and cities return "No property liable," and thirty-nine more have not reported, but in a majority of these it is known that there is no taxable railroad property. The tenth section of said act provides that any railroad corporation which claims exemption from all taxation, other than is provided for in their charters or by special laws, might within six months from the approval of the act, file in the office of the Secretary of State a declaration surrendering all claim to such exemption and accepting the provisions of said act. Several companies have availed themselves of that section.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

Every county has forwarded a requisition for the standard weights and measures required by law, and they have been distributed. A room in the State Capitol will be assigned to the Superintendent, to which will be removed the set of United States standards now in the Arsenal, and also the set due the State under act of Congress of 1866. During the present year the law of 1872 will go into practical operation. It was designed to protect the people from imposition and should be faithfully executed.

STATE LIBRARY.

The number of volumes in the State Library is nineteen thousand one hundred and thirty-one. In consequence of the incomplete condition of the room the labors of the Librarian have been much increased and the services of an assistant are needed.

Under the act of March 29, 1872, entitled "An act for the better preservation of the early records of the State of New-Jersey," the Historical Society has procured from the record office in London twenty-four cases in book form of Colonial Documents, containing transcripts of the Minutes of the Council, commencing with the surrender of the government to the Crown, and extending to 1769; and also copies of many miscellaneous papers of great value of an earlier date. These have been deposited in the State Library. Other cases are ready, and will soon be received. Questions of great public interest sometimes arise, which must be decided by reference to early records. The State should be in possession of all documents which give information of its history. The small sum voted in 1872 for this object is exhausted, and I recommend an additional appropriation of the same amount, with which it is supposed the remaining transcripts can be obtained.

GEOLOGY.

The report of the State Geologist proves an increasing demand by the people for information in regard to all matters that pertain to his department.

Notwithstanding the financial difficulties of the last year, more iron ore has been mined in the State than heretofore. The quantity reported is nearly seven hundred thousand tons, and as about two hundred mines are now worked, it is evident that the product will soon be vastly increased.

In my last annual message, the attention of the Legislature was directed to the fact that some of the monuments that formerly marked the northern boundary of the State were gone. Measures have been taken to ascertain the latitude and longitude of the western terminus of the boundary. When this shall be accomplished, the true position of the eastern terminus being already known, the correct location of a straight line between them will readily be determined, and permanent monuments set. At the request of the State Geologist, the Superintendent of the United States Coast Survey consented to have the work done, and under his direction observations have been taken and the computations will soon be finished. After the preliminary work shall be completed, the authorities of the State of New-York should be requested to join with us in locating the monuments on the true line. It is important that questions of boundary involving uncertainty of jurisdiction should be speedily settled.

The commissioners appointed to superintend the draining of the meadows on the Pequest and the flowed lands on the Passaic, are preparing to execute the duty assigned them. It would be less onerous to the land owners, should the Legislature authorize payment of assessments in installments. This would allow a portion of the cost of drainage to be realized from the lands reclaimed, before final payment of assessments.

The quantity of marl used by the farmers of the State is increasing. Millions of bushels are annually taken from the beds and used upon the soil in the marl region. During the last year more than a hundred thousand tons of this valuable fertilizer were transported by railroads from the marl districts. The deposits of marl in the eastern and southern portions of the State are inexhaustible. Thousands of acres of land but recently wild and uncultivated, have been enriched and brought under cultivation by its use.

Particulars in reference to the quality of soils and the location of unimproved lands, will be found in the reports of the Geologist and of the State Board of Agriculture.

Over a million acres of land within convenient distance of marl remain unimproved that might be brought under cultivation with profitable result. These lands can be purchased at small cost, are easily improved, lie near the best markets on this continent, and are easy of access by means of lines of railroad, which within a few years have opened the section of the State where they are located.

IMMIGRATION.

The time has come for the Legislature to inaugurate a system by means of which immigration shall be invited and encouraged. No other State presents so many advantages to those who are seeking to better their condition. What avails rich soil if the market be so distant as to consume the profits of the crop in transportation—or if when reached it be overstocked and prices not remunerative? Some of the States and Territories have for years been inviting immigration through plans systemized by legislative authority. Agents are employed to make known the advantages of seeking homes within their borders. With proper exertion our sparsely settled districts so near the two great cities, possessing, in addition to the advantages already mentioned, a salubrious climate, free schools, and good laws administered by a learned and incorruptible judiciary, can soon be filled with honest, hardy and industrious colonists. As population adds to the real wealth and prosperity of a State, the subject is worthy the attention of the Legislature.

FISHERIES.

Since the compact of 1783, between the States of Pennsylvania and New-Jersey, it has been the practice to regulate fishing in the river Delaware (except at the shore fisheries), by concurrent legislation. The Commissioners of Fisheries report that the weekly close time of fishing in that river has been changed by Pennsylvania, without inserting in the act the usual clause which provides that it shall not go into effect until this State shall pass a similar law. This was doubtless an oversight, and will probably be remedied, as the compact above referred to provides that the Delaware river, from shore to shore, shall be a common highway equally free and open for the use, benefit and advantage of each State.

At the last session of the Legislature of this State the bill making an appropriation in aid of fish culture failed to pass. The failure is not ascribed to hostility to the object. The bill met the common fate of many public acts crowded out of view by special legislation in the last hours of the session.

The United States Commissioners of Fisheries have furnished several thousand salmon spawn, which have been placed in the Musconetcong and the head waters of the Raritan. During the summer a camp was established on the Delaware for the purpose of hatching shad, and thousands were deposited in that river. Attention is directed to the recommendations of the report of the Commissioners. Fish culture is no longer an experiment. I recommend an appropriation with a view of stocking all our rivers and streams with fish.

The Commissioners appointed on behalf of New-Jersey under the act of February 26th, 1873, and the supplement thereto, to meet Commissioners on the part of the State of Delaware to negotiate respecting the territorial limits and jurisdiction of the two States, and the nature and extent of the right of the citizens of this State to fish in that part of the river claimed by the State of Delaware, have had several meetings and conferences with the Delaware Commissioners. The nature of the questions submitted to them requires much research into ancient records and documents in this country and in England, and a conclusion has not yet been reached by the joint commission. Citizens of New-Jersey have continued to fish east of the middle line of the river without molestation.

PILOTAGE.

The New-Jersey pilots have piloted during the year two thousand three hundred and eighty-eight vessels. The number boarded on "off shore ground" was nine hundred and six.

The commissioners report that the year has been one of genera prosperity with the hardy and adventurous class of men who are engaged in this most useful but dangerous calling.

STEVENS BATTERY.

The will of the late Edwin A. Stevens among other things directed as follows: "Out of the residue of my estate (excluding Castle Point, and the homestead lot and the house thereon) remaining after the payment of my debts, the said eight hundred thousand dollars in legacies and the appropriation of so much thereof as is necessary to answer the foregoing charitable bequests and devices, I empower my executors to apply not exceeding the sum of one million of dollars to finishing on my general plans, as near as may be, in the discretion of my executors, the battery known as the 'Stevens Battery,' and for the accomplishment of the said object, I give to them the use of the dock and yards and basin heretofore appropriated to the said battery and all the material provided for said battery. When said battery shall be finished I direct my executors to offer the same to the State of New-Jersey as a present, to be disposed of as the said State shall deem proper; and if not accepted by the said State, I direct my executors to sell the same and the proceeds shall fall into the residue of my estate."

In 1868 Mr. Stevens died, and his will was admitted to probate. In 1869 his executors notified the then Governor of this State that they were going on to complete the vessel, and should offer the same to the State of New-Jersey as soon as finished; and they suggested the appointment of persons on the part of the State to advise as to the details of completion and the probable disposition of the ship. Upon such notification being communicated to the Legislature, a joint resolution was passed accepting the vessel when finished and offered pursuant to the will, and authorizing the appointment of commissioners, who, with the Governor, should determine to what use the said vessel should be devoted, and to negotiate for its final disposition when finished and delivered to the State. In 1870 the Congress of the United States assented to the acceptance of the battery by the State.

In 1871, the Legislature authorized the commissioners to sell and dispose of the interest of the State in the battery, for such sum as they might be willing to accept, provided the Governor and Chief Justice should consent to such sale. Efforts were made to negotiate a sale but without success, and the vessel still lies at the dock in an unfinished condition.

From the foregoing brief statement of facts, it would naturally be inferred that no difficulty could arise that would prevent the transfer of the vessel to the State. But the Attorney General informs me that proceedings have been commenced in the Court of Chancery, contesting the State's right of property in the vessel. The executors now declare that the battery cannot be finished for the sum provided in the will. The widow and children of the testator claim that the bequest is indefinite and conditional, and therefore void. The heirs of Robert L. Stevens claim, under a resolution of Congress, passed in 1862, releasing the right of the United States to the vessel to them and their legal representatives.

It is not my purpose to argue the merits of the controversy, or present in detail the points relied on by the contestants. It is neither proper nor advisable for me to do so at this time. The rights of the State will be maintained in the courts by the Attorney General. In the course of the investigation it is possible a position may be reached where it will become necessary for the State to procure experts in naval architecture to examine the plans referred to in the will, and ascertain if the battery might have been finished on those plans for the sum therein appropriated. Authority should be given to defray the expenses attending such examination and of ascertaining any other facts which the Attorney General shall deem necessary to be proved.

It is to be regretted that such a bequest from the large-hearted and public-spirited donor to his native State should be a subject of litigation. While suit is pending the vessel is deteriorating, and if proceedings be long continued will be of little value to the successful claimant.

LANDS UNDER TIDAL WATER.

The commissioners appointed under supplement to the law of 1864, "to ascertain the rights of the State and of riparian owners in the lands lying under the waters of the Bay of New-York and elsewhere in the State," report that during the year they have signed grants and leases for lands, now or heretofore under tidal waters, which (estimating in case of leases a principal sum that will yield interest equal to annual rent reserved), amount to twenty-six thousand six hundred and fifty-four dollars and thirty-four cents. They have also acted on other grants and leases, valued at over thirty thousand dollars. Applications made in former years where sales or leases have not yet been consummated, amount to over four hundred thousand dollars. The sum realized by the State during the last fiscal year, from grants, rents and interest on proceeds of former grants, is about eighty thousand dollars—nearly all of which has gone into the School Fund.

A survey of the Delaware river in front of Camden and Gloucester cities has recently been made, and the exterior lines of wharves and piers determined. Other rivers in Monmouth, Middlesex and Cumberland counties have been surveyed, and numerous applications for grants in those localities have been received. The commissioners consider it their duty under the law to exercise the most liberal spirit in negotiating with the riparian owners. In all cases where exterior lines have been established, care has been taken to preserve uniform frontage and to secure free, open and safe navigation.

Attention is directed to the encroachments on the eastern side of the harbor of New-York. It appears by a survey made in 1767, a copy of which accompanies the commissioners' report that the width of the Hudson river opposite Castle Point, was then nearly five thousand feet. Its present width at that place is about three thousand feet. A large part of the encroachment of nearly two thousand feet at that locality, has been made within the last twenty-five years, and is entirely on the New-York side of the river. The same ancient survey proves that from what is now Fourteenth-street to the Battery, thence along East river to Corlies Hook, and also along the Brooklyn shore, there have been very great encroachments. Where ships once sailed or rode at anchor, there are now important business streets.

The filling in on the New-Jersey side of the river has been chiefly in coves and shallow water and within the exterior lines established in 1865. These lines conform substantially with recommendations of distinguished officers formerly connected with the United States Coast Survey.

The difference in the character of the encroachments on opposite sides of the river is, that while New-Jersey has filled in flats, New-York has occupied navigable waters. On the west side the deep waters are made approachable from the shore and available for commerce without interference with navigation, while on the east the channel is infringed upon and the commercial capacity of the harbor diminished.

The New-Jersey shore of the Hudson possesses many advantages which attract commerce. Connection with the great trunk lines of railway to the south and west affords facilities of shipment that will eventually bring nearly all transatlantic lines of steamers to our waters. The numerous railroads of a more local character, which traverse every portion of our State, converge to that point. In a few years an immense population will inhabit that section of New-Jersey. It is therefore very important that the magnificent harbor which lies at our doors, and in which we have an interest in common with New-York, be guarded from any encroachment that will interfere with navigation.

MILITARY.

The unsettled claims of this State against the United States government, growing out of the late war, amounting to thirty-two thousand eight hundred and sixtv-four dollars and ninety-three cents, have been presented by the Quarter Master General and filed in the proper departments. Final settlement of these claims has been urged, as yet without success. It is hoped that they will be allowed and paid during the present year.

The United States government has recently adopted a model for a new breech loading musket, with which the regular army will soon be supplied. This arm is said to be of less weight, but more durable and effective than any heretofore in use. It will be adopted for our National Guard, not only because of its merit, but also because it is desirable in case of active service, to have volunteers and regulars armed alike, so that ammunition manufactured by the government can be issued to all the troops.

Congress is charged with the duty of arming and equipping the whole body of the militia In the year 1808, when the population of the country was less than eight millions, a permanent annual appropriation of two hundred thousand dollars was made by Congress for arming and equipping the militia in the United States. The appropriation then made is now inadequate. Each State should have arms of the approved model sufficient to supply not only her active militia, but also a large part of the reserve force if called into service. A bill is now before Congress providing for an increase of the annual appropriation, which if passed will give this State one thousand stand of arms annually. There is now due New-Jersey from from the United States, under the act of 1808, on account of her quota accumulated since 1863, a sum of money equivalent to nearly three thousand stand of arms. We are promised from the United States Ordnance Department that our quota will be furnished in new model breech loaders as soon as the regular army shall be supplied, probably during the next summer.

The Adjutant General of this State has recently obtained documents of much historical interest and value, giving the roster of about two thousand Jerseymen, who, previous to the American revolution, participated in the French war. He is now employed in preparing an official register of officers and men of New-Jersey who served in the late war. It will give the record not only of those who served in our State organizations, but also of the many Jerseymen who were enlisted in the regular army, the reserve corps, the navy, marine corps, and in the colored regiments.

A part of the State taxes is annually paid into the War Fund, and a sum sufficient to meet the principal and interest of the war debt falling due is passed therefrom to the Sinking Fund. The balance of the money received in the War Fund is used to support the Home for Disabled Soldiers, the Soldiers' Children's Home, and to defray other expenses of a military nature. The amount paid from the taxes into the War Fund during the last fiscal year, including the balance on hand on October 31st, 1872, was three hundred and sixty-seven thousand five hundred and fifty-four dollars and eighty two cents, of which the sum of three hundred and sixty-three thousand and twenty-eight dollars and sixty-two cents was distributed for the objects above stated, leaving a balance in the War Fund October 31st, 1873, of four thousand five hundred and twenty-six dollars and twenty cents.

Home for Disabled Soldiers.—There has recently been an increase in the number of beneficiaries in the Home for Disabled Soldiers. The total number cared for during the year was nine hundred and sixty-four, the average number per day being three hundred and forty-eight. To defray the expenses of the Home there has been paid to the managers nearly forty thousand dollars. The cost of subsistence, clothing, medical attendance, &c., of each beneficiary was a little over one hundred and thirty dollars—equal to about thirty-six cents a day. All who claim to enjoy the privileges of the Home have been required to file new applications, and care has been taken to prevent imposition. Title to a plot of ground for burial purposes, located near the Home, has recently been acquired by the State at a cost of twelve hundred dollars. Forty-three deaths have occurred during the year. A further increase of the number of inmates of the Home is anticipated, and I recommend a continuance of the additional appropriation of last year.

SOLDIERS' CHILDREN'S HOME.—The number in the Soldiers' Children's Home is gradually diminishing. On the 31st day of October last there were one hundred and seventy-five children connected with the institution. The children are obedient and orderly, well instructed, and are making good progress. The amount paid out of the War Fund to the Treasurer of the Home during the year was thirty-six thousand four hundred and twelve dollars and fifty cents. About the same amount will be required for the current year. Applications for admission will hereafter be less frequent, and as the children now in the institution attain the age prescribed for leaving, the appropriations will gradually be diminished in amount and in a few years will entirely cease. The buildings may then be used by the State for another purpose.

MILITIA.—The number of persons in this State between the ages of eighteen and forty-five liable to perform military duty, is one hundred and thirty-one thousand five hundred and seventy-eight. The National Guard, or active uniformed militia, consists of sixty-nine companies of infantry, two of cavalry and two of artillery.

Under the law of this State passed in 1869, which provides for an encampment of the National Guard once in three years, the second brigade, consisting of twenty-three companies of infantry, one of cavalry and one of artillery, numbering in all about fifteen hundred men, went into camp at Cape May on the eighteenth day of August last and remained one week. The troops were commanded by an experienced officer, by whom strict discipline was maintained. The men were exercised in company and battalion movements and carefully instructed in the whole routine of camp and field duty. They were much improved in soldierly bearing and efficiency. As appears by a detailed statement accompanying the report of the Quarter Master General, the expenses of the encampment form a very small part of the whole annual cost of the militia.

The founders of our Republic regarded a large standing army as dangerous to the liberties of the people, and relying mainly upon the citizen soldiery of the country to preserve peace at home as well as defend from foreign invasion, they provided in the Federal constitution for a militia in the several States. The authority to train and officer the militia was reserved to the States respectively. In conformity with these provisions the Constitution of New-Jersey makes it the duty of the authorities of the State to enroll, organize and train its militia. A State without a well organized and effective militia fails in its duty to the general government. Every nation must maintain a military force, and if the several States neglect their plain constitutional duty in this regard, a large standing army, maintained at vastly greater expense, must be the result. I consider it the duty of every State not only to be prepared to enforce the law within its own borders when the civil authorities prove powerless to maintain the peace without calling for aid from regular troops, but also to be able, in case of emergency, to aid the general government with military power. With this view of constitutional duty the military authorities of New-Jersey have labored to thoroughly organize, equip and discipline her militia. The material of our National Guard is unsurpassed by any military organization in the country. The Arsenal is well supplied with all that is necessary for camp or field duty, and if required, three thousand disciplined troops, completely uniformed, well armed and equipped, under distinguished veteran officers, can be concentrated at any point in the State, ready for active service, upon a few hours notice.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

The Commissioners appointed in conformity with a resolution of the last legislature, to suggest and prepare amendments to the State Constitution, have finished their labors and forwarded a report of the result of their deliberations, copies of which I herewith transmit. The changes proposed are few in number but are generally of an important character. Upon most of the amendments recommended by the Commission my views were fully expressed in my last annual message, and I will not now repeat the reasons then given in favor of their adoption.

In the midst of the urgent and exciting business of the session, it was impossible for the Legislature to give sufficient deliberation to the preparation of amendments to the organic law. A Constitutional Commission was therefore authorized to consider and carefully put in proper form, such amendments as should seem desirable. The Commission had no power to make a Constitution, as some in their criticism seemed to imply, nor could it even submit the proposed amendments to a popular vote, but it was a body merely advisory to the Legislature, a committee of able and experienced gentlemen residing in various sections of the State, to aid in the most important work legislators can be called upon to do. It is for the present Legislature to determine whether all or any of the reported amendments, or any others not reported, shall be hereafter submitted to the people for adoption or rejection. These or other specific amendments may be proposed in the Senate or general Assembly, and if the same be agreed to by both Houses, will be entered on the journals and referred to the next Legislature to decide whether they shall be submitted to the people.

On account of the vacancies produced by death and other causes, considerable time elapsed after the organization of the Commission before it entered actively upon the duties assigned, but after the various committees were appointed the members applied themselves diligently to the business in hand, and as the result have presented a series of amendments, which, in the main, must commend themselves to the favor of the people. Seldom has a deliberative body convened in which so little local prejudice or partizan feeling existed, or in which greater patriotism, wisdom and discretion were displayed.

I recommend that provision be made for the necessary expenses of the Commission, and that compensation be voted to its members and officers.

CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION.

In 1871 the Congress of the United States passed an act providing for the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of American Independence. It was determined to celebrate the event in the city where the Declaration of Independence was signed, by an international exhibition of arts, manufactures and the products of the soil and mine. Soon after the passage of the act above referred to, a corporate body called the "United States Centennial Commission," consisting of representatives from each State and Territory, was organized, charged with the duty of maturing a plan, and selecting a site for the exhibition.

In 1872 the "Centennial Board of Finance" was incorporated. The members of that body in the various States and Territories were to procure subscriptions to capital stock, amounting in all to ten millions of dollars, with which it was designed to erect buildings and conduct the exhibition on a scale of magnificence and grandeur becoming a great nation, and the importance of the event to be commemorated. The New-Jersey Corporators held several meetings, appointed agents to procure subscriptions, and issued an address to the people explaining the object, and urging subscriptions to the stock allotted as the just proportion of this Commonwealth. I regret to be obliged to state that the response anticipated has not been made to that appeal.

In the meantime Congress enacted that whenever the President of the United States should be informed by the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania that provision had been made for the erection of suitable buildings and for the exclusive control of the exhibition by the United States Centennial Commission, he should make proclamation of the same, setting forth the time and place when and where the exhibition would open, and that he should communicate to the diplomatic representatives of all nations copies of his proclamation, with such regulations as might be adopted by the commissioners, for publication in their respective countries. On the 24th day of June last, the Governor of Pennsylvania, upon certificate on behalf of the Centennial Commission and the Finance Committee to the effect that such provision had been made, so informed the President of the United States, and on the 3d day of July the President officially proclaimed that the exhibition would be held in the city of Philadelphia, to be opened on the 19th day of April, Anno Domini eighteen hundred and seventy-six, and closed on the nineteenth day of October of the same year, and in behalf of this government and people commended the celebration and exhibition to all nations.

From the the above brief recital of the initial steps that have been taken, it will be observed that the government and people of the United States are committed to the success of the exhibition. Should it fail, the country would be disgraced in the eyes of the civilized world, and every American citizen would feel humiliated. It is time that the people should be made to understand and realize that the success or failure of the Centennial Exhibition depends upon present action. The arrangements for so grand an enterprise on so extensive a scale cannot be made in a day, a month, or a year. It is not wise for us to shut our eyes to the fact that the plan inaugurated by Congress to raise the necessary funds has not succeeded as was hoped and that something must speedily be done to ensure that result. It is true that the people of Pennsylvania, especially in the city of Philadelphia, have responded nobly with material aid. It was through the liberality of the authorities and citizens of Philadelphia that the President of the United States was able to announce that the exhibition would be held, but that announcement was based upon the expectation that the people of other sections of the country would add to their generous contributions. Only a sufficient sum was subscribed to justify the commencement of the great work, and it was not supposed that it would be left to one city or one State to complete it.

I am satisfied that the failure of the people of New-Jersey thus far to take an active part in promoting the success of the exhibition has resulted in a great degree from an impression that the time for action had not come. Surely Jerseymen cannot be indifferent to the object. No State in the Union sacrificed more to maintain the Declaration of Independence than New-Jersey, and none has derived greater benefits from the institutions founded upon that instrument. She gave to the cause of liberty her blood, her wisdom and her treasure. She was the highway of contending armies throughout the revolutionary war. There is scarcely an acre of soil within her borders that was not trod by the foot of the invader. There was scarcely a family that did not mourn its heroic dead, who fell that the Declaration might remain a living power for the diffusion of free principles throughout the world in all coming time. The descendants of revolutionary sires certainly do not need urging in such a cause. As soon as they realize the magnitude of the undertaking, and that what is to be done must be done quickly, they will contribute their full share toward its accomplishment.

It will, however take time to obtain subscriptions and collect funds from the people, and it is evident that the plan devised by Congress, already so long delayed in execution, will not alone produce the required amount soon enough to answer the purposes of the Centennial Commission. To secure such an exhibition as the occasion demands the general government must at once appropriate a sum of money sufficiently large to enable the Commissioners to proceed promptly and actively to carry forward their plans for the construction of the necessary buildings, trusting to the States and to the people to supplement the amount until the requisite sum be obtained. Congress inaugurated the movement under national auspices, and the President of the United States has announced to all nations that the exhibition will be held; the people desire that it shall be held, and they expect Congress to make such provision as will not only insure it against possibility of failure, but render it at least equal to any international exhibition that has been held in any part of the world. To that end I recommend the passage of resolutions requesting the Senators and Representatives in Congress from this State to favor and vote for such appropriation.

I also recommend the passage of an act giving authority for the appointment of five "State Centennial Managers," who with the United States Commissioner for this State and the Alternate Commissioner, shall constitute a State Board of Centennial Managers to provide for the arrangement of preliminaries, give information to the people so as to secure a thorough representation of the State in the exhibition, apportion space among exhibitors, and supervise generally the New-Jersey Department. An appropriation should be made to cover the incidental expenses of such Board of Managers. The State Geologist should also be authorized and instructed to collect and arrange the minerals of the State for exhibition. Resolutions should be passed commending the object to the people, requesting them to subscribe for stock, and recommending the holding of meetings in every part of the State to ensure a full exposition of our varied manufactures and products.

The way proposed is the proper one to celebrate the Centennial year of American Independence. Mere military parades and illuminations would not be sufficient. The true method is to hold a grand international exposition, and give to all the nations of the earth ocular demonstration of what a hundred years of republican government has here done to develop art, science and skilled labor.

It is also proper that the great celebration should commence on the anniversary of the first battle of the revolution at Lexington, and close on the anniversary of the final victory at Yorktown.

It is most fitting that the nation should hold its Centennial in the city of its birth, where the great chart of freedom was prepared, signed and promulgated. There the representatives of every State and Territory will meet around the altar at which their forefathers met, renew their allegiance, and in the presence of all nations rejoice that they still have a united country.

CONCLUSION.

Rapid as has been the progress of this infant nation in material wealth and greatness, her progress will undoubtedly be more rapid in the next hundred years. Most of the difficulties which surrounded her in the beginning have ceased to exist. The institution of slavery, introduced long before the revolution, and which was a constant menace to her peace, is at an end. Secession has been proved a political heresy. The States have rights which should be firmly maintained, but it has been settled for all time that to secede from the Union at pleasure, without the consent of the other States, is not a right. Official corruption, the remaining evil that threatens the country, must and will be eradicated by a union of all good citizens. This accomplished, and the nation as she enters upon another century of existence, will rise to a still higher sphere of life. At the rate of increase that has marked her progress in the past, she will at the close of the next century contain a population of hundreds of millions. As the leading power of the West, she will announce and maintain the policy that should control America. That policy will surely be either annexation to herself or the maintenance of republican government in all the countries and islands of this hemisphere. The oppressed people of every clime, especially those in her vicinage struggling for independence, will have her sympathy and recognition. Barbarities which disgrace humanity and shock the civilized world will no longer be tolerated. The shackles of the slave will be broken wherever her policy extends. And this, the American policy of the second century of the existence of the nation, will be upheld by her—not for the purpose of aggrandizement—not for the sake of exercising arbitrary force—not from motives of ambition that would delight in agitation or conflict of arms—but as a duty imposed by the Supreme Ruler of the Universe on this the great power of the Western Hemisphere, to elevate humanity therein and diffuse the blessings of of liberty and Christian civilization.

Mr. Sewell offered the following concurrent resolution:

Whereas, The Constitution of the United States charges Congress with the duty of providing for organizing, arming and disciplining the militia of the several states, and Congress did, in pursuance thereof, on the twenty-third day of April, eighteen hundred and eight, pass a law making a permanent annual appropriation of two hundred thousand dollars to provide arms as aforesaid, to be apportioned among the several states; and

Whereas, The population of the United States has increased since that period from eight millions to over forty millions, and the cost of labor and material in the manufacture of ordnance stores has advanced so that the quota of this state has become reduced to a number entirely inadequate to meet the wants of the organized militia companies, thereby imposing an onerous charge upon the treasury of this state to meet the necessary requirements ; and

Whereas, The Governor of this state, in his annual message to the Legislature, has called attention to the necessity of providing additional means for arming the militia with the improved breech-loading arms, and to a bill now pending before Congress for making the permanent annual appropriation one million dollars, for the purpose of providing arms and ordnance stores for the whole body of the militia of the United States ; therefore, be it

Resolved, (The House of Assembly concurring,) That the Senators in Congress from this state be instructed and the Representatives requested to urge and vote for the passage of the bill now before Congress, entitled "A bill making provisions for arming and equipping the whole body of the militia of the United States, and for other purposes."

Which was agreed to.

Mr. Newkirk, Chairman of the Committee on Engrossed Bills, reported

An act to change the name of the Hudson Towage Company.

As correctly engrossed.

Mr. Moore offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That each member and officer of the Senate be furnished by the State Treasurer with a copy each of Nixon's Forms and Cushing's Law and Practice of Legislative Assemblies.

Which was read and agreed to.

A message was received from the House of Assembly by the hands of their Clerk, announcing that the House of Assembly had concurred in the following Senate resolution :

Resolved, (House of Assembly concurring), That there be be appointed, in addition to the existing committees, a Joint Committee on Centennial Celebration.

Without amendment.

Also, that the House had concurred in the following concurrent resolution :

Whereas, The Congress of the United States has, by an act passed in eighteen hundred and seventy-one, provided for the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of American Independence in the City of Philadelphia, and the President of the United States has, by proclamation, invited the attention of all nations to this celebration ; and

Whereas, It is absolutely essential to the success of this proposed celebration that a considerable sum of money should be promptly raised ; therefore, be it

Resolved, (The House of Assembly concurring,) That we request the Senators and Representatives in Congress from New-Jersey to vote for such an appropriation as shall enable those having the matter in charge to discharge the duties devolved upon them in accordance with the requirements of the occasion.

Resolved, That the Governor be authorized to forward a copy of this preamble and resolution to each of our Senators and Representatives in Congress.

The President laid before the Senate the following communication:

To the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New-Jersey:

The undersigned, by instruction of The Editorial Association of the State of New-Jersey, respectfully call your attention to the following official action of said Association:

The following Protest against the unnecessary increase of official newspapers in this State was presented to the Legislature of eighteen hundred and seventy-one:

"To the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New-Jersey:

"The undersigned, in behalf, and by instruction of The Editorial Association of the State of New-Jersey, take leave respectfully to protest against the passage of any special act referring to the annual publication of the laws of the state at variance with the law now in existence. This law is liberal in its terms, and gives to every inhabitant of the state the means to become acquainted with the laws by which they are to be governed, through the medium of established newspapers, without affording to other publications of an ephemeral character, or which do not come properly under the title of 'newspapers,' the opportunity of occasioning an increased and unnecessary expenditure by the State Treasury.

"For the Association, DAVID NAAR, President.
"JOHN F. BABCOCK, Secretary.
"Trenton, N. J., January 17th, 1871."

The following copy of a bill, prepared by the Editorial Association, was presented to the Legislature of eighteen hundred and seventy-three, and recommended by said Association for adoption :

"An act to provide for the publication of the Laws in the newspapers of the State.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New-Jersey, That all general public laws enacted at each session of the Legislature shall be published in all of the newspapers in the State which have been published for three years consecutively prior to the commencement of the legislative session at which such laws shall be enacted; provided, however, that this limitation of three years shall not apply to any newspaper which was in existence for more than one year prior to the commencement of the session of the Legislature of eighteen hundred and seventy-three.

2. And be it enacted, That all special public laws enacted at each session of the Legislature shall be published in the newspapers authorized to publish the general laws in the counties only to which said special laws appertain, and the expenses of such publication shall be paid by the Boards of Freeholders of said counties at the rates now provided by law.

3. And be it enacted, That where more than one newspaper shall be printed and published from the same office, as morning and evening editions, or weekly editions, or more than one daily edition of such newspaper, then in such case the laws shall be published in one edition only.

4. And be it enacted, That it shall not be deemed a legal and proper publication of the laws for any newspaper to publish the same in a supplement or supplements.

5. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts contrary to or inconsistent with this act, be and the same are hereby repealed.

6. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately."

The following resolution was adopted by the Editorial Association at its Annual Meeting, held in Trenton, January fifteenth, eighteen hundred and seventy-four :

Resolved, That this Association view the subject of the publication of the laws as one over which they do not desire to exercise any control; that upon the Legislature alone devolves the responsibility of deciding the manner in which the people of the state are to be made acquainted with the laws passed for their government; that the publication of the laws in newspapers has not been needed or asked as a means of support for any honestly established journal, and the encouragement by public charity of papers that would otherwise have no existence is earnestly deprecated by this Association; that any enactment by the Legislature toward retrenchment or economy in the matter will be endorsed by this Association, if consistent with the public interests, and if the various regular papers of the state are treated without sectional or political partiality.

For the Association, A. A. VANCE, President.
JOHN F. BABCOCK, Secretary.

In which the concurrence of the Senate was requested.

Also, that the House of Assembly had concurred in the following concurrent resolution :

Whereas, The Constitution of the United States charges Congress with the duty of providing for organizing, arming and disciplining the militia of the several states, and Congress did, in pursuance thereof, on the twenty-third day of April, eighteen hundred and eight, pass a law making a permanent annual appropriation of two hundred thousand dollars to provide arms as aforesaid, to be apportioned among the several states ; and

Whereas, The population of the United States has increased since that period from eight millions to over forty millions, and the cost of labor and material in the manufacture of ordnance stores has advanced so that the quota of this state has become reduced to a number entirely inadequate to meet the wants of the organized militia companies, thereby imposing an onerous charge upon the treasury of this state to meet the necessary requirements ; and

Whereas, The Governor of this state, in his annual message to the Legislature, has called attention to the necessity of providing additional means for arming the militia with the improved breech-loading arms, and to a bill now pending before Congress for making the permanent annual appropriation one million dollars, for the purpose of providing arms and ordnance stores for the whole body of the militia of the United States ; therefore, be it

Resolved, (The House of Assembly concurring,) That the Senators in Congress from this state be instructed and the Representatives requested to urge and vote for the passage of the bill now before Congress, entitled "A bill making provisions for arming and equipping the whole body of the militia of the United States, and for other purposes."

The President laid before the Senate the following communication:

NEW-JERSEY HISTORICAL SOCIETY,
NEWARK, January 21, 1874.

At a meeting of the New-Jersey Historical Society, held at Trenton, January fifteenth, eighteen hundred and seventy-four, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That this Society does respectfully remonstrate against the adoption of the proposed change in the Constitution of New-Jersey, which will take from the Legislature the power of continuing such exemptions from taxation as by charter have been granted to this Society, and other educational, charitable and religious institutions; not only because it is, so far as this Society is concerned, a violation of the good faith of the state, but also because on general principles it is opposed to the true policy of the state, in fostering the religious and mental culture of her people, the cause of good morals, and her progress in civilization.

Resolved, That copies of the preceding resolution be forwarded by the Corresponding Secretary to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Assembly of this state.

A true copy from the minutes.

DAVID A. HAYES,
Recording Secretary.

Which was read and laid on the table.

The President laid before the Senate the following communication:

STATE OF NEW-JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, January 21, 1874.

Gentlemen of the Senate and General Assembly:

On the third day of March last the Legislature of this state passed an act entitled "An act providing for decreeing and making known that certain laws and joint resolutions have become inoperative and void." The sixth section of that act makes it the duty of the Comptroller of the Treasury to report to the Governor every bill with date of its approval or passage since the eighteenth day of March, A. D. eighteen hundred and fifty-nine, that has become inoperative and void by reason of non-payment of the sum assessed thereon under the act entitled "An act to increase the revenues of the state of New-Jersey," approved March sixth, eighteen hundred and fifty-eight, and the supplement thereto. The same section requires the Governor, upon receiving such report from the Comptroller, to issue his proclamation under the Great Seal of the state, setting forth the particulars of said report, and to file the same in the office of the Secretary of State. It further provides that a certified copy of such proclamation, or the copy thereof duly printed in the laws, be competent evidence that the laws enumerated therein have become inoperative and void.

In accordance with the provisions of said act the Comptroller has made a report, and I have issued the required proclamation, specifying the bills reported to me as having become inoperative, and have filed it with the Secretary of State.

In many instances the omission to pay the assessment has resulted from inadvertance, and in other cases from an impression that the bills were not of the character contemplated by the acts providing for assessment.

In numerous instances companies have organized in good faith under bills included in the report and proclamation, and have been in operation for several years. Unless revived and made operative, much hardship and inconvenience will result to innocent parties, who have invested money under these acts. I therefore recommend such legislation as will make valid each of the acts named in said proclamation, and legalize all proceedings under them upon such conditions as to payment of assessment as to the Legislature may seem equitable and proper. JOEL PARKER.

Which was read and laid on the table.

Mr. Sheppard presented a memorial from members and friends of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, of Salem County, relative to the taxation of church property.

Which was read and laid on the table.

Messrs. Cutler, Havens, Hendrickson, Hewitt, Hopper, Lydecker, Newkirk, Sewell, Sheppard, Smith, Stone, Taylor (President), Thorn, Wood—14.

The President then laid before the Senate the following communication :

STATE OF NEW-JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, January 28, 1874.

To the Senate :

In response to the resolution of the Senate requesting information in reference to the Kearney statue, I communicate the following statement of facts : In the year eighteen hundred and sixty-eight, a joint resolution was passed by the Legislature of the state of New-Jersey, appropriating the sum of ten thousand dollars to procure the statues of Richard Stockton, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, and Major-General Philip Kearney, U. S. Volunteer Army, to be contributed by New-Jersey to the National Statuary Gallery at Washington. It was found that the sum voted was not sufficient to accomplish the object, and at the last session of the Legislature an additional appropriation of five thousand dollars was made. A commission, consisting of the Governor, President of the Senate, Speaker of the House of Assembly, and three citizens, to be appointed by the Governor, was, by the law of last year, authorized to take charge of the work without expense to the state for their services, and the Treasurer of the state was required to pay the moneys expended for the object on order of a majority of the commissioners. In February last, the commissioners entered into a contract with Henry K. Brown, sculptor, of Newburgh, in the state of New-York, by which it was agreed that for the consideration of fifteen thousand dollars appropriated by the state of New-Jersey, and the sum of eleven hundred and seventy-six dollars and forty cents, being the money known as the "Soldiers' Statue Fund," the said Brown would make for this state two life-size statues, viz: one of bronze of Major-General Kearney, and one of marble of Richard Stockton, in two years from the date of the agreement; both statues to be placed and set up by said Brown, complete in all respects, in the capitol at Washington. It was further agreed that on the completion of the statue of Kearney, one-half of the above sum should be paid to Mr. Brown by an order on the Treasurer, signed by the commissioners or a majority of them; and on the completion of the statue of Richard Stockton, and the setting up of both, at the cost and charge of said Brown for all expense of transportation, &c., in the capitol at Washington, the balance of the money, on like order, should be paid. Soon after the execution of the agreement the artist entered upon his work, and in a short time completed the model in clay of Kearney. The commissioners were notified of the fact, and were invited by Mr. Brown to visit his studio. No objection being made to the model, the statue was cast at the works of Robert Wood and Son, in Philadelphia. Mr. Brown was prepared to forward it to Washington, but at the suggestion of some of the commissioners, it was sent to the city of Trenton, to remain until the other statue be completed, when it is intended to place both in the National Capitol. After the statue of Kearney was completed, and sent to Trenton, the commissioners were called together for the purpose of examining it, and, if satisfactory, to sign an order for payment. They accepted the statue, and an order for the money due was given and placed in the hands of the Treasurer. Before final acceptance, the attention of the commissioners was directed to the fact that the material donated to the state of New-Jersey by resolution of Congress of the United States, was not used to cast the statue. After the agreement was executed, Congress donated six bronze guns to the state, to be used in the Kearney statue. These guns went into the possession of Mr. Brown. For some reason they were not used for the object designated by Congress. One of the guns was melted and the other five have been re-delivered to the state, and tendered through the Quartermaster-General to the United States Ordnance Department. By the contract Mr. Brown was to furnish the material for the statue, and the commission could not reject it because the bronze afterward given by the United States for that purpose was not used. The attention of the commissioners was also directed to parts of the dress which differ from the United States army regulations. Upon inquiry of intimate friends of General Kearney, some of whom were his companions in arms, it appeared that the representation of the uniform in the statue accorded with the manner in which it was usually worn by General Kearney. The commission had power to make the contract, the statue has been accepted, and an order on the Treasurer for the money has been given.

[Signed,] JOEL PARKER.

Which was read and laid on the table.

On motion of Mr. Stone, the Senate then adjourned.

ARTICLE V.

EXECUTIVE.

Amend Article V., paragraph 10, by striking out the words, "and the six judges of the court of errors and appeals," and insert "the justices of the supreme court."

ARTICLE VI.

JUDICIARY.

Section I.

Strike out paragraph 1, in Article VI., and insert the following :

"1. The judicial power shall be vested in a supreme court in the last resort in all cases, both of law and equity ; a court for the trial of impeachments ; a court of chancery ; a prerogative court ; circuit courts, and such inferior courts as now exist, and as may be hereafter ordained and established by law ; which inferior court the legislature may alter or abolish as the public good may require."

Strike out all of Section 2.

Section IV.

Strike out all of paragraphs 1, 2, 3 and 4, and insert as follows:

"1. The court of chancery shall consist of a chancellor, who shall be ordinary, or surrogate general, and judge of the prerogative court; and the legislature may provide for the appointment of one or more vice-chancellors, not to exceed three, and each vice-chancellor shall have and exercise such powers and jurisdiction as the legislature may from time to time confer, including the full power of the court of chancery and the chancellor."

"2. All persons aggrieved by any order, sentence or decree of the orphans' court may appeal from the same, or from any part thereof, to the prerogative court, or directly to the supreme court."

Section V.

Strike out all of paragraphs 1, 2 and 3, and insert:

"1. The supreme court shall have appellate jurisdiction in all cases of law and equity, and original jurisdiction in all cases of treason against the state, habeas corpus and certiorari, and exclusive original jurisdiction in cases of mandamus, quo warranto, and other prerogative writs and precepts; and the court shall have the power to execute and enforce its own judgments and decrees; the court shall consist of not less than three nor more than seven justices, and the number of the justices may be fixed by the legislature from time to time; and judgments from the inferior courts may be docketed in this court; and the clerk of the present supreme court shall be the clerk of the court, and hold his office until his present commission expires.

"2. The circuit courts shall have original common law jurisdiction in all cases except those of a criminal nature, and except those of a mandamus, quo warranto, and prerogative writs and precepts; the circuit courts shall have such jurisdiction by the writ of certiorari and habeas corpus as the legislature may, from time to time, confer; the legislature may confer upon the circuit courts equity jurisdiction in common law cases where an equitable defence is set up, or an equity arises in the cause."

"3. The legislature shall, from time to time, divide the state into as many circuits as the public good shall require, and one judge shall be appointed for each circuit, to hold the circuit court therein, but such judge may hold the court of any other circuit; and every county containing over fifty thousand inhabitants shall constitute one circuit, and for every county containing over one hundred thousand inhabitants two circuit judges shall be appointed; and for every additional fifty thousand inhabitants over one hundred thousand an additional circuit judge shall be appointed."

"4. The circuit judges shall take the places of the present justices of the supreme court in the courts of oyer and terminer and general jail delivery, quarter sessions of the peace, orphans' courts, and inferior court of common pleas."

"5. Final judgments in any circuit court may be brought by writ of error into the supreme court."

Section VI.

Strike out paragraph 1 and 2, and insert:

"1. There shall be, besides the judges of the circuit courts, who may be ex-officio judges of said court, no more than two judges of the inferior court of common pleas in each of the counties in this state after the terms of the judges of said court now in office shall terminate; the commissions for the appointment of judges of said court shall bear date and take effect on the first day of April, except commissions to fill vacancies, which shall bear date and take effect when issued."

ARTICLE VII.

CIVIL OFFICERS.

Section II.

Strike out all of paragraph 1 and 2, and insert as follows:

"1. The present justices of the supreme court shall constitute the supreme court herein provided for, and shall hold their offices until their present commissions expire; and after the expiration of the term of the present chief justice, the justice whose commission has the shortest period to run, shall be the chief justice; and if two commissions bear date on the same day, then the two justices shall decide the same by lot; the present chancellor and vice chancellor shall hold their offices until their present commissions expire; justices of the supreme court, chancellor, circuit judges, and judges of the inferior court of common pleas shall be nominated by the governor and appointed by him, with the advice and consent of the senate; the justices of the supreme court, chancellor, vice-chancellor, and circuit judges shall hold their offices for the term of seven years; they shall, at stated times, receive for their services a compensation to be paid out of the treasury of the state, which shall not be increased or diminished during the term of their appointments, and they shall hold no other office under the government of this state, or of the United States; judges of the inferior court of common pleas shall hold their offices for the period of five years."

Said amendments were read and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Smith, on leave, presented the following letter :

TRENTON, New-Jersey,
February 23, 1874.

To the Honorable Library Committee of the Senate and House of Assembly of New-Jersey :

GENTLEMEN :—The number of books lost and stolen, mutilated and defaced during the past has been so great that I have to urge most earnestly for the preservation of the books, as well as of valuable sets of the same, some of which are even now in an incomplete condition, that I may be allowed an assistant, as recommended in the Governor's message. The work of the office, even when the Legislature and courts are not in session, is of such a nature as almost constantly to confine the Librarian to such an extent that the Library used and visited by large numbers daily, cannot be guarded as it evidently needs to be.

Yours, respectfully,
JAMES S. McDANOLDS,
State Librarian.

We, the Commissioners of the Library, believe such assistance necessary for the proper care of the Library :

M. BEASLEY, C. J.,
THEODORE RUNYON, C.,
HENRY C. KELSEY, Sec. of State,
A. L. RUNYON, Comptroller,
JOSEPHUS SOOY, Jr., Treasurer.

Which was read and laid on the table.

A message was received from His Excellency, the Governor, by the hands of his Private Secretary, enclosing the following communications :

STATE OF NEW-JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
March 4, 1874.

To the Legislature :—I have received a letter from an officer of a savings bank, in this state, which is included in the list of inoperative acts made by the comptroller, under the law of last year, claiming that the said bank is not and never has been liable to assessment, because of a clause in its charter which declares that it shall be a public act. A legal opinion to the same has been forwarded to me

I have always supposed that the object of inserting that provision in acts plainly of a private character, was to obviate the necessity of pleading them specially, but as doubt exists as to the effect of the language, I recommend that no private act be declared a public act unless a clause be added providing that such language shall not be construed to exempt the law from assessment as a private act.

A savings bank has been chartered by a law passed at the present session which declares the act to be a public act. I did not return it for reconsideration, but permitted it to become a law because the money to pay the assessment was deposited with the Secretary of State.

This fact, together with the opinion recently given, have directed my attention to the subject, and have induced me to recommend that the legislature will take care that no words be used that will exempt private acts from assessment under existing laws. [Signed] JOEL PARKER.

STATE OF NEW-JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Trenton, March 5, 1874.

To the Legislature :—By act of Congress, passed May fifteenth, eighteen hundred and twenty, no light-house beacon, or land-mark shall be built or erected on any site unless cession of jurisdiction over the same be previously made to the United States. This act is in accordance with constitutional provisions.

Several appropriations for light-houses on sub-marine sites have been made by congress which cannot be used until jurisdiction be ceded to the United States. Some of these appropriations expire before the next session of the legislature.

The secretary of the treasury of the United States has requested me to bring the subject to the attention of the legislature.

I recommend the passage of a law for ceding to the general government sites for light-houses and other aids to navigation, to be built on submerged foundations, and also authorizing the conveyance of the title of the state to such sites covered by tidal water to the United States, upon such terms and conditions in each case as may be agreed upon by the governor, president of the senate, speaker of the house of assembly, and comptroller for the time being, upon the advice of the attorney general of the state.

Care should he taken to reserve in the law concurrent jurisdiction on the part of the state ; to forbid the use of any part of the lands for quarantine purposes, and to provide for the reversion of the title to the state, if the United States should cease to use the land for the purposes aforesaid.

The letter of the secretary of the treasury is herewith transmitted :

[Signed], JOEL PARKER.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Washington, D. C., January 26th, 1874.

Sir :—I have the honor to call your attention to the seventh section of the act of congress, passed May fifteenth, eighteen hundred and twenty, (3 Stat., p. 600,) providing that no light-house, beacon, nor land-mark shall be built or erected on any site previous to the cession of jurisdiction over the same being made to the United States. This law was passed in accordance with the sixteenth and seventeenth clauses of Section 8, of Article 1, of the Constitution.

Under the impression that the general Government had jurisdiction over the navigable waters within the United States, and the land covered thereby, light-houses have, from time to time, been erected on submarine sites within the territorial limits of the states, without procuring the cession of jurisdiction required by the act of May fifteenth, eighteen hundred and twenty.

It is understood now, that the states may have jurisdiction over lands covered by the navigable waters within their territorial limits. In order to cure the defect arising from the possible misapprehension referred to, and to provide for the present as well as the future, I have the honor to request, in the interests of commerce and navigation, that you recommend to the legislature of your state the passage of a general law ceding to the United States jurisdiction in all cases of sites of light-houses and other aids to navigation, built on submerged foundations, and where the land under water is owned by the state, providing for the cession to the United States of the land also.

At the present time the Light-House Establishment has several appropriations for the construction of light-houses on submarine sites, which cannot be used till jurisdiction over the sites shall have been ceded to the United States, and as the period for which many of these appropriations was made will expire on th first of July next, it is of the utmost importance to commerce that the legislative action asked for should be had at the earliest possible moment.

A form of a law which, it is believed, will cover all such cases, is herewith submitted to your consideration.

I am, Sir, Very Respectfully, Your Obd't Servant,

WM. A. RICHARDSON,
Secretary of the Treasury.

His Excellency, JOEL PARKER, Governor of New-Jersey, Trenton, N. J.

Which were read and laid on the table.

Mr. Hopkins offered the following resolution:

Whereas, It appears, at page four hundred and eight, in the official, printed report of the testimony taken by a select committee appointed on March eleventh, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, by the Assembly of the state of New-York, to investigate alleged mismanagement on the part of the Erie Railway Company, that on April fifth, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, Peter H. Watson, President of said company, testified before said committee as follows:

"About the commencement of the present session of this Legislature, several persons spoke to me on the question of fares; they said that was a vulnerable point, and there would most likely be a good deal of hostile legislation on that point, unless we resorted to the practice that heretofore had been adopted in relation to that class of things."

"Question.—I propose to ask again, who it was who so approached you: whether he was a member of the Legislature, or otherwise; who intimated to you that it was necessary to make use of the usual appliances to prevent legislation?"

"Answer.—There have been a variety of those persons who have given information of that kind, and when the committee of the New-Jersey Legislature came over, that question came up. I said to them, I had rather spend money to get some of them into the penitentiary, than to pay anything to avert hostile legislation. I have refused to pay anything in New-Jersey, Pennsylvania or New-York; I have said so to all who came making such intimations as I have indicated." And

Whereas, By a report of the proceedings of a meeting of the English shareholders of said railway, held at the Cannon-street Hotel, in the city of London, Great Britain, on September twenty-fifth, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, printed in the New-York World of October sixth, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, it appears that said President, in a speech then and there made to said shareholders, stated, among other things, that "he had stopped the one million, two hundred thousand dollars, which were formerly sent to Albany; that some of the members of the New-Jersey Legislature had intimated that a little money would stop hostile legislation, and that he had said that he would not pay them a cent, but would pay thirty thousand dollars in order to get some of them into the penitentiary ;" and

Whereas, It appears by said report that such statements were made to said English shareholders with the intent, and for the purpose of inducing them to make a loan of thirty millions of dollars to said Erie Railway Company ; and

Whereas, Said Peter H. Watson, in January, eighteen hundred and seventy three, issued to the members of the Legislature of New-Jersey limited passes over said railway, instead of the annual passes as required by the statutes of this state, granting certain franchises to said company ; and

Whereas, It is alleged that the committee from the New-Jersey Legislature, to which said Wateon refers, visited him solely for the purpose of apprising him of and enabling him to correct his error in the issue of such improper and limited passes, and to procure their annual Erie passes for eighteen hundred and seventy-three, and for no other purpose or purposes whatever ; and

Whereas, It is alleged that, subsequently, and in April and May, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, sundry persons in the employ of said Peter H. Watson, with his knowledge and by his approbation, procured and purchased from several members of the New-Jersey legislature, their said passes for eighteen hundred and seventy-three, theretofore issued to them by said president, and that his said employees thereupon returned the same to him ; and

Whereas, The said testimony and statements thus alleged to have been published by said Watson, are slanderous and tend to injure the reputation of New-Jersey, and the character of her representatives, and such proceedings, as above set forth to have been by him done and permitted, are highly reprehensible ; now, therefore

Resolved, That a select committee of three, to be appointed by the president, be and they are hereby authorized and directed to investigate the truth of said respective allegations touching the character and conduct of the members of this senate, and of said improper and corrupt acts, and to report thereon to this senate, within ten days, with their opinion as to what legislation or action is necessary in the premises, and that said committee be authorized to send for persons and papers.

Which was read and agreed to, and Messrs. Hopkins, Potts, and Hendrickson appointed as said committee.

Mr. Taylor (President), on leave, introduced

On motion of Mr. Smith, the Senate then adjourned.

TUESDAY, March 17, 1874.

At ten o'clock the Senate met.

The session was opened with prayer by the Rev. E. L. Reed.

Under the direction of the President, the Secretary called the Senate, when the following Senators appeared and answered the call :

Messrs. Cutler, Havens, Hendrickson, Hewitt, Hopkins, Hopper, Leaming, Lydecker, Moore, Newkirk, Sewell, Sheppard, Smith, Stone, Taylor (President), Thorn, Wood —17.

The Journal of Monday was read and approved.

Mr. Taylor (President), presented a petition from citizens of this state, requesting the Legislature to enact a law making it the duty of every teacher of a public school in this state to prohibit the use of alcoholic drinks and tobacco in all its forms, by the scholars, etc.

Which was read and laid on the table.

Mr. Havens, Chairman of the Committee on the Sinking Fund, presented the following report :

The undersigned, a joint committee of the Senate and General Assembly of the state of New-Jersey, appointed to examine the accounts, vouchers, and assets of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, do hereby report the fulfillment of their duty, and the result of their investigations, as follows:

That they have found the accounts of the said fund accurately stated and made up to the first of February, instant, (1874,) and in conformity with the annexed statement.

ASSETS.

The assets of the fund consist of registered bonds of the state of New-Jersey		$201,000 00
Coupon bonds of the state of New-Jersey		23,400 00
Coupon bonds of the city of Trenton for $22,000, cost		20,240 00
Bonds secured by mortgage on property in the state of New-Jersey		1,068,100 00
		$1,312,740 00
Balances in bank, as follows:
Hudson County National Bank	$6,134 09
First National Bank of Jersey City,	2,226 08
Trenton Banking Company	8,665 00	17,025 17
		$1,329,765 17
PER CONTRA.
Balance to the state of New Jersey		$1,313,252 27
DEDUCT.
Bonds paid and cancelled January 1st	$100,000 00
Interest paid on Coupon bonds	44,745 00
Interest paid on registered bonds,	34,722 00	179,467 00
		$1,133,785 27
Received from State Treasurer on account of quota of state tax	$155,000 00
Received from John T. Woodward for interest due April 1st,	525 00
Received interest on loans accrued previous to April 1st, 1873	1,011 25
Received interest on loans accrued since April 1st, 1873, to the credit of State Treasury in obedience to supplement to act 3d and 4th April, 1873	39,443 65	195,979 90
		$1,329,765 17

Of interest due by the state on registered bonds, there was unpaid on the above date, $390.

Of interest due by the state on coupon bonds, there is still unpaid, $2916, as follows : in 1868, $60 ; in 1871, $30 ; in 1872, $510 ; in 1873, $690 ; in 1874. $1626.

On the above date there was outstanding for interest on mortgages, $12.437.20.

The Commissioners of the Sinking Fund stated to this committee, that in their opinion the interests of the state would be promoted by selling the registered and coupon bonds held by the Sinking Fund, and amounted to $224,400.00, and investing the proceeds in loans on bonds, and mortgage on real estate in New-Jersey ; and that unless the Legislature expresses their disapproval, they would make that change in the investments.

Your committee think the proposed action would be judicious. The bonds would command a premium of several thousand dollars, and there would also be a clear annual gain of $2244.00 in interest, as the Sinking Fund would receive seven per centum interest upon the mortgage investments, while the bonds yield but six per centum.

The Joint Committee desire to express their satisfaction with the care, diligence and accuracy with which the Commissioners have managed the important trust confided to them.

Mr. Sewell, Chairman of the Committee on Riparian Rights, made the following report:

To the Honorable the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New-Jersey:

The joint committee on riparian rights who were charged by joint resolution with the duty of inquiring "as to what companies, corporations and individuals occupy lands on the bay of New-York, the Hudson river, and elsewhere in this state, without having paid any compensation," respectfully report that they have discharged the duty imposed upon them.

The committee summoned before them and examined and heard statements from all the riparian commissioners, the Attorney General, Hon. Benjamin Williamson and Hon. Cortlandt Parker, and have thoroughly investigated the facts and circumstances concerning the trespasses of the Central Railroad Company of New-Jersey, upon lands under water belonging to the state, and the litigation consequent thereon, and the negotiations for a compromise thereof; and also, the general action of the riparian commission, and the state officers connected therewith, as to past grants and leases, and pending applications for further grants and leases, and the cause of delay therein.

As to the matter of the Central Railroad Company, the committee are of opinion that both the riparian commissioners and the Attorney-General, in the negotiations for compromise, and the conduct of the litigation between the state and that company, have been actuated by the purest motives, and a single desire to promote and secure the best interests of the state; while it is, notwithstanding, a matter of regret that conscientious differences of opinion between them have protracted both the litigation and the negotiations, and have prevented a speedier settlement of the matter. After thoroughly considering the merits of the controversy with the Central Railroad Company, and taking legal advice thereupon, your committee are clearly of opinion that the company are occupying large tracts of land belonging to the state, without warrant in law for such occupation; but in view of the delays which have already occurred, and the equities set up in behalf of the company, your committee believe that the interests of both parties would be subserved by a compromise between them. The committee therefore recommend that all the lands under water belonging to the state, and claimed by the Central Railroad Company, be granted in fee to that company, upon payment by that company to the state of the sum of five hundred thousand dollars; and that the acceptance of such grant and the payment of said sum, be annexed as a proviso and condition to any supplement to the charter of that company, or any act presented on their behalf, now pending before or hereafter presented to the legislature of New-Jersey.

As to the pending applications for further grants and leases, and the causes of delay therein, the committee are of opinion that both the commissioners and the state officers officially connected with them, have acted purely and uprightly therein, and that their differences of opinion have been conscientious on all sides. As to the merits of the controversies between them, so many technical and purely legal questions are involved therein, that the committee are unable to express an opinion upon them. Nevertheless, these differences have been most unfortunate; have caused great delays, and have prevented the receipt by the state of rentals, and purchase money of lands under tide-water, amounting in the aggregate to more than one hundred thousand dollars. To prevent further delays and loss, and to more perfectly protect and secure the rights of the state in her lands under tide-water, the joint committee have prepared and herewith present a bill, the provisions of which they think will effectually remove the existing difficulties, and they unanimously recommend its passage at the earliest practicable moment.

WM. J. SEWELL,
Chairman Joint Committee on Riparian Rights.
JOHN Y. FOSTER, Secretary.

The report of the committee was read, concurred in, and ordered to be printed for the use of the Senate.

Mr. Sewell, from the same committee, on leave, introduced manufacturing and other purposes," approved March second, eighteen hundred and forty-nine.

Was read for the first time by its title, ordered to have a second reading, and referred to the Committee on Miscellaneous Corporations.

Mr. Hopkins, Chairman of the Committee on Railroads, Canals and Turnpikes, made the following report :

To the Senate : The committee on railroads and canals having been by concurrent resolution adopted on the twenty-eighth of January, eighteen hundred and seventy-four, directed to investigate the management of the New-Jersey Southern Railroad Company, the Long Branch and Sea Shore Railroad Company, the Pemberton and New-York Railroad Company, and the Vineland Railway Company, and the business thereof during all the time they or either of them have been in operation, and concerning any abuse by them or either of them of their respective franchises and privileges, and what are the amounts of their property, real and personal, and what amounts of money the said corporations or either of them owe to the state of New-Jersey ; and to investigate and report whether the charters of all or either of them have been forfeited to the state, respectfully report :

That soon after entering upon the investigation as directed by the resolution, the principal and urgent reason for a speedy investigation was removed by the passage by the legislature of an act under which the chancellor of the state appointed a person to take charge of and separate the above named roads, the operation of which had been for several weeks suspended to the great inconvenience, detriment and loss of the persons residing along the line of the said road.

The committee, however, proceeded with the investigation as directed, and have summoned before them and examined a large number of witnesses, these being chiefly persons who from their connection in various capacities with the railroads in question were presumed to be familiar with the management and business of the several corporations.

The corporations named in the resolution, although created by different acts of the legislature, and existing originally under separate organizations, have for some years past been operated by the corporation known as the New-Jersey Southern Railroad Company, under authority granted by the legislature in eighteen hundred and seventy, so that it may be said that a statement of the operations of that company necessarily comprises an exhibit of the management, business and operations of the four companies specified in the resolution.

The evidence laid before the committee indicates that the management of the affairs of this combination of corporations has been of such a character that it may, without impropriety, be termed reckless, wasteful and extravagant; large amounts have been expended for purposes not contemplated by the acts of incorporation, such as the construction, purchase and equipment of railways, out of the state, purchasing and improving a hotel property and conducting a hotel at Long Branch, upon which, as shown by the evidence, nearly fifty thousand dollars have been expended, and which was, at the time of the expenditure, and is now claimed to be the property of an individual and not of the corporation; the purchase of unnecessarily expensive steamboats, to ply between Sandy Hook and New-York, and running the said boats in an enormously expensive manner.

The practical result of a management of this character has been to render the corporations virtually insolvent, the creditors receive no interest upon the bonds they hold, the stockholders receive no dividends, the wages of employees are in arrears, the state is deprived of the revenue contemplated when the franchises were granted, and which indeed were made a condition of the franchises, the citizens living along the line of the roads are practically defrauded, inasmuch as they have purchased property, erected dwellings, established manufactories and projected enterprises, the value and success of which depend upon the possession of railroad facilities, which, under the acts of the legislature they have a right to expect, and of which they have been derived through the insolvency of the corporations created by those acts.

It is not claimed by the committee that the peculiar management of the affairs of these corporations is to be termed an "abuse of their franchises," but it may be said with justice that an injudicious use has been made of the privileges granted them by the legislature, and the committee feel fully warranted in saying that the objects contemplated by the state in creating these corporations have not only not been accomplished, but have been most signally defeated by the action of those to whom the privileges in question were granted; they have notably failed to comply with the conditions of their charters and the laws of the state in respect to the annual statements required to be made to the legislature through the state comptroller, for although annual statements have been made they have not met the requirements of the law, and have not been such as to exhibit the condition of the affairs of the companies. They have also failed to comply with the provisions of their charters which impose upon them a state tax, thereby depriving the state of a portion of its legitimate revenue and utterly failing in this respect to fulfill the contract entered into by them with the legislature and the people.

It was found impossible to ascertain with any degree of accuracy the amounts of real and personal property of the several corporations named in the resolution, because of the wide differences of opinion among the several witnesses as to the value of the property, and also because some of the property had been removed from the control of the company; a portion of the rolling stock having been placed upon roads in Delaware or Maryland, and some or all of the steamboats having been taken to Rhode Island and there sold at prices far below what was paid for them by the company but a short time before. Each of the acts of incorporation provide that the president of the company shall annually make a return of the cost of the road with its equipments and appendnaes, and the statements which have been made show the indebtedness of the several corporations, and this indebtedness is presumed to be represented by the real and personal property owned by them.

The returns made for the year eighteen hundred and seventy-three, to the state comptroller, are as follows:

NEW-JERSEY SOUTHERN RAILROAD.

Capital stock	$5,000,000.00
First mortgage bonds	2,000,000.00
Second mortgage bonds	1,000,000.00
Toms River branch bonds	120,000.00
	$8,120,000.00
"Consolidated" bonds	1,700,000.00
	$9,820,000.00

LONG BRANCH AND SEA SHORE RAILROAD COMPANY.

Capital stock	$171,800.00
Mortgage debt	200,000.00
	$371,800.00

PEMBERTON AND NEW-YORK RAILROAD COMPANY.

Capital stock	$500,000.00
Mortgage debt	375,000.00
	$875,000.00

VINELAND RAILWAY COMPANY.

Capital stock	$1,000,000.00
Mortgage debt	750,000.00
	$1,750,000.00

Presuming these figures to represent the value of the property owned by these four corporations, an aggregate is shown of twelve millions, eight hundred and sixteen thousand, eight hundred dollars, ($12,816,800.)

The taxes due the state from these corporations amount in the aggregate, with accrued interest to the present time, to upwards of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000), and your committee learn that measures are now being taken by the proper state officers to establish and collect this claim.

With respect to the question whether the charters of all or either of these corporations have been forfeited to the state, the committee find from examination of the several acts of incorporation, that no specific provision has been made for the forfeiture of the charters by reason of abuse or misuse of the privileges granted thereby, and the question of forfeiture for such reasons is rather a matter for judicial decision, than for the determination of the committee or the legislature. They find, however, with respect to the Long Branch and Sea Shore Railroad Company, whose road is the most important and profitable link in the line of road controlled by the New-Jersey Southern Railroad Company, that the assessment required by law to be paid for the paseage of private acts has never been paid, and that the charter of this company is, therefore, under the terms of the statute, inoperative and void.

The companies referred to in the resolution are now before the courts of the state in suits instituted, as your committee is informed, by both secured and insecured creditors, and it is not therefore deemed advisable to make to the legislature any recommendation concerning them at the present juncture, but the investigations of the committee have made manifest the necessity for some legislation to compel corporations created by the state to furnish the annual statements which the law re quires, and to pay such taxes as may be imposed upon them by the legislature; to which end the annexed bill is reported, and its passage earnestly recommended. Respectfully submitted.

SAMUEL HOPKINS, Chairman.

The substitute to the House concurrent resolution offered by Mr. Stone, as follows, was taken up :

Whereas, A concurrent resolution has been adopted to adjourn sine die on Friday, March twentieth, instant, at twelve o'clock, noon ; and whereas, it appears that all matters of ordinary legislation can be acted upon and completed by Saturday, the twenty-first instant, at twelve o'clock, noon ; and whereas, two matters of extraordinary legislation, to wit, the proposed Constitutional Amendments and the Revision of the Laws cannot during the present session be fully considered and completed, because among other reasons all the commissioners appointed to make said Revision have not finished their work ; and whereas, such Revision will now be manifestly incomplete unless it includes the laws passed at the present session ; therefore,

Resolved, (the House of Assembly concurring), That when the legislature adjourn, it adjourn to meet in extra session on the first Tuesday of June next, at eleven o'clock, A. M., for the special purpose of considering the Constitutional Amendments and Revision of the Laws, and for no other purpose ; and that the present session adjourn on Saturday, the twenty-first instant, at twelve o'clock, noon.

The resolution was read and not agreed to.

The House concurrent resolution, as follows :

Whereas, A concurrent resolution to adjourn sine die on the 20th instant has been adopted ; and

Whereas, If the legislature should adhere to the above resolution, and adjourn at the time indicated, there will remain a large amount of important public and private business undisposed of ; and

Whereas, The House of Assembly has been unable for want of time to consider and act on the Amendments to the Constitution, proposed by the commission appointed to prepare said amendments, and submit them to the legislature, and revision of the laws, although it has made every effort consistent with the public good and their duty to their constituents to dispose of said amendments properly; therefore Resolved, By the House of Assembly, (Senate concurring), that the resolution fixing the time of adjournment of the two houses of the legislature, on Friday, March twentieth, eighteen hundred and seventy-four, be, and the same is hereby rescinded, and that the two houses adjourn sine die on Friday, March twenty-seventh, eighteen hundred and seventy-four, at twelve o'clock, noon.

Assembly Bill, No. 195, entitled

An act to set off from the township of Alexandria, in the county of Hunterdon, a new township, to be called the township of Holland.

Was taken up and read.

The objections of the Governor to said bill were taken up and read, as follows:

STATE OF NEW-JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, March 23, 1874.

To the House of Assembly:

I return to the House of Assembly, where it originated, bill No. 195, entitled "An act to set off from the township of Alexandria, in the county of Hunterdon, a new township, to be called the township of Holland," with my objections thereto.

I have heard the statements of the advocates and opponents of this bill, and have come to the conclusion that no good reason for dividing the township exists.

According to the census of the year eighteen hundred and seventy, the population of the township of Alexandria was only three thousand three hundred and forty-one. The number of voters is a little over eight hundred. This number of votes can easily be polled in one ballot-box within the time prescribed by law. There are now two polling places in the township, and the places where elections are held are located near the centre of the respective districts, so that all can readily reach the polls.

But if the population were large, and necessity to divide the township existed, the best line of partition would be that which now separates the polling districts.

The division by a line running as proposed in this bill would subject a large number of the inhabitants to great inconvenience. The residents of the northern and northeastern portions of the township would be obliged to travel a greater distance than now to reach the place where elections would be held.

The division contemplated by this bill would place the bulk of the good land in the new township.

It will take from Alexandria nearly all of the river front and rich valley, and leave in it a large tract of mountainous, poor land. It would impose upon the inhabitants of Alexandria, who are least able to bear the burthen, the care of the worst roads, and nearly all the poor who are a public charge.

A few persons in the new township, near the place fixed in the bill for holding town meeting, would be slightly benefited; but the majority of the people of both portions would be put to inconvenience, and their taxes increased by multiplying the number of officers.

I am informed that only about one-fourth of the voters of the whole township approve the proposed division.

Under these circumstances I think this bill should not become a law. The ancient lines of townships should not be disturbed, unless it appear that a majority of the inhabitants will be benefited by the change. The many should not be incommoded to gratify the few.

JOEL PARKER.

Said message of the Governor was laid on the table.

In the affirmative, were

Messrs Havens, Hendrickson, Hewitt, Hopkins, Hopper, Jarrard, Leaming, Lydecker, Moore, Newkirk, Potts, Taylor (President), Thorn, Wood—14.

In the negative—none.

The Secretary was directed by the President to carry said bill to the House of Assembly, inform that body that the Senate had passed the same, with amendments, and request its concurrence therein.

Mr. Hopkins, Chairman of the Select Committee appointed to investigate charges in connection with the Erie Railway, made the following report :

The select committee, appointed under a resolution of this Senate to enquire as to the truth of certain allegations as to the sale of the Erie railway passes by members of the legislature, and report upon said asserted improper and corrupt acts, beg leave to report that they have discharged the trust assigned them, so far as they have been able to do so.

Immediately upon the organization of the committee, Mr. John Livingston, with whom the charges originated, and at whose instance the investigation was instituted, was summoned to appear and testify as to any facts within his possession bearing upon the subject in question. He replied by letter that he could not appear on the day designated, but that he would do so on the day following, adding that he would promptly notify the committee if he should from any cause be detained on that day also. From that time to the date of this report, Mr. Livingston has neither appeared in person nor given any excuse in writing for his failure to comply with his promise. In letters addressed to various senators about the time this committee was raised, he declared his anxiety and readiness to obey any command which the legislature might impose upon him. But the moment that opportunity was afforded him to substantiate the very serious charges he had made, he apparently found it convenient to evade the fulfillment of obligations he had voluntarily assumed.

In the opinion of your committee, this conduct is deserving only of the severest reprobation.

Mr. Livingston, acting, as he represented, in behalf of the Erie Railway Company, had preferred charges affecting the dignity and integrity of the legislature of the state. In communications to members of this Senate, and to certain newspapers of New-York city, he had charged, specifically, that he had " purchased the Erie passes for eighteen hundred and seventy-three from two New-Jersey senators, and two New-Jersey Assemblymen, and received written offers to sell from two other senators and fourteen assemblymen. He had sent privately to members of this body copies of what purported to be affidavits from the agent employed by him to purchase the passes aforesaid, in which affidavits were embodied what he alleged to be true copies of letters received by such agent from two senators offering their passes for sale. He had thus insidiously and covertly assailed the character and standing of servants of the state—stabbing them, as it were, in the dark, and leaving them no means of redress. If his charges were true, they could have been sustained. Why did he fail to produce the evidence, when it was demanded of him, if he had any to produce? If his charges were true, it was due to the dignity of the Senate that the persons guilty of the offence alleged should be exposed. If they were not true, the members so accused were entitled to the privilege of showing their innocence. But as the case now stands, this privilege is entirely denied them, and they have no means whatever of vindicating their integrity.

Your committee, therefore beg to report that no proof of the perpetration of the offence charged has been placed in our possession, and that, in view of this fact, we must condemn as altogether unjust any imputation of the integrity of any member of the legislature in this connection. Moreover, your committee feel constrained to say that the course of the Erie Railway Company in seeking, under cover of a false pretence, and a lying insinuation, to purchase from members of the legislature passes it was required by law to issue, was altogether unworthy of a great corporation—was, in a word, a very despicable business, of which Mr. John Livingston, and all concerned with him, have good reason to feel ashamed. At the same time, your committee wish to say, most unqualifiedly, that they have no sympathy with, and no apology for, any member of the legislature who may have fallen into the snare so cleverly set, if any such were actually so unfortunate as to do so.

All of which is respectfully submitted, with the request that the committee may be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

SAMUEL HOPKINS, Chairman.

Which was read and laid on the table.

Assembly Bill, No. 567, entitled

A further supplement to an act entitled "An act to incorporate the city of Hoboken," approved March twenty-eighth, eighteen hundred and fifty-five.

Was taken up and read a third time.

Upon the question, shall this Assembly bill, as amended, pass? it was decided as follows:

In the affirmative, were

Messrs. Cutler, Havens, Hendrickson, Hewitt, Hopper, Jarrard, Leaming, Lydecker, MacPherson, Moore, Newkirk, Potts, Sewell, Sheppard, Smith, Stone, Thorn, Wood—18.

In the negative—none.

The Secretary was directed by the President to carry said bill to the House of Assembly, inform that body that the Senate had passed the same, with amendments, and request its concurrence therein.

Mr. Thorn obtained the unanimous consent of the Senate to withdraw from its files

Assembly Bill, No. 195, entitled

An act to set off from the township of Alexandria, in the county of Hunterdon, a new township, to be called the township of Holland.

Was taken up.

The objections of the Governor to said bill were read, as follows :

STATE OF NEW-JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, March 23, 1874.

To the House of Assembly :

I return to the House of Assembly, where it originated, bill

No. 195, entitled "An act to set off from the township of Alexandria, in the county of Hunterdon, a new township, to be called the township of Holland," with my objections thereto.

I have heard the statements of the advocates and opponents of this bill, and have come to the conclusion that no good reason for dividing the township exists.

According to the census of the year eighteen hundred and seventy, the population of the township of Alexandria was only three thousand three hundred and forty-one. The number of voters is a little over eight hundred. This number of votes can easily be polled in one ballot-box within the time prescribed by law. There are now two polling places in the township, and the places where elections are held are located near the centre of the respective districts, so that all can readily reach the polls.

But if the population were large, and necessity to divide the township existed, the best line of partition would be that which now separates the polling districts.

The division by a line running as proposed in this bill would subject a large number of the inhabitants to great inconvenience. The residents of the northern and northeastern portions of the township would be obliged to travel a greater distance than now to reach the place where elections would be held.

The division contemplated by this bill would place the bulk of the good land in the new township.

It will take from Alexandria nearly all of the river front and rich valley, and leave in it a large tract of mountainous, poor land. It would impose upon the inhabitants of Alexandria, who are least able to bear the burthen, the care of the worst roads, and nearly all the poor who are a public charge.

A few persons in the new township, near the place fixed in the bill for holding town meeting, would be slightly benefited; but the majority of the people of both portions would be put to inconvenience, and their taxes increased by multiplying the number of officers.

I am informed that only about one-fourth of the voters of the whole township approve the proposed division.

Under these circumstances I think this bill should not become a law. The ancient lines of townships should not be disturbed, unless it appear that a majority of the inhabitants will be benefited by the change. The many should not be incommoded to gratify the few.

JOEL PARKER.

Upon the question, shall this Assembly bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor thereto? it was decided as follows:

Mr. Hopper arose and said :

Mr. President: I desire, not merely as being called forth by the formalities of this occasion, but as a sincere expression of the high regard we all entertain, not only collectively but individually, towards the presiding officer of this body, to place on record our testimony of that regard. I apprehend that no gentleman who occupies a seat on this floor has ever known a presiding officer of this body who filled his arduous place with more dignity, with more ability, or with more propriety, than he who now presides over it. And, therefore, not merely because, as I have said, of the formalities of the occasion, but because it meets the approbation and accords with the sincere feelings of every member of the Senate, (and I feel highly honored by being called upon to perform this pleasing duty on this occasion), I desire to offer the following resolution as expressive of our feelings :

Resolved, That Hon. John W. Taylor, the President of this Senate, by the faithful and conscientious manner in which he has performed the duties devolved upon him, by his resolute and impartial enforcement of the rules of order, his uniform respect for and protection of the rights of the minority, his intelligent recognition of the interests, and his watchful solicitude for the good name of the state. and his personal courtesy and kindness to all his associates, he has furnished a fresh exhibition of his peculiar qualifications as a presiding officer, and established a renewed claim upon our respect and appreciation, and that we, as a body, desire, in the most emphatic and positive form to tender to him the assurance of our esteem, and our best wishes for his prosperity and happiness through all the years of his future life.

Which was read.

Mr. Cutler said:

In rising to second these resolutions, offered by the Senator from Passaic, allow me to say that while, as a Senator representing the minority on this floor last session, it gave me great pleasure to offer similar resolutions, it likewise affords me renewed pleasure to second these. I do not forget, as I look over this chamber, the many familiar faces then present, nor do I forget that there were some who are not now with us. I second these resolutions from the very bottom of my heart. I would be recreant to my feelings did I not extend to our presiding officer my warm recognition, not only of the kindness with which he has treated me as a member of this body, but of the courtesy which he has uniformly extended to us all. And as this will probably be the last time that I shall stand here as the representative of my state, I desire to bid farewell to the Senate, and to extend to each and every one my thanks for the kindness which I have received at their hands. I shall carry away the kindliest feelings towards every Senator with whom I have been associated.

Mr. MacPherson said:

I can only say that I would be doing violence to my own feelings if I failed to give expression at this time to a merited and well-deserved acknowledgement of the courtesy, dignity and strict impartiality which have characterized the course of the Hon. John W. Taylor, as presiding officer of the Senate, and which have justly endeared him to us all. Prompt, efficient, and courteous in all his relations as President, faithful to his duty and zealous of the interests of the State, his brother Senators now hope he will allow them, on parting with them, to be equally frank in testifying, by the resolutions just offered, their friendship and esteem for him. And the uniform kindness and courtesy always shown me prompts me to express to him my gratitude and obedience with a cheerful heart, and to say that I will ever pray for his continued happiness and prosperity. I second the resolutions with the greatest pleasure.

Mr. Hewitt said :

Within a few minutes the labors of this session will have ended. Old associations must be broken, but the friendships formed, and the pleasant recollections of the past will remain. Among them, I number none that will be doing myself a higher sense of pleasure than the memory of my intercourse with the President of this body from the day when I entered the Senate until now. As I am about to say to others and to him, good bye, my thoughts are not so much of the great ability he has displayed here, and of the great value of his services to the State, as of his kindness and courtesy, and of our friendly personal relations in the past. I have in my mind, or rather in my heart, at this particular hour not so much the able senator or the just presiding officer, as the true and honest man, the sincere and faithful friend. I am sure the members of this Senate will join with me in wishing to him a future as bright and happy as his abundant merits deserve.

Mr. Havens said :

Language fails me when I attempt to express the gratitude I feel for the kind and gentlemanly treatment which it has been my privilege to receive at your hands during the three years that I have been a member of this body, but now at the close of this session, which in all probability may also be the close of my labors as a legislator, it becomes me to state, while apologizing for every error I may have committed , that it has been my constant aim to serve the best interests of my constituents and of our beloved state to the best of my ability. Accept my best wishes for your future prosperity and success, and my thanks for the very courteous manner in which I have been treated.

Other Senators also added similar sentiments in relation to President Taylor, after which the resolution was unanimously agreed to.

President Taylor then arose, and said :

Senators : It will scarcely be expected that I should make a fitting response to the resolutions which are such a happy surprise to me, having had no warning whatever of the intention to offer them. It is unnecessary for me to say I am deeply touched by the too flattering testimonials offered by Senators, and accepted by me with a full appreciation of the kindness which prompts them. I have endeavored to discharge my duty faithfully. I cannot say that I have done it according to my own standard, but I have done it honestly; and next to the approval of my own conscience, there is nothing so gratifying to me as the approval of my fellow senators. I have endeavored to know no party names and no party affiliations, knowing that my duty in this position was to discharge its functions irrespective of party politics. It is needless for me to say that it is with the deepest regret I reflect that some members of this body will now leave us, perhaps never to return—friends with whom we have associated for three years past—friends very pleasant and very dear.

I trust, I say, that senators here will not expect that I shall make any formal reply ; I can only repeat that my heart is deeply touched by these expressions of my fellow senators. My head cannot speak ; it is only my heart, and I return my warmest thanks, fellow senators, collectively and individually, for these testimonials.

Mr. Lydecker offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That the Secretary be instructed to have said resolution properly engrossed and presented to the President.

Which was read and agreed to.

The President then resumed the Chair.

Mr. Sewell offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to wait upon His Excellency, the Governor, to ascertain if there is any other business that he wishes to lay before the Senate.

Which was agreed to, and Messrs. Sewell and Cutler appointed by the President as such committee.

Mr. MacPherson offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That to the Secretary and other officers of the Senate our hearty thanks are due for the ability, energy, promptness and gentlemanly courtesy with which they have discharged their arduous duties during the present session.

Which was read and agreed to.

Mr. Sewell offered the following resolution :

Resolved, (House of Assembly concurring), That the time for the final adjournment of this session of the legislature be extended from Friday, March twenty-seventh, to Saturday, March twenty-eighth, at twelve o'clock, noon.

Which was agreed to, by the following vote :

In the affirmative, were

Messrs. Havens, Hewitt, Hopkins, Jarrard, Leaming, Newkirk, Potts, Sewell, Stone, Thorn—10.

In the negative, were Messrs. Cornish, Cutler, Hendrickson, MacPherson, Moore, Smith, Wood—7.

Mr. Sewell, chairman of the committee appointed to inform the Governor that the Senate was ready to adjourn sine die, reported that the committee had awaited upon His Excellency, the Governor, who desired them to report to the Senate that he had no further communication to make, and that he wished each Senator and officer a safe return home, and long life and prosperity.

The report was accepted and the committee discharged.

Mr. Havens offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That the hour of adjournment having arrived, the Secretary inform the House of Assembly that the Senate is now ready, and awaits the presence of the House of Assembly in the Senate Chamber.

Which was read and agreed to.

The members of the House of Assembly, preceded by the Speaker and Clerk, entered the Senate Chamber and announced to the Senate that they had closed their labors, and adjourned sine die.

In accordance with the resolution of both Houses, the President of the Senate pronounced the Legislature adjourned without day.

[ATTEST,] JOHN F. BABCOCK,
Secretary of the Senate.
