New Jersey's casino industry reported gross revenues of $226,172,325 in December, for a year-to-year increase of 7.9 percent. December's revenues boosted the 1993 win to $3,301,365,943, an increase of 2.7 percent over 1992 revenues.

The five casinos that offer simulcasting of horse races reported racing revenues of $672,409 in December. Simulcasting, which began May 28, generated industrywide revenues of $4.25 million in 1993. Simulcasting revenues are not included in overall win figures, since they are not subject to the state's 8 percent tax on gross revenue. Caesars led all casinos in December with simulcasting revenues of $296,422, which is more than twice the revenue of its nearest competitor.

The new game of poker, which is included in overall win, generated 1993 revenues of $19.3 million, including a December total of $2.9 million. Poker began on June 28, and is presently offered by eight casinos. The largest poker win in December was reported by Trump Taj Mahal, which won $1.12 million at its 58 poker tables.

Trump Taj Mahal was the leader in overall revenues in December, as well as for all of 1993. Its December win was $34,535,529. Its total win for the year was $445,455,864, which is 7.1 percent higher than its 1992 win of $416,060,062.

Gross revenue is the amount of money a casino retains after all bets have been paid, but before operating or other extraordinary expenses have been paid. Gross revenue, commonly called "win," does not mean net profit.

The industry's slot machine win was up by 6.5 percent for the month, while table game revenues were up by 10.3 percent, led by a 55.6 percent increase at Bally's Grand, a 38.4 percent increase at Bally's Park Place and a 35.2 percent increase at Trump Taj Mahal.

For the year, slot revenues were up by 4.8 percent, while table revenues were down by 1.4 percent.

The state Casino Revenue Fund collected $18,027,037 in taxes during December. The fund collects an eight percent tax on all casino "win," which it uses to fund programs for senior citizens and disabled people. The programs include pharmaceutical assistance, property tax rebates, transportation aid and lifeline assistance.

Since the first casino opened in May 1978, the fund has collected $2,587,217,424. For 1993, the fund collected $262,9366,276.

In December, the industry also incurred $2,816,725 in obligations to the Casino Reinvestment Development Authority, an agency that provides low-interest loans for economic development and housing projects throughout the state. The CRDA receives funding from a 1.25 percent reinvestment obligation on all casino revenues. For the year, the CRDA received $41,083,793 in revenues.

Feb. 15, 1994

Eleven of New Jersey's 12 casinos reported sharp revenue declines in January. Freezing weather throughout the Northeast led to a 13.6 percent drop in revenues for the month.

January's revenues of $231,280,073 contrast sharply with Jan. 1993 revenues of $267,533,166, and are lower than Jan. 1992 revenues of $236,416,708.

The only casino to experience an increase in revenue was Trump's Castle, which reported a 23.9 percent jump, due in large measure to a single day when it won $7 million.

Trump Taj Mahal reported the highest revenues for the month, with a win of $32,576,087, which is a 9 percent decline from Jan. 1993 revenues.

All 12 casinos reported declines in slot machine win, ranging from a 29.8 percent drop at the Claridge to a 10.6 percent decline at Trump's Castle. Industrywide slot revenues declined by 19.8 percent, while table revenues were down by 2.2 percent.

The table game revenues include a win of $2,917,804 from poker. Nine casinos offered poker during the month. Poker began as an experiment on June 28.

The January win does not include an additional $558,718 in revenues from the simulcasting of horse races. Five casinos offered simulcasting during the month. Simulcast revenues are not included in overall win, since they are not subject to the 8 percent casino revenue tax.

Gross revenue is the amount of money a casino retains after all bets have been paid, but before operating or other extraordinary expenses have been paid. Gross revenue, commonly called "win," does not mean net profit.

The state Casino Revenue Fund collected $18,367,694 in taxes during January, plus an additional $121,127 in interest. The fund collects an eight percent tax on all casino "win," which it uses to fund programs for senior citizens and disabled people. The programs include pharmaceutical assistance, property tax rebates, transportation aid and lifeline assistance.

Since the first casino opened in May 1978, the fund has collected $2,605,618,493, plus an additional $112,139,573 in interest.

The daily average for January was $7,460,648 industrywide, compared to $8,630,102 in January 1993.

Casinos also incurred $2,869,952 in obligations to the Casino Reinvestment Development Authority, which collects a 1.25 percent reinvestment tax on casino revenues.

The New Jersey casino industry reported gross revenues of $224,937,241 during February, a year-to-year decrease of 4.5 percent. February revenues declined for the second consecutive year. In February 1993 revenues dropped 7.9 percent from February 1992 totals.

Nine of Atlantic City's 12 casinos reported year-to-year declines in revenues, ranging from a 1.7 percent drop at Bally's Park Place to a 12.2 percent decline at Trump Plaza. Sands, Showboat and Trump Taj Mahal showed increases in gross revenues during February.

Industrywide, slot revenues declined by 2.1 percent for the month. The sharpest declines were reported at TropWorld and Claridge. Five casinos, Caesars, Harrah's, Resorts, Sands, and Showboat, showed increases in slot revenues for the month. Claridge reported the sharpest drop in slot win of 12.5 percent.

Industrywide table game win declined by 9.4 percent during the month. Still, five casinos reported increases in table game revenues during February. TropWorld and Bally's Park Place reported the largest increases. Bally's Park Place had table game revenues of $6,637,067, which is a 10.8 percent increase over February 1993 revenues. TropWorld, with table revenues of $5,870,818, reported a 7.5 percent gain over its February 1993 totals of $5,461,935.

The steepest decline in table game win was reported by Resorts, which reported table revenues of $5,079,402, a 29.8 percent drop from its February 1993 total of $7,236,602. The February win does not include an additional $672,731 in revenues from the simulcasting of horse races. Five casinos offered simulcasting during the month. Simulcast revenues are not included in overall win, since they are not subject to the 8 percent casino revenue tax.

Gross revenue is the amount of money a casino retains after all bets have been paid, but before operating or other extraordinary expenses have been paid. Gross revenue, commonly called "win," does not mean net profit.

The state Casino Revenue Fund collected $17,933,611 in taxes during February. The fund collects an 8 percent tax on all casino "win," which it uses to fund programs for senior citizens and disabled people. The programs include pharmaceutical assistance, property tax rebates, transportation aid and lifeline assistance.

Since the first casino opened in May 1978, the fund has collected $2,623,578,415. The industry also incurred $2,802,127 in obligations to the Casino Reinvestment Development Authority on its February revenues. The CRDA collects 1.25 percent of casino revenues to invest in development projects in Atlantic City and throughout the state.

The daily average win for February was $8,033,473 industrywide, compared with a daily win of $7,732,497 in February 1993.

March 21, 1994

New Jersey's casino industry reported a 5.7 percent increase in gross operating profit in 1993, although six of the 12 casinos experienced declines.

The industry's operating profit was $835.5 million for the year, compared to $790.1 million in operating profits in 1992. While no casinos reported operating losses for the year, Bally's Grand reported the sharpest decline in operating profits, dropping by 14.4 percent from 1992 levels. Trump's Castle reported the highest increase, with a 25.3 percent rise over 1992 operating profits.

Gross operating profit is calculated by subtracting all operating expenses, including salaries and purchases of goods and services, from net revenue. Gross operating profit does not reflect interest expenses, depreciation, taxes or payments to affiliates.

Net revenue is defined as gross revenue minus promotional allowances.

In the fourth quarter, the industry reported an increase of 6.3 percent in gross operating profit on an increase of 3.6 percent in net revenues. Nine casinos reported increases in fourth quarter net revenues.

Industrywide net revenue grew by 1.9 percent in 1993. Seven casinos reported increases in net revenue, ranging from Strong growth in both slot and table game revenues led to an 11.1 percent increase in win for Atlantic City's casino industry in March.

All 12 casinos reported year-to-year increases during March to reach an industrywide win of $268 million, which is in sharp contrast to March 1993, a month in which 11 casinos reported year-to-year declines. Weather-related woes last year led to a decline of 7.7 percent during March.

While industrywide table-game win increased by 9.8 percent during March, it is still lower than it was two years earlier. Table game win was $87.1 million in March, compared to $79.4 in March 1993 and $93.1 million in March 1992.

Slot machine win rose by 11.8 percent during March. Ten of 12 casinos reported increases in slot win during the month. The two casinos that reported declines in slot win -- Claridge and Trump Plaza -- experienced sharp increases in table win during the month.

The March win does not include an additional $782,761 in revenues from the simulcasting of horse races. Five casinos offered simulcasting during the month. Simulcast revenues are not included in overall win, since they are not subject to the 8 percent casino revenue tax.

The March win totals, however, do include $3.5 million in poker revenues. Poker did not commence operations until June 1993. Nine casinos offered poker during March.

Gross revenue is the amount of money a casino retains after all bets have been paid, but before operating or other extraordinary expenses have been paid. Gross revenue, commonly called "win," does not mean net profit.

The state Casino Revenue Fund collected $21,364,389 in taxes during March, plus an additional $143,082 in interest. The fund collects an eight percent tax on all casino "win," which it uses to fund programs for senior citizens and disabled people. The programs include pharmaceutical assistance, property tax rebates, transportation aid and lifeline assistance.

Since the first casino opened in May 1978, the fund has collected $2,644,942,334, plus an additional $112,377,938 in interest.

The daily average for March was $8,644,946 industrywide, compared to $7,778,965 in March 1993.

Casinos also incurred $3,338,185 in obligations to the Casino Reinvestment Development Authority, which collects a 1.25 percent reinvestment tax on casino revenues.

Atlantic City casino industry revenues rose by 4.2 percent in April, although four of the city's 12 casinos reported year-to-year declines for the month.

While both slot machine and table revenues rose by more than 4 percent during the month, the increases were not evenly spread throughout the industry. Three casinos reported declines in slot revenues, while six reported declines in table game revenues.

Claridge and TropWorld were the only casinos to report declines in both table and slot revenues. Claridge's overall revenue for the month declined by 6.6 percent, while TropWorld's revenue dropped by 6.1 percent.

Resorts reported the sharpest increase in revenue during April. Its win of $22.4 million was 20.8 percent higher than its April 1993 revenues. The increased win was fueled by a 45.6 percent rise in table revenues and a 12.1 percent increase in slot win.

For the first four months of 1994, industry revenues were $1.007 billion, down from $1.016 billion in the first four months of 1993.

Poker revenues for the month were $3.4 million. Poker did not begin in Atlantic City until June 1993. Nine casinos offered poker during April. April was the first full month for the new game of Double Down Stud Poker, which was offered by two casinos during the month. The overall win for the game was $92,836.

Simulcast win during the month was $830,727. Simulcasting revenue is not included in overall casino revenue, since it is not subject to the 8 percent tax on gross revenue.

Gross revenue is the amount of money a casino retains after all bets have been paid, but before operating or other extraordinary expenses have been paid. Gross revenue, commonly called "win," does not mean net profit.

The state Casino Revenue Fund collected $22,512,296 in taxes during April, plus an additional $165,153 in interest. The fund collects an 8 percent tax on all casino "win," which it uses to fund programs for senior citizens and disabled people. The programs include pharmaceutical assistance, property tax rebates, transportation aid and lifeline assistance.

Since the first casino opened in May 1978, the fund has collected $2,667,454,620, plus an additional $112,484,333 in interest.

The industry also incurred $3,517,547 in obligations to the Casino Reinvestment Development Authority for the month. The CRDA collects 1.25 percent of casino revenues to invest in development projects in Atlantic City and throughout the state.

Atlantic City's 12 casinos reported a 2.7 percent decline in net revenue in the first quarter of 1994 and a decline of 20.7 percent in gross operating profit. Poor weather that plagued the Northeast during the winter months led to the sharp drop in performance.

Only three casinos reported year-to-year increases in gross operating profit. Trump's Castle reported the sharpest increase, at 27 percent, while Resorts posted the sharpest decline, at 51.1 percent.

Gross operating profit is defined as income before depreciation, charges from affiliates and interest and taxes.

Trump's Castle was the only casino to report an increase in income before income taxes and extraordinary items. The entire industry reported a 306 percent decline in that category, led by a drop of 923 percent at the Claridge.

The industry reported a bottom-line loss of $72.4 million for the first quarter, compared to a loss of $57.8 million in the first quarter of 1993 and a loss of $8.3 million in the first quarter of 1992.

All 12 casinos showed operating profits in the first quarter, although 10 reported net losses for the period. By contrast, only six casinos reported net losses in the first quarters of 1993 and 1992. The two casinos to avoid losses in the first quarter of 1994 were Caesars, which reported income of $1.1 million, and Harrah's, which reported income of $601,000. As a partnership, Harrah's net income does not reflect any income tax expense.

New Jersey Casino Control Commission

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

(609) 441-3799

C 339

June 15, 1994

New Jersey's casino industry reported May revenues of $287,476,452, a year-to-year decrease of 2.2 percent. By contrast, revenues in May 1993 were 2.2 higher than May 1992 revenues.

Seven Atlantic City casinos reported year-to-year declines in revenues, ranging from a 1.8 drop at Harrah's Marina to a 12.5 percent decline at TropWorld.

Industrywide table game win and slot win both declined in May. Table game win decline by 6.5 percent, with eight casinos posting year-to-year decreases. Despite the decrease in overall industry table game revenues Bally's Grand, Bally's Park Place, Showboat and Trump Castle reported increases in table game win.

Six of the 12 casinos reported decreases in slot revenues for the month. The steepest decline in slot win revenues was reported by TropWorld, which posted $18,323,719 which is a 13.5 percent drop from the $21,179,011 reported in June 1993. Bally's Park Place, Harrah's Marina, Caesars, Resorts, Showboat and Trump Castle reported increases in slot win, although the industry totals were down by .1 percent.

Poker revenues for the month were 3.4 million. Poker did not begin in Atlantic City until June 1993. Nine casinos offered poker during May. Double Down Stud Poker was offered at two casinos during the month. The overall win for the game was $69,587.

Simulcast win during the month was $888,222. Simulcasting revenue is not included in overall casino revenue, since it is not subject to the 8 percent tax on gross revenue.

Gross revenue, commonly call "win", is the amount of money a casino retains after all bets are paid, but before operating or other extraordinary expenses have been paid. Gross revenue/win does not mean net profit.

The state casino revenue fund collected $22,903,508 in taxes during May, plus an additional $110,947 in interest. The fund collects an 8 percent tax on all casino win and funds programs for senior citizens and disabled people. The programs include pharmaceutical assistance, property tax rebates, transportation aid and lifeline assistance.

Since the first casino opened in May 1978, the fund has collected $2,690,358,128 plus an additional $112,595,280 in interest.

The industry also incurred $3,578,673 in obligations to the Casino Reinvestment Development Authority on its May revenues. The CRDA collects 1.25 percent of casino revenues to invest in development projects in Atlantic City and throughout the state.

New Jersey's casino industry reported June revenues of $285,899,818, a 4.5 per cent increase over June 1993 revenues of $273,553,992.

Eight Atlantic City casinos reported year-to-year increases in revenues ranging from .7 percent at Harrah's Marina to 15.2 percent at Bally's Grand.

Eight of the 12 casinos reported increases in slot revenues for the month. Claridge, Sands, TropWorld and Trump Taj Mahal reported declines in slot win, although the industry totals were up by 3.6 percent.

Industrywide table game win increased by 6.6 percent during the month. Five casinos reported declines in table revenues. The steepest decline in table game revenues was reported by Harrah's, which posted $4,618,773, which is a 21.1 percent drop from the $5,850,383 reported in June 1993.

TropWorld and Claridge were the only casinos to report declines in both table and slot revenues. TropWorld's overall revenue for the month declined by 7.0 percent, while Claridge's revenue dropped by 5.7 percent.

Poker revenues for the month were 3.1 million. Poker began in Atlantic City in June 1993. Ten casinos offered poker in June 1994. Double Down Stud Poker was offered at two casinos during the month. The overall win for the game was $72,597.

Simulcast win during the month was $783,388. Simulcasting revenue is not included in casino revenue, since it is not subject to gross revenue tax.

Gross revenue, commonly call "win", is the amount of money a casino retains after all bets are paid, but before operating or other extraordinary expenses have been paid. Gross revenue/win does not mean net profit.

The state casino revenue fund collected $22,754,377 in taxes during June, plus an additional $133,757 in interest. The fund collects an eight percent tax on all casino win and funds programs for senior citizens and disabled people. The programs include pharmaceutical assistance, property tax rebates, transportation aid and lifeline assistance.

Since the first casino opened in May 1978, the fund has collected $2,713,112,505 plus an additional $112,729,037 in interest.

The industry also incurred $3,555,372 in obligations to the Casino Reinvestment Development Authority on its June revenues. The CRDA collects 1.25 percent of casino revenues to invest in development projects in Atlantic City and throughout the state.

New Jersey's casino industry set a record in July, reporting revenues of $351,821,445. That is the largest monthly total in the history of casino gaming in Atlantic City.

The previous record of $335.8 million was set last July. Trump Taj Mahal also set a new record in July, reporting a monthly win of $45,728,509, breaking its own record from last July of $44,785,674.

The industry revenue figures represent a 4.8 percent increase over July 1993 revenues.

Ten Atlantic City casinos reported year-to-year increases in revenues in July. Resorts and Tropworld reported the only declines in overall revenue.

Eight of the 12 casinos reported increases in slot revenues for the month. Resorts, TropWorld, Trump Taj Mahal and Trump Plaza reported declines in slot win, although the industry totals were up by 3.7 percent.

Industrywide table game win increased by 7.1 percent during the month. Trump Castle reported the sharpest increase, with a 28.7 percent rise over its July 1993 table games revenue. Harrah's Marina and Resorts reported the only declines in table games revenue.

Poker revenues for the month were $4,001,576. Poker began in Atlantic City in June 1993. Ten casinos offered poker in July 1994. Double Down Stud Poker was offered at two casinos during the month. The overall win for the game was $100,197.

Simulcast win during the month was $1,095,745. Simulcasting revenue is not included in casino revenue, since it is not subject to gross revenue tax.

Keno revenues during the month was $1,141,349. Keno began in Atlantic City casinos in June 1994. Keno was offered in nine casinos during the month.

Gross revenue, commonly call "win", is the amount of money a casino retains after all bets are paid, but before operating or other extraordinary expenses have been paid. Gross revenue/win does not mean net profit.

The state casino revenue fund collected $27,985,635 in taxes during July, plus an additional $181,245 in interest. The fund collects an eight percent tax on all casino win and funds programs for senior citizens and disabled people. The programs include pharmaceutical assistance, property tax rebates, transportation aid and lifeline assistance.

Since the first casino opened in May 1978, the fund has collected $2,741,092,380 plus an additional $112,910,282 in interest.
