Governor to Stress Many Faces One Family Initiative to Some of New Jersey's Youngest Family Members

Governor Whitman tomorrow will spend part of her day at the Clara B. Worth school in Bayville where she will stress the need for students to accept each other's uniqueness. The Governor will read to a 5th grade class as part of their Celebrity Reading Program and then talk to an assembly of 4th, 5th and 6th graders.

The Governor will highlight her "Many Faces One Family" initiative which promotes issues of diversity and respect.
