From my heart I express to you my gratitude for the great honor and trust you have reposed in me. I ask divine guidance that in my conduct of this office I shall be worthy of your trust and the trust of the people of New Jersey.

Ours is a great responsibility in 1949. We are confronted with many major problems—problems that deeply concern all of our citizens. It will be our duty to fearlessly meet each problem as it arises and I am certain that the wisdom and energy of the membership of this House will be devoted to the task that confronts us.

We, the 1949 Legislature of New Jersey, must go forward retaining that which experience has proven of value in our government and changing those things where new conditions require new solutions. It will be my purpose to see that every member of this House will be given the fullest opportunity of presenting his or her views on measures before this House because it is only through full and free debate that new ideas can be tested in the light of experience and present conditions.

It has been my privilege to have served as a member of this House, then as majority leader and now your Speaker, under a Governor who possesses the strength of character, the deep understanding of human nature, sincere integrity and extraordinary energy so essential toward the accomplishment of a program for public welfare.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

January 11, 1949.

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, and Members of the Senate and General Assembly:

In my Inaugural Message to the Legislature on January 21, 1947, you will find the statement that the watchword for the next three years would be "work." I expressed the hope that our work together would be "intelligent and productive."

Since that time we have moved forward on so many fronts that it is proper that we pause at the beginning of a new legislative year to survey the ground we have covered and the pathway that lies ahead.

Our mutual concern has been the business of government—the strengthening of our democratic institutions in an age when our Republic has been under attack from within as well as from without.

We have sought together to restore confidence in government as the guardian of our rights and the servant of our citizens. In our recognition that most of our modern problems are social and economic rather than political, all of the members of the Legislature and the Executive have, to a degree unequaled in the history of this State, put aside petty partisan considerations in favor of the general public welfare.

We have worked shoulder-to-shoulder in our successful efforts to protect our civil liberties. We have sought to secure the inherent dignity of mankind by the elimination of discrimination because of race, creed, color or sex. The best evidence of the productivity of your planning is to be found in Article I of the new Constitution, expressing the social, political and economic ideals of the present day in a broader way than ever before in American constitutional history.

Your action and the fine work of the Constitutional Convention have set in motion forces that have extended far beyond the borders of this State. We have acted while others have talked. In our action we have brought new hope to countless numbers of our fellow citizens who live in an atmosphere created by a fertile economy and yet are denied the opportunities of full citizenship. These persons suffer the shame of cruel discrimination. We have made great progress in our effort to correct this injustice.

Together we have helped to make our judicial structure a shining example that other States are now eager to follow. By your action we have fortified the heart of our Republic, placing a sure, swift and friendly justice within the reach of all who need its protection. The legislative processes have been strengthened. The first phase of State administrative reorganization has been practically completed, and a solid structure has been established for the effective management of the Executive branch of our government.

Our social security program has been broadened and strengthened, and some 1,600,000 of our citizens are now insured against crippling loss of wages due to sickness or accident. Other States have been inspired to attempt to match your achievements in this field.

Our workmen's compensation law has been liberalized.

In contrast to those States that chose to ban the closed shop and thereby restricted collective bargaining in private enterprise, New Jersey sought labor-management understanding through the medium of the conference table and the creation of the Institute of Management and Labor Relations established in 1947 at the State University. The legislation creating this Institute and its subsequent work have been favorably cited by resolutions of many national and international labor organizations, as well as by management. These organizations reported that we have a model program that should be followed by other States.

Our willingness to pioneer in legislation designed to protect the security of our citizens has been matched by an unwillingness to wait for a Federal hand-out before undertaking the State's obligation to support our school districts and municipalities in their efforts to provide an adequate education for our children and decent homes for our citizens.

We have recognized that, if we are to obtain and keep good teachers, we must be prepared to pay reasonable salaries. For two successive years the Legislature has progressively increased the minimum salary for our teachers. At the same time, the State has substantially increased State aid to the school districts for education. There is budgeted for this purpose for the current fiscal year, $32,337,057.03, of which $6,966,290.35 is allocated to the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund. This represents an increase of over 74% in State aid for schools budgeted during the past two years. We have also made a beginning on a capital improvement program for our State Teachers Colleges and University.

Few States surpass New Jersey in the percentage of citizens owning their own homes. What is more important, New Jersey presently leads the country in the production of rental housing units. Nonetheless, mindful of the need for truly low-cost rental housing for veterans, your State Government, in a friendly partnership with our municipalities, is now completing a $50,000,000 veterans' housing program.* In proportion to the number of veterans, this program is the largest among all the States. It is interesting to note that the American Legion, in its convention at Miami last year, urged its Housing Committee to review the various State housing plans and endorsed in principle the

* The State has provided $40,000,000 and the municipalities have contributed over $10,000,000 in the form of sites, utilities and improvements.

New Jersey plan which, it stated, appears "to have much merit" and to be adaptable on a national scale.

Vast programs for the improvement of the commerce of the State; the development of an adequate State Highway system; better county and municipal roads supported by increased State aid; improved rail and air transportation facilities in North and South Jersey, as outlined in my Message a year ago, have been undertaken and will be completed. Their initiation has been greatly aided by the co-operation of the Port of New York Authority, the Delaware River Joint Commission and the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission. We have strengthened and will continue to enlarge the scope of the work of the interstate authorities representing the State of New Jersey and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It is my hope that the action taken by the Legislature last year will be matched by similar action this year by the Legislature of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. These programs require and will receive our continued support.

Many of our activities have been directed toward improved public health and recreation. Citizen groups, as well as those professionally engaged in public health work, have commended the augmented services being rendered by the reorganized Department of Health. Our public recreational areas are being continuously enlarged and protected. New techniques of protecting our beaches against erosion have been developed during the past two years. Sportsmen, farmers and commercial fishermen have been provided new opportunities for the conservation, increase and control of fish and game for public recreation and food supply.

We have attacked the problem of law enforcement in many ways—the consolidation of all major State law enforcement agencies in a new Department of Law and Public Safety, the development of youth guidance programs, crime prevention activities, and traffic safety conferences. Our law enforcement agents, including local police, have been recognized and treated as members of an important profession.

During this brief period there have been many other State activities that have been closely related to the welfare of our citizens. State employees serving at our State institutions have, with few exceptions, been placed on an eight-hour basis—a reform long overdue. We have striven to bring the compensation of our loyal Civil Service employees into line with current economic requirements. We will continue to do so.

Notwithstanding these social and political achievements, much remains to be accomplished if we are to advance the hopes and aspirations of our society under the Republican form of government guaranteed by our Federal Constitution. We have had some hard fights. We have made some enemies. All of this was to be expected, for every program designed to take government out of the easy ruts of complacency and neglect is bound to develop opposition.

During the current year we will devote ourselves to the consolidation of our gains and the perfection of our administrative reorganization. Painstakingly we will test each new activity of government that has been undertaken and the new procedures that we have adopted. We do not regard the reorganization of the Executive branch of our government as completed. In fact, the real work of this reorganization has just begun. Beyond this, however, there are certain pressing obligations that must be met.

CIVIL LIBERTIES

The thought-provoking report, of April 22, 1948, of the Governor's Committee on Civil Liberties, under the chairmanship of Dr. Wilbour Eddy Saunders, stated: "The keystone of our American heritage is the importance of the individual person." I concur whole-heartedly in the conclusions reached by the Committee in its report and strongly recommend that within the framework of the Executive branch of our government as presently constituted, provision be made by legislation for the accomplishment of the objectives of the Civil Liberties Committee. I am aware of the fact that last year, while there was general agreement on objectives, there was limited agreement as to method. I am confident that where there is agreement with respect to objectives, differences with respect to method can be reconciled.

The Freeman bill (A-512 of 1948), or legislation with similar intent and with such amendments as may be required to meet the major objectives of the Committee's report, should, in my judgment, be passed this year.

HOUSING

Adequate housing and civil liberties for our citizens are closely related. Both are designed to promote the dignity of man. We require modern housing at reasonable prices and at reasonable rentals.

We should courageously and at once attack one of the most serious threats to the welfare of our State, namely, the slum areas which exist in every major community in New Jersey, as well as throughout the Nation. The recommendations made in my previous messages are even more pertinent today than they were when made. With the lapse of time since the conclusion of the war and with rising cost and accompanying disillusionment, conditions in our blighted areas have grown worse—not better. Our citizens do not want explanations. They want adequate homes. We want to rehabilitate our blighted urban areas before it is too late. These areas place heavy moral and financial burdens upon our society which are totally unnecessary. Fortunately, our new Constitution recognizes this problem and provides us with a basis for action.

We have made little progress in our efforts to secure the adoption by municipalities of modern building, plumbing and safety codes. The lack of these codes and the present conflict between codes of neighboring communities has retarded the construction of homes and increased costs. The Temporary Committee on Housing, authorized last year, will provide a full review of the factors affecting progress in both public and private housing in this State as a basis for new legislation.

I recommend: (1) the adoption of modern building and safety codes; (2) the aggressive enforcement of all laws and ordinances presently applicable to substandard housing; and (3) the broadening of the State Housing Authority and the use by this Authority, subject to appropriate restrictions, of the State's credit for a substantially self-liquidating, low rental housing and slum clearance program of up to $100,000,000. Our task is to stimulate the construction of low-cost rental homes wherever possible by private enterprise, and to the extent necessary in blighted areas to provide State and municipal encouragement and, as need be in those areas, to exercise the full authority of the State and local governments to accomplish our essential objectives.

My position with respect to the closely related subject of rent control, as outlined in two previous messages to the Legislature, remains unchanged. I believe, however, that before effective State action can be taken, national policies should be decided. If the Federal Government decides to withdraw from this activity, New Jersey will be prepared to protect its citizens.

EMPLOYMENT SECURITY

The kind of a home a family lives in and, in fact, the family's capacity to maintain a home, is largely dependent upon the economic security of its wage earners.

When the economic outlook is rosy, when business is booming and profits and wages and employment are at record highs, we are not inclined to be very much concerned with economic security. The conditions of the day create an atmosphere of risk taking, of assurance of continued prosperity. It is in times like these, however, that we are free to take inventory of our provisions for economic security, to meet our current needs and to plan for the future.

The adoption of the sickness benefit program, a brand new protection that began January 1st of this year, was accompanied by a reduction in the payroll tax for unemployment compensation. This tax reduction made available approximately $26,000,000 annually to be channeled into private enterprise and the development of new job opportunities. Two additional areas of insecurity remain to be covered in our State programs. One is the full coverage of occupational diseases under our workmen's compensation act. An increasingly complicated industrial process furnishes us with persuasive reasons why workmen's compensation coverage should be extended to include all occupational diseases occurring in industry. I recommend adoption of the bill introduced last year providing for full coverage of occupational diseases. The second is the present discrimination between employees of firms employing four or more and those employing less than four. This discrimination should be terminated. Workmen's compensation applies to these smaller firms as should the entire security program.

Current economic conditions of high wages and high prices require an increase in the present maximum benefit rate of $22.00 for unemployment compensation. If we are to provide employment security benefits, let us have them at a level which accomplishes their objectives.

The work of the Institute of Management and Labor Relations has been sufficiently noteworthy to warrant expanded State support. The two principal objectives of the Institute are to promote harmony and co-operation between management and labor and to promote a greater understanding of industrial labor relations on the part of the general public. The attainment of these objectives will promote unity and the general welfare of our people.

The right to organize and bargain collectively, guaranteed in our new Constitution, should be augmented by a State labor relations law applicable to intrastate employees. Our present minimum wage law should be made more comprehensive.

HEALTH AND INSTITUTIONS

Our concern expressed in my Inaugural Message for the humane treatment of the wards of our State, and repeated in my Annual Message last year, continues unabated. Our mental hospitals are hopelessly inadequate. We fall far short of humane standards. The dangers that arise from overcrowding and fire hazards continue. New construction to meet emergency requirements should be undertaken just as quickly as possible. Authorization of twenty-five million dollars for this purpose is required now. Appropriate provision should be made for a referendum to determine whether or not the citizens of our State wish us to engage in this capital improvement program.

At the same time that we are undertaking care of our emergency institutional requirements, we should adopt a long-range program to be put into operation as finances permit and when warranted by a prudent appraisal of the labor and materials market.

We shall continue to support programs designed to provide adequate treatment for those who suffer with mental illness and to restore these persons as quickly as possible to a productive place in society. The accomplishment of this program is in large measure dependent upon the construction of adequate facilities.

The need for research into the causes and prevention of long-term and chronic illness, and the treatment as well as the development of new techniques for the care of the increasing number of our citizens so afflicted, is apparent. These problems will require our continuing attention. We may confidently expect that the private and public agencies of our State, which have been in the forefront of the struggle to develop new techniques made necessary by an ever-increasingly complex society, will provide constructive guidance in this field.

The development of regional health services and the strengthening of intermunicipal co-operation will continue to receive our support.

EDUCATION

Our departments of health and education are partners in our efforts to give full effect to basic values in this country. There is no more important obligation of government than to provide adequate training for the youth of our State. We all recognize the importance of securing and retaining in the New Jersey public school system the best available teachers. These teachers cannot adequately perform their duties if they are harassed by economic burdens. Nor can we expect our teachers to be enthusiastic exponents of our way of life in the absence of reasonable salary schedules, permitting them to participate in the benefits of the private enterprise system.

Accordingly, I recommend again that minimum teachers' salaries be further increased.

Mindful of its own financial limitations and the untapped resources of our municipalities and of economies yet to be achieved, the State will continue its State aid program.

I recommend that the members of the State Board of Education should be chosen from the State at large, with no limitations in regard to the number to be chosen from any one county; and that the terms of two members of the board expire each year, the board to be non-partisan in character. The legislation should provide that the Commissioner of Education shall at all times be a career educator of proven administrative ability. The selection should be made on the basis of merit, and not politics.

The inadequacy of New Jersey's facilities in higher education are well known. In the past, about sixty per cent of our youth have had to look outside our State for their college training. Today, these youths find it difficult to find collegiate education in our sister States. We should support our State Teachers Colleges and our State University, providing them with adequate facilities for quality education, at the same time that we are encouraging our privately-endowed colleges and universities.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT

One of the most significant matters before you this year will be the forthcoming report of the Commission on Municipal Government. The Commission, established last year with bi-partisan sponsorship, has followed the highly commendable course of first seeking out the opinions of the entire State by publishing a preliminary statement before submitting a final report on its admittedly difficult assignment. This report should be carefully studied.

Whatever may be the Commission's final recommendations, it is already clear that it has accepted a philosophy of strengthening local self-government, a guiding principle of the present administration. The entire effectiveness of our State Government depends upon the vitality of our local governments. It is at the local level that we find the plainest picture of democracy at work. It is my hope that this year we shall be able to take the first comprehensive step in thirty years, since the enactment of the so-called home rule act of 1917, to provide our citizens a sound and adequate choice of optional local charters in the best traditions of our learning and experience.

COUNTY COURTS

In one important respect we have not completed our work of judicial integration. Many of our county judges serve on a part-time basis and are paid accordingly. This arrangement is unfair to the county judges as well as to litigants. I favor a full-time judiciary with equal and adequate salaries for all who serve on that basis. These full-time judges should be available for service outside the county of origin, where calendars permit. Within the framework of the Constitution, distinctions between Superior Court judges and county judges serving full-time should be terminated. All of our county judges, irrespective of the population of the respective counties, are being called upon to perform substantially more burdensome duties than heretofore. Salary adjustments are therefore in order. For all of those judges given a full-time status, provision should be made for assignment outside of the county, as calendars permit, following the procedure applicable to Superior Court judges. Existing legislation providing per diem payment for services outside the county in the case of these judges should be repealed.

COMMERCE AND TRANSPORTATION

We are presently engaged in the largest highway building program in the history of the State. Continued support for this program is required for the reasons stated in my Inaugural Address, and repeated last year in my Annual Message. Representatives of each section of our State have impressed me on numerous occasions with the need for improvement and modernization of our highways in their respective areas. As evidence of the emergency character of the need to rebuild our highway system, I need only cite the accident record on Route 28, particularly in the Jugtown Mountain area, on Route 44 and, to a slightly lesser degree, on Route 43. Immediate plans have been made for the completion of the first two of these highways and the redevelopment of the latter. It is to be noted that these particular highways have been selected only for the purpose of illustration and not to the exclusion of other pressing highway construction plans. Basically, our task is to provide safe East-West and North-South highway transportation facilities with appropriate inter- and intra-city connections.

CONSERVATION AND AGRICULTURE

We have provided new impetus for the development and use of our natural resources; for the prevention and control of cattle diseases; and for the improvement and development of our water supply facilities. Our Departments of Agriculture and Health have been provided with new and broadened opportunities for the maintenance of adequate food standards and services to our farmers. We must continue to support and strengthen these, as well as our other agricultural and conservation programs.

A commission appointed last year has been engaged in a constructive study of beach erosion. It has been working upon the development of a program designed to minimize the dangers of erosion, and to protect one of our most prized assets that annually attracts millions of citizens to our seashore communities from all parts of the country. The report of this commission should receive your careful study and should become a basis for action.

LAW ENFORCEMENT AND PUBLIC SAFETY

Domestic tranquillity has been the objective of government in this country from the days of the founding fathers. Now that we have integrated law enforcement agencies, with minor exceptions, within the new Department of Law and Public Safety, it is my hope that we may expand the activities of our State Police school to provide adequate training for all men engaged in law enforcement activities in this State. While providing in-service training for men and women presently engaged in law enforcement activities, we will seek to establish a program that will provide training for all men and women who in the future may enter law enforcement work. State personnel will attend the State school; county and local officers will be encouraged to attend the school or its equivalent where such schools are maintained by the cities. It is proposed to mobilize the resources of the Law School of our State University and to secure the co-operation of other educational institutions in support of this program.

THE VETERANS' BONUS

Among the many groups asking for the consideration of this Legislature, none is more important than our citizen-veteran. Pursuant to a joint resolution adopted by the 170th Legislature in 1946, a Joint Legislative Bi-Partisan Commission to Consider a Veterans' Bonus was created. In March, 1947, this Commission recommended a State bonus for New Jersey veterans of World War II. The veterans' bonus was intended by the Commission to be a token of the State's appreciation for the services of our veterans. A number of bills have been introduced in the Legislature purporting to carry out the objectives of the Commission and providing a method for the payment of a bonus. On these bills there has been a wide area of disagreement. Nonetheless, it is apparent that the only way the bonus issue may finally be determined is by a referendum. The issue, therefore, should be submitted to the people.

As I have repeatedly pointed out, legislation providing for a bonus referendum must provide the method by which the bonus is to be paid. The fourth report of the Commission on State Tax Policy, submitted in August of 1948, demonstrates that current revenues are not and will not be available for this purpose. In your consideration of this issue, you will undoubtedly want to weigh the relative importance of the various obligations of government to its citizens.

One thing should be made clear: I am unalterably opposed to any scheme of financing that depends upon a State lottery.

FINANCE

A detailed discussion of fiscal problems will be contained in my Budget Message. We find ourselves in a national environment, marked by a threatened four-billion-dollar, or more, tax increase on the part of the Federal Government. A substantial portion of this increase will be collected from New Jersey citizens, as will reported increases in taxes in neighboring States—such as the income tax in New York which will be paid by citizens of this State to the extent of approximately six million dollars. It is apparent that the New Jersey financial structure and State services are, to a considerable degree, subject to variable forces far beyond our power of control.

In addition to the requested increase in Federal taxes, it should be noted that there is a strong likelihood that Federal programs may place new pressures upon the States to spend additional sums of money on a matched-fund basis. Until these contemplated programs are fully developed, it is very difficult for the State to plan for its own future financial requirements for education, housing, highways, social security, and public health. This is to mention but a few fields where the Federal Government, backed by unlimited power to tax and to determine the value of the dollar, is seeking to expand its activities.

Our fiscal problems may be difficult, but they are not unusual. As a State, I dare say we have done well through prudent management and a careful husbanding of our tax resources. For example, according to reports of the United States Bureau of the Census, the average increase in total State tax collections for all States between 1945 and 1948 was 56%. The comparable increase in New Jersey was 20%.*

The story of our State finances, as compared with other States, is to be found in the following distribution of per capita expenditures (1947):

Item	New Jersey	All States Average
State Operating Expenses	$15.51	$23.86
Capital Expenditures	5.72	6.82
State Aid and Shared Taxes	18.45	18.75
Contributions to Pension Funds and Unemployment Compensation	20.07	7.72
Debt retirement	1.27	1.05
Interest payments	.61	.45

Comparative figures, however, offer little solace when it comes to meeting State obligations on a pay-as-you-go basis. Despite contrary influences elsewhere, we shall seek to keep our fiscal program within a reasonable limit. Admittedly, we are going through a transitionary period. It is especially appropriate at this time that we re-study our entire tax structure and assessment procedures. Our new Constitution affords a solid foundation upon which this study may now be made. I have accordingly asked the Commission on State Tax Policy to undertake a comprehensive survey of our entire tax system. Pending the receipt of its report, we shall confine our attention to the immediate needs of the next fiscal year.

* * * * *

In all of our endeavors, and those we are about to undertake, we have sought to establish a relationship of trust and confidence between the government and its citizens. Our new Constitution, the most enduring and important of all of the achievements of the past two years, is itself the product of the relationship to which I refer.

We have striven, and will strive, to strengthen an important citadel of our democracy—a healthy, growing State workshop of the Republic, close to the citizens. In a world of people increasingly dependent upon others and upon government, we have sought, and will continue to seek, the establishment of our social and economic independence.

Around us has crackled the destructive lightning that marks the storm of an increasing Nationalism, the deterioration of our cherished Federal system and the resultant higher and ever more enervating National taxes and costly controls.

Is this the time to abandon ship, to scuttle State Government? There are those who are sorely tempted to do so. No, my friends, we have come too far and have together accomplished too much to give up the battle.

This is the time to bend to our oars and to demonstrate that there is still vitality in a Federal system and to prove, as I believe you have done by solid accomplishment, that, while conditions change and new problems develop, necessitating new techniques of government and a reappraisal of old values, essential truths remain the same.

Communists and the other "ism-ites" may capture, as occasionally they have, an all-powerful national government but in all of recorded history there is no evidence that these "ism-ites" were ever able to capture a government close to its people, aware of their needs, defending and promoting in a spirit of mutual trust their rights on the highways and in the by-ways of their daily lives.

The task ahead of us, while difficult, is clear. As we apply to it sound judgment, courage and willingness to place the public interest ahead of partisan consideration, we will continue together to build a better government and a fuller way of life. Being close to the major achievements of yesterday, we should feel compelled to match those achievements tomorrow.

Under Divine Guidance, we should strive to continue an intelligent and productive work.

Respectfully submitted,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.

BUDGET MESSAGE

To the Members of the Senate and General Assembly:

The total cost of government in this country will undoubtedly influence the course of our economy for many years to come. Despite the fact that the total tax bill now paid by the American taxpayer has reached unprecedented proportions, all levels of government are being asked to undertake new services for which new taxes must be levied. In the competition for the tax dollar the States, in most instances, have been at a peculiar disadvantage. The National Government presently has it within its power to control our economy. It may establish (as it has) the value of our currency, generate pressures resulting in higher prices, and invade tax fields formerly exclusively used by the States, thereby setting in motion the law of diminishing returns. Our own State, for example, has relied upon a group of special taxes, for most of which the National Government is now a competitor. These taxes are subject to substantial fluctuation. Our major State tax revenues are derived from death taxes, and levied on pari-mutuel betting, alcoholic beverages, gasoline and cigarettes. In our State, with the repeal of the State school tax, the real estate tax has become the exclusive property of the municipality, school district and county; and the income tax still is levied exclusively by the National Government.

Despite the pressure for more service and more taxes, it is apparent that if we are to maintain a healthy economy we cannot permit the cumulative impact of all taxes to destroy private initiative and enterprise.

It is to be hoped that we are in a transitional period and that in the near future it will be possible for the National Government to substantially reduce its expenditures, thereby relieving total tax pressure. This can be accomplished in part by the readjustment of Federal-State taxes and services. In the meantime, pending the stabilization of our economy, adjustment of Federal-State relationships, and the determination of Federal fiscal policies, we should, so far as practical, endeavor to hold-the-line, resisting new piecemeal taxes and substantial new expenditures. Especially at this time, no level of government should embark upon large new spending programs without regard to the activities of the other levels. It is rather a time for taking stock and wise planning for the future.

During this holding period I have asked the Commission on State Tax Policy to undertake a comprehensive survey of our entire tax system. This Commission will be asked to submit a report in ample time for legislative action next year.

Pending the clarification of Federal fiscal policies, the adjustment of the Federal-State tax relationship, and the report of our own Tax Policy Commission, it will be necessary to defer a number of highly important capital improvement programs and postpone the expansion of some very important and essential services.

During the past two years we have been engaged in building the machinery of our State Government. This work is far from completed. It will be at least another year before we can expect to reap the full harvest of our labors.

The total requests submitted by the various departments for appropriations totaled $246,396,277. Appropriations recommended equal $160,704,287. Total requests have thus been cut $85,691,990.

Of the sum recommended, $159,045,511 will cover the cost of State Government for 1949-50. An additional $1,658,776 will provide for deficiencies in State aid programs and meet legislative obligations assumed after the adoption of the 1948-49 budget. The recommended appropriations for 1949-50 when compared with appropriations and obligations assumed for 1948-49 show an increase of $2,232,402.

There is one item in this budget which appears as a charge against current revenue for the first time—namely debt service on the Veterans' Housing Program in the sum of $2,253,775. This one item alone exceeds the entire over-all increase in the proposed budget over the adjusted appropriations for the current year.

Increases in other specific items have been more than offset by cuts and savings, many of them made possible by the reorganization of our State Government under the new Constitution. These increases include increments and salary adjustments to State employees in excess of $1,500,000; increases in materials and supplies, principally to provide adequate diets for the thousands of State wards in institutions; increases in services other than personal, to provide for increased costs for services such as telephone, telegraph, rentals, etc.; provision for the new Bureau of Temporary Disability Benefits, which will administer the new cash sickness law; and many other unavoidable increases.

A glance at the summary tables prefacing the detailed material will show the amounts requested by and recommended for the Legislature, the Executive, the fourteen principal departments, the Judiciary and the Temporary and Interstate Commissions. In these summary statements, there is gathered together fiscal information which was previously spread out over ninety odd disjointed, unco-ordinated agencies.

Following the form adopted in the Budget Message last year, I have set the budget forth in three distinct parts, namely:

1. Current General State Operations.
2. State Aid to Counties, Municipalities and School Districts.
3. Capital Improvements.

BUDGET PART I

GENERAL STATE PURPOSES—(CURRENT OPERATIONS)

	Total	General	Highway
Estimated Balances—July 1, 1949	$15,438,628.00	$240,110.00	$15,198,518.00
1949-50 Revenue Estimates	142,948,190.00	80,030,190.00	62,918,000.00
Transfers from Dedicated Funds	3,325,377.00	3,325,377.00	.....
Total Budget Resources	$161,712,195.00	$83,595,677.00	$78,116,518.00
Budget Recommendations, Including Deficiencies	79,149,669.00	55,313,913.00	23,835,756.00
Balance of Income Available	$82,562,526.00	$28,281,764.00	$54,280,762.00

Budget part I discloses that the present tax structure of the State is adequate to provide for the normal operation of government at the State level. The amount recommended, $79,149,669, will provide sufficient funds to operate all of our Mental Hospitals, Penal Institutions and other Welfare Agencies. These funds will provide for the operation of our educational institutions including the Bordentown School, the School for the Deaf and the various Teachers' Colleges, and all other costs of general government.

State Employees:

The amount provided in this part of the budget for salaries to State employees equals $47,847,069, which constitutes approximately 60% of the total budget part I. There has been provided in this figure sums sufficient to continue the present bonuses being paid to State employes and, in addition, provision has been made for increments due on the employees' anniversary dates.

It is my hope that, when the changes contemplated by the new reorganization have been completed, the various State department heads will achieve additional savings in appropriations for personnel which will make it possible to revise the present bonus arrangement, providing a permanent salary increment without greatly expanding the sum required for personnel service. In addition, we should complete the State employees' reclassification program.

Pensions and Contributions to Pension Funds:

Included in the budget part I is the sum of $1,841,297 for payment of direct State pensions, and the State's contribution to Pension Funds. This is approximately $400,000 more than was approved for the current year. The greater part of this increase is payable to the State Employees' Retirement System Fund. This fund is established on a sound actuarial basis. Most of our State employees are members.

I would be remiss, however, if I did not point out to the Legislature that a large group of our present employees are relying on the benefits to be derived from the provisions of the Heath and Veterans' Pension Acts. These acts make no provision for employee contribution. Assuming that the number of veterans employed by the State does not exceed those employed in February of 1948 (and we may expect the number to constantly increase) the State's liability will increase substantially each year. In 1953 the State will be called upon to provide $325,000 to meet its obligation under these acts. By 1963 this obligation will exceed $2,000,000. Accordingly, I recommend that the State Retirement Commission continue its study for the two-fold purpose of protecting the rights of our veterans and the establishment of a sound and equitable pension.

Institutions and Agencies:

Rising food and fuel costs make it necessary for me to recommend $370,000 more than the amount appropriated in the previous year for these items, to provide adequate custodial care for the many thousands of wards housed in our State institutions.

Recent studies made by private citizens, as well as by members of the Legislature, have disclosed the serious over-crowded conditions in our various institutions and agencies. Large waiting lists make it essential that we take steps to provide additional housing facilities for those of our citizens requiring custodial care and treatment. I have recommended in my annual message that this problem be met by presenting to the electorate a bond issue of $25,000,000. Should the electorate pass favorably on this proposal, I have provided in this budget sufficient sums to care for the interest which will accrue in connection with this proposed debt.

BUDGET PART II

GRANTS-IN-AID TO COUNTIES, MUNICIPALITIES AND SCHOOL DISTRICTS

	Total	General	Highway
Balance of Income Available	$82,562,526.00	$28,281,764.00	$54,280,762.00
Amount required to be borrowed from Highway Funds to continue Grants-in-Aid Program	.....	19,145,637.00	(19,145,637.00)
	$82,562,526.00	$47,427,401.00	$35,135,125.00
Budget Recommendations, including deficiencies	62,767,401.00	47,427,401.00	15,340,000.00
Balance of Income Available	$19,795,125.00	.....	$19,795,125.00

These figures disclose insufficient revenues to support current grants-in-aid programs, particularly for education and welfare. This subject was discussed at some length in my Budget Message last year. The need for the study to be undertaken by the Tax Policy Commission is apparent.

Recommended grants-in-aid are as follows:

Educational	$33,478,660.00
Highway	15,250,000.00
Welfare	12,076,801.00
Municipal Pension Fund	1,000,000.00
Other General	961,940.00

Educational Aid:

Direct Aid to School Districts is recommended in the sum of $25,526,017. Payments to the Teachers' Pension Fund total $7,952,643.

In my message of last year I recommended that the amount known as the "deficiency contribution" payable to the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund, should be pegged at $1,500,000 annually until such time as the accrued liability is paid in full. I again recommend that legislation be reintroduced to amend the original Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund act so that it will be brought into harmony with the recommendation made herein.

I have been assured by competent actuaries and also the trustees of the fund that passage of this legislation will in no sense affect the actuarial soundness of the fund. What we accomplish by this "pegging" is a leveling off of the annual contribution by the State by establishing a deferred payment plan in meeting this particular obligation.

I am again recommending that the Legislature revise our School Aid Program so that it may be placed on a unified definitive basis enabling both the District and the State to know exactly the amount of the latter's obligation. This will eliminate requests for deficiency appropriations presently made possible by the existence of the so-called "open end" agreements.

Welfare Aid:

One of the most difficult categories of the grant-in-aid program to budget is welfare. The State contributes to the municipalities for the cost of direct relief. In addition, the State participates in Old Age Assistance programs, the Care of Dependent Children and a number of other social welfare activities. The increased cost of living and a reappraisal of these welfare programs by the National Government has resulted in increased demands upon the State for financial assistance. These demands are subject to change during a budget year and hence make it almost impossible accurately to forecast the amount required to meet the State's share of the program.

Highway Aid:

I recommend that we continue the basic Highway Aid program initiated in 1947 providing for substantial increased State aid for our counties and municipalities.

BUDGET PART III

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS

	Total	General	Highway
Balance of Income Available	$19,795,125.00	.....	$19,795,125.00
Amount required to be borrowed from Highway Funds to finance General Capital Items	.....	$10,000.00	(10,000.00)
	$19,795,125.00	$10,000.00	$19,785,125.00
Budget Recommendations ...	18,787,217.00	10,000.00	18,777,217.00
Unappropriated Reserve	$1,007,908.00	.....	$1,007,908.00

In my Annual Message to the Legislature last year I recommended a $25,000,000 road construction program to be paid from current funds. For the current year I recommend a continuation of this program with $18,552,217 to be provided by the State and the balance by a partial return of gasoline taxes collected by the Federal Government from New Jersey highway users. This highway capital improvement program will be augmented by the "luxury," "main stem" highway program that will be initiated by the toll road authority in the near future.

In my Annual Message for this year I stressed the tragic need of our institutions for additional facilities. I have already recommended a $25,000,000 bond issue to meet the most urgent of these requirements.

In addition, I recommend the allocation of $225,000 from presently available funds to the Department of Law and Public Safety for the erection of joint facilities for the Division of State Police and the Division of Motor Vehicles.

It is my hope that provision will be made this year prior to the adoption of the budget for 1949-50 for the erection of a functional office building at "Fernwood" to be used by the State Highway Department and related agencies. Construction of this functional building will permit the State to save annually substantial sums now paid for rental and, in addition, and of equal importance, to consolidate the activities of the State Highway Department in one building. Furthermore, the erection of such a building will permit other State agencies now scattered throughout the State Capitol to be consolidated in a single building, thus promoting efficiency and contemplated reorganization economies.

Among the many improvements urgently required is the restoration of our beaches. A legislative committee has been studying this problem and submitted a preliminary report. It is anticipated that the revision of our revenue structure will provide funds for this purpose.

Balancing the Budget:

It is apparent this year, as it was last year, that a balanced budget is dependent upon four alternatives:

1. Additional revenue;
2. Elimination of present services;
3. Reduction of present grants-in-aid;
4. Temporary borrowing from Highway Fund reserves.

Pending the adjustments mentioned in the first part of this message, the completion of the reorganization program, and a reappraisal of all services presently being rendered by State Government, we have chosen the latter course. It should be understood that, if we are to avoid the penalty imposed in the Federal Hayden-Cartright Act, the funds borrowed from highway reserves must be returned.

It is apparent that the energies devoted during the past two years to the improvement of the form and structure of our State Government must now be devoted to the improvement of the form and structure of our tax system. This comprehensive study must necessarily include consideration of present Federal and State aid programs and the methods of financing them. Out of a total State budget of $159,000,000, far smaller than that of any other comparable State, $61,000,000 is devoted to State aid, almost $19,000,000 to capital improvements, and $79,000,000 for general operations. Of this $79,000,000, over $22,000,000 is devoted to institutions and agencies. I am confident that our citizens want us to provide adequately for the unfortunate wards of the State; $8,000,000 is allocated to education for the maintenance of our teachers' colleges and other educational facilities. Law and Public Safety, including State Police, the Motor Vehicle Division, and other law enforcement agencies cost almost $6,500,000. The maintenance of our present highway system and the planning, engineering and development of new highways costs almost $12,000,000. These four services alone consume $48,500,000, or 61%, of the State operating budget.

If recommendations contained herein are adopted, we may anticipate a balance in the Treasury on June 30, 1950, of $1,007,908. It is apparent, therefore, that our present resources will not permit us to exceed the recommendations contained in this message. The balance anticipated is already dangerously low and will only be realized if estimated revenues are collected. In my first Budget Message I stated that a budget is not a blueprint for the spending of State revenues. Properly understood it constitutes a challenge to save money and spend less than the amount recommended for appropriation.

It is obvious that we may no longer defer planned study of the quality and extent of State services and supporting taxes. In these studies we shall ask all interested citizens to co-operate. What services should the State Government properly perform?

How should they be financed? These are the pertinent questions that must be answered. In their answers we will find the guide-posts of our future fiscal policies.

In the day-to-day operation of the State Government we will always be heavily dependent upon our department heads and the thousands of loyal State officers and employees. We are indebted to them for their resourcefulness and constant devotion to the public welfare. It is principally through their efforts that we are able to maintain a reasonably efficient administration of the State Government, and to avoid many of the inefficiencies and wastes that often plague large enterprises. I regret that we have not been able to accept many recommendations for appropriations, and know that we can never adequately compensate those who are responsible for the alert and conscientious State services to which our citizens have become accustomed.

Respectfully submitted,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.

Which motion was carried.

The Speaker announced that Assemblyman William Widnall, of Bergen County, would deliver an address on the life of Abraham Lincoln to commemorate his birthday.

Mr. Widnall delivered the following address:

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Mr. Speaker, Members of the House of Assembly, Officers and Guests:

As I approached my assigned task today and thought of the glory of Abraham Lincoln as commemorated by us on his birthday, I was appalled at how little I knew and recalled of his life and times. I hope that in the next few minutes I can refresh your memories and add some additional facts shedding light on the character, ability and personality of our great president.

We must all know his humble beginning and how at fifteen he knew his alphabet, could read a little and not write at all.

Too poor to buy an arithmetic book, he borrowed one and copied it on sheets of paper about the size of an ordinary letterhead. He sewed them together with twine and possessed a home-made arithmetic of his own.

His first composition in school was a plea for mercy to animals, inspired by the cruel sports of his playmates. They caught turtles and put burning coals on their backs. Already he was showing deep sympathy for the suffering which was so characteristic of the man. Lincoln's total formal education was less than 12 months of schooling, even this amount in irregular hitches which were phrased by him as "by littles."

Later when Lincoln entered Congress and filled out a biographical blank he answered the question: "What has been your education?" with one word: "Defective." Abe had acquired a love for knowledge and a thirst for learning, and reading opened up for him a world full of magic and promise. He once said: "The greatest friend a man can have is one who will bring him a book he hasn't read." This clearly showed the importance he placed upon his search for a better understanding of all about him, and he avidly read, always learning with an insatiable desire to improve himself and help others about him.

Farmers called him lazy, for he was always reading and interrupting his work to read from an ever-present book. He admitted his laziness, and said: "My father taught me to work, but he never taught me to love it."

Farm life did not appeal to Lincoln, and after having spent 22 years on farms he wanted a job where he could meet people and entertain them with his stories. Opportunity for change came to him when he was employed to build and operate a log-cabin grocery store in New Salem. He clerked and ran a grist and sawmill for six years—years of tremendous influence.

During this period Abe won the respect and friendship of all about him. The local gang of ruffians were won over by his athletic prowess as he won jumping contests and foot races. He could also with his gangling long arms toss a cannon ball farther than any of them. And, he could tell the kind of stories they would understand.

Activity in the local "literary society" awakened his ambition and there he developed his courage and self-confidence. This was where he first discovered that he had an unusual ability to influence men by his speech.

An interval—the Black Hawk war, and Lincoln was elected captain of the local volunteers.

Captain Lincoln's humor showed in his description of his war service: "Didn't attack any redskins, but he made charges upon the wild onions." "Didn't see any Indians, but had many bloody struggles with the mosquitoes."

Returning from the war he ran for the Legislature and was defeated. Two years later he ran again, was elected and then had to borrow money to buy a suit of clothes to wear to the Legislature.

During this period Abe's precarious living was derived from the grocery firm of Lincoln & Berry. This failed because his partner was half groggy with whiskey most of the time and Lincoln was immersed in his books. By then he had decided to become a lawyer and was absorbed in reading Blackstone and any other books he could possibly borrow or acquire.

Lincoln was happy in his love for Ann Rutledge and their plans for the future.

Then the tragic death of Ann Rutledge changed his personality completely. His law partner Herndon was to say later: "If Lincoln ever had a happy day in 20 years I never knew of it. Melancholy dripped from him as he walked." Much of the deep feeling of the man undoubtedly was derived from his grief and the understanding inspired by his loss.

When Lincoln went to Springfield he was eleven hundred dollars in debt. This was the result of his ill-fated grocery venture. Did Lincoln try to escape responsibility? No. He manfully went to his creditors and promised to pay if given time. After 14 years, years of self-denial and saving, he wiped the slate clean and paid all his creditors in full. He shouldered his responsibilities and met his obligations.

Followed a period of rich and growing experience in political life—ever broadening and developing Lincoln the man. In his life disappointment followed disappointment yet there is no record of his venting his feelings upon another. His ability to overcome the frustrating pressure of defeat and the lack of formal education were in themselves glorious achievements. Above all was his triumph over bitterness. As we all know, war is a time when prejudice and hate and their like are let loose upon the human heart, but none of these things conquered Lincoln. His face was lined with sorrow, sympathly and understanding, but not evidence of hate. One day, to a Cabinet member who was giving vent to his spleen, he said, "You have more bitterness than I have, but I never thought it paid."

The secret foundation of Lincoln's character, indeed his greatness, was his religion. The standard Jesus gave, "to love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, all thy mind, all thy soul, and thy neighbor as thyself," was what Lincoln strived to attain. He once told his law partner his religious code was like that of an old man he had heard speak at a church meeting: "When I do good, I feel good—when I do bad, I feel bad."

There was nothing mean or petty about Abe Lincoln. Jealousy was unknown to him and just not part of his make-up. I can think of no better example than his relations with Stanton, who became his Secretary of War. Lincoln was reviled and humiliated by Stanton at a time they were trying a patent case together. Stanton said later, Lincoln was a "painful imbecile," utterly incapable of running the Government and in letters to Buchanan abused him in language so violent that it was unfit to print. Despite all this, after Lincoln was in office as President for ten months, a national scandal brewed over the conduct of the War Department. Lincoln, knowing the future of the nation might depend on his choice, named "Stanton" saying: "I have made up my to sit down on all my pride—it may be a portion of my self-respect." It was one of his wisest appointments.

In the end Stanton, who had denounced him so severely, said, as Lincoln lay dying, after Booth had attacked him: "There lies the most perfect ruler of men the world has ever seen."

Almost every man in Lincoln's Cabinet considered himself superior to Lincoln. In the end most all learned to revere him. Such was the character of Lincoln and the triumphs of his leadership.

It is a miracle that Lincoln kept his reason during the war years. With incompetent Generals, many bitter, costly failures in the conduct of the campaign, and even his own original supporters deserting him, Lincoln had times when he was tragically alone. But for his great faith in the Right and a Divine Providence the burden of his cares would have weighed too heavily upon him. As Lincoln said, when leaving his home for Washington and his inauguration: "I now leave, not knowing when or whether ever I may return, with a task before me greater than that which rested upon Washington. Without the assistance of that Divine Being, who ever attended him, I cannot succeed. With that assistance, I cannot fail. Trusting in Him, who can go with me, and remain with you, and be everywhere for good, let us confidently hope that all will yet be well."

The simplicity and power of Lincoln was best shown at Gettysburg. There this tall, lanky man standing overlooking the battlefield, followed Edward Everett, the most famous orator of the day. His invitation had not even been a personal one, and the committee had been astonished when he accepted. He had been told to make a "few appropriate remarks" after Mr. Everett had delivered his oration. He had labored long and arduously in preparation, and yet in two minutes and 35 seconds he was through. Few present realized he had finished and most thought he had just completed his introduction. Just 252 words, and probably the audience never realized that they were listening to one of the great speeches of all time.

Lincoln later said: "That speech is a flat failure. It won't scour. The people are disappointed." Secretary Seward and Mr. Everitt, sitting on the platform with Lincoln, felt he had failed and felt sorry for him.

It was characteristic of the modesty of Lincoln that he sincerely felt the world would little note nor long remember what he said there, but that it would never forget what the brave men who died had done there.

In retrospect we remember not the accident of his death, but the purpose of his life. He emerged from the backwoods, slowly hewing his way, and constantly learning so that he might lead others toward that which is right.

Lincoln was warmed by the prairie earth, rooted deep in human tragedy, full of love for all about him, confident in his destiny and filled with the strength to carry indescribable burdens.

I hope that in our present-day world as we face our current problems we will bear in mind and follow the admonition in the great words of Lincoln at his second inauguration:

"With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nation's wounds; to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow, and his orphan—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves, and with all nations."

The following communication was sent to the desk and read by the Clerk:

DEAR MR. WADSWORTH:

I submit herewith certified copy of resolution adopted by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield urging that a legislative change be effected so as to amend Revised Statutes 39:5–40 and 39:5–41 to the extent that wherever the enforcement personnel is provided by local municipalities in traffic enforcement matters, that the fines and penalties resulting therefrom be paid to the respective treasurers of the local municipalities.

Very truly yours,

FRED TOEGEL,
City Clerk.

WHEREAS, In pursuance of the Constitutional Mandate, there has been undertaken a revision of the Judicial System of New Jersey, and which revision also includes local municipal courts; and

The following communication was sent to the desk and read by the Clerk:

Annual Report for the calendar year of 1948 of Attorney General.

Mr. Miller moved that the communication be received and filed.

Which motion was adopted.

To His Excellency, Alfred E. Driscoll, Governor of the State of New Jersey, and to the Members of the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

In accordance with the provisions of Chapter 20 of the Laws of 1944, I submit herewith my annual report for the period covering the calendar year 1948.

During the year this department, like every other department of the State Government, has seen its activities increased and has been confronted with many new problems. So far as this department is concerned, this has been due not only to the normal increase in growth of the State's activities, but our time has been especially employed as a result of the adoption of the new Constitution.

The taking effect of the Constitution of 1947 has naturally presented many legal problems which have been brought to us by members of the Legislature and every department of the State Government. Because of the lack of any judicial interpretations as to many features of the new Constitution, these problems have required more than the usual amount of time in research and discussion as well as the writing of opinions in connection therewith.

In addition to this, the statutes enacted during the 1948 session concerning the reorganization of the State Government have as well entailed considerable work in their interpretations and construction in order that the department heads who are affected thereby and charged with the administration thereof, might be properly advised as to their full authority and responsibility.

This department itself became merged with the Department of Law and Public Safety which now embraces not only the Attorney-General's office, but the Division of Motor Vehicles, Division of Alcoholic Beverage Control, the State Police, the Tenement House Commission, the Bureau of Weights and Measures and all of the professional boards of the State.

After the adoption of the legislation reorganizing the department and prior to its effective date of January 1, 1949, conferences were held with all of the heads of the departments that were being merged with the new Department of Law and Public Safety, and with the representatives of all of the professional boards. I am glad to be able to report that as a result, the new department organized in accordance with the reorganization plan is operating effectively, smoothly and with a high degree of efficiency with the complete co-operation among all of the division and bureau heads who now constitute this expanded department.

It is pleasing to report that during the year the considerable litigation which the department is always of necessity engaged in has resulted most successfully from the State's point of view. Of thirty-six cases argued before the old Supreme Court, the Court of Errors and Appeals and the new Supreme Court, thirty-one of them have resulted in decisions favorable to the State.

Of outstanding importance was the decision of the Superior Court upholding the constitutionality of the Acts of 1946 and 1947 designed to prevent strikes in public utilities and providing a method of compulsory arbitration. The judgment of the Superior Court in upholding these Acts has been appealed to our State Supreme Court and will be argued there probably with the next two months. Incidentally, this law has proven most effective during the year in either preventing strikes in utilities or where they did take place bringing about a quick resumption of work under the authority of State seizure.

The department continues to be engaged as it has for some years past with a considerable amount of railroad tax litigation, which is handled by Mr. Van Tine and Mr. Taub. During the year fifteen cases involving appeals by the various railroads from tax assessments levied by the State were concluded before the State Board of Tax Appeals, and in accomplishing this all of the railroad tax appeals for assessments made prior to 1947 have been disposed of.

During the year there was collected from the Central Railroad of New Jersey $9,571,000 representing interest due on delinquent taxes from the years 1932 to 1940. During the same period the sum of $800,000 was collected by the State from the New York, Susquehanna and Western Railroad for interest due on similarly delinquent taxes.

With the collection of these amounts all of the delinquent railroad taxes and interest which were in dispute over a period of years have been paid.

Of particular importance to the State was the case argued before the new Supreme Court by Mr. Van Tine and which resulted in a victory for the State's contention that it had the right to assess floating equipment owned by the railroads; the equipment in this particular case being owned by the New York Central and Erie Railroads.

In addition to this litigation, of course, the matter of railroad tax appeals has consumed a vast amount of time in study, review and the preparation of briefs filed in connection with other litigation of a like nature which was disposed of during the year.

The increase in highway construction naturally has resulted in an increase in the number of condemnation proceedings required to be instituted in order to acquire land for highway purposes and in the amount of title work involved not only in the condemnation but in the purchase of land for the same use.

During the year seventy-one condemnation suits were instituted by the department, fifty-one of which were actually disposed of by trial. During the same period of time 476 deeds were prepared and 504 titles approved.

The department acting through Deputy Attorney-General Oliver T. Somerville, who is assigned to the Department of Banking and Insurance as well as the Securities Division, has advised the latter department in several matters of considerable importance during the year involving consolidation and mergers of financial institutions.

Outstanding in this regard was the case of the Columbus Trust Company of Newark which merged with the U. S. Trust Company as a result of large defalcations from the former bank by one of its officers. The procedure necessary to bring about the solution of this difficult problem involved steps in dissolution of the one bank and the transfer of its assets to another.

In addition to this, Mr. Somerville has attended the meetings of the Banking Advisory Board acting as legal advisor thereto and has attended to the preparation of various litigations with which the Department of Banking and Insurance was concerned.

The Banking Escheat Law was attacked during the year by an action brought in the then Court of Chancery by the New Jersey Bankers' Association attempting to act on behalf of the banks of the State, and although their contention was sustained in the Court of Chancery, the State took an appeal to the new Supreme Court where our case was successfully argued by Deputy Attorney-General Griggs and resulted in a decision of the Supreme Court reversing the Court of Chancery and holding that the association as such was without standing to attack the law. Apparently there will be no further attempts made to attack the validity of our Banking Escheat Act.

Several suits have been instituted during the year for the recovery of personal property under the Personal Property Escheat Act of 1946 (as amended). The constitutionality of this act has been attacked by both the Standard Oil Company and the U. S. Steel Corporation against whom actions were started. The matter was argued before Superior Court Judge Jayne and a decision thereon is now awaited. The sustaining of this act will undoubtedly result in large sums of money being turned into the State Treasury.

The activity of the Securities Division, which is handled directly by Deputy Attorney-General Louis S. Cohen under the supervision of Mr. Somerville, has increased considerably during the past year due to the issuance of many new securities, and the division has been actively engaged in a large number of investigations, several of which have resulted in exposing the offering of unsound stock investments, and as a result of the division's disclosures prospective investors have been saved a large amount of money.

The Department of Conservation and Development always provides considerable in the way of litigation in view of the fact that its work covers the Fish and Game Commission, Delaware and Raritan Canal Commission, Well Drillers Commission, Incodel Commission and the Conservation Commission.

Deputy Attorney-General Robert Peacock is in charge of this work as well as the Department of Health and State Police, and during the year he was charged with the conduct of forty-two cases in litigation and with the rendering of thirty-five opinions. In addition to litigation which was carried over from the previous year, he instituted thirteen new actions for the State Board of Health, three for the Board of Navigation and three for the Fish and Game Commission.

The Civil Service Commission has found itself confronted with many new legal problems during the past year particularly as to the constitutional and statutory changes which have taken place. Col. John W. Griggs represents the department handling matters for the commission and has been engaged in litigation in many different cases.

The Aviation Commission also represented by Colonel Griggs has made use of the services of this department in various hearings and several requests for opinions.

The State Racing Commission has had the benefit of our advice in a number of opinions, and the Attorney-General personally has at the request of the commissioners attended some of their meetings for the purpose of consultation concerning legal matters.

The corporation tax work of this department is under the supervision of Deputy Attorney-General Max Eistenstein and is constantly engaged in matters involving the collection of delinquent corporation taxes. The amount of taxes of this nature collected by the State during the past year amounted to $362,603.03.

Deputy Attorneys-General Frank H. Sommer, Daniel DeBrier and Joseph Harrison, all assigned to the work of the Public Utilities Commission, have disposed of an unusually large amount of work during the year. A large number of applications are continually pending before the commission for increases in rates, etc., all of which demand a large amount of time from the members of the legal staff charged with that responsibility.

Late in the year a new rate case was started as a result of an application filed by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company, and that matter is being handled by the regular legal staff of the Attorney-General's office without additional outside counsel.

The Department of Institutions and Agencies requires legal services in connection with a very large number of matters which are constantly arising. This consists of workmen's compensation matters, attending hearings on writs of habeas corpus, actions brought for the recovery of money due, and a vast number of other problems which call for both conferences and opinions on behalf of members of the Attorney-General's staff.

During the year the department has been called upon to institute suits, in addition to the litigation above referred to, on behalf of the following boards and agencies.

Real Estate Commission
Architect Board
Adjutant-General's Office
Tenement House Board
State Board of Medical Examiners
Fish and Game Commission
State Department of Health
State Dental Board
Shell Fisheries
State Board of Pharmacy
Milk Control Board
Weights and Measures
Glassboro State Teachers College
Paterson State Teachers College
Newark State Teachers College
Agricultural Experiment Station

As referred to above, the matter of current legislation has required increasing attention during the year because of new constitutional provisions. Deputy Attorney-General Dominic A. Cavicchia, who is in charge of this activity, has been required to and has given the major proportion of his time to work of this nature, in addition to the handling of anti-discrimination matters, which have come directly under his supervision.

The department is constantly being called upon by the Department of Labor with its many bureaus and divisions for consultation and advice. Our participation in this work is handled primarily by Deputy Attorney-General Grace J. Ford whose entire time is occupied with considering and advising the Labor Department and in handling litigation in which the department has been directly concerned.

In addition to this, there have been several instances of seizures of utility plants in which the Commissioner of Labor has acted as the representative of the Governor, and his activities during the period of seizure are constantly the subject of legal advice.

This report is not intended to detail each routine activity in which the department has been engaged during the past year. In addition to the departments which have been specifically mentioned herein, we have been called upon many times for advice and legal opinions by every other department in the State Government, and in addition to that have represented them in all matters of litigation in which they were concerned or to which they were a party in any way. The number of opinions which were given to the various State agencies, departments and officials during the year runs into the hundreds.

During the past five years the Attorney-General's office has for the first time in its existence been actively interested in aiding in the enforcement of the criminal laws of this State.

The Department of Law Act of 1944 gave the Attorney-General's office a wider latitude of co-operation with county prosecutors. By virtue of its provisions the prosecutors have been furnishing the Attorney-General annually with a report of their activities during the preceding year, and the Attorney-General on numerous occasions has asked various prosecutors for special reports concerning specific matters which were pending within their county.

I am glad to report that upon the basis of these annual reports and independent observations made by this office that the enforcement of the criminal laws of this State as it has been carried out by the respective prosecutors has been honest, efficient and effective. This statement is made with due realization of the fact that the prosecutor's primary responsibility is that of investigating evidence which comes to him from local police departments and of presenting the result of that investigation to grand juries for indictment and then to trial courts for trial.

There is one phase of law enforcement in New Jersey which is subject to considerable improvement, that is enforcement of the laws against gambling, particularly organized, commercialized gambling. During the past two years members of the investigating staff of the Attorney-General's office have conducted over two hundred raids against places where gambling was being conducted on a professional basis for the profit of the professional gambler. Every one of these raids has been successful in that they resulted in the securing of evidence which led to the conviction (either by trial or by pleas of guilty) of those who were responsible for operating the places.

The significant feature of this activity as it concerns law enforcement is the fact that every one of the places raided should have been raided by the local police department of the municipality where it was located, and further, every one of them could have been raided just as effectively by members of the local police department as they were by members of the Attorney-General's staff, if the local police department had been aggressive, alert and doing its full duty. The evidence which we were able to secure and which justified the raids was as easily available to the local police as to us.

The oft repeated statement that local police departments are unable to secure evidence of commercialized gambling within their jurisdiction because their members are too well known is usually without a sound basis in fact. If a police department is so small that it does not contain within its membership men who are not generally known within the confines of the municipality, outside men who are strangers locally can be secured at an expense which for the purpose concerned would be comparatively small. It usually does not take very much time to secure evidence sufficient to raid places of this nature.

As a matter of fact this office recently raided some organized gambling places in the City of Trenton, and the ease with which the necessary information could have been secured by any member of the police department is evidenced by the fact that our investigators by merely standing on the sidewalk were able to look across the street directly into the front door of one of the places and actually see the payoff man making payments to those who had been lucky enough to have winning bets.

In a raid which we made on an organized and apparently long-established gambling place in Phillipsburg, a nephew of the Director of Public Safety was actually operating as one of the cashiers in the place at the time of the raid, and another close relative of the director was a frequent visitor there.

The State is and has been for the past five years always ready to lend personnel either from the Attorney-General's office or the State Police for the purpose of aiding local police departments in securing evidence of law violations. The facts impel me to say that while requests for aid of this kind have in certain instances come from county prosecutors, none have been received through this office from local police departments.

I think that I am fully aware of the natural tendency of great numbers of people to want to gamble, and personally I have no quarrel with this. These comments deal solely with the matter of law enforcement and the honest and efficient administration of law enforcement agencies. Despite the tendency on the part of a very large segment of our population in favor of some form of gambling, it is my considered opinion, based upon the observations which I have had the opportunity to make during the past five years, that organized, commercialized gambling conducted for the profit of gamblers can be eliminated by alertness, diligence and aggressiveness on the part of local police departments if they have the will to do so and the necessary orders from their superiors. The gambling public is interested in its own pleasure and recreation, not in the gamblers' profit or in helping to demoralize police departments.

If the police department of the City of New Orleans, where commercialized gambling has become a tradition, can wipe it out, as I believe it has under the aggressive leadership of its mayor directing the police department, then every city in the State of New Jersey should be able to do likewise. The reason it is not done in all of our municipalities is in my judgment attributable to three factors. First, a willingness on the part of the public to condone laxity in law enforcement; secondly, an attitude of complacency on the part of the directing heads of the police departments and in many instances their political superiors in the city government; and thirdly, the ability of the gambling interests to be helpful with both money and votes at election time.

It has been suggested both by grand juries and those who by meritorious service have greatly aided the cause of law enforcement that a necessary aid to suppressing commercialized gambling is the legalization of wire tapping in this State. I am not in favor of legislation which would permit the tapping of telephone wires. It is undoubtedly true that the use of wire tapping methods would make it easier in some cases to detect violations of the anti-gambling laws; but these same violations can be detected without too much difficulty without wire tapping if diligence and aggressiveness are used. In my judgment the great danger in legalized wire tapping is the abuses to which it may be and I believe has been put. The abuse could easily become worse than the offense it was designed to prevent.

New York State authorizes wire tapping subject to certain restrictions. There has been a great deal of evidence lately that these restrictions have been disregarded and the wire tapping authorization indiscriminately abused. New York City enforcement officials have tapped wires in that city to ascertain the fact that betting was being made by means of telephones, but certainly no one in possession of the facts would contend for a minute that organized and professional gambling has been eliminated in New York City.

Although I have here criticized the failure of some law enforcement agencies in the State to do their duty and suppress organized gambling, it should be said in fairness that whenever raids and arrests have been made, either by the county prosecutor's staff or by the Attorney-General's office, as well as in instances where they both co-operated, the record of convictions has been extraordinarily high, and the punishment has in practically every case been commensurate with the offense. Our sentencing judges, generally speaking, have not dealt lightly with those who were engaged in gambling on a commercialized basis. A comparison with some of the sentences for commercialized gambling imposed in this State and in the neighboring State of New York is interesting.

My attention has been called forcefully to this while I have been dictating this report by a front page article which appeared in the press of yesterday (January 26) and referred to a raid made by the State Police in New York State where seventy-two men were seized while "several dice games were in progress" in a place which was described by the police as "the most elaborate gambling layout ever seized in this part of the Hudson Valley," and is alleged to have contained gambling equipment "worth several thousands"—apparently a first-class organized gambling house. When arraigned in court the two proprietors were fined the sum of $150 each and released. If a sentence of this kind for a similar offense was imposed in the State of New Jersey, I would immediately ask for a grand jury investigation to determine who was responsible for a miscarriage of justice. My observation of penalties imposed for similar offenses in New York State leads me to believe that the one referred to herein is not out of line with fines imposed in other cases.

In my report covering the year 1947 filed a year ago I recommended the appointment of a commission for the purpose of studying this apparently ever present problem of violation of the anti-gambling laws with the idea that from it would come crystallization of public sentiment that would make for more effective law enforcement either as a result of renewed determination on the part of the public and of law enforcement officials for stricter enforcement, or the bringing of our anti-gambling laws more in line with public sentiment. It seems needless to say in passing that it is apparent that if we are to legalize other gambling than that which is now legal within the State, that public opinion countenancing lax law enforcement is likely to increase. I again reiterate my recommendation for the appointment of such a commission.

In calling attention to the failure of local police departments to suppress commercialized gambling as I have done in this report I desire to emphasize the fact that this is not a condemnation or criticism of all public departments or of all of the members of every police department. In practically all of the cases where members of the Attorney-General's staff have either by themselves or in co-operation with the county prosecutors raided gambling activities which could have been suppressed by the local police, some members of the police department (including superior officers), have frankly voiced their opinion to the effect that "It is time this thing was cleaned up, and we wish that we could have done it ourselves." When asked why they had not accomplished the same result, the answer was always to the effect that they did not dare to do it because someone higher up either in the department or the governing body would not give them a free hand in enforcing the law against this type of violation. This strengthens my belief that the average police department is not only capable of enforcing the law against commercialized gambling, but would gladly do so if it were given the orders to act and if these orders were known to be sincere.

I am glad to report that so far as this office is concerned it has had the co-operation of every prosecutor of the State either now in office or who has held that office during the past five years whenever that co-operation was asked, and on many occasions it has been volunteered by various prosecutors.

In this connection I desire to call attention to a situation which I think should have immediate attention, and that is the lack of sufficient personnel which exists in many of the prosecutors' offices of the State, particularly the smaller counties. Some prosecutors not only do not have an assistant prosecutor (this office is not needed in some of the counties), but they do not have an office staff and do not have an investigator of any kind. It is almost an absurdity to think that a prosecutor in any county, no matter how small it is or how little criminal business there is, should not have a trained investigator attached to his staff permanently on a full-time basis subject to his orders. The cause of law enforcement in the State would be aided considerably if the Legislature would authorize the payment of adequate salaries to prosecutors and assistant prosecutors—I think most of them are now below the level where they should be—and would provide for the adequate staffing of all prosecutors' offices both as to professional and investigational personnel.

The 1948 Legislature passed the Widnall Bill providing for the creation of a Hotel Fire Safety Bureau and establishing certain construction standards designed to prevent hotel fires. This bill was the result of several years of agitation and much proposel legislation. It represents a forward step and is a considerable improvement over the law as it previously existed which provided practically no safeguards against disasters from hotel fires.

However, the new law is inadequate to fully cope with the situation. Its fundamental difficulty is that it gives the State supervision over hotels only in municipalities where there is not a paid fire department of five or more members. This means that the large majority of the hotels in the State are not subject to supervision by State authorities.

Acting under authority of this bill the Bureau of Hotel Fire Safety has been organized in the Department of Law and C. Raymond Swain, who for many years has been secretary of the Tenement House Commission, has at my request, with the approval of the Governor, assumed the duties of the supervisor of the bureau without additional salary. This was necessary if the bureau was to function at all, because the appropriation of $10,000 which the bill carried was grossly inadequate to do the work that was necessary. I strongly recommend the strengthening of this law by having included within its provisions jurisdiction by the State over all hotels in the State, and I further recommend the granting of an appropriation sufficient to enable the bureau to effectively and efficiently inspect all of the hotels over which it would thus have jurisdiction. In my judgment these are necessary requisites for the adequate protection of the lives of the hotel-occupying public.

In an effort to co-operate effectively with the program of economy which both Governors Edge and Driscoll have attempted to carry out, this department has reduced its budget each year during the past five years with the result that it has now reached the absolute minimum, and the members of the staff, particularly the professional members, are being inadequately compensated for the services which they render. In some instances this inadequacy is outrageously glaring. Any betterment of the State's finances should be used for the purpose of correcting some of the inequalities which now exist in salaries in this department.

In this same connection, I call attention, as I have in previous reports, to the inadequacy of the office space which the department is forced to get along with, as well as to the lack of proper law library facilities, both of which cause considerable inconvenience and the use of extra time in order to efficiently perform our services.

Since this report comes at the close of my term of office I take this opportunity to express my appreciation to Governor Edge for having induced me to assume the responsibilities of this office, to Governor Driscoll for the support which he has given me during the two years of my term while he has been Governor, and to the members of the Legislature and all of the department heads and State officials who have been my official clients and who have afforded me by their co-operation the opportunity to relinquish the duties of the office with a feeling of complete satisfaction and contentment.

No appreciation, no matter how elaborately expressed, could adequately describe the deep feeling of affection which is mine toward the members of the staff who have made possible the services which this office has been able to render the people of the State during the past five years. Every member of that staff, men and women, professional and clerical, has given to me and through me to the State their utmost in honesty, loyalty and conscientious devotion to duty. Each one has performed his or her respective services with the spirit of unselfishness that has been unequaled by any other that I have had the opportunity to observe and each one, particularly the lawyers who have striven so diligently for the success of the cause which they were representing, has been willing to submerge his own personality and permit the credit for his work to go to the office instead of to the individual. This type of loyalty is not easy to find, and I part with my staff with the sincere tribute that of all the experiences which this tenure of office has afforded me, the fondest was the opportunity of working with them.

Respectfully submitted,

WALTER D. VAN RIPER,
Attorney-General.

The Speaker announced that Mr. Simmill would deliver an address on the Life of George Washington in observation of his birthday. Thereupon Mr. Simmill delivered the following address:

GEORGE WASHINGTON

Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the General Assembly, and Friends:

The honor has devolved upon me to deliver to and on behalf of the General Assembly the address commemorating the anniversary of the birth of George Washington, who more than any other man is responsible for the government under which we live in these United States.

For over 800 years, through successive generations, the name of Washington, or De Wessyngton, has been known for the valor, chivalry, high code of honor and military distinction of those who bore it. Knights and noblemen of the Old World and citizens of the New, each in their turn, through service and achievement, have given to it a notable place in history. The name Washington is of Saxon origin and is known to have existed in the 12th Century. In those days it was the custom for families high in the social scale to take their surnames from their native towns and the name Wessyngton probably springs from the village of Wessyngton in the Palatine Durham which was apportioned by William the Conqueror to his Norman knights.

Colonel John Washington, one of the descendants of De Wessyngton, migrated to the New World in approximately 1657 and settled in Virginia. He was the great grandfather of the Father of our Country. He left the shores of his native heath during the time of Cromwell with a band of Carlists who were loyal to the Stuarts, and upon arriving in the New World and settling here, began to build himself his empire in America. One of his grandchildren, Augustine Washington, intermarried with Mary Ball and from this union, in 1732, on February 11, old style calendar, at ten o'clock in the morning, at Bridges Creek Plantation, Westmoreland County, Virginia, was born the man whom we honor today. A strain of royal blood descended into the veins of George Washington, the man who above all others was instrumental in bringing to a successful termination the revolt of the colonies against the oppressive rule of England's royalty. George Washington was unaware of his claims to royal pedigree and came to disapprove of the monarchical form of government. Though fitted in every way to serve as a wise and considerate sovereign had he permitted the people to proclaim him king, he most emphatically declined that honor, preferring to be called the president. He was true to his ancestry, however, in recognizing that most people dearly love a lord and while he would have no high sounding title for himself, he forbear from condemnation of the title, Lady Washington, which was applied to his wife.

In casting about for material for this address, Washington's prowess as a soldier was greatly magnified by the voluminous writings with reference thereto, and at the risk of being uninteresting, I should like to hurry over his military career because most of it is known to you and most of it is known to every schoolboy. Suffice to say that Washington was well fitted to be a leader. His father died when he was but 11 years old and George came to be virtually the head of the family, so that the cares and responsibilities which came to him at that early age changed him into a sober serious lad, and he began his career when other boys his age were still in school. When he was only 16 he was out in the Virginia mountains surveying, returning home to plunge into the study of mathematics and laboring to fit himself for his first public office, Official Surveyor of Culpepper County.

In 1752, when he was 20 years of age, he came into possession of Mount Vernon through the death of a half-brother where he spent many happy uneventful years broken only by his participation in the French and Indian Wars. His military career was initiated when he was only 22 years of age when he was forced to retreat with his command at Fort Necessity, but he grew in stature as a volunteer aid by the side of Braddock in the ill-starred expedition against Fort Duquesne. The Braddock campaign taught him many of the weaknesses in the military system of training British officers and men and the uselessness and folly of the pomp and display, the formal English movements and practices extant in those days in the British Army.

Witnessing all of the horrors of Braddock's defeat, more of a massacre than a battle, George Washington's personal courage had its baptism of fire and he bore the acid test of every experience with honor. With two horses shot beneath him and four bullets through his coat, he not only continued his duties as aid but when Braddock was mortally wounded and most of the other officers disabled or killed, it was Washington who took command of the remnant of the brilliant English Army and brought it and its wounded leader out of the terrifying forest ambush of Indians to safety.

Thereafter, on his return to Mount Vernon, he spent 15 years as a member of the lower house of the Virginia Legislature, and after the shot heard round the world at Concord and at Lexington and Americans from 23 towns were found among the dead and wounded, on June 15, 1775, he was elected by the Continental Congress Commander-in-Chief of the Continental forces. His actions in the Revolutionary War in leading inferior troops against the best army in the world of that day placed him in a niche among the immortals as a military strategist, and here in New Jersey we have concrete evidence of his greatness as a soldier because at Trenton the colonies took new heart from Washington's victory, and at Monmouth as he turned back the retreating Continental troops, he turned the tide of the war, in the opinion of many historians.

After the Revolution the colonies were faced with great problems, somewhat similar to those which face the world today, and it is as a statesman and an altruist that I would prefer to dwell in connection with Washington for we have learned that winning a war is not as important as winning a peace. During the war the former colonies, now independent states, had been drawn together by a common danger, but afterward they began, by petty jealousies, to sag apart. The Confederation under which they lived was not so much a government as a league of states. Congress was not a general legislature but a diplomatic assembly. There was no general executive, no general judiciary. Congress could raise money only by asking the states to contribute. The foundations of the building were trembling, no cement held its stones together. As one of the contemporary writers had it, it was like a barrel with staves but without hoops. Here Washington arose to his highest stature. At a time after he had covered himself with glory, at a time when most of us would have been content to rest upon our laurels, when he held no civil station to call forth his utterance, impelled only by the altruistic impulses of his own soul, he addressed the whole People of America in a Circular to the Governors of the States. He held up the citizens of America as sole lords of a continent; he portrayed the opportunity for political happiness which could bless them; he pointed out the blessings that would attend their collective wisdom; that in their fate was involved that of unborn millions; that mutual concessions and sacrifices must be made; and that supreme power must be lodged somewhere to regulate and govern the general concerns of all. In this was revealed the heart of the man, the spirit of the hero, the wisdom of the sage—I might almost say the sacred inspiration of the prophet. He wrote in one of his letters on June 8, 1783:

> "There are four things which I humbly conceive are essential to the well-being, I may even venture to say to the existence of the United States as an independent power.
> "First, an indissoluble union of states, one federal head.
> "Secondly, a sacred regard to public justice.
> "Thirdly, the adoption of a proper peace establishment and
> "Fourthly, the prevalence of that pacific and friendly disposition among the people of the United States which will induce them to forget their local prejudices and policies, to make those mutual concessions which are requisite to the general prosperity and in some instances to sacrifice their individual advantages to the interest of the community."

In 1787 a convention was called to alter and amend the Articles of Confederation, but it boldly created a federal government which should have authority and power to regulate federal affairs while leaving the local affairs to the states. This was no longer a league, this was a government!

Washington became president of the convention and while the opponents of a federal government were many, and their arguments apparently sound, nevertheless, aided and abetted by Franklin, Jefferson and others, a compromise was effected here, a sacrifice was made there and a concession was granted elsewhere, so that under Washington's guidance the convention was led to the creation of a Constitution, which has been deemed by many to be divinely inspired.

History tells us that Washington was not a speechmaker but that he was a man of importance in the convention and his opinions were sought and revered by all of the delegates, and although Jefferson did the actual writing of the Constitution, it was only Washington's stature and his ability as a statesman that aided in its ratification, otherwise it would not have been adopted. New Jersey may feel proud that it was one of the first three states to adopt the Constitution in December, 1787.

At sunset, March 3, 1789, the death of the old confederation of states was announced by the guns of the Fort at New York. The next day the new era was ushered in by the firing of a salute of 11 guns in honor of the 11 states that had adopted Washington's handiwork, our Constitution. On April 6, 1789, George Washington, of Virginia, was declared President, having received the total number of votes cast. He served two terms as such although faced with many problems and difficulties, and when he retired from the presidency, we had become a proud nation ready to face the world unafraid.

In 1797 he left public office forever and came home to Mount Vernon to spend the last two years of his life in the contentment of managing his vast estates, receiving his guests and making occasional trips to nearby places until December of 1799, when he passed to everlasting glory.

His belief was that of a wise patriotism, which by careful legal enactment and by constant and vigorous enforcement and in the belief that if the meanest man in the republic is deprived of his rights, then every man in the republic is deprived of his rights, is the fountainhead to which we should constantly strive and bend every effort in emulation. We, therefore, salute today and commemorate the natal day of the founder of our country, by the sword and by the pen, statesman, soldier, patriot, sage, reformer, teacher, achiever and preserver of liberty. This is Washington, solitary and unapproachable in his grandeur.

Mr. Miller moved that the House recess for 15 minutes for the purpose of a Republican caucus.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
SENATE CHAMBER,
February 14, 1949.

Mr. Speaker:

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has concurred in the following concurrent resolution:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 10.

A concurrent resolution memorializing the Congress of the United States to return to the State of New Jersey sufficient moneys from taxes raised in the State of New Jersey for the administration of unemployment compensation to provide adequately for administration of the law in the State of New Jersey.

WHEREAS, The Federal Government has raised by taxation in the State of New Jersey for administration of the unemployment compensation law, thirty-four million dollars ($34,000,000.00), about thirty-eight per cent in excess of the sums actually appropriated and expended for the administration of the law in this State; and

WHEREAS, The funds appropriated by the Congress of the United States from taxes raised in New Jersey for administration have been and are insufficient for adequate administration of the law which has resulted in a drastic, emergent situation in New Jersey, in that thousands of involuntarily unemployed persons have been unable to secure the compensation to which they are entitled for many weeks after such payments are due, as long as twenty weeks in some cases; and

WHEREAS, Comparable industrial States have received for administration larger percentages of the sums raised therein; and

WHEREAS, Immediate action must be taken by the Congress of the United States to alleviate this distressing situation; therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey (the Senate concurring):

1. That the Congress of the United States be urgently requested to enact legislation by which sufficient moneys for the adequate administration of the unemployment compensation law will be returned to the State of New Jersey and to other States from the sums raised by the Federal Government by taxation in the State for the administration of the law to the end that the claims of unemployed persons entitled thereto may be promptly paid.

2. That the Congress of the United States be urged to enact basic amendments to the social security law which will assure to all State unemployment compensation agencies adequate annual amounts for the proper administration of the law payable from the sums raised by the Federal Government by taxation therein for the administration thereof in order to prevent the annual recurrence of the present emergent condition.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
May 31, 1949.

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 71, for the following reason:

The object intended by the bill is incorporated in Assembly 204, which I approved on May 10, 1949, and which is now Chapter 87 of the Laws of 1949.

Respectfully,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.

Attest:
R. J. ABBOTT,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Miller moved that the communication be received and spread in full upon the Minutes.

Which motion was adopted.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, as follows—and was read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
May 31, 1949.

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 107, for the following reasons:

The object of this bill is to validate the appointment of a member of a municipal police force, who was over 30 years of age at the time of appointment, and whose appointment was thereby prohibited under the maximum age limitation prescribed by section 40:47–4 of the Revised Statutes. Such appointment would be made valid if the appointee has served as a full-time special officer for a period of six or more years prior to the passage of the bill and had not, at the time of his appointment as a special officer, reached his thirty-seventh birthday.

The objectives of R. S. 40:47–4 and the sound principles embodied in our merit system, should not, in the interest of maintaining high morale among our regular police forces, be weakened.

Accordingly, I am constrained to return the bill without my approval.

Respectfully,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.

Attest:
R. J. ABBOTT,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Miller moved that the communication be received and spread in full upon the Minutes.

Which motion was adopted.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, as follows—and was read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
May 31, 1949.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 110, for the following reasons:

Section 1 of Assembly Bill No. 110, if adopted, would be in conflict with the provisions of Sections 8 and 9 of Chapter 444 of the Laws of 1948, relating to supervision of the personnel of the Board of Barber Examiners by the State Commissioner of Health; and with the provisions of Sections 12 and 13 of Chapter 444 of the Laws of 1948, relating to the fiscal operations of the board.

Section 2 of the bill purports to amend Section 4 of Chapter 197 of the Laws of 1938. No amendment to that section is, however, made. It appears that what was intended was an amendment to Section 4 of Chapter 133 of the Laws of 1946.

In view of the above, I am constrained to return this measure without my approval for further study by the Legislature.

Respectfully,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.

Attest:
R. J. ABBOTT,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Miller moved that the communication be received and spread in full upon the Minutes.

Which motion was adopted.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, as follows—and was read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
May 31, 1949.

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 137, for the following reasons:

There appears to be no valid reason for the expansion of the applicable provisions of Chapter 376 of the Laws of 1948 at this time. If additional official reporters are required, they should qualify in the manner prescribed by the State Board of Shorthand Reporters. No provision for such qualification is made in Assembly 137.

For this reason, I am returning Assembly 137 without my approval.

Respectfully,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.

Attest:
R. J. ABBOTT,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Miller moved that the communication be received and spread in full upon the Minutes.

Which motion was adopted.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, as follows—and was read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
May 31, 1949.

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 141, for the following reasons:

This bill would amend Section 27 of the 1948 act creating the Department of Conservation and Economic Development. The proposed amendment would require that, in order to be eligible for membership in the appropriate county federation of sportsmen's clubs, all of the officers, and a majority of the members, of a sportsmen's club, be bona fide residents of the county.

It would appear that no sound public policy would be served by approval of this measure, which in effect attempts to regulate the internal organization of sportsmen's clubs.

Accordingly, I am returning this bill without my approval.

Respectfully,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.

Attest:

R. J. ABBOTT,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Miller moved that the communication be received and spread in full upon the Minutes.

Which motion was adopted.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, as follows—and was read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
May 31, 1949.

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 161, for the following reasons:

If approved, the provisions of Section 1 of the bill would be in conflict with the provisions of Sections 33 and 35 of Chapter 439 of the Laws of 1948, relating to the method of appointment, employment or removal of the personnel of the Board of Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors, and the exercise of supervision over their work by the Attorney-General.

Accordingly, I am constrained to return the bill without my approval.

Respectfully,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.

Attest:

R. J. ABBOTT,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Miller moved that the communication be received and spread in full upon the Minutes.

Which motion was adopted.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 163, for the following reasons:

The bill would amend R. S. 2:32–267 by requiring that the summons issued on a landlord's affidavit in dispossess proceedings shall specify the branch part of the district court nearest the premises in question. However, in district courts established under P. L. 1945, c. 27, the president judge is given the power to provide otherwise by rule.

This amendment runs counter to the evident policy and purpose of P. L. 1948, c. 264, as amended and supplemented, and the rules promulgated by the Supreme Court pursuant thereto. The statute and the rules are intended to insure centrally controlled administration and practice in local courts of civil jurisdiction. Specifically, Rule 7:4–4 requires that process shall be returnable at the principal location of the district court, unless the presiding judge shall otherwise direct. This latter provision would seem sufficient to meet any practical need.

Accordingly, I am constrained to withhold my approval from this bill.

Respectfully,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 166.

The bill would amend Sections 40:37–159, 40:37–162, 40:37–163, 40:30–164, 40:37–165, 40:30–166 and 40:37–167 of the Revised Statutes, concerning the fund and benefits therefrom under a county police pension system. While the bill would increase the amount of the fund members' contributions, it substantially enlarges the benefits in various respects to an extent that the increased employee contributions may well be absorbed and exceeded and the fund rendered less sound than at the present time.

The actuarial soundness of the fund is essential if the pension program is to be maintained. This is particularly true in the instant case where any deficit may not be made up out of general county funds.

Uniformity in the pension treatment of our policemen and firemen is desirable. Wherever possible, pension programs for men performing essentially the same services should be consolidated to acquire the greater security that should accompany such consolidation and actuarial soundness. To the extent that the proposed changes are meritorious, they should be preceded by an actuarial study so that we may be sure that commitments made may be kept. There is no point in illusory promises as in the case when commitments exceed the actuarial capacity of the fund.

For these reasons, I am returning Assembly 166 without my approval.

Respectfully,
ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 172, for the following reasons:

This bill would authorize the appointment of recorders (a) by resolution of a board of freeholders in any municipality having no municipal court, and (b) by the district court judge of the county, with power to hold defendants to bail, such recorders to have a three-year term. The proposed legislation runs counter to P. L. 1948, c. 264, sec. 15, which would terminate the office of recorders at the expiration of their present respective terms of office.

Senate Bill No. 139, approved May 21, 1949, and now P. L. 1949, c. 201, increases the number of officials who may hold to bail. It seems adequate to meet the situation contemplated by Assembly Bill No. 172.

I am, therefore, constrained to return this measure without my approval.

Respectfully,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 191, for the following reason:

This measure makes unlawful the operation of a motor vehicle with a television set so placed that the viewing screen is visible to the driver. An exception permits the use of Telefex apparatus in communication company vehicles.

Public safety will best be served by prohibiting television equipment in private motor vehicles. Television will unquestionably prove a distracting influence to the driver, whether the viewing screen is directly visible to him or not.

Although the intent of the bill is to prohibit television sets visible to motor vehicle drivers, it does not do so in terms. Nor does it fix any penalty for violation of the legislative injunction.

Accordingly, I am constrained to withhold my approval of this bill.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 240, for the following reason:

If approved, the provision of this bill relating to the term of office of the State Superintendent of Weights and Measures, would be in conflict with the provisions of Section 24 of Chapter 439 of the Laws of 1948 (the statute relating to the establishment of the Department of Law and Public Safety).

Under the circumstances and entirely apart from the other purposes of the bill, I am constrained to return this measure without my approval.

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 327, for the following reasons:

Under the provisions of R. S. 22:2–44 and 45, the mileage of constables and sergeants-at-arms serving process out of the district courts is computed from the place where process is issued. Assembly Bill No. 327 would amend these sections to provide that where a county district court has branch parts, mileage is to be computed from the branch part nearest the place where service is made.

Rule 7:4–4 promulgated by the Supreme Court provides that original process issue out of the principal location of the court, appearance or answer to be made at that place, or where process is required to be made returnable at a specific time that it be returnable at such principal location, "unless the presiding judge shall otherwise direct." This rule reflects the principle and policy of centralization which gives the presiding judge an opportunity for flexible administration. The proposed measure would encourage decentralization of the county district courts.

Accordingly, I am constrained to return the bill without my approval.

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 331.

This bill would amend one of the provisions of the "Heath Act" (P. L. 1921, c. 134). One of the amendments would advance the applicable employment date from January 1, 1921, to January 1, 1922. This provision would create an inequity with respect to those employees who joined the State service between January 1, 1921, and January 1, 1922, and who later properly elected to join the State Employees' Retirement System. Public policy requires that we strengthen and support the State Employees' Retirement System. Our employees should be encouraged to join that system.

Accordingly, I am constrained to return the bill without my approval.

Our large group of men and women who give freely and nobly of their time and energies in the performance of governmental services have established enviable records of achievement in this field. STATE OF NEW JERSEY,

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 415.

This bill presents the age-old conflict of promise versus performance. The illusory lure of something for nothing has never ceased to tempt men to exchange reality for hope. Even more important than the extent of a pension program is the knowledge that it is secure. It is a known fact that prior to 1944 our municipal police and fire pension systems were insecure, actuarially unsound and confronted with bankruptcy. At least half of them were actually insolvent. It was evident that the municipalities would soon reach a point where they could or would no longer meet the mounting deficits which even today are substantial, as, for example, almost a half million dollars in Newark and nearly $200,000.00 in Atlantic City to cite but two cities.

In 1944 we began the hard task of restoring these programs to solvency for the purpose of guaranteeing that those who expected to be dependent upon them would in fact receive pensions. In 1947 after a careful study, I supported a fair liberalization of the pension program. We now have one of the most liberal policemen's and firemen's pension systems of any State. At the same time the State, out of its limited resources, is paying $1,000,000.00 a year to establish the security of these funds.

I cannot at this time, as a matter of good faith and mindful of my responsibility to our policemen and firemen, support further benefits without adequate provision for their cost. In the absence of proof that the extension requested will not destroy the very objectives for which we have all been working, namely, security to the pension program, I am compelled to withhold approval at this time.

We have been deeply concerned with the problems of law enforcement in all its phases. We recognize a sound pension program as necessary to the morale of our hard-working law enforcement officers. I have considered the present bill in the framework of a general policy which, through your cooperation, includes these accomplishments:

The first legislation in the United States making permissive a 40-hour work week for policemen;

Legislation permitting policemen illegally suspended to recover salaries lost during the suspension periods;

Modification of the 1944 Pension Act reducing the minimum retirement age to 51, raising to half-pay pensions for non-service connected disability and reducing pension contributions required of retired policemen;

Legislation permitting municipalities to award damages to policemen injured in line of duty;

Legislation providing $1,500.00 for widows of policemen killed in line of duty and raising age of dependency for children to 18, affecting not only pension fund members enrolled under the 1920 Act, but, as well, those under the 1944 Act.

Assembly Bill No. 415 would affect the retirement rights of policemen and firemen by reducing the present requirements of 51 years of age and 25 years of service to 50 years of age and 23 years of service. The bill makes no provision for paying the added cost of this benefit, nor was it preceded by an actuarial study to show what its costs might be. The present law was adopted in 1944 after lengthy study and was amended in 1947 following a thorough review of the 1944 pension program.

The purpose of the 1944 legislation was to provide the groundwork for a secure and sound pension system for policemen and firemen. As part of the legislation the State undertook to provide State aid amounting to $1,000,000.00 per year to municipalities in an effort to bolster the failing local funds. It should be understood that policemen and firemen who were members of the local funds had never been called upon to contribute on the basis of the actuarial costs of the benefits of the 1920 act—for the good reason that it was estimated in 1942 that it would take a contribution of 55% of payrolls to make up for past deficiencies and place the local funds on a sound basis which would assure their ability to pay the promised benefits. Home owners and other local taxpayers, already paying hundreds of thousands of dollars annually to make up local pension fund deficiencies, should not be further burdened nor is it wise to expect that they will be willing indefinitely to carry mounting costs of pension deficits.

In 1947 we agreed to lower the retirement age to 51, to raise pensions for non-service connected disability to half-pay and reduce pension contributions of retired policemen. As a result of careful studies, it was then plainly understood by all parties concerned that we could not properly make any further concessions to the older members without hurting the interests of all policemen and firemen. The situation has not changed.

The 1944 legislation, moreover, established a new statewide retirement system on the basis of 55 years of age and 25 years of service. Under the 1944 legislation, as amended, the following types of retirement coverage are in force:

(1) Policemen and firemen who were members of local pension funds prior to July 1, 1944, may remain in such funds;

(2) Policemen and firemen appointed since July 1, 1944, by municipalities having local funds, are required to be members of the new, actuarially sound State system, provided they meet the maximum age requirements;

(3) All policemen and firemen working for municipalities which adopt the new State system by referendum may be covered by the new (1944) State system.

The present bill purports to affect retirement only of those in the first group noted above. The title of the bill is thus constitutionally defective in that it relates to all policemen and firemen.

For these reasons, I am constrained to withhold my approval of this bill.

Respectfully,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,

Governor.

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my aproval, Committee Substitute for Assembly Bill No. 432, for the following reasons:

This bill is a mandatory pension measure. It would authorize any person who serves as an assistant clerk of the city district court, and as a clerical assistant of a county district court, in counties of the first class having a population of less than 800,000, for a period of 26 years, and who reaches the age of 65, to retire upon his own request. Thereupon, the board of freeholders of the county is required to establish an annual pension for such person at an amount not less than one-half of his salary. Thus, no opportunity is afforded the governing body of the county which is responsible for raising the money to pay the pension, to pass upon the granting of the pension.

Accordingly, I am constrained to withhold my approval from this measure.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 466, for the following reason:

This is a mandatory tenure measure. It would single out one particular office for special consideration.

Legislation of this type would be in direct conflict with the provisions of Article IV, Section VII, Paragraph 9, Subparagraph (5) of the new State Constitution which prohibits the adoption of any special law increasing the tenure rights of any public officers or employees.

I am therefore returning the bill without my approval.

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 483, for the following reasons:

The bill would authorize a tax certificate holder to initiate a tax foreclosure proceeding in the Superior Court, with or without notice to redeem being given the property owner. It permits the plaintiff to fix in his complaint the amount required for redemption. Redemption must be made within the twenty days allowed for answer, by the person entitled to redeem tendering the amount claimed, together with disbursements, costs, and such counsel fee as the court may allow, to the plaintiff, or paying the same into court.

Failure to redeem or answer within time will result in judgment being entered against a defendant.

No order of redemption is required. Although intended to simplify tax foreclosure, the method established in Assembly Bill No. 483 can, and in all probability will, result in difficulties. The amount required to redeem should be fixed precisely by the court.

It should, incidentally, be noted that the bill is effective immediately. There is a serious question whether so drastic a change in procedure should become effective without allowing a reasonable time for those whose property has been sold for taxes to become acquainted with the provisions of the proposed new law.

Accordingly, I am constrained to withhold my approval of this bill.

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 485 and Assembly Bill No. 484, for the following reasons:

Assembly 485 as amended would commit the State to the payment of large sums of money ($1,385,000.00 or more) which are not presently available. The fact that the payments are not required to be made in full until the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1950, does not change the hard fact that neither a person nor a government should make a promise unless it is sure that it can keep the promises.

A consideration of these bills, whose objectives I unqualifiedly approve, presents a commentary upon the current lack of fiscal resources on the part of your State. To go into detail would require a reference to my last Budget Message and the Annual Appropriations Bill passed without a dissenting vote this year.

Pursuant to Joint Resolution No. 3 of the 172nd Legislature, a Commission on Hospital Costs was appointed and in March of 1949 submitted its report and recommendations. The Commission's report contains a comprehensive survey of hospital costs. Following the filing of the Commission's report, Assembly Bill No. 484 was introduced. The legal effect of this bill is to repeal Articles 2 and 3 of Chapter 5 of Title 44 which establishes the present system and method whereby the counties may contribute to the cost of providing medical care for needy persons in hospitals.

Assembly Bill No. 485, introduced at the same time, provides a new method for making such payment and establishes the formula and procedure.

Under the existing law, our counties may make bulk payment to the hospitals as an aid in meeting the deficit that these hospitals have incurred as a result of furnishing free services to needy individuals. The Commission found this to be an inadequate method and proposed, in lieu thereof, the following: Payment to be made to hospitals on a basis of services actually furnished an individual. It would be necessary that he be certified by a governmental agency as requiring medical care; second, that he was necessitous and indigent, and third, the governmental agency responsible for his particular case would arrange to make the payment. For example, if he were a recipient of Old Age Assistance payment would be made from funds supporting that program by the appropriate agency administering the service. If he were eligible under the general relief program, payment would be made accordingly from relief funds.

No general allotments would be made to any hospitals other than for specific services rendered an individual. In the last days of the legislative session, amendments were offered and adopted which appear to be directly contrary to the spirit and intent of the Commission's report.

Assembly Bill No. 45 involves an increase in expenditures of the State of approximately $1,385,000.00 per year. Under the provisions of the bill, State agencies are required to assume the cost of furnishing medical care in hospitals to a needy person in the following approximate amounts:

Old Age Assistance	$1,060,000
Board of Child Welfare	75,000
Department of Conservation and Economic Development (Municipal Aid)	250,000
	$1,385,000

Aside from the fact that I have been advised by the State Division of Budget and Accounting that funds are not presently available to meet a future commitment of this size, it is evident that the amendment to Assembly 485 leaves the doors wide open for the State, the counties and the municipalities to pay unlimited sums under the old method of financing, which Assembly 484 was intended to repeal and which the amendment to A. 485 reinstates. It is significant that whereas in the existing law permitting a general allotment or an annual payment there are certain limitations in the payment that may be made, the amendment to A. 485, in section 8, contains no such limitation, nor is there any limitation contained in section 1 (e) as amended.

I have the deepest sympathy for the plight of our hospitals. I am well aware of the service that they are rendering. The State is anxious to support them in every way possible. On the other hand, the State cannot and should not be called upon to sign a blank check nor can it make commitments beyond its capacity to keep those commitments out of funds that may be reasonably expected to be available in succeeding budget years. While Assembly 485 makes no appropriation, for the obligation of the State to make payments thereunder does not arise until July 1, 1950, preparation must be made now to meet any future increase that may be agreed upon.

Assembly 485, as amended, attempts rather unsuccessfully to incorporate two entirely different points of view. The first expressed by the Commission in its report and proposed in the bill prior to amendment, and the second represented by the amendments. As a result, the potential liability of the State and its political subdivisions appears to have been increased without commensurate safeguards or any offsetting reductions as was originally contemplated.

In view of the conclusion that I have reached, it is not necessary for me at the present time to attempt to reconcile the two points of view or to judge the merits of the issue raised by the report and subsequent amendment.

The recognition that I have accorded the need for increased support for our hospitals merits a speedy and thorough review of this subject by men and women expert in hospital administration, social welfare, State, county and municipal finance. Such a study should be completed prior to July 1, 1950, the date mentioned above. This study may be conducted during the same period that the State Tax Policy Commission, pursuant to legislative reference, is studying the problems of State and municipal finance.

Assembly 484, the repealer, must stand or fall with A. 485. In the meantime, Assembly 522, permitting certain municipalities to continue to make appropriations for hospital purposes has been approved by me. This act will remain in effect until January 22, 1951, and has afforded our hospitals some relief.

Under all the circumstances, I have reluctantly and with the greatest regret reached the conclusion that I have no other recourse than to return Assembly 484 and Assembly 485 without my approval.

Respectfully,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 504, for the following reason:

This bill would amend section 43:13–3 of the Revised Statutes relating to the retirement systems for employees of cities of the first class. This section presently provides that any municipal employee who has served in the employ of a city of the first class for 20 years and reached the age of 60, shall, on his application, be retired on half pay. The proposed amendment would permit any municipal employee who has served in the employ of a city of the first class, having a population of less than 350,000, for a period of 50 years to retire on full pay. Such a variation from the pension pattern originally established does not appear to be justified.

Accordingly, I am constrained to return the bill without my approval.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, as follows—and was read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 521.

This is a sad story. The need for an aggressive inter-State authority in the South Jersey-Philadelphia metropolitan area is generally recognized. This inter-State agency should be given substantial authority. Assembly 521 was introduced for the purpose of expanding the opportunities and obligations of the Delaware River Joint Commission to promote the welfare, serve the citizens and enterprise of a bi-State area under the name of Delaware River Port Authority. The legislation was prepared after painstaking conferences between representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey. As introduced, the proposed legislation had my complete and unqualified support.

Assembly 521 provides that it is to take effect upon the enactment of substantially similar legislation by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania embodying the proposed supplemental agreement between the two States. Unfortunately, certain interests, for selfish reasons, chose to oppose the Pennsylvania legislation. The legislation finally adopted by the Legislature of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was emasculated and bore slight resemblance to the original proposed legislation, and I am advised it has been vetoed by the Governor of Pennsylvania.

Under the circumstances, the adoption of Assembly 521 at this time will not serve any useful purpose. Inter-State co-operation in the development of an important metropolitan area embracing parts of two States is of paramount importance. It is desirable, therefore, to make a new concerted, fresh attack upon the problem, unhampered by previous legislation adopted by one State while rejected by another.

Further, Assembly 521, contains one provision with which I do not agree, namely, that limiting the right of eminent domain on the part of a bi-State agency where the property is owned by a public utility as defined in section 48:2–13 of the Revised Statutes.

For these reasons, I am returning Assembly 521 without my approval.

Respectfully,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.

To the General Assembly:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, Paragraph 14 (b) of the State Constitution, I am returning herewith for reconsideration and with my objections, Assembly Bill No. 129.

I am in accord with the purpose of this bill. However, as submitted to me, it is patently constitutionally defective. The title to the bill reads as follows:

"AN ACT prohibiting the selling, offering for sale, bartering or giving away of live baby chicks, ducklings or rabbits, under two months of age, in any quantity less than one dozen or which have been dyed or artificially colored, and amending section 4:22–26 of the Revised Statutes."

As introduced, the new matter contained in Paragraph "o" of the body of the bill followed the language of the title. However, that paragraph was amended by deleting therefrom the words ", under two months of age, in any quantity less than one dozen or". The title was not changed to conform to the wording of the paragraph as amended.

Therefore the title of the bill as finally adopted is not broad enough to cover the object expressed in the bill, as required by Paragraph 4 of Section VII of Article IV of the Constitution.

Accordingly, I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 129 for reconsideration, with the recommendation that amendments to the bill (Official Copy Reprint) be made as follows:

On page 1, title, beginning on line 2, delete the words ", under two months of age, in any quantity less than one dozen or".

To the General Assembly:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, Paragraph 14 (b) of the State Constitution, I am returning herewith for reconsideration and with my objections, Assembly Bill No. 332.

This bill would require the collector of taxes of each taxing district to submit to the county board of taxation, on or before January fifteenth of each year, a list of veterans' exemptions granted during the prior year. Before the State and county taxes are apportioned, the county board would be required to deduct from the ratables of each district an amount equal to the ratables represented by the exemptions as shown on the list submitted.

Section 3 of the bill requires that for exemptions granted in the year 1948, the list referred to must be filed on or before March 15, 1949. The bill was adopted by the Legislature after that specified date for filing had passed.

Accordingly, I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 332 for reconsideration, with the recommendation that amendments to the bill (Official Copy Reprint) be made as follows:

On page 1, section 1, line 1, after the words "collector of taxes", insert the words "or assessor".

On page 1, delete section 3 in its entirety.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, as follows—and was read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
May 31, 1949.

To the General Assembly:

I am returning herewith for reconsideration, and with my objections, Assembly Bill No. 378.

This bill would:

1. Amend the five local option sections of our Alcoholic Beverage Law so as to change from 15% to 30% the number of qualified electors' signatures required on petition for referendum.

2. Amend the five local option sections so as to change from three years to five years the prescribed interval between referenda, in the municipality, on the same Public Question.

3. Supplement the five local option sections (section 6 of the bill) so as to provide that where a referendum shall have been had in a municipality pursuant to one of the five sections, no referendum shall be had in the municipality under any other of the five sections until five years thereafter.

The proposals constitute a two-edged sword that may be wielded, dependent upon the circumstances, by those who are either for or against the sale of alcoholic beverages.

The bill's proposal to change from 15% to 30% the number of qualified electors' signatures required on a referendum petition, appears to me to be objectionable. A 30% requirement, to all intents and purposes, would prevent alcoholic beverage referenda in many of our municipalities. The referenda provisions of Title 33 have served a useful purpose, and by and large worked reasonably well. They should not be substantially repealed by indirection.

I am not in favor of the provisions of section 6 of the bill providing that where a referendum shall have been held under one of the five local option provisions of Title 33, no referendum shall be held until five years thereafter under any of the four other local option provisions. Such a provision might have disastrous consequences for our licensees, where the citizens of a municipality, having adopted one referendum desire to reconsider, in part, within the five-year period, by the adoption of a referendum under perhaps another section of the bill. For example, in a municipality where a referendum was held at the last general election, under R. S. 33:1–47 ("Shall the sale of alcoholic beverages be permitted on Sundays in this municipality"?), should a referendum be barred for five years under R. S. 33:1–47.1 ("Shall sales of alcoholic beverages be permitted during designated hours on Sundays"?). In my judgment, the prohibition is unwise and contrary to the spirit and general intent of our Alcoholic Beverage Law.

I have no objection to increasing from three to five years the prescribed interval between referenda in the municipality on the same public question.

Accordingly, I return herewith Assembly 378 for reconsideration, with the recommendation that the following amendments be made in the bill (Official Copy Reprint):

On page 1, in section 1, line 2, delete the word "thirty" and insert in lieu thereof the word "fifteen".

On page 1, in section 1, line 3, delete "30%" and insert in lieu thereof "15%".

On page 3, in section 2, line 2, delete the word "thirty" and insert in lieu thereof the word "fifteen".

On page 3, in section 2, line 3, delete "30%" and insert in lieu thereof "15%".

On page 5, in section 3, line 3, delete the word "thirty" and insert in lieu thereof the word "fifteen".

On page 5, in section 3, line 4, delete "30%" and insert in lieu thereof "15%".

On page 7, in section 4, line 2, delete the word "thirty" and insert in lieu thereof the word "fifteen".

On page 7, in section 4, line 2½, delete "30%" and insert in lieu thereof "15%".

On page 8, in section 5, line 3, delete the word "thirty" and insert in lieu thereof the word "fifteen".

On page 8, in section 5, line 4, delete "30%" and insert in lieu thereof "15%".

On page 10, delete section 6 in its entirety.

On page 10, change the section number "7" to section number "6".

Respectfully,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.

Attest:

R. J. ABBOTT,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Miller moved that the communication be received and referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Which motion was adopted.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, as follows—and was read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
May 31, 1949.

To the General Assembly:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, Paragraph 14 (b) of the State Constitution, I am returning herewith for reconsideration and with my objections, Assembly Bill No. 508.

This bill would amend certain sections of Chapter 340 of the Laws of 1948, relating to hotel fire safety requirements.

One of the amendments contained in the bill would extend the time when existing hotels would be required to comply with the provisions of Chapter 340, from July 1, 1949, to January 1, 1950. Section 37 of Chapter 340 repeals Chapter 1 of Title 29, of the Revised Statutes, the statute containing the present hotel fire safety requirements. By present section 40 of Chapter 340 this repealer would take effect on July 1, 1949, provided that hotels which comply with the provisions of Chapter 340 prior to July 1, 1949, would not, between the date of compliance and July 1, 1949, be subject to the provisions of Chapter 1 of Title 29.

Thus, if this bill were approved, a possible six-month hiatus could occur during which the present hotel fire safety requirements would be repealed and no requirement would exist for compliance with the new provisions contained in Chapter 340.

Accordingly, I am returning herewith Assembly Bill No. 508 for reconsideration, with the recommendation that amendments be made to the bill (Third Official Copy Reprint) as follows:

On page 4, immediately following section 4, insert the following new section:

"5. Section forty of the act of which this act is amendatory is amended to read as follows:

"40. This act shall take effect October first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-eight, except that section thirty-seven hereof shall take effect [July] January first, one thousand nine hundred and [forty-nine] fifty; provided, however, that a hotel which complies with the provisions of this act prior to [July] January first, one thousand nine hundred and [forty-nine] fifty shall not, between the date of such compliance and [July] January first, one thousand nine hundred and [forty-nine] fifty, be subject to the provisions of chapter one of Title 29 of the Revised Statutes."

On page 4, section 5, change the section number "5" to section number "6".

Respectfully,

ALFRED E. DRISCOLL,
Governor.
