MEDIA ADVISORY

GOVERNOR TO OPEN TROUT SEASON ON SATURDAY AT PEQUEST HATCHERY IN HACKETTSTOWN

Gov. Christie Whitman will officially open trout fishing season on Saturday by participating in the opening day of trout fishing at the Pequest Trout Hatchery and the National Resource Education Center in Hackettstown. The Governor will be one of up to 300,000 New Jerseyans state-wide who are expected to participate in the opening day of the trout fishing season.

On Monday, Gov. Whitman and Human Services Commissioner William Waldman will visit the Healthy Families Program of Perth Amboy and a group home of persons with developmental disabilities in Edison. Waldman announced his resignation as Human Services Commissioner on Friday.
