Trenton, NJ – Today, Governor Chris Christie issued the following statement marking May as Drug Court Month in NJ:

"Drug Courts are a vital resource to our residents who are most in need of help. Through Drug Courts, people gain second chances, instead of incarceration, to reclaim their lives as productive members of society. By gaining strength through rigorous, comprehensive, and intensive treatment, those with the devastating disease of drug addiction can reunite with their families and discover a renewed purpose. Drug Court Month is an important recognition of this issue, and we must continue to take a stand against the stigma of addiction by supporting our fellow citizens who need help."
