EXPLANATION.

Under the Century, and in the line with the Year of the Century, is the Dominical Letter of the Year. Then in the line with the month find the column containing this letter; in this column, and in line with the day of the Month, is the day of the Week. In Leap Years, the letters for January and February are in the lines where these months are printed in Italics.

EXAMPLES.

For December 31st, 1875: for 1875, the letter is C; under C, in a line with 31, is Friday; and for January 1st, 1876, the letter is A; under A, and in a line with 1, is Saturday.

THE STATE CAPITOL OF NEW JERSEY.

HISTORY OF NEW JERSEY.

In 1606, King James of England granted a new patent for Virginia (ignoring that of Sir Walter Raleigh, dated in 1584), in which was included the territory now known as the New England States and New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Maryland. The possession of Eastern New Jersey was claimed by the Dutch, the Swedes claiming the right to the Western portion. The former built Fort Nassau, on the Delaware, near Gloucester; Fort Orange, on the Hudson, near Albany; and the Hirsse of Good Hope, on the Connecticut; the latter found the settlements along the Delaware river, after the Dutch built Nassau, the fort not being of sufficient strength to maintain their shadowy claims. Disputes as to the rightful possession of territory continued for years, until the early spring of 1664, when Charles II. sold to his brother James, Duke of York, "all that tract of land adjacent to New England, and lying and being to the westward of Long Island; bounded on the east part by the main sea and part by the Hudson river, and hath upon the west Delaware bay or river, and extendeth southward to the main ocean as far as Cape May, at the mouth of Delaware bay, and to the northward as far as the northernmost branch of said bay or river of Delaware, which is forty-one degrees and forty minutes of latitude, and worketh over thence in a straight line to Hudson river, which said tract of land is hereafter to be called by the name or names of NOVA CÆSAREA or NEW JERSEY." James soon sold this to Lord Berkeley and Sir George Carteret.

The name was given in honor of Carteret, on account of his gallant defense of the Island of Jersey, at the time he was Governor of the island.

This grant regarded the Dutch and Swedes as intruders, and Berkeley and Carteret not only became rulers, but acquired the right to transfer the privilege to others. Measures were speedily devised for peopling and governing the country. The proprietors published a constitution, dated February 10th, 1664, by which the government of the province was to be exercised by a Governor and Council and General Assembly. The Governor was to receive his appointment from the proprietors; the Council was to be selected by the Governor, who might make choice of six Councilors, at least (or twelve, at most), or any even number between six and twelve.

On the same day that the instrument of government was signed, Philip Carteret, a brother of one of the proprietors, received a commission as Governor of New Jersey. He landed at Elizabeth in August, 1665.

The precise date of the first settlements in New Jersey is not known, though it is believed that the Danes or Norwegians, who crossed the Atlantic with the Dutch colonists, began a settlement at Bergen about the year 1624. About ten years previous, an attempt was made to form a settlement at Jersey City. In 1623, the Dutch West India Company sent out a ship under the command of Capt. Cornelius Jacobse Mey, who entered the Delaware bay and gave his name to its northern cape, and, sailing up the river to Gloucester, built Fort Nassau, which may be considered the first permanent settlement of the State.

Upon the arrival of Governor Carteret, he entered at once upon a vigorous discharge of his duties. A large number of settlers flocked thither, and at an early period the executive authority of the province was established by the appointment of a Council, composed of Captain Nicholas Varlett, Daniel Pierce, Robert Bond, Samuel Edsall, Robert Vanquellen and William Pardon. James Bollen was appointed Secretary of the province.

The first Legislative Assembly in the history of New Jersey met at Elizabethtown, on the 26th of May, 1668. The session lasted four days, and was characterized by harmony and strict attention to the business for which the Burgesses and Representatives were summoned by Governor Carteret. It may be noted that this Assembly passed laws by which twelve distinct offenses were made punishable with death. The Assembly adjourned sine die, and seven years elapsed before another convened. The capture of New York by the Dutch, July 30th, 1673, was followed by the subjection of the surrounding country, including the province of New Jersey. The whole of the territory, however, swung back to the possession of the English crown, by the treaty of peace with Holland, on the 9th of February, 1674.

The second General Assembly began its session on the 5th of November, 1675. Eight members of Council, including the Governor, were present, and fourteen Representatives appeared from the towns. Laws were enacted looking to the proper military defense of the province, for the institution of regular courts, and for the assessment of taxes. A code of capital laws was also adopted, similar in its provisions to that passed in 1668.

On the 18th of March, 1673, Lord Berkeley, one of the original proprietors of New Jersey, disposed of his right and interest in the province to John Fenwick and Edward Byllinge, members of the Society of Quakers, or Friends, who paid the sum of £1,000 for the same. John Fenwick received the conveyance in trust for Edward Byllinge, and a dispute as to the terms having arisen, William Penn was called in as arbitrator. He gave one-tenth of the province and a considerable sum of money to Fenwick, and the remainder of the territory was adjudged to be the property of Byllinge. A permanent settlement was made at Salem, in June, 1675.

Owing to the continued disputations and dissensions, a division of the territory of the province was agreed upon. By this "Indenture Quintipartite," dated July 1st, 1676, the line of division was made to extend across the province, from Little Egg Harbor to a point in the Delaware river in forty-one degrees of north latitude. These divisions were known respectively as East and West Jersey, until the charters of both were surrendered, and the two portions included together under a royal government.

By the retrocession of New Jersey to Great Britain, by the treaty of 1674, the question arose whether the title returned to the proprietors or to the King. To avoid all difficulty, the King recognized the claim of Carteret, and made a new grant to the Duke of York, who also executed a fresh conveyance to Carteret, covering, however, only a part of the original territory of New Jersey. But, before making this conveyance, the Duke included the province in a commission given to Sir Edmund Andros, Governor of New York, who refused to recognize the authority, as Governor, of Philip Carteret, arrested all magistrates who would not submit to his own jurisdiction, and finally, on April 30th, 1680, carried Carteret himself prisoner to New York. The Duke was finally prevailed upon to acknowledge the claims of the proprietors, and in 1681 the government of Andros came to an end.

West Jersey, in February, 1682, was purchased by William Penn and eleven other Quakers, and settlements were made at Burlington, "ye falls of ye Delaware" or Trenton, and a flourishing whaling station established at Cape May, not to mention Salem, already a growing town. The first Governor under the new proprietors was Robert Barclay, a Scotchman, and one of the twelve purchasers, under whom the country became an asylum for the oppressed members of his creed, and for a time enjoyed great prosperity. But the number of proprietors, the frequent sub-divisions and transfers of shares, and various other difficulties in the way of good government, soon involved the province in trouble, and in 1702 the proprietors surrendered the rights of government to the Crown.

Queen Anne appointed Lord Cornbury Governor of New York and New Jersey, but each continued to have a separate Assembly. In 1738, New Jersey petitioned for a distinct administration, and Lewis Morris was appointed Governor. The population was then about 40,000. The last Royal Governor was William Franklin, the illegitimate son of Benjamin Franklin. A State Constitution was adopted July 2d, 1776, and some of the most important battles of the Revolution took place upon its soil. Among these were the battles of Trenton, Princeton, Red Bank and Monmouth.

The first Legislature met at Princeton, in August, 1776, and chose William Livingston, Governor. The Federal Constitution was adopted by a unanimous vote, December 18th, 1787. The State Capital was established at Trenton, in 1790.

New Jersey, out of 98,806 men liable to do military duty, furnished 88,305 during the civil war, being 10,057 in excess of the number called for by the general government, and within 10,501 of her entire militia at that time. Of this number 79,348 served with State organizations, and the remainder in regiments of other States. The naval and marine enlistments from New Jersey numbered 4,853. The entire expense to the State for organizing, equipping, subsisting, supplying and transporting her troops, was $2,894,384.99.

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

OF THE

UNITED STATES.

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume, among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident: that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuits of happiness. That, to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or abolish it, and to institute a new government, laying its foundations on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly, all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But, when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having, in direct object, the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these States. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world:

He has refused his assent to laws the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

14 DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE.

He has forbidden his Governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operations till his assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of representation in the Legislature—a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable and distant from the repository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly, for opposing, with manly firmness, his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused, for a long time after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise; the State remaining, in the meantime, exposed to all the dangers of invasions from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose, obstructing the laws for the naturalization of foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migration hither, and raising the conditions of new appropriations of lands.

He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers.

He has made judges dependent on his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us in times of peace, standing armies, without the consent of our Legislatures.

He has affected to render the military independent of, and superior to, the civil power.

He has combined, with others, to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitutions, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation:

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us;

For protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment, for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these States;

For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world;

For imposing taxes on us without our consent;

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefit of trial by jury ;

For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offenses ;

For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province, establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these colonies ;

For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering, fundamentally, the forms of our governments ;

For suspending our own Legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated government here, by declaring us out of his protection, and waging war against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts, burned our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is, at this time, transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun, with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow-citizens, taken captive on the high seas, to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands.

He has excited domestic insurrection among us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions.

In every stage of these oppressions, we have petitioned for redress, in the most humble terms; our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in our attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them, from time to time, of attempts by their Legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them, by the ties of our common kindred, to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They, too, have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, enemies in war, in peace, friends.

We, therefore, the representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the World for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the name and by the authority of the good people of these colonies, solemnly publish and declare, that these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, Free and Independent States; that they are also absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain, is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that, as Free and Independent States, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and do all other acts and things which Independent States may of right do. And, for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other, our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor.

CONSTITUTION

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.*

We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution of the United States of America.

ARTICLE I.

LEGISLATIVE POWERS.

Section I.

All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Section II.

1. The house of representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several States; and the electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State legislature.

MEMBERS' QUALIFICATIONS.

2. No person shall be a representative who shall not have attained to the age of twenty-five years, and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

RULE OF APPORTIONING REPRESENTATIVES AND DIRECT TAXES.

3. Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this

*This Constitution went into operation on the first Wednesday in March, 1789.

Union, according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons. The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand, but each State shall have at least one representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to choose three; Massachusetts, eight; Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, one; Connecticut, five; New York, six; New Jersey, four; Pennsylvania, eight; Delaware, one; Maryland, six; Virginia, ten; North Carolina, five; South Carolina, five; and Georgia, three.

FILLING OF VACANCIES.

4. When vacancies happen in the representation of any State, the executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

OFFICERS—IMPEACHMENT.

5. The house of representatives shall choose their speaker and other officers, and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

SENATE—HOW COMPOSED.

Section III.

1. The senate of the United States shall be composed of two senators from each State, chosen by the legislature thereof, for six years, and each senator shall have one vote.

ROTATION OF SENATORS.

2. Immediately after they shall be assembled, in consequence of the first election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three classes. The seats of the senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year; of the second class, at the expiration of the fourth year; and of the third class, at the expiration of the sixth year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year. And if vacancies happen by resignation, or otherwise, during the recess of the legislature of any State, the executive thereof may make temporary appointments until the next meeting of the legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies.

THEIR QUALIFICATIONS.

3. No person shall be a senator who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years, and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE.

4. The Vice-President of the United States shall be president of the senate, but shall have no vote unless they be equally divided.

SENATE OFFICERS.

5. The senate shall choose their other officers, and also a president pro tempore, in the absence of the Vice-President, or when he shall exercise the office of President of the United States.

THE SENATE'S POWERS.

6. The senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose, they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the chief justice shall preside. And no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

7. Judgment, in cases of impeachment, shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States; but the party convicted shall, nevertheless, be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment according to law.

MEMBERS OF CONGRESS—HOW ELECTED.

Section IV.

1. The times, places and manner of holding elections for senators and representatives shall be prescribed in each State, by the legislature thereof; but the congress may, at any time, by law, make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing senators.

WHEN CONGRESS SHALL MEET.

2. Congress shall assemble at least once in every year; and such meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

POWERS AND DUTIES OF EACH HOUSE.

Section V.

1. Each house shall be the judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its own members; and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as each house may provide.

RULES, &C.

2. Each house may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member.

JOURNALS.

3. Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such parts as may, in their judgment, require secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the members of each house, on any question, shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal.

ADJOURNMENT.

4. Neither house, during the session of congress, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be sitting.

COMPENSATION, PRIVILEGES AND INCAPACITIES.

Section VI.

1. The senators and representatives shall receive a compensation for their services, to be ascertained by law, and paid out of the treasury of the United States. They shall, in all cases, except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either house, they shall not be questioned in any other place.

APPOINTMENT TO OFFICE.

2. No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased, during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States, shall be a member of either house during his continuance in office.

REVENUE BILLS.

Section VII.

1. All bill for raising revenue shall originate in the house of representatives; but the senate may propose or concur with amendments, as on other bills.

PASSING BILLS, &C.

2. Every bill which shall have passed the house of representatives and the senate, shall, before it become a law, be presented to the President of the United States; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to that house in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large on their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of that house, it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the President within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the congress, by their adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law.

ORDERS AND RESOLUTIONS.

3. Every order, resolution or vote, to which the concurrence of the senate and house of representatives may be necessary (except on the question of adjournment), shall be presented to the President of the United States, and before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him, or, being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two-thirds of the senate and house of representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

POWERS OF CONGRESS.

Section VIII.

The congress shall have power:

1. To lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts and excises, to pay the debts and provide for the common defense, and general welfare of the United States ; but all duties, imposts and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States.

2. To borrow money on the credit of United States ;

3. To regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several States, and with the Indian tribes ;

4. To establish an uniform rule of naturalization, and uniform laws on the subject of bankruptcies, throughout the United States ;

5. To coin money, regulate the value thereof, and of foreign coins, and fix the standard of weights and measures ;

6. To provide for the punishment of counterfeiting the securities and current coin of the United States ;

7. To establish post offices and post roads ;

8. To promote the progress of science and useful arts, by securing, for limited times, to authors and inventors, the exclusive right to their respective writings and discoveries ;

9. To constitute tribunals inferior to the supreme court ;

10. To define and punish piracies and felonies committed on the high seas, and offenses against the law of nations ;

11. To declare war, grant letters of marque and reprisal, and make rules concerning captures on land and water ;

12. To raise and support armies ; but no appropriation of money to that use shall be for a longer term than two years ;

13. To provide and maintain a navy ;

14. To make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces ;

15. To provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrections and repel invasions ;

16. To provide for organizing, arming and disciplining the militia, and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the service of the United States, reserving to the States, respectively, the appointment of the officers, and the authority of training the militia according to the discipline prescribed by congress ;

17. To exercise exclusive legislation, in all cases whatsoever, over such district (not exceeding ten miles square), as may, by cession of particular States, and the acceptance of congress, become the seat of government of the United States ; and to exercise like authority over all places purchased by the consent of the legislature of the State in which the same shall be, for the erection of forts, magazines, arsenals, dock-yards and other needful buildings ; and—

18. To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper, for carrying into execution the foregoing powers and all other powers vested by this constitution in the government of the United States, or in any department or officer thereof.

LIMITATIONS OF THE POWERS OF CONGRESS.

Section IX.

1. The migration or importation of such persons as any of the States now existing shall think proper to admit, shall not be prohibited by the congress, prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a tax or duty may be imposed on such importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each person.

2. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless, when in cases of rebellion or invasion, the public safety may require it.

3. No bill of attainder, or ex post facto law shall be passed.

4. No capitation or other direct tax shall be laid, unless in proportion to the census or enumeration hereinbefore directed to be taken.

5. No tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from any State. No preference shall be given, by any regulation of commerce or revenue, to the ports of one State over those of another; nor shall vessels bound to or from one State, be obliged to enter, clear or pay duties in another.

6. No money shall be drawn from the treasury, but in consequence of appropriations made by law; and a regular statement and account of the receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published from time to time.

7. No title of nobility shall be granted by the United States; and no person holding any office of profit or trust under them, shall, without the consent of the congress, accept of any present, emolument, office or title of any kind whatever, from any king, prince or foreign State.

LIMITATIONS OF THE POWERS OF INDIVIDUAL STATES.

Section X.

1. No State shall enter into any treaty, alliance or confederation; grant letters of marque and reprisal; coin money; emit bills of credit; make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts; pass any bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts; or grant any title of nobility.

2. No State shall, without the consent of the congress, lay any imposts or duties on imports or exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection laws; and the net produce of all duties and imposts laid by any State on imports or exports, shall be for the use of the treasury of the United States; and all such laws shall be subject to the revision and control of the congress.

3. No State shall, without the consent of congress, lay any duty of tonnage, keep troops or ships of war in time of peace, enter into any agreement or compact with another State, or with a foreign power, or engage in war, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent danger as will not admit delay.

ARTICLE II.

THE EXECUTIVE POWER.

Section I.

1. The executive power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his office during the term of four years, and, together with the Vice-President, chosen for the same term, be elected as follows:

HOW ELECTED.

2. Each State shall appoint, in such manner as the legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors equal to the whole number of senators and representatives to which the State may be entitled in congress; but no senator or representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States, shall be appointed an elector.

ELECTORAL COLLEGES.

3. The electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by ballot, for two persons, of whom one, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves. And they shall make a list of all the persons voted for, and of the number of votes for each; which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit, sealed, to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the president of the senate. The president of the senate shall, in the presence of the senate and house of representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted. The person having the greatest number of votes shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such majority, and have an equal number of votes, then the house of representatives shall immediately choose by ballot, one of them for President; and if no person have a majority, then from the five highest on the list, the said house shall in like manner choose the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by States, the representation from each State having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the States, and a majority of the States shall be necessary to a choice. In every case, after the choice of the President, the person having the greatest number of votes of the electors, shall be the Vice-President. But if there should remain two or more who have equal votes, the senate shall choose from them, by ballot, the Vice-President. [See XIIIth amendment.]

WHO MAY BE ELECTED PRESIDENT.

5. No person except a natural born citizen, or a citizen of the United States at the time of the adoption of this constitution, shall be eligible to the office of President; neither shall any person be eligible to that office who shall not have attained to the age of thirty-five years, and been fourteen years a resident within the United States. [See XIIIth amendment.]

ON THE DEATH, REMOVAL, &C., OF THE PRESIDENT, THE POWERS AND DUTIES DEVOLVE UPON THE VICE-PRESIDENT.

6. In case of the removal of the President from office, or of his death, resignation or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the Vice-President; and the congress may, by law, provide for the case of removal, death, resignation or inability, both of the President and Vice-President, declaring what officer shall then act as President, and such officer shall act accordingly, until the disability be removed, or a President shall be elected.

COMPENSATION OF THE PRESIDENT.

7. The President shall, at stated times, receive for his services a compensation which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected; and he shall not receive, within that period, any other emolument from the United States or any of them.

8. Before he enters on the execution of his office, he shall take the following oath or affirmation:

THE OATH.

“I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the constitution of the United States.”

POWERS, &C., OF THE PRESIDENT.

Section II.

1. The President shall be commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States, and of the militia of the several States, when called into the actual service of the United States; he may require the opinion, in writing, of the principal officer in each of the executive departments, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices, and he shall have power to grant reprieves and pardons for offenses against the United States, except in cases of impeachment.

TREATIES, AMBASSADORS, &C.

2. He shall have power, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the senators present concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the senate shall appoint, ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, judges of the supreme court, and all other officers of the United States whose appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by law. But the congress may, by law, vest the appointment of such inferior officers as they think proper in the President alone, in the courts of law, or in the heads of department.

APPOINTING POWER.

3. The President shall have power to fill up all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the senate, by granting commissions, which shall expire at the end of their next session.

DUTIES OF THE PRESIDENT.

Section III.

He shall, from time to time, give to the congress information of the state of the Union, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he may, on extraordinary occasions, convene both houses, or either of them; and in case of disagreement between them with respect to the time of adjournment, he may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper; he shall receive ambassadors and other public ministers; he shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed, and shall commission all the officers of the United States.

IMPEACHMENT, &C.

Section IV.

The President, Vice-President and all civil officers of the United States shall be removed from office on impeachment for, and conviction of, treason, bribery or other high crimes and misdemeanors.

ARTICLE III.

THE JUDICIAL POWER.

Section I.

The judicial power of the United States shall be vested in one supreme court, and in such inferior courts as the congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The judges, both of the supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behavior, and shall, at stated times, receive for their service a compensation, which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.

EXTENT OF THE JUDICIAL POWER.

(See Amendments, Art. XI.)

Section II.

1. The judicial power shall extend to all cases in law and equity arising under this constitution, the laws of the United States, and treaties made, or which shall be made, under their authority; to all cases affecting ambassadors, or other public ministers and consuls; to all cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction; to controversies to which the United States shall be a party; to controversies between two or more States; between a State and citizens of another State; between citizens of different States; between citizens of the same State, claiming lands under grants of different States, and between a State, or the citizens thereof, and foreign States, citizens or subjects.

ORIGINAL AND APPELLATE JURISDICTION OF THE SUPREME COURT.

2. In all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, and those in which a State shall be party, the supreme court shall have original jurisdiction. In all the other cases before mentioned, the supreme court shall have appellate jurisdiction, both as to law and fact, with such exceptions and under such regulations as the congress shall make.

TRIALS FOR CRIMES.

3. The trials of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury, and such trial shall be held in the State where the said crime shall have been committed; but when not committed within any State, the trial shall be at such place or places as the congress may by law have directed.

TREASON—WHAT AND HOW PUNISHED.

Section III.

1. Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

2. The congress shall have power to declare the punishment of treason, but no attainder of treason shall work corruption of blood, or forfeiture, except during the life of the person attainted.

ARTICLE IV.

ACTS, RECORDS, &C., OF EACH STATE.

Section I.

Full faith and credit shall be given, in each State, to the public acts, records and judicial proceedings of every other State. And the congress may, by general laws, prescribe the manner in which such acts, records and proceedings shall be proved, and the effect thereof.

PRIVILEGES OF CITIZENS.

Section II.

1. The citizens of each State shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of citizens in the several States.

FUGITIVES FROM JUSTICE.

2. A person charged in any State with treason, felony or other crime, who shall flee from justice and be found in another State, shall, on demand of the executive authority of the State from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the State having jurisdiction of the crime.

SERVANTS, &C., TO BE SURRENDERED ON CLAIM.

3. No person held to service or labor in one State, under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in consequence of any law or regulation therein, be discharged from such service or labor, but shall be delivered up, on claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due.

HOW NEW STATES ARE ADMITTED.

Section III.

1. New States may be admitted by the congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other State, nor any State be formed by the junction of two or more States or parts of States, without the consent of the legislatures of the States concerned, as well as of the congress.

THE DISPOSITION OF TERRITORIES.

2. The congress shall have power to dispose of, and make all needful rules and regulations respecting, the territory or other property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this constitution shall be so construed as to prejudice any claims of the United States, or of any particular State.

GUARANTY AND PROTECTION OF THE STATES BY THE UNION.

Section IV.

The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion; and, on application of the legislature or of the executive (when the legislature cannot be convened), against domestic violence.

ARTICLE V.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION—HOW MADE.

The congress, whenever two-thirds of both houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this constitution; or, on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the several States, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which in either case shall be valid, to all intents and purposes, as part of this constitution, when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by the congress; provided, that no amendment which may be made prior to the year eighteen hundred and eight shall in any manner affect the first and fourth clauses in the ninth section of the first article, and that no State, without its consent, shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the senate.

ARTICLE VI.

FORMER DEBTS VALID.

Section I.

All debts contracted, and engagements entered into, before the adoption of this constitution, shall be as valid against the United States under this constitution as under the confederation.

THE SUPREME LAW OF THE LAND.

Section II.

This constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land; and the judges in every State shall be bound thereby, anything in the constitution or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL OATH NO RELIGIOUS TEST.

Section III.

The senators and representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several State legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by oath or affirmation to support this constitution; but no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office of public trust under the United States.

ARTICLE VII.

WHEN THE CONSTITUTION TO TAKE EFFECT.

The ratification of the conventions of nine States shall be sufficient for the establishment of this constitution between the States so ratifying the same.

Done in the convention, by the unanimous consent of the States present, the seventeenth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-seven, and of the independence of the United States of America the twelfth.

In witness whereof, we have hereunto subscribed our names.

AMENDMENTS

TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES, RATIFIED
ACCORDING TO THE PROVISIONS OF THE FIFTH ARTICLE OF THE FOREGOING CONSTITUTION.

The following articles proposed by congress, in addition to and amendments of the constitution of the United States, having been ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the States, are become a part of the constitution.

First Congress, First Session, March 5th, 1789.

ARTICLE I.

RIGHT OF CONSCIENCE, FREEDOM OF THE PRESS, &C.

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

ARTICLE II.

OF THE MILITIA.

A well-regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed.

ARTICLE III.

OF QUARTERING SOLDIERS.

No soldier shall in time of peace be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE IV.

OF UNREASONABLE SEARCHES AND SEIZURES.

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated; and no warrant shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

ARTICLE V.

OF CRIMES AND INDICTMENTS.

No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger, nor shall any person be subject, for the same offense, to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be witness against himself; nor to be deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law, nor shall private property be taken for public use without just compensation.

ARTICLE VI.

OF CRIMINAL PROSECUTIONS.

In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel for his defense.

ARTICLE VII.

OF TRIAL BY JURY IN CIVIL CASES.

In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved; and no fact tried by a jury shall be otherwise re-examined in any court of the United States, than according to the rules of the common law.

ARTICLE VIII.

OF BAILS, FINES AND PUNISHMENTS.

Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

ARTICLE IX.

RESERVED RIGHTS.

The enumeration in the constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others, retained by the people.

ARTICLE X.

POWERS NOT DELEGATED RESERVED.

The powers not delegated to the United States by the constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.

Third Congress, Second Session, December 2d, 1783.

ARTICLE XI.

THE JUDICIAL POWER—SEE ART. 3, SEC. 2.

The judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit, in law or equity, commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States, by citizens of another State, or by citizens or subjects of any foreign State.

Eighth Congress, First Session, October 17th, 1803.

ARTICLE XII.

HOW THE PRESIDENT AND VICE-PRESIDENT ARE ELECTED.

The electors shall meet in their respective States,* and vote by ballot for President and Vice-President, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves; they shall name, in their ballots, the person voted for as President, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as Vice-President; and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as President, and of all persons voted for as Vice-President, and of the number of votes for each; which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed,† to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the president of the senate; the president of the senate shall, in the presence of the senate and house of representatives, open all the certificates,‡ and the votes shall then be counted; the person having the greatest number of votes for President shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed. And if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers, not exceeding three, on the list of those voted for as President, the house of representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the President; but in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by States, the representation from each State having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the States, and a majority of all the States shall be necessary to a choice; and if the house of representatives shall not choose a President, whenever the right of a choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the Vice-President shall act as President, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the President. The person having the greatest number of votes as Vice-President shall be the Vice-President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list, the senate shall choose the Vice-President; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of senators, and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice. But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of President, shall be eligible to that of Vice-President of the United States.

*On the first Wednesday in December, by act of Congress, 1st March, 1792.

†Before the 1st Wednesday in January, by act of Congress, 1st March, 1792.

‡On the 2d Wednesday in February, by the same act.

ARTICLE XIII.

SLAVERY ABOLISHED—13TH AMENDMENT, PASSED 1865.

Section I.

Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

Section II.

Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

CITIZENS AND THEIR RIGHTS—14TH AMENDMENT.

Section I.

All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States, and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States. Nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

APPORTIONMENT OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Section II.

Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective number, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed; but whenever the right to vote at any election for electors of President and Vice-President, or for United States representatives in congress, executive and judicial officers, or the members of the legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

DISABILITY OF PERSONS ENGAGED IN THE REBELLION.

Section III.

No person shall be a senator or representative in congress, elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State to support the constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; but congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each house, remove such disability.

VALIDITY OF PUBLIC DEBT NOT TO BE QUESTIONED.

Section IV.

The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for the payment of pensions and bounties for service in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned, but neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave, but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void.

Section V.

The congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

ARTICLE XV.

RIGHT OF SUFFRAGE NOT TO BE IMPAIRED.

Section I.

The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State, on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude.

Section II.

The congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

[The fifteenth amendment passed at the Fortieth Congress.]

STATE CONSTITUTION.

A CONSTITUTION agreed upon by the delegates of the people of New Jersey, in convention begun at Trenton on the fourteenth day of May, and continued to the twenty-ninth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, ratified by the people at an election held on the thirteenth day of August, A. D. 1844, and amended at a special election held on the seventh day of September, A. D. 1875.

We, the people of the State of New Jersey, grateful to Almighty God for the civil and religious liberty which He hath so long permitted us to enjoy, and looking to Him for a blessing upon our endeavors to secure and transmit the same unimpaired to succeeding generations, do ordain and establish this CONSTITUTION :

ARTICLE I.

RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES.

1. All men are by nature free and independent, and have certain natural and unalienable rights, among which are those of enjoying and defending life and liberty; acquiring, possessing and protecting property, and of pursuing and obtaining safety and happiness.

2. All political power is inherent in the people. Government is instituted for the protection, security and benefit of the people, and they have the right at all times to alter or reform the same, whenever the public good may require it.

3. No person shall be deprived of the inestimable privilege of worshipping Almighty God in a manner agreeable to the dictates of his own conscience; nor, under any pretense whatever, to be compelled to attend any place of worship contrary to his faith and judgment; nor shall any person be obliged to pay tithes, taxes or other rates for building or repairing any church or churches, place or places of worship, or for the maintenance of any minister or ministry, contrary to what he believes to be right, or has deliberately and voluntarily engaged to perform.

4. There shall be no establishment of one religious sect in preference to another; no religious test shall be required as a qualification for any office or public trust; and no person shall be denied the enjoyment of any civil right merely on account of his religious principles.

5. Every person may freely speak, write and publish his sentiments on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of that right. No law shall be passed to restrain or abridge the liberty of speech or of the press. In all prosecutions or indictments for libel, the truth may be given in evidence to the jury; and if it shall appear to the jury that the matter charged as libelous is true, and was published with good motives and for justifiable ends, the party shall be acquitted; and the jury shall have the right to determine the law and the fact.

6. The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated; and no warrant shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched and the papers and things to be seized.

7. The right of a trial by jury shall remain inviolate; but the legislature may authorize the trial of civil suits, when the matter in dispute does not exceed fifty dollars, by a jury of six men.

8. In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall have the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury; to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel in his defense.

9. No person shall be held to answer for a criminal offense, unless on the presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases of impeachment, or in cases cognizable by justices of the peace, or arising in the army or navy; or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger.

10. No person shall, after acquittal, be tried for the same offense. All persons shall, before conviction, be bailable by sufficient sureties, except for capital offenses, when the proof is evident or presumption great.

11. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless in case of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.

12. The military shall be in strict subordination to the civil power.

13. No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; nor in time of war, except in a manner prescribed by law.

14. Treason against the State shall consist only in levying war against it, or in adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason, unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

15. Excessive bail shall not be required, excessive fines shall not be imposed, and cruel and unusual punishments shall not be inflicted.

16. Private property shall not be taken for public use without just compensation; but land may be taken for public highways as heretofore, until the legislature shall direct compensation to be made.

17. No person shall be imprisoned for debt in any action, or on any judgment founded upon contract, unless in cases of fraud; nor shall any person be imprisoned for a militia fine in time of peace.

18. The people have the right freely to assemble together, to consult for the common good, to make known their opinions to their representatives, and to petition for redress of grievances.

19. No county, city, borough, town, township or village shall hereafter give any money or property, or loan its money or credit, to or in aid of any individual association or corporation, or become security for or be directly or indirectly the owner of any stock or bonds of any association or corporation.

20. No donation of land or appropriation of money shall be made by the State or any municipal corporation to or for the use of any society, association or corporation whatever.

21. This enumeration of rights and privileges shall not be construed to impair or deny others retained by the people.

ARTICLE II.

RIGHT OF SUFFRAGE.

1. Every male citizen of the United States, of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a resident of this State one year, and of the county in which he claims his vote five months, next before the election, shall be entitled to vote for all officers that now are, or hereafter may be, elective by the people; provided, that no person in the military, naval or marine service of the United States shall be considered a resident in this State, by being stationed in any garrison, barrack, or military or naval place or station within this State; and no pauper, idiot, insane person, or person convicted of a crime which now excludes him from being a witness unless pardoned or restored by law to the right of suffrage, shall enjoy the right of an elector; and provided further, that in time of war no elector in the actual military service of the State, or of the United States, in the army or navy thereof, shall be deprived of his vote by reason of his absence from such election district; and the legislature shall have power to provide the manner in which, and the time and place at which, such absent electors may vote, and for the return and canvass of their votes in the election districts in which they respectively reside.

2. The legislature may pass laws to deprive persons of the right of suffrage who shall be convicted of bribery.

ARTICLE III.

DISTRIBUTION OF THE POWERS OF GOVERNMENT.

1. The powers of the government shall be divided into three distinct departments—the legislative, executive and judicial; and no person or persons belonging to, or constituting one of these departments, shall exercise any of the powers properly belonging to either of the others, except as herein expressly provided.

ARTICLE IV.

LEGISLATIVE.

Section I.

1. The legislative power shall be vested in a senate and general assembly.

2. No person shall be a member of the senate who shall not have attained the age of thirty years, and have been a citizen and inhabitant of the State for four years, and of the county for which he shall be chosen one year, next before his election; and no person shall be a member of the general assembly who shall not have attained the age of twenty-one years, and have been a citizen and inhabitant of the State for two years, and of the county for which he shall be chosen one year next before his election; provided, that no person shall be eligible as a member of either house of the legislature, who shall not be entitled to the right of suffrage.

3. Members of the senate and general assembly shall be elected yearly and every year, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November; and the two houses shall meet separately on the second Tuesday in January next after the said day of election, at which time of meeting the legislative year shall commence; but the time of holding such election may be altered by the legislature.

Section II.

1. The senate shall be composed of one senator from each county in the State, elected by the legal voters of the counties, respectively, for three years.

2. As soon as the senate shall meet after the first election to be held in pursuance of this constitution, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three classes. The seats of the senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the first year; of the second class at the expiration of the second year; and of the third class at the expiration of the third year, so that one class may be elected every year; and if vacancies happen, by resignation or otherwise, the persons elected to supply such vacancies shall be elected for the unexpired terms only.

Section III.

1. The general assembly shall be composed of members annually elected by the legal voters of the counties, respectively, who shall be apportioned among the said counties as nearly as may be according to the number of their inhabitants. The present apportionment shall continue until the next census of the United States shall have been taken, and an apportionment of members of the general assembly shall be made by the legislature at its first session after the next and every subsequent enumeration or census, and when made shall remain unaltered until another enumeration shall have been taken; provided, that each county shall at all times be entitled to one member; and the whole number of members shall never exceed sixty.

Section IV.

1. Each house shall direct writs of election for supplying vacancies, occasioned by death, resignation, or otherwise; but if vacancies occur during the recess of the legislature, the writs may be issued by the governor, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law.

2. Each house shall be the judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its own members, and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner, and under such penalties, as each house may provide.

3. Each house shall choose its own officers, determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, may expel a member.

4. Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same; and the yeas and nays of the members of either house on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal.

5. Neither house, during the session of the legislature, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be sitting.

6. All bills and joint resolutions shall be read three times in each house, before the final passage thereof; and no bill or joint resolution shall pass unless there be a majority of all the members of each body personally present and agreeing thereto; and the yeas and nays of the members voting on such final passage shall be entered on the journal.

7. Members of the senate and general assembly shall receive annually the sum of five hundred dollars during the time for which they shall have been elected and while they shall hold their office, and no other allowance or emolument, directly or indirectly, for any purpose whatever. The president of the senate and the speaker of the house of assembly shall, in virtue of their offices, receive an additional compensation, equal to one-third of their allowance as members.

8. Members of the senate and general assembly shall, in all cases except treason, felony and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the sitting of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate, in either house, they shall not be questioned in any other place.

Section V.

1. No member of the senate or general assembly shall, during the time for which he was elected, be nominated or appointed by the governor, or by the legislature in joint meeting, to any civil office under the authority of this State which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased, during such time.

2. If any member of the senate or general assembly shall be elected to represent this State in the senate or house of representatives of the United States, and shall accept thereof, or shall accept of any office or appointment under the government of the United States, his seat in the legislature of this State shall thereby be vacated.

3. No justice of the supreme court, nor judge of any other court, sheriff, justice of the peace nor any person or persons possessed of any office of profit under the government of this State, shall be entitled to a seat either in the senate or in the general assembly; but, on being elected and taking his seat, his office shall be considered vacant; and no person holding any office of profit under the government of the United States shall be entitled to a seat in either house.

Section VI.

1. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the house of assembly; but the senate may propose or concur with amendments, as on other bills.

2. No money shall be drawn from the treasury but for appropriations made by law.

3. The credit of the State shall not be directly or indirectly loaned in any case.

4. The legislature shall not, in any manner, create any debt or debts, liability or liabilities, of the State which shall, singly or in the aggregate with any previous debts or liabilities, at any time exceed one hundred thousand dollars, except for purposes of war, or to repel invasion, or to suppress insurrection, unless the same shall be authorized by a law for some single object or work, to be distinctly specified therein; which law shall provide the ways and means, exclusive of loans, to pay the interest of such debt or liability as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal of such debt or liability within thirty-five years from the time of the contracting thereof, and shall be irrevocable until such debt or liability, and the interest thereon, are fully paid and discharged; and no such law shall take effect until it shall, at a general election, have been submitted to the people, and have received the sanction of a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at such election; and all money to be raised by the authority of such law shall be applied only to the specific object stated therein, and to the payment of the debt thereby created. This section shall not be construed to refer to any money that has been, or may be, deposited with this State by the government of the United States.

Section VII.

1. No divorce shall be granted by the legislature.

2. No lottery shall be authorized by this State, and no ticket in any lottery not authorized by a law of this State shall be bought or sold within the State.

3. The legislature shall not pass any bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts, or depriving a party of any remedy for enforcing a contract which existed when the contract was made.

4. To avoid improper influences which may result from intermixing in one and the same act such things as have no proper relation to each other, every law shall embrace but one object, and that shall be expressed in the title. No law shall be revived or amended by reference to its title only; but the act revived, or the section or sections amended, shall be inserted at length. No general law shall embrace any provision of a private, special or local character. No act shall be passed which shall provide that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be made or deemed a part of the act, or which shall enact that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be applicable, except by inserting it in such act.

5. The laws of this State shall begin in the following style: "Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey."

6. The fund for the support of free schools, and all money, stock and other property which may hereafter be appropriated for that purpose, or received into the treasury under the provision of any law heretofore passed to augment the said fund, shall be securely invested and remain a perpetual fund; and the income thereof, except so much as it may be judged expedient to apply to an increase of the capital, shall be annually appropriated to the support of public free schools, for the equal benefit of all the people of the State; and it shall not be competent for the legislature to borrow, appropriate or use the said fund, or any part thereof, for any other purpose, under any pretense whatever. The legislature shall provide for the maintenance and support of a thorough and efficient system of free public schools for the instruction of all the children in this State between the ages of five and eighteen years.

7. No private or special law shall be passed authorizing the sale of any lands belonging in whole or in part to a minor or minors, or other persons who may at the time be under any legal disability to act for themselves.

8. Individuals or private corporations shall not be authorized to take private property for public use, without just compensation first made to the owners.

9. No private, special or local bill shall be passed unless public notice of the intention to apply therefor, and of the general object thereof, shall have been previously given. The legislature, at the next session after the adoption hereof, and from time to time thereafter, shall prescribe the time and mode of giving such notice, the evidence thereof, and how such evidence shall be preserved.

10. The legislature may vest in the circuit courts, or courts of common pleas within the several counties of this State, chancery powers, so far as relates to the foreclosure of mortgages and sale of mortgaged premises.

11. The legislature shall not pass private, local or special laws in any of the following enumerated cases; that is to say:
Laying out, opening, altering and working roads or highways.
Vacating any road, town plot, street, alley or public grounds.

Regulating the internal affairs of towns and counties; appointing local offices or commissions to regulate municipal affairs.

Selecting, drawing, summoning or empaneling grand or petit jurors.

Creating, increasing or decreasing the percentage or allowance of public officers during the term for which said officers were elected or appointed.

Changing the law of descent.

Granting to any corporation, association or individual any exclusive privilege, immunity or franchise whatever.

Granting to any corporation, association or individual the right to lay down railroad tracks.

Providing for changes of venue in civil or criminal cases.

Providing for the management and support of free public schools.

The legislature shall pass general laws providing for the cases enumerated in this paragraph, and for all other cases which, in its judgment, may be provided for by general laws. The legislature shall pass no special act conferring corporate powers, but they shall pass general laws under which corporations may be organized and corporate powers of every nature obtained, subject, nevertheless, to repeal or alteration at the will of the legislature.

12. Property shall be assessed for taxes under general laws, and by uniform rules, according to its true value.

Section VIII.

1. Members of the legislature shall, before they enter on the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation:

“I do solemnly swear [or affirm, as the case may be,] that I will support the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the State of New Jersey, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of senator [or member of the general assembly, as the case may be,] according to the best of my ability.”

And members-elect of the senate or general assembly are hereby empowered to administer to each other the said oath or affirmation.

2. Every officer of the legislature shall, before he enters upon his duties, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I do solemnly promise and swear [or affirm] that I will faithfully, impartially and justly perform all the duties of the office of ———, to the best of my ability and understanding; that I will carefully preserve all records, papers, writings or property intrusted to me for safe-keeping by virtue of my office, and make such disposition of the same as may be required by law."

ARTICLE V.

EXECUTIVE.

1. The executive power shall be vested in a governor.

2. The governor shall be elected by the legal voters of this State. The person having the highest number of votes shall be the governor; but if two or more shall be equal and highest in votes, one of them shall be chosen governor by the vote of a majority of the members of both houses in joint meeting. Contested elections for the office of governor shall be determined in such manner as the legislature shall direct by law. When a governor is to be elected by the people, such election shall be held at the time when and at the places where the people shall respectively vote for members of the legislature.

3. The governor shall hold his office for three years, to commence on the third Tuesday of January next ensuing the election for governor by the people, and to end on the Monday preceding the third Tuesday of January, three years thereafter; and he shall be incapable of holding that office for three years next after his term of service shall have expired; and no appointment or nomination to office shall be made by the governor during the last week of his said term.

4. The governor shall be not less than thirty years of age, and shall have been for twenty years, at least, a citizen of the United States, and a resident of this State seven years next before his election, unless he shall have been absent during that time on the public business of the United States or of this State.

5. The governor shall, at stated times, receive for his services a compensation which shall be neither increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected.

6. He shall be the commander-in-chief of all the military and naval forces of the State; he shall have power to convene the legislature, or the senate alone, whenever in his opinion public necessity requires it; he shall communicate by message to the legislature at the opening of each session, and at such other times as he may deem necessary, the condition of the State, and recommend such measures as he may deem expedient; he shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed, and grant, under the great seal of the State, commissions to all such officers as shall be required to be commissioned.

8. No member of congress, or person holding an office under the United States, or this State, shall exercise the office of governor; and in case the governor, or person administering the government shall accept any office under the United States or this State, his office of governor shall thereupon be vacant. Nor shall he be elected by the legislature to any office under the government of this State or of the United States, during the term for which he shall have been elected governor.

9. The governor, or person administering the government, shall have power to suspend the collection of fines and forfeitures, and to grant reprieves, to extend until the expiration of a time not exceeding ninety days after conviction; but this power shall not extend to cases of impeachment.

10. The governor, or person administering the government, the chancellor, and the six judges of the court of errors and appeals, or a major part of them, of whom the governor, or person administering the government, shall be one, may remit fines and forfeitures, and grant pardons, after conviction, in all cases except impeachment.

11. The governor and all other civil officers under this State shall be liable to impeachment for misdemeanor in office during their continuance in office, and for two years thereafter.

12. In case of the death, resignation or removal from office of the governor, the powers, duties and emoluments of the office shall devolve upon the president of the senate, and in case of his death, resignation or removal, then upon the speaker of the house of assembly, for the time being, until another governor shall be elected and qualified; but in such case another governor shall be chosen at the next election for members of the legislature, unless such death, resignation or removal shall occur within thirty days immediately preceding such next election, in which case a governor shall be chosen at the second succeeding election for members of the legislature. When a vacancy happens, during the recess of the legislature, in any office which is to be filled by the governor and senate, or by the legislature in joint meeting, the governor shall fill such vacancy and the commission shall expire at the end of the next session of the legislature, unless a successor shall be sooner appointed; when a vacancy happens in the office of clerk or surrogate of any county, the governor shall fill such vacancy, and the commission shall expire when a successor is elected and qualified.

13. In case of the impeachment of the governor, his absence from the State or inability to discharge the duties of his office, the powers, duties and emoluments of the office shall devolve upon the president of the senate; and in case of his death, resignation or removal, then upon the speaker of the house of assembly for the time being, until the governor, absent or impeached, shall return or be acquitted, or until the disqualification or inability shall cease, or until a new governor be elected and qualified.

14. In case of a vacancy in the office of governor from any other cause than those herein enumerated, or in case of the death of the governor-elect before he is qualified into office, the powers, duties and emoluments of the office shall devolve upon the president of the senate or speaker of the house of assembly, as above provided for, until a new governor be elected and qualified.

ARTICLE VI.

JUDICIARY.

Section I.

1. The judicial power shall be vested in a court of errors and appeals in the last resort in all causes as heretofore; a court for the trial of impeachments; a court of chancery; a prerogative court; a supreme court; circuit courts, and such inferior courts as now exist, and as may be hereafter ordained and established by law; which inferior courts the legislature may alter or abolish, as the public good shall require.

Section II.

1. The court of errors and appeals shall consist of the chancellor, the justices of the supreme court, and six judges, or a major part of them; which judges are to be appointed for six years.

2. Immediately after the court shall first assemble, the six judges shall arrange themselves in such manner that the seat of one of them shall be vacated every year, in order that thereafter one judge may be annually appointed.

3. Such of the six judges as shall attend the court shall receive, respectively, a per diem compensation, to be provided by law.

4. The secretary of state shall be the clerk of this court.

5. When an appeal from an order or decree shall be heard, the chancellor shall inform the court, in writing, of the reasons for his order or decree; but he shall not sit as a member, or have a voice in the hearing or final sentence.

6. When a writ of error shall be brought, no justice who has given a judicial opinion in the cause in favor of or against any error complained of, shall sit as a member, or have a voice on the hearing, or for its affirmance or reversal; but the reasons for such opinion shall be assigned to the court in writing.

Section III.

1. The house of assembly shall have the sole power of impeaching, by a vote of a majority of all the members; and all impeachments shall be tried by the senate; the members, when sitting for that purpose, to be on oath or affirmation "truly and impartially to try and determine the charge in question according to evidence;" and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members of the senate.

2. Any judicial officer impeached shall be suspended from exercising his office until his acquittal.

3. Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend farther than to removal from office, and to disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, profit or trust under this State; but the party convicted shall, nevertheless, be liable to indictment, trial and punishment according to law.

4. The secretary of state shall be the clerk of this court.

Section IV.

1. The court of chancery shall consist of a chancellor.

2. The chancellor shall be the ordinary or surrogate general, and judge of the prerogative court.

3. All persons aggrieved by any order, sentence or decree of the orphans' court, may appeal from the same, or from any part thereof to the prerogative court; but such order, sentence or decree shall not be removed into the supreme court, or circuit court if the subject-matter thereof be within the jurisdiction of the orphans' court.

4. The secretary of state shall be the register of the prerogative court, and shall perform the duties required of him by law in that respect.

Section V.

1. The supreme court shall consist of a chief justice and four associate justices. The number of associate justices may be increased or decreased by law, but shall never be less than two.

2. The circuit courts shall be held in every county of this State, by one or more of the justices of the supreme court, or a judge appointed for that purpose, and shall, in all cases within the county except in those of a criminal nature, have common law jurisdiction, concurrent with the supreme court; and any final judgment of a circuit court may be docketed in the supreme court, and shall operate as a judgment obtained in the supreme court from the time of such docketing.

3. Final judgments in any circuit court may be brought by writ of error into the supreme court, or directly into the court of errors and appeals.

Section VI.

1. There shall be no more than five judges of the inferior court of common pleas in each of the counties in this State, after the terms of the judges of said court now in office shall terminate. One judge for each county shall be appointed every year, and no more, except to fill vacancies, which shall be for the unexpired term only.

2. The commissions for the first appointments of judges of said court shall bear date and take effect on the first day of April next; and all subsequent commissions for judges of said court shall bear date and take effect on the first day of April in every successive year, except commissions to fill vacancies, which shall bear date and take effect when issued.

Section VII.

1. There may be elected under this constitution two, and not more than five, justices of the peace in each of the townships of the several counties of this State, and in each of the wards, in cities that may vote in wards. When a township or ward contains two thousand inhabitants or less, it may have two justices; when it contains more than two thousand inhabitants, and not more than four thousand, it may have four justices; and when it contains more than four thousand inhabitants, it may have five justices; provided, that whenever any township not voting in wards contains more than seven thousand inhabitants, such township may have an additional justice for each additional three thousand inhabitants above four thousand.

2. The population of the townships in the several counties of the State and of the several wards shall be ascertained by the last preceding census of the United States, until the legislature shall provide, by law, some other mode of ascertaining it.

ARTICLE VII.

APPOINTING POWER AND TENURE OF OFFICE.

Section I.

MILITIA OFFICERS.

1. The legislature shall provide by law for enrolling, organizing and arming the militia.

2. Captains, subalterns and non-commissioned officers shall be elected by the members of their respective companies.

3. Field officers of regiments, independent battalions and squadrons shall be elected by the commissioned officers of their respective regiments, battalions or squadrons.

4. Brigadier-generals shall be elected by the field officers of their respective brigades.

5. Major-generals, the adjutant-general and quartermaster-general shall be nominated by the governor, and appointed by him, with the advice and consent of the senate.

6. The legislature shall provide, by law, the time and manner of electing militia officers, and of certifying their elections to the governor, who shall grant their commissions, and determine their rank, when not determined by law; and no commissioned officer shall be removed from office but by the sentence of a court-martial, pursuant to law.

7. In case the electors of subalterns, captains or field officers shall refuse or neglect to make such elections, the governor shall have power to appoint such officers, and to fill all vacancies caused by such refusal or neglect.

8. Brigade inspectors shall be chosen by the field officers of their respective brigades.

9. The governor shall appoint all militia officers whose appointment is not otherwise provided for in this constitution.

10. Major-generals, brigadier-generals and commanding officers of regiments, independent battalions and squadrons shall appoint the staff officers of their divisions, brigades, regiments, independent battalions and squadrons, respectively.

Section II.

CIVIL OFFICERS.

1. Justices of the supreme court, chancellor, judges of the court of errors and appeals and judges of the inferior court of common pleas shall be nominated by the governor, and appointed by him, with the advice and consent of the senate.

The justices of the supreme court and chancellor shall hold their offices for the term of seven years; shall, at stated times, receive for their services a compensation which shall not be diminished during the term of their appointments; and they shall hold no other office under the government of this State or of the United States.

2. Judges of the courts of common pleas shall be appointed by the senate and general assembly, in joint meeting.

They shall hold their offices for five years; but when appointed to fill vacancies, they shall hold for the unexpired term only.

3. The state treasurer and comptroller shall be appointed by the senate and general assembly, in joint meeting.

They shall hold their offices for three years, and until their successors shall be qualified into office.

4. The attorney-general, prosecutors of the pleas, clerk of the supreme court, clerk of the court of chancery, secretary of state and the keeper of the state prison shall be nominated by the governor, and appointed by him, with the advice and consent of the senate.

They shall hold their offices for five years.

5. The law reporter shall be appointed by the justices of the supreme court, or a majority of them; and the chancery reporter shall be appointed by the chancellor.

They shall hold their offices for five years.

6. Clerks and surrogates of counties shall be elected by the people of their respective counties, at the annual elections for members of the general assembly.

They shall hold their offices for five years.

7. Sheriffs and coroners shall be elected by the people of their respective counties, at the elections for members of the general assembly, and they shall hold their offices for three years, after which three years must elapse before they can be again capable of serving. Sheriffs shall annually renew their bonds.

8. Justices of the peace shall be elected by ballot at the annual meetings of the townships in the several counties of the State, and of the wards in cities that may vote in wards, in such manner and under such regulations as may be hereafter provided by law.

They shall be commissioned for the county, and their commissions shall bear date and take effect on the first day of May next after their election.

They shall hold their offices for five years; but when elected to fill vacancies, they shall hold for the unexpired term only; provided, that the commission of any justice of the peace shall become vacant upon his ceasing to reside in the township in which he was elected.

The first election for justices of the peace shall take place at the next annual town-meetings of the townships in the several counties of the State, and of the wards in cities that may vote in wards.

9. All other officers, whose appointments are not otherwise provided for by law, shall be nominated by the governor, and appointed by him, with the advice and consent of the senate; and shall hold their offices for the time prescribed by law.

10. All civil officers elected or appointed pursuant to the provisions of this constitution, shall be commissioned by the governor.

11. The term of office of all officers elected or appointed, pursuant to the provisions of this constitution, except when herein otherwise directed, shall commence on the day of the date of their respective commissions; but no commission for any office shall bear date prior to the expiration of the term of the incumbent of said office.

ARTICLE VIII.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

1. The secretary of state shall be ex officio an auditor of the accounts of the treasurer, and as such, it shall be his duty to assist the legislature in the annual examination and settlement of said accounts, until otherwise provided by law.

2. The seal of the State shall be kept by the governor, or person administering the government, and used by him officially, and shall be called the great seal of the State of New Jersey.

3. All grants and commissions shall be in the name and by the authority of the State of New Jersey, sealed with the great seal, signed by the governor, or person administering the government, and countersigned by the secretary of state, and it shall run thus: "The State of New Jersey, to ———, greeting." All writs shall be in the name of the State; and all indictments shall conclude in the following manner, viz., "against the peace of this State, the government and dignity of the same."

4. This constitution shall take effect and go into operation on the second day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty-four.

ARTICLE IX.

AMENDMENTS.

Any specific amendment or amendments to the constitution may be proposed in the senate or general assembly, and if the same shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be entered on their journals, with the yeas and nays taken thereon, and referred to the legislature then next to be chosen, and shall be published for three months previous to making such choice, in at least one newspaper of each county, if any be published therein; and if in the legislature next chosen as aforesaid, such proposed amendment or amendments, or any of them, shall be agreed to by a majority of all the members elected to each house, then it shall be the duty of the legislature to submit such proposed amendment or amendments, or such of them as may have been agreed to as aforesaid by the two legislatures, to the people, in such manner and at such time, at least four months after the adjournment of the legislature, as the legislature shall prescribe; and if the people at a special election to be held for that purpose only, shall approve and ratify such amendment or amendments, or any of them, by a majority of the electors qualified to vote for members of the legislature voting thereon, such amendment or amendments so approved and ratified shall become part of the constitution; provided, that if more than one amendment be submitted, they shall be submitted in such manner and form that the people may vote for or against each amendment separately and distinctly; but no amendment or amendments shall be submitted to the people by the legislature oftener than once in five years.

ARTICLE X.

SCHEDULE.

That no inconvenience may arise from the change in the constitution of this State, and in order to carry the same into complete operation, it is hereby declared and ordained, that—

1. The common law and statute laws now in force, not repugnant to this constitution, shall remain in force until they expire by their own limitation, or be altered or repealed by the legislature; and all writs, actions, causes of action, prosecutions, contracts, claims and rights of individuals and of bodies corporate, and of the State, and all charters of incorporation, shall continue, and all indictments which shall have been found, or which may hereafter be found, for any crime or offense committed before the adoption of this constitution, may be proceeded upon as if no change had taken place. The several courts of law and equity, except as herein otherwise provided, shall continue with the like powers and jurisdiction as if this constitution had not been adopted.

2. All officers now filling any office or appointment shall continue in the exercise of the duties thereof, according to their respective commissions or appointments, unless by this constitution it is otherwise directed.

3. The present governor, chancellor and ordinary or surrogate-general and treasurer shall continue in office until successors elected or appointed under this constitution shall be sworn or affirmed into office.

4. In case of the death, resignation or disability of the present governor, the person who may be vice-president of council at the time of the adoption of this constitution shall continue in office and administer the government until a governor shall have been elected and sworn or affirmed into office under this constitution.

5. The present governor, or in case of his death or inability to act, the vice-president of council, together with the present members of the legislative council and secretary of state, shall constitute a board of state canvassers, in the manner now provided by law, for the purpose of ascertaining and declaring the result of the next ensuing election for governor, members of the house of representatives, and electors of president and vice-president.

6. The returns of the votes for governor, at the said next ensuing election, shall be transmitted to the secretary of state, the votes counted, and the election declared in the manner now provided by law in the case of the election of electors of president and vice-president.

7. The election of clerks and surrogates, in those counties where the term of office of the present incumbent shall expire previous to the general election of eighteen hundred and forty-five, shall be held at the general election next ensuing the adoption of this constitution; the result of which election shall be ascertained in the manner now provided by law for the election of sheriffs.

8. The elections for the year eighteen hundred and forty-four shall take place as now provided by law.

9. It shall be the duty of the governor to fill all vacancies in office happening between the adoption of this constitution and the first session of the senate, and not otherwise provided for, and the commissions shall expire at the end of the first session of the senate, or when successors shall be elected or appointed and qualified.

10. The restriction of the pay of members of the legislature, after forty days from the commencement of the session, shall not be applied to the first legislature convened under this constitution.

11. Clerks of counties shall be clerks of the inferior courts of common pleas and quarter sessions of the several counties, and perform the duties, and be subject to the regulations now required of them by law until otherwise ordained by the legislature.

12. The legislature shall pass all laws necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this constitution.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY :

I, HENRY C. KELSEY, Secretary of State of the State of New Jersey, do hereby certify the foregoing to be a true copy of the Constitution of the State of New Jersey as amended, as the same is taken from and compared with the original Constitution and amendments thereto, now remaining on file in my office.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand
[L. S.] and affixed my official seal, this ninth day of October,
A. D. eighteen hundred and seventy-five.

HENRY C. KELSEY.

SENATE.

RULES ADOPTED THIS YEAR.

President.

1. The President shall take the Chair at the time appointed, and a quorum being present the journal of the preceding day shall be read, to the end that any mistake therein may be corrected.

2. He shall not engage in any debate without leave of the Senate, except so far as shall be necessary for regulating the form of proceeding. (Rule 6.)

3. He shall rise to put a question, but may state it sitting.

4. He shall, on all occasions, preserve the strictest order and decorum. (Rules 8, 43, 53.)

5. When two or more Senators shall rise at the same time, he shall name the one entitled to the floor.

6. He shall have the right to name a Senator to perform the duties of the Chair, but such substitution shall not extend beyond one day.

7. He shall decide every question of order without debate, subject to an appeal to the Senate; and he may call for the sense of the Senate upon any question of order.

8. He shall cause all persons to be arrested or removed from the Senate chamber who shall interrupt the proceedings of the Senate, or conduct themselves improperly in the lobby or gallery. (Rule 53.)

Quorum.

9. A majority of the members of the Senate shall constitute a quorum; and whenever a less number than a quorum shall convene at a regular meeting, and shall adjourn, the names of those present shall be entered on the journal.

10. Whenever a less number than a quorum shall convene at any regular meeting, they are hereby authorized to send the Sergeant-at-Arms, or any other person or persons by them authorized, for any or all absent Senators.

Order of Business.

11. After the President has taken the chair, the order of business shall be as follows:

- I. Prayer.
- II. Calling the Roll.
- III. Reading the Journal.
- IV. Presentation and reference of petitions and memorials
- V. Reports of Committees.
 - 1. Standing Committees (according to Rule 13.)

A Committee on the Soldiers' Home.

A Committee on Reform School for Boys.

A Committee on Sinking Fund.

A Committee on Industrial School for Girls.

A Committee on the New Jersey School for Deaf-Mutes.

Bills and Joint Resolutions.

14. When a memorial or bill is referred to a committee, praying or providing for an act of incorporation, or for any other act, notice of the application for which is required by law to be previously advertised, the committee shall not have leave to report such bill unless satisfactory evidence has been presented to the committee that the application for such act has had a bona fide advertisement according to law; and all committees reporting such bills referred to them shall certify to the Senate that such proof has been presented and is deemed satisfactory.

15. The titles of all bills, and such parts thereof only as shall be affected by proposed amendments, shall be entered on the journal.

16. When leave is asked to bring in a bill, its title shall be read for the information of the Senate, and if objected to it shall be laid over for one day; and all public bills and joint resolutions shall, after the first reading, be printed for the use of the Senate; but no other paper or document shall be printed without special order, except private bills, as provided by Rule 17.

17. No private bill shall be read a second time, unless printed copies thereof, procured by the applicants, shall be in the possession of the Senate.

18. All bills and special reports of committees shall be numbered by the Secretary as they are severally introduced, and a list made of the same, and such bills and reports shall be called up by the President for consideration in the order in which they are reported and stand upon the calendar, unless otherwise ordered; and the Secretary shall read from the said list or calendar, and not from the files of bills or reports.

19. No bill shall be committed or amended until it shall have been ordered to a second reading, after which it may be referred to a committee.

20. All bills may be made the order for a particular day, and public bills, when called for, shall have the preference of private bills; and when two or more bills shall be called for by Senators, they shall be taken up according to their seniority, reckoning from the date of their introduction. (Rule 56.)

21. The consent of a majority of the Senators present shall be sufficient to engross or re-engross any bill or joint resolution; but no bill or joint resolution shall pass unless there shall be a majority of all the Senators personally present and agreeing thereto; and the yeas and nays of Senators voting on the final passage of any bill or joint resolution shall be entered on the journal; and the like entry on any other question shall be made at the desire of any Senator.

22. Every bill and joint resolution shall receive three readings previous to its being passed; and the President shall give notice at each reading whether it be the first, second or third, which readings shall be on three different days.

23. The final question upon the second reading of every bill or joint resolution originating in the Senate shall be whether it shall be engrossed and read a third time; and no amendment shall be received at the third reading unless by unanimous consent of the Senators present, but it shall be in order, before the final passage of any such bill or joint resolution, to move its recommitment; and should such recommitment take place, and any amendment be reported by the committee, the said bill or resolution shall be again read a second time and considered, and the aforesaid question again put.

24. All bills ordered to be engrossed shall be executed in a fair, round hand.

25. When a bill or joint resolution shall have been lost, and reconsidered and lost again, the same shall not again be reconsidered but by the unanimous consent of the Senate.

26. Bills and joint resolutions, when passed by the Senate, shall be signed by the President.

27. When a Senate bill or joint resolution shall have been passed, the same shall be signed, taken to the House of Assembly, and its concurrence therein requested, without a motion for that purpose.

28. When a bill or resolution passed by the Senate shall be carried to the House of Assembly, all papers and documents relating thereto on the files of the Senate, shall be carried by the Secretary, with such bill or resolution, to the House of Assembly.

Motions and their Precedence.

29. When a motion shall be made, it shall be reduced to writing by the President or any Senator, and delivered to the Secretary at his table, and read before the same shall be debatable.

30. All motions entered on the journal of the Senate, shall be entered in the names of the Senators who make them.

31. If the question in debate contains several points, any Senator may have the same divided; but a motion to strike out and insert, or to commit with instructions, shall not be divided. (Rule 49.)

32. The rejection of a motion to strike out and insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out and insert a different proposition, nor prevent a subsequent motion simply to strike out; nor shall the rejection of a motion simply to strike out, prevent a subsequent motion to strike out and insert.

33. On filling blanks the question shall be first taken on the largest sum, the greatest number, and the most distant day.

34. When motions are made for reference of the same subject to a Select Committee and to a Standing Committee, the question of reference to a Standing Committee shall be put first.

35. When a question is before the Senate, no motion shall be received but —

1. To adjourn. (Rules 36, 37.)
2. To proceed to the consideration of Executive business.
3. To lay on the table. (Rules 37, 39.)
4. To postpone indefinitely. (Rule 39.)
5. To postpone to a certain day. (Rule 39.)
6. To commit. (Rule 39.)
7. To amend. (Rules 38, 39.)

Which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they stand arranged. (Rule 39.)

36. The motion to adjourn, or to fix a day to which the Senate shall adjourn, shall always be in order except when a vote is being taken, or while a Senator is addressing the Senate.

37. The motion to adjourn, to proceed to the consideration of Executive business, and to lay on the table, shall be decided without debate.

38. A motion to strike out the enacting clause of a bill shall have precedence of a motion to amend, and if carried shall be equivalent to its rejection.

39. When a motion shall have been once made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for any Senator who voted on the prevailing side, to move a reconsideration thereof on the same or next succeeding day of actual session; but no motion for the reconsideration of any vote shall be in order after a bill, resolution, message, report, amendment or motion upon which the vote was taken, announcing their decision, shall have gone from the possession of the Senate, and they shall not pass from the possession of the Senate until the expiration of the time in which a reconsideration is permitted; and every motion for reconsideration shall be decided by a majority of votes, except a motion to reconsider the vote on the final passage of a bill or joint resolution, which shall require the same majority as is necessary for their final passage.

Members.

40. The seats within the bar shall be reserved exclusively for the Senators, the officers of the Senate, and the reporters of the press, who may have seats assigned them.

41. No Senator shall speak in any debate without rising, nor more than three times on any subject of debate, unless he shall first obtain leave of the Senate.

42. Every Senator, in speaking, shall address the President, confine himself to the question under debate, and avoid personality.

43. Any Senator may change his vote before the decision of the question shall have been announced by the Chair.

44. No Senator shall have his vote recorded on any question, when the yeas and nays are called, unless he shall be present to answer to his name.

Messages.

45. All messages shall be sent to the House of Assembly by the Secretary, under the direction of the President, as a standing order, without a vote thereon.

46. Messages may be delivered at any stage of business except when a vote is being taken.

47. When a message shall be sent from the Governor or House of Assembly to the Senate, it shall be announced at the door by the Sergeant-at-Arms.

Senate Bills in the House.

48. When an amendment made in the Senate to a bill from the House of Assembly shall be disagreed to by that House, and not adhered to by the Senate, the bill shall be considered as standing on a third reading.

49. An amendment of the House of Assembly to a Senate bill shall not be divisible.

50. In case of disagreement between the Senate and House of Assembly, the Senate may either recede, insist and ask a conference or adhere, and motions for such purposes shall take precedence in that order.

51. When a Senate bill shall be returned, amended by the House of Assembly, the sections of the bill so amended, together with the amendments, shall be read by the Secretary for a first reading, and be entitled to a second reading, without special motion, at which reading the proposed amendments shall be open to the action of the Senate. (Rule 50.) And if, at its third reading, upon the question being put by the President, "Will the Senate concur in the House amendment to Senate bill No. —?" a majority of the whole Senate should, by a vote of yeas and nays, to concur, the question shall then be upon ordering the bill to be re-engrossed. If so ordered, the bill shall be re-engrossed, the amendments embodied therein, and the re-engrossed bill examined and reported by the Committee on Engrossed Bills, and read in open Senate, to the end that it may be known to be correctly engrossed, and shall be then signed and certified as other bills.

Disorder.

52. In case of any disturbance in the gallery or lobby, the President shall have power to order the same to be cleared.

53. The Sergeant-at-Arms shall aid in the enforcement of order, under the direction of the President.

54. No Senator, in speaking, shall mention a Senator then present by his name.

Special Orders.

55. When the hour shall have arrived for the consideration of a special order, the same shall be taken up, and the Senate shall proceed to consider it, unless it shall be postponed by the Senate.

56. The unfinished business in which the Senate shall have been engaged at the last preceding adjournment shall have the preference in the special orders of the day. (Rule 20.)

57. No concurrent resolution shall pass unless by the consent of a majority of the Senators elected.

Secret Session.

58. On a motion made and seconded to shut the doors of the Senate on the discussion of any business which may, in the opinion of a Senator, require secrecy, the President shall direct the chamber to be cleared, and during the discussion of such motion the doors shall remain shut.

Rules.

59. No standing rule or order of the Senate shall be suspended unless by the consent of two-thirds of the Senators elected, nor rescinded or amended but by the same number, and one day's notice shall be given of the motion for rescission or amendment.

Executive Session.

60. When nominations shall be made by the Governor to the Senate, they shall, unless otherwise ordered by the Senate, be referred to appropriate committees; and the final question on every nomination shall be, "Will the Senate advise and consent to this nomination?" which question shall not be put on the same day on which the nomination is received, nor on the day on which it may be reported by a committee, unless by the unanimous consent of the Senate.

61. When acting on Executive business, the Senate shall be cleared of all persons except the Senators and Secretary.

62. All information or remarks concerning the character or qualifications of any person nominated by the Governor to office shall be kept a secret.

63. The Legislative and Executive proceedings of the Senate shall be kept in separate and distinct books.

64. All nominations approved by the Senate, or otherwise definitely acted on, shall be transmitted by the Secretary to the Governor, with the determination of the Senate thereon, from day to day, as such proceedings may occur; but no further extract from the Executive journal shall be furnished, published or otherwise communicated, except by special order of the Senate.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

RULES ADOPTED THIS YEAR.

Of the Meeting of the House.

1. Any member or members less than a quorum may meet and adjourn the House from day to day, when necessary.

2. Every member shall attend in his place precisely at the hour to which the House was last adjourned; and in case of neglect, he shall be subject to a reprimand from the Chair, unless excused by the House; nor shall any member absent himself from the House for more than the space of a quarter of an hour without leave previously obtained.

3. In case a less number of members than a quorum shall be present after the arrival of the hour to which the House stood adjourned, they are hereby authorized to send their Sergeant-at-Arms, or any other person or persons by them authorized, with a warrant duly executed, for any and all absent members, as the majority of such as are present may agree, and at the expense of such absent members, respectively, unless such excuse for non-attendance shall be rendered as the House, when a quorum is convened, shall judge sufficient. Immediately after the appointment of the Standing Committees, the members shall arrange among themselves their several seats appropriated to their counties; and in case of disagreement, the same shall be decided by lot.

Of the Duties of the Speaker.

4. He shall take the chair at the hour to which the House shall have adjourned, and immediately call the members to order; and on the appearance of a quorum, shall cause the journal of the preceding day to be read, which may then be corrected by the House.

5. He shall preserve order and decorum, and in debate shall prevent personal reflections, and confine members to the question under discussion; but he shall not engage in any debate, nor propose his opinion on any question, without first calling on some member to occupy the chair. When two or more members rise at the same time, he shall name the one entitled to the floor.

6. He shall decide questions of order, subject to an appeal to the House, when demanded by any four members, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once, unless by leave of the House.

7. All questions before the House shall be stated by the Speaker, and distinctly put in the following form, to wit: "As many as are in favor of (the question) will say aye;" and after the affirmative is expressed, "Those of a contrary opinion, no." If the Speaker doubts, or a division be called for, the House shall divide; those in the affirmative of the question shall first rise from their seats, and afterwards those in the negative; and in case of an equal division, the Speaker shall decide.

8. All Committees shall be appointed by the Speaker, unless otherwise specially directed by the House.

9. All acts, addresses and joint resolutions shall be signed by the Speaker; and all writs, warrants and subpoenas issued by the order of the House shall be under his hand and seal, and attested by the Clerk. If the Speaker be absent, a less number of members than a quorum may appoint a Speaker pro tempore, who may sign any warrants, or perform any act requisite to bring in absent members.

10. He shall have a general direction of the hall, and he may name a member to perform the duties of the Chair; but such substitution shall not extend beyond a second adjournment.

Of the Order of Business.

11. After the reading of the journal, the business of the first meeting of each day shall be conducted in the following manner, to wit:

I. Letters, petitions and memorials, remonstrances and accompanying documents may be presented and disposed of.

II. Reports of Committees may be read.

III. Original resolutions may be offered and considered; items of unfinished business referred; motions to reconsider and to appoint additional members of Committees made; and leave of absence, leave to withdraw documents, and leave to introduce bills asked.

Leave for Bills and to Introduce Bills.

IV. Bills and joint resolutions on a third reading may be taken up.

V. The House shall then proceed in the order of the day, preference being always given to the unfinished business of the previous sitting; after which bills and joint resolutions on a second reading shall be taken in their order; and the House, in its afternoon session, will proceed to business as though there had been no adjournment of its morning session, excepting that original resolutions, and leave to introduce bills of Committees, be the first business in the afternoon session; and shall, on demand of the majority, proceed with the order of the day.

12. The Clerk shall make a list of all public bills and joint resolutions. He shall keep a separate calendar of private bills. No bills for granting, continuing, altering, amending, or renewing a charter for any corporation, other than a municipal corporation, shall be placed on the calendar of public bills. All bills, public and private, shall be numbered according to the time of their introduction into the House. They shall be taken up and considered in the order of time in which they were reported, or ordered to a third reading, as appears by the calendar; and the calendar shall be proceeded in until all the bills thereon are called up before the commencement of the calendar anew.

13. All messages shall be sent from this House to the Senate by the Clerk.

Of Decorum and Debate.

14. When a member is about to speak in debate, or communicate any matter to the House, he shall rise from his seat and respectfully address himself to the Speaker, confining himself to the question under debate, and avoiding personality.

15. If any member in debate transgress the rules of the House, the Speaker shall, or any member may, call him to order, in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down, unless permitted to explain. The House shall, if appealed to, decide on the case, but without debate; if there be no appeal, the decision of the Chair shall be submitted to. If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed; if otherwise, he shall not be permitted to proceed without leave of the House, and if the case require it, he shall be liable to censure of the House.

16. If a member be called to order for words spoken in debate, the person calling him to order shall repeat the words excepted to, and they shall be taken down in writing at the Clerk's table; and no member shall be held to answer, or be subject to the censure of the House, for words spoken in debate, if any other member has spoken, or other business has intervened after the words spoken, and before exception to them shall have been taken.

17. No member shall speak more than twice, or longer than five minutes each time, without leave of the House.

18. While the Speaker is putting any question, or addressing the House, none shall walk out of or across the hall; nor in such case, or when a member is speaking, shall anyone entertain private discourse; nor shall anyone, while a member is speaking, pass between him and the Chair.

19. No member shall vote on any question in the event of which he is particularly interested, nor in any case where he was not within the bar of the House when the question was put.

20. Every member who shall be in the House when the question is put shall give his vote, unless the House for special reasons shall excuse him. All motions to excuse a member from voting shall be made before the House divides, or before the call of the yeas and nays is commenced; any member requesting to be excused from voting may make a brief verbal statement of the reasons for such request, and the question shall then be taken without further debate.

21. Petitions, memorials and other papers addressed to the House shall be presented by the Speaker, or by a member in his place; a brief statement of the contents thereof shall be made by the introducer, and, if called upon, he shall declare that it does not, in his opinion, contain any indecent or reproachful language, or any expressions of disrespect to the House, or any committee of the same.

22. It shall be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms, at all times, not to allow any person to smoke in the Assembly chamber.

On Motions.

23. Every motion shall be reduced to writing, if the Speaker or any member desire it.

24. When a motion is made and seconded, it shall be stated by the Speaker, or being in writing, it shall be handed to the Chair and read aloud by the Clerk, when it shall be deemed to be in the possession of the House and open to debate; but it may be withdrawn at any time before a decision or amendment.

25. When a question is under debate no motion shall be received but—

1. To adjourn.
2. A call of the House.
3. To lay on the table.
4. For the previous question.
5. To postpone indefinitely.
6. To postpone to a day certain.
7. To go into a Committee of the Whole on the pending subject immediately.
8. To commit to a Committee of the Whole.
9. To commit to a Standing Committee.
10. To commit to a Select Committee.
11. To amend.

Which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are stated, and no motion to postpone to a day certain, to commit, or to postpone indefinitely, being decided, shall be again allowed on the same day, and at the same stage of the bill or proposition.

26. A motion to strike out the enacting clause of a bill or joint resolution shall have precedence of a motion to amend, and if carried shall be considered equivalent to its rejection.

27. A motion to adjourn shall be always in order, except when the House is voting, or while a member is addressing the House, or immediately after the question to adjourn has been negatived; that, and the motion to lay on the table, shall be decided without debate.

28. Any member may call for a division of the question, which shall be divided if it comprehends questions so distinct that one being taken away from the rest may stand entire for the decision of the House; a motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible; but a motion to strike out being lost, shall preclude neither amendment nor a motion to strike out and insert.

29. When any motion shall be made and seconded, the same shall, at the request of any two members, be entered on the Journal of the House.

30. When a motion has been once made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for any member who voted with the prevailing party to move for the reconsideration thereof, on the same day or on the next day of actual session of the House thereafter; all motions may be reconsidered, by a majority of the members present; but bills, to be reconsidered, must have the same majority that would be necessary to pass them; and such vote, on motion to reconsider, shall be by taking the yeas and nays.

31. When a blank is to be filled, the question shall first be taken on the largest sum, or greatest number, and remotest day.

32. The yeas and nays shall be entered on the Journal of the House, when moved for and seconded by five members, and in taking the yeas and nays the names of the members, including the Speaker, shall be called alphabetically.

33. The previous question shall be put in this form: "Shall the main question be now put?" It shall only be admitted when demanded by a majority of the members present, and its effect shall be, if decided affirmatively, to put an end to all debate, and bring the House to a direct vote upon amendments reported by a committee, if any, then upon pending amendments, and then upon the main question; if decided in the negative, to leave the main question and amendments if any, under debate for the residue of the sitting, unless sooner disposed of by taking the question, or in some other manner. All incidental questions of order arising after a motion is made for the previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

34. After the Clerk has commenced calling the yeas and nays on any question, no motion shall be received until a decision shall have been announced by the Chair.

Of Committees.

35. The following Standing Committees shall be appointed at the commencement of the session, until otherwise ordered:

A Committee of Ways and Means.

A Committee on Bill Revision.

A Committee on the Judiciary.

A Committee on Agriculture and Agricultural College.

A Committee on Education.

A Committee on Elections.

A Committee on Engrossed Bills.

A Committee on Municipal Corporations.

A Committee on Boroughs and Borough Commissions.

A Committee on Militia.

A Committee on Claims and Revolutionary Pensions.

A Committee on Corporations.

A Committee on Banks and Insurance.

A Committee on Unfinished Business.

A Committee on Incidental Expenses.

A Committee on Stationery.

A Committee on Riparian Rights.

A Committee on Revision of Laws.

A Committee on Fisheries.

A Committee on Railroads and Canals.

A Committee on Miscellaneous Subjects.

A Committee on Labor and Industries.

A Committee on Towns and Townships.

Which several committees shall consist of five members each.

Joint Committees.

The following Joint Committees, of five members each, shall also be appointed to act conjointly with corresponding committees to be appointed by the Senate:

A Committee on the Treasurer's Accounts.

A Committee on the State Prison.

A Committee on Public Printing.

A Committee on the Library.

A Committee on the Lunatic Asylums.

A Committee on Public Grounds and Buildings.

A Committee on Commerce and Navigation.

A Committee on Federal Relations.

A Committee on Passed Bills.

A Committee on Sinking Fund.

A Committee on Soldiers' Home.

A Committee on Reform School for Boys.

A Committee on Industrial School for Girls.

A Committee on the New Jersey School for Deaf-Mutes.

36. The several Standing Committees of the House shall have leave to report by bill or otherwise.

37. No committee shall sit during the sitting of the House, without special leave.

38. All committees appointed at the first sitting shall continue to act during every subsequent sitting of the same Legislature, or until they have reported on the business committed to them, or have been discharged.

Of the Committee of the Whole House.

39. In forming a Committee of the Whole House, the Speaker shall leave his chair, and a chairman to preside in committee shall be appointed by the Speaker.

40. The rules of proceeding in the House shall be observed, as far as practicable, in Committee of the Whole, except that any member may speak oftener than twice on the same subject, but shall not speak a second time until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken; nor shall a motion for the previous question be made therein.

41. All amendments made in Committee of the Whole shall be noted by the Clerk, but need not be read by the Speaker on his resuming the chair, unless required by the House.

On Bills and Joint Resolutions.

42. All bills and joint resolutions shall be introduced by motion for leave, or on the report of a committee, and the member offering the same shall indorse his name on them, that the committee may confer with him should they so desire.

43. Every bill and joint resolution shall receive three separate readings in the House previous to its passage, but no bill or joint resolution shall be read twice on the same day, without special order of the House.

44. All bills and joint resolutions shall, after their first reading, be printed for the use of the members, and referred to their appropriate committees.

45. All bills and joint resolutions may be made the order of a particular day, on which day they shall be taken up in preference to others on the calendar; and the calendar of private bills shall not be taken up until the calendar of public bills shall have been gone through with.

46. All bills and joint resolutions, previous to their final passage by the House, all petitions, motions and reports, may be committed at the pleasure of the House. And the commitment of any bill or resolution, when the same has been ordered to a third reading, shall have the effect of placing the same upon the second reading.

47. All bills and joint resolutions ordered to be engrossed shall be executed in a fair, round hand, and no amendment by way of rider shall be received to any bill or joint resolution on its third reading.

48. On a motion to strike out any item in the incidental bill, the question to be submitted to the House shall be, "Shall the item be retained in the bill?" and a majority of all the members of the House shall be necessary to adopt the same.

49. After the introduction of any private bill, the applicants for said bill shall, at their own expense, furnish the usual number of copies for the use of the members, unless the printing thereof be dispensed with by a special order of the House.

50. On the question of the final passage of all bills and joint resolutions, the yeas and nays shall be entered on the journal of the House.

51. Whenever a bill or resolution that has passed the House shall be carried to the Senate, all papers and documents relating thereto, on the files of the House, shall be carried with such bill or resolution to the Senate.

Of Rules.

52. No standing rule or order of the House shall be rescinded or changed without one day's notice being given of the motion therefor; nor shall any rule be suspended except by a vote of the majority of the whole number of members of the House.

53. When an Assembly bill is returned amended by the Senate, the report thereof by the Secretary of the Senate shall be taken as the first reading, and the same be entitled to a second reading, without a motion for that purpose; after its second reading, the question shall be, "Shall the Senate amendments to Assembly bill No. — have a third reading?" If ordered to a third reading, the amendments shall be read, but these readings shall be on different days; the question shall then be, "Will the House of Assembly concur in the Senate amendments to Assembly bill No. —?" upon which question the votes shall be by yeas and nays. If concurred in by a majority of the whole House, the bill shall be re-engrossed, the amendments embodied therein, and the re-engrossed bill examined and reported upon by the Committee on Engrossed Bills, and read in open Assembly, to the end that it may be known to be correctly engrossed, and then signed and certified as other bills.

54. Cushing's Manual shall in all cases, when not in conflict with the rules adopted by the House, be considered and held as standard authority.

55. No person shall be allowed on the floor of the House during its sessions except State officers and members and officers of the Senate, unless by written permission of the Speaker.

56. No committee of this House shall report a bill adversely without notifying the introducer of the bill; nor shall such adverse report be acted upon unless the introducer of the bill is in his seat.

57. After the calling of the roll has been commenced upon any question, no member shall be permitted to explain his vote.

58. Every bill amended in the House, after its report by the committee to which it was referred upon introduction, shall, when ordered to be engrossed and have a third reading, be delivered to the Committee on Bill Revision, whose duty it shall be to examine the same, and if it be found that such amendment agrees with the context the bill shall then be engrossed. If in the opinion of the committee such amendment is, as to form, improper, they shall report to the House with such recommendation as they think fit. Such report shall be made within two days from the receipt of the bill.

JOINT RULES AND ORDERS

OF THE SENATE AND GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

1. In every case of an amendment of a bill agreed to in one House and dissented from in the other, if either House shall request a conference and appoint a committee for that purpose, and the other House shall also appoint a committee to confer, such committee shall, at a convenient hour to be agreed on by their respective chairmen, meet in conference, and state to each other, verbally or in writing, as either shall choose, the reasons of their respective Houses for and against the amendment, and confer freely thereon.

2. After each House shall have adhered to their disagreement, a bill or resolution shall be lost.

3. When a bill or resolution which shall have passed in one House is rejected in the other, notice thereof shall be sent to the House in which the same shall have passed.

4. Each House in which any bill or resolution shall have passed shall transmit therewith to the other House all papers and documents relating to the same.

5. When a message shall be sent from either House to the other, it shall be announced at the door of the House by the doorkeeper, and shall be respectfully communicated to the Chair by the person by whom it is sent.

6. After a bill shall have passed both Houses, it shall be delivered by the Clerk of the Assembly, or the Secretary of the Senate, as the bill may have originated in one House or the other, to a Joint Committee on Passed Bills, of two from each House, appointed as a Standing Committee for that purpose, and shall be presented by said committee to the Governor for his approbation, it being first indorsed on the back of the bill, certifying in which House the same originated, which indorsement shall be signed by the Secretary or Clerk, as the case may be, of the House in which the same did originate, and shall be entered on the journal of each House. The said committee shall report on the day of presentation to the Governor, which time shall also be carefully entered on the journal of each House.

*After a session of 14 weeks the House took a recess on April 16th till June 1st. The Senate continued in session, as a Court of Impeachment, till April 22d, when a recess was taken till June 1st. Up to the time of taking the recess the Senate and House were in session together 14 weeks, and the Senate by itself one week. Both Houses re-assembled on June 1st, and an adjournment sine die took place at 5 o'clock P. M., on Wednesday, June 2d. The Laverty impeachment trial was opened before the Senate, sitting as a court, on March 11th, and ended on Wednesday, April 21st, at 9 o'clock P. M., when a verdict of guilty on two counts, by a two-thirds majority, was returned. The trial lasted 19 days. See Senate Journal, session of 1886, pages 905 to 959.

† The Senate did not organize till February 1st,

SPECIAL ELECTION—1890.

A special election was held Tuesday, September 30th, 1890, on proposed amendments to the State Constitution, one of which abrogated the clause which prohibits special legislation for towns and counties, and the other of which provided for the appointment of Common Pleas Judges by the Senate and General Assembly in joint meeting. Both amendments were rejected, the votes by counties being as follows:

CONSTITUTIONAL COMMISSION

OF 1873.

On April 4th, 1873, the Legislature passed a concurrent resolution empowering the Governor to appoint, by and with the advice of the Senate, a commission of two persons from each Congressional District, to suggest and propose amendments to the State Constitution for submission to and consideration by the next two Legislatures, and afterwards to be submitted to a vote of the people.

On April 24th, of the same year, Governor Parker nominated the following gentlemen, who were duly confirmed by the Senate:

First District—Benjamin F. Carter, Woodbury; Samuel H. Grey, Camden. Second District—Mercer Beasley, Trenton; John C. Ten Eyck, Mount Holly. Third District—Robert S. Green, Elizabeth; John F. Babcock, New Brunswick. Fourth District—Martin Ryerson and Jacob L. Swayze, both of Newton. Fifth District—Augustus W. Cutler, Morristown; Benjamin Buckley, Paterson. Sixth District—Theodore Runyon and John W. Taylor, both of Newark. Seventh District—Abraham O. Zabriskie and Robert Gilchrist, both of Jersey City.

Shortly afterwards Chief Justice Mercer Beasley declined to serve, and Philemon Dickinson, of Trenton, was appointed in his stead. Martin Ryerson resigned and Joseph Thompson, of Somerset, was appointed to fill the vacancy. Chancellor Theodore Runyon also declined and George J. Ferry, of Orange, was appointed in his stead. Ex-Chancellor Zabriskie was unanimously elected president of the Commission, and upon his decease, which occurred in a short time afterwards, Dudley S. Gregory, of Jersey City, was appointed to fill the vacancy in the Seventh District. John C. Ten Eyck was elected president, vice Zabriskie, deceased. The secretaries were Joseph L. Naar and Edward J. Anderson, both of Trenton. Subsequently Robert Gilchrist resigned and William Brinkerhoff, of Jersey City, was appointed in his place. John W. Taylor also resigned and Algernon S. Hubbell, of Newark, was appointed in his place.

The first session of the Commission was held on May 8th, 1873, and the last on December 23d, of the same year. The amendments submitted were partially adopted by the two succeeding Legislatures, and were ratified by a vote of the people at a special election held on September 7th, 1875.

STATE INSTITUTIONS.

THE STATE CAPITOL.

This edifice, a massive structure, erected at sundry times and various periods, is located on West State street, at the corner of Delaware street, running thence westerly along State street to the grounds of the late ex-Chancellor Green, and southerly to the Water Power. The location is a good one, and although the style of the building is not modern, yet it answers the purposes for which it was intended, even if it does not present a very imposing appearance.

The seat of Government was fixed at Trenton by an act of the Legislature, approved November 25th, 1790. James Cooper, Thomas Lowery, James Ewing, Maskell Ewing, George Anderson, James Mott and Moore Furman were appointed commissioners to select, purchase or accept so much land as was needed, and to erect thereon suitable buildings for the use of the Legislature. They purchased the present site, containing about three and three-quarters acres—a frontage on Second street (now West State street) of 247 feet and 6 inches, and a depth from the front to low water line of the Delaware river of 666 feet—at a cost of £250 5s. The old State House was a plain, bare-looking, rough-cast building, and was erected at a cost of £3,992 3s. $\frac{1}{2}$ d. By an act of March 4th, 1795, a building was erected to serve as an office for the Secretary of State, and for the preservation of the public records, at a cost of £620 19s. 10d. Numerous improvements and repairs were made, and on March 3d, 1806, an act was passed appointing commissioners to make certain repairs to the State House, to provide and hang a suitable bell, &c. This was done, and the bell was used for informing the members of both houses, as well as the courts, of the hour of meeting. The bell was eventually discarded, and an American flag substituted, which waves from the building unto this day, when the Legislature is in session, and upon holidays and State occasions. In 1848, the State House was altered by the removal of the rough-casting, and changing the front to the style of the Mercer County Court House, placing neat porticoes over the front and rear entrances, and erecting two additional buildings adjoining the main one, as offices for the Clerks of the Chancery and Supreme Courts. The rotunda was also erected, and the grounds fenced, graded, laid out and shade trees planted, all at a cost of \$27,000. The commissioners under whose directions the work was completed, were Samuel R. Gummere, Samuel R. Hamilton and Stacy A. Paxson. In 1863, '64 and '65, appropriations were made and expended in building additions for the State Library, Executive Chambers, &c. In 1871, Charles S. Olden, Thomas J. Stryker and Lewis Perrine were appointed commissioners to cause a suitable addition to be built—more commodious apartments for the Senate and Assembly, &c. The sum of \$50,000 was appropriated, and the buildings for the Legislature were ready for occupancy in time for the meeting of the Legislature of 1872. In 1872, \$120,000 was appropriated for completing the building, \$3,000 for fitting up the Executive Chamber, \$4,000 for fitting up the Chancery and Supreme Court rooms, and \$2,000 for fitting up the offices on the first floor of the east wing. In 1873, the sum of \$43,000 was appropriated for the improvement of the front of the building, completing unfinished repairs and improvements, and for fitting up the Library, &c. On March 18th, 1875, the sum of \$15,000 was appropriated for the purpose of putting a new three-story front to the building, and to fit up offices on the second floor for the Clerks of the Court of Chancery and Supreme Court, and for providing a suitable museum for geological specimens, and the battle-flags of New Jersey volunteer regiments, carried during the war of the Rebellion.

On March 21st, 1885, the front portion was destroyed by fire, and the Legislature appropriated $50,000 for rebuilding, and, in 1886, an additional appropriation of $225,000 was granted.

The new building was finished in 1889. It is of rectangular shape and of the Renaissance style of architecture, with a frontage of one hundred and sixty feet on State street, a depth of sixty-seven feet, and three and a half stories high, with a rotunda thirty-nine feet across, which connects the new section of the Capitol with the original part. The rotunda is surmounted by a dome one hundred and forty-five feet high.

The building has about sixty feet more frontage than the former one, and approaches about ten feet nearer the street.

The walls are constructed of solid, fire-proof, brick masonry, faced with a light-colored stone from Indiana, known as Salem Oolitic, with foundations and trimmings of New Jersey freestone, from the Prallsville quarries, in Hunterdon county. The portico, door-head and trimmings about the door are of the same material. The portico, with balcony, is supported by massive pillars of polished granite and surmounted by the coat of arms of the State.

The apartments used for offices are very spacious, fitted throughout in the most approved modern style, and each department is supplied with one or more of the finest fire-proof vaults. The first and second stories are set aside for offices, and the entire third story is used for the State Library.

The old State Library apartments have been improved and extended, and are now used as offices for the Attorney-General, State Superintendent of Public Instruction and Commissioner of Banking and Insurance. A new story was added, which is used for the Geological Museum and State offices.

In 1891, a new Assembly Chamber was erected. The old one was too small and poorly ventilated, and besides, there was a lack of suitable committee rooms. The Legislature of 1891 passed a Joint Resolution, which was approved on March 20th, authorizing the Governor "to provide a suitable chamber and committee rooms for the use of the General Assembly of this State," &c., and also, "to make such additions and alterations as will afford the necessary accommodations for the Supreme Court and Court of Errors and Appeals, or for other State offices, and sufficient money is hereby appropriated for that purpose, to be paid by the Treasurer of this State on the warrant of the Comptroller, after approval by the Governor."

The new chamber was built by James W. Lanning, of Trenton, from plans prepared by James Moylan, of Jersey City, and under the superintendency of Bernard J. Ford, of Newark. It covers the site of the former chamber, and extends beyond it to Delaware street on the east and to the water power on the south. It has a frontage on Delaware street of 120 feet and a depth of 75 feet. The exterior finish and design of the building are similar to the adjoining portion of the Capitol. The foundation is of brown stone, from the Stockton quarries, and the trimmings of light Indiana stone. The interior is finished in Trenton tile, quartered oak and Italian statuary marble. It is a fire-proof building throughout, and is specially ventilated. The committee rooms are ample and convenient, and the interior design, arrangement and finish make it a model legislative chamber. It cost the State $140,500. The cost of the steam heating and ventilating systems was about $25,000.

The other new addition to the Capitol provides a consultation room for the Judges of the Supreme Court and the Court of Errors and Appeals and a private room for the Governor, a room for the Museum of the Geological Survey, and other offices, and cost $34,500.

An electric light apparatus was also placed in the Capitol, which cost $23,000. Every department in the building is now lighted by electricity.

A new Otis elevator has been placed in the front part of the building, which gives easy access to all the upper floors.

THE STATE LIBRARY.

This valuable collection of books is located on the third floor of the State Capitol. The old saying, "Great oaks from little acorns grow," most appropriately applies to this institution.

The first library of the State was a case ordered to be procured by Maskell Ewing, Clerk of the House of Assembly, for the keeping and preservation of such books as belonged to the Legislature. It was ordered by a resolution passed March 18th, 1796. This was the nucleus of the present extensive library. On February 18th, 1804, William Coxe, of Burlington; Ezra Darby, of Essex, and John A. Scudder, of Monmouth, were appointed a Committee on Rules, and to make a catalogue; they reported that there were 168 volumes belonging to the State, and presented a code of seven rules, which was adopted. On February 10th, 1813, an act (the first one) was passed, entitled "An act concerning the State Library." Up to 1822 it appears that the Clerk of the House had charge of the books, as Librarian, and, on November 16th, 1822, an act was passed for the appointment of a State Librarian, annually, by joint meeting. In 1846, on April 10th, an act was passed making the term of office three years. The Law Library at that time belonged to the members of the Law Library Association. The only persons allowed the use of the Library were members of the Association, the Chancellor, and the judges of the several courts. Stacy G. Potts was Treasurer and Librarian of the Association. The Law Library was kept in the Supreme Court room until 1837, when the Legis'lature authorized the State Librarian to fit up a room adjoining the Library for the care and reception of the books and papers belonging to the State Library. Thus the two Libraries were consolidated. On March 13th, 1872, $5,000 per year for three years was appropriated for the Library by the Legislature, and by the act of March 15th, 1876, the sum of $2,500 was appropriated for finishing and refurnishing the Library room. In 1890, the Library was removed to the third story of the new part of the Capitol.

THE STATE ARSENAL.

The building now used as the State Arsenal was formerly the old State Prison. It is situate on Second street, in the Sixth Ward of the city of Trenton, and has on its front the following inscription:

LABOR, SILENCE, PENITENCE.

THE PENITENTIARY HOUSE,

ERECTED BY LEGISLATIVE AUTHORITY.

RICHARD HOWELL, GOVERNOR.

IN THE XXII. YEAR OF AMERICAN INDEPENDENCE,

MDCCXCVII.

THAT THOSE WHO ARE FEARED FOR THEIR CRIMES,

MAY LEARN TO FEAR THE LAWS AND BE USEFUL.

HIC LABOR, HOC OPUS.

In the messages of Governors P. D. Vroom and S. L. Southard, recommending the erection of the new prison, it was proposed that the old one be converted into an Arsenal for the safe keeping of the arms and military property of the State, which, previous to that time, had been kept in the old State Bank, corner of Warren and Bank streets, with accoutrements and camp and garrison equipage at the State House. After the removal of the State convicts from the old prison, permission was given to the county of Mercer to occupy it as a jail until their jail, then in course of completion, was finished, and when it was again vacated it was converted into an arsenal.

Among the stores, &c., at the Arsenal are one bronze gun, French, of the date of 1758; two bronze guns, English, four-pounders, and two iron six-pounders. There is also one gun captured at the battle of Trenton, December 26th, 1776, and two guns captured at Yorktown, October 19th, 1781. There are also a large quantity of fire-arms, ammunition, ordnance, tents, clothing, blankets, &c.

STATE LUNATIC ASYLUM,

NEAR TRENTON.

This institution is located in Ewing township, in Mercer county, two and half miles northwest of the city of Trenton, on the Belvidere Delaware Railroad, and near the Delaware river. A very fine view is had from the Asylum. The building is built of reddish sand-stone (from the Ewing quarries on the premises), laid in rubble and broken range work, and pointed, with hammer-dressed stone for base. The roof is covered with slate, except the dome, which is covered with tin.

In 1844, after many futile attempts to cause action to be taken for the building of a State Asylum for the Insane, commissioners were appointed to select a site, and an appropriation of $35,000 was made to pay for the land and commence the erection of a building. The commissioners selected the present site. During the year 1845, commissioners were appointed to contract for and superintend the erection of the Asylum, which was done by William Phillips and Joseph Whittaker, of Trenton—the builders of the State House. It was opened for the reception of patients May 15th, 1848. Numerous additions were made to the building from time to time, and under the direction of the present Superintendent, Dr. J. W. Ward, a fine green-house has been added, and he has introduced many new plans and devices for the comfort and amusement of the patients. Handsome pictures have been hung up in the wards and dormitories of the patients; flowers and hot-house plants are a source of much pleasure to the unfortunates, who regard them with rare appreciation; and during the fall and winter months there have been regular weekly entertainments, consisting of tableaux, concerts, dancing, the performance of minor theatricals, and stereopticon exhibitions. The effect of these, besides breaking up the monotony of long evenings, seems to call the minds of the patients from their troubles, and not unfrequently tends towards the restoration of their mental health.

An addition was made to the building in 1889.

STATE LUNATIC ASYLUM.

MORRIS PLAINS.

Owing to the crowded condition of the Trenton Asylum, commissioners were appointed to select a site and build an additional asylum in the northerly portion of the State. They purchased 430 acres, at a cost of $82,672.11, in Hanover township, Morris county, and plans were drawn by Samuel Sloan, architect, of Philadelphia. The building was erected and occupied by August 17th, 1876. It is 1,243 feet in length, and is 542 feet deep from the front of the main center to the rear of the extreme wing, and will accommodate 800 patients. The total cost was $2,250,000.

STATE NORMAL AND MODEL SCHOOLS.

These schools are located in the city of Trenton, on a piece of ground belonging to the State, at the junction of Clinton avenue and Perry street. There are two buildings—one called the Normal and the other the Model Hall.

As early as the year 1839, the Trustees of the School Fund, in their annual report, advised the erection of schools for the education of teachers. The appeal was unheeded. Normal schools, so far as this country was concerned, might then have been considered an untried experiment. There was but one in the United States, and that had just gone into operation in Massachusetts.

For upwards of fifteen years, New Jersey continued to forego the means for the education of teachers; but the Legislature of 1855, with an enlightened liberality, passed a law for the establishment of a State Normal School. The object was declared to be, the training and education of teachers in such branches of knowledge, and such methods of instruction, as should qualify them to become teachers of our common schools.

The location of the school and its general management were committed to a board of ten trustees, two from each Congressional District in the State, to be appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate.

The lot was purchased of William P. Sherman, Esq., at a cost of $3,000. The architect was Chauncey Graham. The corner-stone was laid by Governor Price, October 9th, 1855. The school was opened in a temporary building, October 1st, 1855, under the direction of the chosen Principal, Prof. William F. Phelps, there being fifteen candidates for entrance examination—five gentlemen and ten ladies. The school continued under the management of Prof. Phelps till March 15th, 1865, when Prof. John S. Hart, Principal of the Model School, took charge of the two schools. The latter resigning February 7th, 1871, Lewis M. Johnson, of Newark, was elected Principal, and was succeeded by Washington Hasbrouck, July 1st, 1876. James M. Green succeeded Mr. Hasbrouck in 1889. The property of these schools is valued at $250,000. In 1890 and '91, an addition was made to the buildings at a cost of $48,000.

An auxiliary to the Normal School is the Farnum Preparatory School, at Beverly, Burlington county, founded by Paul Farnum, in 1856, who gave $70,000 in money and property for its support.

STATE REFORM SCHOOL FOR BOYS.

This institution is situate at Jamesburg, Middlesex county, and was authorized by an act of the Legislature, passed April 6th, 1865. Juvenile criminals between the ages of eight and sixteen years are here cared for, and every influence tending to their reformation is brought to bear upon them. Numerous additions have been made to the original building, to which is attached a farm of 490 acres. The first pupils were received July 6th, 1867.

STATE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.

This institution is located on the line of the Trenton Branch of the Delaware and Bound Brook Railroad, in Ewing township, near the Trenton Lunatic Asylum, and is located on a farm of about 79 acres of land. A substantial building was erected, at a cost of $23,334, and other improvements made, which bring the value of the place, with furniture, &c., up to $37,740. Previous to the erection of the new building, the school was at "Pine Grove," in the Sixth Ward of the city of Trenton. This place had been leased so as to afford room for persons sentenced under the act of April 4th, 1871.

THE STATE PRISON.

The New Jersey State Prison, situated on the block enclosed by Federal, Third, Cass and Second streets, in the city of Trenton, is one of the finest institutions of its kind in the country. Its erection was authorized by an act of the Legislature passed February 13th, 1832, and it was completed in the year 1836, having 150 cells, at a cost of $179,657.11. It was built of red sand-stone, from the Ewing quarries, and the style of its architecture is Egyptian, having four Egyptian columns in front of the main entrance, on Third street. It consists of a main building, used as a residence for the Keeper and as reception rooms and offices. From time to time the prison has been enlarged, and although there is not sufficient room to afford separate confinement for each prisoner, as required by law, the provisions of the act are carried out as far as possible. The rules and regulations now in force have brought the internal affairs of the institution, as to cleanliness, discipline, victualing, &c., to a much higher standard than was ever before reached, and a visit thereto will convince the visitor that the management is as perfect as can be.

On March 4th, 1847, $5,000 was appropriated to build an additional wing to the original building. On March 25th, 1852, $15,000 was granted for the erection of a new wing for hospital purposes. On March 22d, 1860, the sum of $17,000 was voted for the purpose of building an additional wing for cells, and on February 16th, 1861, a further sum of $2,243.01 was appropriated to complete the same. On April 16th, 1868, $6,000 was appropriated for the building of an additional wing to provide room for female convicts. An act passed April 2d, 1869, provided for the appointment of commissioners to extend the grounds of the prison to the wall of the State Arsenal, to build an additional wing and work shops, and made an appropriation of $50,000 for that purpose, and in the same month $9,734 was appropriated for the purpose of completing the wing of the female department. On April 4th, 1871, the sum of $75,000 was appropriated for the purpose of completing the new or east wing, and on April 4th, 1872, a further sum of $28,700 was appropriated for the completion of the same. March 3d, 1874, $12,000 was voted for the construction of gas works for the supply of illuminating gas for the prison. On March 8th, 1877, the sum of $100,000 was appropriated for the enlargement of the prison and the purchase of a burial ground for deceased convicts. The north wing was remodeled out of this last appropriation, and a burial ground purchased.

Previous to the year 1798 there was no State Prison, and prisoners were confined in the county jails. On March 1st, 1797, Jonathan Doane was appointed by an act of the Legislature as an agent to purchase a lot of land from Peter Hunt, situate at Lamberton, containing six and a half acres, and to erect suitable buildings thereon. This was done at an expense of £9,852 0s. 3d., and what is now the State Arsenal, at Second and Cass streets, is the result. Solitary confinement was not practiced previous to 1836, in which year the old prison was vacated and the present one occupied.

SOLDIERS' HOME.

This institution is located in Kearny township, Hudson county, to which place it was removed from Newark in 1888. It was organized under a joint resolution of the Legislature approved April 12th, 1862. The Home in Newark was opened July 4th, 1866. The Legislatures of 1886 and 1887 appropriated $175,000 for the erection of a new Home, under the direction of Commissioners appointed by the Legislature. The present site, consisting of 17½ acres, was selected, and six new and commodious buildings were erected thereon. The Home has a frontage of 600 feet on the Passaic river, and contains over three hundred inmates.

NEW JERSEY SCHOOL FOR DEAF-MUTES.

The New Jersey School for Deaf-Mutes occupies the building and grounds formerly belonging to the Soldiers' Children's Home, at the corner of Hamilton and Chestnut avenues, Chambersburg, about a mile and a quarter from the State Capitol. By an act of the Legislature, approved March 31st, 1882, this property was set apart for its present use, and a Board of Trustees, consisting of the Governor, the State Comptroller, the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and eight other gentlemen, was appointed.

Under the provisions of this act and of another act, approved March 5th, 1883, the Board have made such repairs, alterations and additions to the buildings as were necessary for adapting them to the purposes of the new institution, have furnished them suitably and placed the grounds in thorough order.

The school opened in the fall of 1883, and shortly afterwards contained about 90 pupils, though it is expected that the attendance will ultimately reach 150, which is about the number of such pupils whom the State has hitherto been supporting in schools outside her own limits, and which is the limit of the capacity of the present accommodations. Pupils are received between the ages of five and twenty-one, and the length of the term allowed is five years.

The object of the institution is to give to the afflicted children, who are here received, a knowledge of the English language in its written, and, in the case of some pupils, in its spoken form—a knowledge which, but for such institutions, they would never acquire, and to instruct them in the rudiments of an English education. They are also trained to acquire such a degree of general intelligence and of manual dexterity that they may become self-supporting men and women. Their training also enables moral forces to be brought to bear upon them with the effect of raising them from a condition of moral irresponsibility to the level of respectable citizens.

THE STATE INSTITUTION FOR FEEBLE-MINDED WOMEN, VINELAND

This institution was established under an act of March 27th, 1888, with Rev. S. O. Garrison as superintendent. On November 15th, of the same year, he was succeeded by Mary J. Dunlap, M.D. It is one of the most admirably situated public buildings in the State. Lying nearly opposite the Home for Feeble-Minded Children, and facing Landis avenue, Vineland's main street of several miles in length, it enjoys facilities of the city yet surrounded by acres of fruit, vineyards and orchards. The main building is well arranged, and a large annex was erected in the winter of 1891-'92. It is a home for females of twelve years of age and upwards. It is a fact that this branch of State work is one of New Jersey's greatest monuments. Though late in being recognized, it will grow more and more in interest as its existence is better known and a knowledge and inspection of its work made and rightly understood.

NEW JERSEY TRAINING SCHOOL FOR FEEBLE-MINDED CHILDREN, VINELAND.

This institution is an outgrowth of a private one which Rev. S. Olin Garrison established in Millville, Cumberland county, on September 1st, 1887. It was opened at Vineland on March 1st, 1888 with an enrollment of ten inmates. Adjacent properties were soon acquired and a handsome building, costing about $18,000, was erected in 1890-'91. There are eight cottages located on a farm of one hundred acres. The wards of New Jersey are now sent there.

The plan and scope of training and education by the School, requires eight teachers in English, Kindergarten and Manual Trades departments, thereby indicating the special and comprehensive fields of instruction. There is also a custodial department for the idiotic, and a hospital department for epileptics.

The property is worth between $50,000 and $60,000, with only a debt of $8,000. Besides very good property acquisitions at low cost, at least $30,000 have been donated to the school since its organization, to aid in the current expenses, in improvements and new buildings.

One hundred and forty children over the age of five years, residents chiefly of New Jersey, of which a few are private patients, enjoyed the facilities of the school in 1891.

THE EXECUTIVE.

PREROGATIVES AND DUTIES OF THE GOVERNOR.

The Governor is Commander-in-Chief of all the military and naval forces of the State; is President (ex-officio) of the Board of Trustees of Princeton and Rutgers Colleges, and, also, of Burlington College, and of the Board of Managers of the Geological Survey. He is Chairman of the State Board of Canvassers, and has power to fill any vacancy for New Jersey that may occur in the United States Senate, during a recess of the Legislature.

He is a member of the following Boards: Trustees of School Fund; State Board of Education; Court of Pardons; Commissioners of Agricultural College Fund; Premium Committee of the New Jersey State Agricultural Society; Board of Control of State Industrial School for Girls and State Reform School for Boys; Commissioners of the State Library; and composing, with the State Comptroller and Secretary of State, a Board to choose newspapers in which to publish the laws of the State.

With the advice and consent of the Senate, he has the power of appointing the following officers: Chancellor, Chief Justice; Judges of the Supreme Court, Inferior Courts and Lay Judges of the Court of Errors and Appeals; Attorney-General, Secretary of State, Clerk of the Court of Chancery, Clerk of the Supreme Court, Keeper of the State Prison, Prosecutors of the Pleas, Visitors to the State Board of Agriculture, State Board of Assessors, State Board of Education, Chief of Bureau of Labor Statistics, Major-General, Quartermaster-General, Adjutant-General, Inspector of Factories and Workshops, Supervisor of the State Prison, five Inspectors of the State Prison, Commissioners of Pilotage, the Board of Managers of the Insane Asylums the Trustees of the Jamesburg Reform School and the State Industrial School for Girls, Judges of the District Courts, Riparian Commissioners, Police Justices for Newark and Jersey City, Commissioners of Fisheries, a Superintendent of the State House, Port Wardens and Harbor Masters.

Without the consent of the Senate: Foreign Commissioners of Deeds; New Jersey State Pharmaceutical Association, and State Board of Health, Private Secretary, Notaries Public, Moral Instructors of the State Prison, Railroad Policemen, and fill all vacancies that occur in any office during a recess of the Legislature, which offices are to be filled by the Governor and Senate, or Legislature in Joint Meeting; also, vacancies happening in the offices of Clerk or Surrogate in any county; issues warrants for the admission of blind and feeble-minded children into institutions; grants requisitions and renditions, and has power to offer rewards for apprehending and securing persons charged with certain crimes; signs or vetoes all bills and joint resolutions passed by the Legislature; has power to convene the Legislature, or Senate alone, if, in his opinion, public necessity requires it; grants, under the Great Seal of the State, commissions to all such officers as require to be commissioned; has right to borrow money for the State; sign all leases or grants issued by the Riparian Commissioners; he has power to reprieve in cases of capital punishment, and to suspend fines at any time not exceeding ninety days after conviction, and in case of pardon or commutation of sentence, the Governor's vote in the affirmative is necessary.

Besides all these duties, the Governor finds it necessary to read and answer a large mass of correspondence, which comes to the department daily. All bills and joint resolutions passed by the Legislature are compared, and then indexed in the Executive Department, before presentation to the Governor.

He receives a salary of $10,000 a year, and is not allowed any fees or perquisites whatever.

His term of office is three years.

OFFICES FILLED BY THE LEGISLATURE IN JOINT MEETING.

PARTY PLATFORMS.

DEMOCRATIC.

(Adopted at the State Convention held at Trenton, on Tuesday, September 14th, 1892.)

The Democratic party of New Jersey, in convention assembled, declare:

That they re-affirm the National Democratic Platform adopted at Chicago, and enthusiastically endorse the nomination of Grover Cleveland and Adlai E. Stevenson for President and Vice-President of the United States.

That they endorse the administration of Governor Leon Abbett.

As an answer to the slanders of those who have persistently misrepresented the existing management of State affairs, we call the attention of the people to the following facts:

That the only permanent State officers to which any salary or compensation is allowed, created by the Democratic party during the past three years, are as follows: A Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, a Chief of State Police, a State Board of Taxation, a State Board for the Arbitration of Differences between Employers and Employés, a Board of Commissioners of Electric Subways, a Commissioner of Mines, a resident physician at the State Prison, and a Superintendent of the School Census.

The acts creating the office of the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, and Commissioners of Electric Subways, provide that the expenses of these departments shall be paid, respectively, by the insurance and telegraph companies doing business in this State. The total of all salaries to be paid by the State to permanent officers created by Democratic Legislatures during the present administration is less than $15,000.

The pledge made in our State Platform of 1889, that there should not be any general State tax imposed upon the people, has been faithfully kept, and we renew the promise then made that there shall not be any general State tax imposed while the affairs of the State are intrusted to the Democratic party. On January 1, 1889, the floating debt of the State amounted to $400,000.

Every dollar of this has been paid, and over a quarter of a million dollars expended for the improvement of public buildings and the purchase of a camp ground at Sea Girt. That these expenses have been met without the imposition of a single dollar of direct State tax upon the property of private owners, and without an increase in the rate imposed upon the property of corporations, supports the claim that the State Government of New Jersey is the most economical in the Union.

That in pursuance of its pledge made in its platform of 1889, to legislate in the interest of labor, the Democratic party has, during the present administration, through its legislative representatives, enacted the following measures, all of which received the approval of a Democratic Governor, to wit:—Acts which secure, beyond the reach of fraud, the payment of wages to mechanics and others engaged in the erection of buildings; an act providing for sixty free scholarships in the State Agricultural College; acts to authorize the establishment of free public libraries and reading rooms in cities and towns; an act giving a lien for wages due and labor performed and materials furnished in finishing silk and goods of which silk is a component part; an act for the improvement of the State Agricultural Experiment Station; an act making Saturday a half holiday; an act extending the provisions of the mechanics' lien law to money due for labor or materials furnished in the erection of public buildings; an act prohibiting corporations from forcing their employes to contribute to relief funds; an act creating a State Board of Arbitration for the amicable adjustment of grievances and disputes that may arise between employers and employes; acts providing for absolute secrecy in the exercise of the elective franchise; an act providing for a commissioner of mines to inspect all mines in this State and to secure proper safe-guards for the protection of the lives of men employed therein; an act making wages due workmen and laborers a first lien upon the assets of insolvent corporations; an act providing for the incorporation of trades unions and labor organizations, and other acts.

In dealing with the municipal government of the State, the Democratic party has adopted the plan of vesting in the Mayors of large cities the power of appointment of municipal boards and officers, and we submit to the people of the State that this plan of municipal government is entitled to a thorough test in lights other than those afforded by mere political partisanship. Under this system there is a concentration of personal and political responsibility in a single office, the occupant of which is chosen by the votes of the entire city. The plan is in no wise antagonistic to local self-government, but, on the contrary, affords an incentive to citizens to participate in municipal elections. Under it the grievous evil of sectional strife for municipal patronage can be avoided and economy enforced. While the plan is necessarily imperfect, it is subject to amendment and should be given a fair trial and receive impartial judgment before a return is made to a system under which responsibility is distributed and elusive. We denounce all frauds perpetrated upon the elective franchise, and we call the attention of the people to the fact that prosecution and punishment of those crimes have been the work of a Democratic court and prosecutor and Democratic jurors. We ask from fair-minded citizens a comparison of this fact with the action of a Republican Senate, which voted to seat, as Senator from Hudson, a man whom every one knew was not entitled to the office. The action of that Senate was protected by constitutional privilege; but it was none the less a crime.

The necessity for a diversion of the proceeds from the sale of riparian lands from the school fund to funds necessary to pay the expense of rebuilding the State House and other extraordinary expenses having ceased, we favor a repeal of the act allowing such diversion.

REPUBLICAN.

(Adopted at the State Convention held at Trenton, September 13th, 1892.)

The Republicans of New Jersey, through their representatives assembled in convention, re-affirm their adherence and undying devotion to the great principles of the Republican party, to which the nation owes long years of unexampled prosperity in the past, and through which we look for its future greatness and honor.

We approve and endorse the declaration of principles as set forth in the platform adopted by the Republican National Convention at Minneapolis, June 9th, 1892.

We re-affirm our belief in the doctrine of a tariff for the protection of American industry, supplemented by reciprocity, inaugurated by the present administration under the McKinley tariff act, and we are opposed to the pernicious doctrine of free trade, whether presented in its own true name or disguised as tariff reform.

We repudiate the Democratic doctrine as enunciated in the platform of that party, that "the Federal Government has no constitutional power to impose and collect tariff duties except for the purpose of revenue only," and as evidences of wise Republican legislation on this subject, we call attention to the general prosperity of the country, the decreased prices of manufactured goods, the increased value of agricultural products, and the increased earnings of wage workers, as shown by statistics collected and published by Democratic officials, while, at the same time, our commerce, instead of diminishing, as was predicted, has been greater than ever before.

We re-affirm our endorsement of the wise and able administration of President Harrison, whose broad statesmanship in the treatment of every public question, whose apt and patriotic utterances on all occasions, and whose unerring accuracy of judgment and action in every emergency have earned for him the title of the man who never makes a mistake. The glorious past is an earnest of a still more glorious future, and we want no change in national affairs.

We denounce as utterly vicious and contrary to public policy, the passage by the last Democratic Legislature, under the direction of a Democratic Executive, with the coöperation of members of the Democratic State Executive Committee, of a bill to legalize an unconstitutional and pernicious combination of corporations engaged in the production and carrying of coal, as the result of which the prices of this necessary commodity have been increased, and the burdens of consumers have been vastly augmented. We remind the people that this legislation affects not only men of wealth and the great industries of the State, but increases the cost of living to that more numerous class who are compelled to meet the increased burden out of the proceeds of their daily toil.

Resolved, That labor and capital should be allies, not enemies. We favor arbitration and profit sharing as remedies for idleness, want and suffering, and tending to secure peace, plenty and prosperity to our people. We favor reduction in the hours of labor. We favor tenement house and factory inspection in the interest of health and morals.

We favor the passage of an act restoring the proceeds of the sale of riparian lands to the School Fund of the State.

We are opposed to an administration of the State Government for personal uses; to the subserviency of the Legislature and the courts to Executive dictation; to the abolition by the Legislature, under executive orders, of local home government; to the multiplication of public offices and the increase of salaries, for the furtherance of personal and political ends; to the appointment of public officers for a stated consideration to be paid to the party campaign fund; to the indiscriminate and wholesale pardon of convicts in the State Prison; to the unheard-of extravagance of the present State administration in the expenditure of public money; to clothing the Governor with dictatorial powers by acts of a Legislature obsequiously subject to executive control; to the creation of unnecessary boards and commissions for partisan purposes, investing them with arbitrary powers and placing them beyond the control of the people by making their term of office subject to the will of the Governor; to evasions and misconstructions of the constitution by the chief executive to secure political and personal support; to the countenance and support by State officers and party leaders of race-track gambling, with all its attendant evils; to the destruction of the right of suffrage by false registry, ballot-box stuffing and fraudulent count of votes; and to the general maladministration of public affairs which, in these and other matters during the current administration, have brought shame and disgrace upon the State.

We pledge ourselves to the thorough reform of these evils, and we appeal to all patriotic voters in the State to aid us in the re-establishment of a government of which Jersey men need not be ashamed.

Resolved, That we are in favor of the principle of home rule by all peoples everywhere; and especially do we favor the extension of this principle to the local governments in New Jersey.

Resolved, That we indorse the principles set forth in the communication from the colored voters of New Jersey, in convention assembled, in Trenton, on September 12th, 1892, and that Charles N. Robinson, of Camden, be added to the Republican State Committee, as desired by said convention.

BIOGRAPHIES.

GOVERNOR OF NEW JERSEY.

GEORGE T. WERTS.

Governor Werts was born at Hackettstown, Warren county, N. J., March 24th, 1846. He lived there until his parents moved to Bordentown, in 1849. His father was Peter Werts, who died about seven years ago, and his mother was sister of the late Attorney-General Jacob Vanatta. The Governor attended the Bordentown High School and the State Model School at Trenton, and at the age of seventeen went to Morristown to study law with Mr. Vanatta. He was admitted to the bar at the November term, 1867, and began the practice of law in Morristown. He was Recorder of that town from May, 1883, to May, 1885, and was Mayor from 1886 until his resignation in February, 1892. He was Senator from Morris county from 1886, and until he resigned in February, 1892, to accept the office of Justice of the Supreme Court, to which he was appointed by Governor Abbett, and his nomination was at once confirmed by a unanimous vote of the Senate. He took the place of the late Justice Knapp, of the Hudson county circuit.

During the legislative session of 1889, Governor Werts served as President of the Senate, when he discharged the duties of that office with marked ability and impartiality. While a member of the Senate, he drafted the Liquor and the Ballot Reform laws. He always took a prominent part in legislation, and during several sessions he was the leader of his party on the floor of the Senate.

He was elected Governor in 1892 by a plurality of 7,625 votes over John Kean, Jr. He occupied his seat on the bench during the whole of the campaign, and personally took no part in it beyond writing his letter of acceptance of the nomination, which had been unanimously tendered to him by the Democratic State Convention.

Werts, Dem., 167,257; Kean, Jr., Rep., 159,632; Kennedy, Pro., 7,750; Keim, Socialist-Labor, 1,338; Bird, People's, 894; Werts' plurality, 7,625.

UNITED STATES SENATORS.

JOHN RHODERIC MCPHERSON.

Senator McPherson was born at York, Livingston county, New York, on the ninth of May, 1833. He received a common-school and academic education. Leaving the academy when eighteen years old, he engaged in farming and stock raising, in which, by dint of hard work, he was moderately successful, until he became a resident of Jersey City, in 1858. Here he entered largely into the live stock trade, and very soon became one of the most prominent dealers. He invented, perfected and put into practice new and hitherto unknown devices and principles in the treatment of animal matter. He designed and put in operation in this country the great abattoir system in use in France, improving that system in many material ways. Senator McPherson was a member of the Board of Aldermen of Jersey City from 1864 to 1870, and for more than three years of that time he was President of the Board. He established in that city the People's Gas Light Company, and was elected its President. He was also President of several savings banks. In 1871 he was elected to the New Jersey Senate by an unusually large majority, and served for three years with great credit to his county and State. In 1876 he was a Presidential elector, when the State went for Tilden by a very large majority. In 1877 he was elected a United States Senator to succeed Hon. F. T. Frelinghuysen.

While a member of the State Senate, Mr. McPherson was noted for his readiness in debate, and his cogency and terseness of style. His record in the United States Senate on the leading questions of finance and the tariff is in perfect accord with the great majority of the people of his State—Republicans as well as Democrats.

He was elected to a second term as United States Senator by the Legislature of 1883, and to a third term by the Legislature of 1889. In 1884 he was a delegate to the National Democratic Convention, at Chicago, and supported Thomas F. Bayard for the Presidency, but when Cleveland was nominated he gave him his hearty support. He was also a delegate to the National Democratic Conventions held at St. Louis, in 1888, and at Chicago, in 1892, when he supported Cleveland for the nomination each time.

RUFUS BLODGETT.

Senator Blodgett was born in Dorchester, New Hampshire, November 9th, 1834. He served his time at the machinist's trade, and worked at it for some time in his native State. Nearly twenty-five years ago he came to New Jersey, and found employment soon afterward with the New Jersey Southern Railroad Company, and in a short time became its Superintendent. A few years ago he was appointed Superintendent of the New York and Long Branch Railroad Company, over which the trains of the Pennsylvania and New Jersey Central railroads run by mutual agreement. For some years the Senator resided at Manchester, Ocean county, and he represented that county in the House of Assembly in the years 1878, '79 and '80. In the latter year he was defeated for the office of State Senator from the same county by Abraham C. B. Havens, by 80 plurality. While in the House of Assembly he took a prominent part in legislation, and was mainly instrumental in having the six per cent. interest law passed. He has always been known as an active and unflinching Democrat, and was Chairman of the Democratic State Committee during the Cleveland campaign of 1884, when he rendered very effective service to his party. He was a candidate for Governor before the Democratic Convention in 1886, and after a bitter and hard-fought contest, was defeated of the nomination by ex-Governor Robert S. Green. He was elected United States Senator to succeed General William J. Sewell, by the Legislature of 1887, on March 2d, amid very stormy scenes on the floor of the Assembly Chamber, his competitor being ex-Governor Leon Abbett. Senator Blodgett lives at Long Branch, and his term will expire March 3d, 1893.

NEW JERSEY'S CONGRESSMEN.

First District.

Camden, Cape May, Cumberland, Gloucester and Salem Counties.

(Population, 198,193)

HENRY C. LOUDENSLAGER.

(Rep., Woobbury.)

Mr. Loudenslager was born in Mauricetown, Cumberland county, N. J., May 22d, 1852. His parents moved to Paulsboro, Gloucester county, in March, 1856, where he has continuously resided ever since. His education was obtained in the common schools. After leaving the farm of his father he entered the produce commission business in Philadelphia, and continued in it for ten years, from 1872 to 1882. During this time his father was the County Clerk of Gloucester, and except when engaged in the market during produce season, the son was employed in the office. He was elected to the office in 1882, and was re-elected in 1887. At both of his elections he ran far ahead of his ticket, his plurality the last time being 946. Mr. Loudenslager is well known all over the State from his secret society connection. He is at present the Great Keeper of Wampum, Improved O. R. M., of this State. He is a member of Florence Lodge, No. 87, F. and A. M., and is a 32-degree Mason.

1890—Bergen, Rep., 19,082; Newell, Dem., 16,352; Nicholson, Pro., 2,007. Bergen's plurality, 2,710.

1892—Loudenslager, Rep., 25,099; Porch, Dem., 22,511; Seagraves, Pro., 1,940. Loudenslager's plurality, 2,588.

Second District.

Atlantic, Mercer, Burlington and Ocean Counties.

(Population, 183,316.)

JOHN J. GARDNER.

(Rep., Atlantic City.)

Mr. Gardner was born October 17th, 1845, in Atlantic county, N. J., and since 1856 has resided in Atlantic City, except during his term of service in the army during the late war. He is in the real estate and insurance business. He was elected Mayor of Atlantic City in 1868, '69, '70, '73 and '74—having declined the nomination in 1872 and 1875. In the latter year he was elected a member of the Common Council, and one of the Coroners of the county. He was elected Senator in 1877, and was re-elected in 1880, '83, '86 and '89. He beat the record with regard to length of service of any State Senator in the history of the State, having served five consecutive terms, or fifteen years altogether. In the session of 1883 he was President of the Senate, when he discharged the duties of the position with much ability and impartiality. He always took a prominent part in legislation, and during many years was the leader of his party in the Senate. He is noted for his readiness in debate, repartee and quick and forcible expression of ideas. He was a Delegate-at-Large to the National Republican Convention at Chicago in 1884. He was elected to Congress in 1892 over George D. Wetherill, Democrat, of Burlington, by a plurality of 2,124.

1890—Buchanan, Rep., 17,515; Haven, Dem., 16,352; Brown, Pro., 1,200. Buchanan's plurality, 1,163.

1892—Gardner, Rep., 22,716; Wetherill, Dem., 20,592; French, Pro., 1,348; Duroe, P., 169. Gardner's plurality, 2,124.

Third District.

Somerset, Middlesex and Monmouth Counties.

(Population, 159,913.)

JACOB AUGUSTUS GEISSENHAINER.

(Dem., Freehold.)

Mr. Geissenhainer was born in the city of New York in 1840. His father and his grandfather were both clergymen of the Lutheran church of that city. He was graduated at Columbia College, and afterwards studied law at Yale and at the New York University. He commenced the practice of law in New York city in 1863, which he still continues, giving his attention especially to conveyancing, and has built up a large business, to which he devotes most of his time and attention.

He came to Freehold with his family in 1875, to spend the summer, and being pleased with the town, leased for a term of years the handsome property on South street, where he now resides, and upon which he has made some substantial and permanent improvements. He has remained there ever since, spending his winters only in New York city.

While Mr. Geissenhainer has always been a pronounced Democrat, and has not hesitated to express his views upon public questions at all proper times and on all suitable occasions, he has never been identified with any clique or faction of the party. This is his third term.

1892—Geissenhainer, Dem., 20,407; Hoffman, Rep., 17,080; Marshall, Pro., 992. Geissenhainer's plurality, 3,327.

Fourth District.

Sussex, Warren, Hunterdon and Morris Counties, and the following Townships of Essex: Belleville, Bloomfield, Caldwell, East Orange, Franklin, Montclair and Livingston.

(Population, 188,243)

JOHNSTON CORNISH.

(Dem., Washington.)

Mr. Cornish was born at Bethlehem, Hunterdon county, N. J., in 1857, and is a manufacturer of pianos and organs. He was Mayor of Washington in 1884, '85, '86. He was elected Senator for Warren county in 1890 and served as such for nearly a full term, when he resigned to qualify himself as a member of Congress. He defeated ex Congressman Benjamin F. Howey, one of the strongest Republicans in the district, after an exciting campaign, by a plurality of 1,039.

1892—Cornish, Dem., 21,765; Howey, Rep., 20,726; Johnston, Pro., 2,307; Potter, Peoples, 595. Cornish's plurality, 1,039.

Fifth District.

Bergen and Passaic Counties, and the following Towns and Townships in the County of Hudson: Guttenberg, North Bergen, Union, Weehawken, West Hoboken and the Town of Union.

(Population, 186,312)

CORNELIUS A. CADMUS.

(Dem., Paterson.)

Mr. Cadmus was born in Saddle River township, Bergen county, N. J., October 7th, 1844, and, after a common school education, entered into mercantile business in New York City, where for a number of years he was a prominent produce merchant. He took up his residence in Paterson when young, and has always been identified with the progress of the city. He is now engaged in the grain and produce business. In 1883 he was induced to accept the Democratic nomination for Assembly in the Third District of Passaic county, a district which had always given a large Republican majority. Such was his popularity that he easily overcame the Republican majority and defeated a popular antagonist. After serving one term in the Assembly, he declined a renomination, which had been unanimously tendered him. In 1887 he was again induced to enter the political field, and accepted the Democratic nomination for sheriff of Passaic county. The county had elected a Republican sheriff three years before by over two thousand majority, and had since that time given large majorities against the Democrats. On the part of any other person the acceptance of the nomination would have been foolhardy, especially as the Republicans were almost unanimous in the selection of their candidate. But Mr. Cadmus not only overcame the odds against him, but was elected by a majority of 1,885. Again he entered the field as a candidate for Congress in 1890, and was elected by a majority of 1,356 over a strong competitor in a district which two years before had returned a Republican by a plurality of 1,072.

In 1892 he was re-elected to Congress over Henry Doherty, Republican, of Paterson, by a plurality of 1,462.

1892—Cadmus, Dem., 20,693; Doherty, Rep., 19,231; Warner, Pro., 464; Richter, Social-Labor, 428. Cadmus' plurality, 1,462.

Sixth District.

The City of Newark, Essex County.

(Population, 181,830.)

THOMAS DUNN ENGLISH.

(Dem., Newark.)

Dr. English was born in Philadelphia, June 29th, 1819. The Englishes are an old New Jersey family, of Norman-Irish origin, which first settled on the banks of the Delaware, in Burlington county, over two centuries since. The mother of Dr. English was born in Ireland, and was the daughter of Joseph Kempstone and Alice (née) M'Millen. Dr. English began journalism at an early age, studied medicine, and received the degree of Doctor of Medicine from the University of Pennsylvania in 1839. In 1842 he was called to the Philadelphia bar. He has practiced both professions, but of late years has depended mainly on authorship. On the 4th of July, 1876, William and Mary College, Virginia, conferred on him the degree of Doctor of Laws. He served two terms, 1863-4, as member of the House of Assembly of New Jersey.

This is his second term in Congress. In 1892, he was re-elected to Congress over Richard Wayne Parker, Republican, of Newark, by a plurality of 1,367.

1892 — English, Dem., 21,651; Parker, Rep., 20,284; Downs, Pro., 412; Buchanan, Peoples, 76; English's plurality, 1,367

Seventh District.

The City of Jersey City, the City of Hoboken, and the Townships of Harrison and Kearney, in Hudson County.

(Population, 222,053.)

GEORGE BRAGG FIELDER.

(Dem., Jersey City.)

Mr. Fielder was born in Jersey City, July 24th, 1842, and is the son of the late James Fielder, who was one of the most prominent citizens of Hudson county.

He attended school in Jersey City and afterwards went to Sellick's Institute at Norwalk, Conn., from which he graduated in 1859.

He then came to New York and entered the New York National Bank, where he soon rose to the position of teller. He was afterward employed in the Irving Bank of the same city as receiving teller.

Mr. Fielder, who was then scarcely twenty years old, enlisted in the Twenty-first New Jersey Volunteers during the late war, and fought in all the battles his regiment was engaged in up to May 4th, 1863, and by that time he had risen to the position of Sergeant-Major.

He fought in the battle of Mary's Heights, which was part of the Chancellorville fight, when his regiment was in the thickest of the carnage, and during a brilliant charge both he and Colonel Van Houten, the commander of the regiment, were severely wounded. They were captured by the Confederates and taken to an old barn, where Colonel Van Houten died from his wounds the next day, and was tenderly buried by Sergeant Fielder. For months Mr. Fielder languished in the rebel prison, and then he was exchanged on general orders from the War Department. He was so ill and emaciated by his confinement that he was obliged to return home.

For his conduct in that fight Joel Parker, then Governor of New Jersey, commissioned him a lieutenant of his regiment, and he was assigned to special service. He served as assistant chief mustering officer of New Jersey until the close of the war, when he was honorably discharged in 1864. He then returned to civil life, when he engaged in the contracting and building business with his father. In 1876 he was made clerk of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Hudson county, which position he held for nine years, when he was elected Register of the county. He was elected for a second term, which he was serving when he was chosen for Congress.

Mr. Fielder is a prominent Grand Army man, and was commander of the New Jersey Department, and at the same time the late Congressman Edward F. McDonald was his chief of staff. He was captain of Company D, Fourth Regiment, for seven years. He is a member of Court Little John, the mother Court of Foresters of Hudson county, and is a member of Bergen Lodge, F. and A. M. He is secretary of the Sixth Army Corps Association, and a member of the Loyal Legion, an organization which is composed of honorably discharged officers of the Union Army of the Rebellion.

He was nominated for Congress on the Saturday before election day, to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Congressman Edward F. McDonald. Despite the very short time between his nomination and the day of election, he was elected by a plurality of 2,831 votes over Frank O. Cole, of Jersey City.

1892—Fielder, Dem., 22,416; Cole, Rep., 19,585; McDonald, Dem. (who was deceased), 2,368; Carman, Pro., 171; Zoller, People's, 100; Barthelmes, Soc.-Labor, 251. Fielder's plurality, 2,831.

Eighth District.

The County of Union, the City of Orange and the Townships of Clinton, South Orange, West Orange and Milburn, in the County of Essex, and the City of Bayonne, in the County of Hudson.

(Population, 125,793.)

JOHN T. DUNN.

(Dem., Elizabeth.)

Mr. Dunn was born in Tipperary, Ireland, in 1838, and is a lawyer by profession. He came to New Jersey in 1845, at the age of seven years. He worked on a farm for a short time, and at the age of eleven he shipped at Atlantic City as a cabin boy on a trading vessel to the West Indies. Two years later he returned and went to Gloucester City, where he was employed as a bobbin boy in a factory. Next he went to learn iron moulding, and then again the trade of brass turning and silver burnishing at Frankford, Pa. Afterwards he learned the trade of house-painting, which he followed for a number of years.

Early in life Mr. Dunn took a liking to politics, and during the Douglass campaign he spoke at Norwich on the same platform with the "Little Giant." He was elected an Alderman of Elizabeth of 1878, and again a year or two ago. He was a member of the House of Assembly from Union county, in 1879, '80, '81 and '82, and was Speaker of that body during the latter year. In 1892 he was elected to Congress over Winfield S. Chamberlain, Republican, of Bayonne, by a plurality of 993.

1892—Dunn, Dem., 14,393; Chamberlain, Rep., 13,400; Van Cise, Pro., 502; Weigel, Soc.-Labör, 210. Dunn's plurality, 993.

STATE SENATORS.

Atlantic County.

(Population, 28,836.)

Ex-Assemblyman Samuel D. Hoffman, Republican, was declared elected as Senator from this county by the County Board of Canvassers by a plurality of 55, over his Democratic opponent, William Riddle, who contests the seat, his allegation being that he was deprived of it through fraud.

SAMUEL D. HOFFMAN.

(Rep., Atlantic City.)

Mr. Hoffman was born in Auburn, Salem county, February 27th, 1850 and is an attorney and counselor at law. He was educated in the public schools of his native county, and later on graduated from the New Jersey State Normal School. He was Clerk of the Board of Freeholders for three years, and has been several times chairman of the Republican County Convention. In November, 1884, he was elected Alderman of Atlantic City, and served as chairman of the Finance Committee. In 1885 he was elected City Superintendent of Public Schools and retired from that position to take the mayoralty nomination in November, 1886, when he defeated Aikin, Democrat, by a decisive majority. He was re-elected in 1888 and in 1890. He served as a member of the House of Assembly in 1892.

1889—Gardner, Rep., 2,625; French, Dem., 2,401; Wilbur, Pro., 230. Gardner's plurality, 224.

WILLIAM RIDDLE.

(Dem., Atlantic City.)

Mr. Riddle was born in the city of Philadelphia on the 30th of June, 1860, where he received his early education in the public schools. A few years ago, Mr. Riddle came to Atlantic City and entered into the real-estate business. In 1891 he was nominated and elected the first Democratic Assessor of Taxes in the history of Atlantic City, breaking down 400 Republican majority and winning by 71. In the Assembly contest of 1891 he was defeated by S. D. Hoffman, although in March, 1892, Mr. Riddle was again elected Assessor in Atlantic City by 501 majority, the largest ever given. He has served as Chairman of the County Board of Assessors and was chairman of the Atlantic delegation to the Democratic Gubernatorial Convention of 1892.

Bergen County.

(Population, 47,226.)

HENRY D. WINTON.

(Dem., Hackensack.)

Senator Winton was born in New York City, and is on the threshold of his forty-fifth year. He is editor and proprietor of the Bergen County Democrat. He is the son of ex-Assemblyman Eben Winton.

In 1871, having bought out his father's interest in the paper, he became the editor and owner of the Democrat, which now stands in the first rank of Democratic newspapers in New Jersey, as it has for many years.

The Senator was a Delegate to the National Democratic Convention at Cincinnati in 1880, and cast his vote for Hancock. He was appointed by Governor Abbett, during his first term of office, as one of the managers of the State Insane Asylum at Morris Plains. He was Clerk of the House of Assembly in 1884, and he received the caucus nomination of the Democratic Senators for five years for Secretary of the Senate. He was President of the New Jersey Editorial Association in 1887, and is a member of the New York Press Club. Last year he served as chairman of the Committees on Unfinished Business and Printing, and on the Committees on Banks and Insurance and Treasurer's Accounts. He was re-elected to the Senate in 1892 by a plurality of 573, over Peter Ackerman, an ex-Assemblyman, being the largest given for a Senator in the county since 1880.

1889—Winton, Dem., 4,007; Moore, Rep., 3,537; Church, Pro., 125; Winton's plurality, 470.

1892—Winton, Dem., 5,700; Ackerman, Rep., 5,127; Conklin, Pro., 123; Winton's plurality, 573.

Burlington County.

(Population, 58,528.)

MITCHELL B. PERKINS.

(Dem., Beverly.)

Senator Perkins was born in Beverly township, August 7th, 1854, and is a farmer. He received a business education at the Bryant & Stratton Business College, Philadelphia, studied and followed photography from 1874 to 1876, and then returned home and took up the business of a farmer, which he has followed ever since. He was Collector of Beverly township for eight years, was Trustee and Clerk of School District No. 17 from 1883 to 1886, and he is now a member of the vestry of St. Stephen's Church, Beverly. The Senator served in the House of Assembly during the session of 1890 and 1891, where he took an active interest in legislation. Each time he ran for Assemblyman he was elected by a good majority in a district which was considered Republican by a majority of about 100. His election as State Senator from the Republican county of Burlington, by a plurality of 527 votes, was taken as a great Democratic victory. Last year he served as chairman of the Committees on Game and Fisheries, State Prison, Boroughs and Lunatic Asylums, and the Committee on School for Deaf-Mutes.

1888—Carter, Rep., 7,307; Scott, Dem., 7,158; Decou, Pro., 527. Carter's plurality, 149.

1891—Perkins, Dem., 5,894; Hays, Rep., 5,367; Coles, Pro., 515. Perkins' plurality, 527.

Camden County.

(Population, 87,687.)

MAURICE ALEXANDER ROGERS.

(Rep., Camden.)

Senator Rogers was born in Philadelphia, Pa., July 3d, 1858. His parents removed to Camden June 4th, 1868, since which time he has resided in that city. He is the junior member of the firm of T. A. Rogers & Son, planters of oysters and commission merchants. In the spring of 1882 he was elected to the Board of Education in the city of Camden, was re-elected in 1884, and was president of the board in 1886. He was elected to the City Council in the spring of 1883, and was re-elected in 1886 and 1889. He was President of Council in 1887. He served as chairman of all the important committees of the Board of Education, and of those on Finance, Water and Lighting in the City Council. The Senator was elected Vice-President, from the First Congressional District, of the Convention of Republican League of Clubs, which was held at Trenton on October 15th, 1891. Last year he served on the Committees on Education, Riparian Rights, Engrossed Bills, Lunatic Asylums, Passed Bills and Industrial School for Girls.

1887—Pfeiffer, Jr., Dem., 5,950; Herring, Rep., 5,473; Dudley, Ind. Rep., 3,105; Stout, Pro., 747. Pfeiffer's plurality, 477.

1890—Rogers, Rep., 7,940; Brewer, Dem., 5,919; Harned, Ind. Rep., 581; Bowden, Pro., 598. Rogers' plurality, 2,021.

Cape May County.

(Population, 11,268.)

LEMUEL E. MILLER.

(Dem., Cape May City)

Senator Miller was born August 1st, 1854, at Green Creek, thus being a native of the county which he represents. The Miller ancestral home is near Town Bank, a whaling colony contemporaneous with the earliest settlements at Salem and Burlington. In 1869 Senator Miller's father died and left him to aid in the support of his widowed mother and seven children. Such was his energy that his brothers and sisters were all well educated, and the former now hold responsible positions in various parts of the country. Instead of leaving Cape May, Senator Miller remained on the peninsula and established himself as a general contractor. Never desirous of political preferment, he has held only one office, that of Chosen Councilman of Cape May City, to which he was elected in 1886, and served three years. He was presiding officer of the Councilmanic body in 1889, being, probably, the youngest man who ever held that position. Last year he served as chairman of the Committees on Militia and Elections, and on the Committees on Education and Soldiers' Home.

1888—Leaming, Rep., 1,464; Melvin, Dem., 1,079; Williams, Pro., 166. Leaming's plurality, 385.

1891—Miller, Dem., 1,327; Cole, Rep., 1,088; Smith, Pro., 120. Miller's plurality, 239.

Cumberland County.

(Population, 45,433.)

EDWARD CASPAR STOKES.

(Rep., Vineland.)

Senator Stokes was born in Philadelphia, Pa., December 22d, 1860, and is a book-keeper. He was educated in the public schools of Millville and at Brown University, Providence, R. I. He was elected City Superintendent of Public Schools in Millville in 1889. He served as a member of Assembly from the second district of Cumberland county in 1891 and 1892. He was elected Senator by a plurality of 830 over Isaac C. Smalley. Mr. Stokes is the youngest member of the present Senate.

1889—Fowler Rep., 4,647; Baker, Dem., 4,215; Gilbert, Pro., 608. Fowler's plurality, 432.

1892—Stokes, Rep., 5,533; Smalley, Dem., 4,703; Moore, Pro., 711; scattering, 4. Stokes' plurality, 830.

Essex County.

(Population, 256,098.)

MICHAEL T. BARRETT.

(Dem., Newark.)

Senator Barrett was born at Belleville, N. J., August 9th, 1856, and is a counselor-at-law. He was educated at the Christian Brothers' School, Newark, and was admitted to the bar at the February term, 1879. In 1886, he was elected to the Assembly from the then Fifth District of Essex county, by a plurality of 437. In 1887, Mr. Barrett was the Democratic candidate for Senator in Essex county, when he was defeated by A. F. R. Martin, Republican, by a plurality 1,029. Governor Abbett, as soon as he was inaugurated into his second term of office, appointed Mr. Barrett on his personal staff, with the rank of Colonel. Mr. Barrett is the first Democratic Senator Essex county has had in a quarter of a century. Last year he served as chairman of the Committees of Municipal Corporations and Engrossed Bills, and as a member of the Committees on Judiciary, Revision of Laws and State Prison.

When Senator Werts resigned his seat in 1892, Colonel Barrett was chosen as the leader of his party on the floor of the Senate.

1887—Martin, Rep., 18,807; Barrett, Dem., 17,778; Morrow, Pro., 1,256; Beckmeyer, Lab., 820. Martin's plurality, 1,029.

1890—Barrett, Dem., 23,341; Howell, Rep., 21,380; Stobell, Pro., 1,024. Barrett's plurality, 1,961.

Gloucester County.

(Population, 28,649.)

GEORGE H. BARKER.

(Dem., Woodbury.)

Senator Barker was born at South Brookfield, Madison county, N. Y., January 14th, 1857, and is in the real estate and mortgage brokerage business, having offices at Woodbury and in the Drexel Building, Philadelphia. He has been sixteen years in the business at Woodbury. He has lived in Gloucester county since he was seven years of age. He never filled any public office before he was elected to the Senate, but he has been prominently connected with the principal business enterprises of Gloucester county. Last year he served as chairman of the Committees on Finance and State Library, and as a member of the Committees on Militia and Elections.

1887—Roe, Rep., 3,159; Tallman, Dem., 2,698; Ogborn, Pro., 440. Roe's plurality 561.

1890—Barker, Dem., 3,080; Roe, Rep., 2,940; Downer, Pro., 324. Barker's plurality, 140.

Hudson County.

(Population, 275,126.)

WILLIAM D. DALY.

(Dem., Hoboken.)

Senator Daly was born in Jersey City in 1851, and has resided in Hudson county all his life. He was educated in Public School No. 1, Jersey City, and at the age of fourteen left school and entered the iron foundry of Uzal Cory, at the foot of Greene street, Jersey City, as an apprentice at iron moulding, and at the age of seventeen he was a journeyman iron moulder. He continued at his trade until the age of nineteen, working in the meantime in the Erie foundry and at Blackmore's foundry, on Railroad avenue. Mr. Daly, while engaged at his trade, was always ambitious to become a lawyer, and at the time of the great strike on the Erie railroad, in 1870, was working in the Erie foundry and went out with the other moulders. Being then out of employment, he entered the law office of S. B. Ransom and ex-

Judge Blair, in Jersey City, as a student of law. In May, 1871, and in June, 1874, he was admitted to the bar respectively as attorney and counselor. Since that time he has practiced law in all the courts of this State. He has probably been engaged in and has tried as many capital cases on the part of the defense as any lawyer in the State. Among the noted criminal cases in which he has been engaged was that of George Disque, for the killing of his wife. He also defended young Schlemmer, who, in a fit of jealous passion, in August, 1887, shot his wife and was sentenced to be executed. Mr. Daly carried this case to the highest courts, obtained a new trial and saved his client's life.

The Senator was the defender of Morris O'Brien for the killing of his brother; Murphy, for the Henderson street bridge murder; Harney, for the killing of Ford; the Goodwin brothers, for the alleged killing of their father; Murphy, for the killing of Denning, and Cunniff, for the alleged killing of his wife by setting her on fire with a lamp. He was also counsel for the arrested freight handlers in the great Erie strike in 1878, none of whom were convicted, and also for the Cigar Makers' Union in their strike in Jersey City six years ago, and upon their trial they were acquitted.

The Senator served as Assistant United States District Attorney for three years, having been appointed under the Cleveland administration. He was an alternate delegate to the St. Louis Democratic National Convention in 1888. He has been counsel for the Hudson County Liquor Dealers' Association for several years, and he represented the Eighth District of Hudson county in the House of Assembly in 1891, when he was the leader of his party on the floor.

He was elected Senator after an exciting campaign by a plurality of 5,645, over J. Herbert Potts, a Republican of great strength and popularity.

1891—Hudspeth, Dem., 21,424; Carr, Rep., 14,169; Ransom, Pro., 276; Gilliar, Lab., 429. Hudspeth's plurality, 7,255.

1892—Daly, Dem., 30,109; Potts, Rep., 24,464; Burger, Pro., 251; Gilliar, Soc.-Lab., 407; McBride, Peoples', 118; scattering, 11. Daly's plurality, 5,645.

Hunterdon County.

(Population, 35,355.)

WILLIAM H. MARTIN.

(Dem , Frenchtown)

Senator Martin was born near Little York, N. J., June 17th, 1846, and has been a general merchant since 1875. He has been a resident of Frenchtown for twenty-two years. In 1873 he was elected Tax Collector for the borough of Frenchtown by a large majority, and was re-elected in 1874 by an increased majority. He was elected a member of the Common Council four years in succession, beginning in 1877; was elected Mayor of the borough in 1881 by a majority of 47, and re-elected the following year by 66. In 1875, he was elected a Director of the Union National Bank, and re-elected every year since. On November 17th, 1887, he was elected President of the same bank to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hugh E. Warford. In January, 1887, he was elected a Director of the Alexandria Bridge Company, and in 1885 he was appointed Postmaster of Frenchtown.

He served as a member of the House of Assembly from the First District of Hunterdon for three years, from 1888 to 1890, and each year he ran he had an increased majority. After an exciting and hard-fought campaign, he was elected Senator, in 1891, by a plurality of 981 votes, over Captain John Shields, a popular member of the Republican party. The Senator has always been a staunch Democrat, and has never been defeated for any office for which he was a candidate. He has always carried his own home, Frenchtown, by a fair majority every time he ran for office, although it has usually gone Republican at other elections.

Last year he served as Chairman of the Committees on Corporations and School for Deaf-Mutes, and as a member of the Committees on Unfinished Business and Commerce and Navigation.

1888—Everitt, Dem., 5,119; Bush, Rep., 3,857; Hunt, Pro., 545. Everitt's plurality, 1,262.

1891—Martin, Dem., 4,026; Shields, Rep., 3,045; Ritzenhouse, Pro., 564. Martin's plurality, 981.

Mercer County.

WILLIAM H. SKIRM,

(Rep., Trenton.)

Senator Skirm was born in Trenton, N. J., January 17th, 1841, and is in the wholesale grocery business, being a member of the firm of D. P. Forst & Co. At an early age he entered the wholesale grocery house of Forst and Taylor as a book-keeper, and subsequently became a member of the firm.

For thirteen years the Senator has served as treasurer of the Pennington Seminary. His wise management of the financial affairs of that institution, his personal contributions to its fund, and the great assistance he has rendered it in many other ways, have been largely instrumental in placing the Seminary on a solid foundation, and increasing the value of its property to at least $150,000.

In the military service the Senator has made quite a record. He joined Company A, an independent military organization, on November 30th, 1860, which was then under the command of Captain William R. Murphy. This organization afterwards became merged in the National Guard of the State as a part of the Seventh Regiment, and the Senator served as Lieutenant and Captain of the company for several years. He declined the rank of Major of the Regiment when tendered to him, but accepted the Colonelcy when he was elected on June 9th, 1890, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Colonel John C. Patterson.

The Senator has always been an ardent Republican and twice he has been elected as a Delegate to National Republican Conventions. He is now a member of the State Republican Committee, a position he has held for several years, and he has frequently been at the head of the County Republican Committee, and is at present its chairman. He has represented the Fifth Ward of Trenton in the Common Council for several terms and was President of that body for some years.

The Senator is known as a most excellent business man, and he has done much to further the growth and prosperity of his native city. For a number of years he has been a Director of the Trenton Banking Company.

He ran largely ahead of his ticket at the recent election and received the largest majority ever given a Senator in Mercer county.

1889—Rue, Rep., 8,244; Bamford, Dem., 8,139; Cady, Pro., 386. Rue's plurality, 105.

1892—Skirm, Rep., 10,312; Apgar, Dem., 8,852; Ely, Pro., 380. Skirm's plurality, 1,460.

Middlesex County.

(Population, 61,754.)

ROBERT ADRAIN.

(Dem., New Brunswick.)

Senator Adrain was born in New Brunswick, N. J., December 17th, 1853, and is a counselor-at-law of New Jersey. Governor Abbett appointed the Senator on his personal staff in January, 1890, with the rank of Colonel. He has served as Prosecutor of the Pleas of Middlesex county during the last three years. In 1891 and '92 Colonel Adrain filled the office of President of the Senate and discharged its duties with marked ability and impartiality, so much so that he was complimented by both sides of the house at the close of each session. In 1891 he was re-elected Senator by a plurality of 1,430 votes, he having received 1,020 three years previously.

1888—Adrain, Dem., 7,124; Tice, Rep., 6,104; Cortel-you, Pro., 258. Adrain's plurality, 1,020.

1891—Adrain, Dem., 5,991; Goodwin, Rep., 4,561; Kelly, Pro., 318. Adrain's plurality, 1,430.

Monmouth County.

(Population, 62,128.)

HENRY STAFFORD TERHUNE.

(Dem., Matawan.)

Senator Terhune was born at Matawan, formerly Middletown Point, Monmouth county, New Jersey, June 9th, 1860, and is a lawyer by profession. He is the son of William L. Terhune, a practicing attorney of said county, and nephew of the Hon. Henry S. Little, three times elected to the Senate of New Jersey and appointed for two terms to the office of Clerk of the Court of Chancery.

Mr. Terhune is a graduate of Princeton College and of the Columbia Law School of the City of New York.

He studied law with the Hon. John S. Applegate, of Red Bank, N. J.; was licensed as an attorney at the June term of the Supreme Court, 1885, and later admitted as counselor at law. His law office is at Long Branch, where he has pursued his profession successfully for the last seven years.

He was counsel for the Board of Commissioners of that city for five years, is a director of and counsel for the First National Bank of Long Branch, and is counsel for the Board of Commissioners of Matawan, his native town, and also of the Sea Bright Board of Commissioners.

At the time of his election he was Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Democratic party for his county, and was elected to the Senate over his competitor, Mr. W. A. Heisley, by 1,291 plurality.

Mr. Terhune is the youngest Senator ever elected from the county of Monmouth, and is the youngest member but one of the State Senate of the present year. He was elected for one year, to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Brown.

1890—Brown, Dem., 7,027; Allaire, Rep., 5,808; Sickler, Pro., 507. Brown's plurality, 1,219.

1892—Terhune, Dem., 8,977; Heisley, Rep., 7,686; Emery, Pro., 519. Terhune's plurality, 1,291.

Morris County.

(Population, 54,101.)

ELIAS C. DRAKE.

(Dem., Chester.)

Senator Drake was born in Chester, Morris county, N. J., December 15th, 1852, and is a general merchant. He was elected Township Clerk in 1876, '77 and '78, and resigned that office in 1879, when he went to Kansas, but returned home the same year. He was elected a member of the Township Committee in 1880, and was made Treasurer of that body. In 1882, '83 and '84 he was elected Assessor of Chester township. He represented the then Third District of Morris county in the House of Assembly in 1885 and 1886. He was Engrossing

Clerk of the House in 1889 and '90. At the late election he carried his own township (Chester) by the largest majority ever given any candidate for public office.

1889—Werts, Dem., 5,046; Condit, Rep., 4,854; Bradbrook, Pro., 439. Werts' plurality, 192.

1892—Drake, Dem., 5,954; Condit, Rep., 5,679; Kitchel, Pro., 649. Drake's plurality, 275.

Ocean County.

(Population, 15,974.)

GEORGE GREELEY SMITH.

(Rep., Lakewood.)

Senator Smith was born in Clinton, Worcester county, Mass., January 5th, 1854. He came to Lakewood when thirteen years of age, and subsequently attended Peddie Institute, at Hightstown, for two years. He is related, through his mother's family, to the late Horace Greeley, from whom he gets his middle name. After leaving Peddie Institute, he attended the Eastman Business College, at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., from which he was graduated in 1870. The next two years he spent learning the practical part of the dry goods business at his old home in Clinton, Mass. In 1872 he engaged in the dry goods business in Lakewood. His enterprise and business tact made him successful from the first, and he is now at the head of the largest dry goods establishment in Ocean county, and one of the largest in that section of the State. The business block rebuilt by him a few years ago contains three of the leading stores in the town, besides his own and the Park View House. This is only one of the several evidences of Mr. Smith's public spirit and enterprise in one of the most attractive villages in the State.

Mr. Smith was elected to the House of Assembly in 1884 and 1885 by the largest majority ever received for that office in Ocean county. During his first year in the Assembly he was chairman of the Committee on Deaf and Dumb Asylum, and a member of the Committees on Fisheries and Commerce and Navigation. In 1886 he was chairman of the Committees on Riparian Rights and Education, and a member of the Committees on Industrial Schools and Fisheries. He is at present a member of the Board of Trustees, and chairman of the Property Committee of Peddie Institute; Vice President of the Lakewood Trust Company, and President of the Lakewood Republican Club. He was elected to the Senate by a much larger majority than was ever given to any candidate for the Senate, over one of the most popular opponents ever nominated by the Democratic party.

1889—Cranmer, Rep., 1,838; Emson, Dem., 1,566; Wood, Pro., 85. Cranmer's plurality, 272.

1892—Smith, Rep., 2,543; Irons, Dem., 1,616; Wood, Pro., 157; Scattering, 12. Smith's plurality, 927.

Passaic County.

(Population, 105,046)

JOHN HINCHLIFFE.

(Dem , Paterson)

Senator Hinchliffe was born in New York City, May 19th, 1850, and has resided in Paterson since he was a year old. He is President of the Hinchliffe Brewing and Malting Company of Paterson. He was educated in the public schools of that city and, also, at the King James Grammar School, in Yorkshire, England, at the birthplace of his father. The Senator was a member of the Board of Education of Paterson from 1875 to 1877, and a Commissioner of Taxes and Assessments for two terms, from 1877 to 1881, and was president of the Board during his last term. Although Passaic county is largely Republican, Mr. Hinchliffe was elected Senator by a plurality of 112 votes. Last year he served as chairman of the Committee on Claims and Pensions, and as a member of the Committees on Municipal Corporations, Federal Relations and Industrial School for Girls.

1888—Mallon, Dem., 9,469; Emley, Rep., 9,380; Tallman, Pro., 245. Mallon's plurality, 89.

1891—Hinchliffe, Dem., 9,160; Emley, Rep., 9,048; Hill, Pro., 320. Hinchliffe's plurality, 112.

Salem County.

(Population, 25,151)

JAMES BUTCHER.

(Dem., Salem.)

Senator Butcher was born in Lower Alloways Creek township, Salem county, N. J., March 30th, 1849, and is a glass manufacturer at Elmer in that county. He was formerly a farmer and subsequently a merchant. He was elected a member of the Board of Freeholders in 1884 and served one term. In 1886 he was elected County Collector and served one term, and in 1887 he was elected Sheriff of Salem county. In 1890 he was elected State Senator by a plurality of 339. The Senator's successful career in politics is unprecedented in Salem county. Last year he served as chairman of the Committees on Labor and Industries and Passed Bills, and as a member of the Committees on Corporations, Claims and Pensions, Engrossed Bills and Lunatic Asylums.

1887—Newell, Dem., 2,998; Lippincott, Rep., 2,831; Hitchner, Pro., 403. Newell's plurality, 167.

1890—Butcher, Dem., 3,213; Starr, Rep., 2,874; Waddington, Pro., 133. Butcher's plurality, 339.

Somerset County.

(Population, 28,311.)

WILLIAM J. KEYS.

(Dem., South Branch.)

Senator Keys was born at Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., April 13th, 1838. His father was one of the original builders of the old Hudson River Railroad. At the age of thirteen the present Senator found employment in New York city, where he remained for a number of years. He was an active member of the old Volunteer Fire Department, and served for eleven years.

During the war Mr. Keys, through the recommendations of Hon. Horatio Seymour and Gen. John A. Dix, was awarded the contract for hauling and delivering the supplies, provisions, etc., for the Eastern Department. Chester A. Arthur then had charge of that department, and Mr. Keys was brought in close contact with the late President, and a strong friendship was formed which lasted until President Arthur's death.

Mr. Keys' contract was a big one, and during those exciting days he had his hands full. It was during the draft riots that the greatest trouble was experienced, and the contractor had much difficulty in getting drivers for the wagons to deliver rations to the hungry soldiers stationed in and about New York City, as it was almost worth one's life to ride the streets in the interest of the government.

On one particular afternoon during a riot, an attempt was made to blow up the gas house at the foot of East Twenty-first street, and a large body of soldiers was stationed at the arsenal on Seventh avenue, between Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth streets, in readiness to be called out at any time.

A requisition was sent to the Battery Barracks for cooked rations to be delivered at the arsenal. The streets were lined with angry men, and not a driver would venture out with a team. The only way the rations could be delivered was for Contractor Keys himself to drive, and this he did.

He ordered the best team hitched to a loaded truck, and, mounting it, he started out. Going up Greenwich street he was assailed from every side with stones, bricks and other missiles, and several shots were fired, but undaunted he urged on the team, and reached the hungry soldiers in safety, except for a few cuts about the head.

On another occasion he made a similar trip to Gen. Dix's headquarters at the old St. Nicholas hotel on Broadway. He was again attacked by the mob, but being recognized by some members of the fire department, they came to his rescue, declaring that "Bill Keys should not be molested." He drove up to Gen. Dix's headquarters in triumph, and received the thanks of that general and Gen. Lew Wallace and others.

Perhaps no man living, except Senator Keys, can say that he stabled his horses in City Hall Park, on the very ground now occupied by the Post Office. The government granted him that privilege during the early days of the war.

Early in life he was engaged in the produce business in old Washington Market, and later became connected with the Citizens' Steamboat Line, of Troy, and still has an interest in that and other lines. He also carried on a large livery business in the city.

He has always been a staunch Democrat, and was a warm personal friend and a great admirer of Samuel J. Tilden. While in New York he took an active part in politics, and was a member of Tammany.

The Senator always wanted to live on a farm, and when the late Senator R. H. Veghte, of Somerville, who was his intimate friend, advised him to purchase a farm at South Branch, he did not ponder over the matter, but closed the bargain, and became a Somerset county farmer.

He did not attempt to become conspicuous in Somerset politics, but it seems Somerset county Democrats know a good man when they see one, and in 1890, when that party was at sea for a winning candidate for Senator, on the very morning of the convention, Mr. Keys' name was suggested, and the convention nominated him on the first ballot.

The campaign was a very lively one, and Charles A. Reed, a young lawyer, was his opponent. It will be remembered that the Republican Executive Committee, in order to induce the voters to believe that to vote for Keys would be throwing their votes away, circulated, on the very afternoon before election, handbills and posters setting forth that Mr. Keys was not eligible to the office, not having lived, as they stated, in the county and State for the required number of years.

With only a few hours in which to procure evidence to prove such statements untrue, Mr. Keys set about, and by morning the county was flooded with posters and such, denying the charge. This proved a boomerang for the Republicans, and Keys was elected by 394 plurality, in a county naturally Republican, and which had not sent a Democrat to the Senate in many years.

Senator Keys is a great lover of horses, and has a stable of them, valued at not less than $60,000, at his beautiful home, the Ellis stock farm, on the south branch of the Raritan river, about three miles west of Somerville.

Last year he served as chairman of the Committees on Railroads and Canals and Commerce and Navigation, and as a member of the Committees on Miscellaneous Business and Reform School for Boys.

1887—Thompson, Rep., 3,104; Bergen, Dem., 2,464; Barber, pro., 284. Thompson's plurality, 450.

1890—Keys, Dem., 2,906; Reed, Rep., 2,512; Williamson, Pro., 155. Keys' plurality, 394.

(Dem., Stanhope.)

Senator McMickle was born in Sparta township, Sussex county, N. J., October 18th, 1851, and is a farmer. He was formerly a school teacher. He has been a member of the Township Committee for nine years—1877 and '78 and from 1880 to '87, five years of which he was Town Treasurer, and he has been an assessor for three years—

1887, '89 and '90. He has taught school eleven years. Last year he served as chairman of the Committee on Education, and as a member of the Committees on Game and Fisheries, Agriculture and State Library.

1888—Smith, Dem., 3,302; McDanolds, Rep., 2,323; Baily, Pro., 152. Smith's plurality, 979.

1891—McMickle, Dem., 2,073; Ryerson, Rep., 1,613; Bowman, Pro., 125. McMickle's plurality, 460.

Union County.

(Population, 72,467.)

FREDERICK C. MARSH.

(Dem., Elizabeth.)

Senator Marsh was born at Elizabethport, Union county, N. J., January 27th, 1857, and is a lawyer by profession. He was a member of the Board of Education of Elizabeth for two years and President of that body one year. He was County Attorney of Union county for three years. He served two years in the House of Assembly—in 1889 and 1890. In the latter year he was leader of the Democratic majority, and was elected Speaker pro tem. during the absence of Speaker Heppenheimer. He also served as chairman of the Committee on Judiciary and as a member of the Committees on Elections, Treasurer's Accounts, the Special Committee on State Prison Investigation, the Special Committee on Ballot Reform, of which he was secretary, and was appointed a member of the Special Commission on the Taxation of Property. Senator Marsh received the largest majority for Senator ever given a candidate for public office in Union county. For the last two years he has filled the office of Prosecutor of the Pleas of Union county.

In the session of 1892 the Senator served as chairman of the Committees on Revision of the Laws, Miscellaneous Business and Federal Relations, and as a member of the Committee on Printing.

GEORGE W. HENRY, M. D.

(Dem., Camden.)

The Second Assembly District is composed of the Second precinct of the Second ward, the Fourth and Fifth precincts of the Fifth ward, all of the Sixth ward except the Fourth precinct, and the Third and Fourth precincts of the Ninth ward of the city of Camden, and the First and Second precincts of Stockton township. Total vote cast in 1892—4,136.

Dr. Henry was born in Camden, N. J., November 19th, 1858, is a physician by profession and was formerly a druggist. He attended the public schools in Camden until he was fifteen years of age, and then went to Philadelphia and graduated in the High School. He took up the study of pharmacy and graduated from the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy; he followed the drug business for a few years, and then began the study of medicine and surgery at the Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia, received a diploma from that institution in 1885, and ever since he has practiced medicine in Camden.

The Doctor is not a novice in politics by any means. He received his political training under his father, who is an old-time, shrewd politician. In 1887, the Doctor was elected to the office of Coroner in Camden county, and served three years, during which he made a high reputation as a public official. He was the only Democrat who was elected to that office in Camden county in thirty-three years. His majority in this Assembly district at the late election was the largest ever given to a Democrat or Republican since the district, old or new, was formed.

1891—Engard, Rep., 1,473; McAdams, Dem., 1,357; Large, Pro., 97. Engard's plurality, 116.

He is now a member of that body from the Third Assembly District of the county. He defeated ex-Senator Herring for the Assembly by a plurality of 1,085.

1891—Nash, Dem., 1,305; Banks, Rep., 547. Nash's majority, 758.

1892—Thompson, Dem., 1,944; Herring, Rep., 859; Hider, Pro., 58. Thompson's plurality, 1,085.

Cape May County.

EDMUND LEE ROSS.

(Rep., Cape May Court House.)

The district embraces the entire county. Total vote cast in 1892—2,956.

Mr. Ross was born at Cape May Court House, March 10th, 1852, and is in the mercantile business. Formerly he was a mariner. He attended the public schools and afterwards took a course at the Mayville Academy. In early life he chose the sea for a living, and through enterprise and strict attention to duty he was soon promoted to the captaincy of a vessel engaged in the foreign and coastwise trade, which he followed until 1880, when, owing to failing health, he gave up the vocation and opened a general store at Cape May Court House, since which time he has been engaged in the mercantile business. He served for eight years as a member of the election board, and was county collector for four years. Last year he served on the Committees on Bill Revision and Public Grounds and Buildings.

1891—Ross, Rep., 1,212; Coleman, Dem., 1,192; En-trakin, Pro., 128. Ross' plurality, 20.

1892—Ross, Rep., 1,403; Nichols, Dem., 1,373; Price, Pro., 180. Ross' plurality, 30.

Cumberland County.

Second District.

JOHN N. GLASPELL.

(Rep., Greenwich.)

The Second Assembly District is composed of the First, Second and Fourth wards of the city of Millville, the Fourth ward of Bridgeton, and the townships of Greenwich, Commercial, Lawrence, Downe and Maurice River. Total vote cast in 1892—5,032.

Mr. Glaspell was born in Greenwich township, Cumberland county, in 1850, and is a school teacher, a vocation which he has followed during the last twenty years. He served as Assessor of his native township and in 1890 was a member of the Assembly from the then Second District in Cumberland county.

1891 (old district)—Stokes, Rep., 1,740; Ware, Dem., 1,210. Stokes' majority, 530.

1892 (new district)—Glaspell, Rep., 2,756; Parker, Dem., 1,931; Ludlam, Pro., 328; scattering, 17. Glaspell's plurality, 825.

Essex County.

First District.

WILLIAM HARRIGAN.

(Dem., Newark.)

The First Assembly District is composed of the First ward of the city of Newark. Total vote cast in 1892—3,381.

Mr. Harrigan was born in Ireland, October 31st, 1838. He is engaged in the manufacture of mineral water. He is a leading politician of Newark and wields much influence in the councils of his party. He served on the Essex County Road Board six years, was a member of the Assembly from the old Tenth District of Essex for five consecutive years, in 1883, '84, '85, '86 and '87; was Sergeant-at-Arms of the House during the sessions of 1891 and '92, and is now serving his second term as Alderman, being the leader of his party in the Board. He was a delegate to the National Democratic Conventions in 1884 and 1888. During his legislative career he always took special pride in advocating the interests of wage-workers and the law providing for the stamping of all goods manufactured in the State Prison was passed mainly through his efforts. He introduced the bill, which became a law, providing for the establishment of Police and Fire Commissioners in Newark, and which left it optional with the people as to whether it should go into effect. The law was afterwards approved by the popular vote.

1891—Cavanagh, Dem., 1,388; Binder, Rep., 771. Cavanagh's plurality, 617.

1892—Harrigan, Dem., 1,951; Heinkel, Rep., 1,430. Harrigan's majority, 521.

Second District.

JOHN LACEY ARMITAGE.

(Dem., Newark.)

The Second Assembly District is composed of the Second ward of the city of Newark. Total vote cast in 1892—3,634.

Mr. Armitage was born in Newark, October 26th, 1851, and is engaged in the manufacture of varnish in that city. In his early days he studied law. He was elected School Commissioner to fill a vacancy in 1880, and the following year he was elected for a full term. He served as an Assemblyman from the old Ninth District of Essex for two years—1883 and 1884.

1891—Nieder, Dem., 1,498; Smith, Rep., 976; Sellick, Pro., 39. Nieder's plurality, 522.

1892—Armitage, Dem., 1,951; Luckemier, Rep., 1,641; Hudson, Pro., 34; Morrow, People's, 8. Armitage's plurality, 310.

Third District.

JOSEPH P. CLARKE.

(Dem., Newark.)

The Third Assembly District is composed of the Third ward of the city of Newark. Total vote cast in 1892—3,209.

Mr. Clarke was born at Louzher Duleek, County of Meath, Ireland, February 24th, 1852, and is a general produce commission merchant at 92 Mulberry street, Newark. He is son of a prosperous farmer, and left home when seventeen years old. He came directly to Newark, N. J., and worked in the market until he started in the commission business for himself five years ago. He made several trips to Ireland since he came to this country. This is the first time he has held public office.

1891—Smith, Dem., 1,413; Baldwin, Rep., 892. Smith's majority, 521.

1892—Clarke, Dem., 1,886; Broadwell, Rep., 1,299; Colver, Pro., 24. Clarke's plurality, 587.

Fourth District.

JOSEPH M. BYRNE.

(Dem., Newark.)

The Fourth District is composed of the Fourth ward of the city of Newark. Total vote cast in 1892—4,662.

Mr. Byrne was born in the city of Newark, N. J., October 13th, 1861, and is engaged in the fire and casualty insurance and steamship agency. Mr. Byrne's early education was received in the Newark local schools. Later he entered Notre Dame University in Indiana, from which he graduated with especial honors in 1879, and admirably fitted to face the world. For a time he found employment with the Prudential Insurance Company, but ill-health following him, he determined upon acquiring a trade, and subsequently entered the draughting and pattern making department of the Watts-Campbell Co. Four years later, with his health restored, Mr. Byrne again identified himself with the insurance business as an agent of the Metropolitan Life, from which he retired to assume the managership for Northern New Jersey of the United States Co. To life he added that of fire insurance, and now takes care of the insurance of some of the largest mercantile houses and manufactories in Newark and the State. Socially, Mr. Byrne is a universal favorite. His magnificent baritone voice is one of the delightful features of the services at St. Patrick's Cathedral, Newark, while it has frequently been heard in connection with the Orpheus Glee Club and the Webber Quartette, in the interest of charity. He has been a director in the Young Men's Catholic Association, a trustee of the Institute Boat Club, and is a member of the Institute Dramatic Association, and likewise a member of the Executive committee of the Jeffersonian Club. He was engaged as clerk in the office of the Board of Assessment and Revision of Taxes of the city of Newark in 1888-'89.

1891—Kalisch, Dem., 1,842; Swan, Rep., 1,457; Adams, Pro., 79. Kalisch's plurality, 385.

1892—Byrne, Dem., 2,612; Jackson, Rep., 2,016; Wardell, Pro., 34. Byrne's plurality, 596.

Fifth District.

THOMAS ATKINS MURPHEY.

(Rep., Newark.)

The Fifth Assembly District is composed of the Fifth ward of the city of Newark. Total vote cast in 1892—6,750.

Mr. Murphey was born at Sandy Hill, Washington county, N. Y., May 4th, 1841, and is a lumber dealer. He responded to President Lincoln's call for 75,000 troops in May, 1861, and was appointed orderly sergeant of his company in the Twenty-second New York Volunteers, which was assigned to the First Brigade (afterwards known as the Iron Brigade), First Division, First Corps, Army of the Potomac. He participated in all the regiment's battles and engagements until the expiration of the war. He was afterwards appointed major of a colored troop by Governor Oliver P. Morton, of Indiana. Mr. Murphey cast his first vote for Lincoln in 1864, since which time he has always belonged to the Republican party. He was appointed Postmaster of the General Assembly, State of New York, by Hon. James W. Husted for two years—1876 and 1877.

1891—Ketcham, Rep., 2,455; Grover, Dem., 1,540; Sloan, Pro, 202. Ketcham's plurality, 915.

1892—Murphey, Rep., 3,963; Grover, Dem., 2,629; Roff, Pro., 158. Murphey's plurality, 1,334.

Sixth District.

DENNIS F. OLVANEY.

(Dem., Newark.)

The Sixth Assembly District is composed of the Sixth ward of the city of Newark. Total vote cast in 1892—3,298.

Mr. Olvaney was born in the old Seventh ward of Newark, March 18th, 1853, and is in the grocery business. After receiving a good education Mr. Olvaney learned the carpenter trade but subsequently branched into the grocery business and was quite successful. A short time ago he again took to his trade, this time as a boss builder, and is now doing a large business. He has always been more or less active in politics, and four years ago he was selected by his party in the Fifteenth ward as the most available man to run for Alderman against the late Carl Baumann, who was then considered by the Republicans invincible at the polls. Mr. Olvaney accepted the nomination, took his coat off and went to work as he would at a carpenter's bench or behind a grocery counter, and as a result, when the polls closed on election night the returns showed that the old Fifteenth had swung into the Democratic line and that Mr. Olvaney had a majority of eighty-nine. In 1890 he was re-elected over Mr. Leveratt by a majority of twenty-seven, the Democratic vote being fifty-seven less than at the previous election.

1892—Olvaney, Dem., 1,967; Sutphin, Rep., 1,319; Wylie, Pro., 12. Olvaney's plurality, 648.

Seventh District.

WILLIAM JOSEPH KEARNS.

(Dem., Newark.)

The Seventh District is composed of the Seventh ward of the city of Newark. Total vote cast in 1892—6,691.

Mr. Kearns was born in the city of Newark, N. J., August 12th, 1864, and is a lawyer by profession. He was educated in St. Patrick's Parochial School and St. Benedict's College, Newark, and also in the University of the City of New York, where he received the degree of LL. B. on May 26th, 1892. He was admitted as an attorney-at-law at the June term of the Supreme Court, 1887, and as a counselor-at-law at the February term, 1892. He was made a Master in Chancery, February 14th, 1888.

1891—Dempsey, Dem., 2,583; Wagner, Rep., 1,746; James, Pro., 94. Dempsey's plurality, 837.

1892—Kearns, Dem., 3,433; Huegel, Rep., 3,194; Bailey, Pro., 64. Kearns' plurality, 239.

Eighth District.

JOHN HENRY PEAL.

(Dem., Newark.)

The Eighth Assembly District is composed of the Eighth ward of the city of Newark. Total vote cast in 1892—5,137.

Mr. Peal was born in Newark, October 18th, 1839, and is a carpenter and builder. In 1856 he went West and learned the trade of a carpenter. He was a member of the Eighth Regiment, of Ohio Militia, and returned to Newark in 1864, where he has since resided. He began business for himself in 1867, and has met with much success. He served in the Board of Freeholders two years, 1882 and 1883, and was re-elected for another year. He represented the old Eighth District of Essex county in the Assembly of 1886.

1891—Ulrich, Dem., 2,055; Albrecht, Rep., 1,661. Ulrich's majority, 394.

1892—Peal, Dem., 2,628; Yetter, Rep., 2,509. Peal's majority, 119.

Ninth District.

J. BROADHEAD WOOLSEY.

(Rep., Newark.)

The Ninth Assembly District is composed of the Ninth ward of the city of Newark and Clinton township. Total vote cast in 1892—6,386.

Mr. Woolsey was born in Milton, Ulster county, N. Y., February 10th, 1853. He is in partnership with ex-Assemblyman Glorieux in the Irvington Smelting and Refining Works.

1891—Glorieux, Rep, 2,879; Fitzsimmons, Dem., 1,075; Pierson, Pro., 136. Glorieux's plurality, 1,804.

1892—Woolsey, Rep., 4,200; Smith, Dem., 2,070; Baldwin, Pro., 91; McCullough, People's, 25. Woolsey's plurality, 2,130.

Tenth District.

TIMOTHY BARRETT.

(Dem., South Orange.)

The Tenth Assembly District is composed of the city of Orange and the townships of South Orange and West Orange. Total vote cast in 1892—6,667.

Mr. Barrett was born in South Orange, Essex county, N. J., in 1858, and is a mason and builder. He was educated in the public school of his native town where he has always resided. In his early youth he became interested in politics, the constitutional phase of political questions having the most charm for him. When he attained his majority he became an active participant in local affairs, and since then public life has occupied much of his time. He was elected to the Board of Freeholders of Essex county in 1885 and was re-elected in 1886, when he became the leader of the minority of the floor, the Board being then a Republican body.

He served on the Board of Trustees of South Orange village, from 1887 to 1889, when he declined a re-election, but, however, was chosen to fill a vacancy in the following year; was elected again in 1891, and is still a member of that body, his comprehensive knowledge of municipal affairs making him a valuable officer. As a public speaker his abilities are of a high order, and he has been on the platform in every campaign since 1884. Mr. Barrett received the Assembly nomination in 1890, but owing to factional differences, he was defeated by a slender majority, with the balance of the local Democratic ticket that year. He is a member of the Jeffersonian Club; Secretary of the Board of Governors of the Democratic Society of the Oranges, of which organization he was a founder; member of the County Advisory Committee, District leader in South Orange for the County Committee, and First Lieutenant in Company H, Second Regiment.

Eleventh District.

AUGUSTUS C. STUDER.

(Rep., Montclair.)

The Eleventh Assembly District is composed of the townships of East Orange, Bloomfield, Belleville, Franklin, Montclair, Caldwell, Livingston and Millburn. Total vote cast in 1892—9,980.

Mr. Studer was born in Newark, N. J., May 10th, 1854⁴ and is editor and proprietor of the Montclair Times. Excepting about ten years of his boyhood, which he spent in Switzerland, and learned the French and German languages, the subject of this sketch has lived in his native city and Montclair. He attended the public schools of Newark, and at the age of sixteen entered the office of the Newark Daily Journal, then owned by the late Judge Guild. In 1877, before he had attained his twenty-third year, he removed to Montclair and started the Times. Several newspaper ventures had been unsuccessful in that town, which at that time contained about 4,000 inhabitants, and the course of the Times was beset with many difficulties. Before it had reached the end of its first year the office of the paper was destroyed by fire, but the Times grew and to-day it is one of the most successful Republican newspapers in the townships of Essex county. Mr. Studer has always taken an active part in politics. He is a member of the County Republican Committee and a member of the Republican Club in Newark.

Mr. Studer was Engrossing Clerk of the House in 1888, when both branches of the Legislature were Republican, and he has been the caucus nominee of his party several years for that position. Last year he served on the Committees on Labor and Industries and Passed Bills.

1891—Studer, Rep., 2,972; Woodworth, Dem., 2,289; Gould., Pro., 264. Studer's plurality, 683.

1892—Studer, Rep., 5,679; Marshall, Dem., 4,056; May Pro., 245. Studer's plurality, 1,623.

Ninth District.

MICHAEL J. COYLE.

(Dem., Hoboken.)

The Ninth Assembly District is composed of the First and Fourth wards, the First precinct of the Second ward, and the Third district of the Third ward of the city of Hoboken. Total vote cast in 1892—4,605.

Mr. Coyle was born in Ireland, June 10th, 1852, and came to America with his family in 1857, and settled in Brooklyn, N. Y. They removed to Hoboken in 1866. He is a merchant.

When the subject of this sketch was very young his father died, leaving a wife and four children. Mr. Coyle being the eldest and only son, he had the care and responsibility of the family on his hands, which he assumed and most manfully carried out by hard work, industry and honesty.

For fourteen years Mr. Coyle was an active member of the old Volunteer Fire Department, and for two years was foreman of Empire Hook and Ladder Company, No. 2, of Hoboken. His first political experience was in 1877, when he was elected a delegate to the Democratic State Convention and worked hard to secure the nomination of Leon Abbett for Governor.

In the spring of 1883 Mr. Coyle's activity in politics was mainly instrumental in making the city government of Hoboken Democratic, which it has continued ever since. He then became a Police Commissioner, a position he has held ever since through frequent re-appointments. His present term will not expire until 1895. In February, 1890, Mr. Coyle was appointed to fill a vacancy in the Board of Freeholders, caused by the death of James Kenney, and at the next fall election he was chosen for a regular term as the representative of the Ninth Assembly District. Last year he served on the Committees on Ways and Means and Railroads and Canals.

1891—Coyle, Dem., 2,259; Campbell, Rep., 580; Cypher, 9. Coyle's plurality, 1,679.

Tenth District.

CORNELIUS J. TAHEN.

(Dem., Hoboken.)

The Tenth Assembly District is composed of the Second precinct of the Second ward, the First, Second, Fourth and Fifth precincts of the Third ward of Hoboken, and the south district of Weehawken. Total vote cast in 1892—3,838.

Mr. Taken was born in Ireland in 1864, and came to this country when he was a year old. He attended St. Mary's Catholic School and No. 3 Public School, in Hoboken. At the early age of eleven he was compelled to make a living for himself by starting in the newspaper business, and at the age of fifteen he began to learn a trade as bag maker, with P. W. Lambert & Co, at 810 Broadway, New York. When twenty-two years of age he was elected Democrat Committeeman of Second precinct, Third ward of Hoboken, which position he still holds. In 1887, he was appointed Cattle Inspector by President Cleveland, which position he held until the Republican administration assumed control of affairs. He was elected an Alderman, April 9th, 1891, after one of the hottest political fights that ever took place in Hoboken, defeating three candidates by a plurality of 500 votes. His course in the Common Council has won for him much esteem and admiration. Last year he served on the Committees on Ways and Means, Incidental Expenses and Printing.

1891—Taken, Dem., 1,410; Seitz, Rep., 1,014; Besson, Ind., 40. Taken's plurality, 396.

1892—Taken, Dem., 1,952; Wiggins, Rep., 1,886. Taken's majority, 66.

WILLIAM TABER PARKER.

(Rep., Red Bank.)

The Third Assembly District is composed of the townships of Middletown, Raritan, Shrewsbury and Holmdel. Total vote cast in 1892—4,857.

Mr. Parker was born at Town Neck, Little Silver, Monmouth county, New Jersey, May 6th, 1844. He is a son of the late William Parker, who, during the term of a long life, was a prominent Monmouth county farmer. After receiving a good common school education, Mr. Parker chose the occupation of a farmer. His excellent judgment in anticipating the crops which would each year find the quickest and best market, and his great skill in the details of his work soon made him conspicuous among the successful farmers of Monmouth county. For many years he has filled different local offices, and for nine years in all he has served as a member of the Shrewsbury Township Committee. He has always strenuously refused the urgent requests of many friends who have from time to time pressed him to accept other public offices of more prominence and importance. In 1891 he accepted the Republican nomination for Assembly in the Third District only after it had been forced upon him, and his election then by a plurality of 524, and his reelection by a plurality of 404 in a Democratic district are construed as the best evidences of his popularity. Mr. Parker has not confined himself to farming of late years, but has engaged successfully in various business enterprises. He is a Director of the Second National Bank of Red Bank, and is also Secretary of the J. T. Lovett Company, which is extensively interested in the nursery and small fruit business. Last year he served on the Committee on Agriculture and Federal Relations.

Mr. O'Brien was born in Camden, N. J., October 2d, 1861, and is a lawyer by profession. His early life was spent in Philadelphia, where his elementary education was obtained in the public schools. At the age of seventeen he entered Lasalle College, from which he graduated with honors. His first effort of self-support was in one of the Quaker City hotels. Eight years ago he came to Morristown to fill the duties of a hotel clerk. By his close attention to business, affable ways and urbane manners, he not only won the respect and confidence of his employers, but the esteem and close friendship of all whose acquaintance he formed. When the proprietors dissolved partnership, and the hotel passed into the hands of a receiver, Mr. O'Brien was installed as manager, which position he held until he formed the acquaintance of Senator, now Governor, Werts, who was so favorably impressed with his business sagacity that he advised him to study law under his tutelage. Mr. O'Brien followed his advice, and engaged in the real estate and insurance business, to enable him to gain a livelihood and funds to pursue his studies. After a due course of study he entered the Columbia Law School, from which he was subsequently graduated.

Upon the elevation of Senator Werts to the Supreme Court bench, he transferred his large law practice to Mr. O'Brien, who is conducting it with great success.

1891—Smith, Dem., 2,215; Malley, Rep., 2,148; Thorp, Pro., 379. Smith's plurality, 67.

TIMOTHY MANSFIELD KELLY.

(Dem., Elizabeth.)

The First Assembly District is composed of the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Tenth and Eleventh wards of the city of Elizabeth. Total vote cast in 1892—5,480.

Mr. Kelly was born in Ireland, June 24th, 1862, and came to this country when ten years old. He is a lawyer by profession. His parents settled in Elizabeth, and the subject of this sketch, having previously received a course of instruction in the National School of his native place, entered the Singer Sewing Machine Works, where he remained several years. During his leisure hours he went to Prof. Curran's private night school at Elizabethport, and afterwards, through the courtesy of Abram S. Hewitt, attended for three years the night school and weekly lectures in Cooper Institute, New York. Mr. Kelly, in 1883, began to study law with the late Gen. J. Augustus Fay, and meanwhile contributed to New York periodicals. For six months he filled the position of City Editor on the Central New Jersey Herald in order to earn some money to help him along in his profession. He spent two and a half years with Gen. Fay and then entered the office of Judge T. F. McCormick, where he completed his studies. He was admitted to the bar in June, 1887, and was made a counselor-at-law in 1891.

Mr. Kelly, against his wishes, was advocated by his friends for the Assembly nomination in the First District in 1890, and after a memorable struggle in the convention, lasting two days, there being three aspirants, a deadlock resulted and the nomination by law having to be made that night he (the leading candidate) gracefully withdrew in the interest of harmony, and John Carroll was selected. Last year Mr. Kelly was the unanimous choice of the convention, an honor never before conferred on a first-term candidate.

1891—Carroll, Dem., 1,823; Schmidt, Rep., 1,271; Hoyt, Pro., 65; Harris, Labor, 195. Carroll's plurality, 552.

1892—Kelly, Dem., 2,979; Burns, Rep., 2,332; Shea, Labor, 102; Mackey, Pro., 67. Kelly's plurality, 647.

Second District.

THOMAS F. LANE.

(Dem., Summit.)

The Second Assembly District is composed of the Seventh, Eighth, Ninth and Twelfth wards of the city of Elizabeth, and the townships of Union, Springfield, Summit, Cranford and New Providence. Total vote cast in 1892—5,063.

Mr. Lane was born early in the sixties, in Nashua, New Hampshire, where his parents were school teachers. He resided at his birthplace only a few years, when his family removed to Summit—in 1871—then a small collection of houses, and his life has since been spent in that town.

He received the benefit of a good common school education, and eight years ago entered a diamond-importing business in Maiden Lane, New York. He remained in that business about two years, when he resigned his position to accept a place as cashier with a Wall street banking firm. This last place he retained until the latter part of 1886, when he left the business to assist in the management of the post office at Summit. He remained in the post office until the defeat of President Cleveland, when he immediately resigned.

Mr. Lane had been actively connected with the New York Herald and World and the Newark News and Journal, and a little more than three years ago he purchased the Summit Record. He proceeded to infuse new life into that journal, and has made it one of the most aggressive and influential Democratic weekly newspapers in that section of New Jersey.

He has for several years been very closely identified with the interests of the Democratic party, and is now Secretary for Union county of the State Association of Democratic Clubs. This is his third year in the Assembly. Last year he served as chairman of the Committees on Stationery and Printing and as a member of the Committee on Municipal Corporations.

1891—Lane, Dem., 1,832; Woodruff, Rep., 1,302; Valentine, Pro., 110; Hirzel, Lab., 140. Lane's plurality, 530.

1892—Lane, Dem., 2,455; Benjamin, Rep., 2,373; Bigelow, Pro., 179; Zimmer, Soc.-Labor, 56. Lane's plurality, 82.

Third District.

GEORGE KYTE.

(Rep., Fanwood.)

The Third Assembly District is composed of the city of Rahway, and the townships of Clark, Fanwood, Westfield and Linden, and the city of Plainfield. Total vote cast in 1892—6,059.

Mr. Kyte was born in South America, May 22d, 1846, and is a real estate agent. He was formerly a merchant. When only two years of age he migrated with his parents to this country, and at the age of seventeen enlisted in the United States army and served during the Rebellion. He has been a member of the township Committee of Fanwood six years, and has been a Chosen Freeholder since 1887. He also served as Justice of the Peace. This is his third year in the Assembly. Last year he served on the Committees on Boroughs and Sinking Fund.

1891—Kyte, Rep., 2,017; Flower, Dem., 1,513; Osborn, Pro., 178. Kyte's plurality, 504.

1892—Kyte, Rep., 3,290; Cohen, Dem., 2,595; Fountain, Pro., 136; Bell, Soc.-Labor, 18; scattering, 20. Kyte's plurality, 695.

Warren County.

First District.

L. MILTON WILSON.

(Dem., Blairstown.)

The First Assembly District is composed of the townships of Allamuchy, Blairstown, Franklin, Frelinghuysen, Greenwich, Hardwick, Independence, Mansfield and Washington, the town of Hackettstown, the borough of Washington, and the Second precinct of Oxford township. Total vote cast in 1892—4,298.

Mr. Wilson was born in Hardwick township, Warren county, N. J., September 17th, 1854, and is a merchant. He was formerly a farmer. He has been in the mercantile business in Blairstown for fifteen years. He served as postmaster of that town during the Cleveland administration. He has been Trustee of the Blairstown Public School for five years and takes a deep interest in its welfare. He never was a candidate for any other office until he was nominated for the Assembly, although he has always taken an active interest in important political events. Last year he served on the Committees on Unfinished Business, Miscellaneous Business and Commerce and Navigation.

1891—Wilson, Dem., 1,531; Raab, Rep., 695; Dufford, Pro., 271. Wilson's plurality, 836.

1892—Wilson, Dem., 2,224; Smith, Rep., 1,744; Davis, Pro., 330. Wilson's plurality, 480.

Second District.

RICHARD H. SHEPPARD.

(Dem., Phillipsburg)

The Second Assembly District is composed of the townships of Pahaquarry, Knowlton, Hope, Harmony, Lopatcong, Pohatcong, and the First voting precinct of the township of Oxford, and the towns of Belvidere and of Phillipsburg. Total vote cast in 1892—4,534.

Doctor Sheppard was born at Flemington, Hunterdon county, N. J., August 14th, 1853, and is a dentist by profession.

THE JUDICIARY.

United States District Court.

EDWARD T. GREEN, Trenton.

Edward T. Green, Judge of the District Court of the United States for the District of New Jersey, and the Associate of Hon. George Shiras, Jr., Circuit Justice, and the Hon. Marcus W. Acheson, Circuit Judge, in the Circuit Court, was born in Trenton, N. J., in 1837. He is a son of the late George S. Green and nephew of the late Chancellor Green. He was graduated at Princeton College in 1854, was admitted to the bar as an attorney in November, 1858, and as a counselor in November, 1861, He was attorney for several years for the old Camden and Amboy Railroad Company. For twenty years he was general counsel for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, a position he held at the time of his appointment as Judge. At one time he was City Solicitor for Trenton. He was sworn into office on Tuesday, October 29th, 1889, and succeeded the late Judge John T. Nixon. His salary is $5,000 a year.

Court of Chancery.

ALEXANDER T. MCGILL, CHANCELLOR, Jersey City.

(Term, seven years. Salary $10,000 per annum.)

Chancellor McGill, LL.D., was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., about forty-eight years ago. He came to New Jersey in 1854, when his father accepted a professorship in the Theological Seminary of the College of New Jersey. The Chancellor graduated from that college in 1864, which has since conferred on him the honorary degree of LL.D., and from Columbia Law School, New York, in 1866. He continued the study of the law with Edward W. Scudder, now a Justice of the Supreme Court, at Trenton, and was admitted to the bar as an attorney in 1867, and as a counselor in 1870. He was counsel for the city of Bayonne for two years, in 1874 and 1875, when he also represented the then First District of Hudson county in the House of the Assembly. He served on leading committees and took a very active part in legislation. He was at one time a law partner of ex-Attorney General Gilchrist. He served one term as Prosecutor of the Pleas of Hudson county, succeeding A. Q. Garretson, who was appointed Law Judge, and when the latter resigned that office Mr. McGill again succeeded him as Judge, an office he held when he was appointed Chancellor by Governor Green, on March 29th, 1887. He was unanimously confirmed by the Senate the 31st of the same month. His term expires on May 1st, 1894.

Vice Chancellors.

(Term, seven years. Salary $5,000 a year, and $10 for each actual day's work.)

ABRAHAM V. VAN FLEET, Newark.

Vice Chancellor Van Fleet was born in Hillsboro, Somerset county, January 6th, 1831. He was admitted to the bar in November term, 1852, and made counselor in 1858. He commenced the practice of his profession in Flemington, where he soon built up a large and lucrative business. He was appointed Vice Chancellor by Chancellor Runyon, and commissioned by Governor Bedle, in 1875, for a term of seven years. He was re-appointed in 1882, for another term, but tendered his resignation to Chancellor McGill in 1887, which was accepted, and he was re-appointed for another full term. He is considered one of the finest Chancery lawyers in the State. In politics he is a Republican. His term expires in 1894.

JOHN T. BIRD, Trenton.

Vice Chancellor Bird was born in Bethlehem township, Hunterdon county, August 16th, 1829. He attended the public schools of his neighborhood, and spent three years at a classical academy at Hackettstown. He studied law with Hon. A. G. Richey, then residing at Asbury, N. J., and was admitted to the bar in November term, 1855. For three years he practiced at Bloomsbury, this State. In 1863 he was appointed Prosecutor of the Pleas for Hunterdon county by Governor Parker. He then removed to Clinton and remained there till 1865, when he changed his residence to Flemington. He served one term of five years as Prosecutor of the Pleas. In 1868 he was elected by the Democratic party to Congress, and in 1870 he was re-elected. In 1882 he was appointed Vice Chancellor, to succeed Hon. Amzi Dodd, who had resigned, and in 1889 he was re-appointed for another term of seven years. His term expires in 1896.

HENRY C. PITNEY, Morristown.

Vice Chancellor Pitney, LL.D., was born at Mendham, Morris county, N. J., in 1828. He was graduated from Princeton College, in the Class of '48, which has since conferred on him the honorary degree of LL.D., and was subsequently a tutor in Lafayette College. He was admitted to the bar as an attorney in July, 1851, and as a counselor in November, 1854. He is regarded as one of the ablest constitutional lawyers in New Jersey. He was appointed Vice Chancellor for a term of seven years, in the spring of 1889. In politics he is a Republican. His term expires in 1896.

ROBERT STOCKTON GREEN, Elizabeth.

Vice Chancellor Green, LL.D., was born at Princeton, N. J., March 25th, 1831. His is the son of James S. Green, a lawyer and a sturdy Jerseyman, whose father, Rev. Dr. Ashbel Green, was President of Princeton College. The Vice Chancellor's great-grandfather, Rev. Jacob Green, of Hanover, Morris county, N. J., was chairman of the committee which prepared the first constitution for the State of New Jersey at the Provincial Congress, held at Burlington in 1776.

The Vice Chancellor was graduated from Nassau Hall in 1850, and since then it has conferred on him the honorary degree of LL.D. He was admitted to the bar in 1853, and became a counselor in 1856. He removed to Elizabeth in 1856, and at once became interested in the movement then on foot for the creation of Union county. He was largely instrumental in the passage of the act of 1857, which designated Elizabeth as the county seat. During 1857 he was appointed Prosecutor of the Borough Courts by Governor Newell, and the following year became City Attorney of Elizabeth. In 1868 he was elected to the City Council from a strong Republican ward, and so great was his popularity that he continued to hold the office by successive re-elections until 1873, when he retired. He was elected Surrogate of Union county in 1862, and appointed Presiding Judge of the Court of Common Pleas and County Courts in 1868. During the succeeding year he was appointed by Governor Randolph to the Commercial Convention at Louisville as a representative of New Jersey. In 1873 he was appointed by Governor Parker, and confirmed by the Senate, as one of the Commissioners to suggest amendments to the Constitution of the State. In 1884 he was elected to Congress from the Third District of New Jersey by a majority of 1,848 over John Kean, Jr.

The Vice Chancellor was one of the delegates to the Baltimore Convention of 1860, which nominated Stephen A. Douglass for the Presidency; was a delegate to the National Convention in 1880, which nominated General Hancock, and also to the St. Louis Convention in 1888, which nominated Grover Cleveland. In January, 1874, he became a member of the bar of New York as a partner of the firm of Brown, Hall & Vanderpoel, which afterwards became changed to Vanderpoel, Green & Cumming. He has been very successful in his profession, and is ranked as one of the ablest constitutional lawyers in the State.

In 1886 he was elected Governor, after a very exciting canvass, by a plurality of 8,020 over ex-Congressman Benjamin F. Howey, Rep., of Warren county.

He was appointed Vice Chancellor in 1890 for a term of seven years. His term will expire in the spring of 1897.

JUSTICES OF THE SUPREME COURT.

(Term of office, seven years. The salary of the Chief Justice is $10,000 a year, and that of each Associate Justice $9,000.)

Chief Justice.

MERCER BEASLEY, Trenton.

Chief Justice Beasley, LL.D., was born in Mercer county, N. J., in 1815. His father was Rev. Frederick Beasley, for many years President of the University of Pennsylvania, and at one time rector of St. Michael's Church in Trenton. His mother was Maria Williamson, daughter of Mathias Williamson, who was a brother of ex-Governor Isaac Williamson. He entered the Junior Class of Princeton College when a lad, and after remaining a year came to Trenton to study with his father, at the same time reading law under the tutelage of Samuel L. Southard, and later in the office of ex-Chancellor Isaac H. Williamson, at Elizabeth. He was admitted to practice at the September term of the Supreme Court in 1833, and became a counselor in February, 1842. As a young man at the bar, he was noted as a special pleader. He was particularly accomplished in the preparation of pleadings and famous for his accuracy and discernment. Upon his elevation to the bench, the advocates lost from among their number one of the very brightest in the whole State, and the Judiciary gained a member whose name is now known in all the courts of the land; who is excelled in knowledge of the law by few, if any, of the eminent jurists of America, and whose decisions are quoted constantly before foreign as well as home tribunals. Mr. Beasley, in his younger days, served as City Solicitor of Trenton, when that office paid only $15 a year. In 1851 he was the Whig candidate for Mayor of Trenton, when he was defeated by William Napton, Dem., by a vote of 783 to 491. He was a member of the Trenton Common Council, and served as President of that body in 1850. Of those who were admitted to the bar at the same time the Chief Justice was but few are still in the land of the living. Barker Gummere, ex-Secretary of the Navy Robeson, Judge Depue and a host of others, well known to the bench and bar, are younger members of the profession. In 1864 he was appointed by Governor Parker Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. He was re-appointed by Governor Randolph in 1871, by Governor McClellan in 1878, and by Governor Abbett in 1885 and 1892. In politics he is a Democrat. His term expires March 8th, 1899.

His circuit comprises the counties of Monmouth and Middlesex. Total population, 130,882.

Associate Justices.

(Eight altogether.)

DAVID AYRES DEPUE, Newark.

Justice Depue, LL.D., was born at Mount Bethel, Northampton county, Pa., October 27th, 1826. He is of Huguenot descent, and his ancestors were among the earliest settlers of Pahaquarry, Warren county, N. J. The family moved in 1840 to Belvidere, Warren county. The Justice entered Princeton College in 1843, and he was graduated three years later. He studied law under John M. Sherrard, and was admitted to the bar in 1849. In the same year he began practice in Belvidere. In 1866 he was appointed by Governor Ward a Justice of the Supreme Court, to succeed Justice Haines, and was assigned to the Essex and Union circuit, when he removed to Newark, where he has since resided. Union county was detached from this district when two additional Judicial districts were created by the act of April 6th, 1875. He was re-appointed by Governor Parker in 1873. In 1880 he was re-appointed by Governor McClellan for another term of seven years, and again in 1887 by Governor Green. He received the honorary degree of LL.D. from Rutgers College in 1874, and also from Princeton College, his alma mater, in 1880. In politics he is a Republican. His present term expires in 1894.

His circuit comprises Essex county. Population, 256,098.

EDWARD W. SCUDDER, Trenton.

Justice Scudder was born at Scudder's Falls, Mercer county, August 12th, 1822. He was graduated from Princeton College in 1841, and studied law with Hon. W. L. Dayton. He was admitted to the bar in 1844, at the September term, and was made counselor in October, 1848. He was a member of the State Senate from Mercer county for one term of three years, from 1863 to 1865, inclusive, and he was President of that body in the latter year. He practiced extensively in all the courts of the State until 1869, when he was appointed by Governor Randolph one of the Justices of the Supreme Court. In 1876 he was re-appointed by Governor Bedle, again in 1883 by Governor Ludlow, and again in 1890 by Governor Abbett. His term expires March 23d, 1897. He is a Democrat in politics.

His circuit is composed of the counties of Mercer, Hunterdon and Warren. Total population, 151,886.

Justice Van Sysckel was born April 17th 1830, in Bethlehem, Hunterdon county, N. J. He was prepared for college at Easton, Pa., entered Princeton College in 1843, and was graduated in 1846, in the same class with David A. Depue, now one of the Associate Justices of the Supreme Court. Immediately after graduating he entered the law office of Alexander Wurts, of Flemington, in which he remained until he was admitted to the bar, in 1851. He at once began the practice of his profession at Flemington. In 1869 he was appointed to a seat on the bench of the Supreme Court, and was re-appointed in 1876, again in 1883, and again in 1890. He is a Democrat in politics. His present term expires February 15th, 1897.

His circuit comprises the counties of Union and Ocean. Total population, 88,441.

JONATHAN DIXON, Jersey City.

Justice Dixon was born in the city of Liverpool, England, July 6th, 1839. He remained there until his eighth year, having attended the public schools for two or three years. His family then removed to Marypont, Cumberland county, in the same country, where his education was continued. His father came to the United States in 1848, and his family followed him two years later, and settled in New Brunswick, N. J. Jonathan became an inmate of the home of Cornelius L. Hardenbergh, a lawyer, who suffered from blindness, and to him the lad acted as attendant and amanuensis for nearly five years, or until September, 1855. In that year he entered Rutgers College, and graduated from that institution in 1859. He then entered the law office of his former tutor, Warren Hardenbergh, and studied there for twelve months. Upon Mr. Hardenbergh removing to New York, Mr. Dixon then entered the office of George R. Dutton, and subsequently that of Robert Adrain, both of these gentlemen being members of the bar of New Brunswick. While studying law, he taught school as a means of livelihood. He was admitted as an attorney in November, 1862, and three years later as a counselor. After being admitted as an attorney, he moved to Jersey City and entered the law office of E. B. Wakeman, in a clerical capacity, and in the spring of 1864 he formed a copartnership with his employer, which lasted one year. For five years he practiced by himself, and then formed a copartnership with Gilbert Collins. In April, 1875, he was appointed as Justice of the Supreme Court by Governor Bedle, in 1882 he was re-appointed by Governor Ludlow, and in 1889 by Governor Green. He is a Republican in politics, and was the candidate of his party for Governor in 1883, when he was defeated by Governor Abbott. His present term expires in 1896.

His circuit comprises the counties of Passaic and Bergen. Total population, 152,272.

ALFRED REED, Camden.

U. S. OFFICERS FOR NEW JERSEY.

U. S. District Attorney.

HENRY SIMMONS WHITE, Jersey City and Red Bank.

Mr. White was born at Red Bank, Monmouth county, New Jersey, July 13th, 1844. He studied medicine and graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York city, taking the degree of M.D. in March, 1866. He passed his examination, however, in 1864, but being under age did not receive his degree, and entered the U. S. Army as an assistant surgeon. At the close of the war he located at Red Bank and practiced medicine for two years. He then studied law at Columbia Law School, from which he was graduated in 1870, and also with Hon. William A. Lewis, of Jersey City. He was admitted to the bar of New York in June, 1870, as an attorney in New Jersey in November, 1872, and as counselor in November, 1875, since which time he has practiced the profession of the law in New Jersey and in New York. He has offices in Jersey City and New York, and lives at Red Bank, N. J.

He was appointed United States District Attorney for New Jersey in 1890, to succeed George S. Duryee, who had resigned the position. Salary, fees.

GEORGE T. CRANMER, Trenton.

Mr. Cranmer was born at Barnegat, N. J., December 6th, 1848. He was formerly engaged in the banking and brokerage, real estate and insurance business. He has been an active member of the State National Guard for a number of years, and, since 1875, Quartermaster of the Seventh Regiment. In 1878 he was the Republican candidate for member of Assembly, but was defeated by Hon. Rufus Blodgett, since a United States Senator. In September, 1879, without his solicitation, he was appointed, by President Hayes, Collector of Customs for the District of Little Egg Harbor, N. J., which office he resigned July 1st, 1880. In 1882 he was again nominated for member of Assembly, and elected over William J. Harrison by a majority of 477. In 1883 he was unanimously nominated for Senator, and elected over ex-Senator Ephraim P. Emson by a plurality of 36. In 1886 he was renominated for Senator, and elected over Judge Richard H. Conover by a plurality of 743. In 1889 he was again unanimously renominated for Senator, and elected over ex-Senator Ephraim P. Emson by a plurality of 272. He always took an active part in the proceedings of the Senate, and for many years was Chairman of the Senate Republican Caucus, and also of the Joint Republican Caucus. In 1889 he was unanimously nominated by the Republican Caucus for President of the Senate. He was an Alternate Delegate-at-Large to the National Republican Convention at Chicago in 1888, and also to the Minneapolis Convention in 1892. In October, 1891, at a convention of the State League of Republican Clubs, he was elected an Alternate Delegate-at-Large to the National Convention of Republican Clubs. He was appointed to his present office by Judge Green, in January, 1893, to succeed Linsly Rowe, who had resigned.

U. S. Marshal.

WILLIAM BUDD DEACON, Mount Holly.

Mr. Deacon was born near Rancocas, Burlington county, N. J., November 19th, 1837. He studied law with Hon. John C. Ten Eyck, and was admitted to the bar at the June term of the Supreme Court, 1859. In 1861 he was elected Clerk of the Board of Freeholders of Burlington county, and held that office until 1866. He was Deputy U. S. Marshal under his father from 1861 to 1868, when his father died. He was appointed U. S. Marshal by Justice Greer, to serve for the balance of his father's term, which expired in May, 1869. He was U. S. Collector of Internal Revenue from 1866 to 1869. In March, 1871, he accepted a position in the State Treasurer's office, which he held until 1875, when he resigned. In August, 1875, he was elected a member of the Board of School Trustees of Mount Holly. In 1877 he was elected a member of the 102d Legislature over Conk, Democrat, by 18 majority. He was re-elected to the Assembly in 1878 over Lloyd, Greenbacker, and Woodington, Temperance, by a majority of 1,165. He was elected to the Senate after a long and active canvass, defeating Caleb G. Ridgway, who occupied the Senatorial office, and Axtell, Greenbacker, by a majority of 842. On the 20th day of February, 1882, he was appointed U. S. Marshal by President Arthur, for the full term of four years, and on the expiration of his term, February 20th, 1886, President Cleveland failed to appoint his successor, and he was appointed by Justice Bradley, of the Supreme Court, to fill the vacancy, and held the office until April 20th following, when he was succeeded by A. E. Gordon, of New Brunswick. On the 20th of March, 1889, he was again appointed Marshal for a full term, which expires in March, 1893.

Mr. Deacon has always resided at Mount Holly, where he is President of the Mount Holly Gas Light Company, one of the directors of the Camden and Burlington County Railroad, and Secretary and Treasurer of a turn-pike company. He retains his law office, and when not prevented by official duties practices his profession. He has always been an earnest and active Republican, but has never permitted politics to interfere in the discharge of his official duties or disturb his social relations.

STATE OFFICERS.

Secretary of State.

HENRY COOPER KELSEY, Trenton.

Mr. Kelsey was born at Sparta, Sussex county, in the year 1837. He was educated and brought up in that town. At one time he was editor of the Jersey Herald; was Postmaster at Newton, and Judge of the Court of Common Pleas in Sussex county for four years. He was appointed Secretary of State by Governor Randolph, to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. H. N. Congar, and took possession of the office July 1st, 1870.

His term expired in 1871, and Mr. Kelsey was re-appointed by Governor Randolph, and confirmed by a Republican Senate for a full term, which expired in 1876. Again Mr. Kelsey was re-appointed by Governor Bedle, and confirmed by a Republican Senate for another full term, which expired April 6th, 1881. Governor Ludlow nominated him for another term of five years, and, the Senate refusing to confirm the nomination, the Governor appointed Mr. Kelsey to fill the vacancy for one year. In 1882 Governor Ludlow again nominated him for another term of five years, and he was confirmed by a Republican Senate. In 1887 he was again renominated by Governor Green for another full term, and was unanimously confirmed by a Republican Senate, and again in 1892 by Governor Abbott, when he was confirmed by a unanimous vote of the Senate.

His salary is $6,000 per year, and his present term expires April 1st, 1897.

By virtue of his office, Mr. Kelsey is Clerk of the Board of State Canvassers; Clerk of the Court of Errors and Appeals; Clerk of the Court of Impeachment; Clerk of the Court of Pardons; Clerk of the Prerogative Court; Commissioner of the State Library and of the Scientific School. In 1885 the Legislature appointed him a member of the State House Rebuilding Commission.

Mr. Kelsey is also a member of other boards, and the duties of his office in other respects are multifarious.

Mr. ALEXANDER H. RICKEY is Assistant Secretary of State. He "shall, during the absence or inability, through sickness or other cause, of the Secretary of State, have the same powers and perform all the duties which are now imposed by law on the Secretary of State."

State Treasurer.

GEORGE R. GRAY, Newark.

Mr. Gray was born in Newton, Sussex county, N. J., April 25th, 1842, which was his home until 1860, when he removed to Newark, N. J. He was engaged as book-keeper for the firm of William Wright and Company, then manufacturers of carriage springs on New Jersey Railroad avenue. In 1863 the business was removed to Passaic street, and the firm re-organized under the name of Passaic Spring Works. In 1867 Mr. Gray was taken into the firm as a partner and continued as such until January, 1875, when he was elected to the office of City Treasurer of Newark by the Common Council, which was that year Democratic. The Republicans were returned to power in 1876, when he was superseded, but was at once elected Secretary of the Board of Assessment and Revision of Taxes. In 1881, he was elected Superintendent of the Newark Aqueduct Board, and held that office until he resigned to accept the position of State Treasurer in March, 1891. In 1892 Mr. Gray was appointed by Governor Abbett as a Commissioner of the State Board of Electrical Subway to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of James Smith, Jr. His term of office is three years and his salary is $6,000 a year.

State Comptroller.

WILLIAM C. HEPPENHEIMER, Jersey City.

General Heppenheimer was born in New York city, March 27th, 1860, and is a lawyer by profession, practicing in New York and New Jersey, having been admitted to the bar of both States. He was educated at Heidelberg, Germany, and graduated from the Columbia College and Harvard Law Schools. In May, 1887, Governor Green appointed him an Aide-de-Camp on his personal Military Staff, with the rank of Colonel, and in 1889 he was appointed by Governor Green as Inspector-General of the National Guard. General Heppenheimer served four years successively in the House of Assembly from the Fourth district of Hudson county, and in 1890 he was elected Speaker of the House, having received a unanimous nomination for that office in the caucus of his party. In 1889 he won distinction as the leader of his party on the floor of the House, when he served as chairman of the Committees on Judiciary, Militia and Treasurer's Accounts. The General was elected State Comptroller in 1891, to succeed Major Anderson, after having received the unanimous nomination of his party for that office.

By virtue of his office the State Comptroller is a member of the following boards: Trustees of the Fund for the support of Public Schools, State Board of Education, Commissioners of the State Library and Commissioners of the Agricultural College Fund. His term of office, which is three years, will expire in March, 1894, and his salary is $6,000 a year.

Attorney-General.

JOHN P. STOCKTON, Trenton.

John Potter Stockton was born at Princeton, August 2d, 1826, and is a son of the late Commodore Stockton, U. S. N. He graduated from Princeton College in the Class of 1843, and studied law with the late Judge R. S. Field. He was admitted to practice as an attorney at the April term, 1847, of the Supreme Court, and was called to the bar as counselor in 1850, and practiced law in New Jersey until 1857, when he was appointed U. S. Minister to Rome by President Buchanan. He held that position until 1861, when he returned to his native land, and recommenced the practice of law in Trenton. He was elected to the Senate of the United States for six years, for the term commencing March 4th, 1865, to succeed Hon. J. C. Ten Eyck, but was unseated after serving one year. He was, however, re-elected to the United States Senate for the term commencing March 4th, 1869, and served the full term, when he returned to Trenton and recommenced the practice of law.

Senator Stockton was appointed, with Judges Ryerson and Randolph, as Commissioner to revise and simplify the proceedings and practice in the courts of law, and made a report to the Legislature, which was adopted.

He has been a delegate to several National Democratic Conventions, including that of 1884, in Chicago, which nominated President Cleveland.

He was appointed Attorney-General of the State for a term of five years, on April 8th, 1877, and in 1882, 1887 and 1892, he was re-appointed. His salary is $7,000 per year, and an annual allowance of $1,500 for clerical assistants. His present term expires April 5th, 1897.

Commander of the National Guard.

MAJOR-GENERAL JOSEPH W. PLUME, Newark.

Joseph W. Plume was born in Troy, N. Y., on the 23d of August, 1839. His grandfather was William Turk, M.D., of the United States Navy, a descendant of Antonie Janssen Salers, a wealthy Hollander, who settled in Gravesend (now a part of Brooklyn, L. I.) in 1631. Surgeon Turk married a daughter of Captain John W. Livingston, of New York, a Revolutionary officer, the lady being one of the fourth generation in descent from Robert Livingston, grandfather of William Livingston, Governor of New Jersey, during the whole Revolutionary epoch, who emigrated from Scotland to America in 1674, and subsequently became the original grantee of the famous baronial manor of that name, on the Hudson river. On his father's side, General Plume is a lineal descendant of Samuel Plum, one of the colony from Bradford, Connecticut, which settled Newark in 1666; and, grand-paternally, is descended from Captain Bastain Visscher, a Dutch navigator, who, in Hendrick Hudson's party, about 1609, explored the upper Hudson river, and, with others, afterwards organized the "Colonie of Rensselaerswyck," where the city of Albany is now situated.

In 1843 his father returned to Newark, and, since that date, General Plume has been a resident of that city. He was educated in the best private schools, and in early youth entered the banking business, which calling he has followed during the greater part of his life. He is now the cashier of the Manufacturers' National Bank of Newark, having held that office since the establishment of the institution, in 1871.

In 1857 he entered the ranks of Company C of the "City Battalion" of Newark—an organization which enjoyed a high prestige, during its existence, by reason of its fine personnel and its tactical proficiency—and remained a private therein for four years. On the 29th of May, 1861, he was commissioned First Lieutenant and Adjutant of the Second New Jersey Volunteers, holding this position until February 15th, 1862, when he was appointed Aide-de-Camp on the staff of Brigadier-General William H. French, the commander of the Third Brigade of Sumner's Division. On the 1st of June, 1862, he was appointed Acting Assistant Adjutant-General of this brigade, and on the 8th of September next succeeding he was appointed Acting Assistant Adjutant-General of the Third Division of the Second Corps. He resigned the latter appointment on the 19th of December, 1862, with a view to accepting the position of Assistant Adjutant-General, the resignation being accepted on the 20th of January, 1863. When, on January 31st, 1863, a commission as Captain and Assistant Adjutant-General was offered to him, he declined the same and retired from the service, as he deemed himself entitled to the rank, at least, of Major. While connected with the army of the Potomac, however, he participated in the battles of First Bull Run, Yorktown, Fair Oaks, Seven Pines, Gaines' Mills, Peach Orchard, Savage Station, White Oaks Bridge, Malvern Hill, Second Bull Run, Antietam and Fredericksburg.

On the 4th of November, 1863, he was appointed Major and Brigade Inspector of the National Guard of the State of New Jersey. During the following year, upon the recommendation of United States Senator William Wright, he was appointed a First Lieutenant in the Regular Army, but declined the honor. In the organization of the Thirty-seventh Regiment, New Jersey Volunteers, he was elected its Colonel, but declined the compliment on account of the regiment being enlisted for only one hundred days' service. On the 6th of July, 1865, he was commissioned Colonel of the Second Regiment, New Jersey Rifle Corps; and on April 26th, 1869, he was elected Colonel of the Second Regiment, N. G. N. J.; on the 8th of May, 1869, he was commissioned Brigadier-General of the First Brigade, N. G. N. J., and on the tenth anniversary of the date of this commission he was also commissioned Brevet Major-General, by General (then Governor) George B. McClellan. On the 4th of April, 1885, he was commissioned Major-General of the National Guard of the State of New Jersey, to succeed General Gershom Mott, whose sudden death had left the position vacant.

General Plume was four years a private, two years in the army, four years a Colonel, and sixteen years a Brigadier-General.

Adjutant-General.

WILLIAM S. STRYKER, Trenton.

General Stryker was born at Trenton, N. J., June 6th, 1838. He was educated at the College of New Jersey, graduating there in the year 1858. He commenced the study of law, and had nearly completed the course when the war broke out. As stated in "New Jersey and the Rebellion," he entered the military service of the country, in response to the first call for troops. He then assisted in organizing the Fourteenth Regiment, New Jersey Volunteers, and in February, 1863, was ordered to Hilton Head, South Carolina, and made Major and A. D. C. to Major-General Gilmore, then in command of the Tenth Army Corps. He participated in the capture of Morris Island and the bloody night attack on Fort Wagner. Subsequently, he was transferred to the North, on account of illness, and placed in charge of the Pay Department, U. S. Army, at Parole Camp, Columbus, Ohio. He was brevetted Lieutenant-Colonel for meritorious service during the war, and resigning in June, 1866, was soon after placed upon the staff of the Executive of New Jersey. On April 12th, 1867, he was made Brigadier-General and Adjutant-General of New Jersey, which position he holds at the present time. He was brevetted Major-General, for long and meritorious service, February 9th, 1874. He has compiled officially and published a "Roster of Jerseymen in the Revolutionary War," a "Roster of New Jersey Volunteers in the Civil War," and several works on historical subjects relating to New Jersey. He was made a counselor-at-law of the State of Ohio in the year 1866, was at one time President of the Trenton Banking Company, is a member of a large number of State and county historical societies, a Fellow of the American Geographical Society, and a member of the Society of the Cincinnati. He is now President of the Trenton Saving Fund Society. His salary is $1,200 per year.

Quartermaster-General.

RICHARD GRANT AUGUSTUS DONNELLY, Trenton.

General Donnelly was born at Richmond, Staten Island, in the year 1841, of an Irish father and an American mother of Scotch descent. He was educated in the district school of Richmond, and at a select boarding school near Belleville, Essex county, N. J. In 1854 he removed to Hoboken, N. J., and entered the law office of Hon. J. Dunn Littell, remaining there until the decease of his instructor, which occurred in 1857. He then entered into mercantile pursuits as a clerk. He began his military career in February, 1860, as a private in Company B, First Regiment, Hudson Brigade. At the breaking out of the War of the Rebellion he enlisted as a private in Company I, First New Jersey Volunteers, attached to Kearny's Brigade, Army of the Potomac, and was advanced to the grades of Corporal and Sergeant respectively, passing a creditable examination for promotion just previous to the battle of Gaines' Mills. At this engagement he was twice wounded, slightly in the left arm during the early part, and severely during the latter part of the fight. Left on the field of battle, he was taken prisoner and confined in Libby Prison until exchanged.

He was discharged from the United States services at McKim's Mansion Hospital, Baltimore, Md., by reason of physical disability caused by gun-shot wounds received in battle. He returned home, and, after a period of four months, was capable of resuming his position in New York city as a salesman.

In the year 1867 he removed to Trenton, and embarked in the hosiery and furnishing goods business, which he still carries on with the addition of that of ready-made clothing. General Donnelly re-entered the military service of New Jersey, March 18th, 1879, as Paymaster of the Seventh Regiment, National Guard. He was promoted Major, January 20th, 1881; Lieutenant-Colonel, May 31st, 1882, and Colonel, September 7th, 1882. He was appointed Quartermaster-General by Governor Green, January 13th, 1890, which appointment was sent to the Senate by Governor Abbett, and unanimously confirmed by that body, March 5th, 1890.

General Donnelly was selected by Governor Ludlow as the Major of the provisional battalion which distinguished itself at Yorktown, at the centennial celebration in 1881, and was proffered by Governor Green the command of the veteran camp at Gettysburg, during the ceremonies of the unveiling of the monuments, in 1888, to the New Jersey heroes of the battle of Gettysburg, which he was obliged to decline in consequence of other engagements. He was chairman of the Board of Commissioners to select grounds and erect buildings for the new Soldiers' Home at Kearny, which was completed a year or so ago. He was appointed a Trustee of the New Jersey State Reform School at Jamesburg, by Governor Abbett, in 1885. He was re-appointed by the Joint Meeting of the Legislature, in 1888. He is one of the Managers of the Home for Disabled Soldiers, having been appointed by Governor Green, on the recommendation of the Chief Justice, to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Hon. Rynear H. Veghte. In addition to the management of a large mercantile business, General Donnelly is interested in several stock companies and land associations as a director, notwithstanding which, he gives time to many beneficial and social societies to which he is attached, and indulges in a fair amount of healthful out-door recreations, which receive his encouragement. Taking the statement of the press throughout, the appointment of General Donnelly as Quartermaster-General gave much satisfaction, especially to the National Guard and the Grand Army of the Republic, of which latter organization he is also an active member, being a Past Commander of Aaron Wilkes Post, No. 23. In 1892 he was chosen Commander of the G. A. R., Department of New Jersey.

The office of Quartermaster-General carries with it the responsible positions of Commissary-General, Paymaster-General and Chief of Ordnance. Salary, $1,200.

General Donnelly is a Democrat in politics. He was twice elected to the House of Assembly, and has served two terms as Mayor of the city of Trenton.

Clerk of the Supreme Court.

BENJAMIN F. LEE, Trenton.

Mr. Lee was born in Port Elizabeth, Cumberland county, N. J., in 1828. His father, Hon. Thomas Lee, was a prominent public man, having served several terms in Congress and the State Legislature, and been a successful merchant in Port Elizabeth, where he died in 1856. The Hon. Thomas Lee was a brother of Colonel Francis Lee, of the Regular Army, and a graduate of West Point, who distinguished himself in the Mexican war, and the father of Dr. Thomas Lee, a surgeon in the Regular Army, who died in 1838 from disease contracted in the Florida war. This branch of the Lee family are descendants of the Lees and Alexanders (Scotch and Irish) who emigrated to this country prior to the Revolution.

The subject of this sketch finished a thorough English education under the tutorship of John Gummere, at Burlington, in 1845, and immediately entered his father's store, at Port Elizabeth, as partner. In time he succeeded the firm of Thomas and Benjamin F. Lee, and finally, in 1860, retired from the business altogether. In 1863 he was elected Treasurer of the Cape May and Millville Railroad Company, and in 1866 Treasurer of the West Jersey Marl and Transportation Company, which position he resigned upon entering on the duties of Clerk of the Supreme Court. He was for several years a Director of the State Agricultural Society of New Jersey. Like his father, he was always an earnest and active supporter of the Democratic doctrine, and took an active part in politics. In 1856 he was a Presidential Elector, and had served a term on the State Central Committee. In 1858 his friends of the First District presented his name in convention for nomination for Congress, and he received thirty-nine of the forty-one votes necessary to a choice. He was afterwards nominated for the Legislature from this district, which was largely Republican, and after an exciting contest, was defeated by only three votes. In 1870 Mr. Lee was nominated for Congress in the First District. The district usually gave 3,700 Republican majority, and that year about 1,500 colored voters were added, making nearly 6,000 to overcome, but he was defeated by only 1,800 votes. This was the first inroad made upon the large Republican majority in the district. In the Gubernatorial Convention that nominated Hon. Joel Parker, in 1871, Mr. Lee received 118 votes as a candidate for Governor—the entire strength of his district. In 1872 he was appointed, by Governor Parker, Clerk of the Supreme Court, which appointment was unanimously confirmed by the Senate. In 1877 he was re-appointed by Governor Bedle, and his appointment had the singular and unusual compliment of a confirmation by the Senate without the customary reference to a committee; and again in 1882, he was similarly honored by Governor Ludlow and the Senate, thus giving him a third term. And again in 1887, he was re-appointed by Governor Green and unanimously confirmed by the Senate, and in 1892 by Governor Abbett, and the Senate paid him a similar compliment. He is at present Treasurer of the Democratic State Committee. His present term expires November 2d, 1897.

Clerk in Chancery.

ALLAN LANGDON McDERMOTT.

Mr. McDermott was born in South Boston, Mass., March 30th, 1854, and has lived in New Jersey since 1856. He served his apprenticeship as a "typo," leaving his trade in 1871 to enter the law office of Hon. Leon Abbett. In 1872 he concluded to "see the country," and for two years traveled through the West and South as a newspaper correspondent. Returning in 1874, he resumed his legal studies with Hon. A. B. Dayton; graduated from the Law School of the New York University in May, and was admitted to the bar of that State in June, 1877, being admitted as an attorney in New Jersey in November of the same year, and as counselor three years later. In April, 1879, Mr. McDermott was appointed Corporation Attorney of Jersey City, which position he resigned in 1883, having been appointed District Court Judge by Governor Ludlow. In 1884 Governor Abbett appointed him a member of the State Board of Assessors, and in 1886 to his present office, Clerk in Chancery. In 1891 he was re-appointed by Governor Abbett, and unanimously confirmed by the Senate. In 1883 Mayor Taussig appointed Mr. McDermott a member of the Board of Finance and Taxation of Jersey City, and he acted as President of that body for nearly two years. The reforms inaugurated under his recommendations while in this position won for him the high esteem of the people of Jersey City. Upon his retirement from the board, in 1885, the Jersey City Argus paid Mr. McDermott the following compliment: "The withdrawal of Allan L. McDermott from the management of our municipal finances is a public calamity. His clear head, his honesty of purpose and untiring energy have rendered him of inestimable value to our city. He was conspicuously the right man in the right place. By his efforts, mainly, the assessments upon corporate property have been so re-adjusted as to yield annually an increased revenue of $217,000 to Jersey City. This service alone would be sufficient to merit for him the gratitude of the community. But he has done much more. He has introduced and enforced rigid principles of economy in our local expenditures, and has, with the aid of his colleagues, established an admirable financial system which has placed our credit above cavil or suspicion. In his retirement from this station, which he has so much honored, he will carry with him the respect and esteem of the people, who, so far as he is concerned, will accord to him the approbation due to the good and faithful servant who has done well."

Mr. McDermott was elected from the Fourth District of Hudson county to the Assembly in 1879 and 1880, and in 1881 was the Democratic candidate for Speaker of the House. He was Temporary Chairman of the State Convention which nominated Governor Abbett, and Permanent Chairman of the Convention which nominated Governor Green. He is now Chairman of the Democratic State Committee. To his services in that capacity is due, in no small measure, the extraordinary majority given for Governor Green in Hudson county; for Grover Cleveland, for President, in 1888 and 1892; for Governor Abbett, in 1889, and for Governor Werts, in 1892, and, also, for the marvellous success of his party in the legislative campaigns of 1890, 1891 and 1892. His term expires March 29th, 1896.

Superintendent of Public Instruction.

ADDISON B. POLAND, Jersey City.

Dr. Poland was originally a New England man. He was born at Winchendon, Worcester county, Massachusetts, March 26th, 1851. His boyhood was divided between the farm and the "district school" where his studies began. After leaving the village High School of his native place he was prepared for college at the Wilbraham Academy, and was admitted to Wesleyan University, at Middletown, Connecticut, at the early age of 17. After leaving college he was made principal of the Ashburnham, Massachusetts, High School. From the above place he was called to the principalship of the Salisbury, Massachusetts, High School. He resigned the latter position to take up the study of the law with the Hon. George F. Verry, Mayor of Worcester, Massachusetts, but the following year a tempting offer caused him to return to teaching and take the principalship of the Day Street Grammar School of Fitchburg, Massachusetts. From this position he was soon promoted to the principalship of the High School at Ilion, New York, whence he was appointed to the principalship of the Jersey City High School. After holding this position for nearly three years with the same marked ability and success, he was appointed to the Superintendency of the Jersey City public schools in 1887.

In the latter position he showed a force and tact which, combined with his large educational experience and study, enabled him to carry forward the work of that city in a manner that won the highest compliments of the Board of Education and the people. The degree of M. A. was conferred upon him by Wesleyan University in 1876, and that of Ph.D. by the University of the City of New York in 1890. He is at present an associate editor of the "Educational Review," the leading school publication of America. He has always taken a great interest in the educational work of the State. He is an active member of the New Jersey Council of Education, and was unanimously elected President of the State Teachers' Association for the year 1892. He enjoys the confidence of educational men throughout the country, and his appointment to and acceptance of his present office were asked for by nearly every prominent educational man in the State, he himself not seeking the position. His term will expire on March 1st, 1895.

State Prison Keeper.

JOHN H. PATTERSON, Trenton.

Mr. Patterson was born in the township of Middletown, Monmouth county, N. J., March 12th, 1834, on the farm that had been owned and occupied by his ancestors almost from the first settlement of the country. His grandfather was surveyor and one of the commissioners that located the Delaware and Raritan canal, was a member of the Assembly and Council (now Senate), and was one of the Judges of the Monmouth County Court for thirty-two years. His father, James Patterson, was an active business man. He was Director of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Monmouth county for seventeen years, was a member of the Assembly and Council, and President of the Council during the administration of Governor Pennington. Four of the Prison Keeper's brothers were graduates of colleges, one from Princeton, one from Madison University, of New York, and two from Columbia. The old people, in former years, did not consider it necessary for their children to have a collegiate education, except to enter a profession, as they termed it, and they believed a common-school education was all that was necessary for a farmer. Consequently, John H. was sent to a district school until he was thirteen years of age, when he went to work on the farm. In the summer he learned all kinds of farm work, and attended school in the winter. Before he was twenty years of age he caught the gold fever, then raging in California, and, much against the wishes of his people, he determined to migrate, and left New York in April, 1853, on the old ship "Illinois," commanded by Capt. Herndon, for San Francisco, and arrived there about May 1st. He started at once for Northern California, and, arriving in Shasta, engaged in mining and shipping goods from that place to the different mining camps. He returned home in the winter of 1856, at the earnest solicitation of his father, who was growing old, and located on the homestead of his ancestors on the north bank of the Shrewsbury river, Monmouth county, where he has since been engaged in farming, oystering, and the lime and vessel business. His grandfather and father were both Jeffersonian Democrats. The first vote Mr. Patterson cast was for John Bigler, the second time he ran for Governor of California, when he was defeated by Neilly Johnson, the Know-Nothing candidate; and for Joseph McKibben, who was elected to Congress, and who at one time was one of the proprietors of the Girard House, Philadelphia. Mr. Patterson was a member of the State Convention of California that selected delegates to the Baltimore Convention which nominated Jame Buchanan for the Presidency. He was always active in politics in his own county, and was nominated for Sheriff in 1868, was elected for one year, and re-elected for two years. In 1872 he was nominated for Congress over Robert S. Green, late Governor, and Hon. Miles Ross, who were candidates before the Convention. This was during the celebrated Greeley campaign, and owing to dissention in the party, caused by the nomination of Mr. Greeley, there was then only one Democrat elected to Congress in the State. Mr. Patterson was badly defeated, and he has often wished that either of his competitors had carried off the honors. When the Democrats gained the ascendancy in the Forty-fourth Congress, Mr. Fitzhugh, of Texas, was elected Doorkeeper of the House of Representatives. He was very soon removed, and Mr. Patterson was appointed to the position. He was a candidate for re-election, but, in the distribution of the patronage, this office was conceded to the South, and Colonel Polk, nephew of ex-President Polk, and a conspicuous Confederate Army officer, was chosen in his stead, but was removed two months afterwards for irregularities in office. Mr. Patterson returned to his farm and business, which engrossed his attention until he received the appointment of Keeper of the New Jersey State Prison from Governor Abbett, which was unanimously confirmed by the Senate. He was re-appointed in 1891.

His salary is $3,500 per year, and his term expires April 22d, 1896.

State Librarian.

MORRIS R. HAMILTON, Trenton.

Col. Hamilton was born at Oxford Furnace, Sussex county, N. J., May 24th, 1820, and is the son of the late Gen. Samuel R. Hamilton, of Trenton, who was Quartermaster-General of the State for twenty-five years, being the immediate predecessor of General Lewis Perrine in that office. He was of Scotch descent, Col. Hamilton being a great-grandson of John Hamilton, Provincial Governor of New Jersey from 1736 to 1747, and of Andrew Robeson, Surveyor-General of the Province at the same time—both being Scotch emigrants. The State Librarian was educated at the old Trenton Academy, Lawrenceville High School, and Princeton College, from which he graduated in 1839. He studied law with his father, and was admitted to the bar in 1842. He practiced in Camden two years, and in Philadelphia two years, in addition to being employed in the Philadelphia Post Office, from 1844 to 1849, when he resigned to take editorial charge of the Trenton True American, which he conducted until 1853, when it was sold to Judge Naar. Since that time he has been professionally connected with the press of New Jersey, New York, Missouri and Pennsylvania, having occupied editorial positions upon the New York National Democrat, the Sussex Herald, the Camden Democrat, Newark Journal, Sussex Record, Kansas City News, Elizabeth Herald and Philadelphia Record, during a period of thirty-five years. He obtained the title of Colonel by serving upon Governor Fort's staff from 1851 to 1854. He was elected State Librarian by the Commissioners, February 27th, 1884, for a term of five years, and was re-elected for another term in 1889. His salary is $2,000 a year.

State Board of Assessors.

BIRD W. SPENCER, President, Passaic.

General Spencer was born in New Jersey, in 1845. He entered the service of the New York, Lake Erie and Western Railroad Company January 1st, 1860, where he remained for twenty-five years. During that period he served as clerk, division superintendent, paymaster, cashier, assistant treasurer and treasurer. In 1863 he enlisted in the Seventh Regiment, N. Y., and has served continuously in the militia from that year until the present time. On May 4th, 1876, he was appointed Colonel and Aid-de-Camp on the staff of Governor Bedle; June 4th, 1878, Major and Deputy Quartermaster, and on May 23d, 1881, Brigadier-General and Inspector General of Rifle Practice.

He is now a member of the firm of Campbell, Morrell & Co., merchants, Passaic, and he is also president of the People's Bank and Trust Company. He has been Mayor of the city of Passaic three terms, or six years altogether, from 1879 to 1885. He was a member of Common Council for five years prior to his election as Mayor and he has also held that office since 1885. He was appointed a member of the State Board of Assessors by Governor Green, in May, 1889, for a term of four years. His term will expire in May, 1893.

FERDINAND H. WISMER, Newark.

Mr. Wismer was born in Berlin, Germany, July 27th, 1833. He was educated in the common school, and is a tailor by trade. He came to the United States in 1851 and to Newark in 1852, where he has since resided. In 1856 he cast his first vote for James Buchanan. In 1857 he engaged in the wholesale manufacture of clothing. He was elected twice a member of the Aqueduct Board of Newark, and was a Director of the German National Bank from 1876 until 1890, when he withdrew. He has been President since its organization (1881) of the Newark German Building and Loan Association. He was appointed a member of the State Board of Assessors by Governor Green in 1887, and again by Governor Abbett in 1891. His term expires in 1895.

OLIVER KELLY, Metuchen.

Mr. Kelly was born near Metuchen, Middlesex county, N. J., in 1847. His father, Christian Kelly, was a prominent citizen of New Jersey and is now dead. Mr. Kelly's mother still lives and resides with him at his home in Metuchen. He received a good common school education and afterwards entered the real estate business, which he conducted successfully for twenty years, both in New Jersey and New York. He was appointed Collector of the port of Perth Amboy by President Cleveland and held the office throughout his administration. Mr. Kelly has always been an active and influential Democrat, and his skill in politics has a State reputation. He was appointed a member of the State Board of Assessors by Governor Abbett in April, 1891, for a term of four years.

ANTHONY R. KUSER, Trenton.

Colonel Kuser was born in Newark, N. J., May 12th, 1862, but has resided a greater part of his lifetime on the old homestead of his parents near Trenton. He is extensively engaged in manufacturing pursuits, and is well and favorably known in business and social circles throughout the State and also in New York. He was appointed by Governor Abbett soon after his inauguration in 1890, as a member of his personal staff, and in 1892 the Colonel was appointed as a member of the State Board of Assessors and was unanimously confirmed by the Senate. His term will expire in 1896.

COLONEL JOHN T. VAN CLEEF, Secretary, Somerville.

Col. Van Cleef was born at Coxsackie, New York, July 9th, 1849, but the family removed their residence to Jersey City when he was less than one year of age. His father, Rev. Paul D. Van Cleef, has been pastor of the Wayne Street Reformed Church, Jersey City, for over forty-one years, and is also a trustee of Rutgers College. The Colonel's early education was derived at Dr. Hasbrouck's Institute, in Jersey City, and when twenty years of age he was graduated from Rutgers. In 1873, he was admitted to the bar, and later on he became a member of the firm of Fleming, Van Cleef & Van Horn, who had an extensive practice, making a specialty of corporation laws. In 1874-75 he represented the Sixth District of Jersey City in the Board of Aldermen. He was appointed on Governor Green's personal staff in 1888, and was re-appointed by Governor Abbett. To Colonel Van Cleef belongs the credit of having formulated the blanks upon which the railroads make their tax returns. They are not only thoroughly legal, but are convenient and easily understood. He has also compiled, with the assistance of Mr. J. Brognard Betts, the most thorough railroad map of the State ever issued. The Colonel has been Secretary of the State Board of Assessors ever since it came into existence in 1884. This position was extended to him at the personal solicitation of Governor Abbett, who had known him for ten years as the Secretary of the Board of Finance in Jersey City. Since his departure from Jersey City he has resided in Somerville, where he has been conspicuous as a party leader.

Superintendent of the Capitol.

BERNARD J. FORD, Trenton.

Mr. Ford was born in Ireland, August 27th, 1835, and came to this country at the age of eight with his parents. At the age of fourteen he began to learn the hat finishing business with the old-established firm of Rankin, Duryee & Co., of Newark, N. J. Mr. Rankin was the grandfather and Mr. Duryee the father of Hon. George S. Duryee. Mr. Ford has been identified with the hat-finishing trade union and took an active part in its organization. He was president for three years, and a delegate to the National Convention. He was elected treasurer of the National Association, but declined the office, and was unanimously elected a director of that body for four years. He has taken an active part in politics, and has been a delegate to the Democratic State Conventions for twenty-five consecutive years. In 1860 he was appointed Sealer of Weights and Measures by the Common Council of Newark, but after three months' service resigned. He was appointed Sergeant of Police in Newark, which office he held for one year and resigned, because police duty was not agreeable to him. In 1876 he was appointed Excise Commissioner of Newark by the late Mayor Perry, was re-appointed in 1880 by Mayor Henry J. Yates, and in 1883 was again appointed by Mayor Joseph E. Haynes. In 1885 he was appointed Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue by Mr. Samuel Klotz, which office he held until appointed by Governor Green to the position he now holds. He was a strong advocate of Grover Cleveland in 1884, and went to the Chicago Convention to do what he could for his nomination. He has attended every Democratic National Convention since 1864, and knows every prominent man in the State of both parties. Among his warm personal friends were the late Governor Randolph, Governor Parker, Francis S. Lathrop, and ex-U. S. Senator William Wright; also, ex-Governor Bedle, and Lewis C. Grover. He was identified with the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co. and the New Jersey Central Railroad for fifteen years, whose interests he looked after in the Legislature. His term of office expires on February 17th, 1897.

Commissioner of Banking and Insurance.

GEORGE S. DURYEE, Newark.

Mr. Duryee was born in the city of Newark, in 1850, and is a son of the late Peter S. Duryee, of that city.

After a three years' business engagement in his native city, Mr. Duryee entered Rutgers College, New Brunswick, at which institution he was graduated in 1872. He then entered the law office of McCarter & Keen, of Newark, and was admitted to the bar as an attorney in 1875, and as a counselor in 1878. He began the practice of his profession in Newark, where he has continued it ever since. In 1878 and '79 he served as a member of the House of Assembly from the then Fourth District of Essex county, and in the latter year he was the Democratic nominee for Speaker. In 1881 he was nominated by Governor Ludlow for the office of Clerk in Chancery for a term of five years, and was unanimously confirmed by the Senate. In 1886 he was elected a member of the Newark Common Council, from the Fourth ward, for a term of two years, and in 1888 he was appointed by President Cleveland U. S. District Attorney for New Jersey, and resigned that office in 1890. In 1891 he was appointed by Governor Abbett to the office of Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Colonel G. B. M. Harvey, and in 1892 he was appointed for a full term, and was unanimously confirmed by the Senate. His term will expire on February 9th, 1895.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH.

Previous to 1876 two State Commissions on Health had made reports. The State Board was formed in 1877, and since then the annual reports show the work accomplished. Its present members are as follows: Ezra M. Hunt, M.D., LL.D., Trenton; Prof. Cyrus F. Brackett, LL.D., Princeton; Franklin Gauntt, M.D., Burlington; Prof. A. R. Leeds, Ph.D., Hoboken; E. A. Osborn, C.E., Middletown; Edward R. O'Reilly, M.D., Elizabeth; Laban Dennis, M.D., Newark; John A. Githens, Asbury Park, with the Secretary of State, the Attorney-General and the State Geologist as members ex-officio.

C. F. Brackett is President, Ezra M. Hunt, Secretary, and E. A. Osborn, Recording Clerk.

In addition to the duties assigned to the Board under the constituting act, it has direct charge of the law as to contagious diseases of animals, adulteration of foods, the sale of petroleum and the sanitary inspection of all State and county institutions for the criminal and dependent classes. It also indicates the methods of studying the returns of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, as related to public health. The reports of the Council of Analysts, the Milk Inspector and the Veterinary Inspectors are made through it. Its report includes the report on Vital Statistics, formerly made as a separate report. Besides its special work, it is constantly consulted by cities and townships as to health ordinances, the removal of nuisances and plans for sanitary improvement. Investigations into local causes of disease are conducted under its direction. Its annual reports and its health circulars are widely distributed through the State. As the comfort of the people and the material resources of the State depend so much upon the health of the population, it is able to render efficient service in various directions.

STATE BOARD OF AGRICULTURE.

OFFICERS OF THE BOARD.

President, Edw. Burrough, Merchantville ; Vice-President, Morris Bacon, Greenwich ; Treasurer, D. D. Denise, Freehold ; Secretary, Franklin Dye, Trenton ; Executive Committee, Prof. E. B. Voorhees, New Brunswick ; Wm. R. Lippincott, Fellowship ; H. F. Bodine, Locktown. Also the President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer.

A part of the work of the Board, as stated in the law, is "to collect and disseminate reliable and useful information, and to encourage a higher standard in the agriculture and horticulture of the State ; to investigate such subjects relating to the improvement of land and agriculture, in its various branches in this State, as the Executive Committee may think proper ; to cause to be made, experimental and practical tests of specific remedies or cures of diseases of domestic animals and poultry, and of plants, vegetables and fruits, and of insects injurious thereto ; and to employ suitable persons to lecture before the State Board of Agriculture at its annual or other meetings, and in the counties of the State as far as the sum herein appropriated will allow."

The act provides, also, for the organization of County Boards of Agriculture in the several counties. These become a co-ordinate branch of the State Board, and are susceptible of doing the work of an agricultural institute for the farmers when thus organized. All farmers of the State can become members of the County Boards if they desire to, and through them have representation in the State Board.

There are sixteen County Boards now organized, also a State Horticultural Society and a State Poultry Association. The meetings of these societies are assuming the institute character, and their value as a means of practical information on all questions connected with the improvement of the farm, stock, dairy, poultry, fruit and market-garden interests of the State, is shown by the increased membership and attendance.

All these societies, except the Poultry Association, receive financial aid from the State Board appropriation, amounting to from $1,000 to $1,800 annually.

The low price received by farmers for what they have had to sell for a number of years past has had a corresponding influence in depreciating farm values. This fact, considered in connection with constantly increasing taxes, and scarcity and high price of efficient farm hands, has led to the long-continued depression in agriculture. Any aid in the way of legislation that may help this valuable industry to a more prosperous condition will be of general benefit, for its influence will be felt in all other branches of business. The value of lands suitable for farming purposes varies in different parts of the State, running from $30 to $60 per acre. Much of it was bought at twice and three times as much immediately after the war, and heavily mortgaged at 6 per cent. annual interest. The number of farms in the State is 34,307, having an average size of 85 acres.

Average yield per acre of the following crops in New Jersey for 1892 is, corn, $32\frac{1}{2}$; wheat, 15; rye, 13; oats, 27; buckwheat, 12; white potatoes, 67; sweets, 96. Pears and grapes gave good crops; apples and peaches were much below an average yield. There has been a reduction in the acreage of cereals in the State during the last decade amounting to 172,018 acres, or 22 24 per cent. Other crops, as dairy products, fruit, potatoes and market-garden crops are being substituted. Number and value of farm animals in the state in 1891: Horses, 97,257; value, \$9,898,090. Milch cows, 185,328; value, \$6,301,152. Oxen and other cattle, 65,820; value, \$1,846,867. Sheep, 100,075; value, \$395,497. Swine, 194,436; value, \$1,633,653. A total valuation of \$21,176,753.

There should be provision made by law for collecting statistics of all agricultural crops and stock in New Jersey annually. Now we are dependent upon the United States Department of Agriculture for what statistics we have, and they do not cover our multiplied and diverse farm industries.

About five thousand copies of the annual report of the State Board of Agriculture are distributed each year in New Jersey; and it is called for in almost every other State in the Union, in Canada, England, France, Germany, New Zealand and Japan.

ANNUAL MESSAGE

—OF—

LEON ABBETT, GOVERNOR OF NEW JERSEY,

--TO--

THE LEGISLATURE, SESSION OF 1893.

Delivered January 10th, 1893.

Gentlemen of the Senate and General Assembly:

In obedience to the requirements of the Constitution, I herewith present to you my annual message, showing the condition of the State and recommending such measures as I deem expedient.

CONDITION OF THE STATE.

I congratulate the Legislature and the people upon the condition of the State at the close of the fiscal year of 1892. Its financial condition was never better. It has no floating debt; the old debt was paid off during the preceding year and none has been incurred since. The balance in the treasury at the close of the fiscal year was $217,532.19 greater than at the close of the preceding year. The Comptroller's report shows that the net expenditures for ordinary disbursements, special appropriations, payment on the war debt and for other purposes, amount to $1,656,351.96. There is due at the date of this message on the old war debt the sum of $387,400, with more than sufficient assets in the possession of the State to pay this debt. There are assets in the Sinking Fund for this purpose amounting to the sum of $471,123.70, and the State owns 1,887 shares of the stock of the United New Jersey Railroad and Canal Companies which would now sell in the market for $437,784, and also riparian leases, the principal sums of which amount to $13,694.70, making a total of $922,602.40 for the payment of this indebtedness of $837,400. These war bonds would, therefore, be extinguished, but for the fact that they are not due, and the holders thereof demand a premium of thirty-five per cent. The debt is being extinguished as fast as it is legally possible to pay the same.

All the State boards and institutions are in excellent condition, and are being conducted as economically as possible, consistent with efficient management.

The policy recommended to the Legislature in 1884, and repeatedly since that date, has secured increased revenue to the State, and large sums have been paid thereunder to the localities from the tax derived from railroad and canal corporations. The liberal policy of the State toward miscellaneous corporations has largely increased its revenue from this source. This policy has induced numerous corporations to organize under our laws, and large amounts of foreign capital has thus been brought under our tax laws. The effect thereof is shown in the increase of revenue from this source; in 1885 it was $140,629.23, in 1892 it was $165,452.10. Many of these corporations come here merely for corporate existence, and to secure the benefit of exemption from the stringent laws of other States imposing liability upon directors and stockholders.

The result of this policy has been to secure to the State a large revenue which would have gone elsewhere, except for the existence of these liberal laws. This legislative policy has been, in my judgment, a wise one. The large revenues derived from it would not have been received if New Jersey had not offered greater inducements to capital than adjoining States. An illiberal policy would drive from the State the great mass of these corporations, which would seek investments elsewhere. It is our interest not only to keep them, but to encourage others to organize here, so that our people will derive a benefit from the revenue which they will pay. By reason of the large revenue received from railroad and miscellaneous corporations, our people have been relieved of the burden of a direct State tax for governmental purposes.

New Jersey imposes no State tax whatever, except for school purposes. The amount collected for this purpose is returned to the localities, and not retained by the State. The people have always been willing to pay tax for the support of free public schools. The only complaint has been that our agricultural communities have paid a larger portion of the school tax than the cities, and that this excessive burden was due to unfair school census returns made by certain localities. This complaint will have no force in the future. Under the recent act requiring a State census, an accurate and honest census of all the children of school age in the State has been taken, and this will serve as a basis for a fair distribution of the school tax raised. This census has been taken at a very small additional expense to that of the old census taken by the local assessors, while it has saved to the people of the State nearly one hundred thousand dollars, by eliminating from the census the names of thousands of children, that either had no existence or were outside the school age.

There is no necessity for any increased taxation, either upon corporations or individuals for ordinary State expenditures. The revenue we receive is sufficient to maintain all the different departments of the State government, and leave a surplus that can be used for extraordinary expenditures. The condition of the State, however, does not warrant any large expenditures for new buildings or extraordinary expenses. The only new source of revenue has been the imposition of a collateral inheritance tax, which, although but recently imposed, has secured to the State over $20,000 of increased revenue. If, however, the State should require additional revenue, the taxes upon railroad corporations can be increased until they pay equally with individuals. The municipalities of the State may properly ask for additional revenue, to relieve the heavy burdens now imposed upon them, which relief could be given them by removing the exemptions on corporate property taxed for local purposes allowed under the act of 1884, and such increase can legally be made until these corporations pay under the act of 1884 equal taxes with individuals in proportion to the property owned by them.

It has been suggested that the act which provides for the payment of the proceeds of new grants and leases into the State Fund be amended so that these moneys be paid to the School Fund. The net amount received by the State last year, after payment of expenses in collecting this fund, was $39,791.16. If this source of State revenue is to be extinguished it will diminish the power of the Legislature to use these funds for public purposes. If the money is paid into the School Fund it must be invested, and only the interest derived therefrom can be used. The principal is tied up for all time if once paid into that fund.

If any legislation is had upon this subject, as it will affect the State revenue, I recommend to the Legislature that it provide, first, that all the moneys expended by the State for salaries or expenses of the riparian board, or necessarily expended in collecting or taking care of this fund, be paid out of the moneys received from these grants and leases, so that the State will not be obliged to pay out of the State revenues the expenses of collecting the fund, when it receives no portion of it. The Legislature should then designate the use to which the balance of these receipts should be appropriated.

I recommend that the balance remaining be appropriated in bulk to the reduction of the State school tax imposed upon our people. The State school tax, and the other moneys expended for school purposes are heavy burdens in many farming localities, and I know of no better use for money devoted to school purposes than to apply it to a reduction of the State school tax, so as to lighten the burdens of taxpayers to that extent.

FINANCES.

The reports of the Comptroller and Treasurer present in detail the financial operations of the State for the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1892.

There are two funds referred to in these reports, one the State and the other the School Fund; they are kept separate from each other, and I shall deal with them in the same manner.

STATE FUND.

The State Fund received during the fiscal year the following net amounts:

RAILROAD TAX.

From tax on railroad corporations payable within the fiscal year,	$967,475 17
From tax on railroad corporations payable in former years and collected this year,	101,184 02
	<hr/> $1,068,659 19

MISCELLANEOUS CORPORATIONS.

From tax on miscellaneous corporations payable within the year,	$427,870 27
From tax on miscellaneous corporations payable in former years and collected this year,	$38,007 30
Less amount returned,	425 47
	<hr/>	37,581 83
		<hr/>
		$465,452 16

FEES.

From official fees from Secretary of State and as Clerk of Court of Pardons, Clerk of Court of Errors and Appeals, and from Commissioner of Banking and Insurance,	$32,535 38
Filing articles of incorporation, &c.,	108,821 86
Life, accident, casualty and fidelity insurance companies of other States,	11,025 21
	<hr/>	$152,382 45
Proper receipts for fiscal year ending October 31st, 1892,		75,608 04
Riparian lands—
Grants,	$33,268 54
Rents,	219 00
Licenses to dig sand, build railroads and improve lands under water, &c.,	20,750 00
	<hr/>	$54,237 54
Less amount paid to Riparian Commissioners,	12,000 00
	<hr/>	42,237 54
Judicial fees,		15,691 12
Interest and dividends,		18,870 00
Fines,		20 00
Sale of revised statutes,		275 00
Sinking Fund loans returned,	$23,400 00
Less amount loaned,	11,400 00
	<hr/>	12,000 00
Fees of commissioners,		575 00
Collateral inheritance tax,		21,598 80
Assessments on private acts,		50 00
Unexpended balance of appropriation for additional building, Home for Disabled Soldiers,		464 91
	<hr/>
Total net receipts,	$1,872,884 15
Balance on hand October 31st, 1891,	402,168 96
Total,	$2,276,053 11

DISBURSEMENTS.

Usual disbursements for fiscal year ending October 31st, 1892,	$1,269,890 47
Special appropriations paid,	87,051 10
Amount paid for expenses incurred in fiscal year ending October 31st, 1891, but paid in fiscal year ending October 31st, 1892, the items of which are shown in the Comptroller's report,	60,050 16
Paid on war debt,	52,600 00
Other expenditures,	186,760 23
	<hr/>
Total net disbursements,	$1,656,351 96
Balance on hand October 31st, 1892,	619,701 15
Total,	$2,276,053 11

The ordinary receipts on State account for the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1893, will in all probability be greater than those of the preceding fiscal year. There may, however, be a diminution in some of the sources of revenue, and it would not, therefore, be safe for the Legislature to act upon the basis of total ordinary receipts of over $1,800,000. This will leave a balance over ordinary State expenses for 1893, which can be used to meet appropriations heretofore made by the Legislature, and for which no other source of revenue has been provided.

ASSETS OF THE STATE FUND.

The securities of the State Fund are as follows:

1,887 shares of the stock of the United New Jersey Railroad and Canal Company of the par value of $188,700, now worth,	$437 784 00
Principal sums named in riparian leases, granted under act of March 19th, 1890,	13,654 70

I have not included in these assets the items of Centennial stock and bonds of the several counties of the State for surplus revenues of the United States, for the reason, as explained in my former message, that they are no longer of any value as assets.

SCHOOL FUND.

The investments of this fund are as follows:

Riparian leases held as the property of the fund,	$635,877 35
Bonds secured by mortgages,	563,413 50
Newark city bonds,	505,000 00
Bonds of school districts,	260,215 00
Union county bonds,	185,000 00
City of Bayonne bonds,	162,500 00
Mercer county bonds,	120,000 00
Real estate,	118,950 00
New Jersey bonds,	117,000 00
Hudson county bonds,	100,000 00
1,000 shares of stock of the Camden and Amboy Railroad and Transportation Company,	100,000 00
New Brunswick city bonds,	81,000 00
Paterson city bonds,	75,000 00
East Orange bonds,	72 500 00
Jersey City bonds,	50,000 00
Franklin township, Essex county, bonds,	50,000 00
Hoboken city bonds of 1890,	50,000 00
Town of Freehold bonds,	46 000 00
Union township, Bergen county, bonds,	42,500 00
Township of Kearney, Hudson county, bonds,	36,000 00
355 shares of stock of the New Jersey Railroad and Transportation Company,	35,500 00
220 shares of stock of the Trenton Banking Company,	11,000 00
Trenton city bonds,	4,000 00

There was also cash on hand to the credit of the fund at the end of the fiscal year, $321,974 00

This item of cash on hand must gradually decrease, because the amounts of money which are paid out, under various acts of the Legislature, exceed the income of the fund. During the past year there was paid out the sum of $39,174.04, in excess of the income of the fund. There was also a loss of $4,000 on real estate sold, and the sum of $798.49 was paid for accrued interest on bonds purchased during the year, only the principal of which is given in the list of securities in the School Fund. There was an increase during the year in the School Fund securities of $114,888.25, purchased and added to the fund.

The receipts of the School Fund during the past fiscal year were as follows:

From income—

Interests on bonds, and bonds and mortgages, . . .	$118,995 19
Rent on riparian leases,	38,441 21
Dividends on stock,	14,430 00
Rents on properties of School Fund,	1,583 50
	<hr/>	$173,449 90

From securities paid off—

Stocks and bonds,	$10,500 00
School district bonds,	18,127 50
Bonds and mortgages,	47,575 00
Riparian leases,	2,434 25
Real estate,	10,000 00
	<hr/>	88,636 75
Loss on sale of real estate,		4,000 00
School Fund expenses account (return of insurance premiums)		143 66
Balance on hand November 1st, 1891,		480,834 78
		$747,065 09

This amount is accounted for as follows:

Investment of school funds during year,	$207,525 00
Accrued interest paid on bonds purchased during the year,	$798 49
Loss on sale of real estate,	4,000 00
	<hr/>	$212,323 49
Disbursements on account of Normal and Model, Farnum, and Deaf-Mute Schools, Industrial Education, State School Dept., and other items shown in the Treasurer's report, . . .		212,767 60
		<hr/>
		$425,091 09
Balance on hand October 31st, 1892,		321,974 00
		$747,065 09

SINKING FUND.

The assets of the Sinking Fund at the end of the fiscal year, October 31st, 1891, were as follows:

Loans on bonds and mortgages,	$274,352 68
Unpaid interest due October 31st, 1891,	1,937 58
Real estate, cost per statement,	226,580 41
Due from Thomas Crozer on decree,	6 44 1
Balance in bank,	29,324 82
Making total of		$538,636 93

The Treasurer reports the assets of the fund for the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1892, as follows:

Loans on bonds and mortgages,	$269,066 68
Unpaid interest due October 31st, 1892,	$2,702 71
Real estate, cost per statement,	191,838 60
Due from Thomas Crozer on decree,	6,441 44
Balance in bank,	1,074 27
		$471,123 70
Decrease in assets during the fiscal year,		$67,513 23

This decrease is accounted for as follows:

Bonds and mortgages, October 31st, 1891,	$274,352 68
Bonds and mortgages, October 31st, 1892,	269,066 68
		$5,286 00
Real estate, October 31st, 1891,	$226,580 41
Real estate, October 31st, 1892,	191,838 60
		34,741 81
Balance in bank October 31st, 1891,	$29,324 82
Balance in bank October 31st, 1892,	1,074 27
		28,250 55
		$68,278 36
Deduct unpaid interest, increased,	765 13
		$67,513 23

The following amounts were collected and received on this account during the fiscal year, ending October 31st, 1892:

For interest,	$12,779 98
For rents,	4,020 76
For sales of real estate,	28,750 00
For mortgages paid in full and on account,	4,000 00
		$49,550 74
For State appropriation to pay war debt bonds due,	$52,600 00
For State loan to Sinking Fund,	11,400 00
		64,000 00
		$113,550 74
Balance in banks October 31st, 1891,	29,324 82
		$142,875 56

The following amounts were disbursed from this fund:

Expenses paid on real estate, repairs, seed and fertilizers, &c.,	$1,094 29
Expenses paid for commissions on sale of real estate,	475 00
Principal and interest of debt paid,	116,832 00
State loans to Sinking Fund, paid in full to date,	23,400 00
		$141,801 29
Balance in bank October 31st, 1892,	1,074 27
		$142,875 56

TAXATION.

The State Board of Taxation was formed under the provisions of an act passed in 1891 (P. L 1891, page 189). The act provided for the appointment of three Commissioners, and Albert H. Slape, Theodore P. Hopler and Charles C. Black were appointed, and are still acting. The Board was created to deal with the inequalities of taxation in different parts of the State in order to equalize these burdens. The farmers of the State, individually, in many cases, and through the State Board of Agriculture, and other organized associations representing this industry, favored some legislation which would give them relief.

There was no legal machinery in existence which would remedy the injustice of which they complained. The County Boards of Equalization of Taxation were powerless to do it; the courts under the writ of certiorari were unable to deal with the question so as to equalize the taxes; their functions were limited to correcting unfair assessments.

The Board made its first report to the Legislature in January, 1892, and although it had only been organized nine months, it had revised some gross valuations in certain counties in the State, and had corrected certain individual assessments; it had formulated rules for the government of assessors and had been of great practical benefit by its patience, care, industry and tact in the performance of its onerous and oftentimes unpleasant duties. The Board had won the approval of the intelligent and representative farmers of the State, for whose benefit it had been especially established.

The Board has now entered upon the second year of its existence, and the members have continued in the faithful performance of their duties. They have popularized the Board by having sessions in different parts of the State for the benefit of the people in the various localities, so as to save them the expense of a journey to the capital. The Board has been in session fifty-eight days; it has heard and decided two hundred and three cases on appeal; it has formulated new rules, and the members have performed their duties so effectively that they have received the well-earned commendations of the State Board of Agriculture, as will be seen by the report of its president. The entire yearly expenses of the Board have been $10,178 84, while the rules it has laid down for the assessors, and its watchful care in enforcing the same, have caused an increase in the list of ratables returned by the assessors in 1891 of $51,340,329, and in 1892 of $41,314,668.

The report of the Board contains certain recommendations suggesting new legislation. I call the careful attention of your body to the views as expressed therein and also to those stated in the previous report and which are referred to in my message of 1892.

The report will be presented to the Legislature under the provisions of the act creating the Board.

The main recommendations made by the Board are as follows:

First. Compelling assessors to obey the law by penalties of removal and forfeiture with increased pay of assessors in townships under ten thousand inhabitants.

Second. By making uniform in all taxing districts the time for assessment, and its completion, the collection of taxes, and lien on the property, and giving each taxpayer ample opportunity to see how the assessments are made, for the purposes of furnishing evidence for an appeal in case of unjust taxation.

Third. Re-drafting the law covering exemptions, and limiting the exemptions to those founded upon good reasons and public policy.

Fourth. Fixing a tax rate which shall not be exceeded in any taxing district.

Fifth. Requiring all assessments on lands and improvements to be made separately in municipalities.

Sixth. Giving the State Board of Taxation power to increase individual assessments.

Seventh. Requiring all incorporated companies in the State, on demand, to file with the State Board of Taxation a list of their shareholders, with the addresses, and requiring the said corporations to pay the tax on such shares as are held by non-residents of the State of New Jersey, thus increasing the amount of tax derived from invisible personal property.

Eighth. That there shall be no deduction for individual debts, except from the assessed value of personal property.

TAXABLE AND EXEMPT PROPERTY IN THE STATE.

In connection with the subject of taxation, it is interesting to consider the value of property in this State, and the extent of exemptions under existing laws, and the increase of ratables since 1879, and the wonderful increase during the past three years. The total assessed valuation of property in the State, subject to taxation, is as follows:

Value of railroad and canal property in 1892,	$216,249,782 00
Other classes of property in 1892, as appears by the return of ratables in the Comptroller's office, . . .	742,759,082 50
Total,	$959,008,864 50

To ascertain the total real and personal property in the State we must add to the above—

First—The deduction for debts made from the valuation of the real and personal estate of individuals by local assessors under section 20 of the act of April 11th, 1866, amounting to	41,300,000 00
Second—The amount returned by local assessors of exempt real estate, as required to be valued by the local assessors under section 4 of the act of March 19th, 1891, viz. :
Churches,	$20,000,000 00
Public school property,	8,627,131 00
Colleges and seminaries,	6,000,000 00
Cemeteries,	11,000,000 00
Public property,	12,000,000 00
	57,627,131 00
Third—The exemptions to veterans, National Guardsmen, firemen, etc., under special acts, amounting, as estimated by the State Board of Taxation, to . . .	8,000,000 00
Total,	$1,065,955,995 50

The inequalities in assessments and the violations of the law by local tax assessors in many localities, which demanded reform, were referred to in my inaugural message of 1890, and I there recommended the appointment of a non-partisan commission to examine into the subject. In pursuance of the recommendation, the Legislature passed a joint resolution, April 7th, 1890, providing for a committee of six persons to take into consideration the taxation of property, and prepare and report to the Legislature thereafter a bill for that purpose. This committee was appointed and their action was fully set forth in my message of 1891. They called attention to evils existing and suggested legislative action. Among other things recommended by them was the creation of a State Board of Taxation, in which I concurred. The Legislature passed an act creating this Board (P. L. 1891, page 189), whose work has been particularly referred to in this message. The action of the Executive, of the Commission, and of the State Board, together with the natural increase in the ratables of the State, has produced its effect, and the assessable valuation of real and personal property of the State (exclusive of railroads and canals) has, during the past three years, increased over $124,000,000, a greater amount than the combined increase of the preceding ten years, as will appear by the table given below.

These figures show the wonderful increase in the material property of the State during the past three years, under efficient and honest enforcement of the tax laws.

Increase in valuation in New Jersey from 1880 to 1892, inclusive:

	Increase.
1880,	$9,725,180
1881,	8,834,704
1882,	8,016,654
1883,	13,027,193
1884,	6,633,045
1885,	10,709,841
1886,	7,718,349
1887,	13,651,057
1888,	16,759,653
1889,	14,427,810
1890,	31,874,937
1891,	51,340,329
1892,	41,314,668

MUNICIPALITIES AND TAXATION.

I renew the recommendations in reference to this subject made by me in my message of 1892. Municipal taxation is the heaviest burden imposed upon the taxpayer, and the Legislature should endeavor to find some method which will render it impossible for extravagance, incapacity or fraud to impose unnecessary municipal burdens upon the taxpayer. If it had not been for the substantial aid received by the localities from the operation of the railroad tax act of 1884, certain municipalities would have been in danger of financial embarrassment.

I am still of the opinion, as stated in my last message, that the only sure method of limiting this burden is to fix a rate beyond which the local authorities cannot tax property.

The aggregate local tax assessed for 1891, as far as it could be ascertained from data in the Comptroller's office, amounted to $18,238,706.98, of which about three million dollars were used for the payment of interest. The total amount of municipal floating and funded debt for 1892, as far as can be ascertained, is $54,160,960.15, an increase over last year of $245,159.84.

This is a first lien upon property in different taxing districts. It has increased to this enormous figure under legislation authorizing the issue of bonds for public improvements and other purposes. The Legislature cannot be too careful in the passage of such laws; they should only be enacted to meet an emergency where imperative public necessity demands immediate improvement, whose cost, if paid for directly by taxation, would be oppressive to the citizen.

I annex a schedule showing in detail the places and amounts of debt by which this sum is reached, with a list of the places that have made no report to the Comptroller. These figures and this condition must impress the Legislature with the seriousness of this question.

I repeat what I said in my last message: "No service that the Legislature can render the people will be more gratefully appreciated than a law which will stop the increase of public debt, provide for the payment of that now existing, and secure a limitation of the tax rate for municipal purposes.

STATE TAX ON RAILROADS AND CANALS FOR LOCAL USES.

The taxing districts of the State have received substantial aid from the operations of the railroad tax act of 1884. Under its provisions certain taxes are collected by the State for local uses and paid to the localities. The amounts thus received necessarily reduce the sums required to be raised by local assessments upon the ratables. The following table shows the aggregate amounts paid for the following years to the State and to the localities thereunder:

YEAR.	STATE TAX.	LOCAL TAX.	TOTAL TAX.
1885,	$302,848 96	$221,924 50	$1,124,773 40
1886,	926,645 18	292,468 80	1,219,113 98
1887,	930,991 63	292,633 38	1,223,625.01
1888,	939,378 17	293,955 86	1,233,334.03
1889,	963,237.81	324,471.32	1,287,709.13
1890,	985,395 77	328,375 67	1,313,771 44
1891,	1,007,899 35	338,507 03	1,346,406.38
1892,	1,042,007.41	348,617 08	1,390,624 49

The details as to the companies paying this tax, and the municipalities and counties among which this local tax has been distributed, will be found in the Comptroller's report.

The amount of tax on railroad and canal corporations, levied and collected under the old law, for the year 1884, was $713,655 46. This whole amount was used for State purposes, and no portion thereof was paid to the localities. A comparison of these figures with those above given will show how greatly the State and municipalities have been benefited by the railroad tax legislation of 1884.

RIPARIAN COMMISSION.

This Board was re-organized under the act of March 10th, 1892 (P. L. 1892, page 84). Under this act I appointed Willard C. Fisk, Miles Ross, Gustavus A. Seide and Alvin P. Hildredth. The Governor is, ex-officio, a member of the Board. It was organized March 19th, 1892, by the election of the Governor, ex-officio, as Chairman; Willard C. Fisk, Vice-Chairman, and Robert C. Bacot as Secretary and Engineer. The former employees of the Commission were continued, and the business proceeded without any delay.

COLLECTED FOR STATE ACCOUNT.

During the fiscal year for grants in fee,	$33,268 54
Rentals on new leases,	219 00
License to Pavonia Yacht Club	100 00
Licenses to railroad corporations to cross lands of the State under water,	19,700 00
Licenses for taking sand, etc.,	300 00
License to improve land under water in Passaic river,	650 00
Total for State account,	$54,237 54

The principal sum of new leases amounts to $5,399.70. There was expended for salaries and expenses of the Board the sum of $13,275.39, to which should be added the sum of $1,170.99, being the October, 1892, expenses, which were not paid until after the close of the fiscal year. This leaves the net amount of money received by the State Fund from this source, $39,791.16

During the past year the School Fund received from this source the following sums:

Leases converted into grants,	$2,434 25
Rents received by State Treasurer on old leases,	38,441 21
Total received by School Fund,	$40,875 46

During the fiscal year an extraordinary expense was incurred by the completion of a new set of maps, sixty-one in number, showing all the riparian lands within the State, and having accurately located thereon the bounds of all the grants and leases heretofore made, with the name and date of the grant or lease. These were compiled from data in the office, and the expense of their compilation and the necessary investigation and work in connection therewith amounted to the sum of $467.55. This is not an annual expense, but forms part of the aggregate expenses above stated. These maps are of great value, not only to the Commission, but also to purchasers and others interested in riparian lands.

During the year I have acted with the Commission in making personal examinations of the lands of the State, so as to intelligently re-adjust prices to be charged therefor. Particular attention has been given to the southern portion of the State. The result of this action has been to materially increase the prices charged for the remaining lands of the State under water.

AGRICULTURE.

I have always taken a deep interest in the advancement and care of the agricultural interests of the State, and have been assisted by the Legislature in the passage of measures which have been recommended to me by the State Board of Agriculture and organized bodies having in charge the interest of the farmers in different localities of the State. I have at all times received the advice and assistance of the president and secretary of the State Board of Agriculture and the committees of the Board in furthering the interests of those engaged in this industry.

We have the New Jersey State College for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts; the Agricultural Experiment Station, and the Weather Service Bureau, which, with the State Board of Agriculture, have intelligently and successfully worked to disseminate scientific and practical knowledge among the farmers of our State. At the request of the representatives of this industry, and in order to relieve the farmers of unjust valuations, the law creating the State Board of Taxation was passed. This Board has performed its duties in such a manner as to receive the approval of the State Board of Agriculture, as will be seen by a careful perusal of the very interesting reports of the president and secretary of that Board, to which I call your careful attention.

In order to assist the farmers in their demands for good roads, the Legislature, upon my recommendation, passed two acts (P. L. 1891, page 380; P. L. 1892, page 346) authorizing the use of State funds to assist in the building of these roads, and making an appropriation of a sum not to exceed $75,000 per annum. There are now three roads in Middlesex county which have been completed under the provisions of these acts. The State has paid therefor $20,661.85, being one-third of the certified cost of their construction. These are the first roads that have been constructed in the United States under acts which provide for State aid for public highways. I am satisfied that these laws will be found to be of the greatest advantage in the near future to those engaged in agriculture, and that the farmers of the State will generally avail themselves of this legislation.

In addition to the recommendations I have made in previous messages, I earnestly invoke your attention to the suggestions made upon this important subject by the State Board of Agriculture and the other representatives of the agricultural interests of the State. There is, in my judgment, no industry which should receive greater consideration than agriculture. I am especially gratified that the State has taken advanced grounds upon this subject, and I am satisfied that the Legislature in the future will do everything within its constitutional power to make it profitable to those engaged in it.

In this connection I also call the attention of the Legislature to the report of the State Board of Agriculture, asking a further allowance to enable the Board to make a proper agricultural and horticultural exhibit at the Columbian Exposition in 1893. I recommend that a further appropriation be made so as to enable this Board to make such an exhibit as will be creditable to our farmers and advantageous to the State.

In view of the increased duties placed upon the president of the Board, by reason of the road laws, and the work in connection with the Columbian Exposition, his time has been almost continuously occupied in the service of the State, and I recommend that he be properly compensated.

I also desire to call attention to the very interesting and instructive reports of the president and secretary of the Board. They report that the interest manifested by the Executive in his messages, and the laws passed by the Legislature in conformity thereto, have advanced the popularity and usefulness of the State Board of Agriculture, and have enabled it to begin lecture work on scientific questions connected with this industry in all its branches in the counties of the State, through County Boards of Agriculture, Grange meetings, and Farmers' Institutes. The University extension movement, in charge of the State Agricultural College, is also an efficient means for the diffusion of knowledge upon this subject.

They refer also to the laws of the State in reference to roads, and recommend that they be left without radical alteration. They commend "the township road law" of March 28th, 1888 (P. L. 1888, page 240), and say that its wisdom has been demonstrated, and that the same is now generally approved, although there was much opposition to it at the time it was enacted. They commend the laws passed giving State aid to the construction of permanent roads, and favor the continuance of this law without amendment until it has had a fair trial. In connection with these acts, they also call attention to the Union county or Miller law, of March 19th, 1889 (P. L. 1889, page 58). These acts, they state, give a comprehensive and unique code for the control and improvement of roads in our State, and place New Jersey far in advance of almost every other State in her legislation providing for a practical system of permanent roads. These laws will be of incalculable advantage to our farmers, by lessening the cost of transportation and expenses incident thereto; they will also bring new permanent residents which will increase the population of the State and the value of our lands. The secretary states that the business of agriculture in New Jersey is steadily advancing to a higher degree of efficiency and productiveness; that the tendency of those engaged therein has been to abandon the production of cereals and employ their lands in the growing of other crops which will give a greater pecuniary yield. The more intelligent farmers of the State are ever on the alert to better their condition by making a change in their products, which shows a thoughtful appreciation of the advantage of producing those crops which pay better in the great markets which lie near to us in adjoining States. The variety and importance of these crops will be clearly manifest in the State exhibit at Chicago in 1893, under the supervision of the State Board of Agriculture.

Attention is also called to the advance of the dairy interests in this State, and the increase in dairy products, and the decided improvement in the raising of dairy cattle. It is suggested that those engaged in this business throughout the State should co-operate for mutual protection and reasonable profit.

The secretary calls attention to the necessity of legislation to control or suppress the swill-milk factories in some of our large cities, as both injurious to health and an unfair competition with the wholesome products of the farms.

He recommends the passage of a bill similar to that introduced at the close of the last session of the Legislature, for the purpose of securing the annual collection of agricultural statistics. He claims that, if it is wise for the State to pay out money for the collection of statistics for labor and manufacturing industries, there is no reason why farmers should not have the benefit and advantage of reliable statistics concerning this great industry.

He also calls attention to what was stated in my previous message, that there is no State in the Union where farm lands and improved farms can be purchased at such reasonable prices as in the State of New Jersey, considering its advantages in adjacent and profitable markets, and the productiveness and fertility of its soil. He believes, and I concur with him, that a large additional farming population would be attracted here if our advantages of cheap lands, fertility of soil and extensive and good markets were properly presented to those seeking investments.

He refers to the fact that the attention of colonizers and immigrants has been directed to the southern counties of the State, and the result has been an increase of population and productiveness in these localities, which have every assurance in their development of permanence and prosperity.

He also states that, as a factor capable of disturbing agriculture, the abandoned farm scare is a myth; that it arose from the fact that the cultivation of lands for cereals had ceased to be profitable, and that such lands are gradually being turned into the production of other crops which yield better revenue to the farmer.

STATE WEATHER SERVICE.

The work of the New Jersey Weather Service has been the preparation of the regular monthly and annual meteorological summaries, and the issue of the weekly "Weather Crop Bulletin." The crop bulletin was issued from May 6th to September 12th, and furnished to the farming interests throughout the State that information which is most useful to them, namely: The effect of current weather conditions upon the growing crops and their actual condition from week to week, from seeding to harvest time, as reported by seventy-five correspondents.

A permanent organization having been secured, much valuable climatic data will be obtained from its corps of fifty four well-trained meteorological observers. One hundred and eighty-three persons are now engaged in the voluntary performance of the duties of the service.

EDUCATION.

The condition of the educational interests of the State of New Jersey is very gratifying. There has been additional school accommodation provided for, as shown by the report of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the value of school property has increased nearly one million dollars. The school property of the State now amounts to $10,004,236. The total expenditure for school purposes during the past year was about $4,000,000. The sum of $748,718.78 was expended during the past year for new buildings and repairs, and additional accommodations were provided for 8,437 pupils. Our schools will now accommodate 235,839 pupils. The enrollment of children has been increased 5,754 during the past year, and 766 male and 4,015 female teachers were employed, being an increase of 144 over the preceding year. The average salary paid per month to the men is $75 34, and to the women $43.54.

Under the efficient management of the new Board there has been a decrease in the expenditures of the Deaf-Mute School of $18,088, while its general usefulness has been increased. The addition to the State Normal School has been completed and furnished and is now in use; it has greatly improved the efficiency of the school. The total amount expended for this building and its furniture was $48,000.

The new State census taken under the supervision of Hon. John J. Mathews, appointed for that purpose, has enabled the State Board to obtain a correct statement of the children of school age in the State, and will enable the Board to distribute the ten per cent. of the school tax upon a more equitable basis than heretofore. The old method of taking the school census, it was well known, was unreliable, and the new census has demonstrated that great injustice has been done certain portions of the State by the distribution made under it. We now have a census on which we can rely.

The incorporation of industrial features into the schools has been of great practical benefit, and is growing in public favor. For manual and industrial training there has been paid by the State during the past year $24,325.95, and the localities have raised a like sum for these purposes.

A special committee was appointed by the Board for the purpose of having a creditable display of our school system at the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago in 1893. This committee has devoted a large amount of time and work to obtain a complete exhibit. Free supplies of stationery have been distributed among the schools, and the State Superintendent issued a comprehensive circular of instructions concerning the plan to be pursued in preparing the various exhibits. The committee report that the amount apportioned them by the New Jersey Commissioners of the World's Fair is inadequate to make the exhibit such as the State should send to Chicago, and they ask for a further appropriation.

I take pleasure in calling attention to the work of the State Board of Education during the past year. I cannot summarize it better than by referring to the statement made by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, chairman of the Committee on Education. He said at the last meeting of the State Board of Education that greater progress had been made during the past three years in educational matters than in any preceding decade in the history of schools in this State; that the Normal School during that time had doubled its attendance, extended its buildings, enlarged its facilities and had reached an unexampled era of prosperity; that many economies had been introduced, so that despite its rapid development it had become, to a considerable extent, self-supporting; that the Model School had increased its number of pupils, and was more popular than ever; that the Deaf-Mute School had been fully re-organized, the expenses reduced and the efficiency of the school largely increased. During the same period a new and correct census of children of school age had been taken under the recent act of the Legislature, which was a great advance on previous methods; that the whole system of State examinations and the licensing of teachers had been re-arranged and improved, and the standard of efficiency throughout the State had been raised.

The laborious and gratuitous work of the members of this Board is deserving of great praise, and is, I am convinced, thoroughly appreciated by all those who are interested in educational matters in the State.

I call particular attention to the recommendations and suggestions made in the report of the State Superintendent, and the committees of the Board, to still further advance our free school system. Our people have never complained of any tax imposed upon them under fair rules for the education of the children of the State. Taxation for this purpose is willingly borne because the prosperity and the advancement of the State depend upon the education of its children. In my messages for 1891 and 1892 I dealt fully with this subject, and I call attention thereto in connection with what I have here stated.

NORMAL AND MODEL SCHOOLS.

The Normal School was established under the act of 1855 (P. L. 1855, page 25), for the training and education of teachers in the art of instructing and governing the common schools of the State. The school has had an exceptionally prosperous and successful year. Its course of study has been enriched, the standard of scholarship raised, and the methods of teaching sensibly improved by the new facilities placed at the disposal of the instructors. Since the establishment of the school it has graduated 1,429 teachers. The annual enrollment has increased from 43 to 398. Of this growth 143 have been added during the last three years, contemporaneous with an increase in the length of the course of study and the requirements for admission. During these three years the annual graduation has grown from 35 to 118. A very large percentage of the graduates are engaged in the actual work of teaching. They are well equipped for their work, as is amply demonstrated by the increased favor with which they are received, and the larger compensation which is paid them from year to year. The supply of these teachers is not equal to the present demand. An addition to the annual appropriation is asked, because of the enlargement of the corps of teachers rendered necessary by its growth.

The Model School is maintained as a pattern school wherein the Normal students can witness the best principles of teaching in practice and gain experience therein. This school is self-supporting. Its annual enrollment since its organization has increased from 125 to 603, there being a growth of 158 during the past three years. During these three years the annual earnings of the school have advanced from $13,959.46 to $19,794.65.

The total receipts of the two schools for the past year, including the balance from last account, annual appropriation, books and tuition, were $48,762.01. Disbursements, $44,567.17; balance, $4,194.84. During the past year the residence formerly occupied by the principal was added to and taken as an extension to the boarding halls and a new residence purchased for the principal. The capacity of the halls was thus increased to accommodate 120 additional students.

The receipts of the boarding halls for the past year were $56,659.43. Disbursements, $56,012.39; balance, $584.04.

FARNUM PREPARATORY SCHOOL.

The total enrollment of the Farnum School during the last year was 124. The total receipts for the year were $5,337.33. Expenditures, $4,379 88; balance, $957.45, an increase in the balance of $158.27 over that of last year. A small sum was spent for repairs during the year.

DEAF-MUTE SCHOOL.

The School for Deaf-Mutes is, on the whole, in a satisfactory condition. Its internal organization has been completely remodeled during the year, greatly to its advantage. The enrollment of pupils has remained practically stationary, although I think it reasonably certain that there are many deaf-mute children in the State who have not yet shared in the opportunities that it affords.

The number of pupils at the school during the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1892, was 142; the average attendance was 124½. The committee having the school in charge state that there is immediate need of extensive repairs, and an addition for hospital purposes.

NATIONAL GUARD.

The National Guard has been re-organized, in order to make it conform as nearly as possible to the new drill regulations of the regular army. The details have been carried out by the major-general commanding.

Since the State acquired title to the camp grounds at Sea Girt, additional improvements have been made which have beautified the grounds and placed them in a more perfect condition. There are still some needed improvements, as suggested by the Quartermaster-General, which will gradually be made, and when completed will make it an ideal camp ground in every respect.

The Second Brigade, under command of Major-General William J. Sewell, went into camp during the past year. The discipline, drill and appearance of the men, and the general improvement in the brigade in every respect were most noticeable and received cordial commendation, not only from the officers of the National Guard, but also from military visitors from every portion of the country. The expenses of the encampment were $27,228.68.

The National Guard has sustained a serious loss in the death of Brigadier-General Dudley S. Steele, whose long years of service in the guard, whose splendid soldierly qualities, and whose courteous and loveable disposition endeared him to every one connected with the service.

During the past year a provisional brigade, in command of Major-General William J. Sewell, consisting of twenty-five companies, attended the Columbian military parade and celebration in the city of New York on the twelfth day of September. The brigade was accompanied also by the Essex Troop. It was gratifying to the Commander-in-Chief, as it must have been to every citizen of New Jersey, to witness the magnificent reception given to the brigade and the troop on the line of march, and hear the encomiums passed upon their splendid appearance and perfect discipline.

The National Guard consists of 303 officers and 3,727 enlisted men, making a total of 4,030, which is an increase during the year of 204. This force is now organized into fifty-six companies of infantry and two gatling gun companies.

The total expenditures for National Guard purposes were as follows:

For encampment,	$27,228 68
For State Arsenal purposes,	5,657 64
For rifle practice,	5,551 70
Annual appropriation to companies in lieu of armory rent, etc.,	31,650 40
Expenses of State camp ground,	6,906 86
All other expenses,	22,580 43
Total,	<hr/> $99,584 71
The Quartermaster has paid into the State Treasury an amount, realized by the sale of arms of obsolete pattern, etc.,	14,770 15
Leaving the net amount paid by the State for National Guard purposes,	<hr/> $84,814 56

RIFLE PRACTICE.

There has been great advance in the proficiency of the soldiers of both brigades in rifle practice, as will be seen by the very interesting report of General B. W. Spencer, Inspector General of Rifle Practice.

He reports that great interest has been manifested in rifle practice, and that the results have been most gratifying. He reports that the skirmish instructions and drill followed, as closely as possible, that in use in the United States Army.

The figure of merit for individual skirmish fire was 15.36, being 13.95 for the First and 17.40 for the Second Brigade. Nine hundred and eighty-six marksmen and sharpshooters qualified, being an increase of 141 over the preceding year. Increased efficiency was shown by the increase of the State figure of merit from 29.18 in 1891 to 34.73 in 1892.

In 1892 there were 39 qualified as sharpshooters, making a score of 42 and upwards, against 23 in the preceding year. He refers to the splendid practice of the Gatling Gun Company. He suggests the adoption by the National Guard of the new rifle recommended by the army board to take the place of the Springfield rifle.

The competition of the teams representing the National Rifle Association took place during the past year at the camp ground at Sea Girt instead of at Creedmoor, which had been used for this purpose since 1871. The Sea Girt range has attained a national reputation, and it was gratifying to have the National Rifle Association select the rifle range at the New Jersey State Camp. Those competing expressed entire satisfaction with the camp and its management.

SOLDIERS' HOME.

On the thirty-first day of October, 1892, there were 461 beneficiaries in the Soldiers' Home at Kearny, being an increase of four over the preceding year. During the year 423 were admitted, 345 discharged, twenty-two summarily and two dishonorably, and fifty died. The average number per day was 483. Since the home was opened there have been 17,357 soldiers cared for by the institution. The total receipts for the year, including balance on hand, were $77,086.23. This includes a balance of the appropriation for the new ward, amounting to $6,000. The disbursements were $67,191.87, leaving a balance in the hands of the Treasurer of the home of $9,894.36.

At the close of the fiscal year 337 of the inmates of the home were receiving pensions from the general government, aggregating $38,171.92 per annum.

STATE PENSIONS.

The Adjutant-General reports that the State pension roll for veterans of the war of 1812 includes four persons, as against seven reported last year, three having died. Under the provisions of the act granting pensions to the soldiers of the National Guard, injured in the line of duty, or to the widows of soldiers killed in the performance of military service, there are now on the pensions rolls two soldiers and three widows of soldiers; one claim was allowed during the past year, and three applications are still pending.

PENSIONS UNDER ACTS OF CONGRESS.

The Adjutant-General's office has continued its work on behalf of those New Jersey volunteers who have unsettled claims for pensions pending before the pension department of the United States. Under joint resolution No. 1, approved March 10th, 1880, these claims have been examined in the Adjutant-General's office, and in proper cases their allowance urged upon the proper auditing officers of the United States Treasury. More than twenty-three hundred calls for information have been made upon the various departments of the United States Government during the past year in reference to pending claims for the relief of soldiers, sailors and their dependents, under the several acts of Congress, and great assistance has been rendered by the State to this class of our citizens.

GETTYSBURG MONUMENT COMMISSION.

This Commission was created under the act of March 13th, 1889 (Laws of 1889, page 52). Under this act William H. Corbin, Col. E. L. Stratton and Dr. George T. Riddle were appointed commissioners. I have received their final report, which they conclude with the statement that their term of office has expired, and that in their opinion it would be unnecessary to continue the Commission longer unless the State should undertake some new work upon the field of Gettysburg.

They report their receipts to have been $1,870.87 and their expenditures $1,783.97, leaving a balance on hand to be covered into the treasury of $86.90. There are upon the Gettysburg battlefield about three hundred and fifty monuments which are under the care of the Gettysburg Battlefield Memorial Association of Pennsylvania, which has control of the field.

The Commission reports that all the New Jersey monuments and markers, twenty-six in number, and their surroundings are in thorough order; that their solidity and simplicity in design will tend to render them permanent; that they are all of granite of most excellent quality, and that not the slightest deterioration is as yet noticeable in them, and that even without any care or attention they will stand for centuries.

The Commission, in the fulfillment of their duties, paid four visits to the Gettysburg battlefield, and caused, by direction of the Governor, a bronze tablet to be placed over the monument erected to Battery A, with the inscription thereon:

"Hexamer New Jersey Battery."

"Commanded in this battle by First Lieut. Augustine H. Parsons."

I call your special attention to the interesting history contained in this report of the monument to the First New Jersey Brigade, which was composed of the First, Second, Third, Fourth and Fifteenth regiments of infantry, the monuments to the Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Eleventh, Twelfth and Thirteenth regiments of infantry, the monuments to the First cavalry and the monuments to the Hexamer and Clark batteries. The report contains a clear and graphic description of the monuments, their surroundings and relations to this great battlefield, which will interest every patriotic citizen.

WASHINGTON ASSOCIATION.

The treasurer of this association reports that during the year ending November 1st, 1892, the association has expended for the care, maintenance and perpetuation of the headquarters at Morristown the sum of $3,247.29.

DEPARTMENT OF BANKING AND INSURANCE.

This department was created under the provisions of an act to establish a department of banking and insurance, approved February 10th, 1891. (Laws 1891, page 17).

The increasing number of banking, insurance and other financial corporations of like character, the growth of their assets, the important interests involved and the increasing duties of the Secretary of State, together with the limited powers of the State boards, made the creation of the department a necessity.

The efficiency of the work of the department since it has been in operation has been most satisfactory, and it has demonstrated the value of its establishment.

In most of the States insurance and banking corporations are under the control of separate departments, but they were united in this act in the interests of economy and good management.

The salaries of the department are paid out of the fees collected from the corporations under its control, and it is, therefore, conducted without expense to the State.

The department is supervisory in its character, and on the Commissioner is imposed all the duties formerly performed by the Secretary of State, acting as Commissioner of Insurance, and the duties of the Board of Bank Commissioners and other boards relating to these corporations.

The Commissioner is charged with the execution of all laws relating to insurance, banking, savings, trust, guarantee, safe deposit and other similar corporations.

At present 260 corporations are reporting to, and under the supervision of, the Commissioner. Careful examinations have been made into the condition of most of these, and successful efforts have been made through the courts and by other means to retire weak and failing institutions and to eradicate fraudulent short-term organizations.

The reports of the Commissioner will be found of great interest and invite careful examination. They contain comparative statements of the growth of the business of the various corporations reporting to the departments, and valuable information in reference to different kinds of insurance and banking institutions, the investment of their assets and the nature and volume of their business.

He calls attention to the improper use of the benevolent and charitable act of 1875, by a class of short-term endowment associations, which, while claiming to be benevolent in character, have been repudiated and generally denounced by the genuine benevolent organizations of the State. The recommendations of the Commissioner for legislation and his views concerning the enormous increasing fire waste throughout the country should receive consideration.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters have invoked official influence to secure legislation looking toward compulsory investigation into causes of fires and the prosecution of fraudulent cases. Some States have already taken action in this matter and others will undoubtedly follow their course in such legislation as will enure to the benefit of the companies and the property-owning public.

The losses by fire in the United States in 1891 reached the enormous total of $143,000,000, and in this State these losses increased from $1,152,220 in 1888 to $2,027,985 in 1891.

During the last session of the Legislature a bill was introduced to provide for the investigation of the origin of fires, but failed to pass. It provided for an investigation by the chief of the fire department, and in cases in which there might be a reasonable ground of suspicion that the fire was by design, an inquest was directed to be held by the coroner. The purpose of the act was not only to punish persons guilty of arson but to reveal special sources of danger and point out faults in buildings through which fire might originate.

After careful consideration of the subject, I am satisfied that a law should be passed providing for the appointment of a State officer by the Governor, to be confirmed by the Senate, who should, when directed by the Governor upon the request of any insurance company, investigate any fire in which such company was interested. The creation of such office should not entail any expenses upon the State, but the investigation, when made, should be paid for by the companies interested in the insurance. The limited revenue paid by these corporations to the State does not warrant expenditures from the treasury for this purpose, and their pecuniary interest in the result of the investigation makes it reasonable and proper that they should pay the expenses thereof. Such officer should report to the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance and be under his immediate direction and supervision as to the character of the investigation and the expense thereof.

STATE PRISON.

The State Prison account for the fiscal year, according to the Comptroller, is as follows:

EXPENSES.
Salary account,	$82,327 55
Maintenance,	83,077 91
Repairs,	5,042 49
Money paid discharged convicts,	1,348 50
	$171,796 45
From this deduct prison receipts as they appear in his report (a),	75,608 04
	<hr/>
Deficiency,	$96,188 41

(a) The Supervisor makes the earnings from convict labor $76,058.93. This would leave $450.89 which has been earned, but not turned over to the State treasurer.

The Supervisor reduces this deficit by a claim for increase on account of bills receivable and stock on hand October 31st, 1892, over October 31st, 1891, amounting to, 12,550 21

Which, if allowed, would reduce the actual deficiency of 1892 to, $83,638 20

The previous fiscal year embraced payments for thirteen months, including the accounts for the month of October, 1890, and October, 1891.

The elimination of this extra month made in my previous message, amounting to $7,233.97, left the deficiency on State Prison account properly chargeable to the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1891, $86,834.09. (a)

The daily average of prisoners confined in the State Prison during the last fiscal year was 975, of whom 946 were males and 29 females. This is an increase in the daily average of 24. The number of prisoners at the close of the fiscal year was 947, a decrease of 42 over the previous year.

The law authorizing the parol of prisoners by the Court of Pardons upon their obtaining the certificate of the keeper that they are proper cases for parol, accompanied by a certificate guaranteeing them employment upon their release, is highly approved of by the keeper of the prison.

The system of parol, while it releases the prisoner from physical confinement, does not pardon him or restore him to citizenship. His being at large depends upon his good behavior, and he can at any time be returned to the prison to serve out his sentence if his conduct is not that of a good citizen. The question of restoration to citizenship is left to be determined thereafter by the Court of Pardons, if it is found that he has continuously during the remainder of his sentence conducted himself in such a manner as to warrant the court in remitting the further penalties of his crime. Its good effect is shown by the fact that only two out of seventy-eight paroled have been returned. The remainder have shown by their conduct that the clemency of the court was wisely exercised. Under the provisions of the law requiring separate confinement for each criminal, the prison will only accommodate 706 inmates. This provision cannot be complied with because the number sent to the prison greatly exceeds the limit, and if it were not for those released on pardon and parol the condition of things in the prison would be intolerable by reason of over-crowding.

(a) The Supervisor reports that this should be $89,111.08. The difference, $2,276.99, he accounts for by certain debits and credits shown in his accounts. He debits cash returned to Comptroller in November, 1890, for receipts for month of October, 1890, but included by Supervisor in his report for fiscal year of 1890, $6,093 81. He deducts from this as credit three items, viz: Expenses of removing pregnant woman, paid directly by Treasurer, $9.80 amount of increase of accounts receivable and stock on hand October 31st, 1891, over 1890, $3,307.02; amount refunded keeper on account of over-payment made by him in 1890, returned by Supervisor in his report of 1890, $500. This leaves the above amount of $2,276.99, which he claims should be added to the sum of $86,839.09, and would make the real deficiency for 1891, $89,111.08.

The prison authorities report that the old wing, which is now used for blacksmith shops and other purposes, could be remodeled so as to give cell room for 200 additional convicts at an expense of $75,000, and that this change could be made without any practical interference with the management of the prison. If a new wing were built it would cost about $35,000 additional and would involve interference with the south wing now occupied by convicts, who, during the alteration, would have to be crowded into the remaining portions of the prison. The financial condition of the State warrants this expenditure of $75,000, and legislation should be had authorizing this change to be made under the supervision of the Governor and the prison authorities.

I again call attention to the recommendations in my message of 1891 in reference to the re-organization of the State Prison management, so as to decrease expenses, and to my suggestions for increasing the income of this institution. The annual deficiency is a heavy drain upon the State treasury.

STATE REFORM SCHOOL FOR BOYS.

At the close of the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1892, there were 348 boys in the institution, an increase of 19 over the previous year. During the year, 93 boys were committed to the institution, and 68 boys were returned, making the total number cared for during the year, 490. During the same period 75 boys were released on their recognizances; 39 indentured, 14 escaped, 7 were discharged, 5 died and 2 were returned to court as incorrigible. The boys are engaged in farming, printing, manufacturing brushes and bricks, and in various trades useful in carrying on the institution.

The State Reform School received during the year for maintenance the sum of $49,508.24, and for manual training a special appropriation of $5,000. In addition the school received from the sale of farm produce and live stock the sum of $2,602.12; from the manufacture and sale of brushes, $10,732.81; from the labor of the boys in the manufacture of brushes under the old piece-price plan, $526.34; from the manufacture and sale of miscellaneous articles, $493.81; from provisions and board, $71.54; from the sale of old articles, $46.60. The trustees also received directly from the State Treasury $284 for traveling expenses incurred in the performance of their duties.

All the expenses incident to these sources of revenue are charged to maintenance account, except the brush manufacturing account, the salary of the printer, whose time was devoted exclusively to instructing the inmates in manual training, and $138.36 for relaying the floor in the school room used for manual training. The expenses of the brush industry amounted to $12,899.59, leaving a deficiency over receipts of $2,166.78.

This industry has, however, to its credit money due for brushes

sold,	$1,462 64
Machinery, tools, etc., on hand, costing,	431 32
Manufactured and raw material on hand, valued at,	3,072 13

Assets to offset cash deficiency,	$4 966 09
---	------------

There was no income from the printing department, and the $1,000 salary paid the superintendent is all charged against manual training. Last year the institution was employed in the brush industry under the piece-price plan, and received for labor $3,092.77, the contractors furnishing the tools, machinery and all the materials. The contractors refused to continue the contract, and the institution was obliged to proceed with the work on its own account; this involved the purchase of machinery and material and selling the products.

The balances at the end of the fiscal year, October 31st, 1891,

were on maintenance account,	$4,220 27
On appropriation of 1887,	727 56
On library appropriation,	387 93
On lighting appropriation,	1,747 95
	$7,083 71

The balances on hand at the close of the fiscal year October 31st, 1892, were as follows:

On lighting account,	$1,747 95
On library appropriation,	387 93
On $5,000 paid in 1892 for manual training appropriation under act 1891 (L. 1891, page 495),	2,726 08
On maintenance account,	142 23
Total,	$5,004 19

The maintenance account was increased during the last fiscal year by the following expenditures, which are not annual charges:

New pump and repairs to steam pipe,	$2,113 86
Less amount taken from the appropriation of 1887,	278 60
Leaving,	$1,835 26
Amount spent for new uniforms,	2,213 54

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.

At the opening of the fiscal year there were 70 girls in the school and 20 out at service under indentures, making a total of 90 girls under the control of the trustees. October 31st, 1892, there were 87 girls in the school and 21 under indenture, making a total of 108.

The treasurer reports the receipts for the year as follows:

From State Treasurer for additional building and furnishing same,	$24,984 95
From State Treasurer for maintenance,	13,446 49
From State Treasurer for expenses of trustees,	118 40
From sale of produce,	418 42
Balance on hand October 31st, 1891,	1,214 76
	$40,183 02

The expenditures were:

For additional building and furnishing the same,	$24,984 95
For other purposes,	11,720 39
	36,705 34

HOME FOR FEEBLE-MINDED WOMEN.

The Superintendent reports that the institution had fifty-eight patients on September 30th, 1892, being an increase of sixteen over the previous year.

The report of the Treasurer of receipts and expenditures, from October 23d, 1891, to October 26th, 1892, is as follows:

Balance on hand, last annual report,	$370 53
Maintenance, State patients,	11,059 77
Maintenance, private patients,	719 92
State appropriation for building,	12,000 00
Advances,	3,084 50
	$27,234 72

The expenditures are as follows:

New building,	$12,202 40
All other expenses,	14,428 79
	<hr/>
Balance on hand,	$26,631 19
	603 53
	<hr/>
Total,	$27,234 72

The expenses per patient according to the above is $248.77 per annum.

SCHOOL FOR FEEBLE-MINDED CHILDREN.

This training-school is under private management, but the State has generally sent all the feeble-minded children to this institution, because it is situated in this State.

The State has paid for the education, clothing and maintenance of 163 children, during the fiscal year, the sum of $38,936.05. The average per capita per annum sum paid is about $280. The reports of the Board of Directors and of the officers of this institution make an excellent showing of the rapid and healthful development of every department. Without any aid from the State whatever, except a per capita yearly allowance for indigent children, the school has acquired a plant, chiefly through the generosity of public-spirited citizens, which the management estimate to be of the value of $70,000.

The inauguration and successful conduct of this school deserves just recognition. It is delightfully situated at Vineland, and in my visits to this institution I have been pleased with its management. It is a great charity, under the management of a Board deserving of high praise for its great work for these poor children, who appeal so strongly to our sympathies for their care and comfort.

STATE ASYLUMS FOR THE INSANE.

The work of the new Board created under the act of March 17th, 1891 (P. L. 1891, page 68) has been very gratifying. The Board has control of both the asylums at Trenton and Morris Plains. The Warden of the Morris Plains Asylum in his report to the Board compares the results accomplished in that asylum in 1892 with those of 1890, prior to the establishment of the new Board. It shows most gratifying results. The magnitude of the interests under the management of this Board was shown in my message of 1892. I there stated the value of the land and improvements and the number of patients and officers and employees under their control.

The medical director at the Morris Plains Asylum reports that the institution is overcrowded; that while the building was originally erected to accommodate not over 650 patients, the number at the close of the fiscal year was 949; that in order to increase the capacity of the institution, the fourth floor of the building, which was not intended to be occupied by patients, has been utilized in making the present capacity of the institution capable of accommodating 825. He also recommends that there should be an infirmary, detached from the main building, in which patients having contagious or infectious diseases can be isolated and cared for. He refers to the harmony existing between the business management of the institution, as carried on under the superintendence of the warden, and the medical department as carried on under his direction.

Trenton Asylum.

At the close of the fiscal year there were under treatment at this institution 878 patients, of whom 421 were males and 457 females, a gain of 58 over the preceding year. The total number treated during the year was 1,056, of whom 528 were men and 528 women. This is an increase of 67 over the largest number under care at the institution in any one year. The number of new cases admitted was 236, of whom 116 were men and 120 women. The daily average of patients was about 839. During the year, 178 patients ceased to be inmates of the institution, of whom 75 died, 69 recovered, 29 improved, 4 unimproved and 1 escaped. There were at the close of the fiscal year 759 patients classed as indigent, who are supported by the counties sending them, except one dollar per week per patient, which is paid by the State; there were 101 private paying patients, and also 18 convict patients supported by the State.

The receipts and disbursements for this asylum, according to the steward, were as follows:

RECEIPTS.

Cash on hand November 1st, 1891,	$40,888 55
Amount received from private patients,	30,684 71
From the counties for board and clothing and incidental expenses of county patients,	122,367 72
From State Treasurer for county patients,	37,337 57
From State Treasurer for convict patients,	6,714 88
From sundries,	1,975 29
	$239,968 72

EXPENDITURES.

Real estate, fixtures, grounds and grading, improvements to buildings and repairs,	$13,410 50
Wages,	51,701 43
Other expenses,	115,311 33
	<hr/>
	$180,423 26
Cash balance on hand October 31st, 1892,	59,545 46
	$239,968 72

The accounts of the treasurer and steward at the beginning and close of the fiscal year differ, because the treasurer did not pay an outstanding order of 1891 of $20.00 until after Oct. 31, 1891; there were unpaid outstanding orders Oct. 31, 1892, amounting to $41.30. These figures leave a balance of $21.30, which is just the difference between the balance of accounts of the steward and treasurer at the close of the fiscal year.

Morris Plains Asylum.

At the close of the fiscal year there were 949 patients at this institution, 471 males and 478 females, a gain of 51 over the preceding year. The total number treated during the year was 1,151, of whom 590 were men and 561 women. The daily average for the year was about 930. There were, at the close of the fiscal year, 791 patients who are classed as indigent, and are supported by the county sending them, except $1 per week per patient, which is paid by the State; 115 private paying patients and also 43 convict patients supported entirely by the State. During the year 253 new cases were admitted, of whom 135 were men and 118 women. During the same period 202 ceased to be inmates of the institution, of whom 68 recovered, 30 improved, 9 unimproved, 91 died and 4 escaped.

The total receipts and expenditures of this institution were as follows:

RECEIPTS.

Cash balance October 31st, 1891,	$6,444 62
Amount received from private patients,	41,449 47
From counties for board, clothing and incidental expenses of county patients,	140,715 41

From State treasury for convict patients,	16,067 38
From sundries,	7,623 67
	<hr/>
Total,	$252,259 12

EXPENDITURES.

Real estate, fixtures, grounds and grading, improvements in buildings and repairs,	$19,340 38
Wages,	46,537 53
Other expenses,	167,077 61
Total,	<hr/> $232,955 52
Cash balance October 31st, 1892,	19,303 60
Total,	<hr/> $252,259 12

The improvements on real estate, on account of new buildings, etc., and the increased value of stock and new materials on hand, which give additional value to the institution, and amount to many thousands of dollars, is included in these expenditures, and were deemed necessary by the Board in order to put the institution in proper condition. A more detailed statement will be found in the report of the warden.

The report of the warden also gives a comparative statement of the cost of maintenance in 1890 and 1892. In 1890 it was $126,698.54 and in 1892 $103,355.68, a reduction of $23,342.88, although the average number of patients in 1892 in excess of 1890 was 61 32.

The comparison is made between 1890 and 1892, because the new Board was only in office during seven months of the fiscal year of 1891. He also states that there is now

Due to the institution from the State, county, and private patients a sum which has been already earned during the fiscal year, but which has not yet been received, amounting to, . . .	$46,753 39
In addition, there is in store, according to inventory and estimation of appraisers, placed at actual cost price at wholesale, and fuel and subsistence, valued at market price, a total of, . . .	15,031 10
	<hr/> $61,784 49
From this sum should be deducted the liabilities properly chargeable to the fiscal year of 1892, including bills on file, amount due on pay-roll, etc., not paid in that year,	17,802 23
Additional credit beyond cash balance,	<hr/> $43,982 26

STATE CHARITIES AID ASSOCIATION.

The Board of Managers state that there should be a change in the laws which govern our jails, because under the present system commitment to jail is not dreaded; it is not looked upon as a place of punishment. They recommend cumulative sentences with hard work, and call attention to the probationary system in operation in Massachusetts, and recommend the passage of a similar law for our State. They report a steady and slow improvement in the management of alms houses, and the dismissal therefrom of a number of old and infirm persons whose relatives are able to maintain them. They call special attention to the necessity of legislation to stop the repeated return to the alms houses of women who seek its shelter for the birth of illegitimate children. They state that this evil is becoming so notorious that it is necessary to give it immediate attention.

They commend the management of the county asylums, but strongly condemn the keeping of the insane in a number of the county and town alms houses, and recommend legislation to prevent the continuance of the injustice and cruelty resulting from this state of affairs; they call attention to the desirability of providing trade schools for pauper children; they commend the State Institution for Feeble-minded Women and Girls at Vineland, and recommend that all restriction as to the age of those to be sent to this institution be removed by legislation.

They also commend the management of the Deaf-Mute School at Trenton, the Industrial School for Girls and the Reform School for Boys, and call attention to the fact that the State Prison and the Reform School are both overcrowded. They recommend the establishment of an intermediate reformatory, based upon the system at the Elmira Reformatory. They also commend the management of the Essex and Hudson Penitentiaries.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH.

I call attention to the important matters affecting the health of our citizens, referred to in the report of the State Board of Health. They embrace questions of water supply, sewage, house construction, plumbing arrangements, collection and disposal of refuse matter, and the management of contagious and infectious diseases. During the year special attention has been given to organizing local boards and instructing them in the details of their duties and privileges under our excellent system of sanitary laws. The Board has given special attention to the institutions of correction and charities, and report that there has been general improvement in State institutions, especially in sanitary matters. They report their conference with the Executive in reference to the danger to health and life caused by the cholera-infected ships from other countries lying in waters adjacent to our State, and to the use of Sandy Hook by the National Government for quarantine purposes. They report that all the necessary powers to protect our State from this dreaded disease can be exercised by the local boards, in connection with the special powers authorized to be exercised by the State Board over transportation companies. Active preparations were made to meet any possible contingency that might arise. The Board joined with the Executive in protesting against the use of Sandy Hook as a quarantine station by the United States, as such use was a menace to the health and lives of our citizens, and a most serious injury to the various summer resorts on our coast.

In view of the use of Sandy Hook by the United States for quarantine purposes, I called the attention of the President of the United States to the terms upon which jurisdiction was vested in the United States by the State of New Jersey under the act of March 12th, 1846. I claimed, on behalf of the State, that it was to be used only for military purposes, and that the use of it for quarantine purposes, as contemplated, was not within the mind of the Legislature at the time of the grant. I also insisted that if the United States exercised any power to use the ground for quarantine purposes, it could not permit it to be used by the State of New York without affirmative action on the part of the New Jersey authorities. I called attention to the fact that Sandy Hook was part of the mainland, and to the necessity of extraordinary precautions to be taken by the United States authorities if they used this land for quarantine purposes. I urged the employment of a water patrol and proper guards on the land to prevent any of the passengers from cholera-infected ports, or those having charge of them, coming in contact with any of our citizens.

I also urged that if the United States assumed quarantine jurisdiction, it should have proper vessels to take up and destroy all floating matter thrown from any of the incoming steamers or vessels, and that it should prevent in the future such dangerous matter being thrown into the waters of the lower bay, where it floated on our shore. I called attention to the fact that boxes and bedding from these steamers had already been found upon the shores of the township of Middletown, between Keyport and Atlantic Highlands; also to the fact that in former visitations of cholera our people who handled matter floating on the shore from cholera ships were attacked by this disease, and those now living there were naturally anxious lest the same result should follow from like causes; that if the United States assumed quarantine control of these vessels, its officials should secure the people living along the shore from this danger. I also called attention to the fact that our State and local Boards of Health were doing everything possible to guard against the cholera being introduced into the country through their jurisdiction, and that they desired to act in harmony with all other authorities working for a like purpose. The United States authorities, against the protest of our State, determined to use Sandy Hook for quarantine purposes, but promised to do all in their power to remedy the other matters complained of by the Executive and the State Board of Health.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY.

The work of the Geological Survey for the past year has been directed to the study and mapping out of the surface formation of the State, under the immediate direction of Professor R. D. Salisbury, assisted by C. W. Coman and others. The past year has been devoted to the additional study of certain areas with a view of showing their surface features upon the topographical maps, and has included the counties of Bergen, Hudson, Essex and Union. The greater part of Passaic and a large part of Morris and Middlesex counties have been mapped; nearly all of Monmouth county has been traversed, but further surveys will be necessary to complete this work. Work has also been done in tracing the Trenton gravel formation from its source at Belvidere to Trenton, and in correlating this gravel formation with the sands and gravels in the southern part of the State.

The State Survey has also co-operated with the United States Geological Survey in the study of the green sand marl and associated beds in the southern part of the State. This work has been in charge of Prof. William B. Clark, who was assisted by Mr. Coman; these observations covered the whole green sand marl belt, as well as the associated beds, which are assigned geologically to the cretaceous and tertiary ages. A geological map showing the areas of the several beds has been made of the eastern and northern parts of Monmouth and the southern part of Middlesex counties.

The work of collecting data for the report upon water supply and water powers has been continued, and has consisted in the measurement of the flow of a few important streams and the gathering of all available data from engineers and others; the reduction of these observations and the intelligent study of streams has required surveys to be made of some of the lakes and stream channels. When finished, this work will furnish the means for deducing accurate rules for computing the supplying capacity of our various streams.

It is highly desirable that official estimates should be had of the capacity of all important water sheds, and of the fitness or unfitness of their waters for domestic consumption, so that those interested may intelligently judge of their present or prospective value as sources of supply. It is intended that the report shall be a complete hand-book of reference upon this question, as well as a guide to the available sites for water power. This work is in charge of Mr. C. C. Vermeule.

Attention has also been given to the study of artesian and deep well borings in the central and southern parts of the State, and the investigation has yielded material valuable in the study of geological structures, and will be helpful in the location of sources of water supply.

The State Geologist, by permission of the Board of Managers, visited Europe and devoted considerable time to the study of the construction and location of the dykes of Holland, and the method of protecting the coasts against the sea. Every facility was given him by the officials of that country, and the knowledge obtained will be referred to fully in his report, with his conclusions as to how far the same can be utilized on our coast. His attention was also directed to the reclamation of land for agricultural purposes. He states that there are in New Jersey 296,500 acres of tide marsh lands, of which about 34,000 acres have been embanked and more or less improved. Nearly 25,000 acres of these tidal lands lie in Bergen, Hudson, Essex and Union counties, and within fifteen miles of New York City. He refers to the successful reclamation of such lands in parts of Salem and Cumberland counties, and their productiveness, as evidence of what can be done in other portions of the State.

The Geological Survey also directed its attention to the large tracts of wood land and brush land, not in farms, in the southeastern and southern parts of the State, in Monmouth, Ocean, Burlington, Camden, Atlantic, Gloucester, Salem and Cape May counties. These lands are capable of great improvement, and under proper reclamation will add largely to the productiveness of the State and the increase of its population.

The State Geologist calls attention to the great natural resources and capabilities of the State, and the wisdom of presenting to prospective immigrants the advantages of settlement upon unoccupied lands and cultivating them. He recommends that the subject be entrusted to some bureau or State department, or to the State Board of Agriculture, for the purpose of presenting these advantages to those seeking homes in the United States, and drawing their attention to lands in this State.

He has also directed the work of collecting materials illustrative of the natural products of the State, which he deems of economic importance, so as to prepare a proper exhibit for the World's Columbian Exposition in 1893. Collections have been made of building stones, ores, minerals, marls and geological specimens, for this purpose.

The expenses of the Geological Survey have been $13,-884.35.

PILOT COMMISSIONERS.

There are 54 pilots holding licenses from the Board, of whom 47 are in active service as Sandy Hook pilots, 2 as Amboy local pilots, and 7 are inactive or superannuated. The number of New Jersey pilot boats now in service is 8. No boats were lost during the past year.

The number of vessels piloted inward and outward were 2,578, and the gross amount of pilotage earned, including off-shore pilotage and transportation during the past year, was $180,593.34.

The Board states that considerable time, work and patience has been required in the adjustment of the pilotage on vessels that were detained at quarantine by cholera.

The Board reports that the joint agreement between the New York and New Jersey Boards, providing a system for the service of pilots otherwise than from pilot boats, is proving advantageous and satisfactory. It also calls attention to the fact that New Jersey has not its quota of pilots as compared with New York; that the laws of that State discriminate in favor of the pilots serving under that system, and against the New Jersey system; that the New York Board has made several pilots during the past year from boat keepers, while the New Jersey Board was unable to license a single one; that the condition of the law in New Jersey practically prevents the appointment of those who, in fairness and justice and for the good of the service, should be made pilots, and that New York has taken advantage of this to increase their number at our expense. The report calls attention to the fact that under the law as it now stands, requiring apprentices to serve four consecutive years on the same pilot boat, and three years as boat keeper, even the most faithful apprentice is liable to be dismissed from the boat as soon as his time is near at hand to be made a pilot, and it is the opinion of the members of the Board that, unless the laws are changed so as to give the New Jersey Board the same powers as the New York Board, the number of pilots in our State will continue to decrease, while those of New York will increase. This condition of affairs, in their judgment, should be remedied by legislation.

The Board expresses its appreciation of the energetic and faithful performance of their duties by the New Jersey pilots, and the cheerful assistance they have given to the Board in all cases when called upon; the report also refers to the friendly relations existing between the pilot boards of New York and New Jersey.

THE STATE LIBRARY.

The whole number of books, pamphlets, magazines, etc., in the library, October 31st, 1892, was 40,141, an increase of 1,555 over the previous year. I call attention to the very interesting report of Colonel Morris R. Hamilton, State Librarian, setting forth the advantages of the library and its usefulness.

WORLD'S COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION.

The Commission created under the act of March 18th, 1891 (P. L. 1891, page 186), has continued its work and deserves the highest commendation for the results accomplished. The members have visited Chicago, and have devoted a large portion of their time, to the exclusion of their private business, to make the exhibit of this State one of which every citizen will be justly proud; their self-sacrificing work deserves the encouragement of the Legislature and the gratitude of every citizen in the State.

In June last the Commission communicated directly with every manufacturer in the State, setting forth the importance, from a commercial standpoint, of a representation at the exposition, and in reply received applications from one hundred and five manufacturers and firms, residents of the State; and, in addition, thirty-four applications have been made directly to the authorities at Chicago.

The preparation of the exhibits to be made by the State Departments is well under way, and will consist of displays by the State Board of Agriculture, the Geological Survey, the Agricultural Experiment Station and the Board of Education.

The exhibit from New Jersey will, I am satisfied, show that our State stands, in comparison with the extent of her population and territory, first among her sister States in the variety and value of her manufacturing industries, her agricultural and mineral resources, in substantial wealth per capita, in natural location, in her unrivaled seaboard, in the high character of her educational institutions and her almost unequalled perfection of transportation. While sharing largely in the general industry of the entire country, she will show in certain specialties or branches of manufacture the greatest development, both as to the capital employed and the extent and value of production.

First in importance stands the great silk industry, which is largely concentrated in New Jersey, equaling, at least, the combined production of all the other States. In her various manufactures of iron, in connection with the value of certain ores peculiar to our State, entering largely into the highest grades of manufacturing metal, she will have a most prominent and important rank. In the manufacture of costly and artistic jewelry she will be found to be unrivaled. In the manufacture of glassware in its variety, and in the finest grades of pottery, her display will hold the highest rank in competitive exhibition. In her manufacture of leather she will be unrivaled. In the preparation of a series of photographic views she will present to those visiting the exhibition the progress made in her shore and health resorts, and her claims to supremacy as the leading seaside resort of the nation.

Under the authority of the Legislature a Board of Lady Managers was appointed, consisting of Mrs. Robert Adrain, Miss Mary F. Clark, Mrs. Thomas T. Kinney, Mrs. M. T. Barrett, Miss Rosa Murray, Mrs. Emily Warren Roebling, Mrs. Edwin A. Stevens, Mrs. Sarah G. Ware and Mrs. Margaret B. Yardley. This Board has organized by the election of Mrs. Edwin A. Stevens as chairman, Mrs. Thomas T. Kinney as vice chairman and Mrs. Emily Warren Roebling as secretary, and has entered heartily into the spirit of its work, and will undoubtedly succeed in making such a display of the handiwork of the women of New Jersey as shall be creditable alike to their sex and to the State.

The erection of State headquarters upon the exposition grounds at Chicago has occupied the attention of the Commission. Competitive proposals were called for, and some twenty plans were submitted. Three plans met with special favor from the Commission, one of which was finally selected. The one chosen represents a structure similar to the Washington Headquarters at Morristown. While it is not an exact reproduction of the building, the general lines and details have been adhered to. The historical associations connected with this building will make its reproduction one of special interest at the exposition. It is being constructed with a view of finally removing it to the camp ground at Sea Girt. It is centrally located, and it is expected will be completed about February 1st, 1893.

The Commission will ask for a further appropriation in order to make the exhibit commensurate with the dignity and history of the State, and in order that New Jersey may maintain her proper position among her sister States I recommend that a further appropriation be made for this purpose.

RAILROAD LITIGATION.

The most important litigation now pending are the several suits brought by the Attorney-General against certain corporations connected with what is commonly known as the Reading System. At my request, the Attorney-General has prepared a brief account of these suits, and the questions involved therein, which I have deemed of such great importance that I have caused the same to be published and transmitted to the Legislature for its information.

The condition of the litigation at present is this:

First, there was an information filed on May 30th, 1892, against the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey, the Port Reading Railroad Company and the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company; the Attorney-General obtained an order on the defendants to show cause why an injunction should not issue, and a preliminary injunction was granted by the Chancellor, commanding the defendants to desist from carrying out the alleged combination to increase the price of coal. The questions were argued before the Chancellor, each of the companies being represented by eminent counsel from this and other States; the State was represented by the Attorney-General, Barker Gummere and Frederick W. Stevens. The Chancellor filed his opinion October 25th, 1892. He held that the lease was not only unauthorized, but was expressly forbidden by law; that its effect was to combine the coal producers and carriers, and to partially destroy competition in the sale of anthracite coal, a staple commodity of the State; that such action was a corporate excess of power which tended to monopoly and to public injury. He granted an injunction which was served upon the defendants, directing them to desist and refrain from performing and carrying into effect the lease and the tripartite agreement, and directed the Central Railroad Company to take possession of its own road, and not permit the Port Reading or the Philadelphia and Reading to operate it, and directed the latter companies to desist and refrain from continuing to control the railroad, property and the franchises of the Central, and from in anywise intermeddling therewith. He commanded the defendants to refrain from operating their roads in this State in such a manner as to diminish competition in the trade of coal, and enjoined them from acting under any arrangement or combination having for its object, effect or result the control or operation of the Central Railroad Company by the other defendants. From this decision the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company appealed to the Court of Errors and Appeals, but the Central Railroad Company declined to join in the appeal. Testimony is now being taken in the case to be used on the final hearing.

On October 17th the Attorney-General filed a supplemental information charging that the injunction and orders of the Chancellor had been wilfully and deliberately violated. An order to show cause was granted why a receiver to enforce the orders of the court should not be appointed as prayed for. The matter was finally argued on the first day of December and is now held under advisement by the Chancellor.

The Attorney-General, on the seventeenth day of October, also filed an information against the Easton and Amboy Railroad Company, the Lehigh Valley Terminal Company, the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company, the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey and the Delaware and Bound Brook Railroad Company, charging that the action of the various companies had been ultra vires, and that the attempted lease to a Pennsylvania corporation was in direct violation of the laws of the State, and that its object was to accomplish a forbidden purpose and create a monopoly in anthracite coal. The rule to show cause why the information should not be granted was signed by the Chancellor, the defendants filed answering affidavits, and the informant obtained permission to cross-examine defendants' witnesses and take additional testimony as to certain new matter in the answer. Testimony is being taken in this case, and it will be presented to the Chancellor at an early day for argument.

On September 27th an information, in the nature of a quo warranto, was filed against the Port Reading Railroad Company with a view of forfeiting its charter, which litigation is still pending.

The final decision of these suits by the courts will establish the law upon the most important questions that can arise between the citizens of New Jersey and the corporations of this and other States. If the courts hold that they are powerless, under the law as it stands, it will be the duty of the Legislature to pass whatever laws may be necessary to protect our citizens. In the opinion of the Attorney-General the courts now have all the power necessary for this purpose.

I desire to express my high appreciation of the services rendered by the Attorney-General, and of his masterly presentation of the great questions at issue on behalf of the State; they are the most important that can affect the interests of our people and the great corporations interested in their decision, and their final settlement by our courts is awaited with intense interest. Everything that can possibly be done by the Executive or the Attorney-General has been done to protect the rights of the State and of the people, and in view of the great work and labor involved in these suits they have been advanced to their present status with unexampled celerity.

COMMISSION TO REVISE STATUTES CONCERNING TOWNSHIPS, TOWNS AND VILLAGES.

This Commission was created by an act of the Legislature, passed March 9th, 1891 (P. L. 1891, page 90), and under it the Governor appointed A. D. Campbell, George E. Pace and Jacob C. Hendrickson, commissioners to revise, simplify, arrange and consolidate all the general statutes of this State applying and relating to villages, towns and townships, which should be in force at the time the commissioners should make their final report. The commissioners were directed to lay a copy of the general statutes so revised and consolidated by them before the Legislature, and to suggest such contradictions, omissions and imperfections as appeared in the original text of the several acts, and how the same had been reconciled, supplied and amended; they were also to designate such acts or parts of acts as in their judgment should be repealed, with their reasons for advising such repeal, and also to recommend the passage of such new acts or parts of acts as in their judgment might appear necessary or expedient, either in lieu of or in addition to any of the acts so revised and consolidated.

The Commission organized on the second day of June, 1891, by the selection of A. D. Campbell as chairman, and George E. Pace as secretary, and immediately commenced the work entrusted to them. The preparation of this work involved as a preliminary thereof an examination of all the acts of the Legislature bearing upon every conceivable subject in which these municipalities were or might be interested. It involved the consideration of over two thousand sections of various acts, the manuscript alone of notes and suggestions taken therefrom covering over two thousand folios. It was necessary to consider the different acts in relation to each other, and discuss such amendments or changes as their own judgment or the experience of those interested therein might suggest. All this was preliminary to the consideration of the final work of the Commission, which involved the framing of a new act, and the giving of suggestions and reasons called for by the Legislature. The Commission found, as is shown in their report of 1892, that in order to render the act clear it was necessary to divide the subject matter into different general heads. This mode of treating the subject enables every one who examines the act to find under one heading all that properly belongs there. It relieves him of the necessity of searching under different heads and in various acts for the information desired. The Commission divided the matter as shown in their first report into six different headings, embracing subdivisions thereof amounting to forty in all.

The act under which the commissioners were appointed provides "that the said commissioners shall lay a printed copy of the said general statutes, so revised and consolidated by them, before the Legislature at its next session."

During that session the commissioners made a report covering sixty-six pages, which indicated the plan and scope of the work, leaving at least fifteen hundred pages of manuscript to be disposed of, the greater part of which was in the form of references to the various statutes examined and collated by them. The work being unfinished, a supplement to the act providing for their appointment and designating their duties was passed and approved March 22d, 1892 (P. L. 1892, page 157), extending the time for the completion of the work and the making of a final report to the Legislature. In proceeding with their work they have used the material and investigations made by them, so as to complete each subject as set forth in the subdivisions, stated in their original report, and they will present, in printed form, to the Legislature about two hundred and fifty sections of the proposed new law. To complete the work will require the framing of as many more sections, but these do not involve subjects which are so complicated, or require so much time in their consideration as the work already finished. The subdivision which required the most careful consideration, and involved the greatest amount of time is entitled "the duties and powers of the respective township officers." The importance of this subject and the time required for its consideration will appear from an examination of the work of the commissioners, which shows that over two hundred sections of the proposed act are devoted exhaustively to its treatment.

The work as far as it has gone, even if the Legislature should not pass the act suggested, is exceedingly valuable, containing as it does references to all the laws upon the subject treated, and it will be of the greatest importance to the courts, the bar and to all interested in township matters. The completion of the work upon the lines indicated by the Commission will present, not only a proposed new act, but, in itself, will be an exhaustive brief upon all the subjects treated, and an invaluable aid in any consideration of township legislation.

I recommend that the Legislature act upon the report of the Commission as far as it has completed its work, and that it consider the propriety of passing an act embracing the sections reported. Such an act, although leaving certain portions of the work to be considered hereafter, and to be dealt with by other laws, will simplify the subject so far as it has been treated by the Commission, and will furnish the township officers and those interested, with a plain, clear statement of their duties and powers in matters which are dealt with every day by this important class of officials.

It is clear that the work of the Commission cannot be fully completed during the present session of the Legislature. In view of what has been accomplished, and the wisdom and necessity of clear and comprehensive laws upon this subject, I recommend that the Commission be continued, in order that its work may be finished. In my judgment, the work can be fully completed during the present year.

LABOR BUREAU.

The Chief of the Bureau reports that it has continued the investigation, begun in 1889, of the effect of occupation on the health and trade life of those employed in industrial pursuits in this State. The inquiry has embraced fully 5,000 wage-workers engaged as railroad trainmen, seagarmakers and bakers, and since the beginning of the investigation it has covered over 18,000 journeymen actively employed in their respective trades.

He also reports that the returns from the building and loan associations of this State show the following results for the year: There has been an increase of 21 of these associations; the number of shares outstanding and in force show an increase of 52,000 during the year; the number of shareholders show an increase of 9,000 during the year; and the number of shares pledged for advances from the associations show an increase of 17,000, and now amount to 148,000. The number of shareholders receiving advances as borrowers, show an increase of 2,000, the number now being 21,500. The net assests of the associations are reported as $28,600,000, being an increase of $3,000,000.

FACTORIES AND WORKSHOPS.

The Chief Inspector reports that the result of the work of his department during the past year has been thoroughly satisfactory. The number of factories inspected is 1,950; permits granted to orphans, 163; accidents investigated, 43; changes ordered, 435; children discharged, 263; number of visits to factories, 7,836. He reports the attendance of minors, engaged during the day, at evening schools, to have been largely increased; he reports that the machinery, elevator shafts and hoistways in the factories throughout the State are fairly well guarded; that the ventilation and sanitary arrangements have received a large share of attention from his deputies, and that all the factories recently erected or in course of erection are being supplied with all the latest improvements; that nearly every factory having 20 or more persons employed above the second story is now supplied with outside fire-escapes or with two or more ways of egress; that the enforcement of the fifty-five hour law has received a large share of attention from this department, and that there are several cases now pending to test its validity. He urges the passage of a law giving the inspector power to condemn unsafe buildings used either for manufacturing or for places of assembling; that it be made mandatory on owners of elevators to have them provided with safety catches, and that the working ages of boys be raised from twelve to fourteen years.

COMMISSIONER OF MINES.

The office of Commissioner of Mines was created under an act of the Legislature of 1892. (P. L. 1892, page 37.) Under this act I appointed Robert O'Hara, of Warren county. His most interesting and valuable report shows the wisdom of this legislation and the necessity and usefulness of a commissioner to take charge of this subject.

My attention was called to the necessity of legislation by the condition of affairs at Oxford, in Warren county, during the past year, and a legislative committee recommended the passage of this act. There is an omission in the law which ought to be remedied. It does not provide for the payment of expenses incident to the supervision of mines, and in considering the question of further legislation suggested by the commissioner in his report, provision should be made, under proper limitations, for the payment of necessary expenses incurred.

The report shows that there were in operation at the date thereof, within the limits of this State, twenty-four mines, eighteen producing iron ore, four zinc, one copper and one ochre; that eight are located in Warren county, six in Sussex and ten in Morris; that there are employed therein one thousand eight hundred and twenty-seven men, of whom one thousand three hundred and eighty-four work under ground, and four hundred and forty-three in various capacities upon the surface. The commissioner calls attention to the dangerous nature of the employment and the accidents that have occurred by reason thereof. He has most carefully attended to the duties of his office, and the recommendations made by him are entitled to consideration.

He recommends—

1. That a second outlet be provided for each mine.
2. That accurate surveys accompanied by maps be made of all mines and deposited in his office.
3. That ladders and landings should receive more attention, and be kept in better repair.
4. That safeguards should be erected in all dangerous places.
5. The adoption of some contrivance to prevent the escape of mining cars into the mine before the chain or rope is attached.
6. The prohibiting of the storing of explosives in the mines beyond what is necessary for the day's use.
7. That the dangerous habit of the workmen riding in ore buckets to and from work should be prohibited.
8. That all new mining operations should be reported to the commissioner within thirty days after beginning work.
9. That some competent person at each mine should be charged with inspecting hanging walls and their natural and artificial supports.
10. That all boilers about the mines should be inspected by a competent person at least three times annually.
11. That all accidents should be reported to the commissioner.
12. That all wire ropes used in hoisting should be frequently inspected.

He reports that these recommendations will not be burdensome either to the employer or employee, but, on the contrary, will prove of mutual advantage to both, and that, in addition, they are called for by the highest considerations of safety to those engaged in this dangerous occupation.

LABOR LEGISLATION.

The history of labor legislation in New Jersey shows more practical gain for the wage workers than the history of similar legislation in any other State in the Union. In behalf of this large and important body of our citizens, the Legislature has passed various laws to further their interests and protect their rights.

To guard their health and secure their comfort it has enacted laws—

Compelling employers of females in manufacturing, mercantile and mechanical establishments to provide and maintain suitable seats for their use during employment, when not necessarily engaged in active duties;

Limiting the age and employment hours of children and women;

Establishing regulations for factories and workshops to secure the safety and health of operatives and regulate their working hours;

Providing against over-crowding in work places;

Compelling the furnishing of suitable dressing rooms for females in factories;

Protecting operatives in establishments where dust is generated and inhaled;

Requiring the ventilation of mines, factories and bake shops;

Protecting those engaged in the dangerous occupation of mining;

Limiting the number of hours constituting a day's work in factories, workshops and other establishments.

Laws have been passed for the protection of life and limb for those engaged in dangerous occupations—

By requiring the erection of fire escapes in factories and mills;

By establishing safeguards against mill gearings, machinery, hatchways and hoists;

By prohibiting the storing of dangerous combustibles in places where they prevent the egress of employes in case of fire;

By providing regulations to secure employes from the dangers arising from unguarded machinery, and for the outward opening of the main doors of factories.

Laws have also been passed to promote the mental and moral education and advancement of workmen—

By the establishment of public libraries;

By providing additional school accommodation, and by compelling the education of children, to guard against the selfishness or indifference of parents;

By creating Saturday half holidays, and establishing a labor day to give time for recreation and mental advancement.

Laws have been passed to prevent unjust competition between the great body of honest workmen and those laboring in our prisons and reformatory institutions—

By abolishing the contract convict labor system in prisons and reformatories, and limiting the mode and extent of employment therein, so as to prevent as far as possible injury to honest labor.

Enacting the prison stamp law to distinguish between prison labor and outside labor.

The right of labor to protect itself by organization has been recognized by the passage of laws—

For the incorporation of labor and trade unions ;

For the formation and regulation of co-operative societies of workmen ;

Making it lawful for workmen to combine for the purpose of persuading or encouraging others by peaceable means, to leave or enter the employment of another person or corporation.

Employés have been protected by establishing safeguards and securities for the payment of their wages ;

The mechanics' lien law secures them their wages due for the erection of buildings and other structures ;

They are given liens for work and labor done for municipal corporations ;

The unjust forfeiture of wages of employés has been prohibited ;

Private labels and trade marks have been protected ;

The wages of laborers and workmen in the employ of corporations have been secured by making them prior liens in case of insolvency ;

The store order system has been abolished, and workmen can no longer be held in vassalage in any place, and are now entitled to receive their wages in cash, or orders redeemable in money.

To secure the practical enforcement of these and other rights which have been given by the Legislature, the State has established a State Bureau of Labor and Industries as a means of bringing in contact and unison the State and the wage-earners, so as to ascertain their desires and necessities, and make such suggestions as will be for their benefit and advantage ;

It has created an inspector of factories and workshops, giving him deputies, with extensive powers for the enforcement of labor laws ;

It has created an inspector of mines for the protection of those engaged in this dangerous industry ;

It has established a State bureau of arbitration for the amicable adjustment of grievances and disputes between employés and employers, and I have appointed as members of this Board Joseph P. McDonnell, Lewis D. Robertson and Patrick F. Doyle, whose position in trade organizations is an assurance that they will be found in full sympathy with the wage-workers of the State.

It has protected workmen from the assaults of hired and irresponsible agencies, under pay of corporations or individuals, by prohibiting the employment at any time of non-residents as peace officers, and preventing the exercise of the powers of such officials by any persons not regularly deputed by a sheriff or proper officer.

The Legislature has crowned its work by the passage of the ballot reform law, which gives secrecy and protection to their ballots, through which they are enabled to secure that representation in the Legislature to which they are entitled. Under this law they may freely exercise their rights as citizens.

REVIEW OF LEGISLATION.

It may be of interest to briefly review the general legislation of the past three years, by reference to the principal laws enacted during that period, and I annex hereto an appendix stating various subject matters, and referring to the acts passed in reference thereto.

In closing my last annual message, I take pleasure in testifying to the faithful performance of duty by State officials, and to the kindness and courtesy extended to me by them, and by the members and officers of the Legislature. I have at all times sought to perform my duty conscientiously and for the best interests of all its citizens. I invoke the blessings of Almighty God upon our beloved State, and pray that He may increase the happiness and prosperity of the people.

LEON ABBETT.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, January 12th, 1893.

Appendix to Governor's Message.

REVIEW OF LEGISLATION DURING THE PAST THREE YEARS.

State Revenue.—In the act extending the jurisdiction of the riparian commissioners to the islands, reefs and shoals under tidal waters, a source of revenue has been provided, which will in the future augment the income of the State. (P. L. 1891, page 15.)

To relieve the financial condition of the State, an act was passed in 1890, authorizing the use of the proceeds of new riparian grants and leases, for State purposes. (P. L. 1890, page 92.)

An act for a collateral inheritance tax provides a new source of revenue, already productive. (P. L. 1892, page 206.)

An act abolishing the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, imposes their duties on the State Treasurer without extra compensaion. (P. L. 1891, page 136.)

Labor Interests.—The laws on this subject have been already referred to, and the principal ones passed during the last three years will be found as follows: P. L. 1890, page 479; P. L. 1891, page 418; P. L. 1892, pages 37, 38, 171, 168, 230, 369, 384, 426.

Veterans.—An act appropriating $3,000 for the purchase of cemetery grounds for the Soldiers' Home. (P. L. 1890, page 97.)

An act appropriating $20,000 for the erection of new buildings for the Soldiers' Home. (P. L. 1891, page 322.)

An act providing for the exemption of veterans and widows of veterans from poll tax and from general taxation on $500. (P. L. 1890, page 22.)

Providing for 1,000 copies of the records of officers and soldiers of the late war. (P. L. 1891, page 528.)

A joint resolution appropriating $1,000 to pay the expenses incurred by the Grand Army of the Republic in attending the funeral of General William T. Sherman. (P. L. 1891, page 523.)

An act to prevent the removal from office of honorably discharged soldiers and sailors of the late war for political reasons. (P. L. 1891, page 101.)

National Guard.—An act providing for the erection of armories, and limiting the appropriation of the State to $75,000, not to exceed $25,000 in any one year. (P. L. 1890, page 290.)

State Boundary Lines.—An act fixing and establishing the boundary line between New York and New Jersey as fixed by the Commission of the two States. (P. L. 1892, page 441.)

Surrender of Contract for Exemption from Taxation.—An act for the surrender of contracts for exemption from taxation; under this act the Morris and Essex Railroad Company filed an agreement surrendering its claim to exemptions. (P. L. 1890, page 171.)

Railroads.—Acts for the extension of time for the completion of railroads are passed every year. They are defective in not requiring a statement of the amount of expenditures, and the purposes for which the same have been made. The details should be stated so as to permit the Executive to ascertain whether reasonable progress has been made. These extensions are sometimes obtained to prevent others using the right-of-way.

Ballot Reform Law.—An act to provide for ballot reform in New Jersey.—(P. L. 1890, page 361.)

Supplement to the ballot reform law, remedying certain defects of the old law. (P. L. 1891, page 225.)

Riparian Commission.—An act providing for the reorganization of this Board, and fixing the terms of their office. (P. L. 1892, page 84.)

State Police.—An act providing for their designation, and defining their duties with a view of avoiding the use of the military in case of civil disturbances. (P. L. 1891, page 110.)

Agriculture.—An act creating a State Weather Service to furnish data to farming and other interests concerning crops and weather. (P. L. 1890, page 481.)

An act providing for increased power for payment of expenses and for compensation to the secreatry and clerk of the State Board of Agriculture. (P. L. 1890, page 151.)

An act providing that the money received under the act of Congress of April 30th, 1890, be used for the more complete endowment and maintenance of the State Agricultural College at Rutgers. (P. L. 1891, page 13.)

Roads.—An act providing for the permanent improvement of roads of the State, making a State appropriation to assist in the construction of the same. (P. L. 1891, page 378.)
