Books and/or attempts to perform a move where the mover knew or should have known that a moving vehicle of adequate size and containing adequate equipment to accommodate the consumer's goods and any necessary moving equipment would not be or in fact was not available to the mover on the scheduled date of the move;

2. Fails to arrive at the consumer's premises on the promised date of service and perform all contracted-for services; or

3. Fails to notify the consumer of the impossibility of meeting the promised date of service by written notice or by telephone no later than 12:00 noon on the promised date, or, if impractical under the circumstances, at the earliest possible time, and fails to offer the consumer the option of:

- i. Accepting service at a specified later time;
- ii. Allowing a subcontractor to perform the moving services;
- iii. Accepting substituted service by another licensed carrier. In the event this option is accepted the consumer shall be charged according to the filed tariff of the public mover performing the substituted service; or
- iv. Cancelling the moving contract and receiving a refund of all monies paid on account for the contract less any reasonable charges for services already rendered based solely on the rates and charges set forth in the public mover's tariff.

(b) For the purposes of this section, "impossibility of meeting the promised date of service" shall refer to forces beyond the control of the public mover including, but not limited to, such things as acts of nature and labor stoppage.

2. The damage was caused by a defect in the article, including any susceptibility to damage because of exposure to any changes in temperature or humidity which were not caused by the public mover or warehouseman;
3. The damage was caused by a hostile or warlike action occurring in a time of peace or war.
4. After warning the consumer of the possibility or likelihood of damage, because of strikes, lockouts, labor disturbances, riots, or civil commotions, the consumer, in a signed writing, instructs the public mover or warehouseman to proceed with the transportation or storage notwithstanding such risks; or
5. The damage was caused by an act of God.

(b) Where the basis for excusing the liability of any public mover and/or warehouseman is based upon any portion of (a) above, the burden shall rest with the public mover and/or warehouseman to prove the truth of allegations to the satisfaction of the Director unless the consumer, in a signed and notarized writing, agrees to the public mover's and/or warehouseman's claims.

Within seven days of receiving such notification, the public mover and/or warehouseman shall forward to the consumer the appropriate claim forms.

(b) All claims for loss, damage or overcharge shall be submitted in writing to the public mover and/or warehouseman within 90 days of the consumer's receipt of his or her goods. All claims shall be accompanied by the original paid bill of lading.

(c) Where the claim involves either overcharging or partial loss, damage or destruction of a consumer's goods, the consumer shall pay in full the amount appearing on the original bill and shall submit the paid bill or original paid bill of lading with the written claim, pursuant to (a) above.

(d) Where the claim involves the loss, damage or destruction of the entire shipment, the consumer is liable for only the insurance premiums agreed upon in accordance with N.J.A.C. 13:44D-4.12.

(e) The public mover and/or warehouseman and consumer shall settle all claims within 90 days of the receipt of the completed claim form. The public mover shall maintain the signed agreement to extend this period in his or her records for two years.

APPENDIX A

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO CONSUMERS USING PUBLIC MOVERS AND WAREHOUSEMEN

FORWARD

Please read this brochure carefully. The public mover and/or warehouseman you have engaged is required by law to provide this brochure to you.

For your protection, please obtain the complete and correct name, business address, license number and telephone number of the mover and/or warehouseman who is to transport and/or store your shipment. If you are moving from one location to another within the State of New Jersey, the mover you engage must be licensed by the State of New Jersey. To confirm that the mover you engage is licensed, please call 1 (973) 504-6442 or 1 (973) 504-6512.

ESTIMATES

The mover is required to physically survey your goods prior to calculating an estimate. After physically surveying your goods, a mover is required by law to provide to you a written estimate of the costs of a move at least 24 hours prior to conducting a move. The only exception to this is when the mover is performing a "short-notice move." Please ask the mover to include all charges he will make on the estimate. The mover may offer you either a "binding estimate" or a "non-binding estimate." The estimate form you receive should clearly indicate whether the estimate is binding or non-binding.

A non-binding estimate is not a contract and will not bind you to using that mover. The mover will ask you to sign a non-binding estimate. You should sign and date it for your own protection. The costs assigned in a non-binding estimate are based upon the tariff rates that the mover has filed with the Office of Consumer Protection. Remember that the mover cannot determine exactly what your move will cost until the move is complete (if the charge is based on an hourly rate) or until the shipment is weighed (if the charge is based on weight). The estimate may increase, for example, if you decide to move additional items, failed to pack the goods you said you would pack, or if moving your goods into your new home is time-consuming because you failed to tell the mover you were moving to the third floor of a building or that he could not park his truck immediately outside.

A binding estimate is a contract which contains a calculation of the cost of a move and requires the mover to perform the move for the price shown on the binding estimate form. A binding estimate must describe the goods to be moved and the accessorial services to be performed. A mover who uses a binding estimate may charge you more than his tariff rates. The benefit of using a binding estimate for you is that you will know exactly what your move will cost, because the mover cannot charge you any more than his binding estimate unless you ask for additional services on the day of the move.

When a mover is performing a short-notice move, he is still required by law to physically survey your goods and provide a written estimate. The mover is not, however, required to provide this estimate 24 hours prior to the move. A mover performing a short-notice move may provide an estimate on the day of the move. A short-notice move may only be performed if you have been evicted and you need to move your property within 24 hours of the eviction, your residence or office has been damaged by fire and you need to move your property within 24 hours of the fire, you contracted with another mover and he didn't arrive or the total cost to you for the move does not exceed $500.00. The mover is required to follow all other statutes and regulations regarding moving when providing a short-notice move. A mover performing a short-notice move will offer you either a binding estimate or a non-binding estimate; these estimates are identical to estimates given under normal circumstances, except they do not need to be provided 24 hours prior to the move.

MOVER'S RESPONSIBILITY FOR LOSS AND DAMAGE

Unless you have additional insurance, the mover is, in most cases, only required to reimburse you for any damages to your belongings at the rate of $.60 per pound. For example, if you have a vase valued at $1,000 but it only weighs two pounds, the mover is, in most cases, only required to reimburse you the sum of $1.20. For your own protection, consider discussing with your insurance agent whether you should purchase additional coverage, either from an insurance company or through the mover, or confirm that an existing insurance policy would protect your goods in transit or storage. If you decide to purchase insurance through the mover, the mover must issue you a certificate of insurance (sometimes called "an advice of coverage") as proof of purchase which must be fully completed with all the policy's terms.

When purchasing insurance, consider:

1. Whether to insure for actual or replacement value. For example, if you purchased a sofa in 1996 for $500.00, do you want to insure it at actual value ($500.00) or replacement value (probably a higher figure).

2. Whether you want to insure for the total valuation of your shipment. For example, if your total shipment value is $50,000, and you only take out $25,000 in insurance, you will only receive half the value of any damaged item.

A public mover may contract with you for increased valuation for loss or damage for all items, or specific items, being moved. The amount of increased valuation a mover may offer is limited by the amount of cargo liability insurance the mover carries. A public mover may contract with his or her insurance company to increase cargo liability insurance for an individual move in order to cover increased valuation offered for that individual move.

LOST OR DAMAGED ARTICLES

Be sure to check your goods as they are delivered. You should note any lost articles or damages on the bill of lading which you will sign on completion of the delivery. If you discover other loss or damage report this to your mover immediately because the mover is not required by law to handle claims made more than 90 days after the move. If you suspect your goods have been stolen, you should report this to the police immediately.

BILL OF LADING

Before your shipment leaves the point of origin, you should obtain from the public mover a bill of lading signed by you and the public mover. Be sure that this shows the public mover's name, address, license number and telephone number at which you can reach the public mover, and an address and telephone number furnished by you to which the public mover can send messages regarding your shipment while it is in his possession, the location from and to which your goods are moving, the date of loading, date of delivery, storage instructions (if any) and the declared or released valuation of the goods. The bill of lading will list all the actual charges you have to pay for services rendered by the mover.

HOURLY MOVES

If the public mover's rates are determined by the hour, the mover will require you to sign for the start and finish time of the actual working hours (subject to the mover's minimum number of hours). You will note and initial on the bill of lading the time your truck arrives at your origin and again note and initial the time the men deliver the last piece into your new residence. To this time you will add the appropriate travel time, if travel time is applicable, and deduct for time spent by the movers for lunch or for time spent for any breakdown of the vehicle, and for any time spent in excess of normal for the truck being "lost" en route to your new residence. Any accessorial charges will be in addition to the hourly charges.

WEIGHT MOVES

If the public mover's transportation charges are determined on the basis of weight of your shipment and miles traveled, the public mover will weigh its empty vehicle prior to the loading of your goods. This weight will be the TARE WEIGHT. After loading your goods, the vehicle will again be weighed and this is the GROSS WEIGHT. The difference between the GROSS WEIGHT and the TARE WEIGHT is the NET WEIGHT. The NET WEIGHT is the weight for which you will pay transportation charges. If your shipment weighs less than 1,000 pounds, the mover may weigh it prior to loading by using a portable scale or use an estimated weight based on cubic feet. Some movers may have minimum weight requirements. The weight tickets obtained by the mover must have a seal on them showing that the truck scale used is approved by the NJ Bureau of Weights and Measures. You are permitted to follow the loaded truck to the weigh station to view your weighing.

USE OF AN OWNER-OPERATOR

A public mover may arrange for an owner-operator to provide the moving services which the public mover has contracted to provide. The public mover is liable to the consumer for any services provided by the owner-operator. An owner-operator will use a public mover's forms. If the public mover arranges for an owner-operator to provide moving services, the public mover must advise the consumer in writing at least one business day prior to the day of the move. If the consumer has contracted for a short-notice move, the public mover is not required to provide this written notice one business day prior to the day of a move, but must provide the written notice prior to beginning the move.

A public mover may not use an owner-operator to perform an estimate.

PAYMENT AND DELIVERY

The mover usually requires payment in cash, money order or certified check. Check with your mover when he performs the physical survey of your goods as to what form of payment he requires so that you are prepared to pay on the day of the move. Unless you and your mover agreed to a binding estimate, the mover may charge you more than his estimate; you should be prepared to pay more than the estimate.

PREPARING ARTICLES FOR SHIPMENT

Some articles such as stoves, refrigerators, washing machines, computers, copiers, and other electronic devices, may require disconnection and usually special servicing to protect their mechanisms during shipment. Similarly, some items, such as pool tables and grandfather clocks, may need special handling to protect them during shipments. It is your responsibility to have this done. Some public movers, upon request, will arrange to have this service done at your expense. You should arrange to take down all blinds, draperies, window cornices, mirrors, and other items attached to the walls, and to take up carpets which are tacked down. The charge for such service is not included in the transportation charge and may be performed by the public mover only at an extra per-hour charge. The mover should be advised prior to your moving date that these services are needed. Under no circumstances should you pack jewelry, money, valuable papers or items of sentimental value with your other belongings, or pack any matches, flammables, perishables, or other dangerous articles. The mover will not be responsible for these items should they be transported without his knowledge.

PACKING

You may pack your own belongings into boxes, crates, etc. or you may have the mover pack your goods for you. Please remember that the mover is not responsible for damage to any goods you pack yourself. The mover can also refuse to transport goods you have packed yourself if he feels he cannot transport them safely. When the mover performs the physical survey, make sure you ask whether the charge for packing and unpacking are included in the price. If you decide to pack your goods yourself, remember that the mover will charge you more than the estimate if you fail to pack all your goods in time and the mover has to do this for you.

TARIFFS

Every mover must file a document containing his rates charges and rules called a "tariff" with the State. Tariffs are open to public inspection and you may examine them at the mover's office or the Office of Consumer Protection, by appointment, during normal business hours. The mover may only require you to pay his charges as listed in the tariff with 2 exceptions: (1) he may always charge you less than his tariff; and (2) he may charge more than his tariff if you have agreed in advance to a binding estimate. No mover may impose a charge unless it is listed in his tariff. Such charges may include packing and unpacking, providing boxes and packing materials, specific charges for large or heavy items such as pianos or snowmobiles.

Public Movers and Warehousemen are regulated by the Office of Consumer Protection, 124 Halsey Street, PO Box 5028, Newark, NJ 07101. If you have a question concerning the mover or warehouseman, or wish to lodge a complaint, please call 1 (973) 504-6442 or 1 (973) 504-6512. You may also visit the Office of Consumer Protection's website at www.state.nj.us/lps/ca/ocp.htm.
