

NOTICE TO THE BAR

IMPLEMENTATION OF NEW COURT RULE 1:21-11 – Publication of List of Approved Pro Bono Organizations

On July 22, 2014, the Supreme Court adopted new Court Rule 1:21-11, “Definitions and Certifications Regarding Pro Bono Practice,” to be effective January 1, 2015. The rule requires organizations providing pro bono service and that seek to take advantage of certain opportunities under the court rules to become certified. R. 1:21-11(b).

This Notice publishes the list of organizations the Supreme Court has already approved as qualifying for pro bono, fee waiver, or law school clinic status. Legal Services of New Jersey and its associated regional programs, shown in Section A of the below list, shall be deemed certified without the need to file certifications. R. 1:21-11(b)(1). Organizations appearing in Sections B – F of the below list are not required to file an initial certification, but will be required to file an annual renewal certification beginning the following calendar year, by April 30, 2016. R. 1:21-11(b)(1). Organizations marked with an asterisk have been previously approved for fee waiver status.

Any organization that believes it has previously been approved as a pro bono organization or a pro bono organization with fee waiver status but does not appear on the published list should send a cover letter and proof of prior approval to Pro Bono Organizations, PO Box 037, Trenton, NJ 08625-0037. Organizations will have until August 1, 2015 to provide this information.

Entities not on the list but that wish to apply for approval may complete and submit an initial certification, the form for which can be found via the Judiciary’s Pro Bono Organization portal:

<http://www.judiciary.state.nj.us/supreme/apps/pbos/probonoorganization/external/home/>

The completed certification form should be mailed to Pro Bono Organizations, PO Box 037, Trenton, NJ 08625-0037. Certifications may be submitted at any time during the year. The on-line list will be periodically updated on at least a monthly basis.

Beginning in 2016, all approved entities will be required, by April 30 of each year, to submit a renewal certification, which must include a list of attorneys, law students, or law graduates who have provided qualifying pro bono services under the auspices of the organization or program during the preceding calendar year. The certification renewal form will be posted on the Judiciary’s Pro Bono Organization portal no later than January 1, 2016.

Additionally, the Judiciary has created an on-line resource so that interested attorneys and law school students may more easily locate pro bono organizations and approved law school clinics. The website lists basic information about the organizations, including contact information and a link to the organization’s web site. The site can be found via the Judiciary’s Pro Bono portal:

<http://www.judiciary.state.nj.us/supreme/apps/pbos/probonoorganization/external/home/>

Questions regarding Rule 1:21-11 or the certification process described in this notice may be directed by letter to Pro Bono Organizations, PO Box 037, Trenton, NJ 08625-0037; by email to probono.mailbox@judiciary.state.nj.us; or by telephone to (609) 421-6100.
