GOVERNOR'S ANNUAL MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE

January 13, 1959

Mr President, Mr Speaker and members of the Senate and General Assembly

It is once again my duty and privilege, at the beginning of a new session, to advise you on the legislative needs of the State New Jersey, part of a Federal Union which now contains I am happy to say, 49 States, has its own special problems for whose solutions you, as the Legislature and I, as the Chief Executive, are responsible We cannot shirk the tasks that lie before us For my part, I pledge the fullest cooperation of the Governor's Office and the 14 executive departments in our joint endeavor

You are here as the elected legislative representatives of the people, who themselves cannot, in the nature of things, study and make judgments upon the many issues that confront a law making body In the halls of this State House are many special lobbies but, for the people as a whole, you are their lobby You were sent here by their vote to seek out the various ways in which the whole public interest can be served and, by your industry, your wisdom and your character, to make the right decisions That is the solemn method of democracy That is the kind of thought and action that can make your work luminous in the eyes of the State

As I say, the people themselves cannot make themselves heard on every phase of a complicated legislative program, but they have many ways of measuring and valuing a Legislature's total performance They will learn through the press and other means of communication and through word of mouth, what kind of performance this session brings forth And the people's voice, silent now is heard eloquently at the polls On November 3, 1959 less than 11 months from today, 72 of the 81 seats in the Legislature go for judgment to the jury of the people They will speak then

LEGISLATIVE INACTION

In the last legislative year there were many bills approved by the General Assembly on which the Senate did not act Each House, of course, has its own duty and respon sibilities. If this inaction resulted from no more than a difference of opinion, I would make no mention of it.

This was not the case. If there were differences on a bill, it would be expected that the Senate would have proposed appropriate changes or would have made some attempt to reach agreement through conference. Instead, these measures were merely bottled up in the Senate caucus, about which much has been said in the past.

There was, for example, the bill to extend rent control at the local level. There was a bill to revise our insurance laws. There were several bills to clear up troublesome parts of our Workmen's Compensation laws. There was a bill to establish minimum wages on an intrastate basis. There were bills dealing with the embezzlement of trust funds, with the improper obtaining of money by public officials, and with the removal of members of county election boards. The Assembly sent across a bill to close loopholes in our laws which limit liquor licenses.

It acted on another to establish standards for the reporting of crimes so that law enforcement officers might improve their performance. It approved a bill to insure that brakes on trucks would meet essential standards of safety. It provided for needed changes in the schedule of fees for the Public Utilities Commission so that it might be better staffed to handle its tremendously increased workload.

Again, legislation was proposed to allow tax appeals to be heard by single members of the State Board so that cases could be decided within months instead of years. In addition, there were many bills dealing with the internal housekeeping of government, such as the bill to provide a broader basis for the investment of State funds.

On all of these—and many were not controversial—there was not only inaction, but a complete absence of communication. This was a serious failure which the public will recognize as some evidence of the way their elected representatives carried out their duties—or failed to.

In mentioning these failings of the Senate I do not suggest that the Assembly was perfect. It does have significant achievements to its credit, however, for it processed a substantial number of Senate bills, and activated a working committee system. With a full year of experience under new leadership, I am sure that the Assembly will acquit its responsibility to achieve a sound program this year.

Since the matters I have mentioned still require attention, I recommend that both Houses join in a common effort to take proper action on them

Several matters of unfinished business deserve more extended comment

RAPID TRANSIT

The first has to do with the common plight of the commuter and the railroad. The original proposal advanced last year met with more opposition than support. In the area most affected, which contains more than half our population, it was rejected. We must now find an acceptable formula.

After much study, an Assembly committee substitute for the original bill was reported out. I recommend that bill to you for serious consideration. Its exact form is not important. What is important is that it fixes policy and creates an agency to follow through.

This critical problem developed gradually over decades and from many causes. There is no single magic solution. We must work at it steadily, starting in those areas where the most can be accomplished in the least time, and then moving to the long range aspects.

Any real hope for solution must meet certain minimum requirements.

One. The prime objective of the agency should be to preserve the essentials of our present system. This would include making the best use of trains, buses and other means of transportation.

Two. The agency must have the guidance, aid, and participation of all agencies of government, State or interstate.

Three. The agency must be efficient and able to act quickly and surely.

Four. New Jersey's wide experience with interstate agencies requires that the decisions of the agency be by majority vote of the members from each State, to preserve the sovereignty of the participating States.

Five. The agency must be made directly responsible to an elected public representative. Gubernatorial veto power over actions of the agency will achieve this.

Six The agency must be responsive to local groups, municipal and private

Seven Since the heart of the problem is commutation across the Hudson River, close interstate cooperation with the State of New York is essential. Discussions with New York should precede enactment. My office has already taken steps to work closely with the new Governor of New York and his staff to avoid delay from the recent change of administration there.

Eight The clear public policy should be to resolve the problem by testing the achievement of each step before attempting the next.

TAXATION

Another matter of unfinished business is revamping our laws for the assessment of property taxes. This tax is not a State tax but is the main source from which local governments provide their services.

After receiving the Ninth Report of the State Tax Policy Commission I expressed approval of its Second Alternative Proposal. This course was not adopted. What is now needed is an expression of fundamentals that must be met, followed by an exploration of the available choices and a selection of those commanding general agreement. The final details must satisfy the underlying fundamentals, and there must be a real determination to reach agreement. The fundamentals are not hard to specify.

First fair play demands equality of treatment within taxing districts. Other factors require that the standard be the same throughout the State.

Second, any substantial change in the system will have unpredictable effects. In some cases these could be severe. The legislation must provide means to prevent undue hardship.

Third, the particular assessment ratio chosen is not critical. What is important is the total amount of a taxpayer's annual tax bill, and the assurance that he has not been assessed for more than his fair share.

Fourth, there are collateral statutes which will be affected. These must be conformed to the major amendments.

Fifth, a revised system will involve a tremendous administrative effort, including careful revaluation. For this task, there are just so many trained people available and there are limits to how much they can do well in a given time. This must be allowed for in fixing the effective date for the new system. It should provide a time short enough to discourage delay and long enough to insure quality performance.

Sixth, provision must be made for an orderly transition. The Director of the Division of Taxation might be assigned to review the status of revaluation programs, the availability of experts, and the establishment of an orderly revaluation schedule. Although some 200 municipalities have undertaken to revalue, more than 350 have not. Revaluations take so long that, unless properly kept up, the first may be obsolete before the last is finished. Periodic review of local assessment rolls and the building up of a body of capable assessors are necessary. The key to real improvement lies not in the details of the system but in the quality of assessment in the first instance, and in preventing revaluations from becoming obsolete and inequitable.

The importance of this point cannot be overemphasized. We face this problem today because of local failure to carry out assessing duties properly. I have seen examples of homes, in the same district, selling in today's market from as low as $6,500 to as high as $16,250 yet all assessed at the same $4,000 valuation. In another district, homes ranging in price from $6,700 to $21,750, were all assessed at $3,500. While these are just examples and by no means conclusive they are indications of how far from fair and equal treatment some cases have gone.

If these injustices are to be corrected, legislation alone will not accomplish it. Only sincere and competent local officials can do it. Perhaps the greatest impetus to uniformity would be the publication of local assessments.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST

It is unwise not to spell out State policy to guide governmental officers and employees. It is a disservice to the public not to mark off the boundaries of proper and improper activity by public officials. We need have no misgivings about the dedicated public servant but for those occasional few for whom the guide of conscience is too frail, the rules must be clearly stated Proper legislation to regulate and prevent conflict of interest is needed to inspire public confidence in government

The General Assembly has taken a commendable first step by adopting rules for the regulation of its own members This is not enough Good legislation on this subject should be approved without hesitation

LAW ENFORCEMENT

Law enforcement is a primary State responsibility It must have the support of sound legislation One bill to be offered will authorize prosecutors, on the basis of a court order, to obtain answers from key witnesses upon a grant of immunity Amendments will be offered to extend the present law on bribery of labor officials to indirect payments Enactment of a suitable police training law will provide the way for New Jersey's police efficiency to become among the first in the nation The crime reporting law is needed as much in 1959 as it was in 1954 the year of my first request

Legislation to bring all charitable trusts under the surveillance of the Attorney General will be submitted New legislation adding a registration and licensing requirement to the present law on fraudulent sale of securities will be offered There will also be a bill to give better protection to the perpetual care funds of cemetery companies

TRAFFIC SAFETY

The average citizen, good driver though he may be is exposed to the danger of the speeder, the weaver the reckless and the drunk An administrative program to take away the driving licenses of speeders was put into effect with the start of the year Early experience indicates it is working well

We need to have similar action to deal with the drunk driver I recommend for your consideration a legal requirement that every driver be called upon to agree to a scientific test of sobriety as a condition of being allowed to drive The object should be to make possible a prompt and accurate determination of fitness to drive and should be as much for the protection of the fit driver as for the detection of the unfit

During the year, the system of spot checking for motor vehicle violations was intensified throughout the State. Improved reports of accidents are giving better information on serious accidents and will help determine major causes as well as guide educational and enforcement efforts. County traffic coordination is an important part of this work, and a bill providing such an office will be offered.

EDUCATION

To a large degree, the future of our State and Nation is in our colleges and universities. They prepare our teachers to inspire and guide our children to become tomorrow's useful citizens. They stimulate those who labor at the frontiers of knowledge.

The program for additional buildings at Rutgers at the six State Colleges and at Newark College of Engineering as recommended by the State Board of Education should proceed. As I said last year, either a bond issue or a series of annual appropriations, as the Legislature may prefer, will be acceptable to me.

As to a scholarship program, the Legislature should note the importance of early action if it is to have any meaning for the 1959 school year, because a staff will have to be organized, and applications processed this Spring.

CONSUMER PROTECTION

The State must provide better protection for the consumer. The squeeze of rising prices, the impact of heavy Federal income taxes, and narrowing profits in many enterprises have encouraged the unscrupulous to increase their activities at the expense of the consumer.

The common law doctrine "Let the buyer beware" has its limits in the complexities of the modern era. The common law buyer could expect to bargain on fairly equal terms. He bought simple merchandise easily examined, easily evaluated. He dealt mainly with merchants and traders with whom he was personally acquainted.

Today's business is largely anonymous. Goods are made and shipped all over the Nation. The buyer often places orders by telephone. While most of our manufacturers and traders maintain a high level of business ethics, there are those who are no more than confidence men looking for victims to fleece.

Thus, there are merchants who pretend to sell bargains at attractive prices only to reap more in the end than the legitimate merchant. They bleed the consumer and rob the honest trader.

Some examples disclose heavy handed service charges on installment sales, many as high as 30% to 40% and some over 100% a year on top of the purchase price. There is now no legal limit to these charges. Other abuses include the use of agreements signed in blank, and the imposition of excessive insurance requirements both as to amount and coverage. It is the State's responsibility to regulate these practices by law.

Such measures should be carefully designed. They should be self executing and should provide for rapid remedy in our courts. They should create a minimum of administrative burden. They should encourage the honest and deter the unscrupulous.

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION

The original concept of our unemployment compensation laws was that benefits should bear some reasonable relationship to wages. However, rising wage levels, along with the declining purchasing power of the dollar have tended to make the present maximum of $35 a flat fixed amount with no realistic relationship to wages.

The program is also constructed on an insurance concept. Thus it is necessary that any upward adjustment of benefits must be balanced by corresponding changes in other parts of the law. There must be tighter control to prevent abuses and unwarranted drains. Coverage should be extended to employers of one or more and contribution rates adjusted to keep the system in balance.

One difficult aspect of this subject is the unfair competitive condition fostered by the failure of the Federal Government to provide any kind of minimum standards for all States. Here the Federal Government, having initiated the program on a basis calling for State administration has wholly failed to prevent some of the States from adopting programs so inadequate as to be almost meaningless. Such programs, of course cost little and this fact has been used to entice industry to those States. This activity in turn creates local unemployment in areas where realistic pro grams have been put into effect, causing severe drains upon their resources

A single State, by itself, is powerless to legislate in any effective way to cure this condition. We should press for Federal action so that we can carry our own program forward.

We can and should enact a realistic minimum wage law applicable to men as well as women. The problem of the migrant worker will probably require separate interstate action. I renew my request for a sound State Labor Relations Act to function in those cases not reached by the Federal law.

STATE BUILDINGS

I regret that we have made little progress toward providing more efficient space for State offices. Despite the fact that it would cost New Jersey nothing to construct a building for the Department of Labor and Industry, the Senate refused to act beyond providing funds at its December meeting, for acquisition of land and the preparation of plans.

This is particularly inadequate because in taking only a tiny step the Senate failed to indicate how much it would provide for the building itself. Without this information plans and specifications are meaningless.

Let me read to you what was said in the resolution adopted by the New Jersey Employment Security Council at its meeting last month.

* * the Federal Government has for the past three years strongly urged that New Jersey promptly consolidate under one roof the headquarters operations of the Division of Employment Security which now are distributed in eight scattered locations and the Regional Director of the Federal Bureau of Employment Security recently stated to the Council that New Jersey has the most chopped up and inefficient headquarters arrangement of any State with which he was acquainted.

The report noted that the funds needed were available from Federal sources and that the building would be self financing that the delay of the last three years means an increase of over 30% to construct the same building. It urged action to assure early construction.

You will recall that I made this recommendation early in 1956, and again in the fall of 1956 in January of 1957 and then in January of 1958. The only bill passed so far is a case of "too little and too late."

TREASURY

For the Treasury Department I recommend a bill for the hearing of tax appeals by single hearing officers. Until agreement on more extensive changes can be reached at least this essential step should be taken to get the appeal calendar current.

A bill will also be offered to broaden the basis for investing State funds. Over the last fiscal year, the effective rate of earnings on long term investments rose above 4%. This good record can be further improved and the public will benefit.

JUDICIARY

One area of judicial operations where important progress can be made is in the improvement of the law of evidence. The subject has now had full study and discussion. We have two extensive reports, one by a committee of the Supreme Court and the other by a commission of the Legislature. On the need for improvement and on the details of the proposals as well, there has been general professional agreement and support. The only matter unresolved was the way to put it in effect. I believe that this one remaining question can be agreeably resolved. I recommend that this be given high priority so that the goal may be realized this year.

AGRICULTURE

Many of the problems of agriculture are economic and are greatly influenced by policies established at the Federal level. Nonetheless, each State possesses means to help stabilize the agricultural economy and to encourage the proper use of agricultural lands. Here in New Jersey, great assistance to the farmer has been provided through expanded programs in our Department of Agriculture for promotion and marketing of New Jersey products. Much help has also come from the outstanding work done at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Rutgers

A bill will be prepared and submitted for your consideration to help in the work of soil conservation by establishing a broader program to prevent losses from flood and sedimentation, and to insure the existence of adequate systems and supplies for irrigation

DELAWARE RIVER BASIN

Conservation of natural resources is also the subject of a survey by the U S Army Engineers dealing with the Delaware River Basin When the studies are completed we will need a suitable agency to coordinate the efforts of the Federal, State and local governments It will doubtless involve the negotiation of an interstate compact

After several years of effort meetings with the State of Delaware have been initiated to explore how the two States may best solve common problems of transportation and economic development in the Delaware River and Bay Area

I am happy to report that the meetings have begun in a highly cooperative spirit, and with a clear appreciation by both States that neither alone can hope to accomplish the work When a specific agreement is reached it will be promptly presented to the Legislature for consideration and approval

INTERSTATE PROBLEMS

The pattern of State and Federal responsibility has left some areas to negotiation and action by several States acting in concert New Jersey has more experience in such relationships than any other in the Nation One of our most pressing problems of this kind is getting fair treatment for our citizens who are subject to the income tax laws of other States While progress must be based on voluntary agreement, efforts to demonstrate the injustice must continue

WATER RIGHTS

Last November New Jersey took a great step forward when it approved the program for the Round Valley and Spruce Run reservoirs In addition to that program our growing population requires exploration of other ways in which future water needs can be met

The problem has been studied in many parts of the country, and there appears to be general agreement that existing law governing surface water rights is no longer suited to modern conditions

A bill is in preparation to provide a reasonable means for making the best use of our surface water supplies and reducing losses through missuse, waste and runoff. It will involve a review of the suitability of certain common law principles that have been in effect for centuries

BOATING ACCIDENTS

Boating accidents on the waters of New Jersey have increased their toll from one death in 1956 to 13 in 1958. The ever more intensive use of our waters requires more effective law enforcement measures. Our present law is at about the same stage as our motor vehicle law was when the auto became popular. A new set of principles for the control of tidal and non tidal waters for boating purposes is now in preparation and will be sent to the Legislature early in the session. This will include the registering of small outboard motor vessels, a matter left to State regulation by the recent Federal law

HOUSING

The Attorney General has successfully defended the constitutionality of our Blighted Areas Law and further review has been denied by the United States Supreme Court. This is a momentous decision as it will free substantial Federal funds for redevelopment and should speed action on this important program

LAW REVISION

The subject of law revision while not one that excites the imagination, is perhaps one of the most important of all legislative responsibilities. Some antiques are precious, but antique laws are shackles

New Jersey has tended to follow the patterns of a more leisurely era. It has usually made a wholesale revision whenever our laws became so bad as to be scandalous

This is not good law revision. When the 1937 revision was enacted it was supposed to be kept current by regular effort but this was soon forgotten. Revision should be continual

I have already mentioned one subject our insurance laws, where prompt revision is important. Insurance has been held to be interstate commerce, and the Federal government has allowed a time for the States to show that they are ready, able and willing to carry the responsibility of sound regulation. Unless this work is done well and done promptly the Federal government can be expected to intervene and supersede the jurisdiction of the States. Certainly, New Jersey, as one of the leading centers of the Nation's insurance activity, should be in the forefront of this effort.

Revision does not mean a mere collection and rearrangement of existing laws. That way lies confusion. Our present Title 40 now in process is a good example. Never revised even in 1937 it is a bramblebush even for the expert. After extensive work, several parts will be presented at the current session.

The Legislature should initiate a program for continual revision. Some titles are already in process. In addition to the ones mentioned there will be a revision of Title 18 dealing with Education, as well as of Title 51, Weights and Measures. Title 55, Tenement House Supervision and Title 45 Professional Boards. A draft revision of Title 48 Public Utilities, is now undergoing review. Studies have begun in preparation for a revision of our General Corporation Act, Title 14.

In these efforts, the degree of legislative participation has been less than it ought to be. I guarantee that more time spent on sound revision will sharply reduce the need for the myriad piecemeal bills annually introduced.

We should have a program for cases where a need for change is discovered from judicial interpretation of the law. The opinions of our courts, in proper cases point out specific problems which have actually arisen. There should be some workable method by which these can be taken up, discussed, and the legislative policy expressed. One such instance was that affecting the liability of charitable organizations. A law extending the prior rule until June 30, with some modification, was enacted last year. This problem should be resolved by appropriate permanent legislation at the current session.

REAPPORTIONMENT OF THE ASSEMBLY

The Legislature cannot forever postpone its duty to reapportion seats in the General Assembly. Action has been stalled by a fear that some large counties may lose seats to small counties, thus heightening the legislative strength of 'acres' at the expense of people. While various recognized methods of apportionment may give differing results, reapportionment need not involve the feared consequence. The problem should be restudied and acted on.

Congressional redistricting is another essential State duty too long neglected. The disproportion of representation has now reached an extreme, from lowest to highest, of just about 50% of the average population per congressman, based on 1950 census figures. This is bound to be aggravated when the 1960 census is taken.

Legislation to extend the use of voting machines and to simplify registration procedure should also be adopted.

INSTITUTIONS AND AGENCIES

The commission appointed last year to study the Department of Institutions and Agencies has nearly completed its report. This was the first broad review of that Department in over 40 years. The legislation to be recommended by the commission should be considered seriously.

EMERGENCY GOVERNMENT

Although the Federal government has the primary responsibility in military matters, important programs for civilian defense and for survival have been assigned to the States for action.

Under existing law, a prototype plan to meet survival needs in case of nuclear attack has been issued. It will now be used as a guide for other local areas.

One aspect however needs legislative action. That involves making arrangements to insure that essential governmental functions can be conducted if there should be a cataclysmic disaster.

I believe that the standard proposals offer arrangements which are too involved and too cumbersome to be dependable. I therefore suggest that the Legislature promptly establish a legislative commission, which should include representatives from both Houses, from the Judiciary from the Executive Branch and from the public, to consider the various available choices and to submit recommended legislation. The commission should consult with groups from the legal profession which have already made important studies, as well as with the civil defense organization.

The object of the legislation should be to provide realistically for the succession of key government officials and for the establishment of emergency bodies in the event of a disaster which disrupts our normal processes. We must if at all possible, be ready to function effectively under some form of emergency civil government, rather than under martial law.

CONCLUSION

I have pointed to some of the major problems which face this Legislature. I want to add that all of the facilities, experience and talents of the Executive Department are available to you. We have outstanding experts. The Legislature should make use of them. Most of the subjects to come before you involve Executive as well as Legislative responsibility and I again assure you of my wholehearted desire to have better communications with the Legislature. You should use the best available sources to get the facts.

There has always been rivalry between the Executive and the Legislative branches, as well as rivalry between parties and between Houses. All of us should rise above that rivalry in achieving a legislative record for the good of our citizens.

Let us also have a short, hard working session, without delays and postponements. Let us not quibble over sponsorship or origin.

Let us have decision whether yea or nay. Let us have approval or rejection of nominations. Let us have issues voted on publicly.

Cooperation is a two way street. You may be assured that my party and my office are ready and eager to join in the common effort.

Respectfully submitted,

To The Honorable J Edward Knight A J S C

We the members of the Monmouth County Grand Jury, September Session of 1958 alarmed at the toll of deaths and serious injuries due to irresponsible operation of motor vehicles, and having observed the difficulty of obtaining convictions under the present criminal Death by Auto Statute submit the following recommendations

1 That the Death by Auto Statute, N J S 2A 113-9, be repealed

2 That the reckless driving section of the State Motor Vehicle Act, N J S 39 4-96 be amended

a To provide more severe penalties for drivers convicted in cases where death results

This proposal is made because logically there is no difference in the offense described in both statutes. The chief element of both offenses is the same namely reckless driving

Since this is so giving the Magistrate's Courts which now have jurisdiction over reckless driving wider latitude to dispose of the consequences of reckless driving also seems to this Grand Jury logical

Furthermore, this proposal would effect speedier justice. A hearing would be conducted in the municipality where the offense occurred, soon after it occurred. Evidence and memories would be fresh, and witnesses would be immediately available.

If a defendant is improperly convicted in the Municipal Court there is always available to him the right of appeal for a new trial in the County Court, and, if necessary, for review by the Superior and Supreme Courts.

We request that copies of this Presentment be sent to Honorable Robert B. Meyner, Governor
Members of the State Senate and General Assembly

The General Assembly and the Senate went into Session to hear the Governor's Budget Message

BUDGET MESSAGE

To the Members of the Senate and General Assembly

In presenting my Budget Message to the Legislature of New Jersey I have attempted to prepare a document that is honest forthright and realistic. This Budget is balanced. It gears expenditures for the coming fiscal year to available and anticipated revenues without resort to new taxes and without increased rates for existing taxes.

These words are from my first Budget Message to you on February 15, 1954. They are just as true in this Message.

In view of widely publicized deficits and the need of so many of our sister States and of the Federal Government for new or additional taxes, this should be gratifying to all of us in New Jersey.

NOT FOR SPENDING'S SAKE

Although this is a prudent Budget, it responds to operational and maintenance necessities. It provides for increases where needed or mandatory. It does not propose to spend for the sake of spending. This Budget meets the enlarged operating needs of our State colleges and University; it provides the increases required by law for our State aid programs for education and welfare, and it will make it possible to receive all the Federal funds available to New Jersey for highway construction.

BUDGET REQUESTS

Requests from all agencies of the Government totalled $530,445,785. Toward these requests I am recommending appropriations of $403,325,022 for the fiscal year 1959-60 and $3,749,952 as supplemental appropriations for prior fiscal years.

REVENUES

Resources available for these appropriations total $412 553 127. A recent study of realized revenues and revenue trends for the current fiscal year discloses that we will earn approximately $11 000 000 more than was expected when last year's Appropriations Bill was enacted. In spite of the recent dip in the country's economy, revenues from inheritance taxes, motor fuels taxes, motor vehicle fees and cigarette taxes have all been well in excess of original estimates.

A SURPLUS IN PROSPECT

At the present time we have not yet had returns from the revised corporation tax law. When the Appropriations Bill was under consideration by last year's Legislature, it was predicted that the total revenue from the revised tax on corporations, including net worth and net income, would be $56 300 000 in the current fiscal year. I will rest on that prediction. If it is realized, we shall end the current fiscal year with a surplus of $15 309 567, after providing $3 749 952 of supplemental appropriations which I have recommended.

After evaluating the trend over the past ten years, it appears that revenues of $393 493 608 will be produced in 1959-60. Together with the estimated surplus of $15 309 567 on June 30, 1959, resources will total $408 803 175.

THE BUDGET IN BRIEF

Resources

Estimated Surplus, June 30, 1959
After providing for supplemental appropriations recommended	$15 309 567
Estimated Revenues for 1959-60	393 493 608
Total Resources for 1959-60	$408 803 175

Recommendations

General State Operations	$181 808 185
State Aid	175 800 443
Capital Improvements	45 716 394
Total Recommendations	$403 325 022
Estimated Surplus, June 30, 1960	$5 478 153

THE INCREASES—AND DECREASES

The total recommendations of $403 325 022 represent an increase of approximately $9 800 000 over appropriations for the current fiscal year. This difference—analyzed in detail at the end of this text—is attributable substantially to increases for State Aid of $8 699 000, General State Operations $11 025 000 and Capital Construction $1 376 000 and to decreases in Capital Construction for Education of $9 490 000 and General State Operations of $1 743 000.

EDUCATION

Increases approximating $10 000 000 are recommended for educational purposes. They include $4 800 000 to insure the actuarial soundness of the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund and for social security payments for teachers throughout the State. An additional $3 300 000 is recommended for aid to local school districts. Approximately $1 800 000 is included for additional teaching personnel and other costs at our State institutions of higher learning.

Studies have been made in the field of higher education in New Jersey. The six State colleges have set a new enrollment record each year since 1955. There are now enrolled the equivalent of 10 000 full-time students in their combined undergraduate, part-time, field extension and graduate programs.

NEED FOR MORE TEACHERS

In spite of the increased number of graduates from these colleges, the demand for qualified teachers in New Jersey far exceeds the supply. In fact, the six colleges still prepare fewer than twenty per cent of all the new teachers employed in our public schools. In response to the demand for more college facilities, the six State colleges are planning to admit the equivalent of 900 additional full-time students next year. Funds are provided in this Budget for the teaching personnel required to meet this added load. There is also provision for related operating needs, including libraries.

Of the total number of 10 000 students, 2 000 are enrolled in the part-time graduate and field extension programs of the State.

colleges In the fiscal year covered by this Budget the State Board of Education plans to increase the tuition charge for these courses This Budget recommends the appropriation of such fees over and above those anticipated in the Budget By following this procedure these courses will become self sufficient and will require no State tax moneys

NEED FOR EXPANSION

The 1958 Legislature appropriated $6 052 500 for new buildings at Glassboro Newark and Paterson State Colleges We expect that some of these buildings may be ready for occupancy by 1960 Meantime the freshman classes cannot be enlarged to accommodate the growing number of students seeking admission For example both Montclair State College and Newark State College may be forced to cut back their freshman classes next year by approximately 200 students Glassboro likewise is reducing its freshman class by 60 students This fact alone points out the real necessity for expanding our capital facilities at the various State colleges

ACCREDITATION GAINS

In my Budget Message of last year I pointed out the need for funds to qualify our State colleges for accreditation by nationally recognized associations I am indeed pleased to tell you that all the State colleges have recently been accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education In addition four of our six colleges were accredited last year by the regional association the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools The remaining two colleges Jersey City and Newark are in the process of accreditation Thus the standards of the State colleges represent a quality associated with leading institutions of higher learning

FAVORABLE RATIO

In this Budget funds have been recommended for the State University to establish a student faculty ratio which compares favorably with other State supported universities The university expects to enroll an additional 740 students next year and faculty positions are being added to continue this ratio

This Budget also provides for renovation and laboratory equipment at some of the University's Newark buildings. Funds are also provided to equip the new horticultural building of the Agricultural Experiment Station for which the Legislature appropriated funds a few years ago.

ACTION FOR SCHOLARSHIPS

I am recommending the reappropriation of $100,000 made available in the current year for a State-wide scholarship program. Unfortunately, the appropriation was not followed up with legislation to make it available to our college applicants last fall. I hope the Legislature will act immediately so that this student aid can be used next September.

INSTITUTIONS AND WELFARE

For Welfare State Aid I am recommending a sum just about equal to the amount required for the current fiscal year. The amount required for State aid for such items as general assistance, old age assistance, aid for dependent children, and disability assistance is higher in fiscal '59 than the prior fiscal year because of the recent dip in the Nation's economy. With a forecast of an upward trend, it is reasonable to assume that the amount for State aid in these categories should level off in the fiscal year 1959-60.

I recommend for the general operation of the Department of Institutions and Agencies approximately $2,000,000 more than was appropriated in 1958-59.

WORK OF TWO COMMISSIONS

As you are aware, a commission which I appointed has reviewed this department's organization, operations, and need for statute revision. This report will soon be available. It should point to areas which need modification in view of modern concepts and practices. Another commission appointed by the Legislature is considering changes in commitment procedures. Its findings, too, could have far-reaching effects on the department's operations.

ROLES OF NEW POSITIONS

I am recommending 208 new positions in the Department of Institutions and Agencies. Ninety one will maintain patient care standards at institutions for the mentally retarded. 46 will serve in the two new wings for the criminally insane at Trenton State Hospital. 16 will operate a special children's unit at Ancora State Hospital. 18 will place more emphasis on treatment at Annandale and Bordentown Reformatories and 37 will meet special treatment requirements and operational problems in other areas. Off setting these increases 38 positions are eliminated in areas not related to those for which new positions have been recommended.

Special attention should be given to the 91 new employees needed for patient care at institutions for the mentally retarded. With the establishment of the Johnstone Training and Research Center at Bordentown more of the high grade patients are gradually being returned to community living. Many of these patients formerly cared for in our State institutions are now finding gainful employment in local areas. For this we should be thankful. However this creates a staffing problem since these persons had been used as working patients. It is now necessary to replace them with paid employees.

MENTAL HEALTH

Once again the mental hospital population has decreased. We continue to emphasize modern approaches and are now benefiting from improved staffing and active treatment. The hospitals are meeting the administrative deficiencies many of them merely technical reported by a recent survey and will soon be prepared for another inspection to regain accreditation.

We continue to attract qualified personnel and to develop and expand promising treatment programs. Thus the hospitals are becoming training centers for professional and technical personnel. They are now training 27 resident psychiatrists. The hospitals are offering a more diversified therapeutic program for patients. An increasing number of locked wards have become open wards.

FOR RESEARCH

I have again included funds to support research activities in psychiatry and neurology. We must anticipate increases in these items in future years. Our research efforts are now producing results and recognition. As an example, one of our research chemists has isolated a breakdown product of adrenalin in confirming the pioneering work of a Canadian laboratory. I am told that this may be a step in unraveling the mystery of the cause of schizophrenia.

Studies of the problem of alcoholism and of depression are being financed by two separate research grants. These studies are being done jointly with the Department of Psychology of the State University. All our State hospitals are co-operating in this activity.

OTHER NEEDS

Twenty-four facilities in eleven counties are approved for participation in State aid for community mental health services. With fourteen new projects anticipated, all counties will be represented.

We are converting some existing cottage areas for the care of the severely retarded. The impact of the trend toward younger and more severely retarded patients is more strongly felt at the cottage level where basic care is given.

The occupancy of two new wings for the criminally insane at Trenton State Hospital will reduce overcrowding and give security control.

CORRECTION AND PAROLE

We are advancing modern concepts of rehabilitation at our correctional institutions. The project at High Point Park is working well as a pre-release center for Annandale Reformatory. It provides useful work and eases readjustment to the community. More institutional work opportunities are being explored and developed for minimum custody inmates. Highfields near Hope well is receiving national attention for its work in the field of juvenile delinquency.

Additional professional positions recommended for Bordentown Reformatory will reach many more inmates through individual and group therapy and specialized social adjustment classes. This special effort is aimed at attacking emotional problems, mental conflicts and inability to get along in the community. This is an effort to reduce the average length of stay—to attack the problem of inmate population which is expanding beyond institutional capacities and even more important to recognize inmates as human beings and potentially valuable citizens.

CHILD WELFARE

A request was made by the State Board of Child Welfare for an additional $675 000 to provide proper administration of our dependent children program. Recent disclosures with which you are all familiar indicate that the administration of this program has been spread far too thin. Nevertheless, I have not included these funds in the Budget pending a decision by the Legislature on a broad question of policy which is basic to the issue.

I refer to a bill introduced in the last session to relieve the State Board of Child Welfare of its current responsibility for the administration of the Federally subsidized aid to dependent children (Home Life Assistance) program. The bill would have transferred this responsibility to the County Welfare Boards under the general supervision of the State Bureau of Assistance.

OBJECTIVES OF THE BILL

Adoption of this legislation would provide for a uniform operation and coordination with the other major Federally aided public assistance programs. It would entrust to the counties the same local responsibility and control over this program as they now exercise over old age and disability assistance.

This bill redefines the terms of eligibility to include many needy children and families now receiving public aid primarily at municipal expense without Federal matching funds which are available. The bill also establishes a new formula for the equal sharing of assistance costs between the State and the counties.

This would correct a disproportionate burden upon the counties about which they have been protesting for years

These changes were initiated and forcefully recommended by the Youth Study Commission. They have been endorsed by both the State Board of Control and the Commissioner of Institutions and Agencies. A new bill reviving the proposal has already been introduced in the current session and I urge that it be carefully considered for affirmative action.

SAVINGS TO THE COUNTIES

If this bill is enacted there would be a transfer of the administrative function from the State to the counties. In consideration of this shift the Federal aid for administration which amounts to $500,000 would go to the counties instead of the State. The equal sharing principle would require an additional State outlay of $1,200,000. When we balance against this figure the savings from the administrative transfer the net additional State cost for purposes of this Budget would be $470,000. The counties would save $295,000. The bill would also result in a savings in municipal relief costs just how much cannot be estimated at the moment.

If the Legislature does not enact this program this Budget should be increased by $675,000 for personnel and other administrative costs to carry out properly on the State level our responsibility to these dependent mothers and children.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

In 1955 I asked the Legislature to finance a Criminal Investigation Section in the Department of Law and Public Safety by an appropriation from the State Treasury. At that time the Investigation Section was financed from a revolving fund. By reason of the Legislature's failure to act on my request we had to continue using the revolving fund. The operation of the section is not possible within the limits of receipts expected in 1959-60.

I therefore recommend the establishment of a regular budget basis for the Criminal Investigation Section. The total appropriation requested is $64,060. This is less than half as much as recurring expenditures in previous years.

VALUABLE WORK OF THE SECTION

The section performs an important function in furnishing legal aid upon request by the various prosecutors and in investigating possible criminal activity extending across county lines. Several recent investigations by the section have proved of direct and substantial benefit to the public interest. I refer particularly to the investigations of abuses in the letting of municipal scavenger contracts and of irregularities and misconduct in the labor management field. The investigation of these abuses should be continued and expanded. Since they cross county lines, no single prosecutor can undertake fully such investigations.

The valuable contributions of the Criminal Investigation Section to effective law enforcement justify its establishment as a permanent Budget unit.

MOTOR VEHICLES

There is provided in this Budget a little over $700,000 to complete the general issue of license plates due to start this spring. At long last inconvenience and irritations to our motorists will soon come to an end. Also recommended are 43 additional positions to meet an increasing workload and to improve the operation of existing programs such as the point system, license and registration renewals and traffic safety.

SPEEDERS LOSE LICENSES

An additional 22 positions are recommended to administer the new automatic revocation and driver warning programs. Seven additional positions are included to meet the requirements of recent amendments to the Unsatisfied Claim and Judgment Fund Law. These reinforced driver regulatory measures—the results of which are promising to date—constitute a significant move in a total war against hazards on our highways.

A study of the organization, operations and the rescheduled work week in our auto inspection stations has resulted in a revised staffing plan by which 110 examiner positions are being eliminated. This will be achieved through the abolition of present vacancies.

and through normal attrition Savings of $375 000 are reflected in this Budget Other studies are in progress to review procedures and structure in all phases of the Motor Vehicle Division

HIGHWAYS

This Budget recommends added funds for the maintenance and operation of our Highway Department As more mileage is added to our State highway system through the Federally aided construction program the number of crews must be enlarged We must remember that although the Federal Government provides funds for the construction of new highways it does not participate in their maintenance Funds for this purpose must be provided entirely by the State I am also recommending funds for personnel needed to acquire rights of way for highways yet to be constructed

COMPLETE FEDERAL AID

In setting up State funds required for the Construction Division we have taken complete advantage of Federal aid which will be available for engineering services on the new highways to be constructed in 1959 60 The Federal Government insists on an adequate inspection force as a condition to reimbursing the State for construction

I am asking continuance of an appropriation for contract painting of the Pulaski Skyway and other high level bridges and projects requiring rehabilitation or major repair

The funds recommended from State sources together with Federal aid will make it possible to construct $120 000 000 worth of new highways I am also recommending $14 000 000 for projects in which the Federal Government will not participate

INCREASES TO STATE EMPLOYEES

One of the increases in this Budget is $5 600 000 for salary increments to State employees This sum will provide normal merit increases for those employees who have performed satisfactory service

The Civil Service Commission adopted a new pay plan effective January 1 1959 This plan narrows the gap between salaries in State service and those paid in comparable jobs in private employment in New Jersey It was based on careful studies of pay rates in other public jurisdictions as well as among 60 major employers in New Jersey

TO MEET COMPETITION

The State as an employer must keep pace with modern personnel practices for it must compete with other employers to get competent men and women The new pay plan and the increases reflected in this Budget will also help us to retain the dedicated employees whom we have been able to attract They represent a major investment and their skill is essential to the successful performance of State Government

AT TOP LEVEL

I would also call your attention to some particular increases for certain top level positions in the Judiciary and the Executive Branches The last general increase in judges salaries came in 1948 and in cabinet salaries on July 1 1953 Recent studies by research groups show that corporation executive salaries are at levels far beyond those paid in State service

Certainly the responsibilities being shouldered by so many of our cabinet and division directors are comparable to those of industrial executives whose salaries are far greater We cannot hope to match these but we must recognize the need to make some adjustment if we are to recruit and keep the best people and if we are to eliminate some of the inequities that exist within the State Government

LONG OVERDUE

We have some division directors whose career deputies now earn more than their chiefs We have many departments where the salaries paid for key technical and professional leadership jobs are woefully inadequate in relation to the responsibilities

The top legal executives of our major corporations often receive many times the salary of our State's Attorney General

The top purchasing executive the comptroller the engineer and other major administrative officers and staff show similar disparities. Our sister states are paying higher salaries to their cabinet and division heads than we pay ours. This Budget requests a modest adjustment long overdue.

A SITTING DUCK

In my last three Budget Messages I have recommended funds to provide medical surgical benefits to State employees at State expense. The Senate has consistently dropped this item. I have not again included this amount in the Budget because judging from past experience it would be another sitting duck. However should the Legislature now include this fringe benefit in the Appropriations Bill I will be happy to approve it.

OTHER CAPITAL FACILITIES

Many requests were made by the various departments for capital facilities. This Budget recommends funds for badly needed roads and approaches and parking areas at certain State installations. It provides for needed equipment at the State University and the final installment for capital improvements at the Newark College of Engineering.

On many occasions I have recommended that the Legislature provide buildings for the Departments of Health Education and Labor and Industry. As you well know Federal funds together with funds presently in the Unemployment Compensation Auxiliary Fund are sufficient to construct a building for our Department of Labor and Industry. I cannot stress too strongly the need for this building which would bring together under one roof the scattered activities of this department and would form a focal point in the John Fitch Way development of Trenton.

BONDS OR PAY AS YOU GO?

There are now pending various bills authorizing a bond issue to provide capital facilities for the State Colleges Newark College of Engineering and the State University. Although selling bonds is an easy way of raising money there is nothing easy about pay ing it back. At high current interest rates it would cost between one and one half to two times the amount borrowed depending on the term of the loan. As an alternative to the bond method I suggest the Legislature consider a pay as you go method for capital improvements. Our experience with the 1949 and 1952 bond issues shows that many years are needed to carry out a prudent and well planned construction program. To illustrate this I need only point out that we are still spending the remainder of the funds which were raised in those years.

By wise planning it may be possible to meet our capital needs on a pay as you go basis by revenue measures to raise about $15 000 000 a year. I urge the Legislature to give serious study to this alternate method.

Another reason why the bond method leaves something to be desired is that the funds must be utilized for a specific function. This makes for inflexibility. An issue for Institutions and Agencies as an example could not be used for urgent capital needs in areas like Health, Agriculture and Education. If however the Legislature insists on the bond method I will approve that legislation.

The State Board of Control of I and A has recently presented incontrovertible evidence that funds must be provided for a new institution for mentally retarded and for a medium security prison. These needs are the inexorable result of an expanding population and if the pay as you go method is not pursued we face a further bond issue for these purposes in the very near future.

USE OF STATE FUNDS

There is another alternative I would like to present to the Legislature to allow the investment of State funds in our own capital facilities. I have in mind the use of part of the funds which would normally be paid to the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund next July first to finance a much needed building for the Department of Education. Approximately $2 500 000 less than one per cent of the fund could be appropriated from this source for such a building and replaced by increasing subsequent payments to the Teachers Pension Fund over a 20 year period at a level which includes interest at four per cent This is the rate guaranteed to the fund under the statute

Other states have used this method of financing many of their capital improvements It provides the buildings It also guards the actuarial soundness of the fund

FOR STATE UNIVERSITY

I am also advised that the State University can borrow funds from the Federal Housing Authority at a rate of 2.9 per cent Since the University is in dire need of dormitory and food service facilities at both the Men's College and at Douglass I recommend (1) that the Board of Governors of the University proceed to borrow these funds at such rates and (2) that continuing annual appropriations be made to amortize their cost to the extent that the facilities are not wholly self liquidating

STATE INVESTMENT COUNCIL

The Legislature of New Jersey in 1950 pioneered in the area of State investments by setting up the Division of Investments in the Department of the Treasury In 1950 when this Division was established and its investment practices placed under the direction of the State Investment Council the effective rate of return on our pension funds was 2.46 per cent On June 30 1958 it was 3.17 per cent We have thus made excellent progress but we should not drag our feet because of obsolete limitations

MODERN INVESTMENT PRACTICES

As you know one of the areas in our annual Budgets which require mandatory increases year after year is that of pensions Under our statutes we must keep our major pension funds actuarially sound Every year the State plows millions into these funds One of the deterrents to this ever increasing contribution would be the realization of a maximum return on the money in the various pension funds This would lighten the cost of government to our taxpayers Many of our sister states have modernized their investment practices and taken a more liberal attitude in the invest ment of their funds. The result is that they are able to earn an effective rate of return on their money that is substantially higher than ours. This is done without sacrificing the over all quality of the portfolio.

I strongly urge that the Legislature give serious thought to new legislation to broaden our investment activities. This would give us the diversification so necessary to our investment portfolio. At the same time it would afford us the opportunity to reduce the deficiency appropriations to the pension funds.

BETTER INVESTMENT YIELDS

We have not been a buyer of municipal securities for many years. None of our funds is subject to taxation and since this is so it is not advisable to seek diversification in the municipal field. If we did so we would have to accept a lower rate of return on our money. This is recognized as unsound financial practice. I should like to quote from an article in the magazine Municipal Finance under date of August 1958:

State and Municipal Retirement and Pension Funds are expected to have in the next fiscal year 1.6 billions to invest. While none of these funds need tax exemption many do invest their funds in tax exempt bonds as a tribute to obsolete legal requirements, parochial patriotism or exceedingly poor investment management.

New Jersey certainly cannot be accused of exceedingly poor investment management but we must make every effort to see that each dollar of our invested funds returns the highest possible rate to us consistent with sound investment practices.

MISCELLANEOUS

This Budget recommends funds to administer the Division of Civil Defense by using part of the special fund previously appropriated for payment of claims to civil defense volunteers. Only a very small part of the original trust fund appropriated for these claims has been expended. I am recommending that the Legislature by resolution close out the fund as provided by law, reserving a small part for claims and appropriating the balance to augment specific funds appropriated for this Division.

In the Department of Health, additional funds have been provided for the chronic illness program and a token sum recommended for polio vaccine. If additional funds are needed for this purpose, transfers should be permitted on an emergency basis pending subsequent supplemental appropriation by the Legislature. In addition, in the Department of Health, $50,000 has been recommended to establish a meat inspection program. These funds may be augmented by funds available through the Federal Department of Agriculture.

Funds are also recommended for the Department of Labor and Industry to provide additional safety inspectors in the field of construction. Sufficient State funds have been recommended to match the maximum Federal funds available for the rehabilitation program.

FIRST THINGS FIRST

This Message draws the fiscal picture for the forthcoming fiscal year. It does not pretend to deal with the long range fiscal policies of New Jersey but only with first things first. The State faces basic decisions with regard to the tax burden which now falls heavily on the holders of real property. In the Middletown case, the State Supreme Court required assessment of real property at full value and this rule, although laid down in a particular township, can be applied to the State as a whole. Therefore many problems arise concerning the entire structure of State and local taxes for which solution must be sought. They involve a meeting of the minds of the legislative and executive branches of the State Government and I hereby offer my full co-operation to that purpose.

CONCLUSION

Right now it is possible to say that in a time of rising costs and heavy pressure for increased State services the State of New Jersey faces the new fiscal year with a balanced Budget and no new taxes or increases of present ones. By the most careful scrutiny of expenditures this Budget has been held down to a figure only two and one half per cent greater than appropriations approved for the current year. Moreover as to capital expenditures which are inescapable this Message contains suggestions which if adopted will save many millions of dollars for the tax payers in the future. If it cannot with complete accuracy be styled an austerity Budget since it does not ignore essential needs it can at least be described as an example of prudent housekeeping—an example of how a State can live within its means.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,	}
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
August 10, 1959

ASSEMBLY BILL No 411

To the General Assembly

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No 411, for the following reasons

This bill would direct that the "standard plans and specifications for school buildings prescribed by the Commissioner of Education ' shall authorize a minimum height of 9 feet for classroom ceilings

In 1955 the rules governing schoolhouse construction prescribed by the State Board of Education were changed to reduce the minimum authorized average height for a classroom ceiling from 10 feet 6 inches to the present minimum, 9 feet 6 inches As a part of the study which preceded that change, school districts were requested to take alternate bids on 10 foot 6 inch and on 9 foot classroom ceilings This revealed that a 1 foot 6 inch reduction in classroom average ceiling height could be expected to yield an average saving per classroom of $315 00. As against this anticipated saving, however, it was known that a ceiling only 9 feet high would create a lighting problem which could be solved only by a costly type of lighting system. It was the considered judgment of the Board that the saving of approximately $100 00 per classroom to be expected from a further reduction to 9 feet would have been offset, and probably exceeded by the increased cost of lighting fixtures. The authorized minimum therefore was reduced to 9 feet 6 inches.

The Department of Education has had this matter under continuing study since 1955. It advises me that there has been no development in the field of school lighting since that time which would warrant a different analysis.

Apart from the particular issue of classroom ceiling minimum average height, this bill is also objectionable on a fundamental ground. By R. S. 18-2-4, the State Board of Education is authorized to prescribe standards of school house construction. This is a sound delegation of authority of the sort essential in modern government. The Board has the facilities for continuing study of the many facets of the field, and its flexible administrative authority enables it to respond promptly to improvements in schoolhouse construction technique and equipment. At such time as a 9 foot minimum height appears feasible the Board is fully empowered to establish it under existing law. I believe it would be unwise to supplant this sensitive administrative authority with rigid statutory standards in such matters of detail as that with which this bill is concerned.

Respectfully,

[SEAL]

ASSEMBLY BILL No 122

To the General Assembly

I return Assembly Bill No 122 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons

This bill would supplement Chapter 60 of Title 40 of the Revised Statutes It would provide that where the residen tial property of any person is acquired by the State or any of its agencies or authorities for the purpose of constructing a highway to be used as an expressway, freeway, parkway or thruway, the owner so dispossessed may apply to the governing body of the municipality to purchase 'at private sale' real property owned by the municipality. It would then authorize the governing body to make such sale "at a fair market value" on terms and conditions fixed by the governing body and agreed to by the applicant even though the land so sold may have been a part of lands improved and used for park purposes.

The bill is obviously intended to provide a mechanism to alleviate to a degree the problems which flow from the construction of projects which involve the taking of residential lands and the resettlement of the persons formerly located there. The object is, of course, a desirable one and it is unfortunate that the particular method chosen to alleviate the conditions cannot be approved. The difficulties with the bill are as follows:

(1) It is a special bill because the same reasons which support it in the case of a taking for highways of a special kind are equally applicable to instances where the taking is for ordinary highways or for other governmental purposes,

(2) The provision for disposition of municipal lands at private sale is unwise policy in the absence of suitable statutory controls. See R. S. 40:60-26 (b) and (c),

(3) The bill completely fails to make any requirement that the land obtained from the municipality be used for residential purposes.

(4) The present statute dealing with park lands, R. S. 40:60-27, requires as a condition to any such sale that there be obtained in exchange other lands contiguous to the park lands at least equal in area to the lands conveyed. The present bill contains no mechanism to protect against the unwise disposition of needed park lands under the pressure of supposed need.

(5) Although the bill purports to authorize the disposition of park lands, this enactment would be ineffective as to any case where the municipal title is subject to a reversion for breach of condition.

(6) Even if it be assumed that the displacement caused by the condemnation of the kind described made it difficult to find other residential accommodations in the same municipality, there is nothing to suggest that the person so displaced could not without difficulty locate suitable residential accommodations in another municipality. It must be remembered that upon condemnation the State agency or authority compensates the owner for the value of the property condemned and the money so received is, therefore, available to purchase other accommodations.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 138

To the General Assembly

I now return Assembly Bill No. 138 without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill declares that no toll shall be charged by the New Jersey Turnpike Authority for the passage over the Turnpike of certain specified types of vehicles such as ambulances, first aid, fire fighting or police vehicles, which require emergency passage or otherwise in the performance of their duties.

The vehicles covered by the bill are limited to those operated by the State of New Jersey, or by a New Jersey municipality, county or nonprofit organization. In this respect the scope of the bill is narrower than the practice actually followed on the Turnpike, which allows toll-free passage of such vehicles from our neighboring States as well as from within this State Since the object of the bill, and more, is in fact achieved without a statute, the bill is unnecessary

If the bill attempted to go beyond the scope of the actual practice followed by the Authority it would be ineffective because the Authority practice matches the permission it has to allow toll free passage under the terms of its bond resolution, which is a part of its contract with bondholders No statute can constitutionally vary those terms by legislative fiat 1947 Constitution Article IV Section VII, paragraph 3

ASSEMBLY BILL No 167

To the General Assembly

I return Assembly Bill No 167 herewith without my approval, for the following reasons

This bill would supplement chapter 15 of Title 9 and amend section 26 8-40 of the Revised Statutes The bill provides for the legitimization of a child born out of wedlock in cases where the child's mother subsequently marries a person who is not the father upon filing proof of the marriage and a statement signed by both that they desire to establish the same relationships, rights duties and obligations between said child and themselves as though the child had been born to them in lawful wedlock The amendment to R S 26 8-40 would provide for the issuance of a new birth certificate in the same manner as is now done where a child is legitimated by the subsequent marriage of its natural parents

The object of the bill evidently is to further protect the innocent victims of unwise parents. However, this desirable objective cannot, in my opinion, be accomplished in the manner proposed.

In effect, the bill would establish a method of administrative adoption having much the same effect as a regular adoption under chapter 3 of Title 9 of the Revised Statutes (the adoption act). A great deal has been done in the way of modernizing our adoption statutes, the entire act having been revised in 1953 by Chapter 264, and I know of no reason why the instances which would be covered by Assembly Bill No. 167 cannot be thoroughly and adequately met by suitable proceedings under the present adoption act.

It is said that formal proceedings under the adoption act may involve some risk of publicity which could undesirably disclose the fact that the child was illegitimate. This is not the case since the adoption act carefully provides for hearings by the court in camera and for a sealing of the records which shall at no time be open to inspection unless the court, upon good cause shown, shall otherwise order. The same provision is set forth with respect to the index of adoption proceedings, see Section 15, Chapter 264, P. L. 1953. On the other hand, unintentional though it may be, proceedings under Assembly Bill No. 167 would of themselves be direct information that the child was illegitimate since the proceedings can only be taken under the proposal when the child was born out of wedlock. Thus the very objective sought to be achieved would be entirely frustrated by the establishment of a special procedure applicable only to the special case mentioned.

Further, if it be said that it is desirable to provide a simple administrative method to accomplish the object of an adoption, there would then be raised the question why the bill should be limited to illegitimate children. The same considerations might equally be applied to the case of a mother who is widowed or divorced and upon her remarriage the person whom she marries is willing and desires to adopt the child or children of her former marriage. Yet the proposed bill makes no provision for this equally appealing situation.

I find it difficult to subscribe however to any proposals which unduly simplify the adoption procedure. Our present adoption act is very carefully designed to make certain that the Superior Court acting through the Chancery Division supervises the adoption process as parens patriae of the child and is directed by the act to place the welfare of the child above all other considerations. The mere marriage of the mother and the willingness of her husband to adopt may well not be in the best interest of the child. This is a fact that can only be determined accurately on a case by case basis.

The Clerk read the following message from the Governor

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,	}
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

ASSEMBLY BILL No 174

To the General Assembly

I return Assembly Bill No 174 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons

This bill would amend N J S 2A 151-44 which deals with the procedure by which applications are processed for the purpose of obtaining pistol permits

The amendments attempt to establish separate procedures in the case of a person who is a resident of the State of New Jersey from the procedure to be used when the applicant is a non resident. In the case of a non resident the bill would require that he first obtain a permit or license "in the State of his residence or employment" and that he attach a certified or photostatic copy of that permit to his application in this State

THIS provision could obviously lead to unexpected confusion. For example, if the applicant resides in New York and is employed in New Jersey, the new provision would require that he obtain a permit in the State of his employment (New Jersey) before obtaining a permit in New Jersey. In addition, in a case where the non resident requests the permit only in connection with employment he will not have possession of the firearm in the State of his residence and there will be no occasion or basis upon which he can obtain a permit in the State of residence.

From an examination of the bill it is difficult to ascertain what state of facts creates the need for legislation. It may be that the objective is to provide to the New Jersey officials relevant data in the possession of authorities in the State of residence in order to assist them to pass upon an application here. If that is the case, the objective can be achieved much more simply, merely by requiring that where an applicant is a non resident, the New Jersey official who reviews the application shall first obtain a suitable report from the authorities in the State of residence.

The Clerk read the following message from the Governor

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
January 12, 1960 }

ASSEMBLY BILL No 193

To the General Assembly

I now return Assembly Bill No 193 without my approval, for the following reasons

This bill was introduced for the purpose of amending the 5 year escheat statute (P L 1951, ch 304, N J S 2A 37-29 to 44) in order to provide better procedural flexibility, to reduce the expense of this kind of proceeding, and to provide indemnity to persons in the position of stakeholders, who are required by existing law to transfer property they hold to the State's custody

The text of the bill had been prepared with great care and after extended discussion with representatives of a number of local corporations which are annually required to turn over escheated property under this statute. The underlying object was to improve the act in the respects to be noted below, so that the obligation to comply would be less burdensome. This was in furtherance of New Jersey's historic policy to maintain a harmonious and friendly climate for the many business enterprises within our borders.

At the time this bill originally passed in the Assembly, one of the corporate representatives suggested that the provision to report a claim "immediately" might be too strictly construed, and suggested that the provision be changed to read that the claim is to be reported "with reasonable dispatch."

Complying with this request, my staff sent a memorandum to all members of the Senate on April 27, 1959, so that the requested amendment could be made in that House.

"Assembly No. 193 in Senate, A and R of Laws Comm (1) The present 5 year escheat section, N. J. S. 2A:37-30 applies to moneys, dividends, interest, and wages. However, possibly in borrowing language from the 14 year statute the term 'personal property' is used in several places. This is changed to read 'moneys'.

"(2) The act now provides for a single, fixed form of action, only in the Superior Court, creating unforeseen problems. Example in the National case 16 N. J. 486 a N. J. corporation holding escheatable funds merged with a foreign corporation. The N. J. proceeding was futile as the new corporation could not be served and the statute fails to provide for suits in other courts. Section 1 amends the act to allow the State Treasurer to claim the funds on behalf of the true owner, and section 2 permits appointment of a receiver or administrator who can sue in any court when our court cannot reach the defendant. This directly parallels methods used for estates of insolvents and decedents to solve the same problem.

“(3) Section 3 amends the act to allow the court to fix a method of notice other than the mailing of a letter or post card which has proven unsuitable for numerous items of only a few cents in amount. Any method permitted by court rules will be available with this change.

“(4) Where test cases have settled basic laws, many holders of funds would prefer to transfer custody without the expense of a lawsuit. The change of section 1, and the indemnity provided by section 4 will allow this to be done voluntarily. The indemnity clause is in line with similar provisions of this kind.

“(5) The changes in the remaining sections are needed to fit in with the above.

“(6) It has been asked that there be an amendment, which seems to be entirely proper, as follows:

p 4, sec 4, line 17 delete the word ‘immediately’, and in lieu thereof insert ‘, with reasonable dispatch,’ ”

Although there were no known objections to the bill with the requested change the Senate failed to act for some time, and the subject was accordingly taken up at the weekly legislative conference on a number of occasions. There was never any communication or explanation from the Senate until late in the evening of May 25, 1959 (which was to be the last legislative day before the summer recess), when the Senate passed the bill with amendment. Since an amendment had been requested, it was naturally assumed that it was this change that had been made, and the General Assembly thereupon proceeded to pass the Senate amendment late that same night, under emergency resolution.

When the bill was later checked, however, it was discovered that instead of making the requested amendment, the Senate had added an entirely new section changing N J S 2A 37-29 to require that 12 years, instead of the present provision for 5 years should elapse before the State received custody of the escheated funds.

Although the bill had been taken up several times in conference, the intention to make this change in the law and the reasons for desiring to do so were never disclosed by any member of the Senate majority which controlled the bill in caucus. There has been no explanation to this day.

At the legislative conference of November 12, 1959, the question was explicitly put, and a request was made to correct the bill by deleting this unexplained change and by making the change originally asked. No explanation for the Senate's action was given at that time. Instead, my office was requested to supply a memorandum outlining the situation. This was done the next day, copies being sent to the President of the Senate and the Assistant Minority Leader of the Assembly, among others, as follows:

"1 This bill was passed in the Assembly, amended in the Senate, and is on 2nd reading in the Assembly

"2 As introduced, the bill brings the present statutory procedure into line with the procedure generally governing in rem actions with absent defendants and it adds an indemnity provision to protect the custodian who turns over the funds

"3 After Assembly passage the custodians (mostly corporations) asked that the provision for immediate notice to the State be altered to provide for notice 'with reasonable dispatch'. This was approved and a memorandum was sent to the Senate requesting that change

"4 In the Senate however, the requested change was not made. Instead, a new section was added amending N. J. S. 2A:37-29, which now authorized a proceeding to obtain custody after 5 years' absence so as to require 12 years' absence. This amendment would vitiate the entire act for the following reasons:

"(a) The first escheat act, passed in 1946, provided for the taking of unclaimed personal property of unknown or absent owners after 14 years (N. J. S. 2A:37-11 to 28)

"(b) In subsequent decisions, it was held that property claims which had been barred by the 6 year statute of limitations could not be claimed under the 14 year statute. See Standard Oil Co. 5 N. J. 281 (1950)

"(c) Thereafter, a custodial statute was passed 1951. This is N. J. S. 2A:37-29 through 44, and is the act involved in A-193. It provided for a separate court proceeding by which the State obtains custody only on behalf of the absent owner, after 5 years. By having the State take custody after 5 years, the running of the

6 year statute of limitations is halted See Sperry etc Co 23 N J 38

“Another 2 years, for a total of 7 years, must elapse before the funds held in custody can be escheated (N J S 2A 37–34) and this step is taken only after a court proceeding on notice (N J S 2A 37–36 to 38)

“(d) To change the custodial act from 5 years (as the present law reads) to 12 years (as the Senate amendment proposed), would allow the 6 year statute of limitations to run and would effectively cut off the escheat programs begun in 1946 and improved in 1951 ”

It is clear from the foregoing analysis that the Senate amendment would emasculate the 5 year custodial escheat act, and the bill must therefore be returned without approval

The history of the way in which this bill was handled in the Senate is a prime example of the public disservice which results from the uncommunicative technique of the caucus system employed by the Senate majority party to control legislation absolutely. The bill was a desirable one, there is not to this day any known objection to it, yet the Senate caucus saw fit to tack on a change which would have been to the disadvantage of the public and has not seen fit to disclose its motives or explain its reasons

To the General Assembly

I return Assembly Bill No 248 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons

This bill would amend R S 54 34-2, 54 34-21 and 54 34-3 by inserting express provisions dealing with legally adopted children and brothers and sisters of the whole or half blood

The question of the rate classification of adopted children was litigated and settled by the Supreme Court in Palmer v Kingsley 27 N J 425 (1958) In that case the court held that the Transfer Inheritance Tax Act is to be read in conjunction with the adoption act of 1953 with the result that adopted children are to be given the same treatment for rate classification purposes as natural children

The decision of the Supreme Court carries its own force and the accomplishment of this objective does not require amendment of the statute While it may be desirable to amend the Transfer Inheritance Tax Act to conform with the Supreme Court opinion such a course would require extremely careful preparation to insure for example that the issue of adopted children, the adopted children of a deceased adopted child adoptive brothers or sisters adopted children of a stepchild and all the other possibilities were thoroughly checked out and provided for This bill is not drawn to accomplish that purpose

On the contrary examination of the bill discloses that its purpose is to limit the rate classification to a child or children of a deceased legally adopted child and presumably to exclude their issue, the adopted children of a deceased adopted child, adoptive brothers and sisters and adopted children of a stepchild as well as perhaps other categories In this respect the amendments would cut down the effect of the recent Supreme Court decision

It is the policy of the State, under the adoption act of 1953, to extend to adopted children in full all of the rights, privileges and relationships which attach to natural children. I am aware of no reason which would justify a departure from this broad principle in connection with the determination of rates for inheritance tax purposes. I do not believe that full recognition of the legal effect of an adoption would in any way seriously affect the amount of State revenues derived from the inheritance tax law.

ASSEMBLY BILL No 349

To the General Assembly

I am returning herewith Assembly Bill No 349, without my approval, for the following reasons

This bill would allow motor vehicles carrying land fill for a "reclamation of meadowland project" to travel along county roads State highways or municipal roads without regard to maximum gross weight of vehicle and load under existing statutes. It provides that the board of chosen free holders of a county in which a project is being or will be carried on may authorize its county supervisor to issue a permit for the vehicle fixing a maximum weight limit in the permit. Consent to the use of State highways or municipal roads is required where they are part of the route. Other provisions deal with financial responsibility of the vehicle operator, the obligation to pay for damage caused to any road, bridge or railroad crossing and penalties for exceeding the limit fixed in the permit.

Under the Federal highway law (23 U S C A 127) maximum limits are fixed for highways which are part of the Interstate System, and if this bill became law it would allow weights in excess of the Federal maximum and thereby disqualify New Jersey for the receipt of Federal highway funds.

I am satisfied, too, that the desired object can be achieved under existing law. Land fill of the kind this bill deals with is the usual by product of excavation or other earth moving phases of a construction project and can be carried in vehicles registered for use with constructor registration plates in proper cases. ASSEMBLY BILL No 357

I am returning herewith Assembly Bill No 357 without by approval, for the following reasons

This bill together with Assembly Bill No 359 propose changes in the Banks and Savings Banks Officers and Employees' Retirement and Benefit Act (P L 1953, c 124), which was added to the 1948 Banking Act (P L 1948, c 67) Since both bills are before me and are interrelated they will be considered together

The 1953 law established a framework within which banks and savings banks might establish plans to provide retirement and related benefits for their officers and employees, subject to the supervision of the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance

Together, these two bills would remove banks from the scope of the present law, which would then apply only to savings banks, and establish an entirely new framework for banks other than savings banks

The suggested alteration was given extended analysis and discussion with bank and savings bank representatives and the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance The conclusions reached were that banks and savings banks should continue to be governed by a single statute and that if the present statute is unsatisfactory in any respect it should be modified to cure the defect for the benefit of all types of bank and savings bank alike A new bill for this purpose is now under study and will be introduced at the next session

To the General Assembly

I return Assembly Bill No 361 herewith without my approval, for the following reasons

This bill would have amended chapter 56 of P L 1946 dealing with savings and loan associations and building and loan associations by authorizing a participation in mortgage loans in conjunction with out of State associa tions to the extent and under the conditions permitted by the rules and regulations of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation

Quite aside from the risk of constitutional infirmity which might arise from the attempt to incorporate the Federal rules and regulations by reference (New Jersey Constitution 1947, Article IV, Section VII, paragraph 5), I consider this mechanism quite undesirable. The factors which may persuade the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation to adopt a given rule or regulation are likely to be based on nation wide factors which may or may not be in the interest of associations subject to the law of New Jersey. It is preferable in extending the authority which this bill proposes to have it controlled by rules and regulations promulgated by the Department of Banking and Insurance subject to the standards that those rules and regulations shall conform as closely as may be to the Federal rules consistent with due consideration for local conditions.

A corrective bill making the necessary changes has been introduced as Assembly Bill No. 722 passed by both houses and signed into law as Chapter 183 of P. L. 1959.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 415

To the General Assembly

I return Assembly Bill No. 415 herewith without my approval for the following reasons:

This bill would amend R. S. 34:15-15, dealing with the statutory obligation placed upon an employer to furnish ‘medical, surgical and other treatment and hospital service’ to injured workmen. The amendment consists of adding an express reference to “chiropractors’ services” in seven places in this section.

As the statute now reads, the obligation is to furnish such ‘medical, surgical and other treatment, and hospital service’ as is necessary to cure and relieve the effects of the injury, and for restoration of functions where possible. This obligation is made subject to the provisos that

1 The obligation is limited to $50 00 for professional services and $50 00 for hospital services unless the Division of Workmen’s Compensation determines, on petition and hearing, that the treatment and services are necessary and reasonable in amount.

2 The employee may secure the treatment and services when the employer refuses or neglects to provide them.

3 The employer is relieved of the obligation to reimburse unless he was first requested to furnish the treatment or service or unless the need was obvious and the employer failed to furnish the treatment or service with knowledge of the injury and the need.

4 Notification is not required when it was not possible to give it or when the peculiar circumstances of the case justify the expenditure assumed by the employee.

After the present section makes use of the basic phrase ‘medical, surgical and other treatment and hospital service’, it thereafter refers to this category by a variety of non-uniform expressions as follows:

*a “physicians’ or surgeons’ services” hospital service

*b “physicians’ or surgeons’ services” such hospital service or appliances”

*c “such physicians’ and surgeons’ treatment and hospital services”

d “such treatment and services”

*e “such physicians’ treatment and hospital services”

f “the same”

g "such services"

h "the same"

*i 'such physicians' treatment and hospital services, apparatus and appliances"

*j "such physicians' and surgeons' treatment and hospital treatment"

*k "similar physicians' surgeons' and hospital services"

The expressions marked with an asterisk are those in which the word "chiropractors" is inserted by the bill the other expressions are left unchanged

There can be no doubt that the phrasing of the present section leaves much to be desired in the way of draftsmanship. Nonetheless it is plain that it is hardly improved and, in fact may be worsened by the proposed amendment.

Presumably, the object is to make clear that the services of a chiropractor are included among those authorized by the act. In my judgment the amendment is unnecessary and would add to the confusion.

What has evidently been overlooked is that the enacting clause covers the whole category of 'medical, surgical and other treatment' (emphasis added) and the fact that the various provisos which follow refer variously to 'physicians' or to 'physicians or surgeons' cannot reduce the scope of the enacting clause. Thus, the services of a chiropractor, where they are in fact necessary and where the cost is reasonable in amount are included in the phrase 'other treatment'. I am informed by the Division of Workmen's Compensation that this is the interpretation followed in practice and that payment for the services of a chiropractor are in fact required where the statutory requirements are met.

If this amendment were enacted it could carry the implication that professional services of a type not expressly mentioned in the provisos cannot be required of the employer despite the breadth of the phrase "other treatment". Thus, for example, there would be doubt whether the services of a dentist (who is nowhere mentioned) could be required to be provided although, as is well known, such services are essential for certain types of injury such as a jaw fracture.

Further, while inserting specific mention of "chiropractors" in the seven places noted, the bill fails to cure the omission of a reference to "surgeons" in items (e) and (1), listed above, or to make consistent the varied references to "treatment" (basic phrase, plus items c d e 1 and j above), and "services" (items a, b, g and k above) in speaking of physicians and surgeons, nor the partial references to "appliances" and "apparatus and appliances" in items (b) and (1) above

In summary, then, I am satisfied that the proposed amendment is unnecessary since chiropractic services are included in the term "other treatment" when the conditions of the act are satisfied and that while the section could be vastly improved by redrafting, this bill fails to achieve that object. It should be noted, too, that whether the proposed amendment be made or not the allowance of the cost of chiropractic services will be a matter of fact to be determined in each case there must be a proper relation as there must be for any service between the nature of the injury and the capacity of the requested service to cure and relieve the workman of the effects of the injury and to restore the functions of the injured member or organ where possible

ASSEMBLY BILL No 433

To the General Assembly

I return Assembly Bill No 433 herewith without my approval, for the following reasons

This bill would amend section 39 3-84 of the Revised Statutes. Actually two amendments are involved. The first amendment deals with commercial motor vehicles of the tractor semitrailer type. Under present law the combined length of the two units is limited to 50 feet but the length of the semitrailer is limited to 35 feet. The amendment leaves the 50 foot limit unchanged but removes the 35 foot limit applicable to the semitrailer in order to permit the use of current models under which the total 50 foot length may be divided as between the tractor and the semitrailer. This part of the bill appears to be unobjectionable.

The second amendment in the bill would eliminate the present statutory maximum width of 96 inches applicable to buses and in its place would vest authority in the Board of Public Utility Commissioners to prescribe the maximum width in the same manner as it prescribes maximum lengths under present law.

This part of the bill, in failing to make any provision to conform to Federal requirements in connection with Federal highways, would have run the risk of making New Jersey ineligible for the receipt of Federal highway funds.

A better flexible mechanism is to require that before there be action by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners it should first receive an appropriate certification by the Division of Motor Vehicles with respect to the safety of a proposed width limitation and a certification from the State Highway Department with respect to the conformity of a proposed width with Federal highway requirements. There should also be a provision that in no case shall a width be prescribed which would disqualify the State from receiving Federal highway funds.

A corrective bill making the necessary changes has been introduced as Assembly Bill No. 714, passed by both houses and signed into law as Chapter 171 of P. L. 1959.

The bill provides that a full time employee of a county, municipality or school district who is required to work on a legal holiday in the course of his regular work week "shall be entitled to a compensatory day of leave "at the option ' of his employer The provision is made inapplicable to uniformed members or dispatchers of a police or fire department, and to Saturdays and Sundays

The bill was amended twice in the Assembly and once in the Senate before it was passed, resulting in an ambiguous patchwork that is compounded by an attempt to include a number of conditions, exceptions and modifiers in a single sentence Thus, at one stage the bill gave the employee the right to have either a day's pay or a day's leave the employer was given the option to decide which By amendment, the provision for a day's pay was removed but the option was left in with no subject to which it could logically apply Further, section 2 still directs that "additional compensation' so earned "shall be paid", although the provision for a day's pay is gone

The Senate had this bill from April 6 to May 25 when it passed it with amendments, May 25 being the day when both Houses planned to recess for the summer and on which 169 bills were voted on in the two Houses If the bill could not have been properly redrawn by that day, it should not then have been passed I suspect that the drafting problems resulted from not knowing just what the facts were and not having a clear idea of the object to be achieved

To the General Assembly

I return Assembly Bill No 480 without my approval for the following reasons

The bill provides that when a criminal complaint or accusation has been filed and has been dismissed or withdrawn, the court in which it was filed may order all evidence of the complaint and the proceedings expunged from the record. The same provision would apply when no indictment was found on the charge and no subsequent complaint was made on the same charge. The expungement order is limited to the court in which the complaint was filed. Notice of application by the accused is to be given to the county prosecutor and such others as the court may direct.

The concept of the bill is presumably patterned after N J S 2A 164-28 which provides for expungement of the record of conviction in certain cases. Presumably, it is reasoned that a like amnesty from the record should be extended to persons against whom a charge was made but was dismissed or withdrawn, but the proposal suffers from a number of fatal defects.

In the first place, the record of dismissal is the very means by which the accused can prove that the charge was not proved. He would be ill advised to expunge it. Second, the order would only expunge records in the court where the complaint was filed. A criminal complaint can and does generate a host of records in other places and these would remain in existence but robbed of the official record to sustain them. Some of these records are beyond the power of the State to expunge, such as those which are sent to Federal law enforcement agencies. Nor is it clear just how the expungement would be accomplished. Would the jacket with the original papers be destroyed? How would the record be expunged from the bound volumes in which the court minutes are written? What would be done if the complaint were filed in the municipal court and transferred to the county court for grand jury consideration? Suppose there had been a conviction and a reversal on appeal followed by a dismissal on the new trial how would the printed record on appeal in our casebooks be expunged? In what way would any newspaper accounts of the charge or the personal recollections of those involved, be expunged? Suppose one with personal knowledge of the event were to declare its occurrence and be sued for defamation where would he get proof of the truth if the record were gone?

It may be argued that some of these troublesome considerations apply with equal force to N J S 2A 164-28 but that merely raises the question whether the present statute is a wise one. At least under the present act a period of 10 years must elapse before any application may be made, and the accused's conduct over that period may provide a sound basis for judging whether rehabilitation is complete. In addition the language of the present act indicates that there is an intention to limit it to cases where the record shows but a single conviction. In the present bill there is no required waiting period, and the only restriction is that there be no subsequent complaint on the same charge presumably an expungement would be permitted in the face of a string of complaints and even convictions so long as they were on different charges.

It is difficult to justify the expungement of official records on any ground. Expungement runs counter to the very purpose for which official records are kept and mere expungement of the record does not serve to erase the fact itself. The kind of record involved in this bill is often of great value to law enforcement officers and to the public. If these records result in the creation of a problem to the persons involved, some device or routine other than expungement should be sought as the solution.

A related bill Assembly No 600 dealt with the same subject in the case of banks

Examination of the two bills disclosed that Assembly No 532 failed to conform to the provisions applicable to banks under Assembly No 600 For example, there was no provision in the savings and loan bill setting a maximum for the aggregate amount that might be advanced in connection with a single parcel of property, nor was there any provision that the repayment installments be of the same amount or that no charges be made other than those permitted by the bill There was no limitation as to the taking of security or limiting the kind of security that might be required in the light of the special interest rates permitted

The bill would allow members of the Consolidated Police and Firemen s Pension Fund to withdraw all of the accumulated deductions credited to their individual accounts in case of a withdrawal from service or other cessation of employment other than death retirement or a suspension or discharge which bars the member from reappointment under the civil service law

This involves the same fund discussed in my message returning Senate Bill No 67 I noted there that this fund had become so hopelessly insolvent that from 1944 no new members have been allowed to join it and since 1952 a very expensive salvage program has been under way, calling for payments by municipalities and the State for 30 years to get this fund out of the red

The reason for the fund's insolvency is that annual contributions were too small to accumulate the reserves needed to pay benefits It is these inadequate contributions which this bill would allow a member to withdraw The proposal is unsound The best simple analogy would be a bill to allow a policy holder to obtain repayment of his fire insurance premiums because his house did not burn down No pension or insurance system can operate on that basis unless the right of withdrawal were taken into account in computing the premium which would have to be higher

The fact that the law does not allow withdrawal was one of the factors entering into the computation of the deficit now being made up and this bill would destroy the validity of that computation Besides the records of contributions were hopelessly incomplete when the fund was salvaged in 1952, and it would probably be impossible to establish the facts for individual members

ASSEMBLY BILL No 571

I return Assembly Bill No 571 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons

This bill proposed the amendment of R S 39 4-26 which deals with the special arrangement which is made for the movement on the highways of items of unusual size or weight, such as road building machinery, structural units incapable of dismemberment and the like, which may not conform with the statutory requirements dealing with the dimensions and widths of ordinary vehicles

Under present law these special situations are dealt with by a procedure under which the trailer or semitrailer which is to carry the objects is first registered with the Director of Motor Vehicles upon payment of a fee of $150 00 followed by the obtaining of a permit from the Director of Motor Vehicles for State highways or from the county supervisor or supervisor of roads for county roads or from appropriate municipal officials for municipal roads In practice this mechanism results in the planning of an appropriate route and time of day for the movement of these unusually large objects

The amendment proposed by this bill was intended to eliminate the need to register and pay the registration fee in cases where the home state of the vehicle extended similar exclusion to vehicles registered in New Jersey, on a reciprocity basis. However, through an apparent oversight the amendment was so drawn as to eliminate not only the registration or registration fee but also the permit requirements.

A corrective bill making the necessary changes has been introduced as Assembly Bill No. 721, and was passed by the Assembly, but the Senate took no action. If this legislation is desired, therefore, it will be necessary to reintroduce the corrected bill in the 1960 session.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 600

To the General Assembly

I return Assembly Bill No. 600 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would have amended Sections 53, 54 and 56 of the Banking Act, Revision of 1948 (P. L. 1948, c. 67).

Under present law banks are authorized to make improvement loans in net amounts up to $2,500.00 payable over a period of three years and one month with a maximum discount rate of 6%. The purpose of the amendment was to further authorize the making of such installment loans in amounts up to $3,500.00 repayable over a period of five years and one month, with a maximum discount rate of 5½%

In this respect the object was the same as Assembly Bill No 532 which had the same object for savings and loan associations

However, the bill in the course of amendment of the present act failed to correlate existing provisions in Section 54 with respect to the promulgation of rules and regulations by the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance on loans other than property improvement loans under this bill

A corrective bill making the necessary changes has been introduced as Assembly Bill No 717, passed by both houses and signed into law as chapter 180 of P L 1959

ASSEMBLY BILL No 627

To the General Assembly

I return Assembly Bill No 627 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons

This bill would have validated deeds purporting to have been made by a corporation, which corporation is no longer in existence or exercising corporate powers when the deed has been recorded before January 1, 1948, in cases where the deed might otherwise be invalid by reason of the fact that the certificate of incorporation was filed only in the county clerk's office but not in the Secretary of State's office. Prior to the amendment of R S 14 2-4 in 1939, it was not uncommon for corporate certificates to be filed only in the county clerk's office and for the incorporators to fail to make the additional filing in the Secretary of State's office as then required by that section. As a result of this practice there were many instances of corporations which might be formed and which might be corporations de facto. A great deal of uncertainty was created by reason of the inability of interested persons to ascertain necessary facts from the Secretary of State whose office is intended to be the central filing office for this purpose and difficulties were placed in the way of the collection by the State of the fees required by law in exchange for the granted corporate powers.

This validating bill fails to take account of the fact that the de facto corporation enjoyed the benefits of a corporate existence without having paid the fees and taxes required by law and which are paid by persons who complied with the law. If the deeds of such corporations are to be validated, it would be only proper to require as a condition that there first be paid the fees and taxes which the corporation would have paid if the statute had been observed.

A corrective bill making the necessary changes has been introduced as Assembly Bill No. 712, and was passed by the Assembly, but the Senate took no action. If this legislation is desired, therefore, it will be necessary to re-introduce the corrected bill in the 1960 session.

Respectfully,

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
January 12, 1960 }

ASSEMBLY BILL No 706

To the General Assembly

I return Assembly Bill No 706 without my approval for the following reasons

The bill would validate proceedings for the issuance of local school bonds, and the bonds issued thereunder, despite the failure to file a supplemental debt statement as required by R S 18 5-87

While the bill does not apply to meetings or elections occurring after its enactment, it would apply to all past proceedings without limit This makes it impossible to ascertain how broad the scope of the bill may be

Further, while there is a proviso excluding instances where an action, suit or proceeding to contest the validity of the meeting or election has been heretofore instituted in any court of this State, it fails to make the proviso applicable to proceedings for review by an administrative agency and it also fails to allow a reasonable time to initiate a proceeding after enactment I have alluded to this problem in previous messages See S 142 (1954), S 315 (1954) and A 83 (1956), for examples

Most validating acts for bond issues are prepared in the offices of bond counsel, and when provisos to save pending or future proceedings are included, they tend to vary considerably in language This problem can be eliminated by the simple process of enacting a general law to deal with it, and I recommend that course to the Legislature
