JOURNAL OF THE SENATE.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
SENATE CHAMBER,
TRENTON, TUESDAY, January 8th, 1901, 3 o'clock P.M.

As this was the time and place appointed by the Constitution for the assembling of the Legislature, the Senate was called to order by Hon. C. A. Reed, Senator from the county of Somerset, who read the following official statement:

GEORGE WURTS,
Secretary of State.

Mr. Francis moved that the Hon. Johnston Cornish, Senator from Warren county, be appointed President pro tempore,

Which motion was agreed to, and Senator Reed appointed Senators Francis and McCarter to conduct the President pro tempore to the chair.

Mr. Reed moved that Walter E. Edge be appointed Temporary Secretary,

Which was agreed to.

Mr. Reed presented the credentials of Hon. Edmund W. Wakelee, Senator-elect from the county of Bergen; Hon. Nathan Haines, Senator elect from the county of Burlington; Hon. Robert E. Hand, Senator-elect from the county of Cape May; Hon. Robert S. Hudspeth, Senator-elect from the county of Hudson; Hon. William C. Gebhardt, Senator-elect from the county of Hunterdon; Hon. Theodore Strong, Senator-elect from the county of Middlesex; Hon. Wood McKee, Senator-elect from the county of Passaic; Hon. Lewis J. Martin, Senator-elect from the county of Sussex, and the oath was administered by the President pro tempore, Mr. Haines affirming.

Under the direction of the President pro tempore, the Secretary called the Senate, when the following Senators answered the call:

Messrs. Cornish, Cross, Evans, Francis, Gebhardt, Haines, Hand, Hudspeth, Hutchinson, Johnson, Martin, McCarter, McKee, Miller, Pitney, Reed, Smith, Stanger, Stokes, Strong, Wakelee—21.

The Senate then proceeded to the election of a President. Mr. Reed nominated the Hon. Mahlon Pitney, county of Morris. Mr. Martin nominated the Hon. Johnston Cornish, county of Warren.

Under the direction of the President pro tempore, the Temporary Secretary called the Senate with the following result:

Senators voting for Mr. Pitney—

Messrs. Cornish, Cross, Evans, Francis, Haines, Hand, Hutchinson, Johnson, McCarter, McKee, Miller, Reed, Smith, Stanger, Stokes, Strong, Wakelee—17.

Senators voting for Mr. Cornish—

Messrs. Gebhardt, Hudspeth, Martin, Pitney—4.

Mr. Pitney, having received a majority of all the votes cast, was delared by the President pro tempore duly elected President of the Senate for the ensuing year, and was conducted to the chair by Senators Reed and Martin, after which he took the oath of office as President of the Senate. Upon taking the chair the President addressed the Senate as follows:

PRESIDENT PITNEY'S REMARKS.

Senators—I will not attempt to disguise the keen sense of gratification with which I accept this honor that you have conferred upon me. To be called to preside over the Senate of his native State is a distinction which any man may prize. In undertaking, at the close of my term of service in this body, the duty of presiding over its deliberations, I ask for a continuance of the same friendly co-operation, the same manly and dignified support from Senators of both political parties, which, during the past two years, have served to lighten the labors of my predecessors in the chair, while at the same time redounding to the credit of the Senate and to the welfare of the public interests.

Without attempting to forestall the action of the present Legislature, a word or two may not be out of place. Annually, at this season, the Legislature is subjected to criticism for what is deemed the wasting of time during the earlier weeks of the session. Such criticisms proceed from a misunderstanding of the facts.

The time consumed in carefully preparing and scrutinizing proposed measures of legislation, in weeding out that which is bad or unnecessary, and in properly shaping that which is good, is at least as fruitful of benefit to the State as the smaller portion of time which is required for the actual passage of necessary bills.

Nor am I one of those who estimate the value of legislative work in proportion to the number of laws enacted. The institutions of our State have long since passed beyond the formative stage, and comparatively few new laws are now indispensably necessary. Probably as much real good is accomplished at the present time by negative as by positive action. A notable exception is the topical revision of our existing statute law. The State is to be congratulated upon the thorough and scientific work which has been done in this direction during the past few years with the aid of commissioners chosen for their experience in each particular department, and who have performed their arduous and successful labors without compensation, animated wholly by a sense of public duty. When the few remaining topics shall have been similarly treated the time will be opportune for embodying the entire existing statute law in a single compilation of convenient size and form.

By the Constitution it is provided that once in five years amendments to the organic law may be submitted to the people for their approval, having first been approved by two successive Legislatures. The latest amendments having been adopted by the Legislatures of 1896 and 1897, and approved by the people in the latter year, the time is ripe for action by the present Legislature, if further amendments seem to be required.

In one respect at least the question of amending the Constitution presses itself upon our attention—I refer to the organization of our courts of justice. It is unfortunately too obvious to those who are in a position to know the facts, that our courts of law and equity are now so overburdened with work as to require that some remedy be shortly applied. Nor is the difficulty a temporary one. The commercial and industrial interests which center in our State have so enormously increased, that the volume and importance of the litigations resulting therefrom, while bearing a very small proportion to the total of business transactions, are yet beyond what can be disposed of by our present judicial force, either with justice to the courts themselves or with such promptness as the magnitude of the interests at stake demands. The burdens of the Judges are much enhanced by the multiplicity of the duties which they are called upon to perform. The Chancellor, in addition to his labors in the Court of Chancery, is required to attend the sittings of the court of last resort, and to preside when writs of error from the courts of law are under consideration. The Justices of the Supreme Court, in addition to conducting trials by jury in the several counties, must sit in the Supreme Court, and also in the Court of Errors and Appeals. Their engagements in one court necessarily conflict in many cases with the prompt dispatch of business in other courts, and the resulting burden of labor upon each Judge is unduly great. The obvious remedy is the creation of a Court of Appeals whose members shall have no other duties to perform. The Justices of the Supreme Court will then be able to dispatch the business of that court, as well as the trials at the Circuit, without any undue strain. A constitutional amendment for this purpose will be submitted at the present session of the Legislature, and I trust will receive favorable consideration.

Our higher courts are now substantially as they were formed upon the adoption of the present Constitution in the year 1844, the only difference being an increase in the number of judges. At that time the volume of business was not sufficient to necessitate the creation of a court devoted wholly to appeal cases. The reports show that during the first fifteen years of its existence our Court of Errors and Appeals disposed of only a little more than two hundred cases, an average of less than fourteen per annum. At the present time the business of the same court is multiplied nearly or quite ten-fold, and the business of the Supreme Court and Court of Chancery has increased in something like the same proportion.

With our rapid increase in population and still more rapid increase in manufacturing and commercial interests, the burdens and responsibilities of our courts will continue to grow. In the respect indicated, our judicial system is already inadequate to the demands of the day. An independent Court of Appeals has become a necessity.

Senators, during two years of service in this body I have been much impressed by the general high character of its membership, and the intelligence and conservatism with which the public interests have been treated. Agreeable personal associations have enhanced the pleasure of official intercourse. I thank you, again, as friends no less than colleagues, for the honor you have done me. I feel that the present occupant of the chair may rely upon the considerate judgment of Senators upon his official acts and rulings. Let us look forward with confidence to a legislative session that shall be creditable to ourselves and beneficial to our State, at the dawn of a new century.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Judson Conklin, of Trenton.

Senate then proceeded to the election of a Secretary.

Mr. Reed nominated Walter E. Edge, of the county of Atlantic.

Mr. Martin nominated J. H. DeMott, of the county of Hunterdon.

Under the direction of the President, the Secretary called the Senate, with the following result:

Senators voting for Mr. Edge were—

Messrs. Cross, Evans, Francis, Haines, Hand, Hutchinson, Johnson, McCarter, McKee, Miller, Pitney (President), Reed, Smith, Stanger, Stokes, Strong, Wakelee—17.

Senators voting for Mr. DeMott were—

Messrs. Cornish, Gebhardt, Hudspeth, Martin—4.

Mr. Edge, having received a majority of the votes cast, was declared duly elected Secretary of the Senate, and took the oath of office prescribed by law.

Mr. Reed offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to wait upon His Excellency the Governor and inform him that the Senate has organized and elected the Hon. Mahlon Pitney, of the county of Morris,

President, and Walter E. Edge, of the county of Atlantic, Secretary, and is now ready to proceed to business, and also to receive any communications that he may make.

The President appointed Senators Cross, Francis and Cornish as such committee.

Mr. Reed offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be directed to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has organized and elected the Hon. Mahlon Pitney, of the county of Morris, President, and Walter E. Edge, of the county of Atlantic, Secretary, and has proceeded to business.

The Senate then proceeded to the election of an Assistant Secretary.

Mr. Reed nominated J. Frank Lindsley, of the county of Morris.

Mr. Martin nominated Charles A. Ransom, of the county of Hudson.

Under the direction of the President, the Secretary called the Senate, with the following result:

Senators voting for Mr. Lindsley were—

Messrs. Cross, Evans, Francis, Haines, Hand, Hutchinson, Johnson, McCarter, McKee, Miller, Pitney (President), Reed, Smith, Stanger, Stokes, Strong, Wakelee—17.

Senators voting for Mr. Ransom were—

Messrs. Cornish, Gebhardt, Hudspeth, Martin—4.

Mr. Lindsley, having received a majority of the votes cast, was duly elected Assistant Secretary of the Senate for the ensuing year, and took the oath prescribed by law.

The Senate then proceeded to the election of Journal Clerk.

Mr. Reed nominated Robert A. Waterbury, of the county of Union.

Mr. Martin nominated Jacob L. Bonnell, of the county of Sussex.

Under the direction of the President, the Secretary called the Senate, with the following result:

Senators voting for Mr. Waterbury were—

Messrs. Cross, Evans, Francis, Haines, Hand, Hutchinson, Johnson, McCarter, McKee, Miller, Pitney (President), Reed, Smith, Stanger, Stokes, Strong, Wakelee—17.

Senators voting for Mr. Bonnell were—

Messrs. Cornish, Gebhardt, Hudspeth, Martin—4.

Mr. Waterbury, having received a majority of the votes cast, was declared elected Journal Clerk of the Senate for the ensuing year, and took the oath of office as prescribed by law.

The committee appointed to wait upon the Governor returned, and reported that they had attended to that duty and that His Excellency would communicate with the Senate by message.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of Hobart Tuttle, his Private Secretary, which was read as follows:

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

Gentlemen of the Senate and General Assembly:

The legislative session upon which you now enter is the first of the new century. The result of your labors will equal in importance that of the men who met to make the laws for the State a hundred years ago. In many ways your duties are more trying. Affairs of larger import invite your attention. In number the people have increased nearly tenfold. Their wants are more numerous; their interests are more conflicting. Problems equally delicate, if not more important, demand consideration and solution at your hands.

The Union then comprised sixteen States. Our State was thirteenth in point of area and ranked tenth in population. Now the forty-second in size, it is the sixteenth in number of its people, and in density it is third. Its people then were mainly engaged in the pursuits of agriculture. Governmental needs were few and simple. The thirteen counties, sparcely settled, were divided into 110 townships, with a government common to all, simple in form and differing only slightly in details. Few were the cities or towns, and, such as they were, they were not large in population. Now two of our cities each outnumber in population that of the entire State at that time. The counties have increased to twenty-one, and the municipalities now number 425.

The varying forms of government have each their peculiar needs or interests, and preferences demanding your special consideration. The laws for 1801 were fifty-two in number. In 1900 they were 198, notwithstanding the exercise of a watchful care against all useless legislation.

At the beginning of the century the needs of the State government were limited and the number of officers and departments small. Only $25,000, or thereabouts, were sufficient for the needs of the State. This came from taxes directly imposed on the people, the only method then known. We find our supply in other sources. Direct taxes are now levied only for the support of free public schools. How vastly in amount the revenues have increased will appear from the following table:

RECEIPTS OF STATE FUND, 1900.

Board of Fish and Game Commissioners	$125 00
Clerk in Chancery	45,749 23
Clerk of the Supreme Court	44,115 99

Collateral Inheritance Tax		$177,074 54
Commissioner of Banking and Insurance		60,576 13
Commissions		9,330 00
Delaware Bay and Maurice River Cove Oyster Commission		14,757 71
Discharged Convicts		238 50
Dividends		18,870 00
Geological Survey		303 72
Judicial Fees		22,829 54
Secretary of State		404,429 94
Sinking Fund Account		35,000 00
State Board of Health		316 89
State Dairy Commissioner		4,131 40
State House Commission		314 69
State Prison Receipts		91,634 40
Supreme Court		200 00
Spanish-American War		120,018 23
State Tax from Railroad Corporations	$1,112,449 49
Less amount allotted to taxing districts pursuant to Act approved March 31, 1897	203,619 39
		908,830 10
Tax from Miscellaneous Corporations		1,494,719 70
A total for the year ending October 31, 1900, of		$3,453,295 71

With an increase in number of the different departments of government, each requiring its quota of officials, and with a rapid growth in the number of objects for which expenditures are demanded by a higher and more complex form of government, the amount annually expended to meet the needs of the State has enormously increased. Last year the public moneys were paid on 105 different accounts, comprising 460 different items, all connected with the orderly management of the State's affairs.

THE ORDINARY DISBURSEMENTS OF STATE FUND

For the year ending October 31, 1900, amounted to	$2,102,113 85

Besides these disbursements there were special and unusual expenses, which were first anticipated in the year preceding, or were incurred in the erection of new or the improvement of old buildings and property of the State. The amount of these expenditures and the purpose for which devoted will appear in the following statement:

EXTRAORDINARY DISBURSEMENTS, 1900.

Rahway Reformatory	$260,000 00
Morris Plains Hospital (new building, etc.)	132,801 76
Newark Armory	50,000 00
State House Extension	46,000 00
Village for Epileptics	34,496 57
Riparian Lands	20,575 52

State Home for Girls (new building, etc.)	$15,000 00
Home for Disabled Soldiers, Sailors, Marines and their Wives (Improvements)	12,996 30
Delaware Bay and Maurice River Cove Oyster Commission (Survey)	8,299 34
Home for Feeble Minded Women (new building)	7,002 25
State Home for Boys (new building)	5,000 00
Assembly Committee of Investigation	2,941 38
Palisades	2,500 00
Bradley's New Jersey Citations	1,500 00
Total	$599,115 12

Notwithstanding the large amount of money so paid, the income of the State exceeded its outgo.

RECEIPTS OVER DISBURSEMENTS.

The gross receipts for the year ending October 31, 1900, were	$3,453,295 71
The gross disbursements for the same year were	2,701,226 97
Showing an excess of receipts over disbursements for the year, of	$752,068 74

This excess, together with the previous balance which the State fortunately possessed, forms a large fund with which it may meet its future liabilities. The size of the fund may be understood from the next statement and the remarks that follow.

THE STATE FUND.

The receipts during the year ending October 31, 1900, were	$3,453,295 71
The balance in Bank November 1, 1899, was	1,253,153 42
The total was	$4,706,449 13
The disbursements, ordinary and extraordinary, for the same time were	2,701,226 97
Showing a balance in bank November 1, 1900, of	$2,005,222 16

The Comptroller estimates that the receipts during the coming year will be $3,009,370. This amount, added to the above balance, will furnish the fund from which to pay the appropriations for 1901, made at the last session, and amounting to $2,234,940.32, and the supplemental appropriations, if any, which you may make.

STATE'S OUTSTANDING INDEBTEDNESS.

Aside from the liability last mentioned, the indebtedness of the State is only $119,000. To meet this it has funds the market value of which is $505,716, and further assets valued at $207,526.45, which constitute a sinking fund.

The comparison of the State's present financial condition with that at the beginning of the century will afford some degree of satisfaction. In due time, when the policy adopted by it is understood and ignorance and prejudice give way to a clearer and less passionate consideration, the full measure of praise will be accorded to those who have directed and shaped its policy in this regard, and judiciously husbanded its resources.

SOME ITEMS CAUSING INCREASE.

As will be seen, the increase in cost of State government has been great. But we are not justified in hastily concluding that there has been an extravagant or unwarranted expenditure. Some explanation for the larger amount required is found in the increase of people, in the greater number of officers now necessary for the efficient conduct of affairs, and in the gradual growth in number of multiplying objects calling for payment. Many of these were unknown at the beginning of the century, and found no place in government. Now they are accepted as necessary for the safe and orderly administration of a progressive State. To abolish some would meet with general disapproval; to discontinue the support of others would either be impossible, or result in disorganization. Enlightened selfishness demands their continuance.

A few may be used to illustrate the proposition, and at the same time indicate how steady has been the progress of the State in all that characterizes a humane, a generous and an enlightened people. The work done, the expense thereof to the State, and the condition of the departments chosen for this purpose will at the same time be seen.

Free common schools, throughout the entire State, were first established in the year 1871. To-day all children, of parents foreign or native, may (and between the years of seven and twelve must) avail themselves of the education there accorded. Three hundred and twenty-two thousand five hundred and seventy-five children attended these schools during the year, and $2,333,550 were raised and spent for their education. Nearly $50,000 were spent for the Normal and Model schools, where those intending to teach are taught. The fund —the income of which is used for school purposes—derived from various sources, amounted to $3,690,682.62 at the close of the year.

The School for the Deaf was founded in 1882. At the close of the year 133 pupils were receiving the special training there given, at a cost to the State for the year of $43,000.

For the purposes of industrial education the outlay was $43,-192.80.

When the century began the insane were housed in hovels and huts, with little and insufficient care for their well-being and physical comfort. Slight or little regard was had for their restoration. They were not then the wards of the State. Now they are confined in asylums and are given the care which humanity demands. The State maintains the indigent. They numbered in October last, in both the State and County Asylums, 4,423, and cost the State the sum of $357,216.79. The buildings where they find shelter and comfort were improved or repaired at the expense of $132,801.76.

In 1801, convicted criminals were, happily, few in number. Whether those confined and unconfined are now greater in proportion to the population is a matter about which opinions differ. Whatever may be the truth, the State then paid less than $6,000 each year for keeping those who were confined. The total number of prisoners last year was 1,591. During the year 500 were discharged, and 1,091 remained at its close within the prison walls. For the support of those convicted there were spent $193,065.65, and for furnishing and repairs to the prison buildings, $11,880.28. The cost was reduced by $91,634.40, which sum represents the earnings of the inmates under the wise and careful management of the prison officials.

The gradual introduction of a more rational and humane treatment of its criminals strikingly indicates the advance of the State along the lines of progress. Now the purpose of confinement is twofold, protection with punishment, and reformation, if possible. The State separately confines its younger criminals and incorrigibles of both sexes in institutions especially provided. It established the State Home for Boys in the year 1865, and the State Home for Girls in the year 1871. At the close of the year the inmates in the Home for Boys numbered 378, and in the Home for Girls, 115. For the maintenance of the former, the State paid $57,194.97, and spent $5,000 for improvements. The Home for Girls cost $24,735.90, and a new and much-needed building required $15,000.

For the completion of the Reformatory at Rahway it gave $260,000.

On account of the feeble-minded children and the feeble-minded women, and for the support and education of the blind, the payments during the fiscal year amounted to about $90,000.

One of the largest items of expenditure was that in aid of State roads. Annually $150,000 is spent on this account. The money so used insures comfort in travel and an ease of communication in marked contrast to that which prevailed at the commencement of the century. Few States have shown equal progress in this respect. The example shown by New Jersey has encouraged a movement for better roads throughout the Union, and its plan is being widely followed. The State first loaned its aid in 1892, and its contributions amount to $865,318.55. With the help so given there have been built 520 miles of roads. In the year just closed 83.20 miles were built, and 64.99 miles were in process of construction or under contract for building. Application has been made for aid in the construction of 136 additional miles.

Mention may also be made of the payments on account of the homes for the veteran soldiers, amounting to a little more than $40,000; for the treatment of epileptics, amounting to about $47,000, and to payments more especially in the interest of those engaged in agriculture, on account of the Agricultural Experiment Station, and the State Board of Agriculture, which amounted to about $24,000.

The foregoing are a few only of the many objects which did not exist at the beginning of the century, and for which large annual payments are now necessary and, in most instances, desirable. They are not presented as excuses for a reckless or extravagant disposition of the public funds, but as illustrations of the nature and growth in amount of some of the disbursements. They serve at the same time as a warning. An income so great and so easily collected encourages a tendency to liberality in expenditure. Claims, fancied or real, keep springing up, and are urged with a persistency hard to withstand. An abundant surplus makes extravagance easy. Prudence and a wise foresight demand, in this hour of plenty, a regard for the future. We cannot safely assume that the sources of our income will be always so bountiful. The liberality of the state should be measured by actual wants. Wisely generous it should be, but only in directions strictly limited to the legitimate needs of government.

A balance, reasonable in amount, and of such size as a conservative policy demands, should be retained by the State. All beyond this should be wisely used in reducing burdens of local taxation. The manner in which this can be done is hereinafter indicated, and your favorable action in accordance with the suggestions made with reference thereto is asked.

The purposes and field of work of the various departments of government of the State, and of its boards and commissions and institutions, have been described with minute detail in messages previously communicated. With these you are sufficiently familiar, and a particular description thereof at this time is for that reason deemed unnecessary. A full account of what has been done, and of prevailing conditions and requirements, are fully set out in the several reports which will be laid before you. They furnish all information necessary for your guidance. In the main, they disclose an excellent state of affairs and good results accomplished. This condition is due to the zeal and efficiency of those who are charged with the duty of administration. The promotion of public, rather than partisan, interests seems now to be the standard of conduct in public service, and as a result thereof, great benefit has come.

Beyond what will be required to provide for the ordinary affairs of the State, there seems to be no pressing need for any great amount of legislation. From one point of view, this is a condition upon which we are to be congratulated. A people prosperous and satisfied with things as they are do not ask for many laws. Preceding Legislatures seem to have established nearly, if not quite, all of the reforms and changes for which there has been any urgent demand.

It is best to let well enough alone. Policies and methods of government which have been recently inaugurated are entitled to a fair trial in order to test the wisdom of their adoption. They should not be abandoned until it be conclusively shown that better can be substituted.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

There are, however, some matters touching the welfare of the State which may well be the subject of your deliberations. Your attention to these, and to the recommendations respecting the same, is invited, and your careful thought and favorable action thereon is urged. It is gratefully remembered that the suggestions made to the preceding Legislature were accorded a generous consideration by that body.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS.

Wisely conducted, these associations encourage and make possible the building of many homes, promote habits of thrift and economy, and afford to the 129,131 shareholders—mainly persons of small means—an opportunity for the profitable investment of their earnings.

These associations are 342 in number, and their net assets or net worth was $47,561,890, of which more than $9,500,000 represented profits to the shareholders. The so-called Local associations were paid last year on account of stock more than $8,000,000, and the State and Nationals nearly $1,500,000. In addition to these sums nearly $3,000,000 were paid to both classes for premiums, fines and fees, making the total amount received by them in one year more than $12,500,000.

In the sixteen State and National Associations the payments for salaries, commissions, etc., were $198,637, and in the 326 local associations they were $147,099. The ratio of such expenses to the total receipts in the former was slightly over 19 per cent., and in the latter about 1.4 per cent. Payments on account of interests, premiums, fines and fees constitute practically all the items of earnings.

Based upon these, the expenses on salary and commission account average about 6 per cent. in the local and over 54 per cent. in the State and Nationals.

It is not herein intended to adversely criticise associations which are conducted fairly and honestly and with a due regard to the safety of their members, but it is apparent that any system which involves heavy expenses works to the disadvantage of the shareholders. Their just returns are diminished and the burdens which they have assumed are unjustifiably increased.

The employment of paid agents to solicit business and the maintenance of costly establishments, with a corps of high-salaried officers and managers, are features of some of the associations. These clearly have no place in the true building loan scheme.

In some of these associations there are so-called "Expense Fund Contracts." These are contracts made between the associations and one or more of its officers or managers, whereby, in addition to their stated salaries, the latter receive a certain proportion of the payments made by the members.

In one instance the contract provided for the payment to the president of all premiums paid on the sale of a certain class of stock, and a commission equal to three per cent. per annum on all stock payments made by the members on all classes of stock.

Not only have the earnings been exhausted in expenses, but the stock payments have been drawn upon to meet the drain. Consequently when a member has desired to withdraw, or apply the value of his shares in part payment of his loan, he has found that the amount to his credit has been reduced by expense deductions to a sum much below even what he has paid in as dues on his stock. This has been done apparently by authority of the by-laws or articles of association, the true meaning and effect of which have been misunderstood or intentionally misrepresented to the joining member in the zealous effort to increase membership.

As a result of these methods there are frequent instances of hardship and injustice. They are so clearly wrong in principle and injurious in their consequences that legislation ought to be enacted to effectually break them up.

Three associations have already been placed in the hands of receivers for insolvency, the result of excessive expenses for salaries, etc., coupled with bad investments.

Again, the shareholders' meetings in the State and National Associations cannot, in the nature of the case, be truly representative. The members are scattered throughout the State (and elsewhere, in the National Associations) and as a rule cannot afford to take the time or incur the expense of attendance upon the home office, where these meetings are usually held. A large majority of the shareholders are there represented only by proxy, usually held and voted by a director or officer. Some associations have what is generally termed "Permanent Capital Stock." This is only held by members of the Board of Management and such other persons as they may approve, and only those who hold the stock can be elected directors. An easy method is thus afforded to the directors and officers to perpetuate themselves in office, and the associations become in the full sense "close corporations," the main body of the members being practically shut out from any participation in the management. The principle of mutual association underlying the building loan scheme is thus entirely lacking.

The exorbitant rates of premium charged borrowers in some associations is a just cause for criticism. The borrower pays not only a gross premium—which is "deducted from the loan," included in the mortgage, and is to be liquidated when his shares reach their full par value—but he pays an installment premium also. Thus premium i charged on premium.

Such a contract, if not usurious, is something very closely akin to it. In any event, it is a most expensive und burdensome arrangement for the borrower. No individual would knowingly enter into it, unless his necessities were great. Unfortunately for their sakes, a great number of shareholders do not and cannot understand the nature of this undertaking, and, of necessity, rely upon the specious and misleading representations of the willing agents of those who promote these associations for their own profit.

Manifestly the statutes under which these corporations are formed are in some instances being perverted, the powers conferred abused, and the interests of the shareholders subordinated to those of the managers. The present laws are loosely drawn, and appear to permit the formation of every variety of such association, with few restrictions of any value. As a result, concerns of doubtful utility, and possessing but few of the characteristics of the genuine building and loan associations, have been organized for the sole purpose of enriching their promoters at the expense of the unfortunate shareholders.

These abuses should be remedied at once, and the provident and thrifty of our State protected. The present statutes should be repealed, and in their stead a new law enacted which will insure a safe, equitable and economical conduct of business, and make impossible the abuses above complained of.

PUBLIC LIBRARY COMMISSION.

The last Legislature passed an act to promote the establishment and efficiency of free public libraries, in accordance with the provisions of which Dr. Ernest C. Richardson, William C. Kimball, M. Taylor Pyne, Dr. Everett T. Tomlinson and Frank P. Hill were appointed members of the New Jersey Public Library Commission. The first report of the Commission has been received and will be transmitted to you.

The Legislature failed to provide funds to meet even the incidental expenses for stationery snd printing, and the Commission are "unable to make such a report of results accomplished as should be possible, in view of the field that is before them and condition of public library affairs in New Jersey." In the cities of the State, great interest has recently been shown in the subject of public libraries. The work projected by the Commission lies within the smaller towns, of which New Jersey has 129, with a population exceeding 750, that are without a public library of any kind. The financial aid to be extended under the act of 1900 is by no means the most important. The Commission will give advice as to the organization of public libraries, the selection and purchase of books, and to library administration generally.

The suggestion of the report that the financial aid to be given to the towns may be limited to $1,500 a year, and be extended over a number of years, will make the expense so small as scarcely to be felt, and if the Commission shall succeed in approaching the record made by Massachusetts and New Hampshire, the benefits to the State cannot fail to be great. If it is to be continued a small appropriation is recommended for incidental expenses to enable it to begin work during the present fiscal year, and consideration should be given to its further needs.

THE SCHOOL LAW AND APPORTIONMENT OF SCHOOL MONEYS.

The revised school law has proven generally satisfactory. Unfortunately, however, it was passed after the appropriations for the then coming year had been made in many districts, and for this reason its provisions in this respect have not had a trial in all of the districts of the State. There seems to be a diversity of opinion as to the operation and correct interpretation of the sections relating to the selection of members of boards of education in municipalities divided into wards. The law should be so amended as to make its language more explicit. The State Superintendent reports that wherever the law has been duly executed in its entirety it has worked smoothly and is giving complete satisfaction.

The present method of apportioning the State school moneys is unsatisfactory. The Commission on Revision of the School Law, in its report presented to the Legislature at its last session, recommended that the taking of the annual school census be abandoned, and that the portion of State school moneys now apportioned among the districts on the basis of school census be apportioned on the basis of actual days' attendance of the pupils enrolled in the public schools.

The school census is expensive and unreliable, and is not an equitable basis of apportionment. That proposed by the commission is inexpensive and reliable, and would give to each district the money to which it was justly entitled for work performed. A most important reason for apportioning the school moneys on the basis of actual days' attendance is that it would prove the best compulsory-attendance law that can be devised. The recommendation of the commission is commended to your favorable consideration.

STATE HOME FOR GIRLS.

Present accommodations at this Home, for school purposes, make impossible a division into classes such as that adopted in the public schools of the State. Such a gradation is necessary in order to obtain good results. Inmates are now assembled for instruction in two rooms only.

The erection of the school building for which the trustees ask ought to be authorized. It would enable those in charge of the Home to establish grades and permit the promotion of the inmates as progress in their studies warranted.

The report of the Board of Managers discloses the fact that good work is being done at this school, and that the conditions now prevailing there are most excellent. The course pursued by the management and those in authority in withstanding the unreasonable and unreasoning clamor of a year ago has been fully vindicated.

RAHWAY REFORMATORY.

In 1899 the Legislature appropriated a sum sufficient to make the reformatory at Rahway available for the reception and care of not less than 240 inmates. The commissioners report that this has practically been done, and that the institution is now ready for occupancy.

Provision must be made by your honorable bodies for the employment of necessary officers if the buildings are to be used before the close of the year. If nothing be done at this session the opening will be delayed for at least eighteen months, and the beginning of the new method here to be tried in treating juvenile and first offenders will be put off for the same length of time. The proposed plan has been in operation elsewhere and has shown results most surprising in the work of reformation.

The law under which the commission has acted has been sufficient for its purposes, but it needs revision in order to insure a practical scheme. It is crudely drawn, lacks the necessary provisions, and is obscure and conflicting in details. A new and more comprehensive act should be substituted.

PALISADES INTERSTATE PARK.

Grateful acknowledgment is due to the gentlemen who have acted as "Commissioners of the Palisades Interstate Park" for the very sensible and efficient discharge of their duties.

Those appointed on behalf of the State of New York were Nathan F. Barrett, George Walbridge Perkins, D. McNeely Stauffer, Ralph Trautman and J. DuPratt White; and those on behalf of this State were Abram DeRonde, Abram S. Hewitt, Franklin W. Hopkins, William A. Linn and Edwin A. Stevens. They have labored with energy and discretion, and a measure of success gratifying and unexpected has attended their efforts. They now present a plan for the preservation of the Palisades which recommends itself as practical and capable of accomplishment without excessive cost.

The subject has aroused widespread interest in the past, and has received repeated consideration at the hands of previous Legislatures. Nothing practical or feasible was suggested or accomplished until the present Commission undertook the work. Now for the first time the project seems capable of realization, if reasonable aid be given by the States especially interested.

On the part of New Jersey I respectfully urge such legislation and assistance as will facilitate the work so auspiciously begun.

PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION.

In accordance with the request of the authorities in charge of the Pan-American Exposition to be held at Buffalo, New York, during the year 1901, I have appointed as commissioners for New Jersey, Mrs. Henry Elliott Mott, Dr. Mary J. Dunlap, Mr. Richard C. Jenkinson and Mr. Oberlin Smith.

Representatives of the exposition urged co-operation and assistance on the part of the State before the Legislature at its last session. No action was then taken, because the character and success of the undertaking was not fully assured, and it seemed to be one largely local in interest and purpose. Since then, however, a progress has been made such as to justify its friends in the belief that the exposition will equal, and in many respects surpass, all those previously held.

The enterprise is purely American in purpose and scope, and has received substantial aid and encouragement from the governments of the United States and other countries of the western continent. Several States have signified their intention to take part therein.

The advantages to our own State in having a suitable exhibition of its resources and products are manifest, and to defray the expenses thereof a suitable appropriation is recommended.

REVISION OF THE STATUTES.

A recommendation for the revision of the general statutes, which is so necessary, has heretofore been withheld, because the codification of laws relating to various subjects was in progress. Many of these have been prepared and enacted into laws by preceding Legislatures.

The gentlemen comprising the several commissions have done excellent work. They have harmonized conflicting statutes, caused needless or obsolete laws to be repealed, and combined similar acts with slightly differing provisions. They have secured a clearness and directness in style of expression which is highly commendable.

These condensed and tersely stated acts have been prepared and put into the form of laws since the volumes containing the General Statutes were published. Much contained in those volumes is now useless or misleading, and the time has come when a new revision of the laws should be made.

Judging by the work already done, it is believed that the three volumes, on the 3,700 pages of which are to be found many laws now obsolete, repealed, conflicting or declared unconstitutional, could be reduced to a single book. The re-publication would afford accuracy and convenience.

It is therefore respectfully recommended that a Commission be appointed with full power to do this work, and that a suitable compensation be authorized.

It would be well to start on the twentieth century with a creditable digest of the laws of New Jersey.

JUDICIARY AMENDMENTS.

Repeated efforts have been made during the last few years to adopt amendments to the Constitution providing for the reorganization of the higher courts. These attempts have, unfortunately, failed, because of differences of opinion as to the manner in which the reorganization should be accomplished. Proposed amendments, intended to bring about this result, will be laid before you. The need of reorganization is generally admitted. It is not intended to suggest what form the amendments should take, but it is important that the changes should be made without lessening the dignity and influence of the courts. At the same time the proposed system should insure methods less cumbersome and more expeditious than those now prevailing. It is earnestly hoped that amendments in some form, and embodying in the main these features, will be adopted.

DISTRIBUTION OF SURPLUS.

Your attention has already been called to the condition of the State treasury and the balance therein at the close of the fiscal year. It is difficult to tell exactly how much of this may be strictly termed a surplus, as it is subject to the charges for appropriations made by the Legislature for expenses of the State government. After deducting these appropriations, however, there is still a balance left in the treasury. Opinions differ as to the best way of disposing of this surplus.

Under Chapter 69 of the laws of 1897 we are distributing to the municipalities annually about $205,000 of the moneys received from railroad taxation, which used to form part of the State's income. Under Chapter 195 of the laws of 1900 we shall this year begin to remit between $150,000 and $200,000 of the revenues formerly received from the tax on franchises of quasi-public corporations. The annual amount appropriated for school purposes has been increased $100,000.

It is doubtful, however, if any of these methods have relieved the burdens of local taxation. This result, it is believed, can be best accomplished by distributing the surplus in the treasury in accordance with the provisions of Section 190 of the Act Establishing a System of Public Instruction, passed last year. Under it the Legislature may appropriate, from year to year, any sum not less than $100,000 toward the payment of the State's school tax. Whatever amount it may thus appropriate will be actually deducted from the tax bill of every individual taxpayer. He will receive an immediate and direct benefit therefrom. When it is considered that in some of the rural districts the State school tax amounts to one-third of the actual taxation, the wisdom of reducing this item is at once apparent.

You are therefore respectfully urged to make as large an appropriation for this purpose as you may think the condition of the treasury will warrant.

THE POLLUTION OF RIVERS AND STREAMS.

Within the past few years the attention of the Legislature has been called to this subject frequently. The condition of the rivers and streams in several localities demands attention. Especially is this true of the valley of the Passaic. The citizens and property-owners in that valley have become alarmed at the foul and polluted condition of the waters of the river. These are now the receptacle and conduit of all the sewage of the cities, towns and villages in the territory which it drains, and of all of the refuse of the numerous factories and manufacturing establishments along its banks.

The valley teems with population, and is by far the most important manufacturing district within the State. The foul condition of the river affects the value of property and threatens the public health. Alarmed by existing conditions, the Board of Trade of the City of Newark has recently selected a committee of representative men from that organization to suggest additional legislation and present the matter for your consideration. Similar action has been taken by other bodies of like character. The subject is worthy of your most earnest consideration.

Under the limitations of our constitution, it is impracticable for the State to give financial aid to any local improvement of this character.

The State Sewerage Commission, established under the act of March 24th, 1899, has general supervision of this subject within the State. Its powers were extended by the amendments to the act approved March 21st, 1900, but they are not broad enough to meet existing conditions.

The inefficiency of the present legislation seems to arise from two causes:

(1.) The impracticability of securing united action by the different municipalities constituting a single drainage or sewerage district.

(2.) Inadequate provision for obtaining the necessary means to carry out a work of the required magnitude.

To remedy these defects additional legislation is advised, authorizing the creation of sewerage and drainage districts with quasi-municipal power, the appointment within such districts, when created, of commissioners with ample authority to investigate methods, adopt plans, and perform the work—giving the State Board the power of supervision and approval—authorizing the bonding of those municipal divisions for the purpose of providing the necessary means to carry the work into execution, and providing for the payment of the bonds by the imposition of a tax upon the property within the districts created.

Permit me to ask for the suggestions herein contained your careful consideration, believing, as I do, that favorable action thereon will advance the common good.

Recalling with pleasure the harmonious relations that have existed between this department and preceding Legislatures, I beg to extend to you my best wishes for the satisfactory and successful discharge of your duties, assuring you of my willingness to render assistance in every proper way, whenever such help may be invited.

By substitute, and in so doing begs leave to say that this committee has given careful consideration to this bill in view of its effect upon the riparian rights of the state. The original bill provided for the withdrawal from the market of a water-front which would have seriously affected such riparian rights; the substitute herewith reported, and which has been agreed to by the Palisades Commission, limits the southern boundary of the park to a point so far above that fixed by the original bill that the riparian rights which will be involved by the adoption of this substitute are of comparatively small value. This change in the territorial limits of the park has been made at the suggestion of the committee, and has overcome the objections of most of those who have appeared in opposition to the bill. The whole subject has been much misunderstood by the general public, and the committee therefore makes this detailed report.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
March 19th, 1901.

To the Members of the Senate and General Assembly:

GENTLEMEN—By the constitutional amendment recently adopted, it is provided that no pool-selling, book-making or gambling of any kind shall be authorized or allowed within this state, nor shall any gambling device, practice or game of chance prohibited by law at the time of the adoption of the constitutional amendment be legalized.

It is a notorious fact that in certain localities in this state, officers authorized to enforce the laws in this regard, do not perform their duty. In some places so flagrant and continuous are the violations of the Constitution and the criminal laws of the state that the judges of our courts have repeatedly called the attention of the grand juries to the same. They have been unable to suppress the practices, and have declared that their failure was due entirely to the supineness or worse of the local authorities. Their efforts have been thwarted by the willful neglect or the connivance of officers whose sworn duty it was to enforce the laws.

In order that there may be some way to reach these cases, I have caused to be prepared a bill which is herewith submitted and the adoption of which is urgently recommended. It will furnish a means to aid the Executive of the State and others who so desire, to secure a proper enforcement of the laws.

The continuance of these gambling practices is a menace to public and private morals, and the suppression thereof is of vital importance to the State. All means must be employed by those in authority to uphold the courts in suppressing this evil and in maintaining law. The proposed legislation seems to be necessary to that end, and its adoption before the close of the present session is respectfully urged.

The Committee on Appropriations, in reporting the general appropriation bills, deem it proper to refer to the valuable assistance rendered to the committee by Comptroller Hancock and Mr. F. S. McNeely, his first assistant.

These gentlemen have been in faithful attendance upon the committee, and have placed the resources of the Comptroller's office at our disposal.

It would be an extremely difficult task for any committee to frame a proper bill without such assistance as was so cheerfully rendered by them.

We take pleasure in commending the careful and methodical manner in which the papers, files and books of the office are kept, and the fidelity with which the financial interests of the State are guarded, and we hereby tender to the gentlemen named our thanks for their services to the committee.

By Mr. Hutchinson.—WHEREAS, It has come to the attention of this Senate that the Society of the Cincinnati, in the State of New Jersey, propose to hold a memorial service on the 22d of February next, in honor of the late Brevet Major-General William S. Stryker, Adjutant-General of New Jersey, and late President of that society; and whereas, this Senate desires to place upon record its high sense of appreciation of the long, faithful, brilliant services, covering a period of over thirty-three years, rendered in New Jersey, by General Stryker, as an officer, historian and public-minded citizen; therefore, be it resolved, that the President of the Senate be and he is hereby directed to invite the Society of the Cincinnati, in the State of New Jersey, to hold such memorial exercise in this chamber—58.

By Mr. Hudspeth—WHEREAS, Under existing law the Riparian Commissioners have authority to lease or grant the lands of the State lying under water to third parties, and to capitalize the annual payments on leases and convey in fee-simple such lands under water; and whereas, it appears from the reports of the said Riparian Commissioners that the grants for lands under water and the conversion of leases into grants by capitalizing the annual payments as aforesaid have greatly exceeded in number and extent leases of said lands made by the said Commissioners; and whereas, if the State continue to grant in fee-simple its lands under water in excess of the leasing of the same, to the extent it has in the past, in a short time it will be entirely divested of its lands under water, to its great financial detriment and loss; and whereas, it is the sense of this Senate that the absolute grant of the lands of the State under water should be discontinued, and that hereafter leases for such lands should only be made by the Riparian Commissioners, either for a fixed term, at an annual rental, or for a long or perpetual term at an annual rental to be fixed from time to time by arbitration between the State and the lessee, in no case, however, the lease to contain a provision for conversion of the same into a grant; therefore, be it Resolved, That the Committee on Riparian Rights be requested to obtain the aid of the Attorney-General in the preparation of a bill, drawn to accomplish the above purposes, and which shall conform, so far as possible, with the recommendation of His Excellency Foster M. By Mr. Stokes.—The Committee on Appropriations, in reporting the general appropriation bills, deem it proper to refer to the valuable assistance rendered to the committee by Comptroller Hancock and Mr. F. S. McNeely, his first assistant. These gentlemen have been in faithful attendance upon the committee, and have placed the resources of the Comptroller's office at our disposal. Mahlon Pitney, who, during the session, has maintained the dignity of the chair and respected the rights of each individual Senator—464.
