Messrs. Clark and Beesley were appointed to conduct the Speaker to the chair.

Upon taking the chair, the Speaker addressed the House as follows:

GENTLEMEN OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY:—I accept the trust your kindness and partiality have conferred upon me. In assuming this office for the second time, I do so with a full knowledge of its arduous duties, and with a firm resolve to spare no effort to dischare them faithfully and impartially.

I remember with pleasure the session of last year. The kindness and the courtesy of the members, manifested towards myself, were fully appreciated and reciprocated by me, and it is my earnest hope that, at the close of this session, I may deserve and receive a like reward.

In the inaugural address of our present Governor he urged the Legislature to shorten its sessions, and in response to his recommendation, the last Legislature adjourned two weeks sooner than usual. I shall do all in my power, by punctual attendance and strict attention to business to assist you in securing, even an earlier adjournment.

Many important questions will be presented to this Legislature, which will require for their proper solution the greatest prudence and the exercise of your most deliberate judgment. Besides the usual legislation in reference to internal improvements and the various municipalities in our state, we shall have to act upon the proposed fifteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States. We may also have to legislate upon the threatened encroachments of the State of New York upon the lands of our State under the waters of the Hudson river. Our commercial prosperity may in a great measure depend upon the firm attitude of the Executive, and the wise legislation of this session. It therefore behooves us to act prudently, but with the greatest firmness, in resisting the attempts of our powerful neighbor to absorb so much of our valuable public domain, and to render our commerce subject to the action of a legislature, or the adjudication of courts, foreign, and it may be, hostile to our people.

Wise legislation in reference to our tax laws will induce capital to seek new investments here, in manufacturing and commercial enterprises. So important has this subject been deemed in some States, that they have temporarily suspended all taxation upon property invested in manufactures, so as to induce wealth to flow into those States and thus enrich the commonwealth and give ample employment to its citizens. New Jersey furnishes every natural facility for commerce and manufactures. Our extended shore fronts, with their convenient tidal basins, afford unequalled facilities for the accommodation of shipping. Our means of transportation are of the best character. All that we need to make our State a great commercial and manufacturing centre, is legislation to encourage investments here in these branches of industry.

England and France impose no tax upon personal property invested in manufactures, shipping or money at interest. Hence capital is attracted to those countries in these forms, and it is a question whether the statesmen of this country would not do well to emulate the example of our successful foreign competitors, whose commercial prosperity is chiefly owing to this exemption. The citizens of New Jersey cannot so successfully employ capital in personal property of this character as their foreign rivals who are exempt from this species of taxation. We must elect either to change our present legislation in this respect and make it conform to the more liberal legislation of other countries, or we must be contented to see capital seek other localities where it will be free from this burden. The position of New Jersey, lying between the two great States of New York and Pennsylvania, will enable us by a liberal policy of taxation, like that to which I have adverted, to draw to us an immense amount of capital and population, from these and other States, which would otherwise never seek location here.

Such legislation, so far from diminishing the sources of taxation and amount of revenue, would soon increase both, by the wealth and population that would inevitably be attracted hither. Let capitalists feel assured that our legislation will protect their investments by a uniform, fixed and liberal policy, not liable to change or increase of taxation, and our manufacturing and commercial prosperity will exceed our most sanguine hopes or expectations. If we would invite capital hither, or even retain our natural increase, we must pursue as liberal a policy, towards it, as is adopted by the great commercial countries of the world. I shall not at this time express my views upon any of the political questions of the day. I do not deem this the proper time or place. I entertain the same views upon this subject now that I expressed a year ago. When I deem it proper to speak for my constituents, either upon local or political matters, I shall do so as an individual member upon the floor of the house.

I shall endeavor to the best of my ability to enforce with firmness all the rules you may adopt to govern your deliberations. I shall be courteous and just to all, and I ask you to aid me in the discharge of my duties. It is impossible for any Speaker to expedite business, secure harmony, and preserve order, unless the members of the Assembly labor to promote these ends. With your kind assistance I hope to make the session a short one, and pleasant and agreeable to all. Invoking the aid of Divine Providence to guide me aright in the discharge of my duties, and to prosper all our efforts to secure the continued and increased prosperity of our beloved State, I again return you my warmest thanks for the honor you have conferred upon me.

We will now proceed with the organization of the House.

OF THE MEETING OF THE HOUSE.

1. Any member or members less than a quorum may meet and adjourn the House from day to day, when necessary.

2. Every member shall attend in his place precisely at the hour to which the House was last adjourned; and in case of neglect he shall be subject to a reprimand from the Chair, unless excused by the House; nor shall any member absent himself from the House for more than a space of a quarter of an hour without leave previously obtained.

3. In case a less number of members than a quorum shall be present after the arrival of the hour to which the House stood adjourned, they are hereby authorized to send their Sergeant-at-Arms, or any other person or persons by them authorized, with a warrant duly executed, for any or all absent members, as the majority of such as are present may agree, and at the expense of such absent members, respectively, unless such excuse for non attendance shall be rendered as the House, when a quorum is convened, shall judge sufficient. Immediately after the appointment of the Standing Committees the members shall arrange among themselves their several seats appropriated to their counties; and in case of disagreement the same shall be decided by lot.

OF THE DUTIES OF THE SPEAKER.

4. He shall take the Chair at the hour to which the House shall have adjourned, and immediately call the members to order, and, on the appearance of a quorum, shall cause the journal of the preceding day to be read, which may then be corrected by the House.

5. He shall preserve order and decorum, and in debate shall prevent personal reflections, and confine members to the question under discussion; but he shall not engage in any debate, nor propose his opinion on any question, without first calling on some member to occupy the Chair. When two or more members rise at the same time he shall name the one entitled to the floor.

6. He shall decide questions of order, subject to an appeal to the House, when demanded by any four members, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once, unless by leave of the House.

7. All questions before the House shall be stated by the Speaker, and distinctly put in the following form, to wit: "As many as are in favor of [the question] will say aye;" and after the affirmative is expressed, "those of the contrary opinion, no." If the Speaker doubts, or a division be called for, the House shall divide; those in the affirmative of the question shall first rise from their seats, and afterwards those in the negative; and in case of an equal division the Speaker shall decide.

8. All Committees shall be appointed by the Speaker, unless otherwise specially directed by the House.

9. All acts, addresses and joint resolutions shall be signed by the Speaker; and all writs, warrants and subpœnas issued by order of the House shall be under his hand and seal, and attested by the Clerk. If the Speaker be absent a less number of members than a quorum may appoint a Speaker pro tempore, who may sign any warrants or perform any act requisite to bring in absent members.

10. He shall have a general direction of the Hall, and he may name a member to perform the duties of the Chair; but such substitution shall not extend beyond a second adjournment.

OF THE ORDER OF BUSINESS.

11. After the reading of the journal, the business of the first meeting of each day shall be conducted in the following manner, to wit:

I. Letters, petitions, memorials, remonstrances and accompanying documents may be presented and disposed of.

II. Reports of Committees may be read.

III. Original resolutions may be offered and considered; items of unfinished business referred; motions to reconsider and to appoint additional members of committees made; and leave of absence, leave to withdraw documents and leave to introduce bills asked.

LEAVE FOR BILLS AND TO INTRODUCE BILLS.

IV. Bills and joint resolutions on a third reading may be taken up.

V. The House shall then proceed in the order of the day, preference being always given to the unfinished business of the preceding sitting; after which, bills and joint resolutions on a second reading shall be taken in their order; and the House, in its afternoon session, will proceed to business as though there had been no adjournment of its morning session, excepting that original resolutions and leave to introduce bills of Committees be the first business in the afternoon sitting; and shall, on demand of the majority, proceed with the order of the day.

12. The Clerk shall make a list of all public bills and joint resolutions. He shall keep a separate calendar of private bills. No bills for granting, continuing, altering, amending or renewing a charter for any corporation other than a municipal corporation shall be placed on the calendar of public bills. All bills, public and private, shall be numbered according to the time of their introduction into the House. They shall be taken up and considered in the order of time in which they were reported or ordered to a third reading, as appears by the calendar; and the calendar shall be proceeded in until all the bills thereon are called up, before the commencement of the calendar anew.

13. All messages shall be sent from this House to the Senate by the Clerk.

OF DECORUM AND DEBATE.

14. When a member is about to speak in debate, or communicate any matter to the House, he shall rise from his seat and respectfully address himself to the Speaker, confining himself to the question under debate, and avoiding personality.

15. If any member, in debate, transgress the rules of the House, the Speaker shall, or any member may, call him to order; in which case, the member so called to order shall immediately sit down, unless permitted to explain. The House shall, if appealed to, decide on the case, but without debate; if there be no appeal, the decision of the Chair shall be submitted to. If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed; if otherwise, he shall not be permitted to proceed without leave of the House; and, if the case require it, he shall be liable to the censure of the House.

16. If a member be called to order for words spoken in debate, the person calling him to order shall repeat the words excepted to, and they shall be taken down in writing at the Clerk's table; and no member shall be held to answer, or be subject to the censure of the House, for words spoken in debate, if any other member has spoken, or other business has intervened after the words spoken, and before exception to them shall have been taken.

17. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question without leave of the House.

18. While the Speaker is putting any question, or addressing the House, none shall walk out of or across the hall; nor, in such case, or when a member is speaking, shall any one entertain private discourse; nor shall any one, while a member is speaking, pass between him and the Chair.

19. No member shall vote on any question in the event of which he is particularly interested, nor in any case where he was not within the bar of the House when the question was put.

20. Every member who shall be in the House when the question is put, shall give his vote, unless the House, for special reasons, shall excuse him. All motions to excuse a member from voting shall be made before the House divides, or before the call of the yeas and nays is commenced; and any member requesting to be excused from voting may make a brief verbal statement of the reasons for making such request; and the question shall then be taken without further debate.

21. Petitions, memorials, and other papers addressed to the House, shall be presented by the Speaker, or by a member in his place. A brief statement of the contents thereof shall be made by the introducer, and, if called upon, he shall declare that it does not, in his opinion, contain any indecent or reproachful language, or any expressions of disrespect to the House, or any committee of the same.

22. It shall be the duty of the Sergeant-at-arms at all times not to allow any person to smoke in the Assembly Chamber.

ON MOTIONS.

23. Every motion shall be reduced to writing, if the Speaker or any member desire it.

24. When a motion is made and seconded it shall be stated by the Speaker, or, being in writing, it shall be handed to the Chair and read aloud by the Clerk, when it shall be deemed to be in possession of the House, and open to debate; but it may be withdrawn at any time before a decision or amendment.

25. When a question is under debate no motion shall be received but—

1. To adjourn.
2. A call of the House.
3. To lay on the table.
4. For the previous question.
5. To postpone indefinitely.
6. To postpone to a day certain.
7. To go into a Committee of the Whole on the pending subject, immediately.
8. To commit to a Committee of the Whole.
9. To commit to a Standing Committee.
10. To commit to a Select Committee.
11. To amend.

26. A motion to strike out the enacting clause of a bill or joint resolution shall have precedence of a motion to amend, and, if carried, shall be considered equivalent to its rejection.

28. Any member may call for the division of a question, which shall be divided if it comprehends questions so distinct that one being taken away the rest may stand entire for the decision of the House; a motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible; but a motion to strike out being lost shall preclude neither amendment nor a motion to strike out and insert.

29. When any motion shall be made and seconded the same shall, at the request of any two members, be entered on the Journal of the House.

30. When a motion has been once made and carried in the affirmative or negative it shall be in order for any member who voted with the prevailing party to move for the reconsideration thereof on the same day, or the next day of actual session of the House thereafter; all motions may be reconsidered by a majority of members present, but bills, to be reconsidered, must have the same majority that would be necessary to pass them.

31. When a blank is to be filled the question shall first be taken on the largest sum, greatest number, and remotest day.

32. The yeas and nays shall be entered on the journal on every question taken in the House, when moved for and seconded by five members; and in taking the yeas and nays the names of the members, including the Speaker, shall be called alphabetically.

33. The previous question shall be in this form: "Shall the main question be now put?" It shall only be admitted when demanded by a majority of the members present, and its effect shall be, if decided affirmatively, to put an end to all debate and bring the House to a direct vote upon amendments reported by a Committee, if any, then upon pending amendments, and then upon the main question; if decided in the negative, to leave the main question and amendments, if any, under debate for the residue of the sitting, unless sooner disposed of by taking the question, or in some other manner. All incidental questions of order arising after a motion is made for the previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

The Speaker presented the Report of the Commissioners on the Plan of the Stevens Battery, with a Report of the Engineer in Charge, as follows:

COMMISSIONERS' REPORT.

To the Honorable, the Legislature of the State of New Jersey :

The undersigned, Commissioners appointed in pursuance of a Joint Resolution, approved April 1st, 1869, relative to the Stevens Battery, would hereby respectfully report, as in said resolution instructed to do, that we have, from time to time, conferred with the Executors of the late Edwin A. Stevens in reference to the plan on which the Battery was proposed to be completed, and that we are fully satisfied that the present plan, which embodies the ideas both of the late Robert L. Stevens, the originator of the Battery, and of his brother Edwin A. Stevens, is one which will produce the most favorable result, and embodies all those features which the latest experience in marine engineering and construction of iron-clad vessels has approved.

We have inspected the progress of the vessel under those plans which are being worked out by Major General George B. McClellan and Captain John Newton, and find that a gratifying degree of progress is being made in bringing the vessel on toward completion, for the details of which you are hereby respectfully referred to the accompanying report made by General McClellan to the Executors of Mr. Stevens.

We have not, up to this time, seriously considered what disposition it may be advisable to recommend that the State should make of the ship upon her completion, which will not be earlier than the summer of 1871. We are fully persuaded, upon an examination of the plans and the thorough workmanship of the vessel so far as progressed, that when she is completed her enormous strength, great speed, and (practically) absolute invulnerability, together with her ability to carry the heaviest armament now afloat in any one ship in the world, will certainly induce the United States Government to take into serious consideration the question of purchasing the vessel from the State at a fair valuation, rather than permit so formidable a vessel to leave this country and become the property of any foreign nation. Indeed, many influential individuals connected with the present administration have not hesitated to express this view very decidedly. But if this arrangement, for any cause, should not be effected, there can be no question but that the State can readily dispose of the vessel to one of the European governments, at a large price.

REPORT OF THE ENGINEER.

OFFICE OF STEVENS BATTERY,
HOBOKEN, N. J., December 15, 1869.

Messrs. W. W. Shippen and S. B. Dod, Executors of the Estate of E. A. Stevens, Esq.:

GENTLEMEN:—The general plans for the completion of the Stevens Battery were determined upon by my assistant, Mr. J. Newton, and myself, and received your approval about the end of February, 1869. Immediately thereafter was commenced the task of preparing the ship for new work, completing the detailed plans, erecting the necessary shops and scaffolds, procuring materials, tools, &c. In the month of August work was fairly commenced upon the additions to the ship.

At the present time, the engines are in hand, the heavier and more difficult portions being well advanced; the raising of the sides is substantially completed; the deck-beam shelves, gussets, &c., as well as the armor shelf and its supports, well advanced towards completion; the inner lining commenced at the bow and stern; three bulkheads set up, and others in hand; the stern plates, &c., fitted and partially riveted; the bow well advanced towards completion; several deck beams in place; a considerable amount of the vertical armor backing fitted.

It is expected to have the ship afloat before the winter of 1870–71, and to have her finished and ready for delivery in the course of 1871.

The work has proceeded as rapidly as due care and economy would permit, and no unnecessary delay will be allowed to occur in the completion. Under the system actually pursued it is believed that the ship can be completed within the time specified above, and for the amount of the one million dollars available for the purpose. Should circumstances arise making it necessary, the vessel could be finished in less time, but at additional expense.

Of the one million of dollars devoted to the completion of this ship by the will of the late E. A. Stevens, Esq., the sum of one hundred and fifty-six thousand four hundred and twenty-four dollars and fifty cents was actually expended up to the 1st of December, 1869, leaving eight hundred and forty-three thousand five hundred and seventy-five dollars and fifty cents still available.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

GEO. B. McCLELLAN,

Engineer in Charge.

were duly elected by said people of Cuba, that the constitution was promulgated and in due form announced to the Cubans and to all civilized nations; and whereas, the principles of their constitution are in harmony with the principles of our own; and whereas, the Monroe doctrine, the criterion guide of our foreign policy: that European powers ought-not to be allowed to extend their acquisitions of territory and political power in the American hemisphere, has become the fixed policy of the republic; therefore, be it

1. Resolved, (if the Senate concur,) That this legislature, representing the people of the state of New Jersey, do sympathize with the people of Cuba in their effort to establish the inalienable right of self-government.

WHEREAS, There should not be any privileged classes in a republican form of government; and whereas, the laws giving franking privileges create such classes, and said laws are enormously abused by those entitled to the privilege, and these abuses lead to the publication of a vast number of useless books by Congress, and greatly adds to the cost of transporting the mails, and it is estimated that if these privileges be abolished it would save several millions of dollars annually and give the people much cheaper postage; therefore be it

Resolved, by the House of Assembly, (the Senate concuring), That our Senators and Representatives in Congress be, and they are hereby requested to use all their influence for the passage of the bill now pending in the United States Senate for the total repeal of all franking privileges, and that the Secretary of State forward certified copies of this resolution to each of our United States Senators and Representatives.

That they met at the office of the Commissioners on the 15th inst., and compared the securities in charge of said Commissioners and find them to conform in every particular with their report to the Governor, made up to the end of the last fiscal year.

The accounts of the Commissioners are kept in the most accurate and satisfactory manner, and in such a way as to preclude the possibility of any undetected error. The interest of the public debt is paid semi-annually, in January and July. The debt at the above date amounted to $3,096,200, of which $1,809,800 is in coupon bonds, and $1,286,400 in registered bonds. These bonds are separately stated in books kept for the purpose, and the payment of interest marked against each. The coupons are all pasted in books. This is a service involving much care and labor. Up to the close of last year there was the sum of $661,400 loaned to various persons in several parts of the State, upon which interest is made payable half-yearly, in April and October, and secured by mortgage on real estate within the State. The interest thus collected, amounting in the last year to $43,062.46, is again lent upon similar security. The bonds of the State when paid are carefully cancelled and filed.

The Committee feels pleasure in awarding to the Commissioners the highest praise for the zeal, prudence and care in which the business of their office is conducted.

Mr. French, from the Joint Committee on Lunatic Asylum, presented the following:

To the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

The Joint Committee to whom was referred so much of the Governor's Message as relates to the State Lunatic Asylum, beg leave to report as follows:

Your Committee have made the customary visit to the Institution and examined the condition of the inmates, who appeared to be as well and comfortably provided for as is practicable in the present and increasingly crowded state of the house. The general appearance of the building, the state of efficiency of its many and various working fixtures, the repairs and improvements made during the last year, and now in progress, also its finances, were found in a highly satisfactory condition, and such as to justify the opinion of your Committee that its affairs are well and faithfully administered by its Managers and other officers.

From the reports of the Managers and Superintendent it appears that the capacity of the Institution, in its present enlarged form, is for five hundred patients, or two hundred and fifty of each sex. From the same source, we learn that on November thirtieth, the close of the last year, there were five hundred and sixty-seven patients under care, or, two hundred and seventy-three men and two hundred and ninety-four women; which numbers have increased, respectively, at this date, to two hundred and eighty-two and three hundred and eight, making five five hundred ninety under care, or nearly one hundred in excess of the room provided for their reception, and with the prospect of steady increase in the number of applicants hereafter as heretofore.

In this state of things it is apparent that the policy of the State in regard to the institution and the insane requiring its care should be definitely settled, so that its Managers and Superintendent may conform to such policy.

The law for organizing the Asylum, as originally passed and since construed, appears to prohibit the admission to, or continuance therein, beyond a certain limited period, for trial for recovery, of chronic, or supposed incurable cases; and although it has been somewhat modified, to adapt it to the wants of the counties, in providing for the safe custody and care of cases considered dangerous, and others who, from the form and degree of their mental disorder, are specially difficult to manage, yet it has not been repealed or so changed, as it obviously should be, as to place all classes of insane persons within the State, who require the care of an institution, on terms of equality in regard to its benefits.

After duly considering this important question, your Committee fully concur in the opinion expressed by the Managers and Superintendent in their last reports, and to which reference is made for more particular information on this point, that the State should, at the earliest period practicable, make such further provision for the care of the insane that all who need it may receive equally the benefits of the institution; and they believe that such policy is dictated alike by motives of humanity and the most enlightened economy. If, however, this policy should not prevail, the Managers of the Asylum should, by special act, receive such additional power for controlling the admission and discharge of patients as will enable them to restrict the use of the institution to a number consistent with its capacity for usefulness, and to secure its benefits to the most necessitous cases.

Assuming, however, that the State will adopt a progressive rather than a retrograde or even stationary policy in providing for this afflicted class of her citizens, the questions now of immediate practical interest to the Legislature relate to the site, mode of construction, &c., of the proposed new buildings.

In considering the question of location, your Committee have examined the report of the commissioners appointed in 1868 to examine sites, prepare plans, &c., also, the report of the Joint Committee on Asylum to the Legislature, at its last session, both of which were favorable to the selection of a site near the existing Asylum, which has many special advantages, to be named hereafter.

The site recently offered as a gift to the State by Hudson county, is on "Snake Hill," about four and a half miles from Jersey City. It consists of a few acres upon which to erect the buildings, and is part of a tract of land held by that county, on which is now situated a county alms-house and county prison. The proposal of this site is based upon the desire of the county authorities to have the new structure located so as to be easily accessible to persons in that section of the State. Aside from this reason, your Committee do not find, on examination, that the proposed locality has any special merits for the purpose. On the other hand, it is feared that the only ground available for the purpose is deficient in extent, even as a site on which to erect a building of the required capacity, and that it is otherwise unsuited for the object, from the fact that it consists of a hill side, without any level surface, and therefore requiring much labor and expense in grading, while the adjoining low lands are marshy in their character.

From the best information obtained by your Committee, a farm of two hundred acres or more is deemed essential for all State institutions of considerable size, to be used in part as grounds for exercise and recreation by the female patients, and for those of the other sex who, from the stage or form of their disease, are unable or unwilling to engage in useful labor. Secondly, it is found that a pretty large number of patients received from agricultural districts, and accustomed to labor, are capable of being employed beneficially to themselves on the farms and grounds of an institution, while their labor, under proper supervision, will aid in making a farm contribute to the advantage, and greatly to the convenience, of an institution, by supplying the necessary pasture and hay for stock, milk as a wholesome diet, for which there is a large demand; also, vegetables and fruits in their season.

As examples in this regard, of the action of the authorities of two neighboring institutions, one projected and to be built at White Plains, New York, in place of the present Asylum at Bloomingdale, for two hundred patients, three hundred acres of land have been purchased; and the other, for four hundred patients, now being built near Poughkeepsie, New York, for use by the river counties, an estate of more than three hundred acres, occupying a commanding position on the river bank, has been purchased by the authorities of the city of Poughkeepsie, and county of Dutchess, for the sum of eighty-five thousand dollars, and presented to the State for the purpose.

The association, on grounds thus limited in extent, of a State institution of this kind, with the county buildings named, is also regarded as of very questionable propriety, as, aside from the increased restriction of patients in their freedom for out-door exercise that it would occasion, the accumulation of employees belonging to institutions differing in their nature, objects, mode or principle of management and discipline, and under the direction of State and county officials, many embarrassments and complications in the administration of their affairs would inevitably result.

For these and other reasons which might be mentioned, your Committee, while duly appreciating the intentional liberality of the county authorities in offering grounds, yet feel it inexpedient for the State to accept it for the purpose.

Your Committee, on examining the site near the existing Asylum, find it, as before stated, well adapted to the purpose intended. The land is excellent in quality, desirable in extent, (about one hundred and seventy-six acres,) and considering its many capabilities, particularly for supplying building materials —stone, gravel and sand—the property is considered reasonable in price.

It may also be mentioned, that if this site be selected, important collateral facilities, developed by labor and pretty large expense during the last twenty years and upwards, can be used jointly by the two structures, and the original cost of such arrangements and fixtures saved. Prominent among the advantages of this class is the possession of a spring of soft water, estimated to furnish from three hundred and fifty to four hundred thousand gallons of water in twenty-four hours, and with ample machinery on hand to supply the proposed new structure when the conducting pipes are laid; the arrangements for receiving coal for fuel at all seasons, lumber, &c., on a trestle work on the premises and connected with the Belvidere Delaware Railroad; a laundry worked by steam power; a mechanical bakery; shops for wood and iron work, containing the machinery required and generally used by contractors engaged in erecting large buildings and in supplying them with needful fixtures for warming, lighting, distributing water, &c.

It may also be mentioned that by the possession by the State of the land in question, the road-way, for nearly a mile in extent, would be so largely controlled for the purposes of the institution, as to prevent the too near approach of undesirable neighbors. The work of building can also go forward in this situation as rapidly as the wants of the State demand or its convenience in supplying means will permit, under the direction and by the aid of men so well acquainted with the general design and minute details of the building and fixtures of all kinds as to ensure its being done in the best and most economical manner.

Your Committee submit a bill in accordance with the suggestions of their report, and urge its immediate passage.

JOHN C. BELDEN,
Of Senate Committee.

To the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

At the annual meeting of the "New Jersey Monument Association," held in the city of Trenton on the 22d of February, 1870, the following resolution, offered by the Vice President and General Agent, C. C. Haven, Esq., was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That the Standing Committee be requested to draft a memorial to the Legislature for an appropriation of ten thousand dollars, for the purpose named in the report of the General Agent, on condition that the balance—estimated at twenty thousand dollars—be raised by the Committee."

In pursuance of this resolve, the undersigned, Standing Committee of the New Jersey Monument Association, would most respectfully memorialize your Honorable Body to prepare and pass a bill whereby the sum of ten thousand dollars would be appropriated out of any moneys in the State Treasury, toward the erection in this city (Trenton) of an equestrian bronze statue to the memory of George Washington, with the proviso annexed that this sum should only be paid out of the State Treasury after at least an equal sum shall have been voluntarily subscribed by citizens of Trenton or elsewhere, and the monument so far advanced in construction as to insure its speedy completion.

Your memorialists believe that such an equestrian statue could be erected at a cost not to exceed thirty thousand dollars —and possibly for a less sum—and have no doubt, if the Legislature would make an appropriation of ten thousand dollars the balance would be cheerfully given by the patriotic citizens of this city and State.

The association asking this appropriation has had a corporate existence since 1859, and from that time until the present has been endeavoring to effect the objects of its organization, though heretofore on a much larger scale; but, owing to the late exhaustive war, and other causes over which the association could have no control, the attainment of its wishes has been frustrated. Now that a happier condition of things exists in our country, and our State is again prosperous in all its material interests, the time, we think, has fully come for honoring the State, by honoring him who was "first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

That Trenton is the place of all places where a Monument to Washington would be most appropriate, no one will doubt, who is at all familiar with our Revolutionary history. Here it was that the great chieftain and his brave companions-in-arms met and most signally defeated the common enemy, and from thenceforth the tide of war so changed that our liberties were ensured; and just here a bronze statue should henceforth and forever stand to remind present and future generations not only of the heroic deeds of him in whose honor it is erected, but of the great principles established by the success of the American Revolution.

The appropriation asked for from the State is scarcely more than a single penny for each inhabitant, and we are quite confident no one would or could object to such an appropriation from the Treasury, especially for an object so eminently worthy and appropriate, and in which the pride and patriotism of your Honorable Body and every other Jerseyman is equally interested.

In behalf of the New Jersey Monument Association.

A message was received from the Governor, as follows:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER, March 9, 1870.

To the Legislature:

In my Annual Message I suggested the propriety of legislation that looked to the gradual closing of the "Home for Disabled Soldiers," giving as a reason therefor, the establishment of National Homes by the General Government, where, as I then supposed, our soldiers could be comfortably cared for. I gave, as another reason for my suggestion, the demands made upon our limited resources, by other beneficiary institutions of the State.

I am now convinced that the closing of the Home during the present year would lead to great want and suffering among a class of our people to whom we owe an especial obligation; and I take the earliest opportunity of respectfully recommending to the Legislature that no change be made in the law under which the institution is continued. I am sure it is only necessary to state (to insure co-operation in my present views) that many of our soldiers have walked over a thousand miles returning from the National Home to the State Home, with its comforts and nearness to friends and families.

We have stood alone of all the States in maintaining an asylum for our disabled soldiers, and the action of other States looking to the re-establishment of their "homes" indicates our past action to have been right and our present policy to be against any change of it.

Respectfully,

THEO. F. RANDOLPH,

Governor.

A message was received from the Governor as follows:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
TRENTON, March 15th, 1870.

To the Legislature:

In my annual message, recommending the passage of a law by which the revenue of the State would be increased to an extent sufficient to meet its rapidly growing requirements, I suggested that to meet the probable deficit of the present year (growing out of the withdrawal of aid from the Federal Government), one of three courses would have to be pursued:

First—To levy a direct tax upon the capital and property in the State.

Second—To increase the rate upon those corporations now paying taxes to the State; or,

Third—To levy a direct tax upon those corporations of the State (not benevolent or beneficiary), that are not now paying taxes directly to it.

I objected to the first plan because the people and property of the State are already paying their full share, and for the reason that if any property in the State deserved especial protection, it was that which was fixed, always attainable, and by its very nature, most reliable for the State's need. Of such a class, farms, buildings, real estate, and the like, are most prominent.

I objected to an increase upon the second class because they are already taxed in undue proportion; paying as they do (five or six corporations), nearly two-thirds of the entire revenue of the State. This is not only wrong in principle, but will return to grieve the State in the claims these corporations make for special protection against competition, in view of their support of the State.

It is not compatible with our dignity that such an assertion be true, by possibility.

I favored the third plan because my study and experience had taught that corporate capital, being the capital of the possessor of special privileges granted by the State, as only the State can grant, was especially liable to taxation, not only to the full measure of private capital, but in an exigency, beyond what private capital was liable to; because Capital in corporations has nearly double value, inasmuch as the stock which represents the original investment, is also available for collateral use. Private capital has no such advantage.

Capital thus invested has a limit of responsibility—being usually the amount put in, and no more. Capital which individuals invest in a given business, is not the full measure of personal responsibility; for, failure or misfortune renders the individual liable for all debts and obligations, which the business may have brought about.

Capital thus invested rarely pays full local taxes, as under one fetch and another, and through clever assessors, or other means, they escape from taxation.

Capital invested in corporations has a divisibility, prompt and effectual. This quality, in the event of the death of an investor, or in case of dissatisfaction with the business or its management, is often of the greatest importance and value.

Capital under corporate rights has privileges that persons have not. Corporations may and often do seize upon and appropriate private property for their benefit, regardless of the loss or inconvenience of private citizens.

Capital obtains the power coming from accretion with greater ease and rapidity, under corporate existence, than in any other way, and as we have ample evidence, can use that power with less of moral or legal responsibility than private capital dare do.

Thus the State seems to give a quasi immunity to action that would disgrace the incorporators as private citizens; and yet, it is practiced by corporations.

Whatever may be thought of the morale of the existence of this condition of affairs, the fact still remains of such a power had and used.

I might enumerate other palpable advantages which corporations possess, rendering them peculiarly liable to the State's demands, but it is not essential.

In my annual message, referring to this subject, I said, substantially:

"That nearly the whole of the legislative time, with its heavy attendant cost to the people of the State, is taken up by the wants or demands of private corporations; and it is perfectly safe to say that one-half of the time of all the higher courts, with the cost incident thereto—to say naught of the delay to individual litigation, is made up by contests between corporations, or where corporations are a party thereto; the results of which are rarely of importance, as touching the great body of the people.

"That corporations are most useful, properly guarded in their powers; and that to the capital aggregated under their special privileges—nowise else to be obtained, perhaps—the greatest advantage to the State and its people have been had, no sensible person will dispute. But that the capital thus invested in corporations should seek and obtain immunity from taxation which the employees of these same corporations cannot obtain, is both unjust and indefensible.

"It is claimed, however, that for the reasons assigned, and others equally obvious, under the pressing necessities of the State for larger revenues, these objects of its creation and continued fostering care should be required to pay a small per centage to the State.

"It may be asserted that the tendency of the law will be to drive capital from this to other States. I assert, without fear of intelligent contradiction, that the States of New York and Pennsylvania, which, by proximity to the great centres of trade, are our chief competitors for capital seeking investment in the business done under the corporation affected, place a heavier impost on their corporations, by one process or another, than New Jersey has ever done, or will ever desire to do.

"We possess peculiar advantages in every respect for corporate enterprise, and it is the right, as it is the duty, of the State, to avail itself reasonably of its advantages.

"A very large number of corporations, seeking to avail themselves of our liberal grant, or desiring the confessed protection of our courts, or purposing, perhaps, the evasion of imposts elsewhere, have their capital, labor and interests entirely beyond our limits. Surely they might justly be reminded of the power that created and protects them, without trespass upon their rights."

I am induced to call your especial attention to this subject again, for the reason that to sustain the credit and meet the obligations of the State for the year, action is necessary. Having directed your attention to the subject in my annual message, I deemed it due to your Honorable Bodies to await further suggestions until the latest period, hoping you might agree upon a system of taxation generally acceptable and resulting from mature deliberations.

However imperfectly expressed my views may be, given under the pressure of the duties of your closing hours, the obligation to give them is plain.

Your decision to adjourn on the 17th inst., meeting, as it does with the almost universal concurrence of our people, and fixing, as it will, a creditable example of prompt legislation for future bodies, will not, I trust, be frustrated by any want of legislation in behalf of the State.

Respectfully,

THEODORE F. RANDOLPH,

Governor.

Mr. Brinkerhoff, presented the following:

To the Honorable the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

The Committee on the Consolidated Charter present the following facts:

The county of Hudson was created in 1840. Its territory was taken from the county of Bergen, comprising the whole of the ancient township of Bergen and part of Lodi. It is bounded by the Hudson river and bay of New York on the east, by the Passaic river on the west, and by the Kill Von Kull and Newark bay on the south. In this boundary is included a part of the Hackensack river. The county contained at the time of its incorporation 9,472 inhabitants, all of whom resided in the township of Bergen, excepting 1,173, who resided along the Passaic river.

By the map of the county it will be seen, by those of you who are not familiar with the lay of the land, that it stretches about twelve miles along the Hudson river and bay of New York, and at least one-half of it abreast of the city of New York, now numbering more than a million of people.

Its available land for city purposes is confined to a narrow ridge besides the islands of Hoboken, Harsimus and Powles Hook, and the reclaimed lands from the salt meadows and water frontage, the greatest width being about four miles between the Hudson and Hackensack rivers.

Within this limited territory there has sprung up twelve incorporated townships, counting the cities of Hoboken, Jersey City, Bergen and Hudson as townships.

It is estimated that there is now within the precincts of the former township of Bergen from 130,000 to 150,000 inhabitants, and this number is augmenting at a rate of about ten thousand yearly.

Its taxable wealth (which amount does not include the values on which the State treasury receives a direct tax) was in 1869, eighty-five millions of dollars. It thus stands next to Essex, the largest tax-paying county in the State, being about one sixth of the whole State tax paid by the counties. The children therein to be educated bear about the same proportion.

Within this territory terminates, or will, all the great railway communications to the utmost limits of the country, North, West and South, connecting the carrying trade with the city of New York.

In this brief statement you have a comprehensive view of the present, and can form some judgment of the future of our position.

The functions of the limited corporations coming in conflict with the sound policy of improvements and harmony of local governments, an act was passed at the last session of the Legislature, empowering the people within the respective townships, each for itself, to vote on consolidation. It resulted in three of the largest cities, viz.: Jersey City, Bergen and Hudson, the most compact portion, and containing about eighty thousand inhabitants, or about two-thirds of the population of the county, agreeing thereto. It became necessary, therefore, to rearrange the act for that purpose, and to present a solid foundation for the whole, so as to induce the territory adjoining to come in, as their interests may from time to time dictate.

For that purpose, a convention has been in session since the 26th of November, 1869, composed of representatives from these cities, of men of experience and age, practically acquainted with the whole subject. The convention consisted of twenty-one representatives, eight of whom have been, or now are, mayors of these cities; the other members of it having served as aldermen or in other positions of public trust. This body had the whole subject of the city government under consideration, and had twenty-six deliberate meetings. These patient labors have been governed by great harmony of action, making necessary compromises to meet cases of emergency. After reviewing their labors they now present the same to you in an act for the government of the cities consolidated, which they trust you will favorably consider and adopt, in view of the calm and earnest consideration bestowed upon it. Otherwise we fear dissatisfaction and distrust may follow, and any material changes might lead to inconsistencies and conflict.

In conclusion, we respectfully say that the committee has been actuated by no motive other than that of forming a charter that shall protect the interests of all, and be equitable and just in its operations upon the various interests to be controlled or affected by its provisions, and it is hoped that it will meet the views of your honorable body, and be passed without amendment.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

By order of

THE COMMITTEE.

Was taken up.

Mr. Hawkins, presented the following remonstrance against said bill, being a copy of preamble and resolutions adopted by the Common Council of the city of Newark, February 4th, 1870.

WHEREAS, At the present and at the previous sessions of the Legislature of this State, bills have been introduced contemplating the appropriation and improvement of a large area of land within, or in close proximity to the city, as a public park; and, whereas, the expense of such project if entered upon and carried out would fall mainly, directly or indirectly, upon this city, it seems meet and proper that this common council, representing its various interests, should give expression to its sentiments as to the necessity and expediency of this proposed undertaking; it is therefore, by the common council of the city of Newark:

Resolved, That in view of the enormous debts with which the city and county are burdened, and the absolute necessity that exists for large expenditures for improvements rendered imperative by the demands of the business, health and comfort of our citizens, common prudence would seem to dictate that the elegant and expensive luxury of a park should be dispensed with.

Resolved, That while comparatively few of our streets are paved, while many localities are suffering for the want of sewers, while nearly all the roads leading to our city are, or ought to be under indictment as "common nuisances," while we have no public hospital, or hotel, it would seem the height of folly to expend millions in an enterprise clearly unnecessary, and of doubtful utility to the mass of our citizens.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this common council not one-fourth of our citizens are in favor of establishing any large park or parks, and that the principal advocates of the measure are those who expect to reap pecuniary advantage from its adoption, at the expense of the community at large, and their paid agents.

Resolved, That if the theories and predictions, of the friends of these projects are correct, viz: "that the value of adjoining property would be immensely enhanced by the laying out of a park," the result would nevertheless be calamitous, in view of the well known fact, that one of the greatest needs of this, or any other manufacturing city, is cheap and comfortable homes, convenient to their shops and factories, for the workmen who make its wealth; but by this improvement (if such it can be called) hundreds of families will be driven from comfortable homes, and hundreds of acres be rendered unavailable as building sites—except for the rich, who constitute and always will, while our chief interest is manufactures, an inconsiderable part of our population.

Resolved, That we deem it wrong in principle for the Legislature to take action in any matter of great local importance until asked to do so by the community interested, through their local authorities, or in some manner which renders it certain that the action taken is desired by a majority of the people to be affected thereby, and particularly to stimulate speculation in real estate—already too rampant; enacting a law which, from the very nature of the case, an error once made would probably be beyond reparation, or repeal.

Resolved, That the city clerk be instructed to send a printed copy of this preamble and these resolutions, properly attested, to the President of the Senate, the Speaker of General Assembly, and to each member of the Legislature from this county.

Which was read.

A message was received from the Senate informing the House that the Joint Committee, to whom was referred certain memorials from citizens of Paterson, complaining of overcharges of the Erie Railway, have made the following report, signed by all the Committee, except the Senator from Essex, and that the same has been adopted by the Senate, and ordered that the same be taken to the House of Assembly, and they be informed of the action of the Senate thereon.

The Committee of the Senate and the Committee of the House of Assembly, acting as a Joint Committee, to whom was referred certain memorials of manufacturers and citizens of the City of Paterson, complaining of overcharges on freight transported between that city and the city of New York by the Erie Railway Company, would respectfully report that they have examined the subject matter of reference, and have given a hearing to the parties in interest who were represented by counsel. Upon a consideration of the arguments and facts submitted, they have arrived at the conclusion, that the question at issue is more properly a subject for judicial decision, than for legislative interference. It was in evidence that the subject is already before the courts in the process of adjudication, and counsel for the complainants expressed a desire that a final and conclusive determination might there be reached upon the points raised, and especially upon the proper construction of the law by virtue of which the Erie Railway Company assumes to derive the authority to make the charges for transportation complained of. As to the fact of the imposition of what are known as "terminal charges," no evidence has been presented to your Committee substantiating the allegation that such charges are either excessive or exceptional.

In view therefore of all the facts presented, it is not, in the judgment of your committee, advisable to recommend any action which would legislate either party to the controversy out of court, or obstruct or influence a final decision upon the merits of the case by the proper tribunals.

JOB H. GASKILL,
EBEN WINTON,
HUGH REID,

JOHN C. RAFFERTY,
Secretary of the Senate.

Which was accepted.

The following report was presented :

The Committee appointed under the following resolution of the Senate.

"Resolved, That so much of the Governor's message, as refers to the subject of general laws, be referred to a committee of three, who shall report at an early day; said committee shall have power to employ counsel to aid in preparing such general laws as are deemed expedient."

Beg leave respectfully to report, that, under the authority conferred upon them by the said resolution, they employed Mr. Cortlandt Parker, of Newark, to aid them in the matter; and they herewith submit to the Senate, several bills prepared for them, together with the letter of Mr. Parker, explanatory thereof; which they include as a part of their report.

It will be seen that the Bills, reported, cover the whole subject of Corporations; and endeavor to attain the end suggested by the Governor in his message, in two ways.

I. By the enacting of general laws, which shall apply to every Corporation hereafter to be created by act of the Legislature; and in such a manner as that all their provisions shall attach at once to every Corporation chartered; saving thus, endless repetition of similar provisions conferring or regulating corporate powers.

II. By acts providing means by which without application to the Legislature, Corporations for any lawful purpose, can be organized, regulated, and, if need be, wound up.

In view of the scope of these enactments, and of the late day at which the Committee have been able to report, it is respectfully suggested that the matter should not be disposed of at the present session; but that the Committee, jointly with the Committee of the Assembly, appointed upon the same subject, should be continued, with instructions to report at the opening of the next Legislature; and with power to continue the employment of counsel, so that the acts now presented may be revised, and if requisite, altered, amended, or others presented. The importance of the subject would seem to call for this disposition of it.

Your Committee therefore recommend the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee already appointed, and to whom was referred the subject of general laws, spoken of by the Governor's message, be continued with powers as conferred in the resolution; and that they be directed to report at the opening of the next Session.

H. S. LITTLE,
EDWARD BETTLE,
JOHN W. TAYLOR,
WM. BRINKERHOFF.
WILLIAM A. HOUSE.

Hon. Messrs. Little, Bettle, Taylor, Committee of Senate; Hon. Messrs. Valentine, Brinkerhoff, House, Committee of Assembly:

GENTLEMEN: I herewith send you bills which I have drafted, to carry out your design, and that of the Governor in his message, so far as I have apprehended it. I suppose that design and the object of the legislature to be, to supply, if possible, some means of getting rid of the enormous outlay of time, labor and money, arising from the multitude of applications before the legislature for incorporations of every character.

The plan adopted is, to frame general acts, which should consolidate all provisions advisable for the various sorts of incorporations, so that the legislature might simply pass, from time to time, special acts incorporating applicants for the purposes they desired; and that upon such incorporation, eo facto, the company created should be clothed with all the powers, and subjected to all the restrictions, provided for in the general act. And in addition to this, it has seemed to me that the power of being incorporated without a particular act of the legislature might safely be extended; and that it was well to suggest a system for such incorporation, which would comprehend, as far as possible, everything. This method of legislation has long existed in Great Britain, and has been adopted thence by some of our sister States. Nowhere, however, has the scheme been so carefully elaborated as in England; and after looking at the acts of other States, I have taken those of the English Parliament, as, for the most part, my model. One consideration has very much influenced me in so doing. The English laws have been expounded for many years by a judiciary, whose learning and integrity give them more authority in our own state courts, than perhaps any other judges possess, and, in choosing between systems, I deem it of great importance to select one which has been long and carefully explained.

Corporations may be classified thus:

I. Corporations for purposes of gain, but which need no compulsory taking of lands.

II. Corporations for purposes of gain which do require such compulsory taking of lands.

III. Corporations whose purposes are not for gain.

IV. Corporations municipal.

The acts prepared are intended to effect the desired object, in relation to each of these classes of corporations. They are entitled as follows:

1st The act for consolidating in one act certain provisions usually inserted in acts with reference to the constitution of companies incorporated for carrying on undertakings of public nature, shortly termed "The Company's Clauses Act."

2d. "An act for consolidating in one act certain provisions usually inserted in acts authorizing the taking of lands for undertakings of a public nature," shortly called, "The Land's Clauses Act."

3d. "An act for the incorporation, regulation, and winding up of trading companies and other associations."

4th. An act for consolidating in one, certain provisions usually inserted in acts incorporating towns, boroughs and cities.

This last act includes within it provisions authorizing such incorporations without an act of the legislature.

5th. An act for consolidating in one act certain provisions usually inserted in acts authorizing the making of Railways, shortly called "The Railway Clauses Act."

6th. An act to facilitate in certain cases the obtaining of powers for the construction of Railways, called "The Railways Construction Facilities Act."

And this act likewise contains provisions whereby Railroad Companies may be incorporated without a special act of the legislature.

In effecting incorporations, otherwise than by act of the legislature, the plan proposed is this:—The creation of a "Board of Incorporation," composed of the Comptroller, the Attorney General and the Secretary of State; representing thus, the The Treasury, the Law department and the custody of the State Seal. The Comptroller is made Registrar, and has charge mainly of the department; and, whether the corporation desired, be municipal, for a railroad, or for any other conceivable purpose, this Board, on application in certain form, and with restrictions peculiar to each class of corporations, is empowered to issue certificates of incorporation under the great seal of the State, which immediately invests the corporation created with all the powers contained in the proper act of consolidation.

The main objection to the English Acts lies in their prolixity and particularity of detail. This I have endeavored to remedy; with hesitation, however, in view of my inability in so short a time and under the pressure of other duties, to assure myself that I fully comprehend the value of all they contain.

And now that the work is done, I feel like suggesting to the Committee, that final action on this system be not immediately taken, but that the legislature should be asked to continue the committee until the next session, that what is done may be carefully revised and understood.

With a view to the better apprehension of the acts prepared, and that any change may more conveniently be made, I have caused these acts to be printed on stout paper, with a large margin, upon which any comment, alteration or addition may be written.

Trusting that what I have done may meet your approbation and be beneficial to the State,

I am, Gentlemen,

Yours very respectfully,

CORTLANDT PARKER.

Mr. Brinkerhoff presented the following preamble and resolutions of the Common Council of Jersey City:

WHEREAS, A bill, called Assembly bill No. 499, and entitled "An act to provide for taxing the Erie Railway Company for property, owned, leased or occupied by it in this State, and for building branch and connecting roads," relieving the Erie Railway from the payment of any taxes on their real estate and personal property in Jersey City, has been presented to the Legislature; and whereas, the taxes paid by said railway in 1868, amounted to $34,000, and the amount assessed for 1869 is about $32,000, which amount would be lost to Jersey City every year, and would have to be added to the taxes already assessed on property of our citizens; and whereas, said taxes are mostly levied on property included within the limits of certain streets which were closed under authority of act of the Legislature, being a supplement to the city charter, approved March 24th, 1864, and which act was approved by the Common Council on the petition of the Long Dock Company, or Erie Railway, they voluntarily offering, on the passage of such consent by the Council, to pay all taxes that might be assessed against said property for the time during which such streets were ordered closed; and whereas, said company does now, and will hereafter enjoy the same advantages, privileges and protection that our citizens possess, and by the passage of said act will be relieved from paying any tax therefor, an act which would be unjust, unfair, and would be very oppressive, and tend to discourage private enterprise in our city; therefor

Resolved, That this Common Council, as representatives of the people and tax-payers of Jersey City, do most respectfully and earnestly remonstrate and protest against the passage of said Assembly bill No. 499.

Resolved, That the Senator from Hudson county, and Members of Assembly from Jersey City, are hereby requested to oppose by every means the passage of said bill, and are hereby further reminded by so doing they will express the wishes of every citizen and property owner in our city, and will legislate for the benefit of their constituents, and not for the benefit of any railroad.

Resolved, That this Common Council compose a Committee of the Whole to wait upon the said Members of the Legislature and endeavor to secure their promise to oppose the further consideration of said Assembly bill No. 499, so far as it relates to exempting the property in Jersey City of the Erie Railway from municipal taxation.

This is to certify, that the foregoing is a true copy of a preamble and resolutions adopted by the Common Council of Jersey City, at a special meeting, held March 12th, 1870.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand as city Clerk of Jersey City, and have affixed the corporate seal of the Mayor and Common Council of Jersey City, this fourteenth day of March, anno domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy, (1870.)
