JOURNAL OF THE SENATE.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
SENATE CHAMBER,
TRENTON, TUESDAY, Jan. 14th, 1913.

At 12 o'clock, M.

As this was the time and place appointed by the Constitution for the assembling of the Legislature, the Senate was called to order by Hon. J. Warren Davis, Senator from the county of Salem, who read the following official statement;

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

I, David S. Crater, Secretary of State of the State of New Jersey, do hereby certify that the following members of the Senate have been duly qualified:

Walter E. Edge, for Atlantic county.
James A. C. Johnson, for Bergen county.
William T. Read, for Camden county.
Isaac T. Nichols, for Cumberland county.
Austen Colgate, for Essex county.
George W. F. Gaunt, for Gloucester county.
James F. Fielder, for Hudson county.
Harry D. Leavitt, for Mercer county.
John W. Slocum, for Monmouth county.
Richard Fitzherbert, for Morris county.
George C. Low, for Ocean county.
J. Warren Davis, for Salem county.
William W. Smalley, for Somerset county.
Carlton B. Pierce, for Union county.
Thomas Barber, for Warren county.

And it further appears that at the general election held on the fifth day of November, A. D. 1912, members of the Senate were duly elected as follows:

Blanchard H. White, for Burlington county.
Harry C. Wheaton, for Cape May county.
George F. Martens, for Hunterdon county.
William E. Ramsay, for Middlesex county.
Peter J. McGinnis, for Passaic county.
Samuel T. Munson, for Sussex county.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my official seal, at Trenton, this fourteenth day of January, A. D. 1913.

DAVID S. CRATER,
[SEAL.] Secretary of State.

Mr. Slocum moved that the Hon. Harry D. Leavitt, Senator from Mercer county, be appointed President pro tempore.

Which was agreed to.

Mr. Davis appointed Senators Johnson, Low and Pierce to conduct the President pro tempore to the Chair.

Mr. Davis moved that Francis B. Davis, of Gloucester, be appointed temporary secretary.

Which was agreed to.

Mr. Davis presented the credentials of

Blanchard H. White, for Burlington county.
Henry C. Wheaton, for Cape May county.
George F. Martens, for Hunterdon county.
William E. Ramsay, for Middlesex county.
Peter J. McGinnis, for Passaic county.
Samuel T. Munson, for Sussex county.

And the oath of office was administered by the President pro tempore.

Under the direction of the President pro tempore the Secretary called the Senate, when the following Senators appeared and answered the call:

Messrs. Barber, Colgate, Davis, Edge, Fielder (President), Gaunt, Johnson, Leavitt, Low, Martens, McGinnis, Munson, Nichols, Pierce, Ramsay, Read, Slocum, Smalley, Wheaton, White—20.

On motion of Mr. Davis, the Senate then proceeded to the election of a President.

Mr. Davis nominated the Hon. James F. Fielder, of the county of Hudson.

Mr. Read nominated the Hon. Walter E. Edge, of the county of Atlantic.

Under the direction of the President pro tempore the Secretary called the Senate, with the following result:

The Senators voting for Mr. Fielder were:

Messrs. Barber, Davis, Edge, Fitzherbert, Johnson, Low, Martens, McGinnis, Munson, Ramsay, Slocum, Wheaton—12.

The Senators voting for Mr. Edge were:

Messrs. Colgate, Fielder (President), Gaunt, Leavitt, Nichols, Pierce, Read, Smalley, White—9.

Mr. Fielder, having received a majority of all the votes cast, was declared by the President pro tempore duly elected President of the Senate for the ensuing year, and was conducted to the chair by Senators Slocum, Barber and Edge. The oath of office was administered by the President pro tempore.

On taking the chair the President addressed the Senators as follows:

I assume my office realizing fully its responsibilities, and with a sincere determination to faithfully, impartially and justly perform its duties according to the oath I have just taken. Each President of this body during my service as Senator has come to occupy this chair with like serious thoughts, but I count my responsibility more heavy because I am the first representative of my party to take this seat in twenty years, and I feel that not only am I on trial, but also the party I represent and now here in the majority for the first time in so long a period. To us has been committed by the people of this State the conduct of both branches of the Legislature, and I speak for that majority when I say we purpose discharging our trust completely and to the satisfaction of those who gave it to us. Beside the control of the Legislature, the executive department is in the hands of one of our political faith, the impress of whose character and splendid State policies has been stamped upon our statute books to the everlasting benefit of our citizens. The State will long be his debtor, and we give him to the nation, knowing fully the extent of our loss. With the legislative and executive departments in political accord, the legislation to which our party stands pledged should be accomplished without friction. Most of the important laws we hope to pass have received the approval of our friends who are here in the minority, and in their enactment we expect and shall welcome their co-operation, although the responsibility for the desired result will be ours. The matters to which our attention shall be particularly directed are important and fairly numerous, and must be treated with careful consideration and deliberation, and with a desire to enact only such legislation as will be fair and equitable to all interests affected thereby.

From my predecessors in this office I have learned many things of value which I shall be glad to call to my aid in the performance of my duties. Two stand out with much prominence. The first is uniformly fair and impartial treatment, whereby every Senator is afforded ample opportunity to be heard on all matters in which he is interested, and the second is punctuality, whereby sessions will be called to order promptly on the designated hour and the transaction of our business facilitated.

Senators, I acknowledge my deep appreciation of the honor I have to act as your President, and I hope to so conduct myself as to merit some portion of the commendation so justly bestowed upon my immediate predecessors.

Prayer was then offered by the Rev. Henry S. Kidd, of Camden, N. J.

On motion of Mr. Davis, the Senate then proceeded to the election of a Secretary.

Mr. Davis nominated Mr. William L. Dill, of Passaic county.

Mr. Read nominated Francis B. Davis, of Gloucester county.

Under the direction of the President the Secretary pro tempore called the Senate, with the following result:

Senators voting for Mr. Dill were—

Messrs. Barber, Davis, Fielder (President), Fitzherbert, Johnson, Low, Martens, McGinnis, Munson, Ramsay, Slocum, Wheaton—12.

Senators voting for Mr. Davis were—

Messrs. Colgate, Edge, Gaunt, Leavitt, Nichols, Pierce, Read, Smalley, White—9.

Mr. Dill being declared duly elected Secretary of the Senate, took the oath of office prescribed by law.

Under the direction of the President the Secretary called the Senate, when the following Senators appeared and answered the call:

Messrs. Barber, Colgate, Davis, Edge, Fielder (President), Fitzherbert, Gaunt, Johnson, Leavitt, Low, Martens, McGinnis, Munson, Nichols, Pierce, Ramsay, Read, Slocum, Smalley, Wheaton, White—21.

Mr. Davis offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to wait upon His Excellency, the Governor, and inform him that the Senate has organized and elected Hon. James F. Fielder, of the county of Hudson, President, and William L. Dill, of the county of Passaic, Secretary, and is now ready to proceed to business and also to receive any communications that he may make.

The President appointed as such committee Senators Barber, Low and Edge.

Mr. Davis offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be directed to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has organized and elected the Hon. James F. Fielder, of the county of Hudson, President, and William L. Dill, of the county of Passaic, Secretary, and has proceeded to business.

In the negative—None.

The committee appointed to wait upon the Governor returned and reported that they had attended to that duty and that His Excellency congratulated the Senators upon organizing so promptly and stated that he would communicate with the Senate by message.

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of Mr. Tumulty, which was read as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, January 14th, 1913.

To the Legislature:

I trust that you will pardon me if the first note I strike in this my second annual message to your honorable bodies is a personal note. I can not forget that this, though only my second, is also my last annual message to you. I shall presently lay down the duties of Governor of New Jersey. I can not turn away from this great office or give up the privileges it has brought me without expressing my gratitude to the people of New Jersey that they gave me this opportunity to serve them, and my sense also of intimate comradeship and obligation towards the men in the Legislature of the State with whom I have been permitted to work in carrying out the reforms of the last two years.

They have been very full and eventful years, to which I hope the people of the State will always look back with approval and pride. We have accomplished for New Jersey many things of high consequence which for many a long year had waited and cried out to be done. Our pride in their accomplishment has no touch of boastfulness in it, but only the deep gratification of having been privileged to do so much that was for the common benefit. The legislative session of 1911 will, I venture to say, long remain remarkable in the annals of the State for the number and importance of the reforms enacted, and those of us who were associated in the work of that notable session will, so long as we live, have the happiness of looking back upon it as upon one of the most satisfactory experiences of our public service. Certainly I shall never forget it; and I can not turn away from the great office in which I have enjoyed such satisfactions without avowing the pride I have taken in it and the deep obligation I feel to the fine public-spirited men who stood with me in the days of doubt and struggle. I am happy to have had a part in such things along with such men.

But not all that waited to be done was done by the Legislature of 1911. It was impossible that everything should be accomplished in a single session. The rapidly changing circumstances of the time, moreover, both in the political and in the industrial world, render it necessary that a constant process of adjustment should go on. It is my duty to call your attention to the further changes in our law which seem to be most immediately necessary.

The corporation laws of the State notoriously stand in need of alteration. They are manifestly inconsistent with the policy of the federal government and with the interests of the people in the all-important matter of monopoly, to which the attention of the whole nation is now so earnestly directed. The laws of New Jersey as they stand, so far from checking monopoly, actually encourage it. They explicitly permit every corporation formed in New Jersey, for example, to purchase, hold, assign, and dispose of as it pleases the securities of any and all other corporations of this or any other State and to exercise at pleasure the full rights of ownership in them, including the right to vote as stockholders. This is nothing less than an explicit license of holding companies. This is the very method of forming vast combinations and creating monopoly, against which the whole country has set its face; and I am sure that the people of New Jersey do not dissent from the common judgment that our law must prevent these things and prevent them very effectually.

It is our duty and our present opportunity to amend the statutes of the State in this matter not only, but also in such a way as to provide some responsible official supervision of the whole process of incorporation and provide, in addition, salutary checks upon unwarranted and fictitious increases of capital and the issuance of securities not based upon actual bona fide valuation. The honesty and soundness of business alike depend upon such safeguards. No legitimate business will be injured or harmfully restricted by them. These are matters which affect the honor and good faith of the State. We should act upon them at once and with clear purpose.

The people of the State are at present, moreover, at the mercy of investment companies of every kind. Securities of any and every sort can be sold in New Jersey by irresponsible persons and the purchasers must depend upon their own investigations to ascertain whether they are bogus or based upon good business. They should have the protection of the law. Investment companies should be put under inspection and regulation by the State, and no one should be allowed to sell securities in New Jersey without public license issued from the department exercising the rights of inspection and regulation. New Jersey is very late indeed in affording her people this protection.

There is another matter that cries out for reform and has long cried out for it. Why has no Legislature ever seriously and earnestly set itself to correct it? The drawing of grand juries, and even upon occasion the drawing of petit juries, is notoriously subject to political influence and control in this State, of whose processes of justice we are so proud and whose honor we are in most cases so quick to defend against question or slander. This can and should be remedied. You can not neglect it without seeming indifferent to justice and fair play in matters which are matters of life and death and reputation and honor and which cut to the very quick of human rights. The free, prompt, unbiased administration of criminal justice has been time out of mind at the very center of the fight for individual right and liberty. It is to be hoped that the commission now investigating the various methods of governing this all-important matter will presently submit a thorough and conclusive report.

Another matter no less central, no less vital to the rights and opportunities of individuals and communities, is the method by which taxes are assessed and collected. New Jersey has suffered herself to drift into practices in this fundamental matter which might lead a critical outsider who knew nothing of the history and accidents of her legal development in this case to question both her fairness and her public sense. Her arrangements in respect of this, as of so many other interests and functions, are the result of mere patchwork and lack system and coherence altogether. It is not necessary to have both a board of assessors and a board of taxation; and it is ineffectual to have either if they are to have no administrative control over local assessors and collectors. The most extraordinary variety alike of rule and of practice obtains in the different counties and communities of the State, with this result among many others, that in many localities small property owners pay much heavier taxes in proportion to their holdings than large property owners pay and are practically without redress. Fortunately, this Legislature will have the benefit of a report from a commission specially appointed to make thorough investigation of these inequalities and this lack of system. I hope that its recommendations will point out a wise and practicable way of reform.

There is an additional grant of power to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners which seems to me of capital importance and of pressing necessity. The many, almost innumerable, railway crossings at grade, which make travel on most of our country roads so hazardous and the movement of traffic in so many of our town and city streets so dangerous and difficult, ought, of course, to be done away with as rapidly as possible, beginning with the most dangerous and proceeding without interruption from the more to the less dangerous until absolutely none is left. This cannot be done by the hard and fast precise terms of such a bill as passed the Houses during the last session and was prevented from becoming a law by my veto. No invariable rule can be laid down which will not lead to all sorts of impossible situations and the eventual interference of the courts. The proper solution of this very difficult matter is to empower the Board of Public Utility Commissioners to order the abolition of such grade crossings in such ways and at such a rate as will adjust their orders to each particular case and set of circumstances. The act conferring the power can and should make of that power a legal duty imposed upon the commission, the discretion of the commissioners to exist only in respect of their right to guide, direct, and adjust the processes of elimination in a thoroughly practical fashion. I can not too strongly urge this matter upon your attention.

And while I am speaking of railways, permit me to urge another piece of legislation upon you which seems to me essential both to the safety of travel on the railways and to the fair protection of certain classes of railway employees. I refer to the so-called Full Crew bill, whose failure to pass the last Legislature was so much deplored by all who had noted its introduction and its significance. It is of the highest consequence that railway trains which pass through the State should be manned by adequate crews; and to me, for one, it is a matter of chagrin that they should now carry smaller crews through New Jersey than through Pennsylvania, with whom we are linked by so many important lines of railway. This is a matter which we can not afford to neglect. If it cannot be satisfactorily handled in an act, it might also very well be put in the hands of the Public Utility Commissioners by addition to their powers.

The Legislature of 1911 went a long way towards recognizing the right of full self-government on the part of the municipalities of the State when it passed the excellent bill permitting the towns and cities of the State to adopt the commission form of government at their pleasure. That was a great step in advance. It has been distinctly to the disadvantage of the cities and towns of New Jersey that the Legislature has undertaken to regulate their affairs and their powers so minutely from Trenton. Only the fullest and freest rights of self-government will stimulate them to serve their citizens as they should be served. The path of reform in that field is unquestionably the path of greater freedom. The question of municipal government is perhaps the most serious question concerning the organization of methods of government that now confronts us as a nation. I covet for New Jersey the honor of showing the way of liberty and self-respecting re-organization. We should set our municipalities free to organize their lives and exercise the functions of self-government with less dependence upon the Legislature of the State.

At the same time, there are matters in which uniform State regulation can be made of immense assistance to the municipalities. For example, it seems to me imperative that a uniform system and method of accounting and of public financial reports should be prescribed by statute for the financial authorities of our towns and cities. I hope that this Legislature will be able to formulate and pass such a measure. The information and materials are at hand. In this matter, more perhaps that in any other, students of municipal affairs have come to a substantial agreement, both as to methods and as to the practical advantages to be gained.

While the Legislature should give over its attempt to govern the cities from Trenton, there are other things to which it can turn its attention in which we are beginning to see a new and immensely beneficial function for the State. The farmer has not been served as he might be and should be. We have set up and subsidized agricultural schools, horticultural schools, schools of poultry breeding, and the rest, and they have done excellent work. Our support of them should be hearty and generous. But a more effective way still has been found by which the farmer can be served. Lectures and schools and experimental farms attached to schools like laboratories are excellent, but they do not and can not of themselves push their work home. Some States have gone much beyond this and we should follow them with zest.

The thing that tells is demonstration work. The knowledge of the schools should be carried out to the farms themselves. Dr. Seaman A. Knapp found the way when he was sent into the South to fight the boll weevil. Choosing a good farm and a good farmer here and there, he showed the farmer how to cultivate part of a field, gave him simple fundamental directions, brought him selected seed, and made frequent visits afterward to see that his directions were carried out. Of course, the neightbors promptly took notice and the next season did the same things,—with the same results, good crops, earlier crops, crops that the weevil was no match for. And fighting the weevil was only an incident. The work grew in every direction,—not work in the schools, but work suggested and directed by men sent out from the schools to take science to the farm, until the agricultural department could not supply the men called for from every direction. The countryman began once more to come into his own. When the farmer does fully take science into partnership and become his own master and fortune builder, the day will be gone once for all when the townsman can tax him and ignore him and absorb unto himself the powers of government at his pleasure.

It does not require a great deal of money to train men and send them out for this work; and when once it is begun it goes on of itself. Private persons, voluntary independent associations, county authorities, take it up. It is a thing that gives life as it goes. It awakens countrysides and rouses them to take charge of themselves. It is not help from the government, it is merely light from the government. The light does the rest. We should give ourselves the pleasure, the pride and satisfaction, of putting New Jersey forward to set an example in this truly great and intelligent work for relaying the foundations of wealth and prosperity in the United States.

This is the way also to attack the problem of forest preservation and renewal,—demonstration work done throughout the State by way of example, until it is demonstrated not only how the forests can be preserved and renewed, but also how profitable they can be made without waste,—at once one of the most profitable and one of the most permanent sources of wealth, a permanent crop devoted to a thousand uses.

It is by such means that the people come to understand themselves and their own interests and assume their real sovereignty. Discussion of public questions becomes a very vital thing for them when the functions of government touch their daily lives and there is something of immediate consequence to them to discuss. Discussions must constantly clear the air and drive everything hidden from its covert. We ought, therefore, to afford the people every facility for discussion. Convenient and inexpensive meeting places ought to be supplied at the public expense. It ought not to be necessary to hire a hall whenever it is desired to have a public meeting. The owners of halls charge high prices when they can and are often partisans and will not let their halls at all to those whom they wish to defeat or embarrass. Every community has its schoolhouses. They should be available for every kind of proper neighborhood meeting out of school hours. If local school boards are illiberal or partisan or unreasonable, they ought to be commanded in their duty in this matter by statute. I recommend such legislation to you very heartily.

A great movement has sprung up in this country in recent years which centres around the schoolhouse as a place of neighborhood conference in all matters affecting the public or any local part of it. It is known as the social centre movement. It has the force and momentum of a great idea in it. Secret forces, corrupt forces, forces of evil of every kind are against it, are afraid of it. They fear neighborhood discussion. They do not wish to have local and neighborhood matters canvassed too much out loud. It is our duty as public servants to lend full and effectual aid to this movement. We can do it by making public-spirited men and women everywhere free of the use of the school-houses. A very simple statute will accomplish the desired result. The free forces of society will do the rest.

If such forces had been accustomed to act freely and thoroughly clear the air in New Jersey during the last twelve months, we could have settled some questions regarding the conservation of our natural resources which we have so far failed to settle. It would not have been possible, for example, for individual selfish influences at Lake Hopatcong and local influences in the city of Newark to block and defeat the prompt and reasonable settlement of the question of the abandonment of the Morris Canal. If a few men here and there had spoken out what they knew last session, the bill proposed for the settlement of that question would have passed, and they would have spoken out had there been the habit and place of local discussion. The use and conservation of our natural resources is a matter to which we must constantly devote ourselves, and watchful public opinion is always our best guide.

The pressure of intelligent opinion will soon be upon us in irresistible fashion concerning the business methods of the State also. I suggest that we do not wait for the pressure. The business of the State (I mean its administrative business) is conducted with a wastefulness, a duplication of effort, a confusion and conflict of function, which no business enterprise could survive for six months. There is an extraordinary multiplicity of boards, departments, commissions, and miscellaneous offices, overlapping, connected without being coördinated, independent of one another and yet naturally belonging to a single systematic whole, which ought to be drawn together, simplified, brought into their proper relations, pruned, and put upon a footing of efficiency which will also be a footing of economy and quick responsibility. A commission is now inquiring into this very matter by direction of the last Legislature. It has taken its duties seriously. It will no doubt show the way to many immediate reforms. If its work is not finished, it should be continued and given funds sufficient to prosecute its work to a thorough completion.

We have lagged far behind other States in these matters. We are wasting the public moneys and are not getting the results good business methods would get. This has not been by deliberation. Our administrative methods have been developed piecemeal and at haphazard; but they are none the less worthy of condemnation and reform on that account, and we shall not have proved ourselves faithful and disinterested public servants until we correct them.

There are other things we have outgrown. The constitution of the State needs reconsideration in a score of parts, some of them of the first consequence. No doubt its provisions were considered wise and suitable at the time of its adoption, but that was quite two generations ago and the circumstances of our life have altered fundamentally within that time, politically, socially, economically. I urge upon you very earnestly indeed the need and demand for a constitutional convention. The powers of corrupt control have an enormous and abiding advantage under our constitutional arrangements as they stand. We shall not be free from them until we get a different system of representation and a different system of official responsibility. I hope that this question will be taken up by the Legislature at once and a constitutional convention arranged for without delay, in which the new forces of our day may speak and may have a chance to establish their ascendancy over the rule of machines and bosses.

Two great amendments to the Constitution of the United States await ratification by New Jersey, the amendment conferring upon the Congress of the United States in unmistakable terms the power to levy taxes on incomes, and the amendment providing for the election of Senators of the United States by the direct vote of the people. I can not too strongly urge upon the Legislature the ratification of both these amendments. We can not keep our place among the progressive States of the Union and reject them. Indeed, we shall be in a very small minority if we do reject them.

There are many other subjects I should like to dwell upon,—the extension and systematization of the powers of the State Board of Health, the establishment by statute of an intelligent and thorough-going policy of road building, and the great interests involved in the prosecution of the plan for a ship canal across the State, part of a great inland waterway which is of vital importance to our shipping and commercial development, but these are things which speak for themselves. I have dwelt upon matters not yet enough considered which I deemed it my duty to press upon your consideration, and which I shall deem it my further duty to keep before your attention until they are acted on. They involve both party and public obligations.

May I not, in closing, express the satisfaction I feel in the knowledge that when I lay down the duties of Governor I shall leave them in the hands of Senator Fielder, a man of proved character, capacity, fidelity, and devotion to the public service, a man of a type to which the people of the State desire their public men to conform. I look back with the greatest admiration to that fine group of men in the Houses whose names all the State knows and honors, who set the pace in the days when the State was to be redeemed. It is men like these who have rendered the policies and reforms of the last two years possible. It is men like these who will carry them forward, and the people of the State will sustain them. They will sustain no others. Woe betide the individuals or the party groups that turn away from that path! The future is with those who serve, and who serve without secret or selfish purpose. A free people has come to know its own mind and its own friends.

Resolved, That the privilege of the floor be extended to Hon. S. W. Lewis, former Senator from Burlington county.

Mr. Read offered the following report:

To the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

The Commission appointed by virtue of Joint Resolution No. 9, approved April 1st, 1912, to investigate the jury system of the State and to report their findings and recommendations thereon, respectfully reports as follows:

Under the practice prevailing at the present time in this State, the sheriff of each county has the power of selecting grand jurors at his discretion. Formerly the sheriff had the same discretionary power with regard to the selection of petit jurors. There is now in force, however, in this State a statute modifying the power of the sheriff with respect to the selection of petit jurors, which provides substantially that selection shall be made by the sheriff, in open court, under the supervision of the Court of Common Pleas, from among the residents of the county qualified to serve as jurors, of the names of at least twice as many persons as the court shall deem necessary to be summoned as jurors at the next ensuing term of the court; that the judge of the Court of Common Pleas shall revise said names and strike from or add the names of such qualified persons as he may deem proper to serve as jurors; that the names of such persons shall be then written upon slips of paper, deposited in a box, and the requisite number drawn therefrom in open court in the presence of the clerk and the judge; that lists of those drawn, properly certified, shall be made and filed in the offices of the county clerk and sheriff. By this legislation the power of the sheriff in the selection of petit jurors has been merely modified. It is still within the power of the sheriff, as a practical matter, to control the selection of the panel of jurors.

The practice above mentioned does not, of course, obtain in our District Court. Under a recent act of the Legislature, approved April 7th, 1910, it is made the duty of the judges of the District Court each year to make a list of not less than five hundred persons eligible to jury duty, from which the jurors must be summoned during such year. The recommendations of this Commission do not relate to the matter of selecting jurors in the District Courts.

The Commission is advised that the Legislature may, without infringing any constitutional provisions, place the power of selection of both grand and petit jurors in commissioners, to be appointed for the purpose, or in officers acting either in conjunction with or independently of the sheriffs.

In the performance of its duties of investigation, the Commission has made inquiry into the conditions prevailing in the various counties of this State and has also made investigation as to the legislation enacted upon this important subject by the Legislature of the various States of the Union and by Congress for the Federal judicial system.

1. As to the conditions prevailing in this State, the Commission, upon inquiry made of the various prosecutors, sheriffs and other officials, and of numerous members of the bar of the State, is convinced that the present method of selecting both grand and petit jurors is inadequate for the securing of proper results. This is particularly true in the larger and more densely populated counties. But even in the smaller counties at times, and particularly when matters of political interest have arisen, it has been found from experience that the power of selection vested in the sheriff has resulted either in the indictment and trial of those who should not have been indicted, or in the failure to bring to trial those who should have been indicted.

At times the judges of the Supreme Court have found it necessary in criminal cases to order struck juries selected by the court and in two noticeable instances of recent date grand jurors have been selected by elisors appointed by the court.

Aside, however, from those cases in which grand and petit jurors have been selected, who may be described as partial or biased, the present method of procedure has resulted in the selection of grand and petit jurors not altogether representative of the communities. Sheriffs have been constantly put under pressure through requests made upon them to place names upon the list of men who have been found useful in political work, and who have not been particularly well fitted for jury service. On the other hand when jurors of standing and intelligence, who are usually men of important business affairs in the communities, have been selected by the sheriffs, such men being anxious to escape jury service, have found fault with the sheriffs for so selecting them. All of this has resulted in the selection of jurors who cannot be said to be the best qualified for jury service. The prevailing method has also resulted in the selection of jurors from a relatively small portion of the community and the burden of jury service has not been equitably distributed among the citizens of the State qualified by reason of honesty and intelligence for jury service. It is very important that the present method should be abolished and that a more modern and intelligent system should be adopted.

2. As to the law elsewhere: The method of having the sheriff select grand and petit jurors, at his discretion, has been abrogated very generally throughout the United States by statute. A reading of the various acts indicates that the object of this legislation has been to equalize the burden of jury service as well as to obviate the possibility of having jurors selected with reference to particular cases to be tried. The method most commonly adopted has been the creation of a Jury Commission, composed of two or three officers, although in some jurisdictions the plan has been adopted of having jury lists made by city, township or county officials, from which lists panels of jurors are from time to time selected by lot.

Congress, legislating for the Federal courts, enacted as early as 1879 that the jury panels should be selected by a jury commissioner appointed by the court acting in conjunction with the clerk.

The Commission has attempted, through correspondence with the Attorney-Generals of the various States, and by means of an examination of the statutes of the various States made by counsel in the employ of the Commission, to ascertain the methods now in use in the various States adopted for the selection of both grand and petit jurors. The legislation in no two States is precisely the same, there being a great variety in detail as to methods employed. The greatest care has been exercised generally to secure impartiality in the selection of jurors. In three States the drawing of names from the jury box must be made by a child under the age of ten years. In another State the clerk, while drawing the names of the jurors must be blindfolded. Generally speaking, however, the plan has been to simply require the drawing by the clerk of the court or other official to be had in the presence of the jury commissioners who created the jury list, or in the presence of the judge of the court or sheriff. For the most part the method of selection of grand jurors has been made similar to that of the selection of petit jurors. The following is a summary of the legislation upon the subject:

The following States have adopted the plan of having jurors selected by commissioners who hold no other offices, or by officers holding other offices, but who are also required to act in the capacity of jury commissioners: Alabama, Arkansas, Arizona, Colorado, Connecticut (as to petit jurors, but with respect to grand jurors it is still the practice to permit the sheriff to make the selection, apparently without restriction), Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia (except as to grand juries, for which a list of one hundred to one hundred and fifty names is selected by the court and drawn by lot), Wisconsin and Wyoming (44 States in all).

(In the above list are included those States where select men of the towns or aldermen, or township officers, are entrusted with the duty of selecting the names from the jury list from which the panels of jurors for the terms of court are afterward selected by lot.)

In the following jurisdictions the jury lists are made up by the courts: California, Oregon, Tennessee.

In Pennsylvania (except Philadelphia county) commissioners are elected by popular vote.

It will be seen from the above summary that the only State in which the sheriff has unrestricted power in the matter of selecting grand jurors, aside from New Jersey, is the State of Connecticut and that in all the other jurisdictions mentioned the power of the selecting officer, in the matter of selecting petit jurors is much more guarded and restricted than is the power of the sheriff in this regard at the present time under the laws of the State of New Jersey.

In those jurisdictions in which jury commissioners are appointed, it will be found that the acts usually provide that such commissioners shall be appointed by a court; that the jury commissioners be, as they should be, required to take an oath before entering upon the discharge of their duties, obligating themselves to select, without favor, persons whom they believe to be of good repute for honesty and intelligence, such oath frequently containing the additional provision that the commissioners shall not select persons who solicit appointment as jurors, or for whom such appointment is solicited; that such commissioners shall hold office for prescribed terms and receive fixed compensation, although these matters are in some of the acts left to be determined by the courts appointing the commissioners, and in some jurisdictions the commissioners are either appointed from term to term, or hold office during the pleasure of the court; that the duties of such commissioners shall consist in the preparation of a list of all persons qualified to serve as jurors, the certification and filing of such list, and the selection of the panels of jurors from time to time from the general list by (1) the arbitrary choice of a fixed number, which number would be greatly in excess of the number required for the panel of a given term of court; and (2) by the choice of the panel from this much larger number by lot, by means of the use of a jury box containing ballots with the names of the selected jurors written thereon.

The Commission has sought to embody in the draft of an act herewith submitted the best features of the various acts in force elsewhere, relating to the method of selecting grand and petit jurors, so framed as to be adapted to our present judicial system. The provision requiring the commissioners to be selected so far as possible from opposite political parties by the judge of the Circuit Court should remove the jury system entirely from the sphere of politics. The oath prescribed should assist in raising the standard of honesty and intelligence in the jurors selected. In drafting the other provisions regarding the preparation of the lists and the drawing of the panels, this Commission has sought to devise a plan under which there would be subjected to jury service all those not made exempt by law, at the same time rendering the ultimate selection of those qualified and fitted for service a matter of lot or chance, thus insuring the choice of jurors who will be capable, honest and impartial.

Free Public Library, Newark, N. J.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, February 11th, 1913.

Hon. James F. Fielder, President of the Senate:

SIR—I hereby transmit the report of the Employers' Liability Commission, appointed by me pursuant to Chapter 241, of the Laws of 1911.

Respectfully,

WOODROW WILSON,
Governor.

STATE HOUSE, TRENTON, January 30th, 1913.

To His Excellency, Woodrow Wilson, Governor of the Commonwealth:

SIR—In compliance with the requirements of Chapter 241, of the Laws of 1911, the Employers' Liability Commission, appointed by you for the purpose of observing the operations of the Employers' Liability Act, approved May 2d, 1911, has the honor to present herewith to you, and through you to the honorable Legislature, the following report for the year of 1912.

In the report of the Commission, dated March 19th, 1912, the following statement was made:

> "The Commission has recognized from the beginning that the one weak point in the present law has been the fact that, in the last analysis, the payment of the compensation to the injured employee or to surviving beneficiaries, is dependent on the continued solvency of the employer. In view of the large percentage of employers who, at some period of their business careers, become insolvent, and the long period over which payments may be extended, this is a most serious defect. The Commission is giving careful consideration to this problem and may later recommend some additional legislation."

We have learned, in conference with other State commissions, that other States are finding this problem a most difficult one. Broadly speaking, efforts at its solution have taken two forms:

First. An effort to absolutely insure payment by a system of quasi-State insurance. The most notable examples of this method are found in recent acts of Ohio, Washington, Massachusetts and Michigan. It should be clearly understood that in none of the four acts above mentioned does the State guarantee to make good any deficit in the funds, or to assume any of the liabilities incurred to injured workmen or their dependents.

Second. An effort to insure payment by giving injured workmen, or their dependents, preference as creditors in the distribution of the assets of an insolvent employer. This is the method which is incorporated in the present law of this State. It has also been adopted by the Pennsylvania commissioners in their last tentative draft of an act which will probably be presented to the next legislature, and in the tentative draft of the "Uniform Workmen's Compensation Act prepared by the joint action of the Committee of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, the National Civic Federation, the American Bar Association and the Legislative Drafting Association."

Theoretically, some form of compulsory insurance guaranteed, or, at least, closely supervised by the State, seems to offer the most natural and definite way in which to insure payments.

There are many difficulties, however, in the practical working of all of the plans which have been suggested, and the Commission, after giving careful consideration to this subject, are of the opinion that the best interests of both employers and workmen will be served by deferring action along this line until further experience in the working of the present law has been obtained.

In this connection we should state that there has been but one instance brought to the attention of the Commission in which an injured workman or a beneficiary has failed to receive compensation on account of the insolvency of the employer.

That the law is generally satisfactory is indicated by the fact that of the 6,635 cases reported for the fiscal year ending October 30th, 1912, 94.2 per cent. occurred under the elective (second) section of the act.

Under the conditions existing prior to the enactment of the present law, it is estimated that not more than 20 per cent. of the injured workmen received any compensation, while under the present law, as shown above, over 92 per cent. received compensation. This is a great advance, and while the law is not ideal either in the amounts paid or in the absolute assurance of payment, we feel that in the long run the public interest will be best served by making haste slowly in the matter of radical amendments.

The following is a report of the accidents reported during the fiscal year, November 1st, 1911, to October 31st, 1912. We hope to prepare a more elaborate report of the year's work, after we have received final statements in reference to a great many cases which are not yet closed.

7% failed to receive compensation due.

19.5% of the cases entitled to compensation were paid in a faulty or irregular manner, which would seem to indicate the need of some supervision to insure correct payments.

NOTE.—The average amount paid, in sums commuted by courts, is $1,258.64 for each fatal case.

TEMPORARY AND PARTIAL DISABILITIES.

In this class compensation has been ordered by the court in seventy-four cases, and in sixty-nine cases the amounts were commuted.

According to the reports the total number of cases commuted by judges is eighty-nine, or sixty-seven per cent. of the cases comming before the courts.

We feel obliged to call attention to the need of some supervising control over fees allowed counsel. In one instance that has come to our knowledge, a forty per cent. counsel fee of $200 was allowed from a $500 settlement. We trust the amendment that has been prepared to meet this situation will be approved.

REPORTS FROM CASUALTY COMPANIES.

From the twenty-seven casualty insurance companies writing insurance in this State, we have received, since the passage of the law requiring them to report to us, nearly twenty-five hundred reports. Of these we have thus far traced up about two thousand, and have received reports for about sixty-four per cent.

The employers represented in the remaining thirty-six per cent. have failed to reply to our letters of inquiry, probably because most of the cases in question have not been disabilities extending over two weeks.

The figures for a limited portion of time are as follows:

|---|---|
| Insurance reports received advising of accidents, | 1,933 |
| Accident reports already received, | 1,439 |
| Being of the total, | 75% |
| Notices sent requesting reports because of advice from insurance companies, | 494 |
| Reports received because of such notice, | 296 |
| Being of the total, | 64 |
| Reports not required, | 19 |
| Notices concerning which no reply received, | 179 |
| Being of the total number of notices, | 36% |

ATTITUDE OF RAILROADS TOWARD THE LAW.

The figures cited heretofore are, in the main, exclusive of accidents occurring on railroads, of which there are one hundred and twenty-six in the State, operated or leased by forty different companies.

With one single exception, that of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, the interstate roads are paying practically no attention to the Liability Act, either in connection with transportation or in the shops.

It is significant in this connection to notice that cases, coming before the Courts of Common Pleas, of accidents occurring on railroads, are being treated by the judges the same as any other class of accidents, and they are ordering compensation.

Several of the most prominent roads make the statement that they are necessarily subject to the Interstate Commerce Commission and cannot come under the requirements of the Liability Act of any individual State.

In view of the above attitude on the part of the railroads, the accident statistics connected therewith have not been included in this report.

COMPARISONS.

In presenting the foregoing statistical report of the general operations of the Compensation Law, we desire to call attention to the conditions existing in other States where no compensation enactments have been in force, in order to compare the results under the present New Jersey Act with those prevailing under the old process of securing damages by trial and jury award. To that end we copy from various reports the following statements:

An investigation of 103 fatal accidents occurring in Erie county, N. Y., shows that 78% of the dependent families got no substantial support, the compensation ranging from 0 to $500; 37% of the above cases received nothing.

Another tabulation showed substantially the same situation; 77% received less than $500 and 45% received nothing.

Compare the above figures with the average total payments at the end of three hundred weeks under the New Jersey law, of $2,091 per case, and in commuted cases of $1,258, paid to 89% of the cases.

In the cases of the single men killed, the proportion where not even funeral expenses were paid by the employer was 38% in New York and 43% in Erie county.

Under the New Jersey law, only 14% failed to receive the burial expenses due.

In Manhattan borough an investigation of 49 fatal accidents showed that 71% of the families involved received less than $500, and in 40% of the cases nothing more than funeral expenses was secured.

A careful calculation of 164 fatal cases, where full information was obtainable, under old conditions, shows the average amount received per case was $475.

Under the operation of the Workmen's Compensation Act of this State, the dependent families receive on the average about three and one-half times as much. Another significant fact in this connection is that the payments in the various cases are in a measure uniform as to amount, while under the old conditions the amounts varied extremely.

The Pittsburg Survey, referring to the uncertainties of the jury system, states, "Their own ignorance, the long delay, the technical mysteries of the law, the fact that the witnesses are as a rule in the defendant's employ—all these facts lessen the workman's chance, even when he has a good case."

The following statement is quoted from the Wisconsin records: "In only one out of every eight accidents reported is any payment made."

With respect to permanent disabilities, either total or partial, an examination of various published reports shows that in nine out of ten no adequate recovery is secured, while the past year's reports under the present New Jersey law demonstrates the exact reverse. Nine out of ten have received compensation.

Moreover, the average amount paid under our present law, to permanent total disability cases, according to the best figures available, appears to be fifteen times greater than the average received under the old laws. At the same time, the actual cost to the employer, while necessarily higher pending the natural adjustment of insurance rates and the installation of preventative appliances, has not increased in anything like this proportion.

As mutual insurance, and other plans for minimizing accidents are put in force, this ratio of expense to the employer will still further decrease.

Practically all the outlay of the employer now reaches the injured, rather than 75% being wasted in litigation, as under the former system of combat between employer and employee.

We desire again to make recognition of the valuable assistance which has been rendered us by Mr. Nelson B. Gaskill, Assistant Attorney-General.

Based on a study of the working of the law by the Commission and on suggestions received from judges who have adjudicated cases and from others interested, we recommend the following amendments:

AN ACT to amend an act entitled "An act prescribing the liability of an employer to make compensation for injuries received by an employee in the course of employment, establishing an elective schedule of compensation, and regulating procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder," approved April fourth, one thousand nine hundred and eleven.

BE IT ENACTED by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

1. Paragraph eleven of the act referred to in the title of this act is hereby amended to read as follows:

11. Following is the schedule of compensation:

(a) For injury producing temporary disability, fifty per centum of the wages received at the time of injury, subject to a maximum compensation of ten dollars per week and a minimum of five dollars per week; provided, that if at the time of injury the employee receives wages of less than five dollars per week, then he shall receive the full amount of such wages per week. This compensation shall be paid during the period of such disability, not, however, beyond three hundred weeks.

(b) For disability total in character and permanent in quality, fifty per centum of the wages received at the time of injury, subject to a maximum compensation of ten dollars per week and a minimum of five dollars per week; provided, that if at the time of injury the employee receives wages of less than five dollars per week, then he shall receive the full amount of wages per week. This compensation shall be paid during the period of such disability, not, however, beyond four hundred weeks.

(c) For disability partial in character but permanent in quality, the compensation shall be based upon the extent of such disability. In cases included by the following schedule the compensation shall be that named in the schedule, to wit:

For the loss of a thumb, fifty per centum of daily wages during sixty weeks.

For the loss of a first finger, commonly called index finger, fifty per centum of daily wages during thirty-five weeks.

For the loss of a second finger, fifty per centum of daily wages during thirty weeks.

For the loss of a third finger, fifty per centum of daily wages during twenty weeks.

For the loss of a fourth finger, commonly called little finger, fifty per centum of daily wages during fifteen weeks.

The loss of the first phalange of the thumb, or of any finger, shall be considered to be equal to the loss of one-half of such thumb, or finger, and compensation shall be [one-half the amounts above specified.] For one-half of the periods of time above specified, and compensation for the loss of one-half of the first phalange shall be for one-fourth of the periods of time above specified.

The loss of more than one phalange shall be considered as the loss of the entire finger or thumb; providing, however, that in no case shall the amount received for more than one finger exceed the amount provided in this schedule for the loss of a hand.

For the loss of a great toe, fifty per centum of daily wages during thirty weeks.

For the loss of one of the toes other than a great toe, fifty per centum of daily wages during ten weeks.

For the loss of the first phalange of any toe shall be considered to be equal to the loss of one-half of such toe, and compensation shall be one-half of the amount above specified.

The loss of more than one phalange shall be considered as the loss of the entire toe.

For the loss of a hand, fifty per centum of daily wages during one hundred and fifty weeks.

For the loss of an arm, fifty per centum of daily wages during two hundred weeks.

For the loss of a foot, fifty per centum of daily wages during one hundred and twenty-five weeks.

For the loss of a leg, fifty per centum of daily wages during one hundred and seventy-five weeks.

For the loss of an eye, fifty per centum of daily wages during one hundred weeks.

The loss of both hands, or both arms, or both feet, or both legs, or both eyes, or of any two thereof, shall constitute total and permanent disability, to be compensated according to the provisions of clause (b).

In all other cases in this class, or where the usefulness of a member is permanently impaired, the compensation shall bear such relation to the amounts stated in the above schedule as the disabilities bear to those produced by the injuries named in the schedule. Should the employer and employee be unable to agree upon the amount of compensation to be paid in cases not covered by the schedule, the amount of compensation shall be settled according to the provisions of paragraph twenty hereof.

The amounts specified in this clause are all subject to the same limitations as to maximum and minimum as are stated in clause (a).

In case of the death of a person from any cause other than the accident, during the period of payments for permanent injury, the remaining payments shall be paid to his or her dependents, according to the provisions of paragraph 12 of this act, or, if no dependents, the remaining amount due, but not exceeding one hundred dollars, shall be paid in a lump sum to the proper person for funeral expenses.

2. Paragraph twelve of the said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

12. In case of death compensation shall be computed but not distributed on the following basis:

(1) Actual dependents.

[If orphan or orphans, a minimum of twenty-five per centum of wages of deceased, with ten per centum additional for each orphan in excess of two, with a maximum of sixty per centum.

If widow alone, twenty-five per centum of wages.

If widow and one child, forty per centum of wages.

If widow and two children, forty-five per centum of wages.

If widow and three children, fifty per centum of wages.

If widow and four children, fifty-five per centum of wages.

If widow and five children or more, sixty per centum of wages.

If widow and father or mother, fifty per centum of wages.

If grandparents, grandchildren, or minor, or incapacitated brothers or sisters, twenty-five per centum of wages.]

For one dependent, thirty-five per centum of wages.

For two dependents, forty per centum of wages.

For three dependents, forty-five per centum of wages.

For four dependents, fifty per centum of wages.

For five dependents, fifty-five per centum of wages.

For six or more dependents, sixty per centum of wages.

The term "dependents" shall apply to and include any or all of the following, who are dependent upon the deceased at the time of accident or death, namely: husband, wife, parents, step-parents, grandparents, children, stepchildren, grandchildren, post-humous children, illegitimate children, brothers, sisters, half brothers, half sisters. Legally adopted children shall, in every particular, be considered as natural children; provided, however, that dependency shall be presumed as to a widow who was living with her husband at the time of his decease, and children under the age of eighteen years; stepchildren and illegitimate children shall be presumed to be dependents when they were part of the decedent's household at the time of his death. Every provision of this act applying to one shall be equally applicable to the other.

[Compensation in case of death shall be computed on the basis of the foregoing schedule, but shall be distributed according to the laws of this State providing for the distribution of the personal property of an intestate decedent, unless decedent has in fact left a will.]

Compensation shall be computed upon the foregoing basis. Distribution shall be made among dependents, if more than one, according to the order of the judge of the Court of Common Pleas, who shall, when applied to for that purpose, determine, upon the facts being presented to him, the proportion to be paid to or on behalf of each dependent according to the relative dependency. Payment on behalf of infants shall be made to the surviving parent, if any.

(2) No dependents.

Expenses of last sickness and burial, the cost of burial, however, not to exceed [not exceeding two] one hundred dollars.

In computing compensation to orphans or other children, only those under [sixteen] eighteen years of age shall be included, and only during the period in which they are under that age, at which time payment on account of such child shall cease; provided, however, that payments to such physically or mentally deficient children as are for such reason dependent, shall continue during the full term of compensation payment.

The compensation in case of death shall be subject to a maximum compensation of ten dollars per week and a minimum of five dollars per week; provided, that if at the time of injury the employee receives wages of less than five dollars per week, then the compensation shall be the full amount of such wages per week. This compensation shall be paid during three hundred weeks.

Compensation under this schedule shall not apply to alien dependents not residents of the United States.

3. Paragraph fourteen of the said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

14. During the first two weeks after the injury the employer shall furnish reasonable medical and hospital services and medicines, as and when needed, not to exceed [one hundred] fifty dollars in value, unless the employee refuses to allow them to be furnished by the employer.

4. Insert clause to be numbered 14 (a), to read as follows:

14. (a) Compensation for all classes of injuries shall run consecutively and not concurrently, as follows: First two weeks, medical and hospital services and medicines, as provided in paragraph fourteen. After the first two weeks, compensation during temporary disability. Following both, either or none of the above, compensation consecutively for each permanent injury. Following any or all or none of the above, if death results from the accident, expenses of burial. Following which, compensation to dependents, if any. In no case shall the total number of weekly payments be more than four hundred,

5. Paragraph twenty of the said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

20. Procedure in case of dispute shall be as follows:

Either party may present a petition to said judge setting forth the names and residences of the parties and the facts relating to employment at the time of injury, the injury in its extent and character, the amount of wages received at the time of injury, the knowledge of the employer or notice of the occurrence of said injury, and such other facts as may be necessary and proper for the information of the said judge, and shall state the matter or matters in dispute and the contention of the petitioner with reference thereto. This petition shall be verified by the oath or affirmation of the petitioner. Proceedings on behalf of an infant shall be instituted and executed by a guardian, and payment, if any, shall be made to such guardian.

Upon the presentation of such petition the same shall be filed with the clerk of the Court of Common Pleas, and the judge shall by order fix a time and place for the hearing thereof, not less than three weeks after the date of the filing of said petition. A copy of said petition and order shall be served as summons in a civil action and may be served within [four] six days thereafter upon the adverse party. Within seven days after the service of such notice the adverse party shall file an answer to said petition, unless the court for good cause shall grant further time, which shall admit or deny the substantial averments of the petition, and shall state the contention of the defendant with reference to the matters in dispute as disclosed by the petition. The answer shall be verified in like manner as required for a petition. Within thirty days after the final hearing the judge of the Court of Common Pleas shall file his determination.

At the time fixed for hearing or any adjournment thereof the said judge shall hear such witnesses as may be presented by each party, and in a summary manner decide the merits of the controversy. This determination shall be filed in writing with the clerk of the Common Pleas Court, and judgment shall be entered thereon in the same manner as in causes tried in the Court of Common Pleas, and shall contain a statement of facts as determined by said judge. Subsequent proceedings thereon shall only be for the recovery of moneys thereby determined to be due, provided that nothing herein contained shall be construed as limiting the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court to review questions of law by certiorari. Costs may be awarded by said judge in his discretion, and when so awarded the same costs shall be allowed, taxed and collected as are allowed, taxed and collected for like services in the Common Pleas Court.

No agreement between the parties for a lesser sum than that which may be determined by the judge of the Court of Common Pleas to be due, shall operate as a bar to the determination of a controversy upon its merits; or to the award of a larger sum, if it shall be determined by the said judge that the amount agreed upon is less than the injured employee or his dependents are properly entitled to receive.

6. Paragraph twenty-one of this act is hereby amended to read as follows:

21. [The amounts payable periodically as compensation may be commuted to one or more lump sum payments by the judge of the Court of Common Pleas having jurisdiction as set forth in the preceding paragraph, upon the application of either party, in his discretion, provided the same be in the interest of justice. Unless so approved, no compensation payments shall be commuted.]

The compensation herein provided may be commuted by said Court of Common Pleas, at its present value when discounted at five per centum simple interest, upon application of either party, with due notice to the other, if it appear that such commutation will be for the best interest of the employee or the dependents of the deceased employee, or that it will avoid undue expense or undue hardship to either party, or that such employee or dependent has removed or is about to remove from the United States, or that the employer has sold or otherwise disposed of the greater part of his business or assets.

In determining whether the commutation asked for will be for the best interest of the employee or the dependents of the deceased employee, or that it will avoid undue expense or undue hardship to either party, the judge of the Court of Common Pleas will constantly bear in mind that it is the intention of this act that the compensation payments are in lieu of wages, and are to be received by the injured employee or his dependents in the same manner in which wages are ordinarily paid. Therefore, commutation is a departure from the normal method of payment and is to be allowed only when it clearly appears that some unusual circumstances warrant such a departure. Commutation shall not be allowed for the purpose of enabling the injured employee or the dependents of a deceased employee to satisfy a debt, or to make payment to physicians, lawyers, or any other persons.

When any proceedings have been taken under the provisions of paragraph twenty or paragraph twenty-one of this act, the judge of the Court of Common Pleas shall, as a part of his determination and order, either for payment or for commutation of payment, settle and determine the amount of compensation to be paid by the injured employee, or his dependents on behalf of whom such proceedings are instituted, to his legal adviser or advisers, and it shall be unlawful for any lawyer, or other person acting in that behalf, to ask for, contract for or receive any larger sum than the amount so fixed; and in the order determining weekly payments, where no commutation is made, the judge shall also determine the amount to be paid per week from the compensation payment on account of the legal fee thus awarded, and it shall be unlawful for the legal adviser, or other person acting in that behalf, to ask for, contract for or recieve a larger sum per week than the allowance thus determined.. Violation of the restrictions contained in this clause shall constitute contempt of court and shall be punished accordingly.

An agreement or award of compensation may be modified at any time by a subsequent agreement, or at any time after one year from the time when the same became operative it may be reviewed upon the application of either party on the ground that the incapacity of the injured employee has subsequently increased or diminished. In such case the provisions of paragraph seventeen, with reference to medical examination, shall apply.

7. Insert a new paragraph to be numbered 21 (a), to read as follows:

21. (a) At any time after the entry of the award, a sum equal to all future installments of compensation may (where death or the nature of the injury renders the amount of future payments certain) by leave of court, be paid by the employer to any savings bank, trust company or life insurance company in good standing and authorized to do business in this State and having an office in the county in which the award was entered, and such sum, together with all interest thereon, shall thereafter be held in trust for the employee or the dependents of the employee, who shall have no further recourse against the employer. The payment of such sum by the employer, evidenced by the receipt of the trustee noted upon the docket of the clerk of the court, shall operate as a satisfaction of said award as to the employer. Payments from said fund shall be made by the trustee in the same amounts and at the same times as are herein required of the employer until said fund and interest shall be exhausted. In the appointment of the trustee, preference shall be given, in the discretion of the court, to the choice of the employee or the dependents of the deceased employee. The expense of administration of such trust shall be fixed by the court and paid by the employer.

8. Paragraph twenty-three of this act is hereby amended to read as follows:

23. For the purposes of this act, willful negligence shall consist of (1) deliberate act or deliberate failure to act, or (2) such conduct as evidences reckless indifference to safety, or (3) intoxication, operating as the proximate cause of injury.

Wherever in this act the singular is used the plural shall be included; where the masculine gender is used, the feminine and neuter shall be included.

Employer is declared to be synonymous with master and includes natural persons, partnerships and corporations; employee is synonymous with servant and includes all natural persons who perform service for another for financial consideration, exclusive of casual employments.

Amputation between the elbow and the wrist shall be considered as the equivalent of the loss of a hand, and amputation between the knee and the ankle shall be considered as the equivalent of the loss of a foot.

No agreement, composition or release of damages made before the happening of any accident, except the agreement defined in section eleven of this act, shall be valid or shall bar a claim for damages for the injury resulting therefrom, and any such agreement, other than that defined in section eleven herein, is declared to be against the public policy of this State. The receipt of benefits from any association, society or fund to which the employee shall have been a contributor, shall not bar the recovery of damages by action at law or the recovery of compensation under section eleven hereof.

Where a third person or corporation is liable to the employee or his dependents for an injury or death, the existence of a right of compensation from the employer under this statute shall not operate as a bar to the action of the employee or his dependents, nor be regarded as establishing a measure of damage therein. However, in event that the employee or his dependents shall recover from the said third person or corporation a sum equivalent to or greater than the total compensation payments for which the employer is liable under this statute, the employer shall be released thereby from the obligation of compensation. If, however, the sum so recovered from the third person or corporation is less than the total of compensation payments, the employer shall be liable only for the difference. The obligation of the employer under this statute to make compensation shall continue until the payment, if any, by such third person or corporation is made. Such employer shall file with the third person or corporation so liable, at any time prior to payment, a statement of the compensation agreement or award between himself and his employee, or the dependents of the employee, and the employer shall thereafter be entitled to receive from such third person or corporation, upon the payment of any amount in release or in judgment by the third person or corporation on account of his or its liability to the injured employee or his dependents, a sum equivalent to the amount of compensation payments which the employer has theretofore paid to the injured employee or his dependents, which payments shall be deducted by thhe third person or corporation from the sum paid in release or judgment to the injured employee or his dependents.

Wherever in section eleven, of this act, the term "wages" is used, it shall be construed to mean the money rate at which the service rendered is recompensed under the contract of hiring in force at the time of the accident, and shall not include gratuities received from the employer or others, nor shall it include board, lodging or similar advantages received from the employer, unless the money value of such advantages shall have been fixed by the parties at the time of hiring. Where, prior to the accident, the rate of wages is fixed by the output of the employee, his weekly wages shall be taken to be six times his average daily earnings for a working day of ordinary length, excluding overtime. This rate of weekly wages shall be calculated by dividing the total value of the employee's output during the actual number of full working days during the preceding six months, by the number of days the workman was actually employed. All parts of this calculation shall refer to employment by the same employer.

9. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed, and this act shall take effect immediately.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM B. DICKSON,
President;

The following message was received from the Governor, by the hands of Mr. Tumulty, his Secretary:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
February 18th, 1913.

To the Legislature:

I have the pleasure of submitting to you the report of the commission of seven, appointed by the authority of the last Legislature to consider the best means to consolidate State agencies in order to bring about greater economy and efficiency.

I have reason to believe that the labors of this commission have been undertaken in a genuine spirit of public service, and I wish to commend their report and its conclusions to your very thoughtful consideration, for I am sure they are worthy of it.

The continuation of the commission with authority to complete its work would, I feel sure, be of great advantage to the State.

Respectfully,

WOODROW WILSON,
Governor.

To the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

At the last session the Legislature, by joint resolution, provided for the appointment of a Commission of seven to consider the best means to consolidate State agencies. The undersigned were duly appointed, and respectfully submit the following preliminary report:

The preamble of the resolution providing for the appointment of your Commission is as follows:

> "WHEREAS, In the interest of economy and greater concentration of work along the same general lines it is considered possible to consolidate different departments of the State government whose separate duties are now intimately related."

Because of this recital of the views of the Legislature, your Commission concluded that the results at which it should aim were economy and efficiency. At its first meeting it therefore adopted the name "The Economy and Efficiency Commission of the State of New Jersey." The first meeting was held on the 5th of July, 1912, since which time the Commission has been continuously engaged.

Our early investigations convinced us that there was no one State official who thoroughly understood the powers and duties of the many departments, boards, commissions and officials. The Commission, therefore, decided to first make a general study of the methods and agencies employed to administer the affairs of the State, and to make a comparison of such methods and agencies with those of other States.

A secretary was employed who collected and tabulated data about each State agency and amounts disbursed for salaries and other expenses. We communicated with the Executives and Chiefs of the departments of many States, including New York, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Iowa, Michigan, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Nebraska and Colorado. We secured from such and other States reports of the various departments and institutions showing the scope of their work and all operating expenses. We also conferred with the National Economy and Efficiency Commission and secured from it periodical reports showing what it was doing in its endeavor to systematize the administration of Federal affairs. We made a study of the work of a similar and permanent Commission in the State of Massachusetts; of the conditions which brought about the appointment of such a Commission; of the inquiries which it made into the administration of State affairs, and of the results so far accomplished by it. We found that, in many States, Economy and Efficiency are the subjects of discussion, and various laws dealing with such subjects have recently been enacted. We have obtained copies of such laws, also of charts and schedules of supplies prepared in different sections of the country, for the purpose of bringing about reform in their purchase and distribution.

We have prepared comparative statements between this and other States, and the comparisions tend to show that we cannot at the present time boast of either economy or efficiency. A few comparisons will make this clear, viz.: Michigan, whose population exceeds that of this State by 10 per cent., maintains its chief State departments for approximately one-half the amount expended by us; Massachusetts, whose population exceeds that of this State by almost one million, maintains very many of its offices for less money.

From every State department we have secured information in writing setting forth those engaged in it, and salaries paid to them, the expense of maintenance, and the amount of space occupied by each in the State House. A comparison of the employees and of the floor space occupied by them in our State House with the Capitol in Massachusetts is instructive. In the State House in Boston more business is transacted with fewer employees and with less available floor space.

Comparisons were also made with business establishments conducted on modern lines, and the same did not reflect any credit upon the methods and practices employed by the State in the transaction of its business. It is true that we have a Civil Service Law, and that serious attempts have been made to secure efficient assistants and to make their holding of their respective positions entirely dependent upon merit. We do not find, however, that any attempt has been made at standardization. It is not unnatural to find two persons in different departments performing practically the same amount of work and charged with practically the same responsibility receiving entirely different salaries.

In addition to the written information which we received from the various departments, we critically examined the various reports submitted by the State Treasurer and the State Comptroller and we made preliminary oral inquries from very many departments, including the State Board of Assessors, the Board of Equalization of Taxes, the County Tax Boards, the Department of Charities and Corrections, the Department of Roads, the Riparian Commission, the Board of Fish and Game Commissioners, the Bureau of Shell Fisheries, the four oyster commissions, the Oyster Superintendents, the Board of Health, the Department of Labor, the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the Employers' Liability Commission, the Tenement House Supervision, the Water-Supply Commission, the New Jersey Ship Canal Commission, the Inland Waterway Commission, the Inspector of Power Vessels, the Pilotage Commission, the Board of Public Utilities, the Department of State, the Department of the Comptroller and the Department of the Treasurer.

On the payrolls of the State are 2,553 employees. Of this number, 800 are attached to departments in the Capitol, 1,420 are employed in the various penal and charitable institutions, and 333 are engaged in work outside of the Capitol and institutions. Not only do we find that there was no system ever adopted in fixing the compensation of the clerical help, but we also find that there has never been any system adopted for determining what salaries should be paid to the chief State officials. The heads of some departments receive very much more than others, and to some departments as compared with others, a very liberal allowance of office space has been made.

Such investigation, though along general lines, took considerable time, far more than the Commission originally believed would be necessary to fully acquaint it with the administration of State affairs, and to place it in a position to contrast our system and expenses with those of other States. Such preliminary and general study convinced us that to do in a thorough manner what the Legislature desired, and thereby prove that we, ourselves were efficient, would require time and labor far in excess of what anyone anticipated. Every hearing opened new fields and presented additional work, at the same time convincing us that the disbursements made by the State in the conduct of its affairs were greater than they should be, and greater than in many States with about the same population and similar problems.

Many general recommendations might have been made, but we assumed that to do our work efficiently, specific, rather than general recommendations were necessary, and that it would not suffice to merely make specific recommendations, but that the same should be accompanied with a brief statement of the facts setting forth why, in our opinion, the changes which we propose would result in economy and efficiency.

The Commission, therefore, employed expert economy and efficiency engineers who studied the administration of the State's affairs and the different departments, boards, commissions and offices. They prepared for the Commission one chart graphically illustrating the present State Government, and its various ramifications. They also prepared another chart setting forth their views as to the various elements and consolidations which should be made to place the administration of our affairs upon an economical and, at the same time, an efficient basis. Both of such charts are submitted herewith.

We concluded before effecting the eliminations and consolidations which to us seemed proper, and which were advised by the engineers, it would be only fair and just to make a detailed examination of the departments, and to obtain accurate information as to the nature of work which each was doing, the number of persons employed, and the amount of time actually devoted by them to the affairs of the State.

We, therefore, engaged counsel to examine under oath the chief officials in the various departments, and we now submit specific reports covering the various departments which have been examined, and with regard to which we are now prepared to make definite recommendations.

Many other departments and officials have been before us, but we are not ready at this time to submit final conclusions.

We are not criticising the work of the past, as most naturally, through the evolutions of time, many departments and changes would receive legislative approval, and good reasons in themselves could be advanced therefor, but all these changes taken together and summarized form the unbusinesslike condition we now, by careful inquiry and investigation, discover.

The State Board of Assessors and the Board of Equalization of Taxes of New Jersey.

The State Board of Assessors consists of four members, one of whom is annually appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, for a term of four years from the first Monday in May. The salary of each is $2,500 per annum.

The duties of the assessors in brief are:

First—To assess at its true value all property, including franchises of railroad and canal companies used for railroad or canal purposes.

Second—To ascertain the amount of taxes due from corporations which are taxed upon the amount of capital stock issued and outstanding and to determine claims for exemption made on the ground that more than fifty per cent. of the outstanding capital stock is invested in mining or manufacturing within the State.

Third—To receive from local assessors a statement of the value of property in or upon highways, belonging to street railroad corporations, to receive from such corporations an annual statement, to fix an annual franchise tax upon the gross receipts and to apportion the tax among the various taxing districts in which the corporations are operating their street railways.

Fourth—To receive reports from telegraph, telephone, cable, express, gas, electric light, oil pipe lines, insurance and parlor, palace or sleeping car companies and to compute a franchise tax upon their gross receipts.

The Board of Assessors has a staff of fifteen, divided into a clerical department and an engineering department. The clerical department consists of a secretary, an assistant secretary and five clerks. The engineering department has a chief engineer, two assistant engineers, a field assistant, a draftsman, a computer and two clerks. The pay roll is between $36,000 and $37,000.

The work of computing the tax upon miscellaneous corporations, whether based upon the amount of capital stock issued and outstanding or upon gross receipts, is performed by the staff rather than by the assessors themselves. Where, however, exemptions are claimed, it then becomes the duty of the assessors to determine whether the claim is well founded. In this work, however, they receive assistance, usually from temporary employees, who visit the plant of the corporation which claims the exemption, examine same and submit a report to the Board. If the action of the Board is adverse to the claim for exemption, the corporation may demand a hearing.

With regard to the assessment of the property of railroad and canal companies, used for railroad or canal purposes, it is made the duty of each company to submit a report annually during the month of May. Such reports do not contain a detailed statement of all property, but do set forth the specific changes and additions made during the preceding year.

In 1909 the State determined to have made a true and complete inventory and revaluation of all railroad and canal property in the State. An expert was engaged for that purpose. His appraisal was $374,760,425. The Board studied his appraisal and determined that his figures with regard to the land values should be increased.

The revaluation was first used in making the preliminary assessment for 1911. That preliminary or tentative assessment was $384,547,232.

It is made the duty of the State Board of Assessors on or before the first day of November in each year, to value and assess the property of railroad and canal companies, and it is also made their duty to meet on the third Monday of November at the State House in Trenton for the purpose of reviewing their assessment and hearing corporations which claim to be aggrieved. They are directed to conclude their hearings and to certify to the Comptroller by the 15th of January all corrections which they may make in their assessments.

Many written complaints were filed with regard to the 1911 assessment, as a result of which the Board, instead of certifying its final assessment to the Comptroller by the 15th of January, 1912, was unable to do so until the 21st day of October, 1912.

The final assessment upon the railroads was fixed at $324,541,117, a reduction from the preliminary assessment of $60,006,115, but an increase over that of 1910 of $37,967,664.

The railroads, with the exception of the Long Dock Company, which is part of the Erie Railroad system, and the Hoboken Warehouse and Steamship Connecting Company, acquiesced in the assessment for 1911 as finally made. In making that assessment a rule for determining the value of the franchise of each company was used, to which rule we understand the railroads have also agreed.

On or before May, 1912, the railroads filed with the State Board of Assessors a statement showing conditions on the 1st of January, 1912. That statement was examined by the Staff of the Assessors, and all changes in railroads made during the year were examined by the Engineering Department. No one of the Assessors is an expert upon the values of the different elements which go to make up a complete railroad or canal system. The Chief of the Engineering Staff is viewed as such an expert, and in him the Board has the utmost confidence. In accordance with the statute, the Assessors made a preliminary assessment after they received the report of their engineers and assistants. Such preliminary assessement was completed by November 1st, 1912, and certified to the Comptroller. The preliminary assessment was $338,741,092. This assessment, we believe, was made up by assuming that the franchises were of the same value as set forth in the 1911 assessment, and by the Engineering Staff checking over all the changes and new work which were not included in the 1911 assessment. All of the railroads, with the exception of the Long Dock Company and the Hoboken Railroad Warehouse and Steamship Connecting Company, acquiesced in the 1912 assessment, and the Assessors certified their final assessment to the Comptroller on the 21st of January, 1913. The amount was $327,647,993, a reduction of $11,093,099. The 1912 assessment has, therefore, been completed, and the work of the State Board of Assessors from now until next November will include little or nothing that could not be disposed of by their clerical and engineering force, excepting that in July of each year the Board must give a hearing to companies if they desire to be heard about the valuation and assessment of their property. Assuming that the 1911 assessment was based upon the full value of the property of the railroad and canal companies used for railroad and canal purposes, the work of ascertaining the 1913 assessment and the assessment for subsequent years will be as it was for 1912, very largely a matter for expert engineers.

The Secretary of the Board testified under oath as follows:

> "Q. Now, for the 1912 taxes; in view of the revaluation in 1911, the State Board of Assessors had practically no work to do other than directing your clerical department and your engineering department?
> "A. Broadly speaking, that is correct."

The President of the Board testified under oath:

> "Q. And for 1912, and for future years, the duty of the State Board of Assessors will be to consider the assessing of new property and the natural increase of its valuation?

"A. Yes, sir; except for the fact that each year now various buildings are being torn down, and from five to eight millions worth of stock is used in the reconstruction."

He also testified:

"As to the physical value of a piece of property, I am absolutely satisfied and convinced by the judgment of the engineering department. I feel that way because of the result of four years' work beside me, and I have tested his accuracy and am absolutely certain of it."

In our opinion, while the State Board of Assessors or some of its members may examine reports which are filed by railroad and canal companies and by miscellaneous corporations, and may, from time to time, give instructions to its staff, the only work which they perform which cannot be performed by their engineers and assistants, is that of hearing the complaints of miscellaneous corporations claiming exemption and the complaints of railroad or canal companies that they have been over-assessed.

From the testimony, it seems clear that the clerical and engineering forces are competent and efficient. It also seems clear that the real work of the State Board of Assessors is that of hearing appeals or complaints and determining whether there is any merit in them.

Owing to the revaluation, the members of the Board were compelled to devote very much time during 1912 to hearing the complaints of railroads that insisted that the 1911 assessment was excessive. We do not believe, however, that for subsequent years the work of the Board will be any more arduous than it was for the 1912 assessment.

In 1905 the Legislature abolished the State Board of Taxation and created a board for the equalization, revision, review and enforcement of taxation, to be known as "The Board of Equalization of Taxes of New Jersey." The Board consists of a president, who must be a counsellor-at-law, and who receives an annual salary of $5,000, and four associate members, each of whom receives a salary of $3,500. The term of office is five years, and the Governor annually appoints a member of the Board by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. The Board employs a clerk, an assistant clerk, and usually two stenographers. The salaries of the Commissioners aggregate $19,000, and that of their assistants $5,900.

We have examined the law, the secretary of the Board and several of its members. Aside from advice which the Board is authorized to give, we do not find that it has any substantial work other than the hearing of appeals from property owners who complain of their assessments. Where complaint is made on or before the 1st of April following the assessment of property, the Board is authorized to review and correct the action of the local assessors or other taxing officers and of all Boards of Tax Review. The Board, therefore, hears appeals not only from the decisions of the County Boards of Taxation, but also appeals of citizens who have not submitted their complaints to such county boards. The bulk of the work of the Board is done from the middle of April to about the 1st of August. Decisions are usually reached immediately after the hearing. Should an opinion be deemed necessary, the same is prepared by the president.

Very many of the appeals are taken by property owners who feel aggrieved because they are assessed on a higher basis than some of their neighbors. If, however, the assessment does not exceed the full value of the property, the Board has no authority to reduce it so as to equalize assessments in a district. It has authority, if complaint is made to it that anyone is under-assessed, to raise his assessment.

Such complaints are rarely, if ever, made. The Board is without authority to order a reassessment in an entire district, and as one of the members frankly admitted, it seems to be a misnomer to call it a Board for the Equalization of Taxes. The only real authority which the Board has where an appeal is taken to it is to reduce the assessment to the true value where it finds it in excess thereof.

We have made some study of our tax laws. We are not prepared at the present time to express any opinion upon their wisdom or upon the efficiency of any of the various State and local instrumentalities for their administration. We have given careful study to the State Board of Taxation and to the Board of Equalization of Taxes, and we find two State Boards performing services which consist chiefly in the hearing of grievances, which services, in our opinion, could readily be performed by one Board.

The State Board of Assessors has little but routine work except from about the middle of November to the middle of January. The State Board of Equalization of Taxes has but little work except between the middle of April and the first of August.

The consolidation of the two would, therefore, not result in any delay in the performance of the duties now reposed in each.

With the engineering and clerical staff now employed by the State Board of Assessors, and with the clerical staff now employed by the State Board of Equalization of Taxes, one Board, in our opinion, can readily perform all the duties of both and still not be employed more than half its time. What is more, if the Boards are consolidated, we believe that the clerical force of each can be reorganized.

In view of the fact that the Commission to investigate present methods of making assessments for taxes has submitted a report to the effect that only one Board is necessary, we refrain at the present time from making any recommendation other than that the State Board of Assessors and the Board of Equalization of Taxes of New Jersey be consolidated.

State Agencies for the Preservation of Game and Fish, Including Shellfish.

In 1846 a law was enacted for the preservation of clams and oysters. From time to time various amendatory and supplemental acts were passed providing for the regulation of the shellfish industry and the prosecution and punishment of those who violated their provisions. These acts prescribed no effective plan for the registration of deeds or leases, and the title of but few engaged in the industry was free from doubt. In 1899, to remedy such conditions, a law applicable to Delaware bay and Delaware river and the Maurice river cove was enacted. By it a State Oyster Commission of three was created. The members of the Commission are appointed by the Governor. To the Commission power to appoint an Oyster Superintendent was given. The Commission was directed to lease certain lands of the State under the tidal waters of the Delaware bay and the Maurice river cove, and to have the same surveyed and the bounds of each leasehold fixed. The Superintendent was directed to issue licenses to the captains of boats engaged in the oyster industry. A minimum rent per acre for leaseholds was prescribed, as was also a maximum license fee for vessels engaged in the industry. To the Superintendent, the members of the Commission and the captains of the guard boats engaged by them to protect the rights of the lessees, power to arrest oyster pirates without warrant was conferred.

In 1905 the provisions of the act were extended to certain lands under Raritan bay, the Commission was increased from three to four, and authority was given to it to increase the salary of the Oyster Superintendent to a sum not exceeding thirteen hundred (1,300) dollars. Such sum is now the salary of the Superintendent, while to each member of the Commission is paid an annual salary of five hundred (500) dollars. So far as we can ascertain, the reason why the Commission was increased from three to four was so that the fourth man would be selected from the Raritan bay district. No man from that district is now a member. In fact, a visit by the Superintendent or any member of the Commission necessitates a day's railroad travel. The result is that the Superintendent makes but one visit a year, so that so far as Raritan bay is concerned, the Commission and the Superintendent pay practically no attention to it, and they very frankly declare that they have no desire to have it under their charge. The Commission, while designated a State Oyster Commission, is such only in name. It does not take, and we believe never has taken any interest in any district outside of Delaware bay. In fact, each of the Oyster Commissions hereinafter referred to pursues the same policy. Their members interest themselves solely in their own districts, and take no more interest in any other district in the State than they do in districts in other States.

In 1902 an Ocean County Oyster Commission of three was created, and the annual salary of each was fixed at two hundred and fifty (250) dollars. An Ocean County Oyster Superintendent was also provided for at an annual salary of one thousand (1,000) dollars. The Superintendent and the members of the Commission are appointel by the Governor.

In 1903 the Legislature created the Bureau of Shell Fisheries. The act provided for a chief, to be appointed by the Governor, at an annual salary of twelve hundred (1,200) dollars. It was made the duty of the various State oyster agencies to transmit data to the Bureau, and of the chief of the Bureau to compile such data, to secure and keep on file the laws of other States, and annually to report to the Governor. In short, the Legislature provided for the establishment of a statistical Oyster Bureau. Since its establishment the salary of the chief has been increased to eighteen hundred (1,800) dollars per year.

In 1905 the Legislature created the Shark River oyster and clam district in the county of Monmouth. A Commission of one, to be appointed by the Governor, was created. His compensation was fixed at one-half the gross receipts from the oyster and clam grounds.

In 1905 an Atlantic County Oyster Commission of three was created. The salary of each Commissioner was fixed at five hundred (500) dollars for the first year and three hundred (300) dollars for each succeeding year. The office of Superintendent was also created at a salary of one thousand (1,000) dollars. The Superintendent and Commissioners are appointed by the Governor.

The following offices in reference to the oyster industry have been created since 1898 and now exist:

| Office. | Annual Salary. |
|---|---|
| Chief of the Bureau of Shell Fisheries, | $1,800 00 |
| Clerk in the Bureau of Shell Fisheries, | 60 00 |
| Four New Jersey State Commissioners, at $500 each, | 2,000 00 |
| One New Jersey State Superintendent, | 1,300 00 |
| One Secretary for State Commission, | 300 00 |
| Three Ocean County Commissioners, at $250 each, | 750 00 |
| One Ocean County Superintendent, | 1,000 00 |
| Three Atlantic County Commissioners, at $300 each, | 900 00 |
| One Atlantic County Superintendent, | 1,000 00 |
| One Shark River District Commissioner, | 117 00 |
| Total, | $9,767 00 |

There is a separate act of the Legislature for each of the following:

The Bureau of Shell Fisheries,
The New Jersey State Commission,
The Atlantic County Commission,
The Ocean County Commission,
The Shark River Commissioner.

Each has its own separate powers, duties and policy, and no kind of uniformity exists.

In addition to the above, there are watchmen, guards and crews for boats.

One would naturally expect that since 1898 the oyster industry would show marked improvement. The most recent statistical bulletin issued by the Bureau of Fisheries of the U. S. Department of Commerce and Labor gives the value of the oyster product of the State for the following years: 1880, 1887, 1888, 1889, 1890, 1891, 1892, 1897, 1898, 1901, 1904, 1908 and 1911. The average for the above years, prior to 1899 is about two hundred thousand (200,000) dollars greater than the average for the above years subsequent thereto. The highest value given was for 1887—$2,270,011. The lowest is for 1911, $1,244,615, while the next lowest was in 1908, $1,368,500.

The testimony of the witnesses who were examined was to the effect that no substantial change has occurred, though some intimated that whatever change had occurred was not for the better.

Aside from the fact that titles to oyster beds can now be more readily ascertained, and that the guards and watchmen, to some extent, have perhaps kept down piracy, it is doubtful if any material benefit has accrued to the State from the creation of the above seventeen offices. Some of the occupants of such offices, with the exception of the Delaware Bay Superintendent and the clerk in the Bureau of Shell Fisheries devotes his entire time to his State duties.

The chief of the Bureau of Shell Fisheries receives an annual salary of $1,800, devoting a portion of his time to his office. The statistics received at his office, and his office is almost wholly a statistical one, are compiled in part by his clerk, who receives but $600 a year.

The Delaware Bay Superintendent devotes his entire time to his office, and receives $1,300 per year.

The Superintendents of Ocean and Atlantic Counties devote but a portion of their time to their duties, and each receives $1,000 a year.

No one of the eleven commissioners devotes, nor is any one of them expected to devote, more than a part of his time to his duties. Each receives but a small salary, and each devotes the greater part of his time to the oyster industry in which all are engaged. Apart from the small salary paid by the State, it is to the interest of each commissioner to improve the oyster industry from which he makes a living.

In 1870 the Legislature created a commission for the better protection of the fishing interest of the State of New Jersey. The reason for the creation of such commission was expressed in the preamble of the act which reads as follows:

> "Whereas, both the marine and inland fisheries of this State are known to have deteriorated, and thus a vast amount of food-supply for the people has been greatly reduced by causes which seem to be under the control of the Legislature and that the present yield of fish, both from the sale and fresh waters, might be largely increased by proper measures of protection."

In 1894 a supplement was enacted authorizing the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate to appoint four competent persons to act as Commissioners of Fisheries, to hold office for five years; provided that not more than two should be members of the same political party. The Commissioners were directed to appoint not more than two fish wardens for each and every county of the State.

In 1895 the Legislature enacted that the Commissioners of Fisheries and their successors should thereafter be known and designated as "The Board of Fish and Game Commissioners." To them was given authority to appoint twenty-five (25) fish and game wardens, which authority they still have and exercise.

In 1907 the terms of office of the Commissioners were terminated by an act of the Legislature, and the Governor was empowered to appoint four Commissioners, one for one year, one for two years, one for three years, one for four years, and annually thereafter one for four years.

The Fish and Game Commissioners receive no salary. Some of them devote a great part of their time to their official duties, and earnestly endeavor to promote the fish industry of the State and to protect all kinds of game.

The Fish and Game Commissioners have wardens in the counties bordering on the Atlantic ocean and Delaware bay. They have issued permits for about 150 nets and they maintain six boats for the protection of fish. All the State boats in the ocean and bay, whether engaged in watching the oyster beds or in the protection of fish, should, from a business standpoint, be under the same management, so that, if possible, duplication of boats over the same courses may be avoided. The fish and game wardens and the oyster watchmen and guards should also be under the same management so that duplication of work may be avoided and unnecessary positions terminated. Some experimental work is being done by the Fish and Game Commissioners, and also by those representing the State in the oyster industry. There seems to be no good reason why all experimental work should not be under one management.

The Board of Fish and Game Commissioners has an office in charge of a secretary who is assisted by three stenographers. This office, especially with the aid of the clerk of the Bureau of Shell Fisheries, can readily receive and tabulate all statistics about shellfish.

In our opinion, the Bureau of Shell Fisheries should be abolished, as should also the New Jersey State Oyster Commission, Ocean County Commission, the Atlantic County Commission, and the Shark River Commission. The Board of Fish and Game Commissioners should succeed to all their powers and duties.

The Board of Fish and Game Commissioners should be increased from four to eight, no more than four to belong to the same political party, and at least four to be men familiar with the oyster industry. The Board is now on an efficient basis. It has closely studied the needs not only of the present day but of the future. Some such study is urgently required if it is the desire of the State that the oyster industry should be improved.

The present State system for the preservation and improvement of the oyster industry is most inefficient, and since its establishment the industry has not improved, but has rather declined.

We therefore recommend—

(1) That the following offices be abolished:

(a) Chief of the Bureau of Shell Fisheries,
(b) New Jersey State Oyster Commission,
(c) Ocean County Commission,
(d) Ocean County Superintendent,
(e) Atlantic County Commission,
(f) Atlantic County Superintendent,
(g) Shark River Commission.

(2) That the Board of Fish and Game Commissioners to be known, however, as the Bureau of Game and Fisheries, succeed to the powers and duties of such chief, commissions and superintendents.

(3) That the Board of Fish and Game Commissioners be reorganized under the name "Bureau of Game and Fisheries," and so that the oyster industry may be represented thereon.

(4) That the Bureau of Game and Fisheries shall meet in the State House, Trenton, once a month and at such other times and places as it may deem advisable and that all its meetings shall be open to the public.

(5) That the terms of office of the members of the Board of Fish and Game Commissioners shall terminate on the first day of April, 1913; that the Board be increased to eight; that the Governor be authorized, with the advice and consent of the Senate, to appoint two for one year, from April 1st, 1913, two for two years, two for three years, two for four years, and annually thereafter two for four years; that not more than four shall be members of the same political party, and that four shall be men engaged in the industry of planting and shipping oysters.

(6) The Bureau should be authorized and directed to select one of their own number or some one else to act as Chief of the Bureau; to fix his salary at not exceeding $3,000 a year and, subject to its control and advice, to have general charge and supervision of its work.

The adoption of such recommendations will, we believe, place the fish, game and oyster industry on an efficient basis and ultimately lead to more uniform laws. Their adoption will bring to an end numerous petty public offices which have served but little, if any, useful purpose, and will result in an immediate annual saving to the State of from $7,000 to $8,000.

We have little doubt but that the Board of Fish and Game Commissioners will be able to reorganize the force now under it, and the force now engaged in the preservation of the oyster industry so that the latter instead of deteriorating, will greatly improve, and so that unnecessary duplication of work will come to an end.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR, BUREAU OF LABOR STATISTICS AND EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY COMMISSION.

In 1878 the Legislature resolved that:

> "WHEREAS, As guardians of the public welfare, the State authorities are called upon to consider and in all legitimate ways endeavor to improve the physical, mental and moral conditions of the citizens of the State, especially those whose daily toil contributes so largely to the prosperity of manufacturing and other productive industries; therefore," a Bureau of Statistics should be created, the Chief of which should be appointed by the Governor, subject to the confirmation of the Senate. The salary of the Chief was fixed at $2,500 per annum. At the present time the Bureau consists of a Chief, a Deputy Chief, three clerks and a stenographer. The total annual salary list is $9,460. The reasons for the creation of the department were chiefly to improve the conditions of those employed in the various industries in the State.

In 1904, however, a law consisting of 46 sections was enacted, regulating the age, employment, safety, health and working hours of help in factories. A department for the enforcement of the provisions of the law was established, consisting of a Commissioner to be appointed by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate; an Assistant Commissioner, eleven (11) inspectors, and such clerical help as the Commission should deem necessary. Since then the department has grown, and its duties have largely increased. It now comprises a Commissioner, an Assistant Commissioner, a structural iron expert, an expert assistant, twenty-two (22) inspectors and an office force. It is now the real department of the State charged with the enforcement of laws designed to improve the conditions of those employed in our various industries. It is charged with the enforcement of the law relating to protection against fire, panics, machinery and exposed elevators in factories and to their sanitation and ventilation.

It is also charged with the enforcement of the laws relating to the payment of wages, to the employment of children, to the employment of women, to bake shops, and to confectionery establishments. In short, it is the department entrusted by the Legislature with the execution of the laws which have been enacted to promote the health, safety and welfare of those employed in our industries.

The department has been charged with the enforcement of the laws designed to bring about the results set forth in the preamble to the law organizing the Bureau of Labor Statistics. That Bureau is now devoted almost entirely to gathering industrial statistics, compiling them, and disseminating information in various ways in regard to the condition of labor and the industries of the State.

During the past fifteen years the present Deputy has had most of the practical management of the office, the planning of its investigations and the devising of ways and means to conduct them. Much useful work has been done. The Bureau, however, frequently seeks to ascertain about the various industries, the very information which the Department of Labor requires. At times the two have not worked in entire harmony and occasional friction has resulted, which is not unnatural when two departments overlap. The Bureau is not equipped to verify the information submitted to it. The Department of Labor can do so. Every factory in the State is visited at least once a year by one of its inspectors. We believe, therefore, that the Bureau of Statistics as such should be discontinued; that the position of Chief of the Bureau should be abolished; that the staff of the Bureau be merged in the Department of Labor and that such department succeed to all the powers and duties of the Bureau.

In 1911 the Legislature passed an Employers' Liability Act and created an Employers' Liability Commission of six to serve without compensation. It was made the duty of the Commission "to observe in detail, so far as possible, the operations throughout the State of the recent act of the Legislature, commonly known as 'The Employers' Liability Act,'" and to report to the Legislature annually the operations of the act, and its recommendations, if any.

To place the Commission in possession of facts to enable it to make a report, it was made the duty of every employer of labor to report to the Commission "upon the occurrence of any injury to any of his employes, the name and nationality of the employe so injured, the nature and extent of such injury, whether said injured employe and the employer at the time of said injury were subject to the provisions of section one or section two of said act, and the amount of compensation, when determined, together with such other facts relating to such injury as the Commission may request."

At the time the Commission was created, the act of 1904, requiring that accident should be reported to the Department of Labor, was in force. The result of the law of 1911 was that employers were required to report accidents to the Department of Labor and to the Employers' Liability Commission. At the same time the Bureau of Statistics might have called upon employers for similar information.

In 1912 a law was enacted prescribing that accidents should be reported to the Commissioner of Labor, and providing that reports filed under it should be in lieu of all reports required by the act creating the Employers' Liability Commission. It was but logical that the reports should be filed with the Department of Labor, as it is equipped to make an immediate investigation as to the causes of the accidents, to determine whether in whole or in part they resulted from a violation of law or orders of the Department, and to ascertain whether a repetition might be prevented by a closer interpretation of existing labor law, or whether further legislation was desirable.

The clerical staff of the Employers' Liability Commission, consisting of a Secretary and two, and at times three, stenographers, is now in the office of the Commission of Labor. It should stay there, not, however, as an independent department, but under the practical direction of the Department of Labor. If it is placed under the control of the Commissioner, the work can be better directed and more efficient results accomplished. It is really occupying that position now, but without legislative authority. What is more, employers throughout the State are entitled to consideration, and it is hardly fair to them that they should be called upon for information and be subject to inspection and criticism along the same lines by many different departments. Such procedure is not conducive to hearty co-operation on the part of employers, and it does not promote harmony, but is far more likely to create friction among the different State Departments pursuing the same subjects. As it is now, even though the reports about accidents must be filed with the Department of Labor, rather than with it and the Employers' Liability Commission, there is nothing to prevent the Bureau of Statistics calling for similar information, so that it, too, may study the subject and issue mongraphs upon it, and, therefore, it is very confusing. Neither is there anything to prevent all three bodies from investigating accidents. If more than one State body is necessary for a particular subject, who can say how many there should be? Once such a principle is admitted, it might plausibly be argued that there should be a State Department for each particular industry, so that instead of one Department of Labor we might have a hundred with a resulting multiplication of salaried State officials. The Employers' Liability Commission have performed a most useful function in preparing and promulgating the Act of 1911, and as a body of investigation and observation, can well be continued, but the actual control of the details of enforcing the act and advising employers and employes should be absolutely under the control of the Commissioner of Labor.

In our opinion, there should be but one State body charged with control over a particular subject. The Department of Labor should be such in fact, and upon it should be placed the duty, not only of enforcing all laws for the betterment of labor, but also of collecting and tabulating all data in reference thereto, and to our industries. The two are so closely related, that, in our opinion, they should not be separated, and especially is this so when we find that the departments to collect information are not equipped to verify the reports which they receive, while the Department of Labor is so equipped.

We, therefore, recommend:

(1) That the position of Chief of the Bureau of Labor Statistics be terminated.

(2) That the Employers' Liability Commission be continued to watch the operation of the Act of 1911 in an advisory capacity, and to annually report any recommendations for Legislative enactment.

(3) That the Department of Labor succeed to all the powers and duties of the Bureau of Statistics of Labor and Industries and of administering State functions provided by the Employers' Liability Act and supplements thereto.

This merger with the Department of Labor will undoubtedly render unnecessary some, if not a substantial part of the help now employed by them, as well as the incidental expenses necessary for the maintenance of separate departments. The total cost of the two last year was $16,156.33.

Office of the Comptroller of the Treasury and the Department of Accounts.

In the Constitution it is provided that "the State Treasurer and Comptroller shall be appointed by the Senate and General Assembly, in joint meeting." Before entering upon the performance of the duties of his office, the Comptroller must take an oath that he will not allow any claim, charge or account against the State unless satisfied that it is justly due, and he must also furnish a bond in the sum of $50,000, conditioned for the faithful performance of his official duties.

Such duties have been defined by the Legislature. They are, in part, as follows:

> "That it shall be the duty of the Comptroller to examine, audit, adjust and settle all accounts due to or presented against the State, and certify the amount adjusted or allowed to the Treasurer for receipt or payment, and that in the performance of this duty he shall be, and is hereby authorized and required to administer an oath or affirmation to the person or party presenting such account, or to any witness presented on behalf of said person or party, or presented by himself or the Attorney-General on behalf of the State and to examine the same, as to the truth, fairness, correctness and justice of said accounts, and the said Comptroller shall keep a record or registry of all accounts so audited, adjusted, allowed and certified, and the time when the same was done."

By Chapter 305 of the Laws of 1908, the Legislature established a Department of Accounts, and directed that the same should be in charge of a chief, whose title should be "Auditor of Accounts." It was made his duty to establish a uniform system of bookkeeping to be adopted, so far as practicable, in all departments and institutions of the State, to thoroughly examine and audit all accounts of the State departments and institutions at least twice a year and to verify and audit the reports of all county and State officials charged with the collection of moneys for the State.

The Auditor of Accounts has prepared a uniform system of bookkeeping for the State departments and institutions, but the same is not used in all, because there is no law compelling such use.

With regard to the examination and audit of all accounts of State departments and institutions, as well as of State or county officials charged with the collection of State moneys, it would seem as though such work is substantially a duplication of the work now imposed by the statute upon the Comptroller and now performed by his office.

Before bills incurred by any department or institution can be paid, they must be submitted to the Comptroller. It is his duty to examine them, and he has testified that his department makes such an examination. If they are found correct, they are certified for payment to the Treasurer. The examination and audit of the Comptroller is made before payment, while that of the State Auditor is made after payment. Both really cover the same ground, and the work of the Auditor is in effect an audit of the audit of the Comptroller.

With regard to moneys due to the State, all returns are examined by the Comptroller and are made in a manner approved by him. The Auditor of Accounts has been unable with the staff allotted to him, to verify and audit the accounts of all State and county officials who collect State moneys. To do so would necessitate, he believes, another assistant, in addition to the three which he now has.

We have examined the Comptroller and his deputy at some length. It seems that the audits made by the Department of Accounts are more detailed and perhaps more complete than those made in the office of the Comptroller. If, however, the Comptroller, in addition to making an audit of bills before payment subsequently made an examination to ascertain whether moneys paid to the Treasurer of institutions were properly disbursed by them, his work would cover almost the very same ground now covered by the Auditor of Accounts and his assistants. To do the work in the detailed manner now followed by the Department of Accounts would necessitate, the Comptroller testified, the employment by him of additional help, not exceeding, however, three. Whether three would be required we, judging from business experience, doubt, in view of the fact that the Comptroller's office now claims to make audits of receipts and disbursements and to perform all duties imposed upon it by statute. We believe, however, that there should not be two departments covering in whole or in part the same work. Duplication of work promotes neither economy nor efficiency. With but few exceptions, the States generally charge the office of the Comptroller, and it alone, with the verification of accounts.

We therefore recommend that the Department of Accounts be consolidated with the office of the Comptroller, and that he be directed to perform all the duties now imposed upon that department.

The Auditor of Accounts and his assistants have been very painstaking in the performance of their duties, and it seems to us only fair that, if any additional help is required in the office of the Comptroller, preference should be given to them.

The maintenance of the Department of Accounts during the past fiscal year cost $10,479.46, and it seems to us that the Comptroller, in the event of additional help being required, should be limited to a disbursement of not exceeding $5,000.

In the course of our examination into the disbursement of State moneys we have found that, with regard to the majority of the State institutions, payment of bills is not made directly by the Treasurer, but by a treasurer in the institution who receives the aggregate amount of the bills from the State Treasurer. We have given serious consideration to the creation of these various sub-treasurers, but we are not at the present time prepared to make any report or recommendation in regard to the subject.

Department of Inland Waterways and New Jersey Ship Canal and Waterways.

In 1907 the Legislature directed the State Geologist to make an estimate of the probable cost of the construction of an inland waterway from Cape May to Bay Head, and at the following session a report was submitted. Acting upon the assumption that the waterway would cost about $300,000, the Legislature appropriated that amount to cover the cost, provided that no part should be available in any one year in excess of the sum included for the purpose in the annual appropriation bill.

A Department of Inland Waterways was created, and the Governor was directed, with the advice and consent of the Senate, to appoint a commissioner for a term of five years at an annual salary of $2,000. The department now consists of a commissioner, an engineer, an assistant engineer, a draftsman and a clerk. The total annual payroll is $7,900. The waterway is now about half constructed and the cost has been about $300,000. It is estimated that a considerable additional sum will be required to complete the work.

The Legislature authorized the department to recommend such additional inland waterways as might be calculated to promote the interest of the people of the State, and to construct and maintain such additional waterways as might be authorized by subsequent appropriations. Notwithstanding that the department was created presumably to study the development of inland waterways, the Legislature in 1911, by joint resolution, authorized the Governor to appoint five persons to constitute "The New Jersey Ship Canal Commission," to serve for three years without compensation. It was made the duty of such Commission to examine the plan of a proposed canal across the State connecting New York bay with deep water in the Delaware river at Bordentown, to determine the amount of land necessary to be acquired and the probable cost. About the same time the Legislature adopted a joint resolution wherein it was declared—

> "that when the government of the United States shall finally settle upon the route of the said canal, and shall make provision for its construction by suitable appropriation, the State of New Jersey shall acquire the right of way for the said canal by purchase or condemnation from the owners thereof and cede the same to the Federal government for the uses of the government in construction and maintaining the said canal, upon condition that the said canal, when completed, shall be free and open to the commerce of the world, without tolls or charges for the passage of vessels or freight thereon; provided, the right of way can be obtained by purchase or condemnation for a sum not exceeding five hundred thousand dollars, or such sum as may be appropriated by the Legislature for that purpose at the time when such appropriation and other legislation necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this resolution shall become necessary and appropriate."

A committee was appointed, and it in turn selected a secretary, who is acting without direct compensation. The Commission, however, pays for the services rendered by assistants in the secretary's office, and also pays part of the secretary's rent in Rutherford and New York City, so that, as a matter of fact, the State contributes a substantial amount, at least $3,000 per annum, to the maintenance of the business office of the secretary. In addition to the secretary, an engineer and assistants were employed to prepare surveys, ascertain the names of the owners of property along the proposed route, and to fix monuments. Disbursements were also made for maps, etc., and, in all, during the past fiscal year, the committee expended $19,999.53. It now seeks $55,000 to complete its work. When its work is completed, the State, assuming that it acts with ordinary caution, will not acquire the right of way unless and until it is certain that the United States will dig the canal, the cost of which digging is estimated at $45,000,000. The $500,000 which the Legislature seems to have believed will be the cost of acquiring the right of way is, without a doubt, the very lowest amount with which, under any circumstances, it can be hoped to acquire it. So far as we can infer from the evidence, the right of way will cost perhaps much in excess of that sum. Whether the canal will ever be dug by the Federal government is problematical. That the government is not committed to it is clear. If it is ever completed, the State of Pennsylvania will be benefited very nearly as much as the State of New Jersey, yet we find no evidence that the State of Pennsylvania is to bear any part of the preliminary cost. It seems to us that the preliminary expense would have been considerably less had advantage been taken of the Inland Waterway Department in existence at the time of the creation of the Ship Canal Commission. The engineer in charge of the Inland Waterway Commission has testified that he could have done the work which is being performed by the engineer for the Ship Canal Commission. It is probable that he might have had to employ several assistants. There can be no doubt, however, that there would have been a large saving to the State had his services been utilized and had the office and organization of the Inland Waterway Commission been likewise utilized.

The personnel of the Ship Canal Commission is excellent, but its work seems to be very largely missionary at the present time. It should be allowed to complete the monumenting of the course, which, when the government decides to act, will probably be selected. It should, however, utilize the clerical and engineering staff of the Department of Inland Waterways, and we recommend that it be directed so to do.

Your Commission is still engaged in a study of the various State waterway projects, and may ultimately present a plan consolidating the work and investigation along that line under one general departmental head supervision, but is not prepared at the present time to submit any recommendation other than the above in regard thereto.

CONCLUSION.

The adoption of the foregoing resolutions will effect no legal change other than in administration. The laws which have been enacted will remain the same so far as they define the powers and duties of State officials. The number of State officials, however, will be materially reduced, and work of a similar nature, instead of being scattered will be brought under one head. We have not attempted, where we recommend consolidations, to say how many of the working force shall be dispensed with. We leave that to the heads of the consolidated departments. We assume that when two bodies performing similar functions are brought together, concentration will naturally take place and some of the working force will be found to be unnecessary and will therefore be dispensed with. If the two Tax Boards are consolidated, and if no duties other than those now performed by them are imposed on the new Board, the salaries instead of being $29,000, should not exceed $13,000, an annual saving of $16,000. The expenses of the clerical forces of the two, aside from the engineering force are approximately $19,000. This fact alone would indicate that there should be a saving in office expenses of at least $6,500.

If the various Shell Fish agencies are consolidated, there will be an immediate annual saving of about $8,000 in salaries of officials, while the other expenses, which amount to about $21,000, should be reduced by one-third, or $7,000.

The amount now expended for the maintenance of the Bureau of Labor Statistics and the Employers' Liability Commission is $16,156.33. At least one-half if not more of this amount should be saved if the two are merged into the Department of Labor.

If the department of accounts is merged with the office of the Comptroller, there will be an immediate annual saving of $5,000.

The New Jersey Ship Canal Commission believes that it will require $55,000 this year for the prosecution of its work. If, as we recommend, it is authorized and directed to use the clerical and engineering force of the Department of Inland Waterways, we doubt if more than one-half that amount will prove necessary.

The consolidations which we have recommended will therefore result in a saving during the next fiscal year of about $78,000. The concentration of forces will, we are certain, result in a further saving in the various expenses which necessarily have been incurred in the maintenance of separate departments. Such consolidations and similar ones which we have now in mind, but which we are not at the present moment prepared to recommend, will assist materially in the solution of another problem, viz.: that of finding office space at the State House for the numerous departments which now exist. The Commission has devoted very much time during the past year to its work, and has gathered considerable information and it has also acquired experience which will assist materially in the completion of its labors.

It is daily becoming more and more evident to the Commission, that our Civil Service should be such in every way that it is not sufficient merely to regulate the employment and retention in place of employees, but that there should be regulation and standardization of salaries so that persons of equal ability with like work and responsibilities will receive equal compensation. The Commission is also convinced that radical reforms are necessary in the standardization, purchase and distribution of supplies of every kind. No business concern, subjected to any kind of competition could survive the present system. It has been urged that if possible, there should be but one State engineering force under a competent and efficient head, but until we have made a detailed examination of all departments and institutions, we think it would be unwise to make specific recommendations about an engineering staff or the standardization of salaries and supplies and the purchase and distribution of the latter. Whether the entire State should be charged with annual work which benefits only a few localities, or whether the charge should be placed on the locality receiving the benefit, is another matter upon which no recommendation can be made until we have concluded all investigation, though much information has been accumulated.

To complete such examinations, and to study and determine upon our final recommendation will require very much more time. When we have concluded our labors, we hope to be able to demonstrate how the State Government can be placed on a more business-like basis with a large curtailment of annual outlay and a concentration of forces which, while performing all necessary and required functions will systematize, regulate and make more efficient the performance of the important responsibilities of the State.

BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE STATE OF NEW JERSEY, EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
TRENTON, February 25th, 1913.

Mr. William L. Dill, Secretary of the Senate, Trenton, N. J.:

DEAR SIR—In accordance with a resolution adopted by the Senate on February 17th, 1913, requiring this board to "immediately report to the Senate why the nuisance caused by its order to the city of Trenton to place lime, or some other substance, producing a foul odor in the water furnished Trenton, should not be abated," a copy of which resolution was not received by this board until yesterday, February 24th, 1913, we send to you, enclosed herewith, report giving full information in regard to this matter including the reasons for the action taken by the State Board of Health in the case.

Very respectfully,

BRUCE S. KEATOR,
Secretary.

To the Senate of New Jersey:

GENTLEMEN—In compliance with the request contained in your resolution of February 17th for information relating to the addition of calcium hypochlorite to the city water supply of Trenton, the following statement is submitted. Excerpts from certain of the records to which reference is made will be found in the appendix accompanying this report. In this appendix is set forth, in considerable detail, the history of the relations between the State Board of Health and various city officials of Trenton. This historical matter is briefly summarized below.

Since 1896 the State Board of Health has been engaged in investigating the quality of the water supplied to the citizens of Trenton. This investigation was begun because of the high typhoid fever death rate of Trenton, a condition frequently associated with a polluted public water-supply. In 1899 the first act was passed giving to the State Board of Health a limited supervision over sources of public water-supplies. It appears from the reports of the board, that in 1899, because of an outbreak of typhoid fever in Trenton, the board called to the attention of the city officials the unsatisfactory condition of the water, and that the municipal authorities in 1900 employed Mr. Allen Hazen, a sanitary engineer, to examine into the condition of the city water supply and to report upon a plan for the improvement of its quality. Mr. Hazen reported in November, 1900, that the water was dangerously polluted, and recommended the construction of a filtration plant. No filter plant was built.

The high typhoid death rate continued in Trenton, as had been predicted by the State Board of Health and by Mr. Hazen. In 1907 the board made a systematic survey of the Delaware river and its tributaries. Numerous analyses of the water were also made, and the board, basing its statements upon the results of these inspections and analyses, again called the attention of the Board of Water Commissioners to the dangerous character of the city water. Nothing was done at that time by the city authorities to remedy existing conditions. In 1908 inspections were again made on the Trenton watershed and numerous pollutions were discovered and abated by the State Board. The board also, through the Attorney-General, began injunction proceedings against the City of Phillipsburg for disobeying the order of the State Sewerage Commission to cease polluting the Delaware river. This case is still before the Court of Chancery, and, pending its decision, the work of the board in attempting to clean up other sources of pollution along the Delaware has been delayed. The board has endeavored to co-operate with the authorities of New York and Pennsylvania in securing the abatement of pollutions of the Delaware entering from those States and substantial progress has been made, although it will be many years before this work is completed.

In 1909 another act was passed (Chapter 253, Laws of 1909), giving the board more power to protect public-water supplies. Acting under the provisions of this law, the board, on December 21st, 1909, issued an order to the mayor and council of Trenton to show cause why the board should not apply for an injunction to restrain them from continuing to deliver polluted water to the citizens of Trenton. This order the city authorities met with a request for further time in which to arrange for the purification of the water, and later the State board fixed June 15th, 1910, as the date on or before which purification must be accomplished. The city authorities having failed to take action by that date, on June 16th, 1910, the matter was referred to the Attorney-General for action. He took the matter up with counsel for the City of Trenton, and upon representations by said counsel that the city authorities intended to obey the orders of the State Board, the matter was held for a time in abeyance.

In 1911 an attempt was made by the authorities of Trenton to secure the passage of an act which would enable the city to meet the cost of a filtration plant. This act, after having been once passed, was recalled from the Governor and finally failed of passage on the last day of the legislative session.

Later in 1911 plans for a hypochlorite disinfecting plant were submitted by the city authorities and approved by the State Board of Health as a temporary measure to be used until a filtration plant could be constructed. Considerable time elapsed before this plant was completed, and it was not put into operation until November, 1911, at which time an epidemic of typhoid fever was occurring in Trenton.

The effect of the hypochlorite treatment was immediately noticed. Within three weeks after the beginning of the treatment the outbreak was checked, and since that time there has been much less typhoid in Trenton than ever before. In 1912 plans for a filtration plant were submitted to the board by the Trenton authorities and were approved on October 22d. This plant is now being constructed.

The use of calcium hypochlorite for the sterilization of water is of recent origin, extending back only about eight years, but its application has been so successful, both as a temporary expedient and as a final treatment after filtration, that it is now in use in a great many places in this country and Europe. The method, while exceedingly efficient from a bacteriological standpoint, has its disadvantages, one of the most serious being the very objectionable tastes and odors which are imparted to the water if any considerable excess is used. There is no evidence to show that this substance, in the minute amounts in which it is ordinarily used in water, is harmful in any way. On the other hand, evidence is rapidly accumulating in many cities in this country to show that no ill effects follow the use of such water, even when its taste and odor are very objectionable.

The amount of hypochlorite which is needed to destroy the pathogenic bacteria in water depends upon the composition of the water, and to a lesser extent upon the temperature. Calcium hypochlorite is a very unstable compound which reacts with the organic matter and with some of the mineral matter present in natural water. The more organic matter which the water contains, the more hypochlorite will be needed to secure adequate disinfection. In clear waters containing little organic matter, very small doses ($O_2$ to $O_4$ parts per million available chlorine), are required to secure sterilization, while in heavily polluted water, such as sewage, from ten to thirty parts per million may be needed. It therefore follows that careful attention must be paid to the composition of the water, when disinfecting with hypochlorite, in order that sufficient may be used to produce the bactericidal effects desired, while at the same time an overdose which would result in unpleasant tastes and odors in the treated water may be avoided.

The water of the Delaware varies greatly in composition during different seasons of the year. At times of heavy rainfall the river is very turbid and carries must organic matter, while in dry seasons or in winter, during periods of cold weather, the water is clear and the amount of organic matter is much reduced. Its composition frequently changes markedly from day to day. If satisfactory disinfection of such a water is to be secured with the minimum of inconvenience to the consumer, it is evident that daily examinations of the water must be made and very careful attention paid to the dosage of hypochlorite.

While it is hardly possible to disinfect water from so heavily polluted a river as the Delaware with hypochlorite without occasionally causing tastes and odors, the board believes that these should not prove serious if the dosage is carefully regulated.

At the time the hypochlorite plant was installed the city authorities had no facilities for making the chemical and bacteriological analyses which were necessary in order that the proper dose of hypochlorite might be established, and the State board therefore undertook these examinations temporarily, calling the attention of the City Commissioners to the necessity for securing the services of a competent bacteriologist to perform the constant analytical work required for the successful operation of the plant. The Commissioners did not see fit to adopt the suggestion of the board but entrusted the supervision of the plant to the city chemist. Since the operation of the plant has been turned over to the city authorities, the board, as a result of its own investigations, has found it necessary to repeatedly call the attention of the city authorities to the fact that it was not working properly. The examinations made by the board after the operation of the plant was turned over to the city were solely for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not a sufficient amount of hypochlorite was being used to properly disinfect the water, and no attempt was made to fix the upper limit of the dose, this being considered the function of the city chemist. In all probability the cause of the recent taste and odor in the water was due to the sudden onset of cold weather which caused the ground to freeze, stopping to a great extent the surface run-off, thus lowering the organic matter and turbidity. This reduction of substances which react with hypochlorite, together with the lowering of the temperature which slows the reaction and renders it less effective, resulted in the water receiving a temporary overdose of hypochlorite which manifested itself at once by its taste and smell.

If the filtration plant now under construction is properly operated when completed, no difficulty will be experienced with tastes and odors, even if it is found necessary to use hypochlorite for final disinfection. The hypochlorite will then be added to the filtered water, from which all of the turbidity and much of the organic matter will have been removed, and the dose required will be so small as to be entirely inappreciable to the senses.

The board wish to make it perfectly clear at this time that they have no apologies to offer for approving the use of hypochlorite in the city water of Trenton. In the performance of their duty to protect the public health, no other course was open to them. At the time the hypochlorite plant was installed it was needed to protect the people of Trenton from typhoid fever. It is needed for that purpose now. Its use will continue to be necessary until the filter plant now under construction is completed and in operation. The Delaware river is a dangerously polluted stream at all seasons of the year, and the board would be neglecting its plain duty if it permitted untreated water from such a stream to be used for potable purposes. For the objectionable tastes and odors which now occur in the water, the people of Trenton are themselves responsible. For seventeen years the State Board of Health has been calling to their attention the dengerous character of their water-supply. Twelve years ago Mr. Allen Hazen, one of the foremost sanitary engineers of the country, after thoroughly investigating the matter, proposed a remedy, which, if it had been adopted, would have given Trenton a satisfactory water-supply, and would have resulted in the saving of hundreds of lives and several hundred thousands of dollars. Had there been any active public sentiment in favor of pure water in this city, the board of water commissioners would have found it impossible to have maintained the policy of inactivity to which they so consistently held, and which has resulted so disastrously. For the past twenty years, at least, the water supplied to the citizens of Trenton has been a disgrace to the community. It is still very objectionable, although reasonably safe since the use of hypochlorite was begun, and it will continue to be more or less objectionable until the filter plant now building is put into operation, or some other source of water is secured.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH,
BRUCE S. KEATOR, Sec'y.

APPENDIX.

Resolution.—In compliance with the provisions of a resolution, adopted by the Senate of New Jersey on February 17th, 1913, the following report upon the water-supply of the city of Trenton, and based upon material contained in the files, reports and minutes of the Board of Health of the State of New Jersey, is respectfully submitted.

HISTORICAL.

Report of 1899.—In the report of the Board of Health of the State of New Jersey for 1899, the following, relative to the "Protection of Public Water-Supplies," appeared—"Chapter 41 of the Laws of 1899 prohibits the pollution of any river or other source from which is obtained an public supply of water for domestic use. Section 3 of this act reads as follows:

"3. The state board of health shall have the general supervision, with reference to their purity, of all rivers, brooks, streams, lakes, ponds, wells, springs or other reservoirs in this State, the waters of which are, or may be used as, the source or sources of public water-supplies for domestic use, together with the waters feeding the same, and shall have the authority, from time to time, as they deem necessary or proper, to examine the same and to inquire what, if any, pollutions exists, and their causes; and the said state board of health, in carrying out the provisions of this section, may, from time to time, as they deem it necessary or proper, address inquiries in printed or written form to any local board of health, municipal or township authority, corporation, or person or persons, which inquiries it shall be the duty of the persons or parties addressed to answer within such time as the said state board of health may in such inquiries prescribe.

"No appropriation was made by the legislature for the inspection of streams, and the work thus far performed under the provisions of the act above referred to has been conducted by the officers of the board, in addition to the duties previous required."

This law appears to have been the first act giving the board jurisdiction over public water-supplies. This jurisdiction, as may be seen, was very limited.

Report of 1900.—The report of the following year again deplores the lack of adequate appropriation for the purpose of inspecting public water-supplies. The following abstract of report on the water-supply of Trenton, printed on page 282 et seq. of the 1900 report, is quoted:

"The source from which the supply is obtained is the Delaware river. The sewage of the city is discharged into the Delaware river below the intake. During the past year, on account of an increased number of cases of typhoid fever in the city of Trenton, the attention of the city authorities was directed towards ascertaining, if possible, whether the public water-supply was the cause of the outbreak. The matter was referred to the secretary of the State Board of Health, and his report is as follows:

"To the Board of Health of the State of New Jersey:

"GENTLEMEN,—Inspections of the Delaware river, between Trenton and Phillipsburg have been made from time to time during the past five years. On the 14th of June, 1899, an inspection was made in the vicinity of Phillipsburg and Easton, and the record shows that in Phillipsburg it is the practice to dump refuse on the bank of the river in a manner which permits more or less of the refuse material to fall into the water. At Easton it was found that garbage is collected, placed in barrels, transferred to the middle of the stream by boat, and there emptied into the water. At numerous points the river receives more or less polluting material * * *.

"It appears from a study of the foregoing statements of results of examinations of the water of the Delaware river that the quantities of chlorine, free ammonia, albuminoid ammonia and nitrates present indicate continuous and gross pollution, and while it is not demonstrated that the water is carrying typhoid bacteria, there can be little doubt in regard to this question, and it appears highly probable that outbreaks of typhoid fever will continue to reappear in the city of Trenton until provision is made for the purification of that portion of the river water which is used for drinking purposes. It is beyond the province of this board to recommend the particular methods which shall be chosen by the city authorities for the exclusion of the dangerous materials carried by the water, this being an engineering problem which should be settled by submitting the questions involved to a sanitary engineer.

"Very respectfully,

"HENRY MITCHELL,

"Secretary.

"TRENTON, N. J., January 30th, 1900.

"Allen D. Hazen, C. E., has been employed by the Water Commissioners of the city of Trenton to advise what measures shall be taken to purify the water supplied to consumers."

Hazen's Report to Trenton Water Board.—The following excerpts from Mr. Hazen's report, dated November, 1900, to the Trenton Water Board, are given:

"The population of the places above Trenton is increasing, and the use of sewers is increasing even more rapidly than the population, so that the sewage pollution of the Delaware is probably much greater than it was ten years ago, and is likely to increase at a rapid rate for some years to come or until all of the larger places in the drainage area are completely sewered.

"Although the aggregate amount of sewage entering the Delaware is smaller thn that in many other rivers, there is a circumstance which makes the pollution particularly dangerous, namely, the rapid flow of the stream. The Delaware has an unusually rapid fall and is obstructed by no large dams, and polluting matter entering it is brought down to the intake much more quickly than would be the case in a slower flowing river, and the chances for the destruction of the germs of disease by natural agencies are proportionately less. The importance of this matter was shown by Prof. Sedgwick in his report upon the sources of typhoid fever in Pittsburg. * * *

"A possible local source of pollution has been called to my attention, namely, the sewage of the State Lunatic Asylum, which may enter the canal feeder, passing through an overflow to the water-power canal, and thence by another overflow directly opposite to the river, entering the river a short distance above the intake. * * *

"This rate (typhoid fever death rate), while not as high as that in many American cities having grossly polluted water-supplies, is, nevertheless, higher than is found in most cities having unpolluted water-supplies; and the rate seems to be increasing, indicating, perhaps, the effect of the increase in sewage pollution of the river.

"While Trenton has thus far escaped such serious epidemics of typhoid fever as those which have afflicted many cities having polluted water-supplies, the conditions upon the Delaware watershed are certainly not such as to justify the continued use of the river water in its unfiltered state.

"I therefore recommend this project to you—that is to say, the construction of a 15 million gallon sand filtration plant near your present reservoir, upon land to be bought for that purpose, the reconstruction of the old reservoir to hold filtered water, and the construction of a pumping station upon the old reservoir lot to pump the filtered water into the mains at a sufficient pressure.

"In conclusion, I beg to state that I believe the advantages of clean and healthy water are very great, and that the adoption of a system of filtration will add greatly to the prosperity of your city and will be a lasting source of satisfaction to its citizens.

"Respectfully submitted,

"ALLEN HAZEN."

Report of 1901.—In 1901, the constitutionality of the act, under which the State Board of Health was operating, was attacked in the case of the Board of Health of the State of New Jersey versus The Diamond Mills Paper Company. Pending the decree of the court, much of the work relating to public water-supplies, remained in abeyance.

Report of 1902.—The final decision in the above case was filed November 10th, 1902, and upheld the contention of the Board of Health as to jurisdiction over the pollution of public water-supplies.

Report of 1903.—The fact is noted in the report of 1903 that Bordentown had constructed a filtration plant for the purification of its water.

Report of 1906.—During the year 1906, an attempt was made to analyze the public water-supplies in a systematic manner. This was found to be impossible, because of the small laboratory staff; however, the waters from about 64 public water-supplies were analyzed.

On page 4 of this report, attention is called "to the advisability of providing for additional protection for public water-supplies."

Report of 1907.—From the annual report of the board for 1907, we quote the following:

"DELAWARE RIVER.

"From this river is obtained the public water-supply for the city of Trenton. The attention of the board was called to certain pollutions of the Delaware river, above the intake of the public water-supply of Trenton, about 1896, and inspections of the stream and laboratory examinations of the water drawn from the city supply, furnished evidence showing that the water was receiving polluting material. As soon as this conclusion was reached, a communication was forwarded by the State Board of Health to the president of the board of water commissioners of the city of Trenton. Following this correspondence, Allen Hazen, C. E., was employed by the water commissioners of the city to investigate and advise concerning the measures necessary to render the water-supply of the city wholesome and safe for domestic use. Mr. Hazen made a thorough investigation of the sources of supply, and, on November 30th, 1900, submitted a report to the commissioners. After drawing attention to the numerous sources of pollution, and showing that the watershed from which the supply was obtained covered an area of 6,916 square miles upon which there was an estimated population in 1900 of 66 persons per square mile, the conclusion was definitely reached and stated that to avoid the risk of epidemics of typhoid fever the water should be filtered before delivery to consumers. The recommendation was made at that time that a fifteen million gallon filtration plant should be constructed near the reservoir, and the estimated cost of such a plant was placed at $400,000. No action was taken toward the introduction of a filtration plant in accordance with the recommendations made by Mr. Hazen. Inspection of the stream has shown that pollution of its waters is constantly increasing. This is due largely to the rapidly increasing population of cities situated on the banks of the river and its tributaries, both in New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and will steadily tend to increase the impurity of the water of the river."

"Samples of Trenton water were also analyzed frequently and these indicated that the water was strongly polluted at times.

"On August 17th, 1907, a letter was sent to Charles E. May, president of the Board of Water Commissioners in Trenton, enclosing a copy of an analysis of Trenton water. We quote the last paragraph of this letter:

" 'Your attention is drawn to the presence of bacillus coli communis in one-tenth of one cubic centimeter of water, and you are hereby advised that the presence of this organism in the numbers found indicates that the water is receiving polluting material in considerable quantities.

" 'Very respectfully,

" 'HENRY MITCHELL,

" 'Secretary.' "

This letter does not appear to have been acknowledged, and on September 3d, 1907, a letter, enclosing further analyses of Trenton water and calling attention to the "presence of the colon bacilli, indicating fecal contamination of the water," was sent to the President of the Board of Water Commissoners and also to Frederick W. Gnichtel, Mayor of Trenton.

On September 5th, 1907, the President of the Board of Water Commissioners acknowledged receipt of both letters, and, in conclusion, says: "There is no doubt that the Committee will give the matter attention." The Mayor also acknowledged the receipt of the letter.

Report of 1908.—The water-supply of Trenton is reported upon to some extent in the report for 1908, and following is quoted from page 311, et seq:

"It is probable that when the Delaware river was first used as a source of water-supply for the city of Trenton, conditions above the city were far better than they are now. A careful examination of the river and its tributaries at the present time, however, could scarcely fail to convince the intelligent citizen that the river water in its raw state is totally unfit for potable purposes.

"For the purpose of obtainng information regarding the condition of the Upper Delaware, a special inspection was made of that stream during the summer of 1908. Starting from the point where the river enters the State, just below Port Jervis, N. Y., the stream was followed to the intake of the Trenton Water Company and the condition of the water noted at various points, especially where tributaries entered. At Port Jervis the total raw sewage of the town is carried into the river through four pipes. Besides Port Jervis, with a population of about 9,000, there are eleven towns in New York State with an average population of 400, which allow sewage to flow into the stream, only two of which have purification plants.

"At Delaware Water Gap, various hotels maintain direct connection with the river, and here also enters Broadhead creek carrying the waste fluids from the towns of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg.

"Belvidere, with its Pequest creek, adds greatly to the impurity of the water because of the many private pollutions which exist on the stream. From that point only minor pollutions exist until Phillipsburg and Easton are reached. Both of these cities empty their crude sewage into the stream, which shows the effect of the polluting matter thus received for a distance of a mile below the towns.

"At Easton, enters the Bushkill river carrying tar and oil in addition to various other kinds of filth. Also at this point enters the wonderful Lehigh bringing the sewage of twelve towns and cities with a total population of 141,000, and, in addition, waste water from the coal mines and other sources of industrial pollution. Thus the river is, at times, as black as can be imagined, and at other times there is a reddish tinge apparent as it enters the Delaware.

"During the inspection of the Delaware river at this point it was noticed that all the houses situated on the banks of the stream used it as a natural garbage repository, throwing therein anything from potato parings to dead cats and dogs, of which latter five were found during the inspection. Even Easton, as a whole, dumped about 150 barrels of garbage into the river until the practice was stopped a short time ago by Dr. Dixon, Health Commissioner of Pennsylvania.

"With the Pohatcong enters the waste from various small towns like Washington, while the Musconetcong brings the filth from towns like Hackettstown and Bloomsbury having a population of 3,000 and 2,000, respectively. At Lambertville, Swan creek adds much or little filth according to the time of year and flow of the stream. During the year inspection revealed the fact that over fifty minor sources of pollution existed in this one creek, and the offenders were notified to cease polluting.

"The town of Lambertville itself maintained a city garbage dump on this stream until ordered to clean it up by the State Board of Health.

"Below Lambertville, there are many small camping spots, which, during the summer and early fall months, add their share of garbage and camp refuse to the water.

"A table attached to this report gives the analysis of samples of water collected from various points in Trenton during the year. It is to be noted that only twice was the B. coli communis absent. This organism comes from the intestines of human beings, and its presence in the water denotes the fact that the supply is being contaminated by fecal discharges. Another fact worthy of notice is that the solids found in the water at the river vary very little from those found on the same day in the water collected from a city tap, thus showing that any straining done has little effect on this feature of the water. This is more forcibly brought to the consumer's attention upon drawing water for a bath.

"Without any regard to analytical figures, a casual examination of the river at the point of intake of the Trenton Water Company during the various times in the year could not help but make one hesitate about drinking the liquid.

"But it is to be remembered that there is a remedy for all this. Allen Hazen, M. Am. Soc. C. E., in 1900, made a complete investigation of the Trenton water-supply with regard to purification, and announced that slow sand filters established in the vicinity of Scudder's Falls would provide a safe public water for the city. Figures were also given showing the cost of such a plant.

"Taking into consideration the fact that Trenton is the capital city of the State, and therefore should have the best possible municipal improvements; that a poor water-supply is one of the greatest detriments to a city while a safe water-supply is the most valuable asset; and that already the way to such a supply has been pointed out, how can a good citizen hesitate to raise his voice in a protest against the public water-supply now in use, and demand that conditions be bettered.

"During the year, samples were taken and analysis made monthly of this water." * * *

(As noted above, the analyses showed that the water was dangerously polluted.)

In the meantime, the cessation of the various pollutions on the Delaware watershed was practically stopped by legal questions raised in connection with the case of the Board of Health of the State of New Jersey versus the Inhabitants of Phillipsburg. This case was referred to the Attorney-General by the board on June 9th, 1908. This case has been a lengthy contention, the evidence not being all submitted until May, 1911. Since that time, the board has awaited the summing up of the attorneys. In this case, also, the constitutionality of the laws under which the board was acting were attacked, as well as the fact that the Delaware river is an interstate stream.

For this reason, there was more urgent need of a change being made in the water-supply of Trenton.

Chapter 253, Laws of 1909.—On April 21st, 1909, Chapter 253, Laws of 1909, became a law. Quoting the first part of section four of this act, it would appear that the board had ample powers to cause such changes as appeared to them desirable. The section is as follows:

"The Board of Health of the State of New Jersey shall have the supervision of the operation of all water plants throughout the State with respect to the purity of the supply of potable water furnished by any such water plant, and every person or corporation furnishing water for potable use shall comply with any and all orders of the Board of Health of the State of New Jersey relating to the purity of such waters."

Report of 1909.—The following excerpts from the report of the board for 1909 are given:

"Regarding the pollution of the Delaware river, several of the minor cases have been abated, but none of the municipalities discharging raw sewage therein, except Roebling, have submitted plans for or are taking any decided action with a view to installing disposal plants. No doubt this inactivity is due in a great measure to the uncertainty regarding the final outcome of the suit against the town of Phillipsburg. All of the towns and cities were originally given ample time in which to arrange for and install plants. * * *

"As the contributory population of the municipalities increases each year, so does the amount of sewage increase proportionately. As a consequence, the water-supplies whose source is the Delaware river, are each year getting a stronger solution of sewage, which, unless the water is filtered or treated, is served to consumers with all of its pollution intact.

"The city of Burlington has wisely decided to install a water filtration plant, plans for which were submitted to and approved by this board in September last. The city of Trenton has been agitating this same question for a number of years * * *. Committees have investigated and reported upon this vital subject, but no steps have been taken to remedy the evil. In the meantime, typhoid fever and other intestinal diseases continue to prevail throughout the city. Confining ourselves to typhoid fever only, it is interesting to compare the number of deaths from this cause alone which were reported from Trenton, with the number reported from four other cities throughout the State, all of the latter having pure or filtered water. The population here given is from the 1905 census, and the number of deaths taken from the Bureau of Vital Statistics for the year ending October 31, 1908, the last report published:

| City. | Population. | Deaths. |
|---|---|---|
| Trenton, | 84,200 | 75 |
| Camden, | 83,400 | 23 |
| Paterson, | 111,500 | 14 |
| Jersey City, | 232,700 | 36 |
| Newark, | 283,300 | 73 |

"These figures indicate that it is the duty of this board to proceed under authority conferred upon them by Chapter 253 of the Laws of 1909, to insist upon the city providing the inhabitants with a pure and wholesome water."

Many analyses of the water, showing it to be badly polluted, are included in this report.

Basing their action upon a consideration of the above stated facts, and because of the inactivity of the local authorities, the board, on December 21, 1909, sent the following notice to the Mayor and Common Council of the city of Trenton:

"Notice.—You are hereby notified to show cause at a meeting of the Board of Health of the State of New Jersey to be held at its office in the State House, Trenton, N. J., on Tuesday, December 28, 1909, at two o'clock in the afternoon, why said board should not apply to the Chancellor of this State for an injunction restraining you from delivering polluted, contaminated and impure water to the inhabitants of the city of Trenton unless it is purified by filtration or other means acceptable to this board, in accordance with Chapter 253 of the Laws of 1909.

"Respectfully yours,

"BRUCE S. KEATOR,
"Secretary."

Correspondence, 1910.—Evidently, in acknowledgment of this notice, the following resolution was adopted and a copy forwarded to the Board of Health of the State of New Jersey:

"Resolved, WHEREAS, The alleged impurity of the water supplied in this city for some time past, has been the subject of widespread comment and complaint; and

"WHEREAS, Owing to the greatly discolored condition of the water, the necessity of adopting some method or system for the purification thereof has become increasingly apparent; and

"WHEREAS, The Board of Health of the State of New Jersey, by a formal notice in writing, signed by its Secretary and bearing date the twenty-first day of December, 1909, has commanded the Mayor and Common Council of this city to show cause why said board should not apply to the Chancellor of this State for an injunction restraining them from delivering polluted, contaminated and impure water to the inhabitants of the city of Trenton unless it is purified by filtration or other means acceptable to said board, in accordance with Chapter 253 of the Laws of 1909; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Honorable the Board of Water Commissioners of the city of Trenton be and they hereby are requested to proceed, with all reasonable diligence and despatch, to adopt a system for the purification of our water-supply acceptable to the said Board of Health of the State of New Jersey, and to report to this body such recommendations in relation thereto as they may deem necessary or proper; and be it further

"Resolved, That the City Counsel of the city of Trenton be and he hereby is authorized, on behalf of the city of Trenton, to appear before the said Board of Health of the State of New Jersey at any day heretofore or hereafter to be designated for that purpose, and to report to said board that this body is ready and willing, upon receipt of such report from said Board of Water Commissioners, to take such action in relation thereto, whether by the authorization of the necessary issue of bonds, or otherwise, as may be requisite to comply with the requirements of said Board of Health of the State of New Jersey, and to provide an adequate supply of pure, wholesome and unpolluted water for the inhabitants of this city; and be it further

"Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forthwith forwarded to the Honorable the Board of Health of the State of New Jersey and to the Honorable the Board of Water Commissioners of the city of Trenton.

"Adopted January 4th, 1910.

"HARRY B. SALTER,
"City Clerk."

The following excerpts from a letter of the President of the Board of Water Commissioners to the City Counsel are also given:

"Charles E. Bird, Esq., City Counsel, Trenton, N. J.:

"DEAR SIR—Referring to the notice given by the Board of Health of the State of New Jersey to the Mayor and Common Council of this city, requiring them to show cause why an injunction should not be applied for restraining them from serving polluted water, &c. I beg to advise you that it is the purpose and determination of the board to do everything in its power to give to the inhabitants of this city an ample supply of pure water, and to take such action in relation thereto, and with as much diligence as the magnitude and importance of the subject will permit, to accomplish that purpose.

"For the purpose of ascertaining the needs of the city in this respect, and of securing the necessary information for its guidance, our board has consulted (among others) with Mr. A. C. Gregory, an engineer in the employ of the city of Trenton; Mr. Albert Oliver, representing the Municipal Filtration Company; Mr. Robert C. Millugan, representing the Continental Jewell Filtration Company, and with Mr. H. D. Hughes.

"This board, as you are no doubt aware, has given the subject of improving our water-supply more or less study extending over a period of years, and, as long ago as 1900, procured a somewhat exhaustive report on that subject from Mr. Allen Hazen, an authority of some repute, but as you are also doubtless aware, improvement in methods of filtration and other devices for the improvement of municipal water-supplies are constantly appearing, and this board does not feel that it would be justified, after the lapse of so long an interval, in accepting as conclusive any recommendations made in that respect, but that its duty to the public demands that such additional study should be given to this subject as may be consistent with the solution thereof within a reasonable time, and as may be necessary to secure the adoption of that which will not only meet with the approval of the State Board of Health, but which will also secure for us the most effective improvement of our water-supply at the least possible outlay for installation and at the minimum cost of operation.

"You may therefore assure the State Board of Health, so far as the attitude of this board is concerned, that this matter will be prosecuted with all proper diligence, and a report made to the Common Council at the earliest practicable date, embodying our conclusions and recommendations for the guidance of that body.

"Yours very truly,

"JOHN W. MANNING,

"President of the Board of Water Commissioners.

"January 10th, 1910."

From a letter of the city counsel to the State Board, we quote as follows:

"I therefore respectfully submit, on behalf of the Mayor and Common Council of the city of Trenton, that in view of the express intention of the proper authorities of this city to comply with the requirements of your honorable board, and to take such action as may be necessary to provide an adequate supply of unpolluted water to the inhabitants of this city, that a reasonable and proper time should be allowed for that purpose, and that in the meantime, no action should be taken by your honorable body, either by application for injunction or otherwise, whereby the comfort and convenience of our citizens may be destroyed, or their property imperiled and jeopardized.

"Respectfully yours,

"January 11, 1910. "CHAS. E. BIRD."

At a meeting of the board on January 11th, 1910, the following resolution was adopted and transmitted to the president of the Board of Water Commissioners and also to the City Clerk upon the same day:

"At a meeting of the Board of Health of the State of New Jersey, held this day, the secretary read communications from the City Council and from the Board of Water Commissioners of the city of Trenton in regard to the water-supply of said city, after which the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That the secretary of this board reply to the Board of Water Commissioners and the Common Council of the city of Trenton, demanding that said Board of Water Commissioners and Common Council shall notify this board within thirty days from the date hereof within what time from this date they will completely install a system for the proper purification of the waters of the Delaware river delivered to consumers in the city of Trenton.

"Very respectfully,
"BRUCE S. KEATOR,
"Secretary."

On April 8th, 1910, a letter from the secretary of the Board of Water Commissioners states that engineers have been employed who "are preparing preliminary plans and making surveys, etc."

Notice.—At a meeting of the State Board of Health, held May 17th, 1910, the following resolution was adopted and mailed on May 20th, 1910, to the President of the Board of Water Commissioners and to the City Clerk, and receipt acknowledged by the Board of Water Commissioners alone:

"At a meeting of the Board of Health of the State of New Jersey, held May 17th, 1910, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted by said board:

"WHEREAS, Examinations made by this board of the water taken from the Delaware river by the city of Trenton and served to the inhabitants of the city, discloses that said water is polluted, contaminated and impure; AND WHEREAS, in the opinion of this board, it is advisable that purification by filtration or other means acceptable to this board should be at once accomplished by the said city of Trenton,

"Resolved, That this board notify, by delivery of a copy of this resolution, the President of the Water Board of the city of Trenton and the City Cerk of said city, that the water of the Delaware river supplied to the inhabitants of the city of Trenton is polluted, contaminated and impure, and that purification by filtration or other means acceptable to the Board of Health of the State of New Jersey must be accomplished on or before the fifteenth day of June, in the year nineteen hundred and ten;

"Resolved, That unless purification of the water of said Delaware river, so, as aforesaid supplied to the inhabitants of the city of Trenton, by filtration or other means acceptable to this board, be accomplished on or before the fifteenth day of June, nineteen hundred and ten, the case be referred to the Attorney-General for appropriate action, pursuant to the provisions of chapter 253 of the laws of 1909.

"Very respectfully,

"BRUCE S. KEATOR,

"Secretary."

The State Board of Health was anxious to institute remedial measures as quickly as possible, because of the fact that at this time typhoid was prevalent in Trenton.

From a letter of the secretary of the Board of Water Commissioners, dated June 7th, 1910, the following excerpt is made:

"That until the improved water-supply project for the city of Trenton can be inaugurated, which improvements will give to the city a water which will be satisfactory both from the standpoint of hygienic purity and physical perfection, we believe it will be wise to install a temporary sterilization plant in or adjacent to the existing pumping station.

"The process of sterilization which can be availed of by means of these works will render the existing water supply free from disease germs and safe at all times for domestic consumption. This process will not improve the appearance of the water. The sterilized water which would be pumped to the city would be substantially free from bacterial life, would be equal or superior to the water supplies of the cities of this country as regards its hygienic purity, but would still be objectionable from the standpoint of appearance by which a majority of the citizens of Trenton or other cities judge of the quality of water.

"On account of the time which must elapse before these works can be put into practical operation, we consider it advisable to construct this temporary sterilization plant at once.

"Yours very truly,

"BOARD OF WATER COMMISSIONERS.

"BENJ. C. SKIRM, Sec'y."

On June 16th, 1910, because of the failure of the city to carry out the orders of the board, the matter was referred to the Attorney-General for prosecution.

The Attorney-General took this matter up with the counsel for the city of Trenton and upon representation by said counsel that the city authorities intended to abide by the order of the State Board of Health without delay, the matter was held in abeyance.

On February 28th, 1911, a bill, having the following title, and evidently for relief of the city of Trenton, was introduced by Senator Leavitt.

Senate Bill No. 156. "An act relating to the construction of purification and filtration plants in connection with the public water-supply in cities of this State and providing means for the payment of the cost thereof."

This bill was passed on April 12th. On April 17th, by resolution of Mr. Leavitt, the bill was recalled from the Governor and amended by the Senate. The bill was passed by the Senate on April 20th, but failed of passage in the Assembly.

Sometime later, plans for a hypochlorite disinfecting plant were submitted to the State Board of Health by the city officials and these plans were approved in the following words:

"Motion was made and carried that said plans be approved, with the understanding that this is only a temporary arrangement to be used until a water filtration plant is installed by the city."

In November, 1911, the plant for treating the water with hypochlorite of lime was placed in operation.

In the following table are given at this time figures showing the cases of typhoid fever up to this time and afterwards:

Cases of Typhoid Fever.

| Year. | Trenton. | Camden. |
|---|---|---|
| 1907, | 345 | 34 |
| 1908, | 224 | 48 |
| 1909, | 206 | 43 |
| 1910, | 289 | 33 |
| 1911, | 287 | 16 |
| 1912, | 113 | 47 |

For the purpose of comparison, the cases of typhoid fever in Camden, a municipality with a wholesome water-supply, are given also. The figures represent the total number of cases in the municipality for the year. In this connection, it may be well to state that these two cities are nearly equal in population, the population of Camden having grown from 75,935 in the year 1900 to 94,538 in 1910, and Trenton, during a corresponding period, growing from 73,307 to 96,815 inhabitants.

From these figures, it can readily be seen that there was a considerable reduction in the number of typhoid cases after the sterilization plant was put in service. With careful operation of the present sterilizing plant, there is no doubt but that the figure for 1912 could still further be reduced in 1913.

In the fall of 1911, the condition of the water supplied to the inhabitants of Trenton became particularly bad and as a result of this, the cases of typhoid fever increased to an alarming extent. As soon as possible after this, the sterilization plant was put in operation, a generous dose of hypochlorite of lime being used.

This caused a taste of hypochlorite, and on December 5th, the State Board of Health issued a statement to the people explaining the reason for this disinfection and endeavored to allay the fear that had been expressed, that the presence of hypochlorite in the water would render it deleterious to health.

As bearing upon the adequacy of the plant, we quote from this statement as follows:

"It must be understood however that purification of water with hypochlorite has its limitations. This plant does not operate automatically. While the experience of other communities in the use of calcium hypochlorite for the treatment of a water-supply is invaluable, it is only by careful experimenting that each new plant established can be adapted to meet local conditions. This experimental work is a matter of weeks rather than of hours. During this period of experimentation, satisfactory results obviously cannot be guaranteed."

On December 12th the head of the Division of Sewerage and Water-Supplies sent the following communication to the Board of Health of the State of New Jersey:

"I desire to direct your attention to the relation which the Division of Sewerage and Water-Supplies has had with the operation of the water sterilization plant recently installed by the city of Trenton:

"When this hypochlorite plant was completed and ready for operation, on November 9th, 1911, no provision had been made by the city authorities for placing it under the direction of a trained water bacteriologist, an indispensable adjunct to such a plant. The mechanical operation of the plant was placed under the direction of the engineer of the city pumping station, a very capable engineer, but a man wholly unfamiliar with the hypochlorite treatment of water.

"Inasmuch as the proper rate for adding the hypochlorite could be determined only by experiment, the plant was started at a rate agreed upon by the city's Consulting Engineer, Mr. George A. Johnson, and by representatives of this division. * * *

"In view of the fact that the number of typhoid cases reported to this office from Trenton was constantly increasing, it was deemed necessary that this division should assume immediate control of the operation of the plant. *. * *

"This close attention to the operation of the plant is unquestionably necessary, but is more than can rightfully be expected of this division.

"I should, therefore, respectfully recommend that the Trenton authorities be notified to take immediate steps to secure a bacteriologist familiar with the operation of a hypochlorite plant." * * *

This matter was referred to the city officials and the following reply received:

"Mr. Bruce A. Keator:

"DEAR SIR—The Mayor directs me to acknowledge receipt of your communication with reference to a bacteriologist for the city of Trenton, and to say further that, having already assigned the City Chemist, Mr. Hottel, to the sterilization plant, they do not consider the appointment of such an official as you suggest at this time necessary.

"Mr. George A. Johnson, consulting engineer, will also be in this city frequently and assist Mr. Hottel in the carrying out of the duties connected with this plant.

"Very truly yours,

"HARRY B. SALTER,

"December 14th, 1911. City Clerk."

Again, in a letter to the Mayor of Trenton, the following statement is made by the head of the Division of Sewerage and Water-Supplies:

"I take this occasion to repeat what has already been said in a statement issued to the press by the State Board of Health that the treatment of the Delaware river water with calcium hypochlorite is not sufficient to serve as a permanent method of purification. Trenton is now being furnished with a much better and a much safer water than it has received for many years, but it cannot be recognized as a satisfactory public supply."

Inspections by members of the Division of Sewerage and Water-Supplies showed that the dose of hypochlorite had been reduced by the order of the city authorities, although no satisfactory data had been secured by them to warrant this reduction. The following letter was therefore sent to the Mayor by order of the State Board of Health:

"At a meeting of the Board of Health of the State of New Jersey, held January 23d, 1912, report was made to this board to the effect that changes in the amount of hypochlorite added to the Trenton water-supply have been made by the engineer at the pumping station of your city without the knowledge or permission of this board. Your engineer admitted that he had made a positive agreement with the Chief of the Division of Sewerage and Water-Supplies of this board that he would, under no circumstances, make any changes in the dose of hypochlorite until he first notified this board. He stated that he had made changes under orders from the city chemist. Upon investigation we learn that the city chemist instructed the engineer to make said changes in response to orders from Commissioner J. Ridgway Fell. In a conference with Mr. Fell our representative expressed to him the opinion that no changes should be made in the dose until careful tests show that such changes would be warranted. Mr. Fell replied that he thought this unreasonable; that the dose was causing a nuisance, and therefore he was justified in abating the nuisance.

"You will remember that this board suggested to you some time ago that the city should employ a thoroughly competent bacteriologist to take charge of your hypochlorite plant. In view of the fact that such action was not taken by your city we have been endeavoring to assist you as far as possible in protecting the water consumers in your city by securing proper chemical treatment of the water-supply, and we are sending the information contained in this letter to you with the hope that you will investigate the matters referred to and in future co-operate with this board in the effort to make the water-supply of your city safe for potable use.

"Very respectfully,

"BRUCE S. KEATOR,

"January 25, 1912. "Secretary."

On February 21st, the attention of the city authorities was again called to the fact that the hypochlorite dosing was not being properly managed and that in consequence the water could not be considered safe. Attention was also again directed to the necessity of careful expert supervision of the plant by the city if proper results were to be secured. It is a significant fact that the number of typhoid cases jumped from 6 in January to 25 in February and 20 in March.

On February 26th, the engineer of the water plant was notified that the operation of the disinfecting plant had been turned over to the city authorities, and he was advised to continue the dose he was then using until directed to vary it by them.

It will be noticed, from a reading of the above correspondence that the State Board of Health repeatedly urged the city authorities of Trenton to secure suitable expert assistance in order that the disinfection plant might be operated in a scientific manner, and that the city authorities refused to comply with the recommendations of the board, and, by implication at least, urged that such expert supervision was the duty of the State Board under the provisions of chapter 253 of the laws of 1909. In order that the extent to which the board was required to go in the matter of supervision might be more precisely defined, the Attorney-General was, on February 27th, asked to give an opinion on this point, which opinion follows:

"Dr. Bruce S. Keator, Secretary State Board of Health, Trenton, N. J.:

"DEAR SIR— I am in receipt of your letter of February 27th, asking for an interpretation of the meaning of the word "supervision" as used in Sec. 4 of Chap. 253, P. L. 1909, relative to potable water-supplies of the State. A general reading of the act indicates its purpose to clothe the Board of Health with power to prevent the supply of water for potable purposes which is polluted, contaminated or impure. The Board of Health is given direct control over plants to be constructed for such purpose, after the act goes into effect, and Section 4 seems to provide for general supervision of the operation of all water plants throughout the State, with respect to the purity of the supply. Supervision in such connection would mean superintendence and inspection to such extent as might be necessary to carry out the purposes of the act as specified in the act. At least one of the details of such supervision must be the collection, at least four times each year, of samples of the water supplied by each person or corporation engaging in such business. With that as a minimum the duty of superintendence may be extended to such point as, in the judgment of the board, is necessary to determine that the provisions of the act are in fact being properly executed. This does not include, necessarily, control in detail, but, in my judgment, implies only such attention as may be necessary that the board may be properly informed as to the quality of the water supplied, and may be sure that its orders in the premises are being executed.

"Very truly yours,

"NELSON B. GASKILL,

"March 8th, 1912. Asst. Attorney-General."

The records show that after the operation of the plant was turned over to the city, the State Board, in the exercise of its supervision over the disinfection plant, found it necessary on several occasions, during the spring and summer of 1912, to direct the attention of the city authorities to the unsatisfactory operation of the plant.

On September 30, 1912, plans for a filtration plant were submitted by the city officials, and these plans were approved by the board, subject to certain minor changes in construction, on October 22, 1912.

To the Senate:

Having been elected to the office of President of the United States, and being about to assume the duties of that office, I have filed in the office of the Secretary of State my resignation of the office of Governor of the State of New Jersey, to take effect at noon on the first day of March, nineteen hundred and thirteen.

Respectfully,

WOODROW WILSON.

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of Mr. Tumulty, his Secretary:

To the Legislature:

I wish to call your attention to the imperative necessity of effecting an immediate reform of the present system by which grand and petit juries are chosen in this State. Many honorable and notable men have occupied the office of sheriff in our several counties; many men of the highest character now fill that office, but again and again by obtaining control of the office of sheriff the interests which have corrupted this State, which have defied the laws, which have built up selfish private interests, which have sought to get the State in the clutch of personal political machines, have bent the law to their own uses, and I speak with absolute confidence when I say that I known the public opinion of this State now cries out for and demands reform of no hesitating or doubtful character, which shall take the selection of grand juries out of the hands of the sheriffs and place it elsewhere. A bill is pending before you which seeks to perfect this object in a way which has proved excellent in operation in other States, and which seems to afford us our only present escape from what is in more than one of our counties, an intolerable situation.

Permit me to urge you in the name of the people whom I know that in this matter I represent, to redeem the expectations which have been formed of us and to bring this matter to a conclusion so definite and speedy that no man's purpose can be called in question. Those who hesitate in this matter will lie under a very grave responsibility.

Respectfully,

(Signed) WOODROW WILSON,

Governor.

Mr. Davis offered the following Concurrent resolution, which was read and adopted:

Messrs. Barber, Colgate, Davis, Edge, Fielder (President), Gaunt, Johnson, Leavitt, Low, Martens, McGinnis, Nichols, Pierce, Read, Slocum, Smalley, Wheaton, White—18.

Journal of March 10th, 1913, was read and approved.

The following communication was presented by Mr. Fielder:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY.
OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL.
TRENTON, N. J., March 3d, 1913.

Hon. James F. Fielder, President of the Senate and Acting Governor, Trenton, New Jersey:

DEAR SIR—I have your letter of the 1st inst., in which you request my opinion as to whether or not you have "the legal right to preside at sessions of the Senate and vote upon bills, resolutions, and other measures coming before the Senate for action."

Without having documentary evidence thereof I think I am justified in assuming that you were elected Senator from Hudson county, and also President of the Senate for the session of 1913.

I am also aware of the act of 1898, defining the title of the person upon whom the powers, duties and emoluments of the office of Governor shall devolve in case of the death, resignation or removal from office of the Governor, &c. The act to which I refer is known as Chapter 1 of the Laws of 1898. This act defines your official title when exercising the functions of the office of Governor, as "President of the Senate, Acting Governor of the State of New Jersey."

Chapter 2 of the same session laws prescribes the oath of office to be taken by the President of the Senate, or the Speaker of the House of Assembly, when assuming the functions of the office of Governor. I understand that on Saturday last you took the oath of office prescribed by Chapter 2 to which I have referred.

Paragraph 12 of Article V of the Constitution of this State provides as follows:

"In case of the death, resignation or removal from office of the Governor, the powers, duties and emoluments of the office shall devolve upon the President of the Senate, and in case of his death, resignation or removal, then upon the Speaker of the House of Assembly, for the time being."

Nowhere in the Constitution, so far as I am aware, is the term "acting governor" used. In paragraphs 9 and 10 of Article V the expression "the Governor, or person administering the government," is used. It is a clear principle of law that the constitutional prescription in respect to manner of appointment to office, terms, &c., is exclusive, but for the purposes of this opinion, I will not consider whether it was competent for the Legislature to pass the acts of 1898, to which I have referred.

In Clifford v. Heller, 34 Vroom 105, it was said that—

"When the Governor of the State resigns, the powers, duties and emoluments of the office devolve, under the constitution, upon the President of the Senate, but he does not thereby become the Governor of the State in the constitutional sense; the President of the Senate retains his office of Senator, and as President of the Senate he exercises the powers and performs the duties of the Executive department.

"When he resigns his office as Senator he ceases to be President of the Senate, and thereupon the powers, duties and emoluments of the executive office devolve in like manner upon the Speaker of the House of Assembly."

Answering your inquiry specifically, I think it is your constitutional right to preside at sessions of the Senate and vote upon bills, &c., because you are the Senator from the county of Hudson, and have been duly selected as President of the Senate, and in virtue of the latter office, are now exercising the functions of the office of Governor. In case you should resign the office of Senator, you would cease to be President of the Senate, and the powers, duties and emoluments of the office of Governor would devolve upon the Speaker of the House of Assembly, for the time being.

The foregoing, I think, answers, fully, your inquiry.

Very truly yours,

EDMUND WILSON,

Attorney-General.

Mr. Johnson moved that the foregoing communication be spread in full in the Journal.

Which was agreed to.

Hon. George Gaunt, Senate Chamber, Trenton, N. J.:

DEAR SIR—We, the undersigned, members of the board of education of Elk township, Gloucester county, New Jersey, respectfully ask that you support the measure now pending in the Legislature of New Jersey to repeal the "Teachers' Tenure of Office act."

While it is probable that in some instances it prevents arbitrary and unjust action on the part of school boards, we are satisfied that in the main it not only handicaps the board but is actually a disadvantage to the teachers themselves.

Yours very truly,

JOHN A. DAVIS, Pres.,
WILLIAM CONEY, Vice Pres.,
WESLEY MORGAN,
JOHNSON KNISELL,
C. SHEPPARD MURPHY.

Attest: LORENZO NELSON, District Clerk.

Which petition was ordered placed on file.

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of Mr. Herrman, his Secretary, as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
March 17th, 1913.

To the Senate:

I herewith transmit the fourth report of the New Jersey Inter-State and Tunnel Commission, appointed pursuant to Joint Resolution No. 4, session of 1912, for your consideration.

Respectfully,
JAMES F. FIELDER,
Acting Governor.

To the Honorable Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

The subscribers were appointed under Joint Resolution No. 4 of the session of 1912, Pamphlet Laws 1912. The Legislature provided for a Commission of five members, appointed by the Governor to fully investigate the project of providing interstate communication between the States of New York and New Jersey, either across or under the Hudson river, said Commission to be known as the "New Jersey Interstate Bridge and Tunnel Commission," and to have the rights and powers set forth in said Joint Resolution, including the right to succeed to, take over and use all papers, maps, drawings, records and property, whatsoever, previously acquired by a Commission created by Joint Resolution No. 3, passed by the Legislature of this State, and approved April 2d, 1908, and continued in office by various resolutions of the Legislature of this State, and by chapter 89 of the laws of 1910.

By virtue of the above resolution, the following Commissioners were appointed:

W. H. Noyes, of Tenafly, N. J.
Colonel J. Hollis Wells, of Jersey City, N. J.
DeWitt VanBuskirk, of Bayonne, N. J.
George Limouze, of Weehawken, N. J.
Victor L. Mason, of Passaic, N. J.

Shortly after the appointment of Mr. Mason and before the organization of the Board, he died in England. Mr. John J. O'Leary, of Passaiac, N. J., was subsequently appointed to fill the vacancy.

Your Commission met on the twenty-fourth (24th) day of May last at the Court House in Jersey City and organized by the selection of W. H. Noyes, as chairman; Colonel J. Hollis Wells, as vice-chairman; DeWitt VanBuskirk, as treasurer, and George Limouze as secretary, and after such organization, your Commission met in joint session with the New York Interstate Bridge Commission and formed an organization to work in co-operation with that Commission. The said Joint Commission has caused to be made necessary borings and preliminary surveys, drawings and plans, and has secured a prelimniary estimate of the cost of a bridge over the Hudson river, as well as approaches thereto and the land necessary therefor on both sides of the river, and the results of such investigation, including borings and surveys are set forth more in detail in the report of Boller, Hodge & Baird, the bridge engineers employed by said Joint Commissions, hereto annexed and marked Appendix "A".

As set forth in said report, this is merely a preliminary estimate, and to secure the proper surveys, drawings and plans, in order to obtain a more complete estimate, would require the expenditure of a much larger sum of money than is at the command of your Commission.

Your Commission has further secured the services of the well-known firm of Jacobs & Davies, who built the Hudson and Manhattan, and Pennsylvania tunnels under the Hudson river and who have all the necessary borings, soundings and surveys, upon which to base a preliminary estimate of the cost of one or more tunnels under the Hudson river at available points, and their report showing the feasibility and economy of tunnel construction between congested localities in the States of New York and New Jersey is appended hereto and marked Appendix "B". Both these reports are most interesting and give the thought of engineers whose opinions can be thoroughly relied upon.

These engineers agree that both tunnels and bridges are necessary for the accommodation of vehicular traffic between the States of New York and New Jersey to connect the highway systems of the two States. The present method of vehicular transportation across the waters intervening between the States of New York and New Jersey, particularly between the city of New York and Hudson and Bergen counties, and also across the Staten Island sound between the borough of Richmond and the counties of Union and Middlesex, is by ferry. The day of ferry transportation for this traffic is passing. It is antiquated and insufficient for the requirements of the communities. That portion of the Hudson river north of Weehawken and approximately from West Fiftieth street, New York city, and north thereof, by reason of the configuration of the lands on either side as well adapted to the construction of a bridge. It is not economically practicable to bridge that portion lying south of Fiftieth street. Tunnels will also be the appropriate means of connection between the two States, across the Kill von Kull and the Staten Island sound, where ferries are now in use.

The necessity for early action in regard to this question has been brought to the notice of your Commission very prominently, in that the ferry service between Jersey City and New York, heretofore maintained by the railroads terminating on the Jersey side, has been very much reduced and the commercial intercourse between the city of New York and State of New Jersey greatly impeded. The congested district, as is pointed out in the report of Jacobs & Davies, both on the New Jersey side and the New York side, lies south of Fiftieth street, and for that section vehicular tunnels are a vital necessity to take care of the traffic between New York city below Thirty-third street and the cities of Jersey City, Hoboken, Bayonne, Newark, Elizabeth, Passaic, which are the great manufacturing centres of New Jersey, together with the great surrounding territory contributory to and now accommodated by the ferries belonging to the New Jersey Central Railroad, the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Erie Railroad, the Delaware & Lackawanna Railroad and the West Shore Railroad.

In conjunction with the New York Interstate Bridge Commission, your Commission has entered into a contract for the making of test borings at West Fifty-seventh and Fifty-ninth streets on the New York side, and also on the New Jersey side opposite said point in the town of Weehawken, which contract has been let and the work commenced in January of the present year. That work is now in progress and the borings thus far made have convinced your Commission that a bridge at the site indicated is practicable.

Your Commission has thoroughly investigated the feasibility of building and operating tunnels for vehicular traffic and is satisfied that this method of connecting highways of this State with the city of New York is practicable and the most economical for the section south of Fiftieth street in the city of New York.

Your Commission is also satisfied that the construction of a bridge at about Fifty-eighth street, New York, to a point on the Palisades in the town of West New York, is a necessary improvement for the accommodation of vehicular and trolley traffic, connecting that section of New York city with the northerly part of the county of Hudson and the county of Bergen and serving also a large portion of the counties of Passaic and Essex. This would also connect the city of New York with that portion of the State of New York lying west of the Hudson river.

The preliminary estimate of Boller, Hodge and Baird, the engineers on bridges, whose report is appended hereto, shows that the construction of such a bridge with a single span of about twenty-eight hundred feet between centers of piers, with a width of two hundred and four feet and a height above the river of one hundred and seventy feet and accommodating all classes of vehicular traffic, as well as trolley, subway, elevated railroad and foot passengers, would cost forty-two million dollars.

The estimate of Jacobs & Davies of the cost of construction of a pair of tunnels, one tunnel for westbound and one for eastbound traffic, providing for slow going and more rapid moving vehicles, would cost eleven million dollars.

Your Commission is, therefore, satisfied that both tunnels and a bridge are practicable and necessary to provide for the vehicular traffic which is constantly growing between the points mentioned.

During sessions of the recent Congress the attention of your Commission was called to the introduction of bills in the United States Congress extending the time of various bridge companies, which have been previously chartered by Congress to construct a bridge across the Hudson river, to complete such construction. Your Commission caused its Chairman, Mr. Noyes, and one of its members, Mr. Limouze, to appear on four different occasions before the Committee having the said bill in charge in Congress, and through the intervention of Representatives Hamill, Kinkead and Hart, caused an amendment to be made to said bill, so as to provide for the re-submission of plans that the bridge company might adopt, to the Secretary of War, and limiting the bridge companies to the selection of such site for its bridge as would not interfere with such site as might be selected by the joint commissions.

In order to get more complete data and to have a more accurate estimate made of the cost of construction and maintenance of the proposed improvements, your Commission has submitted an estimate of its financial requirements for the coming year.

There was appropriated for this work in the session of 1912, the sum of ten thousand dollars. Out of this appropriation there has been spent one thousand one hundred and fifty-six and eighty-five one-hundredths (1,156.85) dollars.

Your Commission has further incurred obligations in the employment of engineers amounting to the sum of two thousand five hundred (2,500) dollars.

The cost of surveys and borings, rents and incidentals for the balance of the fiscal year will be about the sum of six thousand (6,000) dollars.

After these payments have been made, there will remain in hand, of the appropriation of 1912, about the sum of three hundred forty-three and fifteen one-hundredths dollars.

Your Commission has given thoughtful attention to this very important matter, and has investigated the subject as far as the limited time would permit. Frequent meetings of the Commission have been held. Public meetings have been held throughout the counties of Hudson, Bergen, Passaic and Essex, with a view of ascertaining the sentiment of the communities interested in this great project. The subject of bridges and tunnels has been fully presented by both of the engineers, illustrated with maps and stereopticon views. An expression of opinion was sought as to the preferences of the localities, whether for tunnels or bridges. We find that the weight of opinion from the north section of the counties is in favor of a bridge and for the southerly section the sentiment is strongly for tunnels.

In order to have full power to cover the whole question of interstate communication between New Jersey and New York, your Commission believes that the resolution, defining the authority of the Commission, should be broadened to include all waters between the two States, not limiting it to the Hudson river.

A highway connection across Kill von Kull and Staten Island sound would be of great commercial importance to the residents of both States and would greatly facilitate traffic between the seashore towns and middle New Jersey, and New York city.

All the members of your Commission have given their best time and effort in the investigation of this question and are serving without compensation. They hope within the next year, if permitted to continue their labors, to secure and present to your honorable body a complete report and plan upon which definite legislation can be framed.

All of which is respectfully submitted and dated this first day of March, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

New Jersey Interstate Bridge and Tunnel Commission:

GENTLEMEN—In accordance with your instructions that we report to you as to the most satisfactory site for a bridge connecting the States of New York and New Jersey, as also on the capacity and general features of the design of such a bridge, together with an estimate of the cost and of the time required for construction, we would report as follows:

The shortest and most economical crossings for connecting the two States are between Staten Island and Perth Amboy, Elizabeth, or Bayonne, but while these sites comply with the requirement of connecting the two States they do not fulfill the real purpose of the Commission, to connect the densest population of New York with New Jersey. However, designs and estimates of cost for bridges at these three sites have been prepared, and these estimates were given in our report to the Joint Commission under date of November 28th, 1908.

To be the greatest service, a bridge must cross the Hudson river from some point in New York city. At any point below Fiftieth street the land on both sides of the river is low, necessitating long approaches, which add greatly to the cost of a bridge, and the North River Bridge Company, which had a charter for a bridge opposite Twenty-third street, has, for this reason, changed the proposed site of their structure to the neighborhood of Fifty-ninth street.

It is therefore evident that the most satisfactory sites for a bridge over the Hudson river are north of Fiftieth street.

As far as the shore conditions go, a bridge can be satisfactorily constructed at any point between Fiftieth and Fifty-ninth streets. From Fifty-ninth street to One Hundred and Tenth street it would be undesirable to build a bridge, because Central Park would interfere with crosstown connections.

One Hundred and Tenth street offers a good crosstown outlet, but from there to One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street all crosstown traffic would be cut off by Morningside Heights and Manhattan Valley.

Shore conditions for a bridge at any point north of One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street are satisfactory, except that Riverside drive runs along this section and a bridge at almost any point would mar the beauty of this drive.

However, at Fort Washington Park, about opposite One Hundred and Seventy-ninth street, the New York shore runs out into a point, making a very satisfactory site for a bridge, as previously reported.

The most available sites for a Hudson river bridge are, therefore, at or about One Hundred and Seventy-ninth street, One Hundred and Tenth street, and Fifty-seventh street. Before making any boring, it was believed that a rock foundation for piers in the center of the river could be found at One Hundred and Seventy-ninth street, as well as at One Hundred and Tenth street, and that a bridge could be built at either of these sites with comparatively short spans and corresponding economy; and in our report of November 28th, 1908, we furnished designs for such bridge crossings with approximate costs, assuming proper foundations could be secured.

In 1910, your Commission secured the necessary funds to make borings at these two sites, and these borings clearly determined the fact that there was no sufficient foundation material at practical depth between pier-head lines at either of these sites, and we so reported under date of December 20th, 1910.

These borings conclusively proved that any bridge across the Hudson river must have a single span between pier-head lines, and such being the case, its cost will be practically the same at any situation.

The crossing at or near Fifty-seventh street is evidently the most desirable from a traffic standpoint, as New Jersey naturally desires the bridge to be as far south as practical to accommodate the larger centers of population, and this situation is also the most central in New York and practically opposite the Queensboro bridge over the East river, thus giving a through line of travel from Long Island to New Jersey.

Your Commission therefore decided to make borings at the approximate positions of each pier for a bridge at this site, but this investigation was delayed by the fact of there being no New Jersey Commission in 1911-12.

On the appointment of your present Commission, steps were immediately taken to proceed with this investigation, and a contract was awarded under date of January 16th, 1913, for making foundation borings on a line between Fifty-seventh street and Fifty-eighth street, as shown on Plate I, attached hereto.

It will be noted that four of these holes are at the site of the New York pier, four of them at the site of the New Jersey pier, and six of them at the site of the New Jersey anchorage.

No holes were put down at the site of the New York anchorage, as the rock is here practically on the surface.

These borings were sunk by water jet to the ledge rock, and a diamond drill core ten feet deep in each hole was taken to make sure that the rock was solid ledge and not bowlders.

These borings show that the rock is from 176 feet to 184 feet below high water at the pier-head line of 1897 on the New York side, sloping up to 134 feet and 141 feet at one hundred and fifty feet back of the pier-head line, and that the rock on the New Jersey side is practically a flat table at an elevation of about 187 feet below high water.

These are the first borings ever taken at this site, but they practically agree with the results found by Charles B. Brush, in this vicinity, in 1894, as shown in our report of December 20th, 1910.

These eight river borings show an entirely satisfactory bottom at the pier-head lines of 1897, within a practical depth, and the holes at the site of the New Jersey anchorage also show a satisfactory bottom for such an anchorage.

The matter of sufficient foundations having thus been established, we have made a general design for a bridge at this site, with sufficient calculations to establish the practicability of the structure, and to secure the approximate weights and foundation quantities on which to make an estimate of costs, but we have not made complete calculations or detailed designs, as this can only be done by the expenditure of more than a year's time and very considerable expense, for which the funds are not at present available.

We have assumed that the bridge should have a capacity for eight lines of rapid transit trains; being two tracks for subway trains, two for elevated railway trains, two for New York (slot) trolley cars, and two for New Jersey (overhead) trolley cars, and in addition thereto we have provided driveways, each 36 feet wide, each having a capacity for four vehicles abreast, and there will be two sidewalks, each 8 feet wide, giving a splendid point of view for pedestrians during naval parades and the river pageants. The total moving load of all lines of travel, when simultaneously loaded, is assumed to be twenty-thousand pounds per lineal foot of bridge.

We have assumed the clear height over the river to be 170 feet, which is 35 feet higher than any of the bridges over the East river, and this will require a grade of only 2 48/100 per cent. from Ninth avenue to the New York pier, and thence level to the Hudson County Boulevard loop, in Weehawken. The clear distance between the pier-head lines of 1897 at this site is 2,730 feet, making a span of 2,880 feet center to center of towers, which will make the longest span in the word, but thoroughly practical from the points of construction, erection, and expense. The total length of the bridge including approaches is 8,330 feet from Ninth avenue, New York, to the Boulevard in Weehawken.

The site of this bridge is shown on Plate II; the general elevation is shown on Plate III, and the cross section at the main towers showing the arrangement of the various lines of travel, on Plate IV; all attached hereto.

A suspension type has been adopted as being the most practical and economical for this type of span.

The towers will be of steel reaching a height of about six hundred feet above the water. The main cables will be stiffened with secondary cables and web members, and the anchorages will be carried into the natural ledge rock on each shore.

All lines of travel will be on the same level, thus allowing passengers from any train or trolley car to readily transfer to any other line in case of a block. The total width of the floor will be 204 feet, and it will have a greater capacity than any bridge yet constructed.

The real estate required for the approaches will not be very expensive, as on the New York side the land in this vicinity is largely unoccupied, and in New Jersey there will only have to be secured an easement to pass high over the West Shore Railroad freight storage tracks.

In New York it is proposed to buy the land between two cross streets from the river to Ninth avenue, thus avoiding all abutting damages, and after the structure is completed the greater portion of this land can be used for playgrounds, public buildings, warehouses, or any other class of buildings. The value of the necessary real estate has been arrived at by increasing the assessed valuations by the usual allowances. The total estimated cost of the entire undertaking is as follows:

|---|---|
| River span and anchor spans, | $27,100,000 |
| Approaches, | 1,900,000 |
| Total structure, | $29,000,000 |
| Engineering, contingencies, | 2,900,000 |
| Real estate, | 4,800,000 |
| Interest during construction, | 5,300,000 |
| Total cost, | $42,000,000 |

Construction on this type of structure can be carried on at many points simultaneously, and we estimate that the entire work can be completed in six years from the time work is commenced.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) BOLLER, HODGE & BAIRD,

APPENDIX "B".

February 25th, 1913.

New Jersey Interstate Bridge and Tunnel Commission:

GENTLEMEN—Following your request that we should report to you in respect of the construction and use of tunnels for connecting the highway systems of the States of New Jersey and New York, we beg to advise as follows:

The proper location of such a connecting link between the highway systems of the two States should be such as to connect in the most direct manner the existing centres of traffic so as to enable it to serve the convenience of the greatest number of users. Within the State of New York the centre of gravity for vehicular traffic is unquestionably in the downtown section of Manhattan, where access can be had to the wholesale distributing centres, the steamship piers, and connection made with the existing lines of communication over the East river bridges to the manufacturing, commercial and distributing centres of Brooklyn. Likewise, in New Jersey the centre of vehicular traffic is about abreast of the same point, the origin or destination of most of the traffic being in the lower sections of Jersey City and Hoboken and in the city of Newark, Essex county, practically on a direct line to the west.

We have obtained, either by actual count or from official returns, statistics of wagon travel on the various ferries crossing the Hudson river, which indicate that of a total vehicular traffic of some 19,660 vehicles daily in both directions, not more than 2,000 per day use the ferries for the uptown districts north of Twenty-third street. The great density of traffic for commercial vehicles is in the downtown district; the uptown ferries being used for the most part by pleasure vehicles.

Physical conditions in the downtown district are also favorable to tunnel and adverse to a bridge, while in the uptown district the reverse obtains. Considering the topographical conditions; the existence of the high lands in the borough of Manhattan along the Hudson river, commencing approximately at Fiftieth street and extending northward, and the Palisades on the New Jersey side opposite; the construction of a bridge is feasible at locations north of, say Fifty-seventh street, as the high banks shorten the approaches and the geological conditions are such as to enable foundations to be secured at a reasonable depth. On the other hand, due to the recession of the Palisades to the westward at Hoboken and Jersey City, and the low level of the land in lower Manhattan, as well as to the geological conditions, tunnels are the only practical and feasible means of crossing the river at any point south of, say Fiftieth street.

In view, therefore, of the requirements of the traffic and the physical conditions, we recommend as a location for the first tunnels, of a line from the foot of Canal street, Manhattan, to intersect the shore line of Jersey City at approximately the extended line of Twelfth street, Jersey City, which is the line of division between the properties of the Erie and Lackawanna Railroads, and extending thence to a portal in the block between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets and Provost and Henderson streets, so that the surface of the street is reached at Henderson street, which is the first continuous street parallel to the river connecting Jersey City and Hoboken. This location will not interfere with the various projected rapid transit tunnels or subways; or with the developments and improvements contemplated by the railroads or by the cities; and will not obstruct or interfere with public streets or private property other than in its outlet upon Canal street, where the widening of the street for one block would be necessary. The approach would reach the grade of the street at the line of the new extension of Seventh avenue and widening of Varick street. This location permits of direct connection along Canal street to the Manhattan bridge and is in close proximity to the Williamsburgh and Brooklyn bridges; to the new 1,000 foot steamship piers; and to the main arteries to uptown Manhattan. Canal street, it should be noted, is the widest crosstown street in the downtown district, and its surface is also the lowest, making the approaches shorter than they would be in any other street. The maximum adverse gradients eastbound would be 3.7 per centum and westbound 3 per centum; these being practically the same rates that prevail on the East River bridges.

On the New Jersey side this location gives immediate access to either the low sections of Jersey City and Hoboken or to Jersey City Heights by the Thirteenth street viaduct. There is consequently no reconstruction of any of the highways in New Jersey required to give access to this tunnel. This location is in immediate proximity to all railway yards and freight stations, to the warehouse and manufacturing district, and to the steamship piers.

We recommend on the above location that a pair of tunnels be provided with a roadway in each of approximately seventeen feet width; one tunnel being for eastbound movement and the other for westbound movement. Such a pair of tunnels would have capacity for 5,000,000 vehicles per annum, which is approximately the entire vehicular traffic now crossing the Hudson river by ferries.

If the river frontage traffic necessitated, shafts with elevators could be placed at the water front, in addition to the inclined approaches extending inland, at comparatively little additional expense, which would effect a saving in distance and energy.

Additional tunnels could be constructed as the necessity arose, at other suitable locations, giving efficient and complete distribution of vehicular traffic in different districts, instead of concentrating it at any one particular point.

The construction of such tunnels is perfectly assured and thoroughly understood; they would differ in no degree, excepting in dimensions, from the six tunnels constructed by the members of this firm for the Pennsylvania Railroad and Hudson and Manhattan Railroad across the Hudson river at various points. The geological conditions met with in the construction of the above tunnels indicate that similar conditions would prevail on the line of the suggested highway tunnel, and that they are such as to enable the work to be carried out in a safe, cheap and rapid manner, and there is, therefore, nothing speculative in relation to the feasibility of this project.

Two such tunnels as these are in successful operation under the river Thames in London—the Blackwall tunnel and the Rotherhithe tunnel; one under the harbor of Glasgow; and one under the Elbe in Hamburg. The Blackwall tunnel is 6,200 feet long and the Rotherhithe tunnel is 6,883 feet long; and each of these tunnels consists of a single tube providing for traffic in both directions in one tunnel, and in the last year each of these tunnels accommodated almost exactly one million vehicles, including automobiles. The Glasgow and Hamburg tunnels have separate tubes for the traffic in each direction, and are provided with shafts, with elevators, for access to the surface.

None of the above tunnels is equipped with mechanical ventilating apparatus, as it has not been found necessary, although provision was made in the Blackwall tunnel so that it could be installed if required. In the present case we recommend that mechanical ventilating plants, with the necessary air ducts, be installed.

The interior of the tunnels, above the roadway, would be lined in a sanitary manner to permit of the utmost cleanliness and so as to reflect the greatest amount of light. A solid, hard, resisting roadway surface would be provided, that could be maintained at the minimum of expense.

The cost of such a pair of tunnels, with approaches to the surface, including easements for right of way, carrying charges, engineering and contingencies, we estimate would be $11,000,000.

The time needed for construction we estimate at three (3) years; and, bearing upon this, it will be of interest to know that the two tunnels of the Pennsylvania Railroad, crossing the Hudson river, were constructed in eighteen (18) months actual elapsed time; so that this allowance is reasonable and liberal.

In respect to connection of the borough of Richmond, New York, with Bayonne, or with the main Jersey coast below Newark bay—the character of the geological formation, the topographical conditions, and the conditions of the waterways, make these locations peculiarly fitted for connection by tunnel between the two States at any points where it might be desirable to so connect the highway systems.

We have the honor to be,

Very respectfully yours,

The following message was received from the Acting Governor, by the hands of Mr. Herrmann, his Secretary:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Senate: March 17th, 1913.

The following message was received from the Acting Governor, by the hands of Mr. Herrmann, his Secretary:

I herewith transmit the report of the Convict Labor Commission appointed under the provisions of Joint Resolution No. 3, approved March 28th, 1912.

I desire to impress upon the Legislature the importance of the recommendations contained in the report, and to request very careful consideration of the subject of convict employment.

Respectfully,

JAMES F. FIELDER,

Acting Governor.

GENTLEMEN—We have the honor to submit herewith the report of the Convict Labor Commission appointed under the provisions of Joint Resolution No. 5, approved March 28th, 1912.

In accordance with the provisions of chapter 223, laws of 1912, the State Commissioner of Public Roads, after consultation with this Commission, and with its approval, applied to the Prison Labor Commission immediately on its organization for a body of prisoners to labor on public roads, as provided in that act. Owing to defects in the law and especially the failure to relieve the keeper of the State's prison of personal responsibility for the safeguarding of the prisoners, some time elapsed before the men could be set to work. On the 12th of December work was begun upon the White Horse pike, a road leading from Trenton to the White Horse tavern, a distance of about two and one-half miles from the prison. A party of sixteen convicts was assigned to the work. Including the 31st of January, these men performed 35 days of actual work. The cost of this work and the items thereof have been as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Food, | $246.65 | 12.6 per cent. |
| Transportation, | 210.00 | 10.6 per cent. |
| Guards, | 243.70 | 12.4 per cent. |
| Convicts, 50 cents a day, | 279.00 | 14.2 per cent. |
| Supervision, | 105.00 | 5.4 per cent. |
| Material and hauling, | 780.00 | 39.8 per cent. |
| Rolling, sharpening tools, etc., | 97.75 | 5.0 per cent. |
| Total, | $1,962.10 | 100.0 per cent. |

The actual cost of labor, including an allowance of 50 cents per day for each prisoner but exclusive of supervision, materials and use of machinery, was $979.35. The days' work done were 558 and the cost per day's labor was $1.755 or about the wage of a free laborer. This cost was made up as follows:

|---|---|
| Maintenance, food, | 44.2 cents |
| Transportation, | 37.6 " |
| Labor, | 50.0 " |
| Guards, | 43.7 " |
| | $1.755 |

The unfavorable conditions under which the work was done are well illustrated by the above figures. On the basis of a camp and a gang of twenty-five men with their own cooks, the cost per day's work should work out about as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Maintenance—food, | 20 cents | |
| cooking, | 4 " | |
| | | 24 cents |
| Transportation, | | 3 " |
| Labor, | | 50 " |
| Guards, | | 28 " |
| | | $1.05 |

The work done consisted in breaking up the surface of a road treated by the penetration method which had become very rough and uneven, filling the holes with the material thus loosened, with clean stone and binding the same in place. The total yardage thus covered was 14,080 square yards at a total cost of $0.1393 a square yard, practically 14 cents.

While every effort has been made to keep the cost of the work within reasonable figures, it has never been the expectation of the road department nor of this Commission that this particular job would show any financial gain to the State from this method of doing the work. The reasons therefor are obvious. The number of men employed was not sufficient to warrant establishing a regular camp or the detailing of cooks for their service. Meals have been procured by contract. It has also been necessary, on account of the defects in the law above mentioned, to return the prisoners to the State Prison every night. This has occasioned a very large charge for transportation. The experiment has, however, furnished some valuable data. It has shown in the first place that labor on the roads, instead of being considered as a hardship, is regarded by prisoners as a reward for good conduct. There is an earnest striving on their part not to forfeit what they consider the privilege of the comparative freedom afforded them by road work. There has not been a single case of insolence or insubordination or disorder among the men employed. While they are undoubtedly a picked lot, it is felt that the men themselves will see to the discipline of any prisoner who might become unruly.

It is the opinion of this Commission that if the work is to be a success it should be to the financial advantage of the State as well as to the moral and physical advantage of the prisoners. The latter purposes have been reached in the experiment. The former can be reached provided the law is so changed as to give the Prison Labor Commission the right to send prisoners anywhere in the State and to dispense with guards within their discretion. It would also be necessary to authorize the purchasing or renting by the road department of such machinery and other equipment as is necessary for the efficient performance of the work.

The work on the White Horse pike consisted largely in doing by hand that which could be much more cheaply done by machinery.

The attitude of the public, as shown not only by comments in the press and correspondence, but by the interest taken by the traveling public in the men themselves, has been most encouraging. There has been no evidence of morbid curiosity or a desire to tease or humiliate the men.

The Commission feels that it should acknowledge the generous help of certain citizens of the State who by their private contributions have supplied the funds necessary for paying for the guarding of the prisoners and for some of their clothing which could not be supplied by the State Prison authorities and payments for which were not felt to be warranted under the law. The Commission also bears witness to the interest shown in this work by the Board of Inspectors of the State Prison and the principal keeper of that institution.

The Commission has studied, as far as possible, the work done by other States. Based on this study and on the results shown by the work on the White Horse pike, your Commission heartily favors and recommends to the Legislature the extension of the outdoor work of convicts.

The resolution under which the Commission was organized included in its scope the employment of all convicted persons, both State and county prisoners. Your Commission believes that the principle of outdoor employment may be extended to include convict misdemeanants sentenced to terms in county jails or county penitentiaries, and that authority to so employ such prisoners should be conferred upon the county authorities under rules and regulations to be established by the Prison Labor Commission, as provided for in act of 1911.

Respectfully submitted,

Mr. Ramsay, Chairman of Committee "To investigate the recent criticism of the uniform of New Jersey State troops at the inauguration of President Wilson," reported as follows:

TRENTON, New Jersey, March 19th, 1913.

To the Senate of New Jersey, Trenton, New Jersey:

GENTLEMEN—Your committee, appointed in pursuance of the following resolution adopted Monday, March 10th, met in the office of the State Military Board on Wednesday afternoon, March 12th:

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to investigate the recent criticism of the uniform of the New Jersey State troops at the inauguration of President Wilson, at Washington, on March fourth, and report the cause thereof as soon as possible.

The witnesses examined were the Adjutant-General, Quartermaster-General, Division Commander, commander of the provisional brigade, and the colonels of the three regiments composing the brigade that attended the inauguration, together with an officer of the Quartermaster's Department who had charge of some of the details of the movement, and Major Edward R. Chrisman, detailed by the War Department to this State as inspector-instructor of the Guard.

After a full and thorough hearing, we desire to submit the following report:

We found that the National Guard of the State has about four thousand (4,000) blue overcoats in its possession; that some of them were purchased in 1881, and the balance from time to time until 1904; that while they are serviceable and so reported by the army inspectors from year to year, they are of an obsolete pattern and not all of the same shade; that when the troops went to Washington they were equipped with these overcoats, which were the best and only ones in possession of the National Guard; that it would have been nothing short of criminal to have sent the troops to Washington without them; that they were necessary for the comfort of the men both going to and returning from Washington, in fact they were necessary except about six hours during the middle of the day of March 4th; that the weather bureau advises that the temperature at 11 A. M. was 51; at 5 P. M., 57, and that the average for the day was $55^{7}/_{10}$; that it was distinctly understood by the commanding officer of the provisional brigade and the colonels of the regiments that composed the brigade, that the overcoats would not be worn unless absolutely necessary; that the commander of the provisional brigade had determined that it would not be necessary to wear them, and was about to issue an order to this effect, when Colonel D. Stewart Craven, an officer of this State, detailed to the staff of the Chief, Division of Militia Affairs of the War Department, was notified by the War Department to require overcoats to be worn; that, of course, the commander of the provisional brigade obeyed the order; that he protested to the Chief of the Division of Militia Affairs about wearing the overcoats before he got his brigade into line, and was told by that officer that the order to wear the overcoats had been issued by the War Department.

That the Quartermaster-General had taken up the question of purchasing new overcoats with the various inspectors from the War Department who annually inspect the guard, and that he had been advised that there was likely to be a change in the pattern of overcoat now used, and that even though he had the money to spend upon this article of uniform, it would be well for him to wait until the question of change in shape and length of overcoat had been finally determined; that of the nearly three thousand (3,000) troops who formed the provisional brigade, all but three reported for duty when the brigade was ready to take its position in line; that the physical appearance, soldierly bearing, discipline and strength of the organizations reflected great credit upon the State; that instead of censure, the guard and the military authorities should be commended for having overcoats purchased so many years ago in such good and serviceable condition, and sufficient for every purpose except parade, which is seldom had in the winter.

That to equip the entire guard with olive drab overcoats would cost sixty-five thousand dollars ($65,000.00); that the National Guard is now equipped with the field service uniform and, according to reports of the inspecting officers of the United States Army, is ready to take the field at a moment's notice; that it is the opinion of the officers who appeared before your committee that the matter of enlistment, which is the greatest problem the officers have to meet, would be partially overcome by the purchase of the dress uniform.

The estimate submitted to your committee shows that it would cost forty-five thousand dollars ($45,000.00) for the purchase of the dress uniform, but it is recommended that should it be deemed wise to replace the blue overcoats now in possession of the guard, that an item of thirteen thousand dollars ($13,000.00) be included in the appropriation bill for the purchase of one thousand (1,000) olive drab overcoats of the latest pattern, and that each year thereafter the Legislature make a similar appropriation until the guard is completely equipped with them.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. E. RAMSAY,
GEORGE C. LOW,
WALTER E. EDGE,
Committee.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
March 24th, 1913.

To the Senate:

I herewith return to the Senate, in which it originated, Senate Bill No. 131, entitled "An act to incorporate the first judicial district of the county of Passaic," without my approval.

The purpose of this bill is to create a district court in the judicial district which comprises the whole of Passaic county, with the exceptions of the cities of Passaic and Paterson. The population within this judicial district is mostly centered around the two cities named, both of which contain district courts entirely able to handle the business cognizable before such courts. The northern section of the county is not very thickly settled and has very little business of a civil nature, so that the services of a district court are hardly necessary for that portion of the county. The establishment of such court within the district would mean much expense to the northern end of the county, without a corresponding benefit, and I am, therefore, of the opinion that no good purpose could be served by the approval of this bill, hence my objection to permitting it to become a law.

Respectfully,

JAMES F. FIELDER,
Acting Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Senate: March 25th, 1913.

I herewith return to the Senate, in which it originated, Senate Bill No. 199, entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act to establish a thorough and efficient system of free public schools and to provide for the maintenance, support and management thereof,' approved October nineteenth, one thousand nine hundred and three.'" without my approval, for the following reasons:

The bill has a special purpose, namely, the legalizing of a contract for the erection of a school building, which contract has been declared illegal by the Court of Errors and Appeals in a suit brought by the taxpayers of the school district and is objectionable for that reason. It is a bill general in its application and its effect is that in any school district where a contract is declared illegal by the courts, whether for collusion in building or made through fraudulent means, the Board of Education may nevertheless proceed to complete the building, although commenced against the protests of citizens under such illegal, collusive and fraudulent contract. The proviso at the end of the bill seems to refer to the original plans for the building. The plans for completion should also be submitted to and approved by the State Board of Education.

Respectfully,

JAMES F. FIELDER,
Acting Governor.

The following message was received from the Governor, by the hands of Mr. Herrmann, his Secretary:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Senate: March 26th, 1913.

May I take the liberty of directing your attention to such of the bills introduced in your body following the report of the Economy and Efficiency Commission, appointed by former Governor Wilson, which have not yet been reported out of committee.

The time for your final adjournment is drawing near, and I fear that in the ensuing rush of legislation these very important measures might be overlooked.

The report of this commission contains valuable information on the subjects to which these bills relate, and I hope they will be taken up by the committees, and that the careful consideration, which I know your body always gives to legislation, will be given to these bills. Their enactment will, I am satisfied, mean a more satisfactory administration of some of the State departments and a great saving in expense.

Respectfully,
JAMES F. FIELDER,
Acting Governor.

The following message was received from the Governor by the hands of Mr. Herrmann, his Secretary:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Senate: March 26th, 1913.

Among the important matters of legislation still awaiting your consideration is the subject of a constitutional convention, before you in concrete form in the shape of Assembly Bill No. 6. In my judgment you have no bill more important, and few of anywhere near its importance to consider and dispose of before final adjournment.

I have found a very strong public sentiment throughout the State in favor of this particular legislation, which sentiment is becoming exceedingly impatient at the delay in reaching the desired result.

Many subjects, such as the re-organization of our judiciary and our system of taxation, the suffrage and home rule questions, and the limitation covering the issuance of bonds by the State, have excited discussion for several years without the accomplishment of any definite result; and the only method whereby these matters can receive proper attention and fair solution is through a constitutional convention. One of our great political parties pledged itself to this legislation and the election of some of your members was probably assisted by this promise. But the question is above and beyond party politics, as it should be above and beyond county lines, and it presents itself to each one of you as a public duty to the whole State.

The opportunity is now yours to give our people the right to say whether and in what respect our Constitution needs remodeling, and I earnestly hope you will not withhold from them the chance to which in all fairness and equity they are justly entitled.

Respectfully,

JAMES F. FIELDER,
Acting Governor.

Not more than two of said commissioners so appointed shall be of the same political party, and they shall, within ten days after their appointment, first take and subscribe before some officer duly authorized to administer oaths and affirmations, an oath or affirmation faithfully and impartially to execute and perform the duties imposed upon them, which said oath or affirmation shall be filed in the office of the clerk of such county, and shall then forthwith proceed to divide such county into freeholder districts; all such districts shall be equitably and fairly formed of contiguous territory, and in dividing the same the said commissioners shall have regard, as nearly as reasonably may be, to equal proportion of population; the boundary and division lines of all such districts shall be properly described, and a map defining the lines of all such districts shall be made and filed by the said commissioners in the office of the clerk of such county, with a description or statement of such lines, all of which shall be attested and certified by the said commissioners under their hands, and shall there remain of record; the acts of a majority of said commissioners shall be deemed and taken to be the acts of all of the said commissioners, and shall be valid and binding when done in pursuance of this act; each of said commissioners shall receive for his services under this act the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars, and the expense of the said commissioners and of such assistants or agents as they may find or deem it necessary to employ in the discharge of their duties; and the compensation of said commissioners and their said assistants or agents shall be paid for by the county in and for which they were appointed, upon the certificate of said commission, or a majority of them, in the same manner that other officers in such county are paid for services and expenses, and notwithstanding that no appropriations shall have been made for such payments, or that the said payments may exceed the appropriation or limit of expendi-

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE THE HOME FOR DISABLED SOLDIERS AT KEARNY.

To the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

The joint committee of the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, appointed to investigate the condition of accounts, etc., of the New Jersey Home for Disabled Soldiers, respectfully submits the following report:

The resolution under which this committee was appointed directs it "To make an immediate investigation and to make a written report on the condition of accounts of the New Jersey Home for Disabled Soldiers, and especially the matter in dispute between the Board of Managers and the Superintendent" and said committee is empowered to take evidence, administer oaths and send for persons and papers, and shall press said investigation with all speed and report to the Senate and House of Assembly at the present session.

The committee has not yet fully completed its investigation. It has been delayed in this respect by the serious illness of its chairman and by the continuous session of the House of Assembly from Monday evening, March 24th, until Friday afternoon, March 28th. Inasmuch, however, as the resolution directs the committee to report at this session, the following is a report of the matters disclosed by the investigation to date.

The committee held public hearings at the library of the Soldiers' Home at Kearny and at the State House in Trenton.

General Grubb, the superintendent of the Home was represented by Warren Dixon, Esquire, and Joseph F. Farmer, Esquire, as his counsel, who freely cross-examined witnesses. The committee was represented by Josiah Stryker, Esquire, of the Attorney-General's Department. A large number of witnesses were examined, among them being General Grubb.

The investigation of the accounts of the Home, concerning which testimony was given by the various employees of the Home, who have charge of such accounts, by the State Auditor and by the State Commissioner of Labor, shows that the receipts of the Home for the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1912, were $107,561.16; that these were made up of the State appropriation of $50,000 and of the sum received from the United States Government of $49,861.16, and the repayment of petty cash expenses of $200, and of a special appropriation for repairs amounting to $7,500; that the amount paid out of these receipts was the sum of $107,003.84. Of this, $6,962.65 was paid from the special appropriation for repairs. It appears, however, from the monthly reports of expenses made to the State Auditor's Department that, while the total receipts of this institution, during the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1912, were as above stated, the total expenses, including all bills incurred, were $114,301.70. This shows an excess of expenses over receipts for this year of $6,740.54. It also appears from the reports of the Comptroller that the receipts of this institution for the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1912, exceeded its receipts in any prior year by about $7,500, which is the amount of the special appropriation for repairs above mentioned.

It further appears that in the years 1908, 1909, 1910 and 1911 the appropriations made for the support of this Home were not only sufficient, but that a considerable amount of these appropriations was unused in each year. In the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1908, $26,401.07 were unused; the following year $5,634.93 were unused; the following year $9,150.15 were unused and in the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1911, the sum of $3,450.41 lapsed as unused. It is apparent, therefore that there has been a very considerable increase in the expense of this institution during the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1912.

It appears from the testimony that General E. Burd Grubb became the superintendent of the Home in the month of March, nineteen hundred and eleven, and that the expenses of the Home commenced to increase shortly thereafter.

A comparison of the expense of the Home for the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1912, with the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1910, and the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1909, was obtained from the State Auditor. This comparison shows that the expenses of the Home for the year 1912 exceeded the expenses for the year 1909 by the sum of $27,559.03, and for the year 1910 by the sum of $26,418.95.

It appears from the evidence that the expense for wages in the Home for the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1909, was $14,242.52, and for the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1910, $14,641.30, and that for the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1911, the expenses for wages were $19,927.29, and for the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1912, $22,944.76, showing an increase in this item alone, between the years 1912 and 1909, of $8,702.24, or an increase of 61.4 per cent.

A further analysis of these expenses shows that in the year 1912 there was an increase in administrative expense over the expenses for the year ending October 31st, 1909, of 77.6 per cent., and table supplies of 32.2 per cent., a decrease of six-tenths of one per cent. in house supplies and a decrease of 46.2 per cent. in the amount spent for clothing and clothing materials; that the net total increase of expenses of the Home was in excess of 31 per cent. A comparison of the pay-rolls disclosed the fact that the number of employees in the Home was considerably increased under General Grubb's management. The pay-roll for the month of February, 1912, contains the names of one hundred and twenty-two employees, of whom thirty-nine were not members of the Home, and amounted to $2,517.91, while that for January, 1911 (one month before General Grubb became superintendent of the Home), contained the names of ninety-eight employees, of whom twenty-three were not members of the Home, and the amount was $1,669.98. A further comparison of these pay-rolls shows that the salaries of some of the officers have been raised. It, however, appears that between five and six hundred dollars for this monthly increase was due to the employment of extra men; that these extra men included a stenographer, who, at that time, received sixty dollars a month and maintenance, a chief clerk, who received the same pay, a pipefitter, who received sixty dollars a month, and various helpers at different rates of pay.

It is apparent, therefore, from this brief statement of the accounts of the Home, not only that the expenses have very greatly increased during the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1912, but that during that year the expenses of the Home exceeded this income by a very considerable amount, as above stated.

The investigation of the matter in dispute between the Board of Managers and the Superintendent of the Home resolved itself largely into a question of determining from the testimony whether or not this increased expenditure was necessary or justifiable under all the circumstances of the case.

It is apparent from the minutes of the meetings of the Board of Managers and of the meetings of the Executive Committee of the Board, which committee is charged substantially with the management of the institution, subject to the control of the Board of Managers, that the Board and the Executive Committee objected not only to the amount of the expenditures, but to the character of some of them. Their objections which led to the dispute between the managers and the superintendent, briefly summarized, were:

First. That the superintendent had unnecessarily increased the expenses of the Home by the employment of persons whose services were not necessary to the efficient and proper management of the Home.

Second. That the superintendent had purchased at the expense of the State various articles for his private and personal use, which should have been paid for from his personal funds, and had refused to reimburse the State for such expense when requested so to do by the Executive Committee.

Third. That the Home, under the present superintendent, was extravagantly managed, but that the old soldiers, for whom the Home is conducted, were not being benefited by the increased expenses.

These matters were investigated at some length by the Committee. The Committee has no doubt but that the large increase in the number of employees of the Home under General Grubb's management was unnecessary. Officers of the Home testified that the work to be done had not substantially increased.

General Grubb was unable to specify in detail the necessity for such a large number of extra employees. The stenographer, who is now employed at the Home, and who at first received the compensation of sixty dollars a month and maintenance, and who now receives forty dollars a month and maintenance, testified that the chief part of his duty was to read newspapers to General Grubb, although he stated that he wrote about six letters a day and did a little other clerical work. The chief clerk employed by the present superintendent was, undoubtedly, entirely unnecessary, as he has since been dispensed with by the Board of Managers without any apparent loss in the efficiency of the Home. While the former superintendent of the Home was furnished by the State with one household assistant and an orderly at a cost of $23.00 a month, the household employees of the present superintendent, in the month of February, 1912, were five in number, who were employed at an expense to the State of $69.00 a month in addition to their maintenance. It is useless to recite other examples of this character.

During the month of June, 1912, the Executive Committee decreased the expenses for wages by reducing the number of employees and decreasing the salaries of some who were retained. The saving effected by these measures amounted to $398.32 per month. This is one of the actions of the Executive Committee to which the superintendent objects. It is the opinion of this committee that this reduction was proper and that it is entirely possible that further reductions may be made without seriously interfering with the proper management of the Home or with the comfort of its inmates.

It is also apparent from the evidence that the superintendent seems to have considered that the maintenance, allowed him as a part of his compensation, included a number of charges which should have been paid from his personal funds. These include charges for the use of long distance telephone, for private and personal purposes, as well as charges for private and personal cablegrams and telegrams. In the six months from February 1. 1912, to July 31, in the same year, his charges for these items alone amounted to $61.95. Upon the discovery of the fact that these telephone and telegraph charges were not incurred in the transaction of State business, the Executive Committee of the Board of Managers requested the superintendent to reimburse the State therefor, which, so far as this committee is informed, has not as yet been fully done.

This committee also finds as a fact, from the testimony, that the superintendent purchased, at the State's expense, for his own use, three barrels of whiskey at a total cost of $421.50, which whiskey was used by him at his home on the grounds; that he supplied his table at the State's expense with the most expensive delicacies purchased at retail. An analysis of expenses for extra delicacies purchased for the table of the superintendent and officers of the institution shows that the item of expense for delicacies and extra food for the superintendent and officers alone increased from $342.60 for the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1911, to $2,914.37 for the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1912. It also appears that the superintendent purchased uniforms for himself at the State's expense and, without consulting with the Board of Managers or the Executive Committee, providing curtains for his residence at an expense exceeding $300.00.

When the Board of Managers discovered the purchase of the whiskey, above mentioned, for the superintendent's private use, they requested him to reimburse the State for the amount of such purchase, which he declined to do and has not as yet done.

In view of the great increase in the amount expended by the superintendent and officers for delicacies purchased at retail, the Executive Committee of the Board recommended the adoption of a resolution providing that the officers of the Home, including the superintendent, should be entitled to maintenance from the food purchased for the use of the Home only, which resolution has not as yet been adopted by the Board.

Without expressing an opinion as to the merits of this resolution, this committee finds that the various expenses above mentioned, incurred by the superintendent for his personal convenience, were of such a character as to justify and render necessary the adoption of restrictive measures by the Board.

It appears from the testimony, so far as this committee has been able to proceed with it to date, that although there has been an increase of 32.2 per cent. in the cost of table supplies for 1912 over the cost of the same supplies in 1909, there has been no noticeable improvement in the food furnished to the old soldiers who are members of the Home. We have also been unable to see that the inmates of the Home have been substantially benefited by many of the other items of increased expenditure.

The testimony shows that during the winter of 1911 to 1912, the inmates of the Home, and especially the patients in the hospital, suffered great inconvenience because of the failure to properly heat the Home. The committee has been unable to positively fix the blame for this condition because of conflicting testimony in this respect. It is significant, however, to note that although the winter of 1911 to 1912 was an unusually cold winter, the bill for coal furnished during the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1912, was $375.61 less than for the year ending October 31st, 1909. It is possible, however, that this saving in coal was caused by a change from the use of coal to the use of gas for the purpose of cooking.

It further appears that during a portion of the year just past the inmates of the Home have suffered inconvenience because of a deficiency in clothing, which, in the judgment of this committee, is due primarily to the fact that other expenses exhausted the funds of the Home so that there was no money available with which to purchase clothing.

It has been apparent throughout the investigation that the efficiency of the employees of the Home has been seriously decreased by reason of lack of discipline and because of a feeling of enmity which exists between some of them. It is also apparent from the foregoing that the superintendent has been guilty of insubordination in refusing to comply with the orders of the Board of Managers.

The matters above mentioned are the principal ones in dispute between the Board of Managers and the superintendent. This dispute led to the preparation by the superintendent's attorney of Assembly Bill Number 189, which bill vacates the office of each of the members of the Board of Managers and provides that the Governor shall fill the vacancies thus created. This bill, according to the superintendent's testimony, was introduced at his request.

It is the opinion of this committee that, although the Board of Managers may have been somewhat negligent in not sooner discovering and remedying the conditions above mentioned, and although they may have been led to partially fail in their duty by not requiring prompt and absolute obedience to their orders by the superintendent, it has by no means been demonstrated that they are incapable of properly managing the Home.

It is furthermore the opinion of this committee that it would be entirely improper and subversive of discipline, not only in this institution, but in other institutions throughout the State, if, at the instance of the superintendent of this Home, the Legislature were to pass a bill legislating out of office the Board of Managers because of the disputes above mentioned. It is, therefore, the judgment of this committee that Assembly Bill Number 189 should not be passed.

This committee desires to call attention to the fact that the present superintendent of the Kearny Home is a member of the Board of Managers. These two offices appear to be inconsistent. We recommend the passage of a law which shall provide that no member of the Board of Managers of any institution of this State shall be eligible to appointment as superintendent of such institution while holding his office as a member of said Board, and that no superintendent of any such institution shall be eligible to appointment as a member of the Board of Managers thereof. This law should further provide that the two offices shall not, under any circumstance, be held by the same person at the same time.

As has been above stated, this committee, because of circumstances not within its control, have been unable to complete this investigation, and because of that fact no more radical changes are recommended. The completion of the investigation would probably require at least three additional sessions of one day each. It is the opinion of the committee, however, that no useful purpose could be served by a continuance of the investigation, as the Legislature would not be in session at its conclusion and any remedial legislation which might be recommended could not be enacted until the next session of the Legislature. The investigation has gone quite far enough to entirely satisfy this committee that Assembly Bill Number 189 should not be passed.

It is the opinion of this committee that the Board of Managers are capable of dealing with this situation and that any measures which may be necessary to secure a proper and efficient management of the Home may be taken by them without the enactment of legislation thereon, as above recommended.

In the absence of the Chairman, due to his serious illness, as above stated, this report is respectfully submitted.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE THE CONDUCT OF THE SENATOR FROM MORRIS COUNTY.

To the Senate of the State of New Jersey:

Your Committee was appointed pursuant to the resolution adopted by the Senate of the State of New Jersey on the twenty-eighth day of March, nineteen hundred and twelve, to investigate the conduct of the Senator from Morris County, in connection with then pending legislation relative to the abandonment of the Morris Canal, alleged to be inconsistent with the trust and duty of a member of the Senate of the State of New Jersey.

In accordance with the powers and duties conferred and devolved upon your committee pursuant to this resolution, the Attorney-General of this State was requested to serve a formal notice upon Senator Fitzherbert of a hearing to be held on Monday, the twenty-ninth day of April, nineteen hundred and twelve, at which time there were present, in addition to the members of your committee, the Attorney-General, the Senator from Morris County, and William D. Edwards, Esquire, his counsel. The following witnesses were called, sworn and examined by the Attorney-General, and cross-examined by Mr. Edwards, when he thought proper: Hudson Maxin, Harry Schwarz, George W. Campbell, Benjamin La Rue, Edgar H. Boles, Richard J. Chaplin, Max M. Stallman, Chester F. Gray, E. H. Harrington.

There is attached hereto and made a part of this report a stenographic copy of the proceedings of your committee at this hearing, and the testimony then and there produced.

In accordance with the terms of the resolution hereinbefore referred to, your committee begs to report its finding to be that the evidence presented did not justify the conclusion that the conduct of the Senator from Morris, with reference to then pending legislation relative to the abandonment of the Morris Canal, was inconsistent with the trust and duty of a member of the Senate of the State of New Jersey.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY, LEGISLATIVE SESSION 1912.

In the matter of Senate Committee Investigation of the Conduct of the Senator from Morris County.

Stenographic report of proceedings in the above-stated matter had in the Senate Chamber, State House, Trenton, N. J., on Monday, the 29th day of April, 1912.

Present—Honorable George W. F. Gaunt, Senator from Gloucester County; Honorable Harry D. Leavitt, Senator from Mercer County, and Honorable James A. C. Johnson, Senator from Bergen County.

Edmund Wilson, Esquire, Attorney-General of the State of New Jersey, on behalf of the State.

Honorable Richard Fitzherbert, Senator from Morris County, in person.

William D. Edwards, Esquire, Counsel for Senator Fitzherbert.

The committee met pursuant to the following resolution adopted by the Senate of the State of New Jersey on the 28th day of March, 1912.

WHEREAS, There have recently appeared in the public press repeated statements and charges involving the Senator from Morris County, alleging such conduct by him in connection with pending legislation relative to the abandonment of the Morris Canal as is inconsistent with the trust and duty of a member of the Senate of the State of New Jersey; and

WHEREAS, No explanation or denial of these accusations has, to the knowledge of the Senate been publicly given, or attempted to be given; and

WHEREAS, Such published statements and charges constitute a serious reflection upon the conduct of a member of this Senate, and should be thoroughly investigated in order that such action may be taken by the Senate as the honor of this body, and the honor of the State Legislature warrants and demands; therefore,

Be it resolved, That the President of the Senate appoint a committee of three members of this Senate, whose duty it shall be to make a careful and thorough inquiry concerning the conduct of the Senator from Morris, in connection with the pending legislation relative to the abandonment of the Morris Canal, for the purpose of ascertaining whether the said Senator has or has not been guilty in connection therewith of conduct inconsistent with the trust and duty of a member of this body. This committee shall have power to sit at such times and places as it may seem advisable, both during the continuation of the present session and subsequent to the adjournment thereof, and shall have power to subpœna witnesses and compel their attendance. This committee shall report their findings and conclusions and any recommendations thereof which they may see fit to make to the Senate, if in session, and if the Senate shall not be in session the committee is hereby authorized, if a majority of its members deem such action advisable, to request the Governor of this State to call the Senate in extraordinary session, to consider the report, findings, conclusions and recommendations of the said committee, in order that the Senate may take such action thereon as, in the judgment of the Senate, shall be necessary and proper.

Senator Gaunt (Chairman)—The committee has met this morning according to the resolution ordering an investigation into certain charges against the Senator from Morris. I presume the resolution is present.

Attorney-General—We have the resolution.

Senator Gaunt—Shall it be read?

Mr. Edwards—I think not, we know what it is.

The purpose of this resolution is a preliminary investigation into the charges made against Senator Fitzherbert. Of course, as far as any trial is concerned Mr. Fitzherbert will insist that he is not on trial here, because if there is to be a trial it should be before the whole Senate. We want to hear what these witnesses have to say, but we do not intend that this shall be a final hearing so far as Senator Fitzherbert is concerned. We intend to stand upon our rights to have a trial, if there is to be a trial, before the Senate itself.

Attorney-General—Mr. Chairman, at the direction of your Committee a formal notice was served upon Senator Fitzherbert and I desire to file with the Committee the original of the notice with an affidavit of service. The affidavit of service has not yet been attached, but it will be to-day—and Senator Fitzherbert is here.

Mr. Edwards—We are here in obedience to that notice.

Attorney-General—And he is represented by counsel also, so that it would seem obvious that whatever notice was required, if any, has been sufficiently given.

Senator Fitzherbert—I have received a notice but no copy of the resolution.

Attorney-General—I have not suggested Senator Fitzherbert received a copy of the resolution, but he has received, according to my information, notice of this sitting here to-day.

Mr. Edwards—Yes, that is so.

Senator Fitzherbert—Yes, I received that on Thursday night.

(The notice referred to and filed with the committee is as follows):

To the Honorable Richard Fitzherbert, Senator from Morris County:

Take notice, That the Honorable George W. F. Gaunt, Senator from Gloucester County, the Honorable Harry D. Leavitt, Senator from Mercer County, and the Honorable James A. C. Johnson, Senator from Bergen County, the committee appointed by the Honorable John D. Yours respectfully,

GEORGE W. F. GAUNT,
HARRY D. LEAVITT,
JAMES A. C. JOHNSON,
By HARRY D. LEAVITT.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you desired, in view of your property interests, the defeat of the bill in the form in which it was introduced?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Without any further preliminary inquiry to show your interest in the matter, I ask you whether you know personally Senator Fitzherbert?

A. I met him this morning for the first time.

Q. And never had seen him before?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did you endeavor to communicate with him directly or indirectly during the pendency of that bill, prior to its introduction or since?

A. No, sir; I have not the least recollection of it; in fact, I know I never did.

Q. Did anyone ever, in his interest or speaking for him, make any suggestion to you?

Mr. Edwards—I object to that unless it is shown that the person was authorized, otherwise it is absolutely incompetent.

The Attorney-General—Don't you object until you get hurt.

Mr. Edwards—All right, go ahead.

Q. I ask you, Mr. Maxim, whether or not anyone purporting to represent Mr. Fitzherbert, or giving a message from him, ever made any overtures to you of any kind, direct or indirect, that had relation to his activities or services in connection with this matter?

A. None whatsoever.

Q. Do you know anything, directly or indirectly, which in anyway associates Mr. Fitzherbert's interest or activity with that legislation?

A. Only what Mr. Campbell told me, George W. Campbell.

Q. And he is here?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And all you know is what Mr. George W. Campbell told you?

A. That is all.

The Attorney-General—Gentlemen, do you wish to interrogate this witness, do you wish to ask him anything?

Mr. Edwards—No, sir.

The Attorney-General—That is all, Mr. Maxim. I will call Harry Schwarz.

(Mr. Schwarz did not respond.)

The Attorney-General—Then I will call Mr. Campbell.

George W. Campbell, a witness produced in behalf of the State, being duly sworn by Senator Johnson, testified as follows:

Direct examination, by the Attorney-General.

Q. Where do you live?

A. Hopatcong and at Millburn.

Q. Are you a property owner there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was your property affected by the proposed abandonment bill, the Morris Canal abandonment bill?

A. Yes; all interests there.

Q. And your personal interests were affected by it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you unfavorable to the bill as introduced, unfriendly to it in its original form?

A. Well, there have been so many changes proposed, I think we desired some changes in it.

Q. Did you attend any of the legislative hearings here upon the bill?

A. I was here at several of them.

Q. And you were here with a view of protecting your interests?

A. Looking after the interests of—

Q. Of yourself and neighbors?

A. As Chairman of the Protective Association.

Q. Was that association organized for the purpose of guarding the interests of property owners in the matter of this legislation?

A. Seeing that our rights were protected at the Lake, an organization of the property owners.

Q. In connection with this proposed legislation?

A. Yes, whenever the canal is abandoned.

Q. Do you know Senator Fitzherbert?

A. I never saw him until this morning.

Q. You never had any communication with him directly?

A. Never a word.

Q. Do you know Harry Schwarz?

A. I do.

Q. Where does he live?

A. At Dover I take it, his office is there.

Q. What is his business?

A. I think real estate and insurance.

Q. How long have you known him?

A. Oh, slightly, or six or eight years maybe.

Q. Is he connected in any way with the Protective Association of Lake Hopatcong?

A. During this last session I appointed him a member of our Advisory Committee, a committee of 24; not any Executive Committee, but an advisory committee of 24.

Q. As a member of that Advisory Committee did he confer with you about this proposed legislation?

A. He probably—he wrote to me—two or three times, he talked with me once—twice he talked with me.

Q. Did he tell you of having had any conference with Senator Fitzherbert?

A. He told me that—

Mr. Edwards—Just say "yes" or "no" to that.

Witness—Yes.

(It transpiring that Mr. Schwarz was present, the witness was at this point withdrawn from the stand.)

Harry Schwarz, a witness produced in behalf of the State, being duly sworn by Senator Johnson, testified as follows:

Direct examination, by the Attorney-General.

Q. Where do you live?

A. Dover.

Q. What is your business?

A. Real estate and fire insurance.

Q. Are you likewise a member of the Lake Hopatcong Protective Association?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that association had, as its chief concern, the protecting of property interests there against any possible injury—from the abandonment bill, among other things?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you likewise a member of a committee exercising power under authority of that Association?

A. I was.

Q. What committee was it?

A. I am on the advisory board.

Q. Who appointed you to that Committee?

A. Mr. George W. Campbell.

Q. That is the gentleman that has just left the witness chair?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you have any talk with Senator Fitzherbert with respec to that proposed legislation?

A. I did.

Q. Where did you have that talk with him?

A. At his office.

Q. Where?

A. In Dover.

Q. Did you say you live in Dover?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you known Mr. Fitzherbert for a good while?

A. I have known him for about twenty years, I believe.

Q. Did you go to his office to see him about this matter?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did anybody suggest your going?

A. No, sir; he represents a company of which I am secretary. He is the attorney for the company.

Q. What company is that?

A. The Prospect Point Land and Improvement Company.

Q. How does that explain your presence at his office on the day that this Morris Canal matter came up?

A. Why, I naturally went there, be being our attorney, I naturally went there to see how it would affect the interests of our company.

Q. How the abandonment bill would affect your company?

A. Yes, sir; its interest in land at Lake Hopatcong.

Q. Didn't you know how it would affect your company before you went to see the Senator?

A. I was not very familiar with it, no.

Q. Did you find he was very familiar with it?

A. I did, yes, sir.

Q. Did he have a copy of the bill there?

A. Yes, I think he did.

Q. And you already had a copy before you went there, didn't you; you had seen the bill before you went there?

A. No, sir; I think I obtained a copy from Mr. Fitzherbert.

Q. On the occasion of your first call?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you a member of this Committee of the Protective Association at the time you went to the Senator's office?

A. I was.

Q. And the proposed abandonment scheme had been formulated in a bill at that time?

A. It had.

Q. And you had never seen a copy of the bill?

A. No, sir; I had never got a copy; I don't know whether I had heard of it from somebody or not, but I didn't get a copy, and I naturally went to Mr. Fitzherbert to see if he had a copy of it, and he had.

Q. And he gave it to you?

A. He gave it to me.

Q. And you asked him how it affected the property of your company?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did he tell you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did he tell you?

A. He thought it was detrimental to the interests of Lake Hopatcong.

Q. I did not ask you that; what did he say to you about your company; you were asking him about your company?

A. That is what he said.

Q. You asked him about your company, and he said he thought it was detrimental to the interests of Lake Hopatcong?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. That is it, is it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did he tell you why he thought it was detrimental to the interests of Lake Hopatcong?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Why?

A. He said it had a tendency to—that the water in the lake would be reduced, that it would be a pipe, or some pipe line connected with the lake and it would ultimately reduce the water in the lake, which is detrimental to it.

Q. Did he say he got that information from the bill?

A. I did not ask him where he got the information.

Q. You did not read the bill while you were there?

A. No, sir.

Q. Have you read it since?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you see anything about any pipe in the bill?

A. Yes; there is something in the bill of that nature.

Q. You think you saw something of that nature in the bill?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. About a pipe?

A. Well, about its being reduced to the extent of four feet.

Mr. Edwards—Drawing down the water you mean?

Witness—Drawing down the water to the extent of four feet.

Q. I did not ask you that, I asked you if there was anything in the bill relative to any scheme for reducing the water by means of a pipe?

A. I cannot just at the moment tell you the phraseology of that clause.

Q. Did you have any talk with the Senator about getting his aid to straighten out these features that were detrimental to the interests of Lake Hopatcong as you put it?

A. I did; yes, sir.

Q. Tell us what you said and what he said in that connection?

A. I told him that he had been our attorney and I had come to him to ask him as to the nature of that bill that had been introduced, if it was detrimental to our interests, meaning the Land Company, and he said he thought it was, and, as I related, he told me; so I told him there would be a meeting of the Lake Hopatcong Protective Association very shortly—and I would attend it—of which I was a member. I guess that is practically about all that was done at that time.

Q. At that time did you ask him to aid in so shaping this legislation as not to injure the Hopatcong interests?

A. No, sir; I didn't say anything of the kind to him.

Q. And he did not say anything of the kind to you?

A. No, sir.

Q. What happened on the next occasion when you saw him?

A. I believe the next time was after a meeting of the Lake Hopatcong Protective Association in New York which I attended, and I had suggested to the Lake Hopatcong Protective Association I think—or I did not suggest it to the Association, I suggested it to some of the members—that it would be well to have Mr. Fitzherbert, who was our attorney, to represent all the interests of Lake Hopatcong as he was familiar with the interests of the Lake and knew what would be necessary to protect the interests.

Q. You had suggested that to gentlemen connected with the Hopatcong Association?

A. Yes, sir; I had.

Q. Among others to Mr. Campbell?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And did you find out from the Senator whether he was willing to do that?

A. After the meeting I came back to Dover and in a day or two I went into his office, I think it was on Saturday morning, and at that time I asked the Senator*A*I believe Mr. William E. King, of Landing, happened to be at the office at that time, who was also interested in Lake Hopatcong—and I asked the Senator at that time: "Could you represent the Lake Hopatcong interests; we had a meeting in New York and I suggested that you represent all of the interests as you are our attorney and I thought you had better represent them all." And he said, "No, I could not represent you people as attorney, in my capacity and you would have to get another lawyer," and they did.

Q. Whom did they get?

A. They got Mr. — in Newark, I forget the name now.

Mr. Edwards—Harding?

Witness—Yes, Mr. John R. Harding.

Mr. Edwards—Hardin or Harding?

Witness—John R. Hardin—H a r d i n.

Q. Did you ever have any further talk with the Senator about his acting as attorney in this pending legislation?

A. Only as our own private counsel.

Q. Did he continue as your own private counsel?

A. Well, I talked over the matters—I used to—I talked over matters with him from time to time as to our interests and the interests of Lake Hopatcong generally.

Q. And how best they could be conserved in this legislation?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you conferred with him as your own private counsel?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And took professional advice from him about it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you knew at that time he was the Senator from that county?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you knew this legislation was pending?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you consulted him and took his advice as your attorney with perfect freedom?

A. I felt that Mr. — he had represented us for about, oh I should think for the past thirteen years as counsel and he knew all about Lake Hopatcong and Morris County in general and I consulted him freely on anything I thought I would like to know as to our interests about Lake Hopatcong.

Q. And took his advice?

A. I did.

Q. As your private attorney?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Notwithstanding the fact that meanwhile he had become the legislative representative of that county? That is so, is it not?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. I think you said you know Mr. Campbell?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And he is the gentleman who just left the witness chair before you sat down?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you remember saying to Mr. Campbell that you had had a talk with Senator Fitzherbert about this legislation?

Mr. Edwards—I object to that.

A. No, sir; I did not say so.

Q. What?

A. I did not say so.

Q. Do you remember saying you had a talk with the Senator and the Senator thought he ought to be paid some money for looking after the interests of the Lake Hopatcong people?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you deny you made such a statement to him?

A. No, sir; I did not say that.

Q. Did you say anything like that to him?

A. I suggested to Mr. Campbell that to my idea it would be best for the Lake Hopatcong interests to employ our counsel to represent all the interests of Lake Hopatcong.

Q. When did you make that suggestion to him?

A. I think at the first meeting in New York of the Lake Hopatcong Protective Association.

Q. After you had seen Senator Fitzherbert?

A. No, sir; before.

Q. As I recall your story you went to Senator Fitzherbert first and had an interview with him at his office and it was on that occasion you got a copy of the bill?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And it was after that you met with the Hopatcong Association in New York?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. So that you had seen Senator Fitzherbert about this matter before the meeting in New York, hadn't you?

A. Not concerning the—I had no right to do that; I had no power to speak to him as to all the Lake Hopatcong's interests.

Q. But you had seen him about your own interests?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Which might have been affected?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And he had told you your interests would be affected?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. He had told you that in his opnion all of the Lake Hopatcong interests were affected by the bill?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. After you had had that interview with the Senator you went back to this meeting in New York of the Lake Hopatcong Association, and on that occasion you did tell these gentlemen you thought they ought to retain Senator Fitzherbert to look after all the interests there?

A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. Do you deny that you told Mr. Campbell that Senator Fitzherbert thought he ought to be paid?

A. Yes, sir; I never made a remark like that.

Q. You never made any such statement?

A. No, sir.

Q. And the Senator never said any such thing as that to you?

A. No, sir; he never did.

Q. How many times did you consult him about this matter?

A. Possibly three or four times.

Q. On how many of these occasions were you acting as the representative of the Hopatcong Association?

A. On no occasion.

Q. On no occasion whatever?

A. Not the Lake Hopatcong Protective Association, no, sir.

Attorney-General—Does the committee desire to ask any questions?

The Chairman—No.

Cross-examination, by Mr. Edwards.

Q. Then, as I understand you, when you spoke to Mr. Fitzherbert about representing these interests generally, he told you he could not do it because he was a Senator, and could not represent private interests in that matter?

A. Yes, sir; he did.

Q. And he would not listen to it?

A. No, sir.

Q. What was the name of your land company?

A. The Prospect Point Land & Improvement Company.
Q. What had he been doing for your company for years?
A. He had been their attorney.
Q. Drawing deeds?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Searching title, &c.?
A. Searching titles and whatever was necessary.
Q. And when he became Senator from Morris County you did not discharge him, did you?
A. No, sir.
Q. He kept on?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. You did not expect to pay him for anything he was doing down here in the Legislature, representing you?
A. No, sir.
Q. When you say he looked after your interests you mean he took a friendly interest in the Prospect Land Company and knew the conditions under which they were laboring?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And you felt your interests were perfectly safe in his hands because of the knowledge he had?
A. Yes; he had been our attorney for more than ten years and naturally knew what the interests of Lake Hopatcong were.
Q. And you felt sure he would look after the interests of everybody at Lake Hopatcong?
A. I thought so; yes, sir.

By the Attorney-General:
Q. You have said you did not intend to pay him; is that so when you went and consulted with him?
A. If he rendered a bill we would pay it.
Q. And he has not rendered any bill?
A. No, sir.
Q. And when you consulted him you did not know whether he would render a bill or not?
A. No, sir.
Q. You consulted him in this matter as you would any other professional man who had your confidence?
A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. Edwards:
Q. Didn't you expect to pay him for his advice relative to Lake Hopatcong, or did you expect he would look after your interests because he was the Senator?

Attorney-General—He has already said he expected to pay if any bill was rendered.

A. I did not give it any attention at the time, whether we would pay him or not; if a bill was rendered we would pay it.

Q. But you did not think he would render a bill for that?

A. No, sir.

By the Attorney-General:

Q. You did not think anything about it?

A. No; I gave it no attention.

Q. If he had rendered a bill you would have paid it?

A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. Edwards:

Q. Would you pay him for lobbying services?

A. I don't think he would render any bill for that.

Attorney-General—Does the committee desire to ask any questions?

The Chairman—No.

Attorney-General—Mr. Campbell will take the chair again, please.

George W. Campbell, resumes the stand.

By the Attorney-General:

Q. In your examination I had led up to the inquiry whether you had talked with Mr. Schwarz about Senator Fitzherbert's connection with this proposed legislation. What did Mr. Schwarz say to you in that connection?

Mr. Edwards—I object to that because it appears that Mr. Schwarz had no authority to say anything to Mr. Campbell; he had no authority to make any report to Mr. Campbell, and whatever it was will be hearsay, and furthermore this is simply an attempt to contradict his own witness.

There are any number of reasons why Mr. Campbell should not be allowed to tell that.

The Attorney-General—You are the final tribunal as to what you shall or shall not receive; it is wholly inconsequential to me as to what view you may take of this matter. These witnesses have been subpœnaed at the direction of the chairman and they are here.

One of the suggestions made by Mr. Edwards, however, is one which I do not think is controlling; he has suggested that it is entirely unpermissable to contradict, as he puts it, my own witness. The gentleman misconceives, I think, our avenue of approach; this is not a trial, Senator Fitzherbert has not been arraigned upon charges, that is a point which may be reached or may never be reached, it depends on the character of your report. This is a mere preliminary investigation; every witness sworn is not a witness who can be ascribed to any person or any side. There is no side here; there is no issue; it is a mere informal inquiry. It is simply a question of disposition upon your part as to how far you may wish to go in making your inquiry.

Senator Johnson—The question relates to a conversation between this witness and Mr. Schwarz.

The Attorney-General—Yes.

Senator Johnson—Concerning what Mr. Schwarz told him?

Attorney-General—Yes, that Mr. Fitzherbert had said about that matter.

Mr. Edwards—That is manifestly improper.

Senator Johnson—I want to have this investigation as full as possible, but unless you can connect Senator Fitzherbert in some way with that I hardly think it is proper.

Attorney-General—Then you would conclude, for the purpose of this formal inquiry—and I am not pressing it, for it is wholly inconsequential to me what course the committee takes in this respect, do as you please about it—but the criticism must be based on the assumption that Mr. Schwarz has told the truth. If you start out with the premise that you are searching for the truth, and you are willing to be convinced that Mr. Schwarz has not told the truth in giving the Senator a clean bill of health, here is a witness that may aid you in that inquiry. If, however, you set out with the assumption that what Mr. Schwarz has said is the unqualified truth, as a mere matter of convenience in the judicious administration of your function, you do not want to go any further.

The Chairman—The point is that we want to get at the truth in this matter and if we are to be bound by strict legal rules concerning evidence, we may not get the entire truth about this and I am in favor of this testimony being heard.

Mr. Edwards—But you do not want to take any testimony here, as the basis of your report, that would not be available before the Senate on the final hearing. Certainly this testimony would not be available before the Senate on the final hearing, and we already have a record of what happened in this respect told by a witness called by the committee, and now you propose to contradict him. Of course you may contradict your own witness, but you are asking Mr. Campbell what Mr. Schwarz told him and that would not be admissible on the trial.

Attorney-General—I beg to remind the Committee that the Committee has no right to say what would be admitted or not admitted on the final trial; when you are in the arena of the final determination of this matter, the Senate of this State is a law unto itself. It is true that parliamentary bodies generally, in trials of that kind, adopt the theory that the rules of evidence, as far as may be, shall be enforced. But it does not lay in the mouth of my distinguished friend to say in this case what rule would or would not be adopted by the body which has conferred on you the power to make this preliminary investigation.

Senator Johnson—As a member of the Committee, I am as desirous to get at the truth as anybody, and we might hear what the witness has to say.

Of course I do not think the evidence could be competent—

Mr. Edwards—I am assuming, and I hope it is not a vain assumption, that this body may be bound by the ordinary rules of evidence.

Chairman—This Committee was appointed not as a body of lawyers, and I was appointed as a layman, to find out the truth in the best way I can.

Mr. Edwards—But possibly you are not finding out the truth.

Chairman—We are trying to.

Senator Johnson—Of course, this relates to something which was said about Senator Fitzherbert, which may not be true, but under the circumstances I think we had better take the testimony.

Mr. Edwards—It is not only hearsay evidence, but hearsay evidence twice removed.

The Chairman—We will take the evidence.

Q. What did Mr. Schwarz say to you about Senator Fitzherbert's connection with and work in regard to this Morris Canal legislation? What was it he said to you?

Mr. Edwards—I renew my objection.

A. I heard from Mr. Schwarz twice, once in a letter which I have in my pocket—

Q. Let use see that?

A. —saying that he was a friend, &c. The only other time was a conversation I had with him at Hoboken.

Q. Let me see the letter, please?

A. (Witness produces a letter.)

Q. That is the letter to which you referred?

A. Yes, sir.

The letter produced by the witness was marked A1 for identification and reads as follows:

Dover, N. J., December 26, 1911.

Mr. George W. Campbell, President,
New York.

Dear Sir—Enclosed find check for contribution of $10.00 to the Lake Hopatcong Protective Association. As stated to you at the meeting I am interested in a great deal of Lake Hopatcong property and will give as much personal attention as may be required to the protection of the lake. Senator Fitzherbert of Morris County is a personal friend of mine and our attorney, I shall go to Trenton with him when this matter is brought up. I should like to be on the General Advisory Committee so as to confer with you and the other leading interested people upon this very important subject.

Yours very truly,
H. L. SCHWARZ, Sec'y.

Attorney-General—Shall I read this letter, gentlemen?

Mr. Edwards—May I see it before you read it?

Attorney-General—(Handing letter to Mr. Edwards) Surely.

The Chairman—Let it be read.

Attorney-General—(Reading) "Dover, N. J., December 26, 1911. Mr. George W. Campbell, President, New York."

Q. President of what?

A. The Lake Hopatcong Protective Association.

Attorney-General (Resuming the reading of the letter)—"Dear Sir: Enclosed find check for contribution of $10.00 to the Lake Hopatcong Protective Association. As stated to you at the meeting—"

Q. Had there been a meeting in New York previous to that?

A. We have had several meetings during the last ten years, I don't recall exactly.

Q. You do not recall the meeting to which he refers when he says "As stated to you at the meeting I am interested in a great deal of Lake Hopatcong property and will give as much personal attention as may be required to the protection of the lake. Senator Fitzherbert of Morris County is a personal friend of mine and is our attorney, I shall go to Trenton with him, when this matter is brought up. I should like to be on the General Advisory Committee so as to confer with you and the other leading interested people upon this very important subject. Yours very truly, H. L. Schwarz, Sec'y."

The letter is written on the letterhead of the Halsey Island Land Company.

After the receipt of this letter you say you had an interview with him. What was it Mr. Schwarz said to you about Senator Fitzherbert at that interview?

Mr. Edwards—I make the same objection.

A. He hailed me as I was going through the railroad station at Hoboken and wanted to say a word to me.

Q. When was this?

A. This was when the session here was two-thirds over I should think.

Q. Now, what did he say to you?

A. He said "Senator Fitzherbert thinks that he ought to have some money in this matter, he has given it a good deal of time and study."

Q. Where did this conversation occur?

A. In the railroad depot at Hoboken.

Q. How did you happen to meet him there?

A. He was headed for Dover, I suppose—I don't know where he was headed for, but after two or three minutes' conversation with him I went and took my train, I was just in time for it, I left him in the station; I suppose he was on the way to Dover.

Q. Did you make any response to that?

A. I said "Yes, a State Senator! Why that means State's Prison."

Q. Did he make any response to that?
A. He said "Why he might be retained as a lawyer."
Q. What reply did you make to that?
A. I said "Then it is a case for Morris Plains."
Q. Did anything else occur?
A. Not a damn word. That ended it.
Q. It was all over?
A. All over.
Q. Do you know of any money being raised for payment to Senator Fitzherbert?
A. None at all; no, sir.
Q. You do not know whether any money was ever paid to him?
A. None that the Association ever had anything to do with. No, I don't know of any being paid to him, we certainly never have.
Q. Never contributed to any fund?
A. Never, nor did any member from the Association.
Q. To your knowledge?
A. My knowledge.
Q. Directly or indirectly?
A. Directly or indirectly.
Q. You never had any talk with the Senator yourself?
A. I never saw him till this morning on the train coming here.
Q. Do you know anything else that relates to the Senator's connection with this matter?
A. I do not.

The Attorney-General—Have you any questions you desire to ask, gentlemen?

The Chairman—What was the witness's statement?

Attorney-General—His statement was that when Mr. Schwarz said the Senator might be retained as counsel or attorney, his, Mr. Campbell's, reply was that then it was a case for Morris Plains.

Cross-Examination, by Mr. Edwards:
Q. Where do you live—at Morris Plains?
A. No, sir; I live at Millburn, New Jersey.
Q. Is that in Morris County?
A. No, sir; it is in Essex, and a part of the time I live in Hopatcong in Sussex County.
Q. You do not live in Morris County at all?
A. I do not.

Q. You knew the Morris County Senator was a very important factor in this Lake Hopatcong business?

A. I did not; I never had heard of him and had never seen him before.

Q. Didn't you think the Senator from Morris County, in which the larger part of Lake Hopatcong is situated, would be an important factor—

A. That was entirely for our counsel.

Q. Were you not looking after this thing?

A. Not with the individual Senators or Assemblymen.

Q. When you heard this statement made about Senator Fitzherbert why didn't you go to him and ask if that was true?

A. I thought he was a good man to keep away from.

Q. You did not know whether it was true or not?

A. Harry Schwarz told me and I had good reason to believe him.

Q. But you didn't know whether it was true or not?

A. No, sir.

Q. Then why didn't you go to him like a man and ask him?

A. It was none of my business.

Q. Was not Lake Hopatcong your business?

A. Along legitimate lines.

Q. Were you not trying to kill this bill by legitimate methods?

A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't you want the bill so modified that Lake Hopatcong would be saved?

A. We wanted our rights there.

Q. Why didn't you go to Senator Fitzherbert when you heard such a statement made; you were chairman of the Committee?

A. I have not been to any Senator or Assemblyman.

Q. Did you tell your counsel about this?

A. I did.

Q. Did he go to Mr. Fitzherbert?

A. I don't know.

Q. Who was your counsel?

A. Mr. Quayle.

Q. Mr. E. A. Quayle?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When was he employed?

A. Along in December or January.

Q. Did you, after this interview, go to Quayle and tell him you had heard this?

A. I told Mr. Quayle when I met him; yes, sir.

Q. What did he say to you?
A. I cannot recall.
Q. Didn't he tell you that he didn't believe it?
A. No, I don't remember that.

The Attorney-General—Mr. Quayle is here and we will let you ask him that.

Q. What other counsel did you have?
A. None at this session.
Q. Didn't you have Mr. Hardin?
A. Oh, yes; Mr. Hardin was retained for one day.
Q. One day?
A. Yes, sir; one appearance.
Q. You never went to Fitzherbert?
A. No, sir. I never went to any Senator or Member of Assembly.
Q. You were not trying very hard anyway?
A. It is not my department.
Q. What is your department?
A. Mine is with the Executive Committee to keep them posted as to what is going on.
Q. And that was your department?
A. As President of this Association.
Q. Was it not your duty as President of the Association to do everything possible to protect its interests?
A. Yes, sir; but not by the buzzing of individual Senators or Assemblymen.
Q. How could you bring your views to their attention?
A. That was for our counsel.
Q. Did you tell your counsel to see Senator Fitzherbert about this?
A. I did not.

Edward A. Quayle, Esquire, a witness produced on the part of the State, being duly sworn by Senator Johnson, testified as follows:

Cross-examination, by the Attorney-General:

Q. Did you represent the Lake Hopatcong Protective Association?
A. I did.
Q. As their attorney?
A. As their attorney.
Q. And you are a practicing attorney of this State?
A. I am.

Q. Where is your office?

A. At Morristown.

Q. Did you have any talk with Senator Fitzherbert during the pendency of this legislation?

A. Yes, I spoke to him once or twice.

Q. Where?

A. In the corridors here, of the State House.

Q. Did you have all of your conversation with him here?

A. All that I ever had with him about the Canal bill was here in the corridor.

Q. Was anybody present when you had these conversations?

A. I think a person by the name of Dee was present on one occasion.

Q. Who?

A. Dee, D-e-e, is his name. His address is Chester, New Jersey.

Q. You don't remember his first name?

A. William.

Q. Was he connected with the Association?

A. No, he was simply down here as a visitor, and I met him in the corridor and stopped to talk with him and during our conversation the Senator came along and I spoke to the Senator about getting his active interest in opposition to the bill.

Q. What did the Senator say?

A. Why, he was with us.

Q. He was with you?

A. He seemed to concur in the ideas that I advanced and thought it was all right.

Q. That is he thought it was all wrong?

A. I mean to say he thought the opposition we had raised to the bill was all right.

Q. That the opposition was all right and the bill was wrong?

A. The bill was wrong. Everybody knew that.

Mr. Edwards—Don't be scurrilous in the presence of author!

Witness—I overlooked that.

Q. Did you have any talk with him about his representing the opposition?

A. Never. I never had any words with him about representing us, or employing or retaining him, or anything of that sort; he never made any proposition to me nor I to him.

Q. Do you know Mr. Richard J. Chaplin?

A. Very well.

Q. Did you tell Mr. Chaplin that Senator Fitzherbert was willing to oppose this bill for a consideration or words, to that effect?

A. Well, if I did, it was because I heard that from Mr. Campbell; I do not recall having told him so; but Mr. Campbell told me something in the line of the testimony he has given here today.

Q. Did not Senator Fitzherbert ask you, or say to you, that he thought the Association ought to put up something to kill this bill?

A. Not a word of it.

Q. What?

A. Never; I should have told him what I thought of him if he did. He never said that anything that indicated it to me at all. I will tell you what he did do that rather rubbed me the wrong way, in one of the conversations I had with him he said that the people of Lake Hopatcong had no rights, that the rest of the people were bound to respect or at least that the people, the great body of the people, required the water of the lake and they were to be considered, their interests were to be considered in preference to the few interested in the lake particularly.

By Mr. Edwards:

Q. That is, that the people were entitled to the water?

A. Yes, sir.

Further direct examination:

Q. You didn't like that?

A. No, because I was interested in the people of the State, too.

By Mr. Edwards:

Q. If you had been representing the people of the State of New Jersey you would have felt very much as Senator Fitzherbert said he felt?

A. I don't think so. The water people have come into our county and taken every available piece of water except Lake Hopatcong and that should be left to the people of Morris County.

Q. Look at the wonderful lake they made for you?

A. Where, at Boonton? But our water has made it.

Q. But your money never would have made it.

A. Yes, but we can't bathe in it or fish in it.

Further direct examination:

Q. And that principle carried to its logical conclusion really denied the rights of property-holders in the neighborhood of Lake Hopatcong to the very protection you thought they ought to have had?

A. That depends upon the point of view.

Q. From the point of view in which it was presented to you at that time?

A. Well, I didn't like it.

Q. It was so adverse to your view of the matter that, as you expressed it, it rather rubbed the fur the wrong way?

A. I did not like it.

Q. What was it that changed the Senator's view about it if he thought that at first?

A. I can only tell you what I think.

Q. Well, what do you think—although I don't suppose that is evidence?

A. Well, a whole lot has gone in here that is not evidence.

Mr. Edwards—Most of it is not; you and I know that, Mr. Quayle.

Witness—Sure. After I returned home after having this conversation with the Senator in the corridor here, I saw a very intimate friend of the Senator's, and told him I didn't think the Senator talked just right, and asked him if he would not see him; so in a few days he returned to me and told me he had seen the Senator, and there was nothing at all the matter with him; he said, "He is all right; you can depend upon him implicitly." That is the way it came back to me. I was a little put out at first, but I satisfied myself afterward everything was all right.

Q. Why did you want to have him seen?

A. That involves a whole lot of ancient history.

Q. Don't start too far back.

A. I would have to go back a long ways to tell the whole thing. I thought there was a feeling between the Senator and myself over some things that arose a long time ago, and I thought that was the reason he talked the way he did.

Q. You thought it was not an expression of judgment, but rather of pique, but after he had been seen you thought he was all right?

A. Well, I won't put it that way; I don't know what you mean by being seen.

Mr. Edwards—After this gentleman had interviewed him.

Witness—After that interview he seemed to be all right, and that gentleman said he was all right. He said, "I don't see why you ever doubted him." He talked differently, perhaps, than what he did to me.

Q. Do you know anything about the Senator's connection or interest in this legislation other than what you have stated that in any way reflects upon him?

A. Not a particle.

Q. You have told all you know, have you?

A. I never have had any conversation with him after his troubles arose here; I don't think I ever had any conversation with him at all.

Q. I do not confine you to that period, but to your entire knowledge of this whole transaction, before the bill was introduced, after it was introduced down to this minute?

A. I do not know anything detrimental to the Senator other than I have told you.

The Attorney-General—I have no further questions.

Cross-examination, by Mr. Edwards.

Q. And the only detrimental thing that you know of is that he rubbed you a little the wrong way?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you thought you were not altogether the man to approach him?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. I mean to approach him in a proper manner?

A. Yes, sir, sure.

Q. And the man you had to speak to him was a friend of Fitzherbert's?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And he was to approach him in a proper manner?

A. Well, that was Theodore King, one of his closest friends.

Q. And Mr. King confirmed your idea that he was all right on this bill?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You talked to him down here as Senator of the county, and in no other way?

A. Yes, sir, and I told him as representative of Morris County he should protect and represent the interests of his constituents.

Q. Have not all the Senators from Morris County been opposed to this bill?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Ever since you can remember?

A. Yes, sir; every one of them.

Q. Are your people opposed to the vacation of the canal or only to the disturbance of the water at Lake Hopatcong?

A. The Board of Chosen Freeholders had passed a resolution protesting against the diversion of the water at Lake Hopatcong; they did not care particularly about canal abandonment, but wanted them to leave the lake up there.

Q. Did you represent the Freeholders also?

A. No, sir; although I drew the resolution the Board of Freeholders passed, and they charged it up to Dan Voorhees, I know that.

Q. You and Dan Voorhees saw the Freeholders?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. As citizens or as representing Lake Hopatcong?

A. In both capacities; I myself am interested in Lake Hopatcong and so is Mr. Voorhees, and I believe conscientiously the State of New Jersey should leave us alone up there and leave the water where it belongs.

Q. Mr. Voorhees has interested in the matter as a citizen or owner of property?

A. He has a large interest in property up there, and, as an individual, I suppose, he also took an active interest against the bill, I know he did.

Q. Did you see Mr. Fitzherbert more than once in the corridor?

A. I think he did meet me twice.

Q. That was the first time—

A. Yes, sir.

Q. —when he rubbed you the wrong way?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Afterwards you talked with him and he said he was opposed to disturbing Lake Hopatcong?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. He was entirely with you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When Mr. Campbell spoke about the fact that Mr. Fitzherbert wanted to be retained you did not believe it, did you?

A. Why this was after the Senator's troubles had started here.

Q. You did not hear it until a long while afterward?

A. No, sir; and of course I would not approach him then with a matter of that kind. He was not active in the Senate; he did not come here afterward.

Q. When you spoke to him down here, as the representative of the Lake Hopatcong interests, the formal charges against him had not yet been made?

A. No, sir.

Q. And when Mr. Campbell told you about this the charges had been made?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you did not feel as though you would like to speak—

Attorney-General—Why not! Let him testify.

Mr. Edwards—I am asking him, in cross-examination.

Attorney-General—You are leading him.

Mr. Edwards—I have a right to.

The Attorney-General—Let him testify; he is a lawyer and you are too. Let him tell his story.

Mr. Edwards—All right.

Q. Did you feel you were called upon to speak to him at that time?

A. I did not.

Q. Did Mr. Campbell tell you that he had this statement from Mr. Fitzherbert?

A. No.

Q. Did he tell you who he had it from?

A. Yes, sir; from Mr. Schwarz.

By Senator Fitzherbert:

Q. What was the time of the interview I had with you?

A. Oh, mercy; I can't tell you; I didn't keep a record of it; I was here after the bill had been introduced and I think a week or two previous to that; I have been in attendance here every week; I don't remember just when that was.

Q. Was it about the time of the first hearing on the bill?

A. Possibly.

Q. Didn't I tell you in that interview that the people outside of Lake Hopatcong were interested?

A. Yes, sir; you did.

Q. In the sale of the water?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that is why they were going to urge the passage of the bill?

A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. Edwards:

Q. After your second interview you had no doubt about Senator Fitzherbert's stand and never paid any more attention to it?

A. No, sir.

By Senator Fitzherbert:

Q. And that was true, what I told you, wasn't it?

A. Yes, sir; only it didn't strike me just exactly right at that time.

Q. Well, the truth came out later?

A. Yes, sir.

Attorney-General—The truth came out later?

Senator Fitzherbert—Urging the passage of the bill to reduce the water four feet so that they could sell it for potable water to the cities.

The Attorney-General—Who could, the State?

Senator Fitzherbert—Yes, that is what was urged here and that is what I told Mr. Quayle.

Benjamin La Rue, a witness produced on the part of the State, being duly sworn by Senator Johnson, testified as follows:

Direct examination, by Attorney-General:

Q. Where do you live?

A. Brick Church, N. J.

Q. What is your business?

A. Lawyer.

Q. Are you connected with the Lehigh Valley Railroad?

A. I am.

Q. In what capacity?

A. Claims attorney.

Q. Do you know Senator Fitzherbert?

A. I do.

Q. Did you have any talk with him about the Morris Canal bill?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you first talk with him?

A. I don't think I had more than one conversation with him; I cannot give you the exact date, I think some time in January.

Q. Where did you have that conversation with him?

A. In my office.

Q. Where was your office?

A. Number 142 Liberty Street, New York.

Q. Did the Senator come to your office?

A. He did.

Q. What did he say to you?

A. Well, our conversation was general during the majority of his visit.

Q. When he got through with generalities what did he say about the pending Morris Canal legislation?

A. He said that he was opposed to the passage of the bill, and he thought possibly the railroad ought to have the right to abandon the canal, but he did not think the railroad was going to pay—that $500,000 was not enough for the railroad to pay for the right to abandon it; that the basin at Jersey City was a very valuable piece of property; that property of that kind was getting more valuable all the time in that locality.

Q. Did he tell you had been over to look at the basin?

A. No; he said he thought he was going to go over to look at the basin.

Q. That was in January?

A. Yes, sir; I think so.

Q. It was after the bill had been introduced anyway?

A. Well, I don't know about that; I paid very little attention to that, it was something I had nothing to do with; I cannot give you the date.

Q. Was he in the habit of coming to call on you at the office?

A. Why, he has been in to see me off and on; yes, sir.

Q. When, prior to that day, had he been in to see you?

A. I cannot give you the date, I do not know.

Q. You do not recall of his ever coming to the office and talking to you?

A. Oh yes, yes; I found a memorandum on my desk one day that he had been there.

Q. That was after this bill had been introduced?

A. No, sir; that was before.

Q. Shortly before?

A. Well, it might have been three months.

Q. Three months?

A. Another time he called and saw me at my office.

Q. Those are the only two times you recall?

A. That is the only time I recall, the memorandum I found on my desk and the time he came in and found me there.

Q. The time when the memorandum was on your desk was about three months before the bill was introduced?

A. No, I think that was longer ago than that.

Q. I thought you said you thought that was about three months ago?

A. No, I think the last time he was in was about three months before January.

Mr. Edwards—What is that?

Witness—The last time he found me in was about three months before January and the memorandum was before that, if I recall correctly.

Q. How long before that?

A. I could not tell you, sir.

Q. When he came in on that occasion, three months before January, what did he tell you?

A. It was a call, I do not know that I can recall a single thing he said to me except possibly about fishing.

Q. Was the Morris Canal matter referred to?

A. No.

Q. What?

A. No, sir; I do not think the Morris Canal bill at that time was thought of.

Q. Oh yes it was, and as a railroad attorney you know it was thought of.

A. Well, I am giving you my opinion; I don't know.

Q. You know that a year ago there was a commission appointed by the Legislature to prepare the bill?

A. Yes, I remember it now.

Q. You knew it before?

A. I may have known it.

Q. You are connected with the law department of your railroad?

A. Yes, sir; that is true.

Q. And that is one of the things you must have known?

A. Not necessarily.

Q. Your railroad was interested in this matter?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you mean to say that you, as a member of the law department of a railroad so vitally interested in that Morris Canal legislation, did not know that the Legislature a year ago or more appointed a commission to prepare this bill; do you wish to put yourself in that position?

A. Well, I knew they wanted to abandon the canal if they could, but as to the details of the commission or of the bill to be prepared, I knew nothing about it.

Q. I have asked you if you did not know the Legislature had appointed a commission to provide a bill covering the matter of the abandonment of the canal a year ago?

A. I don't think I did; no, sir.

Q. There was an interview three months before the first of January—before January?

A. I think so.

Q. And you cannot recall that Senator Fitzherbert said anything about the abandonment matter on that occasion?

A. No, I don't think he said a word about it.

Q. He came into your office some time in January as I recall your statement and you talked about things in general?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And finally he volunteered to say to you that he was opposed to the bill?

A. Yes, sir; he said that.

Q. And gave as his reason that $500,000 was not enough as the price of the basin?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. He said it was valuable?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And he told you he was going over to look at it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. To look at the basin?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that is about all that occurred on that occasion?

A. Yes, sir. Well he said he was opposed to the abandonment at all, and he was opposed to the railroads anyway, had always been opposed to railroads. I did not charge my memory with the conversation.

Q. Did you report that conversation to your superiors?

A. I think I did; yes, sir. I told that conversation to Mr. Boles, our general attorney.

Q. Why did you tell it to him if you thought it was a mere casual remark of the Senator's?

A. Well, I knew that the bill was before the Legislature; I reported the conversation to him.

Q. You knew your railroad was vitally interested in it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. So that, this casual, friendly conversation with Fitzherbert you deemed it your duty to present to Mr. Boles?

A. That part of it which referred to the canal bill I did.

Q. And you did tell him?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you have a call from Mr. Harrington?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know how Mr. Harrington is related to Mr. Fitzherbert?

A. I do not, I understand he is a cousin; I never knew that he was.

Q. When did you have your call from Mr. Harrington?

A. I cannot tell the date, probably three or four weeks after Mr. Fitzherbert was at the office.

Q. You mean after the occasion when he told you he was against the bill?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And what did Mr. Harrington say to you?

Mr. Edwards—I object. We have on that very point the ruling of the Senate in this very matter. The Senate decided they would not hear what Mr. Harrington had said unless it would appear that he was sent by Mr. Fitzherbert and Mr. Harrington said he was not sent by Mr. Fitzherbert. We have the absolute ruling of the Senate on this.

Senator Johnson—I think we had better not hear this

You can call Mr. Harrington later, can you not?

Attorney-General—Yes, I will call him.

Mr. Edwards—Then I think he should be called so that we may not have testimony that is irrelevant on the record; they ought to connect Senator Fitzherbert with such an important matter as that.

Attorney-General—I suggest that the order of calling witnesses is entirely immaterial; it is a matter of mere convenience.

Is Mr. Harrington here today?

Yes, he is here.

Mr. Edwards—Mr. Harrington is here and should be called first, that is what was done by the Senate.

Attorney-General—It was not done by the Senate, it was done by me; I called Mr. Harrington and arranged the order of witnesses. But the procedure is a matter wholly within the control of the committee, and I have nothing further to say. Whatever I am directed by the committee I will do.

The Chairman—The Attorney-General may proceed.

Q. What did Harrington say to you?

Mr. Edwards—I protest against this testimony.

A. Why, our conversation was general when he got in there.

Q. The same kind of general conversation the Senator had had?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. After you got through with generalities what were the particulars related to the Morris Canal matters?

A. He told me that he had helped Senator Fitzherbert in his election and if there was anything I wanted at Trenton he would be only too glad to get it for me. I told him there was nothing at Trenton I wanted and he finally said as he was going out of the door, finally asked me why I didn't appoint Fitzherbert—have him appointed—the counsel for the company at Trenton to look after the legislation.

Q. What did you say to that?

A. My exact conversation I cannot give you, but I think I said we were not hiring any lawyers at Trenton to look after our legislation.

Q. The abandonment bill was then pending?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did he refer to the Morris Canal legislation?

A. I do not recall that he did.

Q. You do not recall that he didn't, either do you?

A. No, sir; he may have.

Q. You knew what he meant when he said that didn't you?

Mr. Edwards—I object.

A. I do not know that I did.

Mr. Edwards—All right, I withdraw the objection.

Q. What?

A. I do not know that I knew what he meant.

Q. But you reported that conversation to the chief of your department, didn't you?

A. I did; yes, sir.

Q. And when you reported it to the chief of your department was that because you didn't know what he meant?

A. No, sir; I thought it was information he ought to have.

Q. Why did you think he ought to have it?

A. Well, conversation with reference to the canal bill; I didn't know.

Q. Then it did refer to the canal bill; I thought you said it didn't?

A. Well, if it didn't—I don't remember whether it did or not, I don't remember whether the canal bill was mentioned by Mr. Harrington.

Q. If it did not refer to the canal bill you would not be apt to report it to your chief?

A. Probably not.

Q. So that, reasoning back about things, inasmuch as you did report it to the chief, you conclude he did refer to the canal bill, that is your best judgment?

A. Well, possibly he did; I cannot think of anything.

Q. But you cannot think of any reason why you should have reported it to your chief unless it did refer to the Morris Canal bill, can you?

A. No, sir; I cannot.

Q. You have said you reported to your chief, whom did you report to in fact?

A. Mr. Boles, the general attorney.

Q. Is Mr. Boles here to-day?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you have any talk with Mr. Harrington after that?

A. No, sir.

Q. You did not communicate with him in any way?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did he communicate with you? ?

A. No, sir; he did not.

Q. You have described that interview you had with Mr. Fitzherbert about the first of January—

A. During the month of January.

Q. Yes, in the month of January, in which he told you he was against this legislation, that $500,000 was not enough, that the basin was valuable and so forth, and you say Mr. Harrington came to see you three or four weeks after that?

A. I think about that time.

Q. Did you have any further communication with Senator Fitzherbert?

A. No, sir; I did not.

Q. You never had any communication with him at all?

A. No, sir; I did not.

Q. Neither by letter or telephone?

A. No, sir.

Q. Is it not true that Senator Fitzherbert called you on the telephone after you had your talk with Mr. Harrington—

A. No, sir; he did not.

Q. Let me finish my question?

A. Yes.

Q. Didn't you have a conversation with Senator Fitzherbert on the telephone and didn't he ask you in that conversation if he had gotten his message through Mr. Harrington or words to that effect?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you deny that?

A. Absolutely.

Q. Do you deny that you ever told that to anybody?

A. Yes, I deny completely.
Q. You never told it to anybody?
A. No, sir.
Q. How long have you known the Senator?
A. About six years I should think.
Q. Are you not very friendly with him?
A. No, no more than he is a fisherman and I fish once in a while.
Q. Fish in the same pond, I suppose?
A. We did once; yes.
Q. Live in the same town, do you?
A. No, sir.

Attorney-General—That is all.

Cross-examination, by Mr. Edwards:
Q. Before you went with the Lehigh Valley, what road were you with?
A. The D., L. & W.
Q. And in the claim department?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And the claim department has very little to do with the general policy of the road has it?
A. Very little, if any.
Q. You simply have to look after the accident cases and the burning cases?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And that keeps you pretty busy on those roads?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. How long were you with the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad?
A. About six years.
Q. During that time did Mr. Fitzherbert have a number of cases against the company?
A. Oh, I think he had two or three.
Q. And in that way you got acquainted with him?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Do you remember, when he came to see you in January, you telephoned him to come in to talk about a fishing trip?
A. No, I don't think I ever told him to come in about a fishing trip, but he telephoned me and asked me if I was going to be in the following day after that and I said I was.
Q. Yes.
A. And he came in I think the same day; he either telephoned me or telegraphed me, and he came in the same day and I was there.

Q. And the early part of your conversation was about a proposed fishing trip, was it not?

A. Yes, sir; he said we would go fishing this spring.

Q. Where did you expect to go?

A. Up around Dover?

Q. Up around Dover?

A. Chester.

Q. And that was the main part of your conversation?

A. I think it was, until the Morris Canal bill came up.

Q. That came up?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. He made the same objection to it a great many other people were making, did he not?

A. I don't know much about the Morris Canal bill.

Q. You do not know that Mr. Harrington came from Senator Fitzherbert, do you; or by his authority?

A. I do not know anything about it.

Q. Harrington did not claim he came by his authority, did he?

A. No, sir; not to me.

Q. Eh—not to you

A. Not to me.

Q. Was Harrington in the employ of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company?

A. No, he never worked for the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

Q. But you knew him when you were with the Lackawanna?

A. Yes, he used to look over fire claim matters for me and estimate the damage.

Q. Is he still in the employ of the D., L. & W.?

A. I don't know whether they use him now for that purpose or not.

Q. But you were on friendly relations with him?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You did not have Fitzherbert appointed counsel?

A. No, sir; we don't employ legislators as counsel, and I could not appoint him anyway.

By Senator Fitzherbert:

Q. Mr. La Rue, before I came down to see you, don't you remember calling me on the 'phone and talking about fishing one afternoon before I called on you, and you asked me when I was in town to drop in and see you?

A. I may have done that, I don't remember now.

Q. Didn't you receive a telegram after that from me that I was going to call?

A. Yes, sir; there was a telegram; it was a telegram, not a telephone conversation.

Q. You called me on the 'phone and afterwards you received a telegram from me that I was coming down to the city and would drop in to see you.

A. I think so.

The Attorney-General—Pardon me, Mr. LaRue, I understood you to say to me most emphatically that you never had any telephone communication with the Senator.

Witness—After Mr. Harrington's call, you said.

Mr. Edwards—After Mr. Harrington's call, yes.

Witness—I think the Senator is right, that I did call him on the telephone at Dover.

Senator Fitzherbert—Yes.

By the Attorney-General:

Q. When was it you called him on the telephone?

A. I could not tell you the date.

Q. Was it before or after his first call?

A. I could not say positively whether it was before or after; I don't know.

Q. What occasion had you to call him on the telephone?

A. There was a bill in the Legislature I think, about a crossing, a highway crossing, and I called him on the telephone in reference to that, in reference to that bill.

Q. Then whenever you had the conversation with him on the 'phone it was after the Legislature was in session, was it not?

A. Yes, I think it was.

Q. And it was while this canal bill was pending?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And having called him on the 'phone to talk to him about legislation, you did not say anything to him about the Morris Canal bill in which your company was so vitally interested?

A. Absolutely not.

Q. You began to talk to him about this crossing bill, is that it?

A. That is what I called him up for.

Q. What did you say to him about the crossing bill?

A. There was some parts of the crossing bill with reference to the number of highway crossing that were to be eliminated.

Mr. Edwards—Each year?

Witness—Yes, sir; each year, based upon the mileage within the State, and I called him up and asked him what his opinion was on that phase of the bill.

Q. At whose suggestion did you call him up?

A. Either Mr. Pratt's or Mr. Boles', I cannot remember which.

Q. What did he say to you?

A. I really do not remember what he said; I did not charge my memory with any of these things, to remember what the exact conversation was nor who started it.

Q. Yes?

A. I have nothing to do with legislation.

Q. You seem to have had enough to do with it to have been the instrument by which the Senator was communicated with over the telephone?

A. On that one particular thing, yes, sir.

Q. And you were directed by someone who was your superior in the law department to find out how Senator Fitzherbert felt about this grade crossing matter?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you did as you were bid?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And the thing made such a vague impression on your mind you cannot even remember what the Senator said?

A. Yes, sir; precisely that.

Q. And whatever he did say, anyhow, you reported to your superior?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And neither upon that occasion nor any other did the Senator ask you if you got his message through Mr. Harrington?

A. Never, no, sir.

Q. And you reported that Harrington interview, I think you said, to your superior?

A. I did.

By Mr. Edwards.

Q. Mr. LaRue, you were somewhat more connected with the grade crossing bill than you were with the Morris Canal bill, were you not?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You had to work up statistics to show the number of accidents and the per cent. of claims for your company?

A. Well, they asked me if I could tell about what the accidents on highway crossings in New Jersey cost us, etc.

Q. And then you are also brought in contact, are you not, with a great many of those matters in the State, a number of them?

A. Well, not so many in New Jersey; we do not have very much business in New Jersey on accidents; we have but a few accidents in the State of New Jersey.

By the Attorney-General.

Q. What was this telegram you have referred to that the Senator refreshed your mind about?

A. He telegraphed me, I think, if I was going to be in the next day, going to be there on some particular day.

Q. The Senator did?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Telegraphed you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you reply to the telegram?

A. I don't believe I did, I may have.

Q. You did not telegraph him?

A. I don't think I did, but I may have in the first instance.

Q. About this matter?

A. No, sir.

Q. Or while it was pending?

A. Never about the Morris Canal bill, no, sir.

Q. Nor you did not telegraph him at any time while the legislation was pending?

A. No, I don't think I did.

Q. But you think he telegraphed you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. To know whether you would be in on a certain day?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You did not reply to it?

A. I don't think I was there to reply to it at the time the telegram was received.

Q. Did he come the day suggested in the message?

A. I don't know.

Q. And you don't know whether he came to see you twice or three times during the pendency of this legislation?

A. Well, I think he was there once during the pendency of the legislation.

Q. If he came in response to the inquiry or the implied plan of his telegram he must have come on the occasion when you say he came about some time in January, he must have been making preparations for that meeting?

A. I don't remember what the preparation was, I know he telephoned me—he telegraphed me.

Q. Did he telephone you?

A. Yes, I said so.

Q. No, you did not, you testified some time ago that you telephoned him.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And in response to my direct inquiry you said he had not telephoned you.

Mr. Edwards—That was about Harrington.

Witness—The telephone conversation I had with him was about the crossing bill, I told you about that.

Q. Yes, I know you did say that.

A. That is the only occasion I remember of ever calling him on the telephone. Whether he came in on the date he stated on his telegram or not I don't know.

Q. Did he ever call you on the telephone?

A. Yes, I told you about that; he did.

Q. Did he ever call you more than once?

A. No, sir.

Q. What did he say to you?

A. He wanted to know if I was going to be in the following day, and I said I expected to and he came in that same day.

Q. The same day?

A. Yes, sir; that he telephoned, and that was when we had the conversation about the Morris Canal bill.

Q. And that is the only day he called as far as you now recall?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. So that he informed you in advance—wanted to know in advance if you were going to be in the next day and you said yes?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And when he came in the next day he talked about things in general?

A. No, sir; he came in the same day; he asked me if I was going to be in the following day and I said I was, but he came in the same day he telephoned.

Q. And after he telephoned, at any rate, he came in and you had this conversation you have described in which you talked about things in general and then he told you he was against the abandonment scheme.

A. Yes, sir.

By Senator Fitzherbert:

Q. Have you a copy of the telegram you received from me?

A. No, I don't believe I kept it.

Q. Was not that telegram received by you a few days after you had telephoned me?

A. I do not know about the date, I could not testify to that.

Q. And don't you remember you were not home on the day I called, when the telegram said I would be there?

A. I don't think I got your telegram and I don't think I was there when you called in pursuance of that.

Q. Don't you remember my speaking to you, that I had sent you a telegram the day before when I was on my way to Trenton, and on my way back from Trenton I called to see you the next day?

A. I do not remember; I do not recall it.

Q. On that day when you spoke about the abandonment of the canal, did you not ask me my views about it, that I had not spoken a word about the canal bill in our conversation until you put me in mind of it?

A. I do not remember about that, Senator; I do not recall.

Mr. Edwards—Can you recall who brought up the topic, you or the Senator?

Q. Didn't you ask me what I thought about the canal bill before I left your office?

A. I don't remember whether I brought it up.

Mr. Edwards—Or why he brought it up?

Witness—I do not remember.

The Chairman—Did any other member of the Legislature approach you about this bill?

Witness—No, sir; not anybody else.

Edgar H. Boles, a witness produced on the part of the State, being duly sworn by Senator Johnson, testified as follows:

Direct examination, by the Attorney-General.

Q. Are you connected with the Lehigh Valley Railroad?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. In what capacity?

A. General attorney.

Q. Who is your immediate superior?

A. Mr. Thomas, the President.

Q. Are you the head of the law department?

A. Well, I am at the head of the law department practically, but we have a general counsel, Mr. John G. Johnson, of Philadelphia, in reference to general advisory matters.

Q. Who is your general solicitor?

A. We have none.

Q. You are practically then the head of the law department?

A. Yes.

Q. And your immediate superior is Mr. Thomas, the President

A. Mr. Thomas, the President; I report to him direct in all matters.

Q. And receive orders from no one but him?

A. No, sir, except any orders in reference to the conduct of important matters where Mr. Johnson is involved, of course, I take his orders.

Q. You know Mr. LaRue, of course?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. He is one of your employees?

A. One of my assistants.

Q. Do you know Senator Fitzherbert?

A. I never saw the gentleman until to-day.

Q. Did Mr. LaRue report to you—have you heard his testimony here?

A. Yes.

Q. Did he report to you the two interviews which he has described as having had, one with the Senator and the other with Mr. Harrington?

A. He did.

Q. Did you report them to your superior?

A. I did.

Q. Mr. Thomas?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did Mr. LaRue report to you that he had an interview with Senator Fitzherbert and was talking with him about this matter over the telephone?

Mr. Edwards—I might as well make my objection now.

I object to any conversation between Mr. LaRue and Mr. Boles. It is entirely hearsay; we have had Mr. LaRue's own story, and this either must be introduced for the purpose of bolstering up Mr. LaRue's story, in which case it is incompetent, or for the purpose of contradicting him, which is likewise incompetent. I say it is a hearsay testimony; we can go on with this thing, and it would soon be like the story of the three black crows and finally we would have something entirely different from what it was at the beginning and instead of the girl throwing up something that was blacker than a crow she would be throwing up three black crows.

Senator Leavitt—The fact is this committee was appointed to hear the rather indefinite charges made against Senator Fitzherbert; there were no definite charges as I remember it, and it is for this committee to find out the truth in the best way it can in reference to those charges.

Mr. Edwards—You have found out there is no truth and why not stop with that?

Senator Johnson—I want to be as liberal as possible in this inquiry but I think we have gone as far as is necessary in this respect.

Witness—I can tell you in a general way all I know about it in a very few words.

Attorney-General—I have not been permitted to ask you to do that and the gentleman is contending you should not speak at all.

Do I understand I am to make that inquiry?

The Chairman—Yes.

Q. My inquiry is this, you have a distinct recollection that Mr. LaRue did report to you the conversation he had had with Senator Fitzherbert and the conversation he had had with Mr. Harrington?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Being the conversation to which Mr. LaRue has referred this morning in his testimony in your hearing?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. I ask you if Mr. LaRue did not say to you, did not tell you, did not report to you, an interview that he had with Mr. Fitzherbert over the telephone that related in some way to this Morris Canal abandonment bill?

A. Mr. LaRue told me some time in January, I cannot tell you the exact date, that Senator Fitzherbert had called him on the 'phone, without saying what it was, and had subsequently come in to see him, and that during the course of the personal interview he said that Senator Fitzherbert had expressed himself in opposition to the Morris Canal bill. I said I was sorry to hear it and I think that is about where it ended. I told that to Mr. Corbin and Mr. Thomas; Mr. Corbin had actually been actively at work in reference to that bill and I reported it to him simply as a matter of information in case he might care to use it, if he had any argument to make—any Senators he knew to be in opposition to the bill, he could use that in approaching them.

By Mr. Edwards:

Q. That was Mr. William H. Corbin?

A. Yes, sir.

By the Attorney-General:

Q. If you will allow me, I will ask my question again, your answer is not responsive to it; my question is this, whether or not Mr. LaRue did not report to you he had had a conversation with Senator Fitzherbert over the telephone in which the Senator had talked with him and said something about this Morris Canal abandonment?

A. If you put it in exactly that form I shall have to answer no.

Q. What form would it have to be put in to have you answer yes?

A. So far as actual conversation over the 'phone was concerned, my recollection is that Mr. LaRue never said that the Morris Canal bill was mentioned over the 'phone.

Q. What did he say was mentioned over the 'phone?

A. That Senator Fitzherbert asked him if he was going to be in, he wanted to come in and see him.

Q. Was this before or after Mr. Harrington called—you were informed about the Harrington call?

A. He told me later about the Harrington call, so I presume the telephone call was prior to Mr. Harrington coming in.

Q. Did you hear of his having any conversation at all over the telephone with the Senator, about anything, after the Harrington call?

A. No, sir.

Q. You did not hear that?

The Attorney-General—I have no further questions.

Mr. Edwards—I have nothing, Mr. Boles.

Richard J. Chaplin, a witness produced on the part of the State, being duly sworn by Senator Johnson, testified as follows:

Direct examination, by the Attorney-General:

Q. You have been subpœnaed here?

A. Yes, sir.

Attorney-General—I wish to say to the committee I am unable to determine what this gentleman knows.

Q. What do you know about this matter, anything?

A. Only a conversation I had with Mr. Quayle, the attorney for the Protective Association of Lake Hopatcong.

Q. What was that?

Mr. Edwards—I object to that—conversation with Mr. Quayle.

The Attorney-General—I do not know whether it is relevant or not; I do not know what this gentleman's testimony will be; he has been subpœnaed and is here, and the committee can receive the testimony if they choose.

Senator Leavitt—I think in order to make our report, we should find out what these witnesses know.

Mr. Edwards—We have heard what Mr. Quayle knows, why should we take time to hear what Mr. Quayle told this witness?

By Senator Johnson:

Q. All that you can tell is what Mr. Quayle told you?

A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. Edwards:

Q. And it does not contradict Mr. Quayle?

A. No, sir.

By the Attorney-General:

Q. Is it confirmatory of what Mr. Quayle said?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And it does not put the matter in any different light?

A. No, sir.

The Attorney-General—Then I do not see how it is relevant.

Max M. Stallman, Esq., a witness produced on the part of the State, being duly sworn by Senator Johnson, testified as follows:

Direct examination, by the Attorney-General:

Q. You are connected with the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railway?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What is your connection with it?

A. General attorney.

Q. Do you know anything about this matter?

A. No, sir.

&. You do not know why you have been subpœnaed?

A. I do not.

Attorney-General—I do not either.

Mr. Edwards—No cross-examination.

Attorney-General—Wait a minute; don't be in such a hurry about excusing him.

Mr. Edwards—I beg your pardon.

Q. Do you know Senator Fitzherbert?

A. I have met him down here and said "good morning" to him occasionally.

Q. You know nothing of his connection with this Morris Canal bill?

A. Nothing.

Q. Were you interested at all in its passage?

A. No, I had no particular interest in the bill excepting that the construction and maintenance of bridges is a great expense to our company and I hoped if we ever got rid of the canal that would be the end of the bridges but I had no interest in the bill specifically and attended none of the hearings; in fact I have not read the bill.

Q. Did you ever have any talk with the Senator about it?

A. Not a word.

Q. You do not know whether he felt friendly or unfriendly toward it?

A. I do not.

Q. You know nothing that throws any light on his interest or lack of interest, or his activities, in connection with it?

A. No one ever mentioned the Morris Canal bill to me or I to them with the possible exception that a friend of mine might have asked me something about it, being connected with the company, but I had no interest in the bill and no conversation otherwise with anybody about it.

The Attorney-General—That is all unless the committee know something they desire to interrogate the witness about.

Chester F. Gray, a witness produced on the part of the State, being duly sworn by Senator Johnson, testified as follows:

Direct examination, by the Attorney-General.

Q. Where do you live?

A. Trenton, New Jersey.

Q. What is your business?

A. Claim agent of the Delaware, Lackawanna Railroad.

Q. Do you know Senator Fitzherbert?

A. I do.

Q. Did you ever have any talk with him about the Morris Canal abandonment scheme?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever have any talk with Mr. Harrington about it?
A. No, sir.
Q. Did you ever talk with anybody who represented or pretended to represent Senator Fitzherbert in the matter?
A. No, sir.
Q. Do you know anything about his interest or his lack of interest in this Legislature?
A. I do not.
Q. Do you know why you have been subpœnaed?
A. I do not.

Attorney-General—Unless the committee has something to ask the witness I have nothing further.

Mr. Edwards—I have no questions.

E. H. Harrington, a witness produced on the part of the State, being duly sworn by Senator Johnson, testified as follows:

Direct examination, by the Attorney-General.
Q. Where do you live?
A. Succasunna.
Q. Do you know Senator Fitzherbert?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Are you related to him?
A. Yes, sir; by marriage.
Q. How far off are you by marriage?
A. He married a niece of mine.
Q. Do you know Mr. LaRue?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Did you call on him at his office in the Lehigh Valley quarters?
A. I called at his place many times.
Q. Did you call at his office at some time while this Morris Canal legislation was pending?
A. I don't know whether it was on or not; I was there at one time.
Q. What did you go to see him about?
A. I was down on business, I wanted to buy a knee injecter.
Q. You didn't buy that of Mr. LaRue?
A. No, sir; but I stepped in there, I was waiting for my train.
Q. Was that your business when you called on him, merely to kill time while you were waiting for a train?
A. Yes, sir; I just went in to see him.
Q. Were you in the habit of calling on him in that way in his office?
A. I have been in there quite often.

Q. Just go in there to kill time?

A. Oh, I go in to see him.

Q. Have you heard his testimony?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. He said that you came in there three or four weeks after a visit the Senator had made him in January, and while this legislation was pending, and he said that you told him you had helped Fitzherbert in his election, and you asked him if there was anything he wanted; that you could get it for him in Trenton.

Mr. Edwards—Would be only too glad to get it for him.

Q. Yes, only too glad to get it for him. Did you say that to him?

A. I cannot exactly say. We talked about fishing first.

Q. Oh, I know fishing was a great thing in his mind and yours too, but I am not talking about that now, I ask if you said that to him?

Mr. Edwards—Tell us what you did say to him.

The Attorney-General—No, you let me examine him.

Mr. Edwards—But you have no right to lead him in that way.

(Being so directed, the stenographer read the question of the witness as follows: "Mr. LaRue said you came into his office three or four weeks after a visit the Senator had made him in January, and while this legislation was pending, and he said that you told him you had helped Fitzherbert in his election, and you asked him if there was anything he wanted; that you would be glad to get it for him. I ask you if you said that to him?")

Witness—No, sir; our conversation was—

Q. Answer that yes or no.

A. I told him if there was any way I could help him I would be happy to.

Q. Then you did say that substantially, what I have embodied in the question?

A. Well, I wanted to see what was said before.

Q. You are going to answer that question yes or no; if it is wrong, say so, and if it is right, say so.

(Being so directed, the stenographer again read the question as above recorded.)

A. I can't remember, I can't say.

The Attorney-General—Let the question be read again.

Q. (Question again read to witness.) Yes or no?

A. I do not remember of saying it.

Q. You do not say you did not say it; you simply say you have no recollection of saying it.

A. I do not remember any conversation of that kind, no, sir.

Q. He also says that you asked him why he did not have Senator Fitzherbert appointed as counsel for the company to look after the legislation in Trenton; did you say that to him?

Witness—That is when I was going out.

Q. Then you did say it?

Mr. Edwards—What did you say?

Witness—We were talking about Senator Fitzherbert.

The Attorney-General—Whom are you addressing, Senator Fitzherbert or this committee?

Mr. Edwards—He is addressing the stenographer.

Witness—I am addressing you people here.

Q. Then you did say that?

A. Why, sure. He talked about that the Senator was opposed to the bill.

Q. Who talked about that?

A. Mr. LaRue.

Q. Mr. LaRue told you the Senator was opposed to the bill?

A. Yes, sir; he did.

Q. Yes?

A. And when I was going out I said, "Well, Mr. LaRue, the only thing you can do with him, I suppose you ought to retain him as counsel for you." That is what was said.

Q. You did say that to him?

A. Yes, sir; as I was going out of the door.

Q. By way of friendly advice?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And when you said that, of course you had had no talk with Fitzherbert?

A. Never.

Q. He didn't know you made that suggestion?

A. He never knew I was there.

Q. He never knew it until to-day?

A. I never said it in his presence before.

Q. As far as you know he never knew it from that time until now?

A. No.

Q. And you had no authority from him to make that statement?

A. No, sir.

Q. You believed he was willing to be retained?

Mr. Edwards—I object to that.

A. I don't know anything about that.

Q. You volunteered that as a piece of friendly advice?

A. Mr. LaRue, he said that Mr. Fitzherbert was entirely opposed to that bill?

Q. Did he tell you how he knew?

A. No, he did not say.

Q. Didn't he tell you Fitzherbert had been there to say so?

A. Not to my knowledge; no, sir.

Q. He would not have said it without your knowledge; do you mean not to your recollection?

A. Not to my recollection, no.

Q. When you went there to kill time between trains you and he talked about fishing for a while and then, I suppose about the time you were going out, about train time, he said to you that Fitzherbert was against the bill?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you said to him "why don't you retain him"?

A. I think I said that going out; yes, sir.

Q. Just as you were going out?

A. Yes, sir.

The Attorney-General—That is all.

Cross-examination, by Mr. Edwards:

Q. You had no authority to say that?

A. No, sir.

Q. And you said it in kind of a joking way?

A. That is the way we always talked together.

Q. Just as you might have said it about any other Senator?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you had much to do with politics?

A. No, sir.

Q. Or with Trenton and the way legislation is carried on here?

A. I was called down here once before while they were in session, but never before.

Q. You did not know that the traditions of the Senate—

A. I didn't know anything about it.

Q. —and the committee sitting here are very much opposed to paid Senators sitting in the Senate?

A. Well, they didn't pay me, I would rather go home.

By the Attorney-General:

Q. Just a minute before you go home. You say that you said this to him in a joking way?

A. Yes, sir; just as I went out.

Q. You told me you said it in the way of friendly advice?

A. I don't think I ever spoke to him of advice.

Q. I asked you, and in your testimony you said you did, and Mr. Edwards said you said it jokingly to him and you very obligingly said yes that was so?

A. As I was going out, as a joke.

Q. It did not occur to you to describe it as a joke until counsel suggested to you that it was a joke, did it?

A. Well, I would not make it any other way.

Q. You would not make it any other way?

A. No, sir.

Q. Yet you have already said to counsel that according to your idea of the matter there was no impropriety in the Senator being retained?

A. Well, I don't know why there was any.

Q. Then why should it be a joke, why would it not be a serious suggestion and not a joke?

A. Well, I don't know about that.

The Attorney-General—Well, I don't think you do; that is all.

By Mr. Edwards.

Q. What did Mr. LaRue say to you in answer to that?

A. I could not say.

Q. That was sort of a parting shot, was it not?

A. I don't remember anything about it.

Q. You did not think this was by way of advice until the Attorney-General suggested to you that it was by way of advice?

A. No, sir.

Q. You did not report that interview to Mr. Fitzherbert?

A. I never went to him at all.

Q. And he never authorized you to go there?

A. No, sir.

Q. And he never knew you had gone?

A. No, sir.

By the Attorney-General.

Q. And after you had cracked this very humorous joke in Mr. LaRue's presence did he laugh hilariously?

A. I don't remember.

Q. You don't remember?

A. I went right out.

Q. And you could not tell whether he laughed or smiled or wept?

A. No, sir.

By Mr. Edwards.

Q. You could not tell what he did behind the door?

A. No, sir.

Senator Leavitt—Did you ask him to retain any other Senator?

Witness—What was that?

Mr. Edwards—He asks you, did you ask him to retain Senator Leavitt?

A. No, sir; but I might have if I had known him.

Senator Leavitt—That was not my question.

Mr. Edwards—No, that is the way I put it, but he answered it anyway.

Attorney-General—That is all I have at the present time to present to the committee.

Mr. Edwards—You do not intend to present any testimony. You say there is nothing for us to meet?

The Chairman (after consultation with the other members of the committee)—The committee will take a recess for a few minutes.

(After an interval of about fifteen minutes the committee reconvened, and the proceedings continued as follows):

Attorney-General—Mr. Schwarz, a witness sworn here this morning, has expressed a desire to go back on the stand to make some further statements. Do you still wish to do so Mr. Schwarz?

Mr. Schwarz—Yes, sir; I do.

Attorney-General—I have no doubt the committee will give you the opportunity if you wish to do that.

The Chairman—Yes, you may proceed Mr. Schwarz.

Mr. Schwarz—In respect to myself and Senator Fitzherbert, I want to deny the words that were mentioned by Mr. Campbell in his statement this morning. The words he used were not the words that were stated. You may take the words and put them together and they have some other meaning.

In our conversation at Hoboken I said to Mr. Campbell about our retaining Senator Fitzherbert, I said it in this way: "He represents our company and I think it would be well to have him represent all of the interests of Lake Hopatcong, and in that way we could pay him for the time he would use, he would consume considerable time in looking after our interests and we could, altogether, pay him for the time consumed"; those are the words I used at Hoboken and I want that corrected.

Attorney-General—Did he then say to you that to have a Senator representing interests of this kind meant State Prison?

Mr. Schwarz—No, sir; he did not.

Attorney-General—That is a matter of imagination?

Mr. Schwarz—He said "Can a Senator represent us?" And I said, "Why, yes; he can."

Attorney-General—Then did he say to you that was a State's Prison matter?

Mr. Schwarz—I do not remember his mentioning State's Prison at all.

Attorney-General—Did he say anything about Morris Plains?

Mr. Schwarz—No, sir.

Attorney-General—That detail of the conversation was a mere figment of his imagination?

Mr. Schwarz—Yes, sir; those words never took place at all.

Mr. Edwards—You were acting entirely on your own behalf and not on Senator Fitzherbert's behalf?

Mr. Schwarz—Yes, sir.

The Chairman—The committee has held a conference and it has been decided to adjourn this matter subject to the call of the chair, if there is anything further to be brought before the committee.

Mr. Edwards—I hope and trust if you are to have another hearing it will be at an early date. It is hardly fair to have this matter hanging over Senator Fitzherbert's head in this way.

Senator Johnson—I may say that the adjournment of the committee is not taken for the purpose of hearing further testimony, and, if I understand it, the committee is pretty well agreed on the subject.

Senator Fitzherbert—Then if you are not going to take any more testimony, I should like you to make a report of your findings to-day. I do not think it is fair to the citizens of Morris County or to myself that this matter should be left hanging over my head.

The Chairman—According to the resolution under which we are acting we cannot make any report to-day.

Senator Johnson—We hope to do so as soon as possible.

The Attorney-General—Do I understand from the Chairman, as representing the committee, that it is purpose to receive further testimony?

The Chairman—If there is anything further brought to our attention we shall surely take it up. We were appointed to make inquiry into this case and we shall do so.

Attorney-General—There are some witnesses here who were subpœnaed from Morris Plains, and I desire to announce, under the direction of the Chairman, that those witnesses will not be called; they should get their mileage from the Sergeant-at-Arms and not attend again unless they are so notified.

The commitee then adjourned.

Mr. Martens moved that action on the nomination of ex-Senator William C. Gebhardt, in accordance with the customary courtesy, be taken without reference,

Which was agreed to.

The nomination of—

To be Clerk of the Supreme Court, William C. Gebhart, Clinton,

Was then taken up.

Upon the question, "Will the Senate advise and consent to the said nomination?" the ayes and nays were taken, with the following result:

In the affirmative were—

Messrs. Barber, Colgate, Davis, Fielder (President), Fitzherbert, Leavitt, Low, Martens, McGinnis, Munson, Nichols, Pierce, Ramsay, Read, Slocum, Smalley, Wheaton, White—18.

In the negative—None.

So the said nomination was declared unanimously confirmed.

The remaining nominations were referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Mr. Pierce offered the following resolution, which was read and referred to the Committee on Judiciary:

WHEREAS, Under the opinion of the Attroney-General the validity of present appointments to offices becoming vacant after March 4th, 1913, is not free from doubt; and

WHEREAS, It is neither desirable nor proper to take action which may lead to litigation and possible far reaching and disastrous results; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate defer action upon nominations in such cases.

The following communication from the Attorney-General of the State of New Jersey was received, read and referred to the Committee on Judiciary:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL,
TRENTON, N. J., February 19th, 1913.

Hon. William L. Dill, Secretary, New Jersey State Senate, Trenton, New Jersey:

MY DEAR SIR—I have just received your communication of February 18th, in which, pursuant to a resolution of the Senate, you request my opinion upon the following distinct matters:

1. Assuming the Governor shall resign on or before March 4th, 1913, will nominations and confirmations now made to offices becoming vacant after that date be binding upon the incoming Governor?

2. Under nominations and confirmations so made, will the appointments be valid even should the incoming Governor sign the commissions?

3. The electoral vote having already been cast electing the Governor President, and he having signified his purpose to accept, does this constitute an acceptance of the Presidency within the meaning of our Constitution, making the office of Governor vacant?

4. The Governor having announced his purpose to resign March 1st, will nominations made by him within the week prior to that date be invalid by reason of that fact?

Some preliminary considerations of principles which must govern in the problem thus raised, should precede any categorical answer to your inquiries. I think we may conclude that there are certain essentials to the lawful exercise of the appointive power under circumstances premised in your questions.

First. The Governor must be in office at the time the appointment is made.

Second. The appointment must be made for an office vacant during the Governor's constitutional term. This seems never to have been doubted. The cases are numerous in which the right of appointment by executive officers and municipal authorities has been successfully challenged where this rule has been violated, if the Constitution or no enabling statute empowered such appointment. It seems to me settled, with equal certainty, however, that the vacancy to be filled may be one not existing at the time of appointment, but may be one occurring in the future. It is clearly settled in this State that such prospective appointment, in the absence of express inhibition, is a legal appointment, and if all other requisities be present, vest title to the office in the appointee. This is the express deliverance in Whitney v. Van Buskirk, 11 Vroom 463. The opinion is also in accord with the view expressed in Haight v. Love, 10 Vroom 14; afterward affirmed in the Court of Errors and Appeals. It is worthy of note that the Van Buskirk case was approved and adopted by the Court of Errors in deciding Gulnac v. Freeholders of Bergen, 45 Vroom 543.

Third. Certain appointments to be effective, namely, those referred to in article 7, section 2, paragraph 1, of the Constitution, must be made "with the advice and consent of the Senate," except, of course, ad interim appointments.

Fourth. The appointment cannot be made "during the last week of his (the Governor's) said term." See Constitution, article 5, paragraph 3. I am of the opinion that the term here referred is the constitutional term created by the Constitution.

Fifth. The term of office for which the commission is issued (except as otherwise directed in the Constitution) shall commence on the day of the date of the commission, for it is expressly provided in the Constitution that "the term of office for all officers elected or appointed purusant to the provisions of this Constitution, except where herein otherwise directed, shall commence on the day of the date of their respective commissions, but no commission for any office shall bear date prior to the expiration of the term of the incumbent of said office." See article 7, section 2, paragraph 11. The only limitation which relates to the issuing of commissions is comprehended in the clause which I have just quoted. It was designed to prevent the peril and confusion attendant upon conflicting rights, and which would ordinarily arise if two or more commissions were simultaneolsly outstanding relating to the same office, and overlapping in point of time. But it is not clear to me how this constitutional mandate would in any way be contravened if the present Governor should issue to his appointees (after confirmation by the Senate) commissions in due form, dating each commission on the day when the term of office "shall commence" and on the day when "the term of the incumbent" shall expire. If this were done, the letter of the Constitution would not be disobeyed, and the danger and confusion provided against in the organic law would be avoided.

The issuing of a commission by the present Governor under the conditions premised in your questions, would seem to me to be important. Until this is done the appointive act is not wholly consummated, and there is authority for the view that it is revocable until a commission shall have in fact been issued. This view has obtained even where, as in Marbury v. Madison, 1 Cranch, page 137, it was held that the commission "was only evidence of an appointment." I do not think the succeeding Governor could be compelled to issue a commission to those whom the present Governor had appointed, even though such appointees were confirmed by the Senate; but, on the other hand, for reasons already stated and to be shortly advanced, I do not think a commission from his successor is necessary, if there has been an appointment and confirmation, and a commission has in fact been issued by the present Governor.

The appointive power of the Governors of this State has been uniformly and from time immemorial exercised under the general conditions and limitations which I have just imposed; and the appointive power would not now be questioned except for the fact that the present Governor will, in all human probability, retire and his office become vacant, either by his own act or by operation of law, on or before the 4th of March, 1913. What effect has this circumstance upon the matter now before us? In my opinion it is in no sense controlling. We are concerned and must be governed by conditions as they now exist, and not as they may exist on the 4th of March. The initial act of nomination and appointment is now complete. It has been consummated in due course and in an orderly way by the Governor of this State. To deny the present right is to withhold a power which the Constitution confers and which may be exercised up to the last hour of the present Governor's service. He is not seeking to make appointments after his office is made vacant by voluntary retirement or otherwise. He is appointing now while the duties, powers and prerogatives of his office are his by warrant of the fundamental law. While it is true that he is appointing to fill future vacancies, as we have already seen, such appointments are within his right. That we should be controlled in defining such a power, presently to be exercised, by conditions as they now are, and not such as we may suppose will obtain on the 4th of March, seems to me clear. This conclusion can only be successfully denied by postulating that no valid appointment, to take effect in the future, may be made unless the executive who makes it be still in office when his appointee (under the terms of his commission) actually enters into his office. I cannot find that such a theory has received either application or recognition by the courts, nor does it appear to have been observed by the practice and usage which have accompanied, and so have become illustrative, of the appointive power. The adoption of such a theory would unnecessarily hamper the executive power, leading to uncertainty and confusion, and would serve no useful purpose. Let us illustrate. Suppose that before March 4th (the date fixed for his retirement) by some dire misfortune the present executive should die. Would this event render nugatory his consummated act of appointment, even though his appointees had not yet entered into their respective offices? I think not. Again, to illustrate a different phase of the same matter. Let us suppose that the Governor shall make an appointment for an office vacant in the future, but during his constitutional term; that such an appointment is concurred in and confirmed by the Senate; that a commission is thereupon issued, and that all these details are completed before the office for which the appointment is made becomes vacant. Then let us further suppose that immediately thereafter the Governor should die. Will it be seriously contended that such an appointment would fail? Yet in the supposititious case, just as in the concrete problem before us, the Governor who made the appointment would be out of office when his appointee entered upon his office. The difference is to be found only in this: that in the one case the vacancy is caused by act of God, and in the other by the voluntary act of the present incumbent; and that in the one instance the vacancy caused by death was not expected or anticipated, while in the other a vacancy on a certain day in the future was established in advance with definite certainty. But in both instances there has been a vacancy in the office of Governor at the very time when the appointee must enter upon the enjoyment of his office.

Accordingly my conclusion is that the expected retirement of the present Governor, on or about the 4th of March, does not impair his appointive power under the conditions premised.

This preliminary statement appeared to me to be necessary in order to avoid returning answers to your questions which would have been otherwise misleading and incomplete. It would now seem proper to make specific and definite replies to your several inquiries.

Accordingly to your first question I answer—Yes, if, as already premised, the Governor, while Governor, issued his commission in due form.

To your second question I answer—Yes, and if the incoming Governor issue his commission, I cannot see that any person would have a status from which the nomination and confirmation could be challenged.

To your third question I answer—In my opinion, No, for there would be no acceptance within the contemplation of the organic law until by oath of office he had actually assumed the office of President.

To your fourth question I answer—No, for, as already stated, the term referred to in the Constitution, in my opinion, is the constitutional term of the executive.

I beg to suggest that the main proposition you have raised for my consideration is wholly new in this State, and the precise matter involved, so far as I am able to ascertain, has not been passed upon elsewhere. While I have reached the definite conclusions already expressed, yet that aspect of the problem which relates to the power of the Governor to appoint to an office which cannot be entered into by his appointee until after the voluntary retirement of the executive, is not free from doubt. I have, however, expressed what seems to me the better and more reasonable view.

I am, sir,

Very truly yours,
(Signed) EDMUND B. WILSON,
Attorney-General.

P. S.—Since dictating the above, an examination of the record of executive appointments kept in the office of the Secretary of State, discloses that Hon. John W. Griggs, as Governor, resigned, and that his resignation became effective at the close of the 31st day of January, 1898. The record also shows that between the 18th day of January, and through and including the 31st day of January, Governor Griggs made twenty-five appointments, and that in each instance the appointment was made to an office which was not then vacant and which did not become vacant until after he had ceased to be Governor of this State. I have as yet been unable to ascertain whether the commissions in these instances were issued by Governor Griggs or by his successor.

(Signed) EDMUND B. WILSON,
Attorney-General.

---

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
ASSEMBLY CHAMBER,
TRENTON, March 1st, 1913.

At 12 o'clock noon the Senate and General Assembly met in Joint Assembly in the Assembly Chamber.

On motion of Mr. Davis, Senator James A. C. Johnson, President pro tem. of the Senate, was made Chairman of the Joint Meeting.

Under the direction of the Chairman, the Secretary called the Joint Assembly, when the following members appeared and answered the call:

Messrs. Ackley, Adams, Agnew A. M., Agnew J. C., Barber, Beekman, Bloom, Bracken, Bredenbek, Buckley, Carhart, Colgate, Conrad, Davis, Delaney, Edge, Egan, Fielder, Fisch, Fishler, Fitzherbert, Gaunt, Hennessy, Holcombe, Johnson, Kates, Kays, Kerwin, Kuhlke, Leavitt, Leonard, Lewis, Low, Lyons, Maguire, Marshall, Martens, Martin, Matthews J., Matthews J. A., McCabe, McDermott, McGinnis, McGrath, McLoughlin, Moore, Moser, Mount, Munson, Neighbour, Nichols, Nutting, Papscoe, Pierce, Porter, Quinn, Ramsay, Read, Richards, Roe R. A., Rowe H. J., Salus, Slocum, Smalley, Smick, Steuerwald, Taylor, Wheaton, White, Zisgen—70.

On motion of Mr. Davis, Chief Justice Gummere administered the oath of office to the Acting Governor, Hon. James F. Fielder.

Mr. Davis moved that we request the President-elect of the United States at this time to turn over the seal of office of Governor to Hon. James F. Fielder, Acting Governor, and to say a few words as well.

The President-elect spoke as follows:

I cannot pretend that I am not moved by very deep emotions to-day. I had not expected to say anything. It would indeed have been my preference not to say anything, because there are some feelings that are too deep for words. I already loved the State of New Jersey when I became its Governor, but that love has been deepened and intensified during these last two and a half years. I now feel a sense of identification with the people of this State, and the interests of this State which have seemed to enlarge my own personality, and which has been the greatest privilege of my life. Therefore in handing the seal of the State to the new Governor, I want to utter these few words of poignant regret that I cannot serve this great State directly any longer. I wish for the moment that the traveling from New Jersey were less facile than it is, and yet I have the greatest feeling of confidence in the man to whom I am about to hand this seal. I have been associated with him with unusual intimacy of counsel. I have found in him qualities of honesty and courage which commend men more than any other qualities do in public life. The rarest thing in public life is courage, and the man who has courage is marked for distinction, the man who has not is marked for extinction and deserves submersion.

The people of this country are going to be served by conscience and not by expediency. When you strike a man of courage you have strucg the bed rock of our institutions. It is therefore with a feeling of confidence and affection for him personally that I hand him the seal of office.

On motion of Mr. Davis, the Joint Assembly then arose.

WILLIAM L. DILL,
Secretary.

OF THE

SPECIAL SESSION.

(1423)

Special Session.

TUESDAY, May 6th, 1913.

Pursuant to the proclamation of the Acting Governor, at 12 o'clock noon the Senate met.

The session was opened by prayer by the Rev. E. W. Pickering, of Collingswood, N. J.

Under the direction of the President, the Secretary called the Senate, when the following Senators appeared and answered the call:

Messrs. Barber, Colgate, Davis, Edge, Fitzherbert, Gaunt, Johnson, Leavitt, Martens, McGinnis, Nichols, Pierce, Ramsay, Read, Slocum, Smalley, Wheaton, White—18.

Under the direction of the President, the Secretary read the following proclamation from the Acting Governor, calling a special session of the Legislature.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, April 14th, 1913.

WHEREAS, The one hundred and thirty-seventh session of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey has adjourned sine die, without passing measures providing for reform in the method of drawing grand and petit juries, or for the calling of a constitutional convention to consider changes proposed to the Constitution of our State; and

WHEREAS, Laws passed by previous Legislatures relating to the government of counties by small boards of freeholders have been declared unconstitutional by our courts and the bill passed at the recent session to meet the situation thus created was of doubtful validity, and therefore did not receive Executive approval; and those counties which have registered their desire to govern their affairs through a small board, are entitled to prompt relief; and

WHEREAS, These subjects are of the highest importance to the people of our State and, in my judgment, public necessity requires the convening of the Legislature to consider them at a special session, at which no other matters need be taken up and the undivided attention of the Legislature can be devoted to the proper and effective solution of such problems:

Therefore, I, JAMES F. FIELDER, President of the Senate, Acting Governor of the State of New Jersey, by virtue of the power vested in me by the Constitution, do convene the Legislature of this State, hereby requiring the Senate and the Members of the House of Assembly to meet in their respective chambers at the State House, in the city of Trenton, on Tuesday, the sixth day of May next, at twelve o'clock noon.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed at Trenton, this fourteenth day of April, nineteen hundred and thirteen.

[GREAT SEAL.]

JAMES F. FIELDER,
President of the Senate, Acting Governor.

Attest:
DAVID S. CRATER,
Secretary of State.

"Filed April 14th, 1913.
"DAVID S. CRATER,
"Secretary of State."

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

I, David S. Crater, Secretary of State of the State of New Jersey, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the Governor's Proclamation calling a Special Session of the Legislature of this State, to be held on the sixth day of May, nineteen hundred and thirteen, as the same is taken from and compared with the originals filed in my office this fourteenth day of April, A. D. nineteen hundred and thirteen.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my Official Seal, at Trenton, this fourteenth day of April, A. D. 1913.

[SEAL.]

DAVID S. CRATER,
Secretary of State.

On motion of Mr. Davis, the foregoing proclamation was ordered received and spread on the minutes.

Mr. Davis offered the following resolutions, which were read and adopted:

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be and he is hereby directed to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has convened pursuant to the proclamation of the Acting Governor, dated the fourteenth day of April, nineteen hundred and thirteen, and has proceeded to business.

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the President pro tem. to wait upon the Acting Governor and inform him that the Senate has convened pursuant to his proclamation, and has proceeded to transact business.

Pursuant to the foregoing resolution the President appointed the following committee: Messrs. Davis, Fitzherbert and Edge.

Mr. Slocum offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed by the President pro tem. (of which he shall be one) to be known as the "Committee on Procedure," and that all bills and resolutions introduced at this special session (except those referred to in the call for the session) be referred to this committee, and that no bill or resolution so referred shall be acted upon without the unanimous consent of this committee.

The President pro tem. appointed as said committee, Messrs. Johnson, Read, Slocum, Ramsay and Leavitt.

Mr. Slocum moved that the Senate take a recess of ten minutes.

Which was agreed to.

On the conclusion of which, and, under the direction of the President, the Secretary called the Senate, when the following Senators appeared and answered the call:

Messrs. Barber, Colgate, Davis, Edge, Fitzherbert, Gaunt, Johnson, Leavitt, Martens, McGinnis, Nichols, Pierce, Ramsay, Read Slocum, Smalley, Wheaton, White—18.

Mr. Davis, Chairman of committee appointed to wait on the Governor, reported that they had discharged that duty, and that he would communicate with the Senate at once.

The following message was received from the Governor, by the hands of Mr. Herrmann, his Secretary:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, May 6th, 1913.

To the Legislature:

My purpose in convening you in special session was to enable you to consider certain matters which to me seem to be of special importance to the State, and which were not satisfactorily considered at your regular session.

Pursuant to a joint resolution adopted last year, a legislative commission appointed to investigate our jury system, reported that our method of allowing the sheriff unrestricted power to select grand jurors, obtained in but one other State, and that the selection of petit jurors was much more guarded and restricted elsewhere than here. Recognizing that under our system gross injustice frequently resulted in the proper and effective administration of our criminal and civil law, both great political parties of our State pledged themselves to change the method of selecting grand and petit jurors. The impression conveyed and intended to be conveyed by these ante-election promises was that candidates for the Senate and General Assembly would, if elected, enact some law which would effectually prevent any official from exercising his own choice in the selection of jurors from a small body of men, and which would provide for drawing them by lot from the whole county, and I feel that the adjournment of the Legislature without enacting some legislation in line with party promises was a breach of faith. The time has passed when platform pledges can be made for effect only, and with no intention of keeping them. Since the adjournment of your regular session you have had ample opportunity to ascertain the sentiment of the people of your respective counties, and you should now be prepared to act on your information and knowledge of their desires without finding it necessary to refer any bill to them for their ratification or disapproval, and I most earnestly ask you to settle this matter definitely and finally.

The progressive people of our State are deeply interested in a convention which will provide the opportunity for discussion and consideration of suggested alterations in and additions to our Constitution. This Constitution was adopted in 1844, and the changes in social, economic and political conditions wrought in seventy years must be met by changes in our organic law. What alterations are wise and what unwise can be properly determined in a convention through general discussion, and from which the ideas and arguments of the delegates can be disseminated by the press to the people, thus providing our citizens complete information on subjects of such vital interest to them. The hope and expectation of all fair-minded persons is that a legally constituted forum for such discussions shall be provided, and that the representatives of the subdivisions of our State, who shall sit in this body, shall be chosen with reference to the numbers whom they shall represent. An opportunity is presented to you to rise above sectional feeling, and to act as sincere and patriotic men, guided solely by a desire to serve the best interests of the State as a whole.

The government of our counties by large boards of freeholders is archaic. Through many members, responsibility is divided and can be shifted from one group to another, until the average citizen grows weary in attempting to locate the blame for county misgovernment. Hasty or misguided legislation, designed to permit the adoption of the small board government has resulted in defective laws, and the expressed desire of several counties to govern themselves by a small board has been defeated, and their affairs are left in an unsettled condition. This subject directly affects many thousands of our citizens, and can and should be remedied.

May I express my belief that there is no necessity for a prolonged session. The matters to which I have referred have been widely discussed, and it is entirely possible to promptly translate the public desire into legislative acts.

[SEAL] JAMES F. FIELDER,
President of the Senate, Acting Governor.

Senator Martin's kindly heart, genial manner, loyalty to friends and generosity to opponents endeared him to all his associates and acquaintances. He was a Jerseyman at heart and in interest and he was ever watchful of the welfare of his State.

He has been long a conspicuous figure in all of the important movements that make for advancement of this commonwealth, and his recent election to Congress is but an evidence of the appreciation, worth and merit with which he was held by his fellow men.

Death is no respecter of persons in its final summons, and in taking from us a fellow legislator it has left a vacancy that will not easily be filled.

We bow with reverence to the judgment of an All-Wise Providence, and will believe that Senator Martin has been called to a sphere of higher activity.

Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to require a reorganization of the board of chosen freeholders of any county in accordance with the provisions of this act when such county has, prior to the passage of this act, adopted the provisions of an act entitled "An act to reduce the number of members of the boards of chosen freeholders in counties of this State, and to fix the salaries and provide for the election of the members of said boards," approved March twenty-sixth, one thousand nine hundred and two, either as originally passed or as amended, and which has effected a reorganization of its board of chosen freeholders in pursuance thereof, and in such counties the members of such reorganized boards of freeholders shall continue in office until the expiration of the terms for which they were elected, but at the expiration of such terms members of such boards shall be elected in accordance with the provisions of this act, and such counties shall thereafter be subject to and be governed by the provisions of this act.

3. Add a new paragraph to be numbered nine (a) to read as follows:

9 (a). It shall be the duty of the presiding judge of the Court of Common Pleas in each county of this State heretofore or hereafter adopting the small board of freeholders, within thirty days after the passage of this act, or within thirty days after the adoption of the small board, if hereafter adopted, to appoint, by writing under his hand, three persons resident and freeholders of such county, commissioners, whose duty it shall be, within ninety days after their appointment, to divide the county, in and for which they are appointed, into districts, to be known as freeholder districts, each county to have the same number of districts as the number of members of the board of chosen freeholders to be elected therein. Not more than two of said commissioners so appointed shall be of the same political party, and they shall, within ten days after their appointment, first take and subscribe before some officer duly authorized to administer oaths and affirmations, an oath or affirmation faithfully and impartially to execute and perform the duties imposed upon them, which said oath or affirmation shall be filed in the office of the clerk of such county, and shall then forthwith proceed to divide such county into freeholder districts; all such districts shall be equitably and fairly formed of contiguous territory, and in dividing the same the said commissioners shall have regard, as nearly as reasonably may be, to equal proportion of population; the boundary and division lines of all such districts shall be properly described and a map defining the lines of all such districts shall be made and filed by the said commissioners in the office of the clerk of such county, with a description or statement of such lines, all of which shall be attested and certified by the said commissioners, under their hands, and shall there remain of record; the acts of a majority of said commissioners shall be deemed and taken to be the acts of all of the said commissioners and shall be valid and binding when done in pursuance of this act; each of said commissioners shall receive for his services under this act the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars, and the expense of the said commissioners and of such assistants or agents as they may find or deem it necessary to employ in the discharge of their duties; and the compensation of said commissioners and their said assistants or agents shall be paid for by the county in and for which they were appointed, upon the certificate of said commission, or a majority of them, in the same manner that other officers of such county are paid for services and expenses, and notwithstanding that no appropriations shall have been made for such payments, or that the said payments may exceed the appropriation or limit of expenditures for that purpose otherwise fixed in and for such county; provided, however, that the expense so to be incurred under this act, including the compensation of the commissioners, shall not exceed in any such county the sum of one thousand dollars. There shall be a re-districting under this act each fifth year after the first districting.

After the division of such counties of this State, as provided in section three of this act, each member of the board of chosen freeholders shall be elected by the voters of the district in which he resides, and there shall not be any more than one member of said board from any one district. For the first election the presiding judge of the Court of Common Pleas in each county shall determine by lot and designate thirty days prior to the primary election the term of office of the member to be elected in each district.

4. Add a new paragraph to be numbered nine (b) to read as follows:

9 (b). In all counties of this State which have heretofore adopted the provisions of an act entitled "An act to reduce the number of members of the boards of chosen freeholders in counties of this State, and to fix the salaries and provide for the election of the members of said boards," approved March twenty-sixth, one thousand nine hundred and two, either as originally passed or as amended, or which have adopted the provisions of the act to which this act is amendatory, at the next meeting of said board following the division of the said county into districts, such board of freeholders shall assign each of its members to represent one of said districts, preference being given, so far as possible, to residence in the said districts, and where this qualification fails, assignment shall be made by convenience of residence and accessibility, and such representation shall continue thereafter until the expiration of the terms of office of the members thus assigned, and election shall be had thereafter in each district as the term of office of the member of the board of freeholders assigned to such district terminates.

WHEREAS, The Senate has learned with profound regret of the death of Hon. Lewis J. Martin, a former member of this body and a member of Congress from this State; Resolved, That in the sudden death of former Senator Martin the State of New Jersey has lost a patriotic citizen, a wise legislator and an upright judge. Senator Martin's kindly heart, genial manner, loyalty to friends and generosity to opponents endeared him to all his associates and acquaintances. He was a Jerseyman at heart and in interest and he was ever watchful of the welfare of his State. He has been long a conspicuous figure in all of the important movements that make for advancement of this commonwealth, and his recent election to Congress is but an evidence of the appreciation, worth and merit with which he was held by his fellowmen. Death is no respector of persons in its final summons, and in taking from us a felow legislator it has left a vacancy that will not easily be filled. # SECOND SPECIAL SESSION

(1835)

Second Special Session.

TUESDAY, August 5th, 1913.

Pursuant to the Proclamation of the Acting Governor,

At 11 o'clock A. M. the Senate met.

Under the direction of the President, the Secretary called the Senate, when the following Senators appeared and answered the call:

Messrs. Barber, Colgate, Edge, Gaunt, Johnson, Martens, McGinnis, Nichols, Read, Smalley, Wheaton, White—12.

The following proclamation of the Acting Governor was received and ordered spread on the minutes in full:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, A dispute has arisen as to the adoption by the City of Jersey City of an act entitled "An Act relating to, regulating and providing for the government of cities, towns, boroughs and other municipalities within this State," approved April twenty-fifth, nineteen hundred and eleven, and the acts supplementary and amendatory thereto, which may result in confusion in municipal affairs, not only in said city, but in other municipalities where said act is assumed to have been adopted, and the situation thus presented is, in my judgment, of sufficient public importance to require submission to the Legislature for its consideration;

Therefore, I JAMES F. FIELDER, President of the Senate, Acting Governor of the State of New Jersey, by virtue of the power vested in me by the Constitution, do convene the Legislature of this State, hereby requiring the Senate and the Members of the House of Assembly to meet in their respective chambers at the State House, in the City of Trenton, on Tuesday, the fifth day of August next, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed at Trenton, this twenty-ninth day of July, nineteen hundred and thirteen.

[GREAT SEAL.]

Attest:

JAMES F. FIELDER,
President of the Senate and Acting Governor.

DAVID S. CRATER,
Secretary of State.

Endorsed:

"Filed July 29, 1913.
DAVID S. CRATER,
Secretary of State."

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

I, DAVID S. CRATER, Secretary of State of the State of New Jersey, DO HEREBY CERTIFY that the foregoing is a true copy of the Governor's Proclamation calling a Special Session of the Legislature of this State, to be held on the fifth day of August, nineteen hundred and thirteen, as the same is taken from and compared with the original filed in my office this twenty-ninth day of July, A. D. nineteen hundred and thirteen.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my Official Seal, at Trenton, this twenty-ninth day of July, A. D. 1913.

[SEAL.]

DAVID S. CRATER,
Secretary of State.

Mr. McGinnis offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be and he is hereby directed to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has convened pursuant to the proclamation of the Acting Governor, dated the twenty-ninth day of July, nineteen hundred and thirteen, and has proceeded to business.

Mr. McGinnis offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the President pro tem. to wait upon the Acting Governor and inform him that the Senate has convened pursuant to his proclamation, dated July twenty-ninth, nineteen hundred and thirteen, and has proceeded to transact business.

The President pro tem. appointed as said committee Mr. Barber, Mr. Wheaton and Mr. Edge.

Mr. McGinnis offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed by the President pro tem. (of which he shall be one) to be known as the "Committee on Procedure," and that all bills and resolutions introduced at this special session (except those referred to in the call for the session) be referred to this committee, and that no bill or resolution so referred shall be acted upon without the unanimous consent of this committee.

The President pro tem. appointed, with himself, on said committee Mr. Read, Mr. Munson, Mr. Ramsay and Mr. Leavitt.

The following message was received from the House of Assembly by the hands of its Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
ASSEMBLY CHAMBER,
August 5th, 1913.

Mr. President:

I am directed by the House of Assembly to inform the Senate that the House of Assembly has passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Clerk of the House be and he is hereby directed to inform the Senate that the House of Assembly, in pursuance to the Proclamation of the Hon. James F. Fielder, President of the Senate, Acting Governor, is now in session and is ready to proceed to business.

A message was received from the Acting Governor, by the hands of Mr. Herrmann, his Secretary.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
August 5th, 1913.

To the Legislature:

The "Walsh Commission Government Act" was submitted to the voters of Jersey City for adoption, at an election held April 15th, 1913. Out of 18,500 votes, a majority of over 4,300 votes were cast in its favor and the Commissioners subsequently elected have taken office and are now administering the affairs of the city. The act requires that the vote in favor of its adoption shall equal thirty per centum of the votes cast for members of Assembly at the election held last November. The ballots cast at the Assembly election have been destroyed and the returns made by many of the election boards at that election are so incomplete, that it is impossible to tell what vote was actually cast. The title to office of the Commissioners elected in April is now attacked by suit, upon the ground that the required thirty per centum vote was not cast in favor of the adoption of the act and in this suit, I am advised, that the burden of proving the legal adoption of the act is upon the Commissioners. The ballots cast at the November election having been destroyed, it is impossible to prove what vote was cast at that election and should the Commissioners, for this reason, be ousted from the office to which they have been elected, the title of the Commissioners in every other commission government municipality, where the Assembly ballots have been destroyed, might also be successfully attacked and this result would produce confusion in municipal affairs, not only in Jersey City, but in such other cities.

I have, therefore, felt it my duty to call you into special session and lay the facts before you, to the end that you may take such action as will prevent the possibility of such a deplorable condition occurring.

JAMES F. FIELDER,
President of the Senate, Acting Governor.

Attest:

L. EDWARD HERRMANN,
[SEAL.] Secretary to the Governor.

Which message was ordered read and spread on the minutes.

Mr. Edge offered the following resolution:

WHEREAS, A number of cities of New Jersey have adopted the commission form of government, as provided by the so-called Walsh Act; and

WHEREAS, There are various interpretations of different provisions of the Act; and

WHEREAS, Cities from the first to the fourth class are now governed by this Act, and it is unquestionably wise, based upon the experience of a year or more that several cities have undergone, that some changes should be made and such changes only after proper consideration by all the cities interested; therefore, be it

Resolved, That his Excellency, the Acting-Governor, be requested to name a commission to consist of the city counsel or chief law officer of each municipality now operating under the said Act, such commission to meet and consider the Act in its entirety, and to report to the Governor before the convening of the next legislative session changes or amendments, if any, they deem wise in order that the Act be made more workable and applicable to the various classes of cities now operating under it or which may adopt its provisions in the future.
