Upon assuming the chair, the Speaker addressed the House as follows:

With a deep appreciation of the responsibility and with a keen understanding of the opportunity, I assume the office of Speaker of the House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey to which you have just elected me for the year 1935.

You and I are members of this Legislature through the will of the people, and we have no responsibility to anyone except the people who have made us their representatives in the conduct of government which affects their lives and their destinies.

During the session which lies before us, we will undoubtedly disagree on many things—we should; yet, I believe our loyalty to the State and to the people should take precedence over loyalty to party or special privilege or personal advantage. The foundation on which we should build a program of constructive legislation this session is not political expediency, but sincerity of purpose that people shall be encouraged, shall be relieved of heavy burdens, shall be rehabilitated into the social structure of our civilization, and that democracy in its purest and noblest senses shall have expression in the life of our State.

I believe we must look at this legislative program not from a sectional, or an occupational, or a personal viewpoint, but we must look at the picture of the entire State with all its needs from the standpoint of the greatest good for the greatest number.

Every thinking man and woman in this Legislature today believes in limitation of spending in relation to government, believes in the practice of economy in all branches of our governmental program, believes in reorganization of many phases of government itself, and our task, representing the people, is to pass legislation which shall make possible these limitations, these economies, this needed reorganization.

To accomplish all that should be accomplished, we must have a business-like session. We are the servants of the people. We accepted our jobs, and as employees we must be at our posts of duty whenever that duty demands our attention and our attendance. Your co-operation will be needed that the rules of the House, which are to be adopted this afternoon, shall be made effective. Your co-operation is needed in the matter of limiting as far as is consistent, the number of bills which are to be presented at this session in order that major items which are vital in the life of our people shall have opportunity for discussion and debate, intelligent thinking and intelligent action.

One week from today, when the Governor-elect is inaugurated, the problems that must be solved in our State will be presented to the people, and whether we are members of the majority or members of the minority, it will be our responsibility, indeed it will be our opportunity, to effect major legislation.

We believe in democracy. We believe in the people of the State of New Jersey. We believe in the future and that it holds for every citizen an opportunity to live and to live abundantly. These things can only be as we see the needs and have the courage to face the issues and intelligently, sympathetically and honestly, with God's help, do that which will contribute most to the welfare of the people.

Thank you again for your confidence.

Mr. Rafferty, on behalf of the minority members of the House, congratulated Mr. Clee upon his election as Speaker.

The Clerk announced that at this time the privilege of the floor would be given to Mr. William Ross, town clerk of the town of Kearny, Hudson county, who would make a presentation to Speaker Lester H. Clee, in behalf of the men and women members of the bible class of the Second Presbyterian Church of the City of Newark.

Mr. William Ross then presented Speaker Clee with a silver-mounted gavel.

Speaker Clee thanked Mr. Ross and the members of the men's and women's bible class of the Second Presbyterian Church of the City of Newark.

Lloyd L. Schroeder, of Bergen county, and further seconded by the Hon. Theron McCampbell, of Monmouth county, the Hon. John J. Rafferty, of Middlesex county, and the Hon. Olive C. Sanford, of Essex county.

The Speaker then called for any further nominations and there being none, Mr. Newcomb, of Burlington county, moved that nominations be closed.

LEGISLATIVE COMMISSION INVESTIGATING WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION ACT

January 8, 1935.

*Mr. Frederick A. Brodesser,
Clerk of the House of Assembly,
Trenton, New Jersey:*

DEAR MR. BRODESSER—I herewith transmit to you for presentation to the 1935 session of the House of Assembly a memorandum of the work covered by the Commission Investigating the Workmen's Compensation Act, which I would appreciate your presenting and reading to the 1935 session.

Respectfully submitted,
FRED W. FORT, Secretary.

To the Honorable Members of the House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

The Commission regularly appointed to investigate the conditions and practices of the Workmen's Compensation Act by the Legislature of 1934 with instructions to report to the present Legislature its findings and recommendations begs leave to respectfully submit the following memorandum:

As heretofore reported to the Legislature, this Commission was given a task to do which it willingly accepted, but was not furnished with any moneys to conduct a painstaking investigation of the practices of the Compensation Bureau. The members gladly contributed funds out of their own pockets to this end. Previous to October, 1934, the labor of the Commission was desultory and haphazard due to the lack of money. In October, 1934, however, the National Emergency Relief Administration, a Federal Commission, furnished to the Commission six part-time workers and then a vigorous study of the practices of the compensation matters took place. Since then our authority was challenged by two members of the Essex Bar and in many ways our studies were attempted to be thwarted by lawyers and physicians whose tactics delayed and hampered our work for a considerable extent. We wish to report that the prosecution for contempt of our subpoenas is now in the hands of the Prosecutor of the Pleas of Essex county.

Due to the fact that we have not had an opportunity to thoroughly study and digest the voluminous work already done and the statistics gathered—particularly since the appointment of the investigators furnished by the Federal Government who have rendered invaluable assistance to our Commission—we wish to acquaint Your Honorable Body of the situation and to advise that we are now engaged in the preparation of our report and the framing of legislation to carry out our proposed recommendations, and we shall promptly file the same as soon as the work is completed.

Respectfully submitted,

LEGISLATIVE COMMISSION INVESTIGATING THE WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION ACT.

FRED W. FORT, JR., Secretary.

PHILIP SHERIDAN McNALLY

NEW YORK, January 14, 1935.

*Clerk of the Assembly,

SIR:—I send you herewith a copy of a letter I have this day written to Mr. David T. Wilentz, Attorney-General of New Jersey.

Please see that the wording in the proposed law is changed so that provides for the payment of taxes to the State only when the goods are sold in New Jersey.

If you insist upon passing this law in its present form, you will throw thousands of people out of work in the State of New Jersey.

Very truly yours,

P. S. McNALLY,
Orange, N. J.

NEWARK, N. J.

January 14, 1935.

*Mr. David T. Wilentz,
Attorney-General of the State of New Jersey,

DEAR DAVE—I am attorney for the Pennsylvania Distilling Company, Inc., of Jersey City, New Jersey. This company owns a distillery at Logansport, Pennsylvania, and operates a bottling plant at Jersey City. The whiskey is forwarded in barrels from Pennsylvania to Jersey City, and there bottled and sent to all the States in the Union. At the present time as you know, there is a tax of $1 per gallon in addition to the $2 per gallon Federal tax, on all whiskey bottled and sold in the State of New Jersey. If the merchandise bottled in Jersey is sold in outside States, there is no tax due in New Jersey.

However, there is some legislation pending in Trenton, whereby a law is going to be put into effect, requiring the placing of a stamp for the amount of the State tax in New Jersey on all merchandise within 48 hours after the bottles are filled.

In other words, under the provisions of the proposed law, instead of paying the tax only on the goods which we sell in the State of New Jersey, we will be required to pay the tax on all merchandise sold in other States; then provision is made whereby we can put in a claim for a refund on merchandise sold in outside States.

This is all wrong. If this law is enacted, it will compel my client to close its plant in Jersey City, and throw about 70 people out of work. There are over 60 other plants which will be similarly affected. There is a great deal of opposition to this law in its present form by the industry.

as it is most harmful to the industry, and can only result in driving from New Jersey business already established there.

It would be impossible for us to pay the taxes on our merchandise to the State of New Jersey, as we also have to pay the tax into the State to which the merchandise goes. My client would then have to wait sixty or ninety days to get the money. In other words, there is not enough money at the present time to pay these taxes and then wait for a refund.

I am writing this to you personally because I know that you will see that it gets into the proper hands, and that the proper law is enacted.

With best wishes to you, I am,

Sincerely yours,

PHILIP S. McNALLY.

GOVERNOR'S INAUGURAL MESSAGE

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, JANUARY 15, 1935.

To the Legislature:

Today I assume the high office of Governor in full realization of the responsibility which the Constitution, the laws, and the traditions of party government impose. I accept these obligations, humbly but gladly, determined that they shall be met with all the energy, the enthusiasm, the patience, and the intelligence I can bring to this service. This office I conceive to be a focal point where the leaders of public affairs come together to devise practical solutions for our common problems.

Members of the 159th Legislature, you share with me the mandate delivered into our hands so emphatically in November. Together we proposed definite steps toward the permanent improvement of social, economic, and industrial conditions. The voters made very clear their acceptance of these proposals, and now I am mindful of the obligation laid on this Administration to carry out such promises. I shall expect your helpful support, without partisanship. Together we can do the things we have to do; working at cross purposes we shall fail.

If you will read and compare the platforms of the two major parties in New Jersey solemnly adopted in their conventions of last May, you will note a striking degree of similarity in promises to the public. In almost identical language the Republican and Democratic parties of this State have promised to face courageously the matter of financing relief for the needy and unemployed; State support for a standard, minimum educational program; the necessity for a revision of our antiquated system of taxes and assessments and for spreading the cost of government among all those who receive its benefits; economies in all branches of government; and short, business-like legislative sessions. Both parties were agreed that the hands of the Public Utility Commission must be strengthened to bring about a reduction in rates, and that judicial probity and the process of selecting jurors must be rendered above suspicion. Both parties, in their public declarations, also stand for the adoption of the Civil Service principle as a Constitutional amendment, and for the proposal to change the date of the primary elections from May to September. In the past, State party platforms, generally, have promptly been forgotten after their adoption. I propose now to insist upon the fulfillment of promises made alike by Republicans and Democrats to the people of New Jersey. Our citizens will not permit mere party labels to keep legislators from making good upon their pledges either for the obvious purpose of embarrassing the opposition party or through subservience to political leaders or special interest groups.

WILL REPORT OFTEN

I intend to take the people of New Jersey into my confidence. At least once each month I intend to appear before a joint session of the Legislature with facilities of the press and the radio, to give them a report of progress. Today I am charting a course which I believe should be followed. My recommendations are based upon such study as I have been able to give to these problems within the time and limits of human endurance since the day upon which I was elected to become the Chief Executive of New Jersey. I have consulted leaders of thought and industry within and without our State, including representatives of groups that have been giving, in a most commendable way, their time and resources to the solution of many of these intricate questions. It is entirely possible that, as the legislative session progresses, I shall find, on the basis of information presented at hearings and through the medium of further study, that some of my recommendations are in error. If I so find, I shall not hesitate to advise the public that I am wrong, and to submit such changes as may then seem practicable.

When I go before the public with my report of legislative and executive progress, I intend frankly to state the reasons for action having been deferred or blocked upon important measures. Where I feel it is necessary, I will mention, by name, the individuals either within or without the legislative body, or groups of lobbyists, who are preventing us from carrying out our covenant with the people.

EXPEDIENCY UNSAFE PRINCIPLE

We may not safely trust our destiny to the principle of expediency. Expediency attempts to take undue account of individual and private interests and prejudices. It is often contrary to the public good, at least from any long-range point of view. Expediency is the device of a weak administration or a divided responsibility. It fails to slash through to truth; it tampers with justice; it bows to individual men and individual interests. Our legislative and administrative problems will become increasingly complex insofar as we may temporize with them.

Expediency has often been invoked by organized pressure groups, whipped up by desire for special concessions and privileges, stirred by professional agitators who have played upon their fears, their prejudices, or their pride, and who have known only too well how to address the Legislature in a manner calculated to gain their ends. I warn you to resist the blandishments, the threats, and the appeals of special pleaders.

When the people of New Jersey engaged in a representative form of government, they entered into a compact to resist implacably the performance of any public act which was not in and of itself right and just for the whole people. Much of the faltering of our government is due to neglect of this compact.

We have pledged to the people of New Jersey that this administration would provide a new era in government. We shall make good that promise by sternly denying ourselves the too easy path of expediency, by insisting on sound measures designed effectively to settle those troublesome questions with which we are confronted.

PEOPLE MUST CHOOSE LEADERS

I have never accepted the fact, and I do not now accept it, that any person or group outside of the chosen officers of the people, with no mandate from the people of the whole State, with no official responsibility, and required to render no public accounting, is entitled to seize leadership and direct the affairs of government. It is, and has been, my conviction that the very essence of our system of government reserves to the people the right to choose their own leaders, who shall be responsible to them alone. I insist that he who seeks the right of leadership must be willing to hazard the endorsement of the people.

With these convictions and on these promises, I accept the responsibilities of leadership of my party in the State and of the local governments responsible in their respective spheres. I shall assume the responsibility for the administrative actions of those State appointees subject to my selection. I shall continue to seek counsel wherever it may be found among the great body of informed and thinking citizens of the State.

RECOVERY SLOW PROCESS

Most of us hesitate to face the realities of life. This is no less true in our personal and private affairs than it is in our business of government. We are at a critical period not only with respect to our economic and social well-being, but also with respect to the cost and conduct of our common business of government at all of its levels in our State. We want now to be assured that this year will be better than last; that security and employment will be greater and the tax burdens will be easier to bear. I am earnestly hopeful that these things will come to pass during the year; that we shall find a way to meet our public obligations, and that we shall make substantial progress in the improvement of the financial conditions of our local governments. But I shall refrain from prophecy. We are compelled to recognize that recovery is a slow and gradual process both for individuals and governments.

For many people, the depression will never be over, just as today in this country and in other lands the war is not over for those who were maimed and blinded by its fury. And this thought must serve to remind us constantly that the war against depression will not be over so long as men and women wait in line for work when there is no work. As we re-establish our lines for normal business activity, society and industry will have as their solemn obligation the care of an increasingly large number of unemployables, casualties of the stress and storm of this era.

Much of the structure of our governments in this State, as in all other States, was not designed to carry the extraordinary burdens which have recently been imposed upon it. As I have studied both the organization and the activities of government, I have been forced to the conclusion that some changes must be made in the framework of our administrative structure; but, more important than that, there must come drastic changes in our thinking and in our attitude toward public affairs. For a long period we have gone about our personal and business affairs and have neglected important matters of public interest. Without counting the cost, we have favored, as a rule, new expenditures and new activities designed to provide greater service and comfort to the community. We have spent beyond our means, and, like the businessman when hard times come, we not only have bills that we cannot pay, but our revenues are greatly curtailed and our credit is exhausted.

To the extent that those in official positions have been careless of public funds and have promoted unwise improvements, the responsibility for over-expenditure is theirs, but I am sure that the people of the State will recognize and accept the fact that they, themselves, are somewhat to blame for the conditions and difficulties in which we find ourselves. When I say that the people have the power to control their own affairs at all times, you will probably answer that the procedure for maintaining that continuous control, or for recapturing it when necessary is difficult, slow, and time-consuming. Of course, this is true but it is the price, in a very real and direct way, of free government at every level of its functioning. I repeat this axiom because I realize that government cannot rise above the level demanded by the people whom it serves, and because of the further conviction that we shall find it more difficult in the future than in much of the past to maintain government true to our best traditions and at the same time meet the constantly increasing demands of our economic and social order. I believe we have learned our lesson and that we will meet our obligations as citizens. I speak in this regard, not merely as an official, but as one who has to meet the same problems with which you are confronted: paying taxes, mortgage interest, the bills of the grocer, the baker, and the milkman, and of raising a family.

GREAT GOVERNMENTAL COSTS

Even at its lowest level and after the most careful economy is brought about and practiced over a long period, essential government is bound to cost a great deal of money. We want, and must have, adequate educational opportunity for our children. We must have water supplies, sewage disposal systems, hospitals, streets and highways, and those facilities that go to make up the services of modern government. To be assured of these services, to recapture the solvency of many of our local governments, we must make up our minds to act together, determined not to turn from the broad highway of prudent living.

Even in this emergency, I believe that the people are willing to provide for the necessary expenditures of government, but I know that they object to waste, extravagance, mismanagement, neglect and unnecessary spending. Some of these evils have been eliminated because of the lack of additional credit. Others still exist, but the causes and conditions for renewal of these old practices remain intact.

Some departments, I have noted, both in the State government and in local governments, continue to plan and spend as if nothing had happened. They justify their proposals, in many instances with all sincerity, on the basis of the need for such expenditures in order properly to discharge the obligations and the functions imposed upon them. This kind of argument and spending has helped to bring us to our present place, and, notwithstanding these and other potent pleas, we must regulate our expenditures, and we must limit them to the capacity of the people who receive the services to pay for them. I have frequently observed that we are all in favor of economies, provided they are applied to other departments and other activities outside our own particular field, just as we all want to go to Heaven, but not now. We must learn to look upon government as a whole and not in the reflection of our own particular work.

We are going to succeed, but I caution you that success will be no child's play, no fairy story of "make-believe." We shall pull ourselves out of this pit which we have helped to dig by facing the stern facts and by subsequent courageous action. This will mean that we shall have to distinguish sharply between the things that are essential and necessary in our public affairs and the things that are desirable but which we can do without.

PRE-PLEDGING UNWISE PRACTICE

At the very outset, and during the course of my campaign for Governor, I repeated my objections of long standing to the well-meaning efforts of many individuals and groups to pledge, beforehand, candidates for elective office for or against pending questions of public interest and frequently those of individual and narrow group interest. I expressed the hope to the legislative candidates of my party that they would hold themselves free to act on legislative matters according to their best judgment, and that they would not pledge themselves months ahead against a course of action that might later become necessary and highly advisable.

I need not review the reaction in many quarters to this proposal, but I say now, as I said then, that it is my conviction, after experience in our own Legislature and in Congress, and after wide study and observation, that the legislator who is free to act as honest judgment and sound public interest dictate, is in position to serve best. I am bound to say that those who have made pledges should stand by them until honorably released, but it must be evident that the pre-pledging of legislators makes for dissension and division and results in a do-nothing policy rather than in definite action. This is especially true in our State, where, in this Session, for instance, the margin of control, when the Legislature divides on a party basis, is so limited in both houses that four in the House and five in the Senate, whose convictions or pledges cannot always be said to represent the true interests of the people as against the convictions of all of the others, may defeat important legislation. I believe the people will serve their own interests best if they will exercise care in the selection of candidates in whom they have confidence and on whom they can depend, and leave them reasonably free to act upon important questions as their duty dictates.

COMMON SENSE APPROACH TO PROBLEMS OF STATE

We need today, in our State, leadership that is distinguished not so much by the brilliance of genius as by that other safer, more reliant, and more reassuring quality—the steadiness of Common Sense.

I would not minimize the value of the thoughts or plans of theorists and technicians in such a critical period in the history of our State. They may often be able to point out weaknesses in our governmental structure and help to crystallize public sentiment into a demand for necessary reform. Actual performance, however, is generally brought about by those in, or associated with, public office; men and women who have had practical experience. The shelves of our State Library are filled with voluminous reports of surveys and investigations, costing, perhaps, well over a million dollars. Here and there we have accepted some of these recommendations, but usually action upon them has been merely a sop to pacify those who have contributed their efforts in evolving fantastic schemes of government. In many instances as revealed in practical application, they have served neither economy nor efficiency, but have provided, at an increased cost, gaudy pieces that do not fit into the jig-saw puzzle that represents our State Government.

I do not propose to present any elaborate plan for reorganization of our State Departments. I will make no recommendations that will further complicate our situation and add to the heterogeneous mass of governmental activities. I realize that some change is warranted; that there is an overlapping of functions, some degree of inefficiency, some excessive costs. On the whole, however, I do not think that our State situation justifies the holy horror with which it is surveyed by many of our technical friends. We have some State Departments that I will proudly compare, both as to costs and accomplishments, with similar agencies in any other State in the Nation.

In some reports and surveys we find, for instance, an unfriendly comparison drawn between the State governments in New Jersey and New York. Attention is called to the academic revision and reorganization of government in our sister State across the Hudson. For the taxpayers, however, the "proof of the pudding" comes in a survey of the respective balance sheets. New Jersey has balanced its State budget and has a surplus of three and a half million dollars, while the Treasurer of New York will close his books at the end of the year, I am told, nearly eighty million dollars "in the red."

This does not mean that we should rest on our oars. Every dollar must be conserved and properly accounted for; everything possible must be done to increase the efficiency of our service to the people. I propose to spend the first year of my administration in a study of every State Department, so that I may be able to recommend to the next session of the Legislature sound and practical devices for bettering our departmental practice.

Where there is a public official who is performing efficient and conscientious service, he is entitled to our support and our commendation, rather than our carping criticism and insistence upon a degree of perfection that can never be attained until we have been able to work a wondrous change in the very hearts and minds of men. From our public officials we may expect only rugged honesty, devotion to duty, and the highest degree of efficiency possible with the tools with which we supply them.

CONDITIONS TO BE FACED

We must face the year 1935 with no delusions. Notwithstanding such progress as has been made toward recovery, and regardless of what the prospects may be for an early return to normal business and economic conditions, we have accumulated in our State, and especially in our local governments, a series of financial problems that cannot longer be brushed aside.

The authorized amount of the bonded debt of the State is $219,800,000, of which $196,954,000 is now outstanding. Large as this amount is, it cannot be regarded as excessive since there are sinking fund resources and certain revenues which will provide for its orderly liquidation. The State's credit is sound, as shown by the sale of bonds last week at an interest cost of 2.32 per cent. The State has met its every obligation on the due date, and it promises to close the current fiscal year with a free balance in the treasury. It cannot, however, continue indefinitely to issue new bonds to provide for emergency relief and to add large amounts to its present bonded debt.

Periodic reports, such as the one recently announcing that the State has thirty millions of dollars or more as a cash balance, cannot be taken to mean that all of the cash in the State treasury is free to be turned into the ordinary spending channels. The fact of the matter is that practically all of these funds are fully encumbered and are not available for future expenses. The State's income is affected by present conditions. A considerable part of the first-class railroad taxes of the last fiscal year has as yet not been collected, and the prospects for a full collection of these taxes for the present year are not altogether encouraging. The counties and municipalities owed the State $17,827,919 as of September 30, 1934. At the same time, the State has undertaken many added obligations. It has increased in recent years its distribution of gasoline tax and automobile registration receipts to the counties and local governments. It is using seven millions of dollars raised on its own credit as a revolving relief fund for the payment of teachers' salaries. Unemployment relief is costing the State substantial sums, with over a half-million people receiving aid.

It is not possible to estimate with certainty the amount of money that must be provided by the State for relief purposes in 1935. It is my confident hope that the amount required will be substantially less than during the past year. This, however, must depend upon the policy of the Federal Government and the progress made toward business recovery. But our people must be fed and clothed and sheltered.

As to our local governments, the general financial situation is little short of tragic. Both the gross and the net debt of New Jersey municipalities are among the highest of all the States. In 1932 we collected 58.4 per cent of our taxes as provided in the current levies; in 1933 we collected 55 per cent, and, in 1934, 43.1 per cent up to September last. Practically a full year's tax levy is now delinquent, and a considerable part of this great amount is probably uncollectible. Eighty-seven municipalities and two counties have defaulted on their bonds, or short-term obligations, or on both; seven counties and thirty-one municipalities have resorted to scrip; and ten have been taken over by the Municipal Finance Commission, thereby publicly acknowledging their inability to meet their obligations and pay for the ordinary services of government. The bonds and notes of many of our municipalities are unmarketable, and those of others are selling at heavy discounts. The bonds of only a limited number of our municipalities are considered prime investments by financial institutions.

Our home owners, and in fact the owners of all classes of property, are unable to carry the burden of supporting our governments through the property tax. The huge volume of property tax delinquency eloquently testifies to this fact. At the same time, many of our people who are able to carry a share of the burden are practically escaping taxation for State and local purposes.

I take no satisfaction in presenting this picture. I am concerned about it, as you must be concerned, but I am convinced that we cannot longer delay a frank facing of these facts. This situation will not cure itself. It will continue to grow worse if nothing is done. I should fail in my duty to the people if I did not bring it forcefully to their attention and offer methods for its correction.

IMMEDIATE OBJECTIVES

The immediate objectives, both in the State and to a much greater extent in local governments, seem to me clear and compelling. There must be reduction in public expenditures to the point where every dollar of public money is spent in the most effective way for the absolute essentials of governmental service. There must be definite limitations placed upon municipal expenditures, including both current expenses and capital outlays, and there must be tax relief for real estate.

If the normal and usual functions of government were all that must now be provided for, it would probably be possible to accomplish necessary tax relief on real property through rigid economies and legislative safeguards that would bring annual expenditures for every local government within actual current revenues. Unfortunately, this condition does not now prevail. In the midst of far-reaching economic difficulties, we are not only obliged to find a way of rehabilitating municipal finances and municipal credit, but we must provide for the heavy burden of extraordinary emergency relief.

I have said repeatedly that I am anxious to avoid new taxes. I dislike further taxes as much as you do. I have been studying this revenue problem for some months. I have consulted with individuals and groups, officials and taxpayers, seeking some way to avoid the raising of new revenues. After all this, I am convinced that we may just as well face the facts now, before the situation gets further out of hand, and acknowledge the necessity for new revenues to replace a part of the old revenues whose sources have dried up and to solve this compelling problem of financing relief. I have come to the reluctant conclusion that, in addition to the kind of economy that prudent citizens have talked about, which is not the kind we have heretofore practiced in our State and local governments, we must have thirty-five to forty millions of dollars of new revenue to be used wholly for the reduction of real estate taxes to a more reasonable level and for that portion of the day-to-day cost of emergency relief which the State must pay in supplementing Federal funds. It would be folly to place higher levies on our present tax base. They would not produce any substantial amount of revenue, but they would complete the destruction of a further considerable part of our real property values.

With the Federal, State, and local governments all constantly and separately reaching out for new sources of revenues, our tax systems have become hopelessly complex and inequitable and there remains but little opportunity to apply in full the sound fundamental principles of taxation in solving our problem in this or any other State. There can be no satisfactory solution of these questions of taxation until a comprehensive attack is made upon them by joint action of the Federal government and the several States, with a view to devising an integrated tax system for Federal, State, and local purposes. It seems to me that the Federal government should furnish the leadership in a strong movement to this end. Many benefits would flow from a proper tax system, as, for example, uniform procedure and administration, the relating of taxes directly to the capacity of the people who pay them and to the value of the services provided, the spreading of the tax load over all of the wealth and services properly taxable, and the administration and collection of each tax by the government best fitted for the task. Meantime there is nothing we can do but accept conditions as they are and proceed to the solution of our own problem.

The kinds of taxes that may be levied to provide the revenue we require are few in number. I have studied the whole list of possible sources of revenues, and I have come to the conclusion that a two per cent sales tax and an income tax at relatively low rates are the most logical and will apply in the most equitable way to the taxpayers and citizens of our State. Unpalatable as these taxes are, when taken together they distribute the burden among persons of large and small income in accordance with their capacity to pay.

It is estimated that a sales tax at the rate of two per cent upon the gross receipts from the sales at retail of tangible personal property and from certain services, with exemptions for items presently taxed by the State, such as motor fuel, alcoholic beverages, and gas and electricity, will produce approximately $20,000,00.00, or about $2.50 per capita for each one per cent of the tax rate. It is also estimated that the administration cost will be about 2.5 per cent of the tax collected.

Eight other States impose a tax reasonably comparable to the one contemplated. The amount produced in these States ranges from $1.01 to $3.55 per capita for each one per cent of the tax rate, the average being $2.18. In the same States, the costs of administration range from 1.19 to 7 per cent of the tax collected, the average being 2.84 per cent. Thus, in comparison with taxes of these States, it is apparent that the tax proposed for New Jersey should exceed the average of revenues, and the expense should be less than the average costs.

An income tax act, at rates and with exemptions averaging one-half of those contained in the Federal income tax act should produce approximately $15,000,000. The cost of administering this type of tax is comparable to that involved in the administration of a sales tax.

I propose that these two taxes be levied for a period of three years. At or before the expiration of this period we should be in a position to formulate our policy with respect to the whole revenue system of the State.

I fully appreciate the objections that will be raised by groups and individuals to these proposals. I know the opposition these proposals will meet. It will be said, of course, that I am politically unwise—that a great proportion of our people who now enjoy all the privileges and protection and service of their State and local governments, and who do not pay their just and proportionate share in its support, will naturally be reluctant to join the taxpaying class, but I say to you that some action must be taken. It is time for us in this State, without regard to party or personal or group interest, to decide whether we shall permit our local governments to fail by continuing to place their cost on the backs of a limited group of our citizens who can no longer carry the burden, or whether, like sensible, courageous, and determined men and women, we shall provide the funds to carry on our necessary and common services of government from the sources from which they can be most equitably and fairly obtained.

As I say, I make the recommendation for new revenues to be produced through the sales tax in the full knowledge that they will not be popular. I have no personal desire for new taxes of any kind, but I hold that the economic unsoundness of past policies of sidestepping and camouflage, with borrowings against unknown futures, demands this change in our system of taxation.

To those who object to these proposals I say that it is my understanding that the people of the State have elected me as their Governor to administer that part of the responsibilities for their government which law and custom have assigned to him, to point out the pitfalls and dangers that may be in the way, and to propose, to the best of my ability, the measures designed to avoid these dangers and to insure orderly and essential functioning of their government. I am doing this without regard to the partisan political situations involved and as a matter of clear duty as I see it. I must ask in all fairness to the people and to myself that those interests that may oppose these taxes, state their plan for providing thirty-five to forty millions of dollars, either through savings or new sources of revenue, or both, to maintain our public schools, to feed and clothe and shelter our unfortunate neighbors, and to carry on those basic governmental services that are necessary to our social and economic welfare.

PROGRAM FOR LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

Under no conditions must the funds derived from the new sources which I have suggested be used for additional spending by public officials. The very purpose of my recommendations is lost if the funds are used to supplement, rather than replace, existing revenues. I am therefore proposing, in effect, as a condition precedent to the imposition of these new taxes, statutory safeguards to insure the use of the money solely for assumption by the State of school and other costs now falling upon municipalities and counties, and emergency relief.

There must be a period of intelligent, even though painful, readjustment of the finances of our local governments to bring them to a sound basis. In all municipalities already heavily burdened with debt, there must be a cessation of new public improvements, except such as will be self-liquidating. There must be improvement of the administrative procedure in our State and in our local governments to insure those economies that the people must have and which they rightly demand as a condition incident to opening up new sources of revenues.

During the campaign I outlined a program for the financial relief of local governments. I am of the opinion that that plan is sound and that it must be made, as a matter of good faith, the basis of our procedure. I proposed and I now recommend:

(1) The complete revision of the bonding laws; to provide effective debt limits and the orderly retirement of debt in excess of the new limits established; to include the requirement for a down payment on every improvement involving capital outlay from borrowing of an amount equal to an annual installment necessary for the retirement of such borrowings; to fix a binding limitation on new borrowing by municipalities whose debts will exceed the new limits by providing that new borrowings in any year shall be not more than sixty per cent of the amount of debt amortized during the preceding year; and to establish a new schedule of maximum terms for all debts undertaken on account of a public improvement so that the full retirement of such debts shall be assured well within the life of the improvement purchased or contracted for.

(2) A complete revision of the budget laws to require not only proper preparation and administration of municipal budgets but also careful and accurate estimates of anticipated receipts and the restriction of spending to these estimates, with the further provision that cash deficits, if any, at the end of the year must be provided for in the ensuing year's budget.

(3) A more effective collection of taxes and a system of adequate penalties to be imposed upon tax delinquents after fair warning and reasonable opportunity for payment have been provided.

(4) A reduction of the real estate tax by at least one-third.

DEBTS OF LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

Some of our municipalities have made progress under the provisions of Chapter 60 of the Laws of 1934 and through the temporary suspension of the so-called mandatory legislation. These laws, however, do not provide for all of our local governments nor do they touch the real source of our troubles. There is need for a complete revision of municipal bonding laws which must set up definite debt limits that limit in fact, with no exemptions except for such improvements as are self-liquidating. The question of the capacity of a given improvement to carry its own operating costs and provide for its own debt service should be passed upon by the Public Utility Commission or some other appropriate State authority. I favor a debt limit for each layer of government—municipal, school, county, and special district governments—and the consideration of an overall debt limit expressed as a percentage of the ratables averaged over a three or five year period.

The new bonding laws must provide for, regulate, and limit funding and refunding, and must require the orderly retirement of all local debt already in existence in excess of the new limit. As an aid in this process, new borrowings each year should be limited to sixty per cent of the debt actually amortized during the preceding year until the total debt is brought within the prescribed effective limits. Statutory periods of usefulness of various classes of public property and improvement should be reduced well within the years of usefulness of each such class of property or improvement. There must be limitation and control of so-called temporary or bond anticipation financing and of special assessment financing, both of which have shown themselves to be such fruitful causes of financial embarrassment.

BUDGETING IN LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

There must be sound budgetary procedure. Annual budgets must be set up on the basis of revenue that is actually collectible during the year and not partly or mostly upon overly optimistic estimations of future revenues, upon book, rather than actual, surpluses or upon dead or hopelessly frozen assets, as has all too frequently been done in the past to conceal alarming cash deficits from public view and to avoid higher tax rates in years when local officials deemed higher rates or economies politically unwise. Budgets must include all proposed current expenditures, irrespective of how they are to be paid. On each improvement that is to be financed from borrowings, provision must be made in the budget for a down payment not less in amount than an annual installment required for the retirement of the debt. Temporary borrowings against uncollected taxes should be included in computing net debt and must also be radically restricted in amount. The law should require at the earliest feasible time that all tax anticipation borrowing be liquidated during the year, or, failing this, the deficit should be made up in the ensuing year's budget.

STATE ADVISORY SERVICE

As I study the possible effects of new legislation of this type, I can see that many problems of administration, of application, and of observance are bound to arise. It will not be feasible for any legislation, however comprehensive, to provide in advance the solution of all of these problems, because general legislation cannot be made to apply in equity and in full effect to every municipality. Some method of making exceptions clearly within sound practice and common sense must be provided. Since the State, under the proposals I am making, will come to the aid of our local governments in a very definite way, since the people of every community must have assurance that their government will be able to function through a period of readjustment, and since we must assure all taxpayers also that the program of rehabilitation will be carried out under adequate safeguards against reckless spending, there must be a central agency to serve as a sort of clearing house for the experiences, the best available practices, the findings and the conclusions applicable to local governments, and to exercise some supervisory authority.

The Department of Municipal Accounts, now consolidated with the office of the State Auditor, can well be made the basis for a department of local government service, equipped to render constructive advice and assistance, and empowered to examine, or require the examination of, the financial operations of local governments. Attached to the Department there should be a municipal advisory board with authority, in specific and well-defined cases, to waive some of the provisions of the general law in putting into effect a sound rehabilitation plan for any municipality when its particular problems are not amenable to the general law. The advisory board should act in the same capacity also as the present Municipal Finance Commission does when it takes over the supervision of municipalities definitely in default. I see the duties of this Department and Board as assuring observance of sound practice and the established law, and concerned with rendering service of a helpful and constructive character.

ASSESSMENT AND COLLECTION OF TAXES

In this movement toward the placing of our local government on a sound administrative basis, there must be a more effective system for the assessment of property and the collection of taxes. Unless there is fair and uniform assessment, there can be no equalization of the tax burden, and debt limit based on assessed values will have no real meaning. Property assessment is an important and exacting task. It is not a job for amateurs. It should be handled by intelligent and qualified people, free from political or other influences, and in accordance with established standards applied to the whole State. I propose that the county be made the unit of assessment, with general supervisory powers vested in the State Tax Department. I propose a county assessor in each county, thoroughly qualified by training and experience, with a permanent force of deputies and assistants selected under the provisions of the Civil Service Laws. I propose a similar plan for the collection of taxes with a county tax collector selected on the basis of experience and fitness, whose necessary staff of deputies and assistants shall be selected through civil service methods. In some of the larger municipalities it may be found advisable to provide for local assessing and collecting authorities functioning as deputies under the county officers. These administrative details and procedures can readily be worked out, and under such a plan we can be assured of more equitable assessments and more effective collection procedure in the small cities, townships, boroughs, and villages, as well as in the larger communities. Arrangements can well be made with banks throughout each county to serve as collecting agencies for the convenience of taxpayers. Adequate records can be maintained and the moneys collected for each local unit of government, can be paid to the proper local officials as rapidly as collections are made.

As part of this general plan of tax collecting, the proposal that the proceeds of the collection of all taxes in any territorial unit be distributed among the several bodies imposing taxes in the proportion that the tax levy of each bears to the total tax levy in the territory, impresses me. This would mean the elimination of the objectionable feature of our present laws, which compels the municipalities to pay over the total amount of the State and county levies regardless of what percentage of the total taxes they may collect.

I have referred to the amount of taxes now due the State. This situation must be cleared up. I am advised that under the present law, the State may not take an offset for a part or all of the taxes due from counties and other local governments, but must pay out its own funds regardless of the amount owing to it as a result of the failure of the county or the municipality to pay over amounts due. It must be remembered that the State's revenues, as well as those of local governments, are limited, and unless it receives the amounts from local sources that are legally due, it cannot continue to pay over State funds for local purposes.

In connection with these proposals for improving the financial condition of our municipalities, the most important point to which consideration must be given is, in my opinion, insuring that the new revenues produce at least a proportionate reduction in the tax load on real estate. Several means to this end have been suggested. Among others, we should consider the recommendations of the Good Government Council that the tax levy on real property be limited to twenty-five mills, provided this rate can be proved to be adequate, and that a tax limit, even though exempting debt service, in part and under certain difficult conditions, will not be harmful to municipal credit. Desirable as it may be, this matter of tax limitation must be approached with a great deal of care and consideration, in view of the fact that the New York law now provides that no obligation issued after the year 1938 by any county, municipality or school district of any other State shall be a legal investment for the moneys of savings banks in the State of New York, unless such county, municipality or school district shall have the power to levy taxes on the taxable real property therein for the payment of such obligations without limitation of rate or amount. Many of our municipalities, in order further to reduce the tax burden, must do considerable funding and refunding of debt already incurred, and it would defeat the purpose sought if, by imposing a tax limit, we make such financing impossible or materially increase its cost.

In connection with the tax collection procedure, it must be kept in mind that our present financial difficulties arise not only from the fact that real estate taxes are too heavy, but also from our failure to collect, and in many instances to make any effective effort to collect, the taxes levied. I do not forget the seriousness to the individual taxpayer of the loss of his home, or farm, or business through his inability to pay taxes. We are faced with two unfortunate alternatives. If we fail to collect taxes, we bankrupt our municipal governments. If we enforce the collection of taxes, some owners of property may lose their holdings. It seems to me that our first concern must be to limit the tax upon real property, as our plan proposes, to an amount that is equitable and that can be paid, and that when this is done, we shall have no alternative but to require payment and impose penalties upon delinquents.

The interest rate on delinquent taxes should be high enough to make it unprofitable to borrow from the municipality and thereby impose an unfair burden upon other taxpayers. Tax sales must be made to be held within definitely stated periods, although in the municipalities which have not held sales for a number of years, a special procedure may be necessary during a short period of transition. The foreclosure of tax liens must be simplified and made less costly. The procedure followed in the land courts of Massachusetts and in other States, where a simple and inexpensive proceeding results in a good title, is worthy of study and consideration.

ALLOCATION OF NEW REVENUES

I have said that it will be necessary for us to have from thirty-five to forty million dollars of new revenue annually in order to reduce taxes on real estate and to provide necessary funds for unemployment relief. I have emphasized the fact that, while the financial position of the State is sound today, and while there will be a small unencumbered balance in the general fund at the end of the current fiscal year, we must not forget that we face a substantial State bonded debt and an extremely large bonded debt of the counties and municipalities. We should, therefore, make every effort to avoid passing on to future generations the cost of feeding, clothing, and sheltering the half-million or more of our neighbors and friends now on relief.

Once assured that we are going to attack this problem of reducing spending by our governments in this State, and with satisfactory legal provision for enforcing the conditions which I have laid down, the people want to know something of the prospective available revenues of the State and what disposition will be made of the new moneys to be realized through the taxes proposed.

We have some hope that we may receive some additional inheritance tax moneys and some payment in return for the sums advanced some years ago to the Port Authority during the year, but we cannot count upon these amounts until they are actually available. With the State assuming a larger part of the support of the public schools, there should be a reduction of the loans to school districts made from the seven million dollars of proceeds from the State bonds heretofore issued, and provision must be made for the return of these sums to the treasury. Highway moneys not required for administrative and maintenance expenses, State aid and reimbursement to counties, should be devoted to the improvement of rural roads.

It can be seen from what I have said heretofore that revenues now available do not meet our problem of emergency relief, which is further complicated by the fact that we do not know at this time the amount of relief assistance which will be provided by the Federal government. It will be our purpose to cooperate in every possible way with the President and the Federal agencies, but we must confidently rely upon contributions from Federal funds for 1935 as large, if not larger, than those received in 1934. If the Federal government should fail us in this, our situation with respect to State and municipal finances would be serious indeed.

It is my purpose to use the new revenues which come from the proposed taxes for:

First, the removal from real estate of the two and three-quarter-mill State school tax, amounting to approximately $18,000,000.

the age of eligibility from seventy to sixty-five years indicate that we would have about 18,000 persons eligible to receive grants instead of the slightly more than 10,000 eligible under the present age limit. On the other hand, the cost of the additional assistance given would not be in proportion to the increase of numbers, the younger persons involved having available more resources of savings and greater earning capacity than those who are more than seventy years of age. We should give further detailed study to this problem.

Although not directly a part of these developments, but embraced in the welfare field, are the questions of the extension of the activities of the Health Department in improving sanitary conditions, the protection of pure water supplies and preventive measures against disease and other influences detrimental to our public health. I want to see a more aggressive, State-wide health service with a closer co-ordination of all State and local health agencies working together in a common purpose and with their whole efforts directed to a single end; greater health security for all the people of the State.

I have felt for a long time that our State Health Department should be established upon a more effective basis, that it should restate its basic aims and that it should become an educational agency, leading public thought and practice, rather than an enforcing agency, devoting its main energies to routine matters. By the extension and pooling of our State and local clinical services of all kinds we shall be able not only to keep many people in the self-supporting group but also to reduce the demands for institutional care. The work of the Child Hygiene Division, the Crippled Children's Commission, the State Housing Authority and other agencies in this field must be continued as a part of this wider program. Prevention is much more economical and effective than cure.

LABOR

Our recent economic difficulties have brought the whole problem of the security of the family, as well as the individual, into new prominence. I have said that New Jersey was a leader among the States in the enactment of workmen's compensation and in providing for the rehabilitation of those workers injured by accident or weakened by unhealthy conditions in industry. Our industrial compensation and rehabilitation activities have been gradually extended, a State-wide employment service has been developed, and health, sanitary, and safety standards in industry have been constantly advanced. It is my hope that we shall not only maintain the standards that have been heretofore attained, but that we shall strengthen such weak spots as may now appear in the law and its operation. It is my further hope that the proceedings in workmen's compensation cases can be speeded up, that insurance features can be strengthened, that the minimum-wage act can be more generally applied, and that the State employment service can be made as effective as possible in the interests of both the industrial workers and the employers.

HOUSING

One of the important steps designed to improve general health and social conditions is improved housing. Sub-standard housing conditions in slum areas have far-reaching effects, both from the social and economic points of view. Slum areas are unquestionably a cause of many of our social diseases, feeble-mindedness, insanity, delinquency, crime, and particularly juvenile delinquency, which has been increasing at an alarming rate in recent years. In the long run, the money costs involved, without considering the social losses and their attendant problems, equal, and probably far exceed, the cost of better housing for the occupants of these areas. The housing and rehousing of those of our people in the lowest income brackets present a field which has not had adequate consideration in the past from private capital and industry.

It is my feeling that private capital should be encouraged to enter the low cost housing field; but, to the extent that it is not available in sufficient volume to meet actual needs, Federal housing activities should have our encouragement and support, not only because they will create additional profitable employment and quicken business, but also because they will eliminate some of the worst of our congested slum areas and assist in improving social conditions.

EDUCATION

Public education is America's outstanding accomplishment. Practically every man, woman and child in our State is interested in it and directly influenced by it. I stand, of course, for the maintenance of our public schools in their full effectiveness. I endorse the principles laid down by the State School Survey, and I have already proposed in an earlier part of this Message the assumption by the State of the full amount of the two and three-quarter mill tax.

As our finances will permit, I want to see the foundation program proposed by the School Survey fully adopted as a recognition on the part of the State that the education of New Jersey's children is a matter of State-wide concern. It is hoped that our educational authorities will put into early effect the full economies indicated as possible by the School Survey and that the standards of educational cost and service to which it refers shall be formulated and adopted.

I shall expect the State to meet its full obligations to the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund. I am confident that we shall have the loyal and unselfish support of all the teachers of the State in our efforts to maintain the high level of our educational system while we are working our way back to a more satisfactory economic and financial condition.

Only as we build a better citizenry shall we find the solution of our great public problems—crime control, administration of justice, public safety, care of the indigent, business recovery, and the like. To produce an intelligent, trustworthy citizenry, as I see it, is the one big job of our public schools; to train leaders is the job of our institutions of higher learning. The process sometimes seems discouragingly slow, but it is the only sure way to the desired end.

CRIME

New Jersey was once renowned for its sure and speedy justice. While it has maintained a better record than some of the other States, it is no longer the State where criminals are promptly apprehended, speedily tried, and effectively punished. I am anxious to see this State's reputation for the punishment of crime and the administration of justice speedily restored. Important factors in this matter are the efficiency and character of our police, the integrity and devotion of our prosecuting officers, and the quality of our jurors. I propose, so far as my authority will extend, to eliminate definitely and completely political partnership with criminals and racketeers and to demand that prosecuting officers throughout the State shall use every means at their command to stamp out crime and lawlessness wherever it may appear. I shall require of those I appoint to public office high standards of fitness, and none will receive my endorsement unless I am sure he is fitted for the service to be performed and is free and willing to perform it.

I have called a State Crime Conference for March 1st and 2nd, at which representatives of every agency, public or private, interested in the apprehension, the conviction, the correction and punishment of criminals will participate. It is our purpose to improve the functioning of our local and State agencies and to integrate their work more completely with the work of preventing and suppressing crime carried on by other States and the Federal Government.

I shall be happy to transmit to you for appropriate action, recommendations growing out of this conference.

JUDICIAL REFORM

The Judicial Council appointed by the Legislature to study and propose improvements in our judicial system and consisting of representatives of the courts, bar associations, legislators and lawyers of high standing, has presented comprehensive recommendations for a reorganization of our court system. We are using a judicial organization devised in 1844 for conditions entirely different from those that prevail today. There have grown up appeals and technical procedures that delay and hamper justice. I am satisfied that our judges are to be commended for the results they have been able to accomplish. They are entitled, however, to the necessary modern machinery in order that they may more effectively discharge their important functions. The Republican Platform approved the reorganization of our present judicial system. I, therefore, urge favorable action by the Legislature.

JURY REFORM

The demand for real jury reform has been constantly growing and evidences of jury tampering have been brought to light in some parts of the State. The assurance of fair trial by an honest jury is one of the most important rights that a citizen possesses. As Governor I will not tolerate even the appearance of jury tampering, and I will use all of the power of that office to stamp it out wherever it may appear. Our whole system of government has been built up under the principle of checks and balances and I am not fully convinced that the proposal of the Judicial Council, placing the selection of jurors exclusively in an agent of the courts, is the best solution. The Republican Platform has pledged effective jury reform and it is our obligation and responsibility to adopt the required legislation.

JUVENILE COURTS

Problems dealt with by our juvenile courts are problems in human relations and adjustment. They require special skill and technique. The purpose of these courts is to rescue wayward children from careers of crime. This work is so important to the welfare of our State as to justify a specially trained judiciary, completely separate from that of our Common Pleas Courts, and having exclusive jurisdiction in cases involving children under the age of sixteen years, and concurrent jurisdiction with that of the Courts of Common Pleas in cases where the welfare of children under twenty years is involved.

It has been observed in other States where special juvenile courts have been established that women frequently are possessed of special fitness for such posts. I favor an appropriate measure establishing special judges for juvenile courts. A high standard of fitness should be established for these judges but legal training as evidenced by a license to practice law should not be required.

REVISION OF LAWS

Close to one million dollars have been spent since 1925 in the work of revising the laws of the State. Although quality and accuracy should not be sacrificed to haste, the work must be completed at once and made available to the public at the lowest possible price. Plans should also be made whereby the new revision will be kept up to date by the Attorney-General's Department.

PUBLIC UTILITIES

Both parties have pledged revision of the Public Utilities Commission statute to strengthen the hands of this regulative agency of the State. Every well-managed utility company is entitled to a fair return on its investments. I do not share the rising confidence that all public utilities can be better and more economically operated under public ownership than through private enterprise. I do not question the right of a municipality to establish its own utility enterprises, where such action may be warranted by reason of excessive rates, but we must not lose sight of the fact that municipally-owned properties are exempt from tax. If widespread municipal ownership should destroy our public utility enterprises, we will face the loss of millions of dollars in taxes now collected for the support of government.

In view of the fact that the government of the Dominion of Canada regards the matter of investments of primary importance, and in view of Canada's record for the soundness of its financial institutions—there has not been a single failure even during the depression period—it may be well to quote a recent expression of the Honorable L. A. Taschereau, Premier of the Province of Quebec:

“Let the public be assured that the government will see that capital and savings will be protected. The present attack against the utilities companies has had the expected result. Bondholders and shareholders are becoming nervous and threaten to throw their shares on the market. In a difficult period such as that we are passing through, it would be a disaster. I receive appeals from widows, estate administrators and religious orders, for they have placed in these companies millions of dollars, sometimes their entire fortune, the savings of a whole life, which means the future of their families and members. I pray them not be frightened. If investigation brings about a readjustment of rates, the commission, I am sure, will know how to put an end to a campaign which threatens to destroy the confidence of the public, so essential in financial enterprise.”

I believe, however, that utility companies should be useful servants and not the masters in this sovereign State. Public utilities, like all other businesses, must adjust themselves to our changing economic, industrial, and social conditions. There is an increasing demand for a revision of utility rates in the user's interest. The facts ought to be known, and the Board of Public Utility Commissioners should be clothed with ample power. At the same time it must give convincing evidence that it represents the interests of the people.

I propose the following extensions of authority:

(1) That the Board be given power to prevent the disguising and concealing of profits by unnecessarily high costs of management, construction, and engineering by holding or interlocking companies.

(2) That the lending of money or property by a public utility to holding interests be prohibited, or strictly regulated, and made subject to approval by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners.

(3) That the Board be given authority to prohibit the declaration of dividends unless fully warranted by the financial condition, the earnings of the company, and the physical condition of plant and equipment.

(4) That public utilities operating in the State be required to keep depreciation funds and the securities in which such funds are invested within the State in order that the financial interests of consumers may be more adequately assured.

(5) That utilities operating within the State be required to keep therein customer, financial, operating, and property records of the business done and property owned in the State as a means of facilitating regulation.

(6) That the Board be empowered to negotiate and agree upon temporary rates, pending determination after formal proceedings.

(7) That the Board have authority in the discontinuance of surcharges and repayment of such surcharges when this procedure may be established as equitable.

(8) That the Board be given authority to require sound insurance on auto buses operating on an interstate basis, and to disapprove operation consents and transfers unless satisfied with the financial responsibility of the insuring company.

The present extended hearings on rate cases before the Public Utility Commission are not operating in the best interests of the public. I intend to demand that they be brought to a speedy close and that equitable rates be fixed at the earliest possible moment.

BANKING, BUILDING AND LOAN, AND INSURANCE

I have watched with a great deal of interest the progress made in the improvement of the financial conditions of our State banking structure and building and loan associations. The interest of both the State and the depositors will be served best, I think, by continuing a conservative policy in these important matters. It must be our first consideration to recover for depositors and investors the greatest possible proportion of the deposits and investments in those institutions and associations that must be liquidated. The head of this important Department should be not only well qualified through experience in financial institutions, but should be a man who can devote his entire time to the supervision of its three important divisions—banking, building and loan, and insurance.

I want to see enlightened co-operation between our State banking system and the Federal banking authorities, but I believe that the fullest possible measure of independence should be retained by our State institutions. I hold a similar view with respect to the federalization of building and loan associations. It seems to me that both the bankers, and the leaders among our building and loan interests, must work out their own problems with such encouragement and assistance as the State can properly provide.

To assist in the solution of the numerous problems of co-operation, co-ordination, management, and legislation affecting our State banking institutions, I recommend the creation by law of a bank advisory board, representative in its membership of the several classes of our financial institutions. This plan has proved effective in New York and other States, and it would bring to our banking problems a great diversity of valuable opinion and experience.

Both building and loan associations and insurance companies are inextricably linked to the financial welfare of the people of the State, and merit a closer personal attention and study than has hitherto been possible, or considered necessary. Recently the New Jersey Building and Loan League made a survey and report upon the condition of this industry in our State. This report contained a frank appraisal of the weaknesses in the existing system, but reflected pride in the potential strength and value of our building and loan associations. This report commends itself to the study of the members of the Legislature and of every citizen.

The League has made a number of important recommendations for legislation. One of the most important of these calls for the requirement that constitutions and amendments of the association be submitted to the Department of Banking and Insurance before they become effective, with the right of disapproval vested in the Commissioner, subject to a proper and comprehensive control of his action by the courts. This proposal makes for a desirable uniformity and will permit the elevation of standards.

MORTGAGE AND TITLE GUARANTY COMPANIES

The fundamental unsoundness of the business of guaranteeing mortgages, participating shares in trustee groups of such mortgages, and bonds issued on similar security, has been thoroughly demonstrated by the events of recent years. At present, the companies chartered under the laws of New Jersey are operating under restraints imposed by acts adopted in 1933 and orders pertaining thereto issued by the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance. Strictness set on these companies prevents their lending of additional money or the sale of any of their paper. The companies are in process of liquidation of their outstanding obligations, a process which probably will require a period of years for completion.

One of the most unfortunate aspects of this sorry situation is the fact that the paper issued by these companies was made legal for investment of trust funds a generation ago, when these companies began their mushroom growth. The error made was one of judgment and was not confined to any group of companies or any selection of State Legislatures; it was universal.

We owe to those who have suffered loss and privation as a result of the error to which the State was a party every measure possible to insure that these trusts shall be liquidated as rapidly as may be practicable, and without undue expense, while preserving the interest of investors. The Department of Banking and Insurance should undertake the task of completing this work without cost to the trusts except insofar as the liquidation process may yield a surplus over the contract obligations involved. I commend to you action along this line.

While there is no immediate prospect of the restraint on the insurance and guaranty features of this business being lifted, it appears to me to be desirable to make perfectly clear that such business is at a definite end in New Jersey. I therefore recommend that the acts governing the chartering and supervision of such companies be amended to deny, henceforth, the privilege of engaging in the business of guaranteeing mortgages and titles.

PROTECTION OF HOME OWNERS

In view of the depressed value of real property and of the fact that on the sale of mortgaged property there is frequently no real bidding, I suggest that consideration be given to the enactment of a law providing a moratorium on mortgage principal payments, provided the taxes and interest be paid, and the enactment of a law to curb any abuses that may exist in the taking of deficiency judgments. Any mortgage moratorium act would, of course, be drawn in accordance with the constitutional principles laid down by our courts in the decision holding the former act invalid. Such laws, or laws on similar principles, now exist in several States, and, I am informed, have been found to be desirable legislation. Incidentally, a mortgage moratorium act on the lines above suggested, might aid in preserving the value of real property and encouraging the payment of interest and taxes.

AGRICULTURE

Agriculture continues to be one of our most valuable assets. It is more than a business. It is a way of life for a substantial part of our population. In addition to tax relief for homes and farms, improvement of our secondary and rural highways, and reduction in the cost of government, I favor the expansion of home markets for our farm products, adequate protection for our fruit and vegetable industry, the strengthening of consumer relationships as indicated in the fresh egg and milk control acts, and the continuance of the battle against pests and disease destructive to our farm crops, orchards, vegetation and farm animals.

I endorse the proposal to extend the milk control law and to enlarge its usefulness by bringing together on the milk control board representatives of the producers, the dealers and the consumers. I am advised that the dairy interests are of the opinion that this service can be made self-supporting through license fees. This is a sound procedure.

The Emergency Farm Mortgage Committee has aided in averting foreclosures and adjusting the individual mortgage and other financial problems of many farmers during the past year. This service should be continued.

HIGHWAYS

I think it is accurate to say that the work of the Highway Commission still lacks public confidence. To my mind, it is time to stop permanently the mixing of politics, cement, and tar in our highway construction and maintenance. The recent efforts to require the purchase of extensive amounts of maintenance materials and the frequent approval of the purchase of such materials for county maintenance and repairs at rates greatly higher than those paid in neighboring States, are not reassuring.

The Highway Department is still geared for a big construction program, and, considering the volume of work actually done, I am satisfied that there is much extravagance in the whole setup. The work of the Highway Department for the immediate future must be one of maintenance rather than new construction. For some years to come it will be necessary to limit construction on primary highways to connecting links and some widening projects. The organization of the Department needs to be readjusted promptly to this basis. Emphasis must now be placed upon the secondary highway system and improvement of rural and township roads. It seems to me that there should be a closer tie-in between the State and county systems. It is entirely feasible for the State to assume eventually the responsibility for much of the present county systems, the counties, in turn, taking over the construction and maintenance activities of the townships, boroughs, and smaller municipalities.

I accept the principle, laid down in the Princeton Survey, of a single Highway Commissioner and, while wide engineering experience will be of great value, it seems to me that the first consideration is a man of high integrity, of known administrative capacity, one fully capable of directing all the highway activities in a way to secure and retain the confidence of the people of the State. Appropriate legislation will be prepared. I urge its prompt adoption.

WATER SUPPLY

In regard to the water supply problem, particularly as it affects the metropolitan areas of New Jersey, I not only recognize its urgency for prompt solution, but also the complexity of the problem from the standpoint of present investments in water resources by some of the larger cities.

There is no doubt in my mind that the time has arrived when we must stop fiddling with this vital necessity and when we must place the responsibility for a clear-cut program for all water needs in the hands of an agency which can proceed without hindrance to satisfy the potable water requirements of all our people.

Legislative action will be required and I intend to bring to bear as quickly as possible competent legal and technical assistance. I shall handle this matter in a special message to the Legislature.

WATERWAYS

New Jersey owes its wealth, aside from the richness of its soil, very largely to its coast lines and its waterways. As a State, however, it has done little or nothing to foster and develop these great resources.

I am anxious to have the Board of Commerce and Navigation clothed with authority that will enable it to become an agency through which these latent assets of the State can be turned into life-sustaining forces.

The proper development of our waterways will serve to open up the way for the sale of what are now dormant rights. It would bring about the occupation of waste area with homes and buildings, stimulate the boat-building industry, and give employment in various ways to thousands of people.

NEW JERSEY SHIP CANAL

For many years it has been considered that a ship canal from the Delaware River to the Raritan Bay, providing the last link in the chain of intracoastal waterways from the Florida bays and sounds to the New England States, would be a great asset to New Jersey. The cost of construction would be borne by the Federal Government, but New Jersey would be expected to provide the right of way and to assume damages attendant to the construction of the canal. The estimate of the United States Engineers is that between twenty and thirty-five thousand men would be given employment during the period of construction.

Recently there has been some opposition, chiefly from the agricultural interests and, of course, the railroads, to the undertaking of this project. There are varying estimates of the State's share of the cost, ranging from two million to five million dollars, involved in the acquisition of the right of way and payment of damage claims.

We should promptly enter into a study of this project and its potential value to New Jersey, and reach a decision upon which the United States Government may base its action. The matter is now under the consideration of a special board of engineers.

INHERITANCE TAXES

The Dorrance Estate Tax, assessed in 1932, is still the subject of litigation and is now before the New Jersey Supreme Court for adjudication. The Courts have held that the domicile of the decedent was in New Jersey and that the assessment by the State Tax Commissioner was valid. The amount due at present is $11,713,548.71, with interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum to be computed from September 21, 1931, making the total sum due the State over $14,000,000.00.

Unless the executors of the estate appear presently willing to make a settlement, the law should be repealed under which the State Tax Commissioner is empowered to waive any part, or all, of the interest which has accrued.

I strongly urge repeal of the act under which the entire tax on estates, where such estates exceed two million dollars, is dedicated to the Old Age Pension Fund. Dedication of regular revenues is bad enough, but dedication of irregular revenues is exceedingly vicious. While this law does not affect many estates, it strikes heavily at the State fund on which our chief State activities, except highway, rest, and the law should be repealed before the Dorrance Tax is actually collected.

ECONOMY THROUGH "LET-USER-PAY" POLICY

State, county, and local governments often furnish costly services to a relatively small number of our citizens. Some of these services might well be reorganized on a basis that would make them self-supporting. State departments and agencies are generous in their distribution without charge, of pamphlets, copies of legislative bills, and literature of specialized interest. Even in our courts we find that much litigation is carried on primarily for the benefit of individuals who do not bear a fair proportion of the cost.

The Commissioner of Finance should be required to suggest a fair schedule of charges for specialized services, to be imposed upon those who are the beneficiaries of these services in cases where it is assured that no hardship or injustice would be inflicted.

HIGHWAY SAFETY

New Jersey should not only continue the favorable record it has attained in the past in street and highway accident prevention but this splendid activity should be enlarged to the end that motor vehicle accidents with their attendant suffering, sorrow, and economic loss may be reduced to a minimum.

In the past three years, New Jersey has attained a motor vehicle accident record far more favorable than the average for the entire country, despite the fact that the registration and use of the motor vehicle in New Jersey decreased only slightly as compared with most other States.

However, when within the border lines of a State there are killed more than three people each day, it cannot be said that the job has been completed. In addition to this horrible and senseless killing, there is an economic loss each year nearly equal to the monies spent in New Jersey last year for the relief of its unemployed.

There has been an alarming increase in drunken driving cases and every law enforcing official and judicial official should co-operate in stamping out this evil.

We must continue our safety educational campaign, and insist upon the apprehension and equitable punishment of consistent violators of the Motor Vehicle Law who have no regard for human life and the property of others. There should be an annual, or semiannual, inspection of all motor vehicles, under a plan that will divorce the features of inspection from the commercial aspects of adjustment and repair.

CIVIL SERVICE

New Jersey may justly take pride in the personnel of its classified service in the administrative and executive arms of the government. I am impressed with the high type of public servant represented by the great majority of our department and division heads and the members of their staffs. The platforms of both parties pledged a constitutional amendment to make permanent the Civil Service principle in the administration of public affairs. I call upon you to act promptly to this end.

STATE CODES

Recently the State codes, limping along under inadequate and inefficient administration, were mercifully put out of their misery. I believe that this action met with the approval of most industrialists and the great masses of our people who are opposed to price-fixing and the deputizing of certain ambitious elements in the various industries to interfere in the regulation of business. Such a practice is not in the public interest; it leads to monopoly and hinders recovery.

LIQUOR CONTROL

The problem of liquor control is to license only honest, law-abiding citizens, and then to prevent everybody else from exercising the privileges assured to the licensees. Primary emphasis must be put on the stopping of bootlegging, chiseling, and evasion. Unless this is done, legitimate beverage men cannot stay in business.

Congress should be memorialized to reduce radically the Federal tax on beverages so as to destroy the standing invitation to their illegal manufacture and sale. The Federal tax should be reduced first but reduction of the State tax should follow. The predictable results are the practical elimination of the bootlegger and racketeer, and a heavy increase of liquor tax revenue both to the State and possibly to the Federal government.

The Alcoholic Beverage Commission reports that approximately 50 per cent of the liquor consumed in this State does not pay taxes. When the high taxes, which the legitimate trade must shoulder, but which the bootlegger wholly escapes, are substantially slashed, the bootleg output will have no especial appeal to a price-conscious public. The constant demand will therefore be automatically diverted into legitimate channels, and will prove again the time-tested truth that a lower tax, widely distributed, produces more revenue than a high tax the incidence of which falls solely upon a special class.

Municipalities should be enabled to punish summarily local violations and to share in the proceeds of confiscated seizures.

FALL PRIMARIES

The proposed change in date for primary elections, from May to September, has my full support. Long campaigns brought about by early primary elections have been found to place an undue strain upon the health and the resources of the candidates. Moreover, when the primary election is held in the Spring, the pre-primary campaign has a bad effect on the work of the Legislature, bringing about trading of votes, jockeying for advantage, and inattention to the affairs of State.

Both major parties promised support for this reform during the campaign and prompt action should be taken. I so recommend.

RACIAL PROBLEMS

The relation of the Negro citizen of our State to his fellow citizen has, in general been characterized by a spirit of tolerance, good-will, and understanding co-operation. Among the members of the Negro race living in New Jersey are to be found leaders in the professional, educational and religious life of the community—successful business men and women. Through the leadership and influence of many of these, we are learning better to appreciate the important contribution of energy, creative achievement and other inherent good qualities which the Negro brings to our community life.

Several studies of inter-racial activities, notably those of the Inter-Racial Committee of the State Conference of Social Work, have been helpful in bringing about a better understanding of the Negro's problem. A fact-finding study by a legislative committee assigned to the work, which has developed the importance of giving State leadership, influence and support to the movement current in many localities for improving the relationship between the Negro and white citizen, for providing local initiative to bring about better conditions of housing, employment, public health and education, and means of improving community adjustment among Negroes, prompts the suggestion that we provide in our State Welfare Plan for a division or bureau to be devoted to the promotion and co-ordination of this type of work.

I plan to discuss this proposal in detail with those who have taken an active part in the work, and may have further suggestions to submit to you at a later date.

PORT OF NEW YORK AUTHORITY

In many of our interstate undertakings the State of New Jersey has been looked upon as a younger, weaker brother and has received his proverbial share. Beginning today, we shall deal on equal terms.

The Port of New York Authority is an agency of the States of New Jersey and of New York, which exercises broad delegated powers. It is an important sector of New Jersey governmental affairs. The Governors of the two States are virtually ex-officio members of the Port of New York Authority by reason of their veto powers. The legislation conferring this veto power provided that no action taken by any Commissioner appointed from the State of New Jersey shall have force or effect if vetoed by the Governor of the State within a certain designated period after transmission to him of the minutes of the meeting. The actions of the Commissioners appointed from the State of New York are likewise subject to veto by the Governor of that State.

It will be my purpose as Governor of New Jersey to keep myself fully informed with respect to the policy and procedure of the Port of New York Authority, and if and when necessary, to exercise this veto power in the best interest of the institution itself and of the two States.

The State of New Jersey has appropriated and advanced to the Port Authority sums aggregating $8,500,000.00 for the construction of interstate bridges, amounts which are payable as provided in the statutes by which the appropriations were made.

Repayment of the principal and interest is contingent upon certain events provided in the Statutes, which renders the time and amount of repayment indefinite. The Port of New York Authority is now contemplating a refunding of its outstanding bonds and, incidental thereto, efforts will be made to compromise and liquidate these obligations. In my judgment, the advances made by the State of New Jersey for bridge construction should be compromised and liquidated if possible, or if not, the obligation to repay should be converted from its present contingent form into a definite promise to pay some compromised sum at such definite future time as will be consistent with the financial capacity of the Port of New York Authority and its prior obligations.

It is generally felt in this State that the position taken by the Port of New York Authority in the Lighterage Case was antagonistic to New Jersey. Those connected with this interstate agency maintain that the entrance of the Port Authority into the Boston case was not in opposition to the financial or business interests of New Jersey. I have not had an opportunity personally to investigate the facts, and it would be unfair to indulge in unwarranted criticism, but I can assure you that insofar as I may be able to control the situation through veto power or appointments, this interstate agency will not, during my administration, be permitted to take a position in any matter inimical to the best interests of this State.

DEVELOPMENT OF STATE RESOURCES

New Jersey has unusual advantages of geographic location with respect to industry, agriculture, residence and recreational resources. The progress of the last fifty years and more is due largely to the rich endowment of location, climate, fertility, and the unmatched seacoast and wooded hills and valleys of our upland counties. Individuals and a few local communities have been energetic at times in carrying on development of these natural resources and in the pleasant work of bringing these advantages to the notice of those who would be interested in their use and enjoyment. There has never been any concerted action taken by the State as a whole, and backed by public authority, to meet the competition offered by other States and other regions.

I believe you will agree with me that the State ought to assume the leadership and the co-ordination of these activities in behalf of State development. I know you have all been impressed with work of this character which has been carried on over a period of years with great benefit to the New England group of States and such States as Florida and California. I suggest, therefore, that appropriate action be taken to create a New Jersey Council, which would have the purpose of bringing together, under the chairmanship of the Governor, representatives of the Legislature, of industry, commerce, home development and community life and our recreational centers, for the development of future policies and for the purpose of increasing knowledge of, and interest in, the State's manifold resources. This council should be jointly supported by moderate appropriations from the State and by schedules of membership dues which the council should be authorized to fix for those firms, associations, and individuals who would wish voluntarily to participate on a representative basis in such an undertaking. The council should undertake a program of research and planning and should engage a competent staff for the execution of its policies.

This council could, among other things, develop practical projects for public works of an enduring and worth-while character, planning to make the best possible use of men and women who, presently, with the aid of the Federal Government, will become available for public works from the ranks of the unemployed.

We have for instance in the lowlands of the Hackensack and Passaic Valleys an enormous economic resource in sight of the towers of Manhattan and our own metropolitan area, which lends itself with particular fitness to industrial and commercial development under the kind of program which is contemplated. Numerous studies of what could be done have been made and we therefore have, immediately available, the information essential to plan for a beginning of a most practical and profitable public enterprise. Our seashore resorts are in need of the support which a vigorous publicity campaign of perhaps national scope would give them. The products of our great farms and factories should be advertised in the nation's markets. We are possessed of many miles of waterfront, blighted and relatively undeveloped either because there has been no vision of sufficient clarity or because of inertia.

There are literally a thousand miles of almost unrivalled manufacturing site frontage along our trunk line railroads, served by our excellent State highways, with cheap power available from interconnected electric systems, with numerous aviation fields—every conceivable facility for cheap and rapid communication and transport—and with six hundred cheerful communities filled with competent men and women eager for employment. These sites lie almost within the shadows of New York and Philadelphia. Their natural market is the best in the world—in fact, it is the world. I am convinced that a council such as I have outlined would become a major factor for achievement for this administration, a step as important as any taken by New Jersey in a generation, and one which would yield large dividends of opportunity for our people.

CONCLUSION

I cannot, of course, even in a cursory way cover all the important problems with which we must deal at this session of the Legislature or during the year. As I have considered the long list of public questions that require attention, I have been perplexed at times as to what course of action we should best pursue. But I recall that most of our economic and social and business problems are, after all, human problems, and require for their solution, not so much more law and legal procedure and interpretation as intelligent and determined effort and a high degree of industry and leadership. I recognize the advantages, I think, of correct structure in government, but I adhere to the notion that men, more than laws, codes, and formulae, are the answer to the immediate improvement of public service. Good men will give good administration, and men whose interests lie in other directions will not be moved to more devoted service when clothed with authority supported by elaborate law.

Perhaps nothing expresses so clearly the sense of responsibility actuating those holding places of public responsibility as does the type of persons appointed by them to office. The Legislature shares with the Governor—through the power of confirmation residing in the Senate—the responsibility for the quality of justice in our courts through appointments to the judiciary, and responsibility for the suppression of crime through appointments of public prosecutors and other officers. I would lay it down as an essential that in this Administration the recommendations which are made to me, and which I would naturally desire to consider, should be confined to men and women of recognized integrity, of standing in their respective professions, people who hold places of esteem in the regard of their fellow citizens. There will be in the next three years no horse-trading, no apportioning of jobs among factions and groups without regard to the interests of all. A place at the pie counter will not be the first consideration.

My Administration will be a working Administration. We will make the best use of the tools we have and will not wait for new organization plans and new mandates. I shall propose changes and improvements as I find they are necessary and desirable, but we shall go ahead now. I like to work and I have no use for loafers in public or private life. I want department heads who know what they are about, and who will work with both hands in the honest and effective discharge of their departmental duties. I shall expect, both from department heads and from all their subordinate employees alike, full-time service from those paid on that basis, a fair day's work for a fair day's pay, every day, and an observance of the working hours fixed for State offices in the current law. There must be respect for law and procedure by every agency and department. Without this we cannot hold the confidence of the people we serve.

In all our search for a greater security and for a better condition of living for our State and her citizens we must not forget that intolerance and harsh treatment of one group or industry or business is not offset by tolerance and a spirit of fair dealing toward others. Ours is an industrial State. The welfare of the people depends upon the mills and factories, the trade and commerce within our borders. Our State must continue to be the safe abode of honest business and trade, with equitable taxes, adequate regulation for the public welfare, and protection of every one's proper interests.

Large-scale financing of operating expenses on a deferred basis has been, in my opinion, an element tending to keep an important fundamental of the economic situation in suspense. We have asked the men of business to make bold commitments; at the same time we have declined to disclose what the ultimate bill for government spending was to be. Business can be bold when the fundamental structure is sound, but it dare not be bold in the face of an outstanding blank government draft. It is time now for government to devote itself to the task of balancing revenues to expenditure, so that business can begin to calculate more confidently for the future.

And now, as we set ourselves to the task of perfecting our plans and enacting them into the law of New Jersey, let me urge you to have confidence in the outcome of our labors together. While conditions prevailing everywhere in the world today are such as to challenge our faith in democratic institutions, I hold it to be certain that we shall recover from the ills of recklessness and excess that are afflicting us. We need in sober truth to apply to our problems of today the great principles of right and justice upon which this nation was founded.

We have been passing through a period of doubt when men were struggling with conflicting philosophies—whether the State exists for the individual or the individual exists for the State. The question, as I see it, has been: Is it necessary for an individual to subordinate himself completely to the mass in order to attain the security and happiness which ought to be his birthright? No doubt many of us have wondered at times if a democracy could survive the hysterical demand for the services of despots and dictators which has been sweeping through Europe.

I believe today that I can, in all sincerity, say to you that we have lived to see the issue decided in favor of a State subordinated to the will of a people rather than a people subordinated to the will of a man or any self-perpetuated group. There has been a decided revival of confidence in our institutions since events of the last few months tore away whatever of glamour had masked the true nature of the despot. Regimentation holds no more claim for the loyalty of Americans than unbridled individualism.

Hitler's blood purge, the murders of Dollfuss and Alexander, the butchery in Russia, have been timely reminders of what despotism really means. These events have served to shock those who may have wavered in their faith into realizing again that democracy is a precious thing, worthy of every sacrifice. How fortunate we are to enjoy its privileges, its rights of discussion and dissent, its achievement of slow gains by trial and error, but still achievement! We live under the greatest form of government the mind of man has conceived. Let us value it at its true worth! Let us be loyal to those principles of truth and justice and the public good which are the flesh and blood of our living institutions! Let us renew our vows to be faithful stewards of these treasures of freedom! Let us proclaim in our deeds our faith in a representative form of government.

Respectfully submitted,

HAROLD G. HOFFMAN,
Governor.

Mr. Gurk offered the following Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 2, proposing amendments to the Constitution, which was read for the first time, ordered to have a second reading, and referred to the Committee on Miscellaneous Business:

Concurrent Resolution proposing amendment to the Constitution of the State of New Jersey.

Be It Resolved by the House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey (the Senate concurring):

1. 11. There shall be a department of civil service which shall administer the personnel functions of the State and of such political subdivisions thereof as have adopted or shall hereafter adopt the provisions of the civil service laws or to which the civil service laws may be applied in the manner provided by law.

The department of civil service shall establish and maintain a classification and pay plan based upon the duties and responsibilities of positions in the classified civil service; establish list of eligibles from which appointments shall be made according to merit and fitness and as far as practicable by means of competitive tests; regulate appointments for entrance into, and promotions and transfers within, the classified civil service, hours of work, attendance, annual, sick and special leaves of absence with and without pay, and separations therefrom.

Existing statutes relating to the civil service of the State and of the counties, cities, school districts, towns, townships, boroughs, villages, special or regional districts, and other political subdivisions thereof shall, insofar as they are not in conflict with this article, remain in effect and be deemed valid until superseded or repealed. Existing laws relating to veterans shall remain in effect and be deemed valid until superseded or repealed.

WHEREAS, The relief clients and dependent unemployed citizens who have for the common good and welfare associated together with the interested employed citizens and taxpayers; and

WHEREAS, The said citizens having during this period of economic stress been required by circumstances beyond their control to exist under the emergency laws and regulations of the State and Federal Governments; and

WHEREAS, The morale of said citizens is slowly but surely being undermined and the future well-being of their dependent children jeopardized by the failure of the Administrators, appointed and selected under the Emergency Relief Laws of this State, to provide that "adequate relief" specified by such laws and amendments thereto, which would establish the minimum standard of decent living which is the birth right of American citizens under the Constitution and provided by Federal regulations on the basis of "actual need"; and

WHEREAS, Said Administrators and their appointees have failed to reduce the cost to the taxpayers and allow the dependent relief clients to become self-sustaining under a works program, but have used the authority and opportunity delegated to them by the laws and regulations to provide work and wages for nondependent citizens in direct violation of the spirit and intent of the State and Federal laws and regulations; and

WHEREAS, The aforesaid citizens, in lawful assembly have individually and collectively resolved and do hereby petition and declare that the necessary laws and amendments to existing laws embodying the corrective measures herein specified shall be enacted by this session of the Legislature, with the approval of the Governor, and thereby aid and succor the suffering citizens and taxpayers and keep unsullied the fair name of this sovereign State of New Jersey; we present the following articles:

Article 1. The present organization for the distribution and administration of relief, the supervision and administration of the works program and all other divisions or organizations related to and operating under the present Emergency Relief Laws shall as soon as possible be dissolved and their affairs liquidated.

Article 2. The jurisdiction and control of all relief and works programs shall be vested in a State Administrative Council composed of equal number of members selected by the Governor from among the qualified citizens of the State, the majority and minority members of the Legislature, equally, from among the State department heads or employees and the relief clients and dependent unemployed from among their own numbers. Qualified assistants and advisors shall be selected from the relief rolls, wherever possible and if necessary from qualified and experienced citizens after proper investigation and examination or proof of fitness and ability.

Article 3. The distribution and administration of relief activities and work programs shall be vested in a county director in each of the several counties of the State under the direction and supervision of the State Administrative Council.

The administrative, supervisory, clerical and technical staff and all assistants required by each county director in his own or any local or district office which may be deemed necessary for the proper handling of relief and work activities and distribution shall be drawn from qualified workers on the relief rolls of the particular county affected, selected after interview and examination by the county director and approval of the State Administrative Council. The appointments shall be subject to appeal as hereinafter provided.

Article 4. The relief clients or their dependents shall have first opportunity to qualify at their respective trades or professions as shown by previous experience and work records on all work projects regardless of past or present affiliations of any nature whatsoever.

Article 5. The wages as fixed by the State Administrative Council shall be in conformity with the rates paid for similar services in the locality and the number of hours to be worked shall be determined by the needs of the client as shown by the budget deficit. Where it is impossible for a client to earn the amount of his deficit supplementary relief will be granted.

Article 6. A standard budget establishing a minimum standard of decent living in accord with the studies of the National Bureau of Home Economics and other expert local authorities shall be agreed upon and published by the State Administrative Council and such budget shall be subject to revision when deemed necessary by the changes in the cost of living shown by governmental and State department statistics or the investigations and studies of the State Administrative Council.

This budget shall cover all the usual necessities of a decent living and shall be made mandatory in the distribution of relief in the several counties of the State, but nothing in this article shall be construed as preventing a distribution in excess of the minimum established by the budget in those counties where certain conditions require or warrant such action. The necessity for distribution in excess of budget shall be subject to appeal to the State Administrative Council, through the county director, by individuals, their representatives or any other interested group of citizens.

Article 7. The distribution of relief to any person or persons in the several counties of the State shall not be deemed sufficient to designate such persons as "paupers," nor in any way interfere or affect their franchise rights as a citizen of the State.

Article 8. "Adequate relief" for the aid of small home owners on the relief rolls which will safeguard and save their equity in their homes and thereby reduce relief costs for all taxpayers shall be provided by the State Administrative Council.

Article 9. Wherever relief client or qualified person from relief rolls is specified in these articles it shall be understood to apply to those who are, or have been, on the effective date of enabling legislation, receiving actual relief for a period of at least thirty (30) days and no one shall be deemed eligible under the provision of these articles for employment under State or county relief administrators or their assistants unless and until this provision has been complied with in every respect. Nothing in this article shall be construed to prevent qualified workers at present engaged in relief or work activities who shall have heretofore or who may hereafter qualify under these provisions from being appointed by county or State administrators. The provisions of this article shall also apply to citizens who may hereafter be placed on the relief rolls of the several counties of the State. It is the intent and purpose of this article that all work performed for wages shall tend to reduce the cost of relief distribution for the taxpayers.

Article 11. The provisions of the Federal Civil Service rules relative to political activities shall apply to and govern all employees handling or engaged in any manner whatsoever with relief distribution, administration or supervision of relief or work activities.

Article 12. No discrimination of any kind or nature shall be allowed in any county or State relief organization or in the distribution of relief or work under the law on account of race, creed, color, associations, nor to any action or activities under any previous relief administration.

Article 13. Appeals by individuals, their representatives or any interested group or groups of citizens shall be promptly heard by the several county directors and decision rendered within a five-day period thereafter.

Appeals from decision of county directors by individuals, their representatives or interested groups of citizens may be made to the State Administrative Council and hearing shall be granted and decision rendered and published within a five-day period thereafter.

Interested groups of citizens should be encouraged to submit their recommendations.

It is understood and agreed that the filing of an appeal by an individual will not affect his relief status in any manner whatsoever and that they will not be discriminated against in any manner.

Article 14. Decisions of the State Administrative Council shall be final as published except where such decisions would deprive the citizen or citizens affected of any constitutional rights or endanger the welfare of the commonwealth.

Article 15. The rules and regulations of the State Administrative Council as submitted to county directors for the distribution of relief and handling of work program shall be published on the bulletin boards of each county, local or district office of the several counties of the State.

Article 16. The funds for relief purposes being the personal and private responsibility of the more fortunate citizens, such funds shall be raised by donation, personal income taxes, corporation income taxes, gift taxes on unearned increment.

Be It Resolved by the House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey (the Senate concurring):

1. The following amendment to the Constitution of the State of New Jersey is hereby proposed; and when the same shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to the Senate and House of Assembly, the said amendments shall be entered on their journals, with the yeas and nays taken thereon and referred to the Legislature then next to be chosen and published for three months previous to the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November next, in at least one newspaper of each county, if any be published therein, such newspapers to be designated by the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Assembly and the Secretary of State; payment for such publication to be made by the Treasurer on warrant of the Comptroller:

PROPOSED AMENDMENT

Amend article IV by striking out paragraph one, section one, and insert the following in lieu thereof:

The legislative power shall be vested in a Senate and General Assembly, except in so far as said bodies, by law, vest their right to make local laws for their own government in any municipal division or county of the State; provided always, that the right to have a vote for the acceptance or rejection of any and all laws passed by the Senate and General Assembly, which law is general and affects the whole State, shall be vested in the electors of the whole State qualified to vote for members of the Senate and General Assembly, and the right to have a vote for the acceptance or rejection of any and all laws passed by the Senate and General Assembly affecting less than the whole State shall be vested in the qualified electors of each and every municipal division or county of the State, in so far as it may affect or apply to such municipal division or county so voting; and provided further, that the right to have a vote for the acceptance or rejection of any law, ordinance or other measure passed by the legislative body of any municipal division or county as may be affected thereby; the Senate and General Assembly at the first session after the adoption of this amendment shall, and when necessary from time to time thereafter may, pass laws to carry this amendment into effect, providing therein what percentage of electors may be necessary to petition for the votes above provided for, and when and where the said petition shall be filed, and how and at what time a vote shall be taken thereon; such laws may provide that measures for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall take effect immediately, but must provide that no other measure shall take effect until the expiration of the period fixed by the Legislature for filing petitions for said vote, and if said petition shall be filed, then not until a vote is had thereon; any law adopted or accepted by a vote of the electors shall not be repealed or altered without a vote of the electors is had thereon; the Senate and General Assembly may, at any time, refer any law or laws to a vote of the electors for acceptance or rejection.

STATEMENT

Following a petition by a percentage of the voters who cast ballots for the General Assembly in the last preceding election, to be fixed by legislative act, a referendum of the entire State, or of the parts of the State affected by the legislation, must be held before the law becomes effective. A period for the filing of petitions will be fixed by the Legislature, during which period new acts will be held in abeyance, with the exception of public peace, health, and safety measures, which will become effective immediately. No law approved by the voters at a referendum may be repealed without another referendum.

Mr. Schroeder arose and requested permission to read the following statement.

Which was agreed to.

Mr. Schroeder then moved that the statement be spread in full upon the minutes.

Which motion was adopted.

During the past two weeks it has come to my attention on numerous occasions that a certain political leader of the county of Bergen has stated that he would be in a position to guide into the channels he might desire the investigation into the affairs of Bergen county to be made by the special committee to be appointed by the Speaker of this House, pursuant to the resolution introduced by Mr. Cavinato last Monday evening.

Having heard these rumors prior to last Monday evening, I proposed, as you will recall, amendments to the resolution introduced by Mr. Cavinato so as to provide for a bi-partisan investigating committee in order that any doubt would be eliminated as to having the investigation controlled by any one individual. Unfortunately, my amendments were not passed.

As I heretofore stated last Monday evening, I am absolutely in favor of a sweeping investigation in the county of Bergen, in which no corrupt office-holder will be given any protection, irrespective of his political faith or membership in any faction of any political party.

I hereby desire to serve notice upon the members of this House that, in the event any further evidence is brought to my attention that, in such investigation, any protection is given to, or any discrimination shown towards, any public official of the county of Bergen, be he Democratic or Republican, or a member of any faction of either party, I shall introduce and ask the support of this House for the passage of a resolution amending the resolution of Mr. Cavinato to provide for a bi-partisan investigating committee and to request the Department of the Attorney-General of this State to conduct the investigation.

TOWNSHIP OF TEANECK,
Bergen County, N. J.

January 19, 1935.

Secretary of the Assembly, State House, Trenton, N. J.

Dear Sir—I am enclosing a certified copy of a resolution adopted by the Township Council of the Township of Teaneck on January 17, 1935, which is self-explanatory.

Yours very truly,

CLARA CHRISTENSEN,
Deputy Township Clerk.

WHEREAS, The adoption of either a sales or an income tax, or both, to be effective for the State of New Jersey in 1935, is now under consideration, with the stated purpose of defraying the costs of unemployment relief and lessening the unjust burden of taxation that now rests upon real estate; and

WHEREAS, The Township Council of the Township of Teaneck are firmly convinced that those taxpayers who have striven diligently and honorably to meet their obligations under the unfair conditions that imposed on them 86% of the entire tax load are entitled to utmost consideration; and

WHEREAS, If the proposed new laws become effective in 1935, after municipal budgets for 1935 have already been passed without any lessening of the burden on real estate, owners of real estate will thereby suffer an increase in their already unjust tax business; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Township Council of the Township of Teaneck respectfully urge upon the State Legislature of New Jersey that, in case such remedial tax laws are enacted, said laws should include the provision that at the end of the year 1935 all owners of real estate not then in arrears in payment of taxes thereon, shall be entitled to a rebate, in cash or in tax credits, said rebate to represent their pro rata share of any amount by which revenue from the new tax laws shall exceed the sum required for the specific purposes for which they are enacted; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the Governor of New Jersey and to each member of both Houses of the New Jersey State Legislature.

This is to certify that the above resolution was adopted by the Township Council on January 17, 1935.

CLARA CHRISTENSEN,

The following communication was sent to the desk and read by the Clerk:

February 2, 1935.

Mr. Frederick A. Brodesser, Clerk of Assembly, State House, Trenton, N. J.

Dear Sir—The attached resolution was passed by the commission appointed to investigate the operation and administration of the Workmen's Compensation Act, at a meeting held in Newark, N. J., February 1, 1935.

Very truly yours,

ANDREW F. McBRIDE, M. D.,
Secretary.

To the Legislature, State of New Jersey, State House, Trenton, N. J.

Your commission, appointed to investigate the Workmen's Compensation Act and its practices, has had its attention called to Assembly Bill No. 1, which has been reported out of committee and we understand is ready for final passage in the House of Assembly.

Our commission has labored for more than a year investigating painstakingly the practices and work of the Department of Labor and its related branches. We have definite recommendations to make to your honorable body. In our opinion the bill, which was introduced by Mr. Paul, does not carry out these recommendations, which are the result of careful study. The bill which is now before you does not seem to us to be the result of a carefully devised plan to improve the provisions of the Compensation Act. It has incorporated in it features which were the practice before the appointment of your compensation commission, and which your commission condemned and which now have been discontinued by reason of our condemnation. This discontinued practice is attempted to be set up as law.

Your commission has not been consulted by the drafters of Assembly Bill No. 1.

We do not wish to take up the time of the Legislature by presenting in chronological order the defects which we find in this measure, as they are numerous. We are writing to you to ask you to withhold any action on this bill until our report, which is now being prepared, is filed. We do think that you should at least have the benefit of our study and work before you make any drastic changes in the present compensation act.

Our report should be finished within a very reasonable time. It might interest you to know that we have examined more than 100 witnesses, have held 60 sessions, which have been attended by labor organizations, insurance executives, bar associations, medical societies, injured workmen and a host of other executive experts and statisticians.

As your commission, appointed for the purpose of correcting evils and devising an act to more adequately administer industrial accidents, we are unalterably opposed to the passage of Assembly Bill No. 1.

LEGISLATIVE COMPENSATION INVESTIGATING COMMISSION,

ANDREW F. McBRIDE, M. D., Chairman.

FRED W. FORT, Secretary.

Hon. Lester H. Clee,
Newark, N. J.

DEAR LESTER—I am enclosing copy of letter I have received from Henry W. Toll of the Council of State Governments. You will note that the Second Interstate Assembly upon co-ordination and unification of tax legislation will be held in Washington on February 28th, March 1st and 2nd.

I intend to name State Tax Commissioner J. H. Thayer Martin as my representative, and I believe it would be well to name a delegate, in line with the plan, from the Senate and House of Assembly. I am enclosing copy of Resolution prepared for introduction.

With kindest regards, I am

Governor.

THE COUNCIL OF STATE GOVERNMENTS
CHICAGO, ILL.

February 5, 1935.

*Hon. Harold G. Hoffman, Governor of New Jersey,
The Capitol,
Trenton, N. J.*

DEAR GOVERNOR HOFFMAN—Enclosed with this letter is the official Call of the Second Interstate Assembly, which will convene in Washington, D. C., on Thursday, February 28, 1935.

Every State which participates will presumably benefit from this attempt to reduce governmental confusion and conflict, especially in tax matters. And no State can afford to have its interests unrepresented.

The fact that the designation of delegates should be completed on or before February 13th makes it highly desirable that you take prompt action in the appointment of your delegate. Also, your influence in securing a favorable reception of this invitation in both branches of the Legislature will be a service in a cause of great significance.

For your information there is enclosed a roster of the members of the First Interstate Assembly, in which are also incorporated the names of those delegates who were officially designated after the meeting of the Assembly to fill vacancies.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) HENRY W. TOLL.

P. S. Please note change of date to February 28, March 1-2.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY RESOLUTION

C., to consider Federal and State tax policies on the basis of the recommendations submitted by the Interstate Commission on Conflicting Taxation, which was established two years ago by the First Assembly; and

WHEREAS, It is apparent that substantial benefits would result from closer contacts between the legislative and administrative divisions of the various State governments, and that many governmental difficulties are aggravated by the absence of adequate facilities for conference between these bodies; and

WHEREAS, The present economic emergency creates an imperative necessity now emphasized by the President's Program of Economic Security for joint council and concerted action; and

WHEREAS, It is believed that the moment has now arrived for establishing adequate means for communication and conference between the States and the Federal government; and

WHEREAS, The General Assembly of this State is invited to send as its delegate to this conference one of its members to be chosen in such manner as this body may determine; therefore Four weeks ago, in my Inaugural Message, I undertook to chart a course for the consideration of the people of the State and of their elected representatives. That course seemed to me to be sound in principle and necessary to meet the serious problems with which our State and local governments are now confronted. I stated that I would undertake to report from time to time on the progress that is being made and in line with that promise I am making my first report tonight.

LEGISLATURE COMMENDED

I want to commend the members of this Legislature for the promptness and dispatch with which they have entered upon their duties and for the very apparent earnestness which they are bringing to the consideration of the difficult problems that are before us. For many years there has been a general demand for a more business-like procedure, a more serious consideration of the problems at issue, shorter sessions, and less, but better, legislation. This Legislature has laid down a plan of action which meets these demands and it is pursuing that program in a most commendable fashion. Last year 890 measures were introduced. This year, under your plan for limiting the introduction of bills to the month of January, 658 measures have been offered. I appreciate the fact that your committees have had to work under a great deal of pressure to meet this early dead line and that some of the essential legislation must be given further study and analysis, but I believe that the advantages of the plan which you have adopted offset many times its disadvantages, and I am confident that it will meet the approval of the people of the State.

The constructive changes which you have advocated in the rules applying to the Senate and to the House of Assembly have placed legislative business upon a better basis, and it is gratifying to note that the long and tiresome delays of previous years are seemingly at an end. No legislative session has recessed for a single conference, I believe. I hope that you will not find it necessary to revive that time-consuming and irritating practice. You have met promptly, acted quickly and adjourned. Already important measures have been adopted. The act suspending provisions of law that make mandatory certain local expenditures has been re-enacted and local governments are thus assured of their right to control their own spending under a sound application of the home rule principle. The Fall Primary law, urged for many years, is an accomplished fact. The ways are cleared for a consideration of important legislation, and these measures are being reported out of committees and advanced in an admirable way. I am confident that the people of the State endorse your action.

EMERGENCY TO BE MET

In my Inaugural Message I discussed in considerable detail the problems and conditions which we must face during 1935 and during this session of the Legislature. I pointed out that an emergency existed, that this Legislature is charged with the responsibility of enacting measures calculated to meet this emergency in an adequate and effective way, and that we cannot longer accept the principle of expediency in the performance of our plain duties. The evidences that have been collecting in the past few weeks and my further study of the problems immediately before us convince me more than ever, if that were possible, that we must act effectively and courageously and that we must act NOW. Safety will not permit further dressing-up stark and bare facts under attractive camouflage to fool the people.

DRASTIC ACTION NEEDED TO MEET EMERGENCY RELIEF NEEDS

In December, 1934, there were over 146,000 families, embracing over 600,000 people, on the relief rolls, constituting approximately fifteen per cent of the population of the State. $6,000,000 a month is now required to meet the minimum relief requirements which, under the existing relationships, are borne co-operatively by the State and Federal governments. $6,000,000 a month gives each person on relief less than $10 a month on which to subsist. How many of us, who must assume the responsibility of seeing to it that not one of our fellow citizens shall be without food and shelter, can imagine the mental and physical suffering and the demoralizing effects of trying to eke out an existence on $10 a month? Were we to grant $25 a month to each person on relief, the cost would be $15,000,000 a month or $180,000,000 a year. For a family of four this would provide $100 a month. I am not asking for any such amount; I am asking for but $2,000,000 a month or less than $3.50 a month for each person on relief. I am asking that this amount be contributed from the income of all our citizens to supplement the amount to be made available by the Federal government from borrowings, which must ultimately be paid off and toward the payment of which every citizen of this State will ultimately have to contribute unless our whole social structure collapses.

I am mindful of the fact that it is our duty to insure to the people of the State an administration of these funds which is devoid of favoritism and unnecessary expense. I propose to fulfill this obligation by making a careful examination of the organization and methods of the relief administration.

The State has exhausted its resources heretofore provided for financing the relief program. Further funds must be provided from new sources, if the State is to secure the benefit of the Federal contribution and to keep its unfortunate citizens from suffering from want and destitution. The need is immediate and cannot be postponed.

EMERGENCY IN PROPERTY TAXATION

The need for relief of the general property taxpayer is so well established and so generally accepted that little argument is needed to support the contention that property taxation in the State is excessive and burdensome. The burden of this taxation is upon less than one-third of our people, and of that one-third, some 20 per cent. are unable to pay their property taxes.

The average tax rates for the last five years have been as follows:

1932	4.048
1933	3.756
1934	3.968

These figures indicate some reductions for the last two years, but a tendency in 1934 to revert back to the former levels.

Property valuations are decreasing. The decrease was $248,500,000 from 1932 to 1933, and $275,000,000 from 1933 to 1934. The combined reduction of valuations and rates from 1932 to 1934 was 10 per cent.

Forty-five per cent. of the total tax levies of municipalities is for debt service, including interest and retirement or sinking fund requirements. Meanwhile, with reduced earnings the taxpayers are finding it more and more difficult to meet their tax payments. On December 31, 1934, but 61.83 per cent. of the tax levy of that year had been collected. On September 30, 1934, 1933 taxes were delinquent on $1,323,000,000 worth of property, constituting 21.67 per cent. of the taxable property in the State. On September 30, 1932, 89 counties and municipalities of the State were in default in their payments of principal or interest, or both, on obligations to a total amount of $39,664,000. Eleven bankrupt municipalities have been taken over by the Municipal Finance Commission.

In August, 1933, a Joint Legislative Committee on Taxation reported:

“The Committee * * * is of the positive conclusion that the people of the State must in the immediate future be prepared to consider a general readjustment of our whole taxing system and the adoption of legislation which will spread the tax load more equitably over the wealth of the State that is properly taxable. It is not too much to say that the alternatives to such action are municipal bankruptcy, repudiation and default by many municipalities of public debt, inability to maintain an adequate public school system, the destruction of real estate as an important part of our public wealth and an important source of public revenue, and failure of large numbers of local governments to provide the bare essentials of community service and safety. This is strong language. It is not used to alarm the public, but in the Committee’s judgment the time has come when the people of the State must face the facts with respect to the financial problems of their governments.”

This was said in 1933; the situation is now worse. To many of our people it is now near tragedy.

As an illustration, I quote from a recent news item in a Jersey City newspaper:

“With tears in his eyes, Charles Kronenberg, of 451 Central avenue, heading a delegation of twenty property owners, today asked the Jersey City Commission for a 50 per cent. reduction in the value of real estate in Central avenue between North and South streets.

“Kronenberg, a resident of that section for many years, said the property has devalued so much that it is impossible to sell or give it away. * * * He termed that section of Central avenue ‘a cemetery lane.’

“The speaker’s voice failed as he neared the end of his plea and tears came into his eyes. He pointed to Mrs. Spellmeyer, a resident for fifty-two years, and Mrs. Meyers, a resident for a half century, as property owners who had seen their real estate there shrink in value.

“Mayor Hague suggested that the group appoint a small committee and confer with Commissioner Potterton on the matter.”

We have already bankrupted many of our local governments. We have already placed an unbearable load of debt on the backs of our children. We have already made it next to impossible to reduce a great part of the cost of our local governments by reason of the enormous debt service we have contracted. It is proposed in many quarters that we should continue this same weak, expensive and disastrous procedure because some are lacking in foresight and in courage to face the facts as they are. It is time to face the facts in this whole question of taxation and expenditure.

MEETING THE EMERGENCY

It is natural that the chief interest in my proposals for meeting the emergency and in the legislation which you are considering has centered upon the new sources of revenue designed to provide for our relief needs and to replace in part the general property taxes that have failed. It has been said in the public press and by many people during the past month that our main efforts are being directed toward new revenues and that the proposals for economy have been crowded to the background and are about to be abandoned. This is not the case.

In my Inaugural Message I called for reduced spending in local governments, effective limitation and control of local budgets and borrowings, economies in the operation of the State government, and for effective legislation to bring these things about. I said: "There must be reduction in public expenditures to the point where every dollar of public money is spent in the most effective way for the absolute essentials of governmental services. There must be definite limitations placed upon municipal expenditures, including both current expenses and capital outlays, and there must be tax relief for real estate." I stand squarely on that statement.

I proposed complete revision of the bonding laws to provide effective debt limits and the orderly retirement of debt in excess of the new limits established, to discourage and regulate new borrowings by prohibiting any municipality from borrowing more than 60 per cent. of the debt amortized during the preceding year, and to provide down payments on every new undertaking involving capital expenditure. There is offered, and before you, for consideration, in redemption of this proposal, the Wolber bond bill.

I proposed a complete revision of the budget laws to require not only proper preparation and administration of municipal budgets, but also careful and accurate estimates of anticipated receipts and the restriction of spending to these estimates. The Wolber budget bill is designed to accomplish these purposes.

With the bond and budget bills adopted and effectively observed and administered, we shall have established a sound basis of financing our municipal governments and a means of bringing about economy.

I proposed a more effective assessment and collection of taxes, and you have before you legislation which will provide for these things.

I proposed a reorganization of the State relief administration, giving promise of a more vigorous and determined administration in an effort to remove from relief rolls every person who is not justly and properly entitled to public relief. That legislation has been prepared and presented.

I proposed a reorganization of the State highway department, with a view to reducing its administrative cost and expenditure and as a means of restoring the confidence of the people in the functioning of that important branch of the State government. Legislation for this purpose has been prepared and introduced.

I said that there must be actual economies in State spending. The Legislature has already adopted a statute which authorizes me to study the activities and functioning of every agency of the State government with a view to curtailing expenditures and eliminating positions when they are found to be unnecessary and ineffective. I propose to use that authority. I have already initiated studies of the operating procedure of some State departments and agencies. I shall continue this undertaking until every spending agency of the State has been covered.

In recent weeks I have had occasion to point out that neither the Governor nor the Legislature nor the municipal governments can work miracles of economy and reduce expenditures overnight. The unsound and unsatisfactory financial conditions as they relate to municipal government in New Jersey are not the result of some recent happening nor are they directly the result of this devastating depression through which we are passing. These conditions had their roots in our antiquated and inadequate taxing system which went out of date at least fifty years ago, and in our slipshod and ineffective policies and principles in administering our local governments. Our local governments for generations have treated their tax levies as cash in hand to be spent. At the beginning of each year they have set up, as means of financing, delinquent taxes, uncollectible taxes, tax titles, and other items which it was fully known and recognized could not be counted upon as money receivable within the year and considerable parts of which were known to be worthless. We were headed in this direction twenty-five years ago. The depression has merely brought on the crisis.

In December, I addressed letters to municipal officials, through the New Jersey League of Municipalities, urging the greatest possible economies in municipal budgets for 1935. At the same time I addressed letters to the officers of the New Jersey Taxpayers Association, urging their members and through them the citizens in all parts of the State to take an interest in their municipal budgets and to seek and demand substantial reductions and actual economies in their preparation.

A great many of the communications which I receive day after day urge me to take personal and direct action in the reduction of municipal expenditures, in lowering tax rates, in eliminating waste, in providing relief, and in the protection of homes and farms and citizens. My answer to all these appeals is, that while I am willing and anxious to exercise all of the power and authority of the Governor's office, I must ask that the people do something for themselves.

Your problems are not greatly different from mine. It is your responsibility, keeping in mind the compelling interest of all the citizens of the State, to legislate effectively for their protection and for their relief.

The question now before us is how shall the great emergency which I have so inadequately portrayed be met? How can we provide the sums needed to keep a large number of our people from starving, to maintain our public schools, and to insure the continuance of all the essential services of government?

I have proposed, first, the enactment of measures providing a sound basis for the financing of local governments; second, reduction of all governmental expenditures, both State and local, through unrelenting efforts to eliminate all kinds of wastes and extravagance and to effect every possible economy; third, meeting our current obligations out of current revenues; and, fourth, providing new sources of revenue to pay the State's share of unemployment relief and to replace in part the revenues from the general property taxes that have failed.

I have discussed the measures that have been taken and those that are in process for establishing a sound basis of financing and for effecting economies. Before dealing with the proposed revenue measures, I want first to examine some of the alternative proposals for meeting the present emergency.

No one desires new taxes, and many of our people eagerly grasp at any proposal which, upon its face, holds a possibility for avoidance of either the sales or income levies. Most of the proposals that have been made to date are not sound and, in general, the figures that have been quoted are not supported by the actual facts.

FURTHER BORROWING

Those who advocate further borrowing to meet the emergency needs for relief feel that they have considerable logic on their side. From many standpoints it can justly be said that the present is no time for imposing new tax burdens, with earnings of the people of the State reduced to such low levels. The following table with relation to decreases in the volume of manufacturing and in the number of those employed and their total earnings may be taken as generally indicative of the depressed conditions in the State.

	1929	1931	1933
Number of Establishments	15,336	13,111	11,709
Wage Earners (average) for Year	816,776	615,366	576,866
Wages	$1,133,666,155	$745,463,214	$628,095,691
Cost of Materials, Fuel, Etc. ...	$4,150,684,498	$2,187,679,011	$1,894,531,710
Value of Products	$7,459,204,995	$4,339,843,449	$3,711,139,353

(Compiled from Industrial Directory of New Jersey 1934)

There is considerable appeal in the argument that, under these conditions, the burden of support of the unemployed and otherwise destitute should be left to borrowing, to be taken care of in later years when business, industry, and income have resumed their normal levels.

But the other side of the picture also calls for careful consideration. It is the question of how much farther into debt the State would be justified in going, how much further debt burden the taxpayers of the State would be able to carry, and the extent to which the State could assume further indebtedness and maintain its credit. Also, if and when improvement in business conditions is definite and apparently assured, would we be justified in immediately imposing a terrific burden of taxation in addition to that which must be imposed by the Federal government, to pay debts incurred now? Such a policy would inevitably lead to disaster.

The latest United States census figures available, those for 1932, show that the debts of the State and its political subdivisions amounted to $1,151,000,000 or $278.61 for each man, woman and child in the State. This figure is exceeded by but one other State in the country. Florida, with its heritage of debt of boom-time days, had a corresponding figure of $377.34 for each inhabitant. The average for all States was $141.27. Since 1932 the State government has increased its indebtedness more than $50,000,000.

No one can possibly tell how long the present depressed conditions will continue or consequently how long the heavy burdens of relief will have to be carried or what the total burden of debt would eventually be under a policy of continuous borrowing for relief needs.

But the most important fact is that the needs for relief will not wait until funds can be provided through borrowing to meet them. The Constitution requires a vote of the people at a general election to authorize the issuance of bonds by the State. It would thus be months before funds could be made available for relief from this source.

PROPOSAL TO DIVERT HIGHWAY FUNDS

One of the earliest alternate proposals was to take twenty millions of dollars from the estimated highway expenditures of forty millions of dollars for 1935. An analysis of the figures dissipates all hope for the diversion of any substantial funds for relief or other emergency purposes. This amount includes $6,400,000 estimated receipts from the sale of bonds. These proceeds can be used only for bridge construction and purchase of rights of way, unless specific authority for diversion is granted by referendum vote of the people. $1,600,000 is Federal aid, available only if the State matches the grant for construction purposes and only when the State has purchased the right of way out of other moneys. There are debt service charges of $13,860,000. $10,245,000 is granted as aid to counties and townships, the major part of which is used for road debt service, maintenance, policing and lighting. An analysis of last year's expenditures shows that less than one million dollars of this amount was used for new construction. $2,500,000 is used for the maintenance of the State highway system.

While some economies may be effected here, it is unthinkable that we should fail to protect the great investment that we have made in New Jersey's highway system.

After deducting amounts for administration of the Motor Vehicle Department, Gasoline Tax Division, Department of Commerce and Navigation, and the Free Bridge Commission, there would be left about three millions of dollars. This would be available only if all new construction were eliminated, and if any part should be diverted it would be accompanied under the Hayden-Cartwright bill, by reduction in the Federal aid.

THE THOMAS PROPOSAL

Assemblyman Thomas of Bergen County has proposed to produce twenty millions of dollars for relief purposes by effecting an arbitrary 10 per cent reduction in the State appropriation bill and then to apply an additional 10 per cent reduction to certain State departments. He figures this will produce approximately three millions of dollars, and says that a cut of 10 per cent in the highway funds would make available seventeen millions of dollars for emergency purposes.

Since the total estimated highway expenditures, even including $6,400,000 of bond proceeds and nearly fourteen millions of dollars for debt service, amounts to forty millions of dollars, it is apparent that there is an error in arithmetic of thirteen millions of dollars.

A further fallacy is pointed out in that such departments as the Department of Banking and Insurance, singled out for 20 per cent reduction, are self-supporting and a reduction in cost must be accompanied by a reduction in service and revenues. In the case of the Department of Banking and Insurance, for instance, all financial institutions of the State pay the costs of the department audits and examinations, and appropriations are then made by the Legislature from these revenues.

THE VON NIEDA PROPOSAL

Assemblyman von Nieda, I understand, has proposed that necessary savings be effected by general refunding of State bonds, and estimates, as reported in the public press, that fifteen millions of dollars would thereby be made available for relief purposes. The Constitution does not permit the carrying out of this or any other refunding plan for the State. The State has issued term and serial bonds which are not callable, and must continue to pay the rates called for in the contractual agreement with the purchaser.

It is true that many municipalities have effected savings in interest rates, but this has generally been done by funding floating indebtedness—temporary notes that carried excessively high rates of interest. Even if it were constitutionally possible to carry out the von Nieda plan, the most that could be saved on the outstanding obligations of the State through a reduction in interest rate would probably be around one million of dollars.

THE HAGUE PROPOSAL

A short time ago the State leader of the Democratic party, Mayor Hague of Jersey City, as reported in the press, stated that the matter of providing funds for emergency relief purposes and for other necessary relief was solely the problem of the Republican party. He is reported to have said that the Democratic party would oppose the sales tax and income tax, and that economies could be effected which would eliminate the necessity of these burdens upon the people.

A few days later the Jersey City budget, over which Mayor Hague has undeniable control, was given to the public and showed an increase in expenditures of $717,000 for 1935. Since he has injected politics in a matter that deserves the dispassionate and non-political consideration of every citizen in the State, we may well pause to ask Mayor Hague why he does not effect some of the economies he proposed in his own government.

Commissioner Arthur Potterton of the Department of Revenue and Finance is reported to have explained the increase to the taxpayers of Jersey City and to have said that the amount to be raised by taxation would undoubtedly be reduced since the State was about to assume the seventeen millions of dollars school tax and one million of dollars-soldiers' bonus tax. We may ask Commissioner Potterton how the State is going to produce the funds to enable him to carry out this promise to his people.

If the Mayor of Jersey City makes good upon his promise to withhold every Democratic vote in the Legislature from support of the sales tax and income tax, he is going to embarrass a number of members of the Legislature who have already declared themselves as in favor of either or both of these proposals. Both Senator Cole of Sussex and Assemblyman McCampbell of Monmouth, Democrats, signed and concurred in what is generally known as the "Reeves Commission Report," which recommended the enactment of both the sales and income tax.

My predecessor, Governor Moore, a Democrat, recommended to the Legislature the enactment of a sales tax law and said, "I know of no better source than a sales tax as a method of distributing more equally the cost of government." He reiterated this statement a number of times.

I hold in my hand a clipping from the Newark Evening News of May 16, 1933, which bears the heading "Stout for Sales Tax to Aid Real Estate." This reference is to Senator Stout of Hudson County.

On January 4, 1934, the Middlesex County Board of Freeholders—all Democrats—adopted a resolution urging the passage of a sales tax law to relieve the burdens upon real estate. Copies were sent to the Middlesex County members of the Legislature. On January 15, 1934, Assemblyman John J. Rafferty, present Democratic Leader of the House of Assembly, acknowledged receipt of the resolution and said, "I will be glad to press this matter in the Legislature at the earliest possible moment." In acknowledging receipt of this same resolution, Senator John E. Toolan, another Democrat, under date of January 13, 1934, advised the Middlesex County Board: "I have the resolution passed by your honorable body at your meeting on January 4 last, in which you indicate your approval of the sales tax. Please be advised that I am heartily in accord with the sentiment expressed in your resolution." Various other minority members of this body have, at various times, replied to questionnaires and have committed themselves to a sales tax, an income tax, or both.

With an attempt being made to make this issue entirely a political one, may I point out that the need for immediate action was precipitated by the Federal Democratic administration which, through its Director of Federal Relief Administration, called upon New Jersey to produce the sum of two millions of dollars per month as the State's share of the emergency relief program. I have no quarrel with this requirement, as the State should bear its fair share of this burden and I am merely pointing this out to emphasize the fact that the problem of feeding the needy people of the State of New Jersey is not a Republican problem nor a Democratic problem, but one that must be fearlessly faced by legislators affiliated with both political groups.

PROPOSED DIVERSION OF DEDICATED FUNDS

The diversion of funds dedicated by law to specific purposes has been suggested as a means of providing moneys for relief. I have already shown that no substantial sum can be diverted from highway funds. After the most searching analysis, I have been unable to find that any worthwhile amounts could be diverted from the many funds devoted to various purposes. The great bulk of the dedicated funds are simply suspense funds, in which moneys are held pending distribution to the counties and local governments, under existing laws, as their share of railroad taxes, school taxes, and as aid to education. The remaining funds are small, and practically no moneys could be diverted from them unless we suspend the activities for whose support they are provided. Even if we did suspend such activities, as, for example, those of the Fish and Game Commission, the amount made available would be very small indeed, and it is questionable whether the revenues would continue to come into the treasury under such conditions.

There are no mysterious dedicated funds concealing large sums of money which we may recapture for other purposes. Every last dedicated fund is described in a State publication entitled "Functions of the New Jersey State Government," which many of you have received for the asking.

THE PROPOSED FIFTY MILLION DOLLAR INCOME TAX PLAN

Assembly Bill No. 369, introduced by Assemblyman Young, by request, purports to impose a tax on personal incomes at rates running to as high as 63 per cent. on the highest incomes. This tax is not one that would appeal to any of our people. Many of its provisions are ludicrous. For example, a married person with three dependents would pay a higher tax than a single person. A single person with a taxable income of $50,000 would be required to pay a tax of $3,958, but if his taxable income were $150,000, the tax would be but $3, or the same amount as a single person with an income of $500.

No one could determine under the bill just what the taxable income would be. It is not net income in the ordinary sense; it is not gross receipts; but seemingly it is intended to be gross receipts, including receipts from the disposition of capital assets, less deductions of what is called "out-of-pocket expenses" and some other ill-defined items. No deductions would be allowed for capital losses.

In effect, the tax would be measured by the exemptions and deductions from gross income that are allowed by the Federal income tax law. In addition to all its other undesirable characteristics, the tax would be assessed retroactively against 1934 incomes.

The yield of the tax, if it were imposed, could be entirely wiped out were Congress to eliminate personal exemptions and increase rates.

REDUCING THE COST OF LOCAL GOVERNMENT

The cost of local government can be reduced, whenever the people of the State are ready to face the issues involved and decide that the time has come to remodel our present outworn and inefficient system of local government. There are too many local government units; there are too many different kinds; and there is overlapping of territories and functions which are indefensible. Small areas, insistent upon separate existence, are trying to administer functions for which their limited resources and facilities are not adapted and which can only be administered effectively in wider areas.

Such facts as these have been brought out and emphasized again and again by investigating committees and interested citizens, but no lively interest, much less a general demand, has been aroused in any substantial number of our citizens.

I said in my Inaugural Message that while I do not favor mandatory territorial consolidation, I am convinced that great savings could be brought about by combining functions of local governments. Important as the consolidation of local governments and their functions is to reduced expenditure and economical administration, there is, I regret to say, no great sentiment in that direction. And if there were such sentiment, consolidations could not be worked out and the savings resulting therefrom put into effect in time to meet this crisis. If we are to continue any measure of home rule in our local governments, we must ask that the citizens of every community shall assume action, interest, and responsibility with respect to their government.

The State can encourage and aid local governments in reducing their expenditures. But substantial reductions cannot be achieved by legislation. That must come from the demands of the people. Forty-five per cent. of local government costs is for debt service on borrowings already made, and in some quarters it is proposed that we continue to borrow. These debt service costs cannot be reduced except as the debt is retired. Such immediate savings as can be made must come from the other 55 per cent. of local government expenditure. When we collect, as I have pointed out heretofore, only 55 to 60 per cent. of our tax levies and pay 45 per cent. for the retirement of debt and interest charges, it will be seen, I think, that it is impossible for us, in the present year at least, to accomplish a reduction in the cost of local governments sufficiently large to meet our minimum needs for unemployment and tax relief.

RELIEF THROUGH ECONOMIES IN STATE GOVERNMENT

Is it possible to supply a substantial part of the money needed for relief by effecting economies in the operation of the State government? It requires only a casual study of the funds really available for meeting the cost of operating and maintaining the State government to show that all the actual savings that can possibly be effected will not provide any substantial contribution towards meeting relief needs.

During 1933-34 the total receipts of the State government were $146,000,000, and of this amount, trust fund receipts, which cannot be diverted, amounted to $1,500,000. From this we must deduct $29,368,000 derived from the sale of bonds in 1933-1934, Federal aid of $22,750,000, and proceeds from the sale of investments of $106,000, to arrive at the actual amount of current State revenues which we may expect this year, leaving us $92,276,000. Out of this amount $40,000,000 is returned to local governments as their share of railroad taxes, State school taxes, aids to education, and as aid or reimbursement for road expenses. An additional $16,100,000 is required for interest and amortization of State bonds, while $550,000 is required as the State's contribution to pension and retirement funds. Thus, there is available for use in the operation and maintenance of State government, at the full discretion of the Legislature, something less than $36,000,000, including highway funds. Out of this sum, all of the essential services of the State government must be supplied, including the executive and administrative offices of all kinds, the various institutions and agencies, the maintenance of State highways, and the educational activities of the State.

Every possible saving in the State and local governments should be effected; in the State government I am determined that savings shall be effected. But if our every objective in the efficient and economical operation of government were attained, the amount of money saved would not meet our requirements for relief, would not result in reducing general property taxes to the extent desired, and would not eliminate the inequities of our present revenue system under which the cost of government is saddled upon a third of our people.

All the savings we can effect will not make moneys available in time to provide food and shelter for the needy in March and April. Any moneys so made available should be applied toward the reduction of property taxes. Until relief needs taper off, all possible savings and the amount made available through the proposed new taxes will not permit us to reduce property taxes by one-third.

We might consider the effects of immediately suspending essential activities of the State government. This would involve the extremely difficult problem of selecting the activities to be suspended. By selecting various groups of State activities or by taking all activities of the State government, it can easily be demonstrated that the suspension of some or all of them would not result in providing enough moneys to meet current relief needs and permit repeal of the State school tax. For example, if the activities of the following agencies of the State government were all suspended for a full year and the money appropriated to their uses diverted to relief purposes, the amount would equal but only one month of the State's contribution for relief:

- State Department of Health.
- Department of Labor.
- Department of Weights and Measures.
- Department of Aviation.
- Department of Conservation and Development.
- Board of Commerce and Navigation.
- Board of Shell Fisheries.
- Municipal Finance Commission.
- Commission on the Revision of Statutes.
- State Athletic Commissioner.
- Board of Tenement House Supervision.
- State Water Policy Commission.
- Rehabilitation Commission.
- Crippled Children's Commission.
- Commissioners of Palisades Interstate Park.
- Commissioners of High Point Park.
- Public Library Commission.
- Public Records Office.
- South Jersey Port Commission.

Or assume that we suspend the activities of the State's institutions of higher learning? For example, suppose the four normal schools and two teachers' training colleges maintained by the State were to be closed for a full year? The saving would provide the State's share of relief cost for only 13 days.

If the activities of the Agricultural Experiment Station, the Department of Agriculture, and the Milk Control Board were suspended for an entire year, and the money appropriated to them used for relief, it would contribute only 14 days of the State's share for relief.

We often hear the demand to reduce salaries of State employees. I have repeatedly said that wholesale salary cuts generally result in the policy of fiscal tail-chasing. I believe it is an unscientific approach to economy, and that the attendant injustice and weakening of morale would make this a very costly method.

May I point out for instance, that in the Motor Vehicle Department, with the operation of which I am very familiar, there are girls working today for $50.00 per month, under conditions that would not be permitted in any factory in the State of New Jersey, with the duties imposed upon them in certain periods of the year to work as late as 11 o'clock at night, with no overtime compensation. A few days ago there was brought to my attention the case of a number of men who have given as high as seven years of faithful service to the State, and who are today receiving salaries of between $40.00 and $50.00 per month. I will never be a party to the reduction of such salaries, but with the authority recently given to me by the Legislature, I intend to search out and abolish sinecures; to insist upon full time work for full time pay and to reduce salaries of those who are overpaid for the particular work they perform.

The State has balanced its budget and must continue to balance its budget and any subdivision of State government in comparable condition, should not be forced to resort to indiscriminate salary cuts for people who are faithfully performing their work.

SALES-INCOME TAXES NECESSARY

At this point I should like to restate the four-fold fiscal program which I referred to earlier in this message, in order that there may be no undue emphasis on new revenues as opposed to the measures which I have proposed and which I advocate for the rehabilitation and better financial management of all our governments. That program is: first, establishing a sound basis for financing local governments; second, reducing all governmental expenditures; third, meeting current obligations out of current revenues; and fourth, providing new sources of revenues to pay the State's share of unemployment relief and replace in part the revenues from general property taxes that have failed.

I have shown that all the alternative proposals that have been made for the solution of the problems with which we are confronted and for the avoidance of new taxes are wholly inadequate to meet the existing situation.

I have not been shaken in my conviction that we must have both a sales tax and an income tax, first to meet immediate relief requirements, and, second, to place us in a position to eliminate the State school tax from our revenue system in 1936.

Bills imposing the necessary taxes are now before you. I have given careful study to the advantages and disadvantages of both these forms of taxation. But I do not propose here to enter upon a lengthy discussion of the principles of taxation which would be involved if I were to deal adequately with the measures that have been submitted to you.

I do want to say, however, that it is essential that we provide moneys for relief by March first. The sales tax is the only form of tax which, without any retroactive assessment, will bring money into the treasury immediately and maintain a fairly even volume of flow of funds from month to month. There can be no sounder way of pooling resources with our neighbors and to share our day to day living expenses than in this way.

The income tax is universally admitted to be the most desirable form of taxation. The income tax measure that is before you, if enacted, will impose a tax which will offset some of the least desirable features of the sales tax which bears more heavily on persons of small incomes than upon those with larger incomes.

It is estimated that the two taxes will produce revenues of some thirty-seven millions of dollars a year. More than half of this amount will go for relief unless there is very marked improvement in business conditions by a much earlier date than any one now could reasonably expect. The remainder of the proceeds will be used to take the place of the State school tax. If relief requirements taper off and if the yields from all sources of revenues increase with improvement in business conditions, the soldiers bonus tax should be repealed and payments of salaries of all judicial officers should be taken over by the State and the burden of taxation of local governments still further relieved by the application of the principle that the cost of all functions performed by State officers should be borne by the State.

Dependent upon the rapidity with which relief costs may be reduced, the entire proceeds of these taxes within a short time, should be used for the relief of real estate. This progressive substitution, together with savings that may be effected in the funding of floating indebtedness at favorable interest rates and economy which may be brought about in government, should, within a few years, bring about a reduction of at least one third in the amount of existing real estate taxes.

This program cannot be made effective unless our citizens join with public officials in a determined effort to reduce the costs in every branch of government.

CONCLUSION

I can appreciate the fact that the course I have outlined is one that is presently unpopular; that the program is loaded with what is popularly known as "political dynamite." It will not find favor with that group of officials who, having mismanaged our affairs in a way that is quite largely responsible for our present situation, will want to continue to lavishly spend in order to maintain the political machines built up through distribution of jobs and contracts. Neither will it please that group of people, well-meaning but largely misinformed, who believe that overnight economies may be effected that will meet our present needs; people who loudly demand drastic cuts in services except those in which they are personally interested; people who overlook the necessity for a complete revision of a vicious and inefficient system of taxation and the inadequate bonding and budgetary laws that have made the greatest contribution to our fiscal breakdown; people who have for years blindly blocked real tax reform while they were searching with a microscope for elusive economies that will not be effected until we have changed our Constitution, our methods of electing public officials, and the very hearts and minds of our fellow men.

I realize that my proposal for the combined sales-income tax is accompanied by a conflict between classes and that the solution will please neither the large-income group content to have the major burden carried by the "little fellow" who has to spend the greater part of his earnings for the commodities of life, or the other group in which the demagogue finds fertile soil for sowing the seeds of a "soak-the-rich" doctrine.

The latter group is the larger, and the most vociferous. In the standpoint of votes, if you are appraising the situation purely from a political standpoint, it is the more powerful. It finds its expression in such circulars as these, hundreds of which come to my desk daily:

"Don't soak the poor with a sales tax—make the rich pay. Surely, Mr. Governor, a man with your courage is not afraid of the Big Money Boys."

To them my assurance is that I am not afraid of the "Big Money Boys" as they call them. I believe they should pay their share for the benefits of government, but I believe in fairness, and I know that due to Federal surtaxes many of them are paying to the government unbelievable amounts that take away the greater part of their incomes, and that some of the radical proposals made for a New Jersey income tax would become confiscatory, stultify initiative and thrift, and, in the end, would be accompanied by diminished, rather than by increased, returns.

I believe that a modest sales tax and a modest income tax, insuring that every citizen receiving the benefits of government is making a contribution within his ability to pay, will provide a "safety-valve" for growing class conflict that threatens to destroy government. I believe that the revenues from these taxes, raised under safeguards that will insure their use as replacement taxes, rather than for additional spending, will enable us to take care of our needy people, insure the maintenance of our schools to a great degree, and reduce the present unjust and uncollectible levies against real estate. I believe that the production of these revenues will aid in stabilizing our local governments, and when accompanied by a revision of the bond and budget acts putting municipalities on a cash basis and restricting unwarranted outlays for capital improvements, will restore municipal credit and bring down our great item of cost—the debt service.

I can assure you that in submitting this program I have not been moved by political considerations. It must surely be evident that, after a long period of service in public office, had I been thinking of votes, I would have elected to secure necessary revenues solely from one group or class, so that I might have retained the friendship and support, at least, of the other group.

The proposal has been submitted in line with what I feel to be my duty. I believe it is sound, and that its enactment into law will mean much for the welfare of our citizens and their children.

Members of the Legislature, this problem, to use another expression of the day, is now "in your laps." I have presented it without any particular degree of personal pride—it would have been far easier to resort to compromise and expediency; to have followed, if conditions had permitted, the past policies of side-stepping and deception. I am still open to conviction if any person, or group, will present a plan under which we may maintain our essential services of government and avoid new taxes; but until that time I will fight with every ounce of energy that I possess to fulfill the pledges we have made to the people, and to discharge the duties I have sworn to perform.

When these measures come before you for action you will be obliged to ask yourselves the following questions:

"Will I be able to face over a half-million needy people after March 1st, and tell them I have been afraid to provide the funds for their food, clothing, and shelter?"

"Will I—whether Republican or Democrat—be able to explain to my people my failure to carry out the pledges I made in my party convention to provide the means by which the State could assume the $17,000,000 tax now levied against property owners for the support of the public schools?"

"Will I be able to justify my failure to give promised relief to people who have been daily losing their homes and business properties because of oppressive tax burdens upon real estate?"

or:

"Will I do my duty as I see it, today, and let the votes take care of themselves?"

I appreciate the difficult and embarrassing positions in which many of you, by reason of sectional opposition to either of the two suggested taxes, find yourselves. I reiterate my statement that I expect no member of the Senate or Assembly to vote for this plan as a personal favor to me. The situation is before you, and each of you should face it with courage, following the dictates of your own conscience, and in line with your own judgment of what is right and what is wrong.

Tomorrow we celebrate the anniversary of the birth of a great and human American—Abraham Lincoln. May we not find, in his life and in his utterances, inspiration and confidence as we face today serious problems that must be solved. In his Cooper Institute address the Great Emancipator, speaking to a people torn with doubt, said:

“Let us stand by our duty, fearlessly and effectively. Let us be diverted by none of those sophistical contrivances wherewith we are so industriously plied and belabored, contrivances such as groping for a middle ground between the right and the wrong * * *. Neither let us be slandered from our duty by false accusations, nor frightened from it by menace of destruction * * * * Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith, let us, to the end, dare to do our duty as we understand it.”

A message was received from His Excellency the Governor, by the hands of his Secretary, and was read by the Clerk as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

February 15, 1935.

To the Legislature:

If the recommendations contained in this message for the fiscal year beginning July first next are accepted by your body, the New Jersey State budget will be balanced with a surplus of $1,257,868.87 in the State fund after all departmental needs, excepting emergency relief, have been provided for. I will later submit a separate budget covering State Highway fund recommendations, but this will not diminish the balance set out above as special funds are drawn upon for highway purposes.

In my inaugural address I promised to present to you and to the public a complete statement of expenditures, and it is in fulfillment of this pledge that I have departed from the traditional procedure of conveniently omitting many sums in order to make it appear that the cost of State government was much lower than it actually is. I do not believe it is wise to becloud the fiscal picture and to make it impossible for the average citizen to comprehend the true facts concerning the financial management of the State government.

Within the short period of my service as Governor, I have not been able, in this message, to present this picture in a way that is entirely to my satisfaction, but it is my intention to give to the Legislature and to the public supplemental information which, from time to time, will be available to those who wish to appraise the true financial condition of the State.

I have always felt that one of our weaknesses in State financial management was the lack of attention to the matter of producing revenues. Attention is always directed to the appropriation bill, and the efficiency of a particular State Department is usually measured by the total expenditures with no thought or credit given to the production of revenues. I could cite many cases of penny-wise and pound-foolish policies adopted by State officials where apparent economies were loudly applauded, although they eventually resulted in large losses of revenue and general impairment of efficiency. We often hear the demand, "run the government as you would run your private business," and then we solemnly enact laws that restrict our officials from exercising good judgment and from operating along lines of sound business procedure. In commercial business it is considered good policy, for instance, to spend an additional $1,000 if that expenditure holds promise of producing, say, $5,000, but in our State governmental business we are generally concerned only as to whether the appropriations are increased or decreased and we foolishly overlook the important income angle.

In this connection, I direct your attention to a table immediately following this communication, representing an innovation in budget message procedure and setting out the net cost or net income of the various State agencies. A chart of this kind, it seems to me, will increase in value as the years go by, enabling us to see just what progress each department, whether it may be a revenue-producing or spending agency, is making toward fiscal efficiency.

Two factors contribute to the greatly-increased amount of the 1935-1936 budget. One is the setting out of large sums heretofore expended but not included in the published total of the budget or the appropriation bill. The other is the financing of a number of projects covered by enactments of the 1934 legislative session and not included in last year's budget.

Items heretofore deleted from the total include $1,065,-480.87 State aid to school districts; $4,300,000.00, the Teachers Pension and Annuity Fund; $3,670,996.90, institutional and other receipts which have in the past been deducted from gross totals but which this year have been routed directly into the Treasury. There is an item of $1,806,350.00 for old age pensions and also one of $1,579,875.00 debt service on a ten million-dollar bond issue for emergency relief. Comparable figures for these items are not found in last year's budget or appropriation bill.

Among the items resulting from 1934 legislation are: $54,700.00, Department of Labor for free employment bureaus; $50,000.00, Department of Conservation and Development, maintenance Delaware and Raritan canal and feeder; $17,735.00, Department of Health, free vaccine distribution; $15,000.00, State Tax Department, railroad tax litigation.

I point to one item contained in this budget, $400,000.00, recommended for the construction of the new armory at Jersey City as a direct example of camouflage heretofore used. Although the contract had been entered into and it was known that this item was to have been expended in line with that contract during the last fiscal year, it was conveniently omitted from the last budget recommendation and passed on for inclusion in 1935-1936 appropriations.

There is also a new item of $193,810.00 to make possible the functioning of the State Housing Authority, authorized by the 1934 Legislature, which made a nominal appropriation. The State Housing Authority will administer a vast slum clearing project, financed with Federal funds.

State institution buildings erected and enlarged within the past two years through Federal grants require increased appropriations for maintenance and operation. I have provided for this need.

I am not averse to an increased budget if such an increase is productive of benefits, financial or otherwise, outweighing the cost—just as private business considers it prudent to invest in future profits.

Due to the pressure of many important legislative and administrative matters during my one month of service as Governor, I have not been able to give to each item of proposed expenditure the scrutiny it should have, but your body has clothed me with the authority, within certain limitations, to suspend appropriations at any time and it is my intention to exercise this authority in a way that will undoubtedly make further substantial reductions from the amounts that are appropriated.

Respectfully submitted,

[SEAL]

HAROLD G. HOFFMAN,
Governor.

Attest:

E. DONALD STERNER,
Secretary to the Governor.

ANTHONY M. HAUCK, JR.
Prosecutor of the Pleas
Clinton, New Jersey

February 15, 1935.

*Hon. Lester H. Clee, D.D.,
Speaker of the House of Assembly,
Trenton, N. J.:*

MY DEAR REV. CLEE.—Now that the trial of the case of State vs. Bruno Richard Hauptmann has been completed and the jury has rendered its verdict, I am taking this opportunity to write to you as Speaker of the House of Assembly to express my appreciation of Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf and his organization, the New Jersey State Police.

I have been in touch constantly with the investigation of the Lindbergh case ever since my appointment as Prosecutor of the Pleas of Hunterdon County in April, 1932, and I know that Colonel Schwarzkopf and his entire staff have applied themselves without ceasing, day and night, to all sorts of clues until they were finally instrumental in apprehending the defendant, Hauptmann. I have had nothing but favorable comments from the co-operating departments, Federal and local, that the State Police did a very good job.

I am sure that the verdict not only shows the entire world that Hunterdon County and the State of New Jersey has upheld the traditions of American justice, but also the fact that Colonel Schwarzkopf and his staff did everything possible to solve a very difficult crime.

I would like this letter brought to the attention of the House of Assembly if you see fit to do so. It is entirely unsolicited and is written with a feeling that the men in the ranks from the Colonel down to the lowliest trooper should be commended for their real hard work, without which the prosecution would have been impossible.

With kindest personal regards, I am

Respectfully yours,

ANTHONY M. HAUCK, JR.,
Hunterdon County.*

Mr. Pascoe moved that the communication be received and spread in full upon the Minutes.

Be It Resolved, That we, the members of the House of Assembly, extend our heartfelt sympathy and condolence to Assemblyman Taggart and his family in this, their hour of bereavement; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the House is hereby instructed to forthwith forward an official copy of this resolution to the Honorable Thomas D. Taggart, Jr., and family, duly signed by the Speaker and the Clerk, respectively.

The following communication was sent to the desk and read by the Clerk:

Hon. Lester H. Clee, Speaker, One Hundred and Fifty-Ninth General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, State House, Trenton, New Jersey.

SIR:—In response to the invitation of the Assembly made at its session on February 26, 1935, the New Jersey Taxpayers' Association reiterates the stand it took in conjunction with other organizations at the tax conference held in the executive offices by Governor Hoffman the week before last.

In these days of enforced sacrifice it has consistently been the position of the Association that all unnecessary governmental outlay must be abandoned and the strictest economy exacted in the carrying out of the remaining essential functions. It was pointed out at that time that at least $7,000,000 might be salvaged from highway appropriations, by a drastic curtailment of construction programs. A further study of the highway figures after the Governor's criticism of this proposal, would indicate the possibility of raising this estimate to $7,500,000, if all new construction, other than that authorized under suspended balances from last year's appropriations, be foregone. In addition, a sum varying from $2,500,000 to $4,000,000 should be obtainable by partial restitution from the Port of Authority on obligations to the State for advancements to it for its work.

It is believed that upwards of $1,500,000 may be properly diverted from liquor revenues which exceeded estimates by over $1,000,000 during the past year. Moreover, a sharing by State employees in the present stringency by a moderate reduction in salaries, should yield at least one-half million dollars. Thus out of existing resources from $13,000,000 to $14,500,000 may be dedicated to the $20,000,000 which the Governor states is needed for the dole. In addition, even so hurried a study of State organization as the Princeton Survey, indicates other substantial savings, totaling several millions of dollars, which may be effected by re-organization of certain departments and the abolition of over-laping functions. These possibilities, the Association believes, should be thoroughly explored, before any discussion of new taxes of any kind be entertained.

The passage by the Assembly of the Wolber Bond and Budget Act would add further to tax relief by limiting municipal expenditures and in the State field certain instances of inequity in tax incidence not met by the program above outlined or by other sources of current revenues now in arrears, notably the inheritance taxes from the Dorrance Estate, now with penalty and interest aggregating some $18,000,000, and an approximately equal amount withheld for several years by the railroads, pending the termination of litigation now being carried on between the State and them.

We are still convinced that no hope can be held out to the taxpayers for relief if the proposed new sales and income taxes are enacted, especially if as recently proposed, no new safeguards against public extravagance are set up.

We must insist upon the enactment of laws for the carrying out of economies, proper action by constituted authorities to adjust and collect the large sums of money now owing the State, and the development by the Legislature of a sound program which will make available, and direct the use of, present financial resources. The Legislature now has before it a number of bills, which if enacted, would help materially in advancing the Association's program, which is well known to every legislator, and, as it is the duty of the Legislature to provide for the needs of the State, the Association feels that the responsibility rests with the Legislature for the introduction of such other measures as may be necessary to protect the taxpayers from needless expenditures, and effect the reorganization and resulting economies recommended by both the Princeton Report and the Tax Survey Report.

Respectfully submitted,

A. R. EVERSON,

The following report was sent to the desk and read by the Clerk:

Trenton, N. J., March 4, 1935.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the General Assembly:

Pursuant to the provisions of resolution and your appointment, I attended the Second Interstate Assembly held in the Mayflower Hotel, Washington, D. C., on February 28th, March 1st and 2nd. All forty-eight of the States of the Union were represented at this gathering.

It was held under the auspices of the American Legislators Association and the Council of State Governments. The Assembly was called for the purpose of promoting more intimate, direct and systematic relationships between the States and for the advancement of projects for the mutual benefit of all concerned.

It is the purpose from time to time to consider such inter-related subjects as taxation, labor, commerce, agriculture, liquor traffic, motor vehicles, crime prevention, public health and similar items in which the States have an interest. By a proper harmonious co-operation of effort these important matters can be solved to the advantage of the citizenry of this country without detriment to the rights of individual States.

In the organization of the Assembly each of the representatives from New Jersey was assigned to an important committee. I was named to the Committee on Finance. The work of the American Legislators Association has been financed thus far by private subscription, contributions from a few of the States and chiefly by a large contribution from the Spelman Fund. It is felt, and was so urged, that the importance of this work and the possible benefits to be derived by the States that they should support it financially.

Senator Reeves, who was the Senate representative, will take this feature up with the Appropriation Committee of this Legislature.

The chief subject considered this year was double taxation. It developed from exhaustive studies made both by the American Legislators Association and a special committee of the National Congress that there are many instances where both the States and Federal Government had entered the same general taxing field to the distress of the taxpayer. Some of these include the motor fuel, tobacco, income, liquor, inheritance and other similar taxes. The Assembly is undertaking to formulate a programme whereby the Federal Government will continue to raise their necessary revenues from taxes which they had originated, and the other forms of taxation would be left to the States. The Legislature of New Jersey should concur in such a plan when definitely promulgated.

Some of the outstanding authorities on taxation presented their views. From them we gathered the conclusion that each of the States is now confronted with the same general tax situation as we in New Jersey are. Tax delinquencies are serious, additional or substitute taxes have very largely been resorted to. All of which emphasizes the necessity of some better understanding between the States and the Federal Government as to this double taxation feature.

Assemblages such as the one just held at Washington are of lasting benefit. To find its counterpart we must turn back the pages of American history to the year 1774 when the Continental Congress was held in the city of Philadelphia.

One finds many similarities between these two gatherings. The Continental Congress was held at a time of great stress among the people. Likewise this Interstate Assembly is being held when the nation is laboring under great stress.

The purpose of the Continental Congress was to cement the several colonies into a closer bond of friendship and to co-ordinate their efforts for mutual protection. Interstate Assembly of the past week was held for the same purposes.

In 1774 the people were struggling with the subject of taxation. Unfair, unjust and oppressive taxation. Today we are confronted with the same perplexing problem, taxation. Double taxation and in the eyes of the taxpayer certainly burdensome taxation.

Finally we find the courage, determination and faith of our forefathers brought forth a new Nation through a union of the States. By the same degree of courage, determination and faith on the part of the delegates to the Interstate Assembly there will be developed a closer bond of friendships and a stronger union of the States for the better protection of the welfare of the people.

For such high ideals and lofty motives I predict complete success.

A resolution appointing a special committee to inquire into exemptions from taxation under the several statutes of this State.

WHEREAS, It appears that by virtue of the passage from time to time of statutes by the Legislature of this State, a large part of the property of this State, otherwise subject to taxation to sustain and maintain the cost of the government of this State, has become subject to exemption from taxation, and the owners thereof are at this time free from the burden of the payment of any taxes thereon; and

WHEREAS, The State of New Jersey is in need of additional means and sources from which may be realized governmental income to defray its extra expenses resulting from the present industrial and financial emergency and business depression; therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

1. The Speaker of the House of Assembly be and he hereby is authorized and directed to appoint a special committee of five (5) members of the House of Assembly to investigate and inquire into the subject of the tax exemptions of real and personal property within the State of New Jersey, existing at the present time under and by virtue of any statutes of the State of New Jersey, or by virtue of any rule of law, or for any other cause, and to report thereon to the House of Assembly as soon as may be practical, to the end that the House of Assembly may be advised as to all the several grounds on which, at the present time, real and personal property within the State of New Jersey shall be exempt from taxation and the respective amounts of property and the value as near as the same may be ascertained exempt from taxation on each of said grounds.

2. Said special committee shall have power to recommend to the House of Assembly, which of said presently existing tax exemptions, if any, should in their opinion be continued, and which should again be made subject to taxation as other real and personal property within the State of New Jersey, is now taxed, and said special committee may recommend such plan or method of taxation in respect to said exempt property as may to it seem fit and proper, or make such other or further recommendation as may appear advisable.

3. Said special committee shall meet at such times and places as the majority thereof shall decide, and shall have full power to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers and records by subpoena, administer oaths, and examine witnesses in the manner provided by law, and determine its own procedure.

4. Said special committee shall for the purposes of said investigation and inquiry be vested with all the powers and authority conferred upon the General Assembly by the Constitution and laws of the State of New Jersey, to the extent that may be expedient or necessary for the purposes of this resolution, and also all the powers and authority of a standing committee of the House of Assembly.

5. This resolution shall take effect immediately.

STATEMENT

The New Jersey State Taxpayers Association has continually called attention to the fact that under the tax laws that we have, at the present time there exists numerous provisions in relation to the exemption of certain property from taxation. It has been estimated in some source that the amount of property within the State which at the present time is exempt from paying its share towards the cost of the Government of the State, exceeds the amount of property on which at the present time taxes are being paid.

Particularly in view of the need of the State for additional funds to take care of emergency relief, the question is properly raised as to whether or not all of this property was rightfully exempt. This should be determined before additional taxes are imposed on the property owned by those now subject to taxation, or before a tax in any other form is enacted which would fall on the shoulders of the present taxpayers.

Mr. Pascoe offered the following resolution, which was read by the Clerk and adopted:

Mr. Kelley on behalf of the committee appointed pursuant to Assembly Substitute Resolution for Assembly Joint Resolution No. 12 submitted the following preliminary report, which was read by the Clerk:

PRELIMINARY REPORT OF COMMITTEE APPOINTED FOR ASSEMBLY
SUBSTITUTE RESOLUTION FOR ASSEMBLY JOINT RESOLUTION NUMBER 12 TO INQUIRE INTO MATTERS RELATING TO THE PORT OF NEW YORK AUTHORITY

In accordance with the terms of the Resolution, this Commission met and organized on February 11, 1935, by selecting Frank S. Kelley, Chairman and J. Parnell Thomas, Secretary.

Russell Watson, Esq., Associate Council of The Port of New York Authority, appeared before the Commission and stated that The Port of New York Authority, although not admitting the legality of the appointment of the Commission in order that a precedent might not be established, desired to co-operate with the Commission in every way within its power.

In answer to the request of the Commission, the Port of New York Authority through Mr. J. E. Ramsey, its General Manager, presented to the Commission on February 25th data in connection with the various phases as mentioned in the Assembly Resolution. This data included copies of by-laws of The Port of New York Authority, schedules showing all bond issues, banking syndicates through whom sold and prices at which the bonds were sold. It also included schedules showing assets of sinking and reserve funds, income statements for the years 1932, 1933 and 1934 as to all projects as well as balance sheet of The Port of New York Authority as of December 31, 1934. It also included schedules showing all securities purchased, sold and on hand, all insurance in force by classes as of January 1, 1935, and names of brokers handling same, as well as classification of all materials purchased during the year 1934.

At the request of the Commission, a complete statement was presented on March 4th showing all municipal bonds held by The Port of New York Authority, showing number of bonds, coupon rate, due date, cost, from whom acquired, and general remarks as to disposition or condition of such bonds. There was also presented a detailed statement of depositories showing name, location, amount of capital and surplus of each bank as well as balance of funds of The Port Authority on deposit on January 1, 1935. There was also presented itemized pay roll showing names and addresses of all employees, officers, engineers and consultants as well as rate of pay and capacity in which employed. There was also presented audit of the accounts of The Port of New York Authority for three years and nine months ending September 30, 1934, made by Lawrence Scudder & Co., the Auditors of The Port of New York Authority, and also audit made by Arthur Anderson & Co., independent Auditors in connection with proposed issue of Port of New York Authority bonds.

This Commission has met several times and questioned Mr. Ramsey and Mr. Watson as to the general situation pertaining to The Port of New York Authority. In held public meetings and requested anyone having any information in regard to The Port of New York Authority to present same.

This Commission was appointed without an appropriation. It was directed to apply to the Attorney-General for such legal assistance as might be required. Application was made to the Attorney-General's Department, but nothing could be done about the matter until the return of Attorney-General David T. Wilentz from Florida. Mr. Wilentz returned on March 7th and has indicated his willingness to assign counsel to assist this Commission.

Several auditors have signified their willingness to contribute services provided the Commission could wait until after March 15th, the date for filing income tax returns.

It has been called to the attention of the Commission that the only hope of the State of New Jersey receiving any funds from The Port of New York Authority in the near future depends upon its ability to take advantage of the present bond market for the purpose of financing certain of its new expenditures and refinancing the old bonds now outstanding. There is no assurance that funds will be available even though such bonds are refinanced, as the procedure will be a rather complicated one and will depend upon concurrent legislation by the State of New York and the State of New Jersey. The New York Legislature contemplates an early adjournment. The Commission is informed that these bonds cannot be advantageously sold until this investigation is closed.

The Port of New York Authority projects consist of the Holland Tunnel, George Washington Bridge, Arthur Kill Bridges, and the Bayonne Bridge, representing investments approaching two hundred million dollars. To carry out in detail the Resolution of the Assembly would entail months of hard steady work. It would definitely prevent the sale of a bond issue in this market.

As far as this work has progressed, this Commission has found little to criticise in the general business management of its affairs on the part of The Port of New York Authority.

This Commission does not feel that it should assume the responsibility of delaying the issuance and sale of the bonds of The Port of New York Authority during a protracted investigation without the specific authority and approval of the Assembly. This Commission requests instructions as to whether it shall proceed further in the investigation or whether it shall discontinue further investigation and prepare and submit a report and analysis of the data at present before it.

Respectfully submitted,

COMMISSION FOR THE INVESTIGATION OF THE PORT OF NEW YORK AUTHORITY.

MARION REPUBLICAN CLUB

Jersey City, N. J., March 11, 1935.

Frederick Brodesser,
Clerk of the General Assembly,
State House, Trenton, N. J.

Honorable Sir:

Enclosed please find a true copy of a resolution adopted at a regular meeting of the Marion Republican Club, Inc., of Jersey City, N. J.

It has been brought to my attention that a resolution favoring the Goldberg bill, No. 57, was forwarded to you by a so-called Marion Republican Club of Jersey City, N. J.

Please be advised that there is but one authentic club bearing that name, and that I have the honor of having been one of the incorporators in April, 1922, from which time it was continued and actively existing in the interest of the Republican party. This so-called club which forwarded to you the other resolution is no club at all, but merely an alter ego for an individual.

This so-called club to my knowledge has no members, no permanent headquarters, and no incorporated existence. I am somewhat surprised that resolution bearing upon the matters of such grave interests should be accorded the privileges of public reading without an investigation as to the bona fides of the drawers of such resolutions.

Trusting that you will give this letter and resolution the attention and consideration which I feel it deserves, I am,

Very truly yours,

FRED DECHRISTOFANO,
President.

RESOLUTION

Be It Resolved, That we, the members of the Marion Republican Club, Inc., of Jersey City, N. J., at a regular meeting held Monday evening, March 4, 1935, at its headquarters, 24 Dales Avenue, Jersey City, N. J., do hereby set ourselves on record as being opposed to Assembly Bill No. 57, sponsored by Assemblyman Goldberg, for the reasons set forth below:

1. The said bill will tend to the further disruption of the Republican party in Hudson county.

2. That it is unwise to place the entire election machinery of a county under the supervision of one man.

3. That it will result in a loss of livelihood to many up-standing, sincere Republican workers in Hudson county.

4. That the vesting of the supervision of the election machinery in one man may tend to graft.

5. That the present system is satisfactory as now functioning.

And We Further Resolve, That a true copy of this resolution be forwarded to the General Assembly of the State of New Jersey.

FRED DECHRISTOFANO,
President.

MICHAEL LOBUE,
Secretary.

THOMAS DELIANA,
Chairman, Board of Trustees.

Dated March 4, 1935.

HOSTLER HART

OR

FRIEND OF THE DUMB (ANIMALS)

Amidst the trial and tribulation
Of New Jersey's legislation,
Lives one who shuns such minor rails
And comes to defend the horse's tails.

Full opportune was Hart's great play
To save the horses' hind vertebrae;
For the Assembly was in ill-repute
Because of the Governor's tax rebuke.

He pleaded for the horses' sake
That no one dare their tails to take.
The Assembly, wrapped in deep vexation,
Cheerfully welcomed this relaxation.

From 'neath the rostrum, with face aglow,
Hart VanFleet started a one-man show.
With gestures wild and accents clear,
He opened upon the horses' rear.

When Hart concluded his stirring speech
Dumbfounded silence filled the breach,
Instead of bravos and loud hurrahs,
Came horselaughs, whinnies and weird guffaws!

Governor Hoffman—swamped with woes,
Tax relief, housing—what of those?
Highways, incomes, tax on sales,
Unpaid teachers and horses tails.

Unemployment—alphabet schemes,
Dutch Elm disease and bills in reams,
Script, inflation, bonds and housing,
Orgies of spending and State carousing.

God Save our State and Governor too,
For putting them in this awful stew.
Meanwhile at home the taxpayer fears
It's not bobbed tails—it's just bobbed ears.

—An Ex-Jockey.

A message was received from His Excellency, the Governor by the hands of his Secretary as follows and was read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

March 18, 1935.

To the Legislature:

March 18, 1937, will mark the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Grover Cleveland, twenty-second President of the United States and distinguished son of New Jersey. The times during which he served the Nation were perhaps more nearly similar to those of today than any other in American history, and it seems uniquely proper that our State should recognize the centennial date of his birth, not only because his services were of the order which place him above party fame in that high realm where stand our greater national heroes, but also because his life is an inspiration, needed today, and a call to patriotism.

Grover Cleveland was typical of things dear to the hearts of Americans.

He was born in Caldwell, New Jersey, fifth in a family of nine children. He was prevented from attending college by his father's death, yet prepared himself for a professional career by reading law in a private office in the city of Buffalo, New York.

His first public office, as all others which he ever held, came to him unsolicited. He became Assistant District Attorney of Erie County as the candidate of a political party which was then in a state of national chaos. He rose in this same party by successive steps to Governor of New York, and, in 1884, to nominee of his party for President of the United States.

It was Grover Cleveland's platform of radical reforms in administrative departments, in the Civil Service, in national finances, and his fearless disregard for all things contrary to public welfare, a strategy characteristic of his life and so baffling to his foes, that swept his party to national victory for the first time in twenty-three years.

His first term as President was uneventful, "marked by firmness, justice and steady adherence on his part to those things he deemed salutary to the Nation." Renominated in 1888, he failed of election, but nominated for the third time in 1892, he was elected over Benjamin Harrison. It was during this second term, from 1893 to 1897, that he captured the respect of the Nation and historians. A loyal party man, he rose in those years above party wrangles and attacked great issues that had baffled other national leaders as an aftermath of the Civil War, even coercing his own party against its will.

The business world was in a state of agitation. Banking troubles were numerous and commercial distress widespread. During these panic times employers reduced wages, and labor troubles due to agitation and fear became serious. The Pullman strike, beginning in Chicago, extended to the Pacific Coast, causing riot and bloodshed in many places, without benefit either to labor or capital.

For fifteen years a policy of fiat money, provoked by powerful lobbying interests, had been eating at the heart of the national treasury, condoned alike by both national parties, and supported by strong political passions. At the same time government revenues were being reduced by repeal of import duties to benefit favored interests and expenditures increased by uncontrolled pension legislation.

Fearlessly, Grover Cleveland met these grave issues, using the veto and every power at the disposal of the Executive, even forcing dissenters out of his Cabinet and at the cost to himself of leadership of his party at its convention in 1896.

When he retired in 1897 to live in New Jersey, the universal respect in which he was held made his home here a national shrine and added to the renown of this State.

Grover Cleveland's life is the story of how one man by his courage can reshape the course of events and save a whole people from catastrophe. It is a guide for times of national distress.

I now therefore ask that the centennial anniversary of his birth be fittingly observed in our State, and that to this end the Legislature provide for the appointment of a Commission, without appropriation, to make plans and work out a program of ceremonies worthy of the event.

Respectfully submitted,

HAROLD G. HOFFMAN,
Governor.

E. DONALD STERNER,
Secretary to the Governor.

• Attention of the House Clerk.

DEAR SIR:

We are enclosing herewith a copy of a letter sent to the Hon. Herbert J. Pascoe, chairman of the Assembly's Fact Finding Committee.

We are sending you this copy in order that it may be made a part of the record of the House and read to the House in session.

ANTI-SALES TAX COMMITTEE AND ALLIED LABOR GROUPS OF CAMDEN COUNTY

Camden, New Jersey, March 16, 1935.

*Hon. Herbert J. Pascoe,
Assemblyman of Union County,
State House, Trenton, N. J.*

DEAR ASSEMBLYMAN PASCOE:

No group of legislators in the history of New Jersey ever had the opportunity for real and far-reaching public service that lies within the grasp of the Assembly economy committee, of which you have the honor to be chairman, in its task of ascertaining whether the State of New Jersey can finance emergency relief without burdening the people with additional taxation.

Representing 75,000 organized workers and business men in Camden county and voicing the sentiment of the vast majority of the people of the State, we urge that you make the most of this great opportunity to give relief to our people and kill this bugaboo of a constantly mounting burden of taxation that in the end will stifle and overwhelm our Commonwealth.

The time has come in this State for a political and financial housecleaning, the like of which has never been seen before. The public insists that New Jersey's financial house be put in order.

The people will not be satisfied with compromise and temporizing. There is not a man, woman or child in New Jersey who does not know that there exists here today no need for additional taxation if the public servants who run the State want to solve this emergency by economy.

Our citizens certainly will not tolerate a sales tax which takes from the worker a week's pay a year and the business and corporate interests of the State need not be saddled with additional burdens that will in the end drive them from the State or strangle them. Nor will the masses continue in public office groups that protect the powerful corporate interest at the expense of the little man.

The public opinion of the State is prepared for and will support any suggestions and recommendations for economy that your committee makes to the Assembly, no matter how drastic or where they strike. That public opinion will be quick to resent any move on the part of any groups to curb or interfere with your activities and knows that you can meet this emergency without any additional taxation whatsoever.

Every agency for good government in the State of New Jersey looks to you for relief and knows that your committee will have the courage to resist any efforts that may be made by hostile influences to minimize the importance of your task and have you in the end make only a few innocuous recommendations for economy.

Your group can and must give New Jersey a complete and entire financial housecleaning. The people will accept no additional taxation, knowing it is not necessary. We know you will administer this administrative housecleaning for the price of failure will mean financial and moral bankruptcy for New Jersey.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) J. V. MORAN,
Chairman, Anti-Sales Tax Committee and Allied Labor Groups of Camden County, and

(Signed) E. L. CANNING,
President, Consumer Tradesman Labor League, Camden.

Mr. Pascoe offered the following resolution, which was read by the Clerk and adopted:

WHEREAS, The people of New Jersey pay into the Federal Treasury in taxes over $96,000,000.00 annually and in allocating the same only about $52,000,000.00 is returned to the State of New Jersey, including appropriations for emergency relief; and

WHEREAS, We learn from the Congressional Record of February 22, 1935, that in making appropriations for emergency relief to the various States there are several States which receive a vastly greater percentage of their relief requirements from the Federal Government than does our State of New Jersey; and

WHEREAS, Such a plan is manifestly unfair and inequitable to the people of New Jersey as compared with the citizens of other States; and

WHEREAS, There are some one hundred and twenty-five municipalities in our State which have defaulted in whole or in part on their municipal obligations or are using scrip to pay their expenses and the imposition of additional taxes to raise money for emergency relief will further aggravate this financial situation; therefore,

Be It Resolved, that this House of Assembly for the State of New Jersey does hereby request our United States Senators and Congressmen to support the request of Governor Hoffman and that they do present the above facts to the Federal Director of Emergency Relief and ask for a more equitable distribution of Federal taxes paid by the people of New Jersey, particularly emergency relief funds. We ask this in the interest of the overburdened taxpayers of our State; and be it still Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded forthwith to the United States Senators and each Congressman from New Jersey and to the Governor of New Jersey.

FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK BOARD,
Washington, March 22, 1935.

*Clerk of the House of Representatives,
State Capitol,
Trenton, New Jersey.*

MY DEAR MR. CLERK—Herewith certified copy of a recent resolution of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. This resolution was adopted pursuant to frequent inquiries from legislative offices as to the desirability of such legislation. In a number of the States, bills for such legislation are pending and have not yet been enacted.

Would it be asking too much of you to request that you get this resolution in the hands of any committee which may be considering such a bill?

I realize that this may make it necessary for you to examine the file of pending bills, but the board is quite anxious that its views be known to the legislators, and I know of no other way to get the information before them.

If you find it possible to do this, we will all be highly appreciative.

Very truly yours,

JAMES R. FRAZER,
Associate General Counsel.

Be It Resolved by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board that it is deemed desirable that legislation be enacted in all of the States to provide that all shares issued by any Federal Savings and Loan Association duly chartered by and under the supervision of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, which shares are insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, shall be legal investments for trust funds of every kind and nature.

I hereby certify that the above is a true and correct copy of a resolution adopted by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board on March 4, 1935.

Bless our people, O Holy Father, with Thy continual presence. Guide our leaders, our legislators, our politicians, and all who are in places of authority. Stay the minds and hands of greedy and foolish men; spare us from cheap and shallow schemes; deepen our regard for true religion; intensify our sense of moral responsibility; and quicken our desire to have and to keep good laws.

The following communication was sent to the desk and read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY
JOINT LEGISLATIVE BOARD OF THE TRANSPORTATION BROTHERHOODS

April 4, 1935.

Frederick A. Brodesser, Esq., Clerk of the House of Assembly, Trenton, N. J.

Dear Sir:

We are writing you on behalf of the Joint Legislative Board of the Transportation brotherhoods, composed of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Order of Railway Conductors, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, to call to your attention, and through you, to the attention of the Assembly the fact that Assembly Bills Nos. 96, 97, 107, 108 and 114 were introduced in the Assembly on January 28, 1935, and referred to the Committee on Miscellaneous Business.

A. 96 provides for the establishment of ports of entry to control foreign commercial trucks.

A. 97 reduces over all lengths and weights of trucks and trailers.

A. 107 permits the Public Utility Commission to regulate the operations of motor carriers.

A. 108 limits the hours of service of the operators of commercial motor vehicles.

A. 114 imposes a mileage tax on motor trucks.

As representatives of a large group of railroad employees, whose opportunities for employment have been greatly curtailed by the unregulated and unrestricted competition of other transportation agencies, we respectfully request that we be permitted to appear before the Committee on Miscellaneous Business at an early date for the purpose of explaining our views respecting these bills.

It is our understanding that Assembly Bills 96 and 114 are being considered in connection with a comprehensive revenue-producing program, and for that reason it may be considered best to defer a public hearing on these two measures until a later date. However, the other bills referred to are in no way connected with taxing problems, and there appears to be no good reason why the Assembly should longer defer consideration of them.

It is respectfully requested that you lay this matter before the General Assembly.

(Signed)

WILLIAM H. CANN,
*Chairman of the Legislative Board,
Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers*

GEORGE F. CONWAY,
Order of Railroad Conductors*

A message was received from his Excellency the Governor, by the hands of his Secretary, as follows, and was read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

April 8, 1935.

To the Legislature:

Your attention is respectfully directed to a bill in the House of Assembly known as Second Committee Substitute for Assembly Bills Nos. 46, 195 and 227. This bill, for the continuance of milk control, should be passed.

Since May, 1933, the State of New Jersey has undertaken to control the economics of the dairy industry by the establishment of a Milk Control Board. This board, operating in a new and untrodden field, has proven the value of milk control in this State. We need only to compare conditions at the time the Milk Control Board came into action with those that have prevailed since then to prove the value of this type of legislation. Returns for milk had reached such a low level that the welfare of producers was in jeopardy and health standards could not prevail where costs of production were not even being approximately met. Therefore, the interest of consumers was at stake.

There is nothing novel about the regulation of the dairy industry. At nearly every session of the Legislature regulations regarding production and distribution are added to the statute books, and most municipalities continue to raise the standards of their milk supply by ordinances. The economic regulation of the industry, which is the only objective contained in this bill, seems to me to be highly desirable and essentially fair to producers of milk, upon whom the expense of sanitary regulations necessarily falls in large part.

Recent decisions by the Supreme Court of the United States and by other courts indicate that the Federal government has no jurisdiction over the intra-State phases of milk control. Therefore, if New Jersey is to have a continuation of stabilization of its milk industry, it must be accomplished by the State itself.

We are confronted, of course, by the problem of inter-State control, which seems essentially to be the province of the Federal government. I recently participated in a conference called by Governor Lehman, of New York, and including the Chief Executives of neighboring States, when this inter-State problem was discussed. Conferences are now being held with authorities of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to bring about Federal regulation, so that the power which the State lacks in regard to milk crossing its borders can be carried out on a co-ordinated basis with the State on milk in the current of inter-State commerce.

If this act is passed and if the hopeful developments now under way on the inter-State phase bear fruit, the establishment of fair regulations in regard to our milk industry is assured. All of the States adjoining New Jersey have Milk Control Boards, and I am advised that a large number of other States, having followed the progress of milk control in New Jersey and other States that have experienced it, are planning to establish similar boards.

In my mind it is especially important that we have a Milk Control Board in New Jersey, since we import more than a third of our milk supply. This State must not be the dumping ground for milk from other States on a basis that will disrupt our own dairy industry and cause a breakdown in this important food.

A case in point is the effort on the part of certain dealers operating in the southern part of New Jersey to determine for themselves how the dairy industry shall be controlled, and they have, in a spirit of apparent defiance, undertaken to develop a program which, if carried through, will in all probability be disastrous to the industry in this State. I have been in daily touch with this situation since it developed, and have requested the Attorney-General to support the milk control program with all the resources that the State can furnish. Without a control board operating in the public interest, the control of milk will pass again into the hands of those who would selfishly exploit it.

The bill calls for the appointment of a board of five members, to be appointed by me, who will receive a per diem fee for work actually performed in connection with the formulation of State policies. I intend to make this board representative of the various phases of the industry and of the consuming public.

Also I wish to call attention to the fact that this bill calls for the cost of operation to be defrayed by the dairy industry, so that it will not constitute a burden on the general State income, as is contained in the present act. It provides for a continuance of the board for a two-year period.

Let me emphasize that this board does not interfere with nor overlap in its activities, in so far as other agencies, State and municipal, are concerned. It is entirely an act to preserve economic stability in the industry, and it will be so administered.

It is probably unnecessary for me to point out to you that the milk industry without a milk board will be controlled by some powerful agency which will establish the trend of prices to be paid producers, and which will inevitably affect the quality of the milk available to the citizens of this State. This bill proposes to vest this control in a State body responsible to us, supported financially by the industry. In my opinion, such control is far superior to that which will be re-established by monopolistic distribution units, whose objectives and methods have not been shown in the past to be particularly regardful of the public interest.

I therefore urge upon you the prompt passage of this act in its present form. As soon as the bill is passed, I will be glad to affix my signature to it and assure the State of New Jersey adequate control of the milk industry for the next two years.

Respectfully submitted,

HAROLD G. HOFFMAN,
Governor.

SENATE JOINT MEMORIAL No. 6

BY SENATORS HOTCHKISS AND HEADLEE

WHEREAS, During the present depression, the original cost of live stock and grain products is greatly in excess of the price now realized by the sale of the same, and that by reason thereof farmers are unable to pay their bills and debts, and each year find themselves further behind with their debts and obligations, and if the above situation continues for any additional length of time the farmers will lose their homes and all; and,

WHEREAS, During the time farmers are operating at a loss they cannot be purchasers of other manufactured products and such industries will, in turn, fail for lack of business; and that all business of every kind and nature will be affected by this injustice to agriculture; and,

WHEREAS, It follows that every kind of business located in the agricultural communities must rise or fail with the farmers, and that the important and absolutely essential industry of agriculture cannot be stricken down without causing disaster to the country as a whole; and,

WHEREAS, The placing of an embargo on the products mentioned would stabilize the prices thereof and bring such prices more in harmony with the productions costs, together with a fair margin of profit, and bring the farmers out of the dire and distressing depression which now affects them; now, therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED by the Thirtieth General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

That we respectfully petition the Congress of the United States to pass laws and provide rules and regulations to place an embargo on flax, wheat, hogs, cattle and sheep, and upon pork, beef and mutton products, until such time as the prices of said grains, livestock and meat products shall cover the cost of production, and we further petition that the law now permitting wheat to be milled in bond be repealed.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the President of the United States, to both Houses of the Congress of the United States and to each member thereof from this State, to the Secretary of Agriculture, and to each House of the Legislative Assembly of those States whose Legislatures are now in session.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

My dear Mr. Brodesser:

April 12, 1935.

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of April 10th, transmitting a certified copy of a resolution which was introduced by Assemblyman Pascoe, of Union county, on April 1, 1935, and adopted by the House of Assembly on that date.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 5, 1935.

Clerk of the House of Assembly, State House, Trenton, N. J.:

DEAR SIR—I enclose an open letter from the United Textile Workers of America, at Washington, D. C., to the members of the House of Assembly of the New Jersey State Legislature.

I request that you read this letter to the House assembled in session at the earliest possible moment and have it made part of the record of the transactions and deliberations of that body.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) FRANCIS J. GORMAN,
*First Vice-President, United Textile Workers

UNITED TEXTILE WORKERS OF AMERICA

WASHINGTON, April 3rd, 1935.

House of Assembly, State House, Trenton, N. J.:

GENTLEMEN—The United Textile Workers of America are deeply concerned with the attempt to impose a sales tax in the State of New Jersey. Our textile workers in New Jersey are already too heavily burdened with the constant decline in weekly earnings and an increase in living costs.

Organized labor in general will not permit the imposition of this tax without retaliation against those responsible. Universal admission that the taxing system of states and of the nation has broken down calls for something more than squeezing pennies out of the poor. Property interests, which reap the greatest benefits from all legislative, executive and judicial processes, must face their own problem of governmental expense.

Sales tax will not only fail to supply necessary funds for public administrations, it will also narrow still further the channels of commerce and trade and will tend to defeat itself, while working greater misery upon those whose budgets can only be balanced by suicides. No tax can be justified which is a levy upon hunger and nakedness.

Every business now collects its tax bill out of its customers. Even in this depression era, there is a surplus of dividends, interest and rent, which should be forced to bear this overhead of community expense. The billions which now glut the money hoards will be safer if a proper proportion is taken for maintenance of the orderly processes of society. The sales tax is just another lean-to on a taxation structure now falling into decay. It will not meet the social and political necessities and its failure will endanger the decent carrying on of our civilization.

The issue of a workable, fair and economic plan of taxation must be faced soon. The necessities of administration, health, education and an orderly community will be met some how. Let those who have assumed responsibility shoulder this task, or admit openly their intellectual bankruptcy.

Very truly yours,

FRANCIS J. GORMAN,

of America.*

Mr. Newcomb moved that the communication be received and spread in full upon the minutes and that a copy of the letter be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Which motion was adopted.

The following communication was sent to the desk and read by the Clerk:

April 13, 1935.

To All Members of the Assembly:

The New Jersey Taxpayers Association is opposed to Assembly Bill No. 208 because it seems unnecessary for all practical purposes to burden the taxpayers with the cost of publication of many thousands of words which will not be read and which obviously is proposed not for the benefit of the public, but for the advantage of the newspapers and those who have the placing of the copy.

We believe that the posting of such ordinances in conspicuous places and making them available to interested citizens for inspection at the municipal clerk's office, and the publication merely by title and digest of the subject matter, would be sufficient and that any further expense is unwarranted.

We trust this matter will have your careful attention and that you will not support this or other bills which provide for unnecessary expenditure of the taxpayers' money and which are, in our opinion, most undesirable legislation.

NEW JERSEY TAXPAYERS ASSOCIATION.

Mr. Newcomb moved that the communication be received and spread in full upon the minutes and that a copy of the letter be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

The following communication was sent to the desk and read by the Clerk:

78 PARK AVENUE, MADISON, N. J.

GENTLEMEN:

We have heard of Theron McCampbell's proposal to restrict billboards in the State of New Jersey.

We have some of the finest highways with very beautiful scenery. These billboards that are allowed to be placed so near to State highways mar the beauty of the highways and are a menace to safety.

We think that by encouraging this bill you will not only beautify your State but also safeguard the people of your State.

Steps have been taken toward the passing of laws to restrict billboards in New York State. We think it wise if we should follow in their lead.

We assure you of our full support in any steps you see fit to take in the direction of restricting billboards in the State of New Jersey.

Very truly yours,

AGNES ATTINO, Secy.

Mr. Newcomb moved that the communication be received and spread in full upon the minutes.

Which motion was adopted.

The following communication was sent to the desk and read by the Clerk:

Mr. Giuliano, chairman of the Committee on Miscellaneous Business, announces a public hearing on Assembly Bills Nos. 96, 97, 107, 108 and 114, on Monday, April 22, at 11 A. M., in the Assembly Chamber.

The final report of the Joint Commission created under chapter 16 of the laws of 1933, and chapter 5 of the laws of 1934, to study workmen's compensation acts and practices was received and ordered filed, including two minority reports, one by Mr. Charles W. Scott and one by Mr. Arthur Walsh.

Newark, N. J., April 12, 1935.

*To the House of Assembly,
State House,
Trenton, N. J.*

On behalf of the Joint Commission appointed pursuant to Chap. J. R. 16, P. L. 1933, and Chap. J. R. 5, P. L. 1934, to study the Workmen's Compensation Act and Practices, we herewith submit our report.

We ask your honorable body to give this report your earnest attention, as the Commission feel that even though no funds were provided to carry out the intention of the Legislature the attached reports outline changes in the method of procedure and also suggest amendments to the act which we believe will go a long way if enacted into law to help correct the deficiencies which we have outlined in our report.

Respectfully submitted,

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION INVESTIGATING COMMISSION,
DR. ANDREW F. MCBRIDE, Chairman,

(Signed) FRED W. FORT, JR., Secretary.

REPORT OF JOINT COMMISSION (REF. CHAP. J. R. 16, P. L. 1933, AND CHAP. J. R. 5, P. L. 1934,) ON STUDY OF WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION ACT AND PRACTICES.

To the Legislature of the State of New Jersey:

The undersigned commission appointed pursuant to the provisions of Senate Joint Resolution No. 25, known as Chapter J. R. 16, Laws of 1933, to make a thorough study and survey of the deficiencies, flaws and inadequacies in the operation of the present Workmen's Compensation Act of New Jersey, and to consider the necessity and advisability of appropriate changes to be embodied in the Act, which committee was further continued under Chapter J. R. 5 of the Laws of 1934, with the additional direction to make a survey and study of the Rehabilitation Commission as well as the Workmen's Compensation Law, respectfully begs leave to make the following report:

The Commission met and organized in October, 1933, in the City of Newark, and elected Dr. Andrew F. McBride, chairman, and Fred W. Fort, vice-chairman and secretary. A number of public hearings were held in the City of Newark and a great many private conferences were also held; and we were attended by representatives of the press, bar associations, medical societies, insurance societies and affiliates, industrial employers, labor unions and many injured employees, as well as the Commissioner of Labor, the Deputy Commissioners of Compensation, referees, and the Director of Rehabilitation. We are indebted to Stephen J. Lorenz, Counsel of the Labor Department. We have also had the benefit of the advice of Mr. A. R. Lawrence, Special Deputy Commissioner of Banking and Insurance in charge of the Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau of New Jersey, and Mr. Gribben, the statistical expert of the Compensation Bureau. Everyone having information useful to the Commission was invited to attend our sessions and the writ of subpoena was liberally used. In the course of our hearings, over one hundred witnesses were examined and critical analysis made of their testimony. We also wish to make a special acknowledgment to the Civil Service Commission for stenographic assistance, without which the Commission would have been very seriously handicapped. We also wish to thank the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Essex County and the Board of Education of the City of Newark for their courteous treatment of us in providing our Commission with a meeting place.

Your Commission, among other things, made the following statement to the Legislature under date of March, 1934:

“The testimony which was produced before us indicates that the act is very poorly administered, and a great deal of criticism has been directed against the practices before the Bureau. It appears that litigants are unnecessarily harassed in the pursuit of their claims or in the defense of them by the dilatory tactics of some of the referees and Deputy Commissioners. Decorum seems to be utterly lacking in the hearing rooms. This lack of decorum and dignified proceedings has brought the Bureau into disrespect, and the confidence of many petitioners that they have received a ‘square deal’ is shaken. It appears to us that cases are adjourned easily; calendars are too heavy, Deputy Commissioners come on the bench very late, take an extra long luncheon hour, and thus delay and annoy litigants needlessly. It has been testified to before us by reputable witnesses, whose testimony carried conviction, that the hearing rooms are places for medical men to consort and solicit cases, and that very frequently cases are ‘picked up’ by physicians hanging around the hearing rooms, patients examined and the physician testifies all on the same day. The fee of such a physician being fixed by the Deputy Commissioner, and charged against the fund established to secure the compensation of workmen. It has even been represented to us that the testimony of such physicians carries greater weight with the Deputy Commissioner than other reputable medical testimony. We are also convinced that frequently there is an unnecessary array of medical witnesses presented, which only adds to the confusion of the Deputy Commissioner and amounts to an assault on the funds reserved to pay workmen’s compensation. Perhaps the greatest evil in the department are the so-called ‘informal hearings.’ These hearings are so poorly conducted that one referee referred to his courtroom as a ‘mad house.’ Printed lists of ‘recommended lawyers’ were handed out to petitioners needing the services of a lawyer, and in at least one instance a referee went to the house of a petitioner with a lawyer he recommended after that same referee had 'sat' in the previous informal hearing in the same matter.

"It appeared that cases are 'compromised' at informal hearings, and orders made on such 'compromises,' by a Deputy Commissioner, who signs the order, to make it a binding agreement, without even reading the order he signs, the Deputy relying entirely on the consent of the parties for the justness of the order. The great majority of the petitioners in these informal hearings have never been in a courtroom before, are unacquainted with the procedure; many cannot speak or understand English, and settlements are made for them in a 'mad house.'

"There has been a total lack of supervision of the operations of the Bureau. By the simple device adopted in northern New Jersey of having nearly every case 'compromised' and the order of the referee consented to by opposing counsel, even the supervision of the appellate courts has been removed. This lack of supervision in the department itself, and the inability of courts of law to intervene because of the 'compromise' feature has caused the department to become inefficient, unimpressive, and unsatisfactory to petitioner and defendant alike.

"Nearly all of the witnesses who appeared before us have indicated that there is a definite 'racket' conducted in the Bureau. The witnesses are very positive in their statements. These insinuations are so insistent and persistent that the whole administration of the act is tainted with them. Your committee has not been provided with means to ferret out these matters; no money whatsoever has been provided to hire a competent and trained investigator to delve into these things and bring them to the surface. These 'rackets' are said to exist among physicians who are alleged to have influence with referees and Deputy Commissioners, and whose 'opinions' are accepted in preference to other reputable physicians; that certain lawyers are favored; that a spirit of camaraderie exists among officials, certain doctors, lawyers and insurance men, and that parties, trips and other affairs are jointly held by these groups. If these things were indulged in they should be uncovered, their methods exposed and barriers set up against the continuance of such practices. So great are these vices, and so real are they in the estimation of some insurance companies, that many insurance companies are withdrawing from the compensation field and others are indicating they will withdraw, or lessen their risks considerably.

“These matters cannot be exposed and rectified by summoning of witnesses and taking testimony. Rather an investigation must first be made, the testimony gathered and then presented.

“Inasmuch as many persons involved are members of the learned profession, some of the preliminary investigation should be done privately so that no one shall be injured in the course of the inquisition needlessly.

“We, therefore, must strongly urge the Legislature to make an adequate appropriation to this committee to complete this most necessary work. No examination of the work of the department can ever be considered complete without a settling of these matters. An incomplete investigation should not be permitted. This Bureau awards millions of dollars each year to crippled employees. The whole industry of the State is interested in the matter. We respectfully submit the job should be completed.”

The chief object of the report above quoted was to attempt to impress the Legislature with the seriousness and the necessity of a complete investigation and to urge upon it the need of providing moneys with which to carry it on. We regret our repeated pleas were not successful, and thereafter and on January 8, 1935, your commission made the following report to the 1935 Legislature:

“As heretofore reported to the Legislature, this Commission was given a task to do which it willingly accepted, but was not furnished with any moneys to conduct a painstaking investigation of the practices of the Compensation Bureau. The members gladly contributed funds out of their own pocket to this end. Previous to October, 1934, the labor of the Commission was desultory and haphazard, due to the lack of money. In October, 1934, however, the Emergency Relief Administration furnished to the Commission six part-time workers and then a vigorous study of the practices of the compensation matters took place. Since then our authority was challenged by two members of the Essex Bar and in many ways our studies were attempted to be thwarted by lawyers and physicians whose tactics delayed and hampered our work to a considerable extent. We wish to report that the prosecution for contempt of our subpoenas is now in the hands of the Prosecutor of the Pleas of Essex County.

“Due to the fact that we have not had an opportunity to thoroughly study and digest the voluminous work already done and the statistics gathered—particularly since the appointment of the investigators furnished by the Emergency Relief Administration, who have rendered invaluable assistance to our Commission—we wish to acquaint the Legislature of this situation and to advise your Excellency and your honorable body that we are now engaged in the preparation of our report and the framing of legislation to carry out proposed recommendations, and we shall promptly file the same as soon as the work is completed.”

Subsequent thereto and on February 1, 1935, this Commission addressed the following communication to the Legislature:

“Your Commission, appointed to investigate the Workmen’s Compensation Act and its practices, has had its attention called to Assembly Bill No. 1, which has been reported out of committee and we understand is ready for final passage in the House of Assembly.

“Our Commission has labored for more than a year investigating painstakingly the practices and work of the Department of Labor and its related branches. We have definite recommendations to make to your honorable body. In our opinion, the bill, which was introduced by Mr. Paul, does not carry out these recommendations which are the result of careful study. The bill which is now before you does not seem to us to be the result of a carefully devised plan to improve the provisions of the Compensation Act. It has incorporated in it features which were the practice before the appointment of your compensation commission, and which your Commission condemned and which have now been discontinued by reason of our condemnation. This discontinued practice is attempted to be set up as law.

“Your Commission has not been consulted by the drafters of Assembly Bill No. 1.

“We do not wish to take up the time of the Legislature by presenting in the chronological order the defects which we find in this measure, as they are numerous. We are writing to you to ask you to withhold any action on this bill until our report, which is now being prepared, is filed. We do think you should at least have the benefit of our study and work before you make any drastic changes in the present compensation act.

“Our report should be finished within a very reasonable time. It might interest you to know that we have examined more than 101 witnesses, have held sixty sessions, which have been attended by labor organizations, insurance executives, bar associations, medical societies, injured workmen and a host of other executive experts and statisticians.

“As your Commission, appointed for the purpose of correcting evils and devising an act more adequately to administer industrial accidents, we are unalterably opposed to the passage of Assembly Bill No. 1.”

The State of New Jersey was one of the first States to enact a Workmen's Compensation Act. Twenty-four years ago an act “prescribing the liability of an employer to make compensation for injuries received by an employee in the course of employment and establishing an elective schedule of compensation” was passed. The operation of the act was part of the court procedure, but in 1918 a Workmen's Compensation Bureau was created in the Department of Labor to adjust claims under the Employers' Liability Law. The purpose of this change was to make a summary, quick and inexpensive method of arriving at the amounts due employees injured in the course of their employment. The formalities of legal procedure with its complaints, answers, interrogatories, motions, etc., were discarded. Agreements of settlement between employer and employee were encouraged; such agreements were to be supervised by the department and they were ineffectual unless approved by the department. If the employee did not protect his rights within 21 days by having filed an agreement of settlement the department undertook to reach such an agreement for him and if a petition for compensation was not filed the Bureau was permitted to file one for him. From all of which it would appear it was the desire of the Legislature to protect at all hazards the injured workman at the least possible expense to him and his employer, and to see that he was receiving compensation promptly and for such time as his case warranted. That was and is the spirit of the act, to wit: promptness, inexpensiveness, summary, procedure.

The statute and its supplements and amendments are excellent, and we do not recommend any radical departure from the present act, except that we feel that the act does not provide for proper supervision over the administration of the affairs of the Compensation Bureau. Because of the lack of supervision many abuses crept into the administration of the law, as heretofore noted, and careless and inept practices brought justified condemnation upon the department. The supervision of the department itself over "agreements" became lost as referees and Deputy Commissioners would approve any agreement made between the parties just to give it effectiveness rather than to carry out the intention of the act to see whether the agreement was just and proper.

We recommend that proper safeguards should be adopted to prevent vexatious and unmeritorious claims being pressed, after one adverse decision of a Deputy Commissioner. If, in the opinion of a Deputy Commissioner, a claim is absolutely without merit the petitioner should not be allowed to again present his claim unless it be on terms which would compel him to deposit a substantial sum to be paid to his adversary if his claim is again held to be vexatious or unmeritorious.

Cases were called to our attention where petitioners sought again and again to harass employers by the filing of petition after petition and demand for formal hearing and while there was absolutely no merit in petitioners' claims employers were compelled to spend large sums of money defending these cases. The Deputy Commissioners were powerless in such matters, although they knew the cases were brought to harass and annoy the defendant in the hope of procuring some settlement.

When we began our labors there was a vicious practice then existing in the administration of the Compensation Law known as the "close out and compromise racket." It seemed to be the practice for attorneys on both sides to agree upon a settlement; such settlement to be a final and absolute close out of the petitioner's rights. As an evidence of the viciousness of this practice we are quoting paragraphs from two sample cases; one case, No. 20035, in which a remarkable agreement was entered into between the attorneys and approved by the Deputy Commissioner who signed the order containing this paragraph:

"Both parties understand that this payment, if accepted, constitutes a final close-out of the case and that it takes into consideration not only the petitioner's present condition but any and all developments in her condition which may be by her or anyone else in her behalf alleged to be the result of the alleged accident, directly or by way of aggravation.

"The petitioner and her attorney and the respondent by its attorney accept the above compromise settlement as above outlined."

Another sample of such a "close out" settlement is case No. 20229. The following is quoted from the order made by the Deputy Commissioner:

"This is a compromise settlement which does not involve a question of extent of disability. This is a settlement whereby and wherein the respondent contends that the disability alleged by the petitioner is in no wise casually related to the accident alleged in the claim petition. The petitioner clearly understands that the acceptance of this settlement, which is paid by the respondent without admission of liability on its part and which payment is not to be construed as compensation, but merely a payment to terminate a controversy, is a final one and that the case may never be reopened at any time in the future either on allegations of increased disability nor may his dependents claim death benefits as the result of the alleged injury. It is clearly understood that this is a full, final and complete close-out of a controverted issue as to whether or not the condition of the petitioner is due to an accident. It is clearly understood that the respondent questions the jurisdiction of the Bureau to hear and determine the claim.

With all of these facts in mind and with the clear understanding on the part of the petitioner that the compromise settlement is so made.”

It will be noted from the foregoing quotation that the insurance company absolutely and completely denies any liability whatsoever in the controversy then pending and it is in effect gratuitously paying a sum of money to a person not entitled thereto. The Deputy who takes jurisdiction and makes the order reserves the right by his order to allow defendant to challenge his jurisdiction. In this connection we call the Legislature's attention to an excerpt from a letter addressed to this Commission by an insurance executive, in which he says:

“There appears to be an attempt to create the impression that insurance men are composed of Satanic impulses, when actually in the handling of compensation losses the reverse is true, evidenced by the fact that in one year, 1927, to be exact, the checking of settlements at Trenton indicated that gratuitous payments had been made on compensation losses approximating something like $117,000.”

In other words, according to this insurance official, $117,000 of insurance premiums in that year had been paid out to claimants, attorneys, doctors, hospitals and others for which there was no legal liability whatsoever.

Such practices, of course, should not be permitted. Such practices as those quoted (and those are only samples) are indefensible. We further direct the Legislature's attention to the fact that it was proven before us that in death cases settlements have been made at as low as $300. In one particular case, both sides agreed, the petitioner as well as the respondent, that there was no liability on the part of the respondent; yet notwithstanding such an admission, which appears on the records of the case, an award was made by the Deputy Commissioner in the sum of $300. In this particular case, out of this $300 the widow received $75. The rest of the $300 went to lawyers and doctors and $75 to an undertaker. Neither should “nuisance values” be placed on claims. Either the petitioner has a claim or he has not. The department is created to determine that question. If a petitioner has a case then he has a legitimate case and not a “nuisance value” case; if he has no case then he should be dismissed. These "nuisance value cases" led to the filing of many doubtful claims, because of the ease with which some payment could be effected.

Recent hearings have developed the fact that many examinations made by some physicians are carelessly and indifferently made. Little if any record is made or kept by some doctors, and in one instance records were made and kept on backs of envelopes, cards, pieces of paper, and in many instances an alleged record was purported to have been made on the back of an envelope months before the letter was even mailed to the doctor, as evidenced by the post-office stamp. This physician stated he testified from such records. We recommend that physicians testifying in compensation matters be obliged to keep accurate, complete and reliable records.

It was also developed that orders were made fixing physicians' fees and directing them to be paid to the attorney of the petitioner in a lump sum as an alleged reimbursement, but we never could ascertain, either from the physicians who were to be paid or from the attorney, whether the physicians or any of them ever received any money from the lawyer in question. It also appeared from a letter found in one of the files of an attorney that a certain physician had agreed to testify for a lawyer in his cases, but that he had to receive a certain fee which was fixed in the letter and which fee exceeded the amount that could be allowed by statute.

It was developed that one physician examined a petitioner and told the petitioner's lawyer: "When you get ready to file your petition let me know and I will tell you what to put in the petition." When this case was tried the physician testified for the respondent, deserting the petitioner who had retained him, and he admitted before us under oath that he had received a fee for his testimony for the respondent as an expert witness.

CHANGES RECOMMENDED IN PROCEDURE

There does not appear to be any warrant in law for the so-called "informal hearing." It is perhaps an attempt on the part of the department to carry out the provisions of Section 4, of Chapter 149, Laws of 1918. In our opinion it is a crude and ineffective method of doing so. This act never contemplated that agreements of settlement should be reached in a room that is a replica of a courtroom and following as nearly as it can court procedure. The referees are looked upon as judicial officers, when they in fact should not be so. Many of the unfortunates that are called before them in formal hearings are not versed in court procedure, some are illiterate, a number cannot even speak English. They stand alone, unrepresented, while an alert, well-versed and informed representative of an employer, who knows his rights, is opposed to him. We feel "informal hearings," so called, should be abolished. We recommend that, as indicated in Section 4, of Chapter 149, of the Laws of 1918, the employer and employee endeavor to reach an agreement between themselves, and that the agreement be reduced to writing as in the act directed. And when the agreement is approved by the department it should be specifically approved as to form, length of disability, amount of payments, length of payments, medical expenses and treatments. Before such agreement shall be approved it shall be accompanied by a certificate of a competent physician, duly licensed to practice medicine, setting forth the diagnosis and prognosis of the injury and the casual relation of the injury to the accident, and the schedule loss sustained, if any, by the employee. Blank forms of such agreement should be prepared by the department. If said agreement cannot be approved for any reason or if the parties cannot reach a settlement, then the department should undertake to reach an agreement for them as follows:

A conference should be arranged wherein the employer and employee endeavor to reach an agreement with the referee sitting in as arbiter; that the only question to be settled at the conference should be the extent of the injuries and an adequate settlement of the amount of the award as set out in the statute. There should be no one at the conference except the parties interested. The State physician, if the petitioner has no physician of his own, shall estimate the injury and the amount of disability incurred for the guidance of the referee. If a settlement is reached, an order shall be prepared by the referee. The referee shall make a written report of each conference, showing who attended and the result reached, which report shall be filed with the papers. If no settlement be reached, the case to be set down for formal hearing. The referee should not allow this conference to become an investigation for the defendant, but should confine it solely to the question of settlement.

If an agreement of settlement cannot then be reached, the referee should prepare a formal petition and cause the same to be served on the respondents within ten days thereafter, compelling the respondent to file his answer to the petition within fifteen days, when the case should be set down for hearing, at which hearing the petitioner may be represented by counsel. If a respondent should file a paper that he desires to controvert the question of injury and liability or either of them, after being ordered to the conference above set out, then no conference shall be held, but the case should at once be prepared for formal hearing.

RECOMMENDED MEDICAL CHANGES

We recommend that the injured or diseased worker have the right to select his own doctor, provided such doctor is duly licensed to practice and that the employer have the right to consultation; that the employer be given the further right to move any ambulatory case after consultation with a "State physician" if it is found by the State physician that the individual is not receiving proper treatment, or if he is being treated unnecessarily, to the clinic of any recognized regular hospital in the vicinity or to the nearest State clinic for any necessary treatment.

We further recommend that physicians employed by the State in both compensation and rehabilitation be full-time physicians and that they be prohibited from engaging in any medical practice other than that engaged in by them for the State; that they be termed Medical Directors and Associate Medical Directors in Compensation and Rehabilitation; that their salaries be the same as now paid a Deputy Commissioner and referee; and that their duties shall be designated by the Director of Rehabilitation, the Commissioner of Compensation and the Industrial Board hereinafter recommended; and that they be under the direction of the Commissioner of Labor and the Industrial Board.

The State's physician or physicians should appear in any case and testify when requested to do so by any Deputy Commissioner or referee or by the Board. They should be subject, of course, to cross-examination.

It should be obligatory on the part of any attending physician in any given case to file a report of any accident case or occupational disease he is attending within 72 hours after assuming charge of the case. The report to be in triplicate and failure to file a report without an excuse that is accepted as justified by the Board will be a warrant for his removal from the case or a justification for the employer to refuse to pay for his services. So that there may not be any misunderstanding or unfair advantage taken of the physician, the post-office date on the letter should be accepted if it be within the 72 hours.

Appointment of physicians to the Department should be in the hands of the appointing power of all the other members of the personnel of the Department. We recommend that the present physicians be given first choice of appointment. Whenever vacancies occur among physicians the Medical Society of New Jersey should submit to the Commissioner the names of physicians who shall be certified by said Society as capable medical men duly licensed to practice in this State and who have practiced for at least five years in this State and who shall be citizens of the United States; the appointee shall be selected from said group and shall hold his office during good behavior.

CLINICS

We recommend the abolition of all clinics carried on directly or indirectly by insurance carriers or their representatives for the treatment of compensation cases. This also applies to employers or their carriers, who directly or by indirection, or any way influence injured employees to go to any other agency other than those heretofore recommended. This does not mean the abolition of first-aid stations maintained strictly for first aid.

INDUSTRIAL BOARD

In order to provide proper supervision over the workings of the department and to insure dispatch in the work, as well as to expedite appeals, we suggest the creation of a board of five men; one of whom shall be a counsellor-at-law, one of whom shall be a physician, one a representative of labor, one a representative of employers, and one a representative of the general public. This body to be bipartisan;

the members of the first board to be appointed for terms of one, two, three, four and five years; and their successors to be appointed for five years, so that the term of one member shall expire every year. The Commissioner of Labor should be ex officio a member of the board. This board should have wide powers, original and appellate; it should be invested with the power to make rules of practice not inconsistent with the Compensation Act, it should have authority to discipline referees and Deputy Commissioners if necessary; it should hear all appeals from decisions of Deputy Commissioners; it should have the right to rotate referees and Deputy Commissioners if in its opinion it would be for the good of the service; it should have the power to fix all fees of lawyers and physicians; it, or a majority of its members, should have the power to try cases and to remove the trial from any person, if it believes the interests of justice demand it. Appeals from Deputy Commissioners' decisions should be made to this board and all appeals should be heard by the board within three months of the taking of the appeal and should be decided by the board within sixty days from its submission. The spirit of the Compensation Act is direct and summary action. This board should supply this spirit. All shades of opinion would be brought to the determination of matters before it, and its members should prevent the hearings in compensation matters becoming involved in other legalistic or medicinal niceties. We recommend that the members of this board be barred from engaging in other work and that the salary to be paid the members of this board be sufficient to enable them to devote whole time to the work. We recommend that appeals from this board be made directly to the Supreme Court.

Inasmuch as the Rehabilitation Bureau is essentially linked with the administration of the compensation law; that it is largely maintained by contributions from compensation insurance premiums and that rehabilitation of injured workmen should be the concern of the Labor Department, we recommend that the administration of the affairs of the Rehabilitation Bureau be placed under the control and management of the proposed industrial board.

STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS

We believe that there is an unintended distinction made in the present statute respecting the period of limitations of occupational diseases and other injuries. We recommend that the statute in all cases be two years.

TIME LIMIT FOR RENDERING DECISIONS

It is recommended that the law be amended or rules of procedure be adopted requiring all Deputy Commissioners to reach and file a decision in any matter heard by them within sixty days.

CORPORATIONS WITHOUT INSURANCE

We recommend that the law be amended to make the directors of any corporation against which a judgment has been returned in a compensation matter personally liable for the amount of said judgment and costs if it shall be found that said corporation does not carry insurance against injury to workmen, or which has not met the requirements of a self-insurer.

ATTORNEYS' FEES

We recommend that allowance to attorneys and physicians be regulated so as to secure to them fair compensation, having in mind that the proceedings are designed to be summary and simple. We recommend that the fees for attorneys should be allowed on the actual work done and not on amount involved, and that attorneys asking fees file affidavits of their work, itemizing their claim.

STENOGRAPHERS

We recommend that official stenographers be appointed for each Deputy Commissioner at an annual salary, and that the petitioner and defendant shall each pay the sum of $2.50 attendance fee in each case, such moneys to be paid to the Compensation Department.

EXECUTIONS

We recommend that the law be changed directing clerks of courts to issue executions and the sheriff of any county to proceed on such execution without costs except actual disbursements in any judgment founded on an award made by the Compensation Bureau. Our attention has been called to the fact that sheriffs of the various counties exact fees running as high as $50.00 before proceeding on executions. This is practically a denial of justice, because a man out of work and injured could hardly be expected to advance such a sum.

REPORTS

We recommend that the Board herein referred to shall annually make a report of the operations and workings of the Bureau, giving the statistics respecting the number of hearings of formal and informal character of claim, etc., heard and the amount of awards and the character of injuries for the preceding year to the Labor Commissioner for transmission to the Legislature, and such report shall also contain such recommendations as to changes necessary to effectively carry out the act.

CASHIER

We recommend that there be set up in the Labor Commissioner's office a cashier's department, which department shall receive all moneys collected by the Bureau and keep account of the same; that all commuted amounts shall be paid to said department, to be deposited by it in appropriate banks for safekeeping and said funds to be disbursed by check of the Labor Commissioner, as directed in the order of commutation.

PAYMENTS OVER $250.00

We recommend that in all cases where the amount due any injured workman is more than two hundred and fifty dollars ($250.00) the employer or carrier shall pay the total amount due such workman to the Labor Commissioner, who shall cause same to be disbursed directly to the injured workman through the cashier's department herein referred to. All allowances for counsel fee and physician's fee shall be disbursed directly to the person to whom such fee shall be awarded by the employer and carrier and not to any person for their benefit.

APPEALS

We recommend that, if the question whether or not the accident arose out of and in the course of the employment is not raised before the Deputy Commissioner, and an appeal is taken from the award, that in all such appeals the appellant shall state in his appeal the extent of his liability to the petitioner because of the accident and that during the pending of such appeal he shall make payments to the petitioner to the limit of such liability indicated by him, and such payments shall not affect his right to have the excess of the award made passed upon. If the question whether the accident arose out of and in the course of the employment is raised before the Deputy Commissioner and is a ground of appeal, the appellate tribunal shall find whether such ground is a debatable question or frivolous, and if found to be frivolous or if the amount of liability admitted by the defendant and paid during the pendency of the appeal is out of all proportion to the injury sustained, then such court shall add to the costs on appeal 10 per cent of the award to be paid to the petitioner, as well as expenses of appeal and counsel fees.

SERVICE ON FOREIGN FIRMS, ETC.

We recommend an amendment to the present law whereby any person, not a resident of this State, or any corporation not chartered by this State, or any nonresident firm or partnership who shall accept work in this State and who shall hire any person or persons to work for them or it on such work to be done in this State, shall by the acceptance of such work in this State constitute the Secretary of State his, her, their or its agent for the acceptance of process of the Workmen's Compensation Bureau for injuries to his, her, its or their employee or employees engaged on such work in the State of New Jersey, and the acceptance of work in the State of New Jersey shall be a signification of his, her, its or their agreement that any such process against his, her, its or them which is so served shall be of the same legal force and validity as if served upon him, her, it or them personally. And we further recommend that delivery of said summons shall follow the method outlined for the service of process on chauffeurs, etc., using the roads of New Jersey by Chapter 69, L. 1930.

RELATED LAWS

We recommend that, inasmuch as it is made a misdemeanor to be without insurance, the act (Chapter 187 of 1917) be amended to read in substance that if any employer is denied compensation insurance by any company operating in this State, then on application to the Insurance Rating Bureau, that Bureau shall determine if such applicant has complied with all the rules of the Labor Department and should receive insurance, that the Insurance Department shall compel such company as he shall direct to carry such risk. The right of any company to do business in this State should be predicated upon its fulfillment of this requirement.

The depression put many businesses to the test and among such businesses was the indemnity business. While many insurance companies have weathered the storm, some did not and their collapse brought with it untold misery. This Commission was compelled to listen to the most pathetic cases of men and women severely and permanently injured—some of them blind; many unable to ever work again; all with judgments rendered in their favor by the Compensation Board. Many will never realize a penny. They are the casualties of industry. This should not be permitted to happen again. We, therefore, recommend the amendment of the present insurance law or the adoption of a new law providing for the establishment of a fund to be deposited with the State Treasurer to insure the payment of claims in compensation against defunct, bankrupt and insolvent carriers. We suggest that a percentage of each premium be deposited with the State Treasurer each year until such fund shall equal 5 per cent of the total liability of carriers doing business in this State, when contributions shall cease. Such fund shall never be permitted to fall below 5 per cent of the outstanding liability of all carriers. If it should, contributions should at once resume; this fund to be known as "Insurance Carriers' Fund."

This recommendation, however, since its preparation by us, we are informed, has been adopted by the Legislature.

We likewise recommend that a similar fund shall be established to be known as "Self-Insurers' Fund." Self-insurers should be required to pay a percentage of a hypothetical insurance rate to be determined by the Insurance Rating Bureau, until such fund reaches 5 per cent of the outstanding liability of all self-insurers and to be maintained as the Insurance Carriers' Fund is. These funds should be kept separately and payments from each fund should be made only to liabilities of the members of the particular fund, and then only when the member is defunct, declared insolvent or in bankruptcy. These funds should not be considered as assets of the members of the funds and should not be reached by any process and should be only applicable to the purpose intended. Methods for the safe investment and safeguarding of the funds as well as the method of payment from the fund should be worked out.

LIABILITY OF THIRD PARTY

We believe that Chapter 279, Laws of 1931, should be amended to relieve an insurance carrier from the liability to make payments as an employer is now relieved under said act.

This Commission deeply regrets that it was not provided with any money whatever with which to hire clerical help or an attorney who could prepare legislation to carry out the intention of those recommendations, and for this reason the Commission must be content with merely submitting the report in its present form.

MINORITY REPORT OF CHARLES W. SCOTT, MEMBER WORK-MEN'S COMPENSATION INVESTIGATING COMMISSION

April 12, 1935.

To the Legislature of the State of New Jersey:

HONORABLE GENTLEMEN—It is with deep regret that I cannot concur with the Majority Report, in view of my profound esteem for their ability and assistance. I am quite definitely opposed to the so-called “free choice of medical treatment” as presented in the Majority Report. I fail to see the need for another noble experiment in these stressing times. Furthermore, that the Legislature of the State of New Jersey should keep a watchful eye on these experiments in the great State of New York. That they should not be unmindful of the fact that the trend of industry is to our State. Labor should be more interested in employment than any type of class legislation. The Workmen's Compensation Act in the State of New Jersey was enacted for the benefit of the injured employee and none other. The “Majority Report” proposes a medical panel of “authorized physicians” controlled by the medical societies who shall dictate who are “authorized” to do compensation work.

To permit free choice to the employee (who as a rule would not be qualified to judge the relative merits of the doctors) would merely open the door to solicitation (directly or indirectly) by physicians. Following, the only standards which would be used by injured employees would be the recommendations of “contact men,” “steerers,” some “union officials” and other interested chiselers.

“Free choice” involves three classes: (a) the injured workman, (b) the employer or the insurance carrier, (c) the physician. The injured workman is vitally concerned. The “free choice” provision of the Majority Report not only fails to be an advantage to any of the groups concerned, but to all three would be a distinct disadvantage. The greatest hardship would be at the expense of the injured workmen. A canvass of responsible labor officials who have had long and broad experience in compensation cases, indicate that “free choice” is against the best interests of the injured workman. In many instances the injured workman not only cannot read or speak English, but, due to lack of proper educational training, has little ability to think or act in his own best interest. It is an undeniable fact that less than 5 per cent. of all practicing physicians are competent to treat industrial accident and occupational disease cases. Industrial surgery is as much a specialty as that of orthopedics, Roentography and other various branches of medicine. Unlimited freedom to change physicians at the whim of the employee would tend to encourage the insidious practice of lifting cases, and solicitation. In effect this would prolong treatment and increase permanent injuries. It should not be overlooked that these alleged unethical physicians that we heard so much about are members in good standing, in their respective medical societies. I very definitely question whether there exist any medical societies or any board designated by a medical society which would be able, either from professional standpoint or as a matter of law, to specify the character of medical care which any physician is qualified to render.

We propose, as an alternative, that the employee shall have the right to make choice of his attending physician from a panel of physicians to be named by the employer. The minimum number of physicians required on such panel shall be fixed by the Department of Labor, by general rules, at not less than two or more than nine, taking into account the number of competent physicians available in the communities in which the medical service is required. In such panel partners or clinics shall count as one panel physician. Physicians on such panel shall be authorized to refer cases requiring special treatment, to specialists, clinics or hospitals of their own selection, at the expense of the employer. For good cause shown, the Department, in any case or at any time, may order a change of treatment or physician.

On August 1st, 1933, a commission was appointed to make a study and survey of the operation of the Workmen's Compensation Act in New Jersey. This commission was created under Senate Joint Resolution No. 25 to study the Workmen's Compensation Law.

The following members were appointed by his Excellency the Governor, A. Harry Moore. Said committee comprising the following members: Andrew F. McBride, M. D., Senator Charles E. Loizeaux and Senator Blase Cole, Assemblyman Fred W. Fort, Assemblyman Clarence A. Ward,

Mr. John Dowd, Mr. Charles W. Scott, Mr. Arthur Walsh, Mr. Aloysius McMahon.

On or about May 1st, 1933, the Newark Ledger began a series of articles on Workmen's Compensation and continued daily for over a period of six weeks. Charges of alleged fraud and "racket" appeared from time to time in the newspaper. The Legislature was finally in the last analysis criticized in their futile effort to amend the act from time to time by piece-meal legislation.

In the course of this investigation many hearings were held and general invitations were extended to various organizations and individuals to appear and give testimony of any matters which might assist in a complete inquiry of the subject matter. It was also made known that upon request hearings would be granted in private. Among those who appeared are the following: The New Jersey Federation of Labor, the Association of Industrial Employers of New Jersey, the Self Insurer's Association of New Jersey, the Association of Casualty Insurance Executives, members of the local county bar association, members of the local medical association, the New Jersey Claim Association, the Commissioner of the Department of Labor, Deputy Commissioners of the Compensation Bureau, statisticians of the Department of Labor.

In the light of the information which we have gathered, the conclusion is inescapable that there existed a condition which justified much of the criticism directed at the administration of the Department, particularly in respect to Northern New Jersey.

The State of New Jersey was one of the first States to enact the Workmen's Compensation Law. Its law has been in effect for more than 20 years. It is significant that in New Jersey there was first set up in the Compensation Law a system of court procedure in controverted cases. Later, by amendment, the court system was abandoned and the Workmen's Compensation Bureau clothed with exclusive, original jurisdiction of all compensation claims. From the beginning, the New Jersey law provided a plan whereby injured employees or employers or insurance carriers might agree as to compensation benefits due in any case subject to the approval of the bureau. The law also imposed on the bureau the duty of endeavoring to bring about amicable adjustments of all claims where employees and employers or insurance carriers, had not been filed with the bureau within 21 days of the date of injury. It also provides that the Bureau may of its own initiative, with the consent of the employee, file a petition for compensation on behalf of the employee. This latter provision clearly indicates the legislative intent to remove from the operations of the law all obstacles which would tend to delay unduly the payment of compensation to the injured workman, and make unnecessary the employment of legal services for the protection of the employee's rights. To further aid in the prompt and equitable adjustment of claims where an agreement is not immediately made between the employee and the employer, the Bureau has provided a system of informal hearings. The intent is that where any disagreement exists the employee and the employer and insurance carrier may sit in with an acting referee at such informal hearings and amicably iron out their disagreement. Where the parties cannot agree among themselves, or at an informal hearing, they have recourse to a formal hearing at which evidence is introduced by both sides in a more or less formal manner and on completion of the evidence a decision is made by the deputy commissioner. The law provides that at a formal hearing the deputy commissioner may in his discretion award counsel fees, within certain limitations, to the petitioner's counsel in addition to compensation and may also award fees to the petitioner's medical witnesses, in addition to the foregoing, subject to certain limitations. It is also provided that employers or carriers shall be represented by members of the bar at such formal hearings. Certain other provisions of the New Jersey law have had some part in bringing about conditions which have resulted in much of the criticism directed at the law and its administration. It is generally conceded that there is nothing drastically wrong with the fundamental structure of the New Jersey Workmen's Compensation Law, but because of unsound application of some of its provisions, together with the weakness in its administration, abuses have crept in and have been allowed to carry to a point where conditions exist which to a large extent, justify much of the criticism directed at the law and its administration.

EXISTING ABUSES, THEIR CAUSES AND ADMINISTRATIVE REMEDIES SUGGESTED

One of the primary causes for much dissatisfaction with the New Jersey Compensation Law and its administration has been the steadily increasing cost of compensation claims which has reached the point where it is an unbearable burden on industry. This has been caused by the liberality of those administering the law. In New Jersey it has been the practice to allow excessive fees to both medical and legal professions. There is evidence before this Commission that certain members of both the medical and legal profession regularly inhabit the rooms of the bureau and openly solicit cases. Furthermore, there is evidence before this Commission that acting-referees and deputy commissioners of the Bureau have recommended that petitioners with whom they come in contact at hearings secure the service of attorneys, some of the attorneys so recommended being of the same group which infest the Bureau. Obviously the potential possibilities for fraud and maladministration lies in this particular abuse.

In the course of our investigation we were impressed by a very definite laxity of the administration, which shows itself in objectionable attitudes rather than in specific acts. This laxity is contributed to by carriers and their representatives as well as by the employees of the Department and petitioner's attorney. It shows itself in an easy familiarity. The hearing representatives of insurance carriers appear to be on very friendly terms with the deputy commissioners and the referees and in many instances opposing counsel. Some hearing representatives, moreover, appear before the Department of Labor in behalf of petitioners against other carriers. While this familiarity and consorting together do not evidence wrong doing, it goes without saying that this creates an atmosphere that might be well called suspicious. From the testimony submitted it is our belief that the records of the Department of Labor should be closely guarded and no information disclosed without proper authorization.

It is the thought of those well versed in the Workmen's Compensation Act that the entire statute should be rewritten in view of the interpretations of the Court of Errors and Appeals and also the Supreme Court, which has literally shot holes into it. Manifestly this is too much to be expected and I therefore submit the following recommendations:

PROCEDURE

1. Abolish the so-called informal hearings. It is not provided for in the statute.

2. The determination and settlement of compensation by agreement between employer or his carrier and the employee with full approval of agreement by the Workmen's Compensation Bureau should be encouraged to the fullest possible extent. The Bureau would be in possession of the status of each claim by having the carrier or employer furnish them with designated forms advising them as follows: when payment begins and ceases. A controverted notice, indicating their reason for not paying compensation. This could be worked out with the forms that are now in use provided that the carrier or the employer were promptly advised of any delinquency in the filing of same. To further aid the bureau there should be two types of medical forms not required by a department rule but by amendment to the act. This report being mandatory in all compensation cases and if not filed within 20 days, the physician would have no claim for services rendered. One of these reports should be used exclusively for eye injuries, and designed accordingly.

In lieu of the informal hearings where the parties in interest could not get together they would have the opportunity of consulting with an individual in the Department of Labor for a conference to adjudicate the matter. He would take the place of the acting referee, not in the sense of a judge or in the surroundings of a court room, and he would be known either as a claim adjustment clerk, claims examiner, supervisor or some such title that would eliminate the impression particularly with the claimant, of court proceedings. The duties of this claim supervisor aside from holding informal conferences would be to supervise claims in his district other than formal hearing cases. This supervision would consist of obtaining the necessary forms promptly in order to complete cases without necessary hearings. Inexpensive file clerks would be assigned to this duty in units of 15 clerks with one supervising claim examiner to see that this work was properly administered.

The Bureau would have request forms to the carrier and self-insurers, to remind them where and when they have failed to file the necessary forms. These forms in the files of the Bureau would constitute a record of the case and thus eliminate many questions of fact that may arise long after the employer has ceased to exist. It is a well known fact that some of the carriers have abused the informal hearing procedure in that they used it as an investigation bureau rather than a means for an agreement settlement for their claim work.

3. That portion of Section 17, Chapter 149, Laws of 1918, relating to discretion vested in an official conducting any hearing to assess cost for attorneys or doctors should be eliminated. This is one of the sources of trouble, and when allowance is made to either an attorney or doctor it is assessed against either the employer or claimant, or both, and takes the form of added and unnecessary expense. If either party wishes to appear with his respective attorney, it should be at his respective cost.

THE LAW ITSELF

It is my understanding that a committee is engaged on the recodification of the Workmen's Compensation Act. It is both commendable and desirable. At present the "act" is confusingly distributed in many separate acts. It would be helpful if the various sections correlated with each other could be brought together. Since the occupational disease section of the law has been enlarged over recent years, might I suggest to the committee engaged in recodifying that it would be helpful, if the compensation plan for occupational diseases could be set up as a separate act, thus making it distinct from accidental injuries.

ADDITIONAL RECOMMENDATIONS

1. Paragraph 11(a) should be amended so as to provide for a presumption that the temporary disability has ended when the injured individual has ceased to apply for medical treatment or is no longer indicated.

2. Paragraph 11, Section 2, Chapter 95, Laws of 1911, should be amended so as to include an expense period for temporary partial disability with a monetary limit.

(a) There should be another amendment to this paragraph providing that no award for permanent partial disability until termination of the healing period; i.e., until the maximum degree of recovery has been reached. Furthermore, before a finding can be made medical evidence should show a definite functional disability and that compensation for partial loss should be awarded only for actual reduction in earning capacity.

(b) In addition, the paragraph should provide that where permanent partial disability results in the loss of use or partial loss of use of two or more members not coming under subdivision (v), compensation should be based on each member severally and not a percentage of total disability.

(c) Subdivision (w) of the same paragraph should be amended so as to clearly set out the intentions of the Legislature. In such other cases as it has in mind at the moment, this paragraph is most confusing and leads to many unnecessary controversies which could be avoided on a clear expression of the intent.

3. Paragraph 12, Section 2, should be amended to provide that death must result within one year from the accident, or follow continuous disability and result within 5 years from the date of the accident.

4. Paragraph 12, subdivision (g), should be amended or reframed, setting out clearly that dependents other than children of a then existing marriage not be entitled to compensation, unless the relationship to the deceased giving right to compensation shall be proved to have existed at the time of the accident.

5. Paragraph 14, Section 2, should be amended in order to fix a time limit on application for extended medical benefits.

6. Paragraph 15 should be amended by substituting the word "accident" for the words "occurrence of the injury."

7. Paragraph 21 should be amended to empower the bureau to approve with its discretion final settlements in a compromise of doubtful claims, and the bureau should have authority to authorize lump sum settlements in cases involving neurosis.

8. Paragraph 23, subdivision (f), relates to subrogation. Recent decisions abrogate the necessity for any comment.

9. Paragraph 23, subdivision (g), should be amended to prevent the benefits of compensation for disability from exceeding probable wage loss because of the injury. Furthermore, in a case of aggravation of a pre-existing injury or disease, the compensation allowed shall be only to the extent of such aggravation.

10. Section 19, Chapter 149, Laws of 1918, now provides only for an appeal if an accident occurs within the State, since the law has been declared extraterritorial an amendment should be added to improve this. In this same connection there should be a provision for a final limitation in litigation; i.e., if a judgment is entered by the Court of Common Pleas, such judgment shall have precedence over the jurisdiction of the Bureau.

11. Paragraph 23, subdivision (e), should be amended by eliminating the following sentence: The receipt of benefits from any association, society, or fund to which the employee shall have been a contributor shall not bar the recovery of damages by action at law or recovery of compensation under section 2 thereof.

12. Amend the Act: Workmen, when not entitled. If an employee, at the time of hiring wilfully and falsely represents in writing that he has not previously suffered from the disease which is the cause of disability or death, no compensation shall be payable.

13. The act should be amended to penalize any false representation, as follows: If for the purpose of obtaining any benefit or payment under provisions of this act, either for himself or any other person, any person wilfully makes a false statement or representation, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

14. An amendment prohibiting deputy commissioners from making awards in cases that do not come within the scope of the act.

15. Amend the act that no percentage awards on a basis of total disability as prescribed under section 2, paragraph 11, subdivision (w), be awarded unless there is a disability affecting the capacity of the injured.

16. As the act now stands, any offer of compromise is not acceptable and is not admitted in evidence. This decision nullifies the Laws of 1918, Chapter 149, subdivision (17). Consequently no credit is given for a fee when already allowed; meaning a case reopened and therefor the 20 per cent maximum fee of the award is not recognized.

17. The act should be amended to read that the word "employer" wherever used in the act shall be construed to include the insurance carrier wherever equitable.

18. Amend the act that no decision should be reserved for longer than 30 days, which shall be deemed to constitute a reasonable time. In this connection the rules should be amended that on failure on the part of the deputy commissioner to comply with this provision, it shall be the duty of said commissioner to report directly to the commissioner of the Department of Labor all the facts and circumstances, together with his explanation for such failure to make the required decision within the prescribed time limit.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES W. SCOTT.

MINORITY REPORT OF ARTHUR WALSH, MEMBER WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION INVESTIGATING COMMISSION

April 15, 1935.

To the Legislature of the State of New Jersey:

Despite my unqualified respect for the sincerity and ability of the other members of the Workmen's Compensation Investigating Commission, I am unwilling to approve the "Majority Report" that is being submitted herewith to the Legislature of the State of New Jersey for the following reasons:

1. The deficiencies, flaws and inadequacies in the operation of the present Workmen's Compensation Act of New Jersey have largely disappeared since our Investigating Commission first met and organized in October, 1933. It is my opinion that the great improvement has been due in part to the salutary effect produced by the mere existence of such an Investigating Commission and in larger part to the present efficient administration of the Workmen's Compensation Bureau.

2. I am opposed to the proposed Industrial Board of five full-time salaried men as recommended in the "Majority Report," because I do not believe that such an Industrial Board would accomplish enough to justify saddling the taxpayer with this additional burden. Instead of a paid Industrial Board I recommend that the Legislature appoint another Commission, similar to ours, of men who will serve without pay and who will represent Employers, Insurance Carriers, Medicine, Law and Labor and who will meet as often as necessary to investigate questionable practices of the Workmen's Compensation Bureau should such practices again develop.

3. (a) It is my opinion that the injured or diseased worker should have some right to the selection of his own doctor, but I am principally concerned with having the injured or diseased worker receive competent medical care. I believe that the method proposed in the "Majority Report" is likely to produce a number of "ambulance chasing" doctors and that injured or diseased workers will find themselves in incompetent medical hands more often than if the employer selects the doctors for them. Frankly, I dread seeing unethical doctors directly or indirectly soliciting business in the industrial plants of this State, because the trusting workman will frequently select the "high pressure" doctor who knows how to sell rather than the competent doctor who will give him proper treatment.

(b) As an alternative I propose that the injured or diseased worker shall have the right to choose his own doctor from a panel of doctors to be selected by the employer. However, all such doctors must be certified and approved by the Medical Society of New Jersey as capable physicians and surgeons before they can be placed on the employer's panel. The minimum number of doctors required on each employer's panel shall be fixed by the Department of Labor, through the establishment of general rules, at not less than five or more than twenty-five, taking into consideration the number of competent doctors available in the communities in which the medical service is required. Then, when a worker is injured or afflicted with an occupational disease and prefers to select his own doctor, the employer can hand to him the list of doctors which have been approved by the Medical Society of New Jersey. In this way the employer will be reasonably sure that the injured worker will find himself in competent medical hands, and this plan should give a freedom of choice sufficient to satisfy any injured worker. Under this proposed plan, doctors on each employer's panel shall be authorized to refer cases, requiring special treatment, to specialists, clinics or hospitals of their own selection, at the expense of the employer.

This report is based solely upon my personal convictions and is not to be interpreted as representing the opinions of all manufacturers and employers in this State.

REPORT OF FACT-FINDING COMMITTEE OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY FOR THE STATE OF NEW JERSEY

ASSEMBLY RESOLUTION
STATE OF NEW JERSEY

Introduced March 4, 1935, by Mr. Young

A resolution appointing a special committee to investigate and inquire into the necessity, if any, of the imposition of new taxes on personal or corporation incomes and/or the imposition of new taxes for the privilege of selling tangible personal property at retail.

Be It Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

1. Pursuant to the powers conferred upon the General Assembly by the Constitution of the State of New Jersey and the laws of this State, that the Speaker of the General Assembly be and he is hereby authorized and empowered to appoint a special committee of five persons to investigate and inquire into possible economies which may be effectuated in the various departments of the State government and as to the necessity, if any, of the imposition of new taxes on personal or corporation incomes and/or the imposition of new taxes for the privilege of selling tangible personal property at retail, said special committee to report its findings to the General Assembly within eight weeks of the adoption of this resolution.

2. Said special committee shall have power to select a secretary and legal, clerical and other necessary assistants.

3. 4. Said special committee shall for the purposes of said investigation and inquiry be vested with all the powers and authority conferred upon the General Assembly by the Constitution and laws of the State of New Jersey, to the extent that may be expedient or necessary for the purposes of this resolution, and also all the powers and authority of a standing committee of the House of Assembly.

5. In lieu of providing for a direct appropriation to cover any expenditures that might be necessary by such investigating committee, the House of Assembly directs and requests any State agency, board or department to furnish such necessary assistance and help of whatsoever nature as may be necessary in order to carry out the purport of this resolution.

6. This resolution shall take effect immediately.

Committee appointed by Lester H. Clee, Speaker:

HERBERT J. PASCOE, Union County, Chairman,
JOHN J. RAFFERTY, Middlesex County,
RALPH D. DECAMP, Essex County,
FRANK S. KELLEY, Morris County,
J. PARNELL THOMAS, Bergen County.

To the Members of the General Assembly:

Your special committee on economies and fact finding, appointed pursuant to resolution adopted March 4, 1935, herewith submit their report:

In our deliberations we have kept ever before us the thought that the people of our State demand economies in cost of government before new taxes are imposed.

Notwithstanding, that not one department head or employee of the State volunteered active assistance to the committee, nor indicated to us voluntarily how the cost of State government might be reduced, and the further fact that we found it difficult, due to a marked decentralization of authority and operation in departmental affairs, to get full data on several of the subjects we studied, your committee members have applied themselves diligently and earnestly to the problem at hand.

There are two distinct problems involved. Emergency Relief which should be treated as an emergency. The Federal government in providing for emergency relief only to June 30, 1936, has considered it an emergency. Our neighboring States likewise have made emergency provisions for emergency relief. The other subject is relief to real estate which is more permanent in character and should be so dealt with.

(1) Our plan proposes savings and sound adjustments of certain revenues, a total of approximately $20,000,000.00 for the current year, with $14,600,000.00 of this amount recurring items making such sum available for relief purposes so long as the necessity may require.

Included in our plan is the diversion of certain motor vehicle moneys to the more urgent use of emergency relief. The diversion of motor vehicle moneys is not new. The people of New Jersey established this principle in 1930 when they approved the $100,000,000.00 bond issue. This proposed bond issue included $10,000,000.00 for an institutional building program and $7,000,000.00 for water purposes. These latter two items were to be serviced from gas tax moneys.

The people of New Jersey have reiterated their approval of such diversion of motor vehicle moneys on two separate occasions since. In 1932, they approved the diversion of $20,000,000.00 of highways bonds to emergency relief and continued the plan to service these bonds from gas tax receipts. Again in 1933, $5,000,000.00 additional of the highway bonds were diverted to emergency relief and the $7,000,000.00 of water bonds were diverted to pay teachers' back salaries, and in each instance the services on these two items were to be paid from gas tax.

Your committee, therefore, in their recommendation is only continuing the principle established and reapproved by the people in public referendums.

The principle of using taxes for the benefit solely of the interests paying the tax has never been the policy of any government. Rather, the generally adopted principle has been to use taxes in the broader sense that all taxes are for the general good.

By way of illustration we cite: Today, we collect taxes on alcoholic beverages, yet the proceeds of this tax are not used to build breweries and distilleries to make liquor cheaper for the consumer. Likewise, in the case of the property tax, the revenue thus collected is not used to improve the individual property upon which the tax is paid, but it is used for the general cost of government for the benefit of the many.

EMERGENCY RELIEF

Reviewing this subject we find the cost of emergency relief has increased rapidly in the recent months until today we are paying out in excess of $7,000,000.00 per month. The Federal Government has requested New Jersey to provide $2,000,000.00 per month to this expense.

(2) According to the Congressional Record of February 22, 1935, the Federal Government had for the period of twenty-one months ending September 30, 1934, assumed 55.6 per cent of the cost of New Jersey's relief load. From the same record we note many other States of the Union had received from the Federal Government from 92 per cent to 98 per cent of their relief requirements. This indicates discrimination against New Jersey. This fact is more pronounced when we realize that the people of New Jersey pay into the Federal Treasury over $96,000,000.00 in taxes annually. Of this amount there was returned to New Jersey in various forms, including emergency relief, a total of $52,000,000.00 for year ending June 30, 1934.

In view of the above figures, your committee strongly urged the Governor to ask the Federal Emergency Relief Administration for a more equitable consideration in the distribution of emergency relief assistance comparable with that accorded other States, keeping in mind the heavy contribution in taxes the people of New Jersey are making to the Federal Government. It is the thought of the committee that in view of the above facts, New Jersey should not be asked to contribute more than $1,000,000.00 per month toward emergency relief.

The urgency of such readjustment is further emphasized by the fact that to raise our proportion we are confronted with the necessity of imposing new and additional taxes upon our people who are now overburdened and from whom the Federal Government is taking such heavy contribution.

Also, we have in New Jersey some one hundred and twenty-five municipalities that have defaulted in whole or in part upon their municipal obligations, or are using scrip to pay their debts. The imposition of new and additional taxes at this time will surely aggravate this serious financial situation.

Your committee have also urged upon the State Emergency Relief officials that they take immediate action to remove from relief rolls all those who are improperly thereon, and that the cost of administering relief be reduced. All worthy needy must be provided for, but the emergency relief must not be made the haven for those able to help themselves.

The State being such a heavy contributor to the cost of emergency relief, we recommend that the State Treasurer and Comptroller exercise a closer supervision over the expenditures and accounting of the emergency relief operation.

ECONOMIES INCLUDING ADJUSTED REVENUES

The annual appropriation bill not having been submitted to the Legislature, your committee have based their finding upon the authorized items in the Governor's budget message.

(3) Highways: The system of State Highways having reached the point where it is generally conceded that a cessation of new construction with State funds might easily be arranged without detriment to either the interests of the people or the highway system, we have come to an agreement with Col. Foran and Major Sloan, of the Highway Department, that by placing their department on a modified construction basis only, for the current year they can return to the general fund of the State about $4,325,000.00 from motor fees and gas tax receipts.

This saving of State funds will not necessarily throw out of work a large force of present employees, because under the plan of the Federal Government now in process of enactment by Congress, New Jersey will receive some $8,000,000.00 for highway and grade crossing elimination work. With this Federal money there will be increases in force, with a certain reduction in our relief load. Our plan also avoids the issuance of $11,500,000.00 of highway bonds, with an annual saving of $625,000.00 in interest and amortization charges.

(4) Old Age Pensions: This item is included in the budget, but has during the present year been paid out of emergency relief funds. Since these benefactors of the State would be on emergency relief were they not receiving old age assistance, they should continue to be paid from emergency relief funds, thus relieving the general expenses of the State of $1,800,000.00.

(5) State Employee Salaries: Since wages in industry have not risen to predepression scale and the restoration of salary deductions to State employees has tended to embarrass county and municipal officials who have not been able to restore salary cuts to their employees, we recommend that the salaries of the State employees be reduced, effective at once, on a graduated scale of from 1 per cent to 20 per cent. This will effect an annual saving of $700,000.00 and reduce the appropriation asked for by Rutgers by $50,000.00, total saving $750,000.00.

(6) General State Expenses: The reluctance of department heads to volunteer to reduce their department expenses, including personnel, and the further fact that the number of State employees is one thousand more than in 1930, and since the people are no better able to pay their taxes now than they were in 1930, we recommend a flat reduction of ten per cent in the appropriation to the respective departments; the manner of applying the reduction to be left to the department heads.

This will apply on all items except debt service on emergency relief bonds being serviced from alcoholic beverage receipts, contribution to pension funds, moneys returned to counties from the railroad tax, leaving a net amount of $27,912,458.81; saving $2,791,245.00.

(7) Sinking Fund: The sinking fund for the State Highway Road and Bridge Bonds having accumulated a surplus over a period of years which today amounts to some $5,500,000.00, the Treasurer representing the Sinking Fund Commission agreed with your committee that they would not certify the sum of $2,987,000.00 toward the amortization account in this sinking fund for the current year. This will make this amount available for emergency relief.

(8) Port of New York Authority: The State of New Jersey in conjunction with the State of New York advanced to the Port of New York Authority $4,500,000.00 for the construction of the George Washington Bridge over the Hudson river, pursuant to provisions of Chapter six, Laws of New Jersey, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six.

The Port Authority have proposed to the State of New Jersey a plan whereby this claim can be adjusted, which is embodied in House of Assembly Bill No. 386 of this year. The basis is immediate payment of $2,500,000.00 in Port Authority bonds with interest.

Your committee recommend that this proposal be accepted by New Jersey that this amount be made available for emergency relief.

(9) Education: New Jersey is supporting six schools training students for the teaching profession. Statistics presented by Dr. Elliott, Commissioner of Education, indicated that there are about two thousand (2,000) graduates of our Normal Schools, for the past three years, who were still without a teaching position. There are about 2,800 students enrolled and the graduates will average eight hundred (800) annually. The 2,800 students can be accommodated in four of the present schools without discomfort. With a reduction of some thirteen hundred (1,300) regularly employed teachers in our public schools today, the chances of those already graduated or now in school, getting employment soon is very remote.

We recommend that the Commissioner of Education be instructed to arrange for the closing of two of the State Normal Schools at the close of the present term, the schools to be closed to be determined by him. Saving $150,000.00.

(10) Rents: The State pays some $300,000.00 per year for rentals of outside offices and buildings. In only two instances have any reductions in rent been obtained during the depression. These were in the Trenton Trust Building, in Trenton, and the office of the Real Estate Commission, in Jersey City.

We find several departments handling these rentals, although most of them are handled by the State House Commission.

In view of the general reduction in rents throughout the State, we recommend that immediate request be made by the proper parties for a 25 per cent reduction in rents, with a saving of $70,000.00 per year.

We also recommend that all rentals be handled through one central source, either the State House Commission or the Comptroller, and that due consideration be given to securing the most economical arrangements possible.

An outstanding instance of lack of proper co-ordination and co-operation between State departments is to be found in the City of Trenton. Some two years ago when the new Normal School was completed at Hiltonia, the old Normal School on North Clinton avenue, Trenton, was abandoned and the activities transferred to the new school. There is in this property one section which was adaptable for office use, yet the property was permitted to go to rack and ruin, at the same time the State was paying $70,000.00 per year in rentals for office space in other parts of the city.

An investigation of the Clinton avenue property develops that some 17,000 square feet of floor space is available for offices by the expenditure of $21,000.00 for repairs. We can accommodate in this space offices now costing the State about $45,000.00 per year. Allowing for cost of upkeep and service a saving to the State after the first year of about $35,000.00 would result.

The rates paid for office space in Trenton also indicate a wide variation. Space in one building can be had for $1.038 per square foot, whereas just across the street the rates run as high as $2.759 per square foot. If in selecting the space to be used some consideration of the taxpayers' interest had been used, more reasonable rentals might have been realized.

(11) Engineering: We found many departments of the State with separate engineering staffs, all doing similar class of engineering work. The State Highway has the most extensive staff on general road and bridge work. The Public Utility Commission have ten in their engineering department on grade crossing elimination work. The Delaware River Bridge Commission have an engineer paid partly by New Jersey and part by Pennsylvania. Other departments having small engineering staffs include: Fish and Game, Conservation and Development, Commerce and Navigation, Water Policy. The Institutions and Agencies have a larger staff on architectural work. All of these do somewhat similar work.

There are about 278 persons involved, receiving $650,000.00 per year in salaries. These could be concentrated into one force in charge of a Chief Engineer, divided into subdepartments, providing greater efficiency, elimination of duplication of effort, with a saving of at least $65,000.00 per year.

(12) Institutions: As is general in depression periods, the inmates of our correctional and other institutions have increased, which, together with the higher cost of living, has materially increased this phase of our State obligations.

By establishment of more efficient statewide probation activities as proposed at the recent crime conferences, a saving of about $250,000.00 per year can be effected by reason of reduced commitments to our institutions.

Of the remaining portion of the institutional construction program, Commissioner Ellis agreed with the committee that he could defer a total of $1,000,000.00 without serious detriment upon the institutions. This will save issuance of this amount of bonds, with a total annual saving of $60,000.00 for service charges.

(13) Insurance: The handling of insurance on State property is so decentralized that your committee have not been able to get from any one source a complete statement of the insurance carried on behalf of the State. Most departments place insurance of one kind or another. The Department of Education places insurance on their properties, using a Trenton broker for the purpose. The State House Commission handles insurance for armories, institution buildings, etc. They have a young man doing this work on a commission basis. He is paid from the commission of 20 per cent or 25 per cent allowed to the broker, by the insurance company. From the best information possible, the State pays annually $175,000.00 for insurance. We make the following recommendation:

Establish in either the Comptroller's or Secretary of State's office an insurance agent whose duty it will be to handle all insurance for every department of the State government, including fire, tornado, theft, auto, compensation, etc. Group insurance should be resorted to where more economical, but at all times the best coverage at the lowest rates should be secured. Saving $30,000 annually.

(14) Automobiles: Practically every State Department has State-owned and operated automobiles. Here, again, complete data is not available without detailed check of each department. It is estimated that over one hundred such cars are in use in Trenton alone. They are garaged at several points. The expense is enormous. Your committee are agreed that a marked savings can be made if all these State cars were to be housed at one or more centrally located garages and placed under a dispatcher, who should keep an accurate check of their use. No car to be allowed out except on order of the head of department, in writing. This will eliminate personal use of State cars at State expense. Rough estimate of annual saving $30,000.00.

Consideration should also be given to erection of large garage on State property, to avoid garage rental. It is also recommended that small and less expensive cars would effect a saving, both as to original cost and maintenance.

(15) Miscellaneous Recommendations for Economy Without Impairing Service: In conferring with the various departments and reviewing their activities, your committee have concluded the following economies can be effected without impairing the efficiency of the services rendered:

	SAVINGS
(a) Combine the Commission for Marking Historical Sites with Department of Conservation and Development	$3,000 00
(b) Steps be started at once to abolish the Delaware River Toll Bridge Commission and put this under Highways	5,000 00
(c) Commissioner of Aviation be placed in office of Militia, where they have an Aviation Department The clerical work of the Commissioner to be absorbed by present staff	1,200 00
(d) Civil Service Commission be made nonsalaried, same as many other equally active Commissions	18,000.00
(e) Custodian of State House and Superintendent of Annex be combined	4,000 00
(f) Confidential Clerk in office of Secretary of State abolished.	3,700.00
(g) Legislative printing—Use cheaper paper; no reprints to be made of bills where no amendments are made to original bill, printing the title of bills only once in minutes, confining minutes to recording only House and Senate action, eliminating all details of communications except from Governor and such as are specifically ordered included by the respective bodies Saving about	25,000 00
(h) Balance in cattle account of Department of Agriculture be recaptured this year instead of next year	75,000 00
(i) Since the Department of Purchases has operated successfully for several months under the supervision of Deputy, a new Purchasing Agent be named and position of Deputy be dropped	5,000 00
(j) Same for Department of Motor Vehicles	5,000 00
(k) Board of Health lapses of this year be recaptured this year.	13,000 00
(l) Legislation put into effect for more efficient system of probation in counties, institutional savings	250,000.00
(m) Estimated increases in gas tax for next year due to increased gas tax in adjoining States	500,000 00

ADJUSTED REVENUES

(16) Gas Tax Exemptions: New Jersey is one of the few States in the Union allowing such varied exemptions to the gas tax. The exemptions to buses operated intra-state represents 21.4 per cent of the total exemptions and those to agriculturalists 5.8 per cent or a total of 27.2 per cent, which might very properly be recaptured. If these were eliminated from our present exemptions the gas tax collections would be increased by about $1,500,000.00 per year. The Federal gas tax includes these items which is a basis for our including them also.

Several checks have been made by the State Tax Department which indicate the farmers are generally violating this exemption. Of a total of 491 inspections 484 admitted violations of the act and paid the tax without question.

As to the intrastate buses. They pay a 5 per cent gross receipts tax divided between the communities through which operated on a prorated mileage basis. When depression times come and receipts fall off the buses get an automatic decrease in their tax, yet they continue to use the same streets which adjoining property holders must keep in repair for their use.

The property holder has not enjoyed any reduction in taxes notwithstanding his income has also decreased.

(17) Trucks: New Jersey has built miles of improved highways. The trucks are using them freely. The rates charged for truck licenses in New Jersey are much lower than those charged for same class of truck in adjoining States. The maximum rate for a truck of 30,000 pounds gross weight in New Jersey is only $99.00 whereas the same truck in Pennsylvania pays $225.00.

Based on increasing rates on trucks in New Jersey to those now applying in Pennsylvania and applying this to trucks of 15,000 pounds and over the increased revenue would be $800,000.00 per year.

Many other States, including Pennsylvania, are now considering increasing their rates or going on a mileage basis.

(18) Interstate Buses: New Jersey now collects from interstate buses about \$79,000.00 per year on a rate of $\frac{1}{2}c$ per bus mile on New Jersey highways. By increasing this rate to $1\frac{1}{2}c$ per bus mile the revenue would be increased about \$160,000.00 per annum. A refund could be allowed on all gas tax paid in New Jersey and the same net revenue would be obtained.

(19) Board of Tax Appeals: This board has received about 15,000 appeals on tax assessments this year. One person presented about 600 from one small municipality. Since every citizen has his right of appeal to the county board without cost it is proposed in an effort to make this department self-sustaining, that a fee of $5.00 be charged, same to accompany the appeal. Increased revenue allowing for reduction in number of appeals, $50,000.00.

(20) Pulaski Highway: In keeping with the recommendation of the Princeton Survey, your committee also recommend a system of tolls for the Pulaski Highway. This is a most expensive structure. It is agreed by the Attorney-General that the allocation of Federal funds to this structure can be overcome by due process.

Plans should be immediately instituted to place a toll of 10c each way on cars using this highway. Since trucks are not allowed on the bridge the collection of this tax would be facilitated. Possible new revenue per annum, $1,000,000.00.

Your committee concur in the thought that all department heads should be full-time employees. This would permit of reduction in number of deputies. By proper efficiency among the employees, other decreases in personnel would be possible and substantial economies could be obtained. The limited time at our disposal and having no appropriation to employ assistance to make detailed checks, we have not been able to effectuate these reductions.

We, therefore, recommend that a committee consisting possibly of one efficiency expert, one certified public accountant, one professor of Princeton University, who helped in preparation of the Princeton Survey, and a trained business or industrial executive, be employed and given jurisdiction under immediate supervision of the Commissioner of Finance, to continue the work we have started, to the end that the cost of State government might finally be reduced to a basis where the taxpayer will be assured that every dollar of his money is being wisely spent.

With the economies and adjusted revenues in effect as recommended, it will not be necessary to impose new taxes in New Jersey for emergency relief. Furthermore, there may be a balance dependent upon the amount of reduction allowed by the Federal Relief Authorities on our quota toward emergency relief costs.

RELIEF TO REAL ESTATE

The total State budget for the year 1935-36, including highways is $69,605,883.00. Included in these figures are $14,800,000.00 for debt service, $6,500,000.00 for pensions and $16,500,000.00 for institutions and educational purposes. The balance is about $31,805,883.00. There is not the opportunity, therefore, to effect savings sufficient to meet the joint requirements of both emergency relief and relief to real estate estimated to total $37,000,000.00 without serious impairment of essential service.

The proposal to provide relief to real estate through new forms of taxes will give so little relief, on a total municipal budget of over $230,000,000.00 per year, as to be ineffective and temporary.

Such a proposal would give not more than $16.00 per year relief in his taxes to the average property holder with an assessed valuation of $5,000.00, while a 2 per cent sales tax, as proposed, would take from him in new taxes $20.00 per thousand dollars spent. Instead of relief the property holder, including the home owner, would have a greater tax load.

Merely to transfer the cost of government from the municipality to the State government is false relief. The people want less taxes, not more taxes. The kind of relief the overburdened taxpayer needs must be both substantial and permanent. It can only be had when the local municipal officials will make a determined and sincere effort to reduce the cost of their local government by eliminating all non-essentials, frills and fads which have associated themselves throughout prosperous times with our governmental life.

We must return to the plain fundamentals of government. We must have real effective bond and budget acts that actually restrict municipal spending. By refunding outstanding high interest-bearing municipal bonds at lower rates, as now prevail in the bond market, we can materially reduce the debt load which today represents about 45 per cent of the municipal expense.

Real relief to real estate can be accomplished with the adoption of the foregoing municipal program. Such relief will be definite and it will last so long as the people continue to interest themselves in their government and its costs.

New Jersey meeting its present needs without any new taxes will be an exception among the States of the Union. She will thereby attract unto herself new population and new industries that will give new sources of revenue and will awaken in our people a stronger pride in their citizenship within our borders.

Submitted this 15th day of April, 1935.

Mr. Rafferty arose and announced that in lieu of filing a minority report he stated he had some general objections to the report, and therefore wished his dissent, and also his reason for not signing the report to be recorded in the Minutes.

The Speaker instructed the Clerk to make such entry.

Mr. Newcomb moved that the report be received and spread in full upon the Minutes, and that a copy be sent forthwith to the Governor.

Which motion was adopted.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

April 15, 1935.

To the Legislature:

After conference with members of the Legislature and Assemblyman Thomas Taggart, sponsor of the mortgage moratorium bill, and after examination of a proposed committee substitute, I urge the Assembly Judiciary Committee and the Legislature to give serious consideration to relieving the distressed condition of New Jersey home owners.

The emergency faced by home owners in New Jersey continues to exist. The involved phases of our present social and economic situations demand that we take every possible remedial step to abate pressure upon the home life of our people. However, I am fully aware that we must act cautiously. We cannot adopt drastic reforms that will throw out of gear the existing system of mortgage financing, with a threat to future investment of capital in the building field.

I consider the Assembly Committee Substitute offered to the Legislature to be equitable legislation, providing relief methods for the stricken home owners and at the same time affording security to the investor.

There is need for such legislation. In the State of New Jersey in 1926 there were 1,566 mortgage foreclosures. Six years later, in 1932, these same communities, representing 87% of the total population of our State, reported 11,995 foreclosures. Last year the same communities reported 11,598 forced sales of real estate, exclusive of properties offered to the public because of delinquent taxes. This stands as convincing proof that we must act.

In my inaugural message I called attention to the prevailing depressed value of real estate, and of the fact that on the sale of mortgaged property there is frequently no bidding, and suggested that the Legislature give consideration to the enactment of a law providing for a moratorium on mortgage principal payments, provided the taxes and interest be paid. Senator A. Crozer Reeves and Assemblyman Taggart quickly responded, introducing Senate Bill No. 137 and Assembly Bill No. 306.

Various members of the Legislature and persons interested in the financing of homes have discussed the legislation introduced by Senator Reeves and Assemblyman Taggart. Some held that one bill was too drastic, while the other one was not liberal enough. For that reason, an attempt has been made to eliminate the various objections and provide for the home owners of New Jersey proper remedial legislation. The helpful advice and co-operation of members of the Legislature have made possible this substitute measure.

Proponents of this legislation have suggested I call to your attention features of the substitute mortgage moratorium bill. This bill permits any person residing in a municipality where the municipality has totaled and apportioned arrearages of taxes, and spread them over a five-year period, to receive the benefit of a suspension on principal payments for one year, if they have complied with the installment tax payment law.

The provisions of this bill permit any mortgagor ninety days within which to consummate an arrangement for the payment of his tax arrearage under the apportionment act of 1933, and subsequent similar enactments of the 1934 and 1935 Legislatures, thereby becoming eligible to apply for a moratorium on the principal of his mortgage.

Another provision permits a distressed home owner or farmer to apply to the courts and obtain a stay of sixty days in an effort to come within the principal provisions of this legislation; namely, the suspension of principal or principal installments and the suspension of any action on bonds because of defaulted principal payment.

The power to grant this sixty-day period of grace, previous to application for a moratorium, rests entirely within the courts. This legislation does not include building and loan mortgages. Chapter 59, Laws of 1935, was passed by your Legislature to offer a remedial of legislation to building and loan associations and building and loan mortgagors.

I have been advised by the interested members of the Legislature that the adoption of a mortgage moratorium on the principles outlined in the measure will act as an incentive to the payment of delinquent taxes, thereby aiding our municipalities and extending relief to other taxpayers of the community in which the property is located.

Other States have enacted legislation providing mortgage moratoriums for distressed home owners. The emergency continues to exist in New Jersey, and I feel that we must provide a method whereby relief will be available and the payment of interest and taxes encouraged. I repeat: Assembly Committee Substitute for Assembly Bill No. 306 is drawn in accordance with a desire to protect and encourage mortgage money investment, at the same time offering a method of adjustment of existing iniquities, thereby making possible the continuance of home life in New Jersey.

I hope this legislation will receive your careful study.

Respectfully submitted,

HAROLD G. HOFFMAN,
Governor.

E. DONALD STERNER,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Young, on behalf of the committee appointed pursuant to the resolution adopted by the House of Assembly, January 14, 1935, to inquire into certain matters in Bergen county, submitted the following majority report:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED PURSUANT TO THE RESOLUTION ADOPTED BY THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY JANUARY 14, 1935, TO INQUIRE INTO CERTAIN MATTERS IN BERGEN COUNTY.

To the Honorable, the House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

The report of the Committee appointed pursuant to the Resolution adopted by the House of Assembly on January 14, 1935, respectfully shows as follows:

Immediately after the appointment of your Committee, it organized and appointed Paul P. Williams, its Secretary, Jesse Merwede, Sergeant-at-Arms; James D. Carpenter, Jr., Counsel, and Michael Shershin, Assistant Counsel.

Your Committee has held a great many hearings, both public and private, and has examined a large number of witnesses. The evidence which we disclose in this report shows that an investigation into affairs in Bergen County was required and necessary. If our recommendations are adopted our work will be done and the way will be opened to cleaning up conditions which have been a public scandal.

The primary purpose of the appointment of your Committee was to inquire into the ballot box frauds following the last general election that were revealed during the contest of Senator Winant Van Winkle, which was started by his opponent, former Senator William H. J. Ely. The Resolution for the investigation fortunately was sufficiently broad to cover the administration of justice in Bergen County and the acts of public bodies and officials.

At the outset we desire to commend the attitude of Sheriff Mort L. O'Connell, who immediately wrote our Committee offering the facilities of his office and every co-operation which he could render to the Committee. The offer made by Mr. O'Connell has been faithfully performed. He has explained fully the method used in the selection of grand and petit jurors in Bergen County, and has expressed his entire confidence in Mrs. Lena Anderson, the Clerk to the Jury Commissioners, whom we have examined and whom we find is extremely capable and performs her duties with care and fidelity.

We find that the method of selecting jurors, both grand and petit, in Bergen County is exemplary and congratulate the Sheriff and the Jury Commissioner, Mr. Schneider, upon the method which they have adopted.

Testimony was given before us, however, that certain jurors for whom subpoenas were issued for jury service at the present term of court were not served, although they were in the County, and the responsibility for this was upon the Under-Sheriff, John Doscher, who, when the matter was called to the attention of the Court and the Sheriff, served these jurors.

There was also introduced before us evidence indicating that John Doscher attempted to slip into the jury list names of persons for jury duty who had not been approved by either the Sheriff or the Jury Commissioner, in accordance with their system. This was stopped by the Sheriff when the matter was called to his attention.

THE ELECTION FRAUDS IN NORTH ARLINGTON AND FAIRVIEW

Following the last general election some persons opened the ballot boxes in certain districts in North Arlington and Fairview after the ballots had been counted and after the results had been certified to the County Board of Elections, and marked the ballots so as to increase the number of votes cast for former Senator William H. J. Ely, as well as for certain candidates for local office in these two municipalities.

We have opened the ballot boxes and examined the ballots in the questioned districts in North Arlington and Fairview, and the ballots themselves show beyond any question that the ballots were tampered with. A sufficient number of ballots were altered in favor of Mr. Ely to change the result had the fraud not been discovered. The alterations clearly appear from an inspection of the ballots. In some instances the marks were made with entirely different pencils. In other instances, the marks were made with the ballots resting on different surfaces, and in other instances, the marks were made obviously by different hands. Senator Ely was not the only one who received the benefit of these changes. Other local candidates also had their totals increased. Although we did not make a complete recount, no other contest having been started, no other person than Senator Ely attempted to gain an advantage because of these frauds.

(A) THE NORTH ARLINGTON FRAUDS

The witnesses we have examined have testified to the following facts:

On election day, November 6 last, there were a number of New York automobiles, carrying numbers of strange men, who were described as tough characters, cruising about North Arlington. The center of the activities of these men seemed to be the home of Councilman Finnegan, political ally of Mayor Rentschler, who was closely associated in politics with the Prosecutor, John J. Breslin, Mr.

Breslin being the Borough Counsel for North Arlington. We have not discovered what the purpose was of having these New York cars in North Arlington. However, there is testimony before the Committee that numerous automobiles had all four of their tires punctured with ice picks by men who drove away in New York cars. The men whose tires were thus punctured were opponents of Rentschler, and were working for the election of the entire Republican ticket. The witnesses before us testified that as many as twenty-five cars, bearing New York licenses, were working for the so-called Ely-Breslin ticket during election day, and that they went so far as to warn opposing workers away from the neighborhood of the polls and even threatened them with pistols. Not one of these out-of-town men was placed under arrest or interfered with in their attempts to interfere with the election. Because of these facts and because of rumors which they had heard around town during the day and toward evening that the ballots were to be stolen or otherwise tampered with, two of the councilmen, Mr. Emery and Mr. Allen, took the precaution of arranging that the ballot boxes after the vote should be brought to the Borough Hall in police headquarters where they were locked in the police department cell under the supervision of these councilmen. These two members of the City Council remained at the Borough Hall all night guarding the cell in which the ballot boxes were locked, seeing that nothing happened, until the last ballot box was placed in such cell. After all the ballot boxes had been placed in the cell, City Clerk Jenkins locked the door and councilman, Mr. Allen, affixed a water department seal to the door so that the ballot boxes could not be removed, at least without the seal being broken.

From the time the boxes were locked in the cell until they were removed to Hackensack for the recount, the keys to the cell were continuously in the possession of the City Clerk, Mr. Jenkins.

These councilmen frankly stated that the reason they put the seal on the door and guarded the ballot boxes, as aforesaid, was because they did not trust Jenkins.

The seal remained on the cell door from Wednesday morning, November 7th, until Saturday, November 10th, when Jenkins removed it, saying that such a seal on the door was a reflection on his honesty and that he was responsible for the ballots and would remove any other seals placed on the door.

The testimony shows that between the time the seal was removed and the time when the ballot boxes from North Arlington were taken to the Circuit Court in Hackensack to be counted during the election contest, four police officers were, in turn, continuously on duty in the North Arlington Borough Hall, at a place so close to the cell that the ballot boxes could not have been removed or tampered with without their knowledge.

We examined each of these officers. Officer Kaufhold admitted that before the election he had been promised that he would be made Deputy Chief of Police and that the result of the election spoiled his chances, although an unsuccessful attempt was made subsequent to the election to fulfill the promise. Kaufhold was the only one of these police officers who was slated for promotion, depending upon the result of the election.

Jenkins was active in the last election and he admitted that had his party been successful, he would have been reappointed as City Clerk, which would have given him tenure of office.

Both Jenkins and Kaufhold, therefore, had personal and pecuniary interests in the result of the election.

It is the opinion of the Committee from the manner of Kaufhold and Jenkins upon the stand that both were extremely nervous, both were attempting to conceal something, both told inconsistent stories, both told stories that differed from those of other witnesses, and it is our opinion from these facts that both participated in the North Arlington fraud in some manner not fully revealed.

We had a handwriting expert make a careful study of the ballots in North Arlington and marks made by all the persons under suspicion, but he has reported that he is unable to identify the marks on the ballots as having been made by any particular person or persons. He reports that there is no doubt but that the ballots were changed because two sets of marks are on many of the ballots.

(B) THE ELECTION FRAUDS IN FAIRVIEW

After the ballots were counted the ballot boxes were sent to the Borough Clerk in Fairview, who stored them in the Recorder's court room in the Borough Hall, where they were not accessible to anyone except when the court was in actual session. After the court closed, no one could get into the court room without passing through police headquarters which were in an adjoining room. The ballot boxes could not have been tampered with, in our opinion, while they were so stored in the Borough Hall.

On November 19th, Freeholder Koester and Sergeant-at-Arms Bartenwerfer of the Criminal District Court went to Fairview on personal business of Koester's. Bartenwerfer went into the office of Borough Clerk Ebel, spoke to the Borough Clerk, and took him outside and introduced him to Mr. Koester. Joseph Castel, a Democratic worker, a lawyer who lives in Fairview, a friend of John J. Breslin, Jr., the Prosecutor, who has appeared in court on behalf of Breslin's firm, upon seeing Bartenwerfer talking with Ebel, the Clerk, immediately telephoned to Mr. Breslin, the Prosecutor, and told him he suspected some attempt to interfere with the ballot boxes. He could not explain to our Committee what there was about this circumstance to cause him any suspicion. Our inquiries did not disclose any reason whatsoever for this circumstance causing Castel, or anyone else, to suspect any ballot box tampering. Shortly after this call was made to Breslin, Chief County Detective Lockwood appeared at the Borough Hall in Fairview and he posted Patsy Polifroni, a special investigator attached to the Prosecutor's office, who has never been paid for this or any service, so far as we can learn, to guard the ballot boxes during that night, although the ballot boxes at the time were in the Recorder's court room within a few feet of a police officer, who was on duty in the police headquarters throughout the night. Polifroni sat in police headquarters all night on this assignment to guard the ballot boxes. No guard was continued after the following morning. Three days later the ballot boxes were removed by employees of the Borough, upon order of the City Clerk, from the Borough Recorder's court room to the North Arlington pump house. This building is located on a tract of land approximately an acre in area and is rather isolated. There were two keys to this pump house. One was kept hanging in the sewage disposal plant, where one J. Mahoney was in charge, and the other key was carried about by Dan Capelli, the Borough truck driver.

The Committee finds that there was no opportunity to tamper with the ballot boxes before they were removed to the pump house. They had been tampered with before they were delivered at the Court House, Hackensack, during the recount contest. Therefore, they must have been tampered with at the pump house.

In connection with this, the Committee finds as a fact that one evening shortly before the ballots were removed to Hackensack, the Prosecutor's special investigator, Patsy Polifroni, stopped at a gasoline station within 500 feet of the pump house, identified himself to the man in charge as coming from the Prosecutor's office, explained as the reason for his presence that he was looking for a gasoline station bandit, stayed with the gas station operator for an hour at least, and finally, remarking that he had received the busy signal from his companions, departed, walking down the road to a car parked directly in front of the pump house, where he was joined by a man who got into the car at the same time as he.

The operator of the gas station, besides testifying to the presence of this man for an hour, said that he could identify the man if he was produced, and identified Patsy Polifroni as being the man who had engaged him in conversation on that evening.

Polifroni, upon being questioned, admitted the entire story, saying that he had been in company with Prosecutor's Detective Gallione and a stool pigeon, whose name he refused to reveal, in Polifroni's own car; he admitted his conversation with the gas station man, admitted the purported object of the visit, but said that he had only remained there a matter of fifteen minutes and that his companions had ridden up and down the road while waiting for him. Strange to say, the car which Polifroni owned and which contained his companions on this nocturnal adventure, did not stop at the gas station to pick him up, but he waited at the gas station for a signal and then walked to the car that was parked close to the pump house, and there entered the car and drove off without the gas station attendant having an opportunity to identify the car or its occupants.

The Committee has been unable to obtain any proof that the ballot boxes were opened and the ballots altered that night, but every inference to be drawn from circumstantial evidence indicates that the act was done on that night and that these are the men who committed the crime.

During the contest and the counting of the ballots before Circuit Court Judge Caffrey, Joseph Castel aforementioned approached James Mercer, the County Clerk, and James Devine, Custodian of the Bergen County Court House, and pointed to a newspaper headline referring to the great gain Ely was making in Fairview, and said: "What did I tell you? I can tell some names." This remark was made in the presence of both Mercer and Devine. Mercer said that the subject was never again mentioned to him by Castel, but Devine testified that on several occasions thereafter, with reference to the same subject, Castel said: "I know the rats that done it and I can put my fingers on them."

Castel previous to the testimony of Mr. Mercer and Mr. Devine had denied before our Committee making any such remarks, and he further denied that he knew who marked the ballots. The statement that he made to Mr. Mercer and Mr. Devine was made in the Court House while the contest was actually proceeding, when his conduct and his knowledge were not in question, and when he was probably speaking the truth. In fact he was bragging about his knowledge.

This Committee is satisfied that the election officers in both Fairview and North Arlington properly performed their duties, and that the marking of the ballots was done after the election by persons favorable to the election of Mr. Ely.

(C) OTHER ELECTION FRAUDS IN BERGEN COUNTY

In the 1934 school election in Lyndhurst the testimony before us proves that some 250 persons who were recorded as having voted did not in fact vote. Some who were recorded as voting were out of the State that day. The evidence convinces us that the election officers deliberately put into the ballot box at least 250 votes for their own ticket.

Although this took place in Lyndhurst, where Mr. Breslin, the Prosecutor, resides, and although it was specifically called to his attention by Leo J. Reilly, counsel for one of the defeated candidates for school commissioner, and by Stanton T. Lawrence, counsel of the Board of Education, not a single member of the election board was indicted.

One of the candidates who was elected at said election was Charles J. Rogers, an uncle of the Prosecutor, John J. Breslin, Jr., who was in charge of the Prosecutor's office at that time.

There was an election scandal in Bergen County in the primary of 1932, when Andrew Knox, candidate for freeholder, claimed that he was defeated by reason of election frauds, which were openly charged, but no one was ever indicted.

Although the frauds of the last election were patent and glaring, not a single person has been indicted by the Grand Jury.

No attempt was made by the Prosecutor's office to investigate the frauds of the last election until after the resolution for this investigation was introduced in the Assembly.

How can the public expect any such investigation by the Prosecutor's office to be successful, when the circumstances above related concerning the guarding of the ballots in Fairview on the night of November 19, and the visitation of Polifroni and Gallione, two of the Prosecutor's investigators, to the vicinity of the Fairview pump house, at night, as above related, is given due weight?

After the ballot box frauds of last fall were disclosed, Mr. Horace R. Bogle, Mayor of Lyndhurst, made a public address, in which he charged the "Breslin-Ely Gang" had engineered the tampering with the ballots. Mayor Bogle testified that on the day after his speech he received a tip from Hackensack that Mr. Breslin had ordered an execution to issue out of the County Clerk's office against him on an old judgment, and that the execution would be levied that morning. The execution was levied.

Bogle testified that the day after the execution was levied, he went to Mr. Breslin's office in Lyndhurst and spoke to him, asking what he meant by pushing this judgment that had been permitted to lie dormant for some years. Mr. Breslin, according to Mayor Bogle, said: "Well you are not going to make public statements in the paper against our character and reputation, and unless you make a statement retracting everything you said, we are going ahead with it." Mr. Breslin thereupon, according to Bogle, asked him to stop making such statements. Bogle testified: "I told him I did not know whether the statement in the paper was exactly what I said or not, but I was still of the opinion that he engineered the tampering with the ballots, and he said to me, 'You can't prove it, Horace.' I said, 'No, you probably have to see it done'."

Prosecutor Breslin and Mayor Bogle had been friendly for many years; they had been in business ventures together, and a short time before this statement was made Bogle had joined Breslin in signing a renewal note in a bank, which was their joint obligation.

Although this statement of Mayor Bogle was made publicly during the recount proceedings, and although he testified to this statement in a public hearing in Newark on March 9, 1935, Mr. Bogle was never called as a witness before the Grand Jury.

Mr. Breslin was appointed Prosecutor in Bergen County in 1934. Senator Ely moved his confirmation as Prosecutor in the State Senate. At the next general election Ely was a candidate for re-election. The returns showed him defeated. Before any contest was started in Court we find the Prosecutor's subordinates assuming to guard the ballot boxes in Fairview. The ballot boxes in Fairview are then removed to a remote pump house, facing on the meadows. We then find a petition for a contest of the election filed by Mr. Ely specifying irregularities in North Arlington and Fairview, as well as other districts. Upon being opened the ballot boxes are found to have been tampered with, and the ballots altered in favor of Ely, the candidate who Mr. Breslin supported for State Senator.

CRIME CONDITIONS IN BERGEN COUNTY

On July 22, 1932, the Riviera Catering Corporation was incorporated to do a restaurant business in the Villa Richard, Coytesville, New Jersey. Thereafter that well known establishment was run as the Riviera, a roadhouse of distinction located on the Palisades, just north of the westerly end of the George Washington Bridge.

The testimony before our Committee is that this venture was run at a loss, and that some of its original backers withdrew from the enterprise because thereof. However, in the spring of 1934, the testimony and the bank records show that it immediately started doing business on a large scale and apparently at a large profit.

It is also significant that gambling activities were instituted at the Riviera immediately upon its opening in May, 1934, and the reason for the increased business and profit may lie in the opening of gambling activities.

It is also of significance, as will be subsequently pointed out, that the Prosecutor at the time gambling activities were instituted, was Mr. Breslin.

One of the witnesses before your Committee testified that he was present and saw at least three roulette tables in action, a bird cage game, a crap game, and a game of twenty-one, also known as black jack, on the evening after the opening night in May, 1934. He testified that the rules of the black jack game were special house rules, which he had never seen used before, although he had visited places where that game was played, and that the rules used at the Riviera were unusual in that they were exceptionally favorable to the house.

Another witness testified that he was present some time in May or early June and saw the same things.

A third asserted that he went there toward the end of June, because of a statement by Mr. Thomson in the newspaper, which was on June 23, and found gambling in operation at that time.

Two further witnesses testified that they were there on the night of July 4, and saw gambling in operation.

All of these witnesses gave exact and similar descriptions of the so-called Marine Room where the gambling operations were in progress. These witnesses testified on different days, and except for one occasion, the witnesses were unacquainted with each other, and did not testify in each other's presence.

The Committee has in its possession a specially made chip used in the gambling in the Marine Room, in every respect similar to the ordinary poker chip, stamped on both sides with the words "Marine Club," and a small representation of a ship.

In addition to direct evidence from witnesses who saw gambling in the Riviera, we have the testimony of newspaper articles and newspaper men who declared that either from personal experience or from unimpeachable sources they knew that gambling was conducted at the Riviera. In this connection, we have the article appearing in the New York Herald Tribune of July 21st, saying that:

"The most plush and platinum of New York's sin palaces isn't, as a matter of fact, in Manhattan, but across the Washington Bridge on the New Jersey Palisades. . . .

"But the real feature of the establishment is the game room downstairs. Only Bradley's Palm Beach Club is more formally luxurious and, while we had no way of estimating the stakes the evening we were present, they were said to be very high."

A complete copy of this article is annexed to this report. The article was written by Mr. Lucius Beebe, a columnist for the New York Herald Tribune.

On August 4, 1934, the Bergen Evening Record described the place in the following terms:

". . . the busy Riviera that hangs on the edge of the Palisades with its swank terrace, its game room, and its thousands nightly."

This quotation is from a column called "Simeon Stylites," which appears on the editorial page of the Bergen Evening Record and which is written by William Caldwell, who has testified before your Committee.

On August 10, 1934, an editorial appeared in the Passaic Herald News of that date, written by William M. McBride, the editor of that paper. This editorial, headed "What's Breslin's Idea?" started with the following words:

"For insouciance and a gay disregard for informed public opinion, the palm seems to go to Prosecutor Breslin of Bergen County. . . .

"But while the County was being gone over with a fine-tooth comb for penny ante stuff, Ben Marden's Riviera at Coytesville ran on undisturbed. True, gambling stopped for 24 hours or so after Douglas G. Thomson revealed before the Republican County Committee the big play that was going on nightly at the Riviera, but right after that the Marine Room was once more opened to those who wanted to risk a roll. There you can play craps for five dollars and up a throw. You can venture your luck at the bird-cage game, playing not less than a dollar (or as much more as you wish) on each numbered spot. There's roulette. There's everything that Canfield had in his Saratoga Springs gambling casino."

The full editorial has been copied and is attached to this report as an exhibit.

In May of 1934, the New Jersey Crime Prevention League reported to Prosecutor Breslin, by registered mail, that gambling was being conducted in the Riviera and asked him to investigate. The Prosecutor's files show that he received this letter. The New Jersey Crime Prevention League at the time it wrote this letter was in possession of an affidavit of its investigator that gambling was going on in the Riviera, the kind of gambling that was going on, and the names of the proprietors of the gambling business. The Prosecutor never asked the New Jersey Crime Prevention League for any information that it may have had and did not acknowledge receipt of the letter until a second letter had been sent to him, calling his attention to the first letter.

On June 21, 1934, a certificate of incorporation of "The Marine Club" was filed in the Bergen County Clerk's office, incorporating that organization as a corporation not for pecuniary profit, formed "to promote the civic welfare and to provide recreation and amusement for its members and to do such other lawful acts as may be necessary or may appear advisable to accomplish the aforesaid purposes.”

The Marine Club ran the gambling end of the business in the Riviera. It had specially made gambling chips.

On June 23, 1934, the newspapers of this State printed prominently an address by Mr. Douglas G. Thomson, of Edgewater, who stated that a big gambling game was being run in the Riviera and criticizing officials for having one set of laws for the big fellow and another set of laws for petty violators. Thomson at that time was never called before the Grand Jury to give any facts that he might have and was only called after this investigation was started.

The testimony before this Committee is abundant and conclusive to the effect that from the time the Riviera opened in the Spring of 1934, until it closed in the Fall of 1934, for the Winter season, gambling continued practically without interruption in the Marine Room of the Riviera. It was so notorious that it was referred to in the public press as a second Monte Carlo.

We attach to this report copies of certain newspaper articles which refer to the Riviera, for the purpose of showing that the newspaper men knew all about the place, and that the readers of said papers likewise had notice of it. Moreover, direct notice of the operation of this place was given to the Prosecutor by the New Jersey Crime Prevention League, as above recited, in May of 1934, within two weeks after it opened; the Prosecutor had knowledge of it through the address of Mr. Thomson a month later. Nevertheless, the Riviera was not raided at any time in the year 1934 nor has anyone who participated in its operation been indicted up to this time or even placed under arrest.

Moreover, during the first week of March, 1934, former Judge Harry Joelson, of Paterson, testified before your committee that either on July 4th or on Labor Day, 1934, he, in the company of his brother and their wives, had dinner at the Riviera, and that following the dinner the diners, numbering over a thousand, were publicly invited to go down to the Marine Room. Judge Joelson and his brother went to the Marine Room and there saw roulette games and the birdcage game in operation, gambling going on, and they left because of the crowd and the physical discomfort they experienced and their disgust at the conditions. Neither Judge Joelson nor his brother have been called as witnesses before the Grand Jury of Bergen County to this time, although Judge Joelson's testimony before this committee was given prominence in the newspapers.

In the latter part of August or the first part of September, 1934, a gambling house was opened in Ingold's Garage, River Road, Edgewater, diagonally across from the ferry house and a short distance from the police station. It was in plain view of a police booth near the ferry entrance, where a police officer was constantly stationed. The evidence before this committee is abundant and conclusive that this place was run as a gambling house every day of the week from early September, 1934, until the resolution for this investigation was introduced into the Assembly. At that time this gambling house was closed and it was moved to a location outside of Bergen County.

The existence of this gambling house was notorious and was the subject of newspaper comment.

For example, on September 1, a few days after the place opened, the column entitled "Simeon Stylites", on the editorial page of the Bergen Evening Record, said:

"That Edgewater gambling joint keeps running wide open . . . a club room on the River Road . . . within a fallaway slide of the cops' booth at the ferry plaza . . . Willie Moretti is alleged to be the guarantee man . . . and if Breslin knows about this one, what's making him wait?"

On September 8th in the same paper and column the following appeared:

"That Edgewater gambling house has moved . . . from the club rooms to an old garage on River Road . . . within half a block of the Plaza police booth . . . where the cops couldn't miss seeing it even by looking the other way."

On Monday, January 21, 1935, in the same column of the same paper we have the following words:

"Mr. Moretti . . . has taken his gambling joint, pool room, saloon and philanthropical interests out of the utopian and askew province of Edgewater."

The Committee has information that this place was run as a place where bets were placed on horse racing in the afternoon and where a large scale crap game was carried on at night as well as other gambling games.

The records obtained by the Committee show that two telephones were installed in this place on September 6, 1934, and discontinued on January 6, 1935. These telephones were installed upon order of "Thomas Motor Co." and the slips show a tremendous telephone business from this garage during the months in which the telephones were installed there. Moreover, the electric light bills show that the consumption of electric current for lights in this garage between September and January was much greater than in preceding or subsequent months.

The patrons of the Edgewater gambling house, according to the testimony before the committee, came in large groups and in quite a steady stream. They came by ferry and by automobiles. On the ferry boats they customarily studied sheets of racing information, but were warned to keep them out of sight until they reached Edgewater. Late in the afternoons large numbers of men used to leave Ingold's garage and they dropped racing forms on the public streets where they were visible to passers-by.

The Committee has in its possession pictures of the exterior of this place, with men entering it, and it has minute descriptions of the interior and of the activities therein from several witnesses who actually played there.

The State Police in October, 1934, received an anonymous communication calling their attention to the Edgewater gambling house. This complaint was referred to Sergeant Carl Fuchs, in charge of the Alpine Barracks, who personally reported the matter to Police Chief Joret, of Edgewater, and then to Prosecutor Breslin personally. Nothing happened. About the same time, two citizens went to police headquarters in Edgewater and reported to them that there was a gambling house being operated in Ingold's garage and requested that the place be closed. One of these persons spoke to Lieutenant Flannery, who asked if the complainant would swear to a complaint upon which a search warrant might issue. The citizen answered in the affirmative. Lieutenant Flannery then went into another room and conferred with Chief Jaret and returned and said that the chief's decision was that the matter should be taken up with the prosecutor. The citizens' complaint was not accepted. The gambling house was not raided and no action whatsoever has been taken from that time to the present. No action was taken on any of these complaints.

Likewise, two police officers from Passaic County, while looking for a fugitive, detected the gambling house was in operation in Ingold's garage and reported the matter to Lieutenant Flannery, of the Edgewater police, in person.

Shortly before the first of January, 1935, the Newark police had occasion to look for a fugitive who had been implicated in a hold-up and who was reported to be working at that time in the gambling house in Edgewater. Lieutenant Kass, of the Newark police department, sent two of his men to the prosecutor's office, Hackensack, for co-operation and they spoke to Chief of County Detectives Henry B. Lockwood, reported their mission to him and gave him the information they had concerning the fugitive. Chief Lockwood sent two county detectives to Edgewater with the Newark police officers, the Bergen County detectives preceded the Newark detectives in a separate car, and led the Newark detectives to Ingold's garage, where they waited in the street for some time looking for the fugitive to appear. The Bergen County detectives did not enter the gambling house and the fugitive was not apprehended. Lieutenant Kass testified before our committee that in this instance his men did not get the proper co-operation from the Bergen County Prosecutor's office and the fugitive was not apprehended.

One of the Edgewater citizens who complained to the Edgewater police and was referred to the Prosecutor said he did not go to the Prosecutor's office because he had seen in a newspaper an article which indicated that the Prosecutor's attention had already been called to the existence of the gambling house and he did not consider further information necessary.

The proof is overwhelming and convincing that the Prosecutor himself, the Chief of the County Detectives, and the Edgewater police officials all knew of the operation of the Edgewater gambling house; that they knew, or had reason to believe, that it was operated by William Moretti, alias Willy Moore, and that they did absolutely nothing to suppress it.

A striking contrast in law enforcement is furnished by the instance of a small political club, organized by one Frank Perricante, a special policeman of Edgewater. This place was repeatedly visited by Bergen County detectives during December, 1934, and January, 1935.* This place was not run by William Moretti or any big time racketeer with influence sufficient to keep law enforcing officials away.

VICE CONDITIONS WERE COVERED UP

The Borough of Fort Lee detailed two special officers to duty at the Riviera, at the expense of the Riviera. These two officers were on duty all of each night until the Riviera closed at three, four, or five o'clock in the morning. They made no reports of their work until after the address of Mr. Thomson, which was published June 23rd, after which time they were required to make a weekly report of their activities, one copy going to the Fort Lee Chief of Police, the other to the Prosecutor. These reports really gave no information and were obviously designed and intended to act as a cover-up for the police officers and the Prosecutor's office. We say this because there was no honest investigation of either the Riviera or of Ingold's garage to discover whether gambling was going on, nor was any effort whatever made to suppress either place. An honest investigation would have disclosed the facts and proper prosecution would have resulted in closing both places and the indictment and conviction of the operators. The reports turned in by these two officers were identical in wording from week to week, so that the first report turned in by each of them had no more and had no less in it than the last. They bore every indication of being a mere copybook exercise.

The Committee recognizes that whether or not an individual gambles is a matter for his own conscience. The vice of the existence of gambling houses, contrary to law, however, lies in the inevitable corruption of municipal and county officials and police wherever it exists.

We have examined the police officials of both Edgewater and Fort Lee. Each of these officials testified that he had no knowledge whatsoever concerning the operation of gambling houses either in the Riviera or in Ingold's garage,

* The County Treasurer reports that the Prosecutor's staff consists of 3 assistant prosecutors, 5 county detectives, and from January 1, 1935, to March 7, 1935, 20 separate special investigators were on the payroll, but 5 of these appear to have served only part time, varying from one to 20 days in spite of the fact that the existence of gambling in both these places was common public knowledge, and that in Edgewater at least, the Newark, Passaic, Paterson and State Police knew of the existence of gambling.

The police of Edgewater and Fort Lee cannot escape their responsibility by saying they had no knowledge of what was actually going on.

Our Supreme Court held in 1907, in the case of State vs. Castle, reported in 75 N. J. L. at page 192, the following:

“Whatever may be the powers of the police as to the suppression of houses of ill-fame, we think that if the police force of a city wilfully permits such houses to be kept without interference as this indictment charges, it is at least the duty of the police commissioners, charged by statute as they are with the discipline of the force, to investigate the conduct of the police under their control, and that if the police commissioners, with the knowledge which the indictment charges they had, wilfully neglect to inquire into the conduct of the police force in permitting such a public nuisance, they are themselves guilty of neglect of a duty imposed upon them by law, and are indictable therefor.”

This decision of the Supreme Court not only makes the police officials subject to indictment for nonfeasance, but also the officials of the local government, who had under their directions and control the officials of the police department.

Likewise the law places upon the Prosecutor the obligation of enforcing the laws. The law gives him ample assistants and ample funds with which to perform his duties. He cannot escape or evade his responsibility by leaving enforcement of the law to local officials who are derelict in their duty or by closing his eyes to violations of the law or by subservient reliance upon “cover-up reports” of officers that are obviously designed as a cloak.

We have evidence that Henry B. Lockwood, Chief of the Bergen County Detectives, three times visited the Riviera on inspection tours, and Chief McDermott of Fort Lee says that he visited the place on numerous instances, although his testimony to this effect is disputed by the special police who were on duty at the Riviera. It is an old saying that "None are so blind as those who will not see." These officers cannot escape their responsibility under the law by failing to see that which was actually going on, and by wilfully failing to suppress open and notorious violations of the law. If any such excuses as these men have offered are to prevail, then the enforcement of the law will forever rest upon the caprice of officials.

THE PROSECUTOR'S ATTITUDE TOWARD THIS INVESTIGATION

In marked contrast to the attitude of Sheriff O'Connell, and County Clerk Mercer, who assisted the Committee in every way in its investigations, is the attitude and conduct of the Prosecutor and his staff.

A Committee appointed by the Legislature to investigate conditions in a county has the right to expect co-operation and assistance from those it is their duty to investigate. Our duties were in the public interest and for the purpose of promoting the public good and welfare, and it is considered that only a sense of guilt could have motivated the Prosecutor and his assistants in their attempts to thwart the Committee's activity.

While the Committee makes no attempt to excuse the conduct of its investigator Meyers, and the witnesses produced by him, Switz, Voros and Russell, and while the Committee expressly states that in preparing this report no credence has been given to their testimony, it is, nevertheless, a fact that directly such testimony had been given concerning vice conditions in Bergen County, which did not in any way implicate the Prosecutor, or his office, the Prosecutor and his supporters immediately made every effort to browbeat, intimidate and terrify the witnesses who had testified before the Committee, thereby apparently seeking to frighten off others who might have knowledge of actual facts and conditions from testifying before this Committee of such fact.

These witnesses were picked up by the Prosecutor's detectives on orders from the Prosecutor, taken to the Prosecutor's office in Hackensack, held and questioned for long periods of time by numerous people who included Lockwood, Chief of the County Detectives; Judge Del Mar of the Common Pleas Court; John Borg, a member of the Grand Jury, and proprietor of The Bergen Evening Record; Assistant Prosecutors Ferry, Carella and Sher, and Mr. Wynkoop, an editor of The Bergen Evening Record. This questioning lasted all day Saturday following their testimony before our Committee, and until between two and four o'clock Sunday morning.

At the end of this long period of examination by this group, Meyers was taken to the county jail on a legal warrant, but the witnesses Switz, Voros and Russell were held in the county jail on a simple letter on the stationery of the Prosecutor of the Pleas, of which the following is a true copy (Exhibit C, March 11, 1935):

"PROSECUTOR OF THE PLEAS
COUNTY OF BERGEN
HACKENSACK, N. J.

March 9th 1935

Mort L. O'Connell, Esq.
Sheriff of Bergen County
Hackensack, N. J.

COMMIT, one ROLAND RUSSELL, residing at No. 189 Moore Street, Hackensack, N. J. upon a charge of being a necessary and material witness for the State of New Jersey, against one Thomas Meyers, charged with the crime of subornation of perjury.

HENRY B. LOCKWOOD
Chief of the County Detectives."

A similar letter was signed and filed by Mr. Lockwood for each of the two other witnesses.

At the same time there was posted on the bulletin board in the county jail the following (Exhibit E. March 11, 1935):

"THOMAS MEYERS
NO BAIL AND NO VISITORS
BY ORDER OF MR. FERRY, PROSECUTOR'S OFFICE"

"NO VISITORS
NO BAIL
NO LAWYERS

ARTHUR SWITZ
ROLAND RUSSELL
ALBERT VOROS

BY ORDER OF PROSECUTOR"

These letters and these orders were without any warrant of law. No affidavit and no complaint had been made that warranted any of these men being confined in the county jail. No magistrate had issued any warrant for their arrest or any commitment to jail as a defendant or as a material witness, although Judge Del Mar, Common Pleas Judge of Bergen County, was present in the Prosecutor's office at the questioning of them and Meyers until some hour early on Saturday evening.

The Prosecutor himself, when examined before our Committee, testified that he ordered Chief Lockwood to arrest and hold Voros, Russell and Switz, with the orders and instructions: "No visitors, no bail and no lawyers."

It is indeed strange that any official of the power and dignity of a Prosecutor of the Pleas should order the arrest and confinement of any man, no matter what the crime might be of which he was charged, without the authority of any sort of legal process. This is the sort of thing that we have heard has been done in an absolute monarchy, but it is wholly foreign to a democracy, especially in America, where every man is presumed to be innocent until he is proved to be guilty, and where the law permits no man to be committed to jail, except upon a sworn complaint.

Again, without attempting to give credence to the testimony of these witnesses, the Committee asserts that in this instance the Prosecutor far transcended the proprieties of his office, as he had previously done, in using his office for his personal spite against Mayor Bogle, as above recited, and that if such liberties are allowed to be taken by the Prosecutor, no man, innocent or guilty, can expect to remain long free from persecution in Bergen County, if the Prosecutor decides to take vengeance upon him.

Last Friday, April 12, Edward J. Ryan, a trusted investigator of this Committee, brought before the Committee in Newark, one Harry Truax, who Ryan had been informed had been employed for some time at the lunch counter in the gambling house at Edgewater. This witness apparently came voluntarily, without the service of a subpoena, and although the Committee is informed that he had been drinking, none of the Committee observed that he was in the slightest under the influence of liquor, or otherwise under any disability. He was sworn as a witness and examined by members of the Committee, neither of its counsel being present until the last few minutes, when Mr. Shershin came in. Truax was examined in a room in the Robert Treat Hotel, in response to his own request that no publicity of the fact that he had appeared before the Committee and testified, be given. He was extremely desirous that the fact of his testifying should be kept secret and especially be not known by the authorities in Bergen County.

Truax testified that he worked at the lunch counter in the Edgewater gambling house, receiving pay of three dollars a night, and taking Thursday nights off. He testified to the exact method by which the gambling house was entered; to the exact location of the lunch counter; the exact location of the pool table on which the crap game was carried on; the exact location of the table where bets were placed on the horses; the exact location of the telephone, and to the fact that no hard drinks were served at his counter because of objections from the neighboring saloon-keepers.

He further testified that he had seen Willie Moore, which the Committee knows to be an alias for William Moretti, in the place; that Moore had been pointed out to him by the man who picked up the dice as the person who got him the job in the place, and as the brother-in-law of that man, who received $10 a night for his services.

He testified that the night watchman and others in the place were armed, and that he knew that fact because they used to leave their guns on his counter before the place closed in the morning. He said that he had seen newspapers containing racing information scattered about the floor, but that he had seen no racing forms, because it was the habit of those in charge of the place to collect them and remove them from the place. He said, however, that the floor was often ankle deep in newspapers.

The Committee believes the testimony given by Truax was the truth.

Three other witnesses who testified that they had frequented the place from October until December, separately, gave a description of the interior which exactly coincided with that given by Truax. To assume that Truax would lie concerning the interior and have his lies exactly coincide with the testimony of witnesses produced from a different source, without Ryan's knowledge and without Ryan having any knowledge of their testimony at a different time and at a different place, is supposing a coincidence which is beyond the power of the miraculous.

The following Monday we were informed that Truax had voluntarily gone to Prosecutor Breslin that morning and had confessed to him that he committed perjury before this Committee; that he was paid $25 by Ryan for testifying, and that Ryan had purchased drinks for him, and that he was intoxicated when he testified.

The Prosecutor, without communicating with any member of our Committee, and without making any inquiries from any of us, or our counsel, as to what Truax had testified, or whether he had testified, or whether he was drunk or sober, and without making any inquiries of Ryan, caused a complaint upon information and belief to be made against our investigator, Edward J. Ryan, for subornation of perjury, by John Keane, a special investigator in the Prosecutor's office, and caused a warrant to be issued for Ryan's arrest.

Mr. Ryan has testified before our Committee that he did not give Truax any money; that Truax attended voluntarily as a witness before the Committee, and that Ryan made no suggestions to him as to what his testimony should be. The Committee is convinced that Ryan did not pay Truax twenty-five dollars.

In this connection the Committee submits that it is curious that this allegedly self-confessed perjurer should have been released on his own recognizance whereas bail for Ryan was fixed upon his surrender in the sum of $2,500. It is further significant that the Committee has continuously sought without success to serve a subpoena on Truax and his partner, Hector Rowland, for the purpose of examining them as to what pressure was put on Truax, and by whom, to induce him to retract his testimony, ever since the story of the retraction was made public by the Prosecutor. Truax has since disappeared and so has his partner.

The conclusion is irresistible that Truax has been intimidated in a most remarkable degree, and his disappearance has been aided by the Prosecutor, at least to the extent of requiring no bail for him, and for the obvious purpose of preventing an inquiry as to the reason for the alleged retraction of his testimony. What was the purpose in all this? Nothing else than to discredit this Committee and force, if possible, a conclusion of our investigation, and, second, to cover up and protect William Moretti and the gang of racketeers who ran the gambling house in Edgewater, and the officials in Bergen County whose nonfeasance in office permitted it to run without interference.

From the quotations in this report from the Bergen Evening Record it is evident that the proprietor of that paper had full knowledge of the gambling conditions at the Riviera and at the Edgewater garage and as a member of the Grand Jury it was his duty to divulge that information to the Grand Jury. If he did not do so he was derelict in his duty as a member of that body and effectually protected the criminals about whose activities he had knowledge.

THE BAIL BOND RACKET

The testimony before this Committee is to the effect that Edward F. Corrison, above mentioned, has a practical monopoly of the bail bond business in Bergen County. We have had the records searched and our searcher has testified that he finds of record 170 bail bonds on which Corrison acted as surety in Bergen County in the last two years. Furthermore, Corrison has furnished as surety for persons held to bail, several other persons, one of whom is Jeffrey Yost, a close associate of Corrison. We have other names of persons used by Corrison as sureties. A further inquiry into this matter is required to determine whether Corrison has been guilty of any misrepresentation or any perjury in the affidavits of justification attached to his bonds or the bonds furnished by his associate sureties.

The Hackensack telephone directory shows that for the past two years and down to the present date the telephone listing of E. F. Corrison and of John J. Breslin, Jr., in Hackensack is given at an identical address and an identical number, namely 15 Main Street, Hackensack, and telephone Hackensack 2-1050. An inference arises of some sort of association between the Prosecutor and the bail bond king of Bergen County.

As above stated, the tie-up between the Prosecutor and Corrison is established by the telephone book. The evidence before the Committee is that the bail bond racket exists in Bergen County and the Committee is convinced by evidence that it has the approval of the Prosecutor. It could not exist with his disapproval.

CONCLUSION

Since this Committee started its investigations, it has been discovered that Joseph F. Murphy, Receiver of Taxes of the Borough of Edgewater, embezzled large amounts of borough funds. We do not have the exact amount, but are informed that it is in excess of $10,000.00. The Borough Auditor has testified before us that the Receiver of Taxes was not bonded as required by law and that a year ago the fact that he was not bonded was called to the attention of the officials of Edgewater and yet no bond was required. Those responsible for permitting him to continue to hold office without being under bond should be indicted for non-feasance of office in this matter.

It is common knowledge that in the last year or two there have been a number of instances of embezzlement of public funds in Bergen County. To what extent the operation of gambling houses and lax enforcement of law against prominent violators of the law is responsible for such conditions, no one will ever know.

The fact is that elections in Bergen County have too long been corrupted by fraud without any serious attempts being made to punish the guilty. Big gambling houses like those described in this report cannot run many days without the officials charged with enforcing the law learning about them. Everyone knows that people who run such places contrary to law are willing to pay and pay well for the privilege of operating. When they are permitted to operate for months on end without interruption, a fair inference arises that they are permitted to run because of the corruption of the officials whose duty it is to suppress such places. When, in addition to their being not molested, we find such obvious efforts to cover them up as are described in this report, the conclusion is irresistible that the law enforcing authorities are in league with the criminals.

The condition in Bergen County as it has existed for the past year is like a cancer. It grows and feeds upon healthy tissue until the end comes. The time has arrived for the surgeon to apply the knife and the operation cannot longer be delayed. The Prosecutor and his entire staff should be immediately removed from office and that office placed in control of a fearless, able and impartial prosecutor, who will see to it that the laws are enforced.

What action shall be taken by the Grand Jury of Bergen County in the matters herein mentioned being exclusively for the judicial branch of the State government, we refrain from making any recommendations. We are confident the Grand Jury will be specially instructed upon the matters to which we have referred.

Of this we may properly speak: the presentation of the evidence, preparation of indictments and trial of such matters should not be entrusted to the present Prosecutor or any of his staff. Their conduct, too is the subject of investigation.

We further recommend a statute requiring the State Police upon receipt of complaints of crime conditions in any county forthwith to report in writing to the local authorities and the County Prosecutor, and that if the conditions complained of are not eradicated within 30 days it become the duty of the State Police to go in, secure the evidence and act themselves. Gambling houses operated by racketeers will not exist much over 30 days with such a law.

We recommend that this report be referred to the Judiciary Committee of the House, to the end that resolutions may be drawn and presented for the impeachment of the Prosecutor of the Pleas of Bergen County.

While there are further matters that our Committee could inquire into, matters which have been called to our attention by a host of good people in Bergen County who desire to have conditions righted, we are confident that an honest, able and fearless prosecutor can right every wrong complained of and remove Bergen County from the control of gangsters and racketeers and their kind.

We extend our thanks to the Civil Service Commission for furnishing us a stenographer, and personally thank Miss Jane Brown for her efficient and friendly service.

We recommend that the Committee, upon submitting within one week, a report of its expenses, be discharged from further service.

Dated, April 22, 1935.

Respectfully submitted,

A. R. RIGGS,
J. EDWARD KNIGHT,

The most plush and platinum of New York's sin palaces isn't, as a matter of fact, in Manhattan, but across the Washington Bridge on the New Jersey palisades. And, we assure you, it is a real old-fashioned road house with the whole scene stepped up to a scale embracing celebrities and monocles.

The outdoor terrace over the evening Hudson is a lovely place to dine as there is, and the food, while costly, is excellent. Some notion of the price scale may be derived from the circumstance that all wine is a flat $12. A floor show with a celebrated Broadway entertainer at a $6,000 and percentage weekly salary provides a madhouse vista of feminine arms and legs just across the table from your salad, and the modernist bar has more bottles behind it than you've ever seen anywhere before.

But the real feature of the establishment is the game-room downstairs. Only Bradley's Palm Beach Club is more formally luxurious and, while we had no way of estimating the stakes the evening we were present, they were said to be very high. A dinner-jacketed major domo with a single eyeglass superintended the scene. Evening-dressed croupiers spun clicking wheels and lynx-eyed cashiers collected the cash boxes from each table at frequent intervals. The smallest bills visible were of hundred-dollar denomination and most were larger. The place is Cecil de Mille's idea of a luxury resort. There are servants to do everything but place your chips for you and huge sums of money are extracted with the painless elegance which only trained and accomplished croupiers can achieve. You can, if you are of a mind, buy a gardenia corsage for your girl for $10 from a cruising nymph, and 1875 cognac is only $2 a glass. More than a thousand carriage trade patrons an evening drive up the portecochere and are saluted by the phalanx of footmen on duty, and you have to reserve your table days in advance.

Add Police Candor.

Not to mention the Fort Lee Policeman who has been doing traffic duty at the busy Riviera that hangs on the edge of the Palisades with its swank terrace, its game-room, and its thousands nightly.

Someone asked him about it. "How," was the question, "do you like your assignment up at the Riviera?"

He bristled up. No trick questions were going to trap him.

"Let me get you straight," he muttered. "Just what Riviera are we talkin' about?"

Willie (Baby Face) Moretti, who like Prince Florizel of Bohemia, has gained the affection of all by the seduction of his manner and a well considered generosity, has yanked his last remaining commercial enterprise out of this parish, and a hurtful blow it is. Mr. Moretti, well known to police as a good spender and the original of the classiest photograph in the Bergen County Prosecutor's rogues' gallery, has taken his gambling joint, pool room, saloon and philanthropical interests out of the utopian and askew province of Edgewater. Henceforth Mr. Moretti's joint (for short) will ornament the pastoral borough of Pine Brook, half way between Newark and Caldwell, where by mentioning Benny's name you can proceed to lose your shirt at galloping dominoes, galloping gee-gees, or galloping d. t.'s; it is all one to the house.

A great fog of hypocrisy and hooley has, it is plain, obfuscated the facts of the forthcoming legislative investigation of Bergen County affairs. The facts are these:

Someone either stole or tried to steal the last election.

Innumerable scandals of municipal finance in the past two years have involved higher-ups.

Gambling has gone forward in at least two recognized places without determined police prevention.

The erection and equipment of the Bergen County Administrative Building was characterized by evidence of collusion, extortion and wholesale corruption.

There is evidence that political appointees got their jobs by virtue of bribery.

Local police have taken little or no action since the repeal of Prohibition toward suppressing their old friends the illicit distiller and the shakedown man.

There is evidence of at least a warm and understanding sympathy between certain municipal officials and the operators of a Passaic slot machine ring.

* * * * *

These are the facts of the matter. Their corollary is that Bergen County could stand a real investigation.

Its cost, $25,000, will be insignificant if it results in the adoption of a tax collection system supplanting the one which is costing hundreds of thousands in embezzlements; or if it wipes out dime gambling on back streets by dole-supported paupers; or if it guarantees the safety of, to be enthusiastic, the next three elections; or if it sets the example of stern punishment for the Administrative Building and gambling joint thieves.

The ascendance of the dapper Willie Moretti and the Bulbous Chicago Fat Szabio from the status of mugs to the status of causes celebres which is a classy French word meaning big time, only goes to show.

Five years ago Willie and Chicago Fat didn't even know each other. Moretti was rustling beer for Waxey Gordon in Paterson, and just scraping together enough to build himself a comfy little place in the suburbs—Market Street, East Paterson.

And Chicago Fat was a small time plug-ugly, noted largely for the ineffable repulsiveness of his pan, operating in the toplofty vicinage of New Haven, Conn. William Lyon Phelps and Angelo Lapaduro were also residents.

Here, you would have said, are two dime-a-dozen low-brows who will wind up either on the soup line or the morgue's waiting list. They had no great talent to speak of; they were rather soft-spoken and retiring as that ilk runs, and they have sprinted fifteen city blocks to avoid trouble.

Yet today they are the big timers in North Jersey rackets, if Young Committee testimony is worth the paper it's shorthanded on. Their old maties even—Angelo Alba and Sally Moretti and Kid Steech—are in jail or dead or missing. Lapaduro has been forgotten. Cheechy Lovullo, as bland a chef as ever stuck a revolver in a man's kidney, has gone and turned to dust.

Only Moretti and Szabio remain, prosperous, unassuming, and just as deadly as ever.

That, if you must know, is because they have a code. It has all the Sparton simplicity of Greek philosophy. Willie laid it down one day for a parlor full of visitors in his marmalade-colored Spanish house down in Hasbrouck Heights.

They had asked him about the Brady murder. He was, it will regretfully be recalled, accused of shooting a Hackensack taxi service owner.

"No," said Mr. Moretti. This meant that he would withhold comment on the immediate details of the Brady murder. But he added:

"There is two ways to do a thing. The right way and the wrong way. When a person does a thing the wrong way then I think that he has something coming to him." He beamed.

It is a beautiful thought. On its rocky basis Mr. Moretti has made something of himself. His life, which is undoubtedly a success, has been directed into the simple channel of The Right Way. Anyone could do as much.

It is unfortunate that Mr. Szabio has never set down the Memoirs and deuctions of his full and inspiring career. Mr. Szabio is deplorably short on wind. He puffs. When he is in a very expansive mood he says: "Umph." When he is unbearably loose-jawed he mutters "Yop." Or "Nope."

But he must have some key to character and triumph. He was unknown in 1929, and today he has gone beyond the limits of human fame and belongs to legend. How did he do it?

Well, maybe, he did it the wrong way. By all accounts, he has something coming to him. That would fit in with the Moretti philosophy, wouldn't it?

HERALD NEWS OF AUGUST 10, 1934, ENTITLED
"What's Breslin's Idea?"

For insouciance and a gay disregard for informed public opinion, the palm seems to go to Prosecutor Breslin, of Bergen County.

For some time past he has had scads of special detectives scouring Bergen County for evidence of vice and gambling. These "vice squads" did break up a new "numbers" racket and did help to rid some ballrooms and roadhouses of "hostesses" and "come-on girls" who frequented such places, and that was work well done. But they also found it necessary to justify their employment by raiding stores for bagatelle boards and other such "vicious" amusement devices.

Now bagatelle, which is a modification of pool and billiards, is about as awful as dominoes or croquet. It affords innocent diversion and is not, per se, a gambling device, as anyone who has seen one knows. (Men can gamble on the weather or automobile registration numbers, if they are bent on doing so.) So-called "ballyhoo" boards are in the same category, except that they tempt children to beg coins to operate them.

But while the County was being gone over with a fine-tooth comb for penny ante stuff, Ben Marden's Riviera at Coytesville ran on undisturbed. True, gambling stopped for 24 hours or so after Douglas G. Thomson revealed before the Republican County Committee the big play that was going on nightly at the Riviera, but right after that the Marine Room was once more opened to those who wanted to risk a roll. There you can play craps for five dollars and up a throw. You can venture your luck at the birdcage game, playing not less than a dollar (or as much more as you wish) on each numbered spot. There's roulette. There's everything that Canfield had in his Saratoga Springs gambling casino.

Now there's a gambling instinct in almost all of us. Most men like a friendly game of stud or draw. Men and women alike play auction and contract for stakes. There are many who like to lay a bet on the horses, and though you can be sent to jail for horse-race gambling in New Jersey, it's quite legal up at Saratoga, where Prosecutor Breslin is spending a little holiday period now.

What most people can't see is the inconsistency of raiding neighborhood stores and bars for bagatelle boards and permitting the biggest gambling outfit on the Eastern seaboard to run full blast on this side of the George Washington bridge.

Don't John Breslin, his regular detective staff and his 28 "specials" know what's going on at Coytesville, or don't they care? Almost everyone else seems to know what's going on.

Evidently a showdown with the Bergen County Freeholders is on the way since Freeholder Koester declared that the law allows a Prosecutor only 12 special investigators in second-class counties and since Mr. Breslin has had 28 on his payroll. With 68 per cent. of the Prosecutor's 1934 budget allowance already spent, it is about time there be such a showdown. The Freeholders, who happen to be of the opposition party, would like to ask the Prosecutor if he is trying to build up a personal political machine at the taxpayers' expense, spending more money while the Republican Freeholders are effecting severe economies in departments under their direct control.

They may also wish to ask the Prosecutor why he still employs as a special investigator Sammy Adamo, who used to deliver Lyndhurst Republican votes en bloc for Ralph Chandless. The question is interesting because the industrious Sammy has a prison record of his own.

That institution is reminiscent of one in Passaic County some few years ago, when Joe Blozzo, a gambler recently charged with murder, was slated to go on former Prosecutor Kent's staff as special investigator, along with two other men who had police records. They weren't appointed because this newspaper let it be known that names, photographs and records of all three would be published if the McCutcheon organization dared to reward these hustling henchmen with appointment to office where only trustworthy men with clean records should serve.

Mr. Sherred, of Sussex county, on behalf of the committee appointed pursuant to the resolution adopted by the House of Assembly on January 14, 1935, to inquire into certain matters in Bergen county, submitted the following Minority Report:

*To the Honorable Members of the House of General Assembly of the State of New Jersey,
State House, Trenton, N. J.:*

The undersigned was appointed by the Speaker of the House, Dr. Clee, as a member of the committee commonly known as the Young Legislative Committee. The primary purpose of this committee was to ascertain and detect whether or not ballots had been tampered with in the last General Election in Bergen county. It was, however, quite obvious from the start that the investigation was directed principally at the Democratic prosecutor of the pleas of that county.

More than two hundred witnesses testified before the committee during its deliberations, which lasted many weeks. It was apparent that most of the questions were directed to witnesses for the purpose of showing conditions existing in Bergen county, for which the prosecutor was responsible. I feel that I would be derelict in my duty were I not to call the attention of the members of the House of Assembly to the vicious tactics employed during the hearings. Questions were asked and statements received which were without foundation, solely for the purpose of assailing the reputation of certain persons and destroying their character in the light of public opinion.

I am indeed surprised at the probe's counsel, who has been a lawyer for many years, asking many questions which were obviously unfair and would not be permitted in any court in the United States, no matter how low or inferior the court might be. The undersigned has refused to sign the majority report and makes this report as short and concise as the facts warrant.

BALLOT SITUATION

The committee has conducted a very wide and extensive inquiry in attempting to fix the guilt of those who might be involved in the alleged tampering of the ballots. There was no direct or positive proof produced before the committee which could be the basis of any indictment. A number of hearsay stories were injected into the proceedings, but when each witness was asked directly whether he could give positive information, he replied that he could not. If any evidence had been secured, there is no doubt that the matter would have been presented to the Bergen County Grand Jury immediately.

This committee had unlimited means to secure the proper evidence for the apprehension of the guilty parties, however, despite the extent of the investigation and the sincerity of the members of the committee, they were unable to make any positive criminal charges against any particular individual.

GAMBLING

Of the many witnesses heard by this committee, the majority were questioned concerning gambling conditions at a roadhouse known as the Riviera and at a garage in Edgewater, New Jersey, known as Ingalls. It is true that a few witnesses testified that they saw gambling at the Riviera, but their testimony was entirely overcome and overwhelmed by the vast number of reputable witnesses who testified they had visited the said restaurant many times during the summer and saw no gambling. In this group of outstanding citizens are: Judge Abram Lebson, County Counsel Walter G. Winne; Assemblyman Berthold Vorsanger; former Assistant Prosecutor Harry Towe, and Mr. Louis Aaronson, of Newark, New Jersey. All of the local police and employees of the Riviera were questioned concerning gambling at the Riviera and stated they never saw gambling at said restaurant.

Mr. Douglas Thompson, of Englewood, New Jersey, testified that he made a speech which was based merely on hearsay evidence. This was in the latter part of June, 1934. Immediately after this speech was made, the prosecutor ordered an investigation to be made by Chief Lockwood of the prosecutor's office and the local chief of police. They reported back to him that they found no evidence of gambling. Furthermore, the prosecutor insisted that the chief of police send reports with reference to the alleged gambling. These reports were signed by the chief of police and they showed that he made innumerable visits during the summer at the Riviera without any results.

In the majority report reference is made to a letter received from an anti-crime league of New Jersey concerning gambling at the Riviera. This report deliberately stresses the fact that a witness by the name of Willis, employed by the Anti-Crime League of New Jersey, visited the Riviera after they complained to the prosecutor, and found no evidence of gambling. The inference is irresistible that the prosecutor must have taken every precaution after Mr. Thompson's speech to see that there was no gambling carried on at that particular place.

At this time it might be appropriate to remark that the prosecutor is not a policeman, he is merely a supervisor. The duty of enforcing the law in every municipality rests squarely upon the shoulders of the local police department and governing authorities. The chief of police, mayor and council and the police commissioner of Fort Lee testified that they never had any evidence of gambling at the Riviera.

With reference to Ingalls garage in Edgewater, New Jersey, practically the entire police department testified that they never found evidence of gambling there. A clergyman of that municipality was called and gave testimony which carried much weight. He testified that he passed the garage on many occasions and never saw anything suspicious. There is further testimony that as soon as the prosecutor's attention was called to this garage during the latter part of October, he immediately wrote a letter to the chief of police of that municipality. Furthermore, he instructed Chief Lockwood, who, in compliance with these instructions contacted the local chief of police to ascertain whether or not rumors of gambling were true.

The majority report stresses the fact that this matter was called to the attention of the local police, yet there is nothing to show that the local police called the matter to the attention of the prosecutor.

With reference to these particular matters, I would like to call your attention to the testimony of Colonel Schwartzkopf, the head of the State Police system of New Jersey. He stated that he always received the fullest co-operation from the prosecutor's office in Bergen county, and that conditions in Bergen county were on a par with any other county in the State of New Jersey.

ALLEGED ELECTION FRAUDS IN BERGEN COUNTY

The majority report refers to a school election held in Lyndhurst, New Jersey, during 1934. There appeared before the committee Mr. Stanton Lawrence, a lawyer, who represented the contestant in that election. It was conclusively shown that after the election, a proceeding was had before the State Commissioner of Education to determine who was legally elected. In that proceeding the four suspected election officers were called to testify. They became immune from any criminal prosecution because of this fact. The record disclosed that the prosecutor consulted Circuit Court Judge Edwin C. Caffrey, one of the outstanding jurists of this State, to make certain that these men were immune because of this particular election statute. After fortifying himself with the opinion of Judge Caffrey, the prosecutor informed the petitioner's counsel of the law. In view of the fact that election officers were immune, no blame can be attached to the prosecutor's action.

Reference is made to the election in Lyndhurst during 1932. Mr. Breslin was not appointed prosecutor until 1934, therefore, he cannot be charged with any dereliction with reference to this particular election. The prosecutor at that time, as disclosed by the testimony, was Mr. George F. Lösche, a Republican.

PERJURED TESTIMONY

At the public hearings, one Meyers testified that he had gambled at the Riviera; Switz testified that he had gambled at Ingalls in Edgewater; Voros testified that he had been solicited by a woman in Garfield and Russell testified that he purchased lottery tickets. After Switz had testified before the Young Legislative Committee, his conscience bothered him and on a Friday night he went to see Mr. Michael Shershin, at which time he made an affidavit to the effect that he had committed perjury when he testified. This matter was called to the attention of Mr. Carpenter the following morning.

These four parties were apprehended and they readily and quickly admitted their guilt. On Monday morning a special hearing was held by the committee on short notice, at the unusual hour of nine o'clock in the morning at the Court House in Hackensack, New Jersey. The primary purpose of this hearing was to hamper the ordinary processes of justice in Bergen county. The witnesses told the committee that they had committed perjury which they had already confessed to the prosecutor's office. The action of the committee in interfering with the regular procedure in Bergen county was without justification. The seriousness of the situation necessitated the presence of a county judge. Counsel for the committee, by communicating with the prosecutor could have avoided the disgraceful scene that ensued. His theory was that the prisoners had been brow-beaten and intimidated. Subsequent events destroyed this theory. Mr. Carpenter openly admitted on Monday afternoon that he had been mistaken and apologized for his actions.

It is inconceivable how the prosecutor can be criticized for his action in this matter. Here we have a situation where four parties are willing to destroy the reputation, character and good name of certain officials for various motives. No man with red blood could stand idly by and see another man attacked and perhaps ruined permanently in the public eye with such testimony.

The majority report deals with the testimony of one Truax. In view of the fact that four witnesses have already retracted their story and Truax has done likewise, I feel that it is unwise for the committee to comment on the situation before the committee knows the truth as to whether or not Truax committed perjury.

BAIL BOND SITUATION

The evidence before the committee discloses that the Bergen county prosecutor merely recommends the amount of the bail and the sheriff passes on the sufficiency of the bail. The obligation and responsibility of the sufficiency of the bail is placed upon the sheriff. Although Mr. Corriston may have written many bail bonds in Bergen county, there is nothing to show that there has been an unusual number of forfeitures or that there was anything illegal or irregular in the procedure. The system is very strict. The sheriff demands that a search and an appraisal be made of the property offered as security.

I desire to join with the majority of the committee in commending Sheriff O'Connell in his method of selecting jurors and feel certain that his procedure as to bail is equally commendable.

FAILURE TO CALL THE PROSECUTOR

The primary purpose of every investigation is to ascertain the truth. There are two sides to every question. It is revolting to our American ideals to present only one feature of any debate. The committee has had approximately twelve weeks to call the prosecutor. It is quite evident that the members were not willing to give him an opportunity to be heard. It is an elementary principle of law that when a party has an opportunity to call a witness who has actual knowledge of certain facts, and fails to do so, an inference arises that his testimony would be damaging to that party's cause. It is most apparent that if the prosecutor had been called he could have gone into detail to show the efforts he made to keep Bergen county as free from crime as reasonably could be expected. The prosecutor probably could have told about various matters concerning which unfavorable inferences may otherwise be drawn.

In a recent investigation in this State, the prosecutor of another county was given an opportunity to show facts for the benefit of the committee.

I charge that the failure to call the prosecutor shows clearly that this investigation was strictly political and was conceived with the motivating idea to secure the control of the prosecutor's office in Bergen county for a certain Republican faction.

CONCLUSION

It is a matter of common knowledge that Bergen county has seventy-one municipalities. Its population is approximately four hundred thousand. Large sums of money are expended by the county and municipalities for police regulations. Why should the prosecutor be charged with the responsibility of policing seventy-one municipalities with a relatively small force of detectives? When his attention is called to a matter, if he responds by notifying the municipal authorities and receives a report, his obligation ceases.

I desire to congratulate the officials of Bergen county upon the high standard of morality existing in that particular county. The people of Bergen county are most fortunate in having such officials.

Although the committee had numerous investigators who scoured the county from one end to the other, they were unable to produce a single witness before this committee to show that there was a disorderly house in Bergen county, a slot machine, or the existence of a lottery ring. In my humble opinion, this record is to be commended.

As a result of the reasons stated above, I respectfully urge and move that the Young Legislative Committee be dissolved and that this report be filed with the Clerk of the House of Assembly.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIS H. SHERRED,
Member of Committee.

Mr. Young, on behalf of the majority of the committee, arose and submitted the following supplemental majority report, and moved that the majority report and supplemental report be received and spread in full upon the Minutes.

Which motion was adopted.

SUPPLEMENTAL REPORT OF ASSEMBLY LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE CONDITIONS IN THE COUNTY OF BERGEN

April 22, 1935.

The printed report of your committee having been prepared in conjunction with counsel, the committee desires to present a supplemental report with regard to the services of counsel.

We have found that our counsel, Mr. James D. Carpenter, and his assistant, Mr. Michael J. Shershin, have given all their available time to the service of your committee and have worked diligently, carefully and intelligently to obtain all possible information for the committee and to enable it to make a prompt report.

It is solely through their efforts that the committee has made as much progress as it has, and we feel that the committee, as well as the Legislature, owes to Mr. Carpenter and to Mr. Shershin a debt of gratitude and thanks for their untiring and understanding service.

HENRY YOUNG, JR., Chairman
A. R. RIGGS

Mr. Schroeder offered the following resolution, which was read by the Clerk:

A Resolution concerning the special committee of this House appointed pursuant to the terms of the Assembly resolution entitled "A resolution appointing a special committee to inquire into certain alleged corrupt conduct, crimes and misdemeanors and civil officers of the State of New Jersey, particularly in Bergen county; and to investigate alleged violations of law by any public official, public body, department, board or commission in the county of Bergen and State of New Jersey," and concerning the report of such special committee.

WHEREAS, By a resolution of this House, a special committee of five persons was appointed to investigate and inquire into the alleged opening of ballot boxes and tampering with and marking or altering the ballots cast at the General Election on November sixth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four, and to investigate and inquire into the administration of justice in the county of Bergen, including the selection of juries grand and petit, and the alleged corrupt conduct, crimes and misdemeanors of any public official, public body, department, board or commission in the county of Bergen; and,

WHEREAS, On April fifteenth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, said special committee was specially directed by resolution of this House to render a report on its activity, and to support the same with any and all legal evidence which it may have been able to obtain, and was further directed to set out the names and titles of the several civil officers of the State of New Jersey in Bergen county, whose conduct and actions have been investigated by said special committee, and which of the civil officers of the State of New Jersey in Bergen county whose conduct and actions have not as yet been considered, and in which respects said special committee has failed to comply with the directions of this House; and,

WHEREAS, It is disclosed by the report of said special committee that they, after many weeks' work and the expenditure of many thousands of dollars, have only been able to secure limited and scant legal proof that certain criminal statutes of the State of New Jersey were violated in Bergen county, and it is known to this House that at least a portion of such testimony was untrue and perjured; and,

WHEREAS, Said special committee has not been able to ascertain by any legal proof what person or persons were guilty of the said infractions or violations of the criminal law; and,

Gentlemen:

I am advocating the elimination of all conferences and assemblies because I have seen such legislative bodies in action and their irresponsibility makes me furious. I want a responsible business government of only a few people—the fewer the better. There would be no patronage, no salaries given to hangers-on, or for work created only to get some of the public money. We, the taxpayers, are getting rather tired of footing fool bills.

Yours truly,

(Signed) BEATRIX BUDELL.

The following communication was sent to the desk, and read by the Clerk:

April 29, 1935.

Honorable Joseph Altman, House of Assembly, State House, Trenton, New Jersey.

Dear Joe:

It is my understanding that you will be acting as Speaker of the House at tonight's session.

A situation has arisen which makes it immediately necessary to organize the State Highway Commission so that it may function. The time for the awarding of a number of contracts expires May first. This work is to be done largely with Federal Public Roads Funds. The estimates have been received and the checks of the lowest bidders have been held for some time. It is my desire to have Senate 215, creating the office of a single State Highway Commissioner and providing for the reorganization of the State Highway Department, passed tonight.

Some statements were made at the conference of last Wednesday which indicated that there had been some doubt as to my desire to have this measure passed. I recommended this action in my inaugural message and felt that it was clearly understood that this was part of the Governor's program. Will you please so advise the members of the Legislature.

Unless this bill is favorably acted upon by 10 o'clock tonight, it is my intention to complete the organization of the present highway function, so that it may legally act upon matters requiring immediate attention.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) HAROLD G. HOFFMAN,
Governor.

The following telegram was sent to the desk and read by the Clerk:

Hope you will do everything possible to pass one-man highway bill. The Governor desires its passage tonight. A very definite Republican promise.

DEAR SIRS—I am a user of "Nucoa" oleomargarine "Good Food products" manufactured by "Best Food Inc." and can say it is a very good product. I am one for removing State tax or license from such products as these, as it is a necessity in place of butter as the depression has made it impossible for me to buy butter. So lets hope you legislators will do something to make it cheaper to buy.

Yours respectfully,

*To His Excellency the Governor of New Jersey
The Senate and General Assembly
Hon. A. Crozer Reeves, Senator
Hon. Dayton D. McKean, Assemblyman
Hon. Crawford Jamieson, Assemblyman
Hon. Frank S. Katzenbach, III, Assemblyman*

At the direction of the members of this association, I have the honor to submit to you, herewith, a copy of a resolution adopted by this association April 29, 1935:

WHEREAS, There is increasing comment in the public press that a sales tax will be the unhappy result of your effort to find new revenue; and

WHEREAS, A recently completed survey conducted by the Rockefeller Foundation covering the tax situation in 27 States, 18 of which had passed a sales tax, has given increased meaning and content to the opinion of this country's leading economists that a sales tax is an ancient and discredited levy which should not be a part of the tax system of any enlightened modern government; and

WHEREAS, It is the conviction of this association that a sales tax is wasteful because costly to collect, inequitable because the poor must bear its burden, intolerable because its history has been one of increasing percentages, and ill-advised as a depressant to a business world so sorely in need of stimulant; now therefore,

Be It Resolved, That the Hungarian Merchants' & Trademen's Ass'n of Mercer County, Inc., does hereby express its opposition to a sales tax and respectfully requests that Assembly Bill No. 296 be withdrawn from the files of the House of Assembly;

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent forthwith to His Excellency the Governor, the Senate and General Assembly, and each representative of Mercer County therein.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) SANDERS ROSA,

Mr. Kerner offered the following resolution, which was read by the Clerk and adopted:

Resolved, That the privileges of the floor be extended to Mr. Charles A. Peterson, State Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the State of New Jersey; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Speaker be and is hereby requested to extend the privileges of the floor to Commander Peterson to address the House.

The Speaker invited Commander Peterson to address the House.

Commander Peterson addressed the House as follows:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey: I want to thank you and the members of this House for this privilege to speak before this honorable body, on a subject that is very important to the ex-service men of New Jersey and also the general public, if the President of the United States, Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt, will sign the House Resolution Bill number one, the Patman bill, commonly called the Soldier Bonus. I, as State Commander of the Department of New Jersey, Veterans of Foreign Wars of United States, head an organization composed of over 139 Posts with a membership of over twenty-five thousand, and our Ladies' Auxiliary with over 100 units composed of some fifteen thousand members, appear here tonight to ask you members of the House of Assembly to reconsider the action of this body on a resolution that was offered by myself to the Veterans' Legislative Committee, and was passed by them and forwarded to this honorable body for your consideration.

The resolution was that the members of the House of Assembly, and the State Senate of the New Jersey State Legislature, pass a resolution asking the President of the United States to sign the Patman Bonus Bill now on his desk at the White House.

The resolution was accepted by you, Mr. Speaker, and was placed before the members of this House for their consideration, after a brief talk by those for and against, a vote was taken and the resolution was lost, according to your decision.

I do not want to have you members of this House think that the resolution was not given a fair consideration, but I question the results of the vote on the grounds that it was so close that there should have been a roll call, because, in my opinion, there were just as many that voted for the resolution, if not more, than those which opposed the resolution, so that is my reason for appearing before you members of this Assembly.

The Bonus bill was presented to Congress by the Honorable Wright Patman, Congressman from the State of Texas, and is known as House Resolution Number One. At the opening of the present session of Congress, and after its presentation, others saw fit to present other measures of paying the Bonus with an idea in mind of killing off the Patman bill. On March 22, after over a week of wrangling over the various bills, the Patman bill was then presented to the members for their consideration, and same was passed by a vote of 318 to 90. The bill was then sent to the United States Senate and after a two-day debate the vote was taken and the Senate passed the Patman bill by a vote of 55 to 33.

Late last week the Patman bill was sent to the White House and the President has stated that he will appear before the joint session of Congress and that he will veto the bill, and give the reasons why. As State Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of New Jersey, I think that the President of the United States has gone far afield on this question and he has stated that he will voice his opinion very strongly to the members of Congress, that with all his heart he will ask that the members of Congress sustain his veto.

I feel that because the Congress that was in session in 1924 made a very grave mistake, and the subsequent sessions of Congress saw fit to overlook the mistake of the members of 1924, that the present members of Congress should right a wrong that was made upon the Veterans of this nation. I say here tonight that you members should call upon the President to sign this Patman bill and that if in the event he does veto the bill, that the members of Congress from New Jersey be called upon by the members of the New Jersey State Legislature to over-ride the President's veto. I think that this is proper and that you members of this body have the right to speak for the people of this State. Every member of this House was elected by either the Democratic or the Republican party to represent the people of his or her county in this Legislature and then the people voted to send you people down to the State Capitol to vote in the interest of the people as a whole. Each party at its respective conventions adopted a platform and in that platform they entered a plank saying that each member elected by the people of his or her county would vote in the interest of bills that would come before them in the interest of the veterans of this State. I hope that you members have not forgotten your platform promises and that you will reconsider your actions on last Monday night.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to dwell upon the merits of the Patman bill and give you members some idea why we of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of New Jersey think that the Patman bill will at no time injure the credit of the Treasury of the United States, or create any taxation on the people of this nation or this State.

To enlighten you members, there is in this State of New Jersey 116,440 veterans, not saying anything about their families, which in round figures number about 300,000 voters in this State of ours, and that if this bill is signed and becomes a law or should the President fail to sign the bill and that the Congress votes to over-ride the veto, that the veterans in New Jersey will receive $69,579,645.00, which will go into every nook and corner of this State and will greatly help the program that the present administration has advanced for the recovery of this nation of ours.

Honorable Harold G. Hoffman, Governor of this State, has offered to the members of this Legislature a tax program that will greatly aid the running of the State government of New Jersey, and especially the relief situation of the people of this State, who are unfortunate in not having employment and who are in destitute circumstances. If his program is not adopted that many people of this State will starve and not have the necessities of life to carry on in the interest of their families.

You members of this House have other plans of aiding the people of this State, and it looks to me that something will have to be done to carry on the relief program that was started some years ago, and must be carried on in the interest of the poor and destitute of our State.

I feel that, with 69 million of dollars coming into this State, it will help the recovery program of the present National Administration at Washington, and that, with the distribution of this money all over the State of New Jersey, every merchant, business man, every manufacturer, and the bankers of this State will all receive a large part of the Bonus money that will be spent by the veterans of this State.

Men like Honorable William G. McAdoo, Senator from California, formerly Treasurer of the United States under President Wilson; Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the R. F. C.; Marriner S. Eccles, Governor of the Federal Reserve Board; the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin; David Lawrence, an authority on political issues; Robert Owen Former, chairman of the United States Senate Banking and Currency Committee and author of the Federal Reserve Act; Senator Elmer Thomas, former chairman of the Finance Committee of the U. S. Senate, and all the national commanders of the veterans' organizations are in favor of the passage of the Patman bill.

I would like to give you, Mr. Speaker and members of this body, the twelve reasons why the Bonus should be paid now, with your permission:

No. 1—Payment of this obligation will remove thousands of veterans from the Federal government relief rolls.

No. 2—With each veteran receiving approximately $500.00 in cash these men and their families can be removed from the relief rolls of the local community chest and charity organizations.

No. 3—By paying this obligation to the World War veteran now, the Federal government will accomplish two objectives—payment of a portion of our national debt which must be paid eventually and the distribution of funds that will provide much-needed relief.

No. 4—Payment of this debt to the veterans at this present time will reduce the national debt, because this obligation is already a part of the national debt.

No. 5—Unless immediate cash payment is authorized, the balance due the World War veterans on their certificates will be consumed by compound interest and they will receive virtually nothing in 1945.

No. 6—The proposed distribution of $2,200,000,000 for this purpose is in exact accord with the relief policies of the present administration, and offers no chance for graft or favoritism.

No. 7—With the funds already made available by the government's gold revaluation policy, no increase in taxation and no bond issue will be necessary.

No. 8—The sum of $2,200,000,000 can easily be paid to veterans by the Federal government from the profits of $2,800,000,000 earned on the government's policy of gold revaluation.

No. 9—Economists admit present gold reserves will permit the issuance of new currency for the payment of this debt, thus saving the Federal government one billion dollars, the amount that must be raised by 1945 under existing plan.

No. 10—The money involved will create added buying power for the purchase of necessities for at least 12 million persons, which includes three and one-half million veterans and their dependents.

No. 11—A total of ten million dollars will be saved by the Federal government in administration expenses of the Adjusted Compensation Act between now and 1945.

No. 12—The distribution of $2,200,000,000 can be accomplished with no expense to the Federal government through the creation of new bureaus, commissions or political pay-rolls.

In behalf of all World War veterans and their dependents, and in the interest of sound economics, the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States appeal for the united support and co-operation of all fair-minded citizens. We ask non-veterans, as well as veterans, to write letters today urging support of this issue to all members of Congress from New Jersey in this district. Every member of the House and Senate from the State of New Jersey must be impressed with the fact that public sentiment is enthusiastically in favor of immediate cash payment of the so-called bonus in this State.

Mr. Speaker, I want to conclude with these remarks, that upon behalf of the veterans of this State, I thank you and the members again for this privilege and hope that you will consider my appeal in the interest of the veterans of New Jersey and hope that later on this evening you will place the resolution back upon the floor and that the members of this House will vote in favor of the resolution. Thank you.

Mr. Kerner moved that the address of Commander Peterson be spread in full upon the Minutes.

Which motion was adopted.

Resolved, That the following attached resolution be spread in full upon the minutes of the House and the Clerk be and is hereby directed to acknowledge receipt of the same to the Common Council of the Borough of Woodbury Heights, Gloucester county.

RESOLUTION relating to proposed high speed line in South Jersey.

WHEREAS, The construction of the high speed line over the Delaware River bridge when completed will afford an excellent medium whereunder it will be possible to project and establish high speed railway lines for passenger traffic between the city of Philadelphia and many of the suburban communities in South Jersey; and

WHEREAS, The construction and establishment of such lines would, by offering better transportation facilities to commuters and others, cause many persons and their families to establish their homes in South Jersey and establish new ratables and generally bring to all the people of South Jersey many incidental advantages too numerous to mention, which in turn would benefit the State at large; and

WHEREAS, The residents and citizens of the borough of Woodbury Heights who are daily users of the present inadequate transportation facilities existing between Woodbury Heights, Camden and Philadelphia are potential users of any more efficient transportation facilities which may hereafter be established, thus offering to the proposed high speed line project a course of additional revenue; and

WHEREAS, Said borough of Woodbury Heights is so situated that it would afford a convenient and suitable station or depot along one of the contemplated high speed lines; now therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Mayor and Council of the Borough of Woodbury Heights, as follows:

1. That the governing body of the borough of Woodbury Heights does hereby pledge itself to support the movement or proposal for the construction of a high speed railway line or lines to be operated between the city of Philadelphia and certain feasible points in South Jersey for the transportation of passengers and light freight.

2. That every member of the governing body of the borough of Woodbury Heights shall take it upon himself to communicate personally or by other means with the several agencies which are now contributing to the much-hoped-for realization of the much desired high speed lines.

3. That all the facilities existing in the borough of Woodbury Heights which would in any way contribute toward the successful establishment and maintenance of such high speed railway lines, be and hereby offered to the South Jersey Transit Commission, Delaware River Bridge Joint Commission, the several railway companies now operating in South Jersey, and such other agencies as may be interested in such a project, as an inducement to them to bring into being such a necessary public utility.

4. That certified copies of this resolution be forwarded by the borough clerk immediately upon its adoption to the following: one copy to the Secretary of the Delaware River Bridge Joint Commission, one copy to Robert C. Hendrickson in his official capacity as a member of the New Jersey State Senate, one copy to Edward H. Adopted at a regular meeting of the Council of Woodbury Heights, New Jersey, held May 13, 1935.

*Hon. Frederick A. Brodesser,
State House,

MY DEAR MR. BRODESSER—The groups who, year after year, have been fighting the legislation of the Essex Troop Rifle Range Corporation of West Orange, did not realize the import of Senate 320. Immediately upon its passage, however, a request was made in Washington for P. W. A. funds to build an armory, stables and garages on this property in West Orange.

We have been able to defeat State legislation that has been introduced year after year to secure tax exemptions for this property. Besides the opposition of the town of West Orange, and the Essex County Board of Freeholders, more than twenty organizations—municipal, county and State—have gone on record in opposition to these bills. More than one hundred newspaper articles have appeared during these years, including among them many editorials.

We are grateful to the Legislature for the consistent help in defeating the legislation from year to year. We now ask that you support Assembly 404, the repealer of Senate 320. Your help at this time will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) (MRS.) ELIZABETH E. NICKLAUS,
Legislative Chairman, West Orange Realty Protective Association.

WHEREAS, We have petitioned the United States Government for assistance in the installation of this work program; and

WHEREAS, We have been instructed by the United States Governmental Agency in charge of this worthy branch of work to present our cause to the Legislature of the State of New Jersey; and

WHEREAS, We have further been advised by such United States Governmental Agency that they are in accord with our efforts and endeavors in this direction; and

WHEREAS, We feel that immediate and necessary action should be taken by the State of New Jersey pertaining to the inauguration and installation of a work program; now therefore,

Be It Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to Governor Hoffman of the State of New Jersey; a copy sent to the Clerk of the Assembly of the State of New Jersey, and a copy sent to Assemblyman Joseph Altman of Atlantic County, for the purpose of reading the same into the Minutes of the Assembly of New Jersey so that a permanent and public record may be made of this resolution.

The following communication was sent to the desk and read by the Clerk:

To the House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

The New Jersey State Taxpayers Association respectfully petitions your Honorable Body as follows:

Much controversy has arisen in the State as to the means to be employed in financing the extraordinary demands upon the State treasury in order to provide sufficient money for unemployment relief. Two schools of thought have developed, and lines have been drawn between the two schools in a manner which daily takes on more closely the appearance of battle. The one school, effectively disregarding the possibility of substantial retrenchment in public expenditure, proposes to raise the sums assumed to be necessary and additional moneys for so-called relief to real estate, by imposing upon the already over-burdened people of this State additional taxes in the form of a sales tax and an income tax, with a possible further tax upon intangibles and upon corporations. The other school assumes that the new burden can be carried through curtailment in present expenditures and by the elimination of concededly useful, but as is claimed, inessential services.

The first school is represented by the Governor, who has carried on throughout the months of the session a tireless campaign throughout the State to such an extent that one is led to believe that pride of early asserted opinion has blinded him to possibilities in some modified program. The second school of thought finds its protagonist in the Speaker of the House of Assembly, who himself has developed a pride of opinion comparable to that of the Governor.

The appointment of a fact finding committee by the Assembly some months ago gave hope to the oppressed taxpayer that a survey of the various spending agencies of the State might reveal to the public the true fiscal condition of the State, and that the warring factions might at last come together upon some program based upon reality instead of pride of opinion. This committee, however, without funds, was confronted with what to the thoughtful observer could not appear other than obstructive tactics on the part of the spending agencies, tactics for which the Governor as chief executive responsible for the proper administration of the departments, cannot be held without blame. The cavalier treatment which this committee received, not only at the hands of the Democratic minority of the House, but at the hands of numerous concurring members of their own party, combined with the obstructions above referred to, sent glimmering the hopes of the taxpayers that some real light be thrown upon the situation. At the present time it would appear that the Governor no more knows whether the Speaker's program is capable of accomplishment than does the Speaker whether the Governor's program as a whole or in part is necessary. The Speaker's program, however, could be adopted as a temporary measure without preventing the subsequent adoption of the Governor's if on study that program should prove to be necessary, whereas the adoption of the Governor's program gives the final quietus to the Speaker's, though it should subsequently transpire that the Speaker was right. From inquiry it would appear that nowhere in the complicated structure of our State government is there any man or authority capable of stating a true balance sheet of State resources and liabilities, or capable of intelligently informing inquirers entitled to the knowledge what of the funds standing to the credit of the State are thus far uncommitted to definite contracts or projects of one kind or another, and what funds by curtailment in programs in the various departments might be capable of diversion under the broad principles of the Speaker's plan.

If press reports are to be credited, the battle has now ceased to be fought along lines of debate upon opinion and is taking the more practical turn toward political appointments and legislative compromise upon measures asserted as party policy by the majority and directed at what the majority has long insisted were vicious election and similar practises in sections controlled by the minority. In short, if these reports be true, the battle is now forming along lines of deals between those supporting the Governor and the old line politicians of the Republican party and the Democratic State machine in exchange for support in the Assembly of the gubernatorial program. The battle has left the forum of public opinion and has entered the forum of machine politics with the essential facts involved in the problem still unavailable to the contestants. Such an alignment, if realized, points the way clearly to a bi-partisan racket under the present administration scarcely to be distinguished from the unsavory bi-partisan alliance of the discredited Larson regime.

In view of this situation the New Jersey State Taxpayers Association petitions the House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey to pass as emergency measures to preserve the existing status, bills (a) limiting the expenditures by the Highway Department substantially to maintenance projects except where actual contracts are now in existence; (b) diverting present treasury balances from that department to unemployment relief; (c) appointing an independent nationally known auditing or surveying organization, not resident in this State or subject to its political currents to make an honest and comprehensive survey of the finances of the State of New Jersey forthwith and with as great speed as possible in order that the Legislature may be placed in possession of the true financial situation in New Jersey so as to have proper data upon which to form a judgment in this highly important and complex matter. It is petitioned that an ample appropriation in keeping with the importance of the work be afforded for this purpose and that pending the report of the surveying organization, no legislation of a permanent character affecting this problem be enacted.

NEW JERSEY TAXPAYERS ASSOCIATION,

A. R. EVERSON,
Executive Secretary.

REPORT OF STATE OFFICIALS PURSUANT TO RESOLUTION
OF THE HOUSE ADOPTED MONDAY, MAY 27, 1935

At 9 o'clock p. m., Monday, June 3, 1935, the Speaker announced that the three State officials be requested to produce certain information under a Resolution adopted Monday, May 27, 1935, and appeared before the Bar of the House and were willing to answer the questions propounded.

The Speaker recognized Mr. Young, of Essex, as the proponent of the Resolution.

Mr. Young: Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the three gentlemen, who are appearing before us this evening, for their co-operation in our intended inquiry.

I will read the first question in the Resolution, which is, Exactly how much cash was on deposit to the credit of the State of New Jersey in its departments, bureaus, and agencies as of May 1 or May 15, 1935?

The Speaker: Mr. Albright, the State Treasurer, will be very happy to answer.

Mr. Albright: Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in answering that question I will have to limit the balances, cash in banks to the credit of the State on May 1, as there are many departments, so that I shall give you the total of each department and each fund in the several banks.

The total on deposit of all funds in the State on May 1 was $33,374,086.26. That included General State Fund, amounting to $4,802,733.73; State Highway System Fund, amounting to $8,842,152.85; Grade Crossing Elimination Fund, $1,260,615.77; Motor Fuel Tax Fund, $8,265,093.03.

Mr. Speaker, there are a lot of small funds that are linked together here. I will run over the totals, and if you want, I will give the separate amounts of each total, or the total of the funds. These funds include Government Aid Funds, Forest Fire Funds, School Fund Income, School Fund Investment, State Purchase Fund, State Water Supply Fund, Morris Canal Account, State Highway Fund,

Road and Bridge Fund, Unclaimed Scrip Account, Clerk in Chancery Fund, State Forest and Forest Land Fund, Workmen's Compensation Tax Fund, 1837 Surplus Revenue Fund Income, 1837 Surplus Revenue Fund Investment, State Institution-Construction Account, Billboard Regulation Fund, State Highway Fund Act of 1930, Public Hunting and Shooting Grounds Account, National Industrial Recovery Act, Forest Land Fund, School Relief Fund, Clerk in Chancery Enrollment Fund, Unclaimed Accounts of Patients and Inmates of State Institutions, and gross receipts taxes in trust. In the gross receipts taxes in trust, Mr. Speaker, is a check that is held in escrow pending the disposition by the courts of monies due to municipalities. The amount is $881,000. It is held by the Treasury Department as trustee.

I find that the totals in these various funds—I would have to read them. I notice that the Clerk did not give the totals.

Mr. Speaker, there are certain funds known as Restricted Funds and Funds in Liquidation that are not included in my sum totals, but for the information of the House I give the total amounts in liquidation in Restricted Funds in the Banks of the State. I think you were all familiar with them during the late bank holiday. The Restricted Funds in the State Highway Fund amount in total to $846,000, and in the Motor Fuel Fund the total in liquidation is $283,296.23, and another restriction, $35,061.26. Cash on hand in the name of the State Treasurer for departments of the State—and this, Mr. Speaker, takes in accounts of the various institutions of the State that were transferred under a recent regulation of the Comptroller's Department, where all monies were credited to the State and not to the institutions.

Mr. Young: I did not get what that Restricted Fund was.

Mr. Albright: In the Motor Fuel Tax Fund, Restricted Fund, $35,061.26; in Liquidation, that is, banks in liquidation in which the State has money deposited, $283,296.23. That is in the Motor Fuel Tax Fund.

In the Roads and Bridges, Restricted, $516,000; in Liquidation, $330,000.

Mr. Young: Is there any difference between the Fund in Liquidation and the other Fund of $330,000?

Mr. Albright: Yes, Mr. Young, I think there is quite a difference. From the Fund Restricted we do get quite frequently dividends on account. Banks in liquidation will not show nearly as much return as on the Restricted Fund. I might say for the benefit of the members, Mr. Speaker, that we have been realizing in the last six months considerable more money from closed banks than we anticipated.

Continuing, Mr. Speaker, this is cash in hand. May I say, Mr. Speaker, that when I first announced the total fund in all banks to our credit as cash I gave the total in millions. I am giving them now as department records.

The Speaker: There must be a little difficulty on the part of some members in hearing. I am going to ask the State Treasurer to speak a little louder. We have plenty of water, if he needs it. I am sure the members will give us their attention, and the gallery will co-operate.

Mr. Albright: Cash on hand in the department on May 1: Secretary of State, $22,437.84; Clerk in Chancery, $35,421; Clerk Supreme Court, $23,604.05; Judicial Fees, $121.71; State Board of Health, $129.17, and an account in another bank, $1,310.16; Labor Department, $3,254.22; Foreign Insurance Taxes, $561,592.01; Bordentown Prison Farm, seventy cents; Tax Appeals, $19.00; Billboard Licenses, $302.52; H. O. Perth Amboy, $22.25; Adjutant General, $17.00; Trenton Battle Monument, $13.10; State Use Appropriation, $11,807.78; State Board of Children's Guardians Appropriation, $18,260.69; Feebleminded, Vineland, $294.30; 1935 Miscellaneous Corporation Taxes, $10,401.20; Commissions, $3,620; Rehabilitation Commission, $2,953.40; total cash on hand in departments, $695,632.11.

The Emergency Relief Funds in the hands of the State Treasurer are, as far as his bank cash balances would reveal—I might make this note of explanation: Thousands of checks go out through the Emergency Relief headquarters in New Jersey, and it takes several weeks before they get back into the Treasury Department; hence I am not able to tell you just actually how much cash is in the banks until the checks come back cancelled—but our records on May 1 show the following: Trenton Banking Company, $2,797,395.28; First-Mechanics of Trenton, sixty-nine cents; Emergency Relief Federal L.5; Broad Street National Bank of Trenton, $1,140,101.46. Principal and interest, that is, the reserve from the a, b, and c tax for this last $10,000,000 bond issue that we had, set aside to meet those bonds. Amounts due the first in January next, $500,027.47; Emergency Relief Fund, Trenton Banking Company L.5, $1,137,056.58; Emergency Relief Fund, Trenton Banking Company, $300,000.

As I said, Mr. Speaker, those figures appear on our books as of May 1, but due to the fact that the Emergency Relief Administration is sending out these checks by the thousands daily it is impossible to close our books in one day on these funds.

Mr. Young: Mr. Speaker, I am sure that the Treasurer has answered the question fully, and I would like to thank him for his co-operation.

The Speaker: I am quite sure that perhaps we can make one big rise for all three at one time when all three have completed their jobs. Are there any questions, Mr. Young, that you would like to ask?

Mr. Young: I have the remaining questions of the Resolution, which are: Second, Give details of cash balances, listing banks in which funds are deposited, the amount in each bank, general State funds or funds deposited to an account of departments, bureaus, or agencies, specifying each department, bureau, or agency, and the amount credited in each.

The Speaker: Mr. Albright will answer.

Mr. Albright: Mr. Speaker, I have the answer to Mr. Young's question. It is rather voluminous. If you want me to go into details, all right, but we will consume considerable time. I will give you the separate funds, or I will read every bank in the State then carrying State money to the several accounts desired.

Mr. Young: Mr. Speaker, due to the shortness of the time, I move that this part of the report be spread in full on the minutes of the Assembly.

(The motion was passed.)

Mr. Young: Going to the third question, Give in detail the balance of the appropriations voted in the past years which have not been expended or re-appropriated.

The Speaker: Mr. Murray will answer that.

Mr. Murray: Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there are no appropriations, no appropriation balances from past years in the State Fund which have been re-appropriated and which have not been expended. All appropriation balances in the State Fund which are not re-appropriated are lapsed into the Fund and the amounts merged into the assets of the Fund and are represented as part of the balance. This is not true of two accounts, and those two are the Institution-Construction Fund and the Highway Fund.

The appropriation balances in the Institution-Construction Fund are set up entirely out of bond monies and cannot be diverted or lapsed.

The appropriation balance in the Highway Fund, amounting to $9,624,078.24, could be rescinded to the extent of $8,011,924.90, representing $3,451,040.62 of free State funds and $4,560,884.28 of bond monies.

The balance representing Federal Aid can only be used on Federal projects, and therefore can neither be rescinded nor does it lapse. Should the entire $8,011,924.90 appropriation balance in the Highway Fund be rescinded, only $3,451,040.62 is available for other purposes, as the $4,560,884.28 represents bond monies which, under the Bond Act, can be used only for the construction of bridges and purchases of rights of way.

Our office has prepared an answer to question number 1, believing that it comprehended more than a mere statement of the total cash balance in the bank on May 1. If the House cares to hear that answer, I shall be pleased to make it. This gives a picture of a little more than the naked statement of the amount of total cash. It gives the other assets which are available for expenditures.

First, as to the State Fund: This does not include the Highway System Fund, which is treated separately further on in this statement. The total cash to the credit of all State Funds, with the exception of the Highway System, was, on May 1, 1935, $27,626,552.52. To illustrate what I meant before, I would state that the balance on deposit of the Highway and the other related departments, not included in the figure of $27,000,000, which I read for the General State Fund, was $22,138,805.04. or a total of about $49,750,000 on deposit in all accounts in the State. Some of those balances are not known to the Treasurer until funds are turned over to him from the Motor Vehicle Department and other departments. It is for that reason that his balances would not show the complete picture, but those figures do show the complete picture on May 1, 1935. In addition to the $27,626,000 total cash of all State funds on May 1 there were miscellaneous receivables of $23,899,000. There were other miscellaneous assets amounting to $206,000. There were miscellaneous deficits of $515,000. It is anticipated that there shall be collected during May and June in the State Fund to cover appropriations made $3,388,000, making a total asset value in all funds, except the Highway Fund, of $55,636,000. This amount is to be used as follows: Accounts and Commitments payable, $4,467,000; amounts due to the counties, $50,983,000; amounts due to the Teachers Pension, $6,437,000; due for paid service, $5,324,000; due for commitments and allotments of Emergency Relief, $6,715,000; reserve for trust purposes, $1,014,000; reserve for Sinking Fund Investments, $5,070,000; appropriation balances of bond monies on Institution-Construction and Educational Aid, $1,479,000; appropriation for Dedicated Funds, $411,000; appropriation for State Fund to June 30, 1935, $6,323,000, or a total of $52,928,000, leaving the estimated surplus in the State as of June 30, 1935, of $2,708,000. The details supporting the above summary will be found in the accompanying schedules entitled State Fund, Dedicated Funds, Trust Funds, and Capital Funds. This data is rather voluminous, and the House is probably unwilling to take the time to hear it read.

Mr. Young: Mr. Speaker, I move that this part of the report be spread in full on the minutes of the Assembly.

(The motion was passed.)

Mr. Young: May I ask one question? Back toward the beginning of your report you said that there was a fund of $9,624,000 that could be rescinded to the extent of $8,011,924.90. In what manner could that be rescinded?

Mr. Murray: Merely by action of the Legislature. That refers to balances which are tied up by appropriations previously made—made in 1934 or previous to 1934. The only way that money could be released would be by Legislative act.

Mr. Young: May I inquire, Sir, whether the attached schedule details the funds from which that balance of $8,011,944.30 would be derived?

Mr. Murray: It does.

Mr. Young: Thank you.

The Speaker: Any further questions?

Mr. Young: The next question is number 4. State exactly what funds appropriated in past years for special purposes are unexpended, to the end that we may determine whether it is possible to release those funds so that such monies may be returned into the General Fund, and give amounts and details.

The Speaker: Mr. Murray will answer that.

Mr. Murray: The funds which have been appropriated for specific purposes in the past, and which could be changed by Legislative act, are the State Purchase Fund, the State Forest and Forest Land Fund, the State Water Supply Fund, and the Hunting and Fishing Grounds Fund, the details of which are given in the Dedicated Funds exhibits. They are a part of this report

Mr. Young: The total of that, Sir, is what?

Mr. Murray: It is very small. I can give them to you. There are not very many of them.

State Purchase Fund, $26,166.32. This is a revolving fund used for purchases for institutions, agencies, and departments. The State Water Supply Fund, $57,971.36. Of this amount the fund owed the State Fund is $38,580. The surplus in this fund is $19,391. The State Forest and Forest Land Fund shows a balance of $16,809. They are set aside for the Department of Conservation and Development for State Forest purposes, so the amounts are comparatively small in this account.

The Speaker: Any further questions, Mr. Young?

Mr. Young: Question number 5 on the Resolution is, In an analysis of the State Highway Fund, prepared by the Auditing and Accounting Bureau, as of March 5, 1935, under the heading of Incompleted Contracts, December 31, 1934, there is an item of $12,123,274.71, which is designated as balance of 1933 and 1934 program, but on this analysis which is attached there is a total balance of $12,123,274.91. State definitely whether the funds set up in the item of this total, on page two, have been expended or contracts have been executd. State exactly the status of each work project therein listed and whether work is actually under way, and if so, the percentage thereof completed.

The Speaker: Mr. Sterner will answer that.

Mr. Sterner: Mr. Speaker and members of the Assembly, in answer to question number 5, in the analysis of the State Highway Fund the item of $12,123,274.71 referred to therein appears on the statement attached hereto marked A. The specific question concerning the rights of way funds refers to the first column of figures on the statement marked B, under the heading Rights of Way. The statement marked B-1 is presented, showing in detail the status of this item $3,095,000. This statement is applicable against bond issue authorized for 1934, but the bonds have not been sold.

Referring to question number 5, we present first a statement marked C-1 showing a statement of commitment as of May 1. It has been corrected to include contracts to June 1. That is attached hereto. It will be submitted with our other exhibits.

I shall just go over this briefly first, and then if there are any specific questions, I shall endeavor to answer them. I may not be able to give answers on all occasions, but Mr. Howell, our chief auditor, who has a thorough knowledge of the department, may answer where I may not be able to.

This statement of contracts was referred to because it is an index to the complete financial condition of the State Highway Department. It does not, of course, include any unexpended revenues for 1935 for the reason that no action has yet been taken by the Legislature on the State Highway Appropriation Bill for 1935. Under the heading of Assets we show the cash balance of the State Highway Fund on May 1, 1935, applicable to 1935 and prior years commitments, and exclusive of receipts which are to be on our 1935 program, with the additional income of assets as listed therein. This brings our total assets to $26,078,000. It is to be particularly noted that the total assets include the item of $6,000,000 of bonds authorized. They have not been sold as yet.

Under the heading of Commitments there appears first the item showing amounts paid on open contracts for construction of State Highway System including all contracts awarded up to June 1, 1935. This item shows the amount to be paid on all contracts awarded and under way. All of the others under the heading Commitments are explanatory for their purposes.

The last sentence of question number 5, as to the exact status of each project listed in the statement marked B under the heading of Commitments for the Balance of 1933 and 1934, Construction Program as of December 31, 1934, the statement submitted herewith marked C-2 shows the status of each project referred to in the above question, and another statement marked C-3 shows the exact condition of each contract awarded during the period from January 1 to June 1, 1935. This statement also shows the funds to be used in the performance of each contract. There is presented also a statement marked C-4, which shows a statement of May 9, 1935, of all contracts awarded and under way.

Mr. Young: May I ask this further question? You say that you have quick assets, I will put it that way, of $26,000,000 including $6,000,000 bond issue. Of the remaining $20,000,000 is there any balance uncommitted by contract, and if so, how much?

Mr. Sterner: You refer to the unappropriated balance? There is an item of $2,515,724.25 as of January 1.

Mr. Young: That is from the 1935 Highway budget?

Mr. Sterner: That is the 1934 budget.

Mr. Young: Is there any balance from previous years, Sir?

Mr. Sterner: No.

Mr. Young: Have you the present figures?

Mr. Howell: In reply to that I would say that this figure is still the figure from which the new year's budget is being figured, for the balance being treated in consideration of our appropriation for the year 1935.

Mr. Young: That is correct. The Highway Department works on the calendar year.

Mr. Howell: That is right. And this figure is under consideration.

Mr. Young: Mr. Speaker, there is one remaining question.

Number 6: On page 1 of the analysis of the State Highway Fund under the heading of Purchase of Right of Way, showing incompleted contracts as of December 31, 1934, there is a total of $6,098,661.11. State exactly how much of this has been expended, how many of these contracts have been executed, and if contracted, give the date of the State's agreement in each case.

Mr. Howell: Question number 6 refers to an item which appears on the statement marked A under the heading of Purchase of Right of Way. This figure is corrected today in the index statement above referred to as C-1. The amount as of May 1 is $6,273,946.06. The statement marked D-1 is presented herewith, detailing the particular projects to which the amounts are applicable. You will note that this detailed statement, D-1, includes a set-up for right of way acquisition or property purchases during the past several years. A number of these old balances have been held for the acquisition of rights of way necessary to be acquired in connection with the carrying out of contemplated programs of highway construction. It is to be noted that these monies are entirely bond funds and are not, therefore, subject to diversion save by a majority vote of the people. Some explanatory matters have been attached to the statement referred to which, I think, will assist in clarifying the information given.

I would just like to refer to the matter of rights of way. The balances that are shown may appear to the members of the House to run into a very large sum, but I will respectfully call your attention to an opinion of the Attorney-General, Mr. Wilentz, in connection with the absolute necessity for our department to have the funds on hand or the authorization for those funds before we can actually proceed with the construction of a highway. This communication from Mr. Wilentz I might read to you, as I believe it will be very enlightening in connection with this matter of rights of way, because I realize that it is rather complicated. As I mentioned, the large amounts that we have on hand would seem unusually large if the members did not understand this opinion of the Attorney-General.

(Mr. Howell read the communication from Mr. Wilentz.)

Mr. Young: Do I understand, then, the legal practice of the State Highway Department to be that a hundred per cent. of the cost of any project must be in hand, if it amount to more than $100,000.00, before the purchase is actually undertaken? Is that true?

Mr. Howell: That is true, regardless of the amount. We set up the amount of the estimated cost before the project has any consideration. You mentioned the figure $100,000.00. I state that if the estimated cost of the right of way on a particular project is $50,000.00, for instance, we set that $50,000.00 up for the purchase cost of that right of way.

Mr. Young: What I want to know is whether that $50,000.00 must be in hand.

Mr. Howell: Yes, sir.

Mr. Young: Before the purchase is undertaken?

Mr. Howell: That commits our fund to that extent.

Mr. Young: One further question. Assuming that the funds are in hand and the project is undertaken, but the owner has a flair in title or has a lay condemnation proceeding, what becomes of the funds so set aside for completion of that project?

Mr. Howell: That money is still held till that property is acquired.

Mr. Young: And what are the unexpended balances set aside for projects which have been delayed by such encumbrances? Do I understand that the answer is set forth in the schedule of the Commissioner?

Mr. Howell: We have not that analysis here. We haven't here the balance on commitments which would include those items. We would have to make a special analysis to give you that in detail.

The Speaker: Are there any further questions?

Mr. Young: I have neglected in the course of this questioning of the gentleman to move that the schedules which he has submitted be spread in full upon the minutes of the Assembly.

(The motion was passed.)

Mr. Young: That concludes the questions which I have.

Mr. Speaker, I think it is only fitting that we extend our kindest thanks to the Comptroller and Treasurer and Highway Commissioner for their co-operation, and I so move.

The Speaker: Let us give a rising vote of thanks to the three gentlemen, who so graciously came to us tonight.

 COMPTROLLER'S REPORT

To the Members of the General Assembly, Trenton, New Jersey

SIRS—Pursuant to the directions contained in the resolution with which I have been served, I am submitting herewith answers to the questions directed

AS TO QUESTION NO 1.

The total cash to the credit of all State Funds with the exception of the Highway System Fund which is treated separately on May 1, 1935, was	$27,626,552.52
There was Miscellaneous Receivables on the same date of	23,899,797.53
There were other Miscellaneous Assets amounting to	206,663.75
There were Miscellaneous Deficits of	515,421.50
It is anticipated that there shall be collected during May and June in the State Fund to cover appropriations made	3,388,370.77

Making a total asset value in all funds except the Highway Fund of	$55,636,806.07
--	-----------------

This entire amount is to be used for the following :

Accounts and Commitments Payable	$4,467,468.61
Due to Counties	15,983,369.68
Due to Teachers' Pension Fund	6,137,750.22
Due for Debt Service	5,324,549.04
Due for Commitment and Allotment of Emergency Relief	6,715,975.47
Reserved for Trust Purposes	1,014,699.48
Reserved for Sinking Fund Investments	5,070,989.34
Appropriation Balances of Bond Monies (Institution Construction and Educational Aid)	1,479,333.72
Appropriation for Dedicated Funds	411,005.41
Appropriation for State Fund to June 30, 1935	6,323,222.72
Total	$52,928,363.69
Estimated Surplus in State Fund at June 30, 1935	2,708,442.38
	$55,636,806.07

The details supporting the above summary will be found in the accompanying supporting schedules, titled State Fund, Dedicated Funds, Trust Funds and Capital Funds

AS TO THE HIGHWAY FUND:

The unrestricted cash balances to the Credit of the State Treasurer, Motor Vehicle Commissioner and State Tax Commissioner on May 1, 1935, amount to	$22,136,805 04
Should the $2,000,000 00 which was loaned from Highway Funds in March for Emergency Relief be returned, and should $6,000,000 00 in bonds be sold to cover the appropriations passed by the 1934 Legislature, there are in addition to the cash as stated above assets in this fund amounting to . . .	$12,346,843 03
In addition there are receipts anticipated in this fund from May 1 to December 31	14,542,055 06
Making a total available for all commitments and appropriations	$49,025,703 13
There were commitments outstanding of	13,818,520 93
Leaving an uncommitted balance of	$35,207,182.20
There were 1933-34 appropriations still in force of	9,624,078 24
Leaving a balance available for 1935 Highway Appropriations and the balance of mandatory appropriations of	$25,583,103 96
The amounts required for Mandatory Dedications to the end of 1935 were	16,463,011 74
<hr/>
Leaving a balance for the Highway System Construction, Maintenance and Administration of	$9,120,092 22
<hr/> <hr/>

Should the $6,000,000 00 unsold bond which is considered an asset by the department and should the advances made for Emergency Relief not be repaid, the Highway Department will be without funds for any purpose during 1935.

Two exhibits are submitted showing the condition of the Highway Fund. The one exhibit sets up the condition if the bonds are sold, and if the emergency relief advances are refunded, and the other exhibit reflects the condition if neither of these amounts are realized.

AS TO QUESTION NO 2:

The detail of bank balances will be supplied by the State Treasurer, as he is the custodial officer.

AS TO QUESTION NO 3

There are no appropriation balances from past years in the State Fund which have neither been reappropriated and which have not been expended. All appropriation balances in the State Fund which are not reappropriated are lapsed into the fund and the amounts merge into the assets of the fund.

The appropriation balances in the Institution Construction Fund are set up out of Bond monies and cannot be diverted.

The appropriation balances in the Highway fund amounting to $9,624,078 24 could be rescinded to the extent of $8,011,924 90, representing $3,451,040 62 of free State Funds, and $4,560,884 28 of bond monies.

The balance representing Federal Aid can only be used on Federal projects. Should the entire $8,011,924 90 appropriation balance in the Highway Fund be rescinded only $3,451,040 62 is available for other purposes, as the $4,560,884 28 represents bond monies which under the bond act can only be used for the construction of bridges and purchase of Rights of Way.

AS TO QUESTION NO. 4

The funds which have been appropriated for specific purposes in the past and which could be changed by legislative act are the State Purchase Fund, the State Forest and Forest Land Funds The State Water Supply Fund and the Hunting and Fishing Grounds Fund the details of which are given in the Dedicated Fund Exhibits.

AS TO QUESTIONS NOS. 5-6:

The explanation of the Highway Appropriation balance under question No 1 answers question No. 5. The figure $12,123,274 91, as set forth in the resolution is now $9,624,078.24, since contracts have been entered into since January 1, 1935, amounting to $2,499,196 67

The detail of the commitments placed will be submitted by the Highway Department

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK J. MURRAY,
Comptroller of the Treasury

HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER'S REPORT

June 1, 1935.

Referring to the resolution adopted by the House of Assembly on May 27, 1935, and the series of questions which accompanied the resolution:

Questions Nos. 1, 2 and 3 will be answered by the Comptroller and Treasurer.

Question No. 4 is being answered in part by the Comptroller and Treasurer. We are, in addition, presenting a statement (Marked A-1) of the status of allotments of County Aid and Township and Borough Aid. This statement shows in summary and in detail the balances not definitely committed by contract or agreement for the performance of specific projects and the balances not yet paid to the several counties and municipalities. These balances are, of course, included within the total amounts appropriated by specific action of the Legislature.

In Question No. 5 the item of $12,123,274.71 referred to therein appears on the statement attached hereto (Marked A). The specific question concerning right of way funds refers to the first column of figures on the statement (Marked B) under the heading of "Right of Way." A statement (Marked B-1) is presented showing in detail the status of this item of $3,095,000.00. This statement is applicable against bond issue authorized for 1934, but the bonds have not been sold, as you know.

Referring to the question asked in the last sentence of Question No. 5, we present first a statement (Marked C-1) showing status of assets and commitments as of May 1, 1935, which has been corrected to include contracts awarded up to June 1, 1935. This statement is first referred to because it is an index to the complete financial condition of the State Highway Department. It does not, of course, include any anticipated revenues for 1935 for the reason that no action has as yet been taken by the Legislature on the State Highway Appropriation Bill for 1935. Under the heading of "Assets" we show the cash balance of the State Highway Fund on May 1, 1935, applicable to 1934 and prior years commitments and exclusive of receipts which will be applied against our 1935 Program. With the additional items of assets as listed therein this brings our total assets up to $26,078,968.42, exclusive of 1935 funds. It is to be particularly noted that the total of assets includes the item of $6,000,000.00 of bonds authorized. They have not been sold as yet.

Under the heading of "Commitments" there appears first the item showing the amount due on open contracts for construction of the State Highway System, including all contracts awarded up to June 1, 1935. This item shows the amount to be paid on all contracts awarded and under way. All of the other items under the heading of "Commitments" are explanatory of their purpose.

In the last sentence of Question No. 5 the question is asked as to the exact status of each project listed in statement (Marked B) under the heading of "Commitment for balance of 1933-1934 Construction Program" as of December 31, 1934. A statement (Marked C-2) hereto attached shows the status of each project referred to in the above question and includes information as to whether or not contracts have been let up to June 1, 1935. A further statement (Marked C-3) shows the exact condition of each contract awarded during the period from January 1 to June 1, 1935. This statement (C-3) also shows the particular funds to be used in the performance of each of the projects. There is presented also a statement (Marked C-4) which shows the status on May 9, 1935, of all contracts awarded and under way.

In Question No. 6 the item of $6,098,661.11 refers to the item which appears on statement (Marked A) under the heading of "Purchase of Right of Way." This figure is corrected to date in the index statement above referred to (Marked C-1). The amount as of May 1, 1935, is $6,273,946.06. A statement (Marked D-1) is presented herewith showing in detail each of the items and present status, and the particular projects to which the amounts are applicable, and includes information as to the items under agreement, condemnation or appeal.

You will note that this detailed statement (D-1) includes amounts set up for right of way acquisition on particular projects during the past several years. A portion of these old balances has been held for the acquisition of rights of way necessary to be acquired in connection with the carrying out of a contemplated program of highway widening. It is to be remembered that these right of way moneys are almost entirely bond funds and are not, therefore, subject to diversion except by a majority vote of the people.

Some explanatory remarks have been attached to the statements above referred to which I hope will assist in clarifying the information given.

It has been our endeavor to present this information in as brief and concise a form as is possible, but the extent of the questions asked can only be answered by a detailed presentation of the items.

Respectfully submitted,

A. LEE GROVER,
Chief Clerk and Secretary.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

June 3, 1935.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 380

To the House of Assembly:

There are many reasons I might give for disapproving this legislation, but I will merely call attention to the fact that if enacted into law, this bill will increase the tax load on a public already overburdened with public debt.

Some of our municipalities and counties have defaulted on their bonds, and others have been compelled to issue scrip, thereby publicly acknowledging their inability to meet their obligations and pay for the ordinary services of government.

This bill, which permits the appointment of an unlimited number of special guards at a rate of compensation not fixed by the act itself, might lead to payroll increases to the extent of seriously increasing the present tax burden.

I therefore disapprove this bill.

Respectfully submitted,
HAROLD G. HOFFMAN,
Governor.

Attest:

R. WM. LAGAY,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Newcomb moved that the message be received and spread in full upon the minutes, and that Assembly Bill No. 380, with veto attached, lie over.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

June 3, 1935.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE FOR ASSEMBLY BILLS NOS. 110 AND 153
To the House of Assembly:

This bill is a glaring example of interference by unsound governmental regulation, with an established business.

In my inaugural address I stated:

“I have felt for a long time that our State Health Department should be established upon a more effective basis, that it should restate its basic aims and that it should become an educational agency, leading public thought and practice, rather than an enforcing agency * * *”

This legislation would place the policing of beauty parlors, schools and individuals engaged in this industry, under the jurisdiction of the State Department of Health by establishing a new division in this department, but giving the department no discretion in the selection of commissioners and personnel.

The enactment of this bill into a law would add a further expense on the public, and we must consider the welfare of the many rather than of the few.

I therefore disapprove the bill.

Respectfully submitted,
HAROLD G. HOFFMAN,
Governor.

Attest:

R. WM. LAGAY,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Newcomb moved that the message be received and spread in full upon the Minutes and that Committee Substitute for Assembly Bills Nos. 110 and 153, with veto attached, lie over.

Amend page 4, article III:

Section "1" to be known as section "301".

Section "2" to read as follows:

302. Before granting a license authorizing any person to engage in business as a distributor, the commissioner must require such person to file with him, in such form as he shall prescribe, a bond duly executed by such person as principal, and by a corporation approved by the commissioner and duly authorized to engage in business as a surety company by the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance of this State, as surety, payable to the State of New Jersey, conditioned upon faithful performance of all the requirements of this act and expressly providing for the payment of all taxes, penalties, and other obligations of such person arising out of this act.

303. The total amount of the bond or bonds required to be filed shall be fixed by the commissioner and may be increased or reduced by the said commissioner at any time subject to the limitations herein provided. In fixing the total amount of the bond or bonds required to be filed by any distributor, the commissioner must require a bond or bonds equivalent in total amount to three times the greatest monthly tax in such manner as the commissioner may deem proper; provided, however, that where application is made by any person who has theretofore never engaged in business in this State as a distributor, prior to the filing of such application, the commissioner, after investigation, shall fix the total amount of such bond or bonds from such information as he may obtain after such investigation; and further provided, that the total amount of the bond or bonds required to be filed by any distributor shall never be less than five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) nor more than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00). No recoveries on any bond or any execution of any new bond shall invalidate any bond and no revocation of any license shall affect the validity of any bond.

304. Said bond shall be for a term of one year from the date thereof, and must be renewed annually. No action on any said bond shall be begun after two years from the expiration of said bond. Any surety on a bond furnished by a distributor, as provided herein, shall be released and discharged from any and all liability to the State accruing on such bond after the expiration of sixty days from the date upon which such surety shall have lodged with the commissioner a written request to be released and discharged, but this provision shall not operate to relieve, release, or discharge the surety from any liability already accrued or which shall accrue before the expiration of the sixty-day period. The commissioner shall promptly, upon receiving any such request, notify the distributor who furnished the bond; and unless the distributor shall, on or before the expiration of the sixty-day period, file a new bond, the commissioner shall forthwith cancel the distributor's license.

305. In lieu of any such bond or bonds in total amount as fixed hereunder, any distributor may deposit with the State Treasurer, under such terms and conditions as the commissioner may prescribe, a like amount of lawful money of the United States, or bonds or other obligations of the United States, or the State of New Jersey, of an actual market value not less than the amount fixed by the commissioner.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

June 10, 1935.

Assembly No. 48 (with Senate amendments)

To the House of Assembly:

I am returning herewith without my approval Assembly Bill No. 48.

The object of this bill is not expressed in the title. It is therefore unconstitutional.

This bill is special legislation. It does not provide for municipalities that will grow to a population of twenty-five thousand or over. On this ground it is also unconstitutional.

There is entirely too much legislation being passed which usurps the rights of our people under the Constitution, and this bill is a particularly vicious example.

The people charged with the type of crimes covered by this bill usually come from the poorer classes, unfamiliar with the procedure of our courts and who are unable to hire counsel; and the enactment of this measure into law would strip from them that protection which is guaranteed to all our citizens by our Constitution and of which we as Americans are so proud: the right of a man to have the question of his guilt or innocence passed upon by a jury of his peers.

I therefore disapprove this bill.

Respectfully,

HAROLD G. HOFFMAN,
Governor.

Attest:

R. WM. LAGAY,
Secretary.

Mr. Pascoe moved that the Governor's message be received and spread in full upon the Minutes and the bill lie over.

NEW JERSEY LUMBERMEN'S ASSOCIATION,
1060 Broad Street

Newark, N. J., June 21, 1935.

*Members of the General Assembly,
Legislature of the State of New Jersey, Assembly Chamber, State House,

HONORABLE LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—We enclose herewith copy of a resolution passed at a mass meeting of lumber and building material dealers held in Newark on Wednesday, June 19, 1935.

This resolution is self-explanatory, and we commend it to your favorable consideration.

Yours respectfully,

(Signed) H. K. DILLEY,
Acting Secretary.

Resolution adopted by Retail Lumber and Building Material Dealers of New Jersey, June 19, 1935:

WHEREAS, The Legislative branches of our State Government have placed on the statutes of the State of New Jersey a "sales tax law" effective July 1, 1935; and

WHEREAS, This will be very detrimental to the construction industry by placing an additional cost on all construction projects, the retarding of which will seriously impede recovery and the lessening of the relief; and

WHEREAS, When applied to dealers close to our State borders, it places them, in the matter of sales, at a serious disadvantage with competing dealers from other States, which will result in a serious loss of business to dealers located within New Jersey; and

WHEREAS, On sales in carloads by merchants outside the State it will again seriously handicap the dealer and cause complete loss of all sales and the State of New Jersey will receive no revenue from such sales due to transactions being handled by concerns outside the boundary of our State; and

WHEREAS, The loss of business will cause further loss financially to the dealers, will increase unemployment and will wreck the industry; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the Lumber and Building Material Dealers of the State of New Jersey, assembled in Newark this nineteenth day of June in the year nineteen hundred thirty-five, strongly recommend amendments to the "sales tax law" exempting from the application of the said "sales tax law" all items of lumber, millwork, building materials and all other items used for construction purposes in any quantity, also all lumber and building materials and all other items used for construction purposes when shipped in carload lots from points outside the boundaries of our State; and

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Governor and both branches of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey.

Mr. Newcomb moved that the communication be received and spread in full upon the minutes.

Which motion was adopted.

The following communication was sent to the desk and read by the Clerk:

REAL ESTATE BOARD OF NEWARK

Newark, N. J., June 22, 1935.

To the Honorable Members of the Legislature:

The New Jersey Association of Real Estate Boards, representing the real estate owners of the State as a whole, and the Real Estate Board of Newark, representing the largest district in the State, call upon the Legislature to resist every effort which may be made to nullify the effects of the sales tax passed at the last session of the Legislature, whether the effort is made through amendments to the act or through efforts for its repeal.

Without this tax, the entire cost of the emergency relief would be saddled upon the real estate owners of the State, causing a sharp increase in real estate taxation which would unquestionably add to the present tax delinquency and place in jeopardy the solution of the relief problem in New Jersey.

The real estate owners of the State, who have been taxed in the past for the entire cost of every governmental need, regardless of their ability to pay, demand that the sales tax be imposed without fear or favor, because it will spread the cost of emergency relief over the entire population of the State, thereby making the individual tax small and assuring to the State the speedy collection of revenue necessary to care for the unemployed.

The successful imposition of this tax will save New Jersey the costly experience of other States which allowed political expediency to delay the frank necessity of additional revenue.

It is the patriotic duty of the Legislature and of every citizen to support Governor Hoffman in his effort to meet a grave emergency in the affairs of the State.

Very truly yours,

JOHN F. O'BRIEN, Chairman,
Taxation Committees.

SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE NEW JERSEY STATE BOARD OF REGENTS TO THE LEGIS- LATURE OF THE STATE OF NEW JERSEY

To the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

The New Jersey State Board of Regents submits herewith its sixth annual report pursuant to Section 4 of Chapter 76, Laws of 1929.

PERSONNEL AND ORGANIZATION OF BOARD

The seven members of the Board duly appointed by His Excellency, the Governor, are: J. Logan Clevenger, Perth Amboy; L. Ethel Heine, Maplewood; Charles A. Heiss, East Orange; Alfred Hurrell, Glen Ridge; Henry W. Jeffers, Plainsboro; Edwin L. Seabrook, Camden, and George O. Smalley, Bound Brook. The remaining member of the board is Dr. Charles H. Elliott, Commissioner of Education, ex-officio.

REAFFIRMATION OF PROPOSED EDUCATIONAL POLICIES

ational services; the clarification of the relations between Rutgers University and the State; and the ultimate unification of public higher education by the creation of an inclusive organization to be known as the University of New Jersey. In the Fifth Annual Report a plan for agricultural co-ordination was detailed. To these proposals the Board of Regents gives its renewed and hearty support. And in harmony with a former declaration, to the effect that educational reorganization is in essence a matter of popular understanding, of growth and development and not one of mere resolution, the Board believes that sufficient time should be taken by all groups interested, for a thorough study of the proposed plan of educational unification, together with its educational, social, and financial implications before a comprehensive program of enabling legislation is sought.

THE RELATION OF THE STATE TO PUBLIC HIGHER EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS—A SUMMARY STATEMENT

The interest of the State in public higher education is expressed in its annual appropriations therefor, and in the general supervision, particularly financial, of its Board of Regents, over the institutions utilized for public higher education. Since the Board of Regents does not directly administer the institutions of higher education that it utilizes, its influence upon internal educational procedures must necessarily be more indirect than upon their financial expression.

The Board is pleased to be able to state, however, that a cordial understanding exists between the Regents and the administrators of those institutions utilized with regard to those matters which are concerned with curriculum offerings and with educational standards. Both groups are seeking to provide the best possible means, with the funds that are available, of training the youth of the State for responsible citizenship. The purpose of the following paragraphs is to put into succinct form many matters which are of immediate interest.

THE STATE'S FINANCIAL INVESTMENT

Rutgers

The State of New Jersey owns land and buildings at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, which are valued at approximately $2,500,000. The greater part of this property is used by the Land Grant College of New Jersey, more popularly known as the College of Agriculture.

The State's investment in property at the New Jersey College for Women, located on the University Campus, is given as approximately $703,659.00, and consists chiefly of recitation buildings. This amount is included in the State's total investment given above. In addition, the expenditures for equipment at the College, to which the State has made substantial contributions, total nearly $600,000.00.

Newark College of Engineering

The Newark College of Engineering, established in 1919, is a public institution supported by the city, the State and by tuition fees. The governing body is a board of trustees which holds title to four buildings in Newark with assets of approximately $750,000.

The College affords to the youth of northern New Jersey a type of engineering training not duplicated elsewhere in the State and at a relatively low per capita cost. The State appropriations through the State Board of Regents have been modest.

PRIVATE RESOURCES AT RUTGERS AVAILABLE FOR STATE USE

Economic

Since the establishment of Queens College by royal charter from King George III of England, November 10, 1766, the Trustees of Rutgers University have, as "The Trustees of Rutgers College in New Jersey," accumulated by gift and otherwise, private assets approximating in value $17,000,000. These assets are: Endowment Funds, $4,000,000.00; Buildings and Grounds, approximately $13,000,000. The private resources when added to the State's investment make a grand total of $19,500,000.

From a financial point of view it would seem most advantageous for the State, for the present, to use existing resources on satisfactory terms of finance and service, including control of State appropriations, rather than consider the establishment of an independent campus State University.

Educational

In addition to the economic advantages that have just been suggested, Rutgers has other resources of major importance, namely, educational assets and traditions.

Rutgers as one of the nine colonial colleges, enjoys an honorable tradition of educational and civic usefulness to New Jersey and to the Nation, covering a period of 168 years. This quality of educational life creates a cultural prestige whose effect is cumulative with the passage of time. It is one of those elements in the life of an institution which represents growth and whose value cannot be measured in dollars.

As a dynamic factor in this growth, Rutgers has included among its schools and colleges a faculty of distinguished men and women. These persons have been and are today recognized as authorities in the world of science, literature, the arts, engineering, and agriculture. Such a faculty could not be replaced in a generation.

Again, Rutgers has a library of over 200,000 volumes which is of particular service to the State of New Jersey, containing as it does special collections related to the economic, social and political development of the State. The facilities of that library are available to the citizens of the State as well as to the students of the University. Further mention of the educational assets of the University includes an extensive scientific collection covering the fields of entomology, geology and botany.

THE REGENTS' APPROPRIATION REQUEST FOR THE PURCHASE OF EDUCATIONAL SERVICE (PUBLIC HIGHER EDUCATION)

The New Jersey State Board of Regents, as has been stated above, does not administer institutions providing public higher education, but under the authority of law purchases public higher education, at present, of The Trustees of Rutgers College in New Jersey, and of the Board of Trustees of Schools for Industrial Education of Newark, New Jersey, administering the Newark College of Engineering.

In order that the Regents may determine the amount of the appropriation necessary for the educational services it proposes to purchase, the Board examines in detail the proposed expenditures of the institutions concerned.

As as a result of such examination the appropriation request of the Board of Regents for 1935-1936 falls into two parts:

1. For the purchase of public higher education
—The Trustees of Rutgers College in New Jersey
a. Men's Units	$680,000
b. New Jersey College for Women	380,000
Board of Trustees of Schools for Industrial Education of Newark, New Jersey (Newark College of Engineering)	54,000
2. Administration Expenses of the State Board of Regents	16,500
Grand Total	$1,130,500

This total request exceeds the appropriation for the current year as follows:

Rutgers University, Men's Units	$198,500
Rutgers University, N. J. College for Women..	108,000
Newark College of Engineering	19,440
Régents' Administration Expenses	1,955
	<hr/>
Total	$327,895

EXPLANATION OF REQUESTED INCREASES OVER THE APPROPRIATION FOR 1934-1935

In the proposed expenditure budget of the Trustees of Rutgers University there is shown an increase at the Men's Units of $198,500 over the State appropriation for 1934-1935 which is accounted for in major part as follows:

Restoration of Salaries to 1931-1932 basis	$60,474
Restoration of Educational Service and Positions	58,677
Repairs, Insurance, Equipment, Books, etc.	79,349
	<hr/>
	<hr/>

The increase at the New Jersey College for Women of $108,000 over the appropriation for 1934-1935 is accounted for as follows:

Restoration of Salaries to 1931-1932 basis	$42,342
Restoration of Service and Positions	15,587
Repairs, Insurance, Equipment, Books, etc.	50,071
	<hr/>

At the Newark College of Engineering the increase of $19,440 over the 1934-1935 appropriation is due to salary restoration, $12,856.00; equipment and other instructional expense, $6,584.

From a study of the present situation, which means a study of the needs of the State for higher education and also a consideration of the State's resources, and after a critical examination of the budget and services offered by Rutgers University and by the Newark College of Engineering, the Regents believe that these needs will be not more than approximately met with the appropriation requested. Accordingly the Regents urge that the full amount of the request be allowed.

Previous cuts in appropriation requests have necessitated drastic retrenchments. Salaries have been reduced and not yet restored, as have the salaries of those rendering the State a service in other fields. Many faculty members and other employees have been dropped, departments and activities have been discontinued or sharply reduced in personnel; books, supplies and equipment urgently needed have not been purchased.

Lack of adequate funds has resulted in a decided deterioration in many State, as well as privately owned buildings.

BUDGETARY POLICY OF THE BOARD OF REGENTS

In the formulation of its budget recommendation to the State Budget Officer, the Board of Regents has been guided by the following elements of policy:

1. A concern for the higher educational needs of the State, rather than for the mere expansion of Rutgers University or any other institution with which the Regents contract for public higher educational services.

2. An elimination of such overlapping and duplication of services as exists between State-supported institutions, particularly Normal Schools and Teachers Colleges, and certain units of Rutgers University. Most of this duplication has already been eliminated.

3. A recognition of the policy of the 1932 and subsequent Legislatures, whereby no public money is to be used for practice teaching, non-resident or extension teaching, or summer school instruction at any State Normal School or Teachers College.

4. The necessity of keeping the physical plants of the institutions utilized in essential repair, thus conserving large investments of capital. The Regents believe that shortsightedness now in the matter of necessary repairs will mean extensive capital outlays later.

5. A regard for the practices of the Board of Regents as expressed in its annual letters of transmittal of contracts to the Trustees of Rutgers University, and to the Board of Trustees of the Newark College of Engineering. Elements of these practices include a monthly audit of expenditures with the oversight and control of the State's property at the institutions utilized.

METHOD OF DETERMINING AMOUNT OF APPROPRIATION REQUESTED

The budget estimates originate with the expending units of the institutions supplying services of public higher education and are finally approved by the President and the Trustees in control.

The budget requests of the Trustees are then presented to the Regents by the respective Presidents and hearings held by the Regents. After the hearings the Educational Adviser to the Regents makes his recommendations, and the final action of the Regents is to present their approved appropriation request to the State Budget officer. Such has been the procedure with the appropriation request presented herewith.

The appropriation to be expended at Rutgers University for 1935-1936 will provide public higher educational services (the extent of which will depend upon the unit of the University in which the student is registered) for an estimated enrollment of 1,300 men students, and more fully for an estimated enrollment of 900 students in the New Jersey College for Women. The appropriation requested for the Newark College of Engineering is based on an estimated enrollment of 665 day students and 900 evening students.

Furthermore the State appropriation, as now determined, represents the difference between the total estimated expenditures of the institutions as approved by the New Jersey State Board of Regents, and the total estimated receipts which include income from investments, students' fees, gifts, Federal and municipal appropriations, etc.: e. g.,

THE REGENTS' PROPOSALS FOR A CLARIFICATION AND SIMPLIFICATION OF THE RELATIONS WITH RUTGERS WITH SPECIAL REFERENCE TO FINANCE

A more practical method of determining the amount of the appropriation recommendation than that now in use is being studied by the Regents, in relation to its previously developed plan of educational co-ordination. This plan involves a method by which the State's dollar would be accurately traced by having the State appropriation used specifically for the support of State units of a University System, and provides a way by which the State may purchase "auxiliary services" of the private corporation, Rutgers College, or any other institution, in the event that such services are not available in the State units, e. g., College of Agriculture, etc. On the other hand the State units may sell to the private units services not otherwise available. According to this proposal the educational unity of Rutgers University would remain intact but the State and private funds would be clearly separated. Such a plan is outlined in the Regents' proposal regarding the University of New Jersey and is discussed in its Third, Fourth and Fifth Annual Reports, and reaffirmed above. Several conferences on this plan have been held with the representatives of the Rutgers' Trustees.

LEGAL BASIS OF NEW JERSEY COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE AND
VERSITY OF NEW JERSEY")

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

The Legislature of 1864 named The Trustees of Rutgers College as the body to administer the income of the proceeds of the Land Grant sale, the latter becoming the basic endowment of the Land Grant College, authorized by the Federal Congress in 1862.

Provision was also made whereby the then existing Rutgers Scientific School, a department of Rutgers College, should be the recipient of the Land Grant income. This school at once became known as the State Agricultural College. At the same time the State Legislature created a Board of Visitors who should exercise general powers of supervision and control over the Land Grant College.

In accepting the second Morrill (Federal) act, the Legislature used the following language, describing the relationship of the Agricultural College, which is a unit of the present Rutgers University, to the State of New Jersey: "Whereas the Rutgers Scientific School is and always has been recognized as the Agricultural College or Agricultural Department of the College, established in accordance with the said act of Congress, approved July 2, 1862," etc., etc.

In brief, the Rutgers Trustees are managing the College of Agriculture in behalf of the State under the general supervision and control of the Board of Visitors. At present the Regents are contracting for educational services on behalf of the State. It was this State College of Agriculture to which the Legislature in 1917 gave an additional title, namely, the "State University of New Jersey."

The Board of Regents in its discussions and legislative proposals, seeks to establish a more complete and direct State control of the State Agricultural College and its several departments and with other public educational units, to establish an integrated system of public higher education. Thus confusion of the public mind would be removed, educational efficiency enhanced, and a more effective financial control established.

NEW JERSEY COLLEGE FOR WOMEN

This College was established in 1918 by a resolution of "The Trustees of Rutgers College in New Jersey" as a department of the "State University of New Jersey" organization, and as such received direct State appropriations for many years. The College is an administrative division and not a corporate entity. The title to all its physical assets, except the State-owned buildings, is vested in The Trustees of Rutgers College in New Jersey.

OTHER UNITS

The relationship of the School of Education, and of the Departments of Journalism and Ceramics, and the relations of the Experiment Stations and the work of Extension Education cannot be briefly described. Neither can a desirable co-ordination in relation to Agriculture be adequately discussed in this summary. The Fifth Annual Report (1933-1934) of the Board of Regents discusses in detail this latter topic.

The foregoing matters, together with their relations to a fundamental State policy of public higher education, form the substance of the last three annual reports of the State Board of Regents. Moreover, it should also be clear that the Regents believe that a matter so fundamental to the State as its provisions for advanced education is one which demands the long time view as well as informed concern for immediate needs.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION RELATING TO AGRICULTURAL CO-ORDINATION

In its Fifth Annual Report your Board discussed in detail its proposals for a closer co-ordination among the Agricultural agencies of the State and for a simplification of the administrative controls. The Board also stressed the importance and desirability of a unified State budget of agricultural activities, and a co-ordinated work plan. It pointed out that the expenditures for the year 1932-1933 for College, State and County agricultural activities totalled $1,640,005.73, of which $335,446.78 was supervised in a budgetary way by the Regents. For the year ending June 30, 1934, the corresponding figures are $1,463,298.89 and $330,923.07. The concern of the Regents is with those phases of agriculture associated with education and research and not with regulatory matters. This latter interest, it is believed, is a concern of the State Board of Agriculture. In order, therefore, that the number of Boards of control may be reduced, and the agricultural program unified, the Regents propose the following legislation:

1. Transfer to the State Board of Regents the powers of the State Board of Visitors.
2. Transfer to the State Board of Regents the powers of the Board of Managers of the State Agricultural Experiment Station.
3. Provide that the State Board of Regents may either administer directly or may contract on behalf of the State with the Trustees of Rutgers College for the management of the State Agricultural Experiment Station along with the College Experiment Station, these two units together to constitute a single organization.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

In the preparation of this report your Board has been assisted by its Educational Adviser, Dr. Albert B. Meredith of Cranford. It has been his analysis of the educational situation as it relates to public higher education and the proposals he has advanced that have aided the Regents in the formulation of its policy.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

October 25, 1935.

*Hon. Lawrence A. Cavinato, Acting Majority Leader,
House of Assembly,
Trenton, New Jersey:*

DEAR SIR.—I am submitting herewith a statement that I desire you to have read into the record at today's session of the Legislature.

Very truly yours,

HAROLD G. HOFFMAN,
Governor.

STATEMENT OF GOVERNOR HAROLD G. HOFFMAN RESPECTING THE PENDING REPEAL OF THE SALES TAX ACT BY THE 159TH SESSION OF THE NEW JERSEY LEGISLATURE
OCTOBER 25, 1935

Feeling that the sales tax is sound and is absolutely necessary for the production of revenues to enable us to meet the requirements of the emergency situation, I had intended to veto the repeal measure that will undoubtedly reach me today after enactment by the Legislature. It has been pointed out by the Attorney-General that, under the Constitution, this would necessitate the return of the Legislature within five days to act upon the measure over the Governor's veto. It has also been pointed out that the repealer could not become a law without the Governor's signature if the Legislature by adjournment prevents the return of the measure within the specified five-day period. I have, therefore, decided to sign this measure when it comes to my desk, in order to eliminate the necessity of another legislative session and to avoid the embarrassment of a number of the members of the Legislature who have indicated that they will not vote for this measure over my veto.

The opponents of the sales tax who have claimed that it is unnecessary and who have repeatedly stated that "savings" in the cost of State government could be effected in sufficient amounts to absorb the cost of emergency relief, old-age pensions, and care of dependent children, maintain that the recent primary elections were in effect a mandate from the people. Immediately after the primary elections I indicated my willingness to call a special session, to give members of the present Legislature an opportunity to carry out this alleged mandate. When certain groups who had originally opposed my proposal to call a special session reversed their opinion and urged me to take this action, I immediately issued the call for today's session.

It is my personal belief that the action of today will become a black spot upon New Jersey history. I have today submitted to the Legislature certified financial statements to support my belief that the sales tax revenues were necessary to care for over a half million of our people who are in distress. It must be certainly evident to any fair-minded person who will study the figures presented that we would have been unable to carry on without the amount of approximately $8,000,000 that the sales tax will produce for the period in which it remained upon our statute books. The sales tax has cost the people of our State less than one and one-half cents per person per day and only forty-three cents per month. The claims of its injurious effect upon business interests of New Jersey have been wildly exaggerated.

In taking this action of today, we are following a course of political expediency rather than that of honesty and soundness in the management of our governmental affairs. We are following to a great degree the desires of a large number of our people who, having largely received all the services of State, county, and local government at the expense of the property owners, are now unwilling to pay a few cents, or at the most a few dollars, in order to provide food, clothing, and shelter for their unfortunate neighbors in this period of calamity. Through the medium of the sales tax it would have been possible to balance the budget and make adequate provision for our emergency needs for a period of three years. The step that is being taken as a result of the popular clamor from people whom, I believe, have been carried away by misrepresentations of the State's financial picture, will result in financial disorder and possibly in human suffering.

I am presenting this statement so that it may be read into the State records and thus become permanent proof of my unchanged opinion that the sales tax provided the best solution at hand for our acute social and economic problems.

HAROLD G. HOFFMAN,
Governor.

A STATEMENT BY HAROLD G. HOFFMAN, GOVERNOR OF NEW JERSEY, TO THE MEMBERS OF THE 159TH LEGISLATURE

To the Members of the New Jersey Legislature:

In view of the widespread lack of understanding as to the actual facts about the cost of the State government and as to the possibility of financing the emergency needs of the State through possible reductions in this cost, it has seemed to me that it would be well to present a comprehensive review of State expenditures for the information of members of the Legislature and of interested citizens of our State. Accordingly, I requested Mr. Abram Vermeulen, C. P. A. and Chief Accountant in the office of the Comptroller of the Treasury, to prepare in simplified form a statement of anticipated revenues and the appropriations made therefrom for the fiscal year 1935-1936 from the State Fund, and for the calendar year 1935 from the Highway Fund.

It will be noted that the gross cost of State government is $75,040,413.46. After deducting constitutional and mandatory dedications there remain free State monies under appropriations for all purposes the sum of $31,934,237.87. A breakdown of this figure gives the following approximate amounts:

Salaries and Wages	$15,882,285.52
Materials and Supplies	5,227,221.12
Service and Expense	5,469,902.97
Capital Outlay	3,365,084.00
Subventions and Direct State Aid	1,989,744.26

My estimate of the cost of meeting the emergency needs of the State, not included in these appropriations, is $28,000,000. In explanation of this amount I am attaching a statement made by Albert H. Hedden, State Relief Director, and reviewed by Chester I. Barnard, Chairman of the State Relief Council.

Many exaggerated and conflicting estimates of the cost of the State government, the cost of emergency relief, and the possibilities of economies in State government have been made. In this connection it is worth while to note that if every State officer and employee should be dismissed from the State service, if every dollar's worth of State highway construction should be eliminated, and if it were possible to eliminate the purchase of all materials and supplies, the amount produced would barely cover the estimated emergency requirements of the State for the next calendar year.

With the pending repeal of the Sales Tax Act, which will produce approximately $8,000,000 in the four months of its operation and so enable us to "carry on" our relief expenditures until the convening of the 1936 Legislature, the fiscal picture is not a promising one. It is my firm opinion that we cannot finance the needs of the State without providing additional revenues. I am confident that a careful and unprejudiced study of the attached reports and such further examinations as may be made of the financial records of the State will convince you that I am correct in my contention.

Sincerely,

HAROLD G. HOFFMAN,
Governor.

BEING PAID FROM RELIEF FUNDS.

Recent statements have been published concerning the cost of emergency relief in 1936 which have not resulted from inquiry directed to the Emergency Relief Administration. To avoid misconceptions and misunderstandings which might prove important in connection with the State's financial problem in 1936, the relief administration believes it desirable that its estimates be made public.

A calculation of the cost shows that at a minimum they will be between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000 for the year commencing January 1, 1936, and ending December 31, 1936. In estimating these costs the administration assumes that every employable person now on relief will be employed either by the WPA or through the regular channels of commercial employment, so that the relief administration would have to provide only for persons who are temporarily or permanently unemployable and their dependents. It is also assumed that the intake on the relief rolls will not increase. It is estimated that there are 20,000 cases on the relief rolls in which no member of the family is employable, and 17,000 cases in which the head of the family is not employable, although there may be other members who are.

Experience indicates that the probable cost per case of the families where no member is employable would be approximately $45 per month, based on an average of four persons per case, and that in the other cases where some member of the family may be employable the cost would be about $30 per month. It is estimated that under these conditions the cost of administration can be cut in half, although not during the early part of the year. In addition to the costs of these cases, the relief administration by law is required to supply moneys from its relief account for old age pension relief and the work of the Board of Children's Guardians at an estimated cost of $4,200,000 per annum, which may be increased.

Under the conditions of this minimum estimate, no subsidy whatever would be expected from the Federal government which would have discharged its undertaking by giving employment to all employable persons not absorbed by private industry. If the Federal government should not succeed in making available employment through WPA to all relief clients not absorbed in industry, it is unknown at the present time what, if any, contribution it would make to the State by reason of this fact. In view of these estimates and the uncertainties, it seems clear that no assumption of a cost less than $25,000,000 is tenable and that it is reasonably probable that the cost will not be less than $28,000,000.

It should be remembered that this minimum program possible, it will be necessary for at least 110,000 employable persons to be removed from relief rolls, including about 16,000 of this number who have been put to work on the WPA as of October 21st. It should also be recognized that it is estimated that there are today between 150,000 and 200,000 persons in New Jersey out of employment but not on relief. This, of course, has an important bearing upon the extent to which improved business conditions will absorb employable persons now on the relief lists.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY

COMPTROLLER OF THE TREASURY.

COMMENTS ON THE COMPREHENSIVE REVIEW OF PROPOSED STATE EXPENDITURES

In making a study of the proposed expenditures in the State Fund for the fiscal year 1935-36 and in the State Highway System Fund for the calendar year 1935, it is disclosed that the total amount appropriated is $75,040,413.46.

While it is true that considerably more money passes through the hands of State fiscal officers, nevertheless this does not tend to change the financial picture in any way. For instance, the State pays out to Counties and School Districts the amount of State School Tax which it first collects from counties. In this instance the State fiscal officers merely act as collecting agents and only remit the amounts collected. The following accounts can be placed in this category and the expenditures from them are not included in the above sum of $75,040,413.46.

State School Tax Account

Amounts collected by the State, and remitted in like amount to the Counties and School Districts.

Soldiers' Bonus Bond Tax Account

Amount assessed against Counties and placed in Sinking Fund for the amortization and Interest Requirement of the Soldiers' Bonus Bond Issue.

Federal Funds for Vocational Education, Rehabilitation, Etc.

The amounts are received from the Federal Government and are expended on projects governed by Federal Legislation. Any reduction of the expenditures would merely forestall the collection of the revenue. No State funds are used for the expenditures in the above account.

State Police Retirement Fund

Trust funds used for paying pensions.

1837 Surplus Revenue Fund

The income from a permanent fund derived from the Federal Government. The principal of the fund must be kept intact; the income is paid to counties.

Clerk in Chancery Enrollment FundUnclaimed Scrip FundSpecial Railroad Deposit Fund

Amounts collected by Treasurer and held in trust for specific purposes. The amounts collected and received in the above amount are comparatively small.

As stated above, the total amount proposed to be expended, with the exception of the trust funds described heretofore, amounts to $75,040,413.46. Of this amount appropriated, however, considerable sums are not reducible since they are Constitutional dedications. In order that a clear conception may be gained of the exact status of these funds they are described herewith:

The following sums included in the annual appropriation bill are either Constitutional or mandatory dedications and are included in the Budget by the Budget Commissioner, because he is so directed by existing legislation:

Debt Service, $16,380,556.40

This represents the amounts appropriated to pay the Amortization, Principal and Interest Requirement on State Debt, and cannot be reduced.

Mandatory Subventions and Direct State Aid(Including Pensions)Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund, $4,300,000.00

This represents the amount appropriated to the Teachers' Pension Fund out of the First-Class Railroad Taxes. The amount is determined on an actuarial basis and the amount certified to the Comptroller is set aside for that purpose.

Railroad Taxes to Counties for School Purposes
$1,065,480.87

This represents the amount apportioned to the counties out of the First Class Railroad Taxes by the Comptroller pursuant to Chapter 341, Laws of 1913. Under the provisions of this act, the Comptroller after providing for one-half of one per cent of the amount assessed against railroads for general purposes in the State Fund, and after providing for all educational items in the appropriation bill, and after providing for the annual contribution to the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund, sets aside any balance remaining out of the revenues from the Main Stem Railroad Taxes as amounts due Counties for School Purposes.

County and Township Aid out of Highway Funds
$10,138,751.00

This represents amounts set aside out of Motor Vehicle Funds for County and Township Aid pursuant to Chapter 235, Laws of 1909; Chapter 193, Laws of 1933; Chapter 178, Laws of 1930; Chapter 377, Laws of 1931, and Chapter 255, Laws of 1929. Included in this amount there are also county reimbursement projects of $1,093,751.00.

Pensions, $392,352.00

This amount represents items set up under various statutes by the Budget Commissioner for Judicial Retirement Fund, Pensions, State Employment Retirement (based on actuarial calculation); Annuity for Widows of Governors.

County Insane and County Tuberculosis Hospitals,
$1,771,700.00

These amounts are set up in the appropriation act pursuant to Chapter 217, Laws of 1912 and Chapter 67 of the Laws of 1924, and represents payments made for the support of patients in County Institutions.

Subventions to Counties Out of School Fund,
$504,000.00

This represents amounts appropriated to the counties for school purposes out of the Income from School Fund. This fund represents the accumulated Investments acquired through the granting and leasing of riparian rights. It is a constitutional fund and any reduction in this amount would simply increase the amount in the School Fund.

Legislative Salaries, $125,833.32

Salaries—Chancellor and Vice-Chancellors, $199,000.00

Salaries—Supreme Court Justices, $387,000.00

The above amounts represent salaries fixed by the Constitution and therefore cannot be changed by legislative action.

Construction and Reconstruction of Inland Waterways
$90,000.00

This amount is set aside under existing legislation out of the Motor Fuel Taxes to provide for Inland Waterways.

The grand total of all the above Constitutional and Mandatory dedications, which will be found in column No. 2 of the detailed statement amounts to $35,354,673.59. When this amount is deducted from the total appropriations of $75,040,413.46 there is a balance of $39,685,739.87 in appropriations which is set up through the request of department heads.

Of this amount, however, the following items are appropriated out of Bond Monies and Federal Aid (see column 4 of detailed report).

Federal Aid—$1,675,751.00 Matched By State, $3,351,502.00

This represents the amount required to be appropriated to carry out the projects approved by the Federal Government for Road Construction. It is necessary for the State to match Federal money in order to get Federal Aid, therefore, double the amount of Federal Aid is eliminated in column No. 4 to show the net amount appropriated out of Free Funds.

Bond Monies, $4,400,000.00

$2,400,000.00 taken from the 1934 Construction program represents bond monies. Any reduction of the appropriation from this source would revert to the Highway Fund, since bond monies can only be used for the construction of bridges and purchase of Rights of Way. The other $2,000,000.00 is bond funds for the elimination of grade crossings through the Public Utility Commission.

Amount Appropriated for Support of State Government, $31,934,237.87

When Federal Aid and bond monies are deducted from the $39,685,739.87 there remains the amount appropriated from free State monies for all purposes the sum of $31,934,237.87.

Of this amount salaries and wages amount to approximately	$15,882,285.52
Materials and supplies amount to approximately	5,227,221.12
Service and expense amount to approximately	5,469,902.97
Capital outlay amounts to approximately..	3,365,084.00
Subventions and direct State Aid amount to approximately	1,989,744.26

General Comments

The expenditures against the total appropriations as set forth of $75,040,413.46 must of necessity be made from revenues accruing to the State during the same period. The detailed statement attached reflects the source of the revenue, and discloses that the revenue for the period will amount to approximately $71,287,589.01, provided the amount anticipated by the Comptroller is fully realized. The difference between the proposed expenditures and the anticipated revenues is made up by the cancellation of 1934 highway projects amounting to $4,400,000.00 and utilizing this amount to support the 1935 proposed expenditures.

In addition, the revenues accruing to a great many departments are contingent upon the services rendered by the department. As an instance the Salaries paid to the Bank Examiners in the Banking Department and to the Auditors in the State Auditors' Department are all charged to clients who pay the State for the services rendered, so that any cut in the appropriations in departments of this kind would result in a corresponding, if not larger, loss in the revenues of the same department.

Commissions paid to Motor Vehicle Agents amounting to $379,307.89 are based on a percentage of the receipts collected.

Revenues earned by State Institutions are accrued by reason of board, and any appropriation reduction necessitating the curtailing of Institutional activities would result in a loss of revenue from this source.

The greatest amount of revenue earned is found in the State Tax Department. This department enforces the collection of:

Motor Fuel Taxes	$16,500,000.00
Transfer Inheritance Taxes	6,000,000.00
Main Stem Railroad Taxes	10,300,000.00
Miscellaneous Corporation Taxes.	3,900,000.00
Beverage Taxes	4,800,000.00
Foreign Insurance Corp. Taxes..	1,200,000.00
Public Utility Taxes	25,000.00

The enforcement of the collection of these taxes is largely contingent upon the human element and any great personnel cut in any of these departmental agencies would tend to reduce the amount of revenue collected.

Of the total amount appropriated out of Free State Funds amounting to $31,934,237.87—$8,442,272.36 goes for the maintenance and operation of the Department of Institutions and Agencies; $7,862,895.50 goes for Administration Maintenance and Construction Work in the Highway Department; $5,296,824.26 goes for regulative departments, such as Commerce and Navigation, Fish and Game, Banking and Insurance, State Police, State Tax Department, Alcoholic Beverage Control, etc.; $4,085,775.26 goes for Educational Departments, and the balance for Administration, Executive, Judicial, Agricultural, Military and General.

STATEMENT BY HAROLD G. HOFFMAN, GOVERNOR OF NEW JERSEY, TO THE MEMBERS OF THE 159TH LEGISLATURE, REGARDING ECONOMIES EFFECTED OR IN PROGRESS IN THE STATE GOVERNMENT SINCE JANUARY 15, 1935, INCLUDING A REPORT OF GEORGE H. KINGSLEY & COMPANY, PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS.

To the Members of the New Jersey Legislature:

At the present time when there is so much public attention directed to the conduct of the State government, it seems to me that the members of the Legislature and interested citizens should be kept advised of the progress that is being made in the direction of economy in costs.

In view of the repeated statements that no sincere efforts have been made in order to bring about a reduction in the cost of State government, I believe I may be pardoned for the use of this method of bringing to your attention some of the things that have already been accomplished or initiated for the purpose of promoting economy and efficiency in the State service.

So that there might be an unprejudiced statement of our efforts in this direction, I requested Mr. George H. Kingsley, Secretary of the New Jersey State Board of Certified Public Accountants to review the Administration activities in the field of economy and to certify as to the actual and potential savings resulting from steps that have already been taken.

You will note that these are the achievements of a short period of nine months. Mr. John Meaney and Mr. James Dickson, of George H. Kingsley and Company, were assigned to this task and their report is submitted herewith.

I am directing attention to the fact that in submitting my budget message for the fiscal year 1935-1936, I cut $2,431,000 from the requests made by department and commission heads. The Highway Department was put upon a cash basis and through the elimination of proposed revenues to be secured from bond issues we found it possible to cut $4,100,000 from the State highway appropriation requests.

The accountants are showing that savings of $2,507,888.40 may reasonably be expected from steps that have been already taken in the direction of economy, not including the figures mentioned above.

If, as claimed by the Assembly Fact Finding Committee, the repayment of $2,500,000 through a compromise effected with the Port of New York Authority is a "savings" (and, of course, it is not), this amount would be added to the total, since I initiated as early as last December prior to my inauguration as Governor the negotiations which culminated in the receipt of these Port of New York Authority bonds.

Sincerely,

HAROLD G. HOFFMAN,
Governor.

ACCOUNTANTS AUDITORS

NEW YORK CITY

*Honorable Harold G. Hoffman,

DEAR GOVERNOR HOFFMAN:

In accordance with your request to Mr. George H. Kingsley, Secretary of the State Board of Public Accountants, we have made an examination of various records of the State of New Jersey for the purpose of ascertaining economies effected or in progress since your inauguration.

In your inaugural message you stated that you proposed to spend the first year of your administration in a study of every State Department so that you might be able to recommend sound and practical devices for bettering departmental procedure.

This study has been under way for some time, mainly through the office of the Commissioner of Finance. While the limited time at our disposal precluded the possibility of a complete investigation of all probable economies effected, we have satisfied ourselves that a study of the Departments with a view to curtailing expenditures and systematizing procedure is proceeding in an efficient manner and has already resulted in many economies and bids well to effect even greater savings in the future.

Economies in the State Highway Department cover the calendar year 1935, due to the fact that that Department operates on a calendar year, while the other Departments operate on a fiscal year. Your orders to curtail wherever possible were apparently being carried out even towards the close of the last fiscal year.

While it is obvious that a forecast of future savings is ordinarily difficult to justify, we have endeavored to be conservative by including only verified figures, although we do make occasional mention of other evidences of economy.

A summary of ten cases of economies actually effected or to be effected follows and details thereof are commented upon in the attached report:

	Prior to 6/30/35	Calendar Year 1935	Fiscal Year 1935-36	Subsequent to 6/30/36	Total

2 Non-issuance of Relief Bonds.....	$700,000 00	700,000 00
3 Highway Department	$1,099,810 00	1,099,810 00
4 Publications	13,665 00	13,665 00

Upon submission of the original State Fund Budget requests for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1936, the first over which you exercised any control, we found that you had eliminated appropriations totalling $2,541,394.02 prior to the submission of your budget message to the Legislature. In addition thereto, the Commissioner of Finance, acting under Chapter 363, Laws of 1933, has set aside a further ten percent of each departmental appropriation as a Reserve, the efficient handling of which, in the previous year accounted in large measure for the increase of $314,268.41 in Lapsed Balances at June 30, 1935, over June 30, 1934.

It is apparent that the department of the Commissioner of Finance is fully carrying out your instructions regarding economies. All purchase orders are being carefully scrutinized and wherever possible disallowed, with the result that even the moral effect of their control on expenditures has been noticeable in the various departments.

COMMENTS

I. Increase in Lapsed Balances

Lapsed Balances as at June 30, 1934, amounted to $407,820.26 as shown by the annual report of the Comptroller for the fiscal year ended that date. At June 30, 1935, these balances amounted to $722,088.72 according to available figures subject to slight variation but acceptable as substantially correct for our purposes.

This increase of $314,268.46 is noteworthy in view of the fact that departmental budgets for 1934-1935 had been reduced from the previous year's figures and further because of the obvious increase in commodity prices.

Under the Act creating the office of the Commissioner of Finance and defining his powers, the Commissioner, with the approval of the Governor was ordered to require the request officer of each spending agency in making the original allotments to set aside a certain Reserve of the total amounts appropriated to the spending agency and we were shown your orders to the Commissioner that any expenditure and request of release of Reserve and request for transfers to other appropriations in the last quarter of the 1934-1935 fiscal year be carefully reviewed before any approval be given.

Our examination showed that your orders in this respect were faithfully carried out and we have inspected many evidences of disapproval of such last minute requests. The result was that unused Reserves at June 30, 1935, amounted to $304,189.07 and are included among Lapsed Balances. Due to the close scrutiny of requests in the last quarter of the last fiscal year, we feel that you would be justified in taking credit for the entire increase, which increase we consider exceptional at a time when conditions would tend rather towards a decrease than an increase and is apparently due to the efficient carrying out of your orders regarding curtailment of all State expenditures.

II. Non-issuance of Relief Bonds

Although requirements for Emergency Relief were very heavy and tending towards increasing expenditures, you constantly insisted that you would not advocate the practice of borrowing to pay such expenses, but wanted the Relief situation to be on a pay-as-you-go basis. Based upon recent experience, if the issuance of bonds was resorted to, a total of $20,000,000.00 would have to be authorized in the current fiscal year to cover the State's share of this expense, although recent events make it possible that an even greater amount would be required.

However, using only this known requirement of $20,000,000.00 for the current fiscal year and assuming interest on such bonds to be conservatively estimated as three and one-half per cent, your insistence in putting relief on a pay-as-you-go basis rather than relying on a bond issue will result in an economy of $700,000.00.

In this connection, however, the cost of administering the Sales Tax might be considered. This tax is practically an alternative to the bond issue, and due to the fact that the annual cost is estimated as $600,000.00, the question might arise that the difference between the two methods would be only $100,000.00 in favor of the Sales Tax method. It is worthy of note, however, that the Sales Tax administration expenses would be payable practically one-half for salaries probably tending toward keeping residents of New Jersey off the relief rolls while the balance would be for expenditures made in the State for purchases, traveling, etc., and would, therefore, be of benefit to many classes of industry. In other words, while the annual cost of the bond issue would be, to some extent at least, payable outside the State to the bondholders, the total cost of the Sales Tax would accrue to the benefit of residents of your own State.

It is also interesting to note that the above-mentioned issue of twenty million dollars of State Bonds, maturing serially for eight years as do other Emergency Relief Bonds, while only sufficient for one year's relief expenditures would actually cost $3,150,000.00 in interest until final maturity.

III. State Highway Department

Your policy of discouraging additional bond issues also showed its effect in the State Highway Department, where disapproval of the issuance of $12,400,000.00 of bonds was noted. Of this amount issuance of $6,400,000.00 had been originally planned in the budget of the Highway Department for the calendar year 1935, but was eliminated on your orders.

Once again it is apparent that the withholding of authority to issue this $12,400,000.00 bonds during the year 1935 at an assumed interest rate of three and one-half per cent will result in an economy of $434,000.00 for the year.

A similar situation arises from the non-issuance of $2,000,000.00 in bonds authorized under Chapter 228, Laws of 1930, to be issued by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners for the elimination of railroad grade crossings on highways other than State highways. The savings in interest on these bonds will amount to $70,000.00 and the funds if and as necessary may be provided from motor vehicle fees under Chapter 102 of Laws of 1930.

The saving of $10,000.00 effected by you as Commissioner of Motor Vehicles in having licenses printed by the Department instead of by outside agencies will again be in evidence. While this saving first originated in 1934, it was not known whether it could be continued and was not given effect to in the 1935 budget. Since then, however, two multilith machines have been purchased at a cost of $1,500.00 each, and a net saving of approximately $7,000.00 is anticipated in 1935.

Various other economies and many other evidences of the Highway Department's cooperation in your endeavors to curtail expenses were noted, some of which are as follows:

Through competition on materials for State aid projects..	$486,786.00
Through competition on maintenance department materials	74,504.00
Through non-issuance of road maps	15,000 00
Through elimination of displays at carnivals and fairs...	5,000 00
Through cancellation of free distribution of road specification books	3,500 00
Through reduction in printing bill by systematizing of forms	3,000.00
Through elimination of iron markers at creeks and streams	720 00
Through requiring fees for special property line maps at real estate developments	300.00
Total	$588,810 00

It was noted in addition that excellent results have been attained in keeping various costs, such as property purchases, bids on road constructions, etc., below engineers' estimates. While we have not considered these as economies, they are of interest because the Highway Department points to the fact that such costs have been $1,018,759.00 below the estimates.

IV. Publications

We noted that you had ordered an investigation into the status of State publications with the suggestion that it might be possible to suspend some temporarily, abandon others or make publications available only upon the payment of fees to cover the cost of preparation.

1738 MINUTES OF THE FIRST SPECIAL SESSION

The following publications have already been suspended:

N. J. Functions, usually prepared at a cost of	$2,000.00
Part II of Report of State Tax Department Division of Engineering and Railroad Tax	1,665.00
Total	$3,665.00

This saving is obvious and does not take into consideration the saving in postage on the publications suspended. The Commissioner of Finance was ordered to tabulate all publications issued by the State with complete details as to cost, number required, etc. The purpose was to determine which further publications could be discontinued, temporarily suspended or put on a paying basis. This survey is still in progress. A report on this situation in connection with the Public Utility Commission estimates their yield from contemplated fees for forms, etc., would exceed $20,000.00 per annum for this Commission alone. In order to be conservative, however, and granting that this would include fees of approximately ten dollars each on forms required for the annual reports of all Public Utility companies, we are accepting an annual saving of $10,000.00 for this purpose. A bill has already been drawn up for submission to the Legislature requiring the Board of Public Utility Commissioners to collect fees for their forms and publications.

In our comments under the economies being effected by the State Highway Department we listed savings of $18,500.00 from the cancellation of free distribution of road specification books and non-issuance of road maps, etc. These were included under that heading because the Highway Department operates in a calendar year, while other Departments operate on a fiscal year.

V. Alien Prisoners

Plans are now being worked out for the deportation of alien prisoners, a number of whom are confined in State institutions for crimes ranging from murder to lesser offenses. A list of forty-five of these major criminal cases has been prepared and we are told has the tentative approval of the Board of Pardons. The situation will soon be taken up with the Federal Government for deportation arrangements after which the Board of Pardons will be asked to finally pass on the plan.

The Commissioner of Institutions and Agencies has analyzed the expiration dates of the sentences involved and after allowing full time for good behavior as well as considering fifteen years as a life sentence, compiled figures, based on per capita cost to the State, which showed that the State would realize an eventual saving of $100,000.00.

Naturally, this entire amount is not applicable to one year and, in fact will not be entirely realized for at least fifteen years, but it proves that every possible source of economy is being studied. The procedure is bound to be slow, but should eventually be of great benefit to the State. After one group has been disposed of, it is planned to select another group and continue until the entire alien population of the State prisons shall have been removed.

VI. Surplus Equipment

A survey is now being prepared of all furniture and equipment in all Departments and a complete tabulation is being made for ready reference, it being the intention to place identification tags on all pieces. Should a bureau or department be abolished, the equipment of that office will be entered on "Surplus Equipment" cards and the equipment itself stored in the basement of the State House or Annex.

Every order for purchase of furniture or equipment is carefully studied by the Commissioner of Finance and if the equipment is available under "Surplus Equipment", it is supplied from that source. At the same time the Commissioner is insisting that rebuilt instead of new furniture be purchased if it is not available among the "Surplus Equipment". This has already been a source of economy and it may safely be said that up to the present time, approximately $4,000.00 has been saved the State through this system and considerable additional savings should be realized in the near future.

With the co-operation of the Commissioner of Finance and his staff of E. R. A. workers, steps have been taken towards the modernization of the filing systems of the State. This is especially urgent for the purposes of the Motor Vehicle Department, where the filing of over a million bills of sale is involved. The filing system in this Department is sorely in need of additional cabinets and they already have entered a requisition for the purchase of fifty files at a cost of $2,500.00. As a result of the modernization of the filing system, during the course of which papers rarely referred to were filed by other means, a total of one hundred and eighty-three filing cabinets have already been made available, eliminating the necessity of additional purchases.

Up to date, therefore, a known saving of $2,500.00 has been effected, while on the basis of cabinets already made available, an eventual saving of approximately $10,000.00 should be realized.

VII. Seized Equipment

The Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control has been operating under an arrangement with the Federal Government whereby a majority of the seized merchandise and equipment was taken over by the Federal Unit, the State not having sufficient funds available for storage purposes, etc.

The Commissioner of Finance established a unit in his department to investigate this situation. It became obvious that if some arrangement could be made for central storing of merchandise and equipment instead of the usual method of storing in private and public warehouses and garages, great savings could be effected. It has been worked out that motor vehicles and alcohol could be stored at the State Highway Garage at Fernwood and all miscellaneous equipment at the Reformatory at Rahway.

On June 29, 1935, you signed what is now Chapter 308, Laws of 1935, giving the Commissioner of Finance control over all seized merchandise and equipment for the use of the State of New Jersey, and all such merchandise and equipment, formerly diverted to the Federal Unit was taken over, the value of this at used and scrap value being in excess of $100,000.00.

Two seized trucks were assigned to the Alcoholic Beverage Department to care for their trucking needs, where formerly public truckmen were employed.

The practice will be to assign to various State agencies such equipment as they may require, while surplus equipment will be auctioned or sold on bids as the situation demands. There will therefore, be a direct saving of at least the amount formerly diverted to the Federal Unit, or cash income, the results of the disposals.

To summarize, therefore, no purchase of any motor vehicle equipment or merchandise is being approved by the Commissioner of Finance until a check is made to ascertain if similar seized equipment is on hand. In a similar manner, seized alcohol is being allocated to various agencies for anti-freeze solutions for winter needs, while allocation of pure grain alcohol is being made to the various State Hospitals.

It is apparent, therefore, that considerable economy is being effected by the retaining of seized equipment and assigning it to State Agencies instead of permitting new purchases by the auctioning of surplus equipment, by the saving in trucking charges, by the saving in storage charges by use of State facilities, by the use of seized alcohol as anti-freeze solution for State cars, and by the allocation of pure grain alcohol to State institutions. A mass of figures was prepared for this purpose and a conservative estimate of the savings to be effected from the above activities during the current fiscal year would be $92,500.00, details of which are as follows:

On storage of confiscated motor vehicles	$5,000.00
On storage of confiscated merchandise	10,000.00
On storage of confiscated alcohol	2,500.00
On trucking charges	7,000.00
Assigning equipment to institutions ..	50,000.00
Allocations to various departments	3,000.00
Disposal of seized cars for departmental use and trade-ins	15,000.00
	<hr/>
Total	$92,500.00

VIII. Postage

For some time there has been a steady flow of mail with insufficient postage coming into the various State Divisions. It had been customary to pay this shortage, with a resulting expense to the State ranging from $550.00 to $700.00 per month.

An order has now been issued to the Postmaster, effective November 1, 1935, to cease further deliveries of under-paid mail matter, and based on past experience, a saving of approximately $5,000.00 should be effected during this fiscal year.

IX. Office Rents

It would appear that the investigation being conducted by the Commissioner of Finance into State Departments housed outside of State-owned buildings in the Trenton Area would bring about considerable saving. It is intended that the Old Normal School building on North Clinton Avenue abandoned by the Board of Education should be utilized.

Arrangements are being perfected whereby by July 1, 1936, certain departments will be transferred in whole or in part to the school site. We examined the figures for present rentals of these departments, the total being $74,130.00, and have deducted therefrom $41,700.00 being the estimated expense of operation of the school building after its rehabilitation. The result shows an annual saving of $32,430.00.

An investigation was also made of the rented office space in the Newark area and it was discovered that by housing all activities in that area under one roof a saving would be realized both in rents and in telephone expense, with a corresponding increase in efficiency. It was noted that rents affected by this change totalled $131,326.00, while rentals on the space allocated to the same departments in the Industrial Office Building in Newark total $100,611.00 resulting in a savings in rentals of $30,715.00. Against this however, there must be considered a relatively small expenditure for alterations.

A survey of the telephone situation by the N. J. Bell Telephone Company indicated a saving of from $3,000.00 to $6,000.00.

All of these plans while under way at the present time, are not as yet completed.

X. Transportation

There has been projected a plan for the management of all transportation facilities of the State excluding the Highway Department. The Commissioner of Finance states that he has asked the State House Commission to delegate to him one person to be responsible for the management and suspension of this function. This is a large project with enormous possibilities for economies.

In some departments there are privately owned cars on which the State allows the owners six cents per mile when the cars are used for State business. An investigation by the Commissioner of Finance showed that where cars were operated in excess of 12,000 miles a saving would be effected by replacing them with State-owned cars.

The proposed plans also provide for a change in gasoline and oil purchases from the present method of buying at service stations at posted prices to the use of State pumps and tanks at at least eighty-five points in various locations at State institutions, a reorganization of repair methods, purchasing of supplies and garaging of automobiles.

The estimated savings are predicated on actual performance records of the cars. Although lack of time precluded a more thorough investigation into the great number of statistics compiled as a result of this survey, if carried to its conclusion it should show savings in excess of $100,000.00 per year.

Summary

The results of our examination show savings amounting to $2,507,888.40 extending over a long period, including savings of $2,265,458.46 from the period of your inauguration until the close of the fiscal year ended June 30, 1936.

Among these savings of $2,265,458.46 effected by you or to be put into effect by you prior to June 30, 1936, there is included $1,204,000.00 for interest on bonds not issued. This leaves a balance of $1,061,458.46 in economies attributable directly to your administration and to the cooperation of the Commissioner of Finance and the various Departments and Agencies which were of considerable assistance to us during the course of our examination.

Very truly yours,

GEORGE H. KINGSLEY & COMPANY,
