GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

January 11, 1955

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker and Members of the Senate and General Assembly:

In preparing this message, I found myself in the same dilemma that every Governor has to face: Should a legislative message reflect in broad terms a philosophy of government, or should it be a mere catalogue of proposed legislation?

I have tried to resolve this dilemma by sketching the philosophical framework in which I have set out to fulfill my responsibilities; but also by pointing to specific issues that I have discussed with members of the executive family.

Government in democracy must have both heart and head. Without heart, government cannot be warm, human, sensitive to the people's wants and needs. With head alone, government can be efficient—cold-bloodedly so. We don't want that, nor do we want a type of government given over to emotional excesses.

But with head and heart in proper balance, government can be effective and realistic without being cold—and it can be responsive to human needs without being irresponsible or profligate.

In examining the messages of my predecessors, I have often been struck by the continuing nature of the problems of our State; they never yield to final settlement, yet they must be attacked again and again as conditions change. In government, as in other phases of life, nothing is ever finished. I am reminded of the words of Woodrow Wilson:

"All through the centuries, there has been this slow, painful struggle forward, forward, up, up, a little at a time, along the entire incline, the interminable way. What difference does it make if we do not reach the uplands? We have given our lives to the enterprise, and that is richer and the moral is greater."

From time to time, in this evolutionary process, it is well for man to pause a moment—to look backward at what has been done and then to look forward to plan the next stages of the journey. This I have tried to do in the message you are about to hear.

A year ago, the State was deeply troubled by charges that big time criminals and racketeers had been operating in connivance with public officials. Bergen County was a focal point. We promised action.

In Bergen, a special deputy with a number of assistants reorganized the prosecutor's office and made a frontal attack on a long list of pending indictments with fruitful results. Today, the prosecutor's office is in control of a resident official, so that the people of Bergen County can now feel that law enforcement is in competent and honorable hands. The county's problems in this regard are being handled promptly and effectively, in accord with high standards of morality. Elsewhere in the State, we have been vigilant to prevent organized crime from taking root.

As we promised last year, the State is being represented by an able legal staff in the office of the Attorney General. Practically the entire staff of approximately 38 lawyers is devoting full time to agency hearings, trials, appellate litigation and in rendering legal advice, including the preparation of formal and memorandum opinions, to all departments of State government.

I pledged during my campaign that I would do everything possible to insure the citizens of New Jersey that they would have the highest standards possible in enforcing the laws of the State. We know that criminals, hoodlums and racketeers are not restricted by the boundaries of any single county.

Criminal Investigation Section

Therefore, a criminal investigation section has been newly organized in the Division of Law to specialize in state-wide investigations and to coordinate and supplement the activities of the many prosecutors. This means that all complaints will be carefully investigated and that the investigation section, with the cooperation of the prosecutors, will have full control of the law enforcement necessary. If demanded, the Attorney General may act on his own initiative.

The Attorney General's Office has rendered expert service in the investigation of the Division of Employment Security of the Department of Labor and Industry. It has maintained high standards of service in the State Police, and in the Motor Vehicle and Alcoholic Beverage Control Divisions. It has effectively coordinated law enforcement by the state and county and local authorities.

Your chief executive, his cabinet members and teams of division and bureau heads, as well as many able state employees, have given increasingly of their time to meet with groups throughout the state to explain our state government program, to assist in the handling of local problems, and to learn the thinking of our people at first hand.

The theses upon which the executive department has sought to work are these:

(1) Legislative mandates should be broad in scope, allowing administrative discretion and implementation;

(2) able administrators should arrive at decisions impartially, on the basis of facts available to them;

(3) remedies for the solution of administrative problems should be sought within the department or between departments before resort is had to the Legislature;

(4) the services of the executive branch are and will be available to all equally.

Improvement of Administration

Within the existing framework of our Constitution and statutes, much has been done (1) to eliminate overlapping functions and to prevent duplications; (2) to reassign functions to those departments most competent to deal with them; and (3) to coordinate, as between departments, or to seek joint action on vital programs which defy treatment by compartmentation. An example is the attack upon juvenile delinquency by the Judiciary, the Departments of Law and Public Safety, Education, and Institutions and Agencies. Another example is a committee of six departments—Health, Education, Conservation and Economic Development, Law and Public Safety, Labor and Industry, Institutions and Agencies—to attack the housing problem.

In the task of making government work through an efficient executive department, we have been ably assisted by the cooperation of the Legislature and the Judiciary.

The conference on each legislative day with the President, Majority and Minority leaders of the Senate, the Speaker, Majority and Minority leaders of the Assembly, my personal counsel and myself, has done much to expedite the executive department's program and to fit the legislative program into effective administration.

Frequent conferences with the Chief Justice and occasional conferences with the entire Supreme Court have done much to coordinate the activities of the executive and judicial branches of our State government. They have also brought about further cooperation by the Legislature in matters pertaining to the Judiciary.

The executive department is also indebted to many interested groups which have given of their time and efforts unselfishly to make recommendations for helping to solve our govermental problems. Particularly are we indebted to business groups which have made surveys of several of our key departments and divisions. Eventual adoption of their suggestions should result in economies, as well as more orderly and efficient services to our citizens. I intend to continue to utilize the services of such public-minded individuals whenever I feel that their abilities and experience will benefit our State.

Much has been written and discussed about the conflicts between a Democratic Governor and a Republican Legislature. To you, I can say that much of the comment represents wishful thinking by partisans or headline seekers. The legislative and executive departments have cooperated during the past year and will continue to cooperate in the business of the State. In the coming year, you will find me most anxious to further this cooperation.

The record of the past year refutes the notion that we cannot get along. Though there have been failures, let us look at the solid achievements which were the fruit of joint effort.

State Aid For Schools

We now have an improved program of state aid for local schools. For years there was a demand for increased state aid to local school systems and for years the public decried failure of the legislative and executive branches to achieve it.

The new formula is simple and equitable. It provides for a foundation program of education below which no district may go. It assures minimum aid for each district and, at the same time, provides equalization aid based upon a true measure of real estate values. This new aid formula will more than double the State's contribution to the local school districts in its first full year of operation. This aid is exclusive of the State's contribution to the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund; Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey; the State Teachers Colleges; and the cost of operation of the administrative services of the Department of Education.

This you and I accomplished. It is of course true that increased taxes were imposed for a two-year period in this connection and the plan is to pay only one and a quarter year's payments of additional aid under the new formula. It must be realized that increased service means increased expenditure, and the increased demands of this new school aid formula may require additional revenue next year.

For years, leading educators and public-spirited groups have stressed the need for a state-wide teachers' salary schedule so that we could provide children in all parts of our state with the best teachers and the finest educational opportunities. This we have accomplished; the bill establishing new minimum salaries and annual increments is now law.

In the past several years many interested groups publicized the neglect of our educational system to provide adequately for the education of handicapped children, including the physically handicapped, but with particular reference to the severely mentally retarded. This past year, after a complete survey was made by the Department of Education, an integrated program for the education of handicapped children was adopted on a State-wide basis. Its success will depend in no small degree on school district cooperation and the administrative efforts of our State Department of Education.

NEED FOR MORE CLASSROOMS

A comprehensive survey of school building construction needs, recently completed by our Department of Education in cooperation with local school districts, indicates clearly that our school districts face a tremendous task to provide necessary additional classrooms and other facilities in the decade ahead of us. Various proposals have been made in the past aimed at assisting those districts which have exceeded their borrowing capacity and others which may face such a problem in the future.

The Tax Policy Commission which presented the report upon which the new State School Aid legislation is based is also considering the question of financing school building construction. Undoubtedly, the bulk of the financing will be done locally, as it always has been. There may be over and above this a need for some State assistance. I suggest that we await the findings of the Tax Policy Commission, and examine federal aid proposals before attempting to seek legislative remedies. Such proposals, I am informed, should be forthcoming within a matter of months.

By constitutional mandate in the 1953 election, the people authorized the Legislature to regulate bingo and games of chance for charitable purposes, on a local option basis. By legislative and executive cooperation, every one of the 567 communities in New Jersey had an opportunity to vote on whether or not bingo and raffles would be permitted in that community.

A MIDDLE COURSE FOR BINGO

Those which voted affirmatively were able to license organizations to engage in the enterprise as early as May, 1954. There will always be those who demand either complete freedom or complete prohibition with respect to gambling for charitable purposes. We have followed and will continue to follow a middle course which will permit realization of the charitable objective under restrictions necessary to protect the public interest. The law is not a perfect one and no doubt some changes have to be studied and effected when proved necessary.

The Supreme Court last year found the New York Port Authority wanting in statutory power to build a third tube, a project upon which millions of dollars had already been spent. The decision caused a costly work stoppage. In this emergency, the Legislature and the Executive solved the problem in nine hours.

By cooperative effort, we have taken the first step on a program to attack our air pollution problems within the State. We still must deal with the interstate aspects of the problem.

Again, we cooperated to improve the purchasing practices of the Treasury Department. We consolidated purchasing in the interest of economy and efficiency. We forbade the acceptance by State employees of gifts from persons doing business with the State.

The Department of Education is working on a revision of Title 18 of the Revised Statutes. During the past two years, members of the Department of Education have held many conferences with members of the Bar and school officials to study recommended changes. The Law Revision Division of the Legislative Services Commission is now supervising the rewriting of this Title. The Department of Education is planning to ask the Legislature to consider this revision during the current session.

In the field of labor and industry, a model mine safety law was enacted.

Long standing inequities in the parole system have been eliminated.

These are examples of cooperative effort which has resulted in constructive legislation for all our citizens.

Areas of Inaction

There are, of course, vital problems upon which the Legislature has not taken any action. I refer specifically to the failure to meet future water needs for both South and North Jersey, and also to the failure to reorganize our Motor Vehicle Department. The latter has caused delay in our program of issuing licenses by mail through a central office and of consolidating our services of motor vehicle inspection stations, licensing examination locations, point system examination offices and local motor vehicle agencies. Only a full public discussion of the need for rent control resulted in the passage of an extender.

In the main, we have proved that we can work together. We must continue to do so if we are to furnish to our citizens the services they want and need and deserve in a dynamic and conscientious government. I should like to mention some of the aids by which we can seek effective cooperation between the executive and legislative departments.

You have recently passed and I have signed the bill known as Legislative Services Law, 1954, setting up three divisions:

(a) Counsel to the Legislature
(b) Law Revision and Bill Drafting
(c) Legislative Information and Research.

These are services recognized as necessary for the operation of a modern legislature in its complex tasks.

You have my assurance that all departments will furnish to legislators any information you feel necessary.

Over the years, many surveys have been made of various activities of state government. These data, plus the factual material concerning the operation of any state department, as well as the views of the department, are yours for the asking.

The executive has endeavored to remain close to the people at all times. I know that you are close to your constituents and are often called upon to seek administrative information for them. We are most desirous of assisting you.

On every legislative day, so far as it is possible, department heads will be available at their respective offices to consult with legislators on executive or legislative problems. Conferences at other times will be arranged to suit the convenience of legislators and officials.

It is hoped that the legislative conference between the Governor and legislative leaders heretofore mentioned will continue. A parallel service might well be worked out by having a representative of the personal counsel's office or a department head or representative meet with legislative committees from time to time.

THE CAUCUS—INVISIBLE GOVERNMENT

You know I welcome constructive suggestions from you as to the operation of the executive branch. I trust you will take in the same spirit some suggestions from me as to the operations of the legislative branch.

Governors on occasion have a way of being a bit sanguine in their judgments. In 1952, Governor Driscoll said:

"While I am heartened by the report that the so-called caucus system is to be modified, if not abandoned, a prompt interment of an outmoded practice would appear to be in order."

It happens that I, too, was overly optimistic. Last year in my inaugural message I said:

"Of its own volition, the Legislature is taking the highly laudable step of abolishing the old caucus system and of breathing life into the committees. It is hoped that the State can look forward to a new era of open debate and continued improvement of the legislative process."

Yet, in the past year, the caucus system, particularly in the Senate, has shown its potency. A caucus for discussion's sake is desirable. But a caucus which decides that a bill shall not go on the board for vote by the Senate unless eleven of the majority members so desire, even though a majority of the whole house is in favor of it—that's invisible undemocratic government.

The Legislature should seriously consider the establishment of a working schedule. Many states have constitutional limitations setting up sessions of 60 days or the like. There is no doubt that a prescribed period of time in which a legislative program is to be adopted encourages achievement.

I know the Senate's objection to adjourning sine die. It has some trepidation of ad interim appointments. But the cost of not setting a target date for completion of legislation has led to inefficiency, needless rehashing of legislative problems, procrastination and failure to act at all on many important matters.

If the Legislature chooses not to adjourn sine die, it might, nevertheless, set up a procedure by rule to act on all legislation except emergency matters by a prescribed terminal date. This should be an especially attractive program in an election year.

Cooperation With Washington

Some of my predecessors were rather anxious to ascribe the ills of the State to Federal Government intervention, notwithstanding that many problems are national in scope and do not yield either to individual state action or joint state action. For instance, Incodel, a joint state plan for conservation of water resources, was scuttled by the refusal of one state to cooperate.

It is interesting to observe, in last week's State of the Union Message, that the President of the United States recognizes the need for Federal action in many fields. He favors Federal aid for more classrooms; new measures to facilitate construction of needed health facilities; strengthened programs to deal with water and air pollution; more public housing; the establishment in the White House of a coordinator of public works; more concern with Federal-state planning; and a 26-billion dollar highway program.

I call these Federal proposals to your attention, with the idea that New Jersey should study them all carefully and make sure that we get our share in each field. We pay out tremendous sums in income taxes and other revenue to the Federal Government; and if we do not take advantage of what Washington offers in return, we are merely subsidizing improvements in other states.

Law and Public Safety

We shall continue to utilize every weapon at our command to prevent the State of New Jersey from ever again becoming known as the "haven for the bigtime racketeer," and we shall root out and suppress illegal activities in any field wherever we may find them. If county and local officials fail to perform their duties, or if there is any indication of a breakdown of law enforcement in any area, we shall not hesitate to supersede those who have failed in their obligations.

In order to wage effective and continual war upon crime, it is essential that information be regularly and systematically obtained and compiled with respect to criminal activities. At present, we have no established system of crime reporting in the State. This should be corrected by the establishment of a compulsory system of reporting, embracing the following information:

A. The volume, location and nature of crime reported by the police departments.

B. The volume and nature of crime presented to grand juries and the results of all cases brought to trial, as reported by prosecutors of the county.

C. The results of cases handled by parole, probation authorities, and institutions.

This recommended system relates solely to information to be compiled within the executive branch of government and is entirely exclusive of those records presently maintained by the judicial branch. Mechanically, the creation of this system of crime reporting would be neither difficult nor expensive.

URGENCY OF CRIME REPORTS

Intelligent law enforcement requires an adequate and complete opportunity to review accurately past and present experience so that, at any given time, those charged with the ultimate responsibility of law enforcement may properly measure the results of their efforts.

I am not unaware of the fact that legislation seeking this end was introduced in 1953. It did not become law. The need was urgent then—it is more urgent now. I wholeheartedly recommend the establishment of an adequate system of compulsory crime reporting centering in the State Police.

In 1927 the New Jersey Security Law was adopted to protect the citizens of New Jersey from fraudulent and unscrupulous operations in connection with the sale or purchase of securities. A careful study of the situation which has grown up during the past several years, convinces me that we must require more strict regulation in this field. This is particularly so since amendments to the Pennsylvania and New York Security Laws, resulting in more exacting regulation, has made it advantageous for unscrupulous securities dealers once again to attempt to "invade" the State of New Jersey.

I, therefore, recommend that legislation be enacted to require registration of dealers, salesmen, solicitors and investment counsellors or advisers in the securities field. The registration fees should be sufficiently high to defray the cost of administration of this law. The Act should be carefully drafted so as not to dishearten or discourage those legitimate sponsors of new enterprises which desire to establish themselves within the State of New Jersey.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

I now turn to the ever-present problem of juvenile delinquency. Upon a state level, we have commissions and committees which are engaged in a study of this situation. Additionally, many public-spirited groups and organizations are giving their attention to this problem. Here and throughout the country, there is a tendency to pass what can be properly termed stopgap legislation.

We are advised to legislate against the publication and distribution of certain "comic" books; to establish curfews; to curb certain types of TV programs; to enforce parental responsibility, both civil and criminal, by statute. In other words, there is a growing tendency to "pass a law" against juvenile delinquency.

I am not prepared at this time to recommend any type of legislation to combat this problem, for the problem itself is so fundamental and so far-reaching that it affords no easy opportunity of solution.

Only a very small percentage of our children can be classed as "juvenile delinquents" and, I suspect, as asserted by a leading psychologist in the field, that their difficulty probably arises from the fabric of our whole society; that we have bred into our children "our fears and insecurities"; that we have foisted upon them "our mistakes and misconceptions"; that perhaps "they are imprisoned by the blunders and delusions of us, their predecessors, and like all prisoners they are mutineers in their hearts."

We should not, in any event, minimize the seriousness of this situation or despair of its solution, but, on the other hand, we should not be unwisely led into the passage of unreasonable or unworkable legislation.

For the time being, a committee of four, representing the Judiciary, the Department of Institutions and Agencies, Department of Law and Public Safety and the Department of Education, is engaged in a study of the problem and in coordinating activities in the handling of juveniles.

It has come to our attention that abuses have arisen within the field of consumer financing, particularly relating to automobiles and household appliances. I have asked the Department of Banking and Insurance to investigate the need and efficacy of legislation to authorize that department to extend its power of regulation into the field of consumer financing, so as to prevent and control improper practices.

The volume of complaints which I have received with respect to alleged improper practices by cemeteries indicates that a thorough and complete study, looking toward the adoption of proper regulatory statutes, is called for. I recommend that positive action in this field be taken at this session and have asked the Attorney General to confer with such committee as the Legislature may designate to examine into this problem.

MOTOR VEHICLE REFORM

At the present time, the Bureau of Tenement House Supervision and the Bureau of Hotel Fire Safety are within the jurisdiction of the Department of Law and Public Safety. The department is also required to administer the Liquefied Petroleum Act. Although these functions have an aspect of law enforcement, a study indicates that it is advisable to integrate the administration of the Tenement House Law, the Hotel Fire Safety Law and the Liquefied Petroleum Act into the Department of Labor and Industry. There they can be carried out more efficiently and effectively, and probably at less cost.

One of the State's most pressing problems is the need to change our present motor vehicle system. Licensing and registration procedures are antiquated and cause great inconvenience to the people. Many of our inspection stations are improperly located and overloaded—in fact, obsolete. The enactment of legislation to permit mail renewal of drivers' licenses; optional mail renewal of registrations; modernization of the records system in the Central Office of the Motor Vehicle Division; and the eventual complete replacement of the present inspection stations by modern Motor Vehicle buildings throughout the State—such legislation is an urgent necessity. The people of New Jersey already have waited too long.

An evil which has grown up in our complicated society is a particularly ugly and distasteful one. I refer to the way in which unscrupulous solicitors take advantage of the generosity so characteristic of the American people by obtaining contributions under guise of charity, only to divert all or undue portions of the funds to their own enrichment.

The remedy devised by a vigilant democracy for these smug pickpockets is to bar solicitation of contributions by a charitable organization until appropriate information has been filed and made available to the public. There may also be required periodic reports to the Attorney General or some other State official of amounts raised and spent.

Treasury

Progress has been made during this past year in raising the standards of ethics and security in the conduct of the State's business, especially in the areas of financial and purchase transactions.

A survey undertaken by able and public spirited experts from the business field, begun for the purpose of improving the operations of the Division of Employment Security, in order to reduce the time which the citizen who is out of work must wait before receiving the benefits which are his due under the law—this survey led to surprising and shocking revelations of the betrayal of public trust.

Even before this, some of the steps which were to prove necessary had already been taken. The new law covering purchases contained a general provision against acceptance of gifts by employees of the Department of the Treasury.

The disclosure that a prominent former State official had represented the State in dealings with a bank of which he was an officer, director and stockholder, brought to light the fact that there was no general recognition of the principle that State employees must refrain from representing the State in transactions in which they may have an interest opposed to that of the State.

Some of the department heads have already issued rulings applicable to their department to prohibit this sort of situation. It seems to me elementary that the State should be safeguarded against the possibility of injury due to an employee having an interest adverse to the State.

We have also found difficulty in installing modern and business-like controls over such everyday things as issuance of checks. I shall have specific recommendations for the establishment of uniform control and responsibility in areas in which the State has a responsibility for the integrity of financial transactions, whether the transactions are on behalf of a department of the State government or of an agency or fund which is not directly under the control of the Treasury.

In this connection I have found diverse and cumbersome procedures under various escheat laws, and I am told that the fees involved in some cases are inequitable. We shall have specific recommendations on this subject.

Social Security For State Employees

An important step forward was taken in behalf of the financial security of our State and local government employees. The added benefits available through integration of the State's public pension systems with Federal Social Security were obtained by the important legislation setting up the new Public Employees' Retirement System as of the first of January, 1955.

There remain substantial improvements which should be made in various pensions systems in order to achieve greater uniformity of benefits for people in like situations. There is need to place some of the funds which are actuarially unsound on a basis which will provide the reserves necessary to pay for the benefits without inordinate expense at that time to the taxpayers of the State, and to establish uniform procedures and security controls for the administration of the various funds. I shall recommend specific legislation to these ends, and shall explore further with you the desirability of consolidation of certain existing funds.

I favor making Federal social security available to all public employees.

I strongly urge enactment of legislation, which has been suggested also during prior administrations, for the creation of a Division of Public Pensions in the Department of the Treasury. The size of the administrative load alone would justify this, but sound organization also dictates it. The present Bureau of Public Employees' Pensions is not logically placed in the Division of Investment, a specialized division created and staffed entirely for the purpose of supervising investments and not suited for supervision of the varied activities of the Pension Bureau. The senior State employee with responsibility for pension matters should report directly to the Treasurer.

EQUALIZATION OF ASSESSMENTS

Probably no public problem cries more urgently for solution or has been longer postponed than that of equalization of local tax assessments on real and personal property. The decision of the Supreme Court last Fall in the Baldwin Construction Company case underlines this problem and makes it my duty to call it to your attention.

It is common knowledge throughout the State that real and personal property are assessed with complete disregard of the statutory requirement that they be assessed "at true value." The result of the adoption of varying standards of valuation as between two property owners in one community is obvious and understood by all.

The result of a different average ratio of assessment to true value in different communities is less clearly understood but no less unfair. The result is inequitable sharing of the cost of county government and often of other costs like the maintenance of public schools. The ratio of assessment of land varies from around 12 per cent to around 70 per cent of true value. The variations in assessments of personal property are even greater.

The Baldwin Case indicates the need for legislation to define more clearly the powers and jurisdictions of tax boards to grant relief from discriminatory assessments.

But I believe that a further step is also required, following the excellent example set in the State School Aid Act of 1954. Under this Act, State Aid for Education will be distributed in accordance with a formula involving a determination by the State Director of Taxation of the facts required to equalize real and personal property values used as a factor in fixing amounts distributed as state aid.

I believe that the Legislature should seriously consider giving the State the power, after a reasonable time, to enforce equalization of assessments when the normal processes of home rule, of local assessment and of county and State Tax Board appeals, have failed to produce true equalization. The Director of Taxation will already be in possession of the necessary facts in connection with his duties in the distribution of the State's School Aid.

In this connection, consideration will have to be given to the effect on municipal debt limits of effective assessment equalization, and it may be that municipalities should be authorized to incur specific indebtedness for the purpose of paying for the necessary re-valuation program.

STATE

The events of the past year serve to accentuate the need of change in our election laws. The last revision of our over-all law was made in 1930. Only nine of our 21 counties use the voting machine. The remainder use paper ballots. Delay in reporting returns and lack of uniformity in the voting process, with consequent public distrust, are the evils consequent upon continued use of the paper ballot.

Ease of registering with safeguards against fraud is a demand to be met. The deadline for filing petitions for office should be the close of the regular business day rather than midnight.

Drawings for ballot positions have a strange way of uniformly giving the preferred first place to the party of the county clerk's persuasion.

The people should have a chance to decide by constitutional amendment whether 18 year olds should be permitted to vote, and on whether the state residence requirement should be reduced from one year to 6 months and the county requirement from 5 months to 40 days. Party designations and slogans have a way of becoming the property of the opposition. Light paper and hard pencils can make a myth of the secrecy of the ballot. Over-all state coordination in election law practices and supervision of county election boards is lacking. The statutory procedure with respect to statewide recounts is ambiguous; it should be explicit. Legal loopholes permit campaign contributions to go unreported.

We need general election law revision badly. A commission has been at work for some time on this subject. We need voting machines in all 21 counties. This is a legislative responsibility.

The State Constitution requires that the Legislature reapportion the membership of the General Assembly as nearly as possible according to the population of the several counties after the 1950 Federal census. This has not been done, and I strongly urge that the Legislature fulfill its obligations in this respect, thus removing serious inequities in the representation of certain counties in the General Assembly.

I am further disturbed at the division of congressional districts within the State, cutting across county lines and amounting to what is called gerrymandering. The Legislature has a responsibility under the Federal Constitution to draw boundaries for congressional districts as nearly as possible by population. In New Jersey, we now have some congressional districts exceeding 400,000 in population, while others are barely 250,000. This results in unequal and undemocratic representation.

FOR A UNIFORM COMMERCIAL CODE

The American Law Institute and the National Conference of Commission on Uniform State Laws have drawn up a Uniform Commercial Code. It represents an immense amount of time and thought from a great many people well informed in both the business and the legal sides of the fields covered by the Code. I favor the adoption of such a Code for New Jersey.

Our many laws relating to certain commercial transactions in or regarding personal property and contracts and other documents concerning them, including sales, commercial paper, bank deposits and collections, documentary letters of credit, bulk transfers, warehouse receipts, bills of lading, other documents of title, investment securities, and secured transactions, including certain sales of accounts, chattel paper and contract rights—these laws need revision and consolidation.

The Code could replace many acts now on our statute books which have become outmoded through the passage of time and which have ceased to be uniform because of different interpretations of the same language by the courts of different states. It would be well to consider the merits of such a Uniform Commercial Code for the benefit of our commercial transactions, financing institutions and the legal profession.

Now, as to another kind of code: The New Jersey Bar Association is studying a proposed New Jersey Administrative Procedure Act. It should provide for the prompt publication of rules and regulations, and provide minimum requirements of fairness in the conduct of hearings by state agencies. Article V, Section IV, Paragraph 6, states: "No rule or regulation made by any department . . . shall take effect until it is filed with the Secretary of State . . . The Legislature shall provide for the prompt publication of such rules and regulations." We should proceed to carry out the provisions of the Constitution.

EDUCATION

The State Board of Education, after a comprehensive study, has declared that the Manual Training and Industrial School at Bordentown should be closed as of June 30, 1955. The Board and the Commissioner of Education have kept me informed of their thinking and recently met with me and members of the Education Committee of both Houses of the Legislature to discuss their resolution to close the school.

The Manual Training School has served a very useful purpose in our State dating back to 1886. It has been staffed by many devoted people through the years since its founding. But times change. An institution may outlive its purpose.

The plain fact is, that although Bordentown was opened to pupils of all races in 1948, it has continued to be in fact a segregated institution, enrolling exclusively boys and girls of one race. This is contrary to the spirit of our new Constitution. I am convinced of the wisdom of discontinuing the school and therefore request that legislation be prepared and passed giving sanction to its closing.

In the past several years, there has been a great increase in the number of regional high school districts, and the probabilities are that this number will continue to grow. Some changes in present legislation governing the creation of regional districts are needed to provide for contingencies not foreseen in the original measure.

INSTITUTIONS AND AGENCIES

In my inaugural address I pointed out:

"One of the gravest tasks of the State lies in the fields of mental health, correction and welfare administration, presided over by the Department of Institutions and Agencies . . . In dealing with human beings who suffer the handicaps of disease, dependency or delinquency, it is my hope that the State can attain an eminent position. We need adequate personnel and research, training and educational programs; proper executive direction; increased attention to preventive measures. We should pursue such a course most actively."

During the past year, no area of government has received more attention from me than the Department of Institutions and Agencies. I have visited many of the institutions and have met regularly with the State Board of Control. In addition I have had frequent conferences with the President of the Board and the head of the Department.

There has been discussion about creating out of this Department three separate ones, namely, welfare, mental health and correction. In addition, changes have been suggested in the existing relationships among the State Board of Control, the central executive office, and the twenty-two relatively autonomous boards of managers which, with their superintendents, administer the respective institutions.

NEW USE FOR BORDENTOWN

At this time, I am not ready to make any specific recommendations for such extensive changes. The existing framework is the result of years of study and experience. With the cooperation of the Board of Control and through the active efforts of the department head, all administrative changes will be weighed and such proposals adopted as may be deemed to improve the operations of the Department. If, in the course of these studies, there is demonstrated need for legislative change, we shall, of course, present such proposals to you for consideration.

Meanwhile, the administration has sought to speed the completion of the bond issue construction projects, in order to reduce over-crowding and substantially to reduce the waiting list for our training schools.

In this connection, I have asked a special cabinet committee to work with my office in the development of plans for the most effective use of the facilities being relinquished by the State Board of Education at the Bordentown Manual Training School.

A number of constructive proposals have been received and we hope to select the one which may fill the greatest need consistent with the location and the type of buildings available.

It now appears that we may be able at this site to develop a center which may substantially reduce our waiting lists for the mentally retarded, while at the same time developing a foremost training and research center. Such a center could help us to develop qualified staff for our state training schools and, at the same time, help to find answers to some of the unknown quantities in this important field. I hope in a subsequent message to present to you a specific proposal for legislation to establish such a unit.

In reviewing the operations of this important department, we have tried constantly to focus our attention on our basic objectives of care and rehabilitation.

We can all agree that the answer must not lie in buildings and more buildings. We cannot afford the tragic waste and we cannot condone the human misery involved in such a course. Everyone is also agreed, I am sure, that the answer must ultimately lie in prevention; and, failing that, in rapid recovery through intensive, early treatment.

Labor and Industry

Employment Security is an integral part of the economy of the State. If it is to perform the purpose proposed by the original drafters some 20 years ago, it must be a realistic program, geared to our economy.

There are still thousands of New Jersey families who suffer from unemployment. Our present benefits system is inadequate to meet the present day stress. The partial restoration of wage loss by benefit payments shows a wide gap between the benefits paid and the previous earnings of workers in our state. The present $30 figure, in my opinion, is not realistic in its relationship to the current wage and salary level, or to the level of living costs.

It is my recommendation that the Legislature establish a weekly basic maximum benefit rate commensurate with existing needs. This would apply to both unemployment insurance and temporary disability insurance.

We have in the past year experienced heavy and prolonged unemployment in New Jersey which resulted in thousands of our citizens exhausting their benefit rights. Many of these citizens have only one recourse, to request public assistance. These exhaustions have been running between 1,500 and 4,500 weekly. It is my recommendation that the maximum duration for both unemployment and disability insurance payments be increased beyond the present 26 weeks.

The Honorable James P. Mitchell, Secretary of Labor, in a letter of January 8, 1954, has called upon me and the other Governors to bring to the attention of the state legislatures necessary improvements in the Unemployment Compensation laws which would, in his words, "most effectively perform the function of providing adequate benefits to jobless workers . . . and contributing to the growth and stability of the economy." Secretary Mitchell urged raising the maximum weekly benefits as well as extending the duration of payments.

REQUEST OF THE PRESIDENT

The President, himself, in his last economic report to Congress, asked both the state and federal legislatures to "modernize" the various unemployment insurance regulations. Unemployment benefits should not be viewed solely in terms of welfare, the President explained, but should also be considered of prime importance as stopgap measures which tend to curb economic decline during the interval necessary to bring other stabilizing forces into action. President Eisenhower insisted that "to protect and promote economic stability, we should take bold steps," and among these he appealed for extension of the duration, the coverage and the amount of weekly unemployment insurance benefits. I am in wholehearted agreement with the President on these proposals.

The rates of compensation paid to disabled and injured workers likewise are no longer realistic in the face of today's costs. It was the intention of the original Workmen's Compensation legislation to pay these workers up to two-thirds of the existing average wage rate.

The imposition of exact sums upon this underlying principle, and the rather fluid condition of the economy, necessitates regular revision to meet the needs of the disabled who are unable to provide for themselves and their families. The permanently disabled are presently faced with an arbitrary cut-off date after which these essential benefits cease. I recommend that both the amount and duration of these payments, too, be increased.

The Public Utilities Labor Disputes Law and its several amendments have been extensively studied by a committee representing all parties concerned and it is the committee's opinion that the present act is of doubtful use or constitutionality; that it reflects adversely upon the demonstrated good faith of public utilities management and labor; and that regulation of wages and working conditions by governmental directive, rather than by agreement of the parties themselves, is incompatible with our traditions and basic philosophy.

I concur in the unanimous recommendation of this group which represented public utilities management and labor as well as the general public, and I propose that the Public Utility Labor Disputes Law and its several amendments be repealed.

Higher Minimum Wages

The present minimum wage standards, applying only to women and children in five categories of work, are vestiges of a period in which living costs were considerably lower than those with which the consumer is faced today. These standards are inadequate in scope as well as degree of guarantee, and should be revised to conform closely with federal regulations in order to provide the same protection to intra-state wage earners as is afforded inter-state workers.

In his State of the Union message of January 6, 1955, the President recommended that the present federal minimum wage law be increased from 75 to 90 cents an hour.

In New Jersey, minimum wages range from 26½ to 56 cents an hour.

The alarming toll of industrial accidents each year and the accompanying cost to both employee and employer required that additional measures be taken to protect the health, physical safety, and, indeed the lives of New Jersey's workers. The influx of heavy industries to replace the lighter, less hazardous activities requires that enforcement strength be added to the existing state safety regulations. I recommend that these regulations be appropriately supplemented as a means of assisting this administration in its efforts substantially to reduce the number of workers incapacitated by industrially-caused injuries and diseases.

In the interest of industrial peace and the uninterrupted progress of New Jersey's economy, I recommend the adoption of a state labor relations act with just and realistic provisions sufficient to win the support, as well as the acceptance, of labor and management. It is significant that most of the industrial states in the country have adopted such an act. The action of the Federal authorities in restricting the application of the National Labor Relations Act necessitates legislative action by the states to fill the vacuum so created in the labor affairs of local business and industry.

The harmony resulting from such legislation in other states suggests that a full study of this question should continue by all interested parties in an attempt to determine the ingredients best adapted to the needs of this State.

Conservation and Economic Development

Our economy must continue to develop in a healthy, dynamic fashion.

This healthy economic growth will require planning—the systematic application of common sense and research to meaningful problems. As we stand on the threshold of a new industrial era—the atomic age, our thinking and planning must keep pace with, and indeed anticipate, technological progress.

The planning responsibility is especially significant in New Jersey, since we are the most highly urbanized state in the Union; since we possess a highly diversified economy; and since we have a host of related needs in such areas as water, slum clearance, housing, and airport and rapid transit facilities. The long-time neglect of planning has not helped us in our current and continuing efforts to meet these needs.

The Department of Conservation and Economic Development has witnessed an increase in responsibilities at least commensurate with the growth of our economy and population. I am listing but a few of the major problems facing this Department:

1. Accelerated water use continues throughout the State at a time when ground levels are shrinking. This great demand has produced tremendous need for imaginative planning of our water resources. We must have adequate storage areas for our needs. The problem remains critical.

2. Legislation proposed last year would have authorized the acquisition of reservoir sites in Round Valley and the Wharton Tract. These sites are needed in addition to any possible new water sources evolved from presently dormant INCODEL proposals. I intend to investigate every possibility of utilizing those aspects of the original INCODEL proposal that may be salvaged, but the drive to obtain the Round Valley and Wharton sites must continue.

3. Our State Forests and Parks system is one area where neglect is rampant. Inadequate facilities mark the entire structure and our citizens are not getting the maximum use and benefit of our State-owned lands. We must take a long-range approach to this problem if we are to have an orderly expansion of our recreation facilities that will match population growth and increased leisure time.

For A Seashore Park

4. For generations, a public state seashore park has been heralded as a vital addition to our recreational system. I hope that this year may see the attainment of this goal—the establishment of a state beach, operated without discrimination in the interest of all our citizens and the millions of visitors who have made our State a great vacationland.

5. Population growth has also pointed up the widespread inadequacies in lower and middle income housing. The recent survey of housing shortages illustrates our post-war failure to provide sufficient housing. Slum clearance has not kept pace with the spread of the slum blight. We are in the process of studying new approaches toward the housing problem. The heart of the issue is selecting the best method of securing low-interest capital for lower and middle income housing. I am having studied programs adopted by other states to accomplish this purpose, and recommendations should be forthcoming at a later date.

6. Population increase and shift has caused a great need for the State to render technical assistance to municipalities undergoing "growing pains." I feel that our planning function should be strengthened, and the immediate availability of matching funds from the Federal Government under Title 7 of the Housing Act of 1954 offers a good medium.

7. Our Fish and Game laws require some revision, including: stiffening the penalty for persons convicted of illegal deer hunting, including confiscation of the weapon used; setting fishing regulations on the Delaware River between New Jersey and Pennsylvania under the Fish and Game Code, as is now done in Pennsylvania; and providing for revocation of license in event of law violation.

8. I urge the establishment of a joint legislative-executive commission to formulate plans observing the 1956 centennial anniversary of the birth of Woodrow Wilson. The preeminence of Wilson's role in New Jersey history suggests our active participation with the rest of the nation in commemorating the birth of one of our great statesmen.

9. I regret that the problem of proper utilization of Morven has not yet been resolved. Rather than take precipitate action, I have formed a committee of distinguished citizens to supply recommendations as to the best use of this historic building.

Highway Department

State highways in New Jersey carry a daily average of 11,000 vehicles per mile. This traffic represents seven times the national average; five times the Pennsylvania average; and nearly three times the volume on New York highways.

Travel on State roads has increased approximately 70 per cent since 1940 when 3¾ billion miles were traveled.

The 1953 total was nearly 6 billion. Within the same period of time, the number of accidents on the State system increased 160 per cent.

Such facts can no longer be dismissed as symptoms. They must be realized for what they are—the hardening of the arteries of transportation, a condition that can only be cured by forthright action.

Needless suffering, anguish, and loss of life, resulting from over-crowded and unsafe highways, require that remedial steps be taken immediately. The solution lies in building additional properly designed multilane highways, capable of transporting increased traffic loads in safety. Only through such roads can the needless slaughter be stopped and the interest of our expanding economy best be served.

Today vast urban areas within the State are suffering from traffic strangulation. Central business districts are finding it increasingly difficult to attract customers, and industry faces a more restricted labor pool each year because of inadequate highways. These are relics of the early days of automotive transport.

Local municipal governments can no longer cope with the insurmountable problems thus created. The State, therefore, must face its obligation in providing highway facilities capable of transporting vehicles safely and expeditiously to, from and through these areas.

Recent developments pointing to the availability of greatly increased Federal funds for highways is another factor which makes it imperative that additional State money be provided. The unmatched Federal aid balance next July 1 will be nearly $28 million.

Mounting loss of life, increased accidents, impaired industrial and residential development, and expansion of New Jersey's vast recreational facilities—all call for a complete modernization of our highway system. The budget message will deal at greater length in recommendations as to our overall highway needs. The immediate legislative needs of the Highway Department also will be presented at the proper time and in the proper manner.

President Eisenhower's multi-billion program for national highways will no doubt soon be published in detail.

It is sure to be of great benefit to New Jersey, providing we take the proper steps to avail ourselves of it. This is being given careful consideration.

Civil Service

Philosophy behind this administration's attitude toward State employees is concerned with what happens to them every day as human beings rather than just consideration once a year for an extra day off at holidays or every few years for pay raises. This department will continue to train supervisors to improve human relations with employees. We believe in relatively quick promotion for those employees who do the best job.

A division is being set up to do a continuing study of comparable salaries in industry and other public jurisdictions so that up-to-date information will always be available.

Effective January 1, 1955, the maximum award for suggestions from employees was increased from $500 to $1,000.

Studies are being made to determine the feasibility of a bi-weekly rather than present semi-monthly pay day so that it will always be on the same day of the week resulting in better budget planning for employees.

Also being surveyed is the feasibility and cost of paying longevity increments to those employees who remain at the maximum of their salary range for long periods and whose work records warrant such increases. This should be helpful in those situations where promotional opportunities are very limited.

In the past, the main emphasis of the Civil Service Department toward local jurisdictions has been one of enforcement. We hope, in addition, if sufficient staff is available, to be able to provide consulting services for their personnel problems. We also hope to provide classification surveys for county and municipal jurisdictions.

Banking and Insurance

The recent large defalcation which came to light, in connection with the Division of Employment Security, pointed out the very apparent need of a more adequate check upon the funds deposited by the State of New Jersey in the various banks and other depositories throughout the state.

This subject was examined most exhaustively by the State Treasurer, the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, the Attorney General and the State Auditor, and it was decided that proper safeguards could be worked out for this problem by administrative edict, and without the necessity for any changes in the existing laws.

Accordingly, a monthly report is now being submitted by the State Treasurer to the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance showing the balances in each depository of state funds. The next examination of the bank or other financial institution wherein the state monies have been deposited includes a verification of all such accounts and a report by the examiner to the State Treasurer.

A similar system of balance checking and audit of state funds in National banks has been worked out by the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance and the State Treasurer, through the cooperation of the National Bank supervising authorities.

Health

Within recent months, upon invitation of the State Commissioner of Health, two committees of local health officers have undertaken to define recognized local public health activities and to establish minimum standards of performance. Upon adoption by the Public Health Council, these standards will establish long needed criteria for the measurement of local health activities. This effort was preceded by revision of the State Sanitary Code, which itself constitutes a minimum public health standard for our municipalities.

A great need in health work, in this state as in others, is for a really effective program of prevention of chronic illness and of rehabilitation for those who become ill or incapacitated. Almost one-fourth of our people are chronically ill, disabled, handicapped, or on the way to becoming such. Unless we reverse this trend, the curative and institutional costs will become an ever greater economic burden on society.

There must be especially an intensification of efforts to prevent the rise of so much mental illness, emotional instability, or personality deviation, no matter what name we may give to it. It has many social expressions. Those who deal with delinquency, both adult and juvenile, see the almost ever present factor of inadequate personality integration. It is found, for example, among alcoholics, narcotic addicts, and sex deviates.

MENTAL HEALTH PROGRAM

While there are specific programs and efforts to deal separately with some of these social problems, as in alcoholism, it is clear that a statewide preventive program to conserve and promote mental health, as distinct from the diagnosis and treatment of mental disease, will affect favorably many of the social problems which now confront us all.

The individual approach, of course, is still needed and produces results. Alcoholism control provides an example. With assistance from the State Department of Health, outpatient clinics for alcoholics have been established at four general hospitals in the state and will soon be established at two others. By this approach, there is an acceptance of a community responsibility, community facilities are strengthened and, with a given investment, maximum benefits are obtained for our citizens.

There is another need in the alcoholism control program which will soon be met at least in part: that is for a treatment facility to handle the disturbed alcoholic who is not psychotic except for the disorientation created by excessive use of alcohol. The Neuropsychiatric Institute will offer this type of service.

Several health programs can be strengthened by amendment of existing statute. Such recommendations will be presented at the legislative conference, since many of them are technical in character.

AGRICULTURE

Our farmers are facing many problems of production and marketing, and this administration intends to be as cooperative and helpful as possible in assisting them with these problems.

Surplus milk, which moves into New Jersey from other States, is affecting the welfare of the dairymen. I have appointed an Advisory Committee of dairy farmers to make recommendations to me as to how the administration can be of greatest service to the industry. Solution may lie in a Federal-State Order to regulate the marketing of milk, because it is decidedly an interstate problem. This administration will work for a Federal-State Order if that is recommended by the Committee.

New Jersey serves as a corridor in the movement of agricultural products to market and also the avenue through which foreign products and materials move to their destination. Because of this, the farmers of New Jersey are faced with a continual threat of new infectious diseases of plants and animals and infestations of insects. It is the task of the State to be very vigilant and to take the necessary measures to stamp out in their initial stages such dangerous incursions.

RURAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE

In spite of our great suburban and industrial development, there is still an important future for agriculture in this state. The average gross farm income in New Jersey is $210 an acre—the highest of any state in the nation. Approximately 36 percent of the total land area in the state is devoted to agricultural pursuits; that makes it big business.

I have appointed a Rural Advisory Committee to make a survey of rural and agricultural problems in the state. This committee is composed of leaders in the various phases of agriculture as well as representatives from Rutgers University. When the report of this committee is completed, I believe you and I should make a new appraisal of this field so that we can be guided accordingly in an effort to continue the development of New Jersey agriculture.

DEFENSE

It is believed that a general revision of State Militia Laws, Title 38, should be made to bring them up to date. The Department of Defense is studying the problem. It hopes to submit desired revisions for your future consideration.

I urge your cooperation with the Department of Defense in continuation of its five-year construction program, designed to meet the needs of our greatly expanded post-World War II Army and Air National Guard. Federal funds have already been allotted to provide maintenance facilities and certain Air National Guard facilities, with 100 per cent of the cost to be borne by the Federal Government.

With respect to the rehabilitation of some of our older armories to provide modern training areas, and the construction of five new armories during fiscal year 1956, the Federal Government has agreed to supply 75 per cent of the funds covering construction costs and your approval is needed only for the remaining 25 per cent. Continuation of this vital construction program is dependent upon the maintenance of prescribed standards by our National Guard units; the provision of Federal funds; and favorable action by the Legislature.

Public Utilities

The Public Utility Commission hopes to receive a completely revised and effective Title 48 from your Legislative Revision Commission. I trust that when this revision comes before you, you will carefully consider every proposed change and give particular attention to that section of the act which deals with the appointment of Special Deputies Attorney General to represent the public at utility rate hearings.

I could think of several matters in which this Department might require legislative action, but it would be premature to mention them at this time. I feel that we should await the submission of the Title 48 revision.

* * * * *

I now turn from the needs of the State's 14 departments of government to direct your attention to certain other matters.

Special and Local Legislation

In vetoing a number of legislative bills during the past year as being unconstitutionally special in nature, I noted the fact that the 1947 Constitution provides a new and specific method for the effectuation of legislation of a special or local character affecting municipalities and counties, where deemed necessary and desirable. Article IV, Section VII, Par. 10.

Upon petition by the governing body of any municipality or county and by vote of two-thirds of all of the members of each house, the Legislature may pass private, special or local laws regulating the internal affairs of such governmental subdivisions. Such special laws become operative after adoption by the Legislature, if also adopted by ordinance of the governing body of the municipality or county or by referendum of the voters.

By this means, the framers of the constitution recognized that occasions may rise where special legislation for a particular county or municipality may be justified in public policy and have provided safeguards and assurances for local concurrence in and approval of such legislation.

The writing of this new provision into the 1947 Constitution emphasizes, however, the renewed intention of the constitutional framers that special, local or private legislation not adopted pursuant to the new enabling provision should be prohibited, as heretofore.

With all due deference to the coordinate legislative branch of the government, I suggest that proposals for the adoption of special legislation in the ordinary manner be resisted by members of the Legislature, and that those making such proposals be advised to avail themselves of the constitutional method now provided.

Need For Constant Revision of Laws

Much of our substantive law is subject to becoming gradually obsolete as changing social, economic and governmental institutions and activities undergo the changes inevitable in modern life. There is a natural inertia toward change of the substantive law which eventually creates an almost continuous condition of maladjustment between our laws and the activities of the community which they are designed to serve.

These conditions are supposed to be met and solved by the activities of the permanent Commission on Revision of Statutes. It is a matter of regret to have to point out that the Commission is not organized and equipped in such fashion as to enable it to carry out its intended responsibilities. I hope the recently enacted legislation strengthening the machinery for legislative services will lend impetus toward the objectives of having the work of permanent statute revision carried on more effectively and productively.

I know of only three substantial projects now under way for substantive law revision: those pertaining to public utilities, education, and election laws. I have made incidental reference in this message to several other subjects which could well profit from the institution of similar programs, such as commercial law and administrative practices. In addition, I might also mention criminal law, municipal law and general state statutes.

The Waterfront Commission

The Bi-State Waterfront Commission recently concluded its first year of operation under the Compact enacted by the State of New Jersey and New York and approved by an act of the Congress. The work assigned to the Commission is of vital importance to the people of both states and to interests elsewhere which depend upon the shipping activities within the Port of New York.

I expect shortly to receive a report covering the problems confronting the Commission, and will then confer with the Governor of New York with a view toward providing such additional means as the Commission may need and arranging for the coordinated action of all law enforcement agencies, to the end that the Port of New York may be restored fully to its natural position of preeminence.

The waterfront holds nasty problems, but I can think of no vice which has defeated society in a head-on clash. The evils of the waterfront, deeply entrenched though they be, will surely yield to a concerted drive. If further legislation should seem necessary, I will discuss the matter with you.

Conclusion

By the length and complexity of this message, I realize I have made heavy demands upon your patience—that I have laid in your lap some very formidable tasks. But the matters I mention have all been the subject of long and thoughtful consideration by the executive branch and I have felt it necessary to go into them in some detail.

After 12 months in office, clear patterns form and clear courses of procedure suggest themselves. So I propose to you a somewhat belated New Year's resolution that we make 1955 a year of action for New Jersey, a year of accomplishment, a year of bold and vigorous leadership.

It has been suggested by some of the literary critics who examined this manuscript that it is too earthy. They say it needs a dash of Chanel No. 5, a touch of poetry, a breath of evangelism. Perhaps so. But to me the ideas presented to you today furnish their own intrinsic inspirational quality. And this is so because if you and I can work together to carry out these ideas, New Jersey will be a greater, more prosperous and happier place to live and to work.

You and I love this amazing little giant of a State. It has produced famous men and famous deeds since colonial times. It is called "the cockpit of the Revolution," and only a few miles from where I stand General George Washington crossed the Delaware on that winter night in 1776—an action eternally symbolic in the history of human freedom and the liberty of the individual.

Yet New Jersey today remains one of the foremost states in the Union—and is growing with a rapidity that challenges the energy and intelligence and imagination of all of us who are responsible for state government. New Jersey is a seat of learning and culture. Some of the world's greatest scholars sit among us to ponder the problems of the universe. Our industry is mighty. Our agriculture has a special importance. Our people are devoted to democracy—not only in abstract theory, but in everyday practice of the principles laid down by Thomas Jefferson.

We should face the future with gaiety and strength and high resolve and, by invoking the blessing of Almighty God, get on with the work that lies before us.

ROBERT B. MEYNER,

BUDGET MESSAGE

To the Members of the Senate and General Assembly:

This year the Budget will be presented to you in sections. Today's section deals with two parts (1) the housekeeping needs of the 14 departments and (2) State Aid. It will be followed at a later date by a capital budget, which must be geared to a Federal program not yet fully disclosed, and by a message dealing with mental health.

This section of the Budget shows a surplus and no new taxes are requested. The surplus is accounted for in large part because increased taxes were levied last year on racing, motor fuels and general corporations. These taxes are estimated to produce, by June 30 next, the sum of $29,000,000. Of this sum, $7,125,000 was appropriated for one-fourth year's additional aid to school districts, leaving $21,875,000 available for general purposes on July 1 next.

However, next year and every year thereafter, the tax increase will be wholly absorbed by school aid; indeed it is already apparent that requirements for this purpose will greatly outstrip the additional revenue provided last year. The cost of additional school aid in the coming fiscal year will be about $33,000,000, exceeding by $2,000,000 the estimate of the State Tax Policy Commission. Because of the rapidly growing student population, it is likely to increase substantially for a number of years.

In addition to the $21,875,000 produced by last year's tax increases, we will have available July 1 next $3,200,000 in moneys appropriated but saved by this administration. We will also have nearly $20,000,000 representing under-estimates of revenue for a two-year period. I am using round numbers. So our total surplus on July 1 next will approach $45,000,000.

We expect to collect in the next fiscal year $260,400,000 which, added to the surplus, makes a total of $305,000,000. We are recommending in this section of the Budget expenditures of $256,500,000 made up of $2,300,000 of current and past years additional requirements and $254,200,000 for 1955-56 costs. So we expect a reserve of $48,500,000 which can be devoted in whole or in part to our pressing highway needs, capital improvements and other very important projects.

In preparing this Budget, every effort has been made to tailor the cloth to fit the pattern. Whenever possible, requests for more expenditures have been resisted. During the past year, a constant search has been made to find out where economies could be practiced—a search that has been a rewarding one. We have tightened procedures in many parts of the government to save money and to provide added efficiency. In this process, we have been greatly aided by survey teams furnished by private business groups.

Limited Executive Discretion

But there is a vast field of expenditure which cannot be altered by the executive. For instance, for 1955-56 State Aid of all kinds in the Budget totals $119,000,000—or nearly half of the total sum recommended. Most of this State Aid—for schools, highways, welfare, local pension funds and so on—is distributed by specific legislative mandate and is not subject to executive discretion.

So, altogether, 47 per cent of the total in this Budget must be met without equivocation. The next biggest slice—34 per cent—represents the cost of operating our mental hospitals, homes for the retarded, prisons and reformatories and other institutions; it represents the cost of our educational system, including the State University and teachers' colleges; finally, it includes the operation of our highway system. The needs in these categories are so great that no further pruning can be done. Thus, the area of executive discretion is narrowed to a small fraction and even in that area discretion is limited.

Since 1949, the voters have approved $65,000,000 in bond issues for new institutional and educational plant. This money pays for the bricks and mortar. It does not provide for salaries for those who must staff the new buildings or for their maintenance. The new Ancora mental hospital, for instance, is now being completed and large sums are needed for its operation.

We have had to face the problem of deferred maintenance. Many State buildings have been permitted to run down. One of our most imperative obligations is to reduce fire hazards in various institutions and this alone will cost half a million dollars. Boiler plants in a number of places are obsolete. To remedy this, I have approved the transfer of a million dollars from interest on bond issue proceeds not yet expended on construction. This, however, should be profitable in the long run. In one instance, according to engineering opinion, savings of $80,000 annually can be brought about by spending $300,000 on new equipment.

Temper of the Times

The fiscal demands on the State bear a relation to the temper of the times. The State, like private business, must provide increased pay to meet increased living costs; it must also set aside large sums for pensions. We cannot deprive our State employees of the security they can find elsewhere. This year, State employees have the added benefits of Federal social security. It is estimated this will cost $735,000 from January to June and increased appropriations in the future.

It would be the height of folly if New Jersey did not take advantage of the Federal aid programs already announced or to be announced by President Eisenhower. In his State of the Union message, he spoke of many areas—health, housing, education, public works, air and stream pollution among them—where the Federal Government shares a responsibility with the States and where Federal funds may be spent to supplement State funds. If we do not take advantage of these offers, we will be subsidizing improvements in other States, instead of getting a fair return on the vast sums in taxes our citizens pay to Washington.

National Highway Program

The President is embarking on a national program for interstate highways. New Jersey, which has a traffic density seven times greater than the national average, and which is a corridor between the great metropolitan areas of New York and Philadelphia, should have a full share of the new funds to be spent. In addition to the regular 50-50 matching funds offered, certain New Jersey interstate roads may receive 100 per cent of the cost of improvement and new construction.

These are some of the broad considerations that must go into budget-making. The fact is that the growing complexity of modern society makes inevitable an increase in governmental participation at every level. No abstract philosophy can serve to roll our civilization back to the comparative simplicity of the nineteenth century, and that fact is evident in the Federal Government as well as in the States. Horses wore no license plates. The blacksmith shop required no interstate regulation. Kerosene lamps required no public utility commissions.

I have been accused lately of verbosity and, in the case of the annual message, my guilt is clear. But I shall resist the temptation to be long-winded in this discussion of the budget. I am going to try to give you merely some of the highlights so that you can get an idea of its contents without subjecting you to endless detail.

Some of the Highlights

In the Department of Institutions and Agencies, I have already spoken of the need to staff Ancora, which will open about March 1 next. It will have a population of about 2,500 patients and will require an appropriation of $3,000.000. Even with this added facility, our mental hospitals will be overcrowded because of the alarming rise in the mental hospital population. I will have more to say about this in a subsequent message. I have spoken, too, of the fire hazards present in our institutions and the needs resulting from deferred maintenance.

In education, we need additional funds for operating new buildings at State Teachers' Colleges at Glassboro, Paterson, Montclair and Trenton. The State University needs more money for new equipment and for maintenance of present buildings. Offsetting educational increases is a decrease of $400,000 for the operation of the Manual Training School at Bordentown, whose discontinuance has been recommended by the State Board of Education. In another message, I will propose a new use for the Bordentown plant.

In the Highway Department, I am recommending increases to permit employment of more laborers to maintain our present system; for highway lighting in the interest of safety, and for other purposes. Some of the highway bridges, for instance, have not been painted for seven years. I will have much more to say about highways in my capital budget.

A Mail Order System

In the Department of Law and Public Safety, a major expenditure recommended is half a million for the cost of installing a mechanized mailing system for issuing drivers' licenses and automobile registrations. This is a reform which I have constantly urged since taking office, and I am hopeful that it will be approved by the Legislature. Funds for new positions in the Division of Alcoholic Beverage Control are more than offset by additional revenues obtained from greater fees collected. This division is a model in the Nation. I am asking $100,000 for continuance of the Law Enforcement Council for another year.

An area of government which has undergone intensive study and improvement in the last year is the Department of the Treasury. The disclosures with respect to the handling of State funds, and the study of practices in purchase of property and other business dealings, have resulted in a general tightening of procedures. As recommended by a committee of distinguished citizens, higher interest rates on State deposits have increased the earnings rate by more than $90,000 last year. Some additional funds are needed to see we get what we order by re-establishing a standards and specifications unit; to cut down construction delays by strengthening the Bureau of Architecture; and to give more adequate staff as recommended by the State Investment Council to the Division of Investments, which has the management of 600 millions of dollars.

To Help the Handicapped

A major item in the Department of Labor and Industry is an increase of some $250,000 for the rehabilitation of physically-disabled persons—a field in which New Jersey was a pioneer but in which it has now fallen behind. There are about 35,000 such persons in New Jersey and many of them can be trained to be self-supporting under this program. Federal matching funds will make it possible to double our services in this regard. This department's stepped-up program against accidents in industry requires funds for new inspectors.

Acquisition of the Wharton Tract calls for the employment of new foresters to protect our timber interests and the various rent-producing properties now in the Tract. It has been necessary to spend more than was appropriated last year to fight forest fires throughout the State, and the basic appropriation needs to be increased. The helter-skelter growth of New Jersey has long pointed up the need for intelligent planning in the interest of orderly future development. I have recommended a sum for this which will be supplemented by a sizable Federal grant. New legislation concerning deer management makes it necessary to spend more money in this field. Extension by the Legislature of rent control requires an appropriation for next year's operation.

An Improved Civil Service

A study of civil service by a private business survey team has resulted in recommendations for new personnel to give quicker action on service requests by local jurisdictions; to speed up the holding of examinations; shorten the time to process employment lists; provide improved examinations; establish a recruitment program to attract able people to public employment; and other objectives. It should be realized that the Department of Civil Service processes not only 23,000 State employees, but over 56,000 at local levels.

For lack of funds, bank examinations, which should be held every 12 months, have been stretched to longer intervals. The Department of Banking and Insurance is also behind in testing the actuarial soundness of insurance companies. New positions to accomplish these purposes can be paid out of fees charged to banks and insurance companies and will not become a charge against the general taxpayer.

To Guard Against Disease

The Department of Health needs more money to attack air and stream pollution; to guard against the effects of radiation; to finance an over-all prevention program to deal with chronic ailments, such as heart disease, epilepsy, cancer, tuberculosis, alcoholism, diabetes and so on.

To protect the State's cattle from the dread disease of brucellosis, the Department of Agriculture needs funds to pay farmers for cattle which have been condemned—a program initiated by the Legislature.

In the Department of Defense, maintenance of new armories—constructed mostly at Federal expense—requires moderate increases. After reviewing unexpended balances in the Office of Civil Defense, I have reduced its requested appropriations from $234,000 to a recommended figure of $97,000, with the proviso that unexpended balances as of June 30 will be reappropriated. I am assured that, with these funds, the Office of Civil Defense will be able to continue at its present level of operation.

So much for a bird's-eye view of the needs of the departments.

Breakdown of Increases

In last year's Budget I recommended $128,000,000 for general State purposes. In this message, I recommend $135,200,000—an increase of $7,200,000. This increase is broken down as follows:

For normal salary increases and new positions to improve the quality of essential services	$3,200,000
To staff new facilities created by bond issue funds	1,100,000
Increase in cost of housekeeping requirements	500,000
Increase in pension contributions	1,000,000
Fire protection	500,000
For highway maintenance and the State University	900,000

In last year's Budget I recommended $83,000,000 for State Aid. In this message, I recommend $119,000,000—an increase of $36,000,000. This increase is broken down as follows:

Education:
Aid to local districts	$32,700,000
Teachers' Pension Fund	1,600,000
Welfare Aid	1,600,000
Miscellaneous	100,000

SUPPLEMENTAL APPROPRIATIONS FOR PRIOR YEARS

I recommend in this Budget $2,298,000 for supplemental appropriations for prior years. Of this sum, $200,000 is allocated to the Department of Law and Public Safety to pay for investigation of the Division of Employment Security and other departments involved.

To provide funds for the State's share of the new Social Security program in the Public Employees' Retirement System, $735,000 is recommended. This will pay the State's share from January 1 to June 30, 1955.

Additional funds are recommended to the Department of Institutions and Agencies to pay for the State's share of housing inmates in the various county mental hospitals; and for the State's share of the categorical assistance programs in which the counties participate. All of these funds are determined on established formulas and practically no administrative discretion can be exercised in their allotment.

CONCLUSION

I invite the scrutiny of this Budget not only by you, but by all public-spirited organizations and citizens. While it has been the subject of laborious study and preparation for many months, no such detailed projection of State finances can pretend to be without flaw. I assure you, however, it represents a determined effort, so far as is humanly possible, to conserve the taxpayers' money.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor of New Jersey.

ROBERT J. BURKHARDT,
Secretary to the Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
January 31, 1955.

SENATE BILL No. 32

To the Senate:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 14 (b) of the Constitution, I am returning herewith, for reconsideration and with my objections, Senate Bill No. 32.

Senate Bill No. 32 would authorize the Division of the New Jersey Real Estate Commission to conduct educational and information programs relating to the real estate brokerage business, including the "preparation, printing and distribution of publications and articles and the conduct of conferences, forums, lectures, and a public information service."

The State of New Jersey, through appropriate agencies, requires the licensing of those engaged in many professions and occupations, in addition to real estate brokers and salesmen, for example, physicians, nurses, accountants, architects, funeral directors, barbers, and beauty culture operators. None of the other State regulatory agencies seek to conduct special educational programs or to publish trade journals. Such endeavors in the other fields have remained with the professional organizations, trade associations and schools and colleges.

There should be no objection to the distribution by State agencies of factual material relating to their activities. It serves the public interest to make available the applicable statutes, rules, regulations, notices and agency and court decisions. Publication of administrative rules and regulations is in accord with the mandate of Article V, Section IV, paragraph 6 of the 1947 Constitution. There is, however, no assurance in this bill that personal opinions and other extraneous material might not be published by the Commission. The financing of a publication with such a potential, in effect a trade journal, out of State funds, would in my judgment violate basic democratic principles.

I am, accordingly, returning Senate Bill No. 32 herewith for reconsideration and with the recommendation that the bill be amended as follows:

On page 1, section 1, lines 1 to 9, inclusive, delete the entire section and substitute in lieu thereof the following:

"1. In addition to the powers heretofore granted, the Commission may, subject to the approval of the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, exercise the following powers:

"(a) To conduct hearings and meetings for the purpose of considering the promulgation, adoption, revision and amendment of rules and regulations and informing the public and brokers and salesmen of the provisions of existing rules and proposed amendments thereto;

"(b) To publish and distribute copies of regulations, proposed regulations, decisions of the Commission or of the courts of this State or summaries of the foregoing in such form of publication as may be approved by the Secretary of State."

Respectfully,

[SEAL] ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Attest: Governor.
ROBERT J. BURKHARDT,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Dumont moved that the veto message be received and remain with the Secretary of the Senate.

Which motion was adopted.

SUPPLEMENTARY BUDGET MESSAGE

To the Members of the Senate and General Assembly:

In my Budget Message of January 31, I pointed out that, at the end of the fiscal year 1955-56, "we expect a reserve of $48,500,000 which can be devoted in whole or in part to our pressing highway needs, capital improvements and other very important projects."

Management of the Reserve

I now present to you my recommendations for the management of this reserve. It is proposed (1) that $26,725,000 be appropriated for highway purposes, with the particular aim of anchoring Federal matching funds now allocated to New Jersey; (2) that $2,270,000 be appropriated for other capital needs, hereinafter described; (3) that $3,500,000 be used for the conversion of Bordentown Manual Training School into a research and training center for mentally handicapped persons—and for a bold, new approach to the massive problem of mental health.

Mental Health

Mental health has been termed by a task force of the Hoover Commission as the "greatest single problem in the nation's health picture." More than half of the 1,500,000 hospital beds in the country are now devoted to mental patients and, if the present pace continues, one out of every 12 new-born children will spend some time in a mental institution. I have been giving intensive study to this problem, as it affects New Jersey, and my findings will be presented to you in a special message one week from today.

A $16,000,000 Balance

If you adopt the foregoing recommendations in this capital budget, there will remain a balance of approximately $16,000,000. This could give us a start on the 1956-57 budget. A planned surplus last year avoided a financial crisis this year.

New State Office Buildings

I now come to a second major phase of this capital budget, namely, a proposal that the State embark on a building program to relieve the intolerable conditions arising from the dispersal and overcrowding of State offices. Such a program was originally proposed by Governor Walter E. Edge, and was approved by the Legislature in 1946, when $6,000,000 was appropriated for a new State office building—a sum later diverted for the establishment of the Veterans' Guaranteed Loan Fund.

Penalties of Deferment

In the ensuing nine years, the need for new quarters to house State offices has become progressively acute, and can be deferred only by heavy rental costs, by increasing inconvenience to the public and by resultant inefficiency in the conduct of the State's business.

I propose the construction of five new buildings over a period of years, the State House Commission to determine which buildings should be erected first and at what locations. The cost of the new structures is estimated at $13,500,000. It would be financed by funds now or presently to become available to the State from the Veterans' Guaranteed Loan Fund, from the sale of veterans' housing and from the Unemployment Compensation Auxiliary Fund.

No Bearing on the Surplus

The proposed building program, therefore, has no bearing on the management of the $48,500,000 surplus that is expected at the end of the next fiscal year. It is made possible by the use of other available funds which now have served their original purpose, and by the use of the Unemployment Compensation Auxiliary Fund which is dedicated by law for administration or building construction.

Highways

Since the fiscal year 1950, New Jersey has appropriated $15,000,000 per annum for construction of roads and purchase of rights-of-way. When this policy was established, it was expected the State would spend, together with Federal matching funds, some $25,000,000 annually on its highway program. However, since State appropriations have been insufficient to match Federal allotments, lingering deficits have been produced.

Last April 26, in my Supplemental Budget Message, I pointed out that $6,000,000 in Federal funds would be lost unless it were matched by State appropriations. It now appears that, on June 30 next, unmatched Federal funds will reach $13,000,000. I am assured by the State Highway Commissioner that, if the usual $15,000,000 appropriation be increased to $20,000,000, we will be able to secure this $13,000,000 presently available—thus safeguarding New Jersey against losing matching funds.

What the Difference Is

The difference between $20,000,000 and the total of $26,725,000 recommended in this Budget for highway purposes is accounted for as follows: $4,730,000 for the operating costs of the construction and rights-of-way division in the Highway Department; $1,796,000 for new institutional roads and approaches, including $250,000 for new roads in our new park and forest development program; and $200,000 customarily appropriated for installation of traffic signals.

Nibble at a Big Cheese

Let me make it plain right here that all of this represents but a nibbling approach to the State's basic highway needs. Engineering appraisals show that the cost of modernizing our present highway system and building new roads required today would be at least one billion dollars. This figure, large as it is, seems less startling when it is considered that the cost of just two superhighways built or planned—the New Jersey Turnpike and the Garden State Parkway—already approaches one billion dollars.

Busy Corridor

I need hardly remind you that traffic density on New Jersey roads is seven times the national average. In 1953 our highways carried an average of 10,000 vehicles per mile each day. Last year alone some 19 billion miles were traveled within the State's borders—the equivalent of 790,000 trips around the earth. New Jersey is a part of two great metropolitan areas, with a combined population of 20,000,000 persons.

All traffic between New York and Philadelphia, including traffic between New England and the South, flows through New Jersey. Our highways have taken a terrible beating from the processes of age and of heavy loads.

The President's Program

President Eisenhower, recognizing the national need for highways adequate to cope with modern traffic density, is proposing a multibillion-dollar program for interstate thoroughfares. If such a need exists throughout the nation, it exists in intensive form in New Jersey, and we can expect to receive a full and fair share of new Federal funds to be allotted under the President's forthcoming program.

Until the details of that program are spelled out, I am unable to present to you a comprehensive highway plan for New Jersey. However, the expenditures suggested in this message will fill the Highway Department's routine needs until January 1 next. Between now and then, we will have a chance to take a long-time look at the whole picture, as well as possible plans for State financing.

Parks and Forests

To complete the acquisition of the Wharton Tract, which will be immensely valuable as a source of water supply for South Jersey, as well as for recreational purposes, I recommend $523,000; to start the first phase of a new development program for our forests and parks, I recommend $750,000.

After exhaustive surveys, the Commissioner of Conservation and Economic Development finds that New Jersey could well spend upward of $3,500,000 to provide needed facilities for our people, and for tourists who spend their summer vacations here. The $750,000 which I recommend for this purpose covers preparation for public use of Island Beach and the Worthington Tract, and development of Cheesequake, Allaire, Ringwood, Swartswood and Lake Hopatcong State Parks.

Use of Increased Leisure

Changes in our lives and habits emphasize the need for more recreational facilities in our parks and forests, and in the increased use of the seashore. There is need for better use of leisure time produced by shorter working weeks and more paid vacations. Because of employment laws, more leisure is available to our young people. Those in upper age brackets who are retired are increasing in numbers.

Millions of our people have the natural urge to get out into the country and enjoy the beauties and blessings of nature. The need for relaxation, play and recreation through family picnics, group outings and during vacation periods should be met by a more fully developed park, forest and seashore system.

A Promising Start

The request here submitted can represent the beginning of a substantial program that will have a tremendous impact on the economy of our State. An imaginatively conceived plan will draw many visitors from other States, hence more income for our people and more revenue for the State.

State University

Requests of $3,515,000 were received from the State University for a biology building; for a law center at the College of Newark (for which some $600,000 has been raised by a citizens' committee); for the purchase of a building in Newark; for development of a library at the College of South Jersey; and for several other smaller projects. There is no doubt the entire program would be desirable, but it has been decided against recommending all of it at this time. So I have recommended $1,000,000 for the State University.

New Armories

I recommend $160,000 for two new armories and for expansion of the Trenton Armory, to which will be added $480,000 in Federal funds.

New State Office Buildings

As I have said, the need for more State office space, recognized years ago by Governor Edge and by the Legislature, has become intolerable—and expensive. The State is now paying more than $900,000 in rental and maintenace charges in the Trenton area. In this area, State business is transacted at 52 scattered rented sites, in addition to 10 State-owned locations, or 62 places in all.

Classic Example

A classic example of the difficulties that flow from this situation is the case of a man who has business with the Motor Vehicle Division. Invariably, he first comes to the State House. If he is here for a point-system hearing, he is sent to the State Office Building on Hanover Street. If the problem is one of license restoration, he must make his way up State Street to the Driver Improvement Section; if part of that problem involves the Security-Responsibility Law, he must then go to still another building. If he is an automobile dealer applying for a license, he will have to go from the State House to the Certificate of Ownership Bureau at 215 West State and then, to pick up dealer plates, to 117 West Hanover. Similar situations exist with regard to other sections of government.

Further Rentals?

If the shortage of office space is met through further rentals, the effect will be not only to increase the present yearly outlay, but further to disperse the State's activities with a corresponding loss of efficiency and convenience. Moreover since the Trenton area is already congested, it would be necessary to incur large expenditures to alter and remodel old buildings—and to yield to demands for long-term leases. Unless a building program is adopted, we will continue to house offices and laboratories in basements and attics.

Five Separate Structures

At my direction, preliminary plans and estimates have been prepared showing that a total of $13,500,000 should be made available to finance new building construction.

Five separate structures are contemplated and are listed in order of priority:

Department of Labor and Industry

253,000 square feet $5,060,000

A site for this structure has not yet been chosen, but tentative plans call for a multi-story building to be constructed in stages over several years' time.

Department of Health

115,000 square feet $2,018,250

This is the estimated net cost after a Federal contribution under the Hill-Burton Act of $224,250. With 25% of the area devoted to laboratory purposes, the building would be fireproof, two-story and basement structure without elevators, and could be erected on ground owned by the State.

Department of Law and Public Safety

143,750 square feet $2,805,625

This building would house all Trenton offices of this Department, with the possible exception of the Division of Law. It would be a fireproof, two-story and basement structure without elevators and could be erected on a State-owned site.

Department of Education

Administration: 50,525 square feet $1,457,292

This building could be erected on a site provided by the State Teachers College at Trenton.

Department of Institutions and Agencies and Miscellaneous Departments

115,000 square feet $2,242,500

This building could be erected on a site presently owned by the State west of the State House Annex.

It is contemplated that the building program be started immediately and that it progress in stages as specified by the State House Commission.

To Meet the Cost

I have already referred to the enactment of legislation (Chapter 111, P. L. 1946), which appropriated $6,000,000 for a new State office building. Before construction started, the Legislature canceled the appropriation and devoted the $6,000,000—along with an additional $5,000,000—to establish the Veterans' Guaranteed Loan Fund.

Veterans' Loan Fund

This fund is now reduced to $9,800,000 in cash and investments. I have suggested we use $3,000,000 for the acquisition of Round Valley as a water storage reservoir, leaving a balance of $6,800,000. A total contingent liability of $640,000 exists on all loans outstanding by veterans who have used the fund to borrow money at the banks. I am proposing the use of $4,000,000 of the remainder for the building program. This would leave upwards of $2,000,000 in the fund for whatever demands that might arise.

Veterans' Housing Revenues

Revenue estimates for the current fiscal year did not anticipate the receipt of $1,000,000 from the sale of veterans' housing. The State has an estimated $10,000,000 interest in these structures. An additional $2,000,000 can be anticipated from a stepped-up program for the sale of such housing, with more to be realized in following years. I am proposing the use of $3,000,000 from this source for the building program.

From Penalties and Interest

The Unemployment Compensation Auxiliary Fund, authorized by R. S. 43:21–14 (g), as amended, derives its revenue from penalties and interest collected on delinquent accounts. As I have pointed out, it is dedicated by law for use of the Division of Employment Security for administration or building construction. The fund grows by about $500,000 a year; it now contains $2,250,000 and should exceed $3,000,000 by June 30, 1956. This would pay for the stage of construction required to house the Division of Employment Security.

The Federal Government, which now pays $327,800 as rental for the Division of Employment Security, would continue to pay, on completion of a building to house the Department of Labor and Industry, its proportionate share of maintenance costs for the space occupied. This would be in lieu of rental.

IN SUMMARY

To summarize, there should be available, between now and June 30, 1956, the following sums:

Veterans' Guaranteed Loan Fund	$4,000,000
Veterans' Housing	3,000,000
Unemployment Compensation Auxiliary Fund	3,000,000
	$10,000,000

It is my recommendation that legislation be enacted to appropriate this $10,000,000 for transfer to a Capital Building Project Fund. It would thus be available to the State House Commission for authorizing construction contracts, on the basis of data furnished by the officials engaged in study of the office space problem.

This, then, is the capital budget. It represents the careful consideration of my associates and me in the interest of sound State fiscal policy and is

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

Attest:

ROBERT J. BURKHARDT,
Secretary to the Governor.

March 14, 1955.

sented within 6 months of the effective date of this section, shall be credited to him as a "Class B" member and such credit shall be known as prior service credit and the obligation of the employer on account of such credit shall be known as the accrued liability on behalf of such veteran member. Service by a veteran member as a member of the Congress of the United States from the State of New Jersey, if any, pursuant to election or appointment as a United States Senator or member of the United States House of Representatives shall be included within the calculation of prior service, as though such service had been rendered in office, position or employment of this State.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Senate: May 26, 1955.

SENATE BILL No. 105

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 14(b) of the Constitution, I am returning Senate Bill No. 105 herewith for reconsideration and with my objections.

The purpose of this bill is to simplify procedure with respect to chattel mortgages of motor vehicles. It provides, among other things, that, in addition to the conventional recording of a chattel mortgage, there shall be presented to the Director of Motor Vehicles within 5 days after execution of such mortgage, a certificate of encumbrance signed by the mortgagor containing specified information including "the county in which the mortgage has been recorded."

The objection has been submitted to me that the requirements of both a recording of the chattel mortgage and the presentation of the statement of encumbrance showing "the county in which the mortgage has been recorded" could not be met within the five-day time period in all cases. The objection is meritorious, and accordingly an amendment, consistent with the over-all objective, is indicated.

The provision under discussion requires, as stated above, that the statement of encumbrance show "the county in which the mortgage has been recorded" (emphasis added). Since the statement must be signed by the mortgagor, it would not be truthful unless the mortgagor returned after recording to execute the statement. This requirement is not practical, and no compelling reason appears for it. All objectives would be served if, in addition to actual recording, which in any event would be had to protect the mortgagee, the mortgagor shows in the statement of encumbrance the county in which the mortgage is to be recorded. An amendment accordingly would not only permit the statement to be signed by the mortgagor at the time of execution of the mortgage, as business expediency would require, but it would also eliminate the tightness of the time provision referred to above, since the mortgagee could simultaneously dispatch the chattel mortgage and statement of encumbrance to the respective places of record and filing, and do so within the five-day period.

Accordingly, I am returning Senate Bill No. 105 for reconsideration, with the recommendation that an amendment to the bill be made as follows:

> On page 2, section 1, line 47, after the word "mortgage", delete the words "has been" and insert the words "is to be".

Respectfully,

ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 165

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 14(b) of the Constitution, I am returning Senate Bill No. 165 herewith, for reconsideration, and with my objections.

This bill was designed to extend the existence of the Law Enforcement Council from July 1, 1955 to July 1, 1956. I approve of that objective.

However, the bill provides that "The terms of the members of the council now in office are hereby extended until July 1, 1956." I cannot approve of that provision for the reasons following:

The Law Enforcement Council was created by P. L. 1952, c. 253. That act provided that the five members of the council "shall be appointed by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate, and shall serve at the pleasure of the Governor," and that the Governor designate a chairman to "serve as such chairman at the pleasure of the Governor".

The existence of the council, which would have terminated on July 1, 1953, pursuant to the provisions of the original act, was extended for two years by P. L. 1953, c. 182. That act amended the section concerning the appointment of the members so as to provide that the members were to be appointed by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate, for a term commencing on July 1, 1953 and ending July 1, 1955. While the provision that the members serve at the pleasure of the Governor was removed, the then Governor was given the power to appoint new members. It also should be noted that, by the original act, the Law Enforcement Council was established in the Department of Law and Public Safety and although the act extending the council omitted that specific allocation, clearly the council remains within the executive branch of the government.

Accordingly, the provision in the present bill legislating the extension of the terms of the members now in office constitutes an appointment by the Legislature of such members in contravention of Article IV, Section V, paragraph 5 of the Constitution which prohibits the appointment by the Legislature of any executive or administrative officer.

In view of the foregoing, and in the light of Article III, paragraph 1 of the Constitution which provides for the division of the government into three distinct branches and prohibits any person belonging to or constituting one branch from exercising any of the powers properly belonging to either of the others I cannot approve of the provision which I thus believe to be unconstitutional and I am returning Senate Bill No. 165 for reconsideration and with the recommendation that amendments be made to the bill as follows:

On page 1, section 2, line 5, delete the word "ending" and insert in lieu thereof "of one year commencing".

On page 1, section 2, lines 6, 7, 8 and 9, delete the entire sentence beginning with "In case of", and ending "July 1, 1956."

On page 1, section 2, line 12, after the word "made", delete the rest of the line.

On page 1, section 2, line 13, delete the entire line.

On page 2, section 3, line 1, delete the word "immediately", and insert in lieu thereof "July 1, 1955".

Respectfully,

ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

DELAWARE RIVER JOINT TOLL BRIDGE COMMISSION
MORRISVILLE, PA.

June 2, 1955.

The Honorable Bruce A. Wallace,

President of the Senate,

State of New Jersey,

State House,

Trenton 7, New Jersey.

Dear Mr. Wallace:

We are submitting herewith the 1954 Annual Report of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission.

Respectfully,

DELAWARE RIVER JOINT TOLL BRIDGE COMMISSION
By: MRS. DORIS S. JONES,
Secretary.

One communication was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, comprizing the Governor's veto message on Senate Bill No. 163.

Senate Bill No. 163, entitled "An act concerning the salaries of certain county officers,"

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Senate: June 6, 1955.

SENATE BILL No. 163

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 163, for the following reasons:

Senate Bill No. 163 provides that in all counties having less than 35,000 inhabitants the annual salary of all surrogates shall be $7,000.00, all prosecutors $7,000.00, all sheriffs $7,000.00 and of all county clerks $7,000.00. The only county to which this bill can apply is Sussex county with a population, according to the 1950 census, of 34,423. It is to be noted that this bill is mandatory and not permissive.

The statutes fixing the salaries of the various county and municipal officers is in an horrendous state of confusion suggestive of a fantasy in "Alice in Wonderland." Because of the duplication and overlapping of the present statutes, I requested a report concerning the salaries actually paid to surrogates, prosecutors, sheriffs and county clerks in counties of the third and fourth classes. The report shows:

Third Class Counties	Population	Surrogate	Prosecutor	Sheriff	County Clerk
Morris	164,371	$10,000	$7,000	$10,000	$10,000
Burlington ..	135,910	10,000	6,500	10,000	10,000
Somerset	99,052	7,500	6,500	7,500	7,500
Gloucester ...	91,727	7,500	6,400	7,500	7,500
Cumberland .	88,597	7,500	6,500	7,500	7,500
Warren	54,374	5,500	5,000	5,500	5,500
Fourth Class Counties
Salem	49,508	5,000	5,000	5,000	5,000
Hunterdon ..	42,736	5,000	4,370	5,000	5,000
Sussex	34,423	5,000	5,000	5,000	5,000

If Senate Bill No. 163 became law, it would make the salaries of the four officers in the smallest county in the State greater than in the two larger counties in the fourth class as well as one county in the third class. The duties and workload of these four officers in Sussex county do not appear to warrant larger salaries than in the case of the same officers in counties having more inhabitants. As to the office of prosecutor, the bill would compensate the prosecutor of Sussex county at $7,000.00 per year, which exceeds the compensation fixed for prosecutors of all counties of the third class, except Morris county, which the new figure would equal. I cannot account for this treatment upon any basis.

It is significant to note that the salary of the Sussex county clerk is now covered by two existing statutes: R. S. 40:38–5, which fixes the salary in counties having a population of less than 48,000 at $3,500.00, and chapter 197 of the laws of 1946 which fixes the salaries in counties, not bordering on the Atlantic Ocean, having a population of between 20,000 to 40,000, at $5,000.00. Similarly, surrogates are covered, pursuant to N. J. S. 2A:5–3, by three statutes: R. S. 2:7–19, in counties, not bordering on the Atlantic Ocean, with a population of less than 48,000 at $3,500.00; P. L. 1946, chapter 195, counties, not bordering on the Atlantic Ocean, with a population of 20,000 to 40,000 at $4,250.00; and P. L. 1948, chapter 301, fourth class counties, up to $5,000.00. The two acts dealing with the 20,000 to 40,000 range apply only to Sussex county. Senate Bill No. 163 would add another act which would be applicable exclusively to Sussex county.

I do not intend to indicate either approval or disapproval of the proposition that the four officers involved, by reason of their duties, are entitled to receive compensation in the amount of $7,000.00 annually. In the light of the existing statutes, however, the singular treatment of these officers cannot be justified.

I also wish to urge that Title 40 concerning municipalities and counties be revised promptly, as well as other statutes, particularly Title 2A, dealing with related salary classifications. Senate Bill No. 163 serves to emphasize the critical need for such revision and the inappropriateness of piecemeal treatment of the subject.

Accordingly, I am constrained to return this bill without my approval.

Respectfully,

ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

2. Section 43:21-6 of the Revised Statutes is amended to read as follows:

43:21-6. (a) Filing. Claims for benefits shall be made in accordance with such regulations as the Director of the Division of Employment Security of the Department of Labor and Industry of the State of New Jersey may approve. Each employer shall post and maintain on his premises printed notices of his subject status, of such design, in such numbers, and at such places as the director of the division may determine to be necessary to give notice thereof to persons in the employer's service. Each employer shall give to each individual at the time he becomes unemployed a printed copy of benefit instructions. Both the aforesaid notices and instructions shall be supplied by the division to employers without cost to them.

(b) (1) Procedure for making determinations with respect to benefit years commencing prior to January 1, 1953. (A) Initial determinations. The director of the division shall designate a representative or representatives to promptly examine the claims and to determine which claims do and which claims do not meet the requirements of section 4 (e); and as to those claims meeting the requirements of section 4 (e) to further determine the weekly benefit rates and the maximum total benefits payable. Each claimant shall promptly be notified of the determination of his claim.

(B) Weekly determinations. The director of the division shall assign a representative or representatives to each local claims office for the purpose of making weekly determinations (except those under subsections 4 (f) and 5 (d) in the course of the benefit year, in accordance with the initial determination of a valid claim. Whenever a determination of eligibility shall be made with respect to the first week of the benefit year for which benefits are claimed, the claimant, the last employing unit and all employers in the base year shall be promptly notified of such determination. Whenever a determination of ineligibility or disqualification shall be made with respect to any week of the benefit year, the claimant shall be promptly notified of such determination.

(C) Any claimant or any interested entity or person may file an appeal from any determination under paragraphs

(1) and (2) of this subsection within 5 calendar days after the delivery of notification, or within 7 calendar days after the mailing of notification, of such determination. Unless such an appeal is filed such determination shall be final and benefits shall be paid or denied in accordance therewith. If an appeal is duly filed, benefits with respect to the period covered by the appeal shall be payable only after a determination of entitlement by the appellate tribunal; benefits payable for periods pending an appeal and not in dispute shall be paid as such benefits accrue; provided, that insofar as any such appeal is or may be an appeal from a determination to the effect that the claimant is disqualified under the provisions of section 43:21–5 of the Revised Statutes or any amendments thereof or supplements thereto, benefits pending determination of the appeal shall be withheld only for the period of disqualification as provided for in said section, and notwithstanding such appeal the benefits otherwise provided by this act shall be paid for the period subsequent to such period of disqualification; and provided, also, that if there are 2 determinations of entitlement, benefits for the period covered by such determination shall be paid regardless of any appeal which may thereafter be taken, but no employer's account shall be charged with benefits so paid if the decision is finally reversed.

(2) Procedure for making initial determinations with respect to benefit years commencing on or after January 1, 1953.

A representative or representatives designated by the director of the division and hereinafter referred to as a "deputy" shall promptly examine the claim, and shall notify the most recent employing unit and, successively as necessary, each employer in inverse chronological order during the base year. Such notification shall require said employing unit and employer to furnish such information to the deputy as may be necessary to determine the claimant's eligibility and his benefit rights with respect to the employer in question, and such notification shall also provide the most recent chargeable employer in the base year with the name and address of the most recent employing unit of the claimant.

In his discretion, the director may appoint special deputies to make initial or subsequent determinations under subsections 4 (f) and 5 (d) of this chapter.

If any employer or employing unit fails to respond to the request for information within 7 days after the mailing of such request, the deputy shall rely entirely on information from other sources, including an affidavit to the best of the knowledge and belief of the claimant with respect to his wages and time worked. Except in the event of fraud, if it is determined that any information in such affidavit is erroneous, no penalty shall be imposed on the claimant.

The deputy shall promptly make an initial determination based upon the available information. The initial determination shall show the weekly benefit amount payable, the maximum duration of benefits with respect to the employer to whom the determination relates, and also shall show whether the claimant is ineligible or disqualified for benefits under the initial determination. The claimant and the employer whose account may be charged for benefits payable pursuant to said determination shall be promptly notified thereof.

Whenever an initial determination is based upon information other than that supplied by an employer because such employer failed to respond to the deputy's request for information, such initial determination and any subsequent determination thereunder shall be incontestable by the noncomplying employer, as to any charges to his employer's account because of benefits paid prior to the close of the calendar week following the receipt of his reply. Such initial determination shall be altered if necessary upon receipt of information from the employer, and any benefits paid or payable with respect to weeks occurring subsequent to the close of the calendar week following the receipt of the employer's reply shall be paid in accordance with such altered initial determination.

The deputy shall issue a separate initial benefit determination with respect to each of the claimant's base year employers, starting with the most recent employer and continuing as necessary in the inverse chronological order of the claimant's last date of employment with each such employer. If an appeal is taken from an initial determination as hereinafter provided by any employer other than the first chargeable base-year employer, then such appeal shall be limited in scope to include only 1 or more of the following matters:

(A) the correctness of the benefit payments authorized to be made under the determination;

(B) fraud in connection with the claim pursuant to which the initial determination is issued; or

(C) the refusal of suitable work offered by the chargeable employer filing the appeal.

The amount of benefits payable under an initial determination may be reduced or canceled if necessary to avoid payment of benefits for a number of weeks in excess of the maximum specified in subsection (d) of section 43:21–3 of this Title.

Unless the claimant or any interested party within 7 calendar days after delivery of notification of an initial determination or within 10 calendar days after such notification was mailed to his or their last-known address and addresses, files an appeal from such decision, such decision shall be final and benefits shall be paid or denied in accordance therewith, except for such determinations as may be altered in benefit amounts or duration as provided in this paragraph. If an appeal is duly filed, benefits with respect to the period covered by the appeal shall be payable only after a determination of entitlement by the appellate tribunal; benefits payable for periods pending an appeal and not in dispute shall be paid as such benefits accrue; provided, that insofar as any such appeal is or may be an appeal from a determination to the effect that the claimant is disqualified under the provisions of section 43:21–5 of the Revised Statutes or any amendments thereof or supplements thereto, benefits pending determination of the appeal shall be withheld only for the period of disqualification as provided for in said section, and notwithstanding such appeal the benefits otherwise provided by this act shall be paid for the period subsequent to such period of disqualification; and provided, also, that if there are 2 determinations of entitlement, benefits for the period covered by such determinations shall be paid regardless of any appeal which may thereafter be taken. but no employer's account shall be charged with benefits so paid if the decision is finally reversed.

(3) Procedure for making initial determinations in certain cases of concurrent employment, with respect to benefit years commencing on or after January 1, 1953.

Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Title, if an individual shows to the satisfaction of the deputy that there were at least 13 weeks in his base period in each of which he earned wages from 2 or more employers totaling $15.00 or more but in each of which there was no single employer from whom he earned as much as $15.00, then such individual's claim shall be determined in accordance with the special provisions of this paragraph. In such case, the deputy shall determine the individual's eligibility for benefits, his average weekly wage, weekly benefit rate and maximum total benefits as if all his base year employers were a single employer. Such determination shall apportion the liability for benefit charges thereunder to the individual's several base year employers so that each employer's maximum liability for charges thereunder bears approximately the same relation to the maximum total benefits allowed as the wages earned by the individual from each employer during the base year bears to his total wages earned from all employers during the base year. Such initial determination shall also specify the individual's last date of employment within the base year with respect to each base year employer, and such employers shall be charged for benefits paid under said initial determination in the inverse chronological order of such last dates of employment.

(4) Procedure for making subsequent determinations with respect to benefit years commencing on or after January 1, 1953. The deputy shall make determinations with respect to claims for benefits thereafter in the course of the benefit year in accordance with any initial determination allowing benefits, and under which benefits have not been exhausted, and each notification of a benefit payment shall be a notification of an affirmative subsequent determination. The allowance of benefits by the deputy on any such determination, or the denial of benefits by the deputy on any such determination, shall be appealable in the same manner and under the same limitations as is provided in the case of initial determinations.

(c) Appeals. Unless such appeal is withdrawn, an appeal tribunal, after affording the parties reasonable opportunity for fair hearing, shall affirm or modify the findings of fact and the determination. The parties shall be duly notified of such tribunal's decision, together with its reasons therefor, which shall be deemed to be the final decision of the board of review, unless within 10 days after the date of notification or mailing of such decision, further appeal is initiated pursuant to subsection (e) of this section.

(d) Appeal tribunals. To hear and decide disputed benefit claims, including appeals from determinations with respect to demands fo refunds of benefits under section 43:21–16 (d) of this chapter (R. S. 43:21–1 et seq.), the director with the approval of the Commissioner of Labor and Industry shall establish 1 or more impartial appeal tribunals consisting in each case of either a salaried examiner or a body, consisting of 3 members, 1 of whom shall be a salaried examiner, who shall serve as chairman, 1 of whom shall be a representative of employers and the other of whom shall be a representative of employees; each of the latter 2 members shall serve at the pleasure of the commissioner and be paid a fee of not more than $20.00 per day of active service on such tribunal plus necessary expenses. No person shall participate on behalf of the division in any case in which he is an interested party. The director may designate alternates to serve in the absence or disqualification of any member of an appeal tribunal. The chairman shall act alone in the absence or disqualification of any other member and his alternates. In no case shall the hearings proceed unless the chairman of the appeal tribunal is present.

(e) Board of review. The board of review may on its own motion affirm, modify, or set aside any decision of an appeal tribunal on the basis of the evidence previously submitted in such case, or direct the taking of additional evidence, or may permit any of the parties to such decision to initiate further appeals before it. The board of review shall permit such further appeal by any of the parties interested in a decision of an appeal tribunal which is not unanimous and from any determination which has been overruled or modified by any appeal tribunal. The board of review may remove to itself or transfer to another appeal tribunal the proceedings on any claim pending before an appeal tribunal. Any proceeding so removed to the board of review shall be heard by a quorum thereof in accordance with the requirements of subsection (c) of this section. The board of review shall promptly notify the interested parties of its findings and decision.

(f) Procedure. The manner in which disputed benefit claims, and appeals from determinations with respect to (1) claims for benefits and (2) demands for refunds of benefits under section 43:21–16 (d) of this chapter (R. S. 43:21–1 et seq.) shall be presented, the reports thereon required from the claimant and from employers, and the conduct of hearings and appeals shall be in accordance with rules prescribed by the board of review for determining the rights of the parties, whether or not such rules conform to common law or statutory rules of evidence and other technical rules of procedure. A full and complete record shall be kept of all proceedings in connection with a disputed claim. All testimony at any hearing upon a disputed claim shall be recorded, but need not be transcribed unless the disputed claims further appealed.

(g) Witness fees. Witnesses subpœnaed pursuant to this section shall be allowed fees at a rate fixed by the director. Such fees and all expenses of proceedings involving disputed claims shall be deemed a part of the expense of administering this chapter (R. S. 43:21–1 et seq.).

(h) Court review. Any decision of the board of review shall become final as to any party upon the mailing of a copy thereof to such party or to his attorney, or upon the mailing of a copy thereof to such party at his last-known address. The Division of Employment Security and any party to a proceeding before the board of review may secure judicial review of the final decision of the board of review. Any party not joining in the appeal shall be made a defendant; the board of review shall be deemed to be a party to any judicial action involving the review of, or appeal from, any of its decisions, and may be represented in any such judicial action by any qualified attorney who may be a regular salaried employee of the board of review or has been designated by it for that purpose, or, at the board of review's request, by the Attorney-General.

(i) Failure to give notice. The failure of any public officer or employee at any time heretofore or hereafter to give notice of determination or decision required in subsections (b), (c) and (e) of this section, as originally passed or amended, shall not relieve any employer's account of any charge by reason of any benefits paid unless and until that employer can show to the satisfaction of the director of the division that the said benefits, in whole or in part, would not have been charged or chargeable to his account had such notice been given. Any determination hereunder by the director shall be subject to court review.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

SENATE BILL No. 249

To the Senate:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 15 of the Constitution, I appended to Senate Bill No. 249, at the time of signing it, a statement of an item to which I objected, so that such item should not take effect.

The item to which I objected was the allowance of a claim in the amount of $900.00 to a former motor vehicle agent.

The claim asserted by this agent is a departure from the settled basis upon which this agent was engaged. I see no legal, equitable or moral obligation on the part of the State which would justify either payment or compromise of this claim.

Approval of this item would establish a pattern for similar claims which I am advised would total approximately $100,000.00, as well as a precedent for future claims, the amount of which would be considerably larger.

I, therefore, objected to this item and I am attaching hereto a copy of my statement in connection therewith.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Attest: Governor.
ROBERT J. BURKHARDT,

STATEMENT ON SENATE BILL NO. 249

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 15 of the Constitution, I am appending to Senate Bill No. 249, at the time of signing it, this statement of the following item to which I object, so that this item shall not take effect:

"William P. Berry, 31 Lincoln Park, Newark, New Jersey, for additional commissions earned while operating a motor vehicle agency, to be paid from funds presently available to the Director of Motor Vehicles, $900.00."

The facts do not reveal any legal, equitable or moral obligation on the part of the State with respect to this claim, nor any basis for a payment in settlement of it.

Respectfully,

Attest: Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 320

To the Senate:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 15 of the Constitution, I appended to Senate Bill No. 320, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items or parts thereof to which I objected, so that such items or parts thereof should not take effect.

I disagree with the Legislature's action in passing Senate Bill No. 320, which authorizes the continuance of Bordentown Manual Training School for another year and appropriates $442,109.00 for the purpose. I have objected to the expenditure of all but $21,131.00 of this sum.

The sum of $21,131.00, which I approve, will serve the following purposes: to maintain and protect the physical plant of the Bordentown school during July and August; to keep the superintendent and all other employees, except teachers who were hired on a ten-month basis, on the payroll until mid-August when the Legislature reconvenes, and thereafter, to keep the superintendent and 10 maintenance employees on the payroll until August 31.

After three years of careful consideration, the State Board of Education, on December 17, 1954, resolved that the Bordentown school be discontinued, effective June 30, 1955. Subsequently, on June 3, 1955, the State Board of Education passed a further resolution recommending the discontinuance, and pointing out the impractibility of its continuance because of the cost of operation and the adequacy of training and ability of existing county vocational schools to meet the need for such training.

In my First Annual Message of January 11, 1955, taking note of the position taken by the State Board of Education, I said:

> "The Manual Training School has served a very useful purpose in our State dating back to 1886. It has been staffed by many devoted people through the years since its founding. But times change. An institution may outlive its purpose . . . I am convinced of the wisdom of discontinuing the school and therefore request that legislation be prepared and passed giving sanction to its closing."

The original concept of the Bordentown school in 1886 was to offer instruction in trades so that Negro youth could find gainful occupation. At that time vocational education opportunities for both whites and colored were extremely limited.

Under the impact of social and economic changes during the intervening years, the Bordentown school has become an anachronism. While it originally emphasized manual training, a large majority of the graduates have not followed the vocations for which they were prepared. At the request of the students themselves, the program over the years has changed from emphasis on vocational and agricultural training to a greater degree of academic education. This has resulted in a program similar in character to that afforded by the public non-resident high schools, especially since vocational training has been developed and expanded in all counties of this State.

The State Board of Education is confident that the students attending the Bordentown school will receive an educational program, both vocational and academic, in their local communities equal or superior to the educational program of the Bordentown school at a small fraction of the cost. Full assurance has also been received from each district in which each pupil resides that appropriate transfers back to the local district can be accomplished.

It is unfortunate that a small group has attempted to raise a non-existent racial issue. The devoted and conscientious members of the State Board of Education, including its distinguished Negro members, all of whom serve the State without compensation, were inspired by a directly opposite motive. In the matter of racial tolerance, New Jersey may well be proud of its law and customs. The recommendation proposes that the students at this school be returned to schools in their own communities, where there is complete integration.

Contrary to the unfounded charges of some, a real effort has been made to induce white children to attend the Bordentown school. In 1948, the Legislature amended the law to open the school to all children regardless of race, whereupon, the State Board of Education removed the word "colored" from all references to the school. The decision to accept all children was widely publicized in every school district of the State. The superintendent of the school discussed the new policy widely and so informed the county superintendents, high school principals, high school guidance counselors and publications reaching teachers and school administrators of the State. Most children of high school age prefer to live at home and go to schools with their own neighbors and friends, and most parents have the same view.

Every effort has been made to insure a minimum of dislocation to the 37 employees at the school. Positions have already been made available to 10, and 10 others will be retained for plant maintenance throughout the summer, while still others are eligible to retire and have made a decision to do so. All who so desire will be given an interval to find other employment.

I am further impelled to object to the continuance of an institution which has outlived its original purposes on the grounds of cost. On the basis of a 248 pupil enrollment at the beginning of the last fiscal year, the net cost of each pupil was figured at more than $1,500.00. In 1952-1953 the local school districts which have vocational programs expended the average sum of $335.60 per pupil enrolled, and the per student cost at the State Teachers Colleges amounted to $578.37. Thus, the State spent approximately four times as much per pupil at Bordentown for a vocational high school education as this cost in a local school district, and twice as much as it does to develop a fully certificated, well-trained teacher. On the basis of cost as well as the avoidance of duplication of facilities and services, the continuance of the Bordentown Manual Training School cannot be justified.

In my First Annual Message when I addressed myself to the wisdom of discontinuing the Bordentown Manual Training School, I also said:

> "In this connection, I have asked a special cabinet committee to work with my office in the development of plans for the most effective use of the facilities being relinquished by the State Board of Education at the Bordentown Manual Training School."

"It now appears that we may be able at this site to develop a center which may substantially reduce our waiting lists for the mentally retarded, while at the same time developing a foremost training and research center. Such a center would help us to develop qualified staff for our State training schools and, at the same time, help to find answers to some of the unknown quantities in this important field. I hope in a subsequent message to present to you a specific proposal for legislation to establish such a unit."

After intensive study and discussion, this use of the Bordentown plant seemed most desirable and, in my Second Supplementary Budget Message of March 21, 1955, I suggested the transfer of the plant to the Department of Institutions and Agencies, saying:

"To provide for the necessary structural changes and renovation of the plant and to provide operating funds for a portion of the fiscal year 1955-56, I recommend the sum of $1,500,000.00. This amount is based on engineering estimates. Prompt legislative action will make it possible to make the new facilities available during the coming fiscal year. This would produce 500 to 600 beds, and would relieve the pressure on the four other training schools for the mentally retarded —Woodbine, New Lisbon, Totowa and Vineland."

At that time, I pointed out that the waiting lists of urgent cases number more than 800 of all races, creeds and color. Its social and economic implications are widespread. The presence of mentally retarded children in their own homes constitutes a great hardship on their families and does incalculable harm where there are other, normal children in the home. Some of these are physically helpless, as well as retarded, requiring constant care while others are potentially harmful to themselves or to members of the family.

In addition to the waiting list, there are many cases that are not in the community, but are improperly placed in hospitals for mentally ill or correctional institutions which are not equipped to train or care for this class of patient.

The Bordentown plant would not be used merely to increase the present number of beds in State institutions for the mentally deficient but also to provide a new research center. There has been an increase in number of beds and some construction to provide adequate service facilities at the present institutions, but schools, industrial training shops and recreational facilities have remained at the size proportionate to original capacity of the institutions.

Simulated industrial experience, farm training and functional education in the institution and surrounding factories and farms would be but one part of the new program. A vitalized program would result in a large number of cases released for return to their families or community placement. The economy of the return of a trained mentally deficient person to the community in the shortest possible time is apparent from the annual per capita cost of maintaining mental patients—$1,100.00.

I should like to emphasize the portion of the proposal referring to Bordentown as a research center. There must be a frontal attack upon research into the cause and cure of mental retardation as the only solution to the problem of large waiting lists. It is estimated conservatively that each year 1,000 mentally deficient children are born in this State. In the face of our population growth without research designed to eliminate the causes and to improve training and adjustment, the number of beds required will constantly increase.

Moreover, the institution would be a training center for teachers, and aides in our State institutions. The success of the program for the instruction of mentally retarded children in their home communities, under chapter 178 of the laws of 1954 to expand special classes in the public schools, depends upon an adequate number of well-trained teachers.

I urge the Legislature to adopt the program to appropriate $1,500,000.00 for the conversion of Bordentown Manual Training School into a research and training center for the mentally retarded.

Accordingly, I have objected to certain items and parts of Senate Bill No. 320 and I am attaching herewith a copy of my statement in connection therewith.

Respectfully,

ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

The Bordentown Manual Training and Industrial School has outlived the purposes for which it was established. Excellent facilities are now available in all counties to provide the same training. It is therefore uneconomic for the State of New Jersey to continue to operate this institution at the annual cost of $2,000.00 per pupil. In order to maintain and protect the properties during July and August when steps can be taken by the Legislature to devote these facilities to other State purposes, appropriations to the extent of $21,131.00 will be made available under this act, as follows:

Salaries:
Superintendent	$1,405 00
Other officers and employees	13,836 00
Total Salaries		$15,241 00

Materials and Supplies:
Heat, light, power, water, gas and electricity	$2,840 00

SENATE BILL No. 62

To the Senate:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 14 (b) of the Constitution, I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 62, with my objections, for reconsideration.

The bill would amend the act concerning the Palisades Interstate Park and Palisades Interstate Park Commission. Its objective is to authorize the Commission to make rules and regulations concerning traffic on roads in the park without the necessity of holding public hearings in each municipality traversed by the park road.

This purpose appears meritorious. But the language of the amendment is not clear as to its effect upon the existing statutes concerning traffic. The last sentence of the amendment provides:

> "The provisions of this section shall be applicable notwithstanding the provisions of any general law heretofore or hereafter enacted relating to traffic control and regulations."

The present law requires that the Director of the Division of Motor Vehicles approve local ordinances and resolutions regulating or controlling traffic. The object of this provision is to insure reasonable uniformity in the interest of the traveling public. This approval power exists with respect to the Palisades Interstate Park Commission. The bill in its original form eliminated that authority of the Director, but it was amended to restore his power. The sentence quoted above was undoubtedly included because of the original provision of the bill eliminating the Director's authority. Since the Director's authority has been restored by amendment, the quoted sentence is in conflict with the amendment and should be deleted. If the sentence were to remain, it might perhaps lead to the contention that it operates to eliminate the Director's authority despite the history of the amendment which shows the Legislature's intent to the contrary.

In addition, that sentence, if permitted to remain, would at the very least create an ambiguity. The language might well be construed to mean that the Park Commission could disregard the statutes relating to uniform traffic markings and signals. Such result would tend toward confusion and would be contrary to the public interest.

I am, therefore, returning herewith Senate Bill No. 62 for reconsideration and with the recommendation that amendments be made to the bill as follows:

> On page 2, section 1, lines 39, 40 and 41, delete the sentence "The provisions of this section shall be applicable notwithstanding the provisions of any general law heretofore or hereafter enacted relating to traffic control and regulations."

Respectfully,

SENATE BILL No. 88

To the Senate:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 14 (b) of the Constitution, I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 88, with my objections, for reconsideration.

This bill would amend Section 2A:157–4 of the New Jersey Statutes so as to authorize counties having a population between 350,000 and 500,000 to appoint as many as 12 county detectives, and 2 lieutenants of county detectives. The present law authorizes 9 county detectives and 1 lieutenant in all second class counties.

I recognize that the law enforcement needs of counties vary with population. This bill, however, would single out Union county for the increased personnel and leave Bergen county, which has a population greater by over 140,000, with a lesser number of county detectives and lieutenants. I am aware of no rational basis for this discriminatory treatment and hence believe the bill, as presently drafted, conflicts with the constitutional prohibition against special legislation.

The present law, "County Detectives and County Investigators Act (Revision of 1951)", N. J. S. 2A:157–1 et seq., establishes a reasonable classification.

First class counties	18 county detectives
Second class counties	9 county detectives
Third class counties over 75,000	6 county detectives
Third class counties under 75,000	2 county detectives
Fourth class counties	1 county detective
Fifth class counties	6 county detectives
Sixth class counties	4 county detectives

This bill is not integrated into this classification.

I am, therefore, returning herewith Senate Bill No. 88 for reconsideration and with the recommendation that the bill be amended as follows:

On page 1, section 1, line 4, before the word "counties" insert "such".

On page 1, section 1, line 5, delete the word "between" and insert in lieu thereof "in excess of"; also delete the words "and 500,000".

Respectfully,

ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 190

To the Senate:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 14 (b) of the Constitution, I am returning herewith, for reconsideration and with my objections, Senate Bill No. 190.

This bill would make a number of changes in the law concerning the commission form of government, otherwise known as the "Walsh Act". In the main, these amendments are desirable. There are, however, several deficiencies in the bill which I feel must be corrected.

There is a basic objection which runs to the constitutionality of the bill. Section 39 of this bill provides:

> "This act shall take effect January 1, 1956, but the amendatory provisions of this act shall be operative only in counties having a population between 600,000 and 800,000 and in counties having a population between 200,000 and 250,000, except counties of the fifth class, and in counties having a population between 50,000 and 90,000, except counties of the sixth class, and shall be inoperative in any other county until otherwise provided by law."

Thus, the provision of this amendatory bill would apply to only three counties which have approximate populations of 647,000, 229,000 and 54,000. I cannot find any rational basis upon which the amendments contained in the bill can be confined to commission form of government within those three counties. The violation of Article IV, Section VII, paragraph 9 of the Constitution of New Jersey is patent. The classifications as to the applicability of this bill bear no reasonable relationship to its object. In Dover v. Van Kirk, 123 N. J. L. 507 (Sup. Ct. 1939), the court pointed out the following:

> "Legislative classification in order to be constitutional must rest upon distinctions that are substantial and not merely illusory, and must embrace all and exclude none whose conditions and wants are similar."

Turning to the provisions of the particular amendments, my first recommendations concern the amendment to section 40:72–11. It reads "the acts and conduct of any official and employee". In the interest of clarity and in accord with the obvious intent, I am recommending the change of the word "and" to "or", so that the conjunctive might not be construed to require the person to be both an official and an employee.

Section 12 of the bill would amend section 40:72–24 of the Revised Statutes to permit the board of commissioners to fix their own compensation as to amount. I believe it is unsound for the governing body to fix their own compensation without reference to any will other than their own. Although the section as so amended would provide for a referendum on the salary ordinance where 15% of the voters file a petition within 10 days, as a practical matter that provision would be ineffective.

The Legislature has fixed the salaries of members of such governing bodies and authorized the governing bodies by ordinance to exceed the sums so fixed by 50%. It may well be that the salaries fixed in those sections are obsolete and under present conditions insufficient. Presumably, that thought motivated this amendment. The proper approach would be to amend the sections fixing the salaries to take into account changed circumstances since the adoption of those sections. I believe that public officials should receive adequate compensation so as to attract the best qualified persons to public office, but the salaries should be subjected to a realistic check by either the Legislature or the voters or both.

Section 17 amends section 40:74–17 of the Revised Statutes making it applicable only to counties using paper ballots. No provision is made for counties having voting machines and I am recommending an amendment to cover such cases.

Section 26 amends section 1 of chapter 1 of the laws of 1949 which relates to the filling of vacancies in the office of the commissioner of any municipality with less than 10,000 inhabitants. This bill would change the population figure to 12,000. The special provision relating to such municipalities is no longer necessary in view of the amendment contained in section 10 of the bill providing a method of filling vacancies in all municipalities so governed.

Section 36 amends section 40:76–1 of the Revised Statutes so as to provide that the voters "may not vote on the question of adopting another form of government until 5 years thereafter". By reason of the amendatory deletions there is no antecedent to the word "thereafter". I am recommending clarification of that point and also a reduction in the period from 5 to 3 years.

Section 37 amends section 40:76–2 to provide that the adoption of any other form of government shall constitute an abandonment of the government under the "Walsh Act". In order to avoid a hiatus, the abandonment should only occur after the adoption and organization of another form of government.

The amendments recommended to section 12 of the bill render necessary the provisions of sections 40:72–21 and 22 of the Revised Statutes, and they should, accordingly, be saved from repeal.

With the amendments as recommended I believe that the bill would constitute a great improvement in the laws relating to municipalities governed by the commission form of government. Several other amendments to the "Walsh Act" have been suggested, some with substantial merit. But I have refrained from including amendments to sections not affected by the bill, so as not to complicate unnecessarily the passage of this measure in its amended form.

Accordingly, I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 190 for reconsideration and with the recommendation that the bill be amended as follows:

On page 4, section 6, line 7, delete the word "and" and insert in lieu thereof the word "or".

On page 6, section 10, line 8, delete the second "to" and insert in lieu thereof the word "shall".

On page 7, section 12, lines 3 and 4, delete the words "The compensation of the commissioners shall be fixed by an ordinance adopted by the board of commissioners." and insert in lieu thereof the following: "The board of commissioners may by ordinance increase the compensation which the mayor and commissioners shall receive, but the amount of such increase shall in no instance exceed 50% of the salary as fixed by sections 40:72–21 and 40:72–22 of this Title."

On page 9, section 17, below the box following line 10, insert the following: "In counties where voting machines are used, the ballot shall be prepared in accordance with the provisions of Title 19 of the Revised Statutes concerning elections."

On page 14, section 26, lines 1 through 8, delete section in its entirety.

On page 15, section 27, line 1, delete "27" and insert "26".

On page 15, section 28, line 1, delete "28" and insert "27".

On page 15, section 29, line 1, delete "29" and insert "28".

On page 17, section 30, line 1, delete "30" and insert "29".

Os page 18, section 31, line 1, delete "31" and insert "30".

On page 19, section 32, line 1, delete "32" and insert "31".

On page 19, section 33, line 1, delete "33" and insert "32".

On page 20, section 34, line 1, delete "34" and insert "33".

On page 20, section 35, line 1, delete "35" and insert "34".

On page 21, section 36, line 1, delete "36" and insert "35".

On page 21, section 36, lines 15 and 16, delete the words "5 years thereafter" and insert in lieu thereof "3 years after the adoption of such form of government or the rejection by the voters of a proposal to adopt another form of government".

On page 21, section 37, line 1, delete "37" and insert "36".

On page 22, section 37, line 15, after the word "adoption" insert the words "and organization".

On page 22, section 38, line 1, delete "38" and insert "37".

On page 22, section 38, line 1, delete the word "to" and insert in lieu thereof a comma; delete the word "inclusive".

On page 22, section 39, line 1, delete "39" and insert "38".

On page 22, section 39, line 1, delete the words ", but the amendatory" and insert in lieu thereof a period.

On page 22, section 39, lines 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6, delete lines 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 in their entirety.

SENATE BILL No. 240

To the Senate:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 14 (b) of the Constitution, I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 240, with my objections, for reconsideration.

This bill is designed to change the method of making returns by foreign fire insurance companies to local firemen's relief associations. Under the present law, there is a 2% charge upon specified fire risk premiums which is payable by foreign insurance companies to the various local firemen's relief associations in the municipalities in which the fire risks are located. Under the present law, such companies make reports on January 1 and July 1, and the bill would provide for one report on June 1 for the 12 months ending December 31 of the preceding year. The bill also makes certain other technical amendments required by changes in the statutes with respect to insurance companies.

The effective date of Senate Bill No. 240 is January 1, 1956, so that the present provisions of sections 54:18–1 to 5 of the Revised Statutes will remain in effect throughout the current year. Payments must be made within one month after the respective times for reporting. Thus, on or before August 1, 1955, such companies will be required to pay the 2% charge upon covered premiums received or agreed to be paid during the six months ending June 30, 1955. If this bill became effective, those companies would be required to pay the 2% charge on or before June 1, 1956, upon such premiums during the 12 months ending December 31, 1955. Inasmuch as there is no provision for crediting the August 1, 1955, payment against the payment required on June 1, 1956, the companies would be required to make double payments for the first 6-month period of 1955. I have been advised that the amount of the potential companies' payments may range up to $500,000.00.

This bill would also have a serious impact upon the revenue of the State. Practically all fire risk insurers affected by this bill also write other lines of insurance in this State. Concurrently with the 2% charge on fire risk premiums imposed by the above sections, there is also imposed, under chapter 132 of the laws of 1945, a general insurance premiums tax of 2% applicable to premiums received for all lines of insurance, including fire risk premiums. The proceeds of the general premiums tax go into the general State treasury. In order to avoid a double tax on fire risk premiums, section 2 of chapter 132 of the laws of 1945 provides for a credit against the general premiums tax for any moneys paid into the local firemen's relief associations. Thus, if Senate Bill No. 240 became effective, the State treasury would sustain a loss in revenue to the extent of the double payment.

In addition to the double payment problem, there are administrative difficulties involved. The June 1 report and payment date is administratively impractical. At present such insurers are required to report to the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance on or before March 1 payments made to the firemen's relief associations. The commissioner then reports to the Director of the Division of Taxation on or before May 1 all facts necessary to enable the Director to ascertain and collect the amount to be paid by each company. The general premiums tax is payable on or before June 1 for the base period of the 12 months ending December 31 of the preceding year.

Through the cooperation of the insurance companies and the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, the Division of Taxation is able to ascertain and collect the taxes well in advance of the statutory dates. By way of illustration it should be noted that the Division was able to collect over $5,750,000.00 prior to May 1. Under this procedure, the State receives considerable benefit since the money received can be invested profitably.

In order to resolve these problems, it will be necessary to change the June 1 reporting date listed in the bill to March 1 and to make the effective date of the act March 15, 1956, instead of January 1, 1956. Therefore, I am returning Senate Bill No. 240 herewith for reconsideration and with the recommendation that the bill be amended as follows:

On page 1, section 1, line 5, delete the word "June" and insert in lieu thereof the word "March".

On page 2, section 1, line 19, delete the word "June" and insert in lieu thereof the word "March".

On page 3, section 2, line 14, delete the word "June" and insert in lieu thereof the word "March".

On page 3, section 2, line 25, delete the word "June" and insert in lieu thereof the word "March".

On page 5, section 7, line 1, delete the words "January 1" and insert in lieu thereof the words "March 15".

SENATE BILL No. 267

To the Senate:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 14 (b) of the Constitution, I am returning Senate Bill No. 267 herewith, with my objections, for reconsideration.

This bill is intended to clarify the rights of persons having an interest in (1) membership accounts by one person in trust for another; (2) membership accounts by one person payable at death to another; and (3) joint membership accounts in savings and loan associations or building and loan associations. It is comparable to Chapter 209 of the laws of 1954 which relates to time or demand accounts maintained in banking institutions.

I believe that this bill will serve a useful purpose in clarifying the law in this field. I am obliged, however, to return the bill because of the inadvertent omission of several lines. At the request of the draftsman I am returning the bill for the insertion of this material.

It should also be noted that the bill provides that it shall take effect immediately. The comparable measure enacted last year, Chapter 209, P. L. 1954, limited its effect to accounts opened thereafter. Inasmuch as this bill must be returned in any event, I believe it desirable to amend that section so as to avoid possible constitutional difficulty.

I am, therefore, returning herewith Senate Bill No. 267 for reconsideration and with the recommendation that the bill be amended as follows:

On page 3, section 2, line 11, after "charges," insert the following:

"to the named person or upon his order, as hereinafter provided, and such payment by the association shall be valid, notwithstanding any lack of legal age of the named person. If the named person survives the individual member and is under 16 years of age at the death of the individual member, the association shall pay the moneys to the credit of the account, less all proper set-offs and charges,"

On page 7, section 5, line 1, after "immediately" insert the following:

", but shall apply only to accounts hereafter opened. Accounts heretofore opened shall be governed by the law in effect when such accounts were opened".

Respectfully,

[SEAL] ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 272

To the Senate:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 14 (b) of the Constitution, I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 272, with my objections, for reconsideration.

This bill would amend section 2A:73-7 of the New Jersey Statutes so as to authorize the board of chosen freeholders in counties of the first class having more than 800,000 inhabitants to pay extra compensation to the person in the office of the prosecutor designated to serve as assistant to the clerk of the grand jury.

That section now provides that, in counties of the first, second, third and fifth classes, the assignment judge of the Superior Court may designate one or more "competent stenographers", who are employed regularly at a stated salary in the office of the prosecutor, to act, in addition to their regular duties, as an assistant to the clerk of the grand jury. It further provides that such persons shall not be entitled to any extra compensation for such additional services. This measure would establish an exception for one individual in one county.

If it should be considered advisable to give additional compensation to such persons assigned as assistant to the clerk of the grand jury because of the increased duties and responsibilities, then such approach should not be confined exclusively to one county. The situation of such persons in all counties affected would be the same to a greater or lesser degree, with additional compensation varying accordingly. I am, therefore, recommending that the bill be amended to permit the board of chosen freeholders of each county to pay additional compensation to such persons where it may be warranted.

I would also like to note one further point. I have been advised that the individual employee affected is a county detective in the Essex county prosecutor's office who devotes full time to his duties as assistant to the clerk of the grand jury. It may be that an assignment which consistently consumes the full working time of a particular individual warrants a new "class title", which could be established upon appropriate request to the Civil Service Commission.

Accordingly, I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 272 for reconsideration and with the recommendation that it be amended as follows:

On page 1, section 1, lines 10 and 11, delete the following: ", except in counties of the first class having more than 800,000 inhabitants.".

On page 1, section 1, line 12, after the word "jury" delete the period and insert in lieu thereof "provided, however".

On page 1, section 1, line 13, delete the words "In counties of the first class having more than 800,000 inhabitants".

On page 1, section 1, line 16, after the word "jury" insert the following: "to the extent necessary to compensate such person or persons for such additional responsibilities and work".

Respectfully,

SENATE BILL No. 289

To the Senate:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 14 (b) of the Constitution, I am returning herewith, for reconsideration and with my objections, Senate Bill No. 289.

This bill would authorize any county or municipality along the Delaware River to construct bulkheads and to fill in back of the bulkheads to prevent erosion of the river banks. The construction of bulkheads and filling may be upon public lands, including State owned lands, or upon private lands with the consent of the owner. The county or municipality undertaking such project would finance it; a two-thirds vote of its governing body is required for adoption upon a finding that an emergency exists in that particular location.

In view of the extensive State ownership of lands below the mean high water mark of the Delaware River, this bill should specifically limit the counties' and municipalities' authority to fill in and to construct bulkheads on State property, by subjecting it to the requirement of section 12:5–3 of the Revised Statutes that the Department of Conservation and Economic Development grant permits for such construction and improvement.

In returning Senate Bill No. 289, I further recommend the amendment of the language of the bill fixing the condition of an "emergency", a prerequisite for county or municipal action to protect the Delaware River shoreline. The word "emergency" in the context of this bill might be argued to require an existing crisis, and the bill, accordingly, would not embrace preventive measures prior to the onset of imminent disaster. To avoid controversy which the generality of the word "emergency" might invite, a more suitable and explicit standard in my judgment is the danger of erosion.

Accordingly, I am returning Senate Bill No. 289 herewith with my recommendation for its revision as follows:

On page 1, section 1, line 1, after "may" insert ", subject to the provisions of section 12:5–3 of the Revised Statutes,".

On page 1, section 1, line 8, after "that" delete "an emergency" and insert in lieu thereof "a danger of erosion".

SENATE BILL No. 295

To the Senate:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 14 (b) of the Constitution, I am returning Senate Bill No. 295 herewith, with my objections, for reconsideration.

This bill would validate municipal ordinances adopted by any township on or after January 1, 1955 and prior to its effective date despite the municipality's omission to advertise the ordinance in conformity with the applicable statutes. According to a proviso in the bill, such ordinances must have been published, together with a notice of their introduction, at least 4 days prior to the time fixed in the notice for final passage.

Section 40:49–2 of the Revised Statutes, requires publication of the ordinance with a notice of its introduction and the time and place when and where it will be considered for final passage, at least one week prior to the time specified for further consideration for final passage. In addition, every ordinance, or the title, must be published, together with a notice of the date of passage or approval, at least once subsequent to its passage by the municipal governing body.

I understand the intention of this bill is to validate ordinances which were published and noticed 4 days instead of one week prior to final passage, but as to which the citizens and taxpayers received the protection of publication after passage. This bill should be amended accordingly.

I am returning Senate Bill No. 295 herewith for reconsideration and with the recommendation that the bill be amended as follows:

On page 1, section 1, line 4, after "provided", insert "that".

On page 1, section 1, line 7, after "notice", insert "and that said ordinances, or the title thereof, where published upon passage, together with a notice of the date of passage or approval, or both".

SENATE BILL No. 297

To the Senate:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 14 (b) of the Constitution, I am returning Senate Bill No. 297 herewith, for reconsideration and with my objections.

This bill would increase the membership of the board of trustees of the Police and Firemen's Retirement System from 5 to 9. Two of the additional members would be officers of the State and the other two would be another policeman and another fireman. The purpose of the measure is to insure representation by a policeman or fireman in the event one of such members is unable to attend a meeting.

The addition of two other State officers to the board of trustees, in addition to the State Treasurer, is unique and is not found in any of the other pension systems. I believe that these two additional members should be public citizens rather than State officials.

I find, also, that I must object to that portion of the bill which provides:

> "Each policeman or fireman member of the board of trustees shall be entitled to time off from his municipal or county duty, with pay, during the periods of his attendance upon regular meetings or to official business of the retirement system, and such time off shall include reasonable travel time required in connection therewith."

The difficulty lies in the vagueness of the language "or to official business of the retirement system". This might well be thought by some to include broad activities, not truly necessary for the welfare of the system, with the result that the county or municipality could be burdened unreasonably with the expense of providing substitute personnel. The area of appropriate activity should be defined.

Accordingly, I am returning Senate Bill No. 297 for reconsideration and with the recommendation that it be amended as follows:

> On page 1, section 1, lines 10 and 11, delete the words "2 of whom shall be officers of the State of New Jersey, and 2".
> On page 5, section 1, line 107, after the word "regular" insert "or special"; and after the word "meetings" insert "of the board of trustees or its duly appointed committees".
> On page 5, section 1, lines 107 and 108, delete the words "or to official business of the retirement system".

SENATE BILL No. 299

To the Senate:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 14 (b) of the Constitution, I am returning Senate Bill No. 299 herewith, with my objections for reconsideration.

Senate Bill No. 299 provides that any person "who exacts, procures, solicits, receives or uses, any statement, report, or certificate falsely stating a completion" of all work in connection with the erection, improvement or repair of buildings in advance of full or substantial completion, and any person who directly or indirectly aids, requests or authorizes any person to violate those provisions, is a disorderly person.

This bill has a worthy objective. It seeks to protect the public against fraudulent contractors who induce their victims to sign completion certificates prior to the commencement or completion of the work and so use those certificates as to render their victims liable to others who acquire the victim's written obligation from the contractor. I approve of a measure having that purpose.

The bill, however, as drawn, would reach persons who are without actual culpability. This is so because, as drawn, the bill would impose quasi-criminal liability upon anyone who "receives or uses" such false reports or certificates without requiring a finding of knowledge of the falsity. In its present form, for example, the bill would impose such liability upon a lawyer or banker who "receives" such report or certificate in good faith. The objective of the bill can be accomplished and the difficulties referred to eliminated by amendments hereafter recommended.

Accordingly, I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 299 for reconsideration with the recommendation that amendments be made to the bill as follows:

On page 1, section 1, line 1, after the word "solicits," delete the word "receives" and insert in lieu thereof the word "accepts".

On page 1, section 1, line 5, after the word "thereof," insert the words "knowing such statement to be false,".

On page 1, section 1, line 6, insert a comma after the word "who" and after the word "indirectly" insert ", knowingly".

SENATE BILL No. 312

To the Senate:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 14 (b) of the Constitution, I am returning Senate Bill No. 312 herewith, with my objections, for reconsideration.

Senate Bill No. 312 provides that "a person who shall operate or attempt or agree to operate a motor vehicle on a public highway in a race with any other motor vehicle or for the purpose of making a speed record or who shall arrange for, manage, be present at and witness, encourage, or assist in, the holding of, or the attempting to hold, any such race is a disorderly person". It provides for a fine of $25.00 to $100.00 for the first offense and $100.00 to $200.00 or imprisonment for 90 days, or both, for subsequent offenses.

The public highway is no place for motor races or speed records. However, the italicized words, "be present at and witness", would embrace persons free from actual culpability. This act would denounce as disorderly persons the witnesses for the prosecution and even the police officer who saw the event and made the arrest. Doubtless the legislative purpose was to reach the spectator who attended for the purpose of witnessing the event and to applaud it. It is probable that he would be included within the category of those who "encourage". At any rate, if this view of "encourage'' should not be accepted, language should be found which would not include any unsympathetic witness.

The bill deals with (a) races and (b) attempts at speed records. That portion of the bill which seeks to include persons other than the operator of the motor vehicle speaks only of a ''race'', whereas it should include also a speed record event.

Accordingly, I am returning Senate Bill No. 312 for reconsideration and with the recommendation that amendments be made to the bill as follows:

In the fourth line of the title, after the word ''managing,'' delete ''being present and witnessing,''.

In the last line of the title, after the word ''race'' insert ''or speed race event''.

On page 1, section 1, lines 3 and 4, after the word ''manage,'' in line 3, delete ''be present at and witness,''.

On page 1, section 1, line 5, after the word ''race'', insert ''or speed race event''.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Attest: Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 325

To the Senate:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 14(b) of the Constitution, I a mreturning herewith Senate Bill No. 325 for reconsideration and with my objections.

This bill is necessary legislation which would empower the Board of Trustees of the Public Employees' Retirement System to purchase one or more group life insurance policies to provide for the death benefits established by the Public Employees' Retirement-Social Security Integration Act (P. L. 1954, c. 84).

Because of the adverse tax consequences to members' nominees upon payment of benefits to them directly from the System, I suggest several amendments to Section 7 of Senate Bill No. 325 to assure maximum realization of benefits within the law. In addition, the procedure and machinery for selection of installment or annuity options and the designation of beneficiaries should be more specifically set forth.

I am further concerned with the provision in Section 9 of this bill, which purports to vest the Board of Trustees with the right to authorize the payment or non-payment of brokerage commissions by group insurance companies. With respect to the second sentence of Section 9, in my judgment the Board of Trustees may utilize the services of the Department of Banking and Insurance and the Attorney General's Office for necessary technical aid and advice. Therefore, the provision authorizing the Board of Trustees to encourage outside technical assistance is unnecessary.

I suggest the revision of Section 9 to make lawful the crediting of rebates on group life insurance purchased by the Board of Trustees in the event that no brokerage commission is paid.

Accordingly, I am returning Senate Bill No. 325 herewith for reconsideration and with the recommendation that the bill be amended as follows:

On page 3, section 7, line 1, after "paid", insert "by the company"; after "to" delete "the beneficiary designated to receive them" and insert in lieu thereof "such person, if living, as the member shall have nominated by written designation duly executed and filed with the insurance company through the Board of Trustees, otherwise to the executors or administrators of the member's estate;".

On page 3, section 7, line 2, after "if", insert ", the Board of Trustees accepts from the member during his lifetime a request directing that the retirement system rather than the insurance company make payment of any death benefit in equal annual installments over a period of years or as a life annuity and such request is effective upon his death, or if the Board of Trustees accepts from a beneficiary to whom payment would otherwise be made by the insurance company in one sum a similar request for payment by the retirement system in equal annual installments over a period of years or as a life annuity, the insurance company shall make payment of the death benefit to which such request for payment pertains in one sum directly to the retirement system, and the retirement system shall thereupon make payment to the beneficiary in the manner directed by the member or the beneficiary as the case may be, and except, further, that if".

On page 4, section 7, line 6, after "shall", insert ", in lieu of being paid as aforesaid,"; after "the" delete "State" and insert in lieu thereof "retirement system to be credited to the contingent reserve fund established by section 24 of chapter 84 of the laws of 1954 and paid therefrom in accordance with said section 24. A member may file with the insurance company through the board of trustees and alter from time to time during his lifetime, as desired, a duly attested written nomination of his payee for the death benefit".

On page 4, section 8, lines 1 to 11, delete section 8 in its entirety and substitute in lieu thereof "8. Any such group policy or policies shall provide that payment of any death benefits which are payable by the insurance company may be made in one sum directly to the beneficiary as hereinafter provided, in equal annual installments over a period of years or as a life annuity or in such other manner as may be made available by the insurance company. A member may make such arrangements for settlement, and may alter from time to time during his lifetime any arrangement previously made, by making written request to the insurance company through the Board of Trustees. Upon the death of a member, a beneficiary to whom a benefit is payable in one sum by the insurance company may likewise arrange for a settlement as described above. Any arrangement for payment under the group policy to a beneficiary other than the retirement system shall be in lieu of that provided by sections 41, 45, 46, 48 and 57 of chapter 84 of the laws of 1954."

On page 4, section 9, lines 1 to 5, delete section 9 in its entirety and substitute in lieu thereof "9. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any insurance company or companies issuing such policy or policies may credit the Public Employees' Retirement System, in the form of reduced premiums, with savings by said company or companies in the event that no brokerage commission or commissions are paid by said company or companies on the issuance of such policy or policies."

SENATE BILL No. 327

To the Senate:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 14 (b) of the Constitution, I am returning herewith for reconsideration and with my objections, Senate Bill No. 327.

Senate Bill No. 327 would amend the General Corporation Act to remove the requirement that the transfer books and the stock books be produced at the annual meeting at which the election for the board of directors is held. Under the existing law, the board of directors must produce the transfer books and stock books in addition to a complete alphabetical list of all the stockholders. The proposed amendment, further, authorizes the substitution of lists of each class of voting stockholders in place of a single list for all of the stockholders of the corporation.

I have no objection to the amendment permitting the preparation of separate lists for the various classes of voting shareholders, each in alphabetical order, but I cannot approve of the elimination of the requirement that the books be produced at that meeting.

The section of the General Corporation Act, here amended, provides that the transfer books and the stock books are the "only evidence" as to who are the stockholders entitled to vote at the election. By another section (R. S. 14:10–6), the inspectors of the election must refer to the transfer books and the stock books, the transfer books controlling in the event of a discrepancy, where the right to vote upon any share of stock is questioned at a corporate meeting.

In view of the evidential finality of the transfer books and stock books in determining the right to vote at corporate elections, I must oppose the removal of the requirement for their production at such meetings. Full safeguard to the individual stockholder's rights to challenge votes should be preserved; the existing corporation laws recognize that overriding interest.

If the production of these books at corporate elections proves unduly burdensome because of the enactment of Chapter 12 of the Laws of 1950, which permits the holding of the annual meeting at some place other than the principal office, where the transfer and stock books must be kept, I suggest a comprehensive revision of the sections of the General Corporation Act which set forth the evidential effect of the transfer books and stock books at corporate elections.

I am, therefore, returning Senate Bill No. 327 with my recommendation for reconsideration as follows:

On page 1, section 1, line 9, after "separate", insert ", full, true and complete"; after "class," insert "in alphabetical order".

On page 2, section 1, line 24, after "such", insert "books and".

Respectfully,

Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 29

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 29, for the following reasons:

Senate Bill No. 29 is a special pension bill. It would require payment of a $1,200.00 annual pension by the State to any person who has served for a period of 14 years as stenographer-secretary to an advisory master whose term has expired, and who has become permanently physically incapacitated from such service or from service as a stenographer in any court. The qualifications are obviously hand-tailored to meet one individual case.

Such former employee could have joined the State Employees' Retirement System at the same rates and with the same benefits as were available to all other State employees. To establish a special non-contributory pension in his or her favor, is unfair and discriminatory against the thousands of State employees who have contributed to their own retirement benefits over the years. A widespread practice of granting special pensions would erode the equitable and sound contributory public pension system of the State.

The bill would involve an obligation of the State for future payments which, on the basis of the life expectancy of a female at 70 years of age, would have a present value of $11,461.20.

Senate Bill No. 29 is special legislation, in violation of Article IV, Section VII, paragraph 8 of the Constitution. Although purporting to be general in nature, its application is strictly limited to an individual indistinguishable from other former employees with respect to the purpose of the bill. Ervolini v. Camden County, 127 N. J. L. 473, 475, (Sup. Ct., 1941) has established the standard here contravened:

"A law to be general must operate equally upon all of a group of objects which, having regard to the purposes of the legislation, are distinguished by characteristics sufficiently marked and important to make them a class by themselves."

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 29 herewith, without my approval.

SENATE BILL No. 38

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 38, for the following reasons:

This bill provides that the State Highway Commissioner shall add to the present State highway system the road which is now County Road No. 23 in Cape May County from State Highway Route U. S. No. 9 at Marmora, Upper Township to Central Avenue, in the city of Ocean City.

This road is a county highway in fair condition except for a draw span in poor condition across the Inland Waterway. There does not appear to be any reason, either from a traffic or a convenience standpoint, why this route should be taken over by the State.

Route No. 52, which is part of the State highway system, extends from Somers Point to Ocean City and is a four-lane highway of concrete and bituminous surface, adequate for present and anticipated traffic. Moreover, the Garden State Parkway has a full interchange to and from this highway in Somers Point while there is only a partial interchange between the Parkway and County Road No. 23.

It also should be noted that in addition to the present 1,776 miles of State highway there are 1,200 miles of legislated routes which the Highway Department has never officially added to the State highway system, the primary reason being that sufficient funds have not been available for this purpose. In view of this, I do not believe that this bill would, in fact, accomplish its objective. It is pointless to add to this forbidding total. Legislation of this kind should be carefully confined to situations in which the need is plainly apparent.

I am, therefore, returning Senate Bill No. 38 herewith without my approval.

Respectfully,

SENATE BILL No. 56

To the Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill No. 56 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would vest the State's property interest in a decedent's estate in her sister-in-law, who does not qualify as her next of kin under the laws governing intestacies. The estate totals $12,500.00 in net value and is subject to escheat to the State.

George Stout died intestate in 1950. A document, apparently signed by him, has been produced reading "I leave all my personal property to my wife Millie D. Stout. At her death all to my sister Eva Prettyman". A line was drawn through the second sentence. It is asserted that this was done by someone other than Mr. Stout. Assuming this to be so, still Millie D. Stout survived her husband by 2 years, and even if that document had been a validly executed will, Mrs. Stout would nevertheless have taken her husband's estate absolutely and to the exclusion of Eva Prettyman.

Mrs. Stout having died intestate without kin, her property escheated to the State. The bill recites that Eva Prettyman has an equitable and moral right to the property.

If Mrs. Stout had left kin or willed her property, there could be no conceivable equitable or moral claim by Eva Prettyman. I do not understand how that equitable claim can arise merely because the State succeeded to Mrs. Stout's interest through the law of escheat.

The power of disposition was in Mrs. Stout. She did not exercise that power. In ultimate effect, this bill would constitute a stranger's determination of what Mrs. Stout, in the stranger's view, should have done. It may be diametrically opposed to the actual wish. At any rate, if this bill should be approved, it would invite like measures with respect to other situations, in abrogation of the escheat law, upon undeterminable inquiries or speculations as to what the decedent might have wished.

If there is merit to the view that relatives by marriage should inherit in preference to escheat, with respect to property which the decedent acquired from a spouse, the vehicle for expressing that determination should be by a general law amending the law of descent and distribution.

I am, therefore, returning Senate Bill No. 56 herewith, without my approval.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 80

To the Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill No. 80 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

Under this bill, the Public Employees' Retirement-Social Security Integration Act (P. L. 1954, c. 84), would be amended to provide that the employees of three interstate commissions would receive veterans' free pension credits despite the fact that, as such employees, they never were eligible for the benefits of the noncontributory Veterans' Retirement Act. That act permits veteran employees of the State or of any county, municipality or school district to retire at half pay upon reaching age 62 or incurring a disability incapacitating them from performing the duties of their office or employment. Employees of commissions which are agencies both of this State and of another State or States are not covered by the Veterans' Retirement Act.

The three commissions here involved are the Palisades Interstate Park Commission, Interstate Sanitation Commission and the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission. By Chapter 84 of the Laws of 1954, employees of these commission are eligible for membership in the new Public Employees' Retirement System of the State of New Jersey, as they had previously been eligible for membership in the State Employees' Retirement System, which was repealed effective December 31, 1954.

Chapter 84 of the Laws of 1954 substantially supersedes the free Veterans' Retirement Act. No public employee veteran eligible for membership in the new retirement system is entitled to any benefits under the Veterans Retirement Act. All employees of the State or of any county, municipality or school district within the new system who are veterans therefore received, under Chapter 84 of the Laws of 1954, free pension credits to January 2, 1955, the effective date of the new system, while those veteran members who had contributed to the former State Employees' Retirement System were paid back their accumulated deductions. The repayment of these contributions was equitable because under prior law, such veteran, if he retired under the noncontributory Veterans' Retirement Act, was entitled to a return of his accumulated contributions in full. The public employee veterans covered by the Veterans' Retirement Act are now all on an equal basis with prior service credits paid up for them to January 2, 1955.

By the amendments to Chapter 84 of the Laws of 1954 in Senate Bill No. 80, the veteran employees of the named interstate commissions would become entitled to the return of their accumulated contributions into the former pension system. This is without justification in view of the fact that they never were entitled to the benefits of the free Veterans' Retirement Act. The cost to the State of this windfall has not been calculated, but it would run to many thousands of dollars.

In addition to permitting the employee veterans of the named agencies to elect to receive past service credits and a return of their contributions, Senate Bill No. 80 would afford to them the option of selecting the benefits available to public employee veterans of the State or of any county, municipality or school district, to retire at one-half of final pay, upon meeting conditions specified as to age or disability and 20 years of employment. Other members of the Public Employees' Retirement System must serve 30 years to achieve half-pay retirement. Thus, this legislation would extend special retirement advantages for veterans to employees of the three interstate agencies, despite the effective closing of the Veterans' Retirement Act to new employees by Chapter 84 of the Laws of 1954.

I recognize the equitable claims of veterans covered by the free Veterans' Retirement Act to special consideration as to pension and disability benefits more favorable than those available to other public employees, but the extension of such benefits to the employees of interstate commissions who were never entitled to free veterans' pensions is contrary to the taxpayers' interest and without fundamental fairness.

I am, therefore, returning Senate Bill No. 80 herewith without my approval.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 111

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 111 for the following reasons:

This bill would supplement Chapter 1 of Title 20 of the Revised Statutes, which relates to eminent domain, by providing that a tenant or lessee whose term of letting or leasehold has 3 or more years to run or who has made improvements to the demised premises over $1,000.00, shall have the same right to be heard in the condemnation action and to contest "the amount of the award to be made for the property to be condemned" as if he were the owner of the property. It further provides that the rights so granted to the tenant or lessee shall be "separate and distinct" from those of the owner and may be fully asserted whether or not the owner exercises his rights as owner in the action.

Under existing law, the property is valued as an entity, and no separate award may be made to a tenant either with respect to his interest in the property condemned or any special losses of the tenant. Any dispute between the landlord and tenant as to their respective interests in the award is determinable in proceedings addressed to the fund, and is not an issue in the condemnation action itself. It is not clear whether Senate Bill No. 111 is intended to overturn any of these rules. If it is, it is an incomplete act of legislation since it does not spell out the additional steps necessary to effectuate that result. Since it seems unlikely that the Legislature intended such changes, it is unnecessary to deal with the issues of policy which a bill of such purpose would present.

Rather, the purpose of the bill, as reflected in a fair reading of it and the accompanying statement of purpose, seems to be to afford an opportunity to the tenant to be heard with respect to the valuation of the fee. As such, the bill is unnecessary since that opportunity is afforded by existing law. Tenants, mortgagees and other lien-holders are necessary parties defendant.

In fact, the adoption of the bill might injuriously affect the interests of tenants generally and of mortgagees and lien-holders, for the reason that the enactment of a law insuring a right to be heard to tenants having the qualifications in the bill might be construed to be a legislative expression that no other tenant, mortgagee or lien-holder should hereafter have that opportunity.

I am, therefore, returning Senate Bill No. 111 herewith without my approval.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Attest: Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 114

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 114 for the following reasons:

Senate Bill No. 114 would remove the Division of State Police from the Department of Law and Public Safety and establish the State Police as a separate principal department in the executive branch of the State government.

Pursuant to the new Constitution, the State government was reorganized by legislation into 14 principal departments. The State Police, together with other law enforcement agencies, were gathered within the Department of Law and Public Safety, headed by the Attorney General. Senate Bill No. 114 would accordingly separate the State Police from this logical pattern and establish the State Police as a 15th department of the executive branch of government.

The purpose asserted by the sponsor of the bill is to insulate the State Police from possible political influence by an attorney general. Although disavowing that any political use of the State Police has been made during my administration, the sponsor nevertheless urges separation as a precaution against the possibility that the State Police might be so used.

Far from achieving the professed objective, Senate Bill No. 114 would, long-range, enhance the opportunity for political persuasion in the operation of the State Police. For one thing, this bill would place the Superintendent of State Police at the level of a cabinet officer. The cabinet assists the governor in the execution of policies embodied in the platform upon which he was elected. The duties of the State Police are foreign to the arena of philosophical or governmental differences. That is precisely the place where the Superintendent of State Police should not be.

Moreover, Senate Bill No. 114 provides that the Superintendent of State Police shall serve at the pleasure of the governor, and this provision flowed from the constitutional requirement as to cabinet officers. Contrast this arrangement with the existing law under which the Superintendent is appointed for a 5-year term and is removable by the Governor only upon charges and hearing. N.J.S.A. 53:1–2. Obviously greater opportunity for faithful, uninfluenced adherence to duty reposes in the greater job security under existing law.

The thesis of the bill seems to be that the Superintendent of State Police is more secure from improper influence at the hands of a governor than under the command of an attorney general whom the governor appoints. This thesis is speculative at best. It also fallaciously assumes that a governor may escape responsibilities for impropriety on the part of an attorney general. Realistically, an attorney general could not long continue a course of conduct which the sponsor of the bill would prevent, without the blessing or culpable inaction of the occupant of the office of governor. The authority and prestige of the office of chief executive are sufficient to curb such action, and if need be, the governor, under the present law, could readily restrain a superintendent who would yield to pressure, by the authorized remedy of removal from office upon charges and hearing.

Hence Senate Bill No. 114 would enhance, rather than diminish, the opportunity for political interference with the State Police. But more importantly, this bill would introduce a structural plan which is incompatible with elementary principles of good government.

The Attorney General traditionally has been entrusted with the criminal business of the State. With the growth of our State, the prosecutors were charged with handling the criminal business within their respective counties. But the Attorney General remained in overall superintendence, and by statute may in various situations take over all or part of the criminal business in a particular county. By statute he expressly remains charged with the duty of enforcing all of the laws of the State. N.J.S.A. 52:17A–4. The State Police are an essential means for the discharge of that duty. It would be absurd to strip the attorney general of effective capacity to enforce the law while leaving the responsibility for law enforcement with him.

Still further, sound government requires that a police force be under a civilian head. In this respect, a police force is much akin to a military establishment as to which our State Constitution, Article I, paragraph 15, expressly provides that "The military shall be in strict subordination to the civil power." A civilian head gives assurance that a police organization of fixed personnel will not dominate the governmental scene. This concept is one of the basic safeguards of the liberty of our citizens and a civilian head "satisfies the need for civilian control over a professional police corps." 1954 Annual Report of the Police Department of the City of New York, p. 3. Thus, by statute, the Federal Secretary of Defense must be a civilian and the FBI is subordinate to the Attorney General of the United States. In 136 municipalities of this State the sole police responsibility rests with the State Police. State Police additionally discharge important duties throughout the State such as in the investigation and suppression of crime under the direction and legal advice of the Attorney General and in the patrolling of highways. The governor cannot be an effective civilian head of the State Police; the manifold duties of his office preclude that role.

In the final analysis, integrity in office depends upon the integrity of the incumbent. Integrity in office can be assured only at the polls by the election of men who will serve with honor and appoint others of the same quality. Paper panaceas are no substitute. Although mechanical arrangements may in some situations provide helpful curbs, yet they rarely are equal to the ingenuity of one who is minded to betray his trust. Surely it would be folly to accept an arrangement which, as here, is not only hostile to the professed objective, but would as well deprive the public of the benefits of sound governmental organization.

I am, accordingly, returning Senate Bill No. 114 herewith without my approval.

Respectfully,

SENATE BILL No. 117

To the Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill No. 117 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

The Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund Law now permits teachers to apply for and agree to purchase prior service credits for teaching service both within and outside the State, within one year after enrollment or reenrollment as members of the fund. The purchase of such annuity credits may be by lump sum or installment payments. Chapter 37 of the Laws of 1955, which authorizes the integration of Federal Social Security with the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund upon majority approval of the membership, continues the same one year limitation on obtaining prior service credits.

Senate Bill No. 117 would reopen this privilege for one year from July 1, 1955, for teachers who allowed the year after enrollment to lapse without making application for and purchasing or agreeing to purchase prior service credits. I vetoed similar legislation a year ago (Senate Bill No. 81 of the 1954 Legislature).

Upon enrollment or reenrollment, members of the fund have been advised fully concerning their rights under the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund Law, including the right to elect within one year to contribute for back service. That time limit is fair and reasonable. I cannot approve its enlargement with retroactive effect in view of the heavy additional financial charge to the State.

The estimated annual cost to the State in matching contributions is $70,000.00. The State's contribution to the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund for the current fiscal year is $15,296,741.00. In addition, total State aid for local school districts in 1955-56 is $63,434,744.20.

This bill with other ostensibly worthy measures would have the cumulative effect of threatening fiscal unbalance for the State government.

I am, therefore, returning Senate Bill No. 117 without my approval.

Respectfully,

Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 145

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 145, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill provides for the payment by the Public Employees' Retirement System to the widow of a member of the former State Employees' Retirement System "who died on the third day after his retirement", of the same benefits as would have been paid to her pursuant to the member's optional selection in the event that he had lived for more than 30 days after retirement. The member must have retired at 70 years of age pursuant to the provisions of the statute establishing that system.

Under the State Employees' Retirement System Act, which was repealed effective December 30, 1954, a member could elect options upon retirement carrying substantial benefits to his widow or other named beneficiary if his death occurred more than 30 days after retirement. Pursuant to such option, he received a lesser retirement allowance during his own life. The Public Employees' Retirement-Social Security Integration Act of 1954 continues substantially identical provisions.

The Legislature fixed the 30-day period as a condition for enlarged benefits for survivors in order to prevent a member who believes his death to be iminent from selecting that retirement option. This 30-day survival condition has been a part of the basic pension law of this State since 1933, and was adopted because experience indicated that, absent such provision, there was a serious drain upon funds by reason of deathbed retirements and election of the option with greater survivor benefits. The 30-day provision is an important feature of the actuarial basis of the plan. The Legislature re-enacted the 30-day provision as recently as last year.

This bill would confer, retroactively, benefits with respect to membership in the former State Employees' Retirement System, while continuing the 30-day provision with respect to the present system. I cannot agree with this discriminatory treatment. Nor is it apparent why there should be further discrimination between former members who retired before or after age 70. Nor is it clear why the 30-day period is reduced to 3 days. I cannot detect any special significance in the selection of that particular period in a bill which is retroactive in effect.

If any change in the 30-day provision should be thought to be warranted, the operative effect should be prospective, so that opportunity will exist to make such changes in contributions as the increased cost may indicate to be necessary.

It is difficult to estimate the dollar impact of this bill if it were approved. Some idea may be gleaned from calculations made with respect to the increase in the State's contribution if the 30-day provision were eliminated from the retirement plan and other attendant assumptions were made. Those calculations indicate that the increase in the State's contribution would be $469,924.00 per year.

I am, therefore, returning Senate Bill No. 145 herewith, without my approval.

Respectfully,

SENATE BILL NO. 149

To the Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill No. 149 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill seeks to override the escheat laws by vesting the State's interest in a decedent's estate, in an individual who was not entitled to take under the law.

James Scott and Mary Scott, his wife, died as a result of a fire. James Scott survived his wife and left a balance of $2,932.03 on deposit with a savings and loan association. By this bill, Mary Scott's nephew would be legally entitled to that balance on deposit.

I am informed that the nephew, apparently unbeknown to the Legislature, in fact, died during the pendency of this measure. In view of the apparent nullification of the purpose of Senate Bill No. 149 by the death of its intended beneficiary, it is not necessary to consider the original merit of this bill. My views with respect to such measures are stated in my message returning Senate Bill No. 56 without my approval.

I am, accordingly, returning Senate Bill No. 149 herewith, without my approval.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] ROBERT B. MEYNER,

SENATE BILL No. 157

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 157, without my approval, for the following reasons:

Senate Bill No. 157 provides that it shall be a misdemeanor for any person, corporation or agency, public or private, to interfere in any manner with the continued maintenance and use of any bridge across the Delaware River between the States of New Jersey and Pennsylvania, north of the boundary line between Bucks County and Philadelphia County in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as extended across the Delaware River to this State, or to demolish or to start demolition work on any such bridge which was open to public use on January 1, 1955, without the specific statutory consent of the New Jersey Legislature.

As of January 1, 1955, there were in existence 19 bridges across the Delaware River north of the boundary line between Bucks County and Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania and open to public use. Eighteen of these bridges are maintained and operated by the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission and one, at Layton, New Jersey, is owned and operated by a private organization.

The Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission was established for the purpose of construction, operation and maintenance of bridges over the Delaware River north of Trenton by statutes of the State of New Jersey and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, ratified as an interstate compact and supplemental compact by the Congress of the United States. Chapter 215 of the Laws of 1934, as amended and supplemented by Chapter 283 of the Laws of 1947, provides the statutory authority in this State for the bistate agreement. Under Article II, paragraph (n) the powers of the commission include: "(n) To determine the exact location, system and character of, and all other matters in connection with any and all improvements or facilities which it may be authorized to own, construct, establish, effectuate, maintain, operate or control."

Under Article X, paragraph (e) the commission is granted supplemental powers as follows:

> "(e) The commission may demolish and remove any bridge now operated by it when such bridge has been or is being replaced by a new bridge at the same or a different location which in the determination of the commission will serve substantially the same traffic as that served by such existing bridge, and the commission may sell or otherwise dispose of any ferry or other property of the commission deemed by it to be no longer useful or needed for the purposes of the commission."

Thus, the power to demolish and remove any bridge now operated by the commission, as granted to it by the interstate compact ratified by the Federal Congress, is attempted to be nullified by Senate Bill No. 157. While there are no present plans for the demolition of any bridge under the jurisdiction of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission, it is my conviction that the Legislature of this State cannot unilaterally abrogate the interstate compact between the states of New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

The legal authorities hold without any equivocation that a state statute which is in conflict with an interstate compact approved by Congress is an invalid impairment of contract in violation of the United States Constitution. Green v. Biddle, 21 U. S. 1 (1823), frequently cited with approval. See also Pennsylvania v. Wheeling & B Bridge Co., 54 U. S. 518 (1851); Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Comm. v. Colburn, 310 U. S. 419 (1940); Columbia Railway Gas and Electric Co. of South Carolina, 261 U. S. 236 (1923).

In Henderson v. Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Comm., 362 Pa. 475, 66 A. 2d 843 (1949), cert. den. 338 U. S. 850, Justice Jones of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court said:

> "It is within the competency of a State, which is a party to a compact with another State, to legislate in respect of matters covered by the compact so long as such legislative action is in approbation and not in reprobation of the compact. See Olin v. Kitzmiller, 259 U. S. 260, 263, 42 S. Ct. 510, 66 L. Ed. 930, affirming the same case as reported in 9 Cir., 268 F. 348; also P. J. McGowan & Sons, Inc. v. Van Winkle,

U. S. D. C. Or., 21 F. 2d 76, affirmed by the Supreme Court in 277 U. S. 574, 48 S. Ct. 435, 72 L. Ed. 995, in a memorandum opinion ' * * * on the authority of Olin v. Kitzmiller, 259 U. S. 260, 263, 42 S. Ct. 510, 66 L. Ed. 930.' "

In my judgment a state statute making it a misdemeanor to interfere with the use of or to demolish a bridge is in derogation, not in approbation, of an interstate compact authorizing repairs for maintenance purposes or demolition.

The United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit held in Bartrom v. Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Comm., 216 F. 2d 717 (1954), that the commission had power to demolish and remove a bridge operated by it which had been replaced by a new bridge erected by the commission. This decision affirmed Chief Judge Forman of the United States District Court in refusing to enjoin the commission from demolishing and removing the Columbia-Portland Bridge.

Therefore, under the conviction that Senate Bill No. 157 is an infringement of a valid interstate compact in violation of the contract clauses of the United States Constitution, Article I, Section X, paragraph 1 and of the New Jersey Constitution, Article IV, Section VII, paragraph 3, I must return this bill herewith, without my approval.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 176

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 176 for the following reasons:

Senate Bill No. 176 is designed to give civil service status to certain employees of the New Jersey Racing Commission who meet specified conditions based upon time of employment. Under this bill, the New Jersey Racing Commission is required to certify their names immediately to the Civil Service Commission, which in turn must classify those employees in the competitive class of civil service without examination. Such employees then enjoy all the provisions of Title 11 of the Revised Statutes with reference to tenure, classification and compensation.

Under the present law (P.L. 1940, c. 17, sec. 4), all employees of the Racing Commission are specifically exempted from the provisions of Title 11 of the Revised Statutes and serve at the pleasure of the Commission at such compensation and with such duties as the Commission may determine.

The New Jersey 1947 Constitution, Article VII, Section II, provides that appointments and promotions in civil service shall be made according to merit and fitness which shall be ascertained as far as practicable by examination which shall be competitive as far as practicable.

I am opposed to admitting such employees to civil service benefits without having them comply with this provision of the Constitution. I can see no reason for exempting them from competition by examination, nor have I been informed that a competitive examination for civil service certification to such positions or employment would be impracticable. This bill violates the spirit of the Constitution in that instead of containing conditions of civil service eligibility based on competence, merit, fitness, loyalty or length of service, the bill imposes benefits merely because certain employees were employed at certain dates in specified capacities.

Employees of the Racing Commission who would be benefited by this legislation, with the exception of the assistant secretary, all are compensated on a per diem basis. The inspectors perform police and administrative duties at the various tracks during the course of the racing season. Some of them perform additional administrative tasks during the winter in Trenton. This type of employment is seasonal and part-time in nature. Both the present and proposed law specifically exempt such part-time employees from eligibility under Title 11. In both excluding and purporting to cover such persons within its benefits, this bill, as written, cannot be administered.

Moreover, both the present and proposed law, on the one hand, state that such employees shall serve at the pleasure of the Commission and shall receive such compensation as the Commission may determine at its discretion. On the other hand, the bill is designed to give tenure and compensation rights under civil service to such employees. This ambiguity is likewise fatal in my judgment.

Finally, the conditions of employment with reference to including or excluding a number of the employees which this bill is designed to cover depend upon the fortuitous circumstance of the date of its enactment. One provision of the bill states that civil service benefits will apply to those who "served in a full-time capacity during the 1954 racing season as inspectors first grade or second grade, and who are now in the employ of the commission". Thus, the number of employees who would receive such benefits hinges upon the effective date of the bill. If the bill takes effect after the completion of the racing season, those persons employed on a seasonal or per diem basis may not be "employed" by the Commission at that time and, therefore, not subject to the protection of civil service status.

In conclusion, I cannot in good conscience sign such a bill when the spirit of the Constitution is being violated, when the proposed amendments make section 4 of the act so ambiguous, and when the area of coverage as to the number of men the bill is designed to benefit is so flexible.

Accordingly, I am constrained to return Senate Bill No. 176 herewith without my approval.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 218

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 218, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would amend an existing statute, (P. L. 1947, c. 132) relating to the certification of librarians or professional library assistants employed in libraries supported in whole or in part by public funds within this State, except libraries of a board of education.

The present law provides, on a permissive basis, for the State Board of Examiners, upon application, to issue to any person employed in such library a certificate to act as librarian or professional library assistant if he shall meet such requirements as shall be fixed by the State Board of Education. The present law further provides that the officer or body having charge and control of such library, may, in its discretion, require any librarian or professional library assistant to hold an appropriate certificate, except any such person employed prior to the effective date of that act.

I favor any reasonable approach which will advance the quality of service of librarians. The inauguration of courses of special instruction in institutions of higher learning has been a notable step in this field. Permissive certification, attesting to the qualifications of such personnel, not only encourages the pursuit of specialized education but as well aids the hiring body in the selection of individuals for employment.

Senate Bill No. 218, however, introduces the concept of compulsory licensure for such employment. Under this bill, only persons holding a professional librarian's certificate could hereafter be employed in such libraries, except those serving a municipality or group of municipalities having a population under 10,000, "in any office, position, or employment for the performance of other than clerical, stenographic or janitorial duties, or duties which can properly be performed by a certified school librarian". Although the bill is limited to the libraries described above, such libraries afford the major opportunity for work in the field, and hence the bill may be placed in the category of measures which require licensing as a condition for work opportunity.

As a general proposition, compulsory licensure should be approached cautiously and should not be accepted unless the public necessity is evident. Compulsory licensure may increase the cost of service. It may also become the vehicle of protection of a "guild" rather than of the public it is supposed to serve.

At the moment, I am not satisfied that compulsory licensure here meets the standard of public necessity. I think it presently unnecessary to explore that question, since the bill has a number of serious defects which preclude approval.

Section 1 provides for the issuance of a certificate if the applicant "shall meet such requirements as shall be recommended by the Certification Board of the New Jersey Library Association and adopted by the State Board of Education". (Emphasis added.) This provision has several constitutional infirmities.

In the first place, this provision delegates legislative power to a private organization. Neither the New Jersey Library Association nor its Certification Board is a public body or agency. The association is a private organization. Under the bill, the State Board of Education could adopt only such requirements as the private association should recommend. There is no constitutional warrant for the grant of governmental power—here, the legislative power —to a non-public organization. Nor does good judgment permit that course; it is plainly unsound to permit an association of librarians to determine the basis upon which there shall be accretion to their number.

Secondly, the bill is devoid of a description of the requirements for licensure or standard upon which the requirements shall be determined. A delegation of power must be accompanied by a definitive standard, to the end that the will which is being enforced is the will of the Legislature, rather than the will of the delegee, and to the further end that the public and the judiciary may know the limits of the delegated authority. A blanket delegation permits arbitrary action foreign to the legislative will. Standards of very general prescription have been judicially sustained. But some standard there must be, and here there is none at all. I have been advised informally that the "requirements" contemplated will not extend beyond graduation from an accredited or approved school for librarians. If that should be so, the machinery of this bill is cumbersome and unnecessary. A single provision for employment of persons holding a degree from such school would suffice, assuming that requirement should be found to be justifiable.

As noted above, the bill permits employment of only certified school librarians "for the performance of other than clerical, stenographic or janitorial duties, or duties which can properly be performed by a certified school librarian". The description is negatively phrased. It should be an affirmative statement of the work of such librarian. Moreover the phrase, "duties which can properly be performed by a certified school librarian" is vague and uninformative.

Section 1 of the act amended by this bill provides for the issuance of a certificate only to a "person employed by any officer or body having charge and control of any library supported in whole or in part by public funds, except a board of education". It is arbitrary and unreasonable thus to provide for existing employment as a requirement for eligibility for a certificate. Moreover, there is basically an incompatibility in the provisions relating to eligibility. Section 3 of the act amended by this bill prohibits employment, after July 1, 1956, by the employing boards just described, except where the population served is less than 10,000, unless the person to be employed already holds a certificate, whereas section 1, as just pointed out, would permit only persons already employed to seek to obtain a certificate. In net effect, therefore, after July 1, 1956, only persons employed at such libraries serving populations under 10,000, could seek a certificate. These provisions would effectively restrain the entry of new personnel in the field, and would dissuade, rather than encourage, interested individuals from pursuing a course of education, since, surely, few could pursue such studies if the opportunity for a certificate depended upon ability to obtain employment by a library serving a population under 10,000.

Lastly, the bill would seem to require the discharge of all presently employed librarians who were not so employed on the effective date of the original act of 1947, unless they obtain a certificate by July 1, 1956. Doubtless, this was not intended. It is customary, in statutes providing for compulsory licensure, to provide some form of waiver in favor of persons already in the calling.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 218 herewith without my approval.

Respectfully,

SENATE BILL No. 223

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 223, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would change the method of selecting the members of the county election board. Under the present law, the chairman of the State committee of each of the two political parties nominates each year one person as a member of the county board. The Governor commissions such appointee.

This bill would establish what amounts to a nominating committee consisting of the chairman and vice-chairlady of each county committee, the State chairman, State committeeman and State committeewoman. The nomination of this group would be certified by the county committee chairman and in the event of a tie vote the State chairman would have the deciding vote and make the certification to the Governor. The second and third sections make comparable amendments with respect to the filling of vacancies in the county board.

A State chairman, in the ordinary course of events, makes appropriate consultations with local groups. Apparently, the desire is to insure a firmer voice at the county level.

Abstractly considered, the plan would seem to have substance. But a number of considerations militate against it.

Under the present system in which the nominating power is vested in the State chairman alone, it not infrequently happens that some nominations are not made. If the nominating procedure is encumbered with this committee process, the likelihood of inaction would be increased, particularly since the State chairman would be obliged to attend 21 separate committee meetings within the 30-day period. Moreover, the sense of public responsibility for nominations made is more clearly fixed and appreciated when the nominating power reposes in a single individual; diffusion of that power within a group tends to obscure that responsibility.

I am, therefore, returning Senate Bill No. 223 without my approval.

Respectfully,

ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

SENATE BILL NO. 224

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 224 for the following reasons:

This bill would require the State Highway Commissioner to add to the present State highway system a route beginning at the intersection of State Highway Route 77, at Carll's Corner in Cumberland County, and running to the intersection of State Highway Route U. S. 40 at Richland in Atlantic County, a distance of 18.6 miles.

I have been advised that there would be no immediate construction cost other than possible widening of the shoulders which are now, in the most part, only 5 feet in width.

Such widening of the shoulders would involve approximately 15 miles of the proposed route. Estimates, without a detailed survey, indicate that the cost of such work would be approximately $10,000.00 per mile or a total of $150,000.00.

Furthermore, based upon average maintenance and operating costs, the annual normal expenditures for this proposed route would be:

Maintenance	$55,096.95
Snow Removal	6,536.95
Traffic Lines	1,972.29
Signs	3,600.00
Maintenance Traffic Signals	2,400.00
Total	$69,606.19

At the present time there does not appear to be any benefit to the travelling public of the State in making this route a part of the State highway system. In addition, the assumption of a route through the center of a community such as Vineland imposes additional problems.

It also should be noted that in addition to the present 1,776 miles of State highway there are 1,200 miles of legislated routes which the Highway Department has never officially added to the State highway system, the primary reason being that sufficient funds have not been available for this purpose. In view of this, I do not believe that this bill would, in fact, accomplish its objective. It is pointless to add to this forbidding total. Legislation of this kind should be carefully confined to situations in which the need is plainly apparent.

For these reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 224 herewith, without my approval.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 226

To the Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill No. 226 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would amend one section of the election law, 19:5–3 of the Revised Statutes, relating to the composition of the county committees of political parties, by adding the following sentence:

> "The members shall also elect a vice-chairlady to hold office for one year or until her successor is elected and the vice-chairlady shall perform all duties required of her by law and the constitution and by-laws of such committee."

The statute provides for the election of a chairman. In its generic sense "man" includes "woman", and hence it is readily apparent that both sexes are eligible for that post. R. S. 1:1–2.

The bill provides for the election of a "vice-chairlady". I find no dictionary definition of the term. Some ambiguity arises from the association of "vice" with "lady". Does it mean that the chairman must be a chairlady, upon the approach that the holder is "vice" to a "chairlady", and perhaps accordingly that the holder may be of either sex so long as the chairman is a lady? Or does "lady" spell out the qualification for the office? The latter view seems more compelling. The requisites of a lady are well-known and are exclusively feminine. I conclude, accordingly, that the bill allocates the distaff to the subsidiary role.

At first blush the bill may seem to be a courtly gesture to our feminine citizenry. But in practical operation, the bill would relegate our ladies to the secondary role. Critical legal analysis would doubtless yield to the thought that a proper balance between the sexes requires that the chairmanship be preempted by the male gender, and this I feel would be the result of the bill. I might overlook the discrimination against the male evident in barring him from the vice chairmanship were it not for the compelling policy

> "The right of citizens of this State to hold office or employment shall be coextensive with their right to vote, shall be equal as to all citizens and shall not be denied or abridged on account of sex or marital status. Such equal rights and privileges shall extend to all offices, boards, commissions, or other public service in the State and its political subdivisions of whatever nature or kind.
> "There shall be no discrimination based on sex or marital status in the compensation, appointment, assignment, promotion, transfer, dismissal or other matters pertaining to such office or employment of persons referred to in this section."

Perhaps also an obstacle may inhere in Article I, Section I, of the State Constitution if read in the light of Article X, Section IV, thereof. The real discrimination, in net result, runs against the weaker sex, and I am constrained to protect them.

For these reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 226 herewith, without my approval.

Respectfully,

SENATE BILL No. 228

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 228, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill supplements the act concerning municipalities governed by the commission form of government. Under the present law several candidates may be grouped together with one designation printed opposite their names. This bill would establish a method of filling a vacancy on the list of candidates whose names are so grouped.

Specifically, the bill would permit the candidates for the office of commissioner to file with the clerk of the municipality "the names of 3 persons as a committee on vacancies". Such committee would have power "in case a vacancy arises by death, resignation or otherwise" of any candidate in the group to fill such vacancy by filing with the clerk the name of a substitute candidate. Such designation would have to be filed not less than 10 days before the election and would have the same effect as an original petition by nomination. It should be noted that the committee is to be composed of "3 persons" without any restriction that they be voters or even residents of the municipality affected.

Basically, my objection is directed to the net effect of this measure. It would permit a candidate to be placed upon the ballot without the support of a single voter in the municipality. Under section 40:75–3 of the Revised Statues nominating petitions must have individual signatures equal to one-half of 1% of the entire vote at the last general election, but in no event less than 25. This section also requires that the petitions be filed at least 40 days prior to the election. The bill would also sanction switching of candidates as late as 10 days before the election. This is inimical to basic concepts of the election laws relating to the municipalities governed by the commission form.

Accordingly, I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 228 without my approval.

Respectfully,

Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 230

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 230, without my approval, for the following reasons:

Senate Bill No. 230 would supplement the provisions of Chapter 233 of the Laws of 1953 relating to the practice of chiropractic.

Chapter 233 of the Laws of 1953, which provides for the licensure of chiropractors contains several provisions providing for licensure of persons already engaged in the field, either without examination or upon an examination less exacting than the examination specified for applicants who are not within those special provisions. These special provisions are in the nature of so-called "waiver" clauses intended to protect the interests of those already in a calling. The requirements of such provisions are less than those deemed essential for the full protection of the public, but the lesser requirements are thought to be a fair accommodation of the public interest with the equity of existing practitioners. Section 8 of that act specifies the requirements applicable to all who are not within the purview of the "waiver" provisions and sets forth those qualifications and requisites which the Legislature then found to be demanded by the public welfare.

One of the "waiver" provisions appears in section 7 and persons within it are required to pass an examination less comprehensive than the examination specified in section 8. Section 8 requires examination in bacteriology, nonsurgical diagnosis and chemistry, while section 7 does not. Senate Bill No. 230 provides that an applicant, not meeting all of the requirements of Section 7, shall be permitted to take the examination there set forth.

I am told informally that the purpose of this bill is to qualify an individual who did not meet the requirement of 4-year residence immediately prior to December 31, 1952, but who in fact has been a resident for 3 years. The bill refers to a 3-year consecutive residence, although it is not clear to what date that period attaches, but I cannot be sure from the bill that this is the only relaxation. It specifies certain requirements, which are in fact more exacting than the statement of those requirements in section 7, and adds that the applicant shall have "fulfilled all the other requirements of said section 7 not inconsistent herewith". Without extending this discussion, it may be said in summary that it is not clear whether, for example, the bill eliminates the requirement of graduation from a school of chiropractic. The difficulty arises from the vagueness of the quoted language.

This bill limits its operation to an applicant "whose application was filed with the board on or before October 14, 1953, and who is a veteran". Thus its effect is specially limited to those persons not qualified under section 7 who happened to have applied on or before October 14, 1953, and who are veterans and still further to those answering that description who also meet the enlarged requirements referred to in the paragraph above. The requirement as to filing date, at least, is arbitrary, since there is no reason to discriminate between those unqualified individuals who applied on a given date and those who did not so apply and perhaps did not apply because they knew they did not meet the requirements.

In effect, therefore, this bill is a special law extending a waiver clause. Bills extending waiver provisions are in principle unsound. Licensing bills are intended to raise the level of service to the public, and that objective is not served by a bill or series of bills creating exceptions to it.

If it should be the view of the Legislature that the requirement in section 7 of residence for 4 years was arbitrary or unreasonable in the light of the objective of a waiver clause and that an alteration should be made with respect to such residential requirement, a determination to that effect would have to be made in the form of a general law amending section 7 and providing that all persons who as of the date of the original enactment possessed the qualifications as thus amended shall be eligible to seek licensure under that section.

I am, accordingly, returning Senate Bill No. 230 herewith, without my approval.

Respectfully,

Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 258

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 258, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill is a special bill, advertised as such pursuant to Article IV, Section VII, paragraph 8 of the Constitution. It would vest the same pension benefits in Clare W. Gordon, widow of Samuel Gordon, a member of the former State Employees' Retirement System, as though he had survived for 30 days after his retirement on October 1, 1953. Enactment of this measure would impose an additional expenditure of $9,708.42 upon the Public Employees' Retirement System.

Samuel Gordon died on the thirtieth day after his retirement. The Appellate Division of the Superior Court determined in Gordon v. State Employees' Retirement System, 33 N. J. Super. 526 (App. Div. 1955) that his widow had no legal claim to the substantial pension benefits which would have accrued to her under the option he selected upon his retirement, if he had survived for 30 days after October 1, 1953. In vetoing Senate Bill No. 145, I have pointed to the legislative purpose, which is carried forward under the Public Employees' Retirement-Social Security Integration Act of 1954, to forestall selection of optional benefits favorable to survivors by pension system members who are on their death-beds.

As a general principle, it must be recognized that any statute setting a limitation of time will have individual cases fall outside the benefits of the legislation by a few days or a few hours. That is not a hardship the Legislature should recognize. No equity other than the sole fact of Samuel Gordon's death on the thirtieth day after his retirement is stated in the preamble to this legislation. The disbursement of $9,708.42 to his widow may lead to equally meritorious demands totaling many thousands of dollars.

The 30-day survival condition has been contained in the basic pension laws of the State since 1933. Upon enactment of special legislation favoring this individual, many equally plausible hardship claims may be pressed upon the Legislature. For example, a survey shows that within the past four years 27 members died within 30 days after retirement, with the consequent loss of optional benefits to their widows or other named beneficiaries. Doubtless many such cases occurred prior to the starting date of the survey. If the principle of this private bill should be approved, I know of no basis upon which one could refuse to extend it to embrace all other cases in which death occurred just short of the statutory line or just short of the line accepted in successive private bills.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 258 without my approval.

SENATE BILL No. 261

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 261, for the following reasons:

This bill would amend Chapter 145 of the laws of 1950 to authorize a municipality to issue a new license to sell alcoholic beverages at retail to a person described in the bill as one: (1) who has served honorably in the armed forces of the United States, and (2) who held a license of the same class in the municipality, and (3) who permitted said license to expire, and (4) whose spouse received a license for the same premises, and (5) who held a license on said premises within the past 20 years, and (6) who served some time during said 20 years in the armed forces of the United States, and (7) whose spouse, during his service in the armed forces, surrendered said license or permitted it to expire, and (8) provided, no license of the same class has been issued in said municipality since the surrender or expiration of said license, and (9) provided, that such person has filed or shall file his application for a new license "within 1 year from the effective date of this act" (meaning, apparently, the effective date of the act which this bill would amend).

The foregoing reveals the special nature of this bill and its manifest conflict with Article IV, Section VII, paragraph 9 of the Constitution of New Jersey. Additionally it is not consonant with the established policy for the limitation of the number of such licenses.

Accordingly, I must return Senate Bill No. 261 herewith without my approval.

Respectfully,

SENATE BILL No. 278

To the Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill No. 278 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

Senate Bill No. 278 would restrict leases of shellfish lands by the Shell Fisheries Council in the Atlantic Coast section to a maximum area of 25 acres, with the exception that existing leases in excess of 25 acres may be renewed within the discretion of the Shell Fisheries Council.

I am informed that several current leases of shellfish lands in the Atlantic Coast section far exceed 25 acres, which is a sufficient maximum acreage for clamming.

I am further informed that the oyster industry requires beds of 1,000 to 2,000 acres for the propagation and cultivation of oysters.

While most of the oyster industry of this State is concentrated in the Maurice River Cove section, there is an oyster industry at present in the tidal bays off New Gretna in Burlington County which is in the Atlantic Coast section.

Thus, obvious consequences of the enactment of Senate Bill No. 278 would be to vest a possible monopoly advantage in the current lessees of shellfish plots exceeding 25 acres and to curtail any possibility of the further development of the oyster industry, in the Atlantic Coast section.

Under existing law the Shell Fisheries Council has discretion to grant or deny applications for leases of shellfish lands. An administrative decision to limit shellfish plots in the Atlantic Coast section to 25 acres may therefore be effectuated in the interests of the clam industry's development. I find no compelling reason to force such a rule of policy by statute to the advantage of present lessees and to the destruction of all prospects for an expanded oyster industry in that area.

I am further concerned with the apparent application of the exclusion of shellfish grants over 25 acres to individuals and partnerships only.

While the language of the bill is subject to conflicting constructions, it may sanction leases exceeding 25 acres in the Atlantic Coast section to corporations only, because of the specific prohibition of such leases to partnerships as well as to persons.

Accordingly, in view of my conviction that any meritorious objective of this bill may be accomplished by administrative action, I am returning Senate Bill No. No. 278 herewith without my approval.

Respectfully,

ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 308

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 308 for the following reasons:

This bill would amend section 39:3–5 of the Revised Statutes so as to provide that the director of motor vehicles "shall refuse registration in case of any motor vehicles, except buses used for the transportation of school children, which are painted the same color as that required by regulation of the Department of Education for the painting of such school buses". The Department of Education has prescribed the color for school buses to be chrome yellow.

Many other vehicles, including a large part of the equipment of the State Highway Department are painted the same color. This bill would result in the imposition of substantial cost both upon the State and upon many private operators of motor vehicles.

The burden upon the State Highway Department to repaint all its vehicles has been estimated as follows:

750	Trucks @ $100.00 each	$75,000.00
75	Graders @ $125.00 each	9,375.00
225	Moving Machines @ $50.00 each	11,250.00
1,200	Miscellaneous Equipment @ $100.00 each (bulldozers, mudjacks, concrete mixers, air compressors, rollers, spreaders, snow plows)	120,000.00
	Total	$215,625.00

Expense and inconvenience, however, are not the controlling considerations. Highway safety must necessarily be the deciding factor.

Maintenance of highways, such as grass cutting, shoulder work, tree trimming, snow removal and ice control, forms a large part of the work of the Highway Department. Because these vehicles operate so close to the line of traffic, they have been painted yellow in order to make them conspicuous as a warning to approaching vehicles. Most of the vehicles also have electric warning signals.

At the present time school buses, in addition to the use of chrome yellow, are required to be clearly marked and to have sufficient lights and signs to warn the public that the bus is transporting school children. The purpose of this bill is to make certain that school buses are sufficiently identifiable to warn approaching drivers. Such provision now exists under present law. If, however, it should be deemed necessary to provide greater identification, this could be accomplished more effectively through more and brighter blinker lights on each bus.

In fact, the Division of Motor Vehicles within the last month adopted a new regulation prepared in cooperation with the Department of Education for a more effective enactment of front and rear lighting of school buses.

I do not feel that excluding all other vehicles from the use of the color yellow would increase the safety or protection of school children. Rarely would all factors combine to give the appearance of a school bus to a vehicle which is not one. But, in any event, if a driver should slow down or stop for another vehicle, mistaking it for a school bus, traffic safety generally would not be impaired. This bill would not appear to advance the interests of safety, and any present inadequacy in distinctive marking of school buses can more effectively be met by measures addressed to school buses themselves.

Additional practical difficulties should be noted. Enforcement officers may well be hard put to determine whether a vehicle is painted "the same color" as that required by the regulation. There are many varying shades of yellow and if the enforcement officer should develop the required skill, yet the general public could not be expected to make a precise determination and hence it is unlikely that the thesis of the bill would in fact be served. Moreover, the bill would not apply to vehicles registered solely in other States. New Jersey, being a corridor State, has tremendous flow of interstate traffic and since vehicles thus in interstate movement would fall outside the bill, there would be a large segment of vehicles on which the bill would have no effect.

I am, therefore, returning herewith Senate Bill No. 308 without my approval.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Attest: Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 328

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 328 for the following reasons:

This bill provides that in the event of the death, resignation or removal of a county prosecutor, the assistant prosecutors shall continue to hold their offices and the first assistant prosecutor shall officiate as acting county prosecutor with all the powers and duties of that office until the appointment and qualification of a successor. It provides that no additional compensation shall be paid to the first assistant prosecutors for so acting unless otherwise provided by law.

The office of county prosecutor is a constitutional office, appointment to which is made by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. Nineteen hundred and forty-seven Constitution, Article VII, Section II, paragraph 1. The assistant prosecutors are appointed by the prosecutor. Accordingly, this bill would authorize the assumption of the duties of prosecutor by one who was not appointed in accordance with the procedure which the Constitution provides for that important office. There is at least a doubt as to whether the bill can, in this regard, be reconciled with the letter or spirit of the Constitution.

Apart from this fundamental objection, important considerations of policy militate against the bill.

This bill would by implication repeal provisions of existing law under which the Attorney General takes over the criminal business of the State within the county in the event of a vacancy. Historically, the Attorney General handled all of the criminal business of the State until the advent of the county prosecutor. The Attorney General is appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. His qualifications to handle the criminal business are thus weighed and approved in this appointing process.

The public interest is better served by continuing the present statutory arrangement, than by devolving the duties of the county prosecutor upon a first assistant prosecutor who, although presumably qualified to be such assistant, may not have the stature, experience or qualifications required of one who is to exercise the extensive discretionary powers of the county prosecutor.

Furthermore, vacancies in the office of the prosecutor in most cases should be filled expeditiously. Any measure which might encourage delay is undesirable. It is not inconceivable that should the chief executive be a member of a political party other than the party of the prosecutor whose office becomes vacant, there might be reluctance upon the part of some members of the Senate to act expeditiously upon the nomination submitted by the chief executive. I fear that situations might arise in which this bill might thus encourage a course of inaction.

I see no gain to the public in this bill. On the contrary, the considerations discussed above satisfy me that the measure is contrary to the public interest.

Accordingly, I must return Senate Bill No. 328 without my approval.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 335

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 335, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would establish a permanent salary range schedule consisting of 42 salary ranges divided into six increment ranges. It is similar in nature to annual bills adopted for 5 years. P. L. 1949, c. 27; P. L. 1950, c. 252; P. L. 1951, c. 50; P. L. 1952, c. 6; P. L. 1953, c. 103. An important difference, however, is that those acts fixed a salary schedule for only one year, whereas this bill would make the schedule permanent.

In addition to setting forth the 42 salary ranges, the bill specifies those employees to whom the schedule would be applicable. It provides for the establishment of a salary adjustment commission to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary for an equitable application of the provisions of the bill. It also directs the president of the Civil Service Commission to report annually on or before November first concerning the operation of the compensation plan, together with recommendations, a copy thereof to be filed with the Legislative Budget and Finance Director.

I believe that the complex nature of this bill and its predecessor acts have generally obscured the original purpose of the legislation and its relation to the basic concepts underlying the establishment of the Civil Service Commission. At the time of the enactment of the first of the series of bills, there was impetus to provide an immediate comprehensive revision of salary schedules because of then existing economic conditions. This could have been handled administratively by the Civil Service Commission, but the passage of the act superseded their authority to do so. The emergent nature of the economic conditions which existed at that time no longer prevails.

The establishment of a schedule of ranges merely means that civil service must allocate a position to one of the 42 ranges. Nothing prevents the commission from reallocating the position to another range, effective July 1, and thus accomplish a salary increase or decrease. There seems to be a current misconception among some groups that this bill and its predecessors are the basis for salary increases; that is not the case as the origin of salary increases lies in the annual appropriations act which makes the funds necessary for such increases available.

The purpose of the bill is in conflict with the fundamental policy expressed in the civil service law, namely that the Civil Service Commission shall fix and determine the classification and compensation schedules for all employees subject to the provisions of Title 11.

The powers and duties of the Commission in this respect are clearly set forth in sections 11:5–1, 11:7–1, 11:8–1, 11:8–2 and 11:8–3 of the Revised Statutes. See also Civil Service Rule 19.

Section 11:8–1 provides in part:

"The chief examiner and secretary shall, after consultation with appointing authorities and their principal assistants, report to the commission, not later than October fifteenth of each year, compensation schedules for each class of positions in the classified service together with his recommendations, based upon experience in recruiting various positions and upon such data as he may obtain relating to rates of pay for comparable service in commercial and industrial establishments, as to the need for changes in the compensation schedules for a class or group of classes."

Section 11:8–2 provides:

"The compensation schedules mentioned in section 11:8–1 of this title, together with any amendments and modifications as may be made as provided in this subtitle, when approved by the commission, shall, for the ensuing fiscal year period beginning July first, except as to any modification by legislative action, constitute the compensation plan for classes of positions in the classified service."

Section 11:8–3 provides:

"Payments for services of persons in the classified service shall be made in accordance with the compensation schedules as established under this chapter and the rules for their administration as provided in this subtitle and as modified by legislative action. No rate of compensation in excess of the maximum rate established under this section shall be paid to an individual employee in the classified service unless the specific sum is set out in an individual line item in any law appropriating moneys for payment of compensation for the particular position in question. The inclusion of a sufficient sum to increase the compensation of a person holding a position beyond the maximum established rate as herein provided, in a lump sum appropriation, shall not be taken as a legislative intent to increase the rate of compensation in question beyond the maximum established rate. The chief examiner and secretary shall see that the compensation schedules and the rules for their administration are observed."

These provisions adequately cover the subject matter of Senate Bill No. 335 and are preferable in that the salary ranges are set by an administrative body which has long experience in the field and is continuously studying the problem through its expert personnel.

One particularly difficult aspect of the bill is that the salary ranges are fixed permanently. This precludes simple and effective revision of the ranges as changing circumstances require. While I certainly believe that permanent legislation is much more desirable than burdening the Legislature with annual bills, I do not believe that it would be in the best interest of the employees to freeze the salary ranges. It is significant that no comparable bill was adopted last year and the Civil Service Commission has functioned extremely well through its own administrative procedure under the statutes quoted above. The matter should be left to the more expeditious and flexible processes of this expert agency to insure efficiency in administration and equitable treatment of employees.

I pointed out, in addition, that on page 5, section 9, line 7, after the word "imposed" there was apparently omitted a provision which should have included the words "by the Salary Adjustment Commission", without which the meaning is obscure.

For these reasons, I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 335 without my approval.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 339

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 339, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill provides for the dissolution of charitable corporations upon the expiration of the term fixed by their charters. It constitutes the trustees or directors of such corporations as trustees to settle the affairs of these corporations in the same manner and with the same powers and duties as provided in Title 14 for corporations generally.

Section 15:14–1 of the Revised Statutes now provides the method for dissolving "existing" religious, charitable or educational corporations. It provides for the board of trustees to bring a civil action in the Superior Court for dissolution and for the appointment of a receiver. Sections 15:14–2, 15:14–3 and 15:14–5 make provision for the powers and duties of such receivers and for the distribution of assets in accordance with court order. The only exception to be found to a dissolution through the appointment of a receiver is section 15:14–4 which is limited in its application to educational corporations.

The bill under consideration was apparently drawn on the hypothesis that the statutory provisions discussed in the preceding paragraph do not apply where the charter has already expired. It is apparent that Title 15 is in great need of revision and appropriate legislation is in order. This bill, in incorporating by reference the dissolution provisions of Title 14, will raise difficult problems as to whether all of the provisions so incorporated shall apply, and fails to deal with the important situation where a charitable corporation has assets in excess of its debts and dissolution expenses. Section 14:13–8 provides that "If any balance remain after the payment of the debts and necessary expenses, the same shall be distributed among the stockholders." Such a provision, for example, obviously could not be applied to a charitable corporation.

The extension of the method of dissolution presently provided in Chapter 14 of Title 15, to cases where the time fixed by charter has expired will insure that the assets of charitable corporations, in excess of debts and expenses, will be distributed for charitable purposes under court supervision, and upon notice to the attorney general. The interests of the public and of the donors of the assets of the charitable corporation would thus be adequately protected. There is no logical basis for differentiating between dissolutions before and after expiration of a charter and especially where a difference might induce an organization to delay dissolution until after the charter has expired. I do not feel that the bill presents an acceptable solution to the problem; appropriate amendments to Chapter 14 of Title 15 would appear to be the proper course.

For these reasons, I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 339 without my approval.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Attest: Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 347

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 347, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill provides that there "shall be paid to each trooper in the Division of State Police in the Department of Law and Public Safety, commencing July 1, 1955, an annual salary increment of $180.00." Such increment would be in addition to any other salary increments and would be paid notwithstanding the fact that the total salary may exceed the maximum salary range established for troopers. The bill would also appropriate $108,000.00 for this purpose.

Under established administrative budgetary procedure, salary increases are taken into consideration in preparing the annual budget and the annual appropriation act. At that time the revenues anticipated during the succeeding year are calculated and the expenditures are adjusted accordingly. Orderly fiscal administration requires that, in fairness to all employees, requests for salary increases throughout the State government be considered together at the time the budget is prepared.

It should also be noted that this bill conflicts with section 53:1–7 of the Revised Statutes which provides that all members of the State Police "shall receive such increases in salaries, based upon length of service as the Civil Service Commission shall, from time to time, establish within the salary ranges."

At the present time State Police troopers have a salary range of $3,660.00 to $4,560.00 with annual increments of $180.00 until the maximum is reached. Under this bill, troopers would receive an additional $180.00 annual increment, or total annual increments of $360.00. Moreover, the annual increment provided in this bill would continue after the maximum of the range had been reached. Thus, a trooper in three years would receive $4,740.00 or $180.00 in excess of the maximum, while all other State employees, whether engaged in law enforcement activities or not, would take 5 years to reach the maximum and could not exceed such maximum.

The salaries and maintenance allowances of members of the State Police are as follows:

	Present Salary Range	Tax Free Cash in Lieu of Maintenance
Recruit	$3,000.00
Trooper	3,660.00— 4,560.00	$840.00 per year
Trooper 1/c	3,840.00— 4,740.00	840.00 per year
Sergeant	4,380.00— 5,280.00	840.00 per year
Detective 2/c	4,380.00— 5,280.00	840.00 per year
Detective 1/c	4,740.00— 5,640.00	840.00 per year
S/Sergeant	4,980.00— 6,180.00	840.00 per year
Lieutenant	5,700.00— 6,900.00	912.00 per year
Captain	6,900.00— 8,400.00	912.00 per year
Major	8,760.00—10,860.00	984.00 per year

The continuation of the additional $180.00 increment, as required by this bill despite the fact that the salary exceeded the maximum for the range, would mean that a trooper with 6 years' service would receive the same salary as is the maximum for sergeants and detectives 2/c. The result would be an anomalous situation where a higher ranking member of the State Police would receive less than a subordinate. The potential effects of such a compensation plan are obvious, and the inequities thus imposed upon the other members of the State Police are clear. I have assumed that the word "trooper" was intended to refer to the position so designated and not in a more generic sense referring to all members of the State Police.

Only recently, through funds made available for range revision, was the salary schedule for the State Police revised so as to establish a more reasonable differential between the various ranks. This bill would nullify the progress made in that direction.

Finally, the cost of this measure would be significant. The annual cost of the $180.00 increment for the 550 troopers would be $99,000.00. This would be cumulative inasmuch as the increment applies annually. It must be noted that 112 troopers are assigned to the Turnpike and Garden State Parkway which reimburse the State for expenditures with respect to them.

In addition, there would be a corresponding increase by reason of its effect upon pension benefits. The deficiency of the State Police Retirement and Benevolent Fund would be increased annually to the extent of $30,014.00, less the proportionate contributions on a pro rata basis made by the two authorities. This is particularly significant in view of the fact that this pension fund, as of June 30, 1954, had a deficiency of $22,359,252.00.

For these reasons, I regret that I am compelled to return Senate Bill No. 347 without my approval.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 350

To the Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill No. 350 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would provide a mandatory non-contributory pension of ¾ compensation for any person holding the position of chief counsel, counsel or assistant counsel of any commission, board or agency in the legislative branch of State government upon the filing with the Secretary of State of a certificate setting forth the desire of such person to retire. In order to be eligible for this pension, such person must have been employed for 15 years and be 72 years of age or be disabled.

The bill further provides in section 2 that any person retired by reason of age and length of service may be recalled to limited active service in an advisory capacity for 6 months in any one calendar year during the five years next succeeding retirement. In such case, he would continue, under section 5, to receive the full pension provided by this bill. It would appear that additional compensation could be paid to him for the active service of 6 months. In the event of disability, the pensioner may be relieved of further active service.

The bill would further permit retirement for disability of such employee while on active service and of a person already retired for age and length of service who is subject to recall for limited active service. The latter aspect is unique and would appear to have the sole object of allowing a person already retired to qualify for a disability pension at any time within five years so as to convert the pension, if for service-connected disability, into income free from Federal income taxation. Furthermore, the test of eligibility for a disability pension is "physically or otherwise incapacitated for efficient service to the State." This is a rather nebulous standard.

The provision for payments semi-monthly creates administrative problems since all other pensions are paid monthly. The reason for this special treatment is not apparent.

Senate Bill No. 350 establishes a whole new area of non-contributory pensions. It is directly contrary to the program developed by the Joint Legislative Commission to Study Non-contributory Pensions (J. R. 7, P. L. 1954), both in the establishment and in the amount of the benefits. That Commission's report, dated March 1955, made recommendations resulting in Assembly Bills Nos. 511 and 512, which would repeal the great body of non-contributory pension acts. With the enactment of these two bills, there would be one general non-contributory act for all local employees and one non-contributory act for non-judicial State employees who were employed prior to 1921. The general new non-contributory pension bill (A-511) would permit pensions up to 30% of the last 5 years' average salary for a person having 15 years' service, as contrasted with the provisions of Senate Bill No. 350, which would authorize 75% of the salary received in the 12 months before retirement. The persons affected by this bill could have joined the former State Employees' Retirement System and its successor, the Public Employees' Retirement System. The bill would discriminate between these persons and other State employees, in that it would give them a non-contributory benefit three times as great as that of other State employees who have similar employment experience and who have contributed substantially to the Public Employees' Retirement System. To sanction such inequity would undermine the Retirement System.

In addition to the benefit to be paid "semi-monthly out of State funds", the beneficiaries of this bill would also be eligible to receive Social Security payments toward which the State and the individuals affected are contributing. For example, the chief counsel receives a base salary of $13,800.00 in addition to a bonus customarily awarded by the Legislature of $2,500.00. The total "compensation", therefore, is $16,300.00; and the pension of 75% would be $12,225.00. Social Security, payable at retirement to covered employees, would increase this by $1,300.00, or by $1,950.00 if the individual has a wife over 65. The total retirement allowance, including Social Security, would be either $13,525.00, which is 98% of base salary, or $14,175.00, which is 102.7% of base salary. In the case of the assistant to the chief counsel his pension would be $8,625.00; and when added to Social Security, it would be $9,925.00, 110.2% of base salary, or $10,575.00, 117.5% of base salary.

In order to provide pensions in the amounts of $12,225.00 and $8,625.00 under the retirement system, reserves would be required in the two cases of $89,976.00 and $63,486.00 respectively. Since no such fund would be established, the actual cost of these bills to the State, with respect to the two persons eligible at this time, would be reflected more accurately by multiplying the life expectancy of a man 72 years of age—10 years—by the annual pension. These figures would be $122,250.00 and $86,250.00, or a total of $208,500.00. This cost would, of course, increase as others became eligible for its benefits.

It is obvious that Senate Bill No. 350 would establish a new non-contributory pension system with tremendously high costs to the State.

I am, accordingly, returning Senate Bill No. 350 herewith, without my approval.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 351

To the Senate:

I am returning Senate Bill No. 351 herewith, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would authorize any county park commission established under sections 40:37–195 to 40:37–247 of the Revised Statutes to create a police court. Such court would have a judge or magistrate appointed by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate, for a three-year term, whose compensation would be fixed by the commission. The court would have a territorial jurisdiction embracing the county park lands and would possess all the powers and jurisdiction of municipal courts, except the small claims civil jurisdiction. This jurisdiction would be concurrent with that of any municipal court whose territorial jurisdiction includes the park lands.

I am unaware of any basis whatsoever which would justify the creation of additional courts. One of the outstanding reforms of the 1947 Constitution of this State was the substantial reduction in the number of conflicting and overlapping courts. Only recently we succeeded in eliminating one of the last archaic judicial appendages—the Hudson County Criminal Judicial District Court.

This measure would reverse this salutary development and authorize the establishment of another court which would have concurrent jurisdiction with existing courts. It would require considerable needless expenditure of public monies for the salaries of the judge and the clerk as well as for accommodations and supplies.

For these reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 351 herewith without my approval.

SENATE BILL NO. 353

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 353, without my approval, for the following reasons:

This bill would provide that there "shall be paid to each motor vehicle inspector and to each examiner of motor vehicles . . . commencing as of July 1, 1955, an annual salary increment of $180.00". Such increment would be in addition to any other increment and notwithstanding the fact that such increment might result in a total salary in excess of the maximum salary range for such positions.

The bill also would appropriate $111,000.00 for this purpose.

This method of providing salary increases is contrary to well established fiscal and budgetary procedure. As I noted in my message concerning Senate Bill No. 347, I cannot approve of increases of this nature which are not considered in the overall State picture at the time the annual budget and appropriation act are prepared. Moreover, I disapprove of separate treatment for each of a large number of groups of public employees. All with like equities should be treated the same and should receive the same salary adjustments to the extent funds are available.

At the present time, the salary schedules for members of the inspector force are:

Number
1	Chief	$7,200.00-8,700.00
7	Deputy Chief (Captain)	5,220.00-6,420.00
7	Senior Inspector (Sergeant)	4,020.00-4,920.00
143	Inspector	3,480.00-4,380.00
158

The salary schedules for employees at the inspection stations are:

Number
1	Chief	$7,200.00-8,700.00
1	Assistant Chief	5,700.00-6,900.00
3	District Supervisor	4,980.00-6,180.00
44	Supervisor	4,200.00-5,100.00
47	Senior Examiner	3,660.00-4,560.00
597	Examiner	3,300.00-4,200.00

It is not clear whether the term "motor vehicle inspector" as used in the bill applies to all inspectors including the chief, captains and sergeants or only to the group designated "inspector". Similarly, the term "examiners of motor vehicles" may refer either to the position "examiner" or it may include senior examiners, supervisors and district supervisors. I assume that both terms were intended in the more restrictive sense.

Accordingly, the annual cost of this bill for the 143 inspectors and the 597 examiners would be $133,200.00. It must be noted that this would be cumulative as it is payable "annually". There would, of course, be a proportional increase in pensions and in the corresponding obligations of the Public Employees' Retirement System. The cost to the State by way of additional pension contribution would be in excess of $7,000.00 annually.

As I noted in connection with Senate Bill No. 347, one effect of an annual increment of $180.00, without regard to the maximum of the salary range, would be that the positions benefited by this bill would ultimately receive greater compensation than many superior ranks. Such a result is extremely detrimental to fair personnel administration.

For these reasons, I regret that I am compelled to return herewith Senate Bill No. 353 without my approval.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 3

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Joint Resolution No. 3 for the following reasons:

This resolution would establish a commission to study the State acts relating to municipal and county planning. The commission would consist of 14 members, including the Commissioner of the Department of Conservation and Economic Development, the Commissioner of the Department of Health and 12 citizen members. The group of 12 is to be appointed by the Governor, one from each 12-named corporations and associations only one of which has any status as an agent or instrumentality of government. Each of the named organizations shall certify to the Governor the name of the member of the representative organization to be so appointed. The commission is directed to engage in a continuous study and report annually on or before February 1 to the Governor and to the Legislature.

I agree with the objective of the resolution. County and municipal planning is extremly important to intelligent development in the light of the expanding urban population and industrial growth in this State. I am in favor of continuous review of our existing laws to ascertain whether they meet the fluid needs of our expanding economy.

I am obliged, however, to disapprove the method of appointing the members of the study commission. This resolution would require the Governor to appoint 12 members, certified to him by 12 organizations. The Chief Executive would have no control of, or even voice in, the selection of these members. Unless the bill could be construed to authorize the Chief Executive to refuse to appoint a person certified by such organization, and perhaps even if such refusal were expressly authorized, there would be grave doubt as to the constitutionality of this provision. The resolution provides that the commission shall act as advisor both to the Legislature and to a department in the executive branch, namely, the Department of Conservation and Economic Development. Whether this commission be deemed to be allocated to the executive or be one to which the Legislature may appoint under Article IV, Section IV, paragraph 2 of the New Jersey Constitution, I am satisfied that the power of appointment may not, and should not, be delegated to private persons or organizations. It is fundamental that the power to appoint be attended by public responsibility for the appointment made. Such responsibility would not exist if the appointments were made in the manner provided in the resolution.

I would not object to a provision authorizing or requesting the Chief Executive to consult with interested organizations and to receive recommendations from them of, let us say, 3 persons for each office, without, however, binding effect upon the Chief Executive.

In view of the nature of the objection and the various approaches the Legislature may wish to take in the light of it, I have concluded to return this measure without my approval, rather than to suggest a specific amendment.

I am, accordingly, returning herewith Senate Joint Resolution No. 3 without my approval.

Respectfully,

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 9

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Joint Resolution No. 9 for the following reasons:

This resolution would create a State Highway System Study Commission, consisting of 9 members, 1 named by the Governor, 4 Senators named by the President of the Senate and 4 Assemblymen named by the Speaker of the General Assembly. Its stated purpose is "to study the State highway system, particularly in reference to the future policy with respect thereto". Except for two changes, the resolution is the same as Senate Joint Resolution No. 14 of the 1954 session, which I returned without my approval. The first change takes cognizance of the proposed Federal programs and authorizes the commission "to consult with the President of the United States, the members of the United State Senate and of the House of Representatives from New Jersey and any other appropriate officers or persons in Washington, District of Columbia". The second is the increase from $50,000.00 to $100,000.00 in the amount allocated to the commission from the sums appropriated to the State Highway Department for the current fiscal year.

Such a commission would duplicate the work now being performed by the State Highway Department. The need for a comprehensive study of our highway system due to increasing traffic demands is well recognized, and the Department has undertaken such a study. As presently constituted, the State Highway Department, under the guidance of an experienced businessman as Commissioner, is performing an excellent job and has competent, well-trained personnel capable of achieving the desired objective.

In my annual message of this year, I assured the Legislature that all departments will furnish to legislators any information they felt necessary. I reaffirm that offer. If the Legislature feels that certain studies are necessary or desirable, the Executive Branch stands ready to make such studies. In this instance, as already stated, the State Highway Department is now conducting such a study and will make it available, together with any supplemental studies deemed advisable by the Legislature.

I see no need for a separate study. If the Legislature feels otherwise, it can accomplish its objective without seeking my concurrence. Each house of the Legislature has a permanent committee on highways; it would seem that either of these committees or a joint committee would be an appropriate agency to conduct such a study in aid of the legislative function. If the Legislature should feel that a separate commission should be established, it may create it by concurrent resolution, which would not be presented to me for approval. I cannot join in what I believe would be an unnecessary expenditure of public funds.

A final comprehensive plan for a State highway system is necessarily contingent upon the Federal program and the funds made available to the State under such program. Because of the present uncertainty with respect to the provisions of a Federal program, no concrete plan for this State can be evolved until the Federal plan has crystallized.

The State highways in New Jersey carry a daily average of 11,000 vehicles per mile—7 times the national average, 5 times Pennsylvania and 3 times New York. The need for highway funds is indeed pressing. There does not appear to be any valid reason for diverting $100,000.00 from the funds appropriated to the State Highway Department for its essential functions.

I am, therefore, returning Senate Joint Resolution No. 9, without my approval.

Respectfully,

ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

A Message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, endorsed "Veto Message."

Under the direction of the President, the seal of the Message was broken, and the Secretary read as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
August 29, 1955.

SENATE BILL No. 301

To the Senate:

Pursuant to Article V, Section I, paragraph 14(b) of the Constitution, I am returning herewith for reconsideration and with my objections, Senate Bill No. 301.

This bill would accomplish amendments to the State's basic pension law, the Public Employees' Retirement-Social Security Integration Act (P. L. 1954, c. 84), which are recommended by the board of trustees of the Public Employees' Retirement System.

The State of New Jersey now has an equitable and far-sighted public pension policy, offering security to public employees in their old age and safeguards against death and disability. The inducement to qualified persons to seek careers of public service will aid the State and the taxpayers immeasurably in the years ahead. Senate Bill No. 301 endeavors to strengthen further our basically sound public pension structure.

I view favorably the provisions for additional death benefit coverage, merger of the Retirement Reserve Fund of the former State Employees' Retirement System with that of the new system, qualification for benefits payable to a member "in service" while on official leave of absence, establishment of a finance committee of the board of trustees to approve investments by the fund, and the supplementing of accumulated deductions paid over into the Retirement Reserve Fund with interest at regular rates.

I have been considerably troubled by the provisions of Sections 18 and 19 of the bill relating to employees of Rutgers University. These sections provide that employees of Rutgers who are veterans shall receive a refund of contributions by them to the former State Employees' Retirement System and be granted free prior service credit in the new retirement system.

Following the adoption of Chapter 84 of the Laws of 1954 the Attorney General, by opinion dated May 4, 1955, ruled that the veteran employees of Rutgers were not State employees, had not been entitled to the benefits of the free Veterans' Retirement Act, and accordingly were not eligible for the return of contributions and free service credit provided in Chapter 84 of the Laws of 1954. Sections 18 and 19 of Senate Bill No. 301 accordingly would grant to these employees the benefits which the Attorney General has found they were not entitled to receive under existing law. The cost to the State of this grant will be $40,000.00 per year for a period of 30 years.

With the exception perhaps of the employees at the Experiment Station for a period prior to 1945, I think it clear that the employees of Rutgers were and are not employees of the State and that the opinion of the Attorney General to that effect and to the further effect that veteran employees of Rutgers were not entitled to the benefit of the free Veterans' Retirement Act is unassailable. Chapter 84 of the Laws of 1954 provided for return of contributions and free service credit to veteran State employees because under the existing law such veterans were entitled to a return of contributions and were eligible for retirement under the free Veterans' Retirement Act. Since Rutgers' veterans (subject to the possible exception mentioned above) were not entitled to those benefits, a grant of them would constitute a windfall unless there are other circumstances which morally and equitably justify the measure.

I have caused an extensive investigation to be made for the purpose of ascertaining whether an equitable basis exists for the grant of these benefits to Rutgers' veterans and after careful consideration I have concluded that this legislation should be approved upon that basis. That investigation, however, has pointed up the need for a clarification of the relationship between Rutgers University and the State of New Jersey. The confusion in part arises from Chapter 49 of the Laws of 1945 which provides that Rutgers be "an instrumentality of public education in this State" and at the same time authorizes the making of contracts between the State and the University providing for payments by the State to the University in exchange for the rendition of public higher education for the citizens of the State.

The relationship thereby created seems both unique and obscure. Rutgers University did not thereby become part of the State government or a political subdivision or agency of the State in the usual sense of those terms. The precise nature of the relationship may have significance in several vital directions, and I do not feel it appropriate for me to express a view upon it at this time.

I am satisfied that by and large the employees of Rutgers have been misled with respect to their status and rights, by virtue of administrative action within the State and within the University, as well as by legislation according to Rutgers' employees certain rights or benefits held by State employees even though Rutgers' employees, as such, are not employees of the State. There has been a decided disposition on the part of the University to ride horses in different directions. When it is to the benefit of the University or its employees to disavow the thesis that Rutgers' employees are employees of the State, there has been no reluctance to advance that position. Thus, for example, it was heretofore urged, and the then Attorney General properly agreed, that since employment at Rutgers was not employment with the State, pensioners of the State were free to take employment with Rutgers notwithstanding the provisions of a statute which prohibited State pensioners from holding such employment in government. The literature distributed by the University to its employees was most unfortunately phrased and apparently served to give the impression that they were employees of the State, when the history of the relationship of Rutgers and the State is such that there was no possible room for misunderstanding on the part of the Rutgers' officials as to the status of the employees. I recognize, also, that when the Legislature grants to Rutgers' employees some benefits which relate to State service, a Rutgers' employee may well get the impression that those benefits were granted because he is a State employee, rather than because, for one reason or another, the Legislature thought that Rutgers' employees should receive an equivalent benefit. At the same time I must add that some of the administrative officials within the State were not too explicit in their handling of this subject and thus contributed to the confusion and misunderstanding. I am impressed with the sincerity of the numerous Rutgers' veterans who assert that throughout substantial periods of employment they were led to believe either that they were employees of the State or were entitled to the same pension benefits as were accorded to employees of the State. It would not be feasible to attempt to determine the precise amount of prejudice experienced by each Rutgers' veteran if I failed to approve this bill. The matter must be dealt with in over-all terms, and since I am persuaded that, as a group, Rutgers' veterans would be seriously injured by a refusal of these benefits at the present time, I am approving the bill.

However, I think it should be plainly understood that Rutgers' employees, as such, are not employees of the State of New Jersey and that they are entitled only to such benefits as may be accorded to them in express terms by statute. I also believe that there should be made applicable to Rutgers' employees such restraints, limitations, and restrictions which now apply to State employees, as are appropriate in the light of the benefits granted and the relationship between the University and the State. With reference to the present subject matter it is clear that since Rutgers' employees are in a pension system to which the State contributes, Rutgers' employees who are pensioned under that system should be subject to the same restrictions with respect to public position or employment as are applicable to retired public employees under Chapter 3 of Title 43 of the Revised Statutes. I believe that Chapter 3 of Title 43 now so provides, but to avoid any misunderstanding, I recommend the amendment hereinafter set forth. Similarly any person receiving a pension under the Public Employees' Retirement System should not be eligible for employment at Rutgers.

I object to the amendment of this bill made in committee to reduce from $500.00 to $100.00 the minimum salary which is a condition for membership to the Public Employees' Retirement System and for calculation of prior service credits. In my judgment, employees should not be vested with years of service credit during periods when they receive nominal or per diem payments, totalling less than $500.00 per year. There is no way to calculate the cost of this amendment with respect to prior service credit, but it undoubtedly is substantial, and would constitute an unexpected and unwarranted gift to the employees who would benefit thereby.

I have in addition several minor technical changes to propose.

Accordingly, I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 301 with my objections and with my recommendations for its amendment as follows:

On page 1, section 1, after line 16 add subsection:

"d. The terms of this section shall apply to all members of the Public Employees' Retirement System who have died on or after January 2, 1955, or shall die after the effective date of this section."

On page 2, section 2, line 5, delete "and".

On page 10, section 5, line 35, after "than" delete "$100.00" and insert "$500.00".

On page 15, section 10, line 33, after "than" delete "$100.00" and insert "$500.00".

On page 23, section 17, line 57, after "required" insert "after June 30, 1956".

On page 23, section 17, line 58, after "70" insert "but that his employer shall be required to pay into the fund on his behalf in such case an amount equal to the contribution otherwise required by the board of trustees in accordance with this section".

On page 26, section 18, line 5, after "State," insert "or of a county, municipality, school district or board of education".

On page 26, section 18, lines 5 and 6, delete the words "and such" and insert in lieu thereof "or".

On page 26, section 18, lines 6 and 7, delete the words ", excluding service rendered as County Extension Service Farm and Home Demonstration Agents,".

On page 27, section 18, lines 16 and 17, delete the words "or of a county, municipality, or school district or board of education" and insert in lieu thereof the following: ", excluding service rendered as County Extension Service Farm and Home Demonstration Agents,".

On page 30, section 19, line 22, after the word "system" insert "and to the provisions of Chapter 3 of Title 43 of the Revised Statutes".

On page 31, section 19, line 23, after the word "act" delete the comma.

On page 31, section 19, line 24, after "1945," insert "and for the purposes of Chapter 3 of Title 43 of the Revised Statutes any new employment after the effective date of this amendatory act,".

Respectfully,

[SEAL] ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Attest: Governor.
ROBERT J. BURKHARDT,

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
December 5, 1955.

SENATE BILL No. 53

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 53 for the following reasons:

This bill would amend the statute, P. L. 1946, Chapter 18, which gave the consent of the State of New Jersey to the State of Delaware to construct, maintain and operate a bridge over the Delaware river, now known as the "Delaware Memorial Bridge". The effect of the proposed amendment would be to impose a license fee at the rate fixed for county and municipal taxes upon the value of the lands, buildings and improvements thereon within the State of New Jersey used for this bridge. The license fee would be collected by the State Treasurer and apportioned between the county and municipality in the same manner as county and municipal taxes.

The act of 1946 authorized the New Jersey State Highway Commissioner to accept title on behalf of and in the name of the State of New Jersey to those lands necessary or convenient for the New Jersey terminus of the bridge at the expense of the State of Delaware. Section 2 of the act further provided:

> "That the State of New Jersey will take title to said lands as provided in section one of this act and will hold the same dedicated to the purpose of the construction, operation and maintenance of said crossing so long as said crossing shall exist; and no tolls will be charged by the State of New Jersey for the use of the crossing to be constructed on or under said lands so long as any bonds shall be outstanding issued by the State Highway Department of the State of Delaware, for the purpose of financing the construction of said crossing or any additions thereto or improvements or repairs thereof; provided, however, that the State of New Jersey shall not be liable in any respect whatsoever for any expense, cost, liability or indebtedness incurred for the construction, operation, maintenance or repair of such crossing."

Section 6 of this act imposed the following limitation:

> "Said crossing and all property acquired or used for the purpose thereof in the State of New Jersey and the revenues thereof shall at all times be free from taxation by the State of New Jersey or any political subdivision thereof."

The act of 1946 was a companion measure to legislation enacted by the State of Delaware, the thesis of which statutes is that the revenues of the bridge shall be used to pay the cost of the bridge and the original approaches thereto, and that thereafter passage shall be free except, at most, for a charge to cover maintenance.

In granting approval for the construction of the bridge, the Congress provided in Section 4 of P. L. 507, c. 575, July 13, 1946, 60 Stat. 533 (79th Cong. 2d Sess.) that:

> "In fixing the rates of toll to be charged for the use of such bridge the same shall be so adjusted as to provide a fund sufficient to pay for the reasonable cost of maintaining, repairing, and operating the bridge and its approaches under economical management, and to provide a sinking fund sufficient to amortize the cost of such bridge and its approaches, including reasonable interest and financing cost, as soon as possible, under reasonable charges, but within a period of not to exceed thirty years from the completion thereof. After a sinking fund sufficient for such amortization shall have been so provided, such bridge shall thereafter be maintained and operated free of tolls. An accurate record of the cost of the bridge and its approaches, the expenditures for maintaining, repairing, and operating the same, and of the daily tolls collected shall be kept and shall be available for the information of all persons interested."

Although the State statutes referred to above did not result in a formal compact, yet it is evident that the State of New Jersey and State of Delaware entered into contractual arrangement with each other, whereby each covenanted to the end that the bridge and its original approaches would come into being and ultimately become a toll-free facility, except, perhaps, for maintenance charges.

Senate Bill No. 53 apparently was prompted by plans tentatively proposed by the State of Delaware for the use of a sum of $130,000,000.00 to be derived from the toll revenues for improvements within the State of Delaware. This bill seems to be retaliatory in nature. It is not consistent with this State's obligation. The "license fee" which it would authorize seems clearly to violate the covenant as to taxation quoted above. It would be in reality a property tax in contravention of that provision. The label "license fee" would not obscure its true nature. County Commissioners of Anne Arundel County v. English, 182 Md. 514, 35 A. 2d 135 (Ct. Appeals, 1943); Dawson v. Kentucky Distilleries & Warehouse Co., 255 U. S. 288, 41 S. Ct. 272, 65 L. Ed. 638 (1921); Flynn v. City and County of San Francisco, 18 Cal. 2d 210, 115 P. 2d 3 (Supreme Ct., 1941). In my judgment, the bill, if approved, would result in a breach of contract.

Nor can the bill be accepted as providing a sensible, or business-like, basis for a revision of the agreement between the States. The bill would yield about $90,000.00 a year. Incidentally, it would be payable to a county and a municipality, although the basis for such diversion of a license fee with respect to State-owned property is not apparent. But if this sum were payable to the State, it obviously is a paltry figure when compared with the millions of dollars which a breach of contract by our State might legally permit the State of Delaware to use for its proposed improvements.

The tremendous traffic using the Delaware Memorial Bridge has resulted in expensive highway problems for both States. I understand the impact upon the State of Delaware and am sympathetic with her desire to arrive at an understanding agreeable to both States. The solution must be found in negotiations between the States and in such modifications of the original undertaking as do justice to the citizens of these States. Conversations on the executive level are already in progress. Senate Bill No. 53 would not advance a solution.

For these reasons I am returning Senate Bill No. 53 herewith, without my approval.

Respectfully,

ROBERT B. MEYNER,

SENATE BILL No. 343

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 343 for the following reasons:

This bill would authorize the State Board of Education to terminate the employment of any faculty member of a State Teachers College who has tenure and is 65 years of age. Any person, whose employment is so terminated and who is not eligible for any other pension, would receive an annual pension in the amount of ¼ of the average annual salary for the last 5 years.

This is a non-contributory pension which, I have been advised, would apply only to six individuals, each of whom had an opportunity to join the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund but was not required to do so because of particular provisions in the 1919 and 1930 acts. Three of them are now 65 years of age or over and the ages of the other three are 56, 59 and 61. Their total present salary is $34,140.00. This bill, according to actuarial calculations, would cost the State in excess of $80,000.00.

This proposal fails to take into account the application of Social Security to these individuals. As a result of the referendum held in October of this year all faculty members at State Teachers Colleges now have Social Security coverage effective for retirement purposes at the end of the present academic year. Thus, each of the six persons affected by this bill will be eligible for Social Security benefits in the amount of $1,308.00 annually, plus $650.00 for any dependent spouse over 65 years of age. The effect of this omission would be to permit these individuals to retire with a ¼ pension plus Social Security. This would permit retirement with pensions which might exceed the pension they would have received if they had been members of, and had contributed to, the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund. Since Social Security was not applicable to these individuals at the time of the passage of the bill, I doubt that it was intended that both the ¼ pension and Social Security be available to such persons. It is significant that under Social Security they will receive at least $1,308.00 whereas under this bill the pensions would vary from $1,185.00 for the one with the lowest salary to $1,785.00 for the highest and hence, if it were provided, as in the case of other integrated pensions, that the Social Security payment be deducted, this bill would benefit only some of the six persons concerned and in only a small amount.

There does not appear to be any valid reason for establishing now a non-contributory pension for these individuals who had an opportunity to join a pension system and refused to do so. Having made such an election, they must abide by it. It is not fair either to the public or to the other employees for the State to establish a pension system saying, in effect, that if the employees wish pension protection, they must join and contribute to the system, and then, at a later time, to provide free non-contributory pensions for a few individuals who failed to take advantage of the opportunity afforded to all employees in similar circumstances. It should be further noted that the individuals here affected may increase their total retirement allowance above the amount payable under Social Security by joining the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund.

For these reasons, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 343.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

SENATE BILL No. 359

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith without my approval Senate Bill No. 359 for the following reasons:

This bill would authorize the New Jersey Turnpike Authority to construct and operate a turnpike project or spur from the Turnpike to the City of Newark. The route is described as follows:

> "Beginning at a point to be selected by the Authority at or adjacent to the principal business and commercial center of the city of Newark, in the county of Essex, being the area located between the Essex County Court House and the City Hall of the city of Newark, and thence in a general easterly direction to connect with the New Jersey Turnpike at or near the interchange 15."

The use of this extension would be subject to such tolls as may be prescribed by the Authority.

I have been advised by the New Jersey Turnpike Authority that it has not made any study of the proposed project inasmuch as the Authority considers that it is not authorized to expend funds on a study unless legislation is enacted which also authorizes construction. Studies have been made, however, by other interested agencies because of the obvious need for a better highway from the center of the City of Newark to main north-south arteries including the Turnpike. It should be noted that this bill specifies that the terminus would be at or adjacent to principal business and commercial sections "being the area located between the Essex County Court House and the City Hall of the city of Newark." The studies which have been made of this subject indicate that a more feasible terminus in the City of Newark would be an area somewhat to the north of that described in the bill.

I do not believe that any terminal point can be specified as specifically as is here set forth until adequate engineering studies have been made. Moreover, I do not feel that a project of this nature should be authorized without some consideration being given and adequate provision made for the effect which such a project would have upon local traffic. It is apparent that such a project would result in the funneling of greatly increased traffic onto the local streets thereby aggravating an already acute traffic congestion problem. If any such project is to be constructed, it must also provide for the proper dispersal of the traffic which it generates.

This bill would confer upon the New Jersey Turnpike Authority a latitude not given in any prior law. It cuts across city, county and State authority and departs from the established policy of giving the State Highway Commissioner some control over such construction. The latter control is generally deemed necessary in order to co-ordinate such new construction with the State highway system as well as county and municipal roads. The enactment of measures such as this does not insure the construction of needed highway facilities. There are many legislated routes, such as the East-west Freeway in Essex County, which have not been constructed and which may not be constructed for several years because of insufficient funds.

Legislative authorization in such cases creates false hopes in the public.

Finally, the proposed construction under this bill would be a toll facility. It may be that a comparable road can be constructed largely from Federal funds which would be free. I would much prefer to see the construction of such a road and believe that a long-range project of this nature should be deferred until the availability of Federal funds can be determined.

For these reasons I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 359 without my approval.

Respectfully,

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 15

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Joint Resolution No. 15 for the following reasons:

This resolution would create a Home Life Assistance Study Commission consisting of 6 members, 2 appointed by the Governor, 2 Senators appointed by the President of the Senate and 2 Assemblymen appointed by the Speaker of the General Assembly.

The stated objective of the Commission is as follows:

> "The commission shall make a study of the subject of home life assistance for needy and dependent children and their mothers. Such study shall include an examination of the statutes relating to the said subject and particularly the provisions of chapter 5 of Title 30 of the Revised Statutes as amended and supplemented, and also the proposal contained in Assembly Bill No. 449 of the 1955 Session of the Legislature. In making its said study the commission shall in no-wise be limited to the said particular statutory provision or to said proposed legislation."

The resolution is rather vague as to the scope of the study. The recitals refer to prior bills introduced from time to time to revise the statute. These recitals and the quoted portion of the resolution indicate that the principal subject to be explored is the formula relating to the distribution of the cost of the program between the State and the counties.

The bills referred to are apparently Assembly Bill No. 247 and Senate Bill No. 346 passed in the 1954 session and Assembly Bills Nos. 16 and 449 passed in the present session. The effect of these bills would have been to change the formula so as to increase the State's share of the cost of the program by a sum in excess of $500,000.00 annually and to decrease the counties' share accordingly. I refused to approve of any of those bills.

In refusing to approve Assembly Bill No. 449 I said, among other things:

"The underlying theory behind this proposal is that it is fair and equitable to apportion the cost of the welfare programs equally between the State and counties. If the premise were extended to all related welfare programs, I might well agree with it. I am compelled, however, to take exception to any bill which singles out one of the five existing welfare programs. The cost of two of the programs are now shared on an equal basis. The other three programs, Blind Assistance, Home Life Assistance and Old Age Assistance, are based upon unequal formulas. Based upon the fiscal year ended June 30, 1954, it was determined that if the costs of these welfare programs were shared equally the result would be as follows:

	State	County
Blind Assistance.....	+ $155,209.00	— $155,210.00
Home Life Assistance	+ 447,407.00	— 447,407.00
Old Age Assistance..	— 1,333,749.00	+ 1,333,749.00
	— $731,133.00	+ $731,132.00

Thus, on a basis of equal division with respect to these programs, the cost to the State would be reduced by $731,133.00 and the cost to the counties would be increased by a like sum."

Parenthetically, I note that Assembly Bill No. 449 had been prepared at the request of counsel for a county which had questioned the existence of any liability whatever on the part of the counties to share in the cost of the Home Life Assistance program. The stated purpose was to have a statute clearly evidencing the liability of the counties. Assembly Bill No. 449 as thus originally drafted would have continued the counties' share of the cost on the basis of the same formula on which the counties had theretofore in fact contributed. Prior to introduction of the bill, however, it was amended so as again to provide for the increase in the State's share as to the extent to which I have stated above and also for that reason disapproved by me. In my message on Assembly Bill No. 449 I pointed out that the Attorney General had ruled that the counties were bound by existing law to contribute in accordance with that formula and since one county had refused to pay anything, I had directed the Attorney General to institute suit to compel payment. That suit was instituted and shortly thereafter the county agreed to pay and did pay the full amount. In view of this history, I assume that it is not the purpose of the joint resolution to call for a study of the extent of the liability of the State and counties under existing law, which question, of course, in any event is a justiciable one which belongs with another branch of the government.

Assuming, as I do, that the study relates to a possible change in formula, I see no point or necessity for a commission to study the question thus fully explored, unless the study is enlarged to embrace the other welfare programs. Any consideration or revision of one alone must necessarily lead to duplications and omissions. It would be a disservice to the public to consider less than all of the welfare programs.

By Joint Resolution No. 9 of the Laws of 1951, there was established a Commission to Study the Administration of Welfare in New Jersey. This commission submitted its report to the Governor and the Legislature on February 6, 1953. The recommendations so made have met with considerable opposition both from private individuals and associations and governmental agencies at the municipal, county and State levels. The establishment of a commission to consider the entire problem was an obviously sound approach, and I cannot, at this time, sanction a piece-meal attack on the field. The report of that commission gave a comprehensive analysis of the situation, and regardless of the various opinions with respect to the recommendation, it furnishes the basis for appropriate consideration by the legislative committees of the Senate and the Assembly, specifically the committees on Institutions and the committees on Public Health and Welfare.

For these reasons, I am returning Senate Joint Resolution No. 15 without my approval.

Respectfully,

Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
December 19, 1955.

SENATE BILL No. 386

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 386 for the following reasons:

This bill would appropriate $25,000.00 to the Law Revision and Legislative Services Commission for salaries and expenses to be incurred in connection with the revision of Title 40, Municipalities and Counties, of the Revised Statutes.

I have on a number of occasions commented upon the urgent need for revision of Title 40. However, I do not believe that the revision of this important subject should be attempted through the Law Revision and Legislative Services Commission for several reasons. That commission already is concerned with other revision projects and in the light of all of the duties of the commission it is probable that the allocation to it of this additional project would both delay the work on existing projects and as well result in delay in the completion of a revision of Title 40. Moreover, a revision of Title 40 will necessarily involve many policy decisions to resolve the divergent policy approaches which sundry acts of legislation have heretofore taken. This means that the revision work should be done by a committee of experts in the field who can both accomplish the ordinary mechanical aspects of a revision and as well incorporate recommendations with respect to policy matters. I believe that the more effective course would be to create a special committee and I will be glad to cooperate with the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the General Assembly in the designation of such a committee.

I am, therefore, returning Senate Bill No. 386 without my approval.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] ROBERT B. MEYNER,
Governor.

Attest:
ROBERT J. BURKHARDT,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Wallace moved that the message from the Governor be received and that his objections be entered at large on the Journal.

Which motion was adopted.

The following message was received from the General Assembly by the hands of its Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,

Mr. President:
