Mr. Hardin offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That the Hon. Ford D. Smith, being a Master in Chancery and a member of this House, shall administer the oath of office to the Speaker and other officers when elected.

Mr. Hardin offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That the House now proceed to the election of Speaker and other officers.

Mr. Hardin nominated the Hon. James J. Bergen, of Somerset county, for Speaker of the House.

Mr. Potts nominated the Hon. George W. Ketcham, of Essex county.

The roll was called with the following result:

For Mr. Bergen—

Messrs. Beekman, Burns, Carroll J., Carroll T. J., Cavanagh, Coyle, Davidson, Dempsey, Dupuy, Flynn, Hagerty, Hardin, Heaney, Honce, Kalisch, Ketcham, Lane, Lanning, Lawless, Magner, Moylan, Nash, Nieder, O'Neil, Packer, Smith F. D., Smith J. F., Smith T., Snyder, Strahan, Strimple, Swartwout, Tahen, Tine, Tumilty, Ulrich, Warne, White, Wilson, Wright, Zeller.

For Mr. Ketcham—

Messrs. Baxter, Bergen, Cole, Engard, Ernst, Gledhill, Glorieux, Hoffman, Hutchinson, Kyte, Niece, Parker J., Parker W. T., Post, Potts, Ross, Stokes, Studer.

Mr. Bergen having received a majority of all the votes of the Assemblymen-elect, he was declared duly elected Speaker.

The Clerk requested Messrs. Ketcham and Moylan to act as a committee to conduct the Speaker to the chair.

The committee thereupon escorted Mr. Bergen to the Speaker's chair, where he took and subscribed to the oath of office prescribed by the Constitution of New Jersey.

Upon taking the chair, Mr. Bergen addressed the House as follows:

"The harmonious action of the majority in again calling me to this position of honor and trust, and the kindly feeling personally expressed by nearly all, if not all, of the minority, justifies a modest pride on my part and sanctions me in interpreting it as an approval of my official course during the last session. We have been chosen to represent the people in the popular branch of the law-making power, and meet as their public servants, to be held responsible by them for the manner in which we perform our official duties. My earnest hope is that the confidence bestowed in our selection may be sustained and the public trust reposed in us justified. It is proper that the principles of the majority should be impressed upon legislation, for that is but carrying out the will of the people. The majority should, however, remember that they do not represent a unanimous people; a minority have their representatives here who are entitled to be heard and to have their views fairly considered, and I promise, as the presiding officer, on behalf of the majority, that all merited courtesy shall be extended to and ample opportunity afforded the minority to fairly and properly present and advocate their side of all public questions coming before us for consideration. Upon all public questions we should endeavor to act together for the public good, enacting such laws as tend to elevate the morals of, and provide for the future welfare of this sturdy and prosperous little commonwealth; with this purpose in view, let us ever strive to do right, and setting our face against all unjust, corrupt and debasing legislation, enter upon the session of 1892 with the determination to make a record void of offense, and unsurpassed by any for purity and uprightness. With sincere thanks for this continued manifestation of your confidence and esteem, I am now ready to proceed with the business before us."

Mr. Hardin nominated Mr. Thomas F. Noonan, Jr., of Hudson county, for Clerk of the House.

Mr. Potts nominated Mr. George W. Macpherson, of Mercer, Whereupon the roll was called, with the following result:

For Mr. Noonan—

Messrs. Beekman, Bergen, Burns, Carroll J., Carroll T. J., Cavanagh, Coyle, Davidson, Dempsey, Dupuy, Flynn, Haggerty, Hardin, Heaney, Honce, Kalisch, Lane, Lanning, Lawless, Magner, Moylan, Nash, Nieder, O'Neil, Packer, Smith F. D., Smith J. F., Smith T., Snyder, Strahan, Strimple, Swartwout, Taken, Tine, Tumilty, Ulrich, Warne, White, Wilson, Wright, Zeller—41.

For Mr. Macpherson were—

Messrs. Baxter, Cole, Engard, Ernst, Gledhill, Glorieux, Hoffman, Hutchinson, Ketcham, Kyte, Niece, Parker J., Parker W. T., Post, Potts, Ross, Stokes, Studer—18.

Whereupon Mr. Noonan was declared elected Clerk, and took and subscribed to the oath of office aforesaid.

Mr. Hardin offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted :

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to wait upon the Governor and inform him that the House has organized by the election of Hon. James J. Bergen, of Somerset, as Speaker, and the Hon. Thomas F. Noonan, Jr., of Hudson county, as Clerk, and is now ready to proceed to business and to receive any communication he may be pleased to make.

The Speaker appointed as such committee Messrs. F. D. Smith, John Carroll and Mr. Potts.

Mr. Hardin offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted :

Resolved, That the Clerk of the House be and he is hereby directed to inform the Senate that the House of Assembly has organized by the election of Hon. James J. Bergen, of Somerset county, as Speaker, and Hon. Thomas F. Noonan, Jr., as Clerk, and has proceeded to business.

Whereupon the persons named therein were declared elected to the office set opposite their names respectively, and they afterwards took and subscribed to the oath of office aforesaid.

A message was received from the Senate, by the hands of its Secretary, as follows:

SENATE CHAMBER,
January 12th, 1892. }

Mr. Speaker:

I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has organized by electing Hon. Robert Adrain, of Middlesex, President, and John Carpenter, Jr., of Hunterdon, Secretary, and has proceeded to business.

JOHN CARPENTER, JR.,
Secretary.

Mr. Hardin offered the following resolution which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That the rules of the last House be adopted as the rules of this House until further ordered.

Mr. Hardin offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That the regular hours of meeting of this House be 10 o'clock in the forenoon, 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and 8 o'clock in the evening, when evening sessions are ordered.

Mr. Hardin offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the Speaker to procure the attendance of clergymen to open the House with prayer.

The Speaker appointed as such committee Messrs. Lanning, Burns and Ernst.

Mr. Hardin offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That the Speaker be and he is hereby authorized to appoint as one of the officers of this House an Assistant Secretary to the Speaker, at a salary not to exceed four hundred dollars.

Mr. Hardin offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

Resolved, That the Chairmen of the Committees on Bill Revision, Judiciary, Engrossed Bills, Municipal Corporations, Boroughs and Borough Commissions, Corporations, Banks and Insurance, Revision of Laws and Railroads and Canals, be and they are hereby authorized to appoint one clerk to each of their respective positions.

Mr. F. D. Smith, of the committee appointed to wait upon the Governor, reported by presenting the following communication, which was received and read :

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, January 12, 1892. }

To the Speaker and Members of the General Assembly of New Jersey :

In pursuance to Joint Resolution No. 4, approved March 20, 1891, I have, among other work mentioned therein, completed the Assembly Chamber, so that it can be used by your body, although there are a few matters still requiring attention.

The first stone of the new building was laid May 15th, 1891, and the short time intervening between that date and the meeting of your body, has made it necessary to press the work to completion, when at least one year should have been allowed therefor.

I take pleasure in mentioning James Moylan, the architect and engineer having the work in charge, B. J. Ford, who, by direction, superintended the work under the contracts, and James W. Lanning, the general contractor for all of the building excepting the ventilation, heating and lighting thereof, which were under separate contracts. It would have been impossible to finish the work in time for the present session if I had not received the active and earnest assistance of the gentlemen named, and of all the contractors and mechanics employed upon the work; everyone exhibited the strongest interest and pride in having the building completed and in readiness for this session.

I fully recognize the work and energy of all connected with this improvement, and take this occasion to express my high appreciation of their labors. I deliver the building to you, trusting it will be satisfactory to your body.

LEON ABBETT,
Governor.

Mr. Potts offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted :

Resolved, That the General Assembly of the State of New Jersey in accepting this, our new Assembly Chamber, congratulates those having the rebuilding in charge, and expresses its great satisfaction in the comforts given us, and particularly thanks the Hon. Leon Abbett, Governor, Hon. James Moylan, architect, James W. Lanning, contractor, Bernard J. Ford, superintendent, and all persons employed thereon for their skill, thoroughness and energy displayed in completing it in time for this the opening day of the session.

A message was received from the Governor at the hands of his Private Secretary as follows :

Gentlemen of the Senate, and General Assembly :

In obedience to the requirements of the Constitution, I herewith present to you my annual message, showing the condition of the State and recommending such measures as I deem expedient.

CONDITION OF THE STATE.

I congratulate the people upon the splendid condition of the State at the close of the fiscal year. Its financial condition was never better; for the first time since 1885, the fiscal year has closed without any floating debt. Under the acts of the Legislature, improvements have been made at the State House, a new Assembly Chamber has been built, extensive alterations have been made in the old library building, giving additional office accommodations; the courts have been provided with a new room for holding a branch court and a room for consultation, all of which improvements were rendered necessary by the growth of the State and its important interests, and will be completed without borrowing money and without additional taxation.

Under the liberal laws of the State many new corporations have been created, largely increasing the receipts from fees for filing certificates, and the amount of tax payable by miscellaneous corporations. The railroad and miscellaneous tax act of 1884, and their several supplements, and the practical and efficient administration of these laws have increased the revenues sufficient to meet the expenditures rendered necessary by the rapidly growing population of the State and its increasing needs.

With all the work that has been accomplished, no new tax has been levied upon any corporation, and the people still continue free from the imposition of any direct State tax for governmental purposes. The promise made by the Executive in 1884, that no direct State tax should be imposed upon the people has been faithfully kept. So long as the government is carried on under existing laws and under its present economical management, no such tax will be necessary. If the future needs of the State require further revenue, the taxes upon corporations can fairly be increased until they pay equally with individuals. The municipipalities of the State, however, may properly ask for additional revenue from corporations. There is no present necessity for increased taxation for ordinary State expenditures. In view of this excellent condition of State affairs, I do not feel called upon to ask the Legislature for any additional tax, either corporate or individual, for the ordinary expenses of the State Government. The expenditures of the State are kept within the limits of the present sources of revenue, and therefore there is no reason for any increase. If, however, the Legislature should make appropriations for new buildings or enlarged accommodations for present State institutions, new sources of revenue must be provided. This can be done by the imposition of a collateral inheritance tax, or by the other methods recommended in my last message.

I again recommend to the Legislature that, in making appropriations, they provide in the act for the sources of revenue out of which the same shall be paid. The passing of an act for a large appropriation does not secure the payment thereof; the appropriation must be postponed by the finance department until sufficient money is realized from some source to meet it. The excess of ordinary revenues over ordinary expenditures is not sufficient to meet very heavy additional drafts. Many of the old appropriations are still unprovided for. In the course of time these will gradually be paid, but if new appropriations are added, additional sources of revenue must be provided.

During the past fiscal year the entire floating debt of $400,000, which existed at the commencement of my administration, was fully paid off and discharged, and over $10,000 paid for interest thereon. Over $64,000 has been expended for obtaining title to the camp ground at Sea Girt, which was taken under condemnation proceedings instituted under acts of 1888 and 1889. Payments have been made for the Home for Disabled Soldiers, the State Lunatic Asylum, the Agricultural Experiment Station and other purposes, amounting to over $75,000. Over $92,000 was spent to enlarge and rebuild the Assembly Chamber; $90,000 of the public debt has been paid; over $41,000 has been loaned to the Sinking Fund; and alterations and additions have been made to the State House, upon which nearly $26,000 have been expended. The total special appropriations and extraordinary net disbursements, including the temporary loans paid, and amounts paid for expenses incurred in fiscal year ending October 31st, 1890, amount to $889,403.53. The total ordinary net disbursements, properly chargeable to the last fiscal year, amount to $1,272,612.34, making a total of $2,162,015.87.

The total ordinary receipts were $1,747,809.13. The total net receipts, including $382,614.83, money received from the United States, which makes a total of $2,130,423.96. The fiscal year closed with a balance in bank to State Fund account of $402,168.96.

The sum of $382,614.83 was collected from the United States, without the payment of any commission or charge therefor. The State received and retained for its use every dollar paid by the National Government. The charges made for such collections and paid by other States would have largely depleted this fund. The offers made to the Executive in this case would have cost the State fifteen per cent. for collection, amounting to over $57,000. I believed that this could be saved, and with the assistance of the Quartermaster-General, made the necessary examinations and investigations. I drew all the papers necessary to properly present the case in Washington; the Treasurer and Comptroller, at my request, went twice to that city, and, without any charge to the State, collected the money, and paid the whole amount into the Treasury. The performance of these acts by the State officers has saved the State a large sum of money. I know of no other State that is able to show the same record.

FINANCES.

The reports of the Comptroller and Treasurer present in detail the financial operations of the State for the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1891.

There are two funds referred to in these reports; one the State and the other the School Fund; they are kept separate from each other, and I shall deal with them in the same manner.

The ordinary receipts on State account for the fiscal year ending October 31st, 1892, will, in all probability, be equal to those received during the preceding fiscal year. There may, however, be a diminution in some of the usual sources of revenue, and it would therefore not be safe to act upon a basis of total ordinary receipts of over $1,700,000. This will leave a balance over ordinary State expenses for 1892, which can be used to meet appropriations heretofore made by the Legislature, and for which no other source of revenue has been provided.

Assets of the State Fund.

The securities in this fund are as follows :

1,887 shares of the stock of the United New Jersey Railroad and Canal Company of the par value of.....	$188,700 00
Centennial stock, par value.....	74,116 67
(This stock is of no value).

(These bonds are of no value as an asset).
Principal sum named in a riparian lease granted under act of March 19th, 1890.....	8,295 00

The only assets of this fund, which are of any value, are the 1,887 shares of stock, which are worth $471,750, and the above riparian lease, upon which the State receives annually a rental of seven per cent. on the principal sum. My former message gave the history of the items of Centennial stock and bonds above referred to, and stated the reasons why they were no longer of any value.

SCHOOL FUND.

The total amount of the School Fund October 31st, 1891, was $3,796,402.38. Its investments were as follows :

The payment of the principal sum on the William E. Dodge lease was not made through the Riparian Commissioners, as it should have been; it was paid directly to Mr. Toffey, then Treasurer. This irregular course was taken for the apparent purpose of evading the conversion of the lease into a grant under the form of conveyance prescribed by the Riparian Commissioners. The payment thus made will not, in my judgment, give the corporation that made it the rights of a grantee from the State. Such rights can only be secured by affirmative action of the Board of Riparian Commissioners.

SINKING FUND.

The Sinking Fund account has been transferred to the State Treasurer under the act of March 11th, 1891 (P. L. 1891, p. 136). This transfer was made at the expiration of the term of office of the old Sinking Fund Commissioners, for the purpose of saving the expenses attendant on this Board. Under this act the State Treasurer performs the duties of the old Board without compensation.

The report of the late Commissioner of the Sinking Fund shows the following assets October 31st, 1890, viz.:

Loans on bonds and mortgages.....	$309,216 68

TAX LAWS.

The inequalities of assessments and valuations of land on the part of tax assessors, and the necessity of the passage of some law to correct unfair assessments, and enforce existing laws, where no relief could be had from local authorities, induced the Legislature of 1891, upon the recommendation of the representatives of the State Board of Agriculture and other citizens, and after a thorough examination by a non-partisan commission created under the act of April 7th, 1890 (Laws 1890, page 515), to pass an act entitled “A general act concerning taxes” (Laws of 1891, page 189), under which I appointed, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, three commissioners, viz.: Albert H. Slape, of Salem; Charles C. Black, of Hudson, and Theodore P. Hopler, of Warren. The Board organized on the twenty-fifth day of March by the election of Albert H. Slape as president, and Thomas B. Usher as clerk. The commissioners immediately proceeded to perform the onerous duties imposed upon them by the act. In order to familiarize themselves with the methods pursued by the local assessors, they held a series of meetings in each county of the State to hear complaints and listen to suggestions concerning matters affecting their duties, and the practice of the assessors, in the matter of the assessment and collection of taxes. Since its organization the board has heard appeals in different parts of the State, and acted thereon by decisions which have generally met with approval. The law has also been practically applied in Camden county in a case where three exclusively agricultural townships appealed to the board to increase the tax valuations of two cities, one township and one borough, so as to equalize the assessments in these seven taxing districts. In this case a readjustment of taxes has been made. There has been a large increase by the local assessor in the ratables of Atlantic City by which the agricultural portions of the county receive substantial benefits. In all the instances where appeals were taken by a sufficient number of parties to warrant it, the board has heard the appeals in the locality where the appellants lived. The commissioners have faithfully performed their duty and have given general satisfaction to the people, and I have no doubt but that their efforts will result in substantial improvements in the methods of taxation, so that equality in assessments will be established.

The wisdom of the creation of this board is fully endorsed by the president of the State Board of Agriculture. He reports that this subject, which has long been under discussion, has at last found a practical solution in the establishment of the tax board; that the new law, while not perfect, still establishes the principle of State supervision of taxation, which will eventually become the safeguard for real estate, and especially for farm and suburban property; that some of the local assessors ignore the law, and the recommendations of the State Board of Taxation, while others conscientiously endeavor to comply with the law in its entirety; that the good effect of this law was notably shown in the cases arising in Camden county, where three of the assessors attempted to comply with the law, and assess the ratables at approximately their true value, while others ignored the law, and assessed at rates ranging from thirty-three to seventy-five per cent.; that this led to dissatisfaction, and the taxpayers who were assessed at full rates called meetings and appointed committees to lay their grievances before the State Board of Taxation; that he was made chairman of these committees, and through him the matter was laid before the State Board of Taxation; that a meeting was held in Camden, and after hearing testimony and argument, the State Board increased the valuations in the four localities where the property was not assessed at true value and equalized the tax assessment in the seven localities before the board on appeal; that the novelty of the interference of the State Board created comment, but was endorsed by the best thinking people of the county. The president of the State Board of Agriculture says that the result has fully exemplified the wisdom of the creation of a State Board of Taxation; that the principal of State supervision is a correct one, and with intelligent and conscientious commissioners, clothed with the necessary powers, and a thoroughly devised system of rules, easily understood and explained, the equalization of the burdens of taxation will be solved.

Prior to the creation of this tribunal it was impossible to secure speedy justice and relief from the action of the local boards and assessors. The present mode of hearing appeals is simple and inexpensive; the decisions are promptly given, and they have received the general approval of the taxpayers. The work already done by this commission, and the benefits derived therefrom, amply justify the wisdom of the Legislature in establishing the board.

There are certain recommendations made by the commissioners which should receive the careful attention of the Legislature in order to determine the wisdom of the adoption of any or all of them. Some of these, it seems to me, should be adopted without hesitation, while others relate to matters about which there may be a difference of opinion. The evident care bestowed upon these questions by the board should induce the Legislature to make a careful examination of them, and determine what amendments should be made to the present tax act in order to make it more effective.

The main recommendations of the board are as follows:

First. Compelling assessors to obey the law by penalties of removal and forfeiture with increased pay of assessors in townships under ten thousand inhabitants.

Second. By making the time for assessment, and its completion, the collection of taxes, and lien on the property, uniform in all taxing districts, and giving each taxpayer ample opportunity to see how the assessments are made, for the purpose of furnishing evidence for an appeal in case of unjust taxation.

Third. Re-drafting the law covering exemptions, and limiting the exemptions to those founded upon good reasons and public policy.

Fourth. Fixing a tax rate which shall not be exceeded in any taxing district.

Fifth. Requiring all assessments on lands and improvements to be made separately in municipalities of over 5,000 inhabitants.

Sixth. Giving the State Board of Taxation power to increase individual assessments.

Seventh. Requiring all incorporated companies in the State, on demand, to file with the State Board of Taxation a list of their shareholders, with the addresses, and requiring the said corporations to pay the tax on such shares as are held by non-residents of the State of New Jersey, thus increasing the amount of tax derived from invisible personal property.

Eighth. No deduction for individual debts, except from the assessed value of personal property.

TAXABLE AND EXEMPT PROPERTY IN THE STATE.

In connection with the matter of taxation, it is interesting to consider the value of property in this State and the extent of exemptions under existing laws.

The total assessed valuation of property in the State subject to taxation, is as follows:

Value of railroad property in 1891.....	$210,044,945 00
Other classes of property in 1891, as they appear by the return of ratables in the Comptroller's office.....	701,320,029 35
Total.....	$911,364,974 00

To ascertain the total real and personal property in the State we must add to the above—

First. The deduction for debts made from the valuation of the real and personal estate of individuals by local assessors under section 20 of the act of April 11th, 1866, amounting to.....	35,000,000 00
---	---------------

Second. The amount returned by local assessors of real estate exempt under section 4 of the act of March 19th, 1891.....	(a) 53,387,979 00
--	-------------------

Third. The amount of exemptions to veterans, national guardsmen, firemen, etc., under special acts, amounting to.....	10,000,000 00
Total.....	$1,009,752,953 00

(a) Of the $53,387,979 of exemptions, $20,000,000 is classed as church property, $15,000,000 as school, college and other property used for educational purposes; $11,000,000 as graveyards and cemeteries, and the balance is for property used for public purposes by the State or municipalities. The total amount of these exemptions, in the judgment of the State Board of Taxation, is estimated at about $75,000,000, instead of that given by the Assessors.

MUNICIPALITIES AND TAXATION.

Municipal taxation is the heaviest burden imposed upon the taxpayer. It is unequal in different parts of the State. In certain municipalities the tax is limited by a percentage upon the ratables; in other places there are no restrictions. Annexed hereto is Appendix A, which shows that the local tax rate varies from 74 cents on $100 in Upper Pittsgrove township, Salem county, to $4.70 per $100 in Cape May City. There is no direct State tax upon individuals except the State school tax, which is returned to the localities for the purposes of education. If, therefore, relief could be obtained by some act limiting the amount of local tax, it would be the most important to the taxpayer. Every experiment to keep municipal tax within reasonable limits, except the one limiting the amount by a percentage on the ratables, seems to have failed. Whether the tax budget is made by elective officers, or appointive officers, the result seems to be the same. Debt is incurred, and the tax rate is increased unless there is an iron rule limiting expenditures.

As the great burden upon the citizens comes from municipal taxation, the Legislature should endeavor to find some method which will render it impossible for extravagance, incapacity or fraud, to impose unnecessary burdens upon the taxpayers in the municipalities. The charters of certain cities and localities which fix the tax rate, beyond which the local authorities cannot assess, is, in my judgment, the only sure method of tax limitation. It may not be the best, and your wisdom may find some better rule, but in the absence of any better method, I urge upon the Legislature the passage of a general act limiting the tax rate in cities and towns, and if deemed wise, in other localities, by fixing a percentage upon the ratables, beyond which it shall be unlawful to go.

In considering this question of municipal taxation, I present to you certain statistics which bear upon this subject. The figures presented are not exact, because of the difficulty of obtaining accurate information from certain local officers, whose duty it is to furnish the same; but they are approximately correct, and will be sufficient in the practical consideration of the subject.

I have already stated that the total amount of ratables as returned to, and on file in the office of the Comptroller, is $701,320,029.35; the total amount of funded and floating indebtedness is $53,915,800.31. The items of this last amount, as returned from the different localities, are first liens on the property in the different tax districts. It is a burden upon the property; it is an additional first lien to mortgages and other incumbrances, and affects the value of real estate in different localities, as the burden is greater or less therein. The details of places and amounts of debt by which this sum is reached, with a list of the places that have not made reports to the Comptroller, are annexed hereto in Appendix B.

The aggregate amount of local tax assessed, so far as it can be ascertained from the data in the Comptroller's office, is $18,238-706.98. While this is not absolutely correct, it is sufficiently accurate to enable the Legislature to deal with the subject. Of this amount about three millions was for the purpose of paying the interest on municipal indebtedness.

No more important subject demands legislative attention than this question of local taxation and its limitation. Every taxpayer in the State directly feels its effect. This local tax must be taken out of the income derived from property. Indirectly every tenant must feel its influence and effect, in increasing the amount of rentals to be paid. The land owner must either secure its return to him by imposing the burden upon the tenant, or his income will be substantially diminished by reason thereof. This burden also affects the prosperity of every locality. Heavy taxation drives away investments and depreciates value of property in any locality. No service that the Legislature can render the people will be more greatly appreciated than a law which will stop the increase of public debt, provide for the payment of that now existing, and secure a limitation of the tax rate for municipal purposes. If you do not deem it wise to pass an act affecting all municipalities, the act may provide for the limitation of indebtedness based upon classification of the municipalities of the State. It is also a proper matter for your consideration whether certain cities with large public debts should not be compelled to reduce their present indebtedness below a fixed standard before incurring further bonded debt. Such an act should also provide for the decrease of indebtedness until it reaches a fixed ratio to the ratables of the localities. It should provide effectual restraint against creating further debts where the debts now exceed certain ratio of the ratables. It should provide that the ordinary expenses of municipal government should be kept at the lowest figure, consistent with the proper service in the various departments, and in making appropriations the municipal government should be compelled to itemize the amounts to be raised for different purposes, wherever practicable, so that the taxpayers may know the specific uses for which the tax is imposed.

The history of other States in dealing with this subject will be found extremely valuable, and will serve to show the almost universal appreciation in this country of the necessity of constitutional or statutory regulations to secure limitation of municipi-pal indebtedness and expenditures. It is interesting to note that, while few constitutional restrictions were adopted prior to 1860, the States admitted to the Union since that date, with the exception of West Virginia, have adopted constitutional provisions or passed stringent laws limiting the power of municipalities to create indebtedness. It is also noticeable that the States deal differently with the question involved.

In order to aid your body, in the investigation on this subject, I annex to my message as "Appendix C," a summary of the constitutional and statutory provisions of the different States of the Union, so far as it has been possible, within the limited time, to have the same prepared.

STATE TAX ON RAILROADS AND CANALS FOR LOCAL USES.

The taxing districts of the State have received substantial aid from the operations of the railroad tax act of 1884. Under the provisions of that act, and the assessments made by the State Board of Assessors, certain taxes are collected by the State for local uses and paid to the localities. The amounts thus received necessarily reduce the sums required to be raised by local assessments upon the ratables.

The tax levied on the property of the railroad and canal companies for the use of taxing districts, under the railroad tax act of 1884, as reported to the Comptroller by the State Board of Assessors, and payable in the year 1891, was $338,552.45. Of this there was collected the sum of $338,478.55, leaving $73.00 to be received. In addition to this, taxes of former years, and interest thereon, were collected during the year, amounting to $30.30, making the whole amount $338,582.75. This total was distributed to the several cities and counties in the sums assessed for their use respectively.

The details as to the companies paying this tax, and the cities and counties to which it was distributed, will be found in the Comptroller's report.

STATE LANDS UNDER WATER.

The reports of the Riparian Commissioners and of the State Treasurer show:

	$82,895 82

(The reason for thus paying this amount of $13,000 has already been stated.)

The expenses of the commission for salaries, clerk hire, engineering, office rent and all other disbursements connected with the transaction of the business for the past year amounted to $14,345.22.

During the year, the commission, in company with the Governor, continued the personal examination of the riparian lands, which was inaugurated during the first year of my present term, with a view to a readjustment of prices to be charged for riparian rights. Particular attention was given to the southern portion of the State, along the shores of the Delaware river and bay, where riparian land is rapidly increasing in value. The old valuations in other parts of the State were also carefully reconsidered. After consideration, old valuations were revised and re-adjusted, and materially increased, so that the State might receive a fair equivalent from these lands under water.

Another important subject considered by the commission was a plan for commercial development and the improvement of the lands of the State under water in that part of New York bay known as the "Jersey Flats." The prospective value of this land has long been recognized, and the best method for improving it has been a subject for discussion for many years.

The act of February 10th, 1891 (P. L. 1891, page 15), authorized the commission, after consultation with the United States Harbor Line Board, to establish lines for piers and solid filling around the reefs and shoals on these flats. A plan was formulated, adopted and submitted to the Harbor Line Board for their consideration, and several consultations upon the subject were had between the Harbor Line Board and the Riparian Board. While the United States authorities have not directly expressed their disapproval of the plan proposed, they have inferentially done so by subsequently adopting harbor lines for the locality in question, which interfere with the plan of improvement as adopted by the commission. The lines adopted by the Harbor Line Board, aside from their interference with what the Riparian Board conceived to be necessary for the proper and advantageous development of the State's valuable lands under New York bay, are also open to serious objection, because, if adhered to, they may prevent the State from utilizing much of its lands under water, and also deprive the grantees of the State of vested rights, without compensation. The Riparian Board protested to the Secretary of War against these lines being adopted, but without avail.

I call your special attention to the correspondence on this subject between the representatives of the State and the United States, which is annexed to the report of the Riparian Commissioners. The legal position of the State upon this subject will be found fully stated therein, and will, in my judgment, be sustained by the courts.

The question is one of grave importance, as the lands in question are worth several millions of dollars to the State if the improvements suggested by the Riparian Board can be carried into practical operation with the assent of the United States. I am fully satisfied that not only are these contemplated improvements not injurious to navigation, but that they will be of great advantage to the commerce of New York harbor. They would convert the present shoals and flats on New Jersey soil, between Bedloe's Island and Robin's Reef, into more than nine miles of water front of wharves and piers, with great warehouses thereon, with deep channels on either side thereof, which, with proper railroad connection with the New Jersey shore, would add to the facilities of the great commerce between the Western States and Europe, and reduce the charge for transportation and handling of the grain and other products of our country.

By the act of March 20th, 1891, the digging or removal of deposits of sand from the tide waters of the State was prohibited, unless permission was first granted by the Riparian Board. Under the provision of this statute, one license has been granted and $500 received therefor. Other applications are now pending, and with the improved appliances now available for the dredging of deposits of sand from tidal waters there will be developed a profitable industry, yielding a substantial revenue to the State.

AGRICULTURE.

I fully discussed the subject of agriculture in my last message. I repeat the recommendations made therein for the creation of a Commissioner of Agriculture and of a Railroad Commission; and also for the passage of laws against unjust discrimination in freight rates, and in relation to other matters referred to in that message.

The Legislature acted upon two of the subjects mentioned in that message, to wit, in reference to roads and the creation of a State board for the equalization of tax assessments.

The act in reference to roads requires an amendment. It was drawn and passed in view of the passage of a law creating a Commissioner of Agriculture, but the Legislature, not having deemed it wise to create a bureau of agriculture, it will be necessary to amend the road act and provide for the substitution of some person to perform the duties of Commissioner of Agriculture named therein. I recommend that the performance of these duties be vested in the president of the State Board of Agriculture until the establishment of a State Commissioner.

Owing to the misapprehension that evidently existed in reference to the question of abandoned farms in this State, I directed the secretary of the State Board of Agriculture to make a personal investigation, taking as a basis the reports sent to the Bureau of Labor and Statistics. His examination confirms the view that I entertained before it was made. There are no farms in New Jersey which come truly or properly under the head of abandoned farms. The uses of farm lands have been changed in certain localities, for suburban residences, or for other purposes; a few farms in the State may have been temporarily uncultivated, but only for a short period. The examination made by the secretary of the board shows that farm land in New Jersey is rising in value, and that there is an increasing demand for it. In the southern part of the State thousands of acres upon which formerly no crops whatever were raised, are now becoming exceedingly productive in the cultivation of berries, fruits and other products, for the culture of which the land has been found to be especially adapted.

The president of the State Board of Agriculture reports that many new settlers have been attracted to South Jersey, noticeably to Salem and Cumberland counties, and that their thrift and evident prosperity have again demonstrated the productiveness of the white sand section of this part of the State, which a few years ago was considered a sterile region.

The recommendation of the State board that the study of agriculture should receive more attention in the State College of Agriculture, led to a conference, which has had beneficial and practical results satisfactory to the board.

The president reports that the legislation of the past session in reference to roads is considered by farmers to be a step in the right direction, and its practical application is looked forward to as the inauguration of a better road system throughout the State. He recommends that no legislation be enacted to prevent the law having a fair trial.

He also recommends the passage of an act to protect suburban residents by giving the owners and their tenants the powers of constables, to prevent trespassing.

The secretary of the State Board of Agriculture recommends the codification of the laws in reference to roads, and the appointment of a commission for that purpose. In view of the conflicting provisions of many of these acts, and the reasons set forth in the secretary's report, I deem the suggestion a wise one.

He asks that power be given the State board to collect, through the assessors, agricultural statistics, which will be of great advantage to the proper handling of questions relating to this subject.

If a Commissioner of Agriculture be created, all these matters should properly and naturally be referred to him.

AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENT STATION.

The report shows the distribution of seven bulletins among nearly 15,000 farmers of the State upon a variety of subjects. The chemist reports the analyses made of fertilizing and waste materials, and experiments made upon different farms in reference to certain crops therein set forth.

The report also refers to certain investigations in reference to oyster culture, and states that arrangements have been made by which these experiments will be continued at Sea Isle City, in this State. He reports that success was attained in the raising of young oysters from eggs artificially treated and transported.

Various other matters of interest are set forth in the report, which will repay careful study by those interested in agriculture.

STATE WEATHER SERVICE.

The director of the New Jersey State Weather Service reports that it is now well organized, and through its crop bulletin presents weekly to the farmers, fruit growers and truckers of the State a vast amount of crop statistics, climatic data and other information of great value.

A station for meteorological observation has been established in each county, for the purpose of obtaining standards of temperature and rainfall, a knowledge of which is of great importance to the people of New Jersey.

A small appropriation is asked for the continuation of this service.

EDUCATION.

In my former message, I dealt very fully with the school system of the State, including its history and all matters connected with it. Since that time, in order to consolidate the school system and render it more efficient, and decrease its expenditures, the Legislature passed an act vesting the entire control of the Normal, Model, Deaf Mute and Farnum Schools in a new State State Board of Education. Under the act of March 17th, 1891, (Law of 1891, page 167), the new board has general supervision of all matters connected with the subject of education. The Trustees of the Deaf Mute School have been abolished, and the management of the institution has been simplified and improved, and its expenses have been decreased. The new Board of Education consists of the trustees of the school fund and eight members appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate. The law directs that not more than four of the trustees appointed by the Governor shall be of the same political party. Under this act the following gentlemen were appointed: Nicholas M. Butler, William R. Barricklo, William W. Varick, John P. Brothers, Alexander G. Cattell, James Deshler, James L. Hayes and John H. Scudder.

The new board was organized, by-laws adopted and committees appointed. Since its organization it has changed the financial system of the State Normal School by causing all moneys received by the steward to be paid daily to the treasurer of the board. Under the former system the steward acted both as receiving and disbursing officer.

The State Superintendent reports that the school census of 1891 shows 430,340 children between the ages of five and eighteen, an increase of 19,828 over the previous year; that there were enrolled in the public schools 237,500, an increase of 3,428; that the number of children attending private schools was 54,865, an increase of 7,586; that the number of children not attending any school was 137,975; that the public schools will accommodate 227,402, but that the average attendance is only 146,713.

The amount expended for all school purposes, as near as the same can be ascertained, is shown by the following account:

Amount of State school tax collected and distributed to the counties last year.....	$1,995,260 00
Amount of State appropriation.....	100,000 00

The following are some of the principal expenditures:

For teachers' salaries	$2,443,061 50
For fuel	98,064 29
For building and repairing school houses.....	680,831 97
For janitors' salaries, books, stationery, taking census, etc.....	408,666 91

The total value of ordinary school property is $9,098,576. The number of male teachers is 760, with an average salary of $76.38 per month; the number of female teachers is 3,857, with an average salary of $44.40 per month.

NORMAL AND MODEL SCHOOLS.

The Normal School was established under the act of 1855, (P. L. 1855, page 25), for the training and education of teachers in the art of instructing and governing the common schools of the State. Since that time 1,310 teachers have graduated therefrom. The Model School is maintained as an adjunct of the Normal School for the purpose of providing a training school for those who intend to become teachers, so that when a Normal graduate takes charge of a school, he or she will not only know what to teach, but what is equally, if not more important, how to teach. This school is more than self-supporting. The original cost of the Normal and Model Schools was $155,000; the present value of this school property is estimated at $306,000.

In 1891, 326 pupils were in attendance at the Normal School, of whom twenty-four graduated from the advance course and sixty-five from the elementary course. Of these graduates eighty-seven are reported as teaching. The attendance at the Model School during the year was 541, of whom seventeen graduated.

The revenue for the support of these institutions, in addition to the $20,000 annually appropriated by the State, is derived from the tuition fees of the Model School, amounting to $15,729.63, and from other sources, $3,421.26. This, with the balance of $7,271.07, on hand at the date of the last school treasurer's report, made the total receipts $46,421.96. The disbursements amounted to $38,781.60, leaving a balance on hand at the end of the school year, August 31st, 1891, of $7,640.36.

The receipts of the boarding halls in the last school year were $51,307.13; disbursements, $37,554.19, leaving a balance on hand of $13,752.94.

A new building has been erected connecting the Normal and Model Schools, which increase the facilities of these institutions, and enables the schools to introduce physical and manual training, and give instruction in natural sciences, so as to show their practical bearing upon our agricultural and other industries.

FARNUM SCHOOL.

This school, situated on the Delaware river at Beverly, was built by Paul Farnum in 1855. In 1857, by an act of the Legislature, it was made a part of the State School system, and Mr. Farnum endowed it with $20,000.

During the past year, sixty male and sixty-seven female pupils were enrolled; the average attendance was 110. The income of the school is derived from the State appropriation of $1,200, the interest on the endowment of $20,000, amounting to $960, and the money collected from tuition fees, amounting to $2,455. The total receipts were $5,298.08, and the expenditures amounted to $4,498.90, leaving a balance of $799.18.

SCHOOL FOR DEAF-MUTES.

There were 139 pupils in this school during the fiscal year, being an increase of twenty over the previous year. The average attendance was 124½ pupils. The State pays to maintain the institution $76 per quarter for each pupil. This makes a total of $37,924 for the last fiscal year. The State also paid in the last fiscal year $9,044 for the quarter ending October 31st, 1890, making a total of $46,968.

During the past year special attention has been given by the school to industrial as well as literary education.

The disbursements for the year for salaries of officers and teachers, and for all purposes connected with the tuition and maintenance, amounted to $42,972.50. There was a balance on hand at the commencement of the fiscal year of $3,440.99, leaving a balance October 31st, 1891, of $7,436.49.

NATIONAL GUARD.

The National Guard consists of 325 officers and 3,909 enlisted men, making a total of 4,234, which is an increase during the year of fourteen. This force is organized into fifty-seven companies of infantry and two gatling gun companies. No companies have been disbanded during the year, nor have any new companies been mustered into service.

The total expenditures for National Guard purposes for the last fiscal year amounted to $124,418.68.

The total number of Springfield breech-loading rifles, calibre .45, in possession of the State is 3,959. In addition the State possesses a considerable number of muskets, serviceable and unserviceable, of obsolete patterns. An effort is now being made, in pursuance of the concurrent resolution passed by the Legislature last session, to have these obsolete arms exchanged by the National Government for the Springfield breech-loading rifle of the latest improved model.

The encampment of the First Brigade, consisting of 1,720 officers and men, under the command of General Dudley S. Steele, took place at the State camp grounds, Sea Girt, from July 13th to 18th, and received universal commendation. I take pleasure, as Commander-in-Chief, in recognizing the officers and men in this encampment as entitled to the highest praise for their splendid appearance, discipline and drill. The total cost of this encampment, as shown by the Quartermaster-General's report, exclusive of rifle practice, was $37,006.33. The cost of rifle practice of both brigades, including repairs and permanent improvements at the ranges, was $9,286.15.

There are no unsettled bills chargeable to the encampment account. For the first time, the troops were paid off before leaving the camp, and although this involved considerable labor at the closing hours of the encampment, it was appreciated by both officers and men. The plan will be adhered to in the future.

The current expenses for the camp grounds were $8,476.72.

The Quartermaster-General reports that the total expenses for militia purposes during the past year amounted to $124,418.68. This report gives in detail the items thereof. From this it is to be deducted the sum of $1,274.38, which is properly chargeable to the expenses of 1890. This leaves the net expenses of the National Guard for 1891 at $123,144.38. The increased expenses over the preceding year are fully stated and explained in the report of the Quartermaster-General.

Under directions of the Governor, 300 common tents were loaned to the Seabright Fire Relief Fund Committee for the relief the people deprived of shelter by the disastrous fire at Seabright on the sixteenth of June last.

RIFLE PRACTICE.

The Inspector-General of Rifle Practice reports that the results of the season of 1891 were extremely gratifying and eminently successful; that the number of marksmen increased from 805 in 1890, to 845 in 1891; that the matches which were held at the close of the season, under the auspices of the New Jersey State Rifle Association, resulted in bringing together a large number of riflemen from other States, together with two teams from the District of Columbia; that the entire expenses of the meeting were borne by the association; that the direct expenses of rifle practice were increased during the season because of the necessity of the reconstruction of the target pits and butts, they having become worn out, after several years hard useage; that the establishing of a separate magazine for ammunition, and its distribution only upon the practical system of orders, resulted in the saving of about twenty-three thousand rounds of ammunition. The work of the range has been commended in the report of Lieutenant Robert London, U. S. A., the inspecting officer detailed by the Secretary of War for the inspection of the Sea Girt camp-grounds and rifle range, who reported that "the target practice has been systemized and has been brought to a degree of perfection which is limited only by the amount of ammunition to be expended. The system adopted, and the manner in which it is administered, leaves nothing to be desired either in the results attained or in the interest felt in the practice by the individual members of the National Guard of all ranks."

THE CAMP GROUND.

The State of New Jersey now owns the camp ground at Sea Girt, consisting of 119½ acres. The grounds are unsurpassed by those of any other State in the Union. The soil, water, situation, access and surroundings all contribute to make a perfect camp ground, of which the State may be justly proud. The land has been taken by condemnation proceedings under the acts of the Legislature, passed in 1888 and 1889 (P. L. 1888, page 66, and P. L. 1889, page 436). The total amount expended for land, including expenses of condemnation, is $64,585.27. There are no outstanding claims, except a controversy involved in certiorari proceedings brought by one or two of the adjacent property owners who are opposed to having a camp at Sea Girt. This litigation will soon be concluded. The money in controversy in the certiorari proceedings has been paid into the Court of Chancery. There are only two parties to this litigation, and upon the decision of the legal questions involved in the certiorari, the money will be paid to them. I do not apprehend valid objection to the State's title arising from the questions raised in these proceedings.

STATE PENSIONS.

The Adjutant General reports that the State pension roll for veterans of the war of 1812, includes only seven persons as against eight last year. Under the provisions of the act granting pensions to the soldiers of the National Guard who have been injured in the line of duty, or to widows of soldiers who have been killed in the performance of military service, there are now on the pension rolls one soldier and three widows of soldiers.

PENSIONS UNDER ACTS OF CONGRESS.

The liberal policy of the State in its effort to aid the veterans and their families has been continued. Every effort is made by the State to procure proper evidence for those desiring its assistance and to obtain a speedy hearing of all the claims. The correspondence alone, embracing over 2,000 letters, has entailed a heavy burden upon the department. I still consider it proper to retain the services of an official, under the supervision of the Adjutant-General, to make personal visits to Washington and elsewhere to secure evidence and assist those unable to bear the expense of such work. This special assistance has been of very great service to those applying for pensions. The duties connected with these pensions have been faithfully and skillfully performed by the officials, to whom they were intrusted. The extent and character of this work was fully stated and set forth in my last message, and the labor has increased since that date.

SOLDIERS' HOME.

On the 31st day of October, 1891, there were 457 inmates in the Soldiers' Home, at Kearney, being a decrease of six from the preceding year. During the year 350 were admitted, 262 discharged, 19 expelled, 46 died and 29 were dropped from the rolls. The average number per day was 472. Since the Home was opened there have been 17,334 soldiers cared for by the institution. The total receipts for the year were $83,188.12, and the disbursements were $72,986.32, leaving a balance in the hands of the treasurer of the Home of $10,201.30.

During the past year alterations and additions have been made to the hospital building, securing an enlarged dining-room for convalescent patients. The work on the artesian wells is approaching completion. The new double dormitory authorized by the last Legislature is being erected. With the additional facilities thus afforded, the home will have sufficient capacity to meet all future demands under existing laws.

GETTYSBURG BATTLE FIELD COMMISSION.

This commission, consisting of James M. Duffy, Gottfried Krueger and William H. Corbin, was appointed by me under the act of April 20th, 1885, and acted thereunder, and under the acts of April 27th, 1886, and March 16th, 1887. Their duties were to erect suitable monuments to mark the position of the New Jersey regiments upon the battlefield of Gettysburg. New Jersey troops to the number of 4,505 participated in this battle, of whom 80 were killed, 489 wounded and 63 captured or missing.

The commissioners report that their duties are completed, and they present their final report showing the erection of eleven monuments at a cost of $19,685. The monuments are composed of American granite and true bronze, which materials were selected to secure permanence and solidity. The foundations of the monuments are deep and massive. The report contains illustrations showing each of the New Jersey monuments, and a full report of the dedicatory services which took place on the battlefield on the twenty-fifth anniversary of the battle in 1888.

The total amount of money received by the commission from all sources was $23,860 80, of which $18,450 was appropriated by the State. The report is a most interesting document, containing a complete history of all matters connected with this subject, and is a valuable addition to the history of the brave New Jersey regiments whose valor upon this field has received universal recognition and commendation. The State is indebted to the commissioners for the able, complete and faithful manner in which they performed the duties entrusted to them.

WORLD'S COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION.

I recommended in my last message the passage of an act for a board of commissioners to represent the State of New Jersey at the World's Columbian Exposition to be held at Chicago in the year 1893. The Legislature having passed the act of March 18th, 1891 (P. L. 1891, page 186), I appointed as commissioners thereunder Edward Bettle, Garret A. Hobart, Stephen J. Meeker, Millard F. Ross, Peter Hauck, P. E. Swartzweller, John C. Smock and Walter S. Lenox. The commissioners organized April 28th, 1891, by the election of Stephen J. Meeker as president, Edward Bettle as vice-president, and Walter S. Lenox as secretary and treasurer. They immediately entered upon the performance of their duties and have been actively engaged therein ever since. They have conferred with the State Board of Agriculture, the State Board of Education, the Managers of the Geological Survey and the representatives of numerous and important manufacturing interests in this State. They report that there are 2,540 manufacturing establishments in this State representing varied and important interests; that New Jersey is one of the leading manufacturing States in the Union. Its silk industry is greater than that of all the other States in the Union combined. It is one of the leading States in the manufacture of pottery, jewelry, iron and leather, and takes a high rank in many other important industries.

The commissioners caused circulars to be sent to the various manufacturing establishments, with a view of interesting them in making an exhibit which would be of credit to themselves as well as to the State. In such exhibit they deem it proper that our sea coast interest, both as a summer resort, and in fisheries and oyster beds should receive a prominent place by photographic representations, or otherwise, as may most advantageously present the extent and character thereof. The commission, with the Governor, visited the exposition ground in Chicago, and has also sent a committee several times to that city to represent our interests. They are satisfied that the fair will be a success, and that the great body of the States will have exhibits creditable to their people. The commission urge that it is to the interest of those engaged in the important industries of this State that New Jersey shall equal every other State in the character and extent of the display of her products.

The State has been assigned one of the most desirable locations on the fair-ground for its headquarters, and it is the design of the commission, if the Legislature approve, to have this a distinctive feature of New Jersey products and industries. There is an abundance of material in our State which can be artistically displayed at a moderate cost, and their wish is that the building may be erected here, out of New Jersey products and with New Jersey labor, so that it can be taken apart and put up in Chicago, and then, when its uses there have been finished, that it may be returned to this State and erected upon some public ground where the citizens may enjoy the use of it.

The commissioners report that in order to make a creditable display they must have a further appropriation in addition to the $20,000 heretofore given them by the Legislature. In this connection I call attention to the fact that the net amount of money spent by the State in the exposition at Philadelphia was over $74,000, and in view of the greater distance of Chicago from this State, the expense will naturally be greater. The commissioners do not receive any compensation for their services, as many of the commissioners in other States do, and they are entitled to the thanks of the State for the sacrifice of time made by them, and the careful attention they have given to the important interests committed to them. They are enthusiastic in their work, and I have no doubt but that the result will be creditable to the State, and valuable to our citizens engaged in the industries which will enter into competition with those from all parts of the world.

I am satisfied that the exposition will be a success. I feel that, if New Jersey is to be represented at all at Chicago, every reasonable step should be taken to make its exhibit and that of its citizens creditable to our State. I therefore recommend that the Legislature carefully consider the report of the commission, and make such further appropriation as they may deem proper.

COMMISSIONER OF BANKING AND INSURANCE.

This department was created under the provisions of an act to establish a department of banking and insurance, approved February 10th, 1891 (Laws of 1891, page 17). The demand for a separate department, exclusively devoted to the supervision of these corporations, has existed in the State for many years. The growth and variety of such corporations, the important interests involved and the increasing duties of the Secretary of State, together with the limited work of the State boards, made such a change advisable. The practical and efficient work of the department, since the law went into effect on the first of April last, has demonstrated its usefulness and importance. In most of the States insurance and banking corporations are under the control of separate departments, but they were united in this act in the interests of economy and good management.

In order to prevent the department becoming burdensome to the State, the act provided that the entire sum expended by the department for salaries should be paid out of the fees collected from these corporations.

The commissioner is charged with the execution of all laws relating to insurance, banking, savings, trust, guarantee, safe deposit, indemnity, mortgage, investment and loan corporations; also building and loan associations organized under the laws of other States, seeking to transact business in this State. The act imposes upon the commissioner all the duties formerly performed by the Secretary of State, acting as Commissioner of Insurance, and the duties of the Board of Bank Commissioners, and several other boards relating to these corporations.

Last year 259 corporations were by this act placed under the supervision of the commissioner. The department is invaluable in ascertaining the condition of financial and insurance corporations doing business in this State. Attempts will always be made by dishonest or speculative men to present corporate schemes to the people which secure excessive salaries and emoluments for themselves. They appeal to the cupidity or ignorance of those desiring to make investments. It is impossible for an individual in many instances to ascertain the truthfulness of the glittering representations made. Corporate powers of foreign and domestic corporations should not be exercised in this State to the injury of our citizens. To protect the people the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance has power to appeal to the courts to restrain or punish those engaged in questionable schemes. There is nothing in the act which contemplates the interference with any honest and genuine institution.

George B. M. Harvey, the commissioner appointed under this act, organized the department, and did most efficient work, and it was a source of regret when his new business relations compelled him to sever his connection with the department. The present commissioner, George S. Duryee, has, in the short period in which he has been in office, labored most effectively to increase its usefulness, but it will naturally take some time before the work is thoroughly systematized, and the best mode ascertained for making it complete and efficient in all its details.

The report of the commissioner will be found interesting, and should be carefully considered by the Legislature. Recommendations for legislations are made therein to which I call your careful attention. The report contains most valuable information in reference to different kinds of insurance, the amount of money invested in these enterprises, and the assets of the institutions; the commissioner also gives information relative to the standing of savings banks, and his action in reference to national building and loan associations, under the act of June 10th, 1890. He also calls attention to the improper use of the benevolent and charitable act of 1875, by a class of endowment associations which were overrunning the State, and claiming to exist under that act, the promoters of which are principally non-residents. The commissioner reports that most of these delusive and fraudulent institutions have been driven from the State or compelled to cease business, and that a case is now pending for the judicial settlement of the legal questions involving their relations with this department.

He also reports that the act of February 10th, 1891, relative to taxation of life insurance companies, will result in increasing the revenues of the State.

STATE ASYLUMS FOR THE INSANE.

March 17th, 1891, the Legislature passed an act (P. L. 1891, page 168), abolishing the separate managements of the insane asylums at Trenton and Morris Plains, and both institutions were placed under one board of trustees. The change was made in order to reduce expenses and increase the efficiency of the institutions. The new board, although it did not organize until March 19th, 1891, has already materially decreased the expenses, without in any way impairing the efficiency of either institution. Under the act of 1891, the Governor appointed, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, the following Board of Managers: James N. Pidcock, James W. Smith, David Schleimer, Jeremiah O'Rourke, George Richards, Ferdinand Heintze and Frederick Walter.

The board organized at Trenton, on March 19th, by the election of James N. Pidcock as president, and George Richards as vice-president and secretary. The work that it has accomplished since then will be clearly seen in the following facts: The expenses of the Morris Plains Asylum, in 1890, were $231,894.15; during the last fiscal year they were only $221,528.64, being a saving of $10,365.51, although the average daily number of patients during the latter period was thirty-one more than during 1890, and the actual number of patients in the institution in 1891 was thirty-five more than during the preceding year. The cost of maintenance per patient in this institution for 1890 was $267.15; during the last fiscal year, upon the same basis of calculation, it was $246.42 per patient, a saving of $21.15 per patient. The warden of the institution makes the cost per patient for 1891 amount to $234.73 a month, a much greater saving than above stated. He reaches his result by charging only those expenses which he deems properly chargeable to this account. In fixing the per capita cost, I have charged in my calculation all the expenses of the institution.

In the Trenton Asylum the expenditures for 1890 amounted to $191,043.34; during the last fiscal year they were $180,439.18, being a saving of $10,604.16, although the average daily number of patients during the latter period was twenty-eight more than during the preceding year, and the actual number of patients was thirty-four more than in 1890. The cost per patient in this institution in 1890 was $246.69, while during the past year it was $224.98, being $21.71 per patient less than in the previous year. When the board has become more familiar with the institutions, and is better able, by increased knowledge, to regulate the expenditures, I believe that the expenses can and will be still further reduced, and that next year will show a further improvement in the management. The work thus far accomplished is very gratifying. The aggregate balance of the two institutions amounts to $47,353.17—an increase of $21,859.74 over the aggregate balance of the two institutions at the end of the fiscal year of 1890.

The value of the land and improvements under the supervision of this Board is estimated at $3,504,778.91. The Board has charge of 1,718 patients and 425 officers and employees.

The Board recommends—

1st. That associate dining-rooms for patients be built at the Morris Plains Asylum to take the place of the present small and inconvenient dining-room, and that the present dining-room be fitted up as dormitories for patients, to relieve in the most economical manner the present crowded condition of this institution.

2d. That the Legislature pass an act providing for the uniform government of the two asylums, repealing all acts and supplements relating thereto, and codifying this legislation so that it will no longer be conflicting, or difficult to understand or apply.

3d. That the name of the asylums be changed to State Hospitals.

The consolidating of these asylums under one management, which was recommended in my previous message, upon the ground that it would secure greater efficiency and more economical administration of these institutions financially, has been fully justified by the result.

Morris Plains Asylum.

At the close of the fiscal year there were under treatment at this institution 898 patients, 455 males and 443 females. The total number treated during the year was 1,105; 219 new cases were admitted, 113 men and 106 women. The daily average of patients was about 899. During the year 207 patients ceased to be inmates of the institution; of these 73 died, 74 were restored, 51 improved, 8 unimproved and 1 escaped.

There are at present 753 patients classed as indigent, who are supported by the counties sending them, 103 are private patients, and 42 are supported directly by the State.

The total receipts for maintaining this institution, including balance on hand at the beginning of the year, were $227,973.26. The total expenditures were $221,528.64, leaving a balance on hand October 31st, 1891, of $6,444.62.

Trenton Asylum.

At the close of the fiscal year there were under treatment at this institution 820 patients, of whom 412 were males and 408 females. The total number treated during the year was 989; 202 new cases were admitted, 117 men and 85 women. The daily average of patients was about 802. During the year 169 patients ceased to be inmates of the institution, of whom 72 died, 70 recovered, 17 were improved and 10 unimproved. There are at present 707 patients in the institution classed as indigent, who are supported by the counties sending them; 95 are private patients, and 18 are supported directly by the State.

The receipts, including balance on hand at the commencement of the fiscal year, amounted to $221,347.73. The disbursements amounted to $180,439.18, leaving a balance on hand October 31st, 1891, of $40,908.55.

INSTITUTION FOR FEEBLE-MINDED WOMEN.

The superintendent reports that the institution had 46 patients at the close of the fiscal year, being an increase of 17 over the previous year.

The treasurer reports that $8,960.21 was received from various sources, of which the State paid $8,464.56. The institution expended $8,589.68, leaving a balance in the treasury of $370.53.

The last Legislature amended the law so as to give this institution the care of feeble-minded girls of the age of twelve years and upwards. Additional accommodation for fifty new inmates has been provided.

STATE PRISON.

The State Prison account for the fiscal year is as follows :

Salary account.....	$79,814 02
Maintenance.....	85,170 51
Repairs.....	7,209 84
Money paid to discharged convicts, less amount received.....	1,743 00
Deduct State Prison receipts, as they appear in the Comptroller's report.....	$173,937 37
	79,869 31
	$94,068 06

There should be deducted from this the following items :

Maintenance Account—Chargeable and should have been paid in October, 1890, but paid in the past fiscal year.....	$6,674 63
Repair Account—Chargeable and should have been paid in October, 1890, but paid in the past fiscal year.....	559 34
	7,233 97
Amount of deficiency properly chargeable to fiscal year ending October 31st, 1891.....	$86,834 09

In most of the other prisons in the country the salary account is not chargeable as part of the expense account of the institution, as it is in our State. By the elimination of this large item, the prisons of other States are enabled to show a better financial statement than we do, or than they could if they charged the salary account as part of the expenses of the institution, which, in my judgment, should be done. The fact is, that while the deficiency in the State Prison account is less this year than last, in my judgment it can be still further reduced.

I ask the attention of the Legislature to the recommendations made in my last message as to the methods of increasing the receipts and diminishing the expenditures of this institution.

The daily average of prisoners confined in the State Prison during the last fiscal year was 951, of whom 919 were males and 32 females. This is a decrease of 22 in the daily average. The number of prisoners at the close of the fiscal year was 989, an increase of 77 over the previous year. The increase of income from the labor of the convicts over the previous year is very gratifying.

STATE REFORM SCHOOL FOR BOYS.

This institution had 346 boys at the opening of the fiscal year; since that time 136 have been received by commitment and 66 were returned, making a total of 548. During the year 122 were released on their recognizance, 71 were indentured, 15 escaped, 5 were discharged, 4 died and 2 were returned to the United States school ship, leaving at the close of the year 329 inmates, being 17 less than the number in the institution at the opening of the year.

The Reform School received for maintenance during the year $54,892.88, and from the sales of products, etc., $5,227.26, which, with the balance of $5,318.23 on hand at the opening of the year, makes a total of $60,211.11. The expenditures for the year were $55,980.81, leaving a balance on hand at the close of the fiscal year of $4,220.27.

The board suggests that the act (Rev., p. 952, para. 37, sec. 3) for the maintenance of inmates committed to the institution by parents, relatives or guardians be amended by making it the duty of the magistrate before commitment to ascertain the ability of the applicant to pay for the maintenance of the boy sent to the school, and to endorse the amount to be thus paid upon the commitment, together with such stringent provisions as will enforce the payment of this amount.

STATE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.

On October 31st, 1890, there were 63 girls in the State Industrial School for Girls and 16 out at service, making a total of 79. October 31st, 1891, there were 70 girls in the school and 20 under indenture, making a total of 90 under the control of the trustees.

The total receipts from all sources during the year were $13,516.47; the expenditures were $12,301.71, leaving a balance on hand of $1,214.76.

The trustees report that the foundations have been laid for the new addition to the school provided for by the act of April 24th, 1890 (P. L. 1890, page 277). The new building will be completed about the first of April, 1892.

The health of the inmates during the past year has been excellent. Not a single death has occurred and there has been no serious illness in the institution.

STATE CHARITIES AID ASSOCIATION.

This association was organized in Morristown in 1881. Its efficient and unselfish charitable work was recognized by the Legislature in the act of April 16th, 1886 (P. L. 1886, p. 230), which conferred upon it under order of a justice of the Supreme Court, the power of visitation and examination of charitable and penal institutions of the State. The association has grown in importance and numbers, so that there are now branches thereof in nine counties. It numbers among its members some of the most eminent and charitable men and women of the State, who gladly perform their self-imposed duties because of the incalculable benefit to the unfortunate. They have rendered great service to the community, and every reasonable opportunity should be afforded by the Legislature, and State and county officers, to aid them in the performance of their charitable work.

The association reports that its committee has visited the State Prison, the Jamesburg Reform School, and many of the county jails and alms-houses, and they submit reports as to their condition. Their report states that most of our public penal institutions are under efficient management, but they criticise the administration of many of the alms-houses in the State. They represent that, under the law as it stands, old and infirm persons are admitted to these institutions, some of whom have children amply able to support them, and they state some cases which certainly justify the sharpest criticism. The association condemns in the strongest language a system calculated to perpetuate pauperism, and one which compels the tax-payers to support paupers who should be taken care of by their relatives. They recommend that, rather than continue a system which puts a premium on pauperism, the alms-houses should be abolished, and they represent that the few that would still need public care would then be provided for by religious societies.

The board of managers also represent that the sentiment which has resulted in the improvement of jails and in the better care of prisoners therein, has been carried so far that these places are now comfortable abiding places with no work for habitual offenders. They report that something should be done so as to make a commitment to jail a thing to be dreaded. They state that in many cases such places are now looked upon, not as places of punishment for offenders, but as temporary residences, with pleasant surroundings. They recommend that inmates who are able to work should be compelled to do so, and that the institutions should be made places of real punishment.

I recommend to the Legislature a careful reading of the report of this association and of its different branches, and an investigation of the matters set forth therein, so that proper legislation may be had to eradicate evils to which they refer.

BUREAU OF LABOR STATISTICS.

The bureau reports the continuance of the work referred to in my last annual message. The chief of the bureau reports that during the last year 24 new building and loan associations were incorporated, making a total of 270 associations now in active operation, with a net capital approximating $23,500,000; represented by 470,000 shares and 77,000 shareholders, of whom probably 18,000 are paying for homes with money borrowed from the respective associations. The increase of the net capital of these associations during the past year has been, approximately, $1,000,000; in the number of shares 30,000; in the number of shareholders, 5,000.

The details of the investigations of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, and the information obtained will be found set forth in the report of the chief.

LABOR LEGISLATION.

A large number of proposed bills in the interest of labor have been suggested for my consideration by those officially identified as representatives of these interests. In reference to some of them it is impossible to express a definite opinion until the bills have been formulated so that their exact scope and intent may be clearly seen. There are some matters deemed important by those interested, about which, in my judgment, there can be no doubt as to the propriety of efficient legislation thereon. I recommend in the interest of labor favorable legislation upon the following subjects:

First. A law authorizing the incorporation of trade unions or societies, so as to enable the members to protect their funds, and to give them power to bring suits when their interests demand it.

Second. A limitation of the number of hours per week for labor in factories and workshops.

Third. The weekly or semi-monthly payment of wages by persons engaged in mining, manufacturing, quarrying and in mercantile pursuits.

Fourth. The payment of wages in cash.

Fifth. A bill to prohibit employers from asking or obtaining from employées written or verbal pledges, not to belong to trades unions or any other lawful societies.

Sixth. A bill prohibiting the employment of non-resident detectives as peace officers in New Jersey.

Seventh. The establishment of an efficient State board of arbitration or conciliation, which can deal practically with disputes between employers and employees.

In connection with the matters affecting the interest of labor, I desire to call your attention especially to the condition of affairs at Oxford, in Warren county. The distress of the employees and the grave charges that have been made against the conduct of some of those connected with the corporation doing business at that place, call for an investigation by your body, so as to ascertain the exact facts and take such legislative action as will remedy whatever evils or wrong you may find.

FACTORIES AND WORKSHOPS.

The history of this department was fully stated in my previous message. A summary of the report of the deputies shows that the following work was done by them:

Number of factories inspected, 1,994; number of visits to factories, 7,980; number of orders given, 1,092; number of accidents investigated, 57; number of children discharged, 305; number of permits granted orphans, 162; number of mines inspected, 7; number of changes ordered in mines, 6; number of fire escapes erected (by orders), 179; number of children returned to school, 272.

The report of the inspector recommends:

First. That the factory laws and all the supplements thereto be codified.

Second. That the factory inspectors be authorized to forbid the use of unsafe buildings for manufacturing purposes.

Third. The appointment of an additional inspector, to be known as a mining inspector, who shall perform the duties connected with mines and such other matters as shall be referred to him by the inspector.

Fourth. That the age at which boys and girls may be employed in factories be raised.

Fifth. That none of them be permitted to seek employment without a permit from the inspector, which shall certify that they have passed a common school examination in reading, writing and arithmetic.

Sixth. That the compulsory education law be amended so that minors be compelled to attend school until they are thirteen or fourteen years of age.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY.

The work of the Geological Survey for the past year has consisted in the study of the surface formations of the State, the water power and water supply, the condition of the iron mining industry, and the crystalline rocks of the highlands. The survey has acted in co-operation with the United States Geological Survey in the last-mentioned work.

The State Geologist reports that Prof. R. D. Salisbury, an experienced geologist, was engaged for the study of the surface (pleistocene) formations; that in addition to certain general observations made by him in the northern and central parts of the State, he began work in detail in the northeastern counties, and has carried it on over parts of Middlesex, Essex and nearly all of Union counties; that he has deemed it necessary to give some time to the older formations, to define their limits, and to map correctly the glacial and post glacial formations which lie upon them; that the necessity for the differentiation of the formations of the several geological epochs is emphasized in New Jersey as no other State offers a better field for the solution of this problem; that the studies of the season have demonstrated that the glacial drift belongs to two widely separated epochs; that the so-called terminal moraine which crosses the State from Belvidere to Perth Amboy marks the later, while the older one is represented by drift deposits near Trenton and New Brunswick; that the glacial formation is made up of deposits by glacier ice and by drifts from the melting of the ice, and that it is therefore diverse in character.

The geologist also says that the nature of these various deposits is intimately related to economic and sanitary questions; that the soil is determined by them; that the nature of the surface is an important element in the choice of building sites; that the questions of drainage and water supply are also important; that the accurate results of this geological study are to be shown in detail upon the sheets of the new geological atlas of the State.

In the southern part of the State, Mr. C. W. Coman has been employed throughout the year in the study of surface formations, as relating to their soils and their agricultural capabilities. He reports that the pine land belts have been traversed with care, and that their development into productive farming lands has been a leading subject in his investigations; that the importance of this work is shown by the accurate description of the tracts which are less fertile and suited to forest culture, and of the large belts capable of transformation into agricultural districts. His investigations in the southern part of the State show that there are nearly one million of acres of land in forests, which can be profitably cleared and put in farms. The remaining tract of three hundred thousand acres is in the pine land belts, and is more sandy, and not adapted to tillage; that the value of these belts of pine timber can be increased by the clearing of the larger area, and by their reduction in size, and surrounding them with farms; that these pine forests can be more carefully watched in this way, and guarded against the ravages of fire, which now sweep over them and rob them of both valuable timber and the vegetable matters of the soil. The increased value which can be given to these forest areas warrant the cost of clearing the oak lands as an economic measure. Instead of tracts of tens of thousands of acres menaced yearly by fires, if not swept over by them, the transfer of one million of acres of land from this unsafe condition of value to profitable farm land, would leave about twenty per cent. of the whole territory in tracts so located as to be of greater value in producing wood than the one million three hundred thousand acres now in forests. The successful farming of Hammonton, Vineland, Atco, Egg Harbor City and other and newer settlements, are proofs of what can be done in clearing and farming these South Jersey lands.

The report on iron mining notes the active mines and important changes in them during the year.

WATER POWER.

The subject of water power was placed in charge of Mr. C. C. Vermeule. The census of water power sites in the State has been practically completed. A series of gaugings of the flow of the larger streams is in progress.

STATE WATER SUPPLY.

The importance to the State at large of collecting more precise information regarding the sources which shall be permanently available for water supply, with the view of securing their unrestricted use by the immense urban population of the future, can scarcely be overstated, and I again draw attention to the subject. That New Jersey possesses such sources, of unsurpassed value as to quality and location, seems to be put beyond doubt by the researches of the State Geological Survey, and that they should be carefully guarded and husbanded to meet future demands is likewise indisputable.

The remarkable progress of this State during the last fifty years in population, and especially during the last decade, in the number and size of its towns, and in all the factors that favor commercial and industrial development, affords reasonable ground for anticipating an equally great advance in the next half century, both in the actual number and in the density of the resident population. The demand for water will become too great, even in the smaller towns, to admit of a supply from springs or artesian wells, while the inevitable aggregation of urban and suburban communities in certain counties and districts will of itself compel the abandonment there of all dependence upon ground water or upon the method of pumping from adjacent streams or rivers.

Recourse must then be had to lakes, streams and artificial reservoirs situated in high gathering grounds and at considerable distances from the point of consumption. It is the great effort of modern water supply engineering, under such circumstances, to appropriate some hilly, wooded region of suitable geological character, where there is adequate rainfall, little or no agriculture and a sparse population; and where suitable sites can be found for the construction of storage reservoirs.

The population of the State as given by the United States census of 1890 was 1,444,933. The number of persons dependent upon public water supply in that year was 965,390, composing 71 distinct communities and amounting to 66.8 per cent. of the whole population; the average daily supply furnished them was 78 million gallons of water.

The total population in 1880 was 1,131,115, of which 529,330, residing in only twenty-six towns and villages, were furnished with public water supply, amounting to 53.9 per cent. of the total population.

The number demanding a public water supply is increasing in a greater ratio than the population of the State. This is true, not only in our State, but in the neighboring States. The ratio of increase of population during the above decade was 27.7 per cent.; while the ratio of increase of those requiring public water supply was 82.8 per cent.

Geological and engineering considerations seem clearly to demonstrate that in the belt of country underlaid by the granitic rocks which extend from New England across the Hudson river and into the northern part of this State, there exist the sources from which the urban population of New Jersey can best draw its future water supply. From this formation on the east side of the Hudson, the city of New York obtains its supply through the Croton Aqueduct, from a watershed of 338 square miles in extent, which, with the aid of a comprehensive system of storage reservoirs, is relied upon to meet the wants of 2,500,000 persons in the future.

Of this granitic region, hereafter referred to as the New Jersey drainage district, an area equally available for the collection and storage of water, amounting to almost 500 square miles, drains into the Passaic and Raritan rivers through their northern tributaries; in this estimate is included 82 square miles of New York territory drained into this State by the Ramapo and Wanaque rivers.

This territory, with proper storage reservoirs, could be relied upon to meet the wants of a New Jersey population of over 3,000,000.

In 1860 the population within the present limits of New York City was 830,369; that of the State of New Jersey was 672,035. In 1890, New York City had a population of 1,515,301, and New Jersey a population of 1,444,933. In 1920, assuming the same ratio of increase in each case to continue, New York City would have 2,765,140, and New Jersey would have 3,106,730 inhabitants. If the future wants of New York City will need the comprehensive system which it is now completing, it is certain that in thirty years New Jersey will need a supply from a system equally extensive.

Assuming that the percentage of population dependent upon public water supply will be no more than at present (68.8 per cent.), there would be in 1920, in New Jersey, 2,136,800 persons to be supplied with water. If, therefore, the State is to have enough water, even in the near future, to supply its people, it must preserve and guard the sources of supply at its command.

The experience of New York City clearly demonstrates the wisdom and foresight of its appropriation of the Croton watershed, and the large outlays, dating back fifty years, which have been made to utilize it. The failure of a certain and adequate water supply in that city would paralyze nearly every industry, turn thousands out of employment, produce disease, expose the city to destruction by fire, affect its commercial prosperity and even threaten its existence. The cities of our State would experience the same results from a like failure of a certain and adequate supply of water. Wise legislation should guard against such calamities by providing for a system of public water supply, which will satisfy present demands and meet the necessary future requirements of our urban population.

The flow from one hundred and eighty square miles of the New Jersey drainage district is tributary to, or can be turned into, the water-shed of the Raritan river, and collected at a point five hundred feet above tide, at a distance of thirty-five miles from tide water at Trenton, and fifty miles from the Atlantic coast at Long Branch. The water thus impounded should be used for the supply of towns in that part of the State, south of the Raritan river.

The flow from eighty seven square miles of the water-shed of the Rockaway river, can be collected at a point five hundred feet above tide, at a distance of twenty miles from tide water at the head of Newark bay, and fifty miles from Trenton. The water from this area can be impounded and used for the supply of the northern, central or southern portions of the State, as may be required.

In addition to the above, there are (including eighty-two square miles drained by the Ramapo and Wanaque rivers in New York State) two hundred and twenty-seven square miles of territory tributary to the northern branches of the Passaic river, the water from which is capable of being impounded at an elevation of over three hundred feet above tide, at a point distant twenty-two miles from tide water at the head of Newark bay, and can be utilized for the supply of the population in the country lying between the First (or Orange) Mountain and the Hudson river, and stretching from the city of Paterson to the Raritan river.

I have dealt with this question of water supply, on the basis of a comprehensive system looking to the securing of the purest water from the best geological formation, at an elevation permitting its economical delivery by gravity to all parts of the State. The counties of Warren and Sussex, must, however, be excepted because their elevation naturally excludes them from being supplied by such a system. It is true that there are exceptional places, which can be satisfactorily supplied without using this system, as for instance cities or towns lying upon streams which can furnish a supply of reasonably pure drinking water by pumping. But even in such exceptional places the comprehensive system referred to would furnish potable water of better quality at less cost.

In connection with this question of water supply I call attention to the presentation of the matter made in my last message. I still entertain the opinion that the attempt of private corporations to withdraw water from rivers and streams to sell to the public, and obtain a monopoly thereof, under which they claim the right to prevent great cities and communities from using the same for public purposes, is dangerous to the public interests. The unusual and dangerous powers which have been given to these corporations should be limited, and the rights of the great body of citizens, and of the municipalities of the State not having contracts with these corporations should be protected. The right to regulate the use of water for public purposes can only be safely vested, in my judgment, either in the State or in municipalities, for the equal benefit of all.

I annex Appendix D to enable the Legislature to compare the details which have been used in reaching the general results stated in my message.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH.

The State Board of Health reports that the State has been free from any special epidemics. Although there has been an unusual prevalence of fevers in the larger cities, the death rate is slightly lower than in the previous year. The board calls special attention to the question of public water supply, and urges that the cities should, wherever possible, retain control of their own water supply, and not commit so important an interest to private corporations. It calls attention also to the proper housing of tenants and the arrangement of all places for indoor labor, so as to secure light, ventilation, drainage and sanitary arrangements, in order that the house and factory shall not be a source of disease. The board reports improvements in general sanitary conditions, and especially in schools and public buildings. It urges special attention to the prevention of the first causes of disease by proper isolation, disinfection and treatment in the primary stages. It suggests stringent legislation respecting city dairies, so as to prevent diseased animals being used for food or milk supply.

The Bureau of Vital Statistics reports that during the year ending June 30, 1891, there were 15,805 marriages, 28,882 births and 28,840 deaths.

STATE BOARD OF MEDICAL EXAMINERS.

This board was appointed under the act of May 12th, 1890, (P. L. 1890, page 300), to regulate the practice of medicine and surgery. It provided for the appointment of a State Board of Medical Examiners to consist of nine members, who were to hold office for three years. The law provides that the board shall consist of nine physicians, five of whom shall be old school physicians, three homeopathic and one eclectic. Under this law I made the following appointments: Hugh C. Hendry, Henry G. Wagoner, William L. Newell, William Perry Watson and George W. Brown, representing the old school; Anthony H. Worthington, David R. Atwell and Armin Uebelacker, representing the homeopathic school, and Eugene Tiessler, representing the eclectic school.

The Board was duly organized by the election of Dr. Newell as president, Dr. Watson as secretary, and Dr. Worthington as treasurer. Since the organization of the Board Dr. Hendry has resigned, and Dr. A. K. Baldwin has been appointed to fill the vacancy. The Board has held eleven meetings, examined 101 candidates and issued 82 licenses to practice medicine in this State. Three licenses have been issued in the preliminary branches and 16 candidates have been rejected.

PILOTS.

There are fifty-seven Sandy Hook pilots and two local Amboy pilots. Five are unable to perform duty. There are also four apprentices.

The number of vessels piloted inward and outward were 2,328, and the gross amount of pilotage earned by the New Jersey pilots during the past year, including off-shore pilotage, was $162,209.70.

The Pilot Board is fully satisfied with the efficiency of the service, both as to the men and their equipments.

The Board urges the necessity of giving, by legislative enactment, enlarged powers to make additional pilots as the exigencies of the service may require. It recommends that the new pilots be selected from the boat-keepers, who, by long and faithful service, sobriety and exemplary conduct, after full examination, shall be found worthy and competent. It reports that the New York Board is vested with this power, and that it is necessary to enable the New Jersey Board to maintain the efficiency of its service.

STATE LIBRARY.

The whole number of books, pamphlets, magazines, etc., in the library October 31st, 1891, was 38,586, an increase of 1,440 over the preceding year.

The library has been removed to the new quarters assigned it, occupying the entire third floor of the front building.

The expense of this removal was $4,256.36.

The law library is one of the best working libraries in the country.

WASHINGTON ASSOCIATION OF NEW JERSEY.

The treasurer of this association reports that during the year ending November 1st, 1891, the association has expended for the care, maintenance and perpetuation of the headquarters at Morristown the sum of $2,422.75.

QUARANTINE STATION ON THE DELAWARE.

I have received a communication from the Governor of Pennsylvania, enclosing a copy of a resolution of the General Assembly of that Commonwealth, approved May 21st, 1891, authorizing him to appoint a Board of Commissioners to communicate with the proper authorities of the Federal Government and of other States, with a view of obtaining such concessions as will enable the Board of Health of the city of Philadelphia, or of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to secure a suitable site for a quarantine station at some point remote from the centers of population on the Delaware river; the commissioners to inquire into the feasibility of establishing a joint quarantine for the protection of all the ports on the Delaware river and bay, to be controlled by the several States bordering thereon.

The commission appointed in Pennsylvania consists of Governor Robert E. Pattison, president; Henry Leffmann, secretary; George J. Brennan, corresponding secretary, and Benjamin Lee, John Huggard and Andrew Osborne.

The Governor of Pennsylvania urges that it is a matter of vital importance to Pennsylvania, and would doubtless be found of equal importance to New Jersey and Delaware. He desires to have the active co-operation of this State.

I submit the matter for your consideration. I advise action on the part of New Jersey, similar to that taken by Pennsylvania.

STATE BOARD OF DENTISTRY.

The commissioners, composing the State Board of Registration and Examination in Dentistry of New Jersey, are Frederick A. Lévy, president; G. Carleton Brown, secretary, and Alvin R. Eaton, Edward M. Beesley and Frederick C. Barlow. They report that since the establishment of the board in April, 1890, fifty-one applicants have been examined, thirty-eight of whom were granted licenses and thirteen were rejected. This board reports that the law, as it now stands, is the best dental law yet enacted in any of the States.

COMMISSION FOR UNIFORM LEGISLATION.

The Legislature on April 14th, 1891, (Laws of 1891, p. 413), passed an act entitled "An Act to provide for the appointment of commissioners for the promotion of uniformity of legislation in the United States." Under this act I appointed Garret D. W. Vroom, R. Wayne Parker and Otto Crouse. The Board has organized by the selection of Mr. Vroom as chairman, and Mr. Parker as secretary, and has entered upon the performance of its duties.

I shall be pleased at all times to consult with the members of the Legislature, upon matters affecting the public interests.

I invoke the blessing of God upon our labors, and pray that He will make our duty clear and give us strength to perform it with wisdom and judgment.

LEON ABBETT.

APPENDIX C.

California.—The State Constitution, as amended February 25th, 1891, provides: "No county, city, town, township, board of education or school district shall incur any indebtedness or liability in any manner, or for any purpose, exceeding in any year the income and revenue provided for it for such year, without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof voting at an election to be held for that purpose, nor unless before or at the time of incurring such indebtedness provision shall be made for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due, and also provision to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity,* which shall not exceed forty years from the time of contracting the same. Any indebtedness or liability incurred contrary to this provision shall be void."

Colorado.—The eleventh article of the Constitution of Colorado deals with the question of municipal indebtedness at a length exceeding that devoted to it in any other State Constitution. It provides: "No county shall contract any debt by loan in any form except for the purpose of erecting necessary public buildings, making or repairing public roads and bridges, and such indebtedness contracted in any one year shall not exceed the rates upon the taxable property in such county following, to wit, counties in which the assessed valuation of taxable property shall exceed five millions of dollars, one dollar and fifty cents on each thousand dollars thereof; counties in which such valuation shall be less than five millions of dollars, three dollars on each thousand dollars thereof, and the aggregate amount of indebtedness of any county, for all purposes exclusive of debts, contracted before the adoption of this Constitution, shall not, at any time, exceed twice the amount above herein limited, unless when, in manner provided by law, the question of incurring such debt shall, at a general election, be submitted to such of the qualified electors of such county, as in the year last preceding such election shall have paid a tax upon property assessed to them in such county, and a majority of those voting thereon shall vote in favor of incurring the debt; but the bonds, if any be issued therefor, shall not run less than ten years, and the aggregate amount of debt so contracted shall not, at any time, exceed twice the rate upon the valuation last herein mentioned; provided, that this section shall not apply to counties having a valuation of less than one million of dollars. No debt by loan in any form shall be contracted by any school district for the purpose of erecting and furnishing school buildings, or purchasing grounds, unless the proposition to create such debt shall first be submitted to such qualified electors as shall have paid a school tax therein in the year next preceding such election, and a majority of those voting thereon shall vote in favor of incurring such debt. No city or town shall contract any debt by loan in any form except by means of an ordinance, which shall be irrevocable until the indebtedness therein provided for shall have been fully paid or discharged, specifying the purposes to which the funds to be raised shall be applied, and providing for the levy of a tax not exceeding twelve mills on each dollar of valuation of taxable property within such city or town, sufficient to pay the annual interest and extinguish the principal of such debt within fifteen, but not less than ten, years from the creation thereof, and such tax, when collected, shall be applied only to the purposes in such ordinance specified until the indebtedness shall be paid or discharged; but no such debt shall be created unless the question of incurring the same shall, at a regular election for councilmen, aldermen or officers of such city or town, be submitted to a vote of such qualified electors thereof as shall, in the year next preceding, have paid a property tax therein, and a majority of those voting on the question by ballot, deposited in a separate ballot-box, shall vote in favor of creating such debt; but the aggregate amount of debt so created, together with the debt existing at the time of such election, shall not, at any time, exceed three per cent. of the valuation last aforesaid. Debts contracted for supplying water to such city or town are excepted from the operation of this section. The valuation in this section mentioned shall be in all cases that of the assessment next preceding the last assessment before the adoption of such ordinance."

Connecticut.—No constitutional limitation, and no general statute on the subject. Some of the cities and towns have limitations in their charters. An amendment to the charter of Bridgeport forbids "the contraction of any liabilities beyond the revenues already provided."

Delaware.—No limitation by Constitution or general statute.

Georgia.—The Constitution does not provide any limitation of municipal debt, but the charters of the cities, in many cases, provide limitations. That of Atlanta forbids an increase of the city debt, Savannah may not issue bonds, while Rome is forbidden to create bonded indebtedness until all present obligations are paid.

Idaho.—The State Constitution, adopted in 1890, provides, in its third section, that "No county, town, city, township, board of education or school district, or other subdivision of the State, shall incur any indebtedness or liability in any manner or for any purpose exceeding in that year the income and revenue provided for it for such year without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof voting at an election to be held for that purpose, nor unless, before or at the time of incurring such indebtedness provision shall be made for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest of such indebtedness as it falls due, and also to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof within twenty years from the time of contracting the same. Any indebtedness or liability incurred contrary to this provision shall be void; provided, that this section shall not be construed to apply to the ordinary and necessary expenses authorized by the general laws of the State."

Illinois.—Municipal indebtedness is regulated by the State Constitution. Article IX, section 12, provides: "No county, city, township, school district, or other municipal corporation shall be allowed to become indebted in any manner or for any purpose, to an amount, including existing indebtedness, in the aggregate exceeding five per centum on the value of the taxable property therein, to be ascertained by the last assessment for State and county taxes, previous to the incurring of such indebtedness. Any county, city, school district, or other municipal corporation incurring any indebtedness as aforesaid shall before, or at the time of doing so, provide for the collection of a direct annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such debt as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal thereof within twenty years from the time of contracting the same. This section shall not be construed to prevent any county, city, township, school district, or other municipal corporation, from issuing their bonds in compliance with any vote of the people that may have been had prior to the adoption of this Constitution, in pursuance of any law providing therefor.

Indiana.—Municipal indebtedness is limited by the State Constitution, Article X, section 6, of which provides that "No political or municipal corporation in this State shall ever become indebted in any manner, or for any purpose, to an amount in the aggregate exceeding two per centum on the valuation of the taxable property within such corporation, to be ascertained by the last assessment for State and county taxes previous to the incurring of such indebtedness; and all bonds or obligations in excess of such amount, given by such corporation, shall be void; provided, that in time of war, foreign invasion, or other great public calamity, on petition of a majority of the property owners, in number and value, within the limits of such corporation, the public authorities may, in their discretion, incur obligations necessary for the public protection and defense to such an amount as may be requested in such petition." This provision was adopted in 1851, and after forty years' experience, its beneficial effect is shown in the statement of the municipal condition of Indianapolis. This city, in 1890, had a population of 105,436. In 1891 its assessed valuation of real and personal property was $93,701,190, and its total funded and temporary debt $1,924,999.

Iowa.—Article XI, sec. 3, of the State Constitution limits the extent of municipal indebtedness in these words: "No county or other political or municipal corporation shall be allowed to become indebted in any manner, or for any purpose, to an extent in the aggregate exceeding five per centum on the value of the taxable property in such county or corporation, to be ascertained by the last State and county tax list previous to the incurring of such indebtedness."

Kansas.—While not directly restricting the creation of municipal indebtedness, the Constitution of this State provides that "provision shall be made by general law for the organization of cities, towns and villages, and their power of taxation, assessment, borrowing money, contracting debts, and loaning their credit, shall be so restricted as to prevent the abuse of such power."

Maine.—Article XXII, State Constitution: "No city or town shall create any liability which, in the aggregate or singly, with previous debts or liabilities, shall exceed five per centum of the last regular valuation of said city or town; provided, however, that the adoption of this article shall not be construed as applying to any fund received in trust by the said city or town, nor to any loan for the purpose of renewing existing loans, or for war, or to temporary loans to be paid out of the money raised by taxation during the year in which they are made."

Maryland.—No limitation by Constitution or general statute.

Massachusetts.—No constitutional limitation. There are, however, limitations of municipal indebtedness in many of the town and city charters. By general statute it was enacted that cities and towns shall not incur debts "in an amount which exceeds three per cent. on the last preceding valuation." That this limitation did not work a hardship, or interfere with municipal progress, is evidenced by the fact that the limitation was reduced from three to two-and-a-half per cent. on the average valuation for the next preceding three years, which is the law in that State at present. The tax rate of the city of Boston is fixed by its charter, which provides "that the taxes, exclusive of State tax, and of sums required by law to be raised on account of the city debt, shall not exceed in any one year nine dollars on every $1,000 of the average of the assessors' valuation for the preceding five years, the valuation year to year being first reduced by all abatements." That this statutory limitation is easily set aside is illustrated by the manner in which a provision of the charter of the city of Boston has been regarded. That charter provides that "the limit of indebtedness of the city of Boston shall hereafter be two-and-a-half per cent. until January 1st, 1887, and thereafter shall be two per cent. on the average valuation." Since 1886 the Legislature has authorized the city of Boston to incur debts, in excess of the limitation recited, to an aggregate amount exceeding four millions of dollars.

Michigan.—Article XV, section 13, of the State Constitution is as follows: "The legislature shall provide for the incorporation and organization of cities and villages, and shall restrict their powers of taxation, borrowing money, contracting debts and loaning their credit." In conformity with this constitutional direction, it has been enacted that general taxation shall not exceed the following scale: In cities having a population not exceeding 6,000, $1\frac{1}{2}$ per centum; in those having between 6,000 and 9,000 population, $1\frac{1}{2}$ per centum; in those having between 9,000 and 14,000, $1\frac{3}{4}$ per centum; in those having over 14,000 population, 2 per centum.

Minnesota.—There is not any constitutional restriction of municipal indebtedness in this State, but its general laws provide that such indebtedness shall be created only when authorized by a vote of the people. The levying of a tax of one mill on the dollar for each one thousand dollars of bonds issued, to provide a sinking fund, is made imperative, and in the city charter of Minneapolis it is declared that the maintenance of the sinking fund is "part of the contract with the holder of any bonds of the city that may hereafter be issued, and shall be kept inviolate."

Missouri.—Municipal indebtedness is regulated by Article X, section 12, of the State Constitution, as follows: "No county, city, town, township, school district, or other political corporation or subdivision of the State shall be allowed to become indebted in any manner, or for any purpose, to an amount exceeding in any year the income and revenue provided for such year, without the assent of two-thirds of the voters thereof voting at an election to be held for that purpose; nor in cases requiring such assent shall any indebtedness be allowed to be incurred to an amount, including existing indebtedness, in the aggregate exceeding five per centum on the value of the taxable property therein, to be ascertained by the assessment next before the last assessment for State and county purposes previous to the incurring of such indebtedness; provided, that with such assent any county may be allowed to become indebted to a larger amount for the erection of a court house or jail; and provided further, that any county, city, town, township, school district, or other political corporation or subdivision of the State incurring any indebtedness requiring the assent of the voters as aforesaid shall, before or at the time of doing so, provide for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due, and also to constitute a sinking fund for payment of the principal thereof within twenty years from the time of contracting the same.

Montana.—The Constitution of this State, adopted in 1889, provides: "No county shall be allowed to become indebted in any manner, or for any purpose, to an amount including existing indebtedness in the aggregate exceeding five per centum of the value of the taxable property therein, to be ascertained by the last assessment for State and county taxes previous to the incurring of such indebtedness, and all bonds or obligations in excess of such amount given by, or on behalf of such county, shall be void. No county shall incur any indebtedness or liability for any single purpose to an amount exceeding ten thousand dollars without the approval of a majority of the electors thereof, voting at an election to be provided by law. No city, town, township or school district shall be allowed to become indebted in any manner, or for any purpose, to an amount, including existing indebtedness, in the aggregate exceeding three per centum of the value of the taxable property therein, to be ascertained by the last assessment for State and county taxes previous to the incurring of such indebtedness, and all bonds or obligations in excess of such amount given by or on behalf of such city, town, township or school district shall be void; provided, however, that the legislative assembly may extend the limit mentioned in this section, by authorizing municipal corporations to submit the question to a vote of the taxpayers affected thereby, when such increase is necessary to construct a sewerage system or to procure a supply of water for such municipality, which shall own and control said water supply, and devote the revenues derived therefrom to the payment of the debt.

Nebraska.—There is not any constitutional regulation of municipal indebtedness, but some restrictions have been attempted in the statutory classification of the cities.

Nevada.—The Constitution of this State directs the Legislature to pass general laws for the organization of cities and towns, and to "restrict their powers of taxation, assessment, borrowing money, contracting debts and loaning their credit, except for procuring supplies of water."

New Hampshire.—No limitation in Constitution or by general statute.

New York.—That the importance of this subject has been fully recognized in this State is shown by the constitutional and statutory directions concerning it. In November, 1884, by a vote of the people of New York, the following amendment was made to their State Constitution: "No county containing a city of over 100,000 inhabitants, or any such city, shall be allowed to become indebted for any purpose, or in any manner, to an amount which, including existing indebtedness, shall exceed ten per centum of the assessed valuation of the real estate of such county or city, subject to taxation, as it appeared by the assessment rolls of said county or city on the last assessment for state or county taxes prior to the incurring of such indebtedness, and all indebtedness in excess of such limitation, except such as may now exist, shall be absolutely void, except as herein otherwise provided. No such county or city, whose present indebtedness exceeds ten per centum of the assessed valuation of its real estate subject to taxation, shall be allowed to become indebted in any further amount until such indebtedness shall be reduced within such limit. This section shall not be construed to prevent the issuing of certificates of indebtedness or revenue bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of taxes for amounts actually contained, or to be contained, in the taxes for the year when such certificates or revenue bonds are issued or payable out of such taxes. Nor shall this section be construed to prevent the issue of bonds to provide for the supply of water, but the terms of the bonds issued to provide for the supply of water shall not exceed twenty years, and a sinking fund shall be created on the issuing of said bonds for their redemption, by raising annually a sum which will produce an amount equal to the sum of the principal and interest of said bonds at their maturity. The amount hereafter to be raised by tax for city or county purpose, in any county containing a city of over 100,000 inhabitants, or any such city of this State, in addition to providing for the principal and interest of existing debt, shall not in the aggregate exceed in any one year two per centum of the assessed valuation of the real and personal estate of said county or city, to be ascertained as prescribed in this section in respect to county or city debt." In construing this section, the Court of Appeals of New York held, in a case affecting the city of New York, that in ascertaining the limitation of indebtedness, bonds representing that debt and held in the city sinking funds should not be included in the ten per cent. of indebtedness authorized.

North Carolina.—There is not any limitation by the State Constitution or general statute. The charters of some municipalities provide that debt shall be created only by a vote of the people.

North Dakota.—In Article XII of the Constitution of this recently admitted State are found these restrictions: "The debt of any county, town, city, township, school district, or any other political subdivision, shall never exceed five per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein; provided, that any incorporated city may by a two-thirds vote increase such indebtedness three per centum on such assessed value beyond said five per centum limit. In estimating the indebtedness which a city, county, township, school district, or any other political subdivision may incur, the entire amount of existing indebtedness, whether contracted prior or subsequent to the adoption of this Constitution, shall be included; provided, further, that any incorporated city may become indebted in any amount not exceeding four per centum on such assessed value, without regard to the existing indebtedness of such city, for the purpose of constructing or purchasing water works, for furnishing a supply of water to the inhabitants of such city, or for the purpose of constructing sewers, and for no other purpose whatever. All bonds or obligations in excess of the amount of indebtedness permitted by this Constitution, given by any city, county, township, town, school district, or any other political subdivision shall be void. Any city, county, township, town, school district or any other political subdivision incurring indebtedness shall, at or before the time of so doing provide for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest and also the principal thereof when due, and all laws or ordinances providing for the payment of the interest or principal of any debt shall be irrepealable until such debt be paid.

Ohio.—The Constitution of this State directs the enactment of laws limiting municipal indebtedness, Article XIII, section 6, providing that "The General Assembly shall provide for the organization of cities and incorporated villages by general laws, and restrict their powers of taxation, assessment, borrowing money, contracting debts and loaning their credit, so as to prevent the abuse of such power." In pursuance of this section, there has been enacted a classification of the cities of Ohio, but as yet there has not been any general law passed limiting indebtedness.

Oregon.—The Constitution limits the debts which may be created by counties, as follows: "No county shall create any debt or liabilities which shall, singly or in the aggregate, exceed the sum of five thousand dollars, except to suppress insurrection or repel invasion; but the debts of any county at the time this Constitution takes effect shall be disregarded in estimating the sum to which such county is limited."

It will be seen that the limitation is only of county indebtedness. Cities and smaller municipalities are left to the will of the Legislature by another section of the Constitution, which provides that "Acts of the legislative assembly incorporating towns and cities shall restrict their powers of taxation, borrowing money, contracting debts and loaning their credit."

Pennsylvania.—The amount of municipal indebtedness is limited by the Constitution of this State. Article IX, sec. 8, provides: "The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per cent. upon such assessed valuation of property, without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law; but any city the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of such assessed valuation may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum, in the aggregate at any one time, upon such valuation."

Rhode Island.—No constitutional limitation of municipal indebtedness. In 1878 it was enacted that "No town shall incur any debt in excess of three per centum of the taxable property of such town, including the indebtedness of such town on the tenth day of April, 1878, but the giving of a new note or bond, for the pre-existing debt, or for money borrowed and applied to the payment of such pre-existing debt, is excepted from the provisions of this section, and the amount of any sinking fund shall be deducted in computing such indebtedness."

South Carolina.—No Constitutional limitation or general statute. The charter of Charleston provides that the bonded indebtedness shall not be increased except the new debt shall receive the approval of two-thirds of the citizens, at a popular election, which election must be called by a two-thirds vote of the city council and the State Legislature.

South Dakota.—"The debt of any county, city, town, school district or other subdivision shall never exceed five per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein. In estimating the amount of the indebtedness which a municipality or subdivision may incur, the amount of indebtedness contracted prior to the adoption of this Constitution shall be included. Any city, county, town, school district, or any other subdivision incurring indebtedness shall, at or before the time of so doing, provide for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest and also the principal thereof when due, and all laws or ordinances providing for the payment of the interest or principal of any debt shall be irrevocable until such debt be paid." The foregoing provisions are found in sections 4 and 5 of the Constitution of this State.

Utah Territory.—By act of Congress the indebtedness of this Territory is limited to one per cent. of the assessed valuation.

All Territories are limited, in the creation of municipal indebtedness, by an act of Congress, which provides: "No political or municipal corporation, county or other subdivision in any of the Territories of the United States shall ever become indebted, in any manner or for any purpose, to any amount in the aggregate, including existing indebtedness exceeding four per cent. of the value of the taxable property within such corporation, county or subdivision, to be ascertained by the last assessment."

Vermont.—No limitation in Constitution or by general statute.

Virginia.—The only limitation of municipal indebtedness in this State is found in the local charters. In several cases, the limitation is twenty per cent. of assessed valuation of the municipality.

All limitations in other Southern States are contained in the local charters.

Washington.—The Constitution of this State, adopted in 1889, deals directly with municipal indebtedness, providing as follows: "No county, city, town, school district or other municipal corporation shall, for any purpose, become indebted in any manner to an amount exceeding one and one-half per centum of the taxable property in such county, city, town, school district or other municipal corporation, without the assent of three-fifths of the voters therein, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, nor in cases requiring such assent shall the total indebtedness at any time exceed five per centum of the value of the taxable property therein; to be ascertained by the last assessment for State and county purposes previous to the incurring of such indebtedness, except that in incorporated cities the assessment shall be taken from the last assessment for city purposes; provided, that no part of the indebtedness allowed in this section shall be incurred for any purpose other than strictly county, city, town, school district or other municipal purposes; provided, farther, that any city or town with such assent, may be allowed to become indebted to a larger amount, but not exceeding five per centum additional, for supplying such city or town with water, artificial light and sewers, when the works for supplying such water, light and sewers shall be owned and controlled by the municipality."

Wisconsin.—In 1874 section 3, Article II, of the State Constitution was amended to read: "No county, city, town, village, school district, or other municipal corporation shall be allowed to become indebted in any manner or for any purpose, to an amount, including existing indebtedness, in the aggregate exceeding five per centum on the value of the taxable property therein, to be ascertained by the last assessment for state and county taxes previous to the incurring of such indebtedness. Any county, city, town, village, school district or other municipal corporation incurring any indebtedness as aforesaid, shall, before or at the time of doing so, provide for the collection of a direct annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such debt as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal thereof within twenty years from the time of contracting the same."

Wyoming.—The Constitution directs that "No county in the State of Wyoming shall in any manner create any indebtedness exceeding two per centum on the assessed value of taxable property in such county, as shown by the last general assessment preceding; provided, however, that any county, city, town, village or other subdivision thereof in the State of Wyoming may bond its public debt existing at the time of the adoption of this Constitution in any sum not exceeding four per centum on the assessed value of the taxable property in such county, city, town, village or other subdivision, as shown by the last general assessment for taxation. No debt in excess of the taxes for the current year shall, in any manner, be created by any county, or subdivision thereof, or any city, town or village, or any subdivision thereof, in the State of Wyoming, unless the proposition to create such debt shall have been submitted to a vote of the people thereof, and by them approved. No city, town or village, or any subdivision thereof, or any subdivision of any county of the State of Wyoming shall in any manner create any indebtedness exceeding two per centum on the assessed value of the taxable property therein; provided, however, that any city, town or village may be authorized to create an additional indebtedness, not exceeding four per centum on the assessed value of the taxable property therein, as shown by the last preceding general assessment for purpose of building sewerage therein. Debts contracted for supplying water to such city or town are excepted from the operation of this section."

Correctly engrossed.

Mr. Hardin, Chairman of the Committee on the Judiciary, presented the following report, which was received :

To the House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey :

The Judiciary Committee, which was instructed to report this evening whether in amending an act of the Legislature it is necessary to embody in the new statute the old section as it originally stood, provided the section as it is amended be inserted at length, would respectfully report as follows:

It is not necessary in legislation amending statutes to set forth the amended statute and also the statute as it was before the amendment. It is sufficient to set forth the amended act in full.

When the question was raised before the House last week it was claimed that the Constitutional provision that "No law shall be revised or amended by reference to its title only, but the act revived or the section or sections amended shall be inserted in words at length" (State Constitution, Article IV., section 7, paragraph 4), made it necessary to recite in full in an amendatory statute the section to be amended as it was before amendment. This clause of the Constitution has been before the courts several times and this claim has been overruled.

Van Riper vs. Parsons, 11 Vr. 123, 127;

Colwell vs. Chamberlain, 14 Vr. 387, 388;

State vs. Powder Mfg. Co., 21 Vr. 75, 81;

Montclair vs. New York and Greenwood Lake Railway Company, 18 Stew. 436, 448.

The committee has examined the opinion by Justice Magie, recently filed in the case of the State ex rel. Board Fire Commissioners of Trenton vs. the Common Council of Trenton, to which reference was made on the floor of the House, but the committee finds nothing in that opinion to over-rule the well-established doctrine of the cases above referred to. The case of Evernham vs. Hulit, 16 Vroom, 53, is quoted approvingly by Mr. Justice Magie in the Trenton case, and in the State vs. Powder Manufacturing Company, 21 Vroom, 75, 82, quoted supra, Mr. Justice Van Syckel, in discussing the constitutional question under consideration, stated that no dissent from the interpretation of the constitutional clause sustained by him in that case was expressed in Evernham vs. Hulit. Even if there was anything in Justice Magie's opinion in the Trenton case indicating a contrary view from the established rule laid down by both the Supreme Court and the Court of Chancery, his approving reference to Hulit vs. Evernham, which has been determined not to be inconsistent with the established rule, would not justify the conclusion that he intended to controvert in any way that rule.

Respectfully submitted this twenty-fifth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two.

JOHN J. HARDIN,
GEORGE A. HEANEY,
LEONARD KALISCH,
SAMUEL G. H. WRIGHT,
J. HERBERT POTTS.

NEW JERSEY BAPTIST STATE CONVENTION,

Organized in 1830,

For Mission Work in the State.

REV. J. C. BUCHANAN, Secretary.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,

PEMBERTON, N. J., February 9th, 1892. }

Hon. James J. Bergen, Speaker of the House of Assembly of New Jersey :

MY DEAR SIR—As Secretary of the New Jersey Baptist State Convention, representing 40,000 citizens of this State, I have the honor to enclose the following resolution, adopted at the late anniversary at Mt. Holly, and ask respectfully that it be presented to the House.

Yours, very truly,

J. C. BUCHANAN, Sec.

WHEREAS, It is generally understood that the management of the several large race-tracks in our State, not satisfied with the wholesale illegal demoralization they have been bringing into our Commonwealth, propose to make, at the coming session of our Legislature, a more determined effort to secure the passage of a bill which purports to legalize that most pernicious system of gambling—pool-selling—a crime under the laws of all our States except Louisiana, and now here resting under the ban of outlawry; and whereas, at this age, when the moral sense of the country is aroused to protest against the spread or continuance of all systems of gambling; therefore,

Resolved, That we, citizens of the State of New Jersey, jealous of her fair name and fame, do earnestly protest to our Legislature against the passage of any such measure, and we earnestly represent that any such enactment would be contrary to the whole spirit of Christian civilization.

Mr. Beekman, Chairman of the Committee on Railroads and Canals, presented the following report, which was read, and, on motion of Mr. Lane, accepted :

To the Honorable the General Assembly of the State of New Jersey :

Your Committee on Railroads and Canals, to whom, by resolution of the fifteenth day of February, instant, was referred, to ascertain whether any corporation has entered into any agreement with any other corporation to advance or control the price of coal, etc., would respectfully report that your Committee have appointed William Harrigan our Sergeant-at-Arms, to serve all processes, etc., and have also appointed the regular clerk of your Committee our secretary ; that your Committee have waited upon the Attorney-General of this State and consulted with him as to the legal bearing of the matter referred to your Committee, that the Attorney-General is unable as yet to advise intelligently as to what proceeding your Committee should take until he has inspected the alleged leases and agreements under which the alleged combination between said railroad companies have been made ; that he has written for copies of the same, and when obtained will at once advise your Committee what action your Committee can take, and how far your Committee can proceed in said matter legally, and what steps are necessary to protect the public and State against said combination ; that it is a matter that should be intelligently and not hastily acted upon ; that your Committee further report that as soon as the Attorney-General advises how and when your Committee can proceed with effective (and not abortive) results your Committee will push the said matter referred to your Committee with vigor in the interest of the public and of the State; your Committee further report that the first question to be solved seems to be whether, in making of the said leases and agreements or compacts, any existing law of this State has been violated, and until that question is settled by the Attorney-General it is not possible to advise what legislation, if any, is needed to prevent an injury to the people of this State by such combination, or what action is necessary on the part of your Committee. There is a statute in force, supplement to the Revision, page 841, section 91, which provides in substance that no railroad company incorporated under the laws of this State shall have power to lease its roads or franchises or any part thereof to any foreign corporation, or to any resident of any other State, or to unite, consolidate or merge its stocks, etc., with any foreign corporation until the consent of the legislature is first obtained, etc. Whether this law has been violated or not by these alleged leases and combines is not possible to determine until the terms of the alleged deal is known, by an inspection of the written leases or agreements made between said railroads in said deal.

Dated February 22d, 1892.

JNO. W. BEEKMAN, Chairman,
BENJAMIN E. TINE,
WILLIAM F. COLE,
THOMAS SMITH,

Mr. Hutchinson offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted :

Resolved, That the privileges of the floor are hereby extended the Hon. Charles S. Robinson, of Princeton, N. J., an ex-member of Assembly from the county of Mercer:

Mr. Davidson offered the following extracts from reports and resolution, which were received, read, and the resolution adopted :

The Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, in his communication and report to the Governor prior to the meeting of the Legislature, used the following language in relation to the road laws of this state: "In this [connection I will say it has been a desire of the Executive Committee of the State Board of Agriculture to have the road laws of the state codified, and I think it would be a proper recommendation to have a small sum set apart for this purpose, or to have a commission appointed to do it, who would expend a certain amount for this purpose, subject to the approval of the Governor. There are several reasons for this, as you know legislation of this subject is very intricate, and law after law is passed in ignorance of that which has preceded it, so that the whole subject is in a jumble, and new bills are presented at almost every session of the Legislature in total ignorance of many laws already on the statute books, and the Legislature cannot, in the short time they have, examine the legislation already existing on the subject."

His Excellency the Governor, in his message to the Legislature referring to the Secretary's report on this subject stated: "The Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture recommends the codification of the laws in reference to roads, and the appointment of a committee for that purpose. In view of the conflicting provisions of many of these acts, and the reasons set forth in the Secretary's report, I deem the suggestion a wise one."

The Legislative Committee of the State Board believe they are voicing the sentiments of that organization when they ask your honorable body to appoint a committee, as in your judgment may be deemed wise, for the codification of the Road laws of this State.

WHEREAS, His Excellency the Governor, in his recent message (page 20) recommended that the numerous and intricate legislation on the subject of roads should be codified; therefore,

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Governor be and he is hereby authorized to appoint a committee of three persons with power to take into consideration the public road laws of this State and to prepare and report to the Legislature at its next session a bill for the revision and amendment of said laws, the necessary expenses of said committee to be paid out of any public funds not otherwise appropriated, provided such bills shall be approved by the Governor.

Mr. Packer offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted :

Resolved, That the chair and desk, occupied by the late A. H. White, deceased Member from Burlington county, be draped in mourning, and that the Superintendent of the State House is authorized to carry out this resolution.

Mr. Lanning, Chairman of the Committee on Engrossed Bills, reported

Assembly Bill No. 288, entitled "A Supplement to an act entitled 'An act to establish in this state boards of health and a bureau of vital statistics, and to define their respective powers and duties,'" approved March thirty-first, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven,

PATERSON, N. J., February 22d, 1892.

To the House of Assembly :

I have been requested by the Executive Committee of the New Jersey Federation of Trades and Labor Unions to forward to you the following resolutions, passed at a conference of all the building trades unions, held in the city of Newark on January 10th, 1892, with the request that the same be read by the Clerk of the House and be spread on the minutes :

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this conference of the building trades unions of New Jersey that the present mechanics' lien law affords reasonable protection to the mechanics of this state, and that the protection afforded by such law to the wages of the wage-workers shall be continued ;

"Resolved, That in the event of any change being made in the present law, the building trades unions of New Jersey earnestly protest against any provision depriving the wage-workers of priority lien and the fullest protection ;

"Resolved, That the Executive Committee of the New Jersey Federation of Trades Unions be requested to oppose any alteration in the law giving less protection than is now provided to the wages of the wage-workers, and that full power to act be given by this conference to the Executive Committee of the New Jersey Federation of Trades Unions."

The building trades unions have no objection to a reduction in the time for filing liens, or to an alteration in the law to meet the objection of Judge Dixon, as stated in a recent case, or to a provision compelling contractors to make affidavit that the releases presented by them are genuine, and that they had been received for cash actually paid.

I have the honor to be,

Very respectfully yours,

J. P. McDONNELL,

Chairman.

The following notice was received and read :

The special committee on the question of Sunday closing of the World's Fair will give a public hearing on the question on Wednesday at 2 P. M., in the room of the Committee on Corporations.

(Signed) THOMAS SMITH,
Chairman.

Mr. Lane, Chairman of the Special Committee on the combination of Coal Carrying Roads, presented the following report which was received and read :

The Special Committee on the Combination of Coal Carrying Roads would respectfully report that a public meeting of the committee was held at Taylor's Hotel, Jersey City, on Friday, February 26th, at 2 P. M. In the absence, through illness, of the chairman, Mr. Heaney acted as chairman pro tem.

Prior to the meeting of the committee, subpoenas had been issued for the following gentlemen: A. A. McLeod, Samuel Sloan, F. F. Chambers, Samuel Knox, W. R. Taylor, S. M. Williams, J. Rogers Maxwell, Joseph S. Harris.

The Sergeant-at-Arms had been unable to find some of the gentlemen for whom subpoenas had been issued, and so reported to the committee. The only witnesses upon whom subpoenas were issued while within the state were Messrs. S. M. Williams and F. F. Chambers. Of these two gentlemen, F. F. Chambers, Secretary of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company, was the only witness who presented himself. Mr. Sloan, however, was present by counsel, ex-Governor Bedle appearing for him. Mr. Chambers was examined by the counsel of the committee, but professed ignorance as to the existence of any contract to which his road was a party. He said if one had been made his road would have known it. He admitted that recently large holdings of stock of his company had been transferred to J. Rogers Maxwell and others who are supposed to be working in harmony with railroads reported to have entered into this combination. No other witnesses appearing, the committee adjourned and met this afternoon.

A full committee was in attendance this afternoon, and a letter was presented from S. M. Williams, the comptroller of the Central Railroad Company, expressing regret for his absence from the committee meeting, stating that it was wholly unintentional, that he desired to display no disrespect to the committee, nor to question its authority, but was on his way to the hearing supposing it would continue several hours, when a message was received by him informing him that the committee had adjourned. At the hearing this afternoon it was decided to issue new subpoenas to all the directors and officers of the various railroads reported to be parties to this combination to appear at the hearing of the committee on Friday at noon.

The committee are determined to obey the instructions of the House as fully as possible, and to obtain whatever information is obtainable to aid the House in attaining the object for which the committee was appointed. They expect to prepare a bill immediately upon receipt of the papers and information necessary to guide them in their work. It is understood that the officers of certain railroads have been cited to appear before the Attorney-General of Pennsylvania on Thursday next, with such documents as may be in their possession relating to this subject. We are informed that the officers and directors of the railroads in question have no hesitancy in producing the contract and other papers desired by your committee.

At the meeting next Monday night we hope to make a full report on the subject, with such recommendations as the situation warrants.

Very respectfully yours,

THOMAS F. LANE,
GEO. A. HEANEY,
JOHN H. DALY.

The following memorial was presented by the speaker:

To the Honorable Legislature of the State of New Jersey:

HON. JAMES J. BERGEN, SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY:

The petition of the classis of Raritan convened in the chapel of the First Reformed Church, in Somerville, Somerset county, New Jersey, on February 24, 1892. Adopted by a unanimous vote most respectfully presents the following form of remonstrance:

Resolved, that the classis of Raritan views with alarm the annual attempts made to secure legal recognition or legal toleration of gambling in connection with horse racing; and hereby desires to place itself on record as opposed to all forms of gambling and lotteries of whatever form or character as subversive of public morals, and injurious to the good name and the best welfare of our state.

Resolved, that this classis as the representatives of a law-abiding constituency demands of all public officers, entrusted with the due execution thereof, the enforcement of all laws enacted for the conservation and upbuilding of good morals in our state and hereby petitions the Legislature of the State of New Jersey to preserve intact all present guarantees for the maintenance of public morals; and further to increase the same from time to time as the public welfare may require.

By order of Classis,

JOHN F. MESICK, Stated Clerk.

Mr. Cole moved, that the Special Committee on the consolidation of coal carrying roads be discharged and that the matter be referred to the standing Committee on Railroads and Canals.

Mr. Nash moved as an amendment to said motion that the matter be referred to the Attorney-General.

Which amendment was agreed to.

Mr. Potts moved as a substitute for Mr. Cole's motion, that the Special Committee should act jointly with the standing Committee on Railroads and Canals.

Which substitute was adopted.

A message was received from the Senate, by the hands of its Secretary, as follows :

NEW JERSEY CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR UNION.

REV. G. S. SYKES, President.

MISS CAROLINE H. BROOKFIELD, Sec'y and Treas.

BELVIDERE, N. J., February 29, 1892.

To the HON. JAMES J. BERGEN,

Speaker of the House of Assembly

As Secretary of the New Jersey Christian Endeavor Union and in behalf of this organization which consists of over five hundred societies, with a membership of about twenty-five thousand, of which by far the greater part are not children, let me say that as patriotic young people we are intensely interested in the celebration of the Columbian Exposition.

Allow me also to express our unanimous and earnest protest against the opening of the New Jersey exhibit of the exposition on Sunday. Resolutions commending the strong opposition made to the opening of the entire exposition on Sunday were unanimously adopted at our International Convention, held last July in the city of Minneapolis. This convention was, according to the report of a leading paper, larger than any political convention ever held in this country and represented 1,008,000 members at that time, this number has since increased to 1,100,000. The New Jersey State Convention held in the city of Newark last October, also passed unanimously, resolutions opposing the opening of the exposition on Sunday, therefore, as the greater includes the less in the name of the Endeavorers of New Jersey I ask most earnestly your co-operation in influencing the legislation on this subject in the body over which you preside.

Very respectfully,

CAROLINE N. BROOKFIELD,

Secretary.

Mr. Smith T., moved to reconsider the vote by which

To the Honorable the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of New Jersey.

We, the resident citizens or taxpayers of Monmouth and Ocean counties of said State, respectfully petition your honorable bodies to give favorable consideration to the House Bill No. 144, believing as we do that the passage of said bill will be greatly to the advantage of the vast majority of citizens and taxpayers along the coast, and believing further that it works no hardship to any citizen or taxpayer not represented by this petition.

It need hardly be stated that taxable property along the shore has been rapidly increasing the past few years, and the vast majority of owners of said property, having secured the riparian rights from the State, justly feel that they should be protected in the same, and we believe that the passage of this act will secure to us what has been lacking in the past. We therefore petition your honorable bodies to secure to us what we are justly entitled to, and we will ever pray, etc.

Signed by Joseph Patterson, Eatontown, N. J., and many others.

To the Honorable the Members of the Senate and House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

We, the resident citizens or taxpayers of Monmouth and Ocean counties of said State, respectfully petition your honorable bodies to give favorable consideration to the House Bill No. 144, believing as we do that the passage of said bill will be greatly to the advantage of the vast majority of citizens and taxpayers along the coast, and believing further that it works no hardship to any citizen or taxpayer not represented by this petition.

It need hardly be stated that taxable property along the shore has been rapidly increasing the past few years, and the vast majority of owners of said property, having secured the riparian rights from the State, justly feel that they should be protected in the same, and we believe that the passage of this act will secure to us what has been lacking in the past. We therefore petition your honorable bodies to secure to us what we are justly entitled to, and we will ever pray, etc.

Signed W. G. Harsin, Asbury Park, N. J., and many others.

Mr. Ross presented the following protest, which was received and read :

We, the undersigned voters, protest against the passage of any bill legalizing horse racing and book-making, and that we will oppose every man at the ballot-box who shall vote for any such bill.

Signed Wm. A. Massey, Ocean City, Cape May county, and many others.
