“Initial Classification Custody Document Score” means the numerical value derived from the Initial Classification Custody Document.

“Reception and Assessment Facility (RAF)” means a secure facility to which newly admitted juveniles are assigned pending classification and placement within the Commission.

“Reclassification and Custody Document (RCCD)” means the instrument used to review each juvenile’s adjustment to the initial classification assignment, and to subsequent reclassification assignments, to determine whether movement to a new custody level is warranted.

“Reclassification Score” means the numeric value derived from an objective classification scoring instrument (the RCCD) to evaluate a juvenile’s adjustment subsequent to initial classification to determine custody level and assignment.
