12:16-4.9 Tips and gratuities

If a worker receives gratuities and/or tips regularly in the course of employment from other than the employer, the gratuities and/or tips so received, if reported in writing to the employer, shall be considered taxable. The entire amount of charge tips are covered wages and are taxable to the maximum base even though the employee has not reported the entire amount to the employer. If the employee omits reporting tips, but the employer considers tips as part of an hourly rate for meeting the requirements of a Federal or State minimum wage law, it is considered that, in effect, tips have been reported to the employer to that extent and are therefore included as taxable wages.

Amended by R.1995 d.138, effective March 6, 1995.

See: 27 N.J.R. 61(a), 27 N.J.R. 919(a).

12:16-4.10 Temporary disability payments

(a) Payments made to employees under an approved Private Plan shall be considered as taxable remuneration, if payments are for a period of seven or less consecutive days following the date of disability.

(b) Payments made for periods after the seventh consecutive day following the date of disability shall not be considered as taxable.

(c) If the period of disability extends to the twenty-second day of disability and payment is made for the twenty-second day, then the first seven days, referred to in (a) above would not be considered taxable.

New Rule, R.1986 d.21, effective February 3, 1986.

See: 17 N.J.R. 2850(b), 18 N.J.R. 284(b).

12:16-4.11 Family leave insurance benefits payments

(a) Family leave insurance benefits payments made to employees under an approved private plan shall be considered taxable remuneration if the payments are for a period of seven or less consecutive days following the first day that the individual establishes a claim.

(b) Family leave insurance benefits payments made for periods after the seventh consecutive day following the first day that the individual establishes a claim shall not be considered taxable remuneration.

(c) Family leave insurance benefits payments made for seven or less consecutive days following the first day that the individual establishes a claim referred to in (a) above would not be considered taxable remuneration when:

1. The period during which family leave insurance benefits have been paid extends to 22 consecutive days, or

2. The claimant is eligible for at least one day of family leave insurance benefits in three separate weeks subsequent to the week in which the claim for family leave insurance benefits was established.
