The Clerk appointed Messrs. Smith and Iszard to conduct the Speaker to the Chair.

Mr. Hobart, upon taking the chair, said :

Gentlemen of the House of Assembly:

I need but say to you that it affords me sincere gratification to be elected as the presiding officer of so intelligent a body of men, and for the honor you have done me I pledge you in reciprocation, that if diligent effort, earnest attention to your desires, and a faithful discharge of every duty and responsibility which pertain to the office shall entitle me to your consideration and esteem, I shall endeavor to win and maintain both.

Coming as I do, a stranger and a novice to the duties of the position, I can not fail to be deeply sensible of my own present incapacity, and with that feeling upon me I can only throw myself upon the indulgence and kindly forbearance of every fellow member, and that amid the confusion and the manifold duties that pertain to the office, you shall become severe critics of my acts only when they shall seem opposed to the interests of honest legislation, or where the dignity of the State shall be involved.

We are here, representing, first the general welfare of our State, and next the particular interests of our constituencies ; thus are we bound for our acts, not only to our own consciences, but to every inhabitant of our State, for whose interests we ought to legislate. Yes, further, by the moral of our public record are we bound so to conduct ourselves that our acts, when recorded as public acts, shall be warnings or examples to all who shall succeed us.

Our places here as Legislators, no matter how they may be regarded, no matter what our previous or present lives may be, our places of power and influence—they were likewise intended to be places of dignity, of soberness, and of wisdom.

Thus it may be, as I trust it shall be, the mission of this House to be the embodiment of what a House of Assembly of this State ought to be, a place where legislation is carried on with an eye to the public welfare, where laws shall be framed which are neither unjust, odious nor oppressive, but, in short, where public and private interests shall properly and lawfully blend, where all that is done shall be done especially in the interest of honesty and good government.

If such shall be the record of this session we shall deserve well from those who know us best and trust us most, and leave for ourselves names and records both instructive and honorable. Let our object and effort then be to make the legislation of this State reputable, statesmanlike and pure; and to that end I pledge my earnest personal co-operation, and the aid of my position as your presiding officer, and in all the duties, the trials and responsibilities which surround the place to which I am invited, I ask from each member his sympathy and his kindly consideration.

The undersigned, by the instruction of The Editorial Association of the State of New Jersey, respectfully call your attention to the following official action of said Association.

The following Protest against the unnecessary increase of official newspapers in this State was presented to the Legislature of 1871:

To the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

The undersigned, in behalf, and by instruction of the Editorial Association of the State of New Jersey, take leave respectfully to protest against the passage of any special act referring to the annual publication of the laws of the State at variance with the law now in existence. This law is liberal in its terms, and gives to every inhabitant of the State the means to become acquainted with the laws by which they are to be governed, through the medium of established newspapers, without affording to other publications of an ephemeral character, or which do not properly come under the title of "newspapers," the opportunity of occasioning an increased and unnecessary expenditure by the State Treasury.

For the Association,

DAVID NARR,

President.

JOHN F. BABCOCK,

Secretary.

Trenton, N. J., January 17th, 1871.

The following copy of a bill, prepared by the Editorial Association, was presented to the Legislature of 1873, and recommended by said Association for adoption:

An act to provide for the publication of the Laws in the newspapers of the State.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That all general public laws enacted at each session of the Legislature shall be published in all of the newspapers in the State which have been published for three years consecutively prior to the commencement of the legislative session at which such laws shall be enacted; provided, however, that this limitation of three years shall not apply to any newspaper which was in existence for more than one year prior to the commencement of the session of the Legislature of 1873.

2. And be it enacted, That all special public laws enacted at each session of the Legislature shall be published in the newspapers authorized to publish the general laws in the counties only to which said special laws appertain, and the expense of such publication shall be paid by the Board of Freeholders of said counties at the rates now provided by law.

3. And be it enacted, That when more than one newspaper shall be printed and published from the same office, as morning and evening editions, or weekly editions, or more than one daily edition of such newspaper, then in such case the laws shall be published in one edition only.

4. And be it enacted, That it shall not be deemed a legal and proper publication of the laws for any newspaper to publish the same in a supplement or supplements.

5. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts, contrary to and inconsistent with this act, be and the same are hereby repealed.

6. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

The following resolution was adopted by the Editorial Association at its Annual Meeting, held in Trenton, January 15, 1874:

Resolved, That this Association view the subject of the publication of the laws as one over which they do not desire to exercise any control; that upon the Legislature alone devolves the responsibility of deciding the manner in which the people of the State are to be made acquainted with the laws passed for their government; that the publication of the laws in newspapers has not been needed or asked as a means of support for any honestly established journal, and the encouragement by public charity of papers that would otherwise have no existence is earnestly deprecated by this Association; that any enactment by the Legislature toward retrenchment or economy in the matter will be endorsed by this Association, if consistent with the public interests, and if the various regular papers of the State are treated without sectional or political partiality.

For the Association.

A. A. VANCE,

President.

JOHN F. BABCOCK,

Secretary.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY,
TRENTON, N. J., February 11, 1874. }

The undersigned, members of the Committee on Railroads and Canals, respectfully report to the House, that they have been attended by parties opposed to the passage of

Assembly bill No. 4, entitled

A further supplement to an act, entitled "An act to incorporate the Elizabeth and Newark Horse Railroad Company."

And have examined the remonstrances presented against the passage of said bill; and they are satisfied that a large majority of the people living along the line of the road proposed to be built under this supplement, and owning property thereon, are opposed to the passage of said bill.

That one ground of opposition to said bill is, that said company, by the charters and supplements they now hold, have the right to build railroads in nearly all the streets of the city of Elizabeth, as well as in Rahway and Newark; and though all the territory lying between Newark and Rahway, making in all over thirty miles of road; and although the company have held these powers from five to ten years, yet they have not built over about three or four miles of road in and near the city of Elizabeth; and have not acted in good faith in the use of their charters; and if a new road is to be built over the proposed route, it should be in the hands of other parties, which will make a healthy competition, and ensure to the public benefit.

And that a further objection to the bill, is that the present charter and supplements contain provisions unjust and injurious to the interests of the property holders interested, and against the interests of the city at large.

And the undersigned further state, that while remonstrances against said bill numerously signed by persons interested, as above stated, and by other citizens of Elizabeth, have been presented, no petition has been presented in favor of the passage of said bill.

The undersigned therefore beg leave to present a report adverse to said bill, and recommend that it do not pass,

A message was received from the Governor, at the hands of his private Secretary, Mr. Hall, as follows:

VETO MESSAGE

Upon Assembly bill No. 74, entitled

“A supplement to the Charter of Keyport.”

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
TRENTON, March 3, 1874. }

To the House of Assembly:

I return to the House of Assembly, where it originated, Bill No. 74, without my signature and with my objections thereto.

The Constitution provides that every law shall embrace but one object and that shall be expressed in its title. This bill has two distinct objects. The first five sections would properly be supplemental to acts incorporating the turnpike companies referred to therein. There is nothing in the title to give notice to the companies that their rights were to be affected by the proposed law.

The provisions of those sections, if constitutional, are certainly arbitrary and unjust. The turnpike companies affected by the bill existed before the town of Keyport was chartered.

The turnpikes were constructed at an early day, and have materially added to the prosperity of the town. There is no objection to the town authorities having charge of the streets within the town limits and directing improvements thereon, but if they desire to build culverts and sewers, and raise or lower the grade of turnpikes already built in conformity with their charters, the town should defray the expenses thereof.

There is a provision in the bill which allows the companies to abandon so much of their turnpikes as are within the town limits, and this they would probably do rather than be compelled to build culverts and sewers, and change their grade at the discretion of the commissioners, without limit as to cost. But if they abandon their roads with all their improvements, they should be compensated therefor. The town limits on the Holmdel road are about one mile from the dock, where produce is shipped for New York city, and on the Freehold road about a mile and a quarter. As the bill now stands the companies cannot surrender a part of their turnpikes, but must abandon all or no part within the town. They certainly should be paid, in case of a surrender of their franchise to a valuable part of their roads, for the improvements which the town would receive and hold, and a provision to that effect should have been inserted in the bill.

Again, if a mile on each of the turnpikes be abandoned, as this bill contemplates, the town should be obliged to keep the roads within its limits, and surrendered to it, in as good order as the charters of the turnpike companies now require. The buildings in the town, along the turnpikes, do not extend more than one-half the distance from the docks to the town limits, and the town might not keep in their present condition the roads surrendered beyond where the dwellings extend. If suffered to go out of repair, the value of the remaining part of the turnpikes would be materially diminished, because heavily loaded wagons, which might pass with ease over the turnpikes, could not reach the place of destination. This would not only be detrimental to the interest of the stockholders, but would seriously inconvenience the people of an important section of Monmouth county, who desire good roads to convey produce all the way to the place of shipment. There should have been an amendment to the bill, enjoining upon the town the duty of keeping the roads which should be abandoned to them up to the standard required by the turnpike charters.

The affidavit of a respectable person has been forwarded to me, which alleges, in substance, that while the bill was pending in one of the houses an amendment was agreed upon and inserted, in consideration of which opposition to its passage was withdrawn, (although some objectionable features were retained), and that subsequently, without the consent or knowledge of those who had objected, that amendment was stricken out and another substituted in the other house, on the allegation that the latter was the amendment which had been agreed upon. This furnishes an additional reason for returning the bill for reconsideration.

I trust a law will be passed at the present session of the Legislature, which will enable the people of the town of Keyport to perfect all desirable improvements; but it should be so guarded as not to infringe upon the rights of others, or interfere with the proper accommodation of the public.

JOEL PARKER.

Mr. Iszard, from the Committee on Fisheries, offered the following report:

The Committee on Fisheries of the Senate and House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey, having been directed by a resolution made February 4, 1874, to visit the State hatching house in charge of Dr. Slack, at Troutdale, near Bloomsbury, Warren county, and report thereupon, would most respectfully submit the following report:

That upon Friday, February 14, 1874, the committee, accompanied by Senator Newkirk, Hon. G. W. Patterson, S.

Chew, of the West Jersey Press, and John L. Murphy of the State Gazette, left Trenton at 7:40 A. M., arriving at Troutdale at 12 M., where we found the Doctor in readiness to receive us, which he did with a smiling countenance and a peculiar twinkle of the eye. We were conducted through the hatching house and around the ponds by the Doctor, who gave us a history of each department of the process as we proceeded.

A thorough examination of the grounds and buildings with their contents were sufficient to prove to the most skeptical that fish culture is no longer an experiment, but a perfect success in every respect; that fishes have and can be hatched in unlimited quantities, and that it is but a question of time and a small expenditure of money, to restore our exhausted streams to their full fish-producing capacity.

The hatching house to which the attention of the committee was first directed, is a frame building, seventy-five feet long, fifteen feet wide, and twelve feet high; twenty feet of length having been added during the past season by Dr. Slack for the accommodation of the myriads of fishes with which he has been stocking the waters of our State.

Its contents may be divided into two classes; first, the apparatus used in hatching the spawn; and secondly, that for the care of the young during its earliest stage of existence. Upon grilles, as they are called, rods of glass enclosed in a wooden frame and sunk one inch below the surface, in boxes of galvanized iron, were seen thousands of trout spawn in an advanced state of incubation. Through the transparent egg shell even the pupils of the eyes of these embryo fishes could be plainly distinguished with the naked eye. When hatched the young fall through the interstices between the rods, and by removing a cork are drawn out, thoroughly washed, and placed on clean gravel, in what are called the nursery troughs. These are wooden troughs of various sizes, so arranged as to afford the utmost economy of space, and giving in all over five hundred square feet of trough room. They are coated interiorly with liquid slating, thus giving a firm, hard, and water-tight surface. As is well known, the young fishes delight in rapid, shallow, shady streams; these qualities are very closely imitated in the Troutdale trough. By means of a four inch pipe, an ample supply of cold, clear, spring water of the unvarying temperature of fifty degrees Fahrenheit is given to the troughs. A fall of one inch in fifteen feet gives sufficient rapidity of flow. Cross boards placed at short intervals, and reaching nearly to the surface of the water break the stream into ripples, while shade is afforded by darkening the windows of the hatching house with thick muslin curtains. The object aimed at and thus actually obtained, is a close observance of nature, while protection is afforded from the numerous enemies which in nature attack the spawn and young fishes.

In the troughs your committee were shown over one hundred thousand salmon, destined for the waters of our State. During the past season over three hundred and fifty thousand salmon have been hatched within the walls of this building, besides ten thousand salmon trout and over one hundred thousand brook trout, making all a grand total of nearly half a million of fishes. In addition to this, two hundred thousand salmon spawn were daily expected to arrive from Maine.

The history of the early salmon spawn may show the enormous extent to which fish culture may be carried. They were taken by Mr. L. Stone, upon the head waters of the MeLeod river, in extreme northern California, were packed, transported by wagons to Redding, (Cal.) and from thence by rail to Bloomsbury. It is true, many died, but the percentage of loss on the entire lot, we are told, was not more than thirty-three per cent., a much less percentage of loss than occurs in the great German governmental establishment at Hunningue.

As a specimen of the immense amount of skilled labor requisite in the proper care of these spawn, we might state that Dr. Slack and his assistants were employed five days in unpacking one lot of two hundred and fifty thousand spawn.

All this work has been thus far done without one cent of expense to the State. The spawn were furnished by the United States Commission of Fish and Fisheries, and while for a short time, the expenses of transportation and care were defrayed by the United States since January 1st, 1874; the entire expense has been paid by Dr. Slack. During the year 1873 thirty-eight thousand salmon, and six thousand salmon trout were raised and placed in the Raritan and Delaware rivers.

Finally, inasmuch as the experiment has been made and proved a positive success beyond all question, and as the natural supply of fish in our streams has been very materially reduced and almost exhausted, your committee think it eminently proper and just that the State should cooperate with our Fish Commissioner, Dr. Slack, and give to him that recognition and encouragement that is justly due him; and would recommend that the necessary appropriations be made from time to time that will be required to keep up the supply of food fishes, and bring them within the reach of the poor as well as the rich.

Mr. Washburn presented the following minority report of said committee:

MINORITY REPORT

On Assembly bill No. 345.

The undersigned respectfully submit to the Assembly the following minority Report:

The majority of the committee have offered an amendment to the bill, submitting the expediency of the building of the Hudson County Avenue to the people. This amendment is of doubtful constitutionality, and in the judgment of the undersigned, is an unnecessary delay of a public improvement.

that is imperatively demanded by the property owners of Hudson county, by all interested in the prosperity of the county, and in the increase of the taxable property therein.

In the case of The City of Paterson against the Society for Establishing Useful Manufactures—4 Zabriskie, page 385, &c., &c.—the Supreme Court, while holding that an act may provide for submitting a municipal charter to the people of a city or municipality for acceptance or rejection, yet holds that submitting to the people the question whether or not it is expedient to do a particular thing, or pass a particular act, is unconstitutional—that the legislative power is expressly vested by our constitution in the Legislature, and cannot be exercised directly by the people, and an act passed in any other way than provided by the constitution is void. It is very doubtful, therefore, if this act should be passed with such amendment, whether or not it would be valid.

The proceedings looking to the construction of the Hudson County Avenue were commenced under an act passed by the last Legislature, and such action has been taken, that with the passage of this supplemental act, the commissioners can proceed immediately with the opening and construction of the avenue. This supplemental act is to make the original act operative under the recent decision of the Supreme Court in relation thereto. It is not to enlarge the powers of the commissioners or to do any new thing, but only to enable them to carry out the original improvement in accordance with the views of such decision. A submission to the people will unduly delay this work and increase the expense, as well as endanger the validity of the act itself.

The Legislature should act directly upon the act—if they deem it proper, pass it ; if improper, vote it down.

The undersigned do not believe in the attempt of the Legislature to evade direct responsibility in this matter, but ask for direct and prompt action on the bill itself.

RICHARD C. WASHBURN.

Mr. Morrow offered the following:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY.

In General Assembly.

March 4th, 1874.

WHEREAS, It appears, at page 408 in the official printed report of the testimony taken by a select committee, appointed on March 11, 1873, by the Assembly of the State of New York to investigate alledged mismanagement on the part of the Erie Railway Company, that on April 5, 1873, Peter H. Watson, President of said company, testified before said committee as follows:

About the commencement of the present session of this Legislature, several persons spoke to me on the question of fares; they said that was a vulnerable point, and there would most likely be a good deal of hostile legislation on that point unless we resorted to the practice that heretofore had been adopted, in relation to that class of things.

Question.—I propose to ask again, who it was who so approached you; whether he was a member of the Legislature, or otherwise; who intimated to you that it was necessary to make use of the usual appliances to prevent legislation?

Answer.—There have been a variety of those persons who have given information of that kind; and when the Committee of the New Jersey Legislature came over, that question came up. I said to them—I had rather spend money to get some of them into the penitentiary, than to pay anything to avert hostile legislation; I have refused to pay anything in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, or New York; I have said to all who came making such intimations as I have indicated; and

WHEREAS, By a report of the proceedings of a meeting of the English shareholders of said railway, held at the Cannon Street Hotel, in the city of London, Great Britain, on September 25, 1873, printed in the New York World of October 5, 1873, it appears that said President, in a speech, then and there made to said shareholders, stated among other things, that he had stopped the $1,200,000 which were formerly sent to Albany; that some of the members of the New Jersey Legislature had intimated that a little money would stop hostile legislation, and that he had said that he would not pay them a cent, but would pay $30,000 in order to get some of them into the penitentiary; and

WHEREAS, It appears by said report, that such statements were made to said English shareholders, with the intent and for the purpose of inducing them to make a loan of thirty millions of dollars to said Erie Railway Company, and

WHEREAS, Said Peter H. Watson, in January, 1873, issued to the members of the Legislature of New Jersey limited passes over said railway, instead of the annual passes as required by the statutes of this State, granting certain franchises to said company, and

WHEREAS, It is alleged that the Committee from the New Jersey Legislature, to which said Watson refers, visited him solely for the purpose of apprising him of and enabling him to correct his error in the issue of such improper and limited passes, and to procure their Annual Erie Passes for 1873, and for no other purpose or purposes whatever; and

WHEREAS, It is alleged that, subsequently, and in April and May, 1873, sundry persons in the employ of said Peter H. Watson, with his knowledge and by his approbation, procured and purchased from several members of the New Jersey Legislature their passes for 1873, theretofore issued to them by said President, and that his said employes thereupon returned the same to him; and

WHEREAS, The said testimony and statements thus alleged to have been published by said Watson, are slanderous, and tend to injure the reputation of New Jersey and the character of her Representatives; and such proceedings as above set forth to have been by him done and permitted, are highly reprehensible. Now, therefore,

Resolved, That a Select Committee of five, to be appointed by the Speaker, be, and they are hereby authorized and directed to investigate the truthfulness of said respective allegations touching the character of the members of this House, and of said improper and corrupt acts, and to report thereon to this House, within fifteen days, with their opinion as to what legislation or action is necessary in the premises, and that said committee be authorized to send for persons and papers.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of Mr. Hall, his Private Secretary, as follows :

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
TRENTON, N. J., March 4, 1874. }

To the Legislature :

I have received a letter from an officer of a Savings Bank in this State, which is included in the list of inoperative acts made by Comptroller under the law of last year, claiming that the said bank is not and never has been liable to assessment, because of a clause in its charter which declares that it shall be a public act. A legal opinion to the same effect has been forwarded.

I have always supposed that the object of inserting that provision in acts plainly of a private character was to obviate the necessity of pleading them specially, but as doubt may exist as to the effect of the language, I recommend that no private act be declared a public act unless a clause be added providing that such language shall not be construed to exempt the law from assessment as a private act.

A savings bank has been chartered by a law passed at the present session, which declares the act to be a public act. I did not return it for reconsideration but permitted it to become a law, because the money to pay the assessment was deposited with the Secretary of State.

This fact, together with the opinion recently given, have directed my attention to the subject and have induced me to recommend that the Legislature will take care that no words be used that will exempt private acts from assessment under existing laws.

Which was received and ordered spread upon the minutes.

The undersigned, members of the House of Assembly, State of New Jersey, herewith present their protest as to the proceedings had on

Senate bill No. 97, entitled

A supplement to an act, entitled "An act to reorganize the local government of Jersey City," passed March 31, 1874.

Because on the presentation of said bill to the House, after passage in the Senate, and after reading the message under which said bill was presented, and after said bill had been referred to the Committee on Municipal Corporations, and during the session of the House, five minutes did not elapse before said bill was reported again back to the House, in open violation of Rule No. 37, of this House, declaring that no bill shall be considered by committee during the session of this House without leave having been obtained, and because the said bill was never in committee to be considered, as Mr. Lindsay, member of that committee stated at the time of its report that although in the House, and in view of his colleagues on said committee, he had never been called into conference on said bill by said committee, and because after said bill was presented to the House under report from said committee, no vote was ordered or taken by the Speaker thereof as to its acceptance or rejection, and because under the ruling of the Speaker of the House when said bill was ordered to a second reading, and demand was made by a number of the members of the minority for a reading of the same, the Speaker, in open violation of all parliamentary law, refused to permit said bill to be read, and because the Constitution of this State required that all bills shall be read, and means and intends that said bills shall be read in the order of their readings; it has been openly violated by the proceedings on bill No. 97, herein stated; and because on the motion to reconsider a vote had hereon to indefinitely postpone said bill, no quorum has voted, and the Speaker had erred in pronouncing the said motion as adopted, when in fact and in truth no motion can be adopted without a quorum voting. Wherefore the undersigned most earnestly protest against said proceedings on Senate bill No. 97, and require that this their protest shall be spread at large on the minutes of the House of Assembly.

Signed,

The committee have had three meetings, at which meetings the following gentlemen were examined: Hon. Isaac L. We would suggest and recommend that in order to prevent in the future such mistakes, that a defacing stamp be procured by the Clerk of the House, and it shall be his duty when a bill has been lost on its final passage to stamp on the jurat of the bill the fact of its failure to become a law, and that the bill shall there remain in possession of the Clerk until the time for reconsidering the same has passed. The majority of the members of the special Committee of Investigation on Riparian Rights, on leave, made the following REPORT.

To the Honorable the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

The joint committee on riparian rights who were charged by joint resolution with the duty of inquiring "as to what companies, corporations and individuals occupy lands on the bay of New York, the Hudson river, and elsewhere in this State, without having paid any compensation," respectfully report that they have discharged the duty imposed upon them.

The committee summoned before them, and examined and heard statements from all the Riparian Commissioners, the Attorney-General, Hon. Benjamin Williamson, and Hon. Cortlandt Parker, and have thoroughly investigated the facts and circumstances concerning the tresspasses of the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey, upon lands under water belonging to the State, and the litigation consequent thereon, and the negotiations for a compromise thereof; and also, the general action of the Riparian Commission, and the state officers connected therewith, as to past grants and leases, and the cause of delay thereon,

As to the matter of the Central Railroad Company, the committee are of opinion that both the Riparian Commissioners and Attorney-General, in the negotiations for compromise, and the conduct of the litigation between the State and that Company, have been actuated by the purest motives, and a single desire to promote and secure the best interests of the State; while it is, notwithstanding, a matter of regret that conscientious differences of opinion between them have protracted both the litigation and the negotiations, and have prevented a speedier settlement of the matter. After thoroughly considering the merits of the controversy with the Central Railroad Company, and taking legal advice thereupon, your committee are clearly of the opinion that the company are occupying large tracts of land belonging to the state, without warrant in law for such occupation: but in view of the delays which have already occurred, and the equities set up in behalf of the company, your committee believe that the interests of both parties would be subserved by a compromise between them.

The committee therefore recommend that all the lands under water belonging to the State, and claimed by the Central Railroad Company, be granted in fee to that company, upon payment by that company to the State of the sum of five hundred thousand dollars; and that the acceptance of such grant and the payment of said sum, be annexed as a proviso and condition to any supplement to the charter of that company, or any act presented on their behalf, now pending before or hereafter presented to the Legislature of New Jersey.

As to the pending applications for further grants and leases, and the causes of delay therein, the committee are of opinion that both commissioners and the state officers officially connected with them, have acted purely and uprightly therein, and that their differences of opinion have been conscientious on all sides. As to the merits of the controversies between them, so many technical and purely legal questions are involved therein, that the committee are unable to express an opinion upon them.

Nevertheless, these difference have been most unfortunate; have caused great delays, and have prevented the receipt by the state of rentals, and purchase money of lands under tide-water, amounting in the aggregate to more than one hundred thousand dollars. To prevent further delays and loss, and to more perfectly protect and secure the rights of the State in her lands under tide-water, the Joint Committee have prepared and herewith present a bill, the provisions of which they think will effectually remove the existing difficulties, and they unanimously recommend its passage at the earliest practicable moment.

WM. J. SEWELL,

Chairman Joint Committee on Riparian Rights.

JOHN Y. FOSTER,

Secretary.

Which was read, and on motion of Mr. Morrow, 200 copies were ordered printed.

Resolved, That in the death of Charles Sumner we recall the dire effects of the first blow for slavery, which eventually aroused a realization of the indignity, and culminated in the emancipation of a race to whom that life was committed and for whom his last sentence was uttered.

Resolved, That in the death of Charles Sumner we deplore the fact of the rapid disappearance from the public stage of the statesmen, who have guided the country through the troublous waters of the last decade, and can only trust that his self-sacrificing devotion, purity of character, breadth of comprehension of public duty and fidelity in its discharge, will in exciting emulation advance the standard and enhance the character of American statesmanship.

Resolved, That these resolutions be signed by the officers of the House, the members of the committee, be properly engrossed, and transmitted to the President of the United States Senate and the State of Massachusetts.

Resolved, That in the loss of this great man to the nation, we join with our sister States in mourning his departure, because we thereby lose his bright example.

Resolved, That the Legislature of the State of New Jersey give to the nation a heartfelt sorrow at his loss, and speaking for her citizens extend to all those who surrounded him a deep and heartfelt sympathy for their immediate loss, with the trust that we shall again meet the patriot whose memory belongs to a common country.

A further supplement to the act, entitled "An act to appoint commissioners to erect an addition and make repairs in the State House," approved March 31, 1871.

Which was read a first time by its title and ordered to be printed.

The Committee on Public Buildings also submitted the following report :

To the House of Assembly :

The Committee on Public Buildings, to whom was referred the resolution of this House of March 10th, requesting it to consider the propriety of changing the Lobbies of this House into Committee Rooms, for the accommodation of the several committees, and to consider any other changes that may be deemed by them necessary for the general improvement of the Chamber, beg leave to report :

That the Speaker's Room and Clerk's Room, in the rear, be dispensed with, adding the entire depth of the building in that direction to the floor of the Assembly Chamber, continuing the gallery walls that form the lobbies to the rear walls.

The lobbies on both sides of the Chamber be cut up into three rooms each, in such sizes as may be most suitable and convenient for the use of the Speaker, Clerks, Cloak and Committee Rooms, thus occupying the whole of the space on both sides beneath the galleries.

In removing the walls on the rear, there would be substituted two columns on each side of the Speaker's desk to form three archways, corresponding with those on the galleries at the front or entrance to the room. By this arrangement there would be a gain of about fourteen (14) feet from the entrance, also having the advantage of the four windows on Delaware street, opening direct to the Assembly Chamber. The ceiling and galleries will be undisturbed.

It will be necessary in this arrangement to remove the present staging for the desks, and so staying it up that the desks will be placed on three semi-circles and the outer row a segment, thereby giving more space between the seats and the gallery walls.

The present Assembly Chamber contains two thousand one hundred and eighty-four (2,184) square feet.

The enlargement will be fifty-four (54) by fifty-two (52) feet, with a recess of twenty-four (24) by seven (7) feet behind the Speaker's chair, giving two thousand nine hundred and seventy-six (2,976) square feet, increasing the area of the Chamber by seven hundred and ninety-two (792) square feet. This will make the Chamber more than one-third larger than at present.

This alteration and improvement, all complete, including carpet, furniture and frescoing, will not cost more than five thousand (5,000) dollars.

In the opinion of your Committee, this improvement will not only add to the capacity of the Chamber, but to its effective appearance.

The Committee report herewith the following bill:

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Mr. Schenck presented the following minority report of the Committee on Riparian Rights:

MINORITY REPORT.

To the Honorable the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey :

The minority of the committee do not concur with the recommendation of the majority, that the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey should not have the benefit of further legislation until they have settled with the State for the claim made on its behalf in Communipaw bay.

It appeared before the committee that the company constructed their railroad and established their ferry after complying with all the provisions of their charter.

The charter required them to purchase the rights of the riparian owners before constructing their road. This they did, and paid for other rights upwards of $200,000. Up to that time the State has made no claim to such riparian rights, and having compelled the company to pay for them to the owners of the upland, it could not reasonably be supposed that the State would call on the company to pay for those same rights a second time.

The compensation reserved to the State was one-half of one per cent. for every dollar expended by the company. That has been annually paid into the State treasury; so that it appears that the company took possession of the property by the authority of the State, and has faithfully complied with every provision of their charter in acquiring such possession.

After the company had expended more than a million and a half of dollars, the riparian rights increased rapidly in value, and it was then suggested that the company had acquired property not covered by their grant. The riparian commissioners taking this view, directed legal proceedings to be commenced against the company, and a suit was instituted in January, 1870, for the purpose of having the legal rights of the company ascertained.

It is no fault of the company that the suit has not been brought to a determination long ago; the company placed their title upon the records of the court, and there it has stood ready for a decision whenever the court should be called upon to make it.

The company could do no more. If their claim is a just one, and if, as they insist, the State has made them a grant for this property, no just legislator will say that they should be deprived of the benefit of it, except by due course of law.

The State ought not to attempt to force the settlement of a claim which the company insist is without foundation. They have the same right to the benefit of the legal tribunals of the country as any other corporation, or as any individual. They are here asking the Legislature for facilities to enlarge and perfect their improvements. No objection has been suggested to the propriety or reasonableness of such request. No compensation is asked of them for the facilities which they require. But it is proposed to say to them unless you compromise a suit, which, in the name of the State, has been instituted against you, and pay $500,000 for the property to which you claim title and are defending in the legal tribunals of the State, you will have no longer the encouragement or benefit of legislation. Is this just? Is this the mode in which the State should enforce its demands, determined to compel a submission to them, right or wrong?

The unreasonableness of this mode of legislation is more apparent from the consideration that the claim on the part of the State cannot be jeopardised by any protracted litigation. It is fast property, upon which are valuable improvements to an amount very far exceeding any pecuniary claim made by the State. If the State is successful in the litigation, the possession of the property must pass directly into its hands, without any further resistance on the part of the company.

The riparian commissioners, who have had the sole charge of this matter, on behalf of the State, and under whose direction the suit referred to was commenced, who are perfectly familiar with the controversy and the claim upon which it is based, have earnestly endeavored to effect a compromise, and have at last accomplished it on the basis of $300,000 to be paid by the company.

The commissioners have been before the committee, and each has stated, under oath, that this compromise has been acquiesced in by them after much patient labor and investigation, and in view of what is just and for the best interest of the State.

While the papers are being prepared for execution, and the details of the settlement arranged, it is proposed by the majority report to take it out of the control of the commissioners, and to pass in effect, a vote of censure upon them. The exalted character of the gentlemen who compose this commission, and the confidence which the people of New Jersey repose in their judgment and integrity, make such action, at least, very questionable. It would be best to leave the whole matter in their hands, and the responsibility where it properly belongs.

In conclusion, your committee would suggest, whether the mode of legislation proposed, is not an admission of the weakness of its claim, and of serious doubts whether it can be maintained at law.

We recommend that any proper demands which the State has against the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey, be prosecuted with vigor and in the usual way, and that no resort be had to any device which can possibly compromise the dignity of the State.

JOHN G. SCHENCK,

Chairman of House Committee.

M., March 20.

Mr. Hemmingway, from the Committee on State Prison, to whom was referred the charges of lack of discipline and inefficiency of the principal keeper, which charges bear date the fourth day of February, 1874, report in reference thereto that after giving notice from the bar of this House that the committee would hear charges made in writing and limiting the time to one week, which limit has long since expired, and not a single communication having been received, your committee further report that they have, after considerable enquiry, and after visiting the State Prison and giving the management and discipline a careful and thorough enquiry, they not only relieve the keeper from all of the charges, but they feel called upon to bear witness to the thorough and efficient discipline and general good management evident in the different departments, and your committee are inclined to believe that the charges were not made with an understanding or belief of any irregularity or inefficiency, but with the view of influencing the passage of a bill pending before this House at the time of the introduction of the said resolution; and your committee also bear personal testimony to the very capable and thorough discipline which has made the New Jersey State Prison almost or quite a self-supporting institution, and believe the State has, in the keeper, Charles Wilson, an officer excelled by none, and equalled by few of the officers who have had the management of that institution. in charge.

Mr. Borton, from the Committee on Railroads and Canals, made the following investigation report:

To the House of Assembly:

The Committee on Railroads and Canals, having been by concurrent resolution adopted on the twenty-eighth of January, 1874, directed to investigate the management of the New Jersey Southern Railroad Company, the Long Branch and Sea Shore Railroad Company, the Pemberton and New York Railroad Company, and the Vineland Railway Company, and the business thereof during all the time they or either of them have been in operation, and concerning any abuse by them or either of them of their respective franchises and privileges, and what are the amounts of their property, real and personal, and what amounts of money the said corporations or either of them owe to the State of New Jersey; and to investigate and report whether the charters of all or either of them have been forfeited to the State, respectfully report:

That soon after entering upon the investigation as directed by the resolution, the principal and urgent reason for a speedy investigation was removed by the passage by the Legislature of an act under which the Chancellor of the State appointed a person to take charge of and separate the above named roads, the operation of which had been for several weeks suspended to the great inconvenience, detriment and loss of the persons residing along the line of the said road.

The committee, however, proceeded with the investigation as directed, and have summoned before them and examined a large number of witnesses, these being chiefly persons who from their connection in various capacities with the railroads in question were presumed to be familiar with the management and business of the several corporations.

The corporations named in the resolution, although created by different acts of the Legislature, and existing originally under separate organizations, have for some years past been operated by the corporation known as the "New Jersey Southern Railroad Company," under authority granted by the Legislature in 1870, so that it may be said that a statement of the operations of that company necessarily comprises an exhibit of the management, business and operations of the four companies specified in the resolution.

The evidence laid before the committee indicates that the management of the affairs of this combination of corporations has been of such a character that it may, without impropriety, be termed reckless, wasteful and extravagant; large amounts have been expended for purposes not contemplated by the acts of incorporation, such as the construction, purchase and equipment of railways, out of the State, purchasing and improving a hotel property and conducting a hotel at Long Branch, upon which, as shown by the evidence, nearly fifty thousand dollars have been expended, and which was, at the time of the expenditure, and is now claimed to be the property of an individual and not of the corporation; the purchase of unnecessarily expensive steamboats, to ply between Sandy Hook and New York, and running the said boats in an enormously expensive manner.

The practical result of a management of this character has been to render the corporations virtually insolvent, the creditors receive no interest on the bonds they hold, the stockholders receive no dividends, the wages of employees are in arrears, the state is deprived of the revenue contemplated when the franchises were granted, and which indeed were made a condition of the franchises, the citizens living along the line of the roads are practically defrauded, inasmuch as they have purchased property, erected dwellings, established manufactories and projected enterprises, the value and success of which depend upon the possession of railroad facilities, which, under the acts of the Legislature they have a right to expect, and of which they have been deprived through the insolvency of the corporations created by those acts.

It is not claimed by the committee that the peculiar management of the affairs of these corporations is to be termed an "abuse of their franchises," but it may be said with justice that an injudicious use has been made of the privileges granted them by the Legislature, and the committee feel fully warranted in saying that the objects contemplated by the State in creating these corporations have not only not been accomplished, but have been most signally defeated by the action of those to whom the privileges in question were granted; they have notably failed to comply with the conditions of their charters and the laws of the State in respect to the annual statements required to be made to the Legislature through the State Comptroller, for although annual statements have been made they have not met the requirements of the law, and have not been such as to exhibit the condition of the affairs of the companies. They have also failed to comply with the provisions of their charters which impose upon them a State tax, thereby depriving the State of a portion of its legitimate revenue and utterly failing in this respect to fulfill the contract entered into by them with the Legislature and the people.

It was found impossible to ascertain with any degree of accuracy the amounts of real and personal property of the several corporations named in the resolution, because of the wide differences of opinion among the several witnesses as to the value of the property, and also because some of the property had been removed from the control of the company; a portion of the rolling stock having been placed upon roads in Delaware or Maryland, and some or all of the steamboats having been taken to Rhode Island and there sold at prices far below what was paid for them by the company but a short time before. Each of the acts of incorporation provide that the president of the company shall annually make a return of the cost of the road with its equipments and appendages, and the statements which have been made show the indebtedness of the several corporations, and this indebtedness is presumed to be represented by the real and personal property owned by them.

The returns made for the year 1873, to the State Comptroller, are as follows:

NEW JERSEY SOUTHERN RAILROAD.

Capital Stock,	$5,000,000.00
First Mortgage Bonds,	2,000,000.00
Second Mortgage Bonds,	1,000,000.00
Toms River Branch Bonds,	120,000.00
	$8,120,000.00
"Consolidated " Bonds,	1,700,000.00
	$9,820,000.00

LONG BRANCH AND SEA SHORE RAILROAD COMPANY.

Capital Stock,	$171,800.00
Mortgage Debt,	200,000.00
	$371,800.00

PEMBERTON AND NEW YORK RAILROAD COMPANY.

Capital Stock,	$500,000.00
Mortgage Debt,	375,000.00
	$875,000.00

VINELAND RAILWAY COMPANY.

Capital Stock,	$1,000,000.00
Mortgage Debt,	750,000.00
	$1,750,000.00

Presuming these figures to represent the value of the property owned by these four corporations, an aggregate is shown of twelve million, eight hundred and sixteen thousand, eight hundred dollars ($12,816,800.)

The taxes due the State from these corporations amount in the aggregate, with accrued interest to the present time, to upwards of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) and your committee learn that measures are now being taken by the proper State officers to establish and collect this claim.

With respect to the question whether the charters of all or either of these corporations have been forfeited to the State, the committee find from examination of the several acts of incorporation, that no specific provision has been made for the forfeiture of the charters by reason of abuse or misuse of the privileges granted thereby, and the question of forfeiture for such reasons is rather a matter for judicial decision, than for the determination of the committee or legislature. They find, however, with respect to the Long Branch and Sea Shore Railroad Company, whose road is the most important and profitable link in the line of road controlled by the New Jersey Southern Railroad Company, that the assessment required to be paid for the passage of private acts has never been paid, and that the charter of this company is, therefore, under the terms of the statute, inoperative and void.

The companies referred to in the resolution are now before the courts of the State in suits instituted, as your committee is informed, by both secured and unsecured creditors, and it is not therefore deemed advisable to make to the Legislature any recommendation concerning them at the present juncture, but the investigations of the committee have made manifest the necessity for some legislation to compel corporations created by the State to furnish the annual statements which which the law requires, and to pay such taxes as may be imposed upon them by the Legislature; to which end the annexed bill is reported, and its passage earnestly recommended.

Respectfully submitted.

SAMUEL HOPKINS,

Chairman.

VETO MESSAGE.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,	}
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, N. J., March 23, 1874.

To the House of Assembly:

I return to the House of Assembly, where it originated, bill No. 195, entitled “An act to set off from the township of Alexandria, in the county of Hunterdon, a new township to be called the township of Holland,” with my objections thereto.

I have heard the statements of the advocates and opponents of this bill, and have come to the conclusion that no good reason for dividing the township exists.

According to the census of the year 1870, the population of the township of Alexandria was only three thousand three hundred and forty-one. The number of voters is a little over eight hundred. This number of votes can easily be polled in one ballot-box within the time prescribed by law. There are now two polling places in the township, and the places where elections are held are located near the centre of the respective districts, so that all can readily reach the polls.

But if the population were large, and necessity to divide the township existed, the best line of partition would be that which now separates the polling districts.

The division by a line running as proposed in this bill would subject a large number of the inhabitants to great inconvenience. The residents of the northern and northeastern portions of the township would be obliged to travel a greater distance than now to reach the place where elections would be held.

The division contemplated by this bill would place the bulk of the good land in the new township.

It will take from Alexandria nearly all of the river front and rich valley, and leave in it a large tract of mountainous, poor land. It would impose upon the inhabitants of Alexandria, who are least able to bear the burthen, the care of the worst roads, and nearly all the poor who are a public charge.

A few persons in the new township, near the place fixed in the bill for holding town meeting, would be slightly benefitted; but the majority of the people of both portions would be put to inconvenience; and their taxes increased by multiplying the number of officers.

I am informed that only about one-fourth of the voters of the whole township approve the proposed division.

Under these circumstances I think this bill should not become a law. The ancient lines of townships should not be disturbed, unless it appear that a majority of the inhabitants will be benefitted by the change. The many should not be incommoded to gratify the few.

JOEL PARKER.

Mr. Jones, from the Committee on Banks and Insurance, presented the following:

To the House of Assembly:

Your committee charged with the investigation of the affairs of the Anchor Life Insurance Company beg leave to report:

That they have been obliged to confine their inquiry to the condition of the company's affairs since they passed into the hands of the receiver. Although diligent effort has been made, we have been unable to secure the attendance of the late executive officers of the company, with the exception of the late Vice President, who came promptly forward and answered every inquiry frankly and fully; excuses, apparently, but the cover of a determination not to appear were made by other officers of the company, and being non-residents, we have not been able to enforce attendance.

From such testimony as we have been able to adduce, and by the annual report of the company for the year ending December 31st, 1871, made under oath to the insurance department of the State of New York, it appears that the company was at that date in a sound and prosperous condition. An increase of the capital stock of the company had been made during that year of fifty-six thousand dollars, which amount was paid in in cash, as was the original capital of one hundred thousand dollars. The business of that year showed an excess of receipts over expenditures of nearly fifty thousand dollars, exclusive of increased capital stock as above, and the gross assets of the company exceeded its liabilities at that date by over ninety-six thousand dollars. Notwithstanding these facts, in October, 1872, the company appeared to have been hopelessly bankrupt, and upon examination by one of the most eminent of American actuaries in March, 1873, on a statement of its affairs at that time, it appeared that its available assets were only sufficient to pay thirty-five per centum of its liabilities.

The affairs of the company from the time they were taken in charge by the receiver, Mr. Francis Robinson, of New York, appear to have been honestly and prudently administered; the assets, so far as they have been realized, seem to have been strictly applied to the adjustment of the claims of creditors; and, to facilitate the adjustment of these claims fifty thousand dollars in cash have been advanced by members of the board of directors. The stockholders of the company do not appear to have realized one dollar on their original investment, nor more than seven per centum in dividends thereon, in any one year—the rate fixed by the company's charter.

The board of directors and the policy holders of the company appear to have been alike deceived and misled by the management of the company. The directors, on the first suspicion of unsoundness, acted promptly in deposing the executive officers in order to save as much as possible of the rapidly receding assets; the vice president earnestly co-operating to secure that result.

This company was but nominally a New Jersey corporation, its principal business office being located in New York city, and a large majority of its directors being citizens of New York. Its affairs had been examined by the insurance department of New York and were pronounced sound; its management was heartily and repeatedly commended by almost the whole if not the entire insurance press of the country, which latter facts, together with the former unimpaired character of those in immediate control went far to mislead the public and produce an unwarranted and dangerous confidence and sense of security on the part of the board of directors.

From all the facts before us we are led to conclude that the present management of the business of the company is sound and honest, and conducted with a view to close up its affairs as speedily as consistent with the interest of the remaining creditors, and we therefore would recommend that the bill now before the House authorizing the withdrawal of the securities, amounting to about $92,000, deposited with the State Treasurer for the benefit of policy holders, guarded as it is by a provision that the withdrawal and disbursement of these securities shall be subject to the approval of the Secretary of State and the State Treasurer receive favorable consideration.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Chairman of Committee on Banks and Insurance.

Assembly bill No. 252, entitled

An act to extend the operations of an act, entitled "A supplement to an act concerning roads," approved April 16, 1846, which supplement was approved March 14, 1859.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, N. J., March 25, 1874. }

To the House of Assembly:

I return for reconsideration, Assembly bill No. 252, entitled "An act to extend the operations of an act, entitled 'A supplement to an act concerning roads,' approved April 16, 1846, which supplement was approved March 24, 1859.

This bill purports to extend the operation of the act entitled "A supplement to an act concerning roads," approved April 16, 1846, which supplement was approved March 24, 1859, to streets and highways, within the limits of any municipal corporation.

Upon examining the digest and the laws of 1859, I cannot find that any supplement to the road act was approved on the 24th day of March, 1859.

This act, if passed, would therefore be inoperative.

JOEL PARKER.

The following message was also received from the Governor relative to

Assembly bill No. 585, entitled

A further supplement to an act, entitled "An act relative to Juries and Verdicts," approved April 17, 1846.

Which was read as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
TRENTON, March 25, 1874. }

To the House of Assembly:

I return to the House of Assembly, where it originated, Assembly bill No. 585, entitled "A further supplement to the act, entitled "An act relative to Juries and Verdicts," approved April 17, 1846," with my objections thereto.

This bill extends to the county of Essex the supplement to the act relative to juries and verdicts, passed April 4, 1873. That supplement created a commission of jurors for Hudson county, to consist of two persons to be appointed for two years by a major part of the judges of the Court of Common Pleas of the county. To the commission thus created is entrusted the power of selecting grand and petit jurors. The two commissioners may be paid twenty dollars a day for the time employed by them, and there is no limit in the bill to the time they may be employed.

My objections to the bill passed at the last session of the legislature, which provided for the appointment of commissioners of jurors for the county of Hudson, were fully stated in my message returning the same to the senate for reconsideration, and may be found in the Legislative Documents of 1873.

Time has confirmed the views then expressed, and as this bill proposes to extend the same law to the county of Essex, I will now state my objections to the bill in the language then used:—

“The verdicts of jurors in this State have generally given great satisfaction, insomuch that to-day New Jersey is famed throughout the country for her strict and impartial administration of the law. Before we sanction an innovation of our law in this regard, established as it is by the experience of more than a century, we should be sure that the proposed change would give us better jurors.

“What assurance have we that commissioners appointed by the major part of the Common Pleas Judges chosen for the several counties by joint meeting of the legislature, would execute this important trust with greater fidelity and impartiality than the sheriffs, who are elected directly by the people.

“If we have just and fair men to select and impanel our jurors, it makes but little difference, practically, by whom they are chosen, or whether they are called by the name of commissioner or sheriff. But suppose the officer entrusted with this delicate and important duty shall abuse his trust, and use his office for corrupt or selfish purposes, it is very important that the people get rid of him as soon as possible.

The sheriff is elected annually by a direct vote of the people, and if he prove unfit or unworthy the position may be filled by another at the next election; but an incompetent or corrupt commissioner, appointed in the way this bill proposes, would be beyond the power of removal by the people. He may be retained as long as the major part of the Common Pleas Judges shall determine. The Judges themselves are independent of the people of the county, for they are appointed for five years by a body composed of representatives from every section of the State.

“I have no doubt that the framers of the law so long existing in this State, which allows the sheriff to hold the office for three years, and yet requires his election every year, had in view this vital question, and intended that the people should not part with their control over the officer who had the selection of the jurors, to whom their dearest rights and privileges are committed.”

“Under our law the court already has great power. Through the charge and instruction to the jury the Judges in a measure can shape the verdict, and if the result be against the law or the weight of facts they may, in many cases, set aside the finding of the jury. They also have large discretion in allowing challenges, and thus may purge the panel of objectional jurors.

“If to all this we add the power of the court, through its agents, to select the whole panel of jurors, we break down that line of demarcation which our law has always recognized, and experience has proved to be essential to the proper administration of justice.

“I am, therefore, clear in the opinion that the right of trial by jury, which has justly been called the glory of the law and the safeguard of public rights, can only be maintained in its purity by continuing in the officer elected by the people, and annually responsible to them, the power of selecting our jurors.

“The clause in this bill which requires that of the two commissioners one shall be of each political party, may have been intended to prevent partizan bias and partiality in the selection of jurors, and it may have aided its passage, but whether it would have that effect is open to great doubt, and would depend entirely on the character of the persons appointed as commissioners. This provision, however well intended, does not remove from my mind the objections to the bill hereinbefore expressed, and which relate to an important principle affecting our judicial system. I have not much faith in the practical efficacy of that class of laws which give the power of appointment, and yet trammel the appointing power with political considerations.

"If there be a disposition to evade the intent and spirit of such laws it can easily be done. It matters not to what political party the commissioners to be appointed may belong, if they are upright and conscientious men; and if they are not such men they would not be fit persons to have the selection of jurymen, although attached to opposing political parties. My objection to such legislation is, that the very law giving life to the appointing body expresses on its face a doubt of the fairness and impartiality of the tribunal it has created.

"It is best to place full confidence in the appointing power, and then hold it to a strict responsibility for the character and qualifications of its appointees, without reference to their political views. Laws are of too solemn a character to recognize in terms the existence of partizan considerations.

"Such provision is certainly not flattering to the tribunal invested with the appointment, nor is it flattering to human nature.

"The objection thus far stated would apply to this bill if it were a general law extending to all the counties. But there is another and still stronger objection. Its provisions affect but one county of the State."

This species of special legislation is especially to be deprecated.

All laws relating to modes of procedure in our courts should be general in their application. As well might rules of evidence differing from those which govern the proceedings of other legal tribunals, be prescribed for the courts of a single county, as to enact a different mode of selecting jurors.

If this be a good law for one county, why not extend its provisions to all? Shall it be said that while the people of other counties are capable of electing a sheriff to discharge all the duties pertaining to the office, that the people of the county of Essex, cannot be trusted to choose that officer unless shorn of his most important functions? I am not willing to affix my signature to a bill which, in effect, if not in words, declares that the people of that county are incapable of self-government.

I have confidence in the intelligence and integrity of the people of Essex county, and if evils exists which they can remedy at the ballot-box I am willing to do so.

JOEL PARKER.

Mr. Morrow, moved that 200 copies of each of the messages just read be printed.

The Governor having been requested to return to the House of Assembly No. 169, known as the Washburn charter of Jersey City, sent a communication declining to return the same for sundry reasons which he gives, but states that he would file the bill to-day at 10 o'clock in the Secretary of State's office.

The following are the reasons given by the Governor:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
TRENTON, N. J., March 26, 1874. }

To the House of Assembly:

The Clerk of the House of Assembly has communicated to me a request of the House to return for further consideration

Assembly bill No. 162, entitled

A supplement to an act, entitled "An act to reorganize the local government of Jersey City," passed March 31, 1871.

I respectfully decline to return the bill for the following reasons:

No further action could be taken on the bill by the Legislature without reconsideration, and as it could not be reconsidered without a suspension of the rules, its return at this late hour of the session would be equivalent to its defeat.

This bill provides for the appointment by the Legislature of three members of the Board of Public Works. For this reason I am not willing to sign it. I cannot approve any act which infringes upon the right of local self-government. I believe that all laws which take from the people of a municipality the choice of their officers and transfer the selection to a body chosen by and representing other sections of the State, are not only unwise but invalid. Such laws have been decided unconstitutional by the courts of some of the States, but the question has never been judicially settled in New Jersey, and until this be done I must consider the present charter of Jersey City in force.

If by vetoing this bill I could put an end to all commission in that tax-ridden city, I would gladly return it with my objections, but if it should fail to become a law, Jersey City would continue to be governed by the existing charter. Therefore nothing would be gained for the people by returning the bill with my objections, or by returning it as you request.

As this bill proposes to extinguish the present Police Courts, to remove the present Board of Finance, to provide for the reduction of the number of members of the Board of Public Works, and to reduce the expenses of the city about sixty thousand dollars annually.

I deem it my duty, notwithstanding the objectionable feature to which I have referred, in view of the fact that in a choice between two evils the lesser should be chosen, to permit the bill to become a law without my signature, and I will file it in the office of the Secretary of State to-morrow, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

Resolved, By the Senate of the State of New Jersey (the House of Assembly concurring), that the Governor of this State be, and he is hereby requested to confer with the Governor of the State of New York, with a view to such modification of said laws as shall release our vessel owners and masters from the delay and embarrassment occasioned thereby.

Said message was taken up, read, and on motion of Mr. Ward concurred in.

Mr. Schenck, from the Committee on Corporations, to whom was referred

Senate bill No. 89, entitled

An act to incorporate the Bay City Improvement Company.

Senate bill No. 366, entitled

An act relating to St. Peters' Hospital.

Reported the same without amendment.

Mr. Morrow from the Special Committee on Erie Railroad Passes, presented the following report:

The Special Committee appointed to inquire as to the truth of certain charges affecting the integrity of members of the Legislature in connection with the sale of Erie Railway passes, respectfully report:

Immediately upon their appointment, the committee having selected a Secretary, proceeded to the performance of the duties devolved upon them, summoning Mr. John Livingston, with whom the charges originated, to appear and testify as to any and all facts in his possession bearing upon the matter under examination.

Mr. Livingston replied that he would appear as desired, but subsequently asked a postponement of the hearing, which was granted.

On the day designated for the second hearing, he telegraphed that he was unavoidably detained, and again asked a postponement. This was also granted.

Mr. Livingston still failing to appear, other postponements were had until Saturday, March 14, when he positively agreed to meet the committee at the office of the chairman, in Newark. At great personal inconvenience, four members of the committee were present at that time and place, but Mr. Livingston again failed to attend, sending his son instead, with a request that the committee should visit him at his office in Fourteenth street, New York. Considering all the circumstances, this request was, to say the least of it, impudent and insulting; but desiring to do everything in their power to ascertain the precise facts in the case submitted to their examination, the committee waived all questions of dignity and official propriety, and proceeded in a body to New York.

Arriving at Mr. Livingston's residence, where he positively and in writing promised to await their coming, the committee found to their surprise that he was absent, having left his residence, apparently for the very purpose of avoiding the interview which he had sought.

Smothering their natural indignation at treatment so inexcusably discourteous, the committee remained for an hour or more, when three of the number were compelled to leave. The chairman still remained, and at a late hour in the afternoon was permitted to meet Mr. Livingston, who again promised to appear for examination on a day fixed. But from that day to this, he has neither appeared or given any excuse for his failure so to do; and your committee are thus compelled to report an utter and entire failure of the whole investigation.

We submit, in view of the facts recited, that there can be but one conclusion as to Mr. Livingston's conduct, and that is, that it deserves the severest and most unqualified condemnation. He had preferred charges affecting the dignity and character of members of the legislature, going to the extreme length of addressing private letters to certain assemblymen, embodying specific statements prejudicial to the good name of their colleagues and associates. He had declared in these letters, and in communications to the press of New York, that he could prove certain members of the legislature of 1873, to be guilty of corrupt and improper practices. Why did he fail and refuse to furnish to the committee evidence of the truth of his allegations, if such evidence was in his possession? Why did he pretend that he was animated by pure and honorable motives, and then act the part of a coward and a slanderer? It may possibly be true, as he alleges, that members of the legislature of 1873 did offer to sell their Erie passes; but Mr. Livingstone, the accuser, has not furnished a scintilla of evidence that such was the fact, professing all the while his readiness and ability so to do. If any servant of the State was actually guilty of making merchandise of a privilege acquired by virtue of his official position, he unquestionably deserved to be exposed. No possible excuse can be offered for conduct so disreputable. But it is equally true that every person suspected or accused was and is entitled to be considered innocent until his guilt is clearly established by irrefragable proof.

As to the course of the Erie Railway Company, in throwing out a drag net for the capture of unthinking men, and in offering a premium to corrupt and improper acts, your committee refrain from comment, except only to say that it is characteristic of a corporation whose whole latter history is a record of corruption, chicanery and fraud.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Mr. Howell, from the Special Committee of Investigation, made the following report:

The Special Committee to enquire and report into whether bribery or corruption was used in the passage or repeal of any bill before this House, respectfully report that they have held many meetings, and examined a large number of witnesses in pursuance of the object for which they were appointed.

In consequence of the late day at which your committee were appointed, the many urgent duties of the House requiring their attendance elsewhere, and the difficulty in obtaining the presence of witnesses at the hours when it was possible for the meetings to be held, your committee have not been able to give to the questions before them that close and searching examination which the importance of the issues at stake seemed imperatively to demand; but in the investigation it has been the sole aim and object of the committee to seek to arrive at, if possible, the source of the reports afloat to which their attention was directed by the resolution which called for this committee, and to obtain such proof and information as should enable them either to prove the same to be totally false, or if true, to promptly report the names of the guilty persons to this House.

The several witnesses subpoenaed by the committee were generally willing to come before it, but on one instance a person whose examination was broken off when scarce begun, left the city shortly afterwards and has not since returned to it. Two witnesses, one of them a member, refused to divulge to the committee certain arrangements that had been made between them, giving as an excuse that, having pledged to each other their faith not to do so, their consciences would not permit them to fully explain to the committee what had passed between them. Two members of this House testified that a certain outside party approached each of them with hints of advantages to accrue if those members would keep out of caucus and the House when certain bills were expected to be brought forward, but such offers were made in so ambiguous a manner as not to give to the committee sufficient evidence to warrant them in reporting the name of this person to the House. The offers thus made were not for an instant entertained, but your committee are of the opinion, that had these members signified any inclination to be acceptors of a bribe, sufficient evidence would then have been obtained to justify this committee in laying the facts before this House.

The committee are led to believe by the evidence that the habitual hangers-on about this Legislature are in the habit of either offering for sale or claiming to have the power to control for money the votes or influence of members, but with the limited time at their disposal for searching and close examination necessary to get at the facts, your committee are unable to report to this House the names of the guilty persons, as they do not possess the evidence requisite to prove them so.

They are adepts at their calling and disguise their illegal proceedings, so as to make it very difficult to clearly establish their guilt.

In regard to the rumors said to be afloat touching the honesty of any of the members, your committee report that while there are unquestionably some grounds on which to base rumors that money has been offered for the securing of influence and votes, yet that they believe the greater part of the rumors to be totally false and untrue, slanderous and unjust.

The case of one member who was charged by rumor with having accepted money from a lobbyist was closely examined by your committee, and it resulted in the complete exoneration of the member, who, having been seen in close conversation with a gentleman friend who resembled a person interested in certain measures before this Legislature, it was charged had sold himself to the lobbyist. The utter falsity of this charge was entirely proved by many witnesses, and the persons making it admitted their mistake and injustice.

It is this kind of careless, slanderous insinuation which your committee especially deprecate, and remedy and prevent the occurrence of which they recommend elsewhere some special act of legislation. In nearly every case the person so accused is the last to hear of the rumors affecting his character and frequently what is so openly spoken of among others is never heard of by the person implicated.

It is a mean and dastardly action to thus injure the good character of any person and your committee would especially draw the attention of both members and outside parties to the gross unfairness and illegality of such slanderous insinuations, which too often are said in a careless manner by persons who should have more charity and respect for their fellow men than to repeat them. If time had been at your committee's disposal they would have endeavored to probe some of these slanders still further so as to reach, if possible, their authors. Had they secured the names of the originators of any of these slanders they would have reported them to the House with a recommendation that they be punished to the full extent of the law.

In conclusion your committee report that a large number of persons habitually frequent the halls of the legislature and occasionally reach the floor of the House to importune members for their votes and influence, not unfrequently accompanying their solicitations with suggestions that are both insulting to the members and disreputable to themselves. Your committee, therefore, recommend the passage of a law which shall make it a criminal offence for any person to repeat injurious remarks of any legislator, unless able to prove them to be true, and to also make it a criminal offence to solicit the vote and influence of any member on any subject under legislation when in his seat in the House.

W. H. HOWELL,

Chairman.

Mr. Smith moved that the report of the committee be printed, and that the evidence taken before the committee be printed to accompany the report.
