

Vision

New Jersey will be the safest and most equitable place in the nation to deliver and raise a baby.

Mission

All women of color, particularly African-American women, should achieve maternal and infant health and survival rates on par with whites and other ethnic groups, and New Jersey will achieve a significant and sustained improvement in the overall maternal and infant morbidity and mortality rates.

Values

Achieving equity for all women requires dismantling structures that support inequitable processes and building or shoring up processes that support respectful care.
