The Clerk then appointed Mrs. Sanford, of Essex County; Mr. Scovel of Camden County, and Mr. Walker, of Hudson County, to act as a committee to escort the Speaker to the bar of the House, where he took and subscribed to the oath of office and was escorted to the Chair.

Upon assuming the Chair, the Speaker addressed the House as follows:

Members of the General Assembly and Guests:

I want to assure you that I deeply appreciate the honor you have bestowed upon Burlington County and myself in electing me your Speaker for the 1936 session. I also realize the tremendous responsibility that this honor carries with it.

Nearly all of our members were elected on an economy platform, and I trust that right here in this branch of the law-making body we shall set the example of economy which will bring the necessary relief to the taxpayer. By so doing, we shall show our people that we practice what we preach. We are very fortunate this year in having a Budget Advisory Committee. This committee is composed of three men who must inspire the respect and confidence of every member of the Legislature, Senator Van Winkle, Professor Sly, of Princeton, and, as Chairman, Dr. Clee, who was our Speaker last year. I am sure that we all appreciate the work this committee has done and that we will consider its recommendations very carefully.

As your Speaker, I have recommended that we cut the amount paid to the employees in the Assembly; that we cut down the number of manuals; that we use cheaper paper for all our bills, and cheaper stationery for the Assemblymen. For many years there has been much talk about the large printing bill for the Legislature. I think we should advertise for bids for all printing. It may be too late to get the bid made up in time for this session, but I would suggest that a committee of three members from this House with a like number from the Senate be appointed to confer with the purchasing agent for the purpose of making up a list of our needs so that, in the future, we may ask for bids. I know that these few savings will amount to but little in themselves, but, when added to the savings in other departments, the total will be well worth while.

I would also suggest that we introduce just as few bills as possible. Last year only a small percentage of the bills introduced in the Assembly became laws. The curtailment of unnecessary bills will not only constitute a saving in printing costs, but will also give more time for the consideration of the more important bills. I should like to see a business-like session devoted to the careful consideration of a small number of important bills. This is the type of economy which the public has a right to expect of us.

We shall have many requests for appropriations. These should be carefully studied, and considered from the standpoint of the benefits to be derived by the State at large, and not from any personal or political point of view. To carry out our mandate from the people, that we effect all possible economies in State government, I suggest that we study the question of reduction in the number of State departments, reduction in the number of State-owned automobiles, reduction in the rental of office space for State departments, elimination of unnecessary employees, and reduction in the salaries of State employees. I do not mean employees who receive small salaries, but those in the higher brackets, some of whom come to the State House just about often enough to receive their salaries.

Again, the salaries paid to county officers are based on population. We all know that our population is increasing, consequently the salaries of our county officials are increasing instead of decreasing. I suggest a readjustment of salaries on a new basis of population, which will in no way interfere with the classification of our counties. This alone would save many thousand dollars in our State, and it is certainly worth our serious consideration.

I have mentioned just a few ways in which economies may be effected. I have no doubt that many of you have other plans for this purpose, which you will present in the form of bills.

As your Speaker, I shall call the Assembly to order promptly at the hour set, which should be either 8:15 or 8:30. We will have all conferences in the afternoon and none after the Assembly has convened. I shall insist on having the floor cleared of all except the members, and the press representatives at their desks. I shall be in my office at 2:30 in the afternoon of the days we have an evening session. I ask for your co-operation and advice, for, with them, we may accomplish great things for our State; without them, we shall accomplish but little. I shall treat everyone with fairness, and I shall expect the same treatment in return. Again I thank you for your trust and confidence.

Mr. Cavinato offered the following resolution, which was read by the Clerk and adopted:

Resolved, That the House do now proceed with the election of Clerk of the House for the One Hundred Sixtieth session of the Assembly.

The Hon. Henry Young, of Essex County, placed in nomination the name of Paul P. Williams, of Essex County, as Clerk of the General Assembly, which nomination was seconded by the Hon. Lawrence A. Cavinato, of Bergen County, which was further seconded by the Hon. Thomas G. Walker, of Hudson County.

The Speaker then called for any further nominations, and there being none, Mr. Cavinato moved that the nominations be closed.

Upon the roll being called by Mr. Frederick A. Brodesser, the former Clerk, Mr. Williams was elected unanimously by the following vote:

For Mr. Williams—

Messrs. Allardice, Artaserse, Baldwin, Beronio, Betts, Bischoff, Bogle, Bruno, Burke, Butz, Cavinato, DeVoe, Donahue, Downer, Eber, Evans, Featherer, Gebhardt, Geddes, Giuliano, Goldberg, Gray, Hand, Hargrave, Higbie, Howe, Jackson, Jamieson, Katzenbach, Kelley, Kerner, Kurtz, Maloney, McAlevy, McCauley, McNaughton, Muir, Newcomb (Speaker), Osmers, Paul, Pesin, Proctor, Pyne, Ritger, Sanford, Scott, Scovel, Silkowski, Simon, Smith, E. V., Smith, M. M., Stanger, Taggart, Thomas, Topoleski, VanFleet, Walker, Wilensky, Young, Zink—60.

In the negative—None.

Mr. Muir, for the committee appointed to wait upon the Governor, returned with the Governor's Secretary, who presented the following Message from the Governor:

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
January 14, 1936.

To the Legislature:

In my Inaugural Message a year ago I undertook to present to the Legislature and the people of the State what I believed to be an effective program for dealing with the major problems which faced the State and our local governments. In this first annual message I shall not undertake to go over the same ground, but since these basic problems are still with us and still unsolved it seems to me to be desirable to refer again to some of them.

I urged an end of Executive and Legislative action on the basis of expediency, a realistic approach to the problems that were before us and the exercise of determination and courage in the formulation of a permanent policy designed to deal effectively with these problems. I am still of the opinion that that program was sound and that in the end its major features must be incorporated into the practices of government, including local administration, within the State.

1935 LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM

For Municipal Governments my chief recommendations were:

1. The complete revision of the bonding laws; to provide effective debt limits and the orderly retirement of debt in excess of the new limits established; to include the requirement for a down payment on every improvement involving capital outlay from borrowing of an amount equal to an annual installment necessary for the retirement of such borrowings; to fix a binding limitation on new borrowing by municipalities whose debts will exceed the new limits by providing that new borrowings in any year shall be not more than sixty per cent of the amount of debt amortized during the preceding year; and to establish a new schedule of maximum terms for all debts undertaken on account of a public improvement so that the full retirement of such debts shall be assured well within the life of the improvement purchased or contracted for.

2. A complete revision of the budget laws to require not only proper preparation and administration of municipal budgets but also careful and accurate estimates of anticipated receipts and the restriction of spending to these estimates, with the further provision that cash deficits, if any, at the end of the year must be provided for in the ensuing year's budget.

3. Comprehensive changes in the present inadequate and largely ineffective system of property assessment and the collection of taxes.

4. A reduction of the real estate tax by at least one-third.

5. A State Advisory Service for municipal governments.

6. Serious consideration of the problems of local government consolidation, both as to territory and functions. I pointed out that the consolidation of such functions as purchasing, engineering, street and road maintenance, construction, police and fire protection, health and laboratory services and other comparable activities could be promptly effected if desired.

Important among my proposals for the State were:

1. Improvements in our budgeting and appropriation procedure so that the average interested citizen could find out from the printed budget and appropriation acts how much money the State takes in, where it comes from, how we spend it and for what purposes.

2. The adoption of the foundation plan designed to establish public education on a more solid footing in the State and the meeting of our full obligations in maintaining the financial integrity of the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund.

3. An exhaustive study of our social security problems in the State and their relations to the program then taking shape in the Federal government.

4. A study of our problems of crime and criminal procedure in the State and a plan for more effective co-operation with other States.

5. Extension of authority to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners in order that that body may deal more effectively with the problems of utility rate revisions in the users' interest.

6. A more vigorous procedure in the protection of the people's funds and interest in our State banks, our building and loan associations and in other financial institutions, and the establishment of a bank advisory board.

7. The adoption of the recommendation of the Princeton Survey that the Highway Department should be placed under a single commissioner.

8. Important changes in the Relief Administration in order to bring the problems of that agency closer to the legislative authorities and the people of the State.

9. A pay-as-you-go policy for the State in meeting not only the ordinary costs of the government but the heavy, extraordinary costs of unemployment relief.

10. The further development and protection of the State's resources and a systematic campaign through the leadership of the State to sell New Jersey to its own people and to the people of the country as an attractive and pleasant place in which to live, do business and seek recreation.

PROGRESS IN 1935

We have fallen far short of dealing effectively and positively with all of these major problems, but the Legislature of 1935 is entitled to more credit than has usually been accorded to it for the progress that it made.

The bonding laws applying to municipalities have been extended and substantial progress has been made in the funding and refunding operations of local governments with a consequent strengthening of municipal credit.

The foundation plan for the public school system was enacted although the revenues in relief of real property have not yet been provided. The State has kept its obligation to maintain the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund.

A Commission has been engaged in an exhaustive study of our social security problems and is about ready to make its report.

New Jersey has been held, throughout the country, as furnishing the chief impetus, as developing the pattern and taking the lead in matters of interstate compacts and interstate co-operation in dealing with problems of crime, taxation, traffic, and other governmental matters that cannot be confined within State boundaries and dealt with effectively by the State acting alone.

A series of important bills dealing with public utility matters has been enacted which will prove permanently beneficial and which has kept millions of dollars in the pockets of the users during the year.

A bank advisory board has been appointed which has been of constructive assistance to the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance. It is confidently reported that our banking system is in the most solvent and liquid condition in its history, that fear has given way to confidence, unsound assets have been eliminated, and the cost of operation brought more in line with assured income. Depositors in closed institutions have been afforded the fullest measure of protection in the orderly liquidation of the assets of these institutions.

Our building and loan associations have made sound progress during the year and their functions have been returned to their original design and purpose, namely, to aid home builders in financing homes and to furnish safe channels through which small and systematic savings may be invested by hundreds of thousands of our citizens.

The 1935 Legislature enacted legislation designed to regulate insurance associations operating within the State not for pecuniary profit, but which provide for their members' accident, disability and death benefits. I am advised that this legislation has been greatly beneficial, but that some further changes, growing out of the experience for the year, should be made in the law to make it entirely effective.

The four-man Highway Commission was abolished and a single Commissioner substituted therefor. Practices against public interest have been discontinued with hundreds of thousands of dollars of direct cash savings to the people of the State. I am satisfied that the taxpayers are getting more for their dollar in road construction and maintenance, the purchase of rights-of-way and materials than ever before and the responsibility for sound business practice and effective administration is placed directly upon one man.

The Emergency Relief Administration has been reorganized and the cost of relief substantially reduced month after month.

Important legislation for the regulation of the milk industry has been put into effect.

The primary election for State and local offices has been returned to May in Presidential election years only, and this action will effect a direct saving to the State and local governments in doing away with the necessity of two primary elections this year of more than five hundred thousand dollars.

Numerous other accomplishments of direct benefit to the people of the State could be listed but I shall not undertake to detail them further here.

The action of greatest significance and importance both for the present and for a generation to come, is that the State has not only maintained its credit and met its every obligation promptly, but in this year of heaviest relief need it will have paid its way without borrowing a single dollar and it will complete the year with a substantial increase in its free balance in the general fund.

MUNICIPAL FISCAL PROBLEMS

Even though we have made commendable progress there is much more to be done. All of the problems which presented themselves a year ago, which have not been dealt with effectively, are still with us, some of them in more acute form. There is much to be done, and this One Hundred and Sixtieth Legislature faces direct and heavy responsibilities.

For some months an apparent effort has been made to turn attention away from the problems of municipal finance and spending and to direct them almost exclusively to State expenditures. Many of our citizens have been led to the opinion that in some way or other the fiscal difficulties of municipalities have been solved, municipal expenditures have become less important, and that the State has become the agency of government to be condemned as an example of wasteful and unwise spending. It is a fortunate fact that by reason of temporary economies, the discontinuance of capital improvements, better tax collections and easier credit, our municipal fiscal problems have been somewhat improved. This is a matter of gratification to me and, I am sure, to the members of the Legislature, and to all of the people. We should keep clearly before us, however, that these temporary improvements in our municipal situation are not indicative of basic changes in municipal procedure or policy. The same old conditions and procedures which have piled up our tremendous municipal debts, destroyed our credit, increased our tax rates to the point of confiscation in many places and made municipal government in New Jersey among the most costly in the nation, still remain. Our municipal situation is more hopeful, but there are yet 79 local governments in default, 28 are using scrip, 12 are under the supervision of the Municipal Finance Commission and the credit margin of most municipalities is far from a satisfactory status. The extraordinary financial aid which the State has given, out of its own treasury, during this emergency period, has been the one support that has preserved our municipal structure. The State has had much more effective expenditure control; its current normal operating costs have been substantially reduced year after year for several years. The State can yet show an example of careful spending as compared to most of our municipalities. I say this not for the purpose of appropriating any credit to myself but as a measure of justice to a great many of our competent State officers and industrious employes who have willingly exerted themselves beyond the ordinary call of duty in an effort to meet the day to day departmental problems. These facts must be kept clearly in mind in considering measures which may be advanced affecting our municipal governments.

A BUDGET ADVISORY COMMITTEE

In an effort to devise ways and means of dealing more effectively with these ever present and troublesome twins of Finance and Relief I proposed, some months ago, a Budget Advisory Committee to study appropriation requests, to analyze present cash resources of the State and to offer constructive proposals for meeting our financial needs for the coming year. I was pleased to designate as members of this committee Senator Winant Van Winkle, Speaker and now Senator Lester H. Clee, both of whom have not been in agreement with major proposals as to policy which I have made, and Dr. John Sly of Princeton.

Matters of maintaining the ordinary essential functions of the government, of financing unemployment relief, of tax relief for real estate, of public education policy, of determining what is and what is not economy in the true sense of the word, and of the State's relationships and assistance to municipal governments, are vitally important to the people of the State. They are entitled to have these basic questions considered from every angle and a sound and acceptable policy adopted. I was glad to have these questions, therefore, explored by this Committee representing, in some measure at least, a different point of view than that held by the Governor.

This Committee has worked earnestly but obviously hampered by time limitations. In addition to the purely financial matters, it has extended its studies to questions of improved department procedure and the problems of municipal government. I was glad to suggest to the Committee that it include in its assignment a detailed study of our relief administration, its organization and procedure.

The Advisory Committee made, a week ago, a partial report dealing primarily with the cash resources of the State available during the calendar year 1936, the State budget for the ensuing fiscal year and a plan for financing unemployment relief out of present revenues.

As I am required by law to submit the Executive Budget at the opening of the Legislature and since it requires the preparation and printing of so many schedules and accounts, it was necessary for me to proceed with the Executive Budget as heretofore. As a matter of fact, the budget was already in type when I received the Committee's report and I was able to give limited study only to its proposals with respect to those departments for which schedules in some detail were submitted. I have been obliged, therefore, to submit the Executive Budget for the ensuing fiscal year for the operation of the established departments in the State without that careful comparison with the Advisory Committee's proposals which should be made.

A copy of the Committee's report is to be printed for your information as will the further recommendations yet to be made. The Committee is entitled not only to the thanks of the Governor but of the Legislature. I urge upon the members of the Legislature and especially upon the members of the Joint Appropriations Committee careful study not only of the Executive Budget in all of its details but of the proposals of the Advisory Budget Committee in relation thereto.

STATE FINANCES—THE STATE FUND

Due to increases in yields from general revenues and to greater effectiveness in the control of expenditures, the condition of the general fund has steadily improved. As of June 30, 1934, the State Comptroller reported a free surplus in the State Fund of $1,295,573.86. By June 30, 1935, this had increased to $2,907,660.35 after providing for all commitments and without including revenues of 1935-36 paid in 1934-35. It is conservatively estimated that the free surplus of the State Fund as of the close of the current fiscal year will be $4,098,042.15, without making any allowances for unexpended balances of current appropriations which will lapse after the close of the fiscal year.

In my budget message, I have shown estimated resources of the year 1936-37, available for appropriation and expenditure, amounting to $40,778,388. Against this amount I have submitted appropriations of $30,361,391, making the full reduction of approximately $2,250,000.00 as proposed by the Advisory Committee. This would leave an unappropriated balance of $9,893,016 reflecting an estimated increase in the free surplus of $5,794,974, and an appropriation reserve of $523,977. I want to say in this connection that I have felt obliged to omit recommended appropriations for a number of highly desirable improvements and services and for all new positions because of the financial necessities we are facing.

In my budget message, I have pointed out that the Advisory Committee estimates that lapses of current appropriations will amount to $569,400. The Committee, as I understand it, treats $471,109 of the revenues of the current fiscal year paid before the close of the last fiscal year as available for expenditure, but makes no corresponding reduction in the estimated receipts of the year. The Committee then estimates, it appears, that the free surplus as of the close of the current fiscal year will be further increased by net revenue receipts amounting to $374,211 in excess of the latest revised official estimates. According to these figures, the estimated free surplus as of the close of the current fiscal year will be $5,506,762. If we add to this amount the estimated increase in the free surplus of the State General Fund that would accrue from the adoption of the budget I have submitted, the total free surplus as of June 30, 1937, would be $11,301,736. The Committee proposes that this entire amount be appropriated for emergency relief.

While it would be extremely gratifying to me if it were found possible to appropriate more than $5,500,000 from the State Fund surplus for emergency relief purposes, and while I urge that there be appropriated the maximum amount, carefully determined, that can safely be made available from the State Fund for emergency relief purposes, I nevertheless urge extreme caution so that we may guard against entire depletion of the surplus. This caution is necessary because if the budget is balanced without leaving any surplus whatsoever, the Treasury might experience difficulty in meeting the ordinary expenditures of the State government on each due date, as revenues do not come into the Treasury in an even flow month by month while the monthly Treasury outgo remains fairly constant. Furthermore, some allowance for a possible falling off of the revenues below the estimates and for emergencies which cannot be foreseen should be made, particularly as the Constitution limits to $100,000 the amount of State debt that can be incurred without a vote of the people. Prudence in State financing under such conditions dictates that a reserve of $1,000,000.00 at the very minimum should be maintained in the State Fund.

THE STATE HIGHWAY FUND

During the past calendar year, I authorized the transfer of $5,391,424 from motor vehicle revenues to the Emergency Relief Administration for unemployment relief. As I have consistently advocated the pay-as-you-go policy in State financing and have opposed the issuance of bonds for highway purposes, I have recommended in my budget message dealing with the State Highway Fund, an appropriation in this calendar year of $5,391,424 from 1936 motor vehicle revenues to the 1935 budget of the State Highway Department in order to enable the Department to finance expenditures under the appropriations of 1935 and prior years without issuing any bonds. Adoption of this recommendation would of course reduce the amount of motor vehicle revenues available for appropriation for construction in the current fiscal year. Consequently, the budget I have offered would place the Highway Department on almost a maintenance basis, as appropriations for construction would be limited to the amount required to match Federal aid funds.

As I have said elsewhere, the schedules of the State Highway Fund budget had to be prepared before the first report of the Advisory Committee could be made available. The Committee recommends that the $6,000,000 in bonds appropriated by the 1934 session of the Legislature to the State Highway Department, or so much thereof as may be required, be sold to meet the costs of rights of way and bridge construction under appropriations of 1934 still in force. The Committee proposes that an excess reserve of $2,125,564.70 for commitments for rights of way, included in the appropriations to the State Highway Department for construction, be cancelled and construction appropriations reduced accordingly. The Committee estimates that the revenues of 1935 will exceed the original budget estimates by $2,499,000. The Committee also proposes that grade crossing eliminations under the jurisdiction of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners be financed from the proceeds of the sale of bonds rather than from motor vehicle revenues. Under the Committee's proposals, therefore, the entire amount of motor vehicle revenues of the year 1936 would be available for debt service, for State aid, and for the maintenance of departments financed from these revenues, including the State Highway Department, leaving a substantial free balance for appropriation in the wisdom of the Legislature.

Definite statements as to the highway revenues and expenditures of the year 1935 and of the exact condition of the State Highway Fund as of December 31, 1935 will be available in a few days. The accuracy of the various estimates for 1935 can then be determined, and decisions as to appropriations and legislative policy respecting the issuance of bonds and the use of motor vehicle revenues can be made.

In my proposed budget for the State Highway Fund, I have outlined the recommendations of the Advisory Committee and have asked that these recommendations be given the most careful consideration in their relations to the whole problem of State and local government financing. I reiterated my conviction that it is wise to adhere to the pay-as-you-go policy in State financing, in view of the existing State debt, the tremendous burden of local government debt, and the huge and mounting national debt of which the people of New Jersey must pay such a substantial part.

In the whole problem of State financing, the dominant question is motor vehicle revenues for highway purposes versus motor vehicle revenues for financing unemployment relief. This question must be dealt with decisively early in the legislative session before we can make any progress towards a sound and permanent basis of financing, under which we should be able gradually to reduce the burden of taxation on general property as economic conditions improve and those of our employable citizens who are now on relief are transferred from relief rolls to industrial payrolls. This question of policy is one for legislative determination. While I am entirely willing to be guided by the legislative decision thereon, I would be less than frank if I failed to restate my views here.

The central policy of the whole recovery program of the Federal government is based upon the expenditure of huge sums for the sole purpose of creating work so that employables may be removed from relief rolls. Billions of dollars, in which New Jersey has a large stake, have been appropriated and are being spent for this purpose. The State and local governments are urged by Federal authorities to co-operate in this tremendous undertaking by building with or without Federal funds permanent, public improvements of all kinds, all with a view to providing work and aid in the recovery process. A policy, therefore, which proposes to discontinue completely the building of permanent improvements at this time warrants the most serious thought. The vital question, it seems to me, is whether we shall use motor vehicle revenues for the payment of doles or for that unemployment relief which comes from retaining labor presently employed on public works and in the production of materials at modest wages and at the same time affording added opportunity for labor now carried on the relief rolls.

The dole provides for a bare subsistence in idleness and destroys the self-reliance and self-respect that have characterized the American people. It creates no assets. Wages on necessary and desirable construction projects enable the workman to keep or regain his self-reliance and give him freedom of thought and action which the dole inevitably destroys. Moreover, valuable and usable assets are created. Expenditures for needed streets and highways are not values consumed or destroyed but are rather exchanges of values—public funds for needed improvements.

The use of motor vehicle revenues for relief doles will cost the State some $3,000,000 in 1936 through the reduction, as a penalty, of Federal allotments already made. There has been allotted to the State Highway Department the sum of $7,000,000 of WPA funds in accordance with an agreement entered into between the State Highway Commissioner and Federal authorities pursuant to the provisions of Section 4 of Chapter 312 of the Laws of 1935.

The Legislature may find it desirable to consider the possibility of budgeting motor vehicle revenues for small, widely-distributed projects that can be put under way quickly and so make the most effective use of available monies. Such a procedure would be greatly to be preferred over the appropriation of monies for a few large projects which could not be put under construction for months. This would result merely in tying up cash in the Treasury from which no immediate benefits could be derived.

In my Inaugural Message I said:

> "The work of the Highway Department for the immediate future must be one of maintenance rather than new construction. For some years to come it will be necessary to limit construction on primary highways to connecting links and some widening projects. * * * Emphasis must now be placed upon the secondary highway system and improvement of rural and township roads. It seems to me that there should be a closer tie-in between the State and county systems. It is entirely feasible for the State to assume eventually the responsibility for much of the present county systems, the counties, in turn, taking over the construction and maintenance activities of the townships, boroughs, and smaller municipalities."

I would favor any practical plan that would enable the State to take over the responsibility for the maintenance and construction of all county and township roads and the roads in the smaller municipalities, if such plan can be made to provide for meeting the interest and sinking fund requirements of local debt for highway purposes and for substantial aid from motor vehicle revenues to our larger municipalities. This is an alternative which should be carefully studied before it is abandoned in favor of diverting motor vehicle revenues for the payment of unemployment relief doles. Such an alternative would meet to a very large extent the preferences of a great body of our citizens and at the same time release for other uses local revenues now going into street and highway maintenance and debt service.

UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF

Unemployment and the relief measures made necessary by it continue to be the most serious problems before the Nation, the States and the local governments. Our financial requirements for the State government and for continuing substantial aid in the current operating costs of local governments would be comparatively simple if we did not have to look forward to providing food, shelter, fuel, clothing and medical care for almost four hundred thousand persons during the next twelve months. One out of ten in New Jersey is now and, according to the best conclusions of informed people, will continue for the next twelve months to be dependent upon the State and local governments for the very means of life.

Since the beginning of last February, we have cared for an average of more than five hundred and fifty thousand needy people throughout the year. At one time there were as many as six hundred and seventeen thousand people in New Jersey dependent upon government for their every material need.

In the three and one-quarter years during which the State has been engaged in unemployment relief and preceding the incumbency of the present administration, funds were obtained from the following sources and in the amounts noted:

Early in 1935, the Federal government announced a change in policy of made work instead of straight relief. It was put into effect in July but did not begin to get under way until last October. Its full effectiveness was presumed to be reached in December. The motivating purpose of this change was that the Federal government would find work of some kind for all employables and the relief load caused by the unemployables of all types would become the direct responsibility of the State. Today there remain on our relief rolls, which have not been provided for by the Federal government, about 20,000 employables who with their dependents represent a total of about 80,000 persons. These cases, which may not be absorbed at all in the Federal program plus our unemployables, bring the relief case load which must be carried by the State and local governments above 105,000 and totaling around 400,000 individuals.

When the Federal government abandoned direct relief, it was advisable to readjust the organization of the Emergency Relief Council and its staff as authorized under Chapter 35, P. L. 1935. A great deal of progress has been made in this reorganization under the leadership of Mr. Chester I. Barnard, who has been the mainstay of the Emergency Relief Administration from its inception until his recent resignation. Mr. Reeve Schley, an administrator and financier of wide experience in both private and public enterprise, has recently taken Mr. Barnard's place on the Relief Council. The Advisory Committee, through its technical staff, is making a study of the present relief administration with a view to further improvements in the administrative set-up and procedure.

I am anxious, as I know the members of the Legislature are anxious, as well as thoughtful citizens throughout the State, that ways may be found to reduce this burdensome relief load at an early date. But I want to caution you against any tendency to make assumptions with respect to relief administration which may not be warranted by the facts. This problem is so far-reaching in its immediate responsibilities and its consequences that it must be approached with the utmost earnestness and deliberation. For some time to come, it seems to be clear that relief measures must be continued as a co-operative function between the Federal, the State and local governments.

There is no need, of course, to dwell upon the fact that a permanent relief problem requires financing of a permanent character. We will be short-sighted and culpable indeed if at the present stage we adopt methods of relief financing based purely upon expediency and involving further extensive public borrowing which will add further to the already back-breaking burden of debt which government has saddled upon those yet in infancy or unborn.

UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF COSTS AND FINANCING

Nineteen thirty-five was our heaviest relief-giving year. According to the figures almost or quite complete, the total costs paid and to be paid for the year from Federal, State and local sources approximated $66,730,000. All the costs of the year were not paid as of December 31, 1935, but they were to be shared about as follows:

Federal Government	$40,970,037	or 61.4%
State Government	20,951,943	or 31.4%
Municipal Governments	4,803,365	or 7.2%

During the calendar year 1935 the records of the State Treasurer's Office show that a total of $13,046,947.89, exclusive of any of the proceeds of emergency relief bonds, was paid to the Emergency Relief Administration from State funds. This sum was derived from the following sources:

Motor Fuel Tax	$5,391,423.85
Sales Tax	6,155,156.90
Interest on Deposits	367.14
Proceeds of the Sale of Port of New York Authority Bonds	1,500,000.00
Total	$13,046,947.89

As of December 31, 1935, it appears that the State had not yet met the November and December requirements for emergency relief, amounting to $3,637,335.32, but for the payment of this amount the following resources were available:

Proceeds of the Sale of Port of New York Authority Bonds	$2,525,100
Less Amount Already Remitted to the E.R.A.	1,500,000	$1,025,100
Proceeds of the Collection of the Sales Tax	$6,625,791
Less Amount Already Paid Over to the E.R.A.	6,155,157	470,634
Assets of the Insurance Fund Not Yet Disposed of		507,270
Making a Total of		$2,003,004

This leaves a balance of the 1935 emergency relief requirements of $1,634,331 still to be financed.

The Emergency Relief Council estimates minimum requirements for emergency relief, old age pensions, and aid to children in the calendar year 1936 as $30,420,000. If we add to this amount the 1935 deficiency of $1,634,331, we have a total of $32,054,331 to be financed in 1936. It is estimated that collectible delinquent sales taxes earmarked for relief purposes amount to $534,300, but this will be received in monthly installments throughout the ensuing six months. If the entire amount of delinquent sales taxes can be collected by June 30, 1936, there will remain $31,521,031 to be financed from other sources during the year.

During the year 1935 the municipalities were assessed $4,803,365 for their share of unemployment relief. Of this assessment there had been paid as of December 31, 1935, the sum of $4,192,685.59.

The Budget Advisory Committee proposes that municipalities be assessed $5,000,000 for the year 1936 for unemployment relief. This is entirely sound in theory, but in view of the still serious financial condition of most of our municipalities, any assessment made on them is bound to be an expensive and difficult means of relief financing. On the basis of collection records less than sixty-five per cent can be raised currently and the balance must be accounted for through borrowing at substantial interest rates—delinquent property taxes supporting temporary notes, later to be funded and added to municipal debt.

In all of our estimates of the costs of relief during the year it must be recognized that these costs will be influenced by many factors and that the final amount cannot be stated with any confidence now. Some of our best informed citizens say that relief costs may run as high as $40,000,000 during the year. The Works Progress Administration program may fail or succeed beyond present indications. Improvement in economic conditions may lag or go beyond reasonable expectancy. I sincerely trust that our actual needs will be less than the estimates of the Relief Council, but it seems to me that we must presently proceed on the basis of their figures.

SOCIAL SECURITY

When it was evident a year ago that the Federal Government was about to formulate a far-reaching program of extended welfare provisions in an omnibus measure to be known as the Social Security Act, there was immediate demand that New Jersey adopt legislation which would permit full and immediate co-operation with the Federal Government. We resisted this demand on the theory that no precipitate action should be taken looking to the adoption of any plan of such far-reaching, important consequences until a thorough study of the long range economic and social effects was made. Acting on this theory, I asked the Legislature to create an interim commission on social security to make such a study. This Commission, composed of members of the Senate, of the House of Assembly, and of qualified citizens, was organized shortly after the enactment of the Federal Social Security Act, under the Chairmanship of Mr. Harry L. Derby. It has been diligently engaged in its studies ever since. I am informed that the preliminary report of its findings and recommendations will shortly be presented for your consideration.

The Federal Social Security Act provides for Federal Aid to the States for:

1. Old age assistance,
2. Aid for dependent children,
3. Aid to the blind,
4. Maternal and child welfare, including aid for crippled children and vocational rehabilitation,
5. Extension of public health work.

All of these objectives are now being obtained in substantial degree in New Jersey through legislative policy built up slowly and carefully over a period of forty years.

Before New Jersey enters into this co-operative effort with the Federal Government we must determine whether we can afford to go along with this program and whether it would be wiser in the long run for us as a State to encourage the entrance of Federal agencies into public welfare fields already served by the State and its local governments. It must be granted that there are both advantages and disadvantages in such an undertaking which must be weighed carefully against each other, not only for their immediate effects but for the future.

The Social Security Act further provides retirement annuities for certain classes of our citizens who have had employment in each of at least twenty weeks of the five years preceding arrival at age sixty-five, who reach that age on or after January 1, 1942. It is reported to me that the Federal statute as it presently appears would probably bar as many as fifty per cent of New Jersey's employed citizens through exemptions or other provisions contained in the act. This part of the statute, however, is to be administered solely by the Federal Government and requires no State action. Its provisions, when and as it becomes effective, are of direct interest to the people of the State.

The final objective of the Federal Social Security Act is the establishment of compulsory unemployment compensation through proposed joint action of the State and Federal Governments.

This program is so sweeping and so far beyond any of the established precedents in the country that the friends of welfare legislation may well question the advisability of entering such a compact. We have had a great deal of experience with the vagaries of federal administration during the last three years. I am not sure that we should encourage more of the same sort of thing. There are problems of public finance involved which have not been discussed sufficiently to impress upon the people what this legislation is to cost, what the average citizen must contribute directly and indirectly to the public treasuries in order to meet the expenditures which would be authorized, and what would be the economic, political and social consequences. These do not become apparent from any superficial consideration. There are involved questions of the benefits to be derived, their necessity, their adequacy and how they are to be administered; there are the problems of collecting the revenues, who shall be required to pay them, how the payments will affect business, and what the effect on the stability of the nation will be—not only next year and the next and the next, but forty or fifty years hence. These and other questions equally perplexing and equally important must be answered to the general satisfaction of our people before we can agree to support the principles and provisions laid down in the Federal Security Act.

For myself, and I think that I speak in this particular for the people of the State, we want to know among other things—what benefits will New Jersey citizens assuredly obtain from participation in this program; what liabilities will tend to offset these benefits and will these liabilities cancel or more than cancel the benefits to be derived; what will be the cost to citizens of the State—now and in the future; how can these costs be met in a practical and realistic way; what are the long range implications of this legislation; can they be reconciled with our American traditions and our established institutions? I am hopeful that our Social Security Commission will furnish us clues to the answers of these questions.

I am constrained to say personally that I can not subscribe generally to the principles of government by bounty, which has seemed recently to pervade all of our political and social thinking, regardless of the social values of the ends sought. Government both in the State and in local areas must be in a position to support the ordinary services which it undertakes, and it should look for extraordinary assistance only in time of extraordinary and unusual emergency.

The Budget Advisory Committee has estimated that if New Jersey participates with the Federal government under the welfare titles of the Social Security Act, the State's finances will benefit by an estimated amount of $3,500,000 in 1936. This figure is listed as among the cash resources available. I can not pass with any assurance upon this amount as I have not seen the calculations upon which it is based. All of the figures that I have seen leads me to conclude that if the State should immediately adopt these titles with the age reduction to 65 deferred until 1940, the benefits accruing to the State and which could be regarded as a cash resource would be much less than this amount, and if these titles were adopted with an immediate age change the benefits shown would approximate a half million. Aside from any possible immediate gain, I am constrained to repeat that we should go slowly and carefully in this whole matter.

PENDING TAX MATTERS

Two tax matters of great importance to the State and the municipalities are still pending; the Dorrance Estate Tax and the over-due and unpaid railroad taxes. If the Dorrance tax is finally collected it will go a great way toward the solution of our emergency financial problems. It should be prosecuted with all possible vigor and dispatch.

The withholding of a portion of the annual taxes by a number of the railroads offers even a more serious problem. These railroads have withheld a part of the taxes due and have appealed to the State and Federal courts against the State's method of assessment and the valuations established thereunder. $24,733,000.00, covering a period of four years, are over-due and unpaid. The prospects for a prompt and final determination in this case are not particularly encouraging. The moneys involved belong almost entirely to municipalities for purposes of public education. They have already been spent.

In 1933 Governor Moore sent a special message to the Legislature urging a study of the questions at issue with a view to remedying the conditions complained of in the litigation. A legislative committee was appointed and made recommendations. In 1934 the Governor sent a further message to the Legislature urging action. This is an admittedly complicated problem. It must be attacked with some courage and in a forthright way. The moneys due are badly needed by our municipalities in liquidation of the obligations contracted against these taxes. I would urge that the Legislature seek an early solution.

SAFETY

Aroused public sentiment against the terrific annual toll of accidents, accidental deaths and property damage has swept over the country during the past year. It has finally come to the consciousness of the people that accidents on highways, in the home, on the farm and in the factory are far more dangerous to the lives and well-being of our citizens than war. New Jersey has a better record both on its highways and in industry than most other States. Yet highway accidents alone take an annual toll of from eleven hundred to thirteen hundred lives, twenty to thirty thousand personal injuries, in some measure disabling, in from thirty to forty thousand motor vehicle accidents. The solution of our highway accident problem, to the extent that there is a solution, involves first, "safeguards," and second, "safe practices."

In furtherance of these objectives, I desire to call to your attention the desirability of developing a highly efficient highway patrol unit to police the State highway system as an essential safeguard. The police forces of our numerous small communities are unable to cope with the problems of motor traffic and traffic law observance. The State Police is extended to the very limit with its present limited personnel, and the small group of Motor Vehicle Inspectors is engaged for a great part of the time in other necessary departmental activities.

A year ago, I proposed an annual or semi-annual inspection of motor vehicles under a plan that will divorce the features of inspection from the commercial aspects of adjustment and repair. I repeat that suggestion. A series of publicly owned and operated inspection stations should be established. This would involve, to be sure, a considerable cost, but through a system of small inspection charges this cost could be amortized within a few years and thereafter the inspection fees could be reduced to a nominal amount necessary for operation and maintenance.

Another safety measure that is attracting wide attention is highway lighting. From analysis and study of motor vehicle and accident statistics over a period of years, it has been determined that about one-half of the accidents upon streets and highways and more than one-half of the highway deaths occur during the hours of darkness despite the fact that the volume of traffic during these hours is but one-fifth to one-fourth of the total twenty-four hour traffic. This means that twenty to twenty-five per cent of the vehicles on our highways produce nearly one-half of the accidents and more than one-half of the deaths. We have been making some experiments with highway lighting in New Jersey for two or three years past. Similar experiments have been carried on in many other States.

Highway lighting does substantially reduce night accidents. The expense involved in this instance will be relatively heavy, but there are enough convincing data already available to show the wisdom of such an investment. There is bound to result great savings in lives and prevention of disabling injuries and millions of dollars in property damage each year. The taxpayer in any event must ultimately foot the bill. Even if sentiment is entirely ignored, lighting of at least our heavily traveled thoroughfares will prove to be a most attractive investment.

Another of the main causes of serious highway accidents is inadequate and improper lighting equipment upon commercial vehicles. This accounts for a great many of our rear-end collisions as well as other kinds of motor vehicle accidents. The National Conference on Street and Highway Safety has now promulgated a uniform code designed to meet every desirable requirement for lighting equipment on commercial vehicles of all types. This code should be accepted by New Jersey and enacted into law.

Even though we should provide a highway patrol, periodic inspection of motor vehicles, highway lighting and a uniform code for lighting equipment, there would still remain the problem of interest in safety practices among adults and safety education for the children. These things cannot be legislated; they must be taught. For many years, New Jersey has maintained an effective program of safety education in industry through the agency of the Labor Department. Anyone who studies our labor statistics dealing with industrial health and safety over a period of years cannot fail to be impressed with the excellent results which have come from that undertaking. For some time, the Motor Vehicle Department has been carrying on, in a limited way, a program for highway safety. There is no substitute for education in respect to this matter, and I urge that this campaign be continued and extended to the end that the present State-wide interest in safety may be harnessed into one co-ordinated and continuing effort toward greater safety in all of our endeavors and relationships but especially on our streets and highways.

Last September I called a state-wide Safety Conference to which officials and citizens of New Jersey as well as adjoining states were invited. Two thousand delegates attended this Conference, and great numbers of them participated in the two-day discussion. I am convinced that this movement has done much to center state-wide attention upon our safety problems and to co-ordinate the activities of the various agencies undertaking safety activities of some kind. As a result of the deliberations and recommendations of the Conference, I appointed a New Jersey Safety Council to consider the numerous proposals that were made, to foster public opinion for increased safety in the home, in industry, on our streets and highways, in transportation, in fire prevention and among children and to develop a State program for safety. I am hopeful that the Legislature will give its endorsement to this undertaking.

This safety program will involve some additional legislation and the expenditure of public funds in considerable volume. I urge the adoption of such legislation as is required. Such expenditures as may be made need not be the spending of new money, but the use of present revenues in a different way. It is of the highest economic importance that New Jersey shall have adequate highways. It is equally important that these highways shall be equipped with every reasonable safeguard and that safe practices shall be observed by their users. These activities may very properly be charged in their entirety to the revenues derived from motor vehicle fees and taxes.

In any safety program we cannot ignore, of course, the importance of the same safeguards and safe practices on our airways and in the use of airplanes as we seek in our highway and motor traffic. Air transportation is one of our newer industries. It is here to stay, and it has almost untold possibilities for development. Our Newark Airport is the busiest in the world. We have thirty-four operating air fields. Not a single commercial passenger life has been lost in either scheduled or nonscheduled flying in or over New Jersey for more than four years. We have spent very little in the regulation of air traffic. We should see to it that our record of air safety is maintained.

GUARANTY MORTGAGES AND TITLES

The guaranty mortgage business is a thing of the past insofar as the presently constituted companies operating under the insurance laws of the State are concerned. New Jersey has had the same unfortunate experience as other states in which the operation of this general type of company was authorized and sanctioned. The nominal percentage of interest received and set aside as a guaranty fund was never adequate to provide for such contingencies as those through which we have been passing. There still remains, however, a market for sound mortgage financing in the State, and it is to this that attention should be directed.

Insurance companies, banks and building and loan associations as well as existing federal agencies may be depended upon to absorb much of the construction financing which is essential to any normal recovery in real estate values and construction. There will remain, however, an increasing need for larger financing such as multiple dwellings, apartments and industrial buildings beyond the capacity of existing agencies. Individuals, executors and trustees, foundations and charitable organizations will likewise seek sound mortgage investments. This situation must be met if available funds for investments of this character are to be kept within the State. I am hopeful that the Legislature, guided by the experiences of recent years, will be able to develop a procedure which will effectively safeguard sound mortgage investments and encourage investment to return to this field in the State.

The business of guaranteeing titles should likewise be provided with safeguards through the establishment of adequate reserves and effective regulation of companies furnishing this service. It is important that this insurance function shall be re-established in the public confidence.

STATE RESOURCES

In my Inaugural Message, I discussed briefly our seeming indifference to the business, residence, and recreational advantages which New Jersey possesses to an unusual degree. I have complete faith in the great development of the State in the immediate future. This development is inevitable. I know we have difficult and baffling problems to face but we must take some thought for tomorrow. We cannot afford to delay longer the development of plans for the protection of our coastline from the devastating damages through erosion and the much greater damages that constantly threaten. In all the world, there is no coastline so attractive for recreation purposes as ours. We have developed it in spots only, and we have almost altogether neglected its protection.

We ought to act in the acquisition of ocean parks before it is too late. We should make provision for the extension of our recreational and forest areas. We must protect and develop our potable water supply. We must continue the fight against the pests and conditions that adversely affect our great agricultural interests. We need to provide an effective agency for the systematic advertisement of our manufacturing sites and business possibilities.

Many other States less fortunate than New Jersey have provided and continued to provide funds in considerable amounts for advertising purposes. Governor Lehman in his Message to the New York Legislature stated that the Bureau of State Publicity established last year in the Conservation Department "has achieved gratifying success in stimulating vacation, recreation and travel business within the State." The Governor reports that there has been an increase during the year of twenty-five per cent in the tourist and vacation activities involving five million visitors who spent approximately two hundred million dollars in the State. I am convinced that a comparable agency in New Jersey would show even greater results.

I shall not take the time to enlarge upon this suggestion here, but I want to emphasize that we in New Jersey have hardly scratched the surface in these matters of attracting hundreds of thousands of people in the metropolitan centers at either end of the State who are continually seeking homes in less congested areas, in garden communities and in our agricultural areas. Neither have we taken the advantage that has been available to us of developing our harbor fronts, our manufacturing sites and attracting business interests to them. I have made no provision in the Executive Budget for any of these things. I am of the opinion that we should attack some of them now. I particularly recommend that a Legislative Committee be set up to undertake the advancement of coast protection plans through Congressional assistance.

INTERSTATE CO-OPERATION

In an effort to improve the functioning of State agencies and to integrate their work more effectively with the business of preventing and suppressing crime, not only in New Jersey, but in other States, I called a State Crimes Conference for March 1 and 2, 1935. Representatives of practically every public and private agency interested in the apprehension, the conviction, the correction and punishment of criminals in the State participated. As a result of the constructive proposals that came out of that conference, enabling legislation was enacted providing for the establishment of a Commission on Interstate Co-operation. This Commission, composed of four representatives of the Senate, five of the House of Assembly and six appointed by the Governor, was organized under the chairmanship of Judge Richard Hartshorne. It was the first Commission on Interstate Co-operation established in America.

In the short period since its establishment, the work which New Jersey has undertaken through the agency of this Commission on Interstate Co-operation has attracted nation-wide attention. "State Government", the official publication of the American Legislators' Association, hailed New Jersey's action in this respect as the beginning of an epoch-making movement, and New Jersey's procedure has served as a guide for the organization of Commissions on Interstate Co-operation in many other States.

When we began to study the problems which could not be effectively met when treated strictly as State problems and which involved interstate relations, we realized more clearly than ever before that the proper administration and the effective dealing with most of our major State problems involve interstate relations to some degree. Crime naturally headed the list, but questions of traffic, water pollution, bridges, tunnels, trucking, agricultural pests, taxes, milk, highways, hours of labor, wages, trade practices, health, public welfare, floods, liquor, bootleg coal, all entered the picture.

Last October, our New Jersey Commission on Interstate Co-operation acted as host to an Interstate Crimes Conference. This Conference was attended by representatives of thirty States. Out of that Conference grew an Interstate Crime Commission of which Judge Hartshorne has been named chairman.

In 1935, New Jersey has shown the way in this new and developing movement. I am anxious that we shall continue to serve this movement throughout 1936 not only in the better handling of our own affairs, but also in dealing more effectively with these matters which concern us as a member of a group of States. To further consolidate the gains already made, it is my feeling that provision should be made during this year for another Crimes Conference, another Conference on Interstate Co-operation dealing primarily with the subject of interstate compacts and another Conference on Safety under the leadership of the New Jersey Safety Council which I have heretofore mentioned.

OTHER MATTERS

I shall not undertake to discuss in detail a number of our other established institutions and activities of the State government. My observations and conclusions on many of these were submitted in my Inaugural Message a year ago in which I undertook to cover the general field of State and local government and the administrative and other matters arising thereunder. My position with respect to labor, the encouragement of more adequate housing for New Jersey workers, the maintenance of required institutional facilities, the basic importance and maintenance of our public educational system, the safeguarding of our agricultural interests, the continuing development and protection of our milk production and marketing, the necessity for early action looking to the development of our potable water supplies, the maintenance, even the extension, of our health services, the preservation and further improvement of our civil service system, remains as stated a year ago.

CONCLUSION

At this opening of the One Hundred and Sixtieth Legislature, I, as representing the Executive Branch and you of the Legislative Branch of the Government face a number of difficult and complicated problems for which solutions must be found. As you go about your legislative tasks I need not say, I am sure, that you should be guided by no other purpose than the interests of the people whom you represent and whom all of government is intended to serve.

I have undertaken to state my views frankly and sincerely. May I express the hope that we shall approach our tasks in a spirit of co-operation and understanding. If we do this we are assured of success in our undertakings.

Respectfully submitted,

HAROLD G. HOFFMAN,
Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

January 27, 1936.

To the Legislature:

I transmit herewith my Second Special Message to the 160th Session of the New Jersey Legislature, relating to the creation of a Palisades Interstate Park Commission by interstate compact.

Respectfully submitted,

HAROLD G. HOFFMAN,
Governor.

Attest:

R. Wm. Lagay,
Secretary to the Governor.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

The Creation of a Palisades Interstate Park Commission by Interstate Compact

To the Legislature:

The Commissioners of the Palisades Interstate Park and others interested in the Park have brought to my attention the necessity for a change in the corporate structure of the Commission, by the creation, by interstate compact, of a joint corporate instrumentality of the States of New Jersey and New York to be known as The Palisades Interstate Park Commission, with appropriate powers and thereby to continue the Palisades Interstate Park.

I do not hesitate to say that I generally favor compacts of this kind when it is definitely provided that New Jersey enters the compact on strictly equal terms and that the creation of the interstate body and the powers vested in it are all in the public interest. Such is the case here.

The present Palisades Interstate Park had its inception in a movement, started in the 1890's, to preserve the scenic beauty of the Palisades along the Hudson River. The Palisades were threatened with destruction as a result of quarrying operations. They were located in both New Jersey and New York and hence action by both States was required if the unparalleled beauty of this natural formation was to be preserved as a whole and not in fragments.

In 1895 a committee composed of three citizens of each State was appointed by the respective Governors with the object of inducing the United States Government to acquire the Palisades as a reservation or for the purpose of fortification. A bill to accomplish this object was introduced in Congress but failed of passage. However, popular demand for the preservation of the Palisades continued to grow and in 1900 the two States enacted legislation that marked the beginning of the present park.

The machinery set up in 1900 consisted of two separate State bodies—a New Jersey Commission and a New York Commission. It was contemplated that the activities of the two State Boards would be co-ordinated through having identical members of the two State Commissions. As a matter of fact, this is what has happened throughout the thirty-five years of the Park's existence, except for one unimportant exception. However, this co-ordination rests entirely upon comity and has no basis in law.

The Palisades Interstate Park was the first undertaking in which two sovereign States united for joint action in a vast project. It represents a co-operative enterprise of unparalleled success. Starting as a project merely for the preservation of the scenic beauty of the Palisades, it has grown to be one of the world's greatest parks. The attendance in the Park is greater than in any other park in the world. It is estimated that 14,084,818 people visited the Park in the year 1935. Park lands consist of approximately 1700 acres in New Jersey and 46,000 acres in New York. The lands in New Jersey were valued as acquired at a total of $10,914,306, while the lands in New York, which are mostly mountainous, were valued at the times of their acquisition at a total of $7,524,671.08.

Since the creation of the Park in 1900, the State of New Jersey has appropriated for the Park $3,291,415.37, while the State of New York has donated land valued at $170,000 and has appropriated $22,594,735.38 in money. In addition to these State contributions, gifts of money and land have been made to the Park by private donors totaling $17,799,999.57. The grand total of the money and property received from the two States and from private contributors amounts to $43,856,150.32.

During the year 1935, Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., very generously gave to the New Jersey Commission land on top of the Palisades of an estimated value of $9,649,374.25. In the letter from Mr. Rockefeller's attorney offering this land to the Commission, there appears the following language:

> "You will recall that in 1925 a very careful and extensive survey of the Park as to its origin, development, administration, finances, scope, use and future was made under the guidance of the Laura Spelman Rockefeller Memorial, which has been a contributor to the Park in large amounts. The report based on that survey contains specific findings on this subject of the corporation and administration structure of the project and strongly recommends an interstate compact to give permanency to the whole situation. Such a compact would represent an agreement entered into between the two States and ratified by the Congress of the United States and is, in the opinion of the Donor, essential to give the needed assurance of unity and continuity in the present agreement."

The only substantial criticism of the Park or its management in that survey related to its corporate structure. The survey stated as follows:

> "The unity and continuity of the Park as an interstate enterprise are not formally assured at the present time. Legally, its affairs are in the hands of two separate corporations. Withdrawal or fundamental changes in policy on the part of either State would sacrifice the advantages of the interstate basis. The present organization structure, resting on comity and custom alone, does not provide a sufficient guarantee of permanence to warrant large and important financial support."

The survey also commented upon the administrative difficulties resulting from the operation of the Park by two separate State commissions, called attention to the fact that the present double-headed corporate structure represents such a cumbersome arrangement that management costs are greater than should be the case, that the managers are unnecessarily confused and restricted by the numerous and varying regulations of the two States, pointed out that the nature and extent of the use of Palisades Interstate Park is such that it is not properly considered the enterprise of any one State and that with property in both States and adjoining their boundaries, an overlapping use results, so that on the one hand, the citizens of New York use the New Jersey section of the Park very extensively, while on the other, the citizens of New Jersey use the New York section extensively, so that on the basis of use alone the Park cannot fairly be operated other than as an interstate entity; finally, that an interstate compact is needed because it will give permanency to the whole situation.

Such a compact has now been prepared and is submitted herewith. It creates a single Commission to operate the entire Park in both States. It provides for complete control by the Governor and the Legislature of each State of all appropriations made by such State. The compact forbids the new commission to pledge the credit of either State without the consent of the Legislature thereof. The compact will permit the organization of a single police department for the entire Park but otherwise makes no material change, so far as the State of New Jersey is concerned, in the management and operation of the Park as provided for in existing statutes of this State.

From an examination of the proposed compact, you will see that each State has reserved full independence of action with respect to such fundamental matters as appropriations, exercise of power of eminent domain and police regulations. The power and authority of the new Palisades Interstate Park Commission with respect to these and various other matters should be covered by statutory provisions which have been incorporated in a companion bill. These provisions are virtual re-enactments of existing statutes so as to make them apply to the new interstate commission when the compact comes into force upon its ratification by Congress.

Respectfully submitted,

HAROLD G. HOFFMAN,
Governor.

Resolved, That the Speaker be and is hereby requested to grant the privileges of the floor to Mr. Ray Cooke, of the City of Trenton, Mercer County, who represents the Workers' Alliance of Mercer County. The Speaker is further requested to ask Mr. Cooke to address the House briefly.

The Speaker invited Mr. Cooke to address the House.

Mr. Cavinato moved that the speech by Mr. Cooke be spread in full upon the Minutes.

Which motion was adopted.

Mr. Cooke addressed the House as follows:
Ladies and Gentlemen:

The Workers' Alliance of New Jersey come tonight bringing the plea of thousands of your friends and neighbors, citizens of this Commonwealth, who because of the economic conditions are forced to look to you for the means of existence.

The law, with civilization, having banished the jungle law of "tooth and claw," the preying of the strong on the weak, is obligated to provide peacefully the wherewithal of a bare living for those who through no fault or failure on their part have been rendered unable to provide for themselves or their dependents.

In these times of emergency the usual and conservative handling of situations must be forgotten and emergency methods applied.

We realize that the failure and partisan application of the Works Progress program in not providing employment for all the employables on the relief rolls has caused the relief costs to remain at an unexpected high level. We also realize that the cost of government must be paid by the citizens and that any unusual expenditures are an added burden on the taxpayers.

It is with this thought in mind that we appear before you tonight with our request for the distribution of relief to the citizens by one cash check for all elements of relief. We know and fact has not been contested that the so-called "order" system of distribution is uneconomic and wasteful. The cost of relief administration can be reduced 40 per cent and you have the report of the State Relief Council showing the monthly and yearly totals. Our investigation of the actual expenditures, based on a county total, show that the present unnecessary order distribution costs 22 cents per person per month.

This amount of 22 cents may not seem very large to you who may never have known want nor the soul-destroying and morale-eating uncertainty of securing the next meal for hungry children, but this same 22 cents is the amount provided by the State E. R. A. for a meal for 5 or 5 meals for one person on the proposed order system of relief distribution. Measure this amount with your food budget and you will see that all reports to the contrary, the relief clients are not being kept in luxury nor living off the fat of the land.

Consider also the morale-destroying effect of the use of the orders. Place yourself in the relief client's place and picture your reaction as you stand by the side of your more fortunate neighbor in a store and are forced to pass over to the storekeeper instead of cash, an order which brands you "relief". Your neighbor can shop across the street where better goods can be secured at smaller prices, but you must expend the order in the first store to which it has been taken. Try to picture to yourselves the effect of never having or handling cash, of forgetting the value of a dollar and the budgeting of income; of becoming used to having all your needs covered by a slip of paper. Consider the reaction and the helplessness of the citizens when restored to every-day normal living, the use and value of cash forgotten and then have pity and do not blame your neighbor if he throws his money around like a drunken sailor. The previous "order" system of distribution forced many small merchants into bankruptcy through the delay incidental to the accounting and auditing function necessary before payment by the State.

Do you wish to be a party to forcing the little merchant to the wall and perhaps onto the relief rolls?

Do you intend that this great Commonwealth of New Jersey shall "chisel" the merchants of the State for the relief of the citizens and force them to add the expense of interest and discount charges to the cost of merchandise bought by the more fortunate citizens?

Will you at this time allow the cost of relief administration to be increased?

Will you also allow the morale of your friends and neighbors to be broken and the expense to the taxpayers increased?

If not, forget party lines, personal differences and ambitions and unite to provide tonight for the needs of the unfortunate citizens at the lowest possible cost to the taxpayers. The eyes of the State are upon you and your vote and action tonight will decide for many the question of how to vote at the next election.

Regarding the request for supplementing the earnings of W. P. A. workers. The wage scale of the W. P. A. was built upon the average family of four persons. The statistics of your relief population show that 55 per cent of the families have five and more members and of these families 42 per cent have children under 15 years of age who cannot supplement the earnings of the wage earner.

The State E. R. A. has ruled that W. P. A. earnings cannot be supplemented and the rule is applied regardless of the actual need of the large families and the fact that these families are doomed to a living far below the minimum established by the E. R. A. as an emergency relief standard.

The State E. R. A. will supplement the part-time earnings of workers in private industry when the income does not equal the minimum standard of the relief distribution.

Chapter 35 of the Laws of 1935, your law, specifies "sufficient relief" and makes no distinction as to the source of any possible earnings.

We appeal to you for equal treatment of the citizens and no discrimination.

You may feel inclined to agree with our statements and express sympathy for our condition as many others have under similar circumstances and qualify your statement with the usual "lack of funds". We answer that this statement tonight will not suffice nor answer the needs of the unfortunate citizens.

The emergency situation which confronts us tonight is that the State Relief Council has requested for the month of March, 1936, $3,240,000. We feel that had the Council instituted the All Cash plan for March the total would have been $3,200,000.

However of the $3,240,000, the Governor is authorized by your action to divert $2,000,000 and the municipal governments will contribute approximately $400,000 leaving a total of $840,000 to provide for relief in March and allow time for a further study of the economies and suggestions for financing for the balance of the year and the years to come.

We request that you authorize the diversion of sufficient funds to cover the amount needed for March, 1936, even if the budget is a little unbalanced this year and that the Legislature shall during the month of March determine the actual economies possible in the Budget Committee's reports and by appropriate legislation accept and allocate the resultant monies for relief purposes. We further request that this Legislature shall press for early settlement for the Dorrance Tax Case and allocate the amount received for relief purposes.

When it has been determined that the amount necessary to finance the relief distribution on a cash check basis with supplementary relief for W. P. A. workers is not available from the above mentioned sources, we request that the Legislature shall give consideration to the following sources of additional revenue and funds.

1. The seizure of the unclaimed bank and saving fund deposits in the banking institutions of the State, inactive for a certain specified period of years and after suitable advertisement.

2. A stamp tax on stock and bond transactions.

3. A stamp tax on bank checks.

We also request that due consideration shall be given to having each municipal government contribute the amount which would have been necessary in normal times for them to care for the unemployables now carried on the relief rolls.

In the event that the above stated sources of revenue do not produce the amounts needed we suggest tax on amusement admissions and the so-called luxury taxes now in effect in the neighboring States of New York and Pennsylvania.

Our contact with the relief problem pointing to a continuation of the conditions for many years we suggest for the financing for future years distribution the establishment of income taxes, both personal and corporation together with a large increase in the inheritance taxes.

We thank you for your consideration and in closing call upon you tonight to forget party lines, personal or political ambitions or any other thought or action which may prevent the enactment of suitable legislation that will provide economical distribution of adequate relief for all unfortunate citizens without "chiseling" on the merchants or destroying the morale of the dependent citizens.

A message was received from the Senate by the hands of its Secretary as follows, and was read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of New Jersey (the House of Assembly concurring),

Mr. Cavinato moved that the Governor's address be spread in full upon the minutes and that printed copies be furnished the members.

Which motion was adopted.

The Governor addressed the members as follows:
Members of the Legislature:

The responsibility of State administration is a joint responsibility. It belongs both to the Governor and the Legislature. Our acts and policies are of vital interest to the people whom we serve. The financial and revenue-producing machinery of the State and local governments was set up for what people considered the ordinary operations of our governments. It did not contemplate nor did it provide for these extraordinary relief expenditures of the past five years. We have met a long continuing emergency with temporary and emergency plans and procedures. The problem is still with us, the demands on the State Treasury are even greater, our surpluses have been spent and we must act.

For these reasons I come before you tonight to review again the facts as they are, to urge again your immediate consideration of these problems which call for action now, and to ask that legislative decisions be made without further delay. I appeal also to every one of you and to the press of the State to present all of the facts about these public problems so that there may be the widest possible understanding and appreciation of them. The average citizen who tries to acquaint himself with these problems is confused by the many claims and counter-claims that are made, the charges and countercharges that are preferred, and the widely varying figures that are offered.

I say to the members of this Legislature and to the people of the State that we can temporize no longer. Differences must be forgotten. We must be willing to accept the facts and figures as they appear, there must be action.

FACE FACTS AND AGREE ON QUESTIONS AT ISSUE

The effectiveness with which we meet these problems before us depends upon a mutual sense of confidence. The basis for that confidence must be a mutual and clear understanding of the problems of the State and all the facts which have a bearing upon them. Differences of opinion on questions of policy are to be expected. They are, in fact, a healthy sign of a serious and earnest consideration of our important public problems. There should, however, be no room for differences on questions of fact. If we can agree on the facts, we will be upon common ground. We can then proceed to the solution of our problems with good hope of success.

Having agreed on basic facts we ought, it seems to me, to define each difference of opinion upon questions of policy and procedure and to resolve these differences into clear-cut issues to be settled by the decision of the majority. Agreement as to the benefits or results of each of two or more opposing policies should be possible and the issues can then be determined on the basis of individual judgments in weighing the disadvantages and advantages of each.

JOINT RESPONSIBILITY OF THE LEGISLATURE AND THE EXECUTIVE

As we share the responsibility for giving thoughtful and comprehensive study to the vital needs of the State and of intelligently providing for them, we likewise must share responsibility for the obstruction, the expediency, and the temporizing that delays or prevents constructive legislation. Personal, political, or group interests or ambitions must not be permitted to stand in the way of the solution of our common problems in a spirit of right and justice for all our people.

THE CRISIS IN FINANCING RELIEF

Tonight we are face to face with a crisis in financing unemployment relief. I think we can all agree on that. I have drained the Treasury to provide two millions of dollars for unemployment relief for the month of March—one million from motor fuel tax monies and one million from free treasury funds. Chapter sixty of the laws of 1935 limits my authority to transfer funds to the Emergency Relief Administration to two millions of dollars a month. Under this law, I could not transfer another dollar for relief purposes in March even if I could find any more money that might be transferred. The Constitution and the law prohibit the incurring of obligations and the creation of debt by the Legislature or any officer or agency of the State in excess of one hundred thousand dollars, and no officer or agency of the State has any power to incur obligations or create debts except pursuant to appropriations. This being the case, the Emergency Relief Administration can not continue to administer relief beyond March tenth under the limited authority granted me to transfer funds. In addition to the municipal contributions provided for, another one million and fifty thousand dollars is required for the month of March, and thereafter it is estimated that three millions of dollars a month will be needed. This is our present problem.

PURPOSE OF MESSAGE

My purpose tonight is to state the facts in this whole relief and financial situation. I shall try also to state what I believe to be the differences of opinion or the questions of policy that have thus far prevented the formulation of definite plans for financing unemployment relief. I am hopeful that we can agree on certain basic facts and figures and that we can define the questions on which we disagree. If we can do this, I am confident that we may proceed to find the answers without arguing further as to what the questions really are.

I am not seeking an "out." My position is well known. I am entirely willing to wait for time and circumstances to determine the soundness or unsoundness of my position. I do seek action because action is necessary. My concern tonight is to have definite plans made as speedily as possible for providing food, clothing, and shelter for our unemployed. In so far as I am able, I am determined that not one of our people shall be permitted to starve because the State can not provide the necessary funds. But I can not provide the full monthly quota of funds required for emergency relief purposes when no money is available to be transferred and, if money were available, when I am prohibited by law from transferring more than two millions of dollars a month.

I have already diverted every dollar of motor vehicle revenues that could be diverted if the free balances of construction appropriations to the Highway Department were lapsed. I have authorized the transfer, to relief funds, of every dollar of free treasury funds that the State Comptroller advises can be transferred without impairing the financial position of the State.

INVESTIGATION OF THE RELIEF ADMINISTRATION

It has been suggested that an investigation of the Emergency Relief Administration would disclose how savings can be effected. May I remind you that an investigation, which I authorized nearly three months ago, has just been made for the Budget Advisory Committee. I understand that this investigation was intensive and that relief executives were called upon to furnish all kinds of information and data and to participate in discussions of the policies, organization, staff, procedures, and costs of relief administration. So far I have had no report of the findings and recommendations of this investigation. I think we ought to have it before we proceed with another investigation and I hope that it may be promptly released.

MUNICIPALITIES CANNOT ASSUME THE BURDEN OF RELIEF

We can not turn this burden of financing unemployment relief back to the municipalities at this time unless we provide new sources of revenues for them. If we undertook to do this we would impose the entire burden of relief costs upon real estate and practically every dollar required for relief purposes would have to be borrowed this year at high rates of interest. This would destroy property values and plunge local governments into wholesale bankruptcy. I think that we can agree that this would be no solution to our problem.

A STATE BOND ISSUE NO SOLUTION OF PRESENT PROBLEM

Some of you, in order to avoid facing the problem of providing necessary funds by other means at this time, may incline toward another bond issue. I can not agree that this should be done. We have already issued thirty-five millions for this purpose. Our State, our local governments, and the Federal government especially, have already hopelessly burdened future generations in this way. I hope we may have the courage to reject this temptation. At any rate, it must be remembered that a bond issue could not be authorized before the general election in November and it would be some time in December or, more likely, January, 1937, before any bond moneys could be actually made available. This would be no solution for our immediate problem.

THE ADVISORY COMMITTEE'S PROGRAM

The Budget Advisory Committee proposes that relief be financed from surplus funds, diversions of highway moneys, estimated increases in revenues, and by reducing the relief load through acceptance of the provisions of the Federal Social Security Act relating to the aged and children. Let me review these proposals. I have had the figures carefully checked. I believe they are right.

STATE FUND SURPLUS

The Budget Advisory Committee estimates that there will be a surplus of free treasury funds on June 30, 1936, of $5,506,762. This figure includes estimated increases in the revenues of the current fiscal year and estimated savings in expenditures. It includes the estimated amount of appropriation balances that will lapse ninety days after the close of the current fiscal year. Among the lapsed balances is included the estimated free balance on June 30, 1936, of the appropriation for the administration of the sales tax. The $5,506,762 of State fund surplus is not available as free funds in the Treasury now and the Committee has never claimed that this is so. The State Comptroller advised the Legislative Committee on Emergency Relief that, in the present emergency, he believed $4,400,000 could safely be taken from free treasury funds for unemployment relief purposes. I have transferred this full amount to the Emergency Relief Administration.

Does any member of the Legislature believe that we can safely take any more money from free treasury funds and, if so, how much? This is a question that should be definitely answered now. I am taking the word of the Comptroller that this is the maximum amount that can be taken with safety. The Budget Advisory Committee was present at the meeting of the Legislative Committee on Emergency Relief a week ago at which it was agreed that $4,400,000 might be transferred from free treasury funds. The Advisory Committee, as I understand it, did not advocate a transfer of any amount in excess of this $4,400,000 but agreed that the transfer of this amount would be substantial compliance with its recommendation.

ECONOMIES AND INCREASED REVENUES NEXT FISCAL YEAR

The Budget Advisory Committee further estimates that in the first half of the ensuing fiscal year, $1,725,000 will become available in the State general fund for relief purposes. This amount, the Committee estimates, can be realized by effecting economies to the extent of $1,250,000 in the period beginning July 1, 1936, and ending December 31, 1936, and from an anticipated increase of $475,000 in the revenues during that period. These monies are not, of course, in the Treasury now. If the estimates of the Budget Advisory Committee prove to be correct, they will become available at the rate of about $143,750 a month. Whether any such surplus will accrue to the State general fund in the period mentioned depends entirely on the action taken on the budget recommendations by the Joint Committee on Appropriations and the Legislature. If, after the budget is adopted and we begin to operate under it, it becomes clear that such amounts are accruing to the surplus of the State general fund, I fully agree that they shall be used for emergency relief. Before authorizing further transfers from the State general fund I feel that I must require the certification of the State Comptroller as to the amounts that can be transferred at any one time without impairing the ability of the State promptly to meet its maturing obligations and without incurring a deficit at the close of the fiscal year. With respect to this recommendation of the Budget Advisory Committee, we may assume that it is receiving full consideration by the Joint Appropriations Committee and will be finally disposed of by the Legislature. I hope that we can agree that we can not count upon this $1,725,000 as cash on hand and available for relief at this time.

SURPLUS OF REVOLVING FUNDS

The Budget Advisory Committee estimates that there is a surplus of $200,000 in the revolving working capital funds of the State. These funds include the State Use revolving fund, the revolving fund of the Board of Children's Guardians, and the State purchase fund. I am agreeable to making $200,000 available for emergency relief purposes from any available surplus in these funds.

MUNICIPAL CONTRIBUTIONS

The Budget Advisory Committee estimates that $5,000,000 a year can be made available by assessments upon our municipalities for emergency relief purposes. I believe that the Budget Advisory Committee and the Legislative Committee on Emergency Relief are in agreement that the same amount should be provided by the municipalities this year as was received from them last year. Contributions from municipalities average $350,000 a month, making a total of around $4,250,000 a year. Assuming that no new sources of revenues are provided for our municipalities, we may accept $4,250,000 as the amount of municipal contributions available for financing emergency relief in the current year.

FEDERAL SOCIAL SECURITY AID

The Advisory Committee recommends the adoption of the provisions of the Federal Social Security Act relating to the aged and children, and estimates that the sum of $3,500,000 would accrue to the State as a net saving, available for financing emergency relief. If we adopt the provisions of the Federal Social Security Act, State expenditures for old age pensions and aid to children will increase, but it is estimated that the payment of old age pensions and aid to children will reduce the burden of unemployment relief. The problem here, then, is to determine the amount by which the reduction in the relief load will exceed the increase in State expenditures for old age pensions and aid to children. This is a variable and uncertain figure at best. The Budget Advisory Committee included in its estimates of money available for financing emergency relief, the full amount of the estimated contribution from the Federal government under the provisions of the Federal Social Security Act. At the conference last Monday, Dr. Sly, a member of the Advisory Committee, explained this inadvertence and pointed out that the $3,500,000, or more probably $4,600,000, of Federal funds would be available for the entire program, but not for reducing the cost of emergency relief. Bills have already been introduced providing for the adoption of the Federal Social Security Act as it relates to the aged and children. If these bills are enacted into law, it is doubtful whether the State will receive more than two payments from the Federal government during this calendar year. Pending receipt of the payments from the Federal gvernment, State expenditures would most certainly be increased and it is doubtful whether, by the end of the year, the net reduction in the amount of State funds required for unemployment relief, old age pensions, and aid to children would exceed $500,000. I believe that these can be agreed upon as the probable facts.

HIGHWAY FUNDS—STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT EXPENDITURES

The Budget Advisory Committee estimates that $11,925,360 of State highway funds can be made available for emergency relief. With respect to the State Highway Department itself, the Committee recommends that appropriations to the Department be reduced $5,902,573 below the appropriations for 1935. The Committee does not recommend the lapsing of any free balances of 1935 appropriations for State aid, for maintenance, for administration, engineering, inspection, costs of acquiring right-of-way, institution roads and approaches, or plant and equipment. Of the $5,092,573 reduction proposed by the Advisory Committee, the Joint Committee on Appropriations has accepted $5,683,244. These figures are derived as follows:

Appropriation	Reductions Recommended by Budget Advisory Committee	Appropriations Committee
Administration, Engineering, Inspection, and Costs of Acquiring Right-of-Way	$600,000	$400,000
Maintenance of State Highways	500,000	200,000
Plant and Equipment	50,000	5,000
Federal Aid Construction	1,117,168	1,092,759
Other Construction from the Balance of Motor Vehicle Fees	3,635,405	3,985,465

HIGHWAY FUNDS—OTHER DEPARTMENTAL EXPENDITURES

Fifty-three thousand two hundred and sixty dollars of the motor vehicle revenues to become available for diversion as proposed by the Budget Advisory Committee was to come from reducing appropriations to the Department of Motor Vehicles, the Motor Fuel Tax Division, and the Board of Commerce and Navigation. The tentative highway budget of the Joint Appropriations Committee would increase the appropriations to these departments by $35,639. I understand that the Advisory Committee now concurs in this recommendation of the Appropriations Committee. The increase in these departmental appropriations is found entirely in the allowances to the Motor Fuel Tax Division. With these increased expenditures, increased revenues will result.

The Budget Advisory Committee recommends that all construction of institution roads and approaches be deferred. After consideration of the conditions at some of our institutions, the Joint Committee on Appropriations recommended that, in addition to the available unexpended balances of 1935 appropriations, $150,000 be appropriated for the year 1936. I believe that the Advisory Committee will concur in this recommendation.

HIGHWAY FUNDS—SUMMARY OF SAVINGS IN ALL DEPARTMENTAL EXPENDITURES

For purely State departmental expenditures from the State highway fund, the total reductions recommended by the Budget Advisory Committee are $6,137,833. Of this amount, the Joint Appropriations Committee has accepted $5,679,585.

HIGHWAY FUNDS—DEBT SERVICE AND STATE AID

The remainder of the Budget Advisory Committee's proposed diversions of $11,925,360 is accounted for by a proposed reduction in debt service of $2,987,526 and proposed reduction in State aid to counties, townships, and boroughs of $2,800,000. These are the two items on which there is disagreement.

HIGHWAY FUNDS—SINKING FUND REQUIREMENT

The money for the sinking fund requirement for the year 1936-1937 must be in the hands of the Comptroller on or before December 15, 1936. This means that the sinking fund requirement for the fiscal year 1936-1937 must come from motor vehicle revenues of the calendar year 1936. It is immaterial, of course, whether the money is transferred to the sinking fund at the beginning or at the end of the calendar year. It is worth while to remember, however, that this money can not be invested by the State Highway Department but can be invested by the Sinking Fund Commission and so it may earn revenue through the year. This money has already been paid to the sinking fund. Even if the monies were now available, it would be a questionable policy to withhold them from the sinking fund, in view of the fact that a substantial portion of the assets of these funds is in bonds of municipalities in default to the sinking fund for principal or interest or both. The sinking fund is more than solvent today, but our municipalities are still financially weak and we are not yet assured that there will be no further depreciation in the value of the assets of the fund. The State must not gamble with the question of meeting its term bonds at maturity.

HIGHWAY FUNDS—STATE AID TO LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

The amount of State aid proposed to be withheld from the counties, townships, and boroughs and diverted to emergency relief is $2,800,000, representing the total of the amounts allotted in 1935 for construction and so-called reconstruction of rural roads. Because of what I conceive to be loose terminology in the budget and other financial statements of the State Highway Department, the Budget Advisory Committee had justification for assuming that this whole $2,800,000 is expended for construction. When the actual uses of these monies are traced out, it is found that the greater part is expended for surface treatment of secondary roads, yet is classified as reconstruction. The cost of major repairs to bridges is also included in this $2,800,000 as reconstruction.

I am making these statements only after a careful and unprejudiced study. I believe they are entirely correct. On this basis I think that most members of the Legislature will agree that if the State withholds this amount of aid, the greater part of it, if not all, will be raised locally for essential expenditures by increases in property tax levies. If you will study the facts you will find that the counties and municipalities receiving this aid have not been engaging in any large construction programs; most of them have been operating on a semi-maintenance basis and confining construction and reconstruction expenditures to essential projects that could be financed with these funds. The question as to whether this $2,800,000 should or should not be diverted is one of policy, to be resolved by the Legislature in the light of all the facts. I am hoping that this question will be speedily settled.

HIGHWAY FUNDS—STATEMENTS OF CONDITION AS OF DECEMBER 31, 1935

I realize that because of the various funds and accounts maintained in State highway financing and bookeeping, it is extremely difficult for the average layman to get an accurate picture of their actual condition. Since it seems to me that a clear understanding of State highway finances is the key to the solution of our present difficulties, I have made every endeavor to have the actual financial condition of the State Highway Department on December 31, 1935, clearly pictured for the information of the members of the Legislature and of the people. Appended to the printed copies of this message is a chart which sets out graphically and in statement form the essential facts as to the cash position of each of the several kinds of highway funds on December 31, 1935. I believe that it is entirely correct. I ask you and everyone interested in these matters to examine it. A careful study of that exhibit will show that for all practical purposes we must leave out of our relief calculations, bond funds, regular Federal aid funds, and National Industrial Recovery funds, and confine our attention to motor vehicle revenues.

HIGHWAY FUNDS—1935 DEFICIT

On December 31, 1935, there was an actual deficit of motor vehicle revenues amounting to $4,303,620. This deficit is due to the fact that, during the year 1935, I diverted from the State highway fund the sum of $5,391,423.85 to emergency relief and $2,000,000 to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners for grade crossing eliminations. In submitting its proposed budget, the Budget Advisory Committee did not make any provision for the $2,000,000 transferred to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners, but recommended instead that bonds be sold for this purpose. The Advisory Committee also recommended that construction appropriations amounting to $2,125,000 be cancelled in order to balance the 1935 budget and carry no surplus or deficit to 1936.

On December 31, 1935, motor vehicle revenues in cash to the credit of the State highway fund amounted to $7,579,-204.58; there were materials on hand and available for maintenance purposes valued at $199,961.91; and there was due from the Federal government the sum of $115,639.30 to reimburse motor vehicle revenues for expenditures made in anticipation of Federal Aid. These make a total of available resources on December 31 of $7,894,805.79. Against these resources there were construction contracts amounting to $3,826,496.35; there was reserved in pursuance of legislation you have enacted for State aid to counties, townships, and boroughs, $4,869,274.92; there were outstanding commitments for highway maintenance, for institution roads, and for plant and equipment, $516,137.54; there were free balances of appropriations for administration, engineering, inspection, administrative costs of acquiring right of way, and plant and equipment amounting to $876,768.05; and the balance of the construction program called for $2,109,748.93. These items total $12,198,425.79 as compared with the total resources of $7,894,805.79. In other words, there was a potential deficit of $4,303,620 of motor vehicle revenues on December 31, 1935. The only free balances were the $2,109,748.93, representing the balance of the construction program, and $876,768.05, representing the free balances of the several appropriations for maintenance, operation, and institution roads. But in determining the amounts to be allowed to the State Highway Department for various purposes other than construction in 1936, the Joint Appropriations Committee took these unexpended balances into account and recommended 1936 appropriations only for the additional requirements and not the full 1936 requirements. This is clearly set forth in the statements appearing on the chart appended to the printed copies of this message.

The proposal to lapse State aid appropriations has, I understand, been abandoned. The bill introduced to freeze highway fund balances does not affect State aid. No one has proposed that any contractual obligations be cancelled. Hence, the only balance of appropriations that can be cancelled in order to reduce the deficit is that representing the balance of the construction program which involves $2,109,748.93 of motor vehicle revenues. If we cancel this balance of the program, the deficit will be reduced to $2,193,871.07. This deficit will then have to be provided for in 1936 from the unappropriated revenues of 1936.

HIGHWAY FUNDS—1936 BUDGET

I have said that of the reductions of $6,137,833 in departmental expenditures from the State highway fund, proposed by the Budget Advisory Committee, the Joint Appropriations Committee has accepted $5,679,585. The Joint Appropriations Committee also increased the estimates of the 1936 revenues of the State highway fund as submitted by the Budget Advisory Committee, by $255,000 and thus would provide an estimated surplus of $5,934,585.45 of 1936 revenues over 1936 appropriations. If the unexpended balances of appropriations of 1935 and prior years did not exceed the cash resources of the State highway fund as of December 31, 1935, and there was neither a deficit nor a surplus to be carried forward to 1936, there would be this $5,934,585.45 of unappropriated revenues which might be diverted to unemployment relief. But we must deduct from these unappropriated revenues of 1936 the balance of the 1935 deficit, amounting to $2,193,871.07, and we thus have an estimated surplus of $3,740,714.38 that could be diverted for emergency relief purposes in 1936 without issuing bonds. I have already ordered the diversion of $3,710,-013.15, so that passage of the bill to freeze highway fund balances would freeze actually the sum of $30,701.23.

POSSIBLE RELEASE OF MOTOR VEHICLE REVENUES BY SELLING BRIDGE BONDS

The only other question now remaining with respect to highway funds is whether the $6,000,000 of authorized bonds already appropriated for rights of way and construction of bridges shall be sold. The contractual obligations against motor vehicle revenues on December 31, 1935 included bridge contracts for $1,349,500.78 which could be taken from bond monies were it considered good policy to sell bonds. I am against the issuance of bonds either for emergency relief or for highway purposes because it is the costliest way and it is against true public interest. To authorize the sale of bonds to provide $1,349,500.78 to finance bridge construction contracts that have already been let against motor vehicle revenues would simply be to issue bonds for relief purposes. The Legislature and the public should have all the facts and not merely my own convictions; consequently, I am pointing out that it is possible to provide another $1,349,500.78 from highway funds if we want to sell bonds. All of these figures have been arrived at independently of the Highway Department. If they are right, and I believe they are, then it would be absolutely impossible for the State Highway Department to finance contracts now in force and meet other present and compulsory requirements for funds for 1936 if any additional motor vehicle revenues are diverted.

THE TWENTY-SEVEN MILLION DOLLAR PROGRAM

The next question that the Legislature must determine and to which every citizen in the State is entitled to an answer is: How much of the $27,857,121 that the Budget Advisory Committee says is available for emergency relief can actually be made available? I have called attention to the over-estimates of $3,000,000 in the amount of the net saving claimed as accruing from the Federal Social Security legislation and of $750,000, representing the difference between the amount being collected from the municipalities and the $5,000,000 recommended by the Budget Advisory Committee.

Of the Advisory Committee's proposed means of financing: $3,750,000 may be disposed of as errors in estimating; $8,110,013.15 of State Funds and $1,050,000 of municipal funds have already been used for relief, and $200,000 of State funds and $3,200,000 of municipal funds can yet be made available for relief at the rate of $350,000 a month from the first of April, making a total of $12,560,013 for relief in 1936; $1,250,000 of estimated economies in the last half of 1936 and $475,000 of an estimated increase in revenues in the same period are yet to be realized, but we are agreed that these amounts will be used for relief if and as they become available or are definitely in sight; $500,000 is accepted as the net saving that we may expect if we adopt the Federal Social Security program as it relates to the aged and children; $203,248 is tentatively allocated to departmental appropriations from the highway fund for 1936 which exceed by this amount the total recommended by the Budget Advisory Committee; $2,193,871 is to be applied to liquidate the 1935 deficit of the State highway fund after cancelling the balance of the construction program and providing $2,000,000 for grade crossing eliminations; $1,106,762 is reserved as the estimated surplus of the State fund; $30,701 is reserved as the estimated unappropriated balance of motor vehicle revenues; $2,987,526 has already been paid to the sinking fund; and there remains the $2,800,000 of 1936 motor vehicle revenues yet to be received but tentatively allocated for road aid to counties, townships, and boroughs.

In brief, the $27,875,121 program is accounted for as follows:

Admitted overestimates of available resources	$3,750,000
Used for relief	9,160,013
To be used for relief if, as, and when the resources become available	5,625,000

Grade crossing eliminations by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners	2,000,000
Highway construction	193,871
Net increase in departmental appropriations from the highway fund	203,248
Estimated surplus to accrue after June 30, 1936, reserved for contingencies	1,137,463
Paid to the Sinking Fund	2,987,526
State aid for roads, in controversy	2,800,000
	$27,857,121

The sum of $18,294,658 is definitely gone; the sum of $5,625,000 still stands with the same value as the Advisory Committee placed on it, but is not available in March since it includes municipal contributions of $350,000 a month, and economies and increases in revenues that cannot be realized until late in 1936; the sum of $1,137,463 is not in the treasury now, but it is estimated we can anticipate building up this amount of surplus by December 31, 1936, to be reserved for contingencies; and we have left the $2,800,000 of State aid for rural roads, which it is proposed to divert.

THE ISSUES, THE PROBLEM, AND OUR DUTY

I realize that this recital of figures is a dry procedure, but we cannot get at the facts in any other way. I do not think that there is any room whatever for disagreement on any of these facts and figures. What, then, are the questions or issues with respect to this so-called twenty-seven million dollar program of financing relief? As I see it, they are these:

(1) Shall we reduce State aid to counties, townships and boroughs by $2,800,000 in 1936, on the assumption that the counties and municipalities will defer all construction and reconstruction of roads, all surface treatment of dirt roads, and all major repairs to roads and bridges?

(2) Shall we sell bonds to finance bridge construction contracts amounting to $1,349,500.78, in order to release this amount of motor vehicle revenues for relief purposes? This means, shall be sell bonds for unemployment relief purposes?

(3) As part of the means of financing relief in 1936, can we depend upon economies of $1,250,000 and an increase in revenues of $475,000 in 1936?

In this crisis, can we not at least have agreement that these are the issues that must be settled precedent to the final solution of this problem of financing unemployment relief? Let us not becloud these issues. Rather, let us proceed with determination through orderly legislative processes to resolve them. We must not continue in endless discussion of actions and procedures which might result in some economies next year or the next, until our unemployed citizens and their wives and children are tasting the ravages of starvation. I am told that landlords are reluctant to accept rent orders because of the uncertainty as to where the money to pay the rents is to come from and when it will be available. Thus far, food orders have been as good as currency. But this condition will not long continue unless we act quickly to assure our people that the State is providing the money to meet its obligations.

Assembly Bill No. 73, as I have pointed out, is no longer an issue. I have already transferred to relief all but $30,000 of the balances that it could freeze if it were enacted into law.

I ask you, before you adjourn this week, to dispose of the issues involving road aid and the sale of bridge bonds.

Whether $1,250,000 of economies can be effected and an increase of $475,000 of revenues can be realized in the last half of 1936 has no bearing on the problem of finding money for relief this month and next month. The budget as ultimately adopted by you will disclose whether we can anticipate a surplus of $1,725,000 in the State general fund by December 31, 1936. The means of financing relief for the last twenty days in this month must be found now and we cannot delay in formulating plans for the remainder of 1936. I have transferred all of the funds to the Relief Administration for March which the law permits, and I see no more State funds in sight for relief in March and the ensuing months. Surely we must see the seriousness of this situation and our plain duty with respect to it.

If we do not act now, this week, not next week or next month, the Relief Administration has no alternative but to close its doors, abandon its activities, and return the care and the cost of the unemployed to our municipal governments.

WHEREAS, New Jersey has reached a crisis in its care of relief for its own hungry men, women and children; and

WHEREAS, New Jersey is one of the nine greatest tax paying States of the union and contributor to the revenues of the National Government; and

WHEREAS, In 1934 New Jersey paid about ninety-nine millions direct to the National Government and received about fifty-two millions, leaving about forty-seven millions from which New Jersey received no benefit therefrom; and

WHEREAS, This forty-seven millions was taken by the National Government and distributed to the other States so that in some cases the National Government paid as high as ninety-two to ninety-nine per centum of emergency relief but paid New Jersey a much smaller percentage; and

WHEREAS, The National Government is at the present time paying the State of New Jersey nothing for relief of our hungry men, women and children; and

WHEREAS, New Jersey is already so over-taxed that it is impossible to double tax her citizens because of the deficit of income caused by the diversion of New Jersey's funds to other States; and

WHEREAS, The State of New Jersey is in great need to take care of her dependents and hungry; therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED by the House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey (the Senate concurring):

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
SENATE CHAMBER,
March 16, 1936.

Mr. Speaker:

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has concurred in the following concurrent resolution:

A concurrent resolution requesting the National Government to accept the immediate responsibility for relief and employment of transients.

WHEREAS, Industrial, legal and financial conditions created by the prolonged economic depression have dislodged thousands of men, women, and children from their normal occupations and places of legal settlement, and have thrown them, in their extremity, into communities where they are alien and have no legal right to relief; and

WHEREAS, The Federal Government in the last two years by its program of relief and work for transients, has demonstrated that it is possible on a national scale to alleviate the condition; and

WHEREAS, The experience of these two years has further demonstrated that transiency is an interstate problem and that it has its migratory labor and other situations that are beyond the control of the individual states; and

WHEREAS, The abandonment by the Federal Government of the relief program for these persons is returning these unfortunate, unsettled, people to chaos and hopelessness since they and the communities in which they find themselves lack the means to solve their problems; and

WHEREAS, Most states cannot legally use state funds to relieve unsettled persons, and residual Federal funds in the hands of state agencies are now practically exhausted; and

WHEREAS, The interstate conference on transient relief held on March sixth and seventh, nineteen hundred and thirty-six, at Trenton, New Jersey, represented by twenty-one states, east of the Mississippi, unanimously agreed to press the Federal authorities to take such action; now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey (the Senate concurring):

WHEREAS, It is our duty to protect the taxpayer as well as the relief client, and

WHEREAS, If we intend to keep faith with all of the people we have no moral right to consider any new tax plan before effecting drastic economies, and

WHEREAS, If, in the preparation of our new appropriation bills we reduce our 1936-37 appropriation for our State fund and our 1936 appropriation for the highway department by a substantial amount and then set a new appropriation for emergency relief in an amount equal to the amount we decut from the State fund appropriations and our highway appropriations, we can go far toward the State's share of the emergency relief, therefore

WHEREAS, A variety of serious charges have been directed at the Governor and members of the Legislature of this State and other officials, relative to the manner in which the investigation of the Lindbergh case was conducted; and

WHEREAS, Leading newspapers in all parts of the United States have editorially pointed out the collapse of the famed Jersey Justice; and

WHEREAS, The Governor and members of the Legislature of this State have been likened to buffoons and thugs; and

WHEREAS, The Trenton Times, one of the leading newspapers in the State, saw fit to print the following editorial:

"In the gay nineties a mob of thugs representing the gambling interests of the State House prevented the regularly elected members of the New Jersey Legislature from entering the building. At other times in our history political mobs have grabbed power in this State. Our type of government and the will of an aroused public have prevented them from ruining us.

"Such a mob is now in power, led by a man of pleasing personality and convincing speech. He is the usual front man. Most of them are mere smiling buffoons.

"Governor Hoffman and other public servants to whom misfeasance and malfeasance mean nothing should be put under lock and key. This is what happens to those who violate the law without being clever enough to seize political power.

"Every crook knows laws are passed to protect the citizens, but only those citizens who have turned criminal and need protection.

"The average man lives without the need of protection.

"The average man lives without the need of any law other than the Ten Commandments"; and

WHEREAS, In fairness to all members of the Legislature and other officials mentioned, the truth of these charges should be determined; and

WHEREAS, A group of outstanding citizens of New Jersey headed by Dr. Harold W. Dodds, President of Princeton University, has petitioned for an investigation of the aforementioned charges, in an effort to fix responsibility for the obvious mockery of justice and contempt of judicial procedure of the State and Federal Courts displayed by those individuals engaged in the aforementioned activities; and

WHEREAS, There is an overwhelming sentiment on the part of the citizens of the State of New Jersey to protect themselves from a possible future invasion of criminals in this State attracted here by the possibility of protection and immunity granted by officials in high public office in the State; and

WHEREAS, It is apparent that some definite action must be taken by the members of this Legislature to assure the peace and tranquility and guarantee the life and property of our citizens, a guarantee which is doubtful in view of the actions of certain State officials in the Lindbergh case; and

WHEREAS, It appears imminent that Federal authorities are about to bring an investigation of their own in the event this Legislature fails to act; now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That a committee be appointed to investigate all phases and activities of the Chief Executive and all other investigating agencies involved; and

Be It Further Resolved, That Dr. Harold W. Dodds, President of Princeton University, be named chairman of such committee with power to select not more than six other persons consisting of both men and women to assist him in a fair and impartial investigation of all facts attendant to the foregoing.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY
STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT
TRENTON, N. J., April 18, 1936.

To the Members of the House of Assembly,
Attention of Mr. Paul P. Williams,
Clerk, House of Assembly,
State House, Trenton, N. J.:

DEAR MR. WILLIAMS—Following receipt of your letter of March 30th, enclosing copy of a resolution adopted by the House of Assembly on March 9th, directing that I furnish to the Assembly certain data and information relative to the construction, reconstruction and maintenance of State highways, I immediately referred the various matters mentioned in the resolution to the heads of the divisions affected, and am enclosing herewith the schedules called for.

The first is a schedule of contracts awarded during the months of October, November and December of 1935, and January and February of 1936. This schedule shows in detail the amount for which each contract was let, the name of the contractor or contractors, and the name of the surety on the bond which forms a part of each contract. In view of the inference that might be placed upon the remarks of the sponsor of the resolution, I would like to restate what I have told all contractors doing work for our department both at our public hearings and when they call for their contracts, and that is that they shall have an absolute free hand as far as I am concerned, or as far as our department is concerned, in the placing of their bonds, and that if anyone from within our department endeavors in any way to intimidate them in the placing of their bonds they should immediately bring it to my personal attention for such disciplinary action as I may deem necessary.

The attached schedule also includes information as to the length of the improvement, the paved width, the graded width, and the county in which the improvement is located. This schedule also contains commitments made on account of the projects put in work by this department through the maintenance division and by agreement with the railroads, in accordance with the provisions of the statute, and gives the total number of commitments made during that period.

I am also forwarding to you herewith a report prepared by our maintenance division showing the method and procedure used for the awarding of snow removal contracts or agreements during the above mentioned period, together with the name and address of persons, firms or corporations with whom such contracts or agreements have been made. You will note particularly that these snow removal contracts or agreements are not made for any specific sum, but are price agreements for the furnishing of the services required in connection with the actual removal of the snow. Snow removal is an emergency type of work, and we must have contractors properly equipped with personnel and trucks to maintain New Jersey's enviable reputation of keeping its highways clear.

Very truly yours,

E. DONALD STERNER,
State Highway Commissioner.

Mr. Cavinato moved that the communication be received and spread in full upon the Minutes and that the schedules and reports be filed.

Mr. Cavinato moved that the Governor's address be spread in full upon the Minutes, and that printed copies be furnished the members.

Which motion was adopted.

The Governor addressed the members as follows:

To the Members of the Legislature:

I come before you tonight not to advocate nor even to suggest specific tax measures to solve our revenue problems and provide the money to feed, clothe, and shelter thousands of our citizens who are in dire need. On behalf of the needy men, women, and children of our State, on behalf of our municipalities, and on behalf of all the right-thinking citizens of our State who desire to honor our obligation to those in need, I come to appeal to you to face the facts, to forget party, partisan, and personal differences, and to have the courage to proceed quickly in an orderly manner to the formulation and enactment of legislation that will solve the problems that confront us. Even at election polls, truth and right coupled with courageous and decisive action will triumph over the futility of temporizing and the false promises of political propaganda prompted by fear and based on the assumption that our people prefer to be fooled rather than to learn the truth even if it hurts.

Our people are sick and tired of the sparring, the temporizing, the discord, and the utter futility that have characterized legislative deliberation and action on our revenue and relief problems. I know that it is extremely difficult to find a common ground for agreement and action, but I also know it is not impossible to do so if fear of the political consequences of taking the right but an unpopular course of action is banished.

In my inaugural message I presented and advocated the adoption of a sound and comprehensive fiscal program. In my first special message to the Legislature following my inauguration, I summarized my program in these words:

> "First, a sound basis of financing of local governments;
> Second, reduction of all government expenditures, both State and local, through unrelenting efforts to eliminate all kinds of waste and extravagance;

Third, meeting our current obligations out of current revenues; and Fourth, providing new sources of revenue to pay the State's share of unemployment relief and to replace in part the revenues of the general property taxes that have failed."

I hardly need remind you that, as the fourth objective of this program, I recommended a combined sales-income tax in the full realization that I was doing something which was decidedly unpopular. I said repeatedly that the program was loaded with what is commonly known as "political dynamite"; that it would not find favor with public officials who have mismanaged our affairs; that it would displease those groups who believe that overnight economies may be effected to meet all our present needs and those who loudly proclaim that drastic cuts should be made in services, except those in which they are interested; and that it would be accompanied by a conflict between classes because it would displease both the large income group, content to have the greater part of the burden carried by the little fellow, and the group that believes in the "soak-the-rich" doctrine.

For a variety of reasons, of which you are as well aware as I am, my program was not adopted in its entirety. But, to use a slang expression, I did "stick out my chin" because, in my determination to provide the money to feed, clothe, and shelter our unemployed and to balance our budget, I fought at every turn for the sales tax. To that tax, unpopular as it was, we can attribute the fact that the State budget was balanced and that we provided for the needs of the unemployed. When that tax was repealed I predicted that its repeal would lead to financial chaos and human suffering. We have financial chaos today and are separated from human suffering by only a very narrow margin, but, despite allegations to the contrary, this is no source of satisfaction to me.

It is presently alleged that my only motive in this situation is to vindicate myself. Financial chaos and human suffering are far too great a price to exact for my personal vindication, and I simply cannot regard such an allegation as anything but the vilest kind of personal attack. I have repeatedly said that I would favor any alternative to my tax program which would produce the money we require for unemployment relief.

I have left this financing problem "in your laps" because of the conviction that, due to the repudiation of the sales tax, any effort of mine to influence you—the members of the Legislature—in the formulation of an alternative tax program would be misconstrued and would be more of a hindrance than a help in your deliberations. I have refrained from asking those of you who stood with me in my fight for the sales tax to vote for or against any tax measure in order to avoid the risk of subjecting you again to the opprobrium of the people who have been misled by half truths and glittering generalities disseminated by candidates for office anxious to find a popular issue with which to garner votes.

It would indeed be deplorable if a bare majority of the members of this Legislature were compelled to assume full responsibility for the imposition of new or replacement taxes to meet the crying needs for funds for unemployment relief and those social security services that have been established as permanent functions of the State government by laws enacted at this session. To those of us who waged the losing fight for the sales tax and bore the abuse and calumny that were heaped upon us, the evasion and floundering that have characterized all attempts this year to solve our financial problems would be amusing if the consequences were not so tragic. It would be most unfair again to impose upon a small group of the members of the Legislature the task of convincing the people of this State of the wisdom of any legislative course of action on this problem without the measure of support that is necessary to make such course effective as a permanent solution.

We can never have a satisfactory and permanent solution of our revenue problems until an overwhelming majority of the members of this Legislature are convinced of the necessity for, and the soundness of, the remedial and replacement measures that are proposed and finally enacted as a result of your deliberations, and are willing conscientiously and courageously to justify and to defend such measures before the people. We shall have candidates for public offices who will seek to convince our taxpayers that any governmental service demanded by the people or by any group or interests can be furnished, that taxation can be reduced, and that there is no need for any new taxes. For these reasons and in view of the experiences of the past year, I am determined to refrain from exerting any influence or pressure to have any particular tax or taxes enacted. I simply cannot believe that the members of this Legislature will continue to use this problem of financing as a football and permit any of our people to starve.

I have consistently taken the attitude that it is our plain duty to see that no one is permitted to suffer for lack of food, clothing, or shelter, regardless of what sacrifices of the principles of public financing may be involved. The record of emergency relief financing during my term of office proves that I have acted consistently with my declared views in this matter. Since I took office there has been made available to the ERA for emergency relief purposes and for aid to the aged and needy and to dependent children, the sum of $25,684,283.21. Only three millions of dollars of this sum were diverted to relief pursuant to specific appropriation by the Legislature.

There has been much talk about the authority that was conferred upon the Governor by Chapter 60 of the Laws of 1935 to make not in excess of two millions of dollars a month available for relief from any funds in the Treasury. The bill for this act was drafted in my office, at my direction, in order that so long as any funds were available, there should be no starvation in this State.

Under the authority conferred by this act, I have transferred to the ERA the sum of $22,684,283.21, as follows:

From the proceeds of the sale of the Port of New York Authority bonds	$2,525,300.04
From free treasury funds	4,106,032.08
From the proceeds of the collection of the sales tax	6,951,146.95
From motor fuel taxes	9,101,437.00
Interest on ERA funds	367.14

As Governor-elect I began investigating the possibility of negotiating a settlement with the Port of New York Authority, that would enable us to realize immediately some part of the amount then due by the Authority to the State. As Governor I began negotiations which were finally consummated in legislation authorizing the settlement under which the State agreed to accept $2,500,000.00 of Port of New York Authority bonds; these bonds to be sold for emergency relief purposes.

The transfer of over four millions of dollars from the general fund was made possible largely by economies effected during my administration and almost solely as the result of constructive effort by the Appropriation Committee and rigid control of expenditures by the Commissioner of Finance.

Despite the fact that I was, and am, opposed on principle to the diversion of highway funds, $9,101,437. of motor fuel tax moneys were diverted by me to emergency relief purposes in order that the State might discharge its obligation to the needy, and I immediately approved the bill passed on March fifteenth of this year by the Legislature appropriating three millions of dollars of highway funds to the ERA.

I am advised by the State Treasurer that the cash balance of the general State fund is $2,671,032.64, the lowest that it has been in many years and that, based on estimates of the receipts and expenditures of the remaining two and one-half months of the current fiscal year, a deficit of several thousand dollars is inevitable on June 30, 1936. The Treasurer also reports that the available cash balance of the motor fuel tax fund is barely sufficient to meet the debt service charges due on the first of May and the first of July, and he gives it as his opinion that it "would be unthinkable to impair the State's credit by any further diversion of cash from this fund."

It has been suggested that I transfer another two millions of dollars, under the provisions of Chapter 60 of the Laws of 1935, from any funds in the Treasury to the ERA. I cannot transfer funds which the chief fiscal officers of the State advise me do not exist.

It has been alleged that the ERA has created a substantial reserve for the sole purpose of perpetuating in office its entire staff for a considerable period. It has also been suggested that this is being done because the ERA staff is part of a political machine. In the first place, any organization—public or private—disbursing over three millions of dollars a month in payment for a variety of services and supplies could not possibly operate without some small working capital reserve. There is no organization whose executives know the exact amount of its current liabilities, and contingent liabilities under orders placed and under expenditure authorizations, at the close of business on any day, nor can any organization finance so as to avoid being short of funds to meet current demands and at the same time never having any funds on hand in excess of current demands. It is true, then, that the ERA had a small reserve on April fifteenth, but the reserve was not created and never was intended to be used to perpetuate the organization after responsibility for the administration and financing of relief had been turned back to the municipalities. The ERA had long planned that any available funds in its possession would be used to aid the municipalities, when they took over relief, both by grants of money and by staff assistance during the transition period.

The allegation that the ERA staff is a political organization of the present administration is likewise absolutely unfounded. Such an allegation is an unwarranted reflection upon the honesty and sincerity of the former chairman, and the present chairman, of the Emergency Relief Council. Mr. Reeve Schley, the present chairman, informs me that of the present employees of the ERA, eighty-six and six-tenths per cent was in office before I became Governor. Since July, 1935, the number of employees has been reduced forty-six per centum. The average weekly earnings of all ERA employees, including the executives, is twenty-two dollars. These same employees earned on the average $44.50 a week prior to joining the ERA.

In my opinion, such allegations are also unfair to the members of the Budget Advisory Committee, who were given a free hand to investigate the whole relief organization and who surely would have reported such conditions if they had been found to exist.

I hope that the members of the Legislature will not permit such allegations to be used as excuses to delay action upon our vital problems of revenue and relief.

I have followed with interest the progress of Assembly Bill 448 in the House of Assembly and in the Senate. It would not be a solution of our financing problem, but would be a step towards that solution. I hope that it is not being relied upon as the only source of funds to meet our immediate emergency relief requirements.

This revenue measure would impose three selective sales taxes—a sales tax of approximately sixteen per cent on cigarettes, a sales tax on cosmetics ranging from ten to twenty per cent of the prices paid by users, and a sales tax on amusements running from a minimum of four per cent to as high as thirteen per cent on tickets of admissions selling for more than ten cents. These selective sales taxes, in my judgment, will bear especially heavily upon the people with small incomes, even greater in proportion than a general sales tax. The service and the commodities that would be taxed under this bill are classed as luxuries, but no amount of theorizing nor any legislation can change the habits of the people and convert something that is of common and general use into a luxury.

This bill represents, after all, class taxation. The cigarette-smoker and the non-smoker have equal rights of citizenship and enjoy the same benefits and privileges afforded by their government, but under the bill one would be taxed and the other would not.

The estimates of the annual yield under this bill are numerous. After studying all the data available, it is my considered opinion that we cannot expect a net yield of more than six millions of dollars.

The greater portion of the yield would come from the cigarette tax. This kind of a tax in other States yields from thirty-two cents per capita to a high of one dollar and seventy-one cents annually per capita in Connecticut. The statistical data available show that the per capita retail sales in Connecticut are considerably higher than in New Jersey. In Pennsylvania an annual per capita yield of one dollar and twenty cents is anticipated. So far it appears that this amount will be realized in that State. Taking the average of the yields in Pennsylvania and Connecticut and allowing for the differences in the volume of all retail sales in these two States and in New Jersey, it would seem likely that our gross yield would be six millions of dollars annually. From this amount must be deducted the costs of administration.

The revenues from the tax on cosmetics and amusements would be relatively small and the costs of administration high.

Whether emergency relief is to be administered by the State or by the municipalities, it is obvious, I am sure, that this tax measure would not produce anything like the amount of money required.

The emergency relief budget for the current month is $3,098,083.00—$2,723,083.00 for emergency relief and $375,000.00 for old age pensions and aid to dependent children. This expenditure budget cannot be balanced with new revenues of five hundred thousand dollars a month, none of which would be available before the fifteenth of June.

The problem that the State and the local governments must face is how are we going to finance our absolute emergency relief requirements and the social welfare services that the Legislature has constituted as permanent functions of the State and of the counties, tomorrow and the next day and the ensuing days and weeks and months, until funds are realized from new taxes.

At this session, in response to wide public demand, we have committed the State with the counties and the Federal government to a social security program calling for State contributions estimated at a minimum of $375,000.00 a month, as a matter of permanent policy. There are no funds available or in sight to meet this obligation, and the Federal authorities will not approve any allotment of Federal aid for the purposes of this program until the State has made the necessary appropriations for its share, and the amount appropriated is in the State Treasury or actually available. Thus, the Legislature has constituted these social security services as integral parts of the permanent establishment of the State government and has committed the State to a monthly expenditure of from $375,000.00 to $400,000.00 for which it has made no provision. From April fifteenth to June thirtieth, the amount to be provided by the State for old age pensions and aid to dependent children is estimated at $963,000.00. If the luxury taxes are imposed and do yield five hundred thousand dollars a month and there is a large advance sale of revenue stamps, it is possible that $963,000.00 could be made available by June thirtieth. But if the net proceeds of the luxury taxes were used for the permanent social security services, the whole problem of financing emergency relief would remain to be solved.

For the remainder of this fiscal year, the requirements for emergency relief, old age pensions, and aid to children are estimated at $7,188,000.00 after allowing for all ERA balances. The maximum amount that we could expect to accrue to the State by June thirtieth from luxury taxes would be about $980,000.00. Municipal contributions for May and June will amount to seven hundred thousand dollars. Thus, under the most optimistic estimates, we would be short $5,508,000.00 in the period between now and June 30, 1936, if we rely upon the luxury taxes for financing relief.

What the future trend of emergency relief expenditures will be, no one can predict with any assurance. I am told that WPA in New Jersey is reducing its load at the rate of ten thousand persons a month. All of those dropped by WPA cannot be absorbed in industry and we may expect many of them to be returned to the relief rolls. The social security legislation, under which some of the aged and children now on relief will be transferred to the rolls of the Division of Old Age Assistance and the Board of Children's Guardians, will reduce in some measure our relief needs. No one knows just how much, but certainly it will be a long way from the $2,700,000.00 per month now required. The cost of relief may be reduced by turning the responsibility for its administration back to the municipalities. If and when this is done, I hope that the reduction will be substantial, but there is nothing in the record to encourage the notion that relief costs can be cut as much as fifty percent, as has been claimed, by substituting community responsibility for that of the State.

We have a problem here that must be faced every day. Men and women and children must have food and shelter. We cannot cut emergency relief for the purpose of purging the rolls and then starting all over again later, unless we are willing to risk certain suffering and hunger and hardship. At most there will be a gradual reduction in the cost of relief. However we may dislike the notion, the relief problem will be with us for a long time. We do not have the funds to continue relief even temporarily, and we have not yet seriously grappled with the long-range problems involved both in relief administration and relief financing.

I commend to you the principle that with responsibility for administration should go control of the purse strings. If our municipalities are to be given full responsibility for the relief function, they should be made responsible for raising and spending relief funds. It is undoubtedly true that in any municipality spending its own funds, necessity would force a curtailment, if possible, in relief expenditures; but those who advocate turning full control of relief back to the municipalities, with the State providing the funds to spend for this purpose, should remember that there will be a very natural tendency on the part of municipal officials to secure as large an amount as possible from the State and to be unduly liberal in its expenditures. We are never quite as careful in spending other people's money as in spending our own; and while this would not apply in all cases, there would be the attendant danger that in some municipalities, for political purposes, unwarranted expenditures might be made to curry favor with those who are applicants for relief. The State, however, must assume its full share of the burdens that are now resting upon the municipalities. In harmony with the principle I have stated, the State should assume the responsibility for providing for the expenses of all public officers having State functions. It is a function and responsibility of the State to provide equal educational opportunity for the children of this State. By Chapter 224 of the Laws of 1935, the State is committed to the providing of a minimum foundation program of education in every school district as soon as the State school tax can be replaced by another source of revenue. Yet we continue to rely upon local taxation of general property for the greater part of the aid extended to schools by the State. Is it now proposed to levy a new tax to be passed back to the municipalities by the State for relief purposes while the school tax continues to be levied on general property in, and collected by, each municipality and passed back to the State to be distributed back to the schools.

Repeal of all general property tax levies by the State for school purposes and for debt service, and the assumption by the State of such of the costs of State functions as are now borne by local governments were suggested early in 1932 by the Commission on County and Local Taxation and Expenditures in its report on the Revenue System of New Jersey, and were recommended in August, 1933, by a Joint Legislative Committee on Taxation. The same proposal is now made by the Senator from Union County.

To carry into effect the principle I have stated, it would be necessary to provide for annual appropriations from State funds derived from new sources of revenue for:

1. The salaries of judges of the courts of common pleas, of juvenile and domestic relations courts, and of the criminal judicial district courts, of prosecutors of the pleas and assistant prosecutors whose appointments are provided by law, of jury commissioners, of members of the county boards of elections, of commissioners of elections, and of superintendents of elections.
2. The annual interest and amortization requirements of soldiers' bonus bonds.
3. The aged and needy and dependent children, pursuant to the recently enacted social security legislation.
4. The public school fund created by Chapter 224, Laws of 1935, to replace the State school tax and to carry into effect the provisions of that chapter.

State school taxes and soldiers' bonus taxes levied prior to 1936, and now delinquent, would have to be collected and remitted to the State if this proposal were adopted; otherwise there would be an injustice to those municipalities that have paid these taxes in full. It would seem to be feasible for the State to appropriate these levies for 1936 to the municipalities, the collections to be retained by them and used for emergency relief, any balance in excess of the relief requirements to be used to reduce current or sinking fund deficits or in any case where there is no such deficit to reduce the 1937 property tax levy.

The carrying out of some such plan would permit the municipalities to retain responsibility for relief and we could thus bridge the gap that there will otherwise be between the date new taxes are imposed and the date the proceeds of collections begin to flow into the Treasury.

In connection with this proposal there should be considered the repeal of those provisions of the inheritance tax laws which require that five per cent of the annual amount of inheritance taxes collected be distributed to the counties in proportion to the amounts derived from the several counties. The amount distributed varies widely in each county from year to year and is uncertain and often unforeseen. In many cases the amount is so small as to be negligible and the value of the whole five per cent is dissipated because it is spread so widely. If property tax levies are relieved as suggested there should be little objection to the retention of this five per cent in the State Treasury, if the repeal is made effective with respect to estates filed for probate after the effective date of the repealing act.

I offer these suggestions for your serious consideration because I honestly believe that if responsibility for the administration of emergency relief is returned to our municipalities, there will be a much greater reduction in the cost of relief in each municipality if the required funds are raised and administered locally. I also believe we would be taking a first step towards the relief of the general property taxpayer and the reduction of debt service charges which are continuing to increase because of property tax delinquency due to the confiscatory rates at which property taxes are levied in many taxing districts.

There would be a few municipalities in which the cost of relief at the present time and probably for some months to come, would exceed the amount of the school tax and the soldiers' bonus tax levied upon property within their jurisdiction. Some provision would have to be made for State aid to such municipalities, for after all responsibility for the conditions which brought about the need for emergency relief is not local. There would also be required suitable legislation empowering the municipalities to administer relief and to deal with transients.

In conclusion, may I say that I am willing to approve any reasonable plan of taxation that will produce the money required for emergency relief purposes and to meet our obligations under the recently enacted social security legislation. I felt, and still feel, that the sales tax legislation, which placed the small two per cent levy upon all retail sales and which was shared by four million people, was sound and equitable. The tax payment was less than one and one-half cent per day per person; and with this tax, we had the State budget balanced and provision made for our needy people. The sales tax was repealed in spite of the warning that I had sounded and I feel that those who are largely responsible for its repeal should now be willing to assume the major responsibility for a substitute plan that will meet our needs.

To revert to my former phrase, I am still willing to "take it on the chin"; but I will not propose a specific substitute tax; and, remembering the unfair abuse and the selfish organized effort to punish those who last year had courage to do the thing that they felt was right rather than the thing they felt to be popular, I will not personally urge a single member of this Legislature to support any specific tax. This responsibility is one that should be shared by all of us, Republicans and Democrats, and no few members of the Legislature should be permitted to evade their responsibility and to sit back in this critical hour with the apparent intention of making any tax that may be levied become a political football for their personal advantage.

I am hopeful that you will speedily find a solution for these acute and troublesome questions of financing and administration. Further temporizing is bound to lead to consequences which we would all deplore, and in any case will not redound to the credit of the State of New Jersey.

HAROLD G. HOFFMAN,
Governor.

Statement of the Workers Alliance of New Jersey in session in the Assembly Chamber at Trenton, N. J., April 29, 1936:

Unemployed workers, representing 370,000 families who are threatened with starvation, have occupied this Assembly Chamber for the past nine days as a vivid protest against the inaction of the Legislature of this State to provide for their immediate relief needs.

We demand that this Assembly now in session immediately enact the necessary legislation that will adequately meet these relief needs. Such legislation must provide for raising funds at the expense of those best able to pay. We are against any kind of sales tax as taxing the poor to feed the poor.

We call for a graduated income tax.

We call for a tax on surpluses of corporations.

We call for a tax on excess profits.

We call for a tax on tangible property.

We are opposed to turning both relief administration and financing over to municipal authorities.

In the names of thousands of hungry unemployed, the Workers Alliance of New Jersey calls upon you to lay aside all political considerations and fearlessly serve the citizens of this State you were elected to represent.

Mr. Cavinato moved that the communication be received and spread in full upon the Minutes.

The following communication was sent to the desk and read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY
STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT

Trenton, N. J.

Honorable Marcus W. Newcomb,
Speaker, House of Assembly, State House,
Trenton, New Jersey:

MY DEAR DR. NEWCOMB—It has been brought to my attention that on last Wednesday night on the floor of the Assembly the charge was made that "for weeks" the House had waited for a reply to the resolution passed by the Assembly asking for information concerning contracts, etc., and that when I did answer "it was to an individual Assemblyman" and the "House received no information."

In the first place, although I understood the resolution was passed March 9th, it was not delivered to the State Highway Department until April 1st. It took the heads of our auditing, maintenance and construction divisions about twelve days to compile the data required, in conjunction with their other work which is particularly heavy at this season of the year, and my letter addressed to "the Members of the House of Assembly" under date of April 18th, was delivered to Clerk Paul P. Williams, and not to "an individual Assemblyman" as charged. My report covered in detail every phase of the information requested, rather than "no information" as charged.

Out of courtesy to me as a former member of the Assembly, and in order that such inaccurate charges as were made might be corrected, I respectfully request that this letter be read to the Members of the House.

With kindest regards,

Sincerely yours,

E. Donald Sterner,

function of the commission will be to study the laws of New Jersey to determine what amendments or supplements thereto are necessary to permit the use of said buildings for the above-expressed purpose.

WHEREAS, On March 3, 1936, a resolution was passed by the House of Assembly requiring the Finance Commissioner of the State of New Jersey to furnish to any member, upon request, a report of a survey made by his department of offices occupied by State departments in other than State-owned buildings, and in accordance with said resolution the State Commissioner of Finance issued his report showing that the State of New Jersey pays $318,047.30 for office space; and

WHEREAS, The buildings formerly occupied by the State Normal School on North Clinton Avenue, Trenton, are unoccupied at the present and are conveniently located for State offices; and

WHEREAS, In a letter accompanying his report the Commissioner of Finance stated that the cost of putting the normal school into shape would run between $65,000.00 and $100,000.00, and because of the difference of $45,000.00 between the maximum and minimum of the commissioner's estimate it is obvious that it is a rough estimate and not the result of careful investigation by architects or building engineers; and

WHEREAS, In view of the large amount of money expended by the State for offices and the apparent availability of the State normal school to house many of these offices, it is important to obtain accurate information on the cost of necessary alterations to make the State normal school in proper condition for housing State offices; and

WHEREAS, Some question has been raised by the State Finance Commissioner as to the legality of use of the buildings for this purpose and accordingly this question requires study; therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

1. There is hereby created a commission consisting of five members of the House of Assembly to be appointed by the Speaker thereof, who are hereby constituted a commission for the purpose of conducting an investigation and study into the availability of the use for office space for State departments, and the cost of necessary repairs of the buildings on North Clinton Avenue, Trenton, New Jersey, formerly used as a State normal school.

2. Said commission so constituted shall organize by the selection of a chairman and secretary, and is further authorized to request the Attorney-General of the State of New Jersey to furnish legal assistance and to call upon any other of the State agencies or departments to furnish expert advice or opinions or clerical or other assistance that may be required to carry out the purposes of this resolution. Resolution for Mr. Guiliano's birthday:

On the eighteenth of June,
Nineteen hundred and four,
The stork came a'knocking
At Giuliano's Newark door.

He said not a word—
But a bundle he left—
Now this is in earnest
With 'nary a jest.

Dad looked at mother,
Then said with real glee—
"As sure as I'm living,
It's a boy that I see."

There were other boys
And some girls, I believe,
But no one more precious
Than this, I perceive.

He was chubby and fat,
A right cute little fellow—
His eyes they were blue,
His voice soft and mellow.

He's grown since that time;
He's quite a man now.
His voice—not so mellow,
But resounding—and how.

Fame has pursued him
Wherever he strayed,
And down in the Assembly
For two years he's stayed.

His profession—he's a lawyer,
For lawyers' bills he's rooting,
But this is our party
And for him we're tooting.

Because today is his birthday;
They come once a year,
And though he's forgetful
Of wife's we hear.

We all have remembered
To cheer him today,
And wish him God-speed,
Happy birthday, we say.
