New Jersey Brownfields Redevelopment Resource Kit

Bringing New Jersey's Brownfields Back to Life

State of New Jersey

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
125 WEST STATE STREET
PO Box 001
TRENTON NJ 08625-0001

JAMES E. MCGREEVEY
Governor

Dear Brownfields Constituent,

As a cornerstone to New Jersey's Smart Growth Initiative, brownfields redevelopment serves to promote Smart Growth by cleaning up and preserving existing areas for future use. We are working to make the state's urban centers, older suburbs and rural towns more viable and attractive by redeveloping brownfields and steering infrastructure spending where we need it most.

Brownfields redevelopment gives business and industry a new place to thrive, and members of a community a new place to gather, visit, shop or work. Undoubtedly, brownfields redevelopment spurs economic opportunity and a sense of community throughout our towns.

Today, brownfields projects are touching every part of New Jersey. From the Northern Highlands to cities and towns in South Jersey, you can see brownfields redevelopment happening before your eyes. And it is happening as a result of true cooperation among numerous state agencies.

Through the Brownfields Redevelopment Interagency Team (BRIT), the New Jersey Brownfields Redevelopment Task Force and the Department of Community Affairs' (DCA) Office of Smart Growth, more than 24 state agencies now act as a proactive partner with municipalities, counties and the development community on brownfields projects. We are working together to deliver essential state resources through programs like the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) and the New Jersey Economic Development Authority's (NJEDA) jointly administered Hazardous Discharge Site Remediation Fund (HDSRF) and tax credits through the Housing and Mortgage Finance Agency (HMFA). We also are linking Smart Growth and brownfields redevelopment together through DCA's Smart Future Planning Grants. By working together, we have streamlined regulations to make brownfields redevelopment a reality.

We hope you find this resource kit a valuable compilation of information on how you can participate in brownfields redevelopment. By being involved, you show your support for New Jersey's Smart Growth and demonstrate your commitment to New Jersey's future.

With all good wishes,

...what are they?

Any former or current commercial or industrial site, currently vacant or underutilized and on which there has been, or there is suspected to have been, a discharge of a contaminant.

Why do we redevelop Brownfields?

Brownfields redevelopment is a cornerstone to Governor McGreevey's Smart Growth agenda and is critical to New Jersey's future. Yesteryear's vibrant drivers of New Jersey's economic engine are today's brownfields. With leadership and commitment, they can be recycled into their community's existing infrastructure and once again make a contribution. These brownfields can be transformed into housing, schools, recreational facilities or sites for business operations, thereby creating tax ratables, economic opportunities and improved quality of life for the community.

Who does this Resource Kit help?

The New Jersey Brownfields Redevelopment Resource Kit helps

anyone interested in redeveloping brownfields learn about the financial incentives and other resources available to them, as well as to navigate the associated regulatory processes and legal requirements. It provides technical and financial resources, prerequisites to qualifying for assistance, contacts within each New Jersey state agency or department that can assist in the redevelopment process, and a detailed explanation of how to proceed when redeveloping a brownfields site.

Introduction

The State of New Jersey has many agencies involved in brownfields redevelopment. In order to make the process easier for you, Governor McGreevey appointed the Brownfields Redevelopment Task Force and supports the reconvening of the Brownfields Redevelopment Interagency Team. These two groups, although they work in different ways, will help you understand the brownfields process and get you through it as easily and quickly as possible.

This 100-year-old building—known as the Icehouse—was once the epicenter of Glassboro's central business district. The Icehouse property is in the process of remediation through a brownfields grant from the DCA's NJRA.

The New Jersey Brownfields Redevelopment Task Force

The New Jersey Brownfields Redevelopment Task Force is appointed by the Governor and was created by the State Legislature, pursuant to the Brownfield and Contaminated Site Remediation Act, N.J.S.A. 58:10B-23. The Task Force has been charged with coordinating state policy on brownfields redevelopment, inventorying brownfields sites, and then prioritizing and marketing them to developers, in order to have sites returned to productive economic use on an expedited basis.

The New Jersey Brownfields Redevelopment Interagency Team (BRIT)

The BRIT is a resource group comprised of numerous New Jersey departments and agencies. The New Jersey Department of Community Affairs' Office of Smart Growth coordinates the Team's activities and facilitates redevelopment within the context of Smart Growth. The Brownfields Redevelopment Interagency Team, convened to support the Task Force with its important efforts, offers this easy to follow resource kit to help streamline brownfields remediation and accelerate profitable redevelopment and reuse.

The path to redeveloping a brownfield can start anywhere. Developers, municipalities and other interested parties may possess varying degrees of expertise regarding the state brownfields process and may enter the process at different points. If the interested party has a redevelopment project that is complex and requires the attention of multiple agencies, an initial consultation with the BRIT may be helpful in order to clarify the necessary next steps and to enlist the help of relevant state agencies.

If the interested parties are unfamiliar with the brownfields process, an initial meeting with BRIT may be valuable. It would provide them an opportunity to learn about the resources available to them from the agencies on the team.

Mission... Guided by New Jersey's Smart Growth policies and practices, BRIT's mission is to streamline and coordinate the brownfields redevelopment process for interested parties.

How To Get Started

If you are interested in redeveloping brownfields, but don’t know much about the process or requirements, a good starting point would be a consultation with the Brownfields Redevelopment Interagency Team (BRIT). It is available to meet with you at any point in the process.

If your major initial concern is financing, the Economic Development Authority, the Commerce and Economic Growth Commission or the New Jersey Environmental Infrastructure Trust could be your first stop. If environmental regulations are your primary concern, then the Department of Environmental Protection is your starting place.

One important aspect of successful brownfields development is to make sure that the project is part of a municipal or neighborhood plan developed in collaboration with local officials and residents. Involving the community will help build support for the project and ensure that it meets the community’s needs. If developing the plan is a major concern, the Department of Community Affairs’ Office of Smart Growth can help.

The streamlined process outlined in this document is intended to serve as a guide and is not a requirement by any state agency. You may approach any state agency for information and assistance at any time. No matter where you enter the process, you will have access to BRIT, and it can serve as a guide. However, be aware that there are laws, requirements and liability issues that must be addressed as you proceed through the redevelopment process.

This site is now home to the South Jersey Federal Credit Union in Pleasantville.

- The Bureau provides technical assistance on how to proceed with the project. Contact the Bureau at the beginning of the project.
- Reimbursement of 75% of qualifying reasonable closure and/or remediation costs are provided through the Municipal Landfill Site Closure Act, N.J.S.A. 13:1E-116. Reimbursement funds are from collected sales tax at solid waste landfills that ceased operations prior to Jan. 1, 1982.

Prerequisites:

The landfill will have to go through a closure procedure approved by the Bureau. These landfills may have some monies in their escrow accounts that can be used for closure of the sites as well as post-closure maintenance of the facility. The amounts in the accounts vary depending on the type of project and if the landfill was closed before or after Jan. 1, 1982.

■ INFRASTRUCTURE

To identify funding for infrastructure costs

NEW JERSEY BOARD OF PUBLIC UTILITIES (BPU)
2 Gateway Center, Newark, NJ 07102

Economic Development Service Tariffs

To support redevelopment and economic growth, the BPU has approved a number of programs that provide a credit or reduced utility service rate to customers that move to, or expand in, targeted areas. Targeted areas may include Urban Enterprise Zones, municipalities that rate high on the Municipal Distress Index and other areas where redevelopment is a priority. Contact your local utility service provider, or the Board of Public Utilities, to learn what programs may be available in your area.

Camden Area Development Service Tariff

To support new development and economic expansion, the BPU has approved a credit to new electric utility customers equal to an approximate 5–10 percent savings in the City of Camden. The credit is available to new customers or those making significant expansions. The credit is being offered on a pilot basis and will run through 2005.

Smart Growth

The New Jersey BPU is in the process of developing a number of reforms and incentives to support redevelopment and smart growth.
