Whitmans File Tax Documents

Gov. Christie Whitman and her husband John estimate their 1998 federal taxable income to be $1.4 million and their New Jersey taxable income to be $1.8 million. They have made estimated federal income tax payments of $365,280 and estimated New Jersey income tax payments of $114,086.

The Whitmans have filed an application for an automatic four- month extension to complete their income tax return. When applying for the automatic extension, taxpayers are required to have fully paid any anticipated taxes. The Whitman's payments are estimated to be in excess of the amount of taxes due.

As they've done in the past, the Whitmans expect to disclose their tax returns in August.
