“The Star-Spangled Banner.”

O say, can you see by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming;
Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming.
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there;
O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave,
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Chorus—O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave,
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

And war's clamors o'er, with her mantle hath peace
Once again, in its folds, the nation enshrouded;
Let no fratricide hand uplifted e'er be
The glory to dim which now is unclouded:
Not as North or as South in the future we'll stand,
But as brothers united throughout our broad land,
And the star-spangled banner forever shall wave,
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Chorus—And the star-spangled banner forever shall wave,
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

O thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand
Between their loved homes and the war's desolation;
Blest with vict'ry and peace may the heaven-rescued land
Praise the pow'r that has made and preserved us a nation.
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto—“In God is our trust,”
And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave,
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Chorus—And the star-spangled banner forever shall wave,
O'er land of the free and the home of the brave.

Correspondence Papers.

We think we are better equipped—with our large and varied assortment, bought for a city trade—to serve you with elegant correspondence papers than is the little village drug-store at the typical summer resort.

Besides all the latest “fads” and the staples in fine linen papers, we have all the accessories of a gentlewoman’s or a gentleman’s writing outfit—lap tablets, ink wells, gold pens, pen holders, gold pencils, sealing wax, sealing-wax outfits, seals, paper cutters, erasers, rubbers, and the like.

We also have all manner of vacation goods—croquet sets, tennis outfits, base-ball goods, etc.

Your critical inspection invited.
