Gov. Corzine visits Jersey Guard troops in Iraq

By Wayne Woolley, DMAVA Public Affairs Specialist

Gov. Jon Corzine made a surprise visit to Iraq this week to visit the Soldiers of the 50th Infantry Brigade Combat Team and said he was overwhelmed by their dedication and professionalism.

"They are a world class group of people who are hell-bent on delivering on their mission," Corzine said on a conference call shortly after meeting with Brigade Soldiers who are in charge of more than 12,000 detainees at Camp Bucca in Southern Iraq.

Corzine also visited Baghdad's International Zone, where the Brigade oversaw security and logistics before turning over responsibility to Iraqi forces on Jan. 1. Before the handover, Corzine said the Brigade successfully handled several high-profile assignments, including securing the infamous road between Baghdad International Airport and the International Zone for President Bush's visit in December.

BCT commander part of turnover of Green Zone to Iraq

Story by KIMI YOSHINO, Los Angeles Times and edited by Kryn P. Westhoven, DMAVA-PA

BAGHDAD — As Iraqi schoolchildren sang their country's praise and a band marched, the United States formally handed over military control of the heavily fortified Green Zone to Iraqi troops on Jan. 1, a first major step in the U.S. withdrawal from Iraq.

Iraqi army Brigadier Imad Jassim and U.S. Col. Steven Ferrari, 50th Infantry Brigade Combat Team commander congratulated each other during the ceremony in which control of Baghdad's heavily-fortified Green Zone was given to the Iraqi government.

The Green Zone, a walled-off, 5.6-square-mile community in Baghdad's core, has come to symbolize for Iraqis the U.S. occupation of their country. Home to about 30,000 residents — including 14,000 U.S. and coalition forces — it also is the site of Saddam Hussein's opulent Republican Palace, captured by U.S. troops in April 2003 and, until last month, site of the U.S. Embassy.

Security of the Green Zone had been, until Thursday, the responsibility of the United States. But as part of the hand-over, and in terms outlined in the Status of Forces Agreement that details the withdrawal of U.S. troops from the country by the end of 2011, Iraqis trained by U.S. troops now are in charge of security.

Although Iraqis are in charge, U.S. forces are still present. Even on this symbolic day, U.S. troops had set up a checkpoint on the road to stop cars and check identification cards.

"I think common sense will say (terrorists) will probably test the Green Zone," Ferrari, commander of the joint area support group, said of concerns that the area might become a target. "I guess time will tell."

New paternity leave rules take effect for military

The law authorizes 10 days of non-chargeable paternity leave for married servicemen. While policy on maternal leave varies by service, the Act sets paternal leave at 10 days.

This leave is to be used within 60 days of the birth of the child or 90 days in cases with extenuating circumstances. It does not apply to servicemen who are deployed during a child's birth.

Government offers free financial planning, information

These days, watching your pennies is close to becoming a national pastime like baseball and football. Planning for retirement, children's education, buying a home, investing – simply finding a way to save a few dollars – can tax the best of us. We could all use a financial planner, but who can afford one?

Drop in the Web site, Mymoney.gov, and find information on all aspects of financial planning. There is a section of links to calculators to help you plan your college budget and loans, determine if you are able to afford to buy a home, help with retirement planning, compare different types of mortgages, savings bonds values and more.

Are you thinking about starting your own business? You will find a page of links to help you; even to assist you in writing your business plan.

There is also a section for kids to learn about money matters. The site is also in Spanish.

So instead of drumming your fingers on the table as you worry about your financial situation, let them walk over to Mymoney.gov and get answers to your pressing money questions.

Our Military Kids grant program recently expanded

Our Military Kids, a program that provides grants to children of deployed and severely injured Reserve and National Guard military, has expanded its program eligibility in two ways. The program which had been open to children in grades K - 12, will now be offered to 3- and 4-year-olds. Additionally, children may be eligible for a second grant award if their parent is deployed for 365 days or more. Our Military Kids grants cover six months of an activity to a maximum award of $500. Children who have a parent deployed for 365 days or more will now be eligible for a second grant award provided the parent has 60 days remaining on the deployment orders and six months has elapsed since the first grant award. Our Military Kids provides grants for sports, fine arts and tutoring so that children may start or continue participation in an activity while the parent is away or recovering from serious injury. To date, over 3,000 children have received awards from Our Military Kids.

To find more information on the program or to download an application go to www.ourmilitarykids.org.

VA assisting veterans with health care costs

WASHINGTON (Jan. 6, 2009) -- For veterans struggling financially due to a job loss or decreased income, the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) offers an assortment of programs that can relieve the costs of health care or provide care at no cost.

"With the downturn in the economy, VA recognizes that many veterans will feel the effects," said Secretary of Veterans Affairs Dr. James B. Peake. "Therefore, it is important that eligible veterans learn of the many ways VA has to help them afford the health care they have earned."

Veterans whose previous income was ruled too high for VA health care may be able to enter the VA system based upon a hardship if their current year's income is projected to fall below federal income thresholds due to a job loss, separation from service or some other financial setback.

Veterans determined eligible due to hardship can avoid copays applied to higher-income veterans. Qualifying veterans may be eligible for enrollment and receive health care at no cost.

Also eligible for no-cost VA care are most veterans who recently returned from a combat zone. They are entitled to five years of free VA care. The five-year "clock" begins with their discharge from the military, not their departure from the combat zone.

Each VA medical center across the country has an enrollment coordinator available to provide veterans information about these programs.

Veterans may also contact VA's Health Benefits Service Center at

Some Veterans to See Another Travel Reimbursement Increase

WASHINGTON (Dec. 29, 2008) - Service-disabled and low-income veterans who are reimbursed for travel expenses while receiving care at Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) facilities will see an increase in their payments beginning January 9.

A recently passed law allows VA to cut the amount it must withhold from their mileage reimbursement. The deductible amount will be $3 for each one-way trip and $6 for each round trip -- with a calendar cap of $18, or six one-way trips or three round trips, whichever comes first. The previous deductible was $7.77 for a one-way trip, and $15.54 for a round trip, with a calendar cap of $46.62.

"I'm pleased that we can help veterans living far from VA facilities to access the medical and counseling help they deserve, especially in the current economic climate," said Secretary of Veterans Affairs Dr. James B. Peake. "Together with the increased mileage rate approved last month, we can further reduce the financial hardship some veterans undergo to use our superior health care."

In November, Peake announced VA's second increase in the mileage reimbursement rate during 2008, from 28.5 cents to 41.5 cents a mile.

Service-disabled and low-income veterans are eligible to be reimbursed by VA for the travel costs of receiving health care or counseling at VA facilities. Veterans traveling for Compensation and Pension examinations also qualify for mileage reimbursement. VA can waive deductibles if they cause financial hardship.

DMAVA Green

By Tech. Sgt. Barb Harbison, DMAVA Public Affairs Specialist

In my small living room sits a piece of exercise equipment that my husband purchased at least five years ago. Built for people taller than my 5' 2", it has never been a comfortable workout and has become a great dust collector and its arms have grown into a coat tree of sorts. Since it works, I don't want to toss it in the trash but in the name of getting rid of some of the extras in our house in 2009, I have to find an alternative.

I found eight different Web sites that give me the ability to offer my working piece of equipment to someone who may actually use it and in return, I will gain some space in my living room. Do you have things around your house that you need to get rid of? Maybe they are too good for the trash man and you don't have time to organize a garage sale or cart them off to Goodwill. You can offer them on a Web site, one of better known is freecycle.org, for other people to use.

One site mentioned that not everything had to work; some people like to tinker and fix things or could use parts.

If one of your resolutions for the new year is to declutter drop by one of these sites to see if you can actually have a resolution that doesn't fail. After all this is much easier than a diet!!

To get enrolled you must complete the "Authorization Agreement for Automatic Payroll Deposits" form, and turn it in to your Human Resources Payroll Department. A copy of this form is available on DMAVAnet under Human Resources – Helpful Forms. Just print, fill out and send to Human Resources. - The Loan Application will no longer be available as a printed form or through the Division's Web site.
- Paper Loan Applications that are received by mail as of Nov. 1, 2008, will be returned to members with instructions on submitting the loan request through MBOS.
- The loan fax number, which has been phased out of use since the introduction of loans through MBOS, will be completely disabled.
- Limited access to a computer or a member's reluctance to use MBOS will not be considered sufficient circumstances to allow manual loan processing.

Employees who are new to MBOS can access MBOS after they register with both the MyNewJersey Web site and MBOS. Registration is free; however, the registration process requires several steps and new users should carefully follow the MBOS registration instructions. ## Employees required to register for MBOS

From the desk of Lisa J. Dandrea, Human Resources, Personnel Assistant

MBOS is the Member Benefits Online System. Through MBOS, employees may review their pension contributions, loan status, health benefits information, update their beneficiary information, apply for retirement, as well as many other applications. It has been encouraged that all employees register for this helpful tool. However Pensions is now working on MBOS being a requirement in order for employees to make certain updates to their personal information.

Effective immediately, in all cases where an employee is eligible to become a member of the Public Employees' Retirement System (PERS), the employer will be required to submit all enrollment information to Pensions via online. Important to note is that the online PERS Enrollment Application does not include the Designation of Beneficiary page. Instead, once the member is enrolled and issued a pension number, they must register for a MBOS account at: www.state.nj.us/treasury/pensions/mbosregister.htm and complete the online Beneficiary Designation form. Until the member completes his or her Designation of Beneficiary, the member's "Estate" will be the beneficiary of record.

Current employees –note, even if you are already enrolled into PERS, if you wish to make any changes to your beneficiary information, you too will need to be registered for MBOS. Members will not be able to submit the Change in Beneficiary Designation paper form since this will no longer be acceptable through the Division of Pensions and Benefits.

Visit the link above for complete instructions to register for MBOS. If you encounter any problems with registration, you may e-mail Pensions and Benefits with your questions/concerns and they can assist you through the process. You may also obtain a tri-fold brochure with MBOS instructions from your Human Resources Office.

State employees who move, marry must contact HR department

If you are a state employee, working for DMAVA, Vets Haven, and the Cemetery, and you have an address change and/or a name change, it is extremely important that you contact Lisa Dandrea in the Human Resources Office. ## ESGR News, Information

Guard, Reserve members and families encourage to nominate employers

The Department of Defense opened the nomination season for the 2009 Secretary of Defense Employer Support Freedom Award on Nov. 1. National Guard and Reserve members and their families are eligible and encouraged to nominate employers who have gone above and beyond in their support of employees serving in the seven reserve components.

Almost one-half of the U.S. military is comprised of the National Guard and Reserve. The Department of Defense shares these citizen warriors with their civilian employers, many of whom provide significant support to their employees who serve in the National Guard and Reserve.

In 2008 the Jersey City Fire Department was the first New Jersey employers to receive the Employer Support Freedom Award, one of fifteen employers bestowed with the high honor.

"The number of nominations was outstanding last year," said retired Army Col. Carmen Venticinque, chairman, New Jersey state field committee for Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve. "I encourage the more than 20,000 citizen Soldiers, Airmen, Sailors, Marines and Coast Guard members to nominate their employer this year."

The New Jersey ESGR held a luncheon for all the Freedom Award nominees and the Jersey City Fire Department was honored with the Pro Patria award along with Campbell Soup and Jenny Engineering.

Nominations will be accepted at www.freedomaward.mil/nominate.aspx until Jan. 19, 2009. The Secretary of Defense Employer Support Freedom Award is the U.S. government's highest recognition given to outstanding employers.

The Freedom Award was instituted in 1996 under the auspices of the National Committee for Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve (ESGR) to recognize exceptional support from the employer community. More than 100 employers have received this prestigious award.

For questions regarding the nomination process, please contact Hank Pierre of the New Jersey ESGR at 609-562-0156.
