New Jersey State Library

This booklet was written by staff of the New Jersey Division of Medical Assistance and Health Services (New Jersey Medicaid Program) as a guide for older adults and their families who need information about nursing home care or community services in New Jersey.

A serious bed shortage exists in New Jersey nursing homes, especially for Medicaid patients. A waiting period of 3 months to one year can be expected for entry into most nursing homes. Therefore, we believe it is necessary for individuals considering going to a nursing home to think about the alternatives. Often, through a combination of community resources, people who have chronic health problems can continue to live in the community.

Section I of this booklet explains the how of the nursing home process. Section II tells the older person where to find services which could assist him/her to remain in the community.

SECTION I

NURSING HOME?

- Making the decision.
- Who pays?
- How to get Medicaid approval.
- Preparation for admission.
- Your rights as a resident.
- Leaving the nursing home.

DECIDING ON NURSING HOME CARE

Going into a nursing home may be a difficult decision to make. Most people have mixed feelings. Some people know they need nursing home care, but do not want to leave their homes. Home care may be possible if appropriate support is available from family, friends, and/or community services. Sometimes however, a nursing home can be the best choice for the full-time care needed.

At some time during their lives, people of all ages may need nursing home care. A person recovering from a serious illness, an operation, or a stroke may need full-time nursing care or special therapy to help in the recovery.

When family members are at work, school, or away from the home, full-time care may not be available to the home-bound person.

To help you decide whether nursing home care may best meet your needs, ask yourself these questions:

- What are my physical needs (i.e., special diet, medication, physical therapy)?
- What are the support services available to me in my community? (Please see Section II of this booklet).
- To what extent can my family and/or I make the necessary adjustments so I can remain at home?
- What equipment (if any) do I need to provide me with the care needed?
- Where can I buy or rent equipment?
- Is there enough space available at home to accommodate the equipment?
- How dependent am I on others for such needs as laundry, meals, personal care?
- Can I manage weekends, evenings, or holidays?

Before deciding on nursing home care, discuss the situation with family, friends, clergy, doctor, social worker, nurse or whomever is involved at your home or in the hospital. They can help you find out what supportive services are available for home care in your community. (Please see Section II of this booklet for location of home care services in your community).

NURSING HOME PLACEMENT PROCESS

Payment for Care

Private Funds — If you have money available, you may have to pay for nursing home care. There is a limit to the amount of financial resources and income you may have in order to be eligible for Medicaid.

Private Health Insurance — Some insurance plans, such as Blue Cross or another major medical plan may pay a portion of the bill for a limited period of time.

Medicare — Medicare will pay for skilled nursing care for a limited period of time following hospitalization.

Medicaid — Medicaid will pay for medically necessary care.

The following groups may qualify for Medicaid:

Persons who apply to the Social Security Office and are eligible to receive Supplemental Security Income (SSI) payments.

Persons who qualify under SSI as an "ineligible spouse" of the SSI recipient.

Persons who apply to the County Welfare Agency and are eligible for financial assistance.

Persons who apply to the County Welfare Agency and who meet applicable financial and/or medical eligibility criteria for "Medicaid Only."

If you are considering nursing home care at the time that you file an application for SSI or Medicaid, please tell the Social Security Office or Welfare Agency.

If you have questions or problems concerning nursing home care contact the local Medicaid office.

Medicaid requires that the monthly income of a resident in a nursing home be used toward the cost of this care. As a Medicaid patient however, you are under no obligation to give any donations or pay extra charges to the nursing home. The Medicaid payment includes services such as: laundry, personal hygiene and nursing items, linen, medical and recreational supplies, prescription and non-prescription drugs, medically ordered transportation, or use of medical equipment such as wheelchair and walkers.

Twenty-five dollars a month of your income is set aside for personal items, which you choose to purchase, that are not covered by Medicaid. You may decide how to manage your "Personal Needs Allowance" money. You may handle your own money or may give written permission for your family or the nursing home to manage your funds.

Municipal Welfare Boards — Money should be available to cover some of the costs of nursing home care under the General Assistance Program if your income is too high to be eligible for the Medicaid Program. Application is made to your county welfare office.

Payment Policies in Nursing Homes

Each nursing home sets up its own payment policy for nursing home care. For example, some nursing homes accept payment only by insurance or private funds. Some nursing homes accept Medicare payment up to 90 days of stay. After Medicare payment has ended, you would pay through private funds. Some nursing homes accept Medicare, then Medicaid payment would take over. Some nursing homes accept Medicaid payment for the full stay in the nursing home.

When selecting a nursing home, make sure to get a contract stating the nursing home payment policy. Have the nursing home staff fully explain what your responsibilities are for payment of care. For your own protection, any agreement for payment of services should be in writing. Consult your county legal service agency or the New Jersey State Nursing Home Ombudsman if you have legal questions regarding a contract. (Please see Section II for the location of legal services in your community).

Remember that signed contracts may make you and/or your family financially liable for future payment. If you intend to go from private or Medicare payment to Medicaid payment, make sure the nursing home is aware of your plans. It is important that you discuss your Medicaid payment plans as soon as possible with the nursing home administrator. Nursing homes are not required to accept you as a Medicaid patient upon admission. Any agreement with the nursing home for Medicaid payment should be in writing and signed by you and/or your family and the nursing home administration before admission.

If the nursing home, in which you are residing, will not accept Medicaid reimbursement, and you are required to pay the nursing home per diem rate on a private basis, you may be eligible for other Medicaid services, such as: doctor visits, drugs, medical transportation, dental, eye care, etc.

MEDICAID APPROVAL PROCESS FOR NURSING HOME CARE

1. After completing the financial forms, the County Welfare Agency will supply you and/or your family with a form called a "PA-4", to be completed by your doctor after you and he have decided you need and want nursing home care. Remember, you have the final word on whether you want to be placed into a nursing home.
2. When the PA-4 form is returned to the County Welfare Agency, it is sent to the local Medicaid office serving your county. The Medicaid process may take up to eight weeks. Financial eligibility is decided by the County Welfare Agency and medical need by the medical team at the local Medicaid office.

If you are living at home or in a nursing or boarding home, a nurse and social worker will visit you to determine your medical, nursing, and social needs before Medicaid can pay for your care. The information is taken back to the local Medicaid office where your need for nursing home care is discussed with a Medicaid physician. The purpose of this team evaluation is to decide whether you are medically in need of nursing home care.

If you are in a hospital, the hospital social worker or discharge planner will help you make arrangements for your post hospital care.

3. A decision is made by Medicaid whether to approve or deny your request for nursing home care. Within a few weeks, you will receive a written notice of the medical team's decision.

If you are denied nursing home care under Medicaid, you may request a fair hearing from the Division of Medical Assistance and Health Services, P.O. Box 2486, Trenton, New Jersey 08625, Att: Fair Hearing Section. If you do not object to the denial and wish to obtain supportive care at home, check with your County Welfare Agency to determine if you are eligible for health related services through Medicaid or other agencies. (Please refer to Section II for the location of community service agencies). The Medicaid social worker who visited you at home, also may be able to help you find home care services.

If you are approved by Medicaid for nursing home care, you will want to start looking at nursing homes. A list of homes can be obtained from the Office on Aging, or the local Medicaid office.

4. Due to the critical bed shortage for Medicaid applicants, it is suggested that you and/or your family visit a number of nursing homes, not limiting yourself to one facility or even one county. The more information the nursing home staff has about your situation, the more likely you will be accepted as a resident in a facility.

It is important to remember that it is up to you to decide whether or not you want to go into a nursing home. Your family and others interested in your care may help you make a decision but you are the final person to decide. At any point during the application process you may withdraw your application. If your plans have changed, please notify the local Medicaid office that serves your county.

5. Depending on the nursing home you choose, there may be a waiting period of three months to one year before you will be admitted. If you need care while you are waiting, the Medicaid social worker in your local Medicaid office will assist you in contacting the service agencies in your county. (Please refer to Section II for the available services in your community).

PREPARATION FOR ADMISSION TO A NURSING HOME

It will be easier to get used to the idea of entering a nursing home if you visit several homes that interest you before selecting one. The location should allow family and friends to visit easily; however, the bed shortage may not always make this possible. Take a tour of the home, talk to patients and staff members. Ask about rules, meal-time, visiting hours and activities that are available. Ask what personal possessions are permitted, such as: TV set, radio, favorite chair, footstool, pictures, etc. If you can't do this yourself, ask someone you know to visit for you. Try to visit at different times of the day to observe recreational activities, meals, nursing services, etc. When you are ready to enter a nursing home, take care of the following:

- Notify your post office of your change of address.
- Mark your clothing with your name, whether or not your laundry will be done at the nursing home.
- Bring a clock and calendar with you.
- Continue receiving your favorite magazines and newspapers at the home.
- Leave small valuables with family members or friends. Most nursing homes discourage bringing any small valuable possessions unless they are kept in the facility safe.

ADJUSTING TO THE NURSING HOME

Going to live in a nursing home will take some adjustment for you and your family. There will be many changes in your day to day activities and, of course, the surroundings will be different. You will not be giving up your rights and individual preferences but some adjustments to the nursing home routine will be necessary. Perhaps the biggest change for most people is having to share a room with someone else. Give yourself time to get used to these changes. Talk over your worries and fears, your plans and hopes for the future with your family and friends.

Unless you require bed care due to your condition or illness, you will dress daily and have the freedom to move about. You will be encouraged to continue to take care of your own personal needs, as much as you can. Talking with other residents will help you maintain an interest in life around you.

There are many services available to you in nursing homes:

Medical Care — Will be provided by a physician periodically and if you become ill.

Nursing Services — Will be provided directly by a professional nurse or by an aide under supervision, as needed;

Social Services — Will be available to help you with any personal or family concerns;

Rehabilitation Services — Will be available if the physician feels you will benefit from physical, speech, and other therapies;

A Dietician — Will talk with you concerning your food likes and dislikes and provide for a special diet as needed;

Other Medical Services — Such as medicines and care for you eyes and teeth will be available;

Recreation Activities — Will be offered to you. Community programs, group recreational programs, crafts and educational programs will be available; you should be able to continue with your favorite hobbies and interests.

Religious Programs — There will be opportunities for you to practice your religion, attend services, and visit with the clergyman of your choice.

RIGHTS AS A NURSING HOME RESIDENT

1. The Patient Bill of Rights — Is a set of rules that all nursing homes must follow. New Jersey Public Law 1976 Chapter 120 assures that your personal and civil rights must be respected. A list of rights will be made available in all nursing homes for you to read and sign. Among the important rights of which you should be aware are:
 - Your right to have a complete record and quarterly accounting of personal money and property kept by the nursing home, daily access to your money, and the right to retain and use your personal property.
 - Your right to visit with whomever you choose between 8 A.M. and 8 P.M. daily.
 - Your right to privacy including the sending and receiving of mail unopened and access to a telephone.
 - The right to wear your own clothing and to a safe and decent living environment.
 - The right to retain your personal physician and to have information on your medical condition and care.
2. Leave of Absence — According to Medicaid policy you are permitted to leave the facility overnight to visit family and/or friends up to 24 days a year with your doctor's approval. Medicaid will pay to hold your bed for these overnight visits. You also may choose to leave the nursing home during the day with your doctor's approval.
3. Complaints — If problems occur in the nursing home for any reason, discuss them first with the staff in the nursing home — the nurses, the social worker or the administrator. If you do not receive any satisfaction or the problem continues, talk to the Medicaid nurse or Medicaid social worker who frequently visits the facility. You may wish to forward your complaints in writing, to the local Medicaid office. (Please see Section II for phone number of each local Medicaid office). In addition, there should be a complaint hotline telephone number posted at each pay telephone in the nursing home. (Telephone 800-792-9770). Anything you say will be kept confidential by Medicaid staff and you will receive assistance with problems that may develop.

4. Transfers — If you wish to transfer to another facility, write a letter to the local Medicaid office serving the county where you are located, stating why you wish to transfer. A transfer may take a long time because with the limited bed vacancies, other patients, such as those from home or hospitals, have priority. If the nursing home requests your transfer, it must have good reason to justify this request. You must be given reasonable advance notice by the nursing home administration prior to any transfer. The Bill of Rights discusses this issue.

LENGTH OF STAY IN A NURSING HOME

How long you will stay in a nursing home depends on many things: the state of your health, the amount of care you need, and/or whether suitable home care is available in your community.

From the day of admission to a nursing home, the nursing home staff and Medicaid staff will begin plans to help you improve so that you may eventually be discharged. A nursing home does not have to be a permanent home. People in nursing homes get well. They learn to walk, to dress, to feed themselves, and they take on a new interest in life.

LEAVING THE NURSING HOME

- Your health and ability to care for your needs may improve so much that you will feel that you do not need nursing home care. Your doctor may agree that you are ready to move back to your community. The nursing home staff will help you make the necessary arrangements.
- You may choose to leave the nursing home at any time. You should talk to your doctor if you decide to move back home. If you decide to leave against your doctor's advice, you will be asked to sign a form releasing the nursing home of further responsibility.
- The Medicaid staff will visit you regularly to check your progress. When you have improved so that nursing home care is no longer required, the Medicaid doctor may contact your doctor to discuss alternate plans.
- If the Medicaid staff at some point decides that you no longer need nursing home care, you will be notified by letter. You will have a chance to talk over this decision with family, nursing home, and Medicaid staff. The nursing home staff will help you plan for your move back into your community.

SECTION II

COMMUNITY SERVICE GUIDE

The following pages list the location of agencies which provide information on services for older people. The listing is alphabetical by county.

If nursing home care does not meet your needs at this time, this guide will direct you to supportive services in your community.
