GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
January 9, 1940.

I. INTRODUCTION

To the Legislature:

Fourteen years ago I took the oath of office as Governor and presented my first message to the Legislature. Since an outgoing Governor makes no extensive proposals for legislative action at the end of his term of office, I shall not have opportunity again to address you upon the general problems affecting the people of our State which warrant and require your consideration.

As I prepare this communication I am impressed by the contrasting situations we faced then as a State and Nation and those we face today. Then we were in the midst of great activity and expansion. Prosperity among our citizens and in our Governments seemed assured. We ran surplus Governments, reduced our debts and made ambitious plans for the future. We were beginning to believe that we were invulnerable, that we could abolish poverty and compel peace and plenty merely by taking thought. Now we are a soberer and, I trust, a wiser people. We face an accumulation of social and economic problems which require all of our abilities, our resources and our determination. Public treasuries are empty; taxes are burdensome; debt charges are oppressive; we operate deficit Governments, and we have passed through ten years of history as serious to us and to the world, perhaps, as any decade since our beginning as a nation.

It is true, of course, that many of the problems of Government—economic, social and political—are continuing problems. They are never completely met, for our way of government must be one of growth and development. It can never be a completely accomplished fact. Ripened fruit decays. In growth only is there life and hope.

I am not disturbed, therefore, because many problems, important to the people of our State, which the Legislature was considering at the beginning of my executive service, remain unsolved in whole or in part. I am concerned, however, as you are, with the progress that has been made, and the steps that we may now take in the advancement of the people's interest and in providing for them a constructive, wholesome and economical administration of their common affairs.

Then we faced an acute need for great extensions in our highway system; for a water supply adequate to immediate demands and future growth; for the development and protection of our agricultural interests; for fostering business and industrial expansion; for extending our interest in the welfare of workers and the continuance of wholesome relationships and understanding between employers and employees; for the improvement and adjustment of our great system of public education to the changing needs of the times and to the conditions under which we lived and worked; for the preservation and development of our natural resources; for adequate care for our institutional and other wards of the State; for the development of wider preventive measures in the conservation of public health; for greater facilities for park and recreational purposes; for more effective methods of fighting crime and juvenile delinquency; for the extension of the policy of State co-operation with our immediate neighbors in the construction and operation of roads and bridges and tunnels; for wider co-operation between States for the effective functioning of our democratic way of government, and for the preservation of the proper identity and authority of the States in the rapidly increasing trend toward greater centralization in the National Government.

These same problems yet face us today. They have been extended in their scope by reason of our natural growth and the increases in our population. They have been made much more complicated and difficult by the strains and shocks that have come to our whole economic and social systems in the intervening years.

As we approach the serious work of this One Hundred and Sixty-Fourth Session of the Legislature, neither you nor I nor the people of our State can ignore the serious disasters that have come to us during the past decade and the changing attitudes and philosophies of the American people and the world as a whole. The problems which we face in our communities, in the State and in the Nation are not impossible of solution but they will be solved only when we face them frankly and with courage befitting our history and our traditions. To do other is to betray both our traditions and our trust.

II. PROGRESS

None of us should take pride in mere growth but there is satisfaction in knowing that during the past fourteen years, long in the life of an individual but short in the development of a community or a State, and even during the devastating depression that has covered most of this period, we have made substantial material progress in the art of government.

In 1926 the population of the State was probably about 3,700,000. In 1930 it had advanced to 4,041,300, and it is probable that this year's census will show a population of 4,750,000. Notwithstanding the critical years intervening, we are richer today in homes, in commercial and industrial enterprise, and there is wide-spread citizen interest in the affairs of government.

In 1926 we had 845 miles of roadway in our entire highway system. With the exception of a few short stretches of three lanes in width, the whole system was made up of two-lane traffic accommodation. Our rights of way were approximately 60 feet. There were few grade crossing eliminations, no highway separations, no traffic circles, no highway lighting. We had 633,000 motor vehicle registrations, 740,000 licensed operators, and a hundred State Police Officers and Motor Vehicle Inspectors patroling our highways. We had hardly begun to prepare for air transportation or to take constructive steps in promoting the flow of motor traffic and safety precautions on our highways.

Now, we have just under 1,700 miles in our highway system; we are acquiring rights of way more adequate to modern needs; we have 470 miles of roadway of three or more lanes in width, of which 209 miles are of the new type of divided highway. We have eliminated, constructed or reconstructed more than 100 railroad grade separations and 128 highway separations, and we have lighted 350 miles of our highway system. Our motor vehicle registration has increased 63 per cent, to 1,030,980, and our licensed operators have increased 95 per cent, to 1,443,810. We now have 258 State Police and Motor Vehicle Patrolmen and Inspectors enforcing motor vehicle and traffic laws.

We have inaugurated advanced practices in motor vehicle inspection, accident reporting, traffic engineering, safety education, financial responsibility, certificate of title, and have continued strict enforcement of the motor vehicle laws, with the result that New Jersey won in 1938 the Grand Award of all the States in the Interstate Traffic Safety Contest sponsored by the National Safety Council.

We have maintained our pre-eminence in the field of highway construction. The Pulaski Skyway, the George Washington Bridge, the Philadelphia-Camden Bridge, and our grade crossing eliminations and separations stand as landmarks in the engineering world.

We have added one hundred and forty million gallons per day to the capacity of our major water supplies. We have made substantial progress in clearing up a number of our important streams and in eliminating troublesome pollution from our side of the New York Harbor and upper coastline. We have improved our State administration of groundwaters, extended our experimental water and sewage treatment work, and we have laid, I hope, the foundations for an early beginning on our next great potable water undertaking.

We have maintained the volume and the value of our agricultural products as an important part of the State's economy. We have completed our projects for the eradication of bovine tuberculosis and gypsy moth extermination. We have established effective control policies for milk sale and distribution, developed grades and standards for important agricultural products, advanced our marketing and distribution systems, and continued to extend our scientific achievements in the agricultural field. The development of new commercial varieties of peaches and other fruits at the Experiment Station, the advancement of blueberry culture, control measures of Japanese beetle infestations and other pests are important accomplishments.

We have avoided oppressive taxes on industry and business. We have been free from major labor troubles. We have set up a council to advertise the advantages of the State and to co-operate with business and industry in matters of common interest. The traditional policies of our Department of Labor have been continued and extended. We have dealt with manufacturers as friends and vital factors in our industrial life. Our workers are assured of wholesome, sanitary accommodations in well-lighted, safe buildings, with well-guarded machinery, reasonable hours and wages. Our compensation laws have wide coverage and effective administration. Our rehabilitation work, our clinics and hospitals, our employment and wage collection services have been long established and well administered.

We have continued the solid progress in the field of education that has characterized this important public function in our State for a long period. Improvements have been made in our teacher-training procedure. We have provided for and effected consolidation of schools on a wide scale. We have added materially to our health measures and extended educational advantages to crippled and otherwise handicapped children. We have preserved the integrity of our tenure and retirement systems, so important to our teachers, and provided the legislation for a foundation program for the support of the public schools. During all of this period no child in the State has been denied educational opportunity and no school district has closed its schools by reason of financial difficulties.

Since 1926 approximately fifty thousand acres of forest, game refuge and shooting grounds have been added to the State's domain, and three thousand acres to State parks. Forest nurseries have been established, reforestation is well begun, and substantial extensions and improvements have been made in the development and maintenance of our inland waterways. Our valuable shell fish industry has been maintained and under careful propagation and maintenance policies the wild life of the State has been increased for the recreation and enjoyment of hundreds of thousands of our citizens.

Our institutional and treatment program for the wards of the State continues to lead the Nation, as does our work among crippled children. Significant advances have been made in the preventive measures in public health, especially in the field of child welfare and communicable disease.

New Jersey has consistently refused to set up trade barriers against other States. We have followed a policy of co-operation with other States and not one of isolation and opposition. New Jersey was the first State to set up a Crime Commission, and has taken the lead in interstate co-operation in this field. Other examples of co-operation in the solution of interstate problems are found in the work of the Port Authority, the Interstate Toll Bridge Commission, the Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin and the Interstate Sanitation Commission.

Since 1926 we have established the office of Commissioner of Finance, the office of State Auditor and the Department of Local Government for the more effective control of our fiscal operations. Our budget practice has been extended and improved, and our civil service laws have been modernized for the more effective regulation of State employment and public payrolls.

We have adopted and applied a series of laws designed to correct and strengthen municipal credit. Notwithstanding the extraordinary new demands for local government expenditure for relief, municipal finances have been greatly strengthened. Defaults have been steadily reduced. Total recorded defaults at the end of 1938 of both principal and interest stood at about $7,000,000, or less than three-quarters of one per cent of the total gross county and municipal debt. The floating debt of local governments has been reduced from a peak of $203,350,000 at the end of 1933 to $41,367,000 at the end of 1938. The majority of our municipalities are operating on a cash basis and tax collections have improved.

In 1926 and the years immediately following, our banking and building loan activities reached their highest volume. On June 30, 1926, our 258 State banking institutions had total resources of $1,456,000,000. On June 30, 1939, our 166 State banking institutions had total resources of $1,406,000,000. In 1926 there were 1,495 building and loan associations with total assets of $760,067,751. These figures had risen by 1930 to 1,565 associations with total assets of $1,211,941,913. At the end of 1938 there were 1,423 active associations with total assets of $691,950,695, representing 5,338,880 shares owned by 528,507 shareholders. There have been some losses but liquidations have been practically completed and future progress is assured.

Life insurance companies have continued to expand throughout this whole period, reflecting their sound administration and careful supervision.

We have undertaken and completed a general revision of laws, the first since 1877 and the most important in the history of the State.

The Board of Public Utility Commissioners has continued throughout this whole period a conservative and constructive policy in the important field of public utility regulation, and its rulings have resulted in total reductions of consumer rates in the amount of $160,656,000. Admirable progress has been made in grade crossing elimination; our utility laws have been strengthened and extended, and important additions have been made to the staff of the Board in the interests of more effective service to the people of the State.

We are able to record at least some advancement in every major activity of the State Government.

III. CONTINUING PROBLEMS OF GOVERNMENT

We in New Jersey can take satisfaction in the fact that we have met with reasonable success the strains that have been placed upon us as individual citizens, as communities, and as a State. We have fed and clothed and sheltered those of our people who have been compelled to look to their government for the essentials of existence and we have contributed our full share to the numerous undertakings of the national government for the protection and welfare of all Americans. We shall, of course, continue these responsibilities but we ask and demand that sound economy, good judgment and constructive action shall be followed in the State and in the Nation in the discharge of these basic obligations. It is significant that, even in these troubled years, we have made substantial progress in improving our governmental practice both at State and local levels, as the foregoing references indicate. But those of us charged with the responsibility of the administration of government must apply ourselves continuously and zealously to the improvement of our administrative processes and to the solution of the basic problems which endure in a democratic State.

A. Health and Welfare.

One of the primary concerns of government must be the protection of the public health and the general welfare of the people. For a long period the conservation of public health in our State has been the responsibility of the State Department of Health in co-operation with local health authorities. Measured in terms of infant and maternal mortality rates and the incidence of communicable disease, New Jersey has an enviable record, but the recent rapid growth of our needy population has emphasized in a very special way the fact that substantial numbers of our citizens are in need of many kinds of health service and sometimes lack the most elementary and necessary medical care.

In 1938 the Federal Government called a National Health Conference to discuss the health and medical needs of the Nation, especially in respect of the creation of additional facilities for treating indigent and marginal groups and a better distribution of those facilities. Following that National meeting, I called a New Jersey State Conference on Health and Welfare to determine for our State whether the medical, health and welfare requirements of needy groups were being adequately served and, if not, to devise ways and means by which we could best care for our own people.

Our New Jersey Conference, under the chairmanship of Dr. Robert C. Clothier, President of Rutgers University, and made up of more than two hundred public-spirited and informed citizens, has made an exhaustive survey of the health, medical and welfare needs of our people and a careful examination of the resources available for meeting these needs. The Conference expresses the opinion that many of the major provisions of important health legislation now before the Congress are not applicable to New Jersey, that the provisions for wage loss insurance and compulsory health insurance therein are premature and that the provisions for federal subsidies to multiply general hospital facilities are unnecessary so far as we are concerned.

In presenting a series of recommendations designed to strengthen and improve our health service, the Conference states:

> "The careful and conscientious survey of health welfare needs in New Jersey, undertaken to ascertain precise needs as a prelude to corrective effort, has clearly revealed to the members of this investigating body that there is no contemporary health emergency in New Jersey requiring hasty remedial activity. There are problems to be solved, but they do not constitute a social crisis; there are needs to be filled, but there is no desperate plight requiring rapid deviation from evolutionary measures of correction; there are shortcomings to be rectified, but there is no critical situation to justify headlong, large-scale, experimental activity.

"A thorough study of existing facilities necessarily throws light on the history of the development of those facilities. The history of health and welfare agencies in New Jersey reveals that their development has been in the nature of a continuing partnership between voluntary and official bodies. The partnership has been one of mutual trust and confidence. As health work has increased in complexity, many of the functions performed by voluntary agencies have been necessarily transferred to governmental bodies to assure greater effectiveness. This change has been in the nature of a transfer. There has been no hasty usurpation. The approach has been evolutionary."

These words, from such a responsible group of our citizens, are reassuring. The Conference does not propose great new expenditures and extensive experiments but rather a constructive and continuing effort to round out our public health activities so as to reach our whole population. The Conference recommends that the New Jersey Health and Welfare Conference be established as a permanent citizen organization, that it continue to study jointly the health problems of the State and present its findings at annual conferences. I support these recommendations.

1. Social Security and Unemployment Compensation. The introduction of the various federal social security measures has added significantly to public welfare programs in the State and has established a new partnership between the Federal Government, the State and the local communities. Most of the measures included in the federal security program are not new to our State. Long ago we established aid to dependent children and more recently old age assistance and blind relief, but these activities have been enlarged by reason of federal undertakings and the sharing of costs by the National Government.

The Unemployment Compensation System and the Old Age and Survivors' Insurance have brought a great proportion of our whole population of working age under insurance protection. The State Unemployment Compensation System, introduced in 1936, vitally affects the welfare of the State for it touches the lives of millions of our citizens. One million two hundred thousand workers in eighteen thousand business and industrial establishments are covered by the Unemployment Insurance System and nearly one hundred million dollars, contributions from workers and employers in the State, have been accumulated in a reserve fund held by the Federal Government.

Closely connected with the Unemployment Insurance System is the employment service carried on by the State Employment Service Division of the Unemployment Compensation Commission. The law wisely provides that no worker may receive unemployment benefit unless he is registered for work at a State Employment Service Office and has interested himself in seeking productive employment. There is, of necessity, a close and interdependent relationship between unemployment compensation and direct relief. It is of first importance that proper relationships shall be established and maintained between these two activities lest the purposes for which they are separately and jointly administered may be abused and defeated.

In such a complicated undertaking as is involved in these security measures and with such limited experiences to point the way, it is to be expected that numerous changes and adjustments need to be made in existing statutes and procedures. The most careful attention should be given by the Legislature in framing changes in the law, if any are adopted, so that none of the safeguards afforded workers and citizens against the exigencies of unemployment and insecurity in the essentials of life be jeopardized, and that the interests of those who pay as well as those who receive benefits may be fully protected. Nothing short of the wisest possible counsel and straightforward, unselfish interest can have a place in dealing with these vital matters.

2. Public Welfare, Department of Institutions and Agencies. The economic depression has placed unusual burdens on State and local governments in their efforts to prevent serious privation. Our Department of Institutions and Agencies has consistently faced additional demands for the service which it is charged to render by greatly increased numbers of our population. It has been necessary to extend existing welfare work, to add new categories of assistance and to undertake additional service in the treatment of mental and physical handicaps, dependency and neglect, juvenile delinquency and adult crime. That Department has carried out its obligations effectively and efficiently. It has made practical application of the funds placed at its disposal. By reason of the increasing numbers of those who must be given institutional care, some of our institutions are seriously overcrowded. The Legislature may well give consideration to the adoption of appropriate measures under which the Department may be legally authorized to refuse additional admissions beyond a stipulated capacity since overcrowding beyond reasonable limits defeats the very ends for which our institutions have been established.

New Jersey has long been committed to a policy of treatment and rehabilitation rather than one of mere custodial care. In line with this policy, the professional staffs of our institutions are constantly seeking new and improved methods of treatment in our mental hospitals, tuberculosis sanatoria, our epileptic village and other institutions. These advanced methods and treatment already in use have met with encouraging results. They serve, in a substantial way, to offset the natural increase in our institutional population. Our tuberculosis and mental hygiene clinics have aided greatly in this situation.

The creation of county welfare boards for the administration of old age assistance and for approving cases to be accepted by the State Board of Children's Guardians and the State Commission for the Blind, is another significant development in the co-operative method of handling our welfare problems. We have had enough experience now to indicate conclusively that our whole program of welfare service in the State should be co-ordinated with the central department and so assure an integrated welfare administration covering our whole population and administered with an eye both to economy in money spent and efficiency in service rendered.

3. Old Age Assistance. For some eight years past, the Department of Institutions and Agencies has administered old age assistance. There are now thirty thousand aged individuals under this system. The number is likely to continue to increase since advances in health measures and disease control constantly tend to lengthen life and new powerful factors operate to shorten the productive working period. The initiation of the old age insurance and survivors' benefits provisions of the Federal Social Security Act, given as a matter of right without need for tests of any kind, is bound to extend our whole old age assistance program and add to the administrative problems of the department.

4. Child Welfare. The entrance of the Federal Government into the child welfare service of the State, and the assumption of a substantial part of the cost of this service, has enlarged the work and the responsibility of the State Board of Children's Guardians as an agency of the Central Department. Grants for the support and care of dependent children must include consideration of assistance to the mother and the family as a matter of general relief. The Board of Children's Guardians should be legally empowered to consider the needs of the mother as well as the children in this whole program for maintaining homes and saving the dependent children of the State to useful and productive citizenship. While action by the Federal Government is necessary to permit this approach to what is, perhaps, our most important welfare service, proper representations should be made to the Federal Authorities and such changes as are required in our statutes should be provided.

5. Negro Welfare. As our colored population has increased in recent years, the State's attention has been directed to the particular problems of this group of our citizens. The Manual Training and Industrial School for Colored Youth at Bordentown has continued its useful service in providing trade training for young men in agriculture, auto and general mechanics, woodworking, printing and the like, and for young women in the domestic sciences, dressmaking, beauty culture and other useful occupations. The Negro Welfare Commission created by the Legislature is studying inter-racial problems. Although I believed that the work assigned to this Commission could have been done by an existing agency of the State, I urge that careful consideration be given to its findings and recommendations.

6. Rehabilitation. It has been the continuing task of the State Crippled Children's Commission to locate children suffering from physical handicaps and to supervise and direct their rehabilitation. This work has been carried on with local communities, fraternal and social service organizations, and remarkable progress has been made. With financial support from the Federal Government and the co-operation of the Babbit Hospital at the Vineland Training School, experimental work with spastic cases has been carried on for the past two years with encouraging results. Every possible effort has been and is being made to mitigate the ravages of infantile paralysis and to restore the victims of this dread disease. For the older groups of the physically handicapped, the State Rehabilitation Commission has functioned in a similar capacity. New Jersey may well be proud of its leadership in the whole field of rehabilitation.

7. Unemployment and Relief. The problems that have baffled the Nation since 1930 have been unemployment and relief. When I first entered the Governor's Office, these matters seemed obscure and insignificant among important problems of public concern demanding attention. Such public assistance as was required was met readily by local agencies from local revenues. As we look back we can see the danger signs that were not so apparent in prospect. Between 1926 and 1929 public relief expenditures doubled and unemployment was rising. In 1931 the State entered the field. In 1933 the Federal Government began to supplement the dwindling resources of the States and communities. With the passage of the Social Security Act in 1935 the Federal Government assumed a measure of financial and other responsibility to the aged, to dependent children, and to the blind. Subsequently the Federal Government has undertaken unemployment compensation on a vast scale. For some time now these twins of the depression have dominated our whole government policy. Their solution demands our highest consideration and courage. In our communities, here in Trenton and in Washington, we must find a way to restore the faith of business and industry lest our whole economic structure fall and our social and political institution be seriously impaired.

When we look over the whole picture, it appears that we have met a great crisis in New Jersey during the past ten years with reasonable success, but we now appreciate provision for unemployment and relief has taken its place as a more or less permanent service of government. It is incumbent upon us as a State to provide wisely for its economical administration, its reduction in volume as safety permits, and to carry constantly the hope that it may be removed eventually as one of our major problems.

Since entering the relief field, the State has spent or provided for the expenditure of $143,281,430.[1]

It is no wonder that our State finances have been upset and usual State activities seriously affected.

In addition to State expenditures for relief purposes, counties and municipalities during the same period, and through 1938, raised and spent $111,647,000[2] and the Federal Government contributed a total of $403,721,000[2] through this same period. The amount spent by local governments explains some of the local fiscal problems, and the totals of all relief expenditures indicate not only the size but the far-reaching effects of this new relief giant.

The fact that we had, as late as last September, 175,000 persons receiving general relief and 56,000 workers on WPA projects who, with their dependents, represent 250,000 persons, and that an additional 65,000 persons receive categorical relief through the Department of Institutions and Agencies is evidence of the size and persistence of this problem. It will do no good for us to seek to avoid it or ignore it. Like other matters of vital public concern, it must be recognized, reduced to manageable proportions, and provided for. I am of the opinion that the State should supervise and equalize direct and work relief through its established channels for other forms of public assistance, with administrative decentralization through county welfare boards. We should seek federal action to correct the artificial severance of work relief from the other forms of aid to which it is organically related.

8. Crime and Delinquency. Crime and delinquency are other phases of our great social problem with which we must deal as a matter of safety and sound public policy. Crime rates are substantially lower now than in 1926. They are yet too high. Youth continues to commit too many serious crimes. We are in the middle of a great change in our attitude toward these problems. We are passing from the stage where the State exacts punishment alone. We are moving toward sensible treatment of the offender. I counsel no soft dealing with the criminal. I am not satisfied, however, that American ingenuity can offer nothing more than "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth." Parole of prisoners has been abused elsewhere and perhaps in New Jersey, of course, but parole and probation must be a part of our system of handling those who come within the notice of our law-enforcing agencies. New Jersey has taken the leadership in the recognition of the simple fact that crime does not respect State boundaries through its pioneer activities in creating an Interstate Crime Commission. Since 1936 a Juvenile Delinquency Commission has been studying the causes of delinquency and searching for appropriate methods to combat these causes. Legislation will be offered to implement the recommendations made by that Commission. I commend it to your careful consideration.

B. Further Development of Our Resources and Facilities.

While we have been so busy pursuing a great program of social security, we have been inclined to forget the stubborn truth that our capacity to care for our dependents in all categories rests upon the productive work and economic strength of the whole people. Those who are without work now or in need, and those who lose their jobs and require help in the future, must look now and always to those who are employed. There is no escape from this fact.

The larger the unit of government the greater its resources and its ability to spread great spending enterprises over a wider base of wealth and population. But we must not lose sight of the fact that the economic principles involved operate to the same end both in the community, the State and the Nation. If we spend more than we produce, we are poorer at the end of the year or the decade. If we take away in taxation, direct or indirect, too great a proportion of current income or any part of the capital wealth of the people, we weaken our whole economic structure and endanger our stability and safety. We must find a way, and this is the most important task of this and succeeding Legislatures, to provide the fundamentally essential services of government within our capacity to pay and under a system which will permit and encourage the growth of industry and trade and the development of our basic resources. We must encourage our agriculture, our trade and our industry. We must develop our resources and we must provide wholesome protection and reasonable facilities for all our people.

1. Public Education. I take satisfaction in reporting solid progress in the field of public education and in the continued development of our public schools. Substantial reductions in operating costs and in the building of new schools have had to be made as a matter of necessity but there is no evidence that our educational system has been seriously impaired. Now, new construction to replace obsolete buildings is advancing. During the past four years new buildings to the value of $17,000,000 have been erected. The assistance through grants-in-aid by the Public Works Administration and Works Progress Administration has made possible nearly all of this new construction. It is interesting to note that the debt service cost for school districts in 1939 decreased $649,609.84 from the debt service cost in 1938, and it is now $1,750,000 less than for 1937.

By reason of a reduction in ratables the amount of monies raised under the so-called State School Tax has been materially reduced. Continued litigation over the Railroad Tax has reduced income available from this source and there will be the same request presented this year as in the preceding years for sufficient additional appropriations from State funds to cover the deficiency for the payment of usual quotas and three cents per pupil day's attendance. The minimum foundation program for our public school system enacted in 1935 awaits application because of failure to provide the necessary replacement funds. It seems to me that the Legislature must give early consideration to this matter in connection with its tax program or abandon the formula and seek some other method of school support.

The Department of Education reports some progress in vocational training and the adjustment of school curricula to the needs of our school population. I am satisfied that we have not advanced in this direction as far as conditions warrant and that we must modify in essential ways our old type of instruction and emphasize more and more the extension of vocational training. We have brought into our school hundreds of thousands of students fitted neither by nature nor interest to profit greatly from the old established high school course directed toward college entrance or devoted chiefly to a general education. It is the primary business of our educational system to train our children for useful citizenship. As we fail in this objective we fail in our educational program. It will not be required, as is sometimes argued, to build new vocational schools in every county and large community. We can and we must utilize the buildings and much of the equipment we now have. Already there are serious shortages in a number of the skilled trades and there is an increasing demand for trained workers in the newer industries. These shortages are bound to become more acute in the immediate future and the full energy of our educational leaders and boards of education should be directed to meet these demands of our industrial system.

In my message last year I called attention to the fact that there had been much discussion and apparent misunderstanding with respect to the reserve of the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund. I suggested at that time that it would be well to have some further actuarial studies made so that the needs of the Fund might be definitely known. This examination has been completed and the Fund has been pronounced actuarially sound. The actuaries who made the examination have submitted a number of recommendations which should receive your careful study.

The work of the teacher becomes more difficult year after year for the teacher not only determines the quality of the instruction to the individual child but she has a major influence on the development of character. The teachers of our State continue to give devoted service. It is our obligation to keep faith with them in maintaining the integrity of the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund, our tenure of office legislation and to provide reasonable facilities with which they may carry on their work. It is their responsibility to keep abreast of the times, to train our children in the ways of American life, and to fit them for citizenship and service in the Community, the State and the Nation. There is no place in our free educational system for those who believe in and advocate un-American doctrines and dangerous philosophies alien to our national faith and to American institutions. Our school system is the product of our American democracy. We must insist that our children be taught in the ways of that democracy. An education which insures the right kind of citizenship is a good investment. We must resolve to continue to support and maintain an adequate free public school system for all our children.

2. Agriculture. Even though we are located almost wholly in metropolitan areas, agriculture has continued to be a major factor in our whole economy. It is a half-billion dollar enterprise grossing a hundred million dollars a year to our people. A substantial part of our population lives in our farm homes and a great number of our workers earn their livelihood in farm and related enterprises. We have made great progress through the scientific research and instruction of our Experiment Station and Agricultural College. These agencies, joined with the facilities of our Department of Agriculture, have aided our farmers in maintaining the fertility of the soil, in fighting off crop pests and animal diseases, and in increasing crop production and extending the use and marketing of our agricultural products.

Present-day agriculture is a highly competitive business. To maintain our position in this field, we must continue the assistance to farmers in the solution of their distribution and marketing problems. The establishment of egg auctions, the grading of farm products and the use of trade-marks are examples of the things that we must do in this field. We produce quality products. We must inform the buying public of this fact and make our trademark our bond.

Notwithstanding our successful work in the eradication of tuberculosis we have yet to complete our control of Bang's Disease in our dairy herds. This control is accomplished, as you may know, through the blood-testing and the identification and removal of infected cattle from the milk-producing herds of the State. Thirty-five other States, and all of our nearby States which compete in our own dairy markets, are carrying on determined campaigns against this disease. Health authorities will soon demand not only that milk shall come from tuberculin tested herds but also from herds free from Bang's Disease infection as a further protection of the milk supplies for their particular municipalities. As a matter of self-interest we must continue to support our agricultural program.

In connection with this reference to our agriculture interests which he served so well, I desire to record my recognition of the loss which agriculture in the State and in the Nation has sustained in the death of Dr. Jacob G. Lipman, long Dean of our Agricultural College and Director of our Experiment Stations. Scientist, scholar and gentleman, his devotion to duty and his record of accomplishment will long stand as his monument.

3. Highway Transportation. A great many of our citizens seem to think that our highway system is now adequate and that no further construction or improvement is necessary. We have a great highway system, of course. Our State has pioneered in highway building for a half century. But we must remember that ours is a thickly populated industrial State; that population needs not only to be located but furnished the facilities for getting to and from work, business and places of recreation; and that goods must not only be produced but distributed. Highways are no longer limited to getting the farmer to market, they are vital to our whole industrial economy and welfare. Highway improvement provides employment and highway facilities attract people and business and industry to the State.

Our situation between two great metropolitan areas, at the keypoint of this whole seaboard, makes our highway transportation problem one of the major if not the first problem in our whole development. But the job which we face is not merely one of providing smooth hard-surfaced roadways for easy travel from community to community, it is rather one of traffic expedition with safety. The Highway Department is no longer concerned merely with building and maintaining roads, it is concerned with traffic operation and safety as well. The Motor Vehicle Department is no longer a mere licensing agency, its interest embraces much wider functions. The interest of the State Police Department in highways and highway traffic is not limited to the apprehension of law breakers, it includes the whole field of traffic regulation, safety and traffic expedition. The whole highway transportation problem in our State offers the finest kind of opportunity for co-operative and co-ordinated effort as among important State agencies concerned with a major function of government.

Our Highway Department has done a commendable job in the design and improvement of highways and highway construction in this rapidly developing motor age. It must continue its constant research and planning activities to better meet our constantly growing traffic problems. We should build no roads that are not actually required, but we must not forget that every one of our main traffic highways is already overloaded. It seems to me that we must construct promptly the approaches to the Lincoln Tunnel and give consideration, at the earliest possible date, to the construction of the proposed new alignment of Route 100, from the George Washington Bridge past the Lincoln and Holland Tunnels to Bayonne, across to Elizabeth and south to the Woodbridge Cloverleaf. These two undertakings will relieve greatly the present almost intolerable traffic congestion in our metropolitan area.

I have recommended heretofore that we should undertake a considerable road construction and improvement program in connection with our relief and unemployment projects. I urged this project as promising useful and valuable facilities which we would require anyway, and as offering jobs and employment to many people. We continue to spend a great deal of money, State and Federal, on W. P. A. and relief projects. I am yet of the opinion that a substantial part of these funds should be spent in essential highway work.

It is not possible, of course, to foresee the future, but it is apparent that the number of motor vehicles and motor vehicle traffic will increase substantially in our State for a considerable period; it is certain that our traffic and transportation problems will become more complicated; it is certain also that the highway facilities we provide will have an important effect upon our commerce and trade and whole development. Necessity, I think, will require a rearrangement of the allocation of motor vehicle revenues so that monies may be available to provide and maintain streets and roadways in cities and congested areas rather than in the construction of more roads in less populated areas. Freeways, auxiliary roadways, better drivers, more driver supervision, lighting, and improved safety education will be accepted parts of our future highway construction. "Roads," someone has said, "rule the world." Roads will remain, for us in New Jersey, one of our most difficult and important problems.

4. Potable Water. No problem facing the people of this State, especially in the northern metropolitan area, is so pressing or so important to our safety and our greater development as is our potable water supply. We have been talking about this problem for a generation. Survey after survey has been made. Plan after plan has been submitted and a number of water measures have been submitted to the Legislature. There is full agreement that something must be done but as long as the water comes out of the faucet it seems impossible to impress upon the average citizen his plight when the water lines actually run dry.

By reason of the economic depression we have been saved this serious experience but it is as certain almost as that night follows day that our present water supply will not be sufficient for our minimum needs during the next decade under moderate growth and if we again reach normal industrial expansion, and of course we will, there will be an actual water shortage and the health of the people and our whole industrial system will be directly and dangerously threatened. The fact that we have water to meet our needs in wet years under reduced industrial enterprise is no assurance at all that we will have enough water in dry years. A chain is measured by its weakest link and water supply must be measured in terms of its driest year.

During the past year our State Water Policy Commission has made an inter-connection survey to determine ways and means by which we may eke out our present water system to its very maximum. The construction of these essential inter-connections at an estimated cost of just above two million dollars will help but we must not lose sight of the fact that this is no solution to our water needs. These inter-connections should be made at once. If we set about the construction of a new supply now, we may have it available in time but it is getting late.

The possible sources of an adequate water supply for the whole northern half of the State are few. They have all been considered and careful estimates as to their relative costs and adequacy have been made. I am impressed, as you may know, with the advantages—economic, financial and legal—of the exercise of our rights in the Delaware River as the source of our next water supply and of the right-of-way of the Delaware and Raritan Canal as the location for carrying a major portion of this supply to our North Jersey communities.

In 1934 I sent a special message to the Legislature urging action on our water problem. Last year I sent another special message on the same subject, to which was appended an extended technical report prepared by the Chief Engineers of three major State Commissions, dealing particularly with the Delaware River supply and the utilization of the Delaware and Raritan Canal for transmission purposes. I refer you to these earlier messages and I want to emphasize again the availability of the Delaware River and the Delaware and Raritan Canal as the bases for the development for the cheapest adequate supply and for bringing it into the market. The State has water rights in the Delaware River and it has a right-of-way along the old Delaware and Raritan Canal from the Delaware River to a point of distribution in the northern metropolitan area. These can be utilized without the delays which accompany the acquisition of water rights and easements and the consequent costly litigation likely to follow in such an enterprise. I remind you that the Wanaque supply required more than eleven years for its construction from the time it was started until water from that source was actually available for distribution. Any project that entails eleven years at this time will be disastrous to our continued development as a great residential and industrial State.

The Delaware River-Delaware and Raritan Canal project is estimated by the Engineers Committee to cost approximately $33,000,000.00, to which must be added $2,000,000.00 for additional storage at Dock Watch Hollow to comply with the requirements of certain Pennsylvania agencies. In my special messages I have pointed out that a large part of these costs may be recovered from Federal sources in the interests of relief, since this project lends itself so readily to easing the unemployment situation. I am told that ten thousand people can be employed on this single project for a period in excess of two years and, in addition to this, work of many kinds will be created in manufacturing establishments in the State. I have given extensive study to both the Bunnvale and Chimney Rock projects. We have valuable lake and recreational enterprises in these areas.

We should not jeopardize or destroy these assets unless no other way can be found to provide potable water. Either of these projects will cost more than the Delaware River-Delaware and Raritan Canal undertaking. Extensive purchase of real estate rights-of-way and water rights must be undertaken and years will be consumed in these activities. The Delaware project is waiting. Construction can be started almost at once as a far-reaching relief project and it can be completed within the time limits which we face. This project has the added advantage of providing fifty million gallons per day for allocation to Trenton and South Jersey municipalities, while at the same time one hundred million gallons per day can be supplied for North Jersey. Neither of the other two projects make any provision for Trenton or South Jersey communities.

Again I urge that whatever differences as to policy and opinion which may now exist among or between official bodies engaged in the business of maintaining and distributing water supplies or other official and civic groups be composed and that no more time be lost in taking action respecting this vital improvement. I propose that a small legislative committee, perhaps two members of the Senate and two of the House, be set up to confer with the Governor with a view to working out the whole problem and preparing it for legislative consideration.

5. Utility Regulation. Our public utilities, exclusive of railroads, include 867 enterprises with an investment of over a billion dollars and annual operating revenues of over $225,000,000. It is the function and the responsibility of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners to exercise regulatory control over this great enterprise to the end that adequate service shall be maintained, that management shall be sound and in public interest and that those who invest in New Jersey Utilities have reasonable assurance that their investment is sound. The work of utility regulation has been done well. The reasonableness of rates has been frequently examined, negotiations for rate reductions and adjustments have repeatedly produced worth-while results, the difficult transfer from the street railway to motor bus transportation has been accomplished with consequent improved service, commendable progress has been made in the elimination of grade crossings and utility companies have continued to realize reasonable returns for their investors. There is little drama in much of the day-to-day work of regulation but it is essential. Such regulation must be continued and warrants your support.

The extent to which our public utilities cover the State and serve all of the people is indicated by the fact that 22,000 of our 29,000 farms are receiving electric light service from some public utility. This coverage is eight per cent higher than that of the State of New York and much higher than in all of the other States. Only two rural cooperatives, under the sponsorship of the Rural Electrification Administration, have been organized in the State to serve nine hundred prospective customers.

6. Labor and Work Relations. I am glad to be able to report that the recovery of our business and industry is steadily advancing and that the trend of industry to New Jersey continues in constantly increasing volume. More than 1,200 new industries started operations in New Jersey in 1939.

Ours is primarily an industrial State. As industry prospers jobs will be available, wealth will be produced, trade will be extended and our people will prosper. I am sure that I am voicing the real sentiment of our people and the hopes of both industry and labor when I renew my frequently repeated statement that the thing most needed in governmental policies and procedures at all levels is convincing assurance that industry is to be looked upon as a source of wealth, of payrolls, of employment and security, and not as an enemy which must be threatened and harassed into some sort of submission to young amateurs who do not know what it is to build an industry, operate a business or meet a payroll. There is but one way to recover prosperity and to assure security for the Nation, for the State and the Community and that is, the encouragement and development of industry and business and the creation of new wealth with employer and employee working together.

I need not repeat, I think, that my concern is for the men and women who work. My public record tells that story. But I do not recognize either industry or labor or government as the dictator in this three-way partnership. The secret of the whole matter is understanding co-operation between industry and labor and wholesome assistance by government. The whole structure is endangered when any one of the partners forgets his place or seeks with reckless disregard of consequences to enforce his own will on the other two. In New Jersey we have a long record of good will between employer and employee. We have been saved the paralyzing effect of labor conflicts that have come to many parts of the Nation. It should be our first purpose to maintain that record of peaceful development and to improve and extend these understanding relationships.

We are committed to wise regulatory procedures in this important field. The long established policies of our Department of Labor have produced satisfying results. It continues its effective administration. Advances made in workmen's compensation, in woman and child labor, in plant safety and health measures, have brought returns to our own people and have had a widening influence on constructive labor interests throughout the country.

We shall continue to enjoy a favorable place in the industrial development of the Nation so long as we continue to protect the sacred right of a man to work under wholesome conditions and so long as we treat industry as a wealth-producing and a vital part of our whole economy. I am anxious that no action be taken by the State or by our local governments which will endanger our favorable competitive position. We should not hesitate to make known our position and our convictions with respect to national policies and proposals if it should appear that they may adversely affect our own welfare.

7. Election Reform. Election reform continues unsolved. A few weeks ago I felt obliged to file without approval Senate Bill No. 409 in the last legislative session. I stated then, and I repeat here, that that legislation, instead of clarifying the election laws, made them more inconsistent and obscure. Its provisions cured nothing and when applied would operate against the proper and lawful exercise of our franchise.

It seems to me that it is time for us to get down to fundamentals in this matter. I see no advantage in permanent registration and in making it easy for careless voters to vote when they are so inclined in one municipality and in making it difficult for qualified voters to vote in another. Citizens ought to respect their right to vote enough to act positively now and then, in relation thereto. They ought to be required to register as a part of the exercise of their citizenship.

Election reform is more than a partisan matter. It goes to the root of free government and the exercise of the obligations of citizenship. If the election laws need to be changed, and I think they do, let us require every voter to register periodically and remove from the shoulders of the taxpayers the expensive and useless Election Bureaus in first class counties. These Bureaus were designed, it was said, to protect the ballot. I see no constructive results flowing from them. If the Bureaus were established to keep down the majority of one party in one county and to increase the majority of the other party in another county, they have failed of their purpose. I should like to see an earnest effort made to improve our election procedure and to provide for the honest exercise of his or her right to vote by every qualified citizen. I shall be glad to work with you to that end.

8. Conservation and Development. We have, in New Jersey, three major forms of wealth-producing enterprise: industry, agriculture and our recreational facilities. A year ago I called attention to the fact that we can prosper as a State only as these enterprises are maintained and increased. It is our business in Government to promote and maintain them. We have done a great deal in the development and maintenance of our agriculture. We have sought to encourage industry. We have not done well in the task of conserving and developing our natural resources and extending our recreational facilities. We need these facilities now both for the use of our own people and for the millions of guests who come to us from all parts of the Nation seeking the kind of recreation which we have to offer. We shall need them much worse in years to come. Enduring government provides for the future as well as for the present. It is important that we give some thought to the requirements ahead.

Because mineral resources are not considered a ranking source of wealth production, we pass them by with little consideration. Few people in the State realize that the annual value of the products of our mineral industries exceeds $50,000,000. The topography of the State needs remapping. Surveys should be made to determine the location and extent of iron ore, how the use of native clays and other minerals may be extended as substitutes for great quantities of raw materials imported each year in our building material and ceramic industries. Studies need to be made to determine the extent to which raw materials are available in the manufacture of mineral wool and similar products, an industry growing rapidly and holding great promise for the future.

We have been derelict in our encouragement of forestry and the conservation of our present wooded growth. New Jersey can never be a great lumber-producing State but sensible reforestation and the proper care of forest growth will provide substantial revenues from forest products. Of even more importance it will protect our soil and our water supply, promote health, protect wild life and furnish recreational facilities for millions of people.

We have about 70,000 acres of State-owned forests, parks, game refuges and shooting grounds. Every park facility in the State is overcrowded and wholly inadequate to actual needs. We should have in public ownership 500,000 acres of forest lands, distributed as widely as possible over the whole State. There are great areas of tax-delinquent lands suitable for these purposes which can be brought into State-ownership with profit both to the local governments in which they are situated and the State.

Our shoreline is one of our great assets. Our feeble attempts heretofore to protect and develop it have been entirely inadequate. We have stood by and watched it wash away or taken into private ownership until there are scarcely any public beaches left. The acquisition of areas for seashore parks is the most pressing of all of our problems in this field.

The interests and functions of our Department of Conservation and Development, Agriculture, Commerce and Navigation, Highways, Local Government, and Planning are involved in these matters. A great deal of planning has been done in this field already. The Department of Commerce and Navigation has recently prepared an appealing comprehensive plan. I do not advocate any one plan to the exclusion of all others, but I am anxious to see something done. Many of our county and municipal governments are directly concerned in this undertaking. We must not forget that the development and the wealth of the State in the long future hinge upon the comprehensive planning we do now for our physical development and the extent to which we put broad and reasonable plans into effect during the next quarter century. The people of this great State and of the greater metropolitan areas which encompass it and of which it is a part will have places of recreation in the future. Unless we are to fail seriously in our obligations in government, we must plan for that future. I propose therefore that a legislative committee be appointed to work with the Governor in definitely fixing a policy respecting seashore parks and in devising ways and means of putting it into effect. A second undertaking for such a committee would be the determination of a procedure under which certain areas of tax delinquent lands can be brought into State ownership. This preliminary work need not involve any extra expenditure. We have competent expert advisors and engineers in the State service. We can utilize their knowledge in these matters.

9. Co-operation and Co-ordination. A major difficulty in advancing administrative practice and effectiveness in government is the lack of co-operation among the several governmental agencies and the co-ordination of their activities. For a long period we have had a high degree of co-operation among our State officials and agencies, and some progress has been made in co-ordinating many of our public activities. I am satisfied that important advancements can yet be made along these lines. We should not forget that government is not a series of disconnected, unrelated and, too frequently, competitive activities but a single undertaking greater than any of its parts and that the entire administrative machinery of government is designed and supported to provide the service which the people require from this pooling of their common resources and common interests.

We have numerous successful examples of the application of this policy. Two years ago we established the New Jersey Council as an agency in which would be pooled the official, commercial and civic interests of the State for the purpose of bringing together the advertising and promotion activities of State and local governments, trade organizations and industries. During the past two years I have kept in close touch with the activities of the Council. I am satisfied that its policies and plans are sound, that its work has been successful, and that it should be continued as an accepted part of our State activities.

Through advertising campaigns within and without the State we have been able to assist in the marketing of surplus agricultural products and in advancing the identification of and demand for graded, trade-marked New Jersey products. The Council's efforts have encouraged new industries to come into the State and have brought many thousands of visitors. Recently I have charged it with the responsibility of compiling monthly reports on industrial and trade and other conditions throughout the State. I am sure that you will find these reports valuable and enlightening.

It is important that all of our people keep clearly in mind that we must market our products on a national basis and that we must compete with the products of other parts of the country. I urge a united effort of our State and local government agencies, our trade and civic organizations and all of our people to work continuously and earnestly, not only to maintain the record of goodwill and co-operation which we have had over a long period, but to extend and improve that record to the welfare of the whole State. I want our State to be known as the State where labor has the right to work, the State where labor is treated fairly by industry, the State where labor and industry are treated fairly by government, and the State where economic losses by strikes and shut-downs are reduced to the irreducible minimum.

Shortly after the outbreak of the European war, I set up an Emergency Committee to consider the effects of the war upon the interests and people of the State and to devise adequate measures against possible subversive activities and in the protection of our people and our industries.

This committee has formulated its plans and reports its readiness to act as emergencies may arise.

With the closing of European markets to New Jersey manufacturers and agriculturists, I invited the Trade Consuls from South and Central America to meet with me in order that they might become better acquainted with the people and the products of our State and as a part of our national program to develop our South and Central American trade. In the weeks intervening since this friendly gesture, we have noted actual results which promise to grow in volume to the benefit of New Jersey people and New Jersey industries.

I called the first New Jersey Governor's Conference, which brought together 1,500 leaders in industry, agriculture and recreation, for an all-day discussion of the problems facing New Jersey. Recently I invited our two United States Senators and our fourteen Congressmen to confer upon our State problems whose solution involved federal aid or legislation. I have addressed communications to more than a thousand of our business leaders, seeking their co-operation in the solution of our State and local problems and their help in ironing out conditions that may impede the progress of the State or discourage industries seeking new locations from settling here.

No, we, in New Jersey and in America, are not finished. Our interests lie ahead, now as always. A great new era in the industrial field is opening up. Radical changes in the improvement and production of staple goods are taking place and the aviation, television, plastics and chemical industries are in their infancy.

We want those that can locate in New Jersey with profit to themselves and to our people to do so. We want to create and maintain favorable conditions under which our present and our prospective industries may grow. We should be training men and women now for productive work in these new enterprises. We need to solve the problem of housing shortage for families earning less than $3,000 a year. We need to improve our existing housing facilities for our present population. We need to develop our financial facilities so that the capital which we have available in our banks, insurance companies and other financial institutions may have opportunity for investment in our own State. We need, as residents and citizens of New Jersey, to develop State and community pride and to recognize what a good place our State is in which to live, to work and to play. We have a good product in New Jersey. We must continue to improve that product and, as citizens all, we must sell it to ourselves and to the country.

It is my suggestion that the members of the legislative delegation from each county constitute themselves a Committee to meet from time to time with the representatives of industry, agriculture, labor and civic and trade bodies in their respective counties to discuss problems of common interest so that as Legislators you will be informed of the needs and the concerns of your own constituents and in position to work out together essential legislative policies for the welfare of the whole State.

10. Other Improvements. There are a number of other matters that are important to our greater development, but I shall not undertake to discuss them at this time. We need to press forward our work of years for the elimination of pollution of our shoreline and of the Delaware, Raritan, Passaic and Hackensack rivers and smaller streams.

The Delaware River Basin is of equal or greater significance to our national economy as any of the great regional developments undertaken by the Federal Government. The valley is the home of more than 5,000,000 people, it embraces one of the great harbors of the Nation, many of our major industries are located in it, we have millions invested in our fishing industries in Delaware waters, it has great recreational value and it is our chief source of future water supply. There have been striking advances made in clearing the waters of the Raritan and Passaic rivers. The work that has been done in these streams shows conclusively that this kind of improvement can be made even in congested areas. We have major flood control problems that will plague us continually until they are met. And more pressing than all of these, perhaps, is the preparation for aviation development and air travel which promises to outrun all other developments for the immediate future. The recommendations of the Director of Aviation for the preparation of landing fields, air bases and laboratory facilities warrant your attention.

C. Public Finance.

1. State Finance. Notwithstanding the wide discussion of public finance in recent years, the average citizen does not yet seem to understand the fundamental factors involved. State finance, as municipal finance, cannot be disposed of by slogans and catch-words. It cannot be met by investigations and organization plans. It would be well, of course, if we could simplify our State administrative processes and accomplish even greater economies. The full possibilities in these directions have not been realized, of course. We must continue day after day, year after year, to improve administration, make additional economies, and hold out against the everlasting pressure from all directions to extend government undertakings and add new expenditures when we are in no position to do so. But we ought to face the fact that our State Government is not wasteful of public monies and it is, on the whole, well administered. The easy savings have long since been taken. I have made repeated recommendations respecting our administrative reorganization in the past and I shall not repeat them here. I am yet convinced of their basic value.

We cannot continue to appropriate funds that do not exist for State expenditures or for subversions by the State to municipalities and counties or to education. The time has arrived, certainly, for the future good of the State, to recognize the favorable factors present in our State administration and in the handling and use of State finances and to dedicate ourselves to the correction of those weaknesses which we know to exist in our whole administrative, tax and fiscal structure. Any reduction in the railroad tax dedicated to education will necessitate the provision of new revenues to replace these deficiencies. The obligation of the State to provide relief for the current year has been met by the issuance of bonds and by diversions. Some portion of this responsibility will continue beyond this fiscal year and the Legislature must make proper provision therefor.

The creation of the office of the Commissioner of Finance, as recommended in the Princeton Survey, has helped toward a more careful spending of public funds. It is significant that during the fiscal year ending June 30 last, not a single department overexpended its appropriations and a substantial sum of actual appropriations lapsed to the treasury. Departmental authorities need to be continually reminded that appropriations are not mandates to spend but authority to use only as much public money as may be absolutely essential for the administration of the service involved.

Professor John Sly, who is directing the Princeton Local Government Survey, said recently, "In fiscal control devices, New Jersey is well to the front; her trouble now lies within her tax structure, to which equalization, service readjustment and administrative guidance are the keys." We have made progress in the controls we have set up. We are weak in an assured fiscal base to meet the service which the citizens have demanded of the State and which they have expressed in existing law. We must avoid continuing deficits in the fiscal affairs of the State. To do this we need to adopt but two fundamental rules:

1. Do not anticipate revenues in an amount exceeding that actually collected in any classification during the previous year, and

2. Do not make any appropriations unless the revenue is provided to cover the expenditures.

I have tried to observe these rules in the preparation of the Executive Budget for the ensuing fiscal year which is before you. The accompanying Budget Message explains some of the problems involved and the procedures followed. I urge here your careful observance of the recommendations made therein.

2. Municipal Finance. Our counties, municipalities and schools comprise those agencies of the State upon which we depend chiefly to sustain our beliefs in local self-government. These agencies, moreover, are responsible for public services requiring for their support about eighty per cent of all revenues collected for State and local purposes. This fact alone emphasizes the obligation of every member of the Legislature to give serious thought to every proposal pertaining to local government and particularly to local fiscal administration.

Our municipal financial problems are admittedly difficult. The Legislature has a direct responsibility in this matter because local expenditures have been made under legislative authorization. Our municipal gross debt increased from $652,000,000 in 1926, to $1,057,000,000 at the end of 1930, and to a peak of $1,129,000,000 at the end of 1933. The revenues against which these debts were levied, and out of which municipal administration had to be provided, came and yet come chiefly from taxes on real estate. Net taxable property values rose from $5,400,000,000 in 1926 to $6,400,000,000 in 1930 and have declined to $5,600,000,000 for 1939. Total tax levies were $198,000,000 in 1926, rose to a peak of $260,413,610 in 1931, and are $258,783,250 in 1939.

The gross local government debt stood at $786,577,000 at the end of 1938, and the total gross county and municipal debt was $970,262,000. Under our methods of calculation, the net debt of counties and municipalities was, in this same year, $616,985,000. This is a large sum but it is not unmanageable. A determined policy and a steady administrative hand can bring us out of all of our local government financial difficulties if we will continue to apply them. And this must be done.

Tax collections are definitely better and our municipal governments have been strengthened in many ways. There has not been a sharp reduction in the cost of municipal government because these governments have been compelled to provide greater service during the depression period and to do many things heretofore undertaken by private enterprise. For example, the local purpose levy has increased from $89,274,000 in 1926 to $117,413,000 in 1939. There is no certain yardstick by which to measure the influences of conflicting forces in our fiscal operations, but those most familiar with municipal government agree that local services rendered during the depression increased in almost exact ratio to the decreased tax collections and increased relief borrowings. These improvements have not been easy. They have been brought about as a matter of necessity and through the determination of the people that they must be accomplished and under the legislation enacted during the past several years. I commend the first report of our Department of Local Government to the careful study of members of the Legislature, municipal officers, trade and civic bodies and citizens generally. We are not out of the woods so far as our municipal finances are concerned but we have made real progress and, of even more importance, we have proved to ourselves that we can make progress even while emergency spending is yet upon us.

The Princeton Survey has been of great value in developing standards and legislative proposals in connection with municipal administration. It is entitled to our appreciation and support. A number of refinements and extensions need to be made to existing legislation in order to improve and conserve the advances already made and to assist our municipalities over the long road which they must yet travel. The recommendations contained in the report of the Department of Local Government point the way. I appreciate the fact that present laws have created particular difficulties in special instances but we must not weaken our local fiscal administrative control to accommodate a few municipalities in extreme financial difficulties. Special conditions warrant special treatment and legislation can be devised to provide particular and separate treatment for the few municipalities not amenable to the general law.

3. Financial Relationships—Local, State and Federal. As I have already stated, we have believed, in New Jersey, that local self-government can best be maintained by preserving local financial independence. The State has refrained, therefore, in very large degree from regulating or interfering with those matters which are purely local in character. Acting on this belief and policy, the State has limited its financial aid to local governments to the major services of education, highway construction and maintenance and welfare. In recent years relief and general welfare activities have so overshadowed these other relationships that the whole pattern has been seriously disturbed and seems no longer to apply.

In the light of our experiences in the past decade, it may be said, of course, that the State should have enacted regulatory legislation and exercised a greater measure of control over the financial operations of its subordinate governments and, if this action had been taken, much of the financial distress in local governments would have been avoided. This is merely a counsel of hindsight. We must look to the future, and the beginnings already made give promise that we are heading in the right direction.

I am satisfied that our whole policy of grants-in-aid for schools, roads and welfare requires reconsideration and reappraisal. It is my expectation that the State will move in the direction of greater regulation of our junior governments and that State-aid will be extended. Formulas for the distribution of State-aid, originally designed on the principle that the wealthier communities should assist in equalizing opportunities for all by sharing the financial burden of their weaker neighbors, have, in many instances, become obsolete. Some communities are now aiding those which should be aiding them. Conditions have changed but the old formulas remain.

No basic improvements in local-state government relationships are possible until we have remodeled our tax system. It follows, however, that our tax system cannot be remodeled without providing for equitable methods of distributing State-aid for basic local services and for assuring reasonable local financial independence, which is at the root of responsible self-government. It will be your responsibility, if not this year, in the relatively near future, to define clearly and precisely the statutory powers and duties of State administrative agencies distributing State-aid, including legislative intent and precise distribution formulas. The responsibility for the financial supervision of the distribution of State-aid for all local government services should probably be placed in a single State agency just as the regulatory powers and duties should be placed or remain in the State agency best equipped to deal with the particular problem involved. It does not follow, of course, that these agencies will be one and the same.

Just as our State and local government financial relationships have expanded, so also have the financial relationships of the State and local governments on the one hand, and the Federal Government on the other, increased greatly in their extent and implications. There is every prospect that grants-in-aid from the Federal Government will continue on an enlarged basis for years to come. Our State pays more into the federal treasury than it receives in the way of grants-in-aid or financial benefits therefrom. We must not, however, encourage the expenditure of federal moneys in the State merely for the sake of such expenditure, but for emergency needs on projects of constructive value and those that will contribute to our local and State economy. With this in mind and recognizing that federal moneys in large volume would be spent in the State as an aid to the recovery process, I have already proposed major federal-State projects of highway construction, of our much needed potable water supply and of seaside parks.

In a previous message I expressed my opposition to the encouragement of local governments, without regard to any centralized authority, to seek directly from the Federal Government funds to undertake improvement projects involving large expenditures. Through the regulatory authority of the Department of Local Government and the central administration of all federal relief and recovery spending, these ends have been substantially accomplished. Here again it would seem advisable to place the supervisory responsibility for these increasingly important intergovernmental financial relationships in a single State agency.

4. Taxes and the Tax Structure. Any discussion of the fiscal affairs of local governments has limited meaning without reference to taxes and our tax structure. I shall not undertake to formulate what I conceive to be a complete tax structure for the State at this time, but I should do less than my duty if I did not remind you that this important matter cannot be long delayed. Our State has great development possibilities. We cannot hope to remain a State attractive to new industrial enterprise, to business and industrial expansion, to home owners and to capital investment unless we show ourselves to be possessed of some realism and with courage enough to face obvious facts. We cannot continue much longer to let scare-head devices prevent an intelligent discussion of taxes and our tax problems.

I believe that we are spending enough money for State and local government. I believe that we can purchase all the government service we actually require within the funds now spent. I believe that by reasonable consolidation of functions and units of government we can actually make substantial savings in the total costs of government. I believe that we can, over the years, restore the financial strength and solvency of our local governments. But these accomplishments cannot be brought about by blind opposition to every plan or procedure proposed for spreading the tax burden more equitably over all of the things and services that properly should be taxed in the support of our State and local government or by raising the cry that new taxes mean new spending.

I grant that it is difficult to reduce the costs of established public activities and to keep expenditures for those activities within present limits. I grant that it is difficult to make new revenues take the place of old revenues as a matter of actual fact. But I do not grant that these things cannot be done. They can be done and they must be done, because there is a limit to our taxpaying capacity and we must maintain government as a going concern.

Our situation with respect to the general property tax is known to the Legislature and to all citizens who own real property. The State does not derive any of its income for State purposes from this tax but it represents ninety-five per cent of all local revenue. We rely more heavily upon the general property tax than any other State. While our net taxable valuations have shrunk about $800,000,000 in ten years, or 12½%, the levy for 1939 was $30,000,000 greater than for 1933 or an increase of 13%. The average rate of taxation for 1939 is $4.62 per hundred dollars of valuation and a new all-time high. It is too high.

Much of the discussion on this whole problem of revision of our tax system has been clouded by a failure to define the objective, which is; to lighten the burden now borne by real property and not to provide for an increase in total tax dollars. The recent report of the Commission on Revision of the Tax Laws has not been given the consideration it merits because of this lack of definition and of the fear that tax law changes mean additional taxes. It seems to me that the key to this whole problem of fiscal adjustment is relatively simple. The citizens of New Jersey will not consent to basic changes in our present tax system until they are satisfied that new tax legislation assures these conditions:

1. That new taxes will actually replace reductions in the property tax and will not increase gross taxes.
2. That new taxes cannot be used to expand local government activities but that they will permit the normal and necessary functioning of government within a growing community.
3. That new tax legislation will not put communities in strait-jackets but will permit those able and willing to expand their services beyond bare necessity to do so.

It is not impossible to devise a comprehensive and correct taxing system for the whole Nation under which there would be reasonable uniformity, wide coverage, a sharing of revenue among the several governmental levels, and assessment and collection of revenues by the government best adapted to undertake these functions. In previous messages and in public pronouncements I have referred from time to time to the evils of conflicting taxation, the published studies of this subject by congressional committees and the work of the Council of State Governments. Unfortunately this vital public problem is yet merely in the conversation stage, but our tax and revenue problems will not be finally solved until such a comprehensive system is developed and applied. This, however, is for the long future and New Jersey communities and our system of free education cannot wait. We must work out our own tax problems within the State. Equitable and safeguarding formulae can be devised. I urge that you continue legislative efforts to end these tax and fiscal maladjustments which have plagued us so long and hindered our development. I hope that taxpayer groups, civic and trade bodies may be encouraged to join in this undertaking.

5. Assessment and Tax Collection. Even though we cannot agree upon an immediate readjustment of our necessary and continuing tax burden in the State, at least we ought to be able to agree upon badly-needed improvements in our assessment and collection procedures. When some local assessing body seeks to justify an organized hunt for new revenues, we point to our constitutional requirement that all property shall be assessed upon a uniform basis and at full value. But we ignore this principle almost altogether in our assessment work generally. The New Jersey Commission on Tax Law Revision, in its report of March 6, 1939, stated that assessment of real and personal property at full value "is grossly disregarded." By way of illustration, it pointed out that while, in 1938, the value of personal property in the State approximated $12,000,000,000 and the value of real property, $5,500,000,000, taxes levied against real property amounted to $225,756,044, and taxes levied against personal property amounted to $29,835,581, and that while personal property values were more than twice that of real property, personal property carried but 11.62 per cent of the total tax levy and real property carried 88.37 per cent.

The fact of the matter is that our complicated assessment problems have outgrown the machinery and the personnel we have set up for its administration and that comprehensive changes cannot be much longer delayed. In a majority of the 565 assessing districts or municipalities, assessors are part-time officials with little skill or experience in appraisal work and each applies his own standards of values with little regard to the standards used in other assessing districts and without any effective supervision and direction from any central authority.

Our tax collection procedure shows the same need for improvement. The Department of Local Government, in its report for 1938, pointed out that the total amount of taxes levied and uncollected amounted to $219,450,000 against a total levy for that year of $256,460,000. Aside from the lesson that this situation carries that taxes cannot be collected when they are too high on certain parts of our taxable wealth, it indicates also serious weaknesses in our collection procedure itself.

As I have said earlier, we have taken a number of important steps designed to improve the financial status of our local governments but we must do a better job in the collection of taxes. Those who are paying taxes are compelled to carry added burdens because of our failure to collect taxes in greater amounts. The collecting agent; that is, the municipal government, is laid under further disadvantage by reason of the fact that under existing law it must remit all of the taxes levied to the county and school districts, for example, whether it collects sixty per cent or one hundred per cent of the total levy.

The New Jersey Commission on Tax Law Revision makes numerous constructive proposals dealing with the assessment and collection of taxes. I commend these proposals to your careful consideration.

IV. MAINTAINING GOVERNMENT

In this communication I have sought to present something of the continuing growth and progress for the State and its local governments in handling public business since the date of my first assumption of the Governor's office. I have presented some of the major continuing problems of government and proposals for meeting a number of these problems as I see them. Within this time, as communities, as a State and Nation, we have passed from the peak of what seemed to be a great and lasting prosperity to the depths of the worst depression in all our history. In recent years we have been fighting our way back, both in our economics and in government, to our former status as a going concern.

In these years we have learned some severe lessons about our weaknesses as well as our strengths as a people. The world has lost in the past decade more of the liberty and progress of civilization than was won in the hundred years preceding. In recent months and weeks and days, we have seen small but brave peoples fight to the death and lose their homes, their freedom and their country to international gangsters who no longer pretend to respect the most elementary rights of mankind. In our own Nation, men have spoken in doubt of the lasting values of the kind of government which we have established here and have questioned, even attacked, the enduring character of its institutions.

These things should cause us, as Americans, the deepest concern. We need, of course, to consider continually the effectiveness of our system of government and the democratic way of life, but now, as always before, there is no room for a divided loyalty among our people and no cause for doubting the fundamental soundness of our political and social and economic philosophy. We must remember that government has become the most important factor in all our lives. We have no enterprise which compares with it in magnitude, in complexity or in its protective influences for our general safety and welfare.

Orderly government must go on, it must be maintained in the smallest as well as the greatest of our local governments, in the State, and in the Nation. Men and women in New Jersey and everywhere need to rededicate themselves to their responsibilities of citizenship. There should be no less discussion of the ways and methods of government and the effectiveness of its administration but that discussion must be tolerant and understanding. It is natural that every citizen and every conscientious public official and legislator should want to relieve the burden of taxes, make each tax dollar purchase a maximum of essential service and spend as few of them as possible. But in all this, we must remember that public service and protection must continue and that government's only source of revenue is from the people, themselves. Economies must be made wherever it is possible to make them. Carefully planned and carefully budgeted expenditures, honest revenue estimates, conservative capital borrowings, conscientious directing authority and competent civil servants will do more to bring this about than unwise curtailment of essential service or attacks upon the integrity and purpose of our whole public service. If democracy, as we believe in it, is to become a heritage for our children as it was handed down as a heritage to us, a responsibility which we have not yet approached must be built into our governmental processes.

I like to think of America as assuring liberty to all who dwell here but I am concerned at the failure of so many people to understand and respect our most cherished institutions. In the light of what has happened in other parts of the world, our faith in our own government should be strengthened, not debased. There is nothing in the experiences of other peoples to lead us to believe we should not cherish and defend our way of life for ourselves and for our children. In our toleration we cannot safely permit un-American practices and un-American organizations to flourish in our midst, seeking only opportunity for betrayal of the freedom under which they live. Whoever gives encouragement and recognition to such individuals and such influences does injury to us all.

A few weeks ago we celebrated the One Hundred and Forty-Eighth Anniversary of the Bill of Rights. The American Constitution was, without doubt, as Gladstone observed, "the most wonderful work ever struck off at a given time by the brain and purpose of man." But the Bill of Rights embodied "the sum of man's victories over all forms of barbarism and depression." That charter of our individual liberties has served us well. It is of the greatest importance and but in the discharge of our highest obligations that we stand together as never before in the protection of our people, our governments, our institutions of liberty in the peace of our Nation and in our faith in God.

V. CONCLUSION

There are numerous other matters upon which I should like to comment, but this communication is already long enough. Many of our departments and agencies whose functions have not been specifically mentioned are entitled to such recognition. There is a high degree of administrative competence in the State service and almost without exception directing and supervising heads of departments and agencies are seeking diligently to discharge their full obligations. The spirit and industry and attitude of the employees of the State warrant particular commendation.

As you approach your legislative tasks, I urge that working together we do the things that need to be done with such courage and directness as will reassure the people whom we serve. Let us seek fewer laws and better laws. Let us forget self-interest, petty bickerings and personal ambitions. Let us serve as is befitting the representatives of a great people of a great State. I offer my full co-operation. I shall need yours.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Legislature: January 15, 1940.

ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 1

Assembly Bill No. 1 adopts the valuations as determined by the State Tax Commissioner for the apportionment of the franchise taxes imposed by Chapter 7, P. L. 1938.

The State Tax Commissioner's action in making these valuations has been nullified by the Court of Errors and Appeals, by its recent decision, which held the statute unconstitutional, in part, and the Commissioner's action thereunder void.

I am advised by the Attorney-General that the matter of the form of judgments to be entered upon the decision of the Court of Errors and Appeals is now pending before that Court, and the Legislature should not attempt to usurp the powers of the judicial branch of the government, which has full power to determine the questions before it and terminate the litigation.

It is apparent that the 1940 Legislature did not have before it, on the first day of its session, adequate information as to any lawful valuation of the personal properties of the utility corporations for the purpose of apportioning the taxes in question. The bill is an ill-advised measure, attempting to over-ride the Court of Errors and Appeals and adopt that which has been held null and void.

It is an invitation to further vexatious litigation and to further delay the making of a lawful apportionment, which eventually must be made.

It is significant that Chapter 7, P. L. 1938, was Assembly Bill No. 1 of that session. I vetoed that bill and pointed out the constitutional requirements which appeared to me to be in conflict with the bill. My position was sustained by the Courts. I am of the opinion that the present bill is also violative of the constitutional requirements of uniformity in taxation.

The bill, therefore, is disapproved.

[Signed] A. HARRY MOORE,
Governor.

Attest:
HUGH A. KELLY,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Palese moved that the message be received and spread in full upon the Minutes, and that Assembly Bill No. 1 lie over.

Which motion was adopted.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary as follows—and was read by the Clerk.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Legislature: January 15, 1940.

ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 2

Assembly Bill No. 2 adopts the valuations as determined by the State Tax Commissioner for the apportionment of the franchise and gross receipts taxes imposed by Chapter 8, P. L. 1938.

The State Tax Commissioner's action in making these valuations has been nullified by the Court of Errors and Appeals, by its recent decision, which held the statute unconstitutional, in part, and the Commissioner's action thereunder void.

I am advised by the Attorney-General that the matter of the form of judgments to be entered upon the decision of the Court of Errors and Appeals is now pending before that Court, and the Legislature should not attempt to usurp the powers of the judicial branch of the government, which has full power to determine the questions before it and terminate the litigation.

It is apparent that the 1940 Legislature did not have before it, on the first day of its session, adequate information as to any lawful valuation of the personal properties of the utility corporations for the purpose of apportioning the taxes in question. The bill is an ill-advised measure, attempting to over-ride the Court of Errors and Appeals and adopt that which has been held null and void.

It is an invitation to further vexatious litigation and to further delay the making of a lawful apportionment, which eventually must be made.

It is significant that Chapter 8, P. L. 1938, was Assembly Bill No. 2 of that session. I vetoed that bill and pointed out the constitutional requirements which appeared to me to be in conflict with the bill. My position was sustained by the Courts. I am of the opinion that the present bill is also violative of the constitutional requirements of uniformity in taxation.

The bill, therefore, is disapproved.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary as follows—and was read by the Clerk.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Legislature: January 15, 1940.

ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 3

Assembly Bill No. 3 provides certain unit values for the apportionment of the 1940 and subsequent franchise taxes imposed by Chapter 7, P. L. 1938.

The municipalities of our State are entitled to tax the personal property within their boundaries so as to enable them to properly perform their governmental functions. In substituting a franchise or gross receipts tax in lieu thereof, the municipalities are entitled to receive a just and fair equivalent of the amount they would receive if the personal property were taxed by the municipalities themselves.

The proposed unit values attempted to be established by this bill cannot, by any stretch of the imagination, be said to bear a reasonable relationship to the subject matter of the bills. These unit values have been condemned by the Courts as unreal and fantastic.

The Court of Errors and Appeals did not say, in its recent opinion, that the Legislature could furnish the State Tax Commissioner with an arbitrary basic formula, having no relation to fact and reality. This bill provides no standard or policy. It arbitrarily attempts to ignore standards and policies. The bill does not provide a standard or policy to be applied after a finding of fact, but arbitrarily makes the heretofore rejected formula applicable by mere legislative fiat. In my opinion, the bill is unconstitutional, because there can be no uniformity in taxation if true value is disregarded.

The bill, therefore, is disapproved.

Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
February 5, 1940.

Hon. Roscoe P. McClave,
Speaker of the House of Assembly.

My dear Mr. Speaker:

In regard to the water situation, I think it would be a good idea if we could have a joint meeting of the Legislature and let them see the pictures of the reservoirs and graphs showing the rainfall, so that they may be familiar with the situation. After this meeting they could then appoint the committee, as requested in my message, to consider the whole water situation and have hearings to determine just what should be done.

This meeting should, I think, be held on a day other than Monday, because legislators seem to have so much to do on that day. I should like better to have it on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday afternoon of this week.

Sincerely yours,

A. HARRY MOORE,
Governor.

Mr. Williamson addressed the House as follows in commemoration of the birthday of Abraham Lincoln:

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Abraham Lincoln has been called the "Second Father" of his country, Washington being the "First." Each of them stood at the helm while a great war was being waged to decide the life or death of the nation; and so it is fitting that the birthdays of these two Presidents should be remembered by public celebrations.

Lincoln was the sixteenth president of the United States. He was one of the most remarkable men in the history, not only of America, but of the world. If such a career as Lincoln's had been described in a story, many persons would have said it would not have happened in real life. And one cannot read the account of his life without astonishment at the difficulties he overcame, and of admiration for the pluck which enabled him to rise from the humblest beginning to the highest position that any American can hold.

Of Lincoln's early years we have the following account, written by himself:

> "I was born February 12, 1809, in Hardin County, Kentucky. My parents were both born in Virginia, of undistinguished families—second families, perhaps I should say. My mother, who died in my tenth year, was of a family of the name of Hanks. My father, at the age of six when his father died, grew up literally without any education. He removed from Kentucky to what is now Spencer County, Indiana, in my eighth year. We reached our new home about the time the State came into the Union. It was a wild region, with many bears and other wild animals still in the woods. There I grew up. There were some schools, so-called, but no qualification was ever required of a teacher beyond 'readin', writin' and cipherin',' to the rule of three. If a straggler, supposed to understand Latin, happened to sojourn in the neighborhood, he was looked upon as a wizard. There was absolutely nothing to excite ambition for education. Of course, when I came of age, I did not know much. Still, somehow, I could read, write, and cipher to the rule of three, but that was all. I have not been to school since. The little advance I now have upon this store of education I have picked up from time to time under the pressure of necessity. If any personal description of me is thought desirable, it may be said I am in height six feet four inches, nearly; lean in flesh, weighing, on the average, one hundred and eighty pounds; dark complexion, with coarse black hair and gray eyes—no other marks or brands recollected."

From other sources it is known that Lincoln was born in a little log cabin; that he lived for fourteen years in the Indiana home to which his father had moved in 1816; and that in the autumn of 1818 his mother died there. In 1820 Lincoln's father married Mrs. Sally Johnson, a woman with a kind heart who, Lincoln himself said, was the guide of his life and taught him all he knew about the Bible. In March, 1830, the Lincoln family moved from Indiana. They packed their furniture and goods in wagons and took up a two weeks' march over untraveled roads, dense forest, until they reached a spot on the Sangamon River, ten miles from Decatur, Illinois, where they built another home. Abraham Lincoln was now twenty-one years old and anxious to make his own way in the world. Before leaving his parents, however, he saw them comfortably settled in their new home, and he himself split enough rails to enclose the house and ten acres of ground.

In the summer of 1831 Lincoln was hired by a merchant of Springfield, Illinois, to take, together with his stepbrother and uncle, a boatload of corn, pork, and live pigs to New Orleans. The three men had first to build the boat for the merchant, as he had none. They floated it on the Sangamon River, but when loaded it was too low in the water to go over the dam at New Salem, and it grounded, causing a delay of a day. Lincoln made the acquaintance of the New Salem people, with the result that at the close of the trip he settled in the village.

Two things in connection with this trip are worth noting. One shows how Lincoln overcame a difficulty. He had to take on board a herd of pigs in the course of the trip, but the animals would not go on board. Corn was strewn on the ground to coax them; but this did no good. At last Lincoln, determined not to be outdone, caught the pigs one by one and carried them in his arms to the boat. The other incident was his visit to the slave market in New Orleans. There he saw negro men, women, boys and girls, standing on a bench around the walls of the room, the planters looking into their mouths, as they would look at the teeth of a horse or a mule. The auctioneer's hammer fell, and a husband and wife were forever separated. Children were sold separately and would never again behold their father and mother. This sight of slavery so aroused Lincoln, that he is said to have exclaimed, "If ever I get a chance to hit that thing, I'll hit it hard!"

Lincoln settled in New Salem, and during the six years that he lived there he was at different times a clerk, county surveyor and postmaster. He is said to have carried the post office in his hat, as the mail came in only once a week. He was also a partner in a grocery business.

Lincoln made many friends in New Salem. They respected him for his uprightness and admired him for his geniality. He sympathized with the unfortunate and those in sorrow; and all confided in him, honored and loved him. He was a witty talker and had an unlimited fund of anecdotes. He was chosen captain of a company in the Black Hawk War in 1832. In the same year he was defeated for the Illinois Legislature, although two years later he was elected and for the three terms following. Although by this time Lincoln had obtained some measure of success, he had many disappointments and failures to come. He entered business, failed and spent 17 years of his life paying up the debts of a worthless partner. He fell in love with a beautiful woman to whom he became engaged and she died. He ran for Congress and was badly defeated. He then tried to get an appointment to the United States Land Office and failed. He became a candidate for the United States Senate and was badly defeated. In 1856 he became a candidate for the Vice-Presidency and was again defeated. However he eventually overcame all these defeats and he was finally elected to the highest office that can be held by an American.

The remarkable thing about this was that Lincoln, as he himself said, had practically no education. All his schooling together would probably not have made a year. The only books which he had were the Bible, Shakespeare, Aesop's Fables, Robinson Crusoe, Pilgrim's Progress, a history of the United States, and Weem's "Life of Washington," and these he read over and over again. Not deterred by his small schooling, Lincoln decided to study law, and was fortunate enough to make the acquaintance of Mr. John T. Stuart of Springfield, Illinois, who loaned him such law books as he required. Lincoln sometimes walked from New Salem to Springfield, about twenty miles, to obtain them. He studied hard and with such good results that in 1837 he became a lawyer and soon had a prosperous business. The same year he moved to Springfield, and there married, in 1842, Miss Mary Todd. They had four children, all sons, only one of which grew up to manhood—this was Robert T. Lincoln, the eldest son, who was afterward appointed Ambassador to England.

In 1846 Lincoln was elected to Congress, and six years later took a decided stand against slavery. In 1858 he challenged Stephen A. Douglas to seven debates in a contest for a seat in the United States Senate. Lincoln was defeated, but the speeches that he made in the course of the debates had produced a great impression on the minds of many prominent and influential men in the political world, and in 1860, at the Republican National Convention, he was nominated for the presidency of the United States. In the following November he was elected President. On February 11, 1861, he left Springfield. The people along the route flocked to the stations to see him and hear his words. At all points he was greeted as the President of the people.

The southern States, knowing how firmly the new President stood against slavery, prepared for war; and less than six weeks after his inauguration, Fort Sumter, in Charleston Harbor, was bombarded and the great Civil War began, which was to last for four long years.

On January 1, 1863, Lincoln issued his famous proclamation freeing five million slaves, the last sentence of this document reading: "And upon this act, sincerely believed to be an act of justice, warranted by the Constitution upon military necessity, I invoke the considerate judgment of mankind and the gracious favor of Almighty God." In November, 1864, Lincoln was again chosen President, and on April 9, 1865, the Civil War ended by the surrender of General Lee at Appomattox. The four years of the war had been very trying ones for the President. It has been well said of him: "through four years of terrible war his guiding star was justice and mercy." He was sometimes censured by officers of the army for granting pardons, but he could not resist an appeal for the life of a soldier. He was the friend of the soldiers, and felt and acted toward them like a father. A story which shows Lincoln's feeling for the soldiers is told by John B. Alley of Boston, who went to the White House three days in succession and found each day in the outer halls a gray-haired old man, silently weeping. The third day touched by this spectacle, he went up to the old man and found out that he had a son under sentence of death and was trying to reach the President. "Come along," said Ally, "I'll take you to the President." Mr. Lincoln listened to the old man's pitiful story and sadly replied that he had just received a telegram from the general in command, imploring him not to interfere. The old man cast one last heart-broken look at the President, and started toward the door. Before he reached it Mr. Lincoln called him back. "Come back, old man," he said, "come back, the generals may telegraph and telegraph, but I am going to pardon that young man." Thereupon he sent a despatch directing sentence to be suspended until execution should be ordered by himself. Then the old man burst out crying again, exclaiming: "Mr. President, that is not a pardon; you only hold up the sentence of my boy until you can order him to be shot!" Lincoln turned quickly and, half smiles, half tears, said: "Go along, old man, go along in peace; if your son lives until I order him to be shot, he'll grow to be as old as Methuselah!"

Toward the close of the war Lincoln set himself to work on plans for restoring harmony between the people of the South and the people of the North. But he did not live to see the results of his labors. On April 14, only five days after Lee's surrender, the President, with Mrs. Lincoln, and a few friends, went to Ford's theatre, in Washington, to see the play "Our American Cousin." Just as the third act was about to begin, the President was shot by John Wilkes Booth, an actor. He died soon after seven o'clock the next morning without having regained consciousness. After lying in state in the Capitol, the body was taken from Washington to Springfield, Illinois, and was laid to rest in Oak Ridge Cemetery.

Since his death the honor in which Lincoln is held by Americans has increased with the years. It has been well said of him: "Abraham Lincoln needs no marble shaft to perpetuate his name; his words are the most enduring monument, and will live forever in the hearts of the people." Where can we find nobler sentiments more beautifully expressed than these in his second Inaugural Address, delivered only a few weeks before his death:

> "With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nation's wounds; to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and for his orphan; to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves, and with all nations."

Abraham Lincoln looms larger year by year. Among the many illustrious men of the nineteenth century he stands apart, his fame different from all others in its mingling of admiration for rare ability devoted to lofty service and of affection for beauty of spirit expressed in numberless deeds of kindness and fellowship. The world today accepts his name as an universal symbol of democracy.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
SENATE CHAMBER,
February 5, 1940.

Mr. Speaker:

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has passed the following concurrent resolution:

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION memorializing the United States Senate not to ratify the pending treaty with the Dominion of Canada for building the St. Lawrence Seaway.

WHEREAS, There is out-spoken opposition on the part of the people of this State with the proposed treaty, pursuant to which a ship canal will be constructed along the St.

Lawrence River under the joint auspices and joint expense of the United States of America and the Dominion of Canada; and

WHEREAS, The treaty provides that the United States is to expend for its share the sum of over $250,000,000, and it has been estimated by reliable authorities that the actual cost will be from $712,000,000 to $1,350,000,000, of which the United States should bear its proportionate share; and

WHEREAS, The cost of this canal would represent an added burden to taxpayers and would create an unregulated and subsidized means of transportation; and

WHEREAS, The principal advantages would accrue to Canada rather than to the United States in the development of more ports and shipping facilities; and

WHEREAS, The use of the proposed canal, which would be closed to navigation for five months of the year, would in no way justify the cost, it would nevertheless tend to take some shipping from the Port of New York in which the State of New Jersey has a large interest; and

WHEREAS, The record distinctly shows that the completion of the St. Lawrence Seaway is intended to decrease the movement of traffic via United States rail lines, and, if successful, would be detrimental to our transportation system, its employees, and the public in general.

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of New Jersey (the House of Assembly concurring):

That the Senate of the United States, and particularly the Senators elected from New Jersey, be memorialized and requested to not ratify the treaty for the proposed St. Lawrence deep waterway; and

14. Beginning January first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-two, the Legislature shall enact no law purporting to prededicate for a specific object or purpose the revenues, or any portion thereof, receivable from any existing assessment of whatever nature, or from any assessment of

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Legislature: April 1, 1940.

SENATE BILL NO. 81

My reasons for vetoing this bill are substantially the same as expressed by me when I vetoed Senate Bill No. 409 last year.

The purpose of the amended act is supposed to be to clarify various sections of the election law. Instead of clarifying, it makes the election law more obscure and inconsistent than it is at the present time and would place in the hands of Superintendents of Elections power to disfranchise voters and deprive them of any legal redress through the courts.

The act provides that if the permanent registration form has been in the inactive file for any reason whatsoever, it shall be marked void and under no circumstances be restored, reinstated, or transferred to the active file.

It requires that a voter whose permanent record has been placed in the inactive file to reregister before he would be eligible to vote. This would disfranchise any number of voters if the record was removed within four weeks before a pending election, because first-class counties make the last date for registration the fourth Tuesday before an election. In the event of the illegal removal of a record twelve days before an election, the voter would be disfranchised, because in first-class counties the last date for filing transfer cards is twelve days before election.

In the election law at present, and which seems very important, the Superintendent of Elections is prohibited from issuing an order to restrain a person from voting who was legally registered at the time of registration and has since moved to another address in the same county. This section is deleted in this act.

At the present time, the courts, if satisfied that an applicant is entitled to vote and the burden of proof is upon the applicant, may issue an order on the district board for the applicant to be permitted to vote, but this act strips the courts of all power to rectify an injustice.

This is certainly not clarification, but inconsistency in its worst possible form.

A. HARRY MOORE,
Governor.

Attest:
HUGH KELLY,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Lum moved that the communication be received and spread in full upon the Minutes.

Which motion was adopted.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
SENATE CHAMBER,
April 8, 1940.

Mr. Speaker:

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has passed the following bill:

Assembly Bill No. 252, entitled "An act to appropriate additional moneys for the State Tax Department,"

Without Senate amendment.

OLIVER F. VAN CAMP,
Secretary of the Senate.

The following communication was sent to the desk and read by the Clerk:

REPORT OF THE FISCAL CONTROL COMMITTEE OF THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY PURSUANT TO RESOLUTION ADOPTED MARCH 18, 1940

The Fiscal Control Committee of the House of Assembly consists of the following members: Assemblymen Glickenhaus, Freund, Sholl, Volpe and Schaeffer. The following resolution was adopted by the House of Assembly on March 18, 1940.

WHEREAS, A controversy has developed as to the status of the Soldiers' Bonus Bond Issue Sinking Fund; now, therefore

Be It Resolved, That the Committee on Fiscal Control of the House of Assembly is hereby requested to investigate this sinking fund and report as to the possibility of withholding further contribution thereto, thus saving to the taxpayers of this State the amount annually assessed against property to meet the requirements of this sinking fund.

The controversy with regard to the fund arose by reason of a statement issued by former Governor Harold G. Hoffman with reference to the $1,224,333.20 Soldiers' Bonus Tax requirements certified by the commission for the year 1940. This statement said that it was not necessary to certify this amount for inclusion in the 1940 budget to meet the principal and interest on the State Soldiers' Bonus Bonds. The statement claimed there was enough of a balance in the sinking fund to service these bonds and the levy should be suspended without delay, or words to that effect.

Immediately after this statement, a controversy arose as to whether or not the statement made was true. The committee made its investigation of the Soldiers' Bonus Sinking Fund and has secured information, statistics and data which is hereafter set forth. The committee sets forth as Exhibit A, the balance sheet of said Soldiers' Bonus Sinking Fund as of June 30, 1939. This statement indicates that according to market value, the assets aggregated $11,263,205.55. The committee further submits as part of this report a Calculation of Amortization and Interest Requirement for the Year 1940. This statement of requirements for amortization and interest for the year 1940 is annexed hereto and marked Exhibit B. The total amount required according to said statement to retire the bonds and interest is the sum of $12,600,000. The assets of said Soldiers' Bonus Sinking Fund as of June 30, 1939, at market value is the sum of $11,263,206.55. After deducting accounts payable and reserves as set forth in said statement there remains the sum of $10,828,909.24 to which is to be added the 1939 amortization requirements payable December, 1939, in the sum of $624,333.20 indicating the net assets in said fund amount to $11,481,242.44. Said net assets are to be compared with the liability of $12,600,000 which has to be met in order to retire the bonds and further so that the amortization and interest required to be certified for the year 1940 amounted to the difference between the net assets and the amount necessary and required to retire the bonds, $1,148,757.56.

It must be borne in mind that the valuation of the assets in the said sinking fund are market valuations and that the practice has been engaged in by the said Sinking Fund Commission of having the said market valuations set by three of the largest banking and insurance companies in the State of New Jersey.

The Sinking Fund Commission consists of the Honorable A. Harry Moore, Governor of the State of New Jersey, the Honorable William H. Albright, State Treasurer and the Honorable Frank J. Murray, State Comptroller of the Treasury. The funds are under the supervision and the control of said Sinking Fund Commissioners who are the designated trustees of said fund.

The committee, in investigating the certification for the interest and amortization of the Soldiers' Bonus Bonds for the year 1940 found that there was a meeting on December 5, 1939, of the Soldiers' Bonus Sinking Fund Commission, at which meeting there were present the Honorable William H. Albright, State Treasurer; Frank J. Murray, State Comptroller and the Honorable A. Harry Moore, Governor of the State of New Jersey. A certified copy of said minutes of the meeting is hereto annexed and made part hereof and marked Exhibit C. This certification of the minutes is made by Christopher H. Ellin, Secretary of the State Sinking Fund Commission.

In the course of its investigation, the committee ascertained that on March 5, 1940, the Sinking Fund Commission consisting of the Governor, A. Harry Moore; the State Treasurer, William H. Albright, and the State Comptroller, Frank J. Murray, met and discussed the statement of former Governor Harold G. Hoffman hereinbefore referred to and the minutes of said meeting of the Sinking Fund Commission as certified to by Christopher H. Ellin, Secretary of the State Sinking Fund Commission are hereto annexed and made part hereof and marked Exhibit D.

In the course of its investigation, the Fiscal Control Committee of the House of Assembly has requested a statement over the signature of the Governor, the State Treasurer and the State Comptroller of the Treasury, which was furnished to the Fiscal Control Committee, a copy of which is hereto annexed and made part hereof and marked Exhibit B. An examination of Exhibit D indicates that the members of the Sinking Fund Commission in their unanimous opinion declared the statement of Harold G. Hoffman to be untrue and in their statement marked Exhibit B, under date of April 1, 1940, they state, "That the members of the Sinking Fund Commission have reviewed the statements that the Soldiers' Bonus Sinking Fund is now sufficient with principal and earned income from the existing portfolio to pay interest until maturity and to retire the $12,000,000 bonds maturing July 1, 1941, and that it was therefore not necessary for the Sinking Fund Commission to certify the amount of $1,224,333.20 as the amount required to be levied for amortization of $624,333.20 and interest of $600,000 for the year 1940," and in the main "find it to be misleading." The committee finds after a thorough study and investigation of the sinking fund that the members of the Sinking Fund Commission have acted in good faith as a result of their experience in the operations of this fund and that the certification for the year 1940 was necessary not only to meet the liability of the bonds on their maturity date and interest, but also in order to provide sufficient funds for the proper maintenance of the credit of the State of New Jersey; that the bond market is one of great uncertainty and that the certification was needed in order to insure against any possible default in the payment of these bonds; that the certification was further needed because of the fact that the bonds in the portfolio might depreciate in value with the result that the amount on hand might be insufficient to meet the outstanding liabilities and interest; that the certification was further needed in view of the fact that the investments have to be liquidated within a comparatively short time at the best prices obtainable.

The committee therefore finds that the certification as made by the Honorable A. Harry Moore, Governor, the Honorable William H. Albright, State Treasurer and the Honorable Frank J. Murray, State Comptroller, was proper and fitting under the circumstances and that the certification is necessary for the proper, prudent and wise administration of this fund, to the end that the credit of the State of New Jersey may be maintained and its full liabilities paid.

Respectfully submitted,

J. S. GLICKENHAUS, Chairman,
J. G. SHOLL,
WALTER J. FREUND.

The members of the Sinking Fund Commission discussed this matter and, from information obtained from the records found this statement to be untrue."

STATE SOLDIERS' BONUS SINKING FUND

A statement has been made that the Soldiers' Bonus Sinking Fund is now sufficient, with principal and earned income from the existing portfolio, to pay the interest until maturity and to retire the $12,000,000.00 bonds maturing July 1, 1941, and that it was therefore not necessary for the Sinking Fund Commission to certify the amount of $1,244,-333.20 as the amount required to be levied for amortization of $624,333.20 and interest of $600,000.00 for the year 1940.

The members of the Sinking Fund Commission have reviewed the above-mentioned statement and in the main find it to be misleading. The balance sheet of the Soldiers' Bonus Sinking Fund as at the end of the last fiscal year, June 30, 1939, reflects assets over liabilities of $11,192,- 925.31. Since that date the fund has received the 1939 Soldiers' Bonus Tax levy for amortization of $624,333.20, thereby increasing the net assets to approximately $11,817,258.31. Upon this figure the Commission based its calculations of the amount of amortization required for the 1940 tax levy to retire the $12,000,000.00 bonds payable July 1, 1941, and for that reason had the investments of the fund valued at their market price, according to the law, by three of the largest bank and insurance companies in the State of New Jersey. This valuation reflected the market value as $366,016.07 less than the par or book value of the investments. The result of the calculations indicated that $548,757.56 of amortization, together with $600,000.00 interest, or a total of $1,148,757.56, was needed for 1940 to retire the bonds on July 1, 1941. However, in view of the fact that the investments were valued during a peak market, the Commission deemed it advisable and for the best interest of the credit of the State to certify the 1940 amortization and interest requirements in the amount of $1,224,333.20, for the simple reason that no one can predict the market for bonds one year from now. A drop in the bond market might result in the amount as certified being insufficient to retire the bonds when due, especially when some of the investments have to be sold at a forced sale.

The Sinking Fund Commissioners are the designated trustees of various funds which mature at specified dates, and, if in the course of managing the funds there is a surplus accumulated, it is essential that the Commission, acting in its capacity as trustee, should regard such surplus at all times, when it exists, as a fund of transitory value which is a protection against the principal amount of the fund when it is to be paid out to meet a State obligation. With the indicated uncertainty of the bond-market price structure facing the trustees at all times, it is the part of wisdom that such surplus be regarded as a necessary protection of the principal amount of the State obligation to be met on a specified date as in the case of the Soldiers' Bonus Fund which matures on July 1, 1941. The Sinking Fund Commission, in its wisdom deems it advisable to maintain whatever surplus presently exists in the fund to insure the final liquidation of the fund upon due date without the possibility of deficit. Any surplus existing at the time that the fund is paid off can, of course, be treated as surplus money to be utilized in such manner as should be helpful to the finances of the State in its financial problems.

It should be realized that the fund is in liquidation and that the earnings are very low, and the members of the Sinking Fund Commission feel that the certification made November 28, 1939, of $1,224,333.20 for the year 1940 was made in good faith as a result of an honest calculation of the requirements needed to retire the bonds when due.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION OF THE BLIND
NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.

New Jersey Legislative Assembly:

1. Whereas our attention has been called to the provisions of a bill now pending before the New Jersey State Assembly to disfranchise and designate as paupers all persons who for the past three years or more have received outdoor relief for the blind, old age assistance or emergency relief for the destitute; we, the members and associate members of the Middlesex County Association for the Blind hereby express to the Governor and to the members of the New Jersey State Assembly our heart-felt condemnation of this measure which we hope you do not countenance or support. We regard it as undemocratic, unconstitutional, inhuman and degrading to the last degree. The pangs of poverty and attendant humiliation are heavy enough burdens without having such slurs and insults heaped upon the blind, and the members of this Association urge you not to support this bill.

2. We recommend that the minimum allowance for outdoor relief for the blind be placed at $30 per month and the maximum allowance be raised from $40 to $50 per month.

3. In order to insure fair play, equity and justice, we request that one blind person and one aged person be given places as members of the "County Board of Control" empowered to determine the amounts of these minimum and maximum allowances to be granted the county's aged and blind under the Social Security Act.

4. In order to insure better collegiate education for the blind, we recommend that an act be passed authorizing the State higher institutions of learning to admit duly qualified blind youth and adults without payment of tuition and the customary college fees.

Mr. Lum offered the following Concurrent Resolution, which was read by the Clerk and adopted.

An Assembly Concurrent Resolution memorializing the President of the United States, the Congress and the Department of War to investigate the regulation of bridges over navigable waterways within the State of New Jersey.

WHEREAS, It appears that the present regulation of railway and highway bridges over the Passaic and Hackensack rivers and other navigable inland waters places no restriction upon the right of way granted water-borne traffic; and

WHEREAS, The frequent opening of draws and bridges during morning and evening rush hours delays automobile and railway traffic, retarding rail schedules and causing serious inconvenience and loss of time daily to commuting workers; and

WHEREAS, It appears that by special regulation certain bridges similar to those of this State carrying traffic to metropolitan centers in the states of New York and Illinois remain closed to shipping during the hours of maximum road and rail use; now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey (the Senate concurring):

1. That the President of the United States, the Congress and the Department of War be urged to investigate and consider the modification of bridge regulation to require railway and highway bridges to remain closed and to permit continuous use by trains and automobiles during commuting hours.

And Be It Further Resolved, That copies of this resolution, signed by the Speaker and attested by the Clerk, be forwarded to the President of the United States, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Secretary of War.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, as follows, and was read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
April 29, 1940.

To the Legislature:

You have before your Honorable Body an amendment to the State Budget Law extending tenure to the Budget Commissioner.

I am prompted to send this communication expressing my approval of this proposal because I know of the fine service which our present Budget Commissioner is rendering, and because I believe that we should not run the risk of losing his continuing service.

While the State Budget Commissioner works closely with the Governor and is regarded as something of a personal appointment, succeeding Governors have not exercised this authority because they have recognized that there is nothing political in the office of Budget Commissioner and that that officer is valuable only as he understands our State administration and our fiscal problems.

Commissioner Stephan has served the State in varying capacities for almost twenty years. He was appointed, after competitive examination, as an auditor in the office of the Commissioner of Municipal Accounts on January 1, 1923. He served as accountant and deputy budget commissioner from 1925 to 1937, upon which latter date he succeeded to the Commissionership. The Commissioner is a graduate of Princeton and holds the degree of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy in Political Science from the University of Pennsylvania. As a result of a nation-wide competitive examination for Chief Budget Examiner in the Bureau of the Budget of the Federal government, he is considering an offer of that position. The salary scale is higher than that for State Budget Commissioner of New Jersey. That office carries life tenure.

Dr. Stephan is one of our career men in our State government. He has served with distinction in the difficult office which he holds. New Jersey should not lose his services and we should not hesitate to give the same tenure to our own able servants as is offered by the Federal government.

Respectfully submitted,

[SEAL] A. HARRY MOORE,
Governor.

HUGH A. KELLY,
Secretary to the Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the House of Assembly: May 6, 1940.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 15.

This bill is purely a patronage bill, I can see no reason why the printing of ballots should be taken from the municipal clerk and placed with the county clerk, especially in cases where only municipal elections are involved. Then, too, the subject matter of the bill is violative of the spirit of home rule. It seems to me that local printers who help bear the cost of the municipal government should be given a chance to compete for this work.

Respectfully submitted,

A. HARRY MOORE,
Governor.

HUGH A. KELLY,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Mahr asked for the record on Assembly Bill No. 15, which was furnished by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the following veto message of the Governor:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the House of Assembly: May 6, 1940.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 15.

This bill is purely a patronage bill. I can see no reason why the printing of ballots should be taken from the Municipal Clerk and placed with the County Clerk, especially in cases where only municipal elections are involved. Then, too, the subject matter of the Bill is violative of the spirit of home rule.

It seems to me that local printers who help bear the cost of the municipal government should be given a chance to compete for this work.

Respectfully submitted,

A. HARRY MOORE,
Governor.

Attest:
HUGH A. KELLY,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Palese offered the following concurrent resolution, which was read by the Clerk and adopted:

AN ASSEMBLY CONCURRENT RESOLUTION memorializing Congress and the War Department of the United States to operate Central Airport, Camden, New Jersey, as an integral part of the United States defense program.

WHEREAS, A national defense program is now under consideration, to include the construction of fifty thousand additional airplanes and the training of additional fliers; and

WHEREAS, There is located in the Township of Pennsauken adjacent to the city of Camden, New Jersey, an airport which has been used for ten years as a base for the largest airlines and a landing field for the largest airplanes; and

WHEREAS, This airport known as Central Airport has achieved a national reputation for safety, a point emphasized as recently as Friday, May thirty-first, when thirty-seven large airplanes, unable to reach La Guardia Field, New York, because of heavy fog, took haven at Central Airport; and

WHEREAS, The opening of the Philadelphia municipal Airport has caused commercial airlines to transfer their Philadelphia district base from Central Airport to Philadelphia Airport by July first, one thousand nine hundred and forty, with the result that the closing of Central Airport on that date has been announced; and

WHEREAS, The Civil Aeronautics Authority, in a report published last year, estimated that three thousand five hundred modern airports are necessary for civilian use under its expanded training program, even without regard to wartime needs; that airport facilities are so meager with only twenty Army and Navy air bases in the entire country that the United States could not even begin to cope with an aerial war and that the President's goal of fifty thousand planes manufactured per year hardly will be worth achieving unless a comprehensive program of airport construction is begun immediately; and

WHEREAS, Central Airport has many natural advantages, including its excellent location, sufficiently inland from the Atlantic seaboard to be protected and yet close enough to make an ideally situated base; easily accessible to freight, trucking and shipping service and yet far enough from the Delaware River to escape the worst fogs; strategically located to defend the Philadelphia metropolitan area, and thoroughly equipped for a training field, with available land to the East and North for enlargement if deemed advisable; now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey (the Senate concurring):

1. That the Congress and War Department of the United States be urged to take over the operation of the Central Airport in Pennsauken Township, Camden County, New Jersey, as a training field for student fliers or in any other manner deemed important to the national defense; to prevent the abandonment of an adequate, well-equipped, excellently located airport in light of the proposed program and to remedy the shortage of airport facilities in this country; and

2. That certified copies of this resolution be forwarded to the President of the United States, to the President of the Senate of the United States, to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, to the United States Senators from New Jersey, to each member of the House of Representatives from New Jersey, to the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy.

A message was received from the Senate by the hands of its Secretary as follows, and was read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
SENATE CHAMBER,
June 3, 1940.

Mr. Speaker:

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has concurred in the following concurrent resolution:

AN ASSEMBLY CONCURRENT RESOLUTION memorializing Congress and the War Department of the United States to operate Central Airport, Camden, New Jersey, as an integral part of the United States defense program.

WHEREAS, A national defense program now is under consideration, to include the construction of fifty thousand additional airplanes and the training of additional fliers; and

WHEREAS, There is located in the Township of Pennsauken, adjacent to the city of Camden, New Jersey, an airport which has been used for ten years as a base for the largest air lines and a landing field for the largest airplanes; and

WHEREAS, This airport, known as Central Airport, has achieved a national reputation for safety, a point emphasized as recently as Friday, May thirty-first, when thirty-seven large airplanes, unable to reach LaGuardia Field, New York, because of heavy fog, took haven at Central Airport; and

WHEREAS, The opening of the Philadelphia municipal airport has caused commercial airlines to transfer their Philadelphia district base from Central Airport to Philadelphia Airport by July first, one thousand nine hundred and forty, with the result that the closing of Central Airport on that date has been announced; and

WHEREAS, The Civil Aeronautics Authority, in a report published last year, estimated that three thousand modern airports are necessary for civilian use under its expanded training program, even without regard to wartime needs; that airport facilities are so meager with only twenty army and navy bases in the entire country that the United States could not even begin to cope with an aerial war and that the President's goal of fifty thousand planes manufactured per year hardly will be worth achieving unless a comprehensive program of airport construction is begun immediately; and

WHEREAS, Central Airport has many natural advantages, including its excellent location, sufficiently inland from the Atlantic Seaboard to be protected and yet close enough to make an ideally situated base; easily accessible to freight, trucking and shipping service and yet far enough from the Delaware river to escape the worst fogs; strategically located to defend the Philadelphia metropolitan area, and thoroughly equipped for a training field, with available land to the east and north for enlargement if deemed advisable; now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Assembly of the State of New Jersey (the Senate concurring):

1. That the Congress and War Department of the United States be urged to take over the operation of the Central Airport in Pennsauken Township, Camden county, New Jersey, as a training field for student fliers or in any other manner deemed important to the national defense; to prevent the abandonment of an adequate, well equipped, excellently located airport in light of the proposed program and to remedy the shortage of airport facilities in this country; and

2. That certified copies of this resolution be forwarded to the President of the United States, to the President of the Senate of the United States, to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, to the United States Senators from New Jersey, to each member of the House of Representatives from New Jersey, to the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy.

IN HONOR OF FLAG DAY

On Friday, June 14th, this Nation celebrates the 163rd anniversary of the birth of the Stars and Stripes. Many are the stories that have been told of how the design of our American Flag originated. However, we do know from our history books that on June 14, 1777, the Continental Congress adopted the following resolution:

> "Resolved, That the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

Our beloved George Washington beautifully interpreted the meaning of this new flag when he said: "We take the stars from Heaven, the red from our mother country, separating it by white stripes thus showing that we have separated from her; and the white stripes shall go down to posterity representing liberty."

So today we have this glorious national emblem which we now hold high before God and all men as the Flag of Liberty. Our flag has become to the American people a symbol of national growth, power and influence, of union and of liberty. In its position as the symbol of our great American institutions Old Glory demands and deserves the respect of everyone, large and small, not in the sense of reverence to an idol in the form of a piece of cloth, but rather as the visible symbol of everything for which we stand as a great people of a great nation.

We like to think of the red in our flag as standing for valor, zeal and fervency. We think of the white representing hope, purity, cleanliness of life and rectitude of conduct; and the blue—the glorious color of Heaven—standing for reverence to God, loyalty, sincerity, justice and truth. In its actual design, structure and color there is no more beautiful emblem in the world, and in its symbolic structure it stands supreme.

In the honoring of the Stars and Stripes during this Flag Week we must rededicate ourselves to our beloved United States and reaffirm our patriotism and loyalty. Our patriotism is demonstrated by the acceptance on our part of the duties which every citizen owes his country. Our loyalty is the sincere and unfaltering determination to perform these duties irrespective of any sacrifice. In these days when the entire old world is seething with war and hatred of each other has become the outstanding characteristic of foreign nations that should be living as peaceful neighbors, we must rededicate ourselves to the patriotism and loyalty for which we are known the world over in these United States. We should thank God daily that we are privileged to live in a land such as this where peoples of all colors, of all races and of all creeds live peaceably side by side as good neighbors. We should thank God for the foresight of these splendid individuals out of whose wisdom and understanding was formulated the Constitution of the United States of America under which we live a sensibly regulated life, the principles of which are symbolized by the Stars and Stripes. Nowhere in the world has any citizen of any nation the rights and privileges that you have as Americans. And so, when we see our beautiful flag we see not only the actual flag, but we see in the flag the government, the principles, the truth, the history, that are a part of our great nation, the United States of America.

In closing I should like to read to you a clipping from a Bergen county newspaper. It is entitled "The American Flag Speaks" and I ask you to visualize Old Glory speaking to you, saying:

> "I am the AMERICAN FLAG and this is my birthday. As the nation has grown in size, my stars have increased in number. My colors are RED, WHITE, and BLUE; and there is no YELLOW in my makeup. The courage of generations of American manhood and the love of generations of American womanhood have been woven into my fabric.
> "I epitomize civil liberty, religious tolerance, and individual opportunity. I symbolize the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States of America. I typify the LAW, with MALICE toward none and with JUSTICE for all. So long as I shall fly, government of, by and for the people shall never perish from THIS land.
>
> "Eternal civilian vigilance has ever been the price of such self-government. On the altar of the unalienable individual rights which I symbolize, past generations of American fighting men have laid down their lives that these principles might live for posterity. That such noble sacrifices may not have been in vain, I expect each citizen under my protection at least to strive DAILY to LIVE for me. No American can do less and be worthy of his citizenship."

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the House of Assembly: June 18, 1940.

I have withheld my signature from Assembly Bill No. 22, and reiterate the oft-made statement that the most effective way to purge the registration is to throw it out entirely and start anew by making all voters register annually.

It should also be borne in mind that the very act that is being amended heretofore provided that a personal investigation could be made at all time when it was deemed necessary to establish the fact of continued residence or removal of any registrant. Evidently the bureaus never did their work properly, because this bill only makes mandatory what they had the permissive right to do.

I believe this is another attempt to press upon the people a horde of new employees—unlimited in amount as to number or salary—as the law makes it mandatory for the Board of Chosen Freeholders of these counties to meet the money demands of these bureaus.

Respectfully submitted,

A. HARRY MOORE,
Governor.

Attest:
HUGH A. KELLY,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Palese moved that the message be received and spread in full upon the Minutes and that the bill lie over.

Which motion was adopted.

WHEREAS, One year ago today a member of this august body, the Hon. Jacob S. Glickenhaus, of Essex County, took unto himself a wife; and

WHEREAS, Today he is celebrating his first wedding anniversary as a loyal servant of the State as evidenced by his presence at this session of the House of Assembly, instead of celebrating elsewhere in the company of his charming wife; therefore,

Be It Resolved, That the greetings, congratulations and best wishes of this House of Assembly be extended to Mr. Glickenhaus on this, the first anniversary of his marriage; and

Be It Further Resolved, That similar congratulations and best wishes be forwarded to Mrs. Glickenhaus with the thanks of the House of Assembly for granting her 365 day husband the privilege of meeting with us on this most auspicious occasion.

Mr. Pascoe offered the following resolution, which was read by the Clerk and adopted:

WHEREAS, In the light of the rapidly moving world events, it is essential that the citizens of New Jersey and the Nation express their patriotism and national loyalty on every occasion and to discourage activities subversive to the protection of American ideals and institutions; now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Assembly, That we urge the people of New Jersey to display the National Emblem on every national and State holiday, and on every other suitable occasion, so that due reverence to the Stars and Stripes is acknowledged and a renewed pledge given of our allegiance and loyalty to our country.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
SENATE CHAMBER,
June 18, 1940.

Mr. Speaker:

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has passed the following concurrent resolution:

A concurrent resolution urging caution of the Army Engineers of the United States who are at present, under an Act of Congress of the United States, deepening by dredging the ship channel in the Delaware River from 35 feet to 40 feet, to use in accomplishing their objective a method of procedure of dredging which will in no way harm the State-owned private oyster beds of Maurice River Cove or the State-owned seed beds in the Delaware River.

WHEREAS, the United States Army Engineers are at the present time, under the direction of their District Engineer, Major H. B. Vaughan, in charge of the District United States Army Engineers Office in Philadelphia, Pa., proceeding with the deepening of the Delaware River ship channel by dredging with hopper dredges from 35 feet to 40 feet under an Act of Congress of the United States specifying this depth and providing the funds for same; and

WHEREAS, the State of New Jersey, for the benefit of the oystermen of the State of New Jersey, maintains a restricted, controlled and supervised area on the east side of the Delaware River, where oyster seeds and plans are encouraged and protected, this area running from, in the main, Alloways Creek on the north to Egg Island Light on the south; and also

WHEREAS, the State of New Jersey lease in a restricted area in Maurice River Cove, extending from the mainland to an apex at Brandywine light, to the oyster planters of New Jersey under a charge per acre per year on time contracts of lease, certain areas upon which are planted oyster seed dredged from the State of New Jersey seed beds and other coastal Atlantic Ocean points to allow them to grow to a marketable size; and also inasmuch as at the present time large quantities of a foreign mud are appearing covering the oyster beds of Delaware River and Maurice River Cove, spreading death to the oysters; therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate of the State of New Jersey (the House of Assembly concurring):

That the United States Army Engineers Office in Washington, D. C., under the direction of Major General Julian C. Schley and the District Office of the United States Army Engineers in Philadelphia, Pa., under the direction of Major H. B. Vaughan, be officially notified that the State of New Jersey is very desirous of seeing the progress on the deepening of the Delaware River ship channel advance as rapidly as it is possible to do so for the benefit of all concerned; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the State of New Jersey notify the United States Army Engineers Office in Washington, D. C., and the United States Army Engineers District Office in Philadelphia, Pa., that in the prosecution of this work on this project, that great caution be used in the method and procedure of dredging this ship channel, also the type of equipment used and its method of operation be so applied that no mud removed from this dredging operation be so handled or placed as to in any way reach or be disposed of on oyster beds, referred to in this Resolution, now or at any later date. All in order that the oyster life may be maintained, also the livelihood and invested capital of those in the industry be likewise protected; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a copy of this Resolution be transmitted to the Secretary of the United States Senate, the Clerk of the House of Representatives, Major General Julian L. Schley, Chief of Engineers, U. S. Army, Major H. E. Vaughan, District Engineer, U. S. Engineer Office, Philadelphia, Pa., John Ringold, President, Oystermen's Association, Inc., Port Norris, N. J. and Joseph Fowler, Secretary State Board of Shell Fisheries, State of New Jersey.

In order to advise them of the disposition of the Senate and Assembly of the State of New Jersey in connection with this possible menace to the oyster industry of the State of New Jersey.

The Governor's veto message was read:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the House of Assembly: June 18, 1940.

I have withheld my signature from Assembly Bill No. 22, and reiterate the oft-made statement that the most effective way to purge the registration is to throw it out entirely and start anew by making all voters register annually.

It should also be borne in mind that the very act that is being amended heretofore provided that a personal investigation could be made at all time when it was deemed necessary to establish the fact of continued residence or removal of any registrant. Evidently the bureaus never did their work properly, because this bill only makes mandatory what they had the permissive right to do.

I believe this is another attempt to press upon the people a horde of new employees—unlimited in amount as to number or salary—as the law makes it mandatory for the Board of Chosen Freeholders of these counties to meet the money demands of these bureaus.

Respectfully submitted,

A. HARRY MOORE,
Governor.

Attest:
HUGH A. KELLY,
Secretary to the Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Senate: June 18, 1940.

Gentlemen—I am returning herewith without my approval, Senate Bill No. 280.

I am mindful of the many days and weeks devoted to the study and development of this fiscal scheme by the committee, the fiscal officers and the Budget Commissioner, and while there are some complaints against it, yet I am persuaded that it represents the greatest good to the greatest number.

There are some inequalities, but inasmuch as our Legislature is a continuing body, sitting throughout the year, any glaring improprieties may be corrected overnight.

In view of all this I am loath to return this bill without my signature, because it is another encroachment upon the appointive power of the Governor.

A. HARRY MOORE,
Governor.

Attest:
HUGH A. KELLY,
Secretary to the Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
SENATE CHAMBER,
June 24, 1940.

Mr. Speaker:

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has passed the following bill:

Senate Committee Substitute A for Assembly Bill No. 14, entitled "An act to regulate elections, and amending section 19:48–3 of the Revised Statutes,"

The Governor's objections thereto notwithstanding.

OLIVER F. VAN CAMP,
Secretary of the Senate.

The Senate message was taken up, and

Mr. Mahr asked for the record on Senate Committee Substitute A for Assembly Bill No. 14, which was furnished by the Clerk.

Senate Committee Substitute A for Assembly Bill No. 14, entitled "An act to regulate elections, and amending section 19:48–3 of the Revised Statutes,"

Was taken up, and the Governor's veto message was read by the Clerk.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Senate: June 18, 1940.

I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Committee Substitute A for Assembly Bill No. 14.

The Legislature adopted an act, P. L. 1935, chapter 302, supplementing P. L. 1930, chapter 187 (Revision of 1930), concerning voting machines, which is now a law in New Jersey and is incorporated into section 19:48–3 of the Revised Statutes of New Jersey.

At that time the Legislature, in adopting this act, recognized the fundamental principle of home rule as it affected the counties and municipalities of this State, and in so recognizing this principle incorporated into the body of the act the right of any county or municipality of this State which desired to use voting machines, in accordance with the act, to do so, if that county or municipality expressed its preference by the vote of the governing body in the case of a municipality or by the vote of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county in the case of a county, or by the vote of the people at a referendum election.

The Legislature in that act further determined that if the governing body of the county or a municipality and the people of the county or municipality, by a favorable expression at a referendum election, determined that they wished to use voting machines, the said county or municipality could have a period of eighteen months in which to order the said machines and so prepare their finances in anticipation of paying for them.

The bill which I have before me for consideration now, which has passed both the Senate and the House of Assembly, is Senate Committee Substitute A for Assembly Bill No. 14, and is an amendment of section 19:48–3.

This amendment applies to first-class counties alone, only one of which does not at the present time have voting machines, and it appears by its language to force the county of Hudson (which is the only county to be affected by the bill), to install voting machines for use in the next general election. It does not extend to the people of that county the same consideration which has been extended in the original act to all other counties of the State of New Jersey. It does not properly permit Hudson county to prepare for the use of these machines or for the purchase of them.

Both parties have declared against mandatory legislation, which forces local communities to expend vast sums of money, which must come from already over-burdened taxpayers. This bill is mandatory legislation at its worst, because it ignores the depression and the fact that people are having grave difficulty in maintaining their homes.

It is a blow against the two-party system in that it is an unwarranted abuse of power, imposing punishment upon people because they exercise their right of political preference.

All this under the guise of clean elections, when it is common knowledge that the greatest bar to clean elections is the permanent registration. Scrap this feature, start with a clean slate, make everyone register before voting, and you will attain your desired end; provided, of course, you do desire it.

It might be well to ponder the recent words of the great Chief Justice Hughes, of the Supreme Court:

"Democracy is a most hopeful way of life, but its promise of liberty and of human betterment will be but idle words save as the ideals of justice, not only between man and man, but between government and citizen, are held supreme."

A. HARRY MOORE,
Governor.

Attest:
HUGH A. KELLY,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Mahr moved that the same do pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary as follows—and was read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the House of Assembly: July 1, 1940.

I return herewith, without my approval, Assembly Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitutes B and C for Assembly Bill No. 14.

The reasons which lead to this action may be briefly stated as follows:

1. The measure is violative of the principle of civil service, now so firmly entrenched in our government. It provides for the appointment, by the Commissioners of Registration in counties of the first class and by the county boards in all other counties, of such number of persons as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of the registration; and when such persons are temporarily appointed they are not to be subject to any of the provisions of Title 11 of the Civil Service Law. Additionally, the appointment of permanent employees who are to be exempt from the Civil Service Act is authorized by Section 3 of this bill. Hence we find that not only will a large number of temporary employees be appointed without protection of civil service, but, as well, the Superintendent of Elections may appoint a chief deputy, clerk, secretary, and, without limitation, further permanent assistants who are to be outside of the scope of the Civil Service Act.

May I respectfully remind you that the following pledge is made in paragraph 7 of the State Republican Platform, which reads:

"Extension of the Civil Service principle to protect the merit system in public employment."

2. This legislation is an outstanding example of the vice of mandatory diversion of municipal funds, in violation of the principle of home rule. For the first year of its operation the Commissioner of Registration created by it is authorized to expend as much as $300,000.00, and thereafter $250,000.00 per annum, which moneys are required to be raised by the Board of Freeholders, who have no voice in the matter. Furthermore, the Superintendent of Elections is likewise empowered to expend as much as $200,000.00 a year without any control by the county authorities.

The legislation is bad and the bill should not have been passed. It is therefore vetoed.

Respectfully submitted,

A. HARRY MOORE,
Governor.

Attest:
HUGH A. KELLY,
Secretary to the Governor.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary as follows—and was read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the House of Assembly: July 1, 1940.

I return herewith, without my approval, Assembly Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitutes B and C for Assembly Bill No. 14.

The reasons which lead to this action may be briefly stated as follows:

1. The measure is violative of the principle of civil service, now so firmly entrenched in our government. It provides for the appointment, by the Commissioners of Registration in counties of the first class and by the county boards in all other counties, of such number of persons as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of the registration; and when such persons are temporarily appointed they are not to be subject to any of the provisions of Title 11 of the Civil Service Law. Additionally, the appointment of permanent employees who are to be exempt from the Civil Service Act is authorized by Section 3 of this bill. Hence we find that not only will a large number of temporary employees be appointed without protection of civil service, but, as well, the Superintendent of Elections may appoint a chief deputy, clerk, secretary, and, without limitation, further permanent assistants who are to be outside of the scope of the Civil Service Act.

May I respectfully remind you that the following pledge is made in paragraph 7 of the State Republican Platform, which reads:

"Extension of the Civil Service principle to protect the merit system in public employment."

2. This legislation is an outstanding example of the vice of mandatory diversion of municipal funds, in violation of the principle of home rule. For the first year of its operation the Commissioner of Registration created by it is authorized to expend as much as $300,000.00, and thereafter $250,000.00 per annum, which moneys are required to be raised by the Board of Freeholders, who have no voice in the matter. Furthermore, the Superintendent of Elections is likewise empowered to expend as much as $200,000.00 a year without any control by the county authorities.

The legislation is bad and the bill should not have been passed. It is therefore vetoed.

Respectfully submitted,

A. HARRY MOORE,
Governor.

Attest:
HUGH A. KELLY,
Secretary to the Governor.

Assembly Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitutes "B" and "C" for Assembly Bill No. 14, entitled "An act to regulate elections, and amending sections 19:31–2, 19:32–1, 19:32–2 and 19:45–7 of the Revised Statutes,"

EAST ORANGE, N. J.

September 13, 1940.

Hon. Edgar Williamson, Jr., and Members of the Assembly,
10 Park Place,
Newark, N. J.

DEAR EDGAR—The subject of taxation and the relative extent of the burden which it imposes upon various groups of our citizens is of such paramount importance that I am confident you and the other members of the Legislative Assembly will be particularly interested in a proposed debate under the auspices of our Chamber on the subject "Resolved that real estate in New Jersey bears a disproportionate share of the tax burden."

The affirmative of this proposition will be maintained by John F. O'Brien, of South Orange, member of the National Conference of Real Estate Taxpayers, and the negative will be presented by Donald R. Stevens, President of the New Jersey Taxpayers Association.

The meeting will be held in the Orange High School, Central and Lincoln Avenues, Orange, N. J., on Wednesday evening, October 2d, at 8 o'clock. George E. Stringfellow, President of our Chamber, will preside.

A most cordial invitation is extended to you and to all of the members of the Legislature to attend this meeting, believing that you will appreciate the points of discussion even to a greater degree than many, because you are called upon frequently to give extended consideration to just this problem.

Specially reserved seats will be provided for all members of the New Jersey Assembly who attend.

Faithfully yours,

Executive Secretary.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
September 23, 1940.

To the President and Members of the Senate:

SENATE BILL No. 317

This bill not only incorporates the provisions of Senate Committee Substitute "A" for Assembly Bill No. 14, which I returned to your honorable body without my approval on June 18, 1940, and subsequently passed over my veto, but it tacks on an additional provision which cannot receive my approval.

The act which I vetoed and which was passed over my veto made it mandatory for the county of Hudson to install voting machines for use in the next election. It did not give Hudson county the same consideration which is given to other counties in the State by the act known as Chapter 302, P. L. 1935, concerning voting machines, and which is now our law; wherein it is provided that any county or municipality desiring to use voting machines may do so by expressing its preference by the vote of the governing body of either the municipality or county, or by the vote of the people at a referendum election. Instead, it compelled Hudson county to adopt voting machines without the expression of opinion either by the governing body of the county or by the people at a referendum election.

The bill which I now have before me goes far beyond the mandatory provisions of the former act. In order to compel the county of Hudson to adopt voting machines, the present mandatory legislation, which to my mind is the worst kind of mandatory legislation, was passed. By the present bill, The State House Commission—an agency of the State, is given the power to purchase voting machines, install them in the county of Hudson, and compels the county of Hudson to pay for these machines out of the State Aid monies allocated to the county by the State. I am informed the cost of these voting machines will aggregate a million dollars. This bill, therefore, will force the people of the county of Hudson to expend this vast sum for voting machines purchased, not by the county or with its consent, but by an agency of the State controlled by the Republican Party. Home rule is cast to the winds.

I have had occasion to say before, and I repeat here, that all this is being done by the Legislature of our State under the guise of clean elections, when it is common knowledge that the greatest bar to clean elections in this State is the permanent registration feature of our election law, as well as the pernicious provisions of the present act, which permits voting in the South Jersey counties without any safeguards at all, for in those counties the act directs that voters need not register personally, need not sign their names when registering, and they are not even required to sign the poll book on election day when voting. Here lies the greatest source of fraud.

Scrap your election law; have one law apply to the entire State of New Jersey; make everyone register before voting; make everyone sign his name when voting; provide for a comparison of signatures, and you will attain the desired end, provided, of course, you really desire honest election reform in our State.

If election machines are so desirable, why not put them in every city of the State? If we are all equal, then we should all be treated alike.

Careful consideration by me of this bill leads to the conclusion that it violates the provisions of our State Constitution in matters so important that if this veto is ignored, I will be compelled, as Governor, to call upon the Attorney-General, as the legal representative of the State, to take such legal steps as he may deem necessary and proper, forthwith, to have the constitutionality of the resulting legislation tested.

A. HARRY MOORE,
Governor.

Attest:
HUGH A. KELLY,
Secretary to the Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
September 23, 1940.

To the President and Members of the Senate:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 321.

If this law is to prevail it will establish a very bad precedent. For years efforts have been made throughout the country to separate the police from politics. This bill provides that the State Police, for the first time in its fairly long and splendid history, shall be called in to take part in a political campaign.

It seems to me that this marks the beginning of the end of this fine organization. When the State Police was organized it was definitely understood that it would never be called upon to supersede local police authorities or to take jurisdiction over purely local matters. Only after such agreement was the organized objection of the various municipalities and labor in general withdrawn.

The bill is clearly violative of the spirit of home rule and is at best special legislation, directed at one county alone.

The law confers upon the Superintendent of Elections power to appoint investigators throughout the county at the expense of the county, and it is too bad that the State Police must be dragged into this political fight.

A. HARRY MOORE,
Governor.

Attest:
HUGH A. KELLY,
Secretary to the Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,

SENATE BILL No. 319

To the Senate:

This bill deprives the Common Pleas Judges of Hudson and Essex Counties of their right and authority to hear the appeals of voters whose names have been placed upon the so-called black list by the Superintendent of Elections.

Since 1927, when the permanent registry law was adopted and the office of Superintendent of Elections was first established, this power has been vested in the Court of Common Pleas. There has never been any charge by anyone that the Judges of these Courts have ever failed to properly, impartially and expeditiously exercise their powers under the law. To transfer such jurisdiction to the judges of the criminal judicial district courts, sought to be established under the provisions of Senate Bills Nos. 320, 323 and 324, which I have already vetoed, is to continue an unwarranted, unconstitutional and certainly un-American attack upon the traditional constitutional concepts of the judiciary of our State and nation.

Then, too, the bill seeks to strip people arrested on election charges of the right of trial by jury and places such offenses in the "disorderly person" act category. This provision is clearly unconstitutional. At common law, election offenses were indictable and triable by a common law jury. We, in New Jersey, have always recognized that fact and have never before sought to deprive people so charged, of their constitutional rights to indictment and trial by jury before a non-partisan tribunal. The attempt to reclassify these offenses and to make them cognizable by what, of necessity must be, partisan tribunals, is a flagrant violation of these rights and must have my strong condemnation.

Aside from all of the above, the bill places an additional burden upon the long-suffering taxpayer and is a complete reversal of a much-heralded economy policy.

A. HARRY MOORE,
Governor.

HUGH A. KELLY,
Secretary to the Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
September 23, 1940.

To the President and Members of the Senate:

SENATE BILL No. 320

Senate Bill No. 320, which amends an act relative to criminal judicial district courts in the following important particulars:

(1) It changes the method of appointing the judges and transfers the power of appointment from the Governor, by and with the consent of the Senate, to the Legislature in joint session.

(2) It vests in said criminal judicial district courts exclusive jurisdiction to try and determine specified violations of the election law, all of which are misdemeanors.

Simultaneously herewith I am also returning the companion bills, Senate Bill No. 323 and Senate Bill No. 324, which create four criminal judicial districts in the county of Hudson, and four in the county of Essex, for the purpose of establishing therein criminal judicial district courts.

These bills have for their purpose the disruption of the judicial system of this State, which has withstood the test of time, without the least vestige of scandal, for almost a whole century. It is without doubt the most audacious effort on the part of any partisan group in any State in this Union to gain control of the courts for the avowed purpose of electing a gubernatorial candidate. The framers of the Constitution of the State of New Jersey intended that the courts of this State should be so constituted as to be free from political manipulation. This intent on the part of the framers of the Constitution is wantonly disregarded by the proponents of these bills. Democracy will have reached a sad state of decay if these bills are permitted to become law, because this sort of legislation is flagrantly violative of the spirit of the Constitution, and, if carried to its ultimate conclusion, can result in nothing less than complete destruction of our entire judicial system and orderly judicial process.

Our Courts of Common Pleas, which constitute and exercise the jurisdiction of Courts of Quarter and Special Sessions, possess all of the powers which these bills seek to bestow upon the duplicate tribunals created by these bills. The stripping of the Court of Common Pleas of the powers which they have had for many years is inexcusable. The judges of our courts have enjoyed an enviable reputation in the administration of justice, and especially in the administration of the criminal law, and these bills are a shocking disparagement, not only of the ability, honesty and reputation of the Common Pleas judges of Hudson and Essex counties, as members of the judiciary of this State, but they offer a gratuitous insult to the justices of the Supreme Court who preside over the respective circuits.

Moreover, the creation of four criminal judicial districts in the county of Hudson, and four criminal judicial districts in the county of Essex, for the purpose of setting up therein four separate and distinct judicial district courts, exercising duplicate powers with the courts already established, will cost the taxpayers of these counties the staggering sum of two hundred thousand dollars a year. I consider this a wanton expenditure of public funds to serve a selfish partisan political purpose.

It is manifest that it is the desire of the Republican Party in control of the Legislature to create courts of their own choosing, without the safeguards with which the Constitution has surrounded the appointment of judges; namely, appointment by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate; in an effort to control the most important election which has ever come before the people of this State. Such legislation is most destructive of democracy and should find no place upon our statute books.

The New Jersey Bar Association, through its President, urges me to veto this bill. In a letter addressed to me it says among other things, "Upon learning the contents of the bill, lawyers generally were shocked." * * * "It appears to us important that legislative remaking of criminal courts, in the heat of a campaign, by a law which violates the spirit, if not the letter, of the Constitution, should be disapproved."

"Another serious objection to Senate Bill No. 320 is the fact that exclusive jurisdiction of certain criminal offenses defined as misdemeanors is given to criminal district courts, without reserving the right of indictment by a grand jury and trial by a jury. One man, a judge selected by the Legislature, will have the power to determine the guilt or innocence of the accused, and to sentence him to long imprisonment or heavy fine."

Careful consideration by me of these bills leads to the conclusion that they violate the provisions of our State Constitution in matters so important that if these vetoes are ignored, I will be compelled, as Governor, to call upon the Attorney-General, as the legal representative of the State, to take such legal steps as he may deem necessary and proper, forthwith, to have the constitutionality of the resulting legislation tested.

A. HARRY MOORE,
Governor.

The following communication was sent to the desk and read by the Clerk.

REPORT OF JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE ON NORTH JERSEY TRANSIT

To the Governor and Legislature of the State of New Jersey:

The Joint Legislative Committee on North Jersey Transit was created by Joint Resolution Number 5, approved June 7, 1939, which provided that the Committee

> "shall confer with The Port of New York Authority with respect to suburban transit and shall advise The Port of New York Authority with respect to matters of State policy arising in connection therewith."

Joint Resolution Number 1, approved February 21, 1938, requested The Port of New York Authority to prepare physical plans for a North Jersey Transit system, estimates of costs and revenues, plans for financing the project, and drafts of appropriate enabling legislation. The Port Authority has been studying these matters intensively and is actively engaged in their preparation.

During the past year, your Committee on North Jersey Transit has had a number of conferences with the Port Authority, and has familiarized itself with the physcal plans which are being considered, and with the estimated costs and revenues, and with the financial problem.

To provide adequate facilities for suburban transportation by rail will involve the expenditure of large sums for new construction, and there is no prospect that any such system will be self-supporting. The deficits may be substantial. This raises two fundamental questions,—first, What is the most practicable method of raising public moneys to provide against prospective annual deficits in a constitutional manner, and second, whether it is sound public policy to proceed with the project at all at the present time. These are important questions of general state policy which cannot be summarily answered.

Another consideration is that any transit system serving North Jersey must necessarily have adequate terminal facilities in New York City. This would involve the construction of tracks with stations and terminals in New York City. In the opinion of your committee, it will be impossible to devise a practicable plan without the cooperation of the State of New York. Your committee therefore recommends that the Governor and Legislature of the State of New York be requested to appoint a committee with similar authority in order that the problem may be studied jointly by committees representing the two States.

The present Chairman of your Committee will not be a member of the 1941 Legislature and accordingly we also recommend that the Committee be reconstituted for the ensuing year to the end that definite conclusions may be reached as to these and any other questions of state policy involved.

Since any detailed financial plans or drafts of legislation are dependent upon the decisions reached with respect to questions of state policy, your Committee recommends that the time of The Port of New York Authority to make its report be extended for another year.

Dated, Trenton, New Jersey, January 9, 1941.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK S. KELLEY,
Chairman.

A message was received from the Senate by the hands of its Secretary as follows—and was read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
SENATE CHAMBER,
Mr. Speaker: January 14, 1941.

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate has passed the following concurrent resolution:

WHEREAS,. Divine Providence the munificent author of our being has in His infinite wisdom and unerring judgment chosen to call to His domain of peace and life everlasting the noble spirit of His servant, Francis B. Davis; and

WHEREAS, In the passing of our beloved fellow-citizen and Vice-Chancellor the people of the State of New Jersey have sustained an irreparable loss and suffered the deepest bereavement; and

WHEREAS, The long, able and distinguished career of Vice-Chancellor Davis was marked by so many evidences of unselfish sacrifice and notable accomplishments in the interest of the State and its people, that no tribute to his nobility of character, his broadminded tolerance, his abilities as a Lawyer, Legislator, Statesman and Jurist would be adequate without the brief mention of a few of the highlights of his extraordinary rise to prominence in the public affairs of our great sovereign State, which follow:

The Vice-Chancellor was born in the City of Camden, March 12, 1878 where he lived until early boyhood when he moved with his parents to the City of Woodbury. Here he pursued his studies, entered upon his legal career and lived the balance of his lifetime. He was admitted to the Bar on March 14, 1899 and from the very beginning his legal pursuits gave evidence of the brilliant career which was to follow. Early in his young manhood the Vice-Chancellor displayed the qualities of leadership which were to exert a great influence for good in our two-party system of government in the years which were to follow.

As Chairman of the Gloucester County Republican Executive Committee from 1908 to 1917 he did much to build a strong and vigorous Republican party within his own County and to improve the quality of public officials everywhere in that County. From 1909 until 1931 he served his home City as City Solicitor effectively and well. Those who remember the Legislative sessions of 1912, 1915, 1916 and 1917 will never forget his genial personality and efficient conduct of the office of Secretary of the Senate in those sessions. The Vice-Chancellor's talents as a Judge of men and issues, coupled with his always consistent refusal to temporize with right, marked him early in his term as President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of the County of Gloucester as one eminently qualified for higher places in our Judicial system.

In 1923 the Vice-Chancellor was elected to the New Jersey Senate from the County of Gloucester. It was in the Legislative career which followed his election that he made himself loved and respected in all parts of New Jersey. His record as a Legislator is unexcelled in New Jersey legislative history. Here it was again that his qualities of leadership exerted themselves as is evidenced by the fact that before the end of his first term his colleagues selected him as Majority Leader for the 1926 session. The following year he was chosen as the President of the Senate. This office he conducted with great distinction and credit to both himself and the office. During his term as President of the Senate he served as Acting Governor during Governor Moore's absence from the State.

The Vice-Chancellor resigned his legislative duties in May 1931 to assume the duties of Circuit Court Judge, to which he was appointed April 14th of that year. In this post his judicial conduct immediately attracted the attention of Chancellor Walker who appointed him Vice-Chancellor to succeed Vice-Chancellor Leaming on August 24, 1932. At the conclusion of his term as Vice-Chancellor, Chancellor Campbell recognizing his able Vice-Chancellor's contribution to the field of equity jurisprudence reappointed him for a further term of seven years. It was shortly after his reappointment that the Vice-Chancellor was stricken with an illness which was to bring to a termination his brilliant and inspiring career but his high sense of duty kept him at his post until the end.

Such is a part of the public record of performance in the life of this man whose great soul has now gone to its eternal rest and whose contributions to society and his government will cause his memory to ever be a source of inspiration to all who truly love their State; and

WHEREAS, The services rendered by Vice-Chancellor Davis as Secretary of the New Jersey Senate, as the Senator from Gloucester County, as Majority Leader and as President of the Senate clearly stamp him among the top ranking legislative leaders in the history of a great free State and stand out in bold relief as examples of unselfish sacrifices and devotion to duty which we, the men and women of the present Legislature and those who follow may well emulate.

Now Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Senate of New Jersey (The House of Assembly concurring) do hereby express to Mrs. Davis and to her family the deep sense of respect and esteem in which her distinguished husband has and always will be held by the members of this Legislature and the grief which they and the whole people of the State of New Jersey feel in this hour of their deep bereavement, and

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution, duly engrossed signed by the President of the Senate and

Speaker of the House of Assembly, and duly attested be sent to Mrs. Davis, and the flag of the State House at Trenton be placed at half mast for a period of thirty days from and after the adoption hereof as an evidence of the love, respect and sorrow of the people of New Jersey.

In which the concurrence of the House of Assembly is requested.

OLIVER F. VAN CAMP,
Secretary of the Senate.
