Prix Versailles 2023: Announcement of World Selections

What are the best recent architectural projects around the world?

An initial answer to this question comes today with the announcement of the World Selections for the Airports, Campuses, Passenger Stations and Sports categories, officially opening the 2023 Edition of the Prix Versailles.

In November, the Continental Laureates will be revealed for the Shops & Stores, Shopping Malls, Hotels and Restaurants categories, in advance of the World Titles Announcement which will be issued by mid-December from UNESCO Headquarters in Paris, France.

The World Judges Panel is now preparing to make its final choices – based on the criteria of innovation, creativity, reflection of local heritage, and ecological efficiency – from amongst the 96 large-scale and/or imaginative architectural projects named as Selected Sites or Continental Laureates.

With a focus on the major issues of today, the Prix Versailles provides a reminder of the importance of viewing culture as an integral generator of “intelligent sustainability” that touches on every aspect of the human environment.
