Statement From Governor Christie On POW/MIA Recognition Day

Friday, September 15, 2017 Tags: Statements

Trenton, NJ – Today, Governor Chris Christie issued the following statement, proclaiming September 15, 2017, as “POW/MIA Recognition Day” in New Jersey.

“On this day, we pay respect and gratitude to the brave service members of the Armed Forces of the United States and pay special tribute to both those who have been imprisoned while defending our country and who remain missing. We take time to recognize these Prisoners of War and America’s MIAs, who defended our national principles, freedoms, and liberty as well as their friends and family members. We stand together with these loved ones as our Nation remains concerned and committed to resolving the fates of these Americans still prisoner and unaccounted for in all of our Nation’s past conflicts. Today, we pay special recognition to the United States personnel still missing and honor their sacrifice while continuing to hope for their safe return and an ending of the uncertainty their families and our Nation face.”

A copy of the Governor’s proclamation is attached.
